BOARD OF COMMERCE STATUS AGAIN BEFORE THE SUPREME COURT

W. F. O'Connor, K. C., Acting For Attorney-General at Hearing.

ARGUMENTS SIMPLIFIED

W. N. Tilley, K. C., Acting For Manufacturers, Disputes Power of Special Body.

Ottawa, May 7.—The re-argument in the supreme court of Canada of the board of commerce reference was opened this morning by W. F. O'Connor, K. C., for the attorney-general of Canada, to decide whether the board of commerce has power under the legislation now in question to order an individual trader in one city to explain details of his profits and submit to the ruling of a board of general questions argued in the March hearing of the case are narrowed down to this to simplify the argument, and permit of a definite judgment being given by the supreme court.

Mr. O'Connor spoke briefly in support of his factum, in which his case is embodied, and was followed by Eugene Lafleur, K. C., who represents the attorney-general of Alberta, and particularly with the question of provincial rights.

Order to Clothe. The order now being argued as principal exhibit in the case prohibits any retail clothing in the city of Ottawa from refusing to sell at a reasonable profit. The court is asked to rule whether or not such an order of the board could be filled in the retail clothing of the province, and the legal machinery of that province used to enforce it. The order, which has been in force some months ago, into the profits of retail clothing in Ottawa. The order sets forth that there has been an increase in retail profits, and demands that clothing shall be sold at the same rate of profit as was taken a year ago.

LEGALITY NOT TESTED.

W. N. Tilley, K. C., representing the Manufacturers' Association and other organizations, argued that the Parliament of Canada had not the power to compel the disposition of property within a province for the benefit of the whole country, or to prevent the holding of property for rise in prices. The wheat of Alberta, for instance, could not be controlled by a federal board, under strict application of the B. N. A. act, or sale of it completed at a fixed price except by order of the provincial parliament. Reminded that this was being done, Mr. Tilley remarked that the law of it had not been tested, that was all.

AUDITORS RUSHING REPORT ON STREET RAILWAY AFFAIRS

Will Cover the Situation Thoroughly.

TRAFFIC IS LIGHT

Public Inclined To Walk On Fine Days—39 Cars in Operation.

No report was available today on the result of the first day's operation of street cars under the direction of the railway board. A. B. Ingram, who is acting manager of the road, stated that no trouble had been experienced in getting enough men to run 39 cars, which is five more than the street railway operated before the strike. It was impossible to say just what the first day's service had yielded, he told The Advertiser.

Every effort is being made to obtain a detailed report within the shortest time possible. Auditors Faulds and Scott, who have taken over the street cars' books, will devote their whole time to them, and will work nights in order that the report may be rushed through.

It is expected that the report will cover the situation thoroughly. It is understood that the cost of operating the road in a proper manner will be given, as well as the cost of operating it in the manner which the railway has been doing. This will include allowance for each day for paving and upkeep and every other expenditure required to keep the road in first-class condition. Traffic has not been heavy since the strike ended, according to most reports. This is largely because of the fine weather. It is expected that the board will remain in charge long enough to judge conditions generally, and to make allowance for rainy weather and other circumstances which increase the traffic.

Dorothy Joan Corinne Ryman Day Arrives in Mid-Atlantic.

Montreal, May 7.—The birth of a child to Mrs. R. H. Day of Redford, the S.S. Corinne, which docked here last night, while the ship was in mid-Atlantic created much excitement. The baby was christened Dorothy Joan Corinne Ryman Day, the name being suggestive of her arrival, Corinne being a compound of the captain's name, Rennie, and the ship's name, Corinne. Captain Davies, who was also on board, is returning to his ranch in British Columbia, which he has not seen since 1914. His last duties overseas were of the most tragic in the aftermath of the war, namely, the exhumation of Canadian soldiers from old spots, sometimes in ditches, a yard from the road, to properly register the remains where a cross was erected over the remains and details of the dead soldier inscribed.

WANT U. S. GOVERNMENT TRANSPORT TO TAKE OLYMPIC TEAM OVER

New York, May 7.—Members of the American Olympic committee will appear before the United States senate tomorrow to plead for the use of a government transport for the United States team which will compete in the Olympic games at Antwerp next August. According to a statement by George Kirby, president of the Olympic committee, commercial steamship travel conditions are such that it is doubtful if a representative United States team can be sent to Belgium unless government assistance is obtained. A bill amending the law to permit the use of a government transport by the American Olympic team was introduced and passed in the Senate several weeks ago, but similar action by the house has been delayed.

French Duchess SAYS AMERICAN FOOD INSIPID

Virginia Hams and Red Bananas Suited Her Taste, Though.

Paris, May 7.—American food, as served in restaurants in that country, did not favorably impress the Duchess of Clermont-Tonnerre, who visited the United States last autumn and has written a book on her trip. Americans do not eat, she writes, as the French do, she indicates, and are trying to "simplify the performance." The only American foods that appear to have made an appeal to the duchess were red bananas, California apples and oranges, and "hams of Virginia." She adds:

"American butter is poor and American cheese cannot be compared to French cheese. American chickens are emaciated and scrawny, and one has the feeling that it is a cruelty to put a knife through them. American dishes have passed through cold storage and are insipid."

British Papers Resent American Interference in Irish Affairs

London, May 7.—Only two of this morning's newspapers comment on the memorandum sent by American congressmen to President Lloyd George relative to the Irish situation, and the tone of their editorials is somewhat resentful against undue interference in British affairs. Re-establishment of the British Bureau of Information in America, which closed at the time of the armistice, is urged upon the government by the Morning Post, which says it could counter anti-British agitation on behalf of the Irish republic, the newspaper says.

"Were Great Britain to pass a resolution in both Houses of Parliament in favor of granting self-government to the Philippines, I can imagine the British foreign office would hear of it within 24 hours."

FOOD SITUATION IN BRITAIN IS STILL SERIOUS

Charles A. McCurdy Presents Facts Before Parliament.

PRODUCTION DECREASED

Supplies of Butter, Wheat and Sugar Lower Than Expected.

London, May 7.—The food minister, Chas. A. McCurdy, took up in the House of Commons yesterday the present food situation. He said the optimism of a year ago regarding supplies had not been justified, and it was well that the fact should be made known. The world production of sugar had decreased 3,500,000 tons.

Wheat prices were a most important factor in determining wheat all over the world, and he feared, in the absence of the prospect of a considerable reduction in the world's available supply of wheat, and the fact that the world's supply of wheat was being drawn down, the price of wheat was likely to rise materially to improve.

CHURCH CHOIR PRESENTS AN ENJOYABLE OPERETTA

"Trial by Jury" Given in Centennial Church.

A program of merit was enjoyed by music lovers on Thursday evening when Centennial Methodist Church choir presented the clever operetta, "Trial by Jury," assisted by Miss Jane Metcalfe with readings.

The story, unfolded by solos, trios, choruses, etc., by members of the cast, has to do with a breach of promise suit. The stage setting was a court scene with bejeweled judge and jury after the English style, and the costumes worn by the bride, the bridemaids and wedding guests were exceptionally pretty and fitted well into the action.

Stanley Chadwick, as the learned judge, filled a difficult role with ability, and W. Short, the defendant in the case, interpreted the part of the snobbish young man in a manner that brought rounds of applause and hearty laughter.

As counsel for the plaintiff, A. Tudor delighted, and his client, Miss M. Rowson, bride-to-be, carried her solo parts in excellent style, and acted the role in a finished manner.

Other members of the cast included Miss Patterson, C. Mills and Miss Thompson, Larriester, Tutts, Dale, Skinner and Skinner.

The music was directed by Charles A. Percy and considerable credit for the success of the offering is being given the program committee, consisting of Misses C. Patton, K. Tutts and Mrs. H. A. Link. The program is being repeated tonight.

LONDON CONSERVATORY STUDENTS IN RECITAL

A delighted audience sat and listened to an excellent program last night by students of the advanced classes of the London Conservatory of Music.

From beginning to end the performance was of high artistic merit, and the students handled their numbers like musicians of mature experience. Splendid technique on the part of the pianists and fine tone on the part of the violinist were the features of the recital.

Miss Barbara Daly played the Hensell composition with a beautiful finish.

Miss Olive Shaddock is a contralto of musically attainments, and sang her group of songs in excellent style.

Miss Dorothy Davis possesses an excellent technique, and played brilliantly the Beethoven Sonata in E flat.

Miss Gertrude Dumaresque possesses a very progressive voice, which was beautifully suited to the Wagner number given by her.

Ray Eden, a former prize winner, excelled himself in the delightful fantastic Danse Negre by Scott.

Mrs. Harmon Westland possesses a sympathetic voice, and her singing is always expressive and of a rare brilliancy of tone.

Miss Margaret Gibson was the only violinist. She has excellent tone, and her execution is decidedly good.

Mrs. Harry Reid was very happy in her selections. The Oley Speaks song was remarkably well sung.

Miss Laura Kirkwood is an exceptionally brilliant student. Her octave playing is superb, and her musicianship all that could be desired. Her playing of the Sixth Rhapsody was very fine.

Mr. Scotney moved entertaining, and Mr. Lindsay and Mr. Mandass gave violin solos. The orchestra contributed to the program. The chaplain acted as chairman, and expressed well deserved thanks.

On Friday one hundred patients were the guests of the management and Lew's Theatre in the afternoon and a fine program was thoroughly enjoyed. The movies were shown on three evenings to good houses.

MEN'S BROTHERHOOD FEDERATION FORMED AT BANQUET IN "Y"

Chaplain-in-Chief of Imperial Forces Speaks.

STARVATION IN SERBIA

Gen. Davey Tells of Terrible Plight of Children of the Country.

Briefly referring to the war relief work of the brotherhood movements in Serbia, at the close of his address in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium Thursday night, Brigadier-General J. Henry Davey, chaplain-in-chief to the Imperial British forces, graphically, although in a very few words, told of the pitiable plight of 600,000 Serbian children, left destitute by the waste and devastation of war.

Two hundred thousand of these children not only had neither fathers nor mothers, but not even a single known surviving relative. Nobody knew who they were or what sufferings they had endured. For weeks and months many of them lived solely on boiled grass, chilies and lettuce, and so emaciated had they become that sores developed over the parts of their bodies where the joints of bones seemed to protrude through the fleshless skin. Their only clothing was rags wound around their shrunken, hunger-shriveled forms. Twenty-five per cent of them are tubercular.

No direct appeal was made for their assistance at the meeting, but General Davey stated that every $100 would save the life of one child, and Rev. Byron Snell announced that contributions, large or small, might be made through the local office of the Christian Men's Brotherhood in the Dominion Savings Building.

Federation Organized.

At the brotherhood banquet in the Y. M. C. A. dining-hall, previous to the mass meeting, a local Men's Brotherhood Federation was organized, with R. R. Smith as president, T. H. Yull, first vice-president; E. J. Penny, second vice-president; F. J. Wainless, secretary, and A. R. Balfour, treasurer.

The officers elected will comprise the executive committee, and with one representative from each affiliated brotherhood, union or men's club, will constitute the board of directors. General Smith was appointed delegate to the Canadian Brotherhood convention in Toronto on May 15.

A. E. Clarke of the Toronto brotherhood headquarters explained the principles of the organization. Following several ministerial inquiries as to the advisability of immediately organizing a local federation, W. W. Scott rose to declare that "No minister who comes and goes has any right to dictate to the men of a church what shall be done." After J. F. Maine and other laymen had expressed similar opinions, a unanimous vote in favor of immediate organization was taken.

"The city of London is more deeply steeped in vice and sin than we men of the churches know," said Mr. Maine, urging the need of organization at once for practical Christian work.

"There is nothing Bolshevik about the brotherhood movement," said General Davey, who declared that it stood opposed to blood-red revolution, believing that the shedding of blood was justified as a last resort, and that only when one was drawn into it as England was in the recent war through a holy cause.

The brotherhood movement was Christian at heart, and in Albania, it was headed by a Mohammedan, and in Egypt there were both Mohammedan and Christian brotherhoods working together. Brotherhoods were even being organized in Constantinople.

A preventive of war.

The spirit of militarism rampant in Germany made the war inevitable, so far as British participation was concerned. Anyone visiting the parts of France and Belgium there were occupied by the enemy would realize why the grand old British Empire could not remain out of the war. But had there been a brotherhood movement working in the great nations, if many of the war would have been prevented.

The brotherhood movement was the gospel of the practical Christ. It used to be thought that a man who neither smoked, drank, swore nor went to theatre was a pretty good Christian. But such a negative religion as this was very often a damnable fraud, said Gen. Davey.

L. M. Houlding of the Y. M. C. A. led the song service, which preceded Gen. Davey's address in the auditorium. Lieut.-Col. C. M. R. Graham spoke briefly.

General Davey questioned the accuracy of the report of ministerial workers at the front that a great revival was sweeping the battle-lines because soldiers packed the meeting halls where the evangelists spoke. The soldiers went to the religious meetings because there was no place else to go. Other visitors to the camps derived an opposite and equally extreme opinion when they heard the language of a transport driver when a team of stubborn mules became mired in the mud.

"I've heard a lot about who won the war," said General Davey. "I've heard that the Americans won it, that France won it, that Italy won it, and that Lloyd George won it. Only the other day I heard that Sam Hughes won it, and no one man did much more than Sam Hughes to win it. I'm not saying that for political reasons, because until a week or two weeks ago, I didn't know whether Sam Hughes was a Grit or a Tory. But I want to say that the British Empire soldier won the war."

Something of the psychological condition in the camp of the conquering British Empire was illustrated by a little story. A battalion had braved for many days the hardships and the sacrifice of the front line without voicing a single complaint. Back in the rear billets, at tea time, an incident occurred. "A fat-headed A. S. C. man forgot the sugar," explained the colonel in command.

"Bolshevism is the gravest danger to the average worker that any country has ever experienced," said General Davey, expressing the hope that the blood-red revolution that prevailed in Russia would never endanger the British Empire.

His advice in dealing with the returned soldiers was to appeal to the heroic in them. Present to the man who had been brave himself in battle the gospel of the conquering Christ. Too often Jesus had been presented as a namby-pamby, weak, effeminate Saviour, he said.

SUPERANNUATION MAY NOT REACH TO HONORED OFFICIALS

Terms "Stated Salaries" May Bar Some Worthy Servants of County.

PARENTS RESPONSIBLE

Chief of Police Issues Mandate Against Children Playing On Streets.

ST. THOMAS, May 6.—The proposed superannuation bill, now before the Legislature, will probably affect three of the old officials in the county buildings if the construction of the act may be made so elastic as to include those of the officers not receiving a stated salary, but who are recognized by fees up to a limit prescribed by the statute.

The section defines those who may participate in the fund as having "stated salaries."

Under this head come the veteran clerks of the supreme and county courts, David McLane, the second appointee to the office, who was appointed 40 years ago, and who has reached the age limit.

The more recently appointed crown-attorney and clerk of the peace is not in receipt of a stated sum, but is allowed to retain a prescribed amount of fees.

The sheriff has an annual amount guaranteed him by the Government and this provision for the payment of the sheriff's services may be interpreted as a stated salary. The public both legal and civil, would not find fault with the Government if these old servants were left undisturbed.

Judge Colter, of the county court, will reach his majority in February next, but the judge is beyond the terms of the sympathetic measure of the Provincial House; his superannuation allowances coming from the Federal Government.

PARENTS RESPONSIBLE.
Parents will be held responsible by the chief of police for damage done by their children by throwing stones at passing autos.

The chief has issued his mandate that the little ones must be kept off the streets.

The drivers of autos are complaining to the police of the risk the children run in the residential sections from being caught under passing autos.

Parents are hoping that something definite will be reached soon by the playground committee of St. Thomas. The parents' rejoinder to the proposed action of the chief, say they can't lock their children within doors.

