Church Union May Be Issue In Next Federal Election CITY TO HAVE BIG BUILDING YEAR

MAY CARRY THE FIGHT TO PEOPLE

This Suggested if Church Union Not Endorsed by Parliament.

SO SAYS SMYTHE

Pringle Says Union Will Go on in Any Case—Edinburgh Heard From.

Ottawa, May 1.—"If the Church Union bill now before the Federal Parliament has to be withdrawn the next Dominion elections will be fought on the issue of the spiritual independence of the churches of this country," declared Rev. Principal James Smythe, head of the Wesleyan Church Theological College, Montreal, last night, in addressing the largest and most enthusiastic Church Union meeting yet held in the capital.

A crowd estimated at more than 2,000 entirely filled Chalmers Presbyterian Church for the meeting.

Other speakers were Rev. Dr. John Pringle, ex-Moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church; Rev. E. W. Oliver, Presbyterian College, Saskatoon; Rev. Dr. W. Smith, principal of the Presbyterian College, Vancouver; and Theodor Gibson, of Montreal, who presented the layman's viewpoint.

Rev. Dr. Pringle said that whether the legislation passed or not, the Union would go on. They would go into the Union, he said, even if they could not take their share of the church property with them.

Edinburgh Heard From

Toronto, May 1.—Rev. Dr. R. J. Wilson, Secretary of the Joint Committee on Church Union, has announced the receipt at headquarters here of a cablegram from Edinburgh, Scotland, indicating that the eastern section of the Pan-Protestant Council has through its executive there intimated that the proposed United Church of Canada would have a right, on application, to be received as a member of the Evangelical Alliance of the Reform Churches of the World. This follows notification some weeks ago of similar opinion from the western section of the Alliance at a meeting held at Newport News, Va., some weeks ago.

The cable received by Dr. Wilson was signed by Rev. Dr. C. W. Gordon of Winnipeg and Rev. Principal Clarence McKinnon of Halifax, who laid the matter before the eastern section of the Alliance in Edinburgh yesterday. The message said:

AUSTRALIAN PAPER DENOUNCES BUDGET

Marlborough Age Says It is a "Little England" Measure.

Melbourne, May 1.—The Marlborough Age, commenting on the British Budget as outlined by Chancellor of the Exchequer Snowden, says: "It is a little England budget and takes small account of the Dominions. The reduction in expenditures was largely made possible by the abandonment of the Singapore base scheme and the deserting of Empire interests in the Pacific."

"The reductions in customs and the declaration against preference were made in disregard of the Dominions. During Great Britain's lean years, when her other customers were almost bankrupt, the Dominions kept her industries going and yielded her a substantial income. While Great Britain prefers to trade with the foreigners she must expect the Dominions to suit themselves and fix their preferences accordingly."

Famous Arundel Castle To Let

London, May 1.—Arundel Castle, the most famous of the stately homes of England, is to let on a five years' lease at a rent of $40,000 a year.

Arundel, a massive mediæval building, with battlemented walls and towers, crowning one of the lovely Sussex hills, is the seat of the 18-year-old Duke of Norfolk, Premier Duke and Hereditary Marshall and Chief Butler of England. More than five million dollars have been spent on it in the last century. It is full of priceless treasures, but mediæval ideas have been followed too closely for comfort. The Baron's hall is 115 feet long. The foundation goes back to legendary days.

KILLED WITH LIFE POLICY IN HAND

Woman Struck By Train in Ontario Carried Insurance Papers.

Hamilton, Ont., May 1.—Mrs. George Windett of Stony Creek, formerly of Sherbrooke, Que., was killed yesterday by a C. N. R. work train near the Stony Creek station. She was carrying at the time the insurance policies on her own life and the lives of her two daughters. The premiums on these policies were due yesterday, and it is thought she was coming to Hamilton to pay them.

Mrs. Windett was taking a short cut to the station, and in stepping out of the way of an approaching freight train was struck by a work train traveling in an opposite direction.

LABOR LEADERS ARE HURT IN EXPLOSION

Two May Die in Cleveland—Police Suspect It is Bomb Outrage.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 1.—Eight persons, including five officers of the Sheet Metal Workers' Union, are injured, two probably fatally, as a result of a mysterious explosion which wrecked an automobile in the downtown district here last night. Police are working on the theory that a bomb was placed on the machine, arranged so as to discharge when the ignition switch was turned on to start the car. The blast hurled the labor leader from the car, wrecked the automobile and shattered windows in the section.

Wheeling, W. Va., May 1.—The last hope that any of the mine disaster victims would be found alive vanished last night when rescue workers penetrated entry No. 8 and found four additional bodies.

Mexico City, May 1.—The Mexican Government has approved the appointment of Thos. B. Hohler by the British Government as special envoy to study the situation here. He was formerly charge d'affaires in Mexico City.

New York, May 1.—(United Press.)—Despite rumors and official notification from the war department, Grover Cleveland Bergdoll was not aboard the Columbus, North German Lloyd liner, which arrived from Germany. The ship was met by officers upon arrival in quarantine.

WAS NOT SO BAD THIS MAY DAY

Demonstrations Occur in Europe But There is Not Much Bloodshed.

SOME BOMBING

Paris Has a Day Strike—Trotzky Issues Message—U. S. Troubles.

Paris, May 1.—(By Webb Miller, United Press Staff Correspondent.)—Europe's labor day—May 1—was recognized by a catenative cessation of work here today. Several hundred thousand employees of factories and shops obeyed the orders of the general Confederation of Labor for a May Day strike to demonstrate the solidarity and power of their organization.

A bomb was thrown into the corridor of an apartment where Fascists were holding a meeting. A woman was fatally injured. The police arrested several of the Fascists for carrying arms.

Paris, May 1.—(Canadian Press.)—Commandatore Laviosa of the Italian delegation to the Reparation Committee was at the Fascist meeting when the bomb exploded. The incident was characterized as a May Day manifestation on the part of Italian Communists.

Bombing in Athens.

Athens, May 1.—(United Press.)—One soldier and three workmen were wounded here today when troops exchanged shots with a group of May Day demonstrators they had ordered to disperse.

In Berlin.

(By CARL D. GROAT.)

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Berlin, May 1.—Police broke up an extensive gathering of Communist May Day demonstrators here today. Heavily armed mounted and foot detachments swarmed through the garden near the former Kaiser's palace, chasing the Reds before them when an outbreak seemed imminent.

The demonstration followed threats by Communists that "Red May Day" would be observed by widespread activity, despite the police ban on all agitation.

Mild clashes were reported in the suburb of Copenick when demonstrators ignored police orders to disperse. Many persons were arrested, some of them carrying concealed weapons, as demonstrators kept registering throughout the day. Shots were exchanged in some instances, but there were no reports of serious casualties.

Trotzky's Message.

Moscow, May 1.—War Minister Trotzky as Chairman of the Revolutionary War Council has addressed a special May Day order to the Red army and navy in which he says: "We are for peace and brotherhood. The Red army and navy are weapons of the defence of the Revolution, upon which all other countries are continuously making attacks. The military strength of the capitalist countries continue to grow, and they are using their steel for the purpose of oppression and enslavement, while our opposition steel, for the first time in history, serves the cause of Socialism."

Moscow, May 1.—Bolshevik Russia today departed from its usual custom of observing May Day with spectacular parades of units from the Red army and navy, confining its celebration to peaceful demonstrations at the tomb of Lenin.

In the U. S.

New York, May 1.—More than 8,000 iron workers went out on strike today, demanding a closed shop and wages of $12 for an eight hour day instead of $10.50. The strike marred what was expected to be a May Day of complete industrial peace.

Rests in Theatre; Is Found Dead

Cleveland, May 1.—Louis Varbrough, 38, of Cincinnati, needed sleep. He sought out a friend who cleans up after the night show at the Grand Theatre here. Long after the last patron has fled out and while away to sleep in a comfortable room, he walked to the mezzanine floor of the theatre and sat down on a comfortable couch.

"My, this feels good," he remarked. At 8:30 a. m. they found him still quiet in an atmosphere of luxury. His life had never been seen.

For 10 minutes Ben Fitch, his friend, worked to rouse him from that slumber. It was impossible. Physicians pronounced his death due to heart disease.

IS BILL THAT WOULD HELP THE LIBERALS

Proportional Representation Is Likely to Be Adopted This Session.

London, May 1.—(Canadian Press Cable.)—The Liberal Party is attached to a decision by the Liberal party at its meeting yesterday to press the Government to support and grant facilities for the passage of this session of the proportional representation bill sponsored by A. Rendall, Liberal member for Thornbury, Gloucestershire, which aims at creating county and town constituencies returning on an average five members each.

Heretofore the Liberal party had been divided on the question, but at the urgent request of Mr. Asquith and Lloyd George the meeting unanimously decided to support the bill.

Reports of additional casualties were also received from the States.

Desolation and Wreckage.

A picture of desolation and wreckage which left the wake of the storms which traversed a path roughly estimated at more than 1,000 miles long.

Its destructive force, however, seemed partly to have been spent as it spread eastward through Virginia last evening, no deaths having occurred there so far as known. But slight property damage, compared with other sections in which it struck, was reported from Virginia.

Entire communities were destroyed in some sections and there was no place in the storm's path which escaped wholly unscathed. In South Carolina, where the tornadoes were most disastrous, Portell Hill, twelve miles from Columbia was wrecked, seventeen being killed and others more or less seriously hurt. Among the dead were four school boys, with 75 other pupils were buried beneath the wreckage of school house.

Eight persons, five of them children, were injured and a score injured when they were trapped in their crashing houses at Anderson. Nearly fifty residences were razed in the Riverdale Mill village near there, while numbers of dwellings in the city proper were demolished.

At Florence, 15 persons met death, 50 were injured and 30 houses were destroyed. An undetermined number of negroes are reported missing.

Other fatalities were 12 in Sumter county, six in Lee county, six in Lexington county, one in Darlington county, and one in Columbus. Many of the dead and injured are negroes.

The village of Pickens, Ga., near Augusta, virtually was wiped from the map.

At Chipley, near Columbus, nine persons were killed and 30 injured. In Alabama a white child and four negroes were killed at Union Springs; four negroes were killed at Opelika; ten negroes were killed near Olio; a white woman was killed near Roanoke, and many suffered injuries.

In North Carolina a white man, his wife and son were killed near Bynum, and eight persons injured. Two children were slightly hurt at Charlotte. At Robertsonville, near Rocky Mount, nearly two scores were hurt.

The Federal Council of Churches, claiming membership of 20,000,000, gave its endorsement yesterday through Bishop Charles H. Brent of the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of western New York; the Chamber of Commerce of the U. S. registered its approval through Walker D. Hines, chairman of its foreign relations committee. Protests alone were heard during the day, and when adjournment was taken until tomorrow, the list of delegations to be heard had not been materially reduced.

DEATHS IN STORMS MAY NUMBER 100

Women and Children Mostly Victims of Tornadoes in South.

DESTRUCTION GREAT

People Whirled Through the Air Hundreds of Feet by Mighty Wind.

Atlanta, Ga., May 1.—With 95 persons known to be dead, more than a score missing, approximately 800 injured, some perhaps fatally, the southeast set about today to relieve the region stricken yesterday and Tuesday by the worst high-tension storm in its history.

Tornadoes, descending with devastating violence upon widely-scattered sections, caused damage estimated at $10,000,000 in South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, North Carolina, Virginia, Louisiana and Arkansas.

Early today incomplete reports developed by scrippled wire facilities distributed the total list of dead as follows: South Carolina, 66; Georgia, 13; Alabama, 11; North Carolina, 8; Louisiana, 1; Arkansas, 1.

Reports of additional casualties were also received from the States.

Sailor Writes Ex-Magistrate That Kindly Words Have Made Him Man

A demonstration of the fact that a kind word, spoken at the right time and in the proper spirit, often will be more effective in lifting a wayward soul from the depths of disrepute than either punishment or harsh criticism, is contained in a letter received yesterday by Hon. R. J. Ritchie, formerly police magistrate here, from a sailor in Tsanghau, China.

James Morrison here carried out an exemplary character has reason to remember kindly soft words addressed to him by the ex-magistrate in one of those conferences-for-two which took place in the court-room office after a remand on a drunkenness charge. That there was many soft words turning into the right path has stated from one of those informal talks.

