

Vote on Water Question in Few Days

The Form of Ballot at Last Decided

Commissioners Can't Resist Temptation to Compare Their Pet Project, From Their Own Viewpoint, With the Other Three Schemes.

The water commissioners have at last decided upon the form of the ballot which will be submitted to the people on the question of increasing the city water supply, and also on the reading matter which will accompany the ballot. The printing is not yet completed, but the commissioners say that every ballot will be distributed in a day or so.

Ballots will be sent only to the freeholders who appeared on the last revised assessment roll, and they will be requested to sign their names to every ballot, vote as they deem wise, and return the ballot to the secretary of the water commission in the city hall.

It is plain from the manner in which the literature has been prepared that the commissioner are biased in favor of the Komoka scheme.

Stick to Komoka.
The commissioners cannot resist the temptation to compare their pet project, from their own viewpoint, with the other schemes set forth. They tell the people what they believe the independent fire-fighting system will cost, but they do not explain that if the scheme is adopted a special tax will be levied upon the businessmen to defray a part of the cost, instead of levying the entire cost on the whole city, as will be the case if the Komoka or any other scheme is adopted.

Asked why this important point was omitted from the ballot and the accompanying literature, Commissioner Saunders stated to The Advertiser this morning that he was not officially aware that it was the intention to levy this special tax upon the businessmen—the people who will benefit the most by having the water supply and the pressure increased, because of the fact that their insurance will be reduced.

Voters are to be given the choice of four schemes. That is, the scheme they prefer above all others, they will mark No. 1; their next choice, No. 2; next choice, No. 3, and next choice, No. 4.

The taking of the mail vote was decided upon by the commissioners to assist them in coming to a conclusion as to which scheme the people want. Upon the result of the vote, they will largely depend the scheme which will be submitted to the people next October.

The Argument.
The following is a copy of the literature which has been prepared to be sent out with each ballot. All ballots must be returned by the 20th of July: To the Electors of the City of London:

For the purpose of learning which scheme for waterworks extension meets with the greatest favor among the qualified voters of London, the commissioners request that you will indicate your preference on the ballot inclosed with this circular.

In laying the details of the various schemes before you in the following paragraphs, the commissioners have endeavored to present fairly the particulars of each scheme, leaving you to judge which you would prefer to see installed. On the ballot itself you will find a summary of the cost of each scheme.

Komoka Scheme.
This will be an all spring water system, without filtration, to deliver 3,000,000 gallons daily into the present mains. The cost to supply this water to the city during the 30-year debenture period will be $39,752 each year, consisting of:

Interest and sinking fund.....	$32,252
Wages, repairs, etc.....	5,500
Coal.....	1,000
Total.....	$39,752

The total cost of the system will be $575,000.

This system provides a reservoir with a capacity of 20,000,000 gallons, for storing water for fire purposes, or for other emergencies. A dam will also be built for the purpose of backing the water for operating the hydraulic pumping machines, thus reducing the cost of pumping to the minimum. It also provides for the enlarging of the mains throughout the city, laying an 18-inch main from Komoka to Springbank, and a 24-inch main from Springbank back to East London. This system will give pressure in all parts of the city of about 75 pounds to the square inch.

River Filtration Scheme.
This system, as outlined by Engineer A. May, providing the addition and piping of the spring water along the north branch, which the commissioners regard as a needless outlay, considering that filtered water is to be mingled with it, contemplates taking the supply from the north branch of the river, which, after having been filtered, will be pumped into the city mains by steam, gas or electric power, and the cost is calculated on a basis of providing three million gallons of water a day. More water would, of course, cost more money.

This system provides for a reservoir capable of storing five million gallons, and a three-million-gallon covered filter basin, through which will pass, normally, three million gallons a day. This (Continued on page eight.)

RAILWAY FEUD IN ALASKAN WILDS, BATTLE COMING FOR RIGHT OF WAY

The Guggenheims Are Arming to Drive Off the Rival Concern.

Seattle, Wash., July 3.—A special to the Post-Intelligencer from Valdez, Alaska, tells of the preparations for armed conflict between the Copper River and Northern Railway forces and the Alaska-Pacific Railway men, at Kaallala. The Copper River Railroad, which is known throughout Alaska as the Guggenheim proposition, aiming to tap the Copper River district, is attempting to cross the right-of-way of the Alaska-Pacific Company, known as the Bruner Line, which also aims for the Copper River district by way of Lake Charlotte.

The Bruner people have applied to Governor Hoggatt, of Alaska, for the protection of United States troops, alleging that the Guggenheim forces contemplate an armed attack upon them. Authorities at Valdez admit that the situation is serious.

The launch Pioneer which arrived at Valdez yesterday from Kaallala brings word that the Bruner road has erected a "go devil" at the crossing which the Guggenheims are trying to take. The machine, by means of a donkey engine, swings continually across the tracks, making it impossible for men to come within a radius of 50 feet of the Bruner line.

The same launch brings the report that block houses of thick timbers have been erected along the right-of-way by the Bruner people, and that the Guggenheims are paying $2 an hour to fighting men, with a bonus of $100 to the first man who crosses the Bruner right-of-way.

LEANDER WINS FIRST GRAND CHALLENGE HEAT
Trials For the British Rowing Blue Ribbon Commence.

Henley, July 3.—The Leander crew, as anticipated, won an easy victory over the London Rowing Club today in the first heat for the Grand Challenge Cup. Leander led all the way. Time, 7 minutes, 33 seconds. The British oarsmen are relying on the Leander to win back the Grand Challenge Cup, which was captured by the Belgians last year.

The surprise of the day was the defeat of Blackstaffe, holder of the diamond skulls trophy, by Captain Darrell, of the First Life Guards. After a splendid race, Darrell won by a half a length. Time, 8 minutes, 57 seconds. The weather was dismal and cold, preventing the bright costumes and gaudies which usually mark the annual water picnic here.

Paying Teller Vanishes With $96,317 in Cash
Said to Have Cleared Up All Available Money in the Bank.

New York, July 3.—Detectives throughout the United States are searching today for Chester B. Runyan, paying teller of the Windsor Trust Company, who the directors allege, is missing with $96,317 in cash. The case is being handled by private detectives, George Young, a director of the trust companies, confirms the report of the defalcation, which the detectives say is one of the most remarkable ever reported.

Runyan is accused of having placed $96,371 in currency in a suitcase last Saturday, and after shaking hands with his associates left the trust company. Since then he has not been seen. Runyan, it is said, did not even go to his apartment to bid good-bye to his wife to whom he had been married for five years. He is said to have taken all the cash available in the bank last Saturday. The directors, it is said, have made up all the loss of the defalcation.

Runyan was a man of good habits so far as known, and his conduct was such as not to arouse any suspicion. When the auditors went over his accounts on May 1, they were found to be all right.

INSURGENTS TORTURED
Chinese Rebels Refuse To Tell Names of Leaders.

Hong Kong, July 3.—It is reported here from Wong Hung that imperial troops surprised a band of insurgents recently, capturing 80 of them. The prefect of Wai Hui tortured the prisoners, pouring burning resin on their bare bodies in an attempt to extract the names of the leaders of the uprising, in which, however, he was unsuccessful.

DEATH OF MR. GEO. ACHESON
Prominent Businessman of Goderich Passes Away Suddenly.

Goderich, July 2.—Mr. George Acheson, Goderich's foremost financier, died here today very suddenly. He was interested in many of Goderich's biggest industrial concerns, being president of the Goderich Lumber Company. He was 76 years of age. He is survived by a widow and three brothers, William, Edward and Robert, all residing in this neighborhood.

EVANGELIZING KOREA.
Seoul, July 3.—Protestant Christianity in Korea has increased over 60 per cent in the past year, and there is promise of a national evangelization under the auspices of the American missionaries. Catholicism is apparently stationary.

WON'T RUN NEXT YEAR—FOR MAYOR
Mayor Makes Announcement While Engaged in a Hot Weather Talk.

"I will not run next year—for mayor."

So said Mayor Judd to The Advertiser today while engaged in a hot-weather talk with the reporters.

The manner in which his worship made the statement led to the deduction that he intends to run for something else if that something comes in sight. What it is he would not say. But he is quite sure he will not run again for mayor.

His worship added that the city is now in good shape, financially and otherwise, and that with careful management his successors should be able to worry along for the next twenty years with a tax rate of not more than 20 mills on the dollar.

The city is now paying its share of a great many local improvements, the debt charges on which will soon lapse, and then it should prove easy sailing for the civic ship. For example, the city is now paying for the sidewalks, of which the city pays half the cost, will last for 50 years, and when this debt is paid off, there will be a big saving to the city.

Every civic problem, with the exception of the elevation of the Grand Trunk tracks in London, and the reduction of business insurance rates, has been settled, and his worship believes that both of these matters will be settled this year.

His worship is not a little worried over the action of the council in leaving to him alone the selection of delegates to the three big conventions.

It is a recognized fact that the fire chief is the only one who has any business going to the firemen's convention, but two or three aldermen would like to take in the trip.

Then there is the trip to Port Arthur. London should be represented there, but not by a civic army. The mayor is vice-president of the Union of Canadian Municipalities, and no doubt is entitled to go.

As far as the convention of the Ontario Municipal Union is concerned, the assessment commissioner has always been able to bring back ten times as much information for the use of the city as ten aldermen who have been sent.

His worship stated today that he feels that he is barred from taking in any of the trips, from the fact that he cannot with good grace appoint himself a member of a deputation. The aldermen, on the other hand, claim that it was their intention, when they elected the mayor to him, to make him a member of each deputation, and to leave it to him to decide who should accompany him.

Ald. Matthews stated at the council meeting last night that he did not know whether he could get away to the convention at Port Arthur, even if he was delegated to go, but it was stated at the city hall today that for several weeks the alderman has thrown out the hint that he was due for a trip this year. As much as he was plucked last year when he went to go to Dallas, Texas, to the firemen's convention.

NEW ISSUE OF STOCK
Canadian General Electric Increasing Its Capital to $8,000,000.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Toronto, July 3.—The Canadian General Electric Company is increasing its capital from $5,000,000 to $8,000,000 by the issue of new stock. Two million is preferred and one million common. Shareholders meet Aug. 15 to ratify the bylaw. Of the present stock $300,000 is to be retired. It pays only 6 per cent. New preferred will pay 7.

Bonds to the amount of $150,000 of the Northern Steam Pump Company will be paid out of the new issue, the balance to be used to make good advances made by the company's bankers. Only the preferred stock is to be issued at present. Stock not taken up by the shareholders is to be disposed of in England.

HER LIFE CRUSHED OUT
Little Two-Year-Old Girl Killed at Kingston.

Kingston, July 3.—Street car No. 18, in charge of Motorman Cadenhead, struck and killed a 2-year-old child of the corner of Union and Collingwood streets this morning. The child ran out in front of the car, wheeling a doll's carriage. Her name was Hilda MacGillivray, of Collingwood street. One of her legs was cut off and her life was crushed out.

PRIVILEGES OF THE PARK
May Be Fully Enjoyed by All Who Are Well-Behaved.

Mr. J. S. Pearce, London's painstaking park superintendent, has this to say in regard to those who frequent Victoria Park:

"In conversation with a gentleman the other day, and from questions asked me by others, it is evident there are still many people who labor under a misunderstanding as to walking and strolling on the grass in Victoria Park.

"There will be no interference with anyone who wishes to enjoy walking and strolling on the grass; neither will there be objection to anyone sitting or lounging on the sward in a proper manner. But any unseemly postures or behavior will be promptly stopped. Making short-cuts across the park, or walking on the grass alongside the walks, we cannot allow. This is imperative. Mothers or nurses with children will be welcome to come and use the sward, and, in fact, any small children who will behave themselves.