ENGINE DERAILLED.
An engine of the Pere Marquette Railway jumped the track this morning near where another walked off yesterday. The train was going over the "Y," and when near the M. C. R. yards the locomotive slipped over on the roadbed. A broken rail brought about the accident. The pilot of the engine was torn off, and the front wheels of the truck sank some feet into the ground. About 50 feet of rails were torn up. The M. C. R. wrecking crew and P. M. employees had everything fixed in shape in less than a couple of hours.

REACHED HIGH PRICES.
The fixtures and furniture of the confectionery store of R. Graham, who assigned to the Retail Merchants' Credit Association, Toronto, were sold today by auction, and the chattels brought unexpected prices. Most of the articles reached figure much in excess of that paid for them when the shop was opened a few years ago. A cash register valued at $3 was sold for $37. Tables and chairs went high. END NOT REACHED.

Because of the increased cost of gas to householders, applications are reaching the Hydro-Electric Commission to supply power for cooking. The commission considered this morning the effect of this further demand on the supply of power now under its control, and decided that there would be no further installation of services on ranges for domestic purposes. Other users must be given the preference, was the mandate given out by the commission. A shortage of the service was possible, if the number of household electrical conveniences called for at the hydro-electric shop were disposed of and a service of power allowed.

WANT HYDRO FOR COOKING.
The call of Rev. C. A. Malcolm of his residence, 6 Crocker avenue, in his 85th year, from heart disease, came from Oxford County he had resided in St. Thomas for the past thirty years. His wife, two sons and daughters, survive. Talbot Oatman, P. M. yard conductor; Clayton Oatman, El Paso, Texas; Mrs. Lee, El Paso, Road, Southview, and Mrs. Harold Koyle, at home. The interment will be at St. Thomas Cemetery Saturday afternoon.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.
The $200 fund was realized for the memorial hospital fund at the musical promenade in the parish hall of Holy Angels Church last night.

The new pavilion at the park will be opened Monday, May 17, with an elaborate and enjoyable program.

A stand for the M. C. R. employees' band is being erected in the M. C. R. grounds.

Duncan C. Turner of Dunwich was elected by acclamation to fill the vacancy created by the retirement of Alex. MacLachlin as councillor of that municipality.

The local barbers' union defeated the motion at its recent meeting to close shops at 10:30 on Sunday nights.

The city treasurer's and waterworks' office will be on the second floor of the city building, while the new combined quarters downstairs are being changed.

The call of Rev. C. A. Malcolm of Wroxeter to Chalmers and McBride Churches has been sustained by the London Presbytery.

Although the United Welfare campaign of 1920 came to an official close last night, at a banquet in the Tecumseh House tendered to the canvassers by Arthur Little, canvassing and collecting will be continued for another two weeks, so that everyone will be given an opportunity to contribute, according to President George Reid. As a result of Thursday's labors, a total of $122,226, or over two-thirds of the objective of $150,000, has now been reached.

A complete report was not available from the public utilities committee, which takes in the two railroads and other public institutions, and only the complete returns for a total of $3,140 was made by the industrial employees' committee. It is expected that when the complete returns of the week's work of these two committees are received, the total will be increased greatly.

Confidence that the campaign would reach its objective was expressed by President George Reid. "We will keep canvassing and collecting until we do get the amount we are after," he said. "We owe it to the organizations for whom we are working to make the campaign a success, and it must be done. We intend to canvass a good many, for we feel that there are a large number who do not realize that this is fourteen campaigns in one and they gave accordingly," he continued.

OHIO TO HAVE FOUR DIFFERENT NAMES FOR TIME THIS SUMMER

State Also Enjoys Three Different "Times."

Columbus, Ohio, May 6.—Ohio will have four different names for its clock time this summer, and three actually different kinds of time. They are: Eastern standard, sun time, central standard, and advanced central standard.

The last mentioned is a name only for it coincides with eastern standard time. The name came about through section of communities in Western Ohio deciding to advance their clocks one hour. It was the same as eastern standard time, but they preferred to call it advanced central standard.

About half of Ohio is on eastern standard time, because of its location dividing line runs mid-state from north to south.

When 12 noon at Youngstown it will be 11 a.m. at Cincinnati, Dayton and Toledo, but it will be noon at Hamilton and Springfield, which are but a few miles out of Cincinnati and Dayton. At the same time it will be 11:30 o'clock sun time in some other places.

We intend to canvass a good many, for we feel that there are a large number who do not realize that this is fourteen campaigns in one and they gave accordingly," he continued.

A Great Factor.
He expressed the belief that the Commercial Travelers' Association would prove a great factor in the reaching of the objective. "There was much to clean up," he said, "and if anyone could do the job it was the travelers. He thought that the work of this year would educate the people for similar undertakings in other years."

The important duty of marking the closing event of the campaign. The evening was occupied to a great extent by several auction sales, which provided considerable amusement in addition to several hundred dollars. A 25-acre farm, located on the East Burr road, Let. J. Albemarle Township, in Bruce County, fell three times before the hammer of auctioneer W. R. Vendall. In spite of assurance given by Mr. Vendall that the farm consisted of oil land and volunteered information from some one in the audience that said could probably be found there, the highest bid was $60.

The farm was first bought by Arthur Little for the sum of $60. He immediately gave the farm back to the association to be resold. Sixty dollars again bought the farm for John Bridge, who traded it back for a cat, and it was sold to J. Watt for $20. Three hundred high-class cigars, contributed by Vallens & Co., brought $53.

Cats Auctioned.
Two cats, one of which was given outwards, and the other for $20, were presented to the association by Mrs. George Weir. The first one, a beautiful tawny Persian with a pedigree a mile long, which purred softly in the arms of the auctioneer as he wielded his hammer, sold first to Arthur White for $30. Mr. White gave it back, and it sold to Gerald Pearson for $25. It was sold to J. Watt for $20. Emerson Nichols, and finally to D. R. Vendall for $20.

The second cat, black in color, had no pedigree. When it was first put up it was traded to John Bridge for his farm. When Mr. Bridge gave the cat back it was sold to J. Watt for $20. Three hundred high-class cigars, contributed by Vallens & Co., brought $53.

The important duty of accounting for the capable hands of Major Alex. staff of volunteer assistants from the banks and other financial institutions was complete daily returns of all subscriptions received, so that a daily record of all amounts given by Mr. Yendall was available throughout the campaign. Those who have assisted so efficiently in this work are: Lieut.-Col. Eric Reid, D. S. O.; Capt. Chester Butler, Lieut. Kenneth Ingram, E. H. Nugent, H. F. Skye, R. H. Loney, H. W. Grierson, A. G. Hall, J. R. Reid, W. B. Bedgood, J. A. Blackwell, M. C. Templeman and A. S. Armitage.

SEAFORTH FLAX MILL DESTROYED BY FIRE

SEAFORTH, May 6.—Fire which started in the chute and is supposed to have originated from a spark from the smoke stack completely destroyed the plant of the Canada Flax Mills Company. The building was filled with dry flax and oil and in a few minutes was blazing so fiercely that all efforts to check the flames were futile. The department by hard work kept the fire from spreading to the rest of the buildings, a total loss, except the bare walls. The loss is a heavy one, but, as the company has a large amount of flax on hand to Weir, B.A., were appointed a committee to confer with the school board. Dr. Brown gave an excellent address on "Problems of Franchising."

MUNCEY

MUNCEY, May 6.—William of Muncey road died Monday morning. He had been very some weeks and his death was unexpected. He is survived by his wife and son, Archie, on the home. Mrs. Forsythe, William and John Montana, Mrs. Blight of London, and Mrs. Blight of New York. Funeral will take place on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Cook's Church. Seeding is completed in this district. The farmers have rushed the work the last few days, the weather being but cool.

George Fisher met with a painful accident, while driving along the road where the grade was narrow, when the driver lost control of the car and upset into the deep ditch resting on the top. No one was seriously hurt, but the car was much damaged. Edwin Jones has moved on to farm which he recently purchased from Russell Lowthian.

Lascelles, P. Q.—"During the Change of Life I felt so weak and run down I could hardly do my work. The perspiration would pour over my face so that I couldn't see what I was doing. We live on a farm, so there is lots to do, but many who felt as I did would have been in bed. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it did me a world of good. I tried other remedies but I put Vegetable Compound ahead of them all, and I tell every one I know how much good it has done me."—Mrs. DUNCAN BROWN, Lascelles, Prov. Quebec.

Such warning symptoms as sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backaches, dread of impending evil, timidity, sounds in the ear, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness and dizziness should be heeded by middle-aged women, and let Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound carry them safely through this crisis as it did Mrs. Brown.

You are invited to write for free advice. No other medicine has been so successful in relieving women's suffering as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Women may receive free and helpful advice by writing the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

FARMER'S CROPS GONE WHEN NEIGHBORS HELP

Washington, May 6.—In returning his agricultural statistics schedule to the U. S. census bureau, a Pennsylvania farmer made no mention of crops. When the bureau inquired, he gave this explanation:

"The population near and about my farm has a tendency to relieve the owner from the labor of gathering his own crops. This altruistic impulse is so predominant that I have refrained from planting anything for the past 20 years. Am just now turning about 40 acres into a cemetery and hope to fill it soon."

CURRIE GIVES HIGH PRAISE TO CANADIAN ENDURANCE IN WAR

Inspector-General Is Given a Public Reception At Orillia.

ORILLIA, May 6.—Gen. Sir Arthur Currie, K.C.B., K.C.M.G., was the guest of the Orillia Canadian Club this evening and gave an address on the war. Gen. Currie told something of the events of 1917 and 1918, with particular reference to the battle of Hill 70, Passchendaele, Amiens and Arras.

Sir Arthur paid high tribute to the valor and endurance of the Canadian soldier and expressed the opinion that the part taken by the men in France proved that Canada has developed a distinct race of men, the fusion of the best of Anglo-Saxon blood, sons of the pioneers who were men of brains, mettle and character, resulting in a type of soldier that was superior in many instances to those of any other nationality fighting in the great war.

In the afternoon a public reception was held at the park. Fifteen hundred school children, headed by the citizens' band, marched from the public square to the park where hundreds of citizens were gathered. Mayor Anderson tendered the distinguished visitor, who was accompanied by Lady Currie, a cordial welcome and General Currie addressed himself particularly to the school children.

Flowers were presented to Lady Currie, the school children sang patriotic songs, after which the band played. Sir Arthur and Lady Currie were accompanied by a band of the Orillia Coucheville Country Club.

During the evening Sir Arthur and Lady Currie were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Downey.

Semi-Official Announcement
From Tokio Tells of Battle.

TOKIO, May 6.—(By the Associated Press).—The fourteenth Japanese division on April 29 defeated four thousand Bolsheviki in the vicinity of Khabarovsk, in Siberia, near the Manchurian frontier, it was semi-officially announced today.

Aggressive actions by the Bolsheviki at Khabarovsk, Nikolai and Vladivostok were given by the Japanese command as the cause of the seizure of Vladivostok early in April by Japanese forces.

The funeral will take place on Friday from the residence of T. H. Woods, Minnie street, Port Huron. The body will be taken to Wilmot, Mich., for interment.

STRATFORD MAN CAUGHT BY RUNAWAY AUTO AND SERIOUSLY INJURED

STRATFORD, May 6.—R. F. Kastner, well-known local hardware merchant, is in the hospital severely injured as a result of being pinned by his auto against a store front. The extent of his injuries are not definitely established as yet.

The accident was a peculiar one. Mr. Kastner's car was standing in front of his store and he attempted to start it. The self-starter was not working and he used the handle crank. Almost as soon as he turned the crank the car started and before Mr. Kastner could free himself he was carried diagonally across the street. When the car hit the curb he was thrown with force to the pavement, but the car mounted the curb and smashed the store front. It is believed a small pin worked loose, allowing the clutch to slide in. Mr. Kastner was badly hurt about the lower limbs and the head.

At The Theaters

AT THE ALLEN.

"The Turning Point" is declared to be the best production in which Katherine MacDonald has yet appeared. Though she is a picture drawn capacity audiences to the Allen Theatre yesterday. Miss MacDonald plays the butterfly type of girl in the person of Diana Tennant.

The picture, which is the adaptation of the Robert W. Chambers novel of the same title, tells the story of the failure of the firm of Edgerton-Tennant Company as a result of which Diana Tennant and James Edgerton, daughter and son of the dead partners, are left with their own resources.

By chance they meet in New York City. A mutual love interest is checked when, in order to be constantly with Diana, Edgerton decides to assist her in her career of a professional hostess for fashionable affairs.

To save the man she loves, Diana forces him to declare his love and then points out the right way for him to earn the love and admiration of a woman.

Succeeding incidents lead Diana to strongly suspect that her great love has robbed her of Edgerton forever. Meanwhile a shadow of the type of untimely incident in her life is constantly cast before her by a disreputable Col. Curlew, who seeks to ruin the girl's life by making her believe that she is unworthy of her ideals.

An exciting moment comes when all evidence is against her. A revelation of the true Reno event has been made by the distinguished visitor, who is listening at an open door, walks into the room.

A Sunshine Comedy that provokes ripples of mirth from the audiences is perhaps one of the funniest yet screened. Another interesting film showing American soldiers in Germany is the Allen Pictorial Review completes an excellent film program. An entertainment of the Allen Pictorial Review of eighteen pieces, including a wonderful organ. The overture for this half of the evening is a musical play played under the direction of Maurice Pour.

AT LOEW'S.

Scrambling funny, interesting and mysterious at Loew's is "The Electrical Wizard." Electricity has baffled and is still baffling the scientists of the present age. One appreciates its wonderful and mysterious possibilities more than ever after seeing La Reine's performance. There is not a dull second from start to finish. The act opens with a display of snapping, crackling induction coil displays with blue flames, miniature lightning leaping between the poles, and Mr. La Reine and his assistants then proceed to demonstrate how high voltages may be passed through the human body under certain conditions without causing the slightest harm. A torch is lighted from the tips of his fingers, from the end of his nose, from his head and other parts of his anatomy. A cigar is lighted by means of high current, a pair of pliers and a screwdriver. Mr. La Reine introduces a great variety of amusing stunts which kept the audience in shrieks of laughter at the expense of those who grabbed various articles, or sat on chairs connected to charged wires.

During the day he put to sleep, in the window of the Thomas Furniture Company, a local girl, by means of electricity. She was awakened on the stage at the afternoon and evening performances, after being carried to the theatre on one of the trucks owned by Commercial Cars, Limited, 35 King street. Mr. La Reine in putting on this stunt predicted that in the next ten years electricity will be largely used in hospitals for inducing unconsciousness instead of the various anaesthetics now used.

At both the afternoon and evening shows tickets were drawn and the holders of the lucky numbers were presented with handsome electric irons. The exhibits from the Hydro Shop on the stage, at the entrance created much interest.

A number on the bill that was unusual and artistic and most pleasing in every way was that of Robert Giles. He is one of the finest whistlers ever heard in the city and his imitations of various bird calls drew repeated applause.

Ethel May Hall and Company in a one-act comedy, "The Wrong Girl," made a hit and provided constant amusement. Marva Rein, eccentric comedienne, in "Nuttin' Doin'," Seymour and Jeanette in "Two Mid-Night Howlers," were well received. In the film attraction, Mary Miles Minter in the stellar role in "Judy of Rogues' Hollow," presented one of those plays which always carry a broad human appeal. The story is that of a brave little girl, tyrannized over and brutally treated by an old ruffian whom she believes is her grandfather. Human interest and pathos feature the whole plot, and the star's interpretation is difficult role leaves nothing to be desired.

THE NEW YORK "SEVENTEEN" COMPANY COMES TO THE GRAND THEATRE TONIGHT.

