SPANISH REVERSES. London, Oct. 21.-Advices from the Philippine Islands show that the repellion against Spain is more widespread than generally supposed. Reported defeats of the insurgents have been greatly exaggerated, and it is now asserted that the revolution is beyond the control of the Spanish authorities, and that unless reinforcements are sent to Manilla immediately the Spanish forces are now in danger of final defeat. The rebels now hold the province of Cavite, are well organized, and have 8,000 Mauser rifles. There are many natives in the

into the interior because their loyalty is doubted. The Hong Kong press says editorially that there is no longer room for the least doubt that affairs on the Philippine Islands will in a short time assume the proportions of the Cuban rebellion. The natives are determined. As each rebel signs an agreement he and swears vengeance against the Spanish troops, and the officers are afraid to take the native regiments

Arrival of Princess Helene and Her Betrothed

Unique Proclamation Issued by the Municipal Authorities.

Bari, Italy, Oct. 21.—The Italian yacht Savoia, having on board the Princess Helene of Montenegro, her betrothed husband, the Crown Prince of Naples, and the members of the Leipzig, Germany, organist St. Andrew's the princely family of Montenegro, who are to be present at the marriage, arrived here this morning escorted by a squadron of Italian warships. The royal yacht experienced very bad weather while crossing the Adriatic, and nearly all the travelers were seasick throughout the passage. The prince and princess were warmly greeted on landing, a vast concourse of Anatolians and others who had arrived in the town, crowding it to its utmost capacity. The local attempts at decorating were univer-sal, but it must be added that they were ludicrous. They were made in response to the following municipal edict, which was posted on the walls of the principal thoroughfares: "Citizens of Bari: It is your duty to clean the streets of all unseemly "Used and tattered washing linen must be taken away from the win-

ITALY'S ROYAL WEDDING

Princess Helena Will Be Given a National Welcome at Rome.

Rome, Oct. 20.-All Italy is getting ready to be en fete for the royal wedding, when the Prince of Naples, heir to the house of Savoy, espouses the beautiful Montenegrin. It has been intimated that the burly mountain ruler will be present at the ceremony. This may prove to be the case, but it is doubtful. He prefers the society of his dogs to the splendors of Rome. Princess Helena will have a national welcome. Her beauty and temperament are such as appeal most strongly to the Latin races; and the cordiality of the reception Italy will give her will be all the greater for the sake of the love element of the match. The prince refused to wed unless he could have the woman who was once marked out for the bride of the Czar. The court ceremony will be performed at the palace of the Quirinal by the President of the Senate, Signor Farini. In honor of the event King Hum-

The bogus coin is of good color and well executed, but is considerably lighter in weight than the genuine coin. The Commissioner of Dominion Police states that no complaints have been made to him of late respecting the circulation of counterfeit coin in the eastern portion of the Dominion, but it is his intention to look into this particular complaint. NEW COMMISSIONERS.

Big Broker's View of the Wheat Bulge.

Part Speculative but "Half of the Rise Is Solid Advance."

The Feeling in Toronto - Chicago Wheat Touches the Highest Point This Year.

London, Oct. 21.-At the Baltic yesterday the wheat market opened 6d under Monday's closing figures, but prices stiffened later, holders demanding Monday's top price. There was little doing, however. A representative of the Associated Press had an interview with the broker who does the largest business in wheat on this side of the Atlantic, in regard to the situation. He said, in substance:

"In half, the natural half, of the speculative course, we have only followed the lead set by the. United States, where speculators are very active. The year's scarcity, in spite of the fact that England had a 7,000,-000-bushel crop, has induced speculators to rush in. Russia is poor, and Austria is practically nil, but, what is of greater moment, consumers having large advance milling contracts, also rushed in to secure supplies. even at top' prices, which are 20 per cent higher than last week.

"The California wheat sent to India as yet is only a drop in the bucket, but the moral effect of this movement, and the coming famine in Inwho have not teams entered in the dia, have been very great. Of course, if rain falls, quantities of California wheat will not be wanted; but I doubt this, and, coupled with the viceroy's grave telegrams, it naturalby affords speculators the real element of uncertainty they delight in Still, this does not account for more than half the rise; the balance is solid advance, owing to shortness of supplies. We shall follow the United States closely, however, and the speculators who force the market. A rise in freights has at all times been in advance of a rise in wheat, and the demand for steamers is most brisk. The closing of the Sea of Azov early in December will free numbers of ships to load elsewhere, though at present the Azov boats are loading as rapidly as possible IN TORONTO.

Toronto, Oct. 21.-Notwithstanding early markets at Chicago, local wheat market was very firm yesterday. On the street 300 bushels of white wheat sold at 82c, an advance of 2 cents, and Mani- on to Granton, where he left his train, toba wheat was also higher and hard and taking with him Messrs. Robert to get. No. 1 hard sold, afloat, Fort and Hugh Radcliffe, and Wm. Brown, E KINCARDINE HIGH SCHOOL William, at 84c, and at Toronto and west at 93c. Sales were reported at Midland Monday night at 90c. Ontario wheat, north and west points, is tory were held at the Kincardine high school on Tuesday. The events and winners were as follows: worth about 80c, but buyers say they are unable to get any, as farmers have 100 yards race, boys (senior) over 115 It is expected that flour will go higher if prices even hold, and an advance 440 yards race-Peterson, Miller, in the price of bread is daily expected.

