NEWSY NOTES FROM DALHOUSIE TOWN

Cross River Ferry Will Extend Operations in the Coming Summer

SERIOUS ACCIDENT

The favorite winter conditions have resulted in considerable business having been done in Dalhousie during the past few months with our neighbors on the Quebec side of the Restigouche River. The shire-town merchants appreciating the broad business leanings of our Bonaventure Co., friends have appealed to Hon. John Morrissey, Minister of Public Works for a more complete service during navigation, between Dalhousie and the Quebec side. Then in future, the S.S. R.R. Call, Capt. F. J. Allard of Carleton, P.Q., will be on the route at least two weeks earlier and two weeks later than in the past, and during two days per week will run to Fleurant's Point to accommodate the farmers of that locality and Escuminac.

A very sad accident happened in Balmoral on Tuesday. The bright four year old boy of Frank Arsenault was playing in the yard and there was a young horse running loose about the place. The little boy ran towards the beast to strike it with a stick when the unfortunate little chap was kicked so badly that it is thought he will not recover. With a deep cut of three inches on the head he is in a serious condition.

Mrs. John Barberie has been elected President of the Women's Auxiliary here, Mrs. S. J. Bellingham Vice President and Mrs. R. J. Coleman will leave for St. John on Monday to attend the annual meeting.

Mrs. J. B. H. Storer entertained a number of friends very pleasantly so bridge on Friday evening when a very dainty prize was won by Mrs. P. H. Sheehan.

The sad railway accident which happened on Monday by which one of our best citizens lost his life prevented several from attending the A.O.H. informal dance which was given in the Murray Hall, Campbellton on Monday evening.

Mrs. Wm. Anderson of Chatham is visiting her sister Mrs. Geo. Had-
dow. She is accompanied by her daughter Katie.

Very much sympathy is felt for Mr. and Mrs. Alfred LeBilloy of Migusha, on account of the death on Friday last of their son Amy, 18 years old, with typhoid fever. He was ill for several weeks. Dr. Ferguson of Dalhousie gave him unremitting attention, but he succumbed to the terrible malady.

Mrs. Geo. Colé who made many friends in Restigouche during her short stay, was here this week and will return at once to Minto, where her husband has accepted a lucrative position.

G. E. Asker of Campbellton, was here on Tuesday a guest of James Duncan.

D. A. Stewart, M.L.A., of Campbellton, was in town on Friday and registered at the Queen.

Judge F. F. Matheson of Campbellton was a recent visitor to town and was at the Queen.

Howe Kirk, son of Rev. J. H. Kirk is home from college to spend the summer months here.

John A. Potts of Halifax spent a couple of days here last week on business and was a guest at the Queen.

Miss Virginia L'Esperance, daughter of D. O. L'Esperance, M.P., who was married recently to Mr. J. Hector Bender, manager of the Quebec Bank at Montmagny, P.Q., is a niece of Mr. J. A. L'Esperance, Crown Land agent at Perce and was in Campbellton last

WRECK ON MONDAY OF DALHOUSIE TRAIN ON I.C.R. AT RICHARDSVILLE

Engine Jumps the Track and Overturning into Ditch Injures Fireman Jamieson with Fatal Results. Traffic is Blocked for Considerable Time

FUNERAL OF THE VICTIM

On Monday morning the little village of Richardsville was thrown into consternation with the news that the Dalhousie branch train had been wrecked half a mile down the line and news of the disaster was quickly sent into town.

The Dalhousie branch which on ordinary occasions runs between Dalhousie and the Junction makes the trip to Campbellton every Monday morning for any minor repairs to the engine. On Monday the train composed of one passenger and baggage car combined and one box car, left Campbellton shortly after nine for the return journey to Dalhousie with engineer T. G. Scott, fireman Jas. Jamieson, brakeman McMillan and conductor Lampkey in charge.

Running tender first they were hitting a tidy clip when opposite Dr. Dunham's farm about 3½ miles below town the tender jumped the track and plowing over the sleepers crashed into the ditch on the left side of the road carrying the cars with it, while the engine slewed right across the track the rear end being embedded in the bank on the right of the track.

The passengers among whom were a few people of Campbellton knew nothing until they were pitched into a heap when the car toppled sideways into the ditch. The train crew assisted by many willing workers who hurried to the rescue soon had all the passengers out of the car, all of them suffering from shock and minor injuries, Mr. W. D. Duncan being the most difficult to rescue he fainting three or four times before he could be extricated from the upturned car. Meanwhile the other workers had a more strenuous task on hand, fireman Jamieson being pinned under the engine in a position to denote he had been seriously injured. He was crushed back in a kneeling position the engine pressing against his stomach and the icy cold water from a little stream flowing around him. After an hour's exertion he was released and carried unconscious into the house of Mrs. Woods near at hand, where the doctors who had been hastily summoned from town rendered what aid they could. This was of no avail and the unfortunate man died about three o'clock without regaining consciousness. The other members of the crew were not badly hurt, engineer Scott receiving a few bruises and brakeman McMillan an injury to his shoulder, but beyond the shock conductor Lampkey was uninjured.

