DESTITUTION AND DEATH IN ARGENTINA

GERMANS THROW HEAVY ASSAULTS AGAINST BRITISH; ALL ARE FUTILE

Four Powerful Attempts Made Yesterday Afternoon and Evening To Regain Ground Taken By Haig Yesterday Fails To Loosen British Grip—Enemy Sustains Heavy Losses—Brilliant Fighting By Australians Who Take All Objectives—1,000 Prisoners Taken In First Rush.

London, Sept. 27.—The fighting yesterday afternoon and evening along the front of the new British attack in the Ypres sector was exceedingly severe, says today's official statement. The Germans made four vain counter-attacks in great strength.

The announcement follows:

"Later accounts show the enemy spared no effort to regain important ground captured by us. The fighting on the battle front yesterday afternoon and evening was exceedingly severe. Between 4 p.m. and 7 p.m. four separate counter-attacks were made in great strength against our new front from Tower Hamlets to the St. Julien-Gravenstafel road.

"The struggle was the most severe in the area south of Polygon Wood, where English, Scottish, Welsh and Australian troops defeated attempts of the enemy to break into our positions. The enemy's attacks all were repulsed after fierce fighting, in which the German losses from our artillery and infantry fire were heavy.

"Later in the evening the fighting gradually died down, leaving our troops in possession of the ground they had captured during the day."

ANZACS PRESSING GERMANS HARD; BRITISH POSITION IS SATISFACTORY

British Front in France and Belgium, Sept. 27.—(By the Associated Press)—The British are maintianing their new line strongly. The main battle today was in the neighborhood of Cameron House, south of the eastern extremity of Polygon Wood, where the Australians are pressing the Germans hard. The situation as a whole is virtually unchanged.

Northwest of Zonnebeke heavy fighting continues in the region of the elevations which dominate a considerable extent of territory.

From the British standpoint the situation resulting from the new offensive is exceedingly satisfactory.

CRUSKED DEFENSES OF THE GERMANS.

British Front in France and Belgium, Sept. 26 (delayed).—By the Associated Press.—Once more the British fighting machine has crushed its way through the German trenches along the Ypres battle front with great success. The offensive begun in the grey dawn of a misty morning had by noon accomplished virtually all that had been planned for it, and this afternoon the men of Australia, England and Scotland were holding positions which represented a

COALITION MINISTRY PLAN OF DEMOCRATS FOR RULING RUSSIA

Premier Kerensky Concedes Congress Should Figure In Government.

Petrograd, Sept. 26.—(Delayed)—The committee of five in temporary control of the Government at its first meeting since the return of Premier Kerensky from the front determined today that the premier and General Verkhovsky shall appear before the Democratic Congress, which convenes tomorrow. This action followed a four-hour session of the committee at the winter palace, at which the attitude of Premier Kerensky is said to have been substantially this:

While the Government is not bound to recognize the Democratic Congress and is not conceding that it represents the greatest part of Russia, it is admitted that the congress represents a large percentage of the people through elements which must be taken into consideration.

The Bolsheviki orators have begun to accuse M. Tseretelli and other moderates of paltering with the bourgeois and have proceeded to introduce a resolution declaring that the cabinet to be nominated by the congress must not contain members of the bourgeois.

The central committee of the Council of Workmen's and Soldiers' delegates, which is still moderate in tone, has voted in favor of a coalition cabinet responsible to a parliament elected from among the members of the Democratic Congress. There appears little doubt but that the congress will create such a parliament.

FREIGHT HANDLERS' STRIKE.

Gary, Ind., Sept. 27.—Between seven and eight hundred men employed in the shipping yards of the Elgin, Joliet and Eastern Railroad did not report for work this morning. This road controls incoming and outgoing freight of the big United States Steel Corporation plant here.

ALL REPORTED LOST ON BRITISH SHIP WENTWORTH SUNK BY SUBMARINES

An Atlantic Port, Sept. 27.—The Associated Press today carries the following:

"A report that all persons on board the British steamship Wentworth were lost when that vessel was sunk by a German submarine was brought here by passengers on a British steamship which arrived here today.

"The Wentworth, of 2,381 tons, was on a voyage from New York to Bordeaux when, as reported last week, she was destroyed on September 8, presumably off the French coast. The British vessel which arrived here today was at the time eastbound in the vicinity of the Wentworth.

Records at the British shipping commissioner's office here show there were 38 persons on the Wentworth, including Capt. A. M. MacKenna, all British citizens. The vessel carried no passengers. She cleared on August 17.

DRIVE FOR RECRUITS OPENED AT BOSTON, MASS

Boston, Sept. 27—Rallies in the market district and on "The Common" were arranged for today in connection with the drive for recruits for the Canadian nad British armies. Nineteen men were accepted for service yesterday. The 5th Royal Highlanders of Canada with their pipers and brass band are taking an active part in the campaign with daily parades.

TUG SINKS, THREE LOST

The Emma Founders While Warping a Liner Into Dock.

Montreal, Sept. 27.—Two men and a woman were drowned last night at the C. P. R. No. 7 wharf through the sinking of the tug Emma, as the result of the breaking of one of the ropes which served to warp into port an ocean liner. The drowned were William Blette, aged 38, of Sorel, engineer of the tug; A. St. Michel, 24, of Sorel, fireman, and Mrs. Hamel, 50 years old, of St. John, N. B., cook.

Petrograd, Sept. 27.—General Tcheremissoff, the official news agency announces, has been appointed commander-in-chief on the northern front. General Volestchenko succeeds General Tcheremissoff as commander-in-chief on the southwestern front.

HUN AIRMEN SHELL ROOF OVER SAMMY

Barracks of American Army Engineers Peppered By Germans.

BY J. W. PEGLER.
[Special to The Advertiser.]

American Army Headquarters in France, Sept. 27.—American army engineers sleeping in their barracks have been under fire from German airmen. Not an American was hurt, despite a fusillade of machine gun fire from the air, which riddled the barracks roofs and walls. The Sammies took refuge in dugouts. This is the first time that barracks of an American army contingent have been the object of a German aerial attack.

A Large Number of Alien Enemies Taken Into Custody.

New York, Sept. 27.—Plans to wreck machinery in munition-making shops in America at the bidding of German agents in Europe are believed by the police to have been defeated through the arrests of about 100 Germans and German sympathizers in raids, which began here last night and were continued today.

New York, Sept. 27.—About 100 Germans and German sympathizers, arrested in New York City, nearby Long Island and New Jersey points, last night by city detectives, acting under the direction of agents of the department of justice and officers of the navy department, spent the night in the drill hall and in cells at police headquarters. Some were arrested, it was said, at the headquarters of the I. W. W., but the majority were taken from their homes.

In the round-up, which started shortly before midnight, more than 200 city detectives and patrolmen were engaged. Little difficulty was experienced in finding all of the men on the lists sent out from headquarters, and there was no serious resistance by the men wanted.

A statement issued by the police soon after midnight said that "the navy department in conjunction with the detective bureau, has for several months been investigating large numbers of alien enemies. They have now been taken into custody. Numbers of these have been employed in municipal plants and have been invading forbidden zones."

The statement concluded with the following request.

"No mention must be made of where the men—aliens—are employed, as it may hamper other investigations now going on. The enemy aliens are to be held for the present, but it is requested that no mention be made of the number of men taken in." Newspapers were told to use their own judgment in printing the number arrested.

TWO GERMAN ATTACKS REPULSED BY FRENCH WITH HEAVY LOSSES

Defeat For Enemy In a New Assault Along Chemin-des-Dames.

Paris, Sept. 27.—Two German attacks along the Chemin-des-Dames were repulsed by the French last night, the war office announces. The Germans sustained heavy losses.

BRIEF FURLOUGH OF LONDON GIRL AFTER THREE YEARS' SERVICE

Miss Hazel Gillean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Gillean, Hayman Court, returned home Wednesday night after serving overseas nearly three years as a C. A. M. C. nurse. Nursing Sister Gillean is home on 17 days' leave in Canada, and will return to England upon the expiration of her leave. She left the city in January, 1915. After serving in English hospitals for some months, she was sent to France, where she has been attached to the staffs of clearing hospitals near the front for the past two years. She returned on a hospital ship which arrived in Halifax some days ago.

COMES SAFELY THROUGH ANOTHER BIG BATTLE

Pte. Watson.

Writing to his wife, Mrs. F. Watson of No. 1 Front street, Pte. Frank Watson, who went overseas with the 70th Battalion, says that he has just come safely through another big battle. Confidence that the ultimate victory is assured to the Allied arms is expressed.

The weather, writes Pte. Watson, is fine in France.

For the past six months Mrs. Watson has been doing her war "bit" by operating the elevator in the Royal Bank Building.

GOVT. DEPORTS TELEGRAPHERS ON WAY TO BREAK STRIKE; OTHERS APPEAR IN COURT

Montreal, Sept. 27.—The immigration department officials here this morning deported twelve operators who were coming to Montreal from American points to work for the Great Northwestern.

One official of the Telegraphers' Union this morning said that one of the strike-breakers stated that he had been given transportation from New York to Montreal and guaranteed $75 a week and hotel expenses by the Western Union Telegraph Company.

Montreal, Sept. 27.—Charged with a violation of the Alien Labor Act, eight men and one woman, all Americans, appeared before Judge St. Cyr this morning in connection with the strike of the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company operators. They pleaded not guilty, were remanded until Wednesday next and were allowed out on $100 bail.

The men gave their names and addresses as follows:

A. J. Davis, Brooklyn, N. Y.; J. E. Noseworthy, New York City; N. D. Solomon, New Orleans; S. S. Moore, New Orleans; F. L. Clure, New Orleans; J. D. Hisner, New York; E. V. Cooney, New York, and A. F. Dann, New York. The woman detained is Miss A. J. Knuff, and is believed to come from Chicago. She fainted last night when notified of the charge that would be laid against her.

The local police are still searching for three more men. The telegraphers' union officials alleged that the men and woman were sent to Montreal to act as strikebreakers.

NO CLASH ON WESTERN FRONT BETWEEN THE HOSPITAL CORPS MORE GERMAN INTRIGUE EXPOSED

BRITISH HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE AND BELGIUM, Sept. 26.—(By Mail).—German agencies recently have been spreading broadcast on the continent the report that serious differences have arisen between the British army medical service and the American surgeons and physicians who have been working with the British forces in France. The story has been given much publicity by its sponsors in Belgium and France. For the purpose of proving or disproving this statement the correspondent of the Associated Press accredited to British general headquarters has made a careful investigation of the facts, visiting not only base hospitals which have been taken over by American medical units but casualty clearing stations in which American surgical teams are working. This is the truth:

Utmost Cordiality.

The utmost cordiality has and does exist between the British medical service and the Americans who are working with them. The assertion that there has been any quarrel between the two bodies is without foundation As one eminent American put it: "The story is a gross canard. The reasons for circulating it are obvious. The Germans are trying to create between Belgium and French civilians a contempt for America and Great Britain, and, consequently, a hostility towards these two nations. The canard cannot be called humorous, but it certainly is an interesting demonstration of the fact that while the German may be a good soldier he is not a psychologist.

"He is merely discrediting himself in this instance, as he has done many times before since the war started."

Learning From British.

The six medical units which were sent over from the United States to take charge of six British base hospitals have become a part of the smoothly-running organization that the British have developed. The Americans feel that they are fortunate in their position. They realize that they have much to learn about war hospitals and they are having the opportunity of learning rapidly from men who have had more than three years' experience.

The British, on the other hand, recognize fully the sacrifices that have been made by the Americans, many of them eminent surgeons with big practices at home, to come to France to do their bit in caring for the wounded. These sacrifices are appreciated, and the attitude of the British medical service, from the director-general down, has been most sympathetic and helpful. The excellent work being done by the American units has frequently been the subject of the most complimentary remarks by all ranks of the British medical organization.

Six Base Hospitals.

Roughly speaking the six base hospitals conducted by the Americans have beds for about 1,500 patients each and there are many times when they are filled to overflowing, for base hospitals must care, not only for their own wounded, but for Germans as well.

The six base hospitals have, in addition to their other work, furnished some ten surgical teams for service in casualty clearing stations near the firing line. These teams usually consist of a surgeon, an assistant, a nurse and an orderly. American surgeons whose names are famous internationally are laboring beside youthful medical officers who have sat under them in the classrooms at home. Dr. Crile of Cleveland, Dr. Cushing of Havard, Dr. Brewer of New York, Dr. Harte of Philadelphia, Dr. Murphy of St. Louis and Dr. Beesley of Chicago—they call them majors over here—all have been or are at present working night and day in casualty clearing stations, which have been caring for the wounded from the last great offensive.

These surgical teams have had one characteristic experience. Their work is hampered and their lives are endangered by German airmen, who persist in hurling high explosives down among them. In one of the latest raids the Germans aviators killed or rewounded many of their own men who were prisoners being cared for in one of these hospitals.

STEVENSON—SHAW 1918 MAYORALTY LINE UP IS DOPE

Present Mayor and Controller to Enter Lists.

The municipal elections in January will probably prove interesting. It would appear that many more candidates than expected will be in the field, particularly for the board of control.

It seems assured that Mayor Stevenson and Controller R. W. Shaw will come together for the mayoralty.

Controller J. H. Saunders, Controller E. S. Little, Ald. G. B. Drake, Ald. G. E. Rose, ex-Ald. Charles R. Summers, Ald. H. E. Ashplant, Ald. Sam F. Mamiess, Ald. J. J. Dyer, and possibly one or two others are likely candidates for the board of control.

The aldermanic slate will be filled up, many prominent citizens considering their chances of election.

WINGHAM PRIVATE KILLED.

Wingham, Sept. 26.—Mrs. W. H. Marshall has received word that her eldest son William had been killed on the battle front. He enlisted with a battalion in one of the northern districts when the war first broke out. One brother, Frank, is in France, and his two sisters reside here.

TEUTONS FEARING MIGHT OF U. S. MAKE DESPERATE PEACE MOVE; GERMANY'S PUNCH IS WANING, DECLARES U. S. WAR SECRETARY

BY CARL D. GROAT.
[Special to The Advertiser.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 27.—Germany—weakening, though not yet beaten—is making a desperate effort for peace in the fear of America's might next year. International experts today repeated this declaration even more emphatically than they have voiced it for weeks past—on the strength of Secretary of War Baker's official war review showing that Germany's "punch" is waning. The Government was informed long ago that Germany would start a new propaganda for peace to avoid a winter campaign and the effects of America's participation in the war. German replies to the Vatican prove the information was entirely correct. Germany's moves are now looked upon here as an appeal to pacifists' opinion.

GERMAN BOAST FAILS.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 27.—In the first of a series of carefully prepared official statements to be issued from time to time in review of the military situation on all fronts in Europe, Newton D. Baker, secretary of war, asserts that the ascendancy in the west has "passed definitely to the Allies." Secretary Baker says that with the near approach of winter it has become plain that Germany is unable to make good the boast that by a big offensive she would "end the war victoriously by Christmas."

NO GERMAN POLAND IN POPE'S PROPOSAL.

[Special to the Advertiser.]

Rome, Sept. 27.—Restoration of Riga and "all other Russian territory" now held by the Germans was "explicitly and implicitly" suggested in the pope's appeal, according to Vatican announcement to the United Press. The announcement is taken to mean that Germany must relinquish her plans for a kingdom of Poland with a German regency to meet the pope's conditions of peace.

PRESIDENT IRIGOYEN WANTS S. AMERICA TO WAR ON HUNS

Head of Argentina Seeks to Unite All Latin Republics.

Buenos Ayres, Sept. 27.—President Irigoyen, it is understood, is attempting to organize concerted action by the Latin-American nations looking to a break with Germany by all the republics of South America.

In the meantime he is preparing a message to Congress, in which he will advocate that there be no actual rupture until the receipt of the translations of the hundreds of telegrams received or sent by the Swedish legation here, copies of which have been telegraphed to Ambassador Naon at Washington for decoding.

MANY TONS OF BOMBS DROPPED ON WORKS

British Seaplanes Again Raid Enemy Military Works.

London, Sept. 27.—British seaplanes again dropped many tons of bombs on German military establishments in Belgium or Tuesday night. An official statement issued today by the admiralty says:

"On Tuesday night our naval airplanes dropped many tons of bombs, making several direct hits, on the railroad lines at the Thourout Junction, the Lichtervelde Junction and the Cortemarck Junction. All our machines returned safely."

GAS COMPANY DISCLAIMS ALL RESPONSIBILITY FOR INJURY TO CITY'S MEN

Did Not Expect Waterworks Gang Would Meddle With Main.

H. S. Thomas, foreman for the Southern Gas Company, stated today that the responsibility for the accident to Rush and Capitano, two city employees, who were hurt in an explosion at Ridout and Chester streets, was not due to any fault of the company.

"We did not imagine that the city employees would meddle with the gas," he said. "That is our job. I have been in the gas business for a great number of years, and we never had an accident, certainly nothing like that. Connections should never have been made with our mains until the city mains are completed However, the gang went ahead, with the result that two men were injured. We will do all that work, and attend to it. There must have been compressed gas in the pipes, and that caused the explosion. It was most regrettable, but the Southern Ontario Company is not responsible in the least."

RAILWAY COMMISSION MEETING SATURDAY TO CONSIDER PROPOSALS

London Board Will Deal With Traction Offer Then.

There will be a meeting of the London Railway Commission this week, probably on Saturday, to consider the proposition of George B. Woods, Toronto, to sell the London and Lake Erie Traction Company for $504,000.

The commission some months ago offered approximately $300,000, but this was refused. The Traction Company has a much larger offer now for the line, but the directors thought that it would be good business to give London and the other municipalities an opportunity of purchasing the road. It has been, and will be, a great benefit to them, and the directors do not feel disposed to scrap the road if there is any chance whatever of keeping it going.

However, an answer must be had from the municipalities at an early date. If the London Railway Commission does not recommend its purchase, negotiations will be at

Washington Has No Faith in Latest Berlin Overtures.

CONDITIONS IMPOSSIBLE

Washington, Sept. 27.—About two weeks ago the state department warned newspaper correspondents that it had information proving that the German Government was about to begin an extensive propaganda with a view to influencing sentiment in the allied countries, and particularly in the United States, in favor of a peace which would bear leniently on Germany. This warning was recalled by officials today when they read the apparently inspired press dispatch from Berne, Switzerland, that Herr Kuehlmann, the German minister for foreign affairs, had informed the papal nuncio to the court of Bavaria at Munich, that the German Government would be willing to conclude peace on the basis of restoration of Belgium. While the terms attributed in the Berne dispatch to the German foreign minister are more definite than any that the German Government has inspired in its various "trial balloons" to sound peace sentiment, there is no disposition here to put faith in any German overtures.

