RAILMEN AGREE TO NEW PARLEY ON U. S. STRIKE

Hopes For Settlement Are Brighter as Second Conference Becomes Possible.

MEET BOARD OCTOBER 26

Two More Unions Favor a Walkout—Others Decide Issue Today.

Washington, Oct. 22.—Bulletin.—In a sweeping decision involving the entire United States railroad situation, the Interstate Commerce Commission today ordered the freight rates on grain, grain products and hay throughout the western half of the United States reduced by an average of approximately 16 per cent.

Chicago, Oct. 22.—Hopes for a peaceful settlement of the United States transportation crisis were brighter today with the agreement of rail executives and brotherhood strike leaders to respond to the summons of the labor board for an open conference here next Wednesday on the wage and working rules dispute.

While brotherhood chiefs, in conference at Cleveland, stated the willingness to meet the executives and board, it was indicated they had made no plans for suspending the strike pending the negotiations.

The strike decision of the other railroad unions, comprising three-fourths of the railroad employees, also was expected today. Leaders of the stationary firemen and maintenance of way employees voted yesterday to call a strike, but set no date. No decision against the present use of any of the war-time powers still available to the Government was reached by the administration late yesterday.

Believes Strike Still Railroad Board Affair.

Washington, Oct. 22.—With the railroads and the labor unions, according to every outward indication, preparing for the general strike only a week away, government circles continued today to view the situation as "the affair of the railroad labor board." Without exception, those in authority are agreed that the board, now in session in Chicago, will be given opportunity to try other avenues for reaching the goal of a settlement before consideration is given to the possible question of working in a more drastic form.

FREES PASTOR, MURDER CHARGE

Birmingham, Oct. 22.—Rev. Edward R. Stephenson was found not guilty by a jury here tonight on the charge of second degree murder growing out of the killing of Father James E. Coyle, Catholic priest, on August 11. The jury was out for four hours.

Rev. Mr. Stephenson, a Methodist minister, shot and killed Father Coyle shortly after the priest had joined the minister's daughter, Ruth, aged 18, and Pedro Gussman, a Porto Rican, in wedlock. The defence alleged that the minister was "temporarily insane at the time."

WELLAND MAN ROBBED; BEATEN UNCONSCIOUS

W. B. Lake Foss Held Up by Auto Bandits.

St. Catharines, Ont., Oct. 22.—Held up and robbed and beaten by three auto bandits on the road near Fenwick Thursday night, W. B. Lake Foss of Welland was found in the back of his car by farmers yesterday morning in an unconscious condition. Over $100 had been taken from his pockets. He was unable to give a description of his assailants. Foss was driving alone, a week previously and had a narrow escape from death when his car turned turtle.

CITY INFORMED THAT COMPANY REJECTS OFFER

Chances of Fuel From Crumlin Field Are Shattered For Present.

DRILLING ADVOCATED

Efforts May Be Made Soon To Secure Additional Supply.

While the village of Belmont has closed a contract with the Progressive Gas and Oil Company of Hamilton for gas at one dollar a thousand, all negotiations between the latter and the City of London are now terminated, for the present at least, The Advertiser was informed Saturday morning.

Representatives of the Progressive Gas Company explain that ever since London rejected their offer to supply gas from the new Crumlin wells they have been discussing terms with the residents of Belmont.

Saturday morning City Clerk Baker was the recipient of the following communication from F. L. Sniveley, president of the gas company, which amply explains the latest move in the gas situation:

Samuel Baker,
City Clerk, London:

Dear Sir,—Your letter of the 18th to hand stating that the corporation of the city of London, through its council has made us an offer of 85 cents on a short contract, ending May 1, 1922, subject to change in price, according to any change made in the price on the artificial product.

I am instructed by our company to write you that we will not accept a short-term contract, as stated above, nor any reluction in price at the termination of any contract that we might enter into. So under these conditions you can consider negotiations ended as far as our company is concerned.

Yours truly,
Progressive Gas and Oil Company.
F. L. SNIVELEY, Manager.

That London has forfeited all chances to secure Crumlin gas at the present time, is the advice of the Progressive local officials, but they extend the hope that in the near future they may have something to offer.

They asserted Saturday to The Advertiser that their experts had advocated drilling for additional gas at points just south of the present wells in the Crumlin area, and should any success crown their efforts, they say, London will then be given another opportunity to purchase.

BREAKS NECK IN FALL DOWNSTAIRS IN CITY

Mrs. Wm. McCullough Dies at King Street Home.

Mrs. William McCullough, of 475 King street, suffered a broken neck, and died almost instantly at 8:30 o'clock Saturday morning, when she tripped and fell down the stairs leading from the attic, at her home.

Mrs. McCullough was carrying bed springs down the stairs when she tripped and fell to the bottom of the steps. Dr. P. C. Banghart was called, but Mrs. McCullough died before he arrived. Coroner Cameron Wilson conducted the post-mortem.

The victim is survived by one daughter, Madeline, and one son, William, at home, and three sisters, Mrs. H. Hyatt of this city; Mrs. William Watts of Toronto, and Mrs. J. Massee of Grand Mere, Que.

NAB 3 SUSPECTS IN ROBBERY OF HAMILTON BANK

Foreigners Captured in Raid by Detectives On Two Houses.

MANAGER IDENTIFIES ONE

One Man Shows Fight With Gun; Beaten Over Head.

Toronto, Oct. 22.—The Toronto police have made three arrests in connection with the robbery here of the bank of Hamilton branch, at College street and Ossington avenue on Tuesday last. G. Kopalanasky is at present charged with having in his possession some of the money taken from the bank, while another foreigner, whose name is said to be J. Sarchuk, is alleged to have been the driver of the car in which the bandits escaped. A third suspect is at present under examination by the police. All the arrests were made in the foreign quarter of the city. It is understood that a considerable portion of the $3,000 taken from the bank has been recovered.

Three suspects, following the Bank of Hamilton robbery on Tuesday, were arrested this morning by squads of detectives and plainclothesmen. The men arrested are foreigners. The first man was arrested i na house at 65 Denison avenue by Detective Wm. Archibald and Plainclothesman Beach.

The man was cavtured at this house when he called for mail. The officers were waiting for him and let him enter the house. They followed him in and took him into custody. He had no gun and did not say a word to the officers and was brought to police headquarters.

The two other men were arrested at 62 Centre avenue, Detectives Cronin, Tuft, Leavitt, Mullholland, Ward and Stewart surrounding this house. Mullholland, Cronin and Leavitt went into the house. Entering the room, the officers found the two men looking out of the window.

When the men were being searched one of them pulled a gun and shoved it up against Detective Mulholland's Cronin and Lvitt closed in on them and secured the gun and there was a general mix-up in the room.

One of the suspects had to be beaten over the head before he was subdued. Joe Kapalansky, one of the men in the rom, had a large sum of money, composed of $10 and $20 bills of the Bank of Hamilton, which are of the same description as thos reported missing by the bank.

Manager Warren of the Bank of Hamilton, who was held up, was brought to headquarters and identified a man named Sarchuk, arrested on Denison avenue, as the driver of the car, without hesitation, when confronted with him in police headquarters in a room of 20 men. He also identified Kapalansky.

A motor car was found by the police in a private garage and was seized by the police. This machine gave the clue to the police, who guarded the houses where the men were arrested all night.

CANADIAN SCHOONER IS LEADING IN RACE

Blue Nose of Nova Scotia Crosses Starting Line First.

BULLETIN.

Bluenose wins.

S. S. Tyrian, Race Course, Halifax, N. S., Oct. 22.—A 25-knot wind from the northwest greeted the Gloucester schooner Elsie and the Lunenburg Blue Nose when they put out from their docks this morning for the first race of the series to decide the championship of the North Atlantic fleets of the United States and Canada. The winner receives the Halifax Herald trophy and $4,000 cash. The loser also gets $1,000.

The schooners carried four lower sails and main top sails as they cruised about back of the starting line, fifteen minutes before the preparatory gun was fired.

In the manoeuvring Blue Nose won the weather barth, and at the one-minute preparatory gun both vessels bore away for the starting line. When the gun flashed Elsie was the first to cross the line, with Blue Nose a length behind.

Official starting times were: Elsie, 9:00:10; Blue Nose, 9:00:49.

At 9:08, Elsie, still in the lead, went to weather of Blue Nose. Elsie was flying the American ensign from her main peak.

Blue Nose passed the first mark, the inner automatic, ahead of Elsie, the unofficial times being: Blue Nose, 9:32:50; Elsie, 9:33:28.

Passing the buoy, the Blue Nose eased her sheets for the broad reach to the southeast automatic, 6.4 miles away, on a southeast course. Blue Nose had a lead of 150 yards.

At 9:47 the Elsie had drawn right up on Blue Nose's weather quarter. There was a choppy sea and the wind holding at 25 knots.

The Blue Nose rounded the buoy with a lead of 200 yards. Official time at the southeast automatic were: Blue Nose, 10:10:29; Elsie, 10:11:03.

Official times at which racers rounded the third mark were: Blue Nose, 10:52:18; Elsie, 10:54:17.

PROGRESSIVE PARTY SIMPLIFIES RECALL

Ontario Supporters Agree To Dispense With Petition.

Walkerton, Oct. 22.—(By Canadian staff correspondent.) — Ontario Progressives have changed their machinery for the recall.

As it originally existed, a candidate (in a constituency where the recall existed) would place his signed resignation in the hands of the executive committee of his constituency. If his conduct at Ottawa were found by the committee to be unsatisfactory, he could be called to account. If a certain percentage of his electors approved, by signing a petition to this effect, the candidate's resignation could be sent to the speaker of the House of Commons.

The recall was discussed with considerable bitterness in the House of Commons at the last session. The charge was made that it interfered with the independence of a member of Parliament and subjected him to the dictation of an executive committee at home, a committee not in a position, perhaps, to understand the why and wherefore of a member's attitude in the House. Among Progressives themselves, the objection was raised that the political opponents of the candidate might seize the opportunity to sign the petition and possibly outnumber his supporters.

Under the new machinery, it is claimed, there is no such possibility. Where a recalled resignation is now signed. It will be placed in the hands of the executive committee as under the old arrangement. But there would be no approval or disapproval by petition. If the member is unable to give the committee a satisfactory explanation, the delegates of the nominating convention will again be called together. The member will be required to give them any explanation he may have and they will decide whether or not the member shall be called upon to resign his seat in the House.

Speeches made by Progressive candidates at meetings addressed by Hon. Mr. Crerar reveal the fact that they have not all signed the recall and that there is considerable difference of opinion over its advisability. The recall, it is plain, is entirely a matter of local arrangement between the candidate and his executive committee.

BY ALICE ROHE.
[Special to The Advertiser.]

New York, Oct. 22.—Have you seen Edna Wallace Hopper—the 1921 model, I mean?

An interview with the diminutive actress who was famous a long time ago, brings the revelation that women may look the future as well as her mirror in the face without fear.

"Yes, I've had my face surgically 'made over'," said the small person, looking very much like a girl of 19. "I guess I'm the first woman to admit it. And not only that—but I was filmed in the act!

"I'll not only permit exhibition of the film, but I'll appear in person to show that it's real.

"Of course, there are all kinds of people who 'remember me when'—Well, some of them won't believe I'm the same person when they see me now.

"It's just great to gaze in the mirror and see my face looking as young as I feel.

"Oh, if you only knew the tragedies that have been revealed to me by women since I've had this done! All women in this age are young in spirit. It's awful, when you feel 25, to see the tell-tale lines in your face and reflect the other person's point of view when he's estimating you.

"No, it isn't vanity—it's life—it's happiness—it's a woman's career that makes her resort to this.

"Someone—a man, I suppose—said long ago that a man is as old as he feels and a woman as old as she looks. Well, I believe, women have the right to look as old as they feel.

"The only uplift movements aren't social. The uplifting of women's sagging lines is just as important. It makes them happier, healthier women.

"Science has made it possible for women to keep youthful faces, to keep youthful figures. It won't be long before science prolongs life. And if scientists want to experiment on anyone—here's a small person ready for them.

"It's nice to hear you say I look wonderful—but the only wonderful thing about it is that I've told! You see many women every day and wonder how they keep so young looking. Why, they've had plastic surgery performed. And it isn't women alone who go in for it—it's MEN!"

DEBATE ADJOURNED.

Port Arthur, Ont., Oct. 22.—(Canadian Press.)—A resolution reaffirming the resolution by the Montreal convention last year of a cash gratuity of $1 per diem for every day of service, to be paid to returned soldiers by the Government precipitated a strenuous debate last night, which had not been concluded at the adjournment of the Great War Veterans' convention here, and will be continued today.

Resolutions covering practically every angle of the work carried on by the W. C. T. U. as an organization were passed at the final session of the annual convention for Ontario, which concluded in this city Friday afternoon.

Reaffirm Platform.

The following resolutions were unanimously passed at the closing meeting of the convention:

Resolved that we reaffirm our platform to unitedly array the Christian women of our unions against the manufacture, sale and use of intoxicating liquors as a beverage, and to educate and influence society in favor of sobriety, and a moral living. To attain these objects we shall seek God's direction in our work.

Whereas the women of Canada claim the right to choose not only the party which had shall support, but also the candidates who shall represent their choice, therefore, be it resolved, that candidates for Parliament of all political parties be chosen at open conventions to which all professing the principles of the party calling the convention shall be admitted without any distinction as to sex, and without any limitations to members of any political club or associaton.

Ask Party Pronouncements.

Whereas the general federal elections are near at hand and whereas we have had as yet no pronouncement from the party leaders as to their stand on prohibition, resolved that the convention might lettergram the leaders for a decided declaration on the matter.

Whereas the producer of foodstuffs is underpaid, and the consumer is overcharged, resolved that excessive profits of the middleman be made prohibitive and that all foodstuffs in cold storage be subject to inspection by the board of health (provincal or local), who shall be empowered to seize and sell while marketable, these supplies to prevent wastage or exorbitant prices.

Guthrie's Reply Is That No Shells Bought Since War

GUELPH, Oct. 22.—Early this morning Hon. Hugh Guthrie, minister of militia, made reply to the statement of Hon. Mackenzie King, Liberal leader, in a letter to the premier, Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, respecting the shipment of shells from Great Britain to Canada.

Mr. Guthrie said: "No munitions have been purchased since the war, except a few spare parts to put in shape such material as we have in Canada. At the end of the war the British Government handed over to Canada a tremendous amount of equipment to replace the equipment which Canada had taken over to England and France during the war.

It has been coming to Canada from time to time since the war. It is quite possible that some of that handed over during the war may have recently arrived in Canada. The House of Commons was informed last session, and the session before that, that the British Government was sending this equipment."

BRITISH PRESS CONDEMN NOTE OF DE VALERA

Message of Irish Leader to Pope Is Regarded as Indiscreet.

COLLINS LEAVES LONDON

Sinn Fein Again Asked to Eliminate Republic Issue From Conferences.

London, Oct. 22.—Possible rupture of the Irish conference, a general political crisis in Great Britain and the cancellation of Prime Minister Lloyd George's visit to Washington were featured by London newspapers this morning. It appeared that the telegram sent to Pope Benedict by Eamonn de Valera, in which there was adverse criticism of King George's recent message to the Pontiff appeared to be considered as a phase of the situation which threatened disruption of the negotiations for finding a basis for peace in Ireland.

With one exception, the action of Mr. de Valera was condemned by newspapers here today, editorials varying from hot denunciation to sorrowful regret. A view put forward in some quarters that the message to Pope Benedict was merely a piece of tactlessness which should not be treated too seriously was not adopted anywhere in the London press.

Delicate Situation Created.

Even where there was a disposition to make the best of the incident, it was admitted the action of Mr. de Valera had created a situation which would need the greatest tact to smooth over.

The Daily News, one of Mr. De Valera's warmest supporters, said: "This mischievous proclamation is a characteristic example of the activities of the evil genius who appears usually to preside over Irish affairs."

Hope that Mr. De Valera's real intentions would "prove wiser than his formulas" was expressed by the Daily Chronicle, a staunch supporter of Mr. Lloyd George, which declared its conviction the prime minister would exhaust every resource of wise patience before abandoning the attempt to attain peace.

Collins Going to Dublin.

Michael Collins, finance minister of the Dail Eireann, and delegate to the conference here with British Government officials, looking to a settlement of the Irish question, has left London for Dublin.

It was stated that he was going to Ireland on private business, but in the light of the crisis which was reached in the conference negotiations yesterday it was regarded as probable in political quarters that the chief reason underlying his visit was a desire to see Eamon de Valera and inform him of the effect his unexpected telegram to Pope Benedict had produced.

It was reported today that the Sinn Fein had been asked by the Government representatives for assurances that the question of a republic in Ireland be eliminated from the conference discussions.

Masked Bandit of Wyoming Sought In London Haunts

The lone masked bandit of the gang of five which robbed the Bank of Toronto at Wyoming of $13,000 on Thursday afternoon, is believed to be a resident of London or the vicinity. The others are thought to be outsiders, who did not mask because they were sure that no one in the towns through which they passed would know them.

Their careful selection of the best roads in their flight showed that someone engineered the job who was very evidently familiar with the territory. The bandit car did not slacken speed during the whole getaway trip, although the roads were in bad condition following the rain.

It is also believed that this ringleader was instrumental in the theft of R. T. Wright's McLaughlin car from Thorndale, because the description of the auto used at Wyoming is identical with that of the Thorndale car.

Although it is possible that the Murrell brothers may have been implicated, the bank officials would not identify any of the robbers as having the slightest resemblance in appearance to the alleged gunmen of Melbourne fame.

Mr. Wild Duck Makes Stopover In London on His Way to North

Many Londoners take a jaunt ta Rordeau and vicinity every fall for the purpose of shooting wild ducks, but residents of Ottaway avenue, near Victoria Hospital, who saw one of these birds strutting about their lawns Saturday morning, declare that such trips are needless. The wild duck in question was stirred from its night's resting place beneath the hospital steps, by a party of medical students about 10 a.m.

The bird ran across the hospital lawn into a corner of the building, where a few students attempted to surround it. Their studies in biology seemed to have been forgotten, when one Med. pronounced the duck to be of the domestic variety owned by a nearby resident, and succeeded in calling his chums off the chase. However, a pedestrian attempted to capture the fowl for his Sunday diner, and to the surprise of the spectators Mr. Duck took to his wings, and mounted into the air with a disdainful quack.

He landed on a lawn a few hundred yards to the west, and was pronounced to be a wild duck, by a London sportsman. The chase was resumed with added vigor, but not to be cornered again, the prospective prey, soared into the air, and when last seen was cruising over the River Thames in search of new and more safe haunts.

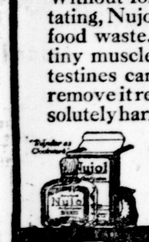

A wild duck on city streets is regarded as a rare sight for Londoners, and it is presumed by local nimrods that the visitor was en route to winter quarters further south, London being selected as a stopping place for Friday night.

TREES ON FARMS SERVE MANY USEFUL PURPOSES

Protection Is Afforded For Stock, Orchards and Buildings.

Frequently there exists on the farm a portion of low or swamp land which has been cleared of trees, but which cannot be drained satisfactorily for cultivation. Swamp land planting presents certain difficulties which make it advisable to give definite instructions as to treatment. When continual overflowing exists during spring or rainy seasons, little can be done in the way of practical planting. Before spending time or money on swamp planting the possibilities of future drainage should be considered. Many swamp soils when drained will become valuable agricultural lands. In exceptional cases, where tree growth is desired, mounds can be thrown up on which lowland species can be planted.

In most Ontario types of swamp land there exist many spot which are higher and better drained than the main part of the swamp. On such spots, in the natural conditions in Ontario, we frequently find white pine thriving well. The better class of such spots may be planted with white pine, white spruce, arbor vitae, white elm, red maple and silver maple. The poorer parts of the area may be stocked by using cuttings or slips of poplar and willow.

Protection of Stock.

On stock and dairy farms clumps of trees afford valuable protection during the heat of the day. It is a common sight to see animals retreat to the shelter of trees which may happen to stand in the field. In permanent pastures and even in fields occasionally used for pasturages, small clumps of trees could be planted in corners, on waste portions of the field, if any existed. It would be necessary to fence in such planting and give it protection till the trees reached a size of three or four inches in diameter.

Deciduous trees, as box elder, white elm, or soft maples, would be best suited for such work. Box elder and white elm grow fast, develop plenty of shade, and stand the abuse to which they must be subjected by animals.

Belts or rows of trees are frequently planted for protection to orchards, fields or buildings. There is no doubt about the advantage of such planting. Stock in protected barns will need less feed. Protected houses will need less fuel. Orchard or field crops benefit by having protection. The drying winds of summer do less harm where tree protection exists. Orchards heavy with fruit are often protected so that loss from windfalls and broken branches is lessened. Protected fields of clover, fall wheat, etc., hold the snow longer in the spring, which gives protection from frosts and loss of moisture by evaporation.

Planting Shelter Belts.

Throughout the Province of Ontario the prevailing winds are westerly, which should be taken into consideration in planting shelter belts. That is, to protect buildings or fields it is wise to plant on west, southwest and northwest sides.

The most satisfactory protection is to be had by planting evergreens, as Norway spruce or native white spruce. These evergreens give protection both summer and winter by forming a dense growth down to the ground. Arbor vitae, hemlock and white pine are sometimes used in such planting, but the spruces are the best.

Where one row of spruce is to be planted, the trees should be spaced from six to ten feet apart. When two rows are desired, the trees should be from eight to ten feet apart in the row and the rows eight feet apart. When there are two or more rows, the trees should be planted so that the trees in each row are opposite the center of the spaces between the adjoining rows. This is better than planting the trees exactly opposite one another.

Trees Around Buildings.

Where trees are to be planted as a protection to buildings, it may be advisable to plant a mixture of evergreens in clumps rather than a straight row of spruce. This would require more space, but would have a better appearance. In such planting the trees should not be placed too near the building, as they may become a nuisance when full grown.

Planting material may be of two kinds. Small seedlings from ten to twelve inches in height may be used, or transplants which may be anywhere from ten inches to several feet in height. If the prospective planter does not feel like paying prices for large transplants, it may be of advantage to buy the small seedling or transplant and keep it for a year or two in the garden, where it can be cultivated until ready for final planting. Ten to twelve-inch plants can be put in the garden in rows twelve to eighteen inches apart, and ten to twelve inches apart in the row.

GIVES GRAPHIC DESCRIPTION OF SUB MURDERS

British Captain Tells of Submerging That Cost Many Lives.

SHIPS WERE TORPEDOED

German Officer Will Be Tried For Inhuman Acts At Sea.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—A graphic account of the torpedoing of the British steamship Torrington in April, 1917, and the subsequent fate of the crew was given by the only survivor at Bow street police court, says the Daily Telegraph, when Sir Chartres Biron sat for the purpose of taking evidence on commission in support of charges which have been formulated against the submarine commander, a Capt. Wilhelm Werner.

Mr. V. M. Gattie conducted the proceedings on behalf of the British Government, and Dr. Bunger represented the German Government.

Mr. Gattie explained that Werner was one of the German officers against whom it was proposed that proceedings should be taken at Leipzig. He had not yet been arrested, but it was thought desirable that, while Capt. Starkey, the principal witness, was in London his deposition should be taken, so that in the event of the accused man being apprehended there need be no delay in his trial.

The charge against Werner was that he, being in command of the submarine U-55 on April 8, 1917, in the North Atlantic, 150 miles southwest of the Scilly Isles, torpedoed the British steamship Torrington, and afterward wilfully murdered, by drowning, thirty-four members of the crew. That was the vessel's total complement other than Capt. Starkey, who was the only survivor.

The Torrington was owned by the Tatham Steamship Company of Cardiff, and was proceeding from Gibraltar to Cardiff. She was an ordinary merchant vessel, not a war vessel at all, and carried one gun for purely defensive purposes, as many ships did during the war. On the morning of April 8 the second mate reported that there were some lifeboats on the port bow, and the course of the Torrington was slightly varied with the object of rendering assistance if necessary.

Insulted by Captain.

Suddenly Capt. Starkey noticed the wake of a torpedo which was coming towards him. He manoeuvred, but was unable to avoid it, and the torpedo struck the ship, which did not immediately sink, but was considerably damaged. Soon afterwards the submarine came to the surface and opened fire on the Torrington. Apparently the firing was not very successful, for nobody was killed and the vessel was not further damaged. Seeing that there was no possibility of saving the ship, Capt. Starkey gave orders for the crew to take to the lifeboats. The port boat left with some of the men under the first mate, and Capt. Starkey took command of the starboard boat.

When the latter was about a quarter of a mile from the Torrington the submarine drew up close, and Capt. Starkey and the men with him were ordered to go on board. They obeyed, and Werner took Starkey below, and, after asking some questions, told him he was a pirate and would be taken to Germany and shot, while as for the crew they could swim. Directly afterwards Werner went on deck, the alarm rang for stations, and the submarine submerged and remained so for twenty minutes. Everyone of the twenty men who had been left on deck was washed off and drowned, and as regarded the men in the other lifeboat, the only assumption was that they were disposed of in some way or other. They were never seen or heard of again, although the sea was perfectly smooth and their boat was in perfect condition.

Before the submarine submerged members of the German crew got into Capt. Starkey's lifeboat and rowed away, and they afterwards returned with loot from the Torrington and also provisions, which were identified by Capt. Starkey as having been in the other lifeboat. Capt. Starkey was afterwards kept a prisoner on the submarine, and while he was on board two other British ships were torpedoed and their crews disposed of in the same way. He was eventually taken to Germany, and after the armistice he came back to this country and told his story.

Saw Vessel Sunk.

Two or three days later another vessel was sunk by gunfire, and again the submarine submerged after the captain had been brought below. In neither case, as far as witness could see, was there any necessity for submerging. Witness was eventually landed at Heligoland and remained a prisoner until December, 1918. Before he left the submarine one of the officers gave him a piece of torpedo as a souvenir and a pass bearing the U boat's number and the commander's name.

Replying to Dr. Bunger, Capt. Starkey said the Torrington was chartered by the Italian State Railways. He could not explain how it was that he was allowed to escape alive when he might become such an important witness. He supposed Capt. Werner did not think he knew what had happened to the crew.

Dr. Bunger—Several German witnesses have stated that a British destroyer was approaching while this was taking place.

Witness—There was no destroyer near, to my knowledge. If a destroyer had been approaching, the submarine would not have come to the surface twenty minutes afterward.

Cayuga

Cayuga, Oct. 21.—Children's Day services were held in St. John's Church on Sunday afternoon. The services were most interesting and much enjoyed by a large gathering.

