DIED IN CHICAGO

The death occurred in Chicago on the 12th of September, of James E. Johnson, aged 29 years and ten months. Deceased was the son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Johnson, who formerly lived in this city. Besides his parents, he is survived by seven brothers--William J. Johnson, Jr., Thomas G., Clarence E., John A., Eric E., Franklin H., and Chas. McD.

Deceased was well known in this city, and he has many Maple City friends who will be sorry to hear of his untimely end. Their sympathy is extended to the bereaved family.

The funeral took place from the home of the deceased, 1,000 North Fairfield.

PLEASANT OUTING

Earle Kimmerley entertained the members of the Chippewa Lacrosse team to a pleasant launch ride down the river yesterday in W. W. Scane's boat. A start was made at nine o'clock in the morning, and the party returned in the evening.

The party went down to the Light-house, where they had dinner, after which they went for a cruise on the lake. All report having a most enjoyable time.

QUITE STRONG.

How is he at bridge; strong! His bridge is strong enough to support the whole family.

THIEF IS CAUGHT

Man Who Robbed G. T. R. Operator at Thamesville is Captured At Glencoe

Glencoe, Sept. 14.--Another example of the resourcefulness of the G. T. R. staff here was exemplified last night. The operator at Thamesville, while attending to his duties as usual, noticed a stranger, who he at once recognized as being the man who held him up and robbed the depot the previous night.

He at once notified the despatcher at St. Thomas, who wired the operator at Glencoe to have the policeman at the depot on the arrival of a freight train which had been standing at Thamesville, and which the operator assumed the stranger was about to board.

On the train's arrival at Glencoe Constable Hills made the arrest. The prisoner admitted his guilt without stating of what offence he was guilty, but the operator persists in saying that he is the right man.

A MODEL TEACHER

Rev. A. H. MacGillivray Delivers a Thoughtful Address To The Young People of the City

There was a very large congregation at First Church, last evening, to hear Rev. Mr. MacGillivray give a special address to the students and scholars of the city. Through the audience were noticed a large number of the young people of the city, many of them strangers, and an attentive and evidently enjoyable hearing was given throughout the service.

Mr. MacGillivray was at his best, as he always is in addressing the young people, and he gave a sermon which could not help but be a source of benefit and inspiration to every young man and woman in the church. His remarks were, perhaps, more particularly addressed to the teachers and those who were contemplating the acceptance of such a mission in life. During his remarks he advocated principles which would undoubtedly lead to uplift and improve this profession, if practically applied by the members in it. It is hoped that Mr. MacGillivray's efforts in interesting the young people in church work, will be continued with characteristic energy and perseverance, as there is nothing which is more beneficial to any church than to see the younger members active and enthusiastic.

During the service last evening the choir sang a splendid anthem; a solo was brilliantly rendered by Wilfred Smith, and a pleasing selection was given by the male quartet. The members are returning to their posts after the summer months, and the singing is again assuming the excellent standard to which this splendid choir attains.

NEW AUTO LAW

Judge Houston, Chairman of the Police Commission, has issued orders to the police to take measurements of certain city streets and keep tabs on the speed of autos on such thoroughfares, in order that evidence may be secured for prosecutions in cases where the new automobile regulations are violated.

"The police can easily test this matter," said His Honor. "They can measure certain blocks, time the autos, and we will thus be enabled to get definite information. The police have plenty of time to attend to this matter, I am told that the autos run at the rate of twenty miles an hour in the city, and faster than that on Talbot Street. The new regulations are out in postal form, and no autoist can have any excuse for not knowing what they are, nor will any such excuse be taken in this court."

The speed at which autos are allowed to run in the city is ten miles an hour and fifteen in the country.

WAS FINED

Jack Abraham was fined $1 and costs--$5.35 in all--in the Police Court this morning, for the privilege of carrying too big a bag on Sept. 11. Abraham first talked of having a warrant served on John McDonald, whom he alleged, ill-treated him on the night in question. When he was informed that McDonald is now sailing on the lakes, however, he changed his mind.

BURNED HIS WAY OUT.

Sensational Escape From Lock-Up at New Liskeard.

New Liskeard, Sept. 16.--A sensational jail breaking took place here this week when a young fellow about 23 years of age, charged with the theft of $175 from William Byers of Thornloe, actually burned his way out of the New Liskeard lock-up. His manacles were placed on the top of a stove in the corridor and he rigged up a fishing device with a diver of wood and a pin by which he brought the lockers to hand. He lit a fire under the ceiling of the cell, burning a hole sufficiently large for him to draw himself through. He has not yet been recognized.

DENNIE LAMB LOSES HORSE

Circumstances Point To Horse Stealing, Mr. Lamb Thinks

Animal Disappeared From Pasture Field Saturday Night

Another apparent horse-theft has been reported. Dennie Lamb, of Harwich, is the complainant this time. Mr. Lamb came into the city yesterday, and reported to High County Constable Major Coogan that a valuable black horse had recently disappeared from his pasture field, an the circumstances point to horse stealing.

Mr. Lamb had six horses in the pasture field, and Sunday morning he noticed that one was missing. He says that it has either strayed away or been stolen. He says that he cannot understand how it could have strayed away, as its mate was still in the field Sunday morning, and the mate usually went where it went. Besides, he has been unable to find any trace of it in the neighborhood.

According to Mr. Lamb's description, the horse is black, stands fifteen and one-half hands high, has a white star on its forehead, and a white hind leg.

Mr. Lamb has gone to Thamesville to see if he can find any trace of the missing horse there. The horse is a fine looking animal, but is almost blind. This will probably prove a disappointment to the thieves, who possibly did not notice the horse's blindness in the dark.

A NOBLE ACTION

Reginald Jamieson Gives up his Life In an Effort to Save Two Women

Blenheim, September 15.--Lamentable news reached town last night when word was received from French River, in New Ontario, of the death by drowning of C. Reginald Jamieson, a young unordained Presbyterian minister, who was well known here.

Deceased went out boating a week ago Saturday with his wife and a lady friend. A heavy storm came up and the party were driven on an island, which was uninhabited. They lost their boat and had nothing to eat. Mr. Jamieson became frenzied at beholding the sufferings of his wife and the other lady and decided to try to swim from island to island and reach the mainland and obtain relief.

After a touching farewell with his wife and the other lady he started and the women saw him gain one island in safety. In crossing it he became lost to view and that was the last that has been seen or heard of him.

