A WORD WITH AMERICA.
How now—kindly kindred Nation!
Is it well to kindle thus
Quite a prairie conflagration
Terrible to both of us?
We are kinsmen, sons, and brothers,
Let us be to kinship true;
England's heart is just—your Mother's,
And she cannot fight with you!
If our rulers made a blunder,
Frankly too they make amends,
And the world is all a-wonder Why ye will not yet be friends;
'Twere ungenerous in brothers
To insist on more than due,
When you know, as well as others
We will never fight with you!
What! as if forsooth we dare not!—
By God's favour, England's coasts
Are invincible!—we care not
For a thousand thousand hosts:
But you only call we brothers
All the tongues and people through,
And, though stout against all others,
Never will we fight with you!
Take your heritage—possess it;
England gladly sees your growth;
And may peace and plenty bless it,
East and west, and north and south:
Only, covet not another's;
God brings wrongfulness to rue:
Though for us, we tell you, brothers,
Never will we fight with you!
Party-work, we understand it,
And how hard ambition strains
With the morals of a bandit
To secure its petty gains:
But amongst you, better brothers
Mourne for what the baser do,
While her anger England smothers,
For she will not fight with you!
Surely to provoke the kindly
Were a scandal and a sin;
And if selfish pacemans blindly
Stir a storm that they may win,
Spite of diplomatic bothers,
Wrongs belike, and insults too,
You may make us sorry, brothers,
But we will not fight with you!
No!—the doom of both is written
In a flood of blood and woes,
If American and Briton
Ever call each other foes:
By the name that names us brothers,
Be there grace between us two,
By the love that lives in mothers,
Never will we fight with you!
MARTIN F. TUPPER.

MISCELLANEOUS.
If practice could make perfect, mankind should certainly know
HOW TO EAT WISELY;
yet the following excellent advice from Dr.
Hall's (ever suggestive) Medical Journal, contains wisdom that will be new to most people:—
"1. Never sit down to the table with an anxious or disturbed mind; better, a hundredfold, intermit the meal, for there will then be that much more food in the world for hungrier stomachs than yours; and besides, eating under such circumstances can only,
and will always, prolong and aggravate the condition of things.
"2. Never sit down to a meal after any intense mental effort, for physical and mental injury is inevitable, and no man has a right deliberately to injure body, mind or estate.
"3. Never go to a full table doing bodily exhaustion—designated by some as being worn out, tired to death, used up, done over, and the like. The wisest thing you can do under such circumstances, is to take a cracker and a cup of warm tea, either black or green and no more. In ten minutes you will feel a degree of refreshment and liveliness, which will be pleasantly surprising to you; not of the transient kind which a glass of liquor affords, but permanent;

for the tea gives present stimulus and a little strength, and before it subsides, nutriment begins to be drawn from the sugar and cream, and bread, thus allowing the body gradually and by safe degrees, to regain its usual vigour. Then in a couple of hours you may take a full meal, provided it does not bring it later, than two-hours before sundown; if later, then take nothing for that day in addition to the cracker, and the next day you will feel a freshness and vigor not recently known. No reader will require to be advised a second time who will make a trial as above, while it is a fact of no unusual observation among intelligent physicians, that eating heartily, under bodily exhaustion, is not an unfrequent cause of alarming and painful illness, and sometimes of sudden death. These things being so, let every family make it a point to assemble around the family board with kindly feelings, with a cheerful humour and a courageous spirit; and let that member of it be sent from the table in disgrace, who presumes to mar the ought to be blest reunion by sullen silence, or impatient look, or angry tone, or complaining tongue. Eat in thankful gladness, or away with you to the kitchen, you graceless churl, you ungrateful, pestilent lout, that you are. There was grand and good philosophy in the old time custom of having a buffoon or music at the dinner-table."

