Another Stunning Defeat for the Conservative Commander.

Attack on Major Walsh and the Yukon Management.

Brockville Wrested From the Grasp of the Opposition,

In Spite of the Gerrymander and the Crack of the Party Whip.

W. H. Comstock (Liberal) Elected by 232 Majority Over Hon. Peter White (Conservative).

Brockville, April 21.-Yesterday was red-letter day in the history of Liberalism in the good old riding of Brockville. The town went fairly wild with excitement over the return, by the handsome majority of 243, of Mr. W. H. Comstock, the candidate of the Liberal party. Both sides worked hard all day, and the weather was all that could

When the returns began to come in from the polling places in the town, showing large majorities for Mr. Comstock at nearly every point, the pent-up enthusiasm of the Liberals knew no bounds. By half-past 6 full returns had been received from the town, showing Mr. Comstock's majority to be 331. This assured his election by a large majority, for it was well known that the county could not give Mr. White over 180 at the most. It was some time before complete returns were received from the townships, but when they did come they were a surprise to even the most enthusiastic Liberal. The township of Elizabethtown, always a staunch been: Conservative stronghold, gave Mr. Comstock a majority of 35, and Kitley, which used to give Mr. Wood majorities ranging from 150 to 175, gave Mr. White only 123. This gave Mr. Comstock a clear majority of 243. At the general election in 1896 Hon. Mr. Wood's majority was 232. So it will be

THE NEW MEMBER'S OVATION. At 8 o'clock the supporters of Mr. into a guilty communication of docu-Comstock formed a procession, and, headed by the Forty-First Battalion and Island City bands, proceeded to his residence. The victorious Liberal said, in parting with him: "If you candidate was placed in a carriage, and are really innocent, you are the greatthe sturdy and willing younger mem-bers of the party drew him to the Opera House, amid the enthusiastic tioned Capt. Lebrun-Renaud regarding cheers of the crowd that thronged the streets. Arrived at the opera house, it was soon filled by the crowd, and Mr. Comstock, accompanied by Hon. Mr. Mulock, Messrs. O. E. Talbot, M.P., George P. Graham, M.P.P., James Cumming, D. Derbyshire, O. K. Fraser, D. W. Downey and other leading Liberals, appeared on the stage. He was tendered such an ovation as has never been witnessed in Brockville. The crowd in the opera house cheered till they were hoarse, the bands played and the excitement was intense. Speeches were made by the candidate and Messrs. O. K. Fraser, D. Derbyshire, D. W. Downey, James Cumming, George P. Graham, M.P.P., and Hon. Mr. Mulock. They ascribed the victory to the record of the Laurier Administration, the personal worth and popularity of the candidate, the methods of the Tuppers, and the desire of the electors of Brockville to show in an unmistakable manner their resentment of the policy of slander and abuse that had been inaugurated by the opposition leaders. It was a complete vindication of the character and reputation of Major Walsh by the people who have known him all his life. Brockville has not returned a Liberal since 1874, and the return of the riding to the Reform ranks was a notable event. Telegrams of congratulation were received from Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir Richard Cartwright, W. S. Fielding, Hon. J. Israel Tarte, Hon. David Mills, Dr. Macdonald, M.P., Mr. F. T. Frost, M.P., Mr. Talbot, M.P., and many

Froude Says the Plague Has Appeared in the Gay Capital,

But Police Authorities Deny the Statement.

More Interesting Testimony in the Dreyfus Case.

Talk of a Steel and Iron Famine-German Army Officer Charged With Ligh Treason.

Paris, April 21.—The Froude gives a rumor that three cases of the plague one of the big shops of the city, to which the disease was brought in carpets of Eastern manufacture.

The paper demands that a severe investigation into the matter be made. The police officials announce that there is utterly no foundation for the report, circulated by the Froude.

"OH, LE MONSTRE!" The Figaro, continuing its publication of the testimony in the Dreyfus revision proceedings before the court of cassation, prints the evidence of M. Bertillon, the handwriting expert, who gave the reasons which lead him to consider that the bordereau was forged by tracing the words, and pointed out details in the writing that were common to the bordereau and to the handwriting of Madame Dreyfus and also to that of the brother of the prisoner. Several words were showed to be exactly identical. M. Bertillon also explained the points which led him to regard Dreyfus as the author of the bordereau. When Bertillon was testifying before the court martial, Dreyfus exclaimed:

'Oh, le monstre, tu mas donc l'ecrire' -"Oh, the monster, thus thou sawest me write it!" After this exclamation Dreyfus ceased to follow the testimony. MM. Toysonnire and Charavay, the experts, testified to the similarity of the writing of the bordereau and that of Commandant Esterhazy, while M. Pollotera, and expert, energetically insisted that the writing was not that of pressed his opinion that the handwriting was that of Esterhazy.

FAVORABLE TO DREYFUS.

The Figaro devotes 24 columns to some 20 depositions of minor officials, most of which are favorable to Dreyfus. It gives also a fac-simile of the bordereau. Major Forsinetti, who was director of the Cherche Midi military prison in 1894, at the time of the con-demnation of Dreyfus, testified that Dreyfus consistently and persistently protested his innocence, and after he was condemned repeatedly asked for a revolver, declaring that his only crime was in having been born a Jew. The witness said that after the petition for a revision of the trial by court-martial was circulated, Col. Du Paty de Clam visited Dreyfus, and tried his utmost to draw from him a confession that he had been entrapped est martyr of the century." Major Forsinetti. told the court that he questhe alleged confessions of Dreyfus, but Capt. Lebrun-Renaud promptly denied that Dreyfus had confessed anything.

AN ANGRY MEMBER. There was a curious scene in the House of Commons yesterday. Mr. James M. MacLean (Conservative), who was editor and proprietor of the Bombay Gazette, and antagonistic to the India countervailing duties on sugar, commenced questioning the secretary of the state for India, Lord George Hamilton, in an irritating manner, for which he was frequently called to order by the ministerialists and by the speaker. Finally, turning angrily to the ministerial benches, Mr. MacLean shouted: "If the Unionists do not want me, I can join the opposition." Suiting the action to the words, Mr. MacLean crossed over to the opposition benches, where he was greeted with a storm of Liberal applause, and ironical ministerial laughter. The angry member finally left the house.

STEEL AND IRON FAMINE. Except in the memorable years 1873-74, there never has been a period when there was so general an outery for steel and iron, at almost any price. Much of this is no doubt due to the development of colonial possessions in different parts of the world, but in Great Britain, the home demands have been greatly more than a normal average, owing to the large amount of work put in hand for naval requirements.

$100,000,000 TO CHARITY. Vienna, April 21.—The Neue Freie Presse asserts that the estate left by the late Baroness Maurice De Hirsch De Geruth, who died April 1, has been valued at $125,000,000, of which $100,-000,000 will be expended in carrying on the various charities founded or fos-tered by the baron and baroness. The Hirsch fund in New York received $1,200,000, and the institute in Montreal one-tenth of that amount.

CHARGED WITH HIGH TREASON. Albrecht, of the 129th regiment, has been arrested at Bromberg, Prussia, and has been taken in chains to Spandau. The prisoner is charged with high treason, in furnishing Russian agents with detailed plans of German fortifications and plans for mobilizing the German army.

MR. CHOATE TALKS.

