GUELPH TO FIGHT FOR HYDRO CONTROL

Will Even Take Legal Action, If Necessary, in Matter of Radial Ownership.

Guelph, July 11.—(Special.)—Even though there has been a hitch in the taking over of the Guelph Radial Railway because of the action of Premier Drury and his associates in refusing to sanction the transfer to the Hydro-Electric Power Commission, it is not the intention of the civic authorities to allow the matter to drop by any means.

To Call a Meeting. If the reply from the premier is an unfavorable one, the next step will be the calling of a meeting of the ratepayers in the city hall when the whole matter will be fully explained and reasons given by the agreement was not carried out. After this, the matter will again be put up to the Hydro-Electric Power Commission, who will be asked to carry out their signed agreement with the city.

SOME SENTIMENT. Some will say there is no such thing in business—maybe, or maybe not. The front page of a reader appears on one of Toronto's paper written by one of Toronto's grand old men who has upheld business principles that day commended in the clientele he today commands—and now he is on holiday out on the broad Atlantic, battling for the Old Country and the announcement of France. Our usual readers on this page daily, and should Dineen's convincing style it is an assured fact that the same good values will prevail and the same measure of satisfaction is assured to all who will. ENGINEERS VISIT UNION STATION

Members of Toronto Branch of Engineering Institute Guest of Mr. Ambrose

Members of the Toronto branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada were the guests of Chief Engineer J. R. W. Ambrose, of the Toronto Railway Terminals Co. Saturday afternoon on an inspection trip of the new Union Station.

The dining-room of the new station is located on the first floor in the west wing. It is beautifully finished with light oak paneling with a hand-carved frieze of the same material running along the four walls of the room.

The floor is mosaic. In addition to the dining-room, a lunch counter will also be operated in connection with the business of feeding the hungry travelers.

Connected with the dining-room in a most convenient manner is the huge kitchen and laundry, in which all the linen used in the dining and lunch rooms will be made white as snow.

The main waiting room is furnished in the same color wood as the dining-room. A series of columns of zambra, a Minnesota stone, lends an air of dignity and distinction to this well-appointed room.

The men's wash rooms and the ladies rest rooms adjoin the main waiting-room. They are finished in a beautiful Italian Renaissance marble.

The floor is of white tile. A unique feature of the lavatories are the pay telephones equipped with porcelain bath tubs and basins.

The show place of the new station is the concourse, or ticket lobby. The ceiling is a remarkably beautiful piece of work.

The concourse is paneled in jaquimade tile. High up on the walls of the concourse is a frieze running down the length of the two longer walls. On this frieze are carved the names of Canadian cities from the Atlantic to the Pacific, beginning with Prince Rupert and ending with St. John and ending with Vancouver on the opposite side.

Entrance to Trains. The entrance to the concourse to the main shed is a large doorway broken by a beautiful Corinthian column and topped by a pediment of the concourse. The exit from the concourse into the station are located in opposite ends of the concourse on the same side as the entrance.

One of the features of the ticket offices is a narrow shelf running along in front of the ticket selling windows, where the passenger may rest his suitcase whilst purchasing his ticket.

In the centre of the concourse the information booth will be located and the automatic blackboards announcing the arrival and departure of trains will be located.

Room for Stores. Provisions have been made for stores adjoining the concourse in the northeast corner and concessions will be granted to druggists, confectioners, etc., to operate these stores.

On the same level, but disconnected and directly under it practically all the features found in the main concourse are duplicated.

On the lower level the baggage rooms, Canadian and American immigration offices, bonded baggage-rooms and other departments are located.

The same level, but disconnected from the rest of the station, are the restrooms for immigrants. This department is a miniature station in itself, embracing all the conveniences usually found in a depot.

One of the unique features, indicating the thoughtfulness of the builders, is the special laundry in which immigrant women may do their washing while waiting admission to the country.

Mechanical Equipment. Below this is still another level, 24 feet below the main floor, where the mechanical equipment of the new station is located. It was in this department principally that the engineers were most keenly interested.

Not satisfied with explanations of how the different machines worked, the engineers wanted to see them in action, and the presiding genius of this underground department had to be called in to start some of the apparatus in motion.