CONFESSION OF PALMER.—At the ordinary meeting of the visiting justices of Stafford Gaol, on Thursday, the Rev. Mr.
Goodacre, the chaplain of the prison, presented a report respecting his interview with late convict William Palmer. The report is made up of extracts from the diary of the reverend gentleman. No order has been given respecting the publishing of it. We understand, that the chaplain found Palmer not unfrequently suffering intense mental agony. He was particularly so on Thursday morning previous to his execution.
The reverend gentleman gave him the best advice he could, showing the distinction between private sins and public crimes, and pointed out, that the latter demanded a confession before men. Palmer seemed to feel the force of the chaplain's remarks, and made use of the remarkable words:—"If it is necessary for my soul's sake to confess this murder, I ought also confess the others," adding, after a short pause, "I mean my wife and my brother." He then threw himself on the pallet in the cell and buried his face in the clothes. The chaplain proceeded to ask him, whether he was guilty of the murder of his wife? Palmer made no reply. The rev. gentleman then asked him whether he was guilty of the murder of his brother? A significant silence again betokened the prisoner's guilt; and when the chaplain could not forbear uttering the ejaculatory prayer—"The Lord have mercy on you!" he responded with a deep sigh.
He shortly afterwards somewhat rallied, and evidently calling to mind what he had said for he had neither denied or admitted his guilt. An application has been made to the chaplain for permission to publish the report of some of the extracts.

NEWS BY THE ENGLISH MAIL.

ARRIVAL OF THE GUARDS.—The Coldstream Guards arrived at Aldershot on Saturday. Strange souvenirs did they bring with them from the scene of their adventures. Some had Turkish goats, one had a pet singing bird, another a black hen, and a third—a veteran warrior, with a beard worthy of Esau—fondling in his bosom a little white kitten. A ragged old dog, which answers to the name of "Joss," is an object of fond solicitude to every man in the battalion, and very naturally so, for this chien de regiment smelt powder at the Alma and Balaklava, and felt it, to his sorrow, at Inkerman, where he was shot through the leg. The faithful creature followed the regiment through the whole campaign. The Grenadier Guards from the Crimea, the 3d battalion, disembarked from the St. Jean d'Acres, 101 screwship, on Tuesday morning. The Grenadiers come home 1000 strong, officers and men, and out of the entire battalion, the number of those who have got through the entire campaign is about 250. Of the Officers, but a few remained of those who went out with the battalion.

ANOTHER WAR AT THE CAPE.—We have reason to believe, that information has been recently received from the Cape of Good Hope, which savours strongly of another war in that colony. The Kaffirs are again becoming discontented, and the Home Government should lose no time in despatching an additional strong military force to keep those rogues in check.—United Service Gazette.

The Deposed King of Oude, is now in London.—His realm was incorporated (under Lord Dalhousie) with the British empire—four millions of population and a surplus revenue, which, with fiscal science and care might be nearer to three than two millions. He is endowed with a pension of a hundred and fifty thousand pounds sterling. The London Times has described him as "a degenerate despot, who lived only for the gratification of his own appetites." He arrived in France by the overland route, accompanied by an English functionary: is of fine personal appearance; a hearty fellow, with an intelligent, manly countenance, a full flowing beard, a stout frame, a glossy Indian skin. He seems between forty and fifty years of age. His oriental costume is magnificent; on one finger he has an uncut ruby valued at three thousand pounds sterling. He visited the Electric Telegraph Office to witness the process of transmitting a message from him to London;—he examined the mechanism admiringly, and then exclaimed, "God made man; the Devil quickens his brains." This comment on man is witty and original. The Indian, who for the first time tasted the pale faces' "fire water," said that it was made of "lion's hearts and women's tongues," for after drinking it, he felt as strong as a lion and as talkative as a woman.

The Abbe Mienon, a Catholic priest of Paris, has published a pamphlet to demonstrate, that the pope ought to renounce all secular authority and remove to Jerusalem, there to preside over the Christian church.

A PRELATE IN DANGER.—A letter from Genoa states, that the Vicar of Rome, Monsignore Patrizzi on his transit from "the Eternal City" to Civita Vecchia, only escaped from falling into the clutches of Lazzarini by that celebrated brigand's arriving too late at the point where his ambuscade was to be planted. But for this contretemps, his band was sufficiently numerous to have overpowered the guards of the Legate. Lazzarini had promised his wife the consecrated golden rose, destined for the Empress of the French, for herself, and the reliquary, with the straw from the cradle of Bethlehem, to hang on the neck of their child.

The Princess Royal, had a narrow escape from an accident. Her sleeve caught fire from a taper, and was burned to the shoulder, but fortunately she had the presence of mind to extinguish the flame, ere it caught the body of her dress.

