

BORDEN WILL TRY TO RAM MEASURE THROUGH HOUSE

Parties in Parliament Will Be at Death Grips Before End of Week.

Commons Likely to Sit Continuously From Middle of Week Until Sunday.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Ottawa, March 3.—The parties in Parliament will probably be in death grips at the close of this week. The Government has decided to try and drive the naval bill through. The Liberals declare that there is a good deal of explaining yet to be done, and say that they will not be driven. They want Premier Borden to explain the discrepancy of several millions in the figures which he gave Parliament, as the estimated cost of carrying out the Government and the Opposition naval program. They want the text of the correspondence which was sent to the first lord of the admiralty to enter the admiralty memorandum from him.

Fierce Fight Looming. Friday night Premier Borden intimated that he was not going to bring down anything more.

Now it is understood that the Government has decided to try to ram the bill through committee.

Wednesday night, it is understood, the Government will not allow an adjournment until the Liberals consent to have the bill reported from committee. This will mean an all-night sitting and probably four days' steady sitting, and the Liberals do not seem to be in a yielding mood. In fact, both sides appear to think that a little actual rowing would be a wholesome thing at the present juncture.

Sleepless Nights Ahead. The two parties are getting ready to finish the week without sleep. If it comes to continuous sitting, there will be automatic adjournment at midnight Saturday. When Sunday arrives, the speaker leaves the chair. Several famous rows have been closed in this fashion. It is noticeable that the week following such a finale is usually quite peaceful.

With a good hard row to close this week the chances are that instead of navy next week, the Government will be asking for a little supply, and the Opposition will be inclined to give it to them.

One thing certain is that the Government will have to have supply pretty soon. Money is getting scarce.

FEAR SUFFRAGETTES WHEN IRATE WOMAN SWOOPS ON OFFICES

City Hall Employees Hear Sounds of Breaking Furniture From Inspector Sanders' Room.

Police Called When Mother Calls Down Maledictions on Venerable Gray Head.

She was not a suffragette, but she was quite as formidable, and for some time this morning, London was considerably disturbed by the unquieting rumor that one of the militant leaders of the suffragettes, Mrs. A. O. Graydon, had invaded the sacred precincts of the city hall, armed with hatchets, dynamite bombs and sulphuric acid.

It was said that she was the outpost of a whole army of "gettes" who were to arrive this evening from Delaware, New Jersey and Komoka, under cover of night, with the carefully-planned and sinister purpose of deposing General Manager Glaubitz, the mayor and alderman, and establishing in their stead a gynarchy or some other form of Amazonian government.

Call for the Police. The horrifying news being received at police headquarters, the whole constabulary was held in readiness for immediate orders, and P. C. Cameron Westman was sent to investigate.

He found a frail but tempestuous-looking woman, very much under the influence of the stuff that put Milwaukee on the map, and calling down lurid maledictions on the venerable white hairs of Inspector Sanders, the mayor and alderman, and establishing in their stead a gynarchy or some other form of Amazonian government.

Looking for Safety. In the other offices along Hyde Row and downstairs in the Arcade, the office staffs were scurrying to safety vaults with the city archives. Assured by P. C. Westman that he understood her case perfectly, she confided to him that Mr. Sanders, despite his white hairs, had cruelly torn from her bosom her dear little children.

She was led away to Carling street, and Inspector Sanders pleaded guilty to the offence of making two of her children the wards of the Children's Aid Society some ten years ago while their mother and father were both imprisoned in the county jail for conducting a disorderly house on Burwell street, and repeated excesses in indulging their love for the glass that more than cheers.

Now Have Good Homes. The children are now in good homes, and their mother lives in such mortal terror of Mr. Sanders that before she ever asks for their return, she always hides herself with a generous draught from the foaming stein.

DEATH OF ANDREW YOUNG. [Special to The Advertiser.] Sarnia, March 2.—Word was received in Port Huron yesterday of the death of Andrew Young, a resident of McEwen, Mich., who died while reading a report of his illness in a paper. Mr. Young was a postmaster of Gait for fifteen years in the earlier days.

$75,000 SPENT TO FIGHT SAUNBY SUIT NO BENEFIT TO CITY

Case Carried to Privy Council In Order That London Might Secure Power.

Idleness of Springbank Dam Makes Famous Litigation Without Result.

When some Londoners think of the comparative idleness of the Springbank dam as a producer of power and remember that the city spent in the neighborhood of $75,000 to settle the famous Saunby dam case in order that power might be developed at Springbank, they quickly impregnate that proverbial personage, "the irate taxpayer."

Though the case is of recent settlement most people have, while watching the flickering picture of municipal events, forgotten just why the city fought the Saunby mill owner to the privy council, and then lost, as it did in every court.

Water Backed Up. The fact is that in order to develop power to the full extent at Springbank it was necessary to raise the water by means of splashboards. When the water went up it backed into the wheels of the Saunby dam, and prevented the operation of the mill.

Another point was that there was not always sufficient water in the river for boating, but the desire to develop power was the principal consideration.

Mr. Saunby took action against the city for damages, and was given a verdict before every tribunal until the highest court in the empire was reached. He was there given judgment, and London incurred a bill of costs which ran into many thousands.

No Benefit From It. Thus when the question of power from the Thames is being considered one of the things to remember is that in addition to the cost of the pumping machinery installed, there was additional cost, and that the benefit of the expenditure is not being felt in any way except in the impetus it may give to boating on the river.

General Manager Glaubitz stated that the expenditure of money on the Saunby dam had been incurred before he accepted office. The only money paid out in connection with that situation had been $5,000 since he came to the city. He had nothing to say in regard to the matter.

REAL ESTATE BOOM THIS SPRING IN LONDON NOW APPEARS CERTAIN

Real estate men in London are planning to put several large residential subdivisions on the market in the spring.

Surveyors have been engaged in cutting up several farm properties east of the city into building lots, and that there will be activity with a western flavor, is practically certain.

"Several new firms have opened up for business in London within the last few weeks, and there are scores of private citizens who are speculating in the hope of a rise in the spring," said one citizen who has been indulging himself to some extent.

IT'S WOMAN'S DAY AT WASHINGTON

Great Procession on Pennsylvania Avenue in Favor of the Suffrage.

THOUSANDS WILL WALK

Actors To Give Dances and Tableaux Symbolic of Woman's Triumph.

[Canadian Press.] Washington, March 3.—This was women's day of political crowning glory, short of actually possessing the universal right to vote, for several thousand of them turned out to form a great procession in Pennsylvania avenue to demonstrate the unanimity of their sex in its demand for the ballot.

Even before the procession started, enthusiastic thousands lined the broad avenue. Cheers greeted the small detachments and a great wave of applause marked the progress of "General" Rosalie Jones and her little band of New York "hikers" as they proceeded to the rendezvous. Men and women alike joined in the demonstration, and the human wall that lined the route of march formed a sea of tossing handkerchiefs and waving flags.

Precision and business-like methods marked the carrying out of the plans for the parade, which was to form at the Peace Monument. Trumpeters, stationed at intervals in the distance, stretching to the treasury, were ready to sound the "Advance," as the head of the parade started. On the steps of the Government's treasury house, the actors in the tableaux symbolic of woman's triumph, stood at attention and ready to begin a series of dances and alluring groupings.

Mrs. Richard Coke Burleson, grand marshal of the procession, was busy from an early hour today, preparing for the start. She was assisted by five aides, all excellent horsewomen, who rode astride and dashed here and there, giving hurried commands and bringing order out of chaos. Miss Inez Milholland, as the herald, whose trumpet blast was to signal the start, was dressed in royal purple and astride a mettlesome charger.

Virtually no deviation was made from the order of march as made public. Allegorical floats found their way into line without a hitch; under the flashing directions of the mounted aides, delegations were assigned, and the various sections were placed in their individual positions.

The day was perfect and the air cool. A striking feature of the gathering at the foot of Capitol Hill was the number of elderly women who appeared to march for the "cause."

CHINESE IN THE TOILS. Guelph, March 3.—Nine Chinamen were arrested at 3 o'clock Sunday morning in Sam Lee Hing's laundry for gambling. Besides local men, some were from Preston and Toronto.

Something Doing Soon. "If I am not very much mistaken, there will be something doing before long. Just look at February, usually one of the dullest months. There were 107 transfers in the city, about double the usual number, and there were just as many in the new district that has not yet been recorded. I know that numerous options were taken and that many sales are in prospect. We may not have a great big boom with everything going to the sky. It will not be a wildcat business, but there will be many pieces of property changing hands."

Everywhere in London there is talk of impending real estate activity. In stores and clubs, citizens are speculating upon the probability of increases in values, and some have visions of becoming rich.

East London Buys. On Saturday one man explained that he had got into half a dozen small deals in East London that had successful issues.

"I have not been plunging," he explained, "but I have had some good results. I have made a few hundred dollars on each of the properties, and in some cases values have gone from $8 to $20 a foot."

It was said that one real estate man planned to put a subdivision on the market this spring, and with it a whirlwind advertising campaign.

