Government of President Madriz Thought to be Weakening Despite All Denials.

Managua, Nic., June 5.—Reports of alleged insurgent victories at Bluefield and Rama have been filtering into Managua and these coupled with the movements of the Nicaraguan forces under Generals Lara, Godey and Chavarria, have occasioned some temporary alarm among the adherents of the government.

President Madriz today deemed it advisable to issue an official denial of these reports and at the same time he intimated that if the government had only the insurgents to deal with it would have crushed the revolution long ago. In his statement the president says:

"The report of Gen. Chavarria's defeat is absolutely false. For purely military reasons his column which was operating against Rama, was ordered to fall back on Muelle de Los Bueyes, where it arrived today in perfect order with all military stores."

"Owing to the difficulty of transporting provisions to the troops at Bluefields because of the heavy rains, Gen. Lara's column was ordered to retire on Elmadre."

In accordance with a determination recently expressed to put down the revolutionary movement, President Madriz has issued orders looking to the recruiting of soldiers in all the western provinces.

Bluefields, June 5.—Gen. Estrada, the leader of the provisional government is well satisfied with the success which attended his engagement against the Madriz forces under Gen. Lara and Godey, and he has repeated the offer which he made to March to Madriz looking to the establishment of peace. The conditions of General Estrada's proposals provide for the friendly mediation of the United States, that country to designate the Nicaraguan whom it considers most fit to occupy the presidency provisionally, neither Dr. Madriz nor Gen. Estrada being eligible; the provisional president to convoke elections for a constitutional president, the Nicaraguan government to recognize the revolutionary debt, the validity of its acts and to arrange for pensioning its disabled soldiers; certain monopolies and concessions to be abolished.

Pittman is a native of this town and was reported captured fighting with the insurgents.

His mother and brothers deny that he is an adventurer or soldier of fortune and likewise refute the statements that he was concerned at New Orleans in equipping a steamer with weapons and ammunition for the revolutionary cause in Nicaragua.

BELMONT HURT IN POLO GAME

Millionaire Struck Pony's Foot With Misdirected Stroke and Was Thrown Headlong-- Able to Ride in Auto.

Hempstead, L. I., June 4.—August Belmont broke a rib yesterday when his polo pony tripped and throwing him from the saddle fell on him on the Meadow Brook polo grounds. Mr. Belmont was attended by a local surgeon and afterward left in his auto mobile for his Manhattan home, in West 34th street.

There were three witnesses of Mr. Belmont's accident except his sons, August and Morgan, Bradley Martin, Hamilton Hadden and W. Lee. Other members of the club were attending a polo match at Great Neck or were at the dog show in Mineola. Mr. Belmont, his sons, and the others had visited the club grounds for a practice match at polo.

They had been playing for some time having made up sides between them when Mr. Belmont made after a long drive from the mallet of one of his opponents. He spurred his polo pony to full speed, and the pony was running in long strides when it overran the ball which rolled between its forefeet.

Mr. Belmont, his mallet raised ready for a back drive, could not check the blow which he had started before the pony crossed the ball. He swung heavily, the mallet head striking the ball and sending it bounding back toward his opponent's goal, although at the same time the shaft of the club struck the running pony above the back of his forehead. The force of the blow knocked the foot from beneath the pony and it fell heavily to the turf.

Mr. Belmont was thrown over the pony's head as the animal fell, but his feet caught fast in the stirrups, so that instead of being thrown clear he alighted on the turf almost directly beneath the kicking heels. In its fall the pony, too, was thrown off its balance, so that after it struck the ground it rolled over, pinning Mr. Belmont beneath it.

Scouring Continent for Murder Suspect

The diagram shows how slain Alma Kellner's body was concealed in a secret cellar under the classroom in St. John's school, Louisville. Entrance was through an unnoticed trapdoor in the floor. The police are seeking Jos. Wendling, former janitor of the school, who departed suddenly a month ago.

TROUBLE OVER INDIAN'S BONES

Tecumseh's Remains Disinterred by Order of Wallaceburg Coroner, Storm of Protest Is Raised Over Latter's Action.

Special to The Standard. London, June 5.—The greatest interest is being manifested regarding the so-called desecration of the grave of Tecumseh last week, by Dr. Mitchell, of Wallaceburg, on St. Anne's Island, near Mitchell Bay, already the controversy over the alleged discovery has become a very warm one. The question is whether the doctor had the right to exhume the bones of the Indian warrior without an order from the attorney general. As coroner he had the right to do so, but the suspicious circumstances connected with the death. In an interview the doctor said: "I have nothing to say for publication at present, other than the fact that we found what we believe to be the bones of the great chief. We are of the opinion that we have an indisputable chain of evidence to prove this claim but for the present I have nothing to say. There are a lot of things to be done, and evidence to be gotten into shape before any statement is given out."

In Cook's Class. To people of Chatham and Wallaceburg, Dr. Mitchell is in the dock. Cook class—they want him to "produce." The Indians of the St. Anne's Island are the informants regarding the removal of the bones and trouble is brewing among them. The fact that they strenuously objected to the removal of the bones is taken by many as direct proof that the bones removed are really those of the famous Tecumseh. The Scullard, founder of the McCanis class, has put himself on record as being opposed to the action of Dr. Mitchell, in removing the bones. "I am indeed sorry that anyone should disturb the bones, especially against the wishes of the Indians themselves. Such an action is an insult to the remains of a brave red man, who was a tried and trusted friend of the government in a time of great need. If they are really the bones of Tecumseh they should be returned to the Indians, and not left exposed to the ghoulish and morbid curiosity of the crowd."