The late C. R. Jamieson was the son of Rev. W. H. Jamieson, D. D., of Birmingham, Mich., and for many years was a Presbyterian pastor in charge of a rural church here. He was a graduate of Bidgetown Collegiate Institute and an honor graduate of Toronto University.

For a short time, about 18 months ago, deceased was assistant editor of the Toronto Saturday Night. He was responsible for a series of letters in that journal, signed "Junius, Jr.", which brought about an investigation into conditions at Toronto University and was the principal witness at the investigation which followed.

The deceased young man was the son of Rev. Dr. Jamieson, who for many years was pastor of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Up-the-Creek, and was well known to both Presbyterian congregations in this city. During his sermon last evening, Rev. A. H. MacGillivray made mention of the sad event and extended to the parents of the deceased young man the sympathy of their many Chatham friends.

GOT CHEAP PLUMS

Saturday night an unknown man from the country snatched a basket of plums from the front of Harry Andrew's Grocery and ran in the direction of the Sixth Street foot-bridge. Officer Dodson followed swiftly on his trail, but the thief gave the policeman the double cross at the bridge, turned and ran back up King to Fifth Street, and over to the Idlewild Hotel. Here the officer saw him in conversation with the proprietor of the hotel.

When the thief saw the policeman coming he quickly jumped in his rig and drove off. Officer Dodson asked both the proprietor and the hostler at the hotel as to the man's name, but both denied that they knew him. Possibly some farmer and his family enjoyed very cheap fruit Sunday at Mr. Andrew's expense.

CLARK "WELCHED"

He Refused To Pay a Bet to a Waiter Who Stood to Win $1,308 on a $5 Investment

The following is from the Detroit Journal of Sept. 10--

What doth it avail a man to win a big bet if he can't cash his ticket? That is the question that is keeping Herman Galland, a waiter in the Majestic Cafe, awake at night, and has also puzzled a number of other gentlemen at various times.

Horman likes the ponies. Industrious he pores over the dope book and makes his selections with great care. Last week he thought he saw a chance to make a killing. He has been breaking about even for some weeks, but there was a chance. He took the Sheephead Bay entries, and, after much calculation, he "parleyed" a bet on the afternoon. He placed $5 on the parley, and stood to win $1,308 on his ticket.

There comes a time in the lives of all when the fates are kind and genial, and Herman read the sporting extras and discovered that his horses had all run according to form, and that he was due to cash in on the "parley."

He had placed the bet, so he alleged, in a suit filed in the Circuit Court, with Arthur Clark, who runs a "handbook, and formerly had office room in a brokerage office in the Hodges Building.

But Arthur "welched" on the bet. He had not expected Herman to win his "parley," and he refused to pay. Now Herman is very sad, and has invoked the courts to help him collect the bet.

The man Clark mentioned in the above is the gentleman who runs the Commercial Stock and Telegraph Co. He is the man who has sworn out an information against W. J. Strong, of this city, charging him with theft, which Mr. Strong denies.

 A single grain of the resin of Indian hemp will produce cataplay in a man. A few hours are required for the effects to reach a climax, when his limbs may be placed in almost any position without difficulty, and when once placed they remain in the given position indefinitely, although the natural influence of gravity would cause them to fall. During the cataplay the body is usually insensible to all impressions—exchange.

WHEN IT'S HOT.

Add Your Own Idea to These Pictures of Oppressive Heat.

"Suppose we describe in turn the scene that our fancy pictures as illustrating our notion of oppressive heat," said one of a party discussing the extremes of weather. "What do we think of—that time, what place, what conditions?"

The suggestion was received with favor, and here are some of the responses:

"A new concrete sidewalk at noon, with the sun beating down on it and your heels sinking in, and the heat reflected in your face, and the air pervaded with the smell of tar."

"The desert, with an exhausted caravan struggling to reach a mirage that hovers on the horizon, and doomed to perish of thirst, as perhaps, the man and the animal whose bleached bones they are passing."

"Washing dishes in the kitchen, with the thermometer at 95 out of doors and a hundred and something within, with your hands so scalded and greasy that you can't lift them to your face to wipe away the perspiration, and with your whole being so tired and cross and miserable that you would cry—if you were not ashamed to."

"The deck of a becalmed yacht, with a glassy sea and a long, slow roll and the brasswork so hot that it burns your hand, the sun high, the sky cloudless, the sails hanging, with not a breath to stir them, the victim prostrate and motionless, with no consciousness in the present except of heat and nausea and no expectation for the future but sunstroke."

"Standing alone in the middle of a broad, hot field that is flaming with scarlet lilies, with no sound save the notes of the grasshoppers and the locusts."

"Noon on a country road which lies between treeless, barren fields, with no living thing in sight but an ox team lumbering slowly on its way in a cloud of yellow dust."

"A night in August when coolness has not come with darkness, when you cannot sleep and can hardly breathe and when it seems that morning would never come."

Do You Open Your Mouth
 Like a young bird and gulp down what over food or medicine may be offered you? Or, do you want to know something of the composition and character of that which you take into your stomach whether as food or medicine?

Most intelligent and sensible people now-a-days insist on knowing what they employ whether as food or as medicine. Dr. Pierce believes they have a perfect right to insist upon such knowledge. So he publishes broadcast and on each bottle wrapper, what his medicines are made of and what he would say to the people.

WOMAN'S WORLD

MISS MAUDE EARL.

One of the Cleverest Animal Painters of the Day.

Maude Earl is one of the cleverest animal painters of the day. With her widowed father, who taught her the rudiments of her art, she lives in a fine villa near London, and she has amassed a fortune principally by painting the canine pets of royalty and of the fashionable.

Miss Earl is nearly forty, though she looks barely thirty. She exhibited her first picture in the Royal Academy in 1885. Since then she has done pictures of the favorite dogs of Queen Victoria and King Edward and of all the principal winning dogs of Great Britain and the continent.

In speaking of the characteristics of her subjects Miss Earl said to a reporter the other day:

"There are very few dogs that will permit you a favorable opportunity of studying their characteristics."

"The dog of a becalmed yacht, with a glassy sea and a long, slow roll and the brasswork so hot that it burns your hand, the sun high, the sky cloudless, the sails hanging, with not a breath to stir them, the victim prostrate and motionless, with no consciousness in the present except of heat and nausea and no expectation for the future but sunstroke."

