ENGLAND AND FRANCE BOUND TOGETHER BY TIES WHICH HEROISM OF SOLDIERS AND SAILORS HAVE MADE INDISSOLUBLE.

LONDON, Dec. 31 King George has sent the following telegram to President Poincare of France:

January 1, 1916.

"At the announcement of a new year I desire, M. Le President, to convey my earnest hopes that you will enjoy health and strength necessary to enable you to fulfil your exalted duties. Our two countries are united in common with our Allies in the prosecution of a great cause, and it is a source of unflinching gratification to me that the two peoples are bound together by ties which the heroism and sacrifices of our gallant soldiers and sailors have rendered indissoluble.

"I beg you to accept on behalf of myself and my Empire most cordial greetings to the great nation over which you preside, and an expression of my deep admiration for the splendid qualities of the land and sea forces of France, which have been in this war of such inestimable value and which offer a sure guarantee of ultimate victory.

(Signed) GEORGE, R. I.

CANADA'S GREETING TO MEN IN TRENCHES WHO ARE FIGHTING HER FIGHT.

OTTAWA, December 31—Sir Robert Borden sent the following cable to Sir George Perley, acting high commissioner for the Dominion of Canada in London:

"Please convey the following message to the officers commanding the Canadian Army Corps in France, to the officers commanding the Canadians in England, and to the officers commanding Overseas Canadian Units, if any, not comprised in above:

"On behalf of the Canadian people it is my duty and my privilege to convey to you the season's greetings and their warmest wishes for success and victory in all your enterprises during the coming year.

"All Canada has been inspired by the splendid gallantry and the dauntless spirit of the Canadian forces at the front, and we realize the intense eagerness of those still in England to undertake their part. You are fighting, not only for liberty and civilization, but for the future peace of the world. No nation ever sprang to arms for a grater or nobler cause. In the dawn of the New Year Canada bids God-speed in firmest confidence that our cause is just, that you will uphold it worthily, and that it will assuredly prevail.

(Sgd.) "BORDEN."

Russians Doing Great Work.

London, Jan. 2.—The Russians have captured heights north-east of Czernowitz, Bukovina, according to a despatch to Reuters Telegram Company from Petrograd. Eight hundred and seventy prisoners fell into the hands of the Russians.

London, Jan. 2.—Russia's campaign in Bessarabia continues to be the most important visible war activity. From the Pripet to the Roumanian frontier, over a front of at least three hundred miles, a huge Russian force with a great appearance of confidence is hurling sledge hammer blows at the opposing forces, which, according to all accounts, totals at least a million and a half men. Petrograd still claims considerable success in the early stages of the campaign, and despatches emphasize the excellent equipment, supplies and munitions when Russia laid up for this purpose during a period of comparative passivity.

Some London observers, speculating on the meaning of the Bessarabia move, hail it as one of the most ambitious strategic plans since the beginning of hostilities, and predict that it will prove a colossal attempt to break the backbone of the Germanic allies the whole line across the Balkans. Thus one critic says:

"The plan is that Russia and the other Allies, moving from different sides, shall meet in the Balkans and gain complete mastery of that peninsula. If they succeed, Turkey will be subdued and the vitals of Austria-Hungary menaced."

What are Peps

Peps are the new treatment for coughs, colds and lung troubles. They are little tablets made up from Pine extracts and medicinal essences. When put into the mouth these medicinal ingredients turn into healing vapors, which are breathed down direct to the lungs, throat and bronchial tubes. The Peps treatment is direct. Swallowing cough mixtures into the stomach, to cure ailments and disorders in throat and lungs, is indirect. Peps are revolutionizing the treatment of colds, as their price is within the reach of all. 50c. box all druggists, or Peps Co., Toronto.

HALF MILLION MEN FOR OVERSEAS SERVICES— PREMIER BORDEN SENDS MESSAGE FROM SICK BED WHICH STIRS DOMINION.

