CARS ARE DERAILED

Two Men are Killed in a Train Accident in Oklahoma.

(By Canadian Press.)

Long Beach, N. Y., Nov. 1.—

Three persons were killed and two others probably fatally injured early today when a Long Island railroad train struck an automobile at a crossing in Oceanside, near here.

After hurling the machine 80 feet, the train jumped the tracks and tore up 50 feet of third rail.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Schmandt and Robert Kline, all of Oceanside, were instantly killed. Mrs. Matilda Kline and Miss Helen Kingsley, the other occupants of the machine, also of Oceanside, both suffered skull fractures, and probable internal injuries, and were taken to Rockville Centre Sanitarium, where it is said their condition was serious.

The train had left Long Beach for Manhattan shortly after midnight.

Cars Are Derailed.

Stroud, Okla., Nov. 1.—Two men were killed and three passenger cars on the "Meteor," fast St. Louis-San Francisco passenger train en route from St. Louis to Oklahoma City, were derailed late yesterday, when the engine struck a ten-ton truck at a street crossing here.

None of the coaches overturned, and after a delay of an hour and a half the train proceeded.

N. S. Fatality.

Sydney, Nov. 1.—Joseph Fortune, colored, of Stirling, Glace Bay, aged about 88 years, is dead of a broken neck and Malcolm MacDonald, white, also of Glace Bay, was taken to the home suffering from shock and more or less severe injuries, as a result of an accident on the Grand Lake road about 10 o'clock last night, when their automobile struck a cow and turned over on its side.

New York, Nov. 1.—The matrimonial tangle involving Mrs. Beatrice Flagler, widow of John H. Flagler, professor Armand Sullivan, a teacher of physical culture, whose real name is Goldreich; Miss Ella Dumke, employed by Sullivan in his studio, and his wife, Mrs. Marie J. Goldreich of New Zittau, Germany, became complicated when Sullivan filed a suit for $250,000 damages in the Supreme Court against the trustees of the Madison avenue property, appointed under a deed of trust by Frederick Haberman, owner of the property.

Women and Younger Sons Met Disaster in British Election

MacDonald Does Not Envy Tories

Cardiff, Wales, Nov. 1.—Prime Minister MacDonald, stopping here on his way to London, declared in reply to calls for a speech, that defeat sometimes was the finest thing that could happen to any party. He asserted that with the present state of trade and general outlook, he did not envy the Conservatives their job.

"I am sorry," said Mr. MacDonald, "that you have lost your seat (Labor) in Cardiff and failed to win the other two, but when you look at the fact that throughout the country we polled 5,000,000 votes at the election on Wednesday, you will realize it was a most marvellous demonstration of the power of the Labor party."

Forty-One Women Were Candidates; Only Four Elected

Labor Suffered Worst, Getting Only One Out of Twenty-two.

Baldwin's Son Lost

MacDonald's Boy and Two of Arthur Henderson Also Rejected.

(United Press Special Cable.)

London, Nov. 1.—"This is a bad time for women and children," remarked an old man, who was watching the election returns in Trafalgar Square, Thursday afternoon.

A glance at the showing made in the election by woman candidates and by some of the famous men proves the truth of this facetious remark.

Although 41 women candidates stood for Parliament this year, only four were elected, compared with eight last year. They are Lady Astor, the Duchess of Athol, Mrs. Hilton Phillipson, all Conservatives, and Miss Ellen Wilkinson, Laborite.

All other women members of the last Parliament were decisively defeated.

MacDonald's boy and two of Arthur Henderson also were rejected.

Charles G. Davies, who has borne the brunt of the forensic battle for the Republican ticket will close his campaign tonight at South Bend, Ind.

CANDIDATES NEAR END OF CAMPAIGN

Interest in Race for U. S. President Waxes Warm in Last Hours.

New York, Nov. 1.—The great political classic of 1924 in the United States is approaching its day of decision in a shower of sharp words and a fog of rival predictions.

On Monday night the President will deliver a final election eve message to the people by radio, speaking after Mr. Davis likewise has addressed the great invisible jury of sovereign voters through a nation-wide system of broadcasting.

Thus for the first time will the nation listen to the two presidential candidates as if from one platform.

Charles G. Davies, who has borne the brunt of the forensic battle for the Republican ticket will close his campaign tonight at South Bend, Ind.

Senator Wheeler, the only nominee on any of the three tickets to carry his campaign all the way to the Pacific coast, will conclude in New York City.

From all three camps today there issued the usual pre-election expressions of absolute satisfaction and unbounded confidence.

The final figures on campaign contributions have not yet become a matter of record, but to date the Republican total stands far in the lead, approaching $4,000,000.

St. Bernard Monks To Operate Hotel

Geneva, Switzerland, Nov. 1.—The monks of the Grand St. Bernard tired of being exploited by tourists, especially motorists, who spend week-ends at the hospice, and leave without glancing at the alms-box, have now decided to break the centuries-old tradition of free hospitality by converting a portion of the hospice into a hotel.

They will appoint a civilian manager and charge the usual hotel prices. The hospice, which was once rich, receiving contributions from all parts of the world, has suffered heavy financial losses since the war and from the increase of non-paying visitors.

The monks, however, will continue to rescue and harbor gratuitously all persons lost in the snow on the pass, while the famous tunnel of dogs will be still maintained.

Tokyo, Nov. 1.—Mantchurian forces have completely occupied Shaanhaiwan on the Chihli-Mantchurian border, the port of Chingwangto, adjoining the Shaanhaiwan, and Peitsho, a seaside resort southwest of Chingwangto.

London, Nov. 1.—Edward Elliott, a cartman of Blyth, drove his cart under a wire and accidentally cut his throat. It was England's first radio fatality.

Bucharest, Roumania, Nov. 1.—The banking firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. has underwritten the Republican campaign fund, Frank P. Walsh, counsel for Senator La Follette before the Senate campaign fund investigating committee, charged today.

DeValera's candidates were beaten, in some instances the vote being 25 to 1 against the Republicans.

Says 30 Per Cent. of New York Fires Set

New York, Nov. 1.—Thirty per cent. of the fires in downtown Manhattan's wholesale district, are of incendiary origin, according to Assistant Fire Chief Thomas J. Hayes, in charge of the Fire Prevention Bureau, speaking before the inspectors of the New York Board of Fire Underwriters yesterday.

"Fires vary with the business seasons," he said. "When trade is brisk fires are few; but when unscrupulous, madly rushing after money, cannot sell their goods to the general public, they seek to sell them to the insurance companies, by arson."

HUNT IN VAIN FOR FATHER DELORME

Priest, Acquitted Yesterday by Jury, Sought by Newspaper-Men.

Montreal, Nov. 1.—The movements of Rev. Father Adelard Delorme, since he left the Court of King's Bench yesterday afternoon, after being acquitted of the murder of his half-brother Raoul, are shrouded in mystery.

Reporters attempted to interview him last night, but as far as can be ascertained none of them succeeded.

Vain attempts were made this morning to learn whether he paid a visit to the Archbishop's Palace, whether he was going almost immediately after the conclusion of the trial, according to an announcement by his counsel, Alban Gervais, K. C.

Newspapermen who visited the Delorme residence on St. Hubert street, after the trial, declared that they returned home with his sisters, who were in his company, and a moment later the car disappeared in the traffic. Where it went nobody knows.

The Delorme sisters deny knowledge of his whereabouts.

He got into a limousine awaiting him on St. James street with one of his counsels, and a moment later the car disappeared in the traffic. Where it went nobody knows.

NEW NEGOTIATIONS WITH SOVIET WILL LIKELY BE OPENED

Conservatives Now Working on List for New British Cabinet.

LABOR WILL RESIGN

Abandon Idea of Remaining in Office Until Parliament Opens.

BY LLOYD ALLEN (United Press Staff Corr.)

London, Nov. 1.—At his country home today, Stanley Baldwin worked on the cabinet list which he will submit to King George and to Parliament when he succeeds Prime Minister MacDonald next week.

The Conservatives will enter office with the prospects of a revival of trade, and three outstanding foreign difficulties—Mosul, which is in the hands of the League of Nations; Russia and Mexico.

MacDonald's Treaty with Russia will be repudiated, but it is planned to continue recognition of Russia and to begin new negotiations, probably in the middle of 1925.

Resignation Certain.

It is now practically certain that Labor's resignation will be submitted next Tuesday or Wednesday, after the cabinet hears its committee report on the matter of the Zinovieff letter.

Whom Baldwin will select for his ministers was a matter of much speculation today.

Mentioned For Cabinet.

Austin Chamberlain, it is thought, will have the foreign post instead of Marquis Curzon, who formerly held it. Curzon may be Lord President of the Council. Neville Chamberlain, Sir William Joynton-Rick, Sir Robert Horne, Sir Douglas Hogg, Sir Samuel Hoare, Viscount Peel and Lord Birkenhead will have places in Baldwin's government.

King Returns on Monday.

It was definitely announced today that King George would leave Sandringham Palace next Monday, which strengthens the general impression that resignation will come early next week.

The Labor chief, Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, summoned by King, will have to return to his previous occupations. J. H. Thomas, Colonial Secretary, for instance, will resume his post as political secretary of the Railways' Union.

The Labor party at first considered staying in office until the opening of Parliament, using the King's speech to present their programme of radical legislation, but they have now decided there is plenty of time available for the presentation of their platform as nobody predicts another election before 1925.

It is expected negotiations with Mexico will precede recognition. Well-informed observers do not expect recognition of Mexico until guarantees concerning the land laws and the Haerto bonds issued here are given.

The Zinovieff Letter.

There is the possibility of an interesting situation developing should the "Zinovieff letter" be proved a forgery. This would give the Conservatives the job of cleaning up the position assumed in the recent note to Russia.

Nobody thinks the Conservatives would apologize to Russia, but would instead probably admit the forgery, claiming the principle of the protest remains unaltered.

Salvation Army Leader Departs

New York, Nov. 1.—General Bramwell Booth, head of the Salvation Army, sailed on the Cunarder Aquitania on his return to England after attending the annual Army conferences in Toronto, Canada. Next year he expects to pay an official visit to the United States. His sister, Commander Evangeline Booth, head of the organization in the United States, went on the ship with other officials.

The Duke and Duchess of Alba and Berwick and Mrs. Louise Wise Lewis of St. Augustine, Fla., also sailed on the lines.

FOUR IN CITY LEAVE THE CIVIL SERVICE

John Kelly, Captain Burns, E. J. Neve and S. S. Thorne Retire.

Among several hundred members of the civil service retiring today there are several from this city, including John Kelly, superintendent of lights for the New Brunswick division in the Marine and Fisheries Department; Captain Arthur W. Burns, assistant ship's husband for the Marine and Fisheries Department; and Edward J. Neve, mechanic marine signals in the same department; also Stephen S. Thorne, customs excise examiner in the customs excise department. An Ottawa despatch says:

"The Calder Act is dead. The Cabinet Council officiated at the last rites and in its dying hours it enabled the retirement—with gratuity and annuity according to the years of office—of several hundred civil servants." The end was singularly peaceful for many years' retirement under the Calder Act, preferring to the new superannuation measure.

"The majority of retirements under the act were on account of old age and some amazing cases of longevity were discovered. One aged over 90 had been scrubbing Government floors since Confederation days. New Floors had been laid to replace those worn out, but still she had remained."

July 1, 1920, a total of 2,100 persons have been retired under its provisions. Up to the end of the year 1920 had been retired, and a large number of 800 going out this year have passed council in recent weeks."

