COURT WOULD BAR ALL REMARRIAGES

Justice Says It Would Do Much to End the "Divorce Evil"

He Assails Amended Law — Criticizes New York Legislation for Shortening Probationary Period for the Guilty to Three Years.

In granting an application for an amendment of a divorce decree so that the person adjudged guilty in the proceedings might remarry, Justice Russell Benedict, in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn, the other day criticised the State Legislature which changed the divorce law so as to allow guilty parties to apply for permission to marry again after a period of three years instead of five years, as the law previously required. In his memorandum the Justice said: "Whether the Legislature shortened the period of probation out of sympathy for some particular defendant or whether it acted from motives of extreme liberality toward erring spouses in general, is not pertinent to the present inquiry. The statute is plain. The responsibility for it must rest upon the Legislature which enacted it, not upon the court which is called upon to interpret it."

"It has become my firm conviction, after many years' experience upon the bench, that the only really effective way to cure the so-called 'divorce evil' would be to make it practically impossible for either party to the marriage to marry any one else during the lifetime of the other party. I am aware that such a rule would, in a small number of cases, work an apparent hardship. After listening to the evidence in many hundred actions of this sort, I believe that a very large proportion of these actions would never have been brought if the plaintiff were prohibited from contracting a new alliance, arrangements for which are not infrequently made before the suit is begun."

"The Justices of the Supreme Court of this State are, in the main, constantly striving to lessen the evil, which, while all too prevalent in this State, is much more so in other States, where the laxity of divorce laws is greater than with us. Judicial records demonstrate that where dissolution of the marriage tie is easy of accomplishment it is the more frequently resorted to. Efforts are being continuously made in this and other States to loosen the marriage relation. Such socialistic attacks, however well they may be intended, should be combated at every point if the sanctity of marriage is to be preserved."

"The efforts of the court to stop fraud and detect collusion require constant care and watchfulness and even with the greatest vigilance these efforts are not uniformly successful. They, however, certainly are not aided by such legislation as the enactment of 1919 referred to. Instead of shortening the probationary period during which the person guilty of the crime of adultery, for it is still a crime under our laws—must live a clean life or appear to do so, the legislature might well return to the five-year period and also authorize the court to require the consent of the injured spouse before granting the application."

"As the defendant in the present instance has waited five years and has produced proof of conduct such as the statutes require, I feel constrained to grant his application and he is permitted to contract a new marriage, which sincerely hope will, by his upright conduct in the future, result differently from his former alliance."

Elmer L. Bennett of 1,047 Bergen Street made the application which called forth the opinion of Justice Benedict. His wife, Mrs. Adeline Bennett, divorced him in September, 1915. They had been married eight years. Bennett submitted an affidavit from Dr. S. Edw. Young, Pastor of the Bedford Presbyterian Church, stating that his character for the last five years has been excellent.

MEN'S FALL OVERCOATS TAKE DROP IN PRICE

It is pleasing news to hear that fall weight overcoats have taken a big drop in price, just at this time when most men are beginning to prepare for the chilly autumn days.

This drop in price is to be found in this instance at Oak Hall where they are inaugurating the stupendous sale of men's fall overcoats at the one price of $25. Although the usual prices are $40 to $55.

This is a lot of some four hundred coats that Oak Hall contracted for some months ago at radical price concessions and this combined with their motto of large volume at minimum profit enables Oak Hall to present this sale at such an opportune time.

A stupendous sale such as this is only another of the concrete examples Oak Hall has given of their great buying and their wonderful resourcefulness in planning far ahead to the direct benefit of their customers.

This timely selling of men's overcoats starting Thursday morning will continue for four days only coming to an end next Tuesday, and as there are only a few over four hundred coats it would be highly advisable for those men who are really desirous of helping to lower the cost of living to take advantage of Oak Hall's big offer without hesitation.

Oak Hall have utilized all their four windows on King street to make a really attractive display and it will be time well spent to drop around and examine these. Oak Hall will be open Friday evening until ten o'clock, closing Saturday at one o'clock.

COLUMBUS KNIGHTS BACK FROM ROME

Delegation of 101, Headed by Supreme Knight Flaherty, Arrive at New York.

When the French liner Lafayette arrived at New York, bringing 101 Knights of Columbus from France, headed by James A. Flaherty, Supreme Knight, it seemed as if every male passenger on the ship was decorated with a gold medal attached to a scarlet ribbon. All the knights appeared to have had a good time abroad and told their friends so on the pier. There was a large delegation from Philadelphia to meet Supreme Knight Flaherty and fourteen other knights from the Quaker City.

The knights were well received in Rome and at the Vatican, where they decorated the Captain of the Pope's Guard with the medal of the order and also obtained a motion picture of Pope Benedict.

In an interview on the pier Mr.
Flaherty said: "The strongest impression brought from France is that the people of America should desire their hero dead to remain in that country as a perpetual bond between the two nations. I shall constantly urge, after my trip, that the American dead remain in France."

"More than 100 of our pilgrims were fathers and brothers of American soldiers killed in action. They visited the cemetery where these heroes lie buried and they saw the ceaseless care bestowed on these graves for which French men, women and children have a most tender regard."

"Our pilgrimage was a triumph," he continued, "from beginning to end. Pope Benedict has sent through the Knights of Columbus his blessings to the entire American nation. He spoke of the great work performed by America during the war and the reconstruction after the armistice. The Pope took great interest in matters concerning the United States and had the Stars and Stripes flying over the Vatican during our stay in Rome."

Among the other Knights who returned were Martin H. Carmony of Grand Rapids, Deputy Supreme Knight;
Dr. E. W. Buckley of St. Paul, Supreme Physician; John H. Reddin of Denver; John F. O'Neil of Jersey City, and Judge Paul Letche of New Orleans,
Supreme Director; John B. Kennedy,
Publicity Director, and Judge Langdon of San Francisco.

Our Travelling Salesmen Enjoy Selling Red Rose Orange Pekoe Tea

Travelling salesmen work very hard as a rule. They put in long hours, and the pleasure of travelling is not so great as to those of us who mostly live at home.

Naturally, therefore, these men must get a great deal of their pleasure and satisfaction from their work—they like to sell the finest of products and represent a good "house".

Our travelling salesmen are exceedingly critical of the products which they are asked to sell, and when we told them last January that we wanted them to sell a new tea of extra quality—much finer than has usually been sold in Canada—they were keenly interested, put the new tea to many tests amongst their friends, and gave it a lot of time and thought.

Having convinced themselves of the extra fine quality of Red Rose Orange Pekoe Tea, they started on their trips full of enthusiasm.

Their satisfaction, however, has been much greater on their later trips, because of the splendid renewal orders which are following their first sales.

Like good merchants, our salesmen enjoy selling the very finest tea—Red Rose Orange Pekoe.

Try the tea which has met with so much success.

UNIFORMS ONLY DECENT CLOTHES THEY HAVE LEFT

Austrian Court Rules Former Officers May Wear Former Splendor.

Vienna, Sept. 4.—Associated Press Correspondent—A former officer of the Australian army was walking through a poor quarter of the city in full uniform when a workman's councillor ordered him to remove his clanking spurs. An altercation ensued leading to a suit by the officer for defamation. The court gave him damages to the amount of 1,000 crowns and told he could wear the splendor of his estate when and where he would. The workman's councillor pleaded that he and his neighbors objected to such a reminder of the old time authority of the military class.

Since the ratification of the treaty, officers in the full uniform of the old army with breastloads of medals and decorations have become very much in evidence on the promenades. Many of them say their uniforms are the only decent clothes they have.

ELECTION CARD

Electors of St. John—
Ladies and Gentlemen:

Having been assured of generous support, I have decided to become a Candidate for your suffrages at the forthcoming Provincial general elections. Should I be favored with the majority of your votes I shall earnestly endeavor to give our Province and City that commanding position in the Canadian Confederacy to which they are justly entitled.

With this object in view I shall labor earnestly to make our Province bone dry.

With a view to economy as well as to increase our influence at Ottawa, I favor a legislative union of the Maritime Provinces.

I am in favor of a reduction of our Provincial Cabinet as well as that of the Assembly to thirty members with a sessional indemnity not exceeding Five Hundred Dollars.

I am strongly in favor of dividing the Province into single ridings.

I shall insist on keeping the ordinary expenditure strictly within the limits of the Provincial revenue.

I am in favor of the simplifying of our school curriculum in order to give greater prominence to the more practical subjects.

I believe in an eight-hour day with equal wage to men and women for equal service.

I am in favor of the adoption of a vigorous development of our great natural resources.

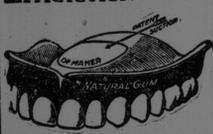

My motto shall be: Progress, Retrenchment, Economy and Efficiency.

Between nomination and polling I suggest that all Candidates hold joint public meetings in order to increase interest in Provincial affairs and to educate the public along such lines.

Trusting the foregoing may meet with your approval, and that you will so express yourselves by giving me a handsome majority of votes and soliciting the aid of all, I am,
Yours Respectfully,
MICHAEL KELLY.

SCIENCE PROVES THE DANGER OF BLEEDING GUMS

Medical science proves that unhealthy gums cause serious ailments. People suffering from Pyorrhoea (a disease of the gums) often suffer from other ills, such as rheumatism, anaemia, nervous disorders, or weakened vital organs. These ills have been traced in many cases to the Pyorrhoea germs which breed in pockets about the teeth.

Four out of five people over forty have Pyorrhoea. It begins with tender and bleeding gums. Then the gums recede, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of the infecting Pyorrhoea germs.

Guard your health and your teeth. Keep Pyorrhoea away. Visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection, and make daily use of Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhoea—or check its progress—if used in time, and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's will keep the gums firm and healthy, the teeth white and clean.

THE HUNTER IS THE HUNTED

Drive Against Pest in South Africa Defeating Its Own Object.

Johannesburg, South Africa, Aug. 23.—(Associated Press Correspondence)—A great game drive is in progress in Zululand, with the object of stopping the ravages of the tsetse fly, which is fatal to equines and bovines.