London, April 21.—At the anniversary dinner of the literary fund last evening, Sir George Otto Trevelyan, nephew of Lord Macaulay, the celebrated historian, presided. In the course of a happy reference to the presence of Mr. Joseph H. Choate, the United States ambassador, he said that America had always sent distinguished representatives to Great Britain, and he reminded the com-pany that Benjamin Franklin presided at the first dinner of the society. Mr. Choate, responding for "Literature," emphasize the "harmonizing and unifying power of good literature between all peoples speaking the same lan-guage." While the Anglo-American literary tie, he continued, had never been broken and never could be, Ambeen broken and never could be, America had sent England an author whose name had entered every home in the kingdom. He referred not to Mark Twain nor to Mr. Dooley, but to Capt. Mahan, who had taught England more than she knew of her powers. In view of the debt due literary er. In view of the debt due literary men in the past, the fund must remain, in Mr. Choate's opinion, foremost among London's wonderful char-

SULTAN HAS ALL HIS EUNUCHS FLOGGED.

The escape from the Yildiz Kiosk could not have been managed without the conhave occurred among the employes in nivance of at least one of the eunuchs in charge, and the sultan, to make sure of punishing the culprit, has ordered floggings for all, in alternation with bread and water diet in a dungeon.

CABLE NOTES. It is denied that Germany has purchased the Island of Kusai, of the

GEORGIAN BAY CANAL IN 3 YEARS

Dominion Syndicate, Limited, Formed in London-Other Canadian Interests Promoted.

London, April 21.—The Dominion Syndicate (Limited), with a capital of £500,000, to build the Georgian Bay Canal within three years, has been formed here, and will develop the electrical, mineral, pulp and other industries along the route. Sir Edward Thornton, ex-British minister to the United States, is president; Mr. Mc-Iver, of the Cunard line, and Mr. Jones, of the Elder-Dempster line, are also members of the syncicate. Sir also members of the syndicate. Sir Benjamin Baker is consulting engineer, while Lord Kelvin has accepted the position of electrical engineer. The solicitors are Sir Henry Fowler, ex-secretary of state for India, and Mr. Perks, M.P. Right Hon. Mr. Cham-berlain has been appointed by members of the House of Commons here with a view to securing an imperial subsidy. Lord Aberdeen urged the imperial importance of the scheme at last night's dinner of onial Institute. Mr. McLeod Stewart returns to Ottawa on April 29 to consult with the Canadian ministers.

Governor - General and Minister of Militia to Review the Seventh.

Lord Minto, Governor-General of Canada, and Hon. Dr. Borden, minister of militia, will visit London shortly. The date has not yet been fixed, but it is not improbable that May 24 will be decided upon.

Lieut.-Col. Smith, while in Toronto, last week, met Major-General Hutton, and the latter expressed great satisfaction with the success that has attended the reorganization of the Seventh Fusiliers. Major-General Hutton stated that as soon as the Seventh is in shape he will ask the governor-general and the minister of militia to accompany him to London and hold a review. This will be the governor-general's first visit to London, and will doubtiess be the occasion of a splendid demonstration. Lieut.-Col. Smith and the officers of the Seventh will spare no effort to get the battalion in such condition that it will do honor to the Forest City. Advantage may be taken of the opportunity for the inspection of the properties proposed as a site for the new armory. John Miller, a Wroxeter boy of 15 years, shot and killed himself while out hunting muskrats.

SWAM FOUR DAYS

Dreadful Fate Which Came to 400 Australians.

Vancouver, B. C., April 21.-Mail advices from Australia give full par-ticulars of a terrible hurricane, which swept the northeast coast of Queensland early in March, and in which 14 schooners were wrecked. The damage is estimated at $250,000.

A colored man reached shore with two women after swimming four days. hours with their children loaded on their backs, but the children were dead when they landed.

The full extent of the loss will never be known. The force of the gale must have been awful, as all trees were completely stripped of leaves and branches.

Stones were imbedded in trees six inches, and rocks weighing tons were thrown up. The beach is strewn with dead fish and birds.

PROHIBITIONISTS

Appoint a Committee to Draft a Bill for Presentation in Parliament.

Ottawa, April 21.-When the meeting of prohibitionists assembled last evening a member stated that Sir John Bourinot had given the opinion that a private member could introduce a pro-hibitory bill.

Mr. Flint said that J. R. Dougall had conferred with members of the subcommittee, and a line of action was adopted which it was thought would meet the views of the minority. This new report, which was adopted, set forth that total national prohibition was the only effective remedy for the evils of intemperance. That the Scott Act was found to be productive of much good, but it would not meet the present situation. That in view of the government refusing to give a prohibitory bill, and while still urging for total prohi-bition, the committee believed that temperance reform would be materially aided by an act totally prohibiting the manufacture, importation and sale of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes in any province adopting or bringing into force such an act by the duly-qualified electors. Voting for this purpose would be at the provincial elec-tions, such legislation to be unrepealable for a period of time long enough to insure a fair test of its effectiveness.

The following committee was appointed to prepare a bill to be introduced in the Dominion Parliament to carry out the suggestions: Messrs. (Prince), McClure, McMullen, Richardson, Flint, members of parliament; Vidal and Aitken, senators, and F. S. Spence, J. J. McLaren and Major Bond. Messrs. Moore, Ganong and Craig, Conservative members, were proposed for the committee, but refused to act. Frank Oliver and Dr. Douglas also re-

A. W. Chase's Ointment Is a Surer, Cheaper, Easier Way to

Cruel, barbarous methods belong to the dark ages of the past. There was a time when a surgical operation was considered the only possible cure for piles. Not so now. Occasionally there is still found a physician who adheres to this dangerous and expensive method, but to every one who still believes in using the knife, ninety and nine remmend the use of Dr. Chase's Ointto every reader." By force of merit alone Dr. Chase's Ointment has won its way into this wide, wide world, until it has made the name of Dr. Chase familiar in almost every home, and won for the venerable discoverer the title of "America's Greatest Physician."

Over the Result of Brockville Election.

Another Question Day in the House-Private Bills-Assisted Immigration.

Ottawa, April 20.-The session of the House of Commons was again largely taken up with answering question. Early in the afternoon news from Brockville made it certain that the ministerialist candidate would be successful, and thenceforth there was little excitement around the corridors of the house. When at 5:30 the certainty of Mr. Comstock's election became known there was a scene of enthusiasm in room 16, the Liberal headquar-

To a question by Mr. Gillies, the traveling and living expenses of Finance Minister Fielding and his secretary were given as $700 and $215 respectively in the past eight months.

Mr. Mullen inquired, and was told that during his term as minister of the crown (11 years), Mr. Foster's traveling and living expenses charged to the government were $8,297; his private secretary's $748.

Mr. Bergeron was informed that the traveling and living expenses of the minister of public works, charged to the government in the past eight months, amounted to $150, and his private secretary's $626; hire of private

To Mr. McMillan, the finance minister replied that the traveling and living expenses of Sir Charles Tupper and his private secretaries, messengers, etc., paid by the government whilst he was a minister of the crown and high commissioner, were $11,936 while a minister, and $5,045 while high commissioner, besides $2,000° a year allowed him as high commissioner in London for fuel, lighting and contingencies.

The cost of the royal commission on prohibition was given to Mr. Sutherland as $86,984.

MILITIA IN THE YUKON. The minister of militia, in reply to a question by Mr. Foster, said the number of the militia force in the Yukon is 202 officers, non-commissioned officers and men, the cost per day being $235 and $454 for maintenance. drowned. Mr. Henderson was informed that the minister of public works did not give a contract to one Mr. McGilligive a contract to one Mr. McGill-cuddy for improvements in Goderich harbor. Tenders were called for and advertised in 36 newspapers. Smith & McGillicuddy were the lowest tender-ers, at $56,700, the work to be completed on Nov. 3, 1899.

PRIVATE BILLS.