After the Wreck at Wanstead

Photo by Denkelberg, Sarnia. At the scene of the memorable "Wanstead" wreck, which occurred on Dec. 26, 1902, Chicago Express No. 3 ran into a freight train Sunday noon, and a caboose and one car were demolished. The engine and train crew were saved by jumping, and the chief on the diner of the express was seriously scalded while preparing dinner.

UNPRECEDENTED BOOM PREDICTED FOR LONDON

Heads of Departments Tell of Encouraging State of Affairs—Assessment Commissioner Says Values Have Gone Away Up.

Assessment Commissioner Grant—"The work of the assessment department should be quite easy this year. People are placing such a high value on their property this year that I don't anticipate any difficulty in getting at values in the old city limits."

Building Inspector Piper—"London is on the eve of the biggest building boom that has ever been experienced. As soon as the weather permits the brick manufacturers to get busy and turn out bricks, there will not be enough masons in the city to handle the work."

FAST EXPRESS ON WABASH ROLLS DOWN 20-FOOT BANK

A Score of Passengers Badly Shaken Up and Bruised Near Cayuga—Accident to Fast-Running Train—Escape From Long Death List Was Remarkable.

There is a well-founded superstition amongst railwaymen that wrecks go by threes, but the record for Ontario was broken between Sunday noon and today noon, no less than six accidents of a more or less serious nature occurring. G. T. R. C. P. R. Wabash and Canadian Northern were all sufferers. On the Wabash an express rolled down a 20-foot embankment near Cayuga, injuring several passengers. Seven passengers were hurt by derailment of a G. T. R.

[Canadian Press.] Cayuga, March 3.—The Wabash train wrecked two miles east of here at 7:15 o'clock this morning, five coaches being derailed and rolling over a 20-foot embankment. Several people were hurt, none of them fatally. That several were not killed was remarkable. Spreading rails are blamed for the accident. The train was travelling at a fast clip, and all the coaches were well filled. Doctors were immediately summoned from the surrounding country, and the injured cared for in hotels. Following is list of injured: Mrs. L. D. Morris, Chicago, hurt about the head; Miss Estelle Snyder, Chicago, knees fractured and head badly injured; H. H. Hamilton, Chicago, ankle fractured and badly shaken up.

TWO ENGINES IN THE DITCH SEVEN PASSENGERS HURT

[Special to The Advertiser.] Hanover, March 3.—Seven persons were hurt, none very seriously, shortly after 7:30 this morning, when south-bound G. T. R. express No. 6 from Owen Sound jumped the tracks a mile and a half north of here. Both engines are in the ditch and three coaches left the rails. Engineer Griever and Engineer Irwin, and Conductor Hill, all of London, were badly cut and shaken up.

The accident was caused by the front engine striking a piece of steel which lodged in the groove between the rails and the side of a crossing. The express was going along at a good rate and bumped over the ties and

Smart, brakeman of Mount Albert, in this county, were killed, and Engineer Scott, of Parry Sound, received slight injuries this morning when a Canadian Northern freight engine plunged over the embankment at Leaside. Smart and Thoms were carried with the engine into the ravine, but Engineer Scott was shot through the door of the locomotive and landed practically unharmed. Left the R. R. The other members of the crew hastened to the rescue of their mates, but Smart and Thoms were dead and their bodies horribly mangled. BRAKEMAN INSTANTLY KILLED IN A CRASH AT BELLEVILLE train at Hanover, and two members of a train crew were killed by the capsizing of a C. N. R. engine near Toronto. A rear-end collision caused the death of a fireman at Belleville, and in the Guelph yards of the C. P. R. a conductor was injured in collision between a yard engine and a way freight. At Wanstead on Sunday, passengers were severely shaken by a rear-end collision between a passenger and freight on the G. T. R. Stormy conditions were held responsible for most of the accidents.

Seriously Injured. Among the most seriously injured are Mrs. Matilda Shipman, Kansas City, ear cut and hurt about the head; Edward Evans, Pullman porter, head cut, and seriously injured internally; McKellar, brakeman, rib broken, and wrist badly hurt; L. Rheumatism Crippled Arms

So stiffened up by rheumatism that he could not dress himself without help was the condition of Mr. Clarke, who tells in this letter how he was entirely cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

The kidneys must be kept right before rheumatism can be really cured, and hence the success of this great medicine.

Mr. James Clarke, Maldstone, Sask., writes: "I can honestly say that Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have done me a world of good, and cured me of rheumatism. For two years I suffered from rheumatism in the shoulders, and could not raise my arms or undress myself without help, and was obliged to hire help to do my work. No medicine that I could find did me any good."

"A friend wrote from England and begged me to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. This treatment soon brought relief, and in six months I was entirely free of rheumatism. That was four years ago. I am now 80 years of age, and can do a day's work with any man."

Mrs. Neil McCorvie Found Dead in Field—Was Walking to Whitechurch.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Lucknow, March 2.—Mrs. Neil McCorvie, aged 74, a widow, residing near Lucknow, was frozen to death, while trying to walk seven miles to the home of her daughter, Mrs. David Kennedy, at Whitechurch.

The body was found in a field near the G. T. R. tracks yesterday. A rubber found near by and Mrs. McCorvie's continued absence caused a search to be made.

She left home a week ago Wednesday and nothing was heard of her since. When she did not turn up at Mrs. Kennedy's, it was thought she might have stopped at some place on the way, as the weather was bitterly cold.

Besides Mrs. Kennedy, Mrs. McCorvie leaves four sons and one daughter in the west.

FIRE NEAR SEAFORTH

Home of Samuel Carnochan Was Burned When Family Was at Church.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Seaforth, March 3.—The brick house and contents of Mr. Samuel A. Carnochan, a prosperous young farmer on the 2nd concession of Tuckersmith, were entirely consumed by the fire yesterday afternoon while the family were at church in Egmondville.

The fire was noticed by Miss Jessie Martin, who lives opposite, and the alarm given over the rural phones, was unfortunately most of the neighbors were attending church also, and when help arrived, only a couch and a few chairs were gotten out.

The chimney had been on fire on Wednesday, and it is thought fire must have been smoldering between the ceiling and upstairs floor and burned through to the dining-room below.

Mr. Carnochan carried an insurance of $1,200 on the McKillop Mutual Company, which will pay about half his loss, the house being a handsome two-story brick.

One application was received, and the brethren are looking hopefully to the visit soon of the D. D. G. M.

A suitable committee has charge of securing new quarters for a Masonic home, as the present building is needed by the owners.

Levelled Rifles at His Head Brought Prisoner to Time Quickly.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Windsor, March 1.—Aller, Secker, aged 22, a United States deserter, confined in Sandwich jail, and believed to be a "trusty," became enraged today because he was not allowed more freedom, and made a desperate attack on the guards. During the absence for a few minutes of the jail guards Secker stole into one of the rooms leading from the corridor and procured a long piece of pipe. As he walked back into the corridor he was met by a guard. Retreating to a corner of the room, Secker held the pipe above his head and defied the keepers.

ST. MARYS WORKMEN WANT A NEW BRIDGE

Petition Will Be Presented at First Meeting of the Council.

[Special to The Advertiser.] St. Marys, March 3.—Another boon to workmen living in the North Ward will be the erection of a foot bridge over Trout Creek, either east or west of the piers of the G. T. R. London branch bridge.

This would give a very short cut to the cement works, stone quarries, Maxwell works, and St. Marys Wood Specialty Works in the East and South Wards.

A largely signed petition will be presented to the town council for the erection of the bridge at its meeting tonight.

Mr. H. R. McEvoy, C. E., has returned from attending the surveyors and good roads convention held at Toronto.

SLUMP IN BEANS

Growers Around Muirkirk Will Probably Feed Them to Cattle.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Muirkirk, March 3.—The bean market has taken such a slump that the farmers find it pays better to feed them to hogs and cattle than to sell them. This is something that was unlooked for, as for the past number of years Muirkirk has had an excellent bean market, and the cry was that the farmers could not grow enough to supply the demand, and with a rather bad crop last year they cannot get a market for what there is.

TANNERY BURNED

Fire in Waterloo Caused a Loss of Nearly $4,500.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Waterloo, March 2.—Shortly before noon today fire broke out in what used to be the old Apple Evaporator Building on Erb street, now owned by the Spanish Leather Company, and used as a tannery and upholstery factory. Aided by a strong west wind the fire soon made such headway that the firemen were helpless and the building was soon burned to the ground. The loss was $4,500, over $1,000 of this being put into the building a few months ago to fit it up for a tannery. No insurance was carried.

DROPPED DEAD

Aged James Turner Became Excited Over His Chimney Fire.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Fingert, March 2.—James Turner, aged 82, dropped dead today at his home near here. His chimney caught fire when he put in extra fuel on account of the cold, and the old man became so excited that he dropped dead as he was hurrying back after going out to call help. Mr. Turner had resided in Southwold for many years.