Whole tribes of Zululand, attracted by the prospect of unlimited meat, are taking part in the drive. They are mostly armed with assegais, the native spears.

It is thought, however, that the size of the drive is defeating its own object. The wild creatures have become panic stricken and the ludicrous situation now exists of the hunters having become the hunted.

The great cordon of white men and Zululand has been broken in several places by charging herds of frantic zebra and other animals, and the hunters have been compelled to split up into small parties for their own safety.

Adoption by the New York police of a new type of pistol capable of firing 1,500 shots a minute, and especially adapted for use in riots, street hold-ups, bank robberies, club smokers, jail deliveries, straight out-and-out shootings between friends and other popular forms of in and outdoor amusement, was the chief topic of discussion among better class criminals of this city today.

THE PROGRESS OF AN "IDEA."

They have in Montreal what is termed the Liberal Conservative Idea Association. The idea is to boost Premier Meighen. They are told that at a recent meeting "Hon. P. E. Blondin, postmaster-general, sounded the rally call to men of good-will and moderate opinions to get behind the new prime minister, Hon. Arthur Meighen, in carrying out the Canadian policies of harmony and good-will which Mr. Meighen laid down in his first public pronouncement on assuming the reins of power."

THE FEAST OF TABERNACLES

(From the Tract Commission, Central Conference of American Rabbis Union of American Hebrew Congregations.)

During a period of eight days, beginning on the eve of Sept. 26 and ending on October 5, the Jews will celebrate the Feast of Tabernacles.

Once a year Israel revives its love of the soil, and makes public avowal of the fact that even an industrial civilization, such as ours, depends primarily upon the elements of nature. This restatement of love for and confidence in Mother Earth is indeed a fact of Jewish religiousness. We know and we reassure ourselves that it is at the centre of life through all the seasons and that the prosperity and the satisfaction we seek come or do not come according to His Law.

Judaism is a religion in the very midst of the passions, aspirations and complications of life. Nowhere are these more insistent than in the economic interests of men. Here religion has a duty as well as an opportunity. Judaism endeavors not merely to fortify men in their difficulties as to their daily bread, but also to keep them moral, large-hearted, and just.

The Sukkoth Festival is meant not as a season of self-congratulation on having garnered in the product of the farm or the gains of business, but as time for thought on the larger-scoped social interests of men in the national and international life. The Jews are the first to have recognized the political economy as the field where religion and morality must operate for the good of men.

In its modern form, the suggestiveness of this truth of the Sukkoth Festival is made more effective by the fact that it occurs at the beginning of the autumn, coincident with the increased activities of the economic agencies. It is, as it were, a timely lesson for each one to interpret his life as of larger scope, related to the world life and made possible in fulness within it.

The "dwelling in booths" as characteristic of the Biblical phase of the festival and observed as an archaic symbolism nowadays is a suggestive domestic ritual which re-affirms the lessons of "the simple life" and the democracy of the Jewish household. The five symbolic plants hint that, as the gifts of God in nature vary and in their totality make human life sweet and satisfactory, so the difference among men, as to service and character, may serve to make "society" an organization in which each one of us has a place and can make a helpful contribution. Some noble, and some commonplace; some for the day and some for all time, according to what they do and what they are.

The Sukkoth Festival is the culminating lesson of the series of holidays of the month. It addresses itself to the fact of life which we might, otherwise, leave so-called. It widens the horizon of our individual interests. It approves our vocations and labors not when they bring private satisfactions but when they bring to our common humanity and make us more efficient in the work upon which depend the well, the peace and the joy of the community.

A boarding school boy wrote his uncle for financial aid, and then, feeling rather nervous about the impression his letter would make, added this postscript:—
"Dear Uncle, I am so ashamed to have to ask you for this money that I have run after the postman a long way to get it back, but I could not catch him. My only wish is that you will never get the letter now—Your loving Nephew."

The uncle replied by return of post:—
"My Dear Nephew—I am hastening to make you happy by telling you that your wish was granted. I never received your letter."

HAD TO DO SOMETHING QUICK, SAYS REDMOND

Had Barely Enough Strength Left to Stay on Job When He Began Taking Tanlac—Health Splendid Now.

"When I decided to try Tanlac I could not have done a better thing for it has fixed me up so fine I feel as good as I could ask," recently declared James Redmond, who lives at Chetzetcook, Nova Scotia.

"I had been going downhill for three years and was troubled in one way and another just about every day that came. I had a chronic case of indigestion and my stomach hurt so bad I could hardly stand for my clothes to touch me. What I ate soured and caused gas to form and I would bloat up so bad that I felt tight and drawn across the chest and stomach. I was bothered a lot with biliousness and often had sick headaches that lasted for several days at a time.

"I couldn't sleep to amount to anything and that pulled me down considerably in weight and strength. All day long I felt weak and tired out and just did have the strength to stick it out and stay on the job. Then last spring I had the flu and it nearly finished me. I was left in a worse condition than ever and I knew something had to be done and done right away.

"I had taken a good many medicines but I had never tried Tanlac, so I decided to see what it would do in my case. Well, sir, it was a lucky find and proved to be a friend in need. I took five bottles in all and today I'm a well man and haven't a sign of my old troubles. I can sit down and eat as big a meal as I ever could and enjoy every bite of it for my stomach never gives me any trouble at all now. The biliousness has all gone and those sick headaches have disappeared. I sleep like a log and have picked up ten pounds in weight. I feel strong and healthy and can do as big a day's work as I ever could."

Tanlac is sold in St. John by the Ross Drug Company and F. W. Munro; by G. W. McKay, Beaver Harbor; Willard J. Colwell, Evans; C. V. Parsons, Highland; John F. Meagher, Debec; O. D. Hanson, Lepreau; E. L. Conley, Leonardville; N. H. Johnson, Clarendon Station; and by the leading druggists in every town.—(Advt.)

FEDERAL CHAMBER OF COMMERCE FOR DOMINION

(Canadian Press Despatch.) Toronto, Sept. 22—Steps were taken this morning to found a federal chamber of commerce in Canada when a resolution introduced by Charles Marriott, of Toronto, was adopted by the Congress of Imperial Chambers of Commerce at today's session favoring the project. A committee was appointed to act in the matter, consisting of Lloyd Harris, Lieut.-Colonel Ponton, Colonel Cockshutt, H. Evans, W. T. Christie and Mr. Marriott, of Ontario, and Hon. Frank Carroll, of Quebec. Sir James Woods seconded.

The congress also endorsed a resolution advocating admittance of colonial boards of trade and chambers of commerce to be international chambers of commerce. Mark Sheldon, Sydney (N. S. W.), introduced a resolution for stricter observance of the mail routes, in the future, the resolution was endorsed as affecting correspondence.

ARNSTEIN MUST STAY IN JAIL (Canadian Press Despatch.) Washington, Sept. 22—Associate Justice Brandeis, today declined for the present at least to order the release on a writ of habeas corpus of Jules W. "Nicky" Arnstein, accused by the New York police of being the master mind in the New York bond thefts. Justice Brandeis refused to act until counsel for Arnstein had exhausted all means of obtaining Arnstein's release through the federal district court in New York.

E. C. MIDDLETON (late) Flight Sub-Lieutenant Royal Navy.

"I am writing this as a tribute to the excellent qualities of Phosferine as a tonic. As a practical aviator myself, and with a personal acquaintance of many of our leading pilots of today, I can honestly state that the use of Phosferine has proved itself to be invaluable in innumerable cases of 'flying' nerves. One case in particular, one of the most famous of British aviators, for some months was unable to fly, being in a pitifully nervous condition. Then a friend suggested the use of Phosferine. After but one or two trials, he was no longer troubled with nerves, and today is flying as well as, if not better, than before. This furnishes a striking testimonial to the use of Phosferine, taking into consideration the fact that flying is the greatest test possible for a man's nerves." (Author of "Aircraft, The Way of the Air, Etc.")

This highly qualified aviator declares that in all the various cases of nerve shock and breakdown which he encounters, the only unfailing relief, the only reliable cure, is always derived from Phosferine—the curative effect of Phosferine is quicker, more pronounced, more lasting than all other treatments within his wide experience, and he sees it is solely due to Phosferine the stunned nerve functions resume the generation of vital force which ensures recovery.

GOOD WORK IN GOVERNMENT ORGANIZATION

Two Counties Have Chosen Strong Tickets and St. John Primaries Are to be Held Tonight — Kings, Albert, Carleton and Sunbury Conventions Today.

The local government primaries in St. John are to be held this evening and, it is expected, will be largely attended. All electors, male and female, favorable to the government, are invited to be present. Those from Wellington, Prince and Victoria wards are to meet at Moose Hall, 12 Coburg street; from Queens, Sydney, Dukes and Kings wards at what was formerly known as the Furlong building, 35 Charlotte street; from Lorne, Stanley and Lansdowne wards at Temple Hall, Main street; from Dufferin ward at Young's Hall, corner of Mill and Main streets, and from Guys and Brooks wards at Oddfellows Hall, Market Place.

Candidates in favor of the government have already been chosen in Hestigouche and Charlotte, where strong tickets are in the field. The Albert county convention is to be held today along with those in Kings, Carleton, Sunbury and in Moncton City. The Queens county convention is called for tomorrow and that in York will take place on Saturday. The government organization all over the province is rapidly being rounded into shape, the efforts of the supporters of the administration to prepare for the campaign being made much easier by the strong feeling in favor of the Foster regime under which so much has been done to promote the interests of the province since 1917. On every hand one hears the warmest praise of the government for the manner in which it has improved the roads, for its hydro-electric policy, its administration of the crown lands, of the agricultural department, its careful handling of the finances of the province, its health policy and the great mass of other progressive legislation for which it is responsible.