AT CHICAGO. Chicago, Oct. 21.-Wheat closed yesterday at the highest point thus far for the year. Early indications gave no intimation whatever of the boom which was seen in the closing halfhour. Some indifference abroad was disclosed by the cables, and especially those fi m Liverpool. America looks to Europe for direction in the present instance, and when a decline at the place mentioned was reported, then enthusiasm here underwent modification. Bradstreet's was expected to announce a big increase in the world's stocks, and on that prospect a few of those people who have not yet been convinced of the legitimacy of the advance were tempted to sell a little wheat short. When it was learned that the report would be made public at once there was a change of front, no one caring to remain short over night. Then when sales of 300,000 bushels at New York for export to Lisbon were reported, together with heavy gold importations, the sentiment rapidly assumed a bullish ap-pearance, and from that time until the close it was only a question of how Junior events—Wheelbarrow race— high prices would go. Berlin, Paris Collins and McKenzie, Darling and Antwerp all quoted advances corresponding with ours of yesterday. Winnipeg, Oct. 21.—There was con-tinued excitement in the grain market here yesterday, and everywhere the greatest confidence was expressed that the price of wheat would go still higher. Several of the leading dealers have made small fortunes out of the rise in prices. It is estimated that about one-half of the Manitoba crop is now in the elevator. At all points in the country the farmers have been selling moderately, as they always do at a rising market. The millers are still buying as actively as circumstances will permit of, for it is generally admitted that their requirements are large, as the present demand for Manitoba flour is unprecedented Manager Thompson, of the Ogilvie Milling Company, interviewed, said: "Our opinion is unchanged. The advance has come to stay. The position of Oakland. Of the ship's crew the everywhere is very bullish, the con-sumptive demand from all parts being comparatively heavy. Europe is buy-ing freely and the demand from England specially astonishes everybody, Eggs, butter, cheese, and in fact products of all kinds are being bought up and prices are increasing to follow suit with the grain. Although the Chicago markets have eased off a little. still the undertone is particularly strong, and the bulk of the speculators are undoubtedly relying on $1 per bushel wheat. When it is considered on the 17th inst. for Coo's Bay. She arrived Monday, discharged her cargo and sailed for San Francisco next that the world's supply is 200,000,000 also damage to European crops, there seems some ground for the belief.

THE NELSON COLUMN

Decerated in Memory of the Battle of Trafalgar.

London, Oct. 21.—A quiet celebration occurred on Trafalgar Square here today. It was the anniversary of the day. It was the anniversary of the battle of Trafalgar, fought on Oct. 21, 1805, when the British fleet, composed of 27 vessels, under Admiral Nelson, defeated the combined French and Spanish fleets, under Admiral Villeneuve, and two Spanish admirals, off Cape Trafalgar, south of Spanish banker, of this city, had committed suicide there. The dispatch asked what disposition should be made of the and the abstract business. He disappeared on Oct. 10, and forgeries amounting to between $200,000 and engaged upon the work of decorating the Nelson column, and today that smounting to between $300,000 and the Nelson column, and today the $500,000 are charged to him. The total amount of his alleged shortage is not pearance. The shaft was prettly entwined with garlands of laurel leaves, and the naturally grim appearance of the lions was considerably modified by the laurel leaves with which they were covered. In addition, the plinth of the monument was buried beneath beautiful floral wreaths, sent by the Navy League, a patriotic organization, formed to stir up public sentiment as to the needs of the British navy, from political clubs, ironclads. navy, from political clubs, ironclads, or other war vessels, veteran officers or patriotic associations, etc. One wreath attracted particular attention. It was inscribed:

"From the Daughters and Grandson of a Midshipman Aboard the Neptune at the Battle of Trafalgar." "While the celebration today is regarded by the newspapers of France as being in the line of a significant hint in connection with the Czar's visit to the French capital, it is looked upon in certain circles here as being more in the nature of a hint to Germany that Great Britain, in spite of the weakness of her army in early history, has been able to make herself cted in the past, for there is no doubt that the taunts of the German newspapers have aroused more real event or uttenances for years past.

Right Worshipful Bro. W. G. Mc-Millen, D.D.G.M., accompanied by several London brethren, paid Dela-ware Valley Lodge, A., F. and A. M., an official visit on Friday evening, and were well received. After the labors of the evening were over a social hour was spent in the library, where the time passed in recitations, songs and speeches.

His Lordship the Bishop of Huron administered the rite of confirmation to 20 candidates at the morning service, and conducted the thanksgiving at the evening service, at Christ Church, Delaware. In the afternoon service was also conducted by his lordship at Burwell Church, Caradoc. Both services were well attended.

GRANTON.