Spring Opening Display

Continues This Week

THRONGS of people Saturday, but never a crowd. In no other building in this city could so many people be accommodated as comfortably as in this store, with freedom to walk about from place to place, and examine, study and view the delightful new spring and summer fashions. Never a better show, and never a more interested gathering than that which assembled here Saturday to get the first glimpses of what Paris has been for months working to produce: Fashions for the spring and summer season, 1913.

Styles a Complete Transformation

To look at some of the brimless shapes you would wonder what such odd-looking creations were ever made for, but when you see one on the head with its skyward mount, some of which are at least a half yard high, then you catch the charm of the close-fitting, chic straws which have already caused a panic in millinery circles both in New York and Paris. You must see the show for yourself to form your opinions. But we might say the impression thus far is that the hats are more wearable and more becoming than they have been for many seasons.

COME IN THE MORNING—The scene on this floor is most animating, particularly in the morning. The singing of the birds among the flower hangings stretching along the ceiling and winding the stately white pillars, adds a southern atmosphere to the whole setting. Come if only to inform yourself regarding the new fashions. Second Floor.

See the New Hand-Embroidered Handmade Lingerie Waists

THE daintiest assortment of pretty styles ever shown by us, and the greatest variety, showing the most exquisite needlework and prettiest designs.

The demand for the lingerie or washing waist has grown amazingly in the past few seasons, in fact it is crowding out the silk to some extent, and this season we are prepared to meet the call with greatest assortment of high-grade goods ever imported by us.

A number of these displayed in a showcase in this section is the admiration of all who pass that way. When in the store don't fail to see this display. Prices from $5.00 to $25.00.

Also see the real Irish Crochet Waist. Price $48.00.

LONDON BAY'S BROTHER ACCIDENTALLY KILLED

Eugene M'Arthur Bled to Death While Rabbit Hunting at Sheddin.

[Special to The Advertiser.] St. Thomas, March 2.—Eugene M'Arthur, aged 14, of Sheddin, had part of his leg blown off by a gun in the hands of a boy chum, discharging accidentally, and died a couple of hours later.

A number of lads were out hunting rabbits, when a boy named Lampman, who was passing the gun to another lad, in trying to save himself from falling, the trigger caught in his clothes, and the charge tore through M'Arthur's groin, severing arteries.

Dr. Guest investigated the case and decided that no inquest was necessary. Roy M'Arthur, of the hydro-electric department of London, James, of the Pore Marquette, St. Thomas, Walter, of Glen Rae, and Gerald and Lloyd, of Sheddin, are brothers.

The funeral will be held on Tuesday to Sheddin Cemetery.

"AUTO LEG" LATEST THING IN DISEASE

New York, March 2.—"Auto leg" is a new "1913 model" disease. It is not nearly as bad as locomotor ataxia, but all the same it is one of the recently-discovered banes of automobilists. The Journal of the American Medical Association speaks of the malady as something to be avoided.

"Auto leg" states the Journal, "is a cramp due to sitting in one position for hours, while the veins and muscles are under strain from consecutive shocks and joltings over the roads."

CANADIAN SUFFRAGETTES IN WASHINGTON HIKE

Will Display Maple Leaf and Union Jack in the United States Capital.

Toronto, March 2.—The Canadian Suffragettes who are to take part in the great parade and demonstration in Washington today left the Union station Saturday night in a private car for the capital city. Mrs. Flora McD. Denison was in command of the party, and had as her guest Mrs. Cox, of Ottawa, president of the Equal Suffrage League of that city.

The band contained only adherents prominent in working for the cause. Mrs. McD. Denison, the seven-year-old niece of Mrs. Denison, will lead the Canadian band in the parade.

On arrival in Washington the party will be given a reception, and will take part in the demonstration, in Columbia Hall. Today the big parade will be held, and tomorrow a visit will be made to Philadelphia. In the parade the Canadians will wear white cloaks and carry pennants, while a number of the professional members will wear their gowns and caps. The diminutive leader will wear a costume of red, white and blue, decorated with maple leaves.

According to the members of the party, the idea of their attending the demonstration was to help to swell the ranks of the women across the border in their efforts to impress the new president with the magnitude of the movement. It was stated that he is already very democratic, and it is hoped that he will at once declare himself in favor of granting equal suffrage. Washington has had many demonstrations previously in connection with the presidential inauguration, but it is the aim of the women this time to eclipse anything that has taken place before along such lines. The parade, it was said, would be spectacular, and would be representative of the women of all the United States.

Mrs. Cox, in speaking on conditions in Ottawa, said that the interests of that city at present centres around the McDonald bill, asking that the same privileges be granted to widows and spinners that this bill met with the entire approval of the association, and that it was being received favorably throughout the city. The "cause" was being received

CLEANS THE HAIR AND MAKES IT BEAUTIFUL—25-CENT "DANDERINE"

In a Few Moments Your Hair Looks Soft, Fluffy, Lustrous and Abundant—No Falling Hair or Dandruff.

Surely try a "Danderine Hair Cleanse" if you wish to immediately double the beauty of your hair. Just moisten a cloth with Danderine and draw it carefully through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or any excessive oil. In a few moments you will be amazed. Your hair will be wavy, fluffy and abundant and possess an incomparable softness, lustre and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair beauty.

Besides beautifying the hair, one application of Danderine dissolves every particle of Dandruff; cleanses, purifies, and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair. Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them, its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow abundantly long, strong, and beautiful.

You can surely have pretty, soft, lustrous hair, and lots of it, if you will just get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it as directed.

hour, and the temperature went down to 10 degrees above zero. In a rear-end collision between two Nickel Plate freight trains Edward O. Hansen, of Pullman, Ill., was caught in the wreckage and burned to death. He was in charge of five new cars to be delivered to the Lackawanna Railroad here. His train was stalled by snowdrifts. Carl K. Barton, 38 years old, and Thos. Hundas, 22, laborers, both employed in clearing, snow-clogged railroad switches, were hit by trains and killed.

LONDON, MONDAY, MARCH 3.

CANADIANS AND THEIR WINTER.

English papers are full just now of accounts and illustrations of winter sports in Switzerland. Tens of thousands of English people troop over to enjoy the outdoor games in the clear, cold, Alpine air. It has become almost a craze.Thus Switzerland is overrun with tourists both summer and winter. The Swiss regard their winter now as one of their greatest assets, and advertise its attractions far and wide. We, in Canada, keep our winter as much as possible in the background. Our governmental and transportation agencies no doubt know their business in pushing forward our sunshine and keeping silent about our snows, ice-carnivals and winter games. But in the anxiety to attract settlers, are we not frightening ourselves from our own enjoyment of a Canadian winter?Even if we had better not as yet trumpet abroad the glories of zero weather, there is no reason why Canadians themselves should not enjoy what they have. But we do not get the most possible out of our climate. This winter is, of course, exceptional, affording much less than the usual scope for outdoor sport. But in ordinary years there is really very little snow-shoeing, skising, tobogganing, open-air skating and sleighing done by grown-up people or even boys and girls in this country. The city of London has not even a single toboggan slide.In Switzerland and Norway everybody skis. The new sleigh-bicycle, having tandem runners in place of tandem wheels, is popular in Switzerland, but unknown in this country. Old and young in the cold countries of Europe go in for a thorough outdoors enjoyment of the winter. We have our indoor games, excellent in themselves.
But most Canadians regard the winter
as something to be endured rather than enjoyed, and endure it in a grim silence.
In Switzerland the merry-go-round lasts all the year. Comparatively speaking, Canada hibernates.

GERMANY'S NEW BURDEN.

The German war lords are turning attention from the navy to the army.
Their readiness to come to terms with Great Britain in the matter of naval construction is partly explained by the necessity, in their view, of increasing the army to meet the new conditions created by the success of the Balkan states. Bulgaria, Serbia and Montenegro will be a formidable counterpoise to the Triple Alliance on the East. Germany's peace strength is even now hardly superior to that of France. "The German standing army is supposed to consist of just about an even 650,000 officers and men, as opposed to 555,000 for France. But the latter country has an additional 150-000 men in its colonial army, of which half is quartered in Algeria and Tunis and is readily available for service at home. Counting in the first line of reserves the French have, on paper,
the advantage with an estimated total strength of 1,500,000 men to Germany's 1,100,000. But the German Landwehr would throw in an additional 600,000 men, and behind these it is estimated that there are one and a half million of partly trained recruits available.The enormous addition to the German army budget would preclude any great increase in the naval program in the immediate future, even if there had been no improvement in Anglo-German relations. But relations are steadily growing more cordial and less will be heard of Dreadnought rivalry henceforward. The German spectre, upon which Canadian politicians are still trying to trade, has vanished into thin air.

NOT A CASE FOR SYMPATHY.