It's glorious to be seventeen. And if that is one of the joys of the past, the next best thing is to live it again through your eyes and ears. This is just what you get when you see the new production of Booth Tarkington's "Seventeen" comes to the Grand Theatre on Saturday evenings at 8:15 and Saturday matinee at 2:30. There are the joys and follies of youth, all the little things that make life at this age so amusing to others and so serious to youth. A visit to "Seventeen" is guaranteed to wipe out twenty or thirty years of your age, for one evening at any rate, and young people love it. Here is a Middle West town, the curtain is drawn and reveals just such an assemblage as you may find in hundreds of such places: the youth, William Sylvannus Baxter, his imp sister, Jane, who like Nemesis never fails to shadow him and show him up; his hated rival, Johnnie Watson; the girl of his puppy dreams, Lola Pratt with the baby-talk lure, and her adored dog, Poppy. And they dance and sing, have their little porch flirtation, even the farewell dance, where William Sylvannus in father's evening clothes is sentenced to indescribable and hilarious excess of the fat Ethel Bole, just as half of the audience has done. Humorous, wholesome, youth-giving and happy in its sincerity, the story plays much credit must be given to the cast who are actually living the various episodes. Thomas Kelly has become known from coast to coast for his delightful characterization of Willie, the youth just beginning to realize his coming manhood—life is never quite so important and serious as at this age—Elizabeth Black, the impish Jane, is the most terrible of ten, in looks, in manners, in gestures, and in that curious mixture of innocence. Lael Davis, who plays the fascinating Lola Pratt, became the toast of the town during the show's run in New York and Boston.

AT THE PATRICIA.

"The Prince of Avenue A" was snubbed at a dance by the daughter of the mayoralty candidate, whose election depended on the support of the prince's father who was the boss of the "steenth ward. With such a dramatic crisis as this is the theme of the picture, presented at the Patricia Theatre, Thursday, and Saturday, and showing could not fail to develop some violent thrills and animated dialogues.

In this production James J. Corbett finds a splendid role to demonstrate both his pugilistic prowess and unique abilities as a movie star. A regular life-size role, an old-time knockout of a dozen innumerable winners in six or seven rounds, a raid on a Chinese dope den, larger beer signs and a smoking scene, all these are the ingredients of a box of election cigars, all little pictures of the good old days when many a young man of New York and prohibitionists and social reformers were still in their growing stage.

The "prince" was a plumber by trade and the way he hung the drunken butler on a bat tree and stopped the bathroom from flooding, won the heart of the would-be-mayor's pretty daughter, whom he mistook at first sight for the maid. The "prince" was a trifle out of the classy society ball, but all the men came to the aid of the Democratic

Manitoba Farmers Report Conditions Favorable.

WINNIPEG, May 6.—With a continuation of the present good weather seeding in Manitoba will become general within a few days.

The Melita districts are somewhat backward. A few farmers have some wheat in, but the majority have had to content themselves with plowing so far to allow wet land to dry sufficiently for seeding operations.

The Literary Digest

Mark of Distinction to Be a Reader of The Literary Digest

There are from fifty to sixty thousand votes being received daily in THE LITERARY DIGEST'S great presidential poll of 11,000,000 voters. As the vote grows and all sections of the country begin to be represented, a number of editors comment on the really popular expression of opinion which these ballots represent. The Troy Record makes the interesting suggestion that by means of such polls "it may be possible for the people to shake themselves free from paid publicity and artificially-stimulated candidacies and indicate the men they want to that class of representatives who really want to know." In trade and labor circles, in political clubs, in fact, wherever men and women congregate throughout the country, THE LITERARY DIGEST poll is arousing the most intense interest, as is evidenced by our daily mail.

More than 700,000 votes are tabulated and shown in THE LITERARY DIGEST for May 8. When it is remembered that eleven million voters, almost two-thirds of the vote cast in the last presidential election, are being canvassed some idea of the magnitude of the enterprise will be gained. Every ballot is mailed in an envelope, and delivered through the United States postoffice personally to the voter addressed. Return postage on the ballot is prepaid, and the voter has only to check or write the name of his or her party and the first and second choice for presidential candidates. Thus every vote cast is absolutely a secret ballot.

GIBBS' WARNING.

Philip Gibbs, greatest of British war correspondents, has written an article in the New Republic that ought to be reprinted and put into the hands of every man and woman in the British Empire, and in the United States. He entitles it, "A Plea for the Reconciliation of Peoples," and the warning he sounds is that unless there is a change in the way things are tending at the present time, all the sacrifice, all the sorrow, all the dying of the war years will have been in vain, with no likelihood of long peace, no change in the evils of old diplomacy, no greater liberties or happiness for mankind.

Philip Gibbs knows more of the horror of this last war than any man who went through
it. There were few men who saw more of it, none who felt or understood it more. He was never a pacifist, he is not a pacifist today. He believed Germany the guilty party to the war, he believes the same thing today. What he does claim is that at the end of the war the splendid vision that had come to the warring nations of a better day was blotted out by the failure of the statesmen of the great nations to realize the mission entrusted to them and by the failure of the peoples to claim their war ideals. In each country, he says, it was the bare minority who held to their faith when the war was over; the rest sank back into fear, suspicion, rivalry, greed and intolerance.

People have wondered what was the attitude of the common German people after the war closed. Philip Gibbs went into Germany with the British forces and he says the British were startled by the utter lack of hostility and the friendliness manifested towards them by the peasantry. Everywhere they said that they had been outraged and enslaved by their masters, the German capitalists and the war lords. It was a "Great Swindle." The effect upon the British is thus described:

"Our men found it impossible to keep up the passion of abstract hate in the presence of individual suffering, kindness and common sense on the part of people who were no more responsible for the war or its horrors than slaves of a tyranny. These women who had lost four, five and six sons, and now wept in wild despair, were not guilty of the war.
These children dying of rickets, or white-faced after years of ill-nourishment, were not guilty of the war. These peasants taken from the plow for 'kannenhutten' were not guilty of a war made by thugs on top of them, except that they, in the beginning, had been drunk on the poisoned philosophy of evil with which they had been doped, under the name of patriotism and love for the Fatherland and the old sentiment of the German race."

But that was not seen by the men who made the peace. German democracy was not called to ally itself with the democracies of the world in an effort to achieve a new order of human society. Austria was dismembered and sentenced to death by starvation. Both the Central Powers were condemned to slave labor by the strangling of industry and the cutting off of raw materials. There may be those who think this was the right thing to do, but Philip Gibbs thinks that from the point of view of our own interests and the safety of the world, it was the worst thing that could have been done.

"The disease of the Central Powers is a breeding-ground of mental and physical diseases which have a spreading influence.
Their financial ruin makes it impossible for France and Great Britain and Italy, and many other nations, to be cured of their own poverty."

The United States is warned by Philip Gibbs that she cannot afford to ignore what is going on in Europe. He asks the pointed question:
Is America free from the ignorance, prejudice and passions that created the madhouse of the war and that have made Europe a madhouse since the war? He would like to think so, but cannot, for he sees in the United States a propaganda of hate being spread abroad in which England is represented as arrogant, grasping, brutal, jealous of Uncle Sam and hostile. Nor is this all one-sided.

"Taunts in American newspapers are answered by gibes in English newspapers; bitter speeches by American senators are quoted to England, and hurt, and are answered by stinging satire. . . . Good God! Is the world not old enough to get rid of all that stupid, childish barbarism? Has it learned no lesson at all out of the massacre of its youth on the altar of stupidity?"

Who is responsible for this? Philip Gibbs makes answer. It is not the plain people "in London or New York, Pittsburgh or Manchester, struggling to get a little joy in life, mating,
bringing up children, in no way eager for imperial destiny or adventure of war, having enough trouble already in keeping the wolf from the door and the body from the grave.

"What Mr. Winston Churchill may say or do is not said or done by William Smith of Rosenbury Cottage, Exeter, who is pruning his fruit trees and thanking God for the sunshine.
What Senator Lodge says or does is not necessarily the thought and action of John K.
Blank of Greenwich, Conn., who is packing his four babies into a Tin Lizzie and smiling into the face of the world. There is no quarrel between William Smith and John K. Blank.
There need never be a quarrel. They have no desire to kill each other. It would be very stupid if they did."

The conclusion of it all is that the common people of every land want peace, are anti-military and have no hatred of their neighbors.
What we need, says Gibbs, is a prophet of God to change the evil in men's hearts, a greater leader than we now have, men of good will and grace. As a beginning the poisoners of the wells should be suppressed, those who spread hate and slander and lies. Let them be killed, he says by ridicule and by truth. Let us make a pact of peace among ourselves for the protection of all simple folk.

THE RIGHT IDEA.

Hats off to the women of St. Thomas. At an hour when throughout the land the people are running after and excitedly trying all kinds of more or less bizarre fads to reduce the high cost of living, the good housewives of the Railway City have given a fine display of common sense by deciding that the most effective way in which to attack high prices is by the constant exercise of economy in the home. That is the right idea, one that will accomplish something if only it becomes generally adopted.
Boycotts and overalls come suddenly and vanish as rapidly, carrying on strong for a brief period because of novelty and artificial enthusiasm. To be moderate in our purchasing, to be willing to make our clothing last a little longer, wherever we have a little land to produce something to help out the pantry is a better plan than refusal to buy necessities altogether, with consequent suffering.

GOUIN NOT RETIRING.

Through Hon. Mr. Lemieux, Sir Lomer Gouin, premier of Quebec, announces that he has no intention of quitting public life at present. This is good news, not only for the province which he has served so well, but for Canada as a whole. In the history of provincial premierships in this country few have equalled and none surpassed the record of Sir Lomer Fifteen years ago, when he took over the ruler-ship of his province, Quebec was suffering from stagnation. Today Quebec is in many respects the most advanced of the provinces industrially, commercially and socially, and the progress has been sound economically. Premier Gouin is sane, safe, solid, exactly the type of man needed to head public affairs in this period of unrest and uncertainty. When he does elect to retire from public life in his own province, it is to be hoped that his distinguished usefulness, his sagacity, tact and vision, will be employed in some field broad enough to include the entire Dominion.

THINK OF THE OTHER FELLOW.

The annual spring drive of motor accidents, in the majority of which a pedestrian is the victim is on, and despite a campaign of safety first methods, continues unabated. In almost every case the driver of the car pleads innocence of carelessness, and the victim usually passes the buck to the motorist. That one is wrong both are agreed, but it is always the other fellow.

With car drivers the rules of the road come first, and many maintain that so long as these are strictly observed the motorist is doing his part. He is according to the traffic laws, but he can further protect himself and others by stretching a point and having a little brotherly consideration for his fellow-citizens on foot.

It is a trait of human nature for one to make mistakes, and when such mistakes involve life it is up to those affected to be on the alert. Many motor accidents are caused by pure selfishness on the part of the man at the wheel, who although he is within the law in his action, does not assume a kindly attitude to the unfortunate threatened, and the latter pays for this irresponsible mood, sometimes with his life.

MOTHERS' DAY.

"And I—I saw in Mother's eyes
The love she could not tell me—
A love eternal as the skies
Whatever fate befell me."

The great beauty about a Mother is Love, and God is Love. A good Mother from her very loving learns Godhood; her heart is full of a worldship of things that count and when she puts her desire for good into prayer, it is certain to bear fruit in the lives of those she loves.
She has infinite pity for suffering and sweet sympathy beyond measure. She yearns over the beautiful everywhere, and finds wonderful joy in a sunset. She touches flowers with understanding hands and looks deep into the heart of a sunset. An old love song has a ceaseless charm for her, and she gives listening love to a little child. Instinctively she spurns sin and wrong and reverently reaches for things above. The strength of her love she gives unquestioningly as a strong support for the storms of life. Her purity is Heaven-given and God loves to make of her heart a resting-place.

Mother's love is full of wonderfulness and beauty, and whether it is a possession or a memory, she ought to be sure of the finest loyalty earth can give. She should never be taken for granted, nor should her love be a thing accepted in silence. Mother's Day should be made so beautiful in words and deeds of tenderness for her that she will treasure their memory even into eternity.

HYACINTHS.

Out from the keeping earthly dust,
From the homely bulb again—
Hyacinths prove their tender trust
In the springtime sun and rain.

In great round beds in Victoria Park the hyacinths are blooming, purest white, delicate blue and pale pink, deeper blue and rose, like so many tiny bells arranged spire-like with edges notched daintily as for a fairy's fancy, and thoughtfully named for the interested passerby. By a clump of budded shrubs are jougills, gay as spring sunshine, with their beautifully combined pale gold bells and stars of deeper gold blowing softly against their lanced leaves, and wistful for their happy comradeship are more hyacinths.

Follow the way of the wind and then as you find the hyacinths turn and love their fragrance and study their waxlike flowers, so pure, so perfect, and understand a little why Elbert Hubbard said: "If I had but two loaves of bread I would sell one of them and buy white hyacinths to feed my soul."

"I AM ONE OF THE PEOPLE."
[Brantford Expositor.]

That was a fine touch of democracy, and an indication of brilliant qualities of statesmanship which the Prince of Wales manifested when he refused to ride on a special train during the strike on the railroads of Australia. On being told that there would be no difficulty in finding men to run the royal train, he asked: "Will they run trains for the people?" On being told that they would not, he replied: "That being so, they cannot run trains for me. I am one of the people." Hurrah for the prince!

From Here and There

THE FIRST BLUEBIRD.

[Ethelwyn Wetherald.]

First, First!
That was thy song that burst,
Out of the spring of thy heart,
Incarnate spring that thou art!
Now miss the wren's sweet part,
Since to his age-heavy ear
Fluteth the youth of the year.

Low, low.

Delicate, musical, slow;
Listen, O Heaven that lowers,
Blossom, ye fields, into flowers,
Thicken, ye branches, to bowers;
And then, O my heart, like a stone,
Whit thou keep winter alone?

NOT ENOUGH HOUSES.

[Christian Guardian.]

Partly because there are not enough houses, and partly because of the general inflation of values, and partly from pure greed, the rents of dwelling-houses in our cities and United States cities have been leaping skyward in an alarming manner. New York State, in sheer desperation, recently passed a law limiting the increase in rentals to 25 per cent over last year's figures. The fact that a 25 per cent increase is looked upon as a reasonable one is itself a startling fact. But even this will not prevent a landlord bidding his tenant vacate a house, and he can then charge his own figure, even if it be 50 per cent increase. Ordinarily the increase in rents would stimulate building operations, but it is not doing so just now. In Toronto a small house with a fair-sized lot will cost about $5,000.
The taxes on this property will run about $150, and if we allow 10 per cent interest on the investment, which certainly would be a very low rate to cover insurance, depreciation and interest, we get at once a rental of nearly $55 a month, which no average worker can afford to pay. The solution of this house difficulty is not yet in sight. The Building Guild has proposed to the city council that the council advance $500,000 to build houses, and the guild will build the houses, under the supervision of the city architect, thus saving all contractors' profits. The Builders' Exchange, on the other hand, offers to build the same houses at a contractor's profit of 5 per cent, which they assert is cheap enough for effective supervision. But 100 or 200 extra houses will do very little to relieve the situation, and the staggering feature about the situation is the prohibitive cost of houses to the average wage earner, whether he rents or not. If the congestion in the cities would only drive men to the farm it would not be an unmixed evil, but it has not yet operated in this way.

MAKING DIVORCE EASIER.

[Le Devoir.]

There is a movement on foot in England directed to increase the number of legal causes for divorce.
This is a natural tendency everywhere a breach has once been made in the sacred wall. And that is surely what will happen in Canada if parliament, enlarging the present rule, adopts the Ross project of law. A double movement then will soon be made in order to apply the law to all the provinces and render divorce easier. For the present, the Province of Quebec is excluded from Senator Ross's measure. But it is none the less necessary that we should combat the proposal generally in the interest of the country, and particularly as a measure of protection for our own province.

A LAMENT FOR ARCHIBALD LAMPMAN.

[Theodore G. Thomas in the Canadian Magazine.]

He did not cross his sword with Death
Scarlet flags are hurled,
But Death came to him softly, with his dark eyes
Full of tears.
And broke a dream of woodland ways across a singing world.

So doff your hats, good poetmen!
No fingers lift the fallen pen.
The sun forgets to mark the time
Without the music of his rhyme.

