PROGRAMME FOR
BOARD OF TRADE

At the Annual Meeting Next Week in St. John

A Number of Important Subjects Will be Taken up for Discussion.

The Maritime Board of Trade meets at St. John on Wednesday, the 21st instant. Sec. Creed in a circular letter just received, states that arrangements have been made with the Intercolonial, Canadian Pacific, Dominion Atlantic and Halifax and Southwestern Railways for one first class fare. Delegates when purchasing tickets will please ask for a "standard certificate" form, which on being signed by the secretary at the close of the meeting will entitle them to a free return up to and including the 21st instant.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—The prospects of a strike of the 3,900 local telegraph operators are dimming as the United States and Canada. David C. Dawson, superintendent of the Western Union Telegraph Co. in this city, said he has yet received no intimation of a strike from his men. He philosophically remarked "such things are like the wind and heaven, and no man can foretell what will happen."

Yarmouth—The advisability of the Dominion government taking over the railways of western Nova Scotia and making them a part of the I. C. R. system.

Board of Trade 8

GOAL-STEEL CASE AT SYDNEY TODAY

Expert Evidence for Defence Was Continued

Dr. Ami, the Noted Geologist, Puzzled the Court With a Dictionary of Scientific Terms.

SYDNEY, Aug. 12.—The court opened at the usual hour this morning, with a smaller attendance than usual, but no appreciable lessening of the feminine interest.

The first witness called for the defendant company was Patrick Nevill, who was directly examined by H. A. Lovitt, K. C. He said he was one of the deputy inspectors of mines for the province for some years. He was 74 years of age. During the greater part of his life he had been connected with mining.

He had been manager and underground manager at the International mine. He had been there about 14 years. After that he had been prospecting. He was familiar with the location of the different mines of the Dominion Coal Co. He remembered the Clyde or Ontario mine since forty years ago. This mine was opened on William Phalen's land. Phalen lived on the east side of Big Glace Bay. There was a brook running down by the old Clyde workings called the Phalen Brook. This was called the Phalen pit about fifty years ago. There was a well on the west side of Glace Bay but the Lingam mine after that came the International and then the Phalen seam.

Reports Show That There Has Been a Large Attendance During the Summer and That Much Good Work Has Been Done

The public playgrounds closed today and a most successful season's work was brought to a close. The playgrounds were opened for the first time a year ago and during the two summers have been crowded each fine day with children. The little ones were given much enjoyment and at the same time were taught many things which are bound to be beneficial to them.

The Winter street school playground closed this morning. A large number of visitors were present and the following very interesting programme was carried out: Chorus "Up with the Union Jack"; address, Miss Mabel Peters; solo, Master Harry Tremblay; report of the supervisor, Miss J. K. Sutherland; solo Harry Erb; address, Mayor Sears; recitation, Miss Jeanette Craig; chorus, by six children; drill by sixteen children; chorus, "The Maple Leaf"; "God Save the King."

Miss Peters made a brief but interesting report. She expressed herself as being much pleased with the success which has attended the efforts of ladies and gentlemen who have tried to make the playgrounds a grand institution for the children.

Miss J. K. Sutherland, the supervisor, read a very encouraging report. She was pleased to state that the work done during the summer was most successful. The attendance was good. The average morning attendance was from 70 to 100 and the afternoon attendance from 120 to 200. From six to twelve visitors were present at the grounds every day. Several persons have informed Miss Sutherland that changes have taken place in the children's behavior since they have attended the playgrounds. The teachers who voluntarily gave their services at the Winter street grounds this summer were: Miss Foulis, art teacher; Miss N. Robertson, pianist; Miss J. K. Sutherland, supervisor.

The Centennial school grounds closed this afternoon. Commenting at 2 o'clock, the following programme was carried out: Chorus, "The Maple Leaf"; report of the supervisor, Miss D. B. Miller; solo, Miss Beattie Hill; physical culture drill; speech, Mayor Sears; recitation, Murray Moore; solo, Miss Grace Cunningham; step dance, Master Whalan; recitation, Miss Greany; duet, Misses Flo. Ward and Edna Erb; chorus, "Dear Canada"; God Save the King.

Miss Miller's report showed that this season's work had been carried out on a larger scale than last summer. The daily attendance averaged 200. The teachers at these grounds were: Miss Foulis, art teacher; Mrs. Chisholm, pianist; and Miss Miller, supervisor.

