THAMES RIVER IN VICINITY OF LONDON IS ABSOLUTELY DEPLETED OF LARGE FISH

President E. Smith of Middlesex Game and Fisheries Association Tells Members of Organization London Sewage Is Cause of the Trouble—Springbank Dam Should Be Rebuilt.

Unless a dam is constructed in the Thames River west of this city in the near future there will be no fishing in that body of water for many miles west of London, according to statements made by E. Smith, president of the Middlesex Game and Fisheries Association at a meeting of that organization Friday evening.

Mr. Smith claimed that during the two years since the Springbank dam collapsed sewage deposited in the river by London, has destroyed the stream as a fishing ground as far westward as Komoka. Although this stretch of the river a few years ago was one of the best fishing grounds in Western Ontario, it is now almost impossible to catch even a minnow for many miles west of this city, except perhaps in the early spring, he continued.

Ill-smelling sewage disposals has gradually turned what at one time was a running stream of clear water into a veritable mire, Mr. Smith said. After the spring freshets had subsided this foreign material emptied into the water as it passes through London, gradually coats the stones with slimy coverings and causes rank growth of a foul plant on the bed of the river. During the summer month this plant growth covers almost the whole of the bed of the river, and under favorable conditions grew to an enormous length.

West of Springbank.

This condition was first noticed in the river just west of Springbank, he said, not long after the dam at the pumphouse was washed away. Within a few months it had gradually crept westward until the Thames rapids, at one time the finest bass grounds in this part of the country, was rendered barren of fish. By last summer the infection had reached Kilworth Springs, destroying the clear spring water of the Thames in that section of the country. By the end of the summer it had reached almost to Komoka.

This brown-colored, slimy plant, the speaker claimed, grows until it becomes too heavy for its slender roots to hold. When a heavy rain comes and the river swells, the rushing waters will clear the bed of the stream in almost a night. It is only after these storms that even minnows can be found in the river.

Mr. Smith stated that on many occasions he has waded into the Thames when it was choked with the muck and always he was glad to reach dry land. When the weed was stirred up, he said, it gave off a horrible odor. At one time when his top boots were the worse for wear, the water reached his legs, and in a short time they were covered with a severe rash caused by the poisoned water. After that, he claimed, he could not doubt that the water was injurious to the fish.

Cattle Refuse To Drink.

He had been told, he continued, by several farmers, that cattle will not drink the water in this part of the river. At one time the cattle relished the water, especially at Kilworth, but now they will do nothing but wallow in the stream and poke their noses disdainfully in the water.

There can be no doubt that the condition has been brought about by the loss of the dam, Mr. Smith claimed, while the dam held the water back, the sewerage had a chance to settle to the bottom of the deep water until the arrival of a heavy rain when the flood water stirred the muck and washed it away before it had time to deposit itself in shallow waters.

It is most certain that any movement to construct a dam at Springbank will receive the full co-operation of the Game and Fisheries Association, Mr. Smith said in conclusion.

Thomas Green, was invited to remain another year, the following resolution was unanimously carried: "That, because of the antipathy shown, and the unmerited statements made, reflecting on the honesty of, and the motives actuating Rev. Mr. Green, our pastor, while in attendance at an official court of inquiry recently held at Cayuga, this quarterly official board, at this special meeting called for the purpose, desire to express our united confidence in our pastor, and believe that he has carried out the moral obligations resting upon him with the utmost regard to the truth, and without fear or favor.

"We desire also to express our admiration of the capable and manly way in which he gave his evidence, and his kindly attitude toward those whose conduct inquiry was being made.

NO DIVORCE COURT CONTEMPLATED FOR ONTARIO AT PRESENT

Announcement Received With Satisfaction by London Clergy.

The announcement that the bill for the establishment of a divorce court in Ontario will not be introduced this session, is received with gratification by the ministers of this city, whose opinion has been sought by The Advertiser.

Rev. D. C. MacGregor, St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, who has all along been opposed to broadening the grounds for divorce, expresses satisfaction that for the present matters will remain as they are. As he points out: "The Presbyterians, as a body, are against anything that will tend to make the present basis of divorce more liberal. They believe that it should only be granted for the one reason given by Christ Himself, namely, that of infidelity."

Rev. G. A. Leichliter, Adelaide Street Baptist Church, also expressed agreement with the decision to drop the bill, and that the work of the social service organizations and other bodies had not been in vain.

"That's right," exclaimed Mr. Leichliter, when he heard the news that the bill would not be put through.

Rev. B. H. Robinson, of the Memorial Methodist Church, who, it will be recollected, spoke on the subject of divorce a few Sundays ago, said: "I am very well satisfied that this matter has been dropped. Any danger of extending the present grounds for granting divorce by introducing changes in the present law ought to be guarded against. I am glad the bill is not to be proceeded with."

Trotzky Sacrificed Thousands Of Lives To Take Kronstadt

Chinese and Women Among Those Slain in Attack On the Fortress—Garrison Was Physically Exhausted Following Constant Siege by Bolsheviki—Head of Revolutionary Movement Flees.

London, March 19.—Leon Trotzky, the Russian Bolshevik war minister, leading the attack which resulted in the fall of Kronstadt, had no thought for the terrible sacrifices which the assault entailed, according to advices received here by way of Stockholm. He attacked with overwhelming force, including Chinese and women, regardless of the heavy loss of life which his followers were suffering.

Kronstadt was engaged from two directions, the main attack coming from Oranienbaum. The big guns of the defence could not be used, but the machine guns of the fortress mowed down the Bolsheviki until piles of dead covered the ice. Fresh columns incessantly appeared out of the dense fog, and the Bolsheviki eventually succeeded in penetrating the Petersburg gate, only to be ejected.

Heavy Street Fighting.

About 7 o'clock on Thursday evening the troops who that morning had subdued the island batteries started another attack, and from the east a fierce final assault was launched. For the third time the soviets got a foothold in the city. There was furious street fighting until 2 o'clock in the morning, when the followers of Trotzky became masters of the situation.

Then the revolutionary leaders ordered the garrison to withdraw to Terioki, on the Russo-Finnish frontier, the way to which had been kept open. A Finnish sailor who served on the battleship Petropavlovsk, arriving in Terioki, told how the sailors stood at their guns until the end, and declared the two battleships were still firing after the garrison left the town. It is now stated that the Petropavlovsk and Sebastopol were not blown up by the revolutionists, as had been reported, but that the gun locks were thrown into the sea. The fate of the warship's crew is unknown. The man who is described as the real leader of the revolutionists, M. Petrichenke, is now at Terioki, enjoying popular confidence.

Asks Protection for Refugees.

General Koslovsky, another of the revolutionary leaders, has applied to the Finnish commander for protection for the refugees. He described today how Kronstadt fired the first shot in the evening of March 7, amid great enthusiasm. It had been hoped to hold out until April 1, but circumstances were overwhelmingly against the revolutionaries. He added that the garrison, contrary to previous reports, was made up of only 6,000 men, whereas the soviets were able to draw fresh reinforcements, and the soldiers of Kronstadt began to wear out under the enormous strain. On Thursday their physical resistance was at an end. This, General Koslovsky explained, was due in part by the fact that the Petropavlovsk received a full hit on the deck, five men being killed and seven wounded.

The general is convinced that, despite defeat, the Kronstadt episode "has knocked a hole in the soviet system."

ARREST ALLEGED CONSPIRATORS

Warsaw, March 19.—General Nicoli Yeremkin, commander of the third Russian anti-Bolshevik army, two members of his staff, and a woman giving her name as Countess Jeanne Zammojalia, have been arrested by Polish army intelligence operatives. They are accused of conspiring against the life of Boris Savinkoff, minister of war in the Kerensky cabinet, established in Petrograd in 1917, and leader of Russian social revolutionaries in Poland.

The four persons taken into custody are being held in the military prison here.

GEN. KAMENEFF ARRESTED.

London, March 19.—M. Djerjinsky, head of the all-Russian extraordinary commission, has personally arrested General Sergius Kameneff, commander in chief of the Bolshevik armies, and Col. Lebedieff, the general's chief of staff at Moscow, according to a London Times dispatch from Riga. No reason for the arrests is given.

Advertiser's Puzzle Contest Ends Today

YOUR CHANCE TO WIN IS AS GOOD TODAY AS IN THE START.

While this is the last day of The Advertiser's great puzzle contest, there is still ample time to win, solutions submitted or sent in today having the same standing as those already registered. It is just as possible to come within the money today as it was a week or two ago.

All that The Advertiser requires of any contestant is that he renews or subscribes to the paper when sending in his solution. You will have no cause for regret in participating in the contest, as all that you pay in with your solution is credited on your subscription to The Advertiser at the regular subscription price. No one has any advantage of you in solving the puzzle, as it is individual effort that will win the prizes.

If you already receive The Advertiser through any regular source, the paper will continue to reach you through exactly the same channel. If you are not a subscriber, you may enter the contest merely by becoming one on precisely the same terms as those who are.

Solutions should be prepared carefully with the names and addresses of contestants stated plainly. It is unnecessary to accompany the solutions with a letter, unless contestants desire to give some directions about sending the paper that the solution blank does not provide for, or to make some special inquiry.

The chart and blank should be cut out neatly together, if those from the paper are used, and nothing further sent in. Do not detach the blank from the chart. Solutions may be delivered in person to the Contest Office, 110 Dundas street, until 10:30 tonight. Solutions mailed in will be accepted in the contest providing that they bear a postmark not later than March 19. Contestants bringing their solutions to the Contest Office should have the exact amount they desire to pay.

Those desiring to enter a solution different from one already submitted have the privilege of sending in as many different solutions as they wish, under the same terms as the first, and those desiring to pay up to the limit with any solution already filed—if they did not pay the full amount when submitting it—may do so now.

SOVIET RUSSIA MUST PAY 30,000,000 GOLD RUBLES TO POLAND WITHIN ONE YEAR

Pact Entered Into Last Night at Riga To Be Ratified Inside of Thirty Days—Terms of Peace Agreement Vary From Preliminary One Only as to Amount of Reparations Due Poland—M. Dombski Tells of Repression in Polish Areas.

London, March 19.—The Russian-Polish treaty was signed at 9:30 o'clock last night, says a dispatch to the London Times from Riga. The dispatch adds that it is to be ratified at Minsk within 30 days. Under the treaty 30,000,000 gold rubles are to be paid to Poland within twelve months.

The terms of the treaty are virtually the same of those of the preliminary treaty except as concerns the amount to be paid by Russia.

Altogether the treaty contains twenty-six clauses. After the signing of the treaty, M. Dombski, the chief Polish representative, delivered a speech in which he dealt at length with servitude and repression in Poland.

NEWS REACHES WARSAW.

Warsaw, March 19.—News that the treaty of peace between Poland and Soviet Russia had been signed in Riga was received here last night. It was immediately transmitted to President Pilsudski and the cabinet ministers, who were attending a gala performance in the opera house held in celebration of the adoption by the Diet of the new constitution of the republic.

EASTER HOLIDAYS TO COMMENCE MARCH 24

Youngsters Will Have Six Full Days of Real Joy.

TEACHERS' CONVENTION

In Detroit Will Attract Many London Teachers.

Joy! Oh joy! holidays, again and springtime here, too, is the song of the boys and girls of the city schools, which will be heard with increasing emphasis as the first three days of next week pass, for on Thursday next, March 24, the annual Easter vacation will be declared and the schools will remain closed till the morning of Monday, April 4, six clear days of real holiday from school work.

This morning Inspector V. K. Greer informed The Advertiser that he hopes to be able to open three of the four new class rooms at the Ealing public school after the Easter holidays, and also some of the six new rooms at the Wortley road public school. Just how many rooms will be ready at this school he does not know as yet.

From present indications it is probable that a score of the local kindergarten teachers will attend the big kindergarten convention to be held in Detroit during May. "The fact that this convention is being held at Detroit provides a rare opportunity for kindergarten teachers in Western Ontario to get into touch with a larger body of teachers, and to gather information on the latest advances made in this class of education," said Mr. Greer today.

Another big educational conference to be held shortly is the Ontario Educational Association's annual convention at Toronto during Easter week. Several members of the London Board of Education will attend this convention.

HON. WALTER MITCHELL, provincial treasurer of Quebec, who has introduced a bill to heavily tax motion pictures and race meets.

WELL KNOWN CHICAGO NEWSPAPERMAN DIES

Bert Taylor Is a Victim of Pneumonia.

Chicago, March 19.—Bert Leston Taylor, well-known humorist, and a conductor of a column in the Chicago Tribune, "A Line o' Type or Two," died of pneumonia at his home here early today after an illness of two weeks.

The widow and two daughters survive.

Mr. Taylor was born in Goshen, Mass., in 1866, and received his early newspaper training on a newspaper in Plainsfield, N. H. He started the column for which he became famous in 1901.

Among his better known writings are: "The Well in the Woods," "The Pipe Smoke Carry," "The Charlatan," "Motley Measures," and "A Line o' Verse or Two."

AUSTEN CHAMBERLAIN LIKELY TO SUCCEED AS COMMONS LEADER

Convention to Select Government Chief Is Called for Monday.

London, March 19.—(Canadian Press).—Austen Chamberlain's election as chief of the Unionist party seems assured as opposition will not be forthcoming. He will, it is presumed, lead the Commons, and sooner or later resign the portfolio of chancellor of the exchequer, which he is now holding, for a less exacting office. The convention to select a leader of the Unionist party has been called for next Monday.

MAN ON HIS DEATH BED INSISTS THAT ROBBER FIRED SHOT

Buffalo, March 19.—Investigation yesterday of the fatal shooting of Luther P. Graves, Yale graduate and socially prominent, cast doubt on the first theory that Graves had been shot by burglars whom he surprised at work. Detectives last night were inclined to the belief that Graves was shot from ambush, either by someone who had a grievance against him or in mistake for someone else. Graves was shot early this morning as he was walking from his garage to his home in North street.

In his death-bed statement, Graves insisted that he had been shot by "a robber," but could give no details of the shooting.

Drummond Fraser, the Manchester banker and financier, has been appointed by the economic and finance committee of the League of Nations as organizer of the scheme of international credits, proposed by Dr. Ter-Meulen, the Dutch financial expert, at the Brussels financial conference last October.

PARLIAMENT SUMMARY

Ottawa, March 19.—(Canadian Press).—Monday in Parliament:

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

Private members' day.

If private members do not move their resolutions, it is probable that the Government will proceed with the estimates of the department of trade and commerce. It is not likely that the estimates will be reached, as a number of important resolutions have been filed by private members.

On Monday, the cabinet will hear delegations or persons who may have complaints regarding the proposed legislation affecting the levels of the Lake of the Woods.

The special committee on soldiers' civil re-establishment will sit Monday morning.

FRIDAY IN PARLIAMENT.

Right Hon. Arthur Meighen explained that Sir Herbert Ames (St. Antoine) wrote his resignation before proceeding overseas, and that it was withheld on instructions from Sir Herbert.

House in supply passed estimates of the departments of agriculture and justice.

First reading of the bill to increase the age at which a minor can be sent to the penitentiary from 16 to 18 years.

URGES CONSTRUCTION OF NORTHERN LINE

Delegation of 200 Waits On Ontario Government Ministers.

Toronto, March 18.—"There is no ground for assuming that a 90-mile railway from Swastika to Westree in Northern Ontario would be a useless expenditure," said Charles McCrea, M. L. A., introducing a delegation of nearly 200 persons from the district around Elk Lake and Gowganda urging the project on Premier Drury, Hon. Beniah Bowman and Hon. Henry Mills today. Among those interested were Robert McKay, K.C., W. H. Alderson, president of the board of trade, George Wright, J. P. Bicknell, Sir Henry Pellatt, Arthur Sifton, representing his father, Sir Clifford Sifton, T. B. Clark, K.C., W. C. Young, J. H. Dixon, Frank C. Loring, S. E. Clark, and W. J. Poland. Mr. Poland appeared for J. C. Qualey and B. H. Hopkins, New York capitalists. The representation was made up largely of the mining and businessmen's association of Northern Ontario. It was estimated, the premier was told that the timber alone made accessible by the construction of this standard gauge railway to traverse the country between the Ontario governmental railway at Swastika and the Canadian National at Westree, would more than pay for the construction of this urgently needed road as a necessary link between the two transcontinental lines."

GEN. PERSHING DENOUNCES SUBTLE PROPAGANDA OF FOREIGN-BORN AGITATORS

Flays Attempt of Malcontents To Stir Up Trouble Among Allies—Greatest Patriotic Demonstration in History of New York Is Answer To Recent German, Sinn Fein Anti-British Gatherings.

NEW YORK, March 18.—General John J. Pershing, speaking before a crowd which packed Madison Square Garden tonight at one of the greatest patriotic demonstrations here since the signing of the armistice, bitterly denounced persons of foreign birth who seek the freedom of the United States to spread "political and warlike propaganda" to weaken the ties of friendship between the United States and her allies in the late war. The meeting was held under the auspices of the American Legion and other patriotic societies as a protest against the recent mass meeting arranged to voice objection to the presence of French colonial troops in occupied Germany, described as "the horror on the Rhine."

Foreign Prejudices.

"We do object," said General Pershing, "to the foreign-born citizen who attempts to determine a policy of this country because of foreign prejudice, whether he be German, Irish, Italian, Hungarian or Russian. I bitterly resent the abuse of United States citizenship or residence for the purpose of political or warlike propaganda in foreign countries.

No Place for Them.

"In the United States there can be no place for those who, claiming equal citizenship with us and enjoying its privileges under our flag, yet continue their allegiance to another country.

We welcome all those who honestly desire to become citizens and adopt this country as their own, but we abhor the intriguer who at the same time would secretly plot against our interests.

Subtle Propaganda.

"Are we to forget the vows of yesterday? Is the wanton destruction of France and Belgium and on the seas to be condoned? Shall subtle propaganda again lift its poisonous head to weaken our friendships?"

Similar sentiments were expressed by other speakers. Letters indorsing the meeting were received from President Harding and patriotic organizations in all parts of the United States.

FAIRLY HEAVY VOTE BEING POLLED IN WARD FOUR TO ELECT AN ALDERMAN

Both Candidates Have Scrutineers On the Job—Returns Should Be Completed by 6 o'Clock, Says City Clerk Baker.

Voting in the Ward 4 by-election, resulting from the death of Ald. C. G. Moorhead, is in full swing today. There is nothing yet to indicate which of the two candidates, J. M. Donahue or H. J. Childs, will carry off the honors, but it is certain that a reasonably large vote will be polled.

The three polling booths located on the third floor of the city hall, were crowded with voters throughout the morning. No official reports from the polls in the other sub-divisions of the ward had been received, but some voters who had cast their ballots reported a fairly heavy vote during the morning.

It is expected that there will be a rush during the noon-hour, when many workers will seize the opportunity to cast their ballots. Others who have a Saturday half-holiday likely will keep the election officers fairly busy up to closing time at 5 o'clock.

Workers for both candidates are active, representatives being at the polls to assist the voters in finding their names on the lists and seeing that others come to the polls.

Arrangements are complete for compiling the returns from the twenty-two sub-divisions. It is probable that City Clerk Baker, the returning officer, will be able to announce the result shortly after six o'clock.

AMERICAN BALLOONISTS TO COMPETE FOR CUP

New York, March 19.—The Aero Club of America announced today that it had awarded the 1921 national balloon race to Birmingham, Ala., and that the start would be made May 21. Trophies will be announced later.

From the winners of this contest will be selected a team to go to Belgium to compete for the Gordon Bennett international balloon cup, now held by that country.

Lieut. Louis A. Kloor, pilot of the United States naval balloon, which made its spectacular flight into Northern Ontario last winter, is among the prospective entrants.

VITAL PROBLEMS DEMAND IMMEDIATE ATTENTION OF PARLIAMENT AND PEOPLE

Production and Hearty Co-operation of Canadian People Needed Now As Never Before, Declares Sir John Willison—Warns Against Waste, Extravagance and Unwise Taxation.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

St. Marys, March 18.—"It is time for us to remember that 'retrenchment' once had a meaning in Canada. It is time for us to remember that without increase in production and extension of settlement, the burden of taxation may become unendurable. It is time to remember that further additions to cost of production, either by mounting wages or the waste and extravagance which unwise measures of taxation produce, threaten general commercial distress and disaster."

In these ringing words, Sir John Willison, president of the Canadian Reconstruction Association, dealt tonight with Canada's problems at the annual banquet of the board of trade. More than 400 were in attendance, and the speaker was frequently applauded as he pointed out that need now, as never before, of co-operation throughout the Dominion.

Young Athletes Honored.

During the evening Gould Cade and Max Muir, the young local athletes who made such a splendid showing in London and Baltimore recently, were presented with handsome stickpins by H. L. Rice on behalf of the board of trade, and with fountain pens by the mayor on behalf of the town.

In introducing them to the gathering, President (Capt.) Sanderson said: "That is the kind of stuff that made the Canadian army what it was." The young athletes were given a great reception.

Unable To Come.

Hon. Peter Smith and Dr. Steele, who were to have spoken at the big banquet, sent messages of regret, stating that it was impossible for them to be present.

Sir John Willison's address in part was as follows:

It requires a good deal of assurance and a good deal of courage to discuss the economic outlook in Canada or in any other country. Few, if any, of us foresaw even the great events of the last ten years. The things that we were confident would happen did not happen, and the things that we believed could not happen were those that did happen. We did not foresee the magnitude of the war or its duration, the conditions which followed the armistice, nor even the partial collapse of credit and industry which fell upon us a few months ago. Everywhere political leaders and economic teachers must be on the defensive. In the light of all that has happened one speaks with reserve and a certain apprehension that he may not read the future any better than he has read the past.

Vital Problems.

But as far as I can determine, there are certain vital problems which demand the immediate attention of parliaments and people. There are issues of tariff and taxation, of redistribution and representation, of immigration, of trade

A Clergyman's Wife Wants Women to Know Advantages of Internal Bathing.

If women could only see the thousands of letters Dr. Tyrrell has received from grateful women in all parts of the world thanking him for his wonderful invention for Internal Bathing they would soon discard the medicine bottle and look to the real cause of their trouble. 95 per cent of all human ills are due to accumulated waste in the Colon, or large lower intestine. Warm water, properly used with the J. B. L. Cascade, will relieve the cause of your troubles, and perfect health will follow.

A Winnipeg clergyman writes: "My wife is naturally sensitive having her name appear in public print, yet is anxious that others should know what the J. B. L. Cascade has done for her. It has really given her a new lease of life. For years she had been doctoring for Constipation, which became worse each year. Since using the J. B. L. Cascade, first about four years ago, she has not been sick a day and has become robust and strong again. Should any person wish this letter confirmed, you are at liberty to give my name in private."

The J. B. L. Cascade is shown and explained at Standard Drug Company, druggist, London, Ont.

The J. B. L. Cascade is an invention perfected by Dr. Chas. A. Tyrrell of New York, and has done more during the past few years to restore health and lessen disease than all other means combined. Ask for booklet explaining all about Internal Bathing and what it has done for others. It is free, or write to Tyrrell's Hygienic Institute, 163 College street, Toronto.

WHATEVER YOU DO, DON'T NEGLECT YOUR EYES, SAYS DR. LEWIS, WHO Tells How To Strengthen Eyesight 50 Per Cent in One Week's Time in Many Instances.

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home.

Philadelphia, Pa.—Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eye strain or other eye weaknesses? If so, you will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope for you. He says neglect causes more eye troubles and poor sight than any other one thing. Many whose eyes were failing say they had their eyes restored through the principle of this wonderful free prescription. One man says after trying it: "I was almost blind; could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not water any more. At night they would pain dreadfully! Now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days everything seems clear. I can even read fine print without glasses." It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by following the simple rules. Here is the prescription: Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. Drop one Bon-Opto tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and allow to dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two to four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and inflammation will quickly disappear. If your eyes are bothering you, even a little, take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have been saved if they had cared for their eyes in time.

NOTE: Another prominent physician to whom the above article was submitted, said: "Bon-Opto is a very remarkable remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and widely prescribed by them." The manufacturers guarantee it to strengthen eyesight 50 per cent in one week's time in many instances or refund the money. It can be obtained from any good druggist, and is one of the very few preparations I feel should be kept on hand for regular use in almost every family. It is sold in this city by all leading druggists, including Strong's Drug Store or Standard Drug Stores.

CONTAINERS OF MAPLE SYRUP MUST BEAR THE PRODUCER'S NAME

All Maple Syrup Assumed To Be "Pure," Says Inspector.

Dominion Food Inspector William E. Wilson, of the London district, has issued a notice that all containers of maple syrup must bear the producer's full name and address. Failure to comply with this law makes the vendor liable to a fine and seizure of all of his supply. Whether the syrup is sold in a gallon can, a quart sealer or a milk can, the producer must have his name printed on it. It must be plainly visible to the public, and the can must also be stamped "Maple Syrup." The word "Pure" said Mr. Wilson, is not necessary, as all maple syrup is supposed to be pure."

"If the product is not pure the owner is liable to a heavy fine," he asserted. The order affects all farmers in Middlesex, Lambton, Essex, Kent, Elgin, Norfolk and Brant Counties. Careful inspections will be made.

GRAVES OF SOLDIERS A BIT OF CANADA

Capt. Mollineux of the War Graves Commission Speaks to Kiwanians.

Captain Mollineux, of the Imperial War Graves Commission, addressed the Kiwanis Club at its weekly luncheon on the subject of the care of the graves of the soldiers who had fallen in the war in France and Belgium. It was in relation to the last resting places of the men situated in the devastated areas that the speaker particularly referred. After giving a brief history of the inception of the commission, Captain Mollineux said:

"Canada has 8 per cent of the total casualties in the war, and 8 per cent of the workmen and the heads of the departments caring for the graves are Canadians. Over these graves which are predominantly Canadian, trees and shrubs are planted which are peculiar to Canada, so that there is a bit of Canada right there in France. The whole of these cemeteries is like a beautiful lawn, and permanent headstones bearing suitable inscriptions will be placed on each."

BUT ONE JURY CASE FOR SPRING ASSIZES

Hon. Mr. Justice Kelly Will Preside at Court Opening Monday.

Despite the fact that the time for entry of cases for the spring assize court has expired, one case may be entered in a few days by special order of the judge who is to preside Monday, namely, Hon. Mr. Justice Kelly.

To date one jury case and six non-jury cases have been set down. Only one criminal case is on the list. The grand jury will have very little work to do, their only duties being to inspect public buildings and find whether a true bill should be brought against Sylvia Sansone, who is charged with attempted robbery and attempting to break into a cigar factory. The court will probably be concluded by Thursday.

O. A. C. ALUMNI

Western Ontario Executive Committee Arranges for Meeting March 31.

A meeting of the executive of the Western Ontario O. A. C. Alumni Association was held on Thursday evening in the office of the local agricultural representative, for the purpose of arranging the program for the meeting to be held at St. Thomas on March 31.

Some discussion took place regarding the experimental station at Harrow, and the hope was expressed that steps would soon be taken to place it on a more efficient footing.

The matter of arranging a field day for all the former students of the O. A. C., some time in the summer, was also brought up, and Rondeau Park was mentioned as a possible place of rendezvous.

