G. W. Y. A. in New Quarters
The Great War Veterans held their first meeting in their new quarters yesterday evening. They moved their furniture and fixtures from the armory on Monday, and are easily settled in the Market building.
As the days go on, one is compelled to consider what is to become of what is to be made of this big building, the armory. If we are to have peace, there will be little use for it in a military way. And it is too big a building and represents too much money to be allowed to stand idle.

Every District Exceeded Its Victory Loan Objective—Some Won Crowns

FOUR FOR PORT ROWAN

Simcoe, Nov. 20.—(From Our Own Correspondent)—The totals for the various districts in the Victory Loan campaign were given out yesterday evening. The amount of clerical work gone through with at county headquarters is beyond the ordinary conception of the citizen. The staff just now are beginning to see daylight ahead. Every division reached its primary objective and the total is $400,000 above that of 1917. The subscriptions by districts follow with the number of crowns won, placed to the right in brackets:
Waterford and Townsends . . . $223,150
Simcoe . . . 437,850 (2)
Port Dover and Woodhouse . . . 207,050 (1)
Windham . . . 189,050
Debt and Middleton . . . 155,750 (1)
Charlottetown . . . 86,350
Port Rowan and S. Walsingham . . . 193,100 (4)
Houghton . . . 20,150
N. Walsingham . . . 40,950
Total, 1918 . . . $1,478,400
Total, 1917 . . . $1,080,000

Norfolk was second in the district on a percentage basis. Mr. McKies has received from headquarters very congratulatory and complimentary greetings. And there is general satisfaction in the fact that not a single district fell short of its objective.
This condition is due to the local pride of those who attended Saturday's celebration and then hurried back to their divisions, kindled the fire of pride to overcome the odium of reproach and succeeded in snatching victory from defeat. Reeve Duncombe of Waterford, R. W. McCall of Victoria, and Gus McKnight and Horace Kellum of Windham were among those. Probably Stewart Buck, captain of the team in Port Rowan and S. Walsingham, was the largest individual producer. He got over $100,000 and his district produced 200 per cent. of the objective.

URGES WATCHFULNESS

Must See to it That War Results in Betterment of the World

By Courier Leased Wire

London, Nov. 20.—Germany in the end gave way, but not because she changed her views, but because she knew she was absolutely beaten, declared the Earl of Reading, who has been mentioned as one of the British peace delegates, in a speech in London to-day. Lord Reading uttered a warning which he said the victor countries should continue to be watchful of Germany and the utterances of her statesmen.
"The Germans, which are now anxious to fall in with the views of our country," he said, "has yet to show by her actions and not merely by one day or two days or a year or two that the whole spirit of the armistice were more gentle and more merciful than would have been the terms if the war had continued. Let us continue to be watchful and wary in peace, as in war. We must remember what had happened. We must take to our hearts the lessons of the past. We do not require revenge. France has not asked for revenge. What we do wish and what we were determined to have, both in France and England, and in all the nations associated in this great cause, was that justice should be meted out to those who were responsible for the awful horrors of the last four and one-half years."

URGES WATCHFULNESS.

"When reading the German foreign secretary's message regarding the armistice conditions, it should be remembered that the terms of the armistice were more gentle and more merciful than would have been the terms if the war had continued. Let us continue to be watchful and wary in peace, as in war. We must remember what had happened. We must take to our hearts the lessons of the past. We do not require revenge. France has not asked for revenge. What we do wish and what we were determined to have, both in France and England, and in all the nations associated in this great cause, was that justice should be meted out to those who were responsible for the awful horrors of the last four and one-half years."

RECALL IN EARLY DAYS OF THE WAR.

"I recall in the early days of the war, at the end of September, 1914, when I was in France with Mr. Lloyd George. I remember talking to one of the great French generals, Castelnau, and asking him the question, which then was new, whether that became during the four and one-half years of war. 'How long do you expect the war to last?'
Castelnau's view.
His answer was a fine irreverent, 'Gen. Castelnau was silent for some little time, and then came the reply: 'The man who made this war had the soul of a devil.'"

By Courier Leased Wire
Berlin, via Amsterdam, Nov. 20.—(By the Associated Press).—Most of the large industrial plants in and about Berlin already are working. No unemployment is reported as a result of the cessation of war industry and work in peace, as in war. Sigmund Bergmann, who is said to have once been connected with Thomas A. Edison and to have been one of the founders of the General Electric Company in the United States, but who is now one of the leading industrialists in Germany, said:
"On the second day of the revolution we started in to work on peace orders, of which we have enough booked to keep our sixty thousand employes busy for two years. This holds good for virtually every plant of any importance in Germany. The country has been literally worn threadbare in all lines. Just as we have been turning our garments inside out, we have helped ourselves along with a multitude of substitute devices in other directions."

GRANDMA USED SAGE TEA TO DARKEN HAIR

She mixed Sulphur with it to Restore Color, Gloss, Youthfulness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautiful, dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a tin of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all over the world. This is the old-time remedy, improved by the addition of other ingredients.
White, gray, faded hair is not so awful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.
This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

DIVIDEND PASSED.

By Courier Leased Wire
New York, Nov. 20.—Anticipating a reduction in Government war orders, the Maxwell Motor Company to-day passed the 1-3-4 per cent. scrip dividend due at this time on its first preferred stock. The directors explained in a statement that they expected "a substantial modification or revision of existing war orders which will necessitate liquidation of its present inventory and conversion of manufacturing facilities from a war to a peace basis." Consequently "until the company has passed through the period of readjustment" it was deemed best to conserve cash resources.
Maxwell stock dropped sharply in the market to-day on announcement of the action.

THE WIFE

BY JANE PHELPS, AUTHOR OF "MARGARET GARRETT'S HUSBAND," AND OTHER NOTABLE STORIES.

Brian Eames' Out Just as Late as Before.

CHAPTER LXXX.