OTTAWA, Ont., Dec. 12—Canada's overseas force it to be increased to half a million men. Sir Robert Borden made this official announcement today. The authorized force at present is 250,000 and will shortly be recruited. There is no dearth of men willing to fight in the Canadian armies for the sacred cause of the Allies, and half a million men will be recruited without much difficulty. This New Year message came from the sick bed of the Premier. He is ill with a severe attack of lumbago and grippe. The net figures of recruiting for overseas service to December 15, are 197,690, and since December 15 about 15,000 have enlisted, making a total of 212,690. 118,922 have been sent to Europe and 1,200 to Bermuda and St. Lucia, so that the total force sent overseas is 120,122. About 1,817 have been brought back from Europe. In the firing line in France and Belgium today there are upwards of 50,000 Canadians. In the transport of these troops in Canada one soldier was accidentally killed, not one has yet been lost by water transport. There are now practically three divisions at the front with more than three in England for reinforcements. The following official statement was handed to the press:

SIR ROBERT'S MESSAGE.

"More than a twelve month ago our Empire consecrated all its powers and its supreme endeavor to a great purpose, which concerns the liberties of the world and the destinies of all its nations.

"In the dawn of another year our hearts are more resolute than ever to accomplish that task, however formidable it may prove. By the greatness of the need our future efforts must be measured.

"Nowhere is the Canadian spirit more firm and unwavering than among the men who hold the trenches and those who will shortly stand by their side; nowhere is it more undaunted than in the hospitals and convalescent homes.

"Already we have learned the full meaning of sacrifice. To all Canadian homes that have been saddened, to all Canadian hearts that have been stricken by the tragedy of this war, we pray that Divine blessing may bring consolation and healing.

"Much had to be learned during the past fifteen months, because we had not prepared for this war. The strongest assurance of ultimate victory lies in the fact that we were not crushed in learning that hard lesson. Those who forced this war upon us may be assured, by the traditions of our past, that the lesson will be thoroughly learned to the end that there shall be enduring peace. The very character and greatness of the ideals for which we are fighting bid us not to pause until their triumph is fully assured.

"The Canadian forces at the front have indeed fought a good fight; and they have crowned the name of Canada with undying laurels. To them and to all the overseas forces now under arms, and awaiting the opportunity to do their part, we bid God speed in the sure faith that they will never fail in their duty.

"On this the last day of the old year, the authorized forces of Canada number 250,000, and the number enlisted is rapidly approaching that limit.

"From tomorrow, the first day of the New Year, our authorized force will be 500,000.

"This announcement is made in token of Canada's unflinching resolve to crown the justice of our cause with victory and an abiding peace."

Heroic French Sisters Awarded the Cross of War.

Veritus, France, Jan. 3. — Four young sisters have been decorated with the Cross of the War in the presence of a regiment of artillery. They were cited in an order of the day of the division, in the following terms: "Marie Helene, Camille and Madeleine Vatel at the peril of life in a region occupied by the Germans, patriotically revivuated in the thick of the woods, from Sept. 8 to 12, 1914; seven French soldiers who were then surrounded by the enemy at Fere Champenoise and who, thanks to their care, were able to find their regiment
after the German retreat."

The order was read to the sisters and the medals pinned on them, after which the regiment filed past them, the crowd applauding the sisters.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Be sure to make your date line 1916.

This is Leap Year and young men should be on the alert. Girls are realizing there is a scarcity in the male class.

The last month has treated the Germans and their allies to a series of reverses. The Russians are returning and seem to be sweeping on toward victory. Add to this the Kaiser's illness and things are bad from the Central powers.

It is estimated that Canada's wheat yield this year has been 333,775,000 bushels as a result of the Government's campaign for increased production. Sixty-one per cent of that will be available for export. In other words Canada will send 228,142,000 bushels of wheat to help feed Great Britain and her allies as a direct result of the measures taken a year ago. Canada is playing no small part in the war.

Compulsory Service in England and Scotland

Premier Asquith has introduced his system of compulsory service in the House of Commons. Under the terms of the military service bill all males between the ages of eighteen and forty-one who are bachelors or widowers without children dependant upon them are liable to military service. This is believed to be a bill that will command itself to many who disapprove of conscription. Ireland is not placed under the new bill as the Derby scheme did not apply to that country.

Considering the compulsion bill in the light of the general effect, Mr. Asquith said he would have been glad to go without it. He had expressed the expectation that the bill would not be necessary, but his hope had not been realized. He considered that the bill was necessary and was sanguine enough to believe that when its provisions were understood it would have the good fortune to receive something like general assent.

The premier still hoped that the compulsion contemplated under the law would become a dead letter by the men of the ages specified coming forward now and attesting under the group system which would be reopened.