* * *

The Methodist congregation celebrated their anniversary services on Sunday, with a tea meeting on Monday evening. Rev. J. Lorne Pierce, Ph.D., of the Methodist Book Room, Toronto, occupied the pulpit on Sunday, and preached to large congregations. About $250 were realized from the collections on Sunday and the Monday entertainment.

The funeral of Mrs. D. May took place on Wednesday from her late home to the Methodist Church, and thence to the Cayuga Cemetery. It was very largely attended. The deceased lady died on Monday morning after a protracted illness, at the early age of 26 years, and the deepest sympathy is felt for her sorrowing husband and three little children. She was a daughter of the late Jacob Robins of North Cayuga, and her mother, two brothers and a sister survive.

Tuesday was field day at the Cayuga High School, and the students of the four forms of the school, with the principal and his three assistants, betook themselves to the Agricultural Park and enjoyed an afternoon of sport. Principal Campbell announced the 41 events of the program through a megaphone and also the results. The strong wind made running difficult, but some splendid exhibits of athletics were put up. The fourth form won most points and the shield. The first form came next,

Dresden

Dresden, Oct. 21.—The funeral of the late John Boyle, aged 68 years, whose death occurred Monday morning in St. Joseph's Hospital, Chatham, took place Wednesday afternoon from the residence of his brother, George Boyle, Concession 4, Dawn. The service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Davey of Bentpath, and was largely attended. The deceased had been ailing for some time and had been a patient at the hospital for five weeks. He was unmarried, and is survived by two sisters and four brothers, Mrs. John Langrell, Dawn; Mrs. A. Wicks, Detroit; Geo. Boyle, Dawn; William, of Oil Springs; Bert, of Chatham and Duncan, of Buffalo.

The regular meeting of the Literary Society of the Dresden Continuation Class, held yesterday was one of unusual interest. A splendid program of music, speeches, readings, etc., was rendered and during the afternoon Alex. McVean, a former popular teacher of the public school staff, presented, in the name of the sisters and brothers of the late Flight Lieut. James William McVean, a handsome gold medal to Miss Ina Law, who secured the highest marks of any pupil in the Kent inspectorate at the entrance examinations this summer. A medal will be presented each year to the pupil of Dresden Public School, who passes with the highest standing.

TWO RAILWAY DEPOTS AT RODNEY ROBBED

Thieves Secure Some Cash and Clothing From Trunks.

ST. THOMAS, Oct. 21.—The railway stations of the M. C. R. and Pere Marquette at Rodney were burglarized early this morning, and the cash in the tills removed. A couple of trunks at the Pere Marquette station were broken open and goods valued at about $100 taken. The robbers in each case forced an entrance by means of a crowbar through a window.

Neither of the depots are occupied after 11 o'clock. The robbery is supposed to have been committed by a gang of strangers who were around the neighborhood during the day.

Public Reception.

The visit of Premier Meighen is to be an official demonstration, with the Tinkman and the members of the Council directing the movements of the distinguished visitor. The premier will arrive at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and will be driven to the city hall, where he will meet all sorts and conditions of politicians and those citizens whose business will allow them to join in the public reception. A complimentary banquet will be given the premier following the reception at the city building.

Bustin Given a Week.

H. L. Bustin, Aylmer, who was charged yesterday with non-support by his wife, was given a week today in the county jail to permit the magistrate to look into his home conditions. Bustin when removed by the constable, wept all the way to the county prison, and registered on the way a series of good resolutions.

Death of Mrs. Medlyn.

Mrs. Eliza Medlyn, wife of Thomas Medlyn, died last evening at her residence, 114 Redan street, after an illness of some months. She was in her 62nd year and was born at Newton-Abbott, Devonshire, England. A daughter and four sons survive: Mrs. James E. Huise, 124 Redan street; Thomas, Edwin and William, and James of the Salvation Army Training College, Toronto. The interment will be on Sunday afternoon in St. Thomas Cemetery.

James Campbell Dies Suddenly.

James Campbell, 40 years old, employed on the Elgin County roads department, was found dead in his bed at his home in Rodney this morning. Heart disease is supposed to be the cause. His widow and three children survive.

Right Rev. H. J. Hamilton, Bishop of Japan, and Mrs. Hamilton, have been visiting friends at Tyrconnel.

CITIES WILL FIGHT FOR SHARE OF POLICE FINES

Matter To Be Discussed With Premier Drury.

The cities of Ontario are going to make a strong effort to secure a share of the police court fines levied within the province.

On Wednesday, Nov. 2, Premier E. C. Drury will meet representatives of the different centers to discuss the matter. Delegates from the cities will gather in Toronto on Nov. 2, and after choosing a speaker, the case will be presented to the premier in the afternoon.

For years the cities have been battling with the Provincial Government in an endeavor to secure a share of the fines. The cities have contended that as they are being forced to maintain the police systems they should be allowed to use the fines to lighten the burden.

So far, however, all such appeals apparently have fallen on deaf ears.

CITY NEWS in BRIEF

REV. J. GARBUTT will take the mentorship of the Dundas Centre Tuxis boys.

THE FIRST METHODIST CHURCH has taken on a new lease of life in boys' work. Two new groups have been formed, and on Sunday, the organization will be completed. Mr. E. W. Jewitt is in charge of the boys' work. He will be assisted by Lewis Smith, Wilfred Spearman and others.

W. F. HAMLYN of Belmont, through his solicitors, McPherson & Perrin, has issued a writ in the supreme court against the W. J. Frick Company of Oshawa, for $2,024.32, the price of lumber alleged to have been sold and delivered to the defendants by the plaintiff.

FACULTY MEMBERS and third and fourth year students of the Western University, meeting in the Public Library Friday night, organized a "History and Political Science Club." Officers elected are: W. J. Hodder, president, and Miss Helen McIntosh, secretary. Prof. A. G. Dorland presided at the meeting.

DR. DOWNHAM, medical officer of health, reports that there are a number of new cases of diphtheria about the city. During the past few days, five or six cases have been reported to him. In only one, however, that of a little boy, is there any danger for the present. Other communicable diseases are stationary.

ST. ANDREW'S PRESBYTERIAN Church is working for the organization of 100 teen age Sunday school boys as Trail Rangers and Tuxis Boys. A boys' work board is in operation in the church. Rev. F. W. K. Harris, in charge of the work, will be assisted by Ward Casselman, Dr. R. C. Dearle, Cameron Wilson, Emerson Nichols and others.

CHARLES FLIES TO BURGENLAND.

Berne, Switzerland, Oct. 22. — Former Emperor Charles of Austria has arrived at Oedenburg, Burgenland, in an aeroplane from Switzerland, says a Vienna dispatch received here. The former emperor, since his attempt to carry out a coup d'etat in Hungary last March, has been at Hertenstein, near Lucerne.

It is expected that the rails will be laid from Ingersoll to the sand pits just east of London towards the end of next week.

CITY CLERK BAKER is appointing his deputy returning officers and poll clerks for the municipal elections on Dec. 5. There are to be 78 deputies and 120 poll clerks. Complete instructions are being sent to the elections officials with the announcement of their appointment, so that they will have sufficient times to become familiar with their duties. For the most part they are all experienced hands.

A HALLOWEEN masquerade party is to be held at Y. M. C. A. Saturday night, Oct. 29, at 7:45. The whole building will be thrown open to all the C. S. E. T., Trail Rangers in the city and boy members of the Y. M. C. A. There will be a grand parade, games, contests, folk dancing and lunch. The mentors and their wives and the ladies' auxiliary will chaperone the gathering. It is expected that at least 500 will attend.

"THE COAL SITUATION, as far as we are concerned, is quite satisfactory," declared Superintendent Charles Forrester of the London division of the rand Trunk on Saturday. "We have 80,000 tons of coal stored at Fort Erie at the present time, and each day that stock is augmented. We also have 2,500 tons in stock at Sarnia, and that pile is being added to daily." Mr. Forrester stated that the daily consumption of coal on the London division was 800 tons just now, and on the Ontario lines some 2,500 tons.

NEW DWELLINGS continue to feature the building permit applications, despite the lateness of the building season. The latest permits issued are: L. Wong, Richmond street, remodel building, $2,000; Wm. Fallon, Ashland avenue, remodel dwelling, $1,500; Mrs. S. Hill, Argyle street, stucco dwelling, $2,500. Another stucco dwelling to cost $3,200 is being built on Dufferin avenue. Other permits include: J. Laferalle, 238 Grand avenue, $100; G. Hamilton, Linwood avenue, frame shop, $100; Jas. McCormick, new foundation, $150; G. Martyn, 69 Byron avenue, garage, $800. Total permits, 133; value, $142,880.

THE FEDERAL DEPARTMENT in charge of elections is experiencing trouble finding ballot boxes. Locally they have appealed to Mayor Little, but will get but little help. The city has more than enough ballot boxes for its own election the day before the federal contest, but not enough for both. And there is small prospect of the county helping out. The federal contest will tie the ballot boxes up for several weeks, and, if there is a protest, for months. Thus if the county was to lend its ballot boxes, there would be the chance that when the county elections came around in January, no boxes would be available.

THE COM-TEC CLUB was organized at the Y. M. C. A. Friday night-supper hour. It was the result of a feeling on the part of the technical commercial students, under the leadership of A. D. Hone, that there was a need for a social and spiritual objective in the school. Representatives of the students and faculty met at the 4:30 p.m., with the boys' secretary of the Y. M. C. A., and drew up a constitution. This constitution and a slate of officers was voted upon by the 50 students present at the supper. The club plans to have eminent speakers address the boys on helpful subjects. One night a month they will divide into four study groups under the leadership of technical masters, for the purpose of studying life problems. The officers: Hon. president, A. D. Hone; president, Jack Appleford; first vice-president, C. Bradshaw; second vice-president, P. Birch; secretary, A. Penn; treasurer, C. Mills.

TYPHOID FEVER, which broke out last August at the Ontario Hospital and caused several patients to succumb to its effects, has again manifested itself at that institution. Dr. George Stevenson, a member of the medical staff of the above institution, is suffering from this dread disease, according to a report received by The Advertiser Saturday morning. Dr. W. J. Robinson, medical superintendent of the Ontario Hospital, could not be located Saturday morning to confirm the report, and his subordinates refuse to discuss the matter for publication. The outbreak of last summer was attributed to contaminated drinking water, resulting from the heavy storm of July 10 flooding the hospital wells. Following this epidemic city water was utilized at the hospital, and no explanation is forthcoming for the latest outbreak. Dr. Stevenson's condition was reported to be satisfactory Saturday.

COULD NOT CONVICT ON EVIDENCE GIVEN

Charge Against Otto Nesbitt and Wm. Ross Dismissed.

Harriston, Oct. 21.—Charged with being under the influence of liquor a week ago Saturday, when the truck they were driving crashed into a buggy on Main street, Palmerston, injuring Mrs. Thomas Sleeman of Wallace Township, Otto Nesbitt and William Ross, Jun., appeared before Magistrate Rabb on Friday.

The case aroused considerable interest, and was one of the longest and hardest fought O. T. A. cases heard in the district. The defendants, who had sixteen witnesses to swear they were not intoxicated, declared they did not have a drink any time during the day in question, and that when the accident occurred the steering gear of the truck had been out of order.

Lawyer Clarke of Mount Forest put up a strenuous defence, and on several occasions locked horns with Solicitor Beckett, who conducted the prosecution.

Magistrate Rabb, in giving judgment, said that in view of the evidence given he could not convict, and dismissed the case.

The charge against A. Nichol was also dismissed, there being no evidence presented to prove he was under the influence of liquor at the dance on Oct. 5, as alleged in the charge.

GREAT DIFFICULTIES IN PATH OF GREEKS

Roads in Asia Minor Compared To Pioneer Trails.

WITH THE GREEK ARMIES IN ANATOLIA, Oct. 15.—(The Associated Press).—When the Greek army set itself the task of capturing Angora it had little conception of the enormous difficulties of travel that would beset it in the remote reaches of Asia Minor.

The army has had to traverse roads which may be best compared to the pioneer trails that existed on the western plains of the United States in the early 40's. Where thoroughfares have existed at all they have been of sand or rough broken stone.

In order to avoid Kemal's powerful defensive position along the Sakaria River, to the southwest of Angora, the Greeks undertook a great detour to the southeast of Eski-Shehir, intending to flank the Nationalist army and cut off its retreat. In this desolate southern area they encountered deserts of sand and great stretches of rock. For twenty days the soldiers marched over the arid plains, finding little water and rest.

General Papoulas, commander-in-chief of the Hellenic forces, declared to the correspondent of the Associated Press, who accompanied the army that not even in the ancient days of Xenophon and Alexander were such obstacles and hardships encountered. He added that no army in modern history had equalled the achievements of the Greek troops, who covered a distance of 435 miles in less than 30 marching days.

Over the wretched roads which the country afforded all except the most powerful motor trucks broke down. To overcome some of the enormous difficulties the Greeks employed thousands of camels and oxen. But the progress of these patient animals was necessarily slow. It took weeks and weeks for supplies of munitions and food to reach the front. Then the path of the drivers was continually menaced by roving bands of Chetas, highwaymen of the East, who killed the men on sight, and captured their caravans.

LABOR IN AUSTRALIA DESERTS GOVERNMENT

London, Oct. 22.—(Canadian Press Cable.)—The Australian House of Representatives has been debating all week the movement of the Country party to enforce economy by a test vote on the estimates.

The Labor party, which proposed to vote against reduction, has now decided, under outside pressure, to support the Country party by placing the government in a precarious position.

Constant manoeuvring has been indulged in to obtain stray votes, but the present position gives the government a majority only by the casting vote of the chairman, with the Speaker voting.

The debate will be continued next week.

FORMER EMPEROR OF AUSTRIA PLANS COUP?

Vienna, Oct. 22.—Former Emperor Charles of Austria-Hungary arrived afternoon in an aeroplane from Switzerland, according to an Oedenburg message today and is reported to be proceeding towards Budapest, escorted by Oedenburg troops.

A provisional government, the advices state has been formed in Burgenland in the ex-emperor's interest, under Count Julius Andrassy, former Austro-Hungarian foreign minister.

The district of Burgenland is disputed territory lying along the frontier between Austria and Hungary. It was awarded to Austria, but was occupied some months ago by Hungarian irregular troops, the situation there being similar to that in Fiume when that city was under the control of Captain Gabriel d'Annunzio.

CHATHAM LIBERALS ORGANIZE.

Chatham, Oct. 21.—The Chatham City Liberal Association was organized at a big meeting of the city supporters of A. B. McCoig tonight. J. A. McNevin was elected president of the organization, W. L. Marsh as vice-president and A. L. Thompson as secretary. The organization of the city workers was the first meeting to be held in the McCoig committee rooms on Sixth street.

MAY ISSUE DEBENTURES.

Windsor, Oct. 21.—The finance committee of the city council tonight decided to recommend a debenture issue covering the cost of a technical school to serve Windsor and Walkerville school, which will cost $800,000, will be built at Elsmere avenue and Giles boulevard, Windsor. The Provincial Government will contribute half of the amount, Windsor $330,000, and Walkerville $60,000.

U. S. HAY, WHEAT MARKETS FALL.

Washington, Oct. 22.—Freight rates on wheat and hay throughout the middle west and west of the United States were ordered reduced by the interstate commerce commission today, the reduction amounting to one-half of the increase given the railroads in 1920.

Marie Lohr Proves Winsome Marquise in The Marionettes

[By Helen McMillan.]

"After all, aren't we all Marionettes, pulled this way and that without knowing why?"

This from the lips of Marie Lohr, the lovely Marquise of last night's play at the Grand Theatre "seemed" to state the theme of the whole production, for "The Marionettes" is a society drama concerning the doing of men and women who drift hither and thither, thinking lightly of marriage bonds and repelled by virtuous modesty, which they term hypocrisy. Only "seemed," however, for the play is not allowed to come to an end without the comforting solution, "You hold the string that works the marionette," uttered by the good fairy of the play, Monsieur de Ferney.

It is hardly conceivable to think of one actress playing two such distinctive roles as "Fedora" and the "Marquise" with the success which Marie Lohr achieves. While Fedora is passionate and bold in her desire for revenge, carrying destruction in her wake, the Marquise is modest and virtuous, unable to hurt the feelings of even the lovers who follow in her train.

In only one or two instances, when for a moment the Marquise rises out of herself and confronts her husband to charge him with his lack of love for her, came glimpses of the strong emotional acting which was thrown into "Fedora." Yet Miss Lohr proved herself just as great an actress in the lighter role.

"The Marionettes" doesn't begin to compare with "Fedora" as a play. It is more loosely woven. But it has this advantage over the other. It could be played with success without a Marie Lohr, while "Fedora" would utterly fail without the presence of a great emotional actress in its cast.

"The Marionettes" is the type of play which appeals to a popular audience, and Marie Lohr, as the leading character, but adds to its success as a drama. The play is built up on the rather hackneyed theme of a quiet, unassuming wife winning the love of her husband from other women through his jealousy. Throwing aside her quiet ways, adopting the methods of these other women of the world, she soon attracts a train of followers who precipitate the love of her husband by their very attentions to her.

The play is by no means a poor one of its kind, however. Indeed, it is rich with witty repartee, and bound together with the thought that the world is filled with marionettes who are controlled by the pulling of the strings. Indeed, this thought is most humorously brought home by the actual introduction on the stage of two of the little wooden dolls.

Herbert Marshall, as the Marquis, again played opposite Miss Lohr with very great success. His role was lengthier than in "Fedora," and he played it with skill. Herbert Ross, too, had a big part in last night's play. As Monsieur de Ferney, the kindly old uncle of the Marquise, a delightful character part, he exhibited great ability as an actor, and the other members of the cast were well selected.

JOHN SMITH, EX-MAYOR OF TILLSONBURG, DIES

TILLSONBURG, Oct. 21.—Taken suddenly ill on Wednesday evening, John Smith, one of Tillsonburg's manufacturers, died today at his home on Rolph street, in his 78th year. The deceased was a prominent contractor and owned his own mill and sash factory, which he sold a few years ago and retired. He had the honor of building the first public school in the town, also the first Anglican Church. Mr. Smith served the town for a good many years, having filled every seat from councillor to the mayor's chair. He was a supporter of St. John's Anglican Church, and the funeral will be held on Monday afternoon with services in the church conducted by Rev. T. B. Howard. Mr. Smith was married twice, and leaves a wife and three daughters to mourn his loss.

Harriston

Harriston, Oct. 21.—The local office of the Bell Telephone Company now closes at 6 o'clock instead of 10 o'clock, as heretofore, and patrons of this company desiring to use the phone after this time will have to resort to other methods than going to the central office.

That a one-horse delivery wagon can make a mess of a "Tin Lizzie" was clearly demonstrated on Elora street here at noon today, when a car operated by Ward Bros. collided with Geo. Wallsey's delivery wagon in front of H. G. Lemoris'. The car was turned completely over, the windshield broken to atoms, and the two front wheels badly twisted. Apart from getting a sudden and severe shaking up the occupants of both the car and the wagon escaped unhurt.

HONORS LONDON WOMAN ON FRENCH MODEL TRAIN

Mrs. J. E. Slater of London (nee Miss Judith Rovitaille) of Montreal and Chicoutime, was among her own Wednesday at a formal evening on the French train as guest of honor of Comte D'Arnaud and Senator Beaubien. Speeches were touching and eloquent in their own sweet tongue. All drank to the health of those present and to the old remembered name of Comte Rovitaille de Gouderville.

INSPECTOR LUKEWARM OVER FRUIT ON MARKET

Fruit Inspector George Connor paid the London market a visit on Saturday and examined a number of packages that were for sale.

Mr. Connor was only lukewarm in his praise of the quality of apples offered, but stated that they were of uniform pack, with just as many culls on top as in the bottom of the baskets. "The greater part of the apple crop is already in the hands of the buyers," declared Mr. Connor, and many carloads have been shipped to the west.

"I just saw a few potatoes that looked as if they had been put through a milk strainer," continued Mr. Connor. However, they are not all that way. I will have a better idea of the potato situation next week after a trip through Western Ontario.

DECLINES NOMINATION.

AYLMER, Oct. 21.—At a well-attended meeting of the East Elgin Reform Association tonight Dr. Sinclair, who was nominated at the Liberal convention held Oct. 11, announced his decision not to accept the nomination.

While no resolution on the matter was passed it was understood during the informal discussion that another convention will be called for Oct. 31.

Quebec, Oct. 21.—Arrived: Minnedosa, Liverpool.

Ten-Year-Old Girl Saves Street Car and Its Passengers

ST. THOMAS, Oct. 21.—Standing in front of an approaching street car, and waving her hands for the conductor to put on brakes, the 10-year-old daughter of Mr and Mrs. Michael P. O'Brien, Wilson avenue south, yesterday saved the car and possibly the lives of the motorman and passengers on the avenue near Elm street.

A hole, formed by the earth caving in over the catch basin, and big enough to almost hold the car, was discovered by the child, and she managed to stop the car before it reached the danger zone. The observant and brave little one will receive some substantial recognition from the council.

W. C. T. U. WAR ON USE OF CIGARETTE

stuffs is an injury to the Canadian farmer, resolved that the Canadian buyer be urged to buy Canadian goods, and that the buyers be encouraged to insist upon satisfactory value for their money by lodging complaints of inferior quality in Canadian goods with the Women's National Bureau of Information, 193 Sparks street, Ottawa.

Whereas, persons guilty of capital offences are confined in county jails poorly equipped for their safeguarding, and where such a prisoner is to pay the extreme penalty in a community where he is known and suffers from morbid excitement and high nervous strain, resolved that the Government be petitioned to enact that such a prisoner after sentence has been given be removed to some central place properly equipped, and that he suffer the penalty in that place and not in the county towns as heretofore.

Resolved, that we reiterate our petitions regarding the sustenance of a prisoner's family during his term of imprisonment, and that we urge that he be compelled to earn his living, and at least aid in supporting those who are dependent on him by some system of personal labor.

Want Women Censors.

Whereas the movies are here to stay, for the recreation of thousands, resolved that we appoint a deputation to interview the Legislature to protest against any reduction in the censorship board and request that more women be appointed on said boards.

Because of the necessity that exists for continuous and increased attention to the study of scientific temperance, that the coming voters, who are now in the school may be prepared to intelligently and steadfastly support, enforce and perfect our prohibitory laws, resolved that we prepare ourselves for helpfulness along every line in and out of the schools, both with teachers and pupils, also school boards.

Resolved that we desire to express our gratitude for the untiring efforts of the premier and Government through the services of Attorney-General W. E. Raney, who, in the face of the sharps and malicious criticism hurled at his department by men in high places, withal stood, and still stands, for the enforcement of the Ontario temperance act.

Oppose Racetracks.

That we stand unflinchingly opposed to racetrack gambling and its degrading influence on our people and commend the attitude of Attorney-General Raney.

That we appeal for legislation to have women jurors in cases concerning women and children.

Whereas it has been found that no evil can be regulated and that regulation of evil is contrary to Divine Law, resolved that we press for Dominion prohibition and stand, as ever, opposed to any form of license or Government control, as being in opposition to the will of the people and direct opposition to God's plans.

Adopt Recommendations.

Recommendations from the plan of work committee were as follows:

"Recommended that in whatever way shall be deemed best that something be done toward procuring legislation upon the matter of treatment of alcohol used for manufacturing purposes to render it non-potable before it is shipped from the distillery.

Resolved, that the present laws of our country regarding the smoking of cigarettes by minors are not strictly enforced, hereby memorialize the Provincial Women's Christian Temperance Union to ask the minister of justice for a thorough enforcement of these laws now on our statute books.

Whereas, we realize with sorrow the deplorable consumption of cigarettes among the growing youth of our province, we recommend that the W. C. T. U. members manifest their loyalty to our principles by appointing a superintendent, taking up the subject educationally in one or more local meetings, seeing that every public and high school teacher is supplied, with copies of both Dominion and provincial statutes, reaching the children through any available avenue, and securing respect for the law by making complaint to the officers of the law where there is clear need of better enforcement.

Urge Use of Franchise.

That whereas the women of Ontario have been granted the franchise, that we use it to initiate and support laws that will protect women and children in the home and industry, and to work for the election of men and women who will stand for purity and political equality, and to the extinction of the liquor traffic and sale of cigarettes to minors.

Some discussion took place regarding the prevalence of smoking of cigarettes among women, especially young women. Two delegates reported that while on their way to London from Brantford they saw a young woman get on the train smoking a cigarette. When she took her seat among the passengers a man in the car asked her to go into the smoking compartment, and she finished her smoke there.

Leave Bilingualism Alone.

Mrs. Haskett of Ottawa endeavored to bring in a resolution urging the teaching of French in the schools, but was unsuccessful. She stated that she had been an enumerator in the last census at Ottawa, and was surprised to find that all the highly-paid positions were occupied by those who could speak and write French. The delegates decided that the bi-lingual question was a good one for them to leave alone.

Col. Magee, who is in charge of the Westminster Psychopathic Hospital, was introduced, and gave a brief address regarding the work that is being done for the soldiers.

It was decided to hold the next meeting at Oshawa.

FAMILY OF FIVE IS FOUND IN A STABLE

Despite Shocking Living Conditions Children Are Healthy.

CHATHAM, Oct. 21.—County police commanded by Chief Peters, encountered in an early morning patrol, a case of shocking living conditions in a stable near Thamesville, where a man and his wife, together with three small children, were living in the same room in which horses and cattle had been stabled. The place was not overly clean and yet the members of the family were in a healthy condition, but had no place to go.

Executive Officer Appleyard of Children's Aid Society was notified by the police and he took charge of the children, placing them in the children's shelter in this city until the father can secure a decent place in which to house his family.

DETROIT DISCOUNT RATE.

Detroit, Oct. 21.—Detroit clearing house banks' uniform rate of discount on Canadian currency for Saturday will be $8.87 per $100.

STEEL RAILS REDUCED.

New York, Oct. 22.—A reduction of $7 per ton in the price of standard rails was announced today by the United States Steel Corporation. The new price is $40.

CANADIAN STOCKS

Toronto, Oct. 22.—The following quotations on Canadian stocks in London were recived today by A. J. Pattison & Co.:

Dominion Steel	25½
Shawinigan Falls Power	119

NEW YORK STOCKS

New York, Oct. 22—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Equipments and oils were active and strong at the opening of today's stock market. Haskell and Barker soon advanced 5½ points in connection with reports of a merger with the Pullman Company. Mexican Petroleum added 3 points to yesterday's 7-point rise. Houston Oil was 2 points higher. Rails were not materially strengthened by latest developments in the strike situation. Steels were irregular on the mixed trade conditions reported from Pittsburg and other industrail centers.