A SICKLY WIFE NO FIT MATE FOR ANY MAN

Never before was physical health and vigor so highly esteemed and so eagerly sought for as today. No man finds happiness in a sickly wife, and the woman who wishes to enjoy the pleasures of life should spare no effort to maintain perfect health. Is your daughter growing up strong and ruddy? Has she the strength to dig in greedily all the pleasures that youth so zealously seeks—or is she compelled to see the street car instead of enjoying the delightful exercise of walking—does she after the ball arise refreshed and vigorous, or is she exhausted, indifferent, and perhaps irritable? When strength and vigor can be so easily maintained by Ferronine, when the glow of health is so quickly brought to the cheeks and elasticity to the step, it is plainly a mother's duty to see that Ferronine is on hand to assist her daughter back to health.

Upon the wake of Ferronine quickly follows a stream of rich, nourishing blood which imparts that power and surplus energy so earnestly desired by those in ill-health. Stop and think what this means for your daughter—certainly a great deal, and it can be accomplished by Ferronine. Every growing girl and young woman derives enormous benefit in many ways from this nutritive, vitalizing tonic. It is specially suited for young women and is a guarantee of health and regularity as long as it is used. Ferronine is free from alcohol and perfectly safe to use. Ferronine is sold in a chocolate-coated tablet and sold in 50c boxes or six for $2.50, at all dealers, or direct from The Catarthouson Co.

RE-ARRANGEMENT OF CITY HALL IS SUGGESTED

G. W. V. A. Assessment Reduced — Letter re Dredging — Council Decides Against Labor Bureau.

A recommendation that called for a radical change in the arrangement of the offices at city hall was made yesterday afternoon by Mayor Schofield, when he presented his report upon the financial condition of the city, in answer to the request of Commissioner J. H. Frink. It was the opinion of the mayor that the chief executive of the city occupied too much space in city hall, considering the congested condition of the edifice, and to provide more room for the board of assessors, on the third floor of the building, he suggested that the office now occupied by the city engineer, G. G. Hare, be added to the suite of the board of assessors, that Mr. Hare take over the office now occupied by J. A. Brooks, the mayor's clerk, and that the ante-room at the rear of the mayor's office be converted into a waiting room, by cutting an entrance at the head of the stairs. No action was taken upon the suggestion though it was freely discussed.

Mayor Schofield showed in his report that the city's overdraft at the Bank of Nova Scotia on June 30 last was $402,421, and of this amount $74,670.88 was made up of arrears in taxes. The amount due on the 1920 assessment is shown to be $250,000 but the constables have not yet begun to enforce the collection of this amount. Owing to the fact that hundreds of soldiers' names appear on the delinquent list made the large default of the year 1919, the mayor said, as an agreement had been made by which those serving their country during the war would be exempted from taxation by applying to the mayor. Another reason why there is a large default is the fact that many men come to the city to work during the winter months but leave before the assessment notices are received.

A letter from E. Murray Olive was read by the mayor which stated that a saving of from six to eight weeks could be effected by installing a large automatic cutting machine in his office, which would do all his work in seven days instead of taking thirty under the present arrangement. The machine would cost $1,000 but it would save $1,500 a year. Mr. Olive also said in his letter that more room was needed in his office and the addition of another district commissioner was also considered absolutely necessary to handle the increased business. Commissioner Bullock, in referring to the need for more room, said that the assessor's office, if not the chamberlain's office, could be moved to the old post office building, second Prince William street. Commissioner Thornton thought that the draftsman and road engineer would be glad to move to the water department in Carleton street.

A communication from the federal department of public works branch in the old post office building, second Prince William street, Commissioner Thornton thought that the draftsman and road engineer would be glad to move to the water department in Carleton street.

The question whether St. John shall or shall not have a tree employment office, operated by the federal government, was definitely settled at the meeting of the common council yesterday afternoon, when the recommendation that an office be established for one year was supported by Mayor Schofield and Mr. Bullock only. Commissioners Frink, Jones and Thornton voting against the measure.

An application from the New Brunswick Telephone Company, Limited to erect five poles in St. David street, two in Courtenay street and one in Leinster street, was referred to the commissioner of public works and the city engineer for report. Upon recommendation of Mr. Thornton, permission was given to the firm of Gundy & Allison Limited, to install a ten-barrel gasoline tank in their new Britain street warehouse.

Mr. Jones moved that the tenders recently called for three two-inch water meters and two four-inch water meters, be opened. The following bids were received: St. John Iron Works—2 in. meters, $345; 4 in. meters, $893. R. N. S. Robertson, St. John—2 in. meters, $297.50; 4 in. meters, $841. James Robertson Company, Limited—2 in. meters, $271.65; 4 in. meters, $777.90. Francis Hanakin Company, Limited (Montreal)—2 in. meters, $231; 4 in. meters, $700. Estey & Company—2 in. meters, $338.70; 4 in. meters, $660.84, $820.84 and $1,200.

These tenders were later referred to the commissioner water and sewerage and the city engineer for report. Referring to the request of the Great War Veterans Association for exemption from taxation on the building occupied by the fraternity, which is owned mainly by the city, Mayor Schofield said that the city grant of $10,000 had been paid to the association since the request was last before the council and that the association had paid this year's assessment. He recommended that the association be exempt from taxation on the $10,000 loan made on the building by the city. Upon motion of Mr. Bullock it was decided that making the year's assessment against the association hereafter, the amount of $10,000 will be taken from the book valuation of the association.

FALLING HAMMER HITS THREE WOMEN; NO SERIOUS INJURY. Hamilton, Ont., Sept. 23—The head flew off a hammer in the hands of a workman on the top of the addition being built to the Arcade store and falling five stories struck three women. Mrs. John Stewart was the first woman to feel the hammer, which hit her on the head. It glanced off her head and hit Mrs. Charles Stapton on the cheek, and again glancing off, it hit Mrs. B. Rocca on the neck. None of the women received serious injury.

Old-time harsh treatments are supplanted by it with everyone who knows it.

No Trouble to Keep Skin Free From Hairs (The Modern Beauty). There is no need for any woman to countenance superfluous hairs, because with a paste made by mixing some powdered delatone with water it is easy to get rid of them. The paste is applied for 2 to 3 minutes, then rubbed off and the skin washed. This treatment will rid the skin of hair without leaving a blemish, but care should be taken to see that you get real delatone. Mix fresh as wanted.

CHARGE BEER HELD TOO MUCH ALCOHOL. For selling "spirited liquors" having a percentage of alcohol greater than that allowed by law six men, Herbert Spragg, William Dacey, George Bovard, Beverley Wall, Arthur Morris, John Fossils, Joseph Quinn, Vasil Long and Frank Doorn, were summoned yesterday on information given by Inspectors Merryfield and White and brought before the magistrate yesterday afternoon. All pleaded not guilty and said they had bought the beer as being two per cent and had sold it as such in good faith. They said that the firm who sold it said it would not exceed two per cent. J. A. Barry appeared for the defence and asked that an analysis be made by another chemist. The magistrate ordered that the samples be sent to J. D. McKenzie at Chatham (N. B.) for analysis.

FRENCH REPAIR WAR DEVASTATION FAST

Progress of Their Work of Reconstruction

Figures Showing Industries
Re-established and Hands Employed Under Government Advances.

(Foreign Correspondence of N. Y. Evening Post.)

Paris, Aug. 18.—It was very important that the head of the French government should go in person into every part of the devastated regions to see for himself how reconstruction is coming on. Prime Minister Millerand accordingly has profited by the first leisure left him by Lloyd George to make a complete and careful tour of inspection. The inhabitants who have come back to their ruined homes have had every opportunity to tell him their opinion of what is being done to help them. They naturally are inclined to think there are too many government officials and too little government work to show for the expense. It might be remembered that so far Germany has paid nothing by way of reparations, that all the money for reconstruction work has been advanced by the French government, and that the inhabitants have worked on by themselves, with results which are not duly appreciated by foreigners, or even by Frenchmen who do not look into the facts and figures.

Government advances for reconstruction already amount to more than 20,000,000,000 francs, which, even at the present rate of exchange, would be nearly $2,000,000,000. In reality its purchasing power in the devastated regions is considerably more. In the ten departments invaded and more or less devastated by the Germans some 8,000,000 people have been affected, or more than one-fifth of the population of France. Many of these were scattered by the war through the uninvaded parts of France, and some 600,000 took refuge in Paris, where it was easiest to live. Paris has really increased in permanent population by 500,000 since the beginning of the war, and of these it is estimated 400,000 are still refugees from the devastated regions. Those regions had one-fourth of the industries of France and one-fifth of her agriculture, with a teaming prosperity out of all proportion to the extent of the territory.

Facts and Figures Unnecessary.

Such figures have to be repeated because of the ceaseless propaganda that during the Peace Conference tried to persuade the world France exaggerated her losses and now asserts France is doing nothing for her reconstruction. Germany inflicted the losses and Germany is resisting every attempt to make her execute the reparations demanded by the Peace Treaty which she signed at Versailles. And that is another reason why facts and figures of today should be made known.

In the ten invaded departments beginning from the north—Nord, Pas de Calais, Somme, Oise, Aisne, Marne, Ardennes, Meuse, Meurthe-et-Moselle, and Vosges—3,903 industrial establishments were destroyed by the Germans and of these 3,004 have been re-opened and begun working (July 1, 1920). When war broke out, in 1914, there were 298,175 workmen employed in the Department of the Nord alone in 2,952 factories; there are now nearly half that number, or 127,947 exactly, in 1,644 factories. This was by far the most populous and most industrialized of the invaded departments. The total number of workmen in factories employing more than twenty men in all the ten departments at the outbreak of the war was 722,185—and the total now is 307,697, or a little more than 42 per cent.

classes we have the following figures:
94 mines with 99,985 miners employed—27 have been reopened with 18,824 miners; 68 quarries with 5,844 workmen—65 reopened with 2,002 men; 40 stonecutting and moulding centres with 2,776 workmen—88 reopened with 1,579 men; 467 earthwork and stone building enterprises with 50,886 men employed—380 reopened with 23,780 men; 372 stone works and potteries with 50,886 workmen—294 reopened with 23,780 men; 51 metal works with 37,988 men; 808 works of ordinary metals with 125,586 workmen—691 reopened with 85,454 men; 5 works of precious metals and precious stones—4 reopened with 18,099 workmen—228 reopened with 7,877 men; 132 chemical industries with 17,684 workmen—103 reopened with 7,797 men; 77 book industries with 6,388 workmen—65 reopened with 5,217 men; 43 paper and rubber mills with 6,377 workmen—31 reopened with 2,672 men; 1,005 textile industries (spinning and weaving, wool, cotton, flax, etc.) with 246,976 workmen—74 reopened with 127,211 men; 145 cloth and clothing factories with 10,674 men; 12 straw, feather, and horsehair works with 2,774 workmen—11 reopened with 1,100 employees; 84 hide and leather works with 9,157 workmen—69 reopened with 4,914 men; 296 foodstuff establishments with 33,205 workmen—179 reopened with 7,883 men.

