EDWARD HOOPER,

Arrested at Halifax, at Instance of a British Admiral.

Is Charged With Stealing Tons of Valuable Metal at Bermuda and Shipping It to St. John.

(Halifax Chronicle, July 21.) When the West India line steamer Orinoco arrived from Bermuda last night and docked at No. 3 pier, Deep Water Terminal, she was boarded by Detective Power, who arrested Edward Hooper, a contractor to the British government at Bermuda.

The proceedings in the case were taken by Vice-Admiral Sir Frederick Bedford. Several days ago the naval authorities here were advised by cable of the loss of the metal, and that suspiciously named Hooper.

The warrant on which Hooper was apprehended is a naval warrant and it is signed by Vice-Admiral Bedford. This is the first warrant of the kind that the police department of Halifax has been called upon to execute.

Hooper is a man about forty-eight years of age, well dressed, and of very stern appearance. It is stated that he formerly belonged to Dartmouth, but left that town some ten years ago for Bermuda, where he has since resided.

There is over two tons of the metal on the Orinoco, and it is consigned to St. John. It consists of copper, brass, and other kinds of metal.

Hooper will undergo a preliminary examination here and then will be sent to Bermuda for trial in charge of a naval officer.

But the Irish Members as Usual Protested. LONDON, July 21.—In the house of commons today proposing a resolution granting Field Marshal Lord Roberts £100,000 for his services in South Africa.

FREDERICTON, July 21.—Messrs. Arthur Shute, Albert W. Edgcombe, William Walker and Thomas Allen left on this afternoon's C. P. R. express for Montreal on Friday for a several weeks' trip to England and the continental.

Shortly after midnight last night three men were observed by boarders at the Waverley house crawling stealthily upon the roof of the Lemont block and trying by means of the skylight to gain access to the store below.

A meeting attended by most of the proprietors of the grocers was held last evening to consider the early closing movement.

A nuptial event which has been anticipated with much interest and curiosity by the very many friends of the bride and groom, was consummated today, when Augustus Cameron, of Cameron & McTavish, of St. Stephen, married Helen Daisie, daughter of Edgar Hanson, of the matrimonial altar.

A transient visitor in Toronto was Miss Blackmore, a Methodist missionary on her way home from her station in Tokio, Japan, to Toronto, N. S.

HOW TO DEAL WITH GERMANY.

Germany has a discriminating tariff. She favors some countries and discriminates against others. Her highest scale of duties is levied upon goods from Canada.

The Canadian government says, very truly, that it has done nothing of the kind. The view of this country is that a preference to goods from the British Empire is not a discrimination against any foreign country.

We do not like the word retaliation. It has a flavor of spite in it. But it seems that the thing for Canada to do is to accept frankly the result of the tariff preference.

It is not worth while to ask the free trading, non-preferential government of Great Britain to explain away the protective and preferential tariff of Canada.

Let us not be misled by the fact that the duty on foreign sugar is not high enough to make the preference effective. Let it be increased.

We do not say that the concession to our fellow subjects for white to give preference for preference. But it would miss the Canadian sugar market.

SUNDAY OBSERVANCE.

The communication which the Lord's Day Alliance addressed to the Governor General was based on what was understood to be an official programme of His Excellency's tour in this province.

According to this programme it appeared that the Governor General and his party would leave this city by special train on Sunday afternoon, that a guard of honor would be present, a salute fired, and all the ceremonial fitting for an official departure would take place.

Either the programme was unauthorized or it has been changed, so the question does not now arise in connection with His Excellency's departure. But in urging a change in the arrangements as announced, the Alliance asked no more of the representative of the Sovereign than the law, as generally understood and usually respected, demands of His Majesty's subjects while in this province.

Lord Minto, who is the chief representative of human law and authority in Canada, and who has a proper respect for the people over whom he has been called upon to preside, would be the last to regard it as a "breach of hospitality" for an organization like the Lord's Day Alliance to address him in a courteous and respectful manner.