POSSESS GOOD HEALTH BY LOOKING AFTER THE BOWELS

A free motion of the bowels, once or twice a day, should be the rule of everyone, as half the ills of life are caused by allowing the bowels to get into a constipated condition.

When the bowels are allowed to become constipated, the stomach gets out of order, and the liver does not do its work properly on account of holding back the bile, so that it does not pass through the bowels, but is allowed to get into the blood, thus causing a poisoning of the whole system.

If you would escape constipation, sick and bilious headaches, heartburn, floating specks before the eyes, coated tongue, foul breath; the nasty irritating, bleeding, itching and protruding piles, you should keep your liver stirred up by the use of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills.

These pills, being purely vegetable, keep your liver working actively, helping it to resume its proper functions, and thereby removing the bile that is circulating in the blood and poisoning the whole system.

Mrs. H. Barrows, Enfield, N. S., writes: "I was troubled with such headaches and constipation. One day a friend told me of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills. I got two vials, and found they did me a world of good. I therefore have great faith in them."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c a vial, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

LITTLE UNEMPLOYMENT IN A FEW WEEKS' TIME

Ald. Watkinson, Acting Mayor, Paints Rosy Outlook.

"Indications are that London is going to register the biggest year in its history during 1921," Ald. F. R. Watkinson, acting mayor, declared Friday. "As far as business is concerned manufacturers are already beginning to increase their output. With the automobile industry which is being established on a very large scale everything augurs well for the future prosperity of our city. I really think that in the course of a week or two there will be very few men out of employment."

THAMES RIVER TO BE RESTOCKED WITH FISH

Promise Made To Middlesex Game Association by Provincial Government.

Good news for the sportsmen of London and the surrounding district was contained in two announcements made at the meeting of the Middlesex Game and Fisheries' Association in the courthouse Friday evening.

President E. Smith informed the members of the association that the Provincial Government had recently changed the woodcock season to correspond with the duck season, which opens on September 1. Formerly the woodcock season did not open until October 15. This was considered much too late by the hunters throughout the province, for it was claimed by them that the season was almost ended before it opened.

He also announced that a deputation from the association which was in Toronto recently had been informed by the deputy minister of game and fisheries that the Government would supply the local association with any quantity of bass, pickerel or trout fingerlings or fry required to stock the River Thames. The association is considering seriously the restocking of both the north and south branches of the river.

KIWANIS CLUB SERVICE IN TALBOT ST. CHURCH

Quite a budget of business was gone through at the weekly meeting of the London Kiwanis Club yesterday. Kiwanian Frank Brennan occupied the chair instead of the president, Alf Mitchell.

Ben Hay reported on the St. Thomas meeting held last Monday. He stated that 77 members of the newly-formed club in the "Flower City" had already paid their fees and others were coming in.

Tom Roy gave the report of the objective committee. He stated that the objective that the committee had decided upon was that of the underprivileged boys of the city. These were mostly boys who had been rendered fatherless by the war and other causes. The committee recommended that it be the duty of the club to see that these boys were well clothed, well fed, well educated and generally looked after and that the members of the club assume financial responsibility for this to the limit of their ability.

On the motion of Israel Taylor, seconded by Ed Smith, this objective was unanimously adopted.

It was agreed that the Kiwanis attend Tom Roy's church (Talbot Street Baptist) next Sunday evening.

At the next meeting Arthur Ford will speak on newspaper stories and the lighter side of Parliament.

OFF THE RAILS

Five employees of the G. T. R. in Sarnia have been arrested on a charge of pilfering. They will appear for a preliminary hearing on Wednesday next in Sarnia police court.

WHO SAID ONIONS?

Eleven tons of Dutch sets were moved from Hensall to London by the Canadian Express Company Friday morning. This record shipment of seed onions occupied a special baggage car while being hauled over the L., H. and B. When it arrived in this city it was divided into smaller shipments and distributed in every direction throughout the country.

PRESIDENT KELLY HERE.

President H. G. Kelly of the G. T. R. passed through this city at noon Friday while en route from Montreal to Chicago. Mr. Kelly when interviewed by The Advertiser had little to say concerning conditions on the Grand Trunk. He said that the arbitration was occupying the greatest part of his attention. There was no developments, he claimed, in the wage question.

EN ROUTE TO CHICAGO.

General Superintendent H. C. Grout of the C. P. R. Ontario district, passed through London Friday evening while en route to Chicago.

D. B. HANNA PASSING THROUGH.

President D. B. Hanna of the C. N. R. was to pass through this city last evening while enroute from Montreal to Chicago on G. T. R. train No. 5.

C. P. R. DANCE.

More than 100 employees of the C. P. R. and their friends enjoyed a St. Patrick's dance given Thursday evening by the C. P. R. Recreation Club in the rooms above the Richmond street station. A splendid program was given. The rooms were prettily decorated in green.

GOING WEST!

There has been a steady increase in the amount of whiskey passing through this city westward during the past few weeks, according to local officials of an express company. Two cars of liquor, or almost 900 cases, pass through London almost every night at the present time, they claim. A few months ago from 300 to 400 cases a night was considered heavy business.

SHOW PLAY GIVEN BY DRAMA LEAGUE

Admirable Presentation of "The Dark Lady of the Sonnets."

The presentation of Bernard Shaw's one-act play, "The Dark Lady of the Sonnets," last night at the Ryerson school, was the first attempt on a drama league program to enact a play in costume, and proved a decided success. The Ryerson school stage, dimly lit, with its severely paneled background of wood, proved a most suitable setting for the scenes, which supposedly take place in an outer corridor of the queen's palace. Miss Ann Beckton, as Queen Elizabeth, was in splendid character. Her costume, with its mammoth ruff and tight bodice, was delightful, while her acting as the haughty, hot-tempered queen could hardly have been better. "Will Shakespeare," himself, enacted by Cecil Carrothers, in typical costume of the time, was another attractive character. Mr. Carrothers got into his acting much of Shaw's interpretation of the Stratford-upon-Avon aristocrat. The Beefeater, in his scarlet garments and tall pike, appeared in the person of Elliott Webb, whose acting was a delightful little bit of byplay. The fourth character in the drama, the "Dark Lady" herself, was admirably portrayed by Miss Helen Talbot.

The play, which concludes with a plea for the endowment of a community theatre, was most appropriate, in the light of the fact that the London Drama League is working for such an institution in London. It was preceded by a delightful reading of Shaw's introduction to the play by Sydney Sims.

Business Session Held.

The business part of the meeting came at the beginning of the evening, and was concerned largely with the coming production of Jerome K. Jerome's drama of manners, "Fanny and the Servant Problem," under the auspices of the Drama League. Sydney Sims convener of the play committee, presented his report to the effect that the play would probably be given early in May at one of the local theatres, and that the committee was asking that a drive for new membership be made immediately, the buying of membership to include admission to the play. The meeting carried this report with the understanding that the play should be open to the public as well as to Drama League members. The committee includes S. Sims, Stanley Meredith, Mrs. Arthur Brickenden and Miss Jean Walker. Plans are already under way for the choosing of a proper cast, which include 23 players, and it was suggested at the meeting that anyone wishing to try for a part in the play should register with Miss Madeline Simson, the secretary.

Present "The Open Door."

The next meeting of the Drama League, which takes place within two weeks' time, promises to be a very fine one. S. J. Meredith, assisted by Mrs. Lyons Evans, is then presenting Alfred Sutro's one-act play, "The Open Door," and it is expected that Miss Grace Blackburn will read a dramatic poem of Browning's, with musical accompaniment played by Miss Madeline Simson. Last evening Dr. Tamblyn, president of the league, occupied the chair.

CHILDHOOD CONSTIPATION

Constipation is one of the most common ailments of childhood and the child suffering from it cannot thrive. To keep the children well the bowels must be kept regular and the stomach sweet. To do this nothing can equal Baby's Own Tablets. They are a mild, but thorough laxative; are absolutely safe and never fail to relieve constipation and indigestion; colds and simple fever. Concerning them, Mrs. Jules Fauquereau, Nominingue, Que., writes: "My baby was terribly constipated and suffered day and night, I was advised to give him Baby's Own Tablets and from the first they helped him, and now at the age of thirteen months he is a big, healthy, happy boy." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

APPOINT COMMISSION TO INVESTIGATE ALL CANADIAN HOCKEY

Dr. Bruce MacDonald Will Be Requested To Appoint Three Members.

WINNIPEG, March 18.—(By Canadian Press.)—Dr. Bruce MacDonald, president of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada, will be requested to appoint a commission of three to conduct a dominion-wide investigation into amateur sport in Canada, according to a decision made by the delegates attending the annual meeting of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association here this afternoon. This decision was made after Dr. MacDonald had made a plea on behalf of a general house-cleaning in Canadian sport, offering to appoint a commission.

Billy Hewitt of Toronto, in favoring the formation of such a commission, advocated the inclusion of President Sterling of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association in the personnel of the commission.

Tourist Evil.

Dealing with the "tourist" evil, the delegates passed the following resolution:

"That no player who has changed his residence or his club since January 1 last be granted a certificate until he has satisfied the executive committee of his provincial branch of the bona fides of such change, and that all such applications for certificates, with complete and definite information regarding their change of residence, together with an affidavit from each player conforming to the A. A. of U. amateur rules, as set out in the rule book, must be in the hands of the secretary of such branch on or before November 20, so that each application can receive full and careful consideration by the executive.

No application received will be considered until January 20, except in the case of junior players. In case of a transfer from one provincial branch to another, the player must satisfy both branches.

Allan Cup receipts will not be entirely devoted to charity in the future, as has been the case in the past, as the trustees of the cup decided today to allow the hockey association first call on the funds for promoting hockey.

AUTO BADLY DAMAGED.

INGERSOLL, March 18.—Early this morning a large Studebaker auto in the Ingersoll Garage, belonging to the proprietor, Ray Gill, was discovered burning. The firemen were called, and by the use of chemicals extinguished the fire. The car, however, was seriously damaged. The machine had been placed in the garage a short time before. The cause is not definitely known.

DAYLIGHT SAVING

Will Be Discussed by City Council at Meeting Monday Night.

"Daylight saving" will be brought before the city council Monday night. Ald. Wenige intended to introduce the matter at a meeting of No. 1 committee this week, but later decided to bring it before the whole council, so that there could be a general discussion if the aldermen desired it. It is possible that no definite action will be taken, and that it will be referred back to No. 1 committee. This will not occasion any delay as those favoring the plan do not wish it to go into effect until May in any event.

Have You Heard About the Belrobe Method of Dressmaking?

WE TELL YOU ALL ABOUT IT AT THE PATTERN COUNTER.

The Belrobe method is a new and added service to the Designer patterns. It shows you, by illustrations, how to use and lay your patterns on the materials to get the style and get it right. For those who are already expert, it will save time and material; for those who have hardly dared to use patterns and to do their own sewing, it takes away the last fear. No risk of spoiling expensive goods, no risk of making a garment that won't hang or fit, no risk of that amateurish effect. Then at the important moment, when the fabric is cut and the task confusing, the Belrobe method shows you, by plain pictures, how to put the whole garment together. When the putting together has been accomplished, step by step in the pictures shows you when and where to make any adjustments necessary for the perfect fitting of the garment, how to finish by hand-sewing or by machine, how and where to face. All the way through you are shown and told simply by the Belrobe method. Ask about it at the Pattern Counter.

HOW COULD YOU, BILL?

Even Cynthia Grey noticed that the genial Poet Bill, who wafts the atmosphere of Wingham into the editorial sanctum each day, was minus his orange and black sweater coat this morning. This shedding of duds could surely have but one meaning, to wit, that beautiful spring was but dancing gaily around the corner, and would soon be among those present.

Bill admitted that the lady was on her way, and naturally would travel here on the L., H. and B. She didn't care whether it was electrified or not, and anyway the seats on the L. and P. S. were getting very shabby, more yellow than green. No person would accuse pretty Miss Spring of coming from St. Thomas, declared Bill.

"I'm going to write you a poem," said Bill, with a gleam in his eye, and although the city editor weakly protested, Bill insisted. Here it is, kind friend. Paste it in your hat band, and on a warm, sweltering day in summer take it out and read it carefully. It will make you forget the heat. Here she is:

SPRING TIME.

Again these days have came,
The best part of the year,
Making us feel the same
Which everybody seems to cheer,
Springtime.

The different birds give their song,
As if in their days of old,
Flying and flitting all day long,
Seem to have forgotten of the cold.
Springtime.

The schoolboy has even stopped to look
At the swimming hole and brook;
Also viewed the blessed sun
Expecting soon to enjoy when school is done,
Springtime.

His game of marbles, like the rest,
And other games to come off best.
His garden, too, of which he prides
And also expect long auto rides,
Springtime.

The farmer soon upon the land,
With his horses back up and gee,
Sowing seed with machine and hand
For to feed both you and me,
Springtime.

The pretty maid upon the street,
How in different windows will gaze,
Expecting on Easter soon to greet
Her many friends with newest craze,
Springtime.

The sporting fans will commence
To get their players out.
Imagine then when, on the fence,
You will hear the rooters shout,
Springtime.

Folks on excursions will be bent,
And fix up summer cottages,
And a few days will be spent,
Attending to last winter's damages
Springtime.

For we will find, both big and small,
Of us not a bad old world after all.
As year by year we have to climb
We welcome this part of our time,
Springtime.

HEARTY SUPPORT FOR ALEXANDRA MILK FUND

Many Parents and Friends Attend Concert In Aid of Proposition.

A large audience gathered in Alexandra School last evening, the occasion being a concert in aid of the "Milk Fund." Principal Kirkwood occupied the chair and thanked the parents and friends for their hearty support. The Petrie orchestra rendered several selections and were enthusiastically encored and the Pocock brothers created much amusement by their "black art" magic. In addition the following program was well carried out: Recitation by Franklin Welch, song by Teddy Giese scene from "Mill on the Floss" by Ruth Mendel, Chas. March, Alex. Russel Boedding, costume dances by Isobel Brooks, recitation by Nellie Bentley, violin and piano selections by the Misses Cahill, skipping dance by Marion Smith, recitation by Lily Richmond, song by Fred Smith and some very fine moving pictures.

WILL ADDRESS CLASS.—St. James' (Anglican) Young Men's Class will meet at 3 o'clock in school class room. The address will be given by Raymond Smith, on "Why the Church?" All men are heartily invited to attend.

CORRECTION. — Through an unintended error, in a report of a St. Patrick's Day supper and concert in Ridout Street Methodist Church, the words "supper and dance" occurred. There was no dance. The concert was most enjoyable.

FIRST AID CLASS.—Thursday of next week has been fixed as the day on which the Grand Trunk girls' first aid class will be organized. It is expected that H. Call, the company's general first aid organizer, will be here on that date.

SUES POLICEMAN FOR FALSE ARREST.—John L. McGuire of this city has issued a writ in the supreme court of Ontario against Agnus D. Berryman, a local policeman, for $2,000 damages for false arrest and imprisonment. The plaintiff's solicitor is Armour F. Ford of St. Marys.

OPEN GRAVEL PITS.—The G. T. R. gravel pits at Komoka will be opened on Tuesday next, it was announced today. During the week it is expected that 150 cars will be loaded and moved to Bridgeburg to fill a special order. Local officials claim that March 22 will be a record date for early openings.

AEROPLANE FLIGHTS.—Much interest was attracted by the flights of an aeroplane above the city Friday afternoon in connection with the presentation of "The County Fair" at the Grand Theatre. Other exhibition flights will be given today by the aviators, and "The County Fair" will be repeated at the Grand this afternoon and evening.

CLIMBING MOUNTAINS.—A letter has been received from George M. Reid, London, who is now recuperating in California, stating that he and his party had ascended Mount Lowe, which has an altitude of 6,100 feet. The communication was dispatched from Mount Lowe postoffice, and Mr. Reid's friends will be gratified to know that he is feeling fine.

INSISTED HE WAS "GUILTY."—Four cases were on the police court blotter this morning, but three were withdrawn. The fourth ended with the imposition of a $200 fine. The man in this case insisted that he was "Guilty," although the court thought that there might be some technicality on which he might go free. He refused, however, to explain why he hid a bottle of gin in a grocery store.

IS RECOVERING NOW.—Arthur Gleason, who was injured thirteen months ago in a railway accident near Sudbury, was brought to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gleason, 550 Talbot street, today. He has been continuously in the hospital ever since the accident, and for some time his life was despaired of. He is now making excellent progress towards recovery.

ELECTRIC SMELTERS.—Owing to the scarcity and high cost of oil with which they have hitherto operated their brass smelting furnaces, the Empire Brass Foundry Company are installing a battery of three electric smelters. One of these furnaces will be installed at once, and the other two at a later date. The quality of metal produced by the electric smelters is declared to be more uniform than that produced by other forms of furnaces.

ORGAN RECITAL.—A short organ recital will be given by Mr. H. T. Dickenson in St. Paul's Cathedral at the close of the Sunday evening service. Mrs. H. Carson will give two violin solos. The program is as follows: Andantino (Lemare), for violin and organ; organ solo, Flute Concerto (Bohm), arranged from orchestral score; violin solo, Cavatina (Raff); organ solo, "My Domian" (Henriez) transcription of the tone poem.

G. W. V. A. MEMBERSHIP DRIVE.—The G.W.V.A. membership drive which has been in progress for two weeks has so far been an outstanding success. Secretary J. W. Cunliffe would not state how many new members had been signed up, but intimated that several old members' applications had been received, and they would be admitted at the next regular meeting. Four teams are working in the campaign. One team is established to each ward.

GOOD TEMPLARS MEET—The usual weekly session was held at the home of Mr. Robins, when a pleasant evening was spent, the program being "English Night." Each member of the lodge coming from England gave a few minutes chat on the place he hailed from, mentioning the staple industries, and for what the place was famed. Light refreshments were kindly provided by Mr. and Mrs. Robins. The next session will be held at the home of Mr. Gilles, when the program will be "Lodge Drill."

COSTS APPEAL DISMISSED.—A case which has created much interest on the part of the legal profession here is that of Gibbons and Company at Osgoode Hall, Toronto. For selling the Walper House, Gibbons, Harper & Braden had a bill of $800 against the Laing estate. Those in charge of the estate refused to pay and asked H. S. Blackburn, local master, for a taxation of the costs. He set this at $400. The solicitors appealed against the taxation of costs to Osgoode Hall, but announcement was made today that the appeal had been dismissed. J. G. Walsh acted for the solicitors.

BRADSTREET'S REPORT.—London reports to Bradstreet's say that the fall wheat in this district is looking much better than anticipated in spite of the light fall of snow. Some fields are showing a strong tinge of brown as a result of the frost, but in the majority of cases the fall grain appears to have wintered well. In the industrial situation, unemployment is decreasing and manufacturers are generally confident that the worst is over. Biscuit and candy manufacturers say that orders are increasing while even in the steel trade there is a little more inquiry. Some firms which have been closed are opening up again. Wholesale trade is improving and orders for cottons and summer goods as well as hosiery are increasing. Retailers are showing their goods for spring and summer wear and the Easter trade is promising well. Collections on the whole are good.

WILL PROBE ALLEGED THEFTS.

Paris, March 19.—Charges made in the Chamber of Deputies recently by Deputy Brusse, that there had been wholesale thefts of United States army stocks sold to France were again the subject of discussion by the deputies yesterday. The subject was dismissed with a vote of confidence in the Government, when it announced its intention to bring all delinquents in connection with the liquidation of war stocks to justice.

WOULD SET $1,000 AS MINIMUM INCOME AFFECTING PENSIONS

Local Mothers' Allowance Commission Consider Present $350 Limit Too Low.

Widowed mothers applying to the local Mothers' Allowance Board, who have liquid assets of $350 or more, have hitherto been barred from receiving any assistance. The board for some time has frowned upon this limit, and today is sending the following resolution to the central commission in Toronto:

"That no liquid assets under $1,000 shall disqualify a mother from participating in the fund, and where liquid assets, computed at 6 per cent, shall be deducted from the allowance."

The members of the local board think this a fairer way to deal with the mothers who have some income.

C. P. R. DISPATCHERS ALMOST ARRESTED AS REGULAR OLD HOBOES

Thirst for Knowledge Leads Them to Arms of Police.

In order that they may rest from their ardent duties the dispatchers of the C. P. R. are given one day off each week. So that they might become more proficient in their duties by becoming familiar with the layout of the local division, several of these employees spend their free days in touring the company's lines. This thirst for knowledge proved almost as dangerous as a genuine thirst when it led two of the local dispatchers to the threshold of a tragedy on Thursday last. Early morning found the two ambitious employees aboard the westbound C. P. R. local passenger train bound for Chatham. After an hour or so had elapsed, the dispatcher on duty in London called North Newbury and asked the agent there to watch for two hoboes who were reported to be traveling on No. 671.

"Oh, she just pulled through here a few minutes ago. I saw the hoboes locked in the baggage car," replied that official in a very serious tone.

Now, as it happened, the dispatcher at Chatham was listening in on the conversation. The agent of that station was standing close at hand. The dispatcher turned to him.

"The crew on No. 671 has just caught two hoboes trying to ride without tickets," he said.

"They did? Well, you had better call London and find out if we had better have the police meet the train."

London replied that it might be a good idea, so when the train pulled in the police patrol was waiting grimly at the station platform while a squad of the Chatham police force waited to effect the arrest.

It was not until the two dispatchers alighted from the baggage car where they had been riding that the dispatcher and the station agent discovered that they were the victims of a hoax. The police accepted their apologies.

Spanking Doesn't Cure!

Don't think children can be cured of bed-wetting by spanking them. The trouble is constitutional, the child cannot help it. I will send FREE to any mother my successful home treatment, with full instructions. If your children trouble you in this way, send no money, but write me to-day. My treatment is highly recommended to adults troubled with urine difficulties by day or night. Write for free trial treatment.

PUBLIC SCHOOL TAX RATE IS HALF MILL LOWER THAN SEPARATE

City Rate of 14.8 Includes Collegiate and Technical School, Says Inspector Greer.

Referring this morning to a story to the effect that a member of the local separate school board had stated that the separate school tax was 11 mills, but that the board would accept the city school rate of 14.8 mills, Inspector V. K. Greer today pointed out that the 14.8 mills school rate struck for the city of London is inclusive of the Collegiate and Technical schools.

"As a matter of fact," said Mr. Greer, "the public school tax rate is only 10.5 mills, which is half a mill less than that of the separate school rate."

KING AND QUEEN SEE CARPENTIER IN ACTION

Liverpool, March 19.—Their majesties, King George and Queen Mary, the Prince of Wales and other distinguished guests of the Earl of Derby, were last night given a reproduction of the later rounds of the Carpentier-Battling Levinsky boxing contest which was fought in Jersey City last October. Carpentier appeared with Lenaris, his Belgian sparring partner, at Knowsley Hall, near here, where the Earl of Derby is entertaining a house party for a few days.

The two men entered a 16-foot ring and boxed two rounds, and then they reproduced the Levinsky fight, Lenaris being knocked out with a smashing blow to the jaw. Later the King and Queen shook hands with Carpentier, and the King wished him good luck in his coming fight for the world championship with Jack Dempsey.

DEATH SENTENCE COMMUTED.

Dublin, March 19.—The death sentence against John Leonard, a taxicab driver, who was found guilty of being implicated in the murder of Police Inspector Swanecy last August, has been commuted to penal servitude for life. It was alleged at the time of the trial that Leonard's car was used by the assassins.

CONFESSES TO MURDER.

Warsaw, Ind., March 19.—In a signed statement last night, Virgil Decker, 19 years old, farm hand, admitted having killed Leroy Lovett of Elkhart, Ind., according to an announcement by Sheriff C. B. Moon. Decker, in his statement, said he committed the crime unassisted, Sheriff Moon stated.

Firemen Rescue Comrades When Roof Gives Way

New York, March 19.—Firemen fighting a stubborn storage house fire in Brooklyn last night ceased fire fighting to save six of their comrades who were buried in the debris when the roof of the burning structure collapsed. They were all rescued.

The fire caused damage estimated at $250,000. More than 130 families living in adjacent tenements were temporarily driven from their homes.

PROPOSED FEDERATION OF BUSINESS CLUBS

Further Meeting To Be Held in Hamilton Next Week.

D. J. Clark, of the London Advertising Club, who recently returned from a meeting in Hamilton, where the advisability of forming a federation of business clubs was discussed, states that some misapprehension appear to have arisen regarding the functions of the proposed new body. It is not intended, he says, to usurp any of the functions of existing commercial organizations, such as the Associated Boards of Trade and the Chambers of Commerce, but merely to bring together those bodies, such as the Advertising Clubs and kindred societies, whose membership largely consists of men connected with sales projects.

There will be a further meeting in Hamilton on Tuesday next to discuss the matter.

EASTER FLOWERS FOR SOLDIER PATIENTS

Sunday School Children Will Be Asked To Contribute Flowers.

In Toronto a proposal has been made to the different Sunday schools through a Presbyterian minister there, that each child supply at least one flower to brighten the bedside of a soldier patient confined in the hospitals on Easter Sunday.

The ministers in London are heartily in accord with carrying out a similar scheme here at Byron Sanatorium and Westminster Hospital, where a great many soldier patients are confined. G. W. Hofferd, president of the Religious Education Council, which takes in all the Protestant Sunday School Associations, and to whose attention the proposal was brought by The Advertiser today, said he will endeavor to bring the matter before the city Sunday schools, and thereby see that local soldier patients are remembered by the children with flowers.

WIRELESS PHONES FOR PUBLIC UTILITIES

Will Be Installed at the Pumphouse, Horton Street, and Head Office.

Progress is being made in the investigation and preparation of plans to install a wireless telephone system between the waterworks pumping station at Springbank, the hydro-electric station at Ridout street, and the head offices of the public utilities commission, Dundas street.

"The proposed wireless system will," General Manager E. V. Buchanan says, "eliminate the serious danger of the isolation of the Springbank plant from the city during severe electrical storms through the breakdown of the ordinary telephone system. The cost of installing the wireless telephone apparatus will be very much less than the cost of duplicating the ordinary telephone system, and we have the assurance of the Marconi people that the wireless system, which it is proposed to install, is not affected by weather conditions."

MEXICAN RAILROAD UNIONS ORDERED TO RESUME WORK

Mexico City, March 19.—Railroad unions throughout Mexico have been ordered by telegraph to resume work immediately as a result of an agreement reached between national leaders of striking railwaymen and government officials. It was believed here today that virtually normal passenger and freight train schedules would be resumed by the first of next week. The basis of the settlement has not been announced. The strike has seriously embarrassed railroad lines throughout the republic for the past three weeks.

ENJOYABLE DANCE

Masquerade in McCormick's Dining Hall Attended by Over Three Hundred.

On Thursday evening the huge snow-white dining hall of the McCormick Manufacturing Company was the scene of a most successful and enjoyable social event when over 300 employees and their friends enjoyed a masquerade dance put on by the Employees' Welfare Association of that firm.

