The Evening Mercury

WEDNESDAY EVEN'G, JAN. 2, 1878.

Mr. Hart Retires from the Reeveship.

To the Electors of Guelph.

GENTLEMEN,—I think it right to inform you as early as possible that I am not a candidate for the position of Reeve this year. I intended to have retired before the expiration of the hour allowed for doing so on the nomination day, but delayed till too late. I desire also to express my thanks for the confidence you have shown in me for the past two years, and to thank the many gentlemen who have come to me with hearty offers of support during the last few days.

Under all the circumstances however, I do not think it advisable for me to contest the Reeveship this year. Again thanking you for your generous support both now and in the past, and wishing you the compliments of the season,

I am, yours respectfully,

WILLIAM HART.

Guelph an 2, 1877.

Not a Candidate.

To the Editor of the Mercury.

DEAR SIR,—Permit me, through the columns of your paper, to announce to the electors of the West Ward, that I am not a candidate for Municipal favors. I was not present at the nomination, nor did I authorize any person to use my name in connection with the approaching contest. I therefore resign in favor of the other candidates.

Yours very respectfully,

HENRY HATCH.

Guelph, Jan. 2, 1878.

Mr. McLagan's Speech on Monday.

To the Editor of the Mercury.

SIR,—Finding that your reporter did not correctly catch my remarks at the nomination on Monday, and as many are anxious to know our position financially I trust you will grant me a short space in your journal to recapitulate the same.

No matter how Messrs. Howard and Melvin may endeavor to twist figures to shield their shortcomings, I repeat, and I appeal to the financier by whom they and many others swear—Mr. Geo Elliot—for the figures are his own productions vide his report, March 17, 1877, that the deficit from 1876 was about $9,000. I have nothing to do with how this large sum is made up; there the figures stood and this Council had to pay them off. Then Mr. Howard's "Contingent Account" of $1,935 for 1876, I might be interesting to many of the electors to know from him how he makes up such a large amount and so conveniently appropriates the same under the head of "Contingencies." Mr. Howard, by way of comparison, says that of 1877 is only $1,830 and embraces $1,000 to St. John sufferers, $480 50th anniversary; $389 entertaining Legislature. These being all "special" expenditures I have classified them as grants. These are items which must necessarily stand by themselves and I am not aware that any such were expended in 1876. I further state that the assessment roll of 1876 produced $49,018; that of 1877 $57,114 32, an increase of $8,096.52. The total expenditure for 1877, I have estimated at $103 3:0 and revenues from all sources at $9,000, an apparent deficiency of $14,700, or an addition of $5,000 to deficit increase of 1876. This year's Council have paid the following sums in excess of that of last year. Debenture debt, $3,50?; County rate $975,-35; School Board, $8.00?; Relief Committee $1,-0.0; increase on salaries account $ 00. In my estimates for expenditure I have included $2,500 to committees which may have exceeded their appropriations; $800 to collector; $800 for remissions and law expenses, and the deficiency is practically as I have stated it. Financially we are not so bad off as many would lead the ratepayers to suppose. Our town has increased rapidly during the past few years, increasing both our expenditure and receipt accounts. The schedule can be faithfully carried out and fully completed next year, if the incoming Council are at all prudent, careful men, as I trust they will be. A little over $11,000 is still required to be expended on our streets which has nothing done to them.

For various reasons I must decline being a candidate for any municipal office this year. I am thankful to my many friends for their kindly tendered support on this as on past occasions. Feeling that I have discharged my duties in accordance with my oath of office, fearless of Grit or Tory, Catholic or Protestant, irrespective of my nationality, never endeavoring to curry favor with any class or individual, but carrying out, what I believed, my own views, which were, on every occasion, for the interest and prosperity of our good town, I leave the work to be done by others, with the hope that they may be actuated by the same honest motive as I have always been during the many years I have sat as the Council Board. Respectfully yours, &c.,

J. C. MCLAGAN.

Guelph, January 2, 1878

Second Deputy Reeveship.

To the Electors the Town of Guelph:

GENTLEMEN,—Having been nominated for Second Deputy-Reeve for the Town of Guelph, for 1878, I may, at the urgent solicitation of a number of ratepayers, decided to allow my name for the office. I have had seven years' experience in the various positions in the Council, and if elected will, as I have done heretofore, use my best efforts to advance all measures which I consider for the benefit of our good Town, and at the same time oppose all unnecessary expenditure. I therefore respectfully solicit your votes and influence in favor of my election, and remain your obedient servant,

RICHARD MITCHELL.

YOUNG People's Association meets on Friday evening at St. Andrew's Church.

VENNOR'S ALMANAC.—Mr. T. J. Day has sent us a copy of this now popular almanac. Copies for sale at Day's bookstore.

THE Guelph Cornet Band promenaded yesterday, much to the entertainment of citizens on various streets.

REV. DR. MCVICAR will deliver an address on French Evangelization at Chalmer's Church this evening.

NORTH WARD.—Mr. George Hood wishes it to be announced that he will not be a candidate in the North Ward, and requests his friends not to vote for him.

EVERLASTING FLOWERS.—We advise all our readers to inspect the magnificent display of flowers now on exhibition at Mr. Marcon's seed store. They are without exception the finest we have ever seen.

ON SABBATH AFTERNOON, January 6th, a special sermon will be preached in St. George's Church to the Sabbath School children to which adults are invited. To commence at three o'clock.

To have cranberries plump and firm stew them for twenty minutes, allowing a half cup of water and two cups of sugar to each quart of fruit. Do not stir them while they are cooking.

CONVICTS SENT TO THEIR QUARTERS.—Patrick Kelly, the Maryboro cattle thief, was taken to Kingston on Monday where he will remain for two years. The young lad, Davidson, tobacco thief, has been removed to the Central Prison, where he will be employed at hard labor during the ensuing six months.

I. O. O. F.—On Monday evening the following officers were elected by Reliance Lodge:

Bro. Wm. Bourne, N. G.
" J. B. Clyde, V. G.
" Robt. McKenzie, R. S.
" John Henderson, P. S.
" John Read, Treas.

Installation at next regular meeting.

WATCHNIGHT SERVICES.—On New Year's eve services were held in the Norfolk and Dublin street Methodist Churches. In the former Revs. E. B. Ryckman and Thos. Wardrope conducted the services, which consisted of short addresses, singing of hymns and prayer. In the latter church the service was a similar one and was conducted by the Rev. Thos. Brock.

DRAMATIC ENTERTAINMENT.—This evening the drama, entitled "A Family of Martyrs," will be reproduced by special request by the members of the G.G.L. and D.S. in the hall of St. Ignatius College. The scenery, which was painted by Prof. Albert, is exceedingly fine, and the costumes are very rich and appropriate. A crowded house may be expected. Tickets may be obtained at Day's bookstore, or from the members.

NEW BROKERS' OFFICE.—Messrs. Howitt & Kerr, two gentlemen well known in Guelph, are about opening a private bank in the Wellington Hotel Block, Upper Wyndham street, where they will do a general banking, exchange, and insurance business. The parties are thoroughly business men, Mr. Kerr being late manager of the bank of Montreal here, and no doubt a large business will be built up by them.

POLICE COURT.—Robert Peek, proprietor of the Queen's Hotel, was adjudged innocent of the charge of keeping a disorderly house. The case was dismissed without costs. John Joslin and John Thomas, charged with behaving in a manner not becoming "a gentleman and a scholar," but judges of good whiskey, and with creating a disturbance on Monday evening last, acknowledged that they were guilty, and as a matter of course, were sorry for it. The magistrate considered that they would be happier in gaol than out of it, and in consequence, sent them up for a month each.

FIREMAN'S BALL.—The annual festivity arranged for by the Guelph Fire Brigade, took place in the Town Hall, on New Year's eve. There was a very large number present—some seventy couples, and the dancing was kept up to the inspiriting strains of Mr. Vale's quadrille band until six o'clock the first morning of the new year. As the clock commenced tolling the hour of midnight, "Auld Lang Syne" was played by the band. The supper was provided by Mr. W. Newport, who ably sustained his reputation for catering on such occasions. The firemen can be congratulated on the success of their annual ball.

PIGEON MATCH.—A shooting match took place near the Silver Creek Brewery on New Year's day, between sides captained by Geo. Sleeman and J. Turnbull, each marksman having ten birds each. Mr. Sleeman made the largest score, killing seven out of ten. The score follows:

Geo. Sleeman	1	1	1	0	0	1	1	1	1	0—7
C. Root	1	0	0	0	0	1	0	1	1	—4
W. Cull	1	0	1	1	0	1	1	0	1	0—6

ROBBERY OF SILKS.—On Friday night last burglars were at work in town, and they succeeded in securing $100 worth of silks. Upper Wyndham was the last scene of operations previous to the one in question, when Mr. Geo. Jeffrey lost some $2,000 worth of goods, and the same portion of Wyndham street, although not the same store, was the centre of attraction for some knight of the jimmey on this occasion. The name of the loser of the property is at present suppressed, in the interests of justice. On Saturday morning the clerks noticed that the silks were displaced, and on making an examination, it was found that about $100 worth were missing. Entrance had evidently been made by the front door by some parties in possession of a key, as no marks of a forcible entrance could be observed. The police have the matter in hand, and it is likely more will be heard about the affair.

A CURIOUS FACT.—That in severe chronic cases which have proved the most obstinate to other medicines, Wilson's Wild Cherry gives immediate relief and effects a speedy cure. It has no equal for Coughs, Colds, Coryza, Bronchitis, Loss of Voice, Catarrh, Whooping Cough, or Croup. Sold by W. G. Smith; Herod & Co's, and druggists generally.

ERAMOSA.—Mr. Wm. Duffield request us to state that he will not on any consideration be a candidate for councillor for Eramosa next year.

AGRICULTURAL MEETINGS.—The South Wellington Agricultural Society will meet on Wednesday, the 16th instant, at one o'clock. The Guelph Township Society will be held on Thursday, the 10th instant, at two o'clock, p.m.

MR. JOHN MILLS was presented with a very handsome tea set on Monday evening last, by a number of his friends on the eve of a very important event in connection with his life.

SOUTH WARD.—Mr. O. Clark wishes to announce that it is not his intention to run for the office of Councillor for this ward, and he wishes his friends to refrain from voting for him.

NORTH WARD MEETINGS.—All electors in the North Ward should not fail to attend the meeting called by Mr. Elliott for this evening, over the meat shop of Mr. W. J. Fairbank, at the Eramosa bridge, to commence at half-past seven o'clock.

THE LATE CONCERT.—The proceeds of St. George's concert, after paying all expenses, which were very large, leaves a balance of $75. The whole of the Committee are to be congratulated for their strenuous efforts in making the affair such a success, both as regards satisfation to those who were present at the concert, as well as financially. It is probable this sum will be added to the Benevolent Fund in connection with the Society.

THE MORRISTON LARCENY CASE.—On Monday the prisoner Jacob Stremple was brought before Judge Macdonall, charged with the larceny of a pair of hall back straps and a whip in, Morriston. He was convicted for stealing the straps and sentence deferred. The charge of stealing the whip stands over, there being a variance in regard to the time of taking the whip between the accusation and evidence before the magistrate, and the evidence submitted to His Honor. Mr. H. W. Peterson, for the crown; Mr. A. H. Macdonald for the prisoner.

HILLSBURG CORRESPONDENCE.—A very successful soiree, considering the unpleasant weather and unfavorable state of the roads, was held in St. Andrew's Church on the evening of Friday, the 21st. An excellent tea was served at 7 o'clock, after which, the chair being taken by the pastor, addresses that were highly appreciated by the audience were delivered by the Revs. Wm. Millican, of Dundas, Anderson, of Hillsburg, and A. Gilray, of Toronto. These proceedings were interspersed by some beautiful pieces of music, well rendered by the choir of the church, assisted by Mr. Fletcher, of Orangeville. On Saturday evening the children of the Sunday school were entertained by the teachers and others, with tea, suitable addresses and music.

SERIOUS FALL.—This (Wednesday) morning an infant son of Mr. David Cook met with a very serious accident. The nurse girl, Mary McTague, who had charge of the child, in coming down the back staircase in Cook's Hotel on York street with the baby in her arms, made a misstep and was precipitated head foremost down the steps some twelve feet. The door at the bottom was closed, and she was suddenly stopped by it, the infant being underneath. Mr. Cook was in the dining room at the time and he at once rushed to see what was the matter. On opening the staircase door it was found that the nurse girl was partially stunned, but had not received any serious injuries. The child however fared much worse. It must have struck its head against the edge of the bottom step, as a scalp wound some six inches in length was found on one side of its head. Dr. Herod sewed the gaping wound up, and no serious results are anticipated.

CURLING.—On New Year's day considerable curling took place on the ice at Emslie's quarry. The playing on the whole was very good for the opening of the season. There was a little water on the ice. The competition between the rinks follows:

AN UNWELCOME NEW YEAR'S GIFT.—Few are the gifts at this particular season of the year that the recipients are unwilling to tender thanks for. Still such has happened, and in consequence of its having become a matter of history, it is worthy of a passing notice. Few mothers there are that will desert their offspring, unless driven to it by dire necessity, and when such occurs the party who can lay claim maternity to a deserted child, is perhaps more to be pitied than blamed. But to the case in question. On New Year's eve, about half past nine o'clock, rapping, loud and continuous, was heard at the door of Mr. George Balkwill, grain dealer, Gordon street. The lady of the house answered the call as soon as possible; but imagine her consternation and surprise when on opening the door a faint wail greeted her ears, and on looking down to her feet saw in a basket an infant boy wrapped in a shawl, faded and worn, and evidently the property of a very poor person. No person was in sight, and the party who left it—no doubt the mother—had evidently hurried away after rapping at the door. The child, evidently a few weeks old, was taken in, warmed before a cheerful fire and comforted. On the return of Mr. Balkwill to his home, he sent word to Chief Constable Kelly, informing him of what had taken place, and asking him to provide for the little stranger. The Chief informed him that the child had better be taken care of at his house until the town should provide an asylum for it, or the mother who had deserted her charge had been found out. This was acceded to, and the child is now crowing and laughing at the hearthstone of one who would rather it were otherwise. Among other white elephants that the town has now to shoulder in the year of grace 1878, is the child of the corporation. Some retiring Mayor might be honored by having the baby boy named out of respect to his memory.

MR. ELLIOTT'S LETTER.—We are obliged to leave over a letter from Mr. George Elliot. It will appear to-morrow.

JANUARY CATTLE FAIR was poorly attended to day. Few animals offering. Prices ranging from $4 to $5 per cwt. for sales effected.

BIBLE SCENES.—The magic lantern entertainment, which was to have come off on Tuesday evening, in the Good Templars' Hall, was unavoidably postponed, but will take place on Thursday evening, in the B. M.E. Church.

SALE OF PROPERTY.—Jacob S. Goold, of the Town of Guelph, sold to John Fielding of Guelph, lot eight, on the first con, Township of Eramosa, for four thousand and eight hundred dollars cash.

PRESENTATION TO REV. D. STRACHAN.—A few days ago the congregation of Erin, through Mr. R. Wood of Erin, their Treasurer, presented the Rev. D. Strachan, Rockwood, with the sum of fifty dollars, as a mark of their appreciation of his services as Moderator of their Session during the vacancy.

WEST WARD.—In the West Ward nominations the name of Mr Wm. Hart was left out, and Mr. McLagan's name put in twice. Mr Hart was nominated as Councillor by Mr. McLagan, seconded by Rev. W. F. Clarke.

THERE are nine prisoners in the gaol at Guelph, awaiting removal to the Central Prison, to work out their several terms of imprisonment. Nearly all tramps.

MR. D. GUTHRIE, M.P., met with an accident on New Year's eve, being pitched out of his buggy on the Eramosa Road, while returning home. Just after he had crossed the iron bridge, he met some party driving a buggy, and at once turned out as far as possible. The other party continued in the centre of the road, and in passing Mr. Guthrie, the front wheels of the vehicle became locked, and Mr. Guthrie was pitched over the dash-board, and one of the wheels passed over his body. About the only injury he received was a bruised hand.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—A fatal accident occurred at the Great Western station at Brantford, on Saturday night, R Moffatt, brakesman, being instantly killed. Deceased was on the last train of the Wellington, Grey and Bruce Railway. After the train had been left in its place for the night, it is supposed Moffatt went and opened the switch for the engine, and then jumped on the engine as it was backing up, missed his foot-hold and fell, the engine running over him and cutting him badly about the head. He belonged to Palmerston.

CHRISTMAS TREE AND PRESENTATION.—A very successful entertainment, got up by the teachers of St. Alban's (Church of England) Sunday School, was held in the Temperance Hall, Acton, on the evening of Christmas Day. Tea and refreshments, in lavish profusion, were provided for the children and their elders, and a magic lantern exhibition was given, which afforded great amusement. After the presents had been distributed from the tree, a beautiful eight day clock and bracket were presented by the members of the congregation, to the clergyman of the church, the Rev. C. R. Lee, who expressed his thanks in suitable term, after which the audience dispersed, well pleased with the evening's entertainment. The receipts at the door, which amounted to $23, will be applied to the improvement of the School Library.

ASSAULT IN NASSAGAWEYA.—A correspondent sends the following: A dastardly outrage was committed in Haltonville, Nassagaweya, on the evening of Saturday, the 22nd ult. It appears that John Barber had been down to the village, and as he was returning home, a resident of the village, R. L. Meade, made a rush at him with a club in his hand, attempting to strike him on the head uttering at the same time threats of murder. Barber partly warded off the blow with one of his arms, but was struck so hard that he was stunned for a while. A warrant was procured as soon as possible, and Meade was arrested and brought before Messrs. G. Easterbrook and S. R. Leslie, J. P's, on Monday, 24th ult. After hearing the evidence he was committed for trial at Milton for assault with intent to kill. The club that he used was secured, it being part of a pump handle with a leather strap attached to it, so that he could fasten it on his wrist. The affair has caused a great deal of excitement in the neighborhood. The prisoner was examined at the same time with regard to making threats to burn down three houses in the neighborhood, Moffat's, Halliday's, and Barber's. Witness was called on the case, stating to the best of her knowledge that she heard R. Meade's voice making such threats, but there was no positive proof, and the case was dropped for the present.

The Municipal Elections.

The all absorbing subject of discussion in town at present is the municipal elections. The nominations on Monday engaged a large measure of public attention, and since then speculation is rife as to the chances of the different candidates.

Mr. George Howard's election by acclamation to the Mayoralty is the best possible proof that could be given of his popularity with the ratepayers, and of their desire to recognize his long and valuable services as a representative at the Council Board. At the time of Mr. Howard's defeat last year, we said that the time would come when these services would be appreciated, and when he would be brought forward as the unanimous choice of the electors. This has come about sooner than we expected, but it only shows the sudden revulsion of feeling against the present Mayor, who has utterly failed to come up to the expectations formed by those who supported him last January. We cannot yet tell what sort of a Council Mr. Howard will have under him, but we feel assured that whatever may be its complexion he will discharge his duties with a dignity, impartiality, and fidelity that will gain for him the respect of all classes of the community.

Mr. Chadwick having been forced to give up all idea of succeeding to the Mayoralty for a second term, seeks to take refuge in the Reeveship, and comes out as a candidate for that office. His organ advanced a convenient excuse why he could not run for Mayor, that he could not spare the time to his duties. Such being the case, how can he spare the time to discharge the duties pertaining to the Reeveship, which, in addition to his attendance at the Town Council, will require his presence at the County Council three times a year at least, and each time extending over four days. Besides, as Reeve he would require to give his attendance at the various committee meetings of the Town Council, which he was not obliged to do as Mayor. And more than all that, he, at a previous meeting, intimated that he did not intend this year to run for any office. It is, therefore, evident that at the last moment he was thrown into the breach in order to lighten his fall, and give him a chance to make for himself a position in the County Council.

As regards his opponents we regret that two such good men as Mr. Elliott and Mr. Hart should be in antagonism, and we trust that such an arrangement will be come to before the election as will leave but one in the field as opposed to Mr. Chadwick, in which case we have no fear as to the result. The Herald's sneers at Mr. Elliott and Mr. Hart will have no weight with the electors. They are any day as good men as Mr. Chadwick is, and will do as much credit to the Town at the County Council as he will.

Mr. Sleeman, having been rather dishonourably shoved aside by Mr. Chadwick for the Reeveship, has been nominated for first Deputy. Mr. Kennedy, an old and valued representative of the Town, has been nominated against him. Several good men have been nominated for second and third Deputy Reeves, but it is doubtful if they will all stand.

There are far too many candidates for Councillors in the different Wards. The nomination of so many distracts the electors, and serves no good purpose. Far better would it be to have Ward meetings, as in old times, when the candidates could be selected without leaving it to nomination day, when there is no previous arrangement, and every man is free to nominate his friend, without considering his fitness for the office, or whether he will consent to run. This matter must be reformed in another year, for it would greatly facilitate the work of getting a good Council.

Since the above was written we have received a letter from Mr. Hart, announcing that he declines to be a candidate for Reeve. It will be found in another column.

The War News.

December 31.

A St. Petersburg special says Russia will probably consent to an armistice on the basis of the ratification of the Armenian frontier, the free passage of the Dardanells, guarantee of good administration in Bulgaria, and the independence of Roumania.

The official Vienna Evening Post says :—

There are grounds for believing that Russia will not at once reject, but will reply in suitable terms to England's enquiry, which only raises the question of peace in very general terms ; but only optimists can hope that by England's action any real foundation is secured for the conclusion of peace.

The Political Correspondence says :—

It is probable that Russia will reply that she is ready to open negotiations if the Porte directly addresses itself to St. Petersburg.

A St. Petersburg despatch says: The request of the British Government for information whether Russia would be disposed to enter into peace negotiations a: the desire of the Porte has been received If statements have been published abroad respecting the Russian answer and the conditions which she would propose for a settlement, such intelligence must be premature and inaccurate. Nothing whatever has been determined upon, though in well informed circles it is assumed that Russia will make no harsh reply to the steps taken with the object of paving the way for peace, but will show herself accessible to any earnest endeavours for the restoration of peace.

The following is stated to be the text of England's note to Russia :—

Her Majesty's Government begs to inform the Emperor that the Porte is ready to open peace negotiations. The Emperor's wisdom and repeatedly expressed love of peace justify Her Majesty's Government in the hope that he will lend a favourable ear to the Sultan's request.

Another Vienna correspondent hears that Russia has already replied to England's note that if the Turks desire an armistice they must apply direct to the Russian Commander-in Chief.

A Bucharest special says all communication between Roumania and Bulgaria is cut by the destruction of the bridges across the Danube.

Nine hundred horses perished in the vicinity of Sistova during the recent storm. The total loss of draught animals must be numbered by thousands.

A Bucharest correspondent telegraphs:—It now appears that the Czarevitch will remain in Bulgaria with Todleben as real commander. It is reported that there are 25,000 sick in Bulgaria, and that the supplies are inadequate. This number probably includes the sick among the Turkish prisoners.

Along the eastern front, namely the River Lom, the Turks have withdrawn from all their positions, leaving only small armed bodies composed of troops and inhabitants, who retired to the woods after burning their own villages.

A Bagot despatch says :—After an exceedingly difficult passage over snow covered mountains and frozen foot-paths, the vanguard of the Russian division has occupied the Balkan passes between Arabkonak and Sofia, and cavalry have already been stationed on the Sofia road. The Turks were taken by surprise, consequently the Russians lost only five wounded.

A Belgrade despatch says :—It is rumoured that the Turks retreated from Sofia after burning it, and are marching towards the Ichtiman defile to bar the Russian advance upon Tartar Bazardjik.

A Sofia special reports that a large force of Russians is already deployed on the Plain of Sofia.

A Vienna correspondent states that the Russian commanders have been instructed to receive any Turkish overtures for a truce.

A Vienna special says the peace party at Constantinople is gaining ground.

A Paris despatch asserts that the Porte has decided to accept an armistice.

A St. Petersburg telegram states that Russia will be found more moderate than commonly expected.

A Constantinople despatch says :—Fuad Pasha, who is defending the Ikhliman defile, has been reinforced. It is believed that the defile is impregnable.

An Erzeroum telegram says : A junction between Generals Melikoff and Tergukasoff south of Erzeroum is believed to be imminent.

Priceville Correspondence.

We have nearly summer weather instead of winter. Thermometer standing every day at over 50. The roads are almost impassable, and stagnation in all kinds of business reigns supreme. Merchants who were anxious to collect [illegible] months ago, now look at it impossible, at least until snow comes. However, the farmers are all busy ploughing, and doing other work which usually belongs to the spring.

At the Reform Convention for South Grey, held in Durham yesterday, Dr. Landerkin was again chosen to contest the election. We understand that Mr. Geo. Jackson, of Durham, is the choice of the Conservative Convention. He is an old politician, who has been out of Parliament for some years, and probably was invited by Mr. Geo. Jackson some months ago to offer his services to the Conservatives of South Grey, as their standard-bearer. However, his day is of the past; it will be but a little flurry and all over.

There is but little excitement over the municipal elections, and it is likely most of those now in office will be returned.

There was an Orange soiree held in the Orange Hall at Jas. Kinnell's, in Proton, which was largely attended. A choir from Priceville furnished music and singing. The edibles were all that could be desired, the speeches good, and altogether it was the most successful soiree ever held in the township.

The Baptist Sunday School gave an entertainment to the children on Xmas night. As the principal object of interest was a Christmas Tree, a large number of children were gathered together, but in the end did not seem to think that that Christmas Tree amounted to much. The entertainment was enlivened with music, and went off in a quiet manner, and I think with satisfaction to the promoters.

The people here think your County is far better off with the Crooks Act than with the Dunkin—which we have here, and is a humbug in every sense, and probably will be so until there is further legislation on it.

Priceville, Dec. 29, 1877.

Elora Correspondence.

Inspector McDonald has been at work during the past week, but has not been so successful as usual in his raids upon the Demon. Boniface Fladd, of Salem, was brought before Cadi Barron, and a whole batch of justices, on Saturday, charged with having intoxicating liqeors in his house. Several witnesses swore that they had been refused liquor when applying for it, since the first of May last, when Fladd commenced to keep a temperance house; and the jolly landlord further proved his innocence through his son, who swore that his father had strictly instructed him not to sell grog to anybody. To make the matter still clearer, two of the worthy magistrates sitting on the bench solemnly assured the Court that they had tempted Fladd to let them have a little drop, and that he had sternly refused. After that the Court quickly decided that Inspector McDonald had aroused the wrong passenger, and host Fladd left the room "without a stain upon his character."

The improvements in the Elora Mills are now completed, and Mr. James Hortop can pride himself upon possessing machinery capable of turning out a large daily average of work in first-class style. He has made arrangements for gristing and chopping, in addition to the usual flouring business, and this will prove not only a convenience to farmers, but a great advantage to the village. Many are now bringing wheat to Elora from beyond Rothsay and Arthur, and the faces of old friends, lost to us for a time, are re-appearing on our streets.

Some parties conveyed intelligence to the Excise officers of the district, a short time ago, that the manufacture of the ardent was carried on in a prominent building on Metcalf street, and on Friday evening Messrs. McLean, Nicholls, Kennedy, and several constables surrounded the suspected premises. A strict search resulted in the discovering of two or three vinegar barrels, a well-stocked larder, and something to drink, obligingly shown to the officials by their amused proprietor, but the still hunt was a decided draw in that Happy Land.

Dunkinites from Garafraxa now frequently make their appearance in Elora, and many more are expected. Before they unhitch at the taverns, they cautiously ask whether Dunkinites are subject to a discriminating tariff, and are invariably told that one man is as good as another in Elora, as long as he behaves himself.

A few days before Christmas one of our leading fleshers shipped a lot of poultry to Toronto, addressed to one Douglas, a dealer in such articles. He received in payment therefor a cheque to the amount of nearly $50. It was returned for collection, and came back marked "no funds." It seems that there are two men named Douglas in the provision business in Toronto, and that No. 2 is treating upon the good name of No. 1. As No. 2 has played this scurvy trick upon others than the Elora flesher, it is well to be on the outlook for his orders.

The Rev. A. D. McDonald, pastor of Knox Church here, had a narrow escape on Christmas night. Returning from the discharge of a pleasing official task, at the residence of Mr. Hugh Roberts, his horse plunged into a gully in the road, and the rev. gentleman was suddenly ejected from his buggy. Fortunately Mr. McDonald is a good horseman, and, although he drives a spirited animal, he had the frightened brute under immediate control, and escaped with no more damage than a few bruises.

The municipal nomination in Elora yesterday resulted in a batch of candidates for the position of Councillors from amongst whom the ratepayers will have an opportunity to choose. More than twenty gentlemen were named, but the following are those who will go to the polls:—Messrs. John Waddell, (carpenter), John Gibb, James A. Smith, Francis Dalby, J. M. Fraser, Alexander Carter, Thomas Johnson, and James Foote. Mr. Hugh Hamilton will be opposed for the Reeveship by Mr. John Godfrey. None of the old Councillors offered for re-election, and all declined nomination.

In Pilkington Mr. Hugh Roberts was re-elected Reeve by acclamation. Two of the old Councillors, Messrs. George Swan and James Ross, are candidates for the Deputy-Reeveship. For the three other seats at the Council Board, Messrs. Henry Fetmore, Francis Murdock, John Kelleher, and Thomas Marshall are in the field. There was a good deal of cross-firing about the management of municipal affairs, and Mr. C. Allan had more sympathizers than at the meeting reported last week.

The fact that our monthly fair and New Year's Day came to-gether, compelled our business men to open their stores this morning. It was a matter of necessity, in the opinion of some, and where a few leads in such matters, all must follow. The attendance of sellers and buyers was slim, and not many coppers would have been lost had the shutters remained up. Soon after noon business places were closed.

LOAN AND AGENCY COMP'Y,

LIMITED.

Authorized Capital—$5,000,000.

THE Company's special system of Loans affords to borrowers, and especially to Farmers, the following most important advantages:—

1. The borrower is NOT OBLIGED to repay any part of the principal until the whole term of the mortgage has run.

2. He has the RIGHT (after the first year) to repay at any time, the whole or any part of the Loan, without prior notice to the Company.

3. No extra charge, bonus or otherwise, is exacted on such repayment.

4. He is requested when making application for the Loan, to state the day on which he wishes interest to be made payable. He thus can stipulate for a date say after harvest, or at such time as is likely to be most convenient for him.

5. Interest can be made payable once a year—not in advance.

6. On repayment of any part of the principal, interest on such amount immediately ceases.

BOOTS AND SHOES

He was waiting for her in the parlor the other evening, when her little brother came cautiously into the room, and gliding up to his side, held out a handful of something, and earnestly enquired, 'What's them?' 'Those,' he relpied solemnly, taking one in his fingers, 'Those! why, Johnny, those are beans.' 'There!' shouted the boy to his sister who was just coming in, 'I knew you lied, you said he didn't know beans, and he does too. Do your Spectacles Suit your Eyesight?

If not, you should at once get them exchanged for a pair that will, for nothing is more injurious to to the sight than using glasses which are misfitted. If they are too strong or too weak there is a continual strain upon the nerves and cords of the eye, creating an inflammation which will, if you continue using the misfitted pair, ruin the eyesight altogether. Many merchants who sell spectacles know little or nothing about the principles of fitting the eyes, and you are therefore liable to buy a wrong pair just because they seem to suit when you first try them on, which, after wearing for an hour or so, will "draw" until it is painful to wear them. From my study of the eye, and long experience in selling spex, I can safely affirm that more eyesights are destroyed by wearing improperly fitted glasses than from any other cause. I have an instrument invented by Kent Brothers, Toronto, which proves to a certainty what number of lense you should use, with which I will be pleased to test anyone who desires it, without any charge.

service that has ever yet been, the Church appearing as if filled with an ordinary Sunday congregation. Miss Geddes played the "Dead March," in her usual exquisite manner, at the commencement of the service. This was followed by Hymn 328—"A few more years shall roll." Then an impressive address on the teachings of the past year, and an appropriate prayer. This was followed by the special hymn for New Year's eve, 88—"Days and moments quickly flying," which we never heard sung with better effect. Then there was a call to silent prayer, the Canon urging all present to lay, like Hezekiah of old—his trouble before the Lord, his besetting sin, his secret sorrow, the cross he was called to bear, praying to Him that of His infinite mercy He may remove it, or else give us grace to bear it patiently. All knelt down for a few moments and there was a dead silence that was most impressive. The new year having now opened, the grand Hymn of Thanksgiving, 285, "O Lord of Heaven, and earth and sun," was sung. Then an address on the future and our duties. Speaking of the aspect of affairs in the old country, he spoke of the dark and gloomy shadows from the old year projected forward into the new, that it may be more wonderous events will soon evolve themselves as the future becomes the present than those which have already startled and convulsed the world in the year past, and that God only knows how deeply interwoven our mother country, and we ourselves may be involved in them. The Canon then dwelt on the teachings of the church service for the day, that we should continually mortify all evil and corrupt affections. Then "O Paradise" was sung, and prayer and the benediction concluded this very pleasing and interesting service.

TEMPERANCE SOCIAL IN GUELPH TP.—The Good Templars of Farmer's Home Lodge, held their annual social in the school house, Section No. six, on Friday evening the 21st inst., and it was in every way a great success. Quite a number from the Rockwood Lodge were present, besides a goodly number from Beaver Lodge, Guelph. After a sumptuous tea had been served, Mr. Wm. Gibson was called to the chair, and discharged his duties in his usual pleasant and able manner. A very lengthy and interesting programme was then gone through with. The parties taking part in it being the Miss. Strange, Messrs. Collinge, Hewat and McCarthy, of Rockwood, and Misses. Mack, Roper and Shaw, Messrs. Roper, Wheeler and Keys of Guelph, all of whom acquitted themselves in an admirable manner. The acting of Ten nights in a barroom, by a number of the gentlemen from Rockwood, was no doubt the best thing of the evening, being admirably acted all through. Rev. Mr. Howie, of Guelph, was also present, and delivered a very interesting address, after which the singing of "God save Queen" brought this really successful and pleasant social to an end.

A CANADIAN HEROINE.—There is living at Walsingham, Ont., about forty miles from London, a real heroine. Her name is Abigail Rory. A former resident of that city says that about twenty years since an American vessel was wrecked off Long Point on Lake Erie, and the entire crew, composed of seven persons, were rescued one by one by this brave woman. Shortly after this event a subscription was started and a farm of 200 acres was presented to her and her children. Besides this a gold medal was struck and given her with a suitable inscription, and this is thought highly of by the family. At present she is about fifty years of age, and is remarkably fine looking and strong.

Restored to Complete Health.

BROCKS, Mc., Sept., 7th, 1870.

DEAR SIR,—From early youth I was in feeble health, troubled with humor in my blood, weakness and debility of the system generally; was unable to labor much, and only at some light business, and then only with great caution.

Seven years ago, the past Spring, I had a severe attack of Diphtheria, which left my limbs paralyzed and useless, so I was unable to walk or even sit up. Noticing the advertisement of PERUVIAN SYRUP, I concluded to give it a trial, and to my great joy soon found my health improving. I continued the use of the SYRUP until three bottles had been used, and was restored to complete health, and have remained so to this day.

I attribute my present health entirely to the use of PERUVIAN SYRUP, and hold it in high estimation. I cannot speak too highly in its praise. I have in several cases recommended it in cases very similar to my own with the same good results.

Yours truly, CHARLES E. PEARCY.

NORTH WARD

GENTLEMEN:

In deference to the wishes of a number of ratepayers, that wish being further pressed by the unsolicited nomination of me as a candidate for Councillor for the North Ward, I have great pleasure in announcing my acceptance of that nomination, believing that you will support me, not because I have been tried and found wanting, neither because untried, although no doubt my opponents will endeavour to establish that fact. I hold that my private career has been such, and your estimation of it such as to give the denial to that fact. I believe, farther, that your esteem will yet manifest itself in a more substantial manner by securing my election by your influence and the record of your votes at the polls. That there has been useless and injudicious expenditure in the past all will admit, but the question for the present, after the expression of censure that has been passed on their conduct, is not the inactivity and do-nothingism recommended by some of our retiring lights, but on the contrary, the activity of judicious men, and strict economy. Being convinced that you will take into consideration my claims for your suffrage, I have the honor to be, gentlemen, your obedient servant,

To the Electors of the Town of Guelph:

GENTLEMEN,—Having been nominated for Second Deputy-Reeve for the Town of Guelph, for 1878, I have, at the urgent solicitation of a number of ratepayers, decided to run for that office. I have had eleven years' experience in the various positions in the Council, and if elected will, as I have done heretofore, use my best efforts to advance all measures which I consider for the benefit of our good Town, and at the same time oppose all unnecessary expenditure. I therefore respectfully solicit your votes and influence in favor of my election, and remain your obedient servant,

The War News.

January 2.

A St. Petersburg despatch says the prevalent conviction there is that the success of England's mediating action depends upon the spirit in which it may have been made. It is thought in official circles that such an effort should proceed from the standpoint that the peace conditions must be consonant with Russia's dignity and sacrifices, and it is believed that England cannot overlook this consideration.

A London despatch says a Cabinet Council will be held to-day, it is believed, to consider the Russian reply to the English Note, which, though not yet authoritatively published, is reiterated this morning from various quarters, and generally accepted as accurate. The reply, as reiterated, is substantially that if the Turks desire an armistice they must apply directly to the Russian Commander-in-Chief.

A Times' leader says:—

Russia has entered into no controversy with England. Her answer is really addressed to Turkey. To suppose that England should feel herself rebuffed because the Porte has been invited to send an Envoy to the Russian Commander-in-Chief would be to raise the suspicion that our Government has gone out of its way to provoke a quarrel. Yet it would be useless to hide the existence of influence which, if unchecked would involve us in a quarrel. A section of society, with some advantages of position is using all its power to array England on the side of Turkey.

The Times this morning urges the Liberal leaders to make their views known. It says:—

Unless something entirely beyond surmise has occurred to turn the Government from the views expressed by Mr. Cross, Home Secretary, in the House of Commons last session, and by Earl Derby, Foreign Minister, to the deputation which recently waited upon him, Ministers would welcome the support which an adhesion to their views by all responsible statesmen would afford. The time for silence has passed, and the hour for speech, and for decided speech, has come.

A Constantinople special to Vienna says:—The idea of direct negotiations with Russia meets with increasing favor at the Porte. The reason why this step has not been taken is the impossibility of ascertaining Russia's conditions of peace.

The Post publishes a paragraph in official form to the effect that the Cabinet yesterday by no means assumed that Russia's answer shut the door to overtures. The paragraph points out that England when communicating the Russian answer to the Porte will be expected to accompany it with advice; therefore, it will be very natural if England before taking this step enquires what conditions the Russian Commander shall have been instructed to demand. By approaching Russia again England would be giving proof of her earnest desire to spare Europe further danger.

L' Independence Belge's despatch from Paris intimates that Turkey will probably propose an armistice on the basis of the belligerents retaining the positions they now occupy.

A Vienna correspondent says the Russian Government appears to be throwing out feelers pointing to the demolition of Turkey's Danubian fortresses as one of the conditions of peace.

A Vienna despatch says the Russians have achieved a rare feat of perseverance and endurance in crossing the Etropol Balkans, and though their force cannot be very numerous, and the whole movement seems to savour rather of a bold, adventurous raid, like General Gourko's over the Hankoi Pass than of a regular military operation, it cannot but hasten the the withdrawal of Turkish troops from the Balkan line, at any rate from the western portion. Suleiman Pasha seems to have forseen this when he took up his headquarters at Ikhliman, and to have thought that a stand made at the rallying point formed by the junction of the Rhodope and second Balkan chain might effectually bar all advance from the direction of Sofia. There is, however, a succession of parallel valleys formed by the Topolnica, the Gipso, and the Tunkja, which run to the north of Ikhliman by which a Russian column descending from the Etropol Balkans may press eastward, and uniting with forces traversing the Shipka Pass turn the position of Ikhliman and march down upon Adrianople. The only question, therefore, is, whether the Turks are strong enough to bar a descent from the Shipka Pass and hold Ikhliman with the defiles of Topolnica and Gipso at the same time. If not they must retreat still further to the east.

Great excitement is caused in London by the sensational news from the island of Crete. A number of Christian families yesterday attempted to enter Retimo, a small town on the northern coast of the island, but were prevented by the Turkish populace, who assaulted them, sparing neither men, women, nor children. After driving the Christians back, the Turks closed the gates of the town and then pursued the British vice-consul with knives until he found shelter in the house of a brother consul. The Turkish soldiers quietly stood by during the outrage. The British iron-clad Rupert arrived at Athens yesterday, and sailed last night for Retimo. It is believed that England will take possession of the island temporarily.

ST. GEORGE'S SOCIETY.—The regular monthly meeting of the members of this Society will be held at their rooms, Bank of Commerce Building to-night, (Thursday) at half-past seven. It is a matter of importance that every member should put in an appearance on this occasion, as business connected with the future prosperity of the Society will be discussed. As there seems to be some misunderstanding among other Englishmen and descendents of English who are not identified with the Society, that their presence is not wanted, we are requested to state that all such are respectfully invited to attend, and welcomed.

BREAKDOWN ON THE ERAMOSA HILL.—On Wednesday evening Mr. Jas. Battison, in the employ of Mr. David McDonald, of Eramosa, accompanied by Mr. Alex. McDonald, was driving a team of horses and waggon over the Eramosa hill. When a short distance past the residence of Mr. Jas. Massie they drove off a little to one side, and the waggon partially getting into the drain, in turning out the reach broke and the men were thrown out. Battison appeared to be partially stunned, but McDonald was uninjured. The latter unhitched the horses and drove them back to the American Hotel stables. Mr. Walter West passing shortly afterwards saw the man lying on the roadside. He at once rendered assistance, and after rousing him walked back to town with him. He was not seriously injured, but received a severe bruise on the head.

AN UNTHANKFUL PERSON.—A few days ago while Mr. E. Smyth, bookkeeper for Mr. R. Stewart, was in the Bank of Commerce transacting some business he observed several bills on the floor. He picked them up and found that they were five $4 bills on the bank of Commerce. He informed the accountant that he had found some money, and requested him to send any party who claimed to have lost any bills to him at Mr. Stewart's office. A short time after a farmer called at the bank and accused the teller of paying him $20 short on a cheque. An examination of the books was made and it was found that no such mistake could possibly have happened. The teller, knowing that Mr. Smyth had found some money, and that the money he had paid to the farmer was all in "fours," the same as had been found, sent him to Mr. Smyth. After explanations, the money was paid over to the farmer by that gentleman. Instead of expressing his thanks, when the farmer got hold of the money he openly stated that he was sure he had never lost it, but that the teller had made a mistake in paying the cheque, and rather than acknowledge his mistake, he had entered into collusion with Mr. Smyth to pay over the money in a round-about way. How very grateful some people are?

Arrangements for the Week of Prayer.

At a special meeting of the Guelph Ministerial Association, held in the house of Dr. Barrie on Monday afternoon, it was resolved that the congregations of the town be invited to unite in observing the week of prayer, beginning with the 6th inst. The following programme of meetings and services was adopted:]

Monday, 7th January—The meeting to be held in Norfolk street Methodist Church, Mr. Byckman to preside, and Messrs. Torrance and Ball to deliver addresses on the subject recommended by the Evangelical Alliance for that evening.

Tuesday, 8th—Baptist Church—Mr. Durkee to preside; Messrs. Howie and Byckman to address.

Wednesday, 9th—Knox Church—Mr. Ball to preside; Messrs. Harris and Durkee to address.

Thursday, 10th—The annual meeting of the Guelph Branch Bible Society in St Andrew's Church; Messrs. Smith and Brock to conduct devotional services. Addresses by the General Agent of the Upper Canada Bible Society, and other speakers chosen by the Committee.

Friday, 11th—Congregational Church, Norfolk street—Mr. Manchee to preside; Dr. Barrie and Mr. Wardrope to address.

Services to commence each evening at half-past seven o'clock, and each address not to exceed ten minutes in the delivery.

ROBT. TORRANCE, Sec.

French Evangelization.

At the regular prayer meeting held in Chalmers' Church last night, the Rev. Dr. McVicar, Principal of the Presbyterian College, Montreal, gave an address on French Evangelization, in which he takes a deep interest. He spoke first of the great importance of this work, seeing that about a million and a quarter, or more than a fourth of the entire population of the Dominion, were Roman Catholics. He briefly sketched the history of Jesuitism, which is gaining ground so fast in the Province of Quebec, and gradually destroying the old and comparatively liberal spirit of Gallicinism. The tyrannous spirit of Jesuitism had often led to the expulsion of those who called themselves the sons of Jesus. They were expelled from France in 1594, and recalled in 1605, from England in 1604, from Vienna in 1606, from France a second time in 1764, from Spain in 1767, from Naples in 1768. Pope Clement the 14th suppressed them in 1773. They were again driven out of France in 1830, out of Switzerland in 1848, and they all knew what Bismarck had to do in banishing them out of Germany. He then at some length went on to speak of the ruling principle that actuated the Jesuit, and that was subordination. This was an inexorable rule throughout the whole organization from the lowest to the highest. It was also shown that the ramifications of the Society extended to all classes of the community. The retreats held under their auspices, the different modes of mortifying the body by the use of knotted cords, hair shirts, etc., were fully described. The grand ruling principle of the Order was that the end justifies the means. The strength of the Order was shown in the fact that they had 29 colleges, 18 seminaries, 204 convents, besides many hospitals, and other beneficent institutions. He then went on to tell his hearers what the Protestants were doing to counteract the insidious workings of the Jesuits. And first of all they were disseminating the Bible among the French Canadian Catholics. They had forty-one missionaries in connection with the Presbyterian Church, all of whom were able to speak French. Last year the Society received $37,000 to carry on the work. This year they wanted $100,000, which could be profitably spent in many ways. As to the results, he spoke of the churches established at Stellarton, N.S., Grand Falls, N.B., in the Citadel, Quebec, in Jolliette, St. Hyacinthe, Grenville, Ottawa, St. Ann's, Kankakee, Montreal, Narnur, and other places. In the Montreal College they had sixteen students specially studying theology for work among the French Canadians. They had three ex-priests engaged in the work. Three more were hearing lectures in theology, and two more who had renounced Romanism. Thus there were eight in all who at one time held positions in the Church of Rome, but who now had renounced its teachings. The question as to how best to employ them was next considered; the heroic character of the work was dwelt on, and an earnest appeal for help in the prosecution of a mission of such vital importance to the French Canadians, to Protestants, and to the people in this wide Dominion.

How to Deal with Drunkards.

To the Editor of the Mercury.

While looking through a Montreal paper the other day, I came across a paragraph on the way the city of Salem in Oregon has of dealing with drunkenness. Thinking it would be interesting to some of your readers I cut it out, and the following is a copy of it:

"When any person becomes intemperately given to strong drink a certain number of citizens may petition to have them declared a drunkard. The petition is directed to the city Recorder, who gives notice, by publication in some daily paper, that the person named in the petition has been declared a 'common drunkard.' After such notice, it is unlawful for any one 'to give or sell to such person, or assist him in getting any wine, spirituous or malt liquor.'"

Now, Sir, would not the above be a good plan for our Council to adopt. If we had some such a law as that here, and had all who break it hauled up in the Police Court and heavily fined—the fine to be increased for each subsequent offence, then drunken men and drunken brawls would be rarely seen or heard of in Guelph.

Yours, &c.,

C. B. S.

Organization.

Mr. Elliott's Friends in the North Ward Arrange for a Canvass.

On Wednesday evening a meeting of a number of electors favorable to the return of Mr. Geo. Elliott as Reeve for 1878, was held over Mr. W. J. Fairbank's butcher shop, on the Eramosa Road.

Before the meeting commenced Mr. Geo. Hood put in an appearance, and when Mr. Biscoe asked him "Where is the other meeting?" he evidently misunderstood the question and stating that he had no desire to intrude, but if the meeting was a private one, for organization, he had been misled by a small paragraph in the DAILY MERCURY which stated that all electors should attend Mr. Elliott's meeting.

It was then shown to Mr. Hood that the advertisement in the MERCURY, asked for the attendance of electors favorable to the return of Mr. Elliott only.

After some further conversation, Mr. Hood excused himself and withdrew, every elector being satisfied that Mr. Hood was not to blame—the whole matter being a mistake.

On motion, Mr. C. F. Leonard was elected chairman and Mr. John M. Bond secretary.

Mr. Biscoe briefly addressed the meeting. He could not understand why or how Mr. Chadwick could appeal to the electors for their suffrages when he had publicly stated that he had not time to attend to the duties of a public office. While a Mayor was only an ex officio member of all committees, a Reeve would be a member of several important committees, and doubtless be selected as chairman of at least one of them. Mr. Chadwick in filling the position of Mayor for the past year had brought a certain amount of odium on the town, by the slack rein he held over the Council, and as reports of the meeting had gone abroad throughout the county, the weight he would have with the County Council would be next to nothing.

After some further conversation in regard to the best matter of organizing for the campaign, the following canvassing committee in the Ward, with power to add to their numbers, was appointed:

Messrs. Adam Robertson, sr., W. J. Fairbank, Geo. Hirst, Wm. Burgess, Jno. Inglis, James Inglis, J. M. Bond, Noah Sunley, H. H. Swinford, Chas. F. Leonard, Robert Higham, John Higham, W. H. Mills, Thos. Gould, Cornelius Edwards, W. J. Kenning, John Hogg, John Read, Wm. Watson, Alex. Watson, Herbert Gibbons, Peter Gokey, John Little, E. H. Maddock, John Crowe, Wm. Stevenson, A. Riddell, James Fairley, James U. Barry, and J. W. Dutton.

Messrs. Jos. Heffernan and F. Gauhan entered the room when it was moved that they be added to the committee to work in the interests of Mr. Elliott.

These gentlemen objected, when the chairman informed them that the meeting was not a public one called for the discussion of municipal affairs, but merely for the purpose of effecting an organization to prosecute a canvass on behalf of Mr. Elliott.

Mr. Heffernan stated that he would not pledge himself to support Mr. Elliott, neither would he be pledged to support Mr. Chadwick. He was a ratepayer in the North Ward and he considered he had a perfect right to be present to hear what was going on. He would not leave unless he saw fit.

Mr. Gauhan stated that the North Ward was the only Ward in which he was not an elector. He had casually dropped in at the meeting, and intended to remain. He had heard that a meeting was being held and had not seen the advertisement or bills calling the meeting.

Mr. Wm. Watson considered it surpassing strange that two gentlemen should wish to intrude at a meeting when they must know full well that it should of a necessity be confined to electors who were agreed in supporting one particular candidate. As for himself, he would be above remaining one moment in any room after being requested to leave.

Mr. Heffernan said he was not a spy, and he would like to know what difference it would make whether he remained and heard what was done at the meeting or hear it afterwards from some that were present. The speaker asked Mr. Elliott if he should be allowed to remain, or would he have to withdraw?

Before Mr. Elliott had time to answer, it was moved by Mr. Fairbank, and seconded, that the meeting now adjourn, and that the committee just appointed meet for the transaction of business.

All parties not members of the committee then withdrew.

Quick sales, low prices, and the very best goods obtainable, will be the rule at the popular New York Cigar Store.

Send your coal oil cans to Cameron & Thorp's to be filled. We guarantee our oil to give you satisfaction, if it does not, we will refund you your money.

The retail trade in New York during Christmas week was unusually brisk, much more so than is usual at this season of the year. Notwithstanding the cry of hard times the great retail establishments all over the city were crowded from an early hour in the morning up to the time of closing.

The wholesale trade in Montreal is entirely flat and the business of the past week has been characterized by no change from that of the week previous, continued dullness throughout being the predominant feature.

The U.S. Commissioner of Education has been collecting facts about the poor Indian, and finds that he is not so poor in numbers as is usually supposed. Major Clark, of the Bureau of Education, reports to General Eaton, that the rate of decrease is much less rapid than is generally believed, and that the theory of the speedy extinction of the race must be greatly modified.

The enforcement of the Sunday law against liquor selling in New York is now very rigid and successful on Sunday. Every device for evading the law is detected, and with strict impartiality the police do their duty. Many of the hotels now are not opened at all.

W. B. Halsted & Co report flatteringly of the holiday trade, it being better than they had any reason to believe. Their prices are certainly very low. They have made unusual efforts to procure the best goods, and at prices far below the first cost. We are glad to know that their trade is increasing, and we advise all to give the New York cigar store a trial.

Amateur Acting.

How Guelphites Represented the Early Martyrs.

Wednesday evening a large audience assembled in the hall of St. Ignatius College to witness the representation of the religious drama of Rev. Enrico Valle, S.J., of Rome entitled "A Family of Martyrs," by members of the Guelph Literary and Debating Society.

The scenery, which was painted by Mons. Albert, represented the Catacombs of Rome, the House of Severus, Tribunal of the Prefect, and the Prison, was excellent, and added largely to the general effect.

The costumes were rich and suited to the characters represented. Particularly was this so in regard to those worn by Dr. Nunan, as Demetrius, a Pagan pontiff; Valentius, Prefect of Rome, and Severus a Roman citizen.

The plot of the drama is laid in Rome, during the persecution of the early Nazarines, or Christians. The scenes portrayed show the cold-bloodiness of those in power, and who worshipped false gods; and likewise the heroic character of the primitive disciples of the God Man. These traits of suffering in the martyrs were the occasion of heroic language, firmness, and triumph by the early sufferers for the truth.

Severus, a Roman citizen, by J. H. McElderry, was an excellently portrayed character, he demonstrating a father's love, mingled with conflicting emotions, to the life. His triumphal request, to be regarded even as his sons, was a piece of good acting.

Mr. J. C. Coffee, as Sylvanus, son of Severus, felt what was due the character, and and succeeded in carrying it out most effectively.

Faustinus, a younger son of Severus, was represented by Master Carney, a boy of some twelve years, in a manner which won the admiration of all present.

Of Valentius, Prefect of Rome, Mr. J. L. Murphy, it is impossible to say to much in praise. During the progress of the play his interpretation of the different emotions required, and sometimes this meant strong passion, was very fine.

Publius, his son, Mr. W. S. Hefferman, did excellently in the trying situation of renouncing the false gods, and expressing his faith in the only living and true God. He also exhibited a very complete friendship for Sylvanus.

Asterius, a Freedman of Severus, Mr. T. Howard, was good, and the actor seemed to know his position extremely well.

Demetrius, Dr. Nunan, a pagan pontiff, was extremely well gotten up, but he did not require to do much speaking. His poses however, were evidently correct.

The other members of the society played their parts in a manner, which left nothing in the way of support to be desired.

Two errors only seem to have crept, it may have been unconsciously, into the acting of nearly all those on the stage. There was two much gesture for one thing, and the tones of the voice required to be modulated somewhat more. But with these exceptions representation was almost perfect.

Presentation to Mr. E. W. Klotz.

On Wednesday evening a number of friends of Mr. Emil W. Klotz, who for a number of years has been connected with the wholesale crockery and glassware trade in Guelph, and lately as manager of Mr. Kent's business, waited upon him at his boarding house, and without any preliminaries explained the object of their visit, and presented him with a very elegant and valuable gold Albert chain and locket, purchased from the jewellery store of Mr. John Kennedy, Upper Wyndham street, accompanied by the following address:—

To E. W. Klotz, Esq.

DEAR FRIEND,—A few of the many friends you have made since you first became a resident of our good town, have met with you to-night for the purpose of thus showing their appreciation of your many good qualities, and also to express their regret at your departure from amongst them.

We feel that in losing you we are parting with a true friend and a gentleman. Your kind and genial disposition, your uniform courtesy, good conduct and gentlemanly deportment have won for you the respect and esteem of all, and endeared you to those who have had the pleasure of a more intimate acquaintance. We trust that the change you are making may prove beneficial and satisfactory to you in every respect. In leaving us you carry with you the best wishes of your friends in Guelph for your success and prosperity. We are confident that your social qualities and pleasant companionship will gather around you, in your new home, many warm friends, such as have met with you on the present occasion.

In taking our farewell we ask you to accept this watch chain and locket as a memento of the friends and companions you are leaving. It will serve as a link to connect the present with the future, and remind you of your sojourn here, and the many pleasant hours you have spent with those who have met with you to say goodbye.

Once more we bid you adieu, may happiness ever be your lot, and that you may prosper in your undertakings in the earnest wish of the friends and companions you are now leaving.

Signed on behalf of your friends, by Adam Weir, jr., J. S. Rogerson, W. H. Brasbie, Walter M. Dack, E. Smyth.

Guelph, Jan. 2nd, 1878.

Mr. Klotz briefly and feelingly replied, expressing his surprise at the unexpected gift which his friends had seen fit to bestow on him. From his somewhat lengthened residence in Guelph, he had become attached to very many of his friends, and his only regret in taking his departure was that he had to leave old friends and again meet new faces and form new acquaintances. In concluding his remarks he thanked those who had seen fit to present him with a token of their esteem previous to his departure.

Several hours were spent in a social manner before the gathering broke up.

Mr. Klotz leaves Guelph to fill a position in Mr. Kent's wholesale glassware and crockery house, in Hamilton.

I have used Dr. Giles' Liniment Iodide of Ammonia from its first introduction in the Dominion; it performs wonders in my stable, where veterinary surgeons have failed; it has cured lameness and removed bunches. J. T. MOURIE,

THURSDAY EVEN'G, JAN. 3, 1878

The Present Contest.

The contest for the Reeveship is now narrowed down to Mr. Elliott and Mr. Chadwick. Mr. Hart yesterday announced that he would not be a candidate, and in thus retiring under the present peculiar circumstances, he has done what will redound more to his credit than if he had remained in the field, and weakened his own chance of election, as well as that of Mr. Elliott. As the contest now stands, we cannot imagine how any sensible ratepayer could have any doubt in making up his mind for whom he should vote. Mr. Chadwick's discreditable record for the past applies with equal force to his candidature for the Reeveship as it would have done had he been running for Mayor. He has no claim on the electors for their support, because he has failed to come up to his promises, and to realize the expectations that the people were led to form of him in the commencement of 1877. Mr. Elliott, who opposes him, the people all know. He has been an old and faithful servant of the ratepayers, and though by some he may be considered slow going yet he is safe and sure, and will not launch out into any schemes without knowing how they are to be accomplished and how they are to be paid for. His letters in to-day's paper in answer to the charges brought against him on nomination day, deserve a careful perusal, as they put a very different face on the matters under discussion.

Mr. Goldie announces to-day that he will not be a candidate for third Deputy Reeve, thus leaving the field clear to Mr. Chase and Mr. Coffee. Mr. Chase is deserving the support and confidence of the electors. While in the Council he was an active and influential member. He takes a deep interest in the progress and prosperity of the Town, and as a business man and a manufacturer, is one of our most promising young men.

THE EAST WARD.—Many of the electors in the East Ward are very anxious that Mr. Melvin should stand for Councillor. He has ample time, great experience in Municipal matters, and would be a most valuable member at the Council Board. We hope Mr. Melvin will accede to the wishes of his many friends in the Ward, and consent to go to the poll, for his election is sure if he only will stand. We may say that the electors of all classes in the Ward are anxious to have him as their representative.

MESSRS. Moffatt, Jones (Halifax), and Hon. Mr. Vail, having resigned their seats in the Commons under the Independence of Parliament Act, writs for new elections in Restigouche, Halifax, and Digby were issued on Monday. The Restigouche and Digby nominations are fixed for the 12th and for Halifax for the 17th. Mr. Moffatt's resignation offers a curious comment on his explicit declaration in the House last session that he had in no way violated the Independence of Parliament Act.

A SOCIAL IN PUSLINCH.—A social in connection with the Presbyterian Church, Hespeler, was held on Friday evening last, in the curing room of Mr. Robert Little's cheese factory, which afforded excellent accommodation. After all had done full justice to the good things, Mr. Thomas Cooper was called to the chair, and gave an appropriate address. Mr. Glennie and Mr. Martin, Puslinch Lake, also gave excellent addresses, and Mr. Little wished the company the compliments of the season, and hoped they would make themselves at home. There was some excellent singing by Messrs. Glennie and McWhirter. Mr. J. P. Johnston gave some excellent selections on the violin, and Mr. James Jardine on the flute, also by Mrs. Jardine, Miss Hannah Dickie and Miss Hannah A. Little on the organ. The evening was thus pleasantly spent in this and other innocent amusements, in which old and young took part, and all left highly pleased with the evening's entertainment.

CHURCH DEDICATION AT ABERFOYLE.—On Sunday last the dedicatory services in connection with the Methodist Episcopal Church, Aberfoyle, were held. Services were held at 9:30, and a sermon was preached at 10 o'clock by Rev. E. Loundsbury, of P. E.; at 2:30 by Rev. J. Reynolds, of Barton, and at seven o'clock, p.m., by the Rev. B. Bristol, of Saltfleet circuit. On Monday evening a tea meeting was held in the town hall to raise funds for the buildings of sheds. After refreshments had been served, the chair was occupied by Mr. D. Guthrie, M.P. Addresses were delivered by Revs. Messrs. Loundsbury, Clements, Bristol, and Mr. Jas. Massie, M.P.P. The music furnished by a very efficient choir was nicely rendered.

Mr. Dunbar Declines to Run.

To the Editor of the Mercury.

DEAR SIR,—Allow me to inform the electors of the East Ward that I am not a candidate. I am sincerely grateful to my friends who have wished me to run for the honor they desire to do me, and it is to me matter of regret that the sacrifice it will be necessary to make both of time and attention in order to do them faithful service, is more than I can, at present, afford. Yours truly,

A. DUNBAR.

Guelph, January 3rd, 1878.

Not a Candidate.

To the Editor of the Mercury.

DEAR SIR,—Allow me through the columns of your paper to inform the electors of the South Ward that I am not a candidate for municipal honors in consequence of a mutual arrangement entered into between myself and three of the candidates now in the field, and therefore I request my friends, as a favor, not to vote for me. Thanking them for the very generous support volunteered to me for the occasion, Yours respectfully,

J. A. LAMPREY.

The French Academy of Moral Sciences has elected Ralph Waldo Emerson one of its foreign associates.

Mr. Elliott in Explanation.

To the Editor of the Mercury.

SIR,—At the meeting held on Monday for the nomination of Mayor and Reeves, the rule adopted by the meeting was that no other persons should speak but the movers and seconders of the candidates and the candidates themselves, and that the time to be occupied by each speaker should not exceed ten minutes. As some of the speakers, after I had spoken, chose to make an attack upon me, to which, by the rules of the meeting, I had no opportunity to reply, I therefore ask the use of your columns for the purpose.

Mr. Dunbar stated "that I had in a cowardly and underhand manner gone to the assessors, and told them that they must be only guided by the Finance Committee." This statement is incorrect. The assessors came to me to discuss a doubtful section in the assessment law, upon which a great difference of opinion existed. I told them that I would procure the opinion in writing of the Town Solicitor, which opinion I obtained and handed to them for their guidance. The assessors themselves will bear me out in the truth of the statement.

Mr. Chadwick, with his usual levity and recklessness, travelled out of his course as seconder of Mr. McLagan's nomination, to indulge in an attack upon me, knowing at the same time, by the rule of the meeting, that I could not reply. He stated that I was a stickler for having no money expended without the recommendation of the Engineer, and an estimate cost of the work being obtained, and that I saw no objection to the expenditure of $3,000 or $4,000 on Wyndham st., where I had stores, nor did I raise my voice against $500 or $600 being spent on Paisley street hill. I produced the records of the Council to show him that he was incorrect, but he had not the manliness to read them when he knew that I had no further right to speak in my defence.

I will now produce the resolution I moved, and leave it to the electors to judge who is right.

On June 11th, the Road and Bridge Committee presented a report, of which the following is the first clause:—"Your Committee would recommend that the grading and macadamizing of Wyndham street be proceeded with as early as possible, under the supervision of the Town Engineer and your Committee." To this I objected, on the ground that there was no estimate of cost, or plan of the work before the Council, and moved the following resolution, which was carried:—"Moved by Mr. Elliott, seconded by Mr. Dunbar, that the first clause in the Road and Bridge report be referred back to the Committee to furnish the Engineer's report of the improvement contemplated, and his estimate of the probable cost, the mode of doing the said work—by tender or day labor. Carried."

In accordance with the above resolution, at the next meeting the Road Committee presented the Engineer's report, and plans, with estimate of cost of improving Wyndham street, which, among other things, recommended that the gutters should be paved. Now, it is a well known fact that on the west side of Wyndham street the underground drain, by its insufficiency to carry off the water, has caused several law suits, which the Town have lost, and have had to pay very heavy damages and costs, and as there had been a heavy flood a short time before—which plainly showed the drains were choked up, and the plan of the engineer recommended a paved gutter over the drain—I thought that before the pavement was laid down the drain should be opened, cleaned out, and the Council should have a report of the Engineer on the sufficiency of the drain; and, in the interest of the ratepayers, with a view of saving them from further law suits, I moved the following resolution, which was carried. Having no personal interest in the matter, if any damage by an overflow occurred, it would not be my goods that would be damaged, but those of my tenants, and they, not me, would have their claim on the Town:—"Moved by Mr. Elliott, seconded by Mr. Sleeman, that the following clause be added to the 12th report of the Road Committee: That before the work on Wyndham street is completed the covered drain on the west side of the street be opened and cleaned out, and if, in the opinion of the Engineer, the said covered drain is insufficient in size the said drain be enlarged in capacity, and that pits to collect the sand and gravel be built at such points as the Engineer may suggest. Carried."

The drain was opened and found to be nearly filled up, and the covering had fallen in in places. The engineer reported that the drain was too small, and the committee recommended afterward that it be increased in capacity, and that the pits be built, and their report was adopted by the Council, but the drain was not enlarged between Cork and Macdonnell streets. I am not the sole owner of property on Wyndham street. Mr. Chadwick also owns stores upon the said street but the idea is too absurd for a minute's consideration, that because a Councillor owns property on the great leading street in our town—a street we are all proud of—that he should for that reason stand by and oppose every improvement required upon it.

I have extended my remarks perhaps as far as you can spare space for to-day, but I have not done with the subject. I shall have to refer to Paisley street and also some statements of Mr. Chadwick's respecting the finances of the town, in which he must think the intelligent electors of the town are gullible indeed if he thinks they can believe him; and also I would like to ask him why, as Mayor of this town, he looked after the interests of the ratepayers so lightly as to allow thousands of dollars of work to be proceeded with without a single contract having been signed by him.

Yours, &c., GEORGE ELLIOTT.

To the Editor of the Mercury.

SIR,—In my letter of yesterday, which was crowded out for a want of space, and appears in to-day's paper, I said I would resume the subject of Mr. Chadwick's statements. In the first place in reference to the Paisley road: Any observer even casually passing, can plainly see that my property is seriously damaged by the cutting made in front of it. The contract, notwithstanding all the alterations made from time to time, has been carried out within a trifle of the original tender, so that the $500 or $600 spoken of is a myth, no such sum being asked or voted by the Council, consequently my small still voice could not be heard for or against. As I had an entrance to my dwelling house it was little consequence to me personally whether the road was good or bad, or whether the hill was steep or not, but the public interest required that the great leading thoroughfare to the railway stations, over which a great amount of heavy teaming passes, should be made good, and so the majority of the Council thought. Mr. Chadwick, as Mayor, after the road committee was discharged, assumed their functions, and by his own authority ordered the sidewalks on both sides of Paisley street to be laid down in place of the sidewalks that had been removed, and in a report he presented to the Council, recommended that a sidewalk on the north side of Paisley street, from Glasgow to Yorkshire street, six feet wide, be laid down. This was to replace a sidewalk that had been removed, by whose orders I know not, to the other side of the street. This I voted for, as it was absolutely necessary that this break in the road to the station should be made good, as the road was almost impassable. He says "when it was discovered that $24,000 was spent, Mr. Elliott said no more could be expended." Now, the statement is utterly untrue, and shows the reckless character of his statements. On the 3rd of September last, when the Roads Committee brought in a report, which recommended that the Eramosa road be gravelled, and numerous sidewalks and other work be done, amounting to three or four thousand dollars, with a view to ascertain what the Committee had expended, as the Council could get no reports, and only the verbal statements of the chairman, I moved the following resolution:—

"Moved by Mr. Elliott, seconded by Mr. Sleeman, that the Road and Bridge Committee's report be laid over until the Committee report to the Council a full report of the amount paid out on account of said Committee, the amount of liability for lumber and nails, balance due on contracts let, and amount necessary to complete all work ordered by the Council.—Lost."

This resolution was lost and the report adopted.

These refutations of Mr. Chadwick's statements will show the intelligent electors how little confidence can be placed in Mr. Chadwick's assertions, which it is plain were made for a purpose, thinking that they would not be answered, and might serve the purpose for which they were made, but it is an established rule when a man is convicted of making statements that are untrue the public receive with great caution all he says unless otherwise shown to be correct. I again affirm that if the $10,000 debentures not issued, are retained for the purpose of completing the schedule of improvements, there will be an indebtedness of about $17,000 to carry over to 1878. This nonsense about the bank being paid off is only a blind to deceive the ratepayers, as Mr. Chadwick knows as well as I do, that the town this very month will be required to borrow from the bank about $20,000 on the credit of next year's taxes, to pay the indebtedness of the town. I am afraid, Mr. Editor, that I am asking more space that I ought, and will therefore close by saying that Mr. Chadwick and I are before the electors, and it is for them to judge who they consider best fitted to serve them.

Yours, etc., GEO. ELLIOTT.

Restored to Complete Health.

BROCKS, Me., Sept., 7th, 1870.

DEAR SIR,—From early youth I was in feeble health, troubled with humor in my blood, weakness and debility of the system generally; was unable to labor much, and only at some light business, and then only with great caution.

Seven years ago, the past Spring, I had a severe attack of Diphtheria, which left my limbs paralyzed and useless, so I was unable to walk or even sit up. Noticing the advertisement of PERUVIAN SYRUP, I concluded to give it a trial, and to my great joy soon found my health improving. I continued the use of the SYRUP until three bottles had been used, and was restored to complete health, and have remained so to this day.

I attribute my present health entirely to the use of PERUVIAN SYRUP, and hold it in high estimation. I cannot speak too highly in its praise. I have in several cases recommended it in cases very similar to my own with the same good results.

Yours truly, CHARLES E. PEARCY.

HAROLD THE OUTLAW

—OR—

The Gauger of Skene.

CHAPTER XIII.

THE COTTAGE IN THE VALLEY.

"I know another who will profit by it still more," said Kenneth.

"Who?"

"Master Gilmour Logan, for it will make him Sir Gilmour ere long."

"Never. They may deprive me of the inheritance, but Gilmour will find that another stands between him and that which he covets. Let him show one sign of usurpation and the intimation will be made to reach him that an heir he wots not of lives to take the prize from his hand."

"How glad I am to hear you say that, Harold, for my blood would boil to see him and his mother the possessors of Mount Cairn. But that's what they have been working for all along."

"Then they have been working for a disappointment, Kenneth, as they will find out in good time. I am done with them, as they were glad to be done with me a week ago, but as the guardian of my boy's interests I shall be on the look-out for what may take place. But I hope my father will live for many years to come, though I confess he looked ill enough a week ago.

"Humph," grunted Kenneth; "it won't be my lady's fault if he doesn't break down soon. But, about Gillespie," he added, "I fear the lad will not be content with the revenge you speak of. More than one of them have sworn to be even with them for your night's work, and you know as well as I do what that means."

"Bah! that would do us more harm than good. Suppose we get rid of Gillespie, another just as vigilant would be sent in his place. Besides, he was only doing his duty."

"It was not his duty to declare that you killed Wanlass."

"Ah! that is a matter between him and me, and I alone must deal with him for it. No, Kenneth, you must persuade them to abandon all intention of taking personal vengeance on Gillespie. Tell them what kind of revenge I contemplate, and show them that mine is much the better and the safer way."

"I'll try," answered Kenneth. "But there's one thing, neither you nor I need attempt to disuade them from, and that is the infliction of terrible punishment on the spy—the traitor who betrayed us by giving information to the gauger."

"Ha! that is a different thing," exclaimed Harold. "To a wretch of that kind I would show no mercy. And of course there must have been such a base traitor at work, for otherwise Gillespie could not have been in ambush in the gorge. But who could it be? Does suspicion light on any one?"

"It does, and a strong suspicion, too. I would hardly have believed it had I not seen something myself, which confirms it. But means are to be taken this very night to punish the traitor, and prevent him from playing the spy any more. The men know where to find him, and it is settled that on their way back from the city they would seize him, and take him with them to the cave, where I warrant Black Dick will give him his due."

"Let him have it," returned Harold, in a hard, pitiless tone. "Such a wretch is worthy of no compassion."

"You'll not guess who it is—the very last man I would have thought capable of such a thing."

"Oh, like enough. Your spies are generally those who profess most friendship. But I don't want to know who this wretch is. Enough for me that he is discovered, and is to be dealt with as you say. Ha! see you yonder light? It must be from the cottage."

This exclamation burst from Harold's lips as they topped a ridge, after a long and somewhat steep ascent, and obtained a dim view of a little valley nestling among the hills. The dawn had for some time broken, and the morning light was growing every moment stronger, though not yet bright enough to show the landscape with distinctness.

Across the hill and up the slope from the green valley came the breath of the new day—pure, sweet, and inexpressibly delicious, burdened with fragrance from the birch and the heather, full of inspiring and gladdening influences, free from all fever-taint and city smoke—a very messenger of joy and health.

The two riders paused a moment to drink it in with great gasps of pleasure, but Harold's eyes roamed not over the features of the scene which were becoming every instant more visible—they were fixed with a beaming brightness on a clear streaming light which shone up to them from one side of the valley. Well he knew the window whence came the illuminating ray, and he guessed that it had burned there all through the night, trimmed by the loving hand of one who watched and waited for his coming. He had ridden fast, but not fast enough for the impatient longing of that true hearted watcher, who waited there in fear and trembling lest her heart's idol should not be rescued from the peril which surrounded him, and came to restore the joy of her life, which had suffered such agonizing suspense.

The pensioners of the British Army residing in the Montreal district have been called on to send in to the War Office returns of their residences and other particulars.

The English newspapers anticipate a deficit of a million pounds in the budget for the last quarter of the past year, basing their estimate on the revenue returns for the first three quarters of the year.

LONG CREDIT.—A large and successful meeting of merchants, representing nearly all the various villages surrounding New Hamburg, was held there on Wednesday. A spirited discussion took place on several important matters affecting the trade, among others the long credit system, rate of interest on overdue accounts, and the question of fixed prices for butter and produce generally.

Sir H. G. Elliott, recently British Ambassador at Constantinople, has been appointed Ambassador at Vienna.

It is believed that when Congress re-assembles the leaders of the anti-Hayes party will formally ask the President to re-construct the Cabinet.

EPPS'S COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage wich may save us many heavy doctor's bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.—Sold only in packets labelled—"JAMES EPPS & Co., Homœopathic Chemists, London. Dr. Wm. Gray's Specific Medicine

Before Taking

After Taking

The Great English Remedy is especially recommended as an unfailing cure for Seminal Weakness, Spermatorhœa, Impotency, and all diseases that follow as a consequence of Self Abuse, as Loss of Memory, Universal Lassitude, Pain in the Back, Dimness of Vision, Premature Old Age, and many other diseases that lead to INSANITY or CONSUMPTION and a PREMATURE GRAVE, all of which, as a rule, are first caused by deviating from the path of nature, and over indulgence.

The Specific Medicine is the result of a life study and many years of experience in treating those special diseases. Pamphlet free by mail.

The Specific Medicine is sold by all druggists at $1 per package, or six Packages for $5, or will be sent by mail on receipt of the money, by addressing DR. WM. GRAY & CO., Windsor, Ont.

SOLD IN GUELPH BY

A. B. Petrie, W. G. Smith & Co., Herod & Co., G. H. McIntyre, and by all druggists everywhere. dw

A young man named Robert Marshall, of London, made a desperate attempt to take his own life on Tuesday forenoon by cutting his throat. He is some 26 years of age, and has been employed as a traveller for a tea house. At nine o'clock he was at home and apparently perfectly sane. Two hours afterwards he appeared on the streets a lunatic. Meeting Dr. Flock, he accompanied him to a patient's house, and there acted in such a disorderly manner that the doctor and a young man of the house ejected him by force. He went away shouting, and some time after pulled a penknife from his pocket, and drew it repeatedly across his throat. He was carried home bleeding profusely, and medical aid summoned. It is probable that the man will recover, though his condition is critical.

Sir Hugh and Mr. Andrew Allan have been received in the leading Atlantic sea port towns prospecting with the object of finding a starting point for their steamship line withdrawn from Portland. After spending a considerable time in New York Sir Hugh found that the expenses would there be too heavy, and has decided to accept the offer made by Philadelphia.

The silver wedding of President Hayes and Mrs. Hayes was celebrated at the White House on New Year's evening, it being the first event of that kind in the Executive Mansion, as is supposed.

The sum of $400 has been voted by the Town Council of Walkerton, towards paying the expenses of a preliminary survey of the section of county to be traversed by the proposed Saugeen Valley Railway, and $200 by the township of Normanby. The surveying of a route has been entrusted to Mr. Sproat, of Toronto, who is already at work with a competent staff.

Cardinal Manning has been authorized by the Pope to commence negotiations with the British Government for the removal of the difficulties delaying the re-establishment of the Scottish Hierarchy.

On New Year's morning the wife of Wm. Luney, bricklayer, Toronto, presented him with three daughters, all of whom, at latest accounts, were doing well.

Do your Spectacles Suit your Eyesight?

If not, you should at once get them exchanged for a pair that will, for nothing is more injurious to to the sight than using glasses which are misfitted. If they are too strong or too weak there is a continual strain upon the nerves and cords of the eye, creating an inflammation which will, if you continue using the misfitted pair, ruin the eyesight altogether. Many merchants who sell spectacles know little or nothing about the principles of fitting the eyes, and you are therefore liable to buy a wrong pair just because they seem to suit when you first try them on, which, after wearing for an hour or so, will "draw" until it is painful to wear them. From my study of the eye, and long experience in selling spex, I can safely affirm that more eyesights are destroyed by wearing improperly fitted glasses than from any other cause. I have an instrument invented by Kent Brothers, Toronto, which proves to a certainty what number of lense you should use, with which I will be pleased to test anyone who desires it, without any charge.

THE Company's special system of Loans affords to borrowers, and especially to Farmers, the following most important advantages:—

1. The borrower is NOT OBLIGED to repay any part of the principal until the whole term of the Mortgage has run.

2. He has the option (after the first year) to repay at any time, the whole or any part of the Loan, without prior notice to the Company.

3. No extra charge, bonus or otherwise, is exacted on such repayment.

4 He is requested when making application for the Loan, to state the day on which he wishes interest to be made payable. He thus can stipulate for a date, say after harvest, or at such time as is likely to be most convenient for him.

5. Interest can be made payable once a year—not in advance.

6 On repayment of any part of the principal, interest on such amount immediately ceases.

Reducing License Fees.

MR. EDITOR,—Can you, or any of the readers of the MERCURY, inform, me whether there is any truth in the rumour, that is circulating about the town, that the liquor sellers are trying to get candidates for the incoming Council to pledge themselves that if they are elected they will still further reduce license fees; assigning, as a reason therefor, the expense they were put to by the Dunkin Act campaign?

Last year the Council reduced the license fees; and these men saved about $800 the town ought to have had. That reduction was equivalent to the Council making an appropriation to them of $800, to aid one class in the community to defeat a measure that a large section of the people of Guelph believe would have been fraught with good; and now the liquor sellers have the coolness to demand as the price of their votes that the license fees shall be still further reduced; so that they may be fully reimbursed for the money they expended in upholding a traffic that makes them rich, but makes the community poor, indeed; for nothing impoverishes an individual or a community, as the liquor traffic does. If it is true, that they are pursuing the course indicated above, it is to be hoped that every elector, who is desirous of the prosperity of the town, will do his utmost to checkmate them in this matter, and return men to the Council, who will not only not reduce the license fee, but who will raise it to what it was before, being reduced by the Council now going out; and by so doing give these men to see that Guelph does not intend to submit to the imperious demands of liquor sellers. Waiting a reply, I remain,

A. CITIZEN.

Mr. Editor,
Guelph, January 3rd, 1878.

A heavy snowstorm prevailed on Thursday in Arkansas and Tennesee.

It is announced that the Queen will not open the Imperial Parliament in person.

The unemployed workmen of San Francisco held a threatening demonstration on Thursday.

The Government steamer Newfield, with goods for the Paris Exposition, arrived at Havre on Sunday.

The remains of fifteen victims in all have been recovered from the ruins of the burnt candy factory on Barclay-street, New York.

A movement is on foot in Montreal for the migration to Manitoba of a band of Protestant settlers—forming a small community by themselves.

A severe snowstorm visited the Atlantic coast on Wednesday night. Among other casualties to shipping, it is reported that a St. John vessel went ashore off Cape Cod.

The United States Senate sub-Committee which visited South Carolina in the summer, will censure Hampton and Butler, and declare that the Legislature which elected the latter was illegal.

Several shocks of earthquake, accompanied in each instance by a roaring sound described as resembling that made by a chimney on fire, were experienced on Thursday, in Louisa and Hanover counties, Virginia.

Another effort is being made to bring to London the Cleopatra's Needle obelisk. The tug with the monolith in tow, will, on Thursday next, leave Ferrol, in Spain, where the obelisk was taken after its abandonment at sea.

Kentucky cattle-breeders are agitating for the passage of a stay law, representing that the entire blue-grass region of the State is on the verge of insolvency, and short horn interests are in danger of being swamped unless relief be granted.

The Mail now runs an early train to Hamilton with its morning edition. The tone of the Mail has improved considerably since Mr. Bunting took hold of it.

RE-OPENING OF THE SCHOOLS.—At Anderson's cheap bookstore will be found a very large and cheap stock of all the books used in town and country schools.

A MERRY CHRISTMAS AND A HAPPY NEW YEAR Bond & Co. wish to their customers and the public generally. All the new and improved kinds of skates and other goods suitable for holiday season are kept in large variety, and at astonishingly low prices. See new advt.

THE FASHIONABLE WEST END ALWAYS UP TO TIME.—Special Christmas sale of dress goods, furs, millinery and other fancy goods, all suitable for Christmas and New Year's presents. A. O. Bucham sells cheap and serves his customers well.

DON'T OVERLOOK IT.—J. D. Williamson & Co., announce special bargains in new goods to-day. Read their advertisement and then inspect their stock

Quick sales, low prices, and the very best goods obtainable, will be the rule at the popular New York Cigar Store.

Send your coal oil cans to Cameron & Thorp's to be filled. We guarantee our oil to give you satisfaction, if it does not, we will refund you your money.

W. B. Halsted & Co report flatteringly of the holiday trade, it being better than they had any reason to believe. Their prices are certainly very low. They have made unusual efforts to procure the best goods, and at prices far below the first cost. We are glad to know that their trade is increasing, and we advise all to give the New York cigar store a trial.

The retail trade in New York during Christmas week was unusually brisk, much more so than is usual at this season of the year. Notwithstanding the cry of hard times the great retail establishments all over the city were crowded from an early hour in the morning up to the time of closing.

Local News Items.

ABOUT two hundred hogs were sold on the market to-day, fetching from $4.75 to $5.40 per cwt.

COUNCIL of 1877 meets on Monday evening next. A considerable amount of business has to be transacted before dissolution takes place. The meeting is a special one.

LIGHT SNOW fell during last night and this morning. Several sleighs, with the merry gingling of the bells—first appearance this year, enliven the street scene.

I.O.O.F.—An encampment has been instituted at Brussels, and is numbered 46. Grand Patriarch Woodyatt and other Grand officers were present.

WIFE BEATING.—Henry Weldrick, living on Surrey street, was arrested on Thursday on a charge of wife beating. He was brought before the Police Magistrate this morning, and the case dismissed, the prosecutor not appearing.

AT the meeting of Mr. Chadwick's friends, held at the Mitchell House last evening, Mr. John Horsman acted as chairman, and Mr. Chas. Sharpe as Secretary. Canvassing Committees were appointed for the several Wards.

CHALMERS' CHURCH Young People's Association holds its annual meeting this evening in the basement of the church. The election of officers will take place. Mr. Wm. Johnston, of the Ontario School of Agriculture, will deliver a short address, particularly applicable to young people.

THE first Division Court held in Guelph was thirty-six years ago, the 15th of the present month. Judge Ferguson presided, and Mr. A. A. Baker, the present clerk occupied the position of clerk at that time. Division Court in session to-day, Judge Macdonald presiding. The list is a large one.

RECOGNITION OF SERVICES.—Mr. Samuel McCardel, of Dundas, who has been employed as an agent for the past two years, by Mr. J. W. Lyon, publisher, of this town, during which time he has been very successful, as a reward for his excellent services, Mr. Lyon, with more than usual liberality, on Thursday last, presented him with a purse containing $100 in cash.

SAYS the Stratford Herald: Were we not personally aware that the intellectual department of the Guelph Herald is filled by a couple of Scotchmen, we should think that an Irish bull had broken loose therein. Listen:—"Some new planks have been put in the iron bridge." This is quite equal to Sir Boyle Roche's proposal to "make the bottom feathers of shoes out of wood."

THE MARKET.—Dressed hogs are crowding in on the market during the past few days. Although the price is comparatively low, the demand is great. The use of the new weigh scales is thoroughly exemplified and so great has been the crush, that the Chairman of the Market Committee has been obliged to engage a hand for extra help. Were farmers allowed assistance in unloading and loading in weighing grain, much of it would be done at the Market Scales instead of at the warehouses.

OBITUARY.—We have to record to-day the death of Mrs. Catherine Fraser, of Elora, who died at the advanced age of ninety-eight years. The deceased was sister of the late Hon. Chief Justice McLean, and mother-in-law of the late Dr. Finlayson, of Elora. The deceased lady had lived in that village for the last fourteen or sixteen years, and had reached the great age above mentioned. She was one of the U. E. Loyalists, who, with her family, settled in the Glengarry district during the troubles between Great Britain and the United States, and her life forms a connecting link between the early days of Canada and its subsequent history. She died at a ripe old age, being within two years of attaining her hundredth anniversary.

NOT MUCH SNOW TILL FEBRUARY.—Vennor the weather prophet is out with another bulletin. He says:—December having been characterized by very considerable precipitation (almost entirely as rain), I am inclined to forecast January as more moderate in this respect; consequently I do not look for any very heavy or prolonged snowfalls. Snow sufficient for sleighing will in all probability fall on or close to the 5th or 6th; from which dates the ground will remain covered to a greater or less extent The changes will be frequent and abrupt from rains to snows, and from milder to colder weather. There will probably be three or four severe days between the 10th and 15th of the month. I do not think the remainder of the month will record anything particularly noteworthy either in the way of "cold snaps" or snow-falls, excepting possibly the three or four days before the entry of February. The month of January, therefore — if in accordance with this forecast—will close with a very moderate amount of snow. February will be a cold, wintry month; in fact one of the most decidedly so on record. There will be heavy snowfalls throughout, and two severe terms, the first of which will occur during the first week of the month.

INSTALLATION.—On Thursday evening the following officers of Progress Lodge I.O.O.F. were installed for the ensuing term by D. D. G. M. William Parker, assisted by D. D. G. P. William Sunley, as Grand Marshall, P. G. Barron, P. G. Colson, P. G. Maddock, and P. G. Wm. Smith:—

Bro. Geo. Brill, N. G.
" John Day, V. G.
" Geo. W. Jessop, R. S.
" C. Cottis, P. S.
" Geo. Sleeman, Treas.
" J. Hamilton, W.
" O. Smith, C.
" Thos. Parker, O. G.
" W. Carter, I. G.
" F. J. Drew, R. S. N. G.
" Patterson, L. S. N. G.
" R. Rutherford, R. S. N. G.

At the conclusion of the session the members and guests repaired to the Mitchell House, where an excellent supper was served.

THE Guelph public schools will re-open on Monday, Jan. 7th.

PENS.—Mr. John Anderson has in stock a very large number of the Easterbrook pen, which are pretty generally used.

SCHOOL NOTICE.—We are requested to state that in consequence of the municipal elections on Monday and the School Trustee elections on Wednesday there will be no teaching on these days in the High School, the West Ward, nor the South Ward schools.

A CURIOUS FACT.—That in severe chronic cases which have proved the most obstinate to other medicines, Wilson's Wild Cherry gives immediate relief and effects a speedy cure. It has no equal for Coughs, Colds, Coryza, Bronchitis, Loss of Voice, Catarrh, Whooping Cough, or Croup. Sold by W. G. Smith; Herod & Co., and druggists generally.

FORTNIGHTLY REVIEW.—The December number has been received from the publishers, Messrs. Belford Bros., Toronto, and as usual, is replete with excellent reading matter. The following is the table of contents: Mr. Gladstone on Manhood Suffrage, by Robert Lowe; the Republic and the Marshal, by Frederick Harrison; Humming Birds, by Alfred R. Wallace; Dr. Newman's Theory of Belief, by Leslie Stephen; Political Dissent, by Guinness Rogers; Florence and the Medici, by J. A. Lymonds; Hell and the Divine Veracity, by Lionel A Tollemache; Has India Food for its People, by H. J. S. Cotton; Home and Foreign Affairs.

AN HAPPY ACT.—On Thursday last the wife of a Puslinch farmer came into town and disposed of about $16 worth of produce on the market. After receiving the money she put it in a small purse, but instead of placing the purse in her pocket she must have let it fall to the ground. Some time after she discovered her loss, and was much grieved thereat. In the meantime Mr. Smart, barber, had picked the purse up, and meeting the woman, evidently in trouble, on Macdonnell street, shortly afterwards, he asked her what was the matter. She told her loss and described the purse. Mr. Smart at once returned the one he had picked up to her, and there was an exceedingly pleased woman about that time. Although Mr. Smart was pressed to receive part of the money as a reward, he refused to accept anything.

ST. GEORGE'S SOCIETY.—The regular monthly meeting of the members of the above Society was held in their room, Bank of Commerce Building, on Thursday evening. There was a large attendance of members, including several who were not identified with the Society, but who, during the evening became members. It was one of the largest meetings that has been held since the annual gathering in May last, thus showing that the interest taken in the Society is not lacking of support, and to which St. George's lay claim to as a national as well as a benevolent institution. The friendly feeling that exist amongst the members, and the harmonious manner in which the business of the Society is conducted, deserves commendation. The meeting last night was a satisfactory assurance that still greater prosperity was in store for the Guelph Society. The various reports in connection with the late concert were read, received and adopted, and was the result of bringing out from several members expressions of a very cordial and satisfactory character. Motions were moved and seconded, that the thanks of the members of the Guelph St. George's Society be tendered to Mr. James Hewer for his great activity in disposing of the large number of tickets in behalf of the late concert, thus adding to the success of the same; and that a copy of this resolution be entered in the minutes. Second— That the thanks of the Society be tendered to J. D. Williamson & Co., Messrs. Jones & Guthrie, W. H. Marcon, Noah Sunley, Messrs. Burr & Skinner, and to the Orange Lodge, and all others who kindly lent articles for the decoration of the Town Hall at the late concert; and that the Secretary send a copy of this resolution to each of those above named. Third—That the thanks of this Society are due, and are hereby tendered to the Decoration Committee, and the Committee of Management, at the late concert; and also to all members of the Society who aided in the arrangements. Each resolution was carried unanimously. Two members present enlivened the meeting by a recitation and a song, which were both appreciated. The Entertainment Committee are taking steps for providing a musical and intellectual programme at the next meeting of the Society, and from the present prospects of the talent they are in communication with, there is every possibility of its being largely attended, and that the entertainment will be of a first-class order.

A TRAGIC DEATH.—A tragic culmination of a bank robbery case occurred at Lewiston, Pa., not long since. Jerome Hetrick, famed throughout the country for his integrity and unflinching devotion to duty, was a director of the Mexican Bank, in which his brother-in-law was cashier. Some time ago the bank was robbed of $6,000 under the circumstances indicating that some one connected with the bank was privy to the theft. Hetrick, in great distress, appealed to the clerks, one after another, to confess, and finally the brother-in-law himself acknowledged the crime and promised to return all the money if the whole matter should be kept a secret. Hetrick promised, the money was returned through him, and the matter subsided for a time. But the people lost confidence in the bank, and the directors decided that, to save the bank from ruin, the secret must be revealed, and a nominal suit was therefore brought to recover the reward, which had been offered at the outset. Hetrick was of course compelled to take the stand to give the testimony which would consign the brother of his wife to a prison cell. Every one knew that he would tell the whole truth and that the mystery would be disclosed at any cost, and every eye was turned upon him. He rose slowly, his face revealing the terrible mental agony under which he labored. His limbs seemed paralyzed, a friend rose beside him to support his trembling form, when his jaw dropped with a gurgling sound, and he fell back into the arms of his friend dead.

Serious Scalding Accident.

An Infant Child Nearly Loses its Life.

On Thursday a serious and heart rending accident happened at a house near the Great Western Railway station, through which an infant boy of Mr. Robert Robertson nearly lost its life. Mr. Robertson was away from home at the time the accident happened.

It appears that the infant had been placed in a cradle by its mother, and the cradle was drawn near the stove to keep it comfortable and warm. The stove in the room had only been put up a short time before, and the pipes had not been wired. Just before the accident happened the mother observed that the pipes were about to fall, and that if they should come down they would strike the child in the cradle. To prevent such a catastrophe, she sprang forward and caught the pipes with her hands. No sooner had the pipes come down than the stove, which had a brisk fire in it at the time, tumbled over, and a pot of water which was on the stove fell over on the cradle, and the contents were emptied on the child's head.

The mother observing what had happened, and the agonizing cries of the child driving her almost distracted, she hastened to its assistance. From the manner in which the child was lying, only one side of its head and a portion of its face was scalded. Dr. Howitt's assistance was sought, and on his arrival he applied such lotion as would relieve the pain of the burns.

During all Thursday night the condition of the child was very critical, but it is now considered there are hopes of its recovery. It will be remembered that the same family lost a child by accidental drowning in a water barrel a few months ago.

The War News.

A Constantinople despatch says Turkey is indisposed to approach Russia. Austria, Germany, France, and Italy all admit the principle of separate negotiations, but claim a voice in the final settlement.

A Vienna despatch points out that by admitting that Russia may negotiate separately the Powers recognise the privileged position she has so long claimed in the settlement of the Eastern Question, and to cancel which was one of the main objects of the Treaty of Paris.

A Paris despatch says:—Midhat Pasha, on the way from Rome for London, on a supposed mission in connection with England's acceptance of the Porte's request for mediation, has arrived here.

A Bucharest special states that recently the Turks attempted to open confidential negotiations with Russian head quarters for an armistice. The attempt was unsuccessful, as the Russians considered they ought to receive an equivalent for the advantages the Porte would derive from being able to organize its forces during the armistice.

A Bucharest special reports that the Austrian subjects in Roumania liable to military service have been ordered to return home within ten days.

A Bucharest despatch says that General Cernat, commander of the Roumanian army in Bulgara, has arrived there. Several other Roumanian generals are also there. Their presence argues a cessation, for a time at least, of active operations by the Roumanian troops on the other side of the Danube.

A Bucharest correspondent telegraphs that the opening of the communication between the Servians and the Russian army of the Vid is very important, as the latter can draw supplies from the former when they are required in consequence of the interruption of communications across the Danube. The river is not frozen over, and the flow of the ice is intermittent. It descends for ten or twelve hours and then ceases for about the same time. During the intervals between the ice floes communication is carried on in a desultory way by means of flat-bottomed boats, transporting waggons, and several horses or bullocks.

A Constantinople despatch says:—Mukhtar Pasha has arrived. Suleiman Pasha telegraphs that the army from Kamarli arrived safely at Slatitza. Baker Pasha, with six battalions and four guns, covered its retreat, sustaining throughout Tuesday attacks from thirty battalions of Russians, with ten guns, on whom he inflicted a heavy loss. Baker Pasha lost 600 killed.

A Bogot despatch says that Gen. Gourko fought a severe battle on the 31st of December at Tashesau before securing the Turkish entrenchments. The Russians lost seven hundred killed and wounded. The Turks retreated at nightfall towards Sofia, pursued by the cavalry. After a halt for rest and reorganization, Gourko resumed his advance upon Sofia.

An Erzeroum despatch says:—The Russians continue concentrating troops on the plain of Erzeroum. Movements on the Deve-Boyun heights are visible from the Turkish fortifications. Four Russian infantry battalions and a regiment of dragoons have occupied the village of Orzin, near the road to Trebizond. Every preparation has been made here for a prolonged siege.

WEST WARD.—Mr. William Hart requests us to state that he is not a candidate for Councillor in the West Ward.

RETIRED.—Mr. Adam Robertson requests us to state that he will not be a candidate as Councillor for the North Ward.

There will a total eclipse of the sun visible throughout North America on the 29th July. The line of totality runs through Kamschatka, Alaska, British America, and across Texas to the Gulf of Mexico.

The New Volume of the Living Age.

The new year of Littell's Living Age opens with the number for the week ending January 5th.

Owing to the recent establishment of important periodicals abroad—notably the Nineteenth Century in England,—and to the simultaneous improvement of others, a fresh impetus has been given to foreign periodical literature; the ablest living thinkers and writers being enlisted in its service to an extent heretofore probably unequalled. The Living Age presents with satisfactory completeness what is most valuable in this literature. The publishers already announce for early numbers of the new year, articles by Louis Kossuth, ex-Governor of Hungary (on the Turkish question), Prof. Max Müller, Prof. Goldwin Smith, the Duke of Argyll, Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone (on Courses of Religious Thought), Richard A. Proctor, Prof. Owen and others (Studies in Science), Frances Power Cobbe, Alfred Russell Wallace, Prof. J. C. Blackie, Edward A. Freeman, Matthew Arnold, J. Leslie Stephen, John Ruskin, and other eminent writers.