The cry of distress from the cement interests, when the cement duty was reduced from 52 to 26 cents a barrel between June and October last year, is not echoed in the annual financial statement of the Canada Cement Company.The big merger's net profits showed an increase over 1911, the figures for three years being:1910 $1,177,698
1911 1,282,039
1912 1,294,677The merger paid in bond interest $300,000 in 1910, $368,230 in 1911, and $375,416 in 1912, yet last year it had $1,019,259 available for dividends, against $1,013,809 in 1911, and $877,698
in 1910. On its preferred stock it earned 9.70 per cent. last year; 9.65 per cent. in 1911, and 8.55 per cent. in 1910.
On its common stock it earned 2.10 per cent. last year; 2.06 per cent. in 1911,and 1.05 per cent. in 1910. The margin earned over the preferred dividend of 7 per cent. is small, but the common stock represents to a great extent goodwill and other intangible assets.
The fact that the company could increase its net profits last year with its tariff protection cut one-half for nearly five months, will strengthen the argument for a permanent reduction of the duty.The House of Commons has gone into committee on the naval bill, and may not come out.Tax reform is a party question only in the Legislature, Sir James Whitney is to blame for that.It was inconsiderate of the German scur to peter out before Mr. Borden got his navy bill through.The Russian Government has been described as a despotism tempered by assassination. Mexico's seems to be assassination, tempered by republicanism.The London Evening Standard calls Laurier a Little Canadian. Insulting the most conspicuous statesman of Greater Britain is not the highest kind of Empire building.On the heels of bloodshed, murder and civil war in Mexico City, comes a Sunday bull fight at which 10,000 people cheer Diaz. Perhaps the Mexicans get the sort of government they deserve.British ships purchased by the Laurier Government for the Canadian navy were described as junk and tinpots by the partisans who now cry that Canadians are not competent to build ships themselves."Somebody ought to tell the British admiralty that The London Advertiser says there is no danger whatever; that these spying airships are only actuated by friendly curiosity," St. Thomas Times.For all the Times or the admiralty knows yet, friendly curiosity is the motive. The German Government explicitly disclaims any knowledge of the airships. And what have they to do with Dreadnoughts anyway? If they belong to a foreign country they are an argument for increasing the British aerial squadron not the naval squadron.

MARY.

[T. A. Daly.]
What shall we name the baby?
Faith, dear, our only choice
Must be that name of woman
The angels love to voice;
The name yer dad has near him—
Was pleased to give you, too;
An' may our baby wear it
As deacently as you!There's one title, indeed,
For the mother an' maid,
An' I'll hear no opinion contrary.
A fig for the claims
Of the high-sounding names!
There's none o' them pretty as "Mary."So there's the name for baby,
We'll make her love it, wife,
An' let nobody change it.
Or "Mame" the child for life,
We'll have no "Mac" or "Matzie,"
Nor Franchinell "Marie;"
Just "Mary," sweet and simple,
Is what her name'll be.There's one title, indeed,
For the mother an' maid,
An' I'll hear no opinion contrary.
A fig for the claims
Of the high-sounding names!
There's none o' them pretty as "Mary."

That deep-brow'd Homer ruled as

Then felt I like some watcher of the

THE TWO SIDES.

[Toronto Star.]
The true and exact situation is this:
The British Government prefers fleet units to contributions. But it does not wish to force its policy upon the colonies. It wants to meet colonial opinion. Australia says plainly: "We prefer a fleet unit." Sir Wilfrid Laurier says plainly: "We prefer a fleet

Australia, and the Liberal party of

Need Not Even Crack the Plaster Says Moving Authority.The news that the C. P. R. is to move its station back 15 feet may result in a peculiar house-moving situation in London. Several men who have been making inquiries, and plans are under way to purchase several of the fine residences in the district that will be demolished to make way for the federal square, and moving them to desirable vacant sites.

See the Possibility.

"I found out that the contractor proposed to move the whole C. P. R. station back for about $1,000," said one citizen today. "He guarantees not to hurt the structure in any way, and thought it probable that not even the plaster would be cracked. If he can do this he could move some of the houses just as well, and if they can be purchased from the city at a reasonable price for old bricks it would be a good investment to spend a thousand or even more dollars in moving them."

In view of the scarcity of brick

the proposition appeals to builders all the more strongly, and in many of the houses that it is proposed to tear down there are better bricks than can be bought today, unless one buys pressed brick."

to the actions of a seedy-looking in-coat on his arm.The wind was howling with all the fury of a March gale, and as the people looked they saw the man go hurriedly down the tracks, and the coat and the bag he was carrying were left on the ground.The man was curious enough to report the matter to a railwayman, who went down and recovered the coat, and found that it was quite a nice one. It was taken back to the station, and the assumption is that the seedy individual stole it either from a hotel or house.GREAT BRITAIN BUYS

Berlin, March 3.—The British navy is to acquire the Dreadnought Rechad-i-Hamis, now under construction, as was supposed for the Turkish navy at Barrow, according to information alleged to have been obtained from Constantinople by Count Ernst Hertentow, the naval writer. He points out in an article today that an Anglo-German naval understanding is impossible if Great Britain thus strengthens her navy.GREAT ORATORS;
DANIEL O'CONNELL,
A GIANT IN BODY
AND IN MIND[By Special Arrangement With the Winnipeg Telegram.]Who has not heard of Daniel O'Connell? He is the pride of Ireland in the line of oratory, and the Emerald Isle has no mean role of mighty masters of speech. Burke, Sheridan, O'Connell, Grattan and many more illustrious sons have exemplified the Celtic power in the lists of orators. Burke was a powerful thinker, Sheridan a majestic mover of Parliaments, but O'Connell had those natural gifts which made him one of the most moving popular speakers that ever lived. He obtained his command of oratory in the practice of law. It was not by the study of ancient examples of eloquence, but by the constant addressing of juries that he obtained his insight into the human heart, and his absolute control of men. It is said that he always took up a new criminal cause with complete confidence, and he seldom or never lost a case. His splendid appearance always made a powerful impression on the twelve good men and true. For in stature O'Connell was a giant, tall, muscular, broad-shouldered, full of energy, given to storms of passion, in short, a terrible opponent for a weakcheested counsel for the prosecution to measure up against. Interesting stories are told of the dramatic methods which the Irish lawyer adopted. On one occasion, for instance, when things did not go to please him, he picked up his blue bag, full of books, and dashed it violently on the courtroom table; at another time he left the courtroom in an apparent passion, and all proceedings were stopped until a messenger from the judge called him back to go on with his case. Dramatic incidents like these exercised, of course, as understand him. In its transitions from the highest to the lowest notes, it was wondrously effective.
All who heard him were enchanted by his swelling and sinking waves of sound, its quiet and soft cadences, alternated with bass notes of grandeur. Some idea of the extraordinary carrying power of that wonderful voice may be gathered from the statement, that at a field-meeting at Tara, 150,000 people were able to hear and understand him. He delighted his popular audiences with his dazzling versatility. He could be humorous, witty, sardonic, pathetic in turn. No man, it is said, spoke with less effort than he, and with more effect. Of unsifted personal character, in this respect altogether different from the dissipated Sheridan, his influence over his fellow-countrymen was unbounded. He did more than any other son of Ireland to lift her into a dignified place in English affairs.Although many spirited passages, dealing with Irish politics, might be chosen, I select this paragraph which reveals O'Connell's love for his beautiful country:"Let any man run around the horizon with his eye, and tell me if nature ever produced anything so green and lovely, so undulating, so teeming with production.
The richest harvests that any land can produce are those reaped in Ireland; and then here are the sweetest meadows, the greenest fields, the lof-tiest mountains, the purest streams,
the noblest rivers, the most capacious harbors, and her water power is equal to turn the machinery of the whole world. O my friends, it is a country worth dying for; but, above all, it is a country worth being translated, determined, submissive, and docile for, disciplined as you are in obedience to those who are breaking the way and trampling down the barriers between you and your constitutional liberty. I will see every man of you having a title to possession recognized, and I will see every man of you having a right to be respected throughout your land. The busy hum of the shuttle and the tinkling of the smithy shall be heard again. I will see prosperity in all its graduated, religious land. I will hear the hymn of a happy people go forth at sunrise to God in praise of His mercies, and I will see the evening sun set down among the uplifted hands of a religious and free population. Every blessing that man can bestow and religion can confer upon the faithful heart shall spread throughout the land. Stand by me, join with me, I will say be obedient to me, and Ireland shall be free."A FEW LINES

The forward group and Vair were the best of the Tecumseh forwards, while the Montreal players were the best of the Canadiens. Namaras played their usual good game. As for Nicholson, he was the only forward more than one occasion for the crowd to wonder why he was not on the ice. He tricked of wandering away from his position and it was only good luck that prevented him from being caught.

Last Night.

[Canadian Press.]
Montreal, March 1.—In two straight falls, Jean Baptiste Paradis, the New England wrestler, annexed the lightweight championship of the world, and won the Police Gazette belt from Eugene Tremblay, at Sohmer Park, last night. The match was catch-as-catch-can, the offensive being the only rule. The story and the fact was obvious to his many friends, that the once invincible lightweight had two opponents to overcome Paradis, and the enemy of all athletes, "Father Time." The winner played a clever game, and this proved to be his salvation in the long run, for after 55 minutes' of hard work he succeeded in sending Tremblay's shoulders under the mat. Again Paradis was handicapped in not being allowed to use the toe hold, a great favorite with him, and on several occasions he had to be warned by Referee Bourque attempting it. The match was a means fast, and the referee was very means with the Tremblay of former days. He seemed to be considerably put out by a necktie hold that was a favorite with Paradis, and by means of which the latter, after almost an hour, landed a fall. After a short rest, they went a second time, and started off with a rush. Paradis soon had his man in difficulties, and it was no surprise when at the end of ten minutes the clever young wrestler had declared the new champion of the world.