MRS. ALEXANDER MACMURRAY DEAD

Many will learn with deep regret of the death of Mrs. H. Euphemia MacMurray, wife of the late Alexander MacMurray, which occurred this morning at her home, 7 Spruce street, after a short illness. She was a long and member of St. David's church and was beloved by a large circle of friends. Mrs. MacMurray is survived by two sons and six daughters. The sons are J. Alexander L. MacMurray of Kingston and James MacMurray of the Eastern Securities Co. Ltd., and the daughters are Mrs. M. B. Jones of Moncton; Mrs. S. F. Jamieson, Mrs. C. Leonard Hay, of St. John; Misses Hattie L., Sula and Helen MacMurray, at home. They will have the graveside at 10 o'clock on Monday afternoon from her late home.

FAREWELL THIS EVENING

The Governor Dingley arrived in this port this morning from Boston via Eastport and Lubec, with 45 passengers and 60 tons of general cargo. Tonight she will leave for Boston direct on her last trip of the season. It was estimated at noon today that she would take away approximately 150 passengers and a very large general cargo.

PROPERTY DESTROYED

An early report by the police last night was that serious fire in the way of property damage was heard in connection with the Halloween pranks, but it was learned this morning that all was not well in some sections from beyond the city lines. West End, came word of trees damaged and plants torn up and that one of the large light globes at the Church of the Assumption had been taken from its place and broken. While no one objects to innocent fun on such a night as Halloween, it is going too far when property is destroyed and there may be police action in this case.

BOYS THROWING STONES WARNED

Six juveniles were summoned to the police court this morning to answer a charge of throwing stones in Prince Edward street on last Sunday and breaking four windows. Magistrate Henderson remarked that innocent pranks on Halloween would be tolerated, but throwing stones in a public street on Sunday and damaging people's property was another matter. He warned the boys not to appear before him again and then allowed them to go on a condition that their parents make good the damage done.

WEDDINGS

A wedding of much interest to friends in this city, was solemnized at the Church of The Sacred Heart in Watertown, Mass., on Oct. 27, by Rev. Father Rogers, when Miss Catherine Hannah, daughter of Mrs. and the late Michael E. Lane of this city, was united in marriage to Allan J. Smith of Watertown, formerly of St. John. The bride looked charming in a blue tailored suit, with imported French hat and fox fur. She carried a bridal bouquet of sweetheart roses. Mrs. John Pring, sister of the groom, was matron of honor, while Wm. Goodie attended the groom. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mrs. Pring, after which Mr. and Mrs. Smith left for a trip to New York. On their return they will reside in Watertown, where the groom holds an important position with the Hood Rubber Co.

Many beautiful presents received testified to the popularity of bride and groom. Among them were a beautiful electric reading lamp from the Hood Rubber Co., and a chest of silver from the firm of Jordan & Marsh, where the bride was employed.

A LETTER FROM THE POWER COMPANY

To the Editor of The Times-Star: Sir,—We enclose copy of letter we have today addressed to the Power Commission of the City of St. John, and you may consider this of sufficient interest to publish the paper.

Yours very truly, NEW BRUNSWICK POWER CO. JOHN A. OLIVE, Secretary Treasurer.

The letter referred to follows here: Oct. 31, 1924 The Power Commission, City of St. John, Cantagbury St., City.

Gentlemen,—In your advertisement of October 30th you publish as the rates of 1921, figures which would make it appear that this company was charging a net rate of 15 cents. This is not correct as you are aware.

This company came under the control of the Federal Light and Traction Company of New York in April 1923, and the present Board of Directors were appointed in October 1923. It is possible for you to be fair with the public and your competitor, we would suggest that you publish the rates that were in effect by this company at the time Hydro came on the market, and also the rates put in effect by the Board of Directors shortly after their appointment and in addition thereto, if you state that this company is giving its patrons the lowest street rate in Canada, has voluntarily made reductions in its price of gas since the advent of Hydro, and that because of your commission continuing to sell Hydro at less than cost, this company has felt obliged to make a further reduction in its rates for electricity, you will be giving the public correct information.

Your quotation in the same advertisement from 'The Halifax Mail'—'Amazing results have been achieved by Hydro in St. John,' is literally correct. Each day adds to the number of our own people who are amazed at the results, and fearful of the future, are realizing the advantage of buying electricity from this company.

Twice we have been obliged to appeal to the courts for protection from your unfair methods. It may be hoped that we will not again be forced to take this unpleasant action.

AT THE IMPERIAL

Monday-Features. A Tuesday evening, November 4, Mrs. Mary E. Leith, matron of the Home will leave for Montreal where she will take the steamer for Scotland. She has been called home by the sickness of her father and expects to be gone two months. Mrs. Leith has succeeded in making her self very popular with all the children under her care and they will be glad to welcome her again on her return. Before her departure on Monday evening the Home will give an entertainment for all the children in the home. A Halloween entertainment last night was made possible by the kindness of W. B. Tennant and Mrs. Joseph McKee, good friends of the work of the Children's Aid Society.

It was given in the dining room. Halloween decorations had been used very successfully on the tables and walls and the appearance of the home was transformed and greatly beautified the season. Each little one received a generous treat of good things, apples, nuts, raisins, candy, etc., and all were delighted. After supper an enjoyable sing-song was held and all the boys and girls took their parts very creditably.

JOE IRVINE WAS REALLY VICTOR

St. John Man Should Have Been Given Decision Over Carbone.

Joe Irvine, local boxer, and his manager, Beth McLeod, have returned from Glouce Bay, where the former met Joe Carbone in a ten round bout last Monday evening. Manager McLeod said that for a second time his charge had suffered in the decision, and that he had bested Carbone on both occasions. In the last bout, he said, Irvine showed a marked superiority over Carbone, beating him to the punch, out-generated him and having the best of it from the tap of the gong until the end of the last round.

The following is an account of the bout as published in one of the Glouce Bay papers:—

"It was Irvine's nearly all the way and the St. John scrapper had an edge on Carbone for the greater part of the battle. Only the wonderful rally which Carbone showed in the ninth made it possible for Referee Casanova to give a verdict of a draw. Irvine's left jab to the face bothered Carbone a great deal, the latter finding it impossible to keep away from the St. John boy's stiff punches. Irvine, too, proved too fast for Carbone and the latter missed frequently. In fact at times Carbone looked very bad with his lungs at Irvine and the latter was never in very great trouble.

"Ringside observers gave Irvine an edge in six rounds, Carbone two and two even. Carbone's right eye was partially closed, so consistently did Irvine send in his left.

"In Irvine's corner was Beth McLeod, one time St. John boxer, who years ago met Mickey McIntyre here. That bout lasted but 11 rounds, McIntyre sending McLeod to the floor with a right to the jaw."

A Sydney sport writer said: "When Tommy Casey gave a draw as his decision in the bout between Joe Carbone and Joe Irvine he was at variance with the opinion of every trained newspaper writer who sat through the battle, all of whom said that the St. John man was entitled to the verdict." The writer advocated the appointment of a couple of judges to decide at future contests.

ST. JOHN, N. B., NOVEMBER 1, 1924

A GAIN FOR CANADA.

The expectation that the Ministry to be formed by Mr. Baldwin will re-introduce the McKenna preferences, and perhaps extend the list, though not to food, finds justification in the campaign speeches of the Conservative leader and several of his lieutenants.

Mr. Baldwin, however, is pledged to restore these duties and to proceed with other measures to stimulate Empire trade. The McKenna arrangement placed a duty of thirty-three per cent. on automobiles of foreign make, but gave Canada and the other Dominions a preference of one-third.

While Mr. Baldwin has abandoned real protection for the present at least, the very size of his majority will render his party more courageous in the matter of promoting trading within the Empire by practical measures, and he will probably be able to commit his following to breaking much new ground in the expectation of very greatly enlarging Britain's sales in the markets of the Overseas Dominions.

MAJORITIES.

In order to keep a right sense of proportion in looking at the British election results it is well to establish some comparisons. The New York Times said of the immense Conservative majority, before it was known to exceed even 180—

"It is not much less than the famous Coalition majority secured by Lloyd George in the Khaki election of 1918.

"It is not much less than the famous Coalition majority secured by Lloyd George in the Khaki election of 1918. Yet such are the anomalies of the electoral situation that this huge Conservative majority still stands for a minority of about a million votes in the nation. Fortune loaded its dice heavily in favor of Mr. Baldwin's followers. The popular vote at the moment of writing is made up of Conservatives 7,000,000, Labor 5,000,000 and Liberals 8,000,000. From this it follows that the Conservatives have won a seat for every 18,000 votes, Labor one for every 36,000 votes and the Liberals one for every 75,000 votes.

"This is a pertinent commentary on all predictions regarding the death of this or that party. It is a poor landslide that does not work, after a while, both ways. In 1906 the Liberals won 378 seats, against 180 Conservatives and 84 Laborites. This is very nearly the standing of the parties to-day, except that the names have to be changed about. Furthermore, in 1906 Labor was the close ally of Liberalism, and in the office there were 83 Irish Nationalists. Actually Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman had behind him more than 800 votes in a House of 670 members."

There is a food for thought in these comparisons; also in this cable summary regarding the total vote, from incomplete figures:—"In the 540 counties fully tabulated up to this evening, the total vote was 15,451,540 out of a possible electorate of 19,276,939. Of these, 7,172,168 voted for Conservative candidates, 5,138,450 for Labor, 2,819,692 voted for the Liberals, while more than 300,000 votes were scattered to candidates other than those of the three main parties. In the general election of 1923, the total number of votes polled was 14,457,486, of which the Conservatives polled 5,483,277, the Laborites 4,356,767, and the Liberals 4,299,121."

The Times comment on the outlook is pertinent and searching. It says:—"The new Government will have its tariff tendencies, and it will go in very earnestly for preferential favors to the Dominions. And it is bound by the heavy majorities which it has received in the industrial sections of England—even in Manchester, the old Liberal stronghold—to favor the British manufacturer in every possible way. The exchanges are up everywhere as the result of the election, proving that business interests are encouraged by it.

libly?" In Germany, still, it is not only libel but a sort of lese majeste to show disrespect for any German who has any sort of uniform, title, or official position. The war didn't cure Germany of that view because it left most of the population alive. Many Allied soldiers think that that was one of the war's greatest defects.

Of H. H. Kohlraat, the famous Chicago publisher, the intimate friend and confidant of many great figures in American public life, a Herald-Tribune correspondent writes: "The heart of a child; the vision of an honest, clear-thinking mind; the sympathy of a mother, and the courage of a warrior." Few deserve so fine a tribute; and not many could pay it in so few words.

In the Ontario plebiscite aftermath this one turns up—in the Montreal Gazette—"Alas that there should be no Macaulay to write a lay of ancient Hull extolling the deeds of our modern prototype of brave Horatius whose task it will be to keep the bridge against the hordes of thirsty Ottawans returning from the favored side of the river."

A Parable. (Chatham World.) "There came unto me a man, who said, I have forsaken all my Bad Habits.

And he told me of all his youthful gaities. And I perceived that he had more joy in telling about them than he had in forsaking them. And I said, How old art thou? And he said, I am fifty.

And I said, I have a good deal of respect for Youth. Most of the Youth of mine acquaintance are Pretty Decent Boys and Girls. They sit back in the Gallery of the Show and take a Superficial Pleasure in what Older Folks enjoy from the Bathed Road. And Youth is more or less Honest about it. It remains for Old Codgers like thee to create Virtues out of their Necessities, and get up in Prayer Meeting and Profess to have Forsaken the Sins that have Forsaken Them.