And speaking of Sunday laws, we have again the case of the druggist and soda water. These dealers have a right to protest if it be true that customers buy beer or whiskey elsewhere because they cannot buy soda water and pop.

While the discussion would take this turn if logically pursued on the form of the tariff, Germany has no reason to complain of the effects of the Canadian tariff.

Canada bought in 1900 $3,323,426 worth of goods from Germany. This is a million more than the purchases of the previous year, and nearly two millions in excess of the imports from Germany in any year before 1899.

Our imports from Germany have increased in greater proportion than those from any other country with which we do large business. Belgium, which has trebled the sales to Canada in three years, and sent us over three millions worth of goods in 1900, is merely the road through which other large quantities of German produce come.

While we bought from Germany and Belgium $11,500,000 worth of goods in 1900 these countries took less than $3,000,000 worth of goods from Canada. Germany alone imported $1,715,000 in exchange for the $3,323,000 we bought from that country. Obviously Germany cannot complain that Canada is refusing to buy German products.

Probably our tariff preference has given England an advantage in supplying to Canada certain articles which are also produced in Germany.

From both countries we purchase woolen and silk fabrics, cutlery, toys and fancy articles, knitted goods, drugs and dyes, and large list of commodities in which they are competitors.

But the article which stands first among our imports from Germany, and which accounts for the great increase in the trade, is not much affected by the tariff preference.

In 1900, Canadian articles which are also produced in Germany, valued at 233,000,000 pounds of raw sugar, and of this over 149,000,000 pounds, or more than half, came from Germany.

Of the remainder more than 100,000,000 pounds came from Belgium, and this, we believe, was largely German. From all other countries we bought only 30,000,000 pounds.

No more than 15,000,000 pounds came in under the preference, of which tariff than two-thirds was Australian and less than 5,000,000 pounds from the British West Indies.

All the duty that was remitted under the preference was $30,000, of which the British West Indies were allowed $3,000. The total value of sugar bought from Germany and Belgium was nearly $8,000,000, or double that of all the Canadian products brought by both countries in the year when they bought the most.

We do not like the word retaliation. It has a flavor of spite in it. But it seems that the thing for Canada to do is to accept frankly the result of the tariff preference.

It is not worth while to ask the free trading, non-preferential government of Great Britain to explain away the protective and preferential tariff of Canada.

Let us not be misled by the fact that the duty on foreign sugar is not high enough to make the preference effective. Let it be increased.

We do not say that the concession to our fellow subjects for white to give preference for preference. But it would miss the Canadian sugar market.

THE CANADIAN MAGAZINE AND EASTERN CANADA.

Mr. John A. Cooper, the clever and successful editor of the Canadian Magazine, made a tour of the Maritime Provinces last month, and gives his impressions in the August number.

Mr. Cooper concludes that the people of the maritime provinces "are not so slow as some people have painted them." He finds them "thoughtful and progressive, though not restless and aggressive."

The newspapers, he says, are "the joys of the politicians," and both lead the people badly. Our papers are too much given to political "hatred" and the publication of American lies.

This is probably true, but surely Mr. Cooper is wrong in suggesting that the dials are less common on Ontario papers. He is quite right in saying that a New Brunswick paper has more news from the States than from Ontario.

Mr. Cooper is somewhat provincial, as most Ontario men are. He is accustomed to find Ontario affairs discussed with great fullness in the press of that province, and loses his sense of proportion.

The same defect has been observed in the average Ontario politician, who, coming from a larger and more important province, has a narrower outlook than those who have been trained to look outside their own narrower field.

Mr. Cooper found the provinces overrun with tourists, and reports that the hotel accommodation is altogether inadequate. In this again he is partly but not wholly right.

A large proportion of the passengers who appear to be touring are looking for high priced and high priced summer hotels. Some cannot afford the cost and others do not wish to be with the crowd.