A continual bombardment of questions regarding the air-washing apparatus evoked the offer of a demonstration by the engineer. The air-washing room is accessible only thru a small door about 1 1/2 feet by 2 feet. Innocently the visiting engineers jammed in, and from the outside the air-washing apparatus was set in motion. There was a mad rush for the small hole in the wall, and one by one the damp investigators shot thru the little door inquiring for the drying room and clothes line.

The west wing of the building from cellar to roof will be occupied by the postoffice department. The new postoffice will be known as Station A, and will house many of the departments and officials now located in the uptown buildings.

The engineers expressed themselves as highly pleased with the new building, which is one of the finest stations on the American continent.

Prosecutions May Follow Timber Investigation Report

Royal Commission Prepares Interim Statement of Their Findings Into Administration of Crown Lands Under Ferguson Regime.

The announcement is made by Premier Drury that an interim report will be made in a few days by Judges Riddell and Latchford, the royal commissioners who have been inquiring into the methods of the late government in connection with the sale of timber limits.

The former minister responsible, Hon. Howard Ferguson, who left for a trip to South America before the inquiry was opened, and has since returned, has not yet given his evidence before the commission, but it is expected he will be summoned when the inquiry is resumed.

A second inquiry is also promised into the mining transactions which have taken place during the last few years. It is not known yet whether Judges Riddell and Latchford will have taken place during the last few years. It is not known yet whether Judges Riddell and Latchford will have taken place during the last few years.

SIR THOMAS WHITE G.T.R. ARBITRATOR

Consents to Act at Request of Minister of Railways

On Saturday Hon. J. D. Reid had a meeting with Sir Thomas White in regard to the latter accepting the appointment of arbitrator for the government in its acquisition of the G.T.R. Sir Thomas signified his assent.

The rumor was afoot that Ex-President Taft, of the United States, would be the nominee of the G.T.R. The chairman in the arbitration proceedings is Sir William Cassels, chief judge of the exchequer court.

The arbitrators are to ascertain what amount the Dominion of Canada is to pay to the Grand Trunk Railway as a company, for distribution among its shareholders, for the transfer to the Dominion of Canada of all their shares in the Grand Trunk and its associated companies.

The agreement between the Grand Trunk Company and the Dominion government, ratified by parliament, there is a fixed amount beyond which the award cannot go. The arbitration will involve the going over of all the

OLD CHAMPIONS STILL IN RUNNING

Finals of Olympic Boxing Trials Decided Before Small Crowd at Arena.

The Olympic trials that finished on Saturday night at the Arena must have been a disappointment to the promoters from a financial standpoint, as the crowds were hardly large enough to pay expenses. All the old champions entered are still in the running, but the two new boys—Simmons, in the 112-lb. class, and Prudhomme, in the 160-lb. class—will have to show more than they did this time to get thru with the pick of the east and west next week. In the 112-lb. class Young (unattached) had no difficulty in winning from Potter, of the Riverdale, but the battle took so much out of the winner that he tired badly in the final against Simmons, of the Riverdale. Simmons, who had defeated Graham had it easy in the 112-lb. class. He was up against McGrath, another Riverdale, and McGrath's second round throw the towel into the ring after two minutes' boxing.

The Classics took on a pretty big contract in the 126-lb. class, when he undertook to trim both Chris, and Percy Newton, the same evening. He took on the older brother first and after a terrific battle, got the decision, but when he tackled Water he was very tired and lost after a rousing battle. Chris, Newton was easily the best of the Riverdale, and he was a very good punch, a Riverside clubmate, with one punch. Hume had previously stopped McGrath in the same round.

Fern Bull won both of his bouts in the 147-lb. class rather easily. He stopped McGrath in the first round, and in the second round, but Jenkinson of the Riverdale put up a clever hand battle and also he put up the classic boy several times with hard rights to the head, Bull held him safe all the way.

Edgar played the same steady and finished game which he always has had in command, but he was on the defensive from the first, and this, as much as anything, resulted in his defeat. The finals in the ladies' open singles will be decided this afternoon, when Miss Florence Beat will play Mrs. Bickie Wallace v. De Guerry.

WALL ST. FAVORED BY CROP OUTLOOK

Stage All Set for Another Period of Buoyancy and Distribution.