The grave was discovered by Dr. Mitchell, and two other men from the town of Wallaceburg who were searching St. Anne's Island for an account of recent rumors to the effect that the grave was situated there. It was searching for proofs that caused them according to the doctor, to open the grave. When discovered the remains were in a small wooden box, which fell apart. But not before it was measured. It was 2-1/2 feet long, 12 inches wide and eight inches long. In it were scattered the remains of a large male. The skull was in the west with the femur bones while the pelvic bones were in the east. The skull was lying face down, while the ribs were protruding. The old flint and flint and flint were also in the box with other Indian ornaments, indicating that the bones were those of a prominent chief.

Imported Ayrshires for New Brunswick

More of This Money-Making Breed Brought to This Province Through Arrangement With the Local Government--Sale at McGrath's Stables on June 9th--What Scottish Farmer Says.

As a money-making milk cow, the hardy Ayrshire has proved herself capable of holding a first place in New Brunswick. Fifty years of Ayrshire breeding in Kings county has produced dairy herds, some of which have no superiors in Canada, and as a business cow she is growing in favor in other parts. The Scottish Farmer, one of the leading agricultural papers in Great Britain, says in regard to the demand for good Ayrshire stock in that country: "Those who predicted a future boom in Ayrshire milk stock must be agreeably surprised at the early fulfillment of their prophecies, as already the demand has set in, and it is said, to such an extent as to have outrun supplies."

American and Canadian buyers, through their local agents, have been very active during the last few weeks, and have visited most of the herds where deep-flecked, pedigreed Ayrshires were likely to be got. These buyers are all after the one kind, viz., animals of heavy milking strains, and naturally their attention has been almost confined to the herds where milk records are kept. They are much more particular in their selection now than in the past, and we understand, have not been able to secure as many as they wanted. Breeders now recognize the value of retaining a sufficient number of blood so as not to deplete their herds, consequently the number of animals which can be spared for export just at present is limited. We hear of some high prices having been offered and refused, and it looks as if the £100 Ayrshire was likely to be much more common in the future than in the past. We know of one breeder who refused to break £100 for a bull calf; but as this animal has a wonderful milk record pedigree, together with show points, it is to be hoped he may be kept in Scotland to help further advance the Ayrshire breed.

Now the breeders fully recognize the value of milk records, and are prepared to supply the demand from overseas for the right sorts. We may expect foreign and colonial visitors to buy more fully as they gain confidence that their purchases will give them the desired result in filling the pail, and that the small-teated, tight-veined Ayrshire is a type of the past. Without doubt the Ayrshire cow is the best all-round dairy breed in the world, and it is most encouraging to the enthusiasts who have held this opinion to find other countries recognizing their value. Every care should now be taken to see that nothing but good animals are exported, so as not to repeat the errors of the past, and when once customers are really satisfied, they will be likely to buy more. Ayrshire breeders may expect to come nearer the high prices now paid for Shorthorns. The Ayrshires recently imported from Scotland and to be sold at McGrath's Stables, St. John, on 9th June, are of the business type, with large milk records among their ancestors and with good tests and splendid udder developments.

THIRDS IN SCOTIA

Chinese Cook Made Bad Mistake--Man Broken on Mill Wheel--Woman Shot by Her Child.

Annapolis Royal, June 5.—A lady belonging to Yarmouth recently had an experience that she is not likely to forget for many years. The lady in question had, as a cook, a Chinaman, who, although he was a very excellent cook indeed, was not very conversant with the English language, and it was necessary to give him his orders by the aid of signs. Now this lady also had a pug dog of which she was very proud and very fond. She was just leaving her house to go into town when the dog jumped from a window and started to follow her. Grabbing the animal by the collar she took him to the kitchen and told Ah Tom to keep Tag here until I come back from town. Ah Tom grinned. He was learning English rapidly, he knew what missie meant.

When "missie" returned from town it was time for luncheon. When she went into the dining room, she discovered the faithful Tag reposing on the table, done to a turn, with the juice fairly oozing out of his nicely browned sides. It is worthy of mention that the lady spent the following three days in bed, and that Ah Tom found it necessary to seek new employment.

Coal Mining.

A syndicate has been formed consisting of H. R. McKay, Annapolis; G. Nichols and Mr. Roman, of Bridgewater to prospect for coal in this county back of Bear River. Four square miles have been leased and extensive operations already begun. It is said that the whole area prospecting contains large coal seams. The quality of the ore already taken out is excellent, burning splendidly and being remarkably free from ash. Should the hopes of the promoters materialize this will be one of the largest coal mining districts in North America. Government engineers will soon inspect the workings, and large capital will, it is reported, be encouraged back to the enterprise. The first traces of coal were only found in that district last fall.

Crushed in Wheel.

Arthur Morgan lost his life at Milton Creek Bridge on Saturday of last week in a rather curious and painful manner. Morgan was helping drive down a late lot of logs. As they were coming through the quick water above the mill at Milton Creek Bridge he started to cross the rapidly moving logs. He had got nearly half way to the other side when he was seen to lose his balance, stagger, and then fall beneath the logs. As this is something that often happens to log drivers, his companions did not go to his assistance. His head was seen to rise about the water, which was immediately closed together, thus preventing his getting back on the raft. Caught between the two logs he was whirled nearly a hundred yards through the water, straight to the sluiceway leading to the millway. Through the sluice he was carried right onto the wheel, which was in motion at the time. Before the machinery could be stopped he had been crushed to death. His body was crushed to a pulp and nearly severed from his neck. His whole body was such a mass of breaks and bruises, that it was found necessary to bury him without his family seeing him. He was about forty years of age, a native of one of the Southern States, and besides a wife leaves three small children. The men in the mill and on the drives made up a purse of over three hundred dollars, and this they presented to the widow, who on Wednesday, accompanied by three children, left for their home in the United States.