Dr. Sproule moved to restore the anti-combine bill passed by the Commons one year ago, and rendered nugatory by the senate. Dr. Sproule said there was a combine in the leather trade, which escaped the penalties of the act. Mr. Craig took issue with the mover, pointing out that the agreement in question simply bound the manufacturers of leather to give a rebate of per cent to such merchants or others as dealt in their goods exclusively.

The bill was read a second time, as was also Mr. Bertram's bill to further amend the trade mark and designs

Mr. Foster asked for the electoral lists and poll-books for the counties of Beauce, Levis, Montmagny and Kamouraska, in connection with the alleged plebiscite frauds. The premier was inclined to debate the question, but concluded to wait until Mr. Fisher was in the house, to which Mr. Foster agreed. At Sir Wilfrid Laurier's suggestion the debate on Mr. Richardson's bill to provide for the attachment of civil servants' salaries was adjourned to obtain the opinion of the minister of justice. A number of members spoke in favor of the bill, saying that civil servants should pay their honest debts.

Mr. Charlton got a second reading of his seduction bill, which raises the age of consent from 16 to 18 years. The bill by Mr. Douglas to regulate the grain trade of Manitoba and the Northwest by compelling the railways to accept grain from small elevators, was also read a second time.

Mr. Casey's bill respecting drainage on and across the property of the railway companies was given a second reading.

ASSISTED IMMIGRATION.

Mr. Clarke gives notice tonight of the following inquiry: What borus, if any, was paid during the past twelve months by the Government of Canada to agents, owners, or representa-tives of British steamboat companies to adults and children respectively brought out to Canada as immigrants? What bonus, if any, was paid during the same period by the Government of Canada to agents, owners or representatives of foreign steamship companies for adults and children respectively brought out to Canada as immigrants from the continent of Europe? Mr. M. K. Cowan gives notice of a bill to amend the railway act, the object being to permit private parties to appear before the railway committee of the privy council, the same as a municipality can now do.

BEHIND THE BARS

Exciting Chase and Capture of an Alleged Murderer Near Kamloops.

Kamloops, B. C., April 21.—Casimir Baptiste, the Indian charged with murdering Philip Walker here on Saturday evening, is now behind the bars in Kamloops jail. About 9 o'clock Wed-nesday morning word was brought to town that the man was in Chief Louis' house on the reserve, just across the river from the city. Immediately about 30 armed men started for the reserve, followed by nearly half the citizens. On reaching the reserve, Alex. McLean, a half-breed, was sent to interview Baptiste. In a few minutes McLean returned with word that Casimir was willing to give himself up to his chief, but would shoot the first white man who approached the house. The chief being absent, McLean was again sent to tell Casimir that if he did not surrender by 1 o'clock the police would open fire on him. Time dragged on, and still the murderer, rifle in hand, paced up and down the room, passing and repassing the open window, in full view of all present. Shortly after 12, women and children were removed from the adjacent houses and all arrangements made to open fire. McLean again interviewed Casimir, with the result that Casimir promised to surrender if he were allowed to fire off all his ammunition. This was granted, and a few minutes later Casimir appeared at an upper window and fired ten shots, the last two coming dangerously close to two citizens. Casimir then threw down his rifle, and promptly at 1 o'clock opened the door, walked out, and quietly stepped into a rig which was waiting to convey him to jail. Fifteen minutes later he was safely behind the bars.

The most intense excitement pre-vailed all along. The county court, which was in session, adjourned, and everybody either went to the reserve or secured places on the tops of buildings, where they could see every movement. Over 1,000 people followed the vehicle containing the prisoner to the jail, and when the doors closed behind Casimir they gave a cheer and dispersed. Casimir will be tried at the assizes here next week.

Waiting is discouraging.

Hard to bear day after day. Harder still year after year.

Lifting weight, removing the burden. Brings appreciating responses.

London people tell of it. Tell how it can be done.

Tell of relief that's quick and sure. Here is a case of it.

Mrs. James Wilcox, 470 Dufferin avenue, says: "For more than four liams was practically helpless when years I have had terrible pains across Referee George Edwards stopped the my back and in the left side, and could neither sleep or rest. I was weak and worn out, the least exertion tired me so. I felt like sitting in a chair and staying there, and in fact was unable to perform my household duties. I was very much troubled with palpitation of the heart and various symptoms of kidney disease, and felt miserable in other ways. "No medicine that I took gave me any relief until I tried Doan's Kidney recommends Wm. Curtiss, of that town, | Pills, which my husband got at Strong's as one of the most promising young Drug Store. I now have no hesitation in saying that they are a perfect remedy. I have no pain in the side. The of Manhattan cocktails in addition to and appetite are much improved. I am in every way a new woman and my neighbors remark how much better I dent before the season is far advanced, for $1 25, at all druggists. Ask for Doan's, and refuse all others.

Their Business Booming. Probably no one thing has caused such a general revival of trade at W. T. Strong & Co.'s drug store as their giving away to their many customers of so many free trial bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Their trade is simply enormous in this very valuable remedy, from the fact that it always cures and never disappoints. Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup, and all throat and lung diseases are quickly cured. You can test it before buying by getting a trial bottle free. Large size, 50 cents and $1. Every bottle warranted.

London, Friday, April 21, 1899.

The Scandal-Mongers Silenced. While Liberals may rejoice over their brilliant victory at Brockville yesterday the Conservatives may derive profit as well. There are special reason why Mr. Comstock's election should be a source of satisfaction to the government and of serious reflection to the Opposition. It was no ordinary contest. It was the culmination of a disgraceful campaign which began a year ago in the Opposition press. The Government, and particularly the Minister of the Interior, have been assailed with a rancor and injustice which have no parallel in Canadian party warfare. It was not to expected that Mr. Sifton would get predit from his political opponents for his really great achievement in organizing the Yukon district, but there has been absolutely no excuse for the malignant pursuit of the young Minister ever since. The conspiracy against him can only be explained by fealousy of his growing reputation, and the desire to wreck a career which promises much for the country and the Liberal party.

This policy of scandal found its natural exponent in Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper, whose seven-hour speech in the House of Commons displayed a bitterness and unbridled recklessness which, if generally adopted by members, would destroy the amenities of public life and turn parliament into a bear-garden. Apart from the fact that there was nothing in his charges which even a police magistrate would accept as evidence-nothing that could fasten suspicion on the Minister of the Interior-the language used by Sir Hibbert toward Mr. Sifton was indefensibly coarse and insulting. This deplorable spirit was imported into the Brockville election by Sir Charles Tupper, who continued where his son left off, and turned on his copious flood of venom and abuse-"Vitupperation" is the word coined to describe it. He practically called Mr. Sifton a thief. The Toronto Mail set up the cry, "Sifton Must Go." In fact, the Minister of the Interior was made the pivot of the election. The Yukon debate was threshed over again. But Sir Charles was careful to avoid rehearsing his son's attack on the char- tages." acter of Major Walsh, the former Yukon commissioner, whose home is in Brockville. The people of that town knew Major Walsh too well to credit the scurrilous imputation on that gallant officer. Sir Charles Tupper, when challenged on this point by an elector, protested that Major Walsh had the chance to defend himself; but Sir Charles could not justify the conduct of Sir Hibbert Tupper in defaming the major's reputation, while concealing the name of his alleged informant. The vote in the town of Brockville was a stinging rebuke to these disreputable tactics.