Advertiser Agent, J. A. Grant. The Advertiser correspondent furrishes the following details of the terrible tragedy on the Grand Trunk Railway, between St. Marys and Granton, a brief telegraphic account of which appeared in these columns on Monday: Richard Hayes was a young, unmarried man, who, with his sister Anne, occupied a farm, on con. 10, Blanshard, near the St. Marys gravel road. They had driven to St. Marys on Saturday to do some business, and visit their mother and brother, who live there. They left their mother's house about 10:30 in the evening for their home. On reaching the Grand Trunk crossing, near what is known as Shotbotham's Corners, their rig was struck by a west-bound freight train, and both were instantly killed. The driver of the engine knew that he had struck something, and came

There they discovered a sight which made the stoutest heart quail. The body of the brother was found by that of his sister, over in a neighboring field, where they had been thrown by the force of the impact. The buggy, which was a closed-top one, was smashed to atoms. The horses, on becoming detached, ran on towards Thinking it advisable to notify a coroner before the bodies were removed, the driver ran his engine back to Stratford, and brought one up. A jury was immediately empaneled from those present, and after viewing the bodies and surroundings, the coroner adjourned the inquest until Thursday. In the meantime the friends of the deceased were notified, but it was not until 5 o'clock on Sunday morning that the bodies were removed to the house of their mother. The sad oc-currence has cast a deep gloom over the entire community. This crossing is an especially dangerous one, on account of the view being obstructed by banks on either side of the road. It is not many years ago since Mr. Willson Kennedy was killed at the same crossing. Also about the same time Mr. Powe, of Biddulph, had a valuable team killed, and had a very narrow escape him-self. It is time that some provision was made for the protection of life and property at this dangerous place.

Complaints Made A gainst Contractor Mills of Lamilton

In Regard to Use of City Water - The Commission Will Deal With the Matter,

Contractor Mills, of Hamilton, has not replied to the letter sent him by the secretary of the water commissioners relative to the use of city water at the car shops. Mr. Mills began work at the shops a few weeks ago, without notifying the board. His action with regard to the letter and his action in taking the water were reported at the meeting yesterday. "Maybe Mr. Mills doesn't intend to pay," said Chairman Cowan. "But he will have to. All contractors pay," Mayor Little said. Mr. Cowan-What shall we do?

The amount of Mr. Mills' bill will be $200, and Engineer Moore was empowered to deal with the matter. "We don't want foreigners who come in here to get ahead of this depart-ment," said Mr. Cowan, as a conclu-

Mr. J. H. Moran's application for reduction of water rates on house on King street was allowed. The rebate on Hellmuth College will be allowed, as in 1895. Mr. T. B. Escott asked for rebate on water rates, as the meter is out of order. Appeal filed. The trustees of Dundas Center Church paid under protest, and asked that an order for a rebate be given. as they thought the amount registered by the meter was too great. Inspector Plastow explained that the water was being used continually while the new organ was being tuned. Messrs. George White & Sons appealed against their last quarter's rate, which amounted to $27 90. The rates for the previous quarter were $13 24, and for the corresponding quarter last year, $15 64. Inspector Plastow stated that he thought the meter was in proper working order. Building was going on on the premises, and the unusual quantity was used on that account. The firm will be notified that they can have their meter tested. Engineer Findlay's weekly report showed: Total amount pumped, 16,303,-844 gallons; highest pumping on any one day, 2,355,316 gallons; lowest, 2,-242,336 gallons; greatest depth of water at the dam, 4 inches; lowest, 2 inches: greatest depth in reservoir 12 feet; lowest, 10 feet 8 inches. A Story of Alleged Wrong-Doing - The Bride Returns to Her Parents.

Toronto, Oct. 21 .- Mrs. Edward Sleman, who has been a bride but a few weeks, lies at the residence of her father, Mr. Thos. Reynolds, No. 816 Queen street west, suffering from shock and nervous prostration, the result of an experience that few young girls have been called upon to endure.

Mr. Reynolds and family formerly resided in Guelph, and in this way their young daughter Minnie, a highly cultured and beautiful girl, became acquainted with Edward Sleman, sor of Mr. George Sleman, the well-known proprietor of the Silver Creek Brewery. Young Sleman, who acts as book keeper for the firm, and is also president of the electric street railway company, of Guelph, courted Minnie when the family resided in the Royal City, and when they removed to Toronto he regularly visited her and wrote to her. She had visited the family several times, and was so beloved by Edward's parents that they were anxious that their son should

A few weeks ago she went to Guelph on a visit, and one afternoon, she states, she and young Sleman slipped quietly away to the residence of Rev. Mr. Belt, the Church of England clergyman, and were married, returning at once to his father's house. An hour later, in an outburst of confidence, Edward's sister, so Minnie states, told the young bride a story of alleged wrong-doing that shriveled up her love, destroyed her newly-found happiness, and drove her in despair from the man to whom she had so shortly before plighted her faith at The same afternoon she returned to Toronto, confessed her marriage and her reasons for having deserted her husband in an hour, and since then has been in a condition of nervous collapse from which her parents have as yet found it impossible to arouse The story which Mrs. Sleman says she heard involves the character of another young lady in Guelph, but Mr. Sleman claims that there is no truth whatever in the allegations.