The task of decorating the hall was left in the hands of Mr. Simon Fead, a prominent member of the association. Everywhere green and white St. Patrick's decorations of various patterns had been artistically used, while the numerous brilliant lights had been softly subdued by cleverly-draped streamers. During the moonlight dances a huge green spotlight cast its beautifully-tinted rays over the dancers, transforming the hall into a veritable emerald palace.

With the excellent co-operation of the Selby Young Orchestra, Mr. Curnoe, to the delight of the audience, rendered a graceful Hawaiian dance.

The vast display of costume made judging a very difficult problem. Prizes were awarded as follows: Best Irish lady, Miss J. Brooks; best Irish gent, Mr. D. Nottage; best-dressed couple, Mrs. A. Stinchome and Mrs. R. Hill; best comic, Mr. J. Smith; Red Cross nurse (special), Mr. F. Scott; Indian (special), Mr. H. Flitton.

Tachereau, prime minister of the province, has a Style A Player, and Mr. J. Holt, of Holt-Renfrew Company of Quebec, has also purchased one of these popular instruments. b

PROHIBIT SALES OF HENRY FORD'S PAPER

St. Louis, Mo., March 19.—Chief of Police Martin O'Brien said he was preparing to issue an order today, prohibiting street sales of the "Dearborn Independent," Henry Ford's paper. Chas. H. Dause, city counsellor, yesterday ruled the sale by criers on the street constitutes a law violation, punishable under defamation and criminal libel statutes, and the disturbance of peace ordinance.

JAPAN TO INSIST ON RIGHTS UNDER YAP MANDATE

Viscount Uchida Declares Measures Taken To Prevent Detrimental Legislation.

Tokio, March 19.—Japan will stand firmly on her mandate over the island of Yap, in the South Pacific, Viscount Uchida, the foreign minister, declared at a meeting of the budget committee of the Diet yesterday in reply to a member who asked whether the attitude of Great Britain and the council of the League of Nations and that of the United States regarding Yap did not affect Japan's interests, and also whether Japan intended to insist on her rights under the Yap mandate.

Viscount Uchida said the Government was adopting every possible means to prevent the passage of laws similar to those adopted in California.

ANOTHER MILESTONE IN LIFE OF WELL-KNOWN LONDONER

Harry Merritt Celebrating His 73rd Birthday.

Next to the 17th of March today is the most important date of the year to Harry Merritt, who for nearly 33 years has been caretaker of London's various city halls. Mr. Merritt is 73 years old today. He was born in Connaught, Ireland, but came to Canada at a very early age and settled in London.

During his long term of service in the city's employment he has become more widely known than many public men. He has watched the beginning of the careers of several Londoners who are now high in public life, and has many interesting reminiscences of the early days in London's municipal life. He has always been a particular friend of the newspapermen, and recalls several city hall reporters who are now in the front rank of Canadian journalism.

In spite of his 73 years, Mr. Merritt is still active and attends to his duties as sergeant-at-arms for the council in a manner that would do credit to a much younger man. He received congratulations today from scores of friend's.

Mr. Merritt is celebrating the great event quietly by a little birthday party to which a number of relatives have been invited. It is only natural that a huge cluster of real shamrocks should form the centrepiece for the festive board.

PROTEST AGAINST CARDINAL'S LETTER

London, March 19.—Irish Catholics adopted resolutions at a mass meeting here last evening, protesting against the pastoral letter issued in February by Cardinal Bourne, in which the cardinal denounced Sinn Fein outrages in Ireland. The resolutions warned Cardinal Bourne that "while dutiful Catholics will obey the church in matters relative to faith and morals, no ecclesiastical dictation or interference in political matters will be tolerated."

BONUS TO CIVIL SERVICE MEMBERS IS DECREASED

Ottawa, March 19.—The Journal's parliamentary correspondent says today in part: "The bonus to be paid the civil service this year will not be as large as last year. While the matter is still under consideration and will not be definitely determined until the beginning of next week, there is reason for stating that there will be a decrease in the amounts paid as nearly as possible proportionate to the decrease in the cost of living."

FOUR CIVILIANS ARE WOUNDED IN DUBLIN

Dublin, March 19.—Bombs were thrown on two motor lorries yesterday. Soldiers then fired on the attacking party, and four civilians were wounded, one of them dangerously

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

New York, March 19—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Leading stocks registered normal gains and losses at the hesitant opening of today's session, but within the first half hour reactionary tendencies became more marked. Mexican Petroleum forfeited a large fraction. Atlantic-Gulf fell 1 point and International Agricultural preferred lost 1¾. The prominent motors and their specialties also eased moderately. Among the few advances were Pennsylvania, Houston Oil, Allied Chemical and Sunboard Steel.

MONTREAL STOCK EXCHANGE.

Montreal, March 19.—The local stock exchange was both active and strong during the early trading this morning, and many substantial advances over yesterday's closing levels were recorded. Abitibi went up ¾ point to 43X, while Atlantic Sugar strengthened ¼ to 33, as did also Brazilian to 33¼. Brompton remained unchanged at 36½. Laurentide went up ½ point to 87, and Riordon was steady at 117. Spanish River made the most prominent advance, rising 2 points from its closing level yesterday to 78. Wayagamack was unchanged at 70.

WALL STREET REVIEW.

New York, March 19.—Easier rates for call money influenced the better tone of the securities market this week, but net changes, save in a few of the speculative leaders, were comparatively insufficient. Liquidation seemed to have run its course in the most stable stocks, although rails were conspicuously backward, with net low records for varying periods in such prominent issues as Pennsylvania and several of the grangers.

Oils as a group contributed a preponderant share to the enlarged operations, steels and equipments also asserting much of their former leadership. Of the better known specialties tobaccos were heaviest, losing ground on adverse trade reports.

Industrial and commercial conditions, especially as applicable to the steel trade, offered little inducement for any revival of public interest in the market, and smaller railroad earnings testified the further diminution of tonnage at western and southwestern points.

Taking the foreign exchange markets as a criterion, little interest was manifested in latest reports of the European situation. Tighter money in London, it was declared, militates against any immediate reduction in the Bank of England rate.

FIRST VARSITY GOLF.

London, March 18.—For the first time in history a British university team will compete in the inter-collegiate golf championship of the United States at Greenwich, Conn., June 28. Plans now contemplate the sailing of the team, June 15, on the Olympic.

Invitations were issued to both Oxford and Cambridge to take part in the contest. The former, however, is not represented on the team as now constituted.

LONDON'S OPTOMISTS

The cheerful optimists composing the Real Estate Owners' Association were thrown into ecstasies of joy over the 24 mill tax rate struck by the city council last week. It was therefore only natural that at their regular meeting on Friday night they should embody these noble sentiments in a rhapsodic resolution expressive of their sublime faith in the good things that are to come.

Accordingly they "Resolved, that this association thinks it is about time that our civic bodies stopped talking about raising the assessment and lowering the rate the following year. The same old cry was made in 1920 that appears in Monday's issue of the press regarding 1922.

"The facts are that the day of low taxes is gone by so far as London goes, and any persons fool enough to invest their money in real estate must not expect any fair return in interest upon their investment. We further predict that the flow of money into the city coffers for 1921 will not be as great as in the last few years, when borrowed war funds has been responsible for the good times, and there is reason to believe that not a few properties will be up for the taxes in the next year or so."

GRAIN IN STORAGE INCREASES.

Ottawa, March 19.—According to returns received at the Dominion Bureau of Statistics for the week ending March 11, 1921, the quantity of grain in store at the different public elevators throughout Canada has increased by 1,405,823 bushels in oats; barley, 253,558 bushels; flax, 44,027 bushels, and rye, 28,082 bushels, while wheat indicated a decrease of 170,979 bushels as compared with the previous week.

NEW WORLD'S RECORD IN RECEIVING MESSAGES

New York, March 19.—A world record for receiving radio messages, 48 3-5 words a minute, with two typographical errors, was established here last night by B. G. Seutter, an operator, employed by the New York Times.

The former record was 47 words a minute with three errors.

CURED HIS RHEUMATISM!

"I am 83 years old, and I doctored for rheumatism ever since I came out of the army, over 50 years ago. Like many others, I spent money freely for so-called 'cures' and I have read about 'Uric Acid' until I could almost taste it. I could not sleep nights or walk without pain; my hands were so sore and stiff I could not hold a pen. But now I am again in active business and can walk with ease or write all day with comfort. Friends are surprised at the change." You might just as well attempt to put out a fire with oil as try to get rid of your rheumatism, neuritis and like complaints by taking treatment supposed to drive Uric Acid out of your blood and body. It took Mr. Asheiman fifty years to find out the truth. He learned how to get rid of the true cause of his rheumatism other disorders, and recover his strength from "The Inner Mysteries," now being distributed freely by an authority who devoted over twenty years to the scientific study of this trouble. If any reader of The Advertiser wishes "The Inner Mysteries of Rheumatism," overlooked by doctors and scientists for centuries past, simply send a postcard or letter to H. P. Clearwater, 36th street, Hallowell, Maine. Send now lest you forget. If not a sufferer, cut out this notice and hand this good news and opportunity to some afflicted friend. All who send will receive it by return mail without any charge whatever.

FIND NO TRACE OF WM. MILNE

Search Parties Are Now Scouring Country Around. Stratford.

STRATFORD, March 18.—Parties are now searching towards Stratford and St. Pauls in hopes of finding trace of William Milne, who left his home four miles north of St. Marys just before Tuesday night's storm. He has not since been heard from. Search parties are following every possible clue in an effort to locate him, but so far unsuccessfully.

Word has been received of the death at Lancaster, Pa., of Mrs. Seyfert, wife of Col. A. G. Seyfert, formerly U. S. consul here.

Following a paralytic stroke on Wednesday, Daniel Halpin, 70 years old and a well-known resident, died today.

Stratford is to have a clean-up week again this year. The fire and cemetery committee is recommending that the city council set the first week of May as fire prevention and clean-up week.

The local G. W. V. A. is registering a protest to the Government against the appointment of women enumerators for the referendum vote in place of returned men. The militia department will be petitioned to make provision for full military honors in burial of all deceased active service men.

CONTRACT IS AWARDED.

SAULT STE. MARIE, March 18.—Announcement was made here today that the contract for the new courthouse here has been let to Stuart & Sinclair of Hamilton. The amount of the tender has not yet been given out, but it is understood that the building will cost in the neighborhood of $300,000.

RHEUMATIC PAINS HAVE DISAPPEARED

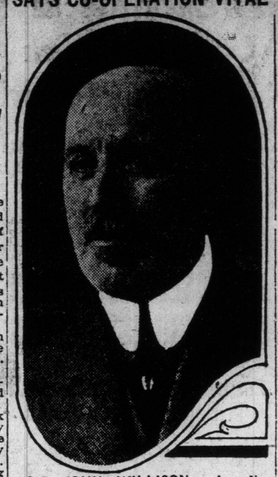

As a Result of Treating the Trouble Through the Blood.

The chief symptom of rheumatism is pain. The most successful treatment is the one that most quickly relieves and banishes the pain. Many rheumatic people suffer pains that could be avoided by building up the blood; when rheumatism is associated with thin blood it cannot be corrected until the blood is built up.

Mr. Ed Hall, Main-a-Dieu, N. S., suffered from rheumatism for years, but was more fortunate than many victims of the disease, for he found a remedy that so built up his entire system that he is now free from rheumatism. Mr. Hall says: "I was taken down with rheumatism, and at times was under the treatment of several of the best doctors in Cape Breton, but they held out no hope for my recovery from the trouble. I was confined to bed for three years and a helpless cripple from the trouble. I could not move, and had to be turned in sheets. My legs and fingers were drawn out of shape, and sores developed on my body as the result of my long confinement to bed. I was in this serious condition when a friend advised the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I began taking them. The first benefit I felt from the pills was an improved appetite, and then I began to feel stronger, and was finally able to get out of bed and go about on crutches. I continued taking the pills for months, slowly but surely getting new strength, and finally I was able to lay the crutches aside, I will always be lame, as the result of my long stay in bed my left leg has shortened somewhat, but otherwise I am feeling fine and able to do my work as Fishery Overseer. I may add that when the rheumatism came on I weighed 140 pounds, and when I began going about on crutches I only weighed 67 pounds, and now I am at normal weight. There are many here who know and can vouch for the truth of these statements."

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

SAYS CO-OPERATION VITAL

SIR JOHN WILLISON, who discussed Canada's problems at a big meting in St. Marys last night.

COST OF LIVING TWICE AS HIGH AS 1913 FIGURE

Increase in Wages For Same Period Is Slightly Less.

PEAK REACHED LAST JULY

Factory Wages Advance in Seven Years 98 to 115 Per Cent.

OTTAWA, March 18.—(By Canadian Press.)—The tremendous advance in the cost of living and the corresponding, though slightly less, increase in wages in Canada during the period from 1913 to 1920 is shown by a lengthy statement which will be published by the labor department as a supplementary to the March issue of the Labor Gazette. The rates of wages are compiled from statistics obtained in thirteen Canadian cities scattered across the Dominion. An increase of 90.3 per cent in the hourly rate of wages paid in 1920 over the 1913 scale is shown by the statement. These figures take into account a decrease in the number of working hours per week.

Peak in July, 1920.

As to the cost of living, the average increase in all items for a family when the peak was reached in July, 1920, was 101 per cent over 1913. Food had risen 130 per cent over 1913; fuel, 91 per cent; rent, 34 per cent; clothing, 160 per cent, and sundries, 90 per cent. By December food had dropped to a level of 102 per cent over 1913, but fuel had continued to increase, reaching a level of 118 per cent above 1913.

The occupations under review in the bulletin with reference to wages are as follows:

Increase in Wages.

Seven building trades, five metal trades, two printing, street railway motormen and conductors, and six classes of steam railway employees. The department took as its index number for 1913 the figure 100, and on this basis it was discovered that the average increase in hourly wage rates for building rates was 80 per cent since 1913, while weekly rates had advanced 72 per cent. The average increase in metal trades was 109 per cent in hourly rates, and 89 per cent in weekly rates.

In the two printing trades given the increase in hourly rates appears at 74 per cent and in weekly rates at 82 per cent over 1913.

Railway Pay Advances.

Street railway motormen and conductors secured average increases of 94 per cent in hourly rates and 179 per cent in weekly rates. In steam railways the increase per diem and per mile for the six classes averaged 86.6 per cent, but it is pointed out that over-time rates for excess hours or mileage have been paid since January, 1918. This means a great increase in the rates as given.

The increase in factory wage scales over 1913 is very large. Index numbers of these rates show an average increase in common factory labor of 115 per cent in hourly rates since 1913, and 98 per cent in weekly rates.

CONVICT WANDERER OF DOUBLE MURDER

Peculiar Case Puzzled Chicago Police For Many Weeks.

CHICAGO, March 18.—Carl Wanderer today was found guilty by a jury of the murder of the "ragged stranger," shot to death in the alleged mock hold-up, and the penalty fixed at death.

Wanderer previously was convicted of the murder of his wife, shot to death at the same time as the stranger, and was sentenced to 25 years' imprisonment.

The double murder took place last summer. Wanderer declared that when he came home from a picture show one night with his wife they met a man in the vestibule at the entrance to their home. The man opened fire, Wanderer said, and he fired back. The stranger and Wanderer's wife were killed.

For several days Wanderer was looked on as a hero. The police, however, found that the stranger's gun belonged to Wanderer's cousin, and that Wanderer had borrowed it a few days before the murders. Wanderer was arrested and signed a confession that he had hired the stranger, whom he termed a "poor boob," to stage a fake hold-up, and had killed his wife and the man.

In his first trial, for the murder of his wife, and her unborn babe, Wanderer repudiated this confession. He was found guilty and given a 25-year sentence, the jury announcing that it had compromised on the punishment.

CONVICTS MAKING THE BALLOT BOXES

OTTAWA, March 18. — (By Canadian Press.) — Convicts in penitentiaries throughout Canada are working on election ballot boxes, it was intimated by Hon. C. J. Doherty, minister of justice during the debate on estimates in the House of Commons this afternoon.

"Will the boxes be used pretty soon?" queried Thomas Vien (Lothiniere) amid some laughter.

"They are for the temperance referendum in Ontario," was the minister's reply.

DENIES SHE WAS UNDER SURVEILLANCE

Trixie Harkness Says She Went To Woodstock Alone.

WOODSTOCK, March 18. — Trixie Harkness, wife of Denton Garfield, is now writing letters to the newspapers resenting the use and abuse of her name in connection with the recent trial of Denton Garfield, sentenced to twenty years in penitentiarly for his part in the killing of Ben Johnston. She is now in Point Edward, and takes exception to the published statement that while she was in Woodstock during the trial she was under police surveillance. The letter is as follows:

"I want it understood that I was in Woodstock alone, except for my little three-year-old son. No police from London brought me to Woodstock, and they have nothing to do with me whatever. I went to see my husband before he left for Kingston, and I will visit him often there. I think it is about time the papers were telling the truth about me. I think I have suffered enough by their lies. My trouble is more than I can bear now, without more disgrace through lies of the reporters. All I ask is for you to tell the truth. I am not held by the police, and never was. I am only fighting for my husband. I did the best I could by both Norman and Denton."

ALLEGE VETERAN SOLD HIS OUTFIT

Peculiar Charge Has Been Laid Against Soldier-Farmer.

ST. THOMAS, March 18. — John Stenton, a soldier farmer of Malahide, has been locked up at Port Huron on a charge of disposing of the agricultural outfit provided by the Government after he had been located in the township by the settlement board.

The offence is alleged to have been committed in February last, when Stenton sold out his stock and implements valued at about $800, and left the country. A couple of days ago he was taken in charge at Port Huron, but the authorities there refused to give him up without a warrant. A local constable will leave for that city tomorrow with the necessary papers to bring him back.

Mental Diversion at a Profit

You own a business. It is your "child." You have nursed it through infancy, poured brain and money and energy—your life blood almost—into it, to bring it to its present position.

And, if the truth be known, the ambition is still with you to carry it to greater heights; not altogether for profit, perhaps, because there is a streak of altruism in every great businessman.

Let us say, then, for the glory of achievement.

Granting this, will you not sit down after dinner this evening and figure out whether you can use advertising—Daily Newspaper Advertising—to accomplish your purpose?

It is unfortunately true that a great deal of daily newspaper advertising is not as well done as it should be; but, even allowing for this, the overpowering commercial successes that have been assisted in their achievement by the persistent force of Daily Newspaper Advertising are sufficient evidence to justify your earnest consideration.

If you were to ask what Daily Newspaper Advertising can do for you, we should answer:

1. It will enable you, if necessary, to make a sales appeal—to reach every possible buyer of your goods.
2. It will enable you to get local or national sales action quickly.
3. It will give you frequency of appearance, and flexibility in extent of space or character of message or price.
4. It will enable you to localize your sales efforts—to place your advertising in those territories, and only those territories where you want action, and where you can profit by it.

If you have ever thought you would like to advertise, if you could get proper advice on how to go about it, write to this Association. We will give you the benefit of our experience in starting you on the road to successful publicity. Or, consult a recognized advertising agency. A list supplied on request.

Be-Kind-to-Animals.

The Humane Society is arranging details for the be-kind-to-animals during the week starting April 12. The society has been advised that Dr. W. O. Stillman, president of the American Humane Society, had taken up the local shipping conditions, reported by Inspector Mattes, with the authorities at Washington, and satisfying results would follow. The society will hold a delivery horse contest and a competition in a prize essay in the local and county schools.

Cleared $150.

The ladies of the Regimental Chapter, I. O. D. E., cleared $150 at their very enjoyable St. Patrick's dance last evening.

The Ontario temperance committee is asking Elgin County $3,000 to assist in the referendum campaign.

A banquet will be tendered Judge Colter at the Grand Central on Thursday next, on the evening of the retirement of the judge from active duties.

Ad. Worth $2 a Word.

Mrs. George Cook, who lost her purse last evening, found it a short time afterwards by a little vive voce advertising of Mayor Brinkman. During a quiet moment at St. Patrick's entertainment, in the auditorium of the Catholic Church, last night, his worship announced the loss, and a lady at once stood up in the audience and advised the mayor she had found the purse, and then and there returned it to the owner.

MAGISTRATES ARE NOT EAGER TO BE CORONERS

Proposal of Legislature Is Not Very Acceptable To Officials.

ST. THOMAS, March 19.—Although the professional coroner's jury is giving way locally to more capable men and the number of members has been reduced at these official inquiries, the proposed burdening of the magistrates with the duties of a coroner is not acceptable to either. Both magistrate and coroner here concur with the other that this dual position requires some technical knowledge which is not generally to be found in the lexicon of the magistrate, and confusion might follow if the magistrate attempted to question a medical man on the details of a post-mortem. Yet there are not a few in St. Thomas who see small results as to effect of a verdict, criminally or otherwise, which may be found by a coroner's jury.

TWO WOMEN HELD FOR BIG ROBBERY

Eighteen Indictments Have Been Returned by Federal Grand Jury.

CHICAGO, March 18.—Two women were being held here tonight in connection with the $500,000 postal robbery at Toledo last February. They are Mrs. Myrtle Le Mack, the wife of a man for whom the police are searching, and Mrs. Margaret Monroe, her sister-in-law.

HAD BAD COUGH FOR THREE YEARS

The constant hacking, racking, persistent cough that sticks to you in spite of everything you have done to get rid of it, is the kind that is dangerous.

The longer the cough sticks, the more serious menace it becomes to your health.

There is no remedy that will relieve coughs—coughs that won't let go—like Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

It has a healing and soothing action on the air passages, and at the same time acts as a disinfectant of the respiratory organs, destroying the germs that produce serious lung complications.

Mrs. John Miller, Minburn, Alta., writes: "I had a very bad cough for three years. I went to several doctors and tried different cough medicines, but nothing seemed to help me. One day a friend told me about Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and after using several bottles I became completely relieved. I always keep a bottle in the house, and also recommend it to others.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup has been universally used for over 30 years, and so great has been its success, it is only natural that a great many imitations have been placed on the market. The genuine is put up in a yellow wrapper; 3 pine trees the trade mark; price 35c and 60c a bottle; manufactured only by The T. Milburn Company, Limited.

MAY STRIKE TO MAINTAIN THEIR EIGHT-HOUR DAY

Union Workers in Chicago Packing Plants Favor Walkout.

CHICAGO, March 18.—By a vote of 21,432 to 207, union workers in Chicago packing plants went on record today in favor of a strike if they are "unable to induce the packers to maintain the eight-hour work day."

Telegraphic reports at union headquarters were said to indicate similar strike majorities in other packing-house centres throughout the United States.

The exact wording of the ballot on which the workers voted follows:

"Do you favor and authorize a strike in the event that the Government or our organization is unable to induce the packers to maintain the eight-hour work day and compliance with the agreement entered into with the United States department of labor?"

The agreement referred to was a war-time ruling which submitted all wage and hour disputes between the packers and their employes to a federal arbitrator.

The packers withdrew from the agreement on February 26 on the ground that the war was over. The unions claim that the war has not officially ended.

After withdrawing from the agreement the packers announced wage reductions of from 12½ to 15 per cent and changed the work day from eight hours to ten hours before overtime would be paid.

The present strike ballot, it was said by union leaders, is worded in such a way as to make it possible for the strike to be averted at the packers-labor conference called by Secretary of Labor Davis to meet in Washington on Monday. The union leaders take the position, however, that if the packers refuse either to restore the former wage scale and hours or to submit the whole disagreement to the federal arbitrator the officials of the unions will be forced to order a walkout.

BASCULE BRIDGE MAY BE COUNCIL'S CHOICE

Prairie Siding Plans Being Considered in Chatham Today.

CHATHAM, March 18.—The bridge committee of Kent county council will meet here Saturday to determine the type of bridge to be built over the Thames at Prairie Siding. The majority of the committee favor a bascule bridge, as this type is more easily operated by machine or hand power.

Herbert Butler, alleged to be one of a gang of six robbers who have committed no less than nine robberies in this city, was sent up for trial by Magistrate Arnold in the county court today. Three charges of burglary and one of resisting arrest are laid against him.

At a special meeting of the General Hospital board plans were discussed for an important addition to the General Hospital. J. W. Watt of Watt & Blackwell, London, was present, and submitted rough sketches. No decision was reached, but it is believed definite plans will be considered at the regular meeting of the board next week.

Two oil wells and one gas well were shot on the farm of George Jubinville in Dover Township late this afternoon, the results of which have not yet been learned. Three hundred quarts of nitroglycerin were used in the work.

A number of United States army greatcoats, belonging presumably to deserters from the United States army, were sent to the O. C. Garrison at Fort Wayne, Mich., today.

RECTOR'S FUNERAL BEING HELD TODAY

Services Will Be Conducted by the Bishop of Huron.

ST. THOMAS, March 18.—The remains of Rev. W. F. Brownlee will be held in St. John's Church Saturday some hours before the services, and the funeral exercises will be conducted later by Bishop Williams of London. The interment will be made at Alvinston Monday morning. Following the services at St. John's Church, the remains will be taken to Alvinston by the afternoon M. C. R. train. A brother and sister, Mrs. Mary Lovell and Robert Brownlee, reside in Alvinston.

Machine Guns Mounted.

The German machine guns, a gift of the militia department to the city, arrived this morning, and were mounted in the council chamber by Sergeant-at-Arms Rendle, if necessary, for active service. The guns are so placed as to cover the mayor and council while in session, and after the fulfilling the object of their stay there, they will be removed to the rooms of the board of education. The weapons are fully equipped, and the belts ready for cartridges.

Death of Arthur Dickson.

Arthur B. Dickson, a life-long resident of St. Thomas, passed away last evening at the Amasa Wood Hospital after a long illness in his 61st year. He had been employed with several contractors in the city. Mr. Dickson was an expert turner. His widow, two sons, and one daughter survive, Frederick and Talbot of the Michigan Central, and Gladys of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. George Dickson, 17 McIntyre street, is a brother. Interment will be in St. Thomas Cemetery Sunday afternoon.

Golf Championships Program At Winnipeg Is Approved

WINNIPEG, March 18.—The tentative program for the Canadian amateur golf championships to be played here August 22 to 27, submitted some time ago to the Royal Canadian Golf Association, has been approved by that body in its essential features.

The year's competition, therefore, as conducted by the Manitoba association, will present certain far-reaching innovations. The handicap limit to govern entries has been reduced to 12. It previously was 14.

The qualifying round has been done away with, and match play will be the order from the start.

Present indications are that the tournament will attract a large representative gathering of Canada's best players.

LARGEST RECORD DEAL ON MONTREAL MARKET

MONTREAL, March 18.—The transaction in the Canadian Car issues that featured today's trading on the local stock exchange, whereby one brokerage house bought and sold 15,112 shares of the common at 32, and 10,025 shares of the preferred at 69, constitutes in aggregate the largest transaction ever recorded on the local exchange. The block of common represented over 30 per cent of the total number of shares outstanding, while the transfer of preferred represented some 14 per cent of the senior securities. No information was forthcoming from the firm which executed the order. The most likely conjecture that was put forward in explanation of the deal was to the effect that the transaction was probably necessitated by some change in the United States group interest in Canadian Car.

SECOND CHESS GAME TIE.