In the House of Lords Earl Kitchener supported the scheme and said that compulsion only effects, during the period of this war a class of men who have a poor idea of their duty as citizens.

President Wilson is After the "Cold Facts."

Washington, January 4—President Wilson called in Chairman Stone and several members of the senate foreign relations committee early today to discuss the international crisis growing out of the submarine campaign in the Mediterranean. After a brief conference with President Wilson, Secretary Tumulty issued the following statement:

"The president and secretary of state are taking every means possible to obtain the cold facts in this grave matter and will act just as soon as the information is obtained."

London, Jan. 5—The British casualties in the battle of Loos, France, last September, totalled 2,378 officers and 57,288 men according to an announcement made in the house of commons this afternoon by Harold J. Tennant, parliamentary under secretary for war.

Kentville Town Council.

The Kentville Town Council held its regular monthly meeting Wednesday evening when there was present Mayor Masters, Councillors Newcombe, Caldwell, Mitchell, Hiltz, DeWolfe and acting clerk B. R. Bishop.

The minutes of the previous special meeting were read and approved.

The Police Committee was reported on by Coun. Hiltz and passed. Coun. DeWolfe reported on behalf of the License Committee, Coun. Mitchell for Streets, and Coun. Newcombe for Water Committee. All of the reports were passed.

Chairman Newcombe reported that he had written to Watson L. Bishop of Dartmouth regarding our streets. The idea of the Council is to better the streets. The proposed cost is not known at present.

Owing to the absence of Coun. Campbell, there was no report regarding the petition from the Presbyterian church.

At the same time that the shipment was made a letter was mailed to Major Stanley Bauld, second in command of the 25th, telling him of the shipment, and asking him to see that the comforts were distributed among the men of his battalion who were in need of them.

By the same steamer a consignment of socks and mitts for the 6th Canadian Mounted Rifles were despatched.

The Windsor Plaster Co., Ltd., some time ago very generously offered the large stave mill for the quartering of soldiers of the 112th Battalion, providing the military authorities added to the interior the necessary equipment required for the occupation of the building by soldiers. The offer has been accepted and on Tuesday the carpenters began their work. The building is steam heated, of three storeys, well located for such purpose and will comfortably house 250 men.—Hants Journal.

One of the interesting events of the holiday season was the concert given for the little pupils of Miss Mildred Turner's Private School. This concert was held at the residence of Mrs. C. C. Morton who very kindly loaned her parlors for the occasion. The programme consisted of an original play arranged by Miss Turner, called "Mabel's Dream." Each little one taking for the time the part of some of the characters of children's loved story books. As "Daisy and Jenny," "Little Red Riding Hood," "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," "Daany," "Freckles," "Hans and Gretel," "Orphan Annie," "Barefoot Boy," "Hiawatha," "Little Lord Fontleroy," "Buster Brown" and "Alice of Wonderland" gathered at the dream party. They were indeed an interesting little company, and they gave a very pleasant hour's entertainment to the parents and friends who gathered to hear them. Much credit is due both teacher and pupils for such good work. This little school is becoming each year more popular with both parents and children who for any reason find it more convenient than the public school. We bespeak for Miss Turner even greater success in the future than in the past. At the close of the entertainment home made candy was sold and a collection taken, the sum of $5.00 being realized, to be given to the Red Cross Society.

ACADIA NIGHT.

The third annual celebration of "Acadia Night" was held in the Baptist Church on New Year's Eve. A large audience assembled to enjoy the exercises of the evening. Dr. H. T. DeWolfe, Principal of Acadia Seminary, delivered an able address on "Ideals of Education," and enlivened it with his usual sparkling wit and genial humor. After the singing of the "Acadia Doxology," the audience retired from the auditorium into the vestry where a social hour was spent. This room was tastefully decorated for the occasion with festoons of pine, Christmas bells, flags, and Acadia banners. A program of high order of merit was rendered. It opened with a piano duet by Mrs. W. A. and Mrs. G. C. Warren. Much appreciated solos were rendered by Mrs. Harry Ruggles, Mr. Milledge Salter and Mr. Fred Young. Mrs. W. A. Warren delighted the audience with the reading entitled "The Hazing of a Sneak." It was a most interesting story of the hazing of a freshman at Acadia some twenty-five years ago, and commanded the closest attention of the audience. College songs were sung, refreshments served, and the singing of the National Anthem brought a very enjoyable evening to a close.—Monitor.