And I said, I admit nothing of all the foolish vain and idle things that I learn of the show from the Bill Boards, and know all that he needeth to know of evil without doing any of it. If I know something of the ways of the World, it is not by Business to inquire how I learned it. But this I know, that when a man thinketh he is safe from temptation, that is a good time for him to be on his guard.

Surprising Figures. Chicago—Large cities with their overcrowded tenements and insanitary slums are more healthful for young babies than small towns, according to Frank E. Hand, Supreme Vice Chief Ranger of the Independent Order of Foresters, in an address before a welfare conference here.

"Infant mortality figures just issued," said Mr. Hand, whose society maintains an orphanage at Oakville, Ont., "prove that a comparatively small number of infant deaths occur in the largest cities in the United States. A survey of 684 cities showed that in towns of from 10,000 to 25,000 population, the death rate of babies in their first year was 81.6 per thousand; in cities with over 250,000 people, the infant death rate was only 75.9 per thousand.

"Seventy-eight babies out of every 1,000 born last year in America died in their first year. The Pacific coast had the lowest infant mortality rate. Washington headed the list with 61 deaths per thousand; Oregon was second with 63 and California had an average of 66.

"The United States spends more money annually to protect cattle than it does to prevent infant mortality. Protection of childhood health is one of the features of the independent Order of Foresters' programme of philanthropy. Children in the Foresters' orphanage are built up physically, given the benefit of the open air, and developed in mind and body into fine types of men and women."

We Need More People. (Border City Star.) The latest figures from Ottawa show that the tide of Canadians, homeward bound after a sojourn in the United States, continues unabated. Since the first of the year 27,486 have come back to their own country. Of these, 23,141 were Canadian-born; 2,892 were British subjects who had acquired domicile in this Dominion and 1,718 naturalized Canadian citizens.

Whatever be the reason for this movement, it is cause for congratulation. It would seem that many Canadians, who have been looking for a pot of gold on the end of a rainbow have been disappointed. The most of them will probably be more content with their own country. They may realize now that the man who seeks diamonds all over the world is more likely to find them in his own back yard. Those who have faith in the future of this nation of ours know that the matter how many of our own people return home, it will not solve the question offered by empty acres, needing out the touch of the plough to bring them into fruitfulness, or of making the most of other natural riches. Canada needs more manpower than the comparatively small trade that is now reaching her shores. Nor can this nation go ahead as it should until immigration is resumed on a scale at least equal to the years before the war, and that calls for aggressive advertising and a strong, forceful immigration policy.

BALLADE FOR THE DAY AFTER ELECTION.

(P. B. M. in Ottawa Citizen.) The wines of France! The wines of France! That vivid Villon sipped and sung, That gave the lure to lady's glance And loosened royal lover's tongue! Eternal summer wadms then yet. Alas, for our thin sun is set.

The Burgundy and Bordeaux wine That made Molieres and Voltaires gay, Across our dry and rural line "They shall not pass!" reformers say. What wonder Pegasus is sick? The winged horse has lost his kick! The wines of France! The wines of France!

The wines of Marne, Moselle and Saine, The sacred catacombs of Rheims, The storied hillsides of Champagne! Lettice, Cote d'Or, Chateau, Queen... Torment me not with talk of them!

Fill high the bowl with coffee weak We must not think of themes like these! 'Twas wine gave Cyrano his beak... Wine gave Rabelais his ruffian wit; Here, waiter, a banana split!

A Doctor Dogmatizes on Golf and Meals. London, Oct. 31.—(Associated Press, by Mail)—The British public goes too much and eats too much, according to Dr. Leonard Williams, a Harley street specialist and a corresponding member of the American Climatological Society.

The way the English take their food is almost as disturbing to Dr. Williams as it is not realized by the public that it takes as much energy to digest an English meal as it does to take a five-mile walk. People eat far too much. The day is started with a heavy breakfast; a full meal lunch follows; then there is tea, accompanied by scones and cakes; and finally there is dinner, running to several courses. This is far more than can be properly digested.

"It would be sames and healthier to start with a Continental breakfast, and follow it with a light lunch. Tea should be a cup of tea and nothing more. Dinner then could remain what it is."

QUEBEC HOTEL MEN FORM ASSOCIATION

Montreal, Oct. 31.—The Province of Quebec Hotel Association came into being this week at a meeting held at the Windsor Hotel, when there were present forty representatives of the hotel and restaurant profession from various points of the province. The purpose of the new organization is to improve the standard of hotels generally, to maintain that standard, and to strive for the advancement of the principles of improvements in service. The meeting was presided over by Mr. John Davidson, of the Windsor, who outlined the project, and whose explanations were received most enthusiastically.

Mr. Davidson predicted the formation of associations in all the provinces of the Dominion and said that when that shall have been accomplished the next step will be the organization of a governing body for all of Canada.

The project was entirely satisfactory to all present, and, in addition, the chairman had a number of letters and messages from several gentlemen who were unable to attend and who expressed their complete approval of the proposal under way. One such letter came from Mr. C. E. Usher, general passenger traffic manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who would have attended had it not been for the fact that he had been compelled to leave for New York on a business mission. There was present at the meeting Mr. A. Allerton, manager in chief of the Grand Pacific Hotels. The project also received the approval of Canada National Railways' officials, and there were present at the gathering Mr. Walter Pratt, of the Hotels Department, and Mr. A. S. McLean, general superintendent of the Canadian National Hotels.

The plan receives the warm commendation of Mr. William C. Murray, Inspector of Hotels for the Province of Quebec, who said that the department would give every possible encouragement to further the aims of the association. Mr. Murray said that there was a considerable improvement in rural hotels and he considered that such an association, especially under such admirable auspices would do a great deal to advance the status of such establishments.

Officers were chosen as follows: President, Donat Raymond, Windsor Hotel; first vice-president, B. A. Neale, Chateau Frontenac, Quebec; second vice-president, Wm. Wright, the New Sherbrooke, Sherbrooke; honorary secretary, A. C. McNeill, the Auto Inn, St. Lambert; honorary treasurer, V. G. Cardy, the Mount Royal; executive committee, J. A. HORRORS OF DEVIL'S ISLAND ARE RECALLED BY ABANDONMENT

English Writer Tells of Dreyfus and Guerin—Not Fit Place for Worm to Live.

The announcement that the Devil's Island is at last to be abandoned as a penal settlement has been received with a thrill of delight throughout the civilized world.

Nearly twenty-five years have gone by since there was pointed out to me a slightly built dark-skinned man, with the words: "Yonder is the world's greatest martyr—five years on that hell on earth, Devil's Island, and as innocent of offence as a child unborn."

Later, I was introduced to Alfred Dreyfus, who was in the company of the novelist whose impassioned attack on the gang of intriguers who had brought about the Jew's downfall and degradation last year France into a parallel fury of rage and indignation.

Zola spoke only a few words; but Dreyfus talked with much openness. He was laboring under a sense of gross and unmerited wrong, and his protests poured from his fluent lips in a resistless torrent.

"I could never have believed that it could have been possible for a human being to be subjected to such foul treatment, Devil's Island—it is the place of the fends. There are pestilence and horror. Devil's Island is not fit for a dog to die in—yet men exist there, hundreds of them, herded like cattle, worked like slaves, broken and twisted on the wheel or a savage fate."

Ask them and they will tell you that death is preferable; only the guards see to it that you cannot die except lingeringly, inch by inch, in the blackness of a mighty despair."

Eddie Guerin's Escape. This is a rough translation of what the man, who had been falsely accused of treason and had to say of the Devil's Island, where he endured the agonies of solitary confinement in a lonely cell till his hair became white and his cheeks haggard and pale, and his eyes sank deep into their sockets.

I did not see Dreyfus or Zola again, but I heard that the Jew died prematurely through his terrible experiences while undergoing penal servitude and haunted by his consciousness of the wrongs of the man he had valiantly defended that he sought refuge from all life's trouble in self-inflicted death.

It was some years later when, happening to stroll into one of the law courts in the Strand, I noticed a man frail of figure, with a countenance like parchment, yellow and unhealthy, and watery, beseeching, sorrowful eyes.

English warders were sitting on either side of him, and close at hand were French goddamers ready to take him to France, whence he was to be deported to complete a life sentence on that notorious and infamous Devil's Island.

That man was Eddie Guerin. He had escaped from the penal settlement in the company of two others. They had paddled in a canoe over the waters of the sullen sea that beguiles the island. One man went mad, as the rays of a scorching sun beat down on his bald head.

He jumped overboard in his delirium, and a red trail, horrible in its suggestion, showed that some prowling shark had glutted itself on human prey. Guerin managed to win through to freedom, after adventures that thrilled the world.

ONE 50c BOX BROUGHT HEALTH

Years of Constipation Ended By "Fruit-a-lives" The Wonderful Fruit Medicine Anyone who suffers with miserable health; who is tortured with Headaches; and who is unable to get any real pleasure out of life, will be interested in this letter of Mrs. Martha de Wolfe of East Ship

Mrs. de Wolfe says, "For years I was a dreadful sufferer from Constipation and Headaches and I was miserable in every way. Nothing in the way of medicine seemed to help me. Then I tried 'Fruit-a-lives' and the effect was splendid, and after taking only one box, I was completely relieved and now feel like a new person."

never sent back to the "hell" he dreaded. Much later I came across Henri Dupres. He was an undersea, anemic, wizened, shrivelled-up fellow with a whinical expression. He was a "crook" and had served fifteen years on the island, and told me that this had "done" for him.

"It would not seem a mad dog to the island," he said, "the sun is as merciless as the guards. It beats down on your head till the brain is a fire. The mosquitoes worry you and bring the fever. The monotony is killing—and yet..." Dupres hesitated and then threw off his coat and shirt and showed me his naked back. It was criss-crossed with weals.

"It was flogged for insolence and for striking a guard. They gave me twenty-five, I think, but I fainted and lost count. That made a break for the others. Most of them enjoyed the spectacle. Devil's Island makes men into brutes."

It was through the kindness of the manager of a bank at Cayenne—the Count St. Croix de Runcieu—that I was able to learn more about the most infamous prison in the world. He introduced me to M. Thiville, a descendant of one of the chief members of the Committee of Public Safety at the time of the French Revolution. He held a post of considerable authority on the Ile Royal, the headquarters of the penal administrative department. Thiville was outspoken enough.

Outspoken Official. "But the Ile du Diable is not a nice place," he admitted. The officers do not like it. They say that the climate is not salubrious, and that none of the three islands which are comprised in the Ile du Diable is fit for human habitation. He shrugged his shoulders. "Perhaps that is right. Who can say? There have been many people who have died in the islands, and they left behind them shall we say influences—that will remain for ever."

Then it was as if that Thiville referred to. When I was making notes on the prison systems of the world I had occasion to inquire into the methods of the Ile du Diable. What a history! It represents what has once been described in graphic phrasing as the abominations of abominations.

Imagine what it was like in its early days, seventy years ago! There was the same sullen sea, with its monotonous stretch of glass, and there were sandy shores where ledges, sharp and unpleasant to the vision, struggled to stretch their heavy and unquiet arms, and there were a few trees which bore cocoanuts. That was all; some of the convicts mutinied, and there was a battle fought between them and the guards. The guards won. They were armed, and did not scruple to fire on the attacking mob.