Rochester Rector's Interpretation of Holy Writ.

He Says the Almighty Creator, Not Man Has Fixed the Ratio.

Rochester, Oct. 21.—Rev. Warren C. Hubbard, rector of Trinity Church, told his congregation Sunday evening what the Bible says about silver, His text silver is mine and the gold is mine, saith the Lord of Hosts."

"It would repay anyone," said he, "to take a concordance and gather together the references made to those precious metals. Never has there been an equality. Gold has alone occupied the first rank. Its use in the adornment of the temple, to the almost enpresented with a gold-headed cane by tire exclusion of silver, shows the estimation which God held of its outranking value. Even in the Revelation of St. John, where glimpses are afforded us of heaven, the home of God, mention is made of the twenty elders wearing crowns of gold; of the four beasts holding golden vials; of the Son of Man girt with a golden girdle; of the angel having a golden censor; of the golden altar before the throne; of the eternal city, the heavenly Jerusalem, which was all of pure gold; of the street of the city, which likewise was of pure gold, and of even the reed by which the angel measures the city, its gates and walls, and which reed must needs be Nothing was created with a certain rank in the beginning which was not to remain certain; and not to be lowered or raised by the creature at some distant period to suit his avaricious greed or his presumptious impudence, and certainly not his unblushing dishonesty. "Again, I repeat, the Almighty Creator himself has fixed these values, and the man who changes them for whatever purpose or who sneers at any argument which associates them with and an anarchist, and unfit to rule over any country upon which the golden sun shines and makes the glorious lovely, yet darkened, night. The shekel of gold was worth $9 38; the shekel of silver 59 cents. What was ratio? Sixteen to one; for 16 times 59 cents, the value of the silver shekel, amounts to $9 44, which is the value of the gold shekel, plus 6 cents."

NEED OF SPELLING REFORM.

"English spelling is remarkable for its indefinite variety," remarks The Home Journal. The remark is certainly not new, but the Journal pron, father of Rev. tainly not new. Father Gnam, Wyoming, will learn ceeds to illustrate it. 'As long as with regret of his demise at the fam- "tisis" is spelled "phthisis," says the former should be heard in the land. Mr. Turner, in the following incident, in view of our present method of spelling, was entirely consistent:
"Dobbs met his friend Turner on the train. They were both going to London, and stepped at the same hotel. Turner registered his name: "E. K. Phtholognyrrh."

"Dobbs, noticing it, exclaimed: Here, what are you assuming such a foreign, outlandish name for? Are you in any trouble?

name 'What kind of a name is that?' demanded Dobbs. 'That is my identical old name,' persisted Turner, 'and it is English, too-pronounced plainly, "Turner."' "'I can't see how you make "Turner" out of those thirteen letters; besides, what is your object in spelling that way?' asked Dobbs.

"'Well, you see, nobody ever noticed my name on the register when I wrote it "Turner," exclaimed the latter, but since I commenced writing it "ratholognyrih," I set them all guessing. They wonder what nation I am from; what my name is. I can now hear people talk about me all around. It is, as I said before, English spell-"Phth," there is the sound of in "phthisis;" "olo," there is the "ur" in "colonel;" "gn," there is the "n" in "gnat," "yrrh," is the sound of "er" in "myrrh." THE CARTWRIGHT FAMILY

d of Sterling Qualities—A Credit to the Parents. Lindsay Warder.

The entire community mourns the death from inflammation Sunday morning last in this town of the youngest son of Sir Richard and Lady Cart-wright. The young man was in the prime of life, the seventh son, and junior member of a remarkably fine family. Whatever differences of optics of Sir Richard Cartwright, no man has ever charged him with want to make a true man. The best proof of the superiority of heart and mind is that furnished by the large and very superior family now grown to man and womanhood. Every son is a credit to the parents. Capt. Robert was simply idolized by the boys of the Midland battalion in the northwest, and during his brief stay in Lindsay on the return of the troops in 1885 made friends who will last for all in command of the company of the Royal regiment of Canadians in Toronto, and during kingston brigade camp this fall again renewed old associations with the Forty-Fifth, where, as musketry instructor, he won the honest admiration and respect of all the volunteers. Another son, Capt. A. D. Cartwright, is a rising young barrister in Toronto, an excellent rifleman and secretary of the Ontario Rifle Association. Like his brother Robert, he is admired and respected for the many sterling manly qualities he possesses. A third son, a barrister in Kingston, is also a cap-tain in the Fourteenth Prince of Wales Rifles, and also has all the manly virtues of the family. The young ladies of the family are also regarded as endowed with these noble qualities which make for the ennobling and upbuilding of humanity and are found active in all good enterprises. Indeed, many a political opponent of Sir Richard Cartwright has first recognized the better characteristics of that gentleman by intimate acquaintance with his family, for where such sterling qualities are found in sons and daughters there must be nobility and true manhood and womanhood in the par-

The Cash Register Weighing 165 Pounds Carried Of-No Clue to the Robbers.

The Duke of York Hotel, on Dundas street, a few doors east of Adelaide was burglarized last night or early this morning.

