CANADIAN SHIP OWNERS CLAIM $250,000

SEIZURE OF TWO N. S. SCHOONERS HELD ILLEGAL

First Case Since Adoption of Rum Running Treaty

LABELS DISMISSED

Owners Asking Compensation For Damage While Vessels Held In Port

BOSTON, Mass., Feb. 15.—Seizure of the two Canadian schooners off the Massachusetts coast, more than a year ago, as rum-runners, may cost the government a quarter of a million dollars if claims now put forward by their owners are sustained. For the first time since the adoption of a treaty with Great Britain on May 22, 1924, permitting seizure of rum ships an hour's sail off the coast, owners of vessels thus taken are seeking compensation from the United States under the treaty, claiming illegal seizures.

The ships are the Frances Louise, hailing from Lunenburg, N. S., and the Margerie E. Bechman, of River Port, N. S. The former was captured July 14, 1924 and the latter on October 24, of the same year. Labels brought against both vessels were dismissed in district court, but they were held tied up in Boston till February, 1925, while the United States attorney carried an appeal to the Supreme Court. Appeals were dismissed.

CLAIM BASED ON TREATY. Basing their action upon article four of the treaty with Great Britain and upon an opinion of Federal Judge Morton, the owners of these vessels represented by Matthew L. McCraith, now seeking to recover damages suffered while the vessels were held in port. The treaty provides for the creation of a claims commission consisting of two commissioners, one named by each government. To satisfy a commission claim of loss or injury through improper or unreasonable use of search and seizures rights, must be referred to the treaty provisions.

The counsel for the owners claim that on the Louise an outright loss of $108,000 has been suffered, based on a charter price of $100 a day. A similar absolute loss is claimed in the case of the Bechman, amounting to $65,000. But in addition, it is claimed, the value of the Louise's cargo has depreciated fifty per cent, and unknown damage has been suffered by both vessels. It is contended that repeated requests to have the ships drydocked and their bottoms painted were refused.

DESCRIBES START OF CUSTOMS PROBE

Hon. G. H. Bovin Tells of Appointment of Confidential Inspector

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 15.—How investigation of the port of Montreal began was described at the customs probe this morning by Hon. G. H. Bovin, Minister of Customs. Mr. Bovin was called to the witness stand by Dugald Donaghy, of North Vancouver. Mr. Bovin said that he took over administration of the customs department on October 31. He immediately communicated to Hon. J. A. Robb, Minister of Finance, some rumors he had heard in Montreal during the general election campaign, "concerning inefficiency and maladministration on the part of preventive officers in the city and district of Montreal."

BISAILLON MENTIONED

"A reminder," went on Mr. Bovin, "that I mentioned Bisailon's name. I cannot remember the other names of officers who were complained of in these rumors."

Mr. Robb had immediately suggested an investigation. Mr. Bovin agreed with him, but was in some doubt as to whom he should entrust the task of conducting the investigation. Mr. Robb had recommended Walter Duncan, a confidential inspector in the department of finance. Mr. Duncan was then engaged on some special work for his own department, and it was about ten days later, or roughly November 18, that he was able to report to Mr. Bovin.

DUNCAN INSTRUCTED

Inspector Duncan then received instructions, said Mr. Bovin, to proceed to Montreal and conduct a searching inquiry into everything concerning the conduct of customs business in the district of Montreal.

BOSTON, Feb. 15.—A story of a young doctor just out of medical school forced to perform a delicate operation on a seaman aboard a rolling ship, with most of his instruments drafted from the ship's pantry, was brought in today by the British steamer Port Bowen, which docked from New Zealand ports.

HEAVY VOTE SEEN IN PRINCE ALBERT

Bright Weather Aids Rural Turn-out; King Wires From Ottawa

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask., Feb. 15.—A heavy vote will be cast in the Prince Albert election, in which Right Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King is opposed by David L. Burgess, independent, according to indications early today. Many were on hand when the city polls opened and reports from the rural districts stated that the early vote was unusually large. Roads are good today, and the temperature eight above zero.

EVERY RIDING VISITED

During the short campaign every point in the riding has been visited by speakers supporting the candidates and all meetings have been largely attended.

Speakers for both candidates concluded their campaigns with big rallies here Saturday night. Premier King wired from Ottawa his appreciation of the support his candidature had received, and expressed regret that he was detained in Ottawa, by his official duties throughout the campaign.

SNOW SLOWS DOWN LUMBERING WORK

Southern and Central Parts of Province Affected; Conditions Better on North Shore

FREDERICTON, N. B., Feb. 15.—The snow conditions are putting a stop to lumbering operations in Southern and Central New Brunswick. In the north, with less snow, operations are being continued. Jobbers and small operators are finishing work and coming out of the woods. The depth of snow in many cases makes it more profitable for the jobber to stop now than to keep on.

Portable mills also have been hit hard by the weather. The frequent storms have slowed operations and the depth of snow has made hauling difficult or impossible. As quick turnover is the essence of the operation of the small portable mill both these conditions are severe handicaps.

ON NORTH SHORE

Along the line of the International Railway in Restigouche County conditions are different and many portable mills are operating, generally sawing nine-foot timber for the American market for use in bungalow and similar construction.

Chief Scaler A. T. Marchie will leave tonight on an official tour, which will include Juniper.

TARDIEU WINS SEAT

BELFORT, France, Feb. 15.—Andre Tardieu, former High Commissioner at Washington, won a seat in the Chamber of Deputies in the by-election here yesterday when he polled 9,800 votes to 6,000 polled by the radical candidate and 2,500 by the Socialist.

Match Boxes Cause of New Skin Disease

BERLIN, Feb. 15.—Matchbox inflammation is the name given a newly-diagnosed skin disease. Physicians of the University of Berlin clinic say it is caused by carrying boxes of matches in trousers pockets.

Hundreds of cases of what appeared to be eczema on the thighs of men led to an investigation. It was found that the phosphorus and paper on the sides of the match boxes vaporized under the heat of the body and penetrated the skin.