Many are provincials born, returning for the first time. Others are looking for quiet lodgings. When Cooper says, "I think I am safe in stating that except for one small hotel on the north shore of Prince Edward Island there is not a tourist hotel on the coast of the maritime provinces," he doubtless excludes the regular hotels of the cities.

But he should have gone to St. Andrews, and there are many houses which are not tourist hotels in the sense that Mr. Cooper means. They are good summer places beside the salt water, though perhaps "they cannot accommodate a hundred people without 'getting dizzy.'" Mr. Cooper "seems some excuse for his criticism, but criticism is wholesome, and there is no doubt that the people on this coast have not yet risen to their opportunities.

Mr. Cooper thinks that Moncton might be a noted place "if it would shoot several of its citizens for the same reason that the British shot at Adolphus in Scotland. This is because they do not rise to the occasion. Charlottetown is "the dingiest and most unprogressive city in the east," though it contains people "who might be great if they would take the trouble." Sydney "will be a beautiful place some day, creditable to itself and Canada." Halifax wears its beauty all to the outside.

Mr. Cooper's public squares get "John is a splendid town. Approach ed from the Bay of Fundy at all tide it looks like a pocket edition of Toronto or Montreal. Its streets are broad, its public squares generous and well placed, while its buildings are modern and well-furnished. While not so wealthy as Halifax, it apparently has more of the elements which contribute to the growth of modern cities. With half a chance St. John will be a great city, the commercial centre of the provinces."

Mr. Cooper thinks that the three provinces should be one, and suggests that the newspapers educate the people up to that idea. Being an Ontario man, he does not know how much the subject has been discussed in the press, and in the legislatures, but he has the right idea. Mr. Cooper will be back again next month, and a handsome Canadian newspaper men and women will meet him.

MR. CHAMBERLAIN SMUTTED AGAIN. St. Louis Davies says that the Imperial conference concerning the judicial committee of the privy council was a fiasco. This is true. Mr. Chamberlain called the conference to "represent in the highest court of appeal opened to the colonies. Before the conference met, Mr. Chamberlain announced that it would come to nothing. La Patrie and La Presse, which have been discussing Mr. Chamberlain and his imperialism day after day, are glorious. Twice now Mr. Chamberlain has invited the colonies to take up the question of closer union with the Empire. On the other occasion he asked the views of the colonial premiers on commercial relations. This time he opened the discussion of judicial relations. After his former repulse Mr. Chamberlain was led to exclaim that he would not now touch preferential trade with a pair of tongs. This time he will again be exposed to the taunts of the Little Englanders. But Mr. Chamberlain is happy. Mr. Mills has carried out his orders.

Lord Mount Stephen's noble gift to the library of his native county and the neighboring shire in Scotland, is worthy of the man and the object. The clergy of the poor parishes in Scotland are entitled to recognition at the hands of the Scotchmen who have been successful in other lands. These ministers, though living obscure lives, have often been an inspiration to the youth of their parish, and many a lad owed his success in life to the lessons taught by the plain living, but high thinking occupant of the manse.

The Sun's statement that Lord Minto was to receive five addresses last Saturday, namely, at Wolfville, Canimac, Kentville, Annapolis and Digby, was not exactly borne out by the facts. Through a failure in receiving notices, Annapolis did not have the address. But addresses were presented at Windsor and Hortonville, so there were six instead of five for the day. But for the disaster at Annapolis the number would have been seven.

At last accounts the strike in the United States Corporation steel works had not been declared off. The agreement reached by negotiators on both sides was not ratified yesterday by the executive of the employees. If this strike continues it will go far to restore the conditions which prevailed before the great strike in England. That affair did more than anything else to deprive England of her industrial supremacy.

George Kennan, the Siberian traveler, cannot remain in Russia. That should not grieve him since he has a charming home at Baddeck, within easy swimming distance from Mr. Bell's more stately mansion. There are worse refuges than the shore of the Bras d'Or for a man of letters who is headed off from Russia.