"I shall be obliged to any of the citizens who will advise me or the police of any unseemly conduct or improper language being used by any of the loungers who frequent the park. I am anxious to make Victoria Park a quiet, restful place for all who may frequent it, and I hope the citizens will assist me in carrying out this object."

CREW NOT TO BLAME.
"That the late Richard J. Gould came to his death on the morning of June 22, in the G. T. R. car shops yard, in the city of London, by falling from the end of a car on which he was riding, to the rails, and there being crushed and mangled to death under the wheels of the car. We entirely exonerate the rest of the crew from all blame in the matter."

Such was the verdict returned by the jury at the adjourned session of the coroner's inquest in the case of R. J. Gould's death.

Yesterday afternoon the jury visited the scene of the accident, and there witnessed the shunting of the train, under the wheels of which Gould met his death, in a similar manner to that in which it was being moved when the accident occurred.

Last night at 8 o'clock Coroner MacLaren read over the evidence taken at the last sitting of the inquest, and then addressed the jury without the hearing of further evidence.

FIRE FEEDS ON TOWN
WATER SUPPLY GONE
Whitney, Tennessee, Likely To Be Completely Destroyed.

Chattanooga, Tenn., July 3.—A telephone message to the Times from Whitney says:

"Fire which started in the store of the Whitwell Mercantile Company shortly before midnight is still raging, and the town is threatened. The bank of Whitney has been destroyed, and the postoffice and all the main business houses are in the path of the flames. There is little chance to stop the fire, as the only means of fighting it is with buckets. The water supply is practically exhausted."

Bus Capsizes; Five Hurt

Members of Oddfellows' Band Injured Near Sparta, Ont.

St. Thomas, July 2.—Five men were hurt, one badly, by the overturning of a bus on the road between Sparta and Aylmer last night. The men belonged to the Aylmer Oddfellows' Band, returning from a garden party at Sparta. The injured: John Fulkerson, hurt internally, and who is still unconscious; A. A. Leslie, leg hurt; F. Soper, bad cut over eye, which will require several stitches; Fred Campbell, shoulder dislocated. The bus was badly damaged. Other members of the band were badly shaken up.

LONGBOAT IN EXHIBITION
Indian to Run Three Miles At Jubilee Rink Against Local Men.

Tom Longboat, the famous Indian runner who captured the coveted Marathon prize at Boston this spring, when he defeated the best long distance runners in the world, will appear in the Jubilee rink Thursday night in a three-mile race.

Against Longboat will be pitted such runners as Wallace Chapman, who took second prize in the Marathon on Monday; Amos, of London, who is well-known as a long distance runner and Peacock, of this city, who competed in the big race of Monday; and Henry and Nicholas, Indians from the Marquette reservation.

The event should attract a very large crowd to the rink. Thousands of people were disappointed on Monday when the famous Indian did not put in an appearance, but they will now be afforded an opportunity of seeing him in the Jubilee Rink.

MORE OPERATORS OUT.
San Francisco, July 3.—President S. J. Small, of the "Telegraphers' Union," last night confirmed a report that he had ordered out the operators in another city. He said that the operators have been ordered out in at least one more city, and that they will leave their keys in less than a week. Both telegraph companies are now accepting business without the stipulation of "subject to delay."

WANTED GUTTER IN CENTER OF STREET
City Engineer, However, Would Not Listen to Suggestion of Clarence St. Ratepayer.

The Barber Asphalt Company has written City Engineer Graydon to say that the company will commence work on the pavement on Clarence street, from Dundas street to the G. T. R., on Monday next. This is exactly a month earlier than was expected.

This morning Water Commissioner Saunders waited on the engineer and asked that the pavement be constructed with a single gutter in the center of the roadway, instead of in the ordinary way with a gutter at both sides.

Mr. Saunders' argument in favor of the proposal was that if the gutter is in the center all the dirt will gravitate that way, instead of right at the doors of the people, as at present.

Mr. Graydon would not listen to the suggestion, however. He claimed that the roadway would be dangerous in this part of the country, and that a horse could not hold his feet on it in the winter.

Mr. Graydon is willing to meet the wishes of the people as far as possible, but he does not believe the suggestion made by Mr. Saunders is a good one. The street railway company, this morning began the paving of its track allowance on Richmond street, between Bathurst and Horton, with vitrified brick.

NO MORE COMPLAINTS
Tannery Has Met With the Wishes of the Health Board.

At the meeting of the board of health yesterday, Dr. Niven, the chairman, stated that C. S. Hyman & Co. have completed the new tanks which were constructed with a view to being away from the dumping of sewage and other matter into Carling's Creek, and that now only the overflow from the tanks will go into the stream. The company, which has done everything in its power to do away with the nuisance complained of by the people in the vicinity of the tannery, have asked the board of health to regularly inspect the tanks, so that they may be kept working to the complete satisfaction of the city.

FIRE IN A MAIL CAR
Forty-five Hundred Pounds of Matter on Illinois Central Lost.

St. Louis, Mo., July 2.—Fire in the mail car of the Illinois Central Chicago flyer destroyed the entire contents last night. About 3,000 pounds of letter mail, 1,500 pounds of newspapers, and all the registered mail, was destroyed. Mail Clerk Cleave was painfully burned about the face and hands.

The fire is supposed to have been caused by sparks from the engine.

SOUL PROBER ON ORCHARD
Famous Harvard Psychologist Says Murderer Tells Truth.

Boston, July 3.—In a newspaper interview, Professor Hugo Muensterberg, the famous Harvard psychologist, who has been attending the Haywood trial at Boise, Idaho, for the purpose of studying the mind of Harry Orchard, the principal witness, says he believes Orchard's confession to be thoroughly true.

"Besides, having every facility for investigation of the subject at the trial," he said, "I also visited the penitentiary and made a psychological examination of Orchard lasting eight hours."

Professor Muensterberg added that he was very much impressed with the sanity which characterized the trial, and expressed his opinion that absolute justice was being accorded.

KEEP your body clean!
Most people are very neat and clean in their outward appearance, but how about the inside?

Are you clean inside?
And if not, how can you face the world with clean thoughts, clear intelligence, a fair, just, bright mind and get your full share of capacity for work and enjoyment?

Neglect of exercise, rich over-feeding and carelessness about stools, often leave the delicate internal mechanism in a nasty mess.
The small intestine is compelled to absorb the poison of decaying matter instead of wholesome nourishment.

The liver gets inactive; the bile doesn't "work off"; the eyes get yellow; the skin gets dead like putty and pale like dough, disfigured with boils, pimples, blackheads and liver-spots.

There's only one solution to the problem: Keep clean inside all the time. That's the answer.

If you can not diet, or keep your mechanism going by proper exercise, take Cascarets, the sweet, fragrant, harmless little vegetable tablets, that "act like exercise" on your bowels, and gently but powerfully clean out and disinfect the whole digestive canal.

A Cascaret every night before going to bed will "work while you sleep" and make you "feel fine in the morning."

If you have been neglecting yourself for some time, take a Cascaret night and morning and break up the "constipated habit" without acquiring a "cathartic habit."

Cascarets are sold by all druggists, 10c, 15c and 50c. The 10c size trial box is a neat fit for the vest pocket or lady's purse. Be sure to get the genuine with the "long-tailed C" on the box and the letters "CCC" on each tablet. They are never sold in bulk.

THE CITY DADDIES ARE LONGING TO TAKE IN THE LONG JAUNTS

Could Not Agree as to Who Shall Get Plums, and Matter Is Life to the Mayor.

City daddies, in council assembled, last night very nearly quarreled over the all-important matter of who should secure the jaunting plums of the year. In the end, the aldermen failing to agree, unloaded the problem on to the mayor, and it now devolves upon his worship, who shall and who shall not take in the trips to various places which are scheduled for this year.

They include three jaunts: The Union of Canadian Municipalities meets at Port Arthur the middle of August.
The firemen's convention meets in Washington, D. C., in October.
And the Ontario Municipal Union meets in Toronto during August.

A Pleasant Task.
The question of appointing delegates to the conventions made Ald. Garratt smack his lips. Ald. Matthews, with an ache in his anatomy since he was turned down a year ago, when he wanted to go to Dallas, was hungry on this occasion.

Ald. Garratt appeared to have met his wishes entirely when he moved the following resolution, which provided for a jaunt for everybody in the council.

Delegates to Port Arthur—Mayor Judd, Ald. Stevely, Beattie and Matthews.

Delegates to Washington—Ald. Garratt, Gillen, Booth and Fire Chief Clark.

Delegates to Toronto—Ald. Cooper, Saunders, Gerry, Scarlett, Rose, Stevenson and Assessment Commissioner Grant.

Thought It Was Easy.
Ald. Garratt looked complacent, and termed the list a "slate." But there were rough roads ahead of the "slate." Jealousy prompted some aldermen to attack it. Others were actuated by a feeling that it meant the spending of too much money.

Ald. Cooper objected to the young aldermen getting all the long trips. Moreover, he thought it was not right to send any more than two men to Port Arthur. It would cost $300 to send four delegates, he said. Ald. Cooper also accused his brother aldermen of having hatched the list presented two weeks ago. He moved in amendment that only Mayor Judd and Ald. Gerry go to Port Arthur. Ald. Stevenson seconded.

Ald. Matthews Reminiscent.
Ald. Matthews recalled the fact that he had failed to get a "look in" on the long trips last year. He accused Ald. Stevenson of having done pretty well for a young alderman last year, when he went to Halifax as a delegate from the council.

DR. NIVEN WAS GIVEN THE PLUM

Chosen Chairman of the Board of Health Yesterday Afternoon.

Dr. J. S. Niven was yesterday chosen chairman of the board of health, to succeed Dr. English, who now resides in Hamilton.

There was a little flurry before Dr. Niven took his seat.
Mr. Charles Taylor moved that Dr. Niven be chairman, and Harry Clark moved that the honor be conferred upon Ald. W. J. Stevenson.

Mr. Clark said that with all due respect to Dr. Niven, Ald. Stevenson had been a member of the board for a number of years, and Dr. Niven was only a new member. He thought Dr. Stevenson was entitled to the chairmanship.

Dr. Niven interrupted to say that he had been a member of the board of health 25 years ago.

Mr. Wm. Skinner said he thought Dr. Stevenson was entitled to the chairmanship.

Dr. Stevenson Refuses.
"I positively refuse to accept the chairmanship unless the board is unanimous," declared Ald. Stevenson.

"I guess you had better drop out, then," Mayor Judd replied. "There doesn't appear to be any chance of unanimity here."

"Well, that's my position," Ald. Stevenson said. "If there's to be any opposition, I withdraw my name."

"I hear you don't want the chairmanship, on my casting vote?" queried his worship.

"And you said things about me in the papers," Ald. Stevenson returned.

"I've tossed a penny for the chairmanship, and lost it," said ex-Ald. Carrothers.

Mr. Taylor again moved that Dr. Niven take the chair, and there was no opposition, the doctor presided at the meeting. He asked for the unanimous support of all members of the board, stating that unless all worked with him he could not carry on properly the work of the board.

Attending Smallpox Patients.
Ald. Stevenson brought up the matter of the attending of smallpox patients by the M. H. O. He said the question is one which is getting the board into trouble, and some distinct understanding should be arrived at.

Mr. Carrothers stated that during his term the board had decided that Dr. Hutchinson should attend all smallpox cases, as a part of his official duties. He declared that if such a clause does not appear in the minutes it should be there.

It was stated that the health act will not permit the M. H. O. to attend smallpox cases.

Costly, This.
Dr. Stevenson then said that the city had paid a student $5 a day to look after Mr. Frank Sage when he was in the hospital, as well as $4 to Mrs. Vatcher

Ald. Gillen withdrew his name from the list presented by Ald. Garratt to go to Washington, and asked that Ald. Saunders' name be substituted.
Ald. Stevely said he was willing to vote for Ald. Gerry instead of himself to go to Port Arthur, if he wanted to go.

