The Evening Chit-Chat

WE pride ourselves, in weighing worth and merit, too much in virtues that we inherit. Some punctual grandeur makes us hate delay. Let him be proud, dazed men be proud at all.

How complacently and with what serene self-judication people go about saying things like that. If anything, it seems as if they were proud rather than ashamed of their inherited failings.

CANADA HAS TOTAL OF 120,000,000 CUBIC FEET OF TIMBER

This is Estimate of Amount Standing in Forests—The Cut of a Year—Forest Fire Destruction

(The Shareholder) A recent estimate made by H. R. McMillan, of the Dominion forest service, shows that Canada has a total of 120,000,000 cubic feet of standing timber.

The eastern forest, which covers the maritime provinces and the provinces of Ontario and Quebec, supported in 1909 a total of 68 pulp mills, and at the same time supplied sufficient unmanufactured pulpwood for export to maintain in the United States 73 pulp mills.

The annual timber production of Canada is large. The quantity and value of the recorded timber output of Canada for the calendar year 1910 is given below:

Table with 2 columns: Item, Value. Includes Lumber, shingles, posts, poles, rails, and square timber.

PHILADELPHIA'S NEW WATER WAGON

Philadelphia, Pa., June 15.—The latest thing in water wagons has arrived. It is a motor-driven vehicle, but built, not to be used in Philadelphia streets, but strange to say, its purpose is to supply drink to a prohibition agent. Let it be realized at the outset however, that this new water wagon has nothing to do with man. Women want to know who are interested.

This motor car water wagon is the only one of its kind in the world, and is the invention of members of the Women's Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, who hope to stifle Philadelphia's thirst.

FUSILIERS IN BOSTON GET BIG WELCOME

(Special to Times.)

Boston, June 15.—For the first time in history of the British and the United States militia united today in celebrating the battle of Bunker Hill. The British detachment, the 62nd regiment of St. John arrived a 9 a. m. by special train and were accorded a hearty reception as they were escorted by the 8th regiment staff through the city to the South Armory, their headquarters while here.

Gov. Rice and Mayor Fitzgerald reviewed the parade as it passed the State House and city hall. This afternoon the St. John militia participated in a big military parade in Charlestown.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS FAIR

Opening on Monday—Promise of a Week of Great Interest in Handsome New Home

The Columbian Fair which the St. John council Knights of Columbus will open in their handsome home, Coburg street, on Monday next, promises to be a brilliant affair. All the committees have been actively engaged getting the spacious hall decorated, and the result is strikingly pleasing. Several booths have been erected in the hall. There will be a "pique" on the lawn which will brightly be illumined. A band and orchestra will be in attendance each night, and the fair will continue until the 23rd inst. In connection with the fair, a large crowd is expected.

THE CONTROLLING OF BOVINE TUBERCULOSIS

The issue of the report of the International Commission on the Control of Bovine Tuberculosis is of significant interest at the present time, particularly in view of the active public demand for some definite and authoritative pronouncement in consideration of the whole situation as regards bovine tuberculosis in its relation to the welfare of the live stock industry and to its influence on public health.

The economic importance of the subject has long been felt, however, that for the American continent a really effective program could be undertaken with any success only through concerted action on the part of the governments of those countries which are affected by the disease. The United States and Canada and only also legislation enacted or policy adopted in a substantial agreement with the expressed views of representative authorities of both countries.

The report referred to embodies the draft conclusions of the commission and of its recommendations which it has at length determined to make. The decisions which have been reached are eminently conservative in their nature and for the reason, if for no other, they will exercise a salutary influence on the public mind. It is possible, particularly in the case of those who may for any reason be prejudiced against legislative interference, that the prevalence of the disease and the consequent loss to the breeder, as well as the more acknowledged danger to public health are not minimized but gravely acknowledged and seriously considered.

It is unnecessary to enter into a further discussion of the details of the report of the commission, as a copy may be easily obtained by any reader. The fact that this report is likely to form the basis of a new policy to be adopted by the department of agriculture at Ottawa should give its contents a special interest for Canadian owners of cattle and swine. The time is evidently ripe for such a departure and the minister's hands will no doubt be strengthened by the steadily growing sentiment of the part of the public in favor of such action.

In the meantime and until a definite policy is announced, a careful study of this publication should be made by every farmer and breeder in the country. Whether or not it may be to his advantage to buy his plans forthwith, in accordance with the proposed scheme as therein outlined, will remain for him to decide, but the information which the report contains is of immediate practical value and should not be neglected. It may be obtained by addressing the Veterinary Director General, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

THE RAIN

We knew it would rain, for all the morn,
A spirit on slender ropes of mist
Was lowering its golden buckets down

Into the vapoury amethyst
Of marshes and awnings and dismal fens,
Scooping the dew that lay in the flowers,
Dipping the jewels out of the sea
To scatter them over the land in showers.

We knew it would rain, for the poplars showed
The white of their leaves; the amber grain
Shrunk in the wind, and the lightning now
Is angled in tremulous skeins of rain.

CITY GOVERNMENT

The city of Montreal, which has a city council and board of control, finds that the two bodies are in constant conflict. That which the board of control desires to do for civic improvement is opposed by the aldermen, not so much because it is not wise as because they desire to discredit the board of control, and get back to the old system of doing business by civic committees, with all the opportunities which it gives for petty patronage and graft.

In the Maine Central station in Cathance, Me. is a box with a slit in the top in which the agent places his way bills for freight. A few days ago the agent found that a bird had built a nest and laid four little blue eggs in it. The slit in the box was so small that he could not believe the bird could pass through it and thought that someone had placed the nest and eggs there for a joke. He waited developments and soon found that the bird was really the offending party. He wired the Maine Central office in Portland as to what he would do and was directed not to disturb the bird.

Daily Hints For the Cook

PINK AND WHITE SHORTCAKE Two cups of pastry flour, four level teaspoons of baking powder, one-fourth cup of butter, about three-fourths cup of milk or enough to make a soft dough and two egg yolks. Rub the butter into the flour, add the beaten yolks, one half of the milk and mix, using the remainder of the milk if needed. Roll one half inch thick, cut with biscuit or cookie cutter and bake in a moderate oven. Break apart, fill with sweetened, mashed berries and whipped cream. Sprinkle with powdered sugar. Serve with a bowl of sweetened, mashed berries and whipped cream. In this way the little cakes do not become soaked with the cream or juice.
MUSHROOM STEWED WITH CREAM Prepare a pound of mushrooms by paring off the ends. Clean and wash well, and if very large cut in halves. Drain and place in a saucepan with three ounces of butter. Season with salt and pepper and cook five minutes. Add two tablespoons of the white sauce made from a tablespoonful of butter and one of flour, blended, then cooked with three fourths cup milk to a smooth cream. Add also a half cupful sweet cream to the mushrooms; cook three minutes longer and serve in a hot dish with eight heart-shaped bread croutons for a garnish.