Patrolman Tuke noticed that the small window at the rear of the bar was open about 2 a.m., and aroused the proprietor, Robert Smith. Mr. Smith put down the window, and says he noticed nothing missing at that time. His suspicions were not at all aroused, and he returned to bed without placing a watchman to detect any visit from marauders.

In the morning it was discovered that one of the two cash registers in the bar was missing, and also several bottles of liquor. The register contained about $5 in cash, and is itself worth $250. It weighs about 165 pounds, so that the robbery was of the most daring character.

The window through which entrance was effected is an ordinary-sized four-light window, with fasten-ings that were practically useless for the purpose of holding it down. Nearly all of the putty was removed from one of the lower panes, when, evidently, the discovery was made by the thief or thieves that the window could be raised, and the work of removing the putty was abandoned Whether or not the theft occurred before Mr. Smith put down the window at 2 o'clock is unknown; however, such seems very probable. Smith is not positive that both registers were there at that time, but thinks they were. What points strongly to the fact that the proprietor fail newness has been erased by time, and ed to detect the absence of the register the wear and tear more particularly is that in the morning the window associated with a large family-it must was down and all of the doors locked. not be supposed that the condition of The bartenders know of no suspicithese belongings represents that of our characters who visited the bar the day previous, and say that they clos-On the contrary, it is oftener an ev- ed up the bar at 11 o'clock in the idence of prosperity than penury, usual manner. Calves were scarce and in demand at Trade in cattle at the Point St. STAPLES.

The Staple Department gives its portion. This is how it reads:

Trade in cattle at the Point St. Charles market was exceedingly slow; no sales made. The market for live hogs was stronger and prices advanced 10c to 15c per cwt. There were 200 offered, which sold at $3 90 to $4 10 per cwit.

> Toronto, Oct. 20 .- At the Toronto cattle market today receipts were 9 cars, including 1,072 sheep and lambs, 2,100 hogs, 20 milch cows and springers, and 30 calves. Export business tle sold well. No really choice cattle sold well. No really fancy cattle were received. A few cattle sold at 3 1-2c per lb, and extra choice at 3 3-4c per lb. Butchers' cattle were quiet; a few picked cattle sold at 3 1-4c per lb, and poor as low as 2c, was quiet, and only really choice catand good at 3c. Half a dozen cars were taken for the Montreal market. Bulls were in fair demand, and sold at 3c to 3 1-2c, and one shoice lot brought 3 3-4c. Stockers and feeders were in active demand. ROLAND MAY'S BRAVE DEED. St. Catharines, Oct. 21.-Mr. Roland May, the plucky young farmer, who bravely rescued Mrs. Arthur Lind-say, of Ottawa, from drowning in Lake Ontario a couple of months ago, will likely be remembered by the Humane Society of Toronto, and also by the British Society. It was 11 o'clock on a very dark night that Mrs. Lindsay missed a step and fell from the wharf into the lake. Quite a number of people were on the wharf at the time, but none seemed disposed to risk their lives by going to Lindsay's assistance. Young Mr. May was attracted to the scene by the shouts of excited women, and throwing off his coat he leaped from the wharf and swam to the drowning lady, whose life he saved.

A MARTYR TO PAIN

A mother tells how her daughter suffered and how she got relief. A letter came to us the other day telling how a daughter who suffered so much at each period as almost to bring on convulsions, has been completely cured by Indian Woman's Balm. The mother is delighted, and while not wishing us to publish her name, will gladly allow us to send it to any sufferer who may desire it. THE PRICE OF BREAD. An unnecessary scare is being made about the price of bread, and it has been alleged that it will jump to 7 cents per loaf, on account of the advance in the price of flour.

Said a prominent baker today: There is no immediate prospect of a jump. Flour has gone up half a dolhundredweight in the past fortnight and this would justify an advance in bread to 6 cents. But the bakers will wait until they see if the advance in flour continues, as it may be only a temporary flurry of the market. At any rate, bread will not be 7 cents unless there is another extraordinary rise in flour, and the people may rest assured that it will not jump to that price all at once. The 3-cent loaf will come before the 7."

Belmont. $3 55; heavy, $3 to $3 50; rough, $3 to was held last night at St. Peter's Those Suspicious Bullet Wounds and Other Mysterious Discoveries.

> The speculation as to how Wm. Rogers, of South Dorchester, came to his death on Monday, still continues, and a solution of the mystery is as tar revolver had been laid on the table with the barrel pointing towards him. A bunch of keys he had in his pocket were smeared with blood, and the key of the trunk in which his money was kept was a very bloody article. One of the bullets had pierced the heart, and the one fired at the forehead had only smashed the skull, leading to the opinion that, had he shot himself, there could scarcely have been so many bullets fired, as the shot grazing the heart would have killed him. Had he shot himself first in the head, the effect would have incapacitated him from further doing harm to himself. The mystery will doubtless be fully investigated before the jury again meets.

Annual Competition of the Company's Local Brigades.

Record of Several Years Past Reversed -No. 2 Win the Colt Race.