MOTHER OF SCHOOL GIRL

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Daughter's Health.

Flover, Iowa.—"From a small child my 15 year old daughter had female weakness. I spoke to three doctors about it and they did not help her any. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had been of great benefit to me, so I decided to have her give it a trial. She has taken five bottles of the Vegetable Compound according to directions on the bottle and she is cured of this trouble. She was all run down when she started taking the Compound and her periods did not come right. She was so poorly and weak that I often had to help her dress herself, but now she is regular and is growing strong and healthy."—Mrs. MARTIN HELVIN, Flover, Iowa.

Hundreds of such letters expressing gratitude for the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished are constantly being received, proving the reliability of this grand old remedy.

If you are ill do not drag along and continue to suffer day in and day out but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a woman's remedy for woman's ills.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (consultant) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

The Serbian Army is Being Reorganized, The Forces in Albania Numbering 100,000.

Paris, January 4.—According to a Havas despatch from Athens under date of January 3, the officers of King Peter's suite at Saloniki declare that the Serbian forces concentrated in Albania, not including the Serbian detachments co-operating with the Montenegrin army, number 100,000. "These forces," adds the despatch, "are almost completely reorganized, and will be amply provided with uniforms, artillery and horses. No decision has yet been reached as to how these forces will be utilized."

King Peter of Serbia, who is stopping at the Serbian consulate in Saloniki, is expected to preside over the reorganization of the Serbian army, according to Saloniki despatches to the Havas News Agency filed January 2. The army is gradually being assembled at Saloniki.

"Billy" Sunday will undertake work of "moving" New York in January, 1917, and will devote three or four months to it. He demands a $100,000 guarantee for expenses.

NEWS FROM THE FIRING LINE.

Extracts From Letters from Trooper John C. Brown of the 6th Mounted Rifles, son of C. C. Brown, Greenwich, N. S.

Somewhere in France.
We have had a taste of real warfare. Spent a day in front line trenches along with some Scotch Canadians. For two hours in afternoon the Germans gave us some lively shell fire. You hear the boom of the gun, perhaps three miles away, then a hurling through the air, followed by a crash as the shell bursts. Luckily for us most of the shells struck in the old trench which was twenty yards behind the new one we were in. However would all crouch close to the parapet as we heard them come. The other regiment has been holding this trench for some time and had made things quite comfortable with dug outs to sleep in. They got their meat raw and each man cooked his own meals and boiled his own tea or cocoa. The dug-outs are nice and warm with a sack hanging down on the entrance so that you can light a candle inside without enemy's snipers seeing the light. Have not seen the papers for four days so can not tell how the war is going. The weather here is fairly mild, no frost yet but rains about two days out of every three. The people here seem quite sociable so we often spend evenings in the farm-houses, smoking and talking. Sometimes we sleep in tents, sometimes as now in barns. So far have had the best of health; no matter how slim the fare or cold the night, manage to get a laugh out of it. Am writing this on top of cap in haymow of barn in which we are living at present. It is very interesting going around country this way. One thing we noticed, practically all horses on the farms are white or gray colored, as these colors are not wanted for military purposes.