The Tupperites staked their success on the Yukon "scandal." They hoped to impress the public mind by the mass of slander, insinuation, vilification and other impalpabilities which they have been heaping up for a year. The House of Commons gave this a crushing blow on the first division, and now the electors have given it the finishing stroke at the very first opportunity they have had to declare themselves. The edifice of calumny so industriously reared has crumbled at the touch of public opinion, and the Tuppers have been caught in the crash. It is a triumphant vindication not only of the general policy of the Government, but individually of the Minister of the Interior. Decent Conservatives are chafing under the selfimposed leadership of the two Tuppers. and the result in Brockville will exasperate them. They resent the habitual violence and exaggeration of language which have become synonymous with Tupperism. They feel that the veteran leader, having served the purpose for which he was recalled before the last election, should step aside before his infirmities of temper plunge the party into still deeper troubles. For that reason the Brockville defeat will probably hasten a change of leadership or a change of policy, at the demand of the moderate elements of the Opposi-

Cannot Shut Out the Japs.

We infer from Sir Wilfrid Laurier's reply to the labor deputation on Tuesday that he strongly dissents from the view that the Japanese should be shut out or taxed out of Canada. An act to this effect has been recently passed by the British Columbia Legislature, and will doubtless be vetoed by the Dominion Government. Perhaps the legislature will not seriously protest. A good many members must have voted for such a law against their private convictions, and having squared themselves with their anti-Jap constituents they will be content to throw the responsibility on Ottawa.

Sir Wilfrid properly pointed out that Caneda would greatly embarrass the mother country and menace imperial interests by offending Japan, who is Great Britain's friend and possible ally. Japan isn't to be flouted like effete Ching. "Nemo me impune lacessit" is a motto the land of the Mikado feels strong enough to back up, after recent achievements. Nor is the individual Japanese to be placed on the same level as the Chinaman at home or abroad. The Premier laid stress on this ethnical distinction. The Jap is intelligent, progressive open to new ideas. His instincts are modern. The Chinaman is born into a stagnant atmosphere and carries it with him wherever he goes. With rare exceptions he is impenetrable to higher influences and refuses to fall into civilized modes. His one aim is to scrape enough money together to enable him to return home and live in Chinese comfort. The isolated Chinaman, such as we have in this city, is morally inoffensive, but where there is a considerable colony of them they make a plague spot on the community. The Premier admitted the force of the argument in favor of Chinese restriction. This is safe policy. China is too ignorant to feel an insult and too feeble to avenge one.

Canada Justified in the United

In a stiff editorial headed "Canada Justified in Doing Anything," the Detroit News gives warning that a costly game of retaliation may be inaugurated between the United States and Canada unless the "aggressively hostile policy" of the American Government is checked. The News throws the entire responsibility on the United States, and lost the capacity for anything else. puts the situation accurately and fairly

"As soon as the Michigan supply of pine began to fail, lumber-men invested heavily in Canadian pine, and began rafting logs across the lakes to their mills. This business amounted to about $2,000,000 a year, and it gave employment to hundreds of American workmen. While these logs were admitted free, a duty of $1 a thousand was charged against Canadian sawed lumber, although the United States was shipping back into Canada about $3,000,000 worth of sawed lumber every year, duty free. This, as it stood, was a one-sided arrangement, with the advantages all going to the States. But the insatiable greed of a few lumber barons, who were able to elect and control United States senators, doubled the duty on Canadian sawed lumber for the sole purpose of prohibiting its importation.

"The spirit of the action was highly offensive, and the Canadians showed their resentment by forbidding the export of logs to the United States. This inflicted a wrong upon the Americans who own pine lands in Ontario, but their own Government inspired the action, and was entirely responsible. Now, to gratify a feeling of revenge, it is proposed to forbid the importation of Canadian lumber, but as surely yet too obtrusive. There is a golden as this is done, Canada will retaliate by another restriction, and if the miserable business is permitted to go on, a market for millions of dollars' of products will be destroyed. Either country could exist if the other should be blotted off the face of the earth, but their juxtaposition offers the most favorable conditions for profitable commerce, and it is a fool policy to attempt to destroy natural advan-

The Detroit Tribune expresses the same sentiments as the News. It says the doubling of the American tariff on Canadian lumber seemed to aim at direct injury to Canada's commerce, and Canadian retaliation was natural. The Tribune adds: "It is expected that each nation will scheme to get the best of the trading with some other nations, but it is quite a different matter to strangle the commerce of a neighbor."

Similarly the Springfield (Ma publican says:

"It is hardly to be denied that, with voked extreme retaliatory measures which the Laurier Ministry will doubtless be forced to impose. At the same time we have placed effectual obstacles in the way of closer and more amicable relations with the Dominion. As an agency for arousing the ill-will of nations and disturbing the peace of the world, there is nothing more effective than the tariff policies of the United States, Germany, Russia, and France."

The Boston Herald asks, "Are we to have a tariff war?" and calls on the boards of trade, the chambers of commerce and other commercial bodies in the United States to insist that everything possible be done to prevent such an untoward conclusion. The Herald points out that while Canada is a large purchaser of American goods, Canadian sales to the United States have declined because of the Dingley tariff. Meanwhile English purchases in Canada are growing larger every year, and the people of the Dominion are asking themselves: "Why should we continue to accord to American merchants favors in the way of duty rates that their government is not willing to accord to our merchants?" The Herald frankly says:

"The obstacles that stand in the way are the selfish demands of a few special interests, interests that, in one way or another, have the support at Washington or ten or twelve prominent senators, who protest if any concession whatsoever in tariff rates is suggested in the interests which they represent.' This is good, straight talk. The fact that there are newspapers in the United States fearless and impartial enough to confess their own country in the wrong cannot but have an improving effect on international relations.

The Brockville Recorder put up a bonnie fight.

The Liberal tidal wave swamped even

The most complete, the simplest and best illustrated book of the kind is the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, written by that famous and successful Buffalo, N. Y., physician, Dr. R. V. Pierce, who has been many years and is to-day treating and curing the afflicted in all parts of the earth. This book has been termed the "Bible of the Body," because it is to the body or physical man what the Bible is to the soul or spiritual man, shedding light and revealing truth. It tells people in every day language how diseases are developed, what the symptoms are and how they can be Its pictures show the appearance of all organs, muscles, and nerves of men and women. It treats upon every phase and complication of disease. The infor-mation in this book has been gathered by Dr. Pierce in his world-wide practice, and is founded upon actual experience—not upon theory. More than 1,200,000 American homes contain copies of this book. Formerly it sold for $1.50 a copy. Now it is free. Send 31 one-cent stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., to pay the cost of customs and mailing only, and he will send you a copy of this 1008-page doctor book, bound in paper-covers. If you prefer a cloth-bound copy, send 50 stamps.

Mrs. R. P. Monfort, of Lebanon, Warren Co., Ohio, writes: "I drop you a line to let you know I have received the Medical Adviser. I think it a great prize to get so fine a book for so small a sum. A crisp new five dollar bill could not tempt me to part with it, so you see I am wonderfully pleased over it. My husband said to me, 'That book is worth five dollars to you.'

Grain Inspection.

[Fort William Journal.] The matter of the removal of the grain inspection from our ports to the inland point at Winnipeg, is one in which the people of our two towns have united in objecting to. The board of trade of each place has passed resolutions upon the subject, that are almost unanimous, even to the wording. The great features brought out that especially affect the interests of the farming community are the facts of its being necessary in most cases to inspect the grain during the night season, if the inspection be made at Winnipeg; also the fact that there is often quite a change in the quality of the grain between its inspection at Winnipeg and its delivery to an elevator at the lake port. The whole country should awaken to what is being done.

EX-MAYOR COWAN PASSES AWAY

Died Shortly After Nine O'Clook This Morning From Heart Trouble.

Was Out Around the Garden Only Yesterday-Brief Sketch of a Busy Life.

Ex-Mayor James Cowan died at his late residence, "Birkhill," 639 Talbot street, this morning, shortly after nine o'clock, from heart trouble.