The letter needs no comment. Here it is in full—

Dear Sir:—

Just a kind remembrance to you, hoping that God has spared you in health and strength. Often at night, when I am at sea, I remember every kind word that you said to me and I have kept my word to you that I would drink no more. Hoping that God spares you for years to come,

From a well wisher,

TSANGHAU, CHINA, April 4, 1924.

PROSPECT IS $1,200,000 SPENT HERE

Addition of New Coking Plant Will Double That Expenditure.

HOTEL BIDS CLOSE

Plans for Year Include Two Schools, Hospital and Orphanage Wings.

Not for many years have the prospects for building activities in and about the city of St. John seemed so bright as they are at the present time, and if the plans which are now under consideration are carried out this year, the amount of building done will be at least three to five times that of last year.

The building permits issued for the calendar year 1923 covered construction totaling in value some $300,000.

Plans already under way and more or less definitely decided upon, call for an expenditure of approximately $1,200,000.

In addition to those projects which have reached the blueprint stage, there are operations in the process of discussion which if they are realized increase the activity a hundredfold, including the installation of a big coking and by-products plant here.

Hotel Tenders Close.

First on the building programme which has already taken definite shape is the Admiral Beatty Hotel, for which tenders closed today in Montreal. The estimated cost of this work is placed at $600,000. The site of this structure has been cleared of buildings and stands ready for the commencement of work as soon as the contract is signed.

S. Allan Thomas, of the firm of Thomas, Armstrong & Bell, yesterday for Montreal where he will receive the tenders at the offices of Ross & McDonald, architects. He will bring the tenders to St. John and they will be opened at a meeting of the local board of directors, which will be held either at the end of the week or early in next week. Ten firms have been figuring on the job and tenders are expected from all of them. In addition local contractors have submitted bids for sub-contracts of several branches of work which will enter into the construction.

Another large item which will enter into this year's building operations will be the vocational school, for which the tenders were closed by ballot on Monday's voting. The architect's estimate for this building is $350,000.

Tenders closed yesterday for the addition of a wing to the Protestant Orphan's Home in the Manawagonish road, for which it is anticipated an outlay of about $135,000 will be made. The tenders were opened last evening at a meeting of the permanent home committee of the home, but action was deferred until a subsequent meeting on May 9.

Also included in the prospective building activity for the coming year is the addition of a wing to the St. John Infirmary, sketch plans of which have been completed and for which the estimated cost has been placed at $60,000. The plans are now being prepared by F. Neil Brodie, architect.

A new school in West St. John is also being planned for by Rev. J. J. Ryan, which will entail an expenditure of $100,000, but final decision as to when this operation will be commenced has not yet been reached.

Big Coking Plant.

The possibility of the erection of $1,250,000 coking plant within the city limits is being seriously considered and should St. John be fortunate in securing this new industry it will mean another big boost to the building activity and consequent means of employment for a large number of men.

The New Brunswick Power Company also has plans made for the enlargement of its plant by the erection of additional gas holder capacity, which will call for an outlay of some $100,000. The erection of a second caisson at the St. John dry dock at a cost of $45,000 is now being carried out and it is understood that the company proposes grading the caissonment at the head of the dock which

CHIEF JUSTICE OF CANADA IS DEAD

Sir Louis Davies Passes Away in Ottawa—Born in P. E. I.

Ottawa, May 1—Sir Louis Davies, Chief Justice for Canada, died here this morning at 12.35 after an illness of five days. He was 79 years of age.

At the last, his only son, T. A. Davies, and a daughter Miss Gertrude Helen Davies, were at his bedside. The home of the family has been so long in Ottawa that it is probable the funeral will take place here.

Surviving Sir Louis are: His widow, Lady Davies; a son, Thos. A. Davies, surveyor department of the Interior; and three daughters, Miss Gertrude Helen Davies, Ottawa; Mrs. J. D. Hyndman, Edmonton, Alta.; wife of Judge Hyndman of the Alberta Supreme Court; and Mrs. C. A. Magrath, Chicago, wife of the son of C. A. Magrath, the former Canadian Fuel Controller.

Hon. Sir Louis Davies, K. C., K. C. M. G., Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Canada, occupied a prominent position in the legal profession, in the field of politics, and finally on the bench for half a century. The late Chief Justice was a native of Canada's smallest province. He was born in Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, a son of Hon. Benjamin Davies, formerly Colonial Secretary of that province, and his wife Kezia Attwood Watts, on May 4, 1845.

His preliminary education, he received in his home province, but, having taken up the study of the law, he went to London, England, and completed his studies at the Inner Temple. He was called to bar in 1866, and created a Queen's Counsel in 1880. Sir Louis Davies entered the field of politics as a Liberal, at an early age. His early political activities were confined to his native province, where he gained the appointment of Solicitor-General in the year 1889. Three years later he was elected to the House of Assembly and in 1876 became Premier and Attorney-General of the Province. He remained in the office for three years, when he was defeated.

Following his defeat as Premier of Prince Edward Island, the late Chief Justice

Prominent Canadian

SIR LOUIS DAVIES.

Justice took the provincial field for the Federal. He was elected leader of the Maritime Provinces Liberal Association, and made a political tour of the provinces in November and December, 1894.

When Sir Wilfrid Laurier became Premier in 1896, he selected Sir Louis Davies to his Minister of the Marine and Fisheries. While a member of the Laurier Cabinet, Sir Louis participated in a number of important international conferences. He visited Washington two years running, in 1897 and 1898 in connection with the revision of the international regulations respecting Behring Sea seal fisheries, and also in respect to the negotiations for settlement of outstanding disputes between Canada and the United States.

With the British Ambassador at Washington he signed the protocols of the preliminary negotiations for the appointment of a Joint High Commission. He was appointed, with Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Sir Richard Cartwright, one of the Joint High Commissioners representing Canada on the Commission which sat first at Quebec, and afterwards in Washington, for the settlement of all Canada's disputes with the United States.

In July, 1897, the late Chief Justice went to London and argued the question of the application of the German and Belgian treaties to Canada, before law officers of the Crown, on behalf of Canada. Two years later he was sent specially to England to lay before British ministers Canada's contentions with regard to the Alaska boundary, and while there submitted the case of the Dominion to Lord Salisbury and Mr. Chamberlain.

Sir Louis Davies resigned his portfolio in the cabinet on Sept. 25, 1901, and was appointed to the Supreme Court bench. On Oct. 23, 1918, he was appointed Chief Justice of Canada, in succession to Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, and in December of the same year he received the honor of appointment to the Imperial Privy Council.

TWO ASSAULT CASES ARE HEARD
Husband Fined $20 for Striking Wife—Other Case Dismissed.
William McGovern was charged by Felix Doucette with assaulting and beating him in the Sugar refinery, in a case heard yesterday afternoon in the Police Court. From the evidence adduced, it was shown that the complainant had first struck McGovern with a sugar bag, and the latter retaliated with a cotton hook which tore a hole in Doucette's trousers. Magistrate Henderson expressed the opinion that both were to blame and dismissed the case.

SPARKLING EYES FOLLOW GOOD HEALTH
Toronto, Ont.—"From the time of my earliest girlhood I had always heard my mother speak in highest praise of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for women's ailments, so I was not at all strange that after I married and had backaches, nervous spells and other distresses that I should remember what my mother had always said of this Prescription, and I found it relieved me of my aches, pains and nervousness. It gave me renewed health and strength and so greatly benefited me that I have no hesitancy in saying that Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription is absolutely perfect as a tonic and nerve for women who are ailing or nervous."—Mrs. Rose Craig, 297 Beckettville St.

DEATHS

Rev. C. M. Sills.

The Rev. Charles M. Sills, D. D., formerly of Geneva, New York, died yesterday morning at the home of his son, Kenneth M. Sills, dean of Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Me., after an illness of three days with pneumonia, following an attack of bronchitis from which he had almost entirely

Constant Headaches
Dizziness

It is hard to struggle along with a head that aches and pains all the time and in nine cases out of ten the persistent headaches are due to some derangement of the stomach, liver or bowels.

Undoubtedly the cause must be removed before permanent relief may be had.

Burdock Blood Bitters removes the cause of the headaches, as it acts on every organ of the body and strengthens, purifies and regulates the whole system.
Mrs. Peter Curran, 27 Morrison St., Sydney, N. S., writes:—"I have been troubled for the last five years with constant headaches and dizziness. After trying several remedies, which I found to be of no avail, Burdock Blood Bitters was recommended to me.
B.B.B. did me a world of good, and I cannot praise this remedy enough."

recovered. Rev. Dr. Sills leaves, besides his wife, two children, Dr. Sills, in whose home he and Mrs. Sills resided, and Mrs. H. Beverley Robinson, of Montreal, who formerly resided in Rothesay. He was about 75 years of age.

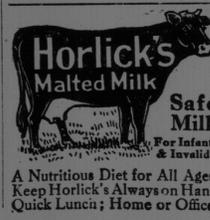

For 25 years Dr. Sills was dean of St. Luke's cathedral, Portland, Me., from which he will be buried on Friday. He was afterwards rector of the church in Geneva, New York, for 20 years, from which he resigned two years ago, after pastoring in only two churches for 45 years. His first pastorate was in Campbellville where he was rector for a short time before being called to Portland, Me. Rev. Dr. Sills and his family have been summer dwellers in St. Andrews-by-the-Sea for many years. It was there that he found his wife, who was the daughter of the late Rev. Canon and Mrs. Ketchum of All Saints' church. Their summer home "field" has been in the family for many years and is situated near the rectory of All Saints', a picturesque spot in the church, K. C. of Woodstock, and Mrs. W. D. Forster, of St. John, are brother and sister of Mrs. Sills. A niece of Rev. Dr. Sills is in the city at present, Mrs. James Bennett, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ketchum, of Woodstock. She is a guest at Carleton House with Mr. and Mrs. L. P. D. Tilley, while attending the sessions of the Diocesan W. A., representing Gagetown parish, of which her husband is rector. Mrs. Foster left last evening for Brunswick, Me., to be with her sister.

George F. Banks.
At his home in Manguerville on Tuesday night George F. Banks died, aged 77 years. He was for some time a member of the Sunbury County Council. He is survived by his widow, one son, G. Fred Banks of Manguerville, and two sisters, Mrs. Harry Smith and Miss Blanche Banks of Manguerville.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

By Olive Roberts Barton

PUSS-IN-BOOTS TELLS A STORY.

"Will you tell us about it?" asked Nancy. "I'm going to take you to see a most important person today," said Mister Muggs to Nancy and Nick. "Who?" cried the twins excitedly. "No other than Puss-in-Boots," remarked Mister Muggs, polishing the lamps on his little automobile. "He lives in Once-Upon-a-Time Land, not far from my master, in a nice little house with a catnip garden. He spends his time raising mice to sell in the cat market. They say he has made quite a fortune for himself—as well as his master."

Careless Shampooing Spoils the Hair

If you want to keep your hair looking its best, be careful what you wash it with. Do not use prepared shampoos or any thing else that contains too much free alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it. The best thing for steady use is Multifid coconut oil shampoo, which is pure and greaseless, and is better than anything else you can use. Two or three teaspoonfuls of Multifid is sufficient to cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which is efficient to remove every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy, wavy, and easy to manage. You can get Multifid coconut oil shampoo at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Multifid. Beware of imitations. Look for the name Watkins on the package.

TROUBLED WITH ECZEMA YEARS

In Pimples Between Knee and Ankle. Itched Badly. Cuticura Healed. "I was troubled with eczema for three or four years. It broke out in pimples between my knee and ankle and itched badly, especially at night. The irritation caused me to scratch and the scratching caused eruptions. I sent for a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and it helped me. I purchased more, and after using one cake of Cuticura Soap and three boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Miss Alice Clark, Marshfield, Vt., July 16, 1923. Keep your skin clear by using Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum for every-day toilet purposes. Touch pimples and itching, if any, with Cuticura Ointment. Bathe with Cuticura Soap and hot water. Dry and dust lightly with Cuticura Talcum. Sample each free by mail. Puss, stroking his long whiskers thoughtfully. "It was this way: My master was a poor boy—the youngest of three sons. And when his father died he left each of the older boys a share of his fortune, but to the youngest he left only me. So I felt responsible for his fortune. "I used my wits—and wits, my friends, are worth more than gold. "The first thing I did was to give my poor master a grand name. I called him the Marquis of Carabas. "Next I caught a brace of partridges and gave them to the king in the name of the Marquis of Carabas. "The king was so pleased with my gift, he gave me a job as a wizarard. "The wizarard changed himself into a mouse and I ate him. Then I took his house and lands and gave them to my master. "After that the king's daughter married my master and they are very happy indeed. My days of adventure are over. Once a year my master rides to my door and gives me a new pair of boots. It's time for a new pair now."

