CHATHAM, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1879. A Chatham "Judge" in New York.

It appears that some of the practical was, and he said he 'had been at a dinner party and missed the train.' Justice Smith and Alderman Morris both admitted that their charge strictly construed, only meant that Judge Ferris had knocked the hackman down—on his fare—and the prisoner was discharged on condition that tive of animated nature well known to Iuland authorities, but seldom found frequenting that insular locality. These Gothamites are not particular about the clasification of their subjects, so long as the genus is fairly distinguished, and the manner in which they involve the real and imaginary together, mixing fictitious with imaginary together, mixing fictitious with actual names and bringing those of distinguished persons in contact with incongruous surroundings, is sufficient to mis lead the understandings of minds far from unsophisticated. "A Canadian Judge in the Tombs" is the heading under which the latest exploit of the explorers is an nounced in the New York Times of 16th inst. and but for the fact that we know the victim "Judge Ferris" has no existence hereabouts, we might infer that real persons were being dealt with all through. The staid character of our Chatham Sena tor is as well established a fact as the mythical existence of his friend the "Judge", who is supposed to have been before Jus tice Kilbreth, and the latter gentleman is well known as one of the most austere of Now York Police Justices. Justice Morgan has, for some years, presided over his court in New York with a freedom from reproach that has made his position one of the most noticeable in the Police judiciary of that great city. It is said of him that when he was in the army he was noted as a disciplinarian, a characteristic which coupled with undoubted personal courses is it that they do not pay in their just coupled with undoubted personal courage, carried him rapidly through the grades to the position of a Major-General, in the the short space of thirteen months. But on one occasion he was the guest of the Seventh Regiment and during a "second session" after dinner, when only a few veteran comrades were present, he indulged just a little too freely in Cliquot Champagne. Next morning, however, he appeared at his court as usual and before the prisoners were brought and before the prisoners were brought and before the prisoners were brought in he called the clerk and handed who is an invalid and who has not been in he called the clerk and manded him a five dollar greenback, saying, "re-cord that fine against me." "In what way, sir," said the clerk. "In the usual way, sir," said the clerk. "In the usual value for that amount of money? No Sir, way, sir," said Justice Morgan, sternly, all his old spirit of military discipline and stern sense of duty, being imprinted on his countenance. "It is not for me to contain the sense of these near where such as the sense of any sir it is against reason, and against sound common sense. were sold last year without one complaints. Senator Muirhead received several telegrams from friends in this City stating that Judge Ferris had been arrested and taken to the Tombs. These telegrams produced the greatest excitement in Chatham, and well they might. Judge Ferris is a very wealthy and popular man. He owns a palatial home, and many a New-Yorker has enjoyed its hospitality. Most of the Justices of this City have been his guests at one time or another, and we all know that seldom or ever has one of them been allowed to leave that house in the same state of judicial gravity in which he entered it. Judge Ferris is a great practical joker. He has got decidedly the best of most of his acquaintances, and never had any one been able to get even with him. The Judge has often been pressed and of course was put through 'a course of sprouts.' He was to have taken a morning train to-day for Canada, and was expected home on that train. He was given a parting dinner at Delmonico's shortly before noon to-day, and was so well treated that he missed his train, of course, as was intended. When the party left the restaurant they ordered cabs. The cabby that Judge Ferris took attempted to extort a high fare from him, as he porsisted in Senator Muirhead received several tel-paying the bill, carboy knowing in was a stranger, and fastening on him for a victim. A wrangle ensued, resulting in Justice Smith calling a policeman and having Judge Ferris arrested and taken in a cab before Justice Kilbreth, at the Tombs Police Court. There Justice Smith charged Judge Ferris with having knocked the cabman down, and Alderman Morris was a witness to it. Justice Kilbreth thereupon detained Judge Ferris, who seemed to be mystified by the proceedings, for examination, and gave him a seat behind the bar. During his detention he had quite a number of callers, and was several times kindly allowed to go out on his own parole, in the custody of his friends, to visitinteresting places in the neighborhood. During this time the telegrams were sent to Chatham. Senator Muirhead sent inquiries to many friends in this City, and the result was that when I reached the Tombs Courtroom, after the morning hearing, I found a room, after the morning hearing, I found a large party assembled. Justice Kilbreth was requested to finish the case. The prisoner was asked how he came to be where he was, and he said he 'had been at a dinner for the last few years in this part of the County with regard to the expenditure of Great Road money. You are, doubtless, aware that there is annually expended Local Government for Great Roads from the County line to Caraquet, including the road from Inkerman to Shippegan. It, however, appears that Shippegan has been completely ignored for the last three or four years, notwithstanding the large amount of business doing and the corres ponding travelling over the road; therefore the whole amount is expended between Tracadie and Caraquet. How is it that Shippegan is thrown out in the cold? Does it not represent a fair proportion of the population and votes of the County? Or, is it that the people of this Parish are tribute to the revenue of the province? No, the reason is that the people of Shippeknee to the political principles of the President of the Council; and the Supervisor a sad state of things. Justice Morgan was astonished yesterday morning by a telegram taken to him by a Western Union messenger in the Jefferson Market Police Court. It was from Senator Muirhead, of Chaaham, on the Miramichi River, in the Province of New-Brunswick, Canada, and enquired as to the truth of a report that Judge James Ferris, of Chatham, while on his first visit to New-York City yesterday, had been arrested and taken to the Tombs on a charge of disorderly conduct. Later in the day the Justice gave the following explanation of the case:

New School Building. *

The new School building on Wellington Street is one that reflects credit on the Trustees of District No. 9, whose Ratepaynow about complete and an additional notice of it will be in place. It is two storeys high and 66x26 ft. with wings on each end 12x12. The lower storey is 12 feet in the clear and the upper, 10 feet. There are four large class rooms, each 25 x25 ft.—two on the first and two on the second floor and six cloak rooms, two above and four below. The stairs leading to the upper portion of the building are situated in the wings. The design and plans of the building were by Mr. Alex. Cormack. Mr. Patrick Troy, one of our most enterprising and competent. or the last four years, and are now offering to the farming community this, the BEST MOWER, combining greater 'excellence of mechanical simplicity together with greater durability and entire reliability for all the requirements of the field, than any other Mower extant.—In construction they are similar to the celebrated Walter A. Wood's Iron Frame Mower, and the Richardson Buckeye, both American Machines. Of the former there are over 200,000 in use, and the extraordinary number of 20,000 were manufactured and sold last season, by the Wood Company of United States. We have over 500 of our manufacture now in use, every one of which (no exceptions) stands as a monument of the grand and unprecedented success of home manufacture and our enterprise. A list of our Agents in this section of the Province will be found appended, and farmers are requested to ask information of them relative to our Mowers in use in their respective localities, which will establish beyond doubt their unquesti-nable superiority over any other mower to be had in our market.
