GHASTLY FIND IN A TRAIN

Detroit Officials Found Body of Infant in Grand Trunk Coach.

Gruesome Parcel Had Passed Through Chatham — Child Had Been About a Day Old.

Detroit, Nov. 4.—On the floor of a Grand Trunk car and partially under one of the seats, Deputy United States Customs Collector James W. Fisher yesterday found a parcel which when opened was found to contain the naked body of a fully developed male child, weighing about 10 pounds and apparently not more than 24 hours old. The infant was dead, but had evidently been alive at birth, as it seemed to have been bathed.

The body was found by Mr. Fisher while Grand Trunk train No. 23, west bound and due in Detroit from Chatham at 1.10 p.m., was being brought over on one of the car ferries. It was near the heating pipes at the side of the car and had escaped observation of the four or five passengers in the coach. The body was wrapped in white cloths and newspapers. The inner covering was a piece of cotton cloth, outside of which was wrapped a baby's little skirt and copies of the Montreal Daily Star and Toledo Blade of Wednesday, Oct. 30.

Conductor William Draper and the brakeman were in the baggage car when the body was found. When Mr. Fisher informed them of the fact they at first believed he was joking. Upon accompanying him back to the day coach, they expressed much surprise that the package had not been sooner observed. Two ladies and two or three men were passengers in the coach but with the exception of one man were seated at some distance from the spot where the parcel was found. All denied any knowledge of the gruesome contents of the parcel. A man two seats away from the seat where the parcel had been lying declared he had seen no one occupying that seat and could not recall that anyone had entered the car at any of the stations where stops had been made.

Upon the arrival of the train at Detroit, Coroner Forth viewed the remains and ordered the little body taken to J. W. Maney's undertaking room, 43 National avenue.

Three points were developed by an autopsy held by Dr. I. L. Polozker last night; first, that the child was born alive; second, that its death was due to criminal negligence on the part of those present at its birth; and third, that it did not die on the train, having, in Dr. Polozker's estimation, been dead for from 12 to 24 hours preceding the time of the autopsy.

Coroner Forth will hold an inquest. It is thought that the parcel containing the infant's body must have been placed on the car during one of the stops at stations between Chatham and Detroit. Possibly it was deposited in the car before the train left the former city. With the exception of the newspapers and cloths in which it was enveloped, nothing was found which might give a clue to trace the identity of those who were responsible.

CHATHAM HORSE

Animal was Purchased by Duke of Roxbury on Occasion of Royal Visit to Canada.

The horse, which Dr. Routledge, of Lambeth, sold to the Duke of Roxbury, one of the Duke of Cornwall and York's suite, was a Chatham production. Fred Goodland bought the animal from George Lane when it was a colt nine months old. Mr. Goodland practically raised the horse. He also broke it and used it for a driver till this summer. Dr. Routledge and W. D. Sheldon are friends and through the latter Mr. Goodland sold the horse for $200 to Dr. Routledge. Then the doctor sold the horse to the Duke for a good round figure. Speaking this morning, Mr. Goodland said: "It was a bright bay horse with black points and stood 16-hands high. I considered that he was the finest horse I ever owned and I was sure he would take the eye of some gentleman who was a judge of a good horse. I bought the horse from George Lane when he was working for Angus Sinclair. The horse was sired by Wildbrine. I am glad the horse has got a good home."

WABASH CHANGE OF TIME.

Taking effect Nov. 2nd, the following changes will be made in Wabash time table from this station: East bound trains 3.05 a. m., and 6.25 a. m., are withdrawn. West bound train 5.40 a. m., and 7.03 p. m., are withdrawn. West bound train now leaving 10.13 p. m., will leave 9.52 p. m., and east bound train now leaving 12.23 p. m., will leave 3.25 p. m. W. E. BATTLE RAGED FOR TWO DAYS

And Boers Lost Very Heavily in the Fight Near Brakenlaager.

Botha Personally Led Attack on the British Lines, Losing Between 300 and 400 Men.

Pretoria, Nov. 3.—Further details have been received regarding the attack by the Boers under Commandant General Louis Botha last week upon Col. Benson's column near Brakenlaager, eastern Transvaal. It appears that Gen. Botha, who had been joined by another big commando, aggregating 1,000 men, attacked Col. Benson's rear guard Oct. 30 on the march and captured two guns but was unable to retain them. Col. Benson fell mortally wounded early in the fight.

Major Wools-Sampson took command, collected the convoy and took up a position for defence about 500 yards from entrenchments prepared by the Boers. The captured guns were so surrounded that neither side could touch them.

The Boers made desperate efforts to overwhelm the whole British force, charging repeatedly right up to the British lines and being driven back each time with heavy loss. The defence was stubbornly and successfully maintained through the whole of the following day and the succeeding night, until Col. Barter, who had marched all night from Bushman's Kop, brought relief in the morning of Nov. 4. The Boers retired. Their losses are estimated as being 300 or 400.

Col. Benson did not long survive. Not only did Botha direct the attack, as already noted, but the personally shared in the fighting.

The special dispatches from South Africa give practically nothing further about the disaster to Col. Benson's column. It appears that the first attack was made in a blinding rain storm.