Mr. Cowan had been ailing for some two months, and slight hopes were held out for his recovery. But recently he driving the early part of this week. Only yesterday he was out working in the garden. The news of his sudden demise will be heard with sorrow and general regret, as Mr. Cowan was a public-spirited citizen, and had a warmth of personality, which endeared out Western Ontario. He had reached the advanced age of 67 years.

Deceased, who was one of the most successful businessmen of London, was born in county Kirkcudbright, Scotland, in 1832, and was the seventh son of John and Margaret Cowan. At the age of 15 years he commenced to learn the business of ironmongery, his parents having died when he was but 7 years old. In 1854, Mr. Cowan managed a hardware business in Liberpool, and in 1854 returned to his native land and married Miss Elspeth Wells. He sailed with his bride for New York, arriving Oct. 22, 1854. The ship West Point, on which they took passage, had cholera on board, and 20 passengers and four men died of the disease.

In 1855 Mr. Cowan came to Canada and obtained a situation with Adam Hope & Co., of this city. He remain-ed in their employ until 1864, when he left to form a partnership with James Wright, under the firm title of Cow-an, Wright & Co., and the business was continued under this name until 1875, when the partnership was dis-solved. The firm then became known as James Cowan & Co.

Mr. Cowan's first wife died in 1858, and he was married a second time to Miss Annie, daughter of Mr. Waddell, veterinary surgeon in the Royal Arveterinary surgeon in the Royal Ar-tillery, stationed at Niagara. He al-ways took a deep interest in every-thing calculated to advance the inter-ests of the city, and in 1887 and 1888 was elected mayor. During his term of two years he proved himself an able and efficient civic servant. He was a member of the St. Andrew's and Caledonian Societies and an expresident of the former. He was a staunch Liberal in politics and a member and active worker in the Reform ber and active worker in the Reform Association of this city. He was also a member of the Masonic order. In religion he adhered to the Presbyterian denomination, and was one of the founders of St. James' Presbyterian Church. He was the last survivor of the original board of managers and its first treasurer. its first treasurer.

Mr. Cowan was a man of great personal and mental activity, and no $3 25 to $4 25; elipped lambs, choice to extra, $5 15 to $5 40; good to choice, $5 to $5 15; common to fair, $3 50 to $6 clipped sheep, choice to extra, $60; c tically led a retired life.

Mrs. Cowan died in October, 1896. Six sons and three daughters survive. They are: David, of the James Cowan Hardware Company; Robert K., local master and deputy registrar, high court of justice; Thomas, of Vancouver, B. C.; John, of Seattle; Harper and Dr. Charles, city; daughters at home.

Mr. Cowan was an uncle of the late

A. K. Melbourne, who died suddenly last Tuesday at Buffalo. Mr. Melbourne was at one time a member of the firm of Cowan, Wright & Co.

James Cowan was the last surviving member of the firm of Cowan, Wright & Co. The other members, James Wright, John Bland, and A. K. Melbourne having died within the past fifteen months.

MRS. MARY GREGORY. Mrs. Mary Gregory, of this city, died yesterday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Reibling, Detroit, Mich. Death was caused by paralysis. Deceased was 79 years of age. She was the widow of the late Thomas Gregory. Mrs. Gregory Vis born in Somersetshire, England, and removed to this city with her husband and family in 1887. Five sons and one daughter survive. They are: Samuel and George, in this city; James, in Lansing, Mich.; Thomas and William, in England, and Mary (Mrs. Reibling), in Detroit. The remains will arrive here from Detroit this afternoon, at 4:30, for interment in Woodland Cemetery.

Detroit Free Press: "Moses Trotman, an old man living at 1609 Hastings street, was horrified to find his wife, Margaret, dead in her bed when he returned home yesterday afternoon after a short absence. Mrs. Trotman had been ailing for two years. Yesterday noon she was feeling comparatively well, but when her husband left shortly after dinner to visit a sick daughter a few blocks away, she complained of feeling bad and retired to bed. Mr. Trotman was gone all afternoon, re-turning shortly after 5 o'clock. On entering the house he could not awaken his wife and stepping to her bedside found her dead. Coroner Forth was called. Death had resulted from heart disease and the coroner decided that an inquest was unnecessary. Trotman was 66 years of age and had resided in Detroit for many years. She leaves five children." The Trotmans were much esteemed residents of London many years ago, and will be well remembered by the older citizens.

A DINNER PILL. — Many persons suffer excruciating agony after partaking of a hearty dinner. The food partaken of is like a ball of lead upon the stomach, and instead of being a healthy nutriment, it becomes a poison to the system. Dr. Parmiee's Vegetable Pills are wonderful correctives of such troubles. They correct acidity, open the secretions and convey the food partaken of into healthy nutriment. They are just the medicine to take if troubled with indigestion. A DINNER PILL. - Many persons

THE OFFENSIVE

Filipinos Attack the Washington Regiment's Outposts.

No Word Received of the 15 Missing Americans.

Some of the Dons Don't Know the American-Spanish War Is Cver-Volunteers Bound to Come Home.

Manila, April 21-10:45 a.m.-A force of about 200 Filipinos yesterday afternoon attacked the outposts of the Washington regiment, near Taguig, south of Pasig and Pateros. Two companies immediately engaged the enemy and advanced into the open in skirmish Mrs. B. Hunt, city, and two unmarried order. The rebels were checked and routed after two hours' fighting, leaving twelve men killed on the field, and several wounded. The American troops also obtained possession of many Mauser rifles and other weapons. Three Americans were wounded.

AMERICANS RAN OUT OF POW-

DER. 4:05 p.m.-At six o'clock this morning three companies of the South Dakota regiment marched from Bocave, and, in conjunction with three companies of the Minnesota regiment, from Guiguinto, north of Bocave, encountered a rebel force numbering fully five hundred men, when two miles out. The enemy retired three miles in fairly good order, in spite of the fact that the rebels suffered heavy losses. The Americans having exhausted their ammunition, they were compelled to return to their camps.

THOSE MISSING MEN.

New York, April 21.—A dispatch to the Herald from Manila says: Admiral Dewey, in an interview Thursday, said the expedition of the gunboat Yorktown to Baler was purely to rescue the Spanish soldiers and priests, who are being besieged in a church there. The soldiers refused to surrender when ordered to lay down their arms by General Rios, at the end of the Paris peace commission. Admiral Dewey said he did not know what had become of Lieutenant Gilmore and the 14 men in the launch. They had been sent to sound the mouth of the river, but went beyond the bend, out of sight of the Yorktown. The supposition is they were captured or killed by the Spaniards or the four hundred insurgents who are besieging the Spanish garrison. Admiral Dewey declined to say what steps he would take toward a punitive expedition.

BEHIND THE TIMES. General Rios, the Spanish commander, when interviewed, said he did not think the garrison at Baler knew that the war between the United States and Spain had ended. He had sent an officer in January to tell the garrison to surrender, either not believing the officer or fearing they would be trapped by the insurgents. Since then General Rios had had no communication with the garrison, and this is the first information he has had that the Spanish flag is still flying at Baler. He thought the Americans were shot at by the insurgents, as the Spaniards themselves are besieged, and have no way of getting to the river. General Rios said he had not been consulted.

General Rios doubted whether the proposed exchange of Filipino for Spanish soldiers would succeed, as the insurgents are holding the Spaniards in the hope that it will help their cause. Spain's evacuation of the Philippine Islands will be practically completed by the withdrawal of the Spanish garrison from Zamboanga, Island of Mindanao, and from the Zulu Islands.