Shot by Child.

Another fatal accident occurred at Aburduloe Mines on Sunday morning, as a result of which Armetta Custos, an Italian woman, is still hovering between life and death. Their five-year-old son, in some unknown way managed to obtain possession of a revolver, which he brought home on Sunday morning. The mother attempted to take the weapon from the boy, who resisted the attempt. The father coming in at the moment took the revolver from the boy, who made a savage attempt to get it back, in doing so he knocked the trigger of his father's hand and discharged it. The bullet entered his mother's brain, killing her instantly, and then struck the husband in the face. Doctors were called and the bullet removed. At first it was thought that he would recover, but blood poisoning has set in and the doctors in attendance hold out small hopes of his recovery. The small boy, who was the cause of this terrible accident, seems entirely unconscious of the harm he has committed.

Hidden in Cellar.

A big seizure of liquor was made at Elder Cove on Tuesday morning about three o'clock. For some time it has been rumored that at a certain house at the Cove all the drinks that mortal man could want were to be obtained. Monday the inspector secured information on which to take out a search warrant about three o'clock Tuesday morning about three o'clock accompanied by two deputies, he made a descent upon the house in question. Being refused admittance the doors were forced. After a long search a false partition was discovered through which led a trap to a small cellar about twenty feet from the house. Here the searchers found one hundred and seventeen bottles of whiskey, twenty of rum, seven of brandy, two cases of wine, several dozen bottles of beer, besides three casks of ale. It is estimated that the seizure will amount to about two thousand dollars. The proprietor of the establishment has been summoned, and if he is convicted in all the informations it will take him several years to "lay out" his sentence.

Drifting for Days.

Adrift in a seventeen foot row boat for over three days, with neither food nor drink, was the awful experience of three fishermen, who were caught in the fog and drifted for three days in the bay. They had left their schooner, the Jenny L., to go hand line fishing. Late in the afternoon the fog came up and it began to rain heavily. This was Thursday.

BRAGG WON HILL CLIMB

Cincinnati Amateur Went Up Worcester Incline, a Mile Long, in 58 Seconds--Not Up to Last Year's Record.

Worcester, Mass., June 4.—Seemingly "hitting only high places," Caleb Bragg, a Cincinnati amateur driver, sent his Fiat automobile up the steep incline of Dead Horse Hill today at a speed better than a mile a minute, in 58 seconds being the fastest attained by any of the professional or amateur competitors in the Worcester Automobile Club's fifth annual hill climb. This performance, however, is considered slow compared with the record for the hill of 54 seconds, made last year by L. F. N. Baldwin of Providence, R. I., in a Stanley steamer. Bragg's 58 seconds over the several hills and bumps composing the mile course of Dead Horse Hill—the only test of the day inside the minute limit—was for him the first for all event.

Second to Bragg in this principal event and pressing him closely for general honors, was Harry F. Grant of Boston, at the wheel of the Alco car in which he won the Vanderbilt cup race. Grant's time of one minute, two seconds, which he reached twice gave him first place in a free for all event for gasoline stack chassis. In an attempt to better the record for the hill climb Grant's best time was 1 minute 1 and 8-10 seconds. Aside from the performances of these two drivers, the climbing was but mediocre. Illness of entered drivers and disqualification of cars cut down the list of competitors. There was no accident.

JOHNSON AND LITTLE PART

Black Champion Discharges Manager Because Latter Shows Sign Of Jealousy--Little To Make Trouble.

San Francisco, Cal., June 5.—Open warfare between Champion Jack Johnson and George Little, his manager, which started Saturday night, wound up this afternoon when Johnson told Little that he was discharged. This was the main topic of conversation at the beach today. Little says that he has an ironclad contract with Johnson until May, 1911, and threatens trouble. He says that unless the differences are settled, he will stop the fight on July 4. Despite the fact that he was discharged, Little insisted on remaining at the door to take the tickets. Not until Johnson backed by a squad of city policemen requested him to leave, did Little depart.

According to Johnson the trouble arose because Little became jealous of Silo Hart. This is the statement issued by Little: "I have a contract with Johnson that binds him to give me 25 per cent of his profits, and I am authorized to make all contracts for any boxing matches, theatre shows, or anything of the like. The $10,000 that we put up is my money. I will manage Johnson or there will be fight and if I withdraw they can take that for final." This trouble delayed the boxing in the afternoon, but Johnson went through with an unusually hard programme which included three rounds with Geo. Cotton and Marty Cutler, and two with Dave Mills. At the conclusion of his work Johnson weighed for the newspaper men, tipping the scales at 212 pounds, the lowest he has weighed since his training started.

Well Known Contractor Put By $3,500 For Purpose Of Killing Licensing Bill In Illinois Legislature.