THE ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY AND THE WESLEYANS.—The Wesleyan ministers and laymen of the Manchester and Bolton district having forwarded a resolution to the Archbishop of Canterbury, warmly thanking him for the course which he pursued in relation to the Sunday bands, his grace replied:—"Lambeth, June 4, 1856. Rev. Sir, I am highly gratified by the obliging letter in which you have communicated to me the resolution passed at the district meeting on May 29, in reference to the music in the parks. I beg the members of the district meeting to accept my best thanks for the manner in which they testified their approval of my conduct on that subject; which assures me, that I did not misrepresent the feelings of a numerous and influential portion of her Majesty's subjects, in the communication which I thought it my duty to make to Lord Palmerston—I remain, Rev. sir, your obedient and faithful servant.—(Signed) J. B. CANTUAR.—R. S. Romilly Hall."

THE IRON MINES OF EXMOOR.—The recent discovery of iron ores in the uncultivated wilds of Exmoor Forest, Devonshire, is expected to produce a complete revolution in the iron trade. Already has the district around felt the advantages in a commercial point of view, which an agricultural population contending against such adverse elements could not otherwise have obtained. The district has been taken by three of the largest iron companies in England, and their steam machinery and appliances, which are in a forward state of completion, will, it is estimated, raise from 200,000 to 300,000 tons of iron ore annually. The most remarkable specimen of ore yet obtained is the new pathos (white carbonate), which is used in the manufacture of steel, and for which English makers have hitherto been chiefly dependent on Sweden. A sample of it is was dug from the moor, and sent to the Great Exhibition of 1851, by Mr. R. Smith, of the Grange, Southmolton where its value was quickly ascertained; but at that period it was scarcely believed that the lodes were rich enough to pay the cost of working. There are also found in great abundance the red and brown haematites, puddling ores and the clay-bands, peculiar to the districts of South Staffordshire and Wales. A sample of ore has just been analysed by Messrs. Schneider and Co., who have charge of one section of the mines, and found to contain 69.78 per cent. of metallic iron. The proprietors of the Ulverstone iron works, Lancashire, have secured the principal share of the moor under a lease, and are rapidly sinking shafts by steam machinery to test the depth of the lodes. The remaining sections are in the hands of two South Wales iron companies from the neighbourhood of Merthyr Tydvil, viz., the Dowlais Company (late Sir J. Guest's), and the Plymouth Company. The Ulverstone Co. possess one-half of the south moor, the Dowlais about 2000 acres on the west, and the other about half the latter quantity to the eastward. The impetus given to the employment of labour in the neighbourhood, and the settlement of a large population on the spot, has caused the erection of a church, which will be opened in August; and it is not a little remarkable that, in digging the foundations, a vast lode of iron ore of rich quality and vast extent was found. The Ebbw Vale Company are at present working the iron mines on Brendon hills, Somerset, a little to the east of Exmoor, and have obtained an Act of Parliament for making a mineral railway to Watchet, which has commenced. Two lines of railway, one from Exmor to the coast and Lynmouth, and the other to Porlock, have been surveyed, but which will ultimately be adopted is as yet a matter of uncertainty.

WASHINGTON, JULY 3.—The trial of Herbert for murder, and that of Brooks for assault, is appointed to take place next week. Many members of the House are anxious to relieve themselves of speeches on the Summer assault, which they have had prepared for sometime. The official report of the Wednesday's proceedings in the Senate on the Kansas bill, will occupy about eighty columns of the Globe newspaper.

UNITED STATES.

Private advices have been received at New Orleans announcing that the difficulty between Spain and Mexico had been settled, and the Spanish fleet departed from Vera Cruz. This peaceable adjustment of the affair is said to have been brought about by the "good offices" of England. It had been decided by President Comafort to sell all the lands belonging to the Church and other religious corporations. From Acapulco, on the Pacific coast, we have news of a conspiracy in which fifteen officers were implicated, the object of which was revolution and plunder.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune writes, that "Mr. Lumley had not been authorized to reopen the British Legation."

The George Law, arrived at New York, from Aspinwall, brought the California mails to June 20th, and $1,705,000 in gold. The Governor of San Francisco had proclaimed that city in a state of insurrection; and the Vigilance Committee, in retort, had published a manifesto, declaratory of its resolve not to disperse, until they have expelled from the community "those who have so long outraged the peace and good order of society."