THE OLD HOME TOWN

By STANLEY

STILL EQUIPMENT SEIZED UP NORTH

Chatham, April 30—Inspectors Stewart and Quarterman paid a visit to Blackville and vicinity on Thursday last. After a long tramp through the woods they located a real hooch mill. The owner, however, had been apprised of the officers' approach in time to destroy some of his output and to make a hurried escape. Several large casks and numerous jugs and bottles of the finished product had been emptied, but several boilers and funnels were secured, as well as enough brew for a sample. The stove and other apparatus were demolished by the inspectors. Charges will be laid later against several residents of that locality. The real operator had only recently finished a six months' sentence for selling moonshine last summer. It is said this liquor was distributed among the woodsmen and stream drivers traveling between Newcastle and Fredericton.

MOUNTIE BACK FOR HEALTH

L. N. Nicholson, of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, arrived in the city yesterday from his home in Hillsdale, Kings county, where he is recuperating from a serious illness contracted while on duty with the police. He will spend a few days in town at the Victoria Hotel. He returns to duty in the police towards the end of June.

His Mirror Told Him of Exhausted Condition

Mr. R. Paulin, Tantes Aides, Man., writes: "I became so run down and weak that my heart became affected, and I would sometimes have to remain in bed for several days. Some one advised me to use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, so I did, and soon began to gain in weight and feel better. I have taken a great many boxes of these wonderful pills, and am feeling ten years younger. Dr. Chase's Medicines, as well as his Receipt Book, are a great help to us, for we live 40 miles from doctors and railroads."

Baby Needs Fresh Air

When the Mann baby let loose its first wail, Mr. Mann of Anytown looked nervously about. But the doctor quickly assured him. "The first cry of a child is for air," explained the physician, "and after that it's up to you to satisfy the baby's air hunger. "Immediately after birth a child is in need of air to meet the demand of expanding lungs. That first lusty cry is one of the most important it ever will make. "A copious supply of fresh air in the baby's room is extremely necessary at all times. In winter months the window can be raised, but a window board should be used, allowing the fresh air to trickle in between sashes. While good ventilation should be secured, the temperature should be about 65 during the first months and not lower than 55 during the later months of the first year. "Few people realize that an open fireplace is a good medium for air circulation. During summer months windows should be open from both top and bottom. In the hot seasons it is particularly necessary that the baby be exposed to air currents, particularly as a means of preventing heat stroke. Finally, fresh air helps prevent colds. Be sure the baby gets plenty of it."

JUDGE LEBLANC IS GREETED IN ALBERT

H. Lester Smith Extends Congratulations—St. John Lawyer Present. Hopewell Hill, April 30—Hugh Hawkes, charged with assault with intent to do grievous bodily harm was acquitted in the Albert Circuit Court, His Honor Judge LeBlanc presiding, at the session which opened today. This was the only case on the docket. H. Lester Smith conducted the case for the Crown and William M. Ryan of St. John represented the accused. A true bill in the case was returned by the grand jury and the case went to the petit jury at the end of the morning session. Hugh Morrissey, the complainant and the doctor who attended his injuries were the only witnesses for the prosecution. The defendant and several of his relations testified for the defence. The gist of their testimony was that the complainant had himself proved the quarrel resulted in him sustaining severe injuries by being run over by his own team when he attempted to jump off. The jury were out but a half hour and returned a verdict acquitting the defendant. In discharging the prisoner Judge LeBlanc directed some words of advice to him as to his conduct in the future. Charles Ayer, chairman of the grand jury seized the opportunity of it being Judge LeBlanc's first appearance in the Albert court, to extend to him the heartiest congratulations of the people of the county. H. Lester Smith extended congratulations on behalf of the bar. His Honor replied feebly expressing his appreciation of the kind words addressed to him. He congratulated the people of Albert on their fine court house, saying that it was a credit to the county. The example of Albert in the erection of such a building he said might well be emulated by the people of St. John. The court adjourned at 6 o'clock.

A Severe Attack Of Heart Trouble Was Relieved by MILBURN'S Heart and Nerve Pills

Mr. S. E. Barnes, Athens, Ont., writes:—"Four years ago I had a very severe attack of heart trouble. I consulted my doctor; he treated me for some time, but I only seemed to be getting worse. I finally went to our druggist and purchased three boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and derived immediate relief from their use, and I can truthfully say they are a wonderful medicine. I always keep a box on hand, and if I feel out of sorts I take a few pills and feel all right again." Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 60c. a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The H. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

BOOSTERS GIVEN TREAT

A grand treat was provided for the 72 Junior Boosters of the Y. W. C. A. last night when Mrs. Hugh Miller and some of the young women of St. David's church visited the Boosters at their regular meeting in the recreation centre. The treat was a bountiful one, consisting of milk, sandwiches, cake, cookies and brown and white bread and butter. Each member had a parcel of good things to take home also. The Boosters thoroughly enjoyed their meeting and the treat which followed and they heartily thank the donors. Four new members were enrolled.

CUSTOMS OFFICER GETS GREAT HELP

Sick and Ailing Since Return From Overseas, Mr. Matheson Finds Dreo a Wonderful System Builder and Thanks the Day He Started Taking It.

Here is another well-known Montrealeur who has experienced the remarkable benefits of Dreo and doesn't hesitate to come forward on its behalf. Mr. K. W. Matheson is a popular and efficient officer in the Customs Service and an overseas veteran from the old 14th Battalion. Here is what Mr. Matheson, who lives at 1 Ross street, Verdun, has to say about this grand new herbal remedy.

"I suffered a great deal from gas on the stomach, especially after meals. I had a poor appetite on this account for after effects of this kind are bound to take the edge off any man's hunger. I also suffered terribly from pains across my back but since taking Dreo these and the stomach trouble have disappeared. "I was gassed while overseas with the 14th Battalion and came back in a very much rundown condition. My nerves were in a very bad state on top of my internal troubles, and nothing seemed to pick me up. "I have only taken three bottles of your famous Dreo but already my friends have noticed a big difference and I have felt a big change myself. Have gained six pounds in three weeks and feel better and stronger in every way. I rest well at nights and get up in the morning feeling refreshed and vigorous. I thank the day I started Dreo and will always give it my best praise."

Dreo will help you. It's pure herb, bark, root, and leaf juices are nature's own system builders and every organ feels the benefit of their corrective and tonic properties. Let it help you. Dreo contains no mercury, potash or habit forming drugs. Dreo is being specially introduced in St. John by Ross Drug Co., 100 King St., Moore's Drug Store, 105 Prince Edward St., F. W. Munro, 357 Main St., and in West St. John by Watson R. Dunlop. It is also sold in Fairville by T. H. Wilson, and by a good druggist everywhere.

W. A. CHANGES DATE OF ANNUAL SESSION

Decides to Make Year Agree With Calendar—Meet in January.

The annual meeting of the Fredericton diocesan branch of the Women's Auxiliary in future will be held in January, according to a decision reached at yesterday's session. The financial year will end on December 31 and not March 31 as at present. The exact date of the 1925 annual will be settled by the new executive. Mrs. George F. Smith is being returned unanimously as president for another year. Conferences of various departments occupied the time at the afternoon session and in the evening a well-attended public missionary meeting was held.

Action of the morning session was the sending of a letter of greeting to Mrs. G. A. Kuhring.

Mrs. Cortlandt Robinson, convener of literature, spoke of the increasing interest in missionary literature and the increase in the number of mission study classes. About half of the girls' branches and one-third of the senior branches had conducted study classes in the year.

Missionary Branches.

The best papers in the missionary competition came from Blisville senior branch and Devon girls' branch. The new study book for the coming year would be "The Church and the New-comer."

Mrs. Robinson gave advice with regard to the purchase of pamphlets. McAdam branch was the first to start a missionary library.

Miss Muriel Fairweather reported there were now 1,320 subscribers to "Living Message."

Mrs. J. Lee Day, secretary of Little Helpers, said the success of this work depended almost entirely upon the seniors and made a plea for the establishment of a Little Helpers' branch wherever there was a senior branch. The membership of the Little Helpers totalled 998 and their funds amounted to $27.85, an increase of nearly $100.

St. George's, West St. John, was the banner city branch and Gagetown, the banner country branch.

Mrs. J. Roy Campbell, E. C. D. treasurer, said contributions had been received from 82 out-of-town and 17 city branches and money had been voted in October and January. There was on hand $88 to be voted by the annual meeting to diocesan and Canadian needs.

matter Mr. Bates said that since 1900 there had been 62 new churches, rectories and other ecclesiastical buildings erected in the diocese and the minimum stipend had been raised from $700 to $1,800.

Bishop Richardson said never had there been so many young men offering for the ministry as at the present time. Next winter there would be 15 men preparing for the ministry, not counting any that there might be at Wycliffe College. In this connection he pointed out that the divinity scholarship funds amounted to only $650 annually and if all of the students required help there would be a deficit of $2,000.

Rev. H. A. Cody spoke of Canadian missions and recalled the names and exploits of the pioneers of the west an dno rthwest. He spoke from personal knowledge in most instances and Hudson Bay forts had fallen into decay because missionaries had wrought so great a change in the Indians. Mr. Cody spoke of the Pacific coast mission, the Columbia coast mission, the Indian mission schools and the missions to the Eskimos.

He referred to the fact that last year $240,000 had been asked for Canadian missions and only $207,000 had been paid. The deficit must be made up or mission stations abandoned, he said. If lonely mission stations lapsed then those who should have supported them were recast in their responsibility of today and to the Canada of the future. Mr. Cody closed by quoting his own poem, "Across the Marches." Prolonged applause showed the keen appreciation of his audience.

Rev. A. J. Patstone.

Rev. A. J. Patstone, of Grand Falls, dwelt upon the call of foreign missions, which he held to be of primary importance. He deprecated the attitude of some people that the religion of heathen people was as good for them as that of Christians was for them. He wondered if the British Empire was sometimes not unduly careful to protect the religion of heathen peoples.

Putting the spread of the gospel in the first place would mean the solution of present day problems, he declared. Mr. Patstone closed with a glowing tribute to the W. A. and an exhortation to continued and still greater effort.

In speaking of the addresses Bishop Richardson remarked that he was proud of the clergy.

The meeting will close with morning and afternoon sessions today.

The Dorcas exhibit shown in the meeting hall consists of work of St. Andrew's girls' branch, St. James' church and St. John's church senior branches, St. Paul's seniors' work for the foreign field and dolls and sleeves for Miss Shaw's work in Japan, made by Trinity branch.

Mrs. G. C. P. McIntyre moved and Mrs. G. Fred Andrews seconded the resolution that the financial year end on Dec. 31 instead of March 31. The resolution was discussed at length. It was then decided to hold the diocesan annual meeting in January, the exact date to be fixed by the executive. The treasurer's books will close on Nov. 21 and the parochial branches will hold their annual meetings in October or early in November.

The delegates were entertained at luncheon by the Trinity, St. Mary's and St. James' city branches.

The attendance at the afternoon conference was the largest in the history of the W. A. Mrs. G. C. P. McIntyre conducted the conference of treasurers, and explained that, should the work among white settlers be undertaken, an additional pledge of $350 would be asked from Fredericton diocese.

Miss Portia Mackenzie conducted the conference on junior work and many valuable suggestions were brought forward.

Dorcas Work.

Mrs. John M. Hay presided at the conference on Dorcas work. The number of Indian children to be outfitted was to be the same next year, 53, and an additional work was to be undertaken in the sending of general bales for the Indian children on the reserves in Saskatchewan.