Brian slipped into the room, and a very audible sigh of relief escaped him as he saw Ruth asleep—as he supposed. He had not meant to be so late; he had intended to come directly home when his lesson was finished, about half past eight. But some of the old crowd had dropped in to Mollie's little studio, and they had sat smoking and talking until late.

Really, he felt terribly conscience-stricken. If only he could get to bed without waking Ruth, perhaps he could say he didn't know the time he got in, if she asked him in the morning. He was ashamed to think he had been so thoughtless.

"She's a dear girl!" he whispered to himself as he quietly placed one shoe on the floor, then the other. Instead of kicking them off with the racket he usually made, "I ought to be ashamed. I am!" he added with rather a sheepish grin, as he crawled into bed, staying on the very edge so fearful was he of waking her.

There they both lay wide awake, each trying to convince the other they were asleep, and each guiltily awake.

Fortunately neither were aware of the ludicrous situation; and when finally they slept it was in blissful ignorance that either had lain awake.

"What time did you get in, Brian?" Ruth asked in the morning. "I didn't look at the clock," he said, "you were fast asleep, so I crawled in without disturbing you. You must have been later than you expected to be. You recall you promised to be home by nine, or a little after, if you didn't come home to dinner. I didn't go to bed until after nine, and I—"

"Oh, don't nag a fellow just because he couldn't get home on the minute! I had to wait for a car," he interrupted.

Ruth had been about to say that she had been very tired, and had had a big dinner with her employer and it had made her sleepy. She had no faintest idea of nagging him, or of letting him know she was aware of the time he came in. But if he were going to take this tone with her, she would tell him nothing. Her lip quivered as she recalled how she had striven not to find fault even when she felt she had cause.

It had been twelve o'clock when he came in, yet he had resented her simple question in such a manner as to freeze the confidence on her lips. What had he been doing, where had he been, that he was so quick to blame her, so impatient?

"She said nothing more, but dressed, and while at breakfast tried to appear as usual, although her thoughts never left the question of his whereabouts until twelve o'clock the night before. She knew he never remained in his office after six, also that no school kept open until midnight. After his lesson he had gone somewhere, and it was a place about which he did not want her to question him.

"Brian seemed to forget he had replied impatiently to Ruth, and in his usual egotistical way was telling of a new client he had secured, whom he thought was going to be a "good one," as he expressed it, because he was supposedly wealthy.

"That's fine!" Ruth replied, encouraging him as was her habit. But had Brian not been so wrapped up in himself as not to notice the shade in her tone, he would have seen that the encouragement was not so hearty, nor so spontaneous as usual.

"Yes, I hope through him to meet others like him," the reply was rather pompously given, and Ruth smiled in a sad sort of a way at what she had always considered his boyishness; but which she had occasionally feared he would not overcome—only occasionally, however.

"You don't mind about the money, dear, just at first. Try to do what you give you to do better than anyone else would do it. We can live easily with what we both earn" (as always, she put him on an equal plane as regarded earning capacity), "and it will give you all the time you need to do good work. Take pains with what he gives you to do. Don't hurry it," she knew that he was apt to rush the work if he either needed, or thought he needed, the money.

"I guess I know how to manage my own business," Brian retorted, yet not unkindly. "I can work as fast as anyone, and do it well too. You see, Ruth, you think because you earn a few dollars you know it all. After you have been working longer you won't think yourself so wise."

Brian had meant no slur, he had even smiled as he spoke. But Ruth was hurt. "Earn a few dollars," he had said in his careless, patronizing way. She earned twice what he did, yet he took such a tone with her. Her business amour propre was offended. She never allowed herself to brag; even scarcely mentioned the fact, save casually, when she had accomplished a piece of work for which the firm gave her unqualified praise. She never had even hinted that she was "wise," that she "knew it all."

(To be continued to-morrow.)

The Western Provinces Request Control of the Natural Resources

Ottawa, Nov. 20.—The conference of Dominion and Provincial ministers was resumed this morning in the Senate chamber with a large attendance of representatives of the Federal and Provincial Governments. When the conference adjourned yesterday the request of the Western Provinces that the natural resources, including lands, should be placed under their control was the subject of discussion, and it was understood, some natural differences of opinion had developed, which it was thought better for the delegates of the provinces to discuss among themselves. As a consequence of this yesterday afternoon's gathering was attended by representatives of the provinces only.

Apparently there is little doubt of the intention of the Dominion Government to give the Western Provinces their natural resources, but the proposal has resulted in a suggestion from the representatives of the Eastern Provinces that in the event of this being done the other provinces should receive something additional in the way of subsidies. The Western Provinces maintain that the existing subsidies should not be disturbed by the turning over of the natural resources because a great portion of the lands, etc., have already been disposed of by the Dominion. It is understood that the Dominion Government is not disposed to listen to any demand for a general increase of subsidies, but Sir Thomas White, in his address of welcome yesterday, intimated that federal assistance might be forthcoming by way of assistance to the provinces in carrying out their reconstruction programs.

When the ministers resumed their sitting this morning, Hon. J. A. Calder, Minister of Immigration and Colonization, submitted a land colonization scheme, which is distinct from ordinary settlement. Its chief object is the development of undeveloped land now held for speculative purposes. Mr. Calder proposes that the Dominion should lend money to the provinces for the purchase of privately owned land which would be sold to intending settlers. The purchasers will be expected to put in cash or in personal value, security amounting to twenty per cent. of the value of the land bought. The settler would then get easy terms of payment.

It is proposed that the land will be sold to the settler at a slight advance over the purchase price in order to insure against possible loss. In the case of loss, it is proposed that it be equally divided between the Dominion and the province. According to a calculation submitted to the conference by Mr. Calder, there are from fifteen to twenty million acres of undeveloped land near the railways in the Western Provinces.

The greatest assisting men who desire to settle on farm lands in the Eastern Provinces was also before the conference this morning, the discussion ever being published in the Western Provinces of their natural resources.

The conference adjourned at one o'clock, the premiers of the various provinces remaining in session for the purpose of drafting a proposal concerning the natural resources of the Western Provinces of their natural resources.