HAVANA, March 18.—The second game in the world's championship chess match between Dr. Emanuel Lasker, the German master, and Jose Capablanca, the Cuban expert, resulted in a draw tonight after the 40th move.

The first game, played Tuesday and Wednesday nights, likewise resulted in no decision.

The third game will be played Saturday night.

BANDITS TOOK $6,000 FROM DETROIT WOMEN

DETROIT, March 18.—Three armed bandits this afternoon held up two women employees of the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employes and Railway Shop Laborers and escaped with $6,000 in cash. The hold-up occurred in front of the brotherhood headquarters here.

Miss Deal Newman, paymaster of the brotherhood offices, en route from a downtown bank with the money, was struck in the face by one of the bandits, who seized the satchel she carried and escaped with his companions in an automobile.

LIST OF FAILURES SHOWS A DECREASE

TORONTO, March 18.—The weekly list as issued by R. G. Dun & Co., shows a decrease in the total number of failures throughout Canada, in comparison with last week's. The total for the week ending today is 34, as compared with 38 last week, and 45 in the week ending February 25.

Quebec Province with 17 has the largest number of failures this week. Ontario had 6; Saskatchewan, 6; Manitoba, 4, while Alberta, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island have a good record for the week, no failures being reported. A year ago the total for the Dominion was 16.

WILL AID EMPLOYER.

BRANTFORD, March 18.—Relief work in the city will cease within a week, it was stated today by the chairman of the board of works. This is due to the fact that all of the work in the city which can be carried under existing weather conditions has been exhausted in giving unemployed relief work during the past ten weeks. Pavement work will be undertaken to give the unemployed work for three days a week as soon as spring is sufficiently advanced.

THE MOTIVE AND THE CALL TO WORSHIP.

The Divinely-implanted conception of worship runs through the harp of Scripture like a strand of gold. The sons of Adam appear early upon the scene with offerings to the Almighty. Abraham, father of a great race, from stage to stage in his career erects altars in recognition of the Sovereign Who leads him forward even to a tragic testing-hour, when he said: "I and the lad will go yonder and worship." The mount of sacrifice vindicated the sincerity of his heart as true worship always does. The covenants pledged to him were confirmed to Isaac, who builded altars and called upon the name of the Lord. Jacob in the wilderness, with stones for a pillow, found a Bethel where the wireless messages of faith brought heaven and earth in direct communication. Worshipful songs signalized deliverance from Egyptian slavery. Again and again the wayward people were reminded of their obligations to the Divine Being, and the reverence due in His Presence. Finally, in the holy Decalogue the worship of any other gods was forbidden; and then directions were given for the erection of the Tabernacle as a visible habitation of the Divine, and a forecast of The Redeemer. Upon the plate of a gold crown was engraved its symbolism: "Holiness to the Lord." In the Psalms the duty and privilege of worship reach their most jubilant and frequent utterance. For it the heart of the singer longed, yea, even fainted. It was meat and drink to his spiritual life, and a day in its courts better than a thousand elsewhere. The book closes with a perfect paean of praise. Finally, worship was gloriously embodied in the Temple, the great religious trysting-place of the people.

The Divine Redeemer, Himself, during his sojourn upon earth, taught the obligation of prayerful worship, and, "as his custom was," took advantage of the appointed meeting-place, an example to be faithfully observed. As the Christian church grew, in the Acts of the Apostles, and in the Epistles, the observance is confirmed and developed. In short, as William E. Scofield observes in the "Biblical Review," the whole Bible is saturated with the thought and spirit of public worship due the Divine Being because of His righteousness, goodness, truth, mercy, power and justice. The leaders to whom were revealed the mind of God were men of faith expressed in adoration and prayer. They communed with Him, and became His interpreters to the people. The early Christians constituted a worshiping church, and in the triumphant vision of The Revelation the prisoner of Patmos, in the Spirit on The Lord's Day, hears the grand finale of adoration for Salvation like the voice of many waters and mighty thunderings.

The underlying motive in worship is that of an obedient and gladsome service of praise. It involves prayer, learning the Divine will, recognition of Divine supremacy and gratitude for mercies. To the trustful believer the Scriptural injunction suffices. The omniscience that inspired those records knew man better than he understands himself. He is human, intensely susceptible to disturbing and evil influences. So the provision for worship was therefore not fortuitous, but of beneficent design. History and individual experience disclose the necessity. It nurtures faith and keeps the soul in touch with things true, lovely, and of good report. Without it, the life grows lopsided and incomplete. To character it imparts an element of greatness. Under stress of persecution, the Scottish Covenanters, driven from their church homes to dens and caves, developed an abiding Christian heroism honored through the ages. It attests attitude and relationship of soul toward God, and is the antidote for apathy, indifference and positive disregard. It is vital to the churches' true life which it expresses, just as language expresses thought. By worship the church sustains her own life and witnesses to others the triumphs of the Gospel. A great deal is being said for fellowship and brotherhood, and these have their strong root in fellowship with God which worship promotes. To that end she wisely observes special seasons of reviving and devotion like Lent, when spiritual vision dimmed with the world's incessant unrest becomes clarified. From the fever of the week's manual toil, business and distractions, the day and place of worship are the means of true respite and refreshment. Whether simple or elaborate, the exercises are to be observed as the Saviour said, in spirit and in truth, and preserved from the bane of any shallow flippancy or frivolous irreverence indicative of lack of thought or knowledge, and a disrespect of sacred things perilously near the border line of paganism. The joyousness of sincere worship arises from a gracious consciousness of having by its expression of trust in Jesus Christ realized an inward and assuring witness of Divine favor, which in turn will manifest itself in those familiar and peaceable fruits of righteousness which the Apostle catalogues in his letter to the Galatian Church.

THE LOAN AND TRUST CORPORATIONS BILL.

The Loan and Trusts Corporations Bill has been introduced into the Legislature by the Attorney-General. It contains considerations affecting the future of more importance than those affecting the immediate present.

Some have thought for a long time that all loan companies should have the powers of trust companies. The bill gives trust companies all the powers of trust companies, enlarged and improved, and gives them all the powers of loan companies as well.

One of the difficulties under which loan companies staggered in the past was their meagre powers. These have been very materially enlarged and improved. Under the bill a loan company can take double the amount of its paid-up capital and reserve on deposit. This is wise and safe. It can have four times its paid-up capital and reserve in deposits and debentures, which is also wise and safe.

But, after all, is there not a view point of the present bill that foreshadows the passing of the loan company and the coming of the trust company, the absorption or merger of the loan company in the trust company? The act gives the trust company the powers now possessed by both, only a little defined and restricted.

In the United States this is an accomplished fact, and many of the trust companies are very large, with assets in the hundreds of millions. Constituted as our loan companies are, they must remain comparatively small, but with the increased powers of operation and of making profits, the loan company of the past would soon be distanced by the trust company of the near future. Arrangements could be provided, if necessary, for amalgamation. Our early idea of giving loan companies the powers of trust companies is effected by giving trust companies the powers of loan companies. The end desired is attained much as the fusion of law and equity was attained years ago. The common law was to absorb equity, but equity, being the larger, absorbed the common law. Here the trust company, with the larger powers, may take in the loan company, with restricted powers.

What are the powers conferred on each by the bill?

A loan company may take deposits to double the amount of its capital and reserve and adding debentures, four times. A loan company may take deposits and issue debentures.

A trust company may take deposits and ear-mark the securities. Guaranteed investment receipts are the equivalent of debentures, and the power to take these with earmarked securities is unlimited.

Is there any real difference that is not a matter of bookkeeping? It is not necessary to consider the returns asked for. These do not materially affect the bill, nor does inspection, which cannot do any harm if exercised with common sense.

The bill is very important and very interesting. It will have a far-reaching effect. The powers of trust companies and their great success in the United States would seem to indicate that the day is not far distant when the loan company will disappear as such, and continue its good work as part of the trust company, which, with its increased powers, will have greater earning power and usefulness than a loan company simply.

Of course, changes in the bill to bring this about would be necessary. It would mean material changes, but the bill introduced puts in good form all that is necessary, so long as they are not one.

THE BIGGEST PROBLEM.

The statement of the Minister of Railways on Thursday regarding the financial condition of the Canadian National system was highly disappointing. The conditions call for radical remedies. The showing of the Canadian Nationals, as revealed in the statement, is a wretched one, when compared with that of the Canadian Pacific, as shown in the most recent announcement of the concern. The minister's attitude in presenting his statement was one of helplessness. He admitted a serious situation, but presented no serious suggestion as to its solution. Indeed, he simply threw the onus upon Parliament of finding a solution. He did the same thing last year. It is probable that Parliament will take up the challenge, and that the minister will receive some suggestions not altogether to his liking.

SEES MEDICAL TRUST.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

I note by the daily papers that the Ontario medical profession is on the warpath again, and as antagonistic as ever towards the drugless practitioners of this province. Have we a medical trust "premising the situation"? Briefly defined, a trust is an industrial combination, not within itself a legal or natural monopoly, but has thrown off the restraints of competition by absorbing, overawing, or crushing its legitimate competition.

To anyone interested in visualizing and finding a definite head to the medical trust, I would suggest that the place for the vigilant eye is the Ontario Medical Council and the provincial board of health. One phase of this medical trust needs explaining. The ultimate purpose of a trust formation is to exploit, and as a rule prompt results are expected. As the medical trust has always appeared before the public as a self-sacrificing beneficence, with no other purpose than to save the dear people from sacrificing themselves to their own ignorance, this same deluded public has been inclined to pooh pooh the idea of there being such a thing as a medical trust. During its infancy, childhood and adolescence, which is well matured by this time, the medical trust has apparently scorned the idea of personal gains. But it has striven incessantly for power and prestige, and when possible, to cinch every material advantage with a state law or a municipal ordinance. Their plan of organization fully worked out, and statutory laws secured to enforce it on the people, they could drop the mask and exploit at their pleasure.

This influence could well afford to play a waiting game, while a confiding public was generously donating coin money to carry on the scheme of deception. I want to call special attention to the fact that this medical trust is strictly a factional or party affair. The old school, allopaths, or regulars, as they are variously denominated, have a monopoly of the scheme. The drugless physicians have no hand in the enterprise. The same dominant school is responsible for the medical trust, which is striving to establish itself in the position of privy council to the Government. The secret of its temporary success is in its make-up. It is a skillful blending of Canadian gall and German junkerism which, in reaching conclusions, never reasons with facts and real conditions if they are in the way. They first bewildered and intimidated the common intelligence of the country with a silly fable about germs; then brushed aside and pooh poohed into a corner the intelligent and conservative minority in their own ranks. Then they hoodwinked and kidnapped the law. Their whole superstructure is built on force and fraud. It is really true that the successful operation of this trust requires that all the practical knowledge of treating diseases, and ultimately the diagnosis and prophylactic measures, which study and observation and bedside practice have developed and formulated, mostly since the period of Renaissance, are to be abandoned and regulated to the scrap heap. And it proposes to introduce in the place of the vital parts emasculated the germ theory, which briefly stated means that every disease has as its primary cause a specific germ, and the only remedy is a germicide that has the specific property of antidoting that specific germ; in other words, disease taints taken from animals. In defining what is the working program of the medical trust I haven't overdrawn the picture nor jumped at conclusions. That method in treating disease should be abandoned, also vaccines, serums and toxins, as they are most dangerous to health. There is no avenue inviting investigation in this country that will yield as many surprises as the investigation of this junta of doctors that is striving to have itself made the legal conservator of the health, safety and lives of the dear people. The medical trust is the one lone monument in this country standing intact, of the forlorn hope sent out by Germany several years ago to bring the social affairs of the civilized world under the control and dominancy of German kultur. I want to offer one illustration as to how the matter can work out.

It was charged that during the recent European war there were 70,000 English soldiers who were in the prime of physical condition, when accepted for service, that were later sent home unfit for duty on account of tuberculosis, which was alleged to have resulted from the routine of experimental injections with prophylactic serums. The English Government was so impressed that it felt compelled to take action, and Parliament, without delay, abolished compulsory vaccination and serum immunizing injections. The true healing art is not in the administration of poisons. To attempt to cure diseases by adding to the causes of disease is irrational and absurd. There has been a great increase of medical men, but upon my life, diseases have increased in proportion.

Thanking you in anticipation, that you will give this letter publicity. Yours sincerely, DR. R. C. BEST.

THE PURITY OF WATER.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

In The Advertiser of today is an item regarding the water served in the city coming from the tap having a milky appearance.

For general information I wish to say that this phenomenon is quite common here, and we have been using the lake water practically unfiltered, but, as E. V. Buchanan has said, this condition of the city water is perfectly harmless. Your citizens may be proud to have spring water, as no harmful typhoid bacilli can live in spring water. The small quantity of iron (three parts per million), few waters have so little, but I am doubtful if filtration will purify it.

Our lake water, by provincial analysis, has 45 parts per million.

I quote regarding iron from water supply paper 398, United States Department of the Interior, 1916, page 70:

"Iron is the most undesirable dissolved constituent, and its presence in comparatively small quantities necessitates purification. Many ground waters contain one to twenty parts per million of iron which may be precipitated by exposure to the air, and by release of hydrostatic pressure causing the waters to become turbid, and many of such waters develop rusty-looking gelatinous growths that may interfere in industrial operations.

"In all cleansing processes, especially if soap or alkali is used, precipitated iron is likely to cause rusty or dull spots. In contact with materials containing tannin, compounds of iron forms greenish or black substances that discolor the product. Therefore many waters containing amounts even as small as one or two parts per million of iron have to be purified before they can be used industrially.

"In water for dye works iron is especially objectionable and commonly prevents the use of the water without purification. Iron in the water supply of paper mills may be precipitated on the pulp, giving a brown color, or during sizing or tinting, giving spotty effects. Water containing much iron can not be used in bleaching fabrics because salts that spot the goods are formed. The dark colored compounds that iron forms with tannin, discolor hides in tanning, and barley in malting, and give beer a bad color, odor and taste."

OTHERS' VIEWS

PRESENT-DAY POLITICIANS.

[The Saturday Review.]

The present-day politician seeks money and power, and with a few exceptions his own advance. The love of money is assuredly the root of all evil, and never has it been more in evidence. With money, man can buy women, food and property, and few desire more, unfortunately. These satisfy at once man's vanity and his appetites, and despite the platitudes of idealism employed to dope the docile voter, hypocrisy leers through the veneer of respectability. So, from the prime minister to the least important secretary's secretary, they are all of them suspected by somebody. Honors in name and place have been bestowed so unaccountably with so much extravagance that one merely sneers and shrugs the shoulders at each fresh batch of favors. Corruption is too rife to need a cloak, it seems.

"Like master, like man," is the old saying, and we find the truth in British politics today. The old credentials and qualifications are neither sought nor asked for. How then can we hope for purity in politics? Are politicians to be gauged by another code than that by which all men are judged? "Gold and meal are measured otherwise—I learnt so much at school." But surely a man even in Parliament remains the man he was outside of St. Stephen's. Yet there is this difference—that outside the houses of Parliament he must be tolerated, even if he is despised, however unscrupulous he may be; while within, his presence is a reproach both to those who sent him there, and to the nation. We are saying openly what is in the minds of most. The use of dirty tools and the manipulation of a debased and prostituted press are bringing discredit, not only on our legislative assembly, but on the very form of government which we were once so justly proud.

THE DEBT OF CIVILIZATION.

[Westminster Gazette.]

At the bottom of all this talk about cancellation of debts there is in France the sentiment that the debt is not France's debt at all. The war was the war of the Allies. France gave what she could and the Allies gave what they could. You cannot limit your liabilities or ask one nation to bear more than a fair share of the expenses. Included in France's expenses are the ruined regions. The moment America came into the war she was responsible not to this extent or to that. She had made it her war. If she "lent" money it was to be spent on her behalf. France's argument is that there should be a proper apportionment of the costs, and that the sacrifices should be equal—that is, equal in relation to the means of the various belligerents.

NOBODY COULD PAY IT.

[Montreal Herald.]

Margaret Fedde, head of the home economics department, University of Nebraska, has attempted a compilation of the wages due the average farmer's wife.

She presents an itemized account for the value of her labor in field and kitchen and dairy and henyard, filling the inordinate maw of the hired man, nursing the sick, mending clothes and minding children, serving meals and driving mules, doing the work of a house drudge not to be had otherwise for love nor money, until at the end of the reckoning, the figure $4,004, at which Miss Fedde arrives, seems a modest estimate.

Moreover, on the day miscalled her day of "rest," the farmer's wife is supposed to provide a congregation for the preacher, who is to be helped during the week at various assemblages, for which cooking and serving and animated conversation are to be provided.

It is clear that the outgive of the farmer's wife vastly exceeds the intake, if the material returns alone are to be considered.

It is lucky that she neglects to send in her bill. Nobody could pay it.

CANADIAN NATIONHOOD.

[Winnipeg Tribune.]

Where does all this discussion about Canadian nationhood come from? From whom does it originate? What is the purpose of it?

Deeds, not words, build a nation; achievements in the field of civil consolidation, not the scriveners or the pompous niceties of court etiquette. True dignity and honor wait on deeds. The deeds that make the nation great do not depend upon its dignity or status.

This is the real meaning of Lord Milner's words: "It seems to me that our time would be better spent if, instead of going on affirming and reaffirming the independence of the dominions, which nobody disputes, we should concentrate our attention on the practical point." It is those who are continually raising this question of independence who are themselves in effect disputing it. And, furthermore, by all the time barking about a wholly imaginary livery of subservience, they raise this other question in broader minded men whether they in themselves are fit for anything else.

THE OPEN WINTER.

[Montreal Herald.]

A scientist has explained to Toronto that the reason why the winter has been milder than usual is that "The trade winds being stronger this season, they have carried larger masses of warm water into northern regions and a warmer winter in Canada has resulted." If he will now tell us what caused the trade winds to blow stronger the whole secret will be out.

What's In a Book?

By Kathleen K. Bowker.

Michael Winter was the only child of Isaiah Winter; the puritanically semi-worldly founder of the Amalgamated Workers Mutual Benefit and Trust Company.

His father owned a pearl of a steam yacht, with all the accessories such as hunters and grouse moors—that go into the outward and visible sign of the successful financier. Michael was brought up in the lap of luxury, and the arms of ease, but managed to be a distinguished "three-quarters" at Oxford, at "Rugger."

Then the bubble burst—Isaiah, trying to escape on the "Carmencita," was overhauled by the long arm of the law, and took the easiest way out of his troubles—along Suicide street.

Michael Winter, when the mopping-up was over, sailed for Canada on the Montcalm as Michael Thorley—with hardly the proverbial penny in his pocket, and without a friend to bid him godspeed.

But fate dropped a fairy on the wharf. A 17-year-old, brown-eyed, fluffy-haired fairy, who ran alongside the boat, and said:

"Are you going to Canada all by yourself? And no one to say 'good-bye to you? Oh, I do call that a shame! I'm going to say good-bye to you, anyway, and I hope you'll have a jolly time, and not get scalped by Indians."

And with that he went sailing out into the West.

At Montreal he threw some names into a hat, stirred them up, pulled one out at random, and it happened to be Wolf Willows.

So he set out for that burg.

But a red-headed son-of-a-gun, Steve Whitby by name, took a shine to him en route, and, persuading him to drop off at Macgillivray (just then his home town), took him on as hired man at forty per (this being 1908).

Michael's adventures in the West are pithy, humorous and well told, not by someone who has never been within hailing distance of the far-flung, fenceless prairie, either. It is Canada—written of in a manner as interesting, as cultivated, and with as little patronage—equally as little of the chip-on-the-shoulder manner—as though the writers were describing life in Paris—as they do later. It is done in a manner that—as yet—has not been achieved by a Canadian author.

After a series of struggles the greenhorn goes into a bank to make a grubstake for his more experienced "pardner," who is working on their mine.

When the story picks him up (having left him rustling hay in a livery stable out West), Michael is working in a small branch, where the only big business is the cashing of pay checks for the great gang of railroad men, whose summer work is now coming to an end. They are to be paid off (many of them for the full time) with the two hundred and ten thousand dollars awaiting them in Michael's care—directly after "the Canadian national holiday." It is, I presume, a slip of the pen that has placed this "in the autumn" and shaken a flurry of snow over it. Well, the season of the year doesn't really matter to this part of the story, where otherwise the plot thickens without so much as a lump having to be strained out.

Meantime Michael has had a letter from his "pardner," to tell him that their mine has petered out—and he is called upon to face a decision for the future. Shall he stick to the humdrum life of a bank clerk? The heart-breaking grind of a prospector? Or—

He takes a walk to think out this bitter question.

A runaway passed him in the dark—a plucky, lucky stopping of the horses, and the saving of the life of a little girl whose father is a millionaire, gives a new twist to the situation On Michael refusing money, the millionaire (who is going away for months next day) gives Michael a wonderful stake tip.

Michael takes this, and—pro tem.—the pay money. He makes a clean-up over the holiday of five hundred thousand dollars, and returning with the borrowed cash to replace it in lots of time before the bank opens, gets into an accident—and presently into jail for two years.

Leaving him there, the story picks up Nancy Villiers.

Yes, you've guessed it first shot, Nancy was the friendly wharf fairy. And though Michael had forgotten all about her years ago (ungrateful man-thing!) she had held him in the dim, dark corners of her heart, ever since he sailed away on the Montcalm.

Nancy lived with her widowed-and-next-to-penniless mother, in a picturesque village in Wales.

And though we are brought up to believe that the dead can take nothing with them out of this world, Mrs. Villiers' tiny pension goes with her into her coffin when she died. And Nancy is left practically at the end of her resources.

So she goes to her uncle and his South American wife (neither of whom she has ever seen, and who have been estranged from her parents for years) —in Paris.

And then—— But that part of the story is too good to spoil. I can only recommend you to read it. For it's a first-class week-end book, and one that would be worth reading over. And though it begins in 1908, it blessedly leaves off before the war. A really original tale is "The Black Knight," by Mrs. Alfred Sidgwick and Crosbie Garstin (Goodchild Company, Toronto), fresh in plot and treatment, and excellently written.

WIRELESS FOR MOTOR-CARS.

[Literary Digest.]

When Wilbur R. Cramer and Fred W. Swain of Omaha, Neb., take their evening ride in their automobile now, they can listen to friends in San Francisco or New York by wireless telephone. Says a writer in the Bee (Omaha):

"This pair of amateur radio inventors has completed an apparatus, on which they have been experimenting for several years, which can be attached to their automobile and operated while traveling. Tests of the telephone and telegraph instruments which they have attached to their automobile have proved successful, and Cramer and Swain now plan to place their invention on the market. Their experiments with amateur wireless telegraphy began four years ago while they were attending the Omaha High School of Commerce. Following completion of their courses there both young men have continued their intensive study and have several inventions already in operation. During the war all United States navy wireless sets were equipped with a standard recording dial which was first perfected by young Cramer. One of these dials was used by the crew of the NC-4, which was the first aircraft to complete a non-stop trip over the Atlantic Ocean. While experimenting with their wireless telephone apparatus for automobiles, the young men have been testing out another invention, already in use in other cities, which controls the operation of any standard-made automobile by wireless. Another channel for their wireless efforts will be the conveying of orchestra music from one Omaha motion-picture theatre to another and the transmitting of a speech by a nationally-known suffrage worker while in Chicago to one of these theatres in Omaha."

ON THE HORIZON.

[New York Herald.]

We come to port an unknown craft,
From unknown shores we sailed;
The highest and the best of us
Is first by mortals hailed.

Then we are held in less esteem
As we are better known,
Our telling virtues are not seen
Or recognized when shown.

But when again we set to sea
For lands beyond our ken,
Our highest point, the best of us,
Is last beheld by men.

SHOWING HIM UP.

Samuel Untermyer, the famous New York lawyer, was talking about a corrupt politician.

"We showed him up," Mr. Untermyer chuckled, "almost as neatly as Lotta Golde showed up the profligate old earl.

"'How did it come about?' a friend of the family asked, 'that Gobsa Golde's daughter refused Lord Lacland?'

"'Well, you see,' another friend of the family answered, 'Lotta Golde is slightly deaf, and when the earl proposed to her she thought he was soliciting for the Red Crosss drive, and so she told him she was very sorry, but she had promised her money in another direction.'"

LANGFORD—DENNING.

A very happy event took place on Monday evening, March 14th, at the home of the bride, the 6th Concession of Metcalfe. It was the occasion of the marriage of Miss Alice Maude Denning to Mr. George Elmer Langford of Metcalfe, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. C. J. Moorehouse, in the presence of immediate relatives only.

NOYES—KERR.

A quiet wedding was solemnized on Saturday, March 12, at "Fairholme Farm," the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Kerr, Dorchester Township, when their eldest daughter, Bertha Adeleine, became the bride of Mr. Alfred E. Noyes of Denfield, the Rev. Mr. Rutherford of Avon officiating. The bride was attended by Miss Mabelle Noyes, while Mr. Arthur Kerr acted as best man. Miss Inez Kerr of London played the Wedding March and suitable music during the signing of the register. After the ceremony the wedding guests all retired to the dining-room, where a dainty wedding breakfast was served. The young couple left, amidst showers of confetti, for a trip to Galt and other eastern cities.

FOR LOVE OF BETTY

[BY MAY CHRISTIE.]

(Copyright, 1920, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

XLI.—ON THE TRACK.

Betty held her breath when she heard that mocking laugh from the other room.

And the tones which followed it were familiar.

Someone, surely unaware that Betty was an unseen and unwilling eavesdropper, was speaking. . . .

"Jack, old boy, I got your letter yesterday. It amused me, rather." The owner of the mocking laugh which had so startled Betty had the cool, flippant intonation peculiar to April Moore. "Sit down and make yourself at home —no—don't try to kiss me—you don't deserve it!"

Betty, hidden behind the intervening screen, had risen to her feet, trembling in every limb.

It wasn't surely possible that Jack Trevor was in the adjoining room! Oh, was he going to speak? Was he going to make love to April? Was this the reason she had been summoned here to witness her lover's perfidy and her own humiliation?

It was intolerable, the whole situation!

Her first impulse was to turn and fly —anywhere, anyhow, out of the apartment and out of New York—to put miles between herself and the couple in the other room.

But she stood helpless, rooted to the spot.

"April, dearest." A man's voice whispering lover-wise drifted over the screen to Betty. "April, let's forget everything and everybody, but each other. . . .

Was it Trevor who was speaking? Surely it was his voice? It came so faintly.

"Jack, you're sentimental." April's light laugh rang out. "No, I told you not to kiss me. Besides—aren't you engaged to that little Gordon girl, out in the country?"

"I've told you already I was only fooling." The whispered words reached Betty's ears.

"Fooling? Wasn't that rather—cruel —to her?" April sounded serious for the moment. Silence. April spoke again:

"And so you never cared at all for her? Well, I'm surprised. She isn't a bad looking little thing, though she strikes me as a bit insipid. But you men generally fall for the meek, baby-faced type—"

A murmured protest from the man stopped April's comments.

Betty, hidden in the other room, wondered if she would ever have the strength to escape, if her trembling knees would carry her across the intervening space between the fireplace and the door. . . .