In the department of fiction the best foreign authors will be represented in serial and short stories. The publication of a new story by William Black is to be begun in January, from advance sheets, and other attractions will follow. The volumes of this standard weekly magazine for the new year therefore promise to surpass even the previous ones in interest, and in importance to American readers.

The beginning of a new volume is a favorable time for new subscriptions, and the publishers still present to new subscribers for 1878 the last seven numbers of 1877, which contain the first instalments of a fine new German serial, translated for the Living Age; also a serial story by Miss Thackeray, and the usual large amount of other valuable matter. For fifty-two numbers of sixty-four large pages each (or more than three thousand pages a year) the subscription price ($8) is low; while for $10.50 the publishers offer to send any one of the American $4 monthlies or weeklies with the Living Age for a year, postpaid. Littell & Gay, Boston, are the publishers.

Highland Superstitions.

(From a Contributor).

When a person looks back upon his past life, it is often the case that a single incident, which was in reality a very ordinary one, expands into a wonderful event. Among nations the same feeling prevails; they also draw a picture of their infancy in glowing colors; the fewer traditions they have, the more they embellish them; the less trustworthy those traditions are, the more will they sparkle with the brilliancy which fancy has lent them.

In accordance with this, we find that that there is scarcely a nation on the globe, which has not its store of legends, handed down from time immemorial; but it is more particularly with the beliefs of the Scottish Highlands that we deal at present, chief among we find those of the Brownie, Kelpie, and Benshie, which formerly exercised no small influence upon the people, and which are especially remarkable, on account of the antiquity of the belief, and the tenacity with which they have been handed down from age to age.

The Brownie was popularly supposed to be a good-natured, drudging goblin, who attached himself to farm houses and other places in the country, and occupied himself during night, when the family were asleep, in performing any kind of humble work that required to be attended to, such as churning, or thrashing grain; he was a spirit not seen or spoken to, and was only known by the performance of his voluntarily undertaken labors.

The Kelpie or River Demon, was an evil and malicious spirit, who frequented most Highland rivers and lakes, and delighted to forbode and to witness calamity; one of his most noted exploits was performed on the banks of Loch Vennachar, it consisted in the destruction of a funeral procession, with all its attendants. And many other tales are told, of the ravages committed by him.

The Benshie was a sort of domestic spirit, attached to most great families in the Highlands; she took an interest in their prosperity, and intimated, by her wailings, any approaching disaster. She usually took the form of an old woman, with a blue mantle, and streaming hair. But she also appeared in many other different ways; the Benshie of the Grants had the form of a young girl with one arm covered with long hair; that of the McLean's, was supposed to ride in full armour, thrice around the house, to signal approaching death; another one, called Glas tick, or the "noon-tide hag," was long thought to haunt the district of Knoidart. The death of the head of a Highland family was also something supposed to be announced by a chain of different colored lights, and the direction marked the place of the funeral. The forests of Glenmore were made famous by the deeds of a goblin dressed in antique armour, and having one hand covered with blood, who was supposed to haunt the place.

Other spirits, frightful in shape, and malignant in disposition, were believed to frequent mountains and glens. These legends, however, have long since been laid aside, owing to the increased light of our times, and are now no more believed, except in some remote districts, which have not yet been reached by the advancing steps of modern civilization. Thomas Stock has been elected Reeve of East Flamboro by acclamation.

The Evening Mercury

FRIDAY EVEN'G, JAN. 4, 1878

The Herald and Mr. Chadwick.

Why is it that the Macdonnell street newspaper hounds Mr. Chadwick with such determined virulence? Is its editor and chief proprietor annoyed because he is not asked to occupy positions of honor in the gift of the people? Such attacks might be made with some consistency by a journal whose proprietors had never sought public life, but this talk about seeking refuge in receiverships and so on, comes with bad grace from the pen of a man who was kicked out of the School Board by a vote of the town Council; who could not get the county council to appoint him treasurer, and who has recently been twice rejected in South Wellington, by conventions of which his newspaper has been the organ for years.—Herald of Thursday.

The above is from our "gentleman's journal" of Guelph, and may be accepted as a good sample of the style of argument used by a paper whose conductors frequent the U. E. Club, who go down occasionally in swallow tail coats to the "house dinners" at that Club to be indoctrinated by Sir John into the art and mystery of conducting contests according to the rule and formula laid down by him. We are accused of hounding "Mr. Chadwick with determined virulence," as if we had not a perfect right to criticize his acts, and express an opinion on the same; and because we choose to express this opinion in the interest of the electors of Guelph we have matters dragged into the contest which are entirely foreign to it. Why does not the Herald say something in Mr. Chadwick's favor? Why does it not single out some of his actions during the past year, and urge them as a plea for his election as Reeve? It has not dared to defend anything he has done. It has not urged a single argument in his favor, and yet when his actions are submitted to fair and honest criticism it turns round in a pet of childish jealousy and seeks to lead the people off from the questions at issue by a reference to matters that have no more to do with his election than it has with the settlement of the Fisheries Award. The Herald may beat about the bush in its attempt to bolster up Mr. Chadwick, but such means employed are neither ingenuous, nor honest, nor honorable. When it attempts to discuss the candidature of Mr. Chadwick on its merits, then the electors will give it a patient hearing, but when it seeks to cover up his failings and short-comings by such paltry subterfuges as are contained in the above extract, then it virtually makes a confession that his case is bad indeed, and it is, moreover, a virtual confession that his position and pretensions for the office to which he aspires are untenable, and must be based on something else than any well-grounded claim he has to the office to which he aspires, but to which the people of this Town will never elect him. Mr. Chadwick's chief aspiration now should be, to be delivered from the unwise and foolish advocacy of his friends, which is doing him far more harm than good.

As a proof of the vigilance of Germany in preparing for war we quote the following from the National Zeitung:—"Germany in 1880 will have a fleet which, although inferior in the number of vessels to those of either France or England, will be superior in the quality of material and artillery, in the education of officers, and in the completeness of its equipment. The construction of vessels proceeds rapidly."

The London Daily News of the 13th of December hears that the Government intend to introduce a bill into Parliament during the ensuing session which will impose great restrictions upon the importation of foreign cattle. It will be remembered that a Select Committee of the House of Commons, largely composed of agricultural and Conservative members, made a report towards the close of the last session recommending legislation of this kind. Canadian interests should be carefully watched.

Mr. Jones' friends at Halifax are organizing for the coming election, though moderate Conservatives are opposed to a contest, contending that the Government have dealt justly and liberally with Halifax, and in view of the important matters now being agitated in connection with the port, thinking a contest would be useless as well as unwise. But, contest or no contest, the Reformers will be prepared. It is believed Mr. George Haddow will oppose Moffatt in Restigouche. It is expected that Mr. Vail will be opposed in Digby.

The Mail strongly objected to the appointment of Mr. Thibaudeau of Montreal to the vacant Quebec Senatorship. The Montreal Gazette, as strongly Conservative as the Mail thus speaks of his appointment:—"We congratulate both the Government and the honorable gentleman on his nomination. Mr. Thibaudeau, as a prominent merchant and a gentleman of wealth and high social position, and an earnest and undeviating supporter of the party now in office is in every respect deserving of this mark of favor at the hands of his political friends."

The Montreal Herald, in a leading article, makes the very serious charges against the Local Government that it promised the House to bring the main line of the Quebec & Ottawa Railway through Montreal, whereas it subsequently, without warning, changed the main route to run from Maskinonge to Terrebonne, where the Hon. Messrs. Chapleau and Archambault have property. Though it passes for ten or twelve miles through the centre of a swamp, the bottom of which cannot be reached, has on each side precipitous descents, and is entirely isolated from any habitation, the change serves nothing but the little town of Terrebonne.

In neuralgia, acute and inflammatory rheumatism, enlarged joints of the hands or feet, stiff neck, pains in the back and loins, headache, I recommend Dr. Giles' Liniment Iodide of Ammonia.

The Supreme Court of Canada opens at Ottawa on the 21st inst. Up to the present time there are eighteen cases inscribed for hearing, and more are expected.

Sensational Reports About Failures.

We commend the following very sensible remarks from the Montreal Herald about the stupid sensational reports that were in circulation lately in that city about several reported failures:—"The atmosphere in financial circles has been somewhat cloudy since this day week, occasioned by the recent failures, but while these events are discouraging, there can be no good reason given for gossipmongers pointing to old and well-established concerns as being in probable difficulty. In times such as we have been passing through for years, and perhaps more severely the past few weeks, the first duty which responsible business men owe to the commercial community is that of strengthening, rather than weakening the credit of houses, whose highest ambition is to meet honourably every shilling of their liabilities. We know of the most groundless reports having been circulated about very respectable firms, whose position, when the strictest enquiry was made, was found the very reverse to the gossip which was being passed from one to another. Such conduct as that which we are criticising can only be regarded as an approach to commercial piracy. We appeal to the good sense of the business community, and ask a discountenance of crying 'stinking fish' about neighbors when there is not the slightest foundation for it. When disaster does come it is time enough then to discuss what a concern is worth, but in the absence of reliable information is it fair to question the credit of houses who are daily meeting their obligations? Much good can be done by treating our commercial status on its merits, but a great deal of harm can be created by irresponsible people expressing doubt as to the soundness of houses whose honor has never been doubted."

Germany and Russia are very friendly at present, but possible eventualities are being carefully prepared for by the Germans. The new fortifications around Posen and Konigsberg are being rapidly completed, the German Government being desirous of having all the defences on the Russian frontier finished as soon as possible. It seems as if there must be something hollow in the close alliance between Russia and Germany when this policy is pursued steadily by the German Government. It may be that the present friendship is more personal on the part of the two monarchs than founded on the feelings of the people, or the interests of the two powers. It has certainly served the purposes of both the Russians and the Germans well, the former in the present war and the latter in the Franco-German conflict.

The following Order in Council is published: "The Committee of Council advise that in addition to persons possessing first-class Provincial certificates, Grade A., being eligible to receive certificates of qualification for the office of Public School Inspector, this eligibilty be extended to such persons as shall establish to the satisfaction of the Education Department that they have respectively taken a degree in the Faculty of Arts in any one of the Universities or Colleges, with University powers, situate in this Province, provided that such degree has been taken with honors of the first or second class in any one or more of the reognized departments of examination in such University for such degree, and provided further that such persons respectively establish to the satisfaction of the Education Department that they have respectively successfully taught in a Public or High School in this Province for the period of five years at least, and that such persons also furnish satisfactory proof of temperate habits and good moral character."

Says the London correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune:—The Queen's visit to Hughenden was arranged, beyond all doubt, with a view to the Cabinet meetings, the summoning of Parliament, the final effort to plunge this country into war for Turkey. It was meant to signify to the country, in a way which the simplest could understand, the perfect accord existing between the Sovereign and her chief Minister. It has long been known that the Queen liked Lord Beaconsfield personally. It has long been suspected that he ingratiated himself at court by ready submission to the Queen in matters in which other Ministers had proved less pliant. On this Turkish question, Her Majesty and Lord Beaconsfield have been at one from the beginning. The whole influence of the Court will be exerted in behalf of war, or, if not directly for war, for a policy of defiance to Russia which will lead straight to collision. And what Lord Beaconsfield hopes is that the goodwill of the Queen, shown in this unusual, almost unprecedented way, by the Hughenden visit, may conciliate popular support enough for his mad projects to overawe the good-sense of the country, and sacrifice its real interests to those imaginary interests which he would have England believe are in peril.

Earl Dufferin.—The London correspondent of a Scotch paper writes: "The rumor that the Duke of Manchester has been selected to succeed Lord Dufferin as Viceroy of Canada, whose term of office expires next year, must be received with very great caution. In the first place it is not by any means certain that Lord Dufferin will not be asked to remain in Canada until after the final settlement of the questions pending between the Dominion and the United States, and certainly until he has brought to a conclusion the difficult negotiations between the Eastern and Western Provinces of the Dominion, of which he alone has the true thread. Another reason for delaying Lord Dufferin's return is the belief that he will succeed Lord Lytton as Viceroy of India, and in spite of the fiasco made there by Lord Beaconsfield's nominee there is a general feeling that he will not return until 1879, when he could do so without loss of prestige or feelings in the least degree wounded."

Victor Emmanuel, on Thursday, gave an audience to Gambetta.

About forty Montreal wholesale dry-goods merchants met on Thursday to consider the question of credits. The general expression of opinion was that the present system afforded too long a period of credit, and that the plan of dating paper ahead should be done away with.

To the Electors of the

NORTH WARD

GENTLEMEN:

In deference to the wishes of a number of ratepayers, that was being further pressed by the unsolicited nomination of me as a candidate for Councillor for the North Ward, I have great pleasure in announcing my acceptance of that nomination, believing that you will support me, not because I have been tried and found wanting, neither because untried, although no doubt my opponents will endeavour to establish that fact. I hold that my private career has been such, and your estimation of it such as to give the denial to that fact. I believe, farther, that your esteem will yet manifest itself in a more substantial manner by securing my election by your influence and the record of your votes at the polls. That there has been useless and injudicious expenditure in the past all will admit, but the question for the present, after the expression of censure that has been passed on their conduct, is not the inactivity and do-nothingism recommended by some of our retiring lights, but on the contrary, the activity of judicious and strict economy. Being convinced that you will take into consideration my claims for your suffrage, I have the honor to be, gentlemen, your obedient servant,

OWEN MACDONALD.

Guelph, January 3rd, 1878. d3

Second Deputy Reeveship.

To the Electors of the Town of Guelph:

Gentlemen,—Having been nominated for Second Deputy-Reeve for the Town of Guelph, for 1878, I have, at the urgent solicitation of a number of ratepayers, decided to run for that office. I have had eleven years' experience in the various positions in the Council, and if elected will, as I have done heretofore, use my best efforts to advance all measures which I consider for the benefit of our good Town, and at the same time oppose all unnecessary expenditure. I therefore respectfully solicit your votes and influence in favor of my election, and remain your obedient servant,

Richard Mitchell.

TO THE ELECTORS.

GENTLEMEN:

I beg to solicit your vote and influence for a seat at the Council Board. If elected, I will discharge my duties faithfully, and with due regard to the interests of the Ward.

HAROLD THE OUTLAW
—OR—
The Gauger of Skene.

When the news reached her that Harold had been captured, and was lying in prison on the dreadful charge of murder, she would have flown to the city in the wildness of despair had not Kenneth came to her and pledged his word—which she knew never had been broken—that at the end of a week Harold would be delivered and brought to her. It cost her a terrible effort to stay there day after day through the interval, brief though it was, and it was only because Harold had sent a message charging her to do so for both their sakes that she endured the anguish—counting the hours one by one with feverish impatience till the night came when the rescue was to be made. Then, so soon as the first shadows of evening descended on the valley, she set the lamp in the window, that he might see it afar off when he reached the ridge towards the east, and be guided and gladdened by its light. Reason told her that he could not possibly arrive till sometime in the morning; but her fond and anxious heart caused her to anticipate the time with this premature preparation, and a thousand times had she gone to the door and strained eye and ear to catch sight and sound of the appointed signal. And now the light of morning was causing the gleam of the lamp to pale, and her cheeks were white and tear-stained with nervous apprehension lest the attempt had failed.

But at length, in the grey twilight which preceded sunrise, the fading gleam of that love-placed light had caught the eager eye of him for whom it had been exhibited. The ridge which, the two horsemen had gained was at a considerable distance from the cottage in the valley; but Kenneth had provided means whereby the anxious watcher should receive intelligence of their presence and their coming. In a deep rocky recess he had deposited a torch prepared for lighting, and the moment Harold's exclamation burst forth he leaped from his horse and proceeded to make the agreed on signal. The torch was lighted and waved to and fro upon the crest, when instantly the light in the window was also moved rapidly about by way of reply, and if they had been near enough they would have heard the joyous cry which burst from the happy wife's lips.

Though Harold could not possibly hear it, he spurred forward as if he had, and it was with difficulty that Kenneth kept close in his wake, as the impatient youth urged the sure-footed beast down the descent. No sooner had they reached the more level ground of the valley than the horse, as if aware of his rider's anxiety to get over the ground, set off with a wild impetuosity—spite of the heavy work he had already performed—which soon lessened the distance between them and the cottage.

No further word was spoken between the two, all their energy and attention being occupied with the management of their hard-running horses. In this manner they sped up the valley for nearly two miles, the footsteps clattering sharply on the stones, sometimes sounding dull on the turf, but the light increasing every moment as they advanced.

Presently, on the slope in front, a woman's form was discovered, running to meet them—a youthful, girlish form, active and graceful. At the instant they caught sight of her, the first ray of the rising sun flashed upon her flushed face, revealing its blooming loveliness, and upon her sparkling eyes, turning the tears which stood in them into gems. A few more strides from the bounding horse brought Harold close to her. He never paused to pull the rein, but leaped to the ground, leaving the horse to take care of himself, and sprang forward with outstretched arms, into which the young wife threw herself, with a loud, glad cry.

"My darling—my Lizzie—my own true wife," he murmured, kissing the rosy lips, which returned the fond pressure as she hung upon his neck.

"Oh, Harold," she exclaimed, "what terror I have endured! But are you safe now? Will they not come and take you again?"

"What! up here among the hills? I think we could manage to baulk them if they tried. But you may banish all such fear, my love. Let them seek me if they are so inclined; they have no chance of finding me, for they know not where I have gone."

"And even if they did, they would be bold and clever fellows who would try to take you," exclaimed Kenneth, who stood near, a delighted spectator of the happy meeting.

"You see I am quite safe," said Harold, in tender, soothing tones. So let the roses displace the lilies on your cheek, my Lizzie, and fear not I shall be in the same danger again. But how is our boy—how is our darling little Alf?'

"He sleeps," she fondly answered. "Come and see him."

With a gesture of pride and tenderness he twined his arm around her, and they walked side by side towards the cottage. Kenneth having taken charge of the horses was already leading them to an enclosure towards the left.

What a depth of affection beamed from Lizzie's hazel eyes as she lifted them to Harold's handsome face. There unmistakably was the whole world of her love, the centre of her heart's longings. Her look declared more eloquently than words could have told it that he was her hero, her idol, her hope, her trust, her all.

And she had just the appearance of a girl calculated to attract and captivate a youth like Harold Logan. She was a bright blooming child of the mountains—her pretty and highly intelligent face rosy with health and mirroring only pure and virtuous thoughts. It was evident that nature had done more than art to refine her. All her movements and gestures showed an innate modesty—frank and guileless from very innocence. Every movement and gesture betokened a simplicity of soul which sought not, because it needed not any disguise, yet along with it all was an intensity of feeling and a strength of intelligence which showed her capable of patient endurance and great sacrifice for the objects of her love. There did not seem to be one particle of selfishness in her being.

"Uncle and aunt are not stirring yet, I fancy," whispered Harold, as they neared the cottage.

"No, indeed," she gaily replied. "I am the only one who is out of bed; but the fire it burning brightly, and breakfast is quite ready for you."

"Fire and breakfast, and the sun only newly risen. Why, you must have been very early up to have accomplished all that; or—surely you have not been up all night?"

"Indeed, but I have, dear Harold. How could I sleep or rest knowing the peril you were in. Besides, I expected you hours ago, and have been watching—oh, so anxiously, my heart seemed dying within me as the fear kept coming upon it that Kenneth might fail in his enterprise. Oh, the anguish and misery of this past week. If Kenneth had not cheered me by assuring me that you would be rescued I think—oh I think I should have died."

"My poor darling, I knew you must be suffering dreadfully, and the knowledge added tenfold to the irksomeness of my confinement. But it is past now. I am free; and free I intend to remain."

They were on the threshold now, and again pressing his lips to her brow they entered the lowly dwelling where all was plain and humble, but exquisitely neat and clean. Nor did the apartment into which they went fail to present signs of greater luxury than a straw-roofed cottage among the hills usually exhibits. There were thick matting on the earthen floor; the table and chairs were of superior workmanship. There was paper on the walls, hangings at the little window, a few nicely-

Dr. Wm. Gray's Specific Medicine

Before Taking

After Taking

The Great English Remedy is especially recommended as an unfailing cure for Seminal Weakness, Spermatorrhea, Impotency, and all diseases that follows as a consequence of Self Abuse, as Loss of Memory, Universal Lassitude, Pain in the Back, Dimness of Vision, Premature Old Age, and many other diseases that lead to INSANITY or CONSUMPTION and a PREMATURE GRAVE, all of which, as a rule, are first caused by deviating from the path of nature, and over indulgence.

The Specific Medicine is the result of a life study and many years of experience in treating those special diseases. Pamphlet free by mail.

The Specific Medicine is sold by all druggists at $1 per package, or six Packages for $5, or will be sent by mail on receipt of the money, by addressing DR. WM. GRAY & CO., Windsor, Ont.

SOLD IN GUELPH BY
A. B. Petrie, W. G. Smith & Co., Herod & Co., G. H. McIntyre, and by all druggists everywhere. dw bound books on a shelf above the mantlepiece, and an air of great snugness and comfort prevading all.

A bed stood in a recess with soft woollen curtains hanging before it. Lizzie going with tripping step across the floor drew aside the latter, and revealed to the father's eyes the beautiful picture of his sleeping boy.

And, oh, surely, there is no fairer sight to look upon in this world than that of a sleeping child—calm and serene in its innocent beauty, with a smile upon the rosy lips which seems to be evoked by "the angel's whisper"—with features whose loveliness sin and passion have not defaced; the smooth brow free from the faintest line of care or the slightest shadow of remorse—the bloom of health on the downy cheek the golden curls lying in fairest clusters on the snowy pillow. It is a spectacle fitted to call up the holiest thoughts in the purest soul, and banish the darkest imaginations of an unclean heart.

"Isn't he a beauty—our little prince?" said the proud and happy mother, as she turned her eyes in rapture from the sleeping boy to its admiring father.

"A very sun of beauty," responded Harold, as bending down he kissed the velvety cheek, but so gently that the child's slumbers were not desturbed.

Parents' testimony to the beauty of their offspring is not always to be relied on, but in this instance it was no more than the truth, for the little chubby-faced fellow over whose pillow Harold and Lizzie hung was all that had been so fondly declared—he was a warm, breathing vision of health, comeliness, and peace.

"And he is so good—always so good," went on Lizzie, her fingers toying with his golden curls. "He never cries, never frets—he is the best tempered little darling that ever was, and, oh, if you only heard how he called on father to come, and toddled out scores of times to look for you down the glen. Harold—Harold," she added, with a shiver, what would we have done if—if——."

"Hush, my dearest girl, let us not think of it. I am with you again, and we must now be happy. Come, let us partake of the breakfast you speak of, for Kenneth and I are hungry with our long ride through the keen night air of the hills."

With another fond look, and another warm kiss on the fair sleeping brow, the curtain was silently dropped, and while Lizzie went ben for the provision, which stood prepared by the kitchen fire, Harold issued forth in search of Kenneth, and brought him into breakfast, not without some difficulty, for the faithful and unselfish fellow did not wish to intrude on the first happy hour of their reunion. But both were too deeply indebted to him and had too sincere an affection for him, to treat him with neglect. He was therefore constrained to come in, and as they sat at breakfast he entertained Lizzie with the history of their doings that night in Aberdeen, and the successful manner in which they penetrated to Harold's prison cell.

LISTOWEL CENTRAL SCHOOL.—The new Central School at Listowel was formerly opened on Thursday, being thrown open to the North Perth Teachers' Association for their meetings. The Department of Education was represented by Drs. Hodgins and McLellan, from Toronto, who were met at the station by the Board of Public School Trustees and prominent citizens, and escorted to the school. After prayer short addresses were delivered by the above named gentlemen and by D. D. Hay, M.P. P.; Wm. Alexander, School Inspector for North Perth; James Crozier, Principal of the High School, Listowel; Mr. Dickerson, of the Model School, Stratford, and Mr. B. Rothwell, Principal of Listowel School. Mr. Geo. Draper, Chairman of the Board of Public School Trustees, occupied the chair. About fifty invited guests were entertained by the School Board at dinner in the Grand Central Hotel at 5.30 p.m. The school is a two-story white brick building in the Elizabethan style; capacity, ten rooms, seven of which will now be occupied. It is heated by three hot-air furnaces in the cellar. Total cost about $15,000.

The trouble with the Caffres in South Africa does not yet seem to be over, notwithstanding the defeat of the insurgent Galekas. Indeed this very tribe is stated to have been instrumental in inciting this fresh difficulty. The Zulus are spoken of as threatening trouble because of territory considered part of the Transvaal Republic which is now claimed by them. The Zulus are one of the most numerous and important of the native tribes, and have always been friendly with the British authorities. It is to be hoped that the acquisition of the Transvaal Republic will not lead to difficulties with them, or it would be a bad outcome for a policy which was adopted as one of safety.

White Canon Farrar is causing excitement by strongly opposing the doctrine of the Eternity of Future Punishment, the Rev. R. Duckworth, Canon of Westminister, is at present delivering a series of discourses on the same subject, and taking the same view as his brother canon.

A writer in the British Quarterly says there are at present only 17,000 Quakers in England and Wales, while in 1700 they numbered 50,000.

Do your Spectacles Suit your Eyesight?
If not, you should at once get them exchanged for a pair that will, for nothing is more injurious to to the sight than using glasses which are misfitted. If they are too strong or too weak there is a continual strain upon the nerves and cords of the eye, creating an inflammation which will, if you continue using the misfitted pair, ruin the eyesight altogether. Many merchants who sell spectacles know little or nothing about the principles of fitting the eyes, and you are therefore liable to buy a wrong pair just because they seem to suit when you first try them on, which, after wearing for an hour or so, will "draw" until it is painful to wear them. From my study of the eye, and long experience in selling spex, I can safely affirm that more eyesights are destroyed by wearing improperly fitted glasses than from any other cause. I have an instrument invented by Kent Brothers, Toronto, which proves to a certainty what number of lense you should use, with which I will be pleased to test anyone who desires it, without any charge.

LOAN AND AGENCY COMP'Y,
LIMITED.
Authorized Capital—$5,000,000.
THE Company's special system of Loans affords to borrowers, and especially to Farmers, the following most important advantages:—
1. The borrower is NOT OBLIGED to repay any part of the principal until the whole term of the Mortgage has run.
2. He has the RIGHT (after the first year) to repay at any time, the whole or any part of the Loan, without prior notice to the Company.
3. No extra charge, bonus or otherwise, is exacted on such repayment.
4. He is requested when making application for the Loan, to state the day on which he wishes interest to be made payable. He thus can stipulate for a date, say after harvest, or at such time as is likely to be most convenient for him.
5. Interest can be made payable once a year—not in advance.
6. On repayment of any part of the principal, interest on such amount immediately ceases.

PRESENTATION AT ROCKWOOD.—On New Year's eve Mrs. White and Mrs. Michie, of Rockwood, called at the Presbyterian manse, and, in the name of the ladies of the congregation, presented their pastor, the Rev. Donald Strachan, with the sum of twenty-five dollars as a New Year's gift. Mr. Strachan briefly returned thanks for this and other tokens of kindness received by him since his settlement in Rockwood.

THE following offices have been opened by the Dominion Telegraph Co., at the following stations on the Hamilton & N.W. R.R., viz:—Georgetown, Salmonville, Cheltenham, Caledon East, Palgrave, Tottenham, Beeton, Clarkesville, Cookstown, Thorton, Allendale and Barrie, Ont. Also, Hochalaga, St. Therese, Lachute, and Hull, Province of Quebec, stations on Q.M.O. & O. Ry.

SATURDAY'S MARKETS.—About 500 dressed hogs were sold on the market to-day, and brought prices ranging from $4.80 to $5.40 per cwt. As a rule the animals were all in pretty good condition, and the greater portion of them could be classed as prime. Grain was delivered in small quantities at prices quoted in our commercial column. Wood is beginning to come in, and the prices range from $3.50 to $4 per cord. With the advent of good sleighing the market receipts will be largely increased.

ST. PATRICK SOCIETY.—A meeting of the St. Patrick Society was held at the Albion Hotel, last evening. There was a very large attendance of members. The President, Mr. John M. Bond, occupied the chair. A financial statement showing the Society to be in a prosperous state, was presented by the Secretary, which on motion was received and adopted. A number of the members expressed a desire to procure rooms and have weekly meetings held. A Committee was appointed to report at next meeting on the advisibility of holding a number of social entertainments during the winter months. The business of the meeting over, a motion to adjourn until Tuesday evening, 15th inst., was carried.

The money stolen in the United States during the past four years—beginning at a period just prior to the panic of 1873—by reason of defalcations, embezzlements, and breaches of trust on the part of city and county officials, bank officers, executors of estates, &c., foots up to over $30,000,000.

The arbitration between the H. & N. W. R. Company and the township of Esse, to settle the latter's claim for deviation of the former's line from the original survey, on which the bonus was granted, was brought to a close on the 8th ult., the arbitrators awarding $2,050 to the township.

A singular accident occurred on Friday last in the blacksmith shop of Ranton & Best, Pilkington. A young man, named Hedley, was standing with half a pound of gunpowder in his coat pocket, near to an anvil on which a workman was hammering a piece of hot iron, a spark from which entered the pocket, burnt through the paper and caused the powder to explode. A hole was made in the coat, and the young man's pants were singed on the one leg, but no further injury resulted from the explosion.

THE regular Sunday Gospel Temperance meeting of the G. C. T. C. will be held in the Y. M. C. A. rooms every Sunday at four p.m. Short addresses will be delivered, interspersed with good music. All are cordially invited. C. Raymond, President; J. T. Mitchell, Secretary.

A MERRY CHRISTMAS AND A HAPPY NEW YEAR Bond & Co. wish to their customers and the public generally. All the new and improved kinds of skates and other goods suitable for holiday season are kept in large variety, and at astonishingly low prices. See new advt.

THE FASHIONABLE WEST END ALWAYS UP TO TIME.—Special Christmas sale of dress goods, furs, millinery and other fancy goods, all suitable for Christmas and New Year's presents. A. O. Bucham sells cheap and serves his customers well.

DON'T OVERLOOK IT.—J. D. Williamson & Co., announce special bargains in new goods to-day. Read their advertisement and then inspect their stock

Send your coal oil cans to Cameron & Thorp's to be filled. We guarantee our oil to give you satisfaction, if it does not, we will refund you your money.

Housekeepers will find it to their advantage to leave their orders at Cameron & Thorp's for any particular kind of tinware which they may require, as they keep none but skilled workman, and the best of material.

THE first of this season's crop of runaways made things lively for a few minutes on Norfolk street, at noon to-day. The sleigh was quickly detached from the shafts by the heels of the fractious horse.

THE Ladies' Christian Temperance Association met in the Y. M. C. A. rooms on Friday afternoon. Besides the transaction of other business, it was resolved that a fruit social be held in the old town hall on Monday evening, 14th inst.

POOR HOUSE.—On Friday, Constable Colson took a vagrant in ill health to the House of Refuge at Fergus, where he had been committed by the Police Magistrate. There are now twenty-five inmates in that institution, all well cared for. Those that are able to work have plenty of it to do.

NEW BOOKS.—Belford Bros. have just issued two attractive school books. One is called "My Primer," and the other "My Pet Book." The former is a beautifully illustrated A B C, and the other furnishes nice reading lessons for those who are out of their letters. It is also nicely illustrated. Copies are on sale at Day's book store.

WARNING.—A young man known to be a habitual swearer was lately sent to gaol for twenty-one days by a Listowel magistrate for using profane language on the street. Guelph has a few young men that are not by any means particular what kind of language they use on the street, much to the annoyance of ladies and others. If an example were made of some of them, the annoyance would soon cease to exist.

FASHIONABLE WEDDING.—A fashionable wedding took place at the Congregational Church on Wednesday evening, the 2nd inst., which on account of the municipal elections we were unable to record sooner. The marriage took place at 6 p.m., and long before that time the church was crowded to its fullest capacity to witness the interesting ceremony. The fair bride was Miss Tilly Parker, second daughter of Mr. Robert Parker, carriage maker, and the groom Mr. John Mills, late of Owen Sound. On the bride and bridesmaids entering the church the organist played the wedding march. The bride and her maids were handsomely attired. After the wedding was consummated the happy pair, with the invited guests, returned to Mr. Parker's residence, where a pleasant evening was spent till train time. They then accompanied the bride and bridegroom to the G. T. R. station, where the youthful couple took the cars for Detroit to enjoy the honeymoon. The presents made to Miss Parker on this auspicious occasion are numerous and costly, and shows that she is highly esteemed by her many friends.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S ASSOCIATIONS.—On Friday evening there was a large attendance at the Association in connection with St. Andrew's Church. Several new members were admitted. An address was delivered by the President, Rev. J. C. Smith, on the objects and benefits of the Association, in which much good advice was given to the members. Mr. James Grant read an essay, which dealt with many common errors in reasoning. Mr. C. J. Soule gave a reading entitled "The Saxon Tongue." Music filled up the other part of the programme. Meetings the first and third Fridays in the month.——A meeting of the Young People's Association in connection with Chalmers' Church was also held on the same evening. There was a good attendance. Mr. Wm. Johnston delivered an address, having a particular application to young people, and the benefits such would derive from taking an interest in the Association. Rev. Thos. Wardrope also addressed those present. The Association will meet again on Friday evening, for the purpose of reorganizing.

DUNKIN ACT COMMITTEE.—There will be a meeting of the Executive Committee held in the committee room this Saturday evening, at 7:30 o'clock, when all members of the Committee are requested to attend, as business of importance will be brought before the meeting, preparatory to the winding up the affairs of the Association at the County meeting on the 10th inst. By order, Daniel Kribs, Secretary.

W. B. HALSTED & CO. KFEP THEM.

Municipal Affairs.

Candidates Various Offices, and Those who have Retired.

On Monday, 7th January, elections in the various municipalities will take place. The poll will open at nine o'clock in the morning and will not be closed until five o'clock in the afternoon. There are ten polling divisions in the town—three in the North Ward, two in the East, two in the South and three in the West. Besides every elector having the privilege of voting for three candidates in the Ward on which their names appear on the voters' lists, they also have the privilege of marking a ballot in favor of one candidate for Reeve and each Deputy.

It rarely occurs that electors find so many aspirants for a seat at the Council Board in the field. We subjoin the names of those candidates who have not publicly signified their intention of retiring and who are not ineligible from the fact of being nominated for the office of Reeve or Deputy Reeveship.

Reeve—Messrs. Geo. Elliott, F. J. Chadwick.

First Deputy—Messrs. Geo. Sleeman and D. Kennedy.

Second Deputy—Messrs. J. P. MacMillan and Richard Mitchell.

Third Deputy—Messrs. Caleb Chase and D. Coffee.

On account of not retiring within the hour fixed by statute, the names of Messrs. Wm. Hart, J. C. McLagan and Jas. Goldie appear on the ballot slip.

COUNCILLORS.

North Ward—Messrs. Fred. Biscoe, Dr. Wm. Clarke, Wm. Hearn, Robt. Mitchell, Owen Macdonald, and Noah Sunley.

East Ward—Messrs. Robert Melvin, M. J. Doran, F. J. Chubb, and Chris. Woodburn.

South Ward—Messrs. J. T. Brill, F. Gauhan, John Roche, Robert Morrison, Daniel Day.

West Ward—Messrs. Geo. Bruce, Thos. Gowdy, John Tyson, Dr. E. W. McGuire.

Other names appear on the ballots, but they have all stated that they are not in the field.

POLLING PLACES.

North Ward—At the Court House, Geo. W. Jessop, Returning-officer; Sturdy's paint shop, Jos. Mimmack, Returning-officer; McKee's waggon shop, W. M. Mann, Returning-officer.

East Ward—At the Town Hall, Thos. Sayers, Returning-officer; skating rink, Benjamin Fairley, Returning-officer.

South Ward—At the old Central School, John Stevens, Returning-officer; Ward school-house, Patrick Conway, Returning-officer.

West Ward—At the Senior Girl's school-house, Edwin Newton, Returning-officer; Suffolk street school house, H. H. Maddock, Returning Officer. Bruce's shop, A. Bruce, Returning-officer.

Mr. Elliott's Meetings.

Excellent Prospects and Canvassers Busily Working.

A meeting of Mr. Elliott's supporters in the West Ward was held in Mr. Raymond's brick factory last evening. There was a good attendance of influential residents in the Ward. Mr. Wilkie occupied the chair, Mr. Clyne acting as Secretary.

A committee of the following gentlemen was appointed to work in Mr. Elliott's interest:

Wm. Wilkie, Dr. McGuire, C. F. Leonard, Wm. Stewart, G. R. Skinner, Robert Hadden, J. B. Clyne, E. Maddock, D. Spragge, W. Chipchase, C. Stockford, Robert Crawford, J. Groom, E. H. Pass, P. Spragge, James Clarke, C. Nicholson, Wm. Stewart, (carpenter) Wm. Bruce and A. Bruce.

Mr. Elliott's prospects in the West Ward are excellent; he is assured of a handsome majority. The committee will meet this evening in Mr. Raymond's office at eight o'clock sharp.

NORTH WARD.

The committee for this Ward met last evening over the butcher shop of Mr. W. J. Fairbank. There was a full attendance, and the various reports brought in showed that the majority in the North must be very large. The feeling throughout the whole Ward is reported by the canvassers to be very strong in Mr. Elliott's favor.

SOUTH WARD.

An enthusiastic meeting of electors favorable to the candidature of Mr. Elliott for the Reeveship, was held in the old Central school building last evening.

On motion, Mr. J. T. Brill was appointed chairman and Mr. Wm. Walsh Secretary.

Mr. Geo. Elliott, being present, made a stirring address on the financial affairs of the town, and, having satisfactorily answered questions put to him by some of the electors, withdrew, having to attend a similar meeting being held in the West Ward.

Moved by Mr. Wm. Johnson, seconded by Mr. Simmons, that a vote of confidence be passed by this meeting in favor of Mr. Elliott's conduct in the Council during the past year. Carried unanimously.

It was moved and seconded that Mr. Geo. J. Brill be scrutineer for the 5th division, and Mr. John Day be scrutineer for the 6th division. Carried.

The following were appointed a committee:—Messrs. Geo. Pike, Adsett, D. Kenneddy, Wm. Johnson, Simmons, Mahoney, John Day, John Hockin, McHardy, W. Day, Wm. Walsh, John Spalding, John Marshall, W. Murphy, R. Barbour, J. T. Brill, R. Howard, A. Howard, Thos. Kirkland, Donald McKay, Thos. Dobbie.

The Committee will meet at 7:30 p.m. this evening.

The Contest for the Reeveship.

Mr. Elliott's Meetings.

The friends of Mr. Elliott, and members of his Committees in the different Wards, are requested to meet this evening in the following places:

West Ward—At the office in Raymond's brick factory, Yarmouth street.

The meetings in the different Wards will be held at 7 30 p.m.

All Mr. Elliott's friends, and the members of his different Ward Committees, are requested to be present at the places as above mentioned.

The War News.

The anti-Russian newspapers in London take the same view of Earl Carnarvon's speech on Wednesday as the Standard. This morning the Standard stated:—

England cannot with due regard to English interests accept the position that Russia and Turkey can settle the terms of peace subject only to Europe's ratification. If this claim were allowed England would be debarred, except under serious disadvantages, from interfering in defence of her legitimate interests.

The Manchester Guardian's London despatch says:—

The supporters of Lord Beaconsfield's policy contend that Earl Carnarvon's speech is intended not to expound, but to influence the Cabinet's views. There is some justification for this judgment. It is no secret that the Earl of Derby's November speech was a surprise to the Premier, and also a source of intense annoyance. But it is likewise well known that the Premier has been giving instructions to Mr. Layard, our Ambassador at Constantinople, over the head of the Foreign Secretary. If Earl Derby attempted to force the hand of one section of the Cabinet in November last, it is equally probable that Earl Carnarvon may be resorting to a similar expedient, now that the dangers of the situation have become more definite.

The Times, referring to these conflicting interpretations, says:—

There ought to be an end to the mystery and ambiguity which have of late shaken every interest of the country. The time has more than come when the Government should cease, whether at home or abroad, to have two voices.

A Syra despatch says:—The Greek Minister of Foreign Affairs has demanded of the Powers the admission of Greece to the Congress preliminary to the conclusion of peace.

Le Journal de St. Petersburg says Russia could not, in the interests of peace, itself do otherwise than refuse all intervention, and make it clearly understood that peace must be discussed between the belligerents.

A Paris correspondent observes that the claim of Greece to be represented in any European conference really points to the acquisition of Thessaly and Epirus, and possibly Crete.

The Edinburgh Scotsman's London correspondent understands that Lord Derby will inform Prince Gortschakoff that the British Government is decidedly opposed to Russia making peace without the conditions being first communicated to England and the other great Powers.

Bucharest despatches say that the army which was to cross the Shipka Pass and cooperate with General Gourko in the movement against Adrianople gives no sign of activity, and while the present weather continues such operation would be impossible. The deep snow offers an almost insurmountable obstacle to wagons, and the Russians have no sledges. Orders have now been issued for a supply of sledges, but by the time they are ready the snow will probably have disappeared, and the roads be impassable from mud and water. The correspondent considers it improbable that the Russians can reach Adrianople before May.

A Tiflis special says the Russians have occupied Hadja. At Hadja the road from Erzeroum westward crosses the Euphrates over a bridge.

A Vienna correspondent says if this is true, communication with Erzeroum is cut on all sides.

The Turks still occupy the line of the Kara Lom River, and carefully guard the bridges on the roads to Shumla.

The Pope's health is visibly declining.

Cholera has made its appearance at Jeddah and Mecca.

The Nez Perces who are with Sitting Bull in Canadian territory are anxious to recross the line and surrender.

Mr. Richey, Mayor of Halifax, by profession a lawyer, has been selected by the Opposition to oppose Mr. Jones for the Dominion Parliament.

The Peruvian Government has made a contract with a shipping firm to supply, at least, fourteen thousand Chinese immigrants per year for five years.

Stanley, the African explorer, has been received by the Khedive and presented with the decoration of a Grand Officer of the Turkish order of the Medjidie.

The Halifax City Council and merchants are about to petition the Dominion Government to extend the Intercolonial Railway track from the North street station to the south end of the city.

The residence of W. Winter, Stratford, caught fire on Thursday from a defective flue, and was consumed. The contents were nearly all saved.

Benjamin Dorsey, a farmer, aged about seventy, and residing near Clarksville, was choked to death on Thursday night by a piece of beef while at the Baxter House. Medical aid was at hand at the time, but was unavailing.

Cardinal Manning has submitted to the College of Cardinals a proposal that the Conclave should assemble at Malta upon the death of the Pope. The Italian members of the Sacred College oppose the project.

An Imperial "Order of the Crown of India," for ladies only, has been created in England, and its honours have been conferred on all the Princesses, eight Indian Highnesses, and eighteen other ladies of distinction.

Goods for the second shipment per Newfield for the Paris Exhibition will be shipped from Toronto on the 15th inst. After Dr. May's departure for Paris Professor Selwyn, of the Geological Department, will take charge of the exhibits in the east.

A petition is being circulated and largely signed in Montreal praying the Quebec Government to raise the standard of jurymen. The necessity for such a step was, it will be remembered, plainly demonstrated in connection with the trial of the alleged perpetrators of the murder of Hackett on the 12th of July.

The New York Civic Committee of Investigation into the Ring frauds reports that about thirty million dollars were stolen and a little under $900,000 recovered.

Mr. Rynders, a prominent and well known citizen at the St. Lawrence Hall, is loud and enthusiastic in praise of Giles' Liniment Iodide of Ammonia. The joints in his limbs, were so stiff that it was with difficulty that he could walk, and this Liniment cured him.

A Russian journal states that there has been captured from the Turkish army since the war commenced some 704 cannon, 29 Pashas, and 73,128 officers and men.

Mr. Elliott and the Assessment Committee.

To the Editor of the Mercury.

SIR,—In the contest now going forward for the Reeveship, I do not propose to take any active part. I cannot, however, allow Mr. Elliott's statements in his letter of Thursday, wherein he accuses me of speaking incorrectly to his injury, to pass entirely unnoticed. He says I did not speak truly when I said he told the assessors they must be guided by the Finance Committee, and I am free to admit what I said in that connection may be entirely without foundation, as I spoke it solely on the authority of Mr. Elliott himself.

He told me almost in the words I used at the nomination that he had done so, but I will not vouch that it was true. He says further that he procured the opinion of the Town Solicitor for the guidance of the Assessors. Now this is a most extraordinary statement, and leaves me under a painful impression that the gentleman has survived his memory as well as his veracity. The truth is this: After Mr. Elliott informed me his committee was instructing the assessors, I called the Assessment Committee together, and invited the Assessors to attend, and from them we heard the mode in which they were proceeding under the direction of the Finance Committee. We did not agree with their mode, and recommended to the Council that the opinion of the Solicitor should be taken as to the construction of the Section in question. I moved, and either Mr. Hart or Mr. Gowdy seconded the motion to that effect. Mr. Elliott opposed it, arguing that his view was so obviously correct, that it would be waste of money to take any other opinion. The motion was carried, the opinion taken, and it turned out to be directly opposite to the view of Mr. Elliott on which the assessors had been proceeding. These are the facts as to the opinion, and they can be verified, if Mr. Elliott disputes them, by reference to the resolution of Council. Mr. Elliott is particularly unfortunate in the two resolution quoted in his letter, as when placed together they illustrate in a great degree the peculiarity of his conduct of which I complained. The first contains a principle, said he, with a great deal of warmth and earnestness in moving it, and that principle was that no money should be voted by the Council for any particular work proposed by the Road Committee until the details mentioned in that resolution should be laid before the Council. In the other resolution he directs the Road and Bridge Committee to undertake a work which might cost any sum between $100 and $2,000, without any information having been laid before the Council, and when his attention was called to his own inconsistency he made no reply, but, knowing he had a majority of the Council on his side, he pressed for a division. I could not at the time the last resolution was forced through the Council understand why he pressed it, nor could I reconcile his conduct with any degree of honesty of purpose. But since I have had his assertion with reference to the assessment, I am inclined to take a more charitable view. It is manifest he has lost his memory, and I am led to reflect, that while age brings with it many qualities that command our respect, it also has its vagaries and foibles which we should pity and forgive.

Yours truly,

A. DUNBAR.

P. S.—Since writing the above I have procured a copy of the resolution, on which the opinion of the solicitor was taken, and here it is:—

Moved by Mr. Dunbar, seconded by Mr. Hart, "That the opinion of the solicitor be procured as to the construction of the 32nd Section of the Assessment Act, particularly as to whether the building or residence mentioned therein is included in the mode of valuing property prescribed by that section." Passed.

The lucky men are not all dead yet. Mr. Chas. Pemberton, of Kincardine, has fallen in possession $40,000 from the old country.

The first number of the Canadian Spectator, under the editorial management of Rev. A. J. Bray, of Montreal, was issued from the press on Friday.

A petition to the Quebec Government, praying that the jury system of the Province be changed so that the standard of jurors be raised, is in circulation, and is being very largely signed by citizens generally.

The Customs Revenue at Halifax for last year exceeds that of the previous year by over $100,000, or more than eleven per cent.

A lad named Stoneham has been arrested in Hamilton on a charge of incendiarism. There were eighteen fires in that city within the past three weeks, and many of them are supposed to have been the work of incendiaries.

"Madam," said an impertinent boarder to his landlady, "your butter is too aristocratic for my democratic taste. It is one of the cases in which sweetness is preferable to rank."

Another infanticide case has come to light in Stratford. A few days ago a Mrs. Edward Welsh and daughter while near the railway bridge picked up a parcel which was lying alongside the road and on opening it discovered the dead body of a new born male child. The body was handed over to Coroner Hyde, and a post mortem being held the doctor was of opinion that the child had been born alive and from appearances it had either died from suffocation or starvation.

SCALDED TO DEATH.—On the 21st ult. an old man named George Irwin, aged 92 years, was fatally scalded. He resided with his son-in-law Joseph Alton, at Lucknow, and on the day in question he was sitting beside the stove. In rising to his feet he seized hold of a boiler of hot water to steady himself, and accidentally pulled it over, scalding himself in a fearful manner. He lingered for a week before dying.

TEMPERANCE IN DUNDAS.—A grand farewell banquet was held in the Town Hall on Thursday evening in honour of Rev. E. Haskell, and closing a most successful series of Gospel Temperance meetings. These have been held nightly for twenty-two evenings, resulting in such a marvellous reformation as was never before known in that vicinity. Upwards of 600 have signed the pledge, including a large portion of the moderate and excessive drinkers in the town. One liquor store has given up the traffic, and two more are now to do so. The result is a fully organized Temperance Reform Club, and the quickening of all the charitable and reformatory working of the town.

SATURDAY EVEN'G, JAN. 5, 1878

Notice to the Public.

We have for a long time been firmly impressed with the conviction that the long credit system is injurious to business and unjust to creditors, and we have come to the determination to put a stop to it. Our experience is that the practice of extending accounts over a year is a great mistake, is unfair to the creditor and burdensome to the debtor. Were settlements made, say four times a year, instead of once, the amounts would be light, and payments would be comparatively easy, whereas, when accounts run for a year the amounts accumulate, and in many cases it is no easy matter to settle a bill.

We have, therefore, come to the resolution to, in future, make out and collect our accounts for advertising and job work quarterly, and we hereby give notice that this rule will, in all cases, be strictly enforced. We believe that its adoption will be of equal benefit to our patrons as to us, and we shall, in no case, make an exception.

We are now sending out our accounts for the past year, and we must insist on the immediate settlement of them in all cases, otherwise we will have to take the usual but unpleasant steps to enforce payment.

A Few Last Words to the Electors.

On Monday the electors of this Town will exercise the right and privilege that belongs to them, of recording their votes for the men that they think will best serve them for the coming year in the Town Council. The exercise of this right is no light matter. The franchise is an important trust that the Government puts into the hands of the people, and every man who has the interests of the Town at heart should be prepared to say what men he considers are best fitted to discharge the duties of the different offices, and who will honestly and faithfully and conscientiously attend to the business of the municipality during the year. We have already stated whom we considered the best men. We have not been backward in pointing out the faults and failings of the old Council, and especially the shortcomings of the Mayor, and we now make a final appeal to the electors to weigh the merits of the different candidates, irrespective of any other consideration. We all know the sad mess our finances have got into, and we know the necessity there is for electing good and capable and tried men, who will throw aside all personal considerations and all personal interests, and who will earnestly and unselfishly work for the general good of the Town.

It is all the more necessary to exercise caution and judgment in the selection of candidates, seeing the matter has been so complicated in all the Wards by the nomination of so many candidates. As we said before the nomination of so many was a great mistake, and the danger now is that owing to the mixing up of names, and the consequent confusion that must ensue, we may have a Council elected in no respect better than the one which is about to retire from office. In such case the selection lies with them, and we therefore make one more, and earnest appeal to them to vote for no man unless they have full confidence in his honesty and integrity, and are fully assured in their own minds that he will make a good, honest and efficient representative.

We cannot think for a moment that the electors will go back on their oft expressed and all but universal condemnation of some members of the Council who are now again seeking their support. If they do, then we will say that they are untrue to their own interests and the interests of the Town, and that were not its future prosperity at stake, they deserve to have as their representatives men who have been untrue to them, and whose legislation has been detrimental to their individual well-being, as well as the well-being of the Town.

With these few earnest words, we leave the matter in the hands of the electors. If they choose to reject our warning and advice, on their own heads be the responsibility. We can at least say that we have done our duty, independent of personal or any other feeling. It is now for the ratepayers to do their duty, and if we have estimated them aright, we think they will do so on Monday.

A CURIOUS FACT.—That in severe chronic cases which have proved the most obstinate to other medicines, Wilson's Wild Cherry gives immediate relief and effects a speedy cure. It has no equal for Coughs, Colds, Coryza, Bronchitis, Loss of Voice, Catarrh, Whooping Cough, or Croup. Sold by W. G. Smith; Herod & Co., and druggists generally.

The total indebtedness of Knox Church, Galt, some $13,655, has been wiped out.

A Speck of War in Africa.

In his reply to the deputation of South African merchants on Wednesday, Earl Carnarvon stated that the Zulu King can place forty thousand well armed men in the field, and is proceeding to build a fortified kraal on disputed territory which abuts on English soil. A mission with the object of inducing him to abandon his intention had failed, and it had been deemed advisable to send reinforcements to Natal. The London Times in an article on the situation in South Africa, says:—"It is not pleasant that the chief of the Zulus according to those who know Lulu-land well, can put 40,000 well-armed men into the field, and that he may choose the moment for doing so when we have our hands more than full on the Caffrarian frontier. Earl Carnarvon said to the deputation of South African merchants that waited on him that the Zulu King commands a very large, well-armed, and comparatively well-disciplined force, and during the last few weeks has undoubtedly shown signs of temper which might bring about disaffection. He is constructing, or is proceeding to construct, in opposition to the warning of Sir Theophilus Shepstone, Secretary of Native Affairs at Natal, a fortified kraal in a disputed territory which abuts on English soil, and I believe a mission which Sir Theophilus sent to induce him to desist from his purpose has failed in doing so. Sir Theophilus has asked for reinforcements, and those reinforcements have been forwarded to him, and I sincerely trust and believe he will be most cautious in the use of the force which has been placed at his disposal for the purpose, I may say, of his own safety. I am glad to see fresh colonial levies being raised. They will reader, I have no doubt, very valuable assistance. At the same time I can confirm the report that the 90th regiment and a battery of artillery will, I hope, leave this country within the next week or ten days. Preparations are being urged on with all possible speed at the War Office.

THE Canada Gazette of to-day contains a proclamation summoning Parliament for the despatch of business on the 7th of February. The election of Speaker of the Commons will occupy the first day; on Friday the Speech from the Throne will be delivered, and the House will probably adjourn till the following Monday. All the departmental reports, returns, and public accounts are in a forward state, and will be brought down early in the session.

THE editor of the Montreal True Witness is terribly alarmed about a report that a "St. Bartholomew's Massacre Association" has been organized in that city for the purpose of killing off all the Protestants in Quebec. The editor of the True Witness sometimes sees visions and dreams dreams, and we are strongly inclined to think that this is one of them.

Now that Mr. Jones, of Halifax, Mr. Moffatt, of Restigouche, and Mr. Vail, of Digby, have resigned their seats in consequence of the stringent provisions of the Independence of Parliament Act, it is now in order for Rufus Stephenson to follow their example, and it would be well for Mr. Bowell, Dr. Tupper, Si John Macdonald, and the other gentlemen of the Opposition who are in the same category, to show themselves equally ready to fulfil the requirements of the law. What does the Mail and Guelph Herald say to the proposition?

HOG DISEASE.—A correspondent writing to the Waterloo Chronicle from St. Jacobs says:—A dreadful disease among fat hogs is raging in this vicinity, making a fearful havoc among that after death useful animal. The symptoms of the disease are a rapid and unnatural movement of the blood, superinduced by a sore throat. The disease is so deadly that the animal generally dies a few minutes after being attacked, twelve cases out of a dozen proving fatal.

A young man named Wright was killed by the falling of a tree on the 10th con. of Ashfield, last Saturday.

John Frussk has been sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary for stealing $50 from the residence of Peter Winart, of Hespeler.

THE BRITISH FENIAN PRISONERS.—The Standard announces that Colour-Sergeant McCarthy and Private O'Brien sentenced to life penal servitude in 1866, have been released on ticket of-leave. Corporal Chambers, undergoing a similar sentence, will be released next week. The prison governors, however, have received no intimation concerning the release of O'Meara, Condon and Melidy, undergoing sentences for complicity in the Manchester murder, nor of the probable release of other prisoners detained for complicity in alleged Fenian outrages, and who were not convicted of treason, felony or any military offence. McCarthy and O'Brien were received in London by the Irish Political Prisoners' Visiting Committee. They are well, but look prematurely aged. No condition has been made as to their residence outside of the United Kingdom.

Unsolicited Testimony.

FAIRFIELD, Me., April 28, 1864.

Gentlemen,—Seeing numerous certificates in the Maine Farmer, endorsing the merits of the Great Lung Remedy, WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, I am induced and I take great pleasure in giving publicity to the great cure it accomplished in my family in the year 1856. During the Summer of that year my son, Henry A. Archer, now postmaster in this place, was attacked with spitting of blood, cough, weakness of lungs, and general debility, so much so that our family physician declared him to have a "seated consumption." He was under medical treatment for a number of months, but received no benefit from it. At length, from the solicitations of himself and others, I was induced to purchase one bottle of WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, which benefited him so much that he obtained another, which in a short time restored him to his usual state of health. I can safely recommend this remedy to others in like condition, for it is, I think, all it purports to be—the great lung remedy for the times!

The above statement, gentlemen, is my voluntary offering to you in favor of your BALSAM, and is at your disposal.

As ever, yours,
ANDREW ARCHER.

To the Electors of the

NORTH WARD

GENTLEMEN:

In deference to the wishes of a number of ratepayers, that wish being further pressed by the unsolicited nomination of me as a candidate for Councillor for the North Ward, I have great pleasure in announcing my acceptance of that nomination, believing that you will support me, not because I have been tried and found wanting, neither because untried, although no doubt my opponents will endeavour to establish that fact. I hold that my private career has been such, and your estimation of it such as to give the denial to that fact. I believe, farther, that your esteem will yet manifest itself in a more substantial manner by securing my election by your influence and the record of your votes at the polls. That there has been useless and injudicious expenditure in the past all will admit, but the question for the present, after the expression of censure that has been passed on their conduct, is not the inactivity and do-nothingism recommended by some of our retiring lights, but on the contrary, the activity of judicious and strict economy. Being convinced that you will take into consideration my claims for your suffrage, I have the honor to be, gentlemen, your obedient servant,

OWEN MACDONALD.

Guelph, January 3rd, 1878. 3

Second Deputy Reeveship.

To the Electors of the Town of Guelph:

GENTLEMEN,—Having been nominated for Second Deputy-Reeve for the Town of Guelph, for 1878, I have, at the urgent solicitation of a number of ratepayers, decided to run for that office. I have had eleven years' experience in the various positions in the Council, and if elected will, as I have done heretofore, use my best efforts to advance all measures which I consider for the benefit of our good Town, and at the same time oppose all unnecessary expenditure. I therefore respectfully solicit your votes and influence in favor of my election, and remain your obedient servant,

RICHARD MITCHELL.

Dissolution of Partnership.

The Partnership heretofore existing between J. Thos. Brown, and Geo S. Powell, under the style and firm of Brown & Powell, is this day dissolved by mutual consent.

The business will in future be carried on by J. Thos. Brown, who is authorised to collect all accounts, and pay all the indebtedness of the late firm.

WITNESS: W. D. HEPBURN.

J. THOS. BROWN,
GEO. S. POWELL.

In connection with the above I beg to announce that I shall continue to sell at cost for two weeks longer, to reduce the very large stock on hand. My terms in the future will be strictly cash, believing the long credit system to be ruinous to all concerned.

J. THOS. BROWN.

N. B.—All indebted to the late firm of Brown & Powell will please pay at once, as the books must be closed.

MESSRS. JOHN HOGG & SON

Offer the Compliments of the Season to all of their patrons, and at the same time they request immediate payment of all claims standing in their books now unpaid. Mr. Hogg, Senior, leaves in January, (this month) for the English markets, to make purchases for the coming Spring and Summer business. And however reluctant we may feel, yet our business necessities make it imperative on us, to compel payment from all who are in our debt; and at the latest date, by 15th January, 1878, all unpaid at that date will, without favor or affection, be handed to A. A. Baker, Esq., Clerk of Division Court, for Collection.

HAROLD THE OUTLAW

—OR—

The Gauger of Skene.

CHAPTER XIII.

THE COTTAGE IN THE VALLEY.

Breakfast over Kenneth quietly withdrew, leaving Harold and Lizzie again to themselves. He drew her on his knee, brought her face round to his, and gravely said—

"But what has my wife got to say about the charge which has been brought against me. Is she not afraid to come near one who is declared to be a murderer?"

"You—you a murderer, Harold!" she answered, smiling fondly up to him, with half-indignant and wholly intense incredulity. "How could any one possibly say so?"

"Yet it has been said—it has been sworn to, and, what is worse, I am unable to disprove it."

"Is is true, then, what Kenneth hinted to me, that this man Gillespie, the gauger of Skene, knows that it was not you who fired the pistol?"

"That is absolutely true, Lizzie."

"And yet he declares it was."

"He has solemnly declared it before the Sheriff, and signs the written declaration."

"What can be his motive for so horrible a falsehood?"

"That I know not. The only guess I can make is that he has been bribed by the real perpetrator of the crime."

"Ah, and who is that? Kenneth tells me you know."

"I know—Gillespie and Skeat know, but no other human being. As they have both declared it was I, you see I have no means of proving my innocence and their perjury."

"But you can at least proclaim the truth which they have suppressed. You can tell who it really was that——"

"I cannot, Lizzie; honor constrains me to be silent."

"To be silent!" exclaimed Lizzie. "Silent when your life was at stake."

"Even so, and hard as it would have been for me to have parted with you and our boy, I would have died with sealed lips rather than sought to save my life by naming the guilty person."

"Harold," cried Lizzie, "this is strange—incomprehensible. Who is he that you are thus bound to screen?"

"I cannot name him even to you my darling; and, as you know how hard it is for me to refuse you anything, you must not ask me this. If he has tampered with Gillespie to secure his own safety, as I suspect, he has also taken means to save me from the penal consequences by organising measures for my rescue, and no doubt he thereby thinks he has made it up with me for the charge he has allowed to come against me."

"Stay, Harold; I am thinking on what you are saying," said Lizzie. "It was Kenneth who planned, and effected your rescue; but surely it was not Kenneth who—that—

"No, no—a thousand times no. Kenneth is incapable of such a thing; besides, he was not present at the time."

"Then I know whom you mean," returned Lizzie, in a tone of perfect conviction. "It was Black Dick.

"Hush—for God's sake, hush!" said Harold, with a great start. "If you breath that in mortal ear you will destroy my honor, which is dearer to me than life."

"Then you know how safe it is with me," said Lizzie, with a fond proud look. "There, clear your face, dear, of that troubled look. You are not afraid to trust me, are you, Harold? You know I would die rather than utter a syllable to injure you."

"But how did you make such a guess?"

"You gave me the cue to the riddle when you said that the person had planned your rescue. Kenneth told me that Black Dick had given orders to the men to rescue you at every hazard, though they had to knock down every stone in the prison. And well he might," added Lizzie, with a flashing glance, "when it was his deed for which you were taken.'

"Oh, Lizzie, I wish you had not made this discovery," returned Harold, his eyes still retaining their troubled look.

"Harold, my husband, why should you doubt me?" cried the wife, in great distress. "Have I not given you ample proof of my faithfulness in a matter as important."

"My darling, I do not doubt you. My regret is because you will be burdened with an ugly secret, the painful knowledge of which I wished to bear alone. But now that you have guessed so shrewdly, I will trust you to the full. It was Black Dick who shot Wanlass. He came behind me when the officer and I were about to grapple, snatched the pistol from my belt, fired it at his breast, and fled up the rocks. As I have already said, Gillespie and Skeat saw it, and none other except Wanlass himself; but he alas! is not alive to clear me of the foul charge."

"It was a dastardly thing of Dick to do," said Lizzie.

"It was a most deplorable act, but I have no doubt he expected me to follow him up the rocks and escape. But horror paralyzed me, and ere I had power to move I was made prisoner."

"And then he bribed Gillespie to swear that you were the murderer?"

"I can only guess that, and I can imagine no other reason for Gillespie perjuring himself in the matter. For Dick there is some excuse, but for the gauger none, and, by heavens, he shall account to me for it. By his false declaration he has brought upon me utter social ruin. My father has renounced me—when the Court meets for my trial and I appear not, I shall be outlawed—and shall then be a hunted, homeless being, for whom the law of the land has no protection. This—this is what Gillespie has brought upon me, and a heavy expiation will I require at his hand."

"And he could do this dreadful thing for a paltry bribe?" sighed Lizzie. "What a base, worthless man he must be."

"He is a needy man, I have heard. An extravagant, fast-living man, who cannot command sufficient means to maintain the style he has adopted, and he is forced to take any means, however dishonourable, to obtain money. Thus I have been made the victim of his ambition; but he shall live to rue it."

Lizzie sat some moments on his knee, wistfully regarding him. Then she put her arms around his neck, and plaintively murmured—

"Oh, Harold, I fear it is I who have brought all this upon you."

"You, Lizzie," he exclaimed in utter astonishment.

"Alas! yes. But for me you would not have incurred the danger of your father's displeasure; but for me you would not have engaged so deeply in these smuggling ventures."

"My darling! say not so," he exclaimed, straining her passionately to her bosom. Your love has been the light and joy of my life. But for that I would have sunk under the persecution and injustice I endured at Mount Cairn. Ah, Lizzie, I thought to take you there some time, and see you the honoured mistress of that mansion, where my cruel stepmother has ruled so haughtily; but this hope, my girl, is forever destroyed. You are now the wife of an outlaw, whose inheritance will be taken from him. It is I who have injured you, for I have linked your fortunes to a fugitive and an outcast—to one who——"

"Your love is infinitely more to me than rank or wealth," she murmured. "Let misfortune do its worst, I will share it with you, and in each other's affection we shall find our happiness."

"We shall, we shall," he answered, in a tone of deep emotion. Then a spell of silent joy came upon them, which lasted till the child awoke, when Lizzie flew to his couch and brought him forth to crow with delight when he beheld his father and found himself perched on his knee.

THE Company's special system of Loans affords to borrowers, and especially to Farmers, the following most important advantages:—

1. The borrower is NOT OBLIGED to repay any part of the principal until the whole term of the Mortgage has run.
2. He has the RIGHT (after the first year) to repay at any time, the whole or any part of the Loan, without prior notice to the Company.
3. No extra charge, bonus or otherwise, is exacted on such repayment.
4. He is requested when making application for the Loan, to state the day on which he wishes interest to be made payable. He thus can stipulate for a date, say after harvest, or at such time as is likely to be most convenient for him.
5. Interest can be made payable once a year—not in advance.
6. On repayment of any part of the principal, interest on such amount immediately ceases.

Mr. Chadwick's Reply to Mr. Elliott.

To the Editor of the Mercury.

SIR,—Two letters which appeared in your issue of Thursday, written by Mr. Elliott, call for some notice from me.

Those letters exhibit a good deal of feeling on the part of the writer, which I think is quite unnecessary in a municipal contest.

Mr. Elliott states that I made an attack upon him at the nomination. I deny this. I made no attack whatever upon the gentleman, but certainly did take the opportunity, in the few minutes allotted to me, of showing up some of the inconsistencies of the course pursued by Mr. Elliott in the council, and, had more time been allowed, I would have shown more. In doing so I accused Mr. Elliott of having himself moved that certain work be done on Wyndham street without an estimate being first presented to the Council, although he was very particular in other cases to call for these estimates, and Mr. Elliott's own letter admits that my statement was perfectly correct when he give the following motion :—

"Moved by Mr. Elliott, seconded by Mr. Sleeman, that the following clause be added to the 12th report of the road committee, that before the work on Wyndham street is completed, the covered drain on the west side of the street be opened and cleaned out, and if in the opinion of the engineer the said covered drain is insufficient in size, the said drain be enlarged in capacity, and that pits to collect the sand and gravel be built at such points as the engineer may suggest."

This resolution was moved by Mr. Elliott. The work proposed to be done was on the west side of Wyndham street, and there is not a word about estimates, but simply that the drain be enlarged, no matter how much it cost.

Mr Elliott then runs away from the point at issue by stating that the work was required. I never said it was not, nor does it relieve Mr. Elliott from the charge I made.

On referring to the discussion upon this resolution I find that Messrs. McLagan, Coffee, Dunbar, Hart and Heod objected on the ground that no estimate of the cost was before the council, and that Mr. Dunbar went so far as to move an amendment, seconded by Mr. Hood, "That your committee would recommend that the Engineer's report be procured as to the state of repair and capacity of the several under-drains on Wyndham street before next meeting of council, and if the same are not in repair, or of sufficient espacity, an estimate of the amount he would consider necessary to expend thereon.

Mr. Elliott voted against Mr. Dunbar's amendment and against obtaining an estimate of the cost.

The next sentence in Mr. Elliott's letter I brand as a positive untruth, and a cowardly attempt to damage an opponent. It reads :

"I produced the records of the council to show him that he was incorrect, but he had not the manliness to read them when he knew that I had no further right to speak in my defence."

Mr. Elliott produced the records but instead of proving that I was incorrect they proved exactly the contrary, and that is the reason why Mr. Elliott did not read them to the audience. No one would have made any objection to his doing so, and I not only asked him to read, but asked him for the book with the intention of reading them myself, but he neither gave me the book nor read from it, although urged to do so by others on the platform. It is more than childish of Mr. Elliott to say I had not the manliness to read the records while he held on to the book (which by the way only found its way back to the clerk's office to-day) and gave the paltry and contradictory excuse that he had no further right to speak, the rules of the meeting preventing him. I suppose he means the ten minutes, rule. I would ask Mr. Elliott if I had any "further right to speak" which he had not? Mr. Elliott knows perfectly well that my time for speaking had expired as well as his own, and that it is not honest of him to try to make capital against me for not speaking when he had as much "further right" as I had.

In Mr. Elliott's second letter he writes of $500 and $600 spoken of by me as being expended on Paisley street as a myth. I never said anything about a $500 or $600 expenditure, I spoke of the cost of that street as being between $5,000 and $6,000, which with $3,000 or $4,000 spent on Wyndham street, used up nearly the whole of the $10,000 Mr. Elliott was willing to grant the Road and Bridge Committee, leaving the rest of the town comparatively nothing. Mr. Elliott goes on "Mr. Chadwick as Mayor, after the Road Committee was discharged, assumed their functions, and by his own authority ordered the sidewalks on both sides of Paisley street to be laid down."

Note the words:—"assumed" by "his own authority" as if it was wrong for me to do so. I was compelled to do so when Mr. Elliott refused to act on a committee on which he was placed, the members of the council generally pressing me to attend to those duties, and Mr. Elliott was aware that the sidewalk was being laid down and did not object. Moreover, that sidewalk had been already passed by the Council, and I was therefore not doing the work solely by my own authority. A little further on in justifying his own vote he unwittingly exonerates me from the blame he would attempt to fasten on me by writing, "this I voted for as it was absolutely necessary that this break in the road to the station should be made good as the road was almost impassable." Here again Mr. Elliott wanders away from the question, as he always does when he gets cornered. The charge I made was that Mr. Elliott voted for work on Wyndham and Paisley streets without waiting or asking for estimates of the cost, and I have convicted him out of his own mouth. He now seeks to get out of the difficulty by saying "that the work was absolutely necessary." No one denies this, or objects to the work being done. It would be more to Mr Elliott's credit if he could see that it was absolutely necessary to do some work on other streets as well as Wyndham and Paisley.

Mr. Elliott then gets off a little clap-trap about the electors receiving with caution statements made by me, as he has to his own perfect satisfaction refuted these statements, but as I have clearly proved that the statements made by Mr. Elliott are not true, I suppose that sentence will apply to himself.

I am afraid I am taking up too much of your space, but with your permission I will state again that Mr. Elliott does not know the items of receipt and expenditure of the town of Guelph, or, if he does he keeps one side of the account out of sight and endeavors to swell the other to more than its fullest extent, making it worse than it really is, and trying to damage the town by magnifying her debt. This I hold is neither honest nor patriotic. Guelph is going ahead in spite of such croakers. Lastly then, when Mr. Elliott states that the town will require to borrow $20,000 from the bank immediately to pay our indebtedness, he states not only what is false, but what he knows to be so.

The matter is in the hands of the electors, and if they think Mr. Elliott is better able to advance the interests of the town than I am—if they think he has done more to foster our industries—if they think he has taken more interest in assisting all public and private enterprises in our town and county than I have, they will vote for him. If on the contrary, the electors consider that I have been identified with everything calculated to advance the material interests of the town, and that I have ever been ready with both time and money to lend a hand in all that is going on, and willing to advance capital for that purpose, even when there is no immediate prospect of a return, if they think I can represent the progressive interests of Guelph better than Mr. Elliott, they will vote for me. With their verdict I shall be quite satisfied.

Yours truly,
F. J. CHADWICK.

County Model Schools.

To the Editor of the Mercury.

SIR,—At this stage in the history of the above mentioned Institutions, it may not be out of place to have a few words with your numerous readers as to the object of their establishment, and the work which they are designed to accomplish.

It is no doubt already understood that the establishment of COUNTY MODEL SCHOOLS is an attempt to graft upon our Provincial system of education the principle long recognized in connection with the most advanced educational systems of Europe, viz.: that only trained teachers ought to have the legal right to become public educators in the legally recognized schools of the country, and when it is considered that our public schools are wholly supported, directly or indirectly, by the people themselves, that these schools are free to every child of school age throughout the length and breadth of the land; and that now even a compulsory element has entered into our school legislation; it may very safely be maintained that it is the right of every parent in the land to demand that the system which legalizes the teachers of the country, ought not to rest satisfied simply with the guarantee that these teachers have a sufficient literary qualification; but ought also, in some way, to provide against their entering our public schools as mere experimentalists and empiriss; having, perhaps, a sufficient knowledge of the branches to be taught, but little or no idea of the manner of managing a school and conducting its various classes. This last is the defect in our educational system which it is the design of our County Model Schools to rectify, to some extent, at least.

It is, perhaps, too early in their history to form a correct opinion as to how far this evil is likely to be remedied by the schools in question. A period of four months will not afford sufficient data in the way of results to speak definitely of what these schools may accomplish in the future; but from some acquaintance in the way of conducting examinations, with what has already been done in this county, I am safe in asserting that very much indeed may be expected from our County Model Schools. The first thought that strikes an observer in coming in contact with a group of Model School pupils, is that the whole excitement as to whether they shall pass the arithmetic, grammar, or geography papers has passed away, and that its place is taken up by an equal excitement in reference to the organization and discipline of the school-room, the management of classes, and the elements which enter into effective and successful teaching. And why? Simply because, having already passed a successful examination in the literary part of their training, they have now for over two months been intent on acquiring a knowledge of, and perfecting themselves in a second and most important part of their duties, viz.: school management in all its departments. They have from day to day, during the Model School session, been intent upon observing and obtaining a knowledge of what are supposed to be the best methods of teaching and government in our best conducted public schools, and have now, in addition to the literary qualification already referred to, acquired some definite ideas as to how they shall use it, and put it into successful practice; and must therefore, to a very large extent, have got beyond the list of mere experimentalists. This is the great benefit to be derived from a well-managed Model School System, and one which I am confident has already been attained, to some extent, at least, throughout this Province.

As the system now stands, however, it is not by any means perfect. Some very important elements are still lacking in order that it may rest on a substantial basis. The one which at present, more than any other, militates against its success, is, that it is, so far, only optional, both as regards its establishment and maintenance. It must therefore be plain to any one who has followed the developments of our educational system in Ontario, that, if the County Model School is to become a part of it, this department ought at once to be placed on the same footing as any other division of the system. So far we have been aiming at a national system of education, having in it the elements of uniformity and unity as to the mutual dependence and connection of all its parts. It is, therefore, an incongruous feature in the system, that while the carrying out and support of every other part of it should be obligatory, this should be optional. If it should always remain optional with School Boards whether or not they should agree to establish Model Schools where recommended by the Educational Department, and with County Councils whether they should supply the means of support, then it were much better the attempt were discontinued at once. But if it be true that Model Schools are calculated to overcome a very manifest defect in our educational system, as I feel confident they are, then the optional feature should be removed, placing their establishment and support on the very same basis as pertains to any other department of the whole system. School Boards have hitherto, in some instances, and very justly, too, objected to the establishment of Model Schools from the additional expense necessarily entailed upon them in consequence, amounting, in some cases, to the engagement of an additional teacher, and the furnishing of another school-room, while the benefits arising from the Model School are by no means local, but extends to the whole County. So long as third-class certificates are, as at present, almost exclusively confined to the county in which they are granted, and third class candidates only are those for whose training Model Schools are established, it is plain, therefore, that the question of support is wholly a county matter, and ought not to be forced upon any local Board or corporation in the county. If, therefore, this Model School System is to attain any permanent degree of usefulness as a part of our educational system, this is the first and most important step towards its successful establishment and future prosperity. There is little doubt but this aspect of the question will receive the attention of Parliament during the approaching session, otherwise the whole system is left to rest on a kind of haphazard basis, and for its success or failure no one can be held particularly responsible. Other features of less importance might be noticed, but as I have already exceeded the bounds of an ordinary letter, I must conclude by craving your indulgence for trespassing to so great length on your valuable space.

I am, yours, &c.,
D.M.C.

EXTENSIVE FORGERY IN BRANTFORD.—Mr. J. W. Bowlby is a lawyer doing business in Brantford, and he left his office for the holidays in charge of his clerk, Melville Griffin, a lad about eighteen years of age. On Mr. Bowlby's return on Wednesday he sent a cheque for $1,400 to be cashed to the Bank of British North America. To his surprise, word was returned that he had better make a deposit first. This induced an inquiry, when it was ascertained that two cheques had been removed from Mr. Bowlby's cheque book, and one numbered 62,965, had been filled in with $900 and cashed. This cheque was endorsed by Daniel Bryce, and purported to be signed J. W. Bowlby. The other cheque is out, and will not, it is thought, be presented for payment. Griffin left for Detroit, and finding that the police were on his track, left for the Black Hills. Mr. Bowlby seems to think that young Griffin had been but a tool in the hands of designing men. He has always borne a good reputation heretofore, and is the son of highly respectable people.

Why the Canadians get along so peacefully with the Indians (says the N. Y. Sun) is partially explained by the fact that every person who, since 1874, has introduced whiskey into the region of which Fort MacLeod is the centre, has, without an exception, been captured and fined.

Do your Spectacles Suit your Eyesight?

If not, you should at once get them exchanged for a pair that will, for nothing is more injurious to the sight than using glasses which are misfitted. If they are too strong or too weak there is a continual strain upon the nerves and cords of the eye, creating an inflammation which will, if you continue using the misfitted pair, ruin the eyesight altogether. Many merchants who sell spectacles know little or nothing about the principles of fitting the eyes, and you are therefore liable to buy a wrong pair just because they seem to suit when you first try them on, which, after wearing for an hour or so, will "draw" until it is painful to wear them. From my study of the eye, and long experience in selling spex, I can safely affirm that more eyesights are destroyed by wearing improperly fitted glasses than from any other cause. I have an instrument invented by Kent Brothers, Toronto, which proves to a certainty what number of lense you should use, with which I will be pleased to test anyone who desires it, without any charge.

MEMORIAL SERVICE.—The B. M. Church (coloured) was well filled yesterday afternoon, in response to the announcement in Saturday's MERCURY that Rev. Mr. Mayo would make special reference to the decease of the late Louis Bollen, for some years porter at the Royal Hotel. Fully half those present were white people. The service began at three o'clock, Mr. Mayo giving out Wesley's well known and appropriate hymn, "And am I only born to die," which was taken up in the coloured brethren's own peculiar measured strains. A casual in town, Rev. Mr. Chancey, (coloured) led in prayer, the burden of the petition being that the lessons taught by this sad occasion might be settled upon the minds of those present. Mr. Mayo began by saying, death had been among them and called away a brother. They were met to discourse upon the death of their late brother, John L. Bollen. Taking as the basis of his remarks Luke 23, v. 42, little was said from the passage, his remarks being chiefly in reference to the deceased's religious character, having afore time walked in the fear of the Lord, but like many more became wayward, erring, neglecting religious duties. The preacher visited, conversed and prayed with him several times, and had good hope that, during his sickness—which was very severe,—he sincerely repented of his sins and waywardness, and realized comfort and hope through the merits of Christ Jesus, by whom alone those present were urged to seek pardon and mercy without delay. Concluding with some special remarks to the deceased's widow and children, to begin at once to serve God and trust in Him, who hath declared Himself to be a "Husband to the widow and Father to the fatherless." Rev. Mr. Chancey supplemented the foregoing with a few pointed words to the audience in general.

A Striking Contrast.

From the Stratford Beacon.

No one could read the obituary notices of the late Chief Justice Draper without feeling that there had been a sad falling off socially, intellectually and morally in the leaders of the Conservative party for the last quarter of a century. The Tory leaders of the olden time were for the most part men of ability. Narrow and bigoted they certainly were, and in some instances the narrowness and bigotry may have been spiced with bitterness and cruelty, but still they were mostly men of intellect and culture. Robinson, Maclean, Draper, and others whom we might mention, are names that must always command respect, even if they don't always awaken very kindly memories. But who are the Tory leaders in Ontario now? Instead of the distinguished men just named we have such political pigmies as M. C. Cameron, such shady characters as Lauder and Rykert, and such adventurers as Wandering Willie and Burr Plumb. There is a falling off there which must pain the hearts of the high-toned Tories of the old school, the only kind of Tory by the way, that one can respect. It is not so in the Reform ranks. There has been no falling off there either socially, morally, intellectually or any other way. We say nothing at present of the Reform leaders who are in or have passed middle life, and some of whom have left the political arena. Every one knows that such men as Mackenzie, Holton, Dorion, and Brown are quite equal in ability to any public men we ever had in Canada, either Tory or Reform. We refer especially to a large class of young men of distinguished ability who have been growing up in the Reform party, strengthening and adorning its ranks, while the Tory ranks have been filled by such material as Burr Plumb and Orton. At no period in the past history of the country had we in any party such a galaxy of brilliant young men as the two Blakes, Moss, Mills, Young, Hodgins, Hardy, Fraser, Laurier, Guthrie, and others whose names might be mentioned. Mr. Edward Blake was offered the highest place on the Bench long before he was 40, and was the acknowledged leader of the Chancery Bar at 30. For ten years he has been one of the foremost men of the Dominion, and is now only 44. Vice-Chancellor Blake was raised to the Bench by Sir John A. Macdonald's Government before he was 40, and had 70 briefs in his bag when made a judge. Mr. Moss occupies the highest judicial position in Ontario at 42, and refused a vice-chancellorship at 36. Mr. Mills is comparatively a young man, but no member of the Commons receives a more respectful hearing or has more influence among his fellow members. M. Laurier is one of the most brilliant orators in the Dominion at 36, as was Mr. Moss at 37. Mr. Hodgins, Mr. Hardy, Mr. Fraser, and others are young men, but they are in the front rank, and are fast making their mark in the political history of the country. We repeat that at no period in the history of Canada was there a number of rising statesmen equal in point of ability and character to those who have grown up in the Reform ranks during the last few years. Against all these we have in the Tory ranks that modest young man who represents Cardwell in the Commons, admittedly the only young man of promise in the Tory ranks. After all, the one-man power has not done much for Toryism. The "Chieftain" made the party bow down and worship him, and hero-worship does not develop character or stimulate intelligence. Sir John could never bear a rival in his own ranks, and the result of his personal reign is a race of political pigmies.

STABBING AFFRAY.

"Rory" McCrae Plunges a Knife into a Young Man Named Patterson.

On Saturday evening a young man about twenty-eight years of age, son of Mr. Wm. Patterson, of the West End, Guelph Township, was stabbed by an old man usually known by "Rory" McCrae, and the injuries are of such a nature that, as yet, it is impossible to tell whether they will prove fatal or not. Patterson, however, is in a very serious condition. The affair took place at Lillie's Hotel, on the Elora Road.

McCrae is a character well known in Guelph, from the fact that he makes periodical visits to the town for the purpose of disposing axe handles, which he manufactures. On Saturday he was in Guelph, and he, as usual, drank considerably during the day. Towards evening he proceeded up as far as Lillie's Hotel, where he called for liquor. This, it is said, he was refused, and after some young fellows who were present, had chaffed him he left for the Junction Hotel to get liquor there. It is also said that liquor was refused him there, and he returned to Lillie's, a little after eight o'clock.

Patterson, who is the victim of the unfortunate affair, and a highly respectable young man, had been threshing during the day, and called at the post office. When McCrae returned to Lillie's, several young men who were there, seeing that he was the worse of liquor, appeared to think he was a legitimate object for fun, and commenced teasing him. At this time McCrea had his jack-knife out, and was cutting tobacco. Patterson observing that McCrae was getting very angry, and doubtless thinking that he should not be teased, went up to him and putting his hand on his shoulder said, "Rory, come along with me," intending to take him away from the crowd. McCrae misinterpreting the action and considering that Patterson meant to tease him, drew his hand back which held the knife and stabbed him in the lower part of the abdomen, with an upward stroke. Patterson fell, exclaiming, "I am stabbed."

In an instant all was confusion, and while some assisted Patterson to a couch in the hotel, one of the party was despatched post haste to Guelph for a doctor.

Dr. Brock's services were first secured and on his arrival, seeing how dangerously wounded the young man was, sent after Dr. Herod. They found the wound to be a very ugly one, with a portion of the covering of the stomach protruding. This was with some difficulty replaced and the wound was found to be nearly two inches in length at the surface.

The wounded man is well cared for at the hotel, the doctors not allowing his removal home. It is yet impossible to say what chances the young man has for recovery.

McCrae has not been arrested as yet, but he has made no attempt to escape.

The lesson this sad affair is one which should be observed by those who delight in tossing men under the influence of liquor. McCrae is said to be harmless in his sober moments, but heated with liquor and passion is as has been shown, very dangerous.

To correct a rumor that has received circulation in town, it might be stated that Patterson had not touched liquor of any description during the day, and as already stated he was trying to befriend McCrae when he was so grievously wounded.

Interesting to Farmers and Others.

Liability for Runaway Horses—A Horse Purchase Case.

Among the cases tried before Judge Squires at the Division Court, Clinton, last week, were two in particular, the judgment on which are of public interest. One was Marshall vs. Aikenhead—the particulars in this case being that some time since a span of horses belonging to defendant ran away, running into and badly damaging a buggy that stood on the side of the road, belonging to the plaintiff, who sued for $30 damages. After a very patient hearing of the case the latter was non-suited, on the ground that no negligence on the part of the owner of the team had been proven. It has generally been supposed that the owner of a team was always responsible for accidents occurring through a runaway, but the verdict in this case will, no doubt, remove the illusion. The other tried was that of Worthington vs. Hill, in which it was shown that Dr. Worthington wished to purchase a horse, and informed Mr. Weir, a machine agent, to obtain one for him, suitable for farm work, &c. Weir learned that Hill had a mare for sale, and in the course of business asked about it. Hill offered to sell the animal and represented that it was in good working order, serviceable, &c., but did not warrent it to that effect. On the strength of the representations Weir took the mare at $80, and turned it over to Worthington, who, on attempting to use it, found it to be worth little or nothing, and accordingly brought suit against Hill to recover damages. The case was tried by jury, they giving a verdict of $40 in Worthington's favor, the ground on which this was done being that the horse was sold under misrepresentations.

EXPENSIVE JUSTICE IN WENTWORTH.—A Hamilton paper says:—The machine used for grinding out justice for the County of Wentworth is rather expensive if one is to judge by a couple of incidents of recent occurrence. The time of the Court was taken up a whole day in trying to decide whether a certain defendant should pay for a horse that had been killed by the alleged carelessness of the defendant. However he lost his case. It was said the value of the horse might be anywhere between $40 and $80, yet it cost the County $260 to try the action, which came to nothing. Then again to day, the lawyers, in challenging the jurors in the case against the burglars, exhausted the panel though the jury only lacked one man. A tales was prayed for, and the sheriff had to summon 50 gentlemen, who promptly put in an appearance at Court. Only one of them was, of course, selected, yet the remainder had to be paid at the rate of $1,50 a day simply for walking down to the Court. For this little game on the part of the lawyers retained to defend the alleged burglars, the county has to come down handsomely with $75.

The War News.

January 6.

It is stated that Russia has repeatedly before and since the Conference endeavored to secretly negotiate terms of peace with Turkey, and hostile to English interests. It is thought that Russia will probably refuse to inform England of her armistice conditions.

A despatch from London direct says:—There is nothing new in political reports or rumours. The comments of the weekly leading journals on the situation are unimportant.

A London despatch says:—A split in the English Cabinet is imminent. Lord Beacons field insists upon his own retirement or on the resignation of the Earl of Carnarvon. The Cabinet is divided on the question of the Government's Eastern policy.

The reports of a disagreement in the Cabinet have caused a decided sensation in London, and the matter is the subject of general discussion. The feeling is on the side of Lord Beaconsfield, who, it is said, is in favor of resisting, even to the extremity of war, the determination of Russia to settle with Turkey alone for peace. The subject is being agitated of calling a public meeting to approve the stand taken by Lord Beaconsfield, and for a free expression of sentiment on the Eastern question. Many prominent men advocate calling a meeting for that purpose.

We have reason to believe that France within the last few days requested information from the British Foreign Office as to whether England contemplated any action with respect to Egypt, and that assurances had been given in reply that none was contemplated.

A Constantinople telegram states that the Porte has asked for an armistice through England.

Minister Layard has handed to the Porte the Russian answer to England's Note, that Turkey should apply for an armistice directly to the Russian Commander-in-Chief The transmission of this reply to the Porte had been delayed pending the deliberations of the English Cabinet.

A telegram from Gen. Gourko announced a desperate engagement on January the 2nd near Bogrova. The Turks attempted to surround five battalions of Russian infantry and a brigade of cavalry, but were defeated, leaving a thousand dead on the field. The Russians lost 200.

An Erzeroum despatch says:—The Russian infantry and cavalry who advanced to Ladja to destroy the telegraph lines have been totally routed after a desperate engagement.

A Russian detachment under General Dandeville, which supported General Gourko in his movement over the Balkans, had fifty three men frozen to death in one night, and 820 frost bitten.

The scenes in the Turkish Chamber have been very stormy. An unconfirmed report states that the Grand Vizier, Edhem Pasha, has tendered his resignation. It is believed that the Chamber will be either prorogued or dissolved if it continues to attack the Ministry.

An Alexandria despatch says 5,000 more troops have sailed from Egypt for Turkey and further reinforcements are being prepared.

ACTON.—The verdict found at the inquest on the body of the man found dead near the railway track, a short distance from Acton, was that of accidentally killed by a passing train. The man's name could not be discovered.—The members of the firms of Storey & Co., and Storey, Moore & Co., have each been presented with a handsome photograph album, by their employees.—At the last regular meeting of Calanthe Lodge, No. 18, K. of P., the following officers were elected:—Bro. J. P. Secord, C.C.; Wm. Smyth, P.C.; C. S. Smith, V.C.; Geo. Hynds, K. of R. & S.; W. H. Storey, M. of E.; F. H. Storey, M. of F.; Thos. Ebbage, P.; W. Cumner, M. at A.; Jas. SAUGEEN VALLEY RAILWAY.—On Friday afternoon a well attended meeting of ratepayers was held in Glamis, County of Bruce, for the purpose of advocating the extension of the Saugeen Valley Railroad from Walkerton to Inverhuron, in the event of the extension of the road being made from Mount Forest to Walkerton. Delegates from Chepstow, Tiverton, and Inverhuron were present, and spirited addresses were made in advocacy of the scheme, and a unanimous vote was taken in its favour. A committee was formed to watch the progress of events, and to form a deputation to wait upon the directors of the Saugeen Valley Company and to see what measures can be instituted to amalgamate the two schemes and to work conjointly for the most favorable opportunity presented of establishing a direct, short, and inexpensive line of communication with Toronto and the main points.

HONORS TO STANLEY.—Sir George Elliot gave a banquet in honor of Stanley at Cairo, on Thursday. The Khedive visited the banquet hall. In addition to the Grand Cross of the Medjidie, the Khedive presented him with a decoration of another grade, which enables Stanley to take the title of Grand Officer of the Order of Medjidie. The Khedival Geographical Society also gave Stanley a reception last evening. Stanley arrived in Alexandria on Friday afternoon and will remain a few days. He will sail for Brindisi on the 7th and proceed to Rome. The Geographical Society of Marseilles are preparing a grand reception.

ELECTION DAY.

Little Excitement but Hard Work Being Done.

The polls opened in the various Wards in town at nine o'clock this morning. It was not until about eleven o'clock that a full head of steam was got on, and from that time until the hour of going to press horses were kept at their fastest trotting pace bringing out voters for the respective candidates.

Greater interest is manifested in the contest for the Reeveship, between Messrs. Geo. Elliott and F. J. Chadwick, than in the vote for any of the other offices. Judging from the confidence openly expressed on both sides, the contest is likely to be close.

Very little excitement prevails around the polling booths, all apparently being well aware of the fact that the time for talking had passed, and that work incessant till the close of the poll, at five o'clock, was required.

Nothing will be known of the actual result until between six and seven o'clock this evening, when a MERCURY extra will be issued.

Misguided Ambition; or the Last Moments of Camille Desmoulins.

BY REV. H. HARRIS.

Camille Desmoulins was one of the leaders of the French Revolution. He was contemporary with Robespiere, Danton, Mercier and Bazore, and was a man of high culture and gifted with a brilliant imagination. He loved liberty, and his friends better than himself. After he had roused the revolutionary spirit in the people by his impassionate appeals and writings, and helped to invest, with civil authority, men whose very deeds make tyrants blush, he tried to stamp out the revolution which he, by his imprudence, had created; but his utmost efforts to appease the passions of the people were in vain, and he was swept along by the irresistible current of popular fury into the vortex of ruin. Camille was arrested and thrown into one of the revolutionary dungeons. While there he wrote a letter to his young and beautiful wife, Lucille, the closing paragraph of which few can read without being moved to tears:—"Adieu Lucille, my dearest Lucille; I feel the shore of life receding before me! My longing eyes still see thee! My loving arms entwine thee, and my severed head reposes upon thy bosom. I die." No human spirit never breathed nobler and purer sentiments than those. The dungeon and its grave associations had subdued the passions of his inferior nature. It became a retreat where his restless spirit found repose. It was then that his higher manhood was moved by the spirit of love and thoughts expressive of devotion to her whom he so tenderly loved, flowed in an uninterrupted stream from that sacred fountain which God alone can agitate. In Lucille all his affections were centred, she was the polar star of his life, which shone on with a splendour that even the shadows of the grave could not dim. I seem as if I could see the young and noble Camille awaiting his doom. A deep calm rests upon his classic forehead, which no earthly tumult can disturb; deep sleep has fallen upon his eyelids and he dreams of her who is the ideal of his life. In the visions of the night she comes to him to gild with golden light the shadows that have settled down on his pathway to the grave. He is speaking to her. "Hark! "Adieu, Lucille! adieu! Though we are are called to part as long as thought or being lest my heart shall throb in unison with thine. I seem as if I can see thee watching me as I recede from the shore of life into the great darkness beyond. Adieu!" His lips grew silent, and while in profound slumber the executioner aroused him and told him his last hour had come, and in a few moments he was on his way to the guillotine. He died bravely, like most of his compeers; but he was worthy of a better fate. The fate of Camille points to the goal to which a misguided ambition leads. When once in the rapids of unrestrained passion, escape is difficult. This fact is illustrated forcibly, not only in the fate of the French revolutionists, but also in the end of Alexander, Hannibal, Cæsar, and Napoleon. Young man, let your highest ambition be to do good, to guide and stimulate your race in the march of true progress, which should ever be the grand purpose of your being.

CHURCH OPENING.—The new church recently erected at a cost of $2,300, on the 14th concession of Peel, was formally dedicated to the worship of God on Sabbath, 22nd Dec. The Rev. Mr. Gray, President of the Methodist Conference, preached morning and evening, and the Rev. Mr. Foreman, District Chairman, preached at two o'clock p.m. On Monday evening a tea-meeting took place, and proved a glorious success. About 600 tickets were sold, and the total receipts summed up to $191. Mr. Foreman called for subscriptions towards wiping out the debt on the church, and succeeded in raising over $900 that way—$400 in excess of what was required to pay off the church debt.

Notice to the Public.

We have for a long time been firmly impressed with the conviction that the long credit system is injurious to business and unjust to creditors, and we have come to the determination to put a stop to it. Our experience is that the practice of extending accounts over a year is a great mistake, is unfair to the creditor and burdensome to the debtor. Were settlements made, say four times a year, instead of once, the amounts would be light, and payments would be comparatively easy, whereas, when accounts run for a year the amounts accumulate, and in many cases it is no easy matter to settle a bill.

We have, therefore, come to the resolution to, in future, make out and collect our accounts for advertising and job work quarterly, and we hereby give notice that this rule will, in all cases, be strictly enforced. We believe that its adoption will be of equal benefit to our patrons as to us, and we shall, in no case, make an exception.

We are now sending out our accounts for the past year, and we must insist on the immediate settlement of them in all cases, otherwise we will have to take the usual but unpleasant steps to enforce payment.

An Opposition Purist Resigns

It will be remembered that Mr. Moffat, the Tory member for Restigouche, was last session put down among the number who had violated the independence of Parliament, by becoming a contractor under the Government, of which he was a bitter opponent. Mr. Moffat denied the impeachment in the strongest possible manner. He said emphatically: "I never had a contract for the Intercolonial Railway in my life, to the best of my knowledge and belief. I know nothing about this, and I deny the whole of it. I never obtained a cent of money from that railway, either by contracts or anything else. I have never sought a contract and never got one," and then in his indignation, he voted for the summary expulsion and degradation of Mr. Speaker Anglin, who certainly had no contract with the Government, and who had simply, in his ordinary avocation, performed work for a department of the public service at the same rates as would have been paid to any other printer, and at the same rates as had been paid for years by Sir John Macdonald for similar service. It seems, however, that Mr. Moffat had a son, who in 1875, wanted to know from the Engineer on the Intercolonial Railway at Campbellton, why he had not got a certain contract for iron, as he had previously done. The young man wrote this letter on behalf of his father, who thus shows himself to have been not only a contractor under the Government, but an applicant for more favors at the hands of his opponents. Mr. Moffat, in spite of his indignant denial last session, and in spite of the indignant protests against the bare supposition that any follower of Sir John would be guilty of taking a cent of public money, has deemed it wise to resign on the ground that he has at last discovered that he was as great a sinner as Mr. Anglin, and that his independence as a member of Parliament had been affected by his (unintentional, of course) profits on Government contracts in carrying those very steel rails which he has professed to think it was such a sin for Mr. Mackenzie to have bought. The question now is, who is the next member of the Opposition who will have to throw up the sponge. Members who knowingly sit in the House next session, in violation of the Act, will be left to take the consequences.