His was not the glory of the thundering of wars;
His was not a nation's voice—his a nation's tears?

To him the night-winds whispered all the secrets
Of the stars;
He was priest of all the joyous springs and of the dying years.

So doff your hats, good gentlemen,
For hearts were made to bleed again
With Archie gone, and all his rhyme,
Who'll tell the world 'tis April-time.

THE DENIM-CRATIC PARTY.

[Cincinnati Times-Star.]

The overall movement that is sweeping across the country is more significant than it seems. There is more in it than the spirit of a sartorial prank.
It means that at last there is a popular appreciation of the inexorable truth that to cut down the high cost of living we shall have to cut out some of the high living. There was a time, not so long ago, when the boys of a neighborhood wore trousers that were things of patchwork, if not of shreds. And they weren't ashamed of them. But the general tide of prosperity swept patched trousers into the discard. The boy whose trousers are of more than one material is now a social outcast. He belongs to the juvenile proletariat, whose parents are not able to buy him a new suit when time has abraded
the seat of his trousers. But don't blame the boys.
This feeling, this class distinction, is a heritage from fathers who formerly walked or rode in street cars, but who now "tour" to and from work, and from mothers who are not satisfied so long as Mrs.
Jones next door has a car of more expensive make.
The American people have been conditioned by used to. But they are going to live more and more as they used to. The overall movement is a picturesque harbinger of the days that are on their way.

AN OPPRESSIVE ANOMALY.

[Birmingham Post.]

Viscountess Astor wants legislation to enable a widow to marry the brother of her dead husband.
She asked, in the British House of Commons, if home secretary was aware of the urgent need of an alteration of the marriage laws to make it legal for a woman to marry her dead husband's brother.
Our one lady M. P. has chosen a good cause to champion, which, as she pointed out, is of especial importance to thousands of war widows in this country. The legal bar to such unions is an unscriptural and as wrong from every point of view as was the long and obstinately-upheld veto of marriage with a deceased wife's sister. No more palpable absurdity was ever perpetrated by a parliament of feeble commonplaces than that the one disability should have been abolished without the other.

A LOVER IS EMBARRASSED.

[Edmund Vance Cooke.]

A lover is embarrassed, so they say.
His phrases fall in awkward disarray.
His breath is backward and his speech is lame,
His tongue is ice-cold, though his heart is flame.
And yet, from the first time I touched your hand
I almost think I made you understand How adequate you were (and still you are),
And how I held you as my compass star.

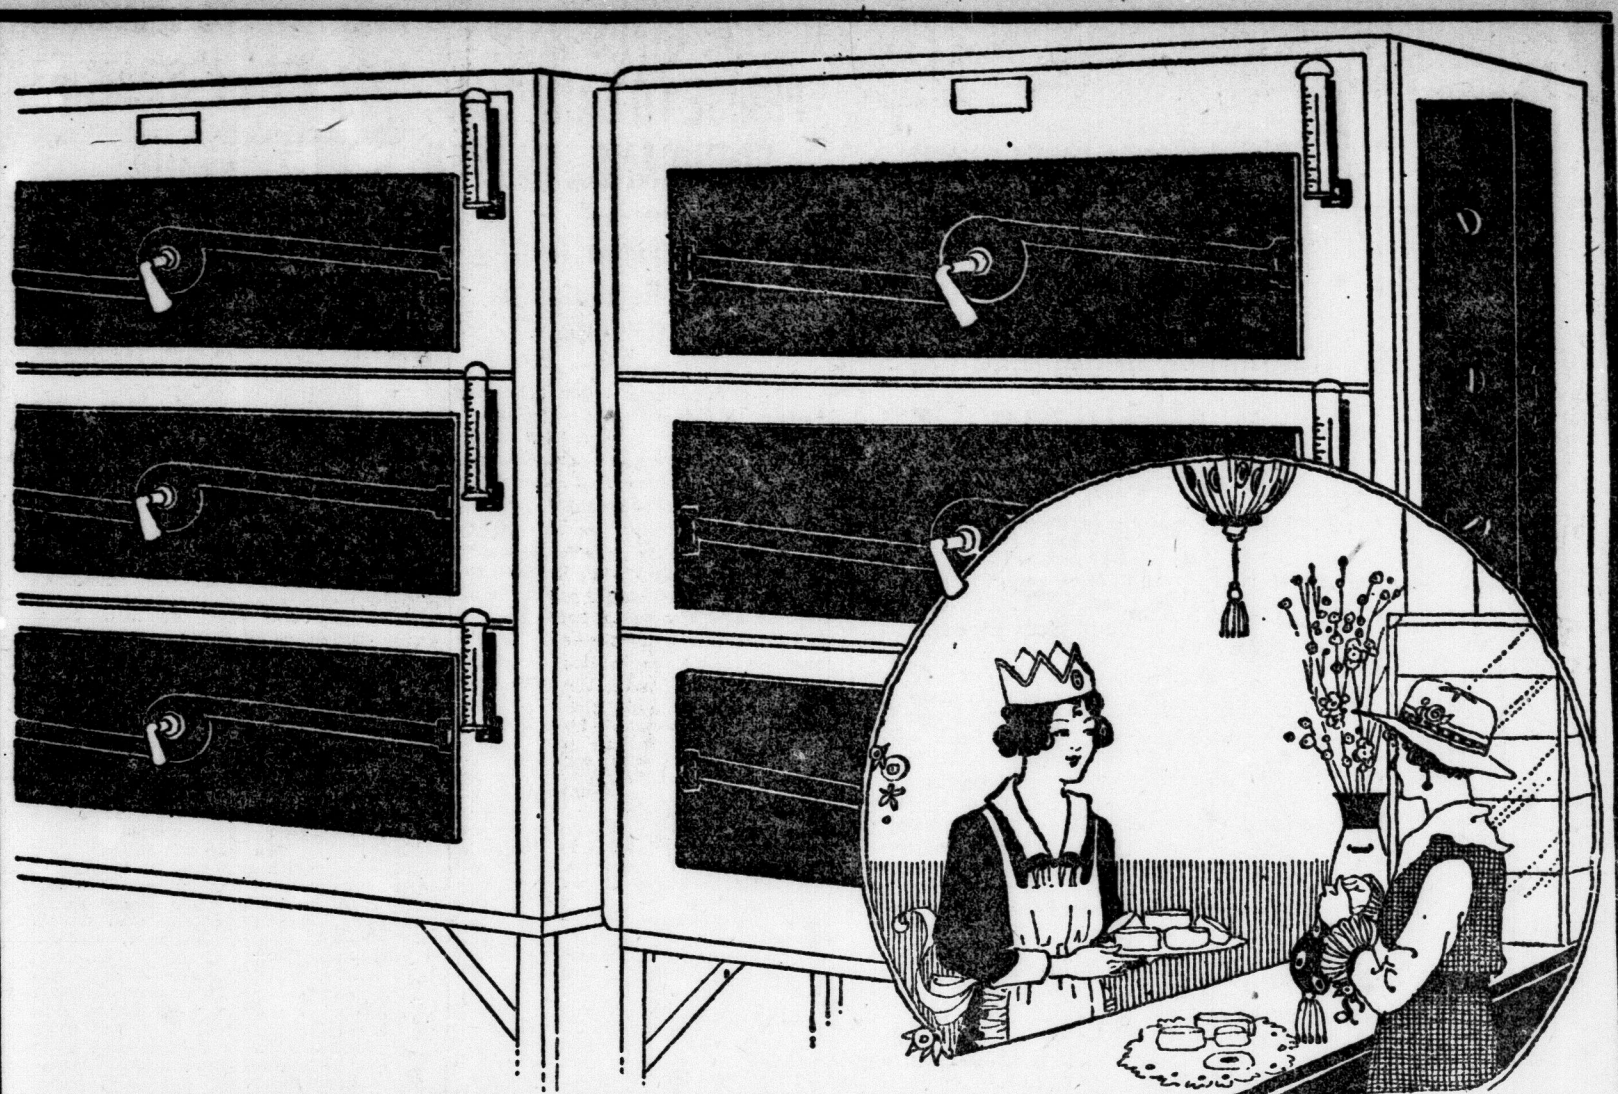

Now, after years together, I am dumb.
Or, if I summon words, they limply come.
And when I send them stumbling to the test,
My tribute seems no more than some half jest
And you, as if you only heard the half,
Receive it with a little wife-like laugh.
Or else I tender it in plain, blunt prose.
As one might say, "Here, take it! It's a rose."

When the first murmurings of love-speech came,
I could make eloquent your very name.
When I so little knew you, I could tell Your worth to me. Now, what I know so well
I mumble at, I hesitate, and then
The cold words will not breathe to life again,
And I succumb in middle-aged dismay.
A lover is embarrassed, so they say.

WORKING AND LIVING.

[St. Louis Globe-Democrat.]

Plainly the Allies must assume some responsibility for the "internal order and economic well-being" of Germany if the treaty is to be enforced with any semblance of justice. To disarm Germany and to refuse to aid in her preservation is to destroy her and to make compliance with the treaty impossible, as well as to make her resulting anarchy a menace to all Europe. Apart from any consideration of humanity, which ought not to be eliminated, the material interests of the allied nations, as well as of all Europe, and even the whole world, demand as Nitti says, that Germany be given "the possibility of working and living."

SAW FINDS SHELL HIDDEN IN BIG LOG

Vancouver, B. C., May 6.—A great log, that appeared sound and clean, cost a mainland sawmill $250 this week
When the big circular saw bit into the timber it flew to pieces, and investigation showed a 25-pound shell imbedded in the centre. The tree had been brought from a point up the coast, and had probably been used years ago as a target for guns of British naval cruising on the Gulf of Georgia. The shell is of the type used by the navy about 25 years ago.

FLINTBALL TEAM LOOKED GOOD AT SPRING CAMPHump Pierce Has Built Up
Great Machine For Vehicle
City and Is Full of Confidence.

(By Tip O'Neill.)

FLINT, Mich., May 6.—The writer returned from a week's trip down to Lafayette, Indiana, today, where he watched the 1920 professional baseball team representatives of the Vehicle City workout. They are absolutely sure that "Hump" Pierce, Halligan's manager, means business this season. He is the same "Hump" Pierce as ever, harsh, shrewd, loud at times, but after all, possessed of a kindly heart, and when the needs and tribulations of the day are past, he is one of the boys himself. When the group from here first landed at Lafayette, the manager didn't lose any time in "culling" those with broad "imaginations," and those who insist on mule tactics, but long before this writing, he has the kickers and others who must, he says, get better city league training before they can hope to get a salary of any consequence at all, sent back to the spot from whence they came.

Good Boys.
"I have a group of good boys on my hands now," he told the writer, one hour before he left. "I think they can pass the byword out far and near that when next Tuesday rolls around, we'll be in a position to show up some of those who have insisted on criticizing us."

It looks as if Jack Byrnes, commonly known as "Swats," is a fixture for Flint this season. Swats weighed around 200 pounds, when he left Flint for Purdue University, but he has reduced more than twenty pounds since. As an outfielder he is a little heavy, but as a batter, well, over the fence, and that's all there is to it. Last Sunday over at Frankfort, Indiana, with the bases loaded and John at bat, he cleared the field, and when they found the apple they took another start. And the best of it is, he does these things most every time while Ted Anderson on first and Dolly Gray on second with Herb Jipkes at bat, stop make a sweet trio. Carl Johnson is developing into a real catcher. Red Hays is showing a promising form plugging this year. The man the St. Louis Cardinals tried to get, Paul Sparr, whom the writer has seen in action, is good. Wetzell at center field is doing nice work. Homes has been catching a lot of fly balls. Try is a sweet leftfielder. Tengen, Farn, Caywood, McGregor, Sullivan and Kink, all with the club, are doing another splendidly, while "Hump" is filling the saw for the printing. Wetzell in the outfield is showing better form this week.

Some Advertisers.
Although there is good reason to believe that on big league teams there are no players with the same clique as with the Flint boys in the camp, President Halligan has been obliged to open wide his bank account this season. He has had to pay for the kind of baseball desired.

The Flint club will play the Fairbank-Morse outfit at Beloit, Wisconsin, Saturday and Sunday, and arrive here at 8 o'clock on Monday morning. They will remain here till about noon, when they will leave for Canada to open the season Tuesday.

President Halligan will be with them. "Nothing will do me more good than to see my busters clean up Hamilton right off the bat," said the president today.

George Maines, league president, leaves for Detroit tomorrow. He will meet with the umpires Sunday, then after August 8, for the managers' conference Monday. "Yes, it is true that I will be at London for the opening game," he said this evening. Asked how he liked it over in Canada, he replied: "I love Canada and Canadian people are among the finest on earth."

SECRETARY OF CANADIAN
CANOE ASSOC. QUILTS

MONTREAL, May 6.—Secretary-Treasurer C. G. Wilkinson of the Canadian Canoe Association has resigned from his office. This action was taken following a meeting of the eastern division of the association last night. An effort will be made to have Mr. Wilkinson reconsider his decision. The eastern division will suggest several changes.

Chief among them will be that in future the annual regatta be held on the first Saturday after August 8. Both the eastern and northern division feel that as the western division have two or three weeks camp on them in getting into condition, owing to climatic conditions, the regatta should be delayed until about the middle of the month.

Thought Of.

(By G. H. Townsley.)

DELAWARE, Ohio, May 6.—After spending three weeks in training camp in Delaware, Ohio, Buzz Wetzel's gang of ball players from London, Ontario, leave tomorrow for the opening game of the season in the Michigan-Ohio League. The team goes on to Detroit Friday to witness the game between the Detroit Tigers and the Cleveland Indians, and on Saturday they will journey to Fort Huron, Mich., where they have games both Saturday and Sunday. The first league game in which they play will be staged Tuesday next.

Today the team had a slight workout both morning and afternoon, and then packed up to leave. Bating and fielding practice this morning was fast and snappy. All the men are in fine physical condition; no sore arms were in evidence, and everyone seemed to be in good spirits. The boys are looking forward with great interest to the game next Tuesday. Wetzel feels that he has uncovered some fine ball players. His pitchers are exceptionally good. He has some fine infielders in Shea and Pittenger, and Kuhn and Albert have shown extraordinary ability with the stick. Without doubt the team will stand well if not at the top of the league this year.

Mike O'Dowd Loses His Crown On Referee's
Decision in 12 Rounds

Boston, Mass., May 6.—Johnny Wilson of Boston won the middleweight boxing championship of the world, when he was awarded a referee's decision over Mike O'Dowd of St. Paul here tonight.

O'Dowd was the aggressor throughout the contest, but Wilson, a left-handed boxer, scored repeatedly with his right.

O'Dowd excelled in fighting, but seemed unable to fathom Wilson's tactics. Eight of the rounds went to Wilson, two to O'Dowd and two were even.

The only knockdown in the bout came in the second round, when Wilson caught O'Dowd with a straight right to the jaw. O'Dowd coming down for the count of four. Wilson surprised the followers of the game by scoring so many times with his right.

Through O'Dowd's defence often, the race set by the men was fast, and at the end of the twelfth round both were unsteady on their feet. A capacity crowd witnessed the bout. The St. Paul boxer was a big favorite before the bout, the general betting being 10 to 3.

Wilson scored continually with right jabs to O'Dowd's face.

Heater McInnes of Boston was the referee.

Wilson has participated in many bouts against second-rate boxers for the last year, and has appeared in many cities, principally in New England. Tonight's bout was his first fight against a leading contender.

O'Dowd won the title from Al McCoy in 1917.

Wilson's going sounded for the end of the twelfth round and Referee McInnis pointed to Wilson's corner in the twelfth round.

ANSOR BEST CASE TO E IN HANDS OF JURY EARLY TODAY

Flint Youth Repudiates 'Alleged Confession On the Witness Stand.