MONTREAL STOCKS

Montreal, Oct. 22.—Trading on the local stock exchange during the first half hour this morning was very interesting, more than usual activity being shown among the leaders, several of which registered substantial advances. Abitibi sold at 33⅜, after closing at 32¼ yesterday afternoon, while Atlantic Sugar was quoted ½ point higher at 28½. Brompton changed hands ¼ point up at 24¾. National Breweries rose ⅝ to 56½. Riordon appeared ⅛ higher at 5⅛. Spanish River gained a point to 63, and Wayagamack rose from its closing quotation at 44½ to 46¼.

WALL STREET REVIEW

New York, Oct. 22.—Business on the stock exchange this week was influenced almost entirely by the threatened railroad strike. Transportation shares of the better class lost 1 to 3 points, but selling relaxed later on news that the unions and executives were to come before the Railroad Labor Board next week.

Trading in other stocks was irregular and preponderantly professional. That element favored oils and equipments, and directed fresh pressure against steels. The latter were in disfavor because of the unsatisfactory earnings presented for the third quarter. There was a slight diminution in the demand for high-grade bonds, and the ocasional liquidation of Liberty issues was attributed to the offerings of small wage-earners at centers o findustrial depression.

Money rates stiffened for a time on extensive federal withdrawals, but eased as funds came from interior sources. Many loans extending into next year were made at prevailing rates, and a better demand was reported for commercial paper.

GRAIN

Ottawa, Oct. 22.—According to returns received at Dominion Bureau of Statistics for the week ending Oct. 14, 1921, the quantity of grain in store at the different elevators throughout Canada has increasd by 12,556,476 bushels, made up as follows: Wheat, 10,639,945 bushels; oats, 1,419,222 bushels; barley, 279,498 bushels; flax, 153,875 bushels; rye, 63,936 bushels.

ALF. LOUGHEED MANAGER OF THE PERRIN SEXTET

Welfare Society Will Equip Players With Suits and Sticks.

The Perrin hockey team of the Manufacturers' League broke first ice in this league on Friday afternoon, when officers were elected. Alf Lougheed, a member of the Alert Club intermediates, was selected as manager, and will start at once to round his team into shape.

There is some good material in Perrin's for a hockey team. Employees of the factory turn out in good force to root whenever their team is playing. The Welfare Society decided to equip the players with suits and sticks.

EQUIP TORONTO POLICE WITH MACHINE GUNS

TORONTO, Oct. 21.—Chief of Police Dickson has purchased three submachine gun rifles for the use of the police squads who will try to run down bank robbers and motor car thieves. The new rifles weigh eight pounds, and are capable of firing 1,500 shots per minute.

ADDITION BEING BUILT TO STRATHROY RINK

Strathroy, Oct. 21.—The Strathroy curling rink is undergoing extensive alterations. The club is building a 40-foot addition to their present rink. This will give them two more sheets of ice, and also allow enough ice space for hockey and skating. It is expected that two hockey teams will be entered this year in the O. H. A., a junior and an intermediate. The curlers expect to open their new addition by having a two-day bonspiel with rinks from various towns and cities in Western Ontario.

CLAIMS ELECTION JUST AS IMPORTANT AS WAR

HAMILTON, Oct. 21.—"This election is as serious as the war, so far as the future of our country is concerned," declared Hon. S. C. Mewburn, former minister of militia, at a convention of the Hamilton Liberal and Conservative Association tonight, after he had received the party's nomination for East Hamilton. T. J. Stewart was selected for the west riding.

C. A. H. A. MEETING.

Port Arthur, Oct. 21.—A meeting of the executive of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association is called for Oct. 28 at Toronto, it is announced by Secretary H. E. James today.

THISTLE EUCHRE.

R. Edwards won first prize at the Thistle Club euchre tourney last night with 105 points, while A. Ferguson was a close second with 104. Ten tables were in use.

"Babe" Ruth Regrets He Violated Rules

NEW York, Oct. 21.—Babe Ruth, home-run king, has abandoned his barn-storming trip and has expressed regret at having violated the rules of organized baseball by engaging in post-season exhibition games, Colonel Huston, part owner of the New York American League Club, announced tonight on his return from Scranton, Pa.

Babe Ruth late tonight confirmed the report that he has abandoned his barn-storming tour. He said he had reached an agreement with Colonel Huston, of the New York Yankees.

U. F. O. CAMPAIGN IS OPENED IN GREY COUNTY

Durham, Oct. 21.—The first political gun in Grey County was fired yesterday, when the U. F. O.-Progressive party held their first campaign meeting in Durham. The hall was filled to the door and half the audience were ladies. Mayor Allan occupied the chair. The speakers were the candidate, Miss Agnes C. McPhail and J. J. Morrison, provincial U. F. O. secretary. Miss McPhail spoke for over three-quarters of an hour and gave a resume of her life and also her lineage on both sides of the house. Mr. Morrison followed for over an hour, and referred to the piles of letters he had in his office asking for Miss McPhail to address various campaign meetings, but as this was impossible they were bringing Miss McCallum east from Manitoba for that work.

SEIZE LIQUOR WORTH $5,000.

KITCHENER, Oct. 21.—A stock of liquor largee enough to supply a small sized bar was ordered seized by Magistrate Weir in police court here today. The liquor is valued at $5,000. It was found in the garage of E. Kertcher, Homewood avenue. The liquor was addressed to W. H. Bender, St. Claire Beach, Essex County.

Here Goes Some of the Series Money

NEW York, Oct. 21.—Plans for renovating and enlargement of the Polo Grounds, New York's great baseball park, which will raise its seating capacity from 38,000 to 50,000, have been completed under the direction of Charles Stoneham, president of the New York National League Club. The work will begin in the late fall, according to present plans, and be completed in time for the opening of the 1922 league season.

Sinks Vessel in Uncharted Sea

Thrilling Tale of Fight at Sea to Appear at Loew's.

The historic old sailing vessel "Sturdy," was sunk in the Pacific, a martyr to the cause of the films. The vessel that has seen service for half a century, plying between Pacific coast ports, was sunk far off the Oregon shore for one of the spectacular scenes for Metro's special production of "Uncharted Seas," which will be shown for the first time Thursday at Loew's Theatre.

The story, written by John Fleming Wilson, describes a terrific fight of members of the crew of a ship engaged in an Arctic exploration expedition. In order to reproduce it for the screen with the wealth of action pictured by Mr. Wilson, it was necessary to find a crew of men who were not afraid to board a vessel that was to sink, and were hardy enough to swim the Pacific at a point where it was clogged with ice.

The "Sturdy" sailed to the point in the Pacific where the scene was to be taken. The fight was staged with such realism that several of the battered sailors were quite in need of the plunge into the icy water to revive them.

Then came a rending of timbers, and the vessel broke in two at midships. Sailors leaped into the icy waters as the wreck disappeared in one of the most spectacular marine pictures ever filmed.

Alice Lake, recently advanced to stardom by Metro because of her success in recent productions, enacts the leading role in "Uncharted Seas"; Rudolph Valentino, who played the leading male role in "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," is opposite Miss Lake in this picture.

In addition to this picture, the program will include a Charles Chaplin comedy, Loew's screen pictorial, vaudeville and music from the large orchestra.

ADULTERATION OF VINEGAR.

No food nor food adjunct, except perhaps ground coffee or spices is so easily and so extensively adulterated as vinegar. Malt, white wine, glucose, and molasses vinegar, when properly manufactured and sold for what they are, are not objectionable; but, when made to look like and sell for cider vinegar, they are frauds which injure the pocketbook, though not the health. Most pocket books, however, can ill bear such fraudulent attacks.

Vinegar is most frequently adulterated with water. Its degree of acidity is affected by this, and one pays for water instead of the acetic acid solution of a certain strength for which one has asked. Spirit vinegar is colored to resemble cider vinegar. Since acetic acid has been cheaply produced, the old adulterations with mineral acids, such as hydrochloric and sulphuric, have ceased to be profitable and have almost disappeared. Colored spirit vinegar contains very little solid matter indeed, and can be distinguished from true cider vinegar by the evaporation of a small weighed quantity to dryness, and determination of the solid remaining. In cider vinegar that solid residue should be a gram and thirty-one-hundredths per hundred cubic centimeters. Lime and soda are sometimes added to colored spirit vinegar to give this necessary amount of ash. This can be detected by chemical analysis.

In a country where apples rot on the ground in the orchards every year, it seems a pity that there should be any lack of good cider vinegar or any question of substitution or adulteration. Cider vinegar should be cheap, good and abundant. Apple districts should organize its production as a profitable side line.

How to Make Pine Cough Syrup at Home

Has no equal for prompt results. Takes but a moment to prepare, and saves you about $2.

You know that pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several peculiar elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest.

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup.

To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2½ ounces of Pinex in a 16-oz. bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you make 16 ounces—more than you can buy ready-made for $2.50. It is pure, good and pleasant—children like it.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—inflamed membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is famous the world over for its prompt effect upon coughs.

Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

A SIMPLE REMEDY FOR INDIGESTION

There's nothing complicated about the way REDMAC overcomes stomach trouble. It neutralizes the harmful acid that's doing the mischief, and does it instantly. With the stomach free from this acid, there's no chance of fermentation, and the digestive organs can do their work unhampered. The following extract from a letter is typical of many written by grateful users:

Redmac has saved me so much pain, and it is so nice to feel I can eat quite what I fancy instead of just plain food.

(Signed) A. SHEPHERD.

It makes no difference whether your trouble is Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Flatulence, Gastritis or Palpitation, Redmac is what you want, and what you must have if your stomach is to be put to rights. Get a bottle of this wonderful Herbal Tonic today from your druggist.

THE FASHIONS

COSTUME ACCESSORIES MAKE HEAVY DEMANDS.

The costume accessories take on a new interest. Jewelry, laces, veils and trimmings of various sorts are due to have most careful consideration. Costume jewelry has reverted to the antique in style, dainty filigree work and chains with pendant plaques being especially featured. Crystal jet and silver novelties are being emphasized, such as dice to be worn on a chain, a silver atomizer, and a jet buckle bracelet. Nothing is too detailed to be made for the completion of the careful costume.

Flowers and feathers rival each other for first place, and are even combined. Metal plays a prominent part, and is used for girdles of unique and attractive design or in the form of bead combinations on bandings. Fancy draped veils are sold with celluloid rings to hold them in place, while large square embroidered veils and those in plain mesh with borders of chenille pomposms are being worn extensively by the matron and maid who would be up to the minute where the latest fad is concerned.

Leather, too, plays an important part in the trimming of costumes and blouses, red leather with a scalloped edge making the collar and cuffs on a blouse of black Canton crepe, while ribbon trimming with delicate embroidery emphasized the drop shoulder treatment of an orange georgette crepe. Ribbons, in fact, are favorite trimmings at the moment, the cire continuing to be extensively used in both narrow and wide effects. Brocaded ribbons are making their appearance, and it is predicted that many a Christmas gift will be made of this beautiful pattern. A new idea is shown in an imported novelty where a filling of either wool or tinsel is used in a straw ribbon.

The various neckline treatments show an interesting development. The V-neck has been coming rapidly into prominence, but it still has the bateau as a rival. Leather gilets are interesting, and they frequently have decorations printed in gold. Velvet too comes in for this printed treatment, and whether it is plain or striped makes no difference, for the printing is used on both.

Add Spanish lace to the long list of accessories, for it is being used extensively, as are also metal laces in the gold and silver. Dyed laces in the narrower widths are popular, both as insertings and on fabrics, the latter arrangement producing a very satisfactory substitute for embroidery. Point Venice is another lace of interest at the moment for vestees and for collaring dresses, especially velvet ones.

OFFERS TO HELP.

My Dear Miss Grey,—I received Dewdrop No. 2's address, also pillowcase pattern, and I am very thankful to Busy Isy. I hope the patterns arrived safe to the Mail-Box, also some I sent to Dewdrop 2. Did you receive the mite I sent in my last letter, Miss Grey?

I noticed that Aunt Rose sent in a large number of seeds. Could I have a package of phlox, salpiglossis and nicotina?

Would you kindly send me Busy Isy's address, as I wish to find out about sweaters for sale.

If you send me the seeds perhaps I can be of help in some other way. I could send in some songs if you care for them.

I asked you, Miss Grey, to think of me when the sachets arrive in the Mail-Box again, so I do hope you won't forget me. If there is any way I can be of help to the Mail-Box please let me know.

I am waiting to hear something from Jip in regards to her quilt. What has been offered so far?

Inclosed find mite for fund. I remain, HEALTH.

You can be a big help to the Mail-Box, Health, if you will make me some extra stocking-foot patterns. There is such a demand for them now that I do not get a chance to make enough.

I am sending you the seeds and Busy Isy's address, also many thanks for your mite to fund. Am sorry that I neglected to thank you for mite last time.

Your Winter Coal

ANTHRACITE costs consumers almost twice as much as it cost before the war.

Metals, textiles, building materials, leather, etc., cost more than twice as much as they did formerly.

Nevertheless it is perfectly natural that you do not like to pay present coal prices.

Neither do we. But—

With wages at the mine fixed until next year at 138 per cent above pre-war levels,

And freight rates 100 per cent higher;

With our profits per ton so small that if we took it all off it would not make any material difference to the individual consumer—

We do not see how prices can be reduced.

A ton of coal in the bin
Is worth two in the mine.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

[BY CYNTHIA GREY.]

HAVE you ever thought that you may be able to lengthen the life of your shoes?

There are few people who have a pair of wet weather shoes, and these persons are the only ones who really know the advantages that shoes of this nature possess. If you leave home on a wet morning wearing your ordinary shoes, they are usually wet by the time you get to work and as a consequence you have cold damp feet the whole day.

To have a pair of old shoes that perhaps have been repaired and still are "seaworthy," is the only way to overcome this. You can wear the old shoes on a wet morning, comfortable in the knowledge that no one would be liable to criticize them under such weather conditions. If by noon the rain has stopped and everything is drying, you then are blessed with dry feet, during the rest of the day.

By possessing shoes for both rainy and dry weather you undoubtedly prolong the life of both pairs of shoes, as well as protect your health.

Candy Recipe.

Dear Miss Grey,—Just a line to thank you for the piece you sent me. Have you a nice candy recipe you could send me? I am 11 years of age and want an easy recipe.

I would like to see my name in print. I have put in a few Morning Glory Seeds. I will close now. Your reader, OLD WITCH.

Thank you, Old Witch, for your seeds, and I hope you will like this recipe. Butter Scotch—1 cup molasses, 1 cup sugar, ½ cup butter. Boil till it threads. Flavor with vanilla and pour on buttered pan.

Many thanks, Health, for the yoke patterns I received this morning.

Pepper Cake.

Dear Miss Grey,—Have been an interested reader of your page, but haven't had courage enough to write before. As Ginger wrote and wanted the words of a song, I copied it out, and am sending it, hoping it is the right one and is satisfactory to her. This is my first letter, so won't stay long, but will give you a recipe for Pepper Cake. Maybe someone will like it. Pepper Cake—2 cups brown sugar, ½ cup butter, 2 cups buttermilk, 2 teaspoons soda (1 will do, I never put 2 in), 1 teaspoon each cinnamon, cloves, ¼ teaspoon black pepper, 1 cup chopped raisins.

Inclosed find mite for hospital fund, and a self-addressed envelope, if any of the Boxites would care to write to JUST A BRIDE.

I am sure, Just a Bride, that the Boxites will be pleased that you have wrote to the Mail-Box.. I will forward the song to Ginger. Many thanks for hospital mite.

Bed Sores.

Dear Miss Grey,—Here I come again to bother you. Last time I could not be of much help, but this time perhaps I can help one of the readers. As to bed sores, if the party would just take pure castile soap and make as thick a lather on palm of hand as she can, and then coat sore with same, if the sore it not broken, then just rub the damp soap on spot; this will save much time and be better. If a patient has incontinence it is pretty hard to prevent sores.. Usually the soap applied each time bed is changed will prevent. If not troubled this way apply four or more times each day. I know this to be all right, as we used it in the hospital. Since writing you we have a baby boy at our house. He is a little treasure, also boss. I would like to hear from some of the knitters, if they would knit him some stockings if I sent yarn and paid to the hospital fund for the knitting. I knit a little, but do not find time to do the stockings.' If anyone will do the knitting I would like to know right away, as his present stockings are small. He wears bootees made by knitting a strip 2½ inches by 8½ inches, and joining the one end to the side at the other end, and gathering the point for toe and sewing on a sole made of the top of an old shoe, then crochet an edge around too and run in a string to tie bootee on with. I also have a pattern to cut felt bootees from, and if anyone wants it I will send it in. If there are any envelopes to send seeds into Mail-Box, may I have fifty, as I have seeds but no envelopes? Please send me some if you have any. Have you a baby coat pattern in Mail-Box or romper patterns. I would also like some double hollyhocks, also nicotina seeds. I see where someone has double white ones to exchange for double red. I wonder if I could get some? Also I have not got any to exchange. Perhaps I would send some double pink poppies. They are beauties. They are among seeds I am going to send to Mail-Box. Just one more question, does anyone know whether the Calceolaria plant will chase flies out of house? If it is true I will put some in every room, if I can get started. If anyone has this plant, could they give me a start, by slip or seed, whichever way they are grown? I will inclose a self-stamped envelope, also stamps. I hope you do not get tired reading my request, as it is long and I do not get a chance to write often. Wishing the Mail-Box all kinds of success, I will sign as before. MANITOBA MAPLE.

Will send you the seeds, Manitoba Maple, and hope someone will be able to help you with your knitting. I have not the patterns you wish, but some of our kind Boxites may lend them to you. Thanks for hospital mite.

Halloween Party.

Dear Cynthia,—How are you? I am just fine. As Halloween is drawing near, we are all beginning to feel witch-like, and are getting our chunky pumpkins ready for jack-o'-lanterns. At school we always have a party, and this year our Sunday school teacher is going to have a party at her house. We all have to dress to represent some Halloween object. Would you kindly print some characters that would be suitable?

Would it be inconvenient for you to send me the following recitations? "Meddlesome Matty," "Bill and the Widow," and "Grandfather's Clock."

Could you and would you print some suggestions for a bazaar? Am inclosing mite.

RILLA OF INGLESIDE.

Am forwarding the recitation, and think if you dress as a witch, or have a dress made of orange tissue paper, trimmed with cats, cut out of black paper, or a black dress trimmed with pumpkins, cut out of orange paper, it would make a very nice costume for a Halloween party.

I think any of the following would be suitable to be sold at a bazaar: Lingerie pins made with tiny gold safety pins and ribbon, shoe trees covered with ribbon, hand made hankies, baby clothes, such as knitted jackets, bootees and bonnets, knitting bags may be made from old pieces of blanket dyed, finished with blanket stitch; handles can be made from small rope, covered with goods, and wool figures may be worked on bag. Home-made candies and cooking are always popular at a bazaar. Many thanks for hospital mite.

WILL EXCHANGE SEEDS.

Hello there, Boxites and all, here I am back again, all too soon, some may think. Well, here goes. Laughing Liss, I can send you tiger lily bulbs, if you will send me your name and address and postage. There was someone asking for pink peony bulbs in exchange for crimson dahlias. I will gladly exchange, if you will write, as I have lost your pen-name. Then there was someone wanting huckleberry seeds. I will send you some, if you will send me your address, for I have lost your pen-name also. Received roots, Elgora; many thanks. Will write soon. Was it Silverlands Road or Geraniums that sent me the box of slips or roots? I think it was Silverlands, but am not sure. Ever so many thanks, though, to the one who sent them, and let me know, please. I have written out "Two Little Girls in Blue" for someone who was asking for it. Will you please send me directions for making sachet bags? If songs asked for in another letter are sent in I will send self-addressed and stamped envelope. Wishing all good health and good luck. I remain, PINE LIMB.

P.S.—Will Juno please send me about 35 or 40 envelopes for seeds for Mail-Box?

I hope Juno will be able to let you have the envelopes. I am sending you the flower seeds. Also thanks for the seeds and recitation you sent in.

WANTS SUGGESTIONS.

Dear Miss Grey,—Would you please tell me how to entertain about 30 ladies? We have organized a book club and we take turns in entertaining once a month. Now the lady that entertains at her home picks out two other ladies to do the entertaining, and as it is my turn I come to you with the S. O. S. call.

We usually have a contest, could you suggest some good games for a masquerade party on Halloween night, and a good masquerade costume?

Forgive me, Miss Grey, for asking so much, I know you have been so kind to others. G.R.

SENDS SEEDS.

Dear Miss Grey,—Here I come again with a few more seeds, seventeen packets of watermelon, 21 of Mammoth Russian sunflower, and fourteen of pickling cucumbers. I should have sent them before, but one of my children fell ill and is still quite sick. I wonder if the Boxites, who received envelopes from A Wife will make as many as I did? I sealed them, then folded, halved and quartered them, then stitched the open side on the machine, filled the envelope, then stitched the other side, this makes them just the right size for seeds. A Wife sent me three dozen, so that I have just twelve dozen by cutting them. This could be done with any medium-sized envelope and three will make a dozen, if you have a machine to work with. If you have no envelopes use scraps of material about four inches long and two inches wide, fold, stitch two sides, fill with seeds, put a slip of paper between the seam, leaving the end outside to write the name of the seeds on. I hope this will help someone. If any other Boxites have a better suggestion please let us hear from you. Now I wonder how many book-lovers have read St. Elmo, The Lamplighter, East Lynne, Beyond Passion, Christie's Old Organ, Ministering Children and Uncle Tom's Cabin? If you have read these books, Miss Grey, what do you think of my selection? I think the first two are lovely, East Lynne, to me, has rather a sad ending.. Beyond Pardon has a good moral lesson. The last three also are splendid, at least I think so. I read a book some time ago called "Changed Brides," and would so much like to get the sequel, "The Bride's Fates." Could any of the Boxites lend me this book? I would pay postage on it and return directly I have read it.. Miss Grey, do you think Tip would put my penname on her block for this mite? It would save me the trouble of sending my name to her, if not call me Miss White, Tip, but do let my name shine on that quilt. Dear me, I only intended to send a short note and I am sure it will fill half the column if it escapes the W.P.B. Glad to hear from you, May Bride; have just posted a letter to you.

A DECEMBER BRIDE.

P.S.—I do not see anyone making a bid for the quilt, so just for a start I will bid $5, and please, Miss Grey, will you send me one packet of Aunt Rose's pinks and one of nicotina in return for 52 packages I am mailing? Thank in advance.

A. D. B.

You are a every good judge of books, A December Bride, judging from the list you have named. I have never read the book, "A Bride's Fate," but hope some of our kind Boxites will be able to lend it to you. I received the box of seeds you mailed and I am sure many of the Boxites will be after them. I hope Tip will be able to find space for your name on her block. Thanks for the mite to our hospital fund.

LOVER OF FLOWERS.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am a great lover of flowers and see where a number are sending in seeds. Would you please send me some seeds of salvia, phlox and salpiglossis and oblige? Will write again and send H.M. SUN BEAM.

I am forwarding you the seeds, and many thanks in advance for hospital mite.

TO BUY COT.

Dear Miss Grey,—Could you send me Mary's address? She wrote to me, asking for the words of "Over the Hill to the Poor House," but did not give me any address or name, so I do not know where to send it to. I am sorry, Mary, that I have not answered your letter, but will do so when I have your address. Did anyone bid on the quilt yet, Miss Grey? I think after it is sold we ought to all put so much money together and buy a cot with Cynthia Grey's Club on it. Wouldn't it be nice, Miss Grey?

HAZEL EYES.

We have collected over $500 which entitles us to a crib, but we intend to keep collecting in hopes that we will be able to get a cot.

WANTS FLOWERS.

Dear Miss Grey,—I saw where Aunt Rose sent in flower seeds. Kindly send me some phlox, dianthus, salpiglossis and nicotina, and if you have double hollyhocks and asters would appreciate them very much. Inclosed find mite for hospital fund. I remain, W. C. H.

I am sending you the flowers you ask for, also many thanks for hospital mite.

PERSONAL HEALTH

[By William Brady, M D.]
Physician and Author.

VITAMINS IN FOOD.

Vitamin is pronounced with the i long as in vital and not short as in victual. No use in discussing the origin of the word, because it was coined rather too previously anyhow, and like the term hysteria, it doesn't mean just what it signifies.

Some laymen seem to know that one must have plenty of vitamins in order to keep well, just as one must have plenty of calories and oxygen and sunlight and sleep.

Milk and butter and cheese and skim milk and natural buttermilk and soured milk and fermented milk beverages all contain one of the three classes of these food accessories, called in this instance fat soluble A factor, and these foods are all good for that reason, among others, in the daily regimen.

But other comomn foods are quite as good as milk as sources of fat soluble A factor (which vitamin seems to prevent rickets). Thus liver, fresh eggs, dried eggs, lettuce, spinach, beef fat, mutton fat, entire unmilled wheat, raw cabbage, salmon, herring and other foods will supply all the fat soluble A factor anyone needs so far as any scientist has yet learned.

In fact, few children or adults in America or Canada suffer from a deficiency of vitamins unless there is some abnormal or unusual restrictions in the variety of foods eaten. Many infants, however, suffer grave nutritional impairment by reason of a vitamin deficiency, for instance, infants whose diet is restricted to condensed or evaporated milk or to boiled milk or even to pasteurized milk for many months.

Here is the verdict of a special committee of scientists of eminent fitness who investigated the problem thoroughly:

"It is safe to say that the individual always finds a sufficient supply of vitamins in his food so long as that food is reasonably varied and has received no artificial or accidental separation into parts, and so long as no destructive influence has been applied to it."

The food must be varied—the more different kinds of food in your diet, or the more kinds at one meal, the better.

The food must not be subjected to destructive influences—such as refining wheat flour to a deadly white powder that contains no vitamins, polishing natural or brown rice, "preparing" cereals which contain vitamins in their natural state but are robbed of vitamins in such processes.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

The Office Pest.

I am employed in an office where a fellow worker has hay fever and sneezes all over the place. Sometimes you can feel a shower strike you when he sneezes. He does not use a handkerchief when he sneezes, and he is careless also in coughing. He only laughs when the rest of us fellows tell him to cover his nose and mouth when he sneezes or coughs, and declares you cannot catch hay fever that way. Still, we'd like to know.—B. S. S.

Answer—Perhaps you can't catch hay fever that way, but commonly hay fever is associated with actual bacterial infections of the nose which you certainly do catch that way. Regardless of the specific conditions you can or cannot catch that way, the fellow is a menace to all who work in the office, and he should be firmly suppressed.

Getting Thin.