UNION PRINTERS AT HOT SPRINGS

Fifty-Third Session of the International Typographical Union Opens Today.

Many Delegates and Visitors Attend—President and Secretary Submit Reports, Showing Progress Made—Immense Sum Expended for Eight-Hour Day.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Aug. 12.—The fifty-third convention of the International Typographical Union was called to order this morning in the spacious dining room of the Eastman hotel, which was temporarily converted into a convention hall.

The report of President Lynch is a comprehensive document, and covers the progress made by the International Typographical Union for the period elapsing since the Colorado Springs convention, and also outlines new policies and touches upon those that have become a part of the work and history of the organization.

In the president's report the proposition to pension the superannuated and incapacitated members of the union given considerable space. This feature, if adopted, will be a new venture for the union, but it is looked on with much favor by the delegates, and undoubtedly a proposition embracing the pension feature will be submitted to a membership vote of the International Typographical Union.

This Union, on the introduction of typesetting machines, avoided the error committed by other trade unions in fighting the machine, and encouraged and advised the members to learn the operation of the new device.

Another most important proposition touched upon in the president's report embraces the sanitary conditions in composing rooms throughout the country. The president strongly advises that local unions insist on healthful workrooms, and without question the convention will endorse the president's recommendation.

The arbitration agreement between the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, and the International Typographical Union, is given extended notice in the president's report. It is shown that about 200 of the larger newspapers of the country have arbitration contracts with the International Typographical Union.

A STEADY FIRE

During the discussion of the Madden bill for cheaper gas, Congressman L. Gave told the following story of a cook he had once brought from home with him. She was a splendid servant, but she didn't know anything about gas to cook with, so he went to the kitchen to explain about the range.

CRICKET AT FREDERICTON.

FREDERICTON, Aug. 1.—The cricket match yesterday afternoon on Cricketer's field, attracted a large attendance which included many ladies. The game was between the eleven who recently played the Massachusetts cricketers, and an eleven chosen from members of the club. The result was a most disastrous defeat for the former who were captained by Mr. Decker.

THE WESTERN FEVER.
Reports from the West indicate that although the crops have suffered to a certain extent through the unfavorable weather conditions, they will still require the attention of a great many more men than are available there. A call is being made for 20,000 harvesters from Eastern Canada to aid the farmers of Maine, Saskatchewan and Alberta in driving their grain. The Maritime Provinces will undoubtedly be asked to furnish four or five thousand of these helpers. Western Canada is a good place for men to keep away from just at the present time, not that there is any business depression or a probability of failure there, but because the demand for men in the Maritime Provinces is keener than it ever has been in the past and it is a duty of all residents to pay attention to their own province first. The desire to travel is of course a great inducement in taking men to the west, for it cannot be shown that those who go out simply to assist in the harvest enjoy any material prosperity which would not come to them if they remained at home. They purchase cheap tickets to Winnipeg or other points and on arriving there are able to earn from $20.00 to $40.00 a month with board for a period of three months while working on the farms. By going west they simply lose the price of the ticket along with whatever amount they spend during their stay. Any man who is capable of earning a laborer's wage in Manitoba can make more money and enjoy greater comfort by staying at home. New Brunswick farmers are now paying and are willing to pay as high as $1.50 per day with board, for all able bodied men willing to assist them with their work, and those farmers find it impossible to secure sufficient help. If one or two thousand New Brunswick men go west to garner the grain New Brunswick will suffer, the majority of the men will not receive any good, but the west will be of course prosper, but question is, have we not already done enough for the west, and is it not time to attend to our own interests?

NO UNEMPLOYED.
Sir Francis Oppenheimer, a British Consul General of Germany, with office at Frankfurt, pictures Germany as a land where there are no unemployed, a country which has work for all and to spare in his annual report to the British foreign office, which was presented a few days ago, he states that conditions of the labor market of Germany during the year 1906 were absolutely unparalleled. During the year 1903 and in March, which was the best month of that year, there were one hundred and twenty-one applicants for every one hundred vacant positions, as shown by the German labor department. In 1906 for practically the whole year there were jobs for every one, while in August and September the number of applicants were eighty-seven for each one hundred vacant positions; from this he claims there ceased to be any unemployed. In some industries the scarcity of men was particularly felt. It was calculated that the coal mining industry could have employed 20,000 additional hands had there been any possibility of satisfying the demand, but there was no chance of obtaining even a portion of the additional labor required. After all Germany is in no way ahead of Canada, for every industry in this country feels a need for men, and the few who are unemployed are that way through their own desire.