Mr. Prince of Montreal La Presse has gone around the world in sixty-four days, which is probably the shortest time ever made by the regular passenger conveyance. But for accident Mr. Prince would have made the tour in sixty-one days.

It is announced that Sir Louis Davies will be made a judge so soon as the premier can select his successor. Mr. Emmerson, who has already been selected by Mr. Blair, may be interested in observing that Mr. Farquharson still expects to be minister.

PROVINCIAL NEWS

WOODSTOCK, N. B., July 30.—There are no new developments in regard to the smallpox cases at Red Bridge, and there are those who persist in claiming that the disease cannot be smallpox. At all events, the patients are not all seriously indisposed and one or two of them are on their feet and carrying on their usual work. Two of the doctors from town went out this afternoon and will make a thorough investigation into the alleged case. Dr. Fisher, the provincial health inspector, is expected here this evening, and in the meantime the board of health is active in making all provisions to prevent the disease reaching Woodstock. It has been decided to erect an infection disease hospital on the poor house grounds, and the contractor will proceed with the work of erecting it at once. It may be said positively that there are no new cases and that there are of a very light type. Red Bridge is about sixteen miles from Woodstock, toward the boundary line. The people living out there are well to do farmers.

A young man named Samuel Macenzie was before the police magistrate this morning, charged with stealing a horse and cart. The horse, a bay, was taken from the stable of the late Mr. C. M. Sherwood's store. It was taken from there and driven over to Rescue Isle, where it was recovered. The young man pleaded guilty. As he had previously borne a good character, and was evidently under the influence of whiskey when the theft was committed, the magistrate dealt leniently with him, giving him six months in jail.

FREDERICTON, N. B., July 30.—An unfortunate accident occurred at the Aberdeen mill at 4 o'clock this morning, the victim being Coleman Shields, the night foreman. He was working at the planer in the box-wood department, when his left hand was caught in the machinery and terribly mangled. He was removed to the hospital without delay, and the attending surgeon found it necessary to amputate the hand at the wrist. Mr. Shields was much esteemed by his employers as a young man of ability, and his misfortune calls forth expressions of sympathy from all his fellow workers. He was married about two years ago.

The many friends of Miss Carrie A. Tibbitts and Aubrey H. Clark were taken completely by surprise yesterday afternoon when they were quietly married at the residence of the bride's parents on George street at 2.30 o'clock, the Rev. Geo. B. Payson performing the interesting ceremony. Both bride and groom are popular young couples and the many friends will extend to them hearty congratulations. The bride is the second daughter of R. W. L. Tibbitts, deputy provincial secretary. The groom is the second son of J. Alfred Clark of St. John. He was for some time employed in the office of the Hunt, Boot and Shoe Company and is now in the employ of the large pulp mill at Chatham. They took the evening train for St. John on their wedding tour and will leave there this evening for Chatham.

SACKVILLE, N. B., July 30.—Mrs. George Wheeler (nee Maggie Dobson) of Wakefield, Mass., who has been visiting her brother, John Dobson, in Joliette, left for home yesterday. Charles D. Stewart received a cablegram yesterday stating that Dr. and Mrs. Stewart had arrived safely at Liverpool.

It is an unusually dry time. Springs and wells are getting low and the high pasture lands are turning red from being scorched with the sun. Rain is much needed. Fawcett Bros. have paid out over $1,200 for fruit during the last two months. They are now handling gooseberries raised by E. H. Ogden. They have shipped a ton of this fruit to Sydney and have sold another ton for local use.

A horse belonging to Henry Harper of Frosty Hollow was found in the gutter with an ox on Sunday and bled to death. The animal was valued at $100.

