PEACE DELEGATES WITH IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY SIGN THE DOCUMENT OF DEMOCRACY'S VICTORY

STREET CAR STRIKE STILL AT DEADLOCK

Conciliation Board Will Confer With Commissioner Harris Today.

The conciliation board appointed by the government to inquire into the demands of the Toronto street railwaymen, will meet again at the city hall at ten o'clock this morning, when it is understood the members will see Commissioner R. C. Harris, the manager appointed by the Ontario Railway Board for the time being. It seems that the situation as it affects the conciliation board is not quite clear in view of the altered circumstances.

The conciliation board was set up to settle the dispute between the Toronto Railway Company and its employees, but as the Ontario Railway Board has taken over the road the question now arises, with the company's operation eliminated for the present, whether the conciliation board's commission is not now ended. It is probable that this phase will be discussed with Mr. Harris this morning.

So far as the Ontario Railway Board is concerned, there was nothing fresh to report regarding the street railway strike yesterday. On the question as to whether any new offer would be made to the men today, definite information was not forthcoming. Much is expected from today's session, and it is thought that recommendations will be made before evening that the men be paid a wage of $60 per hour, with an eight-hour working day. It is also stated that in view of the Finance Commissioner Bradshaw's interim report on his examination of the company's books, in which he intimates that the company is not in a position to meet the extra cost of the increase of wages, the commission will suggest, not recommend, that an increase of fares should be adopted.

Discussed by Phone. All day Saturday Judge Barron was in communication with the other members of the conciliation board by telephone.

EVERY WORLD READER CAN ENTER THE RACE

Many More Entries Are Wanted in "Salesmanship Club"—$16,000 in Big Awards—Every Worker Will Be Rewarded.

The first list of entries in The World's "Salesmanship Club" campaign will be announced the latter part of this week. If you have been considering entering the campaign you should send in your entry blank at once, so that your name will appear in the first list.

Considering the unusually large value of the prizes, especially the five grand prizes, the $5,000 home and the four automobiles, there should be a large number of entries.

While a number have already sent in their names, there are not nearly so many as there should be. There have as yet not been a great many entries from outside the city of Toronto, and there are not as many in the city as are wanted. There are many towns and cities in Ontario that are not as yet represented, and any one of them affords great opportunities for wide-awake men and women to secure subscriptions for The World.

Every Worker Rewarded. There is a reward for every worker in this campaign, for every member

ARMED CROOKS INVADE CANADA BREAD COMPANY

Six Desperadoes Tie Employees to Posts, Rob Safe of $3,000 and Decamp in Stolen Car.

Posing as whiskey detectives, six armed robbers entered the stables of the Canada Bread Company, 180 Avenue road, shortly before midnight Saturday and tying five employees of the bakery to posts, proceeded to the front offices in the building, blew the safe open and stole nearly $3,000 in cash. The gunmen made a clean getaway and after they had looted the premises they fastened all of the doors leading to the offices from the outside and walking into the stables at the rear of the building boarded one of the company's motor cars and drove a few blocks to the corner of Davenport Road and Hazelton avenue. Here they abandoned the stolen car and from there fled leaving no trace of their present whereabouts.

The holdup men were well acquainted with the layout according to Inspector of Detectives George Guthrie's opinion after he had gone thru the plant on Sunday morning.

Bound With Wire. William Stevenson, Charles Whitefield, 150 Elm street, and George Green, employes of the bakery, were the only ones on the premises Saturday night. They were in the stables which are facing Pears avenue. The six men walked into the stable at 11:30 and introducing themselves as detectives, accused the three men of being whiskey peddlars. The men denied the accusations made against them, with the result that revolvers were aimed at them and they were ordered to go to the wash room on the floor above for further examination. The men, according to their stories, told to the police, were threatened with being shot if they attempted to make any outcry. While three of the gang covered Stevenson, Green and Whitefield, the other three tied their hands behind their backs with bell wire. They were then stood against posts and bound to them with wire and heavy cord.

The door leading from the wash-room was locked and with the aid of a skeleton key, the robbers entered the office. Here they found a large safe standing at one end of the room, facing Avenue road. They piled five sacks of flour around the safe and were prying at the combination handle of the safe with jimnies when

RETURNED SOLDIER KILLED BY AUTO

Roy Hazard, aged 20 years, returned soldier of the Christie Street Orthopaedic Hospital, was so badly injured Saturday night, when a motor car struck a bicycle on which he was riding, that he died Sunday morning in the General Hospital. Hazard, according to the police, was riding his bicycle south on Spadina crescent, when a motor car passing two delivery wagons struck him. Hazard suffered a compound fracture of the right leg and internal injuries. Robert Geddes, 162 Sumach street, driver of the car, was not held by the police. Coroner R. B. Hopkins will open an inquest this afternoon at the morgue.

BRITISH FLAG BURNED IN DUBLIN

He advocated the retention of identity of units that had served in France in the reorganized militia to maintain the traditions built up in the field.

KING GEORGE ISSUES WORD TO PEOPLE

Says Peace Manifests Victory of Ideals and of Freedom and Liberty.

London, June 28.—After news of the signing of peace had been received, the following was issued over King George's signature: "The signing of the treaty of peace will be received with deep thankfulness throughout the British empire. This formal act brings to its concluding stages the terrible war which has devastated Europe and distracted the world. It manifests the victory of ideals, of freedom and of liberty, for which we have made untold sacrifices. 'I share my people's joy and thanksgiving, and earnestly pray that coming years of peace may bring to them every increasing happiness and prosperity.' (Signed) "George R. I."

The King has requested his representatives to convey messages of congratulations to the governments of Uruguay, Peru, Panama, Ecuador, Guatemala, Nicaragua, Honduras, Cuba, Haiti and Liberia. Many thousands of persons assembled before Buckingham Palace, King George, Queen Mary and other members of the royal family appearing on the balcony, while the Guards band played national airs and the crowd sang. The vast mass of people was constantly changing, newcomers replacing those who left. Members of the royal family, after leaving the balcony, reappeared frequently.

GERMANS SIGN PEACE TREATY BUT ARE STILL WITHOUT PALE

No Restoration of Inter-Relations Till National Assembly Ratifies—Impressive Ceremony at Versailles—Germans Say They Would Not Have Signed if They Had Known Status Would Have Been Unchanged.

Versailles, June 28.—World peace was signed and sealed in the historic Hall of Mirrors at Versailles yesterday afternoon, but under circumstances which somewhat dimmed the expectations of those who had worked and fought during the long years of war and months of negotiations for its achievement. The absence of the Chinese delegates, who at the last moment were unable to reconcile themselves to the Shantung settlement, and left the eastern empire outside the formal purview of peace, struck the first discordant note in the assembly. A written protest which General Jan Christian Smuts, allied representative, as shown by their separate exit before the general body of the conference, they never would have signed.