The heaviest casualties occurred while Maj. Wools-Sampson, who is a Johannesburg reformer and an officer in one of the colonial levies, was gathering the convoy under the brow of a hill, a most difficult task.

It is assumed in London that the two 15-pounders remained in the possession of the British, but the telegrams are not clear on this point.

Edgar Wallace, a correspondent of the Daily Mail, writing from Pretoria, under date of Oct. 16, again protests against official optimism and declares that the war will not be ended for another year. He urges the immediate dispatch of large reinforcements of both men and horses. "Even when all that is possible has been done in this direction," he says, "it will be necessary to wait grimly and not to expect any quick result."

RIOTING IN LONDON.

London, Nov. 3.—A riotous scene occurred yesterday afternoon in Peckham, a suburb of London. A small gathering of the local branch of the democratic league undertook to hold a meeting to protest against the war in South Africa. The manifestos started in procession for the place of meeting, but before they arrived there, they were hooted, buffeted and dispersed.

A crowd estimated at 20,000 gathered to oppose them. There were many ugly rushes, and the police were barely able to protect the struggling protesters from the fury of the populace. After considerable fighting, during which a man was stabbed, the protesters were removed under police protection. The victorious crowd then held a jingo meeting and sang "Rule Britannia."

Dispatches from Warsaw say the newspapers there assert that a contract has been entered into for the supply of 20,000 horses for the British cavalry in South Africa.

THE VERDICT

Louis Von Gunten Met Death by an Accidental Fall.

Windsor, November 3.—On Saturday night last Louis N. Von Gunten, of Chatham, Ont., was picked up on Brooklyn avenue, Detroit, suffering from a fracture of the neck, from which injury he died. Yesterday afternoon Coroner Hoffmann's jury rendered the following verdict:

"That the deceased came to his death by a blow on the forehead causing a fracture of the neck, which was caused by falling against a telegraph pole in an intoxicated condition." Albert Miller, of 601 Lafayette avenue, testified positively that he saw Von Gunten stub his toe on a grating, stumble, take four or five steps in an endeavor to regain his footing and plunge full tilt against the pole.

From the evidence it appears that when the accident occurred he was running away from the three unknown young men, who escorted him into an alley.

MONDAY, NOV. 4.

CONGRATULATIONS.

On Saturday our esteemed contemporary celebrated its first anniversary under the present management. A perusal of the anniversary issue, coupled with a recollection of conditions and contents a year ago, alone is necessary to a realization of what has been accomplished. Our contemporary included in its columns on Saturday a series of hearty and eulogistic tributes from representative citizens on its progress. They were well deserved and it gives The Planet much pleasure to join in the sincere congratulations extended. Our contemporary is well conducted and capably manned, and, while we occasionally may criticise and often differ with views it advances, we can see no reason why it shall not always receive from us the esteem in which it is now sincerely held. The Banner-News is a most creditable paper and, were it not for our excessive modesty, we would point out that, with but one exception, it now holds the premier position among the daily journals of Western Ontario.

A FOOLISH FAKE.

People are already beginning to laugh, says the Stratford Herald, at the prominence to which Mr. C. R. Mabey, lately of Ohio, at present of Toronto, has suddenly risen through his exploit of writing a book against Mr. J. P. Whitney in the capacity of a disgruntled Conservative, which the Liberal machine joyfully adopted in its hunt after aids in the execution of its grim resolve, "We will whack Whitney." It is no risky assertion to say that a month from now the Liberals will be sorry they ever took up with Mr. C. R. Mabey and will be uttering warm expletives about him and his works. Conservatives don't need to care what Mr. Mabey says. Thousands of Liberals are getting ready to vote out the Ross Government on account of its degeneration and bossism and corruption, so that the spectacle of Mr. Mabey going the other way, even if his Conservatism was ever real, need cause no unrest. These oddities and exceptions have to be calculated on; they prove the rule.

Mr. C. R. Mabey's business seems to be that of a pamphleteer, and he is ready, like a lawyer, to champion either sides, or both sides, for adequate remuneration. It appears that he spent a few years in the United States, where he produced two election pamphlets during the same contest, one for the Democrats and the other for the Republicans. Coming back to Canada he found the pamphlet field not half worked, and prepared a pamphlet in the Conservative interests, characterized by lurid language and overdone abuse of Premier Ross, which Mr. Whitney sensibly refused to sanction. Directly finding that he had no use for Mr. Whitney and that the latter was no man anyway, Mr. Mabey turned over and with equal ease composed a pamphlet in the interests of the Ross party and succeeded after seasoning it plentifully with "disgusted Conservatism," in getting the Liberal machine to sanction it and promote its circulation. The depth of Mr. C. R. Mabey's convictions may be gauged from the following extracts from his two pamphlets:

Liberal Book—"The history of the Liberal party in Ontario shows them to be deserving of future trust. It stands for all that is good and progressive. They are as able and willing to grapple with social, political and administrative reforms as on the day when the people's mandate first placed them in office."

Conservative Book—"Mr. Richard Croker, of New York, with his arcane ideas of the responsibility of man to his maker, not merely for his deal-

They complain of a bad taste in the mouth, a tenderness at the pit of the stomach, a feeling of puffy fullness, headache, heartburn and what not.