To those who understand the attitude of the Allies, it is regarded as out of the question for the governments at war with Germany to consent to accept peace on the basis of the restoration of Belgium under the attached conditions outlined in the Berne dispatch.

GREAT FIRE AT ST. LOUIS; MAY BE GERMAN WORK

East St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 27.—Federal authorities will make an immediate investigation of the fire which swept the horse market section of the national stock yards here yesterday, resulting in slight injuries to four persons and a property loss of $250,000. "I shall not be surprised if an investigation reveals a pro-German angle to the fire," said the district attorney.

RAPID RIFLE PRODUCTION FOR THE AMERICAN ARMY

Washington, Sept. 27. American plants making rifles for the army have exceeded the best expectations of the Government in speed of delivery. Private plants, with the Government arsenals, are supplying more than 1,200 new rifles a day. This number will increase appreciably throughout the weeks to come.

MONTREAL MILK PRICES DEPENDS ON DEALERS

Montreal Sept. 27.—Local milk dealers have decided not to raise the price of milk before October 31, as required by Hon. W. J. Hanna, but if the producers raise the price in the meantime the dealers say they will have no alternative but to follow suit.

SEVIGNY WILL RUN.

Quebec, Sept. 27.—The Hon. Albert Sevigny was unanimously chosen Conservative candidate yesterday to run in Cape County. There is a strong probability of the Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux running against Mr. Sevigny in this riding.

DR. GALLAUDET DEAD.

Hartford, Conn., Sept. 27.—Dr. Edward Miner Gallaudet, former president of Gallaudet College in Washington, a teacher of the deaf for 54 years, and an authority on international law, died here last night, after an illness of two years.

FAMINE AND DEATH RULE ARGENTINA

Many Die At Buenos Ayres Through Lack of Food.

FIERCE STREET CLASHES

Not a Wheel Turning In Any Part of Country—People Want a War.

BY CHARLES STEWART.
[Special to the Advertiser.]

Buenos Ayres, Sept. 27.—Destitution and death marked the continuation of Argentine's nation-wide strike today. Many infants and invalids, whose deaths were reported, succumbed because of the milk famine. Violent clashes between strikers and police were reported. More workingmen joined the movement. Today prospects for any immediate settlement of the strike were hopeless. Every class of labor is now affected. Even housemaids are considering a walk-out. The gas company employees quit today.

Not a Wheel Turning.

Two of the city's street car lines were tied up and strikers stoned the crews and assaulted passengers on some of the cars. Not a wheel is turning on any of the railways. Business is completely tied up. Gravest destitution is reported here and in other cities, due to food shortage. Argentine marines are in control of the waterworks and power plants, energetically seeking an adjustment. The pro-war demonstration last night attracted a crowd of 100,000 people, and this despite a heavy downpour of rain.

TORONTO WELCOMING MAJOR BISHOP, V. C., OFFICIALLY TODAY

Mayor Will Read Address of Welcome to Famous Airman.

Major R. W. Bishop, acting commander of the Royal Canadian Engineers of Military District No. 1 and senior engineer officer of the district, has gone to Toronto to be present at the civic reception being tendered there this afternoon to his brother, Major W. A. Bishop, V.C., M.C., D. S. O., the famous Owen Sound aviator.

Toronto plans a warm reception to the Canadian airman who has so distinguished himself. He arrives at 5:4 this afternoon from Montreal. He will be met at the Toronto Union Depot by Mayor Church, members of the Toronto City Council and other distinguished Torontonians. Officers and men of the 9th Mississauga Horse, to which unit the major was attached before he joined the 7th C. M. R.'s in this city as a subaltern, will parade to the station with the regimental band. Major Bishop will be escorted to the city hall, where an official address of welcome will be read by Mayor Church. Mayor Little of Owen Sound has been invited to be present.

Mrs. Bishop, mother of the daring airman, met her son in Montreal, and will accompany him to Toronto.

Major Bishop leaves for Owen Sound on Friday. It is expected that he will visit London shortly. It is altogether likely that a combined civic and military reception will be given, as it was in London that the major first joined the C. E. F., having been appointed a subaltern in the 7th C. M. R. when that unit was organized and recruited by Lieut.-Col. Ibbotson Leonard.

A FINE SEND-OFF.

Montreal, Sept. 27.—With an escort of one hundred men from the 258th French Canadian Regiment, Major W. Bishop, V. C., D. S. O., M. C., was given a great send-off by his friends here this morning. He left on the International Limited for Toronto, where he will stay for a short while prior to leaving for his home at Owen Sound, where he will spend his three weeks' leave of absence.

FOOD PLEDGE WORK BEING CONTINUED THROUGHOUT WEEK

Canvassers Meeting With Unpleasant Charges.

Though a week was the length of time for the food conservation canvass in this city, it was found by Saturday last that hundreds of homes had not been visited in that time, and the captains and members of teams are still engaged in finishing up their work. A meeting will be called of captains towards the end of the week in order to get final results if possible.

While a large number of signatures are being obtained, some of the workers have had unpleasant experiences. A prominent member of the food conservation committee stated to The Advertiser that the record for rudeness to a canvasser was held by a well-known local physician. "The visitor was so frightened, she almost ran out of the house," said the narrator of the incident.

Several incidents were related of canvassers being asked how much they were getting for what they were doing, or "what they got out of this."

One charge made which created much amusement when repeated at the campaign headquarters was to the effect that the captains were living high while going round to ask other people to conserve. The captains, indeed, were charged with having an "oyster and chicken dinner" at the kennels even while engaged on the canvass.

Commenting on the work that has been done by the canvassers, Mrs. J. B. McKillop, convener of the team committee, said today: "I think it is wonderful the results we have had and the way the work was taken up by the volunteers. September has been a busy month, and it has meant a good deal to housewives to devote time to this in the midst of the canning season in their homes and with all the many calls they have on their time and thought."

HIS SECOND WOUND

South London Airman Reported Wounded Again.

Flight Lieut. Alex. McDonald, son of Mrs. McDonald, South London, has been wounded in action. Notification of the accident was received today. The young man has been flying in France for more than a year, and this is his second mishap. No particulars have been received.

If Food Disagrees Drink Hot Water

When food lies like lead in the stomach and you have that uncomfortable, distended feeling, it is because of insufficient blood supply to the stomach, combined with acid and food fermentation. In such cases try the plan now followed in many hospitals and advised by many eminent physicians of taking a teaspoonful of pure bisurated magnesia in half a glass of water, as hot as you can comfortably drink it. The hot water draws the blood to the stomach and the bisurated magnesia, as any physician can tell you, instantly neutralizes the acid and stops the food fermentation. Try this simple plan and you will be astonished at the immediate feeling of relief and comfort that always follows the restoration of the normal process of digestion. People who find it inconvenient at times to secure pure water and travelers who are frequently obliged to take hasty meals poorly prepared, should always take two or three five-grain tablets of Bisurated Magnesia after meals to prevent fermentation and neutralize the acid in their stomach.—Advt.

NOT A PARTICLE OF DANDRUFF OR A FALLING HAIR

Save your hair! Double its beauty in just a few moments.

25-cent "Danderine" makes hair thick, glossy, wavy and beautiful.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.

ONE MONTH'S SENTENCE

Youth Found Guilty of Indecent Assault Against 13-Year-Old Girl.

Clifford Elstone, a Clarence street youth, was found guilty by Judge J. C. Judd on a charge of having committed an indecent assault on a thirteen-year-old girl and was sentenced to one month in the county jail, the term to date from Monday last. On the second count of having carnal knowledge of the same girl he was acquitted.

Elstone was tried before Judge Judd on Monday on both counts, judgment having been reserved until today. In passing sentence Judge Judd stated he was taking into consideration the fact that Elstone had already served two months in jail, otherwise he would have imposed a three-month sentence.

The offence of which Elstone was found guilty was committed one Sunday evening in July in the vicinity of Springbank Park. He had taken the girl out for a buggy ride and the incidents complained of arose during the trip. Elstone is just eighteen years of age, and always had a good reputation prior to this his first trouble.

OFFICIAL RETURNS TO INLAND REVENUE DEPT. SHOW TRUE FIGURES

Interesting Comments on Liquor Manufacture Given.

The dispatch from Ottawa to the effect that the Canadian distillers are using mostly bonded stocks of ardent spirits manufactured before the war to supply the present demand for such liquors is meeting with some criticism in the city.

"The information given out from the inland revenue department," said Dr. Louis A. Wood to The Advertiser, "is liable to be quite misleading to the public. What we are expected to infer is that the distillers since the start of the war have been taking out for consumption stocks which they already had on hand.

"But it must be remembered that the distillers did this same thing long before the war began. It has been their custom to keep stocks in their warehouses that will meet the demand of possibly five years or more. In fact there is a regulation that spirits for potable purposes must remain in bond two years before they come into the market.

"A few months before war broke out, on April 1, 1914, according to the figures of the inland revenue department, there were in the warehouses of the distilleries 21,561,976 gallons of spirits. Exactly two years later there were 20,099,188 gallons in stock. In round numbers, there had occurred a depletion of stock of 1,500,000 gallons. In the same two years something like 8,000,000 gallons were taken out for consumption. The question arises, were 6,500,000 gallons manufactured by the distillers in these two years of almost constant war, or are the makers of these strong liquors able, through some kind patronage of Providence, to exhaust their storehouses and still have them full? Plainly large quantities of grain and other materials have been used in manufacturing spirits since hostilities began in Europe.

"For the more recent activities of the distillers we are dependent upon the information which the inland revenue department must have at hand. If officials of that department say that these manufacturers are using at present old stocks, and are making little fresh whiskey, brandy, etc., then the public must accept their statements. What the people of the country want though is actual statistics. Let the inland revenue department publish figures relative to the amount of raw materials used up in the manufacture of spirits for beverage purposes this year. Then we will know where we are at on this matter.

"In this connection yesterday's editorial in The Advertiser is very commendable. If the producers of spirits are making little fresh supplies of present liquors, then it would be small financial hardship for them to have their right of manufacture suspended so far as these liquors are concerned for the duration of the war.

"Naturally, there is a disposition abroad to believe that the Government in power may be seeking to shield the distillers. These manufacturers belong very largely to the millionaire class, and the Government is accused of having received financial donations from them during the campaign of 1911. It will be remembered that in the spring of 1915, Sir W. T. White, the finance minister of Canada, endeavored to protect the distillers by raising the general and preferential tariff against spirits seeking import into Canada. The leader of the Opposition, by adroitness of debate, was able to force the minister of finance to great modify his proposed measure. Had the scheme gone through Canada's millionaire 'whiskey ring' would have benefitted to the extent of many thousands of dollars each year.

"With these facts before them, it is only right that the sorely-tried people of this country should be given full details with respect to liquor manufacture as it exists in Canada today. The Government is going in for national house-keeping. Let that house-keeping be thorough."

SOUTHAMPTON LAD KILLED WHEN AUTO CRASHED INTO POST

PORT ELGIN, Sept. 26.—Lawrence McVittie, eldest son of John McVittie, Southampton, was instantly killed by the overturning of a Ford car at midnight.

The accident happened in front of John Henderson's residence, Goderich street south, when McVittie, with three friends—Al. McIlaney, W. Laughlin and another lad—were motoring south.

Just at this point, on turning out to pass a rig, the boys say, the car swerved to one side and struck the telephone post, overturning the car. It swayed at first, and the boys stooped low, fearing a turnover, and apparently for this reason, when the car did go over, the others were not hurt. Lorne, being the driver, received the injuries, and he was hit with such force that his skull was crushed in, and a cut clear through to the bone running from the front to back of the right side.

Another car from Southampton, which was following at the time, stopped, and the lad was conveyed to Dr. Chambers' office.

Coroner Chambers at once called the father at Southampton, and Undertaker Pattison was given charge of the remains, which were removed to Southampton today.

ROOM BADLY NEEDED.

SARNIA, Sept. 26.—The need of further market facilities was further demonstrated at today's market, when the small-week offering, usually small, rivalled some of the Saturday markets.

"I was pleased that the market by-law received the support of the people," said Ald. Crawford, chairman of the market and printing committee. "It gives us encouragement and shows that the people realize the need of additional space."

During the past few weeks the market space has been crowded to its utmost capacity and evidenced the need of greater facilities. It is expected that the remodelling of the Peterson stables will commence at an early date, so that they will be ready for use this year.

TO BE SOME TIME BEFORE EASTERN APPLES APPEAR IN LARGE QUANTITIES

Nova Scotia Fruit Later Than the Ontario Variety—Smaller Barrels Used.

Western Ontario's apple shortage is engrossing more than usual attention these days with the small local supply disappearing rapidly from the market. From apple districts east of Toronto, it is reported that as high as $3.50 a barrel are being offered for fruit on the trees. To this must be added the picking, packing, shipment and profit charges before the apples could be laid down in London.

Closing of the European export market for the maritime province apples will send a big percentage of the crop there to Ontario, and already local arrangements have been made for handling large consignments of the down east fruit. The Nova Scotia crop is always three to four weeks later than the Ontario variety, so it will be some time before the Nova Scotia apples are on the local market in any large quantities.

For export purposes the 96-quart barrel is used in the eastern provinces, and it will be this type sent to London and district in place of the 110-quart barrel in general use here.

C., and was admitted an attorney in 1869. He was married the same year to the eldest daughter of the late Thomas Browne. They went to Chicago, where Mr. Nelles engaged in business for a few years. DIME NOVELS, PLUS CIGARETTES, TO BLAME

Explain Theft From Drug Store, Says Prisoner's Father in Court.

Bad companionship, dime novels and cigarettes led a fifteen-year-old boy to steal from his employer, according to the father's statements made to Judge Macbeth today in the case of the youth who pleaded guilty to robbing the till at the Richmond and Central avenue branch of the Taylor Drug Company on Tuesday night.

The boy felt his position keenly, and wept bitterly as he admitted he had committed the crime.

Judge Macbeth postponed the passing of sentence for three months. Upon the father's report will depend what the sentence will be.

"If you report to me that he has not tried to do better or that he is beyond parental control I will place him in an institution where he will be cared for," said Judge Macbeth.

Addressing the boy, Judge Macbeth informed him that upon his own conduct would depend what disposition would be made of his case.

The father's bail for $400 was accepted as a guarantee that the boy would appear.

According to the boy's admissions he carefully planned the theft. He hid in the cellar, and when the clerk locked up he came upstairs, removed $51 from the till and hid it in a barn. He offered no explanation for his act, beyond the fact that he was going to use the money, but for what purpose he declined to state. He will be reinstated by his employer.

RED CROSS VISITORS SEE GIRL COOKS OF CITY SCHOOLS AT THEIR WORK OF CANNING FRUIT FOR INVALID SOLDIERS

Witness Each Step of Domestic Science Classes Assistance in Preparing Canned Goods for Local Military Hospitals.

A demonstration of the practical value of the domestic science training in the public schools of the city was given to the executive of the London Red Cross Society today, when visits were paid to the centres where canning for the local military hospitals was in progress, and where jars of tempting-looking fruits and tomatoes were displayed.

The domestic science classes are co-operating with the Red Cross by filling jars supplied by the society, the sugar coming from the same source. A large amount of the fruit has also been provided by the Red Cross, individual donations supplementing this.

Conducted by Chairman Rowe of the board of education and Inspector C. B. Edwards, the Red Cross party, including representatives of the press, left Hyman Hall shortly after 10 o'clock, proceeding to the Ryerson School. A peep was first taken at the dining-room, where the long table was laden with glass jars of canned tomatoes, pears, peaches and plums which had kept their shape in a wonderful manner in the process of cooking.

Tomato canning was on the program for the day, and the order and precision with which each step was taken evoked the admiring comments of the onlookers. The opening of the baskets was a bit of fine art in itself, accomplished deftly by two girls at the end of the rows, who then proceeded to distribute the contents to classmates for paring. In front of each girl was a white enamel bowl and paring knife, and at a signal, everyone became busy preparing the fruit for cooking.

All Steps Illustrated.

At the second domestic science kitchen, the cottage to the rear of the Talbot Street School, Miss Isabel Davidson's class was taking up the work of canning where the preceding class had left off, and all with entire absence of confusion. Class one had prepared the fruit and placed the jars on a towel in a pan of water to sterilize, screw tops, rubber bands and all. One capable little cook explained that it was necessary to boil the tomatoes twenty minutes after they started to bubble, and to sterilize the jars for the same period of time.

To illustrate the exactness with which each step is taken, Miss Davidson called for the jar-filling equipment. Each girl opened the neatly-arranged drawer beside which she stood and took first the service plate, next a bowl, third a measuring cup, and fourth, a tablespoon. In the exhibition room, a Red Cross design was worked out with the jars of fruit, which in truth looked, "fit for a king"—or "a soldier."

At the new Riverview School, filling the jars was almost completed, and a second "batch" of fruit on boiling. The care with which every possible air bubble was chased out before the top was screwed down arrested attention. No chances are to be taken in letting the contents spoil.

Miss Maybelle Stuart, instructor at this centre, had a good reason for pride in the work of her pupils, as revealed in shelves filled with fruit, already to be dispatched by the Red Cross to the Byron Sanatorium for Tuberculous Soldiers, the Military Hospital at Wolseley Barracks, or the Central Military Convalescent Hospital.

Two Thousand Cans Objective.

Two thousand cans of fruit is the objective of the school children for the season, and already more than fourteen hundred jars have been put down (or is it put up?)

So interested did the Red Cross visitors become at each stopping place that it was difficult to tear them away. The shining cleanness, the beautiful auditorium, the good pictures and the manual training class room evoked many comments at the Ryerson School. Everyone fell in love with the little domestic science house at the Talbot Street School, and when it came to the Riverview, with its wonderful views from every window, its kindergarten with nursery stories in stained glass, its domestic science dining-room and many other features of interest, everybody wanted to be starting life all over at the very beginning, and nobody wanted to move on at all.

Assistance Appreciated.

The assistance given by the public school children in canning fruit for the Red Cross has been much appreciated since the outbreak of war, and all the way from England, stories have come of the superior quality of the contents of these London "school jars." To see the work actually being done was an interesting experience, and gave the women who are responsible for administering the affairs of the Red Cross for this district an even deeper appreciation of the assistance rendered by their little sisters in London. Still more, it encourages the young girls who are thus doing their bit with all their hearts.

WOODSTOCK, Sept. 26.—The death occurred today under tragic circumstances of Mrs. E. M. Sage of Vandecar, East Oxford. She was found about 6 a.m. lying dead beside a lamp which she had been carrying, and burns on her clothes and on the floor showed what had occurred. Mrs. Sage for some years had been subject to fainting spells, and apparently had a seizure while she was carrying the lighted lamp and died from the shock of burns and the fall. She was 66 years old and is survived by her husband, one son and three daughters. The funeral will be held on Friday afternoon to the Oxford Centre Cemetery.