Mrs. Cortlandt Robinson presided at the conference of literature secretaries. Letters received from missionaries in response to a request for their views concerning their needs were read. Miss Hodson, missionary in Palampur, India, wrote that the children in the mission would eagerly welcome dolls. Among the suggestions brought forward were that the Living Message should be made into scrap book collections; that the seniors as well as the juniors should learn by playing games and that a series of questions might be prepared for each meeting. The answers to be given at the next meeting.

Mrs. J. Lee Day conducted the conference of Little Helpers' secretaries.

Mrs. G. Fred Andrews presided at the evening of the members of the organizing committee in the absence of Mrs. W. D. Forster who was called from St. John by the death of her brother-in-law.

Evening Meeting.

His Lordship Bishop Richardson presided at the public meeting in the evening and led the devotions. Rev. W. J. Bates, of Newcastle, rural dean of Chatham, spoke of diocesan missions. He said this was a missionary diocese in which 34 of the 78 organized ecclesiastical districts were classed as aided missions. In the rural deaneries, Woodstock, with nine missions, received $6,518 from the mission board; Kingston, with seven, received $5,897; Fredericton, with six, received $4,355; Chatham, with five, received $3,270; St. John, with three, received $2,363; Shediac, with two, received $1,220, and St. Andrews, with two, received $850.

The 84 missionary clergymen in the diocese, when the diocese was fortunate enough to have its full complement of missionaries, received $51,000 in stipends and the missions contributed $25,850, the remainder coming from the home mission board.

Self-Supporting Parishes.

Since 1900 12 self-supporting parishes had appeared in the diocese. There was today no Anglican clergyman in Kent county, although he was pleased to learn that one was to be sent there in July. He urged strengthening isolated settlements and told of Rev. Canon A. W. Smithers having traveled 446 miles in New Brunswick to visit a vacant mission. He himself had traveled 120 miles to give communion to a dying woman. The sheep in the diocese were straying because of the gaps in the walls, he declared. The great need was for consecrated men. To show a less gloomy side of the

THE EVENING TIMES-STAR, ST. JOHN, N. B., THURSDAY, MAY 1, 1924

SALVATION ARMY OFFICER MOURNED

Colonel Frank Morris' Wife was Miss French, of St. John.

Impressive services, says a Winnipeg paper, marked the arrival of the body of Col. Frank Morris, chief secretary of the Salvation Army for western Canada, who died suddenly in Regina from cerebral hemorrhage. The train was met at the C. P. R. depot at 8 a. m. by Commissioner and Mrs. Henry C. Hodder, officers of headquarters and local corps and the Salvation Army band. The cortege and mourners proceeded up Main street to Thomson's undertaking parlors, the officers returning to the citadel, outside of which a brief service was held, the commissioner speaking in eulogy of the deceased officer, who, he said, died at his post. He also referred to the fact that he had joined the service when 16 years of age in Winnipeg.

At the citadel in the afternoon, persons in all walks of life were present at a full service in honor of the departed officer, headed by Lieutenant-General Sir James Aikens, attorney-general and acting premier of Manitoba; Hon. W. R. Clubb, minister of public works; Sir Hugh John Macdonald; Mrs. Robert Rogers, representing the Women's Canadian Club; Mrs. Colin Campbell, the I. O. D. E.; and Archdeacon R. B. McElheran. The City Council, Board of Trade, Canadian, Kiwanis, Rotary, Gyro and Lions' clubs were represented, as was the Ministerial Association, and Archbishop Sinnott.

Commissioner Hodder was in charge of the service, prior to which scores of his former comrades and friends trooped past the bier as the body lay in state in the citadel. Many beautiful floral tributes were in evidence as a mark of esteem in which Col. Morris was held. That of Commissioner and Mrs. Hodder and staff was in the form of a Salvation Army shield, to which was attached a card bearing the words: "In deepest respect to the faithful comrade-warrior from Commissioner and Mrs. Hodder and staff." Another noticeable tribute was that of the divisional officers and staff of Winnipeg, bearing the inscription: "With deepest sympathy and in loving remembrance."

These Straws Will Show Which Way the Wind Blows This Summer

(BY M. J. ACKERMAN)

New York, April 30—I was hiking along the tony section of Madison Avenue with a couple of my friends—a boiler-maker, a second-rate prize-fighter and a printer, just ordinary guys like myself—when we lapped some of the new straw hats in one of the ritzy shops.

Not being a feature writer or any kind of a highbrow like that, I have just ordinary friends. Well, anyway, one of the guys says, "Ain't those lids the donkey's subonnet! Can you picture the Willy boys that'll be wearin' them this summer?"

"Sat so!" I exclaim. "You'll be wearin' one like 'em before Coney Island opens and you'll never look like your mamma's boy again."

And here they are.

And just to prove it, I took the bunch in the store and borrowed the hats to suit each fellow's mug and then photographed them. The next two they call sailors, although sailors never wear 'em, and they were six dollars per in the classy shop. The last is the same as the first, only turned the other way and worn without a smile.

P. S.—The handsome fellow in the middle wasn't one of my roughneck friends. He's a professional clothes-wearer, by name of George Croker.

depot in the morning, played "The Dead March in Saul," the Salvation Army march "Promoted to Glory," and "Abide With Me."

Major K. Larsen of Regina, who accompanied the body to Winnipeg, proceeded with it to Toronto on the evening train, with Commissioner and Mrs. Hodder and several other officers. A service was held in the Salvation Army temple in Toronto.

The late Col. Morris was rightly regarded as one of the most promising officers in the Salvation Army service. He was never a regular corps officer and had been trained from early life for executive work. He was the youngest man in the organization to hold as responsible a position, and with his training, education and ability he might not have reached. One of his earliest assignments was to the Klondyke, where he remained for several years with a group of officers and earned a reputation for his service. Later he worked as a divisional officer in British Columbia, as a divisional officer in Ontario, and as field secretary for Canada. For four years he has been the chief secretary in Winnipeg and the executive officer under Commissioner H. C. Hodder for western Canada. In this office he supervised all the various activities of the organization, religious, hospitals, hotels, prison work, publications, etc.

He was, although born in England, a Winnipeg boy, educated in the Salvation Army work at the Rupert street citadel. He was on the ill-fated Empress of Ireland when the steamer went down, was in the water for two hours, and saw 176 of his associates in the army meet death by drowning. He enjoyed the complete confidence of his superiors and was under appointment to take full charge of immigration work in Canada when the end came.

Mrs. Morris and children arrived from Regina and were met by a large group of officers. Col. Taylor, Brigadier Whately, Major Smith, Major Joy, Brigadier Goodwin, and Staff Captain Church were among those present.

Mrs. Morris was formerly Miss Susie French, daughter of the late Benjamin and Eliza French of St. John.

ACCIDENTS COST
NOVA SCOTIA MUCH

Fifty Per Cent Increase Last
Year — Compensation Act Report.

There were 1,233 more accidents of all kinds in Nova Scotia in 1923 than in 1922; the totals being 6,734 in 1923 and 5,501 in 1922. Those accidents which came under the Workmen's Compensation Act, from the report of which these figures are taken, numbered 1,200 more than in 1922, totals being 6,222 against 5,022 in 1922. The increase in compensation was $450,992 over that paid the previous year.

The report says: The increase of approximately 50 per cent. or about $450,000 in the cost of accidents in 1923 over 1922 is startling. It is not to be accounted for by a corresponding increase in the volume of work carried on by the industries under the Compensation Act, as the wages paid in 1923 according to data so far received exceeded the wages paid in 1922 by only ten per cent., as will be seen from the following figures: Total wages paid in 1922, $47,660,000; those in 1923, $52,332,000.

The report says that the industrial depression apparently reached bottom in 1922, the payrolls for that year being lower than at any time since 1917. Improvement in 1923 over 1922 was about 10 per cent. or approximately $5,000,000 increase in the wages paid. Although the estimated cost of the accidents for 1923 is $1,315,964.43 the assessments upon employers for 1923 as provisionally adjusted amounted to only $894,177.76, which is $421,786.67 less than the estimated cost of 1923 accidents.

In discussing the value of the act to workmen and their dependents, the report says:

HAND AMPUTATED
AFTER ACCIDENT

Masira Premo, an employe in the Nashuaak Pulp and Paper Company mills was badly injured yesterday afternoon when his right hand was caught in some machinery. Dr. Davidson of Fairville was summoned and treated the man for the severe injury and a call was sent in for the city ambulance. The injured man was conveyed to the General Public Hospital where it was found necessary to amputate the right hand. A report early this morning was to the effect that the patient was resting comfortably and supposed to be out of danger.

GOING TO RICHIBUCTO.

It was announced last night by His Lordship Bishop Richardson that Rev. A. V. McLaren was to remove from the Anglican parish of Upham in July and take charge of the mission of Richibucto, at present vacant.

Driving Rain Brings Adverse Comment on May 1 Moving

CUSTOM IN ST. JOHN IS CRITICIZED

No Law Makes First Day of May Moving Day, Say Lawyers.

DANGEROUS TIME

Health of People Endangered Going Into Unwarmed New Houses.

Somebody, in the heroic days when hardship was welcomed, and anything that smacked of ease was regarded with utter scorn, decreed that the first day of May should be moving day in St. John.

That is why those who faced the rain and wind this morning en route to their offices or stores found the streets traveled by furniture vans and with bedraggled persons going to a new habitation. It is not so much the law, but custom; and the number who mourn that custom became habit in this case grows larger every time there is a cold or rainy first of May. And a warm and sunny first of May is a rare exception. It is dangerous.

What happens is that people move into a cold house, get thoroughly chilled before the new abode is warmed, and, if there is rain, their clothing, the furniture, perhaps even the bedding, is damp, if not soaked, and those who escape a severe cold are extremely fortunate. The Health Department is guilty of a grave omission, one man who was moving said today, when it fails to set down May 1 as one of the causes of the existing death rate.

It must also be remembered that the present custom sends people house hunting during February, March and April, often in zero weather, and that the compelling desire to get a house selected and have the matter done with drives women to fatiguing effort irrespective of the nature of the weather. It's bad business.

Every year when moving time comes round there is much talk about the need of a change in the existing system, but nothing is done; and so, this morning, those who know that they had to take possession of new quarters at 12 o'clock, noon, looked out at the driving rain and shivered.

It is said there is at least as much moving today as usual, and the natural assumption is that there will be more work for the doctors.

Why We Do It
A Times-Star reporter, inquiring why it was compulsory to move on May 1, despite the state of the weather, took the matter up with several lawyers and men who know about real estate. So far as the day of moving was concerned, they said that this was a matter of custom, and May 1 had been the vogue here from time immemorial.

The yearly tenancy was the rule here, and the law on the subject called for three months' notice to quit on the part of the tenant or the same notice on the part of the landlord if he wanted to get possession of the premises. It would be just as legal to adopt June 1, or January 1, or any other date, as May 1 for the annual migration date, but this being accepted as the day to change living quarters, then the state of the weather failed to be any cause for delay.

In Other Places
In most of the cities of the United States and some of the cities of Canada the system of monthly tenancies had been adopted, and in those cities all that is necessary to terminate a lease is one month's notice. There is no regular moving day in those places. In neither case is the weather taken into consideration when the day for vacating the premises arrives.

No person could be found who would undertake to say how the first of May was adopted here as the official moving day, but the opinion was generally expressed that it was brought here by the first comers from England, and that instead of going out on that day to "Bring Home the May" they picked up their goods and chattels and moved them to a new home.

One real estate man said that the outgoing tenant had until noon to vacate, but after that hour the house belonged to the incoming tenant and weather conditions failed to enter into the situation.

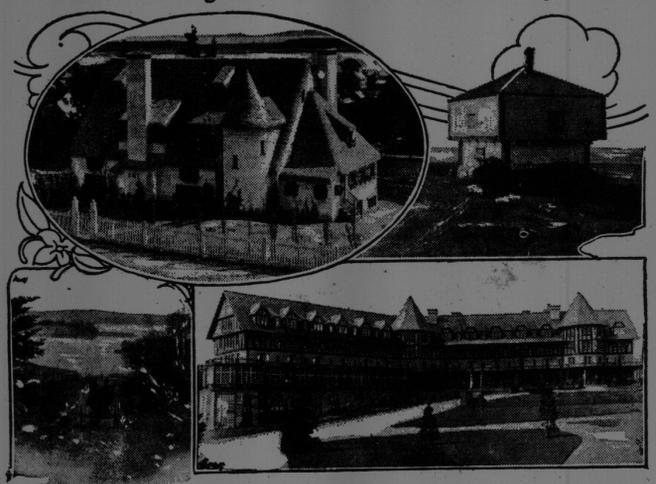

REDUCTION SHOWN IN TRAM RECEIPTS

Montreal, April 30.—The annual report of the Nova Scotia Tram and Power Co., Ltd., for the year ended December 31, 1923, shows that the gross earnings of the company in 1923 were $1,383,979.84 a reduction of $25,491.37, or 1.83 per cent. from the preceding year. Although expenses were substantially reduced, the net earnings were less than in 1922 by $2,987.93.