The passengers on the branch from Campbellton were: Wm. D. Duncan, suffering from shock and considerably bruised on body. Mr. W. A. Trueman, slight bruise on arm and shock. Mrs. W. A. Trueman, Mrs. D. McLaughlan and son, Mr. R. B. Keith, Mr. R. Reid, Mr. N. Ingram and Mr. LeBlanc, all slightly bruised. Mr. Alp. Leplante of Dalhousie received bad cuts on the head.

The injured were all able to be removed to their homes and are recuperating after their harrowing experience.

The auxiliary car with the breakdown gang were rushed to the scene and the wrecking crane was hurried up from Moncton, but the line was blocked all day passengers being transferred at the scene of the accident.

In conversation with some of the railway officials at the scene of the accident, they could give no information or conjecture how the accident happened, the mark where the tender jumped the track being clearly defined on the sleepers while the rail appeared to be perfectly sound.

A full investigation will be held shortly by the railway authorities, and the matter thoroughly gone into.

The Funeral

The funeral on Thursday afternoon of the late James Jamieson who died on Monday afternoon at the age of 55, as the result of injuries received of the railway accident was the most imposing ceremony ever witnessed in Dalhousie. The large affluence of citizens from all parts of Restigouche Co. is a proof of the high esteem held towards the deceased.

The pall-bearers were D. McLaughlan, Jacob McDavid, representing the locomotive firemen, John Devereaux, John O'Keefe, the locomotive engineers, Kaleb McNeil, Chipman Bateman, the Orangemen. The chief mourners were the deceased's two sons, Wiley and Sydney, and his four brothers, John, David, Willard and Will.

The stores were closed during the passage of the funeral cortege.

The services at the house were conducted by Rev. J. H. Kirk, Rev. R. J. Coleman and Rev. Mr. Rettie. The touching remarks of Rev. Mr. Kirk regarding the anxious life of the railway man brought tears to many eyes. The funeral was conducted by the Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, the Sons of Temperance and the Orangemen. The ceremonies at the grave were very impressive.

The floral offerings were: Broken Wheel by B. L. F. & E. Wreaths

AVOIDS ARREST BY DESPERATE LEAP

Joseph Wedge Jumps From Vessel to the Wharf While Ship is Being Docked

WANTED HERE

Chief of Police Hughes returned from St. John on Saturday nights Maritime where he had gone to take charge of Joseph Wedge, being held there by a detective on board the S. S. Calvin Austin. When the chief met the vessel, the bird had flown and no trace of him could be found. Wedge was wanted here in connection with the late burglary at Joseph Duncans Store.

In a despatch from the St. John Telegraph the story of the escape is told.

By a desperate leap across fifteen feet of water from the bow of the S. S. Calvin Austin to the wharf at Reed's Point, a prisoner wanted at Campbellton for stealing a large amount of money, made good his escape last Saturday, while the detective who had him in charge on the journey from Boston was watching the men dock the boat.

So far as can be learned, the theft in Campbellton was committed several months ago and the man the police were looking for in connection with the matter skipped out and went to United States. One report has it that the firm robbed employed a detective agency to locate the man and bring him here, but another report says that the man was deported from Boston by the immigration department. Word was received by the police here about a week ago that the man was to arrive on the Calvin Austin and Detective Killen and Deputy Chief Jenkins were on hand to receive him.

As the Austin came up to her berth the large number of passengers on board became interested in the mooring operations. The detective on board was included in this number. The boat was about fifteen feet from the wharf and the deck on which the prisoner and his guard were standing was about fifteen feet above the wharf. When the attention of the detective was taken from his man, the latter climbed to the rail and made a desperate leap, passengers and people on the dock saw him totter as he struck the very edge of the wharf.

With an effort he gained his balance and ran up the wharf and into Water street where Detective Killen and Deputy Jenkins were standing at the head of the gangway some distance away. The frantic efforts of the detective for some one to catch the man, failed to meet with response and the prisoner was out of harm's way when his escape became known.

Persons who saw the affair say the man was young and well dressed. He was fairly tall and an athletic build. He was last seen running along Water street. The local police have been on the watch for him, but so far he has not been located.

Sheehan and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ball, Boston; Mr. and Mr. Hocquard.

The sympathy of a large circle of friends will go out to the widow who has lost a faithful and kind husband, to the six daughters and two sons, who have lost a loving and devoted father. The town of Dalhousie has lost one who encouraged every good movement for the advancement of mankind.

The inquest which was adjourned on Tuesday will be held on Monday first, under the coroner, Dr. Martin.

