To Put on Flesh And Increase Weight

A Physician's Advice
Most thin people eat from four to six pounds of good solid fat-making food every day and still do not increase in weight one ounce, while on the other hand many of the plump, chunky folks eat very lightly and keep gaining all the time. It's all a matter of the nature of the individual. It isn't Nature's way at all.

2-Cent Box FREE

Thousands have done away with their thinness, gained strength, health and vitality by using Sargol. It is a scientific preparation of the most effective and powerful flesh-building elements known to chemistry. It is absolutely harmless, yet wonderfully effective, and a single tablet eaten with each meal often has the effect of increasing the weight of a thin man or woman from three to five pounds a week. Sargol is sold by good druggists everywhere on a positive guarantee of every increase in weight.

BRITISH WARSHIPS ASSISTED IN DRIVING GERMANS INLAND

Belgian Coast Towns Heavily Bombarded — Seventy Thousand German Prisoners Taken — Allies Continue Successful From the Coast to St. Mihiel — Russians' Big Victory.

10,000 German marines and a number of machine guns are being rushed south to strengthen the invaders' line in Belgium. Two 17-inch howitzers which arrived at Antwerp from Liege have also gone south, with their gun crews.

West of Craonne and in the vicinity of Souain the Kaiser's commanders today threw forward masses of fresh troops to test the French lines. They met with a stubborn resistance and failed to gain ground. The chief significance of this action is the apparent effort of the Germans to resume the offensive in that quarter.

Armentieres was again under fire today, with both sides striving ineffectually to gain an advantage.

GAINS AROUND LILLE.

The chief success of the allies as the result of Thursday's operations were perceptible gains around Lille. It is claimed that a wedge has been driven into the Germans at a point thirteen miles north of the town, and that a distance of two miles was gained on the east of Lille. This eastern advance is the first of any moment since the action around Lille assumed much importance, and has caused great jubilation among the allied commanders. The tactics at this point are directed toward isolation of the city.

From Roye to Arras considerable fighting took place this morning, but without special significance, further than a very successful artillery exchange near Roye, where French 75-millimetre guns silenced several German batteries.

The flanking operation of the French to the east of St. Mihiel, held by the German crown prince's troops, was met today by a stubborn counter attack on the part of the Germans. This attack was repulsed several times, and the efforts of the French to secure control of all highways running to Metz is progressing very nicely. The armies of the republic are hammering steadily at Etain, and it would seem that the town cannot hold out much longer. The French have a secure foothold on the right bank of the Meuse, and are displaying the most brilliant spirit in pushing the advantage gained a few days since. It is declared that French tactics in this quarter have excited the admiration of their British allies in the highest degree.

SHOT BY HIS OWN MEN.

A message from Berlin says that Prince Maximilian of Hesse, whose body was found near Hazebrouck yesterday, was cut off while leading a detachment of Hussars. Some mystery surrounds his death. He was only partly clad when found, and had five pistol bullet wounds in his body. One report alleges that he was shot by his own troops.

The French War Office issued the following communique this afternoon: "On our left wing German forces in considerable strength have continued their violent attacks, particularly in the vicinity of Dixmude, Warneton, Armentieres, Radingham and La Bassee, but the positions occupied by the allies have been maintained.

"On the rest of the front the enemy has delivered only partial attacks. These all have been repulsed, particularly at Fricourt, to the east of Albert; on the plateau to the west of Craonne; in the region of Souain, in the Argonne district; at Four de Paris, southwest of Varennes; in the region of Malancourt, in de Woevre district; in the direction of Champlon, and at a point southeast of St. Mihiel, in the forest of Ailly.

MORE SLIGHT PROGRESS.

"We have made slight progress in the Argonne district, and in the southern part of the Woevre, in the forest of Mortmare.

"The forward movement of the Russian forces has been positively announced. An important success in the region of Warsaw has driven back the enemy more than thirteen kilometres. The advances of the Russians at Ivangorod and to the south of Przemysl are equally perceptible."

There is nothing new on the situation around Verdun, Belfort and Metz.

"VICTORY IS TO THE ALLIES."

The Amsterdam Nieuws Vandendag reports the receipt of a despatch from the burgomaster of Wenduype (West Flanders), which tells of a great disaster to the Germans. The burgomaster says: "Victory is to the allies. Seventy thousand Germans have been taken prisoners between Chalons and Longwy, 300 guns and 31 flags captured."

ALLIES' BOMBARDMENT DEADLY.

The Telegraaf's Sluis correspondent reports that the bombardment of Ostend and Nieuport is becoming still heavier.

"The shells of the allies," the correspondent says, "are raining down upon the Germans and causing terrible destruction. The battlefields are covered with bodies, but fresh German troops continue to arrive. Since morning the Germans have retreated slightly.