Ald. Gerry declared he was not particular. If the council wanted him to go he would go.

Opposed Jaunts.
Ald. Gillen vigorously opposed the spending of so much money in jaunts. It would mean one-tenth of a mill on the tax rate, he said. The Port Arthur trip alone would cost over $300.

"No, it won't," said the mayor.
"How much did the Halifax trip cost last year?" queried Ald. Gillen.
"About $200," replied his worship.

"Well, I have not been on one of these trips as yet, and I will not go on one now," Ald. Gillen replied. "I don't think it's right to spend the people's money in that way."

Ald. Stevenson gave the mayor a savage stab when he stated that his worship had started in by cutting out of the board of health deputation to Ottawa, but was silent now.

For himself, he declared he would take part in no deputation. He felt the number of delegates proposed to send to the different places were altogether too large.

Only Fire Chief Should Go.
Ald. Gillen asserted that only the fire chief should go to Washington. As to Port Arthur, the mayor should go, and if he wanted company an alderman should accompany him.

Ald. Matthews said there are very few aldermen who do not believe the aldermen should be paid. And as the law does not permit of salaries being paid, there are very few people who do not believe that the aldermen are entitled to a trip occasionally.

The water commissioners, with their officers, attend conventions all over America, and nothing is said of it. But if an alderman takes a trip the fact is heralded with a view to his detriment. But he did not believe that such reports hurt an alderman with the people. He favored the sending of a deputation to Port Arthur.

Up to the Mayor.
Ald. Matthews also accused Ald. Gillen of being paltry in talking as he did in regard to deputations.

The vote was then taken on the proposal to send only the mayor and Ald. Gerry to Port Arthur, and it was defeated.

Ald. Saunders moved that the mayor, Ald. Gerry and Ald. Matthews go to Port Arthur. The motion was lost.

Ald. Stevely moved that the matter of sending delegates to Port Arthur and the other places be left to the mayor with power.

The mayor didn't like the idea, but it went to a vote, and was carried.

to nurse him, and that in addition Dr. English, who was acting medical health officer at the time, is now suing Mr. Sage for $150 for medical attendance. The whole matter was left over till next meeting for a report, the mayor, the chairman and the medical health officer to consider the question.

A PILL FOR GENEROUS EATERS.
There are many persons of healthy ap-petite and good digestion who, after a hearty meal, are subject to much suffering. The food of which they have partaken lies like lead in their stomachs. Hence, indiges-tion, a smothering feeling follows. One is afflicted is unfit for business or work. Vegetable Pills will bring relief. They will assist the assimilation of the aliment, and used according to directions will restore healthy digestion.

IF MISS CORELLI WOULD MARRY

Here's a Description of the Angelic Creature She Would Choose.

London, July 2.—Laudably anxious to provide a novel topic, an English journal treats its readers this week to a daring speculation on the kind of husband that would best suit Marie Corelli.

"There is no doubt," says the writer of the article, but that consciously or unconsciously, an authoress strives more or less to invest her heroines with those mental, moral and physical attributes which reflect her own in idealized form, and represent what she deems most desirable, and hence would fair possess. In similar fashion she draws her hero in the likeness of the particular man whose image happens to dominate her life at the moment. As the same woman throughout—for in each successive illusion she eagerly seeks the bitter, sweet rapture of her first love—it is not difficult to deduce a manner of man who alone can capture her imagination, and from that stronghold carry her heart by storm."

By this method of deduction the heroes of Marie's fictions are made to furnish this composite picture of the man whom she might consent to annex.

"The husband for Marie Corelli must be of the heroic type, gentle, though firm; tender, yet strong. In appearance he must be handsome, for the writer of many exquisite, descriptive lines is sensitive to impressions of beauty, and in addition, he requires to be tall, dressed and distinguished, a man whom other women would covet."

"To make her happy he must possess an exalted belief in women, not in woman-kind in general, be it well understood, but in one woman in particular—Marie Corelli. Before winning his way to this implicit faith, and unwavering devotion, he must have waded deeply through the quagmire of doubt and the slough of despond. He must have suffered disillusionment at the hands of women of a more human and therefore less lofty type. She would fain be told of it in passionate periods delivered metaphorically speaking, from the center of the stage, in full view of the footlights; before a crowded and admiring audience."

What profession should this materialization of various ideals belong to? "His desirability as a husband," says the writer, "would be greatly enhanced should he happen to be unfettered by the chains of any special however, his chief claim to distinction, while the exact amount of his income should not be clearly defined. Preferably, it should flow—freely, of course—from some mysterious source.

"The world at large should know him as an elegant dilettante. Friends should recognize in him a painter who could paint, and paint well, did he so choose. They should otherwise suspect him of being a poet, the author of certain exquisite verses, which appeared anonymously, while knowing him to be a composer whose musical conceptions were of too rare an order to be semiquavers. In the eyes of the vulgar, tion should lie in the fact that he was Marie Corelli's husband. So much from outside opinion.

"To Marie Corelli he should be all in all. Never should he weary of offering up incense at her shrine. In return, she and she alone, would recognize the genius which could accomplish all things he clearly defined, which was content to the fallen, a mine of boundless wealth, the resources of which he would not strive to ascertain for fear lest, in so doing, he might shake one petal from the roses which made fragrant the pleasantries wherein his lady delighted to wander, well knowing, but careless of the treasures beneath her worshiped feet."

Poor Marie! So shy and retiring, so adverse to publicity of all kinds that she will bring a lawsuit against a photographer at the risk of getting columns printed about the case, and yet the phillistines of the press will not leave her alone. But Marie Corelli married! Somehow it is unthinkable.

"The wonderful remedy I call Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut."

I guarantee they will restore health and color to all women who suffer from anaemia and lack of blood tone. It's safe for me to guarantee my pills because I know by experience just what they will do.

C. P. R.'S NEW CROSS-CONTINENT FLYER.

"Trans-Canada" Makes Fastest Time Across America.

The business of the country is growing to such an extent that the C. P. R. finds it necessary to run an additional train between Montreal and Vancouver, making three trips a week during July and August. This train, which will be known as the Trans-Canada Limited, will make the fastest time of any train across the American continent. It will carry baggage car, dining-car and palace sleeping-cars only, of the very latest design and with most modern improvements, and only first-class passengers will be carried. She will leave Montreal on the first trip July 2. Berths can be reserved in Toronto for passengers from North Bay to points west of Winnipeg at which the Trans-Canada Limited stops. No passengers will be carried from Toronto to Winnipeg or points east thereof, as Winnipeg passengers arrive only one hour later by taking the Imperial Limited. List of stops, full particulars and berth reservations can be obtained at C. P. R. local ticket office, or from C. P. Foster, D. P. A., C. P. R., Toronto.

THE CRICK IN THE BACK.—"One touch of nature makes the whole world kin," sings the poet. But what about the touch of rheumatism and lumbago, which is so common now? There is no poetry in that touch, for it renders life miserable. Yet how delicious is the sense of relief when an application of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil drives pain away. There is nothing equals it.

LONDON, WEDNESDAY, JULY 3.

A CANADIAN APOSTATE.

There are some native products of which this country has reason to be ashamed. Among these are the Canadians who part with their love of Canada when they cross the line. This class is not a numerous one among the host of Canadian old boys over the border, but it is familiar to most of us. When one of the breed condescends to pay a visit to the old home he professes to find everything and everybody behind the times. He declares he could not live in this country again—
it is too slow—and he shows a pitying contempt for those who are satisfied to stay here.

A peculiarly offensive specimen is one W. R. Givens, who writes an elaborate disparagement of Canada in the New York Independent. He is a university graduate, recently located in the United States. Canada he describes as an Old Man's Land, ruled largely by old men, and running in its every phase of life in a narrow groove, rust
on the rails, moss on the side, and bal-lasted unevenly and insecurely. He says that "in politics there is scarcely a man of prominence who is not well on to 50 years of age; in law, with one or two exceptions, the same statement will hold true; while in business it assuredly is true." He refers to Canada's "worse than futile trade policy," ridiculing Sir Wilfrid Laurier's statement of Canada's purpose to turn the currents of trade eastward and westward. There is little real Canadianism in the Dominion, adds Givens, and really no such thing as a true Canadian spirit. "The young men of Canada, as soon as he is old enough properly to observe promptly shakes the dust of the country off his feet and gets him to the United States, where a man may be a man before his Canadian time." The eastern provinces of Canada were practically at a standstill, the only real progress being in the west;
and for this progress Givens gives most of the credit to "becoming Americans."

This detraction of Canada by a Canadian disquis, even the New York Sun, which terms Givens an apostate. "We have a better opinion of the land of his birth than he has, and a larger faith in its future," says the Sun. "We have come to look upon Canada, and we believe with good reasons for doing so, as a progressive country, developing rapidly on a sound basis and destined to play a much larger part in the affairs of the world in the immediate future."

The Sun says the age of a nation's leading men in politics, business, and the professions, is not a matter of supreme importance. There is even an advantage in the wisdom which the years have brought. The real question concerns the past and present achievements of these "old men." That point is quickly settled by any reference to a summary of Canadian conditions in 1907 in comparison with a summary of conditions in 1897 or 1887.

The Sun naturally thinks that the direction of the trade current should,
and inevitably will be, north and south,
but points out that Canada's commerce has more than doubled in ten years. "The trade policy may be worse than futile," says the Sun, "but it does not seem to have impeded the national growth." The Sun also says that the federation of 1867 was the first decisive step in the march of Canadian nationality, and in every later page of the history of the Dominion there is recorded the advance of that sentiment.

As to Givens' statement that Canadian young men hasten to leave their country, the Sun thinks it was in some measure true twenty years ago, and perhaps also ten years ago. "We question its accuracy today, and believe that such a statement will be quite impossible ten years from now." The same journal truly remarks that about ten years ago this country began to come into its own, and that no careful student of the last decade can deny its wholesome growth during that period or doubt its much more rapid and equally wholesome growth to come.

Givens explains in a letter to the Sun that it has missed the point of his argument, and that he has a large faith in Canada and a knowledge that it, in its own good time, will be a great country. No explanation or apology can save him from deserved contempt. The whole purport of his article was disparaging to Canada and Canadians, at a time, too, when the country is filled with new life, and when young Canadians find that opportunities abound at home.
Givens was no doubt well paid for his article. The man who would sell his pen to write down his native land is better off of it.

FOR THE BENEFIT OF OLD AGE.

The widow of the late Russell Sage has recently given fresh evidence of her determination that the hoardings of the dead Wall street operator and multi-millionaire shall be put to good use. Her latest benefaction is the donation of $300,000 to a projected institute of pathology, to be established in connection with one of the great hospitals of New York City.

In the past, institutions for the study of children's diseases—a form of philanthropy that has found especial favor amongst wealthy bereaved parents—
have been given generous endowments,
but it is not recorded where anyone has considered the diseases peculiar to advanced age to be worthy of particular attention. The fact is, we have become accustomed to regard disease
as belonging to old age, and to be satisfied so long as the aged victims are made as comfortable as money and care can make them. Mrs. Sage evidently believes that more than this can be done; that were the diseases of the aged better understood, in many instances the prolongation of lives that are dear to many might be effected. In this view she has the support of eminent pathologists, who recognize the very great need for special study and research along this particular line.

It is estimated that the progress
during the last 50 years of medicine,
public and private hygiene, sanitation and society in general, has increased by about twelve years the expectation of life in the case of the average normal person; yet this seems to be true
only of those under 40 years of age, and the assertion has been made that the man or woman who is on the shady side of 40 has no greater expectation of life than had the people of that age of two or three generations ago. This is accounted for by the fact that scientific attention has been almost monopolized by the prevention of the diseases which attack and carry off the young, to the neglect of the old. This is perhaps due not so much to the lack of reverence or concern as to the erroneous idea that the person who has passed the two-score mark is less liable to disease than younger people and better able to take care of himself.