ESPIONAGE BAND ACTIVELY ENGAGED

Mr. Winston Churchill is Said to be Victim of Daring Robbery

New York, April 22.—A special cable to the American from London says: Winston Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty, it is learned today, has been the victim of most daring and sensational robbery, in which a beautiful young woman is suspected as the possible agent of some foreign power. By the theft the First Lord not only loses $2,500 in money, but highly important confidential naval data, such as might eagerly be sought as of greatest value to any nation not too friendly with Great Britain. The robbery has greatly aroused the entire admiralty and Mr. Churchill has put Scotland Yard detectives on the trail of an aristocratic band which has just appeared in London. It is rumored that the woman in the case is a member of an aristocratic band actively engaged in espionage.

SUES FOR LEGACY WENT TO ANIMALS

Companion Expected $25,000 When Mrs. Daly Died.

New York, April 19.—Margaret P. Havery, who was lady's maid and companion for nearly three years to the late Mrs. Catherine E. Daly, who left an estate of $150,000 yesterday began suit in the Supreme Court against Col. Alfred Wagstaff clerk to the Appellation Division, for $25,000.

Col. Wagstaff is the President of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to animals, to which Mrs. Daly left her entire estate.

Miss Havery says Mrs. Daly promised to leave her $25,000, but when her will was opened she found herself unremembered.

Miss Havery's attorney, A. S. Gilbert, said that Col. Wagstaff offered her $500 to settle her suit, pleading that the ill-treated dogs, cats and horses were more in need of the cash than she was, but she declined the offer.

Col. Wagstaff, in his answer, denies that Mrs. Daly ever promised in the presence of any person to bequeath Miss Havery a substantial legacy.

LARGE INCREASE IN IMMIGRATION

During the fiscal year ended March 31, 1913, 402,432 immigrants arrived in Canada. This total is made up of 150,542 British, 139,909 from the United States, and 112,881 from all other countries combined.

Immigration to Canada for the preceding fiscal year, the twelve months ended March 31, 1912 was: British, 138,121; from the United States, 133,710; and from all other countries combined 82,406; total, 354,237.

Percentages of increase are British, 9 per cent; American, 4 per cent; other countries, 37 per cent; total 14 per cent.

To illustrate the magnitude of the figures just quoted, it is necessary only to state that last year's immigration to Canada is greater than the total population of New Brunswick according to the census of 1911, by more than 50,000 souls.

DEATH PROPHECY OF GIRL CAME TRUE

She Herself Was to Die Last and Not to Disappoint Them, She Took Poison

Rome, April 23.—The village of Azzana is in the throes of an extraordinary religious "revival", the central figure in which is a girl of 19, Teresa Marra.

A week ago Teresa foretold the death of three villagers, the recovery of several others, and her own death for a certain hour on a certain day. The persons died as prophesied, and the revivalist's fame spread far and wide, with the result that the day foretold for her own death 30,000 visitors thronged into the village from Milan and the surrounding towns. Scenes of extraordinary religious fervor prevailed throughout the day, and troops had to be called up to maintain order.

The girl had said she would die at 10 p.m., and long before that hour a priest and her family gathered round her. But a few minutes before the appointed hour she was alive and well. The girl had spoken to the crowd with such extraordinary confidence that an ugly scene seemed probable in the event of her surviving.

But Teresa had guarded against the possibility of her prediction being at fault. Without warning, on the stroke of 10 she fell dead.

The fervor of the afternoon developed into a mania. But the authorities, cool-headed, proceeded to investigate. The girl, unseen by those around her, had swallowed poison.

MANY DRIVES ARE LIKELY TO HANG UP

Reports From Centre of Province Most Discouraging

Fredericton, April 22.—The expected trouble in getting out the drives in the central portion of the province is developing and it now looks as if many of the drives in this part of the country would be tied up. R. B. Smith of Oromocto cut about eight million feet of logs on the Oromocto and on Little River, Sunbury county, and it is said today that all the lumber he has been successful in bringing out, will not amount to more than one million feet. The drive on the Oromocto has been hung up, one drive on the Little River is also hung up while an effort is being made to drag out the other drive on Little River. The water in the St. John river here has come up steadily during the past couple of days, but is not rising rapidly today.

HAVE YOU HEARD OF A DRUNKARDS WILL

A Sermon in Temperance Applicable at This Time

(Contributed)

Readers of the GRAPHIC, did you ever read a "drunkard's will"? You are probably under the impression a drunkard has nothing to will at his death, but you are certainly wrong, and in reading a drunkard's will that I publish for you, you will certainly admit you mistake.

The drunkard's will reads as follows:

- 1 I give and bequeath to society, a reputation ruined by bad habits.
- 2 I give and bequeath to my old parents for all their life, as much sorrow as they will be able to bear.
- 3 I give and bequeath to my brothers and sisters as many humiliations as I will be able for them to procure.
- 4 I give and bequeath to my wife, a broken heart, a life of misery and shame to cry and pain over my premature death.
- 5 I give and bequeath to each and everyone of my children, poverty and ignorance, and the recollection that their father was a drunkard and a monster.

But there is something else yet. An inauspicious gift that the drunkard gives, leaves and bequeaths to his children. The grave cannot enclose his vices which still live and reign after he is gone.