"A French squadron is supporting the English warships, which can only be reached with difficulty by the German gunners.

"The German cavalry is useless, and the men and horses alike are being mown down.

"The allies' positions are strongly fortified by inundations of territory and entrenchments. The allies, in addition to Ostend and Nieuport, are also firing in the direction of Jabbeek, about seven miles southwest of Bruges, in order to destroy the railway line between Ostend and Bruges.

All the Ostend hotels are filled with wounded.

GERMANS ABANDON MUNITIONS.

A despatch to Reuter's Telegram Company from Rome says that further official despatches from Petrograd state that the Germans, who are being pursued along the Pilnitz River, have left behind, usually in trenches, arms, ammunition and provisions.

A late despatch from Amsterdam says: "The furious bombardment between Ostend and Nieuport continues. The Germans are firing from Mariakerke and Middelkerke, the French from Nieuport, and the English from their warships. English aviators directed the fire of the allies on the German positions. The French and Belgians are persistently resisting the efforts of the Germans to cross the River Yser. The dykes of the river have been cut."

This message contains highly important information, in that Nieuport was last reported held by the Germans, and if the French are firing from that town it has been retaken by the allies. Also, it would seem that French reinforcements have come to the aid of the Belgians on the Yser River lines. If the dykes of that stream have been opened, the Germans find themselves facing a very serious obstacle to further operations.

BRITISH TORPEDO BOAT DISABLED?

An official announcement issued tonight from chief headquarters in Berlin says: "On the Yser Canal heavy fighting is still in progress. The enemy was reinforced by artillery fire from the sea at a point to the northwest of Nieuport, but in the engagement a British torpedo boat was put out of action by our artillery.

"Fighting continues to the west of Lille, and here also our troops have assumed the offensive and have repulsed the enemy at several points. The English have lost several machine guns.

"No decision has yet been reached in the eastern theatre of war."

WARSHIPS DESTROY SUBMARINE BASE

Located on Shetland Islands — Hidden German Wireless Plant Reported.

Canadian Press Despatch. LONDON, Oct. 14.—British war vessels discovered, raided, and destroyed, a German submarine base in one of the uninhabited rocks of the Shetland Islands, in the North Sea, according to a report from Scotland. It is said that there is a large stock of oil, battery plates and extra torpedoes stored for the use of submarines striking at the North Sea fleet.

Another report concerns a German wireless station near Loch Lomond. It is said to be a sending station, which is as difficult to discover as a receiving station, with its poles and wire antennae, is easy to locate. Messengers have been intercepted constantly, but all efforts to find the apparatus have failed, so rumor runs. Some shipping men believe a story that the Oceanic was struck by a torpedo from a submarine and ran upon the rocks of the Scottish coast to save the crew.

Special Direct Copyrighted Cable to The Toronto World. ROME, Oct. 22.—A despatch to The Corriere Heras today, from Petrograd, states that the Austro-German forces have been compelled to retreat 18 miles to the westward. The battle has been renewed on the River Vistula with extreme violence.

TOO MANY GRENADIERS ANXIOUS FOR SERVICE

Two Hundred Volunteered Last Night, and Eighteen Officers — Home Guard Paraded.

More than 200 men of the Royal Grenadiers stayed after parade last night and gave in their names as volunteers for active service. Only 120 men are wanted, however, and the selection will be made by the captains of companies. Men who have seen active service will be given preference.

Lieut.-Col. Brock, officer commanding the Royal Grenadiers, has volunteered, also two other senior officers, Major H. B. Kingsmill and Major Porter, and 15 lieutenants, of whom four will be selected.

Keen disappointment is felt by the mounted troops because of the delay in calling for them to serve in Europe, and it is felt that the men who are in training will grow restive under the delay.

General Lessard will probably go to the camp at Aurora and address the men. The Home Guards presented an inspiring sight as they marched down Yonge street last night, numbering more than 1140 strong, with the band of 40 instruments playing "The Maple Leaf" and

"It's a Long Long Way to Tipperary." A machine gun section and signaling squad were also on parade, and the men, bearing their arms, saluted Col. Stewart as he stood and reviewed the long line of march which passed the doors of the Wellington street armories.

Another batch of recruits left Toronto last evening for Kingston, where they will go in training along with the Canadian Royal Horse Artillery. It is expected that all names for overseas service will be in the hands of the officer commanding this district by next week, and the real work of mobilization at Exhibition Park will commence.

A rifle club in connection with the Evanston Settlement was formed last night. The officers selected were: President, J. H. Oldham; captain, J. Dell; secretary, J. Bagnall; and treasurer, J. Amos. The club will practice every Wednesday.