"Standing alone in the middle of a broad, hot field that is flaming with scarlet lilies, with no sound save the notes of the grasshoppers and the locusts."

"Noon on a country road which lies between treeless, barren fields, with no living thing in sight but an ox team lumbering slowly on its way in a cloud of yellow dust."

"A night in August when coolness has not come with darkness, when you cannot sleep and can hardly breathe and when it seems that morning would never come."

Do You Open Your Mouth
 Like a young bird and gulp down what over food or medicine may be offered you? Or, do you want to know something of the composition and character of that which you take into your stomach whether as food or medicine?

Most intelligent and sensible people now-a-days insist on knowing what they employ whether as food or as medicine. Dr. Pierce believes they have a perfect right to insist upon such knowledge. So he publishes broadcast and on each bottle wrapper, what his medicines are made of and what he would say to the people.

Indian Hemp and Cataplay.
 A single grain of the resin of Indian hemp will produce cataplay in a man. A few hours are required for the effects to reach a climax, when his limbs may be placed in almost any position without difficulty, and when once placed they remain in the given position indefinitely, although the natural influence of gravity would cause them to fall. During the cataplay the body is usually insensible to all impressions—exchange.

er with more keed water. Leave them in this for one hour. Take out and wipe dry.

This process is known as "blanching." It is necessary to the right preparation of sweetbreads, making firm and white what would else be flabby and dull red.

Cut fat salt pork into thin strips (lardons) and make incisions in the sweetbreads with a narrow, keen blade. Thrust the lardons into these. They should project half an inch on each side of the sweetbreads. Arrange the lardons in a deep bake dish, pour a cupful of well seasoned stock about them, cover and bake for twenty minutes. Several times during the cooking lift the cover and baste the sweetbreads copiously with the gravy.

Remove the sweetbreads to a hot dish. Stir into the gravy left in the dish a soup made of cooking a table-spoonful of butter with one of browned flour. Add a teaspoonful of onion juice and three olives, minced fine. Cook one minute, add a glass of brown sherry, and pour the gravy over the sweetbreads.

New Women Inspire Men.
 The sons of men rule the world, but the daughters of men govern it through them. It is woman who founds society in its artificial aspects. It is woman who creates class distinctions and insists on maintaining them.

It is woman who imbues man with desire to emulate, who instills into him social ambition that inevitably brings in its train the restless fever of acquisition, the madness of greed, the ambition for power through financial success.

Men fight each other in the struggle for wealth, but they fight for woman's admiration. They fight that their women may maintain position in the front ranks of the social world, and as the fight goes on in each lower stratum of society, individual man fighting first for what is necessary for his existence, and then for the social supremacy he may give his woman.

Umbrella Renovating.
 Old umbrellas may be recovered to do excellent service for everyday use or for children's school umbrellas. Remove the old cover and metal cap which held its top edge. A good, smooth sateen with a dull finish is good material.

Use one of the sections of old covering for a pattern. Lay it always with the outer edge on the selvedge and cut as many as required.

Sew together in French seam, first a tiny one on the right side, then turn in and sew again. Slip cover over the rod and tack strongly at the points of the ribs. Tack the top and replace metal cap. Tack seams at the middle of ribs also.

Codfish Cakes.
 Pick enough salt codfish into small pieces to make two cupsful. Soak overnight, drain and bring to boiling point. Make a white sauce by melting two tablespoonfuls of butter and blending it with two tablespoonfuls of flour and one cupful of milk, cooking to a thick cream. Have ready one pint of hot seasoned mashed potatoes. Beat the fish into the sauce, add the potatoes, mix thoroughly and form into small cakes. Place them on a buttered baking sheet, brush with melted butter, sprinkle with breadcrumbs and brown in the oven.

Use of Scrapbooks.
 To keep clippings where they can be found readily it is a good idea to have several cheap scrapbooks, devoting one to each subject. One book may be used for recipes, a second for games and entertainments, garden hints may take a third and fancy work suggestions another. One with poetry or other with funny sayings and pictures may brighten some hours for an invalid. A strong manila envelope should be pasted in each book, where the clippings may be filed when cut out until there is an opportunity to paste them in the book.

Massage Cream.
 A massage cream must necessarily be a little heavier than the ordinary cold cream. Formula: Two and one-half ounces of lanolin, three-fourths of an ounce of spermaceti, two and one-half ounces of white vaseline, two ounces of coconut oil, two ounces of oil of sweet almonds and one-half dram of tincture of benzoin. Extract of violet may be added for perfume.

Salt For the Hair.
 Salt is a tonic for the hair, and a most excellent dry tonic shampoo may be made of it. A coarse quality should be stirred so that no lumps remain and then mixed with powdered orris root, two ounces to a pound of salt; sift again to mix well, and then rub well into the hair and scalp. Brush out with a bristle brush.

How a Woman Woke Up Gotham.
 It has been discovered that a woman laid the first pavement in New York. She was Mrs. Samuel Prevost, who found the authorities unwilling to make the attempt to do the work. Her sidewalk became so famous that people came all the way from Philadelphia to see it.

Out flowers will retain their freshness much longer if a little salt and charcoal are added to the water in which they are put. The charcoal should be broken into small lumps.

A small pad with a pencil attached will be found most convenient to hang in a kitchen closet. When an article is needed from the store, a note should be made on the pad.

Bits of velvet can be freshened and their nap raised by an application of damp sand.

MRS. STRANGEWAYS SENTENCED.

Faints on Hearing She Must Stay One Year in Prison.

New York, Sept. 14.—Eva Fox Strangeways, who swindled a number of business houses by bad checks, was sentenced yesterday by Judge McAvoy of the General Sessions Court to a year in the penitentiary. She had pleaded guilty to two indictments for grand larceny.

She was arrested in Toronto some weeks ago, being caught after having swindled several hotels and business houses here. One of her victims was Susan B. Clarke, a dressmaker, from whom she got $150 worth of goods on a bad check.

The young woman, who has been a governess and done some writing for western magazines, expected to get off with suspended sentence, and when she heard that she would have to stay a year in jail she collapsed and had to be carried from court.

PULLED TO HIS DEATH.
 Foot Caught in Line and Man Was Dragged Into Water.

Kingsport, Sept. 14.—Passengers arriving yesterday morning on the steamer Toronto brought the news of the drowning of a man at Charlotte, N. Y. He was a fireman on the tug Florence, taken of Charlotte.