It cannot be doubted, however, that there are diseases of old age just as there are diseases of childhood and adolescence, and conscientious and methodical study should be given the organic changes of later life and their co-relation with the phenomena of disease. It is for the encouragement of such study that Mrs. Sage's munificent gift is intended, and old people and those who live with them and would keep them in the world as long as possible owe her a debt of gratitude.
With her the quality of charity is not strained, and she discriminates against none of the seven ages.

AGAIN THE AXE.

It would be much more manly were the Conservative press to candidly admit, what must be apparent to anyone who has followed the case, that the real reason for the dismissal of Police Magistrate Woodat, of Brantford, was to make a place for one more of the hundreds of Mr. Whitney's followers who are waiting for promised jobs. It is true there was a dispute between the magistrate, and certain clergymen, but it is equally true that Mr. Woodat was in the right and should have been upheld. The cause of the dispute, it seems, arose out of the attempt of certain clergymen to discuss with the magistrate a liquor case which was to come before him for decision. The magistrate properly refused, for it is a rule that, under no circumstances should a judge,
be he high or petty, hold communication with parties to a trial or with anyone interested in it, except in the open court. The very essence of British law is that both judge and jury should come into court with absolutely unprejudiced minds; otherwise the safeguards of justice and liberty would be impaired and methods utterly foreign to the spirit of the law introduced.
Nothing bearing on the case should be listened to except in the presence of all the parties concerned; trial out of court should not be tolerated. It is charged that the magistrate, in refusing to violate a well-established rule, used language unnecessarily harsh, but even if he did momentarily lose his temper, the circumstances excused him.
As a lawyer, Mr. Whitney must know how dangerous it would be for judges or magistrates to permit persons interested in a case to approach and attempt to influence them before trial, and must further know that Mr. Wood-at, in repulsing such approaches, acted as an administrator of the law should act. But the Premier does not appear to have taken that matter into consideration. Instead, seeing a miserable excuse for again applying the axe, he applied it.

The Fourth of July orator will exercise his laws tomorrow, while young America runs the risk of lockjaw.

The boy or girl whose name is missing from the list of school promotions should not be discouraged. Some of the world's greatest geniuses were always at the foot of the class.

The circular sent out by the water commissioners, in connection with their mail order vote, is a piece of special pleading which emphasizes the farcical nature of the whole affair.

The separate high-pressure system solves two problems—the water shortage and the insurance imbroglio. The other schemes take no account of the insurance question.

The supporters of an administration which planted the Mormons and the Galleians in the Canadian West are growing at an immigration policy which will bring a hundred thousand Britons to Canada this year.

There is point in this comment by Mr. John Lewis, in an article in the Canadian Magazine: "That Canadians are not a very demonstrative or self-conscious people would appear from their treatment of their national holiday.
They still let off their fireworks on the birthday of Queen Victoria, and march in procession on the day of St. Jean Baptiste, or the anniversary of the battle of the Boyne, while the birthday of the Dominion, though set aside for rest and pleasure, passes by as if it were not a landmark in the history of the nation."

Give it your consideration,
Show no silly perturbation,
Just keep easy, calm and cool.

Fred—Yes, and I'll never do it again.
The girl jumped at my proposal and upset
the boat.

SOME SOUVENIRS.

[Judge.]
"Moving" inquired a neighbor as a

WHO BIDES HIS TIME.

[Maverick.]
She used to go to parties when She lived at Jaytown Junction;
But in the city she now attends
Nothing short of a function.

TO SUIT THE TIMES.

[James Whitcomb Riley.]
Who bides his time, and day by day
Paces defeat full patiently,
And lifts a mirthful roundelay,
However poor his fortunes be—
He will not fail in any quail
Of poverty—the paltry dime,
It will grow golden in his palm,
Who bides his time.

Who bides his time—he tastes the sweet
Of honey fed in the saltiest tear;
And though he fears the slowest feet,
Joy runs to meet him, drawing near;
The birds are heralds of his cause;
And, like the never-ending rhyme,
The road-side bloom in his applause,
Who bides his time.

Who bides his time—and fevers not
In the hot race that none achieve,
Shall wear cool-wreaths laurel, wrought
With crimson berries in the leaves;
And he shall reign a goodly king,
And sway his hand in every clime,
With peace writ on his signet-ring,
Who bides his time.

KICKING.

[New York Sun.]
"It's useless to kick at the wealth of your neighbor."
It never will fatten your purse;
"It's idle to kick at the state of the weather."
It makes it not better nor worse.
"It's empty to kick at the scheme of creation."
It does not affect it a bit
And vain is the kick at the age that you live in.
"It's march is not halted a whit."
"It's useless to kick at the fallings of people."
There's nothing to show for the work;
"It's vain to condemn the society wrinkles."
It never will alter a quirk.
"There's nothing accomplished by sitting and railing."
Improvement more effort demands;
Success is the need of a different person.
The fellow who kicks with his hands.

With the wind a-blowin' free,
For the good Lord runs the weather,
And it ain't a-bothering me.

WEALTH OF TURKEY.

[Washington Post.]
"Turkey," I believe, is the richest country
on the globe for its size," said Ernest A.
Magnifico, American vice-consul at Smyrna, Turkey.

There are copper mines, zinc mines, lead mines and silver mines to be found in abundance in Turkey, but they remain undeveloped because no one can get a concession from the Government to work them," continued Mr. Magnifico.
"Foreign capital is afraid to enter Turkey,
and the industry of the country and the army."

population, I believe, are decreasing yearly.
But this cannot last forever. The people are beginning to throw off the burden and are awakening to the possibilities of the future.
Ten years ago 90 per cent of the people were ignorant of the utility of public schools, and parents were content to allow their children to grow up without education, as they had done before them. Now schools are springing up everywhere, even in the rural districts, and the people are becoming alive to their true interests. They are taking an interest in politics and Government affairs, and it is not a far step from education and zeal in politics to active participation in the running of the Government.

Agriculturally, Turkey is the most fertile spot in the world. Anything can be grown there. The principal products are wheat and barley, nearly all of which is shipped to England. Smyrna is a city of 100,000 population and is the largest export city on the Mediterranean, which is saying a great deal when one remembers that Genoa and Naples are on that sea. There manufacturing establishments are few, there and no machinery is used. What manufacturing is done is by hand. Smyrna rugs, of course, are famous the world over, and many of the people are engaged in making them.

DECIDEDLY DIFFERENT.

[Washington Star.]
To suit the rapid, modern pace,
The weather now is made:
From freezing point it jumps with grace,
To ninety in the shade!

A GOOD EXAMPLE.

[Pittsburg Dispatch.]
Up in Toronto they put a baseball player in jail for abusing the umpire. Canada sets a good example. Yet if it was allowed in New York City they would have to turn a good share of New York into a vast jail.

WHERE IS HE?

[Brooklyn Times.]
Where's the man who yelled so loud about the backward season?
Probably he long ere this has lost his life
or reason.
But if by chance or miracle he's managed
both to save,
We think the proper fate for him is drowning by heat wave.

GENIUS INVOKED
TO PLAY IDIOT

Prisoner Stimulated Lunacy in Order to Avoid Death.

Vienna, July 2.—A six days' murder trial at Salzburg, which was concluded yesterday with a verdict of guilty, was remarkable for the obstinate and consistent simulation of idiocy by the accused, a gardener of the Grand Duke of Tuscany, named Pluharz, who claimed to be a natural son of the Archduke Rainer.

To obtain money for his marriage
with the daughter of the innkeeper with whom he lived, Pluharz enticed
a young official of the postoffice, named Muhiberger, to his room in the inn, stunned him with a hammer, strangled him with a cord, and hid his body in a wardrobe. He afterwards carted the body to a distant field, where it was ultimately found.

He was disappointed at not finding the postoffice keys on the body, and he gained nothing from the murder.
When arrested a few days after the finding of the body Pluharz first endeavored to throw suspicion on his innkeeper's family, and then, during the preliminary examination at the end of last October, suddenly ceased speaking, and began a silence which he kept unbroken for more than seven months.

At the same time he began to show symptoms of idiocy and paralysis, first dragging his left leg, then his arm appeared to become useless.

The specialists examined him in prison declared that Pluharz was merely an ingenious malingerer, but Pluharz resisted all endeavors to make him speak.

He collapsed on the floor of the dock unless he was supported, and passed the time gnawing scraps of paper and playing with the buttons on his warden's uniforms, remaining apparently absolutely indifferent to the proceedings.

Dramatic scenes were witnessed in court when the finances adjured him if he had ever loved to speak and clear his family from the horrible suspicion that they were accomplices in the murder. The murdered man's father similarly called on Pluharz to speak; but to these appeals, as to the appeals of the judge, Pluharz replied merely by uttering an idiotic giggle.

Counsel for the defense declared that Pluharz's symptoms were genuine, and that if his client had been an American millionaire, instead of a poor gardener, he would have been able to retain specialists to prove this, and the prosecution to prove the contrary.

The jury, however, found Pluharz guilty of the deliberate murder of Muhiberger, and he was thereupon sentenced to be hanged.

Pluharz paid not the least attention
to either the verdict or the sentence, and was taken out of the court still playing with his warden's buttons, and giggling to himself.
The mental specialists appear to be quite certain that Pluharz is shaming, but state that the skill and obstacy with which he plays the role of idiot is unprecedented.

MAKING GENIUSES
TO ORDER

THE STRANGE THEORIES OF AN AMERICAN PROFESSOR MINDS ARE LIKE BOXES.

"Geniuses are not born; they are made—made by opportunities and happy combinations of circumstances, and the proper study of mankind is the making of the circumstances that make the genius. The reason that there are so few geniuses is that the most of mankind are given so little knowledge that they have not the material for elaborating genius."

This is the extraordinary theory put forward by Professor Lester Frank Ward, of Brown University. One might scout such theories did they emanate from an ordinary person, but coming from one of America's leading educational authorities situated at one of her foremost universities, one might need take notice of his oracular statements, quaint as they appear to be.

OUR MINDS ARE LIKE BOXES.
We are asked to imagine millions of boxes, alike in size and shape, but of vastly different materials and workmanship—some of mahogany or rosewood, beautifully polished or carved,
others of coarser wood and rude
workmanship, and others still of a rude and flimsy kind.

Further, all these boxes are supposed to be filled with various objects, such as silver, gold, pearls, diamonds, common pebbles, gravel, sand—anything will do so long as it represents extremes in values.
These boxes Professor Ward would have us regard as typifying the brain or intellect, the contents representing the acquired qualities—knowledge.
Like the wooden boxes, every brain-box except the idiot's can easily accept and retain whatever is put into
it. We can put sawdust into rosewood boxes and diamonds into deal ones, and that is all that is required, he says, for the Professor, is exactly what is happening to our minds.
But it is only when pearls find their way into rosewood boxes the genius comes forth.

GENIUS AND ENVIRONMENT.
But what is it that determines the contents of our minds? Circumstances, replied Professor Ward. Take, for instance, a child born among barbarians,
but with powers that would have made him almost civilized people, a great author, or inventor, or scientist. Such a child can never, thinks the Professor,
become one of these owing to his environment. He may rise above his fellow-barbarians in their common arts, but that is all. Compelled by circumstances to labour in a low field, he is quite unaware that with his superior mental powers he is capable, if properly placed, of working in the highest.

But after all the Professor thinks we need not contrast civilized races when we have a contrast quite as great between persons of different circumstances in civilized countries. No great man, say of letters or science, could have attained the place he occupies unless something had previously happened to give him a glimpse of his future life and to arouse his ambition. That something is as often as not local environment. A man cannot possibly fix his ambition upon a literary or scientific career when he is quite unaware that such careers are open to him. It requires the key of knowledge to open the door of opportunity.