Hood's Sarsaparilla cured Joseph F. Laine, Flanagan, Ky., who writes: "I was troubled with dyspepsia for a number of years and took medicine that did me no good. I was advised by friends to try Hood's Sarsaparilla which I did and it put my bowels in perfect condition, gave me strength and energy and made me feel like a new person."

ings with the individual, but still more for his dealings for the community, as far as morals is concerned, is far in advance of Mr. Ross, of Ontario. Mr. Croker may have robbed the taxpayers, but he never robbed the school children."

Liberal Book—"On the one side we have a strong, honorable, and progressive government. One that has during the past thirty years been an honor to the province, the Dominion, and the Empire."

Conservative Book—"Husbands, wives, fathers, mothers, brothers and sisters, in the name of God and justice can you countenance, aid and abet the robbery of our widows and orphans by the Ross school book ring? Many a hard-working washerwoman, deprived of helpmate in life, is compelled to scrub from early morning until sunset for the money with which to buy a school book which costs less than six cents to publish."

Washerwoman's daily wages...50 cents Price of school book.....50 cents Cost of publishing.....6 cents Profit.....54 cents

"In the name of humanity turn Ross, the originator of this monopoly, out of office. The school book ring pay per cent, but God pity their guilty souls!"

Mr. C. R. Mabey also proposed in his Conservative pamphlet to erect this monument over the Ross Government:

"This stone was erected in memory of the 'Ross Machine,' which died of self-inflicted wounds in a cess-pool of iniquity. 'Calm, thinking villains whom no faith could fix of crooked councils and dark politics'."

Mr. Whitney showed better judgment than Mr. Ross' lieutenants have done, by refusing to sanction Mr. Mabey's turgid efforts, and no doubt Mr. Whitney regretted that he ever allowed himself to be bothered into letting Mabey try his hand at all. By taking up Mabey the Liberal machine makes itself ridiculous, and puts itself on a par with Mabey and his convictions. The machine is already meeting with rebuke from shrewd Liberals, of which this from the Brantford Expositor, is a sample:

"Attention has been called in the Mail and Empire to the circulation of a campaign publication called 'Our Progress,' purporting to be the production of one Mabey, 'a disgusted Conservative,' and having the endorsement of Mr. Alexander Smith, the Liberal organizer. It is being offered to Liberal organizations at $10 per 1,000 copies, but so far as South Brant is concerned, it is to be hoped the Association will not 'bite.' 'Progress' is too much of the 'bogus Globe' in its get-up to suit the Expositor's palate, for while it contains many good pointers, and much objectionable matter, it is in parts too personal and too offensive to Mr. Whitney to be effective campaign literature. The sooner it is 'called in the better.'"

The independent press also perceives the shallowness of the game, the Hamilton Herald observing:

"A man named Mabey tried to sell campaign material to the Ontario Tory machine; but it was rejected because it was too abusive. Then he faked up another batch of material and offered it to the Ontario Government machine, and it was accepted. The Herald hasn't seen Mr. Mabey's pamphlet and cannot express an opinion as to its merits, but, whatever its literary merits may be, its value as Grit campaign material is now rather less than nothing."

When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

BRIDGE END.

We are glad to report that the anniversary services of St. Paul's church was a decided success. The church was well filled morning and evening and all seemed to appreciate the earnest efforts of Mr. Ross. The singing was conducted in the morning by St. Paul's choir and in the evening by Bethel choir. The supper was one of the best ever held at St. Paul's, the proceeds of all amounting to $3.00.

Miss Shaw and Mr. Bright, of Ridgetown, spent Sunday the guest of Mr. Chas. Stewart.

When there is disease of the delicate female organism, it is only a question of time until the general health becomes undermined. Nervousness, sleeplessness, loss of appetite and "sinking spells" produce suffering almost indescribable. There can be no restoration of the general health until the local health of the womanly organism is re-established.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription establishes regularity, dries offensive drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It encourages the appetite, tranquilizes the nerves and induces refreshing sleep.

"You would be surprised if you could have seen me when I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's medicine and could see me now," writes Mrs. Isaac S. Harris, of Gayville, Yankton Co., So. Dakota. "I had no appetite, was completely run down. Have had stomach trouble for years and was so nervous I could not sleep. We have spent a lot of money doctoring, but there was not one thing that I took that did me any good, except for a short time, till I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery.' In three days after I commenced taking his medicine I could see a change for the better, and from that time I have steadily been getting better. Can walk or ride to any place I want to, and I feel like a new person. Since taking Dr. Pierce's medicine I can sleep all night and never get up tired in the morning; can eat anything and it doesn't hurt me."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness and sick headache.

THE BISHOP'S HUMOR.

Bishop McEvay, the esteemed head of the Roman Catholic diocese owning London as cathedral city, is not only a very able man, but gifted with a fine sense of humor, so we rather fancy he will enjoy this true story: One of the separate schools in London is St. Peter's. Another school in London is known as the Holy Angels. The other day, boys from these two geographically separated schools met, and, as sometimes happens among the best regulated schools and families, a bit of a scrimmage—nothing very serious, however,—occurred, whereupon a passer-by heard one small boy shouting to another lustily, "Come quick! Come quick! The St. Peter's kids are thrashing the Holy Angels!"—London Advertiser.

THEY DIED TOGETHER.