Under the circumstances, the general tone of sentiment in the hall sitting was one rather of relief at the uncontrovertible end of hostilities than of complete and unalloyed satisfaction. The ceremony came to a dramatic close—in fact, reached its highest dramatic point—with the dramatic reception of M. Clemenceau, Mr. Lloyd George and President Wilson by the crowds outside the palace, who ignored or disregarded the minor discords of the day. They tore the three statesmen from their escorts, and almost carried them bodily in their progress thru the chateau grounds, to watch the playing of the fountain—a part of the program which had been planned as a dignified state procession of all the plenipotentiaries.

Ceremony Was Brief. The ceremony of signing the peace terms was brief. President Clemenceau called the session to order in the Hall of Mirrors of the Chateau of Versailles at 2:10 o'clock. The signing began when Dr. Hermann Mueller and Johannes Bell, the German signatories, affixed their names. Herr Mueller signed at 2:12 o'clock, and Herr Bell at 2:13 o'clock. President Wilson, first of the allied delegates, signed a minute later. At 2:45 o'clock the momentous session was concluded. All diplomats and members of their parties wore conventional civilian clothes. There was a marked lack of gold lace and pagantry and few of the fanciful uniforms of the middle ages. A spot of color was made against this sombre background by the French guards. A few selected members of the guard were resplendent in their red-plumed silver helmets and red, white and blue uniforms. As a contrast with the Franco-German peace session of 1871, held in the same hall, there were present today the grizzled French veterans of the Franco-Prussian war. They replaced the Prussian guardsmen of the previous ceremony, and the benchesmen today watched the ceremony with grim satisfaction. The conditions of 1871 were exactly reversed. Today the principles of Bismarck sat in the seats of the lowly, while the white marble statue of Minerva looked on. Overhead, on the frescoed ceiling, were scenes from France's ancient wars. Guard Hussars Formed Wall. One of the picturesque features of the preliminaries to the ceremony was the entry into the hall at one o'clock of a squad of dismounted hussars of the republican guard, giants in stature, who stationed themselves at either end of the space occupied by the plenipotentiaries, forming a wall between the delegates and the spectators. While they contributed much to the picturesqueness of the setting, their presence rendered it almost impossible for those behind them to see much of the proceedings.

British and Americans Brothers in Arms King George Sends Message to Wilson

London, June 28.—King George has sent the following message to President Wilson: "In this glorious year when the long struggle of nations for right, justice and freedom is at last crowned by a triumphant peace, I greet you, Mr. President, and the great American people in the name of the British nation. Trembled in the balance, the American people stretched out the hand of fellowship to those who on this side of the ocean were battling for a righteous cause. Light and hope at once shone brighter in our hearts, and a new day dawned. "Together we have fought to a happy end; together we lay down our arms in proud consciousness of valiant deeds nobly done. "Mr. President, it is on this day one of our happiest thoughts that the American and British people, brothers in arms, will continue forever to be brothers in peace. United before by language, tradition, kinship and ideals, there has now been set upon our fellowship the sacred seal of common sacrifice." King George also sent President Poincare a 300-word telegram of congratulation on the signing of the peace treaty. "On 'this happy day,' the King said, "when our enemy has at last admitted defeat, I beg you to accept warmest congratulations and best wishes." The King recalled the struggles thru which the French and British soldiers had gone side by side and promised hearty co-operation in the work of reconstruction. The message ended: "Great Britain offers sincerest thanks to France and wishes her the fullest success."

WINNIPEG PRISONERS THREATEN A STRIKE

Winnipeg, June 28.—Because they were not allowed out on bail, the five men of European nationality, arrested on charges of sedition in connection with the general strike in Winnipeg, held in Stony Mountain penitentiary, have declared a strike against food. That they intended to do so was rumored on Friday, but the threat did not become a fait accompli until today. The men who are now in the penitentiary are Charitonoff, Almazoff, Berenczuk, Devystof and Blumberg. J. S. Woodsworth of Vancouver, acting editor of The Labor News, who was arrested when that paper was suppressed and charged with sedition, on Saturday was released on $3000 bail. London, June 29.—A peace message from President Wilson to The Daily Mail and The Weekly Dispatch is printed this morning in the latter publication. It follows:

"Many things crowd into the mind to be said about the peace treaty, but the thought that stands out in front of all others is that by the terms of the treaty the greatest possible measure of compensation has been provided for peoples whose homes and lives were wrecked by the storm of war, and security has been given them that the storm shall not arise again. Insofar as we came together to ensure these things, the work of the conference is finished, but in a larger sense its work begins today. In answer to an unmisgiving appeal, the league of nations has been constituted and a covenant has been drawn which shows the way to international understanding and peace. We stand at the crossroads, however, and the way is only pointed out. Those who saw through the travesty of war for mankind must now consecrate their lives to its realization."

Will Be Lifted When Information That She Has Ratified Has Been Received.

Paris, June 29.—The official notification to Germany that the blockade will not be raised until the treaty is ratified by Germany was in the form of a resolution adopted by the council of four and presented to the German delegation before its departure from Berlin. The resolution is as follows: "The superior blockade council is instructed to base its arrangements for rescinding restrictions upon Germany on the assumption that the allied and associated powers will not wait to raise the blockade until the completion of ratification of the treaty at the end of the treaty with Germany, but that it is to be raised immediately upon receipt of information that the treaty of peace has been ratified by Germany."

Conditioning the raising of the blockade upon Germany's ratification of the treaty is regarded in German circles as a sure plan for securing a speedy ratification because of Germany's food and raw material needs. As Russia was practically blockaded as a result of the blockade by the central powers, the opinion is held that when the blockade against them ceases there will be no blockade against Russia. However, Soviet Russia's lack of credit and inability to make financial arrangements is looked upon by financial advisers connected with the conference as a bar to Russia's resumption of trade on a large scale.

Signing of Peace Causes Much Rejoicing in Kingston

Kingston, June 29.—Kingston celebrated the signing of the treaty in a fitting manner. As soon as it was known that the war with Germany was formally at an end, church bells and whistles carried the glad tidings to the citizens, and a wave of rejoicing swept over the city. The following service was immediately arranged and was held in St. George's Cathedral at noon.

W. T. R. Preston Makes Charges Against Conduct of Elections

Special to The Toronto World. St. Catharines, June 29.—In continuing his sensational allegations against the conduct of the elections of December, 1917, among overseas soldiers, W. T. R. Preston charged before a convention of Lincoln county Liberals yesterday afternoon that men were threatened if they voted for the opposition, with being transferred to the trenches. He stated further that he had been told by a woman that letters from her son, who had been killed, would be sent to her from the trenches.

Receives Fatal Head Injuries While in Brantford Elevator

Special to The Toronto World. Brantford, June 29.—With his skull fractured, Fred Oliver, an employee of the Matthews-Blackwell packing plant, passed away at the Brantford General Hospital last night. He was going up in the elevator when a heavy iron bar, being used by men on the floor above, rolled from their grasp and fell down the elevator shaft. Oliver's head was crushed.

Special to The Toronto World. Galt, Ont., June 29.—The contract for the Hugh McCulloch Memorial Nurses' Home, being erected to the memory of the man who for years was actively identified with hospital work by his daughter and son, Mrs. C. A. Schearson, Toronto, and R. O. McCulloch, Galt, has been let to Schultz Bros., Brantford. F. Darlins, Toronto, is the architect.