The Lincoln Election Case.

This weary election case still drags its slow length along, and threatens to stretch out till the crack of doom. It was again before the Court of Appeal last Thursday. The respondent (Mr. Rykert) after being unseated for corrupt practices, and having failed to prevent Mr. Neelon from securing a majority on a scrutiny or votes, attempted a flank movement by requesting the judges of the Election Court to allow him to file new lists of votes objected to, and to attack the whole electorate in St. Catharines, Niagara, Port Dalhousie, Merritton, and the other municipalities of Lincoln, on the ground that the assessment rolls and voters' lists were invalid because those who prepared them had neglected to insert an exact description of the property on which each voter qualified. As a matter of fact there is probably not a single municipality in the Province the list of which is free from the same objection as the one brought against those of St. Catharines and the other municipalities of Lincoln, and if the objection had been well taken the result would have been disfranchisement of the whole electorate. The judgment, which was delivered Thursday in the Court of Appeal sets at rest the question in a way which cannot but prove satisfactory to the public. It is not improbable that the respondent may resort to some other means of protracting the contest, and it is not desirable to throw any obstacle in the way of his doing so within the proper legal limits; at the same time it is in the last degree undesirable that the County of Lincoln, which has been unrepresented for two Sessions, should continue without a representative for another.

MR. JOHN C. WADE, a fossilized Tory, who was Speaker of the Nova Scotia Assembly ten years ago, and has since been excluded from public life, has come out against Mr. Vail. There can hardly be a doubt of Mr. Vail's election by a handsome majority. Mr. Richey, the Opposition candidate in Halifax, has been invited to meet Mr. Jones in discussion, but pleads his inability to do so until Thursday when he expects Dr. Tupper to plead his cause.

Manitoba Wheat.

A few weeks ago the following questions were asked through the MERCURY, by the Puslinch Farmers' Club, with a request that any one possessing information on the subject would answer:

"Has there been any importations of spring wheat to Ontario from Manitoba for seed purposes? If so, when and of what variety? Was the experiment satisfactory? What was the yield per acre? and what of the native seed under like conditions? What was the character of that imported, also of that produced, for milling purposes?

The Farmers Advocate answers as follows:—"There are some thousands of bushels imported from Manitoba and Minnesota last year. The wheat was very foul and badly mixed. The greater part of the wheat was of the Fife and Club varieties, and many other sorts. No cleaning could make it pure, and much seed was in it. When it came to Ontario, some seedsmen recleaned it, others sold it as it was imported. The crops have not been better, nor as good, as from wheat raised in Ontario. Some years ago there was a bearded wheat imported from Red River. It answered well in many places in Ontario. Perhaps some of our readers may furnish statistics in regard to the yield, when compared with other grain." From reports at present received, we think the brand will not be represented this year.

An Interesting Will Suit.

There is now pending in the Court of Chancery of Ontario, Canada, a real estate suit which involves a large amount of real estate in Illinois and Minnesota. The defendant is Mr. James Stinson, of Chicago, who is a Trustee under the will of the late Thomas Stinson, of Hamilton, Ontario. Mrs. Mary Jarvis, one of the legatees and the wife of a lawyer residing in Toronto, recently obtained an injunction there restraining Mr. Stinson from making further sales of the estate until further order. It is understood that a similar suit will be begun in Chicago. The whole Stinson estate is valued, under oath, at $970,000, of which $210,000 worth is in Illinois, $440,000 worth in St. Paul, Minn., and the rest in Canada. The St. Paul Pioneer Press gives the following additional particulars: "Mr. James Stinson, who has just returned to Chicago from St. Paul, was the Trustee of the estate of his father, Thomas Stinson, Canada. By the will of the father it was provided that if the son, Henry A. Stinson, died before he attained his majority, or if he died without issue, the property bequeathed to him should be equally divided between the surviving children. Time elapsed; Henry A. Stinson reached his majority and assumed the proprietorship of the property bequeathed to him by his father. Coming into possession of his estate, Henry in turn made a will, and when he died a few months ago, unmarried and without issue, it was found that he had bequeathed all his property, real and personal, to his brother, John Stinson, of Chicago. The sisters, it would seem, propose to contest the will on the ground that as Henry A. Stinson died without issue, the property must be divided in accordance with the will of the father. It is claimed, on the other hand, by lawyers in Canada, Chicago and St. Paul, that as Henry A. Stinson had acquired title to the property in question, he was capable of selling it or disposing of it as he thought proper, and that his will conveying his property to his brother is in all respects valid."

The Cattle Stalls in the Fair Ground.

To the Editor of the Mercury.

SIR,—In reading over the report of the proceedings of the workingmen's meeting, held lately to express their views of municipal affairs, I notice that one speaker, in his indictment against the present officials, says "he has been down in the fair ground, and saw two or three hundred pounds of iron stuck on gates." I know nothing of the Market Committee accounts, and have no interest in them, except that I must say that they are the only Committee who have ever done anything for the benefit of the farmer in Guelph Market. Every farmer who sells his cattle on the fair grounds can appreciate the difference between having them weighed on the ground, and then taken off his hands by being put into a convenient pen, instead of having to wait sometimes for hours until the drovers had done buying, then driving across the railroad track, chasing and pounding their cattle up to the scales, where often all was confusion, and probably a lot to weigh before him. The old state of affairs, caused by a want of proper arrangements, was a disgrace to the town; and the Market Committee deserve the best thanks of the farming community for having taken in hand to remedy former inconveniences, and provide suitable accommodation to do business. Another improvement they have made at the Market House, by giving increased facilities for weighing produce, which has been largely used this season for weighing hogs. Although to be of full advantage to farmers who desire to weigh their produce, a man should be employed to help unload and load up, as many will be deterred from using the scales for fear of their horses getting away unless they had help; and I have no doubt but that enough business would be done to pay for the expense and the cost of scales in a season.

Another view to be taken of the money spent in these improvements is, that although the money may be voted by, and the work done through the municipal officers of the town; yet that it is done with money collected from the farmers, as the town derives a large revenue from the market fees, therefore in making these improvements for the accommodation of business, they are only doing simple justice to the farming community, and advancing their own interests. I am, yours &c.,

A FARMER.

Guelph Township, Jan. 4, 1878.

CASE DISMISSED.—The charge of fraud preferred by Mr. Wm. G. East, of Amaranth, against Mr. John Potter, of Elora, was dismissed by the magistrate of Fergus. The News Record says that evidence produced by the complainant showed that in the month of August last joint notes made by John Potter and D. M. Potter for fifty cents in the dollar of the original amounts agreed upon with Mr. East and others as the price to be paid for certain logs was accepted as settlement in full. The court held that Mr. East's claim having been voluntarily settled in this way, it was a matter of no importance to him whether or not the Messrs. Potter were in partnership. We understand furthermore that no evidence was produced to show that John and D. M. Potter were not partners, and hence of course the charge of fraud was not prover.

The Ontario farmer now finds almost as good a market in England for his No. 2 barley as in the United States for his No. 1. The shipment of this cereal from the port of Montreal during the year amounted to 800,000 bushels, and nearly as much more via New York and Portland. This, there is good reason to believe, is only the beginning of a very large trade, and the importance of it to our farmers will be readily understood.

Do your Spectacles Suit your Eyesight?

If not, you should at once get them exchanged for a pair that will, for nothing is more injurious to to the sight than using glasses which are misfitted. If they are too strong or too weak there is a continual strain upon the nerves and cords of the eye, creating an inflammation which will, if you continue using the misfitted pair, ruin the eyesight altogether. Many merchants who sell spectacles know little or nothing about the principles of fitting the eyes, and you are therefore liable to buy a wrong pair just because they seem to suit when you first try them on, which, after wearing for an hour or so, will "draw" until it is painful to wear them. From my study of the eye, and long experience in selling spex, I can safely affirm that more eyesights are destroyed by wearing improperly fitted glasses than from any other cause. I have an instrument invented by Kent Brothers, Toronto, which proves to a certainty what number of lense you should use, with which I will be pleased to test anyone who desires it, without any charge.

He was waiting for her in the parlor the other evening when her little brother came cautiously into the room and gliding up to his side, held out a handful of something, and earnestly enquired 'What's them?' 'Those, he relpied solemnly, taking one in his fingers, 'Those! why, Johnny, those are beans.' 'There!' shouted the boy to his sister who was just coming in, 'I knew you lied, you said he didn't know beans, and he does too. He smiled sadly, and his stay was not what might be called a prolonged one that evening.

Dr. Wm. Gray's Specific Medicine

Before Taking

After Taking

The Great English Remedy is especially recommended as an unfailing cure for Seminal Weakness, Spermatorrhea, Impotency, and all diseases that follow as a consequence of Self Abuse, as Loss of Memory, Universal Lassitude, Pain in the Back, Dimness of Vision, Premature Old Age, and many other diseases that lead to INSANITY OR CONSUMPTION and a PREMATURE GRAVE, all of which, as a rule, are first caused by deviating from the path of nature, and over indulgence.

The Specific Medicine is the result of a life study and many years of experience in treating those special diseases. Pamphlet free by mail.

The Specific Medicine is sold by all druggists at $1 per package, or six Packages for $5, or will be sent by mail on receipt of the money, by addressing DR. WM. GRAY & CO., Windsor, Ont.

SOLD IN GUELPH BY

CHAPTER XIV.

DADDY DUFF IS INTRODUCED TO THE HEADQUARTERS OF THE SMUGGLERS.

On this memorable night when such notable events where transpiring in the Aberdeen Tolbooth, Daddy Duff was fast asleep among a heap of straw in a byre many miles away.

A rare sound sleeper was Daddy Duff. Scarcely was his head down upon such a pillow as it generally had to recline upon than a deep slumber wrapt his senses in forgetfullness, and even dreaming was his exceptional experience. This is perhaps not to be wondered at, seeing that he walked so much among the keen air of the hills, enjoyed perfect health, and had for the most part nothing to trouble him. A contented nature and an easy conscience are the best guarantees of nightly repose, and these our wandering beggar possessed in no ordinary degree. Burdened with the memory of no evil deeds of special magnitude, he had no cause to fear any coming penalty. His simple mode of life also exempted him from those worldly cares which surround most men, and if he did not enjoy the comforts of domestic life, neither did he endure its anxieties; and so he slept like a top from the moment he lay down, till the moment he rose.

Such was his condition on the night in question. About the gloaming he had reached a small farm place far among the western hills, and, after being regailed with a bowl of porridge by the charitable occupants of the same, he betook himself to the byre, where clean oat straw was stored in abundance, and there, curling himself up, he went to sleep with anticipation of a night's unbroken repose.

In Daddy's case nature was almost invariably left to herself—that is, no one ever thought of awaking him. Being his own master, he had the privilege of keeping his own hours, and was allowed to wake of his own accord.

Very much astonished, therefore, was he to find himself roughly shaken on his straw pallet, to hear the sound of deep voices, and on opening his sleep-glued eyes to have them dazzled by a glare of red light shining full upon them.

His first thought was that a fire had broken out, and he was about to spring to his feet when his clearing vision showed him that the light came from a lantern held by one of a number of men who filled the byre, and whose shaggy faces were scowling down upon him in no friendly manner.

"Guid keep me, what's the matter?" cried Daddy, rubbing his eyes in amazement.

"Ay, you'll know that soon enough, you old hypocrite," replied a stern voice, accompanied by angry growls from the other men.

This mode of address made Daddy more astonished than before. He was so popular among the people in the district that such rude, threatening language was new to him, and he received it accordingly by standing stock still and staring at the angry faces which the light dimly revealed glaring upon him.

"Bairns, bairns, what kind o' a joke is this?" he said at length. "I like a wee diversion in season, but it's nae fun for a man tae be waukened oot o' his sleep in this fashion. Gang yer wa's like guid bairns, and leave me tae the enjoyment o' my nicht's rest."

"Drag him out, Pull him out if he won't come. Ay, haul him away. We have no time to wait," cried many loud angry voices.

"Will you come, or must we carry you?" demanded the man who held the lantern.

"Come!" repeated Daddy; "what wull I come for?"

"Because you've got to go with us; that's all."

"Gang wi' you! And what for maun I gang wi' you? I'll dae nae sic thing. I'm nae disposed to travel but on my ain choice, and ye wadna force me tae onything else, wad ye?"

"Now, no nonsense; pull him along, boys."

Several forms sprang forward, and a number of hands laid hold of Daddy with a strong grasp. Seeing that the fellows were in earnest, and really meant to drag him out, he grew alarmed for the safety of his rags, and loudly exclaimed that he would come forth of his own accord.

"The better for you," said his stern assailant, motioning to the others to let go. "Now, quick," he added, "for we have a long way to ride."

"Mercy me! and am I tae ride wi' ye?" gasped the bewildered beggar.

"Ay, are you, and in such fashion that you can't escape."

"Lord, but this bates every green thing! Such usage I never got in a' my life."

"Perhaps not; but better for us if you had got it earlier. However, your tricks are found out now, and you'll know what to expect."

"My tricks! What tricks?"

"Will you come, or must the men seize you again—curse you?"

"Oh, no, there's nae occasion. If ye are determined tae hae me awa' I has nae pooer tae resist. Let me get my stick and my wallet and I am ready; but for the sowl o' me I canna understand the meanin' o' the business."

"That's a lie. You know well enough what it means—your conscience tells you."

"Dis it?" responded Daddy, as he gathered up his stick and wallet and came forth from the byre in the midst of his captors. "Then, I tell ye what, freends, if that be true, my conscience maun speak in a mair leich and ceevil mainner than ye dae, for, upon my life, I canna hear it."

With a good deal of haste the old man was hustled through the open door, near to which were more men and a number o horses. The day was breaking—the eastern sky, streaked with red and purple, proclaimed the approaching advent of the sun, and already the tops of the hills stood boldly out against the brightening air.

The appearance of Daddy brought a succession of savage growls and exclamations from the throats of the group who were waiting outside, and one or two gestures threatening violence were made, which were, however, at once discouraged by the one who seemed to act as leader of the band.

"No use for that," he cried; "we have him sure enough, and he'll get his due at the right time."

"Ay, guid faith! we'll a' dae that," observed Daddy, who, as he knew of no reason why he should be afraid of these men, resolved to take things with his usual equanimity, though he could not but see that for some cause or other he was the object of their fierce resentment.

"There's a mistake somewhere," he said to himself, "and nae doot it wull be redd up or lang, sae I'll jist wait patiently for the upshot."

And putting this resolution into practice he dived his hands among his rags into the receptacle which contained his snuff-horn, and proceeded with great deliberation to give his two nostrils their usual supply in the manner he best approved of—altogether unmoved by the scowling glances which were cast upon him, and the uncomplimentary epithets bestowed upon him.

"What's tae be the next thing in this curious pantomeme," was the question he had just asked himself, when a horse was led forward to where he stood guarded with a piece of sacking tied on its back by way of a saddle.

"Jump up," said the leader, with stern curtness.

"Me?" exclaimed Daddy.

"Yes, you. Jump, I say; and quickly too."

"Easy said, my man; but no sae easy done. I hinna been on horseback for forty years; and, as I ne'er was a guid rider at the best, ye may ken I'm nae fit tae

THE Company's special system of Loans affords to borrowers, and especially to Farmers, the following most important advantages:—

1. The borrower is NOT OBLIGED to repay any part of the principal until the whole term of the Mortgage has run.
2. He has the RIGHT (after the first year) to repay at any time, the whole or any part of the Loan, without prior notice to the Company.
3. No extra charge, bonus or otherwise, is exacted on such repayment.
4. He is requested when making application for the Loan, to state the day on which he wishes interest to be made payable. He thus can stipulate for a date, say after harvest, or at such time as is likely to be most convenient for him.
5. Interest can be made payable once a year—not in advance.
6. On repayment of any part of the principal, interest on such amount immediately ceases.

comply wi' your very unreasonable demand. As for jumpin' up, the thing is a physical impossibility. Ye may as weel tell me tae flee tae the meen."

"Here, some of you—bear a hand and itch him on."

"Weel, waifu' folk man hae their way, Tham that will tae Cupar maun tae Cupar," was the old man's sage observations as unresisting he was lifted from the ground by a number of brawny arms and tossed upon the horseback with a violence which would inevitably have sent him down on the other side had he not clutched the neck and mane, and so avoided such a catastrophe.

The shock was so vehement as to cause his wallet to swing from his shoulder to his breast, and the long cudgel fell out of his hand when he made a clutch for safety.

"Guid guide us, what a dunt," he groaned. "It's aneuch tae shake the sowl oot o' me. Let's see up my stick."

"Bah, you've no use for a stick," was the rurly rejoinder. The horse will go as fast as ye want without a blow, and I shan't give you the means of galloping away from us."

"Nane o' that, my friends," responded Daddy, sternly; "My stick maun gang where I gang. Its been my companion nicht and day for the last fifteen years, and I wadna pairt wi' it for a king's ransom. Sae hand it up, or off I'll come in spite o' a' yer threats and curses."

"You mean to thrash the horse into a gallop, and try to escape from us, do ou."

"Me escape by gallopin'!" echoed Daddy, in a tone of comical incredulity. I'm thinkin' if I tried that I wad sune be amang the feet o'm."

"Oh, well, give him the stick. We can soon overtake him if he tries that dodge."

So Daddy had the stick handed up to him, and as he had now got the wallet back into its proper position he laid his cherished staff across his knees.

Now, will you promise not to jump off, for, if you don't, I must have your feet tied together under the belly, and that you'll find anything but pleasant."

"I dinna doot it. As ye say, it wad be unco unpleesant baith for the horse and me, but there's no the sma'est need for it, I assure ye. Instead o' jumpin' aff, the question is, will I no fa' aff, for o' that there is muckle mair likelihood."

"Devil a fear of you. Now, lads, let's mount and be off, for this finishes our night's work, and we can't complain of having done it ill."

In half a minute or less every horse had a rider on its back, a few being in saddles, others being seated like the prisoner on sacking, and some being astride the entirely bare-backed steeds.

They got into a kind of irregular procession, Daddy being placed near the centre, close beside the man who acted as leader, and who had a piece of stout cord uniting the bridles of the two horses, so that the one had to accommodate his pace to that of the other.

Unsolicited Testimony.

Fairfield, Me., April 28, 1864.

Gentlemen,—Seeing numerous certificates in the Maine Farmer, endorsing the merits of the Great Lung Remedy, Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, I am induced and I take great pleasure in giving publicity to the great cure it accomplished in my family in the year 1856. During the Summer of that year my son, Henry A. Archer, now postmaster in this place, was attacked with spitting of blood, cough, weakness of lungs, and general debility, so much so that our family physician declared him to have a "seated consumption." He was under medical treatment for a number of months, but received no benefit from it. At length, from the solicitations of himself and others, I was induced to purchase one bottle of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, which benefited him so much that he obtained another, which in a short time restored him to his usual state of health. I can safely recommend this remedy to others in like condition, for it is, I think, all it purports to be—the great lung remedy for the times!

The above statement, gentlemen, is my voluntary offering to you in favor of your Balsam, and is at your disposal.

As ever, yours,
Andrew Archer.

TOWN COUNCIL for 1878 first meeting on Monday, 21st.

THERE is no improvement in the condition of the young man Patterson who was stabbed by Rory McCrea, on Saturday night last.

ON the 17th inst., the concert under the auspices of the young members of St. Bartholomew's church will be held in the town hall. Miss Quinlan, of New York, Dr. Sippi, of London, and other vocalists who have a very high reputation will take part.

ILLICIT STILLS.—On Monday Collector Caven and Officer Elwood seized three illicit stills in the county of Huron, one of which had been in operation, and the other two were just going to start.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES, received by Dominion Telegraph, for the next twenty-four hours:—Falling barometer, fresh to brisk, south-easterly to south-westerly winds; weather warmer, and cloudy with snow.

CURLING AND SKATING.—Thanks to the efforts of the caretakers of the curling and skating rink, Messrs. Congalton and Davis, the ice is now in an excellent condition and is open to the public every day and evening. On Monday several scrub curling matches were played, and a large number of skaters, both ladies and gentlemen, were present. Several curling matches are on the tapis.

UNITED SERVICE.—The first of the series of meetings suggested by the Evangelical Alliance, and observed throughout the christian world, was held in the Norfolk street, Methodist Church. There was a good attendance from the various Protestant denominations in town, Rev. E. B. Ryckman presided. The meeting opened with prayer and praise, and there was much singing throughout the service. Short addresses were delivered by Revs. Messrs. Torrance and Ball, which were listened to with profound attention. The service in every sense was an interesting one, and great devoutness was observed throughout.

INSTALLATION.—On Monday evening the following officers of Reliance Lodge I.O.O.F. were duly installed by P. G. Bro. Wm. Parker, D.D.G.M., assisted by P. G. Bro. J. H. Leadley as W. G. W., P. G. Bro. J. Colson, as W. G. S., Bro. J. Parker as W. G. T., and Bro. Crooks, as W. G. G., and P. G. P. Bro. Wm. Sunley, D.D.G.P., as G.M.:

A very pleasing incident in connection with the installation, was the presenting, during the evening, by Bro. W. S. Smith, of a very elegant P G jewel, to Bro. Wm. Parker, D D G M, as a mark of esteem for the manner in which he had assisted Bro. Smith in the various duties pertaining to the post of N G during the term.

"JACK AND GILL." — On Saturday evening the Robert Butler Pantomime Company, supported by Mrs. Morrison's Opera House Company, of Toronto, will put the extraordinary pantomime of "Jack and Gill" before a Guelph audience for the first time, in the Town Hall. This dumb show has drawn crowded houses in the city for many nights, and is to have another run in a week or so.

SCHOOL TRUSTEE ELECTIONS.—To morrow the nomination and election of a Trustee for each of the four Wards will take place. The following are the retiring members this year:—North Ward, Adam Robertson, sr.; East, Alex. McKenzie; South, Dr. Keating; West, William Wilkie; member appointed by Town Council, Judge Macdonald; by County Council, John Inglis. The nomination for the North Ward will take place at the Court House, G. W. Jessop, Returning officer; East Ward, Town Hall, Thos. Sayers, Returning officer; South Ward, old Central school, John Stevens, Returning officer; West Ward, Senior Girls' school, Edwin Newton, Returning officer. Nominations take place at nine o'clock, and if a poll is demanded, in case of more than one nomination, voting will commence at ten in the morning and continue till five o'clock in the afternoon.

BEST NEWS THIS YEAR.—To be found in J. D. Williamson & Co's new advertisement. All winter goods selling at auction prices.

THE musical union will meet this evening in the Caledonian Rooms.

GAOL PRISONERS.—There are now 38 prisoners in the County gool, five of them being females.

CUSTOMS DUTIES collected at Guelph Port for quarter ending 31st December, 1877, amounted to $15,388.55. Same period 1876, $17,205.89. The figures have been furnished by Mr. Carthew.

ON Friday next at 3 p. m., there is to be a short service at St. George's Church, when those who have children to be baptized are requested to come forward.

THE VOTE.—Official declaration of the vote for Reeves and Councillors will be made by Mr. John Harvey, Returning Officer, on Wednesday, at twelve o'clock noon in the town hall.

MR. INNES, of the MERCURY, last night between five and six o'clock, slipped on the steps of the office at the door, and somewhat injured his back and sprained his foot. He will be confined to the house for a day or two.

ST. BARTHOLOMEW'S.—Rev. Father Renaud, of St. Bartholomew's Church, has left Guelph and removed to Montreal. He has been succeeded by Rev. Father Fleck, late superintendent of St. Mary's College in Montreal.

POLICE COURT.—Andrew M. Craig charged Samuel Bittle with cruelty, torturing and wounding a valuable dog of his, on the 19th of last month. The animal was shot in the eye and blinded. Case withdrawn on payment of costs.

UNION SERVICES.—This evening the services which will continue during the present week will be held in the Baptist church, and Rev. Mr. Durkee to preside. Rev. Messrs. Jas. Howie and E. B. Ryckman will deliver addresses on the subjects recommended in the programme suggested by the Evangelical Alliance.

THE TROUBLES OF CONSCIENCE.—This morning Mr. John Harris, Market Square, received a letter through the post, which was laconic and to the point. It read as follows:—"Mr. John Harris, Guelph, 1878: Dear Sir,—This money belongs to you." A ten dollar bill was enclosed in the letter. No doubt some person, whose conscience has not been seared with oft-repeated violation of some of the ten commandments, found the ten dollars, for some reason best known to himself, a burden on his mind, and it has been returned to its proper owner.

TOWN COUNCIL.—The last regular meeting of the Council for 1877 should been held last evening. There was a quorum of Councillors present, but the duties of Returning Officer resting on the Town Clerk, he was unavoidably absent at the hour for meeting. The meeting in the town hall of successful candidates soon drew happy Councillors away, and nothing was done. Could hardly expect a Council meeting on the evening of an election. The business of the past year will be wound up at special meetings.

CHILDREN'S SERVICE.—The service for children at St. George's Church on Sunday afternoon was very successful. About 400 children were present and a large number of adults, who took a deep interest in the service. It consisted of reading a psalm in which the children took up the alternate verses with the minister. Then the "Story of Bethlehem," the history and associations of the world renowned village, and at various points carols were sung very sweetly by the children, aided by some of the choir, in reference to the incidents mentioned by the Canon. At the close an offertory was taken up by some of the boys, who executed their duty with a military precision that was much admired. It was a very interesting service both to children and adults, and many expressed the hope there would soon be a service of a similar character.

THE MCCREA STABBING AFFRAY.—This (Tuesday) morning "Rory" McCrea called at the MERCURY office, and stated that he thought he did not receive full justice in the report of the stabbing affray in which he is implicated, that took place at Lillie's hotel on Saturday night last. McCrea's story is as follows:—He was in Guelph on Saturday last and had a few "horns." After he arrived home, his mother, a very old lady, required a little whiskey, and he left for Lillie's to procure it. He was refused the liquor, and at once proceeded to the Junction Hotel, where, after some persuasion, Mr. Heffernan allowed him a little in a bottle for his mother. When McCrea got back as far as Lillie's, on his way home, he was set upon by a lot of young fellows, who jostled him around. He fled into the post-office store, where the scamps followed him, and one made passes at him with a pitch-fork. The young fellows threw snow in the store at McCrea. They finally left, and he on leaving for home was again assaulted, and his stick and whiskey bottle taken away from him. To defend himself he finally drew his jack knife and stabbed Patterson, who was nearest to him at the time. He states that he is very sorry that he should have inflicted such a serious injury on any person, but he did it in order that he would not be maltreated by the young fellows who were there.

THE ELECTIONS.

The Council of 1877 Weighed and Found Wanting.

Verdict of the People.

The election of the Guelph Town Council for 1878 has passed, and as will be seen by the complete returns of the vote to be found appended, the verdict of the people has been particularly severe upon some certain candidates. The great fight during Monday centred in the contest for the Reeveship, between Messrs. Elliott and Chadwick. The fate of a Deputy or of a Councillor appeared as nought, even with some of those candidates themselves, when compared with the zeal of respective friends of the two aiming for a seat at the Council board, next in importance to that of Chief Magistrate of the town. During the entire day both sides appeared to be possessed of an unlimited amount of confidence, with Mr. Chadwick's friends willing to stake odds on the final result. Mr. Elliott had instituted a vigorous personal canvass in the South Ward a few days ago, and the returns will show with what unbounded success. As the hour of five o'clock approached, extra efforts were made to get in all available votes by both sides, and when the poll had been closed there were a number of votes just to late too be recorded.

While some of the candidates were the picture of nervous anxiety during the counting of the ballott by the Returning Officers, others appeared to care very little whether they were returned or not, as one candidate for Deputy Reeveship had been heard to exclaim some time previously that "It would be a ghastly joke if I were defeated after all." The same gentleman's majority stands at the top of the ladder—880, and therefore he could not for a moment have thought that that any such joke could have been perpetrated by the electors.

During the day several humorous incidents occurred which were the cause of a hearty laugh among those who learned it at the time. Late in the afternoon a spanking team, driven by one of Mr. Chadwick's friends, picked up a voter, told him a fine story about assessment of lots, bad votes, &c.,—Mr. Elliott's "sins," and, as he thought, persuaded him to vote against that gentleman, but imagine the canvasser's chagrin when, after depositing the voter at the door of a polling booth in the West Ward, he received for thanks in being informed that "I am an Elliott man, but I did not object to ride behind a team belonging to a friend of Mr. Chadwick." Mr. Chase and Mr. Coffee, candidates for the third Reeveship, at one time appeared to be working in pairs, as the former had the latter snugly covered in his cutter with a plentiful supply of buffalo robes. From the result there appears to be nothing better than using an opponent well.

It was fully eight o'clock in the evening before the returns of the ballot had been made out. Mr. Geo. W. Jessop was the first Returning-officer that returned his ballot box to the Clerk's possession, and the boxes from the other divisions slowly followed. Shortly after eight o'clock an extra was issued by the MERCURY, which gave the names of the elected members.

Mr. Caleb Chase polled a larger vote than any other candidate in the field, it footing up to 663, and his majority is one of the largest, if not the largest, ever given in the town, it being 411. The other majorities for Deputies are:—Mr. Sleeman 202, and Mr. Richard Mitchell 186. Mr. Thomas Gowdy polled the highest vote for Councillors, the figures being 313. The Councillors elect in the different Wards are:—West—Messrs. Gowdy, Bruce and Dr. McGuire. East—Messrs. Doran, Melvin and Chubb. South—Messrs. Day, Roche and Gauhan. North—Messrs. Biscoe, Robt. Mitchell and Hearn. The votes polled for the respective Councillors graduated as the names are given, commencing at the last name in each Ward. It will be seen that notwithstanding Mr. Melvin announced by placards early on the morning of the election, that he would not be a candidate, and requested his friends to refrain from voting for him, a large vote was polled in his favor.

From every polling division a very large number of spoiled ballots was reported. This doubtless was caused by the fact that there were so many candidates in the field, which had the effect of distracting some of the electors, and the marks on the ballot paper were put on in such a manner as to invalidate the vote.

The crowd around the Town Hall and in the lobbies after the final result was known, wanted to hear addresses from the officers elect, but it was almost impossible for a person to get near the hall door with a key to open it. With the assistance of Mr. Hood, Mr. Biscoe squeezed through spaces between citizens that a ghost would hesitate to undertake to accomplish, and the old town hall was thrown open.

THE MEETING.

After a wait of a few minutes, on motion of Mr. J. S. Speirs, Mr. Geo. Howard, Mayor for 1878, took the chair, and after a few preliminary remarks stated that he had a list of the newly elected members, and he would call upon them in turn, and those that were present would be allowed to address the electors.

Mr. Elliott was first called. He thanked the electors from the bottom of his heart for the high honor they had done him. It was more gratifying to him after having a hard fight with a very strong opponent to find that his majority was something like sixty-five, and a year ago Mr. Chadwick had been elected Mayor over a popular opponent by a majority of 219. He would try to do the best he could for the interests of the town.

Mr. Sleeman thanked the electors for the honor conferred upon him. As he had done in the past he would strive to accomplish in the future—to further the prosperity of Guelph.

Mr. Chase informed the audience that after a hard day's work, just accomplished, he felt very much fatigued, and therefore would not make a speech at all. He, however, heartily thanked the electors for returning him by a larger majority than any other elected candidate could boast of. He was proud of such a result the first time he ran for the whole town.

Mr. Thos. Gowdy simply thanked the electors. He was proud that he stood highest in the vote for Councillors. What sins he had committed while in the Council must have been forgiven, if the vote he received was anything to judge from.

Dr. McGuire claimed that he had no municipal sins as yet to answer for. He had all his life made a strong endeavour to do what was right between man and man, and while in the Council he would do his utmost to faithfully serve the ratepayers. He sincerely thanked the electors.

Mr. Bruce thought that, inasmuch as he had been in the Council before, that the result of the election showed that the electors had confidence in their old servants. He would do all he could for the Ward he represented, and if money was to be had, he would endeavour to have it judiciously expended.

Mr. Melvin claimed that he was placed in a peculiar position. He did not want to go to the poll in the East Ward, but his friends had made him, and he was now an elected Councillor. As he had always done in the past, he would do in the future—work for the prosperity of the town. Owing to the present state of the town's finances, the present Council could not have a great amount of money to expend. Great care should be exercised by all the committees during the ensuing year, and each member, from the Mayor downward, should co-operate one with the other to help place the corporation in a better position than at present. For his own part he would do his utmost to assist the Council. The speaker concluded by thanking the electors.

Mr. F. J. Chubb was pleased and proud of his return for the East Ward. He would endeavor to do his utmost to advance the interests of the ratepayers who elected him.

Mr. John Roche was pleased that he polled the second largest vote in the South Ward. He had been opposed by men of large experience, and it was more gratifying that he should be chosen over them. He would strive to merit the confidence reposed in him by doing his utmost to advance the interests of the Ward which elected him, and of the whole town.

The other candidates were called upon, but were not present.

The meeting broke up with three cheers for the Queen and three more for Mr. Geo. Howard, Mayor.

SHOCKING ACCIDENT IN LUCKNOW.—On Friday forenoon, 21st ult., an old man named Mr. George Irwin, aged ninety-two years, was fatally scalded in Lucknow. For some time past he had been residing with his son-in law, Mr. Joseph Alton, in this village, and on the day in question he had been sitting in front of the stove, on which was a boiler of boiling water. He seems to have risen from his chair, but being very feeble, his legs failed him and he was falling to the floor when he threw out his hand and caught the edge of the boiler, precipitating the contents upon himself. He was immediately picked up and Dr. McCrimmon sent for. The doctor, on arriving, did all in his power to relieve the suffering man, death had marked him as its own, and after a week's agony he died. His family have the sympathy of the community in their sorrow.—Sentinel.

EPPS'S COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctor's bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. The War News.

January 7.

A St. Petersburg correspondent says it is rumoured that Austria and Germany have vetoed the idea of opening the Dardanelles to Russian vessels only. Russia has consequently determined not to raise the question at all.

The Liverpool Post's London correspondent telegraphs that the opinion is gaining ground that a general election for members of Parliament is near, and that Conservative managers are already preparing therefor. Secretaries of different Conservative Associations have been in town during the past week, consulting with the various members of the Government. They report strongly in favor of a dissolution.

The Journal de St. Petersburg says:—Russia, after her immense sacrifices, demands the right to discuss the conditions of peace with her enemy alone. Russia, however, recognizes the right of Europe to make known its appreciation of the peace conditions settled between the belligerents. Nevertheless, it is important not to admit pretentions which might mislead the vanquished concerning their position, and public opinion concerning the relations between the Powers.

"Another Cabinet Council will be held on Wednesday. Meanwhile important pour parlers are being held telegraphically with St. Petersburg. The probabilities of an armistice lessen rather than increase, but it is impossible to foresee what any moment may bring forth."

A Vienna special says England has informed the Government at St. Petersburg that she has no objection in principle to the conclusion of an armistice in the mode proposed by Russia, but as regards the terms of peace no new European programme must be drawn up without the sanction of Her Majesty's Government.

An Athens correspondent states that the calling out of the second class of the reserve, which has just been ordered, will raise the Greek army 35,000. The uncertainty as to the intention of Great Britain paralyzes the Greeks, but as long as the present Ministry remain in office it may be regarded certain that a warlike policy will not be definitely adopted.

A Nova Scotia Moose for the Paris Exhibition.

On the first of October last an Indian shot a fine moose in Cumberland county, having received a special license to do so for scientific purposes, namely, as a specimen for the Paris Exhibition. Mr. T. J. Egan, who had commissioned the Indian to shoot the moose, has since mounted and stuffed it, and will send it to Paris in the Newfield, on her next trip. The animal is the largest, with one exception, known ever to have been killed in this Province. It was in its prime, being about eight years old. Its dimensions were from forehoofs to neck six feet; girth just behind fore legs six feet six inches; length from tip of nose to tail nine feet; pan of antler two feet nine inches; spread of horns four feet; bell fifteen inches; length of head two feet eight inches. —Halifax Chroniels.

Good Crop of Carrots.

To the Editor of the Mercury.

SIR,—The value of carrots as a winter food for horses and cattle, is well known to all keepers of stock. My own sowing having failed through the dry weather, I bought some of Mr. John Hewer, which both for quantity and quality are worth putting on record, as an encouragement to others in growing this crop.

The carrots in question were grown on a bit of land just one-tenth of an acre by careful measurement. From this limited area 110 bushels of extra fine carrots were obtained, or at the rate of 1100 bushels per acre. At 20 cents per bushel, the current price hereabouts, a whole acre would have brought the snug sum of $220.

The soil in which the crop was grown is a deep black loam, originally a black ash swale. During the year previous a crop of oats and vetches was raised on the land. It was manured in the fall with pig manure, fall ploughed, ploughed again in the spring, and drilled up as for turnips. The Carrots were not scuffled, the rows being rather too close for scuffling. They were 18 inches apart. Three hand hoesings constituted the after culture. The seed was sown May 1.

For growing carrots on a larger scale, it is advisible to have the rows wide enough apart to run the scuffler between them, as this greatly lessens the labor. Indeed a farmer should calculate to work all his root and vegetable crops in this plan. No doubt a larger yield per acre can be got by putting the rows closer together, but land is cheaper than labor, and hence it is good economy to use horse power whenever practicable.

I take pleasure in giving this little account of Mr. Hewer's success in carrot growing, hoping that many more will emulate his good example in this respect

I am, Dear Sir, Yours truly,
WM. F. CLARKE.

LAMENTABLE DEATH.—A most melancholy death occurred in the Township of North Dumfries, on Monday night last. The Galt Reporter says that it appears that during Monday, the deceased, Mr. Daniel O'Neil, had been in Galt, leaving for home a little after six in the evening. He had been drinking somewhat, but was not considered by those who saw him to be seriously intoxicated. He drove away from the town in his buggy, drawn by a very spirited horse, and that was the last seen of him until the next morning, when he was found lying at the entrance of the lane which leads to Mr. George Dickie's house. When found he was quite unconscious, and lived for only a very short time. The alarm was raised by the fact that his horse and buggy were found standing at the entrance to Mr. James Scott's property, and when Mr. Scott went to examine it, he was horrified to find that the vehicle was covered with blood, and from other signs it became evident that its occupant had met with very serious injury. The direct cause of his death was a tremendous wound on the head some five inches in length, penetrating down to the skull and loosening the scalp almost completely from the head on the one side. This wound, combined with the exposure of lying on the road, and fearful loss of blood could have no other end but death. Making further search after doing what could be done for the poor fellow, it was found that the injury had occurred about three quarters of a mile up the road from Mr. Dickie's, as at a spot there large quantities of blood were found, and lying on the road was deceased's cap and buffalo robe. How he met with the injury is a mystery. If he got it by being thrown out of the buggy, it seems impossible that he could have regained his seat in it again, and yet except by being thrown out it can hardly be seen how he got his awful wound. An inquest was held on the body of deceased, and a verdict of "accidental death" was found.

It is reported that the Queen will pay Lord Beaconsfield a visit at his residence, Hughenden. This honor has been paid to only two premiers—Lord Melbourne and Sir Robert Peel.

Three illicit stills have been seized in the county of Huron.

We have for a long time been firmly impressed with the conviction that the long credit system is injurious to business and unjust to creditors, and we have come to the determination to put a stop to it. Our experience is that the practice of extending accounts over a year is a great mistake, is unfair to the creditor and burdensome to the debtor. Were settlements made, say four times a year, instead of once, the amounts would be light, and payments would be comparatively easy, whereas, when accounts run for a year the amounts accumulate, and in many cases it is no easy matter to settle a bill.

We have, therefore, come to the resolution to, in future, make out and collect our accounts for advertising and job work quarterly, and we hereby give notice that this rule will, in all cases, be strictly enforced. We believe that its adoption will be of equal benefit to our patrons as to us, and we shall, in no case, make an exception.

We are now sending out our accounts for the past year, and we must insist on the immediate settlement of them in all cases, otherwise we will have to take the usual but unpleasant steps to enforce payment.

The Evening Mercury

TUESDAY EVEN'G, JAN. 8, 1878

The Result

In considering the material of which the Town Council for 1878 is composed, we can safely congratulate the ratepayers on the beneficial change they made yesterday. For the whole of the past year, there has been little else than useless wranglings and personalities; the Municipal business of the Town was almost at a stand still; the very name of Council became a reproach and a by-word; and beyond all, the people's money was squandered in the most reckless and unjustifiable manner. The men, with a few exceptions, whom the people chose to represent them and guide the helm of municipal affairs during the past year proved themselves totally unfit for their position, and indeed it appeared that the higher the position the more unfit the representative was to fill it. It is not to be wondered at, therefore, that a large element of new material is to be found in the Council elected for the current year, and that several of the more prominent of the notables of 1877, on presenting themselves before the people for re-election were ignominiously rejected by large majorities. Public spirit was justly roused to indignation at their past conduct, and party feeling and sectional interests were thrown to the winds for the purpose of calmly and deliberately choosing men in whom confidence could be placed, and whose motives would be above the satisfaction of personal ambition, and whose time and energy would be devoted to the advancement of the general good of the town. And yesterday's polling shows the result to be a favorable one. The Council on the whole is a good one, and although we hoped to have seen Mr. Hart and some of the other old members re-elected, yet the present Council, as a body, is far superior to that of last year. It is unfortunate that Mr. Kennedy and Mr. Sleeman were opposed to each other, as they are both good men and would make first-rate representatives in any position. The majority of Mr. Chase was looked for and fully expected, and for Second Deputy, Mr. Mitchell will be a good man, as he brings with him a lengthened experience of Town affairs. It is a pity, likewise, in this case, that such men as Mr. MacMillan and Mr. Mitchell should have been placed in antagonism to each other, as the Town in such an event loses the services of one or the other. As to the Councillors, with one or two exceptions, the men selected are thoroughly reliable, and will, no doubt, justify the action of those who voted for them yesterday.

We cannot allow the present opportunity to pass without comment on the Reeveship. Mr. Chadwick for a considerable time previous to the nomination was somewhat loud in his aspirations to the Mayor's chair for a second term. The Herald, at the last moment, put in the usual pleas of "want of time" and "private business," and announced that the gentleman in question would not be a candidate for the Mayoralty. People were somewhat surprised, however, to find that on nomination day, Mr. Chadwick had decided to contest the Reeveship at all hazards, and had gracefully stepped down and out of the path of certain defeat as against Mr. Howard to try his strength with a gentleman, whom he apparently supposed was weak and easily overcome. The "private business" was evidently a thing of the past and "time" was now no longer an object. The ratepayers, however, very kindly took Mr. Chadwick at his word, and believing, what his organ stated to be true, insisted on giving him all the time he required and would not encroach on his attention to private matters by asking him to attend to their interests. This is the mildest way of putting it, and we sympathize too sincerely with that gentleman in his misfortune, to ascribe any more serious reason for his defeat. It must indeed be a severe blow to one who held for a year the highest position in the gift of the Town, to find his opponent of a year ago elected by acclamation, and to experience the fact that a discerning public has failed to recognize his own qualities for even a lower position. Add to this the election of ex-Mayor Melvin to the Council contrary to his publicly expressed intentions,—the gentleman whom Mr. Chadwick succeeded,—and we have but another example that the people were anxious to procure the services of men who had served them faithfully in the past.

We trust that in conducting the work of the present year, everything will be done with an eye to the promotion of the general interests of the Town. True, the new Council will have to encounter many serious difficulties thrown in their way by the extravagance and mismanagement during the past year, but we have sufficient confidence in the members for 1878 to hope and believe that the end of this year will show a cleaner record than that of the defunct Council, and that their actions will be marked by prudence, justice, and economy.

the Exchequer—Sir Stafford Northcote—will have the unpleasant duty of telling Parliament of a deficit of one million sterling. It is not at all surprising that the revenue has fallen off to the extent of one million, for it is well known that the volume of trade has very considerably diminished, and those who have been watching the course of trade affairs have felt sure that there must be a corresponding diminution in the national revenue. But while the actual amount of revenue will not reach the estimate it is probable that the expenditure, in view of certain active operations in the dockyards and arsenals, will exceed the appropriations of Parliament.

THE Commercial press of New York speaks very fairly on the subject of the Fishery Award. The Journal of Commerce says:—"There is nothing pleasant in the prospect of paying $5,500,000 to Canada for fish that have been, or yet may be, caught in her waters by Yankee hooks and lines, and her papers must excuse the American press for not being jolly over it. But we assure the Canadian journals that they need not be alarmed because their American contemporaries have not gone into transports of joy over the fishery award. While they have not pretended to be pleased with the decision at Halifax, they have not thrown their influence against the settlement proposed. So far as we know the spirit of the United States press in this part of the country, it generally approves of the settlement, not because it is what we expected, or think we ought to have made, but because the Fishery Commission was accepted by our Government, as the best method of terminating a long and dangerous dispute, and, therefore, we hold that Congress is in honor bound to confirm the award and provide for its payment."

Municipal Elections.

The result in the following places have been heard from:

GUELPH TOWNSHIP—Reeve, George Darby, elected by acclamation. Deputy Reeve—M. Sweetnam, elected by acclamation. Councillors—John Hawes, 206; R. S. Armstrong, 204; McIntosh, 181; John Hobson, 169; P. Milloy, 106. The first three are elected.

SAD CASE OF POISONING.—A case of poisoning happened to two bright little girls near Ellengowan, County of Bruce, on Thursday or Friday of last week, at the residence of a Mr. Harper. The girls were aged respectively eight and three years, the former, Sophia Shaw, being adopted from the Children's Home, Hamilton, and the latter a brother's daughter of Mrs. Harper. It appears that the poison had been purchased by Mr. Harper, about three years ago, and was kept in a bottle in a garret, out of the way of the children. Mr. Harper was at work on his farm at the time and Mrs. Harper had stepped across to a neighbor's. On her return she was met by the little ones, and the eldest showed her the bottle and asked for a piece, while Mrs. H. was procuring the piece spasms set in. Whether the bottle had been got at by the little girls or fell, and had been swept out into the garden, where the little girl stated she had found it, remains a mystery. A doctor was sent for, but the youngest died before he reached the house, and the eldest lived only half an hour after his arrival. An inquest was held when the above facts were brought out.

Housekeepers will find it to their advantage to leave their orders at Cameron & Thorp's for any particular kind of tinware which they may require, as they keep none but skilled workman, and the best of material.

Do your Spectacles Suit your Eyesight?

If not, you should at once get them exchanged for a pair that will, for nothing is more injurious to to the sight than using glasses which are misfitted. If they are too strong or too weak there is a continual strain upon the nerves and cords of the eye, creating an inflammation which will, if you continue using the misfitted pair, ruin the eyesight altogether. Many merchants who sell spectacles know little or nothing about the principles of fitting the eyes, and you are therefore liable to buy a wrong pair just because they seem to suit when you first try them on, which, after wearing for an hour or so, will "draw" until it is painful to wear them. From my study of the eye, and long experience in selling spex, I can safely affirm that more eyesights are destroyed by wearing improperly fitted glasses than from any other cause. I have an instrument invented by Kent Brothers, Toronto, which proves to a certainty what number of lense you should use, with which I will be pleased to test anyone who desires it, without any charge.

CHAPTER XIV.

DADDY DUFF IS INTRODUCED TO THE HEADQUARTERS OF THE SMUGGLERS.

As they moved away they had to pass in front of the little farm house, and here stood the farmer's wife, with a severe expression on her face.

"Oh, Daddy Duff, wha wad hae thocht this o' ye," she exclaimed, in a tone at once reproachful and indignant.

"I micht answer that, mistress, it I kenned what 'this' meant," returned Daddy; "but, my certie, yer tether will be shortened sae that ye canna dee the like again."

"Dee what again? Deil be in me, if I dinna think a' the fouk here awa' are gaen clean wud."

"And a' body thoct ye could be trusted, ye twafaced scoundrel," roared the woman after him, shaking her clenched fist by way of salute.

"Weel I hope a' body was richt in that thoct," was Daddy's inward comment, as they passed on and entered the beaten track, which was a rough uneven road—little better than a mere bridle path, winding away among the hills, into the farther recesses of which the party seemed to be journeying, as could be judged by the direction they took.

For the first quarter of an hour or so Daddy felt very queer in his elevated seat. This was to him quite an unaccustomed means of locomotion. Sometimes, though very rarely, he sought a seat in a passing cart as he trudged on the highway, but ninty-nine hundreths of his travelling was done on foot, and he had spoken truly when he declared that he had not been on the back of a horse for forty years. It may be easily imagined, therefore, that he felt somewhat dizzy with the motion, and was wholly absorbed in the task of maintaining his equilibrium. Ere long, however, he found that riding was not such a difficult matter, and he grew confident of his ability to keep his seat. To be sure they were only going at walking pace; when they began to trot he might find reason to change his mind.

Of course it was utterly impossible that he could refrain from speculating on the cause and meaning of his present extraordinary experience. The sun was now risen, and by the clear morning light he obtained a distinct view of the faces of his captors. Most of them were unknown to him, but others he knew well enough, and with these he had always been on terms of perfect friendship, though now their glances towards him were as fierce and scowling as those of the others. They were all strong, stalwart fellows, and Daddy rightly concluded them to be a band of smugglers, though this conclusion did not help him in the least to understand the motive or purpose of their outrage upon him. That they were actuated by feelings of great anger and hostility could not be doubted, but what had caused these he vainly sought to conjecture.

He thought he would again try to obtain information from the leader of the party, who rode silently by his side.

"Weel, neebor," he remarked, "are ye no guanne condescend tae explain the meanin' o' this mornin's ploy?"

"As if you didn't know it already, and have a shrewd guess, too, of where you are going."

"And hoo the mischief am I able tae guess that?"

"By the situation in which you are and the direction in which we are riding. Put the two things together and you ought to form a good notion of it."

"Situation and direction," repeated Daddy, as rather a grim smile showed itself on his dirty face. "Dod, there's an auld sayin', 'Set a beggar on horseback and he's shure tae ride tae the deevil.' Noo, I'm a beggar and I'm on horseback very muckle against my wish, but I hope the last pairt o' the sayin' is not likely tae come tae pass."

"By my faith, but it looks as if it would," was the reply. "You are riding to Black Dick in the first place, and he is just the man to send you to the devil for the cause you have given him."

"Black Dick," repeated Daddy, regarding his companion with a full round stare.

"Ay—do you know the gentleman?"

"Na; I hinna that honor."

"Well, that honour will be yours before the day is out," was the chuckling rejoinder. "But you won't deny that you have heard of him?"

And the speaker bent a keen penetrating look on Daddy's countenance. If he expected to find signs of confusion and conscious guilt there, he was disappointed, for nothing could be more unconscious of apprehension than the expression on Daddy's features.

"Oh, atweel, I hae heerd o' 'im," he drily returned.

"And not much to his praise, I suppose—eh?"

"Weel, as ye put it sae pointit, truth compels me to say that I have not."

"Ah, of course not. So knowing him by report, you know what to expect from him. You will not receive the treatment of a welcome visitor, I can confidently tell you."

"Wull I no? Then, as the veesit isna ane o' my seekin', its deevlish hard to be te'en where I neither wish nor am wanted."

"Ah, I can well believe you don't wish to go; but you are far wrong when you say you are not wanted. Dick wants you very much indeed.

This set Daddy a thinking, and his thoughts were not so pleasant as he could wish.

"This is the daein' o' Betty Corbet," was his mental conclusion. "She's let oot what Wanlass tell't her and me afore he de'ed, claverin' auld carline that she is. I micht hae kenned that a wumin couldna keep a secret o' that kind. Confoond her lang yelpin' tongue. I wish tae the Lord it hadna been my luck tae gang tae her hoose yon nicht. It has brocht me isna a bonny scrape. Nae doot Black Dick is feared for me spunkin' oot the truth that it was him and no Harold Logan that killed the offisher, and this is the method he has ta'en tae prevent me; and, if a' tales be true, he's an ugly deevil tae deal wi'."

Here Daddy's cogitations were cut short by a sudden quickning of the speed at which they had been travelling and the painful sensations thereby produced. They had got over a long ascent of the road, and, coming to a part where the ground was nearly level, they set off at a trot, to Daddy's immediate inconvenience and alarm, for the rough jolting of his horse set him bumping on its sharp backbone with a violence which was not only sore to bear, but which also threatened to unseat him.

"Stop—Godsake stop, or I'll be off," he cried. "Stop, I say—for mercy's sake, stop. O Lord, this is dreidfu'. The skin is comin' off my rump."

But his cries of distress were unheeded; or rather were received with mocking laughter, and the frantic efforts he made to keep his seat afforded a subject for the uproarious mirth of the company. And, in truth, it was a laughter-provoking sight to witness the ludicrous spectacle he presented—his wallet rolling about over his shoulders, his soo'-wester slopping down to the back of his neck, his long hair streaming in the wind, rags fluttering all around, his straw-roped legs dangling helplessly in the air, and the clutching the horse's mane in desperation, and uttering piteous appeals to them to stop.

La Pere De Aubriel, of the French Church, on Twenty-third street, New York, devotes his life to visiting the poor and the afflicted, and he not only gives the consolation of religion, but prescribes the use of Giles Liniment Iodide of Ammonia, for instant relief is experienced.

Authorized Capital—$5,000,000.

THE Company's special system of Loans affords to borrowers, and especially to Farmers, the following most important advantages:—

1. The borrower is NOT OBLIGED to repay any part of the principal until the whole term of the Mortgage has run.
2. He has the RIGHT (after the first year) to repay at any time, the whole or any part of the Loan, without prior notice to the Company.
3. No extra charge, bonus or otherwise, is exacted on such repayment.
4. He is requested when making application for the Loan, to state the day on which he wishes interest to be made payable. He thus can stipulate for a date, say after harvest, or at such time as is likely to be most convenient for him.
5. Interest can be made payable once a year—not in advance.
6. On repayment of any part of the principal, interest on such amount immediately ceases.

The Cash System.

From the Toronto Monetary Times.

We are glad to be furnished with evidence of the successful practical working of the cash system. A retail dry goods merchant in Eastern Ontario offered, a few days ago, to show us the result of our teachings upon his business. He had for some time been conducting his trade on cash basis, and at his invitation we made a cursory examination of his books. The most noticeable thing was the fact that all the accounts with wholesale houses were either balanced, or debited with cash paid for goods sometimes not yet arrived. He endured no worries about unpaid accounts long due him, and had no bills becoming due which he had not the cash to meet. When he locked his shop at night he knew that he had either the goods or the cash, (save burglars or the fire fiend), and, if his daily sales were not quite so large as his neighbors, the result of the business at the year's end was definite at least and generally more satisfactory. In the house we have referred to, the books showed an average profit of $125 to $150 per month since the beginning of August, derived from cash discounts alone. In addition to this the storekeeper bought his goods cheaper. Being a cash buyer the lowest prices were everywhere open to him; weak houses had made him all sorts of concessions in value in order to secure his trade, and he found that he could often buy from such houses at almost his own prices.

Blowing up Stumps.

Late experiments by Mr. John O'Donnell, of Jamaica, L. I., have shown that by the use of dynamite, the cost of stump eradicating can be surprisingly reduced. An oak stump, two feet in diameter, costs by hand labor at least one dollar to remove. Dynamite will send it flying at a cost of twenty-five cents. Mr. O'Donnell recently invited a party of farmers to see its effectiveness. Five stumps were attacked. The first was of oak, partly decayed. The men employed punched a hole with a crowbar between two projecting roots, but, not being experts, did not insert the instrument fully under the stump. Consequently, only two thirds of it was blown out. The partial decay or the wood was another hindrance. It did not offer the necessary resistance. A partly rotted chestnut stump was blown to fragments. The crowbar was badly inserted under an apple tree stump, and that, like the oak, was shattered to the extent of two thirds. With a sound and sturdy oak stump, however, the dynamite was fully triumphant. The stump was blown out utterly.—N. Y. Sun.

School Trustees.

Very little interest was manifested in the nomination and election of School Trustees in the town to-day (Wednesday.) At the polling places in the Wards not more than a dozen electors were gathered at any one of them. All the retiring members were elected by acclamation, and in one or two cases they only allowed themselves to be nominated after urgent solicitation on the part of friends. The following are the nominators and seconders of the several members elected:

NORTH WARD.

Adam Robertson, sr., was nominated by W. H. Mills, seconded by H. H. Swinford.

EAST WARD.

Alex. Mackenzie was nominated by Wm. Bell, seconded by G. B. Fraser.

SOUTH WARD.

Dr. Keating was nominated by M. Snider, seconded by Jas. Mitchell.

WEST WARD.

William Wilkie was nominated by George Hadden seconded by Wm. Watson.

R. C. SEPARATE SCHOOL.

Some twenty electors met the Separate School building this morning at ten o'clock for the purpose of nominating a Trustee in place of Mr. John Harris, the retiring member, and for receiving the annual report of the Board.

On motion Mr. John Green was appointed chairman and Mr. Wm. Carroll Secretary.

The annual report showed that there was a balance on hand of $268.17, and the total amount received from all sources was $3,153.31. Five teachers have been employed during the past year, and the number of pupils on the daily register was 397—208 boys and 189 girls.

The report on motion was adopted.

On motion of Mr. J. P. MacMillan, seconded by Mr. Jas. Mays, Mr. John Harris was unanimously re elected for the ensuing year.

It was resolved on motion of Mr. John Harris, seconded by Mr. M. Tobin, that the school be conducted on the free system during the year 1878.

Town Elections.

Official Declaration made by Mr. Harvey, Returning Officer.

At twelve o'clock to-day (Wednesday), about twenty electors assembled in the Town Hall to hear the official returns made by the Returning Officer. The figures as published in yesterday's MERCURY were in every respect correct. After the declaration had been made, the candidates who were present made short addresses.

Mr. Geo. Elliott, the Reeve elect, desired to publicly thank his friends, to whom he was indebted for his triumphant return. The position he occupied was as the representative of the whole town, and he would make it his especial duty to look after the interests of every portion of it. He would do his duty fearlessly and honestly.

Mr. Geo. Sleeman expressed his thanks to the electors. He considered the least said in regard to last year's Council the better. The Council was to be blamed as a whole, and not all the mismanagement of the year laid at the door of the Road and Bridge Committee. If the Council had sustained the Finance Committee, matters would have turned out differently. As a great deal of the work of the Council had to be done in Committee, if it were performed properly there was no need of senseless discussion.

Mr. Richard Mitchell expressed himself as thankful to the electors. When a member of the Council in previous years, he had worded for the interests of the town, and the electors could now rely on him again doing so.

Mr. Gowdy in returning thanks, stated that he had been well sustained by his constituents, was not trammelled by any promises, and would do as well as he knew how.

Mr. Roche felt proud of the honor done him, as a comparative stranger in Guelph. The electors could rely on his doing his work faithfully.

Mr. Chubb knew it would take a large amount of perseverance to bring municipal matters out all right. Each street for which money had been appropriated should have every dollar of the amount expended. He purposed doing what was square at the Council Board.

The meeting then broke up.

BEST NEWS THIS YEAR.—To be found in J. D. Williamson & Co's new advertisement. All winter goods selling at auction prices.

The Rising Sun stove polish, the most famous in the market, is to be got at Cameron & Thorp's house furnishing establishment, Upper Wyndham street.

GUELPH Catholic Literary and Debating Society meets this evening

THIS morning a young lad, employed in R. Macgregor's boot and shoe store, fell through a trap door into the cellar, and was considerably bruised.

REMEMBER the literary and musical social in the vestry of the Baptist Church on Thursday evening, 17th inst. Further announcement next week.

WEATHER PROBS. received by the Dominion Telegraph, give cloudy and mild weather for the next twenty-four hours.

POLICE COURT.—This morning Rebecca Buckner, was charged with keeping a disorderly house and fined $2 and costs.

ARRESTED.—Rory McCrea, who stabbed young Patterson at Lillie's on Saturday last, was arrested on Tuesday evening and lodged in gaol at Guelph.

A DIVIDEND of eight per cent on the capital stock of the Guelph and Ontario Investment and Savings Society has been declared and is now ready for payment.

THE commercial classes in connection with the Mechanics' Institute will be held on Thursday evening in the Institute rooms. Twenty-two pupils have been secured. Mr. Jas. Somerville is the instructor.

ACCIDENT.—About 11 o'clock to-day a little boy named James Fraser, about 12 years of age, in attempting to get on a sleigh on Wyndham street missed his hold and fell in front of the rear bob, which passed over his head, cutting an ugly gash in the back.

LADIES of the Temperance Club and all the ladies interested, or willing to assist in providing and serving refreshments at the Convention will please meet the Committee of arrangement to-morrow morning in the Committee rooms, over the Bank of Commerce, at 10 o'clock.

EXTRA EXPRESS ACCOMMODATION.—By the addition of an extra express train on the Grand Trunk, the Canadian Express Company now runs three expresses between Guelph and Toronto, each way. They have also opened an office in Waterloo, which will be a great benefit to business men in that town, as well as Guelph.

UNION PRAYER MEETINGS.—The united service of prayer in the Baptist Chapel last night was very largely attended. The pastor presided and Rev. Jas. Howie and E. B. Ryckman delivered earnest addresses. Good feeling and deep interest prevailed throughout. The service to-night is in Knox Church, Rev. W. S. Ball presides. Revs. H. Harris and J. A. Darkee address the meeting. The object of prayer is Christian Families.

MUTINY.—A few days ago Mr. Taylor, turnkey of the gaol at Guelph, found that some six prisoners had struck work; in fact they were too tired to work any more that day and they would like to see any minion of the law compel them. After spending some time in the damp cells, with the usual bill of fare for that department—bread and water, they begged to be allowed to again attack the wood pile.

UNION SERVICES.—A well attended meeting of various denominations in town was held last evening in the Baptist Church. Rev. Mr. Durkee presided, and spirited addresses were delivered by Messrs. E. B. Ryckman and Jas Howie. This evening services will be held in Knox Church, Rev. Mr. Ball to preside, and Rev. Messrs. Harris and Durkee to address the meeting.

TRANSIENT TRADERS.—On Friday, Mr. Geo. Goulding, of Guelph, was brought before Thos. Ruston and Hugh McKay, Justices of the Peace, at Georgetown, on a charge of violating a By-law regulating transient traders. Considerable excitement prevailed in the town which was greatly increased when the magistrates dismissed the case. Mr. Goulding has the store in which he does business in Georgetown leased by the year, and has paid $28 taxes in that corporation.

MUSICAL UNION.—A very successful practice was held last evening in the Caledonian rooms. Several active and honorary members were admitted. It is the intention of the Society to give a concert to the members and their friends at an early date. The programme will be given entirely by the members, and will consist of choruses, quartettes, trios, duets and solos, both vocal and instrumental. They also intend to commence work at once on one or more popular cantatas.

TRUE BLUES.—At the last regular meeting of King William Lodge, True Blues, Guelph, the following officers were elected:

Bro. W. Griffin, W.M.
" Wm. F. Allan, D.M.
" D. Thompson, Treas.
" H. Hunt, Secretary.
" J. Gould, Chaplain.
" S. Wicks, D. of S.
" H. Smith, 1st Com.
" Wm. Jones, 2nd Com.
" A. Cross, 3rd Com.
" W. Smith, 4th Com.
" E. Everson, 6th Com.
" Wm. Drayton, Inside Tyler.
" E. Wicks, Outside Tyler.

CLEARING SIDEWALKS.—Now that snow has come at last, and there are prospects of it continuing for some time, the police should see that the By law relating to the removal of snow and ice from sidewalks is strictly enforced. If decisive action is taken in cases of non-compliance with the By-law no trouble will exist hereafter. The following is the clause in By-law 164 relating to the same:—"That the owner or occupier of any house, lot, or other property, in the said Town of Guelph, shall, within twenty-four hours from the time of the same falling or being deposited thereon, remove, or cause to be removed, the snow, ice, or dirt from the sidewalk in front of each house, lot, or other property; and in case of default of such owner or occupier, the Town Inspector shall order the same to be done at the expense of such owner or occupant, as the case may be."

Guelph Law Students' Debating Society.

The members of this Society held their regular meeting on Tuesday evening, was well attended. After routine the question for debate was opened. It was as follows:—"Plaintiff and defendant were respectively occupiers of adjoining houses, an old drain which commenced on defendant's premises and thence passed under and received the drainage of several other houses, turned back under the defendant's house, and thence under the cellar of the defendant's house, and ultimately into a public sewer. The part of the return drain which passed through the defendant's premises being decayed, the sewage escaped, and, flowing into plaintiff's cellar, did damage. Defendant was not aware of the existence of the return drain, and hence did not know of its want of repair."

Mr. W. Macdonald for plaintiff, contended that defendant's ignorance of the existence of the drain was no excuse, as he should have known of its existence, and that by reason of the drain on the defendant's property being decayed and overflowing plaintiff's premises, even where there was no negligence on defendant's part, the law would hold defendant liable for the damage caused by such escape, and that under the principles of the common law plaintiff should recover.

Mr. T. Ede, for the defence, argued that the overflow was not caused by defendant's own act, the drain having been put down before the defendant became the owner of the property, and as defendant was not aware of its existence, and there was no carelessness or negligence on the defendant's part in the proper use of his land, he was not liable to damages.

It was decided that defendant was not liable by four for and one against.

The subject for discussion at next meeting will be a will suit now pending in the Canadian courts, in which some $970,000 are at stake. The particulars of the case were published in Mondays' MERCURY.

Elora Correspondence.

The municipal elections, which came off yesterday, were remarkably quiet, and elicited very little enthusiasm. The only member of the old Council in the field was Hugh Hamilton, late Reeve, who was opposed by John Godfrey, who has frequently been elected to municipal office. Last year these two gentlemen were pitted against each other, and Mr. Hamilton was elected by a majority of 11. This year the tables were turned, and Mr. Godfrey was successful, his majority being 11. The high rate of taxes levied in 1877 had much to do with the change of public opinion, but the retiring Council had no choice in the matter, and certainly did not deserve blame. Mr. Godfrey polled 110 votes, Mr. Hamilton 99. For Councillors, the vote stood: J. Gibb, 139; F. Dalby, 136; J. A. Smith, 114; A. Carter, 100; J. Johnson, 94; J. Waddell, 92; J. Foot, 57, and J. M. Fraser, 11. The first four being elected.

Credit Valley matters have occupied a large share of public attention during the week, and a meeting was called for Friday evening last, for a discussion of the pros and cons. After several speeches and explanations had been made, it was adjourned until last evening, when Messrs. Kingsmill, Campbell and Hayes, from Toronto, were present, and addressed the ratepayers. At the close Mr. C. Clarke, seconded by Mr. W. P. Newman, moved a resolution, expressing approval of the proposed exchange of Elora debentures of Credit Valley Railway bonds to the amount of $15,000, and it was carried with but one dissentient. The vote upon the By-law was taken to-day, and resulted in 92 yeas against 17 nays, or a majority of 75 for the By-law. With the aid afforded by Fergus and Elora it is hoped that Mr. Laidlaw's hands will be strengthened, and that work will be recommenced at an early date.

The brush factory here is now in successful operation, and gives employment to about thirty hands. The new machinery is of first class character, and the inventions of Mr. J. Waddell in use are as striking as they are ingenious. A large amount of stock is daily turned out, and the enterprise, despite hard times, promises to be eminently successful. The articles produced are generally of the cheap class, and such as are required for daily use, but it is intended to manufacture a still higher grade of goods as the business and demands extend. Mr. Dalby is full of perseverance, and ought to be congratulated upon the good prospects of his plucky venture.

The Elora High School re-opens with a large number of pupils, many of them being advanced in their studies. Mr. Hugh Sells, the assistant teacher, is a pushing, energetic young man, well fitted for his position, and likely to prove useful in building up the reputation of the institution with which he has become connected. It is expected that about sixty pupils will be on the role for the present half year.

Curlers began operations for the first time this season on the 3rd inst., a later date than any at which they have commenced the roaring game during the past ten years. If Vennor is right February and March will make up in keen ice for the moist December.

As yet no religious services have been held in the County House of Refuge, and it is to be hoped that the ministers of Elora and Fergus may make some arrangements by which the gospel can be preached to the poor inmates on every Sabbath. It is to be hoped that attention has but to be called to this matter to secure religious consolation to those so sorely needing it as men and women lost to hope of temporal success.

Elora, 8th Jan. 1878.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

The Lieut.-Governor's Speech from the Throne.

TORONTO, January 9.

At the opening of the Ontario Legislature this afternoon, at three o'clock, the Lieut.-Governor delivered the following address:—

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly:

I am glad to meet you again for the despatch of business in connection with the government of the Province, and with the legislation which the public needs require. I congratulate you on the abundant harvest with which our Province has been favored, and on the improvement in business which has followed.

I am glad to know that amongst the industries to which this improvement has extended is our lumber trade, home consumption having become more active, though the foreign trade has not improved to the same extent. The hopefulness and financial strength of the capitalists concerned in lumbering operations, are indicated by the fact, which I have the satisfaction of stating, that, notwithstanding the depression, the revenue from our woods and forests, during the year, has been equal to what had been expected; and a no less significant circumstance is the high prices obtained at public auction for the new limits, which, in consequence of the advance of settlements, it was found necessary, during the year, to place under license.

I am happy to state also that the revenue from the sale of public lands and from other sources has been equal to what had been anticipated. I took occasion, during the summer, to visit some of the colonization roads and other public works in our new districts, for which appropriations had been made last year, and I am glad to notice that the expenditure on these improvements has been useful, both in giving needed employment to settlers and intending settlers and also in affording valuable facilities for the future operations of the inhabitants. It is gratifying to know that the outlying districts of the Province continue to attract an energetic and hardy population, largely from the older settlements the number of persons, and quantity of land located last year, having been greatly in excess of the year previous.

It has been occasion for regret that hitherto the provisions in this Province for the care of the blind, the deaf and dumb, and the insane, has never been fully adequate to the necessities of these unfortunate classes of our people, but I confidently anticipate that before the close of the present year we shall, with the completion of new structures and the additions to the older buildings now under way, be not only abreast but fairly in advance of the demands so urgently made upon this branch of our Provincial institutions. My official visit to the various insane asylums confirmed me very strongly in the belief that their enlargement could not with reason or safety be longer delayed, and I feel certain that such further appropriations as may be needed will have your cordial assent.

The subject of railway facilities has engaged the attention of the Legislature for several years, and the Province has year by year contributed largely both from capital and revenue to encourage and assist useful railway enterprises. In view of the extensive system of railways thus already assisted, and in view of the increasing demands upon our revenue in various forms, you will probably be of opinion that special caution has become necessary in dealing with new projects which cannot be carried out without public aid.

The immigration to the Province during the year just ended has been about equal to that of the previous year and has consisted chiefly of the classes which are always needed, a few being capitalists who have invested their money in the Province at good interest; some being tenant farmers [with means, who have purchased and settled on farms, and most of the other immigrants of the year being farm laborers for whom steady and remunerative employment was promptly obtained.

I am happy to know that the recent Act passed to secure a complete system of vital statistics, is working efficiently. So much improvement has already taken place that the returns from cities and towns already in accuracy and fullness approach very near the English standard, while the returns from the rural districts are not far behind those from the cities. I anticipate with satisfaction and confidence further and continued improvements in this interesting department of the public service.

Our people are giving constantly increasing attention to the means of suppressing intemperance. I am glad to believe that the laws recently passed for the purpose have aided in this good work, having in most places been enforced with vigor and success.

The general subject of the public health and the means of maintaining and promoting it are exciting a growing interest in all civilized countries, and I commend the matter to a share of your attention.

It gave me great satisfaction to issue the necessary proclamation for bringing into force at the close of the year the revised Statutes of Ontario. The final report of the learned Commissioners, whom during recess I appointed to incorporate into the work previously reported, the general statutes of last session will be laid before you. Their recommendation of a confirmatory Act will no doubt receive your attention. Though unnecessary and unimportant changes in the body of statute law thus consolidated and revised are to be guarded against, still it is neither desirable nor possible to avoid making from time to time the additions and improvements which experience may suggest, or the growing needs of the province demand.

Among the measures on important subjects to be submitted to you during the present session, will probably be bills to provide for offenders against provincial and municipal laws being put to hard labor, when necessary, outside of the gaol limits; to place on a more satisfactory footing the relations of landlords and tenants in certain cases; to provide a convenient machinery for winding up joint stock companies which have proved abortive or have completed the purposes of their incorporation; and to regulate the civil service of the province.

A special case has been settled and transmitted to the Privy Council in England for the decision of the long controverted question of the legal validity of the award between Ontario and Quebec, and the matter has reached a stage which justifies the expectation that the argument and adjudication will take place within a few weeks.

There has been another unexpected delay in procuring a settlement of the important subject of the boundaries between Ontario and the adjoining territories of the Dominion. The absence from America of the distinguished gentleman selected as third arbitrator having made a settlement during the year impossible. The delay has been made to collect further facts and documents from the public archives in London and Paris, as well as from the records in possession of the Hudson Bay Company and from various public libraries in England and America. The result of these and other investigations has been embodied in an important supplement to the papers already printed for the use of the arbitrators. Copies will be laid before you. The three arbitrators are believed to be now ready to enter on the arbitration as soon as may suit the arrangements of the two Governments.

I have given directions that the accounts of the receipts and expenditures for last year shall be laid before you on the earliest day practicable. The estimates for the present year have been prepared and will be submitted to you. I trust that they will be found to have been so prepared as to manifest a due regard to economy, whilst at the same time providing for the most pressing needs of the country and for the efficiency of the public services in the various departments.

May your deliberations be characterized by wisdom and patriotism, and may they result in advancing the prosperity and happiness of the people.

PRESENTATION IN CHINGUACOUSY.—The half yearly examination of S. S. No. 10, Chinguacousy, was held on Monday, the 17th Dec. Not the least interesting feature of the examination was a spelling match, at the request of a few visitors, which kept up a lively time for about thirty-five minutes. After the distribution of the prizes, the pupils evidently considered the occasion a fitting opportunity to present their teacher, Mr. McDonald, with a beautifully finished "lamp" valued at $5.25, and accompanied with an address, expressive of esteem and good will. Mr. McDonald briefly but feelingly replied to the encouraging words contained in the address. The presentation was made in behalf of the pupils by Minnie Dyer and the address read by Maggie Groat. The children closed the proceedings by singing "Good Night."

Orders have been issued to all the colliery superintendants in the Schuylkill region to suspend operations. Between 25,000 and 30,000 miners will thus be thrown out of work, and the number is likely to be increased, as the Shamokin operators contemplate a similar step.

A mutiny has occurred at the penal settlement of Puntas Arenas (Anglice, Sandy Point,) on the Straits of Magellan. The mutineers, who were said to have been incited to insubordination by a priest, and who comprised the whole garrison at the settlement, liberated the convicts, attacked the Governor's quarters, maltreated the latter, and committed the most wanton outrages. They also attempted to capture a German steamer, but failed, the captain of the steamer carrying off several mutineers who had been sent to decoy him into anchorage. Upon the arrival of an American vessel in the port, the streets of the city were found strewn with dead, but the mutineers had escaped into the interior on their way to Santa Cruz.

The Evening Mercury

WEDNESDAY EVEN'G, JAN. 9, 1878

The "Herald" and the Election.

We regret that our contemporary takes the defeat of its pet candidate for the Reeveship so much to heart. We could pardon its bewailing over the sad events of Monday last, were it not that in endeavouring to cover up the defeat, it indulges in assertions as reckless as they are untrue. We positively deny that we made this a party contest, and we ask our contemporary to point to a single sentence wherein we tried to stir up a political feeling. We have, since the commencement of the contest, urged the ratepayers to select the men best-fitted for the position of municipal representatives, irrespective of any sectional feeling. In doing this we were compelled to condemn such men as Mr. Chadwick for past misconduct in Town Council matters, and the action of the people at the polls fully justified and endorsed our condemnation. The mean, low sneers at this paper, which appeared in the article in yesterday's Herald, are on a par with the well-known character of our opponents. We say boldly that we have never by word or deed endeavored to give a political bias to the present municipal campaign, and defy our traducer to prove to the contrary. We are aware why Mr. Chadwick was brought out at the time he was. We believe we are safe in saying that he never would have ventured to risk his popularity to the extent he did, had he not felt certain that he would have had two opponents instead of one. The Herald is, as usual, astray as to the reason of his defeat. That sheet put it correctly in the first instance. There can be no doubt that "want of time" and "private business" excited the sympathy of the electors to such a degree that they could not, in their hearts, tear Mr. Chadwick away from his idols. But the old story is again repeated. We never yet knew any one who adopted miserable tactics and subterfuges to get himself pushed forward, who did not afterwards, on defeat, say that his opponents fought unfairly. Talk about the election last year! He was elected then more as a matter of pity than anything else, as nearly every one acknowledged that he had tried so often to win distinction and suffered defeat that it would really have been a shame not to have given him at least one chance.

Let our writhing friend remember that Mr. Chadwick was not, as alleged, weighed down by the sins of others, but by those of his own omission and commission, and that neither the fact of his being a Liberal Conservative, nor any other political reason, caused his defeat. People require, in the management of their public affairs, something higher than continual attempts at a joke or pun, and have no desire to see the Council Chamber converted into a theatre of low comedy and buffoonery. The organ also attempts to make something of the U. E. Club business, forgetting that, in its fondness for a public parade of this sort of thing, one of the proprietors by putting in one word for the other tries to shove forward a couple for himself. Bah! What do people care for these matters compared with their vital interests. These things may do for the drawing-room of some "vain carpet knight," but they are ridiculous and contemptible in a public man when his mind cannot rise above them. We think our contemporary can do far more justice to himself and his readers by keeping his sorrows for his own bosom, as a needless display of tears only excites disgust.

It is understood that several of the country members of the Ontario Legislature will endeavor shortly after the House opens to have the hours of its sittings changed. Instead of meeting at three p.m., and sitting indefinitely, it is proposed that the Legislature meet at eleven a. m., and sit till one, when an adjournment will be made till three, at which hour the House will reassemble and sit again till six. The committees are recommended to be held in the evenings.

The Canadian "Spectator."—The first number of this weekly paper, edited by the Rev. A. J Bray, of Montreal, has been received. It is got up after the style of the best class of English weekly papers—and is printed on toned paper. It looks remarkably well, and if the high character with which it starts can be maintained, it will wield no small influence in the country. After the compendium of news, we have contributions from the following:—"A Canadian National Policy," by Thomas White, editor of the Montreal Gazette; "The Romish and Protestant Mind," by J. A. Allen; "The Story of the Oka Indians," by W. Geo. Beers; "The Philosophy of Politics," by J. Clark Murray, LL D.; "Practical Science," by Professor Henry L. Bovey; "The Soul and Future Life," by Frederic Harrison; "The Roman Catholic Church in Canada, viewed in its Civil Aspects," by the Editor; and the opening of a story, "No Sign," by Mrs. Cashel Hoey. The Spectator proclaims itself as a "religious paper in the highest sense," and a political paper at the same time, but not bound to any party, and it also aims to take a first place as a literary periodical. Time will tell whether the high position aimed at will be realized, meantime a fair start has been made. We wish our new contemporary every success, and trust that in the assertion of religious liberty and independence in Quebec, it will become a power for good.

Induction.—New Year's Day, at St. John's Church, Elora, Rev. H. L. Yewens was formally inducted to the care of the parish by Dean Osler, of Dundas. The sermon was preached by the Dean. The Bishop has appointed Rev. H. L. Yewens Rural Dean, in the place of Rev. C. E. Thomson, who has moved to Hamilton.

Hillsburg Items.—Last Monday as Mr. Wm. Fitzgerald, shoemaker, was assisting Mr. Wm. Grand to saw, the saw slipped from its guard and struck him a severe blow over the eye, inflicting a terrible cut, which bled profusely. On the following Thursday night Mr. Fitzgerald's stable was entered by some person or persons unknown and a fine four year old horse taken therefrom together with a bridle and blanket. After searching most of the next day the horse was found about two miles east of Hillsburg, none the worse for his midnight ramble.——The Hillsburg School was re-opened on the 3rd inst., under the new teachers, Mr. R. McMillan, formerly of Pilkington, Principal; and Miss J. Cowan, of Erin village, assistant.

At a late meeting of the Reform Association of the Township of Normanby, Mr. A. S. McEdward was re-elected President, and W. H. Ryan, Secretary.

The War News.

Jan. 8.

A London despatch says:—There is a continued rise in the price of securities on the London and Continental Bourses, consequent on fresh peace rumors from the East.

The Times' financial article says the rise of prices at the close yesterday was in consequence of rumors that an armistice had been concluded.

A Pera despatch says:—A communication from London advising Turkey to open negotiations with Russia through the military commanders, has been received here. A strong disposition is evinced to accept the advice.

The occupation of Sofia is of great advantage to the Russians. It gives them a base for operations in Roumania, opens up the resources of the country around, and makes them to a certain extent independent of supplies from Roumania.

A Bogot despatch says the Russians have occupied Slatitza and Petrichevo.

Ohakir Pasha telegraphs to Constantinople that after checking the Russian advance with great loss at Petritchevo, he retired to strongly intrenched positions at Peibrine and Otlukkoi.

An official despatch to Constantinople announces that after two days' sanguinary fighting, Hafiz Pasha, commanding the Novi-Bazar division, re-occupied Kerschumlje. The Servian loss was considerable. Eyoub Pasha, commanding the civic guard at Novi-Bazar, also defeated the Servians, pursuing them to the frontier, burning six of their military stations, and destroying their entrenchments.

A Belgrade correspondent says:—An agreement exists that the Servians shall occupy Sofia, transferring their head-quarters thither.

A Bucharest telegram says 70,000 Russians have passed through the South Balkans from the Sofia plains.

A Bucharest special says the Danube is now thoroughly frozen over.

A Bucharest correspondent reports that the railway from Fratesthi to Simnitza will be opened for traffic on Friday. This will enable the Russians to transport to the Danube the new iron bridge they have had ready. Ten small steamers have also been brought from Russia for use in connection with the bridge.

It is stated that the Russians in Bulgaria have only three weeks' supplies, and great difficulties relative to forage are probable, unless communication is speedily restored.

A special despatch from Tatar Bazardjik says Baker Pasha has been promoted to the rank of Lieutenant General.

A Constantinople cry is being raised for the recall of Midhat Pasha.

Despite pressure from the palace, and threats of dissolution, the Turkish House of Representatives has been assailing the Government with great freedom and bitterness. They probably have the population of Stamboul on their side, and it is doubtful whether they would obey a decree of dissolution.

Constantinople advices state that the line of fortifications around that city has been completed, and the defences are now considered as impregnable.

Presentation in Erin.—At the close of the examination of S. S. No. 12, Erin, the pupils presented their teacher, Mr. T. M. Talbot, with two handsome books—a bible and album—accompanied with an address, referring to their deep sense of gratitude for his diligence and fidelity in the discharge of his duties, the untiring zeal he has always manifested in all that pertained to their moral and scholastic attainments, and his desire that they should enjoy to the utmost their hours of recreation. Signed on behalf of the school, Saidie B. Thomson and Addie V. Baldwin. Mr. Talbot made a reply, alluding to the pleasure he had always experienced while with them.

S. of T. in Nassagaweya.—At the last meeting of the Prospect Division Sons of Temperance the following officers were duly installed for the current quarter:—Bro. A. Pickett, W.P.; Sis. M. Fletcher, M.A; A. C. MacMillan, R.S.; Sis. S. Agnew, A.R.S; James Miller, W.F.S.; John W. Easterbrook, Treas.; W. S. McTavish, Chap.; N. Simpson, Con.; Sis. S. Simpson, A.C.; John Ferguson, I.S; Jas. McTavish, O.S.; Jas. Collins, P.W.P. This Division is now in a very prosperous condition—both financially and numerically. A very handsome new "Bell" organ was purchased recently. An entertainment will be held under its auspices in the Union Hall, Brockville, on the evening of Tuesday, 15th inst. The committee have secured the services of several excellent singers, as well as the Rockwood Dramatic Club to perform that popular play, "Ten Nights in a Bar-room." Admission twenty-five cents.

Gleneden Post Office.—A new post-office was formally opened near Dickson's Mills, Normanby, on New Year's Day, under the name of "Gleneden," Mr. J. H. Dickson being post-master.

Guelph Township Council.

Council met on Monday the 31st December, previous to the hour for holding the Nomination. The Reeve in the chair. All the members present.

In accordance with instructions given at last meeting the clerk presented a statement showing the proportionate amount to be paid to the Board of Trustees of the several School Sections accruing from the fund set apart for Educational purposes, the amount being $897, and apportioned as follows:

Sec. No. 1, $112.55; No. 2, $175; No. 3, 127.90; No. 4, $67 45; No. 41, $88.40; No. 5, $131.85; No. 6, $145.12; and Separate Schools $28.73.

On motion made by Mr. Sweetnam, seconded by Mr. Armstrong, the Reeve was authorized to issue his order in favor of the Board of Trustees of each School Section, and of Seperate School, for the apportionment shown in statement.

The following accounts were presented and ordered to be paid:

J. E McElderry Benevolent purposes	$ 32 50
J. Rink " "	63 00
A. Armstrong " "	63 75

Viger Cattle Market.

Montreal, Jan. 8.

The Viger market was rather poorly attended today. The cold weather prevented all who had no business to attend to there from putting in an appearance. The number of milch cows on the market was not large, yet it was difficult to sell. Two of the best ones were taken away unsold One of these was a very fine cow, although rather aged, brought on a sleigh from Lachenaie in L'Assomption. $50 was offered for this cow, but the owner preferred holding her over for another market, Mr. Bergeron sold a pretty good cow for $37; an ordinary cow was sold for $28, and a small bossy, which was guaranteed by her owner to give nine quarts of milk per day, was sold for $20. She was not twenty-two months old old. There was a fair supply of beef cattle on the market. Fred Ritchings sold eight dry cows and steers at $41 each. They were much fatter than the cattle brought to this market usually are, but several of them were rather badly marked on the flank and sides by the horns of their companions. Mr. Ritchings says that it was while waiting for a cattle car at Acton station that the damage was done. Wm. Roberts and W. K. Wilder had about 20 dry cows on the market, and sold a number of them at from $26 to $29 each. Several rough looking bulls brought from Glengarry were sold at $25 each. Very few sheep were offered, and these of ordinary quality. E. Dingwall, of Lancaster, sold thirty seven sheep and lambs at $3.25 each.

Fergus as a County Town.—It is predicted now that the municipal election is over, that the Grand River is to be the boundary line dividing North from South Wellington. That Guelph becoming a city the County buildings are to be located in Fergus, it being the most southern point, therefore, more beneficial for the health of prisoners in the gaol, as well as for indigents in the Poor House. Elora, Salem, Aboyne and Fergus being connected by the Credid Valley Railway, to be incorporated as a city, the Grand River to be made navigable and a lighthouse erected at Kinnettles to warn political parties from becoming wrecks upon the shoals and quicksands. The Reeve of Fergus to be Warden of North Wellington.

DAY SELLS CHEAP

Do your Spectacles Suit your Eyesight?

If not, you should at once get them exchanged for a pair that will, for nothing is more injurious to to the sight than using glasses which are misfitted. If they are too strong or too weak there is a continual strain upon the nerves and cords of the eye, creating an inflammation which will, if you continue using the misfitted pair, ruin the eyesight altogether. Many merchants who sell spectacles know little or nothing about the principles of fitting the eyes, and you are therefore liable to buy a wrong pair just because they seem to suit when you first try them on, which, after wearing for an hour or so, will "draw" until it is painful to wear them. From my study of the eye, and long experience in selling spex, I can safely affirm that more eyesights are destroyed by wearing improperly fitted glasses than from any other cause. I have an instrument invented by Kent Brothers, Toronto, which proves to a certainty what number of lense you should use, with which I will be pleased to test anyone who desires it, without any charge.

CHAPTER XIV.

DADDY DUFF IS INTRODUCED TO THE HEADQUARTERS OF THE SMUGGLERS.

Instead of stopping, they made the horses trot the faster—being fully intent on the enjoyment of Daddy's direful situation, and unmindful both of his pain and danger. The faster pace had not continued for twenty yards when Daddy, encumbered behind by his wallet and in front by his stick, lost his equilibrium, and brought the lively scene to an end by exchanging the horse's back for the greensward, which he did with more safety than elegance, for he managed to slide down and alight on the softest part of his body—though, sooth to say, that part had become exceedingly tender during the last half hour.

There he sat, still grasping his cudgel, and looking up more wrathfully at the group which gathered quickly around him than Daddy had ever been known to look at any one.

"I tell ye what it is, lads," he cried, "ye may think shame tae use an auld man like me this gate; nane but a pack o' cooards wad hae the meanness tae dee it. My banes are shaken, my body is bruised, and I micht hae gotten my neck broken."

"Serves ye right" called more than one.

"And what dis it serve me richt for? What ill did ever I dee to any o' ye?

"Here tae him; hear tae the auld hypocrite," burst forth quite in a chorus, while the leader's deep stern voice was heard to say—

"Black Dick will tell you that. Get up and mount again."

"That I will dae at nae rate; and the time wull come when ye'll a' be sorry for usin' puir Daddy Duff in this mainner, 'at wull ye."

"Won't you rise?"

"No, I winna. Ye may as weel murder me at aince as to set me again on a trottin' horse."

"There will be no more trotting. The rest of the road is too steep for that. We shall walk all the way."

"Then I'll walk on my ain feet," replied Daddy, for I'm resolved that nae langer will I mak' sport for the Philistines."

"So be it, only come on. We can't wait here all day."

"Weel, as the auld sang says—'It's hard tae gang wi' them that ye dinna like;' but seeing that I'm no in a position tae dae otherwise I mak' a virtue o' necessity," muttered the beggar, as he scrambled to his feet, and prepared to prosecute the rest of the journey in the fashion to which he was habituated.

They were now among the ridges and precipitous ascents of a more elevated region. The bridle tract was almost obliterated and paths had to be found anywhere, thus causing the company to separate and be squandered—though a close eye was constantly kept on the prisoner, and such guardianship exercised as would effectually prevent his escape if he made the attempt. But Daddy had not the slightest intention of trying anything of the kinds knowing, as he did, how useless it would prove. Though he did manage to slip off unperceived, he would very quickly lose his way among these wilds, and he thought it better to accompany his captors and learn the cause of his singular treatment.

So he trudged on, keeping silent, but not otherwise showing any anxiety. So much was he at ease that not only did he take snuff occasionally with his usual deliberation, but, feeling hungry, he ransacked his wallet for pieces of bread and cheese, which he munched with great unconcern, and listened to the talk.

The latter did not interest him much till the name of Harold Logan was mentioned. Then he pricked up his ears, and from the fragments of sentences which reached him he learned during the course of the night they had delivered him from prison, and that he had fled to the hills in some other direction.

An unfortunate baker in Hamilton named David Thompson, recently burned out, has gone insane, or rather has become perfectly helpless. He has had a very great deal of trouble during the past year. In that time he has lost his wife, been embarrassed in business, and, since the fire, has had trouble about his insurance. The medical men in attendance have pronounced the patient to be suffering from an affection of the brain. Thompson is in a very bad state, being helpless physically as well as mentally.

At a meeting of the Egremont Reform Association, held at Holstein on the 29th ult., Mr. Henry McDougall was elected President, and Mr. Daniel Keith, Secretary. The following resolution was carried unanimously:—"This Association desires to express its entire confidence in the Mackenzie and Mowat Administrations, and in our representatives in the Dominion and Ontario Parliaments."

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a receipt that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. Unsolicited Testimony.

FAIRFIELD, Me., April 28, 1864.

Gentlemen,—Seeing numerous certificates in the Maine Farmer, endorsing the merits of the Great Lung Remedy, WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, I am induced and I take great pleasure in giving publicity to the great cure it accomplished in my family in the year 1856. During the Summer of that year my son, Henry A. Archer, now postmaster in this place, was attacked with spitting of blood, cough, weakness of lungs, and general debility, so much so that our family physician declared him to have a "seated consumption." He was under medical treatment for a number of months, but received no benefit from it. At length, from the solicitations of himself and others, I was induced to purchase one bottle of WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, which benefited him so much that he obtained another, which in a short time restored him to his usual state of health. I can safely recommend this remedy to others in like condition, for it is, I think, all it purports to be—the great lung remedy for the times!

The above statement, gentlemen, is my voluntary offering to you in favor of your BALSAM, and is at your disposal.

As ever, yours,
ANDREW ARCHER.

THE Company's special system of Loans affords to borrowers, and especially to Farmers, the following most important advantages:—

1. The borrower is NOT OBLIGED to repay any part of the principal until the whole term of the Mortgage has run.
2. He has the RIGHT (after the first year) to repay at any time, the whole or any part of the Loan, without prior notice to the Company.
3. No extra charge, bonus or otherwise, is exacted on such repayment.
4. He is requested when making application for the Loan, to state the day on which he wishes interest to be made payable. He thus can stipulate for a date, say after harvest, or at such time as is likely to be most convenient for him.
5. Interest can be made payable once a year—not in advance.
6. On repayment of any part of the principal, interest on such amount immediately ceases.

FIRE AT HOLLIN.—A disastrous fire occurred in Hollin on the 29th ult., by which the store and dwelling of Mr. George Hambly, all under one roof, were speedily destroyed. How the fire first originated is not known, but it first manifested itself in the store. A person who happened to be passing a little after midnight raised the alarm. This awakened Mr. Hambly, who immediately heard the crockery falling from the burning shelves in the store below. Had it not been for the alarm thus given, no doubt lives would have been sacrificed, as two young men slept immediately above the store, and who were with difficulty aroused in time to save themselves. The insurance amounts to $1,400, which will not cover half the loss.

Farmers were plowing in the neighborhood of Winnepeg on Christmas day.

The editor of the Belleville Intelligence has received a curious Christmas box from a friend, a small rattlesnake securely corked in a bottle, with a small aperture in the cork to let in the fresh air. This snake has been kept in this bottle for four months without receiving any food, yet it lives and continues to grow larger.

A Free Thought (Atheist) Society is being organized in Petersville, London. One of the leaders recently went to a room where lay a dying dupe, forcibly ejected a Church of England clergyman (who had been sent for at the twelfth hour), and then implored the poor fellow, hovering between life and death, to "die game." The day after this blasphemous exhibition the clergyman was again sent for, the sick man confessed the error of his past life, and deeply deplored his connection with the wretched Atheists.

The Reverend Father Drumgoole, of the Newsboys' Lodging House, New York, uses for bruises and lameness, and the many troubles to which the waifs under his charge are so subject, Dr. Giles' Liniment Iodide of Ammonia.

Miss Chenneck, organist of St. John's Church, Elora, was lately presented with some valuable silver plated articles on the occasion of her nuptials. She was married to Mr. Henry Clarke, cousin to Charles Clarke, M.PP.

At the Court of Queen's Bench for the Terrebonne district, which opened at Ste Scholastique on Monday, the Grand Jury, composed of twenty French Canadians and two English-speaking jurors, brought in true bills yesterday against the two Oka Indians charged with firing the Seminary Church, and against the remainder, who are accused of being accessories.

The Evening Mercury

FRIDAY EVEN'G, JAN. 11, 1878.

Local News Items.

JUDGE MACDONALD has been appointed High School Trustee by the Town Council.

PIGEON STEALING.—The pigeon cote of Mr. J. D. Williamson was visited the other evening and a number of birds taken away.

BEWARE.—A man named John McKenzie has lately been fined $10 for walking on the G. W. R. Loop Line at Lawrence. Another warning trespassers should heed.

I. O. G. T.—The entertainment in the Beaver Lodge rooms last evening, was a well arranged affair. Many of the delegates who had been attending the County Temperance Convention were present.

DRUNKEN FEMALES.—This morning Tillie Fulton, alias Mary Gray, and Libbie Burrows, were convicted of being drunk and disorderly on Wednesday afternoon on Quebec street. Fined $10 and costs each. A nice young man, with a police court record, and who, "had been led astray by evil companions," assisted the girls to raise the wind, and they were liberated.

MR. WARREN A. WORDEN, from Auburn, N. Y., has arrived in Guelph, as successor to Major M. O. Macgregor, United States Consul. Mr. Macgregor, while occupying the position from which he now retires, has given the utmost satisfaction to parties who have transacted business wish him. On all occasions he has been courteous, obliging and in every respect a gentleman.

SUGGESTION.—At the Council meeting last evening, Mr. Reeve Hood suggested, when the disposition of the infant left at the door of Mr. Geo. Balkwill on Year's eve was under discussion, that as two members of the Council had not been blessed with children, they should "toss-up" to see which would claim the child, and shelter it from the the rude buffettings of the world during infancy. The suggestion was not acted upon.

THE GREENE ASSAULT CASE.—Anthony Greene was brought before the Police Magistrate on Thursday afternoon, charged with assaulting and striking Mr. W. H. Mills. On the information being read the defendant pleaded guilty, and also stated that the plaintiff first assaulted him. Mr. Mills was sworn. His evidence contradicted defendant's statement in regard to who struck first, and bore out the report of the case which appeared in yesterday's MERCURY. The Magistrate convicted the defendant and fined him $3, and $4 costs.

ASSAULT ON A WOMAN.—Alf. Howard, a colored youth, with curly locks the color of a raven's wing, appeared before the Police Magistrate this morning on a charge of assaulting a widow named Mary Matilda Long. His conduct, independent of striking the woman, was very gross, and a fine of $3 and costs was ordered to be paid. The dusky Alf. should bear in mind the lines—

"The man who lays his hands upon a woman,
Save in the way of kindness, is a wretch,
Whom twere gross flattery to name a coward."