Reading, Pa., Nov. 1.—At noon to-day the bodies of Walter Snyder and Minnie Reichsteller were found on Mt. Penn, with bullet holes through their temples. A pistol was lying by Snyder's side, and it is supposed he killed the girl and then committed suicide. The couple left a letter in which they said that their love affairs had been interfered with and that they decided to die together. Snyder was 20 years of age and the girl 21.

Theatrical

Miss St. George Hussey is certainly making one of the greatest hits of her career as the jolly Irish widow in love with the English nobleman in "The House The Jack Built," which comes to the Grand Opera House on Saturday, Nov. 16th, and she has an excellent foil in George H. Summers, who, as Willie Slab, the paperhanger, is as distinctly novel as he is clever, and is at all times extraordinarily funny. May Courtney in the role of the vaudeville is also great. In fact the cast as a whole is the best that could possibly be selected, and the play simple as a laugh-provoker pure and simple, is said to be exceptionally clever as well as original. It fairly abounds in ludicrous scenes, telling lines and comical situations. All the specialties are new, bright and thoroughly up-to-date.

The coming of such a startling success as "Miss Nell" cannot help but arouse the enthusiasm of local theatre-goers. The Grand will doubtless be crowded when Geo. C. Hazlett's Jr., merry play comes to town. "Miss Nell" is the play in which Henrietta Crossman scored such a remarkable success in New York last season. It was originally produced at the Bijou Theatre in New York and such was the success that at the end of its allotted time at this theatre, it was moved up town to the Savoy and later came back to Wallack's theatre, where it remained until the end of the season. Thus has "Miss Nell" a record of having occupied three theatres in New York in one season. Some startling success in the past have lost their popularity when an effort has been made to transfer them from one theatre to another; but the popularity of "Miss Nell" was so great that it was not effected by the change; indeed the business at Wallack's theatre at the end of the season was the best done in New York. Of course this is principally because of the fact that Wallack's theatre is larger than either of the other two houses occupied. The company that will present "Miss Nell" here, is under the management of Maurice Campbell, who originally produced the play and is said to be a remarkably strong organization. Mr. Campbell has put "Miss Nell" on the road in first class fashion, carrying a carload of scenery and properties. The costuming is also said to be remarkably fine. The prices for this attraction have not been increased and will range from twenty-five cents in the gallery.

WANTED THEIR PAY.

Paris, Nov. 1. — A despatch to the Temps from Constantinople says 30 officers of the navy recently mutinied on account of the lack of pay and proceeded to the palace to make a demonstration. The Sultan sent an aide-de-camp with an instalment of the money due them, and the officers thereupon desisted.

Resented the Comment.

A well known savings institution has a unique system of receiving deposits. People who patronize the bank first take their money to a receiving teller and then pass along to another clerk whose business it is to verify the entry in the handbooks and deliver them to the proper owners. "John Jones," he will call out, for example. When John Jones answers, the clerk asks him how much his deposit was, and upon receiving a correct reply hands over the book.

One day a little irascible looking Irishman was one of the depositors in line. "How much?" queried the clerk when the Celt had answered to his name. "Wan dollar," returned the depositor. "Vera little," sung out the clerk, reaching for the next book. "It is, begob!" shouted the little man, turning back. "It's a dom sight more than yer would have to save yerself if yez had a wife and tin children to support."

It was not until the indignant depositor had marched through the doorway that the astonished clerk stumbled to the combination of circumstances which had aroused his ire.

A City of Zinc.

Beira, on the coast of Portuguese East Africa, is a city of zinc. Every utensil is made of it. If you were to break your leg, you would be taken to the hospital on a stretcher made of zinc and when you arrived at the zinc building you would be laid on bedding resting on a zinc framework.

A dead man lying in a zinc coffin, the latter resting on settles of the same metal, is not an extraordinary sight. The body is carried to the zinc church, and it may rest in a zinc lined grave if the relatives so desire and are willing to pay.

Zinc seems to be the only cheap material that will withstand for a reasonable length of time the effects of the humid climate, and it is accordingly employed in every possible way.

Deceptive.

"Tommy," said the father of a precocious five-year-old at the dinner table, "don't you think that is a pretty big piece of cake for a boy of your size?" "It looks big, papa," replied Tommy, "but it's sponge cake and nearly all holes."

Pathetic.

Laertes de Hamme—Miserable house tonight! Beggary array of empty benches!

Polonius O'Rante—Yes, but did you notice during that emotional scene that even the empty seats were in tiers?

Sympathetic Inquiry.

"Yes," said Snags in reply to Spiff's query about his health. "I've been ill with tonsillitis or tonsillitis."

"Well, which is the worse?" asked Spiff.

JOHN LEE HAS GOT IT

East Kent Bye-election Goes to the Machine Candidate by Acclamation.

It Took Mr. Lee and his Friends a their Time to Effect an Arrangement With Mr. Johns.

Special to The Planet.

Ridgetown, Nov. 4.—2.20 p. m.—The name of John Lee, the nominee of the recent Liberal convention held here, was the only one submitted to Returning Officer Sheriff Gemmill here today. He was accordingly declared elected by acclamation to the seat for East Kent, re-elected vacant by the death of the late Robert Ferguson.