THE LANDING OF THE PILGRIM FATHERS—and mothers and children, which took place at Provincetown, Plymouth in November, 1620, will be commemorated on Aug. 20th by the unveiling of a monument at the former town. Provincetown, and Plymouth have had a lengthy controversy as to which has the better right to the monument. Judging by the number of those in the United States who now trace their lineage back to these early settlers, the Mayflower must have had a passenger list large enough to provide colonies for every township in the republic.

Wentworth Conservatives have chosen Colonel Ptolemy as their trump for the commons. Let us hope that he is a higher card than his predecessor Ramesse II, who has recently been convicted of borrowing from the discard. Even at the best of times these Pharaoh layouts, spades omitted, show evidence of double dealing.

Rev. A. B. Simpson, conducting revival services at Old Orchard, induced the congregation to part with $62,376 yesterday. The Seaman's Mission and Champlain monument committees should engage him for a day.

CONCERNING BIRTHDAYS.
I had a birthday long since,
But did not think it fit To say so, for it's grown so old I'm quite ashamed of it.
It really is too bad, I think,
Or, if that's asking 'most too much,
That we should have so few Devices of the proper sort To keep our birthdays new.
Each year that comes to me, Perhaps is exorbitant
To ask for one to last,
But certainly, it seems to me,
They wear out very fast.
So fast, indeed, that looking back Upon the ones I know I think them less well made these days Than thirty years ago.

However, I shall not complain Whatever birthdays be,
For other people get no more Each year than comes to me.

THE LISTENERS.
With many a dip to nip the yield A bee flew over the clover field.
Its flight was soft as a drifting cloud, The sound of its wings was scarce more loud.

His ear attuned to the honeyed lay Nor did it hear a thousand miles away.
The whir of its wings was strong to drown
For him the roar of the babel town.

With many a creak and noise and about The city is tolling hives poured out.
The clamor shattered the morning fair, Nor did it sway on the midnight air.

With eager eyes through the livelong day
The discord drowned in a swelling wave
The tinkling music his cowbells gave.

THE ONLY ANSWER.
"What," queried the youth with the question habit, "do you do when you get into a piece where you can neither go ahead nor back out?" "I simply attend and wear the place out," replied the home-grown philosopher.

IDENTIFIED.
"I see you have arrested a man whose mind is a blank," said a large woman, pushing her way into the police station.
"Yes," "Well, trot him out, John didn't come last night, and that's a pretty good description of him when I've given him a list of errands."

A SENSATION IN CHURCH.
Woman Appeared Minus Hat and Receptor Gave Her a Lecture.
ST. CATHERINES, Ont., Aug. 12—
There was a mild sensation in St.
Catherine's Anglican church, caused by a woman in the congregation being there without a hat. When the rector, Rev. R. Barrington Nevitt, discovered her, as he sat there, he opened a strict rule of the Anglican church, he severely censured her from the chancel, drawing her attention to the fact that the law which says a woman may not appear in church with her head uncovered is one of the most stringent rules of the church. The woman paid little attention to the minister's remarks. Nobody appeared to know who she was, and she was evidently a stranger in town over Sunday. When the contribution plate was passed to her she said in quite an audible tone, "Do you think I would give anything in a place like this?"

LOST.
A sale! a sale!—the maid turned pale
And fainted not upon the strand;
A woman stout cried, "You get out!"
And snatched a bargain from her hand.

HE "DONE" IT.
(Chicago News)
A Chicago lawyer tells how the most popular man in a Nevada town got into difficulty with a disreputable tough—for a long time the terror of the place—and proceeded to "do him up" in a manner entirely satisfactory to the community at large. It becoming necessary, however, to vindicate the majesty of the law, the offender was brought up for trial on the charge of assault with intent to kill. The case went to the jury. When they had been out about two minutes they returned.
"Well, gentlemen of the jury," asked the judge in a familiar off-hand way, "what have you to say?"
"If it please the court," responded the foreman, "we, the jury, find that the prisoner is not guilty of striking with intent to kill, but simply to palm off, and he is done it." So the prisoner was acquitted amid applause.