For one wild moment the impulse seized her to tear up Trevor's photographs, smiling so treacherously down on her and her humiliation, to force herself into the next room and denounce him there and then.

Another and an even stronger, more compelling impulse was to drag Trevor out of April's toils, to claim him before the other girl as her very own, to refuse to give him up, to fight for him as a cave-woman in prehistoric times would assuredly have done.

But the primitive impulse died.

With a supreme effort of will she forced herself to walk quietly across the room and towards the door. She would slip out silently . . there was nothing now to wait for . . she had had sufficient "proof."

It was characteristic of the girl that even at such a moment she had a shamed feeling of playing the unwilling role of spy.

Her footsteps on the polished floor made a light, tapping sound. The sudden hush of voices in the next room testified to the fact that her movements and presence had been overheard.

The screen which divided the two rooms was not sufficiently wide to extend from wall to wall. And as Betty neared the door a portion of the adjoining apartment came clearly into view unhidden by the screen.

The tableau which rose to her unhappy eyes was precisely what she had expected. . . .

April Moore, alluringly pretty in a black velvet frock, was seated on an old-fashioned settee, its back turned to the door. But Miss April's dainty profile was silhouetted sharply against the light, so that there could be no mistaking her. . . .

The man beside her and holding her hand with such an air of exaggerated devotion was more in shadow, and it was only the back of his head and the set of his shoulders that Betty could see. . . Ah! but she would know that fine, well-shaped head anywhere, those broad shoulders. . . .

It was Trevor!

Without waiting another moment Betty rushed blindly from the room into the little hall.

There was a sound of approaching footsteps, and Betty literally ran from the place and down the winding stairs to the street below. To meet either Trevor or April—ah! it was impossible She must get far away from this hateful apartment. . . .

Why, why had she ever come at all? She had earned her punishment. And yet—those anonymous letters had been compelling.

"Would anyone blame me if they knew?" she piteously asked herself, a wave of misery sweeping over her.

So this—this was the end of everything! It had all been a dream, an enchanted little springtime dream, her love affair with Trevor. Now it had turned into a cruel nightmare. . . .

"I never thought any man in the world could—could play such — a treacherous part!" Betty kept whispering the words, as though there was relief in them.

Tomorrow—At the Railway Station.

THE ORIGIN AND CHARACTER OF BADMINTON

The staging of a lively Badminton contest between London and Toronto teams in the armories this afternoon attracts the interest of the public to the game itself, which, although much older than tennis, is not so frequently played. The present Badminton club was organized in the city over a year ago, the game being introduced by General Panet. This was but a revival, however, of the Badminton games played in the city previous to the war. The local club plays every Wednesday and Saturday afternoon on six splendid courts marked off in the armories.

The game of Badminton is a splendid combination of the old-fashioned game of Battledore and Shuttlecock and the modern game of lawn tennis. It is like tennis, in that it is played on a court somewhat similarly marked, and the player makes use of a racket, very similar to a regulation tennis racket. It is like the older game, however, in that instead of a ball, a shuttlecock, winged with sixteen feathers of from 2½ to 2¾ inches long, is used. The game is very fast, because the shuttlecock must be volleyed back and forth without allowing time for a bounce such as may be allowed the ball in the playing of tennis. The game is reckoned in aces, and two games out of three is a rubber.

Its Origin.

Badminton was originally played in India, and from the Simla Gymkana, where it started, it soon spread to all the large stations there and became a favorite social pastime. In the early days it was hardly a game, but a pastime in which all were expected to join—a sort of glorified "Battledore and Shuttlecock." (Battledore and Shuttlecock is 500 years old, becoming fashionable in the seventeenth century.) After twenty-five years of playing, however, people began to see that in Badminton lay the foundation for a new game.

It was introduced into England nearly fifty years ago, and was first played out of doors only. However, the rain and wind of a northern climate soon suggested a covered court and with the introduction of Badminton clubs, the game grew in skill and science. Although the game takes its name from the Duke of Beaufort's seat in Gloucestershire, it is said that the first Badminton clubs were started in Devonshire, the game being introduced there by General Sir Alfred Lucas. From that time on, wherever Englishmen, who had spent some time in India, settled, clubs rapidly sprang into being and matches between them became fashionable.

Badminton Association.

The Badminton Association was founded in the '90's, and tournaments began to be held in which teams from Ireland and Scotland as well as England took part.

Wherever the British military man goes, Badminton clubs are apt to spring into existence, hence its arrival in Canada. It is essentially a game of quickness, rapid movement, keen perception, quick eye, supple wrist, prompt decision, and even a single game is exausting to a strong player. Although it is not so popular as its sister game of tennis, it must be remembered that tennis had its origin in Badminton, and has this advantage that it can be played throughout the year, taking place as it does in a covered court.

Personal Health Service

(By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D., Noted Physician and Author.)

A Letter From a Grocer.

A correspondent—a grocer, 'tis said —seems much impressed by almanacs he's read. "I like Dr. Brady and his talks," says he, "but he's cracked on catching cold, you can take it from me! There may be germs that will cause disease, but I'll swear it's drafts that make me sneeze. By our health department we're repeatedly told to be careful about exposure so we won't catch cold. If germs are the devils that really lay us low, why should authorities stress exposure so? No, you can't tell me there's no such thing as catching cold. I've had some experience and I'm much too old."

This grocer says one thing that is eminently true—you can take it from him. Yes, you can—and you do! As he carves off your cheese or wraps your packaged air he is talking and laughing and you're peppered right there, for all unbeknownst he is giving off a spray of salivary droplets which will readily convey germs that bring bronchitis, coryza, and worse—yes, sometimes they bring the ambulance and other times the hearse. As long as this grocer has almanac ideas in his head, the health authorities all might just as well be dead.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

On the Trail of the Symptoms.

I notice your write-ups about various diseases in the paper. Will you kindly favor me with the symptoms of gallstones? (M. L.)

ANSWER—The gallstones will favor you with the symptoms if you ever should have them. I carefully dodge the symptoms in my "write-ups," if you have ever noticed, as I have no desire to cause any one useless worry. Strive always to obey the Hippokratic injunction: "Do good if you can, but do no harm."

Mouth Breathing.

Please tell me through your column whether breathing through the mouth is a serious danger to one's health. (G. B.)

ANSWER—The nose is provided to breathe through and should be used for that purpose at all times except under extraordinary need, as in running or otherwise exerting the muscles, when the mouth may be used to supplement nose breathing. Ordinarily it is harmful to health to breathe through the mouth. You see, the air passing through the nose is moistened or dried to just the proper humidity, warmed or cooled to the proper temperature, and freed of dust, before it enters the lungs. In mouth breathing these important conditions are wanting and the bronchial tubes or lungs are likely to suffer.

Grandma's Hotfoot.

My grandma complains every night with burning hot feet, and it keeps her awake. In the coldest nights in winter she says it relieves her some to put her feet out from under the bedclothes. Her feet are normal in the daytime and her health is otherwise pretty good. (C. H. S.)

ANSWER—Smearing the feet copiously with vaseline and covering with some cotton and a bandage gives comfort in such cases.

Hog Feed and Hog Meat.

In some states there are laws prohibiting the feeding of garbage to hogs unless the garbage has been sterilized. What is the danger if tuberculosis if one eats hog meat from hogs fed with unsterilized garbage? (C. H. R.)

ANSWER—Precious few farmers sterilize the garbage fed to the hogs. If adequate meat inspection is carried out, there should be no danger of tuberculosis. There is much greater chance of getting meat from cattle having tuberculosis when meat is purchased indiscriminately. There is little ground for the supposition that we suffer tuberculosis infection through meat. In any case, proper cooking obviates the possibility.

Foods Which Contain Iodine.

I was interested in your suggestion that those with simple goitre should eat sea fish in the diet for the sake of the iodine. Could you quote the analysis of the fish referred to, and reference to where the analysis may be found? Does the iodine occur throughout the flesh of the fish? I had an idea it was localized in certain glands. (Mrs. E. V. McC.)

ANSWER—I quote a citation in the fifth edition of Friedenwald and Ruhrah's "Diet in Health and Disease," published by W. B. Saunders Company, Philadelphia:

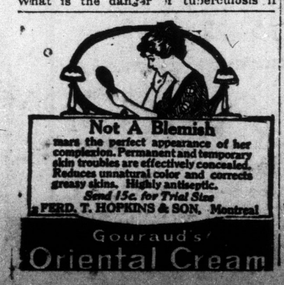

Gautier gives the following (after P. Bourcet), showing the iodine content of various foods. Iodine per Kilogram of fresh material: Green peas, 0.50; green beans, 0.32; tomatoes, 0.23 asparagus, 0.24; garlic, 0.21; bananas, 0.31; bread, 0.00; potatoes, 0.01; white cabbage, 0.21; grey shrimp, 5.91; crabs, 1.82 lobster, 1.78; smoked herring 1.57 fresh salmon, 1.40; oysters, 1.32 anchovies, 0.95; fresh cod, 1.32; trout, 0.08;

Besides the foods mentioned these contain some iodine:

Mushrooms, strawberries, carrots, sorrel, rice, grapes, lettuce, pears.

It should be noticed particularly that wheat flour contains practically no iodine, oatmeal and the various wheat breakfast foods contain very little. A certain amount of iodine in the food is essential for good health, apart from the prevention of simple goitre in children and young adults.

THE LITTLE LAME DOG.
Part Two.

The little old mother dog was all a-tremble, for that was the day the veterinary man was to come to look at her wee lame puppy's leg. Luckily her master had decided that he would see if the leg could be fixed. It would have been very sad indeed if he had had the puppy drowned without trying to make it well.

The poor little puppy lay in the basket with the rest of the puppies, happy and contented, for his eyes had just opened. He did not know that his little front paw was twisted and crooked. If he had known perhaps he wouldn't have minded, for he was a lively little puppy, and could push himself around on his three good legs every bit as well as the other puppies could push themselves around on four.

The veteriaary man came, armed with a black bag full of bottles and pills and things. He was a very wise-looking man, but the old mother dog knew he wasn't half as wise as he looked. She knew he was just pretending to be wise about things he didn't know much about at all.

"Ah, ha, ahem!" said the veterinary man, as he picked the puppy up and looked at its paw carefully. "Ah, ha, ahem!" Which was a very stupid thing for a man who looked so wise to say, don't you think? If he had been really wise he could have said something more than that. That's what the old mother dog thought, anyway, and her kind old heart was filled with fear.

"I am afraid that the puppy will always be lame," the veterinary man said, after he had hawed and hummed a number of times more.

"Then you will have to destroy him for us," the owner spoke up. "Did you bring something to put him out of the way with?"

The veterinary man opened his black bag and took out a tall, dark bottle. "This will put him to sleep," he said.

How the hair did bristle up on the old mother dog's back. She never felt so angry before. They were going to put her little puppy to sleep so he wouldn't ever wake up again, were they? Well, she would see! Just as the veterinary man started to put some stuff out of the bottle into some batting, she jumped up, snatched the puppy from him with her teeth, and then growled viciously.

"Take it away from her!" cried her master, greatly surprised, for the old mother dog had never been known to growl like that before.

Like a shot the old mother dog was off. Someone had left the door open, and off she went, the lame puppy secure in her mouth.

"Where has she gone?" cried her owner, as he ran to the door. There was not a sign of the mother dog.

"She'll come back, don't fear," the veterinary man laughed. "She will hide the puppy some place, but you will soon find it. She won't leave her other puppies."

"We'll wait and see," her master replied. "Wouldn't it be terrible if she didn't come back?" And the other puppies in the basket cried dismally to show that it would be.

Plain Harry.—Am mailing Pansy's address. Thank you for hospital mite.

Dear Miss Grey,—I have never written to your page, but enjoy reading the letters. Would you please send me the tam patterns, and also some flower seeds, if you have any, of sweet peas, asters, pansies, nasturtiums? If you have not these, send any nice kind you have.

You will find inclosed mite, and will try to have some help next time.

Have you a sachet bag you could send me? What do you think of my writing? VIOLET.

Ans.—There isn't a tam pattern in the Mail-Box, but I am mailing you directions for knitted tam, also seeds, and have put your name down for a sachet. Your writing is rather careless.

Anne and Anita.

Dear Miss Grey,—We are writing this letter while drinking a delicious cup of cocoa.

How enjoyable these recent discussions about books are! "Michael O'Halloran" by Gene Stratton-Porter is very interesting. E. Phillipps Oppenheim is a very good writer; and we have just finished reading "The Yellow House," "The Amazing Judgment," "To Win the Love He Sought" and "The New Tenant" which we thoroughly enjoyed. Byron and Moore are our favorite poets. Byron is so sarcastic—the latter so pathetic. Your loving helpers,

ANNE AND ANITA.

P.S.—Here are the words of "Margie" if anyone would like them.

Ans.—Thank you, helpers, for sending in the words of "Margie."

Lonely.

Dear Cynthia Grey,—I am a young girl, a stranger working in this town (Guelph), and so far have been unable to make any boy friends. There is one boy in particular whom I would like to meet, but there seems no way of accomplishing it. Please advise me, Cynthia, if it would be ladylike on my part to allow him to form an acquaintance with me without a formal introduction. LONELY.

Ans.—No, do not speak to the boy until you meet him. Why not join some church club; in this way you will meet people, and in time you may become properly introduced to this young man. In future kindly write on note paper, and one one side only.

Northern Star.

Dear Miss Grey,—Speaking of reading books, as Ura Kidd and several of the others are, I might say that I have just finished reading "The Last of the Mohicans," written by Cooper, and found it a real live story. I also saw the play from the book at a theatre, and advise anyone to go and see it if it comes anywhere near them, as it is a real interesting play. Nothing comical about it, but it shows how the Indians used to act.

I am inclosing a couple of songs, or rather, I means the words of them, "Let the Rest of the World Go By" and "I Know Where Flies Go."

I should like to get a couple of dialogues or comic recitations for a concert we are soon to have. Would you mind sending me Sweet Seventeen's address, as I would like to practice writing a few letters? If these songs are all right I will send others later on.

Inclosed you will find a small mite for S. C. H., and wouldn't some of the Boxites like to get hold of that poor lady's husband. I bet they would put some sense into his head, either by persuasion or force. Hoping you can make out these cat scratchings.

NORTHERN STAR.

Ans.—Thank you for inclosures. Am mailing you address and recitations.

Cookie Recipe.

Dear Miss Grey,—As this is my first visit to your Mail-Box I will not stay too long. I have been a constant reader of your page for some time. I find the letters very interestng.

Would you please send me the famous stocking-foot pattern, also Mona's sleeper pattern? Will inclose self-addressed envelope for same, and will return them when I have cut a pattern off them. Inclosed find mite for S. C. H., also cookie recipe. Wishing the Mail Box every success. BLUE EYES.

Cookie Recipe—½ cup shortening, 1 cup brown sugar, 1 egg, 4 tablespoons milk, 1 teaspoon soda, flour to roll out.

Ans.—Am mailing you the S.-F. P., but Mona's pattern is not in at present. Thanks for hospital mite and recipe.

MUTT AND JEFF—Here's the Squarest Gamble We Ever Heard Of. (Copyright, 1831, by C. H. Fisher. Trade Mark Registered in Canada.) BY BUD FISHER

C. H. A. PREXY HIRED DETECTIVE TO WATCH WESTERN PLAYERS

Saskatchewan H. A. Fails To Be Reinstated For Allan Cup Finals.

WINNIPEG, March 18.—(Canadian Press.)—After a strenuous battle, in which they claimed there had been considerable misunderstanding in connection with the suspension of the Saskatchewan Hockey Association, a strong deputation from that province failed to carry their claim to have the Regina Victorias included in the Allen Cup play-off this year. In a prolonged argument on the question at the opening session of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association here this morning this decision was arrived at.

The discussion brought out some startling statements from President Sterling, who said that he had had the services of a private detective to visit many cities where amateur hockey was played and to investigate the doings of the players and the management. A report from this man, who Mr. Sterling said was prepared to swear to the facts, had much to do with the action of the players at Saskatoon and Moose Jaw, it being claimed that certain players had not worked all winter, and that they were on a straight salary basis or had been given a certain amount for the season. He included Brandon in the list, and reported that though most of the boys were seemingly working at different times during the winter and had regular jobs and that the club was keeping within the amateur laws, that there was no doubt that the players were to get something at the end of the season.

Messrs. Hotten of Saskatoon and Shave of Moose Jaw took exception to the charges made against clubs in their cities, and challenged the remarks very vigorously.

President MacDonald of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada, who took a prominent part in the debate, said that he was convinced that there was considerable professionalism in hockey ranks all over Canada, and he hoped to start a Dominion-wide investigation, which would help to clean up the sport again.

Delegates were present from every province as far east as Quebec.

WOODSTOCK CITY BALL LEAGUE FORMED AGAIN

WOODSTOCK, March 18.—Tonight's baseball meeting the City League was reorganized for the year, with the following officers: President, A. J. Gahagan; vice-presidents, C. O. Tatham and Mr. Ede; secretary-treasurer, C. Hayball. There are prospects for a splendid season here this year. The meeting decided to enter only one team in the O. B. A. series, and to run the City League irrespective of the S. O. B. A.

Pros Would Be Among First To Knock at the Doors of a New Arena

No matter when an arena is built in London, it will be certain to usher in a bid for professional hockey. The N. H. A. are looking to expand, and London would be included in the expansion if an arena were located in the city. The N. H. A., it is believed, has two groups in mind, one in the east and one in the western end of Ontario and over the border. The eastern group would be probably made up of two teams in Montreal, one in Ottawa and the fourth in Boston, in the western end there would be clubs in Toronto, Hamilton, London and Cleveland. The latter place is ripe for professional hockey, and was included in Livingston's proposed league of the winter just closed, which didn't get much beyond the doors of a couple of Toronto's well-known hostelries or the paper it was figured on.

London could support the professional game with little hindrance to the development of the amateurs. In fact, it would be an inspiration to the amateur end if properly run.

Goldie Prodger, who has returned to the city after a great season with the Hamilton tailenders, opined yesterday that, despite their position in the race, the Hamilton club had done well financially. What Hamilton can do in sport, London can shoot at, to say the very least.

The demand for professional hockey on the part of London fans gives another angle to the question. Many want it and many would prefer that the city stick to the amateur game. That would be a question the fans themselves could answer once the arena is a reality.

Mike Gibbons Wants Crack At Wilson's Headpiece

ST. PAUL, Minn., March 18.—Mike Gibbons of St. Paul today repeated his challenge for a match with Johnny Wilson, middleweight champion, who defeated Mike O'Dowd of St. Paul in New York last night.

"I still decline to regard Wilson as a champion," Gibbons said. Gibbons has been in training here for several weeks.

TIGER SCOUT TO PILOT NEW PT. HURON TEAM

PORT HURON, March 18.—It has been pretty well decided that Scout Jim McGuire of the Detroit Tigers will manage the Port Huron team of the Mint League. McGuire has a wealth of experience, knows ball players and how to handle them, and the local club believes it has made a wise choice.

MUCH NEW EVIDENCE FOR SECORD TRIAL OF SOX PLAYERS

Prosecutor Tells Jury It Will Justify Reindictment of Suspected Ones.

CHICAGO, March 18.—A second investigation into the 1919 world's series, which Chicago White Sox players were charged with "throwing" to Cincinnati, were started today by State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe before the Cook County grand jury. Mr. Crowe told the jurors, in outlining his plans, that he would bring them new evidence, which would justify reindictment of men whose cases were dropped or taken off the court call yesterday, and also would incriminate men not indicted at the inquiry. He added that the "public may be more surprised at the result of this investigation than it was at the original indictments."

Mr. Crowe desired to call B. B. Johnson before the grand jury today, but could not reach the American League president.

Quennville On Tonight For Sudbury Wolf Cubs

Quennville, London's long, lanky defence man of last year's juniors, is with the Sudbury Wolf Club, which meets the Stratford Midgets tonight in an O. H. A. Memorial Cup game at the Toronto Arena.

The Star says: The Sudbury Cub Wolves, like the real Wolves of last season, are with one exception, home brews, and learned the game in Sudbury. And outside of two players, every member of the team has played all his hockey in the northern town. Quennville, the defence player, while he was born in Sudbury and learned to play the game there, was last season with London Orients, and Miller is an Orillia boy. Of the regulars, McCann, the goalie, and Billy Wright are playing their last season in junior hockey, but the balance of the team have one or more years. George Horne, one of the subs, is only 16 years of age. Boucher on the defence, is the heavyweight of the team. He weighs 168 pounds, and is a tall, rangy boy, with an abundance of speed.

SARNIA UNDECIDED AS TO BASEBALL PROGRAM

SARNIA, March 18.—With the Sarnia Amateur Athletic Club organized on a straight amateur basis for the coming year, the matter of a baseball team to represent this city is becoming a big worry now.

There will be no possibility of entering a team under the colors of the S. A. A. C. in the Tri-County League, which is proposed to be a semi-pro circuit, so far as can be learned.

Backers and promoters of the proposed Lambton County Amateur Baseball League have passed up Sarnia entirely in their plans, evidently putting the baseball talent of this place a little too fast for what the other centres contain.

Exhibition amateur games, with the Mint League club organized across the river to buck, cannot be money-makers for the club, which cannot afford to saddle any losers, in view of the present precarious state of the finances of the club. It has now been suggested that a strong city league be formed and affiliate with the Western Ontario Baseball Association and be eligible to compete for the amateur championship of the province when the city league season is over and the winner returned.

DOMINION SOCCER CHAMPS INTACT FOR 1921 SEASON

HAMILTON, March 18. — Westinghouse, the champion soccer team of Canada, will stand or fall this year by practically the same team as won the Connaught cup last season, all the players, with one or two exceptions, having signed 1921 contracts. Tiny Thomhs, in his day the greatest outside left in this country, is the only hold-out, but he is expected to attach his signature to the necessary regulation form early next week.

THESE GAMES OF LONDON ALERTS OE 1894 RECALLS MEN WHO MADE THE CITY FAMOUS IN BASEBALL

The mining done into old major league records by The Advertiser feature service has brought forth some old box scores of games played here during the summer of 1894, when the Guelph Maple Leafs were champions, and the London Alerts were giving them an occasional trimming. The following was submitted by W. C. Hiscott, who hurled and played second base for the famous Alerts of that time. Most of the London team are still living, Burton, Quinn and Player being the only ones appearing in these games, to reach the end of their ninth frame in life.

The first game played at Buffalo saw the Alerts beaten in 12 innings after the game had proceeded from the seventh inning, a 4—4 tie. Abbie Johnson of Strathroy was playing second base for the Buffalo team.

The game with Guelph Maple Leafs on August 20 must have caused much rejoicing around the several corner groceries of that time, for the Londoners took this world-famous outfit over the corduroy road, 22—4. On the Guelph line-up appears such famous names as Congalton and Powers. Scotty Benzie, whose son will be trying out this year with Manager "Buzz" Wetzel's London Cockneys at Delaware, and for whose whereabouts, the son inquired a week ago, played left field in this clash.

The score makes it appear as if the Guelphites had been shown some of the city's points of interest before the game.

London's Infield Complete With Malinquest In

London's infield is complete with the arrival of Walter Malmquest's signed contract at Buzz Wetzel's Columbus address. The opposing hitters will have to get them through Kuhn at first, Malmquest at second, Shay at shortfield, and Stutz at third, and opposing pitchers are going to have just as difficult a job in keeping this quartet from getting into the hit column regularly, for they all have good batting records.

Allen McWaine, the 19-year-old outfielder, who played with the Alerts last season, is making a try for the outer garden, and will journey south with the club's equipment, reaching Wesleyan University around April 4. Buzz is breaking up his camp into two sections, by having the rookies report on that date, and the more experienced squad a week later.

The list of tried players who have been given notice to report and their railroad routes for camp are: Pitchers, Delotelle, Harding, Wheeler, Quinn; catchers, Briger, Fowlkes; Infielders, Dedrich, Kuhn, Stutz, Shay, Malmquest; Outfielders, Crichlow and Scoggins.

Ad. Thomas has asked to be placed on the voluntary retired list of the London Club, as has S. E. Flesham.

Buzz Wetzel is attending the meeting of the Central League tomorrow, and will arrange his exhibition games on the way north, with Central League clubs. One of them will be brought here for games with Kitchener and the locals between May 2 and 7.

Shamrocks Need Win Tonight To Keep Up Even With Brownies

Meet Toronto West End "Y" Girls At Armories Tonight —Hussars vs. Western "U."

The Shamrocks play their last scheduled L. O. B. A. game tonight in the armories against the Toronto West End "Y" girls.

The local girls will line up strong with Mary Lindsay and Kae McEvoy again on their list.

A win is absolutely necessary to keep the local girls on equal footing with the Hamilton Brownies, the local girls having lost one and won one from Hamilton.

It promises to be an exciting time for the Irish girls, as Toronto comes to London with the heaviest team listed in the L. O. B. A., and have in their line-up a former London girl, Miss Janette Allen, who has a reputation for playing real basketball.

Hussars vs. Western University Seconds will play in the second game.

The line-ups:

London Shamrocks—Pearl Blackwell, Helen Woolley, Kae McAvoy, forwards; Lottie Garrett, centre; Edna Holland, Mary Lindsay and Carrie Blackwell, defence.

Toronto West End "Y"—J. Allen, R. Groise, forwards; C. Hennessey, centre; M. Bain and L. Reid, defence; Miss Gibb and Miss Campbell, substitutes.

MAKE SECOND ATTEMPT TO FORM STRATFORD A. C.

STRATFORD, March 18. — Another effort will be made to organize an amateur athletic association here on Tuesday evening next, when a meeting has has been called at the Chamber of Commerce. The proposal is more thoroughly understood and doubtless will receive a more sympathetic reception.

DOMINIONS BEAT ROYALS AND TIE UP SERIES

TORONTO, March 18.—Dominion Bank team of Toronto defeated the sextet from the Royal Bank, Montreal, here tonight by a score of 6 to 5. As the result in Montreal was 3 to 2 in favor of the Royal Bank the round is tied with eight goals each.

ALL REICH FAILS AGAIN.

CLEVELAND, March 18.—Tommy Gibbons of St. Paul knocked out Al Reich of New York after two minutes and thiry-three seconds in the first round of a scheduled 10-round bout here tonight.

Gibbons floored Reich twice before the knockout for a count of nine and eight. Gibbons weighed 183 pounds, and Reich 219.

Seasonable Pointers For Farmers

Huron County Breeders Hold Successful Sale

Good Prices Realized For Pure-Bred Stock — Shorthorns and Aberdeen-Angus Each Attain Top Price of $300— Total Reached $6,752 With An Average of $138.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

The Huron County Breeders Association's sale of pure-bred stock, held in Wingham on Thursday, March 10, drew a record crowd and good prices were received for most of the animals offered. All of the animals (49) in number were sold. The total sale amounted to $6,752.50, an average of $138 per head. The bulls averaged $136.25 and the females $138.50.

Four Herefords were sold at an average of $181.25. The top price for Herefords was $160, paid by W. J. McMurray of Brussels, for Bay Leaf, a heifer calf consigned by W. J. Gregg & Son, Gorrie.