DEALERS PREPARED TO MEET CITY ON CHEAP FISH SALES

One Will Undersell Municipal Stall, He Announced.

ERROR CAUSES CONFUSION

Because it was announced in a local paper that a fish stall would be opened by the city at the market house this morning, hundreds of housewives turned out in the anticipation of buying fish at the cheap rates quoted by Mayor Stevenson, only to be disappointed. The mayor stated that the place would be opened some time next week, and the error was the cause of much inconvenience to local housewives.

Local fish dealers were for the most part reticent about the question when seen by The Advertiser. Many refused to say whether the opening of a municipal fish stall would affect their business or not. Charles Anderson of Anderson's meat and fish store stated, however, that he would sell fish at the same rates decided on by the city fish shop.

"If they put us out of the fish business, we are not going to worry over it," he said. "The fish trade is not remunerative anyway. I don't believe that the mayor can sell fish at a cheaper rate than local stores. There is very little profit for those who own the business. If the city sells fish at a cheaper rate (which I don't believe it can do), we will also sell at a cheaper rate, even if we lose money on it."

One dealer thought that a civic fish store would not detract his customers to a noticeable extent. He admitted, however, that some trade would be lost.

"Even if the city stall does get it's rent free," he stated, "it is unlikely that a much cheaper rate will be available for the public. Let them go to it."

DISTRICT BATTERIES LEAVE PETAWAWA FOR LOCAL WINTER CAMP

63rd and 64th Now On Way to London Quarters.

The 63rd and 64th Batteries left Petawawa camp for London Wednesday and are likely to be in quarters here before the end of the week. An advance party of five arrived here on Tuesday, and is preparing for the arrival of the main body.

Both units are depot batteries, and have sent several drafts overseas, and both were at one time stationed in London. Since its organization the 63rd has always had its winter quarters here. The 64th was stationed at Guelph last winter, but under present arrangements will be stationed in this city until spring.

Quarters for the men are easily obtainable here, but stabling for the horses has in past years proved the chief difficulty when large bodies of mounted troops were here.

Double Shift Arrangement Causes Record Examination

TWELVE ENLIST AT ONCE

33 Examined by No. 1 Board Declared Fit for Combatant Units.

More than one hundred men were examined by the standing medical board at the armories working a double shift on Wednesday. Medical officers were on duty until after nine o'clock at night in order to finish the day's work.

Fifty-five men were examined by No. 1 Board under the presidency of Major H. A. Kingsmill. No detailed returns are yet available from No. 2 Board, of which Major Cruikshank is president, but 50 men were examined and one enlisted.

Of the 55 men examined by No. 1 Board, 33 were class A2, fit for service overseas with a combatant unit; one man was in class B2, fit for service overseas with a non-combatant unit. The status of three was doubtful, and eighteen were declared unfit.

Twelve men volunteered for service and three were declared unfit. Those accepted were W. D. Robinson, Canadian, London, C. A. S. C., class A2; H. A. C. Grazier, Englishman, Woodstock, C. A. S. C. Details, class C; G. C. Logan, Canadian, Guelph, Cycle Corps, class A2; J. McCurley, Scotsman, Guelph, C. A. S. C., class A2; W. J. Walker, Canadian, Guelph, 7th Guard Details; J. McK. Arthur, Canadian, London, C. A. S. C., class A2; A. E. Steel, London, Railway Construction, class A2; J. Rock, Irishman, London, 7th C. E. F., class A2; C. A. Gifford, Canadian, London, Engineers, class A2.

Major Cruikshank of Windsor took up his duties as president of a second board here for the first time Wednesday, and with the other members, Capt. F. H. Sutherland and Lieut. G. F. Sykes, was able to relieve somewhat the other board, which, under the presidency of Major H. A. Kingsmill, had until that time to meet the entire rush which the inauguration of the new examination caused.

The New Quarters.

The room which in ante-bellum days was occupied by the 16th A. S. C., has been turned into examining rooms for the new board. The other board occupies the rooms in the southeast tower of the armories.

MOTOR APPARATUS TOO EXPENSIVE, IS COMMITTEE REPORT

More Horses Will Therefore Be Purchased For Fire Department.

A deputation from the firemen's union, headed by Capt. Mitchell, waited on the finance committee of the city council last night and presented a number of questions for adjustment.

First they wanted firemen to receive full pay while on sick leave. This was granted, the decision to be retroactive. They also asked that the men be paid $2.75 a day for first year men, $3.00 a day for second year men, and $3.35 a day for third year men, instead of $2.40, $2.60 and $2.80. This question was laid over. Tenders will be called for winter shirts for the firemen at once. Capt. Mitchell suggested that summer and winter suits be given the firemen. The present system was to give a suit a year to the men. By alternating better results would be obtained. The committee will have this in hand.

Not Satisfactory.

Fire Chief Aitken was asked why Fireman Wray was not made a lieutenant in No. 5 fire hall, he being one of the senior men. The chief stated that he did not think Fireman Wray competent for the place, and so the matter rested. Heat will be turned on at the central station on October 1, and repairs will be made to the central station to meet the demands of the firemen.

Charles S. Glass, E. E. Reid, George F. Copeland, E. R. Wilson and others asked for a grant of $1,000 to the Y. M. C. A. There will be a bylaw voted on in January to set aside this sum for Y. M. C. A. purposes.

It was pointed out that there was no money set aside to pay for the storm sewer on Maitland street. On motion of Ald. Ashplant a sufficient sum to meet the indebtedness for the work done will be transferred from the general account, and debentures issued later to cover the amount.

It was decided not to purchase a motor fire service ladder this year. Fire Chief Aitken reported that the prices had gone up a great deal, and the amount of money available would not cover it. He did not favor electrically driven apparatus, as the latter had not been shown to be successful in such climates. He was given power to purchase the number of horses required for his department.

The question of combining the offices of commissioner of industries and secretary of the Western Fair was laid over for further consideration.

J. Bloom asked for permission to establish a wood yard at 241 Ottaway avenue. The matter was referred to Ald. Dyer, Ald. Manness and Building Inspector Piper to adjust.

TRAIN THE MINISTRY IN SOCIAL SERVICE, SAYS CANON TUCKER

Splendid Report Made to the Anglican Conference by London Clergyman.

Ottawa, Sept. 27.—The Council of Social Service of the Church of England at the annual meeting in Lauder Memorial Hall yesterday, unanimously adopted a resolution in favor of Dominion-wide prohibition, moved by Archdeacon Renison. Another important resolution which was also adopted was based upon the recommendation of the report of the executive committee that each diocese of the church, in Canada take up rescue work of a corporate character.

Canon Tucker Reports.

The annual report of the executive committee was presented by the Bishop of Huron. At the afternoon session Canon Tucker asked the council to indorse the proposal to use the Sunday previous to Labor Day for dealing with the questions relating to the labor movement. There was a long discussion on this resolution. Canon Tucker presented a splendid report on the subject of survey and plans for social service.

The clergy were the church's mouthpiece and agents, he said, and must be enlisted to the task. Canon Tucker advocated that students in the ministry should be taught and trained along the lines of social service. His report was referred to the executive committee to deal with.

BACKERS ADMIT SOFT COALYARD PLAN CAN'T AID HOUSEHOLDER

Scheme Revealed As Measure to Tax People to Aid Wealthy Profiteers.

CANNOT BUY HARD COAL

On Advice of Government Official Stratford Dropped Similar Project.

With fat jobs and boundless opportunities for ward heeling slipping from them, "pap" peddlers and politicians are working themselves into a frenzy in the hope of staying the tide of public sentiment against the issuance of $25,000 additional debentures to be used in the establishment of a city soft coalyard.

Exposure of the fact that only soft coal is available, and that the big coal and transportation trusts of the United States have flatly refused to do business with any municipality in either Canada or the United States, has forced the backers of the scheme more or less into the open, and as a result there is now the frank admission that the project can no longer be regarded as offering the slightest hope of benefit to the domestic consumer.

For weeks the half-dozen individuals who have been behind the scheme have assiduously peddled the declaration that coal is available for delivery in London at $6 a ton, but hitherto the fact that the $6 coal is described by the agent who sells it as SOFT COAL, SUITED PARTICULARLY TO USE IN HIGH PRESSURE STEAM BOILERS, EQUIPPED WITH SMOKE CONSUMERS, has been kept from the people.

Grease the Fat Pig.

Now that admission has been made that nothing can be done through this agency to assist the householder in his domestic fuel problem the promoters of the spending scheme have brought forth the argument that they are now out to aid the manufacturer. The proposal, the announcement goes, is to lay in a stock of bituminous coal for the industrial plants of London.

"But how," asks the householder, "am I to be benefitted in my own fuel problems by such a scheme?"

"Why," demands the already overburdened taxpayer, "should my money be used to furnish additional capital for companies that pay me no cent of dividend from their fat profits? Why gouge the man who owns his little home to grease the fat pig?"

"But," say the councillors, "just give us the authority to mortgage the city for this $25,000 and if we don't care to go ahead afterwards we need not spend the money."

Taxpayer Is Wary.

The wary taxpayer who has ruefully watched the assessors boost the valuation, but not the value, of his home, while the councillors shoved both hands into his pockets for more of the stuff that makes the aldermanic mare go, will take no chances. He has before him the spectacle of the miserable failure of the council to put the garbage department on a business basis. Such management he pictures applied to a civic coalyard.

The Canadian Government has furnished the machinery whereby any consumer may appeal to the fuel controller and bring prompt action against any dealer who charges exorbitant prices for fuel, or who treats his patrons in an unjust manner. But to whom could the people appeal if they found themselves — as they undoubtedly would—paying coal bills at the fuel department and coalyard deficits to the tax collector?

Mate for Bunkum Scheme.

"This scheme was a fitting mate for that Ajax rubber bylaw," a property owner declared. "It was a pity they were ever broken up. Fortunately for the taxpayers of London this scheme was exposed and withdrawn before the people were drawn into it. It was boomed even stronger than the coal bylaw—probably because it involved still greater spendings. Now it is admitted that it never was a business proposition, and that the people never stood a ghost of a show to get their money out of it. The coal bylaw is in exactly the same category, but it is being pushed through with greater brazenness, that's all."

With the site for the coalyard—a little property in the south end of the city—already bonded at a stiff price, and with a high salaried but entirely inexperienced manager slated for the job of running it, city hall rumors have it that there will be little of the $25,000 available for any kind of business, even should the people authorize it.

People Will Kill It.

But the belief is generally held that the people will not be cajoled into going into such a costly venture, a venture that gives absolutely no promise of reducing coal bills, and that in the unbiased opinion of London's foremost and most thoughtful citizens seriously threatens to leave its imprint in a still higher tax rate.

The crux of the situation is found in the fact that there is no longer any need for such an institution. The Canadian Government has appointed a fuel controller with sweeping powers to protect the people. He announced in London his determination to protect the people, and throughout the country has rung his challenge to dealers who would dare join the ranks of the profiteers. Vancouver dealers trifled with him, and the big stick fell on Saturday last in the announcement of the fixing of prices in that city. Ottawa predicts that such drastic action may be taken as a nation-wide measure. In any event the controller is prepared to fix the rates wherever the people have a grievance. No costly machinery is needed to bring action. A postcard addressed to the fuel controller will get results, and without mulcting the property owners in high taxation.

What Stratford Did.

Stratford in considering the advisability of establishing a municipal coalyard a couple of weeks since, asked the advice of the controller, and on his advice the scheme was abandoned as worthless BECAUSE IT COULD NOT EITHER INCREASE THE SUPPLY OR REDUCE THE COST TO THE CONSUMER.

The determined endeavors of the jobhunters and self-seeking politicians to put the deal over makes it imperative that every taxpayer in London cast his ballot against the scheme on October 6.—Advertisement.

REPORTER—"EXPERTS" CAUSE A CONVICTION

Declare Mysterious Liquid Was Booze and $200 Fine Imposed.

James Waldron, colored, 224 Grey street, was fined $200 and costs or in default of payment will spend the next three months at the county jail as the result of being convicted in police court today of a breach of section 41 of the Ontario Temperance Act.

James Johnson, colored, a friend of Waldron's was given the benefit of a doubt and acquitted on a charge of drinking on the street contrary to section 10 of the amended act of 1917.

Henry Macklin, J.P., and Alderman S. R. Manness acted in the capacity of magistrates.

The case of Waldron was the first to be heard. Patrolman Coughlin testified he was standing at a corner on the Hamilton road and saw Waldron and Johnson taking a drink from a bottle. He gave chase and when Waldron was searched the bottle was found in his pocket.

Waldron in his defence admitted he had the bottle, but stated that a total stranger to him, while on his way home with his girl, handed him the bottle.

"Why do you suppose a stranger would do such an extraordinary thing?" asked R. J. Fisher, acting for the prosecution.

"I suppose he wanted to keep the girl in the dark concerning the liquor," replied Waldron.

George S. Gibbons, acting for Waldron, declined to admit that the mysterious fluid was real liquor. Rather than go to the expense of an analysis the magistrates, Chief Williams, Crown Attorney McKillop and the reporters were each allowed to take a long breath and inhale deeply from the uncorked bottle labeled old time rye. Each expert uttered but one word, "Whiskey," whereupon Mr. Gibbons consented to dispense with the analysis.

In the case of Johnson, who was discharged, he was given the benefit of a doubt because Patrolman Coughlin stated he could not swear positively that Johnson had taken a drink, although he had put the bottle to his lips.

Three other citizens, each charged with intoxication, were fined $10 and costs each, or failing to liquidate their assessments will dwell at Castle Carter for the next ten days.

MR. HANNA'S STATEMENT.

FOOD CONTROLLER HANNA has issued a statement giving his conception of the duties connected with his office and the possibility of performing them, but it cannot be said that there is anything in it to encourage the vast army of consumers who entertained hopes that his efforts would result in lower prices for foods.

Primarily, Mr. Hanna believes he was appointed in order that he might "protect Canada, the Canadian troops and our share of the war of the Empire against disaster through famine." To do this he sees but one way: to decrease consumption and increase production.

So far so good; but what about conservation of foods once they have been produced for the purposes he mentions? Does he consider the shipment of hundreds of beef cattle weekly from this country to the United States tends to protect Canada from famine? But, Mr. Hanna may reply, much of this beef comes back to Canada. So it does, at greatly enhanced prices, and yet the controller sees no possibility of reducing the cost of living! Is it not time for him to be replaced by someone with clearer vision?

The Canadian tomato canners complain that producers are breaking contracts with the canneries and selling their choice tomatoes to American buyers, depriving their fellow-Canadians and treating their contracts as "scraps" of paper." Mr. Hanna admits that the second great cause of high prices is "the unrestrained competition between foreign buyers of foodstuffs in our markets," but asserts that this has been corrected by the creation of central buying offices for the Entente Powers. He fails to recognize any danger from buyers other than governments, and is content to allow this foreign competition unrestrained freedom so long as only individuals are concerned. So the tomatoes, the cattle, etc., may continue to vanish from the land, while decreased consumption is urged upon the people to make up for this export.

The "unnecessary and inefficient middleman" is noted in the statement as one of the main causes of high prices, and having discovered this fact, what does Mr. Hanna do? Does he propose to eliminate the costly nuisance? No, he merely holds up his hands in despair and predicts temporary ruin for the whole country if there is any drastic interference with the middleman. But, a moment before he had said: "There has not been, and there will not be, an instant's hesitation to bring to bear all the powers of the food controller against any producer or middleman who we find to be making an undue charge for his services." Has any such been found, and if so, what action was taken?

The pith of the whole statement comes towards the end, when Mr. Hanna declares: "But with wages better than ever, and unemployment unknown, . . . the middle and well-to-do classes still buying luxuries, really cheaper food would for the present be disastrous." In substance this means that the food controller believes the more the consumer has to pay for his food the better, as the wastage will decrease. He ignores the fact that by the time prices are high enough to force the well-to-do to economize, the poor will be starving; or would he prefer to wait until the wealthy were feeling the pinch, and both middle and poor classes had given up the struggle?

When the demand was made for a food controller in Canada, it was made because prices were extremely high, and the people believed there was vast profiteering of which they were the victims. They wanted someone willing and able to put an end to this condition, and see that only fair profits were permitted to producer, wholesaler, retailer or middleman. They had not in mind the possible shortage of foodstuffs and the need for extreme conservation. This latter having been forced upon their attention, they are ready to support Mr. Hanna in every effective move he may make to guarantee this nation and its allies against famine. But they do not wish the primary reason for his appointment to be forgotten or waved aside as of little consequence. They do not want to stand hungry for beef at the side of the railroad and watch car after car of fat cattle pass en route to another country, even if they are going to get some of them back later at increased prices. They want to see some results from the food controller, and so far they have been bitterly disappointed.

Mr. Hanna promises further statements. If Canadians can experience the joy of hearing from their grocer, their butcher or their baker the almost forgotten words, "Flour or sugar, or butter or beef, or mutton or bread is cheaper today," they will cheerfully dispense with other statements.

AIRPLANE AMBULANCES.

FRENCH OFFICERS have been experimenting with airplane ambulances and are confident that these will be of great service during the war. Tests have been made with one which carries two wounded men on stretchers, and the soldiers who played the part of the wounded declared the fifteen-mile trip was far in advance of that provided by motor ambulances on land.

This is one of the inventions which cause people to wonder why it was not thought of before. Emphasis has been laid on the sufferings of the injured as they were taken to the base over the rough, shell-torn roads, no matter how good the springs of the ambulance. All that is avoided in the air route, and the danger is only slightly, if any, greater.

The utility of the airplane ambulance will not end with the removal of the wounded to the base hospitals. In cases where the wounds are of such a kind as to require treatment only procurable in Paris or London, the patients will be rushed there in a fraction of the time previously required. There is a decided probability that many endangered lives will thus be saved.

It is unlikely that these craft will be able to carry on their work as near the front line trenches as the motor ambulances go, but the trips made by the latter will be shorter, and they will be free to return for other men, thus adding to their usefulness, if plenty of the air models are provided.

The invention, no doubt, will meet with the soldiers' approval.

THE MODERN MACBETH.

PROF. HENRY W. FARNAM of Yale is quoted in the Literary Digest as drawing a parallel between the tragedy of this great war brought on by Germany and that pictured by Shakespeare in "Macbeth," which he calls almost startling in its details. He points out that the mind of the German people has been poisoned with false doctrines, as the mind of Macbeth was corrupted by the witches. He says:

"The part played by the witches and by Lady Macbeth in the tragedy has been played by the professors and the Pan-Germanists of modern Germany, who have made Germany believe that it was destined to be a world power and sovereign among states, and that it must carry this out by force.