WHAT IS KNOWLEDGE.
As regards knowledge itself, the Professor points out that it falls into natural groups of great truths, which,
however, need not all be actually possessed by every mind.

There are, according to Professor Ward, six of these great groups—astronomy, physics, chemistry, biology, psychology, sociology. Every conceptually, fact, force, property, substance, or things in the entire universe finds its place and explanation under one or other of these six sciences.

I would seem, therefore, that the acquisition of this so-called mental pablu-m is, according to the Professor, arithmetic, equal to genius—a striking theory which we venture to affirm could not be practically supported.— The Reader, London, England.

The Canadian Cigar and Tobacco Journal gives some hints to those who smoke pipes. Everybody thinks he knows how to smoke a pipe, but to do it perfectly is not easy. "Time is a keynote of successful pipe smoking,"

says the Journal, "and another is gentleness. Take it easy. Don't crowd the pipe to the top of the bowl. Never get a pipe hot. Keep cool and keep your pipe cool. You can relight a pipe, and if you are an old smoker you will be all the better for it. When you have finished do not refill a heated pipe."
Engineers have never doubted the possibility of transmitting power from the Victoria Falls of the Zambezi River to the great gold fields of the Transvaal, 750 miles distant, but they have

City Council Will Force Paving of Dundas Street

Thoroughfare Declared to Be a Disgrace, and Must Be Improved Forthwith

The city council last night upheld the action of the board of works in deciding to construct an asphalt pavement on Dundas street between Wellington and Waterloo streets, and between Maitland and William streets, under the powers conferred upon the council by the Legislature two years ago.

The matter was not decided until an hour, but the proposal to take the paving of the streets out of the hands of the ratepayers finally secured a unanimous vote. A two-thirds majority was necessary to carry out the project.

The Recommendation.

Clauses 2 and 3 of the board of works' report recommended: "That the petition for a sheet asphalt pavement on Dundas street between Wellington street and Waterloo street in which the petitioners ask that one-third only of the cost of the extra width on the north side should be charged to the petitioners owning property on the north side of said street, the remaining two-thirds to be charged to the general funds of the city, be filed, the city solicitor's opinion being that the petition is contrary to law in that the city has no power to pay any portion of the extra width as requested by the petitioners."

Against Asphalt. Aid. Garratt at once objected to the location of an asphalt pavement on the street. Asphalt is all right for residential streets, he said, but it is good for a business street. He suggested that the property owners canvassed as to whether they desired asphalt, asphalt block, vitrified brick or bitulith. He moved to this effect.

street east and west is already paved with asphalt and the people of other blocks have asked for the same material, he felt it would be inadvisable to change the class of pavement between Wellington and Waterloo, and between William and Maitland streets. Personally he was not in favor of asphalt, but as the people had asked for it, they should be given what they wanted.

Give People a Chance.

Ald. Stevely vigorously opposed any pavement being laid without giving the people a chance to say what they wanted. He said that the people between William and Maitland streets have not asked for asphalt. It is now too late to put a pavement down this year, he said, and he declared it would be worse than criminal to pave only one half the street, owing to the accidents which would ensue. He moved in amendment that a cement curb and gutter be constructed on the blocks named on Dundas street and that the matter of a pavement be deferred until some future time.

Ald. Garratt seconded the motion. Ald. Cooper said that as regards asphalt the city is at the mercy of one firm. Asphalt pavements have gone up from $1.60 a yard to $2.40 a yard, he said. Only one tender was received for the Clarence street pavement.

Mayor Says Pave It.

Mayor Judd then left the chair and addressed the council in favor of the improving of the street. He explained that year after year the city has attempted to pave Dundas street but every scheme put forth has failed. He said that the people of Dundas street from Adelaide to Wellington street, with the exception of the block between William and Maitland streets have asked for an asphalt pavement and in due course of time will be given that pavement by the city. Between Wellington and Waterloo, the petition for a pavement was refused by the city because the people wanted the city to pay a portion of the cost of the pavement out of the general funds. Between Maitland and William streets, the people have asked for no pavement at all. Ald. Cooper had stated that if the city had stepped in when the people could not agree on the subject the people would not now have the cheap class of pavement they have on King street.

Getting What They Ask For.

Ald. Matthews said he was in favor of having the city pay two-thirds the cost of the disputed strip on the north side of Dundas street between Wellington and Waterloo streets, so as to have the street paved as it should be. Ald. Beattie favored the paving of Dundas street between Wellington and Waterloo as it has been a disgrace to the city for many years. The people there have asked for asphalt and are being given what they asked for. Between William and Maitland streets it was different, as the people there had not stated what class of pavement they preferred.

No Hurry.

Ald. Stevely declared he had no intention of acting the obstructionist, but he felt there was no hurry in laying a pavement on Dundas street, as it is now too late to have the work done this year. Engineer Graydon had so informed him. Ald. Saunders said that as an alderman and a citizen he was ashamed of the street, and he felt the city could not get on with the work of improving the thoroughfare any too quickly. He said there is plenty of time to do the work this year.

Ald. Gillen was ready to vote for the putting down of an asphalt pavement if the board of works could guarantee that the whole of the work could be completed this year.

"If we don't put down both sides this year, we won't put down any," Ald. Matthews replied.

Engineer Says Too Late.

Ald. Stevely, in reply to Ald. Saunders, declared the city engineer had informed him that it would be impossible to construct a pavement on Dundas street this year. After Ald. Stevenson, Scarlett, Gerry and Booth had spoken, all favoring the putting down of the pavement, Engineer Graydon was sent for.

Mr. Graydon stated that it would be impossible to construct a pavement on the south side of Dundas street this year owing to the fact that a sewer was laid on the south side this spring and summer, and the trench would be liable to settle.

Pavement Goes Down.

Ald. Stevely withdrew his amendment. He stated that a Chairman Matthews had promised to have the street paved this year on both sides or not at all, he did not feel like obstructing the work. The vote was then taken, and when the yeas and nays were called for it was found to be a unanimous one. Ald. Stevely and Stevenson being interested property-owners on the street were excused from voting.

The four clauses of No. 3 committee's report as read by Chairman Gillen were carried. They included the amendment proposed by the Retail Grocers' Association re the barring of peanut vendors from certain streets in London; also the clause affecting the change in the firemen's insurance, whereby the city pays all the premium on each man and controls the indemnity.

butter makers on the market was referred to No. 3 committee with power. Street Railway Protests.

Manager King, of the London Street Railway Company, protested against the alleged proposed action of the board of works to pave one side of Dundas street at a time, when the street is being paved, instead of going ahead with the whole work a block at a time. Mr. King claimed that if only one-half the street was paved this year all the traffic would be diverted to that side, and as the space between the car tracks and the curb is very narrow, many accidents would be sure to result. No. 2. The local branch of the International Theatrical Stage Employees asked for the use of Victoria Park on the night of Friday, July 5, for a band concert. Granted.

Chesley Avenue Sewer.

A. E. Luter, at al., petitioned against a tile sewer initiation on Chesley avenue, from Lovett street to the Hamilton road, and on the Hamilton road, to Anderson avenue. No. 2.

Another petition signed by Mr. E. Bourne, at al., asked for a tile sewer on the same streets. No. 2.

On the petition for the sewer there were 31 names, while on the petition against there were 22 signatures.

The following petitions for local improvements were received and sent to No. 2 committee:

For a cement walk on west Wellington street, Ottawa avenue to Clark's bridge.

For a cement walk on west Ridout street, Bruce street to Elmwood avenue.

For a cement curb and gutter on William street, from Pall Mall to Piccadilly.

For a cement walk on south King street, Adelaide to Lytle. In this particular case No. 2 committee was empowered to go ahead with the work if it is found the petition is sufficiently signed.

To Change License Bylaw.

A motion was made by Ald. Cooper to have the license bylaw so amended as to permit of auctioneers' licenses being transferred from one person to another.

The council decided to hold but one meeting each month during July and August. The council thus stands adjourned until the first Tuesday in August.

Bylaws were put through regarding the exemption of the London Rolling Mills Company from taxation this year as per agreement; the barring of push-carts from certain streets, and also relating to Erie avenue.

ANOTHER C. P. R. BRANCH RUMOR

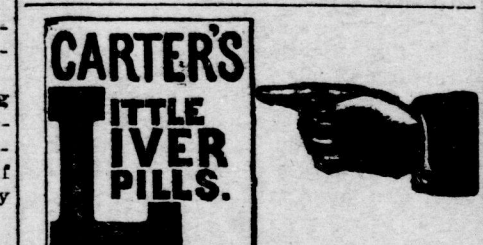

Stratford, July 2. — The Beacon today says:

There is a persistent rumor abroad in official circles that the C. P. R. will enter Stratford in 1908. Notwithstanding the many hot-weather tales of a C. P. R. entrance which have frequently been uttered before, the information is quite official and of a nature that leaves no doubt but that a definite move will be made in the course of a year.

A prominent official of the Canadian Pacific in a conversation with a Beacon representative, stated that it was definitely assured that a line would be run through the city. The scheme as planned at present calls for a line from St. Marys to Stratford, proceeding north to Listowel and connecting with the Guelph-Goderich branch.

"The line would have been constructed some time ago," he said, "were it not for the difficulties encountered in the construction of the Guelph-Goderich railway. The line in Stratford would traverse along the northerly side of the River Avon, but the location of a station has not been decided upon."

While the plans are in an embryonic state at the present time, the information, coming from an authentic source, carries weight, and further developments will likely be forthcoming in a short time.

LONDON BOWLERS WIN PRINCIPAL EVENTS AT RIDGETOWN WHY LONGBOAT FAILED TO APPEAR AT LOCAL ATHLETIC MEET

London Bowlers Took Both Big Matches Had to Defeat Crack Western Rinks

McMaster Cup and Laing Trophy Won by London Fours at Ridgetown.

Well, London's lawn bowlers did not do so badly at the Ridgetown tournament, which was brought to a close yesterday afternoon.

They carried away the McMaster cup. They also got possession of the Laing trophy—and generously left the consolation event to be decided among rinks from the western towns.

Tony Tillmann's four from the Thistle Club were the winners of the Laing trophy, and to land the prize they had to defeat a rink skiped by one of the best bowlers in the west—Dick Gossell, of Blenheim, the same Dick who has put up so many good battles at the Western Ontario tournament in this city for some years past. The Londoners had one shot to the good. Before meeting Gossell, Tillmann had to put J. G. Little (Ridgetown), Bricker (of Essex), Smith (of Leamington), and Johnson (of Blenheim), out of the way, and he did it without much difficulty, his closest game being with Smith, the score standing 12 to 11.

The Laing trophy winners included Tillmann, Dr. Claude Brown, Wm. Fulton and George Nightingale, skip. Early in the tournament the rink was being skipped by Tillmann, with Nightingale, but the change was decided upon, and the Londoners won every subsequent game.

Fincham's four won the final in the McMaster cup match from Dr. Del Marr's Ridgetown rink. They had to travel some to do so. Dr. Marr is no second-rate bowler, and what is more, he generally surrounds himself with the best he can get in the town—and there are some good ones there, for verification of which ask the bowlers who annually come to London for the biggest tournament of them all.

In the second round of the cup match Fincham was pitted against McKimley, of Ridgetown, and squeezed out a victory by one shot. The third round found him against Black, of Kingsmill. He drew a bye in the semi-finals and met Dr. Marr in the deciding round.

LOOKS LIKE DUNDAS FOR SENIOR HONORS

Defeats Seaforth Hurons in First Home and Home Games 3 to 0.

Dundas, July 2.—The local senior W. F. A. team defeated the Seaforth Hurons in the first of the home-and-home finals by a score of 3-0. It was one of the fastest and most strenuous games ever played in the Valley City, and at times the crowds surged on to the field in its excitement.

