The Doomed Man.

There is a time, we know not when, A point, we know not where, That marks the destiny of men, To glory or despair.

There is a line, by us unseen, That crosses every path; The hidden boundary between God's patience and his wrath

To pass that limit is to die, To die as if by stealth; It does not quench the beaming eye, Or pale the glow of health.

The conscience may be still at ease, The spirits light and gay; That which is pleasing still may please, And care be thrust away.

But on that forehead God has set Indelibly a mark; Unseen by man, for man as vet Is blind and in the dark.

And yet the doomed man's path below Like Eden may have bloomed He did not, does not, will not know Or feel that he is doomed

He knows, he feels that all is well, And every fear is calmed: He lives, he dies, he wakes in hell, Not only doomed, but damned.

O! where is this mysterious bourne. By which our path is crossed; Beyond which God himself has sworn, That he who goes is lost?

How far may we go on in sin? How long will God forbear? Where does hope end, and where begin The confines of despair?

An answer from the skies is sent "Ye that from God depart! While it is called to-day, repent, And harden not your heart."

We're all-all here.

We're not all here! Some are away-the dead ones dear, Who thronged with us this ancient hearth, And gave the hour of guiltless mirth. Fate, with a stern, relentless hand, Looked on and thinned our little band. Some like a night-flash passed away, And some sank lingering day by day. The quiet graveyard-some lie there. And cruel Ocean has his share-

We are all here! Even they-the dead-though dead, so dear Fond memory, to her duty true, Brings back their faded forms to view. How life-like through the mist of years, Each well-remembered face appears; We see them as in times long passed, From each to each kind looks are cast; We hear their words: their smiles behold, They're round us as they were of old-We are all here.

We are all here! Father, mother, Sister, brother-You that I love with love so dear-This may not long of us be said, Soon we must join the gathered de. d And by the hearth we now sit round, Some other circle will be found.