The party managers anticipated trouble in view of the dissatisfaction expressed in many Liberal quarters over the machine manipulation of the convention and the expressed determination of Mr. Johns and his many friends to dispute it at the polls.

Mr. Johns arrived in town early this morning and was making his way to the nomination hall when he was met by Mr. Lee. The candidate and his prospective opponent talked for some time. Then the big machine nominee took the arm of Mr. Johns and they walked back a short distance together.

The two were then joined by R. L.
Gosnell, of Blenheim, president of the East Kent Liberal Association; John Howatt, of Thamesville, and H. D.
Smith, of Ridgetown. Together they had a long consultation, at the close of which Mr. Johns withdrew and did not visit the nomination hall.

Mr. Lee again vigorously stated that he only wanted the nomination for one term and would withdraw at the general election.

What settlement was arrived at with Mr. Johns is speculative, but it is understood substantial concessions were made. It is asserted in some quarters that Mr. Johns was definitely promised the Liberal nomination at the general election.

Mr. Lee's election was received with very little enthusiasm and it is evident that the workings of the machine are not welcome in East Kent.

SESSION DECIDED

Federal Cabinet Decides It Will Commence Jan. 30th or Feb. 6th.

Ottawa, Nov. 3.—A meeting of the cabinet was held yesterday, at which a general discussion took place on the session program. It was agreed to call parliament on either January 30th or February 6th, the earlier date being preferred if the departmental reports are ready. An effort will be made to complete the business of the two houses before Sir Wilfrid leaves for England the beginning of June.

MAY EXTEND FISHING SEASON.

Ottawa, Nov. 3.—Mr. M. K. Cowan, M.P., is in the city on business with the Department of Marine and Fisheries. He is urging an extension of the fishing season on Lake Erie for ten days or two weeks, owing to the run of fish being late this year, consequent upon the open season and the warmth of the waters of the lake. The extension will likely be granted.

INDIAN PRINCES INVITED.

Simla, Nov. 3.—King Edward has invited the Maharajahs of Gwalior and Jaipur, the Rajas of Kohapur and Nabha, and the Nawab of Behawalpur to attend his coronation next June. He has instructed the Viceroy to hold a durbars at Delhi on January 1, 1902, at which the attendance of the other Indian princes and chiefs will be regarded as equivalent to their attendance at the coronation in London. A large military contingent representing the classes of the native army will take part in the coronation.

BULLER IN RETIREMENT.

New York, Nov. 3.—L. N. Ford, cab-ling to the Tribune from London, says:
There has been a marked subsidence of feeling in the country, if not in the army, respecting General Buller's dismissal. One of the military journals still champions him with indiscreet zeal, and contends that the condemnation of the luncheon speech on the grounds set forth in the official memorial cannot be justified. Buller himself has gone into retirement in Devonshire, and may well ask to be delivered from his friends even more indiscreet than himself. There has been some loose and reckless talk about a hostile demonstration toward Lord Roberts by the men who fought under General Buller. Mr.
Broderick in reality is responsible for the final action of the War Office, and Lord Roberts, like the King, acquiesced reluctantly.

PAN-AMERICAN HAS CLOSED

Lights Extinguished at Midnight Saturday With Deficit of Over $4,000,000.

Uproarious Crowds Start Destructive Demonstrations and are Drenched with Water.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 3.—Standing at the Triumphal Bridge at midnight on Saturday, John G. Milburn pressed an electric button which extinguished the lights at the Pan American Exposition.
Bands played and thousands cheered as the lights faded to a red glow and then to darkness. Around Mr. Milburn were the men and women who, as managers, investors, and employees, had worked for the success of the fair only to have it result in a loss of over $4-000,000. The total attendance, exclusive of Farewell Day, was 8,179,674, which included passes. How far this fell below the expectations of the Exposition promoters may be judged from the fact that the Exposition paid premiums on a blanket accident policy on 16,000,000 paid admissions for the session. Many wagers were made that the attendance would exceed 16,000, 000, and others that it would exceed 25,000,000 and 30,000,000.

The stockholders sustain a complete loss. The holders of $500,000 second mortgage bonds, will get no return.
The holders of first mortgage bonds will recover 80 per cent of their money.
Contractors who put up the buildings will lose $1,000,000 because the fair has no assets to pay their claims. Concession holders lost money with two or three exceptions, and several were ruined. The notable money-maker was the cyclorama of the Johnstown flood, despised and scorned by investors, which closed the season $100,000 to the good.

Saturday's big crowd saw a variety of entertainment. Mrs. Taylor, who went over Niagara Falls in a barrel on exhibition free, and Carrie Nation paraded over the grounds. There was a sham battle in the Stadium between the 700 Indians and the Regulars from Fort Porter, balloon races, and a display of fireworks all over the grounds, for all the insurance had expired and the board of underwriters did not care. Victor Herbert and his orchestra played patriotic strains in the Temple of Music, all the evening, and the Midway was a scene of riotous gayety.

At 11 o'clock President Milburn and the directors of the Exposition assembled in the Temple of Music for a farewell meeting. All the heads of departments and the representatives of State and foreign Governments were present. Mr. Milburn delivered a short address of farewell, and a little before midnight walked to the Triumphal Causeway. One minute before midnight eight buglers stationed on the top of the Electric Tower sounded taps, and just at 12 o'clock Mr. Milburn touched the button which ended the illumination. Shortly afterward the cable carrying the electric power was cut, so that the lights could never be turned on again. To-morrow bids will be opened for wrecking the buildings.