STAND SEEN AS VIOLATION OF LOCARNO SPIRIT

France's Aid To Poland's League Aspirations Denounced

BREACH OF FAITH

Sweden And Belgium Join Britain In Protest Against Polish Aid

LONDON, Feb. 15.—Severe criticism of the French and denunciation of what is called her attempt to use the League of Nations for purely sectional and selfish aims, threatening to subvert the true aims and spirit of the League, appears in the newspapers here this morning, and the cabinet is said to be deeply impressed and grieved at the support of British public opinion against this attempt.

France's insistence that Poland should have a permanent seat on the council if Germany does is regarded as a breach of faith of the written assurance given to Germany that any German violation of the Locarno spirit would place Britain in the predicament of condemning France wrong to Germany. Both Sweden and Belgium are now supporting the British stand while Quinones de Leon on behalf of Spain has repudiated the report that his country would vote for German admission unless Spain was conceded equal privileges.

TEMPORARY SEAT TALKED

There is now talk of Poland being given a temporary seat on the council in which event British support would be necessary and it is pointed out that if there is any prospect of little groups like the League of Nations being set up in the future, the League of Nations would be a centre of intrigue South Africa and the League of Nations will certainly consider the League not only would Poland be reduced to the same level as Britain but also that the council would be completely dominated by France.

SOUTH AFRICA PROTESTS

The Rand Daily Mail in a cable message from Johannesburg is reported to say that if the League becomes a centre of intrigue South Africa and the League of Nations will certainly consider the League not only would Poland be reduced to the same level as Britain but also that the council would be completely dominated by France.

F. H. MALONE DEAD

Former Star Hockey Player Passes Suddenly in New York

THREE RIVERS, Que., Feb. 15.—News reached here today that Foster H. Malone, chief clerk of the Murray Construction Company of New York, died suddenly in New York yesterday afternoon. The deceased was the son of J. C. Malone, of Three Rivers, he was a member of the National Hockey League in 1915 and 1916 and also played as amateur for a Halifax club. He was 36 years old.

TORONTO, Ont., Feb. 15.—Charles McLeod, one of the oldest members of the Massey-Harris Company's organization, is dead here, aged 85. Mr. McLeod was born in Cape Breton in 1841, and was true Highlander, his mother being a descendant of the Cameron Clan and his grandmother, of the Stuart Clan.

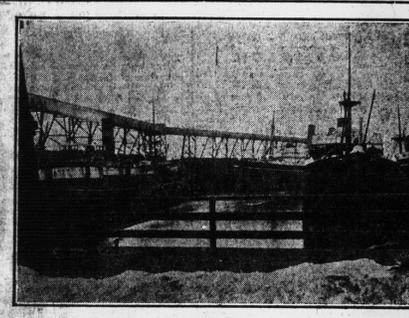

Hockey Referee Is Fined For Assault

MONTREAL, Feb. 15.—Mike Rodden, of Toronto, National Hockey League referee, was found guilty of attempting to assault a spectator, by Judge Casson, in the police court this morning, and fined $20 and costs. The offence was committed on January 19, at a hockey game between Ottawa and Canadiens at the Mount Royal Arena.

Modern Stoop Forces Change In Dummies

LONDON, Feb. 15.—London's West End tailors have been compelled to have round-shouldered dummies made for the display of their tailored goods. They assert that the modern woman of fashion droops and stoops so much in imitation of the "flapper" that gowns which appeal to her fancy cannot be displayed satisfactorily on the time forms fashioned after the figures of women who held their shoulders back and had a military carriage.

Busy Scenes In Saint John Harbor

THE photograph above, taken yesterday, shows a busy section of the Sand Point waterfront now, there being no less than seven steamship arrivals on Saturday and Sunday, making a total of 20 vessels now in port. All but one berth at Sand Point is occupied now.

Above, in the right foreground are two steamships, the Valera at the No. 4 dock and the Manchester Brigade alongside. In the left foreground at No. 5 berth is the Laval County, while behind the Valera, the Comino at No. 3 and the Presse at No. 2. In addition, the steamer Bawtry is at No. 15; the Brecon at No. 1, the Cariboo at No. 7 and the Facto at Colwell's wharf. Two ships sailed on Saturday and two yesterday. Seldom has the harbor presented a busier appearance.

WARRANT ISSUED

Special Hearing On Countess of Cathcart's Case Due Today

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—A warrant for the arrest of the Earl of Craven, who is now in Montreal, was issued today by the Department of Labor.

MONTREAL, Feb. 15.—The Earl of Craven was staying at the Ritz Carlton Hotel, Montreal, today. He refused to be interviewed.

The Earl came in this morning from New York and went directly to rooms reserved for him. He declined to receive reporters, but sent word out to them that he might make a statement this afternoon.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—The World says that it was informed by Lady Craven early this morning that her husband, the Earl of Craven, arrived as an unnamed Canadian city Sunday. Lady Craven told the World that she had received word from her husband several hours after learning that Immigration Commissioner Curran of Ellis Island had asked the department of labor for a warrant for his arrest.

SUPPORT FOR COUNTRESS

Moral support of the countess came from London last night in the form of a message from Ralph Neal, her fiance, who asked the women of the United States to support her "in her terrible ordeal."

Many prominent women have publicly protested the exclusion of the countess and admittance of the Earl to the States when he answered "No" to the unusual question of inspectors whether he had ever been convicted or admitted a crime involving "moral turpitude."

The countess, when asked the same question, answered "Yes," Ellis Island officials said.

ADMITS CRIME

The earl was questioned by an immigration officer on Feb. 14.

ADJUSTMENT IS EXPECTED SOON

Important Statement Made on College Arrangements Under Church Union

According to statements made in Saint John today by Rev. Dr. Clarence MacKinnon, principal of Pine Hill theological college, Halifax, and moderator of the Maritime Synod of the United Church, it is more than probable an adjustment will soon be reached whereby the theological school of Mount Allison University, Sackville, will be removed to Halifax and in return the former Methodist educational centre will become official headquarters for the merged denominations in this eastern division.