Small Industries Abound.
These figures, as has been said, are only of establishments employing more than twenty men or women—and they are given out by the office of the Industrial Reconstruction. No statistics are available for small family industries, often carried on in homes, nor for employees who in large industries do certain work at home. Such workers abounded all through the north of France where textile and furniture industries were so flourishing and have been quickest to revive.
It may seem wearisome to give such lists, but it can never be sufficiently remembered that all this land, now so devastated, was a seething hive of industry and thrift—and the figures given refer only to industries that were either totally or partially destroyed by the German invaders. It is true their work was fairly complete, yet these figures represent but a part of their total devastation.
On July 1, 1919, nearly eight months after the armistice, out of 3,903 industrial establishments that had been destroyed only 706 had been reopened for the slightest work. This gives 2,298 to the credit of the last year in which they have been reopened without reparations by the Germans, but with money advances of the French Treasury for which the French taxpayers will be responsible, if, as the present plan seems to be, the Germans are let off paying.
The recovery of agriculture is even more rapid, but figures are not available—and even French peasants cannot make ravaged beet root fields supply sugar material in one year. Who is cruel enough to say: "Pass the sponge over all!"

CRAZED BY THE N. Y. DISASTER, HE LEAPS TO DEATH

Employee of National City Bank Jumps Ten
Stories

Body Nearly Hits Crowd—Victim Had Been Maddened
by Horror at Agony of Explosion Victims.

New York, Sept. 23.—The horror that gripped him when he saw the bomb's work in Wall street minutes after the explosion, a monomania that was hourly intensified and made more vivid by shattered, sent a Wall street bank clerk plunging ten stories to death before thousands.
Frederick Marvin Carpenter, a credit clerk, had been employed by the National City Bank, Exchange Place and Hanover street, eight years last July, when his nerves failed him. Although broken in health, Carpenter who had a young wife and a five-year-old son dependent upon him at his home 87 Cooke Avenue, Brooklyn, refused to quit work for a rest.
Finally the bank official prevailed upon him to go to Otisville, N. Y., to recuperate. Last Wednesday Carpenter came back to work, apparently normal again. The next day, the day of the explosion, he was crossing the bank threshold on his way to luncheon when the crash came. Although he was knocked down by the blast and his nerves shattered, Carpenter picked himself up and ran down to the fringe of the smoke and dust hanging over the spot where the infernal machine had exploded. Through the dust and the blood—then he received a second shock from horror. He collapsed in the street.
The police found cards in his pocket indicating his place of employment and he was carried back to the bank, treated and sent home in a taxicab. His wife and his father-in-law, Joseph A. Baker, with whom he lived, said Carpenter raved from Thursday until Sunday of the things he had seen. Slightly he lived again and again that moment of horror when he had looked through the smoke and saw violent death.
Sunday night, however, his mind calmed and he appeared completely recovered. His physician offered no opposition to his returning to work, and so he appeared at his desk. The strain of the day, a strain because of his recent ordeal, began to show, however, and at 3 o'clock associates prevailed upon him to go home.

Instead, Carpenter went to the roof of the bank. Hurrying through Exchange Place were the usual thousands; the close of trading for the day on the Stock Exchange and the day's end for brokers and bankers had jammed the narrow thoroughfare with persons. Suddenly someone raised a cry—someone had seen a man's form hurtling to the pavement—but before the crowd knew the meaning, Carpenter's body had struck the sidewalk. By the narrowest margin the body missed a group clustered at the corner to allow an automobile to pass. Horror drew a great crowd and great excitement reigned. Finally it was necessary to call out the police reserves from Old Slip Station to disperse the curious.

WEST SIDE MATTERS BEFORE COUNCIL

Delegation Asks Removal of Car Line from Queen Square

Also Seeks Action in Mill Pond Matter—Tenders for Piping in Sheds—Douglas Avenue Water and Sewerage Services.

W. K. Haley, representing the St. John Playgrounds Association, and W. E. Scully, representing the West Side Improvement League, appeared before the common council in committee this morning to ask that the city take steps to have the street car line and poles removed from Queen square, West St. John. Mr. Haley said that the matter had been taken up at a recent meeting of the Playgrounds Association and he asked Mr. Scully to present the case.

Mr. Scully said that he understood that the street railway had permission to go through Queen square for only three years. He thought the cars should run in Watson and St. John streets. The cars, he said, interfered with the work and endangered the life of children on the west side playgrounds.

Commissioner Prink asked that the West End Improvement League set out in writing what was required and he would take the matter up with the N. B. Power Company. He was willing to do everything that was possible in order to improve conditions at the Queen square.

This was agreed to.

Mr. Scully also referred to the conditions resulting from sewage being emptied into the Carleton mill pond. He said that the people of West St. John wanted a main sewer through the mill pond to deep water. He said that the pond was a nuisance and conditions should be remedied. He was of the opinion that it was against the rules of the board of health.

Commissioner Jones said he had several reports on the matter and would bring in a report at the next meeting.

Commissioner Jones read a letter from C. T. Dean, 350 Duke street, West St. John, offering to purchase all the pulpwood on the Burns property at Lodgepole Lake at $2 a cord. At the request of the mayor Mr. Jones agreed to bring in a report as to the quantity of pulpwood on the site, etc.

U. J. Sweeney, of Taylor and Sweeney, asked that the city refund $17.20, being the amount of taxes paid on account of Thomas Foley in last April. Mr. Sweeney explained that his firm were agents for property in the North End belonging to and the tax bill was paid in error, and they were unable to collect. He was asked to present the request in writing.

Pipe Tenders.

Tenders for the piping for the gear sheds and offices in No. 1 shed, West St. John, were opened and were as follows: W. E. Emerson, $1,124; Union Foundry & Machine Works, $1,150. On Mr. Bullock's motion the lower tender was accepted and he was authorized to complete the contract.

Commissioner Jones brought up the matter of the installation of water and sewerage services to the vacant lots in Douglas avenue. He read a further report from the city engineer, who expressed an opinion that if the lots are likely to be built on in the near future it would be better to have the services installed before pavement is laid; otherwise it might be less expensive for the city to wait until building is to be commenced.

Mr. Jones said he preferred to have the matter stand as at present. He referred to the matter of lots in Prince William street which had been lying unimproved for years, and to which services had not been laid. The total estimated cost for the work in Douglas avenue was $11,600. The matter was left over until next week.

DOLING OUT HARD COAL NOW IN MASSACHUSETTS

Boston, Sept. 23.—Rationing of hard coal for domestic use was ordered today as a means of curbing the scarcity which exists in all parts of the state.

Eugene C. Hultman, chairman of the state commission on the necessities of life, after a conference with a committee of five coal dealers appointed by Governor Coolidge, announced that until further notice householders would be allowed only three tons of coal.

GRAINS DOWN ON CHICAGO EXCHANGE

Chicago, Sept. 23.—Heavy selling of wheat took place today and carried prices lower. Much of the selling appeared to be based on opinions that a lull in export business was foreshadowed. On the contrary, however, foreigners were said to be making new purchases. Opening prices, which ranged from 3-4 cent to 3 cents lower, with December $2.34 1-2 to $2.34 3-4 and March $2.27 to $2.28 1-2, were followed by a slight further setback, and then something of a rally.

Lowest prices yet for the new crop were reached in the corn market. Fine weather was the chief bearish influence. After opening 3-4 cent to 4 cents off, including December at $1.04 to $1.04 3-4, the market underwent a further sag.

Oats reflected corn weakness, starting unchanged to 1-2 cent higher, December 59-7 to 60 cents, and then reaching to well below yesterday's finish.

Provisions were depressed by downturns in the hog and grain markets.

FRENCH LABOR AND THE ITALIAN AWARD.

Paris, Sept. 23.—No fears are felt here that the concessions made by the government and employers of Italy to the workmen will result in French labor demanding a measure of participation in the conduct and profit of industry. The French government has been watching closely to see what influence, if any, the Italian troubles might have on the French workers. It is pointed out that there is no indication that labor in France has been influenced by the Italian workers.

Roderick, 188 Canterbury street on September 22. No evidence was taken and they were remanded to jail. The arrests were made in Britain street by Sergeant McLeese and Policeman McAuley, who saw the car stalled there. The lads at first told the police a reasonable story but not being satisfied, the sergeant found the owner of the car and notified him of his loss. The case will come up later for disposal. J. B. Dever is acting in the interests of the accused. Two men charged with drunkenness pleaded guilty and were each fined $8 or two months in jail.

