New Rules in Changery—The Parliament Buildings—Meritt's Speech—Great Employion between the Clear Grits and the Ministerialists of the Cleary Reserve Meeting.

Tonourro, May 9, 1850.

Part of the new rules in Chancery were proclaimed in Court on Tuenday, by the Chancellor, They will very much shorten the proceedings, falliants the progress of cases, and leasen the costs. A Bill that before would have extended to 100 folios, will not now reach to more than about 50, and an Answer that would before have extended to 100 folios, to about 30 or 40. The eramination of all witnesses residing in the County of Tork, will, in future, be made before the Chancellor in open Gourt. As it is deemed impracticistant parts of the Province, the old system will,

to aducation, he thought there were other questions of more pressing and immediate importante requiring adjustment. He confirmed the statement in one of my previous letters, that this will not be made a Cabinet question; but the Maintipy will leave themselves at fiberty to vote as shall suit their, several sotions, and diversified political interests. In the course of his speech, Mr. Merritt touched on the subject of banking, and expressed himself in favor of the Frice Banking system of the State of New York. He wishes to see the Canala completed in such a way that every one of them will draw 10 feet of water, and vessels be enabled to pass along them at the rate of 200 miles for every 28 hours. Respecting the public lands, he said he was in favor of disposing of the whole of them, funding the process and loaning the money to Railroad Companies. The Customs he would abolish altogether, but not immediately; seeing that we have neither army nor navy to support, we ought to be able to do without them. He then came to the question of Anagaztion which the has seeme emongs to see its not to be I flowled our of simpletons and himb traces. He admitted it to be a grave question, him the process of simpletons and himb traces. He admitted it to be a grave question, army nor nawy to support, we ought to be able to do without them. He then came to the question of the income of the process of simpletons and hired knawes. He admitted it to be a grave question, to be settled by argument, and not by the ridicule with which some stupid newspapers have set it. The fact of his admitting that every one has a right fairly and fully to argue this question, is proof that he could not have approved of the dismissal of a large number of persons from the magistracy and the militin, for exercising that right, and at the same time a condemnation of himself and colleagues for punishing men for doing what he admits they have a right to do.

Yesterday the Semi-Annual Fair and Cattle Show of the County of York was held in this city. On the whole it was rather a poor affair, the number of entries being but 77, while on some occasions they have amounted to 130.

Last night, the great meeting got up by the Anti-Clergy Reserves Association took place between the Clear Grits and the Ministry, and a tremendous explosion followed. The origin of it was this: The Ministerialists, from the first, were desirous of excluding Maleolus Cameron from the meeting, or rather from taking any part in it; but, at several meetings of the Committee of the Association, when the question came up, they were overpowered. On Monday the Committee finally disposed of the matter by an unanimous vote—after three opposing members, finding themselves in a minority, had left—that Cameron should move a Resolution 2; that, in the opinion of the meeting, the Government should make the Clergy Reserves question a Cubinet measure. Defeated in Committee, the Ministerialists, yesterday, set themselves to work to pensuade the Trustees of Knox's Church not to permit the building to be used if the Resolution in question was to be proposed. And so far they succeeded. Cameron then determined to move the substance of his Resolution as an amendment. Dr. Burus, who was to have seconded the Resolution, and purposely kicked the fat into the fire lines and Lilly, each and ill not one learned describe, but hall need for the lives depended upon the fate of that amendment. Dr. Burns seconded the amendment in a speech of great force and decision, avoidst deafening shouts of applause. The Government lickspittles fairly shrunk into themselves. Lesslie quoted a speech delivered by Mr. Baldwin in 1846, condemning in the strongest terms the late Ministry for not making this very question a Cabinet measure. Lilly and Jennings attempted to reply, but the fury of their temper nearly choked their utterance. Lilly, seeing the current running strong against them, pointed to the fact, that, by the Constitution of the Association, the Executive Committee hat power of making representations to the Government, by Deputation or otherwise. As this was precisely what the movers of the amendment wanted Came-Deputation or otherwise. As this wanted, Camewhat the movers of the amendment wanted, Cameron offered to withdraw the amendment, if the Comron offered to withdraw the amendment, if the Government of the Governm mittee would undertake to represent to the Government, as the opinion of the meeting, that the question should be made a Cabinet measure. This the Committee promised to do; thus in substance yielding up everything to the Clear Gritz. The meeting, after the introduction of the amendment, became very stormy—the cheering and hissing of the speakers being positively deaftening—and did not break up till—near one o'clock.

The wreek of the Commerce you will probably have heard of. It took place on Monday night. The following the only account received.