By way of Panama, we have news from San Jose, Costa Rica, to June 57. The papers state, that General Mora, the Commander-in-Chief of the army, the Vice President, and the Secretary of State, had all died of cholera. The troops of Guatemala and San Salvador had united for the invasion of Nicaragua.

From New Granada, we have papers dated at Aspinwall and Panama the 4th of July. It was expected by the Americans resident on the Isthmus that a United States' war ship would be stationed at Aspinwall. The railroad company had built a fine bridge at Gatun. Congress had adopted the new federal reforms of the constitution. In the Aspinwall district, Senor Calvo had a majority of votes for the office of Governor, whilst in the Panama district, Senor Maria Dias was far ahead. General Mosquera had urged the government to make all the reparation possible for the outrages committed during the riot. The merchants of Cathagena city will have to pay impost duty on all goods after the 1st of September, the day on which the port is to become free. Mr. Fulton, chief engineer of the Golden Age, had been accidentally killed on board. Severe measures were to be taken against the instigators of the late riot.

In view of the latest "American difficulty," the difficulty encountered by Mr. Professor Mahan, of West Point Military Academy, in being informed that he was not presentable to Her Majesty Queen Victoria unless in Court costume, the New York Times says:—"A cat may look at a King, but a Professor in a black stock may not look upon a Queen."—Well, it must have been rather annoying to be collared by a blunt master of the ceremonies, and brought up, all standing, in transitu to the royal presence; still, it ought hardly be expected that Her Majesty should permit eccentricities of costume in American citizens, which she denies to her own subjects. "Let all ambitious Americans who go to London hereafter, remember that it was the absence of a white choker that prevented Professor Mahan from seeing Queen Victoria in her crimson satin robes."

INDIANS IN TEXAS.—The San Antonio Tezan, of the 19th, has the annexed exciting Indian news from Fort Chadbourne:

On Saturday, the 14th inst., an express reached San Antonio which left Fort Chadbourne on the 18th inst., bringing the unwelcome news of the inhuman murder and capture of their two express riders, who were on their way from Fort McKavitt to Fort Chadbourne. It seems that the two men had arrived within forty miles of Fort Chadbourne, when they were attacked, probably by a large number of Camanches, overpowered and killed. One of the bodies has since been found, the head was severed from the body, one leg was cut off at the knee, and the body otherwise mangled in the most horrible manner. The body of the other express rider, up to our going to press, has not been found.

On the 7th inst, from fifteen to twenty

Indians, composed mostly of Canico's band of Southern Camanches, came into Fort Chadbourne. Some of these Indians had been in the habit of coming into the fort before; but of late, although they pretended to be friendly, they showed much insolence; and from information the commanding officer had lately derived from Major Neighbour, our Indian Agent, from the late insolent conduct of the Indians, and more particularly from the recent inhuman murders of the two express men, the commander of the post determined to take them as prisoners, and marched out twenty men of the garrison for this purpose. On ordering them to surrender their arms, they showed hostilities, when the soldiers immediately charged upon them, killing seven on the spot; three others since have been found dead. The remainder who escaped, consisting of from six to ten in number, were all more or less severely wounded. In possession of the Indians that were killed was found a government rifle, similar to the one carried by one of the murdered expressmen; also a part of a letter stained with blood, which was probably taken from the same men.

Immediately after the killing of the Indians, two soldiers were despatched to overtake a party that had left the fort one hour before, on the road leading to San Antonio. When these soldiers had proceeded four miles from the fort, they were pursued by a party of twelve or fifteen Indians, but they succeeded in reaching the party they started for, and gave them an account of what had occurred, and gave the necessary warning, that they might be on their guard.

Strange as it may appear, during the whole contest with the Indians, although they were well armed with guns, pistols, bows and arrows, and other instruments of warfare, not a single soldier was killed, or even wounded, that we have heard of. One officer had a ball shot through his hat, and several soldiers had arrows pass through their clothing, but all escaped unhurt.

These Indians are, in a measure, all leagued together, and we shall not be surprised soon to hear of their attempts to retaliate upon the whites for their men who have been killed.

CAMELS FOR TEXAS.—The United States' steamship Surprise, now lying at the Navy Yard, is to be sent again in a few weeks for a reinforcement to the stock of camels brought by her on her last trip, and landed in Texas for the United States' Government uses. It has been found by experiment, that for the transfer of the United States' stores across the plazas of Texas, the camel is perfectly fitted, and withstands the soil and climate of the country without any difficulty. Thus far, only thirty-five have been brought. It is intended in the next trip to bring fifty.—New York Times.