DYNAMITE ON "L" PLATFORM IN BROOKLYN

Find Today While Mystery Still Unsolved

Following Health Tag Clue to Find Driver of Death Wagon — Mayor of Boston Makes Appeal in Threat Case. New York, Sept. 23.—While investigators were still seeking to solve the mystery of the Wall street explosion a week ago, police headquarters announced a package containing dynamite had been found today on the platform of the Reed avenue elevated station in Brooklyn. Announcement came from police headquarters today that a tag found in Wall street near the horse attached to the death cart had been identified as one issued by the health department in 1918 to the Reid Ice Cream Company of Brooklyn, certifying that the horse was not afflicted with glanders. Detectives left to question company officials as to whether the horse had been sold within the last two years. The bureau of combustibles at police headquarters announced that a tag attached and burning when a patrolman found it and "put it out." Detectives examined the package at a Brooklyn police station and then started with it for bureau headquarters in Manhattan. A New Clue. New York, Sept. 23.—A new clue to the man who drove the bomb wagon has been occupying the attention of the department of justice for the last few days. This clue is in the form of a tag issued for horses coming into this state from New Jersey, certifying that they are not suffering from glanders. A tag of this sort, issued by a New Jersey health department, it was said, was found attached to the cart. It kept under observation of a veterinary surgeon for sixteen hours, and the owner of the animal is obliged to give to the authorities his name, business address and full description of the animal. Literally scores of dues, stories and conjectures have been sifted by operatives of the department of justice and local authorities without result. Despite the varied stories, however, W. J. Flynn, chief of the department of justice agents, was as positive as ever today that the following receipt of a pre-arranged plot of anarchists. He characterized as "plain bunk" renewed stories that it was accidental, and predicted that those responsible for the disaster would ultimately be brought to justice. "It was a criminal outrage," he declared, "and we are going ahead on that theory."

CHEAP APPLES FOR WINNIPEG

Winnipeg, Sept. 23.—Citizens of Winnipeg will be able to purchase cheap apples next week with the inauguration of the railway bridge at the falls. Mayor Charles E. Gray, who has been in the city since the first carload had been shipped from the Toronto district and which reached Winnipeg by the falls, said that the price will probably be $2.20 for the forty pound sack, and a ten cent rebate on the sack, and $1.12 for the twenty pound sacks, with a two cent charge for the sack.

Want Higher Bridge at Reversing Falls to Let Vessels Through

Shipping men here are discussing the fact that a schooner is awaiting a fall of water in order to be able to get under the railway bridge at the falls and go up river. They point out that the new railway bridge should be raised to the height of the highway bridge, to permit the passage of vessels bound up river. When the highway bridge was planned, this need was taken into consideration and provided for. If the railway bridge were placed at the proper height the highway could go under instead of over the railway, which they point out would be a much better and would avoid a lot of expense. "The opinion prevails that no time should be lost by the city and all those interested in the river for a solution of this bridge question."

CORN BORER MAKES APPEARANCE NEAR CITY OF ST. THOMAS

Washington, Sept. 23.—Discovery of the European corn borer in the vicinity of St. Thomas, Ont., has caused the department of agriculture to send a staff of entomologists to Michigan to confer with local agricultural authorities to forestall possible infestation of the corn crop in that state. Experts of the bureau of entomology, the department announced today, are concerned over the appearance of the corn pest in Canada as certain sections of New York, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania and New Jersey have been quarantined to keep the insect from making its way to the corn belt. The corn borer in Canada is farther west than heretofore reported on this continent, the department's announcement said, and the corn affected is of the flint variety, which in New England and New York has appeared to be especially susceptible to injury by the borer.

LIST OF VOTERS. To the Editor of The Times. Sir,—Having been appointed chairman of the board of revisors for the city of St. John it will become my duty immediately to prepare the primary list of voters for 1921. Last year considerable confusion and trouble was occasioned by the fact that few of the women voters were included on the primary lists and consequently with the act and make affidavit as to her qualifications. To overcome this difficulty this year I have had to receive an informal application from any woman qualified to be included in the lists, and would ask any woman who is not on the list simply to write me a letter giving full Christian name; the name of her husband, if married; her address and a statement that she is a British subject, and is of age, and has been a resident in the province for six months past. By this means I hope to be able to save those qualified to vote considerable trouble. Yours very truly, A. G. POTTER, Chairman of Revisors. St. John, Sept. 23.

MAKE $100 AND MORE A WEEK

Evidence That Montreal Cobblers' Shops Are Profitable. Montreal, Sept. 23.—A case decided before Mr. Justice Howard in the superior court yesterday, threw a prima facie case on why the cobbler should "stick to his last." It was shown that he can make clear trade profits varying from $100 to $110 a week.

The plaintiff was Henry Rapkin, who occupied a shoe repairing shop in Ontario street east. He was called to the stand to show that he had executed repairs to the building of which he held a lease, and he claimed from the landlord damages for loss of business. In support of his claim, he said that he made clear profits from his trade during the summer months amounting to $100 or $110 a week, and called evidence to show that such profits were customary in cobbler's business. The defendant offered $100 in settlement, which the court found sufficient.

IN WALL STREET

New York, Sept. 23.—Recent conflicting movements in the stock market were resumed at the opening of today's session. Rally of the speculative variety advanced, while most of the industrial issues were moderately reactionary.

Chicago and Alton, Ill., and Pacific and Atlantic City Southern averaged 1 point gains and St. Paul, Missouri Pacific, Washburn preferred and New Haven gained substantial fractions. Tobacco and some of the foreign exchange market was the acute weakness of rates to Scandinavian centres. Non Report.

Trading during the morning was on the largest scale of any corresponding period for many weeks, more than 800,000 shares changing hands in the first hour. The market lacked breadth, however, activity centered mainly in the low-priced issues. Outstanding features of these groups, in addition to those already named, including Chesapeake & Ohio, Kansas City Southern, Pittsburg Coal and 2½ City Stocks, equipments and oils cancelled their partial recoveries, but junior rails remained strong, with buying of New Haven as the chief feature. 32 June—cld.

It is thought the gang is making towards the railway line the rails from Hudson Bay Junction to The Pas. So far the robbers have traveled thirty miles from the scene of their latest hold up. The police have faith that they have a good dragnet for the capture at Mileage 11 but anticipate a battle.

HON. F. B. CARVELL
ONCE A RADICAL

Present 'Friend of the Railways'

ASSIONATE FIGHTER
Office He Proved a Disappointment — Democratic Ardor Has Vanished.

By M. GRATTAN O'LEARY.
JOHN MORLEY once wrote that it was the history of militant democracy that its prophets too often turned out to be apostates to the cause. One remembers the phrase in contemplation of the fact that Mr. F. B. Carvell, now in the spotlight of public attention for his avowedly higher railway rates, was once regarded as the rising hope of democrats in Canada. Five years ago, indeed, the House of Commons rang with his denunciations of the "mergers" and "trusts" and no politician in our public life surpassed him as a radical adventurer. Although expected to keep step with the march of his party, which did not often exceed the speed of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's cautious Liberalism, Mr. Carvell had an apparently uncontrollable conscience which from time to time broke forth into passionate declamation against the wrongs of the common people. High protection was his special target for attack, and not even Dr. Michael Clark nor Mr. T. A. Crerar have surpassed him in power and vigor of assault upon the projected interests. The boot and shoe industry he struggled out for particular attention, and the House of Commons and the press gallery have vivid recollections of his duels with Sir Herbert Ames. Sir Herbert, a protectionist of the first water, who believes, or at all events used to appear to believe, that Bright, Cobden, Adam Smith and all who agreed with them should be hanged, was the most formidable champion of tariffism that Parliament had seen in years, and scarcely a session went by without his engaging in bitter conflict with Carvell, but seldom with success. Carvell, unlike most advocates of free trade, was not content to deal with the doctrinaire side of the question. An indefatigable worker and of intensely practical turn of mind, he had little use for theories, preferring to fight with weapons of reality and concrete facts. His speeches, in fact, were powerful briefs against the operations of a high tariff, teeming with figures and facts, and therefore were as effective as the more academic discourses of free traders like Mr. Clark.

"Fearless, Fighting Frank"
THOSE were the days when Carvell earned the title of "Fearless, Fighting Frank." The West, seemingly swinging away from the old economic Liberalism, began to regard him as the sentinel of the new democracy, and men of all parties and of none came to look upon him as a sort of watchdog of the Treasury. In 1916 and 1917 his reputation was at its greatest height, and by long odds the greatest blow which Sir Wilfrid Laurier suffered in the country in the latter year was when Carvell deserted his standard. From that day the interest of the Union Government, however, Carvell's reputation declined. For this there were many reasons. He was not, in the first place, a good administrator. It is one thing to be a great advocate and an effective critic, and quite another thing to administer a department of Government that calls for judgment, business experience and a judicial mind. Mr. Carvell, impulsive to the last degree, soon showed that he was essentially a critic. But the thing that allied most against his reputation as a radical crusader was that Mr. Carvell's conduct in office did not prove consistent with his professions in Opposition. It was hard, for example, to reconcile his family haunts in private cars at public expense with his fervid denunciations of the Cabinet's extravagance. Nor did he give much evidence of attempting to carry out any of the reforms for which in Opposition "Frank" pleaded with such earnestness and fire. The truth is that in office Mr. Carvell, so far as the records show, practically struck his radical colors. The vice which in other years had thundered against injustices and wrongs became strangely stilled. When his allegiance whom Mr. Carvell used to denounce as Bourbon and reactionaries, took up Government ownership, he stood by. Indeed, he became conspicuous as the advocate of private ownership, both in and out of Parliament, and the Montreal interests, in the old days, had come to regard him as a menace to their interests now beamed upon him as their champion and friend. The history of democratic leaders, duly pointed to by John Morley, had repeated itself again. Not that one in impenetrable integrity of Carvell's personal honesty is above reproach. It is simply that, like so many others, his democratic ardor upears and fades out with the years of youth. There is something about advancing years that breeds conservatism and blunts the reformer's spear, and Mr. Carvell, excellent radical, pleading for the "financial stability" of the Canadian people, seems an apt illustration of the fact.

Our Beautiful Tongue
"He looked me straight in the eye," declared the witness, "and said, 'There, sir,' interrupted the lawyer, 'you've flatly contradicted your former statement.' 'How's that?' inquired the other. 'You said before that he bent his gaze on you. Will you please explain how he could look you straight in the eye with a bent gaze?'"