THE HERPICIDE GIRL IS THANKFUL

I am always grateful for real blessings, and I know of nothing I need to be more thankful for than Newbro's Herpicide. Thousands of ladies not only in the United States but all over the world feel the same way about it. To this wonderful scalp and hair remedy they owe their soft, long, beautiful hair.
Mary J. Terry, of Lovejoy, Ill., writes: 'My hair came out until there was just a scanty cover for the scalp. I tried everything I ever heard of or read about until I finally used Herpicide. There is nothing like it. My hair is now covered with new hair. I shall forever praise Herpicide!
Most hair troubles come from dandruff. Newbro's Herpicide removes this dandruff by killing the germ which causes it. It also stimulates a flow of blood which nourishes the follicles. The scalp being healthy, the hair does not come out and the new hair is allowed to grow.
There are other preparations which they say are 'just as good' as Herpicide. It is not advised to try them. Instead of doing any good they may do positive harm.
No one is ever disappointed in Newbro's Herpicide. The results are always the same, always satisfactory. It has been used for years and has the hands of satisfied friends. It is the only genuine original Herpicide. Beware of cheap imitations. There is nothing 'just as good.'
One dollar bottles are sold and returned for good barber shop.
Send 3c. in postage for sample and book to The Herpicide Co., Dept. R., Detroit, Mich. E. Clinton Brown, special agent, corner Union and Alton streets.

METHODISTS NEARLY ALL IN FAVOR OF THE PROJECTED UNION

Vote 101 to Nine in Conference Last Night—Large Sums Subscribed to Mr. Allison Forward Movement
The most important matter occupying the attention of the Methodist conference yesterday was the question of church union. The vote recorded on the matter was 101 for union to nine against. There did not seem to be any marked division of opinion on the question at issue and there was comparatively little debate. Dr. J. R. Inch made a fine address in favor of the project and Rev. Charles Sampson, of Fredericton, spoke against accepting the basis of union.
During the afternoon the claims of the forward movement in Mount Allison University were well presented by Rev. Dr. C. Borden and Rev. Dr. Campbell. Subscriptions were called for and as a result $2,200 were received in large amounts and $3,000 in smaller amounts. Dr. Borden pledged himself for $5,000; E. R. Machum, of this city, for $1,000, and Dr. J. R. Inch for $500.
This afternoon, by invitation of the St. John churches, the members of the conference will enjoy a sail on the river at Indianstone at 2:30 and the return to the city will be made about 5 o'clock. A pleasant time is anticipated.
The report of the assessment of the St. John churches, the members of the conference will enjoy a sail on the river at Indianstone at 2:30 and the return to the city will be made about 5 o'clock. A pleasant time is anticipated.

THE EARLY CLOSING CASES

Five of the early closing cases came up in the police court yesterday afternoon and after evidence had been taken and counsel had outlined their argument, adjournment was taken until Saturday, June 24 that the common council might decide whether or not the law would be repealed.
The cases called presented unusual features and were thought unsatisfactory as test cases. W. H. McDonald said his was the proprietor of the shop 109 Queen street and that he was not responsible.
D. Monahan took the ground that his was a repair shop and that he had a right to keep open.
Wm. Watson contended that he dealt in newspapers and magazine and that he came under class of news agent.
Thomas Ritchie kept open as he was the holder of a beer license.
Morris Jacobson took the ground that he was a wholesale merchant.
Dr. Wilson objecting to the act argued that it was ultra vires of the provincial legislature and that the bye law was in restraint of trade.
Mr. Mullin spoke on the constitutional aspect of the law. Recorder Baxter said that decisions by the Manitoba supreme court and supreme court of Canada respectively had established a legal right of the province to legislate. The cases were then adjourned to the date mentioned.
A stubborn fire took place yesterday at Fredericton, in the beer works of the McKee Company. The damage was not great.

THE COTTON OUTLOOK

(Weekly Market Letter Furnished by J. M. Robinson & Sons.)
The course of prices naturally must depend very largely on whether the dry weather complained of continues until there has been permanent injury to the crop, which, however, is seldom either made or lost during the month of June. There is room for much deterioration from the end of May prospect without jeopardizing the yield to the extent of justifying sensational prices, and while one must naturally hesitate to express any definite opinion when the action of the market hinges so completely upon climatic conditions, as a broad proposition, it seems to us that advance, reflecting the sympathetic influence of old crop strength, and such lively apprehensions of new crop damage still to be actually suffered, should prove more than can be maintained during the height of the marketing season next autumn, unless, indeed, the gloomiest forebodings regarding the outlook in the southwest are realized.

MORNING LOCALS

The Queen square Methodist Sunday school will hold its picnic at Gondola Point on the Kennebecus river, on July 4. If the weather is prohibitive, it will be held on the next favorable day.
Dr. C. F. Gorham, A. W. Sharp, Thomas Christian, Harry Morton and E. W. McCready returned yesterday after spending a week at Arnold Lake, Kings county. They had a very successful few days' fishing.
While repairing his house, 220 Sydney street, yesterday afternoon, William J. Brophy, an elderly man, sustained very serious injuries as a result of falling off a ladder, and last evening grave fears were entertained for his recovery. Among injuries of a less serious nature he had his collar bone and several ribs broken. He fell about fifteen or twenty feet.
At a meeting in the Board of Trade rooms yesterday St. John business men doing business with the West Indies, and Mackenzie Corrish, who is promoting organization of West India leagues for trade purposes, took place. The steamship service was discussed and the league project was favored.

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES

At a meeting of the Moncton common council last night, a committee was appointed to formulate a general policy to apply to new industries coming into Moncton, before giving an answer to the Burton Saw Company, who were thinking of locating in Moncton. The company wanted a loan of $30,000, free water, fixed tax valuation and a free site or $2,000 to wards it.
In England yesterday the C. P. R. management had to pay an additional $125 a month to the sailors on board the S. S. Empress of Ireland. The original demand was for $5 increase but it was split to $2.50 and the $1.25 was extra.

DIVORCE COURT OF NEW YORK IS BUSY

Hundred and Forty Two Couples In a Day

O'REILLY'S CASE

Latest Conviction Recalls Other Noted Ones—His Part in The Thaw Trial—Death of Mrs. George Gould's Mother in France—Gossip of Gotham

(Times Special Correspondence.) New York, June 16.—One hundred and forty-two couples that is, one from each couple—were before the divorce court in a single day this week and asked the court to unloose the summer season and vacations in prospect, the divorce court reached a record attendance. The court was called to pass on a number of cases, most of which were divorces. Justice Gleason, who has lately severed more unions than any other justice in New York, came to Justice Bischoff's assistance and to him were assigned many cases.

The big court room could not accommodate litigants, witnesses and lawyers. Crowds and crowds, from hurling lawyers' knives to utter abandonment after a few hours of wedded life, were whiskered into the ears of the two justices. Then there was some crying as the fair plaintiffs left the stand, also some nervousness. But generally the hearing court is a scene of the divorcee-to-be indicated plainly that the prospect of being disinherited from an unfeeling or cruel spouse was pleasant. Besides, with the beach season about to break, there are advantages in not having any burdening alliances. At least, that was the reason given for the filing of divorce applications by an old lawyer who has not missed the weekly divorce calendar for months.