IN A SAD PLIGHT. The native troops in the Spanish carrison are in a sad plight. They putated. Nelson said he was a native must accompany the Spaniards or risk the vengeance of their compatriots. The Spaniards propose to dis-band them, but they refuse to give up their arms. The natives of Zam-

"NEXT CASE!"

Justice Forcibly Dealt Out by a New York Magistrate.

Bath, N. Y., April 21.—Police Justice John A. Adams, of this village, yesterday dealt out justice in both legal and physical doses to James Kinney, who was up before him on a charge of wife-beating, as he had been many times before. Being well acquainted with the misfortunes of the ill-treated wife, Justice Adams promptly sentenced Kinney to serve six months in the county jail, and pay a fine of $50. "My only regret is that the law does not allow me to give, you a longer sentence," remarked the justice to the prisoner. "It that all judge? How about that $1 70 back in '91?" The cool impudence of the prisoner was too much for the disgusted magistrate. promptly stepped from behind his desk and scientifically administered to the grinning prisoner a blow that sent him sprawling to the floor. "Next case!" calmly called out the judge, as he resumed his seat on the bench.

The school room in connection with the Dundas Center Methodist Church was the scene of a very pleasant gathering last evening. The occasion was the annual "At Home" of the church Epworth League, and nearly 400 young people were present. Topic cards engaged the attention of those present during the major part of the evening. A solo by Miss Sylvia Warren and recitations by Miss McEvoy were greatly appreciated. The school room was prettily decorated for the occasion, and the harpers furnished enlivening music. The "At Home" was thoroughly enjoyed, and a distinct

MR. BARTRAM'S LATEST MOVE. Mr. Heath has decided to play "Our Strategists" this evening at the Grand Opera House, in response to the demands made on him for a repetition of the piece. This bright comedy is exceedingly funny, and the audience is in one long laugh after another from the rise of the curtain until the end of the performance. Miss St. John has a splendid opportunity in this piece. Mr. Heath will assume disguises enabling him to play three characters, and before the first act is through the plot is so mixed up it seems an impossibility to ever straighten things out. All turns out happily in the end, and as played by this company, "Our Strategists" is a sure cure for the blues. Ladies' tickets have been generously distributed over town, enabling ladies to see the performance tonight free. A special ladies' and children's matinee will be given tomorrow afternoon when the company will present its greatest success. "Caste."

The bicycle was badly damaged.

CITY HALL NOTES

A joint meeting of the citizens' committee and the legislative committee has been called for this afternoon to discuss the council's action on the armory sites and consider the advisability of the civic deputation appointedpeal to the court of appeal from the Mayor Wilson, Ald. Greenlees, Graham and McPhillips-going to Ottawa at an early day, so as to bring the matter before the government before the estimates are brought down.

> The mayor will call a special meeting of the council shortly to pass certain bylaws, among them being the bylaw for $20,000 school debentures. It is said that unless the school grant goes through the board of education will ask $5,000 or $6,000 for repairs, and that would greatly inconvenience the aldermen in their effort to strike a moderate rate of taxation. Some of the aldermen are strongly opposed to any more debentures being issued. This was the ground taken by Ald.O'Meara when the request came before the council on Monday night. He did not refer speci-fically to the West London school, but objected to the issue of debentures for any of the proposed works.

The city engineer will have levels taken in connection with the scheme to Dundas and Egerton streets.

The corporation pay sheet today amounted to $733 29.

Vienna, April 21.-The anti-Semitic press is loud in charging the Jews with the murder of a young Christian peasant girl named Poina, in Bohemia. The girl's body was found with the throat cut, but no blood was spilt. The anti-Semitics infer from this that the blood was caught up in a vessel for ritual purposes.

OF A MUSEUM

Should It Be at the Public Library or the Normal School ?- A Ratepayer's Views.

The question of establishing a museum in the city has been revived, and there is some discussion as to whether it should be in connection with the Free Library or the Normal School. A citizen who has been giving the matter considerable attention, said recently: "There can be no question but that the museum should be in connection with the library. That is the proper place for it. The act respecting public libraries gives the board power to spend money on a museum if it sees fit. The art school would be better in connection with the Normal School. If it were there, a creditable art gallery might soon be established in connection with it."

The library committee of the Public Library board had the matter brought before it last night by Dr.

Weelverton who offered for sale a col-Woolverton, who offered for sale a col-lection of minerals belonging to a former resident of the city. The price asked was $50. The committee decided to lay the matter over for further consideration, as it does not desire to start a museum if one is to be opened in connection with the Normal School. A list of 200 new books was approved of. The members present were Messrs. James Egan (chairman), Henry Mack-lin, A. O. Jeffrey, Robert Reid, Talbot Macbeth and Librarian Blackwell.

THE DAY'S WORK

Several London Workmen Meet With Painful Accidents.

Mr. E. Koppin, a carshops employe, who lives on the Hamilton road, near Rectory street, was badly injured while Mr. E. Koppin, a carshops employe, Rectory street, was badly injured while at work on Wednesday. The accident was a strange one. Koppin was standing close to a boring machine, when the auger caught his clothing and passed completely through the fleshy part of the hip, making a hole about six inches long and an inch in diameter. He was removed to his home, where Dr. Drake attended him. No

It was previously adjourned until such time as both parties got gether with a view to settlement. The cost is estimated at $31,000. Judge Clarke renewed his objection to the application, and in any case said that the applicants should pay for the portions of the approaches which were not operated at less than if they used portions that were pay

This led Mr. Blair to ask where the approaches commenced. Mr. Clarke did not reply, and Mr. Mulock asked if they extended from ocean to ocean. Clarke was not in a position to answer, and Mr. Blair said that such a principle was dangerous to lay down.

The committee gave another opportunity to companies to agree, and as soon as an agreement is reached the committee will deal with it. If no agreemen be reached within a month, the committee will meet and decide the

All that night Eden's mother and her bridegroom watched beside her, nor cared suspend their cares for a moment. Were they not wrestling with the silent destroyer, shadow of whose presence stole over her rigid features? But with the dawn that awful shadow passed away, the painful struggles for breath ceased, the fevered hands grew moist, and a peaceful sleep that lasted for several hours recruited her fast failing powers. It was a night that Frank Lyssendon never forgot, for more than once in the delirium that had attacked her, Eden sprang up and clung to him, yet knew him not; her imagination bringing back the terrors of her es-cape from the cottage at Hartmer, and once as he writhed beneath the stabs the unconscious girl's ravings inflicted, Mrs. Aubrey compassionately touched his arm, saying: "It is more than you can bear, leave us awhile;" but though he respectfully kissed the hand of Eden's mother, thus mutely thanking her for her forebearance, he retained his post. It was part of his punishment; perhaps the hardest part, but he would bear it; and when Eden's eyes opened upon him once more, with the light of recognition in them, and her own sweet voice feebly but fondly assured him that she was better, he felt that heaven was very merciful and his repentance had been accepted. Never again would he be as light of heart, as free from care as of old, but it is good for us sometimes to pass through great tribulation, and it was so with him.

"I shall be a great deal of trouble to you for a long time, even if I do get well." sighed the invalid, as he altered her pillows for her. "I shall be so weak, so irritable that you will not be able to endure with so trou-blesome and useless a wife." But his look of pain made her pause.

"Only believe in me, Eden; only try to think always that, faulty though I have been, I love you with my whole heart, and then you will not be harassed with any fears that my affection will fail, no matter how you test it."

'I do believe you now.' "And why not sooner? Although I know that I have deserved your anger, yet it was not like my generous little Eden to withold her pardon so long," "How could I say come to me, while I thought you had plighted yourself to another, and that you had no honorable affection for me?" His brow darkened.