John M. Imrie a Young Man Who Has Done Much and

JOHN M. IMRIE, who has become proprietor of the Hamilton Times, is a distinguished figure in the newspaper and business world while still in his thirties. He became a conspicuous figure during the newspaper strike of last fall and the press industry of the Canadian Daily Newspaper Association and late secretary of the Canadian Press Association, he conducted the fight against the overwhelming demands of the pulp and paper industries of Canada. In the words of shrewd men concerned in that probe, Mr. Imrie was the source of energy throughout that investigation, which resulted in a curtailment of the increasing demands of the paper interests, and in the saving of scores of Canadian newspapers from "going under" because of the high price of paper. Although Mr. Imrie was never engaged in the paper industry, his knowledge of facts and figures and his grasp of the economic situation of that industry was so thorough, that the counsel for the paper interests at the inquiry were confounded. It is on record that, at the conclusion of the newspaper inquiry, the lawyers for the paper interests rose and stated that they had been laboring at a disadvantage throughout the probe, as they had not a Mr. Imrie to instruct them. E. R. C. Clarkson, who acted as auditor for the Government during the inquiry was warm in his praise of the brilliant fashion in which Mr. Imrie handled the writer of adroitness figures involved in the case. Mr. Imrie, who is the son of a former Toronto publisher, was with the MacLean Publishing Company, editing "The Printer and Publisher" when the newspaper men of Canada picked him out as the one man to take hold of and reorganize the Canadian Press Association. He became the first permanent secretary of the Association in 1911, and remained in that post until last year when he became Manager of an affiliated body, the Canadian Daily Newspaper Association.

By J. L. LOVE.
DR. R. E. HENRY, the new minister of Deer Park Presbyterian Church Toronto, took to the pulpit early. When he was five years old his parents came to Toronto and he grew up on Main street. Here the youngest son of the house fixed up a corner of the dining room in as close an imitation as possible of the household of the pulpit in the old Cook's Church. Here he held service on Sunday for as many members of the household as could be induced to attend. No sermon was preached, but extracts from the commentaries in an old Matthew Henry Bible were read for a time. It looked as though the teaching profession were going to claim him. Mr. Henry won the gold medal in the habit of advising his students not to get licensed and married in the same year. Mr. Henry managed to pull off both events within a week. He returned to Brandon, but although he held two teaching appointments for a time in Kent and Waterloo counties, he finally chose the Christian ministry as his life's vocation. Graduating from Knox and University in 1905, Mr. Henry went to Winnipeg and the coast. During his stay in Brandon, Mr. Henry worked in close conjunction with Ralph Connor on the old Manitoba and North-western Home Missions Committee, and under the leadership of the veteran Dr. Robertson, whose life story was written by the famous novelist. During his stay in Brandon he spent some time among the Indians on the Berens River Reserve, Lake Winnipeg. On his return journey to Selkirk one of those sudden storms for which Lake Winnipeg is notorious struck the little sloop, and Dr. Henry declares that but for the superb seamanship displayed by the Rev. J. McLaughlin, the Methodist missionary to the Indians, the party would never have reached land.

SOME years ago, an eminent children's specialist, of Chicago, asserted: "The finest nurse I ever had was a Canadian. She was in my employ seven years. We love to get Canadian nurses." "Why?" I asked, and his answer was: "Because they are so trustworthy and so modest." And now when I ponder over Edward F. Sealie's will I wonder, if it were possible for him to come back and reply to the question that rose to a multitude of lips when his wishes were made public, if he, too, might not answer in the words of the Chicago specialist: "Because he was so trustworthy and so modest." As one of his classmates, I recall after twenty-five years the slim, lank-haired youth from Charing Cross, who slipped quietly into form 3B of the Chatham Collegiate; and among stalwarts that included Bill Fraser, of Wallaceburg, Harvey Kennedy, of Dover, and Jack Young, a local boy. Art Walker's extreme boyishness and fair impressionable complexion stood out the more clearly by contrast. No pronounced assurance marked his entrance among us, but a modest and super-consciousness that betrayed itself in rising color, evidence of a sensitive nature that even with later close associations was never quite overcome. "Was Bill Penser, I believe, who nicknamed him 'Rosey,' after one of the colorful betrayals, and the name was afterwards used when anyone wanted to 'get Art's goat' for if he disliked one thing more than any other it was being made conspicuous. LADY MACDONALD
JOHN A.'S GREAT AID

And Thus, in Degree, She Was
One of the Builders of Canada.

SIR JOHN'S TRIBUTE
"To Her Tender Solitude I
Owe That I Am Here
To-day."

THE death of Baroness Macdonald, of Earncliffe, nee Agnes Bernard, removes a public character long in the front ranks of Canadian society and, in degree, one of the builders of Canada, for she was a "helpmeet" to her husband in public affairs as well as private. During his dangerous illness, many years before his final one, when it seemed that the Angel of Death was hovering very near the doors of Sir John Macdonald's chamber, she literally nursed him back to life again. "To her tender solicitude I owe it that I am here to-day," he once said in a speech delivered in Toronto during the time he was in the cold shades of Opposition after the Pacific scandal tempest. And during those dark days it was her stout heart that buoyed him up. More than that, she nursed and watched for years his coming in and going out with steadfast care. When Sir John died at 10 p.m. on June 6, 1891, the waiting newspapers were invited into Earncliffe by Joseph Pope (now Sir Joseph), who was private secretary to "John A." With him were Dr. W. R. Powell and Sir James Grant. The reporters were shown into the library and the doctors were telling the story of the last hours of the Old Chief when Lady Macdonald's voice was heard, saying, "Mr. Pope, please ask the gentlemen if they will take a little refreshment." Later one of the visitors asked if Lady Macdonald would care to issue a message to the people of Canada, and he was granted an interview. He recalls that she received him in the drawing room and was clad in a violet dress. With her was Sir John's grandson, the son of the present Sir Hugh John Macdonald, police magistrate of Winnipeg. The lad, who was then about 11, or 12, was very nervous and much more affected by the big event than any of his elders.

Sympathy From Queen
WHEN the news man, who was present when the final bulletin was put, read it, he rushed across to a tent in which a C.P.R. operator was waiting, with the bulletin for which the country was waiting. It was two hours or more before he got back to the Parliament Buildings, and when he did there was a message of sympathy from Queen Victoria. The reporter at once jumped into a cab and drove back to Earncliffe and personally handed the Queen's cable to Lady Macdonald. Then for the first time he saw tears in her eyes. The wells had broken, and from that time until the funeral in Cataraugus Cemetery on the following Friday Lady Macdonald was in a state of collapse. She managed, however, to attend the funeral service in the little church of St. Alban's on Sandy Hill on the Thursday, but did not take part in the procession to the station where the body was put on the car for Kingston.

It seems that when out walking one day he entered what he took to be a barber's shop. Greatly to his surprise it proved to be empty of furniture, nor was there anyone there to attend to him. He tried a second, and then a third establishment with like results. Eventually he gave it up as a bad job. Later the composer told a friend of his rather puzzling experience. "What made you think they were barbers' shops?" he was asked. "Well," replied Signor Puccini, "each had a sign 'Toilet' prominently displayed."

MISSING CHILD IS FOUND DYING

Little Dorothy Rogers Evidently Fell Off Roof of Roxbury House.

(Boston Globe.)
A six-year-old girl, identified as Dorothy Rogers of 417 Harrison avenue, South End, who was found unconscious in a pool of her blood in the rear of the house at 69 East Lenox street, Roxbury, at six this morning, died at the City Hospital at 10.45 a. m. without regaining consciousness.
Dorothy Rogers was reported to the police of the East Dedham street station missing at midnight last night.
She evidently fell forty feet from the roof of the vacant house at 69 East Lenox street at an early hour this morning. People of the neighborhood were aroused at six this morning by moans of a child and an investigation revealed the dying child in the alley. She was semi-conscious and bleeding profusely from many wounds. Her eyes were blackened and she suffered internal injuries besides broken bones were in her legs.
Patrolmen Donovan and Crowley removed her to the City Hospital where her name was placed on the danger list.
On investigation the two policemen found the girl's hat on a sill of the third-story of the building near which her body was found. The doors of the building were open and the police theory is that she wandered into the building early this morning and went to the roof and went to sleep.
When she awakened it was dark, according to the police theory, and she was frightened and started to walk and unconsciously walked over the edge of the roof and fell forty feet to the alley. In falling her hat came off and was caught and held in the sill at the third story as she dropped.
Police men were sent to the home of

The missing Dorothy Rogers, whose parents were assumed to be beside of the dying child at the City Hospital.
She was identified by Mrs. Lillian Rogers, who told the police the story of the child's disappearance. She said she was in Blackstone Park, South End, last evening just before eight, and the child left her to go to a shop to purchase an ice cream cone. The child did not return and the mother said she sought for her until midnight, when she reported her disappearance to police headquarters. Mrs. Rogers then went to her home.
Three Times in Hospital.
Today the police were informed that the Rogers child has been a patient at the City Hospital three times within the past year. In July she was taken there from her home, at an address different from the present one, suffering from gas poisoning. Previous to that she was taken to the hospital from her home in Linden Park street, Roxbury, to be treated for injuries received in falling from a window of her home.
Today the police found a mattress on the roof of the house from which, it is believed, the child fell to her death. It is suspected she wandered into the open door and went to the roof and slept on the mattress until she was awakened in the dark at an early hour, and then wandered to the edge and fell from the roof. Capt. Skilling is not yet finished with his investigations in this case. There are a few puzzling circumstances which he is clearing up before closing his work. Medical Examiner Leary also is investigating and will perform an autopsy.

DUTCHMAN INVENTS PHANTOM AIRPLANE TO CARRY BOMBS.
Paris, Sept. 23.—Surpassing the dreams of Jules Verne and the prophecies of H. G. Wells, Fokker, the Hollander who invented the German Chase airplane has now obtained patents for the construction of "Phantom Airplanes" which will, he says, revolutionize warfare.
The "Phantom Airplane" is an airplane piloted and directed by wireless signals sent from a "Parent Plane." The "Phantom" carries no human board, but underneath its wings is fixed one huge bomb.
One man, riding the "Parent Plane," can direct, says Fokker, a fleet of hundred or more "Phantoms."