Beardstown, Ill., June 4.—State Attorney Burk tonight advanced a step further in the investigation of the $3,500 fund alleged to have been contributed to aid in the defeat of the fish license bill which died in the closing hours of the legislature. F. J. Traut, of Beardstown, long identified with the fishing interests admitted to Mr. Burk that he got the money from John Dixon of Peoria, one of the alleged collectors of the fund and that he sat beside Representative Foster when the bill was slaughtered. Beyond these admissions the final disposition of the fund is a mystery which the grand jury will be called upon to solve.

TEAR THROUGH SHEDDAC BRIDGE

Moncton, June 5.—A section of the bridge on the Shediac river, two or three miles from Shediac town, collapsed on Saturday and a team of horses died through but were rescued without injury. The collapsed portion of the bridge had been raised to allow timber rafts to pass through and thus weakened the structure.

SOCIALISM GREAT AMERICAN PROBLEM

Jackson, Mich., June 4.—President Taft today proclaimed socialism as the great problem which confronts the American people, the issue which is soon to come and which must be skillfully met. By its history he declared, the Republican party had shown itself capable of dealing with great questions effectively and wisely and he stated that Americans must soon determine it should trust the same party with the solution of that problem then which we had no greater in the history of the country.

WHAT OLIVERS ARE DOING

Coming to Canada of Large Manufacturing Concern an Argument Against Reciprocity--Business Proposition.

One of the strongest arguments against reciprocity with the United States is furnished by a well-known American writer, Elbert Hubbard, who instances the case of the Olivers, of South Bend, Indiana, in the presentation of his contention. This firm of plough manufacturers has recently bought a large tract of land at Hamilton, Ontario, for factory purposes—the first investment for land, dockage, buildings and machinery being over $1,000,000. This is only a mere beginning for the shipping of ploughs which commences the investments for materials, etc., will increase, according to the writer, about twenty-five fold. This means that the firm will build up and maintain a population equal to a city of 25,000 people. The tendency of their South Bend plant, and while its location would naturally be at their home town, where they control an immense water power and own 1,000 acres of land adjoining their present site, Mr. Hubbard points out that, for eminently sound and safe reasons, a site in Canada is chosen instead. These are that while Canada has only one-tenth of the population of the United States, its available agricultural area is fully as large as that of the Republic. Canada needs ploughs and has the money to buy them. But she can't buy the South Bend make, on account of the prohibitive tariff.

DEATH OF WELL KNOWN MAGAZINE WRITER

Wm. S. Porter, Who Wrote Under The Pen Name Of O. Henry, Dead After Brilliant Career In Letters.

New York, N. Y., June 5.—Wm. Sidney Porter, known under the pen name of "O. Henry" as the writer of brilliant short stories, died today at Polytechnic hospital. He underwent an operation on Friday last and never rallied. The nature of his ailment was never made public. Mrs. Porter, who had been in South Carolina, was summoned by telegraph, but did not arrive here until tonight, after her husband's death. Mr. Porter was born in Texas 42 years ago and began his journalistic career on the Houston Post. Before that he had been cowboy, sheep herder, druggist and an extensive traveler. The general public knew little of his private life, for he shunned interviews and was content to be known merely through his writings as "O. Henry." His breezy paragraphs penned in Texas, first drew attention to the young writer seven years ago, and then he launched forth with "Sunday stories" for a New York paper and was quickly recognized as a writer of ability.

GLENN CURTISS.

New York, June 5.—The camera caught Glenn Curtiss kissing his wife just after his nerve-wrenching flight of 150 miles over the Hudson river from Albany to New York city. There were tears in the little woman's eyes as her husband threw his arms around her. Only a few moments before he had been but a tiny speck in the sky, beheld by hundreds of thousands.

THIS DUKE IS NOT LOOKING FOR WIFE

Duc de Montpensir, Brother of Portugal's Dowager Queen, Comes to America Only to Hunt—Criticises American Idea of Marriage and Divorce Laws—Has Had Many Exciting Adventures.

New York, June 4.—"Looking for an American wife? Ah, non, non—I will not look for any wife for ten years at least. You see, I am only twenty-six and no man should marry, I believe, until he is more than thirty-five, and has seen and known much of the world; as for women, they should marry in their teens and early twenties, and know nothing of the world."

The Duc de Montpensir, brother of the Queen of Portugal, cousin of the King of Spain and grandson of Louis Philippe of France, thus delivered himself as he puffed at a cigarette in his suite at the Hotel Knickerbocker.

He is one of the most distinguished looking foreigners who has visited our shores. He is more than six feet in height. Cultivated, fond of art, and having travelled in the widest parts of the globe, he tells tales of adventure that ill accord with his drawing-room bearing and salon manner.

"Here," he said, as he doubled his right arm, "there is steely strength, and I am a skilled huntsman. I love the chase better than all else. I am a traveller; I am a sportsman."

His Views of Life's Work.

"Have you no occupation?" he was asked.

"Not as Americans view work," he replied. "Of course I read much and study. I also write incidents of my travels, but I am gathering strength and storing up experience for my life, which will not begin to be lived until my marriage. We men of France," he continued, "marry for all time. We go along until we feel that it is time for us to settle down, and then we make a business of wife hunting. We look for a wife that will meet our requirements as a house may suit our tastes and needs. We might admire a Swiss chalet; we might be impressed by the beauty of a Japanese home, but neither would be to our taste as a permanent residence."

"The same with women. We might see an amusing creature here; we might fancy a well-dressed girl or a clever one there, but when we Frenchmen marry we think of the girl that is to be with us always; the woman who is to perpetuate our line, and so looking, we choose carefully and think of the obligation as a serious, profound one.

Detects Divorce Laws.