PARLIAMENT TO BE CALLED IN JANUARY

The Necessary Preliminary Steps Are Now Being Taken at Ottawa

Ottawa, Nov. 20.—Preliminary steps have been taken for the calling of parliament. To all public departments instructions have gone forth that estimates are to be prepared in readiness. It is not expected, however, that members will actually be summoned to Ottawa before January, although decision on this point has not yet been reached by the government. Probably too, the premier will be unable to be present, at any rate for the early part of the session. When he left for London it was understood that peace conferences would probably occupy some considerable time, and it was considered essential that Sir Robert and his colleagues, who accompanied him should be present to represent Canadian interests.

A mass of legislation will be necessary. The finding of a special committee of legal authorities in England that orders-in-council passed under the Defense of the Realm Act cannot stand behind the declaration of peace raised the same question under the authority of the War Measures Act. Validating legislation, will, it is expected be introduced to prohibition. There is further the question of the various authorities created under the War Measures Act, such for instance as the Canada Food Board. In view of world food shortage it will no doubt, be deemed necessary to continue some of the restrictions on food consumption.

Come Mother, This Castor Oil Is What You Need—Don't Cry!

If you, mother, had to swallow the awful dose—Think back to your childhood days—Ugh! Give your children Cascarets instead. Cascarets taste like candy. Every child loves to take a Cascaret. Besides Cascarets act better on the little liver and bowels when the child is bilious, constipated, feverish and sick. Cascarets are delightful—harmless—cheap!

Each 10 cent box of Cascarets, the pleasant candy cathartic, contains directions and dosage for children aged one year and upwards. When the little one's tongue turns white, breath feverish, stomach sour, there is nothing better to "work" the nappy bile, souring food and constipation poison from the child's system. Give Cascarets; then never worry.

Getting Back Three Million Dollars.

THE PAPER CONTROLLER for Canada a few weeks ago added $12 a ton to the price of news print paper—the kind used in printing the Courier. This addition, following closely upon several previous increases authorized by the Paper Controller, has meant to Canadian newspaper publishers a total increased publishing cost, in the matter of paper alone, in the past eighteen months, of three million dollars. This very considerable sum Canadian publishers must recover from their customers, their readers and advertisers.

In connection with the earlier increases the readers of many daily newspapers have been required to pay $1 or more per year, or their newspapers, while the subscription price of very many weekly newspapers has been increased from 50 to 100 per cent. In many cases still further increases will be necessary.

But all the three million dollars increase in paper costs cannot be loaded on readers; some of this sum must come from the advertisers—this in the form of increased advertising rates. Advertising rates in Canada are, generally speaking, much lower per thousand in circulation than in the United States. Speaking on this point the editor of Marketing, a Canadian advertisers' newspaper published in Toronto, says in his last issue: "In meeting the Canadian publishers' calls for higher rates, advertising buyers should not fail to recognize that for years they have benefited by the publisher's undervaluation of his space, and should be the more willing on that account to recognize the present necessities." To all of which The Courier agrees.

PARIS FOR PETAIN.

By Courier Leased Wire.

Paris, Nov. 20.—The elevation of General Petain to a marshal of France is greeted most cordially by the newspapers. It is declared that if the battle of the Marne stopped the tide of German invasion at the Marne, Gen. Petain's heroic defense of Verdun permitted the Allies forces to await the day of final victory with increased hope.

The Petit Parisien says that another general will be appointed a marshal on the occasion of the French entrance into Strasbourg. It adds that two other generals will also receive the marshal's baton shortly.

Get the Habit of Drinking Hot Water Before Breakfast

Says we can't look or feel right with the system full of poisons.

Millions of folks bathe internally now instead of loading their system with drugs. "What an inside bath" you say. Well, it is guaranteed to perform miracles if you could believe these hot water enthusiasts. There are vast numbers of men and women who, immediately upon arising in the morning, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is a very excellent health measure. It is intended to flush the stomach, liver, kidneys and the thirty feet of intestines of the previous day's waste, sour bile and indigestible material left over in the body, which if not eliminated every day, become food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels, the quick result, poisons and toxins which are then absorbed into the blood causing headache, bilious attacks, foul breath, bad taste, colds, stomach trouble, kidney misery, sleeplessness, impure blood and all sorts of ailments.

People who feel good one day and badly the next, but who simply cannot get feeling right are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to make someone a real credit on the subject of internal sanitation.

Just as soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and freshening, so limestone phosphate and hot water act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. It is vastly more important to bathe on the inside than on the outside because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.

DESERVED CRITICISM FOR LAURIER

During the course of a leading editorial, the Toronto Globe says in part:—

"Liberals who stood for conscription in the election of December last have no apologies to make. They are not upon the penitent bench, and have no intention of seeking a place there. They believed then, and believe now, that conscription was necessary to bring the slackers to time in all the Provinces, and especially in the Province of Quebec, which had failed under the system of voluntary enlistment to provide its fair share of recruits for the Canadian army overseas. Conscription has justified itself if it has resulted in placing more young French-Canadians in uniform during the past nine months than voluntary recruiting mustered during over three years of war."

It is necessary to talk plainly of this matter, so that Sir Wilfrid Laurier may know that the Liberals of Ontario and of the West, who in overwhelming numbers voted for the principle of conscription, and for the carrying on of the war by a Union Government, are no less firmly convinced that they did right in supporting conscription a year ago than he and the Liberals who accepted his leadership are that voluntary enlistment would have won the war. Pious wishes and eloquent periods are no substitute for men in uniform. The evidence is altogether against the contention that sufficient reinforcements could have been secured by voluntary recruiting. Britain herself, hating anything that lessens individual liberty, had to enforce compulsory service as Canada did. What the freedom loving Briton, of the Motherland submitted to in order that autocracy and militarism might be destroyed was not a burden too grievous to be borne by the Canadian people.