Hold-Up Near Parry Sound

Parry Sound, June 29.—Two armed bandits robbed the camp of James Ludgate at Pakesley, north of here, last night, stealing at least $2,000 and possibly more. George Knight, the bookkeeper, fired at the men and wounded one of them, but the man was able to accompany his chum, and they chased Mr. Ludgate and others at the point of their guns some distance up the C.P.R. tracks and forced Mr. Knight to accompany them, saying they were going to dispose of him. He escaped, and after spending the night in the open was able to return to the camp.

NETS ROBBERS ABOUT $3000

It is therefore evident that the great powers have not much faith in her signature. It is not in the plan of God, because God is still the ruler of men, and never was that fact more clearly demonstrated than during the late war.

ARMED CROOKS ROB BAKERY

Their attention was attracted by a motor car driving into the driveway. Two Others arrive. They temporarily ceased operations and the two men hurried below to the drive shed. Leo Boag, 528 Manning avenue, and Harry Gilliard, drivers for the Canada Bread, were entering with a car which they were returning to Stevenson who had lent it to them earlier in the evening. Boag was opening the sliding drive shed door when one of the thieves called over to him to come inside. Again the detective was worked and Boag was charged, with being out delivering whiskey. By this time Harry Gilliard, 528 Manning avenue, had driven the car to the door and he, too, was covered by the two men. They were told that the other three men had been arrested and were upstairs waiting to be taken away. They were taken upstairs and also bound to posts. Gilliard called for help and struggled with the marauders when they attempted to fasten his hands behind his back. He was struck and two handkerchiefs were tied over his mouth. With all five men held prisoner with ropes and wires, two of the thugs remained covering them with guns while the others proceeded to "crack" the safe. The combination handle was forced off with the jimmy and a charge of nitro-glycerine inserted in the hole. The explosion of the charge blew half of the right hand side of the door off. The concussion of the blow did not shatter any of the windows nor attract the attention of persons in the vicinity. With the door off, the thieves looted the safe and stole all of the Saturday cash receipts, which amounted to close to $3,000 in silver and bills of all denominations. Examination of the office showed that none of the desks had been ransacked. The vault in the same office compartment was not touched. It contained papers and over $300 in cash which is used to supply the bread drivers with change in the mornings before going out on the delivery. Looked for Employers in. After securing the money the five men withdrew from the office, locked the door and fastened it and the one leading to where the five employees were held prisoners. They then withdrew to the stables below, started a motor car, drove out to Pearsa avenue and escaped. The police were called about 10:30 p.m. and after a search of the premises, they were notified and detectives were despatched in motor cars to the offices. Patrol-Sergeant Egan recovered the firm's stolen car on Davenport road and drove it back to the stables. Left Few Clues. A careful search of the building was made, but nothing found that would form a clue to the identity of the crooks. They left two large "jimmies" lying on the floor near the safe and a coin about the size of a fifty cent piece was found. This bore a device resembling Massachusetts. Inspector of Detectives Guthrie told The World that the men were experienced hands at safe blowing by the manner in which they worked. He is of the opinion that it is the work of a gang from the United States. This theory is substantiated by the statements of some of the men who were held up. They told Detective Young that one of the men spoke with a Yankee accent. Detectives examining the five employees and were satisfied with their stories. "The men told a straightforward story of the affair and we are well satisfied with their actions considering the helpless position they were placed in when they were covered with guns from all angles," said the detective.

Loitering Around. Mr. Bredin, Junior, speaking to The World, said the superintendent of the bakery had complained that three men had been loitering around the premises three days previous to the holdup. On one occasion, he said, the men were hanging around the stables and when the superintendent approached them they asked if a certain man were employed there. An effort was made to ascertain the information asked for, but when the man returned to give it to the two men they had left. It is the belief of Mr. Bredin that these men were implicated in Saturday night's affair and that they were surveying the premises on their previous visits, as this is the only night in the week that the bakers are not at work in the building. The Avenue road building is the head office of the company and main bakery. It is a two-story brick structure facing on Avenue road. "Get Them Yourself." Mark Bredin, president of the Canada Bread Company, interviewed the watchman, George Green, explained that after he had released himself from the post to which he had been tied, he climbed thru the skylight to the roof and called for the police. According to Green's story, as told by Mr. Bredin, the watchman directed his cries to McBride's garage, a short distance on Avenue road from the bakery. Green said that a policeman crossed the street and said, "if there is anyone in the building, get them yourself." Inspector Ben Dillworth of Davenport police station, said last night that he had not heard of any such complaint. He said that he heard that a patrol sergeant and a constable were near the premises while the robbery was taking place but that they had heard no explosion, or cries for help. The president of the company is of the opinion that information regarding the lay out of the premises had been furnished the gang. To bear this statement out, he stated that robbers entering a building in which a vault and safe were situated close by one another, would be most likely to attempt to open the vault, then the safe, and finally the force the safe. CANADA'S CAPITAL WELCOMES PESSOA President-Elect of Brazil Tells of Trade Opportunities Awaiting. Ottawa, June 28.—Friendliest desire for closer commercial, industrial, social and educational relations between his country and Canada were expressed by Dr. Epitacio Pessoa, president-elect of Brazil, who will assume office as chief executive of Brazil's 23,500,000 people upon his return home, in an interview given at Government House Saturday, previous to the luncheon tendered to him by Premier Sir Robert Borden on behalf of the Canadian government at the Country Club Saturday afternoon. President Pessoa arrived from Niagara Falls at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. Luncheon at the Country Club followed a drive around Rockcliffe. The president and his party were entertained Saturday evening at a dinner at Government House, and left via special train at 9 o'clock Sunday morning for Montreal. References in the interview which President Pessoa gave the press were made to Brazil's energetic disposition immediately upon the breaking off of diplomatic relations. Teach Portuguese. The president admitted, in response to a question, that if Canada followed the example of the United States and gave the Portuguese language some place in her school curriculum, it would accelerate the growth of friendly social and educational relations between Brazil and Canada, and a knowledge of Portuguese would give to Canadian exporters, manufacturers and other business men, a still greater field for development in the industrial and commercial relationship of the two countries. Already there are a great many Canadian companies which have established branches in Brazil and Brazil will welcome all others who seek business there, he said. J. PEACE PREACHERS PROVE PESSIMISTS

Representative City Clergy Have Little Faith in Hun Paper.

The signing of the peace terms at Versailles, although apparently coolly received in the city on Saturday, found an outlet for the expression of thankfulness in all the city churches yesterday, where special sermons and music were rendered.

Preaching at Bond Street Congregational Church, Rev. Mr. Milner made the startling statement that there was no international peace in the world. "Man," he declared, "was not at peace with God, with his neighbor, or himself."

The terms are very reasonable to what they would have been had the Frusians conquered," said Archbishop Cody in his address at St. Paul's Anglican Church yesterday. He hoped that the German people would regard this treaty as another "scrap of paper."