"This doctrine led naturally to the invasion of Belgium acknowledged by the chancellor to be illegal, but subsequently justified, as was the murder of Duncan, by a false claim. Upon this initial crime there inevitably followed the whole policy of frightfulness, including the killing of women and children, corresponding exactly to Macbeth's murder of the wife and children of Macduff.

"But we all know the end; Macduff accepts the challenge: 'Damn'd be him that first cries, "Hold, enough!"' and the contest ends with the death of Macbeth.

"We must accept the German challenge if we would have peace. If we were contending with an uncivilized people we might hope to educate them gradually to higher standards, but we are not. We are contending with a philosophy of scientific savagery evolved by people who in their personal relations are civilized, but who collectively, acting as a state, are under what seems to many a tragic obsession.

"The only thing that will cure them of this obsession is a conclusive and overwhelming proof that it does not pay, and that can only be accomplished by defeat.

"In helping to bring this about the United States must realize that it will be required to make a supreme sacrifice. It will need not only all of its physical and material resources, but it must exemplify the very highest moral qualities at the same time. Discipline, self-restraint, courage and tenacity must be shown if we are to rid the world of the plague which this philosophy has brought upon it, and enable civilized man to resume again his progress in the direction of humanity, respect for treaty obligations and international decency."

Prof. Farnam reaches this conclusion from an intimate knowledge of the German people, among whom he spent some years in study and travel. He draws attention to the extreme modernism of German efficiency and ruthlessness, pointing out that in 1865, when he attended a German school, the state of the empire had no common government, no single monetary standard or uniform system of weights and measures. They were by no means progressive, and even as late as 1876, the German industrial exhibit at Philadelphia Exposition was merely "cheap and nasty," as the people of Germany themselves confessed.

The present fiendish ruthlessness was not in evidence in the war against France in 1870, says Dr. Farnam, as in his travels in 1871 through portions of that land still occupied by the Germans he heard no complaints of atrocities.

All this goes to prove that the brutality shown by the Huns since 1914 has been developed in large measure since Wilhelm came to the throne. He has had an evil influence on the nation, perhaps not so much personally as through the men with whom he surrounded himself and exalted. He can never be allowed to rule again, once the war is ended.

MOVING DAY.

By Isabel Frost.

It had never occurred to Alice Barton that her landlord would not trust her indefinitely, even though she had not taken the time to apprise him of her intentions. She had meant to drop in the office on her way to the station and tell his slave at the desk that they might renew her lease; but it was pouring pitchforks and she had to make a train; therefore she trusted to luck and the landlord's intuition.

When she returned on May 1 she encountered large packing cases in her hall, also a young man in shirtsleeves wrestling with the same.

"I'll have these out of the way in just a minute, so you can get by," he told her, pleasantly.

"But I don't want to get by," said Alice frigidly. "Thank you. I merely wish to get into my apartment."

He looked at her in surprise.

"There seems to be some mistake here. I rented this apartment under the impression that it was vacant," he explained. "From May 1 for one year. I'm just moving in."

Alice's face turned a shade paler. Manners were instinctive second nature to her, and she forced herself to speak very quietly.

"Would you mind letting me glance around to see if any of my things have been left here?"

He was delighted to admit her. Already the place was taking on a masculine air, a peculiar, conspicuous laxity in the arrangement of its furniture. She had only left a few of her pictures and cushions around, and the little tea service on the willow table in the corner.

"I believe Paxton said something about there being a few things left that belonged to the former tenant," the stranger said, awkwardly, noting her roving glance. "I've been awfully careful not to disturb anything. Is there anything I can do to help?"

"May I phone the office?" Alice asked, a bit helplessly.

Paxton's voice was suave but firm. He reminded her that they had written several times, inquiring her intentions on the renewal of her lease, and she had calmly ignored them.

"Have you anything else left in the building?" she asked.

"No, I am very sorry, but there is nothing at all left. We waited until the very last moment for your decision, but Mr. Reeves wished the apartment in the first, and we accommodated him. If there is anything that we can do——"

No, there was nothing they could do. She thanked him and hung up the receiver. Drawing off her grey suede gloves, she looked around her a bit tiredly. It had been quite a trip up from Spring Lake, and she had counted all the way on the comfort and rest in her own snug little nest.

"I'll pack up my things right away," she said.

"You won't do anything of the sort." He put on his coat and, looking up at him, she suddenly discovered that her untimely tenant was a youth mighty good to look upon.

"I shall not retain the apartment," he told her, resolutely. "It was beastly of them to rent it without your knowledge. I'm going over to throw the whole thing up."

"But you can't, you know. Not if you've signed a lease." She laughed rather wearily. "If you don't mind, I think I'll make a cup of tea for myself, before I pack my dishes. Won't you join me?"

Before the impromptu tea was half over, she had made several enlightening discoveries. First, Mr. Reeves was a Yale man, the same class as her brother Tom. This in itself would have warranted her in accepting almost any favor at his hands. The time slipped away while he told of Tom's initiation into their fraternity, and then she found herself reading to him Tom's last letter from France, where he had joined the aviation corps.

"Of course, you understand," he told her, when they had finished tea, "that I can't possibly let you go out of here. If they won't let me step down and out, I shall sublet to you. May I be your landlord? Please say yes. A fellow can pick up quarters anywhere, and somehow this whole place seems to fit you. I guess that was why it took me so in the first place. It seemed so sort of homelike and inviting."

After he had gone Alice settled herself with a sigh of relief. He had been so fine and fair about it all. Then she looked up over the mantelpiece. In his haste to get away he had forgotten to take down a tall photograph of himself in guardsman uniform. For several days she found herself stopping thoughtfully, whatever she happened to be doing, to look up at the fine, manly, boyish face.

She wrote to Tom, telling him of the accidental meeting, and asked him if he remembered Dick Reeves, class '13, Yale. The answer did not come back for nearly two months, and in that time Dick had securely established himself as a landlord, who bestowed remarkable attention upon his tenant. He called frequently. Usually at tea time, and the days when he did not come Alice found herself missing him.

Then came the letter from Tom. She never forgot the moment when she opened it, just after Dick had gone.

"He's one of the finest old chaps I ever met, but he got into a mix-up at college with a girl who blew into town with a road show. I guess she was a square little kid all right, for she never tried to hold Dick, and told him he was making a fool of himself for nothing. His old man went mad over the affair and cut Dick off without a cent. He stuck it out, though, working his way through his last year, and took his degree. I don't know what became of the girl. Frankly, I think she did him a good turn, as the old man had millions to burn. When Dick landed on his uppers it made a man of him. I believe he's working now in his cousin's automobile factory, learning the business from the ground up. I'm mighty glad you've met him."

It was two weeks later. With a woman's intuition, Alice had known the moment was ahead of them when she would either have to give up her sublease or else admit another tenant. Dick's eyes were eloquent. They told her plainer than any words could have done all that she meant in his life.

He sat on the window seat looking down at Gramercy Park. The children in their gay dresses bobbing around looked like animated flowers. Around the corner on Nineteenth street a street piano was playing some rollicking popular air.

"Alice," he said suddenly, with a touch of desperation in his tone, "I've got to tell you something. Something I'm mighty ashamed of, now that I've met you and known the real thing. Maybe I'm wrong, but it seems to me you ought to know before I ask you to be my wife."

Alice bent a little lower over her embroidery as she sat in a dark green willow chair beside him.

"I've heard all about Peggy," she said, quietly. "Tom told me. I like you much better as a worker, Dick, than as you must have been before she switched your life into the manlier way of independence. Was that all?"

She glanced up at him with a little mischievous smile of inquiry, and Dick left the window seat.

The following morning Mr. Paxton glanced up from his desk. Dick's tone was very decisive.

"We wish a few alterations made in the apartment, Miss Barton and myself. We will be married on the 19th inst. We will be married on the 19th inst. We will be married on the 19th time we get back from our honeymoon."

NEW POTENTATE OF MOCHA TEMPLE IS DULY INSTALLED

Capt. J. L. Richmond, who recently returned from England, where he has seen service for the past three years with the 33rd Battalion, was duly installed as potentate of Mocha Temple Tuesday evening, the ceremonies being in charge of Past Potentate Dr. A. Roy Routledge. There were many Shriners present from this district. Following the ceremonies a banquet was held at Wong's Cafe. Dr. Routledge presided. After the health of the King was drunk, a toast to the new potentate was proposed by Dr. Routledge. Capt. Richmond responded briefly. He dealt with the war, and declared it was the duty of Canadians to stand loyally behind the men at the front.

Excellent addresses were delivered by Nobles Stevenson, Stratford; McLean, Galt; Henry Roe, St. Thomas, and others.

NO STRIKE-BREAKERS BEING BROUGHT HERE, SAYS G.N.W. MANAGER

Although Local Manager David Adams of the G. N. W. Telegraph Company declares that business is being handled and accepted by the company as usual, striking operators have a different story to tell.

"We are still getting through as we were on Monday and Tuesday," said Mr. Adams. "We are not making any effort to bring in any strikebreakers to London."

The striking operators declare that one of the local operators who did not walk out with the others was paid $1 an hour to "sit in" at the key.

One of the phases of the strike situation, as it affects London and practically the whole district, is that the Grand Trunk despatchers' wires and the regular wires for the road's operation, are looked after by G. N. W. linemen. Since the linemen walked out the work has been turned over to the sectionmen.

CHANGE UNEXPECTED BY LONDON BOYS WHO ARE IN GERMAN HANDS

Notwithstanding the announcement lately promulgated to the effect that Canadian prisoners in Germany would be exchanged and transported to neutral countries after having been prisoners for eighteen months in Germany, letters received in this city from London prisoners who have been confined the required time denote that they are still in Germany and expect to remain there for the duration of the war.

A letter recently received from Corp. "Bob" Watt by his parents makes no mention of the expectation of being exchanged to a neutral country. He writes his relatives not to worry about him. He is in the best of health and expects to remain in his present prison camp despite the fact that he has been a prisoner for over eighteen months.

I. O. D. E. MEETING POSTPONED A WEEK

The meeting of the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire, which was to have been addressed on Friday by Mrs. Crerar of Hamilton, mother of Lady Beck, has been postponed for one week. Mrs. Crerar is in Ottawa with Lady Beck, attending the conference of the associated charities, and her London appearance had to be cancelled. It is hoped to have the meeting a week from tomorrow in Cronyn Hall. The subject of the address will be "After the War—What?"

THOUGHT CHILD WAS DYING. "CHOLERA INFANTUM" DR. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY CURED HER.

Mothers should look well after their children during the hot summer months, as this is the time of the year this trouble is most prevalent. It begins with a profuse diarrhoea, the stomach becomes irritated, vomiting and purging set in, and the child rapidly loses flesh, and becomes weak, prostrated and languid.

Mrs. B. A. Cirwell, Rossway, N. S., writes: "I can recommend, most highly, Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. A friend of mine whose little daughter was ill with cholera infantum was given up by the doctors. The little one's mother asked me to come in and see the child. I told her I had a bottle of "Dr. Fowler's" and asked her if she would try it. When the bottle was half-used the child was well. This cure was a miraculous one, for I thought the child was dying at the time."

There is nothing can take the place of Dr. Fowler's.

There is nothing just as good.

Do not accept a substitute, and thus endanger your life.

WASTING WHEAT FOR LIQUOR NULLIFIES CONSERVATION MOVE

District Ministers Score the Government for Inconsistent Actions.

The financial district meeting of the Methodist Church of London district was held in the North Street Methodist Church, Westminster, on Tuesday. Rev. J. E. Holmes, chairman of the district, presided. There was a large delegation of ministers and laymen in attendance. The morning session was taken up largely with routine business. For the first time in the history of the district no circuit is receiving aid from the missionary fund, and all circuits are paying the minimum salary.

Rev. B. H. Robinson, M.A., was elected district statistical secretary.

Rev. Dr. Graham, educational secretary of the Methodist Church, addressed the district in the interests of Victoria College. Mr. Graham informed the district that there was scarcely a young man in connection with Victoria College who was qualified for overseas service, as all who were physically fit had enlisted.

October 28 was set apart as educational field day, and December 9 and 16 for missionary anniversary.

It was arranged to hold a district meeting in November to deal with the question of moral reform.

The ladies of the North Street Church provided dinner for the delegates in a hall adjoining the church, and a resolution of thanks was moved by Rev. W. E. Pescott, B. A., and seconded by R. I. Watson. E. S. Hunt, an official of the church, and Rev. Eric Anderson, junior pastor, replied for the ladies, and Mr. Hunt extended a hearty welcome to all present. While the ladies provided the dinner free, the delegates passed around the hat, and handed upwards of $15 to the W. M. S. as an expression of their appreciation.

Afternoon Session.

At the afternoon session addresses and discussion of the subjects of evangelism and missions took place.

At the opening of the afternoon session the following resolution was moved and carried unanimously by a standing vote.

"Moved by Rev. W. E. Pescott, B.A., and seconded by Rev. Walter Rigsby, that we, the members of the London district meeting of the Methodist Church, desire to place on record our appreciation of the gravity of the food situation, and, while desiring to do all in our power to help the food controller in his difficult task,

"We most emphatically declare our conviction that all efforts to make this conservation of food effective is nullified until the Government absolutely prohibits the destruction, not only of wheat, but of all other foodstuffs, for the manufacture of all forms of alcoholic liquor."

Rev. R. G. Peever, B.D., delivered an instructive address on "The Holy Spirit in Evangelism at Home and Abroad."

Rev. Mr. Saunby, a returned missionary from Japan, delivered an address, giving a birdseye view of the political and religious situation in Japan, Corea and China. His subject was: "The Mountain Tops of Progress in the Far East." Mr. Saunby spoke of the unspeakable blessing that came to Japan through the introduction of representative government by the late emperor, which gave every man the privilege of worshipping God according to his own cohscience. He referred to the consolidation going on in the Christian churches, doing away with denominationalism. There is now in Japan but one Presbyterian body, and one Methodist body. The native Christians are liberally supporting the work of the Christian Church, and giving large amounts to erect churches, he said.

A great impetus to the spread of Christianity in Japan has come recently through the conversion to Christianity of a galaxy of men of national reputation.

In speaking on China Mr. Saunby gave a description of the wonderful past to which China looks back, "China is waking up, and that by the impact of aggressive Japan," he said. "It was through the reading of a New Testament by the empress dowager and afterward the emperor that led to many great reforms in China, such as the abolition of the old system of education and the introduction of foreign education, with its now 40,000 schools. The introduction of a railway policy has resulted in the construction of 7,000 miles of railway."

Brief addresses on different phases of missionary work were delivered by E. S. Hunt and Israel Taylor, also by Revs. S. Anderson, B. Snell, H. T. Ferguson and Walter Rigsby.

The lay delegates and ministers of the different circuits, in most cases expressed a desire to raise the missionary givings of their churches by 20 per cent.

MUST REVISE SOFT COAL PRICE TO RAISE MINERS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—Coal operators of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, and Western Pennsylvania today notified manufacturers' representatives here that they were unable to meet the miners' demands for a wage increase of about 25 per cent, unless the Government revises the prices on bituminous coal. It is probable that after another conference between operators and miners Dr. H. A. Garfield, the coal administrator will be called in to consider the situation.

LIFE-LONG RESIDENT OF LONDON TELLS INTERESTING STORY

Lost Strength Is Returning Rapidly.

SUFFERED THREE YEARS

Feels It His Duty to Tell Others About the Good Tanlac Did Him.

"Tanlac has done me a wonderful amount of good," said G. S. McCoy, residing at 92 Wilson avenue, and a lifelong resident of London. He is employed as molder by the Vulcan Foundry.

"For three or four years," he continued, "my back has been hurting me. Sometimes the pain was so severe I could hardly get up straight again after stooping over or sitting down, and my kidneys bothered me constantly. My health was broken in many ways and I was so nervous and restless I could hardly sleep. I would wake up every morning about 3 o'clock and lay awake the rest of the time, and had that tired, fagged-out feeling all day. My appetite was very poor and after meals my heart would flutter and feel strange. I was badly constipated and often had blind, dizzy spells, and things looked like a dark vision to me.

"I am now on my fourth bottle of Tanlac, and without going into detail about my relief with each bottle, I'll just say I'm feeling like a different man. My back don't hurt me like it did, and my kidneys seem to be in good shape. I'm always ready for meal time now, with a fine appetite, and my strength is returning rapidly, and since my food digests, my heart has stopped fluttering. I'm not constipated like I was, and that tired, sluggish feeling has left me. I'm not the least bit nervous, and I sleep all night long. I don't have any of those blind, dizzy spells now, and Tanlac has helped me so much that I feel that I ought to tell others about it."

Tanlac is sold in London by Standard Drug, Limited, under the direction of a special representative and by an established agency in every town.

TO RELIEVE CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or head noises go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmint (double strength), and add to it ¾ pint of hot water and 4 ounces of granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.—Advt.

RED CROSS AND C. W. C. A. COLUMN

SAVE FOOD AND SEND FOOD.

We women who are talking about the conservation of food, and trying to cut down the expenses of our table, might profit by a glance at this bill of fare for a day.

Breakfast, 4:30 a.m.—Thin soup or porridge, slightly sweetened.

Dinner, 12 o'clock (noon)—Soup of coarse beans and potato peelings and Indian corn (often rancid).

Supper, 5 p.m.—Raw herring (generally high) and three potatoes, only partially eatable.

Daily—A ration of about three slices of black bread.

Once a week—Rice and prunes.

Not a very tempting array, is it? Nor very nourishing. And yet it is copied word for word from the report of a returned prisoner to the Red Cross Society. This man also stated that those who received Canadian Red Cross parcels left the prison fare untouched and gave it to the Russian prisoners, many of whom died of starvation.

We are thankful to remember that as far as lies in our power we Canadian people are striving to make the hard lot of the prisoners in Germany bearable. We are sending them regularly food-parcels through the Red Cross Society from England. As long as these are sent regularly we have every reason to believe that our boys in captivity are not suffering. But, no one needs to be told that the price of food is going up steadily. When the cost of bread and meat is so high in Canada, what must it be in England? Yet these prisoners must be fed from England. We cannot let them depend upon our very uncertain transportation.

So if our imprisoned soldiers in Germany are not left to exist, or rather starve, on the above menu, we Canadian people must supply the food. And the only way we can do it is by supplying the money to buy that food. There is a Prisoners' Club in London, Canada, in connection with the Red Cross Society. Its needs are constantly growing. A grave and heavy responsibility lies upon this branch of our work. More and more prisoners are waiting to be "adopted," and the general fund is always in need.