"I suppose that as we now understand each other, we must not in too closely into the motives or acts of our so-called friends, especially as I cannot call myself free from blame; but, my Eden, I swear to you that from the moment you left Eastham with me, nestling confidingly to my side, and never questioning my truth, I looked upon you as my betrothed wife; and should have brought you back to you mother openly and proudly, as soon as I had made you mine. I have done wrong, for I have weakly permitted myself to be swayed by the wishes and advice of others, but I have never been a heartless scoundrel, nor utterly careless of your happi-

"I shall never doubt you again!" said Eden; and from this time the past was treated as an ugly dream, that it were wiser to forget.

"As soon as you are able to bear the journey, your doctor says that you are to have a change of air," Frank told his recovered treasure, when the hues of returning health began to tint her thin cheek. "Where shall I take you? to the sea-side?"

Eden meditated. "Let it be to your own home. Do you remember describing it to me one evening? Yes, take me there, dear

Frank. And as soon as she could travel, they went by easy stages to Midland Rectory, where Frank's parents, half pleased, half doubtful, waited to receive their son, and the bride he had preferred to his beautiful and wealthy cousin. If Eden had gone to them radiant with health and happiness, they might have prejudiced themselves against her; but the fragile young creature, who required all Mrs. Lyssendon's petting, and liked nothing better than to sit in her low chair, listening while the rector read aloud, or discussed the questions of the day with his tall son, stole into both their hearts before they knew it; and by the time Eden was well enough to be invested with her new honors as mistress of Lyssendon Hall, she was so dear to them that they hardly knew how to part with her.

Frank resigned his position to play the new role of landed proprietor and county gentleman; but he did not give up with it his interest in old scenes and old friends. Occasionally he revisits Aldenby, and spends a few days at the Beeches, where there is always a hearty welcome for him from all the Stretbys, young and old. He never comes alone, for he is more tenderly attached than ever to the young wife who has long since recovered her bloom and gaiety; and generally they take Lin or Flip back with them to make acquaintances with a new baby, or enjoy a gossip with Mrs. Aubrey. She is residing with Lotty, at no great distance from Eden's beautiful home, and has learned to be both fond and proud of the handsome son-in-law who has long since recovered proud of the handsome son-in-law, who always treats her with so much chivalrous respect. Verna Merstham, as soon as Eden was pronounced out of danger, went abroad, roaming listless; from one city to another, till at Paris, some months afterwards, she encountered Major Halliss, who had run over to France to be present at some races. At first she was inclined to avoid him; but a familiar face, after months of isolation, is so pleasant that, when he eagerly sought to renew the acquaintance, she could not resist inviting him to call upon her. He had seen the Lyssendons quite lately; it pleased him to paint pictures of their comestic felicity, and after a little while Verna found that she could listen without envy or heart-burnings.

By the time Major Halliss presented himself to say adieu sne had learned to enjoy his visits so much that she frankly told him she was sorry he was

"Of course it it. I should never have had the courage to make such a bold speech if I had stayed to ask myself what I was about to do."

"I will write to you as soon as I have had fime to reflect upon what you have said," she told him, at last. "Don't you think it will give you a great deal of unnecessary worry and perplexity if you do that?" he asked insinuatingly. The End.

Happy Thoughts.

To please, attract and give people something to talk about, is an art in writing a prosaic advertisement. Hood, of Sarsaparilla fame, is the originator in an extensive sense of the idea of using proverbs and wise saws as a preflix to a pleasant introduction of the well-known virtues of America's Greatest Medicine. These quaint quotations often fit the news of the day with startling directness, and the moral is easily drawn, with natural good to Hood's Sarsaparilla.

The board of works held a regular meeting last night, with all the members present. Chairman Douglass was catechised about some appointments he had recently made. "What's the 'What's the use of the committee, if the chairman does all the work?"

said Ald. Wilkey, with righteous indignation. This was after Ald. Douglass, in response to pointed questions by Ald. Parnell, had admitted making an appointment of which the engin-eer's department knew nothing until the man's time came in. About a week ago he had appointed George Leadbitter assistant at Queen's Park.

A complaint about the condition of Maple street, East London, by P. G. Jean, was presented by Ald. Parnell, and referred to the engineer and members of the ward.

Referred to the engineer and Chairman Douglass. The petition of Wm. Tackaberry and others on the south side of York street, from Talbot to Ridout, was laid on the table until the estimates are brought down. E. Weld offered a three-acre gravel pit, at the corner of Talbot and Regent streets, for $600. He understood the present pit was about used un gent streets, for $600. He understood the present pit was about used up. Ald. McPhillips wanted the matter referred to the engineer. Ald. Wilkey advocated getting a gravel pit on Egerton street. Ald. Parnell said there was no more need of a new gravel pit than a fifth wheel to a cart. It was decided to take no action. Later Mr. Weld came in, and Ald. Garratt moved a reconsideration. On a vote of 3 to 2 the chairman declared a reconsideration im broler, and it was consideration in order, and it was decided to look at several available permanent walks in the city was a difficult task. There were only three applicants, Frank Hayman, Samuel Flory and Wm. Taylor. On the first ballot Mr. Taylor was declared elected, and it was decided he should be on duty north of Dundas street. To make second choice required three or four votes. First Mr. Flory was elected 3 to 2, then yeas and nays were called, and Mr. Hayman was elected 3

The board must have the suspension of the engineer's department in view. Ald. Douglass wanted an inspector of plank walks appointed, and Ald. Reed wanted to create a position for "in-spector of kerbing." Ald. Parnell vigorously opposed the steps, and no action was taken.

Moon became famous owing to the fact that on seventeen occasions he was selected to drive the Queen's train when her majesty traveled from Scotland to London. "Old Johnny Moon," as he was called in railway circles, not only accomplished all the journeys without a hitch, but on one occasion he had the satisfaction of running the royal train into King's Cross twelve minutes before the booked time. Her majesty, discovering that the distance had been covered earlier than was anticipated, had a message conveyed to Moon to the effect that she would rather the train had been twelve minutes late than have the possibility of a mishap. TEN-WHEEL PASSENGER ENGINE. The Grand Trunk Railway has just turned out a locomotive which marks a radical change in the company's future engine-building for passenger service. The engine is known as a tenwheel passenger engine, and is the first of the kind ever constructed by the company. Six others are under contemplation, and they will be all built in the same shops. Being a celebration of the birthanniversary of the founder of the kindergarten, a sketch of Froebel's life was given by Miss Pope, and Tomlin's beautiful Froebel birthday hymn was sung in chorus. Miss Mackenzie thanked the mothers for so heartily cooperating with her in all her work, and gave a very practical and helpful talk on what the kindergarten does for children, urging greater care to insure regular, punctual attendance. She explained how much the songs bring to the child, illustrating the finger and nature songs, which were sung by the kindergartners. The value of the mathematical impressions received through use of the gifts was emphasized, and then Miss Mackenzie referred to the benefits derived from the use of stories. One of the mothers present spoke strongly in favor of more stories for children, illustrating their value from her own experience with children. add to these proud distinctions she has been spoken of as one of the 'high contracting parties,' and her wedding, memorable and joyous, took precedence of the marriage feast of Miss Virginia Fair. This was eminently proper. Miss Brodlique is not only a much prettier woman than Miss Fair, but is intellectually far her superior, and it is our unbiased opinion that the union of Mr. Summers and Miss Brodlique is of far more real importance to the stability of American institutions than the glittering pageantry of the houses of Vanderbilt and Fair. We desire to express becomingly our most cordial good wishes and congratulations."