The tug was assisting in turning the steamer around and the fireman's foot caught in the eye of the line. He shouted to those on board that he was caught and the line was let out its full length.

It was supposed that he had been trying to free himself from his dangerous position, but when the line was pulled in the deckhands were horrified to see the fireman's body hanging on the end of the rope, his foot being fastened tight into the loop.

Rebels Attack Europeans.
 Calcutta, Sept. 14.—Serious demonstrations by revolutionists have occurred here. They followed the sentencing to prison of a Nationalist leader who refused to testify in a case in which sedition was charged.

The excitement lasted many hours, great crowds appearing near the courts and attacking the police, including some European sergeants. Other attacks on Europeans are reported, especially in Eastern Bengal, where racial feeling is steadily growing.

Wife Accused of Murder.
 Calgary, Sept. 14.—Following the shooting of Owen Fetterman, near Nanton, who some time ago was shot on the side of the head one morning while lying in bed, his wife was yesterday arrested and brought to Calgary on a charge of committing the deed.

Ready for Peace.
 Paris, Sept. 14.—Marine Minister Thomson yesterday received a cable message from Vice-Admiral Philibert, announcing that the Chacunas and some of the other warring tribesmen in the vicinity of Casablanca had reopened negotiations for peace.

Punishment Fits the Crime.
 New Zealand fits punishment to crime. Thus, at Wanganui, when certain sawyers troubled their neighbors by their drunken frolics the delinquents were made to pay the fines imposed in such labor as they were accustomed to and were set to sawing wood with which to build a prison. The result was that rather than transgress again they vanished from the locality as soon as the building was complete.

Men who are not considered criminals are subjected occasionally by experiments in this country to a course of Turkish baths, followed by showers and by a cold douche, the idea being that their criminal instincts are due to physical degeneracy which may be thus counteracted.

A Massachusetts town punishes its male offenders by giving them as first poor clothes and cracked crockery from which to take their food, good dresses and better table equipment being provided and leave being given to keep pet animals as an improvement in their conduct is made manifest.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Lady Balloonist Meets Terrible Death At A Fair

Dashed To Pieces In The Presence of 8000 Spectators

Olean, N. Y., Sept. 16.—Mrs. Carrie Myers, 35 years of age, of Springfield, Mass., a professional balloonist, fell from a parachute 1,000 feet above the Fair grounds here Saturday and was dashed to death in plain view of 8,000 people.

Mrs. Myers made her first ascension here on Wednesday, when she sprained her left wrist. On Friday she made another successful ascent, using a life belt attached to the parachute trapeze as a precaution.

Mrs. Myers was asked to use the life belt again, but refused, saying her wrist felt well and strong.

When about 2,000 feet above the Fair grounds Saturday afternoon, Mrs. Myers cut loose from the balloon with a double parachute. The web of canvas spread out, and Mrs. Myers was seen to raise her right hand to release the second and smaller parachute, holding on to the trapeze rope with her lame hand.

Just as the canvas spread out and the rapid downward flight of the parachute was suddenly checked, Mrs. Myers fell over backward. It is believed the sudden jar hurt her lame wrist. Her body struck just outside the Fair grounds fence. Every bone in her body was broken.

BRICK BUILDING COLLAPSES.

Cincinnati Has Repetition of London Disaster—Three Dead.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Sept. 16.—Two unknown men and one woman were killed and a dozen other persons narrowly escaped death in the collapse of the Dohan Shoe Co.'s four-story building in Central avenue yesterday.

The building was undergoing repairs. Shortly before noon, after a warning rumble, the front of the building fell forward into the street, leaving only the rear section standing.

An unknown man, who was passing on the sidewalk, was killed. A second man, apparently a laborer, was found dead in the ruins, as was Mrs. Mary Daley, who lived on the second floor.

Of the seven workmen in the building, three were reported missing, but all were later found unhurt.

A number of women in the apartments on the upper floors were in their kitchens, preparing the midday meal, and to that fact owed their escape.

KILLED AS WIFE LOOKED ON.

Harvey Hill Was Electrocutd at Niagara Falls.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Sept. 16.—Harvey Hill, an employee of the municipal electric plant, when turning on the incandescent electric street light from a pole box on Ferry street at the south end of the city Saturday evening in some unaccountable manner got his head in contact with a high voltage current and was instantly killed in the presence of his wife, who was waiting for him on the sidewalk. As there was no more than 150 volts in the incandescent circuit, insufficient to kill, the line must have been in contact with some foreign high voltage wire.

Escaped Horrible Death.

Carleton Place, Ont., Sept. 16.—There was a narrow escape from a terrible fatality at the Moore street crossing of the C. P. R. here early Saturday morning, when the west-bound 800 express struck the Mississippi Hotel bus while on its way from the station to the hotel.

Inside the vehicle were five persons, all of whom escaped. One of the valuable horses was killed outright, and the other was badly cut up and afterwards shot to end its sufferings.

Frank Lodge, who was driving, was considerably injured, some of his ribs being fractured.

It is understood the vehicle was badly wrecked, and the escape of the occupants is most remarkable.

Farmer's Tragic Death.

Wingham, Sept. 16.—Richard Leishman, one of the best-known and highly respected residents of East Wingham, came to a tragic end on Saturday. For the last few months Mr. Leishman has given evidence of a weakened mental condition. In the morning he went out with one of his daughters to get the cows, and on the way stepped aside for a moment into a clump of trees, where there was a little pool of water. When his daughter returned to look for him, a few minutes after, he was discovered lying face downward in the water, quite dead.

Newsboy Loses Leg.

Englehart, Sept. 16.—An Italian newsboy, employed on the railway contractors' train which runs between here and McDougall's chute, was run over and his left leg was obliged to be amputated from the upper part of the thigh. The accident occurred while the train was entering Englehart. The boy slipped and fell between the cars. An operation, performed by Dr. Lowrey with the assistance of two other medical men, was successful.

Umpire May Die.