POTIAC, Mich., May 6.—Closing arguments were begun late today in the trial of Anson Best, a Flint youth, charged with the murder of Miss Vera Schaefer. The case, it was indicated, would be in the hands of the jury early tomorrow.

Best was on the stand most of the day, during which he detailed his movements about the city on the night the telephone operator's body was found on the porch of an unoccupied dwelling. He denied that he had anything to do with the death or that he had known the girl.

Repudiating an alleged confession, the witness said he made the statements attributed to him by Prosecutor Gillespie, in order to get a respite from questioning by officers. Deputy sheriffs and police officers picked on the stand in rebuttal denied they had used force or threats to obtain the alleged confessions.

RAILWAY STRIKE IN FRANCE PRODS GOVT. TO STATE OWNERSHIP

Fear of General Strike Hasten Railway Reforms.

PARIS, May 6.—The strike of railwaymen, which has now extended to the miners and dockers and to the metalworkers in the Paris district, with the threat of a possible general strike, has caused the Government to hasten its promised plan of reorganization of the railroads as forecast in the Chamber of Deputies on February 24 last.

Unofficial details of the Government's project show that it provides for a controlling council composed of delegates representing the technical and administrative personnel of the railroads, the workmen, chambers of commerce, parliament and the government. Under the plan this council would have authority to order improvements and, if necessary, have the work done at the expense of the companies. Theoretically, the companies would retain and operate their properties, but they would merely be managers.

BORDER CITY JEWS CELEBRATE IN HONOR OF GREAT BRITAIN

Parade in Windsor One of the Biggest Ever Witnessed
There.

WINDSOR, May 6.—In one of the largest parades ever held in the Border Cities, members of the Jewish faith united today in a big celebration, which also included public meetings and services, to express their gratitude to Great Britain for taking over and subsequently handing back to the Jewish people the mandate of Palestine, where their country will become the homeland of Jews from all parts of the world.

All Day Long
The celebration commenced at 9:30 this morning and continued until a late hour tonight with W. C. Kennedy, M.P. for North Essex, Major the Rev. J. C. Toinin, M.L.A. for North Essex, Professor Levine of Dresden and Dr. Werner of New York taking a prominent part in the functions.

Children Wear Flowers.
Hundreds of small school children of Jewish descent garbed in white preceded the procession which consisted of many automobiles gaily decked with flowers, bunting and flags of the Allied nations with the blue and white ensign of the Jews and the Union Jack predominating.

CARRANZA REFUSES TO QUIT, WILL FIGHT REVOLT TO FINISH

Issues Manifesto Refusing to Abandon Presidency.

MEXICO CITY, May 6.—(By the Associated Press.)—Refusing to abandon the presidency in face of the menace of rebellion featured a manifesto issued yesterday on the occasion of the national holiday by President Carranza.

The president announced that he would fight to put down the rebellion, and that he would not turn over the presidency to anyone except a legally elected successor. He enunciated the principles of the elimination of the coup d'etat from Mexican politics, asserting that the presidency must not be a prize for military leaders.

In the manifesto, President Carranza declared it would be impossible to hold the presidential elections, which had been set for July 4. Also, he traced the events in Mexico, which he charged, represented a plot by the followers of General Obregon to gain the presidency through means of violence.

Concentration of Carranza troops at Mexico City caused rebel representatives here today to believe it might indicate the president's intention to gather about him a force sufficient strong to enable him to transfer his seat of government. The obvious purpose of such concentration, it was explained, would be the defense of the capital, but according to military experts, Mexico City is so difficult to defend that Carranza might be expected to employ the same tactics he did when Villa gained the ascendancy in 1914 and again set up his capital at Vera Cruz.

Other reports from Mexico City are that the Legislature of the State of Mexico had declared in favor of the revolution, and that Gen. Le La Torre had been sent to recapture Toluca, the state capital. Oaxaca, capital of the state of the same name, Tuxpam and Panuco, near Tancitaro, are towns now claimed by the rebels, whose reports are that the same federal garrison that recently was reported to have withstood the attacks of Gen. Manuel Palafox's men had now joined in revolt.

The cutting of railroads continues, according to official and unofficial reports. The best information available indicated interruption of traffic over the railroads between Mexico City and Vera Cruz, Puebla and Pachuca and the main lines north to Toronto and west to Guadalajara.

Canada, Now Nation, Cannot Amend Naturalization Act Without Consent of British

Rowell Shouts "Status of Nation," But Union Government Makes Canada Swallow Change Made in British Laws—Liberals and Agrarians Protest Vote-Snatching Franchise Act.

(Special To The Advertiser.)
OTTAWA, May 6.—There is a cloud upon the title of Canadian citizenship. Since the present government came into power no man or woman can be entirely sure of the rights that pertain to nationality. Under the naturalization act of 1919 absolute power is vested in the secretary of state to grant or withhold certification of naturalization. Worse than that, how complete power to cancel naturalization certificates already granted. He can cancel them for a variety of reasons, one of which is that the holder of the certificate was not "of good character" when he received it. He may have received it twenty years ago, and have come from a country where good character was a virtue, but in this country, and under the benefit of institutions of the Dominion have attained to the most spotless character.

Is To Be Judge.
That does not matter, and, moreover, the secretary of state is to be the judge of "character." The Lord of the Manor takes away. This act does away with the former naturalization act, through which any person who was satisfied with the mere title of Canadian citizen could remain a citizen of that country. It took three years to become a Canadian citizen; it takes five to become a citizen of the Empire. But the trouble appears to be that whoever becomes a citizen is to be a judge of his own character.

Hon. N. W. Rowell has made the mistake of trying to swallow Canada's new status as a nation, on equality with Great Britain among the nations of the world. And yet Hon. J. Doherty humbly informed the House last evening that it was not possible for the Parliament of Canada to amend its own naturalization act without the consent of the British Parliament. As a consequence, thousands of persons who for many years past have considered themselves good Canadians, but who on account of technicalities failed to secure papers, must now wait for years before they can be enfranchised.

States Specifically.
The naturalization act states specifically that the wife of a British subject shall be deemed a British subject, which is, according to Hon. J. Doherty, to give all British subjects a right to citizenship. This is a mistake, unless such wives are British, or were born in the North American continent, including Mexico, and must secure a certificate from a judge before they can vote. The same applies to filial relations. Such women are not confined to persons of alien birth, but include Belgians, French, Italians, etc. These are now to be told that, while their husbands are British subjects, they are to consider themselves foreigners, who must appear before a judge before they can vote, and perhaps not receive permission.

Anxious To Have Women.
At one time the Government was anxious to have women vote. Now, apparently, they desire to restrict their franchise as much as possible. Against these restrictions the Liberal party has for the past two days strenuously protested in the forenoon, being W. D. Bowser, North Waterford, and Fred Pardee of Lambton, Capt. "Chubby" Powers of Quebec, and others. From the Agrarian party have also been heard some protests. Not satisfied with persecuting the foreign born, the Government last session succeeded in rushing through the House (with inadequate explanation) a bill which permits the minister of immigration to deport persons of British birth. Assuredly there is a cloud upon the title of Canadian citizenship.

BUREAU MAKES PROTEST.
OTTAWA, May 6.—(By Canadian Press)—Jacques Riviere, Three Rivers, resumed the debate on the franchise bill in the House this afternoon. He contended that if a vote was given to a man it should also be given to the man's wife. "The Government is silencing the naturalization act because the votes of these women who are more sensitive to the abuses of order-in-council and other nefarious ways of conducting business," he said, adding: "If the Government wants to do anything let them cut out the franchise bill altogether and not discriminate."

L. Cannon, Dorchester, also agreed that as a wife of a British subject was herself a British subject under the naturalization act, it was arbitrary and unfair to compel her to go to court for a certificate before granting her the franchise, which was hers by right the same as it belonged to her husband.

A woman married to a Britisher needed no naturalization certificate. She was naturalized by operation of the law. "The position," Mr. Cannon went on, "is this: Are we once and for all going to lay down the rule that this country is going to make contracts with people and then not respect them? Are we going to bring people into this country under false pretences and turn out their naturalization certificates into scraps of paper?"

Dr. Cowan, Regina—Did we make any contract with these women to give them the right to vote?

Right to Citizenship.
Mr. Cannon—If Dr. Cowan had come from Belgium, settled in Regina, and been given a naturalization certificate his wife and children become British subjects. Their right to citizenship is just as old as naturalization law. Naturalization of a British subject carries with it naturalization of the wife. In any politically well-organized country you cannot have the husband of one nationality, the wife of another nationality, and the children of a third nationality.

It was neither fair, logical, nor logical to assume that a British subject could not be a British subject in a particular sense, and Mr. Cannon thought that the clause seemed to have been framed to suit the interests of a small section of the country. It was a piece of legislation without parallel in this or any other democratic country.

Mr. Cannon asked that the paragraph disqualifying wives and children of enemy aliens except under a judge's certificate be struck out altogether, and that another paragraph be introduced providing that for the purpose of a vote, Canadian citizenship was bestowed on persons of alien birth who had resided in this country as citizens a number of years, and who were disqualified only because they had not technically become naturalized before the war. Such a provision would not conflict with the existing naturalization act, any more than the clause giving the vote to soldier Indians had conflicted with the Indian act.

Close Old Wounds.
H. H. Stevens of Vancouver said he did not want any action taken which would tend to keep open the old wounds of war, but the fact remained that there were deserving persons of enemy origin who were quite ready to use their influence to stir up trouble in this country. Such persons should be denied the franchise.

W. D. Bowser (South Waterloo) argued that the amendment proposed by Mr. Guthrie did not go far enough. There was a great deal of confusion as to what the clause and the amendment meant. The whole difficulty arose from the fact that an attempt was made to amend a law which was in direct contradiction to the law already on the statute books. The Government was trying to reconcile two irreconcilable things. The wife of a British subject had always been considered a British subject. But the proposed law said in so many words that she was not a British subject.

Whole Thing Absurd.
The whole thing was an absurdity and should not be put on the statute books. The clause would be better struck out, and in amendment to the amendment he moved that sub-clause two of clause 23 be deleted. This sub-clause provides that for the purposes of franchise the allegiance or nationality of a person, as it was at the birth of such person, shall be deemed incapable of being changed or of having been changed, merely by reason of marriage or change of domicile. The clause was introduced in consequence of the fact that some persons born on the continent of North America and of a person who obtains a certificate from a judge in the jurisdiction in naturalization proceedings. H. A. Mackie (Edmonton), S. W. Johnson (Montreal), and J. P. O'Brien (Last Mountain), contributed to the discussion. The last named asked Mr. Guthrie what good reason there could be for making British subjects travel many miles to secure the certificates from a judge. Women whom the law said were British subjects would have to undergo a long journey from their families for a day or two in order to make their application to a judge that happened to reside in a rural district.

Guthrie Replies.
Mr. Guthrie replied that there was no reason why a district judge should not hear these applications at another part of the district than the county town. The law was not intended to be a hardship. If any change in the language of the amendment was necessary, it was the business of the Government to accept suggestions from the House.

D. D. McKenzie advised the Government not to carry the war spirit into times of peace. He could understand the Government grafting drastic measures on the Government should realize this.

Standardize Parts of Farm Machinery.
OTTAWA, May 6.—A bill to provide for the standardization of parts of agricultural machinery was introduced in the House this afternoon by Mr. McCook. Mr. McCook said the bill provided for standardization of the interchangeable parts of farm machinery. This could be done without any great expense to manufacturers, and would be a convenience to users of agricultural machinery.

Let Veterans Secure Positions.
OTTAWA, May 6.—(By Canadian Press)—Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Minister of Militia, replying to a question by Captain Power in the House today, said that a classification of the composition of militia and defence had been submitted to the civil service commission.

In every case where a man held a position, which he was prepared to make permanent, his name had been submitted for appointment to the civil service. With regard to other positions, it had been suggested that these positions should be thrown open to competition, thereby giving returned soldiers an opportunity of obtaining appointment to such positions.

Expect Budget Down Wednesday.
OTTAWA, May 6.—It is expected that Sir Henry Drayton, minister of finance, will bring down his budget on Wednesday. The definite date, however, has not yet been decided upon. Announcement in the House will probably be made tomorrow.

Robberies Increase in Berlin, Result of Revolt Profiteer.

Signs On Stores Request Burglars Not To Enter.

BERLIN, May 6.—In these disturbed days, when the "revolution profiteer" the successor of the war profiteer flaunts his newly-acquired wealth in the face of an impoverished populace, robberies and burglaries in Berlin increase at an abnormal pace. Street signs are full of announcements offering rewards for the return of stolen goods, and in one of the main business streets of Berlin a fancy goods store displays this notice:

"Gentlemen burglars are requested not to break open the shop front, nor to tamper with the lock, or to do anything to steal here. All property is removed from the shop windows at night."

There have been scores of hold-ups, and the other day a man was stripped of his clothes, shoes and hat and left on the sidewalk in his underwear. It is not safe for hotel guests to leave any portable property of any description in their rooms. Articles of clothing have a way of vanishing into thin air, and hotel proprietors decline all responsibility. Police statistics indicate that the number of hotel robberies has tripled within the last five years.

To leave typewriters unattended is sheer culpable negligence on the part of the owner. The Berlin criminal police has been obliged to organize a special detachment dealing exclusively with stolen machines.

Cases of housebreaking have quadrupled within the last three years. Articles of clothing, bedclothes, carpets and curtains are the objects most desired by the thief. Dishonesty among factory hands has grown to a deplorable extent, the police say. Leather belts disappear wholesale; it is cut up and sold as shoe repairs.

Nor are churches, cemeteries and museums immune. The Berlin police have a list of booty carried off being mostly ancient gold ornaments and jewelry.

Quebec Man Drowned.

Knocked Off Deck of Sand Sucker While at Work.

SARNIA, May 6.—While working on the sand sucker Chinook today, Edward Dubois, aged 23, of Garthby, Que., was drowned in the St. Clair River about midday, when in some unknown manner he was struck by the sand sucker as it was being swung overboard. All efforts to save him proved unavailing. As the drowning occurred on the American side of the St. Clair River, the inquest will likely be held in Port Huron. This is the first drowning in the St. Clair River since the opening of navigation.

U. F. O. THREAT TO KEEP SILENT, M'BRIDE CHARGE

Labor Member Says Farmer Whip Told Him To Cease Talking.

LEGISLATURE FLARE-UP

Mageau Charges Scandal and Graft in Burwash Land Purchase.

TORONTO, May 6.—A brief flare-up between Mr. M. MacBride, Labor member for South Brant, and Andrew Hicks of South Huron, U. F. O. whip, enlivened a quiet session in committee of supply on the treasurer's estimates in the Legislature tonight.

The incident occurred when Mr. MacBride protested against the speed with which the items in the estimates were being passed by the committee. He expressed objections to what he termed "railroading" the items through.

"Does the member want the votes read, item by item?" inquired Mr. Hicks, who was in the chair.

"I want to be treated with the respect to which my position entitles me," Mr. MacBride shot back. "I am going to give the House some information. The Government whip, the member who is now in the chair, has told me that if I didn't desist from expressing myself, the Labor group wouldn't get the workmen's compensation amendments passed this session. I want to enter an emphatic protest against that kind of thing. I have been treated before now."

Toronto is Puzzled.
When items for the industrial farm were under consideration, Dr. Stevenson of London voiced a demand for more thorough medical examination of inmates of such institutions, at the time of their admission and departure. Many of the inmates he declared were subjects for pathological attention.

"What is that, again?" Major Tomlin of Windsor inquired anxiously. "Let us have it in other language."

Zotique Mageau of Surrogate Falls took exception to an item of $3,000 for lands purchased at Burwash Farm. He supposed the provincial secretary was aware that if all the facts came out about these purchases, there would be a nice little scandal come out," he observed.

Has No Objection.
"I have no objection to its coming," rejoined Mr. Nixon.

"The Government could get all the land they wanted, alongside the farm, for nothing," Mr. Mageau persisted. "For someone, believe me,"

If H. Dewar made a suggestion, and a farm established at some less remote point.