The ways of the New York stock manipulators, taken in their entirety, never change. There is only one method of getting the outside money put up as margin, that is to secure the confidence of the buyers and later to destroy the built-up confidence by a depreciation of market prices, assisted by a combined association of current news and events. These events follow one another as sure as night does day. The huge assets piled up by the American companies during the war were anticipated by investors who formed pools and collected stocks over an extended period which ended last year. When the shares of the various companies had been accumulated the reputation of profits had to be extracted from the market, and to get these, especially attractive dividends were given, and in most cases the shares were bought back by the companies. Notwithstanding all the advice tendered, speculators will never buy stocks except on a buoyant market, and the distribution by pools and others have to be accomplished by making periodical displays of strength. Such a period occurred in the early part of the year, to be followed by the depression in May. It will require many recurring instances of this kind to make the distribution effective, and to some extent the success of the deals will depend on conditions outside the control of the large financial interests. In this regard they have recently been favored by one important matter, that of the crops. A wonderful change in the harvest prospects has developed in the past six weeks, and except for a calamity, the crops for the year will be bountiful and far beyond the anticipations of even the optimists of a few weeks ago. The Washington report of Friday is the most cheerful document since the signing of the armistice.

STOCK DEALINGS LIGHT BUT BROAD

Market Session Consisted Largely of Settlements Speculative Contracts.

New York, July 10.—The session of the stock market today was of the usual midsummer week-end variety, consisting largely of settlements of speculative contracts. Dealings were light, but fairly broad, calls displaying pronounced strength. Firmer tendencies among transportation stocks were associated with the United States government crop report, issued after the close of yesterday's markets, in which forecasts virtually insure bountiful harvests of principal cereals, with a wheat surplus for export valued at $100,000,000. Realizing sales caused irregular reactions in oils, steels, equipments and shipments and also in diverse specialties more or less remotely related to leading industries. Extraordinary gains of 1 to 5 points in these groups were partially retrieved at the close. Sales amounted to $25,000,000. The monthly tonnage report of the United States Steel Corporation for June showed only a nominal increase, but that brought the amount of production up to the highest total in exactly three years. Dealings in bonds were relatively much more active than the turnover in stocks. International continued firm to strong, but Liberty issues were again inclined to waver. Total sales (par value) aggregated $4,875,000. The Federal Reserve Bank decreased its leading industrial issues total reserves to $1,000,000,000, as compared with last week's showing of about $83,425,000.

MONEY RATES NORMAL

The week's more expansive stock market operations were not reflected in the clearing house statements of actual loans contracted by about $38,600,000, but reserves of members in the Federal Reserve Bank decreased to $1,000,000,000, as compared with last week's showing of about $83,425,000.

WALL ST. FAVORED BY CROP OUTLOOK

Stage All Set for Another Period of Buoyancy and Distribution.

The ways of the New York stock manipulators, taken in their entirety, never change. There is only one method of getting the outside money put up as margin, that is to secure the confidence of the buyers and later to destroy the built-up confidence by a depreciation of market prices, assisted by a combined association of current news and events. These events follow one another as sure as night does day. The huge assets piled up by the American companies during the war were anticipated by investors who formed pools and collected stocks over an extended period which ended last year. When the shares of the various companies had been accumulated the reputation of profits had to be extracted from the market, and to get these, especially attractive dividends were given, and in most cases the shares were bought back by the companies. Notwithstanding all the advice tendered, speculators will never buy stocks except on a buoyant market, and the distribution by pools and others have to be accomplished by making periodical displays of strength. Such a period occurred in the early part of the year, to be followed by the depression in May. It will require many recurring instances of this kind to make the distribution effective, and to some extent the success of the deals will depend on conditions outside the control of the large financial interests. In this regard they have recently been favored by one important matter, that of the crops. A wonderful change in the harvest prospects has developed in the past six weeks, and except for a calamity, the crops for the year will be bountiful and far beyond the anticipations of even the optimists of a few weeks ago. The Washington report of Friday is the most cheerful document since the signing of the armistice.

Market Session Consisted Largely of Settlements Speculative Contracts.

MONEY RATES NORMAL

The week's more expansive stock market operations were not reflected in the clearing house statements of actual loans contracted by about $38,600,000, but reserves of members in the Federal Reserve Bank decreased to $1,000,000,000, as compared with last week's showing of about $83,425,000.