Then it was deemed advisable to restrict the prisoners to African and Asiatic, and very soon yellow and black men were taken overseas to work on their sentences in the outermost of the group—the Ile du Diable. They were herded together like cattle; and they brought with them disease other than the malaria, which is spread by the retreating and all-conquering mosquito.

There were lepers amongst them. The disease increased so rapidly on Devil's Island, that it became looked upon as a leper colony. Convicts Sent Mad. Now the prison is the place of punishment of men of all nations. The convicts are a polyglot crowd, speaking so many languages that one recalls the Tower of Babel. Thiville says that every tongue in the world is heard there.

SHAW LEADS POLICE IN DANCE CONTEST

Author is Central Figure of Comedy in London Square. London, Nov. 1.—How Bernard Shaw led the police into a dancing contest in Fitzroy square is one of the amusing stories told by Lincoln Springfield in his book of reminiscences, entitled Some Piquant People.

The author relates that the dramatist, after seeing Vincenti in an Alhambra ballet one night, could not resist trying to go round the carriage way of the square just once after the manner of the dancer. "It proved frightfully difficult," says Mr. Springfield. "After his fourteenth fall he was picked up by a policeman, who, keeping fast hold of his man, asked, 'What are you doing? I bin watching you for the last five minutes.'"

Other Odd Incidents. Mr. Springfield tells how Charles Hands, the journalist, when writing of a tourist plague at Oxford, created a guide who, coming before Professor Jowett's study window, would say: "This, ladies and gentlemen, is Balliol College, one of the holdest in the University, and famous for the herudition of its scholars. The 'ead of Balliol College is called 'The Master,' and the present Master of Balliol is the celebrated Professor Benjamin Jowett, Regius Professor of Greek."

"Those are Professor Jowett's windows, and there—here the ruffian would stoop down, pick up a handful of gravel and throw it against the pane, bringing poor Jowett vivid with fury to the window—'And there is Professor Jowett himself!'" Another tit-bit concerns Mr. Clarkson, the perruquier, who, losing his way at a Windsor Castle command performance, got into the room which was the boudoir of one of the Princesses. "As he hurried from it," remarks Mr. Springfield, "whom should he encounter but Queen Victoria herself, who said, 'Why, Mr. Clarkson, whatever are you doing in my daughter's bedroom?' Thereupon Clarkson, as they used gleefully to relate the story, placed his hand upon his heart, made a courtly bow, and retorted, 'Your Majesty, honi soit qui mal y pense!'

A way back in 1897 Hyde was graduated from Yale with the A. B. degree.

ROAD PATROLS TO CONTINUE ON DUTY

Will Make Frequent Inspections During November This Year. Moncton, Nov. 1.—(Special)—Premier Veniot while in the city was warmly greeted by many friends who expressed their pleasure in finding him looking so well after his recent severe illness. He is feeling greatly improved in health. He returned to Bathurst yesterday and will proceed to Fredericton on Monday for a meeting of the cabinet the following day.

The Premier said that the road programme was practically completed the only part remaining unfinished was that under contract with private corporations. He said that the road patrol would be continued this year into November and would last until the frost had really entered the ground and there was no danger of the roads becoming rutted with the fall traffic. The patrol however will not be daily but only two or three times a week, the engineers of the Department of Public Works considering this often enough to keep the highways in fair shape for the opening in the spring.

FATHER SAVES HIS BABE FROM FIRE

Carries Blazing Carriage to Street; Little One Sleeps on. Montreal, Nov. 1.—G. Herscovitch saved his infant son from death when fire broke out in his home at 503 Colonial avenue. A quilt over the baby carriage in which the boy slept was ablaze when the father rushed into the room. He picked up the carriage and took it to the street from the second story dwelling. Here the flames were extinguished.

During the excitement the babe slumbered on peacefully. He awoke only after his father had extinguished the flames. Herscovitch afterwards told District Fire Chief Dagenais that, his wife being out, he was taking care of the baby. He smelled smoke and, rushing into the front room, where he had placed the baby carriage, he saw that the window curtains were blazing. Another glance showed him that the carriage was also on fire. He picked it up and removed it from the danger zone. The fire spread up the walls from the curtains, but was checked by the firemen before doing much damage.

CHILD KILLED IN MONCTON STREET Moncton, Oct. 31.—While masquerading in boys' attire in celebration of Halloween, little Gertrude Gaudet, age nine years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolphe Gaudet, was this evening struck by an automobile and fatally injured, the child dying on the way to the hospital.

The fatality occurred in front of the child's home at the corner of St. George and Lewis streets and it was about two hours before the parents became aware that the victim of the sad affair was their own child. The father had been told that it was a little boy that had been killed, and it was not until he went into the morgue near his home that he discovered that his own little girl was the victim. The car which struck the Gaudet child was driven by Weidon Palmer, and eye witnesses say the accident was entirely unavoidable. The little girl, playing with other children, emerged from behind a street bus directly in front of the Palmer auto. An inquest will be held.

STOPPED 157 YEARS, CLOCK RESTARTED

Maker is Rewarded With Large Gift From the British Crown. London, Nov. 1.—Lt-Commander Rupert T. Gould, of the Admiralty Hydrographic Department, has succeeded in starting an ancient marine chronometer, nearly 200 years old, which had not been working since 1767—157 years. This machine, massive and intricate, is now at the Admiralty, keeping almost perfect time. Its errors, which there are hopes of reducing, amount to only a few seconds a day. Commander Gould worked for a year, chiefly in the small hours of the morning, in cleaning and repairing the clock. It has more than 500 parts and weighs 103 lbs. The brass in the clock is of such fine quality that an ingot of it could be beaten out almost like gold leaf.

Its maker, John Harrison, began life as a carpenter in a Yorkshire village. The clock bears the inscription: "Jno. Harrison Peck. Made for his Majesty King George II. By order of a committee held the 30th of June, 1737." The committee was known as the Board of Longitude. Of four marine chronometers made by Harrison and still possessed by Greenwich Observatory this is the second. The maker was striving for the $100,000 which Parliament offered, following a petition of sea captains and merchants in 1714, for any method which would determine a ship's longitude within half a degree.

With his fourth chronometer Harrison won this reward, but he received his money only after a personal appeal to George III. The clock now at the Admiralty took two years to construct, and the Board of Longitude gave Harrison $1,250 towards the task. It is a clock within a clock. There is a little clock, which will go for 4 minutes only, and another clock which automatically rewinds the former every 32 1/2 minutes, and has to be wound itself once daily.

can't hurt a flea. I've smoked corn silk lots of times. "All right! Got any matches?" asked Scramble.

"Nope but I'll get some," said Billy. Billy ran into his house and got the matches and came back. He should have asked his mother, but he didn't, and that's where the trouble began.

But at supper time Mrs. Cracknuts began to snifle and snuffle like everything.

"Boys!" she said severely. "Yes, Granny," said Scramper and Scramble, knowing that something was coming.

"I smell smoke! Come here!" Both of them slid out of their chairs and marched right over.

First she smelled Scramper's hands, then Scramble's (they hadn't washed before supper, I'm ashamed to say) and then she smelled their breath.

"Smoking!" she almost shrieked. "But, Granny—" they began.

"But me no buts!" she cried. "I guess I've got a nose! Smoke is smoke and matches are matches. I smell both, and all the buts in the world cannot make me think any differently.

Cigarettes, I'll be bound—or a pipe! Really, I feel like fainting. To think that grandsons of mine would—"

And she went on and went on and then ordered them to bed.

They had no chance that day to tell her it was only pipe smoke.

But things were going to be even worse.

Letting Tommy Do It. Little Johnny—"I won't be kept in after school for whispering to Tommy Dood!" any more.

"Mother—" I am glad of that.

"You don't do it now, I hope!"

"No. I've got a seat behind Tommy, and now he'll have to turn his head."

PROVINCIAL CASE IN SUPREME COURT

E. Allison MacKay, and J. J. F. Winslow, K. C., left Thursday evening for Ottawa where they will represent the province in the case of the Provincial Secretary-Treasurer vs. the Royal Trust Co. Ltd., executors of the estate of the late Anna M. Ferguson of Chicago, before the Supreme Court of Canada, say the Frederickian Gleaner.

This is an action which was heard by the New Brunswick Appeal Court where it was decided that the province was entitled to succession duties on mortgages held by the estate on properties located within the province. The action was originally brought to force collection of some $8,000 under the Succession Duties Act. Payment was refused and the case taken into court where the province was awarded a verdict. The case was then appealed by Dr. F. R. Taylor, K. C., on behalf of the defendant company. The appeal was, however, dismissed with costs by the Appeal Court of New Brunswick recently.

The defendant company is pressing the appeal farther and it will probably come before the Supreme Court of Canada within a week. Dr. Taylor will represent the appellant company at Ottawa, it is understood.

Jane Addams Sees Rebirth Of Interest In Politics

JANE ADDAMS.

Chicago, Nov. 1.—We're shooting adrenalin into politics. That's the belief of Jane Addams, internationally known humanitarian and sociologist, frequently called the best known woman in the U. S. Peering into the future on one of those rare occasions when she talks for publication, Miss Addams predicted a re-alignment in the Republican and Democratic parties. Likewise she foresees a rebirth of interest in the affairs of state on the part of non-voters. All this, she says, will come as a result of the present three-cornered political race.

She sees Realignment of Existing Parties. "The country can be glad of the trend politics is taking," she says. "Live issues are being brought into the open. Folks are commencing to feel they really have something for which to vote. "That is a good sign. "The body politic was hearing sense. Its issues were neutral. They meant nothing. And the non-voter was the apathetic stowaway. "Now a metaphorical adrenalin is being administered. Politics is commencing to stand for something—mean something. "To get out the vote you have first to obtain the voter's interest. "Heretofore we have had just the cut and dried old parties. They were hard to distinguish. They had subsided into almost a neutrality. Such things are bad when the voter's vote is needed. "I believe that a re-alignment will take place before long. The Progressives, standpaters and Tories will group by themselves. "That will be a good thing. It will interest voters. And when you interest voters they go to the polls. "Thinks U. S. Should Enter League. "I am glad for the turn politics is taking. Beneficial results will follow that will affect everyone. "Miss Addams favors the League of Nations. "Peace is the greatest thing the world needs today," she says. "The League of Nations is a means to peace. It is a splendid, practical device. "The league stands for more than just ending of war. It means accomplishment. "This country would do well to enter the league. "Some day, I am sure, it will."

BOYS ENTERTAINED.

The Hustlers' Club of the First Presbyterian Church, West St. John, entertained the "Buck boys" of the church at a very successful Hallowe'en party last night, when 78 were present and games appropriate to the occasion were heartily entered into. The girls were all in masquerade costume, Candy fruit and nuts were "on taps" during the evening and delicious refreshments were served by a committee of grown-ups consisting of Mrs. William Bain, the leader of the club, Mrs. J. Tippetts, Mrs. James Williamson, Mrs. L. Trearant, Mrs. Murray Campbell and Miss Annie Daley. The minister, Rev. W. McN. Matthews, was present. The decorations in the church vestry added greatly to the success of the party and gave the proper Hallowe'en setting.