"Save Food" is the slogan of today, and "Send Food" might be added as a sequel. The Prisoners' Club needs every cent you can possibly spare to it.

In August acknowledgments of parcels received came from the following prisoners: Ptes. F. Harris, H. Hulme, W. E. Jasper, W. H. Glenfield, J. P. Villeneuve, S. E. Watkin and G. R. Wishart.

"I received the socks which you so kindly sent a sore-footed soldier," writes a boy from the trenches. His letter was in answer to a little note tucked into the toe of a sock and sent off by a kind knitter who had no idea she would ever hear of her socks again. It is just one more of the daily proofs that our socks go straight to the place where they are needed.

And what a bit of delightful news this is from a hospital in France! "The patients fare very well also, as a great amount of home-made jam and canned fruit is sent over through the Red Cross Association. Much of the fruit is from Hamilton and Nova Scotia. Quite a number of large tins of canned peaches, put up by the Ontario department of agriculture, have come here, and needless to say it is a pretty sick man who cannot eat some of them. Quite a number of men scarcely knew what good peaches were like before—none, of course, being grown in England."

This is encouraging to those who have been donating and preserving fruit for the soldiers.

Our own canning enterprise in the public schools goes on fairly well. It would go much swifter if the good folk of the district would send in the fruit. Don't forget the soldiers, but send a basket of fruit to Hyman Hall. The little girls will make it into delicious jam for them.

DAILY BIBLE QUESTION CLUB

SUGGESTIVE QUESTIONS ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON.
By Rev. T. S. Linscott, D.D.
(All Rights Reserved.)
August 19, 1917.

Review—"The Goodness and Severity of God." Daniel, ix., 3-19.

Golden Text—"Jehovah Is Merciful and Gracious, Slow to Anger, and Abundant in Loving Kindness." Ps., cxiii., 8.

The questions for this week may be used as an original lesson, or as a review of the thirteen preceding weekly lessons. The date and title of each lesson, where found, Golden Text, and one question from each lesson follow:

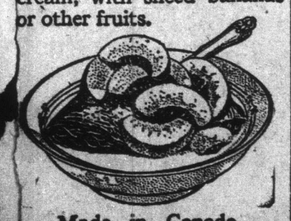

August 12—"Josiah's Good Reign." II. Chron., xxxiv., 1-13. Golden Text—"Remember also thy Creator in the days of thy youth." Eccl., xii., 1.

7. Verse 3—If Josiah, when a boy, had not sought and found the Lord, what effect would that have probably had upon his reign?

August 19—"Finding the Book of the Law." II. Chron., xxxiv., 14-33. Golden Text—"I will not forget thy word." Ps., cxix., 6.

8. Verses 18-19—What part of this book of the law, which pertains to morals, is considered operative and binding today?

Boys and Books. They will mix all right if the boys are kept mentally alert and physically active with nourishing, easily digested foods. Shredded Wheat Biscuit is the ideal food for youngsters to study on or to play on because it contains the life of the whole wheat grain in a digestible form. The kiddies like it with milk or cream, with sliced bananas or other fruits.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

A Thanksgiving Day Piece.

Dear Miss Grey,—You see, I just had to come back, and, as per usual, to bother you and the readers, too, if they will be bothered! I would like very much to get a poem entitled "Aunt Hannah's Thanksgiving Day Sermon," one verse of which goes like this:

"High on the hill above the town the church of Tilbury stood,
A half a century ago men built its walls of wood;
But time, which has respect for naught,
had worn its strength away,
And left it tottering to its fall on last Thanksgiving Day."

I also would like to obtain the following: "The Crookit Bawbee," "The Old Waist," "The Railroad Through the Farm," and "How Grandma Danced." And, Miss Gray, I wonder could you print the piece called "The Prophecy of the Witch of the Black Swamp." It appeared on our page of The Tiser of September 25, 1914. In return I will copy any or all of the following splendid patriotic recitations: "The Haggis of Pte. McPhee," "The Fool," "The Coward," "Grand Pere," "Me and Ed and a Stretcher," "The Little Jean Desprey," and "Young Fellow, My Lad." I am sending you a copy of the last-named, and, for the benefit of all the readers would like to see it in print. I am also sending some favorite recipes:

Date Cake—Take stone out of date and put almond in place; make a nice cookie or biscuit dough, cut in narrow strips, and wrap around the date, leaving both ends of date projecting; then bake.

Dressing for Fruit Salad—Mix together four tablespoons of water, three tablespoons of sugar, and two tablespoons of butter. Let come to a boil and get just the least bit stringy. Take from fire and when cooled a little, but not cold, stir in rapidly one tablespoon of lemon juice. Pour it over the fruit and mix lightly. Serve when quite cold. The dressing will be found to have spread a delicate glaze over the fruit.

Where has "Margaret Lindley" gone to? I would like to hear what she has to say on "votes for women," and the appeal of self-denial by our "so-called" great men, while they allow the production of liquor, the curse of the human race, to continue.

Now, I hope some of the readers will favor me with the pieces I asked for, and lest this find its way to the W.F.B. will close, wishing you and the Page every success. I remain, yours sincerely, PATRIOTIC.

P.S.—"Mrs. Oriole," I have not forgotten you, and you will receive the promised recitations one of these days.

Ans.—It's quite a while since we had a line from our "Patriotic" friend, so we welcome her again. Shall hunt up "The Black Witch's Prophecy," and if not too lengthy will reprint some day soon. Those recipes sound very attractive, "Patriotic." I hope we get your pieces for you.

Are Women Partisan.

Dear Miss Grey.—My friend "Silver Maple" allows me to inclose my epistle along with hers, so I suppose you have no objection to a saving of stamps in wartime? Don't you think, Miss Grey, it is to be deplored that the women (when they see a prospect of getting the vote) are forming party associations? If they cannot, or will not, be independents they would be better not having a vote at all. It certainly must be a strenuous task running the Government such times as these, with the help of the other party, but what must it be when the other side is watching like a sleuth for faults. Do you not think, Miss Grey, that the women might rise above the like, but they will just follow in the footsteps of their ancestors, as the men do. Those women who wrote lately saying that they will not agree to abstain from using meat are every one Grit women, I bet a fig, and so are for being contrary to anything the Government brings forward. Do you not think to give them their dues, this government has done a lot for temperance? Will "Parsonage Mother" please write on "Are we going back to Rome?" SMART WEED.

Ans.—I quite agree with you that Canadian women should endeavor by every means possible not to let party politics influence them in matters of opinion, especially when they really have voting privileges. On the other hand, I am not so sure that all our correspondents on the food conservation plan are Liberals. That is for them to say, but in this city I know of two ardent Liberals—rather, women whose husbands or fathers were Liberals—who are losing no chance to "boost" the pledge-signing, and have even made public speeches about it; while three Conservative women whom I know are strongly opposed to it. So there you are!

Enlisting the Neighbors.

Dear Miss Grey,—If I am not too late, will you kindly send me the address of the soldier sent in by "A Friend." I can assure her that I will not send any "silly" letters, as I have a boy friend of my own, who is a discharged soldier. I thought it would be a good idea to ask some of our neighbors to contribute some little thing to help fill a box for him, should I be lucky enough to be the first one to ask for his address. However, Miss Grey, if someone has already received his address, perhaps you have another "lonely" you could spare. STENOG.

Ans.—Good, "Stenog," nothing like interesting other folks in this "labor of love." "Friend's" soldier's address goes forward to you. I have also sent it upon request of two or three other readers, but do you think four friends will be too many? I don't—not a bit.

Various Hints.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am troubling you once more, but promise to be very brief. I am inclosing the address of a soldier chap who, I know, would very much appreciate any kindness shown him by any of the Pageites, and I can assure you he is certainly deserving of it. In a letter to a friend he said: "How lonely it made a chap feel to see all around him getting letters and parcels, but nothing doing for him." So if you will send his name to some of those kind members who are asking for addresses, I know, Miss Grey, he will bless you for it.

What sensible letters some of these Pageites write. I quite agree with "White Ribbon" on the subject of Beer vs. Bread. It is really amusing to hear the food controller asking the women to use less wheat, and then allow the liquor traffic to go on as ever.

Well, I promised to be brief, so will close with a few helpful hints:

To clean your panama straw hat take a half a cupful of gasoline and dissolve sufficient magnesia in it to make a thick paste; brush you hat all over with it. Let it dry for about an hour; then brush off with a stiff brush, and your hat looks like new.

To remove perspiration stains on white clothes and under garments, first dampen the article with a little lemon juice before it is put into soap and water.

Camphor will be found excellent to put on to take out all fruit stains.

Also sprinkle camphor wherever mice are and they will leave instantly.

If an unpeeled lemon is cut in slices and put in the boiler with the clothes to boil it will remove the stains and make the clothes beautifully white.

Will close, with best wishes for all, Miss Grey, of course, included.

(MRS.) J. T. M.

Ans.—I am sorry if an acknowledgment of your thanks did not appear in print, and now I cannot recollect if a notice was inserted or not. Can assure you that the lad whose name you inclosed will not be lonely for long. Doubtless the next mail out will carry to him letters and a parcel or two. For all your hints, accept thanks.

The Semitic Name Mary.

Dear Miss Grey,—It is with pleasure I accept the task you have imposed upon me, although its difficulties are much greater than in the former letters, largely because the language to which Mary belongs is no longer spoken, but is regarded as one of the learned tongues. The language is Semitic. The name is, in my opinion, one of the sweetest of all, possibly from its association with the mother of Jesus; but to many of us it has its personal side, in my case a dear sister long deceased. Mary was apparently a favorite name among the Hebrew people, and there are various meanings given, such as exalted, bitterness, bitterness of the sea, myrrh of the sea, lady or mistress of the sea, and their rebellion. Miriam also has the same meaning, the name being a variant. There are many names with the same meanings, but all are from the same root.

Semitic roots consist of three radical consonants, with the exception of the pronouns and a few other words, and the root of the words under examination appears to be one of the exceptions, consisting of the two radicals, M-R. The language is highly inflectional, the vowel changes being internal. The first word I have selected is the Hebrew form of myrrh—mor, the Arabic murr, meaning "bitter." (It shoud be understood that both these languages are Semitic.) From this we have Mara, "to be bitter," and Mary is regarded as the same word. Others are: Martha, "who becomes bitter"; Moriah, "bitterness of the Lord." Then we have Mamre, "rebellious"; Merib-Baal, "rebellion"; Meribah, "dispute, quarrel"; Merab, "he that fights"; Merari, "to provoke." Finally I might cite Medodach and Mordecai, "bruised myrrh," "Exalted" as a meaning apparently originated with the salutation of the angel to Mary: "Hail thou that art highly favored" (Luke i., 28).

The name certainly was not known among the peopes of Europe until after the introduction of Christianity. Naturally it became popular, and remains so until this day. The Latin form is Maria (ma-ri-a); French, Marie (ma-ree), Marion (ma-re-on); Italian and Portuguese, Maria (ma-ree-a); German, Maria and Marie (both mahree-a, but different in accent from Italian). The diminutives are May, Moll, Polly, Malkin. Marionette is a French double diminutive. Cotgrave explains it as a "little Marion, or Mall: also a puppet," a doll, or Dorothy, Scotch Doroty. The ladybird is Mary's beetle or Marienkafer in Germany. The marigold is Mary-bud or Mary-gold. As I have mentioned Semitic triliteral roots, I may, with Miss Grey, permission, give an example, with the inflectional changes, at some future time. EXTORRIS.

Ans.—All the Mail-Box "Marys"—and I believe there are a-many—will read with interest this history of its origin and meaning, so kindly prepared by "Extorris." Thanks very sincerely for this information.

For Parsonage Mother.

"Parsonage Mother"—I have a letter for you from "March Wind" and while I have a knowledge of your postmark, you never sent me your name, did you? May I have it now in order to forward "M. W.'s" epistle?

She Washes It.

Dear Miss Gray,—"Beatrice" asks if silk poplin will wash. Yes, I wash mine, and it was light blue. I was going to dye it, but it washes so good I wear it yet. It looks better than ever. Wash with good white soap. Inclosed you will find addressed envelope for name of three lonely soldiers. I have a brother and sweetheart in France, so my heart aches for the soldier that gets no letters. With these three it will make nine letters every week that goes from me to France. Two letters I write every day, the rest once a week. I will sign my pen name ROXANA

(Which means the dawn of day). May I call again?

Ans.—You are a busy girl to write so many letters, but the happy sense of the pleasure it brings their recipients must repay you amply. Addresses have been sent you Sure!

TORONTO SHUTS OUT INDIANAPOLIS IN SECOND GAME OF SERIES

THE SPORT-LIGHT

By Grantland Rice.

(Copyright). Special District Rights Secured by The Advertiser From the New York Tribune.

THE WORLD SERIES ROUND-UP, NO. 3, SHORT AND THIRD.

FLETCHER VS. WEAVER-RISBERG.

Judging by all the advance notices now at hand, the battle around shortstop will be between Art Fletcher and Buck Weaver, with young Risberg only an outside chance.

Weaver is a star. There is no chance to leave him off the line-up, and as McMullen has been playing as well at third and tapping the ball with such daily consistency, there is very little chance that he will be dropped to leave Weaver at third, with Risberg in at short.

The Sox, naturally enough, desire all the punching power they can master, and McMullen has been outbatting Risberg by a good 90 points.

Fletcher and Weaver are two very similar types. Both are brilliant infielders, with a tendency toward erratic days.

Both can hit above the shortstop average—and both are dangerous in a pinch.

What is still more to the point, both are scrappy, hustling, aggressive types—in the thick of every game, fighting for every inch and every ounce.

In 1915 and 1916 Fletcher outbatted Weaver. But through this waning season Weaver has been outbatting Fletcher, the Giant star having dropped some thirty points below his normal status at bat.

Fletcher, as a rule, is good for .285 or .295. This season he has spent most of the year under .260.

Weaver, a brilliant infielder, is an inspiration to his club. He is an eternal hustler, and his battling spirit has been a big factor in gearing up the Chicago machine.

Fletcher, as announced above, is a player of the same mold—one of the hardest workers and one of the best fighters in the game.

Yet, with all their brilliancy and effectiveness in other ways, neither Weaver nor Fletcher is a safe world series type.

Neither has the dependable steadiness of an Everett Scott or a Peckinpaugh. They can go far—they can go both ways—but, being inlaid with so much nervous energy, no one can tell just at what moment a fatal fumble or a fatal throw will upset the scheme of things.

If Fletcher and Weaver meet the advance comparison is a stand-off. If the Sox play Risberg the Giants have the call. For the Sox youngster is a good fielder, but he isn't nearly as dangerous as Fletcher is at bat.

ZIM VS. McMULLEN.

Heinie Zim sent out against Buck Weaver at third would have brought on a spicy situation.

Against McMullen, Zim will have more than gentle competition, but the odds should be his way.

It has been charged that Zimmerman, being a temperamental cuss, will be unsteady and rickety in a big series.

Gleason and Weaver may "ride" Heinie into a budding frenzy, but in a big series "riding" isn't as prevalent as it is through the year. Heinie's lone world series start was in 1910, when he took Johnny Evers' place at second for the Cubs. In that series Heinie must have restrained his temperament, for he gave vent to only one error in something like twenty chances. Heinie only batted around .235, but, as that was seven years ago, it has very little to do with the present argument.

Heinie has had seven years since then to establish a sedate and poised manner under fire.

Zimmerman has just completed the best year he has ever known. He had a better year at bat in 1912, when he turned in 372. But his play around third through the campaign now drifting to a finale has been superb, as brilliant an exhibition of third-baseing as Jimmy Collins and Bill Bradley used to give.

Heinie has been getting them to his left and to his right, coming in spectacularly on slow bunts and playing all in all a jam-up game. He has also been hitting well enough to hang within short sprinting distance of .300.

McMullen, who stepped in when Buck Weaver suffered a finger wound late in the race, has been playing first-class ball. But his batting has been a shade lower than .250 and far below Zim's slugging range.

On cold, unbiased form, McMullen could hardly be ranged in Zim's class. In a short series anything might happen, but we are ranging the rivals here man by man, and if McMullen works at third the Giants have a decisive edge.

This infield margin to the left sticks in New York's favor. If Risberg plays short Fletcher will have the call.

If Weaver plays short and McMullen works at third, Zim has the advantage. Neither Fletcher nor Zim will have any advantage over Weaver. But the advantage will be over Risberg or McMullen, as the case may be. Just as the White Sox have a shade the better of the right infield wing, so the Giants have the margin toward the left.

So far as the complete infield is concerned, you can enter it a stand-off and not be far wrong, with New York's infield just a trifle better balanced all the way around when both attack and defence are considered.

CYCLISTS IN THIRD PLACE IN LEAGUE

Defeat A. S. C. in Military Football League Game.

The Cyclists forced the Army Service Corps into fourth place in the Military Football League game at Carling Heights on Wednesday evening, and squeezed themselves into third position when they defeated the A. S. C. one goal to nil. The game was slightly wild and the Cyclists showed up well at all times. They have a real team, and when they hook up with the infantry there should be a fine game. First one side and then the other made efforts to score, but most of the shots would have done credit to a rugby game. Hird was unlucky to get in the way of the ball, knocking it down with his hand. The resulting penalty was intrusted to Sergt. Dawson, who made no mistake. Fritz just managed to touch the ball, but was powerless to prevent it going through. Williams, the Army Service Corps' captain, again played a fine game, combining well with Holden at centre. The Cyclists are a well-balanced team, with a nippy forward line, and a sound defence.

The line-up:

Cyclists.		Army Service Corps.
Timson	Goal	Fritz
Dawson	R. back	Hird
Davis	L. back	Billingsley
Trisis	R. half	Jenkins
Donovan	C. half	Williams
Lappin	L. half	Lofvengren

Gibson Now Aide to John McGraw

George ("Mooney") Gibson is now the right-hand man of the manager of the New York Giants. When Wilbert Robinson quit the New York club to become manager of the Brooklyn team, McGraw lost his first lieutenant. Robinson's place has been filled by "Mooney" Gibson. Gibson spent most of his time in the big leagues with the Pittsburg Pirates, and while with that team made a record of catching 150 consecutive games, a record which has never been equaled. His work now consists largely in acting in an advisory capacity to McGraw, and to take charge of the pitching staff. Gibson spends his winters in this city and is a regular fiend for curling.