THE RIGHT SCORE.

To the Sporting Editor:

I notice in Saturday's paper that you have been misled in regard to the score of the hockey match between the Baled Havanas and Nolan-McLeod. Baled teams.

The correct score was: Baled Havanas 6, Nolan-McLeod's 2.

Thinking you in advance, I remain, yours,

London, March 3, 1913.

London, England, March 1. — One of the biggest surprises of the English League games this season occurred to-day in the first division of the league when Notts County, who were the tail-enders, secured a victory by administering a beating 2 to 1, to Sunderland, the leaders. The victory was a splendid one and Notts have reason to be proud of it.

Sheffield Wednesday leaped to first position by reason of their win today, while Sunderland drop to second place. Aston Villa and Middlesbrough tied for third place, and Manchester City and Bolton Wanderers for fourth place.

Woolwich Arsenal were fortunate in securing a point, but they are still last.

In the Scottish League the victory of Glasgow Rangers over Kilmarnock puts them only one point behind the leaders, Glasgow Celtic.

Scotland had a decisive victory at Glasgow in the League International, with 11 to 1.

The principal results were:

English League—Division I.
Aston Villa 1, Tottenham Hot 0.
Bolton Wanderers 1, Blackburn Rovers 1.
Chelsea 2, Manchester City 1.

Manchester United 2, Middlesbrough 3.
Newcastle United 0, Everton 0.
Notts County 2, Sunderland 1.

His Young Son, Who Suffers Injury.

[Canadian Press.]
Lewisburg, Pa., March 3.—Christy Mathewson broke his arm in two places yesterday, but even though it happened to the pitching arm there need be no consternation among the New York Giants "fans" because the son of "Mat" Mathewson, Jun., is visiting her parents here while her husband is on the southern training trip. An early report of the accident, which omitted the name of the pitcher, caused a panic among baseball enthusiasts.

Richards and Duffy, of Toronto, Beate in Race at Buffalo Against Finnish Runner.

Buffalo, March 2.—Hannes Kolehmainen, the world's amateur champion long-distance runner, won an hour-long race at George Richards and James Duffy, the Canadian runners, who ran half an hour each, leading at the end of one and one-twelfth laps at the end of the hour. The wonderful Finnish runner, who appears to be more of a machine than a human being, was out to beat the world's record of 11 miles, 1.137 yards, set by Mr. Shrubbs, of London, England, in 1904. He failed, however, running 11 miles and 4 yards.

Richards was the first man to fall in the hour's race. The two runners ran abreast for about ten minutes, but Kolehmainen started to lead. He gained steadily until within 10 minutes of the end, when he was overtaken by Duffy, who margin he had won by 12 yards. The Canadian runner did not stop then, but increased his lead to a little more than a lap additional.

When Duffy took up the battle Kolehmainen was one and five-eighths laps ahead. Duffy cut this down to about one and one-twelfth laps, performing almost as brilliantly as the champion. The Canadian runner was given the victory by the crowd, which numbered 1,000.

Nice, France, March 1. — Maurice Maeterlinck, the author, acted as president of the jury to decide the winner of the Georges Carpentier prize for Cyclone Smith boxing bout here last night. His duties were light, however, for Carpentier did the bulk of the work for him by knocking out Smith in the third round. Smith was a toy in Carpentier's hands and it appeared that the Frenchman could have laid him aside in the first round had he desired.

Toledo, March 3.—With the first squad of Chicago's big entry in the A, B, C tournament, practically out of the way bowling devotees can now sit back to look for the results of the teams from outside of that city and Ohio. The first of the two-man events on the alleys at 8:30 this morning.

The showing of Eddie Herrmann, of the Lincoln team, Cleveland, made last night when he totalled 723 in his three games, proved the sensation of the night. "We were so rolled until he hit the game when he totalled 277. This gives him a good start in the all-events list of winners.

THE JUST AND THE UNJUST

By Vaughan Kester
Author of 'The Prodigal Judge'

He changed his position uncomfortably. "I am at the end of my string, Evelyn," he said slowly.

"I shall miss you dreadfully, Jack! You know I am frightfully unhappy; what will I do when you go?" Marsh had made a perfect wreck of my life, she asserted.

"Nonsense, Evelyn," he replied. "You must be careful what you say to me."

"I haven't been careful before," she asserted.

He hit his lips. She went swiftly on. "I have told you everything. I don't care what happens to me—you know I don't. Jack, I am dead, despondently tired. She paused, then she cried vehemently, "One endures a situation as long as one can, but there comes a time when it is impossible to go on with the falsehood any longer, and I have reached that time. It is my life, my happiness that is at stake."

"Sometimes it is better to do without happiness," he philosophized.

"That is silly, Jack. No one believes that sort of thing any more, but it is good to teach to women any children. But saves a lot of bother, I suppose. But men take their happiness regardless of the rights of others."

"I don't always," he said.

"Yes, always," she insisted.

"But you knew what Marsh was before you married him."

"It's a woman's vanity to believe she can reform, can control a man."

"That is silly, Jack. No one believes that sort of thing any more, but it is good to teach to women any children. But saves a lot of bother, I suppose. But men take their happiness regardless of the rights of others."

"What would you have me say or do, Evelyn?" he demanded impatiently.

"She regarded him sadly."

"What has made you change, Jack? What is it that I have done? Why do you not answer my letters? Why do you not come to see me?"

"I only learned that you were in town this afternoon," he said.

"Yes, but you had no intention of coming. I know you didn't. You would have left Mount Hope without even a goodbye to me."

"It is hard enough to have to go, Evelyn."

"Isn't that, Jack. What have I done? How have I displeased you?"

"You haven't displeased me, Evelyn," he faltered.

"Then why have you treated me as you have?"

"I thought it would be easier," he said.

"Have you forgotten what friends we were once?" she asked softly. "You always helped me out of my troubles, and you told me once that you cared a great deal for me, more than you should ever care for any woman."

"Yes," he answered shortly, and was silent.

He would scarcely have admitted to himself how foolish his early passion had been, for it was at least sincere, and there could have been no sacrifice. At that time, that he would not have willingly made for her sake. His later sentiment for her had been a disfiguring and a painful thing, and he was glad to think of this boyish love, since it carried him back to a time before he had wrought only misery for himself and his mistress. She had lost the power that had once been hers.

"What a mistake I made, Jack," she cried, and stretched out her hands toward him.

"He fell back a step."

"Nonsense," he said. He glanced sharply at her.

"How stupid you are!" she exclaimed. "She half rose from her chair with her hands still extended toward him. For a moment he met her glance, and then, disgusted and ashamed, withdrew his eyes from hers."

Evelyn sank back in her chair, and her face turned white and she covered it with her hands. North was the first to break the silence.

"We would both of us better forget this," he said calmly.

"She rose and stood by his side. The color had returned to her cheeks."

"What a fool I am, John North," she purred softly. "And I might have made the tragic mistake of really caring for you!"

"She gave a little shiver of dismay, and then after a moment's tense silence, "What a boy you are—almost as much of a boy as when we used to play together."

"I think there is nothing more to say, Evelyn," North said slowly. "It is growing late. You must not be seen leaving here."

She laughed.

"Oh, it would take a great deal to compromise me; though if Marsh ever finds out that I have been here he will try to kill me. But she still lingered, still seemed to invite."

"North was silent."

"You must be in love, Jack! You see, I'll not grant that you are the saint you'd have me think you are. You are in love, for he colored angrily at her words."

"He interpreted her harshly."

"Don't speak her name!"

"Then it is true! I heard that you were, but I did not believe it. Yes, you are right, we must forget that I came here today."

"While she was speaking she had moved toward the door, and instinctively he had stepped past her to open it. When he turned with his hand on the knob, the smile had left her lips, they were mere self-satisfied and her face gray-white, very close to his."

"What a fool you are, Jack, what a coward you must be!" she struck him on the cheek with her gloved hand. "You are a coward!"

"His face grew white as her own, and he did not trust himself to speak. She gave him a last contemptuous glance and withdrew her veil."

"Now open the door," she said insistently.

He opened the door, and she went out.

"She was speaking she had moved toward the door, and instinctively he had stepped past her to open it. When he turned with his hand on the knob, the smile had left her lips, they were mere self-satisfied and her face gray-white, very close to his."

PLENTY OF COKE HERE SCARCITY ELSEWHERE

Both Gas Works' Product and Coal Are Stocked in Abundance.

Londoners have one cause to rejoice, and that is that there is a plentiful supply of coke in the city. In Ottawa the situation at present is very acute, and the dealers there have been importing it from Montreal, but even that has not satisfied the demand.