FAREWELL TO CHAPLAIN

Rev. W. J. Bevis, who is leaving Lorneville shortly, was given a farewell Thursday evening, after the regular meeting of the Coronation Lodge, No. 121, of which he has been chaplain to the public and was largely attended. Rev. Mr. Bevis will take up residence very soon in East St. John, as pastor of the United church. The reply of the United church, the Rev. George Stinson, J. Oliver Stinson and William Wilson. Rev. Mr. Bevis made a brief reply, expressing his regret at leaving his old friends. Songs were given by John Baird, William Ewart and George H. Galbraith. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Bertha Ferguson, Mrs. Galbraith, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. J. J. Galbraith, Frank Titus and Earl Galbraith.

A Smart Assistant.

A shop assistant had shown and re-shown innumerable toys to an undecisive customer. Rabbits, monkeys, jacks in the box, jump jacks, trains, bicycles—everything had been displayed, manipulated, operated, and explained, but still she could not make up her mind. "I wanted to get something suitable for my little nephew," she reiterated for the hundredth time. "Yes, madam," responded the weary assistant. "You told me that when you came in, but I think your little nephew must have outgrown all these toys while you've been at the counter!"

DEMURE GIRLS OF ICELAND KEEP UP WITH FASHION

Reykjavik, Iceland, Oct. 5.—(Associated Press by Mail).—The girls of Iceland may be separated from the rest of the world by hundreds of miles of Arctic sea, but fashions penetrate here almost as rapidly as news of the outside world. When Paris or London decrees a new style, whether in hair-dressing, gowns or the handling of a feminine cigarette, it is sure to be adopted in Reykjavik before many weeks have passed. The old national costume, unchanged for hundreds of years, is still worn almost exclusively in the rural districts, but in the cities the girl who aspires to social standing keeps abreast of the times, and sometimes even a bit ahead of them. U. S. sailors who visited Iceland in connection with the round-the-world airplane flight, were more than surprised when they found bobbed hair and other feminine fables usually associated with Paris, London and New York. There was the customary display of silkette, "slinker" gowns, unmarked waistlines and wrap-around skirts, with a faint aroma of black narcissus or other Parisian perfumes hovering about the dainty persons of the wearers. One difference the sailors found, and it caused them to grin, sometimes rather wistfully. The Iceland girls do not flirt.

CHURCH ENTERTAINMENT.

Under the auspices of the men's Bible class of the Carleton Methodist church, of which Rev. F. T. Bertram is leader, a most delightful entertainment was held this week in the church hall. A large audience enjoyed the programme and enjoyed every number. F. W. Henderson, president of the class, acted as chairman. The programme included solos by F. J. Punter, Miss Margaret Henderson, Miss Madeline Dalry, Percy Cruickshanks, Mrs. J. H. Shonyo, Mrs. D. Brunstrum, Mrs. Ernest Bissett and Mr. McLaughlin; violin solos by Miss Margaret Rice; male quartet selections by Messrs. Blair, Belyea, Long and Punter; readings by Mrs. W. J. Sharpe, Miss Pearl Wayne and Charles Cronwell; and musical trio selections by Mrs. Hamilton, Mr. Kane and Mr. Wetmore. The accompanists were Albert Punter, Miss Ada Thompson, Miss Marguerite Barrett, Miss Helen Belyea and Miss Gertrude Masson.

COL. MOREHEN HERE.

Colonel Morehen, of the Salvation Army, arrived in the city yesterday to make arrangements for the visit of Commissioner and Mrs. Sowton, who will arrive today and will remain in the city until Tuesday, conducting a series of special meetings on each day. Commissioner Sowton is the leader of the Salvation Army for Canada East, Newfoundland and Bermuda, and has visited St. John on several occasions. His meetings have been attended with much success and great interest. Major Burton, commander of the St. John unit here said yesterday that the meetings which Commissioner Sowton will conduct this afternoon and evening will be more especially for young people. On Sunday public meetings will be held. Colonel Morehen had just come from Woodstock and Frederickton and he spoke of the great success of the meetings held in those centres.

CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY.

On Sunday, Nov. 2, the local Young Judea members will celebrate the seventh anniversary of the Balfour Declaration. A mass meeting will be held in the synagogue vestry rooms at 6 p.m. when addresses on the declaration and its effect on the Jewish people will be given. The Balfour Declaration was issued through the efforts of Lord James of Athlone, then Secretary of Foreign Affairs in the British parliament on Nov. 2, 1917, and provides for the establishment of the Jewish national homeland in Palestine in the following statement: "His Majesty's Government views with favor the establishment in Palestine of a national homeland for the Jewish people and will use their best endeavors to facilitate the achievement of this object."

D. O. K. K. HOLD DANCE.

Adria Temple, No. 157, D. O. K. K. Pythian Knights, held a successful dance and bridge last evening in Pythian Castle, with auction forty-fives enjoyed by many. The music was very pretty and the orchestra was generous in its response to dances with 19 dances scheduled. The dress was semi-formal and the occasion greatly enjoyed. The affair was under the direction of the drill team of the D. O. K. K.'s, with Fred J. Newcomb, their captain, in command. The prize winners were Mrs. Richard Heans and J. S. Frost for bridge; Mrs. Thomas Reed and Fred Perry for auction forty-fives. A novelty dance was given after midnight. The women were supplied with fancy caps and made the scene very gay with their attractive appearance. The 17 members of the drill team, assisted the orchestra and every body who stayed after supper returned to the ball room, where the amusement was kept up for some time.

G. W. V. A. FAIR.

The G. W. V. A. fair had a very successful night last night when it was dressed in Hallowe'en trimmings and properly observed the occasion. The voting in favor of the most popular postman reported much brisk business and it was prophesied that there would be some surprising changes made in the standing of the competitors today. The prize winners last night were as follows: Door prize, an electric iron, won by ticket 2135; bowling prizes, men's, a short, J. M. Clark; ladies', motor scarf, Miss Rodday. Tonight is the last night of the fair and besides the drawing for the grand door prize which is $25, there will be a regular door prize of a fine electric heater. There will be first and second prizes on all the games also; and the Klites Band will give a special programme of Scotch selections.

Her Deadly Dead.

Halfway through the second act the heroine, Knight, had been left staring with a bunch of children, and generally having been put through it, got tired of this sort of treatment and shot the villain dead. "What have I done?" she cried, in impassioned tones. "What have I done?" "Shot the best bloomer actor in the show, miss," came the reply from the gallery.

Pearls Favored, Says Writer on Fashions

By HEDDA HOYL (Fashion Editor of the United Press.) New York, N. Y., Nov. 1.—If pearls mean tears, Millady is in for a weeping spell this winter! Huge imitation pearls are chosen in preference to real pearls of smaller sizes by the fashionables. Pearls as large as robin's eggs are fashioned into chokers, long necklaces, earrings, bracelets, hairpins and whatnot. For day wear the choker seems to be the important item. Choker pearls may be as large as one wishes and ranging in color from natural-tones to greenish, silver and gummetal. Chokers of pendant type are quite becoming to the woman with a slender throat, as the pendant of pearls fills in the natural hollow of the throat. Another choker type is chosen for evening wear with the low-cut gown. This is also made of large beads in natural pearl shades and clasps in the rear, with one long strand of pearls hanging down the back, like a Chinaman's queue. Colored beads are usually added to the pearl chain to give newness. Emeralds are the usual contrast. Of course, neither the pearls or emerald are real beads. Chokers of pendant type are quite becoming to the woman with a slender throat, as the pendant of pearls fills in the natural hollow of the throat.

Double Necklaces.

Double necklaces of pearls with one chain shorter than the other are also worn for evening wear, the longest chain hanging below the waistline and set with three huge emerald beads in the centre. Pearl earrings are worn mostly for evening occasions and they are generally composed of three graduated pearls set in pendant style. Bracelets of large pearls with pendants corresponding with the pendants of the earrings are also popular. Those who care for more costly types of pearls are choosing tiny seed pearls, which are woven into chains, forming necklaces, earrings, and bracelets. One of the newest jewelry notes is the wearing of two chokers of different colors, such as one old gold bead choker and one silver bead choker. In this case, one choker is just a bit larger than the other, as each must fit rather snugly about the throat. Rings set with three huge cultivated Japanese pearls are shown in many shops and cheaper imitations of the same may be found in department stores.

Oriental Rings.

There is a decided rage in New York for costume rings of Oriental type. Many art students are paying their tuition by making these rings after school hours. Usually they are made of oxidized silver and set with several semi-precious stones of contrasting colors. The mounting is usually one of silver leaves and the sets combined together are jade, turquoise, aquamarine and imitation pearls. These rings are very large and but one ring can be worn on the hand. They are made in silver gilt, which is silver dipped in gold and whether silver or silver gilt their price is about the same. Some of them sell as cheaply as $5, while more ornate types sell for $25.

Fashion Notes.

Bronze patent leather is a new shoe wrinkle. Several times in previous seasons patent leather has been brought out, but with little success. This year, however, with the rage for brown shoes, it will undoubtedly be worn. From experience, one can say that this brown patent leather wears quite as well as black patent and it is decidedly good looking. Blond satin is the newest thing for ered the matter of prizes and medals for the New Albert school, the pupils of which are now debarred from competing for the High School alumnæ medal.

Dr. L. M. Curran, M. L. A., chairman, presided. Others present were Trustees H. Colby Smith, G. Herbert Green, Horace A. Porter, Thomas Nagle, Allan A. McIntyre, Stephen W. Palmer, S. A. Worrell, acting superintendent of city schools, and A. Gordon Leavitt, secretary.

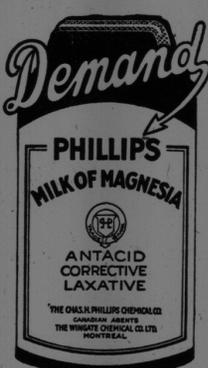

Dr. Curran explained the meeting had been called to take up the matter of the proposed vocational school. He read the letter from the City Council urging the delay of any action for two years and the resolution passed by the board reaffirming its policy with regard to establishing vocational training.

The resolution had stated the board was willing to hold a special meeting at which the city commissioners would be heard. The City Council had forwarded a resolution asking the board to attend at City Hall on Oct. 28.

Mr. Curran said he understood it had been customary for the City Council to attend at the School Board to discuss school matters. Mr. Porter said he would be in favor of a joint meeting.

Mr. Curran said he understood it had been customary for the City Council to attend at the School Board to discuss school matters. Mr. Porter said he would be in favor of a joint meeting.

Dr. Curran said the board had got to do business with regard to establishing vocational education and he did not see how it could till the meeting had taken place. Mr. Nagle said that as a matter of courtesy the meeting should be arranged. He thought the City Council was busy in the day time and if an evening meeting in the school board room could be arranged it would be most satisfactory.

Dr. Curran said it was evident the board was unanimous in wishing to meet the council, and public men should not stick at deciding just where the meeting was to be. If the matter was left with him he would try to get a friendly meeting some time about the first of the week.

Dr. Curran said the board had got to do business with regard to establishing vocational education and he did not see how it could till the meeting had taken place.

might place in the city schools banners commemorating the anniversaries of the battle of Corelllette, Passchen-daele, Mons, Vimy Ridge and Langemarck, to be displayed on the anniversaries. The committee approved the acceptance of the banners, but recommended that arrangements with reference to the display of the banners should be left with the principals of the schools.

SCOUT COUNCIL ENDORSES FEES

Assistant Chief Commissioner Tells of Aims of Movement.

The St. John District Boy Scout Association last night endorsed the proposed registration scheme which requires each scout to pay a registration fee of 50 cents.

Mr. Stiles stressed the fact that the Boy Scouts were not a military organization in any sense, which fact he said was easily realized since there were other organizations caring for the military ends.