"Americans are youthful, and in memories; they are governed more or less by passing whims, and many an American marriage is taken up on the same principle. But young men and women are not so responsible as your abominable divorce laws. Marriage is too much of a duty of citizenship to be treated in a purely romantic fashion. Romance is well, beautiful, charming, but in the building of homes it should be only a part of the scheme of things. I have a great many theories on the choosing of life partners that I cannot talk about, but which perhaps some day I shall carry out in my own case."

The Duke has large black eyes, with heavy lashes, that give him the look of a dreamer and artist. He, indeed, would be a "catch," from the standpoint of looks, for a title-hunting American heiress. But he is not seeking heiresses; he is looking, he laughingly remarked, "for bigger game." In fact, he visits us for our wild Rockies and mountains, where he hopes to carry away many trophies.

Has Had Hairbreadth Escapes.

"Maybe I'll leave myself behind," he said, "for I have had some pretty narrow escapes in my expeditions. Once I was nearly killed by a drove of elephants, one of which I had shot and fatally wounded. They made a rush at me after I had fired my last shot and had it not been for an English hunter near by I would have fallen under the onrush. In China, too, I was attacked after I had shot a wild buffalo. The great brute, infuriated by a fatal wound, turned on me, and I ran, having no time to fire, and I could hear him scarcely a yard behind me. My wits saved me. I swerved suddenly from the path and fell on my side, while the brute rushed on and fell twenty yards ahead, dead from the wounds. I must be saved for some special purpose," he continued, "for aside from adventures in the jungle and forests, I have been

BONNETS FOR BABIES

Quaintness characterizes the bonnets and caps for tiny babies and their older sisters. For the very little ones the close-fitting cap is of course the prettiest of all. Delightful little caps they are too, after fond mothers embroider, hemstitch, and featherstitch them. Some of the prettiest are made entirely of narrow valenciennes insertion and lace, set together by hand and trimmed with little bows and rosettes, and long ties of narrow pink, blue or white soft silk ribbon. Others are made of fluff with wide border around the face, or turned back flat over the cap.

Even after the early baby stage is past these round bonnets are worn, but there is much variety for the older baby of two or three. Adorable little sunbonnets are seen made of the daintiest of sprigged materials. Coal-scuttle shapes are made of plique, duck or heavy linen, with soft frills of lace inside the brim, to soften the severe lines of the heavier materials.

As she grows older, the little woman is promoted to tiny lingerie and Panama hats. Both of these may be trimmed with little clusters of artificial flowers or ribbon, but the panamas and straws in bowl crown with brim turned up or down, are more often trimmed with a sash of gay Roman striped ribbon. Gauze braids and tuscans are made up with chiffon and roses for very best wear.

SOCIETY IN THE KITCHEN

Newport Social Leaders Win Renown by Inventing Dishes for Educated Palates—Cooking New Fad.

Newport, R. I., June 4.—Newport society leaders who have won social fame in the parlor and on the piazza this season are seeking glories in the kitchen.

A new fad has seized the fashionable resort and the women now strive for superiority in the invention of some new dish or pastry concoction.

If the young men of the colony are hungry for old-fashioned Washington pie they invade the beautiful villa of Mrs. Norman de R. Whitehouse, new Boreman, of New Orleans, who is recognized as the one woman of the colony who has succeeded in bringing back to life this recipe. In fact Mrs. Whitehouse's success with the dish and the popularity of her home was one of the main factors in bringing the new fad into being.

Mrs. Whitehouse is a famous beauty, having won her husband when she was queen of the New Orleans Mardi Gras. But the beauty of taste in her pie is bringing her as much fame as her personal charms, and her many guests keep her busy providing the new luxury.

Cheese Dreams Winners.

Mrs. Oliver Harriman, once Grace Carley, sought one rainy day to give her beautiful children a treat and has become expert in preparing "cheese dreams." The feature of this new dish is that the dreamers are the direct opposite of those produced by Welsh rarebit.

Then not content with the "cheese dreams," Mrs. Harriman makes a new variety of ginger ice cream which her many friends say is far more delicious than anything which the famous Newport caterers have produced.

Mrs. Philip Lydig, who was the beautiful Rita d'Acosta, has gained the lead so far in the race for culinary prominence by providing some of the finest almond salads which the educated palates of the society folk have ever enjoyed. Many of the women have beseeched her in vain to give them the recipe for this dainty dish, but she only smiles. Many have tried to imitate it, but so far without success.

It was Mrs. Lydig who scored such a hit late last season by her invention of branched peachnuts, the centres filled with toasted muchrooms and chopped almonds.

Social Leaders Won Over.

Society has not forgotten this famous dessert, and Mrs. Lydig will no doubt be forced to serve it many times during the coming summer season.

Mrs. Joseph E. Widener, whose husband has taken the Pinard Cottage No. 5 for the season, made some tempting raisin fudge for her little boy recently. Some of her many friends made an informal call just as Mrs. Widener was cutting the cake from the tins. They insisted upon a taste of the fudge and as a result Mrs. Widener is now looked upon as the fudge authority in the Newport colony. Many other society women, anxious not to be outdone, have taken themselves to their kitchens and spend much time each day experimenting with new dishes with which to surprise their week-end guests of the early season.

BATHURST.

Bathurst, N. B., June 1.—Mrs. I. Hendry, of Vancouver, B. C., who has been spending some time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Nevill, will return to her home this week.