There will be a meeting of the fire department this evening at half-seven at the King street station. No.
1 salvage corps will meet at the Union street station.

PATRIOTISM.
(By Luca Ames Mead.)
No. 4.
The child must be taught to recognize superior virtue in other nations where-ever they exist, and by explicit instruction be saved from ignorant inferences which foster intolerance and conceit. Three or four generations after the War of the Revolution found the majority of American children looking upon England as the hereditary foe, certain that England still maintained some grudge against us, and that in our relations she had been invariably wrong and we invariably right. Not that they had never been distinctly taught the contrary. It is only recently that even teachers have realized the force of John Fiske's words, that "the war of the Revolution was a war fought between the progressive party and the retrograde party on both sides of the Atlantic," and that admiration of Washington and criticism of George III. are inculcated in English schools as much as in American. The widespread spirit of hostility which like a prairie fire, swept over the country after President Cleveland's Venezuelan message, and which utterly amazed England, was a startling revelation of latent belligerence due largely to a narrow and false teaching of history. The inveterate hatred or contempt for what is alien, the naive assumption that what's different from our own ways marks inferiority, is usually more or less evident in every inimative people, whether they be barbarous or merely young. The use of epithets like "Shenile," "Dago," "Nigger," "Micky," indicates the caste pride and prejudice that exist to some extent in every city school. This spirit in its larger aspects is the patriotism, falsely so-called, which today counterfeits one of the noblest of virtues. Our truly great patriots were never guilty of de-riding or undervaluing our neighbor nations. The spirit of justice, innate in every child, needs only a wider outlook and a genial teacher of judicial mind to enable the pupil to put himself "in the other fellow's place" and give a fair verdict.

If necessary let the study of mound builders and Indians and Spanish explorers be given up for two or three weeks lessons on the Englishmen and constitutions which made New England and the town possible. Let no boy complete his schooling with the Grammar School without appreciation that the long history from Magna Charta to Plymouth Rock belong to him. Let him learn to say with the American poet, England, our mother's mother, come and see.
A greater England here. Come and be at home with us, your children, for there runs the same blood in our veins as in your sons:
The same deep-seated love of liberty Beats in our hearts. We speak the same good tongue Familiar with all songs your bards have sung.
Those large men, Milton, Shakespeare, both are ours.

As Senator Hoar well said: "English literature is perhaps more familiar to the bulk of our people than to Englishmen themselves. We look to English authority in the administration of law and equity, English aptness for command and habit of success, indomitable courage, unconquerable perseverance, have been and are to remain, the American quality. The men of our race who come here acquire and are penetrated with the English, or perhaps without boasting or vanity we may say the American spirit. It is of this pedigree of the spirit, governed by force of which science has yet given no account, that we are taking account today."

It is needless to remark that the teacher of history must succeed in developing the power of imagination and sympathy, if the facts of history are to be comprehended so as to promote either a spirit of patriotism or a true internationalism. The recommendation of books for outside reading should be based on the mood and point of view of the teacher. Unless she herself sees the lesson not as a mere drill in reading, but as an opportunity to stimulate imagination, to arouse emotion, inquiry and thought, she will not know how to utilize one of the greatest of her opportunities.

PEACE.
The very title "Little Cousins" which is given to a certain children's books that reflect the child life of all countries is an illustration of the spirit which should permeate the classes in general history, literature and geography. The reading lesson almost equally with the history lesson furnishes material for the incidental instruction of patriotism and a true internationalism. Whether the reading lesson be a mere study of definition and pronunciation and a bore to every lively boy, or be an inspiration, depends largely on the mood and point of view of the teacher. Unless she herself sees the lesson not as a mere drill
in reading, but as an opportunity to
stimulate imagination, to arouse emotion,
inquiry and thought, she will not know how to utilize one of the greatest of her opportunities.

DEATHS.
WHIPPLE—In this city, on August 11, at 78 Forest street, Katherine Winnifred, daughter of Walter and Margaret Whipple, aged 10 days.
Notice of funeral hereafter.
KAY—Suddenly, at Pettoediac, N. B., on August 6th, David R. Kay, aged 65 years, leaving a son and daughter to mourn the loss of a kind parent.