FIRE AT LISTOWEL.—On Thursday morning, about one o'clock, a fire broke out in Bell & Davidson's bakery, on Main street. Fifteen minutes after the alarm was sounded the engine was playing on the burning building, and the fire was subdued in less than half an hour. The adjoining buildings were saved, although some of them received slight damage. The stocks also suffered by hasty removal. Bell & Davidson's loss on stock is about $900; insured in the Standard for $200. The building was owned by John Osborne, who had no insurance on the premises.

CALEDONIAN SOCIETY.—The annual meeting of the above Society will be held on Monday, the 14th of January. As the meeting is one of great importance to the members, there ought to be a full attendance. Arrangements ought to be made for keeping the rooms open more frequently than heretofore, and some means devised for starting a library during the winter months, the rooms would then be a pleasant and advantageous place of meeting for both young and old, and would add greatly to the interest of the members. The election of officers will also take place, and a complete financial statement will be presented.

WOOD STEALING.—Mr. T. R. Galer, living on Suffolk street, purchased a nice lot of sawed maple the other day and had it piled in front of his residence, previous to its removal to his woodshed. Early in the evening he noticed the pile, like a snow wreath, gently melting away. Watch, was the word, and he resolved to do it. Later in the evening, while he was sitting inside his hall door, attentively listening, he heard voices, and on going outside surprised two young lads with a hand sleigh loaded with wood. He followed them, captured the sleigh and took possession of it. The lads are known, and they will be shortly interviewed in the Police Court. Several parties around town have been complaining about losing wood.

The War News.

JAN. 10.

The London correspondent of the Manchester Guardian telegraphs that he believes a six weeks' armistice has been already agreed upon on a basis of uti possidetis.

A Constantinople despatch says:—From the note Earl Derby to Mr. Layard, informing him of the Russian reply concerning an armistice, the Porte inferred that it had only to propose an armistice for it to be concluded. The Minister of War accordingly telegraphed yesterday to the Russian Grand Duke proposing an armistice, but no reply has been received.

A Vienna correspondent observed that the course taken by England in abandoning her isolated line of policy and acquiescing in that of the other Powers, who consent to separate negotiations, although reserving their ultimate rights, meets with general approval.

A St. Petersburg despatch says:—The Grand Duke Nicholas has telegraphed the following from Lofteha:—

JAN 9.—I am happy to congratulate Your Majesty upon the brilliant victory gained this day. General Radetzky has, after desperate fighting, captured the whole Turkish army defending the Shipka Pass, consisting of forty-one battalions, ten batteries, and a regiment of cavalry. Prince Mirsky has occupied Kezanlik, and General Skobeleff holds Shipka.

A Bucharest correspondent says:—The battalions captured in the Shipka Pass probably number from 300 to 400 men each. The victory was the result of a combined movement by Radetzky and Skobeleff through the Shipka and Trojano Passes.

A St. Petersburg despatch says:—Flags are displayed all over the city in honor of Gen. Radetzky's victory.

The Italian Throne.

Addresses by the New King to the Italian People.

ROME, Jan. 10.—King Humbert I. has issued the following:

ITALIANS.

The greatest misfortune has suddenly befallen us. Victor Emmanuel, the founder of the Kingdom of Italy and its unity, has been taken from us. I received his last sigh, which was for the nation; his last wishes, which were for the happiness of his people. His voice, which will always resound in my heart, bids me banish sorrow, and indicates my duty at this moment. There is only one consolation possible, namely, to show ourselves worthy of him; I by following in his footsteps, and you by remaining devoted to those civic virtues by the aid of which he accomplished the difficult task of rendering Italy great and united, I shall be mindful of his great example of devotion to country, love to progress, and faith in liberal institutions; and this will be to deserve the love of my people.

Italians, your first king is dead. His successor will prove to you that institutions do not die. Let us unite in this hour of great sorrow. Let us strengthen that concord which has always been the salvation of Italy.

The proclamation of the new King was very favorably received.

All the Sovereigns of Europe and President MacMahon sent telegrams to King Humbert expressing affectionate sympathy.

Victor Emmanuel lies in a room on the ground floor of the Quirinal on the simple, low curtainless iron bedstead on which he died. His face is white, perfectly calm, and undisfigured. A row of wax lights stand as the foot of his bed, where a chaplain continually recites the prayer for the dead, and four aides-de-camp keep watch in the ante-room. Nothing has been decided yet concerning the place of burial. Although the King's ancestors are all buried near Turin, there seems to be an idea that the first King of Italy ought to be buried in Rome.

A correspondent at Rome says the Pope, on receiving the news of the death of the King, said, I expected it, and had pardoned him. Let us pray for the repose of his soul.

The Italian clerical journals declare that the dying King before receiving the viaticum asked the Pope's forgiveness for his sins. A later telegram says this statement is authoritively contradicted, and declares that Victor Emmanuel made no declaration which could give the lie to his glorious life as Italian King.

GUELPH TOWNSHIP AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.—The annual meeting of this Society was held at the office of Mr. Geo. Murton, Secretary, on Thursday afternoon for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year. Mr. Jas. Porter, President, in the chair. The auditor's report was presented and adopted. The following officers were elected: President, Mr. Scott Armstrong, on motion of Mr. Whitelaw, seconded by Mr. Bathgate. Vice-President, Mr. W. Bathgate, on motion of Mr. Cowan, seconded by Mr. Sweetnam. Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. Geo. Murton, on motion of Mr. W. Whitelaw, seconded by Mr. F. W. Stone. Directors—Messrs. Jos. Kirby, Jas. Elliott, Jas. Cowan, Jas. Porter, John Bolton, A. Gilchrist, W. Aitcheson, M. Kirby, and R. Blyth. Auditors—Messrs. H. H. Swinford and John Laidlaw. The thanks of the meeting were tendered to the retiring President, Mr. Jas. Porter. The Act now regulates the election of officers in such a manner that none who have not paid their subscription previous to the annual meeting are eligible for office, neither have they a right to vote.

THE much talked of Market Committee's report has been adopted by the Council. Looking at the report as it is, Mr. Hood has exceeded his appropriation some $1,600. If, on the other hand, Mr. Hood succeeds in getting the Police Committee to assume $168.74; Streets and Highways, $306; Mr. Marriott's services on roads, $50; removal of Clerk's office, $400; and contingent account $110, for expenses connected with Drill Shed, it will, as a matter of course, be considerably reduced.

ABELE TREES.—Since Mr. Hood, chairman of the County Property Committee, caused the obnoxious abele trees in front of the Court House to be cut down, several other parties in various parts of the town have done likewise, and will, in the spring, cut out ornamental trees, which can lay greater claims to beauty and not prove a nuisance by bearing "fluff," which penetrates into houses in a most disagreeable manner.

Town Council.

Christening Corporation Children.

A special meeting was held on Thursday evening. Present, His Worship the Mayor in the chair, Messrs. Hood, Hart, Sleeman, MacMillan, Elliott, Gauhan, Lamprey, Cunningham, Hefferman, Coffee, Biscoe and Hearn.

The Mayor read the opinion of the Solicitor in regard to the advisability of the Council introducing a By-law regulating and licensing all vehicles for hire, such as are carrying on the business of common carriers within the corporation. His opinion was, that such could be done under section 472, sub-section 1, Statutes of Ontario, and sub-section 54 of 466, and that a By-law might be passed to that effect.

Charles Meredith asked for a remission of dog tax, he not having kept a dog for a number of years.

Tolton Bros. presented an account amounting to $12.

PETITIONS.

By Mr. Gauhan, from Geo. S. Grange, for remission of income tax.

By Mr. Gauhan, from B. McTague, sen., for remission of taxes, being indigent.

By Mr. Gauhan, from Mrs. Carney, for remission of taxes, on account of her indigence, and lack of work for her son, who is her main support.

By Mr. Sleeman, from Wm. Day, asking for a fair remission of taxes on the old Central School building, it having been unoccupied during the entire year.

By Mr. MacMillan, from C. Shewan, asking for a remission of taxes on his property, lately destroyed by fire, he being unable to pay the same.

By Mr. Hearn, from Mr. Heather, asking for a remission of $12 on personal property and a fair amount on his shop property.

Referred to proper Committees.

A claim of $40 was presented to the Council for injuries received to a horse on Maple street.

The Mayor stated that he had received a communication in regard to a child that had been lately left at the door of Mr. Geo. Balkwill.

Mr. Biscoe stated that Mrs. Balkwill had informed him that she would not keep the child any longer. The St. Joseph's Hospital had refused to take the child under the circumstances. Something had to be done for the waif by the corporation. Mrs. Balkwill had stated to him that a home could be found for the child for $10 per month. It had been suggested that it be named after the Mayor, and called "Frederick Guelph."

The Mayor—That name would be after the Chairman of the Relief Committee.

Mr. Hood thought that as there were two members of the Council who were not burdened with children, they might toss-up to see who would take the infant.

Mr. Gauhan considered it the duty of the Council to do something in the matter at once.

The Mayor stated that the members must proceed to business at once.

MARKET AND DRILL SHED REPORT,

Mr. Hood, Chairman, presented the following report:—

1. The Committee have given orders for $3,245.60 in accounts. The amount of accounts not yet paid is $1,904.90. Of this amount the police account is $176 74; drill shed, $110; streets and highways, $306; and Mr. Marriott's services on roads, $50. The amount placed to the credit of the Committee was $3,690.

2. They recommend that the tariff of fees for weighing cattle on the stock scales in fair ground be five cents per head, and that sheep, swine, and other small stock be two cents per head; that all grain weighed on the truck scales at the weigh house be charged at the rate of one cent per 100 lbs., and that a fee of five cents per head be charged for all cattle, and two cents per head for all small stock entering the fair grounds.

3. The new weigh house is found to give great satisfaction, often requiring two men to attend to weighing.

4. It is recommended that some different system be adopted for regulating the market, and collecting the fees, as it is quite evident that a large portion of people attending market pay no fees at all.

5. That the tariff of fees and market regulations be painted on a board or boards, and put up in different places on the market.

RELIEF COMMITTEE.

Mr. Biscoe presented the final report of the Relief Committee, which stated that the past year had been one of great distress and hardship to many; that it had been difficult to procure work. It complained of the great trouble given by tramps. It thanked many of the clergy and ladies and gentlemen of the town for information received. The Committee had received $2,306.19, and had expended $2,243.09, leaving a balance of $63.10, with outstanding accounts of probably $160. It recommended the purchase of more wood, as there was but two cords on hand.

PARK AND EXHIBITION.

Mr. Sleeman presented the final report of the Park and Exhibition Committe as follows:—

RECEIPTS.

BOARD OF HEALTH.

Mayor Chadwick, chairman, presented the following report:

They report with much pleasure that the sanitary state of the town is most satisfactory at the present time. It is also a matter of congratulation that the town has been free of any special visitation, such as was the case last year. They recommend payment of $120 to Mr. John Stevens for his services as Health Inspector for 1877; also $23 for burying dead animals.

SPECIAL REPORT.

The Special Committee appointed to report upon the affairs of the Road and Bridge Committee was presented by Mr. Elliott, enumerated accounts to the amount of $12,988.70, which to the best knowledge and belief of the Committee were correct. The report made no recommendation.

On motion, the Council went into Committee of the Whole on the Market report, Mr. Hearn in the chair.

The accounts paid were all adopted. In reference to the account of $306 for gravel placed on the market square, the chairman explained that an appropriation had been made for the committee on roads, and as it was really necessary to have the work done in order that business might be transacted by farmers and dealers, it was correct that it should be done, and that at once.

$176.74 charged against the police committee was explained by the chairman as being amount paid for alterations in cells, etc. It was unfair that the Market Committee should have to pay for the lighting, heating, etc., connected with the police court when the committee received no credit for the fines that the Police Committee took so much pains to provide.

Mr. Elliott held that the rules of the Council showed that all the town buildings, including the drill shed, were under the control of the Market Committee.

Mr. Hood was quite willing to have $300 for gravelling the Square charged to his Committee if the member for the West wished. That amount had been appropriated, and it had been expended. Some of the gravel had been laid on Huskisson street, and if it had not been done the town in all probability would have been mulcted in damages for accidents. Already money had been paid for injuries done to a horse.

In regard to $110 for gas, etc., connected with the drill shed, the Mayor held that although it made very little difference which committee had to pay the amount, as it all had to come out of the one pocket. The gas bill was largely increased by the volunteers using the building at night. It would be the duty of the Reeve when he took his seat at the County Council to see that the town was recouped a fair proportion of the amount.

Mr. Lamprey held that he never considered the $500 appropriated in the schedule was to be expended in gravel to be laid around the market buildings.

Mr. Elliott held the Mayor was a little in error when he claimed that the drill shed was a town building. The county helped to pay for erecting the building for volunteer drill and for agricultural shows. He thought that the town of Guelph had patriotism enough in its ratepayers to pay the gas bill for the young men who were volunteers, and who had to drill in the evenings.

In reply to Mr. Elliott, Mr. Hood said that after deducting the items which should not be charged to the Committee, the Market Committee's entire expenditure would be $4,668,74. The removal of the Clerk's office sanctioned by the Council had caused an expenditure of some $400.

Mr. Sleeman censured the Market Committee for the work done on the fair grounds in so far as the work had exceeded the appropriation made for the purpose.

Mr. Elliott stated that although the accounts unpaid should be passed, the parties should have their money, there were $1,904.90 to be provided for and there was only some $300 to the committee's credit. This showed a deficiency of $1,600. He considered the proper course would be to refer the report to the Finance Committee to provide ways and means to settle the claims.

Mr. Cunningham asked how much money had been realized by the weigh scales.

Mr. Hood stated that he had been unable to ascertain from the Market Clerk anything like a statement of the business done. There was a great leakage somewhere. On the Christmas show day some 900 cattle had been shipped from Guelph, and all that was accounted for was 460. There was a great deal of money lost every day by farmers and others neglecting to pay their market fees.

Moved in amendment by Mr. Hood, seconded by Mr. Gauhan that the report be adopted.

Moved by Mr. Elliottt, seconded by Mr. Sleeman, that the report be not now adopted but be referred to the Finance Committee to report to the Council ways and means to provide for the expenditure of the Market Committee over and above their appropriation.

Mr. Hood said that Mr. Elliott should try and take the mote out of his own eye before trying to draw the beam out of his eye. Mr. Elliott would try to scorch him at the present time after he had time after time voted for illegal expenditures. Mr. Sleeman did not care very much after he had the appropriation secured for the Waterloo Avenue.

Mr. Hart stated that he felt some hesitancy on the question. It sometimes occurred that work was sanctioned by the Council, that Committees went on with, and the appropriation were thereby exceeded. In such cases, and it happened with nearly all the Committees, the Council had to shoulder the blame.

Mr. Sleeman in reply to the accusations made by Mr. Hood said that he was not on the Road and Bridge Committee when the Waterloo avenue appropriation was made, and he had no particular interest in having that work proceeded with first. He held that Mr. Hood was the most extravagant chairman that the town had this year.

On motion the Council resumed and a motion was carried that when the Council adjourns it stands adjourned till Tuesday evening.

The time rule was suspended for one hour.

Mr. Elliott's amendment was lost on the following division:

Yeas—Messrs. Hart, Elliott, Sleeman.—3.

Nays—Messrs. Hood, MacMillan, Hefferman, Coffee, Biscoe, Hearn, Gauhan, Lamprey, Cunningham—9.

The motion for adoption was carried on the same division.

On motion of Mr. Biscoe, seconded by Mr. Coffee, the Relief Committee's report was adopted.

On motion of Mr. Sleeman, seconded by Mr. Hart, the Park and Exhibition Committee's report was adopted.

Moved by Mr. Elliott, seconded by Mr. Sleeman, that the special report on roads be adopted and referred to the Finance Committee to devise ways and means to liquidate the accounts contracted over and above the appropriation.

Messrs. Hefferman, Sleeman, Hearn and McMillan, opposed referring the report to the Finance Committee.

Moved by Mr. Lamprey, seconded by Mr. Hefferman, that the report of special Committee appointed to examine the Road and Bridge Committee's accounts be adopted. Carried 8 to 4.

Mr. Gauhan called the attention of the Mayor to the fact that the messenger of the Council had taken his departure.

The Mayor stated that the new Council would have to see that the messenger attended to his duties.

Moved by Mr. Elliott, and seconded by Mr. Sleeman, that Judge Macdonald be appointed High School Trustee for the ensuing year.—Carried.

An adjournment then took place.

The Bible Society.

Annual Meeting of the Guelph Branch.

A more than ordinarily large attendance of the members and supporters of the Guelph Branch Bible Society was had in St. Andrew's Church, Thursday evening.

On the platform were Mr. James Hough, President of the Society; Rev. J. C. Smith, Rev. R. Torrance, Rev. W. Bell, Rev. E. B. Ryckman, Rev. Mr. Brock, Rev. Thos. Wardrope, Rev. J. Harris, Mr. R. Gaunby, Secretary of the Society; Mr. E. Newton, Treasurer; Mr. Thos. McCrae, and others.

Mr. F. Cooke acted as leader of the singing.

After devotional exercises,

Mr. Jas. Hough delivered the annual address of the President, as follows:—

CHRISTIAN FRIENDS,—Time, like a river, is constantly flowing towards its native ocean. Another year has passed away; during its vicissitudes, goodness and mercy have followed us; a bountiful harvest has crowned the labors of the husbandman, our garners are full, affording all manner of store. Famine, pestilence, and war, which have afflicted other nations, have not come nigh us. We still enjoy political, civil and religious freedom. By salutary laws our rights are protected and our liberties secured. Churches with open doors and able gospel ministers invite us to a participation of all that is virtuous, holy and good in the service of God, and the provisions of the Gospel. Surely we are, or ought to be, a happy and contented people. Under these circumstances we congratulate you on this our forty-second anniversary of the Guelph Branch of the Upper Canada Bible Society, which, you are aware, is affiliated with the British and Foreign Bible Society, the united object of which is to circulate the scriptures without note or comment, through the British dominions, and according to its ability in other countries, whether Christian, Mahommedan or pagan. The Divine blessing has hitherto attended the efforts of this great Christian enterprise, and it will be the pleasing duty of your committee and the speakers present to furnish ample information, respecting its operations and success. Since our last anniversary another of our Vice-Presidents, the Rev. Dr. Hogg, has been called away to the spirit world. He was wise in counsel, catholic in spirit, stable in friendship, greatly esteemed; his earnest appeals, always full of matured thoughts, were indicative of a great mind; devoted to one great object. His motto—the Bible for the world; his creed—the Bible alone as the rule of faith and practice. A great man has fallen. In reverence we bow to the inscrutable decree; we revere his memory and sympathize with his bereaved companions. Whilst we are admonished to work while it is day, we are encouraged by the fact that although the great Architect removes his workmen, as in his wisdom he sees fit. Yet He carries on His work. He who laid the foundations of the earth shall fill it with the knowledge of himself. His saving health is being made known, darkness is receding. If we enquire "Watchman, what of the night?" prophesy responds: "The morning cometh," and to them which sat in the region and shadow of death light is springing up. "The entrance of Thy word giveth light." In reviewing the operations of the parent society, taking into account the millions of copies or parts of copies of the Holy Scriptures, it has circulated among the nations. Nations! may we not indulge the belief that our noble band of colporteurs are in the apostolic succession of which Daniel says—"Many shall come to and fro, and knowledge shall increase," and that the British and Foreign Bible Society, with its auxiliaries and branches are among the mighty agencies designed to accomplish the divine purpose. Then let us, as workers together with God, be more zealous and liberal in helping forward this great work—praying that the time may soon come when the people of every land, and of every language shall be supplied with a copy of the Holy Scriptures.

Mr. Gaunby read the Secretary's annual report, as follows:—

Once more in His loving kindness hes the Lord brought us to the commencement of another year, and it is the pleasant duty of your committee to come before you to present their 42nd Annual Report. A year has again passed away with its burden of mingled joys and sorrows, not all sunshine nor yet all gloom, on the one hand, many hearts have been bowed down in trial and perplexity, by reason of continued commercial depression; while on the other hand, the country has been blessed with a more abundant harvest than has been known for some years past; truly our God, even when things are dark around us, still remembers mercy and crowns us with His goodness, so that our sorrow must ever be of His faithfulness and love. It would be unreasonable to expect that a protracted term of commercial stringency should make no difference pecuniarily to a society like ours, for it must of necessity do so to a greater or less extent, but whatever falling off there may be here, pecuniary prosperity is not the only channel through which the blessing can come. It is not good that we should get into the habit of measuring our success and usefulness by such a standard continually, though, notwithstanding all drawbacks, there is even in this direction cause for thankful praise. The suburban meetings have been held as usual, and this time with more than the average success, the attendance being good and much interest manifested.

While it is the privilege of this as a branch society to share generally in the great work carried on by the parent society of scattering, even to the utmost bounds of the habitable globe, that word, which is the revelation of God to man, there are not wanting instances in which it has been its special work and joy to furnish this book to those who have been brought to the knowledge of the truth and are unable to purchase that which is felt to be a necessity by the newly-awakened soul. It is seldom that we meet at the annual gathering without some changes having taken place; familiar friends gone to other spheres of labor, and their places taken by others soon to become familiar too. Sometimes we have to record that one well-known and honored amongst us has passed away to be seen no more, until we all meet again in that greater gathering, where the sorrow of separation shall have no place. Since last year's meeting death has laid his hands upon one of the society's oldest and most earnest friends. Dr. Hogg was known for many years to nearly all now present, and our society has to mourn the loss of one who was ever ready to do all he could to promote its prosperity and usefulness. May the God of all grace and consolation be the stay and support of those who have been left in the loneliness of bereavement. In speaking of the work of the parent society it seems as though little could be said beyond reiterating what must be almost a periodical allusion to the fulness and interesting character of the report, and it is an impossibility to give in a limited space even a summary of its varied contents, varied in its details, but telling throughout of the progress of the one great object, the dissemination of the scriptures throughout the world. The year's issues of bibles and portions of the Scriptures have amounted to 2,670,742 copies, showing a decrease as compared with the previous year of 11,443 copies. The total issues since the commencement of the work, seventy three years ago, amount to rather over seventy-nine millions. War is doing its work of devastation, spreading ruins and inconceivable suffering in the Orient, and naturally draws our special attention there. In anticipation of the threatened struggle the British and Foreign Bible Society made preparation for a special work, intending to distribute gratis among the Russian troops, which were represented as very poor, ten thousand small testaments and the same number of volumes, containing the four gospels. It was found, however, that the officers would object to free distribution, but would favour the sale of the scriptures. The free gifts were therefore confined to the sick and for the rest of the troops the prices were reduced one-half. Such was the eagerness of the men that in five weeks thirteen thousand and four hundred and thirty five were sold to them. So the work went on, in one instance a commanding officer ordered and paid for seven hundred copies for his men. In this way, as far as the report extends, upwards of twenty thousand copies were all sold. Who shall estimate the result of this work in snatching souls from everlasting destruction, even amidst the carnage of this cruel war? Would that we could draw an equally encouraging picture from the Turkish side, for whatever political direction our sympathies may take, Christians cannot with indifference see multitudes of immortal beings swept of to swift destruction ignorant of the truth, which alone hath power to save The Moslems, not unnaturally, connect everything Christian as more or less closely identified with their enemy, consequently, while encouragements are not entirely wanting, there are no remarkable results to record like those just related. For seventy three years has the British and Foreign Bible Society been energetically striving to disseminate the scriptures through every land where an opening could be found, and great results have followed. Other societies have been doing their part, and for forty-two years the Guelph Branch has been aiding in this noble cause, but the work so far from being finished seems only begun. War with all its horrors, commerce, explorations and discovery, missionary enterprises, all are made by Him, who overrules all to subserve to the opening up of fresh channels whereby the Word may obtain free course, carrying light and salvation into the dark and hidden places of the earth, and as these opportunities are presented we must be prepared to send that Word, that it may be the pioneer of a true civilization, based upon the righteousness which exalteth a nation. Enemies to the truth are busy and they must be withstood. All the powers of evil which cannot bear the light, the selfish greed and ambition which cannot brook the reproaches and denunciations of the book against all avarice and oppression, pride of intellect which cannot stoop to the child-like reception of gospel truth, all are ranged either openly or concealed in opposition to the circulation of the truth, and even science, the hand maid of truth, is forced into a false and immaterial antagonism. Against all this we must wage unhesitating war to uphold our sacred heritage against all the attacks of unbelief, for the arch enemy of souls knows well that though no mere book of itself has power to save, if he can destroy our faith in this as the word of God, it is an easy task to overturn our faith in Christ who saves. Here is the secret of all the attacks on scripture truth. In itself it is a war of outposts, but once these outposts taken the citadel of our faith must be undermined and Satan have an easy prey. Hence then our Bible must be jealously guarded, as the sacred treasure of our hearts, and we must earnestly do all we can that the whole world may have it too. The work is great, far beyond our unaided powers, but we have the assurance of our God Himself that as "the rain cometh down and the snow from heaven and returneth not thither, but watereth the earth, and maketh it bring forth and bud, that it may give seed to the sower and bread to the eater: so shall my word be that goeth forth out of my mouth; it shall not return unto me void, but it shall accomplish that which I please, and it shall prosper in the things whereto I sent it."

Mr. Newton then presented the Treasurer's annual report, as follows:—

The Secretary then read the report of the Depositary, Mr. B. Savage, as follows:—

DEPOSITARY'S REPORT.

The Depositary regrets that so many seem ignorant of the fact that there is a Depositary in town, and that bibles and testaments can be bought so cheaply. The sales of bibles, testaments and gospels are steadily increasing, notwithstanding the depressed state of trade. This is due, in a measure, to the stock being kept well assorted at all seasons of the year.

Attached to this report was a statement of the accounts of the Bible Society's Depositary, which showed that the operations of the Society amounted to $413.84, for 1877. There is still in stock $288 01 worth of bibles, testaments and gospels, and the sales made in 1877 amounted to $114 83.

Rev. J. C. Smith moved the resolution below. After referring to the fact that the Secretary had not read the annual report distinctly enough, and trusting he would gain more volume of voice before next year, went on to the items of the report and discussed them. He referred to the obstacles and difficulties which were met with by collectors, and to the general unthankfulness of that office. They were not received with enthusiasm; but this he hoped would in future be changed. He referred briefly to the characteristics required in a good collector, and the chief was that they must be sincere in the work they undertook. After alluding to the privilege of disseminating the Scriptures he answered the question "Why should the Bible be circulated?" at length. Nothing had done so much to kill sectarianism as the Bible Society. He scathingly denounced the infidelity of the day, but said he was not opposed to true science, which ultimately would give further testimony for belief in the Bible. He closed by making an earnest appeal for the Society, and moved the following resolution:

That the report now read be adopted and printed for circulation, under the direction of the committee, and that the thanks of this meeting be tendered to the committee, and especially to the lady collectors for their unwearied diligence in the work of the Bible Society during the year that is passed, and that the following be the office bearers, committees and collectors for the ensuing year:

President—Jas. Hough.

Treasurer—E. Newton.

Secretary—Robt. Gamsby.

Depositary—B. Savage.

Vice-Presidents.—Geo. Elliott, Chas. Mickle, W. Cowan, D. Allan, C. Raymond, Thos. McCrae, and all resident ministers of the town members of the Society.

Committee.—Wm. Johnston, C. Davidson, Wm. Joyce, Dr. McGuire, H. H. Swinford, D. McIntosh, Wm. Stevenson, M. A. Keables, G. H. Skinner, J. Ryan, J. M. Bond, J. B. Armstrong.

Collectors.—South Ward—Miss McCrae and Miss Hogg. East Ward.—Mrs. Husband, and Mrs. Wilkie. West Ward.—Miss Hodgskin, Mrs. Johnston, Mrs. Robt. Thompson, and Miss Pickard. North Ward—Mrs. Hough, Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. Kirk, and Miss McBean.

Scotch Block—Miss Blyth.

West End—Mrs. Mickle, and Miss E. Mickle.

Paisley Block.—Misses Wright, Hawes, McCorkindale, and Cleghorn.

Section No. 6.—Misses Whitelaw and Henderson.

West Puslinch.—Misses Porter, Kirkland, May and Blatchford.

York Road.—Misses McEwen and Sanderson.

Mr. Thos. McCrae seconded the resolution. He criticized the report, and found fault with the North Ward collectors, and trusted they would do better next year. After referring to the difficulties in circulating the Bible, he closed with announcing that one of the wars—which was a difficulty—would probably soon be closed, as news had arrived shortly before that Shipka Pass was taken.

Rev. Mr. Ross, one of the agents of the Society, then moved that this meeting devoutly recognizes the hand of God in the success of the work of the parent and auxiliary societies during the past year in all quarters of the world. He then briefly referred to the increase of fidelity in the country, and stated that Joseph Cooke said that during the last two years in Puriten New England states no fewer than 22,000 volumes of Tom Paine's Age of Reason had been circulated there. But in the same time the British and Foreign Bible Society had circulated in the world over 40,000 English bibles. Starting from the close of the 1300 year era when there was not a bible in England he sketched the history of that book in that country. In 1324 Wycliffe was born, and he believed he was raised up by God to do the work, the result of which was known to them all. On the 31st of December, 1384, Wycliffe died; but the book he had been instrumental in having circulated for the first time in England didn't die. 100 years after this first martyr's death—he might call him a martyr—Wm. Tyndall was born, and as he grew up developed a great facility in learning Hebrew and Greek. He sketched in eloquent, forcible, and earnest words what Tyndal had done for the circulation of Bible, whose efforts were successful although at one time during his life the enemies of the word of God had thought they had succeeded in destroying, all he had printed, by fire. He then alluded to the establishment of the British and Foreign Bible Society's building at St. Paul's Cross, the spot where the Bibles had formerly been burned. He concluded with an eloquent peroration, in which he alluded to the fact that the version of Bible, now extant, was almost an exact copy of Tyndal's, and that the greatest civilizing power in the world was Bible influence—an influence, which, if kept up by the British and Foreign Bible Society to the extent of $1,000,000 annually would preserve British liberty intact.

Rev. Mr. Harris briefly seconded the resolution, and then the collection was taken up.

Rev. T. Brock moved that this meeting regards the increased facilities for the operations of the society, and the tokens of Divine favor with which they have been accompanied, as not only causes of heartfelt thankfulness, but also as strong reasons for greater energy and perseverance in the circulation of the sacred scriptures throughout the world.

The resolution was seconded by Rev. E. B. Ryckman.

A vote of thanks moved by Mr. Chas. Davidson, seconded by Mr. Newton, was tendered Rev. Mr. Ross, for his address, to which he briefly replied.

And after devotional exercises those present dispersed.

County Temperance Convention.

A Prohibitory League Formed.

In response to the call of the Executive Committee, about sixty delegates met in the Good Templars' Hall on Thursday afternoon. The meeting was opened by prayer by the Rev. E. R. Durkee, after which Mr. Wilkie was appointed chairman, and J. T. Mitchell, secretary.

The Executive Committee presented a very full report of their proceedings since their appointment last March, and also a detailed statement of receipts and expenditure. These were referred to a committee for consideration, who after carefully examining the same, reported them correct, and recommended their adoption, which was carried unanimously.

It was then resolved to proceed with the formation of a permanent organization for the county, and a committee was appointed to draft a constitution for submission to the Convention. The meeting then adjourned for a short time to give the committee time to prepare their report, the members in the meantime being served with tea, provided in the adjoining room by the ladies. After tea business was again resumed, and the committee on constitution submitted a very comprehensive document for the consideration of the meeting, which was discussed clause by clause, and adopted with some slight amendments.

The principal features of the organization are as follows: It shall be known as the Wellington Prohibitory League. The main object of the League shall be the suppression of the traffic in intoxicating liquor in this county, by the more stringent enforcement of the present license laws, and educating the public sentiment of the community in favor of prohibition. All in favor of this object, whether abstainers or not, are eligible for membership on payment of fifty cents entrance fee, and twenty-five cents quarterly thereafter. Ladies to be admitted free. Branches may be organized in every municipality or every school section, if necessary. Each branch to be entitled to send one delegate for every ten members to an annual convention to be held in Guelph on the second Thursday in January in each year. At this Convention a Central Executive Committee shall be elected, consisting of a President, 1st and 2nd Vice-Presidents, a Corresponding Secretary, a Recording Secretary, a Treasurer, and nine members of Committee, fifteen in all. The officers of the branches shall be a President and Vice-President, Secretary, Treasurer, and five members—nine in all. The branches to meet at least once a month, and the officers of branches to be elected semi-annually. One half of all fees paid by members of the various branches to be forwarded to the Executive Committee to form a fund for procuring legal advice in difficult cases—and also for the prosecution of special cases that cannot be successfully undertaken by the branches, or owing to the license inspector refusing to perform his duty in any particular part of the County. Provision is also made for making a special levy of so much per member, provided the funds on hand may not suffice to carry through any important case, or appeal to a higher court. It shall be the bounden duty of every branch to take cognizance of any breach of the license law that may occur within their jurisdiction, and lay the matter before the Inspector, and demand that the offender be prosecuted without any unnecessary delay. These are the main features of the organization; many minor details are provided for, all tending to the restriction and suppression of the traffic by every lawful means within reach.

In accordance with the terms of the above constitution, the Convention proceeded at once to the election of the Central Executive Committee of the League. The following are the officers elected.

President—Wm. Wilkie.

First Vice President—David Kennedy.

Second Vice do—Robert Mitchell.

Corresponding Secretary—J. T. Mitchell.

Recording Secretary—G. H. Skinner.

Treasurer—Ben. Fairley.

Members of Committee—Robert Millar, J. A. MacMillan, Jas. Clyne, Richard Ainley, J. Groom, J. H. Martin, Joseph Ryan, T. W. Cooper, and E. H. Hall.

Auditors—D. Kribs, and Henry Hurd.

It was then decided to call a meeting at an early day, of all favorable to the object stated, for the purpose of forming a branch league for the Town of Guelph. Already a large number of names have been enrolled, and the prospects are that a powerful and efficient organization will soon be at work throughout the whole county; and those engaged in the traffic will find that instead of the late defeat having disheartened the friends of temperance, it has only awakened them to a deeper sense of the evil effects of the business, as now carried on, and to a more determined effort on their part to use every legitimate means at their disposal to banish from this county, an evil that has caused so much suffering and misery to thousands of our fellow beings throughout the Dominion.

Notice to the Public.

We have for a long time been firmly impressed with the conviction that the long credit system is injurious to business and unjust to creditors, and we have come to the determination to put a stop to it. Our experience is that the practice of extending accounts over a year is a great mistake, is unfair to the creditor and burdensome to the debtor. Were settlements made, say four times a year, instead of once, the amounts would be light, and payments would be comparatively easy, whereas, when accounts run for a year the amounts accumulate, and in many cases it is no easy matter to settle a bill.

We have, therefore, come to the resolution to, in future, make out and collect our accounts for advertising and job work quarterly, and we hereby give notice that this rule will, in all cases, be strictly enforced. We believe that its adoption will be of equal benefit to our patrons as to us, and we shall, in no case, make an exception.

We are now sending out our accounts for the past year, and we must insist on the immediate settlement of them in all cases, otherwise we will have to take the usual but unpleasant steps to enforce payment.

CHAPTER XIV.

DADDY DUFF IS INTRODUCED TO THE HEADQUARTERS OF THE SMUGGLERS.

The cavern did not seem to exist by itself. Several other caves branched from it, as he judged, by dark circular or arched cavities, which yawned in black gloom in various places, affording entrances to inner and unseen recesses. One of these no doubt, proved the termination of the passage by which he had been conducted into the cave, but no gleam of daylight shone in to tell him which it was. Amid the numerous clefts of the roof there was evidently one or more which communicated with the outer world, else the smoke would soon have made the place stifling, and his supposition was confirmed by a current of cold air which blew down upon his head.

Daddy's observation and the reflections he was founding on them were interrupted by the entrance of several men from one of the side recesses, conspicuous among whom was a big, thick-set, square-jawed, short-necked, bullet headed man, who had on nothing but a pair of trousers and a dingy shirt. His arms were bare to the shoulders—and brawny arms they were, though of a tawny colour, by reason of the dirt and the hair which covered them.

This man had a most ferocious cast of countenance—its natural brutality of aspect being increased to hideousness by a pair of squinting eyes and masses of black, unkempt hair, which covered his head and went round his face like a hedge.

"That's Black Dick," said Daddy to himself. "Lord preserve me! what a monster of ugliness. He's the very picture o' a pirate or a buccaneer. Murder will be naething tae him."

"Bring the old devil up here," said the ruffian, in deep gutteral tones inflamed by passion, as he threw himself on the top of one of the covered vessels.

The command and the tones in which it was uttered were anything but assuring to Daddy, who did not doubt that he was the "old devil" referred to, and accordingly he was not surprised when two of the smugglers approached, and, taking him by the arms, dragged him up to the other end of the cavern where most of the torches blazed, and where sat Black Dick, surrounded by the whole gang who had gathered to the spot.

Doctor, it Feels Like a Ball of Fire!!

So speak oftentimes the sufferer from Dyspepsia. After eating, it seems as if there was a veritable ball of fire running up and down through his stomach. If he eats much he feels it; if he don't eat much he feels it. It destroys his enjoyment of life. If the doctor be really desirous of curing his patient he should not experiment with the sufferer, he should recommend him to use PERUVIAN SYRUP, whose merits have been tested so long, and always satisfactorily. Balls of fire in the stomach and PERUVIAN SYRUP can't dwell together. Send to your druggist; he keeps it always ready, and try it. It will work like a charm.

Do your Spectacles Suit your Eyesight?

If not, you should at once get them exchanged for a pair that will, for nothing is more injurious to to the sight than using glasses which are misfitted. If they are too strong or too weak there is a continual strain upon the nerves and cords of the eye, creating an inflammation which will, if you continue using the misfitted pair, ruin the eyesight altogether. Many merchants who sell spectacles know little or nothing about the principles of fitting the eyes, and you are therefore liable to buy a wrong pair just because they seem to suit when you first try them on, which, after wearing for an hour or so, will "draw" until it is painful to wear them. From my study of the eye, and long experience in selling spex, I can safely affirm that more eyesights are destroyed by wearing improperly fitted glasses than from any other cause. I have an instrument invented by Kent Brothers, Toronto, which proves to a certainty what number of lense you should use, with which I will be pleased to test anyone who desires it, without any charge.

Our County Poor House.

Its Interior Economy—Number of Inmates—The Bread and Butter Question—Some Needed Wants.

As the readers of the MERCURY are aware, the Poor House erected by the County of Wellington is now open for the reception of indigent persons, and the observations made at a recent visit may therefore be of interest. The building has been previously described in these columns, and is as substantial as its situation is pleasant and picturesque. A more suitable spot for such an erection could not have been found in the County, and the imposing appearance of the structure is all that could be desired. The interior economy is of equal importance, however, and to this, the visitor to the institution naturally directs his attention. The matron has much to do with this, and Mrs. Parker appears to be, in many respects, well fitted for the position which she has been called upon to occupy. She is energetic, industrious, painstaking, and managing, and notwithstanding inadequate help at the present time, keeps the house neatly and orderly. From top to bottom of the edifice perfect cleanliness is observable, and the most fastidious can find no fault upon that score. The dormitories look well-kept, and the bedding is not only ample in quantity, but changed sufficiently often to maintain its healthy character—no light task when the fact is borne in mind that some of the inmates are old, feeble, and helpless. The matron states that she finds difficulty in securing servants, although the wages are $6 per month. The labor is greater than in a private dwelling, and girls appear to be averse to service in a Poor House. But in spite of the want of sufficient help, she has at the cost of great personal labor, placed the Institution in thoroughly presentable shape. The duties of Mr. Parker have been principally in obtaining supplies, but with the advent of spring and the increase in the number of inmates, he will find abundant occupation in supervision and out-door work. It may be set down as a certainty that no large amount of heavy labor can be obtained from the weak old people sent to this House of Refuge; but some of them can be utilized in doing odd jobs on the grounds in summer, and in this they will need direction, which Mr. Parker will be required to give. At present there are 27 inmates, 29 having entered since the opening of the Institution, one of whom left and another of whom died. Of the 29 Fergus contributed 7; Guelph, 6; Eramosa, 6; Garafraxa, (East and West) 4; Eriu, 1; Orangeville, 1; Elora, 1; Maryboro, 1; Luther, 1; and Arthur, 1. As yet many of the municipalities are unrepresented; but when it becomes generally known that the inmates are supported at the expense of the whole county, the only charge upon the municipality sending, being the cost of the transmission of the pauper, there will doubtless be a large increase of the number intrusted to Mr. Parker for safekeeping. Each municipality has some unfortunates for whom it makes money grants, and will prefer providing for them under the co-operative system on trial at Kinnettles, when its advantages are fully seen. As it is reasonable to expect, matters are not in full working trim at the House of Refuge, and increased experience will almost certainly suggest improvements upon the present regulations. No dietary table has yet been agreed upon, and it seems advisable that this point should be at once attended to. The inmates rise at 6 a.m., and breakfast at 6:40. This meal is of oatmeal porridge and milk, with tea or coffee, but without bread, at which many of the inmates demur. When it is remembered that the bulk of these are aged and infirm, there may appear to be reason for their complaint. Dinner, at noon, consists of soup and vegetables on one day, with boiled beef on the next, and cold meat or warm hash on the day following. Sometimes, but not regularly, beef is given with soup, and a suet dumpling is added occasionally. The evening meal is of bread and molasses, with tea or coffee. On Sunday, cold meat is served for dinner, with boiled rice, and bread and butter, for tea. This is the only meal in the week at which butter is allowed. Surely some change ought at once to be effected in this particular. With old people butter is equivalent to meat, and in Canada is a necessary of life. When it is difficult of sale, at wholesale, at a cent an ounce, it would not improvish Wellington to supply it to its paupers more frequently than once a week, and it is to be hoped that attention has but to be called to the fact to remedy what seems to be a great blunder. In the London Lunatic Asylum bread and butter are supplied every day for supper and breakfast. In the Toronto Asylum the same fare is used. In the Penitentiary, oatmeal gruel is supplemented with 8 ounces of bread. In the Central Prison, the breakfast of stew, consisting of 6 ounces of meat, 6 ounces of potatoes, 9 ounces bread, and 1 pint of tea. With these examples of the treatment of the insane and the criminal before them, our County Fathers ought to be induced to be a little more liberal in the feeding of the poor. The use of crockery, instead of tin, at the common table would add nothing to expenses, while it would add somewhat to the comfort of the inmates. It may seem ungracious to criticise what is to a certain extent an experiment, but friendly hints are not out of place, and may help to bring about that efficient management of our County Poor House, which is evidently aimed at by all connected with it. It is solely with this object in view that we call attention to the defective ventilation observable immediately upon entrance to the building in the morning. If such a state of things exist with only twenty-seven inmates, what will it be when sixty or more are placed in it? The heating apparatus appears to work well, but the difficulty is attributable, in some measure, to overcrowded dormitories. Of these there are two rooms, each 37 feet by 17 feet, and in each of which 15 beds are placed. Nine other bed rooms, 14x10 and 14x9, contain 3 beds each. They are not yet all filled, but such as are occupied create a vitiated atmosphere, highly detrimental to health, and which cannot fail to be productive of serious consequences when the building comes to be crowded with sixty or seventy paupers. The subject is worthy the attention of the controlling authorities. And not less deserving their consideration is the fact that the appliances for the extinguishment of fire have not yet been provided. The building is well constructed, and the risk may be comparatively small, but it exists, nevertheless, and ought to be as effectually guarded against as is reasonably possible. A force pump and hose would not be expensive, and are the least which the guardians of this public property should be satisfied with. Were we anxious to merely find fault it would not be difficult to point out other remediable defects, but we would rather praise than blame, and the institution is so newly opened that it is scarcely fair to dwell upon points that will speedily be smoothed down. A visitor's book, a set of books for the manager, a bell for visitors, and the appointment of a visiting day or two in each week, may appear to be small matters in the eyes of some, but they are immediate wants, and should be attended to without delay. Labor would be considerably lessened by the introduction of a lift or dumb waiter, and the painting of the floors. And more important of these is the necessity existing for the purchase of an earth closet in place of the water closet for the aged and infirm which at the time of the erection of the building has been overlooked or found to to be impracticable. The only privies upon the place are adjoining the barn yard, those for males and females being under one roof and back to back, and certainly difficult of access for some of the decrepid men and women who will undoubtedly find a home, from time to time, in the poor house. A small expenditure, and the free use of dry earth, will add much to the comfort of the most infirm in periods of sickness and it is to be hoped that this obvious necessity will not be forgotten. A contract for supplies is another requirement, and it is probable that it will be made at an early day. Of course, experience will suggest other needs, but the liberal spirit which has prompted the establishment of this house of refuge will doubtless prevail in the County Council for 1878, and nothing will be left undone to make the Wellington Poor House a model worthy of imitation by all who care for the unfortunates whom poverty and affliction has thrown upon the charities of the world.

Unsolicited Testimony.

FAIRFIELD, Me., April 28, 1864.

Gentlemen,—Seeing numerous certificates in the Maine Farmer, endorsing the merits of the Great Lung Remedy, WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, I am induced and I take great pleasure in giving publicity to the great cure it accomplished in my family in the year 1856. During the Summer of that year my son, Henry A. Archer, now postmaster in this place, was attacked with spitting of blood, cough, weakness of lungs, and general debility, so much so that our family physician declared him to have a "seated consumption." He was under medical treatment for a number of months, but received no benefit from it. At length, from the solicitations of himself and others, I was induced to purchase one bottle of WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, which benefited him so much that he obtained another, which in a short time restored him to his usual state of health. I can safely recommend this remedy to others in like condition, for it is, I think, all it purports to be—the great lung remedy for the times!

The above statement, gentlemen, is my voluntary offering to you in favor of your BALSAM, and is at your disposal.

As ever, yours,
ANDREW ARCHER.

50 cents and $1 a bottle. Sold by dealers generally.

Authorized Capital—$5,000,000.

THE Company's special system of Loans affords to borrowers, and especially to Farmers, the following most important advantages:—

1. The borrower is NOT OBLIGED to repay any part of the principal until the whole term of the Mortgage has run.

2. He has the RIGHT (after the first year) to repay at any time, the whole or any part of the Loan, without prior notice to the Company.

3. No extra charge, bonus or otherwise, is exacted on such repayment.

4. He is requested when making application for the Loan, to state the day on which he wishes interest to be made payable. He thus can stipulate for a date, say after harvest, or at such time as is likely to be most convenient for him.

5. Interest can be made payable once a year—not in advance.

6 On repayment of any part of the principal, interest on such amount immediately ceases.

Local News Items.

REV. THOS. BROCK, of Guelph, is expected to preach in the Methodist church, Elora, to-morrow evening.

HALSTEAD, of the New York tobacco store, is selling his goods at remarkably low figures. Finest brands of imported cigars in stock.

CHIEF KELLY warns householders of the danger incurred in not properly observing the By-law ordering snow to be cleaned off sidewalks.

GENERAL HOSPITAL.—During the ensuing week Rev. H. Harris will be the visiting clergyman and Dr. Brock the attending physician.

THE charity concert in aid of the St. Joseph's Hospital, to be held on the 17th inst., is to be in every respect one of excellence, judging from the talent that has been engaged to assist.

ON Sunday next, the Very Reverend, the Dean of Christ's Church Cathedral, Hamilton, is to take the services at St. George's Church, Canon Dixon proceeding to Hamilton to take part in an ordination at the cathedral.

MASON, the young man who has twice been an inmate of the gaol, on a charge of lunacy, was liberated this morning. The unfortunate young man has always been in every way respectable, but his mind on both occasions has lost its balance on matters pertaining to religion.

TEMPERANCE SOCIAL.—On Monday evening as announced a temperance social will be held in the town hall, at which Professor Philp and the Harris Brothers will take a prominent part. Other local talent will be present as will be seen by reference to the programme. The admission is fifteen cents, and the programme is an excellent one for the evening.

UNION SERVICES.—The last of the series of services held at the suggestion of the Evangelical Alliance took place in the Congregational Church on Friday evening, Rev. Mr. Manchee presided, and short addresses were delivered by several reverend gentlemen. Prayer and praise formed a major portion of the services.

CHECKERS.—On Thursday and Friday evenings a fever of checker excitement prevailed around the American Hotel, in consequence of an "amateur championship" match between Martin Gill and Robt. Wood. Six games were played each evening, and out of the whole Gill won eight, and Wood four. There were no draws. M. McKenzie acted as referee.

CHALMERS' CHURCH ASSOCIATION.—On Friday evening there was a very good attendance at the meeting of the Young People's Association, called for the purpose of re-organising. The following officers were elected for the current term:—Honorary President, Rev. Thos. Wardrope; President, Mr. Wm. Johnston; Vice-President, Mr. Alex. Hill. The election of the remaining officers and other matters will be discussed at the next meeting on the 29th inst.

BUSINESS CHANGES.—A change has been made in the proprietorship of the Mount Forest Confederate, by Mr. John Stovel retiring. The firm hereafter will be known as Stovel & Son. Mr. John Robertson, proprietor of the Harriston Tribune, has taken into partnership Mr. E. H. Dewar, a practical printer, who has been foreman of the office during the past two years. Mr. Dewar formerly worked in the MERCURY office. Both of the above newspapers are live local sheets, and we wish them continued prosperity.

DEALERS on the Guelph market are a good lot of fellows as a rule, and enjoy a joke as well as any other class of the community. Last evening a sheepskin dealer forgot to take away all the skins he had purchased, and this morning it must have slipped his memory that he owned seven skins lying near the weigh scales. A dealer, knowing who they belonged to, as soon as the rightful owner put in an appearance, offered to sell them to him. A bargain was struck and the owner purchased his own property. The matter was eventually explained and righted. The victim said he did not care so long as a newspaper reporter did not hear of it. But then he forget that reporters are said to be ubiquitous.

WELLINGTON ENCAMPMENT.—On Friday evening the officers of the Wellington Encampment No. 31, I. O. O. F. for the current term were installed by D.D.G.P. Wm Sunley.

Patriarch Wm. Parker. C. P.
" J. B. Clyne, H. P.

" A. Porter, 3rd W.
" J. Brimfield, 4th W.
" J. Parker, 1st G. of T.
" G. Everson, 2nd G. of T.

The Encampment now numbers forty-two members, and has been instituted only about two years. Patriarch Sunley, addressed the Patriarchs after the installation, with a few happy and well-timed remarks. The camp is in a very prosperous state.

THE regular Sunday Gospel Temperance meeting of the G. C. T. C. will be held in the Y. M. C. A. rooms every Sunday at four p.m. Short addresses will be delivered, interspersed with good music. All are cordially invited. C. Raymond, President; J. T. Mitchell, Secretary.

ANNUAL MEETING of the Guelph Caledonians on Monday evening.

THE Dunkin By-law has been carried in Peterboro' by a majority of 934.

ON account of illness of Rev. A. Sutherland, his lecture in St. Andrew's Church on "Men for the Times," has been postponed indefinitely.

MENDING.—The young man Patterson, stabbed on Saturday last by Rory McCrea, at Marden, is improving somewhat, and there is a prospect of his ultimate recovery.

COMPLIMENTAY SUPPER.—The members of Calanthe Lodge Knights of Pythias, in Acton, entertained Mr. J. H. Hacking, retiring editor of the Acton Free Press, with an oyster supper, Thursday evening, on the occasion of his removal from Acton to Guelph. About thirty of the brethren were present. Mr. W. H. Storey, the newly-elected Reeve, acting as chairman. Highly complimentary remarks concerning the guest of the evening were made by the chairman, and several others, and duly responded to. A very pleasant evening was spent.

IMPORTANNT TO ASSESSORS.—Several assessment rolls in Simcoe County were overhauled recently before Judge Ardagh who made an important declaration to which we direct the special attention of Assessors and Municipal Councils. He said "that such descriptions as 'part of the west half of lot 14 in the 2nd Con., and such like, were perfectly useless." The frontage of a broken piece of land, together with its distance from one corner of the lot must be given, otherwise the party will be disfranchised, as the assessment would not be according to law.

METHODIST ANNIVERSARIES.—To-morrow at morning and evening services in the Norfolk and Dublin street Meethodist Churches, the Rev. Wm. Briggs, of the Metropolitan Church, Toronto; and the Rev. J. B. Clarkson, M. A., of Brantford, will occupy the pulpits. The annual meeting will be held on Monday evening in the Dublin street church, and on Tuesday evening in the Norfolk street church, at which the two Rev. gentlemen above mentioned and other local speakers will be present. The advertisement in another column gives the hour for each service and all particulars.

DISMISSAL.—The deputy inspector of weights and measures in London Mr. J. J. Spettigue, has been suspended by Mr. Inspector Romain, of Guelph, pending a further examination of his accounts. It is not established that there is any deficit in his cash, but the charge is rather one of keeping the books unsystematically. Mr. Spettigue admits this much, and explains that the muddling occurred through the enormous rush of work which he has had to do in dealing with all the weighing scales in his district in the short time allowed. He will probably be reinstated.

AT LAST.—The hired help who lights fires in the morning with the aid of the coal oil can, has at last been check-mated. An unfeeling "head of the house" living on Paisley street, had, during the past month, noticed with alarm the number of times the oil can had to be replenished—almost every other day, and a happy thought striking him he put it in execution on Thursday evening, and found it to work like a charm. Before going to bed he emptied the oil out of the can and filled it with water. The hired girl next morning carefully put wood in the stove and poured about a pint of the supposed oil on the wood. A match was lighted and applied to the wood, but no go. A smile of determination spread over her face, and about a quart more was emptied out of the can into the stove. Other matches were lighted, but the wood would not burn. Pretty little words now were being ejaculated, but they did not help the fire any, and that girl did not know but some sort of witchcraft had been practised, to delay the hour of breakfast, until the smiling countenance of the master of the premises was seen at the kitchen door ready for explanations. Hired help should hereafter sample the contents of the oil can before risking it in the stove.

DOMINION PACKING HOUSE.—Mr. J. T. Brill has now in stock in the several warehouses connected with his pork and beef packing establishment, about $45,000 worth of pork, &c., which will be shipped to the English market. A ramble was made through the buildings this morning by a reporter. In No. 1 warehouse a retail shop has been partitioned off where from $100 to $150 dollars a week is taken in for pork cuttings, smoked and fresh hams and bacon, and lard. To the left of this shop is the office and counting room. Farther back in the same building are stored 500 prime dressed hogs, and 800 kegs of lard. This is the place where all the hogs are first received. In the cellar underneath are stored 4,800 hams, 800 sides and 400 shoulders in salt. Between this warehouse and No. 2 is a tramway for moving the carcases. In No. 2 warehouse on this occasion 1,200 hams were hanging in the drying-room. In a room off the drying-room was stored 150 hogs and 100 kegs of lard. In the cellar there were 2,800 sides, 400 hams, and 200 shoulders in pickle. In No. 3 warehouse are 300 barrels of pork, and 200 cases ready for meat to be packed therein. No. 4 warehouse contains about twenty car-loads of wheat, peas and barley—excellent samples, which will also be shipped to the old country. The extreme cleanliness of everything connected with the establishment is marked, and the systematic manner in which all work is done, enables all handling to be an easy task and accomplished with great rapidity.

A CURIOUS FACT.—That in severe chronic cases which have proved the most obstinate to other medicines, Wilson's Wild Cherry gives immediate relief and effects a speedy cure. It has no equal for Coughs, Colds, Coryza, Bronchitis, Loss of Voice, Catarrh, Whooping Cough, or Croup. Sold by W. G. Smith; Herod & Co., and druggists generally.

MR. BUTLER, of the Stratford Times, was in town to-day.

THE MARKET was well supplied this morning, and everything was eagerly bought up. The mildness of the weather has made the delivery of dressed hogs lighter than usual. Wood was delivered in large quantities, and sold from $3 to $4 per cord, some very fine beech and maple was sold for $3.75.

INSTALLATION.—The officers elect of Calanthe Lodge Knights of Pythias, in Acton, were installed last Thursday evening, by Bro. John Davidson, D. G. C. C. of Guelph, assisted by Bro. J. H. Hacking, who acted as G. M. at A., as follows:—

Bro. Wm. Smyth, P. C. C.
" John P. Secord, C. C.
" C. S. Smith, V. C.
" Thos. Ebbage, Prelate.
" F. H. Storey, M. of F.
" W. H. Storey, M. of E.
" Geo. Hynds, K. of R. and S.
" — Adams, M. at A.

WEATHER probabilities for the next twenty-four hours, received by Dominion telegraph: Winds shifting to the southeast or south, cloudy to fair weather, mild, and possibly rain before morning.

THE AGRICULTURAL AND ARTS ASSOCIATION.—At the annual meeting of this Association, held in Toronto, a resolution was adopted requesting the Dominion Board of Agriculture to endeavor to procure from the Imperial Government permission to import into the United Kingdom cattle shipped from Canadian ports on the same terms as cattle sent from other British ports. A resolution was adopted to urge on the Dominion Council of Agriculture the importance of exhibiting Canadian cattle at Paris, it being considered that the success attained at Philadelphia will be indicative of a like result at the French capital. The next meeting of the Association will be held in Toronto on March 21st.

In 1868 the United States exported 2,071,000 pounds of butter, valued at $582,000. The exports in 1877 were 21,500,000 pounds worth $1,420,000.

Miss Francis Harrison, daughter of Mr. M. Harrison, of Toronto, whose awfully sudden death was reported on Thursday evening, looked so life-like that a consultation was held two days after to see if life was really extinct. Several ladies declared they had seen her breathe. The medical men, however, decided that she was dead.

In reply to the question, "Is the telephone a failure?" Mr. H. P. Dwight, of the Montreal Telegraph Company, Toronto, says that a number of improvements are being patented, which are calculated to overcome defects in the present telephone, and that the improved instruments will give results far more satisfactory than any which have heretofore been reached.

The Wingham Times says that at the present there is direct flour trade between Wingham and Scotland. The establishment of this trade is due to the spirit and energy of Mr. Wm. Hutton, lessee of the Wingham Mills. The first shipment Mr. Hutton made to Glasgow was 800 barrels, on which he realized a cheering profit.

Charles Napier, an Englishman of good standing in science, has been testing the theory that alcoholic drink is compatible with animal food, but not with farinaceous. He announces as the practical result of many experiments, that a vegetable diet is a remarkable cure for drunkenness. He mentions the case of an old man whose constitution had been shattered by repeated attacks of delirium tremens, and who was cured of his appetite for liquor in seven months by eschewing meat.

The Toronto papers on Tuesday published the report of Judge Patterson in re the charges made against the Education Department by the Mail, which completely exonerates the accused. The report occupies three columns, and is very comprehensive.

A letter from Manitoulin Island says:—This is a good country for poor people; they can raise anything they plant, and get all the fish they want to eat. The bears have been rather troublesome this fall. They have taken some pigs away, and have tried to take some more; there has been several bears killed.

SUICIDE OF A YOUNG LADY.—A melancholy case of suicide is reported from the village of Crediton, on the London, Huron and Bruce Railway, a young lady named Mary Jane Lewis, aged 22 years, having taken her own life by cutting her throat from ear to ear with a razor. It seems she was staying with her brother, Mr. William Lewis, and on retiring for the night borrowed his razor for the alleged object of removing a splint from her finger. After the family had gone to bed she appears to have escaped from the house by the bedroom window, and committed the act in the yard, where, next morning she was found lying dead, with her face upturned, and a bloody gash in her throat. The cause of her self-destruction is a mystery.

A young man named John Monteith, son of George Monteith, of Usborn, dropped dead of heart disease while coming home from a prayer meeting on Thursday night.

The Italian Court has been ordered to go into mourning for six months for the late King. It is believed that King Humbert will consent to the interment of his father's remains at Rome, and it is understood that Mancini will introduce a Bill into the Italian Parliament setting apart the Pantheon as the last resting place of members of the House of Savoy.

Frank Meeker, convicted at the present Assizes, of the shooting of Joseph Dain in Yorkville, in March, 1874, was sentenced to fourteen years' imprisonment in the Penitentiary.

The War News.

JANUARY 11.

An armistice is not yet arranged. The Porte has received the Russian answer, intimating that negotiations must be conducted on a basis of eventual peace conditions. The Porte has not yet replied.

The Russian journals, commenting on the capture of the Turkish army in the Shipka Pass, point out that this is new evidence that the Turkish power of resistance is utterly broken, and remark that the Cabinets at both Constantinople and London must understand the necessity of recognizing in the approaching negotiations the decisive military situation created by the Russian army.

It is rumoured in Berlin that the Russians demand the evacuation of the Danube fortresses, and the withdrawal of the Turks to a line of demarcation between Adrianople and Philipopolis.

A Bucharest despatch says it is rumoured that the Grand Duke Nicholas demanded the surrender of Adrianople as the first condition.

No great confidence in the conclusion of an armistice is felt at Bucharest, unless the matter is conducted entirely by Russia diplomatists to the virtual exclusion of the military element.

A Belgrade despatch says Nisch surrendered this morning in consequence of the capture by storm yesterday, and on Wednesday Gariza Venik and other heights commanding the fortress of the town. The fighting lasted five days. The Servian loss is considerable.

Several despatches announce that the garrison of Nisch, which surrendered to the Servians, numbered 8,000, with 90 cannon, 12,000 rifles, and a number of flags.

The Times says of the victory at the Shipka Pass, that the Russians are now substantially masters of the last natural line of Turkish defence. Everything indicates the utter demoralization of the Turks. The Porte must now make peace if it desires to preserve any substantial portion of its territory. England will protect British interests if threatened, but will not defend the Turk from the consequence of his misdeeds.

A correspondent at Vienna states that at the Shipka Pass the Russians captured 28,000 men, 1,000 horses, 12 mortars, 12 siege guns, and 80 field guns. The Cossacks have cut the Yanboli railway.

An official despatch says the Turks left 300 dead in the fortifications of the Trojan Pass; besides these a Turkish battalion was almost annihilated in an encounter with the Russian turning column.

HAMILTON Times:—It is rumoured that Sir John Macdonald has resigned his seat in the Commons, so as to save the House the trouble of expelling him for his violations of the Independence of Parliament Act. We are almost inclined to doubt this, because, being the right thing for him to do, he is very unlikely to do it. If it be true that he has resigned, we trust he will not follow the example of his faithful subject of Restigouche, Mr. Moffat, and decline being again a candidate. And, if he has resigned and becomes again a candidate, we hope to see him again re-elected by acclamation, as there are some old accounts to be yet settled with him in Parliament.

THE tenth annual report of Mr. Langmuir, Inspector of Asylums, Prisons, &c., has just been distributed. From it is gleaned the information that, since Confederation, $2,000,000 have been expended upon such of these institutions as are owned and controlled by the Government.

The steamer Atacoma went to pieces on the rock known as Fuiebea Ola, a short distance south of Caldera, on the Chilian coast, on the night of the 30th ult. The captain, all the officers and many of the crew and passengers are lost. In all, it is estimated that 101 are drowned and 29 saved.

The Minerve complains that there are too many doctors in the Province of Quebec. He says in England, France and Belgium there is but one doctor for every 8,000 inhabitants. In districts of Montreal, St. Hyacinthe, Sherbrooke, Three Rivers and Ottawa, there is one medical man to every thousand inhabitants, and in some parishes where there are but three thousand inhabitants, people are blessed with four or five doctors. These are startling figures.

During the past few days no less than three trains ran off the track on the Riviere du Loup section of the Grand Trunk Railway.

The first through coal train from the United States for Montreal by way of the Hamilton and North Western Railway passed through Hamilton Monday.

A heavy gale was experienced yesterday on the coast of Maine, causing much damage to shipping.

The death is announced of Mr. Samuel Hazlewood, engineer of the eastern district of the Canada Pacific Railway.

The marriage of the King of Spain will be postponed a few days in consequence of the death of Victor Emmanuel.

Another freshet has occurred in Virginia, sweeping away the bridges which had just been repaired after being injured by the December freshet.

Williams, the Chicago fugitive from justice, who is held in Toronto on a charge of forgery on the Union Stock Yards Bank, was discharged yesterday morning by Chief Justice Harrison, sitting in Chambers. He was immediately re-arrested, and will now be tried under the old law, the new law under which the proceedings were taken, not being yet in force.

New York, March, 1876.

GILES & Co.—GENTS: I have for more than one year prescribed your Liniment, with the very best results. I have found it as an application in inflammation of the Lungs (Pneumonia), or in Pleurisy, one of the very best. It penetrates the tissues or parts rapidly. In cases of irregularity of the heart's action depending on nervous irritation, it acts promptly. After being made acquainted with the combination of your Liniment, and seeing its action in so large a number of cases, I do not hesitate to recommend the same to both the public and the profession. Yours truly,

Inspector's Report the General Hospital and St. Joseph's

The annual report of Mr. Langmuir, Inspector of Asylums, Prisons, and Public Charities, for the official year ending 30th September, 1877, has been issued by order of the Local Legislature. It embraces full and authentic information in regard to the working of those institutions throughout the Province, together with a review of their history and progress since Confederation, and other matters of great importance in regard to the working of the same. Guelph General and St. Joseph's Hospital reports are subjoined:—

GENERAL HOSPITAL,

The operations of this Hospital, so far as they relate to the movements of patients, are shown in the following summary:—Remaining in hospital 1st October, 1876, 9; admitted during the year, 96; births in hospital during the year, 12; total, 117. Discharged, 88; dead, 9; remaining 3rd September, 1877, 20; total, 117.

These 117 were admitted to the hospital from the following places:—Town of Guelph 61; County of Wellington, 51; other counties of the Province, 2; United States and other countries, 3; total, 117.

The sex, religious denomination, and nationalities of these 117 patients were as follows:—Males, 73; females 43; Protestants of all denominations, 93; Roman Catholics, 16; unknown, 7; Canadians, 49, English, 26, Irish 20, Scotch, 14, and other countries, 7.

The revenues of the hospital for the year ending the 30th of September, 1877, were as follows:—

Received from the Province of Ontario.	$1,000 80
From Municipalities as a grant	2,200 00
From Municipalities in payment of maintenance	20 00
From paying patients themselves	260 25
Subscriptions, donations, etc.....	445 50
From other sources.....	62 50
Total.....	$3,989 05

The expenditures of the hospital for the same period were as follows:—

Beer, wine, and spirits	$65 43
Medicine and medical comforts.....	339 23
Butchers' meat, flour, groceries, etc ..	1,409 82
Milk	193 04
Salaries and wages.....	725 00
Fuel, light, insurance, taxes, etc.....	769 55
Bedding, furnishing, etc	142 53
Repairs	260 04
Other expenditures	513 96
Total.....	$4,417 59

The 117 patients remained in the hospital for a collective period equal to 5,042 days, or an average of 43 days per patient, which under the provisions of the Charity Aid Act entitles the hospital to the following amount, viz:—

Allowance for 5,042 days' treatment at 20 cts per day.....	$1,008 40
Supplementary aid, 10 cts. per day	504 20
Total	$1,512 60
Less 395 days' stay of chronic cases at 23 cts. per day.....	83 95
Total Government aid for 1878	$1,428 65

A visit of inspection was made to this hospital on the 28th August, on which occasion there were in its various wards 16 patients—12 men, 3 women, and one child. I conversed with all the patients and examined the register in order to obtain information as to the date of their admission, etc. With but two exceptions the inmates appeared to be proper subjects for a curative institution. No complaints were received from the patients. None of them were on the paying list. The presence in the associated ward of a woman of ill-fame, suffering from disease, was not fair to the respectable inmates under treatment in the same room. I pointed out to the authorities the desirability of providing a lock-up ward for such patients, particularly as a considerable number of the class referred to appeared to be sent to the hospital. The attention of the Board of Managers was also called to the necessity of having a card placed over each bed, giving the name of the patient, the disease, date of admission, together with any other information though desirable.

The defects complained of in my previous minutes, respecting the heating and ventilation were said to have been removed by alterations to the furnace, and the insertion of a ventilating pipe in the flue, as suggested by me. The supply of water was reported to be sufficient. I visited the wards and all the other portions of the building, and found them throughout in a well kept condition. The beds were clean and neat. The basement was in particularly good order, and the air pure therein. Cleanliness in this portion of an hospital is especially necessary.

The register and other books were examined. I requested that when the official year closed and the annual return was sent to the Government, the register should be balanced off to correspond with such return. I also directed that a book should be opened, in which the medical man in charge of the hospital should enter the day and date of each visit to the hospital, so as to conform with the rule which obtains in similar institutions.

ST. JOSEPH'S HOSPITAL.

Thirteen patients remained in this Hospital at the close of last year; and during the past twelve months 58 were admitted, making a total of 71 patients who were under treatment during the year ending 30th September, 1877. Of this number 64 were discharged, 3 died, and 4 remained in the Hospital at the close of the year. These 71 patients were returned as having been received into the Hospital from the following places, viz.: Town of Guelph, 39; County of Wellington, 27; other counties, 4; other places, 1. Total 71. Of the number, 48 were males, and 23 females; 64 were Roman Catholics, and 7 were Protestants; 26 were returned as being Canadians, 33 Irish, 8 English, 1 Scotch, and three were natives of other countries.

The receipts of the Hospital for the year were as follows:

From the Province of Ontario.....	$1,094 67
From Municipalities, as a grant.....	400 00
From paying patients	218 25
Income from property.....	446 00
Subscriptions, donations, etc	167 50
Other sources	465 00
	$3,391 22

The expenditure of the Hospital for the same period, are returned as follows:

For the ordinary maintenance of the Hospital.....	$3 152 53
For building an addition to the Hospital	3,671 00
	$6,823 53

The amount that the Hospital is entitled to receive under the provisions of the Charity Aid Act, for the year 1878, is as follows:

Allowance for 1,910 days' treatment, at 20 cents per day.....	$ 382 00
Supplementary aid, 10 cents per day ..	191 00
Total Government Aid for 1878.....	$573 00

On the 28th August I visited this Institution. Since my previous inspection, an addition, measuring 30 by 56 feet, and costing between $4 000 and $5 000, had been made to the Hospital structure. The addition has been carried out in the style of the original building, and renders the complete structure handsome and commodious.

I found only three patients in the Hospital proper, and whose names were entered upon the Register as such; they were all fit subjects for treatment.

Of the nine men and women suffering from chronic diseases and the infirmities of old age, whose names appeared on the Hospital Register at my previous visit, 4 had been discharged, and 5 removed to the House of Providence. Since the attention of the Managers was called to the fact that only proper cases for hospital treatment should be entered upon the Register, I was informed that the Medical Superintendent certifies as to the fitness of each case before admission is granted.

The condition of the Hospital was very satisfactory, everything about the establishment being neat, clean, and orderly.

The books of record were checked, and found to be correctly kept.

Notice to the Public.

We have for a long time been firmly impressed with the conviction that the long credit system is injurious to business and unjust to creditors, and we have come to the determination to put a stop to it. Our experience is that the practice of extending accounts over a year is a great mistake, is unfair to the creditor and burdensome to the debtor. Were settlements made, say four times a year, instead of once, the amounts would be light, and payments would be comparatively easy, whereas, when accounts run for a year the amounts accumulate, and in many cases it is no easy matter to settle a bill.

We have, therefore, come to the resolution to, in future, make out and collect our accounts for advertising and job work quarterly, and we hereby give notice that this rule will, in all cases, be strictly enforced. We believe that its adoption will be of equal benefit to our patrons as to us, and we shall, in no case, make an exception.

We are now sending out our accounts for the past year, and we must insist on the immediate settlement of them in all cases, otherwise we will have to take the usual but unpleasant steps to enforce payment.

SATURDAY EVEN'G, JAN. 12, 1878

The French Republic.

In looking over the history of France for the past fifty years, one is struck with the wonderful tenacity and spirit of her people. While Frenchmen had a power like Napoleon Bonaparte in their midst, uniting in himself all the elements of a ruler, a soldier, and a hero, they were comparatively free from the internal disturbances which they have experienced during late years. It may have been, that the nation was so engrossed in the brilliant career of its despotic leader, that it had little time to devote to the cultivation of political quarrels and divisions. Whatever may be the cause now, one thing is certain, that France occupies a very unsatisfactory and unfortunate position, and her present Marshall seems to be totally wanting in those great qualities which distinguish a politic ruler. There are many things in France to create a crisis with very little reason for it. The ancient forces of feudalism and the more decisive powers of the church are to-day stronger than they have been for a century. The existence of a number of unscrupulous and needy politicians, and the fatal prevalance of social hierarchies, in a country where the elements of Communism are not wanting, are fruitful causes of disorder. And there is under the thin guise of a Republic, the spectre of a Monarchy, whose influence is felt in the Government of Mc Mahon to the utter subversion of all constitutional principles, and this, seeking support from a newly fledged aristocracy, whose only claim to respect is its wealth, has produced men who are prepared to sacrifice everything to satisfy the inordinate cravings of a selfish ambition. The one thing to be avoided in the government of a Republic like France is an arbitrary policy. McMahon, heedless of this, does not appear to fully appreciate the doctrines of responsible government, or at least disdains to practice them. Instead of bowing to the will of the people, he takes upon himself to run counter to the popular vote, and whether it is from love of power or affection for the Napoleonic dynasty, he embraces every opportunity of showing himself to be a despot in the true sense of the word. Not that he is allowed to carry this to its fullest extent, but he carries it far enough, that a spark may at any time ignite the whole nation.

Our readers will, doubtless, remember the days of France's humiliation in the last great war in which she was engaged. Lying prostrate at the feet of the conqueror, Bismarck, and unable to protect her sacred soil from the ruthless tread of the invader, she was forced to sue for peace. Her armies beaten, her capital in the hands of the enemy, the spirit of her people disheartened, the halo surrounding the dynasty of Napoleon dispelled, she had to make best of adverse circumstances. A large sum as the ransom for liberty was demanded, and the people, willing to do anything to relieve them from the hated oppression of the Prussian, readily agreed to any form of authority that seemed able to settle the difficulties. The result was that a Republic was formed and M. Thiers was chosen as leader. He immediately set to work to re-organize the army and settle the administration of affairs. Through the base intrigues and machinations of the Duc de Broglie and McMahon, Thiers was eventually thrown aside, and a Constitution was drawn up, contrary to the expressed wishes of the people, and intentionally damaging to the strictly Republican party. A minority of unreliable men governed and defied the Republican majority, in both the Chamber and the country. The result was not wonderful, but was just what history has taught hundreds of times without apparent profit to its readers. Officials were dismissed without any cause whatever, except, indeed, that they were Republican; the elections were postponed to enable the Government to strengthen itself by all the venal resources at its command; the liberty of the press,—that palladium of the people's rights,—became a myth; schools and other places, in the least degree tinged with opposition, were abruptly closed; and the whole nation was bound and gagged. Notwithstanding all this, the nation asserted its dignity at the elections and returned a Republican majority of one hundred and twenty. Here was the answer to McMahon's own plebiscite, yet, in spite of this appeal to the electors, he insisted on retaining power in opposition to the fundamental principles of good government.

We believe that the Radical Republican class will eventually supplement all this, and that before long. The Radicals ask that the Ministers be directly responsible to the representatives, and removable by them, that the people have a free press, freedom of speech and the right of public discussion, that a broad system of national education be adopted, and that State patronage of Churches be abolished. These views ought to be views of every lover of liberty, and we believe are just as well adapted to France as to any other country, and we trust the day may soon come when these principles will rise triumphant over Communism, coup d' etats and insurrections.

It is understood by the St. John Telegraph that Mr. Peter Mitchell will resign his seat for Northumberland.

Judge Ritchie, of the Supreme Court, is confined to his house by illness.

It is stated on good authority that Lord Dufferin will not leave Canada until October next.

The Halifax Chronicle says:—Many persons regard the Dominion Board of Trade as a useless institution and laugh at the efforts of it and of the local Boards to regulate the affairs of the nation. These grumblers will find much to laugh at in the proceedings of the Cape Breton Board of Trade. At a recent meeting of that body ten resolutions were submitted, dealing with matters of great importance not only to Cape Breton but to the whole Dominion. Seven of these resolutions were passed. There were more resolutions than members, for the local paper informs us that there were just eight gentlemen present at this meeting!

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

Third Parliament---Third Session

Thursday, Jan. 10.

Col. Ross, of Huron, moved the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne, and it was seconded by Mr. Lane, East York. Mr. Ross' speech was an able one, and the remarks made by Mr. Lane did him credit.

Messrs. M. C. Cameron and Wm. McDougall feebly criticized certain portions of the address, and the debate was afterwards adjourned till Friday.

Friday, Jan. 11.

After the opening of the House Mr. Mowat moved "That it be an order of the House that the business of each day shall commence with prayers; that a Special Committee be appointed to consider and report upon a form of prayer, and upon other arrangements in connection therewith; such Committee to be composed of the Honorable Attorney-General Mowat, and the Honorable Messieurs Crooks, Fraser and Cameron, Messieurs Boulter, Ferris, Graham and Harkin." He considered that it was a proper thing that an assembly of this kind, composed of the representatives of a Christian people, and of all classes, creeds, and nationalities, should acknowledge its dependence upon the King of Kings, and ask for the Divine guidance before entering upon its deliberations.

Mr. Lauder seconded the motion.

Mr. Cameron objected. He did not think it would be in the interests of morality or religion that prayer should be offered for the Divine direction of their course in this House. Because he believed it would bring religion into disredit. He opposed the proposition, and declined to act on the committee.

Mr. Clarke's name was substituted for Mr. Cameron's, and the motion carried.

Mr. Macdougall resumed the debate on the Address by quoting and commenting briefly on an expression of opinion from the London Advertiser, unfavourable to the investigation of Departmental matters by Commissioners, after which

Mr. Crooks explained at some length the nature and occasion of the Commissions issued recently in connection with the Educational Department. He held that it would have been impossible for him as Minister of Education to investigate fully the irregularities connected with the issue of examination papers without calling before him every teacher thought to be implicated, and that it was more convenient, while it was perfectly legal and proper, to appoint a Commissioner to take evidence in the matter.

In connection with the fifth paragraph of the Address, Mr. Pardee, in reply to Mr. Deacon, stated that the amount realized during the year from the sale of Crown lands all over the Province was nearly $200,000. The total receipts in the Crown Land Department for the year, exclusive of the amount derived from the sale of timber, was about $628,000.

Mr. Meredith, when the sixth paragraph came up for discussion, argued briefly in favour of increasing the grant to charitable institutions.

Mr. Mowat, in reply, pointed out that the asylums for insane, deaf and dumb, and blind were all charitable institutions, and that in view of the already heavy charges on the revenue there was little likelihood of any increase of the grant.

Mr. Scott thought the time would soon come when a general scheme for dealing with paupers would be absolutely necessary, in order to prevent municipalities from getting rid by improper means of their own poor, and thus increasing the burdens of their neighbors. He did not agree with the statement in the Speech that the lumber industry showed any signs as yet of reviving. After objecting strongly to the Dunkin Act and the agitation in its favor, he censured the Government for its dilatoriness in dealing with the award between Ontario and Quebec.

Mr. Pardee explained that the third paragraph of the Address merely asserted that the home trade in lumber had become more active than it was last year, while the foreign trade had not improved. He held that the increase in sales in timber was good evidence of the revival of the lumber industry, as the limits had been purchased by lumberers and not speculators.

Mr. Hodgins remarked upon the practice of members of the Opposition in constantly belittling the Local Legislature.

Mr. Macdougall, speaking to the railway paragraph in the Address, urged strongly the claims of the Toronto and Ottawa Railway on the ground of its public importance, and depreciated the insertion of a clause recommending caution if that clause were meant to indicate that no more aid should be given to any railway project.

Mr. Clarke (Norfolk) recounted at some length the hardships suffered by the people of Prince Arthur's Landing on account of the refusal of the Dominion Government to allow them to connect their branch with the main line of the Pacific Railway.

Mr. Hay, in a long and able speech, discussed a number of questions, including Agricultural Societies, in connection with which he approved of a certain amount of centralization; a Government fund for assisting farmers to underdrain their land; and colonization roads and railroads. Speaking of educational matters, he expressed the opinion that the Departmental regulations were in many instances too stringent, and that the Inspectors had not been judicious or discreet enough in administering the law, while some of them have dabbled most injudiciously in politics.

Mr. Deroche thought there should be a greater amount of elasticity in the educational system, but approved of the County Model Schools, and expressed his regret that County Councils had not acted more liberally towards them.

Mr. Miller discussed colonization roads in their relation to immigration, pointing out that but for the support afforded by the money spent on these roads the number of emigrants who could maintain themselves in the free grant district would be very much smaller than it is. Referring to the statement in the Speech, respecting the revival of the lumber industry, he showed by statistics that it was justified, and might have been made even stronger than it was.

Mr. Robinson twitted the Opposition with dropping the Orange Bill this year, although the Grand Lodge had passed a resolution in favor of promoting it, as formerly. He predicted that, if dropped altogether this session, it would be brought in before the general election with a view to making political capital.

Mr. Barr, stated, amidst the laughter of the House, that the dropping of the Bill was due to an inadvertance of the Secretary of the Orange Society in not giving the necessary notice, and admitted that it was the intention of its promoters to bring it in next session.

Mr. Merrick explained that it had been the intention of the Orange Society to introduce the Bills this session, but owing to mismanagement on the part of those preparing the petitions, there was too little time to procure the necessary signatures.

On motion of Mr. O'Donoghue the debate was adjourned at eleven o'clock.

CHANCERY SALE

OF

HOTEL PROPERTY

In Guelph.

PURSUANT to a decree of the Court of Chancery, made in the cause of Mitchell et al., vs. Hogg et al., and bearing date the 23rd day of November, A. D. 1877, there will be sold, with the approbation of J. Watson Hall, Esq., Master of the said Court, at the Market House, in the town of Guelph, on at the hour of half-past one o'clock in the afternoon, that valuable property known as Soden's Hotel property, having a frontage of about 117 feet on Macdonnell street, and depth of 165 feet, and better known and described as lot 109, north side of Macdonnell street, in the Canada Company's survey of the town of Guelph, containing one-quarter of an acre more or less, and on which is erected a two-story rough-cast hotel, with commodious frame stabling, &c.

Saturday, 2nd of February, 1878

This property is situated in the centre of the town of Guelph, and produces a rental of $600 per annum and taxes. Immediate possession given, or an arrangement may be made with present tenant to continue under existing lease.

The purchaser at the time of sale will pay a deposit of ten per cent. of the purchase money to the Vendor's solicitor, and the balance thereof into the Court, to the credit of the said cause, within one month thereafter. In other respects the conditions of sale are the standing conditions of sale of the Court of Chancery.

For further particulars apply to Messrs. Dunbar & Johnston, Vendor's Solicitors, Messrs. Guthrie, Watt & Cutten, A. H. Macdonald, Esq., or A. M. McKinnon, Esq., Guelph, or to John Hoskin, Q. C., Toronto.

NEW GOODS.

Constant Additions to our Stock.

6 Cases New Goods, Special Lines, opening To-day.

We have pleasure in soliciting the attention of all our friends and customers to the following New Goods which we are now receiving into stock, and deem worthy of special attention:

Two cases new American White Cottons soft finish, full widths, and best goods, at 10, 12½ and 15 cents a yard.

1 Case—5000 yards—new Swiss Embroideries, chaste and beautiful patterns, and best widths, at 10, 12½, 15 and 20 cents a yard. The ladies of the town will find these goods about one-half cheaper than last season's prices. We hope to clear the entire lot this month. The prices will make them sell.

60 pieces new Ruffings, in Muslin, Tarlatan and Crefetise—very latest designs.

New Real Torchon Laces, at present so popular in Paris, London and New York, in various widths, from 35 cents to $1.50. We also show an extraordinary job lot of real Maltese Laces, which we trust every lady will make a point of seeing at once. The prices will sell them rapidly.

We also show to-day the new and handsome Brocaded Silks which are so much the rage in all the leading centres of fashion in Europe and America. We ask the ladies of Guelph to see these goods at once. Magnificent Silk and Chenille Fringes to match each shade.

Our stock of Kid Gloves is at present very large and well assorted, in all the new shades. Ladies will find no difficulty in making selections from our stock of kids.

Our Haberdashery and Fancy Goods Departments have been fully replenished within the past few days with new goods suitable for the season, and are now very attractive.

We particularly invite those who find it difficult to obtain what they require elsewhere to visit these departments.

We have also opened up full lines of Plain and Twilled Sheetings, Grey Cottons, Pillow Cottons, Prints, Towellings, Tickings, Black Lustres, Black Cashmeres, etc., etc. It will afford us pleasure to receive your inspection of the above goods.

CHAPTER XV.

DADDY DUFF IN PERIL OF HIS LIFE.

Daddy Duff neither showed nor felt dismay when he was dragged forward into the presence of Black Dick. He knew of no reason why he should be apprehensive, and he was not the man to be afflicted with nervous fear in any circumstances. In the present case he was the injured party, and he resolved to "tak' the first word o' flytin'," as he termed it.

"Hands aff, bairns, hands aff," he said, with the utmost composure, to those who were pulling him along. "I dinna need either help, or force, and if this is Black Dick that wants tae see me I'm just as desirous o' seein' him, for atweel I hae a craw tae pluck wi' him the day and a poke tae pit the feathers in."

Saying which he went boldly up to where sat the ill favored personage who had ordered his appearance, and, looking full at his squinting eyes, said—

"Are ye the man they ca' Black Dick?"

"Ay," was the answer, with a ferocious scowl, "and you'll find me black enough before I'm done with you."

"Then," rejoined Daddy, "ye are the man tae answer the question which I hae speired in vain elsewhere. The chaps that brocht me here tell's me that they did nae by your orders, an' noo I want tae ken for what?"

"Well, I'll tell you," said Dick, pressing his hands upon his knees and bending forward, while his distorted optics blazed like burning coals. "You have been brought here to receive the doom of a spy and a traitor, and I needn't tell ye what that is."

"A spy and a traitor!" echoed Daddy, in genuine wonder. "What hae I spied. Wha hae I betrayed?"

"Oh, don't pretend ignorance. "You have been d——d sly in your dealings, but we have found you out and, by all the fiends, you'll suffer for it. If you expect any mercy at all, tell us who was your informant."

"Bless me, this is mair extraordinary than ever," ejaculated Daddy, in the extremity of his amazement. "If ye want me tae understand ye, ye'll speak plain and nae in riddles, for I can mak' neither buff nor sty o' what you say."

"Speak plain. Oh, I'll speak plain enough. Who was the letter from that you took to the gauger? Now, don't deny it, for you were seen to deliver it to him at his own door.

"Oh, that's the airt the wind sits," cried Daddy, beginning now to be enlightened. "Ye suspect me o' bein' a spy o' the gauger's."

"We don't suspect you. We have proof enough of it; but what we want to know who is the source of your information. It was that letter which told Gillespie of the convoy, and enabled him to trap us so completely; and I want to know who sent it."

"And dae ye really think for a moment that I wad knowin'ly betray ony o' the secrets o' the smugglers tae the Excise folk. Have I no keepit their secrets a thoosand times, and helped them on many occasions?"

"Yes, you have always pretended to be our friend, and, believing you to be so, we trusted you—cursed fools that we were. We have got our eyes open now, and I'll be bound you don't play the hypocrite with us any longer. The gauger has got his last service out of you, but in this case there must have been another traitor at work, and I must know——"

"Stop!" cried Daddy, drawing himself up and looking indignant. "If there's ane here or elsewhere that daur say that I let oot a secret I had gotten fae ony o' the smugglers or gied information tee Gillespie or ony ither exciseman I say tae his face he's a doonricht lear."

"Aud I say to your face that you are a liar," roared Dick. "You were seen to give the gauger the letter. Do you deny it?"

"No, I dinna deny it. I did carry a letter to him."

"Ay, you are forced to own it at last. And that letter told him when and where he would meet our convoy?"

"That tell't him nae sic thing."

"It's a lie, it did, and you helped him to lay the plans for our capture. You led him to the place on the Hill of Fare?

"I never did," exclaimed Daddy, emphatically.

"Can you deny that Tom Corbet met you there on the side of the hill?"

"Na; I dinna deny that, for it is true."

"Or can you deny that Kenneth Fraser saw you with the gauger on the Aberdeen road the next day?"

"That's true tee; but——"

"Wait a wee, if you please."

"No, I shan't wait."

"Tell us at once, or I'll find a way to make you. I am not the one to stick at trifles."

"I believe that," said Daddy, pointedly.

"You have heard so, I dare say."

"Ay. I hae heard mair than ye think. If I was the informant that ye say, there's a certain marder would or this time hae been laid at the richt door.

Dick bounded up with a look of consternation, and his dark face grew livid as he glared on Daddy. The latter had already repented of what he had said, but the words were spoken, and could not be recalled.

Doctor, it Feels Like a Ball of Fire!!

So speak oftentimes the sufferer from Dyspepsia. After eating, it seems as if there was a veritable ball of fire running up and down through his stomach. If he eats much he feels it; if he don't eat much he feels it. It destroys his enjoyment of life. If the doctor be really desirous of curing his patient he should not experiment with the sufferer, he should recommend him to use PERUVIAN SYRUP, whose merits have been tested so long, and always satisfactorily. Balls of fire in the stomach and PERUVIAN SYRUP can't dwell together. Send to your druggist; he keeps it always ready, and try it. It will work like a charm.

Do your Spectacles Suit your Eyesight?

If not, you should at once get them exchanged for a pair that will, for nothing is more injurious to to the sight than using glasses which are misfitted. If they are too strong or too weak there is a continual strain upon the nerves and cords of the eye, creating an inflammation which will, if you continue using the misfitted pair, ruin the eyesight altogether. Many merchants who sell spectacles know little or nothing about the principles of fitting the eyes, and you are therefore liable to buy a wrong pair just because they seem to suit when you first try them on, which, after wearing for an hour or so, will "draw" until it is painful to wear them. From my study of the eye, and long experience in selling spex, I can safely affirm that more eyesights are destroyed by wearing improperly fitted glasses than from any other cause. I have an instrument invented by Kent Brothers, Toronto, which proves to a certainty what number of lense you should use, with which I will be pleased to test anyone who desires it, without any charge.

Love Laughs at Age.

There seems to be a deal of unnecessary and unbecoming noise concerning the marriage of the dashing widow, Mrs. Hicks, to Thomas Lord, who is eighty-two years old and worth $3,000,00. His family, jealous of the fascinating bride, is asking, "What did he marry for?" Why, what a question! What does anybody ever marry for? He married for a wife, of course, and for the comforts of a home. It is not improbable, either, that the care of his motherless children had something to do with the meritorious resolution to reconstruct his shattered health. There is nothing peculiar about this wedding entitling it to unfavorable comment. Did not Sir David Brewster marry after he was eighty-five? Did not Lord Palmerston come very near marrying after he was eighty and desist only because his mercenary sweet heart preferred money? And look at the Nestor of Pennsylvania, falling in love at first sight after he is eighty and lavishing his wealth on the object of his affections. Then remember old Thos. Parr, who lived to be 152 and died in London in 1635. Why, he was married to his first young bride when he was eighty, and he had two children to bless his middle age. When 105 he was caught in an illicit armour, we regret to say, and was compelled to do penance for it by standing shivering in a sheet in Alderbury Church. He finally married again, when he was 120, and restored the Lares and Penates. Thos. Lord is a young man compared with the elder Thomas, his worthy exemplar. Old Sophocles, Diogenes, Socrates, Hippocrates, Voltaire, Fontenelle and Hobbes, most of them fell in love after they were ninety, and two or three of them married happily. Peter Czartan, the Hungarian peasant of the eighteenth century, was married when he was fifty years older than Thomas Lord is. Did not Vanderbilt marry happily during his second youth? It was Aaron Burt who paid considerable money to a lady, who charged him with a breach of promise of marriage under aggravated circumstances, after he was eighty, and though his friends knew he had never seen the lady, he said, with his proverbial gallantry, "far be it from me to decline such a compliment from any lady." Mr. Lord's people had better keep away from him. He knows what he is about.—Graphic.

The Custom of "Treating."

To the Editor of the Mercury.

SIR,—During the contest for the Dunkin Act in the County of Wellington, one aspect of the question at issue, viz.: the treating custom of society, was so fully developed by the discussions which took place that a new association has been organized in the village of Everton, some ten miles from the town of Guelph, bearing the name of "The Mutual Improvement and Anti-Treating Association of Everton."

It has been held that, notwithstanding that total abstinence societies have done a great deal in the work of temperance reform—in fact, that though, as it must be admitted, the present condition of the question is mainly due to the untiring energy of the sincere workers under the auspices of those societies—they have failed in a great measure to strike at the fountain whence the greater portion of the evils resulting from the liquor traffic proceeds. We would make the statement without fear of successful contradiction, that the majority of the evils consequent of this traffic is created by that senseless and abominable custom of treating in taverns. The idea—though we cannot believe that it has any real existence—that the man who will not treat his friend whom he meets in a hotel, or will not receive a treat from him, is mean, unmanly, and unsociable in every sense of these terms, has been, if we may use the expression, the centre of gravity of the traffic for the spread of evil and ruin in the world; and many a man who is personally conscious of not being lacking in those social elements which the world pretends so much to admire, is brought under its influence, and made to participate in the social glass, when he believes right well it cannot result in any good whatever, and cannot, though he would like, resent returning the compliment, though certain that the courtesy is only imaginary, and that his friend or neighbor, instead of being benefitted by the so-called manly course, is, or may ultimately be, morally and materially injured thereby. Coupled with this idea of the essential qualifications to be considered manly and sociable, is the practice of hotel-keepers of not accepting any remuneration for stable accommodation, expecting of course that the person thus put under obligation will show forth his liberality over the bar in a manner that will prove more lucrative to the proprietor than if he had simply charged a fixed fee for the use of his stable, etc. In this way the selfishness of the hotel-keeper is gratified, though all the time his conduct is interpreted by the frequenters of his house as characteristic of a good heart and a liberal spirit, while the reverse is true, and should on account of its consequences meet with disapproval and the censure of every right-thinking person. Against this citadel of social power it is the object of this Association to direct its energies; to bring this treating custom, which has heretofore been a reputable thing, to be regarded by the community at large as extremely disreputable, and morally inconsistent with individual independence and the well-being of society as a whole.

The officers of this Association consist of a president, three vice-presidents, and a secretary-treasurer, to be elected annually, who form the Committee of Management of the Society.

The following are articles III. and IV. of the constitution, embracing the fundamental principles of the Society:—

(III.) That the objects of this Association shall be the mutual intellectual improvement of its members by readings, essays, recitations, debates, discussions, and the advancement of the cause of temperance and sobriety by discountenancing the treating custom as carried on in taverns, hotels, saloons, liquor stores, and all places of public entertainment.

(IV.) That each member of this Association shall consider himself placed upon his own honor and respectability to adhere strictly to the clause in Article III. referring to the treating custom; but it shall not be considered a violation of said clause to treat ladies to anything they choose, or gentlemen to their meals.

The above principles, in our opinion, constitute a sufficiency for the accomplishment of a great reform, and judging by the warm and hearty manner in which they have already been adopted in this and surrounding neighborhoods, we predict that at no distant day a similar association will be planted in almost every school section in the county of Wellington.

The principles upon which this Association are founded may be made the centre about which men of all shades of opinions regarding the question of total abstinence can rally, and shoulder to shoulder, fight the common enemy; while, at the same time, each can hold to his own peculiar views with regard to the principles of total abstinence. Daily we meet with individuals who tell us they cannot go the length of total abstinence, though fully admitting intemperance to be the greatest evil of the day; and with others again we come in contact who are total abstinence in theory, but shrink from taking a total abstinence pledge, from the difficulty they find in consistently carrying out their theory in practice, on account of this old and deeply-rooted custom. But by this, which I think we are justified in calling a new idea, forces which have hitherto been latent for good, practically speaking, will be brought into the field and utilized in doing service in pulling down the strongholds of sin and vice, and bringing a better order of things, when each individual who takes the road can pay for what he gets, whether that be in the shape of a glass of rye, a meal of victuals, a night's lodging, or stable accommodation for the trusty animals that are subservient to his will, enabling him at one and the same time to feel that he is under no obligation to any person, nor the slave of any absurd custom. To this custom, we think, is traceable all the woe consequent of the liquor traffic; against it is chargeable the ruin of families and the wreck of individuals, and the laying of a foundation in the youth that has disgraced the silvery hairs of old age by bringing him a moral wreck to the verge of the grave, where, having no desire to follow him into the dark regions beyond, we leave him.

Yours truly,
A MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATION.

THE Company's special system of Loans affords to borrowers, and especially to Farmers, the following most important advantages:—
1. The borrower is NOT OBLIGED to repay any part of the principal until the whole term of the Mortgage has run.
2. He has the RIGHT (after the first year) to repay at any time, the whole or any part of the Loan, without prior notice to the Company.
3. No extra charge, bonus or otherwise, is exacted on such repayment.
4. He is requested when making application for the Loan, to state the day on which he wishes interest to be made payable. He thus can stipulate for a date, say after harvest, or at such time as is likely to be most convenient for him.
5. Interest can be made payable once a year—not in advance.
6. On repayment of any part of the principal, interest on such amount immediately ceases.

MONDAY EVENG, JAN. 14, 1878.

Local News Items.

BOARD of Education this evening, at half past seven o'clock.

TEMPERANCE SOCIAL in the Town Hall this evening. A good programme has been prepared.

Mr. JOHN HOGG, "the wonderful man," will have a new advertisement in to-morrow's issue. Look out for it.

THE Revised Statutes of Ontario, in two volumes, and well got up, have been issued by the Ontario Legislature.

A DEGREE LODGE, in connection with Waterloo Lodge, I. O. O. F., Galt, has been instituted.

THE Very Reverend the Dean of Christ's Church Cathedral, Hamilton, conducted the services at St. George's, yesterday, in the absence of the Rev. Canon Dixon.