TRIAL OF HERBERT.—Washington 10th.—The Herbert murder case was formally opened this morning. The testimony for the prosecution was closed at the adjournment of the Court although the counsel for the prisoner unsuccessfully insisted that it was the duty of the government to have presented all who witnessed the killing of Kenting. The prisoner occupies a seat in the dock and is occasionally cheered by the conversation of distinguished friends. A dense crowd was present. The jury were unable to agree in their verdict. They are said to have stood, ten for acquittal and two for conviction. On the 15th another jury was procured for a new trial, chosen from 105 men.—The Worcester Spy says, that a letter has been received in that city from a gentleman in California, which states that Herbert has been notified by the Vigilance Committee of San Francisco never to show his head in California again, under the severest penalties. He is said to have been a monte dealer in California besides.

LET US REASON TOGETHER

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

WHY ARE WE SICK?

It has been the lot of the human race to be weighed down by disease and suffering. HOLLOWAY'S PILLS are especially adapted to the relief of the WEAK, the NERVOUS, the DELICATE, and the INFIRM, of all climes, ages, sexes and constitutions. Professor Holloway personally superintends the manufacture of his medicines, and offers them to a free and enlightened people, as the best remedy the world ever saw for the removal of disease.

THESE PILLS PURIFY THE BLOOD.

These famous Pills are expressly combined to operate on the stomach, the liver, the kidneys, the lungs, the skin, and the bowels, correcting any derangement in their functions, purifying the blood, the very fountain of life, and thus curing disease in all its forms.

DYSPEPSIA AND LIVER COMPLAINTS.

Nearly half the human race have taken these Pills. It has been proved in all parts of the world, that nothing has been found equal to them in cases of disorders of the liver, dyspepsia, and stomach complaints generally. They soon give a healthy tone to those organs, however much deranged, and when all other means have failed.

GENERAL DEBILITY.—ILL HEALTH.

Many of the most despotic Governments have opened their Custom Houses to the introduction of these Pills, that they may become the medicine of the masses. Learned Colleges admit, that this medicine is the best remedy ever known for persons of delicate health, or where the system has been impaired, as its invigorating properties never fail to afford relief.

FEMALE COMPLAINTS.

No Female, young or old, should be without this celebrated medicine. It corrects and regulates the monthly courses at all periods, cures in many cases like a charm. It is also the best and safest medicine that can be given to children of all ages, and for any complaint; consequently no family should be without it.

Holloway's Pills are the best remedy known in the world for the following Diseases:—

THE MEDICAL ADVISER on the physical decay of the system produced by excessive excesses, infection, the effects of climate, &c. with remarks on the treatment practiced by the Author with such unvarying success, since his settlement in this country. Rules for self-treatment, &c.

Dr. De Roos, from long practical experience in the most celebrated institutions of this country and the continent, has had, perhaps, unusual opportunities of observing the peculiarities relating to the physiology, pathology, and general treatment of the disorders referred to in the above work, and having devoted his studies almost exclusively to this class of diseases, he is enabled confidently to undertake their removal in as short a time as is consistent with safety.

PERSONS IN ANY PART OF THE WORLD may be successfully treated by forwarding a correct detail of their case, with a remittance for Medicines, &c. which will be returned with the utmost despatch, and secure from observation.

THE CONCENTRATED GUTTE FIVE, or Vegetable Life Drops, are recommended to all those who have injured themselves by early excesses, and brought on Spermatorrhoea, Nervousness, Weakness, Languor, Low Spirits, Aversion to Society, Study or Business, Timidity, Trembling and shaking of the Hands and Limbs, Indigestion, Flatulency, Shortness of Breath, Cough, Asthma, Consumptive Habits, Dimness of Sight, Dizziness, Pains in the Head, &c.

Their almost marvellous power in removing contaminations, Secondary symptoms, Eruptions, Sore Throat, Pains in the Bones and Joints, Scoury, Scrofula, and all other impurities, must be felt to be believed. 4s. 6d.; 11s.; and 33s. per bottle. The 25 Packages, by which £1 12s. are saved; and the £10 packages, by which a still greater saving is effected, will be sent from the Establishment only, on receipt of the amount per draft on a London house, or otherwise.