Both teams started in with a vengeance and every inch of ground was hotly contested. They roughed it pretty well all through the game, and as a result the visiting team had his leg broken. He was carried from the field and the injured member set by Dr. Bertram, who was on the grounds, the doctor being an enthusiastic football fan.

The brilliant work of the Dundas forwards, who worked like a clock with the halves, was responsible for the scoring and their splendid defense made the Seaforth rushes futile. If Armstrong, of Toronto, refereed satisfactorily.

The next and final game will be played in Seaforth Friday afternoon. The line-up:

Seaforth: Roberts, goal; F. Sills, P. Hancock, backs; C. Stewart, Bryce, McDonald, halves; R. Sproat, Holman, Mitay, Chattle, Robertson, forwards.

Dundas: Lyons, goal; H. Thomas, James, James, backs; McAnley, Gorman, Robertson, halves; Corbin, McArdle, A. E. Thomas, Cattalan, Miller, forwards.

BOWLING. BROKE EVEN.

Mount Forest, July 2.—A rink of bowlers from Owen Sound played two games with Mount Forest rinks here today, with the following result:

Morning game—
Mount Forest, Owen Sound, 12 skip, 12
Majority for Mount Forest, 3 shots.
Evening game—
Mount Forest, Owen Sound, 12 skip, 12
Majority for Mount Forest, 1 shot.

FOOTBALL. A DECISIVE DEFEAT.

Geoph, July 2.—Owen Sound was again decisively defeated by Geoph today, this time by a score of 4 to 1. This places the Geoph crew in the W. F. A. finals, with Milverton on Thursday.

LACROSSE. COMPLAINT WILL BE MADE.

Brantford, July 2.—It is likely that some complaint will be made in connection with the game which the Brantford lacrosse club played at St. Catharines yesterday, when Will Gilligan, one of the local players, was badly injured. It is alleged the referee was incapable, and the C. L. A. executive will be asked to inquire into the matter.

BASEBALL. THISTLES VS. SHAMROCKS.

In a game between the Thistles and Shamrocks, played yesterday, the former won 9 to 1. Batteries—Thistles, F. Boyce, G. Tanner and E. Wart; Shamrocks, Graham and E. White.

THE WORLD OF HORSES

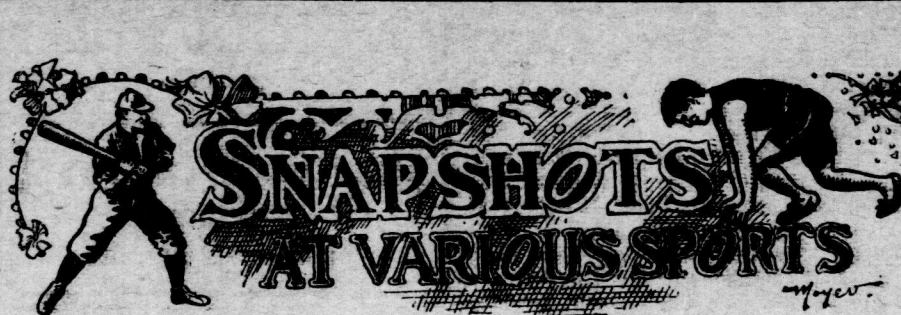

[Written Specially for The Advertiser by J. V. McAree.]

Vero Shaw, a recognized authority on horses and dogs, writes in the Observer about the recent international horse show. He was struck with the Beck carriage pair, Lady and Lord Norfolk, and remarked on their perfect carriage of head and neck. By the ringside critics they were picked to win in the class captured by the Vanderbilt cracks, and it is to be inferred that had horses would have been put higher. Paradoxical as it may sound, it is quite likely that the Beck entry would have had less trouble winning in an ordinary first-class English show than in Canada. Here they have to compete with a lot of very fast trotting-bred carriage horses, and as they are not fast, they fail to make the impression their quality would surely demand at any show on earth, where almost equally handsome horses are not sweeping past the stately moving Norfords.

For some reason or other, the best of the old country hunters did not show at the Olympic, and Mr. Shaw says that the hunting classes at Dublin are far ahead of the international, a remark that tempers exultation in the Beck victory with Kakabeka. Speaking of the hunters, he makes a criticism that applies to the horse shows in Canada. Because of the artificial lights and the general strangeness of their surroundings, the hunters did not show to the best advantage, especially as the best were left till late in the evening.

Why should they not be judged in the daytime? A highly-strung organism like a first-class hunter is certainly affected unfavorably by the late work, and perhaps it was knowledge of this fact that kept the real cracks safely in their stalls. The hint is worth the attention of show secretaries.

Speaking of secretaries brings to mind that there has been a good deal of quiet criticism among racing men over Mr. Mackenzie's selection of Mr. Fraser as the nominal owner of his horses, during his mourning for his brother. In Mr. Fraser's colors the horses are to race. It is not suggested that exception can be taken to the arrangement on any grounds other than the impropriety of the precedent it may establish. The secretary of a jockey club makes the races, and it would be the height of unfairness for him to race his own horses in a race he had made. He is not supposed to have any interest whatever in the races, and the reason is so obvious that it does not need comment. From racing his own horses in races he has made, to allowing another man's horses to run in his colors at tracks at which he does not make the races, is some little distance to travel in search of an objection to Mr. Fraser's action; but there is objection on the question of precedent, and secretaries cannot be too scrupulous, especially (Continued on Page Ten.)

LONDON BOWLERS RIGHT ON THE JOB.

Three cheers for the London Club bowlers! At Ridgetown yesterday they showed rare form, and won both the leading events. At the golf the local bowlers are going there seems to be an excellent chance for a large number of London victories at the big July tournament.

FLICK LEADS AMERICAN BATTERS.

Thielman, the Cleveland pitcher, retains his position as the nominal batting leader of the American League, while Niles and Nichols, who have played about half the games of the season, come next in order. Flick, of Cleveland, should be given the real honors of the campaign, while the work of Parent and Wallace has been superb, and much above their usual batting gait. The White Sox now lead in team batting—something startling and wholly unusual for Jones' team. The Athletics lead in extra bases. Seven pitchers and three catchers still have unblemished fielding records. Donohue leads the first basemen and the great Lajoie the second sackers. Cross was topping the third basemen when he left the league, and O'Leary heads the shortstops. Grimshaw is the outfield leader, real credit going to Fielder Jones. Chicago now leads in team fielding, as well as in team batting.

RECOMMENDS TENNIS AS A PAST TIME.

Francis H. Tabor, superintendent of the Boys' Club, of New York City, in his paper on "Sportsmanship and Games," this week at the convention of the Playground Association of America, at Chicago, attacked particularly the effect of professional baseball and other professional games on sportsmanship in this country. Mr. Tabor said in part:

"One need not be particularly afraid of the danger of over-attention to athletics or the evils of too much play. The remedies are too easily procured and apply themselves almost automatically. But the time for fear is when athletics become business; when play ceases to be pastime, and when sport depends upon victory for its success. The ideal game is that in which two good fellows take up, say, tennis rackets and for a summer hour laugh and jest as they win or lose, each taking pride in his own skill and pleasure in that of his opponent. The chief things that differentiate such a delightful hour from the silly excitement of a professional baseball game are, first, there is no preparation or thought of victory; second, the game is the thing; third, there is no question of money or other reward."

LONGBOAT EXPLAINS THAT FIASCO MAY RUN AN EXHIBITION MILE

Famous Runner Not Responsible For Failure to Appear.

There are rumors galore, humorous and otherwise, floating about over the non-appearance of the famous Indian runner, Longboat, on Dominion Day.

Last night, when he along with Christopher Charlton, the local man who was sent down on Sunday night to round him up, and his new manager, William Davis, arrived in town on the 6:35 train an Advertiser representative met him and secured the first and only statement of his reasons for not appearing.

It was no easy matter to get the redskin to talk, for as a rule he is about as talkative as a Baltimore clam or a Chesapeake Bay oyster. From what could be learned from him and his manager, however, it appears that he has been either overmanaged or undermanaged.

Toronto's "Square" Sportsmen.

The text of his story was as follows: "I am done with the Toronto crowd for good. In order to give an explicit explanation of my actions it is necessary to go back to the last time I raced Nebraska. At that time a number of alleged square sportsmen from Toronto offered me a sum of money to throw the race in order that a profitable return match might be made later to take place at Toronto. I refused to consider the proposition and made a number of enemies by my action. Since that time life in Toronto has become unbearable. Last Saturday Mr. Davis and my uncle, Thomas Longboat, met me in front of the Y. and O. A. building in Toronto, and I accompanied them to Caledonia, where my uncle, who is also my guardian, wanted me to appear at the Six Nations' athletic meet on Dominion Day. Mr. Ashley never told me that he had signed for me to run at London, and I had no idea of anything about the matter until Charlton found me late Monday afternoon, when it was too late to get to London in time for even the early part of the evening performance. Later I learned that four players were advertising my appearance on Dominion Day. After that, Mr. Davis, the man who first brought me out, will manage me and all of my advertising matter will be copyrighted. In reference to the report that I was drunk on July 1, I wish to say that it is a downright falsehood. I did have a few drinks with my friends, but was not intoxicated. I am very sorry that through this misunderstanding I disappointed the people of this city, and if it can be arranged I will be only too glad to make amends by giving an exhibition here this week." (Signed)

Manager Davis exhibited numerous newspaper clippings to show that the Indian was supposed to be at five places at the one time. He was billed for Boston, Sunbury, London, Six Nations and Winnipeg.

At the Hotel Savoy, where Longboat registered, he was kept busy shaking hands with all classes of people anxious to meet with the most famous runner that ever wore a spiked shoe. To many he expressed his deep regret at not being able to be on hand at the athletic meet.

With London—which, by the way, he never saw before—he was very favorably impressed. "It's so big as Toronto," he confided, "but much nicer place. Just as nice as Hamilton."

Say, Tom," remarked one of the hand-shaking brigade, "that Indian Nichols from Muncey, who was to have started in the London Marathon Monday said that he would make you feel Windsor, July 2.—The feature of today's card at Windsor was the fourth race for 4-year-olds and upwards at a mile and a sixteenth. Here again Moreland proved his claim to the title of most consistent jockey at Windsor. He gave Light Note a heavy and clever ride. Saving his most until the bunch turned into the stretch he brought the Lampighter gelding to the front with a rush, winning from Secret by a length. George Hendrie's Gleam, that was always in the running, got third money. In this race, Neodesha started out to finish in the money, but came up to the judges' stand quite lame.

In the second race, many of the fair ones received a sad setback and Boll Weevil got the first hissing which has been heard at this meeting. Boll Weevil was the 7-to-19 favorite and ran in seventh place. Many thought that little J. Murphy did not give the diminutive filly as good a ride as he might. The Valley Farm stable's Tommatat galloped in with a lead of two lengths. Maxton was second and Mollare got third.

First race, purse $300, 2-year-olds and up, selling, 5 furlongs—Proflite, 98 (Swain), 2 to 1, even and 1 to 2, won by half a length; Ballot Box, 111 (J. Foley), 3 to 1, 6 to 5 and 3 to 5, second; Frank Collins, 105 (Burton), 10 to 1, 4 to 1 and 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:15 1-5. Imperformance, Helen Miller, Monere, Clifton Forge, Silver Tail, Taunt, Western also ran.

Second race, purse $350, 2-year-olds, selling, 5 furlongs—Tommatat, 106 (J. Kelly), 10 to 1, 4 to 1 and 2 to 1, won by two lengths; Maxton, 106 (Dubel), 6 to 1, 2 to 1 and 4 to 4, second; Mollare, 98 (Connolly), 10 to 1, 4 to 1 and 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:08 1-5. Letothatche, Boll Weevil, Bayou, Lark, Lee Crest and Catherine F. also ran.