Dreams Are Mathematical Workings of the Mind

By Dr. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG
A.B., M.A., M.D. (Johns Hopkins).

DREAMS, says Dr. J. Mortimer Granville, "are night thoughts, unchecked by the judgment and uncontrolled by the will." To say, however, that dreams are but in tritides which fancy makes when reason sleeps is not true, because reason, logic and intelligence are as keen, if not keener, in dream states as in waking states.

It is also an error to say that life is twofold, with a world of dreams and a world of wakefulness, boundaries of existence and unconsciousness. The truth is that consciousness is bigger and broader in dreams than in wakefulness.

Nay, even the will and the judgment actually play an important part in dreams. The distinction is that it is the judgment of whims and moments, but of the whole life. The houses of memory are ransacked and phantasms of real things, which went unnoticed in the light of day, are pronounced and prominent in dreams.

We dream multitudes and myriads of dreams every time we sleep. The degree of recollection, our power to piece these dreams together after we awake, depends more or less on the depth of our sleep and the vividness of the dream. The more deeply we sleep, the less able we are to recall what we dreamed.

Dreams are not the children of idle brains begot of nothing. On the contrary, they are a thin substance light as air, but more constant, the upgrowth of a busy, active intellect. It is also a fallacy to say that a great dreamer is in ill health without all this write about him by day.

True enough, most irritations of the skin, the linings of the tissues, the closing or disorder of any organ, all tend to produce those distressing dreams called nightmares, deliriums, night terrors and sleep-walking. Such "dreams" however, are more muscular than intellectual.

A dream dissected will be found to be composed of hopes, disappointments, logic, precise pictures of past events, compound fancies, wilful acts, impossible fancies and new discoveries, which are not only possible, but soon to be made practical.

Past experience, recent experiments and present experiments are interwoven by the needle of Morpheus into a texture which combines and forecasts sometimes with amazing precision. Thus superstitious persons fall into the error of thinking that dreams are divine prophecies. They are merely the mathematical workings of the mind, which is at times more alert to the dangers round about than the senses are apt to be by day.

A Bride's Own Story

By Isobel Brands

SOME KITCHEN TOOLS, CHOOSING AND USING.

GREAT joy! Today Aunt Juliette and I went shopping for my very own kitchen things. "Goodness!" said, as we entered the big furnishing department, "I'd love to buy every blessed new pan and beater I see."

"If you do," cautioned Aunt Juliette, "you'll be like lots of other women I know who are forever buying cute little kitchen tools that they use once and then break or find no occasion to use again. Consequently they never have enough money to buy a real labor or fuel-saver like a wheel trap or fireless cooker or other equipment costing more than a few cents. I've made it a practice to economize myself about each tool before I buy it: 1—How often do I need this tool? 2—Will it save me time or labor or money? 3—Is it easier to use than my present tool? 4—Is it well constructed and good looking? Those questions have thrown a wet blanket over a lot of the casual buying I used to do in the beginning."

I had been a bit disappointed when we started out because aunt had said that we would buy only a few kitchen articles instead of getting everything at once as I had hoped, but I would have been staggered if I had to select one out of the hundreds of varieties shown. We had worked over the list of needed tools for several days past, and had decided on just what I ought to have.

First, we divided it up according to (1) preparing tools; (2) serving tools; (3) cooking utensils and equipment; (4) dish-washing utensils and tools. Today we bought only the "knife family," because I know now how to handle and take care of knives. None of my knives shall be thrust into table drawers to blunt their edges against each other. I bought only the "knife family" in which each knife can be hung and its precious edge protected. In fact, every tool I'm buying has some way of being hung and is in the list of preparing tools which we shall buy before we select pots and pans and other things.

PREPARING TOOLS.

- The Knife Family.
 - One large butcher knife.
 - One small butcher knife.
 - One vegetable paring knife.
 - One curved blade fruit knife.
 - One spatula.
 - One serrated bread-knife.
 - One pancake turner.
 - One apple corer.
 - One pair scissors.
 - One pineapple snip.
 - One can-opener.
 - One corkscrew.
 - One meat chopper.
 - One four-sided grater.
 - One egg-beater and cream whip.
 - One flour sifter.
 - One each 5, 6 and 8-inch mixing bowls (earthenware).
 - Two large wooden spoons.

Tools.

- One large iron cooking spoon.
- One long-handled cooking fork.
- One ladle.
- One wire potato masher.
- One three-meal sieve and colander.
- Other Tools.
 - Two half-pint measuring cups.
 - One graduated quart measure.
 - One small funnel.
 - One glass rolling pin.
 - One pastry board.
 - One meat and vegetable board.
 - One glass lemon squeezer.
 - One standard tablespoon and tea-spoon.
 - Two vegetable scrub brushes.