"If Liberalism is to become again the great energizing power it has been in the political life of Canada, it can only be by the recognition on the part of conscriptionists and anti-conscriptionists alike that honest differences of opinion must be respected and the right of individual judgment conceded. The humblest member of the Liberal party has an inviolable right to the exercise of private judgment as its leader. A vote cast against a party with which an elector has formerly associated himself is neither treason nor treachery, and the man who so characterizes it as such is himself a poor imitation of the greater autocrats whom they so glibly denounce."

"There is a future for Canadian Liberalism. But Liberalism must deserve it by the adoption of policies in line with the advancing thought of the day. The proceedings of the London gathering contain little to encourage the belief that those now in control of the party organization are sensible of the issues stirring the people of Canada."
 The plain truth of the matter is that Laurier was out of touch with the country on the subject of the war and is equally so with reference to a variety of other matters. It takes a good deal more than well turned phrases to meet the strenuous issues of the present period.

LABOR DEPARTMENT ACTIVE.

The Department of Labor at Ottawa is rapidly preparing to assist in every way possible in placing men and women who are deprived of their employment by reason of the closing down of our war industries. Weeks ago a careful survey was taken of all munition plants as to probable reductions in staff when war should cease. This investigation conducted by the Canada Registration Board, of which Hon. Gideon Robertson, Minister of Labor, is chairman, showed that three-fourths of all the munition workers in Canada were in the Province of Ontario and Quebec. Outside these two provinces the demand will probably absorb all the labor released. In Ontario and Quebec strenuous efforts are being made to cope with the situation. Conferences with representatives of the Manufacturers' Association, lumbermen, pulp and paper manufacturers and railways have resulted in these large employers rendering all aid possible. Senator Robertson expresses satisfaction over the fact that employers generally endorse the suggestion and agree that there must not for the present at least be any reduction in wages. One of these large interests to-day issued notice to its affiliated firms that it should guarantee to absorb ten thousand men and to maintain present standard wages voluntarily. The

CANADA'S SOLDIERS PREFER FARMING

Over Hundred Thousand Have Already Stated Their Desires

NEED ASSISTANCE

Ottawa, Nov. 20.—Over 105,000 members of the Canadian expeditionary force have expressed the definite wish to take up farming in Canada after the war. This was ascertained by interviewing 230,000 members of the forces overseas, and indicates that 43 per cent. of those men wish to go on the land. The actual number of men returning after the war will be much greater. If it should be for example 345,000, on the assumption that the same proportion holds true, the number of men desiring to go on the land will be 157,500.

These facts and a great many details bearing on them have been compiled by the statistical division of the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment from the cards issued by the National Land Council to members of the Canadian forces overseas and signed by them. The facts given represent the men's own statements of their intentions, and in most cases there can be no doubt of their sincerity, as perusal will show.

PROVINCES SELECTED.

The provinces in which they wish to settle are as follows: Ontario, 95,400; Alberta, 23,072; British Columbia, 15,125; Saskatchewan, 15,108; Nova Scotia, 3,533; Quebec, 3,320; New Brunswick, 2,831; Prince Edward Island, 816; provinces not stated, 4,536, and Manitoba, 11,740. Of these 105,000 the cards disclose that 78,000 or 74 per cent. have had previous agricultural experience. The number of men who have had three years' experience or more is 51,000 or 53 per cent. And the surprising number who have had twenty years' experience is over 11,000 or almost eleven per cent.

"That this delocalization represents a substantial prospect for the future in the agricultural population is revealed by the fact that of the 105,000 men who wish to go on the land, fewer than 4,000 were actively engaged in agricultural pursuits at the time of enlistment. Nearly All Want Assistance. The men were asked to state whether they desired to take advantage of any scheme of assisted agricultural settlement, and almost 95,000, or 82 per cent. of those that wished to avail themselves of such assistance. The number who declined to accept Government assistance was over 6,000, or about 7 per cent. The remainder gave indefinite answers."

A WORTHY EFFORT.

The recent influenza epidemic, which affected Brantford in common with other places, brought death and suffering to many homes and has raised the question of the duty of the fortunate to the unfortunate. In some cases the loss of the bread-winner has left families in dependent circumstances and in many other instances the visitation served to diminish the savings and reduce the incomes of persons who can ill afford to stand the loss. Under these circumstances a movement has been very properly inaugurated to take hold of matters in a practical way and to this end an appeal will be made to the public to subscribe to a fund to be devoted to the use of those sufferers from the epidemic, whose burdens are too heavy for them to carry alone. The amount at present asked is $10,000 and this will perhaps do for an initial figure, but The Courier considers that much more than that will be the ultimate necessity if the thing is to be handled in proper style. The final solution in all such instances must ultimately be state aid.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

The Winter is manifestly imbued with the two and a half per cent idea, and accordingly continues to draw it mild.

The German jack tars must now be thoroughly imbued with the fact that victory does not always rest with the fleet.

The Hun submarines have once more commenced to go under—to the British fleet.

The Huns are banking on the "freedom of the seas" cry causing differences between John Bull and Uncle Sam. Meanwhile the stoppage of their own freedom in the matter of murder and rapine, is in reality what is troubling them most.

Now that a threatened revolution in Holland has subsided, it is stated that Great Britain is likely to make representations to the government that the continuance of the ex-fiscal on Dutch soil is not desirable. Neither is it anywhere else except on some desert island.

BURGMASER RETURNS

The municipal council met to receive him at the Hotel De Ville, which was covered with flags. The Dutch minister, many prominent citizens and officials of the Allied armies were present. Burgmaster Max was loudly cheered when he entered the hall and took his seat at the aldermen's table. Acting Burgmaster Le Monier welcomed him with an address and formally recognized the burgmaster's seat. Max, who made a short address.

HOW WILSON WILL CROSS

Washington, Nov. 20.—Officials said to-day that President Wilson and the American delegation to the conference will cross the Atlantic on one of the big army transports conveyed by a direct route to the east. The trip has not been completed, but it is regarded as certain that the vessel carrying the official party will be one of the great passenger liners operated over for the movement of troops.

SHIPPING LOSSES

By Courier Leased Wire. London, Nov. 20.—Canadian Press via Reuters.—The Admiralty announces that British merchant shipping losses in October totalled $4,000,000 gross. WHY NOT BE FRIENDLY?