Third race, purse $350, 3-year-olds and up, selling, 6 furlongs—Shine On, 110 (D. Boland), 2 to 1, even and 1 to 2, won by a nose; Mattie H., 103 (Swain), 10 to 1, 4 to 1 and 2 to 1, second; J. W. O'Neill, 105 (Moreland), 5 to 1, 2 to 1 and 4 to 5, third. Time, 1:13 4-5. Gracious, Redondo, Showman, Ruibola, Retient and Bazil also ran.

Fourth race, selling, purse $350, 4-year-olds and upward, 1 1-16 miles—Light Note, 106 (Moreland), 2 to 1, 4 to 5 and 2 to 5, won by a length; Secret, 97 (Fairbrother), 3 to 1, 5 to 2 and 6 to 5, second; The Gleam, 96 (Mulcahey), 3 to 1, 6 to 5 and 3 to 5, third. Time, 1:48 2-5. Miss Annie, Neodesha, Bourbon News, Cursus and Oberon also ran.

Fifth race, purse $500, maiden 2-year-old fillies, selling, 4 1/4 furlongs—Ena, 110 (Moreland), 2 to 1, even and 1 to 2, won by 2 lengths; Black Barbara, 110 (D. Boland), 5 to 2, even and 3 to 1, second; Middleton Maid, 110 (Kunz), 15 to 1, 5 to 1, and 5 to 2, third. Time, 1:55 2-5. Elba B. Cantless, Repletian, May Brennan, Meadowgreen and Sans Reproche also ran.

Sixth race, purse $350, 3-year-olds, selling, 1 mile—Royal River, 97 (Delahy), 5 to 2, 4 to 5 and 2 to 5, won by three lengths; Bye Bye II, 102 (Moreland), 3 to 5 and out, second; Doc Kyle, 107 (Kunz), 12 to 1, 4 to 1 and 5 to 5, third. Time, 1:41. Bathmaria, Little Boot, Plelad and Edwin H. also ran.

Seventh race, purse $350, 3-year-olds, selling, 1 mile—Royal River, 97 (Delahy), 5 to 2, 4 to 5 and 2 to 5, won by three lengths; Bye Bye II, 102 (Moreland), 3 to 5 and out, second; Doc Kyle, 107 (Kunz), 12 to 1, 4 to 1 and 5 to 5, third. Time, 1:41. Bathmaria, Little Boot, Plelad and Edwin H. also ran.

Longboat, on the other hand, appears and look like a piece of perforated Caledonia buck-hide if he ever got a chance at you."

Longboat emitted a guttural sound of some kind and smiled. "I beat every Indian on earth," he replied. "I give that fellow mile start in ten-mile race. Some day, too, I beat that Bonnah."

May Run an Exhibition.

About 10 o'clock in the evening Longboat and his manager held a conference with the representatives of the East End A. C., and the matter of arranging for an exhibition here this week was discussed at length, but no action was taken.

William Davis, the Indian's new manager, was the first trainer that he ever had. Davis is no novice at the game of dig and hike himself, as his record shows, and he says that his greatest desire is to meet Shrub, the great English professional runner. Among the notable victories in which Davis has participated are third place in the Hamilton Herald road race, first in the Dundas road race, and second in the Boston Marathon in 1901. Besides these and other amateur events, Davis has been part in numerous professional contests. At present, however, he is not in the best of shape.

Yesterday's Hamilton Herald says: Guess who's here? Why, Tom Longboat, and he is here to stay.

He had grown tired of Toronto and the bunch that had him under their wing and had decided to return to Hamilton and live where they know how to handle a long-distance runner as he should be handled.

He struck the city on Saturday

LOCAL MARKET.

London, Wednesday, July 3.
The features of today's market were the big supply of hay. Prices were firm at the opening market at $14 per ton for the best loads, later on the same class of hay sold at $13 and $13.50 per ton. The inferior loads fetched all kinds of prices at $10.50 to $12.50 per ton. Eight loads of oats were marketed at $1.30 to $1.35 per cwt.
Several small loads of strawberries were on the square. Sales were brisk at 80c per box.
The markets held here the past six days were on a par with those of the previous week. Sales, however, were slower and prices easier, especially for hay and oats.
Grain—Oats are several cents per cwt. lower than last week's prices. Sales are made at $1.30 to $1.35 per cwt. Wheat is selling at 90c to 92c per bushel.
Hay and Straw—Hay is coming in freely, as the farmers appear to be determined to clear their barns to make room for the new crop. Prices are easier at $11.50 to $12 for inferior, and $13 to $14 per ton for choice. Straw slow at $5 per ton.
Butter and Eggs—Butter is in good demand, and the market is firmer at 18c to 19c for crocks in wholesale lots, and 19c to 20c for pound rolls. There is a probability of prices going higher, as cheese is firm. Eggs are dull, as there are very few being put in cold storage at present. Sales are made at 16c per dozen for crates, and 16 1/2c to 17c for basket lots of fresh laid.
Potatoes—There was a big slump in the price of potatoes at Saturday's market, when it is said, some lots sold as low as $1 per bag. The most of the sales were made around $1.25 per bag.
Fruits—Strawberries have started to come in in large quantities. The crop will be small. The prices at present are 7c to 9c per box, according to quality and the number of boxes purchased.
Poultry—Spring chickens are lower at 15c per lb.; there is a big supply; old fowl are in good demand; the dealers want them alive for roasting. Ducks are dull, at 9c per lb. alive.
Dressed Hogs—Prices are firm, at $9.25 to $9.50 per cwt.
Live Hogs—The price here last Monday was $5.10 per cwt. It is likely that prices will be lower, as the eastern markets are weaker; small nits are dull of sale, at $5.30 to $5.40 per pair.
Butcher's Meat—Beef is dull, at $6 to $6.25 per cwt.; only the choicest selling at the highest price; veal is slow, at $7.75 to $8.25 per cwt.; lamb is in good demand, at $6 to $7 each.
Hides are lower, at $8 for No. 1, 7c for No. 2, and 6c for No. 3.
Wool is selling at 20c to 22c for washed and 18c to 19c for unwashed.
HAY MARKET.
Toronto, July 2.—Baled hay: $15 to $15.50 for No. 1 timothy No. 2, $12 to $13. Baled straw: $7.75 per ton, in car lots on track here.
HIDES, SKINS AND TALLOW.
Toronto, July 2.—Hides—Trade continues dull; prices are unchanged, but with a slight tendency to decline. Sheepskins, No. 1, 9c; No. 2, 8c; country hides, 7 1/2c to 8c; calfskins, 15c to 16c; country, 12c to 13c; sheepskins, $1.70 to $1.80; horsehides, No. 1, $3.25 to $3.50; No. 2, $2.75 to $3.00.
HORSEHIDE—50c to 60c.
LEATHER MARKET.
Toronto, July 2.—Leather—There is a quiet but steady trade, with prices showing practically no change. Slaughtered, sole leather, medium, per lb. 35c to 36c; No. 2, 32c to 33c; Spanish sole, No. 1, 22c to 24c; No. 2, 20c to 22c; calfskins, French, $1.40 to $1.50; French kip, $1 to $1.15; Canadian kip, 65c to 80c; pebbles, 15c to 16c; harness, union oak tanned, 35c to 40c; cow, 40c to 45c; deers, per lb. 30c to 35c.
LIVE STOCK MARKETS.
TORONTO.
Toronto, July 2.—The run at the city cattle market today was 25 loads, with 272 head of cattle, 74 sheep and lambs, 100 hogs and 12 calves.
The market today apparently had not got over the effects of the holiday, for there were very few cattle offered, and dealers were not particularly anxious to do business. There was a light run of only 25 cars, with less than 300 head of cattle, the balance being made up of sheep and lambs, hogs and calves. The market was somewhat of a disappointment to the few sellers on hand, as with such a light run they naturally expected there would be a keener demand to buy. As it turned out, the buyers evidently were content to wait till a little later in the week, rather than run the risk of paying too high prices today. The market was, therefore, steady, with trade slow and drab.
The stocker trade is quiet, but there is a steady demand for good quality at weights from 800 lbs and up. The lighter stuff is not wanted.
Sheep and Lambs—Spring lambs are now quoted at 8c to 9c per lb.; export ewes, 10c to 11c; shorn, $4.50 to $5; shorn, $4.25 to $4.75; bucks, $5.50 to $6; market easier and prospects lower.
Exporters—Medium, $4.50 to $5; choice, $5.10 to $5.15; extra choice, $5.50 to $6.
Butcher's Market easier; choice picked butchers' cattle, $5 to $5.50; ordinary to good, $4.60 to $4.90; common cows and mixed cattle easier, at $3.50 to $4.
Light Steers—Market dull and easier, at $3.50 to $4; fair demand for real good quality, but the rough stuff is not wanted.
Heavy Feeders—Steady demand for good feeders, 1,000 to 1,200 lbs, at $4.75 to $5.
Cows—Market steady, at $3 to $4.
Hogs—Market weak and 15c lower; select, $6.50; lights and fats, $6.45.
20c Cows—Market very dull and cows, $4.50 to $5.
OLD COUNTRY PRICES.
London, July 2.—Today cattle are quoted at 18 1/2c to 19c per lb.; refrigerator beef is 8c to 9c.
CHICAGO.
Chicago, July 2.—Cattle—Receipts, about 1,000 head; steady to 10c higher; beef, $8.75 to $9.25; hogs, $5.75 to $6.25; sheep, $4.50 to $5.00.

$7.15; cows, $1.75 to $2.50; heifers, $2.60 to $3.25; calves, $3.75 to $4.75; good to prime steers, $5.75 to $7.15; poor to medium, $4.70 to $5.65; stockers and feeders, $2.90 to $3.25.
Hogs—Receipts, about 31,000 head; market 5c to 10c lower; light, $5.50 to $6.15; mixed, $5.50 to $6.15; heavy, $5.50 to $6.15; good to choice heavy, $5.50 to $6.15; bulk of sales at $5.50 to $6.
Sheep—Receipts, about 13,000 head; market strong to 10c higher; natives, $4 to $4.15; yearlings, $4.10 to $4.25; lambs, $5.50 to $7.70; westerns, $7.75.
EAST BUFFALO.
East Buffalo, July 2.—Cattle—Quiet, and prices unchanged.
Yards—Receipts, 225 head; active and 25c higher, $5 to $5.25.
Hogs—Receipts, 4,300 head; active and steady; pigs, $5.70 to $6.50; roughs, $5 to $6.50.
Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 1,000 head; sheep slow and steady, lambs active and 25c higher; lambs, $5 to $8; yearlings, $6.25 to $6.75; ewes, $4.25 to $4.75.

FORMER MATES GIVE ORCHARD LIE

Charged Him With Suggesting Plot to Dynamite Boarding House.

Boise, July 2.—Mr. Malloch, Joe Mehelech and Billy Alkman, three of the men implicated in a alleged misconduct, on the word of Harry Orchard, were on the stand today and denied Orchard's testimony.
Malloch swore that Orchard, and not he, suggested the inhuman plot of dynamiting a boarding house full of non-union smeltermen at Globeville. He swore that Orchard had told him that but for Gov. Steunenberg he would be rich, and that he intended to kill Steunenberg.
Mehelech and Alkman also put in denial of all the things Orchard swore they did with him. The cross-examination of all three witnesses showed a purpose on the part of the state to deal further with this testimony when the rebuttal testimony is reached.
Another feature was contributed to the unusual crime with its background of plots and counterplots, criminal, industrial and political, by the appearance as a witness for the defense of E. L. McFarland, brother of Detective McFarland, who worked up the case against Hayward, Moyer and Pettibone, and obtained Orchard's confession. This McFarland is a shoe-maker at Manitou. He testified that while he was following his craft at Victor during the strike he was unconsciously taken from

NEWS OF PORT STANLEY

Cleveland, Rondeau and Port Stanley Route May Be Reopened.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Port Stanley, July 2.—Mr. William Veitch, of Montreal, has arrived to spend the summer with his daughter, Mrs. Bryanton, at "Pretoria Cottage," Erle Rest.
St. Paul's Sunday school will picnic here on July 4; Trinity, of St. Thomas, on the 5th; the Memorial Church Sunday School, of London, on the 10th, and the clergymen will hold their great picnic on July 27.
Mrs. S. T. Smith and Miss Nettie Roache, of St. Thomas, are picnicking with their Sunday school classes on Fraser Heights today. Mrs. Smith and Miss Roache are both highly esteemed Sunday school teachers of Knox Church.