PAINS in the BACK, GRAVEL, LUMBAGO, RHEUMATISM, GOUT, Indigestion, Bile, Flatulency, Headache, Nervousness, Debility, Diseases of the Bladder and Kidneys, Stricture, &c.

THE COMPOUND RENAL PILLS, as their name Renal (or the Kidneys) indicates, are the most safe and efficacious remedy for the above dangerous complaints, Discharges of any kind, and Diseases of the Urinary Organs generally, which if neglected, frequently result in stone in the bladder, and a lingering, painful death. They agree with the most delicate stomach, strengthen the digestive organs, increase the appetite, improve the general health, and will effect a cure when other medicines have utterly failed. Price 4s. 6d., 11s., & 33s. per Box, through all Medicine Vendors.

GUARD AGAINST the recommendation of spurious or other articles by unprincipled Vendors who thereby obtain a large profit. To protect the PUBLIC against FRAUD, Her Majesty's Hon. Commissioners have directed the words "WALTER DE ROOS, LONDON," to be printed in white letters on the Stamp affixed to the above, to imitate which is felony.

TO THE EDITOR OF HASZARD'S GAZETTE.

You will find that Episcopal perversity is not confined to the British Colonies, as the following letter from "a Burlington U. S. Episcopalian" clearly sets forth.

(From the Protestant Churchman.)

GENTLEMEN:—A circumstance bearing directly upon the welfare of our Church, and the independence of her clergy, has recently taken place here, which would seem, in some of its aspects, to be important enough to find a place in your columns.

The annual meeting of the Burlington City Bible Society, auxiliary to the American Bible Society, was held on the 19th instant. This Society has been instrumental in the accomplishment of much good in our own city and vicinity, having supplied with the Word of God all the destitute among us who would receive it, besides annually contributing to its dissemination through the parent Society.

The Committee charged with providing speakers, etc., for the anniversary, consisting of a Presbyterian and a Methodist minister, invited a valued clergyman of our own Church from a neighboring parish to be one of the speakers on the occasion, to which he readily assented. But what was the surprise of this gentleman, a few days afterwards, may be judged, when the reader is told that he received a visit from the Bishop of New-Jersey, who resisted the fulfilment of his engagement to speak, partly on the ground that he was opposed to the dissemination of the Holy Scriptures, except through the Church, and partly on the ground, that the act contemplated would be intruding into his parish! The Presbyterian assured him, that he had no thought of incurring his displeasure, when he accepted the invitation, that he could not for a moment have supposed it possible that he (the Bishop) would object to the distribution of the Bible in any way; that he was conscientiously and earnestly favorable to the Society, and urged the Bishop not to interpose objection or his authority, to prevent the fulfilment of his engagement.

But all was of no avail. The Bishop pertinaciously continued his opposition, and appealed to the rector as a brother minister, and as a gentleman, not to invade his parish. The gentleman finally yielded to his demands, so far as to promise not to address the meeting if he could procure a suitable substitute, but adhered to his purpose to attend it.

What an assumption of ecclesiastical power in a Protestant Church, and in the United States!

God often makes the wrath of man praise him. No circumstances could well have aided the Burlington City Bible Society more than those arising from the Bishop's opposition. The meeting was twice as large as it usually has been, and composed of the most respectable people in Burlington, a large proportion of whom were Episcopalian, not only those who refuse to sit under the ministry of the present rector of St. Mary's, but also some of the leading persons who still continue their attendance at that church. Distinguished laymen and clergymen of our Church offered their services in advocating a cause so dear to the heart of every Christian; feeling in common with their brethren here, deeply mortified and pained at the false position given to our Church in the eyes of those without, by the assumptions of the Bishop. An eloquent and effective address was made by a distinguished member of the bar, a churchman from Newark, N. J., and another from an eminent rector of one of the churches in Philadelphia.

The meeting, and all the circumstances connected with it, have quite stirred up our quiet town. It was decidedly the most interesting, and we trust it will prove to be the most important and useful anniversary that has been held here for years.

A BURLINGTON EPISCOPALIAN.

THE FORCE OF HABIT.—A servant was sent a few days ago to apprise a surgeon who had been attending his master, that the poor gentleman died in the course of the morning. The servant, on meeting the surgeon, delivered his melancholy message as follows, "Please, sir, master's compliments, and he's dead."