Dr. MacKinnon desired to make it very explicit that the transfer of the theological students to Pine Hill was not considered an amalgamation or absorption. It was merely a convenient adjustment, happily possible by the uniting of the Presbyterian and Methodist bodies.

Pine Hill was a property worth approximately $200,000, and was quite generously endowed, the terms of which endowment would prevent physical changes in the building or plant. Moreover, Pine Hill was essentially and altogether an institution for the study of theology, whilst the Mount Allison theological school had been part of a university group.

At a recent meeting of the regents of Mount Allison, a series of conditions were drawn up and decided upon for presentation to the authoritative body of the synod. The directors of Pine Hill College will pass upon their deliberations on Thursday of this week. When both communications were considered, Dr. MacKinnon thought it would be a proper matter to bring about the change proposed.

When the adjustment of these matters of theological studies is consummated the principal of Pine Hill considered it would be an easily practical matter to begin the new academic year next year, that would be the next college term. Mount Allison might still retain a one-year college preparation course in connection with its arts studies, but the removal of the more advanced students to Halifax, would leave room for needed changes at Sackville.

The reverend principal of Pine Hill, speaking as Moderator of the United Church Synod, stressed the point that, since denominational lines had been eliminated in the past, the project was purely a family matter, being most amicably arranged. It was a simplifying and progressive measure that would improve educational conditions and strengthen things financially. He felt there was little chance of the project failing, in fact full and hearty agreement marked all the negotiations to date.

Broadening his remarks, in answer to a reporter's queries, he said, in view of the united church body was feeling the material benefit of amalgamation. In one department alone the former Methodist body had effected a saving of $16,000. Work was proceeding with more facility now, the risk of money being lost was lessened and things were generally improved. In a year or so yearly balances would probably show how effectively a greater work has been prosecuted at much reduced costs.

Rev. Dr. MacKinnon was in Saint John on Sunday preaching the closing sermon in the West street church's 60th anniversary.

FORMER MAYOR SEARS IS DEAD

Had Been Postmaster and Prominent in Saint John Life

Gave Much For City and Was Very Popular—Of Loyalist Descent

EDWARD SEARS, 73, postmaster of Saint John from 1909 to 1922; Mayor of this native city 1898-99, and a second period in 1906 and once more by acclamation in 1907; scion of a local Loyalist family that sprang from the Pilgrim Fathers of America; citizen of indefatigable public spirit, man of culture and broad vision, passed away at the Home for Incurables at 6 o'clock last evening after a protracted illness of paralysis.

EARLY BUSINESS CAREER. Edward Sears was educated in the private schools of Saint John and at the firm of Daniel and Boyd, at that time, the largest dry goods house in the Maritime Provinces. In 1869 he went to New York and entered the importing house of Messrs. A. S. Jeffrey and Co., with whom he remained eight years. He attended the evening classes of the Young Men's Christian Association there and made excellent use of the public libraries in improving his range of information.

MARRIES AND RETURNS. In 1878 he married Mary K. Hall, of New York, and spent over a year in Europe. Returning to Saint John in 1880 he took an active part in its philanthropic institutions, as well as its political affairs, and was a member of the management of a large reformatory of Trinity church (Anglican) holding that position several years. He also was secretary of the Protestant Orphanage for a long period.

IN PUBLIC LIFE. Mr. Sears entered the Common Council as alderman for Queens Ward in 1884 and served for two years. Retiring he spent a considerable portion of his time in traveling in the United States. After two unsuccessful attempts in Mayoralty elections he at last succeeded in being placed in that office in 1898, and again was returned in 1899, was defeated in 1900 and in 1902.

ACTIVE IN COUNCIL. As a member of the County Council Mayor Sears was an active and aggressive representative. He was chairman of the Industrial Home for Boys, member of the Horticultural Society board of directors, an old member of the Royal Kennebec Yacht Club and belonged to numerous other public bodies.

ALWAYS A LIBERAL. In politics Mr. Sears was ever a faithful supporter of the Liberal party and a born free trader. His heart was bound up in his native city and he omitted nothing when opportunity offered that might advance its interests and secure to it the advantages he felt it required. He was full of sympathy, beloved by the working man whose interest he was always anxious to advance, a friend of the young people. The late Mr. Sears encouraged manly sport and exercises in every possible way.

MUNICIPAL RIGHTS. Deceased was a firm believer in municipal rights and in the protection and conservation of municipal franchises and privileges. At one time he was chosen president of the Union of New Brunswick Municipalities and first vice-president for New Brunswick of the Union of Canadian Municipalities. As a colloquial writer he yielded a ready pen and made the subject he

JUDGE BEN LINDSAY DEFENDS MOVIES

Says They Make Far More Children Good Than Bad

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—Far more children have been made good by movies than bad, today declared Ben B. Lindsay, Judge of the Juvenile and Family Court of Denver. Here to attend a conference called by the Federal Motion Picture Council, he asserted that censorship "is far more dangerous than any evils it can prevent."

APPRECIATED BY PEOPLE. The removal of Mr. Sears from the numerous circles in which he radiated a friendly personality during the past few years seemed not to have dulled public appreciation of his amiable traits. It was not a case of "out of sight out of mind." Some will recall his enthusiastic abandonment during the stirring war times—leading parades of children in recruiting campaigns, mixtures with the soldier boys, being hail-fellow and good-fellow with everybody, although never lowering the dignity of the office to which the people so often elected him.

WHAT CAUSES THE SKIN TO CHAP? Chapping of the skin on the hands and face in the winter time is due to evaporation of the natural moisture, caused by artificial dry heat indoors and high winds out-of-doors. Campagna's Italian Balm restores the natural moisture of the skin and prevents evaporation. All druggists and department stores sell it. A special sample bottle mailed on receipt of 5c.

Industries Fair Is Opened In London

The annual British Industries Fair with exhibits covering practically every product of British manufacturers opened today in London and in Birmingham.

More than double the number of manufacturers applied for space this year than in 1924 and those in charge claim the twin exhibition to be the largest annual industrial fair in the world.