I have recently been told that the constant eating of grapefruit daily for breakfast will make one grow thin. But I don't want to grow thin, and I am very fond of grapefruit. I have also heard that sleeping in a bedroom where there is running hot and cold water in a stationary stand makes one grow thin. I shall be grateful for information about these points.—A. B.

Answer—Of course neither eating grapefruit daily for breakfast nor sleeping in a room where there is running hot and cold water will make one grow thin or fat.

Apartment of the Tuberculosis.

Is there any danger of catching tuberculosis by moving into a flat where one who had tuberculosis has lived, if the flat has first been fumigated? What do you advise to fumigate with in such a case?—M. F. K.

Answer—If the room or rooms have been given an ordinary cleaning, and repapered or painted if paper or woodwork is soiled, there is no danger in moving in. Fumigation is a superfluous rite which adds nothing to the safety of the occupants of the apartment.

Bring This to His Attention.

One of your articles which was brought to the attention of a friend of mine, prompts him to write the inclosed comments.

Dr. Brady starts his article with "The Medical Theories of a Generation Ago Are the Popular Delusions of Today."

Right! But he stops too short. He should have continued and said: "The medical theories of today will be the popular delusion of a few years hence—especially vaccine and serum therapy."

Answer.—Vaccine therapy is no theory, but a great life-saving fact. Vaccine therapy saved millions of lives soldiers and civilians, in the course of the great war.

Drunkenness Inheritable.

Kindly let me know whether drunkenness is inheritable. A. M. S.

Answer.—Alcoholism or drunkenness is a form of degeneracy and degeneracy is an inheritable taint, though the offspring may manifest criminality, drug habit, epilepsy or mental deterioration instead of alcoholism. It is the defective nervous constitution which is inherited. A normal person, of course, does not crave or require narcotic such as alcohol or drugs in order to meet the demands of life.

Bank Burglary.

Some years ago burglary was very common on Fifth avenue in New York. In order to stop it burglary was made a capital offence. The theory was that a burglar would, if he thought it necessary, shoot to kill. He was also always prepared to shoot.

The experience at Melbourne and several other places, including the last burglary at Wyoming, form a parallel state of affairs to that formerly existing in New York.

The legislation at that time was sufficient to stop the crime becoming so frequent. It would, no doubt, if enacted in Canada, stop bank burglary.

So May It Be.

The following letter, written to the New York Times, has a good, wholesome flavor:

To the Editor of The New York Times:

It is of interest to read of Color-Sergeant Gilbert H. Bates of the Twenty-fourth Massachusetts (U. S. Artillery) Regiment, who took a novel way of promoting good feeling for America in England. He carried a Star-Spangled Banner from Gretna Green to London, and to many other places, amid most enthusiastic scenes.

This lover of concord even made a wager of $100 against $1,000 that the people of England would not insult the flag of America. This was some years after the rebellion, when the craft of certain politicians had taken up the unworthy task of fostering suspicion and dislike between England and America.

If Lloyd George should visit our country may he be the banner of Great Britain, and may we treat him as a noble and great people should, for he comes for peace between the two English-speaking countries of the world.

K. G. TURLE.

Fairfield, Conn., Oct. 17, 1921.

To all of which the people of Canada will respond with a hearty and sincere "Amen."

Two Extremes.

Here is a situation that gives food for thought. Briefly, it is this:

Farmers in United States have so much corn that they threaten to burn it as fuel this winter because they can't sell it.

The same nation has loads of foodstuffs dry-rotting in some of its ports because Europe can't buy it—at least that is the statement.

At the same moment the people of Central Europe are starving, while the road from Moscow to Constantinople is marked with the bodies of those who died because they starved.

Burning food in America, and dying for the want of it in Europe and Asia.

Seed and Harvest.

More attention is being paid now than ever before to juvenile courts, and to societies that have for their aim the reclaiming of material for future citizenship that has not been started under the most favorable auspices.

Very good, and more power to the good people behind the work.

But at best it does not strike right at the root of the trouble. It does not cut off the source of supply.

A little investigation will show that the children who come into the juvenile courts in the larger centres are not all from the poorer families. A fair percentage of them are from homes where training should have been given them. Had they received this training, restraint, affectionate discipline and guidance which should be the birthright of every child, they would not come in later years to the juvenile court.

The root of the trouble, then, is in the home.

Were the fathers and the mothers of the country performing their God-imposed duties toward the children intrusted to their care many of these cases would never come to juvenile courts, or later on to the other courts of justice.

It is no use trying to dodge the matter. As a nation we are neglecting certain great essentials that make for clean and decent manhood or womanhood.

The old family altar is a thing that lives only in the memory of many of our families. The reading of the Word by the head of the family, the teaching of its great truths, are things that in home after home belong to a generation that is past and gone.

We are in a hurry; we are living in a fast age; we haven't the time to attend to the finer things of life, and if we were quite honest we would add that neither have we the inclination.

We have, as a nation, been sowing our seed, and court records show that we are likewise reaping the harvest.

John McNab Diet.

Governor John McNab of the Guelph jail is a model for extravagant housekeepers. For has not John just finished figuring up his expenses for the year and handed out his per head statement.

We don't know whether John keeps his books on the back of an envelope, or whether he slid over to Charlie Nelles' bookstore and got a regular outfit, but anyhow he produces results.

But hold. We almost forgot to state that John McNab runs the county jail in Guelph, where they coop all the folks in Wellington County who don't know how to behave.

John McNab, as his name conveys, is a brawny Scot, and pins his faith to oatmeal. Hence we imagine that each morning the wayward sons—and perhaps daughters—of Wellington, after they have their hands and faces washed for the day, are greeted with the option: "Are ye ready for your porridge?"

Now, for the noon meal we imagine John might give his guests a mixture of Paisley Block cabbages and Puslinch applesauce, while for the evening meal no doubt Erin Co. potatoes and more Fergus rolled oats would put them to sleep.

And so it is, at the end of the year John McNab reckons it all up, totals his sum in housekeeping, and tells the world that for 18 cents a day he has kept body and soul together, and added not a few pounds of flesh to the ribs of his star boarders.

Some of the big magazines have the people sitting up nights reading how to set a table on $20 a week.

Bah! Here comes honest John McNab showing how a collection of five, three meals a day, seven days a week, can be fed and watered for $6.30 per week.

Then and Now.

A correspondent, whose letter is not published, complains that returned men seem to consider that they should be given consideration simply because they are returned men, and claim that work should be found for them, no matter whether there is anything needful to be done.

It is unfortunate that this view should be taken by any right-thinking person. If one will take the trouble to look back over events as they were when many of these men enlisted it will be seen that they have a pretty good case when they go around asking that something shall be done for them.

The dear general public is quick to forget. It is not so many years ago that we were having the dark days of the last of 1914. The German army was sweeping on through Belgium and over the frontier of France, and was rapidly on the way to establish itself on the coast of the latter country, from which it could have imperiled the British coast and the very life of the nation.

At that time, and in the following years, when men, and still more men, was the cry that went up day and night, there was urgency on the part of the nation; there was moral pressure put on the men to go; there was a call for sacrifice, even to the life and limb of those who enlisted.

Do not forget that the matter was urgent then, and the urgency was all directed toward the men who are now looking around for some way in which they can earn an honest living.

Speakers did not hesitate to get up and call for sacrifice on the part of the manhood of the country. Recruiting officers were not lenient when they got a young man in the corner and put the matter straight to him. The Government itself, when the Conscription Act was passed, was urgent in its presentation of the fact that reinforcements were wanted at the front.

Is it reasonable to suppose that a returned man is going to forget all these circumstances?

Remember, dire things might have happened had the manhood of the nation refused to see or consider the urgency of the situation at that time.

We are not surprised that these same men, when they try to find a place where they can earn an honest living, should appear somewhat urgent at times. The tables are turned now, and the urgency is by these men instead of on them.

Theft---Murder---Debauchery

WINSTON CHURCHILL, speaking at Dundee, drew the following picture of the wreck, havoc and devastation that has sprawled itself over the face of Russia since the Soviet seized power there:

"We have seen how completely they have destroyed that once mighty, wealthy empire of Russia. One of the world's greatest granaries has been reduced through four years of Socialism and Bolshevism to absolute starvation. More people may well die this winter in Russia than perished in the whole four years of the world war. This awful catastrophe has been brought about by a comparatively small gang of professional revolutionaries, very few of whom are Russians, who have seized the wretched Russian nation in its weakness and in its ignorance, and have applied to it with ferocious logic all those doctrines of Communism which we hear spouted so freely in this country.

"In Russia they have put them into practice. They have, in truth, turned words into deeds; and they have killed without mercy everyone who opposed them. They have had their way, they have made their experiment. And what is the result? The result is that the processes of production have ceased entirely in Russia. All enterprise has been frozen. The means of trade and co-operation between man and man and between town and country have been destroyed. Lenine and Trotzky have simply lived on what was left over from the czar's regime; they have lived on the gold they seized in the Russian treasury or from the Rumanians; they have lived on the jewels they stole from women they murdered; and they have consumed the reserves of corn which the peasants had accumulated to guard themselves against just such a famine as has now occurred.

Just Excitement.

Just a few days ago reference was made in The Advertiser to a crowd that gathered at the Strathroy Town Council one evening, when they expected there would be some fireworks. When the fireworks were not let off the crowd simply disappeared, and there the whole matter ended.

Here it is again—this time over in the good, substantial city of Galt, where they should know better.

The Galt Reporter tells the whole yarn in two big lines at the top of the story:

"Come To Hear Something—Went Away Disappointed." The report, in part, states: "Expecting some excitement at last night's council meeting, the spectators' gallery was crowded by the time the meeting opened, and Market Clerk Newt. Culham had to bring in extra benches and chairs to accommodate the overflow. * * * * It was quite evident the audience was surprised by the complete absence of comment on the judgment, in view of the street talk that has been going on, and after remaining a couple of hours in vain, they departed."

With tax bills higher in most municipalities than they have ever been before, and with assessment of property being increased, it would be natural to suppose that ratepayers would be inquiring what it was all about. The council meeting is the same as the gathering of the board of directors of any company—it is where the controllable expenditure is made and the general run of civic business comes to the surface here sooner or later.

The only apparent interest the average ratepayer takes in civic affairs is to kick about the tax rate and the levy made against his property. He may sit in a back seat at nomination meeting, and say a lusty "Hear, hear" to some remark that we must do away with extravagance and mismanagement, but when he shuffles out the door his interest is over, and he thinks his duty is done for another year.

LITTLE 'TISERS

We read of a man who opened a store in this district. He didn't succeed because the town constable happened to see him.

With election day not far off from Christmas there's a big danger of election cigars being held over for Christmas offerings.

One of the uplifters comes along with the piece of joyful news that women are spending less money for paint. Probably because it costs less now.

The Boston Traveler presents this puzzle to its readers: "Was Germany the real enemy of civilization, or must we stay armed to the teeth until another is discovered?"

A contemporary carries a heading to the effect that "Arthur Hawkes, author of the appeal to the British-Born, opposes Meighen," which causes us to rise and ask "Who is Arthur Hawkes?"

An exchange has this one, which is passed on as a life-saver to reporters in general: "In writing a sketch of a woman candidate for office the wise reporter will simply say: "She was born not so very long ago'."

"To discontinue advertising," says John Wanamaker, "is like taking down your sign. If you want to do business you must let people know it. I would as soon think of doing business without clerks as without advertising."

The Welsh people of Galt want Lloyd George to visit that place when he comes to Canada. As a matter of fact, the British prime minister will find himself bombarded with invitations, as there is not a man across the ocean that the Canadian people would sooner have a look at and a cheer for than the same Lloyd George.

Up in Bruce County John Hunter of the Kincardine Reporter keeps the folks informed on what transpires in the political world. Viewing developments in Quebec, he pens this: "Armand Lavergne is out with three planks to his platform now. They are Nationalist, Agrarian and Sinn Fein. Armand has tried about everything on the calendar but a dose of poison."

A carton of matches were sold to a Londoner, and the bill ran like this: Matches, $6.05; war excise tax, $5; sales tax, 3 per cent, making a total of $11.38. Then when the profit of the retailer is added it brings the price up still more. The average man, when he buys a box of matches may be inclined to think the makers of the matches are making a great old price when compared to what they used to get, but here is a tax of $5.33 on a bill of goods worth $6.05.

H. B. Morphy of North Perth believes in putting it on with a trowel when he comes to speak of his chief. In a recent political address HE SAID: "Mr. Meighen is a Sir John A. Macdonald and a Sir Wilfrid Laurier combined. He has all the characteristics of both these men and a good many extra features that set him in a place by himself." Heretofore Shakespeare was about the only writer who had made use of the double superlative, but Mr. Morphy has surely outshakespeared Shakespeare.

The St. Thomas Times-Journal sat still as long as it could and watched the various centres, Woodstock, Hamilton and Toronto, angling for the location of McMaster University. Then it comes forward with this: "Should the Baptist brethren find it difficult to decide between Hamilton and Woodstock we may be pardoned for suggesting that St. Thomas would be a perfectly ideal location for McMaster." But listen, there's another claimant. While the convention was in progress Brantford folks were considering offering the Brantford golf links as a site!

Up in Chesley the editor of the Enterprise has quite correctly figured out what is meant by "shivering to think of election results." Here's the explanation: "At the convention in Tara, at which he was nominated, Lieut.-Col. Hugh Clark said he shuddered to think of what would happen this country if the Liberals, Progressives, or a combination of both came into power. As the parade warrior of North Bruce has drawn $58,800 in salary since he first became a legislator it certainly will give him the cold shivers if a large source of his revenue is cut off."

Halifax Chronicle: If the present tariff policy were such a fine thing for the country, the proof it it would be seen in a rapidly-growing population. But the census returns show that, taking immigration and the natural increase through the excess of births over deaths into account, the country has actually lost over one million people during the last ten years. "How," asks the Moncton Transcript, "does Premier Meighen explain this? He can't explain it. The strongest possible condemnation of the policy represented by the party that has been in power during the last ten years is the census returns."

The Glencoe Transcript punishes this: "We read that a donation of three bushels of grain, preferably wheat, will be asked from each farmer of Canada by the Armenian Relief Association of Canada to help avert the death by starvation of hundreds of thousands of people in the famine-stricken Russian Caucasus and Armenian lands. Always the farmer! Not a word as to a donation from the profiteer, the middleman or the manufacturer." The Advertiser does not believe there is a farmer in the country who would not rise to this appeal, despite all the Glencoe paper has to say. Nor does this paper believe there is a man in the towns and cities who would not respond in cash to a similar extent. When a nation is starving to death jibes about profiteers and middlemen are very much out of line.

A Window in St. George's

Patient he waits outside a humble door,
The Christ, in royal robe and kingly crown,
Seeking admission, and with eager ear
Listening for answer as he knocks once more.
The door is set with age, and overgrown
With straggling vine from many years' disuse.
And even the lantern's fitful radiance shows
The garden plot neglected and forlorn.
The Lord but sees the needy soul within,
Prisoned by sloth, and sore diseased with sin,
So long neglectful that he scarcely hears
The kindly knocking and the tender voice;
"For that the Lord is merciful," he waits
By that closed door, and listens, knocking still.

A World Church Council.

—By Watchman.

"They who think to find a remedy for the social ills of this troubled age in culture, or education, or law, or some scheme of government, or combinations of labor or capital, have erred by the whole diameter of human nature. The supreme call of our day is evangelism. Only from regenerated individuals can we build a transformed state."—The United Presbyterian.

More concisely than stirring addresses and formal resolutions, the foregoing sentences reect the dominant tone of the recent eleventh Pan-Presbyterian Counheld at Pittsburg, Pennsylvania. This consultative body convenes every five years, but owing to the war eight years elapsed since the last. Representing an estimated constituency of about forty million adherents, some 270 delegates were present, 65 of whom were from many lands overseas. The communicant membership was given as 7,850,173, America having the largest number, Europe ranking next, and Great Britain third. The delegate coming the greatest distance was Hon. Martin Yeas, a member of the Russian Duma. Canada was represented, Rev. Dr. R. P. MacKay of Toronto presiding at one of the sessions. The retiring president was Rev. Dr. William Park of Belfast, Ireland, and his successor is Rev. Dr. John McNaugher, head of the United Presbyterian Theological Seminary, Pittsburg. Cordial greetings were presented by representatives of the Baptist, Episcopalian, Methodist Episcopal, Congregational and other communions. Cardiff, Wales, is the next place of meeting.

The retiring chairman emphasized the international importance of disarmament, and the council extended loyal assurances to President Harding, whose letter of welcome declared the faith and practice of Christianity to be the true basis for the permanent rehabilitation of the world. The task of the church, as expressed in the inaugural sermon by Rev. Norman Maclean of St. Cuthbert's Church, Edinburgh, Scotland, was to make Christian ideals operative throughout the earth. The church cannot remain blind and dumb to great international and industrial iniquities, as in the past. She is humanity's conscience.

Reports from mission fields stirred the conference to earnest enthusiasm. Nine representatives of continental churches in Europe were heard on behalf of two million communicants, many of whose causes are in dire need, especially in Jugo-Slavia and Czecho-Slovakia. In the latter a new reformed church has been formed, with 850,000 members. With the prayer of faith, men and means, Bohemia expects an ingathering of millions of converts. Thousands are appealing for preachers and meeting-places. The needs of the Balkans are tragic, and the Moslem field calls for Christian education. Rev. W. H. Sedgwick gave an encouraging report of home mission work in Canada, and Rev. Murdock Mackenzie won the hearts of all on behalf of the mission in Chino.

Rev. Oliver Russell of Paisley, Scotland, led off on "The Evangelical Program." The evils of the world have their roots in the heart of man, and with that the Christian gospel deals. As Gipsy Smith, who has been conducting a wonderful mission in Pittsburg, puts it, the time is long past for the church to operate as an ecclesiastical refrigerator. It must warm up. The world has been trying to do without Christ, and its future lies in the hands of young men to carry out the evangelical campaign.

There was no mistaking the mind of the council on the great cause of prohibition in the United States and Canada. William Jennings Bryan gave a fervid two-hour oration on the winning of the fight against the saloon, and Dr. Norman Maclean of Edinburgh described the old world movement against alcohol, the twin evil of war. The British delegates went home in great heart for the fight, convinced that a boozing Europe could never compete with a sober America. Rev. Dr. William C. Covert of Chicago carried the assemblage in his powerful appeal for the preservation of the Christian Sabbath.

Rev. Dr. C. E. Macartney of Philadelphia would admit women to the diaconate, but not to the ministry or eldership. No one rose to champion his restrictive views. On the other hand, it was urged that their proven gifts would greatly benefit the church in the eldership. The council, free from the critical spirit, rang true on gospel fundamentals. Admirable addresses were given by Rev. Dr. J. A. Hutton of Glasgow on "The Living Word," and by Rev. Professor J. H. Snowden on "The Written Word." The paper by Professor E. Naville of Switzerland showed that all recent explorations in Bible lands confirmed and did not contradict Biblical statements.

Addresses by Dr. D. J. Burrell, New York, and Rev. Carnegie Simpson of Cambridge, England, paved the way to the Lambeth reunion proposals and church unity. The Anglican call to closer church fellowship was warmly welcomed, and conferences were commended to learn together the mind of Christ concerning the unity of his church on earth. The council was, however, clear in its opinion that subchurch standing by acts of unity in the when the conferring bodies are ready frankly to recognize one another's cruch standing by acts of unity in the fellowship of the Lord's Table, by co-operation in the Lord's work, and by discouraging derisive speech and action In whatever way the larger reunion movement may be guided, the spirit of Christian fraternity steadily grows, as foreshadowed long ago by the Scottish bard:

"It's coming yet for a' that,
When man and man o'er a' the earth
Shall brithers be for a' that."

Read Your Character

[By Digby Phillips.]

NO. 15—BULGING BROWS.

First of all, what is a bulging brow? It's not merely a high or a large forehead. It's not, in fact, a bulging "brow" at all, for this type of head, viewed in profile, is quite flat at the eyebrows, with the bulgt in the forehead above them.

If you want to go into fine distinctions of character analysis you will look to see just where the greatest prominence of that forehead is located, whether it is just above the brows or further up toward the scalp. But the present discussion will be confined to the general significance of the bulging brow.

Under certain circumstances the bulging brow is a sign of executive ability and leadership. Under others it is the mark of the skilled detail worker.

Prominent-browed people do not belong to the class of pioneers in practicality, though they may, depending upon other signs of mental make-up, be placed in the category of pioneers in theory.

Their skulls, so to speak, form more of a barrier between their brains and the outside world and they are less keen of observation than the average person. They are, in short, inclined to be dreamers, persons of constructive imagination.

Their judgment is apt to be peculiarly sound when they take plenty of time to it, but when they attempt hasty decisions they run unusually heavy risks of getting themselves into hot water. If you've got this kind of a forehead you'll get much further on in the world if you take plenty of time and thought for your important decisions.

Records show, however, that in matters of detail and routine, people with bulging brows, as a rule, acquire greater skill and speed.

TO THE EDITOR

THE FARMER'S POINT.

Editor Advertiser:

Sir,—After reading Crerar's political program I ask:

How is free trade going to benefit us if we, as farmers, have got to compete with other nations who have cheaper land and labor?

Are we going to keep on buying from the U. S. and not be able to sell our farm products to them on an equal basis of customs duty?

Are we to produce more and then sell it half price on glutted markets?

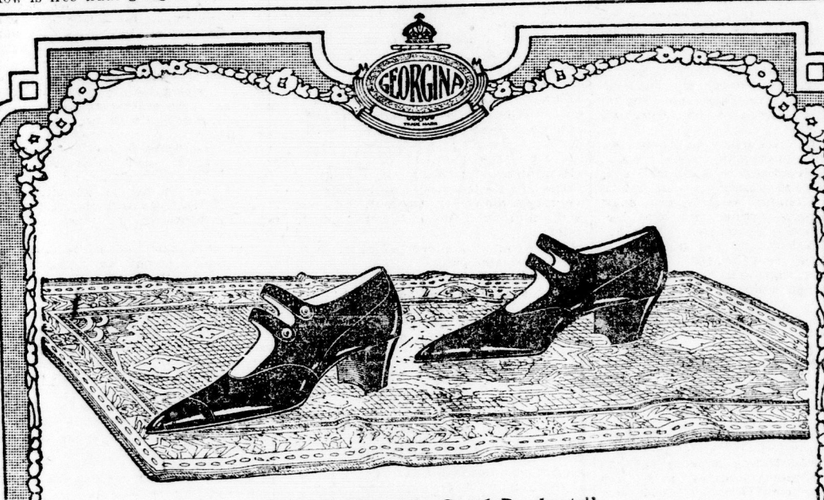

Shall we keep on buying from the U. S., duty-free, early fruit and vegetables, whose value runs into millions, and not be able to sell them apples or potatoes without paying a tariff on every bushel?

Can Canada afford to start on the philanthropy business at this stage by opening wide her doors for the products of all the world?

Farmers should seriously consider these questions.

Three Thousand Miles of Matches Per Day

Every working day of the year, the huge factory of Eddy's turns out over 70,000,000 matches. If placed end to end, these matches would reach right across Canada.

This gives you a rough idea of the tremendous popularity of Eddy's matches.

It shows that Eddy's know how to make matches—it shows the public appreciation of Eddy matches—which in turn shows that Eddy's are reliable matches.

We make between 30 and 40 different brands—a kind for every purpose—and each is the best of its kind our 68 years' experience can devise.

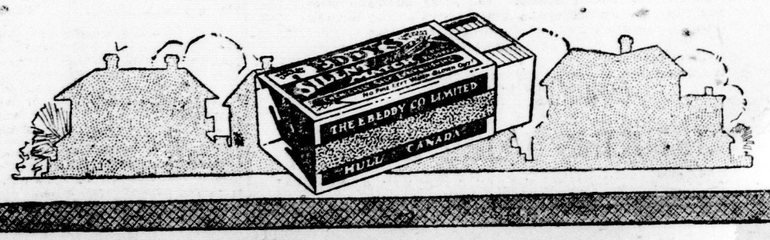

When you buy matches, look for the name Eddy on the box—it is your assurance of good value and match satisfaction.

The most perfect match in the world is Eddy's "Silent Five"—Ask for it.

EMBRO SEWING CIRCLE.

The Bennington Sewing Circle held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. D. Mathison, with a good attendance. After the usual opening exercises Mrs. Frank Thomson gave a paper on "The New Dawn in Dark Africa." Miss Mary McLeod read a very interesting missionary story, and Mrs. J. C. McCorquordale gave a paper on "Prayer." The above numbers were excellent. A dainty lunch was served by the hostess. The next meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. Alex. Pelton, and the roll call will be "A Missionary Fact About South America," and a tea towel shower will be held for the kitchen of Knox Church, Embro.

LOBO WOMEN'S INSTITUTE.

The regular meeting of the Lobo Women's Institute was held in the Masonic Hall, Lobo, on Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 19.

The Hyde Park Institute, having accepted our invitation, there was a splendid attendance of both institutes. Miss Gladys McIntyre and Miss Kathleen Crawford sang several solos. Miss Alberta Venner and Miss Lizzie Sells gave a piano duet, which was much enjoyed by all. Papers were also given during the afternoon.

Miss Routledge and Mrs. Herbert of Hyde Park gave short addresses. Delegates were appointed to attend the convention held in London on November 1, 2 and 3, and are as follows: Mrs. H. D. Steele, president; Miss Ruby McVicar, secretary, and Mrs. E. T. Caverhill, first vice-president. Lunch was served at the close and a social hour enjoyed by all.

THAMESFORD W. M. S.

The Thamesford W. M. S. held their annual thankoffering meeting of the Women's Missionary Society at St. Andrew's Church on Thursday. Addresses were given by Mrs. McEwen and Mrs. McMillan of London. A duet was sung by Miss Fillmore and Miss Jessie Hogg. The offering amounted to $128.

WITH THE BRIDES

ALLGROVE—SCHRAM.

A pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. Schram, Garfield avenue, on Monday afternoon, Oct. 17, when his sister, Nora Schram, of Strathroy, was married to Randolph Allgrove, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Allgrove of North London, Rev. G. A. Agnew officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Allgrove will reside in London.

McCARTHY—BOYLE.

A wedding of considerable interest took place in St. Selesties' Church, Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, Sept. 27, when Margaret Agnes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Boyle of Scottsdale, Pennsylvania, became the bride of Daniel Joseph, eldest son of Mrs. Lily McCarthy, Cayuga, Ont., Rev. Father Boyle, brother of the bride, officiating.

Immediately at 10 o'clock, the bride entered the church, looking charming in her traveling suit of King's blue peach bloom cloth, with grey squirrel trimmings, and black plush picture hat.