Archdeacon Cody expressed his strong belief in the fact that the allies, who had been fighting for a just and righteous cause, had been aided by God when in direct need. The preacher referred to the book recently written by the Marquis de Lattre in which the latter declared that the Germans had all but wiped out the British army in 1914.

The dogged courage of the British was also spoken of by the preacher who said that it had served the world more than once. Dr. Cody endorsed the league of nations, which he said was the only hope of the world in preserving peace.

St. James' Cathedral was packed and special music and prayers were offered by the choir. The prayers were those specially written by the bishop of the diocese. The Te Deum was chanted and the choir sang "All People That on Earth Do Dwell."

Preaching at St. Alban's Cathedral on Peace and New Responsibilities, Rev. Dr. Ribourg spoke on the primal feeling of thankfulness which the news of peace brought.

The feeling of thankfulness was, he said, for the wonderful triumph of right over might, of democracy over autocracy. Moral Liberty Immortal Moral forces like right, justice and liberty, could never be destroyed even by such a catastrophe as had just been passed thru, said Dr. Ribourg. These forces like God were immortal and any attempt of man to prevent their expansion and development was futile.

The world could not go back to the old order, he said, and the world with its new responsibilities could not return to such a world as had existed in the seeds of the recent great tragedy.

STRAY CUR CAUSES CARS TO COLLIDE

Series of Accidents on Hamilton Highway—Heavy Damages Sought.

The Toronto-Hamilton highway was a fertile ground for automobile accidents yesterday afternoon and not less than five crashes occurred between Port Credit and Oakville. A stray canine was responsible for a series of collisions that will cost at least four Toronto motorists approximately five hundred dollars to repair the damage.

It appears that five cars were running very close to each other approaching Long Branch coming toward Toronto. The dog ran in front of the leading car and apparently bewildered by the loudly tooting horns crashed into it.

The dangerous corner of Bloor and Keele streets was the scene of two serious automobile accidents yesterday afternoon. A steep grade on Keele street with little chance to see approaching automobiles either eastward or westward bound on Bloor street was responsible for both accidents which occurred within fifteen minutes of each other.

The second mishap occurred on the opposite corner, a light car, northward bound on Keele street, collided with a roadster which was proceeding east on Bloor. The roadster was completely overturned, and suffered considerable damage.

Two people were injured and four others severely shaken up Sunday night when a radial car on the Kingston road line collided with a motor truck. The truck was wrecked and the car was badly damaged.

The dogged courage of the British was also spoken of by the preacher who said that it had served the world more than once. Dr. Cody endorsed the league of nations, which he said was the only hope of the world in preserving peace.

St. James' Cathedral was packed and special music and prayers were offered by the choir. The prayers were those specially written by the bishop of the diocese. The Te Deum was chanted and the choir sang "All People That on Earth Do Dwell."

There was some dealing on the stock exchange on Saturday in the company's stock, a parcel of shares selling at 48. On June 21 the stock stood at 40 1/2; on June 24 it was down to 38; a week ago there was a sale at 41; last Friday 45 was bid, with no sellers, but Saturday shares changed hands at 48.

A week has passed by and the attitude of the men is as determined as it was a week ago to get the 55 cents an hour as well as the eight-hour day. There are rumors that the men would accept $2 a week, but these are not readily credited.

On the one hand, so it was pointed out by the Ontario railway board had taken the reins out of the hands of the T. S. R. and the position of the board of conciliation has become doubtful since Friday morning and chaos was the order of the day.

A noticeable feature of the strike which was not apparent until yesterday afternoon was the almost deserted appearance of the main outer thoroughfares of the city on both Saturday afternoon and Sunday. A week ago was the first Sunday of the strike.

There was a larger service yesterday afternoon of the better type of cars, which was more expensive, however, unless one was lucky enough to get a trip with a friend at nothing a trip. Such lucky ones were few and far between, usually the family cars were among the jitneys.

Quiet reigned at the Labor Temple, except for the mass meeting of the carpenters. Nearly 40 bicycles outside the building and within the hall bore mute testimony to the influence of the street car strike.

SAY PROFITS ON HOSIERY MAY LEAD TO ENQUIRY

Ottawa, June 29.—G. B. Nicholson, of East Algona, chairman of the cost of living committee of the commons, after learning of the enormous spread on hosiery between the manufacturers' prices and the cost to the consumer, asked Chairman Thomson, of the Canadian Woolen Manufacturers' Association, on Saturday if he did not think that the manufacturers had some responsibility to the public to make known such a spread.

Mr. Nicholson said to the Canadian Press later that he regarded this as a very important point and possibly it may lead to some action.

J. H. Nicholson, superintendent of the William Davies Company, said that the William Davies Company had 85 stores altogether. The turnover of the stores last year was $18,992,711; the gross profits $3,867,597, the charges $2,400,098 and the net profit $467,499. The net profit was 2.46 per cent on the turnover.

SEND THIS TELEGRAM COLLECT

To "Salesmanship" Manager The Toronto World's "Salesmanship Club"

[WORLD BUILDING, TORONTO, ONT.]

You are privileged to go to any telegraph office and send this telegram direct to us. We want you to get started as soon as you can and we stand ready to help you in every way we can. Set the wires burning TODAY.
IT WILL SERVE AS YOUR ENTRY BLANK AND WILL START YOU OFF WITH 5,000 FREE CREDITS

$5,000 Home of Your Own Selection is the First Award

The club member who closes the campaign with the most credits is allowed to select any $5,000 home or farm anywhere and The World will foot the bill. Drive your own bargain, buy the best property that $5,000 cash will purchase and The World writes the cheque in payment.

EVERY ACTIVE WORKER REWARDED

There are no losers in this campaign. Every member who remains active until the close, but who fails to win one of the 91 prizes offered, will be paid a cash commission of 10 per cent. on all subscription money he or she has turned in.

$500 IN CASH EXTRA FOR OUT-OF-CITY MEMBERS

The member outside of the city of Toronto who earns the most credits from start of campaign to July 30 will be given a special Extra Award of $500 IN CASH, as reward for early effort.

THE PLAN IN A NUTSHELL

All that is necessary to do to become a member of the "Salesmanship Club" is to clip out the entry blank, fill it in with your name and address and mail or bring it to the "Salesmanship Club" department of The World. This starts you off with 5,000 credits.

As soon as your entry is received, you are immediately supplied with receipt books, free printed matter and all that is necessary for you to have in order to start work at once.

The office of the "Salesmanship Club" is open every week day, 8.30 a.m. to 9.00 p.m., and members of the Club or anyone interested in knowing more about this big proposition are welcome to call at any time.

After you have enrolled your name as a member of the Club, you should let all of your friends know that you are in the campaign to win one of the big prizes, and that you expect their support in the way of giving you subscriptions to The World.

Credits are obtained by securing paid-in-advance subscriptions to The Toronto World (daily edition), from either old or new subscribers, for any length of time, from three months to two years.