The annual competition of the two G. T. R. fire brigades took place yesterday afternoon at three o'clock on William street, between King and Dundas streets. A large number witnessed the contest, and the efforts of the stalwart fleet-footed young men were warmly applauded. There were ten men in each company, No. 1 under Capt. Rapsey, and No. 2 under Capt. Harrison. Both companies were from the roundhouse.

Two races by each company were run, the first a dry race, in which No. 1 ran with the hose reel 100 yards, made a turn, and laid out 200 feet of hose, attached it to a hydrant, and put on a nozzle in 20 1-5 seconds. second move was to add 50 feet of hose. This they did in 11 2-5 seconds. Finally they removed a length of hose, the third from the hydrant, and replaced it with another in 13 seconds. making a total of 54 3-5 seconds. No. 2 company made the first move in 30 2-5 seconds, the second in 9 seconds, the third in 14 2-5 seconds, a total of 53 4-5 seconds. No water was turned on, but the movements were gone through precisely as in

Foreign Markets Active and Firm-The Boom Attributed to an American "Corner."

Chicago, Oct. 21.—Wheat was in a whirl again today. The whirl started with a break of nearly 2c a bushel almost as soon as trading began. December wheat, which closed at 78 3-8c, opened this morning with trades all the way from 77 5-8c to 77 1-8c. The price rapidly fell to 76 3-4c. It recovered temporarily to 77 1-4c, but at 10:15 was tumbling again, and went to 76 1-2c, within one-eighth of a square loss of 2c, as compared with night's closing figures.

London-The wheat markets opened firm. At the Baltic there was heavy trading, and prices recovered to Monday's extreme rates. On Mark Lane, English wheat, spot, was 1s, and foreign wheat 6d to 9d dearer over Monday's prices, with a steady demand. Flour showed 1s advance Horn, Son & Brant, Dewar & Webb. and other leading firms were interviewed by a representative of the Associated Press. Blow was bailed, and the arrest kept quiet, as another young man named Bennis is wanted for complicity in the robbery, but cannot be found. Blow was believed the address of welcome, and better than yesterday.

A crowded reception meeting was held in the evening in Grace Street Church. Rev. J. E. Lanceley, pastor, delivered the address of welcome, and yesterday's prices. The market was active at the close. New York, Oct. 21.-Wheat opened active and excited, with another bad slump, due to heavy load and foreign selling, chiefly the latter. Cables were stronger, but exerted all their influence before the opening, when December sold up to 86 1-4c. The excessive pressure of long wheat quickly forced he price to 82 3-4c, or 3 3-4c under the top price for the year. Heavy spring wheat receipts in the Northwest also contributed to the weakness. Observant traders in the pit said that the selling this morning was the heaviest seen in many days.

A spark fell instantly and set fire to it, and she lit her match, and watched it blaze with a singular look of triumph on her face. Somehow, the trifling affair irritated the Elder. "What are you doing at a'? You're What are you doing at a'? You're acting like a silly bairn—makin' a blaze for naething. There's a fire on the hearth; whatna for then are you wasting tinder and a match?"

"Maybe it wasna for naething, El-der. Maybe I was asking for a sign, der. Maybe I was asking for a sign, and got the ane I wanted. There's nae sin in that, I hope. You ken Gideon did when he had to stand up for the oppressed, and slay the tyrant."

His father was uncertain as to his views and he did not want to force or hurry a decision. Besides, it would evidently be more prudent to speak with the young man when he could not be influenced with les mother's willful, scornful tongue. Perhaps Neil shared this prudent feeling, for he deprecated conversation, and on the plea of business left the breakfastbefore the meal was finished. demnification for his cautious silence The Elder, however, had some in-demnification for his cautious silence.

He permitted himself, at family prayers, a very marked reading of St. Paul's injunction, "Fear God and hon-or the king!" and ere he left the house he said to his wife, "Janet, I hope you hae come to your senses. You'll allow Noo, Janet, we'll hae to come to an that you didna treat me wi' a proper

That which theologians call the whole village on fire with ambihim, her hands uplifted, fastening the broad silver clasp of his cloak. For stand rustic allusions. The Bible is full of them. In Christ's sermon on the Mount you could see the full-blown lilies and the glossy back of the crow's wing as it flies over Mount Olivet. David and John, Paul and Isaiah find in country life a source of frequent illustration, while Christ in the text takes the responsibility calling God a farmer, declaring: "My Father is the husbandman."

Noah was the first farmer. We say nothing about Cain, the tiller of the Adam was a gardener on a large scale, but to Noah was given all the acres of the earth. Elisha was an agriculturist, not cultivating a ten-acre lot, for we find him plowing with twelve yoke of oxen. In Bible times the land was so plenty and the inhabitants so few that Noah was right when he gave to every inhabitant a certain portion of land; that land, if cultivated, ever after to be his own possession.