UNSKILLED LABOR IS UNOBTAINABLE

Comment of Montreal Labor Bureaus and Big Employers on Situation.

(Montreal Star.)
In spite of the fact that almost fabulous wages are being offered for absolutely unskilled labor there is apparently little inclination on the part of laborers and others in the city to offer themselves for jobs, according to the information given to The Star this morning by representatives of some twenty well known companies throughout this and the neighboring provinces.
The office of the Labor Bureaus Company, Reg. St. Lawrence boulevard, was crowded with men this morning, but had not come in search of the services of the agency in finding for them men to occupy many positions which were vacant in their firms.
Owing to the strike yesterday of electricians, linemen, armature winders and others, in the neighborhood of Niagara Falls, it is stated, there are thousands of positions today vacant in the various companies which derive their power, and incidentally their income, from the falls, and others near them. One large company, which has 1,000 positions of all sorts in the electrical trade to offer to men at the Campbell Falls, has already a representative in the city, who is doing everything possible to obtain men for the work. ## HOLY GEE, MY HEAD FEELS GOOD TODAY!

Pain Over Eyes is Gone, Headache Cured, Catarrh Relieved!
This is the Common Experience of Those Who Breathe the Vapor of Catarrhazone
Remember this, Catarrh can never be cured or even relieved by a cough syrup, a spray, or tablet treatment. Trouble is these remedies slip quickly over the sore irritated membranes, drop into the stomach and do little else but harm digestion. It's different with "Catarrhazone"—you inhale it. Every breath sends healing balsams to the inflamed tissues. Tightness, soreness and inflammation are cured by healing pine essences. The cough dies away, throat is strengthened, hoarseness is cured. Nothing is so simple, so convenient, so certain to cure as Catarrhazone. The dollar outfit includes the inhaler, costs $1, and is guaranteed to cure. Small size 50c, trial size 25c, all dealers, or The Catarrhazone Co., Kingston, Ont.

ACCIDENT VICTIM LOST HIS MEMORY

Montreal Man Struck by Automobile Suffered Concussion of the Brain.

Struck by an automobile at the corner of Amherst and St. Catherine streets, Montreal, this week, Jules Laverdure suffered a concussion of the brain and had his right temple severely gashed. The shock caused the victim to lose his memory. According to the report made by Constable Laland, on traffic duty at the corner, Laverdure was crossing St. Catherine street from west to east, when an automobile driven by Alexandre Bourdon of Limoulou, Que., turned towards the north on Amherst. Laverdure retreated, and then stepped forward, striking the midguard of the automobile. He fell and struck his head on the pavement. Picked up by the constable and the driver of the machine, he was taken into Vadeboncoeur's drug store at the corner, where he was given first aid. He was able to give his name and address, but could remember nothing of the accident. An ambulance from the Notre Dame Hospital was summoned and he was admitted to a ward. He later lost his memory completely.

AUTOMOBILES MAY BE RUN BY GAS MADE FROM STRAW

Washington, Sept. 23.—The operation of automobiles by gas made from straw is a possibility of the future. "A gas made from wheat, oat, and rye straws," the department of agriculture announced today, "is now being produced upon a small scale at the experimental farm at Arlington, Va. Although an automobile has been operated with the combustible gas, as well as for cooking, the possibilities of straw gas are not yet fully determined."
A representative of one of Canada's largest pulp and paper companies, which has extensive interests in the eastern and middle positions of the Dominion, is also in the city on the look-out for men. This man told The Star today that the company is short of more than 300 men at two small camps, Ste. Agathe and St. Jovite, from whence he came, and that already the lumbering industry in the Laurentians is being held up by lack of this labor.
Asked why the company was unable to obtain men, he stated that the men, after working a few days and getting enough money to keep themselves for some short time, leave the place secretly. He mentioned the fact that labor this year is better paid than it has been for some time and that, in spite of this, it is almost unobtainable. He stated that last year the same company had no difficulty in obtaining lumberers, although then only paying $85 per month with board. This year, he said, the company was paying no less than $80 per month with board included.
H. E. Ibbotson, owner of the Labor Bureaus Company, Reg., was unable to explain the lack of men, as also was Mr. Kirner, superintendent of the company. Both officials stated that the only reason they could ascribe to the lack of volunteers for work giving a good rate of remuneration, was laziness and lack of stamina on the part of present day unskilled labor.

Husky Men Are Eating Sa'lads

They Are Also Eating Rich Pastry and Highly Seasoned Foods That Call for Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

In the big, palatial restaurants of the large cities their principal patronage comes from the out-of-town visitors. No lunch counter sandwiches for them. They like the entrees, salads, rich pastry and a cup of black coffee with rich cream. This combination is likely to overwork the stomach, to cause acidity with sour risings, gassiness, a feeling of fullness and other such distresses due to indigestion or dyspepsia. Whenever you go in any city in the U. S. or Canada you will find Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets on sale at 60 cents a box. Take one or two after eating as they relieve the acid stomach and at the same time help digest the food.

Keeping Fit

It is because of the war that the perfect physical man has all at once become the idol of the world. You can make of yourself, even rather late in life, almost anything you like. You are not going to get fit in one day, one month, or perhaps, a year, unless you take enough outdoor exercise to keep the circulation going and practise the athlete's first principle—to keep the system clean. He does not give his body a chance to absorb poisons. He not only takes his cold shower, after exercise, but he knows a cleansing of the intestines is important, and he takes occasionally a good regulator and liver cleanser, such as a dose of castor oil, or what is much better, a tiny pill made up of May-apple, aloin and jalap, and sold by almost all druggists in the land as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

Keep the kidneys in good order also. Avoid too much meat, alcohol or tea. Drink plenty of pure water, preferably hot water, before meals, and drive the uric acid out of the system by taking "Anuric" (anti-uric-acid). This can be obtained at almost any drug store.

Send a bottle of water to the chemist at Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., and you will receive free medical advice as to whether the kidneys are affected. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog, you suffer from backache, sick-headaches, dizzy spells, or twinges and pains of lumbago, rheumatism or gout; or sleep is disturbed two or three times a night. Take heed, before too late! Get Anuric (anti-uric-acid), for it will put new life into your kidneys and your entire system. Ask your nearest druggist for it or send Dr. Pierce ten cents for trial package of "Anuric."

SOME TORONTO MEN PREDICT LOWER PRICES

Toronto, Sept. 23.—Clothing prices will come next spring according to several clothiers in this city, although they say the price of English woolen will not drop. One prominent clothier yesterday said that while his profits never had been smaller than at present he would reduce his price because he had a large stock of clothing and had to dispose of it. Another attributed the cause for the prospective lowering in price to the fact that the public had rebelled against the high price.

PRINCE RETURNS TO PORT OF SPAIN

A STRONG TICKET FOR CHARLOTTE

Messrs. Scovil, Mann, Kennedy and Lawrence to Carry Government Standard.

St. Stephen, Sept. 22.—Four strong and popular men were chosen as the government standard-bearers at the convention here today. They are John W. Scovil of St. Stephen, Harry W. Mann of St. Stephen, Frank Kennedy of St. Andrews and Hugh R. Lawrence of St. George. There was a large attendance at the convention from every part of Charlotte county. The outlook for a government victory in this constituency is very bright, due to the impression made on the public by the progressive administration of the former government. There is a strong feeling among many of those in Charlotte county who have not previously been supporters of Hon. Mr. Foster's party that the government should be continued in office and enabled to carry out the policies which are doing so much to advance the interests of the people.

EMPLOYEES GET $57,000 BY WILL

Boston, Sept. 23—Seventy-two employees of John R. Ainsley & Co., wholesale fancy dry goods house of 27-29 Harrison avenue, are jubilating over the receipt of sums totaling $57,000 left to them by their late employer and senior partner of the firm, John R. Ainsley of 485 Ansonburg road, Boston.

Sums of $1,000 were left to each employee who had been with Mr. Ainsley more than eight years; $500 to each who had been with him less than eight but more than five, and $200 to every employe of between three and five years' standing.

48 Given $1,000 Each. In the first group there were 43 happy beneficiaries, representing a payment of $43,000 by the Ainsley estate; in the second group 13 who received $7,500 more; and in the third group 10 persons who divided $2,000 among them. A grand total of 78 employes thus fattened their bank accounts by $57,000 in the aggregate through the munificence of their former employer. Eight of them were women.

The bulk of the Ainsley estate went to the widow. The exact size of it was not divulged by Attorney William H. Morgan, but it is said to exceed $1,000,000. That clause affecting employes of John R. Ainsley & Co. reads as follows: "Second—To those employes of John R. Ainsley & Co. who shall be in the employ of the firm at the time of my decease I give the following sums of money:

"To each of those who have served the firm as employes during a period of eight years or more the sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000) to each of them.

"To each of those who have served the firm as employes during a period of five years or more and less than eight years the sum of five hundred dollars ($500) to each of them.

"To each of those who have served the firm as employes during a period of three years or more but less than five years the sum of two hundred dollars ($200) to each of them."

Many With Company From Start. It was a noticeable fact that most of those affected by the unusual provisions were employes of more than eight years' standing.

"We have many employes who have been with us since the organization of the company in 1908," it was explained yesterday by James McCallister, partner in the firm. "They came with us from Brown Durrell."

Mr. Ainsley, like his two partners, had formerly been a member of the firm of Brown Durrell Company. He was born Oct. 8, 1846, in one of the old sections of Boston, son of Thomas and Hannah (Brooks) Ainsley. Starting from the

BUSINESS MAN TAKES HIS LIFE

Former President of Hide Company in Boston Swallows Poison on Steamer at Detroit.