Miss Edith Bishop returned from a visit to Newcastle this week. Mrs. D. T. Johnson and Miss Robertson were returned from Chatham where they spent some days last week.

Miss Annie Crocker of Newcastle was a guest of Miss Hubert last week. Mrs. H. B. Ebley returned on Saturday from Harcourt.

Miss Young of Caracquet who has been staying with friends here was called home last week by the death of her brother, Mr. R. H. L. Young.

Miss Bertie Crocker of Newcastle visited Miss Patterson last week. Mr. Sandy McQueen visited his home in Shediac last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Colin Nevill will shortly leave to reside in Dalhousie. Mrs. J. Ferguson went to Caracquet last week called by the death of her nephew, Mr. L. Young.

Invitations are out for the marriage of Miss Helen R. Bishop, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Bishop to Mr. James B. H. Storey which will take place at St. George's church on June 15 at nine-thirty in the evening.

Dr. C. J. Veniot returned from Laval University, Montreal, on Monday. Dr. Veniot is being warmly congratulated on the high honors with which he passed his recent medical examinations.

Very general sorrow is felt by the many friends of Mr. R. H. Lee Young at his sudden death which occurred at his home in Caracquet last week. He is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Annie Ferguson of Bathurst Village and five children for whom much sympathy is expressed.

BLACK OPAL SOCIAL CRAZE

Rare Stone Which Has Proved Boon to Australian Miners in Great Demand Among Elite.

The Black Opal, though comparatively a new species, has proven a wonderful boon to the miners of Australia, whence it comes. It is a known fact that while the mines are working day and night trying to supply London, Paris and New York, where the social leaders have discovered that the stone is not alone lucky, but in good form. As a result of the social craze for the new gem, the large jewelers of New York have been unable to secure enough good specimens to keep pace with the demand, and near by every consignment is sold long before it reaches America.

Opals is found in an amorphous state and never crystallizes; in fact from the condition of the deposits where the mineral is found, the indications are that the substance was once a fluid. This beautiful mineral varies from 55 to 6, in hardness, has the specific gravity of 2 to 2.2, is glassy in lustre and translucent from a slight to a very high degree.

Up to 1880 the Czernowitz mines of Hungary were practically the only source from which the gem market was supplied. In fact, the opals of Honduras fire opals and Mexican varieties were occasionally to be had, but these stones were irregular in quality and are not cherished by the social queens.

DANISH LINER ASHORE.

The Duke was a first lieutenant in the Spanish army, and served during the recent trouble with the Arabs.

That he has a comfortable fortune is evidenced by the fact that he travels in the most expensive fashion and into the most inaccessible parts of the globe. He inherited the title and wealth of his grandfather, and is therefore, much richer than his brother, the Duc d'Orleans.

SAINT JOHN, MONDAY MORNING, JUNE 6, 1910.

FACING THE SITUATION.

Courage and confidence are displayed in the Mount Allison resolution to raise an additional $200,000 for the endowment fund.

FRUITS OF HONEST MANAGEMENT.

When Mr. Grimmer stated in April that the Crown Land lumber cut of this year would not be less than 265,000,000 feet, he was too modest.

The remarkable feature of the case is the fact that while the revenue of the surveyor general's department has increased by $160,000 or fifty per cent, it is well understood that the lumber cut on Crown Lands has not increased.

The plain fact is that the increased stumpage revenue, and much more than this increase, has been added to the income of the province by honest and fair collection.

Territorial revenue includes other items besides stumpage. These have not all shown so large a gain in three years.

Table with 2 columns: Year, Feet. 1905-6: 107,000,000; 1906-7: 149,000,000; 1907-8: 151,000,000; 1908-9: 205,000,000; 1909-10: 280,000,000

The lumbermen did not get the full benefit of these immunities. They were compelled to pay handsomely for their exemptions.

MR. ASQUITH AND THE KING.

The trace following the late King's death is supposed to be still prevailing. There are no heated public discussions, and ministers no longer make statements suggesting guarantees from the Crown.

But parliament must again take up its work, and the measure limiting the power of the Lords will be due. The premier has stated that in case the Lords shall reject this measure he will offer the King some advice.

We know what would happen if the advice should be given and be rejected. Mr. Asquith must resign. Mr. Balfour could form a government and appeal to the country.

But it is altogether unlikely that the advice would be rejected. If Mr. Asquith and his colleagues proposed to appoint five hundred peers the King would leave the responsibility with them.

THE KING AND SPORT.

"We notice," says the Toronto World, "that the London Times justifies the decision of the King in deciding to race horses after the manner of his father."

"We are not blind to the dangers of the turf, but we are convinced that the participation of the King will tend to maintain the purity of the sport, and to diminish its drawbacks."

"This is not a justification," comments the World, "of anything that may be wrong on the turf, but it is an effort to regulate a popular sport by the best men participating in it and maintaining it as a sport and as a spectacle."

WHAT THE INTERCOLONIAL MISSED.

It is generally considered that the purchasers of the Dominion Atlantic Railway made an excellent investment. The price paid is much less than the original cost of the railway, and probably less than half the cost of a new road of the same character.

It is not surprising that Mr. Emerson should reproach the federal government for allowing this opportunity to escape. The Department of Railways has taken power to acquire branch or connecting lines.

SERIOUS AND URGENT.

Six months is not long in the history of a port. In six months the winter steamship service will begin.

The Standard has already stated that the question is open, and that there is a plan to have the Empress and turbine boats use only one port on this side of the ocean next season.