"Such father, such son," says the wise experience. "Good blood cannot lie" teaches the old saying. Honesty, nobility, etc. are often hereditary virtues, but the blood is also a vehicle that transmits to the unfortunate children all a legacy of shame and vices. "I do not die wholly," may say the drunkard, as my children will carry in their soul and body the blemish, the tare of my infamies.

The facts here mentioned show eloquently the truth of this statement.

A great German doctor has followed the history of a drunkard's family for a century, and he has figured that among the descendants of this drunkard's family there has been during the course of a century, 142 beggars, 54 lunatics, 80 debauchees, 76 criminals, and 7 murderers. In the course of 75 years, this sad family has cost to the country $7,400,000 in costs of asylums, jails and damages caused.

Mr. Everett, a minister in the Washington government, said, in ten years alcoholic drink has killed in the United States, 300,000 individuals has sent 100,000 children to poor houses, and orphanages, has thrown 150,000 persons in jail, 10,000 in the asylums, has been the cause of 15,000 murders, has been the cause of great fires, destroying property valued at 150 million dollars, and has made 200,000 widows and a million orphans.

A Montreal recorder stats that on 100 cases, 90 are due to intemperance.

If intemperance could be banished from England, says a great man, ninety per cent of our jails would be closed.

Could we not say the same for our country, would not the disappearance of this plague produce the same happy consequences.

Electors of New Carlisle, please read this attentively, and think when you are through. If you are sincere, how can you vote otherwise than to banish from your way the curse, which is the sole and only cause of all evils above mentioned, and of many and many more.

Please bear this in mind and vote accordingly on the day of the plebiscite.

EQUALITY OF OPPORTUNITY

The determination of the British Liberal party to approach a settlement of the education question in England and Wales at the earliest opportunity has already given rise to a discussion as to what national education implies. It is a knotty problem, and not without danger to the Government that essays the task of reform. All the social reforms already carried by the Asquith Government pale into insignificance compared with the greater efficiency and accessibility of education. For this way lies the greater freedom and power of the democracy. It is the keystone in the arch of Liberal legislation for the reconstruction of social life in feudal England.

In an article in The Nation, Lord Haldane states with great force and clearness the case for the nationalization of education. He asserts the right of the State to see that those who conduct education are fit to conduct it properly, because "the education of the people, and of every class of the people, in the country is of vital concern to the State." The right of the State to superintend, to stimulate, and to aid the work of education is no longer seriously challenged. Previous controversies in England were chiefly concerned with elementary education. The fires of this controversy have not yet burned out, but to Lord Haldane the problem has passed this stage. It is not so much in the primary as in the secondary schools that he discovers the weak link of national education in England and Wales. The problems that confront statesmen to-day are increased financial aid and the correlation of the elementary, secondary, and university systems. The controversy in the past raged so hotly around the primary schools that the public lost sight of the facts that the State has as much real concern in secondary and higher education as in elementary, and that the three represent successive stages in one entire system. There is still a popular delusion in England that elementary and secondary schools are meant for different social classes, and that the working classes have no interest in secondary education. These false notions permeate and vitiate the whole educational system of the country, and constitute the real problem with which Liberals propose to grapple.

The Lord Chancellor points out the great advantage that Germany has over England in the circumstance that "she concentrated her energies almost from the beginning on making the secondary school the pivot of her educational system." A national system of education he defines as "an unbroken whole, based on a ground plan in which the secondary school and the university also have been kept in view as a practical possibility for every boy or girl who enters as an elementary scholar." An adequate conception of education, he contends, must embrace the physical and social as well as the mental and moral life of the scholar. He would follow the example of Germany and Scotland, and provide continuation schools for those who cannot avail of secondary education, where they would be prepared for their practical calling in life. Lord Haldane concludes by counselling his party against frontal attacks on "the battalions of the narrower members of the Church party," when the end can be attained by "an enveloping movement," and warns the British nations that to maintain her lead among the nations of the earth it is essential to her safety to see to an immediate reform of her educational systems as it is for her to keep up a navy. "Equality of opportunity in education"—this is the battle-cry of the Liberal reformers.—Ex.—