James Francis Abriel, of Halifax, arrived in the city on Saturday to search for his wife who left her home with another man. Mr. Abriel left his home at Christmas time to work in the woods. He and his wife had never had any trouble and he expected her to be waiting for him when he returned from the woods, about two months ago. But his wife had left and since then Mr. Abriel has been looking for tidings of his wife on Saturday afternoon. After making inquiries he learned that the two were employed in the York cotton mill and were boarding on Union street. Mr. Abriel waited around the house and towards evening he saw the man who had caused the trouble enter. He infor-mated a policeman who told him that a warrant would have to be issued before the man could be arrested. Mr.
Abriel will swear out that document
today.

ENGLISH WOMAN SHOTS FRENCH HUSBAND DEAD
Jealous of His Avowed Love for Another, She Kills Him on Paris Street.
PARIS, Aug. 10.—An Englishwoman who last night shot her husband dead from motives of jealousy at the corner of the Boulevard des Italiens and the Rue LaFitte, was brought up for examination this morning, before M.
Rieux, the police commissary for the Rue Montmartre district. She stated that her husband's name was Charles Florentin Margry, aged 62. He was a widower, his first wife's maiden name being Lillierap, and by his first marriage had a son, now a youth of 15 years.
The woman stated that her husband died at 3 Rue St. Apolline, under the style of Lillierap and Co.
The woman stated that her maiden name was Schoberg, that she is 46 years of age and that she was a native of Dorsetshire, England. She had lived in Paris for thirteen years she had married her employer and a girl, now 3 years old, was born of the marriage.
M. Margry had of late paid marked attention to one of his employees and his wife had insisted that this employee should be discharged. The discovery after this of a postcard, on which her husband and his first wife were photographed walking together, stung in her, had great excitement the wife.
Mme. Margry described the tragedy to the magistrate without emotion. She said that she and her husband went out last night to dine at a restaurant.
While there she taxed him with being in love with a woman worker in their feather-dyeing factory, and he admitted that he was. When they left the restaurant, he remarked: "I am tired of your recriminations, and I have had enough of you. You can go back to London if you like. I will not live with you any longer." Mme. Margry continued: "I was furious and drew a revolver, which I fired at my husband meaning to wound him slightly, but the bullet entered his head and killed him. But he deserved it. No Englishwoman ought to marry a Frenchman."

SILENCE CURE FOR TUBER-

"No talking allowed" is the latest method of curing consumption.
This gain of medical wisdom is bestowed upon long-suffering humanity by the "British Medical Journal." It is to be no half-hearted conversation, no gentle tete-a-tete conversation, but a complete vocal rest in the treatment of laryngeal tuberculosis.
It has been convincingly shown by no less an authority than Sir Felix Simon, the British Medical Journal remarks, but it was not till the advent of the sanna-torium that all the teachings of medical science could be effectively employed.
When the silence cure is tried (and, apparently, it is only suggested for cases of laryngeal consumption), it is admitted that considerable strength of will is needed on the part of the patient, especially as the "silence course" last for quite five months.

SCIENTISTS STILL PUZZLED BY MYSTERY OF A RELIC.

Finder Believes it is the Holy Grail, and Tells Extraordinary Story to Distinguished Audience.

LONDON, Aug. 10.—A small circle of eminent leaders of religious thought, antiquaries, and scientists, are at present discussing with the deepest interest the discovery in remarkable circumstances of a glass vessel of beautiful workmanship and supposed great antiquity, in a spot near Glastonbury Abbey.

The discovery was made by the sister of Wellesey Tudor Pole, of Bristol, and two other ladies, as the result of a suggestion by Tudor Pole that they should go and search in a place which he had seen either in his mind's eye or in what seems to have been a "waking dream."

Tudor Pole has submitted the vessel to various experts, who are unable to assign a date for its origin. It may be 4500 years old. At any rate, it has been pronounced within the last few days to be pre-Venetian.

One of the strangest features concerning it is that it was placed in the spot near Glastonbury nearly nine years ago by Dr. Goodchild, of Bath, a man of much antiquarian knowledge, also as the result of what is described as a "trance," and Dr. Goodchild himself believes, consequently upon his strange experiences, that it is the cup which the Saviour used at the supper, and which, according to the Glastonbury legend, was brought to Britain after the Crucifixion.

EXAMINED IN LONDON.
Tudor Pole communicated his story to an eminent dignitary of the Church of England, in London, with whom he requested attendance at a meeting at the house of the dignitary in London on Saturday last, and narrated all the circumstances concerning the discovery.