"A man of seventy" writes: "I speak or nod to all the children I meet on road or streets where there are not many people. Is that right? Certainly it is right, and a good habit to cultivate. I do the same thing except when engaged on some problem that I do not see whom I pass. It is a fine spirit to cultivate to desire to greet everybody you meet, except when in crowded thoroughfares when to attempt this would look singular and we should fail to make the impression we desire."

SEEKING THE INVISIBLE.

Mrs. D. inquires: "How may I hear and see God?" We speak of seeing God in nature, in the budding trees, in the opening flowers, in the green verdure and in the rolling deep, but very rarely if ever, results in actually seeing or hearing God. From the first chapter of Genesis to the last chapter of the Revelations we find of men who saw and heard God. The expression, "Thus saith the Lord" is a frequent occurrence in the Bible. These seers of God were spiritual, and given such an experience all persons to-day have the same potential power.

RUSSIA BLEEDING TO DEATH FAST

Bolshevik Reign of Terror Worse Than That of the French Revolution

AN APPEAL TO WORLD

Archangel, Nov. 21 (Correspondence of the Associated Press).—"Russia is fast bleeding to death through a reign of terror which is worse than that of the French Revolution, and it is time the nations of the earth came here to put down one of the world's greatest evils," President Nicholas Tchaikovsky of Provisional Government of the North, told a correspondent of The Associated Press to-day.

"It is no longer a question of 'soldiers,' he continued. 'Inside the Bolshevik lines the situation is worse than the French reign of terror. Victims executed now must be counted by the tens of thousands. All their political reasons aside, the world must know that the Bolsheviks are no longer even a party, but are now merely a group of men determined to hold what they have seized by the merciless slaughter of those who oppose them.'"

"It is now only the question of putting down an evil. Persons escaping from Moscow, Petrograd and Volga and reaching here bring indisputable stories of the executions. The situation seems beyond the control of some Bolshevik leaders who themselves are revolting at the bloodshed."

President Tchaikovsky said he recently called to President Wilson urging the immediate dispatch of more troops.

"Nothing can bring Russia out of this chaos until the Bolshevik terror has been quashed by the force of arms," said Tchaikovsky. "The force now here is unable to do this quickly. Meanwhile hundreds are dying daily."

"The world must understand that Bolshevism, like imperialism, is a foe to democracy. It is in Russia a mere dictatorship a group of men holding sway by force of arms. They seize every straw, falsifying logic to justify themselves. As an example they now declare that the league of nations is only another scheme to give power to the bourgeoisie against the working men."

DECREE ABOLISHED.

Archangel, Nov. 20.—The Provisional Government of the Region of the North has abolished the decree of the Bolshevik regime which separated church and state, and final disposition of the question has been left until an all-Russian Legislative power has been established. Meanwhile the expenses of maintaining churches and other religious institutions will be paid by the various religious corporations. The Government has abolished the Murman regional soviet and re-established the zemstvo. W. W. Emplott has been appointed assistant governor-general to administer the districts of Kam and Alexandrovsk.

(Sgd.) Keeper of the Privy Purse."

BOY AND GIRL CENSUS.

Although the work of the committee arranging for the census of "teen" age boys and girls in the city was interrupted by the influenza, the plan was by no means abandoned. The committee met on Tuesday evening in the Y.M.C.A. and adopted a resolution to hold the census on Wednesday evening, December 11th, from 8 to 9 p.m. Two sub-committees were appointed, one to complete arrangements for securing of visitors, was composed of Misses E. Sutch, J. Millard, Morris and A. Heath; the other, to divide and allot the visiting districts, was made up of Rev. J. W. Gordon, Misses S. Allan and M. Walton, and Mr. W. W. Geddes. THE MARKETS.

Hay was the only article of farm produce offered for sale at the week day market this morning. The weather has been extremely unfavorable for marketing within the past few days which probably accounts for the absence on the market of sellers.

COAL OFFICE OPEN.

The fuel office in the old Post-office is to-day working in full swing. Mr. Bert McGill, a returned soldier, has been placed in charge and a large number of coal orders have been received. Yesterday a car of chestnut coal was received by one of the local dealers and in a short time the office was swamped by more orders than the supply would warrant. The supply of chestnut is feared will not be adequate to fill the orders received.

LEAVES FOR HOME.

Miss V. Goulding, who has been engaged nursing at the emergency hospital for the past few weeks, today returned home to London. Miss Goulding, who is a trained nurse, has been at the emergency hospital for some time. After nursing for some time she was seized with the prevailing malady, the flu, and has only just recovered from her illness.

STATEMENT INCORRECT.

The statement made in the Expositor in Tuesday's issue stating that the amount expended for salaries at the emergency hospital had so far amounted to $10,000, is incorrect, according to a statement made by an official to-day. The statement was quoted as being made by an official but no official that is in a position to know of the actual expenditure made it, so where it came from is a mystery. In time the expenditure will probably total that amount, but it has not as yet.

WANT TO GO ABOARD.

New York, Nov. 20.—More than 100,000 persons have applied since the armistice was signed for permission to be abroad, according to customs officials here, who announced that 50,000 passports would be issued for foreign travel except in case of necessity.

MANY ORPHANS BEING ADOPTED

Fifty-One Applications Received Within Past Month at Children's Shelter

Mr. Axford, of the Children's Aid Society stated this morning: "That the appeal for help in caring for children left dependent, both temporarily and permanently did not fall on deaf ears is shown in the following results obtained from the publicity given by the press to our need—24 applications for baby girls were received; 16 for baby boys for adoption. 11 applications came in for older children, all these for permanent homes."

12 homes were offered in the city to care for temporarily children whose parents were not able to care for them at the time. Of these offers 10 children were given care without cost to the parents. Many of these have since been returned to their parents. Through the help of Adjt. Wright and other kind friends, the society has placed 15 children in homes as adopted.