AGAIN THE BIRDS

The increasing attention that busy men continue to give toward an effort to provide better protection for the birds must, it would seem, have an influence before long with the plumage for decorative purposes. The United States Congress recently passed a law—known as the Weeks-McLean law—to give federal protection to migratory birds throughout the country over which it has jurisdiction. This is recognized, however, as only a half-way measure unless adjoining countries combine in some similar measure. Senator Root has introduced a measure requesting the President of the United States to propose to other American countries some international action or law by which the migratory birds will be protected. Such action is to prevent species of birds from becoming extinct. Lord Curzon recently, while in London, made a stirring plea for the better protection of the song and insect-eating birds of Great Britain and asked also for laws to regulate, if not wholly to prevent, the traffic in the skins and plumage of tropical birds. He pointed out that the demands made by the great markets of the world, London, Paris and New York, will result soon in the extermination of the birds of paradise of New Guinea, the white egret of China, and the beautiful hummingbirds of Brazil and the West Indies. It was stated that in three sales held in London in 1911 over twenty thousand birds of paradise, one hundred and thirty thousand egrets and forty-one thousand hummingbirds were included among thousands of other birds of less rare species. Lord Curzon in his proposed laws suggests the prohibition of feathers and skins of birds for ornamental and decorative purposes. While women wear birds or parts of birds men will continue to trade in them. If women would combine for the protection of the birds, the battle would be won. It is an ignorance largely that permits of the continued slaughter of the birds for feminine adornment. No woman who saw the photographs of the egrets as shown by a recent lecturer in this city, taken during the nesting season, when the female bird was butchered for her plumage, the young birds being left to starve—would willingly desecrate herself by wearing the feathers of those birds. Knowledge and education will do more than laws which, if not comprehended will be made only to be broken again and again.—Globe.

DISTINGUISHED PREACHER COMING

Rev. Walter Wynn Will Preach and Lecture in St. Andrews Church

Campbellton is to be favored with a visit from one of England's great preachers, Rev. Walter Wynn of the Chesham United Free Church, near London. The rev. gentleman is well known on the other side where he draws crowded congregations by his earnest presentation of the gospel message. He is strongly evangelical and his sermons appear frequently in the "Christian World Pulpit" in company with those of such masters as Dr. Jowett, Dr. Horton, Dr. Aked, the Bishop of London and others. He is at present touring in Canada in the interests of his work and has been receiving most cordial welcomes at the large churches in Toronto. He is to visit Rev. F. P. Drumm and preach in St. Andrews church on Sunday the 4th of May. He will lecture in the same church on Monday evening on "Great preachers of Christendom" when a collection will be taken for his work. It is not often that we have an opportunity of hearing a distinguished preacher from across the sea and St. Andrews church should be filled on both occasions. The "Westminster Gazette," London described Mr. Wynn as "The famous pastor of the Chesham Free Church who is going to Canada."

PROTECTION

Protection for the cotton trade of Lancashire by fostering the supply of cotton independent of America, was the gist of Chancellor Lloyd George's argument on introducing in the House of Commons on Wednesday afternoon a resolution permitting the British government to guarantee a Soudan loan of $15,000,000 for the development of cotton growing along the Nile.

LARGE STEAMSHIP

The largest steamship ever built in Great Britain, the Cunard liner Aquitania, was launched Wednesday on the Clyde. The new vessel is double-shelled, and carries boats sufficient to accommodate 4,250 persons, the entire complement of passengers and crew. She is of about 47,000 tons gross.

TWO PERSONS SHOT BY JEALOUS MAN

Montreal Italian Shoots Woman and Her Companion—Man Now Dead

Right in the heart of the business district, five revolver shots rang out at noon Tuesday, at the corner of McGill and Notre Dame Streets, and Angelina Regina, a pretty Italian woman fell to the sidewalk with two bullets in her body, while Louis Scroli, her lover, sank with three other bullets piercing his back. The man is dying and the woman is very low.

White slavery, love and jealousy are the elements which it is said prompted Tomaso Bernardi to track his two victims from the Courthouse to the downtown street intersection where he levelled his revolver at the couple in front of him and startled the crowd with the sharp reports.

Wild excitement reigned as 200 people surged around the scene of the shooting and joined the policemen in a dramatic chase which resulted in the fugitive's capture right in front of Michael's cigar store near McGill and Notre Dame Streets.

Tripping over a bag of cement on the sidewalk, the fugitive, who had left his smoking revolver beside the dying man, fell violently on the pavement to be seized in a second by Constable Frappier and a pedestrian.

There does not seem to be much reason to doubt that the tragedy was the outcome of the white slave traffic, in which so many foreigners have been mixed up of late, judging from documents and letters found in the room of the woman.

At 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, the condition of Angelina Regina, the woman who was shot on Notre Dame street on Tuesday remained very critical. She is in much the same condition as she was when first brought to the hospital, and has never rallied.

"Murder" is now the charge faced by Tomaso Bernardi, the man who turned Notre Dame street into a shooting gallery when he poured three shots into the body of Louis Scroli and twice wounded Angelina Regina, his former sweetheart.

Early Wednesday morning Louis Scroli breathed his last in the Notre Dame Hospital, but not before he had pointed to Bernardi as the one who caused his death and hissed out the words with his dying breath: "You are a liar and a coward!"

None of the officials can find out how Bernardi earned the $120 which he sent to the woman to bring her to Montreal, nor how he was able to travel about from city to city. When he persuaded Angelina, the young girl he had known as a boy in the little town of Aquila, Italy to come to Canada, he was living at 847 Ohio avenue, Chicago, in which city it is believed, he is known.

Former letters to the girl show that he had been living in San Francisco. He claims that he is a bricklayer, but his hands are white and clean, and compatriots assert that he did not work since he came to Montreal.