After an illness of a few days, Agnes Whitcombe, aged 41 years, died at the home of Captain Fred Egan, this morning. She was a daughter of Mrs. Harvey Egan (nee Mrs. Whitcombe) of Boston, and came here about three years ago. During her brief sickness she repeatedly called for her mother, but though notified, Mrs. Egan was not able to arrive before a malignant type of measles had ended the life of her child.

SACKVILLE, N. B., July 31.—A load of fat cattle, billed to John MacDonaid, St. John, came down the N. B. and P. E. I. railway yesterday. Geo. Oulton of Bay Verte was the shipper. Albert Smith of Upper Sackville shipped part of a car load today.

The body of the sailor, Robert Bell, belonging to the steamship Petaluna, who was drowned at Cape Tormentine on the first inst., was found on Saturday.

J. F. Faulkner of Amherst, who has been for some time bookkeeper in the employ of the Amherst Book and Shoe Co., has been engaged as bookkeeper for W. M. Wood & Sons. Mr. Faulkner takes the place made vacant by the death of A. Weidon Oulph.

One of the sons of George W. Milton hitched a horse on the other side of the Tantramar River, yesterday, while he came home on an errand. When he got back the horse and cart had disappeared and have not since been heard of.

E. H. Grady of the Anglo-American Telegraph Co. of Charlottetown will arrive tonight to relieve E. E. Henderson, who will spend a short vacation in P. E. Island.

The building on Bridge street, at present occupied by Charles A. Doull as a furniture store, and by Stewart & Co. as a dry goods store, is to be much improved. C. A. Doull, the owner, intends raising the roof and converting it into a three-story structure. The additional space thus made will be used as furniture warehouses.

McADAM JUNCTION, July 30.—J. R. Gilliland, who has been promoted to the position of agent at West St. John, paid a flying visit to McAdam Junction, preparatory to moving his family to

St. John. Mr. Gilliland was asked to step into the ladies' waiting room, where he met a number of his McAdam friends, who had planned a surprise for him. J. W. Hoyt of the customs department, as chairman, read the following address:

Dear Sir:—It is with mingled feelings of regret and gladness that we learn that you are about to leave us of regret, because of the loss we are about to sustain by your departure; of gladness, because of your gain in a well-earned vacation to a preferable position. And with hearts thus moved, we desire to avail ourselves of this opportunity of conveying to you our hearty congratulations on this promotion, which you, because of your many qualities, administrative ability and business efficiency, have so well merited.

As a tangible proof of the friendship that exists between us, we take much pleasure in presenting to you and Mrs. Gilliland, the accompanying hall rack and chair as a small token of our regard and esteem, being fully conscious at the same time how inadequately its intrinsic value expresses the arrangement and the sentiments of affection which is the motive of its presentation.

We realize that his chief value will consist in suggesting to you and Mrs. Gilliland, wherever your field of labor may be, the heartfelt wishes of your many friends for your highest success, welfare and happiness.

Mr. Gilliland replied, thanking his friends at McAdam for their kind wishes and gifts to himself and Mrs. Gilliland. He hoped that the friendship now established would be continued by mutual exchange of courtesies in the future, and that he and Mrs. Gilliland would have the pleasure of entertaining their McAdam friends when in St. John.

Short speeches were made by a number of the gentlemen present and the meeting closed by a general hand-shaking, wishing Mr. Gilliland hearty success. The address was handsomely engraved on parchment.

HOPWELL HILL, July 30.—Patrick Sinclair of Demolisele Creek, who has the contract for building the new Baptist church at that place, was thrown from the building by the breaking of a stage a few days ago, and has one arm broken above the elbow, and the other badly bruised, besides receiving injuries to his breast and other parts of his body. The accident will lay him up for some time. W. W. Hubbard of the department of agriculture, addressed a meeting here last night in the interests of the Farmers' Institutes which are being organized throughout the province. He explained the Farmers' Institute Act and spoke at some length on pork raising and chicken fattening, both of which could be made very profitable industries. It was decided to institute meetings throughout this parish, the first to be held in October.

