VOL. II.

TORONTO, MARCH, 1895.

No. 1.

PUBLISHER'S NOTICE.

With the present issue this journal enters upon its second year. During the past twelve months we have received the support, both moral and financial, of the large proportion of the legal profession. This is evidenced by the large number of practising lawyers whose cards appear in this issue, and who comprise a portion only of our subscribers.

We believe that the support we have received has been due to our having exceeded the promises made when we issued our prospectus a year ago, and we intend that our course in the future shall not differ from our course in the past.

Please note that this journal is published quarterly only, but that, in addition to the journal itself, supplements will be issued as heretofore, at irregular intervals, when occasion may require. During the past year five such supplements were sent to subscribers.

DIVISION COURTS.

In this number are published the sittings of a few Division Courts, the complete dates of which were not fixed at the time the last number of this journal was issued.

On page 5 will be found a table of all fees payable in Division Courts to clerks, bailiffs, witnesses and appraisers, carefully revised.

At the request of a number of subscribers, we also publish the territorial limits of every Division Court in the Province. A few of these were published during the past year at odd times, but the list as now given is complete and in alphabetical order.