Have many New Minas boys enlisted?
The Prince Albert came today in good shape, thanks to the careful packing. You people do not realize what an immense amount of comfort we get out of our pipes. We go into trenches again pretty soon, this time for a longer stay, last time we were only in twenty-four hours and had no casualties. Believe we are going to have rubber boots next time as mud is sometimes deep in trenches this time of year. Yesterday morning the regiment went to see a football match played by officers of the two other regiments. In afternoon we all had a hot-water bath, some splashing a hundred of us at a time in a tank about twenty feet square. We needed it alright as lately have been washing in a brook, and as it freezes nearly every night some of the boys do not bath very often. The farmers are still harvesting their roots. Most of the roots are put in the trenches 3 feet deep then covered with earth and straw. There is no fruit grown around here, and farmers have no cellars. Roots, grain and hops are their principal crops. They put a very heavy rig for hops to run over; big poles twenty-five feet long, about thirty feet apart and heavy wire connecting them. Aeroplanes are getting to be just a usual thing to us now, hardly notice them except when they are being shelled, or see an aerial conflict. We see often four at a time. Talk about birds they are not in it for flying with the aeroplanes. Often they go so high they are out of sight behind the clouds. Have seen hundreds of shell fired at them but so far have not seen any brought down. You ought to see the queer waggon farmers use here, three wheels usually, two behind and a small one ahead, the horses are about fifteen feet away from the waggon. When using one horse have one line to drive with, at the hames a line goes to each side of the horse's head. When want to gee, flop line on right side of horse, to haw, flop on left side. The hames and collar are all in one piece. Saw three dogs harnessed to a waggon today. Would like to drive one of their queer rigs from Wolfville to Kentville, it would make a sensation. The farmers, however, have some magnificent horses. There is practically no fruit grown in this part and good pears cost about ten cents apiece. We are getting quite used to gun fire; at night heavy reports that shake the building do not wake us. The people around here are very polite; its "Bon jour Monsieur" with everyone you meet. There must be a tremendous lot of drinking done in peace times; in towns every other house is an estaminet or inn, but as spirits are not allowed to be sold now, and we only get one franc or 20c a day there is not a great deal of drinking amongst the men. It takes most of the franc to buy tobacco with. Will look out for a German helmet, but imagine that between now and Christmas will have to look out that I do not lose my own cocoon. Say, you would be surprised to see how used the farmers here are to the war. Yesterday I saw a man calmly plowing away, hour after hour, when shells were hurling through the air over him and falling in a village a short way off. Horses too soon get used to big gun fire. The other evening saw the remains of what was one of the hunting lodges of the Belgian Kings. They say it was a pretty place before the war, but now the roof has been blown off and there are great holes in the walls. Have seen where elm trees as big as the biggest one in front of our house, have been cut off a few feet above the ground by a single big shell. We have a very comfortable billet now, the best since leaving England and very little sickness. It is hard to get anything interesting to read here. The stores are small and poorly stocked also things are very high. Had to give 16 cents for a "Punch" that you get in England for two cents.

Somewhere in France, December 6th.

We got back to billet last night after eight days in front and support trenches. Believe we stay five days for a rest before going back. This certainly seems a lucky regiment, only three men wounded, none of them fatally. Did not find it as bad as expected. Only trouble the last 3 days was with a lot of water in the trenches. Some morning found that it had risen to our dug-outs where we sleep and our feet would be in a pool of it. The dug-outs are like caves the floor two feet above bottom of trench. Our troop was in support trench about sixty yards behind front line, and the trench is badly out of repair a lot of it having caved in from heavy rains. Next time we shall go in front line, another troop taking our place in support. Rifle-fire seems tame and harmless after shell fire. One night about twelve o'clock had it quite warm, a shell burst very near and two big pieces struck the galvanized tin over our dug-out, made us jump. Next shell made a great hole in ground close by. Then, swish, felt the rush of air from the third which however did not burst. Every evening as soon as it got dark our troop walked a mile to get rations for the squadron. All through the night both sides shoot flare bombs so as to guard against attack. Very pretty the rockets look too making great arcs of light against the dark sky. There's one thing that we notice, that is, it seems to make a great difference what German regiments are in opposite trenches. The first six days we could go out in broad daylight and rustle for firewood in plain sight of the enemies' trenches, which were a hill about four hundred yards away, and very seldom get fired at. The last two days, however, things changed, had to follow along ditches and keep under cover where possible. They say, the Prussian Guards had relieved the former Germans. Anyway things had changed. Perhaps it was that the latter lot were better shots than the first.

MONTENEGRIN FORCES HAVE TAKEN VLOKA

Inflict Severe Losses on Austrians Who Were Forced to Retire in the Vicinity of Roza.

PARIS, January 1.—An official Montenegrin communication, given out here tonight, reports successes over the Austrians, who are said to have sustained heavy losses. The statement follows:

"On the northern front on December 30, there were engagements with artillery.
"On the eastern front, in the vicinity of Roza, we attacked the enemy, who was compelled to retire. We occupied Vloka. Toward Rogava, we repulsed the enemy, inflicting heavy losses and capturing horses and munitions. The Austrians occupied Bogicevic, near Plava, where we had only a small detachment.
"On the western front there was a lively duel. In the region of the Gulf of Cattaro, there was fighting among outposts, in which the enemy sustained serious losses."