Albert county is becoming more popular as a summer resort every day, and many visitors from the towns and cities are enjoying the beautiful scenery and the exhilarating Shepody breezes. Today a party of young people from Monoon, drove through to the Cape, Riverview and Hopewell Hill, greatly enjoying the trip. The party was composed of J. W. H. Roberts, E. C. Freeze, T. F. Jones, Al. Weidon, E. M. Smith, F. B. Lynch and E. Malter and Misses N. A. Laurence, Dot Bulmer, M. Jones, M. Sifton, M. E. Rodd, M. E. Powell, F. G. Michaud, S. V. Powell and Libby A. Powell. Mrs. Frank Carney is confined to her home with bronchial trouble. Dr. S. C. Murray is in attendance. Miss Ella Johnson of West Somerville, Mass., is visiting Mr. Alex. Rogers.

SUSSEX, July 30.—The third and last of the bicycle races took place last night. The events were: 1-4 mile, men's race; W. McLeod, 1st; James Howes, 2nd; H. Carmichael, 3rd. 1-2 mile, boys' race; Howes, 1st; Arnold, 2nd; Ross, 3rd. 1-2 mile, men's race; H. Carmichael, 1st; G. Hall, 2nd; W. McLeod, 3rd. 1 mile, men's race; H. Howes, 1st; F. Carmichael, 2nd; G. Hall, 3rd. In the half mile (men's) race it looked from the first as though McLeod was to be kept in the back ground by two of the riders, Howes and Hall. At the start Howes struck McLeod's wheel, making him temporarily lose his balance. As a result, Howes got the inside of the track and crowded McLeod to the outside edge.

It is understood that Will McLeod has won the cup offered for the series, as he came in first in the greater number of races. The sum of $4.55 was realized at the Hall last night, when the Moving Pictures of the Queen's Funeral, the

Perfect Health

Is within the reach of almost every woman. The weakness, nervousness and irritability from which so many women suffer is in general due to disease of the delicate womanly organism. When the disease is cured the general health is re-established.

Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well. It promotes regularity, drives disintegrating and cumbering humors, cleans inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. When these diseases are cured, headache, backache, nervousness and weakness are cured also.

"I was very weak and nervous when I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Mrs. M. A. Bennett of Oxford Street, Woodstock, Ont. "I had been suffering for seven long months, and had taken medicine from 15 to 20 doctors, but it seemed to make me feel much worse. My stomach was so bad that no doctor could help me. I was in such a state that I would start at the least noise. I felt irritable at all times, and my sleep was very restless. I had to keep help all the time. How I rejoice to say that I am now well, and quite a number of my friends are taking your medicine. I can highly recommend these medicines to all women who are suffering from the ailments that I now enjoy, and it is all owing to Dr. Pierce's medicine."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

RICHMOND, July 30.—J. & T. Jardine's bark Ossuna, sailed a few days ago for Liverpool.

Fifteen ex-cons arrived during the last two days. The Presbyterian church is receiving a coat of paint. Gordon Halloran has the contract.

Blackwood of the Ladies' Presbyterian College at Halifax, is spending her vacation in town.

MONCTON, July 30.—About a dozen biskimene have been laid off on the Intercolonial in the last few days and quite a number of conductors set back. The Canadian Coal and Manganese Company have men at work sinking a shaft at their property at Harcourt under the direction of Mr. Rescoe from the United States. The shaft is being sunk a short distance from where the operations were carried on last winter. Messrs. Polleys and Hudcock of New York went up to the mine yesterday.