If the entry blank is accompanied by a subscription for any length of time, 15,000 extra credits are given, which, together with the entry blank, makes 20,000 credits besides the regular number allowed for subscriptions. A very nice start in the big prize race.

The advantage of an early start cannot be emphasized too much, for those who enter right now and lose no time in starting an active campaign will have by far the best of it.

Then there are the two $500.00 extra cash prizes which are offered for the best work done up to July 30.

SAW PLAYMATES DROWN BUT AFRAID TO TELL

Little Boy Said Nothing of Fatality Till Next Morning.

A double drowning tragedy that occurred Friday afternoon in the Bay at the foot of Parliament street, was not revealed until Saturday afternoon when two boys, who were with the children drowned, broke the news to their parents, Ernest Smith, 111 Trinity street, and Larry Gutowski, 133 Trinity street, both aged 6 years, were drowned and their bodies were taken from the water by Mate Aykroyd at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. They were identified by the parents of the children at the morgue, where a coroner's inquest will likely be opened Monday.

Friday afternoon the young boys left their homes in the east end, unknown to their parents to play around the waterfront. They were seen in the vicinity of the British Acetone Co. Limited, foot of Trinity street, and according to the police, were sent home. Taking off their shoes and stockings they proceeded to play on some boards in the water which had been made up by the parents of the boys, eight years, living at 341 Gillard place and Joseph Skebi, aged 5 years, of the rear of 24 Eastern avenue, were in the habit of stealing away from home each day to play along the waterfront and they made the raft. The young lads that were drowned were playing on a log, which turned over with them dumping them into the water which was several feet beyond their depth.

Cecil Koleski told his story of the tragedy to Acting Detective Thompson at noon Saturday. He said that when he and Skebi saw their playmates disappear under the water they became frightened and fled to their homes. The drowning children did not scream when they turned over, and they were not seen until they were found by the police. When their missing two children did not return to their homes last evening, the parents notified the police of East Dundas street station and gave them a description of how the children were dressed.

Mr. Koleski told the police that he had warned his boy about going to the waterfront, and on several occasions had thrashed Larry. Fearing that his father would thrash him, Larry said that was the reason he had said nothing of what had happened to his parents. Saturday noon, when the father heard that the children had not been heard from, he asked his wife if she had seen them. She replied that she had, and then told the story. The police were notified and Donaldson communicated with the life-saving station, and along with the Koleski boy, went to the scene of the drowning. Young Koleski was able to show the spot where the little boys had met their death, and with a few minutes of dragging operations Mate Aykroyd recovered the bodies.

DIES FROM EFFECTS OF ALCOHOL POISONING

John Joseph Reilley, aged 33 years, of 346 Markham street, was found dead in bed at 111 Sorauer avenue Saturday afternoon, along with a companion named Leo Muihall, who lives at the Sorauer avenue address. He had been drinking heavily Friday night. They obtained two bottles of whiskey on a doctor's prescription during the day, and the police say they had been drinking heavily. Death is said to have been from alcoholic poisoning. The chief coroner was notified and he ordered an inquest to be held at the morgue.

THE GREAT LAKES

One of the most delightful trips offered for summer vacationists is the one via the Northern Navigation Co.'s steamers plying between Sarnia, South Ste. Marie, Port Arthur and Duluth. The boats of this company, operating in connection with the Grand Trunk Railway System, are the largest passenger steamers on the Great Lakes. They are significantly equipped, and the service afforded is of the best. The route is also a delightful way to reach Western Canada. Ask any agent of the Grand Trunk for illustrated folder giving full particulars, or call or write to C. E. Horning, D. P. A., Toronto, Ont.

PLAYS PICTURES AND MUSIC

'Yes, or No!' at Alexandra.

One of the greatest outstanding successes of the present theatrical year in New York was 'Yes, or No!', the story of a woman's love, which Edward H. Robins and his Players will present for the first time on any stage in Canada next week, commencing Monday evening. This play, which is a comedy-drama, is unique because of the fact that there are really two separate stories told at one and the same time, requiring two complete companies and two stage settings. Seats will be placed on sale Thursday morning at the theatre box office.

The Robins Players. Not in many moons has any play been so well received as 'Blinded', the famous English comedy which Edward H. Robins and his Players presented last week, and which will inaugurate the second big week of night at the Royal Alexandra Theatre. This comedy, which is so well known to the public, is being presented in a special matinee tomorrow (Monday Day), besides which the usual matinees will be given on Wednesday and Saturday.

'Mickey' Remains at the Grand. The photoplay, 'Mickey,' is breaking all records for a film production in Toronto. Commencing with a matinee today is this remarkable screen drama which is a well-connected, successful production—a well-connected story, a fund of good, wholesome comedy, several exciting and sensational scenes, and is portrayed by an exceptionally clever cast. During the engagement at the Grand Opera House, a matinee will be given every day.

Shea's Hippodrome. Commencing with a matinee this afternoon, the management of Shea's Hippodrome presents 'Gambling in Souls' in a picture, the story of which was especially written for the stage, and affords her that opportunity for restrained emotional expression that made her such a universal favorite. The Crescent will head the vaudeville bill in a melange of songs, mirth and music; Noble and 'The' and the name is no misnomer, as they are a one-act comedy sketch, entitled 'Nancy's Law'. Duval and Symonds are specialty artists; the Leightons, singing comedians; Hill and Ackerman, grotesque novelty comedians, and with the Pathe News and a Harold Lloyd comedy complete the bill.

At Loew's This Week

'The New Moon,' featuring Norma Talmadge at Loew's Theatre and Winter Garden this week, is a story of Russia and the fight of its women for their inherent right of personal liberty. It is not a war picture; it is thrilling and timely, absorbing in theme, and of interest to the most blasé film patron. Herbert Brooks, the illusion, card manipulator and prestidigitator, introducing his famous steel chest mystery, headlines the vaudeville, which also embraces such well-known features as Carl McCullough, the musical comedy favorite, offering impressions of stage celebrities; Malcolm and LaMar, dainty misses, in a pianolo and song revue; Stan and Mae LaVra, with new songs and original patter; Whitney's Operatic Dolls, in a novelty act, and the Three Ambassadors, pantomimists and acrobats.

Loew's British-Canadian Weekly

The 'Mutt and Jeff' animated cartoons complete the bill.

Bert Lytell at Regent

This week Bert Lytell is starring at the Regent Theatre in 'The Lion's Den,' a story which is said to be of the finest type for this young and popular actor. It is about a preacher who tried some new methods of getting the congregation interested in church work. The way this is accomplished forms the most interesting narrative. The story was written by Frederick Orin Bartlett, and appeared in the Saturday Evening Post. It gives Mr. Lytell a splendid opportunity to display his many remarkable talents and it is not of the ordinary 'fighting parson' type. The play picture of the triumph of good over evil, the assertion of the better self in a man whose business has been his all. The musical program is particularly attractive in view of the fact that the orchestra will play selections from 'Oh, Look!'