A banquet for visiting buyers with the Prince of Wales presiding to celebrate the sixth anniversary of the inauguration of the exposition is a feature of this year's fair.

MAKE JUBILEE IN HOME CHURCHES

Bishop LeBlanc, in Pastoral, Sets Out Holy Year Regulations

Speaks of Some Conditions in Life of Day and Makes Exhortation to People

Setting forth the regulations under which Catholics may make the Holy Year at home, a pastoral letter by His Lordship Bishop E. H. LeBlanc was read in the churches of the Diocese of Saint John on Sunday. He said the strength of the church and the unity and universality had been strikingly manifested during 1925.

THROUGHOUT WORLD. His Holiness Pope Pius XI had extended the jubilee to the whole world, with the privilege of gaining the great indulgence at any time from Jan. 1, Dec. 31, 1925. We now promulgate this Apostolic Constitution and declare that the jubilee is now open for the Diocese of Saint John.

The jubilee indulgence could be gained twice, even by those who gained it last year, and it may be applied, first time, to one's self or to the souls of the departed, the second time to the souls in purgatory only.

THE INSTRUCTIONS. The pastoral gave the following instructions: In the City of Saint John, the faithful shall visit the Cathedral church, Saint John the Baptist church, Holy Trinity church, and Saint Peter's church.

FOR TRAVELERS. Catholics who travel most of their time, either on land or sea, might gain the indulgence once by making five visits on one day to the principal church of any country or by Holy Communion and confession, and by complying with the conditions of Confession and Communion and the Assumption of the Holy Father's intentions.

WORLD CONDITIONS. "The age in which we live," says His Lordship, "is one in which multitudes are adopting the standards of non-paganism, a paganism more refined, but in substance identical with that which enthralled the nations at the time of our Saviour's birth.

DRUGS EXCITE THE KIDNEYS, DRINK WATER. TAKE SALTS AT FIRST SIGN OF BLADDER IRRITATION OR BACKACHE.

THE American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble because we often eat too much rich food. Our blood is filled with acids which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15—Edgar B. Hamm, St. George, S. I., was brought back from New Orleans and locked up in Police Headquarters charged with having stolen $25,000 from the John G. Paton Company, a wholesale drug firm of 217 Broadway, where he was cashier.

N. S. RESULTS SATURDAY. KENTVILLE, N. S.—Kentville won Valley Hockey League championship Saturday night by defeating Canning, 6-1.

OXFORD, N. S.—Oxford defeated Sunnybrae hockey team of Moncton three to one in former's first game in Central section of M. A. H. A. Saturday night.

Tia Juana Closed To Women Entertainers

Canadian Press. TIA JUANA, Mexico, Feb. 15.—Governor Rodriguez, of Lower California yesterday ordered all women entertainers and suspicious characters, deported from Tia Juana. All saloons of Tia Juana will be placed under cash bonds of ten thousand dollars each, it was announced, to insure adherence to regulations. It also was made known that a number of suspicious characters may be banished to the Tres Marias island in the Gulf of California.

CALLS ARE MADE BY 3 CHURCHES

Vacancies in Saint John Pulpits are Being Filled. Anglican Lenten Regulations—Gifts to Pastor and Wife—Exmouth St. Anniversary.

Rev. W. E. Fuller, curate of St. Luke's church, had been chosen curate of Trinity church, succeeding Rev. C. J. Markham, appointed curate of St. Stanley, the new curate will take up all responsibilities of God, the Creator and Supreme Law-Giver. The atmosphere of the times is impregnated with the spirit of worldliness and paganism.

At Trinity church the special prayers on the Sundays of Lent will be as follows: Rev. Dr. W. R. Hibbard, Rev. A. L. Fleming, Rev. W. E. Fuller, His Lordship, Bishop Richardson, Rev. Canon M. C. Shewan, Rev. A. Stanley Walker, professor of King's College, Halifax. Every Saturday afternoon during Lent, Ven. Archdeacon A. H. Crowfoot will give the address at the 8 o'clock service in Trinity.

Various clergymen will deliver 10-minute addresses at 6 o'clock on the other week days. Each clergyman will speak at the afternoon services during one week. Rev. F. J. LeRoy will give the 10-minute address on the three days of this week. Next week the speaker will be Canon R. P. McKim. Other clergymen will be the week's speakers as follows: Rev. J. Y. LeRoy, Rev. H. A. Cady, Rev. A. L. Fleming and Rev. H. A. Holmes.

PRESSMEN SPEND HAPPY EVENING

Sleigh Drive to R. J. Finley's Home, Where Re-union is Enjoyed.

The Printing Pressmen and Assistants Union, No. 86, had a very enjoyable sleigh party on Saturday night. The drive took the men to R. J. Finley's home on the Loch Lomond Road, where a sumptuous repast was served. Cards, music and song passed a very pleasant evening.

PROGRAM ENJOYED. During the evening auto-harp selections by P. C. Johnson were greatly appreciated. Songs were heard from Messrs. Maxwell, Green and Ward. P. W. Stanton was accompanist. Near the close of the evening the men presented their hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Finley, with gifts.

EXMOUTH STREET. Rev. Dr. Clarence McKinnon, of Halifax, president of the Maritime conference of the United Church of Canada, was the preacher at the closing observance of the 69th anniversary of Exmouth street United church yesterday. In his morning sermon Dr. McKinnon spoke of Methodism's contribution to church union and called on the congregation to carry forward the union of the faith which had been so strong in the cause of Methodism.

POWER BOAT CLUB. The first annual winter church service of the Saint John Power Boat Club was held last night in St. Luke's church and was most impressive. Rev. A. J. Patstone, of Westfield, chaplain of the club, was the preacher and conducted the service. Rev. Canon McKim, rector of the church, assisted.

Members of the Power Boat Club, accompanied by a large representation of the members of the power Kennebecasis Yacht Club, assembled in the schoolroom of the church and entered the church in a body. The full choir of the church led in the music and the hearty singing of the club members was a specially pleasing feature.