At 90 He Cuts New Sets of Teeth

Spencerville, O., May 1.—Albain Miller, farmer, living west of Spencerville, is 90, yet he is cutting a set of teeth. Five of the old teeth have become loose and have been taken out and new teeth have taken their place. He expects a complete new set of equipment and hopes to live to be more than 100 and get the good from his new set of teeth.

Good Roads Delegates meet at St. Andrews-by-the-Sea

All matters pertaining to the betterment of roadways throughout the Dominion will be discussed at the eleventh annual convention of the Canadian Good Roads Association, which, according to an official announcement will be held at St. Andrews-by-the-Sea, N.B., June 24, 25, 26 and 27 next. The Algonquin Hotel, one of the finest summer hotels on the coast, will be specially opened for the convention ahead of the usual time, the Canadian Pacific Railway Company placing the entire hotel at the disposal of the delegates and their wives and friends who will attend the convention from every part of the Dominion.

The executive committee of the association, of which G. L. Squire, Deputy Minister of Highways for Ontario, is chairman, are already at work on the programme, which will be based largely on the practical work done by the members of the inter-provincial conference of highway officials held at Winnipeg recently.

The six business sessions of the convention will be allocated to separate branches of the highway problem, and nothing but that section will be discussed at that session.

One will be devoted to financial matters, the delegates discussing the best means of financing road construction work, the raising of revenue for maintenance, the apportioning of grants and the big question of who should pay for the roads. Another will be set aside for administration questions, the operations of departments largely from the point of view of the preparator of specifications, of comparative cost systems, and the adoption of a uniform cost formula. Construction matters will be talked of at a third session, including discussion on the different types of asphalt, cement, tar and other bituminous materials and their relative utility for specific traffic loads. A fourth session will deal with maintenance problems, the most effective and economic method of repair of all kinds of road surfaces, the value of patrol systems and the maintenance of culverts and bridges. Traffic and its relation to road construction, the taking of traffic census on a systematized plan so as to aid in the selection of the best material to meet requirements of the users, the effect of autobus and motor truck traffic, the elimination of grades and curves, uniformity of lights and signals, and the enforcement of speed and all highway travel regulations, also will be taken up.

Most of these subjects were discussed by the officials of the provincial governments at the Winnipeg conference and resolutions drafted on them which will form the basis for discussion by the delegates. Well qualified people will open the debates and give the lead for the talks that follow.

The good roads enthusiasts of New Brunswick are already making plans for the fitting entertainment of the delegates, and T. P. Ragan, a member of the executive of the association, is co-operating with them to ensure that the visit to St. Andrews-by-the-Sea shall be not only profitable and practical, but so pleasant as to make it memorable.

At a meeting of the Chatham Board of Trade, Whitehouse said he had been making considerable inquiry into the possibilities of securing new industries built around the actual needs and resources close at hand. J. S. Martin, M. L. A., had discovered on investigation in the matter of ordinary commodities of living, Chatham imports largely from the outside world rather than producing within itself and the country around the staples of everyday life, such as meat, butter, etc. Why were they not producing more?

A folder will be issued in a few days and placed with the several distributing associations giving valuable information and illustration of the Miramichi country and the North Shore generally to the traveler and prospective settler. The board will communicate with an industrial firm now about to locate in the province to consider the advantages offered by this community; and a committee was also appointed to make a reliable and descriptive list of the farms available for purchase in the surrounding country and lodge the same with the Department of Agriculture and the Government Farm Settlement Board.

BATHURST FORMS NEW ATHLETIC CLUB

Bathurst, April 30.—One of the most important moves for the development of amateur sport yet made in Bathurst was taken Sunday in the Parish Hall when at a largely attended meeting of the Catholic men of the town, the Young Men's Catholic Club, was formed. Officers elected were as follows: President—S. A. McKendry. Vice-president—A. S. Veniot. Secretary-treasurer—A. L. Fournier. Managing committee—W. R. Kingston, Dr. J. L. Veniot. Director—Cleo J. Melanson.

Besides directing basketball activities, the Y. M. C. C. will take an active part in all outdoor sports. It will probably have baseball, football and other winter sports.

In addition it is intended to acquire suitable gymnasium equipment so that the physical development of the boys and young men of its membership can be attended to according to their various preferences.

World Topics Discussed In Letter From London

(Correspondence of Times-Star.) London, April 17.—Before the Anglo-Russian conferences now taking place in Downing street are over, Mr. MacDonald's settled worried-look expression may deepen. I hear that the Soviet is making money rather than the reparations, and that the delegation from Moscow includes some particularly litigious characters. It also happens that the very morning of the first conference, at which the British Premier was kept waiting 20 minutes, brings ominous reports from Russia. Trotsky seems to have hitched his wagon to another promising wagon, and now breathes threats of war for the recovery of Bessarabia's rich provinces. So the Labor Government in London is rather between the devil and the deep sea again—with Russia making overtures to Britain on the one hand, and threatening war against France on the other.

What Germans Say
A big city man, just back after a business tour of Germany, gives some arresting impressions of what the many influential Germans he met are thinking. All of them said frankly that Germany would accept the reparations terms, simply because they entail no payments of any account for two years, and within that period the monetary regime will have been restored, and Germany will be playing the honest broker to both sides in the approaching British-American war.

Nothing is more firmly fixed in the German mind—and it is quite a characteristic Teutonic point of view—than that we are egging on Japan to war with America, with the object of destroying another great trade rival, as we helped to destroy Germany. No amount of persuasion will shake this conviction. If an Englishman repudiates it, he is either a hypocrite or an ignoramus.

Both Right
The aggressive sentiment throughout Germany, says this astute city man, whose sympathies were formerly rather inclined to post-war Germany, is most unmistakable. At the popular cafes the prevailing fashion is monarchist toasts, and a majestic chanting of a militant song, "We will march, we will march." Several times in the course of his comparatively short visit the London business man found himself compelled to share these embarrassing demonstrations. My friends says that both the French and the British view of the German problem is right. France is right in her view that, if she withdraws from the Rhine, Germany will pay only under compulsion, and he now believes the only solution is one that frees Germany economically but retains military control of the bridgeheads.

An Unpleasant Teston
Can there be an exception to the nil nil bonum? Herr Stinnes, the German financial genius, whose death has just occurred at the age of 54, suggests it. His father was a Rhinelead coal-owner, and young Stinnes worked for a brief spell as a miner. He had a thorough-going German commercial education, and was a considerable expert in the reparations proposals of the Allies. I met him once. A merciless autocrat, he struck me as the embodiment of the War Lord's conception of Kultur, expressed in terms of L. S. D. On the whole, perhaps the T. N. T. type was more admirable.

Stinnes was well known in the City of London. He was unique, not because that influence was practically unsought. Men in the city, especially in the shipping and oil industries, knew that he always avoided politicians. A year ago, when he was in London, Stinnes told a friend of mine that he had "no time to waste" on politicians. When he wanted to know what a government would do he went to the business men and sounded their views. He certainly carried this out in London, and on his frequent visits, when rumor said that he was arranging world-shattering schemes, he was usually quietly "gossiping" with business acquaintances. His genius was the genius of the organizer, entirely heartless, often cruel, and his success was due to a gift for knowing not only what to do, but what would be the consequence of it. With the possible exception of a well-known banker he had not a friend in London. But he had at least a score of influential acquaintances.

Most Oxford men agree that the late Master of Balliol was the most eminent personality to fill that distinguished post since the famous Dr. Jowett, whose disciples included so many future celebrities. And now I see it suggested that the vacant post at Balliol may possibly be offered to Mr. Asquith. He would fill it admirably, as he would (Continued on page 13, sixth column.)

Radio Jazz For Darkest Africa

Washington, May 1.—Natives in the heart of Africa will be able soon to perform their ancient ceremonial dances to the strains of jazz through a radio loud speaker, and will be given instructions in modern agricultural methods in the same way under plans of British officials of Kenya colony. Trade Commissioner R. A. May, at Alexandria, Egypt, has advised the Commerce Department that plans already have been made to install a radio set with loud speaker in every village. Besides daily musical programmes, he said, farming instructions will be sent to the natives in their own language.

ST. JOHN TEACHER OF VIOLIN WEDS

Malcolm Goudie Takes Bride in Toronto—Will Live in the West.

A wedding of interest in St. John was solemnized in Toronto yesterday when Miss Janet Paterson Jardine, daughter of Mrs. James Jardine of Rexton, N. B., became the bride of Malcolm Goudie, who until a few days ago was a resident of this city. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. S. L. Squire, 98 Albany avenue, and the officiating clergyman was Rev. P. M. MacDonald. The bride, who was unattended, wore a becoming tailored suit of navy blue broadcloth, with grey hat and shoes to match and carried a bridal bouquet of American Beauty roses. Following the ceremony a dainty wedding luncheon was served, after which Mr. and Mrs. Goudie left for the Pacific Coast, where they will visit Vancouver, San Francisco, Los Angeles and other cities. They will reside in the west. They were the recipients of a large number of magnificent presents.

Mr. Goudie came to this city in 1891 from Shetland, Scotland. Being a talented violinist, he opened up a studio in the North End and soon had a large number of pupils. He continued in this profession until last week when he announced to the members of his class his intended departure. In addition to being a teacher of ability he was also exceptionally talented as a manufacturer of violins and won recognition in different parts of the country for the workmanship displayed as well as the excellent tone of his instruments. Many friends in this city will unite in wishing the bride and groom happiness and prosperity in the west.

Dollars That Travel Around St. John; Real Home-Builders

That is the kind of dollars we want in St. John. And we want all we can get of them. We all benefit when they are at work; we lose when they are not.

And with the assistance of our fellow citizens, we can guarantee to keep them at work.

For, as we have shown in previous talks, we put a great many of them, every year, into local channels, for local circulation—more than 380,000 of them.

And the merchants, the commercial houses, churches, theatres—the homes of St. John receive the benefit.

Without YOUR patronage, it is clear, we couldn't have done this. And if we couldn't do it, we would all be the losers. No doubt of that.

Take the matter of taxes, for instance.

We have shown that for every dollar's worth of business we lose, the City loses, in taxes, four and a half cents.

And, as a matter of course, what we don't pay must be made up by other tax-payers, because—

WE ARE THE ONLY DISTRIBUTORS OF ELECTRICITY IN ST. JOHN THAT PAY TAXES, OR ANY OTHER FIXED CHARGES TO THE CITY.

It's worth while considering, is it not?

And, again: We employ more than 250 citizens of St. John, and distribute among them, each year, $800,000 in wages. Quite an item, surely!

Further, it is the fixed policy of the Company to purchase, in St. John, from local merchants and manufacturers, everything that we can possibly buy here in the way of supplies. A big item in itself. More dollars that travel around the city.

And the motive power that keeps this great wheel of community prosperity revolving is YOUR PATRONAGE.

Isn't it a worth while proposition?

APPEAL IS MADE TO SAVE FORESTS

Premier Veniot's Address is Broadcast by Radio—Care is Stressed.

Premier Veniot's message to the province appealing against useless and avoidable waste by fire, was broadcast by Donald Masse from Station CJCL at the plant of the Maritime Radio Corporation last night.

In his address, Premier Veniot particularly stressed the necessity for all to exercise care in the effort to save the forest wealth of the province.

The address follows: "Fire prevention week is being observed this week throughout Canada, the proclamation being issued by the Governor-General of the Dominion of Ottawa, setting aside the period from April 27 to May 3 as Fire Prevention Week, the aim being to awaken public interest in the deplorable losses caused by forest fires so that every means may be put forward to prevent the waste of the country's most valuable natural resources.