This month has been accomplished since October 26th. Much more remains to be done and is being done as rapidly as can be with the greatest care and deliberation.

NO PAPERS IN ROCHESTER.

By Courier Leased Wire
Rochester, N.Y., Nov. 20.—Rochester is without her daily newspapers to-day as a result of a strike called last night by the Allied Printing Trades Council. Neither the Democrat-Charicle nor The Herald, the two English morning papers, appeared this morning, and the dailies The Post-Express and Times-Union, will not be published to-day.
The strike order followed the rejection last night by the printers' council of an award made by a board of arbitration of five, consisting of two representatives of the employers, two of the printers and a fifth member. The printers had demanded a scale of $5 a week for day work and $40 for night work. The arbitration board awarded $28 and $31, respectively, which was promptly rejected. A settlement is not expected until the officers of the international union arrive. Meanwhile no attempt will be made to publish.

TEPPER ASKS NEW TRIAL.

By Courier Leased Wire
Rochester, N.Y., Nov. 20.—The appellate division to-day is hearing argument on a motion for a new trial for John Edward Tepper of Buffalo, now serving twenty years in Auburn prison for the killing of his mother on a road near Buffalo, January 30, 1916. Tepper was convicted in December, 1917.

Tepper and another son were beaten to death with a hammer and a daughter almost killed while the family was riding in an automobile. The accused claimed that the party was attacked by a highwayman. The indictment charging him with the murder of his brother was not tried.

Tepper was represented in court to-day by three attorneys. His wife, who professes belief in his innocence, was present to hear the argument. The Tepper family is well known in Hamilton, Ontario, where it resided at one time.

ROYAL DECREES

By Courier Leased Wire
Rome, Nov. 20.—By a royal decree the press censorship has been limited to military news, false reports likely to alarm the public, reports of troubled international relations and matter which in itself is basis for prosecution.

Another decree appoints a committee to inquire into the laws of war and the conventions relative to the treatment of prisoners of war by the enemy. It will also draw up a statement as to injuries caused persons and property and establish the responsibility therefore. The president of the Supreme Court is chairman of this committee, which is composed of senators, deputies and representatives of the government.

NOTICE

Increase in Subscription Rates Commencing Dec. 1, 1918

The subscription rates of the Brantford Daily Courier and the Brantford Daily Expositor, commencing December 1st, 1918, will be as follows:

Delivered in Brantford and Vicinity, 45c. per month
By the year, Paid in Advance, $5.00 per annum
By Mail, " " 4.00 per annum
Single Copies, 2c.

After publication of this notice, payments in advance on subscriptions will only be accepted to December 1st at the old rate, after that at the new rate.

This advance in subscription rates has been made necessary by the tremendous increase in the cost of white paper, the price of which has recently been fixed by the Paper Controller at Ottawa. By this one item alone thousands of dollars are added to our annual cost of production, and in addition, labor, presses, stereotype supplies, type and all other items of expense have enormously advanced in price during the last few years.

Even at the new rates the Brantford papers are only now charging prices which have been in force for some time back on almost all the other daily newspapers published in this section of the Dominion. In many cities the subscription rates are very much higher.

SCOTT'S GERMAN MOVE TO DIVIDE ALLIED ENVOYS

London Times Thinks Huns Will Try to Start Trouble Over "Freedom of Seas"

London, Nov. 20.—The Times today says: "It seems obvious that during the discussions of peace Germany will attempt to concentrate attention on the 'freedom of the seas,' as the most promising matter about which there might be a difference of opinion among the allies. Indeed, one may find almost any German newspaper indulging in the argument that Germany may hope to prevail by difference of opinion prevailing in England and America. But," says the Times, "this course on Germany's part is uncertain."

A Hamburg View
 An article in the Hamburger Nachrichten says that the British press is fully awake to German attempts to exploit the Anglo-American difference in shipping. The article argues that the real point at issue is whether the confiscation of German shipping to replace the volume of British tonnage sunk.

The Hamburg article concluded: "It is clear that the allies are overwhelming the conditions forced up on the German empire are the more probable will it be that a decisive British alienation from the United States will not arise."

Other Freedoms

There is serious thought in the discussion going on here that not only regarding "freedom of the seas," but of "freedom of the land" and "freedom of the air," has been proposed. It can safely be made in these directions. It is clear now that "freedom of the seas" in its narrow sense, of dominant in 1914, would have prolonged the war indefinitely. The United States might have had more millions of casualties, more millions of dead than either Great Britain or France before the war's finish. Too much importance therefore cannot be attached to a New York newspaper's comment that the sincerity of all of the allies is going to be judged by their attitude on this one point, especially as the very same newspaper, only a few months ago, said that Great Britain's sincerity was going to be judged by its action on the Irish home rule question.

It is remarked here, not without a touch of humor, that the allies' judgment at least has been broadened. Nevertheless, there is a very real and earnest demand that the league of nations shall become a substantial reality in its growth and power embracing all these subjects.

DRIVERS IN TRENCH SYSTEM

A Remarkable Story Which Comes From Saskatchewan

One of the Posse Meets With Death

Prince Albert, Sask., Nov. 20.—James McKay, jun., of this city, a Sheriff's officer, was murdered at Steep Creek and his body, along with his car, thrown down a sixty-foot embankment into the Saskatchewan river. The place is 40 miles east of here, near the LaColle Falls power dam. The crime was committed last Friday afternoon when Mr. McKay went to make a seizure under instructions of the sheriff at the farm of a man known as "Doctor Gervais." The victim was shot from an entrenched dugout by two men, who are believed to be draft evaders and who are said to have come from Montreal to Steep Creek district about the time the Military Service Act was put into force.

Officer Finds Trench System
 Discovery of the name was made yesterday when Sergeant Kistruck of the Provincial Police was sent out to make a search for Mr. McKay, whose unexplained absence since last Friday had caused some anxiety at his home and at the sheriff's office. Sergeant Kistruck found a system of trenches which had evidently been constructed for the purpose of human defense, and represented what might be found on a modern battlefield. There were a number of dugouts which commanded strategic points in the locality, and it was from one of these that Mr. McKay was shot.