THE Acton skating rink has been formally opened, and the villagers have the skating mania very bad. Several from Guelph were present on the opening evening, 7th inst.

A TUMBLE.—A young man named Armstrong, compositor in the Herald office, fell down the steps of Day's block on Sunday afternoon and received severe injuries about the head. Dr. Harkin dressed the indentations.

MEMBERS of the Musical Union are requested to furnish themselves with a copy of the Chorus, "The Highlands," before practice to-morrow evening. Price six cents. d1

THE annual Missionary meeting of Chalmers' Church will be held this evening, at half-past seven. Addresses will be given by Mr. Smith, of St. Andrew's Church, and Mr. Murray, of London. All are cordially invited.

NEARLY DROWNED.—On Saturday afternoon a young man named Wm. Garrod skated into an air hole near the Eramosa Bridge, and would have been drowned had it not been for John McCaffery, a companion, who gallantly rushed to the air hole and with danger to his own life effected a rescue.

CHIMNEY ON FIRE.—Yesterday afternoon one of the chimneys on Soden's Hotel, Macdonnell Street, got on fire, and burned furiously for some time. The wind was not blowing very strong at the time, and nothing serious grew out of the fire. Chimney sweeps should be occasionally employed by every householder.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES.—Yesterday missionary services were held in the Norfolk and Dublin street Methodist churches, which were largely attended. Rev. Wm. Briggs, of the Metropolitan Church, Toronto, delivered very eloquent and impressive discourses in the Dublin street church in the morning, and in the Norfolk street church in the evening. Rev. J. B. Clarkson, M.A., of Brantford, preached in the latter in the morning, and in the former church in the evening. The annual missionary meeting will be held this evening in the Dublin street church, at which the two reverend gentlemen above-mentioned, Dr. Clarke, M.P.P., and others, will be present and deliver addresses. On Tuesday evening a meeting will be held in the Norfolk street church.

COUNTERFEIT.—Twenty-five cent pieces are in circulation in Hamilton and elsewhere, which are said to be very well executed, and would pass anywhere, unless inspected. The pieces are heavily plated with pure silver and would bear a number of tests. Owing to the purity of the plating, the surfaces of the coin are brighter than those of the legal coins which contain alloy. When examined carefully and compared with the genuine article, it is perceivable that the die by which they are struck, does not give the clear impression the latter bears. The counterfeit is about one-fifth lighter than the other, but it has the "ring" and the difference in the weight is not perceptible. The year stamped upon the counterfeit shown was 1874.

CLOTHES LINE THIEVES have been doing a thriving business in Mount Forest of late. The premises of Rev. Mr. Cunningham, Messrs. J. F. Cooper, D. Cummins, George Dickson and Dr. Jones have been visited by some villains and a large quantity of sheets, wearing apparel, &c., stripped from clothes lines. Strong suspicions pointing to a certain direction, search warrants were at once obtained, and placed in the hands of the village constable, who proceeded to inspect the premises occupied by two parties named Isaac and Robert Ferguson, on Queen st., where a large portion of the missing articles was found, and identified by the owners as being their property. Both Fergusons were arrested and tried before the magistrates, several witnesses being examined. They were committed to Guelph gaol to stand their trial at the coming Court of Quarter Sessions.

CONSERVATIVES IN CONVENTION.—This evening Conservative delegates from different portions of the Province of Ontario assemble at the U. E. Club, to sit at the feet of Sir John A. Macdonald, and be instructed in political morality. The following gentlemen have been appointed delegates from this section, and will take the 4.45 Grand Trunk train this evening for the U. E Club:—Messrs. John Horsman, James Hewer, jun., C. Davidson, E. O'Connor, Major Macdonald, A. W. Wright, J. Hallett, A. H. Gordon, Dr. Herod, F. Gauhan, C. Acton Ferrows, Guelph; W. Leslie, Dr. Orton, Puslinch; S. Sweetnam and J. Hawes, Guelph Township; Dr. McNaughton and Henry Smith, Erin; A. McCarthy, Eramosa. The Convention will continue in session on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Fire on Perth Street.

Mr. A. Riddell's Pump and Tool Shop Destroyed.

On Sabbath evening at twenty minutes to eight o'clock citizens were startled and many attending divine worship in the various churches were alarmed to hear the tocsin of alarm on the Baptist Church peal forth a warning. The doleful toll of the bell, with four distinct clangs, informed all that the fire was in the North Ward, and while all the residents of that Ward—away from home—imagined that their own residences must be in flames, those from other Wards felt that their hearths were for the time safe.

A lurid glare in the sky immediately over Mr. Goldie's mills, caused a hope to be expressed by many that the People's Mills were not again doomed to destruction. The mills were safe, but the pump and tool works of Mr. Arch. Riddell, across the river from the mills, and on Perth street, were in flames.

The Fire Brigade had responded quickly to the call. In fact the horses were harnessed before any alarm was given by the bell. One of the brigade happening to see the glare in the sky, and at once gave the alarm to Geo. Barber, the engineer, and proceeded to bring the horses out. The building which was on fire—a wooden one—burned with great rapidity, and although the engine was as promptly on the spot as possible, the roof had fallen before a stream was played on the flames. The fire was prevented from spreading, and the flames which had seized hold of the ice house belonging to Mr. W. J. Little were quenched.

The crowd which had gathered on the spot dispersed to a safe distance when a cry was raised that the boiler would in all probability burst with the intense heat. There was no danger in that quarter, however, as the steam was escaping nearly as quickly as generated, by the safety valve, which had been broken off by the action of the heat.

Mr. Riddell loses everything, the only thing saved being his ledger. The machinery in the shop, from appearances this (Monday) morning is valueless, excepting for old iron, and the engine and boiler now so warped with the heat that they can hardly be made use of again. The lathes, of which there were five, are completely ruined; together with a power punch, and all the stock of some forty force pumps, with patterns of knives, etc.

As to the origin of the fire there is a difference of opinion. At five o'clock in the afternoon Mr. Riddell was in the shop, and filling the furnace with shavings, ignited them. They quickly burnt up, and he did not leave until the fire had spent itself, and he had carefully and tightly closed the furnace. The floor around the furnace was an earthern one, with the shavings all carefully swept away, so that no fire could have been communicated in that way. When the fire was first seen it appeared as though it had commenced away from the furnace altogether. Mr. Riddell is inclined to the belief that the fire was the work of an incendiary.

The total loss is about $2,500, on the building and stock, on which there is an insurance of $1,000, in the Merchants and Manufacturers Company of Hamilton. The amount of the policy will just about clear Mr. Riddell of all debts, and he is therefore left in the position, as he states, "Where I was ten years ago."

Considerable sympathy is felt for Mr. Riddell, as he is both an industrious and highly respected citizen.

BOILED WHEAT FOR DYSPEPSIA.—A correspondent says:—"There is a gentleman who, for a number of years past, has been in the habit of eating wheat (not cracked wheat), but uncracked wheat, boiled slowly for eight or ten hours for his breakfast. He was formerly greatly troubled with dyspepsia, but since adopting the wheat diet for the matutinal meal, he has never been in the least troubled with stomach derangements of any kind. He claims that it acts very beneficially on the stomach and bowels, and that unlike cracked wheat and oatmeal it cannot be bolted even if one is so inclined, but has to be thoroughly chewed before swallowing. As the wheat requires to be boiled a long time, a sufficient amount is usually cooked for four or five days' use, and when wanted is simply warmed. This wheat cure, if its acts the same on others, is certainly an inexpensive one to try."

"JACK AND JILL."—On Saturday evening last R. Butler's Pantomime Company appeared before a fair audience in the Town Hall, with the performance of "Jack and Jill." The play throughout was very amusing to the children that happened to be there, but taking it on the whole there was an entire absence of merit. It is unfortunate that Mrs. Morrison allows her name to be used with a very inferior Company, or a Company that appears to be possessed of the idea that anything will satisty an audience outside of a city, for by so doing, she injures her own reputation.

A CURIOUS FACT.—That in severe chronic cases which have proved the most obstinate to other medicines, Wilson's Wild Cherry gives immediate relief and effects a speedy cure. It has no equal for Coughs, Colds, Coryza, Bronchitis, Loss of Voice, Catarrh, Whooping Cough, for Croup. Sold by W. G. Smith; Herod & Co., and druggists generally.

Thoughts on Passing Years.

Another year has pass'd away
As other years have done,
And who so wise in truth can say
We'll see another one.

To day is ours—and shall we see
Another morn arise;
For aught we know our bed may be
With him in death that lies.

How many, when last year began,
Had youth upon their side,—
Were wordly wise to scheme and plan,
And prudent skill to guide.

And while that prize on prize were won
In Fortune's slippery game,
They deem'd each year a stepping-stone
Would hand them on to fame.

Then turn aside to Death's lone grounds
And there the same survey;
They sleep there, 'neath low grassy mounds,
Death's wee dark house of clay.

The nursling clasp'd to Mother's breast,
Or dancing round her knee,
Seem, that while thus with love they're blest,
That many years they'll see.

Then why now wear these weeds of woe?
Why does the Mother weep?
Her lov'd, wee tot in earth lies low,
To sleep the last long sleep.

The Widow, drooping like a flower
Frost-nipt at early morn,
Longs for her mate at wonted hour
And deems he'll yet return.

But long she'll wait ere he appear
In his once cheerful home;
He lies where no lov'd wife comes near—
To her he'll never come.

The Bride, in trappings gay array'd
On happy bridal morn,
May, ere another year be laid
In Death's cold, silent urn.

Thus die the gay, the young, the old,
As years are passing by,
All, rather'd in Death's lonely fold
And there forgotten lie.

Then let's in each returning year
Our time and labour spend
That we will have no cause to fear
When life's draws to an end.

And though that tears may dim the eye
When friends are borne away,
We'll meet them yet above the sky,
Where shines a brighter day.

No parting there shall ever come,
No grief to mar our joy,
And tears shall be in heaven's sweet home
Wip'd off from every eye.—R. B.

The Late Italian King.

ROME, Jan. 13th.—The funeral of King Victor Emmanuel will take place on Thursday. The remains will be deposited in the Pantheon. The Chapter of the Church has declared it will feel honored by so sacred a trust, and the ecclesiastical authorities, by the Pope's order, have removed all difficulties in connection with the celebration of the funeral. The clergy have also been authorized to attend, and the Archbishop of Upper Italy has been ordered to celebrate requiem masses.

Two thousand seven hundred deputations have requested permission to attend Victor Emmanuel's funeral.

It is expected the German and Austrian Imperial Princes will be at the funeral. Immense crowds throng the Quirinal Palace to witness the body lying in state. Thousands of candles are kept burning. The body is dressed in the uniform of a general, decorated with orders, and covered with an ermine mantle. The face is placid. The funeral will be an imposing national demonstration; the grandest military display that has ever taken place in modern Rome will be witnessed.

Twenty battalions of infantry and a corresponding force of cavalry and artillery have been ordered to Rome to give the dead King the customary military honors. Parliament holds ten million francs to defray the expenses of a mausoleum in the Pantheon.

The Italian citizens of Memphis have adopted resolutions of condolence on the death of Victor Emmanuel.

The Italians of St. Louis decided to hold funeral services on Wednesday in honor of Victor Emmanuel.

Memorial services for Victor Emmanuel were celebrated in New York yesterday in the Italian Church of St. Ambrose.

The War News.

January 13.

Encouraged by the German Ambassador, who intimated that Russia's conditions of peace would be probably moderate, and in order to give Europe proof of its sincere desire for peace, the Porte has asked the Russian Government to state what conditions it would demand.

The Porte has received a telegram from the Grand Duke Nicholas stating that the latter is ready to receive a Turkish delegate to discuss armistice conditions, but cannot at present give any indications as to the terms of peace, as he is still ignorant thereof.

A Bucharest correspondent says:—A new complication seems to have arisen. The Roumanians talk of declining to submit to an armistice unless separately arranged with them. It is thought they are possibly instigated by the Russian military party.

A St. Petersburg despatch says:—It is officially announced that the Turkish fleet has bombarded Eupatoria.

A later Malta despatch says:—Vice-Admiral Hornby sailed for the Levant on the iron-clad Sultan. The iron-clads Devastation, Achilles, and Alexandra, and the frigate Raleigh, are preparing to follow. The force in the dockyard is working till eight every night. The troop ship Jumna homeward bound from India with 1,067 men, is detained here. The Euphrates outward bound with 1,142 men, is also detained here.

A Constantinople correspondent states that the German and Italian Ambassadors have informed the Porte that if it permits the British fleet to come to Constantinople Germany and Italy will also demand permission for their fleets to pass through the Dardanelles.

A Constantinople despatch reports that the Russians entered Yeni-Zaghra on Saturday. The place had been previously burned by the Turks.

A Constantinople despatch says fugitives are flocking there from Philippopolis and Adrianople.

A Constantinople despatch says:—A long Cabinet Council took place to-day. The Porte has as yet received no despatch either from London or Russian headquarters respecting the armistice. The population are irritated against England, who it is declared, is morally responsible for Turkey's misfortunes. There is great distress among the refugees from Adrianople.

A Vienna correspondent telegraphs that advices from Turkey show that the works of Adrianople are only partially armed and unfitted to resist an attack. In Constantinople it is believed that Adrianople will be carried by a coup de main. The fortifications of Constantinople are being looked to as a last resource, although they seem in even worse condition. Everything points to the complete confusion of the Turks.

A Pera correspondent says the sufferings of the fugitives from cold and hunger are beyond description. Five children were taken dead from a single train.

A Tiflis telegram says in a cavalry engagement near Bailburt the Turks have been defeated and driven to the Kop-Dagh. Erzeroum has been completely invested since January the 9th.

The New Departure.

To the Editor of the Mercury.

MR. EDITOR,—In the Globe of Saturday there is a well timed editorial respecting the action of liquor sellers in Toronto, shewing that these men have banded themselves together, to vote only for those candidates for municipal and other offices, who are known to be in favor of upholding the liquor traffic; also, that in all parts of the country, Dunkinites are to be blackballed. Be it so; it will assist in causing the line of demarcation between the friends and foes of liquordom to be distinctly defined; both parties are now saying, "He that is not for us is against us." This being the case, it is satisfactory to see that the temperance men of Wellington, instead of being disheartened by the adverse vote on the Dunkin Act, have already again rallied for another struggle with the evil traffic; they intend to get the friends of temperance in each municipality of the county thoroughly organized for another campaign; and until that campaign is entered on, will do what they can to get the restrictive provisions of the Crooks' Act (which the liquor party recently praised so much) strictly enforced. I understand that there is to be a meeting in the Town Hall on Tuesday, the 22nd instant, to enrol members, and elect officers of Guelph branch of the new organization, and I hope the day is near at hand when temperance men will take a step still further in advance, and organize a Temperance Electoral Association, to band into one great phalanx, the votes of the men of Wellington (whether they be abstainers or not) who are in favor of the suppression of the liquor traffic, will be formed. Notwithstanding the adverse vote in Wellington, the county of Peterborough has just voted by a majority of nearly one thousand, to emancipate itself from the drink-curse. Thus the ball rolls, and the time is not far distant when all the counties of Ontario, Wellington among the number, will, by the votes of the electors, decree the total extinction of the legalized traffic in the drunkard's drink. More anon.

I am, Mr. Editor, your obedient servant,

X. Y. Z.

Guelph, January 14th, 1878.

Guelph Township Mutual Fire Insurance Company.

The annual general meeting of the members of the above Company took place at the American Hotel, Guelph, on Saturday, the 12th inst. The President in the chair. The report of the Directors for the past year having been read by the Secretary, was, on motion made and seconded, adopted.

A ballot having been taken for the election of Directors, resulted in the election of the old members, namely: Messrs. John Hobson, Thos. McCrae, John Laidlaw, Jno. Bolton, Matthew Sweetnam, John Card, and William Bathgate. James Laidlaw and A. McCorkindale were appointed auditors.

The Directors subsequently met when John Hobson was re elected President, Thos. McCrae, Vice-President, and William Whitelaw, Secretary.

About 500 sheep were shipped last week from Galt to the New York market. The prices paid were, lamb about $4.50 per cwt., and sheep $3.50 to $3.90.

The Unger Farm, Dumfries, consisting of 191 acres, has been sold by Mr. Moses Unger to his son Mr. Benj. Unger, the seller reserved to himself a life interest in the farm. The price may be put at $8,000.

M. Raspail was buried yesterday at Pere La Chaise, M. Louis Blanc pronouncing the funeral oration.

The trial of the Oka Indians will probably be concluded to day, all the evidence having been taken on Saturday.

The recently liberated Fenian prisoners arrived at Dublin on Saturday and met with a grand reception, which was witnessed by over fifteen thousand people.

In an address to his constituents at Birmingham on Saturday, John Bright declared himself strongly in favour of non-intervention of the Eastern struggle.

It is reported that a month's truce will be proclaimed by the Spanish authorities in Cuba, and that the insurgent leaders will be invited to enter into negotiations for peace.

The second ballots for three members of the Municipal Council of Paris have resulted in the return of Republicans, giving the latter 76 seats, and only four to the Conservatives.

The New United States Commissioner of Agriculture, General Ledue, is launching out into some rather ambitious projects. He is anxious that the United States should grow their own tea and coffee, and points out that a large area of the countries where those staples are grown.

ARMS FOR TURKEY.—On Saturday afternoon the steamer Remus arrived at New Haven from London for arms and munitions for the Turkish Government. The steamer John Bramhall still lies in the Sound ready to start, bearing a load worth over $1,500,000.

DUELLING IN GEORGIA.—Robert Fishburne and Walter S. Harley, of Walterboro', S.C., fought a duel near Savannah on Saturday. The weapons were revolvers. Harley was shot in the abdomen at the first fire and will die. Fishburne has fled. The parties are brothers-in-law and lawyers.

MEEKER AND THE PENITENTARY.—The convict Meeker was interviewed at the gaol in Toronto on Saturday. He appeared to be sorry for the crime he had committed, and said that if he had taken his father's advice he would not occupy such a position. He stated that if he had not been extradited and had been allowed to go free in the United States, he would have led a new life. He was taken to the Penitentiary on Saturday

THE LYNN SHOEMAKERS.—On Saturday night the Crispins, at their headquarters, Lynn, Mass., unanimously voted to stand and die in the ditch. Monday morning will witness nearly the whole city on strike, as far as the shoe business is concerned. Sweetzer & Co. this morning drew up a petition for their workmen to sign, renouncing the Crispin organization and board of arbitration, or the firm would throw off its belts to-night. They replied, "Throw off and be—," and sent word to the Crispin headquarters that they were "holding the fort." The City Marshall has removed all arms from the armouries. The Crispins are fully as determined as the manufacturers and will stand out as one man. There are 189 shoe manufacturing firms in this city, and if four fifths shut down, 2,500 or 3,000 persons will be thrown out of employment. Aid is coming for the Crispins from all quarters in the shape of groceries and money.

House of Providence and County Gaol.

The Inspector's Reports.

Mr. Inspector Langmuir has reported on the general efficiency of the House of Providence in connection with St. Joseph's Hospital, and the County gaol, for the year ending 30th September, 1877. The reports are subjoined:—

HOUSE OF PROVIDENCE.

The following is a summary of the operations of this House, in respect to admissions and discharges for the past year:—Remaining in the House 1st October, 1876, 16; admitted during the year, 53; total number of inmates during the year, 69. Of this number, 36 were discharged, and 33 remained as inmates at the close of the year, on the 20th September, 1877. These 69 indigent persons were admitted to the House from the undermentioned places, viz:—From the Town of Guelph, 34; from the County of Wellington, 26; from other counties, 9; total, 69. Thirty five of the number were males, and 34 were females, and, with the exception of three, all were Roman Catholics. Forty-four were natives of Ireland, 20 were Canadians, 4 English, and one from the United States. The receipts for the year, out of which the House was maintained, were derived from the following sources, viz:—

Province of Ontario	$ 436 66
Municipal Aid	200 00
From inmates	441 00
Income from property	1,000 92
From all other sources	812 56
	$2,891 14

The expenditures for the same period were:

For food of all kinds	$ 1,717 39
Clothing and furnishings	261 95
Fuel, light and cleaning	134 19
Salaries and wages	120 00
Repairs, ordinary and extraordinary	47 00
Other expenses	309 47
	$2,980 00

The average period that each inmate was in the House during the year was 153⅔ days, and the collective stay of the whole number was equal to 10,616 days, which would entitle the House to the following Government grant for the year 1878:—

Allowance for 10,616 days at 5 cents per day	$ 530 80
Supplementary aid, 2 cts per day	212 32
Total aid for 1878	$743 12

On the 28th August, I made a statutory inspection of this Charity, which is connected with the St. Joseph's Hospital. On the day above named, 36 persons, 19 men and 17 women were under accommodation, all of whom I saw, with the exception of four, who were absent temporarily. The wants of the inmates seemed to be very well cared for by the Sisters in charge, and everything done to render them as comfortable as possible. Attached to the premises are 70 acres of very good land, which help materially in maintaining the institution. The books were checked and found to be correct.

GUELPH GAOL.

Number of prisoners committed during the year, 209; Greatest number confined at any one time, 39; number of re-committals, 33; total cost of maintaining Gaol, $3,217.04.

Three inspections were made of this gaol. At the first, on the 7th of March, 33 prisoners, or rather inmates and prisoners, were found in custody, for no less than three-fourths of the number were able-bodied vagrants. Of the criminal classes three were under sentence for larceny, two to the Central Prison, and two were waiting trial. An examination of the register showed that the gaol had virtually been a poor-house for the past four months. One of the vagrants was undoubtedly idiotic, and I gave instructions to have him examined and certified to, with a view to his removal to the Orillia Asylum. I found that the want of a dark cell was much felt, and as nothing has a more wholesome effect than the knowledge on the part of prisoners of the existence of a dark cell, where they could be secluded in the event of refractory conduct, I strongly recommended that the old disused water-closets, built in projection, should be converted into two dark cells.

I observed that only an ordinary padlock had been placed on the yard gate, the Sheriff was instructed to substitute one of Chubb's. The bedding and gaol clothing were reported to be sufficient for the wants of the gaol, even in its crowded condition.

The matron was instructed to be always present when any one entered the female corridor, this not being the case at the time of my visit.

The gaol, in all its departments, was found in a thoroughly well-kept condition, with order and cleanliness everywhere apparent.

At my second visit, on the 28th April, I made the following minute in the inspection book:—"The undersigned visited this gaol at 11 o'clock a.m., and found in custody 11 prisoners, 4 men and 7 women. Two of the males were waiting trial, the rest of the prisoners being under sentence for short periods. The interior of the gaol was in good order, as were also the yards." On this, as on many previous occasions, the gaoler was not found upon the gaol premises. This matter was brought to the attention of the Sheriff, and also of the Government.

My third inspection was made on the 28th August. Eighteen prisoners were in custody, of whom 16 were males and 2 females. With the exception of three members of the Sturdy family, who were waiting trial, all the prisoners were under sentence for short dates. One of the prisoners complained that the turn-key was continually "picking" at him, and using him unfairly. On enquiry I found this complaint to be groundless, but was informed that the prisoner had been very unruly and refractory.

The gaol was fairly clean, although the walls in one of the corridors were very damp. The gaoler was again absent, and as the books were under his charge, they could not be obtained for my examination. It appeared to me that almost the entire management of the gaol was left to the turnkey, thereby rendering the duties too varied and onerous to be performed by one man.

Since the time of my last visit the Sheriff reported he had discovered that the Sturdy family were plotting to escape. I therefore authorized the engagement of an extra guard to watch these prisoners.

Three hundred cattle were burned to death in the stock yards of Fairbank's distillery, Terre Haute, Ind., on Sunday evening.

William Cobbett, noted for his efforts on behalf of the Tichborne claimant, fell dead in Westminster Hall on Saturday morning. He was the son of Cobbett, the politician and writer.

Notice to the Public.

We have for a long time been firmly impressed with the conviction that the long credit system is injurious to business and unjust to creditors, and we have come to the determination to put a stop to it. Our experience is that the practice of extending accounts over a year is a great mistake, is unfair to the creditor and burdensome to the debtor. Were settlements made, say four times a year, instead of once, the amounts would be light, and payments would be comparatively easy, whereas, when accounts run for a year the amounts accumulate, and in many cases it is no easy matter to settle a bill.

We have, therefore, come to the resolution to, in future, make out and collect our accounts for advertising and job work quarterly, and we hereby give notice that this rule will, in all cases, be strictly enforced. We believe that its adoption will be of equal benefit to our patrons as to us, and we shall, in no case, make an exception.

We are now sending out our accounts for the past year, and we must insist on the immediate settlement of them in all cases, otherwise we will have to take the usual but unpleasant steps to enforce payment.

MONDAY EVEN'G, JAN. 14, 1878

Provincial Prisons and Asylums.

Mr. Langmuir's report on the working of the Provincial Prisons and Asylums to the 30th September last, is a bulky volume, and there is much in it of great interest to the people, as we are here furnished with the criminal statistics of the Province, the condition of our prisons, gaols and asylums, the number of inmates in each, and much other information.

That crime is on the increase is shown by the returns published. The commitments during the year ending September last, were 13,481, as compared with 11,286, in the year previous. In 1869 there were only 5,655 in confinement, which gives an increase of 138 per cent. as compared with 1877, or an average annual increase since 1869 of near 15½ per cent. This increase is fair in advance of any corresponding increase in our population. The crimes are divided as follows: — Against the person 990, against property 2,773, against public morals 415, against public order 8,554, the balance of the 13,481 being made up of lunatics confined in gaol for want of bail, or for want of accommodation in the asylums. These number 749. In the classification of crimes we find the greatest increase is against public morals, the increased percentage, since 1869, being 240, and this is owing to the large increase in the number of houses of ill-fame. The increase in officers against public order, such as drunkenness, vagrancy, &c., since 1869, is 200 per cent, against public property 97 per cent, against the person 45 per cent, the crime of rape being specially mentioned as largely on the increase. In 1869 1,793 persons were committed for drunkenness, and 783 for vagrancy; in 1877 4,032 were committed for drunkenness and 3,888 for vagrancy. The increase in these two classes of crime is startling. Mr. Langmuir calls special attention to the tramp nuisance, and recommends that steps be taken to provide enforced labor within the gaol walls, or on the public streets and highways for all able-bodied men of this class, who, from sheer laziness, seek a refuge in gaol, or who commit some petty crime in order to get into it. The Government, no doubt, had this recommendation in view when they promised, in the Speech from the Throne, a measure which will provide for the employment of such persons in gaol yards or on the public highways. The startling increase in the number of drunkards since 1869 is another serious question for the Legislature, and for all of us to consider, and see if some effectual measure cannot be devised for crippling and destroying this terrible evil.

Of the 13,481 persons committed throughout the Province last year, 4,075 were acquitted on being arraigned (chiefly tramps remanded over night and discharged in the morning), 8,470 found guilty and sentenced, and the remainder held over for trial or confined in default of bail, or as lunatics, etc. Of the 8,470 convicted, 157 were sent to the Penitentiary, 652 to the Central Prison, 72 to the Reformatory, and 7,589 confined in the common gaols. The nationality and religion of the persons committed were as follows:—

Canadian	5,413	Roman Catholic	5,142
English	2 317	Church of England	4,491
Irish	3,733	Presbyterians	1,637
Scotch	781	Methodists	1,6 2
American	871	Other denominations	6 9
Other countries	361
	13,481		13,481

Their habits and educational status:—

Temperance	5,213	Could read or write	10 489
Intemperance	8 268	Illiterate	3,001
	13,481		13,481

From Mr. Langmuir's report we find that since Confederation three lunatic asylums with accommodation for 2,800 persons, have been built, besides an asylum for idiots, institutions for the education of the deaf, dumb and blind, and the Central Prison. The total amount expended on these works since 1867 is $2,000,000, beside $200,000 spent by the counties on their gaols, and another $200,000 by the various corporate bodies having charge of hospitals and other benevolent institutions; making in all an expenditure close on $2,500,000 within ten years. We find from the returns that there has been a steady increase in the number of insane and idiotic patients. On the 30th September, 1876, the total number under confinement was 1,812, while on the 30th September last there were 1,999 patients, exclusive of 31 insane persons confined in county gaols, and 22 insane convicts in the Kingston Penitentiary. The total number of insane persons who have been under treatment in the Provincial asylum since 1867 now reaches 7,108. Of these 3,290 have been discharged, 1,718 died, 101 escaped, and 1,999 remain in confinement. The annual cost of maintenance of these varies considerably. The cost per patient at the Toronto Asylum is $138, at the Rockwood Asylum $143, at the London Asylum $140, at the Hamilton Asylum $165, at the Orilla Asylum $202. The average cost of each patient would thus be $145, on $2.79 a week.

Mr. Langmuir does not speak hopefully of the future prospects of the Canada Car Company in employing the labor of the Central Prison. It is likely to prove a total loss to the shareholders, and the Warden of the Prison recommends the Government to take the manufacturing operations of the prison into their own hands.

At an adjourned meeting of the South Grey Reform Association held in the Town Hall, Durham, resolutions were passed endorsing the policy and acts of the Dominion and Ontario Governments. Dr. Landerkin, the present member, was unanimously chosen as candidate in the Reform interest for the coming contest.

A contemporary says it is currently reported that several wealthy capitalists in St. Catharines have associated themselves together for the purpose of erecting a large paper mill at Merriton next spring. Why will these manufacturers persist in investing their money in new mills and machinery when they are told every day of the week by the protectionist organs that their capital will only be squandered, and that manufacturers can't live without a raise in the tariff?

The nomination for the Digby election took place on Saturday. Hon. M. Vail and Mr. Wade were nominated. A Halifax despatch says that a public meeting was held, and the speaking continued from 2 till 9:30 o'clock. Besides the candidates, the speakers were, on Mr. Vail's side, Mr. J. W. Langley, a young Halifax lawyer, and on Mr. Wade's side, Dr. Tupper and Thibeault, that notorious person having been imported from Montreal by the Tories. Mr. Vail's election is considered sure.

Mr. Geo. Haddow has been returned by acclamation for Restigouche, N.B. The nomination took place at Dalhousie on Saturday. After his nomination he made a brief speech, declaring that he held an independent position, which he considered was best for the interests of the country at the present time. David Ritchie, of Dalhousie, who had issued his card to the electors, made a speech condemnatory of the Government, and referring to Haddow as a supporter of it. Haddow replied, again declaring that he was independent, and that he would pursue such a course as would best serve the interests of the country. Ritchie was not nominated, and Haddow was elected by acclamation.

It is said that an effort will be made to change the hours of opening the Ontario Legislature and carrying on its business. Many object to the late sessions of the House, and are in favour of having a forenoon session from eleven till two p.m., then a second from three to six, when the business of the House would be closed for the day. It is proposed that the Committees, which now meet in the forenoon, could have their sittings at night. The proposed change is a good one. It would greatly benefit the health of members, and would in no way retard public business.

It is said that the great question on which the Opposition are to test the strength of the Government this session is:—"Should the House meet before or after Christmas." Mr. Cameron, or Macdougall or some other Opposition light is going to move that it should meet before Christmas, and as the Government would doubtless refuse to be committed to any special time of meeting, the question will be treated as one of confidence, or no confidence in it. Mr. Mowat had better set his house in order before this tremendous onslaught.

The enormous number of business failures in Canada, within the last three years—5,586, involving the immense aggregate of $79,871,958—will convey some idea of the extent to which trading has been overdone, or forced alone into improper channels. Last year there were 1,890 failures, aggregating $25,000,000 liabilities. Who pays the costs involved in all these cases? The wholesale men, of course. Then what kind of profits are reckoned on goods that will bear this strain? This is something for solvent retail merchants to think about, for it follows that besides paying a large percentage in excess of what would be a good profit to the wholesale dealer, they must also pay another large sum to ensure this same dealer against the contingency of the bankruptcies.

The Ottawa Board of Trade has been trying to shape its business on a political basis, just as attempts are being made to run the Dominion Board to suit the purposes of the protectionists. In consequence of this Hon. Mr. Skead has resigned the chairmanship of the Ottawa Board, and has refused as well to represent it at the forth coming annual meeting of the Dominion Board. Last year Ottawa sent to the Dominion Board Messrs. Skead and Pennock, free traders, and Francis Clemow, official assignee, high Tory and Protectionist. This time the Protectionist element managed things their own way. At a hole-and-corner meeting they re-elected Clemow, shoved aside Pennock and substited for him a Tory from the village of Manotic, named Dickinson, who is also a Protectionist. They did not get the length of removing Mr. Skead, also, but they did what was equal to the same thing—they passed a resolution requiring all the delegates to vote for a protective tariff. This it appears Mr. Skead refused to do, on the ground that it is an attempt to muzzle him, and the same time to force him to stultify himself, hence his resignation of the presidency and his refusal to act on the delegation. It is almost unnecessary to say that he was not present at the meeting which appointed him and at the same time told him what he was to do. Mr. Skead is a well-known Conservative, although very independent, and his action has caused a good deal of speculation and discussion.

The Dominion Board of Trade is to meet at Ottawa on the 15th inst.

A movement is on foot to purchase a home in Toronto for Mr. Rose, the temperance advocate, who has decided to become a permanent citizen of this Province.

The trustees of section No. 1, West Garafraxa, had one Duncan Cameron fined $1 and costs for wantonly shooting a gun through a window of the school on Christmas day.

Presentation at Fergus.—On the evening of the 4th instant Mr. Thomas Chisholm, assistant teacher in the Fergus High school, was made the recipient of a gold watch, accompanied by a complimentary address, by his former pupils who have passed successful examinations for teachers' certificates of various grades, matriculation in medicine, and in arts.

To County Councils.—The Minister of Education has issued the following memorandum in reply to an Inspector's inquiry as to travelling expenses:—With reference to the minimum allowance of five dollars per school from the County cannot be legally held to include the travelling expenses; and the County Inspector is entitled to be paid a reasonable allowance for such expenses. Failing the amount being determined by the County Council, the County Inspector would be entitled to collect his actual expenses from the County Treasurer. The Act plainly means that the allowance to the County Inspector from the Council should at least be the same for the inspection of each school as that payable out of the legislative grant; and to dismiss this amount from the council by the travelling expenses of the Inspector would be a breach of the law. This is not only for your own information, but for that of all county Inspectors throughout the Province.

From the Owner of the celebrated trotting-horse Henry.—All you claim for your Liniment Iodide of Ammonia, Dr. Giles, is correct. I used it with great success on my horse Henry. It is the best article I ever came across. One trial will convince any horseman of its value.

NEW GOODS.

Constant Additions to our Stock.

6 Cases New Goods, Special Lines, opening To-day.

We have pleasure in soliciting the attention of all our friends and customers to the following New Goods which we are now receiving into stock, and deem worthy of special attention:

Two cases new American White Cottons soft finish, full widths, and best goods, at 10, 12½ and 15 cents a yard.

1 Case—5000 yards—new Swiss Embroideries, chaste and beautiful patterns, and best widths, at 10, 12½, 15 and 20 cents a yard. The ladies of the town will find these goods about one-half cheaper than last season's prices. We hope to clear the entire lot this month. The prices will make them sell.

60 pieces new Rumlings, in Muslin, Tarlatan and Crefetise—very latest designs.

New Real Torchon Laces, at present so popular in Paris, London and New York, in various widths, from 35 cents to $1.50. We also show an extraordinary job lot of real Maltese Laces, which we trust every lady will make a point of seeing at once. The prices will sell them rapidly.

We also show to-day the new and handsome Brocaded Silks which are so much the rage in all the leading centres of fashion in Europe and America. We ask the ladies of Guelph to see these goods at once. Magnificent Silk and Chenille Fringes to match each shade.

Our stock of Kid Gloves is at present very large and well assorted, in all the new shades. Ladies will find no difficulty in making selections from our stock of kids.

Our Haberdashery and Fancy Goods Departments have been fully replenished within the past few days with new goods suitable for the season, and are now very attractive.

We particularly invite those who find it difficult to obtain what they require elsewhere to visit these departments.

We have also opened up full lines of Plain and Twilled Sheetings, Grey Cottons, Pillow Cottons, Prints, Towellings, Tickings, Black Lustres, Black Cashmeres, etc., etc. It will afford us pleasure to receive your inspection of the above goods.

CHAPTER XV.

DADDY DUFF IN PERIL OF HIS LIFE.

"In the fiend's name, what do you mean?" hissed Dick, in mingled fury and consternation.

"Is dossna maitter yeay muckle sere what I mean," replied the beggar, "for I hae heard that the snared bird is found. I only wanted tae gae 'ye a proof that I am nae an informant."

Dick clenched his teeth, and sank back upon his seat muttering, "He surely must have communication with the very devil himself."

"Weel, lads," went on Daddy, looking round and addressing the whole group who had stood silent, but deeply attentive spectators of the scene, "noo that I ken what is yer charge against me, I can easy see that ye had some reason for believin' that I am a spy and a traitor, but I can tell you honestly that the truth lies exactly the ither way. That unfortunate nicht o' the convoy I did everything that mortal could tae gae ye warnin, and turn ye back, and if Tam Corbet was here, he wad tell ye that when I foregathered wi'm on the hill, I was tryin' my best to meet ye abune the place whaur the gauger and his men lay, tae toll ye they were there."

"And how did ye know they were there!" suddenly demanded one of the by-standers.

"Ay; how did you know it," yelled Dick.

Daddy was silent, and at his hesitation their rage burst forth.

"You are taking time to hatch a lie," thundered Dick, dealing a blow on the wooden board, sufficient to kill bullock. "Speak out at once. How did you know it?"

"Weel, I'll tell ye; but ye see the affair concerns mair fouk than I see here. The letter I got tae deliver tae the gauger was ane that I took a peep intae by the road; for, though ye hae suspected me sae muckle this day, I can tell ye that I hae ever been true to the smugglers, and thinking I micht dee them a good turn if I kenned the contents. I opened it, for ye see it was fastened only wi' a wafer. Weel, a' that was in it was a line askin' the gauger tae meet the writer that nicht at Loch o' Skeene. I thocht this gey queer, and suspectin' that it meant some harm tae you smugglers, I creepit tae the place o' meetin' by the side o' the loch, and heard their crack. It was then the gauger got information aboot the convoy, and if I had only heard them mention what side o' the Hill o' Fair ye were tae come by I wad hae warned ye in time; but I didna hear this, and sae when the neist nicht cam' I waited at the end o' Corstane road till the gauger and his men gaed past, and followed close ahint them. Sae sune as I saw them tak' up ambush amang the rocks I made up the hill as fast as I could; but I lost my way, and seekin' for it when I met in wi' Tam Corbet. Now, that's the God's truth, as shure as I stand here; and I leave ye tae judge if I deserve the usage I hae had fae ye this day."

The air and tone of veracity with which Daddy related this convinced his hearers that he spoke the truth, and they began to have compunctions for the cruel treatment they had given him. But the tide which was setting in his favour was turned by Dick, who said—

"That may be the truth, but it is not the whole truth. We want to know who sent you with the letter—and met with the gauger at the loch—for that is the traitor whom we have to bring to account. Now, who was it?"

As he repeated the crucial question, Dick's eyes glared hatefully and beat eagerly forward for the answer, the others also standing in breathless attitude to catch it.

"I'm no at liberty tee answer that," returned Daddy.

"He's been bribed," said more than one voice.

"He maun be forced tae tell's," cried others.

"Hoolie, bairns—hoolie. Dinn get sae angry," responded Daddy. "As for the suspicion o' bribery, I scorn tae notice it. Ye are a wheen thankless creatur's that turn against yer best freends without rhyme or reason. Bribed, indeed!" he went on, for nothing roused Daddy's indignation like a charge such as this. "Had my inclinations run that way I could hae been bribed mair owre and owre again, for the offer has been made me mair than ance, and siller galore micht hae been mine had I liket tae become the mean thing ye hae ca'd me—a spy and an informer. But I spurned the offer wi' as muckle disdain as I spurn your vile suspicions. Look at me. Hae I the appearance o' a man that has either the use or desire for siller? My bite and my sowp, a pickle sneeshin', a wheen duds o' claes, and a straw bed at e'en is the hale extent o' my wants, and never yet hae I found them unsupplied. What sud tempt me, then, tee turn informer, or——"

"Then tell us who sent the letter," thundered Dick. "Tell us who met Gillespie at the loch, and betrayed our secrets?"

"Ah, tell us that," was shouted forth in full chorus.

"I have already said that I dinna feel mysel' at liberty tae tell ye."

"Say you so. Then I'll find a way of forcing it from you. I'll have it out of you, if I have to cut it out with a skeandu."

"Ay, or blaw it oot wi' o pistol." added the old man, in a significant tone.

Dick blanched for a moment to the lips, then, with a roar like that of a wild beast, he drew a long-bladed knife from his belt, and was making a lunge at Daddy's breast, which would inevitably have brought his life to a close had not the man who stood next him dashed up his arm and then grasped it firmly.

Doctor, it Feels Like a Ball of Fire!!

So speak oftentimes the sufferer from Dyspepsia. After eating, it seems as if there was a veritable ball of fire running up and down through his stomach. If he eats much he feels it; if he don't eat much he feels it. It destroys his enjoyment of life. If the doctor be really desirous of curing his patient he should not experiment with the sufferer, he should recommend him to use PERUVIAN SYRUP, whose merits have been tested so long, and always satisfactorily. Balls of fire in the stomach and PERUVIAN SYRUP can't dwell together. Send to your druggist; he keeps it always ready, and try it. It will work like a charm.

Do your Spectacles Suit your Eyesight?

If not, you should at once get them exchanged for a pair that will, for nothing is more injurious to to the sight than using glasses which are misfitted. If they are too strong or too weak there is a continual strain upon the nerves and cords of the eye, creating an inflammation which will, if you continue using the misfitted pair, ruin the eyesight altogether. Many merchants who sell spectacles know little or nothing about the principles of fitting the eyes, and you are therefore liable to buy a wrong pair just because they seem to suit when you first try them on, which, after wearing for an hour or so, will "draw" until it is painful to wear them. From my study of the eye, and long experience in selling spex, I can safely affirm that more eyesights are destroyed by wearing improperly fitted glasses than from any other cause. I have an instrument invented by Kent Brothers, Toronto, which proves to a certainty what number of lense you should use, with which I will be pleased to test anyone who desires it, without any charge.

GUELPH, DEC. 26TH, 1877.

MESSRS. JOHN HOGG & SON

Offer the Compliments of the Season, to all of their patrons, and at the same time they request immediate payment of all claims standing in their books now unpaid. Mr. Hogg, Senior, leaves in January, (this month) for the English markets, to make purchases for the coming Spring and Summer business. And however reluctant we may feel, yet our business necessities make it imperative on us, to compel payment from all who are in our debt; and at the latest date, by 15th January, 1878, all unpaid at that date will, without favor or affection, be handed to A. A. Baker, Esq., Clerk of Division Court, for Collection.

JOHN HOGG & SON.

Book Notices.

THE INTERNATIONAL REVIEW.—We have received from A. S. Barnes & Co., New York, the publishers, the January number of this Review. This is the first number of the fifth volume, and is a promising beginning of the year. The International is designed to fill the place in this country that the Contemporary and Fortnightly Reviews occupy in England, and it comes up well to high standard set by these periodicals. The different subjects are ably handled, and if some of them purely American are not of special interest to the Canadian reader, yet he will find much that will interest and instruct. The number opens with a beautiful and appreciative sonnet on Thiers by Whittier. The other contents are: Elements of National Wealth, by David A. Wells; The second harvest at Olympia, by Ernest Curtius; First impressions of Athens, by Edward A. Freeman; Sumner's place in History, by Ben. Perley Poore; Money and its Laws, by Prof. Sumner; Imperial Federalism in Germany, by Baron Von Holtzendorff; Modern Love, by Dr. S. Osgood; The Count of the Electoral Vote, by Alex. H. Stephens; Art in Europe, by Philip Gilbert Hamerton; and the usual copious review of English, American, French, German, and Italian books. The International is in all respects a first-class Review. It can be had of the Publishers or can be ordered through the booksellers in town. It is published on the first of every second month at $1 per number, or $5 a year.

MOTTOES AND APHORISMS FROM SHAKESPEARE: London, John Hogg, Paternoster Row. This is a neat little volume, giving all the mottoes and aphorisms from Shakespeare that are worth producing. They are arranged alphabetically, with copies of index of words and ideas. We have here in convenient form upwards of 2,000 of the very heart and soul of Shakespeare's writings. They are full of emphasis and power, abounding in fine feeling and words of wisdom, and sparkling with poetry and humour. The reader in his perusal on every page finds gems of the purest ray, which he recognizes as old friends and as household words. Those who wish to get the best of Shakespeare, without reading the whole of his works, will find it in this handy volume. Copies for sale at Day's bookstore.

RULES FOR MAKING ENGLISH VERSE: London, John Hogg, Paternoster Row:—This little work is a practical guide to English versification. It deals with the rules of rhyme and verse generally, classic versification, mitre, and other rules essential to the composition of correct poetry. Much valuable information can be gleaned from such rules by those who are not born poets, and even these would do well to study this book, as it would greatly help them to polish and perfect their verses. The dictionary of rhymes is very copious, and will be found of great value, also the remarks in the appendix on English versification, and the rules for making English verse. Copies for sale at Day's bookstore.

NEW VOLUME OF LITTELL'S LIVING AGE. The first two numbers of the new volume of The Living Age, bearing date January 5th and 12th, respectively, have the following noteworthy contents:—Russian Aggression as specially affecting Austria, Hungary, and Turkey, by Louis Kossuth, ex-Governor of Hungary; Erica, a fine German serial, by Frau von Ingersleben; Humming Birds, by Alfred Russell Wallace Doris Barugh, a Yorkshire Story, by Katharine S. Macquoid, author of "Patty," etc.; On the Hygienic Value of Plants in Room and the Open Air, by Prof. Max von Pettenkofer; Within the Precints, a new story by Mrs. Oliphant, from advance sheets; Florence and the Medici, by J. A. Symonds; Charlotte Bronte, Heligoland, Rugby Football, Forgetfulness, together with the usual choice poetry, and miscellany. In the next weekly number a new serial by William Black will be begun, from advance sheets, which promises to be his best work. To new suscribers for 1878, the last seven numbers of 1877, containing the first parts of the German serial, and a story by Miss Thackeray, with other valuable matter, are sent gratis. For fifty-two numbers, of sixty-four large pages each (or more than 3000 pages a year), the subscription price ($8) is low; or for $10.50 any one of the American $4 monthlies or weeklies is sent with The Living Age, for a year, both postpaid. Littell & Gay Boston, are the publishers.

ELORA.—The village branch Bible Society held its annual meeting on the 9th inst. The report of the Treasurer showed that the monthly collections for the past year, including the collection at the annual meeting amounts to $15 67, and fall short of those of the previous year by $12. The subscriptions, including $3.50 from Minto amount to $36 51½, and are short of those of the previous year by $2.16½. The total receipts for the year are thus $52.18½, as against $66 35, showing an decrease of $14.16½. The following officers were elected: President, Rev. A. D. McDonald; Vice-Presidents, Ministers connected with the Elora B. T. Society; Secretary, Rev. Jas. Middlemiss; Treasurer, Mr. Wm. Kerr; Auditors, Mr. Geo. Barron, and Mr. Geo. Thomson; Depositary, Mr. G. Barron.

The annual soiree in connection with the Presbyterian Church, Alma, was held last week, and about $600 realized.

Dr. Wm. Gray's Specific Medicine

The Great English Remedy is especially recommended as an unfailing cure for Seminal Weakness, Spermatorrhea, Impoten y, and all diseases that follow as a consequence of Self Abuse, as Loss of Memory, Universal Lassitude, Pain in the Back, Dimness of Vision, Premature Old Age, and many other diseases that lead to INSANITY or CONSUMPTION and a PREMATURE GRAVE, all of which, as a rule, are first caused by deviating from the path of nature, and over indulgence.

The Specific Medicine is the result of a life study and many years of experience in treating those special diseases. Pamphlet free by mail.

THE Company's special system of Loans affords to borrowers, and especially to Farmers, the following most important advantages:—
1. The borrower is NOT OBLIGED to repay any part of the principal until the whole term of the Mortgage has run.
2. He has the RIGHT (after the first year) to repay at any time, the whole or any part of the Loan, without prior notice to the Company.
3. No extra charge, bonus or otherwise, is exacted on such repayment.
4. He is requested when making application for the Loan, to state the day on which he wishes interest to be made payable. He thus can stipulate for a date, say after harvest, or at such time as is likely to be most convenient for him.
5. Interest can be made payable once a year—not in advance.
6. On repayment of any part of the principal, interest on such amount immediately ceases.

CHANCERY SALE

OF

HOTEL PROPERTY

In Guelph.

PURSUANT to a decree of the Court of Chancery, made in the cause of Mitchell et al., vs. Hogg et al., and bearing date the 23rd day of November, A. D. 1877, there will be sold, with the approbation of J. Watson Hall, Esq., Master of the said Court, at the Market House, in the town of Guelph, on at the hour of half-past one o'clock in the afternoon, that valuable property known as Soden's Hotel property, having a frontage of about 117 feet on Macdonnell street, and depth of 105 feet, and better known and described as lot 109, north side of Macdonnell street, in the Canada Company's survey of the town of Guelph, containing one-quarter of an acre more or less, and on which is erected a two-story rough-cast hotel, with commodious frame stabling, &c.

Saturday, 2nd of February, 1878

This property is situated in the centre of the town of Guelph, and produces a rental of $500 per annum and taxes. Immediate possession given, or an arrangement may be made with present tenant to continue under existing lease.

The purchaser at the time of sale will pay a deposit of ten percent. of the purchase money to the Vendor's solicitor, and the balance thereof into the Court, to the credit of the said cause, within one month thereafter. In other respects the conditions of sale are the standing conditions of sale of the Court of Chancery.

For further particulars apply to Messrs. Dunbar & Johnston, Vendor's Solicitors, Messrs. Guthrie, Watt & Cutten, A. H. Macdonald, Esq., or A. M. McKinnon, Esq., Guelph, or to John Hoskin, Q. C., Toronto.

TUESDAY EVEN'G, JAN. 15, 1878.

CALEDONIAN SOCIETY.

Annual Meeting—Election of Officers.

The annual meeting of the above Society was held last night in the Caledonian Rooms. A large number of members was present, and the greatest interest was evinced in the proceedings. The Society, now numbering over 250 members, has become one of the institutions of the town, and considering the short time it has been in existence, its growth is remarkable. The gratifying results of last night's report is indeed a credit to the energetic Scotchmen of this town, and shows how successful any undertaking can be made when in proper hands. The first chieftain, Adam Robertson, jr., occupied the chair, Chief Massie being unavoidably absent at the House now in session in Toronto. The Treasurer's Report was read, showing a balance in hand of seventeen dollars. The statement showed that a large amount of the proceeds of this year had been applied in liquidation of old debts, and that this represents the correct financial standing of the Society after payment of all liabilities. The Secretary also presented his report, showing a membership of 257, an increase of over 150 during the present year. The reports will be published to-morrow, want of space preventing us from giving them in full to day. A petition from C. Acton Burrows & Co., of the Herald, soliciting greater patronage than heretofore, was laid by special request of that firm before the meeting, but nothing was done in reference to it except that it was referred to the Executive Committee. The meeting evidently thought that this was a matter in the discretion of the Committee, and that needless expense was uncalled for.

The following is a list of the officers for the ensuing year:—
Chief—James Innes.
1st Chieftain—Adam Robertson, Jr., re-elected.
2nd Chieftain—Robert Stewart.
3rd Chieftain—Dr. Cowan.
4th Chieftain—Thos. Dobbie.
Secretary—E. F. B. Johnston, re-elected.
Assistant Secretary and Treasurer—A. M. McKinnon.

All the above officers were elected by acclamation. A large number of gentlemen were proposed as members of the Executive Committee, and the meeting immediately proceeded to ballot for the nine required.

The result of the ballot was as follows:—Messrs. R. Fyfe, Jno. Spalding, Robt. Mitchell, James Bruce, John McKenzie, James McIntosh, R. Buchan, Wm. Stewart, and A. Bruce.

These gentlemen were accordingly declared elected members of the Executive Committee. Capt. Bruce was appointed Grand-Marshal; Revs. Thomas Wardrope and J. C. Smith, Chaplains; and Drs. Cowan, Howitt and Macdonald, Physicians. Robert Boyd was re-elected Bard, and Messrs. D. Mackintosh and John Mitchell, re-appointed Auditors.

A Committee composed of Messrs. Fyfe, Johnston, Stewart, Mitchell, and Innes was named, for the purpose of making the necessary preparations for celebrating the anniversary of the Society—25th January. The entertainment will likely take the shape of a concert and dance.

Before the meeting closed, a motion expressive of the high esteem in which Chief Massie is held by the Society, and containing an acknowledgment of his valuable services since the Society was first started, was passed amidst enthusiasm. He was also elected an honorary life member of the Society, in slight token of regard for his devotion to its interests. Thus closed the largest and most energetic meeting yet held amongst the Caledonians.

Lord Derby is confined to his room.

George Cruickshank, the artist, is seriously ill.

The British Court goes into mourning for three weeks for Victor Emmanuel.

Sweden is about to cede to France the West Indian Island of St. Bartholomew.

The report that King Alfonso's marriage has been postponed in consequence of Victor Emmanuel's death is contradicted.

The boat race on the Tyne on Monday, between Boyd and Higgins, for the championship of England, was won by the latter upon a foul.

In the case of the Oka Indians on trial at Ste. Scholastique, it is rumoured that the jury are divided—six standing for conviction and six for an acquittal.

The ocean steamship Hermann took fire on Friday when four hundred miles from Sandy Hook, but the flames were suppressed before any panic was caused.

SORE LEGS, varicose veins and ulcers, sereous discharge, desquamation of the cuticle, are all cured by GILES' LINIMENT IODIDE OF AMMONIA.

Stanley, the African explorer, arrived at Marseilles on Monday. During his stay in Rome he was presented with a complimentary letter and gold medal from the late King.

One Marlton, a Washington lawyer, has been arraigned in London for extradition on a charge of embezzling $18,000. He was committed for the usual fifteen days before removal to the United States.

Arrangements have been made by the Spanish Government which will expose ex-Queen Isabella to the most rigorous treatment should she endeavour to cross into Spain to be present at King Alfonzo's wedding.

The surrendered chief of the Galekas in South Africa is endeavouring to make terms with the British, who insist upon the unconditional surrender of one of the former's subordinate chiefs, who is still at large with two hundred followers.

Slade, the Spiritualist, has been expelled from Vienna, being unable to describe his vocation satisfactorily to the police.

Owing to the lack of snow in the woods, lumbering has been suspended by some of the operators, and consequently a large number of men have been discharged.

Petitions for and against cumulative voting, proposed by Mr. Bethune in the Ontario Assembly, are in circulation in Ottawa.

A CURIOUS FACT.—That in severe chronic cases which have proved the most obstinate to other medicines, Wilson's Wild Cherry gives immediate relief and effects a speedy cure. It has no equal for Coughs, Colds, Coryza, Bronchitis, Loss of Voice, Catarrh, Whooping Cough, for Croup. Sold by W. G. Smith; Herod & Co., and druggists generally.

Local News Items.

GUELPH GENERAL HOSPITAL.—The Directors acknowledge with thanks the donation of ten dollars from Mr. John Griffiths.

BUSINESS MEETING of the Guelph Christian Temperance Club will be held in the Y. M. C. A rooms this evening.

THE young limbs of the law, members of the Students' Law Society, meet this evening over Lemon & Peterson's law office.

PORK has taken a drop in price. $5 was about the highest price paid on the market to-day. The ruling prices are from $4.25 to $5 per cwt.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.—A letter, bearing date December 28th, from Mr. Kirkland, Ladner's Landing, states that the winter up to that date had been very fine, and that on that day Mrs. Kirkland had gathered a boquet of flowers from the garden.

THE Chairman at each annual school meeting should remember that he must send to the Inspector, within fourteen days after the meeting, a copy of the minutes, signed by himself and the Secretary, under a penalty of $5.

TOWN COUNCIL.—Special meeting of Town Council for general business this evening. The wind-up of the year is approaching, and the Committees which have already had their reports passed are doubtless congratulating themselves on their removal off the ragged edge. Something has been said about christening the child of the corporation this evening.

RECITATIONS AND READINGS. — Messrs. Dick & Fitzgerald, publishers, New York, have lately issued two small volumes, one containing readings and recitations for adult children, or grown up people, and the other having well selected dialogues and recitations for very little boys and girls The volumes are nicely printed, and can be procured at any of the bookstores, or from the publishers.

TEMPERANCE READING ROOM.—At a meeting of Beaver Temple last evening a committee was appointed to take subscriptions in books, periodicals, money, etc., for the establishment of a reading room for the benefit of temperance men out of employment, and those who desire a place to spend their evenings. Already considerable encouragement has been given.

ERAMOSA TOWNSHIP ELECTION.—Mr. JNO. A. DAVIDSON, Township Clerk, writes to the MERCURY stating that at the counting of the votes given at the late municipal election for the township of Eramosa, the Messrs. Loghrin and Rea respectively, as candidates for the office of Reeve, the actual total numbers were Loghrin, 150, Rea, 294, but by oversight—owing to an obscure figure—the number for Rea was read off as 204; Rea's real majority being 144.

AN ORDER FROM AFRICA.—Mr. Robert Parker, carriage builder, of Guelph, has just received a large order from Grahamstown, Cape of Good Hope, for four covered buggies and three covered democrats. On account of the intense heat of the climate the covers are to be all of the best white canvas. Vehicles built in Guelph are sure to give satisfaction in that far off colony, and doubtless the order received is only one out of the many that will be. Mr. Parker has shown us a paper from Grahamstown, which would be a credit to any Canadian or American town.

LUNACY.—Last evening the young man Mason, a lunatic evidently having singular ideas about religion, startled an audience in the town hall last evening while they were enjoying the entertainment provided by the Christian Temperance Club, by quickly running over the backs of the seats from the stage to the extreme end, and then returning back again. He did all this so quickly that not a few ladies were frightened at his strange antics. Mason wound up his portion of the performance by seizing a dog near the stage and by catching it by the legs forced it to turn several somersaults. Chief Kelly was sent for and he provided Mason with sleeping apartments for the night. It is unfortunate that Mason has not been sent to a lunatic asylum before this.

SCHOOL ITEMS.—First meeting of the School Board for 1878 is on February 6th.—Owing to the large number of pupils in attendance at the High School, the Principal has been obliged to place the first form in a room of the Central School building.—Wooden shutters are to be placed on the South Ward School to protect them from stones thrown by wicked boys.—Owing to the large increase in attendance at the Central School, another female teacher will have to be engaged. One holding a second class certificate is required.—The taking of the school census, which has frightened a number of parents into complying with the law in regard to sending their children to school has had something to do with it. Thirty-one children presented themselves for admission on Monday.—At the present time there are 479 children in town who are not receiving any education.

RAILWAY ACCOMMODATION.—Mr. Joseph Hobson, Engineer of the Great Western Railway, has made a survey of a line to run into town from the Great Western, so that all the teaming now done from the business portion of the town to the present station will be done away with. The engineer reports that there are no difficulties in the way to have a spur to run in past the St. Joseph's Hospital, with the station near the Eramosa bridge. With five or six trains day from Hamilton, and a Great Western station convenient to the business portion of the town, no complaint can be made about railway accommodation—that is when the matter has been finally settled as above. Retail merchants in Hamilton will no doubt avail themselves of the enterprise of Guelph wholesale men and purchase largely here.

Board of Education.

A regular meeting was held on Monday evening. Present—Judge Macdonald in the chair, Messrs. Peterson, Knowles, Newton, Murton, Inglis, Robertson, Wilkie, Bell, Mackenzie, Leonard, Harvy and Dr. Keating.

Mr. Torrance, secretary, reported that Mr. Wilkie had been re-elected trustee for the West Ward, Dr. Keating for the South, Mr. Mackenzie for the East and Mr. Robertson for the North.

The following accounts were submitted and referred to the Finance Committee: Burr & Skinner, $69; Burrows & Co., $17.71; G. & A. Bruce, $9; G. & A. Hadden, $5 78; Inglis & Hunter, $11.63; Mr. Pringle, 75c; Geo. Murton, $28 26, for coal.

A communication was read from George A. Somerville, requesting a room for the use of the Teachers' Association on the 25th and 26th of January.

A communication was received from Mr. Tytler, Principal of the High School, stating that in consequence of the number of pupils, it had necessitated his placing the first form in one of the rooms of the Central school.

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

Mr. E. Newton, chairman, presented a statement of the receipts and expenditures for 1877.

The High School receipts were $4,367.32; expenditure, $4,049.32, leaving a balance of $318.

The Public School receipts were $7,895.15; expenditure, $9,485,83½; balance advanced $1.590.68½.

The Central School expenditure was $8,712.38½; estimate for 1878, $7,748, to which is added as reported from the 1876 account as refunded by Council, $1,005. Balance $40.61½.

Moved by Mr. Newton and seconded by Mr. Knowles that the statement of the receipts and expenditures of the High and Public Schools be received. Carried.

SCHOOL PROPERTY.

Mr. Knowles chairman of this Committee presented a report referring to the fact that the committee had caused two boys to be summoned before the Police Magistrate who were fined for breaking windows in the South Ward School. In consequence of the number of windows being broken it was recommended that shutters be procured for the South Ward School house, and that it be the duty of the teacher to see that they are closed each evening after school hours.

On motion the report was adopted.

The petition of Mr. Somerville was granted.

Mr. Torrance made application for an additional teacher for the Central School, each teacher at the present time averaging sixty-two pupils. He considered it was necessary to have a teacher holding a second-class certificate for the new class to be formed.

CENSUS ENUMERATION.

Mr. Torrance, Secretary, presented the report in regard to the School census lately taken, which showed that in the whole town there were 71 children between seven and twelve years, who attended school less than four months in the year. The number of children attending public schools are 1,294; High school, 51; R. C. separate school, 355; private schools, 228; taught at home, 24; receiving no education, 479. Total, 2,431.

Moved by Mr. Leonard, seconded by Mr. Murton, that the Secretary be instructed to advertise for a female teacher, holding a second-class certificate, to take charge of a school in the Central School; salary, $350 per annum, and that the School Property Committee at once properly furnish a room in the building. Duties of the teacher to commence on the first of February. Carried.

The Board then adjourned.

Messrs. D. Molton and E. H. Arms have dissolved partnership.

RETURNED.—Mr. and Mrs. McLachlin have returned from Europe and are now the guests of Mr. J. D. Williamson.

PICTURES.—A great run on pictures has taken place at Anderson's bookstore during the past few days, but there are still a few left which will be sold off cheap.

POLICE COURT.—Ellen Murphy, mother, charged John Murphy, her son, with assault and battery. Dismissed with costs. Drink was the cause, one being as bad as the other.

BY advertisement in another column it will be seen that travellers can reach Hamilton by the Grand Trunk from Guelph via the Hamilton and Northwestern Railway have several hours in the city, and by leaving at 4.17 p.m. can reach Guelph by the "Dutch Mail" the same evening.

CHEAP GAS.—The Trustee of the Philadelphia Gas Works has been examining a new process of making gas, at a cost of 20c. to 35c. per thousand feet. The new process uses slack or refuse bituminous coal dust. The inventor offers the city the free use of a patent, provided the consumers are furnished at the rate of 50c. per thousand. He guarantees a saving of $10,000 to $15,- a day, and intends making the same offer to New York city. How happy the people of Guelph would be if gas could be furnished as cheaply here.

Freight business on the Intercolonial continues good. Last week there were 133 cars inward and 149 outward. The Polynesian, which arrived at Halifax on Sunday, landed 920 tons of freight for the Upper Provinces.

Methodist Missionary Meeting.

The first annual meeting of the Dublin street Methodist Church Branch Missionary Society was held on Monday evening. The attendance was good, the body of the church being well filled, and quite a number in the gallery. The meeting was opened with singing and prayer by the Rev. Mr. Ryckman. Dr. Clarke, M.P.P., of Simcoe, was present, and occupied the chair, the duties of which he discharged to the entire satisfaction of the audience.

The Rev. Mr. Brock read a few extracts from the annual report of the Parent Society, which showed that it has in operation in British Columbia, Saskatchewan, Hudson Bay Territory, and the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec 48 Indian Mission Stations, 32 missionaries, and 2,790 members. Mission stations in Japan 3, missionaries 4, membership 122. German and French stations 14, missionaries 10, members 483. Among the settlers and half-breeds in British Columbia, Red River, and Algoma Districts 24 stations, 24 missionaries, and 1,068 members. Domestic missions in the Toronto, London, Montreal, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island and Newfoundland Conferences, 416 mission stations, 436 missionaries, and 38,709 members. In addition there are 31 schools and 31 teachers; 21 interpreters and 6 ministers on circuits supplying small bands of Indians—making a paid agency in the Missionary Department of the Methodist Church of Canada of 493. The income of the Society for the year ending June, 1877, was $145,998.92; the expenditure for the same period had been $174,255.92—leaving a deficiency to be provided for this year of $28,257. The speaker urged the necessity of increased liberality in order to meet the deficiency as well as to carry on successfully the great work the Society had in hand.

After an anthem by the choir the Rev. Mr. Clarkson and the Rev. Mr. Briggs gave addresses in advocacy of the cause of missions, which have seldom, if ever, been equalled at a similar meeting.

The Rev. John Carroll, D. D., being present, gave a short address, recounting some of the great changes which have taken place since he entered the ministry, stating that his first circuit comprised nine townships.

Rev. Mr. Brock stated that since the Dublin street Church had been set off as a separate circuit, no missionary society had been formed, and he moved that the members of the official board compose such society, and that Mr. Alfred Smith be secretary thereof. The Rev. Mr. Ryckman seconded the motion, and it was carried.

The following ladies were appointed collectors: West Ward—Mrs. Osborne and Mrs. Jackson. South and East Wards—Mrs. Keables and Mrs. Husband. North Ward—Mrs. Connell and Mrs. Harper.

After a vote of thanks had been passed to the chairman, an anthem by the choir, the meeting closed, with the benediction.

This evening the annual meeting will be held in the Norfolk street Church, when the same gentlemen will deliver addresses.

TEMPERANCE SOCIAL.—The fruit social in the Town Hall on Monday evening, under auspices of the Ladies Christian Temperance Association, was a great success in every sense of the word, both as regards finance and the enjoyment of the large audience, who testified by their presence not only their appreciation of the performance, but of the good cause in which the ladies have so much distinguished themselves lately. The programme, though short, was a very good one, and ably rendered, Mrs. Budd and Miss Wilkie rendered valuable service at the piano, while Mr. Philp, Rev. Mr. Harris and Master Harris acquitted themselves as Guelph audiences understand and appreciate. The G. C. T. C. choir, under the able leadership of Mr. Pilcher, showed that they had not been idle since their last appearance on the public platform. Mr. Harris rendered a solo very effectively, as did also Mr. Cooke, accompanying himself on the piano. Mr. Millar's solo, entitled "Love at Home," accompanied by Miss Wilkie, was so well received that he was encored, and sang in response "The Cameron Men." Rev. Mr. Ball was very happy in his remarks, and especially in his last appeal to the audience to volunteer a subscription to clear off the remaining debt of the club, which was largely responded to. The Rev. Mr. Howie presided with his usual address, but was rendered somewhat nervous by the earnestness and zest which the audience displayed in nut-cracking. The younger portion seemed to enjoy themselves immensely. After a good subscription, in addition to the receipts, had been raised, this very successful social closed with the National Anthem by the choir and the full audience.

ANNUAL Missionary meeting in the Norfolk street Methodist Church this evening at 7:30.

COASTING.—A number of young lads who appear to have an idea that the sidewalk is their legitimate property for coasting purposes, should be made an example of by the Policemen. A lady was knocked down by a sled and severely injured on Macdonnell street on Monday evening. The nuisance is one that cannot be tolerated.

WATER WORKS. — Application will be made to the Ontario Legislature during the present session for an Act to incorporate the Guelph Water Works Company, with the usual powers of taking land and right of way required. Capital stock, $100,000.

TRUSTEE ELECTIONS IN THE COUNTY.—Messrs. D. Martin, E. B. Brosley and Alex. Gow have been elected trustees of the Mount Forest School Board; Messrs. Wm. Crackle and Alex. Smart have been elected for Elora schools; Mr. J. K. Barrett has been re-elected trustee of the Elora Separate school; James Appleby and W. R. Tiffin for Palmerston schools; T. P. Emes and William Grant for Drayton schools; Messrs Jos. Fearnley, S. Moore and Jas. Matthews for Acton schools; Messrs. James R. Scrimger, Peter Gillies, Walter Ford, Dr. Sylvester, W. M. Topping for Galt schools; Messrs. W. D. Hepburn and Otto Klotz for Preston schools; Messrs. Wm. Parsons, J. M. Bennett, Dr. Armstrong and Dr. Henry, trustees for the Orangeville schools.

Home and Foreign.

Chalmers' Church Missionary Association.

The annual meeting of this Association was held in the basement of the church last Monday evening. There was a large attendance, notwithstanding other meetings of an important nature, which kept a large number away who otherwise would have been present. Mr. Daniel McIntosh, president, occupied the chair, and after a few brief remarks called on the Rev. Thomas Wardrope to open the meeting, which was done by singing a psalm, reading a suitable portion of scripture, and an earnest and effective prayer.

Mr. James Philip, the Secretary, was called on, who read the following

ANNUAL REPORT.

Another year having expired, it devolves on your Committee to render an account of the trust committed to them. Ever since the Association was formed, the general financial depression has rendered its operations more difficult and less productive than they might otherwise have been expected to be. This remark is perhaps even more applicable to the last year than to that immediately preceding. Nevertheless your Committee have to report, with gratitude to God that the result of their efforts has been more favorable than at one time they ventured to hope.

For 1876 your committee had to report a sum total of $349.11 collected for the schemes of the church. The sum of $169.35 contributed by the Sabbath School made an aggregate of $518 46 for missions and other church schemes from the congregation of Chalmers' Church. For 1877 they have to report a total of $367.03. They are in a position to say, although this will be more fully stated in its proper place, in the Sabbath School report, that the contributions from the Sabbath School will raise the aggregate for the schemes of the church to $550.

It will be for the Association assembled this evening to apportion these funds, reserving a small balance for contingencies. The amount contributed by the Sabbath School will of course be apportioned as usual at the Sabbath School anniversary.

Your Committee have to report that, with a view to the more general dissemination of missionary intelligence throughout the congregation, they requested the Session, about six months ago, to give to the usual Wednesday night meeting the character and complexion of a missionary meeting, at the end of every three months. In this proposal the Session cordially acceded and the arrangement has been carried out.

It was also deemed desirable that meetings of the Committee and collectors for social intercourse and mutual encouragement, as well as for prayer, praise, and conference in relation to their work should be held, if practicable, once in three months, in the houses of such members of the church as might invite them. Three such meetings have been held; two in the manse, and one in the house of Mr. Innes. These meetings have, in the opinion of your Committee, proved occasions both of enjoyment and of profit to all present. Intimations have already been given to the Committee by several members of the church that for such meetings those engaged in the work of the Association will be welcome to their homes.

Your Committee cannot close their report without giving expression to the gratitude which they owe to the lady collectors, who have so faithfully done their work. In this expression of gratitude they are persuaded that the whole Association will heartily unite with them.

Besides apportioning the funds, it will devolve on this meeting to appoint office-bearers, committee and collectors for the ensuing year.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Mr. Melvin in moving the adoption of the report, begged leave to return thanks to those who had taken an active part in the work of the Association, and more especially to the lady collectors who had the hard work to do. He stated that the report had far more than realized his expectations, and the work done by the Association far greater than what he expected it would have accomplished at the time of its organization, and had it not been for the depression of the past few years the report would still have shown greater things. He then turned back to the contributions for the mission work of the church in the year 1873, which was $119, and read the subscriptions for each year, which yearly showed a steady increase up till the present year, when the sum was over $352, besides the Sabbath School contributions, which add largely to the amount, and which, though not fully ascertained this year, yet was as large, if not larger than last year. He was pleased to notice, without in any way underrating the efforts of other churches, that Chalmer' Church stood second or at least the third highest on the list for missionary contribution in the Presbytery of Guelph. Much of this he attributes to the system on which the Association was worked. They had an excellent method now in operation, which was far ahead of the old system of taking up collections, and the more they strove to make this a personal matter, based on a practical and systematic foundation of doing the work, the greater would the success be.

Mr. Wardrope seconded the adoption of the report, and fully agreed with Mr. Melvin in carrying on the work in the most thorough and practical manner possible. Rev. Mr. Smith and himself had determined to raise the scale of missionary contributions in the Presbytery of Guelph. Mr. Smith's church and his own were going to see which would do the best in this respect. There was going to be no mean or jealous rivalry in this work, and the church that had the most contributions, would gladly rejoice with the other and bid her God speed. With regard to the large number of collectors on the roll, he would say that a great number were held in reserve. He was glad to say that they had a number of willing workers who were ready at any time to step in and fill up when there was occasion.

Rev. J. C. Smith was then called on. He said it was good for every congregation to have a meeting set apart specially to discuss mission work. We had a large field for operation at the present time. The sum spent by the church last year in the Home and Foreign Mission work was $36,000. Mr. Smith dwelt, with great effect, on the work being done in the Home and Foreign Mission field. It had been said that missionary work at the present time was a failure and far behind that of the days of the Apostles, and went on to show that more was being done by the churches at large at the present time than in the days of the Apostles. We had great difficulties to contend with in the shape of superstition and idolatry, and in the translation of the Scriptures into the various languages. It seemed as if God had given the Anglo-Saxon race the great privilege of doing this work. During the last 300 years Christianityis the only form of religion that has made any advance, in fact other systems have gone back. The speaker urged the necessity of every man giving according to his ability for the cause of the Gospel. A church which did nothing outside of its own narrow circle was, comparatively speaking, dead. The speaker showed the great importance of the duty that devolved upon us in this respect, and argued that notwithstanding the hard times it was a bad job to commence retrenchment at the treasury of God.

Mr. Guthrie, M.P., moved the following resolution, seconded by Mr. David Stirton, with reference to the distribution of the money,

Home Mission Fund	$100 00
Foreign do do	50 00
College Fund	50 00
French Evangelization	50 00
Aged and infirm ministers and widows' and orphans' fund	40 00
Assembly, Synod and Presbytery Funds	32 00
	$322 00

Rev. Mr. Murray, of Loudon, followed in a short and admirable speech, in which he showed it to be our duty to do our utmost in the missionary cause with reference to time and contributions. This work had to begin at home in our own hearts, and gradually spread itself abroad. Every family had a great responsibility and a mighty work to do in this direction, and there was nothing more important in the church than home mission work. If we are energetic in home mission work, working up to our average ability, he had no fear of the foreign mission field. It was our duty, wherever we can get two or three worshippers in the same form as that of ourselves, to send them Jesus Christ preached by a faithful ministry. There was a great work to be done in the home field among the French Canadians. Our patriotism demanded this of us. He then demonstrated that all true blessings flow from Christianity. Much of the future of the church depended on us. We had great opportunities and it was our duty to improve them. The church must be up and be active, full of living active workers, and do their uttermost to guard against stagnation. The speaker concluded an able address with the earnest prayer that Chalmers' Church congregation might become a great power for the work of God, and that in future their contributions might go on with a still greater increase than had been manifested in the past, and that the time might soon come when the kingdoms of this world would become the kingdoms of our Lord and his Christ.

Mr. Johnston, of the Agricultural College, seconded by Mr. Tytler, in a few appropriate and well chosen remarks, moved a vote of thanks to the speakers from a distance.

A collection was taken up and liberally responded to, when the meeting was brought to a close. Altogether the meeting was a grand success, and the Missionary Association of Chalmers' Church have great reason for congratulation on their successful efforts ever since the formation of the Society.

The following are the officers elected for the ensuing year:

President, Mr. D. McIntosh; Vice President, Mr. R. Flaws; Secretary, Mr. James Philip; Treasurer, Mr. Geo. Hadden.

Committee. — Messrs. R. Melvin, W. Brown, A. Bruce, W. Tytler, W. Bruce, G. H. McIntyre, A. Hill.

Collectors.—Mrs. R Emslie, Mrs. Hill, Misses Forbes, Thomson, Logan, Bruce, Watson, Cossitt, Inglis, Smith, Wright, McPhail, McPherson, Howitt, McIntosh, S. G. Cossitt, McDonald, Carter, L. McIntosh, McPhail, Taylor, Dunbar, Kennedy, Shortreed, White, Smith, (Jeanie) McCorkindale, Mr. Geo. Watson.

Auditors.—Messrs. W. Stewart, and J. M. Bond.

Reserve.—Misses Lizzie Stewart, Annie Hadden, Bessie Bruce, Alice McIntosh, Lottie Wardrope.

The War News.

January 14.

Server Pasha, Minister of Foreign Affairs, and Namyk Pasha leave Constantinople for Kezanlik to-day to meet the Grand Duke Nicholas. They have been invested by the Ministerial Council with full powers to treat for peace.

It is reported in London that Russia has satisfactorily explained to England the terms upon which peace can be concluded with Turkey.

A Constantinople despatch says the departure of Server and Hamyk Pashas for Kezanlik has been delayed until to-morrow in consequence of a railway accident.

An Adrianople special says:—The Russians are on the railway between here and Philippopolis.

A Rome despatch says the statement that the German and Italian Ambassadors at Constantinople informed the Porte that if it permits the British fleet to come to Constantinople Germany and Italy will also demand permission for their fleets to pass the Dardanelles, is untrue.

A Paris correspondent says:—It is now known that Russia, when informing England that the armistice negotiations must be conducted directly with Turkey, declared her readiness to discuss with the English Cabinet special points which might affect English interests. This reply was the cause of the repeated Cabinet Councils.

The Turkish Deputies being unwilling to embarrass the Government, have unanimously rejected a motion asking the Ministry for information respecting the armistice.

A Pera correspondent says it is calculated that 20,000 fugitives arrived in Constantinople from Roumelia during the week. A train crowded with fugitives ran off the track near Tchatidja yesterday, and about fifty were killed and wounded.

The Turks claim that their fleet has bombarded and destroyed Eupatoria and Yalta in the Crimea.

A Belgrade correspondent says the Servians have re-occupied Kurschumlje which the Turks evacuated. The Servians have taken Vranja, and the Servian general, Belimarkovitch, with fifty battalions is marching on Prishtina.

The Servians have effected a junction with the Roumanians before Widin, and the commandant of that town has been summoned to surrender, but demands that the garrisons be allowed to march out with their arms.

EPPS'S COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provide our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage wich may save us many heavy doctor's bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.—Sold only in packets labelled—"JAMES EPPS & Co., Homœopathic Chemists, London. EXERCISING THE FRANCHISE.—John Anderson, of Arthur, put into practical operation on Monday last the good old command to "vote early and vote often." He voted in Mount Forest in the morning; proceeded by train and conveyance to vote in Arthur Village; then returning by rail he exercised his franchise in Harriston in the afternoon—thus voting four times in widely separated municipalities in one day.

Mr. Geo. Dobson, of Elma, sold his fifty-acre farm, lot 25, 9th concession, Elma, near Donegal, to Mr. W. G. Hay, of Listowel, for the sum of $1,600.

Notice to the Public.

We have for a long time been firmly impressed with the conviction that the long credit system is injurious to business and unjust to creditors, and we have come to the determination to put a stop to it. Our experience is that the practice of extending accounts over a year is a great mistake, is unfair to the creditor and burdensome to the debtor. Were settlements made, say four times a year, instead of once, the amounts would be light, and payments would be comparatively easy, whereas, when accounts run for a year the amounts accumulate, and in many cases it is no easy matter to settle a bill.

We have, therefore, come to the resolution to, in future, make out and collect our accounts for advertising and job work quarterly, and we hereby give notice that this rule will, in all cases, be strictly enforced. We believe that its adoption will be of equal benefit to our patrons as to us, and we shall, in no case, make an exception.

We are now sending out our accounts for the past year, and we must insist on the immediate settlement of them in all cases, otherwise we will have to take the usual but unpleasant steps to enforce payment.

The Evening Mercury

TUESDAY EVEN'G, JAN. 15, 1878

Toronto Correspondence.

TORONTO, Jan. 14, 1878.

When the Hon. M. C. Cameron addressed the House of Assembly on Thursday afternoon last, in reply to the mover and seconder of the Address, it was the general belief that the debate would close after a few remarks from the Attorney-General. But no sooner had Mr. Mowat taken his seat, than up rose Mr. Wm. Macdougall, who occupied the floor until the clock struck six, and it became evident that the end would not be reached until Friday evening. For when the flood-gates of talk are once lifted, it is difficult to determine the rush of words which will follow. But Friday night came, and midnight was nearly reached before a cessation of the palaver seemed probable, and then Mr. O'Donoghue moved the adjournment of the debate until Monday. Soon after three o'clock yesterday the talking match was renewed, and although Mr. McDougall, on behalf of the Opposition, proposed to the leader of the Government that the debate should end at six o'clock, and the Attorney-General was quite willing to oblige his opponents, so that they might attend the Conservative Convention last evening, there were some yet big with ideas which they desired to give forth, and the discussion necessarily went on after half-past seven. All that was said was but a repetition of what had been given utterance to by the speakers who first opened up the debate. Of course there will be differences of opinion as to the value of so much talk over so little, and the majority will look upon it as useless, and a mere waste of time. But it is probably well that grievances should find utterance if they exist, and that constituents should be thus reminded of the existence of representatives who often do little more to make themselves known than to utter their little speeches during the two or three days' talk now almost invariably indulged in after the re-opening of the House. But on the present occasion very little originality was displayed by anybody, and the speeches of members, probably from the want of something exciting to talk about, never rise above a dead level of dullness and pointlessness.

The only approach to a point was an effort made to raise a sectional feeling between the eastern and western portions of the Province, but this was so entirely without foundation that it fell lifeless upon those whom it was intended to arouse. The fact is, that railway appropriations have been as equally balanced as circumstances would admit, and that the advantage, if any, has been on the side of those living below Toronto.

Several references were made to the composition of the Ministry, and the departure made by Mr. Mowat from the platform of Mr. Blake, who declared that in an Ontario Cabinet, with such a large lay representation in the House, there should be at least one-half composed of lay members. References to the character of the present Cabinet, which is made up of five lawyers and one gentleman, who is at least half a lawyer, called forth loud cheers, and the strong declaration of Mr. Williams, of Hamilton, upon this point, galvanized the Opposition into lively manifestations of applause.

Some fun was introduced by Mr. Rosevear, and a lively passage of arms took place between Mr. Robertson and his Orange allies respecting the sudden dropping of the Orange Bill, but with these exceptions there was nothing note worthy in the whole discussion.

There is a general regret in the House that no allusion has been made in the Speech to the Exemption question. While all are agreed that churches ought not to be assessed, a large majority feel prepared to vote away many of the exemptions from taxation which now disgrace our statute book, and it was hoped, after the statement made by Mr. Mowat last year, that the question would receive the attention of the Government, that something would have been done in the matter. If any private member moves in favor of a repeal of several glaring exemptions, he will receive hearty support from both sides of the House.

The Conservative Convention now assembled in this city, will doubtless do something towards reviving Conservative hopes, and securing a respectable organization of the Conservative party. If, in addition to this, it furnishes us with that novelty, a well-defined Conservative policy, it will not be without its good effects. Of course you will have from other sources what is done in this direction, and it is unnecessary to dwell further upon the subject here.

As an off-set the Reform Association for Ontario will meet in this city about the beginning of next month, when a large attendance of the leading men of the Reform Party will be present, and the organization, already so effective, will be still further perfected. Although a general election may not be imminent, it is well to take steps to thoroughly prepare for the contest, which must come before another year has passed away, and the proposed meeting will give opportunity for carrying out the necessary work.

MR. CROOKS has moved for a Select Committee to consider the report on the subject of sanitary measures for maintaining and promoting the public health.

IT is said that Sir A. T. Galt or Hon. Mr. Robertson will be brought out in the Conservative interest in Richmond and Wolfe county, at the election for the Dominion Parliament.

There is a report current in Quebec that the opposition to the De Boucherville Cabinet, led by the Hon. Mr. Archambault, is likely to be very serious, and that the Ministry are beginning to feel very uneasy.

THE Committee appointed to decide upon a form of prayer to be used at the opening of each sitting of the Ontario Legislature, are in favor of adopting the form used the House of Commons, of Canada.

THE Brockville Recorder says the only speaker at the workingmen's demonstration to Sir John last week, who could lay any claim to being a workingman, was Mr. Beaty, of the Leader, "who by untiring industry, ground a fortune out of the Tory Government in connection with the celebrated York Roads. He is a stone crusher of the most improved pattern, equal to a ten stamp mill and always determined to secure the stamps at any cost."

CONSIDERABLE anxiey is felt in Italy as to the relaitons between King Humbert and his Cabinet. The Ministers of the late Sovereign have been retained by his successor, but they are under the ban of an immense parliamentary majority, and the present King is supposed to entertain views in opposition to them. Personally Humbert comes to the throne under favorable auspices. He has outlived the follies of youth, is a good soldier, professes sound Liberal principles, and abhors subjection to priests.

THE great question now before the United States Congress is the silver bill, which provides for paying the interest on the public debt with silver, which is valued at ninety-two cents in the dollar. The fight in the Senate commenced on Monday, when Mr. Edmunds presented an amendment to the preamble to Mr. Matthews' silver resolution, urging the obligation on the country to pay its debts in the coin in which the creditors had expected to be paid, and deprecating the coinage of the silver dollar.

SIR JOHN commenced the business of the Conservative Convention, at Toronto, on Monday night, with an address which, however, the Mail does not report. According to that sheet the work of the Convention has reference to the internal economy of the party, and so we shall be saved reading the floods of eloquence that otherwise would have been poured forth about the so-called great Conservative reaction. Mr. Wallace, M. P. for South Norfolk, is the permanent chairman, but, of course, Sir John will be the master spirit in devising ways and means for improving "the internal economy of the party."

WELCOME TO FENIAN PRISONERS.—A despatch says the ovation to the liberated Fenians, in Dublin, on Saturday, was magnificent. About fifteen thousand men were packed into the open space in front of the station, and a thousand torches were burning as the four ex prisoners, Chambers, McCarthy, O'Brien, and Daitt stepped out of the train. They were seized by stalwart men and carried on their shoulders to carriages. As the prisoners emerged from the station they were greeted with deafening cheers. The bands struck up "God Save old Ireland," and on the instant every head was uncovered, and the immense crowd sang the National air. An address of welcome was read, to which one of the prisoners replied, and the torch-light procession proceeded to an hotel. At the Home Rule conference in Dublin, Dr. Butt proposed a resolution that the Home Rule members form a separate and distinct parliamentary party, united on the principle of obtaining self-government for Ireland. It had been arranged, to avoid differences in future, that a committee meet weekly, and the party be governed by its decision.

MILLS SOLD.—Messrs. G. & J. B. Preston, of Harriston, have sold their flouring mills to the Messrs Donaldson, of Hamilton, for $7,000 cash. The Messrs. Preston are now busy erecting a new saw mill on the W. G. & B. Railway track, which will be ready for operation in a short time.

A station-master named Adam Grieve, who was formerly a switchman at Hespeler, but latterly station master at Thamesville station, was caught in the act of stealing whiskey from a barrel in the freight shed, a few days ago. He was arrested. The magistrate let Grieve go on some technicality, and the latter left with his wife for Chicago without standing on the order of his going.

It is believed that Count Schouvaloff, Russian Ambassador at the Court of St. James, is to be replaced by Count Orloff.

DEATHS.

STULL—In Guelph, on the 14th inst., Sarah Lines, wife of J. F. A. Stull, teacher, Inkerman street, aged 30 years and 7 months.

The funeral will take place on Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock. Friends and acquaintances will please accept this intimation.

An attempt was made on Sunday night to enter the store of Mrs. R. Elliott, Port Robinson, by climbing on the verandah and opening an upper window. Mr. Wise, who was sleeping within, shot one of the intruders, who then escaped. Next morning a young man was caught near Allanburg Junction with a shot wound in the thigh. He is supposed to be one of the burglars. He gave his name as James Watts, of St. Catharines. The prisoner was brought before the Magistrate, and committed to gaol to await his trial.

The Wigan cotton spinners have given notice of a five per cent reduction in their operators' wages.

NEW GOODS.

Constant Additions to our Stock.

6 Cases New Goods, Special Lines, opening To-day.

We have pleasure in soliciting the attention of all our friends and customers to the following New Goods which we are now receiving into stock, and deem worthy of special attention:

Two cases new American White Cottons soft finish, full widths, and best goods, at 10, 12½ and 15 cents a yard.

1 Case—5000 yards—new Swiss Embroideries, chaste and beautiful patterns, and best widths, at 10, 12½, 15 and 20 cents a yard. The ladies of the town will find these goods about one-half cheaper than last season's prices. We hope to clear the entire lot this month. The prices will make them sell.

60 pieces new Ruffings, in Muslin, Tarlatan and Crefetine—very latest designs.

New Real Torchon Laces, at present so popular in Paris, London and New York, in various widths, from 35 cents to $1.50. We also show an extraordinary job lot of real Maltese Laces, which we trust every lady will make a point of seeing at once. The prices will sell them rapidly.

We also show to-day the new and handsome Brocaded Silks which are so much the rage in all the leading centres of fashion in Europe and America. We ask the ladies of Guelph to see these goods at once. Magnificent Silk and Chenille Fringes to match each shade.

Our stock of Kid Gloves is at present very large and well assorted, in all the new shades. Ladies will find no difficulty in making selections from our stock of kids.

Our Haberdashery and Fancy Goods Departments have been fully replenished within the past few days with new goods suitable for the season, and are now very attractive.

We particularly invite those who find it difficult to obtain what they require elsewhere to visit these departments.

We have also opened up full lines of Plain and Twilled Sheetings, Grey Cottons, Pillow Cottons, Prints, Towellings, Tickings, Black Lustres, Black Cashmeres, etc., etc. It will afford us pleasure to receive your inspection of the above goods.

OFF AGAIN TO THE BRITISH MARKETS FOR SPRING GOODS.

WE COMMENCE OUR

GREAT CLEARING SALE

On Monday, 4th February next,

During that time we will fulfill to a demonstration all that we promise, namely, to sell all and every article we have in stock at the actual cost price of it.

We confidently refer back to our past Clearing Sales, and promise in this sale, as in all former ones, to keep faith with the public. When we advertise a Clearing Sale at cost price, we keep our word, and no matter at what loss or sacrifice it may be to us, we bind ourselves NOT TO DISAPPOINT OR DECEIVE THE PUBLIC, OUR FRIENDS OR CUSTOMERS. We ask, feeling confident of a hearty response, that all intending buyers of Fancy or Staple Doods, will advise themselves of this opportunity of supplying their requirements at a saving of 20 per cent. We ask an inspection of our goods, and the promise we make of actual cost prices; we will agree to pay expenses of a visit to our establishment if all that we here state does not turn out to be sound in every particular, Our Mr. Hogg, senior, leaves in a few days for the British Markets for spring Goods, and a clearance of present stock must be effected. People of the Town of Guelph and County of Wellington you have had a trial of the Wonderful Man for over 25 years. He has worked faithfully for your interests during all that time, and he is doing so to this day. He is strong, healthy and robust now as ever he was, and he is on the war path to exterminate and put to shame dealers in old bankrupt and moth-eaten goods. People of town and country do not be deceived. The test of a man is his past career. You have had every opportunity of knowing and judging of the Wonderful Man. All that he asks is that you consider him entitled to YOUR PATRONAGE AND SUPPORT.

John Hogg & Son only keep in stock the best class of Fancy and Staple Dry Goods, Millinery, Jackets, Ready Made Clothing, &c., and at the great reduction these goods will be offered at during the Clearing Sale will induce thousands to flock to our establishment.

CHAPTER XV.

DADDY DUFF IN PERIL OF HIS LIFE.

This was he who had been the leader of the party that brought Daddy to the cave.

"Don't be rash, Dick," he said. "That wouldn't be the way to get the information from him."

"Hands off, Dixon. Let go my arm, I say."

"No, I won't, till you change your mind."

"Curse you! who is master here—you or I?"

"Well, for that matter I don't think either of us is master. We go by your orders in all that has to do with the password; but when it comes to murder, we ain't a-going to take our share of that—ay, or allow it to be done either. Are we, mates?"

"No, no, Daddy isn't to be dirked," was the universal exclamation.

"Now you know our mind on it. Anything in reason, but nothing so savage as that."

With a ferocious growl Dick sank back in his seat, and returned the knife to its belt, muttering through his hard-set teeth

"Idiots! he'll do for us all."

"That must not be either," said Dixon, turning to Daddy, and placing himself to some extent between the latter and Dick.

"That was a near thing for you, old man," he observed, giving the mendicant an expressive nod.

"Just aboot as near as could be," returned Daddy. "Mony thanks tee ye for stoppin' the stroke."

"You'll sufficiently repay me for it if you give us the information we want. You seem to have sense about you, and should see how essential it is for us to know who is playing the traitor with us. If we are kept in ignorance our most secret plans will be revealed to the gauger, and not a convoy will ever reach its destination. Now you who profess to be our friend—nay, I will do you the justice to say that I think you have shown yourself to be so—you, I say, have it in your power to make us safe against that. Can you wonder that your refusal angers us, or that we are determined to have the secret from you. Ay, determined; for, though we are all against the violence with which you were just threatened, we are one and all resolved to keep you a prisoner till you give us the information. Just look at the thing fairly, Daddy, and you will see not only the necessity but the propriety of answering the question."

This was putting the matter in such a proper and reasonable light that Daddy began to consider if, after all, he ought not divulge all that he had learned. The situation had become so serious, not for himself only, but for others, that it seemed imperative for him to reveal all he knew.

"Weel," he at length replied, "since better canna be, I'll tell the haill story, but tae ae man only, and he's nae here the noo."

"Who is that?"

"Maister Harold Logan."

"Harold Logan!" repeated several in a breath.

"Yes; for this is something that concerns him mair than ony ane o' ye."

All were surprised, and none more so than Black Dick.

"What the devil has it to do with Logan?" he exclaimed, with angry suspicion.

"That's just what Maister Harold will ken when I tell him; but tae nae ither lievin' sowl will I breathe it; sae that's settled."

"And if he were here you promise to tell it to him?" said Dixon.

"I dee."

"Enough," cried Dick. "We expect him to-morrow. Look to him, every one of you, and see he doesn't escape; though, indeed, that is hardly possible."

"I should think that," quietly observed Daddy, as Dick strode away and disappeared in one of the recesses. "But atweel, neebors," he added, "I hae nae wish tae escape. I would rather lie doon on a puckle straw and hae a sleep; for as ye ken, my nicht's rest was some broken, forbye, the sare shakin' I got in the journey which my auld banes winna forget in a hurry."

"Wouldn't you like your belly filled first?" asked Dixon, who, with the rest, had been thrown quite into good humour by the old man's promise to make the revelation to Harold.

"'Deed wad I, for my breakfast was but scanty, and the sharp air o' the hiils has made me ravenous."

"Wait a little, then, and you shall have the best dinner you've got for many a day, You'll not find us bad fellows now that we know you are true blue; and, egad, Daddy, we owe you an apology for the rough handling we gave you; but let us drown all ill-feeling in a bicker of our best. Come, lads, broach us an anker of the double dew, it will give us an appetite for dinner, though, good sooth, we have got that already as well as Daddy."

The idea that Daddy had been unjustly used by them seemed to be generally entertained, and they now appeared anxious to make up with him by kindness of look, word and deed. Nor was he the man to cherish resentment by sullenly refusing to receive atonement in such a way. He recognized the naturalness of the mistake into which they had fallen. The fact which had come to their knowledge bore strongly against him in the absence of his own explanations, and a spy is so odious, especially to those whom he betrays, that it was little wonder they had treated him so sternly while believing that he had acted this base part. So the good-natured old man, being ready to make such full allowance for their behaviour, did not require to be mollified, but at once manifested his usual pleasant equanimity, which, indeed, he had scarcely lost throughout the whole affair.

Seats of various kinds were placed under one of the flaring torches—a keg of liquor was placed in the middle and broached—wooden bickers were filled, and one of the largest handed to Daddy to drink, which he accordingly did forthwith to a moderate extent.

"Eh, sirs, but that's prime stuff," he observed. "It's as mild as new milk."

"And quite as harmless. So drink it off, and have the bicker replenished," said Dixon.

"No, thankee," returned Daddy, giving his head an emphatic shake.

"Oh, but you must. I'm going to give a toast, which I hope you'll not refuse to pledge us."

"There's plenty in the bicker yet for that. I like a drap in moderation, but never in my life did I drink sae muckle at ainoe, but this is sae enticing that I'll finish the cog."

"And quaff a second?"

"Not for the warld."

"Why, then, you must drink my toast with what you have. Here's 'Success to our business, and confusion to the Gauger of Skene.'"

A loud shout burst from the group, who emptied their vessels with hurrahs which made the cave ring. Daddy was less demonstrative in his reception of the toast, but he drank it readily, especially to the last portion, which had for him a wider and deeper meaning than they knew of.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

Third Parliament---Third Session

January 14.

The House resumed the debate on the Address by Mr. Baxter, who expressed his satisfaction with what had been done for asylums and charitable institutions, and referred to Mr. Hay's scheme for the creation of an underdrainage fund, dissenting from the proposal.

Mr. Williams defended the Minister of Education against some of the charges made by the Opposition. He criticised adversely the Toronto and Ottawa Railway scheme, and thought a road intended as a rival to the Grand Trunk must necessarily be chimerical. In his opinion there were too many lawyers in the Cabinet, considering the proportion of lawyers to laymen in the House.