To Live with the Indians With the intention of spending the next few months with the blackfoot Indians in Montana, Professor C. O. Uhlenbeck, of the University of Wisconsin, arrived here this week accompanied by his wife, Mrs. Uhlenbeck, who shares with her husband the novelty of living with the red men in their native haunts. The professor was there a little more than a year ago and stayed long enough to learn the language. He has written several books on the Indians and has translated many of their tribal songs and myths into Dutch. "We live with the Indians," he said, "my wife and I and I will make a study of their customs, religion, and especially their dances. The men will go to the dance, and they will enjoy the primal scenes as far as possible. They leave their square tents and come to the village for the first time. When I visited them for the first time I found them slow to give their conditions for any one."

Lester O'Reilly's Case The conviction of former Assistant District Attorney Daniel O'Reilly for protecting a group of bond thieves and helping them secure a reward of $50,000 for the return of the stolen securities, has raised the question in many quarters. What is the matter with the New York bar? O'Reilly is the tenth prominent lawyer in the last few years, and several of the chiefs are my good friends. "My wife," Oh, she will enjoy living alone with the Indians. It is no more than getting back to the soil, and that is good for any one."

Interesting Facts Concerning Women

Mrs. Raymond Brown is president of the Woman Suffrage Study Club, organized about a year ago, which now has a membership of considerably over one hundred women of exceptional mental vigor. Mrs. Brown is one of the most delightful speakers among the New York suffragists, gracious and charming in manner, attractive in appearance, and she never refuses to respond to any call for help. She has done excellent service in correcting the misstatements of "Anti Bok," whose notoriety as an obtuse anti-suffragist will probably outlive his fame as an editor. It was Mrs. Brown's Club that sent out to the president of every Suffrage Club in the country the answer to Bok and Barry, which had been an editorial in The Woman's Journal. The reprinting of this editorial in hundreds of local papers brought an avalanche of adverse criticism upon the unhappy editor of the Ladies Home Journal.

Miss Agnes E. Ryan has worked her own way in the world even from childhood. Under all manner of discouragements and privations, she earned her way first through the high school, taking the four years' course in three, and leading her class, and afterwards through Boston University. She did housework, took care of children, acted as hotel waitress with other students in the vacations, made her own clothes and mended them till past repair, rose early and worked late, and helped her family while winning her diploma. After graduation she did four years of Magazine and publishing-house work, and finally went into newspaper work, where she resigned about a year ago to become business manager of The Woman's Journal. The paper that had a circulation of 3390 copies. About 2,000 were brought in by the addition of the subscribers to Progress when the two papers were merged. In a year she has brought the circulation up to more than 15,000 and it is growing at the rate of more than 1000 per cent. Miss Ryan is cheerful and buoyant temperament, a sweet temper, an upright and honorable character, and an extraordinary amount of business ability.

Rev. Anna H. Shaw writes: "We went to England for the banner which the Artists' League made for us when we marched in that first procession three years ago. It was carried in that procession, and has been carried in all the other processions of the Union ever since. We wanted it to be in the parade next Saturday, and fortunately it came in time; and I wanted Lucy Anthony, who is to carry the banner, to be photographed with it, so as to have the picture in this week's Woman's Journal."

For more than a year Miss Lucy Anthony has been Miss Shaw's private secretary. Suffragists describe Fola La Follette as a "darling," and a very able one. She is by profession an actress, and of unusual ability. She has done good service for suffrage, and won much fame by her rendering of "How the Vote was Won."

She is the daughter of Senator LaFollette, and during the recent suffrage work at Albany quite amazed several male listeners by her remarkable exposition of the "insurgent" position. She is even more advanced in her sympathies than is her distinguished father, and suffragists feel proud to name her as one of them.

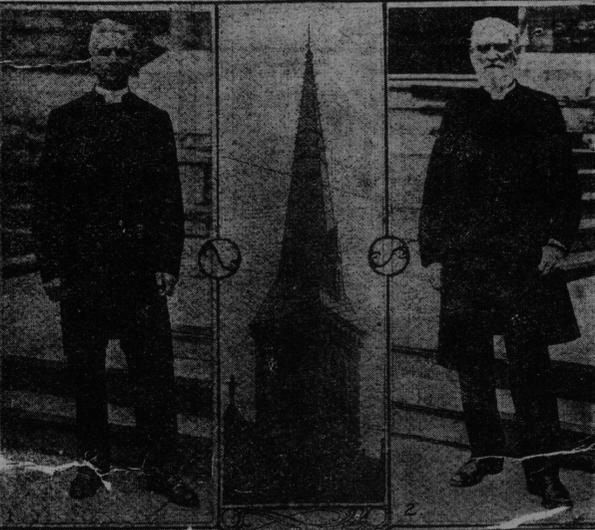

A certain minister says women ought not to vote because suffrage is not a natural right, but a derived right. So is the right of children to a common school education. So is our right to sanitary and police protection. It is not natural. Heaven did not make policemen. But who will say that girls should be shut out from school, or women from police protection, because it is not a natural right?—Rabbi Stephen S. Wise.

I believe emphatically that a woman's place is home; but where is her home? Mine is all the way from Boston to San Francisco, and from Canada to the Gulf. The question is not what a woman should do, but what she can do. Heaven did not make the power to deal with these, but they could wield it effectively.—Mrs. Maud B. Booth.

POSSOR FOR THE PREACHER. A clergyman who enjoyed the substantial benefits of a fine farm was slightly taken down on one occasion by his first ploughman, who was sitting on the plough in the wheat field. The Rev. gentleman being an economist, said, with great seriousness: "John, wouldn't it be a good plan for you to have a pair of pruning shears here and be cutting a few bushes along the fence while the horses are testing a stone?" "John considered a moment and then said: "Look here! Wouldn't it be well, sir, for you to have a tub of potatoes in the pulpit and while the congregation was singing to peel 'em a while to be ready for the pot."—San Francisco Chronicle.

HANDY TO HAVE AROUND THE HOUSE. A fence. A walter. A wife who is in most of the day. A husband who isn't out every evening. A whole week's pay when the month's rent is due. A few children to keep yourself from thinking too much about yourself.—Boston Herald.

THACKERAY CENTENARY TO BE KEPT IN LONDON NEXT MONTH

(By Clarence Cook, in Boston Science Monitor.)