Upon inquiry at the different offices of companies handling coke in this city the Advertiser was informed that there was no scarcity, and that the quantity on hand would satisfy the demand for the remainder of the winter.

It was also stated that coal was more plentiful at present than it was some time ago.

EAST END HOUSEWIVES WANT OWN MARKET

Women Object to Paying Ten Cents Car Fare to Reach City's Centre.

East London housewives strongly favor the establishment of a market in the east end. An Advertiser reporter recently interviewed twenty housewives, and a number of the businesswomen in that part of the city, and there was not a dissenting voice found among the women, while those commercially interested were evenly divided.

Taking this canvass as a criterion of opinion of the residents east of Adelaide street, the East London Progressives have good backing in their campaign for a market.

The sake of convenience and the undesirable expenditure of ten cents return car fare to buy at the present market, were the principal reasons advanced by the ladies why they should have a market in East London.

A number of the businessmen bitterly oppose the market, declaring that it would never pay, and that the downtown district proves too much of a magnet for the farmers to stop in East London to sell their produce.

If No. 3 committee does not respond to the demands of the Progressives and establish a market, the latter body will circulate petitions in East London.

MANHOLE BLEW UP GRAND TRUNK LORRY

Man, Horse and Wagon Lifted Fifteen Feet in the Air.

[Canadian Press.] Toronto, March 7.—The Consumers' Gas Company employees were seeking for a leak in a gas main at Simcoe and Front streets this morning at 7:45 o'clock, a manhole blew up just as a G. T. R. lorry with a load of furniture was crossing. The wagon, man and horse were lifted 15 feet in the air, but the man escaped serious injury.

The leak in the gas main was the cause and the employees were building fires to thaw out the frozen ground close by. The windows in the G. T. R. freight shed and some in the Grand Union Hotel were smashed, and the guests at the hotel jumped out of bed to see what the trouble was. The gas on fire in one of the holes dug by the men is burning at the rate of 15,000 cubic feet an hour at a cost of 70 cents a thousand and feet.

Child Almost Strangled

You never know what minute a chill will develop a cold or be seized by croup. For this reason it takes a great burden off every mother's mind to have at hand Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine.

Mrs. E. W. Silver, South Milford, Annapolis County, N.S., writes: "I have used Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine for my little boy, with most satisfactory results. His throat would fill up with phlegm so that he could scarcely make a sound, and I thought he would surely strangle. He grew worse, and had frequent bad attacks, so I began using Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. Scarcely half a bottle was used when the strangling ceased. This medicine had a wonderful soothing effect, and when he had taken two bottles I could not tell that he had any throat trouble. We have also used Dr. Chase's Ointment with equally good results. It is a grand medicine for all ailments."

There are imitations, but the genuine Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine bears the portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M.D., the famous Receipt Book author.

WESLEY ANNIVERSARY MENTIONED IN METHODIST PULPITS ON SUNDAY

Founder of Denomination Died on March 2, 1791, Just 122 Years Ago—In the United States the Preachers Stop Their Clocks for Ten Minutes To Honor Memory of Great Leader.

In the Methodist churches of this city, and in many other cities in Canada and the United States, mention was made on Sunday of the life and work of John Wesley, the founder of Methodism, whose death occurred on March 2, 1791—122 years ago today. In the United States Methodist clergymen stopped their clocks for ten minutes today to honor his memory.

The great preacher and evangelist, who is credited with having preached 42,000 sermons during his life, was born at Epworth, England, in 1703. He was educated at Oxford, and entered the ministry of the Church of England, being appointed curate of his father's church at Epworth in 1727.

He held this charge for two years, but becoming alarmed at the religious apathy of his time, he began his work of itinerant preaching, holding service in the open air and often preaching to thousands of people.

He met with severe persecution in his travels through England, Ireland and Scotland, but his work was productive of much good, and his name is remembered with gratitude by thousands both on this continent and in Great Britain.

Dr. F. R. Eccles, of this city, has in his possession, among other records of the great man's life and work, an autographed letter from him to Joseph Benson, the latter gives instructions as to the distribution of preachers on the Newcastles circuit, and it reveals his strong personality.

Only three or four autographed letters of Wesley's are known to be in Canada. The one in Dr. Eccles' possession is still clear and legible, although written 136 years ago.

SLAVIC MISSION NEEDED IN LONDON

Russian Missionary Speaks of Saloons Here as Devil's Missions.

DISCUSSES FOREIGNERS

Toronto "Second Jerusalem," and Montreal "Second Rome," He Declares.

Advocating the establishment of a mission to the Slavic population of this city, which he claimed is now nearly 900, Rev. Mr. Kolesnikoff, a Russian missionary, who has been engaged in similar work in Montreal and Toronto, gave an interesting address at Talbot Street Church on Sunday morning.

"There is a good opportunity to open a mission here now," he said, "I believe if you do not open one you will have two or three more saloons, and there are devil's missions."

He spoke entertainingly of his coming to this country and of his connection with mission work in Montreal. He stated that he was advised by a friend to settle in the city of Toronto, and when he saw and experienced life in that city, he said, "This is the second Jerusalem," but when he went to Montreal he was impressed with the thought, "This is the second Rome."

"What will you do with the foreigners who want to come here and start saloons and other vile sorts?" he queried. "Giving them the English language can't save them from the jail, but give them the gospel and they'll never be in jail."

Rev. Mr. Kolesnikoff has offered to give his services for one month to assist in establishing a mission among the Russians and Ruthenians in the southeastern section of the city.

The congregation of the Talbot Street Church are endeavoring to raise the necessary funds to start the mission, and it is probable that it will soon be an accomplished fact.

Mr. Kolesnikoff held a meeting at the McClary works on Sunday afternoon, at which he addressed a number of his countrymen in their own tongue.

EXPLAINS METHODS OF REARING BOYS

Dr. Puffer, of Boston, Addresses Two Audiences at Majestic Theatre.

"If a boy is a perfect gentleman at 14, I am inclined to think he is a hopeless case for life," said Dr. Puffer, of Boston, who lectured twice on Sunday in the Majestic Theatre, on "Boy Problems," under the Y. M. C. A. auspices. "Teach the boy to stand up for his rights the first day of school and he won't have to fight again. The boy who fights his battles in early life will fight the world's moral battles later on."

"We have expected our boys to be little Christians too early in life. The only road to independence and the highest position in life is to fight for it. When the fighting age is off, then morality is weak and civilization is at a low ebb."

Boyish Generosity. Referring to generosity as a marked trait of boy-life at the gang instigated age, which Dr. Puffer pointed out at 9 or 10 and 16 years, he said: "Look not for generosity from the men who steal as much as they can and then distribute it over the country in libraries. The positions and move in the best of society, but at the Judgment Day one standard of morals only would exist.

Mr. Aikens asserted that he was pleased to see the radical steps which were being taken by co-operating societies and knew that they were reaping much good. Their labors during the past year amounted to more than all which had been accomplished during the previous ten years.

Dr. Gandier Calls Ideal Sound Body and Mind Controlled by God.

THE LIVING SACRIFICE

Hard to Live in World and Not Be Part of World.

"A sound mind in a sound body, and both controlled by the spirit of God—that's the Christian ideal," said Rev. Principal Gandier, of Knox College, Toronto, in his sermon at the First Presbyterian Church on Sunday evening.

The theme of his discourse was the sacredness of the body, and he chose for his text, Romans xii, 2, "Be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is the will of God, that which is good, acceptable, and perfect."

"In this verse," he said, "is contained the two essential elements of the Christian life, the submission of the personality to the will of God, and the consecration of the body to the service of God."

"The love of Jesus Christ for us is the basis of our religion, and if our love for Him is sincere it will issue in sacrifice," he continued.

"Now that Christ has died for us the least we can do is to live for Him. That's the philosophy of the gospel—its call is not to death, but to a life of service."

Principal Gandier stated that the call is wonderfully applicable to the present day; that there is a great need for men and women to live for Christ.

He denied that the days of heroism and martyrdom were past. "I don't know a time," he said, "when it is harder to live in the world and not be of the world."

He counted the man a hero who scorned to accept wealth, that he could not honestly earn, and was content to earn his living with smutty hands and the sweat of his brow.

"Is there nothing here?" he asked, "in the man or woman who leaves home and country, and goes to unhealthy and uninviting parts of the earth to heal the sick, cleanse the leprosy, and preach the gospel?"

"Is she not a martyr who gives up her right to love and home, that an aged father and mother may be cared for?"

"Doesn't matter which form the service takes," said Dr. Gandier. "The question is, is the complete personality yielded up to the will of God? That's the living sacrifice which is acceptable to God."

The yielding up of the personality he averred, implied the sacrifice of the body, which is the instrument through which Christ carries on His work of redemption in the world. This fact should guide us in our religious and living as to make the body the most perfect instrument possible of service for God and man.

SRTATHROY PREACHERS DECRIES ALL CREEDS

Says Division of Religious Effort Is Detrimental to Christian Advancement.