THE CUP.
It will be seen that the whole treatment of the "cup" is of a mystical nature. The story which Tudor Pole told to his distinguished audience on Saturday last was of the most extraordinary kind, and although it cannot be said that it was accepted as a statement of hard fact, the gentlemen and ladies present found no reason to entertain the slightest suspicion of the good faith of the narrator.

THE DISCOVERY.
Being unable to spare time from his business to go to Glastonbury, Tudor Pole sent his sister and two other women, one of whom is a "clairvoyante," to the spot. Turning over the mud in the well, the women found, among other things, the mystic glass vessel.

BOLD BANK ROBBERY FOILED BY NERVY JUNIOR BANK CLERK

Victor Lee Tells Thrilling Story of Visit from Desperado While Sitting in Royal Bank's North End Branch, Saturday Night, Who Pointed a Gun at Him, and Demanded $100 or His Life, and Got Neither—Police Skeptical

A tale of five robbers entering the North End branch of the Royal Bank early on Saturday evening and armed with revolvers looking up a clerk and demanding money, but only to have the tables turned on them by the brave employee who covered them with his own gun until the arrival of the police, was the story which spread all over the city Saturday night.

PROPHETIC WOMEN.
While he was staying at the Hotel St. Petersburg, in Paris, in 1886, he states that he fell into a trance, and a figure appeared before him and told him that he was in great danger; that he would be found at Bordighera, a town on the Italian Riviera, in 1886, twenty-two years ago he was at Bordighera, a friend of his told him of a curious glass vessel which was in the little shop of a local tailor. Dr. Goodchild saw and saw it, and was surprised to find that it was apparently a rarity and bought it for $30. He believed at the time that it was a forgery, although he does not claim to be a specialist in glass.

THE SEER'S TRANCE.
Tudor Pole told an equally astonishing story concerning his experience with the cup in London, where he brought it in December last to submit to the authorities of the British and South Kensington Museums. After visiting the museums he went to a reception where there was a "celtic seer," an Irish "clairvoyante." This woman, on seeing Tudor Pole said: "You are connected with a very holy relic." At that moment Tudor Pole was holding the vessel wrapped in a silk handkerchief in his hand. The room was not well lighted. The woman lightly touched the relic, and he says, immediately the room was filled with a strange radiance. Then, according to Mr. Pole, an amazing thing happened. The woman went into a trance and described minutely the "Last Supper" and the Crucifixion. At a later stage in the trance she described a very large church, in the centre of the altar of which she said, was at one time placed this sacred relic. Then she described the scene at Bride's Hill.

YOUNG GIRL HORSEWHIPS
STREET RY. CONDUCTOR

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Aug. 11.—Information against a girl for assault on a man was laid yesterday before Police Magistrate Cruikshank. In a sight of scores of spectators, Polly Hill, a young English girl, employed as a waitress at the Windsor Hotel, administered a severe horsewhipping to a conductor of an electric car that runs across the bridge. He escaped for a time, but received another lashing on coming from the trainman's room, in which he had taken refuge. The reason for the girl's action is that it is said the man had been talking about her in scandalous terms.

The police are still investigating the alleged bank breaking in North End on Saturday night, but fail to find any traces of the bold burglar. They are inclined to think he was not a material being. Percy G. Hall, the manager of the North End branch says that Mr. Lee still sticks to his story of his assailant.

Hugh Roy Maher, the youngest son of John Maher, caretaker of the new Catholic cemetery, died this morning after a short illness. The boy was nine years old and was a general favorite with all persons living along the road. His death will be regretted and sympathy is extended to his sorrowing parents.

At a meeting of the sub-committee of the Board of Works this morning, tenders were opened for the new boiler to be installed in the city hall. One other tender from the St. John Iron Works was received.

In the police court this morning four drunks were fined $5 each. Peter Conaher pleaded not guilty to drunkenness and said he was sick. Deputy Chief Jenkins said he found the man in a fit on Queen Square and being attended by Dr. Emery. The ambulance was ordered, but the man refused to go in it. He was arrested, and during Sunday had a number of fits and was attended by Dr. Berryman. He did not know if the man was drunk and did not smell liquor on him. Conaher was remanded to jail, and orders given that he receive medical treatment.