Among the other celebrations of the year in London comes the Thackeray centenary, which will take place on July 19. The members of the Thackeray Club are giving a dinner to the members of the Charterhouse on June 28, in the hall in a corner of the city of London, where those brethren seek an honored retirement as gentlemen who have fallen by the financial war. The club takes its name from one of the many pseudonyms of Thackeray. The place is chosen because of its associations with Colonel Newcome, any more than there was a Michael Angelo Titmarsh. But a dozen lines at the end of a book which some people think follows today have made Colonel Newcome more real than any other of the brethren of the Charterhouse. For Thackeray had the artistic way of painting portraits that are more real than the originals, and his gallery — you may walk around it in your mind with Becky Sharp, the Marquis of Steyne, Dobbin, Major Pennington and his man Margam, Blanche Amory, Harry London, and down to "James Yellowplush" and the "Book of Snobs." But all this you must know and to be passed unnoted. His daughter, who give the knowledge of a loving and clever daughter. But for the rest we have to depend on the scattered reminiscences of many who met that outstanding figure, swiveling his legs over the knickerboard of an omnibus in Regent street and rather ashamed at seeing the "lady in her laund" being recognized. The awful first meeting between Charlotte Brontë and her defied Thackeray when she was disappointed with the giant author of "Vanity Fair." He took a second helping of potatoes at the publisher's dinner. "Oh! Mr. Thackeray, don't! pleaded Charlotte in horror. There are conflicting accounts of his broken nose — the most convincing is the list of a dear friend at the Charterhouse school. But after all we get merely hints of the man who was born in India, wrote in England, studied in Paris as an artist (he was labelled a sentimentalist, both labels are wrong). And "Harry Lyndon — a splendid satire — the supreme expression of what a gentleman ought not to be — well, you scarcely realize until half way through that the whole story is a negation.

The memories of London during the years from 1840 to 1885 went with Thackeray and always as you think of Thackeray you think of him as the man who had at his heart the desire to be a gentleman. He gambled and speculated away a pleasant little fortune before he had to turn to journalism and novel writing. But he "lost his way to Bohemia" very early in life, and had no interest in the places in London where the wild asses graze their thirst. He was looking for a gentleman. The word rung through his writing, and in "Peckwick" there is the suggestion of the Mall Gazette by Captain Shandon, a journal written by gentlemen for gentlemen, which was certainly a paper that Thackeray dreamed of.

He wrote many things in a London that was full of writers who did not come up to his ideal, and that is doubtless the reason why he was labelled as a cynic as he boorishly written (though he had no right to be) about the "gentleman" thing to come. There have been several attempts at making a biography, most of them to be passed unnoted. His daughter, Mrs. Ritchie, has written certain prefaces to a recent edition of his works which give the knowledge of a loving and clever daughter. But for the rest we have to depend on the scattered reminiscences of many who met that outstanding figure, swiveling his legs over the knickerboard of an omnibus in Regent street was present Lord Lytton said, "A generation or two hence our descendants may find in 'Vanity Fair,' that prose epic of our day, more of the social history at least of these times than in the pages of the Times newspaper." It is the prose epic that stands with "Pickwick," viewing life from a different angle. "Thackeray had an eye for 'snobs.' He found a snob in America and in a Roundabout Paper he hints at the love of titles and turns after his laugh. "I meet a born idiot who is a peer and born legislator. The driving noodle and his descendants through life are your natural superior and mine. I see a gold stick, reading backwards before majesty in a procession, and if we laugh don't you suppose the Americans laugh too?" And "Harry Lyndon — a splendid satire — the supreme expression of what a gentleman ought not to be — well, you scarcely realize until half way through that the whole story is a negation.

BUILDING OF WAR SHIPS IN CANADA

W. C. T. U. COLUMN

THE CONQUEROR.

It's easy to laugh when the skies are blue And the sun is shining bright; Yes, easy to laugh when your friends are gay, And there's happiness in sight; But when Hope has fled and the skies are grey, And the friends of the past have turned away, Ah, then indeed it's a hero's feat To conjure a smile in the face of defeat.

It's easy to laugh when the storm is o'er And your ship is safe in port; Yes, easy to laugh when you're on the shore, Secure from the tempest's sport; But when wild waves wash o'er the storm swept deck, And your gallant ship is a battered wreck, Ah, that is the time when it's well worth while To look in the face of defeat with a smile.

It's easy to laugh when the battle's fought And you know that the victory's won; Yes, easy to laugh when the prize you've sought, Is yours when the race is run; But here's to the man who can laugh when the tide is low, For adversity blows, he will conquer to-day, For the hardest man in the world to beat Is the man who can laugh in the face of defeat.

—Emil Carl Aurin in the 'National Magazine.' DRINK AND THE NERVES. Dr. Lorenz, the eminent European surgeon, whose remarkable operations have attracted much attention, emphatically declares the danger of alcoholic drinks. A banquet was given in his honor in New York city, and wine was served. The eminent guest declined it, and politely requested the waiter to bring him a cup of water. This caused him to be asked if he was a total abstainer from the use of wine and other liquors. His answer was as follows: "I cannot say that I am a temperance agitator, but I am a surgeon. My success depends upon my brain being clear, my muscles firm and my nerves steady. No one can take alcoholic liquors without blunting these physical powers, which I must always keep on edge. As a surgeon, I must not drink."—Selected.

DRINK AND SOCIAL REFORM.

"A manly, properly fed, properly housed, properly educated and trained population to meet the trials that are coming upon you. You won't get any of these things unless you get a sober population. What vast sums are wasted in drink which is suffering there in land. It is hardly a family which has not experience of the evils of this traffic. What hindrance to trade and trade societies, benefit societies, how it leads to crime, disease and insanity and deterioration; and blights the rearing of children. And it must be admitted that Thackeray who is a peer and born legislator. The driving noodle and his descendants through life are your natural superior and mine. I see a gold stick, reading backwards before majesty in a procession, and if we laugh don't you suppose the Americans laugh too?" And "Harry Lyndon — a splendid satire — the supreme expression of what a gentleman ought not to be — well, you scarcely realize until half way through that the whole story is a negation.

"I would enable them to do it by a direct vote. "I hope this might be effected directly, but whether it is directly voted or not, the indirect effect will be enormous. The people in the locality will know whether the place ought to be allowed to continue or whether it ought not.

"I will find immediately a magical change in the way in which a good many houses are conducted, from fear of public opinion, public opinion armed and able to give effect to its own decisions. But in order to do this you must break down the connection of this traffic and the misuse and abuse of this traffic, but they cannot deal with the causes. In my opinion it is not possible to try anything unless you give power to the people who suffer to give their own verdict. "I would enable them to do it by a direct vote.

Talk With Mr. Brodeur And Deputy In London

GOVERNMENT'S PLAN

Canadian Ladies in Empire Capital—Sir Wilfrid Proposed To King—Investment Market Congested and Canadian Issues Suffer—Opinions as to Cause

(Times Special Correspondence.) London, June 16.—Had a few moments' chat with Mr. Brodeur and Mr. Desbarats, his deputy, on Friday before they started to spend the Whitsuntide holiday in Paris. Sir Wilfrid Laurier went down to Nassau Court, the delightful seat of the Harcourt on the banks of the Thames about ten miles below Oxford, where Mr. Lloyd George's professor as Liberal Chancellor of the exchequer studied out the details of the graduated income tax and death duties which the "aggressive little Welshman" has so amplified.