RIOTING ON THE MIDWAY.
Three demonstrations on the part of the Midway crowd late last night almost may be dignified by the term riots. All three were quickly squelched. The biggest of the three was in Pabst's shortly before 10 o'clock. The second was in the restaurant in Cairo shortly after 10 o'clock.

In both cases it was a spontaneous outburst of hoodlumism, and chairs began to fly. A liberal application of water through a hose quieted the rioters.

The third row in the Cafe Wellington, back fair to develop into a general smashing of the entire building, when it was nipped by the police.

Never was such a night known in the history of revelries in Buffalo.
Men and women of all classes, rich and poor, mingled in one big jumble of humanity.

Twenty-five victims of the fight and crush were treated at the Exposition Hospital. These included two women, three city policemen, and three Exposition guards. Broken heads were the usual complaint.

Something About New Peels

To make sure that we were getting these peels at their best we imported from Crosse & Blackwell a large lot of their celebrated peels. Just to show you how fresh these are, these peels left Liverpool on the 4th of October and arrived here a few days ago. There is nothing better cured than these peels; we do not know of anything as good.

You get them at a cheap price, too—20c a pound. Lemon, orange and citron.

If the tooth aches the owner goes to a dentist; if the stomach, he goes to the doctor; if his corn hurts he goes to a chiropodist, but if his eye aches he blames it to overwork or perhaps to a cold in the head.

A man in New York who once had good eyesight but turned blind offered $100,000 to have his sight restored. We do not know what the diagnosis of the case is, but as the offer has been pending for a long time, and the man is still sightless, we presume he is permanently blind. Perhaps his eyesight could not have been saved, but it is an undeniable fact that many are blind and many others are practically so whose sight could have been preserved by the early attention of a reliable optician. He was like hundreds of other people of the present day and who are troubled with a dull headache, which they blame to overwork, study, or perhaps to being up late the night before. There are others who complain of objects being dull, and again there are people who see specks floating in the air like dust, which is not dust, but eye trouble. These troubles can all be relieved by consulting E. J. MacIntyre, Chatham's reliable Optician, who uses all the latest methods for treating these troubles.

Walter Malach, the deputy sheriff of Houston, Texas, who came after Ed Underwood, the man Archie Skirving arrested while Chief of Police of Ingersoll, was killed the other day.

Malach and Ben Durand came out of a saloon together and began firing at each other. Both men were killed. Malach passed through Chatham with Underwood about four years ago. Detective Skirving arrested Underwood, who was wanted in Houston, Texas, for murdering a Jew. Several Chathamites went out to the G. T. R. station to see Malach and his prisoner as he passed through this city on that occasion.

WELCOMED HOME AGAIN

Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York on Their Triumphant Return.

The Occasion of a Magnificent Demonstration—Tour Around the World.

London, Nov. 2.—Cheers greeted the Duke and the Duchess of Cornwall and York to-day as they passed on their triumphant return from their round the world tour through the crowded streets of London. The ceremonies passed off excellently. The King and his reunited family bade farewell to the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York to the strains of the naval bands. All the ships in the harbor were gaily dressed, and the weather, as in London, could not have been finer. The royal train arrived at Victoria station at 12:56 p.m. Immense crowds of people gathered there to welcome the royal party.

Before the Duke and Duchess disembarked, the Mayor and Corporation of Portsmouth were received by Their Royal Highnesses, to whom an address of welcome was presented, to which the Duke in reply, after expressing his thanks, said:—"Our journey has extended over thirty-three thousand miles by sea and twelve thousand miles by land. Everywhere we have been profoundly impressed with the kindness and affectionate enthusiasm of the British people, and the universal declarations of loyalty to the throne and by the conscious pride in the partnership of our great Empire which so unambiguously declared itself. We have gained great, pleasant and profitable experience, have made many friends, and—may we hope some good results may be secured by the drawing more closely together of the various parts of the Empire through the sympathy and personal regard which we feel have been developed during the fulfilment of the proud mission intrusted to me by my father, the King."

The royal train arrived at Victoria station at 12:56 p.m. Immense crowds of people gathered there to welcome the royal party.

The way to Marlborough House the route was well lined, and several parts were profusely decorated, colonial colors being particularly noticeable, while the Stars and Stripes and the Danish flag were also frequently seen. There were four thousand troops on duty at Victoria Station. The colonial agents presented an address to the Duke of Cornwall and York, who replied in much the same terms as he used earlier in the day at Portsmouth, when he dilated on the enjoyment he had derived from his trip, and his gladness at seeing his native land again after his deeply interesting journey, at every point of which he had been profoundly impressed by the universal declaration of loyalty to the throne.

The agent-general of the colonies also presented an address to the King, who handed them a written reply, as follows:—"I thank you for your loyal and dutiful address on the return of my beloved son and daughter-in-law from their visit to the portions of my realm of which you are the representatives. It was not without natural anxiety and hesitation that I sanctioned the departure of the heir apparent to my throne on a voyage which involved many months of separation. But it was my earnest desire to give effect to the plans of my late revered mother, and the aspirations of my loyal subjects in the colonies, of whose devotion and patriotism I have received such signal proof in the splendid service they have rendered to the Empire in South Africa, and I am fully repaid by the complete success which attended the visit and the manifestations of devotion and loyalty which the presence of the Duke and Duchess everywhere evoked.