Mr. Deacon thought the statement in the Speech respecting the revival of the lumber industry was not true, in so far as the Ottawa Valley was concerned. He complained that the Eastern and Northern free grant districts were neglected in the matter of colonization road grants, and urged the Commissioner of Crown Lands to complete the sixty-four miles of road connecting the road south of the Ottawa with Lake Nipissing, which already had communication with Toronto, thus completing the circuit of the whole area between the Georgian Bay, the Ottawa, and Lake Ontario.

Mr. Dawson spoke of the progress of Algoma, favored the Toronto and Ottawa Railway, and discussed at some length the Boundary question, pointing out the weakness and inaccuracy of the report of the Commissioner appointed to draw up the case for the Dominion Government.

Mr. McMahon rallied the member for Hamilton on his opposition to the Toronto and Ottawa Railway, now that the Hamilton and North-west Railway had been subsidized. He regarded the County Model School system as a great success, and defended the appointment of a Commission to investigate the charges against officers of the Education Department, but thought the Educational system of the Province was becoming too complicated and expensive.

Mr. Boulter complained that no information had been given to the House about the sale of timber berths, and elicited from the Commissioner of Crown Lands that 375 square miles had been disposed of at $200 per mile.

Mr. Preston complained of the expensiveness and complicated character of the school system, spoke favourably of the Toronto and Ottawa Railway, and complained of the political use made of the Crooks Act in Leeds. His version of a conversation between a license commissioner who had been removed and the Commissioner of Public Works, who was accused of securing his removal because he refused to prostitute the Act for political purposes.

Mr. Fraser denied the truth of the charge. He disclaimed having ever interfered with the license officers for the purpose of making political capital, explained the ground of the removal of the Commissioner in question, and stated that he had never instructed commissioners further than to deprecate undue harshness in carrying out the law.

Mr. Hunter, after discussing for some time the causes of commercial depression and the working of the Insolvency Act, claimed that the County Model Schools were a great success, that the Crooks Act worked well, and that the Dunkin Act had been the means of producing virtual free trade in intoxicating liquors in the County of Grey. He concluded by defending the county magistrates against the disparaging remarks directed against them by the leader of the Opposition.

Mr. Ross, in reply to the remarks of Mr. Scott and others, showed by statistics contained in Parliamentary returns that more money had been appropriated and paid for schemes east of Toronto than had been appropriated and paid for schemes to the west of it. The amount appropriated to the eastern part of the Province was $2,733,692, and the amount actually paid $1,065,366; the corresponding amounts for the west were $2,177,176 and $826,272.

Mr. Widdifield dwelt at some length on the benefits effected by the Crooks Act in reducing the number of licenses, and improving the character of taverns throughout the Province. He concluded by advocating the establishment of a Public Health Department in connection with the Government.

Mr. Bell denied that there was any improvement in either the lumber trade or in industries generally, and attributed the prevailing depression to the refusal of the Ottawa Government to amend the tariff.

Mr. Wilson pointed out the inconsistencies of the Opposition on the question of emigration, and urged the establishment of a Bureau of Health, and the inspection of Asylums by a Committee of the House.

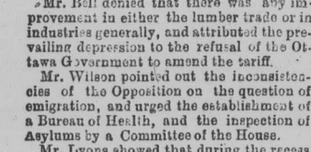
Mr. Lyons showed that during the recess many important changes for the better had been effected in the school system, especially in the direction of making it more flexible and better adapted for rural sections. After defending the rural magistrates against the assault made on their characters, he explained the successful working of the Model Schools in his constituency.

The resolutions were successively carried up to the eleventh, on which the debate was resumed.

Mr. Cameron held that the attempts to restrict the liquor traffic had caused an increase of crime rather than a diminution of it, and bore personal testimony to the excellent conduct of the guards in the Central Prison, attributing it to the discussions which took place last year on the alleged cruelties of one of the guards.

Mr. Mowat attributed the increased number of commitments for crimes to increased energy and vigilance in enforcing the laws.

The resolutions were then carried up to the sixteenth, on which the debate was once more resumed.



Macdougall (Simcoe) remarked on the singularity of the delay in the settlement of the boundary question, and repeated his objection to the settlement of the question by arbitrators, and his preference for a reference of the matter in dispute to the Privy Council. The correct western boundary he held to be as far off as the North-west Angle of the Lake of the Woods at least.

Mr. Mowat stated that no trouble had yet arisen from the delay in the settlement of the boundary dispute. A provisional boundary had been agreed upon, and the utmost diligence had been used in order to effect a settlement.

The remaining resolutions were then carried.

After resolving to go into Committee of Supply and of Ways and Means on Wednesday next, the House adjourned at half past twelve.

Dr. Wm. Gray's Specific Medicine

The Great English Remedy is especially recommended as an unfailing cure for Seminal Weakness, Spermatorrhea, Impotency and all diseases that follow as a consequence of Self Abuse, as Loss of Memory, Universal Lassitude, Pain in the Back, Dimness of Vision, Premature Old Age, and many other diseases that lead to INSANITY OR CONSUMPTION and a PREMATURE GRAVE, all of which, as a rule, are first caused by deviating from the path of nature, and over indulgence.

The Specific Medicine is the result of a life study and many years of experience in treating those special diseases. Pamphlet free by mail.

The Specific Medicine is sold by all druggists at $1 per package, or six Packages for $5, or will be sent by mail on receipt of the money, by addressing DR. WM. GRAY & CO., Windsor, Ont.

SOLD IN GUELPH BY

A. B. Petrie, W. G. Smith & Co., Herod & Co., G. H. McIntyre, and by all druggists everywhere. dw

It was thought to be a monstrous piece of extravagance when Parisian ladies began to wear gold and silver heels to their shoes, but what shall be said of Miss Thompson, an American lady, at present residing in Edinburgh? This lady possesses a young thoroughbred mare, of which she is so passionately fond that she had the animal shod in gold. The shoes were half an inch thick, and were valued at about $2,500. The nails with which they are fastened are also of gold.

1. The borrower is NOT OBLIGED to repay any part of the principal until the whole term of the Mortgage has run.

2. He has the RIGHT (after the first year) to repay at any time, the whole or any part of the Loan, without prior notice to the Company.

3. No extra charge, bonus or otherwise, is exacted on such repayment.

4. He is requested when making application for the Loan, to state the day on which he wishes interest to be made payable. He thus can stipulate for a date, say after harvest, or at such time as is likely to be most convenient for him.

5. Interest can be made payable once a year—not in advance.

6. On repayment of any part of the principal, interest on such amount immediately ceases.

GALT FAIR.—The Reporter says the January fair was largely attended by buyers if not by cattle, and prices may be said to have ruled half a cent better than at the December Fair. Cattle were by no means plentiful, but of those bought in the bulk were in fair butchering condition. Prices ranged from $4 to $7 per cent.

DISREPUTABLE CONDUCT.—It was much to be regretted that the Rev. E. B. Ryckman found it necessary to call the attention of the audience at the Norfolk street Methodist Church missionary meeting to the fact that young men—who did not, however, belong to his church—had been acting in an unseemly manner during the preliminary prayer. To say the least of it the conduct complained of was not that of gentlemen.

PUSLINCH FARMERS' CLUB.—The fourth gathering of this Club is to be held in the Town Hall, Aberfoyle, on Thursday evening, 24th inst. This year the entertainment takes the form of a social, and that popular form of entertainment gives the ladies an opportunity to attend, their more especial province, however, being caterers for the occasion. When ladies have anything to do with an entertainment there is sure to be a rich treat in store for those who attend.

ST. PATRICK'S SOCIETY.—Between thirty and forty members were present at the meeting of the St. Patrick's Society, held at the Albion last evening. Mr. J. M. Bond, President in the chair. Several new members were proposed and admitted. No action was taken about the annual festival, but after several members had expressed a desirn to have the meetings of the Society held more frequently, and made more interesting by the introduction of literary and musical exercises, the following gentlemen, viz: J. M. Bond, Col. Higinbotham, J. A. Heffernan, A. Dunbar, and E. O'Connor were appointed as a committee to ascertain if a hall can be rented for the holding of meetings, &c., and report at the adjourned meeting, to be held at the Albion Hotel on Friday evening next, at eight o'clock, when it is expected that a full attendance will be present, as some very important business will be transacted.

STOLEN GOODS.—On Monday evening, Mr. Darby, a desler in market produce, was sleeping in his house between nine and ten o'clock. He was aroused, and going to the door saw a man standing there. He was asked some peremptory questions but did not reply. Mr. Darby then retired again. When his wife returned a search was instituted, and in the adjoining room a man's coat and a piece of common dress goods were found. Mr. Darby has since learned that the goods belonged to Messrs. J. D. Williamson & Co., and has returned the piece. Whoever the thief was he must have taken the goods from the front of the store in the evening. The question why did he leave them where they where found, and who is the stranger?

The Guelph Township Stabbing Case.

Rory McCrea Committed for Trial.

On Saturday Rory McCrae was before Messrs. Geo. Elliott, Geo. Darby and John Card, Justices of the Peace, at the Court House, Guelph, charged with having stabbed William Patterson, on the evening of the 5th of January with intent to do him bodily harm. Mr. H. W. Peterson prosecuted for the Crown, and Mr. Watt defended the prisoner.

Richard Clayton was examined as a witness and told about the teasing of McCrae, by a number of young men. The prisoner was close to Patterson when he heard the latter call out that he was stabbed. After Patterson was stabbed the witness examined his clothing and found that holes had been cut in his pants, coat and smock, and looked as though made with a sharp instrument. The witness had never known the prisoner to molest any person until the evening in question.

Edward Allen also testified to the teasing of the prisoner on the night in question. He saw Patterson and the prisoner standing close together in front of Lillie's Hotel when Patterson said "Rory, come home with me." He next heard him cry out, "I think he has stabbed me." In the cross examination the witness stated that the prisoner had appeared very much annoyed at being teased. He had always before considered him an inoffensive man. He had not seen Patterson take any active part in teasing the prisoner, who was partially intoxicated.

Dr. Brock gave evidence as to the nature of the wound inflicted on Patterson. He considered the young man's life still in danger.

John H. Fox testified to a number of young fellows teasing the prisoner on the night in question. Prisoner's stick was taken away from him after he had struck Geo. Lillie. This was after snow balls had been shrown at the prisoner. He had heard Patterson ask prisoner to go home, and afterwards saw him struck by prisoner in the lower part of the abdomen. Patterson then called to witness, "Johnny, I am struck," and he went to his assistance. In the cross-examination the witness stated that Patterson had a pitchfork in his hands when prisoner stabbed him, and that the prongs were resting on the ground.

PATTERSON'S STATEMENT.

Wm. R. Patterson, the injured man, made a statement on the 8th instant before Messrs. Geo. Darby and John Card, as follows:

"I was at Alex. McDonald's threshing on last Saturday afternoon, left there about seven o'clock, and went to Marden Post Office. After coming out of the office I saw a number of boys and young men teasing Roderick McCrae, by throwing snow at him and pulling him about. After watching them a short time I went to take him away from them, and going up to him put my hand on his shoulder, and said, 'Rory, come with me.' He came two or three steps, and then turned round and struck me. I had a pitch fork in my hand that I had been using during the day. I dropped it immediately, and called out that I was cut. John Fox took hold of me and assisted me into the hotel, when we found that I had been stabbed."

The magistrates asked the prisoner if he had any statement to make, and he answered "Not guilty."

The prisoner was then committed to stand his trial.

TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.—The next meeting of the Association for the first division County of Wellington and Town of Guelph will be held in the Central School, Guelph, on Friday and Saturday, 25th and 26th of January, 1878. By consent of the Inspectors Friday will be allowed to teachers as a teachers as a visiting day. Prof. Young, Chairman of the Central Committee, and Dr. McLellan, High School Inspector, have kindly consented to be present. On the evening of Friday, Dr. McLellan will deliver a public lecture in the Town Hall. Subject, "The Elements of Canada's Greatness."

FARMS SOLD IN AMARANTH.—Robert Whitten has sold lot 14, con. 2, to Mr. Percy for $4,000 cash. Philip Smith sold lot 11, con. 2, to Mr. Vernon, of Whitley, for $4,800. Thomas Hewitt has sold lot 19, con. 2, to Mr. R. Whitten for $6,500. Adam Spence has sold lot 17, con. 1, to Charles Anderson for $3,500. George B. Switzer has sold lot 8, con. 1, to Thomas Hewitt for $3,000.

SCOTTISH MUSIC.—On Friday and Saturday evenings Mr. J. C. Wilson, a vocalist of some note, judging from recommendations given by the press in various parts of the country where he has already appeared, will give concerts in the town hall. The programme he has issued contains the very best of Scottish airs.

CHARITY CONCERT.—The concert to be given in the town hall on Thursday evening will be one of unusual excellence. Of this there can be little doubt, as the following ladies and gentlemen will appear: Miss Quinlan, of the New York Conservatory of Music; Miss Addie Murphy, of Windsor; Miss Strong, of Paisley; Miss Weisser, of Walkerton; Dr. Sippi, of London; Mr. Kennedy, humorist, of Brantford; and Miss Nellie Murphy, of Guelph. The proceeds will be devoted to the charitable institution of St. Joseph's Hospital. Tickets can be procured from members of the committee.

EPPS'S COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provide our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage wich may save us many heavy doctor's bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Town Council.

Weighing of Hogs on the Market.

A special meeting was held on Tuesday evening. Present—His Worship the Mayor in the chair, Messrs. Hood, Hart, MacMillan, Elliott, McLagan, Lamprey, Cunningham, Heffernan, Coffee, Biscoe and Gauhan.

A communication was received from Mrs. Burge, asking for a remission of taxes, she being unable to pay the same.—Referred.

[FINANCE REPORT.

Mr. McLagan, chairman, presented the following report:—

The Committee have examined and considered the several memorials and petitions referred to them, and recommend,

1. That the following petitions for the remission of taxes be granted:—Mrs. Mary Conners, Jacob Cantwell, Bernard McTague, C. Carney and Esther Hill.

2 That Charles Meredith and Edward Howard be allowed $1 each, being erroneously assessed for dogs.

3. That C. Shewan be allowed remission of $2 50 and Mrs. Ann Pearson a remission of $10 on their respective assessments.

4. They cannot recommend the granting of the petitions of Wm. Heather, Wm. Day, Geo. S. Grange, Robert Muckleborough and Mrs. P. H. Gibb.

5. The memorial of Tolton Bros. be referred to the Streets and Highway's Committee, it being relative to a matter entirely under their jurisdiction.

6. Have made enquiries as to the claim of Hugh Kelly, and find that the horse referred to was so seriously injured by falling through a culvert, that the animal had to be destroyed. Evidence was not submitted as to how the accident occurred. When this has been done, and if found satisfactory, they would recommend the payment of $40—amount claimed.

7. In reference to the account of Messrs. Guthrie, Watt & Cutten, they would recommend that it be paid after being taxed in the regular way.

8 It was recommended that the Clerk be allowed $50 over his salary, for extra services during the year.

MARKET COMMITTEE REPORT.

Mr. Hood presented the report of the Market and Drill Shed Committee, which recommended:—That the weigh-master be instructed to load the trucks to their full capacity, as the Committee have gone to considerable expense in making the weighing department complete, and they have no hesitation in saying that it is the most commodious of any town-weighing platform in Ontario.

But, that it may work out the object for which it was erected, it will be necessary to weigh more than one bag, hog, &c., at one draft, as there are sometimes from fifteen to twenty loads waiting to be weighed at one time.

And, say a load of hogs will average six, it will thus be seen that it will greatly facilitate the business in the market by weighing more than one bag, hog, &c., at one time.

It is also recommended that a duplicate of weights of grain, hogs, &c., weighed on said scales, be kept for after reference.

They regret that the officers of the town entirely fail to do their duty in keeping auctioneers and others from selling goods, &c., on the Market Square.

They recommend that that portion of the Market Square, between the vegetable shed and the railroad, be set apart for bailiff's sales, &c.

FIRE, WATER AND GAS.

Mr. Hart, chairman of the above Committee, presented the following report:—

1. In reviewing the events connected with the Fire Department for the past year, the Committee considers it a ground for congratulation that the town has not been visited by any great conflagration, and although there have been several large fires, which had they not been vigorously combatted, would have caused serious disaster, the Department was found in every instance to be prompt, efficient, and equal to the emergency. While this has been the case, the year has not passed over without much anxiety. Your Committee have felt with uneasiness, what a slight accident to the engine would have left us utterly powerless in the presence of the flames, which the inadequacy of our system of tankage, might at any large fire have left us in the same position. In a former report, your Committee referred to the deficiencies in our system, recommending the purchase of another engine and an increase in the number and size of our tanks, and would now express the hope that our successors may succeed in providing better means than we now possess for the protection of the public against loss by fire. Your Committee feel that the Council acted wisely in retaining the team in connection with the Department, and to the fact of our having our own horses always on hand, with a driver trained to firemen's duty, we owe a great deal of our success this year, while they have earned not only, as we promised, their own feed, but a considerable part of the teamster's wages. The number of days credited to the team since April is 160, which, at $3 per day, is $480; since they have not been on the roads they have been utilised in drawing wood, earning, of course, what we would otherwise have to pay for. Your Committee have not the figures to show the earnings of the team last winter, but feel safe in putting it at $50, making for the year $530, without counting what they have done this winter.

The report recommended the payment of certain accounts.

A summary of expenditure for the year was also submitted. The appropriations were $5,309.55, and the expenditure $4,575.57, leaving a balance of $733.98.

WALKS AND GARDENS.

Mr. Heffernan presented the report of the Walks and Gardens' Committee, which stated that about 200 trees had been planted during the year; that some of these had not flourished; that the Committee had made arrangements to have them replaced; that Mr. Howitt had agreed to pay $50 for trees and fences in the Waterloo Avenue. The Committee comes out $5.18 behind.

PRINTING COMMITTEE.

Mr. J. P. MacMillan presented the report of the Printing Committee, recommending the payment of these accounts:—

Marsh & Co	$ 195 00
Burrows & Co	83 98
Innes & Davidson	558 15
T. J. Day	23 22
	$ 859 35

From which have been deducted for over charge the following sums:—

Marsh & Co	$ 10 00
Burrows & Co	5 00
Innes & Davidson	20 00

Balance to credit of Committee $373.

The Finance report was adopted, on motion of Mr. McLagan, seconded by Mr. Heffernan.

On motion of Mr. Hood, seconded by Mr. Heffernan, that the Market Committee's report be adopted, Mr. Elliott considered that it would be very unwise to make any change in the market regulations hurriedly. The speaker had heard considerable about complaints made on the market in regard to Mr. Hood having hogs weighed just as he liked, without consulting the wishes of either buyer or seller.

Mr. Gauhan thought it was strange that he did not know what the Market Committee's report was, at the same time being a member of the Committee. It was only the purchaser that found fault with weighing hogs in bulk. It had always been the custom to weigh hogs singly.

On motion the Council went into Committee of the Whole on the Market report.

Mr. Biscoe stated that market fees would be lost if such a clause as the first was adopted.

Mr. Heffernan stated that Guelph had a very unenviable name in regard to some dealers on the market, and he thought that if the matter could be remedied it should be done.

Mr. Gauhan stated that the only advantage to be gained in having hogs weighed singly was that the buyer had the advantage of the turn of the scale on each carcase. It was a matter that should be left to the wish of the buyer and seller. It had been a custom to have two pounds off each hog for shrinkage, but even that should rest with those who made the bargain.

Mr. Elliott opposed the adoption of the clause. He did not think any cast iron rule should be established for the market in regard to how much should be weighed at a time.

Mr. Heffernan stated that the weighing would be optional, as far as how many hogs shought be weighed at a time. If a farmer wanted more than one carcase weighed at a time, he should be allowed to do it.

Mr. Hood held that the Guelph market had been going back for the very reason that unjust weighing had been practised. Why should Mr. Elliott or any person try to discriminate between the buyer and seller in favor of the former. An unjust balance was an abomination, and he would do what was in his power to have justice for those who sold hogs as well as those who purchased. If a man sells six hogs at one price, he should be allowed to weigh those animals singly or in bulk. He condemned the practice of the Market Clerk deducting two pounds from each hog as being unjust, and in proof of which he instanced the unfairness between the farmer who had two pounds deducted off a one hundred pound carcase, and the same weight only deducted off four hundred poundere.

Mr. Cunningham opposed the adoption of the clause, and stated that the honesty of the Market Clerk was being impugned.

Mr. McLagan supported the clause, and stated that it was only too true that the Guelph market had an unenviable name. The market receipts had fallen off $700 this year. He would support the clause.

Mr. Gauhan held that the Market Clerk should be instructed to give the full weight of the draft of hogs on the tickets. No deduction should be made by an employee of the Corporation.

The Mayor supported the clause. He was satisfied the Guelph market had been injured by unjust weighing, and inasmuch as the town had been supplied with correct scales, no honest buyer would object to the weight.

Mr. Elliott thought it would be better to have the matter left over. As the clause read it made weighing by the bulk compulsory, and that no person would be allowed to have carcases weighed singly if they wished.

The clause was altered so as to read that hogs were to be weighed in bulk or singly, agreeable to the seller.

Moved by Mr. Elliott, seconded by Mr. Biscoe, that the first clause be struck out and the following be substituted:—That dressed hogs be weighed upon the market scales by the single hog or the truck load, as may be agreed upon by the seller and buyer.

Mr. Hart thought it was unfortunate that such a matter had to be brought forward and legislated upon. He was sorry that the reputation of the market was not as it should be. All that should be wanted was fair play between buyer and seller.

Mr. Elliott's motion was lost and the clause carried.

The second and third clause were carried.

On the Council resuming it was moved by Mr. Hood, seconded by Mr. Heffernan, that the report be adopted.

Mr. Lamprey opposed the adoption of the report. He considered the weighing clause a tyrannical one.

Mr. Elliott moved in amendment, seconded by Mr. Biscoe, an alteration similar to what he moved in committee.

The amendment was lost by seven to four, and the report was adopted.

On motion of Mr. Hart, seconded by Mr. Cunningham, the report of the committee on Fire and Water was adopted.

The report of the Walks and Garden Committee was, on motion, adopted.

The Printing Committees report was adopted, on motion.

Moved by Mr. Lamprey, seconded by Mr. Macmillan, that all accounts recommended as correct by the special committee for inspecting the Road and Bridge Committee's accounts be passed, and paid to the extent of the appropriation therefor. Carried.

Moved by Mr. McLagan, seconded by Mr. Coffee, that the solicitor be instructed to prepare a By-law for the opening up of Northumberland street from Wilson to Norfolk street, and that the Treasurer be instructed to receive the subscriptions promised for the opening of the street.

A communication was received from Mr. George Balkwill, asking the Council to provide for the foundling child left at his door on New Year's eve.

Considerable talk was made about the child, and various suggestions given by different members as to the best disposition of the infant.

A motion was made to refer the child to a committee to draw cuts for possession, and an amendment was moved that the child be taken charge of by the Wardens of St. George's Church, in conformity with an old English law.

Council meets again at nine o'clock on Monday morning.

SABBATH SCHOOLS, ministers, superintendents, and teachers will find at Anderson's cheap bookstore select notes, bible readings, Westminster question books, berean question books, and Sabbath school lesson leafs. A large stock of Sabbath school requisites at Anderson's cheap bookstore.

At a banquet held in Paris to commemorate the last meeting of the Republican Committee of Eighteen, Gambetta counselled the utmost prudence on the part of the Republicans.

Notice to the Public.

We have for a long time been firmly impressed with the conviction that the long credit system is injurious to business and unjust to creditors, and we have come to the determination to put a stop to it. Our experience is that the practice of extending accounts over a year is a great mistake, is unfair to the creditor and burdensome to the debtor. Were settlements made, say four times a year, instead of once, the amounts would be light, and payments would be comparatively easy, whereas, when accounts run for a year the amounts accumulate, and in many cases it is no easy matter to settle a bill.

We have, therefore, come to the resolution to, in future, make out and collect our accounts for advertising and job work quarterly, and we hereby give notice that this rule will, in all cases, be strictly enforced. We believe that its adoption will be of equal benefit to our patrons as to us, and we shall, in no case, make an exception.

We are now sending out our accounts for the past year, and we must insist on the immediate settlement of them in all cases, otherwise we will have to take the usual but unpleasant steps to enforce payment.

The War News.

January 15

Circulars have been issued from the French Embassy to all French Consuls in Great Britain and Ireland, charging them to report exact information concerning the popular feeling on the Eastern question and intervention. This confirms the report that France has interrogated Lord Derby concerning England's intentions regarding Egypt.

The London correspondent of the Manchester Guardian says it is reported the Cabinet on Monday decided that the troopships Jumna, homeward bound from India with 1,000 men, and the Euphrates, outward bound with 1,142 men, both reported as detained at Malta, should proceed to their respective destinations. This shows that more pacific ideas are prevailing, but the strain between the two sections of the Cabinet is very great. Russia's purposes are distrusted, notwithstanding that the Czar is said to have given further assurance within the past few hours. Serious dangers are looming in another direction. Movement is imminent on the part of Germany to obtain seaboard under conditions which would seriously affect England. This consideration is having great influence in the Cabinet on the side of those who advocate England reserving her strength. Some deeply important information has just reached this country, leading to the conviction that a warlike policy on England's part in the East would be the forerunner of more serious complications nearer home.

A Constantinople despatch says:—The Envoys to negotiate with the Russian Grand Duke left to day for Kezanlik, where they are expected to arrive on Thursday. The Grand Duke Nicholas has informed the Porte that he is invested with full powers. Server and Namyk Pashas remained all day at the railway station waiting for the completion of the repairs to the line, and started this evening.

A Constantinople despatch says:—A great battle was fought on Monday between Tatar Bazardjik, and Philippopolis. Fighting was resumed to-day. Suleiman Pasha afterwards took up positions nearer Philippopolis, and ordered the inhabitants to leave. The Russians reached Tchirpan, south of Yeni Zighra, and are marching on Yeni Mahalgre.

A Constantinople special reports that Philippopolis has been completely evacuated, and the Turks ordered it to be burned. Aidos and Karnaba have also been burned.

A correspondent who left Erzeroum before the investment telegraphs that the town is now little better than a huge hospital. About one hundred soldiers die daily, and two or three are frozen to death every night. Typhus fever is raging. As the corpses buried are barely covered with earth, the consequences must be terrible when the thaw commences.

An Odessa despatch says:—The Turks have bombarded Odessa in the Crimea, burned ten houses, killed one person, and wounded twelve. They also bombarded Anapa, on the Black Sea. Little damage was done, one person being killed. The bombardment of the town while negotiations are proceeding is said to cause great irritation at St. Petersburg.

In anticipation of an armistice, the Turkish fleet has been ordered to remain at Sinope.

The Turkish fleet has shelled Sebastopol.

That Foundling.

Mr. George Balkwill Leaves the Disowned Infant at the Clerk's Office.

The Council did not take any action in regard to the communication from George Balkwill, having reference to a waif found at his door on New Year's eve, at its session on Tuesday evening. Several of the members held that the town should have nothing to do with providing for the child and, if a grant was made for that purpose it would be establishing a precedent that would, in all probability, lead the corporation into an endless bill of expense.

Mr. Balkwill holds that he has no right to care for the infant simply because it was left at his door, and that he would not have taken it in at all, had not the police authorities informed him at the time that provision would be made in some way or another for the infant on the following day.

Sixteen days has elapsed since the little stranger was taken in at Mr. Balkwill's residence, and he states that patience with him had ceased to be a virtue. He had intended to leave the infant on the floor of the Council Chamber on Tuesday evening, but, as he states, he was in hopes of the Council making provision for its maintenance he refrained.

At half-past seven o'clock this Wednesday morning Mr. Balkwill was seen driving towards the Town Hall buildings in a cutter, and from the peculiar manner in which he held one arm, those who saw him remarked "There's George and the baby."

The horse was stopped in front of the buildings, and Mr. Balkwill, with the baby in a basket, walked into the Clerk's office, and deposited it on the floor of the first room. Messrs. Geo. Hood and Thos. A. Heffernan were present, and both manifested a lively interest in the little stranger. Mr. Harvey was very much annoyed that he should be so troubled, and while he went in search of the Chief Constable, after Mr. Balkwill had left, Messrs. Hood and Heffernan placed the child in a comfortable position in the basket and deposited it beside the stove in the Clerk's office.

The child was a healthy boy, with hair of a fiery red color, comfortably dressed and clean. A bottle, which was beside it, indicated strongly that even at very tender years some children are given to drink.

The following document was left by Mr. Balkwill with the child:

"These are the names of parties that will keep the child:—Mrs. Sutton, Hill street, for $8 per month; Mrs. Headon, near Great Western Station, for $5; Mrs. T. Stard, Garden street, for $10; 35 Ledmand street, for $5, for three years."

Greeting to Sandy McSneeshin.

Tune—'Scots wha ha'e.

Hail! Sandy McSneeshin, a happy New Year,
And many returns, wi' contentment and gear;
An' gowpans o' whiskey, and nutchkins o' beer,
An' sweet olive branches wi' Chirsty.

An' e'en if ye think it were better for a',
Wi' Protectionism aboon, and Reform to the wa',
I'll leave you to settle wi' Chirsty.

For Chirsty, ye ken, is a sensible lass,
An' noo, that she ca's you a gowk an' an ass,
An' thinks wi' your brithers ye sud gae to grass,
I'll try Coalition wi' Chirsty.

'Twas yae day last simmer, when ye were awa',
Just for auld lang syne, I gie'd Christy a ca',
Weel a' then that happen'd, that's maething, ava'
I aye had a likin' for Chirsty.

But yae thing she tell't me, 'twas just at the end,
Her life wasna happy, she hoped ye wad mend,
For ye warna just a' times the thing ye pretend,
An' awfu' conceited wi' Chirsty.

Weel I dinna just like to begin to misca',
A laddie sne blate an' a laddie sae braw,
But ye ken weel yersel', there is mony a flaw,
Ye've aye keepit steekit frae Chirsty.

There's your pedigree, weel, let that be sub-rose,
But as to your phiz, you've an aquiline nose,
Weel, I'm no just disposed a' I ken to disclose,
It might gi' ye trouble wi' Chirsty.

But ye tell't us yersel', in the Dunkin campaign,
Ye had a good jaup o' blue bluid in your vein,
Wi' a lang gumlie strain frae the fit of the lane;
Just talk Evolution wi Chirsty.

Ye tell't us, I mind, ye were Saxon an' Scot,
The wonderful outcome of Darwin's what-not,
Akin tae the pan, and not far frae the pot,
Just get a soup parritch frae Chirsty,

Ye tell't us ye were o' the journalist staff,
That ye did far more wark than your brithers be half,
An' weel sae we might, for it's maething but caff;
I'm awfully sorry for Chirsty.

All whom it concerns, let all the warl' know,
Ye're shooks in the business of Burrows & Co.,
An' ye blaw your ain trumpet, an' rin yer ain show,
Ye're no so successfu' wi' Chirsty.

In howkin up scandal ye're baith o' ye schuil,
In some other branches ye vary the rule;
For ane plays the knave, an' the ither the fool,
Q. D. by the dictum of Chirsty.

So ye answered that letter that cam frae A.D.,
An' tried a liet speech for your betters, I see,
I'm thinkin', puir body, your heid's gan agee,
Ye'd best ha'e it poulticed by Chirsty.

In grammar an' sic like, ye're unco discreet,
An' dabblin' at words is your great maister feat,
But hadna ye tell't us, the warl' wadna see't;
Just try a bit grammar wi' Chirsty.

An' so ye turn out a professional dub,
A step or twa lower than what they ca' scrub;
An ill, glaiket loon, tho' ye live in the hub;
I'm wonderin' how ye got Chirsty.

An' your wee dirty sheet, its a' blether an' lees,
But still has its uses, like puddocks an' fleas;
Ye ken half way doon 'tween the lugs an' the knees;
I mauna be plainer for Chirsty.

An' noo to conclude this liet New Year's sang,
Whilk if no very good, will be no very lang;
So just tak the heids of the subject and gang
And mak applications wi' Chirsty.

First, the Dunkin campaign, had it lasted a year,
Wad hae bettered your looks as it bettered your cheer,
The free lusty dinners, an' mugs fu' of beer,
Were a happy relievement to Chirsty.

An' ye follow'd the camp wi' a hearty good will,
For ye whiles got a whang, an' ye aye got a gill;
Wi' Pro'ection ye guarded the wee doctor's still,
I'm speakin accordin' to Chirsty.

Neist, the story ye tell't o' your lang pedigree,
Was a' weel enough, but a'tween you an' me,
The nearer ye keep to the last parent tree,
Ye're safer, 'am thinkin', wi Chirsty.

An' then comes your efforts at driving the quill,
Fra' your pechin' an' hilchin', its awfu' uphill,
An' ye bring sic na haverel grist tae the mill,
Just stop eatin' grozets fra' Chirsty.

An' there's that diclension, the Guthrie flaw!
Which canna be righted by Scripture or law,
So noo's just the time; the Conservative ba'
Might weel be sent hame, but for Chirsty.

An' last, but not least, there's that wee dirty sheet,
I tell't ye a while syne, the use we mak wi' 't,
Gin it no mak ye laugh, it maun no gar ye greet,
No sans dignitatem, wi Chirsty.

Noo, Sandy McSneeshin, farewell for a wee,
May the incomin' year bring ye naething to dree,
An your star as of yore, be aye Apogee
An' Gemini wait upon Chirsty.

THE OTHER MCSNEESHIN.

Annual Meeting of Beverly Agricultural Society.

The annual meeting of the above society was held in the Town Hall, Rockton, on Thursday afternoon, Jan. 10th. The attendance was smaller than last year, which was owing to the inclemency of the weather. After Richard Bannen, the President, called the meeting to order, David Bell read the annual Report. The Report was very interesting, and showed the working of the Society in every particular. The receipts for the year 1877 were $749.28; expenditure during the year $664.95 leaving a balance in the Secretary's hands of $84.33.

The next point which created considerable discussion, was awarding prizes to parties who had articles at the Show which were recommended by the judges. Nearly every one was awarded a prize.

On motion of C. Ricker, seconded by D. Patterson, Mr. Robert Young was elected President for the ensuing year. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered to Mr. Richard Bannen for his valuable services for the past year as President of the Society. The mover paid several high compliments to the retiring President, for the strenuous efforts which he put forth in behalf of B. A. S. Mr. Bannen made a suitable reply, in which he thanked many of the directors for their hearty co-operation, On motion of Brewin Cornell, seconded by R Bannen, Mr. Henry Bugner was elected Vice President. On motion of Mr C. Ricker, seconded by Mr. D Patterson, Mr. David Bell was re-elected Secretary Treasurer. Mr. J. B. Plastow and Wm. Henderson, sr., were elected Auditors. The following directors were elected:—D. Patterson, C. Ricker, B. Cornell, Wm. Menzies, Jos. Boyle, R. Bannen, J. Cornell, A. McKellar, H. Chambers, J. A. Cornell, Wm Wood, H. Howard, Thos. S. Henderson, S. Hunter, Thos. McDonald, Wm. Archer, Jas. Collins, E. Clement, John Patterson, Geo. Atkins, Edwin Gray, Wm Beard, Wallace McDonald, David Bell, Chas Patterson.

Fergus Correspondence.

Mr. Robert Steele, the defeated candidate for the Reeveship, was entertained at an oyster supper at the Queen's Hotel, Fergus, on the evening of Monday, the 14th inst. The chair was occupied by Mr. John Robinson and the vice chair by Dr. Groves. The usual toasts were given and municipal matters were fully discussed. The prevailing opinion of the evening was that assistance should be granted to the Townships of East and West Garafraxa, to enable them to improve the roads towards Luther and Marsville villages; that as these things had been neglected, farmers would go to Orangeville with their grain, thus impoverishing Fergus, and rendering the close proximity of the poor house very desirable.

It was also considered that had fair play been the rule of the late election, a man of Steele would have been the present Reeve.

Regrets were expressed that during the past term of office the village had been put in for the expense of erecting a new bridge on St. David's street over the river, and as we have the option of building it either of wood, stone, or iron, the latter should be the material when it should be painted the characteristic color of our conduct—viz, green speeches. Songs and instrumental music was the order of the evening.

The factory of Mr. Archibald Riddell, which was burned on Sunday evening, was insured for $1,000 in the Manufacturers and Merchants Mutual Insurance Company of Hamilton. Agent, C. Cremer, of Fergus.

DOMINION BOARD OF TRADE.—This Board met at Ottawa on Tuesday, Mr. Adam Brown, the president, occupied the chair, and opened the proceedings with an address. The Board then proceeded to discuss the first three subjects on the list, viz., the inspection of butter and hides, the Reciprocity question, and that of Customs appraisements of entries at different points.

Senator W.W. Eaton proposes to offer an amendment to the Silver Bill providing for the coinage of a silver dollar worth a dollar in gold.

Guelph Caledonian Society.

Annual Report.

The following is the Secretary's report for the year ending January 14th, 1878, and which was crowded out of yesterday's MERCURY:

In bringing in my Report I am at considerable disadvantage, not being conversant with the work of the Society for that portion of the past year previous to the time you did me the honor to appoint me your Secretary. At that time there were one hundred and nine members on the roll. Shortly afterwards, a thoroughly energetic committee was named for the purpose of securing new members and also to collect whatever outstanding dues there were at that date. The committee immediately after its appointment set to work in earnest, and the result was that the membership was doubled in less than a month. The excitement necessarily attendant upon the Annual Gathering brought several from a distance into our Society, and through the energy of several industrial members, our strength increased, and we now count our friends, not by the dozen, but by the hundred. It is gratifying to know, that the Guelph Caledonian Society numbers two hundred and fifty-seven members, and amongst them men who have with no unsparing hand assisted to make our Town what it is—one of the finest in the Province. We have every reason to be proud of the success of our Society, and if there is the same amount of energy and attention displayed in 1-78 as we witnessed last year, I have no doubt that the membership will be largely augmented, and the Society become still more useful and attractive to its members. Several entertainments have been given with profit to those present as well as the Society itself, and if a few of the members will consent to act on a committee for the ensuing year, there can be no doubt that at least half a dozen really beneficial entertainments can be given during the winter.

As your Secretary and one taking a deep interest in the welfare of our organization, I have noticed many things which have tended at times to lessen the interest we should all have in a national Society like this. You will pardon me if I refer briefly to them. The first is, the appointment men to office whose hearts are not in the work. Had it not been for the enthusiasm and attention of our worthy Chief and one or two of our Chieftains, there would not have been such an agreeable record as we have to-night. It is with the Executive Committee I wish particularly to deal. In selecting this Committee, men who are ready and willing to work, and these only, should be appointed. We do not want honor or patronage. We want downright hard work, and without that element neither individuals nor Societies can either expect or deserve to succeed. By the negligence of a few, the others get careless, and those who are in earnest at first, soon lose their interest when they meet night after night to find only four or five present to attend to the business of the Society. I would therefore beg to suggest that in choosing men to act on our behalf and to whom we can confidently entrust our business, let every personal consideration, every external circumstance be thrown to the winds, and let us select only those men who are ready and willing to carry on our work with a cheerful and energetic spirit. If we do this, we can and must succeed; if we don't, the sooner we give up the ship the better.

In the second place, to prevent all confusion and unnecessary trouble, no member's name should be placed on the book, until his fee is paid, and no paid member's name entered except by the Secretary. Every member we have pays his subscription freely and without a word when he is asked for it, and the best time to ask him is when you request him to become a member. We have never experienced the slightest difficulty in collecting the fees, but we have in getting men to collect them, and it is to obviate this that I have offered the above suggestion.

A most important feature of our constitution has been practically overlooked—I refer to the literary part of it. In order to bring out our younger members, and to induce them to stay when they do come, we require something higher and better than the "dambrod"—good and all as it is in its place. I would, therefore, take this opportunity of asking every member who can conveniently do so, to loan one book to the Society, and if I am supplied with the names of the donors I will gladly keep a record of them whether I am your Secretary or not. If this were done, we would at once have a free library, easy of access to all our friends and containing at least a hundred volumes. And should we be at any future time in a position to purchase works for ourselves, and which I believe we soon will, the members could at any time have their books returned without loss to the Society. It is most important in this reading age, that we as Scotchmen should do everything to keep ourselves as a body "foremost in the files of Time" as we justly and proudly claim we do, and whatever we can do to inculcate a love of reading in the young folks ought to be done with no niggardly spirit. I ask you therefore on behalf of the younger members, to come forward with whatever you may be able to spare in the way of reading matter, and while we thus provide a pleasant and profitable place for them to read the annals of their country, and derive solid food from the productions of her intellectual giants, we will at the same time remove them from many snares and temptations. Encourage the boys to come forward and take an interest in the affairs of the Society. Let them be taught there is, in the literature of the land of their fathers, lessons of priceless value, and that in the objects of a Society like this, there is something grander and nobler than the Highland Fling or putting the stone.

I have probably taken up too much of your time in discussing these matters but I feel that if we are to keep up the interest of our Society and make it a permanent institution, we must do more than we have been doing in the past. One grand day in the year will not sustain the spirit and keep up the interest of 250 intelligent and reading members. They require something more, and unless they get it their energy will flag and their interest cease. I would, therefore, in conclusion, ask the meeting to carefully consider some of the hints thrown out, and I believe that one and all will heartily join in doing everything that is necessary to maintain the dignity and increase the vitality of our Society.

E. F. B. JOHNSTON, Secretary.

The Treasurer's report was presented as follows:—

In presenting the annual financial report for the past year, I have much pleasure in being able to show a balance in hand to be carried forward to the next year's account. The demands on the funds of the Society were very considerable, partly owing to the increased expense of fitting up and maintaining the new Room, and partly that a number of debts, property chargable to 1876, have been paid out of the proceeds of the current year. The amount received from the games was not so large as was expected, and it was rendered smaller by the non-payment of the tenders for refreshments, amounting to $40. Considerable income has been derived from the social entertainments held at various times, and quite a revenue is now received from several parties who have rented the rooms for one night a week. The outstanding accounts are small, and do not, in the aggregate, amount to much. The expenses beyond the Gathering are light, and had it not been for the payment of heavy accounts standing over for a long time, the Society would have shown a large balance to its credit for 1878.

A. MCBEAN, Jr., Treasurer.

A statement of receipts and expenditures was presented, which showed that the receipts from all sources were $1 448.65, and the expenditure $1,451.29; leaving a balance of $47.36.

The Manitoba Government is about to introduce in the Local Legislature a Bill for the abolition of the ballot at Provincial elections.

The Consette Iron Company, of London, England, the largest manufacturers of ship plates in the world, are reducing the number of their hands.

NEW GOODS.

Constant Additions to our Stock.

6 Cases New Goods, Special Lines, opening To-day.

We have pleasure in soliciting the attention of all our friends and customers to the following New Goods which we are now receiving into stock, and deem worthy of special attention:

Two cases new American White Cottons soft finish, full widths, and best goods, at 10, 12½ and 15 cents a yard.

1 Case—5000 yards—new Swiss Embroideries, chaste and beautiful patterns, and best widths, at 10, 12½, 15 and 20 cents a yard. The ladies of the town will find these goods about one-half cheaper than last season's prices. We hope to clear the entire lot this month. The prices will make them sell.

60 pieces new Ruffings, in Muslin, Tarlatan and Crefetise—very latest designs.

New Real Torchon Laces, at present so popular in Paris, London and New York, in various widths, from 35 cents to $1.50. We also show an extraordinary job lot of real Maltese Laces, which we trust every lady will make a point of seeing at once. The prices will sell them rapidly.

We also show to-day the new and handsome Brocaded Silks which are so much the rage in all the leading centres of fashion in Europe and America. We ask the ladies of Guelph to see these goods at once. Magnificent Silk and Chenille Fringes to match each shade.

Our stock of Kid Gloves is at present very large and well assorted, in all the new shades. Ladies will find no difficulty in making selections from our stock of kids.

Our Haberdashery and Fancy Goods Departments have been fully replenished within the past few days with new goods suitable for the season, and are now very attractive.

We particularly invite those who find it difficult to obtain what they require elsewhere to visit these departments.

We have also opened up full lines of Plain and Twilled Sheetings, Grey Cottons, Pillow Cottons, Prints, Towellings, Tickings, Black Lustres, Black Cashmeres, etc., etc. It will afford us pleasure to receive your inspection of the above goods.

WE COMMENCE OUR

GREAT CLEARING SALE

On Monday, 4th February next,

During that time we will fulfill to a demonstration all that we promise, namely, to sell all and every article we have in stock at the actual cost price of it.

We confidently refer back to our past Clearing Sales, and promise in this sale, as in all former ones, to keep faith with the public. When we advertise a Clearing Sale at cost price, we keep our word, and no matter at what loss or sacrifice it may be to us, we bind ourselves NOT TO DISAPPOINT OR DECEIVE THE PUBLIC, OUR FRIENDS OR CUSTOMERS. We ask, feeling confident of a hearty response, that all intending buyers of Fancy or Staple Doods, will advise themselves of this opportunity of supplying their requirements at a saving of 20 per cent. We ask an inspection of our goods, and the promise we make of actual cost prices; we will agree to pay expenses of a visit to our establishment if all that we here state does not turn out to be sound in every particular. Our Mr. Hogg, senior, leaves in a few days for the British Markets for spring Goods, and a clearance of present stock must be effected. People of the Town of Guelph and County of Wellington you have had a trial of the Wonderful Man for over 25 years. He has worked faithfully for your interests during all that time, and he is doing so to this day. He is strong, healthy and robust now as ever he was, and he is on the war path to exterminate and put to shame dealers in old bankrupt and moth-eaten goods. People of town and country do not be deceived. The test of a man is his past career. You have had every opportunity of knowing and judging of the Wonderful Man. All that he asks is that you consider him entitled to YOUR PATRONAGE AND SUPPORT.

John Hogg & Son only keep in stock the best class of Fancy and Staple Dry Goods, Millinery, Jackets, Ready Made Clothing, &c., and at the great reduction these goods will be offered at during the Clearing Sale will induce thousands to flock to our establishment.

Methodist Missions.

Annual Meeting in the Norfolk Street Methodist Church.

A very large large meeting of those interested in the Methodist Missions was held in the Norfolk street church last evening. After prayer and singing, Mr. James Hough was called to the chair.

The chairman made a very short and appropriate address, touching on the various phases of missionary work. In the course of his remarks he made a touching appeal to those out of Christ, who then, if the Saviour was accepted, would have a true missionary spirit. Many, who were not in Christ, gave liberally to missions, but that, though so far good, was not enough. After calling on the audience to do what in them lay to do away with the interest item of the missionary finances, he closed with commending them to God.

The choir—"From Greenland's icy mountains."

Rev. Mr. Briggs, of Toronto, was then called on. He said the missionary cause was second to no other in the affections of the people. He sketched the events of the time which it had taken to raise the cause to its present proportions, and the individual characteristics of those engaged in it. These taught that the duty of every Christian was to do as far as in him lay to further this noble cause. The great lesson was to "Go into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature." The story of the chimes—a Christmas story—taught that these clouds of darkness, now being passed through, such as infidelity, &c., were only for a moment and that the chimes of God's kingdom would cheer them on. He trusted they would all stand by their colors, be they Presbyterian, Congregational, or Methodist. He was a Methodist every inch of him, and thought that none of the workers in the Christian church was so great as John Wesley. It was better than flickering around a Roman candle. A brilliant and extremely well illustrated eulogism on Methodism was given, and the thought asserted that Methodism was essentially a true missionary creed. Of the 75,000,000 of the world's population, 3,500,000 were Methodists, and these had a following of at least 7,500,000. The causes of the success of Methodism were those resulting from its missionary spirit. The Christianity of Methodism was muscular, and this was in a great measure due to the system of itinerancy. The first local preacher was sent out in 1757, and since then, nothwithstanding the difficulties in the way, it had greatly increased and multuplied. Their agents were another cause of success. The Methodist church was to-day what it was because of its using all the talents of its members for its advancement. Singing and giving were also grand causes of Methodist success. Riches, when given to Christ's church, were a good thing. The man who dispised money was a fanatic, and he had no sanction from the divine history as recorded in the Bible. Giving, etc., were not enough, they must become children of the Son of God, through belief in His name. This alone was the was the way to escape eternal death. The cross was the centre of all true statements, and the vitalizing influence of the Christian religion. The world was getting nearer heaven by the uplifting of the cross—not by science, not by education, nor by any other means, but by the cross was the world truly civilized. Their individual duty was to do all missionary work in a Christ-like spirit. He trusted that God's blessing would be with them in every good work, and sat down amid applause.

The choir—"Hark, the song of jubilee."

The Secretary, Mr. Wm. Stevenson, then read the annual report of the Guelph Branch of Methodist Missions for the year, 1877. The report was published in substance in yesterday's MERCURY.

The following is a statement of the work of the Society in Guelph, as made by the Secretary:

West Ward. — Collected by Mrs. Hough, and Mrs. Hay, $119.40; Mrs. Ainley and Mrs. Osborn, $57.20. East and South Wards.—By Miss Stevenson, and Mrs. Keables, $64.85. North Ward.—By Mrs. McConnell and Miss Smith, $23.75. Paisley Block.—By Miss Fanny Wright, $8; Norfolk street church collections, $70.60; Dublin street church collections, $49.18; Conference Missionary meeting collection, $44.65. Total, $437.63.

Rev. Mr. Clarkson, of Brantford, then addressed the meeting. After introductory remarks the speaker said that the cross of Christ was the spot from which all other objects should be viewed. The missionary cause was a good one. He delineated the work of those engaged in the missionary cause, with all its hardships, &c. What the Place Vendome was to the 1st Napoleon the mission stations were to the church of Christ. Livingstone was one of the greatest of missionaries. The work of the missionary Society was great under all aspects, and those engaged therein deserved great support and encouragement. He sketched the life and history of Christianity's founder, and the history of His cause. He would not enlarge on principles but would give them some facts. This gospel of Jesus Christ was a wonderful one, when it would convert him. He didn't know that he was a very wicked boy, but yet he might be one of the most mischievious. He then related several stories. For instance, in 1841 an advertisement appeared in the Picayune offering a reward for a lost, stolen or strayed grif (colored) boy, named Oscar L. Dunn, aged 19 years. Thirty years after that, a notice of his death appeared, and the notice appended that he was Lieutenant Governor of Louisania. In less than thirty years slavery had been extinguished, and so could sin in the heart. The others had a similar bearing. He then sketched the rise and growth of the missionary station, which included Guelph, which was now self sustaining. When they reached this standard they should give to help their neighbors, who were not so fortunate. Their own safety depended on sending the Scriptures to those who were without them. More stories of an amusing and instructive nature were then related. A sketch of the French Canadian Methodist missionary work, a diatribe against tobacco, and an appeal for money to assist the cause of missions closed his speech.

The collection was then taken up.

The Choir—Daughters of Zion, awake from thy sadness.

Rev. Dr. Carroll, a former pastor of the church, then addressed the audience. After preliminaries, and reminiscences of early history, he delivered a fine exordium on Christianity. The narration of incidents illustrative of his theme was extremely acceptable to those present, and threw much light on the subject. The anecdotes also created much amusement. He closed his address with a history of his experience of missionary collectors, and trusted their work would be fully blessed by God.

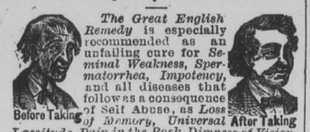
On motion of Rev. E. B. Ryckman, seconded by Rev. Dr. Carroll, the thanks of the meeting were presented to the collectors for the past year—Mrs. Hough, Mrs. Hay, Mrs. Ainley, Mrs. Osborn, Mrs. Connell, Mrs. Foster, nee Stevenson and Misses Keables and R. Smith. The motion also appointed the following as collectors for the current year: West Ward—Mrs. Hongh; East and South Wards.—Mrs. W. M. Foster and Mrs. C. McGill; North Ward.—Misses Oldham and Smith.

A vote of thanks was given to the chairman, Mr. Hough; he replied, and the doxology closed the meeting.

APPLETON'S JOURNAL for February, in pursuance of the announcement of an illustrated series of articles describing "The American at Work," has a paper on salt-making at Syracuse, accompanied with suitable engravings, the text of which is by W. H. Rideing, and the drawings by Kelly. Among the articles in the number likely to attract attention, is one on "Rip Van Winkle," which is not a criticism on the character or the play, but an embodiment of a number of interviews with Mr. Jefferson, by which we have the actor's own ideas of his performance, of the character of the play, and of the people that gather to listen to him; and in addition to this there are some "behind-the-curtain" views of Jefferson in his private life and his social personality. It is a fresh and readable paper. Dr. Guernsey has made a connected narrative of Stanley's recent remarkable voyage down the Congo, which is of great interest, and of value to all who have imperfectly followed the explorer in his letters from the field of adventure. George M. Towle writes interestly of Dr. Schliemann's discoveries at Mycenæ. Maurice Thompson has an entertaining paper in which the pugnacious spirit of birds is described and exemplified by numerous examples. Professor Harrison, of the Washington and Lee University, gives a description of a voyage from Athens to Corfu, which is full of graphic pictures. There is a short story of Mrs. Lillian Browne; a pathetic poem by Edgar Fawcett, entitled "The Dying Actor;" and other good things. "Cherry Ripe" is concluded in one long installment; and "By Celia's Arbor" gives fresh evidence of being one of the best novels of the season. The editor discusses Human Interest in Landscape Art; the latest experiments as to the influence of plants upon the atmosphere; Whittier's birthday; the quarrels of statesmen; the function of criticism, etc.



The Governor's message to the Utah Legislature recommends legislative suppression of polygamy.

A FLYING FOUR FOOTER.—Somewhere down in the wilds of Jersey—if Jersey has any wilds these present Centennial days—one McDaniels dwells, in all the patriarchal comforts and dignity which attach to the English Lord of the Manor. He has a park, a stately mansion, groves of timber, and above all, the most famous racing stables in America. These royal establishments contain some of the finest and fleetest horses in the world. Among them is Harry Bassett, a monarch of the turf, who some time ago met with an accident to one of his slender and priceless limbs. Without wasting a moment in doubtful experiments, Mr. McDaniels applied some of GILES' LINIMENT IODIDE OF AMMONIA, and in a half a day the horse was as sound as the proverbial silver dollar. No wonder McDaniels tells Dr. Giles to send skeptics to interview himself and his horse in Jersey.

Doctor, it Feels Like a Ball of Fire!!

So speak oftentimes the sufferer from Dyspepsia. After eating, it seems as if there was a veritable ball of fire running up and down through his stomach. If he eats much he feels it; if he don't eat much he feels it. It destroys his enjoyment of life. If the doctor be really desirous of curing his patient he should not experiment with the sufferer, he should recommend him to use PERUVIAN SYRUP, whose merits have been tested so long, and always satisfactorily. Balls of fire in the stomach and PERUVIAN SYRUP can't dwell together. Send to your druggist; he keeps it always ready, and try it. It will work like a charm.

Dr. Wm. Gray's Specific Medicine

The Great English Remedy is especially recommended as an unfailing cure for Seminal Weakness, Spermatorrhea, Impotency, and all diseases that follow as a consequence of Self Abuse, as Loss of Memory, Universal Lassitude, Pain in the Back, Dimness of Vision, Premature Old Age, and many other diseases that lead to INSANITY OR CONSUMPTION and a PREMATURE GRAVE, all of which, as a rule, are first caused by deviating from the path of nature, and over indulgence.

The Specific Medicine is the result of a life study and many years of experience in treating those special diseases. Pamphlet free by mail.

The Specific Medicine is sold by all druggists at $1 per package, or six Packages for $5, or will be sent by mail on receirt of the money, by addressing DR. WM. GRAY & CO., Windsor, Ont.

SOLD IN GUELPH BY

THE Company's special system of Loans affords to borrowers, and especially to Farmers, the following most important advantages:—
1. The borrower is NOT OBLIGED to repay any part of the principal until the whole term of the Mortgage has run.
2. He has the RIGHT (after the first year) to repay at any time, the whole or any part of the Loan, without prior notice to the Company.
3. No extra charge, bonus or otherwise, is exacted on such repayment.
4. He is requested when making application for the Loan, to state the day on which he wishes interest to be made payable. He thus can stipulate for a date, say after harvest, or at such time as is likely to be most convenient for him.
5. Interest can be made payable once a year—not in advance.
6. On repayment of any part of the principal, interest on such amount immediately ceases.

The Evening Mercury

THURSDAY EVEN'G, JAN. 17, 1878.

Opening of Imperial Parliament.

THE QUEEN'S SPEECH.

(By Telegraph to the Daily Mercury.)

LONDON, January 17.

Parliament met to-day. As the Queen did not open the session in person there were no state ceremonials. The proceedings were confined to what usually takes place when opening is by Royal Commission.

The Queen's Speech states she summoned Parliament before the usual time, that it might become acquainted with efforts she has made to terminate the war, and that she might have its advice and assistance. She alludes to her having declared her intention at the outbreak of the war to observe neutrality in the contest, (which she lamented but failed to prevent), so long as the interests of her Empire, as defined by her Government, were not threatened.

The Russian successes convinced the Porte it should endeavor to bring hostilities to a close. The Sultan's Government accordingly addressed to the neutral Powers, parties to treaties relating to Turkey, to appeal for their good offices. It did not appear to the majority that they could usefully comply, and the Porte was so informed. The Porte then determined to make a separate appeal to her Government and she at once agreed to inquire of the Czar whether he would entertain peace overtures.

The Czar expressed an earnest desire for peace, and stated his opinion as to the course which should be pursued to attain it. Upon this communications have taken place between Russia and Turkey, through her good offices, and she earnestly trusts that they may lead to a termination of war. She will spare no efforts to promote that result.

Hitherto neither of the belligerents has infringed the conditions on which her neutrality is founded, and she willingly believes both desire to respect them as far as lies in their power. So long as her conditions are not infringed, her attitude will continue the same, but she cannot conceal from herself that should hostilities be unfortunately prolonged, some unexpected occurrence may render it incumbent on her to adopt measures of precaution. Such measures could not be effectually taken without adequate preparation, and she trusts to her Parliament's liberality to supply means. Papers on these affairs will be forthwith laid before Parliament.

The relations with all foreign powers continue friendly.

Her Majesty expresses thanks that the Indian famine is nearly ended.

In referring to the condition of native affairs in South Africa, which have caused some anxiety, the troops there have been reinforced, but she trusts for a peaceful and satisfactory settlement shortly.

The estimates of the year will soon be presented.

Her Majesty in conclusion details a number of measures of local character, to be laid before Parliament.

VITAL STATISTICS.—From Mr. John Harvey, Town Clerk, we learn that during the six months, ending the 31st December, that the number of births registered was 179; marriages, 60; and deaths 62.

REFRESHMENT BILLS.—At the last Division Court held at Drayton, before His Honor Judge Chadwick, great excitement prevailed over a number of cases in which Messrs. W. Markle and W. Shaw, hotel keepers, were plaintiffs, and a number of other parties defendants. The accounts sued for were for hotel accommodation and refreshments, and extended from 1871 to 1877. Judgment was given in nearly all the disputed cases for defendants.

TEA-MEETING AT ARKELL.—On Wednesday evening a tea-meeting was held in the new Methodist church, Arkell, the first since its dedication. After tea, Mr. A. O. Bucham was moved to the chair, and addresses were delivered by Mr. James Hough, Revs. Dr. Carroll and E. B. Ryckman, and the latter gentleman made a noble effort to raise funds for liquidating a debt of $250 which is still on the church, but failed in accomplishing his purpose. The choir was assisted by several vocalists from Guelph, and the whole affair passed off very pleasantly.

It is rumored that Mr. Meredith, Deputy Minister of the Interior, will shortly be superannuated and succeeded by Colonel Dennis.

Cameron & Thorp's coal oil trade has increased rapidly, why? because they sell no oil but the best. Those desirous of having clean chimneys and a clear light should leave their orders there. No. 99 Upper Wyndham Street.

Step into Halsted's this evening after tea and get it.

A MERRY CHRISTMAS AND A HAPPY NEW YEAR Bond & Co. wish to their customers and the public generally. All the new and improved kinds of skates and other goods suitable for holiday season are kept in large variety, and at astonishingly low prices. See new advt.

BEST NEWS THIS YEAR.—To be found in J. D. Williamson & Co's new advertisement. All winter goods selling at auction prices.

The Rising Sun stove polish, the most famous in the market, is to be got at Cameron & Thorp's house furnishing establishment, Upper Wyndham street.

THE FASHIONABLE WEST END ALWAYS UP TO TIME.—Special Christmas sale of dress goods, furs, millinery and other fancy goods, all suitable for Christmas and New Year's presents. A. O. Bucham sells cheap and serves his customers well.

Local News Items.

ST. ANDREW'S Young People's Association meets on Friday evening.

A SOCIAL will be held this evening (Thursday) in the Baptist Church. All are invited.

WE are again obliged to leave over a quantity of editorial matter, to make room for local and telegraph news.

THAT FOUNDLING has at last found a home. Mrs. James Ferguson, widow, living on Woolwich street, signifies her willingness to look after the child, and it has been handed over to her.

WEATHER.—The probabilities for the next twenty-four hours, as received by the Dominion telegraph Ont., are easterly winds; cloudy to fair weather, and possibly light snow in some localities.

REMEMBER the grand charity concert this evening in the town hall. Every effort is being made to make it the best of the season. Several of the vocalists appear for the first time before a Guelph audience.

CALEDONIANS.—Regular weekly meeting this evening. Report of Committee appointed to make arrangements for the celebration of Burns' anniversary will be presented.

MAJOR MULLIGAN, pension staff officer, was at the Royal Hotel on Wednesday paying out pensions to some one hundred and fifty persons who receive such recognition for their past services as soldiers.

PRENTICE BOYS.—A lodge of Prentice Boys has been formed in Guelph, and has adopted the name of "Walsh Pioneers," after Mr T. S. Walsh, who is the oldest Orangeman in Guelph. G. M. Gibson, of Toronto, will install the officers on the second Tuesday in February.

"CLIPPER" ALMANAC.—The New York Clipper almanac for 1878 has been issued and contains much valuable information for those interested in sporting events. There is also a considerable quantity of general reading. Price fifteen cents, at Anderson's bookstore.

DANGEROUS COASTING.—The young lads that rendezvous on Dublin and Durham streets in the evenings, for the purpose of coasting, should endeavor to act in such a manner as would not bring down on their devoted heads the ire of householders on those streets. Already several accidents have happened to pedestrians, and last evening, when an old gentleman, a resident of Durham street, remonstrated with the lads about making such a loud noise, they assaulted him and threw snow and ice at the door of his house. A policeman was sent for when the lads quickly made off.

BAKER'S GATHERING.—The annual ball and supper provided by the bakers and confectioners of Guelph, took place in the Caledonian rooms on Wednesday evening, and was in every respect extremely enjoyable. Excellent music was furnished by Walker's quadrille band. The supper was something extra, and was superintended by Mr. Newport. The provisions were provided by the several bakers and confectioners of the town, and extra pains had evidently been taken to ensure a pleasing effect. The Committee of Management deserve the thanks of all parties interested in the ball for the manner in which the whole affair was carried out. Committee: W. Newport, chairman; W. Arnott, secretary: D. Massie, Wm. Watson and G. Brown.

WORSWICK VS. CANADA FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.—This case was tried in the Court of Chancery in Guelph last November, in which the plaintiff sought to recover $3,000 on an insurance made by him on Slaght's flour mill in Woodstock, as the holder of a mechanics' lien on the mill for machinery placed by him therein. The mill was burned in February, 1877. Judgment was reserved, and was delivered on Wednesday by Vice Chancellor Proudfoot in favor of the plaintiff. A watchman was at the time of the insurance kept on the premises, but not at the time of the fire. The defendants set up this discontinuance of the watchman's services as a breach of warranty. Held that the case came within Stokes vs. Cox, 1 H. & N., 533, and he gave a decree for the plaintiff. Messrs. Lemon, Peterson & McLean were for plaintiff.

A PENSIONER IN TROUBLE.—An old man named Thos. McQuirk, from Puslinch, received his pay yesterday as a pensioner. After receiving the recognition from the Government for which he at one time had risked his life to defend, he did not act that part which years of experience is supposed to teach, but instead drank a little too much liquor and became too weary to take proper care of himself. In the evening he received a violent blow on his head, causing a large scalp wound, which bled profusely. McQuirk states that some person—who, he does not know—asked him for $2, and when he replied that he had no money, he was knocked down, kicked in the head, and robbed of all the money that was left in his pocket. The police authorities heard of the matter, and secured McQuirk a bed at Soden's hotel. He is very weak this morning, but nothing serious is apprehended. Some are of the opinion that McQuirk was injured by a fall, and that he accidentally lost the money out of his pocket.

CORRECTION.—Having found that some persons have concluded that WILSON'S WILD CHERRY contains opium (as most medicines prepared for the purpose do) the proprietors take this opportunity of stating that the Wild Cherry contains no trace of this or any other narcotic, and may be given to an infant with the same safety and benefit as to an adult. The tonic effects of the Wild Cherry show themselves in an increased appetite and recuperated strength, and to those whose systems have been reduced by chronic diseases of the Lungs or Bronchial Tubes it is especially recommended. Sold by the principal druggists. dw

The War News.

January 16.

A Vienna despatch says that Austria officially announces that she opposes separate peace negotiations.

A Constantinople despatch says:—The following are the views expressed by Austria here and at St. Petersburg. Austria desires the maintenance of the Treaty of Paris. She also wishes to prevent Russia from gaining a preponderating influence. Austria will never renounce her position as a guaranteeing Power. The question relative to the political autonomy of Bulgaria, and other conditions affecting Austrian interests as a frontier Power, and in fact the settlement of the conditions of peace cannot be permitted without the participation of Austria. The foregoing declaration has been communicated by the Austrian Ambassador to the Porte. Lord Derby made a similar communication to St. Petersburg on Monday. Nevertheless, it is believed that no previous understanding existed between Austria and England. It is stated that Russia has not yet communicated the terms of peace to Austria. Notwithstanding the attitude of Great Britain and Austria, it is expected that complications will be avoided and Russia arrive at an understanding with the Powers.

The Agence Russe says the pacific disposition manifested by the Porte in sending Server and Namyk Pashas to the Russian headquarters has been received by Russia with an assurance that the moment Turkey accepts the preliminaries communicated by the Russian Commander-in-Chief a suspension of hostilities will ensue. After stating that every victorious belligerent has a right to a war indemnity, the article concludes:—

Russia, in accordance with usage and equity, has a right to conclude peace directly with Turkey, while at the same time protecting the interests of the frontier States and those of other Powers, particularly that of England. Any preliminary convention which might be entered upon might be submitted to, and would then finally be included in the category of international treaties. Misunderstanding can only arise from distrust or excessive amours propre which is always to be dissipated by explanations if received as frankly as given.

The Manchester Guardian's London despatch says:—Unless the belligerent party in the Cabinet obtain unexpected success if it is anticipated that all Ministers can agree to ask of Parliament will be a vote of money to provide men and ships as a precautionary measure, on the same principle as Mr. Gladstone asked for a vote during the Franco-German War.

A Vienna correspondent hears from Berlin that Bismarck has waived his objections to another European Conference on Eastern affairs.

A St. Petersburg despatch says:—Instructions relative to the armistice have reached the Russian commanders.

A telegram received in Paris states that the Turkish peace delegates arrived in Adrianople. The Turkish press has been enjoined to show the greatest moderation, and one paper has been suppressed for attacking the Czar.

A Vienna special says the Porte will take no final action without consulting the Powers.

A Constantinople special states that it is said that the Grand Vizier assured the German Ambassador that the Porte had determined to make peace with Russia, leaving any Power which objected to the conditions to settle with Russia. The instructions of the Turkish plenipotentiaries are such as make the conclusion of an armistice absolutely certain.

If the despatch from Constantinople be correct, stating that a great battle was fought on Monday between Tatar-Bazardjik and Philippopolis, that fighting was resumed on Tuesday, that Suleiman Pasha afterwards took up a position near Philippopolis and ordered the inhabitants to leave, and that the Russians have reached Ohipan, and are marching on Yeni Malgare, the remains of the only Turkish field army south of the Balkans is in danger of capture or annihilation before an armistice can be concluded. Panic stricken fugitives continue to crowd towards the capital by thousands. Only a small percentage is armed. Many thousands are detained at Chozlu on account of the recent railway accident. The Turkish Government and English relief committees have great difficulty in preventing wholesale loss of life from hunger and exposure.

A Tiflis special reports that Ismail Pasha has offered to surrender Erzeroum if allowed to retire with his troops.

THE skating rink has been flooded and is not now ready for skaters. A sharp frost will make it all right.

THE ladies of the Norfolk street Methodist Church are preparing a sumptuous supper, to be served on Tuesday evening, Jan. 29th. Look for the advertisment in due time.

REMEMBER the musical and literary social in the Baptist Church this evening. A good programme has been prepared. All are invited. Admission free. Doors open at 7:30.

ON TUESDAY Mr. James Cormack received word from San Diego, Lower California, that his son Donald, who had left here for the Pacific coast, for the benefit of his health, about a year ago, was in a very low state indeed, and that it was hardly possible that he might recover. Mrs. Cormack left this afternoon for San Diego, overland route, and will be accompanied as far as Chicago by Mr. George Cormack.

COURT OF APPEAL.—Ontario Bank vs. Sirr.—We see by the Toronto newspapers that this case, which was of considerable local interest, and was an appeal from the report of Mr. J. Watson Hall, the Master of the Court of Chancery at Guelph, has at last, in the Court of final resort (as far as it is concerned) been decided in favor of the plaintiff—the Master's report being upheld. The first appeal was from the Master to his Lordship Vice Chancellor Blake, who reversed the Master's finding. The plaintiff then referred the case before the three judges of the Court of Chancery, who sustained the Vice Chancellor. The plaintiff then appealed to the Court of Appeal, and that Court has just held that the Master's report was right, and reversed the order of the Vice Chancellor, and of the full Court with costs. Messrs. Guthrie, Watt & Cutten were solicitors for the plaintiff; Mr. Thos. Dixon, of Walkerton, for defendant.

South Wellington Agricultural Society.

Annual Reports.

The annual meeting of the above Society was held in the town hall on Wednesday afternoon, for the purpose of receiving reports and electing officers for the ensuing year. Mr. Thos. McCrae, President, occupied the chair.

The chairman called on Mr. Murton, Secretary to read the annual report which will be found subjoined.

Mr. Jas. Laidlaw moved that the report be adopted. He stated that he took greater pleasure in making such a motion, when it was shown that the debt of the Society had been reduced nearly $1,000. The directors should be congratulated for the very efficient and economical manner in which the business of the Society had been transacted.

The motion was seconded by Mr. Hugh Black, and in doing so stated he was pleased to corroborate all that had been said by Mr. Laidlaw in regard to the efficient manner in which the directors had transacted their business during the year.

Mr. Thomas McCrae briefly addressed meeting. He stated that according to the new act it was necessary for members to pay their subscriptions before voting for officers. Another new clause in the Act was that the Secretary should be elected by the directors instead of at the annual meeting.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

Moved by Mr. R. Melvin, seconded by Mr. Geo. Darby, that the vote for officers be taken openly. Lost.

Moved by Rev. W. F. Clarke, and seconded by Mr. A. Gilchrist that the vote be taken by ballot. Carried.

Moved by Mr. Joseph Kirby, seconded by Rev. W. F. Clarke, that Wm. Whitelaw be President. Carried unanimously.

Moved by Thomas Waters, seconded by John Hobson, that L. Parkinson be first Vice-President. Carried unanimously.

Moved by Mr. John Hobson, seconded by Mr. John Card, that Mr. M. Sweetnam be second Vice President. Carried unanimously.

Messrs. John A. Wood and John McCorkindale were appointed scrutineers on motion of Mr. John Hobson, seconded by Mr. John Laidlaw.

The question as to the representation of the municipalities of Guelph Town and Township, Eramosa and Puslinch, at the board of directors caused considerable discussion. It was thought by several that the representation sent by the Town Council to the board were not eligible to vote at meetings according to law, notwithstanding they had always been allowed that privilege, and would be again allowed.

Auditors—Messrs. A. A. Baker, and F. W. Stone, re-elected.

A vote of thanks was tendered to the auditors for their services during the past year.

Hearty thanks were tendered to the retiring President, Mr. Thos. McCrae, and Mr. Geo. Murton, Secretary, for their services during the past year.

Rev. Mr. Clarke, called the attention of the Society to the fact that with many agricultural societies in Great Britain as well as in the States, Conventions were held in connection with the annual meetings. He thought it would be well for the County of Wellington to consider the advisability of holding a convention in connection with the next annual meeting. Valuable aid could be afforded a convention of farmers by the teachers at the Ontario School of Agriculture. Wellington was one of the most important, if not the most important Counties in the country, and it would be well that some such step should be taken here first.

The meeting then adjourned.

At a meeting of Directors subsequently held, on motion of Mr. John Hobson, seconded by Mr. Thos. McCrae, Mr. George Murton was unanimously re-elected Secretary-Treasurer.

Both mover and seconder paid a high compliment to the efficiency of Mr. Murton.

ANNUAL REPORT.

The Directors of the South Wellington and Guelph Township Agricultural Societies, in presenting their seventh annual report, beg to congratulate the members thereof on the success attending the exhibition during the past year, for this is the first time they have been able to show a surplus over and above all expenditure.

This is attributable, in a great measure, to the action taken by the Board at the commencement of the year. In the first place, a reduction was made in the prize list, which proved a wise measure, as it did not injure the exhibition materially, but was the means of saving a considerable amount in prize money. The Directors undertook to take the places, as far as possible, of the caretakers, thereby lessening the expenses. Another source was that many of the judges were from the immediate neighborhood, which lessened the expense. Then again, Col. Clarke most kindly furnished the music, by allowing the 30th Battalion Band to play during the Exhibition. Thus caused a saving of $100, and the Directors feel under a deep obligation to the gallant colonel for his and the band's kindness in coming to their aid. But what tendered as much or more than anything to make the show a success, was the propitious weather, for if we had had a wet day on Thursday, as it gave every appearance of being in the morning, all the saving in other respects would not have counterbalanced that drawback. We have, therefore, much to be thankful for to an overruling Providence.

The Town Council and this Board made an effort to obtain the holding of the Provincial Exhibition for 1878, in the town of Guelph, but were unsuccessful. We would still advise keeping the matter before the public, so that at some future time we may be better prepared to assert what we consider to be our rights.

The Directors would again heartily thank the friends of the Society who so liberally responded to the call made on them for special prizes, the amount collected being some $867. Included in this is the handsome prize of a spring hoe broadcast seeder, valued at $85, given by the Masson manufacturing company of Oshawa.

In the new Agricultural Act, passed at the last session of the Local Legislature, there are some alterations, more especially in sections 105 and 106, in which it is made imperative that all must pay their membership fee of one dollar "and not more than two" as decided by the directors, before they can vote, or be eligible for election as an officer. This Society recommended some alterations in the then contemplated Act, and we are pleased to find their suggestions were adopted, and on the whole we consider the present Act worthy of a fair trial.

In speaking of the crops of the country at large we may congratulate the farmers on their successful operations for the year. In this locality we are sorry to say they have turned out anything but good. Fall wheat was over an average but the quantity sown in this county was so little that it did not amount to much in the aggregate. Spring wheat was much damaged, while peas and oats were very much so, by the wet weather during harvest. Barley, which was gathered in before the rain began, was about an average crop, although many samples are light in weight and only fit for feeding.

Although the grain crop was so injured by the rains, it did a great amount of good to the roots, which, at that time, were suffering for the want of moisture, and the result was that one of the best crops of roots of all kinds ever grown in this county. This, with the splendid after feed, somewhat compensated the farmer for the loss of his grain.

We have received a circular from the Agricultural Society of North Norfolk, requesting the co-operation of this Society in petitioning the Provincial Legislature at this session for an increase in the amount of the grant now made to county Societies. You are all aware, no doubt, that the sum of $700 is now given to all electoral division societies, but after deducting the amount to which the township and horticultural societies are entitled to by law, leaves a balance quite inadequate to render efficient aid to the parent society. We have complied with the request, and shall forward a petition, to the Assembly, praying them to increase the grant to $1,000.

In speaking more particularly of the Exhibition, we must, of course, mention the horses first, as they are the most important. The show was very good, perhaps not so large as it would have been had not Hamilton held their show at the same time; thereby keeping away some who always patronize the Guelph Central. A large number of first-class animals were on the ground, among which we may mention some young ones in the Road and Carriage class, from Kentucky, which were much admired for their style and appearance. Especially fine was a two year old stallion, shown by Mr. Hornsby, of Eminence County, in that state. This promising young horse was bought by Mr. Drinkwater, from the County of Peel, and we hope he may be the means of improving that class of stock.

In cattle, the show was better than last year, more being exhibited in all classes, excepting grades, which showed a slight decrease. But the quality was such as to keep up the reputation gained by the County, in many a show yard, as being the best stock raising county in the Dominion.

In sheep, there was a considerable increase in the number exhibited, especially in Cotswolds and Lincolns, while Leicesters and Southdowns were about the same. All classes were well up to the mark in regard to quality.

The show of pigs was much superior, both as to numbers and quality, to last year. Many of them had been lately imported from England, and among them the pen of Berkshires to which had been awarded the Prince of Wales prize, at the Provincial, shown by J. Snell, of Edmonton. Messrs. Wright & Butterfield, of Windsor, were also very successful, they having taken the largest amount in prizes for pigs of any exhibitor.

Poultry was not quite so largely represented as usual, but equal in point of merit to any former year. One draw-back to this class is that it takes place when many of the old fowls are moulting, thereby rendering them unfit to exhibit.

The exhibit of grain &c., was excellent, both as to quantity and sample. Some exceedingly fine lots were shown, especially of fall wheat and barley, while peas and oats made up a very good display. We must not forget to mention that the Masson Manufacturing Co. offered a very handsome prize, valued at $85, for the best collection of grain, two bushels of each kind. This had the effect of bringing out some very fine specimens, especially that of Mr. Chas. Grant, of Colling wood, who showed several different varieties, among which was a sample of very fine white spring wheat, similar in the ear to the Egyptian Club, having several small ears branching out from the main one. From its appearance one would expect it to yield a heavy crop. Mr. Grant was awarded the prize, and we think most deservedly so.

The show of roots was truly splendid, and would have done credit to any exhibition in the world. Turnips, mangolds, carrots, potatoes, &c., in endless numbers, and of such excellent quality that left nothing to be desired, either for the table or for feeding purposes.

(BALANCE OF REPORT TO-MORROW.)

EPPS'S COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provide our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctor's bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. Lieut.-Col. Denison has received from Earl Dufferin a bronze medal in recognition of the honor gained by him for himself, for Canada, and for "all of us," in carrying off in competition with all Europe, and in the face of the world, the prize of the Russian Government for a "History of Cavalry." This is the first and only medal given honoris causa by Earl Dufferin.

THE CASH SYSTEM.—The first of a series of meetings to be held throughout the North Riding of Bruce, having for their object to point out the benefits of the cash system, and how it may be brought about, was held at Underwood, on Tuesday evening, when addresses were delivered D. O. Bricker, D. McLean, and H. J. Benner, editor of the Port Elgin Free Press. The hall was crowded, and the audience appeared to appreciate the remarks made by the above-named gentlemen. Public meetings will be held at Burgoyne and several other places next week, to discuss the same object.

Notice to the Public.

We have for a long time been firmly impressed with the conviction that the long credit system is injurious to business and unjust to creditors, and we have come to the determination to put a stop to it. Our experience is that the practice of extending accounts over a year is a great mistake, is unfair to the creditor and burdensome to the debtor. Were settlements made, say four times a year, instead of once, the amounts would be light, and payments would be comparatively easy, whereas, when accounts run for a year the amounts accumulate, and in many cases it is no easy matter to settle a bill.

We have, therefore, come to resolution to, in future, make out and collect our accounts for advertising and job work quarterly, and we hereby give notice that this rule will, in all cases, be strictly enforced. We believe that its adoption will be of equal benefit to our patrons as to us, and we shall, in no case, make an exception.

We are now sending out our accounts for the past year, and we must insist on the immediate settlement of them in all cases, otherwise we will have to take the usual but unpleasant steps to enforce payment.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

TORONTO, Jan. 15.

After routine business, Mr. Deacon asked whether it is the intention of the Government to introduce any measure this session for the preservation of the timber on Crown lands from destruction by fire.

Mr. Pardee—Yes; notice of a Bill on the subject has already been made.

Mr. Lauder moved for an order of the House for a return of all moneys received by the Government or any agent of the Government from sales of property or collections from debts belonging to the estate of the late Andrew Mercer. He attacked the Attorney General and the Government for giving large fees to their political friends for services in connection with this estate.

Mr. Mowat denied that there had been the slightest wastefulness in regard to the funds of this estate. There was not a particle of foundation for the charge made by the hon. gentleman. The largest fee yet paid was to a political opponent of the Government.

After some further discussion the motion was carried.

Mr. Hardy presented the Public Accounts for 1876.

The House then adjourned.

TORONTO, Jan. 16.

Mr. Bell asked whether it was the intention of the Government to take any action during the present session with a view to the construction of the new Parliament buildings for the Province of Ontario.

Mr. Mowat said it was not.

Mr. Creighton asked whether it was the intention of the Government during this session to propose amendments to chapter 182 of the Revised Statutes, popularly known as the Dunkin Act, and if so, in what particulars it is intended to amend it?

Mr. Mowat—Until it is decided by the Supreme Court whether we have any jurisdiction in the matter of the Dunkin Act, it is not the intention of the Government to consider the question of amending that Act.

On motion of Mr. Wood, the House went into Committee of Supply. The item of $379,815 required for the public service until the estimates for 1878 were finally passed, was carried, and the Committee rose and repaired.

Mr. Mowat presented the final report of the Commission on the Consolidated Statutes.

Annual Meeting and Second Report.

A very fair number of the shareholders of the Guelph and Ontario Investment and Savings Society assembled in the Caledonian Hall on Wednesday afternoon.

The President, Mr. D. Stirton, occupied the chair; and Mr. H. D. Morehouse, Secretary and Treasurer, acted in that capacity. There were present, besides these officers, Directors—J. B. Armstrong, Jas. Phin, Evan McDonald, Chas. McMillan, A. B. Petrie, T. Y. Greet, Geo. Hadden, F. J. Chadwick, and Dr. Keating.

Shareholders—Robert Melvin, Alex. Dunbar, W. H. Jacomb, S. Myers, G. A. Oxnard, Geo. Hirst, A. J. Brewster, Andrew Burns, Alex. Burns (Eramosa), Jno. Black (Sombra), Ed. Harrison, T. Pallister, Jno. Kane, John Phin, T. J. Day, and others.

The Secretary read the annual report and financial statement.

The President, Mr. D. Stirton, in moving the adoption of the report, congratulated the stockholders on the great measure of success attained during the year. It was only a young society yet; but when compared with others bore the comparsion extremely well. He sketched how city societies did their work, and passed on to say the object of the Guelph one had been to give an opportunity to men, who had an odd dollar or two, to invest them. It also enabled mechanics to build homesteads. He described the working of the permanent and accumulating plans, and said that in the former the city societies had more success than they had, as they could raise larger sums of money. A redeeming feature of their society was that it did local work, and he could say that hardly a loan had been granted without one or more of the members of the board knowing the property thoroughly. They thus dealt in something that they knew something about, and the result was that safe and profitable loans were effected. Although it was with difficulty they got people to understand the savings bank department, yet they had done extremely well during the past year. In that time $27,000 had been deposited, and at present there were $13,400 in their savings bank. He urged the shareholders present to push the business of the Society. It offers at least one per cent better interest than the bank on all loans and deposit loans. The payment of these were secured by the mortgages of the company, so that better investment could not be found. He spoke of the fact of the Board having employed an actuary during the year, to examine and value their mortgages. The gentleman who had done this work was of high ability, honesty and character, and now they knew just in what position they were. He hoped they would justify the Board in this action. He then described the modus operandi for converting accumulating into permanent stock, and urged the shareholders to convert their accumulating stock into permanent, and thus the company would be in a still better position. It could then borrow money from Britain or any part of Canada. He referred to American surety deposits, but was not sanguine about them. He concluded by urging the shareholders to tell their friends of the Society, its working, its benefits, and thus increase its business.

Mr. F. J. Chadwick seconded the motion, and it was carried unanimously.

On motion of Messrs. Petrie and Melvin, it was ordered to be printed.

Moved by Mr. A. Dunbar, seconded by Mr. R. Melvin, that the President be paid $100 for services during the past year, that the Directors be paid $1 for every meeting actually attended, and that those Directors from a distance be paid ten cents mileage, one way. Carried.

Mr. Chadwick said, previous to the ballot being taken for Directors, that he would ask them not to put his name on the paper, as he had not time to attend to the duties of the position.

Mr. T. J. Day and Mr. A. J. Brewster were appointed scrutineers.

The following is the result of the balloting for Directors: Messrs. D. Stirton, Jas. P. Phin, John Phin, A. B. Petrie, Evan Macdonald, Chas. McMillan, Geo. Hadden, Robert Melvin, J. B. Armstrong, Robert Forbes, Dr. Keating, and T. Y. Greet.

A vote of thanks was tendered to the scrutineers.

Mr. Melvin moved, Mr. Day seconded, a vote of thanks to the Directors for the manner in which they discharged their duties during the past year. Carried.

Mr. Stirton expressed his thanks, and also those of the Board, for the vote, and the meeting adjourned.

A meeting of the new Board of Directors was held after the meeting of shareholders, when D Stirton was re-elected President, and A B. Petrie Vice-President.

The Executive committee consists of the President, Vice-President, Messrs. Greet, Keating, Melvin, Forbes, and J. B. Armstrong.

Messrs. John Harris and G. A. Somerville were re-elected auditors.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE GUELPH AND ONTARIO INVESTMENT AND SAVINGS SOCIETY.

The net profits for the past year amount to $9,678.59 out of which after paying two half yearly dividends of four per cent each, amounting to the sum of $5,947.38, there remains a balance of $3,731.26 to be carried to the Reserve Fund, making that fund now $3,906 68.

The large increase in our Savings Bank deposits is a matter of satisfaction to the board and an evidence of the confidence which is felt in the company by the public, and we believe this fund would be further largely increased were the shareholders and the public more fully aware of the superior advantages offered by this Company, over those of other monetary institutions, both in the nature of the security, and the higher rate of interest paid.

Your directors beg to call the attention of shareholders to the advisability of converting accumulating stock into permanent stock, and we would remind them that in order to enable them to do so a By-law was passed last July empowering shareholders to transfer payments made on accumulating stock to their credit on permanent stock, only requiring them to leave the usual deposit of two dollars on each share of the remaining number of shares unscribed, the object being to enable the company to reach that stage which will impower them to borrow money on debentures. In order that there might be be no doubt in your minds as to the value of our securities, we thought it well to have a regular actuary to thoroughly examine the same, and the directors have pleasure in being able to say that his report is highly satisfactory.

A careful examination of the books of the company has been made by the auditors, whose report is appended hereto.

Your directors have pleasure in reporting the official discharge of their duties by the several officers of the company.

Signed, H. D. MOREHOUSE, Secy.-Treasurer. D. STIRTON, President.

FIRE AT WINGHAM.—A large fire broke out in Wingham on Tuesday in the frame building occupied by Smith & Pethick, which was used as a hardware store. The following are the parties burnt out:—Pettypiece & Black, a vacant store belonging to J. Sheppard, Dawson's tailor shop, Miller's bookstore, McKenzie's fruit store, Andrew's harness shop, Smith & Pethick's hardware store, McQueen's general store, Seager, Wade & Morton's law office. Black & Pettypiece, grocers, loss $500; insurance, $900; Pettypiece, loss on building, $700; insurance, $400. Andrew's harness shop, loss $1,500; insurance, in Gore Mutual, $1,050. Smith & Pethick, hardware, loss $6,000; insurance, in Gore Mutual and Standard and Canada Fire and Marine Insurance Companies, $3,000. George McKenzie, general store, loss $6,500; insurance, $4,000. James McQueen, loss $2,000; no insurance. S. G. Cox, stoves and tinware, stock damaged by removal, covered by insurance. Miller's bookstore, loss not known; insurance, $600. Hodgins & McIntosh, Royal Hotel, loss not known. Dawson, tailor, loss not known. McKenzie's fruit store, loss $1,000; no insurance. Seager, Wade & Morton's law office, loss slight. The village was only saved by the almost superhuman efforts of the people.

THE ALLEGED NASSAGAWEYA ASSAULT CASE.—Two weeks ago we gave on what we considered good authority a report of an alleged murderous assault in the above Township by Mr. R. L. Meade. We gave this report on the strength of our correspondent's statement, without prejudice or ill feeling towards the man who was accused. Mr. Meade now writes us to say that the charge was a malicious one, as he says was proved by the accusers and their witnesses before Judge Miller, who after hearing the evidence of three of them pronounced it to be a deep laid conspiracy, and dismissed the case. We greatly regret that we were led to publish the report as sent us, but we did so without prejudice and without the slightest feeling against Mr. Meade, and we hereby make all the reparation that we can by expressing our sorrow that it appeared, and trust that those papers which copied the statement from us will also publish this explanation.

NORTH WATERLOO REFORM ASSOCIATION.—At a meeting of the Executive committee of the North Waterloo Reform Association, held at Waterloo on Tuesday, the resignation of Mr. John Macdougall, the past President of the Association was received and accepted. Mr. Macdougal's resignation was necessitated by his appointment to the office of Clerk of the County Court. Mr. J. King, barrister, Berlin, one of the Vice-President's of the Association, was elected President, and Mr. Conrad Steebing, Vice-President, in the room of Mr. King. Several amendments to the constitution of the Association were adopted, subject to the approval of a mass meeting of the Reform electors of the riding, which will be held in the town hall, Waterloo, on January the 30th, at 10 a.m. Messrs. J. E. Bowman, M.P., and W Springer, M P.P., the members for the riding, were present at the meeting.

The Little Saskatchewan.

John McTavish, of section 5, in township 18 west, on the Little Saskatchewan river, exhibited a magnificent sample of Fife wheat, the product of a first plowing. The grain was bright, large and plump, and turns out 66 lbs. to the bushel. The yield was 36 bushels to the acre. Mr. McTavish reports that over a hundred first-class settlers have located during the past season in his and the neighboring townships, besides scattering settlers north to the slopes of the Riding Mountain and west to near Fort Ellice. The country, as far as he has explored, over 100 miles along the base of the Riding Mountain, is very rich and attractive for settlement, having an abundance of wood and spring water, supplying a soil of surpassing richness and fertility.

A saw and grist mill is now in process of erection for Wm. Cameron, principal of the City School, at the junction of the Little Saskatchewan, within the Rolling River, which will be a great boon to the settler, and enable them to cut off the shipment of flour to the west from the eastern settlements. The settlers complain of the Land Office being so far to the east of the land available for settlement, and claim if there is a necessity for one at the portage, there is still greater need for one at, or near Mill City, on the river, the railroad question is one which also is an absorbing topic to them, and they expect some decided action from Winnipeg if the Dominion Government fail to do them justice. Their present expectation is, that if the southern route is not chosen, a bonus will be granted to a local line through the arable land.

Mr. McTavish's wheat, we understand, been sent to the Surveyor-General at Ottawa for exhibition purposes along with some other fine armples.—Extract from Manitoba Free Press. wtf

We have pleasure in soliciting the attention of all our friends and customers to the following New Goods which we are now receiving into stock, and deem worthy of special attention:

Two cases new American White Cottons soft finish, full widths, and best goods, at 10, 12½ and 15 cents a yard.

1 Case—5000 yards—new Swiss Embroideries, chaste and beautiful patterns, and best widths, at 10, 12½, 15 and 20 cents a yard. The ladies of the town will find these goods about one-half cheaper than last season's prices. We hope to clear the entire lot this month. The prices will make them sell.

60 pieces new Ruffings, in Muslin, Tarlatan and Crefetine—very latest designs.

New Real Torchon Laces, at present so popular in Paris, London and New York, in various widths, from 38 cents to $1.50. We also show an extraordinary job lot of real Maltese Laces, which we trust every lady will make a point of seeing at once. The prices will sell them rapidly.

We also show to-day the new and handsome Brocaded Silks (which are so much the rage in all the leading centres of fashion in Europe and America. We ask the ladies of Guelph to see these goods at once. Magnificent Silk and Chenille Fringes to match each shade.

Our stock of Kid Gloves is at present very large and well assorted, in all the new shades. Ladies will find no difficulty in making selections from our stock of kids.

Our Haberdashery and Fancy Goods Departments have been fully replenished within the past few days with new goods suitable for the season, and are now very attractive.

We particularly invite those who find it difficult to obtain what they require elsewhere to visit these departments.

We have also opened up full lines of Plain and Twilled Sheetings, Grey Cottons, Pillow Cottons, Prints, Towellings, Tickings, Black Lustres, Black Cashmeres, etc., etc. It will afford us pleasure to receive your inspection of the above goods.

THAT WONDERFUL MAN

OFF AGAIN TO THE BRITISH MARKETS

FOR SPRING GOODS.

WE COMMENCE OUR

GREAT CLEARING SALE

On Monday, 4th February next,

During that time we will fulfill to a demonstration all that we promise, namely, to sell all and every article we have in stock at the actual cost price of it.

We confidently refer back to our past Clearing Sales, and promise in this sale, as in all former ones, to keep faith with the public. When we advertise a Clearing Sale at cost price, we keep our word, and no matter at what loss or sacrifice it may be to us, we bind ourselves NOT TO DISAPPOINT OR DECEIVE THE PUBLIC, OUR FRIENDS OR CUSTOMERS. We ask, feeling confident of a hearty response, that all intending buyers of Fancy or Staple Doods, will advise themselves of this opportunity of supplying their requirements at a saving of 20 per cent. We ask an inspection of our goods, and the promise we make of actual cost prices; we will agree to pay expenses of a visit to our establishment if all that we here state does not turn out to be sound in every particular. Our Mr. Hogg, senior, leaves in a few days for the British Markets for spring Goods, and a clearance of present stock must be effected. People of the Town of Guelph and County of Wellington you have had a trial of the Wonderful Man for over 25 years. He has worked faithfully for your interests during all that time, and he is doing so to this day. He is strong, healthy and robust now as ever he was, and he is on the war path to exterminate and put to shame dealers in old bankrupt and moth-eaten goods. People of town and country do not be deceived. The test of a man is his past career. You have had every opportunity of knowing and judging of the Wonderful Man. All that he asks is that you consider him entitled to YOUR PATRONAGE AND SUPPORT.

John Hogg & Son only keep in stock the best class of Fancy and Staple Dry Goods, Millinery, Jackets, Ready Made Clothing, &c., and at the great reduction these goods will be offered at during the Clearing Sale will induce thousands to flock to our establishment.

CHAPTER XV.

DADDY DUFF IN PERIL OF HIS LIFE.

Presently two trestles were set up and rough deals laid on them to form a table. On this a substantial dinner was set forth—ant consisting of delicacies, certainly, but comprising such food as strong and hungry men can best relish—large pieces of boiled beef smoking hot, with putatoes, bread, and vegetables in abundance, the broached anker being set in the midst of them that its contents might come in as an accompaniment.

To this repast they at once began, some occupying seats, others laying or reclining on the rocky floor. There was but a scanty supply of dishes, but this did not seem to be a felt want, for with the knives which every man carried, he cut off huge slices both of bread and meat, and, dividing these into suitable portions, he soon made them vanish.

The man whom they called Dixon was the one who acted as master of ceremonies, at least so far as ceremony was observed. Black Dick did not show face on the occasion, a huge platter being heaped and sent into the recess to which he had retired.

Social refinement was not to be looked for among such men as formed the present company. The occupation they followed was not conducive to the cultivation of gentle manners, and they themselves were, for the most part, the wildest spirits of the district. But, to do them justice, they manifested no brutality or even great ferocity of demeanour. Occasionally an oath was rattled out, and coarse language indulged in—a circumstance not to be wondered at, seeing that Black Dick's gang, as it was called, had several disreputable members. These, however were decidedly in the minority—the greater number being sensible, good-natured men, who had heart and feeling like other people.

Dixon, especially, was a notable person. He was a strong, smart-made fellow, between thirty and forty years of age; and his mode of speech gave token that he had received a good education. This and his natural force of character had, no doubt, given him the leading position which he occupied in that lawless community, for the strongest minds always take the highest place. Besides all this, Dixon had an air and manner which showed him to be of superior birth and breeding to the rest.

He especially seemed to feel the injustice which had been done to Daddy Duff. Hitherto a stranger to the old mendicant, he had quickly perceived his sterling worth and genuineness, and desired to honor him accordingly. So he had him set at his right hand, and saw that he was well supplied with provisions.

"What a glorious denner," exclaimed the mendicant, in the fullness of his satisfaction, as he made the viands disappear with as much celerity of any of them.

"Ha! You don't get so good a one every day, I suppose?"

"Ye may weel say that. Mony a day I get nane ava; but that's only when I'm far frae ony house, for I am prood tae say that wherever Daddy Duff mak's a ca' at meal time he's ne'er refused his bit and his sup. I'm no ill tae please, sir; and a cog o' brose or a basin o' kail mak's me content, though, when a royal feast o' this kind comes in my way, I dinna hesitate tae dee justice tae it. You chaps seem to live weel in this queer outlandish place—for, atweel, it is the strangest place e'er I set fit in."

"Why, ay; this is our mountain palace," said Dixon with a laugh, "and it's a more ancient one than either Falkland or Holyrood."

"Nae doot it's as auld as the Flood," assented Daddy. "But, lord, sirs, if the gauger only cam' tae hear o't."

"That's why we are so particular about treachery, my friend. The same hand which brought Gillespie upon us in the gorge on the Hill of Fare may lead him and his men hither."