Mr. Patstone took for the text of his eloquent sermon Psalm, 46:4: "There is a river the streams whereof make glad the city of God." The first anniversary service of the club was held under most auspicious conditions and the members are great-

DEATHS

Elise Rose Lewell. Miss Elise Rose Lewell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Lewell, 42 Celebration street, passed away Saturday evening at 10:30 after a lingering and trying illness. Miss Lewell was 19 years of age. She was a member of the graduating class of the Saint John High School in 1925, always a diligent and conscientious student and was also an active member of St. Mary's church. Up to the time of her illness she was a teacher in the Young People's Society. Never a Sunday school and a member of the Lord's Supper at the various celebrations.

Dr. F. X. Morris. Dr. Francis X. Morris died at his residence, 88 Church Avenue, Fairville, on Saturday, after a lingering illness. He was born in Fairville and had lived there all his life. He was a son of the late Hugh and Margaret Morris and in his early days was a teacher in the Young People's Society. He had many friends and among the medical fraternity and among those of the poor to whom he was very kind. His many charitable acts won him a very warm regard from those in distress. He is survived by his wife, two brothers, Hugh, of Chicago, who is in forming life." In the evening his topic was "God's Call to Higher Life." He said that Christianity meant a life that was absolutely surrendered to the will of God. He said that God could not use a life whose channels were clogged with worldliness. Four persons responded to a special appeal at the closing service.

George Sylvester Dodge died suddenly at his home, 63 Pitt street, on Saturday afternoon and the word of his death was a great shock to his many friends. He was one of the oldest telegraphers in the city and had high standing in the Masonic fraternity. He was held in very high regard by all who knew him. He was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Allan Dodge, of Upland, Kings county, and is survived by one brother, Alfred, and two sisters, the Misses Elizabeth and Charlotte Dodge, of this city.

Mrs. Sarah Smith. Mrs. Sarah Smith, who for more than 40 years was one of the greatly beloved teachers of the city schools, died on Sunday at the residence of her niece, Mrs. C. J. Callaghan, 55 Paddock street, after a few days' illness of pneumonia. There will be very many of her former pupils and a wide circle of friends who will greatly mourn her loss. For more than 20 years she was a member of the staff of St. Peter's school and afterwards for about 25 years she taught in St. Patrick's school in West Saint John. She retired on superannuation, in 1923. A brother, Bernard, was for a time a member of the city teaching staff and later was on the local customs staff. He died a short while ago and Miss Smith was the last surviving member of her immediate family. She leaves niece and nephew residing in Saint John. During the last few years she had made her home with her niece, Mrs. Callaghan. The funeral will take place Tuesday morning.

A Man Does Wisely to Marry the Woman Who Appeals Most Strongly to Him Rather Than the Sensible Wife—A Woman, However, Should Pick Out the Husband Who Satisfies Her Judgment Rather Than He Who Stirs Her Rulses.

IT is one of the ironies of life that the thing which comes up to our ideal so seldom fires our fancy. We crave lobster and champagne for supper when we know we ought to be eating bread and milk. We long for chiffons and lace when we are conscious that we should spend our money for serviceable homewares. We enjoy novels when our sober judgment tells us that we should be improving our minds by studying history and philosophy. We would be willing to do without the necessities of life if only we might have the luxuries.

This vagary of the human mind extends to people, and generally speaking, no company is so attractive to us as that which is had for our manners and our morals.

The most important phase of this subject is reached, however, when a man or woman is called upon to decide whether or not she will marry the one who sets his or her pulses throbbing, or the one who realizes every specification of what a good wife or a good husband should be.

UNFORTUNATELY, those who are most filled with inward graces are so often lacking in outward attractions. The girl who is industrious and domestic and economical and pious and possessed of all the virtues that fit a woman to make her a real helpmate to a man generally possesses a knobby forehead, skimpy hair, no figure and a taste in dress that sets your teeth on edge.

On the other hand, the flirty and frivolous maiden, who hasn't a single qualification to recommend her for the job of wife, is a perfect compendium of charms that make her every man's heart's desire, even though he knows that he will regret it if he gets her.

IN the same way, the earnest young man, who neither drinks, nor smokes, nor plays the races, but who leads the Epworth League and is getting on in business, and bears the visible stamp of being O. K. in his noble brow, and to marry whom would be like putting your money in the savings bank, ninety-nine times out of a hundred wears his hair too long and his trousers too short, and snuffles when he talks, and steps on your toes every time he comes within twenty feet of you.

Whereas the man who is a hopeless delinquent, and whom it would be suicide to marry, is good to look upon, good to talk to, even fun to go out with, and knows every short cut and bypath to a woman's affections.

It is nature's great law of compensation that parcels out the charms and virtues instead of bestowing them all upon some one individual, but it is pretty hard on the one who must choose between them.

MANY a man has sighed as he asked himself why the homely rich girl that it would be so advantageous for him to marry, had not the ingling eyes and winning ways of the poor girl who had snared his fancy. Many a girl has wept as she thought of the rich widow who was courting her, and who she could be young and slim and dance the Charleston as does some poor clerk that it would be a two-by-four fat fate to marry.

But, considering that one must generally choose between the ornamental and the useful, which should one take in a life partner? I should say that a man should always choose his heart's fancy, and a woman her mind's ideal.

A MAN starts into matrimony with a certain capital of love that is more apt to diminish than to increase. If a woman hasn't fired his imagination before the wedding day, nothing short of a miracle will enable her to do so in the days that follow. If, in the days of courtship she has raised her pulse beat one throb quicker, she will never make his pulse beat one throb slower. Daily observation shows that down into mighty matters of fact, unromantic, unromantic, inattentive husbands as soon as the ceremony was over.

Therefore a man does wisely to choose the woman who appeals most strongly to his taste and raises the most commotion in his breast, no matter what drawbacks she has. Women reverse this attitude toward matrimony, and a woman should pick out the man who satisfies her judgment rather than her heart, if she cannot find one who does both.