Alexander Siles, a prominent farmer at Pollett River, is dead, the result of a kick in the abdomen received from a cow about ten days ago. The authorities have not been slow in making arrangements to prevent the spread of the smallpox within that district where the cases are now reported. Men invested with powers of health police have been stationed on all the roads leading from the Red Bridge district into town, with instructions to allow no one to pass them who comes from the infected region, and anyone going there, excepting the doctors and nurses, will not be allowed to return. This afternoon, Drs. Hand and Sprague and Dr. Fisher, provincial health inspector, visited the affected district. Work has already begun on the building of the new contagious disease hospital, and in fact everything is being done to prevent the disease spreading.

This apparently is of the lightest type, and it is generally believed that it will be soon stamped out. Houlton, it is understood, is adopting the same plan as being done to prevent the disease spreading. The local physicians are all well supplied with vaccine points, and people in town and vicinity generally will be vaccinated. Dr. Curtis, chairman of the county board of health, arrived in town from Hartland today, and accompanied Drs. Fisher, Hand and Sprague on their trip this afternoon.

Trouble Ahead in the Liberal Camp Over an Appointment.

MONCTON, N. B., July 31.—There is likely to be trouble in the Liberal camp over a St. John appointment on the I. C. R. Some few months ago Alexander Wilson, a marine engineer, was given work in the machine shop here. He had strong recommendations from Mr. Blair and Mr. Ellis, and it was whispered that his ultimate destination was to take charge of the shop. The thing did not work just this way. Mr. Wilson was put to work in the erecting shop, where, according to his story, he was reprimanded and harassed until life was not worth living in Moncton and he returned to St. John and laid his case before the liberal managers there. As a result, A. G. Blair, jr., came to Moncton, but after interviewing several parties, he was unable, it is said, to get very much satisfaction, and returned home breathing threats of what would happen when the minister came home. As Mr. Blair is likely to arrive, some developments are awaited with considerable interest.

FARM LABORERS

Can Make Big Wages in Manitoba Just Now.

Forty Thousand Men Wanted to Harvest the Greatest Grain Crop Ever Known in the Prairie Provinces.

It will cost the maritime province farm worker $25 to go to Manitoba and back on the harvest excursion. What he wants to know is how long he is wanted, and what pay he will get. Mr. Latouche Tupper, who is here looking for harvest helpers, answers these questions.

The lowest pay is $35 per month, and from that to $50, according as the man is skilled in farm work. A good strong man, accustomed to farm work as it is in the east, is safe to ask $40 to $45. If he is a "chickin" capable of keeping a threshing in order, he is worth $10 more.

As to the length of time there should be three months' work for those who wish to stay, but themselves, even to harvesting, threshing and fall plowing. The farmer will attend to that, said Mr. Tupper. On the days when the excursions come, the farmers will appear at Winnipeg wanting more men than they can get. The man from the east can take his time and make his bargain.

Mr. Tupper says that he is willing to bargain with men here and now, at $35 per month, but if he does that he does not intend to remain, but he thinks it better for the eastern man to go there free.

All day Tuesday at the Royal, Mr. Tupper met inquirers who wanted to know the particulars. Many said that they would go. Some said that they had come on behalf of themselves and a group of friends, all of whom would go if the prospects were right. These men are not intending to remain, but they find that they get their trip, earn enough to pay for it, a good deal over, and be able to see a good deal of the country.

Mr. Tupper is going farther east, and will do his best to gather up a few of the 40,000 men required to garner the great wheat crop of the west.

It is a great crop. The like of it has never been seen in America. Mr. Tupper explains. The estimate is 30 bushels to the acre all over, or 60,000,000 bushels. This will be owned by 40,000 farmers, little and big, an average of 1,000 bushels for every man engaged in agriculture. It requires just twice the farming population of the province to get the crop harvested. The only fear now is that the men cannot all be got. The provincial government, the Canadian Pacific and the railway companies are interested in the province are doing all possible to gather in men. They have reached out from the Atlantic to the Pacific and still expect to be short.

ST. JOHN STUDENTS' SUCCESS.