Detroit, Sept. 16.—During the second game between Detroit and St. Louis Umpire Evans was struck on the head with a soda water bottle thrown by a spectator, and his recovery is doubtful. The attack was made during an altercation over a foul. The crowd made a rush for the speaker, and chased him around the lot the arrival of the police saving

A TERRIBLE ACCIDENT

Several Canadians Killed in Fearful Railway Wreck

Twenty-four Dead And Twenty Seven Injured—Head-on Crash

White River Junction, Vt., Sept. 16.—A fearful head-on collision between the south-bound Quebec express and a north-bound freight train of the Concord division of the Boston and Maine Railroad occurred four miles north of Canadian station early yesterday, due to a mistake in train despatcher's orders, and from a demolished passenger coach there were taken 24 dead and dying and 27 other passengers, more or less wounded.

Nearly all those who were in the fatal car were returning from a fair at Sherbrooke, Quebec, 160 miles north.

The conductor of the freight train was given a warning that he had plenty of time to reach a siding by the night operator at Canadian station, receiving, according to the superintendent of division, a copy of a telegraph order from the train despatcher at Concord, which confused the train numbers 30 and 34.

The wreck occurred just after the express had rounded into a straight stretch of track, but, owing to the early morning mist, neither engineer saw the other's headlight until it was too late.

The Canadians dead are: Timothy Shaughnessy, Castellar Que.

Mrs. Shaughnessy, Castellar, Que.

Miss Annie St. Pierre, Isle Verte, Que.

Mrs. Philip Gagnon, Sherbrooke, Que.

The unidentified are: A boy of 10 years old; a man 40 years old; a woman 30 years of age; a man 55 years of age; a man 35 years of age; four other bodies, also unidentified. All the bodies, with two exceptions, were removed to Concord during the day.

Some of the unidentified dead may be Canadians.

The south-bound train originated at Sherbrooke Saturday evening, where it picked up two sleepers from Quebec and two more on the way down. It consisted of the baggage car, passenger coach, smoking car in that order with the sleepers in the rear.

The train left White River Junction at 3:45 a. m. yesterday, and was followed 30 minutes later by the Montreal express over the Central Vermont Railroad. The Quebec train is known as No. 30, and the Montreal train as No. 34. In the meantime the north-bound freight train had arrived at Canadian, 18 miles down the road, at 4:20 a. m. on time.

Fearful Misunderstanding.

According to Superintendent W. R. Ray, J. R. Crowley, the night train despatcher at Concord, sent a dispatch to John Crowley, the night operator at Canadian, that No. 34 was one hour and ten minutes late. The order which Conductor Lawrence of the freight train showed after the accident, distinctly states that the 30, instead of 34, was an hour and ten minutes late.

Conductor Lawrence, believing that he had sufficient time in the hour and ten minutes to reach the siding track at West Canadian, four miles beyond, before No. 30 reached it, ordered his train ahead. The superintendent declared that the accident was due to the mistake in placing a cipher after the three in the number of the train instead of a four.

Headlights Burst Through Fog.

The morning was a dull, misty one, and the long freight train with a score of heavily loaded cars lumbered over the long grade towards West Canadian at the usual speed. On the Canadian side with her heavy load of passengers and the four heavy sleepers in the rear. The freight train was on a straight piece of track, about a mile in length, and the superintendent declared that the accident was due to the mistake in placing a cipher after the three in the number of the train instead of a four.

Both engineers set their brakes and then jumped, while the two great locomotives crashed into each other and rolled into the ditch. The baggage car in the rear was hurled back into the passenger coach like a great ram and tore it asunder from end to end.

The ill-fated passenger coach was filled with more than fifty people. One of those who escaped said that as the train was rounding a curve some one in the front began to sing, so that nearly everyone was awake when the crash came. When those who were in the other cars recovered their senses, they hurried to the demolished passenger coach, where groans, cries and shrieks were rending the air.

The Work of Rescue.

Fortunately, with the engines off to one side, the wreckage did not take fire. The train hands, ably seconded by the passengers from the sleeping cars, groped their way among the ruins and began the work of rescue. The bodies of the dead were laid beside the track quietly, but tenderly, while the rescuers turned their attention to those who needed aid.

Great beams were lifted, pieces of joists were thrown aside, and the wreckage was dragged out and laid on the backs of broken seats or upon blankets from the sleeping cars. Wounds were hastily bound up, and deep cuts staunchly bound up with strips torn from the bedding of the sleepers. The little band worked diligently and faithfully in the dawning light before the doctors came.

Frank Ryan a Hero.

The accident was not without its heroes, and one of these was Frank Ryan, a brakeman on the express. Ryan was caught in the wreck and had an artery severed fifteen minutes, and when he regained his senses his first thought was of the Montreal express, which he knew was thundering down on the wreck with no brakes on the rear to wave a warning word of the approaching danger, and the Montreal express was stopped only a quarter of a mile from the rear of the wrecked train.

ENTICED GIRLS FROM CANADA.

Leader of White Slave Traffic Is Found Guilty.

Erie, Pa., Sept. 16.—Mrs. Alice Sexton, known through this section of the state as the leader of the white slave traffic, was yesterday found guilty of enticing and inveigling young girls from Canada. The jury was out just 21 hours. The charge against Mrs. Sexton was preferred by the father of Edna Lacy, a girl of 14 years of age. When she appeared in court, Edna looked more than 21, but both she and her mother testified that 14 was her age. The defendant received the verdict very calmly, but her two daughters, who have stood by her throughout the ordeal, fainted, and one became hysterical. Both have used their saving to hire legal talent to defend their parent. Public opinion against the woman is strong, and a verdict of acquittal was looked for on the evidence offered by the commonwealth. Mrs. Sexton will be sentenced to-day by Judge Walling, and is liable to receive five years in prison and a $5,000 fine.

WAS KISSED AND FORGIVEN.

Rumyan Received Blessing From Women He Wronged.

New York, Sept. 16.—With words of forgiveness from the two women he most injured in his case, Chester R. Rumyan, the bank teller who stole $36,000 from the Windsor Trust Co., was taken to Sing Sing prison on Saturday to begin his seven-year sentence.

Although they had not seen him since his arrest, Rumyan's wife and mother went to the Tombs prison to say good-bye to him. In spite of the fact that he was a self-confessed thief, and that he had left his wife to squander the money he had stolen from his employers on a woman of the street, the two women freely forgave him and it was with their kisses still warm on his lips that the young man started for the prison where he will expiate his crime.

"I must have been crazy to do what I did," was Rumyan's last statement as he left for the prison.

FEELING IN JAPAN.

Trust to the Justice and Fair Play of Canadian People.