After a general talk on Scouting in Canada and its beneficial effect from the national viewpoint Mr. Stiles spoke of the possibility of having a winter course for training leaders.

Mr. Leavitt suggested the matter might be taken up with the Alumnæ by members from West St. John.

Is Your Baby Developing Normally?

The chief cause of slow development is malnutrition. While many babies get a sufficient quantity of food, it is not always the right kind. Mother's milk although entirely sufficient during the first few months may become thinner later on.

For over fifty years mothers in every part of the globe have been rearing their babies successfully on Nestlé's Milk Food. It agrees with baby's tender little stomach. It is made from pure cow's milk modified with cereals and is as easily digested as mother's milk. It is always uniform in quality.

BOOTH SAYS THIBET HAS ARMED ARMY

General of Salvation Forces Gives Interview of Interest.

Thibet, the forbidden, has just sent the Salvation Army an urgent invitation to establish itself there, said General W. Branwell Booth, the venerable head of the army, in the course of an interview at the Windsor Hotel, Montreal.

Thibet is not the only country of the East which is welcoming the Salvation Army, the general said. "The Army of Blood and Fire" has been active in the past ten years owing to the death of its founder a short time before and to post-war conditions. Yet it has become more prosperous and has made great progress than ever before.

Everywhere, apparently, the army is making its presence felt, in India, Korea, Japan, Burma, Ceylon, China, Africa and other parts of the globe. Persia is another country which has heard of the army and desires its ministrations, the general said.

As he went on to talk of his plans for extension of the work in Central Africa and the Gold Coast, for the evangelization of absolute barbarians somewhere in the African jungle, for the building of three new general hospitals in India, and one in China, for further succoring of lepers, Booth said the building of another institute for the blind of that country, the romance of the great enterprise upon which the army is embarked, came home.

"Yes, the progress made has been wonderful, but I want more helpers of every kind," General Booth declared. "Just now I am in particular need of nurses and doctors. It is difficult to get doctors. Our salaries are good, but (smiling) a considerable portion are deferred. Then the work lies among the very lowest and poorest of the people."

"I want newspaper people badly, reporters and editors. I have one hundred papers. Then with an amused (wink) in his eye the general looked at the three reporters who were his temporary inquirers and added, "And editors are not easy to manage when you have found them." Which struck a responsive chord.

"Strange things are evolved in newspaper offices," remarked the general when he was asked whether or not certain recent press dispatches regarding the future administration of the army were true. "There is absolutely nothing in the stories about internal difficulties in the Salvation Army. Yes, it is quite possible we will have our international headquarters on this side. Headquarters were not put where the needs of our international work would best be met.

"This present visit has been the happiest I have made," General Booth said. "More Salvationists have greeted me than ever before and the general has manifested his sympathy to an extent that no man could expect. Then I see greater results in my work. I am very much pleased with progress being made in Canada."

"I had just completed a journey of 10,000 miles," the speaker added. "I had marked the completion of 10 years' service with the army, so he had brought out recently and I was going ahead and God will prosper us," the general declared in conclusion. "For the world needs us; it needs love and help."

General Booth also referred briefly to the army's immigration activities in Canada. He spoke particularly of the immigration of young boys. "I had a million boys who were leaving school in England and Scotland each year, and at the outside approximately only one-fifth could hope to obtain employment in their own country."

"The army desired to bring them to Canada, to be trained as agricultural workers. Six hundred, aged from 15 to 22, had been brought out recently and were proving satisfactory. The army hoped to establish a training farm in Nova Scotia as well as in Ontario and the West. Asked about the girls, the general smiled and said, "They will follow the boys."

STRANGE DISLIKE IS TOLD OF IN WILL CONTEST

SAYS BANKS ARE TAXED HEAVILY
Canadian Press Despatch.
Montreal, Oct. 31.—Sir John Aldrich, president of the Canadian Bank of Commerce and president of the Canadian Bankers' Association, asked what he would say regarding the merger of the Montreal Bank with the Bank of Montreal, replied: "Not very much. I suppose the inevitable. The banks have been and are taxed so heavily by the Dominion, Provincial and Municipal Governments that amalgamations are necessary as a means of economy."

She Runs Big Foundry, But Home Is Her First Thought

Milwaukee, Nov. 1.—Mrs. Emily Fridmore is president of a million-dollar foundry. She is an expert in metals. She has made valuable inventions.

But there is one thing she knows better than metal. That's the baking of angel food cake. For Mrs. Fridmore is essentially a "home body." She never has let her business interfere with her domestic cares.

Her husband, H. E. Fridmore, died 16 years ago, leaving her with two small children, and the foundry to manage.

She went into the business knowing absolutely nothing about it. Its complicated little details came to her only after long hours of study. But the business increased three-fold under her management.

"My success is due to the fact that I always have prided myself on being a 'good housewife,'" she says. "The good housewife is a certain sort of success if she ever decides to enter the business world."

"Home should be the first thought of every woman. Should business ever interfere with it, she should quit the business right away."

500,000 YEARS OF MAN SHOWN BY SPECIMENS IN WISCONSIN COLLEGE

Important Collection is Brought From Europe by Alonzo Pond.

Beloit, Wis., Oct. 31.—(By United Press.)—A collection of specimens of the handwork of man from the time of the bronze age, 8,000 to 10,000 years ago, way back to the time when men first emerged from the animal state, some 500,000 years ago, have been brought from Europe by Alonzo Pond, Beloit college graduate, and added to the collections at the Logan museum, making this museum the most important one in the United States in its material on the early stages of man, especially the stone age.

Pond, who has had much experience in paleontology prior to this visit, sailed from New York on May 24 and returned home recently. Many of the specimens are already in the museum, while more are still to come.

Among the most valuable of the specimens is a necklace, of 137 pieces of ivory, bone and stone made in the swissian period, 75,000 years ago. In addition to the necklace are but 120 such beads, and two of the pieces of the necklace here are absolutely unique in the world—an ivory fish and two pendants.

From a scientific standpoint the most important pieces brought back by Pond are the 80 carat diamonds belonging to the magdalenian period, some 30,000 years old, the period when man was using the stone age.

These are the only ones of this kind in America, and were found in a cave at Linnell, in France, during the past summer, and representing a heavy outlay in money Beloit college is perhaps better equipped to teach the development of man than any other school in the United States.

Beloit College, because of this collection, may be the meeting place in the future of some of the most noted students of prehistoric man in the country, who, rather than go to Europe, will come to this institution.

The case was brought on by the mother of the child, who had just visited his wife, who had been brought home from the hospital, convalescent from an operation. A rear wheel of the truck passed over Dugan's child.

Dugan was riding a bicycle on Broadway, near Parsons avenue, Flushing, on Aug. 8 last, when he was run down by a truck owned by Sullivan Bros. and driven by Thomas Gullen of College Point. Civilization Doomed!

But Millions Now Living Will Never Die! Viscount Grey says "I think it is certain that if there be another such war again civilization will never recover from it."

That another war is brewing in Europe is a foregone conclusion. It will have a marked effect upon the future history of the world. Not only are the nations and governments of earth in turmoil and confusion, but the religious leaders are also involved in a controversy which threatens to split the church from end to end. Modernists and Fundamentalists are at open war, and the church member who seeks peace in the house of God is further confused and discouraged by ecclesiastical wrangling. Truly we live in a day when they say: "Peace, peace," and there is no peace. God's Word, properly understood, is a rock of safety in the troubled sea of human strife.

For a clear, logical presentation of events of history and prophecy, and for a message of hope and encouragement by a keen observer of world conditions.

N.S.W. GIRLS SHOCK R. C. ARCHBISHOP Present Fashions Lower the Standard of Womanhood, He Declares. Sydney, N. S. W., Nov. 1.—"Sydney girls are butterflies, and their mothers are flying round the candle's flame. I do not want to condemn girls who fall, but Catholics ought to take a strong line on the matter." This was part of a mordant criticism of prevailing feminine fashions in Sydney made by Dr. Kelly, the Roman Catholic Archbishop of Sydney, in a speech. "Thousands of Sydney girls wear gaudy, indecent dresses," continued the archbishop. "It is pitiable to see our young women lowering the standard of womanhood. There can only be one result. What people call up-to-date fashion is not in keeping with womanly modesty, and is dangerous. It is deplorable to think that girls will commit indiscretions and wear dresses which expose their limbs. Recently a girl came to worship at St. Mary's Cathedral in a fashionable green dress. One of the choir has been in just before me. But I was determined. I went right out after him. "That's where you're wrong," declared the steward, triumphantly. "It's not the dress, it's the girl. I traced that girl. I followed its trail back to the pantry and thence to the cold storage room. And this morning I discovered it. One of the choir has been in just before me. But I was determined. I went right out after him."

SPORT NEWS GLEANED FROM WORLD'S CENTRES

MAJORS LOOKING FOR NEW PLAYERS

Will Attempt to Bolster Up Clubs Before Next Spring.

New York, Nov. 1.—(United Press)—Not one of the teams that were contenders in the 1924 major league pennant race is strong enough to stand pat on this year's lineup unless they all make no changes and start the same teams in the 1925 pennant race.

There are glaring weaknesses on the six clubs that finished one-two-three in the National and American Leagues and unless they are improved the teams can't hope to do as well as they did this year, if their opponents add any strength to their lineups.

As far as actual playing strength is concerned, the Pittsburgh Pirates are better equipped than any other team in the major leagues, but the spirit of the club is in dire need of elevation.

Lack of the winning spirit has destroyed the chances of the Pirates in the last three games and one or two players were responsible for it. It is taken for granted around Pittsburgh that Rabbit Maraville, Charley Grinnam and Charley Schmidt will be traded because they are in bad with the management.

Carson Bigbee also may be placed on the market because there is no room for him in the outfield. The Pirates have great hopes for the development of Barnes, a young first baseman, and perhaps the management feels that a second baseman may be secured in some kind of a deal involving one or more of the four players.

The New York Giants are desperately in need of an outfielder unless the versatile George Kelly should develop as much as John McGraw apparently thinks he will develop. Irish Meusel and Bill Ryan may be used in any kind of a deal that may be made for an outfielder or a younger catcher. Cowdy and Snyder are all slowed up and Snyder may be passed along if the occasion demands it.

McGraw, of course, could use a couple of new pitchers. Any manager could, as far as that goes. The Giants are set for an infield and, according to all natural figuring, should be set for many years. They have the strongest infield in baseball in Lindstrom (18), Jackson (21), Frisch (24), and Terry (21). Frisch perhaps has developed to his perfect stage but the other youngsters are just getting started.

The Cincinnati Reds were placed in the need of a first baseman by the unfortunate death of Jake Daubert, but it is probable that he would not have played next year, as he wasn't in full swing with the management. The need owners apparently were planning on displacing Daubert eventually when a big offer was made to the Giants last year for Bill Terry, the young first baseman, who is now a regular, and who is through and will be used only as a pinch hitter next year, if he is not given his release.

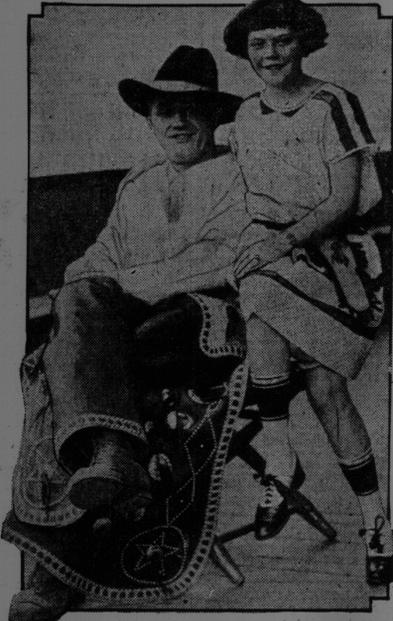

The Reds are well fixed, however, with Rube Bressler at first. Crite is a corner at second base and they have Charley Dresen, the best third baseman in the American Association. The Brooklyn Robins, with any other manager than Wilbert Robinson, might be said to be in need of a new team. They do need a third baseman, however.