In Shorthorns, Oliver Turnbull of Brussels paid the highest price, paying $300 for Roan Pearl 2nd, a four-year-old "Marr" Flora. The Shorthorn consignment of 38 head averaged $129.50.

Col. R. McEwen of Byron, also paid $300 for the Aberdeen-Angus heifer Lady of Elm Row, contributed by W. M. Henry of Belgrave. This is a particularly nice heifer of Enchantress Erica breeding. The seven "doddies" consigned made the high average of $191.75.

Quite a considerable number of the animals went into the hands of men who are beginning in the pure-bred live stock game and they should give a good account of themselves. The aim of the association is to first dispose of their surplus stock, and in the second place advertise the merits of the respective breeds and encourage a larger number of our farmers to start in the breeding of purebred stock. Such affairs must have a beneficial effect on the standing and quality of the live stock in our section.

R. T. Amos of Moffat was the auctioneer in charge and gave satisfaction to all. Mr. Amos is a young man who has been in the pure-bred live stock game for some time and has lately taken up auctioneer work. Oscar Klopp of Zurich, assisted Mr. Amos at the ringside and on the block. Mr. Klopp is a Huron County boy who has lately taken up this work and can handle himself with credit at work of this kind. The prices received indicate both the good quality of the cattle as well as the work of the auctioneers.

FUNCTION OF COLD STORAGE FULFILLED.

Cold storage has, by the test of experience, been proved to be fulfilling its rightful purpose in the scheme of food supply. Records over the past four seasons show perishable foods are taken at periods of glut and carried into the lean months. They are then steadily absorbed by the trade. There is no "carry over" from one season to another.

Besides, as a glance at the returns by months will make plain, there is a natural "year" in each commodity in which high and low stores go round in regular and corresponding cycles every twelve months.

Thus, stocks of butter and cheese reach their high marks in cold storage when the abundance of herbage in summer and fall enables the farmers to get milk in large quantities. These products are released throughout the winter months according to the consuming demand. The years in butter, as it were, run from May to April, and in cheese from June to May.

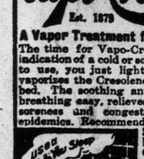

In eggs, the same tendency is apparent, only that the yearly cycles run from the beginning of March until the following February.

This regularity of trade, on the one hand, prevents a slump in prices paid to farmers which might kill production for the next year, and on the other, prevents scarcity and high prices to the consumer in the winter.

Pruning Apple Orchards Needs Skill and Care

Pruning Necessary To Secure Evenly-Balanced, Strong Trees — Strong-Growing Branches Should Be Suppressed by Heading Back.

The foliage of a tree is the manufacturing centre where food materials from the soil combine with those from the air to form the tissue-building materials. The larger the active leaf area therefore the better the growth. Definite experiments covering four years in Virginia indicate an average increase of trunk growth of 1.93 inches on lightly-pruned trees. In other words, the greatest growth will result where no pruning is practiced. Pruning is necessary, however, to direct the growth so that an evenly-balanced, strong tree may be formed and surplus and undesirable branches not allowed to develop. The directing of the growth during the early years of the tree is of first branches about 24 inches from the ground, and five to six branches which form the frame of the tree spaced evenly as far apart as possible. Particularly desirable is it to remove the next to the last top branch, which, if left, will form a weak top because of the forked crotch formed with the top limb.

Heading Back.

Heading back at planting time is necessary to balance the loss from cut-off roots because of digging. Tests made at Kentville show an average growth of 4.82 inches the first year and 20 inches the second year where newly-planted trees had three-quarters of their growth removed, whereas similar trees not headed back made a growth of one inch the first year and 2.4 inches the second year.

Strong growing branches should be suppressed by heading back and weak branches not pruned at all. If the whole tree is weak a severe heading back in the spring will throw greater vigorous development. But if there are weak branches on one side of a tree and strong ones on the other the reduction of leaf area on the weak branches will tend to further weaken these branches because of the strongest sap flow toward the greatest foliage area, obviously therefore a reduction of foliage area on the strong branches will lessen this tendency and throw more growth toward the weaker branches.

The Pyramidal Form.

The central branch should be allowed to maintain the lead, this, however, not for the purpose of forming a pyramidal tree with a central leader, but so that from it several well-spaced scaffold branches are formed on this central leader; if the tendency is toward a pyramidal form with central leader extending high into the air, having many branches radiating from it, this should be checked, thus forming a tree combining the desirable features of the pyramidal form and eliminating the undesirable open centre form of tree.

To balance the tree the heading back of strong-growing branches is necessary. This heading back tends to develop side branches and attention must be given to the elimination of some of these that too many scaffold branches are not formed. The whole aim should be to build up a framework that will carry large crops of fruit and at the same time not have an over-abundance of large branches.

Sunlight is essential for vigorous leaf growth and also for ripening the fruit, a dense growth is therefore objectionable, and the preventing of this should for the most part consist of annual removal of such small brnaches as are likely in time to extend to where other more desirable branches should be. The judgment of the operator only can determine how best to develop the tree.

The tendency to remove all small branches which may for several years develop fruiting areas should be avoided. It is, of course, impossible to prune so that some of the larger branches will not in time have to be removed, but a little thought will reduce this possibility to a minimum.

THE BEST TIME TO PRUNE.

Undoubtedly the latter part of March and April are the best months to prune. The wounds made at that season will more readily heal over than if made earlier, and there is more time to give to the work. Coverings are generally of little value, except in the case of large wounds, when a good thick white lead paint with a little linseed oil in it should be painted into the wood surface to prevent checking and decay. Such wounds should be protected from year to year to preserve the wood until healed over.

The cutting should be reasonably close, as otherwise more time will be required for the wound to heal over. Stubs of branches, if left, prevent a covering of the wound with bark, and decay may result before the wound is healed over. Old neglected trees should be carefully pruned to remove all dead wood, leaving the best and strongest branches. It is not always possible to make a good-looking, shapely tree in doing this, and the usefulness of many an old tree has been sacrificed for some years by too extreme pruning at one time.—W. S. Blair, superintendent, Experimental Station, Kentville, N. S.

THE PLANTFOOD QUESTION IN TOMATO GROWING.

The tomato crop is a ready feeder and responds to good care. As a general rule, manure fills a large place in the fertilization of tomato ground, and this is well, since manure carries a large supply of humus and is rich in bacterial action. But manure can be very profitably supplemented with a heavy application of high-grade fertilizer.

Mixtures which have given exceedingly good results on tomatoes are generally medium to high in nitrogen (the lighter the land the higher the nitrogen should be), high in phosphoric acid and low to medium in potash (the nearer the soil is to a muck or sand type, the higher should be the potash); 3 to 5 per cent ammonia, 8 to 12 per cent phosphoric acid, and 2 to 4 per cent potash applied at the rate of 500 to 1,000 pounds per acre have given highly beneficial results.

During the years of the war, while potash and nitrogen were so scarce, there was a tendency to use only acid phosphate. The material—in line with its characteristics—hastened plant growth and early maturity, and in many cases gave exceedingly good returns, but, let us add for the benefit of those who have used acid phosphate alone that it contains only phosphoric acid, and that they should not depend upon this material too much. Acid phosphate cannot take the place of nitrogen carriers, neither can it supply potash, since acid phosphate carries neither of these plantfoods.

Lime As a Soil-Builder Plays Important Part

Acid Soils Require Lime in Order To Insure Supply of Nitrogen For Clover Crops—Ground Limestone the Most Popular and Effective Form of Lime.

Fertile soils contain sufficiency of the three most essential elements for growing plants, nitrogen, phosphorus and potash. Should any of these be lacking, plants cannot grow satisfactorily. The two latter elements are found in the mineral soil particles and also in the vegetable matter only. Thus it will be seen that a soil deficient in vegetable matter only is lacking in nitrogen.

Nitrogen we find when buying commercial fertilizers is the most inexpensive plant food element costing at least 25 cents per pound. If the fertilizer contains 4 per cent of nitrogen, the cost for this element in one ton would be $20.

The legumes when fully established have the power to obtain nitrogen from the air through a soil organism which forms nodules on the roots of plants belonging to this order. The principal leguminous plants are the common red clover, alsike clover, alfalfa sweet clover, vetch and peas and of these the common red clover is probably of greatest importance.

The Sources of Nitrogen.

There are approximately 70 pounds of nitrogen in 1¾ tons of clover hay and the production of this amount of top growth leaves a root system containing at least 1,200 pounds of vegetable matter, furnishing say, 30 pounds of nitrogen, in the soil. Of this 105 pounds of nitrogen in the entire plant it has been estimated that about 70 pounds comes from the air and 35 pounds from the soil provided that conditions favorable to the activities of the bacteria exist. It will be seen, therefore that the 70 pounds of nitrogen at the lowest market value is worth $17.50 or nearly as much as that in one ton of high-grade fertilizer. It is hard to realize that 1¾ tons of clover extracts from the air nitrogen equal to that contained in one ton of our best fertilizers. True, some of this may be lost by careless handling of the manure from stock, but for the most part it should ultimately go back to the soil, if the hay crop is not sold.

It has been found that the soil organism which furnishes the clover with an acid soil or on one lacking in lime, nitrogen from the air does not thrive in consequently if we wish to build up a soil through the clover plant it is necessary, where soil acidity is found, to correct this condition by an application of lime in some form.

Ground Limestone.

Ground limestone is the most popular and effective form of lime. If applied at the rate of 2 tons per acre when seeding to grain, at which time the clover is usually sown, best results will be obtained. Subsequent applications of one ton every three years usually suffices to maintain freedom from acidity.

Among the many tests conducted at the experimental station, Kentville, N. S., the one carried on in half-acre plots is of particular interest. There was little apparent difference in the crop of grain on the plots and the average of four half-acre plots which were limed when seeding down at the rate of 2 tons per acre was 42 bushels and 15 pounds of oats, and on the two half-acre plots not limed, 39 bushels and 31 pounds per acre. After the oats were cut, there was a noticeable difference in the clover growth in favor of the limed areas and the yield of hay the following year averaged 4,560 pounds per acre from the four limed plots, and 2,480 pounds per acre from the two plots not limed, a difference in favor of liming, amounting to 2,080 pounds of clover hay per acre. When this land was plowed there was a decidedly marked difference in the amount of root development in favor of the limed areas, thus greatly increasing store of vegetable matter and nitrogen carrying materials.

Lime, therefore, is most valuable as a soil builder because it produces a suitable environment for the clover plant through which farm soils can be built up most conomically.—W. S. Blair, superintendent, Experimental Station, Kentville, N. S.

THE VALUE OF SOME LITTLE-USED GRASSES.

On several occasions, particularly through the medium of "Seasonable Hints" issued by the experimental farms branch of the Dominion department of agriculture, attention has been called to the usefulness of several grasses which at present are little appreciated in Canada. The grasses to which in the past particular attention has been called as valuable adjuncts to hay and pasture mixtures are orchard grass and meadow fescue. The former is considered as one of the best for dairy farms in Denmark, where, as is well known, dairying has reached a height of perfection unequalled by any other country. The latter grass is also considered extremely valuable in hay and pasture mixtures wherever intensive farming is practiced. Our experience is that, in Canada, these two grasses would, if added to the standard and often stereotyped mixture of "clover and timothy," materially help to increase the value of the hay crops and of the pastures.

But besides these grasses there are several others, the introduction of which into Canadian farming would no doubt prove most beneficial provided that they are used under conditions in which they can prove their real value.

Some Pasture Grasses.

We have especially in mind the use of some grasses which, although of little importance for hay, yet are very valuable as pasture grasses, that is to say, may be advantageously put in as bottom grasses in hay mixtures and pastured when the hay has been removed. Among these grasses are the Kentucky blue grass, suitable especially for loamy soil, the sheep's fescue and the red or creeping fescue on light land, the red top especially under wet conditions, and the crested dog's tail under similar conditions.

In our opinion, it would pay to add these grasses in small quantities to grass mixtures seeded down with the taller-growing grasses primarily looked upon as hay producers. Indeed, the experience of countries where the farms are small and where consequently the highest possible returns are imperative to make farming a living proposition, strongly points to the advisability of including four or five or even more grasses in ha and pasture mixtures so as to make it the more remunerative.—M. O. Malte, Dominion agrostologist.

Canada's Egg Production--- Some Startling Figures

No Fewer Than 187,000,000 Dozen in One Year — Canada Imported 6,515,928 Dozen At $3,051,833, and Exported 6,324,838 Dozen At $4,198,430.

The following figures, obtained from the Dominion Department of Agriculture and quoted by S. Frank Glass, M. P., at the "Billy" McNeil banquet, will indicate in some degree the importance and magnitude of the poultry industry in Canada:

Canada produced in the year 1920, no fewer than 2,224,000,000, or 187,000,000 dozen, equal to 6,233,333 cases or 15,555 car loads.

One extra egg consumed per head of population each week would add to production requirements, 468,000,000 eggs, or 21 per cent.

Western Canada shipped last year 444 car loads of eggs and exported 55 car loads.

The total number of poultry in Canada in the year 1695 was 362 in Acadia.

In 1891 the total was 12,696,701; in 1901 the number was 16,651,337; in 1911 it had risen to 29,773,457, and in 1921 it was estimated at 45,000,000.

Canada has advanced in the poultry industry more than any country in the world.

The latest returns show that for the year the number of eggs imported was 6,515,928 dozen of the value of $3,051,833, or 46.8 cents per dozen, and exported 6,324,838 dozen of the value of $4,198,430 at 66.3 cents per dozen.

The total Oriental arrivals was 52,245 cases or 1,560,750 dozen.

Canada also exported 704,630 live birds.

CANADA STANDS UNRIVALLED.

"Canada stands unrivalled among the countries of the world in the matter of poultry raising, and the poultry division at Ottawa is unrivalled among the experimental farms in the world," said Mr. Glass.

"Britain is undoubtedly the future market for Canadian eggs. Having established standards for our egg products we will get a higher price in Britain than anywhere else. Canadian eggs are worth twelve pence per dozen more in the markets of Great Britain than those imported from South America.

In the House of Commons this week Mr. Glass, in a defence of the work of the experimental farms, said that the poultry industry had been largely developed through experimental farm work, and through the standardization act affecting eggs. Canadian producers were able to export eggs at a much higher price than that at which they could be imported, but the work of the experimental farms could not be measured in dollars and cents of profit.

ONE OF UNCLE BILLY'S BOYS.

"I am one of Uncle Billy's boys," said John S. Martin of Port Dover. "My acquaintance with him goes back twenty years. It was the Toronto Exhibition when I was showing White Wyandottes for the first time. I was showing a cockerel that I thought was about perfect. Billy came along—he was never in too great a hurry—and took a look at the bird. Better pull that black feather out of him, was all he said, and walked away.

"This was characteristic of the man. What he said was always to the point."

SOME HINTS FROM J. S. MARTIN.

If I have been successful in putting White Wyandottes on the map it is due to organized effort.

If you have got the breed you have got to put it over. Don't run down any other.

So far as value is concerned, good strains of this breed will hold their own with any other.

To breed good males we must have good tails and backs in the females.

You want a generous feathered bird, but not too generous feathered. You must not have so many feathers as will destroy the usefulness of the bird.

If Wyandottes are bred without any cushion you destroy the breed.

There should be just a gentle rise at the base of the tail. It is that which gives the male its cushion, or rather what is called the saddle in the male.

We want to retain a male with a saddle and a hen with a cushion.

The tendency is to have a generous feather underneath and tighter on top.

One ought to see the outline of the hump.

The White Wyandotte today has utility qualities that are conducive to the highest qualities.

There is a big move on foot to combine both utility and fancy.

If you have type you have breed.

He had found that utility men were the greatest faddists, particularly in regard to the laying qualities of hens.

Utility men are doing a lot of bluffing and it is for fanciers to call the bluff.

HINTS ON MANAGEMENT.

A paraphrase of the old hymn might read "The Mistakes of My Life Have Been Many, the Sins of Omission Have Been More." In poultry raising as well as in life this is true; and while this may not be timely, it may prevent some of the things that happened this year from causing us both sorrow and loss next year.

First, overcrowding as the result of hatching more chicks than we have room to grow to a marketable age. One of the first things that a beginner must learn is never to hatch all the chickens he wants at that time. Did you ever cook beans? Well if you have you know that the finished product is away out of proportion to the amount with which you started. Fifty is a big number for an ordinary backlotter or most beginners if they wish to avoid overcrowding. Never permit half that number to roost in the same coop nor in the same quarters, at least till they are grown.

MITES.

Second, mites are a constant source of loss not only in the slow development of the bird, but also in the color and texture of the feather. A pound the month in the American breeds is as little growth as one should expect if the conditions are at all satisfactory. If you are not getting that amount of growth, something is wrong. Look at once to your feed and quarters. Keep your roosts clean and spray with kerosene at least once a week. Use air-slaked lime to kill off the mosquitoes, which in most houses make life miserable for the fowls, especially in the late summer and early fall. Sore-head, chickenpox and roup are often directly traceable to the sting of the mosquito. Keep them out of the houses and coops. Lime and kerosene will do it for you.

KEEP QUARTERS DRY.

Third, keep their quarters dry. Be sure the roof does not leak, that rain does not blow through the cracks, and above all that the sunshine can reach practically every part of the floor of the building, and that it does do it. Keep straw or dry leaves on the floor to absorb any dampness that might obtain and change this litter often. An earth floor is the best floor if it may be kept dry. Don't neglect, don't put off, don't procrastinate. Do it now.

Is raising prize winners your ambition? There is no royal road. Alike the peer and peasant must climb to her abode. No one has ever reached and kept the place except through close attention to the little details and these before mentioned ones are the big keys to success.

CLEAN FOOD.

A good quality of clean food is essential to their good health. Feed table scraps right from the table only, never let them accumulate and don't use those from your neighbor unless they are as careful about them as you are yourself. If you feed a wet mash, and it is good for them, do not feed more than they will clean up at once and feed it only in a clean place. Keep a dry mash before them at all times after they are a month old. If they are inclined to get weak in the legs, your food does not contain enough bone-making ingredients. Feed dry cut bone and use a little lime in the water. Put lime in the water and pour off the water after the lime settles. Keep plenty of finely-ground oyster shell so they get it any time they wish.—American Poultry Journal.

What the Press Agents Say About the Shows

AT THE GRAND.

NEIL BURGESS' RACING DRAMA, "THE COUNTY FAIR" AT THE GRAND TWICE TODAY.

Neil Burgess' famous racing drama, "The County Fair," will be seen for the last time today at the Grand. It has delighted large audiences throughout the week, and should again play to capacity at both performances today. The many added features, including the great race on the Grand stage, when four real horses race from barrier to wire, provides keen amusement. The old-time midway, with all its freaks and fakirs, with 25 people on the stage and the old Pumpkin Centre Silver Band, brings one back to boyhood days. Today Manager Minhinnick has arranged a special contest for the boys who attend the matinee—a greasy pole contest, with a $10 bill at the top, will help provide real mirth for those who attend.

WILLIAM DE MILLE'S PRODUCTION, "MIDSUMMER MADNESS," AT THE GRAND FOUR DAYS, COMMENCING MONDAY NEXT.

"Midsummer Madness" is the new William De Mille production which has taken its place beside the really fine pictures of the current season. It will be shown at the Grand for four days, commencing Monday next.

The story, adapted from Cosmo Hamilton's society novel, "His Friend and His Wife," centres around two young married couples who are close friends. One of the husbands imagines himself in love with his friend's wife, and she, neglected by her husband and starving for romance, yields to a temporary infatuation. The results are highly interesting.

A notable cast was chosen to play the chief roles in "Midsummer Madness," including such favorites as Lila Lee, Lois Hilson, Jack Holt and Conrad Nagel.

DOUGLAS DUMBRILLE, BARITONE, AND MRS. FREDERICK SCHOFIELD IN A BRILLIANT CYCLE OF MUSIC AND SONG.

Douglas R. Dumbrille, baritone, comes to the Grand for four days next week direct from an extended engagement at Savoy Theatre, Hamilton. Mr. Dumbrille possesses a rich baritone voice, and will offer some big popular song successes. He will be assisted by Mrs. Frederick Schofield, soprano, who will sing several duets with Mr. Dumbrille. This should prove a musical treat for Grand playgoers for the four days of next week.

MANY ADDED PHOTOPLAY FEATURES ON BIG BILL AT GRAND FOUR DAYS NEXT WEEK.

Manager Minhinnick promises some exceptional film features on the same bill with "Midsummer Madness" at the Grand next week, including a special big comedy feature, a Pathe Review and several short films of educational nature.

There will be no advance in prices for this big three-hour bill, and patrons are reminded that the evening performances commence at 7:30 sharp.

A. H. WOODS PRESENTS "UP IN MABEL'S ROOM" AT GRAND NEXT FRIDAY AND SATURDAY.

"Up in Mabel's Room," the farce which kept all New York laughing for months last season, will be presented at the Grand Friday and Saturday, March 25 and 26, with matinee Good Friday and Saturday, under the direction of A. H. Woods. The play has been described as a frivolous farce of feminine foibles and is the work of Wilson Collison and Otta Harbach. It is in three acts, and the scenes are laid in a country home on Long Island. The story of the play deals with the farcical adventures of Garry Ainsworth, a young benedict, who is confronted on his honeymoon with the evidence of an old indiscretion. The evidence in this case is a pink chemise, which he had unwittingly given to a beautiful and charming widow, of whom he had been fond in his bachelor days. This chemise was unfortunately inscribed "Mabel from Garry," and the slightly jealous and exceedingly mischievous Mabel threatened to show it to Garry's wife. More difficulties arose than he dreamed of, and in the course of his adventures he found himself in situation after situation, painful to himself, but that furnished the greatest delight to his audience.

Seats go on sale Tuesday, 9 a.m. Mail orders now.

Jane Anderson as Alicia, and James Donlan as Garry in a scene from "Up in Mabel's Room," at the Grand next Friday and Saturday, with special matinee Good Friday and Saturday.

D. WARK GRIFFITH'S MASTERPIECE, "WAY DOWN EAST," COMING TO GRAND.

Announced as the most remarkable production with which the name of David W. Griffith has ever been associated in his "Way Down East," made from the famous stage play of the same name, and which will be shown in this city for the first time at the Grand at an early date.

As is expected, the usual Griffith effects and embellishments are said to be found in this latest work in abundance. He will present it here with an augmented orchestra furnishing musical accompaniment, which even the most spectacular of stage offerings could hardly afford to offer on tour; digressing from the stage version, he will take his audience from the simplicity of countryside to the lavishness of city mansions and thus display in a new series of color schemes an array of elaborate gowns and surroundings typical of wealth. At the end will come the famed terrifying New England blizzard and the break-up of the ice gorge in the Connecticut River, scenes which in other cities have made audiences grip their seats.

Mr. Griffith has set for himself such a pace and a standard to follow that he must needs supply the most wonderful in spectacle and the most finished in production. However, there may be those who in anticipation of such things overlook the greatest of achievements of this master artist in screen production. Griffith seized upon "Way Down East" and paid a pretty sum for the screen rights alone, not for the spectacular opportunities it offered. Any play that can enjoy a vogue among American theatre-goers for a period of more than 20 years possesses something more than pastoral humor and striking scenes, and "Way Down East" has each season been shown on tour with great remunerative reward, even in times when most stage offerings had hard sledding.

To Lillian Gish has fallen the task of essaying Anna Moore for the screen. That Miss Gish has made the most of her opportunity in the role is probably best attested by the fact that in New York alone the leading actors and actresses of the day have flocked, not once, but twice and thrice, to view her work and marvelled at the same.

Announcement

To the Theatergoers of London.

It affords me great pleasure to announce that starting Monday night, March 28, will be presented at the Grand Opera House, for a special limited engagement, the most interesting and unusual attraction ever offered in London.

It will amaze, delight and thrill you. It is not drama; it is not opera; it is neither tragedy, comedy nor pantomime; nor can it be called poetry or painting!

And yet, you will find it compact of all these arts—A NEW EIGHTH ART—combining the beauties of the others and welded into a perfect whole by one of the master magicians of the age.

Respectfully,
JOHN R. MINHINNICK,
Manager Grand Opera House,

"DON'T NEGLECT YOUR WIFE" AND "WHAT HAPPENED TO ROSA," DOUBLE PROGRAM FOR MONDAY.

First on the big super-double program at the Allen on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, comes "Don't Neglect Your Wife," starring Mabel Julienne Scott and Lewis Stone. A romance of the most romantic days of the western world, the early growth of San Francisco and of old New York in the days of the historically notorious Five Points district, at one time the wickedest dive known to the civilized world, where criminals from all civilized countries used to congregate to plot further wickedness. "Don't Neglect Your Wife," the picture, is just as thrilling, as adventurous and as romantic as the story of that time speaks of, and there is not a moment in the entire big picture that one is not marveling at the thrills.

Second on the big program comes Mabel Normand's new fifty smiles a minute comedy feature, "What Happened to Rosa." Rosa was a precocious, audacious shopgirl, noted for her beauty and her impertinent but cheerful personality. She chased Cupid down a coal hole, and came up with the fastest, most laughably romantic comedy of the year.

The newest Christie comedy, Allen News and Scenics, with a variety of entertainment, will complete the program.

"THE SON OF TARZAN" OPENING AT THE ALLEN NEXT THURSDAY.

"The most notable event in the year's screen history is the film production of Edgar Rice Burroughs' famous story, "The Son of Tarzan," into the gigantic, thrilling serial of the same name which is coming to the Allen, the first episode to be shown next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, and entitled "The Call of the Jungle."

Some idea of the stupendousness of the wonder jungle serial may be gained from the following facts: At all times, five men with cameras, each in a steel cage, were photographing the scenes; hundreds of wild animals, lions, tigers, giant apes, elephants, were used, and over a dozen of these were killed during the course of the photoplay to provide perfect realism for the battle scenes. Ten special animal trainers were always in attendance in the giant arena in which the furious jungle battles were staged between Korak the Killer, Son of Tarzan, and the animals of the jungle. Five actors were seriously hurt by attacks from the great beasts, and not an opportunity was missed to provide a new thrill, a special scene, to make this the greatest film production of all time.

The first episode is entitled "The Call of the Jungle," and every boy and girl, and man and woman should make it a point to be at the Allen next Thursday, Good Friday or Saturday to see the start of this picture.

"HIS OWN LAW," STARRING HOBART BOSWORTH, AT ALLEN NEXT THURSDAY ALSO.

You have a treat in store when you see Hobart Bosworth, star of "Under the Surface," and other big screen productions in his newest picture, "His Own Law." The romance of a friendship that lasted through storm and strife, through battle and fire, water and time—a regular two-fisted drama of the rugged life of the far frontiers.

The world's wonder jungle serial, "The Son of Tarzan," with all the wild animals of darkest Africa and full of thrills, rescues, fights, adventure and romance. The first episode, entitled "The Call of the Jungle," is to head Allen's big holiday program next Thursday, Good Friday and Saturday.

AT LOEW'S.

ALICE BRADY IN "OUT OF THE CHORUS" AT LOEW'S MONDAY.