Aunt is determined that every one of these 28 articles I buy shall be well made, so that I shan't have to duplicate broken tools for an age. I saw some dear little combination tools, where part of one tool is a corkscrew, another is a fruit knife, and perhaps five or six other useful attachments, but that dear martinet won't let me touch them. She says a good tool has only one good use, and that "five-in-one" tools are always a poor choice.

Almost every seat in Margaret Eaton Hall was filled yesterday afternoon when the Women's Liberal Club held their open meeting for the season. Mrs. G. G. S. Mrs. Willoughby Cummings gave a very interesting talk on her trip to Valcartier. ALL DAY BAZAAR HELD BY HEATHER CHAPTER

Columbus Hall Gaily Decorated for I. O. D. E. Event—Tea and Fortunes.

Columbus Hall—abuzz with lights and glorious hued tissue decorations, women and girls in dazzling white and gossamer in gaily-decked costumes—saw the achievement of one more success in the cause of patriotic service, when the annual Heather Chapter, I.O. D.E. bazaar drew many hundreds to scrutinize the attractive booths.

Mrs. G. B. Baker, organizer and manager of this very successful sale of work, wore a happy smile thruout, and her opinion of proceedings, briefly, was: "Everything and everybody is doing royally." The following women were the conscientious convenors of the booths: Mrs. Hume Blake, Mrs. Blackburn, Mrs. Harold, Ritchie, Mrs. W. Trueman and Miss Arisley, Mrs. Wilkins, Mrs. W. Deas, Miss A. Smith, Mrs. H. Rae, Miss Bengough, Miss A. Fielding, Miss W. Walker and Miss Gladys Norris. Mrs. H. Stone was in charge of the palmistry room and Mrs. Eretton P. Hall was the head of the exceedingly well-conducted tea rooms, thronged from noon till a late hour. The young girls who served were adepts.

Heather sheafs adorned the pillars of every booth, and the color scheme was effective in green with yellow, pink and helio combinations. Mrs. John Curtis had charge of this department. A delightful musical program, furnished by the Junior Symphony Orchestra, under the leadership of Mr. Hachborn, was a special feature of the evening's enjoyment.

FRIDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 23.

Export of Hydro-Electric Power to Detroit.

In another column we publish, without prejudice, a letter from Mr. James Hunter Duthie, presently of Detroit, but formerly of Toronto, and expectantly a future Toronto resident. He is well known in connection with public ownership proposals, and was one of the first to take up the advocacy of the hydro-electric power.

We have no doubt of Mr. Duthie's good faith and excellent intentions in writing the letter he has addressed to us, and it is fortunate, also, that the question dealt with is raised by a friend, rather than a foe, of public ownership. Nevertheless, we think Mr. Duthie is mistaken in his view of the situation.

His charge is, briefly, that a syndicate for the exploitation of Ontario hydro-electric power has been organized privately in Detroit, that this syndicate is in a position to make large profits out of the scheme, and that the power should have been placed at the disposal of the City of Detroit for municipal distribution, or the City of Windsor should have been allowed to handle the export of power itself, while, in any case, any profits made out of the disposal of power in Detroit should have been handed over to the hydro-electric system, or to the City of Windsor, instead of enriching private individuals.

This looks reasonable enough until the situation has been studied. In the first place, the carrying of power to Windsor at all was an enterprise which depended entirely upon the sale of a sufficient block of power to make the line carrying it pay expenses. The City of Detroit was not in the market for power on these conditions. Windsor could not guarantee the consumption of enough power to warrant the construction of the line. An Electric Distribution Company, organized in Detroit, undertook to purchase enough power, under conditions satisfactory to the Hydro-Electric Commission, to make the transmission line a paying proposal.

Mr. Duthie, with hostile sentiments towards corporation methods, with which we can sympathize, objects to adding the cost of organizing the company, and other charges of a stock-watering nature, to the price of power, as he thinks this will diminish the consumption, an enlargement of which would benefit, as he thinks, the Ontario municipalities.

This, however, is where we take a different view from Mr. Duthie. The distribution of power in Detroit from the Ontario Commission is an entirely temporary measure. The sources of power in Ontario are limited. We cannot afford permanently to alienate any power to which consumers in Ontario are rightfully entitled, when they claim the privilege of using it.

If the commission had made an agreement with the City of Detroit to supply power to the municipality, the result would have been to build up an interest which could not have been disregarded. Power once supplied to vested interests of this sort would have to be supplied continuously. Besides, Detroit had not asked for power. In fact, a block of 30,000 h.p. in Detroit is no great matter. But to the commission it is of importance as affording the peg upon which the Windsor line could be hung.