"Over three million dollars worth of the Province of New Brunswick's timber wealth was destroyed in forest fires last summer; that in itself should be sufficient reason to arouse a public interest in the observance of Fire Prevention Week in New Brunswick. Protection of the forests from fire is absolutely necessary, and fire prevention is the most important phase of protection, because it means getting at the cause of fires and thus reaching the source of damage.

"There are times of continued dry weather when our forests become highly inflammable. Forest fires when once under way are virtually impossible to stop by any human means, and it is these conflagrations which cause the immense losses of forest wealth. Thus prevention of forest fires—the control or elimination of the causes—is the only method to stop huge losses during the greater part of the season. Fire prevention is to my mind the most important phase of forest protection, for it is well known that each summer there is fully five times as much timber destroyed in forest fires as is cut in all the timber berths from ocean to ocean.

Thousands Employed. "It is hardly necessary for me to emphasize the value and importance of the forest industry in the Province of New Brunswick. It is the second largest industry in the province, ranking next to agriculture; it employs thousands of people all the year, in the woods in the winter and in the mills in the summer. The Province's forests are its chief source of revenue over one million dollars coming into the Provincial treasury each year from our Crown Lands. In other words the forests provide the funds for the maintenance of our public services, the schools, bridges, roads, etc., and we must protect these valuable natural resources. The best protection that can possibly be provided is Fire Protection.

"Statistics show that only about one in every hundred fires is caused by natural forces, chiefly lightning. The rest, and by far the most serious and dangerous, result from carelessness. The Government have taken steps to control slash burning at all times and to prohibit it during what is regarded as the danger period. Last year it was found necessary to restrict forest travel and to cause all persons entering the forests to register and take out certificates of registration; to the inauguration of that system and the hearty co-operation of the people we credit the entire absence of serious fires last year in the central and southern portions of the province. As a matter of fact there was not one serious forest fire last year, except the Miramichi River; these districts where there had annually been large numbers of fires escaped, but the virgin forests in the northern counties suffered seriously, although our losses were not so extensive as in the neighboring Province of Quebec.

"The educational campaign which is being carried out during the week which has been set aside as Fire Prevention Week is certain to have far-reaching effects. It has my hearty endorsement, and it is with pleasure that I urge the active co-operation and support of the people of the Province of New Brunswick."

The season of forest fires with their danger and destruction has about rolled around again. Last summer 264 forest fires occurred in New Brunswick. The fire wardens were able to extinguish 208 of these in their early stages. But the remaining 56 destroyed vast areas of forests, homes, saw mills, camps, railway stations and wood products in the course of manufacture. The total damage was over three million dollars to Crown Lands and half a million dollars to private property.

Schools Are Helping. This week Fire Prevention Week is being observed through Canada and the attention of everybody is thus being turned to save the forests. A programme specially prepared by the Junior Red Cross has been so planned as to take up one phase of the subject each day from Monday to Thursday with a review and summing up on Friday. The active co-operation of the school teachers is being secured and is expected to prove an important factor in influencing not only the children, but through the children the adult population.

New Brunswick's forest area comprises 15,000,000 acres, of which about one half is crown lands. The total value of the forest products of New Brunswick amounts each year to over $25,000,000. There are 1,100 logging camps giving employment to about 19,000 men; there are 285 saw mills, 1 paper mill, 8 pulp mills, 113 portable saw mills and 35 finishing mills, which give employment to 10,000 men. More than $5,000,000 is distributed in wages each year through the lumber industry in New Brunswick. These figures show that this province has a real interest in such a movement as Fire Prevention Week.

WARNS RADIO FANS OF INTERFERENCE

Inspector Says South End Listeners-in Are Chief Cause of Trouble

A warning regarding unnecessary interference by listeners in at radiotelephone concerns through the indiscriminate use of reaction by those who employ valve or vacuum tube receivers, was issued last night by A. Lee Atkinson, radio inspector for New Brunswick. The interference complained of is chiefly in the south end of the city Mr. Atkinson's statement follows: "It is realized that a large number of listeners who use valve receivers are unaware of the annoyance they are causing others in this regard. "For the information and guidance of those using receivers of this type, attention is drawn to Regulation No. 91, issued under the Radiotelegraph Act which says: "Receiving stations when using a receiver of the regenerative type for the reception of organized radiotelephone programmes must avoid increasing regeneration to the point at which the receiver begins to oscillate. "It is not difficult to detect when reaction has been carried too far, as when a valve commences to oscillate the received speech is broken up and is unintelligible. "It is anticipated, that in view of the ever increasing number of valve receivers now in use, if this form of interference should continue to mar the pleasure of radiotelephone listeners the Radiotelegraph Department may have to consider seriously the matter of restricting the type of reaction circuit used to such a form as will ensure against the aerial circuit being energized through self-oscillation of the receiver."

NAVY VOLUNTEERS TOLD HOW TO ROW

Local Reservists Learn to Pull an Oar at Lily Lake

The St. John Company of the R. C. N. V. marched from its headquarters in Charlotte street last night to Lily Lake where Joseph Tebo very kindly gave the free use of his boats and seven crews of the sailors put in strenuous work in receiving instruction in the art of pulling an oar. Mr. Tebo has offered the free use of the boats to the company at all times, and his generosity is much appreciated. As part of the R. C. N. V. R. equipment the St. John company will shortly receive two whalers, boats that measure 27 feet, that are believed to have acquired the name of whalers because they are too bulky to sink. When the whalers arrive the company will take week-end trips up the St. John River when rowing practice and naval drill will be combined with pleasure excursions. Plans for the week-end trips are already well under way. Landlords of Paris are limited by law in rent charges. SPORT NEWS GLEANED FROM WORLD'S CENTRES

DIAMOND SCULLS WINNER IN 1923
PLANS ON ENTERING THIS YEAR

Morris Has Not Retired from Competition, Says Belyea in Letter Home.

Contrary to previous reports from England, M. K. Morris, winner of the Diamond Sculls at the English Henley last year, plans to enter again this year and is in active training at Putney along with Hilton Belyea's Canada's representative, and Jack Beresford the English sculler, not only for the Diamonds but the Olympics as well. This is according to letters received recently from Hilton. First reports were that Morris, who defeated the deaf mute, D. H. Gollan, in the final last year, was suffering from heart trouble as a result of the strenuous exertion with the blades and that his doctors had ordered him to take a year's rest. Hilton says that Morris appears to be in good condition on the English sculler's list. The English champion evidently has taken quite a liking to the local oarsman for he recently asked Hilton if he might practise a few starts with him. They went to it with Hilton says, and he said Morris could beat him quite easily from the mark. Hilton says that just a line on what good sports they are over there, he pointed out to him several places where he believed he could improve his style and when Hilton did follow the Englishman's advice, he found improvement. Morris told Belyea that he had noticed Belyea's style of rowing and found he was allowing other scullers to beat him out merely getting a fast start.

Since the first of April up until the 20th, Hilton was out in his shell daily with the exception of three days—one on which it rained. His daily workouts carry him distances ranging from 20 to 30 miles. He is rapidly getting down to rowing weight and is being thoroughly acclimatized for the coming season. The weather, Hilton says, has been variable. One day, he waited in the boathouse several hours hoping it would clear off. It did, but he had hardly put his shell in the water, before it commenced to snow. This lasted about 15 minutes and the sun came out again. Hilton continued rowing but soon after was obliged to seek shelter of the boathouse when it started to hail hard. The weather has been like that since he arrived in England. He looks forward, however, to finer weather from now on.

No Joy Ride.
Regarding a report from England and printed in local papers that Hilton was going on a tour of the United States, Hilton expressed himself rather strongly. He says he never told any reporter about his plans and never had any intention of going on a tour. "I came over here to work," wrote Hilton. "I am not going to work. I am my big chance and I hope St. John people who have helped me will not think I am wasting time. The only thing I am touring is the battlefield where Oxford and Cambridge have been having it out for years."

Hilton's new boat, which is being constructed by Sims, Putney, has been completed yet. When it is finished, Belyea plans to move up to Richmond and establish training quarters there. The elder Barry has been urging Belyea to go to Richmond as the water there is much quieter than at Putney. The only reason why Hilton has not moved before is because he wishes to stay at Putney until his shell is completed.

Strong Heart.

In one of his recent letters Hilton relates that while on board on the steamer, a retired doctor, formerly in the Indian army, took quite an interest in him and his work. The doctor persuaded Hilton to allow him to examine him thoroughly, which he did immediately following a strenuous workout. The examination was long and at the conclusion the doctor told Hilton he had the heart of a 20-year-old boy. He told him his recuperative powers were marvelous. Belyea's chest expansion two years ago was barely an inch. The exercise he has taken since then and the special exercises prescribed by the doctor have helped him greatly. He says his chest expansion now is nearly three inches, and the army man informed him that he should do better than that. The local oarsman has been having several long rows with Bert Barry, his trainer last year, and Barry says that right now Hilton is as good as he was when he raced last year. It is just seven weeks today since Hilton left St. John on the Melita. The wisdom of the policy of getting right on the ground and getting into shape as early as possible has been amply demonstrated even at this early date. From now on, with better weather, Hilton is bound to improve. He has two months yet. When his boat is finished and thoroughly tried, he plans to travel over to the Olympic course at Argenteuil, France, and train there and then return for the Diamonds.

teuil, France, and train there and then return for the Diamonds. That a huge task faces Hilton in his quest for world honors is apparent when it is realized that he is a lone contender for Canada. Each country is allowed four entrants in each event. That means the United States will be represented by Hoover, Gilmore, McGuire and either Guide or Costello. England will be represented by four. And so on. Canada has only Belyea, but he has proved his worth in many hard-fought contests. The majority of these scullers are very evenly matched. Just as in baseball, the breaks come when it is needed. If Belyea can get a few of the breaks, he is going to surprise many. St. John and Canada should be back of him solidly. He enjoys reading letters of friends from home. It strengthens a man's morale to know that back of him is solid support. If every admirer of Belyea and his sportsmanship were to write him and tell him they wish him the best of luck and that the old home town is rooting hard for him, the good would be incalculable. No harm would come of it, at least. It's for the honor of Canada and St. John he is battling for over there. When Hilton defeated the Swiss oarsman at the Diamonds last year in a sensational spurt, the band played "O Canada." It was a tribute to Canadian sportsmanship and Canadian prowess. How proud St. John would feel if Belyea did win over there! He is no forlorn chance by any means, and he himself shows a surprising amount of confidence in the outcome. Even if he is beaten, the winner will know he has traveled a little faster than he ever imagined he could. Belyea's ways have finished a race he started in and nine times out of ten he has finished in the money. Nineteen hundred and twenty-four should prove no exception.

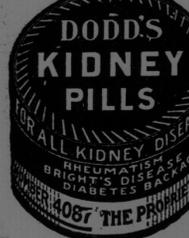

UMPIRES MUST BE DEVELOPED

President Ban Johnson Says Perfection Must Come From Experience.

Chicago, May 1.—The American League staff of umpires will again consist of 10 men this year. This means that in two cities of the circuit three umpires will be in charge of the games each day. President Johnson has discovered that very few umpires can step into the very show from the minors and deliver a job of umpiring that will meet with approval. Usually when a new umpire makes his debut every club owner and manager in the circuit is after the poor unfortunate's scalp. During recent years an injury to some regular member of the American League staff has forced a new man to be dropped into the race at a critical spot. This always means the going tough and proves unsatisfactory. The head of the American League is won over to the theory that perfection in umpiring can only be attained through actual work. For that reason he is carrying two extra men again, so that they may receive proper instructions from the veteran arbiters and be capable of stepping into the breach in an emergency. It is an excellent system that is certain to result in a better brand of umpiring.

Ball Problems By Billy Evans

QUESTIONS.
1. If the two captains are unable to agree on certain ground rules, what happens?
2. Can a batsman step out of the box after the pitcher has gotten into his position on the rubber ready to pitch?
3. With a runner on first, the batsman singles to right and the runner on first tries for third. With two umpires working, who gives the decision at third?
ANSWERS.
1. The umpire makes the ground rules, if the two captains are unable to reach a decision.
2. He is not supposed to, but conditions often arise that make it necessary. He should appeal to the umpire, who will always call time if the pitcher has not started his delivery.
3. The umpire working at the plate should give the decision at third.