We are of the opinion that this is a matter worthy of attention at a time when something may be done about it.

The double port system will undoubtedly be brought to an end. That calls for a decision whether the port shall be St. John or Halifax, or whether some ships will go to one port and some to the other.

There are two or more ways of working out the single port system. One is to call for tenders and allow the contractors to choose.

The worst and most unfair way would be to compel all the larger and better boats to go to Halifax, and allow them to leave out St. John.

The worst and most unfair way would be to compel all the larger and better boats to go to Halifax, and allow them to leave out St. John.

INGENUOUS BUT BASELESS THEORIES.

"Political offenders who 'cut corners' have great faith in quibbles," remarks the Toronto News. "Canadian politics has afforded not a few examples. One case in particular may be cited, that of Mr. Pugsley and the Central Railway of New Brunswick."

"Yet, when the case came up for discussion in the House of Commons, attempts were made to choke off the debate on the ground that the alleged offenses had taken place in New Brunswick, and, therefore, that the case was not within the competency of the Federal House."

The Transcript has related. Two days late it gave a detailed account of the presentation to ex-Premier Robinson. It is believed that the name of Mr. Robinson will not be banished entirely from Mr. Hawke's columns.

CANADA'S GREETING

Here is a slater's earnest heart and hand. In happy natal greeting unto thee; Not as to feeble babe in swaddling band.

As in this wide True North, by Heaven's grace, Our eyes have greeted Unity's fair dawn.

A glorious Answer are thou, Union new, To serpent tongues that hissed of Britain's shame As ruthless spoiler of the weak and few;

GOOD STORIES

At one of the comet parties, which are now all the rage on New York hotel roofs, an elderly society woman was puzzled by the haunting melody that the orchestra happened to be distilling in the moonlight.

THEN IT HAPPENED

Claude had dined sumptuously. The steak had been juicy, the ice cream toothsome and the coffee prime.

"Flour by any other name would cost as much." An Englishman who wished to attend the King Edward memorial service at Trinity, tried to obtain a pass through a friend, it was impossible to get one, and his friend told him to apply to the British Consul.

"Ow will 'e know I am an Englishman?" I hear Jones, the sea captain, is in hard luck. He married a girl and she ran away from him.

Magistrate—You are found guilty of knocking down the plaintiff and robbing him of everything except a gold watch. What have you to say? Prisoner—Had he a gold watch? Magistrate—Certainly. Prisoner—Then I put in a plea of insanity.

Ignorance of the law, said the judge is no excuse for crime. May I inquire of your honor, asked the prosecuting attorney, whether your honor's remark is directed at the defendant or his counsel?

So he has lost faith in deep breathing. Yes, it wouldn't keep his hair from falling out. Her Father—Blanche, why doesn't Mr. Linger go home earlier? Blanche—I'm why, dad.

FORECASTS AND SUGGESTIONS FOR METHODIST CONFERENCE

Many Matters of Interest at Sackville Meeting June 15---Supernumerary Fund and Church Union Among Questions for Discussion -- Review of Past Presiding Officers.

(Contributed.) Church Union. On June 15 the people of Sackville met for the seventh time since the organization of the Methodist conference of eastern British America. In the year 1855, welcome to their homes the representatives of their church. The first was in 1857, the presiding officer on that occasion being the grandly gifted and eloquent Matthew Richey, D. D. The next was in 1864, when the chair was occupied by Rev. William L. Thornton, D. D. a man of wide intelligence and with acquaintance with men and things of a quiet and dignified manner, a typical Englishman of that day.

THROUGH UNWEALED IN ST. JAMES' CHURCH

Family of Mr. and Mrs. William Kee Erect Beautiful Memorial--Address by Rev. H. A. Cody.

At the Sunday morning service in St. James' church a beautiful window was unveiled. This was erected by the family of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Kee, who were for long years communicants of St. James' church. Their descendants are today active members. The window is a credit both to the donors and to the firm which did the work, the N. T. Lyon Glass Company of Toronto. The workmanship is excellent. The pastor, Rev. H. A. Cody, in his address spoke from the text: "I am the light of the world, this being the subject of the window. He showed how there had been a great evolution in art, which had attained its highest degree during the Christian era. The early Christians, during the days of persecution carved rude symbols of their faith in the Catacombs of Rome--and in King years this art was developed in the adornment of churches and cathedrals.

"Ramona" and New Talent at Nickel Today. By special permission of Little, Brown and Company, the publishing house, the Biograph Company of stock players were enabled to "live" over again the great Indian classic of Clara Jackson entitled "Ramona". It was while the Biograph people were in California the story was enacted and the actual scenes told of in the novel were visited in Calumous County--so rugged and mountainous to re-produce the lovely tale. The Dramatic Mirror, the Motion Picture World, the New York Clipper and in other papers of authority class this as one of the finest films of the year.

THE SAINT JOHN BUSINESS COLLEGE.

This institution is in its 43rd year. The only interruption it has ever had in all those years was for about ten days at the time of the great fire of 1877. From the outset, the aim of the management has been to give the most solid and comprehensive courses of training it was possible to provide, and to deal candidly and squarely with the public. The result of this is that, though students are never canvassed for or any special efforts made to secure patronage, the college grows continually in public favor and does many times more business now than it did before it had competition.

Surprise St. Johns by Putting Four Runs Across in One Session--St. Josephs and St. Peters in Inter-Society.

It was just 3:12 when the umpire called play ball, the St. Johns going to bat. Malloy showed that he was some class at the outset by striking out E. Ramsay the first man up.