That the people of the world today are not living in accord with the principles of Christ in regard to religion, when they have established so many creeds and denominations, was the fundamental thought in the sermon of Rev. W. M. Kannawin, of Stratford, who occupied the pulpit of New St. James' Presbyterian Church on Sunday.

Rev. T. H. Mitchell preached in Stratford.

Mr. Kannawin's text was: "I Have Come That Ye Might Have Life and That Ye Might Have More Abundantly."

Mr. Kannawin's text was: "I Have Come That Ye Might Have Life and That Ye Might Have More Abundantly."

He emphasized the fact that Christ did not come into this world to bring ritual, creed or organization of any particular kind. But he instituted into his people the essentials of the life, giving spirit and with this endowed power they organized creeds of their own.

Mr. Kannawin wanted a departure from the creed and ritual which dominated the religious world today. He stated that Christ had preached the universal church and had not specialized on any particular branch for his people to follow.

In the evening, Mr. Kannawin preached from the text, "God is Love."

Mr. F. L. Willgoose officiated as organist in the New St. James' Church for the first time, and his selections were favorably commented upon.

SAYS SCIENCE AND RELIGION HARMONIZE

Professor Bowman in Discourse Before Askin Street Methodist League.

"The Relation of Science to Religion" was the subject of an address given by Professor Bowman before the Men's League of Askin Street Methodist Church on Sunday morning.

Introducing his subject, the speaker stated that although the subject is a big one, it is not as large as it appears, and really means the relationship between God and ourselves. There is a great deal more accord between science and religion today than there was years ago, and at the present time there is little difference between the contentions of the two parties.

The progress made in the study of astronomy is one reason for the statement that man is gradually entering into the realm of God and the position of David and the prophets. God at the time of the creation made man in His own image and today the discoveries and inventions of man originated with God.

Contrary to the statements of botanists, flowers were not made beautiful to attract bees and other insects, but were made in beautiful colors and shapes, because of the beauty in God's mind at the period of creation. Man who is close to God thinks these things are beautiful, for the simple reason that God made them beautiful in His own sight.

"I want to show," said the speaker, "that God prepared this world for the life of man and will attempt to do so by reference to ice and snow. Ice, as you all know, is lighter than water, but why is this so? You all know how ice is formed on bodies of water, and when ice is formed on the surface of the water, the water below is at a temperature that is suitable for the animal life in the rivers. If the ice formed from the bottom upwards it would not melt before the next winter, and the world would be uninhabitable with the exception of a narrow strip of territory about the equator."

Following the conclusion of the address a spirited discussion was indulged in by a number of the members present.

Gassy Stomach Endangers the Heart

Gas and Other Forms of Indigestion Are Quickly Relieved by Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Undigested food forms gas in the stomach, which causes the walls of that organ to expand and press against the heart. If this pressure should be allowed to become heavy it might result very seriously, as the heart must be kept perfectly free in order to perform its duties.

If the stomach is overworked, its muscles become tired and gradually grow weaker and weaker, until they are unable to take care of the food properly. The stomach is a pump, and the juices necessary to digest the food, gases form and cause all sorts of pain, misery and wretchedness, as well as extreme danger to the heart.

It is then that the stomach calls for help. Ordinary medicines are impossible. They not only fail to help the stomach, but injure the entire system. Medical men have studied the stomach and have discovered that the digestive juices consist largely of pepsin, hydrochloric acid and nitrogenous ferments. What, then, would be more natural than to supply these properties artificially when the stomach is unable to produce them?

That is the object of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. These powerful little agents relieve the stomach of its burden, thereby giving it an opportunity to regain its normal strength. They tone up, strengthen and revitalize the secretory glands, mucous membranes, absorbing glands and muscular walls. They restore to the stomach its lost power of digestion, so that it can again do its work without assistance. They contain, in a concentrated form, every element necessary to digest all sorts of food, whether acid or alkaline.

If you experience an oppressive feeling just inside the lower end of your breast bone and extending upward towards your heart, do not hesitate an instant. Get Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets from the nearest druggist at once and take one. In a few minutes the pain will leave you and you will feel better. Take a tablet after each meal for several days and your stomach will once more perform its duties. All druggists sell them at 50c a box.

GOES ON THE STAGE

Godson of the Duke of Argyll Takes to Vaudeville.

London, March 2.—Maclean, of Lochbuie, owner of 25,000 acres in the Isle of Mull, Scotland, godson of the Duke of Argyll, who is an uncle of the King, has decided to go on the vaudeville stage in America in order to earn enough money to save his estates, on which stands the historic castle of Lochbuie.

The estates, which were inherited by him four years ago, are heavily encumbered. He purposes, if successful in his variety sketches in the music halls, to do some drawing-room entertainment in New York and Newport during the season there.

To an interviewer he said the idea was first suggested to him by Mrs. Benjamin Guinness, of New York, whom, in company with Mrs. John Astor, he met some time ago at a party at Deauville Castle, near Lochbuie.

His contracts are practically arranged, and only the details remain to be settled. He has had a little experience on the stage in England, but up to now has hidden his purpose from all but his most intimate friends.

Kenneth Douglas Lorne Maclean, of Lochbuie, is 33 years of age. He is unmarried, and is a lieutenant in the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders.

For some reason unknown to the average mortal, the new half-mile track at North Rye circuit was refused dates by the Lake Erie circuit.

G.T.R. EXPRESS IN REAR-END COLLISION

Crashes Into Freight at Waukegan, on Scene of Memorable Tragedy.

WILD RUMOR CIRCULATED

Conductor and Negro Porter Injured Passengers Were Severely Shaken Up.

Running about 50 miles an hour, Grand Trunk Express No. 3, which leaves this city at 11:35 a.m., crashed into the rear of a westbound freight at Waukegan, shortly before 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

The caboose and one freight car were demolished, the front of the engine damaged, and the tender derailed.

Passengers on No. 3 were thrown from their seats but none was injured beyond a slight shaking up.

Conductor Jackson received a sprained back and a negro porter, who was dining in the car at the time of the collision, was scalded about the face and arms, when a tank of scalding water overturned.

Word of the accident was received in this city shortly before 2 o'clock, and a rumor to the effect that a disaster similar to that which occurred at Waukegan ten years ago, when more than a score was killed, quickly spread. Before 3 o'clock many people were at the Grand Trunk station enquiring to get information.

The telephones were kept busy by anxious relatives and friends, and Superintendent W. R. Davidson, who hurried to his office as soon as he was informed of the smash, was able to relay the anxious inquiries.

The express was bowling along in an endeavor to maintain its schedule when just near Waukegan a westbound freight, which was behind time, cut in front of it.

The brakes were applied, but owing to the heavy storm which was blowing the snow onto the rails, the momentum of the express carried it on into the rear of the freight.

Fireman jumps.

Fireman H. Finch, of Hamilton, who was on the express engine, jumped and narrowly missed being run over by a freight which was going east on the next track. Engineer Crothers, in charge of the express, was uninjured.

Dr. W. Reid, of Waukegan, after dressing the porter's burns, sent him on to Sarnia.

Two auxiliary men from London and Trainmaster W. Durkin, after several hours' work succeeded in clearing the tracks.

Express No. 6 from Chicago, due in London at 11:55 a.m., was stalled by a freight wreck at Durand, Mich., and by the wreck at Waukegan. It was nearly six hours late reaching this city, while No. 2, due here at 4:10, was one hour late.

TRADE REVIEWS SAY LONDON PROSPERS
Dun's and Bradstreet's Bulletins Tell of Conditions in Encouraging Terms.

The following are the trade reviews of London district in today's issues of Bradstreet's and Dun's Bulletins: Bradstreet's—London reports to Bradstreet's say that business conditions are on a sound basis through Western Ontario. Collections are better than in other parts of the country. Several new manufacturing concerns are looking to this city and to neighboring towns with a view to locating. Manufacturers are nearly all working to capacity. It is reported that a large hotel may be built here shortly. Gasoline has advanced one cent, and coal half a cent a gallon. Few farmers have been able to get a good price for their produce, and many are also fairly plentiful. Dun's Bulletin:—London—A moderate snowfall helped local conditions and land in relation to the weather somewhat. Orders are plentiful among the manufacturers and the wheels of industry keep busily employed. Local collections are more dilatory than last year and western bills are poorly paid generally. One failure this week with debts about $10,000. Money continues tight, but legitimate loans granted at 6 per cent, and 6½ per cent; no money for speculation.

STRONG OPPOSES COLLEGIATE ADDITION
Member of Board of Trustees Says Structure Could Be Remodeled.

W. T. Strong, public school trustee, is opposed to the erection of another wing to the present Collegiate Institute, claiming that it is unnecessary and a foolish expenditure of money which is needed by the board of education in other parts of the city. He admits that the present school is overcrowded, but says that if it were remodeled and some of the room used for halls, stairways, etc., utilized, the college would satisfy the demands of the city for some years.

"I fully realize that the collegiate is not in condition at present," said Strong, "but instead of adding a wing to cost $40,000, I would advocate that it be remodeled throughout. There are only about four schools in this city which are in proper condition at present, and an expenditure of many thousands of dollars to supply adequate schools for the increasing number of children."