The greatest need of the Washington Senators is reserve strength. If Peck has another season like he had this year, the regular infield will be fine, but they need a couple of utility men. The outfield is in good hands and Muddy Ruel is the best catcher in the league. The world's champion could use another good pitcher, as it is not certain that Walter Johnson can win twenty games again next season. It is not certain, although it is probable, that Walter Johnson will be next year. He wants to buy the Oakland Pacific Coast League club and get settled as an owner and manager on the coast. However, it is likely that Griffith will offer him a new contract that would make it poor business for him to leave the major league.

Although it looks like he is going on forever, Deacon Scott has to break sometime, and no one knows but what the crack will come next season and the Yankees will be in desperate need of a shortstop. The Yanks also need reserve strength and a better assistant catcher to Wally Schang than Fred Hoffman. Schang has seen a lot of service and he is getting brittle. It seems strange to be figuring that the Yankees need another pitcher after their "all-star" regime of three years, but their pitchers are mostly aging veterans and they cracked this season. The Yanks are fairly well fixed in the outfield with Meusel, Witt, Rith and Combs, but they have no sub for Ward or Dugan but McNally, and he is not strong enough or good enough to last through a season. Lou Gehring is a good filler for Wally Pipp and a fine pinch-hitter.

Sure, You Know Him

'Tis Johnny Kilbane, a Reformed Nose Buster, Now Engaged in Busting Broncs in the West

It's a far cry from busting noses to busting broncs. Johnny Kilbane used to be a nose buster. For years he was featherweight champion of the world. Then a little Frenchman, Eugene Criqui, came along and knocked him off. Kilbane hung up the gloves and quit for good. Last summer he spent his time in the west busting broncs on a Montana ranch. See him pictured here with his little daughter.

Ty Cobb said if he got better work around second base next season that the Detroit Tigers would win the pennant, but they have no sub for Ward or Dugan but McNally, and he is not strong enough or good enough to last through a season. Lou Gehring is a good filler for Wally Pipp and a fine pinch-hitter.

MICKEY WALKER TELLS OF PLANS

The Welterweight Champ. Thinks He Should Have Knocked Out Malone.

New York, Nov. 1.—Appearing in the best of condition and showing no outward signs that he had just engaged in a hard battle, Mickey Walker, world's welterweight champion, who on Wednesday night defeated Jack Malone in a twelve-round bout in the Newark Armory, announced yesterday that he was satisfied with the showing he had made and that from now on he was prepared to carry on an active ring campaign which, he believed, would bring about even better results in his fighting form.

"I would like to have scored a knockout victory over Malone," said Walker, "but I seemed to be a little short of work. I also was a little over-anxious, and I guess, this, too, caused me to lose a number of opportunities for stopping my opponent. What pleased me most was that I was able to scale at 147 pounds without having made any effort to get down to weight."

Walker left for Milwaukee, where on Nov. 5 he is scheduled to meet Joe O'Hara, while on Nov. 17 he will box Frankie Winchell in Pottsville, Pa. He said he expected to be back for another bout in Newark on Nov. 24 against an opponent still to be selected.

BRAD GILBERT IS CHOSEN MANAGER

Hockey Season to Open Here New Year's With Moncton vs. Locals.

Hockey plans for the winter took a step forward this week when, at a meeting of members of the St. John Hockey Club, "Brad" Gilbert was elected manager for the coming season. The selection of a captain for the team was left in abeyance for some time although it is probable that this honor will fall to "Phil" Hallisey, the hard-working defence man who joined the team last year. Every member of last year's team was present at the meeting with the exception of Fred Richard, one of last year's mainstays who is now studying at Harvard. While Richard will be much missed this year, there are several promising young players who are due this year to cut a wider swath than hitherto.

Nicholas, U. N. B. law student, will again be in goal with Brad Gilbert and Hallisey forming the foundation for the defence. Jimmie Gilbert probably will move into centre position and the wing positions will be looked after by Montiehl, Short, Rathburn, Thompson, Kiley and others. "Steve" McPhee, it is said, may line up this year. Just at present, there is not any new blood in sight but the club members feel that the system of playing they have evolved will make up for any lack of individual stars.

The slogan this year is "St. John must win" and the means of attaining that object will be through the sinking of individual aims into the common good. Last year, the team got away to a bad start, but toward the close of the season perfected its play to such an extent as to give the Sussex outfit, champions of the maritimes, plenty of trouble here. It is probable that the season here will be opened on New Year's night with a game with the Moncton team, champions of the northern section of the M. A. H. A.

ST. JEAN DIVIDES TWO WITH HARMON

Billiard Player Known Here Participating in Title Tournament.

New York, Nov. 1.—Charles Harmon, representing this city, and Andrew St. Jean of Minneapolis, on Thursday divided the first two games of their series of six at the opening of the National Championship Pocket Billiard League. Harmon won the afternoon game by the score of 100 to 88 in twenty-nine innings, while St. Jean was the winner in the evening at 100 to 73 in nineteen innings. Harmon's high run in the opening game was 37 and in the evening 42. St. Jean made a run of 23 in the afternoon, while 27 was his high run at night.

St. Jean gained an early lead in the afternoon game and at the end of the eighth inning had a 10-point lead with the score at 17-7. Harmon tied the score at 24-24 with a run of 18 in the ninth and followed it with his high run of the game, 37, putting him in the lead at 51 to 39. The Minneapolis player then spurred and two runs of 23, in the thirteenth and fifteenth innings, brought him within striking distance of his opponent, the score standing 88 to 74 in Harmon's favor. In the twentieth inning St. Jean made 14 and made an easy shot before him for his fifteenth, only to miss. Harmon made an unfinished run of 16 for the game.

St. Jean started with a rush in the evening, scoring 18 in the second inning, 27 in the third, 12 in the sixth, 10 in the eighth, and 14 in the tenth. When he sat down after his tenth turn at the table the score stood 79 to 11 in his favor. Undisturbed by the overwhelming lead held by his opponent, Harmon came up and made his run of 42, making the most difficult sort of shots and bringing his total to 83. Had he not played safe on his forty-third shot in this inning he might have greatly improved his score.

JURY REFUSED TO INDICT FIRPO

Nothing to Prevent Him From Resuming Pugilistic Activities.

New York, Nov. 1.—Unless further obstacles are tossed in his way, Luis Angel Firpo yesterday apparently cleared the last legal barrier to a resumption of his pugilistic activities here, when a Federal Grand Jury refused to indict him on the charges of Canon Chase, that the South American committed perjury when he came to this country last July to fight Harry Wells.

Firpo has under consideration offers from Tex Rickard for bouts at Madison Square Garden with Romero, Chilean heavy-weight and rival of Firpo for the South American title, and George Godfrey, Philadelphia negro.

The Moncton-Trojans rugby game scheduled for this afternoon on the East End grounds has been postponed until next Saturday, it was announced this morning by Walter R. Golding, manager of the Trojans. The tickets sold for this game will be good for any other game the Trojans play this season. So far, they have two more games on their card, on next Saturday with Moncton and on Thanksgiving Day with Dalhousie University. Postponement of today's game was caused by threatening weather.

CUBS WILL ERECT A MEMORIAL AS TRIBUTE TO FRANK CHANCE

Chicago, Nov. 1.—Frank Chance, one of the great players and leaders of organized baseball, who died recently after a lingering illness on the Pacific coast, is to be honored by the erection of a fitting memorial to his skill as a player and his genius as a leader of the old-time pennant winning Chicago Cubs. It has been so decided by the Board of Directors of the Chicago club, who met in annual session. Chance, who became known as the "Peerless Leader," led the Cubs to many National League pennants and two world championships.

THOUSANDS GREET BUCKY HARRIS ON RETURN TO PITTSBURGH

Pittsboro, Pa., Nov. 1.—Bucky Harris, manager of the world's champion Washington Senators, came back to his home town this week much like the hero warrior of old. He was met at the railroad station in Wilkes-Barre, where an automobile parade was formed which escorted him to his home here. Officials from many of the small communities in this vicinity were in the parade, and thousands of miners also greeted the baseball leader.

FEATHERWEIGHTS SIGN CONTRACTS

Determine Successor to Johnny Dundee—Fighters in Disfavor

New York, Nov. 1.—The six principals in the featherweight elimination tournament to determine a successor to Johnny Dundee, who voluntarily relinquished his title to the State A. C., signed contracts yesterday for tournament at Madison Square Garden Friday, November 21. Drawings will be made at the office of the commission next Friday afternoon.

The semi-final of the tournament will be held within three weeks after the first round and title round three weeks after the semi-final.

Frankie Carpenter, who fought Mike McTigue, world's light heavyweight champion at Providence, R. I., on Wednesday night was declared in disfavor with the commission, owing to his engagement with McTigue, who is also in disfavor with the board.

Jock Malone, who met Mickey Walker, world's welterweight champion, at Newark, and likewise was declared in disfavor, managers of both Carpenter and Malone were placed in a similar predicament.

PLAN FORMATION OF ATHLETIC CLUB

Citizens of North End Will Meet Next Monday Evening

The formation of a North End Athletic Club is being considered by the citizens of that section of the city, and a meeting has been called for next Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the Temple of Honor Hall in Main street to make the initial start in this project. It is planned to organize a strong club which will support every line of athletic endeavor and aid local athletes, especially those from the North End, in their efforts to bring further honors to the city. It is hoped that Monday's meeting will be attended by all those interested in the advancement of sport in St. John. The project was spoken of briefly at the recent banquet tendered North End athletic champions.

PLAN TO SECURE DRY CANADA HAS MANY OBSTACLES

 since Act was devised. Provinces which adopted them by referendum, automatically, the machinery of the federal law, supplementing their own. Importation from abroad or from wet areas in other provinces, were stopped.

Nearly All Canada Dry.

For a while all Canada outside of Quebec was dry. Then British Columbia backed under a provincial referendum of its own—a procedure which has produced continuous difficulty meanwhile. The provincial government out there attempts to monopolize the sale, but, not having invoked the Doherty Act, the right of private importation continues, while efforts to secure the necessary remedial legislation have failed because of the hostility of the Senate.

The prairie provinces, after availing themselves of the Doherty Act, as well as abolishing the sale for a while, later turned back to the wet column, and went in for sale by provincial governments.

When the Dominion Alliance asks for a national measure of prohibition or steps in that direction, they may expect to be confronted by the argument that the west, through to the coast, is wet, although Ontario remains true to its normal propensity. It may be taken for granted that the most—not all—of the Government will be against a Dominion-wide measure, and, while the question is utterly dissimilar, the line-up of parliament may be a bit like its position on church union.

Attitude of Parties.

The Progressives, generally, would be for it, and the other parties would be split. From the Quebec members, especially, resistance may be expected of any movement for prohibition or for a national vote whose outcome might submerge the local provincial sentiment.