This is because women's affections are as adhesive as a barnacle, and will stick to themselves to anything in their immediate vicinity. Even if a woman marries without being much in love, she will nearly always grow to love her husband if he is good to her.

BESIDES, other things than love enter into a woman's life. A good home, a comfortable income, a settled position in society are not to be despised, and more than these are the freedom from anxiety. The woman up in the night to open the door for a drunken husband, is happily married, no matter whether she's got any romantic illusions about her husband or not.

Then there is also to be considered—that our fancies are exceedingly fragile things and last a very short time at best. Close acquaintance with a charming scapegrace sheers off the romance and leaves only the scrape into which a woman has got by marrying him. If you will look about you carefully, you will see that the women who are trying to reform husbands are not doing much palpating over it. They are doing it in tears and disgust.

BUT the good man grows in grace as the years go by, and hence the woman who marries the man of whom her sound common sense approves never regrets it. DOROTHY DIX.

News Notes From Movie Land

BY JACK JUNGMEYER
WHEN "Mona of the South Seas" comes to your town, put aside all other engagements and see it. See and treasure in memory the morning glow of the simple, poetic love and family relations of Mona, the Polynesian heroine.

Girl of the South Sea Islands.

In recording "Mona," Robert J. and Frances Flaherty lived for two years on Savaili Island in British Samoa. The spirit and nobility of the old Polynesians has been captured with idyllic beauty, dignity and simple drama; with photography that sparkles, and with a happy co-operation of natives expressing full confidence and delight in the portrayal of their intimate lives. And handsomer people have never graced the screen than these Savaili and their folk.

This is a picture for those who can appreciate sheer beauty, without contrived thrills or cheap excitements. A picture which would cast pearls before swine to a beholder who might smile or frown at the regal nudity of these splendid South Sea figures portraying their lives in their native clothes are not the source of morality.

FLAPPER FANNY

Everything comes to him who waits—even the dirty dishes. Barber Shops. Then and Now. (Chicago News.)

THIRN
A red and white striped pole. Jars of leeches for unweakened shiners, a table covered with racing forms and non-to-recent magazines. Whiskered, long-haired customers waiting their turn. Tobacco smoke, cuspidors. "Billiard Ball" hair tonic, razors, combs, shears, piles of towels and odoriferous hair pomades. A white-coated, bald-headed, talkative old barber, clipping, massaging, shaving, gassing, trimming, cutting and arguing. A slow-footed Ethiopian shining shoes. An air of content consideration, smoke, argument and a floor of masculine hair, whiskers, far-blown tobacco juice and cigar butts.

Dainty white hangings, brilliantly polished chairs, hair dryers, curlers, permanent-wave contraptions and mirrors everywhere. Fashion magazines, movie weeklies and women's pages clutter up the shop. Extra polite barbers yessing and complimenting, manly while giving provocative ankles, knees and almost losing their business sense. Feminine curls on the floor, feminine voices unsatisfied with their bob, barbers suave and condescending. One man in the waiting crowd, disgruntled, discouraged and ready to bite the barber.

"Lady, will you please step up—you are next."

It is estimated that the world's production of flaxseed this year will be 75,000,000 bushels, or 67 per cent. higher than last year.

ADVENTURES of the TWINS

THE BIG UMBRELLA.
"Where are your pennies?" roared Mister Snoopy in thundering tones that shook the house. Everybody wondered where all the voice came from, for Mister Snoopy was only a shadow. But anyway, he had the voice tucked away somewhere, for he kept on roaring until the very lights rattled on the wall.

"Where are all your pennies, Mister Havaloak? You've saved all the pennies that rolled down the cracks to Hidy Go Land and I want them! At once!" he roared.

"Well," sighed Mister Havaloak, who seemed suddenly to have lost all his spunk. "I was saving them to build a new laundry so I could have my washing done right. My old one is about worn out, and every time I send my clothes to a public laundry they get lost."

"It's a fine ambition," said Mister Snoopy, "but mine is still finer. I want those pennies to buy me a body. I'm tired of being just a shadow and I saw a fine body in a window with a smart suit and hat and overcoat on it marked, 'All for $25.00.' That's 5,000 pennies. Move quickly, sir, before I lose my temper."

Mister Havaloak went to the wall and pressed another button. This wall did exactly as the first wall had done—folded itself up like a jack-knife.

And there, what should they all behold but barrels and barrels of pennies. Mister Snoopy jumped in and bent over one barrel after the other.

"Aha!" he said. "Aha! I shall have not one body, but six, and I shall be called Mister Snoopy, and I can eat six dinners at once and visit six countries all at once. Hurrah!"

"I think it would be a good thing to let the revolution start, don't you?" whispered the Tin Soldier to Mister Havaloak.

"Yes, yes! I do!" said that gentleman.

"So do I," said Nick. "He has no right to your money, sir!"

"I have my gun," said the Tin Soldier bravely.

"And I have my drumstick backbone! If I ever can get it unrolled," said Limber Long Legs. "It would make a fine whip."

"What's that?" said Mister Snoopy suspiciously.

"That's about guns and backbones? And did I hear the word 'revolution'?"

So saying he gave one leap into the chest where the lost umbrellas were kept and came out with a perfectly enormous black cotton umbrella that must have belonged to Horace Greeley or Robinson Crusoe or Mister Sparks, the lawyer.

And before anyone had time to so much as faint or shriek or wink even, he scooped up everyone of the dolls into the umbrella and closed it again with a bang.

Then he took a piece of stout string and tied the top shut.

All but Mister Havaloak. He had not scooped him. But he had thrown the Twins into the tip umbrella along with the others.

Then Mister Snoopy rushed out of the house with the umbrella. He whirled it six times around his head like a baseball pitcher whirling a ball before he throws it. "May you land on a corner of the new moon and hang there forever!" he cried, as he gave it a fling high up into the air.

"It's better than climbing stairs," said Nick. "Hidy Go Land is five miles down, you know."

"That's a comfort," said Limber Long Legs.

Nightgowns are quite as smart in their own way as the frocks of the season. The peach colored crepe gown above follows the lead of the new frocks in its use of the cape and in its neat finishes.