MUSICAL TREAT

At the Auditorium-Standard Concert Company Assisted by Miss Huston and Mr. Tripp, of Toronto, Furnish an Excellent Programme.

The Standard Concert Company of Boston, assisted by Miss Hutson and Mr. J. D. A. Tripp, of Toronto, gave one of the musical treats of the season at the Auditorium last night. The audience was not large, but was very appreciative, every number on the programme being heartily encored. Mr. S. Kronberg, the eminent baritone, possesses a voice of refined quality, and has true musical instinct. His intonation is absolutely pure. His voice, though of great power, was handled with precision and accuracy. Mlle. Hands was repeatedly recalled her voice is round, full, vibrant and sympathetic. Her rendition of "Moments of Bliss," was thoughtfully and sympathetically given. Mr. Tripp proved himself a thorough master of the pigno. The audience listened with the piano. The audience listened with rapt attention. Clearness, steadiness of purpose, exquisite refinement, and just the right kind of sentiment, were the impressive characteristics of his playing. Miss Huston evoked enthusiastic applause, and became the favor-ite of the evening with her first number. She has a voice of excellent compass, and pure in quality. She had to respond twice to each of her numbers. Mr. L. Paul, 'cello soloist, played a number of pleasing selctions. Miss Kilgour was accompanist for the Concert Company and Mr. W. H. Hewlett for Miss Hutson. Both acquitted themselves admirably. The concert was given under the auspices of the Ladies' Morning Music Club.

GRAND PIANO REVOLUTION. Although many lose sight of the company A; S. J. Radcliffe, Company fact, it is nevertheless true that the F; F. H. Screaton, Company C; E. M. day is passed when a piano manufac-turer can convince people by adver-tising extravagant claims. Practical demonstrative evidence is the only thing which satisfies the public. An old and honored name is, naturally, a potent force, because that at any rate is an assurance of commercial integrity and successful history. This applies to all branches of business. But between ordinary wares and pi-ano construction there is a vast difference, because art plays such a dominating role in the latter, and should, with science, be the basis as well as capping stone of every effort. Unless this consideration is given full weight in making pianos, an "art product," in the implied sense, is impossible. The frame and the various members may be in evidence, but the vital artistic aroma is wanting, and the instrument disappoints precisely as aflower without perfume disappoints. These reflections are indulged in as the result of hearing the Gerhard Heintz-man concert grand, at the concert given under the auspices of the Lon-don Women's Maning Maning Chab. don Women's Morning Music Club, in the Auditorium last evening, the instruments used by the gifted artist, Mr. J. D. A. Tripp, of Toronto, a very large and imposing-looking instrument —and its introduction was, a most happy one. Mr. Tripp is a player who exacts every degree of resource from a piano, and, therefore, this occa-sion may fittingly be described as a test case for the Gerhard Heintzman concert grand. The test was a veritable triumph for the instrument. Its phenomenal power, brilliancy, clean cut action, and sensitiveness to every expressional demand-extremes of diminuendo and forissimo, etc.—were strikingly apparent, and Mr. Tripp seemed to fairly revel in the opportunafforded him for showing his own and the piano's remarkable capacities. Certainly the Gerard Heintzman Company, in this their new concert grand, have evolved a piano which will add greatly to the lustre of their already splendid reputation.

This piano, with many other beautiful styles, grand and upright, are on exhibition at the warerooms of W. McPhillips, 229 Dundas street.

WILL DECIDE

Directors of the Street Railway to Consider the East End Service-Two Propositions Before the Presi-

After a conference with the board of works yesterday afternoon, Manager Carr, of the London Street Railway Company, left for Cleveland to lay two propositions from the board before President Everett and Director Moore.

The proposals are: 1. To abandon the Rectory street line and extend the line on Hamilton road to Egerton street and south to Pine

2. To maintain the Rectory street line and make the extension set forth in the first proposition. Mr.Carr stated the Rectory street line did not pay, and he thought it of no use to ask the company to make the desired extension if they were not allowed to abandon Rectory street. However, he was quite willing to lay the matter before the directors and advise the committee later

LONDON'S NEW BATALLION

Seventh Will Be the Crack Volunteer Corps of Canada.

London's Best Young Men Are Enlisting-Companies Are Filling Up.

New Arms and Smart New Uniforms-Officers and Men Full of Enthusiasm -Drills Largely Attended

The Seventh is certainly in a fair way to become the crack Canadian volunteer regiment. The companies are filling rapidly with the most desirable class of men. Up to last night 190 men had been sworn in, and the names on the roster include the very best boys in the city. It is not at all easy to get into the Seventh. The medical examination is rigid, and the physical requirements exacting. And what is of equal importance, only men of good, clean reputation are accepted.

The regular Thursday drill was held last night, and in spite of the counterattractions of a balmy spring evening, there was a good turnout. The old drill hall presented a lively and pleasing scene. Foot-drill, the manual, squad and company drill were in progress in different parts of the hall, which rang martially with words of command. And one would need to look far to find such a fine, athletic, clean-cut, intelligent-looking body of men. The enthusiasm of the officers had communicated itself to the latest recruits-or it may have started with the recruits—and the commands were given and executed with splendid snap and spirit. The entire regiment has been provided with brand new uniforms and new arms. The uniform includes a serge jacket in addition to the tunic. The serges are particularly natty, and every private looks as smart as an officer. The effect of the drill is already apparent in the squaring of shoulders that had rounded over desks, the expanded chests, the erect, free carriage, and the quick, firm step that already distinguishes the Seventh boys. Drill is held every Monday and Thursday evenings, and any citizen who doubts the advantages of membership in the Seventh would do well to go around and watch the boys at work. The minimum age limit is 18 years. At present there are enlisted 156 single and 34 married men.

TAKES MORE MONEY

Cost of Building One-Fifth Higher This Spring.

"It costs 15 or 20 per cent more to build this spring than it did a year ago," Mr. J. F. Sangster, a well-known real estate dealer, said to The Advertiser this morning. "Building materials and labor have increased all round, and I'm satisfied there is a difference on the whole of 15 per cent; some say 20 per cent. Were it not for this there would be more building going on in the city." Mr. Sangster finds that there are not many medium-sized dwellings in London available for renting. The demand for houses, renting from $12 to $20 per month, is great, and it is this class into which money is being freely put for investment.

Michael Kinsella, Wabash Brakeman, Falls From a Car and Receives Fatal Injuries,

Michael Kinsella, a Wabash brakeman, aged 37 years, who formerly lived in this city, died in St. Catharines hospital yesterday afternoon, as the result of terrible injuries received while on duty late the night previous. Deceased was a son of Mr. Patrick Kinsella, shoemaker, residing at No. 546 Pall Mall street. He was a resident of St. Thomas, and was employed by the Wabash Railway Company on the Air Line, running out of St. Thomas. Messrs. Patrick and Thomas Kinsella, of the C. P. R., this city, are brothers of deceased. Mr. Kinsella, sen., left for St. Catharines yesterday on receipt of a telegram announcing the accident. The mishap occurred on the Welland branch, at Port Robinson. Deceased fell off a car and fractured his skull. He was taken to the St. Catharines hospital at 4:30. Just how the accident occurred will never be known, as he never regained consciousness. He was not missed from the train for some time, and when found was lying on the track bleeding badly. Kinsella had a wife and two children. The remains will be brought to this city for interment. Mrs. Kinsella will arrive from Newark, N. J., today to make arrangements for the funeral. Rev. Dr. Torrance, moderator of the general assembly, and clerk of the Guelph Presbytery, has received the call from the united congregations of Thamesville and Turin, in Kent county, that was tendered to Rev. John McInnes, pastor of Knox Church, Elora.