Mr. Desbarats told me regarding the serious tender for a naval dockyard and shipbuilding plant received by the government just before they left Ottawa, that no decision could be made until the tender had been considered by the entire cabinet. "No doubt while Mr. Brodeur, Admiral Kingsmill and myself are over here details may be talked over and matters threshed out so as to simplify the decision," he said. "The one desire of the government is to see such an up-to-date plant as exists on the Clyde or the Tyne established in some Canadian port, either on the Atlantic or Pacific coast or on the St. Lawrence of course we must not be the Bush Bepos treaty build warships on the Great Lakes where not only warships can be built as we want them, but where, when government work is in hand, the plant will be busy with the larger and faster type of steamship which the over-grown trans-Pacific as well as trans-Atlantic coasting trade will increasingly call for; also where the dry docking and repairs of vessels twice the size of those now using our ports can be done as well as anywhere else in the world.

"No doubt the tenders will also provide for a dry dock close to the shipbuilding plant, and by so doing may earn a special subsidy such as that given to Victoria Mill for the Montreal dock decided upon. "By giving the tenders six years to complete the four improved British and six destroyers called for they have ample time to assemble their plant and machinery, and make any arrangement like that with Canadian firms for material and labor for the use of both of which, as far as possible, we have specified."

Canadian Ladies in London The reception by the Countess of Creve and the Countess of Jersey to the Daughters of the Empire which was held at the "Ladies' Empire Club" this week was remarkable as one of the largest gatherings of Canadian ladies of the season.

Among those noticed were Mrs. Colin Campbell, Mrs. Sanford Evans, Miss Howland, Mrs. Nordheim, the Misses Nordheim, Mrs. Albert Goad, Mrs. Goad, Mrs. Young Smith, Mrs. Eaton, Mrs. FitzRandolph, Lady Mackenzie and Miss Ethel Mackenzie, Mrs. Grant, the Lady Allan, Mrs. Percy Beatty, Mrs. Cattinack, Lady Mann, Mrs. Eversard Cotes, Miss Marjorie MacCarthy, Mrs. Compton, Mrs. James Scott, Mrs. James Ince, Mrs. Theodore Brough and the Misses Brough, Miss Gave, Miss Joan Arnold, Miss Plummer, Miss Catherine Wollan Merritt, Mrs. Prince, Miss Ross, Miss C. Laing, Mrs. Percy Taylor, Miss Talbot, Mrs. Maurice McMillan, Mrs. Rumsay, Mrs. Maurice Riddell, Mrs. Albert Goad, Mrs. Goad, Mrs. Victor Williams, Miss Mary Clark, Mrs. Loftus, Mrs. and Miss Hartley, Mrs. Robertson and Miss Albury.

Miss Elsie Biorstad was attended by her fiancé Major Sir Hamilton Gould Adams, and received many congratulations upon her approaching marriage.

Canadians at Court Among the Canadians who attended the king's levee last week were Lord Strathcona, the Bishop of British Columbia, Hon. W. J. Brodeur, Hon. J. H. Turgeon, and Kutsuff Macfee. The following were among the Canadian presentations to the king: Hon. Adam Beck, Theodore Burrows, Major Herbert Eckford, Hon. Richd. B. McMillan, Mr. Wright Sifton, Winfield Sifton and Harrison Watson, who were presented by Lord Strathcona; Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. L. F. Brodeur, the secretary of state; Donald Macmaster, M. P., by Right Hon. A. J. Balfour, and Major General Colin Mackenzie by the chief of the imperial general staff.

Stamp in Canadian Investments Notwithstanding the publicity Canada is getting through the presence of dominion and provincial premiers and many other officials, plus a small army of coronation tourists, several classes of company promoters are having a bad disappointment. As often happens, the same idea seems to have occurred to too many people at the same time with the result that the investment market has been over-fled with speculative issues. Unfortunately it is not only the merging and manipulating class of Canadian offerings which has been affected, but the municipal bonds of cities with such a good reputation as Vancouver, Winnipeg and Hamilton have been largely left in the hands of the underwriters here. Your correspondent sought the opinion of two of the best known London firms which handle Canadian issues, and there was a remarkable unanimity in the opinions expressed though each was seen individually, and their general interests are by no means identical. "Merging and over-capitalization in the Canadian industrial world is little short of (Continued on page 10, second column.)

Quick and Permanent Relief from Rheumatism

It is not exposure to cold or wet that is the real cause of rheumatism—it is bad kidneys. So long as the kidneys are doing their work properly, filtering from the blood all the Uric Acid formed there from the waste products of the body, rheumatism cannot exist. It is only when the kidneys fail, and the blood becomes loaded with this Uric Acid, that the slightest exposure stiffens up the joints of muscles and causes agony.

Rev. Father Morrissey

Father Morrissey's No. 7 Tablets

promptly relieve and permanently cure rheumatism by putting the kidneys into perfect shape for their work. Once the strengthened, invigorated kidneys get the Uric Acid cleared out of the blood, the Uric Acid pain disappears. If they ever show symptoms of returning a few No. 7 Tablets will tone the kidneys up again and keep you free from the dreaded rheumatism.

Father Morrissey's No. 7 Tablets have proved their value in hundreds of cases where other remedies have failed entirely.

The Perfect Floor Enamel

"Mustré" finishes a floor with a coat of the most durable enamel that won't show scratches. It can be washed with soap and water like a piece of porcelain—and stands the hardest kind of wear. One gallon will cover 100 square feet. It is easily applied—will dry dust-free in a few hours, and hardens overnight. All colors for floors, porches, etc.

IN MEMORY OF "THE BLACK PRINCE" Noble and brave the Black Prince, Pure was his character, true his armor was not shining silver, Nor had he a helmet of gold.

But black was his handsome steel armor, And black were the gauntlets he wore, That fought at the battle of Crecy, And at mimic battles before.

But, nevertheless, they did conquer, The first time he took to the field, And many the victories thereafter, Whenever he mastered his shield.

And, again in 1356, He donned his armor again, And, off to the field of Poitiers, He led his noble train.

The English had twelve thousand men, The French just five times more, He took King John, a prisoner, And slaughtered knights galore.

He was equal to Napoleon, On the field of Waterloo, He could conquer all the Caesars, That the Romans ever knew.

At last our noble prince took ill, And all the empire mourned, For one, who would have been The best king, crown ever adorned.

But now a king is ruling, No better we could find, His subjects needs are always Uppermost in his mind.

George V. is now our ruler, A great and noble king, And a distinguished sportsman, To him his subjects cling.

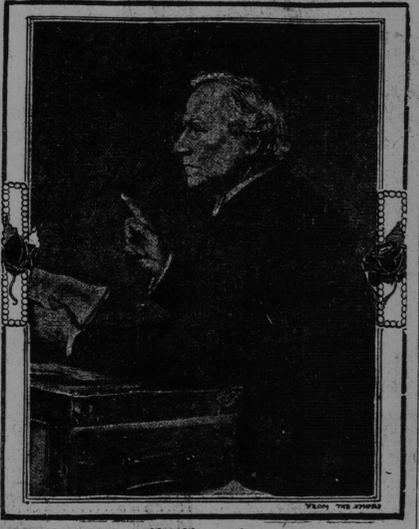

And on June 22nd, He is going to be crowned, And all over his vast empire, There'll be rejoicings far renowned.