The members of the royal family and their suites rode in open carriages.

The King wore a field-marshal's uniform, the Duke of Cornwall and York wore the uniform of a rear admiral, and Prince Edward of York was dressed in sailor clothes.

The one discordant note in the general rejoicing over the safe return of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York was the mixed greeting accorded Lord Roberts, and the official reception of the Duke and Duchess. Lord Roberts had been cheered in the company of other officers earlier in the day, but while he was returning from St. James' Palace alone in his carriage, considerable hooting was heard from the side walks, indicating that Buller's ghost is by no means completely laid.

Another report says:—"In all the vast dominions which the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York have visited during their great seven months' tour, nowhere have they been received with greater enthusiasm than when they drove through the streets of London to-day. The warmth of their reception from the crowded populace seemed to sum up and concentrate all that love and admiration which they have gathered to themselves in the fifty thousand miles they have traversed by land and sea. When one just thinks of it, how fittingly chosen, how fully named was the Ophir, the Argos of golden opinions and golden hopes, but the feeling that there is nothing so pure and unalloyed as the truly British sentiment of home found full expression to-day in London."

In connection with the change in the program of yesterday's reception a pretty incident transpired. The original plans provided for the sailing of the Victoria and Albert from Portsmouth at 11 o'clock, but one of the children of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York was so insistent upon being taken at once "to my mummy," that the King laughingly yielded, and the yacht started an hour ahead of time with the royal children in a great state of gleeful excitement.

WAS THROWN TO HIS DEATH

Fatal Accident Befel John Mc-Keegan on Head St. Saturday Night.

Team Took Fright and Driver was Dashed to the Ground, Breaking his Neck.

One of the saddest accidents which have occurred in the city for some time, happened Saturday afternoon about half past five o'clock, of which John McKeegan, a well-known resident of Chatham township, was the victim.

Mr. McKeegan was building a barn on his farm and in company with his sons came to Chatham on Saturday for some shingles and lumber. He started for home with a load of shingles about five o'clock Saturday afternoon. While driving past the Wagon Works, on Head street, his horses became frightened at a shunting freight train and ran away. Mr. McKeegan, who had been drinking somewhat during the afternoon, was alone on the load and was unable to manage the horses.
He was thrown out in the ditch, alighting on his head and breaking his neck. The horses he was driving were a big grey team, who while somewhat skittish, were never known to run away before.

Mr. McKeegan was found dead at the side of the road, where he had been thrown, and his sons, who were loading lumber on Barthe street, were sent for. The body was removed to Jahne's morgue.

Coroner Bray was called and decided to hold an inquest. The following jury was empanelled: W. E. Hamilton, foreman; J. D. McNab, Gordon Boles, R. Stevens, P. McNaughton, F. Traxler, H. M. McGarvin, J. Richardson, J. McRener, T. O'Rourke, A. Richardson, H. Anderson, J. Fennell. They met at half past seven Saturday night at Jahne's morgue and, after hearing the evidence of the sons of the deceased, adjourned until this evening at half past seven.

Hugh McKeegan, son of deceased, testified that his father was 69 years of age, and resided near Kent Bridge.
The last time he saw his father alive was at five o'clock at the Idlewild cove. Deceased was drinking at the time, but did not seem to be intoxicated. Those who were with him were Erin Coltart, J. Gladstone, Hugh and Patrick McKeegan. The team, loaded with shingles, was standing in front of the hotel. He was in the habit of drinking. He was driving a wild team. The next time he saw his father was when he was called from Barthe street. Deceased was lying at the side of the road near the Wagon Works, dead. The horses and wagon were not there, but had proceeded on their way home. Deceased gave him $12 between 2 and 3 o'clock.
It was a large load of lumber extending three tiers above the wagon box.
The load was not bound on.

Pat. McKeegan, also a son of deceased, corroborated everything said by his brother. He was at the hotel when his father started for home. Deceased seemed to be sober enough to drive the horses. He was setting on the front of the load, with his feet hanging down. He had often driven the horses when he was more intoxicated than he was on Saturday.

At this point the inquest adjourned.

A FULL BROTHER TO CRESCUS.

Located at Deadwood, S. D., is Foxy Quiller, the full brother of the world's champion trotter, Crescus, 2:02 1-4, says "Spirit of the West." Foxy Quiller is the property of Hanford S.
Grooms, who purchased the stallion in one of the Splan & Newglass Chicago sales. He is a 16-hand bay stallion of great substance and promising action. He was at the hotel short time in his two-year-old form, but being large and growthy, his development was postponed until he had attained his maturity. Col. F. J.
Berry, on a recent trip to Deadwood, he could speed a wagon over a common country road in 2:30. Mr. Brown intends to ship the stallion to Denver, where he will be worked for speed development. Foxy Quiller was sired by Robert McGregor, 2:17 1-2, and out of Mabel (dam of Crescus, 2:02 1-4, and Nightingale, 2:10 1-2) by Man-gum Howard, 3:00, second dam Contention by Albie West, 2:25. A peculiarity of his breeding is the doubling of the crosses to Alexander's Abdallah, Robert McGregor being a son of Major Edsall, 2:29, by Abdallah, 2:42, and Albie West being a son of Almont, 2:39 3-4, by Abdallah, 2:42, the sire of Goldsmith Maid, 2:14, one of the ex-queens of the trotting turf.