THE REVENUE; FINANCIAL PROSPERITY.

THE Returns of the Revenue for the quarter ending on the 29th of the last month, afford a gratifying indication of an increasing financial prosperity, even under the dark shadow of war; and afford the promise of a much greater improvement when that shadow shall have fairly passed away. Amidst some fluctuations in the different items, the rule of expansion still obtains on the total results, the aggregate showing a net increase of £422,052 on the quarter, and £4,101,620 on the twelve-month, as compared with the returns for the similar periods in 1855. The experience of the Chancellor of the Exchequer, thus tallies most agreeably with the tenor of successive reports from the Board of Trade, as well as with the accounts transmitted from every centre of industry and production. Every symptom combines to prove that the well-being of the country rests upon a basis too sound to be shaken by the oscillations either of war or peace. It has been very justly remarked, that the trial which our national resources and industrial machinery have undergone during the last three months has been, in point of fact, as severe as any that occurred during the period that the war was at its height. Nor is the proof it has afforded of vigour and substantiality less important. On former occasions we have, indeed, found that the transition to a state of peace was fraught with more peril and distress—gave a greater shock to industry, and tended to a worse dislocation of employment—than the previous change from peace into a state of hostilities. The reason is obvious. War, especially at the first outbreak, opens more channels for activity that it can close. The Government spends lavishly at home and abroad. Multitudes are engaged to fight, or to provide stores and supplies for the fighters. Labour is scarce, wages are high, money circulates, and prices rise on every side. The memory of "war prices," and the delusive prosperity which they occasioned, linger still in many parts of the country, accompanied by painful recollections of subsequent collapse and ruin, when the stimulus of a vast military expenditure and incessant loans was once withdrawn. Through a similar ordeal the country has now passed with perfect safety, and almost without perceptible change. There has been no glut of labour, no disturbance of industry, and no scarcity of capital. The retrenchments necessary upon the conclusion of peace are being effected without causing any disastrous mutations in the relative position of employer and employed; while the payment of our war liabilities has been provided for without either burdening the productive energies of the country, or absorbing that circulating medium which is the life-blood of its commerce. Alike in resuming our peaceful occupations, and in originally arming ourselves for the conflict, we have shown, that the terrible episode of war has produced no serious disturbance, and left no visible exhaustion in the mighty resources of our empire.

IMPORTANT TO POETS.—"There is no place like home," says the poet. Right! unless it's the home of the young woman you're after. This is, of course, an exception. Future poets will please to note it.

WOMAN.—The obstinate woman gets to sea in a band box. The patient woman roasts an ox with a burning glass.—The curious woman would like to turn a rainbow over, to see what there was on the other side.—The vulgar woman is a spider attempting to spin silk.—The cautious woman writes promises on a slate.—The envious woman kills herself in endeavouring to lace tighter than her neighbours.—The extravagant woman burns a wax candle in looking for a lucifer match.—The happy woman died in a deaf and dumb asylum years ago.

"A new kind of fraud," says the Journal d'Elbeuf, "has just been originated. Ladies' Muslin collars, to all appearance handsomely embroidered, are offered for sale, and when the purchaser proceeds to handle the new article a little roughly, the seeming embroidery falls off, being nothing else than little lumps of paper cleverly pasted on the muslin. A man has been arrested in this town for selling such articles."

MISCELLANEOUS.

BALAKLAVA A PLEASURE PORT.—Among the earliest and most significant evidence of the new order of things in the East has been the organization of a regular steam-boat excursion system between Constantinople and Balaklava at very moderate rates, and with all the usual Western appliances of accommodation and enjoyment. The British authorities in both places are warmly supporting it, and affording every facility to its projector and manager, Mr. W. Hadfield, agent of the Liverpool Underwriter for the transport Service at Constantinople, whose exertions for the promotion of a Sailor's Home in the Bosphorus have met with a success not less creditable to him than beneficial to the object of that meritorious and much-needed undertaking.