We wish him health and happiness, And loudly we will sing, While the Empire all unites, To sing, "God Save the King."

ASQUITH THE OUTSTANDING MAN OF BRITISH EMPIRE TODAY

Four Great Movements Culminating Under His Able Direction—Asquith as Man and Politician—One of the Most Formidable Public Life Has Known

Hon. Mr. Asquith

(Victoria Columnist) Exactly the principal man in the British Empire at the present time, next of course to His Majesty the King, is Mr. Asquith, prime minister. He is at the head of British affairs at the most critical period that has arisen in the history of the country during the last two centuries. It is not necessary for one to agree with his policies before admitting this. His position derives its importance because he is leader of the ruling party at the time when great movements are culminating.

These movements are four in number: That towards complete democracy, that towards social reform, that towards home rule for Ireland and that towards imperial unification. Mr. Asquith created none of these issues; it has simply happened that in the order of events he is at the head of affairs when these questions are pressing for solution. It is therefore interesting to inquire what manner of man he is upon whom such tremendous responsibilities have been cast.

Well Under Skily Herbert Henry Asquith will be fifty-nine next September. He comes of good family, though not a wealthy one. He had the advantage of a university education, Oxford being his alma mater. He made an admirable record there, and was recognized in early life as a man destined to a high place in the affairs of his country.

Mr. Gladstone made his acquaintance, and was attracted to him. He found a place for him in his cabinet, in which he took charge of the home office in 1892, in the early part of his professional career. Mr. Gladstone, however, was not of it, but he exhibited his confidence in his own future by taking to himself a wife before many briefs began to come in. He made his great hit at the bar, when he cross-examined the manager of the London Times in the Parnell trial.

His first wife lived only a short time, and Mr. Asquith re-married, his second choice being Miss Emma Alice Margaret Tennant, usually spoken of as "Margot Tennant," who has the reputation of being one of the most brilliant women in England. Mr. Asquith was chancellor of the exchequer in the Campbell-Bannerman administration.

A Man of Determination Such is a brief sketch of the career of the man who is now first minister to His Majesty, and as such occupies the first place in the realm open to a subject, that is, first in point of influence. But what people will be most interested in is his character. He is a man of resolute determination, but seems a stranger to enthusiasm, if one may judge from his speeches. These are remarkably clear-cut and always go straight to the point. He does not appear to concern himself in the least with the flowers of oratory, and yet he is a good speaker. He impresses his hearers by the force of his logic rather than by appeals to their passions or imaginations. He sees his goal ahead and steers straight for it, relying solely upon his intellectual force.

He is universally respected for his great ability, and those who know him intimately say he is a good companion. Among his few close personal friends in his private political leadership, Mr. Balfour, who is almost his antithesis in personal qualities. Shrewd, far-seeing, painstaking, courageous and at the same time exceptionally able, it is difficult to set a limit to his career. Men may very properly differ as to the wisdom of his policies, but none now deny that he is one of the most formidable public life that has appeared in British public life.

among the wealthy men of Gotham. When the wounded man was taken to the Roosevelt hospital, a search of his clothes disclosed the fact that he did not have a cent of money with him. A few weeks ago, Allan Ryan, president of the Aero Club, and son of Thomas E. Ryan, the multi-millionaire, was arrested in New Jersey for speeding his auto and when arraigned before a local justice of the peace found himself similarly situated.

Yot long ago, J. E. Thompson owned to being in the same fix. Whether it is coincident with or simply a matter of convenience, it is interesting to note that several millionaires nowadays consider it essential when journeying around New York to carry cash. "However they get their 'marker' is good for all they order, so that there is rarely any excuse for lurching themselves with cash. As for carrying cash, they have their machines they never find themselves in need of the fare.

In a city where money is the common litch of all men and the open sesame to that which poor and rich alike covet, the aversion of the plutocrat to having it around his clothes presents a paradox that is hard for the man who hungers for that which his wealthy brother esteems as a nuisance, to understand.

Must Pay Duty on Puppies There is one article on the revised schedule of dutiable articles that traveling Americans, returning from abroad this summer, will be unable to smuggle past the custom since. Despite the stringent regulations it is admitted that hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of jewelry and wearing apparel will be brought back by homebound voyagers, without giving Uncle Sam his title. The one thing that will be unable to escape the espionage of the custom inspectors, however, is the pet dogs taken to the other side by Americans. Under the law, the canine must pay duty, even when originally purchased in this country.

One of the first to feel the effects of the new regulation was Grace Carlisle, an actress, who arrived on the steamship Celtic. Miss Carlisle brought with her Brownie, a brown Pomeranian dog, which was presented to her by an American friend in London. The dog came from the country, and Miss Carlisle had papers to prove it. She had to pay $10 duty.

The customs men did not enjoy the task of collecting the duty, for no regulation from the treasury department has met with as much disfavor. The customs of the law believe the regulation will be withdrawn under the protests which must come or that the law-makers will repeal the section of the law making the collection possible.

It is a shame the way some people forget to remember.

Divorce Court of New York is Busy (Continued from page 7) Drew, Mrs. Gilbert, and other celebrities of the stage. Her beauty and grace captivated New York and brought to her the unsolicited attention of hundreds of wealthy young men, among them George Gould.

Mrs. Gould was a woman of many talents, the good name of her real looking daughter, acted as her chaperone in those days, securing her to and from money in sunshine and storm, never leaving the young woman out of her sight until she became the host of stage folk, who find the marriage tie irksome after a few years. Mrs. Gould, who rests in her maturity of her very physical attractions, has been an uncommonly contented wife.

In the twenty-five years that have intervened, her mother continued her guide and faithful counselor, respected and loved as like by George Gould and her daughter. With the possible exception of Mary Anderson, "Our Mary," who left the stage to become the wife of one De Nevins, a multi-millionaire, the stage world holds no more interesting example of a successful and at the same time happy marriage than that of Mrs. Gould.

Elaborate preparations are being made for the reception of General Booth, the aged head of the Salvation Army, who before submitting to the operation, which is to determine whether he shall become totally blind or recover his sight, has announced his intention of coming to the United States, on what he expects will be his last visit to this side of the Atlantic.

General Booth, his son, who will succeed him as the head of the Army on his death, will accompany him. There is something pathetic in the devotion of the latter for his father, who is totally blind in one eye, and can hardly see out of the other. This solicitude is all the more touching because the younger man is himself afflicted with a defect of hearing, which makes it necessary for him to carry an ear trumpet.

Realizing that he has but a few years left to live, he has left to the General, who wants to review his faithful followers on the American continent and give them his parting injunction.

Wealthy But No Money The shooting of W. E. D. Stokes, the millionaire hotel man, by two women whom he claims tried to blackmail him, has served to emphasize anew a practice that is becoming more and more common

"ELECTRICITY IS LIFE"

If you want to get up in the world and make your mark; if you want to be pointed at as a successful man; if you want to be a Man among men, you must be full of electricity—vitality. Brooding over your trouble—spending hours and hours regarding your past follies and mistakes—depriving of help will not add to your capital of nerve power—will not help you down the shadows and get you into the sunlight of happiness and success.