"That's very true," was the reply, for Daddy thought it not unlikely that if Gilmour Logan's interest required it, Dougal Callum would find ways and means of leading the officers to that distant mountain cave.

What a wonderful reviving power good cheer has on the physical frame. Under the influence of that substantial dinner and the "double dew" Daddy forgot his weariness and his aching limbs, and became quite joval, appearing in his very best character as song singer, story teller, and general entertainer, till all were hugely diverted by his enlivening company. Thus he turned into a merry festival what might otherwise have developed into an ogre, for it not seldom happened that the smugglers patronized their own manufacture to an injurious extent. On this occasion they were prevented from doing so by the bequiling influence of Daddy's power to amuse, and he kept them in full enjoyment till a late hour, when he finally declared that "his een were gaun thegither, and that he mann awa tae bed."

Wellington County Council.

The Council of Wellington for 1878 comprises three more members than it did last year, the present number now being forty-five. Pilkington, West Garafraxa, and Erin are the municipalities that have the extra representation. This is indicative of an increase in the electorate, and must be gratifying indeed to all who take an interest in the prosperity of the County. The following are the names of the Councillors, and the municipalities they represent:—

Stanley arrived in Paris on Wednesday, and was received at the railway station by the members of the Geographical Society.

A great temperance demonstration was held in the Mechanics' Institute, St. John, N.B., on Wednesday night. The Lieutenant-Governor came from Fredericton to attend, and was among the speakers. The hall was crowded, and hundreds failed to gain admission. The temperance movement is gaining ground rapidly. The Reform Club has one thousand members, and it is intended to build a hall.

Doctor, it Feels Like a Ball of Fire!!

So speak oftentimes the sufferer from Dyspepsia. After eating, it seems as if there was a veritable ball of fire running up and down through his stomach. If he eats much he feels it; if he don't eat much he feels it. It destroys his enjoyment of life. If the doctor be really desirous of curing his patient he should not experiment with the sufferer, he should recommend him to use PERUVIAN SYRUP, whose merits have been tested so long, and always satisfactorily. Balls of fire in the stomach and PERUVIAN SYRUP can't dwell together. Send to your druggist; he keeps it always ready, and try it. It will work like a charm.

GEORGE BURTON,

Guelph, July 1st 1878 Proprietor.

Harriston Correspondence.

The excitement incident to our municipal election has about passed away, and things have become tranquilized. The victorious have overcome emotions of joy, and the defeated forgotten the humiliation of defeat. The result of the Reeveship took most people by surprise, as it was generally believed that the long and faithful services rendered by Mr. Meiklejohn to the municipality would be reciprocated by the electorate, and he be placed at the head of the poll. More especially was it thought so from the fact that neither at the nomination nor during the contest was any reason announced by his opponents why he should not be elected. But it seems a very potent under current influence was at work in the shape of manufactured stories, in which there was not a particle of truth, which had the effect of poisoning the mind of many, thereby leading them to cast their vote differently from what they would under other circumstances. Since the election these stories which did such noble service in Mr. Robinson's cause have been disclosed by the more enthusiastic of his supporters, who could not hold them longer. They, however, being of so base a nature they can not do other than recoil back on themselves with more force than on their present victim. A certain journal in speaking of the election refers to a class who don't know how to face either victory or defeat, and are for the time bereft of all reason. The same journal might, with propriety, have referred to another class of which the recent concest has shown Harriston to be unfortunately too largely possessed of, and which are more dangerous to any community, viz., a class bereft of every sacred claim of honor or principle, and who ostensibly while in sympathy with one party, are at the same the real friend and conductors of the other, thereby betraying those who confide in them, and prove a very Judasin the camp. But be the cause of Mr. Meiklejohn's defeat what it may, as he retires for a while from public life, his opponents can not truthfully say aught against him, and the prosperity and progress which has attended the village during the five years he has been its representative, shows conclusively that he has been assiduous in the discharge of his duty, and when the time come for Mr. Robinson to render an account of his stewardship, if he can point to as good a record as Mr. Meiklejohn, he will exceed the most sanguine anticipations of his most enthusiastic friends.

Guthrie Church will be dedicated on the 20th of February. The pastor, Rev. John Baikie, and the people are making active preparations for the event. There will be three services on Sabbath: at 11 a.m.; 2:30 p.m.; and 7 p.m. A tea meeting will be held in the basement on the following day, Monday, for which several gentlemen will be present to deliver addresses. Arrangements will be made for good music. The church which will be finally completed in a few days is a most magnificent building, and will reflect much credit on the contractors for the efficient manner in which they have performed their work, and on the congregation for their energy and enterprise in erecting so great a structure.

John C. Wilson, the celebrated Scotish vocalist, will give one of his entertainments in the Town Hall, on Wednesday evening, the 23rd instant. His programme is very extensive.

The Caledonian Society have completed arrangements for holding their first ball and supper in the Town Hall on Burns' anniversary, the 25th instant. A good programme has been prepared, and the committee will spare no pains to make it a success. Tickets, $1.50.

In consequence of the partnership heretofore existing between Alexander Meiklejohn and Alexander Michie being about to dissolve, and Mr Meiklejohn's withdrawal from the firm, they offer the balance of their stock at a greatly reduced rate.

The Guelph Barrel Company having taken final possession of the factory recently purchased by them from Robinson & Robertson, have advertised for logs with which to manufacture there stuff.

The weather is the all absorbing topic of discussion. We had partial sleighing the forepart of last week, but it soon disappeared, and landed us back to neither sleighing nor good wagoning.

A very distressing case of affliction took place in the family of Mr. J. B. Taylor, of this town, on Saturday, he having lost by diptheria on the same day a son aged twelve years and a daughter aged fourteen years. Other members of Mr. Taylor's family are severely afflicted.

Montreal Cattle Market.

MONTREAL, Jan. 15th.

There was a pretty large attendance at the Viger market to-day, but not much business was done. Half of the milch cows and more than half of the beef critters remained unsold. There were over a dozen milch cows offered, a few being very good animals. A fine Ayrshire cow was sold for $52. Two other good cows were sold for $97. M. G. Bourdeau, of Lawrenceville, sold a milch cow for $36, and two fat cows for $62. N. McClenaghan, of Perth, sold eight head of cattle yesterday and to-day at from $18 to $30. P. Brady, of Perth, sold six cattle at $25 each. Eli Patenaude, of St. Isidore, sold 9 small cattle, bulls and heifers, at $15 each. Warry Gould, of Whitby, sold 10 cattle to H. Cousin for $315. A Dew, of Berlin, sold several head of bulls and oxen at $50. each. A small Canadian cow and her calf were sold for $26. There were but 27 head of sheep and lambs on the market They were of pretty good quality, and sold from $4 to $4.50 each. No sales of dressed hogs were reported to-day. Owners are anxious to sell, while buyers are offering $5 per 100 lbs. for ordinary lots.

The election for Water Commissioners for London resulted in the return of Messrs. Carling and Hyman by a majority of about 750 over Mr. Cousins, the third and independent candidate.

On Tuesday morning Mr. Israel S. Hopkins, one of the oldest and most respected inhabitant of Flamboro' East, died suddenly at his own residence of debility of the heart.

Professor Bell exhibited the telephone on Monday to Queen Victoria at Osborne, her marine residence. Kate Field sang through the telephone. Her Majesty expressed great delight.

DOMINION GRANGE.—The fourth annual meeting of the Dominion Grange commenced on Tuesday in Toronto. There was a large attendance of members from different parts of the Dominion. All parts were represented, with the exception of British Columbia and Manitoba, the Maritime Provinces and Quebec, however, being fully represented. The Grange was duly opened by W. M. S., W. Hill. Among the members reported present from this section are Harvey Cull, Fergus, and John Ramsay, Eden Mills. In the course of his address Mr. Hill said that there were now over 600 subordinate Granges in connection with the Dominion Grange.

Mr. Gordon Brown, of the Globe, and family, leave for England next week.

President Hayes will, in his forthcoming message to Congress, recommend that the heads of Departments have seats on the floor of the House of Representatives.

Guelph Markets.

GUELPH, Jan. 17, 1878.

Our market for the past number of days has shown no great signs of animation, principally we presume owing to the want of sleighing. Some days ago it was hoped that for a time at least there would be snow sufficient, but no sooner did we have a slight fall of snow than it disappeared almost equally as fast.

Wheat continues steady although outside markets seem to have a decidedly downward tendency.

The only thing moving of any magnitude is dressed hogs, which in sympathy with foreign and local advices have also a depressing effect on dealers here. Our quotations will show the latest prices paid.

In other articles there is no material change notwithstanding that receipts are light.

Here are the quotations up to 4 o'clock this p.m.:—

Dr. Wm. Gray's Specific Medicine

The Great English Remedy is especially recommended as an unfailing cure for Seminal Weakness, Spermatorrhea, Impotency, and all diseases that follow as a consequence of Self Abuse, as Loss of Memory, Universal Lassitude, Pain in the Back, Dimness of Vision, Premature Old Age, and many other diseases that lead to INSANITY or CONSUMPTION and a PREMATURE GRAVE, all of which, as a rule, are first caused by deviating from the path of nature, and over indulgence.

The Specific Medicine is the result of a life study and many years of experience in treating those special diseases. Pamphlet free by mail.

The Specific Medicine is sold by all druggists at $1 per package, or six Packages for $5, or will be sent by mail on receipt of the money, by addressing DR. WM. GRAY & CO., Windsor, Ont.

1. The borrower is NOT OBLIGED to repay any part of the principal until the whole term of the Mortgage has run.
2. He has the RIGHT (after the first year) to repay at any time, the whole or any part of the Loan, without prior notice to the Company.
3. No extra charge, bonus or otherwise, is exacted on such repayment.
4. He is requested when making application for the Loan, to state the day on which he wishes interest to be made payable. He thus can stipulate for a date, say after harvest, or at such time as is likely to be most convenient for him.
5. Interest can be made payable once a year—not in advance.
6. On repayment of any part of the principal, interest on such amount immediately ceases.

The Evening Mercury

FRIDAY EVEN'G, JAN. 18, 1878.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

TORONTO, January 17.

A large number of petitions were presented for the abolition of tax exemptions.

The Standing Committees were reported.

Mr. Mowat presented the report of the Committee appointed to consider and report upon a form of prayer. It was as follows:

O Lord, our Heavenly Father, high and mighty, King of kings, Lords of lords, the only ruler of princes, who dost from Thy throne behold all dwellers upon earth, most heartily we beseech Thee with Thy favor to behold our most gracious Sovereign Lady Queen Victoria, and so replenish her with the grace of Thy Holy Spirit that she may always incline to Thy will and walk in Thy way. Endue her plenteously with Heavenly gifts; grant her in health and wealth long to live strengthen her that she may vanquish and overcome all her enemies; and finally, after this life, may attain everlasting joy and felicity, through Jesus Christ our Lord.—Amen.

Almighty God, the Fountain of all Goodness, we humbly beseech Thee to bless Albert Edward Prince of Wales, the Princess of Wales, and all the Royal Family: Endue them with thy Holy Spirit; enrich them with thy heavenly grace; prosper them with all happiness, and bring them to thine everlasting Kingdom, through Jesus Christ our Lord.—Amen.

Most Gracious God, we humbly beseech Thee, as for the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and Her Majesty's Dominions in general, so especially for this Province, and herein more particularly for the Lieutenant-Governor and the House of Assembly, in their legislative capacity at this time assembled; that Thou wouldst be pleased to direct and prosper all their consultations, to the advancement of Thy glory, the safety, honor, and welfare of our Sovereign and her Province of Ontario, that all things may be so ordered and settled by their endeavors upon the best and surest foundations, that peace and happiness, truth and justice, religion and piety, may be established amongst us for all generations. These, and all other necessaries for them, and for us, we humbly beg in the name and through the mediation of Jesus Christ, our Most blessed Lord and Saviour. Amen.

Our Father which art in Heaven, hallowed be Thy name. Thy Kingdom come, Thy will be done on earth, as it is in Heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive them who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil.—Amen.

Mr. Mowat introduced bills to provide for the winding up of joint stock companies, for employing prisoners at hard labor outside of gaol limits, and for confirming the work of the Commissioners appointed to consolidate the statutes.

Mr. Mowat moved for the appointment of a Select Committee to consider and report on the subject of sanitary measures for maintaining and promoting the public health. The Committee chosen includes all the members of the medical profession in the House, together with the Minister of Education. Carried.

Mr. Wood, in reply to Mr. Lauder, stated that no Dominion stock in the possession of the Ontario Government had been sold during 1877, but that Dominion five per cent. bonds to the amount of £149,000 sterling had been placed in the hands of Sir John Rose, to be disposed of in London.

Mr. Clarke (Norfolk) moved for a Select Committee for the purpose of amending the rules of the House, in order to have an earlier hour for the ordinary meeting than three in the afternoon. The motion was lost, without debate, on a division, by 42 to 28.

Mr. Lauder moved for a return of all Commissions of Enquiry issued since Confederation, and the expenses incurred in connection with them. Quite a discussion took place, and the motion, after being slightly amended, was carried.

LAW STUDENTS' SOCIETY.—On Tuesday evening the law students met in their rooms to discuss the following question now in the Court of Chancery in this Province:—Mr. Jas. Stinson was a trustee of the estate of his father, Thomas Stinson. By the father's will, it was provided that if his son, Henry A. Stinson, died before he attained his majority, or if he died without issue, the property bequeathed to him should be equally divided between the children. Time elapsed; Henry reached his majority and assumed the proprietorship of the property bequeathed to him by his father. Coming into possession of his estate, Henry in turn made a will, and when he died, unmarried and without issue, it was found he had bequeathed all his property to his brother John Stinson. The parties entitled in remainder, under the father's will, contest the validity of the devise from Henry to John." For the plaintiffs it was contended that, as Henry died without issue, the property must be divided in accordance with the will of the father; that he merely took an estate bail which he did not bar in his lifetime, and consequently that the devise could not hold as against the remainders. The defendant contended that on the fulfilment of either of the conditions mentioned in the father's will, he became entitled to an estate in fee simple, and that on becoming of age he acquired such an estate, and therefore the devise was valid. It was decided in favor of the defendant.

SCOTTISH CONCERT.—This (Friday) evening Mr. John C. Wilson will give a concert in the Town Hall, the programme being made up entirely of Scotch songs. Mr. Wilson has acquired an excellent reputation in several States in the Union for his fine singing, and where he has appeared in Canada the press speak very highly of him. He sings in full Highland costume. The Danbury Democrat, in speaking of one of his concerts, says:—"The singing of Scotch songs by Prof. Wilson, was truly fascinating. He was attired in a splendid Highland costume, and with a soft, melodious voice, "Bonny Doon" and other popular songs were executed with such thrilling pathos as to call forth repeated applause and encores from the many hundreds that were there assembled." The Scottish American Journal states that Mr. Wilson has a sweet voice of good compass, and sings the familiar ballads with the appreciation of a musician, and the enthusiasm of a Scotchman.

Local News Items.

PORK is declining in price. The figures paid to-day were $4.50 to $4.80 per cwt.

WEATHER PROBS received this morning by Dominion telegraph, are: Light to moderate northeasterly winds, and cloudy to fair weather.

ST. PATRICK'S SOCIETY meets this evening at eight o'clock at the Albion Hotel. Business—to receive the report of special committee. A full attendance is expected.

SEVERAL residents on Paisley street, in the neighborhood of the Primitive Methodist Church, would like to see the old wagon, standing nearly opposite the church, removed to the back yard by the owner.

"SILENT AND TRUE," by May Agnes Fleming, in Robertson's twenty-five cent edition, for sale at Anderson's book-store. Mr. Anderson is now making a grand clearing sale of his entire stock of fancy goods at cost price.

THE Brantford Board of Aldermen voted the reporters of the two local journals $30 each, "in recognition of their faithful reports of Council proceedings throughout the present year, as such service is of great advantage to the ratepayers and the city, as the citizens are thereby kept well posted on city affairs."

CALEDONIAN MEETING.—The meeting last night was well attended. Chief Innes occupied the chair. The arrangements for the celebration of the 25th of January were commenced. A committee on membership goes to work at once. Some twenty volumes were promised to the library and Scottish papers are daily expected. The rooms will be kept open on Thursday and Saturday evenings after this week.

SOUP KITCHEN.—The benevolent ladies of Guelph who are interested in the soup kitchen, are not assisted as they should be by citizens of the town and farmers in the neighborhood. The demand for soup by starving people has been so great that at times they cannot be given all they want. No farmer would be poorer by donating a bag of peas, potatoes or turnips to the soup kitchen, and they would have the satisfaction of knowing that they had done a charitable act.

EVENING SOCIAL.—A very pleasant evening social was held in the basement of the Primitive Methodist Church last evening, given by several of the ladies in aid of a fund for the church benefit. After tea quite an interesting programme of singing, reading, and recitations was given. The absence of Master Lou Harris through illness was particularly noticed, the young lad's playing at these socials being quite an item in the programme. The party separated early, well pleased with the evening's enjoyment.

BOGUS.—Counterfeit fifty cent pieces are in circulation in town, and merchants and others should be on the look out for them. The coin is evidently made of a very inferior metal, and then very thickly silver plated. The maple wreath on the reverse side is a little indistinct near the edges, and the milling around the edge is not as clear cut as in the genuine coin. The counterfeit is dated 1871. A little care exercised in receiving money will prevent circulation of the bogus coins.

ANNIVERSARY AND LECTURE.—On Sabbath, 27th inst., the anniversary services in connection with the Dublin street Methodist Church will be held, when W. H. Poole will conduct the services. On Monday evening, 28th, Mr. Poole, who is a celebrated lecturer, will deliver a lecture in the church on "Anglo-Israel; or the British Nation the Lost Tribes of Israel." This lecture has been well received and liberally patronized no less than five times in Toronto, three times in Hamilton and twice in London.

SOCIAL.—The social last evening in the Baptist Church was a very pleasant affair. The chair was taken by the pastor, Rev. J. A. Durkee. The programme consisted of choice vocal and instrumental music, readings, recitations, &c. A four part round, by sixteen voices, was a decided success, and called forth continued applause. The services of the church choir under the leadership of Mr. J. Rodgers, added materially to the enjoyment of the evening.

PUSLINCH AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.—At the annual meeting of the Puslinch Agricultural Society, the following officers were elected:—President, Peter Mahon; Vice-President, Thos. Carter; Secretary-Treas., William Nicoll. Directors—Wm. Rae, Jas. Anderson, James Mason, Alex. Smith, Allan McIntyre, John McFarlane, jun., John Scott, Wm. Kerr, Jas. Glennie. Honorary Directors—Adam Shaw, Hespeler; Richard Nicklin, Flamboro; George Norrish, Nassagaweya; Hugh Black, Eramosa; Robert Kirby, Guelph. Committee—Henry Arkell, Jas. Scott, Peter McLean, D. McNaughton, D. McFarlane, Jas. Galloway, John McPherson, George Collins.

THE ENCORE FIEND.—An exchange very truthfully remarks: There is a disposition on the part of many concert and theatre-goers to encore everything. In fact, of late, it seems to have become a sort of mania. Programmes are always sufficiently lengthy, and it is seldom necessary to encore a song for instance, simply to prolong the pleasure, or as a compliment to the performer. There are persons in every audience who never get enough of a good thing, whether it is because they desire big returns for small investments, or because they take special pleasure in flattering the singer, or because they think it the correct thing to do, we are not prepared to say; but that it is in most cases a very unnecessary, absurd, and tedious business, any one will admit. It has become a source of annoyance, and some means should be devised to "sit down" on the encore fiend.

The War News.

January 17.

The Turkish armistice plenipotentiaries have arrived at town called Mustapha Pasha and wait there for the return of the envoy sent to the Russian camp to facilitate their further journey. They will reach Kesanlik on Saturday or Sunday.

A Vienna correspondent says:—It is reported from Constantinople that should the armistice negotiations fail the Porte will unfurl the flag of the prophet, or permit the English fleet to pass the Dardanelles.

The news of England and Austria's action is confirmed by the Vienna New Free Press, excepting that Austria only made her declaration at Constantinople and not at St. Petersburg.

A St. Petersburg despatch says:—It is semi-officially announced that no such declarations as are attributed to England and Austria have been made here.

A Pera despatch says it is understood that the British fleet is preparing to leave Vourla for Besika Bay.

A London despatch says there is no news from the seat of war, which has a bad look for the Turks.

A Cologne Gazette special says the Russians are before Philippopolis. A battle is imminent, and the foreign consular representatives have demanded a suspension of arms for twenty-four hours, to send away non combatants.

The Russian troops have arrived at Hermanli.

A Cattaro despatch says, the Montenegrins have entered Dulcigno without resistance.

A Vienna correspondent telegraphs that the Porte has abandoned all hope of Suleiman Pasha being able to reach Adrianople and the Turks are preparing to evacuate.

Literary Notices.

BEATTY'S SYSTEM OF PRACTICAL PENMANSHIP.—This new Canadian series of headline copy books has been issued by Messrs. Adam Miller & Co., Toronto. Although we do not altogether approve of the system of penmanship adopted, yet it is only just to state that the books have been carefully prepared, the writing is very distinct; the material is good, and the covers contain hints for teaching writing, which we warmly recommend every teacher who desires to have his pupils excel in this art, an art which receives too little attention in our schools at the present day—carefully to study and apply in his class. They are clear, precise and full, embracing such points as the position of the writer at the desk, mode of holding the pen, rests and movements, slant, formation of elementary characters, letters, suggestions to teachers, and order of conducting a class.

The same company have also published J. Hamblin Smith's Treatise on Arithmetic, adapted to Canadian schools, by Mr. Kirkland, Science Master, Normal School, Toronto, and whose name is connected with that of Dr. McLellan in the publication, some time ago, of Examination Papers in Arithmetic, and by Mr. Scott, Head Master of the Model Schools for Ontario. The work justly claims to be more than a simple reprint of the English work. Several articles have been introduced which are not in the original. Each chapter is followed by examination papers, designed to ascertain if the pupil understands the subject he has been studying, to draw out his thinking powers, and to train him for examinations, which he may be called to undergo. The book is an excellent one, should be studied by every teacher, and largely used in our schools. Two appendices are added, the first on Interest, Annuities, Discount and Equation of Payments, and the second on the Cube Root, which will be found useful.

"Epochs of English History," including the Tudors and the Reformation, by M. Creighton, M. A., and "The Struggle against Absolute Monarchy," by Bertha M. Cordery, have reached us. The style is simple, and adapted to the capacity of children at school. There might be a fuller narrative of facts, however, than has been given, which would naturally increase the value of the books. They are authorized by the Minister of Education.

Messrs. Campbell & Son have sent forth to the public "How to Parse," an attempt to apply the principles of scholarship to English Grammar, with appendices on Analyses, Spelling and Punctuation, by the the Rev. Dr. Abbott, Head Master of the city of London school. The Treatise cannot be too highly praised. It enters some what fully into the irregularities and anomalies of the English language, and generally gives such explanations as must commend themselves to the student. The appendix on "The growth of the English Language," is concise, full, and valuable.

From the same house we have a "General Sketch of European History," by Dr. Edward A. Freeman. The object of the writer is to trace out the general relations of different periods and countries to one another without going minutely into the affairs of any particular country. The book consists of seventeen chapters, the first on the "Origin of Nations;" the second on "Greece and the Greek Colonies;" the third on the "Roman Commonwealth;" the fourth on the "Heathen Empire;" the fifth on the "Early Christian Empire;" and so on. Chapter ten gives a general view of the "Middle Ages," beginning with a general survey of Europe, and dwelling, among other subjects, on the Church and Empire, changes in the old Teutonic constitution, origin of fiefs, effects of the feudal tenures, &c. "The Rise of Russia" is traced in chapter fifteen, and the two following ones give respectively an account of "The French Revolution" and of "The Reunion of Germany and Italy." There are eighteen maps interspersed through the work, which contains a large amount of historical knowledge in an interesting style. It is well adapted for schools.

The history primer "Europe," by the same author, and issued also by the Messrs. Campbell, is an abridgment of the foregoing, yet we may say re-written. It contains a great deal of information in small compass.

In the Manitoba Legislature on Thursday a resolution was carried in favor of petitioning the Dominion Government to permit the re-payment of the seed wheat advances bushel for bushel, instead of, as at present, four bushels to one—a proportion due to the relative value of the grain. A resolution was also adopted for a petition to Ottawa praying that the rate of payment for land in the settlement belt be reduced from $5 to $1 per acre.

The Imperial Parliament.

Debate on the Address.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—In debating the Address in the House of Lords,

Earl Granville said that if the assurances given by Russia in regard to British interests were unsatisfactory Parliament should have been called together immediately. If they were satisfactory, the only effect of summoning Parliament now was to cause a feeling of insecurity.

Lord Beaconsfield said the summons to Parliament was issued when there at first appeared to be an opportunity for the inauguration of peace negotiations. He repudiated the newspaper statement concerning the Government's policy, and strongly repudiated the accusation of division in the Cabinet. The Government never varied from the decision of conditional neutrality they first arrived at. Negotiations had been brought about which might or might not be successful. The Government considered there were British interests which must not be endangered if the contest goes on. If Parliament approved of the policy of conditional neutrality regarding these interests, the least they could do was to give the Government the means of guarding them. Earl Beaconsfield pointed to the opening of the present negotiations as a proof that England was not isolated or uninfluential. He concluded. "If in the negotiations British influence increases—as God grant it may—I will express the unanimous sentiment of the Government that that influence will be used for the greatest interests of humanity and for securing a stable and enduring peace. But if we are called upon to defend the rights and interests of England, if your present prospects of peace are unrealized, if there are circumstances that demand that we should appeal again and again to Parliament for the means of vindicating the honour and interest of the country, I am certain Government will never fail to take that course." (Loud cheers).

The Duke of Argyle said Earl Beaconsfield's speech was brilliant, but evasive. It was to be noted as a significant fact that it made no mention of the independence and integrity of the Ottoman Empire.

The Marquis of Salisbury emphatically denied that the Cabinet was divided or England isolated. The summoning of Parliament could not encourage the Turks to resist, as they had been repeatedly told to expect no assistance from England. The Government had done all in their power to secure peace and good government for the Christians in Turkey, but would not do anything to imperil British subjects or their interests for the sake of all the other Christians in the world. He concluded:—"If you will not trust the Government, provide yourselves with a Government you will trust. If you trust the Government, provide it with the proper means of carrying out your confidence." The Address was then agreed to.

In the Commons the Marquis of Hartington said it was not clear whether the Government's appeal to Parliament was immediate or contingent on the further prosecution of the war. There were grave objections to such a vote.

Sir Stafford Northcote complained of the Opposition's persistent misrepresentation of the Government's policy. The Government's position was one of delicacy and anxiety. The Government had no secret intentions, but could not hope for success without the proper support of Parliament.

Mr. Gladstone asked if the Government had no proposals to make with regard to the grant until they knew the Russian conditions.

Sir Stafford Northcote replied affirmatively.

Mr. Gladstone said he could not complain of the warning that the Government might have to ask a grant, but thought nothing yet was known justifying such a demand.

Mr. Mitchell Henry moved an amendment to the Address, praying for an examination into Irish grievances, and the discussion was adjourned.

Victor Emmanuel's Funeral.

ROME, Jan. 17.—The funeral of King Victor Emmanuel to day was very impressive. The procession was an hour and a half in passing a given point. In addition to the official portion of the procession, which was a mile long, there were 2,700 deputations from all parts of the kingdom. The costumes in the official portion were magnificent. The Crown Prince of Germany, with the representatives of Austria, Portugal and Baden walked abreast, and seventy tattered banners heightened the display. The Pantheon, which was splendidly decorated as a chapelle ardente, was reached about four o'clock. The car on which the remains were borne was the same as was used at the funeral of King Charles Albert, and was surmounted by the Iron Crown. The entire procession was on foot. The ecclesiastical service was confined to the simple absolution and benediction by Monsigneur Gorie, arch-priest of the Chapter of the Church.

Charity Concert.

A Large Attendance and Excellent Music.

On Thursday evening the concert arranged for by the members of St. Bartholomew's Church, came off in the Town Hall. The proceeds were for the benefit of St. Joseph's Hospital,—a charitable institution in connection with the church, and the support given the concert by all classes strongly indicated that the institution is generally looked upon by the community at large as a very deserving one. The managing committee had the stage nicely decorated for the occasion. The boxes were draped in a very tasty manner, and the arrangement of boquets of flowers back of the footlights added a pleasing effect to the whole. Seated on the stage were Revs. Fathers Feek, Dumortier, and Nolin, Mayor F. J. Chadwick, and Mr. George Howard; Messrs. John Harris, James Mays, sr., M. J. Doran, and Thos. A. Hefternan, of the Hospital Board; Dr. Herod, Hospital Physician; Messrs. J. P. Macmillan and Wm. S. Heffernan.

The new hall was completely filled, even to chairs placed in the aisles, and fully one hundred had seats in the old hall.

The programme was one arranged somewhat differently from the ordinary, inasmuch as there were no instrumental pieces set down, which, notwithstanding the really excellent singing almost throughout, had a monotonous effect. An overture played by Miss Nellie Murphy, between the first and second parts, was one of those beautiful sparkling pieces, which are so appropriate for just such a time, although not down on the programme.

The concert opened with a song, "Wood Nymph's Call," by Miss Kate Strong, of Paisley, which was given with very good effect. Her voice is one of considerable sweetness and volume. She, however, would have appeared to better advantage if there had not been quite so much piano in the accompaniment played by her sister. She also sang very fairly "The Lover and the Loved." Miss Wisser, of Walkerton, in the "Captive Creek Girl" and "Bind Girl to her Harp," sang with considerable animation and effect. In the first she, evidently not being acquainted with the acoustic properties of the stage, stood too far back, in consequence of which her voice appeared to be weak, when in reality it was not. In the latter song she appeared to excellent advantage, and showed what a very sweet voice she was possessed of. Her singing was encored. Miss Addie Murphy, of Windsor, was pleasing in both of her songs, and showed that her voice was particularly suited for such pieces as Moore's "Meeting of the Waters." Dr. Sippi, of London, who has before appeared before a Guelph audience, was well received by those present. His voice is a very fine tenor, and is of considerable volume. In "Across the Far Blue Hills," he appeared to excellent advantage, and in response to an encore, sang "Then You'll Remember Me." The song "My Dearest Heart," was fairly given by the Doctor. Miss M. C. Strong, of Paisley, in "Love's Request," did very well indeed. The same lady did not make a very happy selection in "Mrs. Watkin's Party," it being much better adapted for a gentleman singer. She, however, showed that her powers of mimicry of the insipid young lady who has taken a few music lessons, and imagines she can sing, as well as the bacchanalian "We won't go home till morning," were very correct and amusing. In response to an encore she sang "The Last Rose of Summer," with great sweetness. Miss Quinlan, of New York, formerly of Guelph, was encored in both her selections, "Let me Dream Again," and "Fair as Poet's Dreaming." Her singing was greatly admired; her voice indicates careful cultivation, is of great compass, and bird-like sweetness. She appeared to be the favorite with the audience. Mr. J. Kennedy, of Brantford, well-known here, was loudly applauded and encored in his comic songs, "Whoa, Emma," was only fairly given, but he appeared to excellent advantage in his plantation song, "Going Back to Dixie," and "Meet me at the Cross Roads," Mr. Kennedy excels in his character songs, and is always well received here. Miss Nellie Murphy played the accompaniments with excellent taste. The piano used was a Hardman Grand, lent for the occasion by Mr. Wm. Booth. "God Save the Queen" by the full company, closed what was one of the best concerts that has yet been given here. Before the audience dispersed, Mr. J. P. MacMillan briefly thanked those present for the patronage bestowed in aid of the Hospital of St. Joseph.

POLICE COURT.—Samuel Given, charged with being drunk on Wyndham street. It being his first offence, he was dismissed.

CRIMINAL COURT.—On Thursday Robert Ferguson and Alex. Ferguson, of Mount Forest, were charged before His Honor, Judge Macdonald, with stealing clothes off the lines of several parties in that village. Robert Ferguson was found guilty, and sentenced to four months' imprisonment in the common gaol. Alexander was acquitted. John Sanderson was found guilty of assaulting and disfiguring Samuel Suckey, hotel-keeper, at Luther Village, and was sentenced to nine months' imprisonment in the Central Prison.

On Wednesday morning a fire broke out in the tank house of the Great Western Railway. The Company's agent telegraphed to Windsor for a fire engine, which soon arrived, and got the fire under control in time to save the large tank and other buildings and the wood.

Notice to the Public.

We have for a long time been firmly impressed with the conviction that the long credit system is injurious to business and unjust to creditors, and we have come to the determination to put a stop to it. Our experience is that the practice of extending accounts over a year is a great mistake, is unfair to the creditor and burdensome to the debtor. Were settlements made, say four times a year, instead of once, the amounts would be light, and payments would be comparatively easy, whereas, when accounts run for a year the amounts accumulate, and in many cases it is no easy matter to settle a bill.

We have, therefore, come to resolution to, in future, make out and collect our accounts for advertising and job work quarterly, and we hereby give notice that this rule will, in all cases, be strictly enforced. We believe that its adoption will be of equal benefit to our patrons as to us, and we shall, in no case, make an exception.

We are now sending out our accounts for the past year, and we must insist on the immediate settlement of them in all cases, otherwise we will have to take the usual but unpleasant steps to enforce payment.

FRIDAY EVEN'G, JAN. 18, 1878

The Queen's Speech on the War.

Her Majesty's speech at the opening of the Imperial Parliament is just such an one as might be expected in a crisis like the present. Britain assumed a position of strict neutrality as between the belligerents, and this has been maintained throughout the struggle. When the Russian successes in the later stages of the war showed that Turkey was unable to cope with the stronger power, then the question of intervention came up, but the European powers, more or less directly interested, declined to interfere, and it was therefore left to Turkey to ask the good offices of Britain alone to endeavor to effect an arrangement with Russia for an armistice, and a subsequent peace. The British Government readily undertook the task, and on her recommendation the agents of the powers at war are now negotiating for an armistice preparatory to a general discussion and settlement of the whole matter in dispute.

In all these negotiations we think that Britain has adopted the wisest and safest course. She has pronounced no opinion on the merits of the question that led to the present war. She has maintained a strictly impartial neutrality, but at the same time she has never lost sight of her own vital interests, which are, or may be, endangered by the success of the Russian arms. These interests, as we all know, are of paramount importance. Her prestige in the East, and the uninterrupted communication to her possessions in Asia, demand her first attention, and must, at all hazards, be maintained. She has no desire to provoke war with any power but circumstanced as she is, she cannot, without prejudice to her great interests in Asia, allow Russia to ride rough-shod over Turkey, and crush her by the mere force of men and money. The subjection of Turkey by Russia means more than it carries on its face. It means that this European encumbrance once out of the way, the last obstacle to the ambition of an autocratic power is disposed of, and the last barrier is removed for the accomplishment of her ambition, which has become a settled policy, to menace and weaken Britain's hold on her possessions in India.

The Speech from the Throne, while conciliatory and friendly, and hopeful as to the ultimate peaceful issue of the present contest, is still firm in its tone as to reassure us that the Imperial Government will not consent to anything that will cost a blot on the prestige of the country, or permit any movement which would be prejudicial to her interests. In dealing with this matter Her Majesty is guarded in her language, but still it is firm and unequivocal. She says: "So long as her conditions are not infringed, her attitude will continue the same, but she cannot conceal from herself that should hostilities be unfortunately prolonged, some unexpected occurrence may render it incumbent on her to adopt measures of precaution." And following up this, she asks Parliament to provide for what preparations may be necessary for any contingency that may arise.

On the whole we think the Speech from the Throne is temperate yet firm, conciliatory yet sufficiently pronounced as to leave no doubt on the mind that at any expense or any sacrifice Britain is determined to maintain her prestige and her integrity. The Speech and the explanations of Ministers were subjected to severe criticism in Parliament, but not a word was said to invalidate the position of the Government, and so far as we can judge its present attitude meets the views and commands the sympathy of the great mass of the British people. Reduced into small compass the position of Britain is this: So long as the belligerents do not menace or infringe on her acknowledge and well defined rights, she has no desire to interfere in the present war; but so soon as Russia, following up her success, moves a step in the direction of imperilling these rights, then Britain will be justified in bringing the whole strength of her resources into the field to curb the onward march of a power which seeks to intimidate and overshadow her in the East. And we all feel that she would be justified in doing so.

IT is known on undisputable authority that Mr. Haddow, who, on Saturday, was elected by acclamation to succeed Mr. Moffat as member for Restigouche in the House of Commons, is a warm supporter of the Government, and he has secured a seat on the Ministerial side of the House.

THE Public Accounts of the Province of Ontario have been brought down. The total expenditure for the year is put down at $3,140,[illegible], and the receipts at $2, 789,000. The excess of expenditure over receipts is mainly accounted for in the payment of bonuses to railways.

THE Executive Committee of the Dominion Board of Trade have ruled that the subject of the amendment of the Apprentice Law cannot be discussed at the Board, because it is a subject which the Local Legislatures are competent to deal with.

IT is probable that among other useful and practical legislation to be introduced to the consideration of Parliament at its ensuing session will be important measures regarding the improvement and development of the North West Territories, among which will probably be a liberal and wisely regulated homestead law.

AMONG other measures promised by the Imperial Government is a bill on the subject of county government, the factory law, the summary jurisdiction of magistrates, the subject of cattle disease, intermediate education in Ireland, and to simplify the whole law and procedure relating to indictable offences.

WE are sorry to learn from the Ottawa correspondent of the London Advertiser, that Mr. Blake's health still continues unsatisfactory. It is known that his medical advisers have imperatively insisted on his abstinence from Ministerial or exacting duties of any kind, and that his resignation has for some time been in the Premier's hands.

THE report of Mr. Black, the Halifax winter port delegate to the West, relating his experiences in Montreal, Ottawa, and Toronto relative to the shipment of grain, etc., vis Halifax, has been published. He speaks very hopefully for the future, the various obstacles to the opening of the route which he at first encountered having one by one been removed.

FROM the report of the Inspector of Prisons and Benevolent Institutions, we learn that in the Deaf and Dumb Institution at Belleville 271 pupils were in attendance in the course of the year. Only 10 per cent, of the pupils pay anything, and the Inspector recommends that all be admitted as free pupils. The cost of maintenance during the year was $88,382, making an average of $170.86 per pupil. The Asylum for the Blind at Brantford had at the last inspection 128 pupils. The total expenditure was $26,913.19.

The Lost Grave.

(By the Rev. H. Harris.)

In Russel-street, Detroit, near the old house of correction, there is a graveyard. It is more than a quarter of a century since anyone was buried there. The fences lean in and out; the few trees that remain are ragged in limb and trunk, and the tombstones are decayed, nameless, and broken. The dead have long since returned to the dust, and if any of their friends remain they are scattered, and are not there to retouch the graves. Not long since an aged woman was seen walking among the tombs picking off the moss from the decayed headstones, and trying to decipher the quaint characters carved upon them; but failing to discover the spot she desired so much to find, she left the graveyard and crossed the street, and sat down and wept bitterly. The people as they passed, stopped to ask the cause of her trouble, but for awhile they could get no answer: her sorrow was too deep to find expression in words. At length she told them her story: "I have come," said she, "hundreds of miles to take a last look at a grave which I know must be in that yard, but I can't find it. Fifty years ago I buried a child there, and all through these long years, though removing here and there, I could not forget him. Though old and feeble, I felt as if I could not die without having a look at his grave, and I thought I could have gone right to the spot." But the graveyard and its surroundings had so changed that the mother sought in vain in that wilderness of graves for the headstone which bore the loving words, "Our Willie." Half a century ago her dear boy was buried there, and a small stone placed at his head to mark the spot, but the hand of time and human progress had obliterated all traces of that grave. Though kind words were spoken to the aged pilgrim, no human sympathy could quiet her troubled heart, she would every now and then raise her head and look through her tears at the bleak lonely field with its time-worn headstones and briars; and no wonder as her heart expanded with the weight of her grief, she sobbed out:—"I'm afraid I can't find him in heaven — it is so large." The poor aged mother knew not the words she uttered. Though heaven is "so large" she will experience no difficulty in finding her "Willie" there. He who took him from her when she was in the pride of her womanhood, knows the very place he occupies in His Kingdom, and it may be that the glorified spirit of her dear boy is now waiting her arrival at the gates of the Celestial City, and his voice may be the first to greet her when the bitterness of death is past. Though our hearts here are crushed with grief, and shadows like a funeral pall settle down upon us, yet we must not forget that He who made the widow's heart to rejoice can change the blackest cloud into a pavillion of light. Jesus is still the friend of all them that put their trust in Him. What sweet words are those He uttered to His disconsolate disciples, "I am with you alway, in health, in sickness and in death." When flesh and heart are failing and the spirit flickers in the dying flame, even then He has promised to be the strength of our heart and our portion forever. When strong men shall have borne us to the grave and left our bodies in the house appointed for all living, our very dust shall be a treasure, which angel-eyes shall watch through the long night of time: and when He shall come again the second time He will not forget to awaken us from our deep slumber, so that we may be present at the marriage feast and help to swell His praises in choruses divine. Is not such a position worth living for? Yes, it would compensate for even a thousand deaths. To die without Christ, how fearful the thought? To go to the grave with no hope of a joyful resurrection is beyond description. How many there are whose hope is confined within the narrow circle of this present life. They live as if there were no hereafter. Can not something be done to force upon their attention those great realities, which unite time and eternity? Lord, speak to them. If the thunder of Thy truth cannot awaken them, let the lightnings of Thy awful presence flash upon their minds. If those terrible agencies of Thy power do not move them, show them Thy wounds which their sins have made, and, if these do not melt their hearts speak to them with all the tenderness and pathos Thy love can command, and, should they still resist Thy entreaties, O do, Father, for Thy Son's sake, let Thy mercy still overshadow them another year.

NEW GOODS.

Constant Additions to our Stock.

6 Cases New Goods, Special Lines, opening To-day.

We have pleasure in soliciting the attention of all our friends and customers to the following New Goods which we are now receiving into stock, and deem worthy of special attention:

Two cases new American White Cottons soft finish, full widths, and best goods, at 10, 12½ and 15 cents a yard.

1 Case—3000 yards—new Swiss Embroderies, chaste and beautiful patterns, and best widths, at 10, 12½, 15 and 20 cents a yard. The ladies of the town will find these goods about one-half cheaper than last season's prices. We hope to clear the entire lot this month. The prices will make them sell.

60 pieces new Ruchings, in Muslin, Tarlatan and Crefeline—very latest designs.

New Real Torchon Laces, at present so popular in Paris, London and New York, in various widths, from 35 cents to $1.50. We also show an extraordinary job lot of real Maltese Laces, which we trust every lady will make a point of seeing at once. The prices will sell them rapidly.

We also show to-day the new and handsome Brocaded Silks which are so much the rage in all the leading centres of fashion in Europe and America. We ask the ladies of Guelph to see these goods at once. Magnificent Silk and Chenille Fringes to match each shade.

Our stock of Kid Gloves is at present very large and well assorted, in all the new shades. Ladies will find no difficulty in making selections from our stock of kids.

Our Haberdashery and Fancy Goods Departments have been fully replenished within the past few days with new goods suitable for the season, and are now very attractive.

We particularly invite those who find it difficult to obtain what they require elsewhere to visit these departments.

We have also opened up full lines of Plain and Twilled Sheetings, Grey Cottons, Pillow Cottons, Prints, Towellings, Tickings, Black Lustres, Black Cashmeres, etc., etc. It will afford us pleasure to receive your inspection of the above goods.

THAT WONDERFUL MAN

OFF AGAIN TO THE BRITISH MARKETS

FOR SPRING GOODS.

WE COMMENCE OUR

GREAT CLEARING SALE

On Monday, 4th February next,

During that time we will fulfill to a demonstration all that we promise, namely, to sell all and every article we have in stock at the actual cost price of it.

We confidently refer back to our past Clearing Sales, and promise in this sale, as in all former ones, to keep faith with the public. When we advertise a Clearing Sale at cost price, we keep our word, and no matter at what loss or sacrifice it may be to us, we bind ourselves NOT TO DISAPPOINT OR DECEIVE THE PUBLIC, OUR FRIENDS OR CUSTOMERS. We ask, feeling confident of a hearty response, that all intending buyers of Fancy or Staple Goods, will advise themselves of this opportunity of supplying their requirements at a saving of 20 per cent. We ask an inspection of our goods, and the promise we make of actual cost prices; we will agree to pay expenses of a visit to our establishment if all that we here state does not turn out to be sound in every particular. Our Mr. Hogg, senior, leaves in a few days for the British Markets for spring Goods, and a clearance of present stock must be effected. People of the Town of Guelph and County of Wellington you have had a trial of the Wonderful Man for over 25 years. He has worked faithfully for your interests during all that time, and he is doing so to this day. He is strong, healthy and robust now as ever he was, and he is on the war path to exterminate and put to shame dealers in old bankrupt and moth-eaten goods. People of town and country do not be deceived. The test of a man is his past career. You have had every opportunity of knowing and judging of the Wonderful Man. All that he asks is that you consider him entitled to YOUR PATRONAGE AND SUPPORT.

John Hogg & Son only keep in stock the best class of Fancy and Staple Dry Goods, Millinery, Jackets, Ready Made Clothing, &c., and at the great reduction these goods will be offered at during the Clearing Sale will induce thousands to flock to our establishment.

CHAPTER XV.

DADDY DUFF IN PERIL OF HIS LIFE.

Whereupon he was conducted to a cell-like place, hollowed out in one of the many passages of the cave, in the corner of which he laid himself down upon a heap of matting, and was almost instantly asleep.

Most of the smugglers followed his example, and disposed of themselves in different places for the night. A few continued noisily drinking for some time, but soon they too sought a place of repose, and none were astir but two, who were left to watch over the contents of the huge vessels, in which the process of distillation was going forward. These vessels hung over, or stood near a glowing fire at the far end, and as the watchers kept but one torch burning, the rest of the large and lofty cavern was shrouded in the deepest gloom.

After an hour or two of total silence had passed, a dark form came stealthily forth from one of the recesses, and two distorted eyes were cast cautiously round the gloomy space, which the yellow light of the torch filled with flickering shadows.

The men at the far end being occupied with their work did not observe him, and after making sure that no one else was stirring, Black Dick—for it was he—glided forward and turned into the passage where Daddy lay.

Here all was dismal as the grave; but by the aid of a dark lantern which he drew from his breast, Dick made his way forward, and reached the entrance to the recess, where his baleful eyes immediately lighted on the prostrate form of the old beggar, curled up and sunk in dreamless slumber.

Dick stood over him for some moments, with a fiendish look in his repulsive face. The long-bladed knife was stuck in his belt, and his right hand rested on its handle. One swift, silent stroke would send it to the old man's heart and silence him for ever, and there was now no one at hand to prevent the blow.

The ruffian looked as if he had the will to do such a deed, but another and stronger desire mastered him. Instead of shedding the blood of the unconscious being before him, he stooped down, and grasping his shoulder gave it a shake.

It required two or three shakes, each more vigorous than the preceeding, to rouse Daddy from his very deep sloop; but the effect was eventually successful, and the old man turned in his lair and opened his eyes.

The moment he saw the light of the lantern, the scowling face that was bent over him, he sat hastily up, and in the confusion of his first awakening was both bewildered and alarmed.

"What want ye?" he hurriedly asked.

"A word with you," responded the deep husky voice of the visitor. "I want to know the meaning of what you said before. Was it not a guess you were making, or have you anything more sure to go by?"

"I'll no pretend to misunderstand ye," returned Daddy, "and sae I'll answer ye streicht forrit at ance. It was nae guess wark on my pairt."

"You know something, then?"

"Yes."

"What know you?"

"That it was you, and no Harold Logan, that fired the shot at Wanlass."

"Ha! what fiend helped you to come to that knowledge? Speak, or, by heaven, this moment is your last."

And his hand clutched vehemently at the knife in his belt, as again he demanded—

"Who told you this? Were you at the spot?"

"Na, I wasna."

"Who told you, then?"

"It was Wanlass himsel'."

"Who?" repeated Dick, recoiling in horror.

"Wanlass—the murdered man."

Dick's jaw fell, his teeth chattered, his limbs shook. He was both a coward and superstitious.

"My God!" he gasped. "Do the dead hold conversation with you?"

"Na, na; I hae nae desire for sic unearthly distinction. Let deid foulk confine their cracks tae themsel's. But Wanlass wasna deid when he tell't me this, though Gillespie and the rest thocht he was when they brocht him to Widow Corbet's house and left him there."

"And was he not?"

"No, he cam' tee for a while, frichtin' me and Mistress Corbet a'maist oot o' oor wuts."

"And—and—he told you?"

"'Deed did he—noo that's hoo I cam' tae ken. But dinna be feard that I sall let it oot. I'll no deny that I was sair putten aboot when I kenned that Gillespie had sworn that Harold Logan did the deed, but noo that Maister Harold has made his escape——"

"That was my doing," broke in Dick.

"Weel, it was as little as ye could dee in the circumstances. Hoever, it is a maitter I dinna hae tae dee wi'."

"No, but you must take an oath of secrecy. Here on the point of this knife you must swear never to tell to mortal what has come to your knowledge."

"Deed and I winna. Oaths are sacred things tae tak', and sae——"

"Beware, old man," hissed Dick, his eyes blazing with rage. "If you value your life take this oath, or——"

And by a significant motion of the knife the speaker gave Daddy to understand what would be the consequences of his refusal.

"I'll promise never to breathe it unless——"

"Swear, swear."

"I canna, and winnn."

"Then die, you meddling old fool; die and be ——"

"Not so fast, Dick; you shan't injure the old man."

"Curse you, are you there again to baulk me," said Dick, as once more he found the arm uplifted to kill the mendicant in the strong grasp of Dixon.

"Ay, I am here again, Dick. I dreaded something of this kind and meant to keep watch; but I fell asleep, and had I slept a moment longer I find I would have been too late. I don't know why you have such a deadly intention towards Daddy; but once for all, I'll not see him harmed."

"I'm muckle obleeged tae ye, sir. That's twice ye've saved my life the day," spoke up Daddy.

"Bah, I was only frightening him;" said Dick, with a horrid laugh of baffled hate and malice, as he wrenched himself free from Dixon and rushed away, carrying the lantern with him.

"Come with me, I'll lead you to a safer place," said Dixon, as he grouped for the old man's hand and helped him up."

"Ye are very kind, sir," murmured Daddy. "I'm shure I dinna ken hoo to thank you."

"Nay, you may be able to do me a service some day. Come."

He led him away to a corner in another part of the cave beyond his own sleeping place, and, spreading a couch for him, told him that he would pass the rest of the night there in perfect safety.

To show that the other had perfect confidence in the statement, Daddy laid himself quietly down, and in a very few minutes was again asleep.

GEORGE MURTON,
Guelph, July 1st 1876 Proprietor.

South Wellington Agricultural Society.

The following is the concluding portion of the annual report, together with the Treasurer's statement:—

The display of fruit also was very fine, especially the plums, which have seldom been so largely shown or of such excellent quality; the same may be said of grapes, as owing to the very favorable season for this variety of fruit, a very large number of samples were entered for competition. In pears, also, the show was very large, there being 126 entries and the fruit first-rate. Apples were also numerous and many first-class samples were exhibited. Dairy produce, as usual in this county, was an exhibition of itself; so much splendid butter, enough to puzzle the best of judges, to say which was the best, and as to giving entire satisfaction when nearly all are good, is out of the question. The large amount of first class butter reflects great credit on our farmers' wives and daughters. The factory cheese also made a fine show. This product of the farm is being largely manufactured, and has received a large impetus within the last few years, there being sale at remunerating prices. This is fast becoming one of the staple commodities for export. We now come to speak of one, if not the principal, feature of the exhibition, We mean the implement department, which certainly reflects great credit on the different manufacturers of agricultural implements. On the ground you might see all kinds of the most improved machines of the best make, reaping and mowing machines of different patterns, all claiming to be the best in use; also, straw and root cutters of endless variety. Many of the machines were put in motion by the portable steam engines of which a great number were on exhibition. By this means they are shown to the greatest advantage, and created a lively interest in those who more closely scan their merits or defects.

In fine arts the collection was very good, but owing to the regulation of the Ontario Society of Artists, no members belonging to it are at liberty to exhibit at any other show than the one held in Toronto under the auspices of that Institution, consequently many of our best artists are excluded from exhibiting their productions, at our or similar exhibitions, which seems rather an arbitrary measure.

Ladies' work and domestic manufactures made a good display, the number of articles entered, and the quality of the work being most satisfactory, and reflects great credit on the ladies who furnish articles for this department. Of course to the fair sex this part of the exhibition is most attractive, and calls for all the encouragement the directors can afford to give it.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

THOS. McCRAE, President.

Dr. Wm. Gray's Specific Medicine

Before Taking After Taking

The Great English Remedy is especially recommended as an unfailing cure for Seminal Weakness, Spermatorrhea, Impotency, and all diseases that follow as a consequence of Self Abuse, as Loss of Memory, Universal Lassitude, Pain in the Back, Dimness of Vision, Premature Old Age, and many other diseases that lead to INSANITY or CONSUMPTION and a PREMATURE GRAVE, all of which, as a rule, are first caused by deviating from the path of nature, and over indulgence.

The Specific Medicine is the result of a life study and many years of experience in treating those special diseases. Pamphlet free by mail.

The Specific Medicine is sold by all druggists at $1 per package, or Six Packages for $5, or will be sent by mail on receipt of the money, by addressing DR. WM. GRAY & CO., Windsor, Ont

Authorized Capital—$5,000,000.
THE Company's special system of Loans affords to borrowers, and especially to Farmers, the following most important advantages:—
1. The borrower is NOT OBLIGED to repay any part of the principal until the whole term of the Mortgage has run.
2. He has the RIGHT (after the first year) to repay at any time, the whole or any part of the Loan, without prior notice to the Company.
3. No extra charge, bonus or otherwise, is exacted on such repayment.
4. He is requested when making application for the Loan, to state the day on which he wishes interest to be made payable. He thus can stipulate for a date, say after harvest, or at such time as is likely to be most convenient for him.
5. Interest can be made payable once a year—not in advance.
6 On repayment of any part of the principal, interest on such amount immediately ceases.

The Evening Mercury

SATURDAY EVEN'G, JAN. 19, 1878.

Local News Items.

THERE are now some thirty inmates in the County Poor House, three of whom are small children.

MISS NELLIE MURPHY, of Guelph, and a graduate of Loretto Convent, has gone to Montreal for the purpose of entering the convent of the nuns of Sacre Coeur.

THE Grand Trunk authorities, following the example of other railways, have issued notices that all persons (except employees) are by law prohibited from using the railway track or property within the fences, as a thoroughfare, and have cautioned the public against contravention of the law.

NEW FIRM.—Messrs. Sweetnam & Hazleton, two young men well known in Guelph and vicinity, have opened an office in the Queen's Hotel block, upstairs, as real estate brokers, insurance and general agents, conveyancers, etc. They are prepared to loan money in sums to suit borrowers.

SERMONS TO-MORROW.—The Rev. Mr. Wilkins, of Galt, will occupy the pulpit of the Primitive Methodist church to-morrow morning. In the evening the Rev. Mr. Harris will take for his subject "Nobody cares for me" The attendance at all the services in this church is very perceptibly on the increase.

MARKET FEES.—A few days ago a Puslinch farmer sold potatoes on the Galt market without paying the market fee. He was brought before a magistrate and fined $1 $5.05 costs. The merchant to whom the potatoes were sold was also fined the same amount. The fees on the Guelph market should be more closely looked after. If they were there would not be such a falling off in receipts.

CANADIAN PRESS ASSOCIATION.—A business convention of this Association will be held on Thursday, 31st inst., at 1:30 p.m., at the Walker House, Toronto, for the purpose of discussing practical subjects connected with newspaper publishing and printing, and with the view of taking such concerted action thereon as may be deemed advisable in the interests of the trade. Members attending the meeting will be conveyed by Grand Trunk and Great Western Railways at a fare and a third for the double trip, on presentation of certificate signed by the Secretary, which will be furnished to all those not in arrears.

FOR THE CENTRAL PRISON.—The following prisoners from Guelph gaol were sent down this morning to the Central Prison: John Jackson, John Dalton, and Charles Brendan, four months each; Francis Ferguson, Wm. Montgomery, Henry Richardson, John Lesmont, and Wm. Mitchell, three months each; John Sanderson, nine months; — Dickson, six months for larceny of tobacco from the G.W.R. The following prisoners from Walkerton were also sent down:—John Wiggins and W. H. Haines, three months each for larceny.

IMPORTANT TO ASSESSORS.—Several assessment rolls in Simcoe county were overhauled recently before Judge Ardagh, who made an important declaration to which we direct attention of assessors and municipal councils. He said "that such descriptions as 'part of the west half of lot fourteen in the second concession,' and such like were perfectly useless. The frontage of a broken piece of land, together with its distance from one corner of the lot, must be given, otherwise the party would be disfranchised, as the assessment would not be according to law."

INTERMEDIATE EXAMINATIONS.—The following pupils of the High School, who went up for their intermediate examination in December have been reported as successful. We might state that out of the eight who went up, seven passed. The names are as follows:—James F. Brown, Peter T. Kilgour, Wm. Welsh, Harry Gow, Bessie Wilkie, Alice Myers, Emma C. Field. We might also state that Mr. H. Roberts, Pilkington, and Miss Cattanach, Elora, who were also pupils of the Guelph High School, obtained second class certificates at the same examinations, the former grade A, and the latter grade B.

GENERAL HOSPITAL.—During the ensuing week Rev. Thos. Brock will be the visiting clergyman, and Dr. McGuire the attending physician.

REV. E. B. EYCKMAN will conduct the services in the Methodist Church at Rockchapel, near Waterdown, to-morrow evening.

ADVANCE.—Mr. Wm. J. Watson, formerly of the Herald, has been appointed advance agent of Prof. John C. Wilson, the Scotch vocalist.

CHALMERS' CHURCH.—The Rev. R. D. Fraser, of Toronto, will preach in Chalmers' Church to-morrow (D.V.) morning and evening.

THE TOWN COUNCIL.—The Council of 1877 meets on Monday at 9 a.m., and the new Council for 1878 meets, according to statute, at 11 o'clock for organization, etc.

MODERATE southwesterly winds and fair mild weather are the weather probabilities for next twenty-four hours, received by Dominion Telegraph.

SEVERAL young men raised a disturbance in the vicinity of Day's Block, between twelve and one o'clock this morning, by hooting and yelling. They evidently had eaten too many oysters.

MR. GEO. HOOD wishes it to be stated that the bills around town headed "Metropolitan Hog Market," have not been printed by order of the Market Committee, nor by order of the Council.

PROF. JOHN C. WILSON, the great and popular Scotch vocalist, has been requested to sing at his concert this evening in the Town Hall, "Killarney" and "Good-by Sweetheart, Good-by." Mr. Wilson has consented to the request.

ST. PATRICK'S SOCIETY.—An adjourned meeting of St. Patrick's Society was held at the Albion Hotel last evening. The attendance was large. Col. Higinbotham presented the report of special committee as follows: They would recommend that the Caledonian rooms be engaged for an entertainment to come off on the 6th February. The following gentlemen were appointed to prepare an entertainment, and have full management of the same: J. C. Chadwick, Col. Higinbotham, T. A. Heffernan, E. O'Connor, F. Gauhan, J. L. Murphy, J. Mays, jun., Dr. Keating, J. C. Coffee, John Hyde, F. Sweetnam, and the Secretary. A committee of four, viz., A. Dunbar, Col. Higinbotham, E. O'Connor, and W. S. Heffernan was appointed to revise the constitution and by-laws of the Society, and report at a special meeting to be held at the Albion Hotel, on Tuesday evening, 29th inst. The following new members were added to the roll, R. R. Baldwin, Thomas Ward, J. J. Hazelton. The meeting adjourned at an early hour.

CURLING ITEMS.—Dr. Ford, of St. Mary's, has communicated with the Guelph Curling Club in regard to the game to be played between Guelph and Point Edward, of which he is to be referee, for a Royal Caledonian medal. The referee proposes that the game be played on the covered rink at St. Mary's next week, or the week following. The referee has the naming of the place where the match is to be played, and as St. Mary's is a central point, Guelph is quite willing the game should be played there. At a meeting of the Guelph Club held on Friday evening it was decided that a game should be played with the Galt Club, at Galt, as soon as the ice is in a fit condition. Several parties became members at the meeting by paying the annual subscription fee. The first game of the series for the Guelph rink medal was played on Friday, between A. Bruce's rink and Thomas Dobbie's. The following is the result:

W. H. Jacomb	Geo. Murton
W. Roper	D. Stirton
C. Spalding	J. Mitchell
T. Dobbie—Skip, 18.	A. Bruce—Skip, 20.

SCOTTISH CONCERT.—It was extremely unfortunate that the agent for Mr. John C. Wilson, Scottish vocalist, chose the evening following the St. Joseph Hospital concert to bring him here. So it turned out, as many expected. The audience was very small, so small, in fact, that it was deemed best not to give a concert at all. By request, however, Mr. Wilson sang a couple of songs, "Of a' the Airts the Wind can Blaw," and "The Danks dang owre my Daddie." He was dressed in Highland costume, and presented a striking and graceful figure on the platform. His voice is of wonderful sweetness, great power and volume, and, judging from the manner in which he sang last evening, he is capable of interesting, by real merit, an audience for hours. He purposes giving a concert in the Town Hall this evening, when it is expected that Mr. Wilson will be greeted with such a house as the character of the entertainment and his powers of singing are deserving. The Waterbury American, in speaking of a concert given by Mr. Wilson in that town, says:—Mr. Wilson had the sympathy of his large audience from the commencement to the close of the concert. He has a sweet voice of good compass, and sings the familiar ballads with the appreciation of a musician and the enthusiasm of a Scotchman. The following were some of the songs on the programme: "Of a' the Airts," "Roy's Wife," "Roslyn Castle," "Cam ye by Athol," "Duncan Gray cam here to Woo." A marked evidence of the appreciation of the audience was seen in the fact that they remained seated a few minutes after the song which was announced as closing the programme, "Scots Wha Hae." We shall not soon forget the spirited manner with which this patriotic song was rendered.

MR. E. KING DODD'S paper, the Toronto World, has come to a full stop.

THE MARKETS.—Notwithstanding that many farmers have been in town to-day, the market receipts have been comparatively light. Hogs and wood appeared to be the staple article offered for sale. Dressed hogs are still declining in price, the highest price paid to-day being $4.75 per cwt. The first quality of dry hardwood can be purchased for $3.75 per cord.

POULTRY SOCIETY.—The annual meeting of the Poultry Society was held on Friday evening. The officers were elected as follows: Mr. Thomas Gowdy, President, on motion of Messrs. Morris and Leonard; Mr. C. F. Leonard, Vice-President, on motion of Messrs. John Crowe and P. Spragge; Mr. George Marton, Secretary-Treasurer, on motion of Messrs. Leonard and Suddaby. Executive committee — Messrs. Morris, Crowe, Goldie, Snddaby, and Spragge. Receiving committee—Messrs. Howard, Evans and Crowe.

POLICE COURT.—This morning a Frenchman named Karie or something of that sort, and Thomas Baker, were brought up charged with wood stealing. They were both seen by night watchman Mitchell at four o'clock yesterday morning on the Waterloo avenue, each with a quantity of cordwood, and thinking that the wood was stolen on account of their being out at that early hour, he arrested them and took them to the look-up. The charge against them was dismissed on account of no one coming to claim the wood, or being able to swear it belonged to them. Baker was also arrested on a charge of stealing a suit of clothes from Mr. Barber. The case was remanded till Tuesday.

PRESENTATION.—A number of the friends of Mr. William Ford, teller in the Federal Bank here, entertained that gentleman at a supper at Mr. Hiram Anderson's last night, previous to his departure for London. About twenty sat down to a spread such as Mr. Anderson is noted for, and after full justice had been done to that part of the affair, the usual introductory toasts were given by the chairman, Mr. Grest. The chairman then proposed the health of the guest, Mr. Ford, and alluded in high terms of praise to his efficiency as an officer of the bank, and referred to his well-known obliging nature. He, on behalf of those present, had great pleasure in presenting Mr. Ford with a handsome sett of studs and sleeve links, as a token of the esteem and respect in which he was held, and expressed sincere wishes for his future success. Mr. Ford responded in suitable terms. Quite a number of other toasts called forth general expressions of praise and regret. We feel certain that Mr. Ford carries with him the good wishes of not only his more immediate friends but of the customers of the Federal as well, as his accommodating manner made him a great favorite. He will occupy the position of Teller in London, and is succeeded here by Mr. Fitzgerald, who formerly resided in Guelph. The jewellery was made to order by Mr. B. Savage.

MARRIED IN HASTE.—A wedding, as abrupt, if not as fantastic, as Mr. Wemmick's in "Great Expectations" took place on New Year's night, at Marlboro, on the Hudson. During the afternoon a well known resident of the village called on the Rev. Dr. Osborn and invited him to dinner at six o'clock. "Bring a marriage certificate with you," said the host; "we may have a wedding there to-night." The doctor is a discreet man, and did as he was told. At his friend's house he met a large company, and after dinner was announced took his seat at a well appointed table. The host undertook to carve the turkey, but made such a bungling work of his duties that one of the guests was constrained to remark to him, "You should get married, then your wife would teach you the proper way to do these things." The host did not deny the soft impeachment, but told what manner of woman he should like for a wife, ending by saying: "Now, before we proceed further, 'spose we take a vote as to who I shall marry." The company entered into the canvass with great hilarity, and after the vote was taken it was declared that the host was in duty bound to marry his house-keeper, a young and well educated lady who had presided over the establishment for more than a year. The young lady had stepped into the kitchen to give some final directions to the cook, and when she returned she was informed of the views of the company. She was completely taken aback, but after the ladies had coaxed her to give her consent, she placed herself in the hands of her friends. "Halloo! let's get married now!" exclaimed the host, with the imperturbable Wemmick's self possession. The dinner was suspended—indeed it had scarcely begun; the bride took off her white apron; the bridegroom dropped his napkin; the two were made one; the marriage certificate was signed; and the company kissed the bride and then sat down to dinner with a first-rate appetite. The next day a spinster in the neighborhood, hearing what had happened, raised her hand toward Heaven and exclaimed in a spirit of true devoutness "Lord! how sudden: there's no tellin' whose turn 'll come next."

CORRECTION.—Having found that some persons have concluded that WILSON'S WILD CHERRY contains opium (as most medicines prepared for the purpose do) the proprietors take this opportunity of stating that the Wild Cherry contains no trace of this or any other narcotic, and may be given to an infant with the same safety and benefit as to an adult. The tonic effects of the Wild Cherry show themselves in an increased appetite and recuperated strength, and to those whose systems have been reduced by chronic diseases of the Lungs or Bronchial Tubes it is especially recommended. Sold by the principal druggists. dw

THE London journals discuss the Queen's Speech, and the general sentiment is warm approval of the Speech and the Government's statements.

The War News.

January 18.

Two squadrons of Cossacks having arrived at Tirnova-Semenli to escort the Turkish peace delegates to Kezanlik, the Turkish commandant at the former place believed an attack was intended, and blew up the railway bridge.

A Russian official despatch, dated Kezanlik, January 19, says a reconnoitering party of dragoons has brought information that Suleiman Pasha is at Philippopolis, and that he has given orders to burn everything.

A Russian official despatch announces that Gen. Skobeleff entered Philippopolis on the 16th, and extinguished the flames in the Bulgarian dwellings fired by the retreating Turks.

A St. Petersburg special says a person who helped to draw up the armistice conditions states they are such as are not likely to be accepted by the Turks.

A Pera correspondent states that the Turkish delegates met the Grand Duke Nicholas at Tirnova-Semenli, and preliminary notes were exchanged. The Grand Duke then announced that he had decided to treat only at Adrianople, which should be immediately evacuated. The delegates having assented, orders were telegraphed to Djemil Pasha to evacuate Adrianople. Upon this decision being communicated to the foreign consults at Adrianople they telegraphed to their Ambassadors for instructions, and were ordered to remain and protect their countrymen. Djemil Pasha then prepared to retire upon the fortified lines before Adrianople, where reinforcements are now concentrating. The Russians will probably arrive at Adrianople in two days, Tirnova-Semenli being 35 kilometres distant therefrom. The negotiations will then begin. It is generally thought here that the wisest policy is for Turkey to make peace at once.

A Constantinople correspondent telegraphs on Thursday evening:—I am assured that the Council of Ministers to-day decided to order the Turkish ambassadors at Vienna and London to request an explanation of the protests against a separate peace recently lodged by Austria and England, and to ask how far Turkey may count upon the support of those countries.

Another Pera correspondent says Queen Victoria telegraphed to the Sultan that he was already acquainted with the action of the British Government, and she had herself urged the Czar to make a prompt and honorable peace.

Intelligence from the Danube says the flow of ice continues, and communication is most difficult.

A Shumula despatch says the Turks have evacuated Kazan, south of Osman Bazar. The Russians thereby secure the head of another Balkan pass. All the war material, etc., has been removed from Osman Bazar to Eski Djuma.

A Turkish Cabinet Council to-day deliberated upon measures for the defence of Constantinople.

A Constantinople despatch says:—Queen Victoria's speech has caused considerable disappointment here.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

TORONTO, Jan. 18.

Among the petitions presented was one by Mr. McGowan, from Joseph Draper and others, for the construction of the Arthur Junction Railway. A very large number of petitions in favor of the abolition of tax exemptions were also presented, being mostly from municipalities, among them were the petitions from Guelph town and township.

Mr. Mowat moved the adoption of the report of the Special Committee appointed to draw up a form of prayer, which was moved by the Attorney-General. Mr. Lauder thought great care should be taken in the selection of clergymen to read prayers, so that all denominations should be fairly treated. Mr. Hodgins and Mr. Scott argued in favor of having prayers read by the Speaker as in the House of Commons at Ottawa, and Mr. Sinclair opposed such an arrangement. The motion was carried.

Mr. Bell asked whether it was the intention of the Government to introduce, during the present session, a Bill for the purpose of abolishing exemptions from municipal taxation; and if so, to what extent.

Mr. Mowat—It is the intention of the Government at a very early day to ask the House for a Committee on this subject; and when I move for that Committee I will state the reasons which the Government have for taking that course.

Mr. McMahon asked whether it was the intention of the Government to amend the Municipal Act, so as to permit grocers and others licensed to sell spirituous liquors to be elected members of municipal corporations.

Mr. Mowat said the law on that particular point had been in existence for a long time. The Municipal Act had been repeatedly revised, and the law on this point left where it was. The Government were not aware of any special reason for amending the Municipal Act in this particular at present; and it was not desirable that the Act should be unnecessarily amended in regard to particulars in which legislation was not demanded.

A NOTEWORTHY NUMBER.—The number of Littell's Living Age for the week ending January 19th, contains The Ninety Years' Agony of France, by Prof. Goldwin Smith; an instalment of "Erica," translated from the German of Frau von Ingersleben; The Story of Maximilian at Miramar and at Quera taro, a very interesting sketch translated from the French of Victor Tissot; Modern Life and Insanity; Macleod of Dare, by William Black, from advance sheets; The Celt of Wales and the Celt of Ireland; Smith's Poor Kin; Valentine's Day, an unpublished poem by Charles Kingsley, with other short articles and poetry. The back numbers containing the first instalments of "Erica," and a story by Miss Thackeray, are still sent to new subscribers for 1878. For fifty-two numbers, of sixty-four large pages each (or more than 3,000 pages a year), the subscription price ($8) is low; or for $10.50 any one of the American $4 monthlies or weeklies is sent with the Living Age for a year, both postpaid. Littell & Gay, Boston, are the publishers.

The oil works of Messrs. Livingstone Baden, county of Waterloo are running night and day, three gangs of men are employed in shifts of three hours, and the firm have during the past season purchased 110,000 bushels of seed from which they manufactured during the year from four to five thousand barrels of oil.

Eternal Punishment.

Rev. Henry Ward Beecher has written a letter to the editor of the Presbyterian Weekly saying that his sermons have been misrepresented:—

"I have preached and printed in every conceivable form the truth of the inspiration of the Sacred Scripture; the existence and government of God; the doctrine of the Trinity, and the divinity of Christ as a very God; the atonement of Christ; the doctrine of a change of heart; the efficacious influence of the Holy Spirit in regeneration, and the doctrine of retribution both here and hereafter. It is true that the question of the nature of suffering, the object of a penalty, and the question of its duration, I have discussed with such light as I had, denying that all the light had yet broken out of the Holy Scriptures on various points that it contained. My working sympathies go with evangelical orthodox ministry. I refuse to be held in consistency with any dogmatic system of theology of the past, my object being not to build or to defend any system of theology or government, but to bring men nearer to God and build them up in holiness of life."

DOMINION BOARD OF TRADE.—The officers elected for the current year are:—President, Mr. Joseph, of Quebec; Vice-Presidents, Ontario, Mr. McMaster; Quebec, Mr. Kerry; Nova Scotia, Mr. Bremner; New Brunswick, Mr. Defeber. Executive Council:—Mr. Noxon, Ingersoll; Mr. Wa ker, London; Mr. Sandford, Hamilton; Mr. White, Montreal; Mr. Woods, Quebec; Mr Darling, Montreal; Mr. Dobell, Quebec; Mr. Robertson, Montreal. The meeting of the Board came to a close on Friday. The insolvency law question was referred to a committee to report at the next annual meeting, as were also the subjects of treaty relations with South America and the iron trade. Resolutions were adopted in favour of the establishment of a department of commerce and of taking steps towards organizing a confederated Board of Trade for the colonies.

DOMINION GRANGE.—The following are the officers for the current year:—Messrs. S. W. Hill, Master; S. White, Overseer; E. Hilborn, Lecturer; L. S. Whitman, Steward; D. C. Parent, Assistant Steward; J. Manning, Chaplain; J. P. Bull, Treasurer; W. P. Page, Secretary;—Putnam, Gate-keeper; Mrs. Trull, Ceres; Mrs. Hilborn, Pomona; Mrs. Lossee, Flora; Mrs. Massy, Stewardess. The Secretary in his report says:—"There have been organized since my last report 106 Sub-Granges, and 11 Division Granges, making now 635 Subordinate and 44 Division Granges, with a membership of 25,240. Of new Granges 94 have been formed in Ontario, six in Quebec, one in new Brunswick, four in Nova Scotia, and one in Manitoba. In conclusion allow me to express a hope that our noble Order, which has found a place in the hearts of over 25,000 people, may live, may grow, may continue to spread its branches, until it reaches every township in this fair Dominion, exerting its beneficent influence over the future destinies of our country."

HALIFAX AS OUR WINTER PORT.—The efforts recently made to establish Halifax as the winter port of the Dominion appear to have met with partial success. George P. Black of that city, who was appointed by the City Council, the Chamber of Commerce and the Importers' Association to make the requisite arrangements, has made a lengthy report on the subject. He succeeded in arranging terms with the Minister of Public Works for taking two cargoes of grain over the 561 miles of the Intercolonial at 3½ cents per buehel, as an experimental trip; and though Mr. Mackenzie feared that the rate was too low to pay running expenses, yet he was willing to grant it so that the Government and the Halifax merchants might be in a position to discuss the matter with realised facts before them. The necessary number of cars will also be provided, and the Grand Trunk, the Messrs Allan, and Halifax parties interested in the experiment have undertaken to meet the expenses of bagging grain.

John B. Gough says the most awful blunder the United States ever committed—and the remark applies proportionately to Canada—was in sustaining the liquor traffic. In 1876 the people of the United States spent $800,000,000 for liquor, and then paid $400,000,000 more to provide trials and places of confinement for the criminals produced by the liquor traffic. Notice to the Public.

We have for a long time been firmly impressed with the conviction that the long credit system is injurious to business and unjust to creditors, and we have come to the determination to put a stop to it. Our experience is that the practice of extending accounts over a year is a great mistake, is unfair to the creditor and burdensome to the debtor. Were settlements made, say four times a year, instead of once, the amounts would be light, and payments would be comparatively easy, whereas, when accounts run for a year the amounts accumulate, and in many cases it is no easy matter to settle a bill.

We have, therefore, come to resolution to, in future, make out and collect our accounts for advertising and job work quarterly, and we hereby give notice that this rule will, in all cases, be strictly enforced. We believe that its adoption will be of equal benefit to our patrons as to us, and we shall, in no case, make an exception.

We are now sending out our accounts for the past year, and we must insist on the immediate settlement of them in all cases, otherwise we will have to take the usual but unpleasant steps to enforce payment.

The Agricultural College.

The other day the Mail, in speaking of the students at the Agricultural College said :—"The College has now been in operation three years and no doubt all the original students have left it by this time and gone out into the world. A return showing what has become of them would be of interest just now, and if it should be found that any considerable number of them simply go through the College to pick up enough of the three R's to enable them to pursue mercantile business, the entrance system should be revised without delay." To the above our reply is that since the opening of the institution 208 students have enrolled their names, and 87 of these are in attendance at the present session. With regard to the other 121 who have left its halls, 81 are known to be following agriculture or horticulture, seven are completing their course in veterinary colleges, eighteen have not devoted themselves to either occupation mentioned, and of the remaining fifteen the authorities have no trace.

We notice that Mr. Tooley has moved for a return of students attending the College from the commencement to the present time, with their occupation, trade or calling. We are satisfied that the return will bear out our statement made above.

The Dominion Board of Trade on the Tariff.

The Dominion Board of Trade is supposed to represent the views of the leading merchants, manufacturers and others in the country on all matters relating to our trade and on the influences that to a greater or less extent govern it. This body has been in session in Ottawa during the week, and on Thursday Mr. John I. Mackenzie, of Hamilton, brought the question straight and square before the Board by moving the following resolution, which was seconded by Mr. Greene, of Montreal, one of the most pronounced protectionists in the Dominion :—

"That while in the estimation of the Board the present tariff of 17½ per cent. is fair and reasonable, yet in the event of its being found necessary to increase the duties for revenue purposes, that this Board would respectfully request the Government to consider the industrial development of the country in any adjustment of the tariff."

The above motion was allowed to pass without a division, which is pretty good proof that the extreme views of the protectionists could not find any sympathy among members of the Board. Mr. Mackenzie supported his resolution by well chosen and cogent arguments in support of his position. He showed that much of the slaughtering of American goods in our markets was due to the fact that they were entered below cost. Some of the inspectors lately appointed by the Government had compelled American manufactures to pay duties on their products on the selling price in United States markets, and the result was a great decrease in unfair competition. He believed our manufactures were now recovering from the depression as rapidly as those of any other country. In the stove trade this was most noticeable, and was due to a certain extent to improvement in manufacturing, the makers having availed themselves of information gained at the Centennial. These and other arguments were adduced, and after a short discussion the resolution was carried without an attempt at a division.

We cordially agree with this resolution of the Board of Trade, and we feel that if the Government consider itself justified in increasing the tariff in several classes of manufactures, it will not only meet the views of many manufacturers but incidentally give encouragement to many of our industries.

While we can say this much of the policy enunciated by the Board of Trade, we have no sympathy with, and no faith in, that laid down at the Conservative Convention, which met at Toronto this week. While ostensibly in favour of a national policy it seeks to create a tariff which would be antagonistic to every country with which we do business, and at the expense of the people so enhance the price of all kinds of dutiable goods as would be no benefit to them, while it would enrich the few who would have the privilege of manufacturing for the many. The following is the Conservative platform referred to, and we lay it before our readers for their consideration :—

[They are satisfied that the welfare of Canada requires the adoption of a national financial policy, which, by a judicious readjustment of the tariff, will benefit and foster the agricultural, mining and manufacturing of the Dominion.

That no such readjustment will be satisfactory to the interests affected or to the country if adopted as a provisional means only to meet a temporary exigency or to supply a temporary deficit, nor unless it is made and carried out as a national policy.

That until a reciprocity of trade is established with our neighbours, Canada should move in the direction of a reciprocity of tariffs so far as her varied interests may demand.

That it is the duty of the people of Canada to force upon the attention of the Government and Parliament of the Dominion the necessity of carrying out their views, and to withhold or withdraw their confidence from any Government which may fail, from want of will or want of ability to enforce them by legislative enactment.

It is believed in Ottawa that the rumour that Mr. Ballantyne has resigned is incorrect. The writ for the new election in Northumberland, N.B., in room of Peter Mitchell, resigned, has been issued. The nomination takes place on the 5th.

The St. Thomas Journal says :—"The senior leader of the Opposition in the Ontario Legislature, Hon. M. C. Cameron, is denouncing the Government for supplying the magistracy of the country with copies of the Consolidated Statutes, because, he presumed to say, 'there were a good many of them who could not read a statute, and who could not even write their own names.' This is a handsome compliment for the leader of the Opposition to pay to the J. P.'s of Ontario; but possibly he refers to those created by the Government of which he was himself a member, and with whose capacity as respects reading and writing he is no doubt best acquainted."

The Mercantile Agency reports, 8,872 failures in the United States last year, with $190,669,000 liabilities.

Constant Additions to our Stock.

6 Cases New Goods, Special Lines, opening To-day.

We have pleasure in soliciting the attention of all our friends and customers to the following New Goods which we are now receiving into stock, and deem worthy of special attention :

Two cases new American White Cottons soft finish, full widths, and best goods, at 10, 12½ and 15 cents a yard.

1 Case—5000 yards—new Swiss Embroideries, chaste and beautiful patterns, and best widths, at 10, 12½, 15 and 20 cents a yard. The ladies of the town will find these goods about one-half cheaper than last season's prices. We hope to clear the entire lot this month. The prices will make them sell.

50 pieces new Ruffings, in Muslin, Tarlatan and Crefetise—very latest designs.

New Real Torchon Laces, at present so popular in Paris, London and New York, in various widths, from 35 cents to $1.50. We also show an extraordinary job lot of real Maltese Laces, which we trust every lady will make a point of seeing at once. The prices will sell them rapidly.

We also show to-day the new and handsome Brocaded Silks which are so much the rage in all the leading centres of fashion in Europe and America. We ask the ladies of Guelph to see these goods at once. Magnificent Silk and Chenille Fringes to match each shade.

Our stock of Kid Gloves is at present very large and well assorted, in all the new shades. Ladies will find no difficulty in making selections from our stock of kids.

Our Haberdashery and Fancy Goods Departments have been fully replenished within the past few days with new goods suitable for the season, and are now very attractive.

We particularly invite those who find it difficult to obtain what they require elsewhere to visit these departments.

We have also opened up full lines of Plain and Twilled Sheetings, Grey Cottons, Pillow Cottons, Prints, Towellings, Tickings, Black Lustres, Black Cashmeres, etc., etc. It will afford us pleasure to receive your inspection of the above goods.

THAT WONDERFUL MAN

OFF AGAIN TO THE BRITISH MARKETS

FOR SPRING GOODS.

WE COMMENCE OUR

GREAT CLEARING SALE

On Monday, 4th February next,

During that time we will fulfill to a demonstration all that we promise, namely, to sell all and every article we have in stock at the actual cost price of it.

We confidently refer back to our past Clearing Sales, and promise in this sale, as in all former ones, to keep faith with the public. When we advertise a Clearing Sale at cost price, we keep our word, and no matter at what loss or sacrifice it may be to us, we bind ourselves NOT TO DISAPPOINT OR DECEIVE THE PUBLIC, OUR FRIENDS OR CUSTOMERS. We ask, feeling confident of a hearty response, that all intending buyers of Fancy or Staple Doods, will advise themselves of this opportunity of supplying their requirements at a saving of 20 per cent. We ask an inspection of our goods, and the promise we make of actual cost prices; we will agree to pay expenses of a visit to our establishment if all that we here state does not turn out to be sound in every particular. Our Mr. Hogg, senior, leaves in a few days for the British Markets for spring Goods, and a clearance of present stock must be effected. People of the Town of Guelph and County of Wellington you have had a trial of the Wonderful Man for over 25 years. He has worked faithfully for your interests during all that time, and he is doing so to this day. He is strong, healthy and robust now as ever he was, and he is on the war path to exterminate and put to shame dealers in old bankrupt and moth-eaten goods. People of town and country do not be deceived. The test of a man is his past career. You have had every opportunity of knowing and judging of the Wonderful Man. All that he asks is that you consider him entitled to YOUR PATRONAGE AND SUPPORT.

John Hogg & Son only keep in stock the best class of Fancy and Staple Dry Goods, Millinery, Jackets, Ready Made Clothing, &c., and at the great reduction these goods will be offered at during the Clearing Sale will induce thousands to flock to our establishment.

OF

HOTEL PROPERTY

In Guelph.

PURSUANT to a decree of the Court of Chancery, made in the cause of Mitchell et al., vs. Hogg et al., and bearing date the 23rd day of November, A. D. 1877, there will be sold, with the approbation of J. Watson Hall, Esq., Master of the said Court, at the Market House, in the town of Guelph, on at the hour of half-past one o'clock in the afternoon, that valuable property known as Soden's Hotel property, having a frontage of about 117 feet on Macdonnell street, and depth of 105 feet, and better known and described as lot 109, north side of Macdonnell street, in the Canada Company's survey of the town of Guelph, containing one-quarter of an acre more or less, and on which is erected a two-story rough-cast hotel, with commodious frame stabling, &c.

Saturday 2nd of February, 1878

This property is situated in the centre of the town of Guelph, and produces a rental of $500 per annum and taxes. Immediate possession given, or an arrangement may be made with present tenant to continue under existing lease.

The purchaser at the time of sale will pay a deposit of ten per cent. of the purchase money to the Vendor's solicitor, and the balance thereof into the Court, to the credit of the said cause, within one month thereafter. In other respects the conditions of sale are the standing conditions of sale of the Court of Chancery.

For further particulars apply to Messrs. Dunbar & Johnston, Vendor's Solicitors, Messrs. Guthrie, Watt & Cattan, A. H. Macdonald, Esq., or A. M. McKinnon, Esq., Guelph, or to John Hoskin, Q. C., Toronto.

HAROLD THE OUTLAW

—OR—

The Gauger of Skene.

CHAPTER XVI.

HAROLD ARRIVES AT THE CAVE, AND HAS AN INTERVIEW WITH BLACK DICK.

Next day Daddy, who found confinement in the cavern intolerably irksome, and its oppressive atmosphere well nigh unendurable, entreated Dixon to be allowed to go outside.

"Dinna be feared that I'll try tae rin awa'," he said, "I hae neither the wish nor pooer tae dee that. I just want tee sit in the sun and breathe the caller air, and find the smell o' the heather, for, oh, man, this dark, ill smellin' place is ill tae thole. I think a week o't wad be my death. Just let me oot a while, and ane o' thae birkies can watch me."

Dixon, who had constituted himself the special guardian of Daddy since the attempt of Black Dick on his life, was inclined to grant this earnest request. He could easily understand that to one of such wandering habits as the old mendicant, confinment of any kind must be painful, and that the feeling must be greatly intensified in such a stifling, torch-lighted place. Nor did he think any danger would be incurred by allowing the old man a few hours of freedom. He and the rest were now fully convinced that Daddy was faithful to them, and it was equally cruel and unjust to use him harshly. Black Dick might prohibit the indulgence, for his passion seemed to be dreadfully inflamed against the captive; but Dick was lying moody, silent in his own den, showing no signs of quitting it. What they were all waiting for now was the arrival of Harold Logan, and it might be late in the day ere he come.

On the whole, Dixon thought he might venture to satisfy Daddy in this particular, and he told him he would.

"But you will have to be blindfolded in going out and coming back," he added. "None but those who have taken the oath are entrusted with the secret of the entrance to the cave."

"A' richt," cried Daddy, with joyous alacrity. "Bind me wi' as mony napkins as ye like."

Never had the old man enjoyed such a delicious sensation as when the pure mountain air met him emerging from the passage through the rock. He stood up, blindfolded though he was, and drank it in with very ecstasy. He held his hands abroad to catch it, he doffed his sou-wester that its balmy freshness might play upon his brow, and stir the long tresses of his hair.

"Eh, sirs, but this is fine," he ejaculated, with a long sigh of relief.

He was led away to a considerable distance, and along various winding places ere the bandage was removed. At length it was slipped off by his attendant, and before the flood of sunshine which poured on his vision he instinctively shrank. Nor was it for many moments ere he could bear to gaze around on surrounding objects.

When his eyes fairly recovered the use of sight how bright and glorious was the scene. The October sun shone in an almost cloudless sky upon a mountain landscape of immense extent. Heights rose beyond heights, peaks towered above peaks—some round, some sharp, some crowned with verdure, others purple with fading heather; some dark and jagged with bare and native rock, others bright and flashing with waterfalls—a mighty and majestic region, full of lights and shadows, gloom and grandeur, steeped in a great hush of unbroken silence, and revealed through an atmosphere of crystal clearness.

The old man surveyed it all with kindling eye, so glorious did it seem to him after the lurid blackness of the cave, the very situation of which he could not determine, so entirely was it concealed among the crags which surrounded him. Had he not known that such a place was in the immediate vicinity he should never have suspected it. To all outward seeming the spot where he stood lay in one of the deepest solitude of nature. Not a single human habitation was in sight—not even a shephard's shieling was visible. Nothing but green knolls, frowning crags, and huge rocky heights, with gorges and steep ravines descending to the glens and straths far below, where streams flowed and sheep browsed on the virgin pasture.

"Eh, but this is bonney and grand," he exclaimed, as in unutterable satisfaction he laid himself down on the turf in front of a rock to experience the enjoyment which such a scene never failed to produce in his mind.

To Daddy the situation was one of perfect earthly bliss, for it ministered in the fullest abundance to his simple wants and highest aspirations. He dearly loved when his belly was full to lie basking in the sun doing nothing. He was not without thought and reflection; she was not blind to the beauty or deaf to the harmony of nature; and he had even some dim apprehension of the greatness and the deep meaning of existence—very vague and inoprative, it must be confessed, but such as made him ponder and take into his soul higher ideas than a stranger would have suspected to lurk there. There were fine capacities in his nature which, if they had been cultivated, would have developed into something far beyond the common; but he had given way to habits of inveterate indolence, which had lost for him a sphere of useful activity and doomed him to be an aimless and almost useless wanderer to the world. At an earlier period of his life he might have been lured from this unproductive region and made for himself a respectable place in society. Now it was too late for any process of that kind—a wandering beggar he would remain till the end of his days. On the whole it might have been worse. We have already seen that he possessed many sterling qualities, and these he will have an opportunity of manifesting still further ere our story is finished.

Dixon and the man who had assisted him to bring Daddy forth walked off to some distance to a point which commanded not only a view of the knoll where the mendicant reclined, but of a hollow or opening among the hills up which it was expected Harold Logan would come.

The man in question was Nip, who had been of such service in Harold's deliverance from the Tolbooth, and it soon appeared that Dixon had brought him from the cave for a purpose beyond that of watching Daddy. So soon as they were entirely by themselves Dixon turned eagerly towards him and asked in a low rapid tone—

"What news have you for me?"

"I have discovered it at last," replied Nip.

"What?—discovered what Gillespie has done with the child?"

"Yes; he has given her to a poor woman in Aberdeen, who is bringing the girl up."

"Decently."

"Faith, hardly. She is a poverty-stricken, drunken creature, named Mrs. Murdoch, and the child has been clothed in little else than rags up to a week ago, when the gauger called and gave her a little money."

"Does he not pay her regularly?"

"Not he. He had not been near her for months, and she gave him a dreadful blowing up—threatened to throw the child back on his hands if he didn't pay regularly."

"Come, that's rather shabby of Gillespie, considering the sum of money he got with her. A thousand pounds should have ensured for the child better guardianship."

"Ay, an' spent it for that purpose, but he rather made it ensure for himself a higher style of living, and hire a host of spies to work against us smugglers. I am told he has gone at a galloping pace for the last two years, and is almost on his beam ends now. Of course, we know where the money came from that he spurred with, and, egad, that's more than he did himself."

"True, but I suspect he would do a deal to find out. I am sure he recognised me in the moonlight when we had the brush with him and his men eighteen months ago, when he made such a desperate effort to catch me. I was a fool not to disguise myself better at our meeting on the moor when he got the child."

"That was a mistake, sir. I thought so at the time. I took a different plan, as you may remember. I put on the dress of a shepherd, and spoke to him in broad Scotch. But for that I could have risked nothing; as I have done all the time I was about the jail. But what do you suppose he hoped to gain by seizing you?"

"Information as to the child's family, no doubt. He is sharp enough to know that such information would be valuable to him. He might hope to screw another thousand out of it, and if he is as short of money, as you, this will make him all the more eager for discovery."

"If that is the game, would he not take more care of the girl?" suggested Nip.

"I wish he would," returned Dixon. "Her present upbringing will ill suit my purpose, if events require her to be brought forward."

"Are these events likely to come to pass?" asked Nip.

"It does not look so very unlike it at present. The boy is sickly—should he die the estate would go to the man I have such good reason to hate; and do you think I would allow him to possess it?"

"It would be galling to you, I should think."

"So galling that I will take all possible means to prevent it. This is why I wished you to find out what had become of the child; and now that we have discovered that, she must not be lost sight of, nor the means of proving her identity, if it should ever be necessary. The proofs of what took place at her birth I have safe enough. Ha! I yonder [is] Master Harold at last. I must meet him and tell him how the matter stands with the old beggar. And to this other business, it is between you and me."

"And must remain so," returned Nip, emphatically.

Dixon nodded, and took his way down the hill to meet the solitary horseman who was seen riding up the hollow, and who, despite the distance at which he still was had been recognized as Harold Logan though Dixon was surprised to see him unaccompanied by his foster-brother Kenneth Fraser.

So soon as Dixon quitted his elevation and entered on the broken ground he lost sight of the approaching rider; but, inasmuch as there was no other path to the cave on this side of the hill, he did not doubt that in due time he would meet Harold. This he did after the latter had disposed of his horse and was making his way up the steep rocky path on foot.

Female Freemasonry.

A Woman's Adventure with "The Goat."

The Lodge of Freemasons at Woodstown, finding their lodge room growing more dingy and dusty, determined that it should be cleaned and renovated, as far as soap and water could do it. The job, of course, must be put into feminine hands, and it was voted to Mrs. K., the village char-woman.

The door-keeper, well aware that Mrs. K. was one of the independent investigators, who like to see and judge for themselves, went early next morning, borrowed without leave a neighbor's billy-goat, and notwithstanding some vigorous protests on the part of the animal, conveyed him up-stairs, placed him in a closet opening out of the lodge-room, and secured him by turning the button about, without locking the door, and put the key in his pocket. Then with a face as serious as if he had just heard of the robbery of the bank where his aunt, of whom he had great expectations, kept her trunk, he wended his way to the dwelling of Mrs. K., and requested her to come to the lodge-room immediately after breakfast, that he might give her necessary directions.

An hour later the woman put in an appearance, "armed and equipped" with broom, brushes, pail, tub, etc. She found the custodian of the premises awaiting her.

"Now, ma'am," said he, "I'll tell you what we want done, and how we came to employ you. The brethren said it was difficult to get anybody to do the job and not meddle with the secrets in that closet; we have lost the key. But I assured them that you could be depended on."

"Depended on? I guess I can. My poor dear, dead-and-gone husband belonged to the Freemasons, or Anti-Masons, I don't know which. He let me into all the secrets of the concern, and showed me all the marks the gridiron made when he joined, and told me how they fixed poor Morgan; and sure as I live, I never mentioned a word about it to a single soul to this day. If nobody troubles your closet to find out your secrets till I do, they'll lay there and rot—they will."

"Yes, I thought we couldn't do better than give you the job. Now, I want you to commence in that corner, and give the room a thorough cleaning, and remember, I have pledged my word and honor for your fidelity. Don't go into that closet." With this parting injunction, emphatically uttered, he left Mrs. K. to her task. The village of Woodstown was small, and centered about the post-office, store, and meeting-house. Mrs. K. did not see that the sober-faced door-keeper "just stepped into the post-office," the first floor of the same building, and awaited the result. She only listened till she was sure he had descended the last step, and turned to gaze at the prohibited door.

"Don't go into that closet, she repeated, in the stage whisper; "I'll warrant there is a gridiron there or some nonsense, just like the anti-Masons, I will just take one peep; who will be the wiser? I can keep a secret. Besides, that closet'll be on my mind till I see what's in it, and I never could work worth a cent when there's anything on my mind."

Stealthily on tip toe, she approached the closet, turned the button, the door swung open, and—bah! Billy, aroused from his nap by the sudden flood of light, making a spring to regain his liberty, almost upset her ladyship. Both started for the door, which, alas, was barricaded with house cleaning paraphernalia. The momentum of the charging party was not to be retarded by such slight obstacles, and all went down the stairs in one avalanche.

The crash brought to the spot half the people of the village, headed by the sad eyed door-keeper. He released the goat first, a cripple for life; then he assisted the charwoman to arise from under a pile of tubs, pails, brooms, brushes, etc. No bones were broken, and strangely enough, she was but slightly bruised externally; her injuries were nearly all internal; her feelings were terribly lacerated.

"Have you been taking degrees, ma'am?" inquired the sympathetic custodian of Freemason's secrets.

"Taking degrees? If you call tumbling from the top to the bottom of the stairs, with the devil after ye, taking things by degrees, I have; and if ye frighten folks as you have me and hurt them to boot, I'll warrant they'll make as much noise as I have."

"I hope you did not open the closet," said the imperturbable door keeper.

"Open the closet? Eve ate the apple when she was told not to. If you want a woman to do anything, tell her not to, and she'll do it certain. Open the closet? You said the secrets were there, and of course I wanted to see 'em. I just opened the door, and out popped the critter, right in my face. I thought the devil had me and I made for the stairs, the devil bunting me at every jump. I guess I'll go home," she added, "you may get somebody else to clean up your old room."

"But ma'am, you are in possession of the great secret of the Order, and must go up and be initiated and sworn in, in the regular way," remonstrated the door keeper.