THE BEARD IN SICILY.—A letter from Genoa, dated June 5, and published in the Constitutionnel, says:—"There has been a collision between the police and the people at Catania. A native of Messina, who was seen in the streets with that proscribed emsign of a revolutionist a beard, was ordered by some police agents to come with him to a barber to be shaved. Upon his refusal and resistance, a row ensued, the mob taking part with the Messina man against the police. There were broken heads on both sides. When the Neapolitan government heard of the occurrence, it sent telegraphic despatches to all the principal towns in Sicily, ordering the authorities for the future to let every man wear his hair and beard as might please himself, without molestation."

A RAFT INDEED.—A modern traveller in Germany, gives a description of one of the immense rafts which occasionally descend the Rhine. He says, it was nine hundred feet long and two hundred wide, on which was built a village for the accommodation of the boatmen and the passengers, consisting of about one thousand persons. There were cattle, hogs, and other animals on board—and also a shop where the passengers could be supplied with every article.

A good anecdote is told of Ali Pasha, the Sultan's Grand Vizier, now in Paris. A few evenings ago, a lady to whom this gentleman was introduced at a soiree, hazarded the naive question, "Is the Sultan married?" "A great deal, madam," was the Turk's reply.

A man, named Stone, exclaimed in a bar-room, "I'll bet I have the hardest name in the company. 'Done,' said one of the company: 'what's your name?' 'Stone,' cried the first. 'Hand me the money,' said the other, 'my name is Harder.'"

Some unknown poet has perpetrated the following:—"How happy Franklin Pierce must be!

Among the passengers of the steamship Asia, which sailed yesterday for England we noticed the name of D. Ten Brock, the Napoleon of the American turf since the decease of Col. Johnson of Virginia. The object of Mr. Ten Brock's visit to Europe is to test the powers of the English race horse on English ground by actual experiment of those bred in America. For that purpose he takes out with him Lecompte, Prior, and the filly Prioress—three of the fastest horses in the country.—[New York Herald, 10th.]

It appears that mesmerism is to be applied to the cure of insanity. Dr. Parker, a surgeon in Exeter, England having claimed to have relieved some and cured other cases of insanity, in that city and neighbourhood, by means of mesmeric influence, a proposition was made to the corporation, in behalf of the poor, that it might be tried in the case of insane persons who are paupers. A committee was accordingly appointed by the authorities, to investigate the facts, and they reported in favour of a trial being made of it. This was agreed to at a meeting of the corporation, and an appropriation was voted toward the expense—with what result we have not yet learned.

A vain man's motto is, "win gold and wear it;" a generous man's, "win gold and share it;" a miser's, "win gold and spare it;" a profligate's "win gold and spend it;" a broker's, "win gold and lend it;" a fool's, "win gold and end it;" a gambler's, "win gold and lose it;" a wise man's, "win gold and use it."

WHEN Dobbs was dying, his wife, who had led him a terrible life, was afraid, that he would either cut her off with a shilling or prevent her marrying again; she was young and handsome, if she was a Tartar. But Dobbs left her all his money, on condition of her marrying again, "for then," said he, "I shall be certain, that somebody else will be as wretched as I've been."

A SUFFICIENT EXCUSE.—A gentleman, having been lately called on to subscribe to a course of lectures, declined, "Because," said he, "my wife gives me a lecture every night for nothing."

MUTTON AND MOUTH.—Leg of Mutton-Street, Devizes, is to be called in future Sidmouth-street, in compliment to Lord Sidmouth. A wag observes that to turn a leg of mutton into a "mouth" of any kind is perfectly right.

ADVANTAGE OF TOBACCO.—The following was communicated to Com. Wilkes, of the Exploring Expedition, by a savage of the Feejee islands. He stated that a vessel, the hull of which was still lying on the beach, had come ashore in a storm, and that all the crew had fallen into the hands of the islanders. "What did you do with them?" inquired Wilkes. "Killed 'em all," answered the savage. "What did you do with them after you had killed them?" "Eat 'em—good," returned the cannibal. "Did you eat them all?" asked the half-sick commodore. "Yes; we eat all but one." "And why did you spare one?" "Because he taste too much like tobacco. Couldn't eat him no how!"

WHY are jokes like nuts?—Because the drier they are, the better they crack.

An American editor undertakes to discuss what he calls a "knotty question." Can he untie anything knotty? Echo answers, not he.

SOME men are like cats. You may stroke the fur the right way for years, and hear nothing but purring; but accidentally tread on the tail, and all memory of former kindness is obliterated.

A lie though it be killed and dead can sting sometimes like a dead wasp.