EEL DIRECT TO RACE AT SAGINAW

SAGINAW, Sept. 26.—Patch Minor, the only Canadian horse to start in today's Michigan Shortship races, opened in impressive style by winning the first heat of the 2:22 pace, but then found the Michigan colt, Sir Arthur, more than a match for him. Sir Arthur squared away in the second heat and won in handy fashion, but each time the Canadian and green local pacer, Progress Regulator, gave the winner a stern chase. The other harness event of the day, the 2:16 trot, was an exact repetition of the pacing race. Pearl Thorn, after finishing fourth to Congo in the first heat, went out and won easily, but Congo and Jolly made her step. A running race completed the program. A carload of horses arrived from Columbus, Ohio, today, bringing the Canadian fliers, Eel Direct and Prince Rupert, for Friday's 2:09 pace. This is their third meeting in as many race meetings at Saginaw this summer.

DAVIS A. ROBERTSON.

A college football game, a broken collarbone, and John McGraw decided the outfield fate of Dave Robertson. Dave was a-pitching when McGraw first saw him in 1912, while still a college student. Mac needed a good left-hander, he liked the work of the young southerner and signed him to report the following spring.

In the meantime Robertson, who was a football star, played the pigskin game that fall and received the injury that ended his pitching career. It was then that the Giant boss decided to make an outfielder of Dave. Six feet tall, weighing about 170 pounds, and clean-limbed, the latter was one of the fastest birds that McGraw had ever seen and, moreover, was a natural slugger. So Davis went to the outfield, began pumping out long drives and beating out bunts with his terrific speed and after a year with Mobile he became a Giant regular and a National League star.

Robertson is one of the fastest men in sheer sprinting speed in the game today. He has a keen batting eye, a free, slashing swing at the bat and is a long, clean-up batter. With Bennie Kauff's fire and dash, and his own natural physical advantages, Dave would be a close rival of Cobb.

The chief trouble with Robby, the thing that has kept him from leading his league in both fielding and batting, is his easy-going temperament. He lacks some of the cockyness of Kauff and the intense nervous tension of Cobb.

Dave is a flashy, sensational fielder. He covers as much outfield ground as anyone, has a good arm, and in defensive play is almost as good as they come. In 1913 he hit .335 with Mobile, and stole 57 bases. His first year as a Giant he hit .260, poled the onion for .294 in 1915, and last year hit .307. With all his speed Dave ought to steal more bases than he does. Last year he stole 21, the year before 22, when other players were getting bigger total on less actual speed, but perhaps, better judgment.

The present season has been a poor one for a player of Robby's ability. He has been down around .260, when normally he is a .300 swatter, and, potentially, the best batter on the club.

Portsmouth, Va., is the birthplace of this southerner, and he is 25 years old.

JOSEPH JACKSON.

Ten years ago a 20-year-old lad was working 13 hours a day in a cotton mill for $1.25. Today he is about to step into the famous world series, and make from $2,000 to $4,000 for playing a few games of baseball.

Sounds like melodramatic fiction, doesn't it?

Yet it happens to be actual fact. For the lad was Joe Jackson, now the famous right fielder of the White Sox, one of the oddest characters in the game's history.

The story of Jackson reads like a dime novel, and could properly be entitled "From Poverty to Riches." Joe is one of a family of eight children, and was born near Brandon Mills, a poor section of South Carolina, July 16, 1887. His early training consisted of hard work in the cotton mills, instead of schooling, and he was called "Shoeless Joe" as a youngster.

At 13 years of age he was a mill hand. At 21 he played ball for $75 a month, and considered himself lucky. His rise to diamond fame is one of the most sensational in baseball history.

Jackson has led every league in batting he ever played in. In 1908 he led the Carolina Association with .346, in 1909 the South Atlantic League with .358, in 1910 the American League in 20 games with the astounding mark of .387, and the Southern League the same year with .354. His first regular season in the majors he busted the pill for .408, and followed it the next year with .395.

Walter Johnson calls Jackson the greatest natural batter he ever saw, and baseball sharps agree that he is the most natural player in the game today.

Joe, who greatly resembles Cobb in build is 6 feet tall, weighs 175 pounds, and is built like a greyhound, lean, sinewy and fast. There isn't a physical weakness in his make-up, and with Cobb's mental quickness, Joe would be the greatest player of the age.

"Shoeless Joe" started as a catcher, and today bears a scar on his forehead received while backstopping. He also tried pitching and quit after breaking the arm of a mill hand in his first effort.

Connie Mack signed him in 1908 on a tip from a man named Stoush, but before getting to Philadelphia Jackson became homesick, left the train and beat it back south. Later, he played for Mack until sold to Cleveland.

This year, for the first time in his life, Jackson has hit under .300 most of the year. But his collective major league batting mark outclasses that of every other member of either series cub.

Potentially the best batters of their clubs, both Jackson and Robertson have played below form this season. At their best Jackson outclasses Robertson, good as the latter is. And even this year has outhit him consistently by 30 points. Jackson has the edge by a good margin.

Gould, in Great Form, Shuts Out Hoosiers

Toronto Defeats Indianapolis 4 to 0—Gould Gives Only One Hit in Second Game of Series With American Association Champions.

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Toronto	1	1	.500
Indianapolis	1	1	.500

TORONTO, Sept. 26.—The International League champions made it fifty-fifty today in their inter-league series with the Indianapolis American Association champions when Gould, the diminutive right-hander, secured from Cleveland, held the invaders down to one hit, a two-bagger by Kirke, which came in the eighth frame. None was on at the time, and by tightening up, Gould kept the Indians from scoring during the remainder of the game.

The brilliant mound work of Gould tells the entire story of the Leaf victory. At no time was he in danger, and only one man drew a pass. Dawson, who opposed him, on the other hand, was hit for a dozen safeties, and his miserable fielding combined to defeat his team. The Leafs grabbed off two tallies in the fourth stanza by virtue of successive bingles by Lajoie, Steve Yerkes' juggling of Schultz's grounder, and when Dawson fumbled a bunt off Blackburne's bat all hands were safe with none out. McDonald then singled to centre, bringing in Manager Lajoie and Schultz.

Dawson took another ascension in the eighth inning when Lalonge singled, Gould's grounder was mishandled by Derrick, and Truesdale's single scored Lalonge, Gould romping to third, whence he scored on Jacobson's single through short.

A coincidence was that the two players participating in the series from other clubs, Murray, playing short for Toronto, loaned Buffalo, brought in the first two runs, while Kirke, borrowed from Louisville, to play first for the Indians, robbed Gould of a no-hit game by doubling in the eighth. Kantlehner, the former Pittsburg hurler, will oppose Toronto in the third game of the series tomorrow, while Manager Lajoie announced that he would probably work Hearne, his big southpaw.

The attendance was 3,000.

Speaker Says Shine Ball Will Spoil Baseball

If the White Sox win the pennant it will be because Ban Johnson will not rule out the delivery of Eddie Cicotte and Dave Danforth.

That is the settled conviction of Manager Lee Fohl and Tris Speaker of the Indians, expressed in a fanning bee recently in the Cleveland club's office.

No team in the league has protested against Danforth and Cicotte more than the Indians have this year, and Speaker in a burst of fervid oratory insisted that the continuance of shine balls and sail balls would break up the game. He drew a pathetic picture of poor, hard-working major leaguers being sent back to the forge and the woodpile because their earnings were menaced by this delivery.

Will Go to Dogs.

"The game will go to the dogs," quoth Tris, "unless a stop is put to the doctoring of the ball by Cicotte and Danforth. Don't tell me that Cicotte, close to the 40s, can handle a regular ball in a regular way and ring up the victories he has this year. And there is Danforth. I faced him in Chicago and didn't get a respectable foul off of him."

"Yes, and you met him here and got four hits in a row," someone suggested.

"Well, that was something else again, but the delivery is irregular and must be stopped or the game will be ruined," continued Spoke.

"A lot of ball players will be looking for their bread and butter in some other line if the delivery isn't ruled out. If the Sox win that is what will give them the pennant."

In the meantime Lee Fohl was digging into the secretary's desk for exhibit A in the form of a ball, which had hopscotched into the Indians' dugout while Danforth was twirling.

"Look at this," pointed Lee with triumph, as he exhibited a pill the seams on one side of which were incrusted with some waxy substance which the manager claimed had raised the threads about one-thirty-second part of an inch higher than the normal surface.

Some with their own eyes, others with the aid of specs, took a squint at the pill, and one observer allowed that perhaps the raise of the seam might be an optical illusion.

Discolors Them All.

"Sure," said Fohl, "but the ball has dried out by this time and that is the reason Ban Johnson never has discovered the ridge. When it is wet first the threads rise instantly and the ball goes on its uncanny way to the plate. The discoloration naturally aids it. Didn't Nallin throw out new balls to Danforth yesterday? Did the pitcher have them an instant before they were spotted? He did not. They looked like Joseph's coat when they reappeared."

Taken with other protests along the circuit it is a cinch that the Sox will have to beat seven teams all laying for their scalps. For some reason every club is putting forth frantic efforts to beat Rowland's crew. If they can harass the team by protesting every pitched ball it will be done. It looks like a grand finish.

COBB AND SPEAKER IN BENEFIT GAME

Boston, Sept. 27.—Ty Cobb, Tris Speaker and other baseball stars came to this city today to participate in a game between an all-star team and the Boston Americans in honor of the memory of Timothy Murnane. Murnane, in his younger days a player, for many years was sporting editor of the Boston Globe and one of the leading baseball writers in the country. The gate receipts are to be used in any way that his family may elect.

MEDICALS STAR AT MILITARY FIELD DAY

Weekly Contest Proves Popular With Men Training Here—Fine Events Staged.

With ideal weather conditions the third military field day held since the new order was issued, making the sports part of each unit's syllabus, yesterday proved as great a success as its two predecessors. Once more it was a runaway for the boys of the Army Medical Corps.

Five of the seven events were won by that unit. Infantrymen trimmed them in a closely contested football match by a score of 3 to 0. Gillies took first place in the 100-yard dash, with Reske a close second. The relay race was won by a team entered by Sergt. Howard Reske, carrying off the initial honors easily.

In a baseball game the A. M. C. bunch captured 17 of the 22 2runs which were chalked up during the nine innings.

LONDON BOWLERS AT LAMBETH.

Two Elmwood rinks and three St. Matthew's rinks visited Lambeth Wednesday evening and played friendly games with the Lambeth bowlers. The five London rinks played an equal number of Lambeth rinks, and enjoyed some fine sport. Following the games luncheon was served at Mr. Hamlin's. President McLeodfi fof the St. Matthew's Club, made a brief speech, congratulating the Lambeth men on their play.

COMISKEY DOING BEST TO ELIMINATE ALL TICKET SPECULATORS

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 27.—President Comiskey of the Chicago Americans today started aggressive action against speculators who have announced that they will have for sale tickets to the world's series baseball games to be played here. The first step in the attempt to eliminate speculation was taken when he conferred with States Attorney Hoyne and Mayor Thompson as to what legal action may be taken against the brokers.

There has been some dissatisfaction expressed at the ruling which compels the purchase of seats in sets of three, it being said that an injustice was done to those who might be able to see only one game. President Comiskey announced today all tickets sold will be redeemed at the South Side Park at the price paid for them. He expressed the belief that all "square fans will turn back their surplus supply and thus give another patron an opportunity to see a game without paying toll to the scalpers."

Announcement was also made today that plans have almost been completed for enlarging Comiskey Park, giving it a permanent seating capacity of 45,000. It is expected this work will be completed when the season opens next spring.

Mme. Soukhomlinoff was acquitted.

ROBINSON TROPHY GOES TO INGERSOLL

The Robinson Challenge Cup didn't decorate the walls of the Thistle Club very long. It was only the other night that the Thistles took it from the Elmwoods, and on Wednesday evening "Harty" Summer brought his Ingersoll rink to town and took the silverware home with him after a hot game with the defenders. To be exact, the Robinson Cup rested 24 hours at the Thistle Club, Bert Heaman's rink having defeated the Elmwoods on Tuesday night for it.

Yesterday's game was a tight one all the way through. C. K. Bluett's rink did good work, leading in the scoring through most of the play. Seven dead ends were played. The final end was a close one, and an unlucky shot by Bluett made the score 14-13.

The score and rinks:

REORGANIZATION IS NOT EXPECTED TILL ELECTION IS OVER

Borden Administration May Go Into Fight With the Present Line-Up.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Sept. 26.—Premier Borden will be back from his fishing trip early next week. The dissolution of Parliament will be one of the first things that will engage his attention. Parliament would be dissolved by statute on October 7, but the Government does not propose to let the law take its course in this case, and will have the Governor-General take action and dissolve the House.

The date of election has not been fixed or even calculated. The preparations for taking the votes at home or abroad have not advanced sufficiently to enable the Government to calculate the date of polling. Still it is not believed that the prediction of Sir George Foster will be realized, and the election held as late as February.

January seems the favorite date for the event.

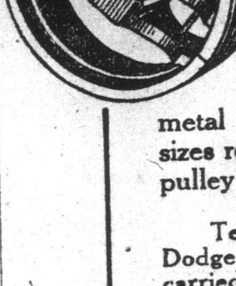

Hon. Arthur Meighen has returned to Ottawa, and Sir George Foster will be back on Friday.

Government reorganization now is not expected till after this election. According to general belief the Administration will go into the fight with its present line-up. Inside organization for the election is now being pushed.

PERMANENT PEACE IS NOT OF GERMAN OR VATICAN PRODUCTION

MONTREAL, Sept. 26. — Former President William Howard Taft, who this morning led the "Beat Germany" section of the delegates attending the Unitarian general conference to victory over the pacifist element, tonight delivered an analysis of Pope Benedict's peace offer and pointed out that anyone who proposes peace now either wishes German military autocracy to control the destinies of the world, or else is ignorant of the stake for which the Allies are fighting.

ECZEMA CURED FIVE YEARS AGO

A Treatment Which Has Proven a Wonderful Healer of the Skin—Certified Evidence of Lasting Cure.

Jordan, Ont., Sept. 27.—The old notion that eczema is a disease of the blood is refuted time and time again by the cures that are daily being effected by Dr. Chase's Ointment.

It matters not what the cause may have been if you apply Dr. Chase's Ointment regularly you will obtain relief and cure of eczema. Here is the proof.

Mrs. Stephen G. Thwaites, Box 205, Jordan, Ont., writes: "My brother had a bad case of eczema on his legs. He was troubled nearly all one fall and winter with it, and could not work for days at a time. He tried different salves and ointments, but none cured him. One day he tried Dr. Chase's Ointment, and it gave almost instant relief. He continued its use, but had not quite finished the second box when he was cured. It is now about five years since then, and it has never returned. We certainly can recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment, and are very graceful for my brother's cure."

(Rev. S. F. Coffman, Vineland, Ont., states: "This is to certify that I know Mrs. Thwaites and the party to whom she refers, and her statements are correct.")

Mr. J. E. Jones, 228 University avenue, Kingston, Ont., writes: "I had eczema in my hand for about five years. I tried a great many remedies, but found that while some of them checked it, none cured it permanently. Finally I tried Dr. Chase's Ointment, and in six weeks my hand was completely better. I would not do without a box of Dr. Chase's Ointment in the house if it cost $2 a box. I am giving my name to this firm, so that it will get to those who suffer as I did."

Dr. Chase's Ointment, 60 cents a box, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. Substitutes will only disappoint you. Insist on getting what you ask for.—Advt

To Relieve Catarrhal Deafness and Head Noises

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or head noises go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmint (double strength), and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and 4 ounces of granulated sugar. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Any one who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.—Advt. Sept 13, 27

FINEST EXHIBITS AT LAMBETH FAIR IN SHOW'S HISTORY

Fast Races Enjoyed by Crowd of Over 2,500.

Record-breaking crowds, an unsurpassed number of entries, and perfect weather, made the Westminster Agricutural Fall Show held at Lambeth yesterday the best exhibition of its kind ever staged in Westminster outside of St. Thomas.

Practically every farmer in the vicinity turned out, and a large number of Londoners were present. Fast races and a variety of athletic events featured the program. The entries of horses and cattle were particularly fine. Poultry of all grades and breeds, cattle, sheep, hogs, children's displays and agricultural productions were on exhibition in an unprecedented abundance.

Fruit Display.

A special attraction was the fruit display. Apples featured, all grades of unusual size being shown, and afterwards sold. The vegetables and roots were much commented upon for their unusual size.

The competition for the $75 and $50 prize for the fastest horses was large, several additional heats being required to be run off before the judges could announce the winners.

Every child in the township was allowed into the grounds free of charge, a special effort being made to make the show most enjoyable for the youngsters.

Coupons were distributed among the children and a prize of $10 awarded to the holder of the lucky number. Gordon Hunt, of the 5th concession, won the money.

The park became so full of automobiles that shortly after the races began a special parking ground had to be reserved for the cars.

ONTARIO GOVT. FISH REACH TORONTO SHOPS

Operations Will Be Extended to Lakes Nipissing and Simcoe.

TORONTO, Sept. 26.—The first Government shipment of one ton of freshwater fish arrived in Toronto this afternoon, and it may be the only shipment until next week. The telegraph lines being down in the north country have hampered operations considerably, but it is expected that a daily shipment of fish will begin to Toronto on Monday next.

Hon. Findlay Macdiarmid today pointed out that while the first shipment would be undoubtedly small, it was a start.

"Everything must have a beginning," said the minister, "and we are conscientiously endeavoring to give the people fresh-water fish at a fair price.

"The only lake being fished at present is Lake Nipigon, and we will confine our efforts to supplying Toronto for the time being. We believe all arrangements will have been completed by the end of the week."

The minister also stated that he expected to close a contract for the fishing of Lake Nipissing in a day or so. Later on in the autumn operations would be extended to Lake Simcoe.

"The fish will comprise trout, whitefish, pickerel and sturgeon, and will be delivered to retail merchants at 10 cents a pound, and the retailer will sell to the consumers at 12½ cents per pound. In this way the wholesales will be eliminated from the whole transaction."

ASQUITH BRANDS GERMAN REPLY AS "UNCTUOUS"

Gives No Sign of Opening Road to Lasting Peace.

LONDON, Sept. 26.—Any peace worth having cannot be found in a cessation of active hostilities followed by a process of territorial bargaining to be embodied in protocols and pacts, and still less in any arrangements imposed either by victors or vanquished, which sets at defiance the historic traditions, aspirations and liberties of the peoples affected.

Former Premier Herbert H. Asquith, who has recently returned from a visit to the western front, made this declaration in addressing a mass meeting at Leeds tonight under the auspices of the war aims committee. He described the German reply to the papal note as teeming with "nebulous and unctuous generalities," but giving no indication that Germany will take any practical steps to open the road to a real and lasting peace.

$40,000,000 FOR FRANCE FROM UNCLE SAM'S PILE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—A further credit of $40,000,000 was extended today by the Government to France. This brings the total advanced the Allies up to $2,466,400,000.

