CHATHAM. - - NOVEMBER 16, 1882 The Crying Evil.

Our beer is full of awful things, There's terra alba in our candy False notes, too, oft the tenor sings,
Our brandy's anything but brandy;
Our tea would make Celestials weep,
Our woollens bubble o'er with cotton;
Good fruit is always on the top—
While underneath is placed the rotten. Duke Street, - Chatham.

The oyster laughs their skill to scorn,
They can't adulterate potatoes;
But, though we know that "eggs are eggs,"
They often seem half saleratus.
The English ale is far behind
Thebrew that pleased the cheery Dickens,
And I'm convinced we buy a kind
Of patent lignum-vitæ chickens!

On with the dance? We must not dare To spend a moment in reflecting, Since what we eat and drink and wear Is filled with what we're not expecting My farewell words, though few and sad, Perchance may be anticipated-Our politicians are so bad They cannot be adulterated !"

A FRICHTFUL CATASTROPHE! The City and Provincial Poors

Asylum Destroyed by Fire! Thirty-two Victims to Ambition ! BAD MANAGEMENT SOMEWHERE.

On Monday, 6th, at near midnight the fire ells in Halifax rang out their "wild alarm," and in a very short time it was known that the City and Provincial Poors' Asylum was on fire. The fire brigade—consisting of Fire Wardens, members of the Union Engine Company with their engines and hose, of the Union Protection Company with their appliance for saving property, of the Axe and Ladder Company with their instruments, together with clergymen, Aldermen, Policemen, and hundreds of citizens gathered at the scene. The battle with the destroyer was begun and for hours vigorously carried or. But fire proved stronger than were those who strove to master it and before the morning sun rose the great building which had cost $88,000, and was nihe flats in height, and contained furniture of the known that the City and Provincial Poors' R. The building was insured for $10,000 each in the Halifax, Phœnix, Acadia, Lancashire and Queen's offices. The Halifax had $5,000 additional on the outbuildings which were not injured. The rescued, who numbered over four hundred, were made as comfortable as was possible till Tuesday afternoon. On Tuesday, Messrs. M. H. Richey, M. P., M. B. Daley, M. P., Hon. A. Gayton, Chairman of the Board of Charities, and Mayor Fraser sent a joint telegram to the Minister of Public Works at Ottawa asking permission to use the old penitentiary at the North-West Arm to house the saved, and it was accorded. The men were taken there in Walker's 'busses that afternoon. The women and children were lodged in the Public Garden skating rink till accommodation could be provided for them in the Penitentiary. "A soore! Nine-and-twenty!" murmured Gresham, "as I found out when I saw Lady Merivale in the conservatory after tea. Of course Beatrix had told her all about it, and she spoke so kindly that really my heart quite warmed to her, and I felt such a brute for having taken advantage of her, as it were, and played her and her old husband such a trick, that, lang it! if I did not make a clean breast of the long of the subject. The first moment we became aware of the plot—for a plot it certainly was—was when a score of notes of acceptance arrived for the ball here on the 10th."

"A soore! Nine-and-twenty!" murmured Gresham, under his breath.

"What was I to do?" said Sir Thomas, wrathfully. "What could I do to baffle the malice of the author of having taken advantage of her, as it were, and played her and her old husband such a trick, that, lang it! if I did not make a clean breast of the