They were not small crops raised in those times, for though the arts were rude, the plow turned up very rich soil. The rivers and the brooks through artificial channels, were brought down to the roots of the have some standard to guide us. It is honor, and manhood, and justice, and tend to open a fresh dispute by any king's heart is in the hand of the will make a straight furrow. Losing hersoever bring thee back by the way which thou camest." And God had a hook in every bad man's nose. whether it be Nebuchadnezzar or Ahab or Herod. He may think himself very independent, but sometime in his life or in the hour of his death, he will find that the Lord Almighty has a hook in his nose. This was the rule in regard to the culture of the ground: "Thou shalt not plow with an ox and an ass tosether." illustrating the folly of every putting intelligent and useful and pliable men in association with the stubborn and unmanageable. The vast majority of troubles in the churches and in reformatory institutions comes from the disregard of this command of the Lord. "Thou shalt not plow with an ox and an ass together.'

Again I remark, in grace as in the farm, there must be a harrowing. I rethe field in order to prepare the ground for the seed, but a harrow which goes over after the seed is sown, lest the birds pick up the seed, sinking it down into the earth so that it can take root. Bereavement, sorrow, persecution are the Lord's harrows to sink the Gospel truth into he exclaimed. "Allan has been wi' me your heart. These were truths that twenty-seven years; and Scott twenty; you heard thirty years ago, they have not affected you until recently. Some great trouble came over you, and the London People Talk About It. come up.

Again I remark, in grace as in the farm there must be a reaping. Many Christians speak of religion as though it were a matter of economics or insurance. They expect to reap in the next world. Oh, no! Now is the time to reap. Gather up the joy of Christian religion this morning, this afternoon, this night. If you have not as much grace as you would like to have, thank God for what you have, and pray for more. The weakest man in the house today has 500 acres of spiritual joy all ripe. Why do you not go and reap it? To the fields! Reap! reap! Again I remark, in grace as farming there is a time for threshing. I tell you bluntly that is death. Just as the farmer with a flail beats the wheat out of the straw, so death beats the soul out of the body. Every sickness is a stroke of the flail, and the sick bed is the threshing-floor. An aged man has fallen asleep. Only yesterday you saw him in the sunny porch playing with his grandchildren. Calmly he received the message to leave this world. He bade a pleasant good-bye to his old friends. Anything ghastly in that? No; the threshing of ghastly in that? No; the threshing of the wheat out of the straw. That is all the Savieur folds of the straw. all the Saviour folds a lamb in his bosom. The little child filled all the house with her music, and her tova ere scattered all up and down the stairs just as she left them. What if the hand that plucked four-o'clocks out of the meadow is still? It will wave in the eternal triumph. What if the voice that made music in the home is still? It will sing the eternal hosanna. The sun went down and the flower shut. The wheat threshed out of the straw. "Dear Lord, give me sleep," said a dying boy, the son of one of my elders; "Dear Lord, give me sleep." And he closed his eyes and

People talk of the sacrifice I have made in spending so much of my life in Africa. Say, rather, it is a privilege. I never made a sacrifice.—David I must now speak a moment of garnering. Where is the garner? Need I tell you? Oh, no. So many have gone out from your own circles—yea, from your own circles—yea, from many kinds of food without producing a burning, excruciating pain in my stomach. I took Parmelee's Pills according to directions under the head of 'Dyspepsia or Indigestion.' One box entirely cured me. I can now eat anything I choose without distressing me in the least." These pills do not cause pain or griping, and should be used when a eathertic is required. your own family, that you have had

away; their battle all ended; their burdens lifted. Garnered! The Lord of the harvest will not allow those sheaves to perish in the equinox. Some of us remember, on the farm, how sheaves were piled on the top of the rack which surmounted the wagon, and the horses staited for the barn, and those sheaves swared to and fro, and the old wagon creaked, and the horses made a struggle, and pulled so horses made a struggle, and pulled so hard the harness came up in loops of leather on their backs, and when the front wheels struck the elevated floor of the barn it seemed as if the load would go no further, until the workmen gave a great shout, and then with one tremendous strain the horses pulled in the load. Oh, my friends our getting to heaven may be a very hard pull; but those sheaves are bound to go in. The Lord of the harvest has promised it. I see the load at last coming to the door of the heavenly garner. The sheaves of the Christian soul sway to and fro in the wind of death, and the old body creaks under the load, and as the load strikes the floor of the celestial garner it seems as if it can go no further. It is the mown hay and seeing the golden. last struggle, until the voices of angels light of the wheat field. And when I open my Bible to take my text, the Scripture leaf rustles like the tassels eternal triumph, while all up and down We were nearly all of us born in the country. We dropped corn in the hill, and went on Saturday to In all ages there has been great In all ages there has been great honor paid to agriculture. Sevenernment is strong in proportion as it dustrious yeomanry. I want to run out the analogy between the production of crops and the growth of grace making use of that analogy.