She took her place beside the groom on the altar, which was decorated with autumnal flowers and foliage by the ladies of the Fidelity Society, of which the bride is a member.

Her niece, Miss Mary Boyle, also of Scottsdale, made a charming bridesmaid, wearing a brown tricotine suit, trimmed with mink, and brown plush hat to match.

The groom was supported by his brother, Alvin McCarthy.

Immediately after the wedding, a reception was held at the home of Rev. Father Boyle, only immediate relatives of the contracting parties being present.

The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful manicure set of French ivory; to the bridesmaid a gold wrist watch; and to the groomsman a gold watch and chain.

The happy couple left for Cleveland, Detroit, Cayuga, Niagara Falls and Buffalo, after which they will take up their abode in their Hollywood residence, Masontown, Pennsylvania. The bride is a graduate of Seaton Hill University, also of the Pittsburg Conservatory of Music.

Confessions of a Movie Star

CHAPTER I.—HOW I DETEST BEING KISSED!

(Copyright by The London Advertiser and N. E. A. Service.)

"Camera-a! Ca-amer-a-a!" My director's command through his megaphone and his snappy decisive gesture with his left arm usually sends a little shiver of joy over me. I suppose it's the joy of release for action. I am always keyed up and eager for my part, except when the hero embraces me for the fade-out.

Never have I been reconciled to the kisses my role demand. Especially do I loathe that intimate, prolonged concluding embrace.

But Nandy hooted when I told him that. Nandy is our publicity man. I mean the chief of the staff. There's a dozen of them. About 27 years ago Nandy was properly and conventionally christened by his aristocratic parents "Nathaniel Desborough Anderson." But that's much too long a name for friends.

You can't possibly apply a name like that to a young man who has to know all of your pet secrets and your inner life, and your taste in breakfast foods and kittens, and whether you prefer to wear socks or hose at home in hot weather. And therefore he's "Nandy" to our studio crowd.

Of course, the movie publicity man must be acquainted with the past, present and future of the stars of his company.

"And if I don't have the facts, I may have to invent 'em!" Nandy explained to Motherdear and me when I was first a star.

That's about three years ago, when I was 16. Nandy had been complaining an hour about my past. I didn't have any—that I'd confess! I had had a love affair—one marked by tragedy——but that was my secret.

So Nandy scolded the while he and his wife were taking tea very comfortably in Motherdear's drawing-rom.

Nandy and Polly are like members of our own family. There's something awfully clannish about movie people at their best. Motherdear says it's because we must succeed or fail together.

If it wasn't for me where would Nandy be? And if it wasn't for Nandy, where would I be? And, anyway, people are always at their best if you expect them to be.

"Make it easy for me, May," Nandy pleaded. "Come over with an idea! Now, what do you hate most? The director's 'Ca-amer-a-a-a!' I'll bet."

"No-o-o! By no means! You know, I love my work!" I replied quickly. "But I simply hate to be kissed!

Nandy laughed until he really hurt my feelings.

"Don't you believe me?" I wailed.

"Sure, I do! Now, don't I, Polly?"

His little wife nodded vigorously to him, then turned to me with:

"Do you mean that you can't bear to be kissed by Cissy?"

"I particularly detest being kissed by Cissy Sheldon!"

WOMEN'S CLUBS

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY G. W. V. A

The provincial command of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Great War Veterans terminated their annual meeting in Toronto Thursday night with the election of their officers. All the former officers were re-elected by acclamation, and are as follows: President, Mrs. W. R. Morris, Peterboro; vice-president, Mrs. G. H. Stunden, Gananoque; recording-secretary, Mrs. H. Rutherford, Toronto; corresponding-secretary, Mrs. Jack Macleod, Peterboro; treasurer, Mrs. M. E. Ford, Toronto. The executive committee being composed of Mrs. W. T. Waddell, Sault Ste Marie; Mrs. S. Simons, Brockville; Mrs. M. Ginn, Toronto; Mrs. G. A. Spooner, Galt; Mrs. J. F. Thompson, London.

Among the resolutions brought in was one dealing with the housing question and the reported refusal by the provincial government of the federal government's offer to set aside $2,000,000 for the purpose of assisting soldiers to build. This was left to the sub-executive for investigation.

Another resolution dealt with the necessity for a law regarding the compulsory wrapping of bread; a third pledged the auxiliary to help the G. W. V. A. in the sale of poppies, a fourth advocated by several speakers whose tongue betrayed birth in England and Scotland, referred to the advisability of Canada being granted the charter for a land flag, the one now in use being the naval ensign.

Peterboro, being central, was chosen as the next place of meeting.

GRENFELL MISSION.

The Grenfell Mission held its annual meeting on Thursday. A report which was read by the treasurer, Mrs. A. V. Becher, showed that $1,138.73 had been raised during the year. The election of officers took place, those being elected were as follows: Honorary president, Mrs. W. J. Reid; honorary vice-president, Mrs. Becher, Sr.; president, Mrs. A. T. Little; vice-presidents, Mrs. George Reid, Mrs. Donald McLean, Miss Shaw-Wood; treasurer, Mrs. David Arnott.

The society is holding a tea and sale at the First Presbyterian Church on Nov. 12, when many articles from Labrador will be on sale.

SOLDIERS' WIVES' LEAGUE.

The final arrangements for the tea and musicale to be given by the Soldiers' Wives' League in the armories on Oct. 28 were made this week. Mrs. H. A. Panet has promised to declare the tea opened. The league will offer a silent vote of sympathy for Sir Adam and Miss Marion Beck. Lady Beck, having been the patroness of the league, always took a keen interest in its activities. The funds to be raised by this bazaar are for supplies for the needy relatives of soldiers.

SIMCOE STREET M. C.

Mrs. M. A. Younge addressed the Simcoe Street Mothers' Club at their meeting on Thursday night, the subject of her address being "Dress and Its Relation to the Character." During the evening recitations were given by Miss Less and Miss Olive Potts. Further arrangements were made for the bazaar to be given in aid of the Sick Children's Hospital on Oct. 28. Mrs. Dayton was made general convener.

HAMILTON ROAD M. S.

The Hamilton Road Missionary Society held its regular meeting on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Alex Stein. An interesting paper was read by Mrs. Stein on the "Influence of the Bible on the Non-Christian Land." A letter was read by Mrs. Cree from Rev. J. T. Taylor, a missionary in India. Mrs. Mallough presided over the meeting. A social hour followed when tea was served; Mrs. Mallough assisted in the tea room, also Mrs. W. D. Stock.

CATHOLIC WOMEN'S LEAGUE.

The program for the convention being held in London next week by the Catholic Women's League is as follows: Tuesday, the registration and reception of the delegates at the Catholic Club. At 12:30 a luncheon at the Tecumseh House, the London subdivision being the hostesses; 2:15, business session at the Catholic Club which will be opened by prayer by the Rt. Rev. Monsignor McKeon, and an address of welcome by Mayor Little. An address will also be given by the president, Mrs. B. C. McCann, followed by the appointment of the committees. This will be followed by an address by the secretary, Mrs. W. H. Fox; Miss Mary Power, B.A., of the Provincial Department of Health, will then speak on Child Welfare. The meeting will then be closed by the reports of the delegates. At 8 o'clock a reception will be opened by an address by the Rt. Rev. M. F. Fallon, Bishop of London, which will be followed by a social evening. A business meeting will be held on Wednesday morning in the Catholic Club, which will be preceded by mass at 9 o'clock in St. Peter's Cathedral. The election of the officers to the diocesan executive will be then held. A motor drive through the city will follow a luncheon given by the Local Council of the Knights of Columbus, at which Bro. Barnabas of Toronto will address the delegates.

Diamond Wedding

A delightful reception was held at the home of Mrs. Campbell of the first concession, Westminster, in honor of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Scott of Westminster, it being the sixtieth anniversary of their wedding.

Mrs. Scott, who is 79 years old, and Mr. Scott, who is 82, were married on Oct. 19, 1861.

Besides a large number of guests present were their 21 grandchildren, ten great grandchildren, five daughters and two sons.

The happy couple who have been life-long residents of Westminster, received the congratulations of their many friends, who came from various places to be present at the celebration. Among those present were: Dr. Routledge, Lambeth, and Rev. Mr. Young of Chalmers Presbyterian Church, London.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott received many lovely gifts besides being presented with two well-filled purses.

The house was beautifully decorated with autumn foliage, and after dinner was served, the feature of which was a huge wedding cake, decorated with 60 candles, the evening was spent in dancing, which took the form of an old-fashioned dance.

For the Dance Divine.

BY MARIAN HALE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—With an 1849 air of quaint primness your dancing gown this season will cling to the lines of your figure, as to bodice, and then flirt lengths and lengths of diaphanous skirt! In its transparent folds will be flowers, heavily embroidered or perhaps encrusted with semi-precious jewels. And it will extend quite below your silken underslip.

The frock may forget its sleeves quite completely, but its neckline must be Florentine—high as to back and front, but cut away at the sides.

Heath Service

(By William Brady, M.D., Physician and Author.)

EXERCISE VERSUS ROWDYISM.

If half the money squandered for fancy office filing systems, salaried clerks to nurse the files, and card-indexers to keep them supplied with data, in this great modern profession called social service, were appropriated for the purchase and maintenance of suitable playgrounds, the result might be worth the price.

If a boy has no place but the streets to play, he is bound to commit certain misdemeanors sooner or later, such as breaking windows or "pinching" such things as fruit from Antonio's fruit stand, or doing something in the way of "malicious mischief" to a tempting freight car in the railroad yards, or otherwise getting himself entered in the files as incorrigible and all that sort of thing. Sometimes when I think how many of these foul crimes I perpetrated when I was a kid, and how fortunate I was to be raised in a small town where there was nothing remotely resembling social service, it seems to me that our social service folks are about five hundred years behind the times. They are wasting their efforts on attempts at curing the disease, whereas they should devote themselves to the business of prevention.

Older boys with no suitable place to play seek and outlet in the poolrooms, the bowling alleys, the dance halls. And older girls with no place to play find a substitute in the dance halls for that which they should by rights seek in the gymnasium, the swimming pool and the skating rink—all publicly owned and conducted in a manner as cleanly and efficiently as the postoffice or the town hall is conducted.

A stone heaved through a valuable window is the unfortunate boy's equivalent for a strike-out in a ball game of his own. A village boy steals second base where the play-starved lad in the big town steals Tony's bananas and beats Tony in the ensuing race. The vacant lots or open country surrounding the small village afford the country boy every opportunity for wholesome play if he has wholesome inclinations. A playground in a big city is a rarity; even if the city provides space for play, often the place is too far from the boy who needs it most. The city street is the school for criminals.

Swimming should be as popular as dancing, and boys and girls of any age seeking diversion should find a swim as attractive as the dance is made for them. Here is a question for real social service workers to consider. We have had too many "surveys" and ponderous reports thereof, and nothing but endless talk as the result.

When playgrounds suitably arranged and comfortably equipped to attract boys of all ages and girls as well, are about one-half as common as cabarets, burlesque shows and dance resorts now are, then perhaps there won't be so many or such scandalous data for the army of social service retainers to digest.

Think this over when you see young men who use the cigar store or the pool room of a certain type as a "hang-out." Think it over when you see pitifully painted girls engaged in the occupation of street walking.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Holliday announce the engagement of their only daughter, Ida Anzonetta, to Frederick John Evans, the marriage to take place in November.

Miss Gertrude Rowntree, B.A., assistant in the department of chemistry, spent several weeks recently in Wildwood, N. J.

Miss Mary Mara of London is in Toronto attending the Walkey-Cook wedding which takes place at the Deer Park Presbyterian Church today.

Mrs. A. C. Joseph is in Toronto today attending the quarterly meeting of the board of directors of the Graduate Nurses' Association of Ontario.

A delightful shower was held recently at the home of Mrs. Roy Garrett, Rogers avenue, in honor of Miss Gladys Pulling, a bride-elect of this month.

Miss Margaret Wade of London is leaving on Monday for Springfield, Mass. While there Miss Wade will give an address at the annual convention of the Direct Mail Advertising Association on "Editing a House Organ."

A joint shower was given on Friday night in honor of Miss Gladys Burt, whose wedding takes place today. The showers were given by a number of her friends, and also by the members of the staff where she was formerly employed.

A shower was given recently at the home of Miss Bertie Spettigue in honor of Miss Ida Holliday, a bride-elect of tris month. During the evening a prettily-decorated wagon filled with aluminum ware, in the midst of which was tiny Miss Dorothy Luney, dressed as a bride, and drawn by little Miss Dora Dick, was presented to the bride-to-be. The evening was spent in games and music, after which a dainty lunch was served.

A delightful reception was held on Friday afternoon when Mrs. H. K. Callard received at her home on Piccadilly street for the first time since her marriage. Mrs. Callard, who looked charming in her wedding gown of white satin, and wearing a corsage of Richmond roses, was assisted in receiving by her mother, Mrs. R. H. Morrison, who wore a handsome dress of grey canton crepe and orchids and roses. The living room was very attractive with Columbia roses and yellow 'mums. The tea table, which was centered with a silver basket filled with Ophelia roses, was presided over by Mrs. Fred Porter of Toronto, who wore a pretty gown of black canton crepe with green jade trimmings and black hat; also Mrs. Roy Cairncross, gowned in a smart black frock. The numerous guests were ushered to the tea-room by Mrs. J. A. Cairncross and Miss Annie Callard. The tea-room assistants were Mrs. Roy Moore, in orchid georgette; Miss Janette Wilson, wearing a gown of yellow georgette and large black hat; Miss Lillian Morrison, in her bridesmaid dress of pink charmeuse with an overdres sof lace; Miss Kathleen Morrison, who wore a silver cloth and blue net gown, and Miss Callard, in grey crepe de chine with a corsage of Ophelia roses.

MINOR BODY ELEMENTS.

Any diet which contains enough nitrogen for the body's needs contains also enough sulphur, for sulphur occurs in combination with the protein foods.

Of phosphorus, while the body requires less than of nitorgen, it requires its quantity just as emphatically. Phosphorus forms a part of every active cell in the body, and with calcium helps to give rigidity to the bones. It is found not only in the protein foods, as in the yolk of eggs, and in one of the proteins of milk called casein, but also in simpler forms in grains, fruits and vegetables.

Iron, too, is needed by the body. It is in the red corpuscles of the blood which are essential to the conveyance of oxygen to the cells, and therefore to the burning of fuel foods, and it is an element of all active cells, playing a part in secretion and growth. The new-born child is supplied with a special store of iron to tide over the first months of life, because milk does not give him enough. Before he is quite a year old he begins to need iron in his diet in the form of orange juice, or finely-minced spinach in small quantities. Iron is best obtained from ordinary foods which contain it, as egg yolks and greens, spinach, chard, beet-tops and lettuce; strawberries, too, are comparatively rich in iron.

Calcium is important for good bones and good teeth. With phosphorus it forms the chief mineral constituent of these tissues. Milk is the great calcium food; people that use milk have good bones and good teeth. A long way behind for milk calcium come meat, whole cereals, cauliflower, celery, spinach, cabbage and string beans, in order.

The other necessary elements are found in the foods which contain these four, sulphur, phosphorus, iron and calcium, and need not be separately considered, except in case of illness.

Jury Gives Windsor Man Verdict in Damage Suit.

WINDSOR, Oct. 21.—Francis G. C. Fenton, Hall avenue, Windsor, was this afternoon awarded $2,500 damages against Joseph Gouin, Sandwich east, by a jury at Sandwich. Fenton was injured by Gouin's automoble when he stepped from a street car at Hall avenue and Sandwich street. He sued Gouin for $25,000.

Sold Water For Liquor.

Ernest Dean, 480 Church street, Windsor, is held at police headquarters on a charge of selling a case of water to Mrs. Fannie Whoski, Marion avenue, representing it to be liquor. Mrs. Whoski told police that she paid $52 for aqua pura. Dean is charged with fraud, and will be arraigned Saturday morning.

Registrars Appointed.

Returning Officer John Sale this afternoon announced appointment of the following as registrars in border municipalities: Windsor, Talbot Clay, F. W. Burton, E. Ellis, C. E. Henderson, John Laing, L. A. McHurgh, Charles D. MacTague, A. A. McKinnon, Ralph Sheppard, J. F. Twigg; Walkerville, W. Whiteside, A. E. Cock; Sandwich, Percy Coyle, Frank Haggart; Ford, Herbert Baker and Theo Drouillard.

THE LONDON CONSERVATORY of MUSIC and DRAMATIC ART

Annex—Woodman Building, 476 Richmond (next to St. Paul's Cathedral). Conservatory Office—356 Dundas Street. Phone 1101.

Violin Department.

At the earnest solicitation of Mr. Dickinson the consent has been obtained of Mr. Willgoose to take charge of the violin instruction. Mr. Willgoose is possibly one of the most experienced violin teachers in Canada.

As a pupil he was a great success in Leipsic and upon returning from Germany was at once engaged by that eminent conductor and critic Sir Henry Wood, for the Queen's Hall Orchestra, London. Subsequently he became one of the first violins with Sir Frederick Cowan in the Scottish Orchestra.

Mr. Willgoose believes a great deal in the European method of class teaching for violin, and is prepared to accept classes of not more than four pupils. This, of course, for a very modest sum allows a pupil to get firstclass tuition for himself and also to be present and learn from the coaching expended on his fellow students.

Applications for class and individual tuition will be arranged, and further particulars given by phoning 1101.

Vocal Department.

The appointment of Miss Abbott to the London Conservatory of Music has already been fully justified by the demand for her work. At an early date some of Miss Abbott's pupils will be heard and the musical public will then realize the wonderful results obtained through utilizing the expert vocal knowledge of this teacher.

An interview in reference to this work can be arranged at any time by phoning 1101.

Sight Singing Class.

The class being formed under Mr. Charles E. Percy for sight reading will commence Nov. 8, at 7 p.m. There are vacancies for three more pupils in this class. Particulars of registration can be obtained by phoning 1101.

Department of Dancing.

Names may still be added for children wishing to join the Monday and Friday classes in interpretive dancing under Miss Pryce. For particulars phone 1101.

Department of Dramatic Art.

There are vacancies in the various classes under the direction of Miss Topley Thomas. A special class is now being formed for public speaking, and Miss Thomas will be pleased to interview applicants for this class. Phone 1101.

Pianoforte Department.

The Pianoforte Department has grown to wonderful dimensions, but this can hardly be wondered at when one reads down the list of teachers engaged. Even the junior grades have their expert individual teachers the same as the senior and recital students. This method guarantees the continuity of enthusiasm and musical interest which is one of the characteristics of the London Conservatory of Music. For list of teachers, terms, etc. Phone 1101.

Vacancies.

There are vacancies for the following appointments:
One intermediate violin teacher.
Junior and intermediate pianoforte teacher.
Organist position for out-of-town.

For particulars make written application to the London Conservatory of Music. b

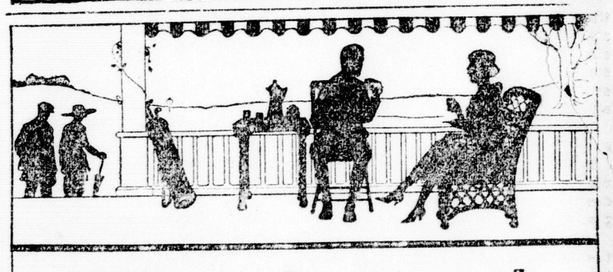

WHEN HEADACHY, BILIOUS, CONSTIPATED, OR STOMACH ACTS UP--A DIME A BOX

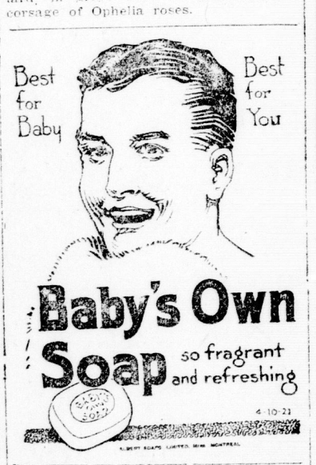

Turn the rascals out—the headache, biliousness, constipation, the sick, sour stomach and foul gases—turn them out tonight with Cascarets. Don't put in another day of distress. Let Cascarets sweeten your stomach; remove the fermenting food and that misery-making gas; take the excess bile from your liver and carry off the waste matter and poison from the bowels. Then you feel great. A Cascaret tonight will straighten you up by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your head clear, stomach sweet, liver and bowels regular for months. Children love Cascarets too.

KEEP WESTERN ATTACK FRESH WITH INJECTION OF SUBS IN TODAY'S CLASH

COLLEGIANS' CHANCE TO GET BIG FOLLOWING

Varsity and Western Even On Coaching With Edge Going To Locals On Experience Together.

The line which will take the field for Western U. this afternoon at Tecumseh Park against Varsity Seconds has not yet been definitely announced, and will not be known until the members of the team are sent to their stations by Coach Reid just before the kick-off.

It is probable that the same team which acted as hosts to St. Mikes last week will shoulder most of the burden today, but the subs will be more in evidence than they were on that occasion.

An Opportunity.

Western has more than a chance to win a game today. They've got a chance to get a big rugby following, because interest in the doings of the Collegians this year is more general, owing to the lack of an O. R. F. U. entry. Getting the fans there once and pleasing them is the surest road to loyal support, and the surest way of getting away from the idea of purely student backing.

Western has a much better knowledge of the new rules now than a week ago. Coach Reid was a member of the committee which drafted the C. R. U. regulations, and some of the knotty points have been cleared away in this week's workouts. Varsity Seconds, however, have been getting the benefit of what has been drilled into the Firsts by Coach Dr. Jack Maynard, and it was proven a week ago at Montreal that the Toronto coach wasn't wandering around in a daze when it came to teaching the new idea of rugby.

Unknown Quantity.

Varsity this year is an unknown quantity locally. It is suspected that they are not as strong as last year, drafts for the Firsts and rumored indifference among candidates for the Second team being the reasons. On this score Western should be in a better position. The Western team of last year is practically intact with a lot of added experience.

The following players will be ready to jump into this afternoon's clash for Western: Heard, Cline, Trainor, Simpson, Sifton, Callaghan, Fisher, Jarrott, Cowley, Dundas, Williams, Dingle, McMahon, Lewis, Rice, Priddle.

Varsity's line will be picked from the following: McGibbon, Hyland, Henderson, Stewart, Catto, Webber, Grant, Drucie, Baker, Moore, Boohook, Brown.

The Preliminary.

As a preliminary fixture the London Collegiate squad meets the Woodstock College (II's) in a Middlesex and Oxford Rugby Union game. The local team has not lost a game since the league opened. They were put through a stiff workout at Tecumseh Park last evening, and went through some signal practice with the Western squad.

Beard, the new player, who was the hero of the game against the Woodstock Collegiate team last Wednesday, will be in uniform today. This young huskie promises to be one of the city's best rugby players, and much is expected of him today.

The line-up announced by Captain Coryme, director of athletics at the collegiate, is as follows: Hunter, F. W.; Sessions (Capt.) R. H.; Crittle, C. H.; Ardiel, L. H.; Beard, Q. B.; Johnson, snap; Murphy, R. I.; McCausland, R. M.; Daley, R. O.; J. Wilkinson, L. I.; Wilson, R. M.; Foote, R. O.; spares, Birrell, Hill, Mitchell, Woonton, Lawrence, Bearsmit, Art Wilkins and J. Rourke.

Bill Mace of the Western University will referee the game.

The Collegiate squad of rooters will be out in full force, and promise something new in the line of school yells.

CANNOT TRACE $230,000 OF BRENNER BANK FUNDS

TORONTO, Oct. 21.—When the hearing of the charges of theft and fraud, involving about $700,000, against Nathan Brenner, Mayer Brenner and Gordon Blackford, accountant for N. Brenner & Company, was resumed today, Osler Wade, assignee for the company, went on the witness stand and testified that he had not been able to trace sums aggregating several hundred thousand dollars.

The Brenner company assigned nearly a year ago, and after the assignee had made an investigation the charges against the principals of stealing from the company to the disadvantage of its creditors were laid.

Mr. Wade said he had not been able to trace $230,000 of the N. Brenner & Company account in the Imperial Bank.

TWISTING THE PRINCETON TIGERS' TAILS

SCENE at the Princeton-Navy game at Annapolis when the Navy upset the dope and beat the Tigers, 13 to 0. The Navy's varied attack and the great work of the backfield men caused Princeton's defeat.

The London Curling Club settled the priority issue anent the junior hockey situation when they gave Alerts first call on ice accommodations for this season. Alerts had claimed throughout that they had junior hockey intentions early last winter, and the present action of the curlers, who were spoken to about the project at that time, rather confirms the claim.

There can be no further excuse for two junior teams in the city, now that the question of principle has been solved. If the Alerts had stepped in to spoil the plans of the Manhattans for a junior team, it would have been bad sportsmanship, even if it had been good hockey sense. However, now that it has been proven that Alerts had intentions over a year old to place a team in the junior O. H. A., a fact that was generally known in club circles, then it is up to the Manhattans to gracefully retire and give their co-operation to producing one junior team for London, and that one the best the city can produce.

Staging games in St. Thomas is nothing more or less than an outlaw action, which will receive the support it deserves from the fans, if the idea is carried out.

Some American editorial criticism is already being pointed at the Blue Nose which will make her first bid for the return of the Fishermen's Trophy to Canada against Elsie, the defending Gloucester schooner off Halifax today. The Blue Nose has apparently measured up to the regulations laid down by practical fishermen, and it will be too bad if editorial opinion, much of it based on nothing better than a knowledge of a fishing punt, should take anything away from the ultimate victory, whether it goes to Elsie or Blue Nose.

HERB HINDMARSH HEADS LONDON CURLING CLUB

Club Holds 41st Annual Meeting On Same Date First Meeting Was Held—Officers Elected.

Forty-one years ago last night the first annual meeting of the London Curling Club was held. Last night the forty-first annual meeting of the club was held and officers for the coming year elected, as well as a general discussion of this year's business. John Christie was elected president the first year and last night F. Herbert Hindmarsh, one of London's most preminent curlers, was selected president for the ensuing year. There were 32 paid members then, and now the club's membership has increased to 100.

Other executive officers were elected as well as chairmen and members of the various working committees. Following are the members of the executive committee: President, F. Herbert Hindmarsh; first vice-president, Harry Martin; second vice-president, Charles White; secretary-treasurer, Colin Currie; assistant secretary-treasurer, F. S. Ashplant.

Change Competitions.

The president-elect suggested that during this winter a club competition tournament be held, and to do away with one of the bonspiels. The advisability of holding this will be left to the new executive.

A membership committee was appointed, and a drive will in all probability be launched soon.