A basket of luscious tomatoes placed outside the grocery store of W. Green-shields, on Main street, were today seen by a boy whose hunger overcame his scruples. The boy grabbed several of the tomatoes and was walking leisurely away until he heard a slight noise behind. The proprietor had seen the act and was giving chase. The boy perhaps on account of his hunger was better able to run than the heavier groceryman. Down Sheriff street they went followed by a crowd, which was added to every minute, until at last visitors thought the chase was a joke one gotten up for a moving picture man. But unlike the end of the moving picture scene, for this villain got away with the booty and the proprietor returned in a sweat to his store. A plain policeman was informed but up to date the boy is still at large.

WOULD BE BURGLARS GOT OFF WITH A SPANKING

Saturday night John Coughlan the Charlotte street plumber, while standing in the dark recess of his Charlotte street establishment was surprised when two youths approached the place and thinking no person was about, one of them said as he spoke about the ice cream and confectionery store next door: "It's easy, I've got a diamond. We can cut a hole in the window and let the piece of glass fall in on the floor so it will make no noise, then we can get it and get what's there." The plan seemed agreeable and they both left the scene. Mr. Coughlan followed them and took hold of the pair of would-be crooks and took them back to the store. He took them in and showed them a much easier way of making an entrance and then opened the cash register and showed them that their trip would have been in vain as it was empty. He then telephoned for the police, but as none appeared he gave the boys some good advice and with a smart chastisement allowed them to go.

WOULD LEASE SAND POINT WHARVES TO THE C. P. R.

Delegates Offered the Four Berths to the Company for $45,000 Per Year and the Scheme Will Likely Go Through

The scheme most favored in City Hall at present is that of the disposal of the winter port berths to lease berths No. 1, 2, 3 and 4 on the West Side to the C. P. R., which could then allot them as they chose. The amount asked by the civic delegates who made this proposition to Mr. McNicoll while in Montreal last week for the rental is $45,000 for the year. This would provide sufficient to pay the interest and maintenance expenses, besides allowing a considerable amount for a sinking fund. The city would still retain control of the West Side berths which are now under construction. The scheme will doubtless go into effect, as it finds favor with the C. P. R. authorities as well as the civic delegates.

MCCARTHRU & McVEY'S CONTRACT TAKEN OVER

Suggestion That Extras Be Decided by Arbitration—Nothing Doing on Mopsey's Job

There was a private meeting of the Water and Sewerage Board in City Hall this morning. Besides the members of the board, Recorder Skinner and Hon. William Pugsley were present. The work at No. 1 section of the Loch Lomond extension was taken over from McCarthu and McVey and payment, ordered on the contract prices. In regard to the extra claims of the contractor, it was decided to discuss matters more fully at a future meeting. Dr. Pugsley suggested that the matter go to a board of arbitration. The members of the board would not commit themselves to this proposition. In regard to the Mopsey claims nothing was discussed as the Board is waiting for Messrs. Mopsey to take the next step in the matter.

A PLEASANT OUTING.

A thoroughly enjoyable outing was had on Saturday afternoon at Partridge Island, when upwards of fifty ladies and gentlemen as guests of Mr. J. K. Scammell spent the day in exploring all parts of the island taking in the magnificent scenery spread before them and digesting a regular picnic supper. Among those present from outside points were Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Scammell and family, Mrs. Moore and family, of West Somerville, Mrs. G. Swimmerton, of Cambridge, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart and Mr. and Mrs. Larmonth, of Ottawa, who are spending a few weeks in New Brunswick. The party left Reed's Point between two and three o'clock on the Lord Kitchener and returned at six in the evening. While on the island the visitors were enabled to inspect the workings of the fog horn, climb to the light and visit as well the wireless station. The day was beautiful and the outing was in every way a pleasant one.

STILL TAKING PICTURES

Mr. John Woodruff returned this morning from a trip through Charlotte county on which he secured about forty interesting views. In Grand Manan Mr. Woodruff met with very good weather but used his camera just the same and is now agreeably surprised to find that the pictures taken are far better than he expected. He has secured photographs of some of the choicest bits of scenery, has taken a number of industrial establishments and has been fortunate in the negatives made of the various processes in the fishing industry on Grand Manan. He has one picture of the birds on the rocks near North Head which is a gem in its way, and another of the quaint old village at Seal Cove. Mr. Woodruff also secured many interesting negatives at St. Andrews, St. Stephen and in St. John harbor.