Louis Scroli, the man who is dead had met Angelina by chance at the Bonaventure station when the young women first arrived in Montreal. After she had quarrelled with Bernardi, as she related the story to Constable Nassa, because she refused to earn money for him, she went to Scroli, although Bernardi had no suspicion of this at first.

Bernardi swore out a warrant for the woman's arrest. Then he mysteriously left the city, Constable Nassa says, and went to Toronto and Buffalo. Before that he wore a mustache, but removed it before arriving in Buffalo. What his reason for this was, is not apparent.

All this time, he had no suspicion of Scroli, because he even wrote to the latter from Buffalo asking him if he had heard from Angelina.

Scroli, the man who died Wednesday was well-known as a shoe-shiner in the Italian colony of Montreal. He helped his brother, who keeps a

When the Clyde Wanted Water

In the days when the Clyde was navigable to Glasgow for only small vessels a steamer stuck in the mud near Renfrew and the skipper was not sparing in strong language. While waiting for the rising tide he saw a little girl approaching the river with a bucket to fetch some water. This was too much for the poor captain, and, leaning over the side, he thus addressed her: "If you tak' ae drap o' water oot here till I get afloat, I'll warm yer ear for't!"

Man's Body in Cement Block

A human hand protruding from tons of cement, the frames of which were removed recently, was found in one of the concrete pillars of the Government dam across the Mississippi at Keokuk, Iowa, and explains the disappearance several weeks ago of one of the laborers. The man's body is embedded in the solid concrete, and is likely to stay there, as to blast it out would destroy not only the body but a great part of one of the largest blocks of cement composing the dam.

Breeding Hedgehogs for Bounty

In Vermont, United States, a bounty of 30 cents is paid for every hedgehog killed. Some farmers have added considerably to their incomes by raising hedgehogs, and the Legislature will probably be asked to repeal the Hedgehog Bounty Bill. The bounties paid per year amount to $30,000 representing the killing of about 100,000 hedgehogs.

AT OPERA HOUSE
The humorous comedy drama, "Joshua Simpkins", will be seen at the Opera House, Wednesday April 30th. It is a rural play in four acts, bound together by an interesting plot and produced with special scenery carried by the company. In the third act a realistic sawmill scene is introduced, when a real buzz saw is seen cutting through a real log at terrific speed upon which a human being has been helplessly bound by his enemies and left to an evident death. There is an abundance of comedy in the play, while there are many fine singing and dancing specialties incidentally introduced. Prices 35 and 50c. Children 25c.

TELEPHONE CHARGES

Ewing made application on behalf of the New Brunswick Telephone Company for permission to put the regular toll charge of ten cents in force between Rothesay and St. John and to have the exchange put in the C. or D. class. This toll charge is now collected from non-subscribers and the idea is to make it apply to telephone renters as well. The Telephone Company was ordered to publish notice of their application in at least two St. John and one King's County paper and a hearing will be held on May 28th. Plans submitted by the Street Railway Company for a board fence on Rodney Wharf to prevent accident were approved and the secretary notified to instruct the company to proceed with the work.

MOTHERHOOD SUGGESTIONS

Advice to Expectant Mothers

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at such times, but many approach the experience with an organism unfitted for the trial of strength, and when it is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother results.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under the right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, and with ample time in which to prepare, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

Every woman at this time should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

WIFE OF MINISTER SUES FOR A DIVORCE

Rev. Ednor Cooke May Marry Girl With Whom He Lived Six Years.

New York, April 23.—What looks like the closing act in a scandal which attracted much attention some six years ago, has now begun for Mrs. Cooke, in Connecticut, has entered proceeding for absolute divorce against her husband, Rev. Ednor Cooke. He was rector of St. George's Episcopal Church in New York, and his wife was a woman of exemplary life and possessed considerable wealth in her own right. They became estranged having no children. Eventually, Rev. Mr. Cooke found his affinity in his pretty little 17 year-old ward, Floretta Whaley, and the city was startled by the news that they had eloped.

They fled to Los Angeles, then to San Francisco and other points in the West. At times they were almost starving, and the clergyman was reduced to digging telegraph post holes. Pursued by the investigation of enquiring newspapers, their identity would be discovered and they would be driven forth as outcasts. Finally they returned to New York and he got a job as a painter and paper hanger. Interest in the affairs died out, and they have lately lived in obscurity and peace, in a humble home with their two little children.

Mrs. Cooke, at the time of the elopement in 1907, went to live with her parents in Connecticut. Her father and mother are now dead, and in case of her death part of her estate would go to the recreant husband, so she has at last entered suit for divorce. The proceedings are welcomed by the runaways with tears of joy and prayers of thanksgiving. Mrs. Cooke says that she has taken the proceedings so that Cooke can marry his ward and make his children legitimate.

GERMAN MONEY MEN HERE NEXT AUGUST

Visit Will Mean Much in Matters of International Industrial Expansion

ITINERARY RECEIVED

A large group of influential business men of Germany will spend seven weeks in Canada during the latter part of June and the months of July and August. They will visit St. John, Moncton, Fredericton and other points in New Brunswick, arriving in this province about the middle of August.