The cape and the pleated insets at the bottom are both of georgette in a peach shade to match. The neck and armholes are finely bound in the georgette.

TODAY'S RECIPES

Buy two pounds of very lean beef of the cheapest cut and one pound of beef bones. Ask the butcher to chop the bones a pound each of which serve as a kettle with a close fitting cover, pour in four quarts of water and salt to taste and then add the meat and bones, being careful that they are entirely covered with the liquid. Raise the temperature very slowly and remove the scum that rises to the surface if you wish your soup to be clear.

When the kettle's contents come to a boil, add a pound each of well-washed carrots, turnips, leeks and a little garlic. Season with black pepper, a bay leaf and a pinch of thyme, put on the lid and let simmer for four hours.

When ready to serve take out the meat and vegetables, drain carefully and arrange them on a platter, putting them where they will keep warm. The soup should be strained carefully to remove all morsels of bone. In each plate put a small sample of each of the vegetables and a slice of stale bread and over all pour the soup. Crisp French bread should be served with it.

Bring in the meat and vegetable platter, making sure it has been well drained. With the beef and vegetables should be served a saucer of rock salt that has been beaten with a rolling pin until it is the size of coarsely ground coffee. This salt gives the meat an entirely different flavor than that derived from ordinary table salt.

Any green will do for the salad—lettuce, dandelion, romain or chervil. Pick it to pieces, wash well in running water and shake it as dry as you can in the colander. Then put it into a tea towel, gather the four corners together and whirl it at arm's length to get rid of all the water possible. Put in bowl with half a dozen sprigs of parsley and about an inch of young onion, the two chopped fine—almost to a paste. Add to bowl, put in a generous pinch of salt, a dust of pepper and vinegar together with a fork. Sprinkle on salad and fill the spoon twice with olive oil. Mix with salad until every leaf is covered with the dressing. Serve with more French bread.

These is the next course. Neuf-châtel or Dutch cheese may be served with brown bread and jam. Some

Fresh Selling at Opening is Cause of General Recession

Selling Pressure Affects Many Recognized Leaders—Recessions in Montreal

Canadian Press
NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Fresh selling broke out on the stock market with the resumption of trading today, causing a general recession of prices. Unrest over the government's suit against the National Food Products Corporation caused a three point break in National Dairy Products, one of the participating companies. Many of the recognized leaders also yielded to selling pressure, with clear losses of 1 to 3 1/2 points registered by United States Steel, General Electric, American Can, Mack Trucks, American Smelting and Southern Railway.

MONTREAL MARKET
MONTREAL, Feb. 15.—Profit taking on a fairly large scale tended to create an easier feeling on the Montreal Stock Exchange during the first half hour of trading this morning. Losses were general throughout a broad range with several of last week's leaders suffering large recessions.

Brazilian Traction came out with a week-end loss of 1/2 at 92 1/2. Consolidated Smelters was off 2 1/2 at 222 1/2. National Breweries eased 1/2 at 64 1/2. Montreal Power dropped a point at 221 and Lyall Construction was off 1/2 at 95 1/2. The papers were irregular. Brompton firmed 1/2 at 94 1/2. Abitibi was off 1/2 at 88 and Spanish River Pfd. was steady at 117 1/2.

The Kingdom of Italy has a population of approximately 40,000,000, with eighteen cities of more than 100,000 inhabitants, the largest of which are Milan, Naples, Rome, Turin, Florence and Venice.
Italy is a very important agricultural country with a great diversity of products. Under the forceful leadership of M. Mussolini, the country has made remarkable progress in general reconstruction work. The Government deficit has been reduced and the budget balanced. There is a steady industrial expansion.
The debt funding agreements recently concluded by Italy with Great Britain and the United States have created a very favourable impression throughout the world, and may be construed as being indicative of the willingness and determination of the Italian Government to meet its obligations. Italy is today properly and efficiently exploiting, as never before, her greatest asset — man power.

LAMB STARRED
The Montreal Gazette, referring to the game won by Banque Canadienne from Royal Bank, Friday last, refers to Joe Lamb, former Sussex box, as follows:
"With the count standing at two all in the third period, Montreal took up the attack and led by Slater and Savard gave Gros plan to worry about. Only to let the puck drive a foot wide. With less than two minutes of play remaining, Lamb, who had started for Royals throughout, went up and during a scramble, pushed the puck past Rowen to give his team a 3 to 2 lead. Montreal was still in the light, however, and in forty seconds had knotted the score for the third time during the contest, Devenny scoring on a pass from behind."

Dominion Battleship Linoleum Floors are Permanent, Sanitary, Quick to Lay
Public floors are easily chosen in Canada. Dominion Battleship Linoleum, made in Canada to suit Canadian climatic conditions, is available for every type of interior and the fact that it is installed and is giving satisfaction in leading banks, office buildings, departmental stores, schools, hospitals and public institutions in every Province, is ample proof of its popularity.
Dominion Battleship Linoleum is permanent. Its tough, resilient surface is impervious to the daily grind of heavy traffic. Its springiness takes all the jar and noise out of walking. It is smooth, non-slippery, non-absorbent, sanitary, easy to clean.
Properly laid, Dominion Battleship Linoleum becomes part of the building itself. You cannot wear it out. With it, the first cost is practically the last; an occasional waxing is all the upkeep needed.
Dominion Battleship Linoleum, AAA quality, is made in eight standard shades — brown, green, terra cotta, grey, buff, blue, black and white (used extensively for tiled floors). AA and A qualities are made in four standard shades only. Special colors for large contracts.

FIREMAN LOSES LIFE, 1 HURT, IN HALIFAX FIRE

$150,000 Damage Caused by Blaze in Ben's Bakery, Shirley Street

VICTIM IS OVERCOME FATALLY BY FUMES

Brigade Captain Injured in Attempting to Rescue Comrade.