U.S. WILL HAVE A WEAK TENNIS TEAM

Olympic Committee Ruling Causes Star Players to Drop Out.

By HENRY L. FARRELL.
New York, May 1.—(United Press)—America would team up with the Olympic tennis championship with a team composed of Bill Tilden, Vinnie Richards, Dick Williams, Watson Washburn, Frank Hunter and the Kinsey brothers. These players were selected by the United States Lawn Tennis Association as members of the team, but they will not be able to play because of the rule passed by the Olympic committee that no athletes on the team can act as newspaper correspondents. Hunter is a newspaper editor, and Tilden, Richards and the Kinseys are contributors to newspapers. Dick Williams, although it had not been announced officially, may resign from the team for the reason that he can't get away from business. Bill Johnston, the little California star, let it be known long ago that he could not go to Paris for the same reason.

Unless the Olympic committee relents or unless the athletes who have been earning money with their type-writers give in, Uncle Sam will have a very weak tennis team at the games instead of a combination that would be invincible against anything in the world. "Business reasons" may be a big handicap to the organization of the big Olympic team. Dick Landon, figured for a position on the high jump team, has announced that he will not be a candidate for the team, and Joe Pearson, one of the best walkers in the country, will not seek a place on the team because he can't get away from his business. The American hockey team was not representative of the full strength of the country, because several star players could not make the trip.

Some day in the near future it is practically certain that the idea of the Switzer that athletes are entitled to be compensated for the time they lose from their business will not be frowned upon now as such a terrible affront at the spirit of pure amateurism. Effect of the ruling of the tennis association that players could not retain their amateur standing if they continue to write for compensation after Jan. 1, 1925, was eagerly awaited by the association from foreign countries. Australia was the first to register an impression and it was a very wise one. The Australian association voted that their players who came to the United States to play in the Davis Cup matches this summer could write for newspapers—provided their copy was sent home by mail and not transmitted by cable. That was a very smart way of stopping what might be regarded as a necessary evil. In announcing months in advance the names of the players who were to be considered for places on the American Davis Cup team, the United States Association did a very wise thing. It not only gave the fifteen players appointed reason for ambition, but it marked the end of the "policy question" against which Bill Tilden protested so violently last winter. Tilden went so far as to threaten to withdraw from international competition if the association did not become a little more liberal in dispensing information to the players appointed on the team or considered for appointment.

Among other things Tilden said that he wasn't told who was to play in the doubles match of the cup contests last summer until 48 hours before the match and that he had been given no opportunity to practice with his partner. For this reason, he objected vociferously when a member of the association tried to tell him how he should play his game. When the names of the players were announced by the association it was suggested that as many of them as possible form doubles combinations and play through the season as partners. It has been realized that while the American singles game dominates the world, that the United States has much to learn from foreign nations about playing doubles. It isn't so much that the American game is not sound, as it is that it is not taken seriously enough. Under the present conditions the double match in the Davis Cup match is considered only of minor importance, because with so many good singles players in this country there is little chance of the match to be decided on the doubles. Some day, however, Tilden and Johnston are going to be through, and then the United States may need every point it can pick up in the matches.

SENSATIONAL ROOKIE MUST FILL SHOES OF MANY FORMER MAJOR LEAGUE STARS

The fates have handed Dudley Lee, rookie shortstop of the Red Sox, a mean assignment. Some of the greatest shortstops in baseball have held down the position Lee is trying to fill, Freddie Parent, Heinie Wagner and Everett Scott. Lee bids well to pick up where the others left off. Dudley Lee hails from the Tulsa, Okla., club of the Western League. He led the shortstops in action in fielding, batted 340 and stole 22 bases. Rather an imposing record. Lee Pohl is now the manager of the Boston Red Sox. Dudley, the sandlot kid of a few years back, is his shortstop. Pohl says Lee has fulfilled his greatest expectations. It's some job, however, that Dudley Lee, spring sensation, has been called upon to play as the Boston Red Sox shortstop.

The diminutive Dudley must fill several large sized pairs of shoes. The Boston fans have become accustomed to seeing real shortstops in action. Hearken back to other days and your memory reminds you that 15 years ago the Peerless Freddie Parent cavorted around the short field of the Boston Americans. Parent was one of the outstanding figures of that great infield, Collins, Parent, Ferris and La Chance. Then along came Heinie Wagner. Like the great Honus, Heinie was not grand personified but how he could grab those nasty bouncers and ball a wonder he was in putting the ball on the runner.

With the passing of Wagner, Everett Scott, the little "iron man" made his appearance. The sale of Scott to New York was far from relished by Bostonians. He was a prime favorite. Scott holds the world record for consecutive playing with 1,188 games to his credit. He says he expects to go the entire route. Since the passing of Scott the shortstop shoes have been badly filled at Boston. Enter Dudley Lee to win fame. Shades of the brilliant Parent, the great Wagner and the sensational Scott. Some job that Dudley Lee faces to fill those shoes. Manager Pohl says he will do it.

"RABBIT" STEALS HOME IN 14TH

Maranville's Stunt Wins a Game as Rookie Pitcher Fondles Ball.

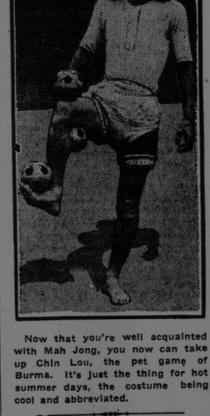

New York, May 1.—While a rookie pitcher tenderly fondled the ball on the pitching mound in the fourteenth inning with two down, "Rabbit" Maranville, Pirate shortstop, stole home with the run that gave Pittsburgh a two to one verdict over Chicago in one of the two Major League exhibitions which did not feel the dampening ardor of yesterday's April showers.

Milton Stock, who joined Charles H. Ebbets' payroll yesterday after an extended sojourn in St. Louis, was the outstanding player of the other encounter, when his single in the eleventh inning with two on gave Brooklyn a six to four victory over Boston. Not a turnstile clicked in the American League.

WANT DETECTIVE TO REFEREE BOUT

McKenna and Carbone are being matched to fight under the auspices of the Police Clubs of Glace Bay and Sydney, the mill to be battled out at Glace Bay, and the police promoters stated that unless the fight took place in Glace Bay, and the referee was Sergeant Detective John Power, of the St. John force there would be nothing doing. They put up the argument that the local detective was the best third man in the ring in Eastern Canada. When asked about the matter last night the big-hearted sergeant detective informed the Telegraph-Journal that he had received a telegram requesting him to act as referee, but he had replied that he would be unable to act in that capacity. The fight in question is supposed to take place on May 6.

POPULAR PLAYER LEAVING ST. JOHN

"Jerry" McGovern, First Baseman of St. Peter's, Going to Montreal.

"Jerry" McGovern, first baseman for years for the St. Peter's team, expects to leave the city either tomorrow or Saturday for Montreal to take a position in the metropolis. McGovern's acceptance of the Quebec job means that he will not play ball here this summer. He expects to get into the game up there. McGovern graduated in playing with junior teams in St. Peter's boys' school and later he graduated into St. Peter's House League as a member of the Maples. In 1918 he joined the Giants in the West St. John League and the following year became a member of St. Peter's senior team. Since that time "Jerry" has held down the initial sack and his work during that long period was outstanding. Many friends will wish him success in his new field. THIS GOLFER MADE FIRST REAL BIRDIE

Steve Gagan, golf professional at the Port Chester, N. Y., County Club, today made his first birdie of the current season over that course. Charles Repaoli, who was playing a round, driving from the first tee, his first shot of the year, hit the ball toward the out-of-bounds area. A hawk chose this moment to leave its nest in the woods and called in mid-air with Repaoli's ball. The bird, stunned, dropped into a bunker, and the ball fell to earth a few feet distant. Repaoli and Gagan revived the prostrate victim and then sent it on its way. "I was in that much consideration," said Repaoli. "That's the first 'birdie' I ever made on that hole."

SETTLE PROBLEMS IN MAJOR LEAGUES

Much Discussed Questions Now Determined—Down to Long Grind.

The opening dash in the pennant races of the two major leagues is over and the teams are settling down to the long job during the summer months, but already several things that appeared as problems during the training season have been settled one way or the other, says the New York Times. First and foremost of these was the question of Sleser's eye's. Last year the great hitter of the St. Louis Browns was forced out of the game with the eye fever, and it was believed that the game had lost one of its brightest performers for all time. When it became known that Sleser would return to the game as a player this season, it was generally believed that the success or failure of the Browns depended on his showing. Sleser clearly demonstrated during the first ten days of the campaign that his eyesight is not materially affected by his hitting ability. In fact, according to the first league averages issued yesterday, the Browns' new manager has made more hits than any player in either league. However, Sleser's showing has not done much for the team of which he is a member, and St. Louis is found at the bottom of the American League. Another question which was much discussed before the championship season opened was whether or not the Giants could go along at top speed with their pitching staff. But McGraw's youngsters have come through in fine form, and it is more probable than it was a month ago that the Giants will lead the National League when Fall comes around. Bostons, Dean, Huntington, Yearish and Bentley have come through splendidly to help Neff and Ryan along, and thus far the showing of the infield is that of the celebrated staff of hurlers handled by Manager Miller Huggins of the Yankees. Travelling Jackson, being the position left vacant by Bancroft, was another Giant problem, although there was never very much doubt that he would work into the infield in the fall. Jackson has not only plugged up the gap at short acceptably, but his home run hitting has helped the National League champions to get away to a big start. Several other experiments in the way of young players have so far lived up to their minor league reputations. Notably, the showing of the way to many of the veteran hitters and is right up among the leaders; Dudley Lee, the Red Sox shortstop; Glenn Wright, the Red Sox pitcher; and the Cleveland Indians; Prothro, third baseman with the Senators; Simmons, the Athletics slugger; and the Philadelphia Phillies; are traveling at a fast clip during the early going. But the rookies that hit in the spring cup often pop out in the fall, and it is still a bit too early to call any of the new members of the big leagues as second Wagners, Matthews, Cobbs or Speasers.

Madden May Give Wills Tough Go

Is Considered One of the Gamest Fighters in the Ring.
By HENRY L. FARRELL.
New York, May 1.—(United Press)—With a couple of big shots in prospect there are few prominent boxers who are willing to take a chance on warming up or working out with any opponent who might be figured to have any chance of letting one fly that would spoil the prospects. Luis Angel Firpo gave boxers some excellent lessons in caution when he was told by Tex Rickard that he was to get a chance for the heavyweight championship if he kept his jaw out of the way of destruction. Firpo made himself on some of the worst setups in the game, although some might argue that Jess Willard was not an easy mark. Firpo's advisers figured, however, that Willard would do just what he did do. They knew that he was not able to get a distance and they were sure that he would not postpone action when he found out that the going was getting too rough. Willard's count on the chair in his corner at Toledo when he lost the championship to Jack Dempsey, and he was crawling for the stool when referee coughed him with the count of ten in the ring with Firpo. Harry Wills is practically assured of at least two big shots this summer. He needs work, of course, to get back into good fighting shape, but he could get the job offered him by Tex Rickard even if he didn't put a glove on until he started training. Wills' championship match with Bartley Madden, the Irish heavyweight, when he began to be hounded by the writers and the public for keeping himself out of the range of all kinds of fats. Madden does not look like a fighter in the record book. He is one of the batters who got so far in the game and never stopped, and his money could be being used as a trial horse. When he challenged Wills, and was accepted, it was hinted that the colored heavyweight was still looking for the easy one in a three or four round fight.