Neighbors Were in Terror
 Investigation in the neighborhood disclosed the fact that the people of Steep Creek have been living in terror of three men, one of whom is alleged to be "Doctor" Gervais, who came to the district some time ago, and with whom the two men, who are alleged to have committed the crime, lived. It is said the "Doctor" was absent at the time that the shooting was done by the other two. The assertion is made by the boy who witnessed the shooting that after the crime the "Doctor" returned and gave the instructions to have the body and the car thrown into the river.

To Take Murderers, Dead or Alive.
 A posse of police and soldiers has been dispatched to the scene of the crime by Inspector O'Sullivan of the Provincial Police. They are fully armed and have instructions to take the men, dead or alive.

The boy who gave the information to Sergeant Kistruck claims that the shooting took place Friday afternoon. When first struck, McKay caught hold of a nearby tree and was able to support himself. His assistants fired again and Mr. McKay fell to the ground.

The boy said he witnessed the murder and that one of the men went over and looked at the body. Mr. McKay was still breathing and the man said that he would go back and put another bullet into him, which he did.

The names of the men who did the shooting are not known, but they are said to be members of a mysterious gang of men who have been coming and going at the Gervais place since the latter came to the Steep Creek country from Montreal.

Leader Aforesaid Mystery
 "Doctor" Gervais, whose place seemed to be the headquarters of the gang, appeared to have maintained an atmosphere of mystery which is only now coming to light. There is a considerable number of French-Canadian in the vicinity and it is said that they were all scared of the "Doctor," who claimed to be a hypnotist. In fact, so frightened are the people of him that it was with the greatest difficulty that the police have been able to get any information, all the neighbors being afraid to speak.

One of Posse Killed.
 Corporal Charles E. Gervais, a soldier of the posse hunting the Gervais bandits who murdered James McKay at Steep Creek, was shot from a bush by the bandits to-day as he was attempting to enter a dugout covered by brush. The body has been brought to this city. It is reported that Gervais is captured, but that the other two are still besieged in an underground tunnel.

Dr. Gervais, the alleged leader of the gang, said to be a former Montreal practitioner, was arrested at daybreak to-day by Sergeant Kistruck, who entered the house while the doctor was still sleeping. He placed the handcuffs on him. He made no resistance and said he knew nothing of the McKay murder, or of the presence of the other men on his place, the lonely retreat which he established 28 miles east of Prince Albert, where the South Saskatchewan flows into the great river of that name. It is a wild place, without telephone communication, and the roads are usually bad.

REDUCE TELEGRAPH RATES.

By Courier Leased Wire
 Washington, Nov. 19.—Reduction in telegraph rates on high messages which would cut the minimum toll from one dollar to fifty cents between Atlantic and Pacific coast states was ordered to-day by Postmaster-General Burleson, effective January 1 next. Such messages are subject to delivery by postoffice carriers. The minimum cost on night message telegrams will be twenty cents for ten words and one cent for each additional word for the shortest distances and 50 cents with two cents for each additional word for the longest distance. Where the day rate is one dollar, the new night rate will be half that sum. The rates on ordinary telegrams, though sent at night and on night letters are not affected by the order.

A REGULAR BIRD MAN "I suppose when you have been flying for a year or so it becomes second nature." "Rather! Why I'm getting so used to it that I often feel a craving for worms and bird seed."

THE JUDAS Which one of those girls is it you dislike so, Stella? Ssh! She'll hear you. I'll kiss her first.

READY TO START The smart young man—his school honors thick upon him, and his intentions to teach the world in general and his father in particular the manner in which up-to-date commerce should be conducted—stood earnestly holding forth in his father's office.

YOU MAY RELY UPON ME he was saying, with fervid emphasis, "I will devote my whole life to the interests of the business. It shall be my aim and ambition to keep the family name free from stain." "Good," said the old man gruffly. "That's the spirit. Tell the office boy to give you the whitening and ammonia; then go and polish up the brass nameplate at the door."

SOME SONGSTER Brown—"Is he very patriotic?" Smith—"I should say so!" He knows the national anthem of every allied nation."

SPLENDID SERVICE "You haven't had much to say lately," commented the old friend. "True," replied Senator Sorghum. "But you must give me credit for one thing—I realized the fact and kept still."

AVERAGES "Things average up in the long run," said the philosopher. "Yes," replied the busy man. "It is going to take a great many shirtless days to make up for these workless days."

EVOLUTION Three men, an Irishman, a Swede and a Hebrew, were brought to court. The Hebrew was arrested for stealing a cow, the Swede for stealing a horse, and the Irishman for stealing a wagon.

"I had it since it was a calf," was the reply. "Where did you get the horse?" he asked the Swede. "I've had it since it was a colt," was the reply of the Swede. "And Patrick, where did you get the wagon?" asked the judge of the thief. "Oh, your honor, I've had it since it was a wheelbarrow."

FEMALE CURIOSITY "Have you read about Cinderella and her glass slipper Florence?" asked the mother. "Yes, mother," replied the six-year old daughter. "And why did she wear a glass slipper, do you suppose?" "So she could see what her corn was doing, I suppose, mamma."

JUSTIFIED Doctor—Your daughter, madame is suffering from constitutional inertia. The girl—There, ma. And you've been saying I was simply lazy."

VALOR OF BRITAIN'S SOLDIERS WORTHY OF THEIR ANCESTORS

King George Praises Courage and Devotion of Army and Navy in Answer to Address of Loyalty by Parliament—Tribute to Overseas Troops Britain's Soil Inviolate

London, Nov. 19.—Another precedent went the way of other precedents to-day, when King George accompanied by Queen Mary and the Prince of Wales went to the palace at Westminster to receive and reply to the loyalty address passed by the Houses of Parliament yesterday. Heretofore it had been the custom of the Parliament to go to the King on such an occasion. The Royal party drove to the palace at Westminster without escort, and was loudly cheered along the route. Arriving at Westminster the King, the Queen and the Prince of Wales, went immediately to the gallery of the House of Lords where the commoners and the Lords, the latter with the officials of the Houses in their robes of office, awaited them. The King was in morning dress, the Lord Chancellor and the Speaker of the House of Commons presented the address.