The third anniversary of the Bloomfield Sabbath school was celebrated yesterday afternoon, Mr. Wells acting as chairman. The secretary's annual report was read by the superintendent, Miss Dolsen, reporting an average attendance of 40. This school has a fine record for its good work and its donations to missions, famine fund, Children's Aid, and other devoting charities. The many bright features were shaded by the deaths, each year, of one of their teachers taken from works to rewards. The address was delivered by Mr. Brock a blackboard illustration of the starry crown; an inspiring speech from Mr. Parrott, with a few words of cheer and experience from Messrs.
Andrews, Black and Martin, and singing by the scholars. The school house was packed with young and old, whose verdict was, "Go on and prosper!"

"Ah," he sighed, after she had blushingly whispered "Yes," in his bosom. "My own Melitabell O, that name's so formal. Surely your friends use some short one; some nice pet name."
"Well," she murmured, "the girls at boarding school used to call me
"Pickles."

DARRELL TEAM WAS DOWNED

Met Defeat From Chatham in a a Fine Football Match.

Visitors Played Pluckily and Showed Improved Form—Captain Mow-bray's Winning Streak.

To follow in the wake of Captain Frank D. Laurie, the football leader of undaunted and skilful personality, idolized by the team and with remarkable cup-winning proclivities, and maintain the high record established, was no easy task. Yet Captain Wm. Mowbray is doing it and his team have yet to suffer defeat.

Saturday's contest with Darrell on Toumsh Park was a good one and exciting throughout. The visitors, a sturdy, athletic and well trained aggregation, presented a much stronger front than on their previous visit and played a considerably faster game.
They did much of the forcing and only hard luck prevented them from scoring on at least a couple of occasions.

Capt. Mowbray handled his team well, with the result that their attacks were more telling than those of their opponents, although the individual work of Darrell was, if anything, superior.

The match started off with a rush by the Chathams on their opponent's goal, and the Maple City team had scored before three minutes of the time had elapsed, Houston making the shot from a corner centre by Anderson.

The Darrells now worked hard, making many fine rushes on the Chatham defence.

Ehatham's second goal was scored by Anderson on a beautiful corner drop by Sheldon.

Darrell now worked harder and in a hot scrimmage near the Chatham goal pushed the ball between the flags.

This encouraged the visitors and during the last half they put up an excellent and gentlemanly game. Anderson, for Chatham, scored again on a pass from Mowbray, making it 3 to 1 in favor of the home team.

This ended the scoring, but the battle raged for some time longer.

The teams were as follows:—

Darrell.
Goal—J. French.
Backs—Asher, J. Fisher.
Halves—M. French, A. Pugh, W.
Brown.

Left Wing—R. Abram, F. Pugh.
Right Wing—Jinks, Gregory.
Centre—R. Miller.

Chatham.
Goal—G. Smith.
Backs—Courtney, Wm. Wilson.
Halves—P. Pigott, M. Fraser, Mc-Naughton.

Right Wing—Adams, Anderson.
Centre—Mowbray.

There is a cure for dyspepsia. Suf-the trouble is dyspepsia of long stand-

The less the trouble the fewer tablets need be taken.

Heaviness after eating, sour stomach, as indicated by belching, fatigue,

SEARCH FOR PROTECTION

And Incidentally the Victim Lays Complaint Against his Tormentor.

Dutchmen was on the Look-out for the Hotel man, but the Latter was too Quick.

"Mienzelf was un stranger, and I want protection. Mienzelf it was who vanis un German consulable to spoke mit."

The speaker was a German, with a badly battered face and, like the Bowerly maid in the fairy tale, he was telling his troubles to the policeman.
The officer of the law, who was listening to the tribulations of the man from the land of Frankfort and chopped cabbage, was P. C. Tom Groves.

Mr. Groves, having hearkened, replied that the Maple City didn't sport a German consulable, but that a punch Henry Darr might do. The subject of the Kaiser and beer explained that he wanted a German consul, not a consul-able, but it was protection that he wanted worst.

The Maple City policeman further explained that although this city lacked that element of protection, a German consul still there was a law here under which protection was given under His Majesty, King Edward.

The German's nose had been bleeding and he had managed to smear his face and hands with the gore, so that he presented a horrible spectacle, and the policeman feared that the man was battered badly. However, by reason of the smearing, the native of the Fatherland looked worse than he was and he unfolded his tale in all its simplicity. He said that he had been working for a city hotel man for three days. A man had warned him to look out for the boss, and he had looked out. Everything went well till Sunday morning, when the day porter began grumbling about the fires not being kept up. The German remarked that he knew his place. This offended the proprietor, who was standing near, and he struck the German twice, then went for the poker to repeat it. The victim said he did not wait for the last act, but sneaked out the door.

This morning the man laid a charge of assault against the hotel keeper.
The case comes up for trial to-morrow.