Dr. H. S. Bridges Tuesday last confirmed the announcement that Miss Lawson wins the corporation gold medal, and Miss Parsons the Purser medal. Dr. Bridges pointed out that there were some inaccuracies in an article in Saturday's Globe regarding the standing of high school pupils in the recent university matriculation. Dr. Bridges said St. John had two pupils in the first division last year and the student who led them was from the Fredericton high school, not the North Shore. He expressed himself as not at all surprised at the standing of the St. John students this year. The examinations were very stiff and St. John could not hope to win all the time, for a great deal depended on the material. He had strong hopes that next year a St. John pupil would lead the field. Dr. Bridges also pointed out that our pupils had labored under a disadvantage this year because of the departure of G. E. Dewitt, who was an excellent science teacher. His work has been taken up by Mr. Myles, who labored at a disadvantage, but by next year Mr. Myles would have three classes in the usual good form. Dr. Bridges said it is true the papers are set in Fredericton. There had been complaint in times past that some of them had also been examined by Fredericton teachers, but he thought this time the papers had been conducted that all were satisfied.—Globe.

ANOTHER ISLAND WONDER.

CHARLOTTETOWN, July 30.—On Saturday while driving from St. Peter's to Monell, and when nearing Mount Stewart, George W. Ritchie of Carvell Bros., noticed the centre of the road and its sides littered with young frogs. The location was a dry one about the middle of a moderate hill, and a very unlikely place for frogs. About three hundred yards away was a mill pond, where frogs usually gathered. Some time before, while driving along the road, Mr. Ritchie observed what seemed to him to be a water spout, and it is thought that in passing over the pond the water spout struck up the frogs from the water, and deposited them where they were found by Mr. Ritchie. This is the first authenticated instance of a shower of frogs in this province, but such has been from time to time reported elsewhere.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

The Marvellous Escape from Death of an Edmonton Boy. (Edmonton Bulletin.)

A curiosity exposed in the window of the Bulletin office for the last few days has attracted the attention of great numbers of passers-by. It is an oddly dilapidated article of footwear, the remnant of a child's canvas-topped boot, looking as though it had passed through a threshing machine and had been, as one observer remarked, "chewed by the rats." One side of the upper part of the boot is gone, torn off. The heel is missing altogether, and with it the nails that held it on. The sole, particularly at the heel, is torn and ragged, and what remains of the top is also in tatters. The boot was torn off the foot of young Ernle Jones by lightning, while he sat in his father's house near the Dowling mill, on Tuesday last. That the boy lives today is one of the surprising features of the incident; and yet he does live and beyond some burning and a severe mental shock, is none the worse for his novel experience.

It was during Tuesday's electric storm that the accident occurred which nearly cost young Jones his life. There were three in the room at the time. Mrs. Jones, mother of the boy, was lying ill in bed in another room. Ernle was in the kitchen seated on the floor playing with his two brothers. Another brother, the eldest, was up on stairs. The kitchen is a wing of the main building and has an upstairs. A brick chimney protrudes through the roof, the stovepipe connecting with the room below. When the electric fluid struck the chimney it completely wrecked it. Not a brick was left in place or unbroken. They were strewn in fragments throughout the yard and garden. Ernle Jones was seated against the wall about five feet to one side of where the pipe hole came down. When the lightning struck him he did not lose consciousness, but the contact made him momentarily rigid and set his clothes on fire. "I tried to get to him," said one of his brothers, who was in the room, "but something seemed to push me back." The brother who was up stairs was for a moment blinded by the flash, then he made his way through the falling bricks of the chimney to the stairs. He was the first to reach his brother and snuffed out the burning clothes with his hands, afterwards carrying the injured boy out to get fresh air. The lightning had burned young Ernle, but though it tore his clothes and sent his boots to fragments, even tearing into ribbons the new felt hat he held in his hands, it did not inflict any dangerous injury on him. Only the superficial covering of the skin is burnt, and one forearm seems slightly paralyzed and twisted, due to the action of the electric fluid on the nerves.