McNutt, who was looking rocky for the McBrines when they came to bat, hit the eighth. Lauchner popped up, but he was dropped.

At a meeting of the St. John branch of the Commercial Travellers' Association, in the board of trade rooms, on Saturday, the question of effecting improvement in the sanitary arrangements of the hotels in small towns, was again discussed, and a petition requesting the public authorities to take action in the matter was drawn up. It will be forwarded to the Maritime Association which intends to send a delegation to interview the various provincial authorities. The matter of securing a booth at the exhibition was brought up, but no definite action was taken. Another meeting will be called shortly to make full arrangements for a travellers' exhibit at the big fair.

Sudden Death of Charles McManus. The death of Charles McManus, of Memramcook, occurred suddenly about 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John Hughes, Douglas avenue. Mr. McManus was an elderly man, and had for many years past been in the employ of the I. C. R. as the inspector. He arrived here from Moncton about 2.30 p. m. on Saturday, to visit his daughter, who had but recently arrived in St. John from Halifax. He was apparently in good health, but suddenly took a weak spell about 5 o'clock and died five minutes later, before a doctor had time to arrive. Mr. McManus was well known along the I. C. R. and was one of the most respected residents of Memramcook. The body was sent home on the late train Saturday evening.

PRESCRIBED NO MEAT DIET FOR SHRINERS

Friday's Visitors to Evandale Were Joker's Victims--Steve Gerow Warned Hostess to Provide Only Fish.

The merry Mystic Shriners who visited Evandale on Friday and showed their supreme potentate the beauties of the river had a toothsome luncheon at Evandale Hotel but did not eat any meat. The reason was that there was no meat to eat and thereby hangs a tale.

Now the shriners are not vegetarians, neither have they joined in a general boycott against the meat trust. The fact that the meat was omitted from their bill of fare is to be ascribed to the practical joking of Commodore Stephen P. Gerow of the St. John Boat Club.

When the trip up the river was arranged the local committee of the Shrine in charge of the arrangements were well beforehand in making their plans. One of their number, C. D. Jones went up to Evandale in Mr. Gerow's yacht a week ago to give the order for the feast. After he had completed his business Mr. Gerow informed the hostess at Evandale that it would be a breach of etiquette for her to offer the Shriners meals as the trip was to be made on a Friday and the Shriners could not eat meat on that day.

Consequently when the party arrived at Evandale after a delightful appetising sail they were greeted with a snowy table cloth, glittering silver and cut glass and correct appointments. The first course was fish chowder and this was followed by boiled salmon and other fish preparations in abundance and most tastefully cooked. Not a slice of meat was to be seen and when the hostess was questioned about it she expressed surprise that they should ask for meat on Friday.

Then the story was told and the Shriners took it in good part. They thoroughly enjoyed their dinner, but there is one thing certain, and that is, if Steve Gerow ever decides to join the Shrine he may be sure the sands will be especially heated for his benefit and the goat will be provided with an extra row of horns.

HAD NARROW ESCAPE FROM BURNING STABLE

H. London and His Family Lose All Their Belongings--Disastrous Fire Near Shamrock Grounds Sunday Morning

A disastrous fire broke out in the livery stable occupied by H. London, 371 Main street, adjoining the Shamrock grounds early Sunday morning and partially destroyed the building. Mr. London, his wife and four small children, who occupied the flat above the stable, barely escaping with their lives. Mr. London's loss is very heavy, as he lost all his furniture and belongings, in addition to three expensive carriages, four sleighs, and four sets of harness. His loss is estimated at about $1,500 and he carried but slight insurance, not exceeding $400.

To a Standard reporter last evening Mr. London said that he considered their escape from the building was remarkable. He was awakened by his wife, who had been roused by the crackling of the flames, and the fumes of smoke about 2.30 o'clock. The room was filled with smoke, and he was almost suffocated, when he realized their peril. Without taking time to dress he quickly carried the children to safety, and by this time it was impossible to re-enter the house and attempt to save any of his belongings.

An alarm was then rung in, and the department quickly responded. Although the blaze had made considerable headway, it was soon under control. The fire being principally in the upper story of the building the four horses in the stable, were taken out without much difficulty.

Mr. London thinks that the fire started in some manner from the kitchen stove. It was midnight he said when he retired, and everything was in perfect order then, although there was a little fire in the grate. His loss will be felt all the more owing to this being his busiest season. Among the things destroyed was a complete set of instruments for testing and saving horses teeth. A similar set cannot be purchased in the city and will have to be imported.

Mr. London stated last evening that he had not yet decided whether or not he would open a new stable. It is impossible as yet to correctly estimate the amount of damage to the building, but it is thought that the loss will be fully covered by insurance. The building is the property of St. Luke's church.

ATTEMPT TO CAPTURE LOCAL CATTLE TRADE

Wholesale Dealers Complain of Competition by Toronto Firm--Movement on Foot to Impose License on Outsiders

Local wholesalers are perturbed over the cattle situation at present and particularly exercised over the action of a Toronto firm which is quoting cattle delivered here at a lower figure than the local wholesalers can buy from the raisers.

In discussing the situation John McDonald, Jr., of the city market, one of the largest dealers in the province said it was true that the firm of D. B. Martin of Toronto had quoted cattle to retail dealers at a rate which was not justified by the condition of the market. Mr. McDonald said he had offered to buy a carload of the cattle from the Martin firm at the prices they quoted to retailers but they would not sell.