The Times has received from the illustrated Zeitung of Leipzig the complete itinerary of the party, which will leave Bremen on June 24, arrive in Montreal on July 6, make a tour of Western Canada, return and arrive in St. John on August 16, concluding with a banquet in Fredericton on August 22 and departing from Rimouski the next day. The itinerary after August 15 will be as follows:—

Aug. 15—Afternoon: Departure from Montreal for the eastern provinces (New Brunswick, Nova Scotia).

Aug. 16—Day of rest, chance for sport (fishing, hunting).

Aug. 17-22—Tour through the eastern provinces, sight-seeing in Halifax, St. John, Fredericton and other noteworthy towns and inspection of their industries. The programme for the different towns is being arranged with the municipalities and governments and will be announced later.

Aug. 22—Fredericton, concluding banquet.

Aug. 23—Departure for Rimouski for those sailing for Europe on the "Empress of Ireland" of C. P. R. on August 24.

This tour of Canada follows as a result of a visit made last year by Court Councillor Horst Wober of the Illustrirte Zeitung. Wherever he went he was greatly impressed with the country, and on his return to Germany he published a report of all he had seen and experienced during a three month's tour. A special edition of his famous journal devoted to Canada will be issued very soon, and will be followed by this business men's trip to Canada by leading German personages of every field of activity.

The business men's trip is a unique enterprise, for it is the first time that such a party of representative Germans will visit this country and be officially received by the governments of the provinces and municipal authorities. It certainly speaks well for the "Illustrirte Zeitung" that immediately upon the suggestion of the trip an honorary committee was formed in Germany to promote the idea. From the list of personages and associations that are giving their support it is clear that the affair will be of high international importance.

Calgary, April 23.—It is reported here that R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader in that province is slated to succeed Dr. Roche as minister of the interior in the Borden government in the event of Roche's continued ill health compelling his retirement.

Mr. Bennett is a New Brunswicker.

CUPID WORRIES FRANCIS JOSEPH

Now His Favorite Young Kinswoman, Divorced, Wants to Marry a Lieutenant

Vienna, April 23.—Austrians are preparing for another morganatic marriage romance in the imperial house of Hapsburg.

It will be recalled that recently Archduchess Isabella secured a divorce in Munich from Prince George of Bavaria on the ground that her husband was "hopelessly repulsive" to her. Now it is persistently asserted that the young Archduchess fell in love with a young Hungarian officer of Hussars about a month before her marriage in February of last year. Although she could not stop the wedding ceremony, she determined to leave her husband immediately afterward. She left him within three days.

Now she is being kept from seeing her lover and the result is her complete nervous breakdown. Old Emperor Francis Joseph, who has given way so often to Cupid, is adamant at the moment, but any day may relent for the sake of his favorite among his younger kinswomen.

FORMER RESIDENT DEAD AT HAMPTON

Mrs. William James Williams Buried Here on Thursday Morning

Hampton, N. B., April 22.—Mrs. William James Williams, formerly Miss McDonald, of Sydney Forks, Cape Breton, but for some years residing with her only daughter, Mrs. J. W. Kierstead, passed to her eternal home this morning at 7.30 o'clock, after an illness of over seven months, during which time she was faithfully attended by her daughter and members of the family as well as having the services of a trained nurse. She was eighty-five years of age, and had out-lived her husband some twenty-five years, and also her only son, William, train despatcher at Campbellton, who died some years ago, since which time the old lady had made her home with her daughter. She was a faithful and devoted member of the Baptist church, removing her membership to the Hampton Station Baptist church when Mr. Kierstead came to Hampton with his family to reside. One brother is Murdoch McDonald, of Quinicy, (Mass.); another, Alexander, at Dominion (C. B.); and John. Mrs. Ronald and Miss Ellen, at the homestead, Sydney Forks. A funeral service was held at Mr. Kierstead's residence, Station Road, Wednesday evening, at 6.30, and at 7.30 the body was taken by Maritime express to Campbellton, where on Thursday morning it was laid beside her husband and son in the Rural Cemetery. The pall-bearers were: Rev. J. W. Kierstead, Messrs Wm. McD. Metzler, Geo. Metzler, Thos. Wran, Jos. G. Wran and Thos. J. McDewitt. Services were conducted by Rev. J. H. Jenner, assisted by Rev. C. W. Squires. Mrs. Williams was well known here, many of the older residents having stayed with her in her boarding house, which was very popular in the old days.

LOSES HER HEART TO Foe OF FAMILY

Did Not Know That She Had Fallen in Love With One of Hated Guelphs.

Berlin, April 22.—As the wedding approached new facts or at least new anecdotes, are coming to light in regard to the Hohenzollern-Guelph and the Duke of Cumberland's heir. It seems that far from it being a "diplomatic match" or a hasty and auspicious love affair, the betrothal was the result of a friendship extending over two years.