Following are the members of the various committees: Auditors, G. E. Coombs, W. B. Wortman; entertainment, Hugh MacKenzie, chairman; H. Allister, J. Banks, W. Cripps, D. Ross; refreshments, H. Aked (with power to choose the remaining members); games, J. A. Wright, Wilfred Hodgins, A. G. Wanless, J. Banks, W. F. Sage, Ward Casselman, Charles White, Bill Fryer, Tom Shaw, Alf. Torry, Roy Brooks; rink, R. B. Wanless and Alex. Wright; hockey, Frank Ashplant, chairman; N. K. Wanless, vice-chairman; Joe Stone, Sam Thorpe, Dick Johnson, Alex. Wanless, Bill Cripps, J. Banks, Harry Aitkens, W. G. Sage, H. Aked, W. Hodgins and Fred Campbell; representatives to the annual meeting of the Colts, Wilfred Hodgins and Joe Stone.

The games committee was given power to choose the skips and vice-skips for the tankard and district cup competitions.

BALTIMORE ORIOLES GET NEW TRAINING CAMP

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 21.—The Baltimore International League baseball club will train next spring at Winston-Salem, N. C., Manager Jack Dunn announces. The club trained for the last two seasons at Goldsboro, N. C.

Manager Dunn also said that Pitcher Harry Frank had signed his contract for next season.

Entries to O.B.A. Close On Oct. 31

Walter Reynolds, Stratford Man, Is New Secretary.

Stratford, Oct. 21.—Tom Brown, president of the Ontario Amateur Basketball Association, today announced the appointment of Walter M. Reynolds, 203 Front street, Stratford (phone 631W), as secretary of the association.

All entries must be forwarded to the secretary here by Oct. 31. On Nov. 7 the executive will meet at the Central Y. M. C. A. in Toronto to appoint conveners and arrange districts. It is hoped that play will be commenced by Nov. 15.

Indications are that there will be an increased number of teams competing this year in the various series. Clubs should send in their entries as early as possible.

LONDON BIKE RIDER FIRST OUTSIDER IN BIG GRIND

W. J. Coles, the London bike rider, who came third in the Dunlop road race last Saturday, made the best showing of an outsider in the event for years past. In 1919, when the big grind was staged in London, E. Cousens a Londoner, came second, but with this exception Toronto riders have been mostly successful.

Coles also won a special prize for being the first out-of-town rider across the tape.

PUBLIC SCHOOL FIELD DAY AGAIN POSTPONED

For the second time the public school field day was postponed. The sports were supposed to have been held at Queen's Park on Friday, but owing to the cold weather in the morning, members of the school board decided it would be for the benefit of the children to call it off.

It could not be learned on Friday night whether another attempt would be made to hold the "day" this year.

"POP" GEERS DRIVES IN TWO WINNERS

Veteran Had Desperate Struggle Against Cox in 2:11 Pace.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 21.—"Pop" Geers, veteran driver of the grand circuit, had things much his own way in the races here today. He was entered in three events, and he took two of them and won second place in the other. Geers piloted Lillian Silkwood to victory in the $2,500, 2:11 pace, in a desperate struggle with Walter Cox, driving Peter Kennedy, in which Geers won two heats and Cox one. The 2:11 trot for $1,000, went to Geers, driving Dudette, and again it was Cox who furnished the place horse, this time holding the reins over Lord Frisco. The 2:08 trot for $500 was won by Dottie Day, piloted by McDonald, with Geers second, driving Utah. In point of public interest the best race was the 2:20 trot for southern horses. It was unfinished when darkness intervened and the deciding heat will be raced tomorrow.

The summaries:

The W. O. R. team which meets R. C. R. at Carling Heights this afternoon in the semi-finals for the McCutcheon cup, is as follows:

Goal, Fuller; backs, Wilson and Crinnan; half-backs, Whitelaw, Broomhead and Potter; forwards, Taylor, Potter, Gellatly, MacFarlane and Angus; reserves, Widdicombe, Noble and MacIntosh.

BILLY BISHOP, CANUCK NAG, TAKES SHORT SHIP 2:11

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich., Oct. 21.—Excellent racing marked today's events, only one of which went in two heats, the 2:20 trot, in which Alla Coast II. showed the way. Although Dempsey had to hustle her at the end, she won by a lengthy time as good as 2:15. In the third heat Johnshine nipped her by the wire.

The 2:11 pace was the feature, having three starters and going four heats. Kate Hal was favorite in the first heat. She could not get up to Billy Bishop, that led all the way and beat Laddie Boy a neck. Billy Bishop again headed the parade in the second, but he could not stand the stretch rush of Kate Hal, that mare just beating Hallie. Kate Hal was in front to the distance in the third. D. B. J. rushing past her Billy Bishop surprised everybody by hanging on and winning the final by a nose.

The 2:24 trot saw Ercle M. beat Arthur Coffman an inch, in the opening heat. Red Arrow made the pace in the second, but broke, and Contri Boy landed the decision. Contri Boy looked to have the third heat until a stretch break gave it to Ercle M.

Nick Off Movies

Nick Altrock will have nothing to do with the movies, and not because of the disgrace brought on the movie profession. Nick tells why.

He was approached by a producer who wanted to feature him in the films. Nick asked the outlines of the "play" he was to star in. The plot was disclosed to him.

"In the first act," says Nick, "all I had to do was dive off the roof of a house, land lightly on an overhanging cliff, and from that plunge into the ocean, from which I was to be rescued with a boat hook stuck in the seat of my pants.

"In the next act I was to lead around a lion, and then put on a wrestling match with him, clinch him, and roll down a hill with him. They showed me the lion; he had four sets of good teeth and claws six inches long, and he had a cross look in his eye.

"I asked them if that was all, and they said the real 'action' came in the next reel. Right there I asked waivers on myself as a movie actor, and got myself a job as a vaudeville performer."

Nick and Al Schacht are booked for a vaudeville circuit this winter, guaranteed fourteen weeks at good pay. They'll be worth seeing.

WHO WILL PROVE BIGGER MAN, RUTH OR LANDIS?

The biggest story in organized baseball since the appointment of Judge Landis as high commissioner is about to pop.

It will answer this question: Who is the bigger man, Judge Landis or Babe Ruth?

It looks like Ruth!

After all, Landis is only a personality put forward to appease a public roused to wrath by the selling out of the White Sox in the world's series two years ago. He's costing the moguls $42,500 a year.

Ruth is the champion crowd-puller of all time. More than that, the king of swat is not to be denied. Every fan with seeing eyes figured out during the world's series that Ruth, not Miller Huggins, was managing the Yankees. In fact, there's every reason to believe that Huggins will surrender the managerial reins to Ruth officially before spring—for Huggins can truthfully lay the loss of the series to Babe Ruth's running himself as well as the rest of the team.

But that's another story.

Landis' Threat.

Landis threatened to suspend the Bambino a part or all of next season unless he stopped taking part in exhibition games around New York State, contrary to a baseball rule that prohibits players in a world's series from barnstorming.

The Babe, getting $50,000 for his post-season work, defied the judge, claiming that Sisler and other major league stars who had participated in the world's series divvy were playing winter ball on the coast without being molested. If they could get away with it, so could he, was the point the Bambino maintained.

And Landis has taken the case under advisement. He says he'll announce his decision later, and hands out a veiled threat that the Babe isn't going to get away with anything.

Babe Should Worry.

Suspension of the swat king next season will have far-flung results. It won't hurt the Babe. He's getting $50,000 for his series of exhibition games this fall, more than twice what he would make in a regular playing season. He could well afford to defy Landis, and sit in the grandstand twiddling his thumbs all of next season, as far as the financial side of the affair goes.

But ousting of Ruth by Landis would go much further than that.

Without the slugger in the lineup the New York Yankees would cease to be the drawing card that they were in 1921.

Not only in New York, but all around the American League circuit, and the box office receipts would slump off.

Baseball officials estimate that the loss of Ruth to the Yanks would cost the American League a cool million dollars in gate receipts-that-would-have-been-but-aren't in a single season.

Landis' Problem.

Incidentally, should Landis decide to go through with his threatened suspension it would undoubtedly arouse the ire of the New York club officials, and probably that of other club owners around the circuit who would see the killing of the golden goose.

Under the circumstances, with half his baseball kingdom pulling against him, baseball's czar might find the future going more difficult as well as unpleasant.

The present difficulty then is not so much the case of Judge Landis vs. Babe Ruth as it is the case of Judge Landis vs. the Yankee team, or in fact, the entire American League.

BABE RUTH AND JUDGE LANDIS.

FIGURES ON GLIDERS, NAVAL GUN TARGETS

J. S. Anti-Aircraft Pieces To Make Test.

NORFOLK, Va., Oct. 19.—Rag men will be used to "man" a fleet of raiders that will be under fire of anti-aircraft guns on ships of the Atlantic fleet in the forthcoming manoeuvres to be held off the Virginia Capes and in Cuba the latter part of the winter.

It is planned to launch the gliders from navy dirigibles or "blimps" at a height of from 3,000 to 5,000 feet. The rag men will be fastened in the gliders so as to prevent the machines from turning over in their downward flight after they are released. The presence of the rag men in the gliders will also give American gunners using small arms an opportunity to prove their marksmanship in picking off crews of an aerial enemy's craft.

Maintain Average Speed.

It is intended to release the gliders in groups of five. Naval experts say the gliders in their flight downward will maintain an average speed of about forty-five miles an hour, about half the speed an airship in full flight would average in an attempt to escape gunners on warships after delivering an attack.

Virtually every ship in the Atlantic fleet will take part in the attack on the gliders. An elaborate program of aerial target shooting and manoeuvres is being prepared for use when the Atlantic fleet goes to Guantanamo in the winter.

Most of the fleet will assemble off the Virginia Capes within the next few weeks for preliminary target practice, which will include experiments with gliders and box kites. The latter style of targets has been used in previous aerial target shooting and resulted in excellent records for navy gunners using small arms.

Gliders Are Larger.

The anti-aircraft guns have never been trained on a real airship and naval experts considered the gliders to be the only target that would come anywhere near representing an aeroplane. Box kites are made fast to ships with ropes and permitted to soar at heights varying from 500 to 1,200 feet. The gliders will be larger than those used in any manoeuvres by the army and navy. Each glider, it is asserted, could easily carry two live men with utmost safety.

Several ships of the Atlantic fleet recently shot several box kites to pieces off the Virginia Capes, and the marksmanship of the gunners was of such high character that naval experts decided to give them something more lively to shoot at in the air.

The gliders will be manufactured at Norfolk and New York and will be shipped to Cuba on a supply ship that will accompany the Atlantic fleet to Guantanamo.

NUXATED IRON IS USED BY OVER 4 000 000 PEOPLE ANNUALLY TO HELP BUILD UP THEIR HEALTH STRENGTH AND ENDURANCE

You Can Tell The People Who Have Plenty Of Iron In Their Blood — They Are The Strong Vigorous Healthy Folks

THINK of the strong, healthy men and women you know—people who are prominent, and who are doing things worth while, and you will find that they usually possess remarkable force, vim and energy—the kind that simply brim over when the blood is filled with iron. Iron is red-blood food—it helps put strength and energy into the veins of men, and roses into the cheeks of women. Nuxated Iron by enriching the blood and creating new blood cells strengthens the nerves, rebuilds the weakened tissues and helps to instill renewed energy and endurance into the whole system.

If people would only keep their blood filled with strength-giving iron by taking Nuxated Iron when they feel weak, run-down and nervous, they might readily build up their red-blood corpuscles and quickly become stronger and healthier in every way. Unlike the older inorganic products it is easily assimilated, does not injure the teeth, make them black nor upset the stomach. Nuxated Iron often increases the strength and endurance of weak, delicate people in two weeks' time. It is dispensed by all good druggists.

Teach Harvard Students To Read Chinese Laundry Checks

BOSTON, Oct. 20.—The mystery of the Chinese laundry check is at last to be unfolded at Harvard. Also the true meaning of those hurriedly-uttered cannon-crackered expressions that follow a demand by a once-holder of a laundry check is to be no longer a puzzle. The "no checkee—no shirtie" long a classic, is simple enough, but what the Chinaman uses as a follow-up in his own tongue while he dances around his unlucky customer in true Jack Dempsey style, is still unprintable. Perhaps a freer translation would not stand the light of day, but at any rate Harvard men are now being assured an opportunity to have this lingo which is now as clear to them as mud made a bit more understandable.

It has come about, perhaps, in this way. Some unlucky professor may have mislaid or even lost his laundry check, and have felt the force and unjustness of what "John" has hurled at him. Or some one may have been on the lookout for research.

One rather stout professor has had an idea because the Chinaman always has his package ready the instant he opens the door of his store that he knows his customer by the laundry check marked "Fat." His suspicion was further increased one day when he got the wrong package and found its real owner must have been a much heavier man. But at any rate some one has convinced the Harvard corporation—this is not the fat man—that there is need of a boon familiarity with the Chinese language, and this august body in turn, thinking 40 years a long time between laundry checks and slow-matches, has arranged for a course in Chinese. Dr. Yuen R. Chao, a native of Shanghai, but letter-perfect in the English tongue, has been secured to give the course.

A number of Harvard students have already stated their desire to sign up for the course, which starts in February. Dr. Chao is now in Cambridge teaching Chinese philosophy in the language of George Washington.

Few athletes are warily examining its possibilities as a "snap" course, but are going rather slow. The class will be no place for a man who cannot keep a straight face under laughing pressure. Dr. Chao himself will prob-Brown or Ben Lockwood starts to unreel a yard or two of Chinese then will come the rub.

But the Harvard clothesline when once the Chinese tongue is hog-tied and kept under pressure will be busy with conversation, and it is a ten to one bet that the Oriental who has had all the best of it in the past, taking silence for consent as he called customers a few choice names in the Oriental tongue, is apt to find a black eye hung on, or his conversational powers suddenly warped if the Harvard customer hands him back a few "muckaiows," and a couple of "Hi low, Aih-Yahmkung-hee fat tsoy, suey quai."

WANTS WITHDRAWAL OF RUHR TROOPS

Gustave Herve Urges That Germany Be Given Chance.

PARIS, Oct. 19.—The Victoire of Paris continues under the signature of its editor, Gustave Herve, to urge that Germany be "given a chance."

Now that the economic sanctions—customs barriers—have been raised in the Ruhr region, he recommends that the military occupation of that region be abolished also. As his opinion had great force in moving the Allied Supreme Council to the first step, it will be interesting to see if they adopt the second proposal. He says:

"We have raised the economic sanctions, imposed in consequence of Von Simon's refusal, that is to say we have removed the customs barrier by which we had isolated from Germany all the occupied region.

"Of course the Germans demand that the military sanctions should also be raised.

"And really it is difficult to see any good reason for refusing them.

"The raising oof the military sanctions means the evacuation of Duisberg, Ruhrort and Duesseldorf, the three coaling ports of the Rhine, which we occupied in March at the same time that we decided to establish the customs barrier we called military sanctions, the occupation of these three ports; in reality they were economic sanctions. For us it was a question, that is quite clear, of controlling the three great ports of the Rhine, where the Ruhr coal is shipped in order to include them within the customs barrier and thus more easily control the coal. As we could not include them in the barrier without occupying them militarily we sent troops there.

"It was so much a question," says M. Herve, "of economic sanctions, that it was as a reply to Von Simon's attitude in the reparations questions that we decided to occupy the coaling ports and to establish a customs barrier simultaneously.

"Now that Chancellor Wirth has accepted the ultimatum, paid the first billion marks, prepared through Herr Rathenau the Rathenau-Loucheur agreement, and that he is endeavoring to make an arrangement with bankers and industrials to obtain the means of paying the second billion of gold marks, there is no reason to continue the occupation of the coal ports of the Ruhr more than to continue the customs barrier.

"What is the military value of these three towns? Every officer knows that this occupation adds nothing from a military point of view to the strong position which we hold on the Rhine by the occupation of the three bridge-heads of Cologne, Coblorne and Mayence. With or without these three ports we could occupy the Ruhr district just as easily, if by chance the reactionaries were to return to power in Germany, and if they refused to continue the payments begun by Chancellor Wirth. The best proof of this is the facility with which we occupied these three ports in March.

"Not only have we no reason to remain in Dusseldorf, Duisberg and Ruhrort, but we have an excellent reason for evacuating these towns. In remaining there we weaken the political situation of Chancellor Wirth, who will continue to be reproached for having accepted the ultimatum and only to have succeeded in having half of the sanctions raised. If we depart, we shall consolidate his political situation at the opening of the Reichstag, and provide the republican Germans with an argument in favor of a policy of international appeasement which evidently they are trying to pursue."

"We might perhaps wait," continues the writer, "until the Germans have given us complete satisfaction on the question of decentralization and militarization of their police; but don't let us have the appearance of acting unfairly in the eyes of our allies and in the eyes of the German republicans."

"We took the sanctions," repeats the writer, "because they refused to accept the amount of debt which we had fixed; Chancellor Wirth accepted it; all the sanctions ought to be raised and not only the half of them.

"There are two policies possible with regard to Germany at the present time: the one consists in trembling before her and giving her at the same time the impression that we are seeking an opportunity of seizing the left Rhine bank. This policy plays into the hands of reactionary Germany.

"The other consists in warning Germany that if she does not keep her engagements, or if she re-establishes the Hohenzollerns by a revolutionary act, we shall occupy the Ruhr, and that we shall make of the whole Rhineland, right and left bank, an independent, neutralized state, but that if she carries our loyally the reparations, and if she upholds the republic we shall not seek by any means to aggravate the Versailles treaty at her expense; this latter policy serves the interests of republican and democratic Germany.

"Between these two policies we must choose absolutely, without shuffling, without cavilling, without bully, in a manner unworthy of France."

CAMBRIDGE REFUSES WOMEN, MEMBERSHIP

London, Oct. 20.—Cambridge University today again voted against granting women membership in the university, by a majority of 214. On December 8 last, the university refused women membership by a vote of 1,712 to 908. It voted, however, to give women titular degrees by diploma. This recommendation was adopted by a majority of 642.

THREE-CORNERED FIGHT SURE IN SOUTH BRUCE

WALKERTON, Oct., 21. — South Bruce, in the coming federal election, will witness a three-cornered contest, this being brought about by the acceptance of the Conservative nomination by John Purvis, auctioneer of Holyrood. At the Conservative convention here last week, Mr. Purvis was tendered the nomination, but at first emphatically declined to accept it. It is generally believed here that the chances of Mr. Purvis being elected are very slight, and that the three-cornered battle will eventually settle down to a contest between the Farmer candidate, J. Walter Findlay, and the Liberal candidate, R. E. Truax, the present member. The Liberals are confident that they will again carry the riding, and that Mr. Truax will again represent South Bruce.

Gas, Indigestion, Stomach Misery —"Diapepsin"

"Pape's Diapepsin" "really does" put bad stomachs in order—"really does" overcome indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, heartburn and sourness in five minutes—that—just that—makes Pape's Diapepsin the largest selling stomach regulator in the world. If what you eat ferments into stubborn lumps, you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food and acid; head is dizzy and aches, remember the moment "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. It's truly astonishing—almost marvelous—and the joy is its harmlessness. A large sixty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin is worth its weight in gold to men and women who can't get their stomachs regulated. It belongs in your home—should always be kept handy in case of a sick, sour, upset stomach during the day or at night. It's the most efficient antacid and stomach regulator in the world.

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS MAY BE OVERCOME

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or head and ear noises or are growing hard of hearing, go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmint (double strength), and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.—Advt.

APPEAL OF LIQUOR CASE FIRST TIME HEARD IN CITY

Judge Macbeth Reserves In Annie Freeman Case.

The first of the appeals of liquor cases to come before a county judge in Middlesex, was heard by Judge Talbot Macbeth at the court house Friday morning when W. C. Fitzgerald entered the appeal on behalf of his client, Annie Freeman, Russian, of Ottaway avenue, who was fined $300 a few months ago for bootlegging. Judgment was reserved until Monday.

Mrs. Freeman was convicted on the evidence of a government liquor informer, who claimed to have purchased whiskey from her last July.

Mr. Fitzgerald contended that the weight of evidence was in his favor. He argued that the evidence of "spotters" should be corroborated, as their statements were open to disbelief, for they were hired to make people break the law by selling to them.

The new act providing that appeals could be brought before the county judges instead of taken to the court of appeals at Toronto, went into effect June 1. It provides that the case must be argued on the evidence given in the police court, and that no new evidence must be introduced.

HONOR LORD BURNHAM.

London, Oct. 21.—Canadian Press Cable.—A Reuter cable states that the governing body of the international labor office at Geneva, Switzerland, has unanimously agreed to elect Lord Burnham as president of the International Labor Conference.

WHAT TO DO FOR STOMACH TROUBLE

Good Advice From One Who Had Suffered Much.

Nine-tenths of all forms of indigestion or so-called stomach trouble are not due to the condition of the stomach at all, but are caused by other influences. The great contributing cause of indigestion is thin blood. Good blood and plenty of it is required by the stomach to take care of the food. If the blood is thin the stomach functions sluggish, food lies undigested, gas forms and causes pains in various parts of the body. Instead of getting nourishment from the blood the system gets poison.

Relief from this condition can be obtained by the tonic treatment which Mr. D. Shaw, Mount Stewart, P. E. I., tried and now warmly recommends to others. Mr. Shaw says: "I suffered from indigestion for over four years, and have tried many of the well-known remedies for such troubles, but never obtained more than temporary relief. The trouble was aggravated by constipation, setting in owing to the stomach failing to do its work, and laxatives only gave relief to the bowels and left the stomach in worse condition. The result was my blood was growing more and more anaemic. I did not sleep well at night and was growing despondent. I was in this wretched condition when a friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I got three boxes, and by the time they were finished there was some change for the better. This greatly encouraged me, and I continued taking the pills for some three months, by which time my stomach was all right again, my blood good, nerves strong, and life was again worth living. My advice to all who suffer from stomach trouble is to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can be obtained through any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

"TECH" SCHOOL MAY TEACH 350 ADOLESCENT PUPILS

Night Classes To Be Held for Those With Permits.

It may be that some 350 adolescent pupils of the city, now in possession of home or working permits, will be taken care of by the night classes of the technical school.

An informal meeting of No. 1 committee of the Board of Education was held yesterday at the home of Senior Inspector C. B. Edwards to review the situation.

Prior to the meeting the inspector had written the attendance officer, Dr. Weir, and secured a list of the pupils, and the grade of their previous schooling. In submitting this information, the officer cited the fact that 75 of the pupils had but reached the sixth grade in school, 45 the fifth, 7 the fourth and one got only to the third grade.

Principal Beal of the technical school states that he will be able to provide accommodation for those pupils at the night classes. Tuition will be free and the pupils can take what course they desire without distinction as to the former grade of their schooling.

THE HANDY CANDY TO SLIP IN YOUR POCKET

Give Your Product a Chance To Share the Crop Millions

Farmer, Artisan, Mechanic and Merchant Will Buy Familiar Things They Have Seen Advertised in the Daily Newspapers

The crops are beginning to roll to the sea board. From these crops alone from $25,000,000 in Prince Edward Island to $400,000,000 in the Prairie Provinces will be put in the farmers' purses. The farmer must spend the greater part of the money to provide necessities and luxuries for himself and his family. He must also buy implements, seed and fertilizer for 1922.

Crop money passes on rapidly to mechanic, artisan and merchant, who, like the farmer and his family, will buy, and are now buying, goods that are branded, trade-marked and otherwise vouched for by firms well and truly advertised day by day in the newspapers.

They will buy A's clothes, B's autos, C's pianos, D's flour, E's tea, F's candy, B's gramophone records—a thousand-and-one little accessories of the home and toilet table. Homes will be fitted with H's electric sweepers, and J's kitchen cabinets and ranges. The names are all familiar to newspaper readers.

Which of these brands is yours?

A manufacturer cannot get and keep his share of business unless he uses the daily newspapers of Canada, locally and nationally, to make his product a familiar name to every Canadian household. GOSSIP OF STAGELAND AND FLICKERS IN SCREENLAND

MUSIC AND DRAMA

News Photographer Uncrowned Hero

[Special to The Advertiser.]
BY JAMES W. DEAN.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—All of the romance and adventure of the movies does not fall to the lot of the star players of featured films.

Probably the most intrepid heroes of the screen are those whose praises are seldom rung, whose faces seldom are seen on the silver sheet—the news reel photographers.

They face fire, flood and famine to get their story in pictures as the news reporters face those dangers to get their story in print.

Georges Ercole is in the spotlight now. He brought the first news reel of the conditions in famine-stricken Russia. And as a result o fthe harships he endured to get those pictures he is now in a hospital at Riga suffering with a fever.

He covered 3,300 miles to get those pictures and penetrated into the Volga and Samara territories before the American relief commission.

He is probably the best-known cameraman in Europe. He bears the distinction of having his by-line on his picture for Pathe like star reporters have on their stories.

He was under fire on several battle fronts during the war. He was on a Russian battleship which was bombarded by the Turks in the Bosphorus.

Accompanied Armies.

Ercole has been with both the Russian and the Bolshevik armies and during the siege of Warsaw lived on horse-meat four days.

He was with the Polish army in its short-lived expedition into Russia. He was with the French troops who first marched into the Ruhr district.

He flew over the Hindenburg line with French army fliers to obtain pictures of the German forces. For this he was decorated and made a member of the French Legion of Honor.

Yes, there are heroes behind the silver screen as well as on it.

George Ercole. He's Pathe's star European news photographer. He lives on a diet of bullets, hunger and fever.

The apple tree in "Peter Ibbetson" is the most prolific in blossoms I have ever seen. This "exterior" scene was made in a studio. The blossoms, of course, were artificial. And, if I am not mistaken, those blossoms were grafted on an elder tree. At any rate, I have never seen an apple tree like the one in "Peter Ibbetson."

The finest line of poetry I know is that one of the late Joyce Kilmer which runs "Poems are made by fools like me, but only God can make a tree." In that respect film producers are not unlike poets.

Prince Writes Scenario.

Prince Zerdecheno, son of the ruler of a small principality in Kurdestan, Asia Minor, has written a scenario based on the traditions of the Mohammedan people. He told about it the other day when he visited Norma Talmadge's studio to study picture technique. His ancestors ruled in Egypt 6,000 years ago.

"I begin my story in the days when the people of the Nile sought a philosopher as leader," says the prince. They decided to let the white owl, bird of good omen, fly in the palace where the royal pople lived. The man on whom the bird first alighted would be recognized as the ruler.

"But the owl flew around and around and did not alight. The palace doors were opened and the white owl flew on Yussuf, a boy of 17. Thus he became emperor, my great ancestor."