HALIFAX, N. S., Feb. 14.—One fireman died from suffocation, another was severely injured and damage estimated at about $150,000 was caused when a spectacular fire this morning completely destroyed Ben's Bakery on Shirley street. The badly injured man was Fire Captain Harber, who received serious injuries while attempting to rescue Gorman. Tonight his condition was reported as grave. The dead fireman was William Gorman. He was a war veteran who had enlisted at the beginning of the war in 1914. Fellow fire fighters dragged him from the smoke-enveloped premises.

OVERCOME BY SMOKE
Gorman was overcome by dense smoke while ascending the stairs to the second floor with a hose. Immediately behind were Captain Harber and another fireman. Realizing progress through the suffocating clouds of smoke was impossible, the two latter made their way from the building, believing that Gorman was following them. When it was discovered he had remained inside, several of his comrades re-entered the blazing structure and carried him out. He died a few hours later in the Victoria General Hospital. Ben's Bakery was one of the most prominent in this district and supplied bread to Newfoundland and the West Indies, in addition to many parts of the Maritime Provinces. It employed approximately 100 men. Tonight it was stated by an official of the bakery that the business would be re-established immediately and that tomorrow's delivery, thanks to the co-operation of other local bakers, would be made as usual.

DALLAS, Tex., Feb. 15.—Dallas lawyers soon are to stage a speechless banquet. The procedure at the novel event will be to attend the banquet, enjoy the food and the conversation of "elbow" neighbors and then go home.

The speechless banquet resulted from failure to invoke the closure act on speakers at previous lawyers' affairs.

RISKS LIFE TO AID INJURED SEAMAN

Berlin's Doctor is Marooned on Freighter Hanover After Treating Patient

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—The storm that has been bringing out tragedy and bravery on the Atlantic marooned a surgeon from the German Lloyd liner Berlin on the freighter Hanover of the same line. The story was told when the Berlin docked in Hoboken.

When the storm was at its worst on Wednesday a seaman on the freighter suffered a fractured skull when he was struck on the head with a steel holstine block. The Hanover was without a doctor, so a call was sent to Captain Behm of the Berlin, which was on the horizon. Both ships were headed for New York. The Hanover slowed down to let the Berlin come alongside. The seaman's injury was so serious that Dr. Kruger, assistant surgeon, volunteered to go over the heavy combers to the man. Second Officer Dahne took command of a lifeboat crew and took Dr. Kruger to the Hanover. It was still going, with the wind high and laden with snow. When Dr. Kruger had attended to the seaman the seas had grown still rougher, and the trip back to the Berlin seemed too perilous, so Captain Behm sent word for the doctor and the lifeboat crew to remain aboard the Hanover until they could join their own vessel again in Hoboken.

California Plans New Rose Carnival

SAN JOSE, Cal., Feb. 15.—"La Fiesta de las Rosas" is the name officially selected for the festival this year which will set up Santa Clara county as a rival for Portland, Ore., and Pasadena in rose growing honors. Dates for the local event, which will be joined by other communities of the county, have been fixed as May 20, 21 and 22.

Canadian Bar Assn. To Meet Here In Fall

SAINT JOHN is to be favored this fall with the annual meeting of the Canadian Bar Association, following an invitation extended to it by the New Brunswick Bar Association at a recent meeting.

This cheering news was contained in a telegram received by The Times-Star from Hon. L. P. D. Tully, M. L. A., in Montreal, as follows:

The council of the Canadian Bar Association, at a meeting here Saturday, unanimously accepted the invitation of the New Brunswick Bar Association, with the Nova Scotia Bar Association as joint hosts, for the annual meeting of the Canadian Bar Association to be held in Saint John on Sept. 1, 2 and 3.

FORMER OFFICIAL OF I. C. R. PASSES

J. M. Lyons, Moncton, Served Road For Forty-four Years

MONCTON, N. B., Feb. 14.—John M. Lyons, general passenger agent of the old Intercolonial Railway, died in the hospital here Saturday evening. He was born in Halifax and was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Lyons of that city. He was born July 1, 1850. Mr. Lyons was ill for over three months and confined to the hospital here during the past three weeks.

John M. Lyons was probably one of the best known railway officials in eastern Canada and the United States, having been in the passenger department of the Intercolonial Railway for 44 years, and for 20 years general passenger agent. He entered the service at Halifax in 1869 and his first official appointment was as district passenger agent at Riviere du Loup. He retired from the service in June, 1913.

The funeral will be held Tuesday morning from the residence of his son, Dr. George Lyons, to St. Bernard's church. The body will be placed in the receiving vault in the Shediac Road cemetery, pending removal to the spring to Shediac, where interment will take place.

THIEF GETS $52
While Mrs. George B. Hegan, 81 Haen street, was attending church, last evening, a thief entered her residence and robbed her of $52. The robbery was not discovered until Mrs. Hegan and her daughters returned home and found a trail of burnt matches leading from the front door to Mrs. Hegan's bedroom. On examination it was learned that $52 had been taken from a drawer in the room. A few cases containing money and jewels had been disturbed but the contents were not taken.

"A Kiss For Cinderella"
ANOTHER stageland masterpiece has found its way to the screen. Another Barrie classic has been immortalized in celluloid. "A Kiss for Cinderella," one of the most charming stories ever penned by the world-famous J. M. Barrie. "A Kiss for Cinderella" is a delightful combination of delicate imaginativeness, which will hold the attention of all. Fantasy marches side by side with realism; sweet, wholesome humor vies with vivid, appealing pathos; drama and suspense mingled with comedy and thrills; and the picture as a whole is the last word in pictorial beauty and amazing photographic effects.

Has your wife learned a trade?
"Impertinent question!" you say. Well, perhaps. But it brings to mind the fact that unskilled female labor is very poorly paid indeed.
If your wife is ever likely to become a bread-winner, you should put her in training now. Then, should the necessity arise, she will be able to produce an income sufficient to support herself—and children, if any—in some degree of comfort.
There is only one other way to make sure that your wife and kiddies will not come to want after you're gone—that is, by means of adequate life assurance.
Before you forget, ask us to send you our booklet which tells all about this method of creating an estate. It's very interesting and it's free.