Ottawa, Sept. 16.—A cable has been received by Hon. T. Nosse, Japanese consul-general, from Tokio, giving him information on the attitude of the public in regard to the Vancouver disturbance. It says: "The feeling, in spite of the character of the disturbance, being very much graver than that of San Francisco, is, throughout, most friendly to Canada. While greatly regretting that this deplorable incident occurred within a dominion of the British Empire, whose ally Japan is, the tone of the press is very calm and the public shows no excitement, all depending upon the friendship, justice and fair play of the Government and people of Canada, and also fully expecting that the best measures will be taken by the authorities for the protection of Japanese lives and property and the reaching of an amicable settlement of the trouble."

Make good friends and keep them.

Prudence supplies the want of every good.

Nothing is impossible to the man who can will.

Mrs. John Bassett, mother of Jas. Bassett, died at her home in Homestead, Penn., on Monday, Sept. 9th, at the age of 73 years. Mr. Bassett is away attending the funeral which takes place to-day, Thursday. This sad affliction followed closely on Mr. Bassett's serious illness, he having just recently left Chatham hospital, where he was undergoing an operation and had not fully recovered. — Wallaceburg News.

A Sample of What V.S.C. does—Mr. Merrifield—I was so severely stricken with Joint Rheumatism that I was confined to bed for a long time with swollen and stiff joints. It even affected my stomach. I gave up all hope of ever being cured. The doctor finally told me he could "ease my pain but could not cure me." My sister heard of your Veteran's Sure Cure, and sent for a bottle. I took half of a $1 bottle. This enabled me to walk about as usual. This was about six years ago, and I have had no return of Rheumatism. Mrs. H. Privat, Williamsford, Ont., Sept. 11th, 1907.

A Modern Weapon in the Battle for Health—If disease has taken your citadel of health, the stomach, and is torturing you with indigestion, dyspepsia and nervous prostration, South American Nervine is the weapon to drive the enemy from his stronghold "at the point of the bayonet," trench by trench, but swift and sure, it always wins. Sold by C. H. Gunn & Co., and W. W. Turner.

Some time ago it was pointed out by a resident over the creek that although it is some time now since the Murray Street pavement was put down, the sidewalk connections have not been completed. After the complaint was made through the Planet, the connections at one corner of Adelaide Street were put in. There the work stopped. The citizens in that vicinity are complaining again in the hope that at least a few more of these connections will be put in before the muddy weather comes in real earnest.

JURY HAD CLOSE CALL.
Tons of Plaster Fell in Montreal Court House.

Montreal, Sept. 16.—A whole jury had a narrow escape from being crushed to death at the Court House here on Saturday afternoon, by the collapse of the ceiling in one of the chambers. The jury which was a special one, composed of many of the most prominent business men and contractors in the city, had been sitting several days on a suit against the Canadian Pacific Railway. The case had concluded and the jurymen were being led to room 20, where they were to deliberate. Just as the crier opened the door there was a deafening roar and almost half the ceiling collapsed, falling within a few feet of the frightened jurors with such force that the heavy oaken desks used by the lawyers, were smashed in all directions. The chambers of the Court House are about 25 feet high, while the plaster is of a very old-fashioned type, embellished with heavy plaster ornamentation, so that several tons of the plaster dropped. Had the jury been six feet further inside the room, several of them would inevitably have been killed or injured under the falling debris. They were badly frightened, but were able to go to another room and bring in a verdict exonerating the C. P. R.

The rest of the ceiling in the damaged chambers is full of cracks and looks as though it were in danger of falling at any moment. The danger of the accident will probably be an immediate overhauling of the whole ancient court house.

CLARIFIED AND BOTTLED MILK

To clarify and bottle milk is the only sanitary and up-to-date way to handle such an important product of the dairy as milk, for while it is one of the best and most necessary foods we have if properly cared for, it is certainly one of the most dangerous if neglected or carelessly handled, and should never be exposed to street dust, as is done in the ordinary way of peddling milk from large cans with open measures. The Steam Turbine Machine used to clarify all the milk sold from the will certainly take all the impurities out of the milk, thereby removing the danger of many cases of sickness, especially among children, that can be traced directly to the milk supply. Don't take such chances this hot dry weather when you can get

ALASKAN BOUNDARY CANARD.

Reported Discovery of Proof That Russia Tried Fraud.

Ottawa, Sept. 14.—A despatch from Winnipeg states that some ancient Russian documents have been unearthed in Alaska, which materially affect Canada's position on the Alaska boundary question, showing how Russia forced evidence, or early occupation of the Pacific coast, and that one of the documents was a direction to the Governor of Alaska in 1836 to bring secretly tablets bearing the Russian coat of arms to various places on the coast.

Dr. W. F. King, Dominion astronomer and chief adviser of the Canadian section of the Alaska Boundary Commission, says that this incident has nothing to do with the boundary question.

"Those tablets," said Dr. King, "do not decide anything, and were not referred to at the time. They may be all true, but they contain nothing bearing on the boundary question. The boundary was determined according to negotiation for treaty between Great Britain and Russia in 1825."

"What did Russia know about Canada in 1836? Canada was then two provinces, and they were separated from the rest of the territory by the whole of the Northwest. If there were any documents with Russia at that time, they would have been between Russia and Great Britain, but certainly no reference to Canada at all. Canada did not have any port until 1871."

LUSITANIA MAKES NEW RECORD.

Crosses the Atlantic in Five Days Fifty-Four Minutes.

New York, Sept. 14.—The giant turbine Lusitania of the Cunard line came into port yesterday on her maiden voyage with a new record of 5 days and 54 minutes between Queenstown and New York.

The Lusitania failed to lower the hourly average of 23.58 knots, made by the Kaiser Wilhelm II. of the North German Lloyd line, though she covered the distance between ports in an average of 23.01 knots, which is a record for maiden voyages.

Capt. Wall said when the time comes for record-making, after her machinery is in thorough order, the Lusitania will be the empress of the sea.

The Lusitania, the largest ship afloat, was given a royal welcome on her arrival, and was accompanied by a band of music from the time she sped past the Sandy Hook lightship and made her way through the Ambrose Channel, the first ocean liner to enter the new fairway, until she was safely warped into her dock.

GEN. BOOTH ON THE WAY.

Veteran Chief of S. A. Sailed For Quebec Yesterday.