Detroit, Sept. 23.—Dependent over the issuance of warrants charging him with embezzling nearly $50,000, Biar Crohon of Grand Rapids, formerly president of the Great Western Hide Company of Boston, took poison on the Detroit and Cleveland steamer Western States just before it docked here and died half an hour later at the Receiving Hospital.

Grohon who was known during the war as the "hide king," through his reputed concern of practically the entire American hide market, was arrested in Grand Rapids, Sept. 13 on a Grand Jury warrant issued in Boston. His son-in-law Phil Paris, secretary of the company was arrested at the same time on a similar charge.

The warrant was issued on complaint of the Anglo-South American Bank of New York. It was reported at the time that claims against Crohon's company exceeded $1,000,000.

From a letter found on Crohon's body it is apparent that he had tried several times to kill himself in the last two or three days. On the envelope was a note saying that he intended to kill himself and asking that his body be sent to his wife, in Grand Rapids.

"If you can, turn me over to the Jewish people here and send me home with my baggage," the note said, "and my son-in-law are innocent and I hope people will be convinced that we had no intention to defraud. Only conditions prevented me from paying my obligations."

Crohon recently was in Corry, Penn., where he attempted to commit suicide by taking gas, according to a note found on his body. He told of this attempt at suicide and said he was going to Cleveland and from there to Detroit by water. He requested that if his body was found it should be sent to his wife.

One note which it is believed was written only a day or two ago said: "This is plain suicide. Send body to Mrs. Biar Crohon, 1488 Mill street, Grand Rapids."

Mr. Crohon was a member of the firm of Crohon & Roden, said to be the largest hide company in the world, with main offices in Boston. He also was the owner of restaurants and shoe stores in various parts of the country.

His wife and three children survive. Biar Crohon was formerly president of the Great Western Hide Company of Boston. On Sept. 13 he with Phil M. Paris, treasurer of the company, was arrested in Grand Rapids, for the Boston police on a warrant charging larceny of $48,972 from the Anglo-South American Bank Ltd., Broadway, New York, Oct. 15, 1919. The complaint alleged that the bank financed a leather deal and had not received returns.

Crohon and Paris were taken to Boston and when arraigned both pleaded not guilty. They were released on $10,000 bail each.

DRAGGED WOMAN ABOUT BY HAIR

Fatal Shooting in Windsor Result of Extraordinary Attack.

Windsor, Ont., Sept. 23.—Following a drunken brawl at the home of Mrs. Lena Cosak, in Ford, one morning this week, Andrew Villame, 80 years old, living at 64 Staubin road, Ford, was shot in the breast close to the heart, and died two hours later in Hotel Dieu. Mrs. Cosak, who is said to have fired the shot, was arrested several hours later charged with the crime. The woman is a Russian, only 23 years old, and has an 18-months old baby, who was taken to the jail with her. She neither speaks or understands English.

Villame with five companions called at Mrs. Cosak's home about 1 o'clock Monday morning and demanded liquor. Witnesses declare all were intoxicated. When they were refused admittance to the place, it is alleged, they forced the doors and knocked Mrs. Cosak down. Then one of the men seized her by the hair and attempted to drag her about the room, but she escaped the grip of the drunken man, seized a small revolver from a dresser and began to fire. The first shot went wild, but the second found the mark, and Villame dropped with a bullet hole in his left breast.

News of the row had been telephoned to Ford headquarters, and two officers arrived and arrested everybody in sight, including Steve Gefanno, Christian Wolica, Andy Morris and Jeffrey Kitsan. The men were arraigned before Magistrate Miers Monday afternoon and will be held as witnesses. Mrs. Cosak, through an interpreter, attempted to talk but was in such a nervous condition that the magistrate ordered her remanded for a week.

HORSE IS STILL IN THE RUNNING

Talk of Becoming Extinct Is Absurd, Horsehoers Say in Annual Convention.

Chicago, Sept. 23.—All this talk about the horse becoming extinct because of the universal use of automobiles is idle gossip, according to the delegates who assembled here for the twenty-ninth annual convention of the Master Horsehoers' National Protective Association. Not only are horses increasing in numbers, but also in value, according to official statements, and transportation by horsepower still costs less than by motor truck. The horsehoers are optimistic about the future of their business, their trouble at present being that of securing assistants, even at wages of $9 and $10 a day of short hours. To shoe a horse all round today costs $6, including four new shoes. Over ninety per cent of the shoes are made by machinery, hand work having gone out of date. He did away with the royal half-halter. He did away with the royal University, while similar schools are conducted elsewhere. The delegates say building by horsepower within a radius of six miles costs only 62-3 cents per hundred pounds, while the cost by motor truck is seventeen cents per hundred pounds, with an additional eight cents every time the motor makes a stop.

KILLS WIFE AND SELF IN STREET

Worcester, Mass., Sept. 22.—In the presence of hundreds of High School of Commerce pupils in Walnut street, Clarence A. Shays, 23, of 8 Johns street, a taxicab driver, fatally shot his wife, Florence D. Shays, and then turned the revolver on himself and fired another shot through his own head.

He died in the City Hospital and his wife died ten minutes later at the same institution, whither they had been taken in the police ambulance immediately after the shooting.

The tragedy, which horrified the boys and girls who witnessed it, was the culmination of a series of family quarrels. These unpleasantnesses lasted until the girl left home, being ordered out by her husband.

Their marriage took place less than two months ago. As a result of a quarrel Shays is said to have chased his wife from the house and ordered her never to return. She went to the home of her sister, Mrs. Jennie Woods.

In company with her sister, she went to the Union station to see a brother-off for college. On the way home the two young women met Shays driving a taxicab in Walnut street. On seeing his wife, Shays stopped the cab and demanded of his wife that she return to their home. She refused. He whipped out a revolver and shot her through the left eye. The fatally wounded woman staggered, clutching at the cloak of her sister, and tearing a large piece from it as she fell.

Immediately thereafter Shays turned the revolver upon his own head, firing a bullet that rendered him immediately unconscious. The police were notified and removed the man and his wife to the hospital, where they expired.

Mr. Amey sustained terrible injuries and died this evening. Drummond's injuries, while extremely painful, are not considered serious.

PARIS WILL SCRAP ITS GREAT WHEEL

Howls of Criticism Come From Amusement Seekers of French Capital.

Paris, Sept. 23.—Although France generally approves of the government's policy of suppressing all revolutions, a howl of criticism has been raised over news that the "Big Wheel," which has offered amusement to hundreds of thousands of visitors during the last twenty years, is to be scrapped.

The wheel is a duplicate of the famous Ferris Wheel, constructed in Chicago for the World's Exposition, but unlike its Chicago counterpart, which suffered from many mechanical ailments, the "Grande Roue" has not missed its daily revolution since 1900, when nearly 1,000,000 Parisians thronged the Champs-Élysées quarter to watch the first daring passengers take a reckless voyage skyward.

The long life of the mechanism is considered, by French architects, as a splendid proof of the wearing qualities of French metals, for although the plans were designed by British and American builders the materials were wholly French, specially prepared in the foundries of Hautmont.

The wheel has a diameter of 135 yards and weighed 1,250,000 pounds. It soon became one of the popular places to be visited by tourists, with the result that a score of "Big Wheels" whisked, some of which provided the scene for a number of notable duels.

However, all of these features will soon be forgotten, as the site of the "Great Wheel" is to be used for the building of a series of modern apartments in an effort to relieve Paris's housing problem.

FINDS CRIME LESS IN 1920.
State Probation Secretary Credits Decrease to Prohibition.
There was a 34 per cent. decrease in the number of offenders brought before the courts in seventeen of the larger cities in New York state during the first three months of the year, from the same period last year, according to Charles I. Chute, secretary of the State Probation Commission, who attributes the decrease in crime to prohibition. His figures show that 45,148 offenders of all ages were arraigned in these courts during January, February and March, 1920, whereas 68,538 offenders were brought before the same courts during the first three months last year. The decrease is 23,392, or 34 per cent.

"In the opinion of practically all the judges and probation officers consulted this remarkable decrease in court work is attributed largely to the effects of prohibition," Mr. Chute says. "In practically all of the courts by far the greatest decrease has been in cases of public intoxication, disorderly conduct and other offenses growing out of drink, although there has been a decrease in other offenses as well.

"Every court covered by the investigation showed a reduction in court cases due to prohibition. There were no exceptions. For instance, in all the magistrates' courts of New York City there was a decrease of 52 per cent in cases of public intoxication. Only 914 persons were brought before all the magistrates' courts for the first three months of this year for intoxication, as compared with 1,914 for the same period last year.

"One police justice writing to the commission expressed the view of many when he said, 'Prohibition has made the police business dull compared with the old regime.' A probation officer states that he finds prohibition is instrumental in bringing about better home conditions.
"A woman probation officer who deals with delinquent boys and girls says: 'Prohibition has turned the tide for the women and children. Despite the cost of living, men, who formerly neglected their families have been able in many cases to start bank accounts, make payments on homes, clothe their families well, put coal in the cellar and get food in the larder, things unknown in some of these homes before the saloons were closed. The best of it is that the majority of these men tell me they don't want the former conditions to return because they have learned what enjoyment can be gotten out of home life not disturbed by drink.

"The commission finds that whereas the decrease in court arraignments in the courts studied was 34 per cent, the decrease in the number placed on probation was only 26 per cent. This indicates that the probation system is being used in a larger percentage of large cases. Reports also show that with the elimination of habitual drunkards and other intoxication cases coming before the court, which nearly always failed when placed on probation, more effective results are being obtained by probation officers. The opinion was almost unanimous among the probation officers that the effects of prohibition are beneficial to their work."

The Laxy S ranch in Texas includes 250,000 acres in a solid tract, and its owner, Bob Slaughter, owns four other large ranches in West Texas and New Mexico. He and his son, who was in the air service during the war, use an airplane constantly in visiting his various properties, frequently making the trip of 500 miles from the nearest ranch to Dallas. In finding scattered herds to be rounded up for branding or vaccination, the airplane beats the old cow pony. The other day the two men flew from the ranch to Lubbock, 57 miles, for breakfast.