At the Allen Theatre

A modern mystery, melodramatic romance mingled with many thrills, is 'The Crimson Gardenia,' Rex Beach's famous story, pictured and produced by this famous novelist appearing at the Allen this week. Owen Moore (Mary Pickford's husband), comes back to the screen again and is the star with the beautiful Hedda Nova in a fascinating role, as the leading lady. In addition to this big and thrilling feature, 'There's Many a Slip,' a new Christie comedy, Allen gives a new Graphic showing, the latest events of interest, 'Stradella' overture by the incomparable Allen Orchestra, Luigi Romanelli directing, make up the balance of a highly interesting program. Last, but certainly not least, in importance, the Allen for ideal ventilation.

Spring Fever

What Is It? THREE o'clock in the afternoon — and absolutely no 'pep.' You call it spring fever, but is it?

When you are constipated waste matter remains in the intestines, decays, forms poisons which are absorbed into your blood and carried by it to every cell in your body. When your cells are thus poisoned, of course you have no 'pep.' Pills, salts, mineral waters, castor oil, etc., merely force the bowels to act, and make constipation and self-poisoning a habit. Nujol is entirely different from drugs as it does not force or irritate the bowels. Nujol prevents stagnation by softening the food waste and encouraging the intestinal muscles to act naturally, thus removing the cause of constipation and self-poisoning. It is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take. Nujol helps Nature establish easy, thorough bowel evacuation at regular intervals—the healthiest habit in the world. Get a bottle of Nujol from your druggist today and watch your 'pep' come back.

"I Wonder If It Would Help Me"

'NEARLY every place I go I hear someone talking about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. My friends advise me to try it, and yet I never have. "I wonder why. " "Perhaps it is because I have suffered so much from nervous trouble and found so little benefit from the use of medicine. " "But they tell me that the Nerve Food is different. They say that it is not a mere relief from pain, but a restorative treatment, which will build up the depleted nerve cells and make me well and strong again. " "Godness knows I have suffered enough from headaches, sleeplessness, hysteria and dread of the future. I want to get away from all this. " "Why cannot I enjoy life like other people do? Perhaps I have not tried to get well. Perhaps I have been discouraged, and thought there was no use trying. " "Well, I am going to begin trying right now, and Dr. Chase's Nerve Food will have a thorough test in my case. " "The future has been all black to me. I have thought at times that I would lose my mind. But while I have been suffering and worrying others have been cured, and I can now see my mistake. " "If Dr. Chase ever had a faithful patient I shall be one, and believe that his Nerve Food will do for me what it has done for so many thousands of others." # GERMANS SIGN TREATY WITHOUT PALE

At 2 o'clock this afternoon by William Martin of the French foreign office. It was enclosed in a stamped leather case. Premier Clemenceau entered the palace at 2.20 o'clock.

A minute before 3 o'clock fifteen enlisted men from the British, American and French armies entered the hall amid cheering. At 2.50 o'clock all the delegates were seated except the Chinese. The Germans entered the hall at exactly 3 o'clock.

A box of old-fashioned goose quills, sharpened by the expert pen-pointer of the French foreign office, was placed on each of the three tables for the use of those plenipotentiaries who desired to observe the traditional formalities.

Two large chairs of honor were placed for the president of the French senate and chamber of deputies. Additional rows of benches covered with tapestry were arranged for the marshals and generals of the allied armies, guests of honor at the signing.

Premier Clemenceau called the session to order at 3.10 o'clock. The other delegates did not arise when the Germans came into the hall.

The Session Opened. Premier Clemenceau, in opening the session, said: "The session is open. The allied and associated powers, on the one side and the German Reich on the other side have come to an agreement on the conditions of peace. The treaty has been completed, drafted, and the president of the conference has stated in writing that the text that is about to be signed now is identical with the 200 copies that have been delivered to the German delegation. The signatures will be given now, and they amount to a solemn undertaking faithfully and loyally to execute the conditions embodied by this treaty of peace. I now invite the delegates of the German Reich to sign the treaty."

The Germans, who were the first to sign, did so at 3.13 o'clock. The American delegates came next, led by President Wilson. The British followed the Americans. Representatives of the British dominions signed after the British delegates in the following order: For Canada, Charles J. Doherty, the minister of justice; Sir George Foster, minister of trade and commerce; and Arthur L. Sifton, minister of customs; Australia, Premier William M. Hughes; Sir Gilbert Cook, minister for the navy; New Zealand, W. F. Massey, prime minister and minister of labor; Union of South Africa, Premier Louis Botha and Jan Christian Smuts, minister of defence; India, Edwin S. Montagu, secretary for India, and the Maharajah of Bikanir.

Smuts Enters Protest. General Jan Christian Smuts, one of the delegates representing the Union of South Africa, signed the treaty under protest. He objected to certain territorial settlements, making a lengthy statement.

General Smuts said that the indemnities stipulated could not be accepted without grave injuries to the industrial revival of Europe. He declared it would be to the interests of the allied powers to render the stipulations more tolerable and equitable.

In his protest General Smuts declared that there were territorial settlements which he believed would need revision and that the guarantees provided which he hoped would soon be found out of harmony with the new peaceful temper and unarmist state of the world.

Punishments were also foreshadowed, he said, over which a calmer mood might yet prefer to pass the sponge of oblivion.

The protocol was signed by all those who signed the treaty. The Rhine arrangement was signed by the Germans, Americans, Belgians, British and French plenipotentiaries.

At 3.44 o'clock cannon began to boom, announcing the completion of the ceremony of signing. The signatures had not, however, as a matter of fact, been completed, for at that time the smaller nations were still signing in alphabetical order. The proceedings were formally closed at 3.43 o'clock.

Germans Filled Out. The close of the ceremony came so quickly and quietly that it was scarcely noticed until it was all over. Premier Clemenceau arose and in a voice almost lost amid the confusion and hum of conversation which had sprung up while the minor delegates were signing, declared the conference closed, and asked the allied and associated delegates to remain in their places for a few minutes—this to permit the German plenipotentiaries to leave the hall and the building before the general exodus. None arose as they filed out, accompanied by their suite of secretaries and interpreters, just as all the plenipotentiaries had kept their seats when Dr. Mueller and Dr. Bell entered. This was regarded as an answer to the action of Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau in reading his speech seated at the first meeting, but more as an expression of sentiment at the German attitude toward the acceptance of peace.

The only uniforms seen in the long hall were those of a group of allied generals, almost all wearing the flaming scarlet sash of the Legion of Honor, and the ceremonial scarlet arm white garb of the famous French Republican Guard, who were stationed about the hall.

Marshal Foch was among the generals present, but it is safe to say that the entrance of a selected group of 45 common soldiers of the allied armies attracted more attention and comment than did that of the commanders. The unnamed heroes of the war were clad in sober field uniforms of grey and horizon blue.

Among the guests were four wartime French premiers, MM. Viviani, Briand, Ribot and Poincaré were in the French section. The British, American, Italian and the smaller nations sent representative delegations. The most dramatic moment connected with the signing of the peace came unexpectedly and spontaneously with the conclusion of this greatest ceremony in history, when Premier Clemenceau, President Wilson and Premier Lloyd George descended from the Hall of Mirrors to the terrace at the rear of the palace, where thousands of spectators were massed.