No longer is the charge true that producers for the screen resort to cheap subterfuge in depicting certain scenes. The producer has reached the point where he no longer imitates. He duplicates.

Photographs of the chambers of District Attorney Swann were obtained for the court scenes in "Out of the Chorus." The court set in which the late action of the piece takes place, was made after a careful study of these photographs.

However, sketches revealing the general nature of the latter room were taken and carefully followed in the erection of the scene in the studio.

"Out of the Chorus," in which Miss Brady is supported by Vernon Steele, Charles Gerard, Emily Fitzroy, Edith Stockton, Richard Carlyle and other screen favorites, comes to Loew's on Monday for a three-day run.

The vaudeville embraces the Summers Duo in spectacular aerial frolics, Cullen and Kenyon, two singers with trimmings and Ali Rajah & Company in a demonstration of thought transference. The added film features include a Sennett Comic and Loew's Screen Pictorial.

JACK LONDON'S "MEETING OF THE ELSINORE," AT LOEW'S THURSDAY NEXT.

Mutiny on the high seas, as depicted by the pen of the late Jack London and picturized for the screen, will be the attraction at Loew's Theatre next Thursday when "The Mutiny of the Elsinore" will be shown.

The story is one of thrilling suspense and rife with situations that make the nerves tingle with the excitement of impending danger. Written by the master hand of the late Jack London, the novel from which the picture is taken constitutes one of the best of the dead author's most celebrated works.

The vaudeville includes Bill and Irene Telack in "Hits and Bits," Al Hawthorne and Johnny Cook in "Without Rhyme or Reason," and "The Dancer of the Nile"—Kashla assisted by Stan McEarl and the Thompson sisters.

MR. ALFRED DUBOISSEAU.

"482 St. Catherine St. E., Montreal.

"For three years, I was a terrible sufferer from Indigestion, constant Headaches and Constipation. I took various medicines for the trouble, but nothing seemed to do me any good.

"Then a friend advised me to try 'Fruit-a-tives.' Now I am free of Indigestion and Headaches, the Constipation is cured, and I have gained considerable weight; and my general health is fine.

"'Fruit-a-tives' is a grand medicine and I cannot say enough in its favor."

"ALFRED DUBOISSEAU."

"Fruit-a-tives" are made from fruit juices and valuable tonics—and are pleasant to take, their action being gentle and mild, yet always most effective.

Fifty cents a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. At all dealers or sent postpaid by Fruit-a-tives, Limited, Ottawa.

"DANDERINE"

Girls! Save Your Hair! Make It Abundant!

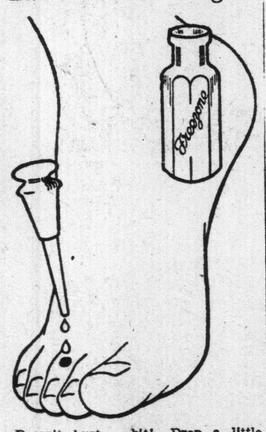

Immediately after a "Danderine" massage, your hair takes on new life, lustre and wondrous beauty, appearing twice as heavy and plentiful, because each hair seems to fluff and thicken. Don't let your hair stay lifeless, colorless, plain or scraggly. You, too, want lots of long, strong, beautiful hair.

A 35-cent bottle of delightful "Danderine" freshens your scalp, checks dandruff and falling hair. This stimulating "beauty-tonic" gives to thin, dull, fading hair that youthful brightness and abundant thickness—All druggists!

CORNS

Lift Off with Fingers

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little "Freezone" on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with fingers. Truly!

Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Freezone" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation.

REBELLION IN STOMACH

"Pape's Diapepsin" at once ends Indigestion and Sour, Acid Stomach

Lumps of undigested food cause pain. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sick, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented and turned sour; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food—just take a tablet or two of Pape's Diapepsin to help neutralize acidity and in five minutes you wonder what became of the pain, acidity, indigestion and distress.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless stomach antacid is Pape's Diapepsin, which costs so little at drug stores.

VITAL PROBLEMS

expansion and home market development, of railway nationalization, and of the scientific determination and utilization of natural resources, which must be determined to the best national advantage. It would take an exhaustive review to deal with any one of these questions adequately, but some particular features may be dealt with here. We need more generous treatment of capital and a fairer conception of its importance in economic affairs. The evil effects of excess taxes and of luxury taxes have been demonstrated. The luxury taxes have already gone in Canada, and in Great Britain and in the United States, as in this country, there is insistent demand that the excess profits tax should be greatly modified, if not repealed.

Far-Reaching Results.

We realize that taxes which are intended to reach wealth strike first at initiative, enterprise and efficiency. Ultimately they decrease the supply of capital available for industrial and national enterprises, depiete the national income, and check national progress. No doubt, income taxes must be retained in Canada, but if the taxes on larger incomes remain so nearly confiscatory as they are now the revenue from this source may be greatly reduced in future.

In the United States there is an exemption up to 15 per cent of personal income from taxation if devoted to charities, hospitals and education. If this is not done in Canada, ultimately the charities, the universities and many educational institutions will suffer. The state cannot take the place of private individuals in the creation and maintenance of such institutions.

Proved Unsatisfactory.

All experience with taxation of unoccupied land shows that the results are unsatisfactory. This is so in Alberta and in Manitoba. In Great Britain the land taxes, which were such a conspicuous feature of the first Lloyd George budget, have been repealed, with the consent of the political leaders who established the system. Collection of such taxes proved to be very costly, and the results altogether inadequate. It is doubtful if we would derive much revenue from such a form of taxation in Canada, and even if we could the first claim to such taxes seems to lie with the municipalities and the provinces.

It is expected that the budget will contain new revenue proposals, and it is difficult to see how objectionable taxes can be removed and necessary national revenue still secured without the imposition of some kind of sales tax, and the continuation of a tariff for revenue, as well as for protection.

Debt Has Increased.

The national debt has increased from $336,000,000 to $2,300,000,000. We have to raise $125,000,000 for interest on the national obligations, and all our revenue from income and corporation taxes is absorbed by railway outlays or railway losses. At the same time exchange means a further burden of $75,000,000 or $100,000,000 a year in our transactions with the United States, while importations of goods from other countries steadily increase, and it becomes almost impossible, under existing customs regulations, for Canadian factories to compete against "dumped goods" produced by cheap labor and under a depreciated currency.

On railway account alone we are required to raise an amount equal to the whole ordinary expenditure of the Dominion seven or eight years ago. The country is appalled by the magnitude of the railway estimates. It is questionable if even now all the facts have been disclosed, and there is no doubt that the whole issue of our national railways deserves reconsideration by the country.

Time to Remember.

It is time to remember that "retrenchment" once had a meaning in Canada. It is time to remember that without increase in production and extension of settlement, the burden of taxation may become unendurable. It is time to remember that further additions to cost of production, either by mounting wages or the waste and extravagance which unwise measures of taxation produce, threaten general commercial distress and disaster.

We need more of the temper of Australia in dealing with national issues. It is free from that indulgence in fiscal theories which is disturbing the industrial stability of Canada today. All parties are united in protecting home industries, purchasing home products, and developing home markets.

Canada needs the same vigorous industrial policy as Australia, the same patriotic support of the home market, the same appreciation of the necessity for immigration, the same national conception of national problems, and the same spirit of serious co-operation to maintain agricultural and industrial prosperity, and to stimulate national development.

No Class Government.

It needs, too, a more truly democratic system of popular government, in which no group or class will enjoy special advantages at the polls. Despite the stern battle for representation by population before confederation, we still have a system which gives agricultural communities double and triple the political power of voters in urban centres. It used to be argued in defence of these conditions that area as well as population should be considered since rural members could not have that intimate relation with their constituents that city members enjoyed, unless the unit of representation in the country was made very much lower than in the urban centres. The argument no longer applies.

If rural members still have wide areas to cover, they possess newspapers, postal services, the telegraph and the telephone—agencies for the dissemination of information denied to their predecessors—and certainly the people of the country now have at least as complete knowledge of public affairs as those of towns and cities.

Have Increased.

The difficulties of the city member, on the contrary, have steadily increased. He has to consider, not only racial, but social elements in his constituency. There are literally thousands of electors whom he cannot know personally. Where the country member can establish an individual relationship with his constituents, the city member is dependent upon the machinery of meetings, ward organizations, and the complex and infinite detail involved in establishing even distant contact with diverse racial elements accustomed to the political practices of their own countries.

The movement, accentuated by the farmers, towards group and class organization, greatly strengthens the argument for representation by population. Organized farmers have no greater right to representation in the House of Commons than organized labor, or than manufacturers, or any other special element in the community. But under our present electoral system, 40 per cent of the voters in the rural constituencies could impose their will upon the 60 per cent who live in industrial communities; the organized groups, which are definitely committed to radical tariff reductions which imperil the industrial stability of the country, and threaten labor with low wages and unemployment, could inflict their will by a minority vote upon a majority who believe in adequate protection for steady work and living wages. In the place of parliament being "organized" against the agricultural interests, our electoral policy is such today that farmers, "organized in their own interests," could impose their minority views upon the country. The principle of democracy requires that our Parliament should be truly representative. National considerations demand that no class or party should enjoy special concessions. Redistribution of constituencies should be accompanied by representation by population.

National Conference.

There is need also for a national conference of federal ministers, provincial premiers, representatives of the manufacturing associations, boards of trade and agricultural and labor organizations to consider the whole question of duplications of taxes in Canada. Such a conference should not discuss methods of taxation, but consider only what fields of taxation should be reserved by the Dominion, what should be reserved to the provinces or what should be common to the Dominion and the provinces. There is every kind of injustice under the existing system.

MEMBERS RESENT CHARGE THAT THEY ARE ONLY WASTING TIME

Not Keeping Representatives From Getting Home To Aid in Referendum Campaign, They Declare—Two Platoon System For Fire Departments Is Approved.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

TORONTO, March 18.—For an hour today the Ontario Legislature heatedly debated the issue raised in a Toronto morning paper editorial, as to whether the members were wasting time in multiplicity of debates; gave second readings to several bills of minor importance; then adjourned early to permit members to get the "4:50" train.

From the Liberal benches in the House came the most vigorous protest against the suggestions that the House had been wasting time. W. E. N. Sinclair, member for South Ontario, said he voiced the opinions of Liberal members, when he expressed his intention of discussing fairly and fully such measures as were brought down by the House. Nor did he propose, he said, to be "gagged" by any newspaper.

Would Cause Delay.

He said the editorial was along the line that the debates in the Legislature were being carried on for the purpose of delaying members on the Government side of the House from getting home to assist in the referendum, "and inferring," declared Mr. Sinclair, "that our object over here is to stand in with the Liberty League to defeat what is called the referendum."

J. C. Tolmie, Liberal member for Windsor, protested vigorously against any insinuation of "base motives" against honorable members in the launching of discussions.

Has Cost $2,560.

According to announcement on the floor by Premier Drury, the work of investigating rural credits has cost the province to date the sum of $2,500. Under the new superannuation system, it was also announced in reply to question 51 employees of the province have been retired.

The discussion in the House was by no means entirely on the O. T. A. The Opposition groups in the House were not wholly to blame for what was taking place.

Hon. Walter Rollo did not consider that there had been any time wasted. Since there were two groups in opposition, he said, it was only natural that it should take them longer to discuss the business than if they were a single party.

Headache

Resulting from sluggish action of the liver and bowels is quickly relieved by the use of Dr Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. One pill a dose. 25c. a box, all dealers.

Dr. Chases Kidney & Liver Pills

A Small Percentage.

R. M. Warren, U. F. O. member for North Renfrew, believed that there had been an unnecessary waste of time. However, he added, it was only just to note that the offenders were confined to a very small percentage of the two Opposition groups, and not to the parties as a whole.

G. Howard Ferguson, Conservative leader, said there had been a general disposition at all times to expedite the business, but they had a situation in the House which was unique. Legislation comes down and scarcely a man on the Government side takes part in the debate. They had the spectacle of the prime minister and the attorney-general carrying on the discussion on the Government side. There was a larger number on the Opposition side desiring to discuss things, and it therefore, appeared to people that the Opposition were unduly delaying the discussion.

Attorney-General Raney: "Has the House ever lacked for business for a moment since it was opened?"

Mr. Ferguson: "Oh, yes."

Attorney-General Raney: "Not for a minute."

Premier Drury said there had not been a moment since the House met when the order paper had not been clogged with business.

Bill is Approved.

The bill providing for the adoption of the two-platoon system in permanent fire brigades, sponsored by W. A. Crockett, South Wentworth, was considered by the House in committee and approved with an amendment restricting its application to towns and cities of 10,000 persons or over. The amendment was suggested by the attorney-general.

Second readings were given to some minor bills, among them being George G. Halcrow's bill to amend the municipal act respecting petitions where there are no municipal elections, and Joseph E. Thompson's bill to amend the municipal act to permit the payment of $5,000 salaries to controllers of Toronto, if the electors of this city approve the measure.

Was Not Examined.

Through a misunderstanding, R. T. Harding, K.C., former crown counsel in the timber investigation, was not examined by the public accounts committee today. The committee decided that L. C. Parkin of Dundas, Ont., and others should go before the committee and explain items relating to the purchase of automobiles for the public works department, and the deputy minister of public works will be asked to be present. The committee will inquire into the maintenance and repair accounts for the Parliament and Government Buildings, also the salaries of officials in the game and fisheries department.

BRITAIN SHIPPING GOLD.

NEW YORK, March 18.—A shipment of gold worth more than $1,000,000, consigned to the banking firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., arrived here today on the steamer Mercian from England. The steamer Lapland is bringing another consignment valued at nearly $1,000,000, making a total of approximately $118,000,000 received by this concern during the present movement.

VICTIM OF APOPLEXY.

SASKATOON, March 18.—George E. McCraney, K.C., was found dead in the snow a short distance from his residence this afternoon. Death is thought to have been due to apoplexy. Mr. McCraney represented Saskatoon constituency in Parliament for several years, having been elected as a Liberal member in 1906, 1908 and 1911.

50,000 CHEVROLET "Four-Nineties"

CHEVROLET

Chevrolet Sales Record

THE production schedule of Chevrolet "Four-Ninety" Models for the seven months from January 1st to July 31st, 1921, is fifty thousand cars.

To each retail purchaser of a new Model "Four-Ninety" car at present list prices, we will make the following cash payments,—"Four-Ninety" Touring $70; "Four-Ninety" Roadster $70; "Four-Ninety" Light Delivery Wagon $70; "Four-Ninety" Chassis $70; "Four-Ninety" Coupe $100; "Four-Ninety" Sedan $100; provided the Chevrolet Motor Companies manufacture and sell fifty thousand new Chevrolet Model "Four-Ninety" cars between January 1st, 1921, and July 31st, 1921. This offer to be subject to the terms as set forth in full in the refund certificate which will be delivered to each purchaser.

This refund represents savings in material prices under present readjusted conditions, which savings can be made provided Chevrolet factories continue to operate on the estimated average quantity production basis.

It is in keeping with the Chevrolet policy to make the price of its product as low as quality manufacture on a large scale will permit. It is in keeping with the Chevrolet purpose of providing quick, convenient, economical transportation at a cost within reach of those who want an automobile.

Fifty thousand cars is the minimum which Chevrolet engineers estimate will secure substantial savings in cost in manufacture. These savings will be passed on to the purchasers of these fifty thousand cars.

Each purchaser of a Model "Four-Ninety" will receive a certificate from his dealer, or from the Chevrolet retail store manager. This certificate will be redeemed as indicated on its face.

The entire plan is a straightforward business proposition presented in a straightforward way. Whether you are in the market for a new car or not, you must not fail to learn the details of this unique and simple plan. It offers to every man of sound business judgment an opportunity to take advantage of the best automobile value obtainable.

New Hair Growth After BALDNESS

On legal affidavit, John Hart Brittain, business man, certified to this: "My head at the top and back was absolutely bald. An expert said that he thought the hair roots were extinct, and there was no hope of my ever having a new hair growth.

"Yet now, at an age over 66, I have a luxuriant growth of soft, strong, lustrous hair! No trace of baldness. The pictures shown here are from my photographs."

After hair growth

INDIANS' SECRET OF HAIR GROWTH

Mr. Brittain certified further: "At a time when I had become discouraged at trying to grow my hair again, I came across, in my travels, a Cherokee Indian 'medicine man' who had an elixir that he asseverated would grow my hair. Although I had but little faith I gave it a trial. To my amazement a light fuzz soon appeared. It developed, day by day, into a healthy growth, and ere long my hair was as prolific as in my youthful days."

True Hair Grower at Last

"That I was astonished and happy to expressing my state of mind mildly. Obviously, the hair roots had not been dead, but were dormant in the scalp, awaiting the fertilizing potency of the then mysterious pomade. I negotiated for and came into possession of the principle for preparing this, now called KOTALKO, and later had the recipe put into practical form by a chemist. That my own hair growth was permanent has been amply proved."

KOTALKO IS SOLD BY

GIRLS "MAKE UP" IN HIGH SCHOOL, MOTHERS HEAR

Fancy Garters, Bare Knees Cosmetics Displayed by Some, Says Teacher.

Detroit, Mich., March 18—In a plea for the return of the old-fashioned mothers—whom the daughters of today might call "cranks," Miss Sadie M. Alley, grade principal at Northwestern High School, recited the following, at a mothers' meeting held in the school Wednesday afternoon, as things some of the high school girls were doing:

"Wearing fancy garters so that they will show.

"Roll stockings below the knee, a style also discernible to all.

"Appear in school differently dressed than when they leave home. A few safety pins transform a dress into any length desired.

"Use powder rags openly.

"Pencil eyebrows and lashes with ink and fountain pens."

Mothers' "Circle" Organized.

The mothers' meeting was called by Byron J. Rivett, principal, to talk over matters pertaining to school dances, and problems resulting from them. The ban on school parties has been on since about the time the University of Michigan decided not to hold the "U. hop," and the meeting Wednesday was the culmination of some two months' investigation made by the teachers of downtown dance halls and parties as well as affairs in the school and its neighborhood. Principal and teachers agreed there were problems in which the parents must assist.

And the mothers came. Foreign speaking mothers, frankly startled by the difficulties they are experiencing in raising their daughters in a strange land; American mothers wholly unprepared for the information regarding their daughters gained from the classroom, and others recognizing their problems, but not knowing exactly how to handle them.

MODERN PUBLIC HEALTH

(University Extension Board of Western University.)

POPULATION.

This year is census year—Canada is going to measure its own "height and weight in the world—to find out how much it has grown or lost; to see if it is under-nourished or over-nourished or what, in citizens.

A nation is curiously like the human body, for its natural growth consists in the reproduction of its individual units—cells in the case of the body, people in the case of the nation. Just as in the body the new material produced must more than make up for the waste and wear or tear, if growth is to result, so in a nation the number of births must be greater than the number of the deaths to make the population increase by natural means.

NATIONAL SIAMESE TWINS.

But nations can grow another way, by a method not very common in the human body itself—that is by the actual addition of new-ready made material from outside, instead of any internal growth. This does happen in the human body sometimes, as when a surgeon transplants skin from one person to another. In the case of a nation, the immigrant is the transplanted skin, forming a ready-made and often very welcome addition. It must be admitted, however, that sometimes immigration results in the same sort of discrepancy of which Jeff complained to Mutt recently—the skin that was transplanted to Jeff's wounded head turned out to be chicken skin and grew feathers instead of hair! Immigrants sometimes introduce "hair-raising" methods of a like bizarre character.

HOW IS LONDON GROWING?

If we dare to take the figures of 1919 in face of the new census due this year, London's internal growth is not very satisfactory. The number of deaths and the number of births were altogether too much alike in that year to give an appreciable impetus to our population figures. This leaves us to immigration as the alternative.

WHY NOT BETTER?

Fort William had births and deaths in the proportion of 35 per cent to 12, three times as many were born as the total of those who died. That means a good growth from within, a growth of population in native citizens.

Toronto had about twice as many births as it had deaths—and that is a fair average of growth from within. But London had only 9 births to 17 deaths—only a 1-6th margin.

WHAT IS THE MATTER?

The birth rate of London is fairly normal—the real trouble is with the deaths, and amongst the deaths, the deaths of young children are very prominent. We must face the facts and admit that we are behind the times—or were in 1918—on this point.

WHAT SHOULD WE HAVE DONE?

In 1918 the Child Welfare Association was organized. The death rate amongst infants at that time was nothing to boast of. In 1919 it was pretty well up, although very active work was carried on through clinics and home visiting.

INFANT MORTALITY COMING DOWN.

But the good results of this work were shown in 1920, the figures for which have just been compiled, for London was down to 104 deaths under one year old for each 1,000 births, which means a saving in babies in London that year as compared with the year before of about 12 per cent. But even so the loss is quite far above the losses in some other places, where the "saving babies' campaign" has been going on longer.

WHAT ARE CHIEF CAUSES OF DEATH?

The institute in co-operation with the Child Welfare Association and the Social Service Council has been making a special study of the situation in 1920, as shown by physicians reports to the local registrar of vital statistics, Mr. Samuel Baker, city clerk.

STARTLING FIGURES.

These figures give an idea of the real causes of infant deaths very different from those which most people casually hold. For instance, no less than 60 per cent of the total loss was due to causes operating before the child was actually born at all—that means to conditions affecting the mother. Only 40 per cent were due to causes which affected the child only after it was born.

PRENATAL CARE THE GREAT CURE.

We all know that the mother's condition before the baby is born affects the child, but perhaps few of us realize how much. Prenatal clinics for the care of the mother have been organized, and physicians are giving much attention to this, subject for private patients who go to them. But the patients themselves are the ones who make the real difficulty—they hold off until it is too late.

CARE OF THE MOTHER.

For at least five months before the baby is born the mother should be under medical supervision; yet a great many mothers do not receive five days, sometimes do not receive five hours, prenatal attention—because they do not ask for it—do not know its importance—"take a chance." So it comes about that we lose mothers by death every year; and still more do we lose babies.

POST NATAL CAUSES.

After a baby is successfully born and is battling with the big world, he has a better chance of survival than before he was born—curious isn't it? But even then, an unnecessary number die of things which we, who have been longer in the game than the baby has, ought to protect him from. The two great causes of death in the 40 per cent, which are not due to prenatal causes are malnutrition at first, infectious diseases later. First we starve the poor youngster; then we let the "wild animals" of civilization—the germs—get at him.

STARVING BABIES.

Human babies require human milk to be really successful youngsters—and that is the one really proper food for them. True, skillful medical attention will succeed more or less well in steering a good many babies through the many pitfalls and barbed wire fences of artificial feeding—but an appalling number die. Just the same, who might have lived if human milk were used.

Finally, babies are very sensitive to infectious diseases, especially after they are six to nine months old. There is a very fatal teaching abroad to the effect that "young children suffer mildly from children's diseases"—let them have them early and get it over with. This is the most ghastly fallacy. Almost all the deaths from children's diseases are in young children—the older they are when they get the disease, the more likely they are to recover.

Whoever started the other story certainly had no desire to see the population grow! It is hard to discover where or how such stories spring into being—for not a single medical authority of standing but preaches and teaches the very opposite—and no one who has watched children and children's statistics but knows that the younger the child the higher the death rate in measles, in whooping cough, in scarlet fever, diphtheria and even in chickenpox. Nursing infants, while nursing, it is true, escape in some diseases; but after that stage, the younger they are the worse it is for them.

Prenatal care, human milk, and keeping infectious diseases away—those are the things that will save London babies. We may grow by immigration—and we welcome such growth. But we must grow by citizenry also to make a real city—and the way to that sort of growth is the way of Child Welfare.

A Message to Skin Sufferers

For years perhaps you have had to endure discomfort, disfigurement, humiliation, or even daily torture and sleepless nights, because of some skin disease. Times without number you have followed some hopeful advice and each time you have met only disappointment and despair.

"Who knows?" you ask. "Whose advice may I follow?"

Here is a frank and honest answer:

Reputable physicians admit they can only guess at the true cause of skin disease. Some say it is a blood disease—to be treated through the blood. Others say it is "a skin disease—to be treated through the skin. But they are not sure and we would be foolish to try to tell you what even science does not know.

We can tell you, however, about a doctor's prescription for skin disease that has been successfully used for 25 years, and we merely ask you to read letters from those who have used it.

A Doctor's Prescription

D.D.D. is the prescription of a physician, Dr. D. D. Dennis, who first prescribed it to his neighborhood patients 25 years ago. Today its sale is enormous. Even so, we do not shout from the housetops that D. D. D. is a miracle. It is just a commonsense lotion compounded of well known healing and soothing ingredients, such as thymol, oil of wintergreen, etc. We make no extravagant claims. We say only this: That for 25 years, day after day, letters have simply poured in—without our suggestion or solicitation—telling us gratefully of restored health and happiness

If you ask us what is the secret of D. D. D.'s success, we can only answer: "Read the following letters and judge for yourself"

First Doctors—Then a Skin Specialist—Then a Bottle of D. D. D.

I was a sufferer for two years with eczema on the legs and ankles. I tried four different doctors and none of them did me any good. I then went to a skin specialist but he was no better.

At last I secured a trial bottle of D. D. D. and it did me so much good that I sent for a dollar bottle, also a cake of soap. That is all I used, and I am perfectly well.
23 Melbourne Ave., Toronto, Ont., Can. J. W. CORNS.

Salt Rheum Covered Her Face Every Winter

I used one sample bottle of D. D. D. and one dollar bottle and it healed my face of Salt Rheum. I spent a good many dollars with doctors and other medicines. I was bothered every winter and last winter I had no trouble. My skin was perfectly free from any spot, thanks to D.D.D.
Brookvale, N. S. Canada. MRS. JAMES H. RYDER.

Terrible Weeping Eczema

I suffered with weeping eczema on my hands. I was obliged to give up my work. I was told to try D. D. D. Prescription, also soap. When I had used but half a dollar bottle my hands were healed.
23 Dundas St., Hamilton, Ont. MRS. E. HAYES.

Some of these letters may seem too enthusiastic, but remember, they were written in ecstacy of relief from years of suffering. What wouldn't you give to be able to write us in the same spirit of happiness? We will not say these grateful correspondents are healed—we will simply say there are HAPPY AGAIN—after years of pain and suffering. We make no sweeping claims. You can draw greater comfort and confidence from what D. D. D. has done for 25 years than from anything we can say.

D.D.D. Prescription will be found effective in cases of Eczema, Psoriasis, Ringworm, Barber's Itch, Hives, Rash, Acne, Dandruff. Pimples often yield to treatment over night. In all cases, D. D. D. gives relief from itching upon the first application.

Trial Bottle Sent on Request

Without making any promises of miraculous results, we urge you to send the coupon today for a trial bottle of the famous D.D.D. Prescription. Note that soothing, refreshing feeling after the first few drops! We have letters stating that our trial bottle alone was enough to free some sufferers from the torment of skin disease. If then, you are afflicted with eczema, psoriasis, ringworm, scales, pimples, or any form of skin disease, mild or violent, send the coupon at once for this generous trial bottle of D.D.D. Prescription. Enclose only ten cents to cover cost of packing and postage. Do not delay.

KING ASKS WHY RESIGNATION OF AMES WITHHELD

Opposition Members Are Keenly Critical of Govt. Actions.