In the first place, I remark, in grace as in the fields, there must be ter clothes and softer hands, and set conviction is only the plow share the whole village on fire with ambiturning up the sins that have been rooted and matted in the soul. Deep plowing for a crop. Deep plowing for a soul. He who makes light of sin will never amount to anything in the church or in the world. speaks of sin as though it were an inaccuracy or a mistake, instead of the loathsome, abominable, consuming and damning thing that God hates, that man will never yield a harvest for usefulness. The difficulty with a great many people is that they are only scratched with conviction sub-soil plow of God's truth ought to be put in up to the beam. My word to all Sabbath teachers, to all parents, to all Christian workers-Plow deep! Plow deep! Broken heart or no religion. Broken soil or no harvest. But what means all this crooked plowing, these crooked furrows, the repentance that amounts to nothing, the repentance that ends in nothing. I remember that on the farm we set a standard with a red flag at the other end of the field. We kept our eyes on that. Losing sight of that we made a crooked furrow. Keeping our eyes on that we made a straight furrow. Now, cross. Keeping your eye on that you sight of it you will make a crooked furrow. Plow up to the cross. Again I remark, in grace as in the field, there must be a sowing. In the autumnal weather you find the farmer going across the neld at a stride of about twenty-three inches, and at every stride he puts his hand into the sack of grain and he sprinkles the seed corn over the field. It looks silly to a man who does not know what he is doing. He is doing a very important work. He is scattering the winter grain, and though the snow may come, the next year there will be a great crop. Now, that is what we are doing. It is the foolishness of preaching, but it is the winter grain, and though the snows of worldliness may come down upon it, it will yield after awhile a glorious harvest. Let us be sure to sow the right kind of seed. A minister the other day advertised that he would preach a ser-mon on the superiority of transcendental and organized forces to untranscendental and unorganized forces. What was he sowing? Weeds. The Lord Jesus Christ mineteen centuries ago planted the divine seed of doctrine. It sprang up. On one side of fer now not to a harrow that goes over the stalk are all the churches of Christendom. On the other side of the stalk are all the free governments of the earth, and on the top there shall be a flowering millennium after awhile. All from the Gospel seed of doctrine.

Dr. Daniel occupied the chair, and on rising said that short speeches would be the order of the eveningthat he would limit the ministers to five or six minutes, and the laymen to two-minute addresses. He asked them to prepare themselves, as he didn't know who he would call on first. He expressed the pleasure he felt in speaking for the first time in the new church, and characterized it as more pleasing because there would be no collection. That, he said, would surprise some people, because they had been asked to give so much lately that they felt disappointed if they were not asked. He closed with the

they did or not. On that day Mrs. (Dr.) Eccles' class had held a prayer meeting at her home, and that was the first service held in connection with a burned edifice. He said "Faith in God" should be the motto of the Miss Lund, of Toronto, at this juncture rendered in a most acceptable manner "Wait Patiently for the Lord." Mr. Samuel McBride, chairman, of the building committee, was next called. He said that from the time of the corner stone laying on July 12 until the opening of the new church on Oct. 18, his committee field some 60 meetings. In the spring of 1895 he had laid before them the plan, and on Sunday last they had handed over the edifice. "What do you think of it?"

Mr. McBride asked. Continuing, he "If ever there was a pleasing said: sight in London, it was the one witnessed on Sunday night. We have now reached home, and this is our first social." He went on to speak of the honor they had done him as a congregation, and of the effort he had made to please them. He was willing to do in the future just as much. "They have begun to put my picture in the paper—what does that mean?" Mr. McBride asked. "Well, all I have to say is that of all the pictures I ever saw in my life that one was the worst." Referring to the work of the committee, he said there had been little di-vision among them, and that the trustees and congregation had stood nobly by them. He hoped the same enthusiasm that prompted the giving of $2,300 A Sure Cure for Cold on Sunday would still continue. In closing, Mr. McBride asked that Mr. C. G. Jarvis, notary public. Murray Anderson be called upon, as he had been an able worker with him in North Street Church in 1841. Miss Hartson and Miss Fowler here sang a duet with great sweetness. Mr. Murray Anderson, on stepping forward, said he had no idea of being called upon to speak. He congratu-lated the members of the First Methodist Church upon the erection of so gratulated them on having the finest building in the city. He said he had been connected with the workings of the Methodist Church since 1836, in the time of John Low and Father Wright, whose territory extended from St. Thomas to Samia, and Goderich to London. There was only the one Union Church on Ridout street-which best in the city, and our prices the was used as a place of worship by a Baptist, two Presbyterian and two Methodist congregations, the two latter being under the charge of Mr. Sharp and Mr. Odell respectively. He dealt with the time when the church had become too small and a larger one had been built at the corner of York and Talbot streets. He had seen that edifice become inadequate to accom-

and the Queen's Avenue Methodist Church built, which at that time was the largest in the city. There had Rev. Mr. Kennedy, on being called been great opposition to the building of Dundas Street Center Church. Mr. Knowles favored the audience with a solo, after which the Misses Lizzie, Minnie, Annie and Mertie Wilson sang a quartet in excellent style. Dr. Eccles, in a few remarks, attributed the success of the evening to the Ladies' Aid, and congratulated them and the congregation on the fine new building. Dr. Daniel' said he hoped they would have features of that kind once every three months, at which no admission should be charged, and said that so long as he had anything to do with the meetings he would close the proceedings as near 10 o'clock as he possibly could.

A very enjoyable evening was brought to a close by a solo from Miss Lund and one by Mr. Knowles.