LONDONERS DO WELL IN COBALT STOCKS
City of Cobalt Mining Company Shares Now Listed at 45 to 46.

A number of Londoners are the richer for having purchased shares of the City of Cobalt Mining Company. Last fall the mine was passed around as a good speculation, and the price was then about 25 cents a share. It was said that the 25 per cent royalty used by the Ontario Government was to be taken off, and that the mine would commence operation. Since that time the stock has steadily advanced, and now it is listed at 45 to 46.

Announcement is made today that an English company is to buy in the concern, and that it will pay from 55 to 60 per share. This will show you that a considerable number of Londoners who took advantage of the information.

A WEAK, ACHING BACK Caused Her Much Misery. Kept Her From Sleeping Nights.

Weak back is caused by weak kidneys, and on the first approach or evidence of kidney trouble Doan's Kidney Pills should be used, and serious trouble avoided. Doan's Kidney Pills go right to the seat of the trouble, cure the weak aching back, and prevent any further complications arising. Mrs. W. R. Hodge, Fielding, Sask., writes:—"A few lines highly recommending Doan's Kidney Pills. For this last year I have been troubled very much with a weak aching back, and a weak aching back which caused me much misery. I could not work and had no ambition for anything. My kidneys were very badly out of order, and kept me from sleeping at nights. I tried many kinds of pills and medicines, but it seemed almost in vain. I began to give up again, when a kind neighbor advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills, which I did, and am thankful for the relief I obtained from them, for now I am never troubled with a sore back or kidney aches. I will always say Doan's Kidney Pills for mine and can highly recommend them to any sufferer."

MAY BE LONDONER
Attendant Dies at Grace Hospital, Detroit. Believed To Be From Here.

Detroit, March 3.—Max Zeith, 27 years old, single, employed as an attendant at Grace Hospital, Detroit, dropped dead at the hospital Sunday as the result of heart trouble. Deceased, according to reports found among his belongings, lived at London until a few weeks ago, when he came to Detroit to search for work. He was a marine engineer, by trade, and was a member of the union at London. Deceased was working at the hospital, apparently in the best of health, when he suddenly collapsed and fell to the floor. Another attendant, who was near him at the time, called for assistance, but deceased died before a physician could be summoned. Coroner Burgess was called and determined the cause of death, and then sent the body to the Wayne county morgue. The coroner is making an effort to locate relatives in London.

Zeith's name is not listed in the city directory, and as far as can be learned he is unknown here.

all that had been put in his possession, but he refused. Now is the onus on the part of the owner to prove and specify each article missing before he can get his things back? Can the lawyer be forced to certify that he had agreed to take charge of all that was put in his possession? A.—The onus is on the owner to specify the things missing. He could sue for damages for one article of which he is certain, and for others which he is unable to describe. He could in this action examine the defendant on oath as to all the things left with him, but he cannot compel the defendant to certify. He had better consult another lawyer.

SCHOOL PRINCIPALS RESIGNED TO FATE
Say They Will Just Keep On and Let the Matter Drop.

The public school principals are not worrying over the action of the finance committee of the board of education in turning down their resignation for an increase in salary. They are patiently waiting until the board meets on Tuesday next, when the matter will receive its final consideration, and they still hope that their wages will be raised. Two or three of the principals did not expect an increase, but have stated that if the petition were to be general among them, they would also take part.

If the board of education also refuses the increase, the principals will probably let the matter drop. On Their Merits. Speaking to The Advertiser today, one of the principals expressed his views on the committee's action. "It makes no difference how often we ask for an increase, the trustees should consider if we are worth the $1,700 or $1,800 as the case may be," he said. "And we asked for a raise last year, that should not hinder us from having another this term if we are worth it."

Dr. Shaw is theoretically correct in his view that every teacher should be paid his market value, but no person is capable of judging between two and three hundred teachers who are the best teachers, and those who have less ability, as graded them accordingly. It is impossible.

Just Got One-Half.
"Last year the board was asked to give us a $200 raise in salary, and they gave us about half for us. I really thought that it would be a certainty to secure the other $100 this year."

CORRESPONDENCE
Mr. Glaubitz on Springbank Power Development.
To the Editor of The Advertiser: It is evident from an illustrated paragraph appearing in yours of Feb. 24, that I have not read the exhaustive report on past and present conditions at Springbank submitted to the commissioners Jan. 23, of which you had a copy. You will note from the report that an annual sum of $1,200 per annum has been effected in the operating costs of this station since the introduction of hydro, as follows:

Operated with steam and hydraulics:
1909 $12,263.74
1910 11,492.64
After introducing hydro:
1911 10,528.28
1912 10,523.39

From the pamphlets you will also note that there is on an average only enough power at the Springbank dam to pump about half the water supply. Every mother would show you that to run the hydraulic pumps as much as in previous years, using the electric pumps as a stand-by, or rather to do only after half of the pumping, would have been more expensive than the flat rate charge made as at present.

You state that Mr. Yates, the contractor, claims the hydraulics could very easily be put into first-class condition in this connection, I wish to refer you to page 5 of Prof. Angus' report to the board Nov. 16, 1911, where he stated "The hydraulic pumps are in a deplorable condition," and on page 6, that "it will be necessary to completely overhaul the pumps." We have spent about $1,000.00 on the hydraulic pumps in the last two years, making them serviceable, and I expect they will still last indefinitely if handled with care.

You refer to a power development at the Aux Sables River with low head, and quite feasible for a separate circuit, but it is very precarious to operate such an installation in multiple or union with the hydro-electric circuits of another power plant, and in frequency, more absolute, as pointed out in the report, if ice or other troubles prevent the use of power turbines at Springbank only for one day, this day would mean the maximum demand on which the city would have to pay for that month, so a storage scheme of some sort must be introduced such as the commissioners are contemplating to make use of.

The reduction in power charges and the service which the Springbank station will render the electrical department in the reduction of its peaks will probably reduce the operating expense of the waterworks department in the neighborhood of $2,000, which would mean that the waterworks department will operate the Springbank station at about $3,000 per annum less than before the introduction of hydro.

I should esteem it a privilege if you would give me a chance to explain any other criticisms concerning our department which come to your notice. Yours truly,
W. J. GLAUBITZ,
General Manager, Board of Water Commissioners, London, March 3.

WILL SWEAR IN THE NEW PRESIDENT.

Edward D. White, Chief Justice of the United States.

EXPERTS TO TEST THE FRIEDMAN SERUM
White Plague Cure To Be Investigated by New York Medical Society.

[Canadian Press.]
New York, March 3.—Instead of opening offices here today, as he had planned, Dr. Friedman, the young German physician, has decided to test his tuberculosis serum before the New York County Medical Society, before he attempts any treatment of patients. This course was decided on last night after a conference with officers of the society, who informed him that such a step would be necessary if he desired to obtain a license to practice. A meeting of the board of the society is to be held tonight, and arrangements for a test of the serum will probably be made. If convinced of the treatment's efficacy, the society can recommend to the state board of regents that a license be granted. On or about March 15, it is understood, Dr. Friedman intends to go to Philadelphia.

Woman's Hair Reaches to Knees
A Year Ago Was Threatened With Baldness—Tells How She Made Her Hair Grow.

Mrs. Esther Emery, now visiting friends in the city, is the fortunate possessor of a wonderfully beautiful hair, which, when loosened from its coils, falls to her knees. It is of soft, silky and fluffy texture, and in color a glorious glossy gold. Yet just one year ago she was threatened with baldness. Urged to tell how she had obtained this wonderful growth in so short a time, she said: "Had anyone told me such marvelous results could be accomplished so quickly, I positively would not have believed it. Twelve months ago my hair, which then reached barely to my shoulders, was falling out in an alarming rate, and growing very thin, actually exposing the bald scalp in several spots. It was dull and lifeless in color, turning gray in patches, and very dry and brittle. My head was covered with dandruff and itched like mad all the time. I tried fully a dozen different hair tonics, but they were all the same and never did me a bit of good. One day I chanced to read in my home paper of a simple home prescription to make the hair grow that was recommended by a well-known physician. I bought a bottle of ordinary Lavona de Compose and mixing with Bay Rum and Menthol crystals, and applied to the scalp each night with my finger tips, that new hair would grow very rapidly. I decided to try it, and I have never stopped to use it. My hair quickly grew and grew, and six ounces of Bay Rum and half a gram of Menthol crystals, and started to use it. How quickly my hair did grow! First, the hair stopped falling, the itching ceased, and the dandruff disappeared. Then my little hairs appeared all over my scalp. These grew and grew, as though nothing would ever stop them. They are growing yet, and while, of course, I have used the treatment steadily and expect to continue it, at least until my hair reaches the floor, I might have stopped and been perfectly satisfied at the end of three months. I think that any woman can get long, thick, beautiful hair by using this prescription as I have recommended it to several friends, and they are delighted with the result. The prescription is very inexpensive, and any druggist can fill it."

Those who use it should be careful not to get it on the face or where the hair is not desired.