LEGALITY QUESTIONED

Thomas Vien Scores Appointments To the Purchasing Commission.

OTTAWA, March 18.—(By Canadian Press.)—The House of Commons opened today with a brief skirmish over the resignation of Sir Herbert Ames, then drifted into supply. First, there was some further discussion of the agriculture estimates, Dr. Clark of Red Deer attacking what was termed the indiscriminate distribution of pamphlets. Later, justice department estimates being under review, Thomas Vien of Lotbiniere, wanted to know when Canadian appeals to the judicial committee of the privy council would be stopped.

"Now that we have reached the status of nationhood," Mr. Vien pressed, "cannot we dispense with that tribunal?"

"Canadian appeals to the privy council will cease," the justice minister replied, "just as soon as the Parliament of Canada makes up its mind it does not want them."

Again Critical.

Opposition members were also again critical of the creation by order-in-council of the purchasing commission. They raised the question on a purchase for the penitentiaries. The House, declared Frank Cahill, Pontiac, had twice refused to authorize creation of such a commission.

The minister of justice explained that the purchasing commission was a body with supervisory powers. He argued that the Government required no special authority for its creation.

Against the Law.

Mr. Vien retorted that appointments to the purchasing commission should have been made by the civil service commission, and not by the governor-in-council. Such appointments did not, he complained, comply with the law.

Mr. Vien suggested establishment of a central store for the purchase of supplies. The minister replied that purchases were now being made in a systematic manner. At this, A. B. Copp, Westmoreland, N. B., cited the case of the Dorchester Penitentiary. Meat purchased in Westmoreland County (in which the Dorchester Penitentiary is situated), had been shipped, he said, to the Montreal market. At Montreal, dealers purchased the meat and shipped it back to Dorchester.

Mr. Doherty promised inquiry and information. Goods for the Dorchester Penitentiary, he added, were purchased by contract.

Wants Explanation.

When the House opened this afternoon, Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, leader of the Opposition, called the attention of the prime minister to the fact that the resignation of Sir Herbert Ames, St. Antoine, Montreal, which was announced in the House yesterday, was dated February 14, 1921. This was the day on which the House opened, and Mr. King asked what explanation there was to the fact that negative answers had been given to questions by the Opposition on March 2 and March 3, asking if Sir Herbert Ames had resigned.

Hon. Mr. King added that Sir Herbert Ames was in France on the date on which his resignation was witnessed in Ottawa by W. S. Middlebro, North Grey, and H. F. Whidden, Brandon.

Mr. King asked how it happened that Sir Herbert Ames' resignation was witnessed in Ottawa by the two members mentioned, when Sir Herbert Ames was overseas on that date. He also wished to know why the resignation should be withheld from the Speaker for a month after the date when it was witnessed.

Meighen Cannot Tell.

Right Hon. Arthur Meighen replied that he had had no knowledge of a public statement attributed to Sir Herbert Ames that his resignation was in the hands of the Speaker. Prior to going to Europe, Sir Herbert had written his resignation and had left instructions that it was to be brought down on a certain date. These instructions had been strictly adhered to.

First reading was given the bill to amend the prisons and reformatories act. Hon. C. J. Doherty, minister of justice, explained that the amendment would advance the age at which a minor could be sent to a penitentiary from 16 to 18 years. Another amendment will make necessary changes in the reformatory regulations in Nova Scotia. On motion of S. W. Jacobs George Etienne Cartier, first reading was given to a bill, the purpose of which is to enlarge the scope of the bankruptcy act, and to harmonize with the English and French versions.

S. W. Jacobs said he understood a commission was being appointed in England to inquire into the embargo on Canadian cattle. He wished to know whether Canada would be represented in this commission.

Received Notice.

The prime minister replied that the Government had received notice of the appointment of this commission, but had not yet received the terms of the commission. Upon these would depend the action of the Government. He would assure the House that all facts in support of the Canadian contention would be laid before the commission.

Hon. Charles Murphy said that in view of the fact that the prime minister of Australia had announced that the Parliament of the Commonwealth would be given an opportunity to discuss matters which would come before the imperial conference in June, would the prime minister of Canada give the House a similar assurance.

Hon. Arthur Meighen said that he had already announced that an opportunity would be given for such a discussion.

Objection Raised.

Objection was raised when Hon. C. J. Doherty moved the House into supply to take up the department of justice estimates. Liberal members protested that they should have been given notice of the intention to proceed with these estimates. The prime minister read from Hansard to show that he had informed the House last night that justice estimates were to be proceeded with.

F. S. Cahill, Pontiac, refused to consent to the committee proceeding with justice estimates, and estimates of the department of agriculture were proceeded with.

The item of $34,500 for publications in this department was discussed at some length, the minister explaining that this covered publication of the Agriculture Gazette and other publications.

Alleged indiscriminate distribution of government pamphlets was attacked by Dr. Michael Clark, Red Deer, who declared that were he to attempt to read those which he received, he would find his entire time occupied.

The estimates of the department of justice then followed.

The first item of $10,000, deputy minister's salary, was criticized by A. R. Gould, Assiniboia, remarking that it indicated the position given to agriculture, that the deputy minister of the agriculture department should receive nearly $5,500 per annum and a house.

Playing Favorites.

Ernest Lapointe, Quebec East, asked why it was that Conservative lawyers were always selected to handle government cases in Quebec City.

A. B. Copp, Westmoreland, also criticized the system by which secretaries in the department of justice received a bonus in addition to their salaries.

The salaries of the department, totalling $190,632.50, an increase of $5,130 over the preceding year, were passed with contingencies of $35,000, an increase of $1,000.

After several minor items from the department of justice the House went into the estimate for penitentiaries, which shows an increase of $275,000, compared with last year.

Crimes of Violence.

Replying to many questions, Hon. Mr. Doherty said there was an increase in the number of penitentiary inmates in the eastern provinces, but not in the West. Most of the convictions in the last few months had been for crimes of violence. Last year penitentiaries cost the country $1,096,300. This year the estimate is $1,371,600. The cost per inmate was $1.61 per diem.

Replying to Thomas Vien, Lotbiniere, the minister of justice said appeals to the privy council from Canada would stop just as soon as the Parliament of Canada made up its mind it did not want them.

"Now that Canada has reached the status of nationhood, cannot we dispense with that insular tribunal," was Mr. Vien's question.

At 6 o'clock the House was still considering penitentiary estimates. Just before the dinner adjournment the minister informed A. B. Copp, Westmoreland, that the appointment of William Meighen to the wardenship of Dorchester Penitentiary was made by the civil service commission, and on the basis of promotion.

DEATH RATE LOWER AMONG ABSTAINERS

Superintendent of Insurance Adds To Recent Statement Regarding Statistics.

OTTAWA, March 18. — By Canadian Press.—G. D. Finlayson, superintendent of insurance, in a statement tonight refers to evidence given before the pensions committee with respect to the relative mortality of abstainers and non-abstainers.

"The statement with reference to the relative mortality experienced by abstainers and non-abstainers as insured lives," said Mr. Finlayson, "was made in connection with a private bill promoted by a particular company which has a comparatively small abstainers' section, and the question as to the experience of this section having arisen it was stated that at the present time the mortality in this section was higher than in the general section. It was, however, clearly pointed out that owing to the small number of lives involved this fact had absolutely no significance as indicating the relative mortality of abstainers and non-abstainers generally.

"The experience of companies operating abstainers' sections in a large way, and also investigations made from time to time both in the United States and Great Britain into the mortality of the two classes, go to show that the abstainers' class experiences a lower rate of mortality than the general class."

CHANGES IN MANAGEMENT OF C. N. R. NOT CONSIDERED

TORONTO, March 18.—Hon. Dr. Reid, who is here on private business, declared that there has been no discussion of changes in the management of the Canadian National Railways, as frequently rumored. There was absolutely nothing in the report that such changes were contemplated, said the minister.

Dr. Reid called on D. B. Hanna, president of the Canadian National Railways, who merely "shook hands," so the doctor said.

CHEMICAL PRODUCTS, LIMITED.
This company manufactures sulphuric acid, acid phosphate (chemical fertilizer), sodium nitrate, refined, and Aspirin from the raw materials located near its plant at Trenton, Ontario. Most of these products have been heretofore imported into Canada. The demand for these products is greater than this company supply for a great many years. They are manufacturing now and the estimated net returns for this year is about three times the amount of the dividends required for preferrd stock. That is why the common stock will have a substantial rise in market price when listed. Our advice is to make immediate application for this stock.

SARNIA NOW FREE FROM SMALLPOX

SARNIA, March 18.—At a brief special meeting of the board of health this afternoon reports showed that the city is now free of smallpox, all cases previously recorded having been released. Inspector Crosby advocated the continuance of the lease of another month on the house secured to isolate a recent patient and to care for any further cases that may develop. The board concurred and authorized the continuance of the lease. A reply was received from the Sarnia Hospital Board in reply to a communication sent following the last meeting to ascertain if it would be possible to secure the house which comprises part of the hospital property for use as a temporary isolation house. The hospital board pointed out that the city council would be the proper body to approach, and Secretary J. D. Stewart was requested to bring this matter to the attention of the council at the next session.

MORE HOUSES NEEDED.
WOODSTOCK, March 18.—Last year the housing commission erected 30 houses and quite a number of private citizens constructed homes for rental. Despite this, there is a great scarcity of houses, and it is next to impossible to rent a house. Rentals have slightly increased, and real estate men say that the number of property transfers has increased.

PLAN FOR BIG CONVENTION.
HAMILTON, March 18.—What will be probably the largest and the longest convention of the year in Hamilton will be that of the annual meeting of the Union of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, which has three locals in this city. About 500 delegates from different parts of the United States and Canada will be in attendance, and the convention, which will open on May 2, will last three weeks, Bert Furey, president of the local convention committee and chairman of the trades and labor council, announced today.

VARIABLE GAINS IN NEW YORK MARKET

Advances in Leading Issues—Others Suffer From Selling Depression.

NEW YORK, March 18.—For the most part today's stock market repeated its uncertain and confusing course of the previous session. A number of the leaders scored variable gains, while other issues of equal or lesser prominence suffered from further selling pressure.

Oils, steels, equipments and food and leather specialties were higher at their best by 1 to 4 points, but top prices were slightly impaired in the realizing movement at the end. Tobaccos, motors and rails were inclined to react, together with a few specialties, of which Columbia Graphaphone, preferred, was again a striking example. The total sales of stocks amounted to 800,000 shares.

The net result offered no obvious indications of any material change of speculative sentiment other than those based on technical considerations or motives of temporary expediency. In connection with the partial recovery of Atlantic-Gulf it was rumored that the company had succeeded in its efforts to obtain financial assistance.

Another large decrease in steel structural orders, further indefinite suspension of textile operations in the South, and the opposition of the United Mine Workers toward wage reductions added to the disturbed industrial situation.

Supplies for day-to-day use were again so plentiful as to effect a further decline in the call money rate to 5 per cent in the open market, but the lowest quotation on the exchange was 6 per cent. The foreign exchange market was featureless as to London and Paris quotations, but every other important European centre was inclined to strengthen, especially Italy and the Scandinavian capitals.

Activity and firmness ruled in the bond market, although the Liberty group eased moderately from their early best. The total sales of bonds, par value, aggregated $10,175,000.

CANADA CAR DEAL MONTREAL FEATURE

Big Transaction Affects Prices Considerably—Remainder of Market Dull.

MONTREAL, March 18.—The feature of the local stock market today was the "put through" of 15,112 shares of Canada Car, common, and of 10,025 of preferred for an American holder. The transaction affected the price of the common, which moved up to 36½ and closed unsteadily at 34½. The preferred was down ½ point at the close.

The rest of the market was dull with, however, some substantial gains recorded, of which the largest were made by Detroit United Railway, up 3 points at 83; the Spanish River stocks, up 2½ points for the common, and 1½ points for the preferred. Sugar, Riordon, Steel of Canada, Canadian General Electric, all movedd up a point each.

The largest losses were recorded by Woods Mfg., preferred, which has not been traded in since last October, and which today lost 3½ points, and Bank of Montreal, which declined 3 points.

Taken as a whole in the list, utilities were higher, except for Ottawa Power, the steels were higher, and the papers were higher, except Abitibi, which lost a small fraction at 44, and Laurentide, unchanged. The cotton group was neglected.

Bonds were again listless, though more active than yesterday.

Total trading: Listed stocks, 32,111 shares; bonds, par value, $196,150.

EGG RECEIPTS ARE CONTINUING HEAVY

Many Firms Have Surplus Stock and Storing Will Commence.

OTTAWA, March 18.—Egg receipts continue heavy, and some eastern firms report the demand is not quite as heavy as anticipated. Many firms have a surplus, and in the course of a few days storing will probably begin. The tone of the market is easy and tending to slightly lower levels.

BROAD TRADING ON TORONTO EXCHANGE

But Sustained Activity Lacking and Volume of Business Small.

TORONTO, March 18.—Advancing prices generally prevailed in Canadian stocks today. Local trading was fairly broad, but small in total volume, with almost no issues having sustained activity. The upward movement, however, was quite evident, and some observers applying it to the change which came over Wall Street, went so far as to say "the spring rise was begun."

Local brokers were heard to say that a few more days of strength in the New York market could mean nothing else but a turn; that the long period of uncertainty could then be considered to have ended for the time being.

Paper stocks on the Toronto market were relatively inactive. Abitibi, Riordon and Brompton showed losses of a small fraction here. A rise in Canadian Car and Foundry was an important development among industrials, and though the stock was not active it closed at 34 bid. Atlantic Sugar was 2½ points higher; National Car, preferred, up 2 points; Bell Telephone, up 1 point; F. N. Burt, up 1 point, while several other industrials made fractional gains.

Among the traction stocks Brazilian, Twin City and Quebec moved up fractionally. In the group of weaker issues were Dominion Steel, Canada Steamships, Canadian Pacific, Mackay, and National Steel Car. Makay had a wider range than usual, selling up to 72½, and closing at 71½.

Total trading: Listed stocks, 1,381 shares; unlisted stocks, 145 shares; bond, par value, $421,250.

CHEAP EGGS FOR EASTER

Even With Active Demand the Prices Continue To Slump.

36 CENTS PER DOZEN RETAIL

Poultry Extremely Scarce — Pork Prices Firmer—Good Demand for Apples.

Egg prices fell to the lowest level they have hit for some time at the local market on Saturday. The ruling wholesale prices were 34c and 36c per dozen, although the majority of the sales were around 34c per dozen. They did not bring over 36c per dozen, retail. The supplies were large, and the demand was good. Further slumps are looked for next week.

Apples took on a slightly firmer stand. By the bushel they brought from $1 to $1.50, and by the barrel $3 and $3.50. The demand was exceedingly active.

Several gallons of maple syrup were on the square, and prices were inclined to be lower, although buying was fairly good. All farmers were asking $3.50 to $3.75 per gallon. It was intimated that a couple of carloads had reached the city from Quebec, and it is thought these have eased the local demand.

One lone duck comprised the poultry market today. The farmer who owned it was asking 40c per pound. It appears quite evident that all lines of poultry are in good demand.

Front and hind quarters of pork were a little firmer in price. Hinds brought 24c and 25c per pound and fronts sold at 22c and 23c per pound. Dressed hogs went up to $19 and $20 per hundredweight.

Early today three loads of oats were at the square and were soon disposed of. The first load went at $1.55 per hundredweight and the other two at $1.50 per hundredweight.

The attendance was large.

Why B. C. Man Recommends Dodd's Kidney Pills.

N. P. Molander Tells Why He Feels in a Position to Say Dodd's Kidney Pills Are Beneficial.

Kitchener, B. C., March 18.—(Special).—"I feel a lot better since I started using Dodd's Kidney Pills for my rheumatism. They have done me a lot of good, and I am satisfied I can recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to anybody as very beneficial."

N. P. Molander, who makes the above statement, is a well-known and respected resident of this place. That statement and hundreds of others along the same lines are the foundation of the reputation Dodd's Kidney Pills have made.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are a kidney remedy. People who have used them say they are good for sick kidneys. Everybody knows that healthy kidneys are absolutely essential to good health. The kidneys strain the impurities out of the blood. If the impurities remain in the blood trouble is bound to follow.

Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills are not a splendid remedy for sick kidneys.

BEARISH MARKETS IN CHICAGO GRAIN

Wheat Heavy Despite Reported Crop Havoc of Green Bugs.

CHICAGO, March 18.—Bearish sentiment due to general economic conditions proved more than an offset in the wheat market today for green bug crop damage reports. The market closed heavy, 2¼c to 3¼c net lower, with March, $1.54½ to $1.54¾; and May, $1.45 to $1.45½. Corn lost ½c to ⅞c, and oats, ¼c to ⅝c. In provisions there were gains varying from 7½c to 35c.

At first wheat bulls made considerable progress, many traders being impressed by authoritative announcement that the green bug pest had invaded Kansas, the banner wheat state of the country. A big eastern short was conspicuous in the buying, but there seemed to be no difficulty in filling the demand. When this fact became apparent, commission houses turntd largely to the selling side, putting special stress on the industrial outlook, especially the overwhelming majority for a strike in the meat packing industry if the federal parley fails. Toward the end of the day liberal offerings from a house in Omaha found the market bare of support, and with no export business in sight, and with predictions current that shipments from Canada into the United States would soon be greatly enlarged, the finish was at the lowest level of the session.

Corn and oats weakened with wheat. Trade was light.

Export call for lard gave strength to provisions. Besides, hogs values were sharply higher.

PRICES FIRMER IN 'PEG GRAIN MARKET

Fair Volume of Business Transacted — Southwest Crops Reported Damaged.

WINNIPEG, March 18.—In an irregular trading market today, in which a fair volume of business was transacted, prices were mostly stronger at the opening on reports of crop damage in the South, and some export demand.

Cash premiums were 9c over at one time for top-grade wheat, but in the latter part of the session the demand appeared less urgent, and the premiums broke to 8c, 5c and 1c over the May. The offerings were light at all times, and it was hard to estimate the strength of the demand.

In the future markets there was little buying of an investment nature, the market closing 1c to 1⅞c lower. In local trade the belief is still held that our prices are out of line with Chicago.

In the coarse grain markets little activity was displayed, the demand being easily satisfied. Oats closed ⅜c to ½c lower; barley, 1c lower; flax, ¼c lower, and rye, unchanged.

TECHNICAL SCHOOL WORK EXHIBITION ATTRACTS THRONGS

Handicraft of Students Provides Instructive and Interesting Evening's Entertainment.

MUSICAL PROGRAM

Exhibits of Women's Handiwork in Millinery, Dressmaking, Embroidery.

Despite the fact that there has been no parade made by Principal H. B. Beal and his staff of competent instructors, the spacious halls, stairways and rooms of the Technical and Art School, Dundas street, were thronged last night with interested sightseers, young and old, who took the opportunity afforded by the opening of "visitors' week" to view the work of the students, many of whom are doubtless sons and daughters, or brothers and sisters of some of the spectators.

Brightly lighted, echoing and re-echoing to happy voices, merry laughter and the sweet strains of excellently-rendered musical selections provided by the six-piece Technical School orchestra, which made its first public appearance, the big building induced a dream of what great possibilities lie in the school buildings of the city as community centres at present, not merely unused but positively going to waste.

Fairyland of Opportunity.

For the fortunate visitor who had time to leisurely grasp all that was to be seen a tour of the different departments provided, amidst almost idealistically pleasant surroundings, a great wealth of information and education. To the young boys who vied with each other in trying who could see the most and pick out the most interesting exhibit the place appeared a veritable fairyland of opportunity to learn how "to make something."

While for the large number of young girls the millinery, embroidery and dressmaking rooms, with their daintily artistic samples of the work of clever and nimble fingers, were a very paradise, which stirred in their hearts a desire to be able to make such delicate and beautiful garments for themselves.

Work Samples Interesting.

To the older people came pangs very akin to jealousy and regret that such schools did not fall to their lot. But this twinge of longing for the impossible was greatly lessened if not altogether dissipated by the great interest to be found in the samples of work done by the young men and maidens, the boys and girls who in the course of a few brief years will take on their shoulders the responsibilities of citizenship, better equipped than their parents, to make London the pride of Canada, and Canada the pride of the whole world.

The exhibition will be open this afternoon and again on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings.

Turning to the left at the top of the steps on entering the building the first three rooms are found to be devoted to exhibits of the work of students attending the six months and shorter courses in millinery, embroidery and sewing and dressmaking. In the first-named room the instructress, Miss Smith, took special pleasure in directing the attention of the reporter to some two or three outstanding samples of the millinery art made by her students.

The first hat to which she directed attention looked the full equal in aristocratic style and finish of any on display in the downtown store windows. It was constructed of black maline and narrow mohair braid, trimmed with tiny roses of blue corded ribbon. The next, made by a six-months' pupil, was also made of maline and mohair with a transparent crown and trimmed with pastelle shaded narrow ribbon, looked a veritable "love of a hat." Other excellent samples included a hat made of gold lace and trimmed with navy blue silk; a hat the crown of which was a veritable flower bed, and a dainty little pink silk Dorothea hat which any mother would be proud to see her little 8-year-old daughter wear, were other notable samples.

In the room devoted to the embroidery and sewing exhibits, the display was of a standard of quality which was positive proof that the fingers of the women of today have in no wise lost the skill of their forebears in the designing and fashioning of beautiful frivolities so much loved by the feminine sex.

To the male visitor to the room containing the samples of dressmaking and including specimens of all classes of dresses from the serviceable house dress of gingham to the fashionable evening dress of soft silk, was an eye-opener, and the wise bachelor will make the wife of his choice from amongst the young women who have learned to make their own dresses at the Technical School rather than from those who let others make them for them. Nor was there lacking evidence of originality in design, trimming and finish which was a delight to the artistic eye.

Other phases of the instruction in "home-making" that is given at "The Tech" were to be seen in the domestic science room in hunger-compelling samples of bread, cakes, biscuits, cookies, pies, etc., all freshly made. But outstanding as an exhibit here was the handsome gas cook stove donated by the McClary Manufacturing Company as first prize for the student attending the six-month home cooking course and securing the highest marks. The winner had to attend 90 per cent of the course, show highest quality in her term work, notes, recipes, table setting and practical cooking. The winner of the prize was Mrs. Jennings of 588 Princess avenue.

In the chemistry laboratory a number of intensely interesting exhibits of applied chemistry were on show, including Sulphonal oils, Cobalt ore and its treatment, coal tar products traced from a lump of coal through their various ramifications to dyes, aniline colors, perfumes, etc.

Many excellent studies in pencil, crayon, water colors and oils are "hung" in the art room, including a number of studies from life. This room would well repay an hour's visit and study.

A similar tribute may quite justly be paid to the exhibits of wood carving by women on show in the wood-carving room.

Of the architectural drawings and their actual quality and value as working drawings only an experienced architectural draftsman could speak with assurance, but to the uninitiated they appealed as fine samples of workmanship. Amongst the drawings are several suggested designs for the entrance to the auditorium, which it is hoped will soon form a part of the Technical School premises.

Amongst the exhibits of woodwork made by the students are a number of very handsome pieces of furniture, amongst which special mention must be made of the heavy oak table in the library and reading-room. This table, which is of solid oak, was made by the students. It is 16 feet in length and 4 feet 6 inches in width. The handsome oak bookcase which adorns one side of the room is also the work of the students. Most of the necessary furniture for the school is being made on the premises by students, and at the present time no less than twelve knee-hole writing desks for the teachers' rooms are under construction.

In the carpentry and joinery room interesting models of roofs and stairways are shown. These models are always available for study by any local builder who is seeking the solution of a problem of how to frame his roof to unusual angles.

The pride, however, of Principal Beal and his whole staff is centred in the machine shop, which, they claim, is the best equipped in the province and possibly on the continent. Here under competent instructors, the young machinist may learn the latest practice in theory and by actual operation in machine construction and tool making. Splendid samples of steel lathe work are on show, work which has been done and tested by micrometer as to its absolute perfection of finish.

Other departments that provide a vast fund of interest and instruction even for the casual visitor are the automobile room, the electric wiring room, the physical laboratory, the plumbing room and the oxy-acetylene welding and cutting apparatus in the machine shop.

TELLS OF CANADIAN GRAVES IN FRANCE

Certain Bishop Would Not Criticize Empire.

IF THE BRUTISH HUNS

Had Destroyed His Cathedral, Says Capt. Mollineux of the War Graves Commission.

While showing a number of slides of devastated cathedrals in France Friday at the Auditorium, Capt. Mollineux of the Imperial War Graves Commission remarked that if a certain bishop found his cathedral in such a state he might criticize the British Empire less, and talk more of the bruitishness of the Hun. Applause followed this remark.

After seeing the views one cannot but be greatly impressed with the evidence of the work the commission is doing, and the stupendous difficulties it has to overcome in carrying out its duties. There are 3,500 cemeteries in France and Belgium, the speaker said, covering an area of 8,000,000 acres. Nine-tenths of these cemeteries are in France. This latter country, it was said, had received less sympathy than it really deserved. There were 200 cemeteries in the Ypres district alone.

Recaptured Twenty Times.

Scenes in various cemeteries, including the various stages of improvement under the supervision of the commission, were ones that could not fail to impress. Some of these places had been taken and retaken by the British as many as twenty times, and as a result they were greatly damaged by shell fire. Now many of them are almost as beautiful as cemeteries in unoccupied districts. Every square foot of ground is being covered in the search for bodies, and isolated bodies are brought to the nearest cemetery and burial service read over them.

Among the monuments was seen one erected in memory of the work of the Royal Canadian Dragoons. Around it were smaller stones over the graves of Canadians who had fallen in action in that vicinity.

Floral Nurseries.

Nurseries for the growing of flowers for the cemeteries, and stone-cutting places, had been established near the various cemeteries, and gardeners were brought to work each day by means of lorries. One particular grave of interest was that of a member of the Chinese Labor Corps who had died in the service of the Empire. No matter of what creed or race the hero was, his grave was given the same tender care as the rest.

In each cemetery was a large monument with an appropriate message hewn on it, and at the opposite end of the cemetery was the Cross of Sacrifice, which is common to all British cemeteries constructed during and since the war.

Persons intending to visit the graves of loved ones in France were warned not to book with private companies for the expenses were very high, and these companies could not assure the pilgrims that they would find the graves which they were desirous of visiting. The hotels in France were expensive, too, and so was the means of private transportation.

Advice For Pilgrims.

If the pilgrims visited Mrs. Fraser at the Canadian Red Cross Women's Hostel, 20 Prince's Garden, London, S. W. 7 (Telephone, Kensington 7131), they would find that they could go direct to the cemetery they wished to visit for a moderate sum. A program of the journey would be provided. Pictures of particular graves can be secured by supplying the secretary of St. Barnabas Hostel, Calais, France, with the name of the deceased, his number, his regiment, and the name of the cemetery in which he is buried, and the number of his lot in the cemetery.

Capt. Mollineux urged for greater comradeship in the empire, and that the cross of sacrifice be an inspiration for the living to "carry on," and uphold the ideals for which the dead had fought.