The agreement made the return of the power supplied to Detroit a condition of the contract, on one year's notice, for whatever amount was required, except for 7000 h.p., which was to be reserved for international purposes.

Mr. Duthie makes a point of requiring the power to be distributed in Detroit at the lowest possible rates. But this is a point about which the commission is entirely unconcerned. The amount of power to be distributed is limited, so there can be no object in increasing the consumption beyond the demand.

And still more important, to supply power in Detroit at the lowest possible rates would be to defeat the very object for which the line has been built, which is to build up a manufacturing interest in Windsor. If the Ontario Commission undertakes to sell cheap power in Detroit in direct competition with Windsor, there is little strength in the plea that the commission is trying to build up Windsor or other neighboring Ontario municipalities.

We understand that the cost of the power to the Detroit company includes all overhead charges and an extra percentage of the line charges, all of which will benefit Windsor especially, and, of course, all the other places on the lines west of Dundas.

Under the circumstances of international restriction, we believe the Hydro-Electric Commission has done the very best thing that could have been done to carry out the intention of the municipalities, and give Ontario people the widest benefit from Niagara power. Sir Adam Beck and his colleagues have been able to arrange to sell power, but not for permanent export, at rates which are satisfactory to the purchasers, and advantageous to all who participate in the use of power from the Ontario Commission.

Wholesale and Retail Prices

A year ago today goods sold on the Toronto market at $9 per hundred-weight and today are selling at $7.50 per cwt. The consumer is still paying 28c to 30c a pound for choice bacon, the highest price since the cost of living became a live topic. Someone is getting a fine rake-off between the price paid the farmer and that charged to the consumer. Is it the packer or the retailer? The World has asked the question on one or two previous occasions. It might also be recalled that, while less than two months ago goods sold on the market as high as $10 per cwt., there has been no corresponding drop in bacon prices.

What About the Fire Department?

There is a good deal of talking going on about the fire department situation. No one seems willing to explode the mine or let the cat out of the bag, or whatever the proper operation is in such cases. Perhaps it is the war and perhaps it is something else. But a decided halt has been called on the reorganization about which so much was said some months ago.

The Bureau of Municipal Research has issued another of its motley messages, and this latest one is about the fire department. It is more apt than any of its predecessors, and simply points out that $250,000 of property has gone up in smoke in Toronto in the first six months of this year.

The fire season will soon be on again, and the figures of the cost of fire fighting and the loss per head annually in Paris, Philadelphia and Toronto is not to be ignored. In Paris, with 20 cents a head cost, the loss in 1910 was 67 cents. In Philadelphia, with a cost of 91 cents a head in 1912; the loss was $1.53. In Toronto in the same year the cost was $1.23 per head and the loss $2.56.

It is highly probable that the aldermen will not face the question so near the elections, and that the matter will be left over until next year. This is the weakness of the aldermen, as well as of the system under which they scramble for votes every December. But it is no help to the people, who lose by the ravages of fire, to know why the aldermen do not improve the situation.

EXPORT OF HYDRO-ELECTRIC TO DETROIT

Brains and money are the essential requisites in the successful launching of a new industry. The promoter who furnishes the brains, and the capitalist who provides the money and takes the risk of loss in floating a new enterprise that is legitimate in character, are entitled to a handsome return from the investment.

The promoter who undertakes to float a get-rich-quick scheme which has nothing to commend it but plausible arguments and an alluring prospectus deserves to hope, and the men who undertake to finance such a project have no one to blame but themselves should their efforts result in failure.

The development of hydro-electric power by the Province of Ontario has excited the cupidity of the latter class of promoters, and an attempt is being made to convert this publicly-owned enterprise into a money-making proposition for a few select individuals. The extension of the hydro-electric lines to Windsor, Ont., has opened the way for its use in the City of Detroit, Mich., which is a large water power, and a syndicate was formed under the name of the Electric Distribution Company for the purpose of securing the right to distribute this power in the City of Detroit. The men composing this syndicate would no doubt strenuously object to being classed as promoters, it being composed of business men living in Detroit and Windsor, but how they were able to convince themselves that it was a legitimate undertaking for their own personal benefit to attempt the exploitation of a publicly-owned enterprise is beyond comprehension, and the only way to account for their action is to attribute it to their anxiety to get some easy money without troubling themselves regarding the moral aspect of the case. The original promoter of the Electric Distribution Company is the product of a loose social morality which is inclined to applaud the man who gets the money irrespective of how it is obtained.