You aren't the only fellow after-plum—the high places. Thousands are in the strife, and the prizes go to the wide-awake—the men of courage and energy.

Life is made of hurry and worry, hard knocks and excitement. You Have Heard It Said That Opportunity Knocks But Once in a Lifetime

The fact is, she makes several calls, but she doesn't come with a brass band to wake you up. Nature carved you in the image of a man, a man you can be, as we can show you the way. If you have fallen by the wayside, if you have succumbed to temptation and folly, if you have exhausted your vitality through excesses, over-work or worry, use your God-given brains and judgment for a few moments.

Take an inventory of yourself. Seek the truth. Study your weakness. Don't further wreck your nervous system and befuddle your brain with drugs, stimulants, but use that great wondrous power, Electricity, as we apply it with DR. McLAUGHLIN'S ELECTRIC BELT

I can point to hundreds of men today who came to me broken in health and dispirited—absolute physical wrecks, hopeless, dependent, who followed my advice, used my Belt, regained their strength and vitality, and are now getting on in the world. Many of them say that my Belt saved their lives.

Dear Sir:— Please accept my sincere thanks for your Belt. It has done wonders for me. I have not felt a pain in my back for a long time, although I am on my feet 15 hours out of the 24. I would have written before but I have been very busy. I know my belt will do a lot of good for me. Yours, respectfully, R. V. DUNPHY, Canby, N. B.

Dear Sir:— I commenced wearing one of your Electric Belts the first day of April last. I must say that I was in a pretty bad state at the time. My stomach was completely worn out, and my back so lame that I could neither sit down or get out of my chair without help. I continued to wear the Belt according to instructions, and on the first of June was able to get out and do some work, and the first of July was feeling quite well, and able to go on a short home trip. During the time that I had been wearing your Belt, I gained fifteen pounds in weight. And now, after I had returned to my work, I was able to do it, and I was able to do it, and I was able to do it. Remaining yours truly, EDWARD GILLIE, New Elberon, Guys Co.

JAS. HATT, Beach Hill, N. S., says: "The pins in my chest and back are all gone and I have gained fifteen pounds in weight. It is a pleasure to say that I have found a remedy that would cure me of my aches and pains."

A DOCTOR'S OBT TO THE SICK AND WEAK To the people who want to be strong, we want to tell you that I offer a book which will show them the road to happiness—a book of 80 pages, which is full of the things they like to read, which will give them courage and enlighten them as to the cause and cure of their troubles. It will point out the pitfalls and guide them safely to a future of strength and vitality. It is beautifully illustrated. It tells what other people have suffered and how they have cured themselves. It is free. I will send it, closely sealed, without marks, if you will mail me this coupon. If you are not what you ought to be, and for it today.

FREE BOOK FOR MEN AND WOMEN Get my 80-page book describing my treatment, and with illustrations of fully developed men and women, showing how it is applied. This book tells in plain language many things you want to know, and gives you a lot of good, wholesome advice for men. I'll send the book, in plain wrapper, prepaid, free, if you will enclose this coupon. I want to convince every sufferer that he can get benefit from my treatment. Nobody should be without it, for it's cheap enough, far cheaper than a course of doctoring, and I want everybody to try it. Let every sufferer who can do so call at my office and make a full test of my battery free of any charge.

If you can't call, send this coupon for my book. Office hours: 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. Wednesday and Saturday till 8.30 p. m.

QUARTER CENTURY PARTED, THEY MEET BY CHANCE AND WEDDING FOLLOWS

Parted from the man to whom she was engaged to be married for twenty-five years, Miss Anna Augustus Soffel is now Mrs. Jacob Veit and the couple are now on their honeymoon. The wedding took place in the Protestant Episcopal church at Richmond Hill Circle, L. I., and following it was a reception in the ballroom of Richmond Hill Circle Volunteer House.

romantic affairs in the history of the district. Twenty-five years ago Miss Soffel, whose father was a prosperous milk dealer of Brooklyn, was engaged to Mr. Veit, but the young man was ordered west for his health a short time before the time set for the wedding. He went to California and wandered from one town to another and after a couple of years the couple lost track of each other.

Through competition the girl's father had in vain searched for the girl to whom Miss Soffel appeared. He had returned from California three years ago and had in vain searched for the girl to whom he had been engaged. Then he read the story about her in the newspaper and decided he was as ready to marry the woman as he was before his health forced him to leave this part of the country. Mrs. Veit is 55 years old and the bridegroom is 60.

MONTREAL BOASTS 50 MILLIONAIRES

Names and Chief Sources of Wealth of Men of Mighty Financial Resources in the Big Canadian City

- Montreal is fast becoming the financial centre of Canada. While it is true that other cities in Canada, such as Toronto, Winnipeg, Vancouver, etc., are progressing rapidly and adding to their wealth, the fact remains that Montreal is the largest and wealthiest of our Canadian cities. A variety of reasons contribute to this condition of affairs. The city is one of the oldest in the country, and, consequently, was given a start over other centres. It is the head of ocean navigation and the headquarters of two of our greatest transportation systems. These facts, with an abundance of cheap labor, make it a great manufacturing centre, as well as a great wholesale and distributing point.
- As an indication of the wealth of the city, we have only to take recognition of the fact that there are in the city today at least fifty men who are in the millionaire class. Some of these are multi-millionaires while scores of others must be regarded as wealthy men, having resources of anything from a quarter of a million to three-quarters of a million dollars. The following list shows the number of millionaires in the city, and in a brief summary is shown the sources of their wealth.
- However, in a summary of this kind the most of necessity be a certain amount of vagueness regarding the list of millionaires, and, to a greater extent, regarding the source of their wealth. Some times men who are millionaires so disguise their wealth as to deceive the public, while on the other hand, cases have been known where men were far from being millionaires, yet lived in such a manner as to convey the impression that they were millionaires many times over. In giving the sources of wealth only one or two of the outstanding sources have been mentioned. In the following list only the outstanding sources of their wealth have been mentioned:

STRAUSS HEAVEN

Senator Dewar, at a recent dinner in New York, said of Richard Strauss's music: "To hear Strauss's 'Elektra' or his 'Domestic Symphony' always makes me think of the old paper who said: 'Ah, there's as much I shall see for myself in all a wee bit parlor, all playin' different tunes. I just thoct I was in heaven!'"

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS. THE ANKLET. (Kingston Standard.) The ankle is the latest craze in jewelry. Mrs. Howard P. McCormick of Chicago has introduced the fad and a curio dealer in Atlantic City is offering anklets for sale, his curio reading: "This anklet will be the correct thing with all well dressed bathers this season. Call and see this of filigree silver, with or without extra ornamentation and made to fit any person." As the anklet was originally simply a badge of servitude, this is certainly a curious revival of a custom fallen into disuse for centuries.

ST. JOHN ATTRACTING TOURISTS; DATES ARE SETTLED FOR PARTIES

Hotels and Steamship Men Anticipate a Good Season—Three Agencies Interested in This Summer's Business

Indications present encouraging prospects to those interested in tourist traffic in St. John for the coming summer, and it is expected that, in spite of the fact that some who might otherwise come this way, will probably be in England for the vacation, the year 1911 will be a big one for the New Brunswick tourist travel.