The prince has a charming scenario, but it gives rise to several questions. Where will the white owl be procured? How will it be trained to alight on the hero of the story when other shoulders will offer as secure a perch?

However, 'tis said nothing is impossible in the films.

Won Fame As Artist's Model

Eileen Percy Appearing at Patricia Theatre in "Big Town Ideas."

During the making of "Big Town Ideas" at the Fox Hollywood plant, the studio was visited by a prominent American novelist, who expressed himself volubly concerning the radiant charms of Eileen Percy, star of the production. Being asked to jot down his impressions briefly, he promptly delivered himself of the following on Miss Percy:

"Large eyes that combine in their brilliancy all the glory of a Tyrolean sunrise with the sparkle of the sea and the grandeur of the Aurora Borealis. Teeth like ledges of pearl in an Alaskan snowdrift. A wealth of hair that glistens in the light like burnished gold."

Then someone handed the novelist—a large glass of water.

Miss Percy will be seen at The Patricia Theatre in "Big Town Ideas" next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

It may be observed incidentally, that Miss Percy was formerly famed as an artist's model for magazine covers.

Walter Hampden To Appear In Four Famous Characters

Famous Shakespearean Actor Who Will Return To London For a Three-Day Engagement Monday — He Will Be Seen During His Stay Here in "Hamlet," "Merchant of Venice," "Taming of the Shrew" and "Romeo and Juliet."

When Walter Hampden, the distinguished Shakespearean actor, returns to London for an engagement at the Grand Theatre the first three days of next week, he will present "The Taming of the Shrew," in which he, of course, will be seen as Petruchio.

Usually, tragedians have failed to make their mark in these Shakespearean roles requiring the light touch of a comedian or the broad slashes of a farceur and when, during the course of the star's New York season last spring, announcement was made of his debut in this farce, even some of his admirers doubted his ability to make of Petruchio a living image, as are his tragic roles. But some idea of how Mr. Hampden met these objections may be gained in quoting the New York Sun's pronouncement to the effect that "there never was a better Petruchio than Walter Hampden."

The reason is simple; many forget that Mr. Hampden before his re-entry into Shakespearean circles was leading man for Arthur Hopkins, the comedian in Clare's Kummers' comedies. Aside from this, however, his interpretation of the role is regarded as excellent, fast tempo and broad farce vein.

The subtlety of Petruchio, in taming the famed Katherine, is revealed, together with an enjoyable sort of slapstick farce. Mr. Hampden will present "The Shrew" on Tuesday night, following his opening with "Hamlet." On Wednesday "Romeo and Juliet" will be seen in the afternoon, and "The Merchant of Venice" at night will conclude his engagement.

FAMOUS SHAKESPEAREAN ACTOR IS COMING TO THE GRAND

Walter Hampden will appear in London at the Grand Opera House on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday next in such well-known roles as Romeo, Petruchio, Hamlet and Shylock.
The above cut shows Mr. Hampden as Romeo in "Romeo and Juliet."

WILL BE AT LOEW'S

Dorothy Dalton, who will be presented in "Behind Masks," her latest success, at Loew's Theatre Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week.

"BEHIND MASKS" THRILLING FILM

Wooed by fortune hunters, harassed by a cruel guardian, and then locked in a cave with the body of a supposed murdered man, and then an escape by diving into the sea, are some of the thrilling incidents which go to make the story of "Behind Masks," a new Paramount picture, in which Dorothy Dalton will be seen at Loew's Theatre next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

It is a splendid picturization of E. Phillips Oppenheim's novel, "Jeanne of the Marshes," by Kathryn Stuart. Miss Dalton's leading man is Fredrik Vogeding, who heads an excellent supporting company, including William P. Carleton, Julia Swayne Gordon, Kempton Greene, Lewis Broughton, Gladys Valerie and Alexander Kaufman.

In addition to this stirring picture, the program includes a Mack Sennett comedy, "Call a Cop"; Loew's screen pictorial, vaudeville and music from Loew's pipe organ and the orchestra under direction of Mr. Joseph Tirri.

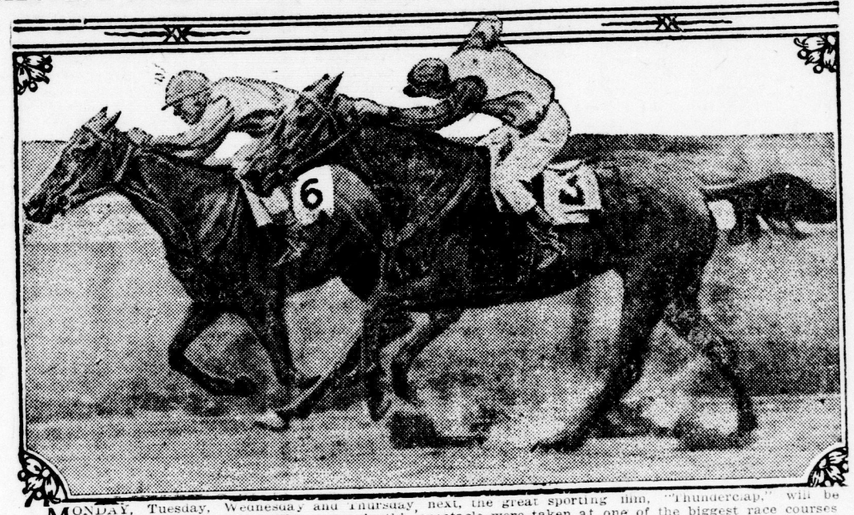

FEATURES SOME REAL BEAUTIES

LeComte and Flesher's successful musical comedy, "Some Girl," will be the attraction at the Grand Theatre on Thursday, Friday and Saturday next with an important cast of principals and a large chorus of beautiful girls.

In its brilliant score, written by Harry L. Alford, it boasts of twenty-four musical numbers, and no less than nine of these are recorded as "hits." These latter, already being heard all over the country, are "My Sunshine Lady," "I Miss You Honey, 'Deed I Do," "What's the Use of Lovin'," "Cupid's Sweets," "A Night at the Riviera," "Dixie Land Is Calling Me," "Love Needs Opposition," "A Song of Old Brittany," and the entrancing waltz song, "Love, You'll Be Mine."

The scenes are laid first in a picturesque fisher-village of old Brittany's coast, the famous "Riviera," playground of France, a Mexican Aztec village, the green room of the Winter Garden Theatre, and the final scene, the stage of that beautiful temple of gayety.

RACING SCENE IN PHOTODRAMA 'THUNDERCLAP'

MONDAY, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, next, the great sporting film, "Thunderclap," will be presented at the Allen. The scenes in this spectacle were taken at one of the biggest race courses in America. The finish of the racing scene is described by New York critics as being the most thrilling bit of animated photography ever presented on the screen.

Thunderclap is Big Spectacle

Allen Feature for First Four Days of Week Is Praised.

"Thunderclap," a photodrama replete with spectacular scenes, will be shown at the Allen Theatre on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week.

New York newspapers say that two of the most spectacular scenes ever registered on the screen take place in "Thunderclap." One is the hair-raising passage of the hero down a tempestuous rapids on the top of a board, and the other is the never-to-be-forgotten race scene.

The producer has taken it for granted that Canada is a country of sportsmen, and has given the public a screen story of the circle of society dependent upon games of chance for their amusement.

The greatest interest centers around the fashionable gambling house of Jamieson, where he has brought his convent-bred stepdaughter to act as hostess, while his paralyzed wife sits in her chair on the top floor of the establishment, unable to move her lips or her limbs.

Tommy, the hero, is a man of all work. It is Tommy who owns Thunderclap, the race horse. The happiness of all depends upon the winning of the great race by Thunderclap.

Then comes the race, which will be remembered by all who have seen it, not to mention the thrilling rapids scene. Mary Carr, the wonderful mother of "Over the Hill," heads the cast, and that alone is enough to make one anxious to see the picture.

"Thunderclap" is conceded by critics to be a drama of all time, rivaling such masterpieces as "Mickey," "Checkers" and "The Whip."

SHOWS RIDE ON RUNAWAY TRAIN

Lyman Howe's film novelty, "A Ride on a Runaway Train," will be shown on the big double program, in conjunction with the race-track drama, "Thunderclap," at the Allen the first four days of next week.

TOM MOORE IS SHOWN IN LATEST

"Here's $5,000 to establish yourself in a hick town. I want every man, woman and child in that town calling you "Honest" Tom Smith. At the expiration of one year I will come on to you and show you how to make a real killing." These are the conditions Tom Moore, known as "Fancy Charlie," must fulfill in his latest drama-comedy, "Beating the Game," the feature photoplay at the Allen Friday and Saturday next week.

One year passes and Lawson arrives in Flumfield. Charlie, who after living on the straight and narrow path for one year, decides to continue the honest life and offers to pay Lawson back his five thousand dollars.

He hears the people are going to run Charlie for mayor and demands his percentage of profits, telling him he had better run and be elected and come across or he will expose his past.

Charlie, aroused, goes to election headquarters with Lawson, mounts the platform, informs the people that before he came there he was a burglar. His confession is greeted with a mighty cheer, signalled for by Lawson, who in reality is a criminologist, a senator, and owns half of Flumfield. He had great faith in mankind and resolved to try the experiment, "Is there honesty among crooks." Charlie is amazed, but happy. A charming love story is interwoven into the plot that ranks Tom Moore's latest picture above any of his previous efforts.

In addition to "Beating the Game," will be shown another of Lloyd (Ham) Hamilton's screaming comedies, "The Simp," Allen world news, travelogue and a special musical program by Allen's concert orchestra.

Will Present Cohen Success

Majestic Players To Be Featured In "Seven Keys to Baldpate."

Once more have the William A. Grew players scored a success in a big way in their decision to produce all next week that melodramatic mystic farce-comedy with which the famous George M. Cohen made such a wonderful success, "Seven Keys to Baldpate."

This wonderful, gripping story requires an unusually large cast to produce. The Majestic management has decided to spare no expense whatever in bringing to the city a number of extra players, some of whom have delighted London audiences before.

Hundreds of thousands of people throughout Canada and the United States have read the story of "Seven Keys to Baldpate," and a big percentage of these people have seen the play, either when it was produced by George Cohen or on the silver screen. The story has caused more talk, relatively speaking, than any other of its kind ever written, and one of the reasons for it is the ingenuity of the author in building around a summer resort hotel, unoccupied in the dead of winter, a wonderful detective and ghost story.

Pay Day, because of the fact that it has added to the general get-together spirit of patrons of this theatre, and also because it produces considerable merriment, will be continued next week with the exception of Monday night, and on Monday night the practice of giving two seats for the price of one will be continued.

GERMAN PROSPERITY APPARENT ONLY ON SURFACE, STATES GIBBS

REPUBLIC KEEPS BOLD FRONT BY CHEAP EXPORTS

Labor Has Reached Lowest Point and Living Costs Are Increasing.

PRINT MARKS IN BALES

Signs of Coming Trouble Evident and Workers Beginning To Complain.

BY SIR PHILIP GIBBS.

[Special Cable to The Advertiser.]

Berlin, Oct. 21.—I am writing this article from Berlin, where a few months ago I met many prominent people who gave their views on Germany's chance of paying the indemnities to the Allies and regaining her prosperity. It may be remembered that those views were fairly hopeful, and I was personally impressed with the marvelous energy, industry, and organization of the German people and by the many signs of rapid recovery from the ruin of the war, despite the low wages paid the working folk and the poverty in the small homes.

If Germany succeeded in paying the indemnities by an enormous increase in export trade, it would be not only the greatest financial adventure ever attempted, but, in so far as she succeeded in this, she would destroy the world trade of Great Britain and the United States.

Since I wrote those words, Germany has paid her first big indemnity sum and has steadily undersold British and American goods in the Argentine and the Scandinavian countries. The effect of this has been observed by the contrast between Berlin and London, Germany and England, to say nothing of the United States.

London Classes Depressed.

In London, from which I have come here, there are unemployment processions, minor riots and a dreary sense of depression because of falling trade and the gradual falling back to a low standard of life among all classes. Wealthy people are selling their estates and motor cars because of the high taxation, while capital is crippled, business enterprises are stagnant and factories are closing down or working half time.

In Berlin and other cities of Germany, so far as I can find out, there is feverish activity and little unemployment, and a brisk, increasing business.

But the mark has dropped down to half its value from the time I was here before. Something is rotten in Germany's financial state, even though the Germans are capturing the world's markets.

Loose-minded visitors, seizing superficial impressions after a few days in Berlin, carry away a conviction that Germany is vastly prosperous in comparison with other European countries. Certainly many persons here are making quick and big profits. There is a great wealth in paper money among speculators and commercial agents. Magnificent motor cars pass unceasingly down the Unter den Linden. There is no lack of paper capital for commercial enterprises of every kind.

Looking into the shop windows and watching the people in the big hotels, I am certain that there is a great deal of luxury and wealth in Berlin, due to successful financial activity.

Other Side of Picture.

But I see the other side of the picture. I see a large number of men still wearing old field grey uniforms which have been converted into civil clothes after three years' of peace. I see working men who wear no shirts beneath their tunics. And I hear from many friends that the cost of living here is steadily mounting higher, while the value of the mark drops lower.

Why has Germany's mark dropped so low in spite of the booming trade? One reason is simple. To pay indemnities, Germany has had to buy foreign money, and, in so doing, the exchange immediately rises against her.

Another reason is that the increase in export trade at cut-throat prices is not sufficient to balance the increase in national expenditures.

Worst of all, in order to balance accounts, Germany makes up the difference by speeding up the printing presses for new issues of paper money. Every time that is done, the mark drops, and the cost of living rises in proportion, because the money will not buy so much.

Last week I mentioned the new agreement between Germany and France by which a part of the indemnity will be paid by Germany, not in money, but in material for reconstructing Northern France. That is good for France, because she will receive real wealth in solid things, instead of money, which is only a symbol of real things. This agreement will help make better relations between the two countries, and so promote peace in Europe to some extent, I believe. But it will not tend, I find, to stablize the value of the mark, for Germany will use her printing presses again to pay her own people for their labor and to pay manufacturers, with the inevitable consequence that a further depreciation in the mark will follow. This will mean trouble with the workers, who will find, as they are already finding, that their wages are worth less in purchasing power. They will demand more wages to keep pace with the rise in prices.

Sign of Coming Trouble.

The first sign of this new crisis is seen by the strike of waiters throughout Berlin. It has been an extraordinary experience for a city which is more dependent on its hotels and restaurants than London or New York. With a few exceptions like the Hotel Adlon, which immediately agreed to the new scale of wages demanded by the waiters, all these places were closed and picketed. I could not get a room in any hotel and am billeted for a small boarding-house, where I am charged eighty marks for a room. That is cheap for Berlin, but my landlord told me that before the war he charged only four marks for the same room. He explained to me with a great deal of detail regarding taxes and the cost of living that he was far better off when he charged four marks than now, when he charged eighty, and I believe him.

At the same time, the Germans have a great moral advantage over other people. Their defeat made every man among them expect a lower standard of living than before the war, whereas our victory made men expect a higher standard of living, which is impossible, owing to the loss of world wealth.

Again, the Germans lived the last year of the war in a state of hunger and privation, whereas the victorious people lived well as long as the war lasted. So that the Germans, comparing their present state, however much it pinches, with their war condition, find it the more tolerable.

It seems to be also that as a nation they get more enjoyment out of a meagre margin above the bare necessities of life than the English people do with a bigger margin. Their climate, gardens, cities, municipal theatres and opera houses enable them to get cheap pleasure. These things must be taken into account in the sum of life, but when that has been done, my reckoning of Germany is that her financial state is thoroughly unsound, and before long she will face a desperate financial crisis.

Ways To Avert Crisis.

There are ways in which she may partly avert this. One way is to increase the national revenue by an international loan and by taxation of the industrial profits of the big trusts. So far the state does not reap enough benefit from private wealth and the big industrials and export trade. Dr. Wirth, German chancellor, is endeavoring to arrange this by forming a coalition of all the parties in the state, with the support of industrial magnates like Hugo Stinnes and August Thyssen, for a higher basis of taxation.

Another method which Germany will be wise if she adopts is the imposition of export duties. Her underselling of all countries by the low value of the mark in foreign exchange will arouse a hostility of world traders and governments and will inevitably put up a barrier of traffic against her imports, in which case her commerce will be set back. Great Britain, for instance, is growing alarmed because German manufacturers are killing many of her markets. Germany needs the good will of the nations and cannot afford to risk a commercial boycott.

In any case, Germany will have an immense advantage over her commercial rivals, because her people are willing to endure a low range standard and a low scale of living, whereas the British and the Americans will struggle to preserve high wages until the general poverty of the world forces them back. There is a point, however, below which even German labor cannot exist, and that point has been reached.

Everywhere throughout Germany during the coming winter there will be a loud clamor by the workers for higher wages because of the falling mark and rising prices. All this prodigious activity and industry which one sees in Germany, and all the apparent prosperity, is based on the low, miserable condition of the working folk, on manipulation, on the Government printing presses inflating paper money and on the expert undercutting of other trades by a fictitious arithmetic.

It is not healthy nor real. If pursued on the same lines as now, it will lead to disaster not only to Germany herself, but to all other countries.

DEAD LETTER SOLVES ODD FRENCH SLAYING

Brother Hits On Way in Which Man Was Killed.

Paris, Oct. 21.—After eight months the mystery of an extremely brutal murder has been solved accidentally.

In April last year two fishermen found in the Seine at Bougival, near Paris, a British military sleeping bag and in it the headless and legless body of a man. All efforts to discover the identity of the victim failed and the case was forgotten.

Not long ago an insufficiently addressed letter from Switzerland was opened at the postoffice, so that it could be returned to the sender. The letter contained a newspaper clipping giving particulars of the case of a girl found in the Seine, and the writer expressed the wish that the police could find his brother, who had disappeared in April last year.

The letter was sent to the police, who communicated with the writer, a M. Jobin, and it soon became clear that the body found in the sleeping bag in the Seine nearly 18 months before was that of the missing brother, Gaston Jobin. Further investigations by the police resulted in the arrest of the widow of the murdered man and a man with whom she has been living at Toul.

It seems that Gaston Jobin, a man of about 40, had been for 20 years wine steward at a well-known hotel in the Boulevard des Capucines. After the war Jobin became friendly with a man named Charles Burger, and eventually invited him to lodge with him and his wife. Soon, however, the wife and the lodger became intimate.

Jobin had his suspicions and made violent scenes, but they were able to persuade him that he was mistaken. Then, it is said, they decided to get rid of him. First they sent an anonymous letter to the police, wrongly declaring that Jobin, who was a Swiss born in France, was a deserter from the army, and when this plan failed to get him out of the way failed, it is alleged that they killed the unfortunate man and cut up his body and threw it into the Seine.

Then the woman told the concierge that her husband was a deserter and had fled in fear to Switzerland, and no one bothered about the man's disappearance.

FIRE ON FREIGHTER STILL A MYSTERY

SARNIA, Oct. 21.—Tonight all that remains of what was once the freighter William H. Wolfe, is a charred mass of debris and a hull burned to the water's edge, where she lies on a shoal off Fawn Island opposite Sombra.

The origin of the fire that resulted in the death of Edward Henry of Detroit, first mate, and Anthony Smith, wheelsman of Ashland, Wis., is still shrouded in mystery. Officials, who today visited the scene of the wreck, said they were unable to ascertain how the fire started and gained such headway before it was discovered. Hundreds of residents in this vicinity have visited the wreck, which is about a mile below Marine City, near the Canadian side of the St. Clair River.

Search parties have been unable to find any trace of Mat Henry or Wheelsman Smith, and it is believed that the former's body was consumed in the flames, while the latter, who was drowned, may have been carried down the river by the strong current that runs in that spot.

Hyde Park

HYDE PARK, Oct. 21.—A delightful afternoon was spent at the Lobo Town Hall, Wednesday, Oct. 19, when the Lobo Women's Institute entertained the members of the Hyde Park Institute. As the guests arrived they were met by the president, Mrs. Steel, who gave a warm welcome to the members of the sister institute. Dahlias, asters and begonias were charmingly arrayed throughout the hall, and gave a summer-like appearance to the room.

After listening to a splendid program of songs, piano duets and readings, the singing of the National Anthem brought the meeting to a close, after which refreshments were served and a social hour spent.

* * *

The farmers in this district are getting anxious for the weather to clear so as to enable them to harvest their potatoes, mangels and other roots.

* * *

Mrs. S. Knapton will entertain the members of the Hyde Park Women's Institute, Oct. 26.

Hensall

HENSALL, Oct. 21.—A dance under the auspices of the Great War Veterans is to be held Friday evening in the town hall, for which fine music has been secured.

Members of the Choral Society, who are practicing "The Messiah," on invitation of the sister society of Exeter, who are also practicing that production, motored to Exeter Monday evening to join in practice, and at the close were entertained to lunch in the basement of St. James Streat Methodist Church.

STOUFFVILLE PLOWMAN WINS CHAMPIONSHIP

Records Made At Ontario Plowing Matches At Woodstock.

WOODSTOCK, Oct. 21. — William Timbers of Stouffville won the international plowing championship and the Cockshutt trophy at the Provincial Plowmen's Association matches, which were concluded here today. Mr. Timbers showed his class by also annexing the Royal Bank trophy for the best plowman who never before won money. This was Mr. Timbers' first year in Ontario plowing matches, although he has won prizes at county and township matches.

The concluding day of the plowing match and tractor demonstration proved to be another unqualified success. The day was an ideal one all through for spectators and plowmen and the crowd was estimated at from 20,000 to 25,000, with automobiles filling field after field in all directions within a radius of five miles of where the events were staged.

Tonight many of the competitiors, in congratulating the able secretary, Lockie Wilson, and the directors and members of the different committees, expressed the opinion that never before had the big event been such a success. The entries this year were three times those of any similar event ever held and the attendance for teh three days, roughly estimated at about 50,000, is a record for plowing matches.

"The greatest event of its kind ever held on the American continent," was the proud assertion of Lockie Wilson.

A Keen Contest.

The fight for the Cockshutt trophy, emblematic of the championship was very keen and the judges had a difficult task in deciding on whom to confer the honor. Last year's champion, Parker of Smithville, had to be content with fifth position in the race for the honors in the open events. But in all fairness it should be stated that he was unlucky in drawing, possibly, the worst piece of land of any of the contestants.

As on the previous day, great interest was shown today in the work of the tractors. Yesterday the Samson tractors, working on the stubble, were awarded the majority of the prizes. Today's results on the sod brought different awards and the Case machine came out on top.

The old-time wooden design of plow, drawn by a team of oxen, again proved a big attraction and wherever the oxen were plowing a large crowd looked on and at one time it seemed as if 1,000 people were all endeavoring to get a look at a sight that was a very common one half a century ago.

Prize Winners.

The winners in the different classes today were as follows: Class one, open to all—1, Clarke Young, Milliken; 2, Stanley Tindall, Richmond Hill; A. E. Pay, Niagara-On-the-Lake; 3, Fraik Laidlaw, Jarvis; S. Parker, Stouffville; P. Leslie Keen, Jarvis.

Class open to plowmen who have never won a prize in a previous Ontario match—1, William Timbers, Stouffville; 2, William Vansickle, Cainsville; 3, A. E. Kennedy, Agincourt; 4, John Ley, Beeton; 5, E. Obdiah, Ohsweken; 6, J. Hargrave, Ingersoll.

Boys under 18 years—Harold Cowie, Markham.

Oxford County boys under 18—George Miles, Norwich.

Indians only—1, George Garlow, Ohsweken; 2, Nicholas Plain, Corunna; 3, Joe Young, Christina; 4, Tom Brant, Deseronto; 5, Sam Thomas, Mimico.

Best crown in this event went to Harrison and Esson, Ohsweken, who had the best plowing, but finished seven minutes over the time limit.

Jointer plowers, 26 entries)—1, Ray White, Galt; 2, N G. McLeod, Galt; 3, Will Bergie, Bright; 4, D. Mitchell, Bright; 5, E. Deadman, Blair; 6, W. L. Clark, Agincourt.

Boys' jointer, 18 and under—1, William G. Hall, Ayr; 2, Oscar Tweedle, Vinemount; 3, Jack Moffatt, Ancaster; 4, D. Lillico, Bright; 5, Stanley Briggs, West Flamboro.

Best team and equipment—1, Louis Osborn, Woodstock; 2, James Innes, Woodstock; 3, J. A. Meadows, Embro.

Royal Bank Trophy, best Oxford County plowman—John Hargrave, Ingersoll.

Men, over 70 years—1, William Watkins, aged 73, St. Thomas; 2, William Johnston, aged 78, Galt.

Tractors, amateur tractors plowing in sod—High Ferguson, Dutton (Case); 2, C. W. Clubine, Oak Ridges (Samson); 3, Fred Yeoman, Agincourt (Case); 4, John R. McVicar, Alvinston (Samson); 5, Norman King, Churchill (Samson).

MISS S. W. HYNDMAN DIES.

PALMERSTON, Oct. 21.—One of Palmerston's most respected citizens died today in the person of Miss Sarah W. Hyndman, daughter of the late Hugh Hyndman of this place. Miss Hyndman had been ill in the General Hospital with pneumonia and was about to leave the hospital when she took a relapse, from which she failed to recover. She was born in Dalry, Ayrshire, Scotland, in 1864, and had been a resident of Palmerston for the past 50 years, part of which time she was engaged as teacher in the local public school.

PORT STANLEY MAN TO FACE THREE CHARGES

ST. THOMAS, Oct. 21.—Charged with perjury, arson and receiving money under false pretences, O. Hoshal, Port Stanley, was placed under arrest, and will come up for a hearing before County Magistrate Hunt Saturday morning. The auto of Mr. Hoshal was burned on the road east of Port Stanley some months ago, supposedly by incendiaries. Since then Mr. Hoshal is alleged to have attempted to collect $300 from one insurance company and $500 from another.

THE FALL WEATHER HARD ON LITTLE ONES

Canadian fall weather is extremely hard on little ones. One day it is warm and bright and the next wet and cold. These sudden changes bring on colds, cramps and colic, and unless baby's little stomach is kept right the result may be serious. There is nothing to equal Baby's Own Tablets in keeping the little ones well. They sweeten the stomach, regulate the bowels, break up colds and make baby thrive. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Tools of Health are —Food, Sunshine, Exercise and Rest

NATURE supplies these — but thousands of men and women, their bodies undermined by overwork and worry and illness, cannot restore the wasted tissues. The body must have its proper supply of Iron, Calcium, Potassium, Sodium, Phosphorus.