It is customary in connection with schemes of this nature for the promoters to set aside a certain percentage of the stock of the company to cover promotion expenses, which in this instance is understood to have been comparatively heavy, and if the distribution of hydro-electric power in the City of Detroit was handed over to the Electric Distribution Company, the value of the promoter's stock would be added to the cost of production for the power was placed on the market for sale.

Improvement in the art of producing electric light, both in its quality and the cost of production, and the increased demand for electric current for lighting and other purposes, has tended to improve the cost of production, and today the privately-owned plant is in a position to produce power almost, if not quite, as cheaply as hydro-electric power can be landed at Windsor, with the heavy loss in transmission that takes place. This being the case it is necessary that the cost of hydro-electric power be kept at the lowest possible figure if it is to compete successfully with power produced by private enterprise. Any attempt to load the distribution of hydro-electric power with heavy costs to the consumer would increase the price in the Province of Ontario and produce as low as possible would be readily appreciated.

The record of the negotiations between the Hydro-Electric Commission and the Electric Distribution Company has not been made public, but the following statement emanating from Mr. J. F. Land, who is interested in the Detroit company, and published in the latter News, would indicate that the question has been under the consideration of the Hydro-Electric Commission. Mr. Land's statement years ago had a light of three lines: "We have had a fight of three months in the latter part of the year, and the result was a compromise. The Ontario Government, but we are retaining the support which makes the consummation of our plans seem certain. We have had to deal with the Hydro-Electric Commission, which is the Ontario Government."

It is generally understood that the members of the Hydro-Electric Commission were informed that the Electric Distribution Company was in a position to secure from the Government of the United States certain privileges covering the importation of hydro-electric power that would not be granted to others, but the members of the Hydro-Electric Commission should have known that such a statement was not worthy of credence. It is an absolute certainty that the Washington Government would not give to any group of promoters privi-

Manager of Cleveland System Said He Had Seen No Overcrowding.

CROSS TOWN LINES BAD

Breakdowns Would Be More Serious, Ontario Railway Board is Assured.

Street railway experts gathered from several of the larger American cities and reinforced by experts in car construction and the disposition of downtown traffic, summed up their evidence before the adjourned hearing of the Toronto Railway Board in the Ontario Railway Board courtroom yesterday by discounting the report of C. H. Barnes and claiming that the city five passengers in an efficient service, conducted on the most practical cross-town routes which had been suggested. In addition, there was not a word for the proposed system of cross town in an assessor. Altogether, so confident was the company of the strength of its case that its representatives proposed to forego the customary legal argument at the close. The city, however, wishes this opportunity, and on Nov. 4 another hearing will be granted. The unavoidable absence of Mr. Geary necessitated the setting of this date.

George M. Ratcliffe, manager of the Cleveland Railway System, called as an expert, created a mild stir when he stated that two days' study of the city failed to show him any crowded cars, and convinced him that Toronto people were enjoying service as good as that of Cleveland and other cities.

Manager E. J. Fleming had opposed the idea of cross-town lines from the outset, he said. With Yonge street as the main artery, a system could only produce endless congestion and a tie up on one of the branches would shorten the line, the better he found the service. The aim of the company was to prove troublesome and were removed. He had studied the matter with an open mind and had brought in the best unprejudiced expert evidence possible.

Lines Too Long. Ratcliffe deprecated the cross-town method. First, it increased congestion; secondly, it was difficult to equalize the traffic on one side of Yonge street being liable to get too much traffic; thirdly, the length of the lines would disorganize the service. "The shorter the line, the quicker the service with a straightened out, this was the phrase he used.

He thought that cross streets also would be thrown out in down-town cars. In Cleveland they had experimented and found that even a 24-inch aisle was not wide enough.

E. H. Ives of Detroit, a man of much experience, urged against the proposed changes in Toronto. His experience with cross lines had shown him that they tied up for a mile very easily. The same was true of Albany, said John Uffler. There his previous commission had called for the public service commission had called for the distribution should be made through the municipalities in order that the consumer may get the benefit of its use at the minimum of cost. The statements of this public opinion would be a betrayal of the interests of the people.

Charles Remelius, superintendent of an Albany car plant, stated that the service would be improved by the proposed changes. Even a 24-inch aisle was not wide enough.

One of Mr. Fleming's statements was that during 18 hours of service it was found that 70 per cent of the seating capacity was occupied. In the whole day more seats than passengers were used, the cars on actual estimate. He hoped the reasonable attitude of the company would be recognized.

"I think the company has made some work out," commented the chairman.

CHURCHES TOO POOR TO SUPPORT MINISTERS

Western Canada Baptists Feel Effects of Real Estate Depression in West.