HE IS QUITE STRONG NOW

Madden is one of the toughest and gamest fighters in the ring. There is no one, including Dempsey, who has a stouter heart than Madden, and it is possible that there is no fighter who can take much and take it as long as Madden can. Several years ago, when Tom Gibbons was knocking him out over with a punch or two, Madden went ten rounds with him, and when the last bell sounded he was still on his feet. For eight rounds Gibbons had pounded him on the jaw with rights and lefts, but he couldn't put him out. Madden was so cut up from the beating that doctors had to take 16 stitches in his face. Madden at that time had been doing very little training. He knew he could stay ten rounds with any fighter in the game, and he was interested only in staying. Against Wills, however, Madden probably will be a different fighter, at least physically better. He has been training for more than three months, and if he is in shape, there is no way of telling how much he will be able to take. Against an opponent of such durability, Wills will be in great danger of breaking one of his fragile ribs. He has broken his right hand several times and has lost a hundred thousand dollars in business because of his weak knuckles. He has a danger of fracturing some bones, and against Madden he will be facing a concrete post. Under the circumstances it might be figured that the fight is "in the bag." Madden is going no place. His record would not be marred if it showed a knockout by Harry Wills and it would mean so much more if he knocked out Wills, because he would hear that Wills was through all the time and that he was just waiting for some fair fighter to come along and push him over.

JACKIE HATES TO WEAR GIRLS' DRESS

Necessity, However, Again Demands That He Make Sacrifice.

For the second time in his meteoric film career, Jackie Coogan has donned the ruffles of femininity, and both times he has been highly successful in his impersonation, greatly to his own private scorn.

Jackie isn't strongly in favor of "female impersonations," and is in that age when boyhood is just a bit disturbed in his mind as to whether girls are not, after all, an incubance and, frankly, a nuisance.

However, duty is duty, and a job is a job. In his picture, "Circus Days," the plot required Jackie to get into the skirts of a tiny equestrienne and ride upon a horse. He didn't mind the horse, but he was dubious about the skirts, and went about the studio for several days with a chip on his shoulder awaiting some incautious person to brush it off with a comment about "how sweet he was dressed up like a little girl."

His current picture, "A Boy of Flanders," took a similar liberty with the personal sentiments of this genuine boy, and demanded of him a day or two of abject misery in which, dressed as little Lena from Rotterdam, he (Jackie) had to cavort before the camera. The result of Jackie's disports for feminine impersonation, plus his obvious masculinity, in the finest of lace caps and voluminous skirts, is a huge success. Thus garbed, Jackie makes what is claimed a record for holding a single scene to a greater length of footage than was ever given an unbroken film episode.

The world-warming Jackie Coogan smile has a tenderness that was never before fully recognized. While his honorable and enduring rag-a-wistful appeal that is irresistible when framed in a quaint cap of fabulously fine Mechlin lace.

PRESENT COMEDY IN NORTH END

The three-act comedy drama, "Oak Farm" was presented Tuesday evening before a large audience in the Y. M. C. A. Hall of Portland Methodist church, by the Dramatic Club of the Dominion Lodge, E. O. G. T., who received hearty applause. The play was held under the auspices of one of the tents of the church, of which Mrs. Richards C. Thomas and Mrs. Charles McClelland have charge. Candy was sold between the acts. The play was directed by T. B. Brown and the actors did their parts with splendid effect.

Tragedy and humor followed one another in rapid succession. The comedy actors were Frank W. Charles, "Red Weatherby," Glover MacMurray, Murray Sargeant and Miss Elva Chapman, who was very funny as "Cynthia Warner" the old maid who was much sought after by "Dr. Wilson Meredith," Mr. Sargeant and "Jocelyn Spidge," Mr. Sargeant. The other taking part were Mrs. T. B. Brown, "Mrs. Weatherby," Harry MacMurray, "Donald Weatherby," Roy Stackhouse, "Wellington Troy," Miss Joy Cunningham, "Helen Trumbell," Miss Jean Burton, "Sally Smart," Miss Elva Chapman, "Silas Weatherby," and T. B. Brown, "Jonathan Prune."

FADING STARS OF THE SCREEN.

Where are the stars of yesterday? So asks the movie fan, the habitual, persistent follower of the silver screen. He sits, perhaps, in the darkened chamber of the silver screen and sees new faces come into view, and thinks, maybe with a wren of regret, of those who have passed, of the stars that have faded. And doubtless he wonders whether, after all, it is worth while getting devotedly attached to picture personalities when they pass so soon.

Paging Peter Pan! Who'll Play Important Role?

Hollywood, May 1.—"Call for Peter Pan," calling Peter Pan, chant Paramount's page boys, seeking James Barrie's figure of the elder Pan for the biggest picture role in years, crying up and down the streets of Hollywood. "Not in, sir... Doesn't answer," they have thus far reported to Jesse Lasky, who for three years has held picture rights to the Barrie play and who is about to begin the much discussed production.

As a matter of fact a good many shining celebrities have answered, but none has been chosen. Who has the essential Panish qualities—the spiritual clan, the drool whinny, the slim grin, the peddle and all but fezzies from the heart of grownups and children?

Who can play the role of Peter Pan? Speculation has played about many names. Among those suggested, with or without their own consent and irrefutable rights of availability, are Jackie Coogan, May McAvoy, Betty Compton, Bessie Love, Colleen Moore, Mary Philbin, Marilyn Miller, Viola Dana, Madge Bellamy, Gareth Hughes and, to pass beyond the range of probability, Mary Pickford and Lillian Gish.

CENTRAL BAPTIST TUXIS BOYS WIN

These victories put Central in line for the Maritime title, the only other eligible team being Fort Massey, Halifax, the provincial junior Tuxis champions of Nova Scotia. These boys found it impossible to play, so now the title rests with Central.

Much credit is given L. E. Schurman, coach and manager of the team, the members of which are Alfred Arthurs, forward and captain; William Waring, forward; Arthur Barnes, centre; Bruce McCrea, defence; Jack Bean, defence; and Edward Melroberts, defence.

PEGGY CARTWRIGHT RETURNS TO CANADA

Eleven-year-old Film Actress to Take Holiday From Movies.

Peggy Cartwright, 11 year old film actress, has departed for her home in Canada just as she approached the threshold of big-time renown in the realm of the flicking drama. And all on account of the ever present bugaboo which decrees that there shall come into the career of every child motion picture player a period of idleness between childhood and maturity.

The rise to fame of Peggy has not been spectacular; it has been replete with conscientious endeavor of a consistently steady trend. She has progressed from small bits to parts of greater calibre solely through her willingness to plug along until she found her place in the order of things cinematic.

A notable feature of her career is that she did not come to Hollywood to "break into the movies." She, and her brother Richard, were brought to California by their mother six years ago after a long siege of illness had threatened Peggy's life and the air and sunshine soon shortened the shadow of approaching death until she emerged into the full bloom of health once more.

After years of successful portrayals in the silent drama, together with many personal appearances on the vaudeville stage in a delightful dancing act with her brother Richard, came the climax of her childhood film work when she played the part of Virginia Valli at the age of nine in "A Lady of Quality," one of the Universal-Jewel releases of the present season which recently concluded a successful engagement at the Mission Theatre in Los Angeles. In this role, which was resplendent with vivaciousness, Peggy was heralded by public and critics alike as an actress of rare promise.

The uptake of life, however, has decided that she leave the silversheet for the time being so that she may devote more time and energy to those studies and manners essential to her introduction to the motion picture public as a young lady. Therefore the farewell has come and with the "au revoir" and "God-speeds" goes a whispered prayer that she will soon return to those of the colorful colony of Hollywood who have come to regard her as "one of ours." May she return to the silent drama in an even greater triumph.

IS PRESIDENT OF LOCAL ROTARY

H. Mont Jones is Popular Member and Prominent Business Man.

H. Mont Jones, who was on Monday elected president of the Rotary Club, has been for some years a member of the executive and always active in the club's work. He has always been found ready to do personal work to make whatever the club undertakes a success, and his geniality and bright humor have made him generally popular.

Mr. Jones is a native of Hatley, Quebec, near Sherbrooke, in the Eastern Townships. It is a section which was formerly English but is now overwhelmingly French-Canadian. Mr. Jones says there has been a remarkable change in that respect since the days of his boyhood.

The new president of Rotary is a successful King street merchant and a member of the Retail Merchants' Association. He came to St. John with Dunlap, Cooke & Co. some fourteen years ago, and in 1912 entered into business for himself. Not only has he attained business success, but he has made warm personal friends in the city of his adoption.

"Monty" of the minstrels is now president of Rotary.

FIRE MARSHAL SPEAKS AT BORDER

Attends Firemen's Banquet—Investigation is On at Minto.

Hugh H. McLellan, provincial fire marshal, returned last evening from St. Stephen, where he attended a banquet given by the chief of the St. Stephen fire department to the firemen, in connection with fire prevention week activities. Mr. McLellan addressed the gathering on the importance of fire prevention and the necessity for co-operation on the part of everybody in the community.

Included among the guests at the banquet were the mayors and fire chiefs of the four border towns, St. Stephen, Calais and the two Milltowns. J. M. Vroom, town clerk of St. Stephen, gave an interesting history of the development of the fire departments at the border up to the present time. The function was a most enjoyable one.

Investigating Minto Fire. Charles Robinson, secretary of the N. B. Fire Prevention Board, is in Minto investigating the fire which last week destroyed or damaged several buildings in the main section of the town. He is expected to return in a day or two.

FRUZZETTI MAY TRAIN BOXERS

Plans to Give Maritime Lads Good Show are on Foot.

In order that Olympic prospects from the Maritime Provinces may be given every opportunity to get into first class condition President A. W. Covey, of the Maritime Province branch of the A. A. U. of C. is mapping out plans for a place where they will be able to train and for competent instructors to teach them some fine points. Just how elaborate these plans will be will depend on the success of the tag day here on Saturday. A good sum will be necessary to insure that the returns on Saturday will be sufficiently large.

There are seven boxers in the Maritime Provinces who have proven qualified to participate in the Canadian Olympic trials in Toronto. They are Louis Donovan, of this city, 129 pound Maritime champion; Raymond "Nixey" Kennedy of Halifax, 133 pound Maritime champion; William Cavanaugh of Westville, N. S., 118 pound Maritime champion; George Wright of Westville, McLean of Sydney, Eric Snow of St. John and Daniel Nolan of Glace Bay. President Covey is figuring on securing a professional boxer to train these boys and it is hoped that they will win a place on the Canadian team. Jimmy Fruzzetti of Boston has been highly recommended as a competent man for this position, and he will be favorably considered.

As soon as the tag day returns are all in a meeting of the executive will be held in Amherst, when final arrangements will be made for the instruction and training of the athletes.

BABY CARRIAGE IS DOG AMBULANCE

Figures in a Nice Kindness to Animals St. John Story.

A kind-hearted crowd of men, women and children who gathered about a little black dog in the vestibule of a Charlotte street store a few days ago will be glad to know that the only injury the patient canine suffers is a crushed paw. It was pinched by tiny girl playmate, the child's mother and baby carriage in which the family baby reclined.

The Syrian mother and little girl could not make themselves plainly understood to the people who offered suggestions as to how to treat the injured dog. A man wanted a policeman to take it away and shoot it, a thought that brought a flood of tears from the little girl whose hand the dog licked affectionately. A woman shopper handled the dog and discovered the injury to be in the foot only and offered a unique plan of relief.

Finding it difficult to make the mother understand, she acted out her plan by taking the baby out of the carriage, placing it in the mother's arms and then cooily tucking the injured canine in the carriage, where it lay down contentedly. The little girl then wheeled her pet off home happily.

Before the extraordinary "Blue Cross" ambulance and a precious burden left the crowd of onlookers a lady introducing herself as a member of the Animal Rescue League offered to take the David's street where the dog's injury might be treated or if the injury was internal where the animal might be lethally.

However, the dog was taken to its own home and is now recovering nicely. It lives in Brunswick street.

As Hiram Sees It

"How much rent hev they been payin' since that old Court House was burnt?" asked Mr. Hiram Hornbeam of The Times reporter.

"If you had it you could buy another farm," said the reporter.

"I was thinkin' that," said Hiram.

"You might be able to stock a farm," said the reporter.

"I was thinkin' that, too," said Hiram. "An' you aint a-goin' to get a new buildin' after all."

"It so appears," said the reporter.

"Might as well a-fixed the old one in the first place," said Hiram.

"An' saved the rent," said Hiram.

"That," said the reporter, "is a minor consideration. We must have time to make up our minds. The great uncharted future lies before us. We must deliberate. What are a few paltry thousands more or less when we are planning for posterity and chewing the rag?"

"It goes on the tax bill—don't it?" said Hiram.

"For that we were born," said the reporter. "It is a privilege to pay while great minds ponder."

"Blah," said Hiram.