The steamship companies and the rail ways are expecting business to be exceptionally bright this year, and are looking ahead to a busy season, while the local hotels anticipate a rush during the summer months, starting about the middle of July and lasting until well into September.

An indication of the anticipated tourist travel this year is the fact that already many inquiries as to accommodations have been made at local hotels by people residing abroad. Both the Dufferin and Victoria have been in receipt of communications bearing on tourist travel and the Royal Hotel has made several important bookings. Beginning on July 15, when a party under direction of the Raymond-Whitcomb people are expected to arrive, until well into September, parties of tourists ranging in number from twenty-five to fifty have been supplied with dates.

The Beekman Tourist Company have been provided with accommodation for the same opening date, July 18, and both companies have also made bookings for parties on July 23 and August 8, while they have arranged to come separately on other dates. The Gillespie Kinaport Tourist Company is another one which has asked for and received bookings during the coming summer at the Royal, and they will make their first visit on July 20.

NEW PASTOR FOR TIME WAS PRINCIPAL OF NORTH END SCHOOL

Rev. Miles McCutcheon to Take up Work in Brussels Street Baptist Church Tomorrow—His Brilliant Career

After a most successful year at the Newton Theological College, representing the final stage of a brilliant scholastic career, Rev. Miles McCutcheon will enter upon his duties as pastor of the Brussels street Baptist church tomorrow morning. He arrived here on Thursday evening, and is at present residing with his mother, Mrs. Catherine E. McCutcheon, of 134 Main street.

Born at the Narrows, Queens County, about thirty years ago, he is the son of the late Porter McCutcheon. In his youth he prepared himself for the provincial normal school. Holding a first class superior license he taught school for several years and during the last two years of this he was principal of the Newman street school of the north end.

Rev. Mr. McCutcheon next spent four very successful years at Acadia University. At the end of that period he was graduated with the B. A. degree and honors in Philosophy. For two years he was leader of the intercollegiate debating team, which was successful in carrying off the honors from Dalhousie in St. Francis Xavier. During his senior year he was president of the college Y. M. C. A. He also held the pastorate at Billtown for two and a half years, during his college course.

Spending the summer after graduation on the circuit of Paradise, N. S., he entered the Newton Theological Institution in the fall of 1909. For fully half the time spent at Newton Rev. Mr. McCutcheon has supplied in churches of Massachusetts. In the evening exercises held on Thursday, June 8, he was granted a B. D. degree. He was also one of the commencement speakers, delivering an eloquent and persuasive address on "Christianity as a motive force in the Modern World."

The Brussels street church is not unaware of the effective power of the pulpit work of their new pastor, for he spent the vacation of last summer supplying in their pulpit. He succeeded Rev. A. B. Cohen, who accepted a call near the first of May of last year to the First Baptist church of Halifax.

Tomorrow the new pastor will commence his permanent duties with very bright prospects. In the morning he will preach on "The Conquering Christ." The sermon of the evening will be based on the words found in John 4:38: "I sent you to reap that where ye have not labored; other men labored and ye are entered into their labors."

MEMORIAL TABLET TO BE PLACED TODAY IN TRINITY CHURCH

The memorial tablets in Trinity church will be added to by another fine one to be placed in position today by R. H. Green & Son, engravers. It is the gift of Edward C. Dumont, of Montreal, in memory of Jonathan Sewell and his wife, Esther Sewell, of whom Mr. Dumont is a descendant. The Sewells were loyalists of prominence. Mr. Sewell was at one time Attorney-General of Massachusetts and later judge of admiralty in Nova Scotia. The tablet is a magnificent specimen of the engravers art.

Out of deference to the wishes of the donor, there will be no formal unveiling. The tablet is a handsome one 26x20 1/2 inches mounted on oak and is inscribed as follows:—

To the Glory of God,
In Memory of
Jonathan Sewell
Born in Boston, Mass. 1728
Attorney General Massachusetts
1767-1775
Judge of the Vice Admiralty Court of Nova Scotia etc. 1768-1787
Died in this City 1796
Interred in Judge Purnan's Vault
Also in Memory of his wife
Esther
fifth daughter of Edmund Quincy
Born 1738, died in Montreal 1810
Interred in Mount Royal Cemetery
The Tablet will be placed on the south wall of the knave between the Dr. Bayard memorial and the chancel.

HOW THE CORONATION DAY PROGRAMME HERE LOOKS AT PRESENT TIME

Church Services, Parades, General Decoration of City, and Brilliant Illumination in Evening

With any kind of weather, Coronation Day will be royally observed by the citizens of this city. As reported from time to time preparations are being already made for a great celebration of the day and all that is needed now is the assistance of the weather man to make it a grand success. The public buildings will be decorated and strung with lights, and the scene at night will be a very pretty one. King streets will be illuminated with many colored lights, as at exhibition time. The court house will be decorated and illuminated.

The parade of the Catholic societies will be the chief morning attraction and the military, the polymorphian and society turn out will be eagerly awaited in the afternoon. At night a big illuminated parade of firemen and others will take place, to be concluded with a protechnic display. The St. John Power Boat Club members will also have an illumination at their club house at Indiantown as will also the R. K. Y. C. at Millidgeville. The following is the programme of coronation events for the day as far as now arranged:—

Morning
Catholic societies parade from King street east to the cathedral for special service which will begin at 9 o'clock.
Church service attended by civic officials in St. Paul's (Valley) church.
Special coronation service in Centenary church.

Afternoon
Military parade, and parade of Polymorphians and fraternal societies.
Evening
Torch light procession.
Firemen in King Square.
R. K. Y. C. at home at Millidgeville.
St. John Power Boat Club illumination at Marble Cove Club house.

FIVE BROTHERS SOLDIERS ON THE TRIP TO BOSTON

When the train, carrying the 62nd Regiment left last evening it took along among the men five soldiers of the regiment, who are brothers—Thomas, Harold, Robert, Richard and Herbert, all sons of Wm. J. Evans, of Wentworth street.

NEW HOUSES IN ELLIOTT ROW

Three new residences are going up in Elliott Row, all near Wentworth street, and with the new roadway work referred to in the Times yesterday, are making quite a stir in a usually quiet residential section.

On the corner of Wentworth street, on the Jones' lot, nearly opposite Hon. R. J. Ritchie's home, a four family structure, really two houses each for two tenants, is being erected and the foundation is well advanced. The home will be of wood, two stories in height. Messrs. Watson and Carson are building the one directly on the corner.

On the opposite side of the street and just beyond the Wentworth street corner, Dr. E. N. Davis is constructing a two story house, the contracts are in the hands of Messrs. Brown, of Fairville. The latter are putting up a woodworking factory in Fairville for themselves and are about ready to install the machinery.

SCARLET CHAPTER.
There was a meeting of Scarlet Chapter, L. O. L., last night at which two candidates were exalted. Twelve applications were received for exaltation.