Grateful for Affection King George, in expressing his thanks to the House of Lords and the House of Commons, said he was glad to meet the members of Parliament and the representatives of the sea, and that he would strive to the utmost to discharge the responsibility laid upon him to uphold the honor of the Empire and to promote the well-being of the people over whom I am called to reign. Britain Inviolate "After a struggle longer and far more terrible than anyone could have foretold," King George continued, "the soil of Great Britain remains inviolate. Our navy has everywhere held the seas, and wherever the enemy could be brought to battle it has renewed the glories of Drake and Nelson. The incessant work it has accomplished in overcoming the hidden menace of the enemy's submarines and guarding the ships that have brought food and munitions to our shores has been less conspicuous but equally essential to success. "Without that work Britain might have starved and those valiant soldiers of America who have so much contributed to our victory could not have found their way hither. The fleet has enabled us to win the war. In fact, without the fleet, the struggle could not have been maintained, for upon the command of the sea the British and the personal influence of Lord Kitchener, and the number of that army was afterwards far more than doubled. "These new soldiers, drawn from the civil population, have displayed a valor equal to that of their ancestors. Short as was their training, they have imitated and rivalled the prowess of the small but ever-famous force which in the early weeks of the war, from Mons to the Marne, fought its magnificent retreat against vastly superior numbers. "No less prompt was the response and no less admirable the devotion to the common cause of those splendid troops which eagerly hastened to us from the Dominions overseas, men who showed themselves more than ever to be bone of our bone, inheriting all the courage and tenacity that have made Britain great. I shall ever remember how the Princes of India rallied to the cause, and with what ardor the soldiers sustained in many theatres of war and under conditions most arduous and exacting the martial traditions of the race. "Proceeding the King paid tribute to Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig, to the air forces, the mercantile marine, the fishermen, munitions workers, both men and women, and to the medical units in the field and afloat. He referred to the importance of after-the-war reconstruction problems; to the necessity for liberal provision for those whose exertions by sea and land aided in bringing about the present situation, and to the necessity of perfect-

TO DEMOBILIZE VETERANS FIRST

Married Men and Those of Longest Service to Have First Consideration London, Nov. 20.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.) Married men and those who have been in long service in the British armies will receive first consideration in the demobilization of British fighting forces, says Dr. Christopher Addison, Minister of Reconstruction. "Pivotal" men, he said, would come back early.

The demobilization, said the Minister, should be so conducted that millions of men in the navy and army would have an early opportunity of employment. Accordingly a plan arranged on industrial requirements had been prepared. As men are demobilized they will be re-employed in the various industries from which they were withdrawn to enter the army. There will be special facilities giving access to the land, said Dr. Addison. Gardens or larger plots will be provided. Councils composed of employers and working men have been organized in forty of the different trades. Already these bodies are removing sources of irritation and bringing a spirit of solidarity, a better spirit than prevailed under former agreements, said the Minister. Inasmuch as the necessity for producing as much food as possible will not end with the war, Dr. Addison said he believed some control over the use of the land would continue to be exercised by the Government. Great Britain should manufacture nitrates for manures on a large scale. The Minister declared that unless there was a great deal of speculation while the demobilization of the army was in progress and prices might advance to the great detriment of industry.

Sporting Comment

INDOOR BOWLING. The City League tenpin bowlers got off to an exciting start on the Assembly Alleys last night. The Beavers were far below their usual form, while the D.S.F. team had but one poor game out of the three. The last game caused considerable excitement as it was anyone's game going into the tenth frame with God. Matthews, the Beavers' star bowler, coming strong and finishing with a 202 score. Kellett, anchor man for D.S.F., was not up to his former two games, but was equal to the occasion by handing in a spare, thus saving the third game. Matthews was high man for the series and the only Beaver over the 500 mark, having a score of 550 for his three games. Kellett, Waddington and Waldron all hit the pins for better than 500. Waldron individual average. Latter better known as "Pinchole," had a battle royal for the booby prize of the evening.

Notes of the Series.

Most everyone ran into w-holes some of which were very cleverly picked up. Waddington featured by making the 8-7-10 split. Some one in the audience passed the remark that it was a pleasure to watch Sanderson bowl, he does it so gracefully. The kidding among the players must have got someone's goat by the scores recorded. Revenge is sweet, say the Beavers, as watch out for the next series between these two clubs.

QUEBEC FLOODED.

By Courier Leased Wire Quebec, Nov. 20.—All the water front was again flooded yesterday evening and even St. Peter street, Quebec's Wall Street, was flooded just at the time business offices were closing down and some of the tenants had to leave their offices in canoes. It is estimated that the material damage in wholesale stores through the floods of the past two days will amount to nearly a million dollars.

GATES CARRIED AWAY.

By Courier Leased Wire Cornwall, Ont., Nov. 20.—An American boat, Eagle No. 3, bound from Detroit to New York, took away the lower gates of lock 15, of the Cornwall Canal last night, by ramming them, instead of lifting up between the upper and lower gates. The delay to navigation will be short as new gates were on hand, and the canal staff was at once set at work to remedy the trouble.

NEW ROUTE TO WESTERN CANADA

On your next trip to Western Canada why not travel over a new route, using two famous trains on your journey and traversing some of the most interesting territory in the Dominion? The National is a through train which leaves Toronto at 8.35 p.m. on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. The rails of the Grand Trunk are used to North Bay, which is reached early on the morning following the departure from Toronto. A daylight run is made through the lake-land beauties of the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario in Cochran calling at Cobalt, with its wonderful mining activity. From Cochrane to Winnipeg your journey lies over the Canadian Government Railway with splendid opportunities of inspecting the fertile regions of New Ontario, including the famed clay belt, where tens of thousands of settlers will make their homes in the future.