Fletcher Trimmer Found Dead in Woods.

The body of Fletcher Trimmer, of Clementsvale, was found in the woods south of Kingston on Sunday morning, a short distance from camp No. 12 of the Davidson Lumber Co. Trimmer worked in the camp and was last seen on December 24th. An inquest is to be held tomorrow morning before Coroner Frank Palmer, of Kingston. The deceased had for a couple of days before he left camp, been carrying his belongings through the woods towards Tremont and returning at night to camp. The body was only a short distance from the camp when found and the appearances were that he had stumbled and struck his head against a log. He probably was stunned and died from cold.

Several Infectious Diseases Prevalent.

(Issued by the Department of the Public Health, Nova Scotia.)

A variety of infectious conditions are very prevalent in several parts of our province just now, notably diphtheria, measles, whooping cough, influenza and pneumonia. Previous bulletins have discussed most of these diseases from the stand point of prevention. It is felt, however, that the present situation is so serious as to warrant another reference to the means to be adopted to limit the spread of these affections.

It will be noted that all five of these diseases involve more particularly the organs of respiration. The infectious element is given off, not so much in the breath as in the spray ejected from the mouth and nostrils in the acts of coughing and sneezing and in the discharges from the throat and nose. It is, consequently, most important that the nose and mouth of a patient suffering from any of these conditions be carefully covered with gauze or old linen while coughing or sneezing, that the discharges from throat and nostrils be received on similar materials, and that bits of cloth so soiled be promptly burned or placed in a strong disinfectant solution.

One is most apt to become infected where one is brought into contact with a large number of people. Every crowd is likely to contain someone who is just developing or is just recovering from one or other of these diseases—or who is a "carrier." If the crowd is gathered in a hot, stuffy room or other enclosed place, the liability to infection is increased, especially if one must pass from such a place into the cold outdoor air without being suitably wrapped.

Unnecessary exposure to infection by association with anyone likely to transmit any of these diseases should, of course, be avoided. Crowds, especially indoor crowds, should be avoided. Proper ventilation of houses places of business, and all places where people assemble, should be insisted on. Over heating of such places should not be permitted.

Those who suffer from any illness involving the respiratory system should realize that carelessness on their part may lead to a widespread and possibly very fatal epidemic. A physician should be consulted, in order that a proper diagnosis may be made. The greatest difficulty in the control of these conditions is the fact that many people continue to go about mingling with others although actually suffering from an infectious disease, the real nature of which is not recognized because a doctor has not been consulted. If you won't consult a doctor for your own sake, do it the sake of others!

Anything which tends to reduce one's general health renders one especially liable to infection. Hence at such a time as this one should be particularly careful to avoid any cause for ill health. Excesses of any kind, and the abuse of the body in any way, should be rigidly abstained from.

As young children are not more susceptible to infection but more liable to succumb than adults, it follows that special care should be taken to avoid the exposure of young children to any infectious disease.

Should anyone be unfortunate enough to develop any of these diseases, it should be the aim of those caring for him to provide him with plenty of air. He should occupy a large, well-lighted and well ventilated room. Lack of sufficient air space is a serious hindrance to recovery from infections involving the organs of respiration.

It should not be forgotten that all diseases of an infectious nature should be reported to the Medical Health Officer and the Local Board of Health both by the householder in whose house such a disease develops and by the physician in attendance. Failure to comply with this requirement constitutes not only a violation of the law, punishable by fine, but must be regarded also as unpardonable neglect of a simple precautionary measure, intended as a safeguard to the community, which may result most disastrously.

"In the direction of Hamadan (Persia) southwest of the town of Azadabad, we attacked a body of five hundred Persian Gendarmes and drove them back toward the village of Chena, north of Kan'uwur, killing dozens of rebels and capturing prisoners and supplies. We suffered no losses."

On the first of January our detachment holding Hamadan rendered military honors to the British flag which was hoisted over the British consulate."

"In the region of Ozartorysk (in Volvylia, Russia), and on the Upper Stripa, we repulsed enemy attempts to approach our trenches. The enemy sustained heavy losses."

"Northeast of Czolnowitz (Bukowina) the fighting continues with unabated energy our forces continuously advancing, despite numerous enemy counter-attacks. The enemy losses have been very great.