London, Sept. 14.—Men and women wearing uniforms of the Salvation Army filled Euston railroad station here yesterday morning, to bid farewell to General Booth, who left London for Liverpool, where he will embark on the Allan line steamer Virginia for Quebec, in which city the veteran commander will begin a campaign which is to extend over Canada and the United States.

The "seventy-eight years young" general, as he describes himself, appeared to be quite as hearty as possible, considering his age. From the railroad car he handed the reporters a message, as follows:

"Once more good-bye, dear Old England. I leave your shores on what I believe is the Master's business. As I contemplate the future, I rely more than ever on the old promises for lessening the ruins, inequalities and tyrannies of the world—namely, the regeneration of the individual by the power of God."

DEFECTS WERE KNOWN

Sensational Evidence at Quebec Bridge Inquest.

Employees Tell of Having Noticed Faults in Construction of Bridge—Men Were All Afraid—Foremen Only Laughed—Work Was Behind Owing to Strike—Chords Were Deflected.

Quebec, Sept. 14.—Quite sensational was the account of the collapse of the Quebec bridge, told before the Royal Commission yesterday by two men who went down with it, and by James Johnson, foreman of the labor gang removing timbers, who was only a few feet away.

The latter mentioned heard the locomotive on the bridge run out and a sound as if a species of iron had fallen. (He saw the stringers parting, then, when he glanced back and saw the whole thing wave. There was a cloud of smoke over which the wooden false work fell straight back towards the shore. He could not say positively what part fell first nor could he say if it was the stringers or chords that he had seen go.

Another man, Ingersoll, said the big traveler was hoisting up a couple of timbers at the time of the accident. He was 10 feet from the top of the traveler, near the front, about 500 feet above the water. The bridge went fast until it struck the water and then slowed up. He remained on the traveler all the time and could not move. The water was well upon him and he had to stretch to breathe and lost two fingers. It seemed as if the bridge had just tipped. He never personally had seen any defects, but heard others talk of the bottom chord and quite a number of the men went down and looked at it the night prior to the accident and said it was kinking in.

Alex. Boisvert, now in the hospital at Levis, said that every time a piece of metal fell the bridge vibrated, and every time the shock would make the men afraid.

D. B. Haley explained his testimony concerning defects in the structure by the aid of plans. He marked on the plans the panels of the chord which he said were bent and which he had seen when standing on the bridge in chord nine. He also noticed that the lacing was bent in chord eight. In chord nine both centre lacing were bulged. There were also two or three feet in length. At the splice where the chord was joined, the other he could see that, although the coverplates were there, that the joint had never been properly riveted. He reported the matter to three of the foremen. He did not report to Mr. Yenser, as he would only have laughed at him. Yenser told him that the work was behind, and that he was carrying on the bridge further out on the bridge, and the fact that he did so upon compulsion and against his own better judgment.

Witness heard Yenser say to Birks: "Why in hell don't they take the load off this traveler and get the d—load off."

He testified that the work was behind hand because of strike on Aug. 8, lasting three days, due to the fact that the Phoenix Bridge Co. brought Americans here to work on a promise to pay their expenses both ways, which was then repudiated, the matter being regarded by the men as a plain steal.

When Birks was spoken to of the deflected chord he said: "You fellows are getting prematurely alarmed. The thing is perfectly safe. The whole of the bridge till 2 o'clock the day of the collapse. He saw a defect in the sixth joint from the pier on the down stream side, and as he had some folks at home he quit work."

Edward Britton, electrician on the bridge, did not work on Aug. 23. In the office he heard Yenser and McClure say that two or three chords were badly buckled.

Quebec Relief Fund.

Quebec, Sept. 14.—The relief fund for the victims of the disaster of the Quebec bridge amounts to $7,544, apart from the subscription of the Provincial Government. It has been decided to close the fund on Monday evening.

Dies at Ball Game.

Detroit, Sept. 14.—Enthusiastically a Tiger fan to his very last breath, George Stanley Dean, 23 years old, 241 Marston court dropped dead of heart disease while watching the first game of the Detroit-Cleveland double-header at Bennett Park.

Just before he fell he exclaimed: "I hope Wild Bill strikes Lajoie out." This last earthly wish was gratified, for as several men were carrying his lifeless form to the box office the umpire called to Lajoie: "Three strikes; you're out."

Dean was standing in the pavilion, just back of first-base, when seized with the fatal stroke. The game reached a very critical stage and the excitement, it is believed, over-taxed the fan's weak heart.

Makes Sure of Death.

New York, Sept. 14.—John F. Trommer, one of the family of brewers, committed suicide Thursday night in East New York. He first stabbed himself twice in the breast with a carving knife, and then turned on the gas in his room.

Trommer was 26 years old and unmarried. It was understood that he recently was engaged to be married, and that the engagement had been broken off.

Where Rebels Meet.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 14.—The Council of Ministers has ordered the closing of all the dormitories attached to the institutions of higher learning here and at Moscow, basing its action on the admission of the police that they are unable to prevent them from being used as meeting and hiding places for revolutionists.

BEEES MAKE FRUIT GROW.

Miracle Wrought in a Barren Orchard by Bee Colonies.

"Honey producing is only one of the missions of the bee. Indeed, for actual profit, the honey is but a minor item," says a writer in Suburban Life.

"Some years ago I moved to a small place up the Hudson River. I wanted to have a farm, and selected for that purpose a spot among apple, cherry, and plum trees, some of which had never borne fruit, others none for years past. My landlord told me I might cut down certain trees as they were worthless and he intended putting out some fine nursery stock.

"Being busy I did not cut the trees down. They blossomed freely, and of course we paid no further heed to them than to break blooms by the armful when we wanted floral decorations.

"The cherry trees were much to the owner's astonishment, loaded with very large, perfect fruit. He could not understand it; such a thing had not happened for years.

"Early in the autumn, while waiting for a swarm of bees to settle, I observed a number of the bees upon one of the smaller, condemned trees. When the landlord's attention was called to them he was completely mystified, and called in his neighbors to see the wonder. Later we gathered from this tree nearly a barrel of the finest fall pippins ever seen in this vicinity.

"No argument would convince the man that 'them pesky bees' had anything to do with the yield of fruit on the place. He insisted that some sort of fertilizer must have been used.

"Since that time I have demonstrated by a series of experiments that trees which had for many seasons borne little good fruit, or possibly none at all, have been brought up to a high standard of productivity by the presence of bees. They carried the pollen, fertilized the blossoms, and a beautiful harvest was the result.