The origin of the feud between William II and the Crown Prince, of which so much has been written, is now clear if the following story may be believed.

Two winters ago the Crown Prince was staying in Celerina, a great winter sports resort in Switzerland. It had been arranged that his sister, Victoria Louise, was to stay with him there, as usual, the Emperor first inquired of his son if there was anyone at Celerina whom the young princess ought not to meet. The Prince replied that all was well. He did not mention the presence of the handsome and popular young "Count of Callenberg," with whom the young Princess proceeded to fall desperately in love, ignorant that the "Count" was Prince Ernest of Cumberland.

In Berlin a month afterward the truth had to be told. The Emperor was furious at the Crown Prince for being the cause of the introduction.

YOUR SUMMER VACATION

A most interesting and well printed publication has just been issued by the Grand Trunk Railway System, dealing with the attractions of the well known Algonquin National Park of Ontario, and copies may be had from any of their City Ticket Offices.

The territory dealt with is a thoroughly universal vacation one, combining high altitude, (2000 ft.) pure air, unspoiled forest, beautiful lakes, splendid fishing, much wild game, hotel or camp life, in close touch with civilization or entirely apart from it, and satisfying alike to novice and veteran.

Included in this publication is a description of the "Nominigan Camp" situated on Smoke Lake, the centre of one of the finest fishing grounds in Canada, and which will be open for the first time this year with accommodation for 60 people. This idea of a log cabin camp is an innovation in Canada but one that has become most popular and attractive to a large number of summer playground seekers in the Rangeley Lakes, Maine. Good hotel accommodation is offered at the "Highland Inn" and the rates are most reasonable.

The publication is well written and the map that accompanies same gives one a good idea of the 2,500,000 acres that are found within the Park boundaries.

CLOSURE PASSED BY PARTY VOTE

Little Disturbance when Resolution is Carried by Majority of 35

Ottawa, April 24.—Closure was adopted by parliament on Wednesday evening, or rather early this morning, by a vote of 108 to 73, a government majority of 35.

The debate on the proposal was continued by Mr. Carroll, Hon. Mr. Emmerson, E. M. McDonald, Sir Edmund Osler and Dr. Michael Clark, who finished at 12.15 and then division took place.

The first division was on Mr. Hazen's motion: "That the question be now put." It was carried by 108 to 73.

The vote on the closure resolution itself was then called and it carried by the same vote.

When the result was announced the Conservatives cheered and the Liberals shouted shame, but there was little disturbance.

The vote was the same on both divisions. There were no defections and the only members present who did not vote were paired. These were Hon. J. D. Hazen, Hon. C. J. Doherty, Hon. Dr. Beland and Messrs. Morrison, Aikens and Buchanan. The absentees represented by these pairs were Hon. Wm. Pugsley, Hon. Chas. Macell, Dr. Chabot and Messrs. McNutt, Turiff and R. B. Bennett. Col. H. H. McLean, who opposed the naval bill, voted against the measure to stop obstruction.

TOLLS CONTROVERSY

Washington, D. C., April 24.—The Panama Canal tolls controversy is the leading, and vitally the only, topic scheduled for consideration at the seventh annual meeting of the American Society of International Law, which convened in this city today for a session of three days. The subject will be discussed from every viewpoint by eminent legal authorities. The meeting will conclude with a banquet Saturday night, which will be addressed by noted lawyers of the United States and other countries.

COMING TO AMERICA

London, April 23.—Sir William Treloar, former Lord Mayor of London, sailed today for New York for the purpose of inquiring into and observing the methods employed in America in caring for crippled children. This will be his second visit to the United States undertaken for the same purpose. Sir William is noted for his devotion to the suffering children of London, and especially the little cripples of the Ragged School Union. For many years he has been known and spoken of as the "Children's Alderman."

Where Does The Profits in Some of The Hotels Come From

READ CAREFULLY

Read this, the true history of one of our bars, as related by one who knows it, and who now holds it.

I am now he says, the proprietor of a hotel, to which is attached a bar. This hotel was built about fifteen years ago, by my predecessor, to whom I am now related. When this man entered the business, the only money he had was two thousand dollars ($2000.00). He borrowed four thousand ($4000.00) more, and in six years built the hotel I now occupy at the cost of six thousand dollars ($6000.00), paid back the $4000.00 borrowed, and at the end of these six years, retired from business with many thousand dollars in the bank, and sold me this hotel at the price of twelve thousand ($12,000) dollars. That is to say, besides his bank account, this man made ($16,000) sixteen thousand dollars in the liquor trade during six years.

Electors of New Carlisle do you know from whose pockets has come a great part of these enormous profits realized in such a short time, from YOURS! YOURS! YOURS, and at what price to you, and what sacrifices have you not made to earn this money that has gone to swell the bank account of a man who is now counted as a rich man, whilst all those who have contributed to wards his fortune are still poor.

Please remember this when you go to cast your vote on polling day.