A Remarkable Demonstration. With the appearance of the three who have dominated the councils of the allies, there began a most remarkable and unprecedented demonstration with cries of "Vive Clemenceau," "Vive Wilson," "Vive Lloyd George!" Dense crowds swept forward from all parts of the spacious terrace. In an instant the three were surrounded by struggling, cheering masses of people, fighting among themselves for a chance to get near the statesmen.

It had been planned that all the allied delegates would walk across the terrace after signing to see the great fountains play, but none of the great plenipotentiaries got further than the door.

M. Clemenceau, President Wilson, Mr. Lloyd George, were caught in the lifting stream which flowed across the great space and became part of the crowd themselves. Soldiers and body guards struggled vainly to clear the way. The people jostled and struggled for a chance to touch the hands of the leaders of the allies, all the while cheering madly.

Probably the most concerned for their personal safety were the plenipotentiaries. They went forward smilingly, as the crowd yelled, bowing in response to the ovation and here and there reaching out to shake an insistent hand as they passed.

All Versailles in Streets. Many of the soldiers finally threw up their hands in despair and joined the crowds in procession. President Wilson, M. Clemenceau and Mr. Lloyd George were virtually being carried in the arms of the people, and at one time it seemed as though they might be literally swept from their feet to the shoulders of their admirers. The demonstration continued clear across the terrace to the steps which the plenipotentiaries descended toward the lake. Part of the way down they stopped on the embankment to rest, while the crowds eddied about them excitedly.

With the departure of the popular figures the people began to make their way from the palace grounds into town. All Versailles was in the streets to see the delegates leave for Paris. The streets leading to the capital were lined with folk eager to catch a glimpse of the makers of peace.

The credentials of the new German delegates, Dr. Hermann Mueller and Dr. Johannes Bell, were approved by the peace conference authorities during the forenoon and everything was virtually in readiness here at an early hour for the ceremony, set for 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The morning had been cloudy, but shortly before midday the clouds began to break.

Last-minute changes were made in the program to expedite the signing of the treaty. Two additional tables were placed beside the one within the Hall of Mirrors.

One of the new tables had the Rhine convention and the other the interpretations of the treaty. All these documents had to be signed by each plenipotentiary, and the arrangement of the tables thus enabled three persons to be engaged simultaneously in affixing their signatures.

Dr. Mueller, German minister of foreign affairs, and Dr. Bell, minister of colonies, arrived early in the day by automobile from St. Cyr instead of taking the belt line railroad, as did the German delegates who came here to receive the terms of peace May 7.

The scene around the Versailles palace was an animated one from an early hour. As the morning wore on the crowds kept increasing in size, but the vast spaces around the chateau swallowed them up at first. By noon 11 regiments of French cavalry and infantry under command of General Brecard had taken positions along the approaches to the palace, while within the great court on either side solid lines of infantry in horizon blue were drawn up at attention.

Long before the ceremony began a line of gendarmes was thrown across the approaches. While theoretically only persons bearing passes could get filtered into and finally fill the square. Within this square hundreds of fortunate persons had taken up positions at the windows of every wing of the palace.

Arrival of Guests. By 1.30 o'clock flocks of motor cars began to arrive laden with delegates, officials and distinguished guests. The automobiles bearing delegates and secretaries had reserved for their boulevard leading direct to the chateau's court of honor, French soldiers being ranged along the highway on guard of honor was drawn up at both sides. At the end of the court a general of honor was drawn up to present arms as the leading plenipotentiaries passed, this guard comprising brilliant uniform. The entrance for delegates was by the marble stairway to the "queen's apartment" and the hall of peace, giving access thence to the Hall of Mirrors. The walls of these apartments were hung with unique gobelin tapestries.

The route to the peace table for the plenipotentiaries was thru a space reserved for some 400 privileged guests who were instructed to be in their seats well in advance of the entry of the delegates. It had been arranged that the delegations, instead of straggling in without order, as when the original terms of peace were commented by groups, each one being formally announced by ushers from the French foreign office.

Germans Given Separate Route. This formality was not prescribed for the Germans, who were given a separate route of entry, coming thru the park and gaining the marble stairway thru the ground floor. There was thus avoidance of occasion for the guard of honor to render them military honors, these being reserved for the allied representatives. The dismounted guardsmen on the marble stairway and in the queen's apartments, however, were instructed to salute the German plenipotentiaries as they entered the Hall of Mirrors.

An hour before the signing of the treaty those assembled in the hall but their urged to take their seats, but their eagerness to witness the ceremony was so keen that they refused to keep their seats, and crowded to the centre of the hall, which is so long that a good view was impossible from the distance. Even with opera glasses the correspondents and others were unable to observe satisfactorily. The seats were in no way elevated, consequently there was a general scramble for standing room.

No Demonstrations. Secretary Lansing was the first of the distinguished diplomats to arrive. He was followed shortly by Mr. Clemenceau. A few of the spectators rejoiced, or Edman, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. Sample box free if you mention this paper and enclose 25c stamp to pay postage.

strations. The delegates of the minor powers made their way with difficulty thru the crowd to their places at the table. Officers and civilians lined the walls and filled the aisles.

The German correspondents were ushered into the hall shortly before 3 o'clock and were given standing room at the rear of the correspondent's section.

When Premier Lloyd George arrived, many of the delegates sought autographs from the members of the council of four, and they busied themselves signing copies of the official program until the Germans entered the room.

At 3 o'clock a hush fell over the hall and the crowd shouted for the officials who were standing to sit down, so as not to block the view. The delegates showed no surprise at the disorder, which did not cease until all the spectators had either seated themselves or found places against the walls.

At seven minutes past 3 Dr. Mueller, the German secretary for foreign affairs, and Dr. Bell, the colonial secretary, were shown into the hall and quietly took their seats at the left end of the U-shaped table. They showed composure and manifested none of the uneasiness which Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, head of the German peace delegation, displayed when handed the treaty at Versailles.

Seventy-Two Chairs. Within the Hall of Mirrors, where the historical furnishings and paintings save a tone of impressive state, which would otherwise have been rather lacking in the assemblage of soberly attired delegates, seven-and-a-half feet in length on its longer side. A chair for M. Clemenceau, president of the peace conference, was placed in the centre of the long table facing the windows, with those for President Wilson and Premier Lloyd George on the right and left hand respectively. The German delegates were assigned seats at the side of the table nearest the entrance, which they could take after all the others had been seated. They touched elbows with the plenipotentiaries from Ecuador, Peru and the Brazilians on their left. The delegates from Ecuador, Peru and Liberia faced the Germans across the narrow table.

The difficulty of seeing well from many parts of the hall militated against demonstrations marking the arrival of the chief personages.

Cameras at Work. During the attaching of the signatures of the great powers and the Germans a battery of moving picture machines and cameras clicked away so audibly that they could be heard above the general din. At 3.45 the booming of cannon in celebration of the peace broke the monotony of the Hall of Mirrors, where the crowd had tired of the almost endless signing.