Parliament has the authority to pass any act it pleases, but whether the proposal be to prevent the importation and manufacture of liquor or to provide for a national plebiscite, it, apparently would call for a Government measure rather than one initiated by a private member. Measures which affect the revenues of the expenditure of public money—the expense of a plebiscite for example—have to be initiated by the Government, according to the rules of parliament.

It is considered well for the national prohibitionists to look forward to and prepare for difficulties in their projected proposals. Apart from those mentioned there are other considerations which are national, racial and political. Not the least of them will be the argument of provincial autonomy in this matter to which, as in other questions, the present Government is disposed to give a rigid adherence.

Newark, Nov. 1.—Jack Dempsey and Luis Angel Firpo renewed acquaintances this week in the ring of the 113th Infantry Armory. The world's heavy-weight champion, arriving at the arena just before the Walker-Malone bout, stepped into the ring to acknowledge a wild demonstration from the crowd. Recognizing Firpo in a ringside seat, Dempsey stepped quickly over, and, leaning under the topmost rope, extended his hand with a smile of hearty welcome. Then Firpo climbed into the ring, while the crowd continued its cheering.

My Dear Mr. Carroll—
 I note with interest that you are to produce my play "THE ROSARY" in St. John, N. B., with your Carroll Players.

As the play was written in my home town in Canada, and as its leading character, Father Brian Kelly, is drawn from a very dear old priest with whom some of my most happy hours were passed when I was a boy, you can imagine how pleased I am that you have selected my play.

In fact I am not at all certain that I can resist the temptation to drop my work here and return to the Land of the Maple Leaf and see what I am sure will be one of the most notable presentations that this play of mine has ever enjoyed.

With all good wishes to you and your excellent company, I am,
 Faithfully Yours,

JUDGES FORCED TO AWARD SPECIALS

Kiddies' Carnival at Imperial was Fine Success—The Winners.

The Judges in last night's Halloween dress-up contest at Imperial Theatre had not only their hands full, but their hearts as well. Hundreds of kiddies with smudged faces and caps on backwards—possibly with nothing more than a coat turned inside out—crowded forward to be "in it," but of course, with so many really impressive impersonations and expensive costumes, they had to be eliminated. Big Sergeant McLeese was guardian of the magic portals, the stage-door.

Once the crowded pavement was cleared of aspirants for the cash prizes and safely but nobly tucked away in the dressing rooms, pecking out around the scenery while the orchestra was playing the show, and generally setting their monitors and theatre staff half crazy, the parade across the stage off to the crowded house began. At 8.30 the great moment arrived. The house manager essayed the task of marshalling the parade across the footlights. "Real" boys were lined up on one side of the stage and "real" girls on the other. The word "real" had to be used in talking (meaning shouting) to the excited kiddies, as there were so many crossed impersonations that those in charge didn't know who was who.

Well, they were truly a motley and funny bunch of youngsters. And the titles they whispered to the announcer were most amusing, creating roars of laughter in the audience. There were girls dressed as boys, dudes, cowboys, Chinese, cavaliers, Jackie Coogan and various attempts at portraying the well-known characters in funny papers. Boys excelled, however, in their impersonations of girls—some being really lifelike in their impersonations of the matter of costuming more thought and care.

So, after a lot of pre-viewing, post-viewing, eliminating and checking up again, the judges came to the following conclusions, being forced to offer a number of special prizes in acknowledgment of some excellent efforts. The original prize list included four amounts of $2.50 each for best impersonations and funniest get-ups, so it will be seen how much the contest overflowed these bounds by the following line-up of winners:— Best female impersonation—Robert Kelly, veritably a double of Rex Hinton's impersonation in The Dumbells—a double impersonation as it were. He gets $2.50. Second best female impersonation—Douglas Stammers, Winslow street, West End, who made one of the sweetest little "girls" in all St. John. So he gets a special prize. Best male impersonation was that of Emily Hall, 42 Frederic street, Marsh road. Emily is a little colored girl, and fooled the judges almost to the last minute. So she, too, gets $2.50.

Second best male impersonation—Cowboy rig worn by Emily Spragg, 163 Carmarthen street. Funniest costume worn by girl—"Aunt Dinah" (a la pancake advertisement), Vera Campbell, 46 Prince Edward street, winning $2.50. Funniest get-up worn by boy—Charlie Chaplin (well acted), Francis Garnett, winning $2.50. Handicraft costume—Courtier in red coat, white wig, silk hose, etc., Harold Orchard, King street east; special prize. Second handsomest costume—Indian chief, Charles Ellingwood, North End. Third handsomest costume, special prize—Lady of Uncertain Age, Harvey Bishop. Most original costume—Huntress, with gun, bird-dog, etc., Master Carvell. The prize-winners will call at the Imperial Theatre for their awards. The whole thing passed off in excellent fashion. The Imperial's patrons enjoyed the lark as well as the children. The Times-Star was glad to co-operate in the little affair, as it woke up a healthy spirit of carnival for the moment and stirred things up generally. St. John could stand a lot more of these impromptu flurries, an onlooker remarked last night.

PLEASANT HOURS AT ST. DAVID'S

Rocket Tuxis Square of St. David's Presbyterian church entertained their girl friends from the C. G. I. T. classes at a Halloween party in the church institute last evening. The room was nicely decorated. The hours passed delightfully. Mrs. Alex. Turner was chaperon and assisted the mentor, A. B. Crookshank, in making the evening a success. The recently elected officers of the Rocket Square are—Pretor, Robt. McLeod; deputy pretor, David Donnelly; scription comptor, Gordon Lipsitt. The Excelsior Trail Ranger Camp of St. David's church held a banquet last evening in the Church institute. The chief ranger, Donald Patterson, presided. The attendance of boys present was 16. In addition, the mentors, L. C. Sinclair and S. D. McCowan, were present. After the banquet, a sing-song led by Chas. Curran, was enjoyed. The boys then turned over the institute to the Rockets Tuxis Square and put the new members of the camp through initiation. The officers of the Excelsior Trail Camp are: Chief Ranger, Donald Patterson; sub-chief, Charles Curran; tally-scription, Thomas Somerville.

BOY IS FREED WITH A WARNING

The little colored boy, who was arrested recently on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses by forging checks on the Bank of Montreal at Haymarket Square, appeared before His Honor Judge Barry in County Court Chambers this morning, and the case was disposed of. The boy was allowed to go with a warning, the judge instructing him that henceforth his conduct will be watched and if the detective department made a report of any nature against him, it would be necessary to send him to the reformatory. His Honor suggested that the boy consult Sergeant Detective Power or Detective Biddiscombe at any time he felt he was in danger of being tempted or led into temptation, and they would advise him.

A Halloween tea and sale is being held this afternoon in the school room of St. Andrew's church under the auspices of the Benevolent Society. IN THE MARKET.

A good variety of all things that go to make a successful Sunday dinner was offered this morning in the country market to the "lady of the house" when she paid her Saturday morning visit. There was a good supply of all kinds of meats and vegetables and the prices were about the same as they have been for some days. Eggs, however, are still on the up grade in price and this morning 60 cents a dozen was being asked for the guaranteed variety. Butter was quoted at 35 to 45 cents a pound; chickens, 35 to 40 cents and fowl 30 to 35 cents. Turkeys are seemingly being held back until next week for the Thanksgiving market.

The matter will be taken up by the council at its next meeting.

PLAN CITY EVENTS FOR ARMISTICE DAY

Poppy Sale, Memorials and Parades to Church are Included.

Six years ago on Nov. 11, the armistice was signed, ending the wholesale slaughter of humanity that broke out when a half-crazed Serbian student shot an archduke of Austria in Sarajevo, 1914. It has been estimated that fully 37,000,000 casualties resulted from that titanic struggle during those war years and the years that followed. Armistice Day brought relief from the terrific strain under which the nations had been laboring for so long a time for the purpose of recalling the noble sacrifices made by Canadian manhood and of strengthening the resolve that aggressive militarism must be crushed that memorial services are held on that day.

Armistice Day observances here this year will follow along the lines of former years with the sale of poppies being held next Saturday under the auspices of the G. W. V. A. and memorial services at the Field of Honor plot in Fernhill and at the Post Office tablet.

Alex. Machum, secretary of the local G. W. V. A., announced today that the club committees were busy now preparing for the sale of poppies and wreaths. The L. O. D. E., he said, would join with the association in holding the services at Fernhill and poppies would be placed on the graves of soldiers. He said Mrs. E. A. Young would be general convener and Mrs. A. C. D. Wilson ward convener for the poppy day sale. The Carleton branch of the G. W. V. A. will look after the decorating of graves in West St. John and the sale of poppies there, while the city branch will take charge of the distribution in Fairville, East St. John and the city. The Women's Canadian Club and the Red Cross will take charge of the sale of poppy wreaths.

The Women's Canadian Club at its annual meeting decided to hold its annual unveiling service at its beautiful tablet in the local Post Office. Last year, brief addresses were given by the Mayor, Col. J. J. Houlston and Mrs. E. Atherton Smith and it is expected this year a similar brief programme will be followed. A definite announcement will be made later.

Church Parade.

A church parade of militia units here will be held on Sunday, November 9, at St. John's (Stone) church, where the pastor, Rev. A. L. Fleming, will be the special preacher. Col. W. B. Anderson, commanding Military District No. 1, Lt.-Col. H. C. Sparling, G. S. O., and other headquarters officers will attend, while members of the G. W. V. A. and all ex-service men have been invited. The West St. John branch of the G. W. V. A., it was announced today, is to hold a church parade on Nov. 9.

The First Presbyterian church where Rev. W. McN. Matthews will conduct the services. The Carleton Cornet Band will be in the parade and Captain Palmer, instructor, has given permission for West Side cadets to march in the parade. Ex-service men are invited to attend. In the afternoon a special committee of the branch will decorate soldiers' graves in West Side cemeteries.

ARMORY WILL BE TRANSFORMED

Committee Plan Delightful Features for the Armistice Ball.

A meeting of the committee in charge of the decorations of the armory for the armistice military ball to be held on Thanksgiving night, November 10, took place last evening. Major G. H. Gambill, chairman, presiding. Preparations are on a larger scale than ever before attempted. Moonlight forest scenes, military trappings with marquee and bell tents, trees and flags and bunting will figure in the display and the big ground floor of the armory will be transformed. The officers in charge of the various committees are enthusiastically that this will be the most enjoyable of the many delightful events which have been given at the armory. Special decorations, special music, special catering and attendance will be given. The special orchestra which has been engaged will be relieved during the supper extras by an officers' orchestra and there will be no opportunity for a dull moment.

Arrangements have been made with the New Brunswick Power Company to have late street cars on hand for the convenience of those attending.

Several officers reported a great demand for tickets and it was decided that, in addition to the sales by the officers themselves, it would be advisable to have tickets on sale at several uptown points. It was later arranged that tickets could be procured by the public at A. C. Smith's & Co., Charlotte street, at Waterbury & Haines, King street, and at J. A. McMillan's, Prince William street.

MARSH STREET FIRE CAUSE OF EXCITEMENT

Considerable damage by smoke and water was done this morning in the rear of a flat occupied by Harvey McDonald, 45 Marsh street, when fire broke out about 11 o'clock. An alarm was rung in from Box 421 and the department quickly responded and succeeded in confining the fire to the kitchen and woodshed. The flat is one of a six-storied dwelling house owned by the Sterling Realty Co., Ltd. No estimate of the damage to the building has been made but the company reports it is partially covered by insurance. Six families occupied the house and the fire caused much excitement before it was controlled through the effective work of the department.