UNION LOSES CONTROL

Hundreds of 'Longshoremen Rebel, and Sign Arbitration Award.

Montreal, July 2.—Over 400 longshoremen today signed their acceptance of the award of the board of arbitrators formed to settle the trouble which caused the strike here this spring.
That so many have signed in spite of the fact that the union has declined to accept the award, seems to show that the union has already been advanced in pay 2 1/2 cents an hour as a preliminary to returning to work. Next year the regular 30 cents an hour will be effective.
By the terms of the award the men get a bonus of 2 1/2 cents an hour to be paid at the close of the season. Besides this, they had already been advanced in pay 2 1/2 cents an hour as a preliminary to returning to work. Next year the regular 30 cents an hour will be effective.

Manufacturer's Sale of High-Grade PIANOS At Factory Prices

FOR TEN DAYS ONLY, COMMENCING FRIDAY, JULY 5th

OILED HUSBAND, SET HIM ABLAZE

Scranton, Pa., Woman Charged With Burning Spouse to Death.

Scranton, Pa., July 2.—Mrs. Kindra Howrsto, aged 18 years, of Dunmore, is in the county jail charged with having burned her husband to death that she might be free to marry her former lover, Ignatz Hutor, who is also charged with being an accessory. The police official say that Mrs. Howrsto has confessed and given all the details of the crime.

According to Mrs. Howrsto's confession, Hutor came to the Howrsto home on Monday and suggested that she do away with her husband, so that they could be married. Following Hutor's suggestion the woman got her husband drunk, and when he was stupefied in bed she went to the room with the kerosene lamp. She poured oil from the lamp on the bed, and then, she says, the lamp dropped on the bed, setting it afire.
At the sight of her husband roasting and screaming in the flaming bed she became horror-stricken and rushed from the house, crying "Fire!" Neighbors extinguished the flames and had Howrsto sent to a hospital, where he died without regaining consciousness. Hutor denied all knowledge of the crime.

WHERE IS JOHN D.?
Regiment of Subpoena Servers Unable to Locate Millionaire.

New York, July 2.—The whereabouts of John D. Rockefeller, president of the Standard Oil Company, were unknown today to United States Marshal Hendle and his deputies, who are trying to serve a subpoena upon him to appear in court in Chicago July 6. Six process servers were on guard last night and today around Mr. Rockefeller's estate near Tarrytown, N. Y., but their vigil was unrewarded. Entrance to the estate was permitted only after identification by men employed at the farm.
At the office of the Standard Oil Company nothing could be learned, either as to Mr. Rockefeller's whereabouts or as to whether he intends to give the United States deputy marshals who are searching for him in three states an opportunity to serve their summons.

A species of tree is found growing on an island off the coast of Africa, the condensing power of the leaves of which furnishes the sole water supply of the island. In the forests of Washington State and British Columbia trees have also been observed which drip copiously through the night, and until 10 or 11 o'clock the following morning, when the flow gradually ceases, only to begin again at or near sunset.

Advertiser Correspondence

The Synod of Huron.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

I think the rector of the Church of England at Stratford would have been much wiser (in the interests of the Bishop of Huron) if he had refrained from making any comment on the letters of Mr. J. H. A. Beattie and the bishop, which have appeared in the public press.

To the great majority of your readers the action of the bishop in refusing to allow Mr. Beattie to speak was contrary to all rules of order that govern such meetings, and his suppressing Mr. Beattie's resignation was most despotic and absolutely without any excuse.

I am not, nor have been, a member of the synod, but am a regular attendant of the Church of England, and have been all my life, and it was with the deepest regret I read the letters, and I trust at the next regular meeting of the synod that the matter will be thoroughly investigated, as I consider Mr. Beattie has been treated in an outrageous manner, and should receive some apology, because if there was one man in the synod thoroughly qualified to speak on the finances of the diocese, that man was Mr. Beattie.

I am not a member of St. James' Church, which Mr. Beattie represents, but the rector of that church and the members of it should take immediate and united action in seeing that Mr. Beattie is vindicated. Yours truly,

London, July 2. ALPHA.

DRINK PLENTY OF WATER

Good For the System As Well As For the Complexion.

It is not too much to say that unless she will drink enough water and take it as she should, no woman can have a good complexion. It serves to flush and clear the whole system, and carry off impurities at a rate to save many a visit to a physician, says a writer in the Washington Star. This may seem like an exaggeration, but it is not, and the theory is easily understood. The stomach will not contain a large amount of water, and as the liquid is sent from the body it does scavenger work in taking off germs or matter that may cause illness. A person who will take the water treatment during the spring and eat carefully will ordinarily pass triumphantly over skin difficulties during this trying period. Even more important than food is water, for the latter will carry off impurities of the former.

Every person should drink at least two quarts of water a day. One may take more if desired and there is no danger of its being fattening if drunk as it should be, not with meals, but between them. If one will have patience to masticate food properly no water will be required with it, and the gastric juices will do their work well. Few individuals, however, are content with this, and to them I can only say the less liquid of any kind you absorb with your food the better, if you are striving to keep down flesh.

When to Drink.

It is obvious that the water treatment is to be used at odd times, as it were, and I cannot be too emphatic in saying that food water in quantities is not to be approved. If with the meals one wishes cold liquids they should not cause harm, if only a sip or two be taken at a time. But when drinking a glassful at once, as the treatment requires, the temperature should never be lower than a chill. This is refreshing and is not unhygienic.

Begin the day by taking a glassful of hot water. It should not all be poured down the throat at once, neither should it be sipped, for the quantity should go into the stomach at one time.

One ill. This is most unlikely to happen if the water is hot; tepid water is decidedly nauseating. If, however, there is the slightest reluctance to taking hot water, cold may be substituted, and to a glassful in the morning add a pinch of powdered charcoal.

A similar glassful should be taken on going to bed. The rest of the two quarts may be drunk whenever one wishes. It is a good thing to take a glassful at a time, and none later than a half an hour before a meal or earlier than a half an hour after eating. Otherwise it is likely to interfere with digestion.

When water is to be drunk daily in this quantity one cannot be too particular to have it pure.

when turf affairs are in the somewhat precarious condition that at present exists.

Walter Chester, familiar to readers of horse papers as "Griffin," was the best posted man on light harness horses in the world, and his death removes the most valuable position on the trotter and pacer. As a statistician he excelled, and very rarely did he ever err in any of the debates on thoroughbred vs. the pacing cross or other subjects that divide the turf press between racing seasons. He stuck to his tables and his figures, and dug out the facts for less industrious men to base their arguments upon. He admitted not long ago that he never owned a race horse, nor had he ever driven one, and so great was his position on that confession did not lead him to question his qualifications as an authority. There are a lot of brilliant men connected with the light harness press, but there was only one Walter Chester.

Kentucky Todd, the Canadian-owned champion two-year-old trotter of 1906, will not be seen at the races until September, when he will race in the three-year-old division of the Futurities. He has not worked faster than 2:35 yet, but has two months in which to improve 25 seconds. He ought to race in about 2:20 if he fulfills the promise of last year. Oro Lambert, the two-year-old which Miss Wilks hopes will turn out to be the Kentucky Todd of 1907 is still high in flesh, and there are some other likely two-year-olds in the same condition. Indeed, Katherine 1, with a three-year-old mark of 2:12½, is the only Cruikshank horse at all near racing form.

La Points' mile in 2:03½ over the half-mile track at Seaford is making some of the American trainers sit up and take notice. Consider the fact that the daughter of Five Points did the trick in the third heat of a race in the middle of June when horses are supposed to be from five to ten seconds slow. The performance is a remarkable one. It is the half-mile track record for pacers in Ontario.

Johnny, the Canadian candidate in some of the big Grand Circuit trots, made his first appearance at the Seaford mile, and acted like a trotter of real quality. He marched away with the 2:30 trot in straight heats, taking the third by several lengths. In 2:18½, pulled up. This shows him to be a sure enough 2:10 month, and he will have to be if he is to get some of the money in the Merchants and Manufacturers' Detroit. Darkey Hal, the black pacer from Wingham, with which the Canadians made a killing at Windsor last summer was out again, and seems to be racing to her best form.

It is said that there were 2,500 people in attendance at Seaford, which shows how popular harness racing is in Canada. In their love for the trotter, the Canadians are like the New Englanders. There trotting races thrive, but the owners can do no business; whereas the reverse is true in Kentucky, and the Southern States. The big Canadian cities will turn out in numbers to see the bang-tails, but outside two or three sporting houses, as it is called, there is no racing of light harness horses. It is part of a fine industry, while the racing of thoroughbreds is, as far as Canada is concerned, sport at best, and a gamble at worst.

A process of plating aluminum with copper by welding methods has been invented in Germany by Herr Wachtel. This is regarded as important because one of the obstacles to a wider use of aluminum has been its corrosion by many fluids, and its failure to hold paint. These objections are removed when it is covered with a thin plating of copper, while its weight is not materially increased.

Oxford Undergrads Have a Brush With Firemen and Police

Oxford, July 2. — All Oxford is laughing over the wild and irresponsible outbreak of the Christ Church undergraduates in celebration of their success in the summer eights.

Fifty-eight years have passed since this college last won the headship of the river.

It was decided to celebrate the victory by holding a huge bonfire in Christ Church meadow. Rumor had it that this was a ruse, and that the real bonfire was to be the flaming of the grand stand which has been erected in a field close by for the historical pageant. Subsequent events confirmed this.

Between 8 and 9 o'clock, while the undergraduates were lighting the bonfire on the college ground the fire brigade, with engine and hose, moved unobserved into the meadow and quietly took up a position from which they could protect the newly-erected stand. Then a posse of twenty-five policemen crept noiselessly over the turf, and secreted themselves in the structure.

Cold Waiting Business.

It was a cold business waiting in the icy wind, and at 10:30 o'clock the watchers began to fear they had been hoaxed. Through the trees in the flickering lights of the flames they could see the uproarious crowd gathered in a great circle singing, dancing, and playing all manner of instruments. There were nearly 300 of them.

Suddenly, from the deep blackness beneath the trees a shriek, half a yell, half a war-whoop, was emitted. It was a signal from scouts to the undergraduates which had been eagerly awaited. Swiftly they sped over the meadow.

The police advanced to meet them with drawn truncheons, and then an amazing thing happened. The undergraduates drew back and arranged themselves like soldiers preparing for battle. Sky-rockets were stuck in the ground with their tips directed on the fire in front. Lights were applied, and the missiles sped forward like a flight of stars. For a few seconds the police turned and fled, but gathered courage, turned again, and in spite of the overwhelming numbers against them, attempted to disorganize the revelers. The latter charged them with hand grenades, really harmless things, but calculated to give one a fright.

Mad With Excitement.

By this time they had reached the firemen, who stood at the ready with hose nozzles directed at the advancing body. With a swish like the sound of escaping steam they drenched the riotous undergraduates. The latter had by this time gone nearly mad with excitement. Time after time they were swept off their feet by the powerful jets. It looked as if they would have to beat a speedy retreat, but reinforcements were at hand.