E. M. NICHOLS RETURNING TO WINNIPEG TELEGRAM

WINNIPEG, Sept. 26.—M. E. Nichols, in recent years manager of the Montreal Mail, will shortly return to Winnipeg as manager of the Morning Telegram. Mr. Nichols managed and edited the Winnipeg Telegram several years previous to going east.

"And He looked up and saw the rich men casting their gifts into the treasury.

And He saw also a certain poor widow casting in thither two mites.

And He said, Of a truth I say unto you, that this poor widow hath cast in more than they all.

For all these have of their abundance cast into the offerings of God: But she of her penury hath cast in all the living that she had."

St. Luke Chap. 21, 1 to 4.

—a certain poor widow casting in thither two mites.

For all that there were but two mites, the sacrifice counted high with the Recording Angel.

For all that we ask of you is but little, the Multiplication of That Little will count high in the record of Canada's War Service.

And because of the Spirit and Sacrifice of those valiant men who are defending us, we feel that a great and noble Legion of Canadian Women will respond to this appeal.

Food is scarce---not because we have not had good crops, but because of the Lack of Production in Europe. Canada must make up for this, else hunger defeat her own and the Allies' Armies.

Enough food is wasted in Canada every day, to feed the entire Canadian Overseas Army for that day.

We do not ask you to deny your family food. Merely substitute certain other foods in place of a proportion of the white bread, beef and bacon they now eat.

For example: When baking use one-third corn, oatmeal, barley or rye flour with your white flour. Or tell your baker to bring you some brown bread each day.

Substitute for beef and bacon such foods as fish, peas, lentils, potatoes, nuts, bananas.

And---this is most important---Prevent waste of food in your home.

We ask it in the name of those who are fighting for us.

The Food Service Pledge is your Dedication to War Service. The Window Card your Emblem of Honour.

Women's Auxiliary, Organization of Resources Committee, in Co-operation with The Hon. W. J. Hanna, Food Controller.

Practical Housekeeping Hints

GENERAL DIRECTIONS FOR CANNING FRUITS WITH SUGAR.

Pack fruit compactly in jars. It will pack better if put in a strainer or piece of cheese-cloth and lowered into boiling water for about one minute. This is called "blanching". Blanch fruit in small lots, that the water may not be cooled much. Press fruit gently down in jars with spoon or small wooden spatula. Fill jars with syrup. Release any air-bubbles by slipping knife or spatula down between fruit and jar. Put on rings and cover without fastening them down. Place jars on rack in boiler. Pour warm water in boiler, enough to come about half-way up the jars. Put cover on boiler. Bring water to a boil and boil gently as long as required. Remove boiler from the stove, fasten down covers, take jars out and let them cool. If, when jars are taken from the boiler, there is more than half an inch of space between fruit and cover, the contents of one jar may be used to fill the rest before the covers are fastened down. Put jars again in boiler and boil 5 minutes more.

These directions apply to fruit bought in towns and cities. Less time is required for fruit freshly picked. Ten minutes for quart jars, five minutes for pint jar of freshly picked berries is sufficient. The shorter the time in cooking, the better the berries retain their flavor, shape and color.

BERNSTORFF IS FURTHER SHOWN TO HAVE FIBBED

Lansing Proves He Knew of Sub Ruthlessness Before January 19.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—Further evidence that Count von Bernstorff, former German ambassador to Washington, knew of his Government's intention to inaugurate a campaign of unrestricted submarine warfare prior to his request for money with which to influence Congress, is in possession of the state department. Secretary Lansing said today that as early as January 19, Count von Bernstorff knew of the plan.

"In view of inquiries which have been made as to whether Count von Bernstorff knew of the purpose of the Government to renew relentless submarine warfare when he sent his message of January 22, 1917, asking authorization to expend $50,000, I can state that the department of state possesses conclusive evidence that on or before January 19 Count Bernstorff had received and read the Zimmermann telegram to Minister von Eckhardt in Mexico, which contained the following:

"'We intend to begin on the 1st of February unrestricted submarine warfare. We shall endeavor in spite of this to keep the United States of America neutral.'

"Count von Bernstorff was, therefore, fully advised of the intentions of the imperial government at the time when he asked for authority of Berlin to employ funds for an organization to influence Congressional action in favor of the continued neutrality of this country."

FORMER LONDONER IS NOW MANAGER

ST. THOMAS, Sept. 26.—Mansel B. Green, manager of the Grinnell Bros. music store at St. Thomas, has been promoted to the head office at Detroit. Mr. Green will be succeeded by Frederick M. Williams of Detroit, and formerly of London, Ont. Mr. Williams assumed the duties here on Wednesday.

DOMINION-WIDE DRY LAW IS INDORSED BY HIGH ANGLICANS

OTTAWA, Sept. 26.—Dominion-wide prohibition was strongly indorsed by the council for social service of the Church of England in Canada at the annual meeting held in Lauder Hall this morning.

A large attendance of the members of the council from all provinces in the Dominion were present, including the primate, the Archbishop of Ontario, the Archbishop of Nova Scotia, Bishop of Toronto, Bishop of Huron, Bishop of Niagara, Bishop of Quebec, Bishop of Ontario, Bishop of Athabasca, Bishop of Keewatin, Bishop of Edmonton, Bishop of Calgary, Bishop of Moosonee, Bishop of Saskatchewan, Bishop of Columbia, Bishop of Montreal and Bishop of Ottawa.

The other members of the committee include two clergymen and two laymen from each diocese in Ontario.

The discussion in connection with prohibition occupied the greater part of the morning session.

SOLDIERS INVITED TO AILSA CRAIG FOR FAIR TODAY

AILSA CRAIG, Sept. 26.—Today was the opening day of the 52nd fall fair here, and everything points to a big day Thursday. The directors are busy making full arrangements for the day's entertainment. The special attractions will be the races, especially in the free-for-all and the race for horses that have not won money before May, 1917.

A number of returned soldiers from London have been invited to attend, and will put on a concert in the town hall in the evening. Tag day will be held for the Red Cross, and if weather keeps favorable will no doubt be one of the best fairs ever held here.

The funeral of W. A. Harris, who died suddenly on Monday, was held from his residence on Queen street this afternoon, and was largely attended. Besides his widow he leaves three sons, Ernest, Percy and Norman, and a number of friends and relatives.

Walter Meadows, grocer, has purchased R. H. Coulson's residence, near Main street, and will move from the house he now occupies in a few days. Mr. Coulson was manager of the Standard Bank for the past year, but has been transferred to Whitby. Mr. Kent of Victoria Harbor is the new manager here.

CHEST SPECIALISTS NEEDED IN TESTING MEN FOR OVERSEAS

White Plague Fighters Discuss Disease Among Soldiers.

MORE CLINICS REQUIRED

Urge the Pasteurization of Milk Used For Butter and Cheese.

Ottawa, Sept. 26.—The closing session of the seventeenth annual meeting of the Canadian Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis was held this evening in the Normal School. The feature of the evening was an address by Dr. W. A. Evans of Chicago, president of the United States Public Health Association, suggesting how the white plague could best be fought and finally eliminated.

In introducing Dr. Evans, the Hon. J. W. Daniel, M.D., of St. John, N.B., delivered an address demonstrating the valuable work of the association, which, aided by the co-operation of other kindred societies, was able to reduce the death rate resulting from tuberculosis in Ontario from 149 per 100,000 to 91 per 100,000.

Officers Elected.

Following the addresses the following officers were elected: President, Dr. J. A. McHadoo; vice-presidents, Sir John Gibson, Hamilton; Senator McLellan, Nova Scotia; Hon. R. L. Thornton, Manitoba minister of education, Winnipeg. Executive committee: D. A. Stewart, Winnipeg; G. Townshend, New Brunswick; J. G. Fitzgerald, Toronto. Honorary treasurer (re-elected), Sir George Burn, Ottawa. General secretary (re-elected), Dr. G. D. Porter, Ottawa. The other officers are unchanged from last year.

The following resolutions were adopted:

1. Urging the establishment of tuberculosis clinics in Canadian cities where none at present exist.
2. That the anti-tuberculosis movement be extended to the training and for the protection of the youth of Canada.
3. That the department of militia and defence be urged to have all new recruits carefully examined by chest specialists, etc., before acceptance to the army.
4. Urging the pasteurization of all milk and cream used in the manufacture of butter and cheese and that this measure be made compulsory.

The conference was adjourned after some minor reports had been accepted. The next meeting place will be Hamilton.

Plague Amongst Soldiers.

At the night session President J. W. Daniel, M.D., read his address, which, in part, was as follows:

"Even before being sent overseas it has been found that 1,271 Canadian soldiers were invalided from tuberculosis, the hardships of training being sufficient to bring to activity the latent disease evidently present on enlistment. While on the other side of the Atlantic the more severe work of the trenches and the exposure necessarily accompanying campaigns carried on during the severe weather of winter and other inclement seasons of the year has caused 2,000 more cases. The point for us to consider is what is the best to be done under the circumstances."

Too Much Liberty.

Following Dr. Daniel's address, Dr. Evans, after stating that he had not only come as a speaker but to study the methods pursued in Canada in order that the United States might render service, launched into his subject.

In speaking of the treatment of returned soldiers suffering from tuberculosis, Dr. Evans said that in their case too much latitude was allowed, owing to the fact that the people at home were so grateful to those heroes as not to wish to deprive them of their liberties, and, secondly, that there was not sufficient public sentiment. Dr. Evans stated that many of the patients were permitted to leave the sanitoria considered cured and then would carry pestilence wherever they went.

Continuing, the physician spoke of the polluted milk, water and other causes of disease, and said that the civic health authorities, in endeavoring to stamp out the disease, really wanted the people to "change their customs and methods of living."

THREE AIR RAIDERS PUT OUT OF ACTION

BERLIN, Sept. 26.—One of the German airplanes which took part in last night's raid over England has not returned, it is announced officially. The raiders, the statement says, attacked London and the English coastal towns, "on both sides of the channel."

LONDON, Sept. 26.—Two large German seaplanes have been brought into Flushing, Holland, by Dutch torpedo-boats, and it is reported that they participated in the air raid on England, says a dispatch to the Evening News from Rotterdam. One of the four German airmen was seriously injured. The three others have been interned.

Seven persons were killed and 28 injured in all the districts affected by the two German air raids last night, it is announced officially.

A Sure Cure for Rheumatism.

Who is it knocks and does not boost it?

Sure, it is the man who has not used it, for William Lovelock, the well-known painter in St. Thomas, 14 Station street, for over twelve years, says: "I was all in with inflammatory rheumatism. I went to bed in September, 1911, and the first work I was able to do was on the 17th of March, 1913.

"I was swollen from head to foot; in fact, my limbs were twice the ordinary size, and I was in intense pain for three weeks. I was unable to feed myself, and was suffering more each day. My physicians told me plainly to prepare for the worst, as about ten days was my limit. A friend of mine, who was trying to cheer me up a bit, after the physician had left, remarked: 'Why not try Parker's Oil?' I sent to Small's drug store and purchased a bottle, and, after the first application, received relief, and in three days the pain was gone and swelling reduced greatly. I used seven bottles, and here I am today, willing to testify and give praise to Parker's Black Oil, the sure cure for rheumatism, as I found it.

WILLIAM LOVELOCK.

July 27, 1917.

If your dealer does not keep Parker's Oil, send us his name, together with 25c, 50c or $1 for a bottle, according to the size you want, and we'll ship it to you. Wm. Parker & Sons, 10 Mandamin street, St. Thomas. 71-tf

Provision Prices Soar

CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—Sweeping advances took place today in the provision market, smashing previous top records. The biggest upturns were in pork and ribs (bacon).

January delivery of pork showed at one time an overnight jump of $1.67 a barrel. January ribs kited up $1.

Government buying of such volume that stocks are being sharply reduced, was said to have been a factor in causing the soaring of values. Besides, scarcity of hogs of late has been daily apparent at the stock yards here.

GERMANS THROW

gain of from 1,000 to 1,300 yards over a large part of the sector involved.

Hold All Ridge.

They had secured the whole of the Tower Hamlets Ridge, which the Germans had fought so bitterly to retain; they were clear of the famous Polygon Wood, whose eastern slopes had been filled with concrete redoubts and sniping shelters; they had battled half way through Zonnebeke village of immortal memory, and north of the Ypres-Roulers railway they were holding many German strongholds in the valley of the Hanebeeke River. Hard fighting still continued, especially south of the Polygon Wood, where the Germans were trying determinedly to regain the ground lost, and further counter-attacks were not unexpected.

Sanguinary Fighting.

The advance on the extreme right was not deep, but was in accord with the plan to drive the Germans from Tower Hamlets Ridge. The battle for this position really began yesterday, when the Germans in an endeavor to push back the British flank launched a series of fierce counter-attacks on both sides of the Ypres-Menin highway. The fighting here yesterday was continuous and sanguinary, for the Germans kept throwing infantry in waves against the British position. The defenders were forced to give way slightly, but with undaunted courage they hurled themselves on the enemy with such fierceness that they were able to re-establish themselves before the hour for the new advance arrived.

A lot of British troops in this sector began the new push this morning under the fatigue of many hours battling against a determined foe but they did their work today and did it well. The fighting about Tower Hamlets was very severe, and the Germans were able to get heavy machine gun fire on the British from positions to the south.

Along the Menin road the British made the slight advance called for under a withering machine gun and artillery fire. North of the Ypres-Menin road the line of advance swung out much further into enemy territory in order to include the Polygon Wood and other important positions.

Anzacs Fight Poles.

The Australians, who negotiated most of the territory between the Ypres-Roulers railway and the Ypres-Menin road, appeared to have had comparatively little trouble in getting through with the exceptions of a narrow stretch just south of the Polygon Wood, where the Germans held on tenaciously for a time. They had to fight their way through a more or less intricate trench system to Polygon Wood and encountered a great number of blockhouses, which turned a vicious machine gun and rifle fire against them. Among the troops opposing them were Poles. The men made a good start in getting over the top and swept through the eastern portion of Polygon Wood. The Germans in redoubts on the eastern slopes of this wood surrendered, and within a comparatively short time the Australians were surging across the race-course on the level below.

A Fast Pace.

North of Polygon Wood, the Australians covered the ground assigned to them in two hours and twenty minutes, the average depth of their advance being 1,200 yards. The entire Australian operation was accomplished with exceedingly small casualties. It was a proud day for those British troops who forced their way into the western end of Zonnebeke Village. Not since the bitter period of April, 1915, when the British were compelled to withdraw from this place had an allied soldier entered it. The wound of this defeat was healed largely today. In the sector north of Zonnebeke, the offensive proceeded systematically until the final line was reached.

Blockhouses Easy Prey.

The Germans were active throughout last night and put down a heavy barrage fire before this morning's attack, but it did little damage. Much machine gun fire and sniping was encountered at many places, but for the most part the Germans didn't make a determined stand. The blockhouses gave but little trouble. The British artillery preparation here has been exceedingly good, and the ground was strewn with enemy dead. Serious but brief fighting occurred at a few of the fortified farms and near the railway the Germans delivered an immediate counter-attack, but this was broken quickly.

Among the prisoners in this section were a number of Prussians, who are sturdy-looking troops. Prisoners were coming in well all along the line of the offensive, but it is impossible to estimate the total further than that several hundred had been accounted for at an early hour.

BERLIN CONCEDES HAIG'S GAIN.

Berlin, Sept. 26.—The British forces in their new offensive in Flanders have penetrated German positions to the depth of about two-thirds of a mile at several places, according to the German official communication, issued tonight. The fighting, which is of a desperate character, is continuing.

The communication follows:

"The battle in Flanders between Langemarck and Hollebeke—a front of fifteen kilometres—still continues. The enemy has succeeded at places in penetrating as far as one kilometre deep into our fighting zone, where desperate fighting is proceeding.

"On land the enemy lost fifteen airplanes yesterday."

1,000 PRISONERS TAKEN.

London, Sept. 26.—In an attack along a six-mile front today the British captured strong German field works in the region of Tower Hamlets, according to Field Marshal Haig's report tonight. Strong resistance was offered by the Germans throughout the day, and they delivered strong counter-attacks.

But, says the British commander, our operations were entirely successful. Over 1,000 prisoners have been counted. The enemy's losses were again extremely heavy.

SMALLEST TOTAL OF SHIPS SUNK FOR ANY WEEK

Toll of Large Merchantmen Larger Than Last Week —Thirteen Lost.

LONDON, Sept. 26.—Thirteen British merchantmen of 1,600 tons and over, and two vessels of less than 1,600 tons were sunk by mines or submarines last week, according to the weekly admiralty statement, issued this evening.

In the aggregate, this is the smallest number of vessels sunk during any one week since Germany began her intensified submarine warfare last February.

Two fishing vessels also were sunk last week.

The text of the admiralty statement follows:

"Arrivals, 2,775; sailings, 2,691.

"British merchantmen, over 1,600 tons, sunk by mine or submarine, including one previously, 13; undler 1,600 tons, 2; fishing vessels sunk, 2.

"British merchantmen unsuccessfully attacked, including three previously, 10."

The smallest aggregate of vessels sunk in any one week since the February intensive undersea campaign was inaugurated, was 16—14 merchant vessels of 1,600 tons and over, and two or less than 1,600 tons. This was during the week ending August 12.

Last week the admiralty report showed 28 merchantmen sunk—8 of more than 1,600 tons and 20 of less than 1,600 tons.

FRENCH LOSE TWELVE.

Paris, Sept. 26 (delayed).—The French Admiralty tonight announced the following losses by submarines or mines for the week ending September 23:

Over 1,600 tons, seven; one previously.

Under 1,600 tons, five; two previously.

Three steamers were attacked unsuccessfully. No fishing vessels were lost.

ITALIAN LOSSES LIGHT.

Rome, Sept. 26 (delayed).—One steamship of more than 1,500 tons and six sailing ships of less than 100 tons each were sunk last week by mines or submarines, according to the weekly report from the Italian Admiralty. The steamer was sunk outside Italian territorial waters. One steamship and one sailing vessel were damaged, but were able to reach port.

CROTHERS DELIVERS WARNING TO G.N.W.; MAY USE "BIG STICK"

Government Tells Company It Expects Award To Be Accepted.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, Sept. 26.—Hon. T. W. Crothers has notified the general manager of the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company that he expects to be informed by telegram tomorrow that the company has accepted the award of the board of conciliation, thus ending the strike. The minister of labor does not state what action he proposes to take if the company still refuses, but he asserts that he will use the "big stick" if necessary.

"It is the duty of the company to accept the award whether they like it or not," he said tonight. "The act provides that the majority award is the award." He expressed indignation at the idea of the company refusing to accept the award, and said he was insisting that in this, as in all other cases, the award should be carried out and adopted.