One hundred Canadian Baptist ministers have recently had to give up the ministry, according to a report received at the Baptist Home Mission office here from Rev. Dr. Spencer of Calgary. They are now taking up their abode in the four western provinces. He attributes this to the mania for land speculation, which for the time being has so impoverished the churches there that they now have to depend on lay preachers.

"The panic which affected those in India when Britain was dragged into the war has been followed by most ardent expressions of loyalty and offers of personal service and material help from high and low of all India."

In another letter, Dr. Campbell states: "An ignorant, credulous excitable populace is always dangerous when there are any scheming, unscrupulous and fanatical agitators to inflame them and at the beginning of the war there was some panic among native bankers, etc., which led to depreciation of government paper and large withdrawals of gold, and there is no saying what might have happened in certain circumstances. But now, all over India, there are expressions of loyalty. For the present all stand together against Germany or any other enemy."

ARE YOU GOING HUNTING THIS FALL?

This is the slogan of thousands of sportsmen the world over, and at this season the question "where to go" has to be solved. To the initiated this is comparatively easy, as it is well known that the "Highlands of Ontario" reached by the Grand Trunk Railway, is the sportsman's paradise. It is as a consequence only a question of deciding which of the various districts of "The Highlands" offers the greatest inducements. Here is the answer: Timagami for moose and other large game. Muskoka Lakes, Lake of Bays, Magalloway River and Georgian Bay districts for deer, etc. Small game and wild fowl are also plentiful in these districts.

Call at Grand Trunk City ticket office, northwest corner King and Yonge streets, for copy of "Haunts of Fish and Game" booklet, containing game laws and all information, or write C. E. Horning, district passenger agent, Union Station, Toronto, Ontario.

Ottawa Hunt Club Abandon Cup Races

OTTAWA, Oct. 21.—The annual meeting of the Ottawa Hunt Club was held at the club house, Bovesville, there was a large attendance of members, and the report of the secretary-treasurer, Capt. W. Y. Denison, showed that the association had had a very good year. The Ottawa Hunt has lost many of its members, who enlisted for service at the front, among these being Capt. Gilmore, who took an active part in all the affairs of the club, Col. Willis O'Connor and many others. It was decided in view of the unsettled state of affairs not to hold any point-to-point races this fall. However, the other well-known members now at the front are Capt. J. W. Sifton and Lieut. Winfield Sifton. Some of Hon. Clifford Sifton's best hunters and jumpers were also placed at the disposal of the Canadian Government. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Hon. Clifford Sifton; master of fox hounds, Dr. R. E. Webster; honorary secretary, Capt. C. M. Edward; honorary treasurer, Capt. W. Y. Denison; executive committee, Lieut.-Col. J. W. Woods, Mr. A. Z. Palmer, Mr. D. O'Connor, Maj. J. F. Cunningham, Mr. W. G. Charlson, Mr. J. L. Garland and Mr. Denis Murphy.

The annual cup races have been called off, the weekly drag hunts will be held as usual. They will take place each Wednesday afternoon, weather permitting.

Billy Hay says: "In this old world every man must raise something. The non-producer is a cosmic misfit—he is worse than dead, for he takes up more room."

"If he doesn't raise a job, or crops, or children, he stands a good fat chance of raising aghem!—the duce."

"But talking about aviation, a Zeppelin has nothing on the way a man's self-respect aviates when he puts on a Semi-ready Tailored Suit or Overcoat. The whipped-out, dejected look is gone, and he says: 'Of course I can do it! What is it?'"

"Down in the Semi-ready Store we believe in good, clean merchandising, and we make the fellows who come in here feel at home in the store."

"We try to render a real Service—and we find it pays."

"We are getting a lot of good desirable business, and we want to add your name to our list of customers—that means to our list of friends."

"The kind of salesman you like to meet and a 'square deal' await your coming."

"The address? Sure! Semi-ready Tailored Clothes, R. J. Tooke Furnishings, 143 Yonge Street, Toronto. W. A. Hay, Manager."

BRUNSWICKS MAKE TEN PIN RECORD

Rolling First Game of Over Eleven Hundred—Beat Old Total by Two.

All Canadian records in the Central Bowling League were broken last night when the Brunswicks, all scratch men, beat the Bohemians, in a grand game of 107 pins, three straight games. Herb. Gillis was high with 689, followed by Capt. Hartmann with 603, Penoyer peering low with 578. MAN'S REAL NEEDS.
According to an authority of some antiquity, now all that a man really needs is a good shirt and a shilling a day. That will seem rather a modest provision in the way of material requirements for a man more advanced age, although it is true that even the modern equivalent of a shilling a day is often hard to obtain.

But as for the other item, the good shirt, there certainly never was a time when this necessary garment could be purchased at a price more reasonable, or of a quality more excellent. At Hickey's, 97 Yonge street, any smart man can have his choice from thousands of soft shirts, attractive in style and pattern, and at very large reductions from former prices.

