The Mysterious Portrait.

In a small but handsomely-furnished sitting-room in a London hotel, a young lady was sitting in an easy-claim before a blazing fire, one dreary November afternoon. Herhat and cloak lay upon the table beside her, and from the eager, impatient glances she turned toward the door at every sound of footstep on the staircase outside, it was evident that she expected a visitor.

At last the door opened, and a tall, aristone cratic-looking young man entered the room.

"Harry, what a long time you have been." Harry was beginning a room let seat.