"Of course," he remarked, "the company may say I am encouraging the strike. I am simply encouraging the men to get what they are entitled to get. The award is very moderate and the men do not get all they ask for."

The minister stated that he had had trouble with the Canadian Northern people on previous occasions and did not evince very much enthusiasm for the way in which the men had been used.

With regard to the board of conciliation, which investigated the grievances of the telegraphers, Mr. Crothers described Judge Gunn, the chairman, as a man of good judgment, impartiality, and fairness. As to David Campbell of Winnipeg, the representative of the men, he said: "He has had a great deal of experience in these matters and I have always found him very reasonable and very willing to do the fair thing. He is not an extreme man; he desires peace and does what he can to promote it."

NO. 1 NORTHERN OFFERINGS LARGE

Other Grades Light — No Change in Cash Wheat Recorded.

Winnipeg, Sept. 26.—There was practically no change in the cash wheat situation today. The off-grades were unchanged in prices.

Cash oats were unchanged in spreads, with a good demand for tough grades. Cash barley was much the same as yesterday. The trade in cash flax was light, owing to small receipts. The demand was good at 3c over October for No. 1 N.W.C. grade.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

LARGEST PEACH SUPPLY OF SEASON IS OFFERED

Declines Occur in Fruit Prices on Late Market.

The largest supply of peaches offered on the market during the fruit season appeared today and attracted many purchasers throughout the morning. Every variety of the fruit was offered at similar prices to those quoted Wednesday during the first part of the morning, but substantial declines were shown toward the close owing to the unprecedented abundance of the fruit.

Plums were not so plentiful, the seasonable appearance of this fruit having just about ended. A fair amount were offered, however, at unchanged values, and a good demand manifested. Next week is expected to mark the conclusion of the plum market, and no lower prices are likely to occur from now on.

Apples are becoming increasingly scarce from day to day, and the price remains at its accustomed height of $1.50 to $2 per bushel.

Citron is in good demand whenever offered. Other fruits are selling at stationary prices, and the general demand for all varieties is brisk, local fruit men claiming that the people are eating more fruit than ever before, owing to the advice of the Government to eat seasonable edibles.

Vegetables have been particularly plentiful this week. Potatoes dropped slightly, the majority of bushels selling at $1.10 to $1.25. This decline was not anticipated, but very welcome to housewives.

Pumpkins sell at 10c to 20c each on a brisk market. Tomatoes declined slightly when all baskets sold at 40c to 50c each. Cucumbers, beets, celery and turnips remain plentiful and stationary in value.

The hay market continues draggy, a large number of loads coming in and being hard to dispose of at a reasonable rate. The price of fodder will undoubtedly drop, as the present sultry demand is expected to continue for some days.

Oats show no signs of depreciation, the offering of this grain being poor and the demand good. All loads of barley and oats are generally grabbed up by local grain firms whenever available. One load of barley was offered Wednesday and sold at $1.20 a bushel.

The live stock market is brisk, but the quantity available for local purchasers small.

Poultry is in good demand but scarce. Live hogs are selling at $17 a cwt., which is a drop of 25c under Wednesday's quotation. Butter and eggs are easier at unchanged prices.

GRAIN.

Winnipeg, Sept. 27.—October oats opened ⅛c to ½c higher at 68@68⅛c; December unchanged to ⅛c higher at 63⅝@64c.

Frost in the corn belt and bad maturing weather tended to strengthen all markets, though there was practically no frost in Western Canada.

Chicago, Sept. 27.—Opening: Corn—May, $1 20⅝.

Oats—September, 59½c; December, 58⅜@58½; May, 61¾c.

Chicago, Sept. 27.—Belief that frost damage had not been serious, and that the crop outlook remained good, despite predictions of more frost tonight, had a bearish influence today on corn. The short interest appeared to have been largely eliminated. Houses with seaboard connections bought on the decline.

Opening prices, which ranged from the same as yesterday's finish to ⅜c lower, were followed by a slight rally and then a down-turn all around.

MONEY.

London, Sept. 27.—Bar silver, 51½d per ounce.

London Sept. 27.—Money was scarcer today owing to the demand for treasury bills and the withdrawal of some American balances. Discount rates were firm.

New York, Sept. 27.—With a drop yesterday of 2c an ounce in the price of bar silver, and 5c today, the steady upward movement in the market quotations for the metal had been checked for the first time in many months. Early in the week bar silver reached the record price of $1 08½ an ounce. The extraordinary high prices induced a falling off in demand and selling. Today's quotation was $1 01⅝.

WALL STREET.

New York, Sept. 27—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Steels, shippings and various equipment issues featured the initial dealings on the stock exchange today at average advances of a point, some of the more speculative war shares recording greater gains. These were counterbalanced by the heaviness of General Electric, General Motors, Ohio Gas and Malting preferred. Trading was light, but without any trace of yesterday's reactionary trend.

Noon.—The market followed its course of recent days during the forenoon, trade, however, gradually diminishing. Early gains were succeeded by numerous irregular declines. United States Steel dropped a point to yesterday's minimum of 110, and related shares lost as much. Speculative issues, notably the motors, reacted 1 to 2½ points, and rails were fractionally lower. Money conditions were again a potent factor, call loans opening at 6 per cent.

1:30 p.m.—The general list, especially industrials and rails, met with another setback during the mid-session. United States Steel fell to 109⅝ on heavy offerings, including one block of 5,000 shares, and St. Paul lost 2½ points. Partial rallies ensued later.

LONDON STOCK EXCHANGE.

London, Sept. 27.—The stock market developed a good tone, but business was slack, pending the announcement of the details of fresh war borrowing. Argentine rails and Brazilian bonds continued to improve, and a large business was done in rubber, shipping and copper shares at hardening prices.

CYCLIST PLATOON LEAVING SHORTLY FOR ANOTHER CAMP

Unit Here To Be Transferred to East.

DRAFT'S GOOD WORK

The Cyclist Platoon now training here under Lieut. C. H. Atkinson, will leave in a few days for an eastern point, according to information given out today. Men who are anxious to train in this branch of the service will need to sign up immediately, as on the departure of this platoon the depot will be closed, the demand for cyclists having practically been met. Lieut. Atkinson will take the platoon overseas about fifty strong, and will return to Canada on the completion of his duty.

An excellent record has been established by the last draft, which left this city some time ago, according to a recent letter from Lieut. W. J. J. Kreitzer, who accompanied the men overseas and was later transferred to an infantry unit.

"I am as proud of the boys as can be; they are immense," he writes. "They have been in several contests for erecting all kinds of wire entanglements and have won everything going. They won the championship for all this area (Bramshott) as well as the 5th Division at Whitley. They are now going up against a picked team from the Imperials. For their last victory they got nine days' leave and transportation, and if they get this next contest they will receive six days' additional leave. They gave an exhibition last week before the general staff of the Australians, New Zealanders and Imperials and did excellent work.

"Not one of them has been in any trouble yet and they stand high in the opinion of headquarters here. They are working hard to keep in trim and advance themselves in other branches of training. They go through all the tests in wiring under all kinds of conditions, even under clouds of gas, wearing gas-masks. They also work in the dork. In the last contest they got 91 points out of 100. The nearest team to them got 73.

Sergt. Elliot and all the other N. C. O.'s were reduced to the ranks as is the custom, but Sergt. Elliot was promoted again to corporal as was also Pte. F. S. Crowhurst. Both are taking commissions in the Imperial army.

POLICE PREVENT SALE OF PEACHES BY SPECULATORS

Ingersoll Men Have To Sell on the Market.

INGERSOLL, Sept. 26.—The dreams of profitable speculation by local residents have been rudely shattered by the transient traders bylaw. This bylaw has been the barrier between them and the sale of large quantities of peaches which have been brought in, sometimes in carlots, from the fruit sections of Ontario. Tuesday another large consignment of peaches arrived, and had it not been for the transient traders bylaw, they would have been sold from the car at prices lower than those obtained in the regular way by the merchants. The result has been that it was necessary for the chief of police to step in between the merchants and these sellers who have cut the prices. The only course open for the men who are not bona fide storekeepers is to either take out a peddler's license or to dispose of the fruit on the market. The latter course is being followed.

BURIED AT INGERSOLL.

INGERSOLL, Sept. 26.—The funeral of Fred Lahey, aged 39, whose death occurred at Sarnia, held here today, was largely attended. He had been ill for nearly three years. The funeral was held from the residence of Thomas Hoolihan to the Church of the Sacred Heart and interment was made at the Catholic Cemetery.

POULTRY WILL FEATURE.

INGERSOLL, Sept. 26.—A big display of poultry is expected at Ingersoll Fair next Monday and Tuesday. The co-operation of Ingersoll Poultry Association has been promised the Agricultural Society, and in addition to assisting with the work in the poultry building, it is expected that most of the poultry fanciers will exhibit.

Washing Won't Rid Head of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never afils to do the work.—Advt.

YOUNG VIOLINIST SCORES TRIUMPH IN FIRST APPEARANCE

Playing of Isolde Menges Rare Treat to Londoners.

It's many a day since London has listened to such fiddling as that of Isolde Menges, the famous young English violinist, last evening in the Masonic Hall. People who duly turned out for the first night of the festival because they had heard Miss Menges was a great artist, or with the idea that they were serving the Great War Veterans' Association, under the auspices of which she is appearing here, soon found they were very much present on their own account.

An Isolde Menges recital isn't an entertainment to be loafed through or drowsed through. In next to no time, she has everybody literally "sitting up and taking notice." After that, it is a case of feeling more interested and refreshed every minute, and by the time the end of the program is reached, wishing it were beginning all over again. This wasn't true of the musical people only but of everyone last evening.

From the foregoing, the fact should be established that Miss Menges interests her audience and is successful about getting her music across the footlights as she draws back and forth the magic bow of her wonderful violin. The bigness, richness and masculine vigor of the tone she is able to evoke amazes, a tone that is cellolike in its depth and breadth, even organlike at times in its sonorousness. But equally surprising is the variety of tone she can call forth at will; tone when required of singing tenderness, of the joyous carolling of birds, of fairylike delicacy and daintiness.

Always she is superbly sure of what she is doing and her technic clean and finished.

But, surprising as is her technical equipment, even more remarkable is the maturity of her art, considering that she is and looks a very young girl with her becomingly bobbed hair. She possesses temperament, any amount of it, but she is too real a musician and an artist to let it run away with her. While her playing lacked nothing last evening in spontaneous charm, in warmth, colorfulness and variety of moods, it was ennobled by entire sanity and balance, and intellectual understanding.

Isolde Menges has gone a long way in her art, and she has the capacity to develop still farther.

Four evening recitals in all she is giving this week in London. A fairly good audience attended the first. It is safe to predict the Masonic Hall will be packed by Saturday night. Those who have gone once and been conquered will want to go again. They will talk so much they will inspire everybody else. Especially will this be true from the fact that Miss Menges is giving the more familiar works in violin literature later in the week, such "popular" numbers (in the sense that they are well known and favorites) as Kreisler's "Schoen Rosmarin" and "Liebesfreud," the Kreisler arrangement of the Dvorak "Humoureske" and "The Bee" (Schubert). The scintillatingly brilliant "Devil's Trill" (Tartini) is to be the opening number of Friday's program, while on Saturday evening the Kreutzer "Sonata" (Beethoven) is to have first place, played by Miss Menges and her immensely clever accompanist, Miss Eileen Beattie, an Australian girl.

Miss Menges chose to make her initial bow to London in the Handel "Sonata in D Major," played with dignity and fine intellectual appreciation. The magnum opus of last night from a technical standpoint was the difficult Ernst "Concerto in F Sharp Minor," a wonderfully melodious work as played by this artist.

The "Sicilienne and Rigaudon" (Tracoeur-Kreisler) was delightful in tunefulness and rhythm. Next was given Elgar's "La Capricciosa," with captivating whimsicality. Then came a roilicking morceau, an old French dance, "Le Basque" (Marin Marias). Following immediately was a Berceuse, the composition of the 12-year-old brother of the violinist, Herbert Menges. A tender, melodious lullaby, in the hands of the sister-interpreter it became "Music that gentlier on the spirit lies, than tired eyelids on tired eyes."

In marked contrast came a shower of fireworks, a Spanish dance, "Zapateado" (Sarsate).

After the Ernst concerto were given two Slavonic dances in G Minor and E Minor by Dvorak-Kreisler, of haunting mournfulness. Last there were more pyrotechnics, the Wieniawski "Polonaise in A Major," a brave and inspiriting final offering, rattle of spurs and daring rhythm will surely

It was all over—but a recall insisted upon and, as an encore, Miss Menges gave a Handel menuet. One other encore was allowed by the artist during the evening, and no one was sorry that she chose to comply to insistent demands with a favorite number, "Minuet" (Beethoven).

The description given by Miss Menges of each of her numbers adds novelty and charm to her recital.

The violinist is most fortunate in the sympathetic support given to her by her accompanist, Miss Beattie, who will have more opportunity to reveal her artistry in later programs.

COMMISSION WILL CONSIDER PURCHASE OF TRACTION LINE

Electric Railway Is Offered for Sale at $504,000.

The finance committee of the city council at the regular session last evening referred the proposition of the London and Lake Erie Traction Company to sell the line to the municipalities through which the road runs to the London railway commission to dispose of. The decision of the latter body will be accepted by the committee, and any bylaws necessary will be passed.

George B. Woods, Toronto, president of the board of directors was present, and laid before the committee the proposition of the company. The bondholders had decided to dispose of the road. It was not a paying venture, owing to the electrification of the London and Port Stanley Railway. The directors had no fault to find with that. The road was the city's, and the citizens had a perfect right to do with the London and Port Stanley what they wished.

Market Favorable.

The situation had become such that the directors had decided to get rid of the Traction line. The market for steel and copper was most favorable. However, before scrapping the road, the directors had decided to offer the municipalities an opportunity of taking over the line. It was a good thing for London as well as the intervening municipalities. The company had bought the line for about $535,000 with some debts, and had later spent about $140,000 on it. The indebtedness to the bond-holders was placed at $840,000.

Sell for $504,000.

"We will sell the road for 60 cents on the dollar, or $504,000," he said. "We were offered 35 cents on the dollar by Sir Adam Beck, but we can make much more than that out of scrapping the road. Steel is selling at $100 a ton, with copper much higher than normal prices. We must either sell the road or scrap it. If the city wishes us to operate it we will only do so if our bonds are guaranteed. The investment was not a good one. It will be good in time, but we cannot afford to wait for that. Our freight business is growing, increasing more than $2,300 over September last year. We know that the people of Lambeth and Westminster will oppose the disposition of the road, but what can we do? We must sell. We will not sell a part of it. We must dispose of it all or scrap it. We are losing the interest on our bonds yearly, amounting to $42,000 a year. We have a fair proposition, and it is up to you, gentlemen, to say what you will do. I feel sure that the other municipalities will deal generously if London gives the lead."

On motion of Controller Shaw the matter was referred to the London railway commission, and if that body recommends the purchase of the line the necessary bylaws will be prepared without delay.

MANITOBA IS TO HAVE DIVORCE LAW OF HER OWN

[Special to The Advertiser.]

WINNIPEG, Sept. 26. — A divorce law for Manitoba will be enacted at the next session of the Legislature, because of the difficulty of obtaining a divorce under existing legislation, unless a heavy outlay of money is incurred.

At present a Manitoba resident who seeks a divorce incurs an expense of $1,500 to $2,000, and those with limited means are without recourse.

Lawyers say that it causes divorce-seekers to go to the United States, establish residence, and gain their object through American courts. The law of divorce in British Columbia, they say, is similar to the once in force in England, and will be copied by Manitoba.

Photoplay News

PATRICIA

George M. Cohan, the popular stage and screen favorite, in something entirely new and distinct in the way of a photoplay of unusual theme and construction, is announced as a forthcoming special atttraction at the Patricia Theatre by Manager Stewart. George M.'s new screen vehicle is none other than his own well-known stage hit, "Seven Keys to Baldpate," founded on the story by that name by Earl Derr Biggers.

During its sensational presentation on the theatrical stage this play amazed even the most blase critics of the drama for its utter disregard of all accepted rules and regulations of the demands of a successful offering of the theatre. In fact, as stated by many first-nighters, it defied the critics in its effort to give the public a novelty. Never in the annals of theatricals had a play so completely bewildered its audience and never before had the critics admitted the fact with such frank commendation.

Staged under the capable direction of Hugh Ford, the producer of many film successes under the Famous Players' banner, the screen portrayal of "Seven Keys to Baldpate" offers a photoplay of the most modern cinema technique. An unusually capable cast disclosing many well known film favorites, as well as some of the artists who appeared in the play, supports the popular actor-author-producer in his second film offering, released by Artcraft Pictures.

At the Patricia today, Friday and Saturday, September 27, 28, 29.

MAJESTIC

Olive Thomas, "the Harrison Fisher Girl," is conceded to be the most beautiful young woman in the realm of motion picturedom is the star in "Madcap Madge," a Triangle production, showing at the Majestic again today. She portrays the character of Madge Flower. Briefly the story is as follows: "Madcap Madge," the new Triangle play starring Olive Thomas, the "Follies" beauty, was written by R. Cecil Smith and produced under the supervision of Thomas H. Ince.

The Flower family owns two daughters—Julia, who has not landed after six strenuous seasons, and Madge, the "Madcap," who is still at school. Mrs. Flower read an announcement in the papers that the Earl of Larisdale is seeking his health at Palm Beach incognito. Here is the chance for Julia to annex the title, as well as the ancestral estates. So mother and daughter leave for the resort, leaving Madge at the finishing school.

This does not suit Madge, who, after a series of escapades is expelled and joins her mother and sister at Palm Beach, much to their discomfiture. Madge shows that she is rightly christened the "Madcap," as is seen in the events that follow her sudden arrival, for she puts the fashionable Palm Beach colony in a tumult and drives her mother into hysterics.

Charles Ray in "The Honorable Algy."

Charles Ray in "The Honorable Algy," will be seen at the Majestic Friday and Saturday. He will be remembered by patrons for his excellent character impersonations in "The Pinch Hitter" and "The Clodhopper."

VIOLIN STUDENTS BEGIN COURSE.

The violin classes, under the direction of Mr. John Melvin Bush, recently announced by the London Conservatory, are being rapidly organized, and some have already commenced study.

The attractive features of this method are small fees, and the advantage of the use of a violin, free of charge, until success in the work is assured.

The main advantage, however, is the opportunity of study with an artist of such pronounced ability. For terms and full information apply to the registrar, 356 Dundas street, or phone 1101. b