Zotique Mageau strongly urged the establishment of an experimental farm in New Ontario. Hon. Manning Doherty promised to consider the suggestion during a trip through New Ontario which he is to make very soon.

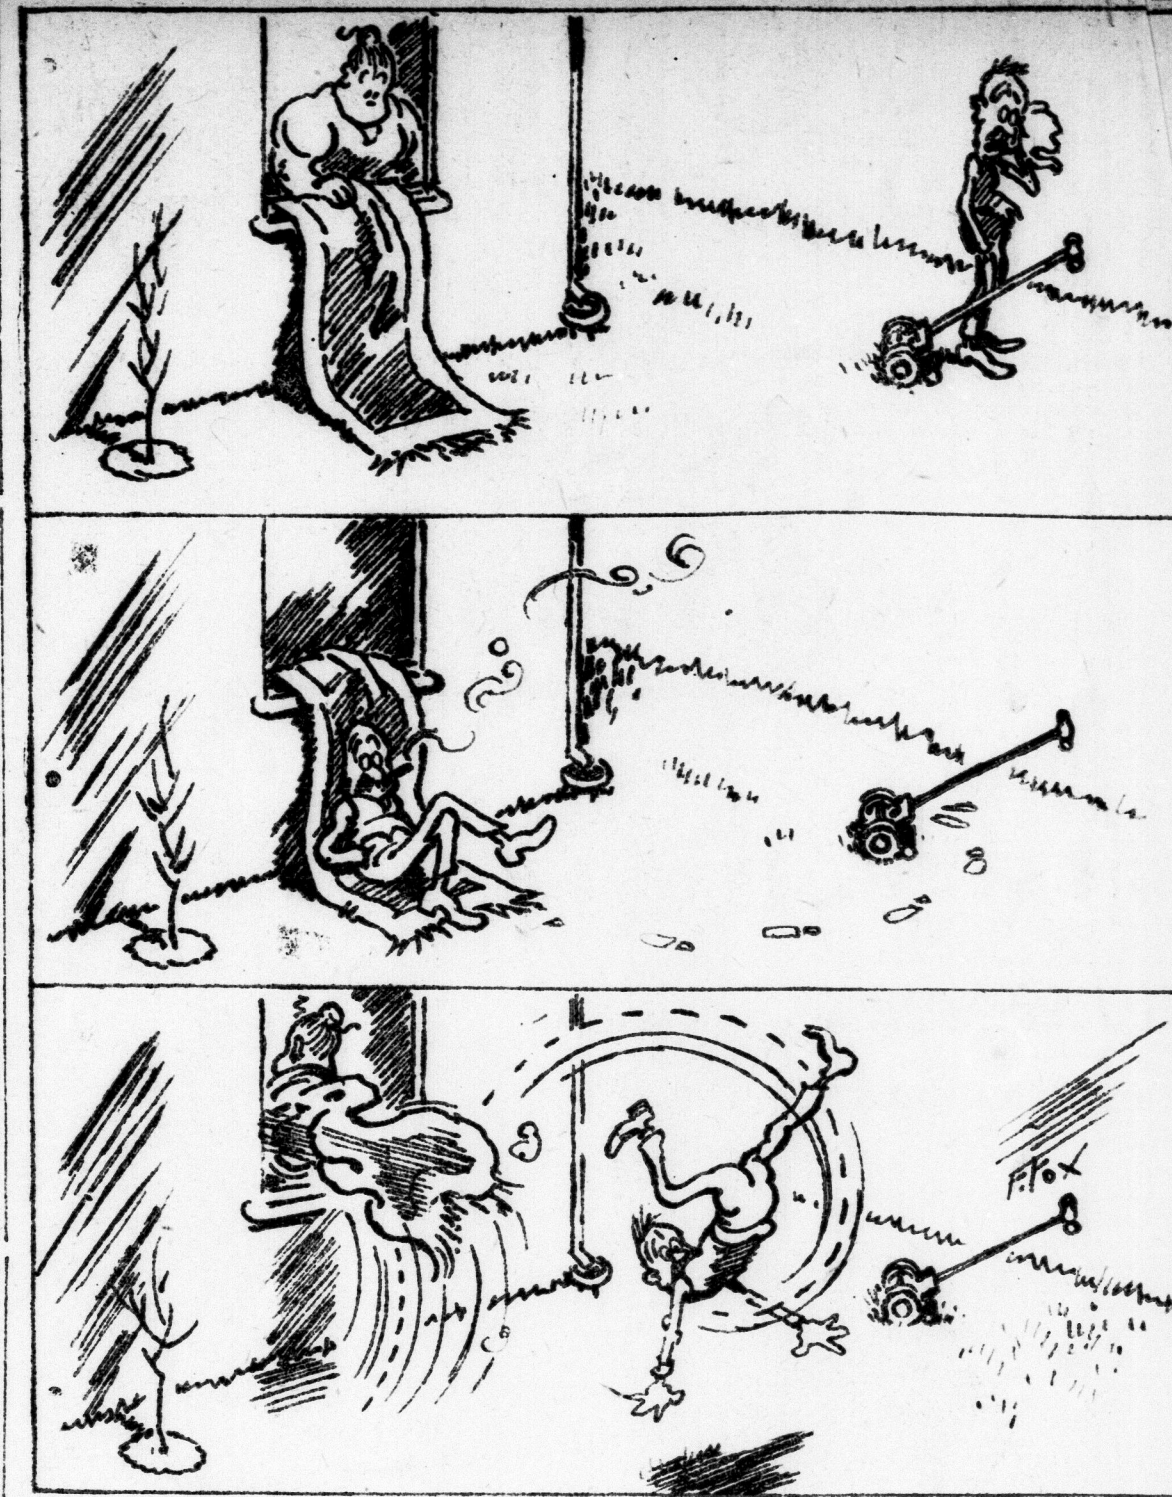

Efficient Civil Servants to Stay.

TORONTO, May 6.—Debate on the second reading of the Government's civil service superannuation bill occupied the greater part of this afternoon's session of the Legislature, members on both sides of the House finding ground for criticism in various clauses of the bill, although the House was practically unanimous on the principle.

Premier Drury, in moving the second reading of the bill, explained that it was not the intention of the Government to superannuate immediately all employees over 65 years of age. Those who were still efficient, and anxious to continue in office would be allowed to do so, he said.

In the interests of efficiency, the premier continued, "we must have some equitable system of superannuation, advised the premier to consult the people of the province on the question of superannuation, as Mr. Drury had suggested doing on the question of an increased indemnity.

TORY MINISTER WOULD TESTIFY?

TORONTO, May 6.—Hon. G. H. Ferguson, former minister of lands, forests and mines for Ontario, who is on an extended trip in southern climates, has telegraphed Mr. Justice Riddell of the commission investigating returns made to the former Ontario Government from the timber grants, requesting that the commission withhold its findings until he can be present to give testimony. Mr. Justice Riddell has stated that the commission will not conduct its investigation until Hon. Mr. Ferguson can be heard.

Share Cost Equally.

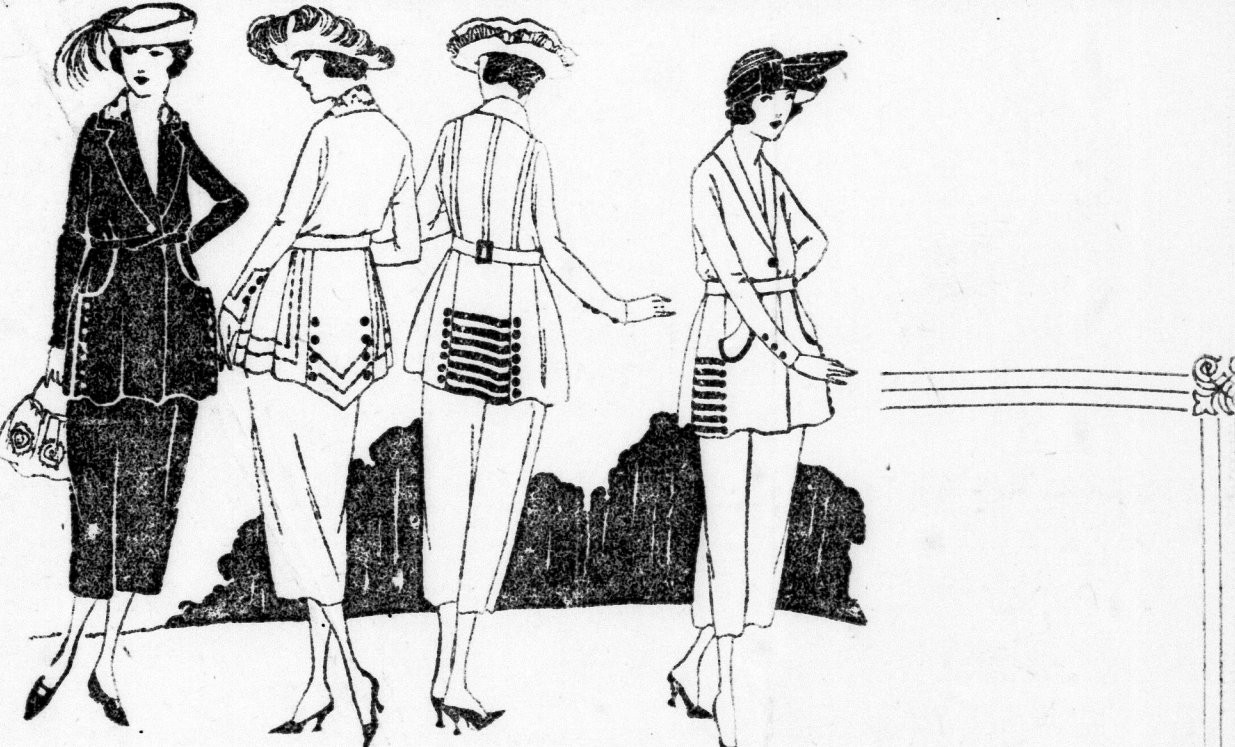

The premier estimated the annual cost of the superannuation scheme at $77,000, which will be equally borne by the Government and the service.

Major Tomlin of Windsor declared that some employees who were classified as temporary had been in the service for as long as ten years. Premier Drury promised that these would be included in the definition of the permanent service.

H. H. Dewar declared himself in favor of more adequate compensation than is provided in the act. He criticized the reclassification of the civil service by one man, "who was not even an independent outsider," and expressed pleasure that administration of the superannuation fund would be entrusted to a board. He was high in his praise of the service rendered to the province by the civil servants, and suggested that pensioners receive four-fifths of their regular salary, instead of three-fifths.

Minimum Compensation.
Mr. M. MacBride, Labor member for South Brant, wished to see a minimum compensation allowance of $1,000 set for all retiring servants.

A. M. Webster, United Farmers member for West Lambton, was not wholly in approval of the bill. He

IDOLS, CROWNS AND OTHER ORNAMENTS OF AZTECS DISPLAYED

Collection of 300 Specimens Exhibited At Philadelphia.

FROM FRENCH FAMILY

Was Recently Sold At Paris Because Owners Became Impoverished.

Philadelphia, May 7.—Gold ornaments, idols, crowns, armor and other relics of the Aztecs, which date from the civilization of the Incas, Aztecs and other Mexican and Central and South American peoples are contained in a collection of 300 specimens recently placed on view for the first time in the museum of the University of Pennsylvania. The exhibit was only recently brought to its present completeness by the purchase of objects which had been in possession of a noble French family for generations, but which were sold at Paris because the family was impoverished. Gold was used by the Aztecs and Incas for ornaments, religious emblems and attire. These objects, shipped to Spain by Pizarro, Cortez and others in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries were melted and coined. This explains the rarity of the original golden objects. A grave recently opened in Colombia proved a rich trove of them. It was apparently the burying place of a princess. Eminent golden ornaments were discovered completely to clothe a modern woman for her appearance in a ballroom. There were, besides a crown, a breast plate, girdle, armlets and various other appendages, rings from a great quantity of jewelry. Aztecs and Incas of amazing beauty are among the objects.

Preparations are being made by them to move after this year's crops have been harvested and delegates have left for the Mennonite settlements near Swift Current and north of Saskatoon to advise them of the difficulty of their compatriots in Manitoba.

CANADIAN CLUB OF NEW YORK MAY BE MADE FOR MEN ONLY

Some Members Urge More Men's Activities.

HAD SUCCESSFUL YEAR

Many Prominent Canadians Addressed Members in Season Just Past.

New York, May 6.—(By Canadian Press).—The annual meeting of the Canadian Club of New York will be held tomorrow evening in the club rooms in the Belmont Hotel. The club has had a successful year both from the social and financial standpoint. The reports to be presented tomorrow night will show an increase in membership and a widening of the sphere of activities of the club during the past twelve months. A number of prominent Canadians, including Gen. Sir Arthur Currie, delivered addresses under the auspices of the club, and the increased interest of New Yorkers in Canada and Canadian affairs was reflected in the large attendance at these events.

What is declared to be the only problem which officials of the Canadian Club have had to worry them will be thrashed out at tomorrow night's meeting. Ladies have very liberal privileges in connection with the club under the present rules. There are special parlors for members' wives and also a small dining-room, where they may hold luncheon parties. The majority of the social functions conducted by the club are participated in by the ladies. Some of the members take the view that the club should be more of a man's institution. They favor more "smokers" and fewer dances, and declare some of the ladies do not stay put in the rooms allotted to them but wander into the men's department; yes, even into the sacred precincts of the card room, so that a man may not give vent to a good old-fashioned Canadian cuss in his own club without danger of being overheard by some member of the fair sex. It is said that these, and similar hardships, will be reviewed by the "men only" section of the membership at tomorrow night's meeting. The champions of the ladies will argue for the retention of the present privileges for members' wives, and an interesting debate is in prospect.

PUBLIC MARKETS TO SELL FOOD ARE BEING INCREASED IN JAPAN

Fifty More Established To Bring Down Prices.

Tokio, May 4.—Fifty more public markets to sell food and other necessities will be established here and in the suburbs by the Tokyo prefecture. The number of public markets opened last year to adjust the price of commodities having shown a slump in prices of stocks occurred today on the Tokyo exchange. The drop was most noticeable in the price of rice and silk and declined, due to it is believed, to the tightness of money market. For the past week prices of various rice, have had an average decline of 6 per cent.

HOTELKEEPER FINED $200 AND COSTS FOR SELLING BEER OVER 2 1/2

Defence Claims Beer Was Bought as 2 1/2 Per Cent Varsity.

GALT, May 6.—Charles Schmalz, proprietor of the Queen's Hotel, Preston, was this afternoon fined $200 and costs by magistrate J. R. Blake, for having sold beer over 2 1/2 per cent strength. Information was laid by Inspector Beckett, who took samples of beer from the Queen's Hotel, and on having an analysis made found they were over strength. The defence claimed that the beer was purchased for 2 1/2 per cent vintages from the Hamilton Brewing Association, and was sold for the same. This is the third case of this kind in this county within two weeks.

DUKE OF ABRUZZI ON INVESTIGATING TRIP IN AFRICAN COLONY

No Longer Interested in the Arctic Exploration.

DEVELOPS AGRICULTURE

Making Effort To Provide a Source of Income and Food for Italy.

Rome, May 4.—Arctic exploration and shooting the savage polar bear have no allurements at present for the Duke of the Abruzzi, who is now engaged in the equally scientific if less hazardous task of investigating the commercial and agricultural possibilities of the Benadir Colony, East Africa, with a view to making it a source of income for Italy, and even eventually of rendering that country independent of other nations for her supplies of cotton and cereals.

The duke, in addition, intends to explore the sources of the Uebi Sebel River, which, rising in the plateau of Hamar, toward Abyssinia, passes through the Italian colonies to the sea, and, it is believed, can easily be rendered navigable for small boats, besides being invaluable as a source of irrigation for the extensive agricultural enterprises which the duke hopes to initiate in Benadir.