"Regardless of the honey crop every fruit-grower should have a few colonies of bees. If when the bloom season is past there is so little nectar in mid-season flowers that the bees must be fed, it is a decided economy to feed them at in cases where a strict account has been kept the cash value of orchard products alone has been doubled by their assistance."

FOLLOWED HER MOTHER'S EXAMPLE.

AND KEPT DR. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY IN THE HOUSE.

Mrs. W. J. Wilson, Tessier, Sask., tells of her experience in the following words: "I wish to tell you of the good I have found in Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. Last summer my little girl, aged two years, was taken ill with Summer Complaint, and as my mother always kept Dr. Fowler's in the house, when I was a child, I seemed to follow her example, as I always have it also. I at once gave it to my baby as directed and she was at once relieved, and after a couple of doses were taken was completely cured."

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry imparts a healthy tone to all mucous surfaces, corrects and heals all forms of canker and counteracts all tendency to pain and inflammation, while it gives tone to the debilitated system when weakened by exhaustive discharges and flukes of whatever nature, thus making it the best and safest remedy for Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Colic, Swampy Pain in the Stomach, Sea Sickness, Cholera Infantum, Cholera Morbus and all Summer Complaints.

BITING BACK FROM DEATH.

Miraculous Device for Restoring Life Is Invented.

The resurrection from the dead is achieved by twentieth century machines. Prof. George Poe has invented an apparatus whereby persons killed by asphyxiation, poison, or drowning can be resuscitated. By this marvellous device the death of persons while being operated upon can be prevented; as also can infant asphyxia at birth. A drunken person can be sobered in a few minutes; persons hanged or electrocuted can be revived; and the freezing to death of Arctic explorers can be obviated. The Arctic explorer Prof. Poe has modelled a device nature directly, and has two double larynx tubes, or two tubes to connect with the nostrils, one an inlet for life giving oxygen, the other as an outlet for water or poisonous gases. It is in line with the construction of the heart, and, therefore, has two cylinders, each having an inlet and an outlet valve. A demonstration was made with a rabbit which gave every sign of being dead and no sign of being alive. Within three minutes after the machine was applied the rabbit was running around, apparently as lively and well as ever in his life.

Medals 41 Years Late.

Color Sergeant M. Flynn and Sergeant Major Wesley, both of Nottingham, have just received their medals for the part they took in the Fenian raid in Canada in 1893. In 1894 the Notre Dame Association took the medals up after the Canadian Government had refused to grant the medals, and after three years of correspondence the medals have arrived.

THE VOICE ADMIRER.

Fast talking and loud talking ruin the voice.

It is the well poised woman who receives admiration and respect. A shrill, parrotlike voice makes the most beautiful woman a trying companion.

Train the ear to recognize pleasant sounding, agreeable voices and listen to your own critically.

Just as the touch of a woman's hand should be a warm caress, so should her voice fall upon the ear with pleasantness.

The voice that is heard without raising the natural speaking tones is the well modulated voice which impresses one with its calm and its sincerity.

A course of instruction in vocal culture will create a decided change many times, but a vast improvement may be found in deep breathing and careful attention.

Tomato Fritters.

Choose ripe but firm tomatoes, not too small. Peel them by dipping for an instant in boiling water; cut in slices half an inch thick. Make a frying batter with half a pound of flour, two eggs, half a pint of milk and a little salt; mix the flour smoothly with the milk, add the yolks of eggs and salt. If possible, allow the batter to stand for an hour or two. Then beat the whites of the eggs to a stiff froth and add them to the other ingredients; carefully dry each slice of tomato, coat it in the batter and fry till brown in boiling fat; drain on paper and serve very hot.

The Linen Shower.

When giving a linen shower send out the invitation on paper which looks like hemstitched linen. It is best for the guests to meet before calling upon the bride elect and arrange what presents are to be sent. No difference what marked pieces you give the young woman, the monogram should be with her maiden initials.

CHILD TRAINING.

A School in Which Mothers Should Be Taught the Art.

If a child is told he must not do a certain thing, no argument should change the verdict, and if he disobeys he must be made to pay a penalty one way or another.

He need not be treated with severity, but he may be deprived of some pleasure or privilege or toy and in that way will be made to understand.

Indulgent mothers should remember that they are treating unfairly and unkindly the little creatures whom they love most of all. Your kind of kindness is not kindness at all.

You who are so careful what the child puts into his stomach should watch just as carefully what he puts into his brain.

Through lack of proper teaching he can acquire a state of mental dyspepsia that will become chronic and which will make it impossible for him to enjoy the very sweetest things in life.

Think about it, will you? The child, like the adult, makes friends, and the more tender your child is loved the better are his fortunes likely to be.

Help your child to be splendid, unselfish, beautiful of character. There are enough of the other kind in the world, and it is people of the better sort that are needed.

There should be a school in which mothers should be taught the art of bringing up their children.

It is upon this teaching that the character of the future generations depends.

These spoiled babies who are allowed to hit their aunts in the noses with tin balls will never be presidents of the United States. They won't even be able to hold down the job of office boy. Many a man struggled unsuccessfully all through his life to overcome the frightful havoc wrought by the silly indulgence of a devoted mother.

GOOD ADVICE.

What to Do When Things Are Lost in Public Places.

When on leaving a theater, lecture hall, etc., you discover that some valuable has disappeared, do not lose your head immediately. There are, after all is said, many more honest people in this world than dishonest, and the chances are that if you go about it properly you will recover the article.

First of all, register your loss at the box office or superintendent's room. Give your name and address plainly, being sure that they are correctly taken down, and if you wish to offer any reward for its return name the amount. Be sure to leave money for the management to telephone you if their search is rewarded and give your telephone number. Then ask for some one, or if this is not granted get permission yourself, to search the part of the house in which you were sitting.

If after a day you have no word of the loss, advertise in at least one morning and one evening paper, naming the articles explicitly, so as to avoid confusion. If you wish, you may name the theater as the place to which it is to be returned. Most places are kind and courteous in such matters and only too anxious to help you in your search. If they return the valuable to you, do not forget that the man who has acted as their agent is worthy of thanks at least if you do not wish to reward him in any more substantial way.

And, finally, if the lost article was a piece of jewelry it would be well to have a jeweler make the clasp stronger to avoid further loss.