China's failure to send her delegates to the ceremony created much comment. The vacant seats of the Chinese were noted early in the proceedings, but it was expected that the delegates would arrive later. Then the report was circulated officially that the Chinese would not sign without reservation of shantung and would later issue a statement on their position. M. Clemenceau's announcement that the ceremony was at an end made it clear that China intended to have no part in the day's ceremonies.

and that she must be dealt with by letter if the signatories are willing to grant her the privilege of making the reservations.

Beyond the demonstration for Mr. Lloyd George, M. Clemenceau and President Wilson, the main interest of the people about the palace was centered by the arrival and departure of the Germans. Few people witnessed the arrival of the Germans, but despite the precautions of the soldiers, great crowds gathered about the rear of the palace when the former enemy left immediately after the signing of the treaty. There was no audible demonstration against the Germans, but there was a distinct current of hostility evident among the crowd which jammed close to the cars. The Germans were white faced and quite apparently suffering strong emotion, but whether it was fear, anger or chagrin one could only surmise.

Dr. Hermann Mueller and Dr. Bell and about fifty members of the German mission left Versailles at 5.30 o'clock this evening, going to the Noisy-Lez-Roi station. There they boarded a train on their return trip to Germany. Forty German secretaries will remain in Versailles to conclude the affairs of the German delegation.

itary and diplomatic work is crumbled in dust, but his political work remains.

It adds that the greatest mistake of the allies was to have treated with Germany as an entity.

On the other hand, Jules Cambon, in The Echo de Paris, points out that every peace has delivered some hopes, but that this peace is the first at which the conquerors, united to decide the fate of the world, have begun by proclaiming that they were determined to make a righteous peace, to repair past injustices and to save the wounds of centuries.

Tokio, June 29.—The restless attitude of the Czechoslovak troops guarding the trans-Siberian railroad and on duty elsewhere, is causing apprehension among allied representatives. They are said to show a disposition to form soviets, according to information received here.

Many desertions among the Czechoslovaks are reported, and attempts are being made to pacify the soldiers.

I HAVE NO DESIRE whatever to be engaged in any business that can be called "crooked," "slippery," or "tricky."

WITH THIS always in view, I have set FIRST—advertisers that all statements made in my advertisements are the truth, without qualification.

THIS MEANS that I do not advertise any cars that I have not in stock as the paper goes to press.

I DO NOT represent cars as overhauled, or, rather, as having received mechanical attention, unless I can show you bona fide work orders and bills, showing parts supplied on each particular car.

I REFUSE to sell used cars and trucks other than "as is," or "as shown and demonstrated," unless I can show bills and work orders, as mentioned above.

I OFFER $5.00 (five dollars) to any independent mechanic that you care to bring to examine any car or truck that I offer for sale, if he can point out any fault with any car or truck that I offer for sale, which I do not tell you about while talking sale.

I DO NOT use any superlative adjectives in advertising my stock.

I HAVE no "gold nuggets" to sell for little money; neither have any of the used cars I sell "diamonds in the tubs."

WHAT'S THE USE of trying to "kick the motor" public that cars purchased and resold at the curb, or within an hour or so after I purchased them, are "overhauled"?

WHAT'S THE USE of advertising a certain number of cars and trucks on hand for you to come and give me "the laugh" if I cannot produce them or show bona fide orders for prior sale?

I HAVE NO WISH of reporting, but I will tell you the truth, and take my chances on getting business.

A USED CAR is a used car—call it what you like, but it is what it is. My first "perfect" used car or truck.

TREND IS LOWER IN GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, June 28.—Corn traders here have been liquidating holdings since the July delivery and gave only a nod to the signing of the peace with Austria and Germany. The values closed unsteady, 1/4 net low, 1/2 advance. On the other hand, wheat lost a shade to 3/4 to 1/2. In provisions, the market was weighed down by the fact that considerable grain was arriving out of condition. Forward quotations on hogs helped to weaken the old market. Dealers, however, took place as the port business would be enlarged.

Provisions held about steady. Live hog quotations on hogs helped to weaken the old market. Dealers, however, took place as the port business would be enlarged.

There is scant evidence of pessimism in the wheat market. The signing of the peace with Austria and Germany has been a relief to the grain market. CHEERFUL FEELING

IN MINING STOCKS

Adanac and Kirkland Lake Are Strong and Active in Saturday's Trading.

Quite a cheerful feeling pervaded the mining market on Saturday morning, and transactions of 102,625 shares indicated a fair measure of activity.

Adanac and Kirkland Lake, the former being traded in to the extent of more than 43,000 shares, and selling up more than 18 with the closing at 17 1/4.

Adanac is to ship to the Timiskaming district the next few days, and it is thought that the high-grade consignment may net about $50,000 to the company.

Kirkland Lake was a better demand than had been seen for several weeks, and rose 2 1/2 points to 44 1/2 with the closing at 44.

The buying was a natural aftermath of the bullish statement given by President F. L. Culver in an interview.

Lake Shore at 94 and McIntyre at 11 3/4 were each up a point, and Wasapika repeated its record high price, 81.

The latest news from Porcupine indicates that so far as the nature of an entente cordiale between mine owners and men is being worked out.

The men have agreed to defer action with respect to the request for higher wages for at least two weeks, and in the meantime arrangements will be made to establish a large company store with the aim of reducing the price of necessities.

Two or three of the Cobalt mines were a trifle reactionary following strength displayed on the previous day or two.

Peterborough sold back half a point to 13 1/2, and Ophir also half a point to 5.

WEST TREE VEIN SHOWS UP WELL

Score of Men Are Now at Work on Promising New Property.

The West Tree mines have now twenty men at work on their 182 acres in the Wasapika or northern section of the West Shining Tree.

Shafts have been timbered and put in for sinking to a depth of 300 feet, a hoist and other necessary machinery are being installed.

Work is being done under development shows strong on both sides of the Montreal river, here less than 400 feet wide, on the east it recedes in width.

On the west side the vein is 25 feet wide, on the east it recedes in width as it passes north eastward away from the water, but the width ranges from 10 to 25 feet for a total length of 2000 feet on the property of the company.

Sixteen gold bearing veins have so far been discovered on the West Tree, most of them have been uncovered for lengths varying from 250 to 1200 feet, although there have been 10,000 feet of surface stripping, trenching and test workings.

Several of the test workings have been erected and everything in the way of shape for very aggressive development.

Now the Wasapika and Churchill, the West Tree has a very strong cross vein. It is believed to be a continuation of that on the Seattle, adjoining on the south.

It is very well defined on the surface and carries high values. It will not doubt be cut on the West Tree during the drifting operations now contemplated when the 500-foot level is reached.

It should be borne in mind in connection with these properties that gold is the rule and not the exception. So far, rich and these cross veins are an unusual and very favorable feature.

On the West Tree, Churchill, Atlas and other properties in this section of Shining Tree there are the east and west as well as north and south vein systems. The former seem to be the most persistent in length.