The first news has just arrived of the expedition which started last December from Mogadiscio. An exhaustive study has already been made of the winds, the climate, the rainfall, the rivers and canals of the Lower Nile, and the duke is now planning to irrigate that part of the colony which now suffers from drought, which will more than quadruple its productive power.

The Duke of the Abruzzi, with the experts who have accompanied him, are setting up two big experimental farms, where it will be demonstrated what immense harvests of cotton, durra, sugar and coffee can be obtained in this country through irrigation, a system of intensive culture, and the use of modern agricultural machines.

The ex-German cargo boat, now called the Carlo Pisacane, which carried a large shipment of durra from the colony, a grain which resembles maize and can be used, together with ordinary flour, for bread. It has also been proved that the breeding of cattle in Benadir can be greatly increased so that supplies can be sent to Italy of meat and hides.

All this work is being done, it is announced, entirely at the expense of the duke, who desires that Italy's colonies should be developed, and hopes that similar work may be started in Libya and Cyrenaica.

Berlin, May 7.—The Prussian Diet has passed a bill for the cultivation of waste lands by the formation of associations for improvements to the soil. The object is to enable more people to live on the land and grow food.

ENGLISH PROFESSOR LIVES FOR SIX DAYS IN SEALED CABINET

Experiment To Calculate the Amount of Oxygen in Blood.

Cambridge, Eng., May 4.—Joseph Barcroft, a reader of physiology at King's College here, has lived for six days in a hermetically sealed glass box.

The experiment arose out of a 30-year-old controversy as to whether it is possible to calculate the amount of oxygen in the blood from a knowledge of the amount of oxygen in the breath. The test was also made to demonstrate whether it was necessary that air should have oxygen apparatus when flying at great heights. It proved that oxygen was necessary to flying men, but it did not show to what height they could fly with safety.

While in the box Barcroft kept a record of his sensations and made scientific observations. He said he suffered from sleeplessness, but otherwise did not experience much inconvenience except the last day when the atmosphere became extremely rarified. He then had headaches and nausea. He was watched continually while in the box. He took food and slept in two small compartments fitted up with wicker chairs, a table, a small bed, a bicycle on which he exercised every morning.

BELGIUM HAS MADE RAPID PROGRESS TO INDUSTRIAL HEALTH

Absence of Serious Strikes Is Cause, Says Minister.

BRUSSELS, May 6.—Belgium has made rapid progress toward industrial recovery since the armistice, largely owing to the fact that the country has had no serious strikes, says M. Jaspar, minister of economic affairs. He estimates that the nation's industrial output has now attained perhaps 70 per cent of its pre-war record, and that its mines are producing as much coal as in the year before the war.

"About 70 per cent of our material which was taken out by the Germans has been returned to us," added M. Jaspar. "The money taken by the Germans from the Belgium treasury has been returned, but Belgium has thus far received no indemnity from Germany. At the beginning of the armistice $50,000 of our people were without work. Our recovery has been made in spite of the fact that more than one-half of the Belgians who had to flee before the Germans are still in France unable to return because they have no homes here."

Belgian villages destroyed in the war are being rebuilt, said M. Jaspar. Many of whom have shaved their craniums and are endeavoring to grow miniature Vandike beards as copies of the poet's chin adornment.

D'ANNUNZIO'S BALD HEAD SETS FASHION FOR HIS OFFICERS

ROME, May 6.—Gabriele d'Annunzio's bald head has set the fashion for the officers of his little army, many of whom have shaved their craniums and are endeavoring to grow miniature Vandike beards as copies of the poet's chin adornment.

ARGENTINE RETAINS LOVE FOR NATIONAL TANGO, DESPITE JAZZ

Introduction of Fox-Trot Fails To Displace It.

Buenos Ayres, May 6.—The Argentine has retained its affection for the national dance, the tango, despite the introduction of American "jazz" music and syncopated melodies in the programs of Argentine balls and dances. This was shown during the balls held in a recent carnival, when tango tunes outnumbered the fox-trot and one-step in a proportion of three to one. Several American waltzes, however, are very popular. The Argentines call the syncopated music "Yanqui" tunes.

Archie Bond, Edmonton Veteran Wins Prize of $13,000 As Result Of Ten Shilling Investment

Enlisted in This City in Early Days of War and Served For Three Years—Was Wounded in Fighting at Hill 70—Thought To Have Seen Service in the 50th Battalion.

Edmonton, May 6.—Archie Christopher Bond is not worrying about any additional cash gratuity. Imagine yourself being handed about $13,000 as a result of a 10 shilling investment. You would feel just about like Archie feels today. For the lucky man—a soldier who enlisted in Edmonton during the first days of the war—was during a check a few weeks ago for $2,500 sterling, the amount representing the first prize in a golden ballot scheme conducted in England in aid of settlements for disabled soldiers and sailors.

Archie is proud of the fact that he enlisted in Edmonton, but having linked himself with a wife, a pretty English damsel, is now residing and caring for his two small children in their little home at Frimley Green, Surrey. He served with one of the Canadian battalions in France for nearly three years and was wounded at the battle of Hill 70 in the fall of 1917, since which time he has been in poor health but good spirits, and always in readiness to take a chance.

Bond purchased two tickets in the Golden Ballot scheme, the pair only costing him the meagre sum of 10 shillings, less than $2.50. He is a house man, of course, but perhaps no more deserving winner could be found than friend Archie, who heard the call in Edmonton in 1914, and then proceeded at the first opportunity to share in the great adventure.

It is believed that Archie saw service with the 50th Battalion. The report issued by the London Daily Mail, however, fails to give his number, so at their discomfiture. The next day Betty and Billy went back to the farm.

MRS. KAJIKO YAJIMA TO REPRESENT JAPAN AT TEMPERANCE MEET

TOKIO, May 6.—Mrs. Kajiko Yajima, 37 years old, has sailed for the United States, where she will represent Japan at the international conference of women's temperance societies. She is the president of the Japanese Christian Women's Temperance Society, and has been associated with movements for promoting the welfare of women in this country. Mrs. Yajima represented Japan at the same conference in America fourteen years ago.

Pair of Horses Refuse To Budge When Gong Sounds.

CLINTON, Mass., May 6.—Betty and Billy have gone back to the farm, and Clinton's fire department has returned to its motorized efficiency. An outstanding pair of fire engines, the horses were the pride of the firefighters until they became the cause of their disgrace.

Sleek and fat from a farm in an adjoining town, they had been hired to pull the town's old fire engine while the new motor apparatus was being repaired. The horses swept out the engine house to their first fire in a manner to make old firemen speak with happy reminiscence. They were drawn days. Then came a night alarm. Back on the farm, Betty and Billy had been accustomed not to stir from sundown to sunrise, and no din of fire-gong or urging by anxious firemen would move them to answer the alarm. All the fire department's split-second aids to a quick start were lost on the brown and white pair. They refused to budge. The firemen had to go to the blaze with chemical lines, and the town folks laughed.

The firemen vowed the thing would not happen again, and the horses were put through a stiff training. They went to the day fires with spirit, and the fire crew hoped they understood. But another night alarm came, and again Betty and Billy would not move; once more the firemen went about, hoses in hand, and again the town laughed.

ALBERTA FARMERS TO BURY BLEACHED BONES

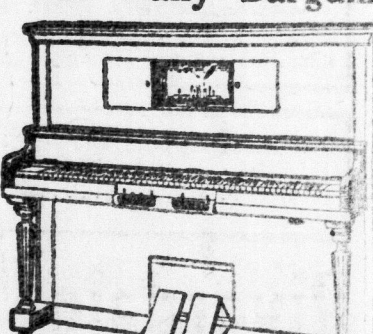

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., May 6.—Dry bleached bones are worth $400 for 20 tons, f.o.b. cars, at any station in Southern Alberta. Word to this effect is contained in a circular issued by the United Farmers of Alberta. The circular suggests that locals under the United Farmers of Alberta might band together for the purpose of gathering these bones, large quantities of which are scattered over the prairies.

SMUGGLING LIQUOR ACROSS BORDER IS SUSPECTED IN WEST

WINNIPEG, Man., May 6.—Smuggling liquor across the border into the United States is being carried on very extensively, liquor men claim, and every effort is being made to put a stop to the practice. A liquor warehouse in Kenora has had its permit cancelled by the Ontario license board, pending an investigation of a large shortage which appears in its stocks. It is suspected the shortage may be accounted for in the shipment of liquor into the United States by way of Lake of the Woods, officials said. There is also information that considerable quantities of liquor are being taken across the line from Gainborough, Eatevan and other western towns in automobiles.

SMOKING TOBACCO

The Tobacco with a heart

MRS AURORE BARRETTE, popular New Hampshire woman, who says Tanlac brought about a wonderful change in her condition and that every suffering woman ought to know about this wonderful medicine.

"This condition made me awfully nervous, so that I rarely ever slept well at night, and every now and then I would jump in my sleep, as if in a fright, and my condition was really becoming serious."

"Only two bottles of Tanlac have brought about a wonderful change in my condition. In fact, the results I have received from this medicine have really surprised me. Those terrible pains in my back which used to trouble me every day have almost disappeared, and I am going to keep on taking Tanlac until they leave me entirely. I have lots of energy now, and am not only able to do my housework, but I get through the day without feeling the least bit tired. I am no longer nervous like I was, and I sleep well at night."

"I shall always be thankful for what Tanlac has done for me."

Tanlac is sold in London by Standard Drug, Limited, and by an established agency in every town.

"Tanlac is a grand medicine, and I think every suffering woman ought to know about it," was the statement made recently by Mrs. Aureore Barrette, at her residence, 132 Second Street, Manchester, New Hampshire. Mrs. Barrette, is a well-known and highly-respected resident of that city.

"I have not felt at all well for the past year or more," she continued, "I haven't been sick enough to be in bed, but I was far from being a well woman. At times I thought I had kidney trouble, for I suffered almost constantly from severe pains across my back, just over the kidneys. Whenever I tried to do any housework at all that dull pain would be there, and if I attempted to stoop over it just felt as though my back would break. I would get so weak and worn out I would have to sit down and rest several times a day, and I felt tired all the time."

CANADA WILL HAVE EIGHT MEMORIALS TO HEROES OF WAR IN FRANCE, FLANDERS

The Committee Recommends Scheme To Cost $1,500,000—Competition For The Prize Design Likely—Report Submitted To Parliament.

OTTAWA, May 6.—(By The Canadian Press.)—Memorials to Canada's fighting dead will be erected at eight historic battlefields in France and Flanders, if the recommendations of the special committee on war memorials is adopted as submitted to Parliament today. Representatives of Canada's returned soldiers, of Canadian colleges and universities, and of the government officials have completed their investigations and submitted their proposals for war memorials.

With the proposals are the report of Brig.-Gen. H. T. Hughes on military sites, and of Professor Percy F. Nobbs, professor of architecture at McGill University, on the proposed competition, in which designs will be invited, and from which the prize design will be carried out. The total cost of the work is estimated roughly at $1,500,000.

Selected Eight Sites. The committee has selected eight sites for the memorials, in Belgium sites at St. Julian, Crest Farm, Passchendaele and at Hill 60 Observatory Ridge, have been accepted as gifts from the Belgian Government. A site at Bourlon Wood has been accepted as a gift from Comte de Francqueville, mayor of Bourlon, and four other sites.

NEUTRALIZE ACIDS IN YOUR STOMACH

GET RID OF INDIGESTION

The food sours and ferments, bringing on Gas, Heartburn, Bloating, Indigestion, and Stomach Pains that every sufferer knows so well. Pepsin and artificial digestants are not needed. They give only temporary relief and often do great harm.

Neutralize or sweeten the stomach acids after eating with a glass of warm or hot Magnesia water. A teaspoonful of four tablets of Pure Bisurated Magnesia to a glass of water is all that is required to neutralize the acid. Bisurated Magnesia from any reliable druggist and try this for a few weeks. Eat what you want and enjoy your meals.

Suit Entered by G. A. Bergeron For Restitution For Damages.

POLICE MADE MISTAKE

Believed Bergeron and His Wife To Be Run-Runners.

WINDSOR, May 6.—Although the Ontario License Commission has offered to make restitution for damages suffered by Ernest A. Bergeron and his wife, Adelaide Bergeron, who were pursued by representatives of the law when mistaken for run-runners on the night of April 5, a writ returnable in the supreme court was issued today by W. R. Furlong, acting for the Ber-bergons, in which damages of $25,000 are asked from License Inspector Mousseu, Royal Canadian Mounted Police Officers Simpson, Sampson and Atkin, Provincial Officers Smith and Hannah, Assistant Chief of Police Gordon Pilon of Sandwich, County Constables James of Sandwich, and Constable J. Lefevre of Walkerville, and Special Officer Alfred George Sykes of Windsor, representing the Ontario commission.

Twenty Shots Fired. On the night in question, Bergeron and his wife were returning in their automobile from Oshway, where the former had been collecting accounts, when he was accosted by a group of men who ordered him, at the point of guns, to halt. Having been told by bandits a few nights previous, he refused, and speeded towards Windsor. A volley of shots followed, twenty of which hit their mark, the clothes of Mrs. Bergeron, while her husband was struck by a bullet in the back of his neck. A bone was fractured, and he was in the hospital in a critical condition for several days as a result.

Alleged Offer of $250. Barrister Furlong claims he was assured by Inspector Mousseu that a settlement would be made, although the Toronto agents of the local legal firm declare Sir Joseph Flavelle of the license commission later pooh-poohed a settlement at more than $250.

BOARDED TRAIN IN LONDON; THREW AWAY HIS CASH; ARRESTED

Unknown Man Now Under Doctor's Care in Chatham Police Cell.

CHATHAM, May 6.—Charles Stevens, whose address is not known, is in the police cells under the care of a physician, and when he is sobered up it is probable he will be charged with disorderly conduct on the westbound C. P. R. train which arrived in Chatham at 12:53 yesterday. When the train arrived in the city the conductor notified the police of the man's alleged conduct.

Picked Up $328. It was stated that the man had been throwing his money away on the train, and the conductor handed the police a sum of $328 in bills which he had picked up. In some manner the man stole away unnoticed from the station while the conductor was notifying the police, but was later located in a ditch on St. Patrick street.

Came From London. The police believe the man had been drinking heavily until his condition bordered on D. T.'s. He is said to have got on the train at London. As yet the police have not been able to get any intelligible information from the man.

MAN AND WIFE HELD BY CHATHAM POLICE SUSPECT BOOTLEGGERS

Found in Empty House With Suitcase Containing Liquor.

CHATHAM, May 6.—John D. Sawyer and his wife, Margaret Sawyer, giving their address as 209 McDougall avenue, Windsor, were arrested today when Chief of Police Groves with License Inspectors Sarvis and Elliott called at a Hilliard street residence which for some time had been under suspicion. The officers discovered two suitcases in the house containing a quantity of liquor. The house was not furnished, but, according to the police, there were several empty liquor cases there. Mr. and Mrs. Sawyer will be charged on Saturday with having liquor in a place other than a private dwelling-house. The police suspect the defendants of being implicated in a bootlegging business between Chatham and the border cities.

SINISTER MOVE TO SNATCH VOTE FROM CITIZENS

Union Government Bill Would Deprive Many British Subjects.

OPPOSITION PROTESTS

Why Should British Subject Go Before Judge For Certificate, Demand.

OTTAWA, May 6.—The House of Commons spent a couple of hours on the franchise bill this afternoon, but no further clauses were passed. Debate on enfranchisement of women of alien enemy birth, naturalized by marriage to British subjects, under the original bill such women were not given the vote. The Government brought down an amendment to meet their case, but it was criticized this afternoon as being insufficient. W. D. Euler of North Waterloo, who first read the question in the House, declared that the Government was trying to reconcile two irreconcilable things, and moved that the whole sub-section be struck from the bill.