"Regular way! Regular way, indeed. You don't suppose I am going near that place again, to ride that critter without saddle or bridle? No! never! No never! I'll never go nigh that place again, nor your hall either; and if I can prevent it no lady shall ever join the Freemasons. Why, I'd sooner be a Maltesian and be broiled on a gridiron as long as fire could be kept under it, and be pulled from garret to cellar, with a halter round my neck, just as my poor dear husband was. He lived through it, but I could never live through such another ride as I took to-day."—N. E. Freemason.

TO THE

BELL ORGAN

At the Centennial.

THE UNDERSIGNED RECEIVED A Silver Medal at the Centennial Exhibition, this being the HIGHEST AWARD to Canadian Organ. Other medals for organs merely bronze. None of our organs had over four sets of reeds. Several other Canadian makers had instruments with from seven to twelve sets. The bronze medal organ had twelve sets.

At the Western Fair for 1876, our London agent exhibited only his ordinary stock, and with our Five Stop Organ took First Prize over all competitors.

A five years' guarantee accompanies each organ. This from a well established firm likely to continue in business is worth considerable. For Price List, address

Authorized Capital—$5,000,000.

THE Company's special system of Loans affords to borrowers, and especially to Farmers, the following most important advantages:—

1. The borrower is NOT OBLIGED to repay any part of the principal until the whole term of the Mortgage has run.

2. He has the RIGHT (after the first year) to repay at any time, the whole or any part of the Loan, without prior notice to the Company.

3. No extra charge, bonus or otherwise, is exacted on such repayment.

4. He is requested when making application for the Loan, to state the day on which he wishes interest to be made payable. He thus can stipulate for a date, say after harvest, or at such time as is likely to be most convenient for him.

5. Interest can be made payable once a year—not in advance.

6 On repayment of any part of the principal, interest on such amount immediately ceases.

MONDAY EVEN'G, JAN. 21, 1878.

Alice Cary's Sweetest Poem.

Among the beautiful pictures
That hang on Memory's wall
Is one of a dim old forest
That seemeth best of all;
Not for its gnarled oaks olden,
Dark with the mistletoe,
Nor for the violets golden
That sprinkle the vale below;
Not for the milk white lilies
That lean from the fragrent hedge,
Coquetting all day with the sunbeams
And stealing their golden edge;
Not for the vines on the upland,
Where the bright red berries rest;
Nor the pink nor the pale sweet cowslips,
It seemeth to be the best.

I once had a little brother
With eyes that were dark and deep,
On the lap of the olden forest
He lieth in peace asleep.
Light as the down on the thistle,
Free as the winds that blow,
We roved there the beautiful summers,
The summers of long ago;
But his feet on the hills grew weary,
And one of the autumn eves
I made for my little brother
A bed of the yellow leaves.

Sweetly his pale arms folded
My neck in a sweet embrace,
As the light of immortal beauty
Silently covered his face;
And when the arrows of sunset
Lodged in the treetops bright,
He fell in the saint-like beauty
Asleep by the gates of light.
Therefore, of all the pictures
That hang on Memory's wall,
That one of the dim old forest
Seemeth the best of all.

COUNTY COUNCIL meets to morrow at two o'clock p.m.

MR. J. ELLIS, of the Wingham Times is in town to-day.

COUNCIL of 1877 had an early session this morning: nine o'clock. Yawning by members was prevalent.

REV. MR. FRASER, of Toronto, preached in Chalmers' yesterday, morning and evening, and delivered eloquent sermons to large congregations.

MR. J. KELLY has occupied the position of Chief Constable of Guelph during the past twenty years, and has been connected with the force twenty-three years.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.—Light to moderate northerly to westerly winds; cloudy weather with areas of rain and snow; stationary or slightly lower temperature. Received by Dominion Telegraph.

CONTRACTS.—We understand that contracts have been let by the Agricultural College to Mr. Wm. Hales for supplying meat; Mr. Hugh Melvin for bread, and Mr. John Risk for groceries, during the current year.

REV. THOS. BROCK preached at Georgetown yesterday evening. Rev. E. B. Ryckman conducted the services at Rockchapel, near Waterdown. Rev. Mr. Hobbs preached morning and evening in the Dublin-st., Methodist Church here. Rev. Dr. McKay, of Morriston, in the Norfolk street Church in the evening.

APPRECIATION.—Mr. Marvin Knowlton's friends in Peterborough have presented him with an address and a purse of money as a token of appreciation of his services in the late Dunkin Act contest. He was afterwards entertained at a supper. Mr. Knowlton was one of the best, if not the best, Dunkin advocates during the late contest in Wellington.

MINKS.—Mr. D. Molton has lately purchased, on the Guelph market, over 500 mink skins from a trapper named Jas. Pearson, who captured the valuable little animals on the Saugeen river. This trapper has sold between six and seven hundred mink skins on the Guelph market this season.

STOLEN.—A black horse, about sixteen hands high, was stolen from Benjamin Petch, of Glenwilliams, on Saturday evening. Chief Kelly received a telegram to be on the look out for the thief. The suspected thief wore grey clothes, reddish brown cap, short stout man, and about eighteen years old.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—On Friday afternoon Mr. Thos. Scott Elliott met with quite a serious mishap while ripping up some walnut lumber with a circular saw in his factory. He had started a plank, and when it was part of the way through, one end caught against a piece of board, which sprung up the end of the plank which Mr. Elliott had hold of, and the sharp corner striking his cheek, laid the bone bare. Dr. Harkin dressed the wound, but it will be a week or two before Mr. Elliott will be able to resume work.

FINGERS SAWN OFF.—On Saturday a son of Mr. Jas. Cowan, of the West End, Guelph Township, met with a severe accident while cutting cord wood with a circular saw. The three first fingers of one of his hands were so badly lacerated that they had to be amputated, and the thumb is also badly cut. Just before the accident occurred the belt which connected with the horse-power came off, and while watching the horses he inadvertently placed his hand on the rapidly revolving saw. Dr. Howitt dressed the injured hand. He thinks the thumb can be saved.

SCOTTISH CONCERT.—Mr. J. C. Wilson gave his concert on Saturday night to a rather small audience, who, however, were well pleased with the entertainment. Mr. Wilson possesses a good voice which is under thorough management, and his rendition of the songs of auld Scotland was greatly appreciated, and under more favourable circumstances would have created some enthusiasm. Mr. Wilson has a keen insight into the beauties of Scottish song, and whether in the rendering of Burns' inimitable airs, or in his exposition of the songs of other authors he was equally successful. The programme comprised many of the best known and favourite songs, such as "O' a' the airts the wind can blaw," "A man's a man for a' that," "Auld kail in Aberdeen," "Scots wha hae," "Annie Laurie," "Duncan Gray," the "Land o' the Leal," &c. Mr. Wilson was ably assisted by Miss M. E. Andrews who played the accompaniments with much taste and judgment, and also gave some gems of Scottish music in the introductory and intermediate parts of the concert in a manner that showed that she was thoroughly conversant with Scottish music. With her and Mr. Wilson we feel sure that a good programme can be carried out, such as will please those who love to hear the songs of auld Scotland.

"NOBODY CARES FOR ME."—The Rev. Mr. Harris, in the Primitive Methodist Church, Paisley street, last night, preached a very interesting sermon under the above heading, taking for his text a passage in the Psalms—"No man careth for my soul." The church was well filled with an audience who listened intently during the whole half-hour of its delivery. It was announced that special services are to commence in the basement of the church to-morrow evening.

DEATH OF MRS. ANDERSON.—It is with great regret we record the death of Mrs. James Anderson, of Puslinch, which took place on Saturday last at Springfield, near Guelph. The deceased, since her confinement on the 2nd inst., was considered in a dangerous way, but towards the end of last week hopes were entertained of her recovery, and her husband and family were greatly buoyed up with that hope. A sudden change, however, took place on Saturday, and on the evening of that day a fond wife and loving mother was snatched away from those she held dear on earth. Mrs. Anderson was highly esteemed by all who knew her, and her many friends in Guelph, as well as in Puslinch, will sincerely mourn her loss. She [illegible] husband and [illegible] family of seven children, who are left to mourn the untimely death of her who was the light of their home, and whose death has cast a deep and abiding shadow over their lives.

SUCCESSFUL CANDIDATES.—It is certainly something for the town of Guelph to be proud of when it is known that taking the Province as a whole, the candidates at the late intermediate examinations held here proportionally came out ahead. Seven out of eight in the intermediate, and two out of four for second-class A and B certificates is the result. The pupils were all from the High School, and of course were under the training of Mr. Wm. Tytler, Principal. No higher compliment could be paid to the Guelph schools, and no weightier testimonial then this could be accorded the school system of Guelph. Our schools were never in a more prosperous condition than now, and this is altogether owing to an efficient corps of teachers and a doubly efficient Inspector in the person of the Rev. Mr. Torrance.

SQUEEZED BY A HOGSHEAD.—This (Monday) morning at a quarter to eight o'clock pedestrians on Macdonnell street east, in the neighborhood of the Western Hotel, were startled by loud and prolonged groans, as though some poor fellow was in mortal agony. It turned out that a young man named Edward Ride, porter in the grocery of Messrs. Jackson & Hallett, had been severely injured by a hogshead of sugar, weighing 1,776 lbs., striking him as it was being unloaded at the back entrance of the store, from one of the railway drays. It is usual in unloading hogsheads to place an empty barrel on the ground and then roll the weighty article from the dray on top of it. The empty barrel breaks the fall to such an extent that it prevents the bursting of the article being unloaded. At the time the hogshead was rolled off the young man Ride, after placing the empty barrel in position, stooped down for some purpose, and the carter not observing his action rolled the hogshead off the dray. One side of it rolled over Ride's left hip, which bruised it severely, and evidently injured him very badly. He was unable to move, and three men picked him up and carried him to a couch in the Western Hotel. Dr. Brock was sent for and made an examination, when he found that although no bones were broken he had received such a terrible squeeze that it is likely it will be some time before he fully recovers. The young man was removed to his home, near the gas works, in a cab.

CORRECTION.—Having found that some persons have concluded that WILSON'S WILD CHERRY contains opium (as most medicines prepared for the purpose do) the proprietors take this opportunity of stating that the Wild Cherry contains no trace of this or any other narcotic, and may be given to an infant with the same safety and benefit as to an adult. The tonic effects of the Wild Cherry show themselves in an increased appetite and recuperated strength, and to those whose systems have been reduced by chronic diseases of the Lungs or Bronchial Tubes it is especially recommended. Sold by the principal druggists. dw

DR. GILES: I have been exceedingly successful in using your Liniment in my practice; particularly in cases of paralysis it has worked wonders. I have seen those who have not been able to walk for years recover the use of their limbs, and one gentleman in particular, who had lost the entire use of one side, and had visited Europe and the hot springs in Arkansas without benefit, after having your Liniment applied, was restored and able to resume his usual avocations. You have a great field before you, and may you go on and prosper, for you certainly have benefited mankind by your valuable discovery.

Guelph Town Council.

The Closing Session.

A special meeting was held this (Monday) morning at nine o'clock for the purpose of winding up the business of the year. Present, His Worship the Mayor in the chair, Messrs. Hood, Hart Sleeman, MacMillan, Heffernan, Coffee, Lamprey, Cunningham; McLagan, Gauhan, Biscoe.

Mr. Elliott presented a petition from R. Baldwin, for the Guelph Assembly Committee, asking for the use of the Council and Committee rooms, in conjunction with the Town Hall, on the 20th of February.

The petition was granted, allowing the use of Council Chamber outside of the railing, on motion of Mr. Hood, seconded by Mr. Elliott.

The Mayor asked Mr. C. Acton Burrows to act as messenger.

Declined.

Mr. Hart, chairman of Fire and Water Committee reported:

They recommend the payment of the following accounts:—Geo. A. Oxnard, for special train, $28; Jacomb & Taylor, repairs, &c., $32.20.

Mr. Elliott, chairman of Special Committee to investigate Road & Bridge Committee's accounts reported.

They recommended the payment of the accounts of Mr. Skelton, $1.80; J. Griffiths, $1; R. Ewing, $8; Thos. Sayers, $1; Geo. Hood, gravel, $56.88; W. J. Fairbank, gravel, $1.

The account of T. S. Elliott for laying sidewalk was submitted to the Engineer for measurement, and reported the amount as certified by the Engineer as $676.41, which your committee recommend to be paid less the amount already paid on said contract stated by Mr. Elliott to be $500, which will leave $176.41 due him.

There is also an account from the same contractor for extras, which [illegible] reported upon by the Engineer, and carefully [illegible] into by your committee. These were many items which they could not recommend to be paid, which are all shown in the Engineer's report. Your committee find that according to contract the planks for the sidewalk should have been cut even lengths, which has not been done in but few instances. Your committee have made no claim for deduction from his contract, but consider if made, it would be more than a set off for charges for some extras that have been made, and which your committee could not recommend should be allowed. The amount of extras which they recommend to be paid is $63.40.

Mayor Chadwick presented the following report of the Cemetery Committee:

That during the year 1877, there have been 151 interments—in the Union Cemetery 111; in St. George's Cemetery 40. Your Committee have sold thirty-four burial lots and forty-four lots for single graves. Five free graves have been provided for indigent persons—four buried in the Union Cemetery, and one in St. George's. The grounds are in good order, the finances in a healthy state, as shown by the Secretary-Treasurer's statement annexed.

James Hough, Treasurer, in account with Guelph Union Cemetery Committee.

The various reports were adopted without going into committee.

Moved by Mr. McLagan, seconded by Mr. Lamprey, that the Engineer be requested to lay before the Council at its next regular meeting, [illegible] detailed statement showing the number of feet of lumber used, and total cost of construction of sidewalks, as well as amounts expended for grading, ditching or otherwise improving streets within the corporation during the past year, each street to be named and specified separately.

Mr. Elliott objected to the resolution inasmuch as it would be impossible for the Engineer to comply, it was therefore useless to vote for it.

The motion was carried on the following division:

Yeas.—Mayor Chadwick, Messrs. Hood, Hart, MacMillan, Coffee, Heffernan, Cunningham, Gauhan, Lamprey, McLagan—10.
Nays.—Sleeman, Elliott, Biscoe.—3.

Moved by Mr. Hood, seconded by Mr. Biscoe, that Messrs. Walter M. Dack and John R. Cameron, reporters of the 'Guelph daily press be voted the sum of $15 each, in recognition of their services in reporting the proceedings of this Council during the past year. Carried unanimously.

Moved by Messrs. Gauhan and Biscoe, that a cordial vote of thanks be tendered to the retiring members of this Council: His Worship the Mayor, Messrs. Hood, Hart, MacMillan, McLagan, Lamprey, Coffee, Heffernan, Clarke, Hatch, Fraser, and Cunningham, for their untiring zeal and energy in the discharge of their duty as Councillors and members of the several committees on which they were placed, and that this resolution be engrossed on the minutes of this Council. Carried.

The Mayor was moved out of the chair, and it was taken by Mr. Hart.

It was then moved by Mr. McLagan, seconded by Mr. Hood, that the cordial thanks of this Council are due and are hereby tendered to His Worship Mayor Chadwick, for the thoroughly impartial manner in which he has discharged his duties as Mayor and presiding officer of the Council during the past year, and that he be voted $200 as a slight recognition of the valuable services he has rendered the corporation.

Messrs. McLagan, MacMillan, Coffee, and Hood supported the motion, and Messrs. Elliott, Biscoe and Cunningham opposed it. All admitted the impartiality shown by the Mayor during the year.

Moved in amendment by Mr. Elliott, seconded by Mr. Biscoe, that the clause in the motion, recommending the payment of $200 to the Mayor, be struck out.

The amendment was lost on the following division:

Yeas—Messrs. Elliott, Biscoe, Cunningham—3.
Nays—Messrs. McLagan, Hart, Lamprey, Coffee, Hood, MacMillan, Heffernan, Sleeman, Gauhan—9.

The motion was carried on the same division, Mr. Cunningham refrained from voting.

He thanked the Council for the resolution just carried. Although he had done some things during the year, which, perhaps, all would not consider right, he had acted in an impartial manner throughout. He had known no politics while at the Council, believing that it would be detrimental to the interests of the town. He also had to thank the Council for the grant of $200. He did not accept it as remuneration for expenses that were daily levied upon him as Mayor. He could assure them that as such it was totally inadequate. In previous years, when party politics ran much higher than now, the vote for Mayor's salary had always fallen through, on account of party feeling. Last year a sum of $200 was voted to Mr. Melvin, but when he ran as a candidate for the Mayor's seat, he had no idea that such a thing as recognition of services in the way of a grant was contemplated. In conclusion, he stated that he believed during the past year every member tried to fulfill their duties of office to the best of their ability. He again thanked the Council for the resolution accorded him.

A vote of thanks was tendered to Mr. Harvey, Clerk and Treasurer, on motion of Mr. MacMillan, seconded by Mr. McLagan. Messrs. MacMillan, Hood, Elliott, McLagan, and the Mayor, bore testimony to the efficiency of Mr. Harvey.

The Council then adjourned sine die.

The Caledonian Library.

To the Editor of the Mercury.

DEAR SIR,—You are doubtless aware that an effort is now being made for the purpose of starting a free library in connection with the Caledonian Society. The object is a laudable one, and should command the attention of every member. I lately pointed out to the Society the great desirability of such a [illegible] action, and I am happy to say [illegible] has been liberally responded to. The [illegible] volumes have already been promised, and many more will be immediately forthcoming. A record will be kept of the books and the names of the givers, and if at any time a member desires to have his books returned, he can get them by notifying the Secretary.

What I now wish to suggest is this. All members who can spare a volume or two of good readable matter will be kind enough to leave them at Anderson's bookstore, from whence they will be taken to the rooms. Books on every variety of subjects will be gratefully received. As large a selection of Scottish literature as possible is desirable. Any Scottish newspapers will also form a valuable acquisition. The different members of the Executive Committee would do well to agitate the question among their friends, and if we take hold of the matter as earnestly and as cheerfully as the Society has in reference to the games, I have no doubt that in the course of a few weeks we will boast of a library of at least three hundred volumes. Let an effort be made and we will succeed.

Fire in the Ottawa Parliament Buildings.

OTTAWA Jan. 20.—About half-past twelve o'clock to-day smoke was discovered issuing from a room in the basement of the House of Commons wing of the Parliament Buildings, where the charwomen are accustomed to do their work. The chief messengers gave the alarm, and the hose attached to the water system of the building was quickly applied and a stream of water poured into the flames, which were soon quenched. In a few minutes all trace of fire was destroyed. On an examination being made of the room, it was found that the fire had done but little damage, except destroying a wooden partition and partly burning the cupboards and door. The ceiling and floors being of concrete and the walls of solid masonry, it would have been impossible for the fire to have spread beyond the room. The cause of the fire is unknown. As there was no means by which access could have been obtained from the outside, some combustibles may have been left there unknown to the officers of the House. The city fire brigade was soon on the ground, but the appliances of the building and the promptness of the servants of the House rendered active assistance almost unnecessary. The damage done is estimated by the Chief Architect at about $100. One day will suffice to repair it.

The Premier was early at the scene, and directed the removal of the flooring above, where it was found that a defective wall made a passage for the fire, which by this foresight was prevented from spreading further.

Banquet to Stanley.

PARIS, Jan 20.—The Geographical Society's banquet in honor of Henry M. Stanley, at the Hotel de Louvre last night, was a magnificent affair. Two hundred and seventy guests were present, including the leading members of society, James Gordon Bennett, and other representatives of the New York Herald, London Daily Telegraph, and Paris newspapers, and a representative of President MacMahon. Vice-Admiral de la Ronciere le Noury presided. In reply to his toast Stanley said he attributed the chief glory of his explorations to Bennett, who conceived the plan and furnished the means for executing the exploration. He proposed that the River Congo bear the name of Livingstone. Foucher-Cariel offered a toast to the Herald and Telegraph, the organizers of the expedition. Ryan, Campbell, and Clark, their representatives in Paris, replied, saying Stanley discovered the sources of the Congo, but Mr. Bennett discovered Stanley. The Minister of Public Instruction entered the room, and handed to Stanley a decoration of academical palm. The President announced that the Geographical Society had awarded a gold medal to Stanley, who was overwhelmed with congratulations.

FIRE IN KINGSTON.—On Sunday morning about two o'clock, a disastrous fire consumed six stores, constituting Martin's new block, Princess street, besides damaging to a very large extent the new Albion Hotel, belonging to Mr. Britton, Q. C. These properties are located on the site of the great fire which occurred in June, 1876. Total loss estimated at $20,000.

Council of 1878.

Mayor's Address—Appointment of Auditors.

The first meeting of the Council for the year was held on Monday morning at eleven o'clock. The Council is constituted as follows:—

Mayor—Geo. Howard.
Reeve—Geo. Elliott.
First-Deputy—Geo. Sleeman.
Second-Deputy—Richard Mitchell.
Third-Deputy—Caleb Chase.
North Ward Councillors—F. Biscoe, W. Hearn, Robt. Mitchell.
East Ward—M. J. Doran, R. Melvin, F. J. Chubb.
South Ward—D. Day, John Roche, F. Gauhan.
West Ward—Thos. Gowdy, Geo. Bruce, Dr. McGuire.

The Clerk announced that the above members elect had made declaration according to law, and where eligible to take their seats.

Mr. F. J. Chadwick introduced Mayor Howard, remarking that he believed he would make an efficient Mayor. He took much pleasure in handing over to him the key of office.

Mayor Howard then read the following

ADDRESS.

To the Municipal Council of the Town of Guelph.

GENTLEMEN,—In assuming the chairmanship of the Council for the present year, I have thought it advisable to present for your consideration a few of the more urgent questions likely to engage your attention during your term of office.

You are no doubt aware that this Council enters upon its duties under considerable financial embarrassment, consequent on the fact that a large deficiency existed at the close of the past year; it will be necessary for your Finance Committee to provide the requisite funds to meet said deficiency and to submit to the Council as early as possible a full statement of the financial position of the town.

[illegible] opinion that a further check should be put upon the payment of money, and would suggest that all orders on the Treasurer shall in future be countersigned either by the Mayor or the chairman of the Finance Committee as the Council may direct.

I deem it desirable that the assessment for the present year be made at the earliest date practicable, and that the necessary steps should be taken to make provision for the collection of taxes for 1878 in two or more instalments, instead of in a lump sum as at present.

Debentures to the amount of $10,000 issued under By-law No. [illegible] remain unsold; it will be for you to determine whether these shall be sold to meet the over expenditure on street improvements made last year, or applied for the purpose of making improvements on those streets named in the schedule attached to said By-law, which have not had any portion of the $30,000 expended on them.

Your attention is directed to the existing polling subdivisions of the Town, which are not in accordance with the requirements of the election laws, some of them containing a much larger number of voters than is allowed by statute. This state of things might at any time void an election and should be remedied at once. It might also be well to consider the advisability of increasing the number of wards in the municipality.

The question of city incorporation engaged the attention of the Council of 1877. It would, I think, be of great service should a committee be again appointed for the purpose of procuring such further information as they may be able to obtain for the guidance of the Council, in determining whether it would be in the interest of the Town to sever our connection municipally with the County.

Several amendments require to be made in the rules which govern the Council, more especially with regard to the proceedings of committees, and I would recommend that a special committee be appointed to revise said rules, and to submit a by-law, containing the necessary amendments to the Council, for adoption.

I cannot help feeling that I would fail in my duty did I not refer to the totally inadequate protection against fire which we at present have, and urge upon the Council the most careful consideration of the position of the Town in this respect, so that you may take such action as shall secure the best results compatible with the limited means at your disposal.

The railway and market interests, upon which in so large a measure the commercial prosperity of our town depends, will, I doubt not, receive your best attention, and I bespeak your hearty support for any measure which shall have for its object the opening up additional avenues of trade, or of improving those which already exist, in order that we may retain the pre-eminent position as a market town which we have so long enjoyed.

In conclusion, gentlemen, it is my earnest desire that the business of the Council shall be conducted strictly in accordance with the rules, and I respectfully ask your co-operation in enforcing them, believing this to be the only way in which the business of any deliberative body can be successfully carried on; let us agree to differ in discussing the various matters which may come up for consideration, and whatever the decision of the majority may be, let us all, to the best of our ability, aid in carrying out the measures resolved on, in such a manner as shall best subserve the interests of the ratepayers of the Town.

I have the honor to be, gentlemen, your obedient servant,

GEO. HOWARD.

Council Chamber, Guelph, Jan. 21, 1878.

At the conclusion of the address there was considerable applause.

AUDITORS.

The Mayor appointed Mr. J. S. Speirs auditor for the current year.

Mr. W. S. G. Knowles was also appointed auditor on motion of Mr. Melvin, seconded by Mr. Elliott.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE.

On motion of Mr. Sleeman, seconded by Mr. Chase, Messrs. Elliott, Robert Mitchell, Gauhan, Melvin and the mover were appointed a Committee to draft Standing Committees for the year.

On motion of Mr. Elliott, seconded by Mr. Bruce, Messrs. Sleeman, Richard Mitchell, Gowdy, Gauhan, Biscoe, and Melvin were appointed a Special Committee on the Mayor's Address.

Mr. Elliott called the Mayor's attention to the absence of the messenger, and hoped he would see that one should be in attendance. The by-law regulating the duties of the Police provided for a messenger, and the matter should be attended to.

The Council adjourned till 7:30.

Toronto Correspondence.

TORONTO, 19th Jan., 1878.

During the present week the most important talk in the Assembly has been that evoked by Mr. Lauder's return of a list of Commissions of Enquiry issued since Confederation. A good deal of unnecessary feeling was displayed during the debate, which assumed a very wide range, and everything from the appointment of Magistrates to the Pacific Scandal, and everybody from Sir John A. MacDonald to William McDougall came in for notice and discussion. The reiterated attacks by Mr. M. C. Cameron upon the Justices of the Peace called forth strong animadversion from some of the rural members, and it was really time something should be said in the way of repelling his unfair assault upon a class deserving the thanks of the community. There are few magistrates who act so as to call forth censure, and when they do, the law gives ample redress to any who suffer from an improper display of brief authority. On the contrary, our laws are fairly administered by our magistrates in countless instances, and numerous lawsuits are avoided by the word of advice spoken in time, and the reconciliation brought about by the interposition of the Justice of the Peace between litigious neighbors. And the pay received by these dispensers of law and justice when their services are availed of, is so contemptible in amount that it affords less remuneration than is willingly paid to the day laborer for the roughest services. That the magistracy of Ontario is faultless, nobody asserts; that it is all that might be desired in every particular, it would be folly to assert; but that it affords a shield to the oppressed, and does much towards maintaining the [illegible] of our laws, and is a terror to evil-doers, is undeniable. As a rule our magistrates are intelligent men, good citizens, and valuable members of society, and altogether undeserving the sarcastic sneers and wholesale abuse heaped upon them by the member fro[illegible] East Toronto.

As to the policy of the Government with respect to the issue of Commissions, not much was said, and that little failed to convince any one of the impropriety with which Mr. Lauder sought to charge the Attorney General. Mr. Scott stated that a Commission would have been superior to an examination of a Minister, in the Central Prison matter, and illogically contended that an examination of the Minister of Examination would have been superior to a Commission in the Central Committee affair. Mr. McDougall inveighed against Commissions in general, and the recent Commissions in particular, apparently forgetful of the fact that the Sandfield Government, of which he was a member many years ago, was remarkable for its attachment to this mode of investigation, and certainly oblivious of the further fact that he, from time to time, had received large sums of public money in his capacity as Commissioner. Altogether the House seemed fully convinced that no case had been made out, and that the Government had acted in public interests when it instructed Justice Patterson to enquire into the charge brought against the Central Committee.

Dr. Clarke's attempt to change the time of meeting daily, and to convert the usual evening Session into a day Session failed because of difficulties unknown to the public, but patent enough to those who have much to do with the hard work of the House. Undoubtedly the great bulk of our law-making is done in the Committee rooms and not in the Chamber of the Assembly. The day session of Committees insure a fair attendance, but were a change made so that Committee meetings should be held at night, it would be next to impossible to secure a quorum. Even now, unless when a matter of importance is on the tapis, it is difficult to get a quorum of Committee together. With night meetings the evil would strengthen, and, knowing this, a large vote was cast against Dr. Clarke's proposition.

The form of Prayer reported by the Special Committee yesterday, was adopted without much discussion to-day. Ministers of the city will probably be invited in turn to attend and read the prayers selected from the English Church Liturgy, but it is pretty certain that the duty will devolve upon the Clerk of the House.

The Attorney-General declared to-day that the matter of exemptions will be submitted to a Select Committee at an early day. When the Municipal and School Acts were amended, this course was followed, and from the practical knowledge of the members of Committee, a better measure was obtained than had the Bill remained solely in charge of the Head of the Department. The Assessment Law needs revising, and the work will be better done by a large Committee than otherwise. The Opposition received the Premier's announcement with loud laughter, but his proposition possessed more common-sense features than any which has emanated from their side of the House during the present Parliament.

Notice to the Public.

We have for a long time been firmly impressed with the conviction that the long credit system is injurious to business and unjust to creditors, and we have come to the determination to put a stop to it. Our experience is that the practice of extending accounts over a year is a great mistake, is unfair to the creditor and burdensome to the debtor. Were settlements made, say four times a year, instead of once, the amounts would be light, and payments would be comparatively easy, whereas, when accounts run for a year the amounts accumulate, and in many cases it is no easy matter to settle a bill.

We have, therefore, come to resolution to, in future, make out and collect our accounts for advertising and job work quarterly, and we hereby give notice that this rule will, in all cases, be strictly enforced. We believe that its adoption will be of equal benefit to our patrons as to us, and we shall, in no case, make an exception.

We are now sending out our accounts for the past year, and we must insist on the immediate settlement of them in all cases, otherwise we will have to take the usual but unpleasant steps to enforce payment.

The Evening Mercury

MONDAY EVEN'G, JAN. 21, 1878

The Hon. Mr. Wood is expected to make his budget speech to-morrow.

The Bill abolishing the ballot in Manitoba passed the second reading. The Government give as the reason for its repeal that the old settlers desire a return of open voting.

The Hon. Mr. Vail has been defeated in Digby County, N. S., by Mr. Wade, whose majority is put down at 372, Mr. Vail having retired from the Government. Mr. Alfred Jones, the present candidate for Halifax, has been appointed Minister of Militia in his place. Mr. Jones' prospects in Halifax are excellent, and should he be elected he will make an active an influential Minister.

The War News.

January 20th.

It is semi-officially announced that Russia demands a large indemnity from Turkey and the occupation of a Turkish province outside of the annexed territory until the indemnity is paid.

An armistice will probably be signed on Monday.

A Pera correspondent says the negotiations have commenced. It is stated that the Turkish plenipotentiaries have been instructed to offer to make Batoum a free port, to cede [illegible] nearly as far as Kars, and to dismantle the fortifications of Kars and Erzeroum. They also propose the following for a European Conference:—The Balkans to be the southern limit of Bulgaria; Roumania to be independent; the Dardanelles open to men-of-war of all nations; the settlement of the Montenegrin and Servian questions temporarily deferred. It is reported that Russia has demanded that Adrianople be included in Bulgaria; also the cession of Batoum and the opening of the Dardanelles to Russian and Turkish vessels only.

A Pera correspondent telegraphs that the Russians have entered Adrianople.

An Irade has been issued at Constantinople ordering the enrollment of all free males.

A late Athens despatch says: The insurrection in Thessaley is spreading. The insurgents, who fight under the Greek flag, and who have been joined by many Thessalonians residing in Greece, have been enthusiastically received in several districts. The insurrection has also broken out in several parts of Macedonia.

A Constantinople despatch says:—Mukhtar Pasha has been appointed to command the army to be formed along the line of defence before Constantinople. The exodus of refugees from Roumelia is assuming colossal proportions. Before leaving Adrianople the Turks burned the provisions and blew up the ammunition. The British Consul at Adrianople telegraphed on Sunday morning that deputations of the inhabitants had gone to meet the Russians. No news of the Russian entry has, however, yet been received.

A New York Times' London special says: The Queen's Speech and the debate on the Address, through regarded as pacific, have not pleased the Russian Government. Lord Salisbury's declaration that the tide of war was approaching a point at which British interests might be touched, and where it must be stopped if necessary, is regarded as a serious menace.

The Bulgarians have massacred the inhabitants of the villages of Gueunik and Teherkeli, near Kezanlik.

A Giurgevo despatch says: The mortality among the Turkish prisoners at Frateshti is fearful. The station is becoming a terror to travellers. A correspondent saw the Russians digging deep graves, and near them fifty Turkish corpses, lying in heaps as they were emptied from the carts.

The following officers have been elected by the North and West Wellington Conservative Association:—President, T Swan, Mount Forest; Vice-President, T McDowell, Palmerston; Secretary and Treasurer, W W White, Arthur. Vice-Presidents of municipalities:—R Gordon, Arthur township; J D Johnston, Maryborough; J Mude, Arthur village; J W G Miller, Minto; Dr Cowan, Harrison; R H Cole, West Luther; W Dawson, East Luther; J McLaren, Mount Forest; T McManus, Peel.

The dividend sheet of the Acton Plow Co. has been issued, which shows that the Company had $1,000 left, over and above all liabilities.

Voting on the by-laws, granting the sum of $5,500 to extend the Stratford and Huron Railway to Milbank, resulted in carrying them by a large majority.

It is rumoured that one or two of the oil refineries in London East will remove to Petrolia, in consequence of the opening of the new railway between Petrolia and Oil City on Thursday.

On Saturday morning the residence of Mr. Warren Rock, Q. C., London, was entered by burglars and systematically ransacked. On examination being made it was found that from the bedroom were taken Mr. Rock's pants and vest, a pair of silk drawers, a gold watch, and a purse containing $12, in all valued at $225. About the same hour the residence of Judge Elliott was entered in a very successful manner.

Jas. Reid sued Walkerton corporation for $100 damages for the use of the Town Hall on two evenings he had rented it from the clerk. The case was decided in favor of the defendants, on the ground that the plaintiff had timely notice that he could not get the hall, and consequently should not have incurred expenses that were unnecessary.

A young man named McKewan, of Sheen township, attempted to pick a dynamite cartridge, and the result was the loss of three fingers.

The Ellis Woolen Factory, Galt, is expected to be in full operation within a couple of weeks.

The Mercantile Agency reports, 8,872 failures in the United States last year, with $190,669,000 liabilities.

Blackwood's Magazine.

The Leonard Scott Publishing Co., 41 Barclay street, New York, have published Blackwood for January in good season.

The second article "Murder of Commissioner Fraser, Delhi, 1835," is a striking narrative of circumstantial evidence, leading to the apprehension and conviction of an assassin.

The third article, being Part II. of "The Tender recollections of Irene Macgillicuddy, will be eagerly read, as Macgillicuddy draws upon her memory and not upon her fancy, and introduces, under assumed names, many personages known in "society." The first part, which appeared in the December number, has been much talked about.

We are glad to have another series of articles on "French Home Life." The present one, entitled "Religion," is an estimate of the general position of religious opinion in France, and the form and force of its action.

"Schools of Mind and Manners," treats of the "discipline which fits for society," and the importance of forming the manners of children, instead of allowing them to form themselves.

"Translations from Heine" are continued, and succeeding articles are devoted to the war in Turkey, and a consideration of England's policy in the East.

The periodicals reprinted by The Leonard Scott Publishing Co. (41 Barclay st., N.Y.) are as follows:—The London Quarterly, Edinburg, Westminster, and British Quarterly Reviews, and Blackwood's Magazine. Price, $4 a year for any one, or only $15 for all, and the postage is prepaid by the Publishers.

Harriston.—Vital statistics for the past six months are:—Births, 54; marriages, 29; deaths, 26.——The senior and junior curling clubs have amalgamated, and have adopted the name of the "Mutual Curling Club." Officers:—John Prain, President; E Fulton, Vice-President; James Moore, Chaplain; E H Dewar, Secretary; George Moore, Treasurer. Committee of Management:—Messrs Wallace, Moore, Prentice, Fulton, Clapp, Welte. Skips:—Messrs. Wallace, Prentice, Arbuckle, Moore, Clapp, Lavin, Fulton, Walter, Moore.

West Garafraxa.—The annual meeting of the West Garafraxa Agricultural Society was held in Leybourne's hotel, Douglas, on Thursday the 10th inst., when the following officers were appointed for the current year:—President, Robert J. Black; Vice President, Paul Couse. Directors—Messrs. Wm. Alexander, Samuel C. Fletcher, Forbes Moir, jr., John Strang, Wm. McDermott, Peter Bayne, John L. Ferrier, Dr. Tamblyn, Stephen Piper. Secretary and Treasurer, Duncan McDonald. Auditors, Hugh McDonald and R. Y. Blyth. The show to be open to Fergus, Luther and East Garafraxa, excepting the portion east of the 4th Concession. The Directors are determined that the next show shall excell all the former and be a grand success.

Installation.—At a regular communication of the Prince Arthur Lodge, No. 334, A. F. & A. M., held at the Masonic Hall, Arthur, Jan. 15th, the following officers were installed by P. D. D. G. M. Bro. John McLaren, of Mount Forest:—W. M., Bro. Jas. Mude; S. W., Bro. Thos. Graham; J. W., Bro. J. W. Fraser; Chap., Bro. William Griffin; Sec., Bro. Robt. Ferrier; Treas., Bro. C. C. Green; S. D., Bro. We confidently refer back to our past Clearing Sales, and promise in this sale, as in all former ones, to keep faith with the public. When we advertise a Clearing Sale at cost price, we keep our word, and no matter at what loss or sacrifice it may be to us, we bind ourselves NOT TO DISAPPOINT OR DECEIVE THE PUBLIC, OUR FRIENDS OR CUSTOMERS. We ask, feeling confident of a hearty response, that all intending buyers of Fancy or Staple Doods, will advise themselves of this opportunity of supplying their requirements at a saving of 20 per cent. We ask an inspection of our goods, and the promise we make of actual cost prices; we will agree to pay expenses of a visit to our establishment if all that we here state does not turn out to be sound in every particular. Our Mr. Hogg, senior, leaves in a few days for the British Markets for spring Goods, and a clearance of present stock must be effected. People of the Town of Guelph and County of Wellington you have had a trial of the Wonderful Man for over 25 years. In Guelph.

PURSUANT to a decree of the Court of Chancery, made in the cause of Mitchell et al., vs. Hogg et al., and bearing date the 23rd day of November, A. D. 1877, there will be sold, with the approbation of J. Watson Hall, Esq., Master of the said Court, at the Market House, in the town of Guelph, on at the hour of half-past one o'clock in the afternoon, that valuable property known as Soden's Hotel property, having a frontage of about 117 feet on Macdonnell street, and depth of 105 feet, and better known and described as lot 102, north side of Macdonnell street, in the Canada Company's survey of the town of Guelph, containing one-quarter of an acre more or less, and on which is erected a two-story rough-cast hotel, with commodious frame stabling, &c.

Saturday 2nd of February, 1878

This property is situated in the centre of the town of Guelph, and produces a rental of $500 per annum and taxes. Immediate possession given, or an arrangement may be made with present tenant to continue under existing lease.

The purchaser at the time of sale will pay a deposit of ten per cent. of the purchase money to the Vendor's solicitor, and the balance thereof into the Court, to the credit of the said cause, within one month thereafter. In other respects the conditions of sale are the standing conditions of sale of the Court of Chancery.

For further particulars apply to Messrs. Dunbar & Johnston, Vendor's Solicitors, Messrs. Guthrie, Watt & Cuttep, A. H. Macdonald, Esq., or A. M. McKinnon, Esq., Guelph, or to John Hoskin, Q. C., Toronto.

MORTGAGE SALE

OF VALUABLE REAL ESTATE,

In the Village of Fergus.

UNDER the power of sale contained in a registered Mortgage, made by William Rennie, and dated the 26th day of March, A. D. 1874, will be sold by public auction by David Findlay, Auctioneer, on

Wednesday, Jan. 30th, 1878

At the Wellington Hotel, in the Village of Fergus, at two o'clock p. m., the following freehold property, viz:

All those certain parcels or tracts of land and premises situate, lying and being in the Village of Fergus, in the County of Wellington, and Province of Ontario, being composed of part of lot number sixteen, on the east side of St. Patrick street, and south of St. David street, in Webster's survey, in the said Village of Fergus, a plan of which survey is registered in said county, which said land may be described as the whole of said lot number sixteen, except that part bounded on the south-westerly side by the boundary line between said lot sixteen and lot fourteen, on said St. Patrick street south of St. David street, in said plan, and on the north-east side of said lot sixteen, by the south-east side of St. Patrick street, and the south-east side by a line drawn parallel to said south-westerly boundary of said lot sixteen, and at the distance of twenty four feet in a north-easterly direction therefrom, and on the easterly side thereof by the easterly boundary of said lot sixteen, said last mentioned boundary being parallel with the south-east side of St. Patrick street:

And also a small triangular portion of lot number nine on St. Andrew street, and south of St. David street, in said plan in said Village of Fergus, which may be described as follows, that is to say: On one side by a line extending from the northerly corner of said lot nine on St Andrew street, south of St. David street, along the boundary line between said lot nine on St. Andrew street, and lot sixteen aforesaid, for a distance of seventeen and three-fifths feet; on the second side by a line extending from the said northerly corner of said lot nine along the boundary line between said lot nine and lot ten, on St. Andrew street aforesaid, for a distance of ten feet, and on the third side by a line joining the ends of the two first mentioned lines, twenty feet, 3 inches more or less, in length.

And also lot number ten situate on the corner of St. Andrew and St. David streets, in the said Village of Fergus, containing one quarter of an acre more or less.

On the above land is situate a large building occupied as stores, and an hotel, with usual outbuildings, now or formerly called the ELGIN HOUSE.

TERMS and conditions will be made known at time of sale, or on application to

HAROLD THE OUTLAW

—OR—

The Gauger of Skene.

CHAPTER XVI.

HAROLD ARRIVES AT THE CAVE, AND HAS AN INTERVIEW WITH BLACK DICK.

Well, Dixon, what news?" asked the youth, as he came with active step up the ascent. "Did you and your party get back yesterday all right?"

"All right, Mr. Harold. But where is Kenneth? No mischance has befallen him, I hope."

"Nay, I parted with him not three hours ago. He has gone to Aberdeen to learn how my escape has affected the authorities there, be present when the sentence of outlawry is pronounced against me, and get to know what it means, for I am really ignorant on the point, though I fancy it is something dreadful. Do you know the position of an outlawed man, Dixon?"

"Pooh, sir, they'll never go so far with you. The Baronet will make interest in your behalf, and in a short while the matter will be forgotten, and you will be able to return home without molestation."

"No faith, that is not to be, Dixon. The indictment was served on me in prison. I have it here; and the officer who handed me the paper was kind enough to explain that if I did not present myself at the bar on the day and at the hour named I should be outlawed—whatever that may mean. As for my father stirring himself in my behalf, there is no hope of it. He has cast me off. We are done with each other for ever. So 'tis like I shall now be permanent among you, Dixon."

"That is the most pleasant part of it, sir," responded Dixon. "To those who like it, life among the mountains here is not without its charms; nor is the business without its profits, as you know. The mishap on the Hill of Fare is quite a new experience to us, and was the work of a traitor, who will, I hope, soon feel our vengeance."

"I was certain there was treachery at the bottom of it," cried Harold; "and by the way, Kenneth told me you were on the traitor's track—that in fact you were to secure him as you returned west. Did you succeed."

"We succeeded and brought up the man whom we suspected, but find he is not the spy and informer, though he is able to tell us who he is."

"Ha! Don't you believe that, Dixon. He is gulling you; he would not know who the traitor is without being himself guilty. How could he?"

"His story explains it," answered Dixon. "And really Daddy Duff has so little the air or manner of one who would do such a base thing that I am convinced ——"

"Daddy Duff," interrupted Harold, in utter astonishment. "What of him? No one dreams, I hope, of suspecting him?"

"Why, sir, he is the very man we did suspect—the man we brought up a prisoner."

"What!" cried Harold, whose amazement at this point could hardly be exceeded. "You don't mean to say that you have done such a wrong thing as that to poor old Daddy—a truer friend or more faithful ally we have not in the cave itself. And did you really bring him to the hills under this suspicion."

"Did you not know of it, sir? Did Kenneth not tell you?"

"Kenneth told me that you had suspicion of some one, and were on the track, but he never mentioned the name of Daddy Duff. Had he done so I would have told him you were on a false scent, for I would without a moment's hesitation stake my life on Daddy's fidelity."

"So would I now. But truth to say, the facts we had learned looked bad against him, and I am ashamed to say he had but rough treatment from us on the road."

"I am sorry for this, Dixon. I am really sorry for this," said Harold.

"Daddy Duff is the last man to deserve such treatment. But what are the facts which brought such unfounded suspicion upon him?"

"Well, it was evident to us all that Gillespie could not have lain in ambush for us unless he had received information from a spy."

"That is as certain as that the sun is now shining above us," returned Harold.

"But how should it be imagined that Daddy was that spy?"

"He was seen," replied Dixon," to deliver a letter to the gauger at his own door on the previous day. Then, on the night of the convoy. Corbet met him on the Hill of Fare, and next day again, when Kenneth was on his way to Aberdeen to you he saw Daddy and Gillespie in private conference on the highway."

"Ay—curious, rather," returned Harold, musingly. "Yet none of these things, nor all combined, would shake my confidence in Daddy. What says he in explanation?"

Dixon replied by giving a minute account of the mendicant's examination by Black Dick, and his refusal to name the sender of the letter to any one but Harold Logan.

"To me," said Harold. "That is singular. What special interest can the matter have for me personally? I cannot imagine any."

During the rest of the ascent to the cave Harold was silent and thoughtful. Since his liberation from prison he had learned enough to understand that Gillespie's false statement regarding the death of Wanlass was not the result of an understanding between him and Black Dick, because Black Dick had been in the cave ever since, and could not possibly have held communication with the gauger. The singular conduct of the latter, therefore, pointed to some other influence, and whence that could come, or what it might mean, the youth could not frame the shadow of a conjecture. It was clear, however, that Daddy had something to communicate on the subject, and him he resolved to see as soon as he could.

But first he must have an interview with Black Dick. He was the real author of his present deplorable position, and it was too evident that Dick did not mean to deliver him from it, by avowing the truth that he, and not Harold, was the assassin of Wanlass. A man possessed of a truly brave nature would not have allowed another to be charged with a crime which he had committed; but Dick was known to be cowardly as well as passionate, therefore Harold had little expectation that his innocence would be proclaimed from that quarter, and as it was the only quarter whence it could be proclaimed (for his honor bound himself to silence) he had no other prospect than to bear the blame in the eyes of the world.

At the same time, he reflected that Gillespie could have freed him from the charge—nay, could have prevented the charge ever being made; but inasmuch as he had fastened it on him by a perjured declaration, he swore to call him to a stern account, by bringing a heavy weight of vengeance on the gauger's head.

Such were his thoughts as he and Dixon reached the secret entrance to the cave, into which Harold went alone—the other turning back to join Nip, who still kept formal watch on the motionless form of Daddy, as he lay in luxurious indolence upon the sunny slope.

Traversing the dark winding passage with the confidence of one well acquainted with its intricacies, Harold entered the main portion of the cavern, where several of the smugglers were busy with the work of distillation. These he greeted in frank and hearty fashion, thanked them warmly for the service they had rendered him the previous night; then hearing where Dick was to be found, he passed forward and disappeared in one of the side passages.

It winded to and fro like the other passages in this strange subterranean place, and terminated in a chamber of irregular shape, eight or ten feet high at the loftiest part of the roof. Here some comfort had been produced by the collection of several articles, such as matting spread on the floor and hung over the rocky surface of the wall, a wooden seat or two, a small roughly-constructed table, and a couch placed in one corner—a weird light being cast on the whole by a flickering, blazing torch.

On the couch lay Dick, dressed as on the previous day, and on the table within his reach stood a jug containing liquor. The natural ferocity of his features was deepened by the moody thoughts in which he was indulging; but he heard Harold's approaching footstep, and started to his elbow when the youth appeared.

Coutts; Woolwich, Andrew Clemens and H. W. Peterson; Waterloo township, Levi Stauffer and J. F. McKay; Berlin, D. M. Shoemaker; Waterloo, John Unger and B. Devitt. J. S. Hoffman and Mr. Scully were appointed Auditors. The show will be held at Berlin this year.

NICHOL.—The annual meeting of the Nichol Agricultural Society was held at Spiers's Wellington Hotel, Fergus, on Thursday last, Mr. Wm. Tindale, President, in the chair. The Secretary, Mr. J. C. Donaldson, read the report for the past year, showing 71 subscribers, or 21 less than in 1876. The following officers were elected, viz: President, Mr. Wm. Beattie; Vice-President, Mr. Chas. Kay; Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. J. C. Donaldson; Directors—Messrs. A. Anderson, Wm. Spiers, Jas. Phelan, Wm. Tindale, Alex. Brockie, Joseph Thomas, James Reynolds, Wm. Dow, and James Lindsay. Auditors—Messrs. T. W. Thomson and J. Craig. It was resolved to unite with the Centre Riding Society this year as usual. A vote of thanks was tendered to Mr. Tindale for his efficient services as President last year. Mr. Tindale acknowledge the compliment in suitable terms, after which the meeting separated.

PILKINGTON.—The annual meeting of the Pilkington Agricultural Society was held in the Dalby House last Thursday, when the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:—President, Mr. Thos. Marshall; Vice-President, James Ross; Directors, Messrs. Cromar, Fraser, Dalby, Whitely, Short, Wallace, Aitcheson, Patmore, Findlay, Foote and Henderson. It was decided to again amalgamate with the Centre Riding Society for show purposes. A vote of thanks was passed to the retiring President, and Mr. Wallace returned thanks.

Annual Report of Centre Riding Agricultural Society.

The annual meeting of the Centre Riding of Wellington Agricultural Society was held in Fergus on Wednesday afternoon. The large attendance of Directors indicated no falling off in enthusiasm. The secretary read the annual and financial reports, which were received and adopted.

The following office bearers were elected: President, Mr. M. Anderson; 1st Vice-President, Mr. Geo. Short; 2nd Vice-President, Mr. Thomas Buckland. Directors—Messrs. H. Roberts, D. Foote, J. C. Morrow, A. Walker, J. W. Thomson, W. McDermott, J. Mair, H. Hamilton. Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. Robert Cromar. Auditors, Messrs. Beattie and J. McQueen.

It was carried on motion of Messrs. Thompson and Walker that all prizes not called for within a year after the show, be forfeited.

Moved by Mr. Foote, seconded by Mr. Mair, that the sum of one dollar be retained by the Treasurer from all persons who may obtain a premium to that amount, for membership for the ensuing year; and all persons obtaining upwards of $10 in premiums, shall leave 10 per cent. of such amount in the treasurer's hands for the benefit of the Society. Carried.

A petition to the Legislature was presented, praying for a further grant of $300 to each electoral Society, which was signed by the President and Directors present, and the Secretary was instructed to forward the same.

ANNUAL REPORT.

The Directors of the Centre Riding of Wellington Agricultural Society beg leave to submit the following report of its transactions, for the year 1877. The townships of Nicol and Pilkington Agricultural Societies amalgamated with the Society for 1877, and contributed to its funds the sum of $135, besides the Government grant amounting to $89.

The Union Exhibition was held in the village of Elora, on the 11th and 12th of October. The grain, seeds, roots, and general manufactures in the drill shed, and the horses, cattle, etc. on the ground adjoining. The sum of $859.50 was offered in prizes, of which $130.50 reverted to the Society for want of competition.

Your Directors are sorry to say that the crops of 1877, with the exception of fall wheat, were very little better than the crop of 1876, and owing to five days steady rain during harvest, a good deal of the wheat sprouted, which reduced its value considerably. Other grain was about the same as previous year. Roots, (especially turnips) were the best grown for some years.

The show of young horses was about the average, but your Directors would recommend to their successors to try and make a better classification than at present exists.

Cattle, sheep, pigs, and poultry exhibited, were about the same as usual.

The inside show was better than usual, especially in the ladies department, which obtained great praise from the general public.

The Christmas show of fat stock was held in the village of Fergus, on the 12th day of December last, at which the sum of $91 was offered in prizes; $14 of which fell back to the Society for want of competition.

The Treasurer's account has been audited and found correct, shewing a balance at the present time to the credit of the Society of $53.51, but there still remains unpaid in premiums and accounts, $10.46, which, when settled up, will leave the Society indebted to the Treasurer $57.04.

The annual financial report shews the receipts to have been $1,330 72, and the disbursements $1,437.76.

The Arthur Enterprise says that a newly married Luther couple lately visited that village, and paraded the streets headed by a piper.

Owing to the very favorable season for mining, large quantities of phosphate of lime have been mined in the townships of Hull, Templeton, Wakefield, Buckingham, and Portland during the past few months.

THE Company's special system of Loans affords to borrowers, and especially to Farmers, the following most important advantages:—

1. The borrower is NOT OBLIGED to repay any part of the principal until the whole term of the Mortgage has run.
2. He has the RIGHT (after the first year) to repay at any time, the whole or any part of the Loan, without prior notice to the Company.
3. No extra charge, bonus or otherwise, is exacted on such repayment.
4. He is requested when making application for the Loan, to state the day on which he wishes interest to be made payable. He thus can stipulate for a date, say after harvest, or at such time as is likely to be most convenient for him.
5. Interest can be made payable once a year—not in advance.
6. On repayment of any part of the principal, interest on such amount immediately ceases.

LECTURE!

On Monday evening, 28th of January, Mr. Poole will deliver his popular Lecture, entitled

"ANGLO-ISRAEL"

or "The British Nation the Lost Tribes of Israel."

This lecture has been given five times in Toronto, three times in the City of Hamilton, and twice in the City Hall, London. The London Free Press says:—The Hall was filled to repletion. It was one of the most instructive and entertaining lectures ever delivered in the City Hall. The London Herald says:—"The lecture was one of the most instructive and interesting that has been delivered in the city for many a day." A Belleville paper says:—"The lecture by the Rev. W. H. Poole on "Anglo-Israel," in the Bridge-St. Church, was one of the richest, raciest and most instructive ever delivered to a Belleville audience. History, sacred and profane, geography, and the natural westward drift of Empire, were made to illumine each other in a manner truly fascinating.

Mr. Poole illustrates his lecture by maps and charts.

Local News Items.

BASE BALL.—Bradley, of Philadelphia, has received an offer from Boss Barnes, the manager of the Tecumsehs, of London, and will probably accept of the same.

No. 3 of the Dominion Farmer and Agricultural Gazette has been received from the publishers. Information to the general farmer is contained therein.

436 PERSONS were brought before the Guelph Police Magistrate during the past year. $1,492.96 were collected in fines and fees.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES, received by Dominion Telegraph, are:—Colder weather, with light snow in some localities; clearing to-morrow.

MAJOR ARMSTRONG has been connected with the municipality of Guelph during the past twenty-one years, seventeen years of which he has been assessor.

CHESS.—The regular meeting of the Guelph Chess Club will be held on Thursday evening in the Caledonian rooms, instead of Friday, on account of the celebration of Burns' anniversary on that evening.

"CANADIAN POULTRY REVIEW."—No. 2 of the Canadian Poultry Review has been received. It is full of information to poultry fanciers, and is published by Fullerton & Auld, Strathroy, Ont.

APPOINTMENTS.—Major Armstrong and Mr. J. D. Hutton have been appointed assessors for the present year, Mr. George Smith, collector, and Messrs. Jas. S. Spiers and W. S. G. Knowles, auditors.

W. J. POWER, of Hamilton, a dealer in musical instruments, has left for over the border, and neglected to liquidate a number of bills before he left. Messrs. William Bell & Co., of Guelph, swooped down on the stock and seized it.

POLICE COURT.—John Thomas was charged as a vagrant, and sent up for one one month without hard labor. Thomas Baker was charged with stealing a coat, pants and vest from the cell of the Market House, the property of Mr. Fred. Barber. He was committed for trial.

THE Ottawa Free Press has issued a large extra edition containing a succinct and interesting history of the Civil Service and how business is conducted in the several governmental departments. The Free Press is one of the best conducted journals in the east, and exercises considerable influence.

THE LOST TRIBES.—We have received from Mr. John Anderson a copy of a work bearing the title "Are the English People the Lost Ten Tribes of Israel." The writer advances many scriptural proofs in support of his enquiry. The work is at present creating considerable commotion in England. Copies for sale at Anderson's bookstore.

CALEDONIANS.—The Executive Committee of the Guelph Caledonian Society met last evening and arranged for holding an entertainment on the 25th inst.,—Burns' anniversary. Messrs. H. K. Maitland, Hugh Walker, R. Fyfe, and others, will assist in singing, and Messrs. E. F. B. Johnson and R. Fyfe will give readings. Several ladies are also expected to take part in the entertainment. The committee have determined to make the gathering one in every way fitted for the occasion, and there is not a shadow of doubt but that members of the Society and others will turn out in large numbers on Friday evening next. At the conclusion of the programme the young people purpose holding a social dance.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH.—One of the largest meetings of the St. Andrew's Church congregation was held in the school room on Monday evening. Rev. J. C. Smith, pastor, opened the meeting with devotional exercises, after which he withdrew. The Treasurer's report was presented and adopted. The report showed the financial condition of the church to be in a very satisfactory condition—in fact the church was never in a better condition. The following managers were elected:—Messrs. D. Kennedy, R. W. Stewart, John Davidson, Jas. Galbraith, —Grant, John S. Rogerson, Wm. Guthrie, Wm. Douglas, Chas. Spalding, Jas. Patterson, and Dr. Cowan. H. H. Swinford was re-elected Secretary-Treasurer. D. McCrae and Wm. Tawse, sr., were appointed auditors. During the deliberations of the meeting Mr. Chas. Pettiford acted as chairman.

ST. JOSEPH'S HOSPITAL.—The formal opening of the new wing of St. Joseph's Hospital will take place to-morrow (Wednesday), at two o'clock. Rev. Father Lemon, of Hamilton, will deliver a discourse suitable to the occasion. The Hospital Board extend a cordial invitation to our citizens generally, ladies and gentlemen, to be present. A visit to this institution, especially upon such an occasion, may be found interesting. His Lordship, Bishop Crinnon, will perform the ceremony of the opening, and those in charge of the Hospital are particularly desirous that it be visited by every one, in order that its merits as a charitable institution may be fairly understood and appreciated. The Mayor and Council of Guelph have been formally invited, and the County Council will be this afternoon.

MR. W. T. TOLTON, of Arkell, had the misfortune to have one his legs broken on Saturday last, while in the bush getting out firewood. "Dr." Ariss set the broken limb, and Mr. Tolton was as well as ever in the course of half an hour. The injured limb was a wooden one.

A MEETING of the Wellington Prohibitory League will be held this (Tuesday) evening for the purpose of forming a Guelph Branch. Read advertisement.

THE deficiency of the Guelph General Hospital for the past year was $376.77. Receipts were $5,587.47, and expenditure, $4,964.24.

ST. GEORGE'S CHURCH.—At a meeting of the ladies of St. George's Church lately held, it was resolved to hold, at an early date, a series of tableaux, organ recitals, and concerts for the benefit of the rectory fund. Mrs. E. Morris was appointed Treasurer of the Committee, and Mrs. Dixon, Secretary.

BENAJAH WILLIAMS, of Glenwilliams, retired from Canada in November last for a climate where creditors would not trouble him. At a late meeting of creditors held in Milton, Mr. John Smith, of Guelph, was appointed assignee. Tenders have been since asked for the estate en bloc or in detail.

TEMPERANCE MOVEMENT.—From different sections of the Province reports are received in regard to the wave of temperance that appears to have swept over the towns and villages. Within the past week or two 900 have signed the pledge at Meaford, some 1,300 at Brantford, over 2,000 at Chatham, over 500 at Markdale, and several hundred at Omemee.

ACCIDENT.—On Monday Mr. Harrison, of Pilkington, an experienced hand in running threshing machines, met with a severe accident which will incapacitate him for work for some little time. He was feeding the machine at the time the accident occurred. The cylinder became partially clogged and Mr. Harrison, in trying to remedy this, had his right hand caught by the cylinder, breaking all the bones in it and lacerating the fingers terribly. Dr. Herod dressed the wounds.

ACCIDENT.—About one o'clock to-day a little boy about twelve years of age, named Hogarth, met with a severe accident on the Waterloo Avenue, by climbing on a Grand Trunk wagon. It appears that he attempted to get on, and having got hold with his hands swung his feet under the box, when one of them, unfortunately, lodged between the wheel and the spring. The driver stopped as soon as he heard the boy cry out, and with the aid of some parties near by the boy was extracted, when it was found that he had sustained a severe bruise from the foot up nearly to the knee. Dr. Macdonald attended the boy and it will be some days before he will be able to walk.

NORTHUMBERLAND STREET.—From the published proceedings of the Town Council it will be seen that Mr. F. J. Chadwick resolved not to allow the town to purchase Lot 121 on Wilson street, for the purpose of opening out Northumberland street, on account of their neglect to at once take the property off his hands. This (Tuesday) morning a number of the friends of Mr. Chadwick waited upon him and pursuaded him to allow the town to purchase the property for the price he paid for it, and he finally consented. The price, $1,350 is much less than the property would realize if now offered for sale. Owners of property in the neighborhood will subscribe $900 of the amount required.

SIR JOHN'S VISIT TO GALT.—This (Tuesday) morning Sir John Macdonald arrived in Guelph by the 9.45 train on the Grand Trunk for Galt, where he is to be entertained by the "working" men of that town, and presented, for Lady Macdonald, with a life-size oil painting of himself. Sir John left Toronto at 7 30, and it has been stated that the whole burden, during his journey to Guelph, of his thoughts was: "Is it possible for me to make a mistake in my address? If I only had C. Acton Burrows, of Guelph, at my side to advise me, I would be perfectly sure and safe. That young man—who dare say he is either egotistical pedantic, or crazy?—is my only salvation during the next struggle at the general elections. Heaven forbid that he should be called from me." A smile illuminated the brow of Sir John as the train drew up to the Guelph station. And why? C. Acton was there. The scene was changed. Sir John steps off the train with a light heart and a merry waltz. He is welcomed by his constitutional adviser, and introduced to certain conservatives, that Sir John was particularly friendly with and familiar long before C. A. B., was heard of here. One waives the young man back and shakes hands as an old friend, but nothing daunted, the introductions continue until the conductor of the train interposes. The scene has changed again. No doubt it will be announced in the Herald that Mr. C. Acton Burrows, "managing proprietor," accompanies Sir John A. Macdonald to Galt. If so, it is a mistake, John A. accompanies Sir Charles Acton. From every station along the line between Guelph and Galt it is expected that telegrams will be sent to the Herald as they were when John A. accompanied Sir Charles Acton to the Gorrie pic-nic, describing the enthusiastic reception "we" received. At all events the public may look for such. When Galt was reached the "managing proprietor" again forced the re-introductions, and he was happy. Who is there dare tell what mistakes might have been made by the Chieftain had he not have had Guelph's brightest literary and political beacon—our hope, our life,—with him to advise as to the best manner to play upon the finer feelings of the Caltonians. A number of the members of the Conservative Association, not quite so ostentatious in the manner of exhibiting their love to the Chieftain will proceed to Galt this afternoon to take part in the demonstration this evening.

G. B. FRASER, on Upper Wyndham street, has put in a splendid grocery window. Goods are to be sold cheaper than ever, and the public is invited to call and make an inspection.

Guelph General Hospital.

Directors' Annual Report.

Mr. George Elliott, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the General Hospital has prepared the following report for presentation to the County Council of the number of patients received into the hospital, and a statement of the receipts and disbursements for the year ending 31st December, 1877:—

EXPENDITURE.

For Butchers' Meat	$486 36
Groceries	648 60
Bread, flour, and meal	240 98
Milk	196 56
Vegetables and fruit	105 40
Servants' wages	791 00
Funeral expenses	20 00
Coal and wood	627 56
Printing and Stationery	47 69
Medical supplies and medicines	339 23
Coal oil, hardware, sundries	120 60
Improvements and labor, gravelling approaches, &c.	172 18
Discount on note to Bank	10 85
Building root cellar and sheds	308 50
Digging well, and pump	162 50
Interest on mortgage	240 00
Repairs and alterations under building	210 00
Insurance	40 00
Dry goods, blankets, &c.	74 19
Trees and shrubs planted	26 20
Sundry expenditure	96 41
Total	$4964 24

RECEIPTS.

Cash, balance on hand Jan. 1st, 1877	$142 36
Collected in the Town of Guelph and neighborhood, by the Directors	643 50
Collections taken in the various churches in Guelph	367 31
Government grant for 1877	1000 80
County grant for 1877	600 00
Town of Guelph grant for 1876	600 00
" 1877	800 00
Received from pay patients	200 25
Sale of pigs	33 25
Deficiency of income to meet liabilities of 1877	376 77
Total	$4964 24

The above statement shows that the receipts for the year, which include the grant from the Town for 1876 (not paid until January, 1877), did not meet the expenditure by the sum of $376.77, to provide for which, and some accounts paid since January 1st, 1878, the Directors have had to borrow $500 from the Bank, and so have commenced this year that amount in debt. The Hospital is in excellent order, and in a high state of efficiency, to which the Government Inspector testifies in his Annual Report, all the servants and officials performing their duties to the satisfaction of the Directors. The Hospital, since its institution, has been a great blessing to many unfortunate persons, who have received there the care and medical treatment they could not otherwise obtain, and its benefits have been extended throughout the whole County, as is obvious from the large number of patients treated therein from all parts of the County. From the list appended to this report it will be seen that the number of patients admitted during the year is 125, and of that number 42 have been admitted by the Warden's order. Of the remaining 83, not much more than half belong to the Town of Guelph, many of them belonging to the County or other places, and being in the Town have been sent to the Hospital by local authorities. By referring to the financial statement it will be seen that the Town has contributed $1,800.71 to the support of the Hospital last year; $643 50 subscriptions of individuals; $377 31 collection in churches, and Town Council grant $800. From the consideration of the fact that from the large increase in the number of patients the expenditure of the Hospital has been increased, so that the Directors find themselves in debt $500 at the commencement of the present year, and the great blessing to the County at large in having such a charity in operation within it, the Directors appeal to the liberality of your honorable body to increase the amount of the grant made to them last year, so as to place them in the position of meeting their liabilities, and the increased wants of the institution to aid the necessities of the sick and suffering in our midst.

Murder at Shediac, N.B.

St. John, N.S., Jan. 21.—In August last a Moncton tavern-keeper named Timothy McCarthy left home to go to Prince Edward Island via Shediac. He had a considerable sum of money in his possession. He was seen in Shediac in a house kept by a family named Osborne on the night he left here, but there all trace of him was lost. Search has been made for him in all directions, but without success. A French girl named Pelletier, who was hired in the Osborne House, has now made a statement accusing the Osbornes of murdering McCarthy. She says that McCarthy was first stupified with a powder given him by Mrs. Osborne in a glass of liquor, and that Harry Osborne then struck him on the head with an axe, killing him. Pelletier assisted in putting a stone attached to a rope around his neck, and Harry then drove off and threw him in the river. The Osbornes have been arrested.

The girl has been taken into custody on her own evidence for complicity in the murder.

OUR MANUFACTURES ABROAD.—We are happy to learn that Messrs. Wilkie & Osborn have just received a certificate of first prize and diploma, awarded their "Osborn A" sewing machines at the Intercolonial Exhibition, held in Brisbane, Queensland, Australia, last summer, and that the certificate of merit was accompanied by a large order from an extensive house in that city, and an assurance of a large trade in that colony. It must be very gratifying to these manufacturers to find their foreign trade steadily increasing, and it is with pleasure we notice the fact, which will bring increased employment to the mechanics of the town.

COUNTY PROPERTY.—The members of the Wellington County Council were agreeably surprised on assembling this (Tuesday) afternoon, to find that the Court room had been cleaned and repainted throughout. A healthier atmosphere now pervades the rooms. The work was done under the superintendence of Mr. George Hood, chairman of County Property Committee.

THE LATE REV. J. M. ROGER, M.A., OF PETERBORO'.—The Rev. J. M. Roger, whose death took place at Peterboro' on the evening of the 8th inst., was one of the oldest inhabitants of the town, and one of the oldest ministers of the Presbyterian Church. He went to Peterboro' in 1833, and continued all the time in the same pastoral charge. He was born in September, 1807, in the parish of Kincardine O'Neil, Aberdeenshire, Scotland, of which parish his father was minister. His grandfather by his mother's side had also been minister of the same parish, and ancestors for at least five generations had been in the ministry of the Church of Scotland. He could thus claim something like apostolic descent,

CORRECTION.—Having found that some persons have concluded that WILSON'S WILD CHERRY contains opium (as most medicines prepared for the purpose do) the proprietors take this opportunity of stating that the Wild Cherry contains no trace of this or any other narcotic, and may be given to an infant with the same safety and benefit as to an adult. The tonic effects of the Wild Cherry show themselves in an increased appetite and recuperated strength, and to those whose systems have been reduced by chronic diseases of the Lungs or Bronchial Tubes it is especially recommended. Town Council.

Appointment of Standing Committees.

A meeting of Council was held on Monday evening. Present—His Worship, Geo. Howard, in the chair, Messrs. Elliott, Sleeman, Richard Mitchell, Chase, Day, Roche, Gauhan, Gowdy, Chubb, Hearn, Biscoe, Robert Mitchell, and Dr. McGuire.

A communication was received from John Carver, asking the Council to pay him $95, balance due him on contract for planting trees.

An account of $81 was presented from F. T. Chapman.

J. D. Hutton applied for the assessorship for the current year; Jas. Armstrong also applied for the position.

A petition was presented by Mr. George Sleeman, to be signed by the Mayor, in regard to petitioning the Legislative Assembly to pass an Act for the acquiring of the old burying ground in the town as a public park and pleasure ground.

STANDING COMMITTEES.

Mr. Sleeman, chairman of a special Committee to draft Standing Committees reported as follows:

They recommend that the following gentlemen constitute the Committees:—

Finance and Assessment—Messrs. Elliott, Sleeman, Melvin, Robt. Mitchell.

Streets, Highways, and Bridges—Messrs. Rich. Mitchell, Chubb, Day, Gowdy.

Market and Drill Shed—Messrs. Melvin, Gauhan, Bruce, Robt. Mitchell.

Fire, Water, and Gas—Messrs. Chase, Day, Gowdy, Biscoe.

Relief—Messrs. Hearn, Roche, McGuire, Chubb.

By-law—Messrs. Biscoe, Elliott, Hearn, Sleeman.

License—Messrs. Bruce, Rich. Mitchell, Chubb, Roche.

Railway—Messrs. Gauhan, Chase, Robt. Mitchell, Sleeman.

Walks and Gardens—Messrs. McGuire, Doran, Biscoe, Gauhan.

Printing—Messrs. McGuire, Rich. Mitchell, Roche, Doran.

Park and Exhibition—Messrs. Sleeman, Bruce, Hearn, Gowdy.

Police — Messrs. Chase, Day, Doran, Bruce.

Cemetery—Messrs. Howard and Elliott.

Hospital—Messrs. Howard, Elliott, Melvin.

Moved by Mr. Sleeman, seconded by Mr. Chase, that the report be adopted.

Mr. Gauhan found fault with being kept off the Finance Committee. He was a member of last year's committee and he did not think it right to be so ignominiously kept off—as it were. He was neither ambitious or ostentatious, but a slur was thrown on him, inasmuch as no fault had been found work performed by the last Finance of last year. Two men proposed by the report had been rejected for such a position last year.

Mr. Sleeman thought that the proper place for Mr. Gauhan to have found fault was in committee and he had not done so.

Mr. Gauhan—I did speak of it in Committee.

Mr. Melvin stated that he was of opinion in committee that Mr. Gauhan was satisfied. His (the speaker's) only object in committee was to have such members placed on the various Standing Committees as to have each part of the town fully represented.

Mr. Elliott did not hear Mr. Gauhan make any objection when the motion in regard to the constitution of the Finance Committee was put.

Mr. Gowdy heard Mr. Gauhan remark that he would like to be on Finance Committee, but he did not object when the motion was put.

Mr. Robert Mitchell considered that no objection was raised in Committee.

The report was then adopted.

Moved by Mr. Elliott, seconded by Mr. Gauhan, that leave be granted to introduce a By-law to enable the Council to borrow a sum of money from the Canadian Bank of Commerce on the security of the assessed taxes for 1878.

The mover stated that the matter should be attended to at once.

The motion was carried and the by-law was read a first and second time.

Moved by Messrs. Gauhan and Gowdy, that leave be granted to introduce a by-law to extend Northumberland street to Wilson street, and to authorize the purchase of the intervening land from Mr. F. J. Chadwick.

The by-law was accordingly introduced and read a first and second time.

Messrs. Robt. Mitchell and Melvin moved that leave be granted to introduce a by-law to appoint two assessors and one collector for the town of Guelph.

The by-law was introduced and read a first and second time.

The Clerk announced that he had a by-law prepared for the purpose of indemnifying himself and the Mayor, for the payment of moneys now owing by the town.

The Council went into Committee of the Whole on the By-law for raising money on the taxes for 1878, Mr. Biscoe in the chair.

Mr. Elliott moved that the first blank be filled up with $40,000. Although it was a very large sum he was satisfied that the amount would be required, $30,000 was borrowed last year and it was found insufficient. Although the blank was filled with that sum it was not necessary the whole of the amount should be taken from the bank.

In reply to Mr. Day, Mr. Elliott made further explanations.

The Committee rose and reported the by-law with the blanks filled up.

The By-law for raising $40,000 was read a third time and passed.

Mr. Gauhan moved seconded by Mr. Gowdy, that the By-law for opening up Northumberland street be considered in Committee.

After Mr. Elliott had explained that some $900 had been subscribed, but had not all been paid in, it was agreed to leave the matter over for the present.

On motion the Council went into Committee of the Whole for the appointment of assessors and collector, Mr. Bruce in the chair.

The blanks for assessors was filled up with the names of Jas. Armstrong and J. D. Hutton, on motion of Mr. Biscoe, seconded by Mr. Gauhan; the blank for collector was filled up with the name of Geo. Smith on motion of Mr. Robt. Mitchell, seconded by Mr. Elliott.

Council resumed and the By-law was read a third time and passed.

The petition to the Legislature in regard to acquiring the old burying ground for a public park was ordered to be signed by the Mayor and Clerk, and to be given to Mr. Jas. Massie for presentation on motion of Mr. Sleeman, seconded by Mr. Elliott.

Moved by Mr. Elliott, seconded by Doran, that the Finance Committee take into consideration the advisability of the re arrangement of the Wards and sub-divisions for polling purposes to make them more in conformance with the statute. Carried.

A communication was read from Mr. F. J. Chadwick, stating that in regard to part of lot 121, Wilson street, proposed to be opened as a public street, he had not asked the Council to purchase the same, that he only consented to allow the town to have the advantage of his purchase, on condition that they assume his position with the assignee of the Allan estate. He now declined selling the property to the town, and he required the Council to take notice.

Mr. Melvin hoped Mr. Chadwick would re consider his determination. The Council intended carrying out in good faith the arrangement which had been made with Mr. Chadwick in regard to the property. There was no doubt but what the amount paid by Mr. Chadwick was very small, and he had intimated that he was willing to let the town have the property for the same amount.

Mr. Elliott considered that the reports in regard to the matter should be procured and read.

Mr. Gauhan explained that Mr. Chadwick had never entered into any agreement to sell the property, it being entirely optional with him.

Mr. Gowdy thought the matter should be attended to at once and the By-law put through. Mr. Chadwick had not been rightly used in the matter.

The Mayor explained that the way the matter stood, the first payment on the property was due, as he was making no profit the Council should at once relieve him of responsibility, if they intended purchasing it.

Moved by Mr. Gauhan, seconded by Mr. Elliott, that Mr. Chadwick be asked to defer his intentions of retaining the property referred to till next meeting of Council. Carried.

The Council adjourned.

At a subsequent meeting of Committees the following chairmen were appointed:—

The War News.

Jan. 21.

The Turkish peace plenipotentiaries have telegraphed the Porte, announcing their arrival at Kezanlik on Sunday.

England has proposed that there shall be a Conference of the Powers immediately after the Russian terms are made known. If the Powers decline to take part in such Conference, the Government will then ask Parliament for an extraordinary credit in order to prepare such measures, and take such precautions as may be necessary for the protection of British interests in the East. Queen Victoria has personally interceded with the Czar to spare Turkey.

An Athens despatch says:—The Porte having addressed a note to England complaining of the warlike attitude of Greece, the British Government has transmitted it without comment to the English charge d'affaires here.

The London Telegraph's Constantinople despatch of yesterday says: The Master Agent of the English Relief Fund has just arrived with a train full of refugees from Adrianople, who had been in open cattle trucks three days. Many perished from cold last night. Fifteen were found dead in the trucks. Mothers are reported in their frenzy to have thrown their babes away rather than see them die in their arms. As the train moved from Adrianople numbers tried to cling to the frameworks of the carriages and many tried to ride on the buffers. At one station, where hundreds had congregated without food for two days, men threatened the master with violence if bread was not given. Yesterday there were 15,000 women and children out in the snow at Carlon. It is not known where they will find shelter. Three trains full are hourly expected at Constantinople. The snow is several inches deep, and still falling, and the cold is intense.

A Gallipoli despatch says: A panic prevails in consequence of a report that Russians are between Uzum Kopri and Keshan, ten hours's march hence. Orders have been received from Stamboul to resist any advance. Troops are expected from Smyrna and the Dardanelles.

A St. Petersburg despatch says: An official statement of the Minister of Finance estimates the extraordinary expenses of the war at 452 million roubles. These expenses are not included in the budget recently telegraphed.

A Berlin special says all the old soldiers on furlough in Russian Poland have been called in. This new levy consists exclusively of men over 40 years old.

A Vienna correspondent's telegram from Constantinople states that the Government of Salonia has telegraphed that 3,000 sick and wounded from Suleiman Pasha's army have arrived at Drama.

A Constantinople despatch says:—The Russians have entered Adrianople. The Austrian Consul there telegraphed last night that town was tranquil. No news of the armistice negotiations.

Notice to the Public.

We have for a long time been firmly impressed with the conviction that the long credit system is injurious to business and unjust to creditors, and we have come to the determination to put a stop to it. Our experience is that the practice of extending accounts over a year is a great mistake, is unfair to the creditor and burdensome to the debtor. Were settlements made, say four times a year, instead of once, the amounts would be light, and payments would be comparatively easy, whereas, when accounts run for a year the amounts accumulate, and in many cases it is no easy matter to settle a bill.

We have, therefore, come to resolution to, in future, make out and collect our accounts for advertising and job work quarterly, and we hereby give notice that this rule will, in all cases, be strictly enforced. We believe that its adoption will be of equal benefit to our patrons as to us, and we shall, in no case, make an exception.

We are now sending out our accounts for the past year, and we must insist on the immediate settlement of them in all cases, otherwise we will have to take the usual but unpleasant steps to enforce payment.

The Evening Mercury

TUESDAY EVEN'G, JAN. 22, 1878.

The New Council.

Yesterday the new Council for 1878 commenced its work under very favorable circumstances. From the short experience we have had of it, it is a great improvement on the Council of 1877, and we think will do the work assigned it with credit to itself and profit to the town which they represent.

The inaugural address of the Mayor is eminently practical and characteristic of its author, who during all the years he has represented the town has had a single eye to its material and moral interests.

He squarely faces the financial difficulties in which we are involved, and indicates to the Finance Committee the work before them, which is no light character, but which must be accomplished. The suggestion he makes regarding the payment of money is excellent, and ought to be adopted. Had such a precaution been in operation during the past year, we would not have had the reckless expenditure in the Road and Bridge and Market House Committees which marked their history during the year. It is high time that some check was put to the irresponsible work of our Committees, and this recommendation of the Mayor, if carried out, will answer the purpose admirably.

The question how to deal with the $10,000 debentures yet unsold, the Mayor wisely leaves to the Council. The re-division of the Town into polling divisions is referred to. This matter must be attended to at once, because in the event of a parliamentary election the necessary sub divisions must be made, so as to leave the required number of voters in each sub-division. In order to carry this out one or two new Wards must be formed, and it will be for the Council in its wisdom to make such a judicious re-arrangement of the existing Wards as will give to each new one a fair share in the management of the affairs of the Town.

The question of the incorporation of the Town into a city is wisely left for future consideration, and we think it can well afford to remain among the debateable questions. Far more important than it is the matter of protection from fire, which the Mayor, in his address, dwells on with special emphasis. This is, indeed, a question of the first importance, and it behooves the Council to take it up and deal with it at once. Our fire apparatus is good as far as it goes, but it is insufficient for our requirements, and we must adopt some other means of extinguishing fires than that now in use. This will be an important consideration for the Council, and their deliberations on this subject will greatly interest the ratepayers.

There are other matters in the Mayor's inaugural address which might be touched on, but which we cannot refer to to-day. He has in his admirable address laid out a great deal of work for the Council, and from its complexion we are satisfied that it will take up this work and deal with it in a spirit befitting its importance and its bearing on the interests and well-being of the people of this Town.

THE news that Mr. Jones had been appointed Minister of Militia in place of Mr. Vail, created quite a sensation in Halifax. It checked the rejoicings of the Opposition over Digby, and rallied the Halifax Reformers to more energetic action. The Opposition will make a desperate fight, and as they have everything to gain and not much to lose, they will not be particular as to the means employed.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

TORONTO, Jan. 21.

Prayers having been read by Rev. Mr. Sauson.

Mr. Clarke (Norfolk) introduced a Bill to amend the Pharmacy Act of 1871.

Mr. Bell asked whether it was the intention of the Government to introduce a Bill during the present session for the purpose of amending the present Municipal Laws, with a view of reducing the number of polling subdivisions, as well as to make the election of school trustees take place at the same time, in the same manner, and by the same returning officers, as the election of municipal councils?

Mr. Mowat—It is not the intention of the Government to introduce a Bill during the present session for the purposes mentioned in the question.

Mr. Mowat said that there were none of the Government Orders on the paper that would be gone on with to day, but it might be interesting to the House to know that his hon. friend the Treasurer expected to make his statement on Wednesday, or at the latest on Thursday. The Estimates would be down to-morrow.

CHANCERY SALE OF HOTEL PROPERTY

In Guelph.

PURSUANT to a decree of the Court of Chancery, made in the cause of Mitchell et al., vs. Hogg et al., and bearing date the 23rd day of November, A. D. 1877, there will be sold, with the approbation of J. Watson Hall, Esq., Master of the said Court, at the Market House, in the town of Guelph, on at the hour of half-past one o'clock in the afternoon, that valuable property known as Soden's Hotel property, having a frontage of about 117 feet on Macdonnell street, and depth of 105 feet, and better known and described as lot 109, north side of Macdonnell street, in the Canada Company's survey of the town of Guelph, containing one-quarter of an acre more or less, and on which is erected a two-story rough-cast hotel, with commodious frame stabling, &c.

Saturday 2nd of February, 1878

This property is situated in the centre of the town of Guelph, and produces a rental of $560 per annum and taxes. Immediate possession given, or an arrangement may be made with present tenant to continue under existing lease.

The purchaser at the time of sale will pay a deposit of ten percent. of the purchase money to the Vendor's solicitor, and the balance thereof into the Court, to the credit of the said cause, within one month thereafter. In other respects the conditions of sale are the standing conditions of sale of the Court of Chancery.

Wednesday, Jan. 30th, 1878

At the Wellington Hotel, in the Village of Fergus, at two o'clock p. m., the following freehold property, viz:

All those certain parcels or tracts of land and premises situate, lying and being in the Village of Fergus, in the County of Wellington, and Province of Ontario, being composed of part of lot number sixteen, on the east side of St. Patrick street, and south of St. David street, in Webster's survey, in the said Village of Fergus, a plan of which survey is registered in said county, which said land may be described as the whole of said lot number sixteen, except that part bounded on the south-westerly side by the boundary line between said lot sixteen and lot fourteen, on said St. Patrick street south of St. David street, in said plan, and on the north-east side of said lot sixteen, by the south-east side of St. Patrick street, and on the south-east side by a line drawn parallel to said south-westerly boundary of said lot sixteen, and at the distance of twenty four feet in a north-easterly direction therefrom, and on the easterly side thereof by the easterly boundary of said lot sixteen, said last mentioned boundary being parallel with the south-east side of St. Patrick street:

And also a small triangular portion of lot number nine on St. Andrew street, and south of St. David street, in said plan in said Village of Fergus, which may be described as follows, that is to say: On one side by a line extending from the northerly corner of said lot nine on St Andrew street, south of St. David street, along the boundary line between said lot nine on St. Andrew street, and lot sixteen aforesaid, for a distance of seventeen and three-fifth feet; on the second side by a line extending from the said northerly corner of said lot nine along the boundary line between said lot nine and lot ten, on St. Andrew street aforesaid, for a distance of ten feet, and on the third side by a line joining the ends of the two first mentioned lines, twenty feet, 3 inches more or less, in length.

And also lot number ten situate on the corner of St. Andrew and St. David streets, in the said Village of Fergus, containing one quarter of an acre more or less.

On the above land is situate a large building occupied as stores, and an hotel, with usual outbuildings, now or formerly called the ELGIN HOTEL.

TERMS and conditions will be made known at time of sale, or on application to

I have now working for me a first-class working jeweller, lately from the old country, and can therefore make up for you out of your own gold, if desired, brooches, rings, chains, and settings of all kinds. Rings altered in size without weakening them or showing where the alteration was made. Satisfaction guaranteed in every case. Since engaging a workman to work entirely upon jewellery, I can myself attend to all watch repairs, so that any job required in either lines will be done with as little delay as possible.

HAROLD THE OUTLAW

—OR—

The Gauger of Skene.

CHAPTER XVI.

HAROLD ARRIVES AT THE CAVE, AND HAS AN INTERVIEW WITH BLACK DICK.

"Ha, you have come at last," he said, in his harsh, thick voice.

"Yes, I have come," answered Harold, in a calm tone.

"I looked for you yesterday, along with the others."

"Ay, Kenneth and I preferred to take another road," was the rather evasive reply, for Harold had not made any of his smuggling associates acquainted with his marriage, this being a secret known only to Kenneth and one or two other faithful hands.

There was silence for some moments, during which Dick eyed him askance. The quiet demeanour of the youth puzzled him, for he expected him the moment he appeared to burst forth in angry reproach. Instead of this Harold was perfectly calm and strangely quiet.

"Well," said Dick, at length, "this is a confounded bad business."

"A bad business indeed," assented the other.

"You don't mean to say I'm to blame for it."

"Who else?" asked Harold, turning on him a full and steady look.

"Why, you? Had you followed me up the rock you wouldn't have been taken."

"But what tempted you to commit such a foul deed?"

"Hush, stop; are we alone? are none of the men within hearing?" said Dick, springing up and looking out into the passage. Satisfied that no one was listening to their words, he wheeled round and answered in a low tone—

"What tempted me? To save you of course. I saw that you would be seized unless I did what I did. If you leaped up after me it would have been all right. But you can't say I left you in the lurch, neither. I did the next best thing I could, by getting you out of the jail. I must say, though, it was uncommon handsome of you not to peach. Not one in a thousand would have done it."

"The temptation to do so wasn't very great," responded Harold. "Of course you have heard that Gillespie and Skeat have declared that it was I who fired the shot."

"Yes I've heard it; and I think it a devilish queer thing of them. Can you make out the meaning of it?"

"No, it baffles me."

"The gauger hasn't any particular reason to hate you, has he?"

"I have not the slightest reason to suppose so. To tell you the truth, I accounted for it at first on the supposition that you had bribed him."

"Not I—I'll take any oath you like that I did not."

"It needs not, I know now that the supposition was false, but the knowledge leaves me in utter darkness. The result, however, I shall have bitter cause to feel."

"No, you won't; so long as you keep among the hills you can defy them."

"But I shall be outlawed—deprived of all civil rights—my name will be proscribed, my property forfeited, my inheritance given to another."

"Bah, much need you have to care for that. Your life at home was not so pleasant that you have cause to regret quitting it. Here you'll be your own master, and, if our luck keeps good, you'll make money too."

"Nothing will compensate me for the loss and obloquy I shall incur. What can be worse than the social position of an outlawed felon?"

A fearful scowl passed over Dick's face.

"Perhaps you mean to make yourself right by betraying me," he hissed, his eyes gleaming with passion as he spoke. Speak, is that your game? Will you buy your safety by putting the halter around my neck?"

"If I was capable of doing that, Dick, think you I would have lost the first opportunity? Would I have held my peace before the Sheriff? No, Dick; nothing will bring from me the first avowal of my innocence. I pledge you my word that you are safe so far as I am concerned, and that means that you are safe altogether, for the only persons besides us two who know the truth would now ruin themselves by proclaiming it."

"Yes," growled Dick, "if Gillespie and Skeat were the only two who knew it; but, curse it, there's one more, and I am not safe so long as he is at large"

"One more?" repeated Harold.

"Ay, one more. The old beggar, Daddy Duff, knows it."

"Impossible," exclaimed the youth. "He was not, could not be present at the time. Dick, you do the old man wrong by this suspicion. Daddy Duff is as ignorant of it as the child unborn."

"Then he's an infernal liar, for it was himself that told me."

"He told you?"

"Yes, he did,"

"And from whom did he obtain the knowledge.

"From Wanlass himself."

"From the dead man! Good heavens, Dick, what nonsense is this?"

"The man wasn't dead when he told Daddy. You know they left Wanlass in the house of Corbet's mother?"

"Yes; I saw them carry the dead body in there."

"But it seems he wasn't dead then, though everybody thought so. He came round for half an hour, and was able to tell who it was that shot him."

"Ah! I knew nothing of this. And to whom did he tell it—to Daddy Duff? He must have been in the house then?"

"He was. But it would have been well for him if he hadn't. He'll find the secret a dangerous one."

"Tush, Dick, it will be safe in Daddy's keeping. I'll promise that he'll not reveal it."

"Then you'll promise more than he'll do himself. I wanted to swear him to silence, and he refused."

"Very likely. Daddy, I know, has an objection to oaths; but he'll be faithful for all that. I will get him to promise it, and a promise with him is as binding as the strongest oath that ever was sworn. By the way, Dixon was telling me but now of the blunder you have all made in thinking that Daddy has been playing the spy for Gillespie, and gave him the information which brought him upon the Hill of Fare."

"It looked precious like it," growled Dick. "And if it wasn't him, he knows who it was."

"And means to tell me, I understand."

"He said so, but I believe it was only to gull us. Why couldn't he have come out with it at once?"

"I cannot tell; but I have no doubt Daddy had his reason for it. However, we shall have him here, and quickly learn it. Hillos, M'Fad, are you there?" he called out, bending forward into the passage to let his voice be heard in the larger cavern.

"Ay, I am here, Maister Harold," came the prompt reply.

"Ask Dixon to bring in Daddy Duff."

"I'll dae that," was the next equally response, and a footstep was heard passing away into the distance of the winding outer passage.

Dick sat down on the couch to await with eagerness the coming of the mendicant, every passion in his ferocious nature panting to know who was the traitor, that vengeance might be taken upon him.

Harold was less outwardly excited, but inwardly far more deeply moved. A feeling less bitter and hopeless had come into his bosom, for the first gleam of comfort had found its way there. Till now he had looked upon himself not only as wronged and abandoned by man but even forsaken of God, who seemed to have made no provision for his innocence being disclosed. But in thinking this he found that he had "charged God foolishly," for Providence had provided a witness of his innocence in a very wonderful and solemn way, and the repository of that testimony was one in whom he had unbounded confidence—even Daddy Duff. A strong feeling of gladness came upon him at the thought of Daddy being aware of his innocence. He felt that he could bear his burden now with almost complete equanimity, since the belief in his guilt was not universal. How solacing and strength-giving to the trial-sustaining spirit is the possibility of true human sympathy.

Harold was recalled from his soothing reflections by returning footsteps, and presently Dixon appeared at the entrance to the rocky chamber ushering in Daddy Duff.

SAUGEEN MUTUAL.—The first annual meeting of the Saugeen Mutual Fire Insurance Company, of Mount Forest, was held on the 19th. The following gentlemen were elected Directors:—Geo. Jackson, Durham; Jas. McMullen, Mount Forest; G. A. Drew, Elora; Sidney Smith, Arthur Township; Calvin C. Green, Arthur Village; A. Meiklejohn, Harriston; Thomas Swan, Mount Forest; F. W. Stevenson, Mt. Forest; James McLuhan, Luther; W. H. Ryan, Normanby; Thos. Smith, Normanby; Wm. Caulfield, Egremont; N. D. McKenzie, Holstein; John Kœnig, Normanby; John Sheppard, Mt. Forest. Mr. F. W. Stevenson was elected President, and Mr. Thos. Swan, Vice-President. Mr. Wm. Balfour, succeeds Mr. Geo. Bennie as Managing Secretary.

MOUNT FOREST.—A fire which started in the loft of Messrs T. & J. Ryan's blacksmith shop was quenched before getting much headway.——The last cattle fair was largely attended. The cattle were generally in first-class order; but prices were not any better than those quoted last month. ——A brass band has been organized in the Village, and the inhabitants are happy. Already $145 have been subscribed for the purchase of instruments.

HALTON.—President, A. McGibson; first vice-president, Thos. Boak; second vice-president, Joseph Brothers. Directors for the township of Trafalgar, G. Coyne, A. Aiken; Esquesing, C. F. Preston, G. Tolton, J. B. Bessey; Nassagaweya, J. McPhederan, Duncan Robertson; Nelson, G. W. Pettitt, E. Corlet. Auditors, F. McCallum, J. Harrison. Delegates, H. M. Switzer, J. B. Bessey. Secretary-Treasurer, W. C. Beaty.

Charlie Ross has again turned up. This time at Demarara.

It is calculated that it will take $1,000 per month to heat the new Montreal City Hall building and keep it in order. A fourth of that sum was sufficient in the old hall.

The churchyard trouble has reached British Guinea. The child of a workingman in Georgetown, who had been baptized by a Wesleyan minister, was refused burial by the Archdeacon. For attempting to bring the body into the graveyard, the father was arrested.

The emigrating instinct of John Chinaman, suppressed so long and developed recently with such remarkable force has at last found a welcome response. Kicked, cuffed and despised, both in California and Australia, the Chinese are welcomed in Peru. There are now 60,000 of them in that country, and the Government have engaged steamers to bring more. They intermarry, it is said, with the lower classes of whites, and are accorded the full rights of citizenship. The two races agree and get along comfortably.

EPPS'S COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provide our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage wich may save us many heavy doctor's bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. VISIT OF A PERSIAN PRIEST.—The Hamilton correspondent of the Globe says:—On Monday morning the Rev. Monsignor Lazar Ciuciaga, Roman Catholic arch-priest, of Ormmia, in Persia, celebrated High Mass in the Chaldaic tongue. Monsignor Ciucciaga is a convert from Nestorianism, and made submission to the Roman Catholic Church at Rome about one year ago, his whole congregation being converted with him. The Nestorian sect was founded about the fifth century, the principal tenets of which are that Christ held two persons, one God and the other man; that the Virgin Mary was the mother of the man and not of the God; that though they had no belief in purgatory they offered prayers for the dead; and that while not believing in the doctrine of Transubstantiation, they believed in the real presence. The rev. father's mission to the city is to raise funds for the erection of a church. He speaks the Chaldaic and French languages, but very little English. The Monsignor is accompanied by a deacon and the peculiar dress, which is almost the same as that worn in the time of our Saviour, is remarkable.

Another Silver Medal
TO THE
BELL ORGAN
At the Centennial.

THE UNDERSIGNED RECEIVED A Silver Medal at the Centennial Exhibition, this being the HIGHEST AWARD to Canadian Organ. Other medals for organs merely bronze. None of our organs had over four sets of reeds. Several other Canadian makers had instruments with from seven to twelve sets. The bronze medal organ had twelve sets.

At the Western Fair for 1876, our London agent exhibited only his ordinary stock, and with our Five Stop Organ took First Prize over all competitors.

A five years' guarantee accompanies each organ. This from a well established firm likely to continue in business is worth considerable. For Price List, address

Authorized Capital—$5,000,000.

THE Company's special system of Loans affords to borrowers, and especially to Farmers, the following most important advantages:—
1. The borrower is NOT OBLIGED to repay any part of the principal until the whole term of the Mortgage has run.
2. He has the RIGHT (after the first year) to repay at any time, the whole or any part of the Loan, without prior notice to the Company.
3. No extra charge, bonus or otherwise, is exacted on such repayments.
4. He is requested when making application for the Loan, to state the day on which he wishes interest to be made payable. He thus can stipulate for a date, say after harvest, or at such time as is likely to be most convenient for him.
5. Interest can be made payable once a year—not in advance.
6 On repayment of any part of the principal, interest on such amount immediately ceases.

LECTURE!

On Monday evening, 28th of January, Mr. Poole will deliver his popular Lecture, entitled

"ANGLO-ISRAEL"

or "The British Nation the Lost Tribes of Israel."

This lecture has been given five times in Toronto, three times in the City of Hamilton, and twice in the City Hall, London. The London Free Press says:—The Hall was filled to repletion. It was one of the most instructive and entertaining lectures ever delivered in the City Hall. The London Herald says:—"The lecture was one of the most instructive and interesting that has been delivered in the city for many a day." A Belleville paper says:—"The lecture by the Rev. W. H. Poole on "Anglo-Israel," in the Bridge-St. Church, was one of the richest, raciest and most instructive ever delivered to a Belleville audience. History, sacred and profane, geography, and the natural westward drift of Empire, were made to illumine each other in a manner truly fascinating.
Mr. Poole illustrates his lecture by maps and charts.