WEEGHMAN AND TAFT HAVE A CONFERENCE

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Oct. 22.—Charles Weeghman, president of the Chicago Federal League club, held a conference here today with Charles P. Taft, owner of the Chicago National League team. That a possible purchase by Mr. Weeghman of Mr. Taft's interest in the Chicago National League was discussed was admitted, but further than this no announcement was made as to the result of the conference. Mr. Weeghman is reported to have left this city immediately after the conference, presumably for the east, where a meeting of the magnates of the Federal League is to take place tomorrow.

U. OF T. TRACK TEAM.
The Varsity track team left for Montreal yesterday morning to take part in the annual intercollegiate games with McGill, R.M.C. and Queens today. Coach Starford was in charge.

EUROPE'S DEMAND FOR WHEAT LAGS

Prices Declined When It Became Evident Supplies Were Adequate.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—Wheat sagged in price today, influenced by a lull in export demand. The market closed unsettled, 1/8c to 1/4c under last night.

Notwithstanding that wheat in the beginning showed a tendency to rise, sentiment quickly turned to a decline. The fact was soon apparent that the urgency of European buyers had been lessened to a material extent and that purchasing on credit was being held up.

On the decline exporters here took 500,000 bushels of wheat, and did considerable buying at other centres. A moderate rally followed, but the effect was not lasting.

Higher prices for hogs caused provisions to price. Packers were conspicuous buyers of hogs.

TALK OF WIDER MARKET.

Members of the Toronto Stock Exchange met yesterday morning to discuss a larger list for trading. No action was taken.

Thus he was saved. But God knows where he is now. I think he escaped with our father and mother."

REOPENING PLAN READY THIS WEEK

LONDON, Oct. 22.—The stock exchange plan to provide for reopening this week. The committee is now in communication with the government.

BRAZILIAN STRONGER IN LONDON

Advices received in London yesterday from London would indicate a better tendency in Brazilian. It was stronger at 4 1/2% bid. This is due, it is thought, to the rise in exchange.

MONTREAL GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, Oct. 22.—There was a fair demand from foreign buyers for Manitoba spring wheat today, and bids were in line with exporters' views sales of 150,000 bushels were made, but the volume of business was checked owing to the increased scarcity of ocean freight.

Thus he was saved. But God knows where he is now. I think he escaped with our father and mother."

LONDON, Oct. 22.—The stock exchange plan to provide for reopening this week. The committee is now in communication with the government.

BRAZILIAN STRONGER IN LONDON

Advices received in London yesterday from London would indicate a better tendency in Brazilian. It was stronger at 4 1/2% bid. This is due, it is thought, to the rise in exchange.

MONTREAL GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, Oct. 22.—There was a fair demand from foreign buyers for Manitoba spring wheat today, and bids were in line with exporters' views sales of 150,000 bushels were made, but the volume of business was checked owing to the increased scarcity of ocean freight.

SPLENDID RECEPTION GIVEN WAR LOAN

LONDON, Oct. 22.—An issue of £15,000,000 six months' treasury notes was made yesterday. The price was 99 1/2. Bidders received an average of about 30 per cent. of the amount of their application.

MORE OPTIMISTIC NOW.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—A banker who has up to now doubted that the exchange would open before the new year is quoted as having expressed the opinion that November would see considerable business done, and that conditions were much more favorable than when the exchange closed.

ANOTHER DECLINE IN HOGS RECORDED

Prices Fell Quarter to Half a Dollar at Union Stock Yards.

Receipts of live stock at the Union Stock Yards on Thursday were 64 carloads, 2485 calves, 1275 sheep and lambs, and 63 calves.

CATTLE UNIMPROVED

Quotations Weak, Drovers Losing Thousands of Dollars in Past Few Days.

The quality of the fresh arrivals of cattle was no better than what has been on the market all week, and prices unimproved; in fact, there were many bargains for those who bought, especially in the feeder classes.

EUROPE'S DEMAND FOR WHEAT LAGS

Prices Declined When It Became Evident Supplies Were Adequate.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—Wheat sagged in price today, influenced by a lull in export demand. The market closed unsettled, 1/8c to 1/4c under last night.

Notwithstanding that wheat in the beginning showed a tendency to rise, sentiment quickly turned to a decline. The fact was soon apparent that the urgency of European buyers had been lessened to a material extent and that purchasing on credit was being held up.

On the decline exporters here took 500,000 bushels of wheat, and did considerable buying at other centres. A moderate rally followed, but the effect was not lasting.

Higher prices for hogs caused provisions to price. Packers were conspicuous buyers of hogs.