In addition there was protest from Opposition members against the wife of a British subject being required to go before a judge to get certificates. "Naturalization of British subjects carries with it naturalization of the wife," declared Lucien Cannon of Dorchester, the wife of another nationality and the children of a third nationality.

The amendment was still under con-

BEWARE OF DECEPTION

Statistics show that when egg albumen is used as a constituent of baking powder, the amount so used is too small (usually 15/100 of 1%) to affect the quality or effectiveness of the baking powder containing it, and when so used, is plainly for the purpose of fraud. Intelligent buyers will not permit themselves to be deceived by the water glass test.

nationality." Why should British subjects, asked J. F. Johnston of Last Mountain, be required to travel many miles to secure a certificate from a judge? To this Hon. Hugh Guthrie replied that the Government was willing to consider suggested changes in the language of the amendment.

The amendment was still under con-

consideration when the committee rose. In the evening the House was in supply on the marine estimates. The House adjourned at 11 p.m.

PAYMENT REFUSED. OTTAWA, May 6.—(By Canadian Press).—Replying to a question in the House today, Hon. Arthur Sifton, secretary of state, said that the Rev. A. E. Burke was connected with a chaplain service in the C. E. F. in the late war. While on leave with permission to proceed to Washington, D. C., he appeared to have visited the West Indies. He presented an account for the trip to the department of militia and defence for $882. Payment for the amount was refused.

FEARS EFFECTS

OF JAZZ MUSIC

The Arts Association Speaker
Urges Children Be Educated in Worthwhile Things.

Detroit, May 7.—A warning against the influence on the children of the country of jazz music, the movies, sensational fiction stories and cheap pictures was voiced by Mrs. Lillian Cushman Brown, former president of the Western Arts Association, at the second meeting of that organization Wednesday in the Arts and Crafts, Watson street. Mrs. Brown was speaking on the subject, "Idealism of Adolescence."

The speaker emphasized the fact that children crave excitement, adventure and a chance for self-expression and she appealed to her audience, made up of teachers who are in constant touch with the children of the country and whose influence upon them is paramount, to see to it that their teachings be toward a more worthwhile expression.

Trace Art Development.
"Too much thought," she said, "has been given lately to expression by the child and too little to the self that has to be expressed."

Rossiter Howard, director of the Minneapolis Institute of Arts, followed
Mrs. Brown and traced the development of the art of design to show that all really the accomplishment had grown out of what had been done in the past, and not through some sudden effort at originality. Continuing, he condemned the slavish copying of old forms and urged that the art of the past be used
"for inspiration, not as a model."

The annual dinner was held in the large banquet hall of the Hotel Statler Wednesday evening. The principal speaker was Walter Scott Perry of Pratt Institute, Brooklyn, one of the leading authorities of the United States on art and vocational training, under whose direction many of the teachers attending the present convention studied. Mr.
Perry responded to the toast, "A More Artistic America," as did the other speakers in the evening.

Further sessions were held Thursday and in the evening there was a reception to the visitors in the Institute of Arts, Jefferson avenue.

induced by the report of the local Federal Reserve Bank urging further contraction of credits. Oils, excepting Texaco Company, made substantial gains. Prices yielded in all directions before the end of the first hour. Steels, equipment and oils were again the center of attack, sharp reactions also occurring in shipping and motor ac-oils resisted selling pressure. The ad-losses in that group were comparatively small. Moderate recoveries set in before noon, the 7 per cent money rate making the shorts more cautious. Liberty bonds were steady.

CRONYN MAKES EFFORT TO TELL HOUSE ABOUT IT

Committee's Chairman Attempts to Make Statement On MacLean Affair.

ROUSES ONTARIO HOUSE

Members Applaud When Mac-Namara Denounces Alleged Statement of MacLean.

OTTAWA, May 6.—(Canadian Press.)—At the opening of the House this afternoon, Hume Cronyn, chairman of the pensions committee, rose to make a statement regarding the resignation of Col. C. W. Peck of Skeena, and the letter which Col. Peck wrote upon resigning. This letter, said Mr. Cronyn, had appeared in the public press. He then proceeded to quote from the letter at some length, and to follow this quotation with a statement regarding the proceedings of the committee.

Speaker Rhodes interrupted Mr. Cronyn to ask whether he was making an explanation on his own behalf or on the behalf of the pensions committee. He warned Mr. Cronyn that there could be no reference to the proceedings of the committee until a report had been made from that committee.

Mr. Cronyn said that the explanation was made on his own behalf, but that it necessarily involved the proceedings of the pensions committee.

Make No Statement. The speaker, however, insisted that Mr. Cronyn should make no statement with regard to the committee. He was perfectly at liberty to take exception to any comment made upon himself in the public press.

Mr. Cronyn then said that he would ask for the unanimous consent of the House to make his statement.

Sir George Foster suggested that Mr. Cronyn should be allowed to proceed. It appeared to be in the general interest that the point at issue be made clear.

If possible, said Sir George, the unanimous consent of the House should be granted.

Dr. Michael Clarke asked what the House would gain, by giving its consent to Mr. Cronyn.

Sir George replied that he regarded as a disinterested statement on the whole matter from the chairman of the pensions committee.

Dr. Clark asked why the acting prime minister should assume that a statement coming from the chairman of the committee was necessarily disinterested. Why should not the member from Skeena (Col. Peck), be permitted to make a statement also.

Dr. Bland of Beauce drew attention to the fact that Col. Peck was not in the House. He suggested that no matter be brought up on an adjournment motion, when the member from Skeena was present, when it could be debated.

The speaker finally requested Mr. Cronyn to withdraw his request, and this Mr. Cronyn consented to do. The whole question will probably be thrashed out on the floor of the House within the next few days.

ONTARIO HOUSE APPLAUDS CRITICISM

(Special to The Advertiser.) The Legislature applauded the severe criticism of Brig.-Gen. MacLean of the pensions board by Sir George Foster (Riverdale) in the Legislature today. The Riverdale member took up the alleged statement by General that "the wives of the private soldiers were mostly of the servant class," prefacing his direct reference with a tribute to the work of Canadian women during the war.

Referring to General MacLean's statement the member for Riverdale said: "The contemptible statement he made has disgraced the dignity and honor of his military profession. He is the man who has disgraced the dignity and honor of the profession of arms which was gloriously won in defence of the empire when a member of the pensions board, he stood up and made the deplorable and regrettable and contemptible statement that a majority of the soldiers' wives belong to and want to be in the servant class in this country, unless it is the profiteering class, which waxed rich upon the war, while they were fighting to defend this country."

NO INTERFERENCE WITH DE VALERA, SAYS BONAR LAW

Will Not Take Action Against Securing of Subscriptions.

LONDON, May 6.—The subject of the support given to "The Irish Republic" by some persons in the United States came up in the House of Commons today. Hon. Horace Bottomley asked whether the Government was aware that appeals for subscriptions for bonds addressed by De Valera as "president of the Irish Republic" were still appearing in American newspapers and were supported by the governors of various states, and whether Great Britain proposed to make representations on the matter to President Wilson.

Mr. Andrew Bonar Law, replying on behalf of the Government, said it was understood that such appeals were still appearing in certain American papers, but he was not in a position to say whether they were supported by any governor. Great Britain, he added, was not prepared to make any representations.

Bottomley asked whether Mr. Bonar Law had seen the announcement that already £2,000,000 had been subscribed to this fund and that triumphant processions had gone through the streets of the United States in celebration of the event, and that De Valera had been entertained by state governors. He asked if Mr. Bonar Law did not consider that in international law this amounted to an unfriendly act and whether new instructions would be given to the British ambassador.

The Government leader said he had not seen a statement of the specific facts named, but it did not alter his view regarding Great Britain's right course, namely, that it was not always wise to take action to which a country had the legal right.

Halt Campaign. Capt. William Wedgwood Benn wanted to know whether the Government would take steps to halt the making of campaign speeches which declared, was destroying the friendly relations between this country and the United States. To this Mr. Bonar Law did not reply.

Robert Burton Chadwick asked whether Mr. Bonar Law was aware that "this outflow" was recently honored with the freedom of New Orleans and whether any representations had been made to the United States in the face of "this deliberate insult by an ostentatious display of power."

Mr. Bonar Law answered that he was quite satisfied the good feeling of the United States was not, and was not at all by such demonstrations, and that he did not believe any action the British Government could take against them would have any other effect than to make the relations worse.

Dewart Would Force Payment of Nickel Tax

Liberal Leader Not Satisfied With Mills Contemplating To Recover Money.

RESOLUTION ADVISES WILSON TO REFUSE TO RECEIVE GEDDES

Would Receive Dr. McCarton Representing Irish Republic.

TORONTO, May 6.—Hartley Dewart is not satisfied with the statement of Hon. Harry Mills that the Government is contemplating recovering from the International Nickel Company, formerly the Canadian Copper Company, taxes for the years prior to 1918, when the flat rate of taxation was in effect. He intends to make an issue of the matter on the floor of the House and has given notice of a resolution calling upon the Government to institute proceedings to recover the amounts which it is contended, should have been paid.

According to the report of the Royal Ontario Nickel Commission, which reported against the $40,000 flat rate, the mining tax act of 1917 was made retroactive to 1916. The Liberal Opposition contended then that the new taxation, over ten times the previous rate, should be made retroactive to 1911.

WASHINGTON, May 6.—A resolution proposing that Congress suggest to President Wilson that he refuse to receive Sir Auckland Geddes, the new British ambassador, is Ireland's diplomatic representative, but to receive instead Dr. Patrick McCarton as minister of the provisional Irish Republic, was introduced today by Representative Hamill, Democrat, New Jersey.

Considerable discussion was given the proposal that the Dominion Government be asked to set aside a national holiday in honor of Canada's soldiers. No definite decision was reached, although a stand will be taken at a subsequent meeting, when selection will be made of the place where the annual field day is to be held.

HOUSE SHORTAGE ACUTE WOODSTOCK NEEDS 200 MORE DWELLING HOUSES

Every Effort Being Directed Toward Providing Accommodation Before Winter.

WOODSTOCK, May 6.—The demand for houses has about reached the acute stage. Houses for rent at a fairly reasonable figure are being eagerly sought by incoming workmen, as well as others who have been compelled to move on account of the premises in which they have been living passing into other hands.

Word has been received from the Brunswick people, who commence operations here soon, that they will require 100 houses to accommodate the families they will bring with them. It is estimated that 200 new houses will be needed here before fall.

One new industry has bought a large business block in the east end and will make it into a department house. The local housing committee is building 30 houses, while a Windsor building and loan company, which has established a branch here, is expected to erect a number of new houses. But even with this assistance it is estimated 100 more houses will be needed, and a call is being made on the businessmen and manufacturers of the city to take the matter in hand, so that some productive plan may be conceived to prevent a housing shortage.

WANTS $7 A BAG FOR HAMILTON POTATOES

HAMILTON, May 6.—Farmers asked $7 a bag for potatoes on the market here today, this being the highest price asked to date. The lowest price quoted today was $5.50 a bag. The farmers laughed at the women's potato boycott, and predicted that the price would go still higher, as potatoes were very scarce.

THE UNTRAMMELED FOREST

DELAWARE, May 6.—The 81st birthday of the oldest surviving pioneer of Delaware Township was celebrated at her home, lot 12, concession 1, a few days ago, when honor was done to Mrs. Eliza Sumner Scott, 81st of the late Thomas Scott, by a gathering of a number of her children and grandchildren.

Mrs. Scott was born on the banks of the Thames River, about twelve miles below Delaware Village, when the natural forest and virgin soil had hardly been touched by the hand of man, and before even the surveying of main roads, which was later done in this district by her uncle, Benjamin Springer, had begun.

At the time of Mrs. Scott's birth, and during her early childhood the Thames River formed the only highway for the few hardy pioneers that had begun to settle in this section of Ontario. The nearest grist mill was at Kilworth, 30 miles up the river, the round journey to which occupied a week by canoe with a limited cargo of one or two bags.

Mrs. Scott has still vivid memories of these early days, and delights to tell her children of the happenings of long years ago, when wolves and bears still roamed at will through the unbroken forests, and their howls at night were as familiar to the settler as the honking of racing automobiles to the country dweller of today, and, perhaps, as pleasant.

Although now unable to walk, the intellect of the aged lady is as clear and her memory and eyesight practically as good as at 50 years of age.

INQUEST INTO DEATH OF MRS. HUMPHREYS ADJOURNED 5 DAYS

Detective Egelton Wanted Hearing Deferred.

TAXI MAN QUESTIONED

Says He Was Eating Supper At the Time of the Accident.

After hearing several witnesses, Coroner Dr. Robert Ferguson, at the request of Detective Egelton, adjourned the inquest into the death of Mrs. J. I. Humphreys, 191 Sydenham, which commenced at the police station on Thursday night until next Tuesday night, at 8 o'clock.

Mabel Humphreys, daughter of the deceased, stated that she and her mother had boarded a North Belt car at the corner of Dundas and Waterloo streets after coming from a doctor's office. They got off the car at the corner of Sydenham and Richmond streets.

It was raining and blowing and dark. She did not hear the noise of an approaching auto. Both put up their umbrellas and walked from behind the northbound street car toward the curb the auto struck them. Mrs. Humphreys was dragged some distance and her daughter was brushed aside, sustaining some cuts about the head and arms.

Walter J. Mellett, 215 St. George street, who was walking in front of Mrs. and Miss Humphreys and who had alighted from the street car, heard a scream and turned around to see the daughter reeling. He assisted her and then saw Mrs. Humphreys lying on the sidewalk. By the time the time the daughter had fallen somewhat and helped Mr. Mellett to carry her mother to the sidewalk. He called for help, but there was none available. He left the mother in charge of Miss Humphreys and went to get a doctor. When he returned Mrs. Humphreys had been carried away. She was still breathing when he left her.

Did Not See Number.
Mr. Mellett was not able to get the number of the car on account of the darkness, but thought that it was either a McLaughlin or a Ford touring car. It was going at a fairly fast rate of speed. After the accident it put on more speed.

Campbell Scott, 375 Lyle street, was returning from delivering a parcel to a house on the corner of Chapside and St. George street, at the time of the fatality. He was at the corner of Oxford and Richmond street when it occurred. He saw the auto coming toward him. His impression was that it was out of control. It was going so fast that he could not get the number, which the witness described as a Ford touring car and had two men in it. He followed it to Central avenue, but it outdistanced him.

Edward Mercer, a taxi man residing at 111 Forward avenue, was put in the box and asked to stop at the time of the accident. He said that he was eating his supper at the time. He had been at the police station at 7:45 o'clock to give information for a man who had lost a club bag. Then he took this man to the Harrison House and got lodging for the night for him. This was his last trip of the evening.

When asked how he could be so exact as to the time, he said "I looked at the clock."

To a question as to whether he had been on Richmond street that night, he said "Not north of the C. P. R."

On being asked if he had made any other inquiries as to the club bag, he said "To tell the truth, I did. I saw Mr. Silverman, the pawnbroker, on the following day."

It was at this point that Detective Egelton asked for the adjournment.
Mrs. Rooney and H. J. Ferguson pronounced death due to a rupture of the heart.

MOURN "OLD 27"

Skittish, Yellow 25 Now Holds Sway On Springbank Line.

Motorman Arthur Rockett and Conductor John Ashton, who hold positions as traffic managers of the Springbank line, were both wearing black ties on Thursday morning. This was not as it should be, especially as the car service commenced the day after the strike. "Why the black ties?" asked the early morning crowd as they climbed aboard at the Byron loop. "It's for poor old 27," said Mr. Rockett. She's been a good pal all winter, and now she has been laid away for the summer months. We hate to see old 27 retired, so we are taking this method of showing our sorrow. The new love of the Springbank crew is No. 35. Twenty-five is a skittish yellow thing, painted up in nine, and is rather fast, according to the crew (she can make the round trip in 40 minutes). However, it is said that on cool mornings old 27 will be oiled up and brought into commission once more.