A rough Return has been made of the amount of glass broken in private houses in the different Police Divisions of the City, from which it appears that it the san lamps of the City 2.572 panes were broken. In the B. Division 138:1296, 32 chimeys blown down, and the roofs of 19 houses damaged. In the C. Division 96,905 panes of glass were broken, in the B. Division 83,220; and in the E. Division 22,718. In the North Union Workhouse of the City 464 panes of glass were broken, and in the Conservatories of the Botnine Garden £200 worth of glass was shattered. In the Cellege Park 19 trees were sprooted, 11 of which were of large size. All this damage was done in the space of about 10 minutes,—the greater portions of it during the last 4 minutes.

I mentioned in my last that a. "Supplemental Bill" to the "Encumbered Estates Act" had been brought into the House of Commons by Sir J. Romilly, the Solicitor-General of England, and which has been read a first time. The object of this Bill is to enable persons who purchase land under the Act, to borrow money from Government on the security of these lands, for improvement on the security of these lands, for improvement of the past week, to consider the provisions of this Bill, when Petitions to Parliament were agreed are not now, or balvery slightly ectumorers, which is the past week, to consider the provisions of this Bill, when Petitions to Parliament were agreed are not now, or balvery slightly ectumorers, which is the past week. The supplemental Bill becomes law, it will be utterly impossible for the present landlords to raise money—the security they can offer being so much inferior to what the purchaser of an estate under Encumbered Estates Commission can give, while if he wishes to sell his south of the county Mayo, valued at £120 per ann IMPORTS.

Marriage requires the fulfilment of several conditions, in order that it may be really the cause of mutual happiness. Could the veil, which covers the origin of domestic "vretchedness, be raised, said list true source in every instance disclused, in how many could it be traced to physical disquisifications and their attendant disappointments. Excesses are always injurious; the gift which, when used in moderation, is fraught with advantage, becomes, when abused, the prolific source of mischief, and of greater or less injury to the constitution and vital powers.

The particular excesses, on the nature and colsequences of which this Treatise professes to dilately are productive of greater missry to the human frame. or less highly to the constitution and vital powers. The particular excesses on the nature and consequences of which this Treatise professes to dilute, are productive of greater missery to the human frame than any other to which it is subject.

This Work contains an accurate and complete second of the Anatomy and Physiology of the Reproductive Organa, and of their relative conditions in health and disease. Nor are these the sole contests of the work: the means of escape, as well as the nature of the danger, are pointed out in clear and intelligible language. It deservedly requires the closest attestion and study, for what subject can be of more importance than the preservation of health, and of the physicial chi abilities of which every man should be possessed. It unfortunately happens, that, the unhappy victim of escessive multipence and victous habits, whether acquired in early life, or from the follies of advanced age while suffering from their max ribble consequences, unwisely entertains a fear of applying to a qualified physician for relad. and Accumulated Premius.

INSURANCE COMPANY is established spon the purely mutual systems, with a Tariff of Premiums as low as is justifiable with a Tariff of Premiums as low as is justifiable with the persuasence and security of an Institution of this plantacter. Every person taking out a Policy is a member, and entitled to vote ut the Annual Meetings. The Dividends are declared annually on the 31st January. All persons insuring previous to that day, participate in the profits of the books of the Company; to be paid during the bife of the insured, in the order of rotation, from the excess of a capital of profits of $200,000. The stipulated capital of profits having been obtained, the Directors will be authorized to pay the first year's Dividends at the close of the present fiscal year; afterwards, each year's Dividends, in regular order, will be redeemed, as the funds of the Institution exceed the above two hundred thousand dollars. It is supposed that each person will be required to pay three annual Premiums before his Dividends will be redeemed. This feature in the conditions of this Company, over those who do not redeem or pay the Dividends until the death of the insured, is peculiarly favorable to the member, as the redemption of Dividends will assist in the payment of the Annual Premiums, after a few of the first years have elapsed, or take up notes given for Premiums.

The assured, on surrender of his Policy, at any of the Assured.

Insurers can at all times demand, as a right, a Loan to the extent of two-thirds the amount of Premium they have paid—upon deposit of their Policy, and guaranteeing it will be kept in force.
This important advantage removes the fear so many entertain of being obliged, through pecuniary embarrassment, to let their Policies lapse, and at a time such a provision is absolutely needed for their families.

assist in the payment of the Annual remaining after a few of the first years have elapsed, or take up notes given for Premiums.

The assured, on surrender of his Policy, at any time after three years, will receive its equitable value. All Premiums amounting to fifty dollars, or more, on Policies running five years or longer, may be paid one half by Note; to remain a debt on the Policy becomes a claim.

This Company was organized in December, 1846, and its prosperity has hitherto been unparalleled. It is now in the third fiscal year of its existence; and numbers (October, 1849) nearly s. on thousand members; with a constantly increasing accession. Its loases have been small, compared with the numbers which might have an expected, according to the Tables of Mortality upon which Life Insurance is predicated. By unparalleled success in business, and a strict economy in the administration of its affairs, larger Dividends have been made to Policy holders than by any other Company in the United States; averaging more than 60 per cent. annually.