In almost every case of Weakness, Anaemia, Nervousness and Run Down Vitality, there is a shortage of these mineral salts. But WINCARNIS contains them in proper scientific proportions, and therefore supplies the body with just what it lacks. WINCARNIS is more than a Tonic—it is a Restorative—a Blood Maker and a Nerve Food all in one health-giving medicine.

So that if you are not in tip-top health with abundant spirits—if you are weak and ailing in any way—try WINCARNIS and get its benefits. Right from the first dose you can feel it doing you good—you can feel your system begin to be surcharged with new vitality and new life.

Remember WINCARNIS is tried and true and is recommended by thousands of physicians.

YOU try it. Buy a bottle to-day. At all druggists.

Price $1.50 for 16-oz. bottle.

The Economy of Wincarnis

The ingredients in Wincarnis are highly concentrated. The prescribed dose is one to two tablespoonfuls, (not wineglassfuls as in the former preparation.) The New Wincarnis, therefore, will go further, and be found more economical than other tonics, so-called, requiring a much larger dose.

HOW I EARN MONEY AT HOME

AND IN THIS WAY MAKE UP FOR HENRY'S SHRINKING SALARY

Every Wife or Self-Supporting Girl Can Use Extra Money for Clothes. Thousands Are Now Making It Themselves — Right at Home — In This New Way

By MARY WALDEN

"MY dear, you should have seen her at church this morning. She looked positively 'dowdy.' It's a shame! Mary used to be such a well-dressed girl until she married that bank-clerk. I should think he'd feel like—"

"Sh-h-h! She's on this car. Over behind you. She might hear."

The street car was crowded and they hadn't noticed me before, but I had heard and my face flushed red with resentment and shame. It was true—I did look "dowdy"—and I knew it. There is nothing quite so depressing to a woman as an old hat and old clothes on a bright Sunday morning in Springtime.

I got off the street car at the next corner and walked the remaining blocks to my home—and Henry. My cup of bitterness had spilled over, and I needed a few minutes to choke back the tears that wanted to run down my burning cheeks.

"It helped us over the hard spots by turning spare hours into dollars"

I didn't want to make Henry feel worse then he did already about our money situation. My husband is one of the "white-collar men" whose salaries haven't kept pace with the mounting cost of living. I had been a private secretary, earning a comfortable living for myself, when we had married, and since the cost of everything had kept rising higher and higher I had sometimes hinted to Henry that I would be glad to take a position again, but he had always vetoed the idea stremuously. Henry was "old-fashioned," and proud. His wife should never have to "go to work""—so I had gone on skimping and scraping—and wearing "made-overs."

But the bitter experience of this Sunday morning was too much. I resolved as I walked homeward, that, Henry or no Henry, I was going to find a way to make extra money for clothes, and do it, at least until things took a turn for the better.

When I got home I was prepared to be cheerful as usual, but Henry was comfortably smoking and absorbed in his Sunday paper, and his contentment somehow irritated me terribly. To make matters worse he held up the magazine picture section of the paper as I came into the room, and remarked that he had never seen the girls wear "such good-looking duds as they do this year."

Henry is really a perfect dear and adores me, but he should have had more sense. He sometimes shows no more comprehension of a woman's pride than a care free Airedale puppy. I lost my temper, snatched the paper from him, and cried:

"If you like to see nice clothes so much, why don't you buy your wife some of them?"

Then I rushed to my room, still carrying the Magazine Section of the paper, shut the door, and threw myself across the bed for a good cry. Henry came and knocked and spoke to me, but I wouldn't let him in.

After a while I sat up and idly began to turn the pages of the paper I had taken away from Henry. All of a sudden I sat up straighter and gasped. A woman was looking out of the page at me, holding a bank cheque in her hand, and across the top of the page were the words, "How I Make Money—Right at Home!"

I devoured every word of the advertisement. When I had finished I felt that I had found the work I was looking for. I resolved to write for the particulars, but to keep it a secret from my husband. After a while I went out and made up with him, got dinner ready, and we had a happy afternoon together. That night I mailed the coupon from the advertisement to the Auto Knitter Hosiery Company.

To make my story short, I found their prospectus so convincing and reasonable that I sent for and received an Auto Knitting outfit, including the wonderful little machine, the Auto Knitter.

I kept the machine in the bottom drawer of my bureau while Henry was in the house. While he was at the bank I used it every minute I could spare from my housework. At the end of a month I sent my first shipment of soft, warm, well knit wool socks to the company. By return mail came my first cheque—and oh joy! the thrill of the sight of that first cheque.

Well, I kept on making socks, sending regular shipments to the company, and before very long I presented myself before Henry in the pretty new accordion-pleated frock that I had seen in Taylor and Park's sale announcement in the papers.

His mouth opened and he just stared at me in admiration, without a word. Finally he managed to say:

"Where did you get it, Mary?"

"I earned it!" I replied brightly, not sure just how he would take the news.

Henry looked for a minute as if I had said I had stolen it. Then I made him sit down and hear what I had to say.

"Now listen, dear," I said, gently but firmly, "don't you think it is perfectly ridiculous for us to pretend that you earn enough money—just now? You will, of course, in time—but while things are so expensive, and your salary doesn't keep pace, isn't it fine that I can make this money for the clothes I need, and the little pleasures and necessities we couldn't afford otherwise?"

Then I made my final attack upon Henry's old-fashioned idea that "my wife doesn't have to work."

"You know as well as I do," I said, "that it is the middle class people who are having the struggle nowadays. Everybody knows it. Look at the married women who have taken business positions to help out their husbands! Nobody thinks the worse of them for it. Isn't my plan for making money in spare time at home, without neglecting you or little Helen, better than taking a position? Why, nobody needs to know a thing about it!"

That fetched Henry, as I was sure it would. He said:

"Well, you've been a 'contrary Mary'—but I guess you're right. Let's see how you do it?"

So I took the light, portable Auto Knitter out of the bureau drawer, quickly clamped it to the table, and showed Henry how it worked. I had had enough practice by that time so that I made a pair of socks so quick that Henry's eyes nearly popped out of his head.

"And you say the Auto Knitter Hosiery Company buys the socks from you?" he asked.

"Yes," I said, "they guarantee to always take every standard pair I make at a guaranteed price. And they pay the transportation charges on ten dozen pairs or over, besides sending me the yarn to replace the amount used for the socks I have sent them. So you see the yarn hasn't cost me anything since the first lot."

Henry was certainly astonished, and when he saw how fascinating the work was he said he had no objection to my continuing it. So I kept on Auto Knitting, sending the socks I made to the Auto Knitter Company and getting my cheques back promptly for every shipment.

The result was that I didn't have to go without any of the things I needed for myself or little Helen last Fall and Winter, and the Auto Knitter again helped to solve the clothes problem the following Spring and Summer.

All this without being obliged to touch a cent of what I call "the family money"—the money that Henry makes. He is succeeding much better now, but I still use the Auto Knitter regularly—sometimes making socks to send to Toronto, sometimes making them to sell to friends who have seen the strong, warm, long wearing Auto Knitter Hosiery and want some of it, and sometimes to make warm little knitted things for my little girl to wear.

A few evenings ago little Helen was riding on Henry's foot and she asked him to sing "a tune" for her, so he made this up, while he looked teasingly at me:

"Mary, Mary, quite contrary,
How does your income grow?
By Auto Knitting hosiery,
And woolen socks all in a row!"

Henry hasn't forgotten that I took up Auto Knitting without asking his advice, but he is glad now that I did, for it helped us over the hard spots by turning spare hours into dollars.

Whenever I hear a woman complaining about the high cost of living and clothes, I always try to tell her how the Auto Knitter Company, an old, firmly established Canadian-corporation, has an enormous market for good, honest, old-time wool socks, made by hand on the Auto Knitters of their home workers. Then I tell her, just as I am telling you, that the Auto Knitter Company will make a contract with each owner of a machine to pay her a liberal, guaranteed wage, on a piece-work basis.

This contract leaves you perfectly free—you can work for them as much as you want, or as little—spare time or full time—or not at all—yet for every shipment of socks you send them you get your cheque—promptly.

You are, of course, at liberty to dispose of the output of your Auto Knitter as you see fit, and you can also use the Auto Knitter to make, at a remarkably low cost, all the hosiery your family needs.

But remember this: There are absolutely no strings tied to the Wage Agreement; it is a straight out-and-out agreement to pay you a Fixed Wage on a piece-work basis—a good return for your services.

No matter where you live I feel sure that you want to know all about the machine that has meant so much to me. By all means write to the Auto Knitter (Canada) Company, Dept. 7610, 1870 Davenport Road, West Toronto, at once and find out about the pleasant occupation waiting for you—Auto Knitting. Find out what substantial amounts even a part of your spare time will earn for you.

I can never be thankful enough that I didn't put off writing for information about it that Sunday evening when I took the paper away from Henry, and opened it later at the Auto Knitter advertisement.

You will never regret writing for it, either. Send your name and address now and find out all the good things that are in store for you.

Christmas Shoppers On Partial Payment Plan Have a Week Left

Number of Pay Envelopes That Will Be Forthcoming Is Weekly Being Reduced—Merchants Find Scheme Taking Fairly Well.

NINE weekly pay envelopes are to be forthcoming before Christmas, which means that a purchaser during the next week on the Christmas payment plan can divide the cost of a present into nine equal payments after putting down the initial one.

This is a remarkable opportunity, a blessing which the merchants of London are extending to their customers. It is particularly acceptable in these days of money scarcity. A person can go into a store today, buy all the presents wanted, for a small payment down, and then split the remaining balance into as many payments as desired, and the merchant will hold the goods for them.

This plan of Christmas shopping is taking quite a hold in the city, according to one merchant. He says that during the past week he has sold several young women fairly good lists of presents, which he has stowed away, awaiting their pleasure. He told them that they could make the payments to suit themselves, though all declared they would pay a stated amount each week, with a view of wiping the total off by Christmas.

The scheme has another advantage. There is an old adage that the early bird catches the worm. In this case the early buyer gets the first choice, and the cream of the merchant's stock, before it is pawed over by everyone.

Most of the merchants are now placing their Christmas stock on the shelves, and the next couple of weeks will see this task completed. This means that the prices of Christmas week goods will be marked immediately, so that in this regard there is no advantage in waiting.

The most prolific shoppers around Christmas time are the young women. Not infrequently they leave considerable of their buying off until the last couple of nights of the Christmas shopping week.

Here they have a chance to not only benefit themselves, but to also help out the girls of their own age, the clerks, who are as entitled as they are to a pleasant Christmas, and whose Christmas days of the past have been marred by overwork due to the last-minute rush. By buying on the Christmas payment plan they just relieve the Christmas week rush of so much less business.

One shopper or two will make no material difference, but if the movement for partial payment buying of Christmas shopping continues to spread, the old cry of "Do your Christmas shopping early" will not have to be sent out by the merchants and clerks of the future.

Of course, the merchants are helping along the movement. They can see its advantages. They make some excellent early sales. They get in considerable money well before Christmas, and are thus able to better finances.

The partial payment plan for Christmas shopping, then, is an advantage to the buyer, to the clerk that sells, and to the merchant for whom the clerk sells.

...ot All Remorse in Germany Since Monarchy Has Departed

People as a Whole Have Attitude of Making Best of a Bad Situation Despite Poor Conditions.

New York, Oct. 21.—He who knowing only pre-war Germany now stands for the first time since pre-war times before William Hohenzollern's empty Berlin palace, before the empty palaces of the rest of the Hohenzollerns, before the vast empty barracks which used to house thousands of goose-steppers, has an exceedingly difficult time trying to grasp the fact that the system of which these things were the outward and visible sign has, indeed, been overturned, says a writer in the New York Times. "A republic without republicans," was the description given by some writer recently of the new Germany. The returned foreign visitor, who knew only Hohenzollern Germany, wandering like a Rip Van Winkle through the Berlin of 1921, at first emphatically indorses that description. He buttonholes those who have been in Berlin for a while, and pathetically begs for enlightenment. "Is there really a republican around here" he asks, fuly expecting some such answer as: "Heavens, no! Germany is a monarchy — the monarch has simply stepped out to lunch!"

But soon it begins to dawn upon him that the new German republic is not so lightly to be dismissed.

It is not so much what that republic is as what it is not that mainly interests a great number of Germans just now; on account of what it is not they are supporting it despite all sorts of party differences, and unless signs are deceiving they will continue to support it sufficiently to bring discomfiture to the foes who are plotting its overthrow.

Lacks Real Democracy.

In a word, Germans support the regime of Ebert and Wirth not so much because it is a republic as because it is not a monarchy. They have little or no conception of real democracy. But they do know something about a monarchial form of government; they have suffered a terrible disillusionment concerning it, and they don't want anything more to do with it, at least while their present mood lasts.

Yes, Germany today presents the strange spectacle of a nation which offsets its lack of true republicanism by having an extremely lively case of anti-monarchism. The German just now is like a man who buys himself a dog not because he likes dogs, but because he is afraid of burglars. And that is why you feel after you have been in Berlin a while, that the republic which has its seat there, despite its essentially un-German character, has come to stay. It may get some rude knocks; it may have to fight for its life again as it did against Liebknecht and Knapp; it may almost "take the count"—but, you say to yourself, it has come to stay, Germans of the kind that only yesterday could not conceive of a Germany without emperor, kinglets and princelings, are today dead against the whole imperial and royal tribe. Monarchy promised them glory and power and world dominion; it sent them goose-stepping into the most terrible war of history; it hurled them by the hundreds of thousands to death or mutilation, and then — it went and lost the war! That is the crime which the German people cannot forgive. "The king is dead — long live the republic!"

Wirth Faces a Crisis.

But in spite of the support which the present republican regime finds on account of this angry disillusionment felt by great numbers of Germans, the fact remains that the German ship of state is perilously close to the rocks again. As th eday draws near when Chancellor Wirth is to submit to the Reichstag his new program of taxation, by which it is designed to place colossal burdens upon the German people as a means of continuing payment of the war indemnity, the snarling of the republic's enemies grows louder and uglier, the prophecies of what is going to happen to Wirth and his colleagues if they try to jam through that taxation scheme of theirs becomes every day more ominous.

The dilemma of Wirth and the rest of the republican leaders of Germany would be bad enough if it were merely the sequence of ordinary party politics. German party politics, as any observer knows, are enough to turn the hair grey and the brain soft overnight! But this time there is something more than a tempest in a teapot; for, in the background, animated with a new-born confidence, lusting for a new trial of strength with the forces of democracy, is the sinister figure of German monarchism.

The German monarchists are fishing in troubled waters—with a vengeance! They chuckle with glee at thoughts of the crisis which confronts the Wirth Government. From that crisis, they feel, goodly profit may accrue to their cause. In the belief that the taxation program will end the Wirth regime and that its downfall will mean the advent to power of a government avowedly opposed to fulfilling the terms of the treaty of Versailles and paying the indemnity. Junkers are rattling the Prussian sabre again as it has not been rattled since the ignominous sheathing three years ago. "After the fall of the republic the restoration of the monarchy—after the restoration of the monarchy the holy war of revenge against France!"—already that line of thought is being indulged in by Prussian fire-eaters, stiff-necked irreconcilables, within whose bosoms the daily sight of republican Germany has engendered a perfectly stupendous grouch. Ludendorff sits behind the scenes—watching, waiting, plotting. Ostensibly innocent meetings are made the occasion for monarchical demonstrations. A Prince of the Hohenzollern blood again reviews crack regiments of the old German army; again the thud of the goose-step is heard in the land.

Republicans Still Powerful.

But it looks very much as if the German reactionaries had seriously underestimated the strength and temper of the elements arrayed against them.

They reject the evidence of the acute case of anti-monarchism which now affects Germany. They do not see that Germans like the republic primarily because it is keeping some prince or other from climbing nimbly upon the German throne, and getting the German people into another peck of trouble. In the expressive slang, most Germans are "off kings"—but the German monarchists don't realize it.

In addition to hoping much from the inherently non-republican nature of the German people, the monarchists are also banking strongly on the rage that will possess the average German when he realizes what the Wirth program of taxation is going to mean to him. The German monarchists are constantly proclaiming that Germany cannot possibly pay what is demanded of her by the Entente nations. "Now, if we were in power in Germany," runs their siren song to the German people, "we should not impose upon you ruinous taxes as a means of paying the crushing sums demanded by your enemies. Allow us to get hold of the Government, and we shall lose no time in freeing you from the intolerable yoke which German republicans have riveted around your necks because they had not the courage to defy the Allies."

The monarchists argue that the Entente could notp ossibly make Germany pay up if she once definitely refused to do so and defied the victors of the war to come and do their worst. "Suppose the Entente blockades Germany," they say, "what of it? We endured one blockade; we can endure another. If we say no, and show that we mean it, no power on earth can force us to pay."

But the German people have dreadful memories of the blockade. They don't want any more of that sort of thing. They are eating real food again, and they find it many times better than those "Ersatz" messes which they used to force down their gullets when the blockade was on. It is extremely unlikely that they will follow the extreme reactionaries along any road which will bring them to such a pass again.

Nevertheless the reactionaries keep on noping and plotting.

Erzberger Murder a Boomerang.

The murder of Erzberger was a setback for the extreme reactionaries. Proving, as it did, to what lengths the foes of the German republic were willing to go in achieving their ends, it had the effect of rallying all the friends of the republic behind President Ebert and Chancellor Wirth. Erzberger, of all men, exemplified the thingsw hich are anathema to the German monarchist. He signed the armistice terms; he preached the necessity of meeting the demands of the Entente; he was largely responsible for the program of taxation which may bring the downfall of the Wirth Government.

His murder was a brutal challenge to the German republic. And its effect has been somewhat that of a boomerang. The reactionaries have had to "pussy-foot" a bit since that bloody deed. But they will soon be on the warpath again, say canny prophets, as arrogant and hopeful as ever. In Bavaria they are already gathering.

There is a belief here that the monarchists will try some sort of coup before long, and that it will be more carefully prepared than the Kapp "Putsch," which came to such an ignominous end early last year. And there is a feeling that one of the prime movers in whatever action of this kind the reactionaries may take will be Ludendorff. Now that the war is over it is becoming increasingly clear what tremendous power he wielded during the struggle; it is becoming apparent how emphatically Ludendorff and not William Hohenzollern was the true ruler of Germany, an autocrat such as no Prussian monarch had ever dreamed of being. What more natural than that one of his imperious and dominating stamp should like to recover the power which the collapse of the empire snatched from his hands?

All of which only makes the anti-monarchists the more determined to keep Germany a republic. Monarchy, with a Ludendorff the real power behind the throne, would be the realization of their most terrifying nightmare.

The New Way to End Corns

The Scientific Method Easy, Gentle, Quick and Sure

A famous chemist, some years ago, discovered a way to end corns. A surgical dressing house of world-wide repute adopted and produced it.

Millions of people use this instant relief and quickly rid themselves of throbbing corns.

The method is Blue-jay—liquid or plaster. One applies it by a touch. The pain stops instantly, and the whole corn quickly loosens and comes out.

Old, harsh methods are supplanted by it. So with corn pads, so with paring. All such ways are folly.

Try Blue-jay on one corn now and see. You will be delighted.

MOTHER!

Open Child's Bowels with "California Fig Syrup"

Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup." If the little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic, a teaspoonful will never fail to open the bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation poison, sour bile and waste from the tender, little bowels and gives you a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.

2 WITNESSES DENY SIGNED STATEMENTS

O. T. A. Charge Against Preston Woman Withdrawn.

GALT, Oct. 21.—An interesting case was heard in the local police court today. Inspector Zinkann of Kitchener had laid a charge of selling liquor against a foreign woman of Preston, and subpoenaed three witnesses, two of whom, T. S. Yallop and C. Parr of Hespeler, signed statements that they had purchased liquor at 25 cents a drink, but when called to the witness box today by N. Jeffery, K.C., special prosecutor, both men positively denied their signed statements, declaring that they did not know the woman nor did they get liquor from her.

The charge was withdrawn, but on the instructions of Mr. Jeffrey, Yallop and Parr were immediately arrested, charged with consuming liquor in a place other than a private dwelling. They pleaded guilty and were remanded for sentence until Oct. 31. Yallop got out on $1,000 bail and Parr was taken to Kitchener.

TWO HARROW RESIDENTS DIE.

Harrow, Oct. 21.—Andrew Wright, tax collector of the village and township, died just after midnight Tuesday. He was taken ill with pneumonia only six days ago, and for a while it looked as though he would pull through, but a weakness of the heart brought about a fatal termination. He had been a familiar figure in Harrow for the last twenty years, when he retired from his farm in the Iler Settlement. He was 68 years old the day he died, and is survived by his widow and one daughter.

Mrs. Whaley (nee Cora McCormick) died at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening. She is survived by her husband and babe, one day old.

CRERAR REFUTES CHARGES OF HON. ARTHUR MEIGHEN

Says Government Seekers Conduct Campaign of Misrepresentation.

REFERS TO GRAIN QUIZ

Asserts That Dividends Amounted To Over $10,000,000.

WALKERTON, Ont., Oct. 21.—(By Canadian Press Staff Correspondent.)—Again tonight, Hon. T. A. Crerar, leader of the National Progressives, contributed to the long-range debate between the prime minister and himself. The question at issue was the halted inquiry into the grain trade, and, especially, references made thereto by Mr. Meighen at Sarnia.

Government speakers, Mr. Crerar accused, were engaging in a "campaign of misrepresentation," and, in passing, Mr. Crerar took occasion to put a few questions in regard to the voluntary wheat pool, formation of which, if he were returned to power, was indicated by Mr. Meighen in his opening speech at Portage la Prairie. If in a wheat pool, Mr. Crerar queried, why should the Government not go into the business of marketing cattle? Why should it not furnish farm implements or find a market for Ontario cheese? There should, Mr. Crerar urged, be a definite pronouncement whether or not the business of marketing was to be a permanent feature of Government policy.

Hard-Fought Battle.

The hard-fought battle for Ontario is entailing some hard campaigning on the part of the Progressive leader. Tonight's meeting followed an address to a large gathering of North Wellington electors in Mount Forest, and as on the previous day, a hurried ride of over thirty miles by automobile. At all his meetings he was given an attentive hearing.

Grain Growers' Dividends.

On the question of the grain inquiry, Mr. Crerar took up first his own position as president of the United Grain Growers. "I have been represented," he said, "as a person associated with 'big business,' and as a dangerous character who has curbed and shut up an inquiry." As a shareholder of the United Grain Growers, Mr. Crerar said, his dividends last year amounted to $10, for the limit of shares which any individual might hold was $1,000, and his own holdings were considerably under the limit.

Mr. Crerar sketched the history of the grain inquiry, asserting that when the commission was appointed it was recognized by all observant people as having been appointed for political purposes.

Secret Hearing.

Proceeding, he observed that when the board first met in Winnipeg the announcement was made that if any charge were made, full opportunity would be given to state a defence. That was in accordance with the practice of British justice. But what happened? Without any notification having been given—although the offices of the United Grain Growers were within a stone's throw of those of the grain commission—a secret hearing was arranged in Fort William on June 4. It was not held by the commissioners themselves, but by the secretary of the commission, and legal advisers had given the opinion that the whole proceedings were illegal. At this secret hearing the evidence was taken of a man who had been dismissed from the service of the United Grain Growers eight years before for irregularities. His evidence prejudiced the position of the United Grain Growers, but the company was not given an opportunity to put in a defence. The statements made by the witness had since been examined and found to be false.

"I should not have brought this matter up," said Mr. Crerar," had not Mr. Meighen referred to it at Sarnia last night. He said that I had shut off the grain inquiry, and left the impression that I had something to hide."

FEARS CHINA AS NATION CANNOT LONG SURVIVE

Simms Declares Only Hope Lies in United Action of Great Nations.

PERILS ATTEND SOLUTION

World Powers May Take Advantage of Republic's Helplessness.

William Philip Simms, famous English correspondent, who has spent many months in China, Japan and the Philippines, studying Pacific and Oriental problems, has just returned to America to attend the disarmament conference. No man at the conference will be so well equipped to report and interpret its deliberations and decisions as Will Simms, whose articles will appear in The London Advertiser.

BY WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS.
(Copyright by The London Advertiser and N. E. A.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—If China as a nation is not to disappear from the face of the earth, some form of international control must be placed over her essential affairs—particularly her finances.

This, in a blunt sentence, sums up my most outstanding impression after months of research in the Oriental republic; and, in its nakedness, it states one of the most terrifying political situations called to public attention within a generation.

W. P. SIMMS.

It is terrifying because it suggests a state of affairs out of which might easily spring events which would lead to the destruction of the remaining vestige of civilization left after the last war.

Unless the Pacific conference which begins Nov. 11 can discover a way to unite the powers on a plan for the rescue of China—perhaps against the desire of many, if not most, of her own politicians—only by a miracle can disaster be averted.

And the unification of the powers on the China question will not be easy.

All the great powers do not want a strong, progressive China. Some of them see their great opportunity in her utter helplessness.

Adds to Difficulties.

China herself will add to the difficulty. Probably the majority of her politicians oppose foreign supervision over any of her affairs; some of them because of a highly sensitive national pride, the rest because they know the time such supervision begins, the day ends when they can plunder the country to feather their own nests.

Yet, for the sake of the peace of the world, the job must be done, difficult and dangerous though it will be.

Just Like Orphan Alice.

By international control I do not mean the "internationalization of China." To the contrary. It is to the everlasting interest of all concerned that the sovereignty of China should be restored and then respected.

Today China's so-called "sovereignty" is a mockery. She is just about as "sovereign" as little Alice, homeless match-girl of the city streets, naively wondering where her next meal is coming from, uncertain of the future, at the mercy of an unscrupulous world, a danger to herself and to society.

China needs a guardian and, like Orphan Alice, is bound to find one. Either a stronger influence will pick her up and make her its plaything, or some disinterested group must guide her footsteps until she is in a position to take care of herself.

Grafters Loot Country.

Among China's 400,000,000 people, two small groups will be found to oppose any form of control over any of the country's affairs.

The first group is the grafters; the second, a section of the educated classes.

The masses—about 390,000,000 strong—if uninfluenced by either of the two groups, would welcome anything which would better their present beast-of-burden lot.

There is scarcely a province in China which has not its grafting tuchun, or military governor, a little king and war-lord, and a law unto himself. Backed by his own personal army, he defies all comers, including Peking.

Gen. Wang Chan-yuan, one such tuchun, recently depsed by his own subjects, is reported to have carried off with him between $10,000,000 and $16,000,000 of the people's money and is now living in peaceful retirement.

Graft Is Unbridled.

There are 22 tuchun in China. Some nineteen or twenty of them are Wangs.

Under the tuchuns are the minor grafters, clear down to the coolies who scrub the yamen floors.

There is graft at Peking. There is graft all over China, in public and in private enterprise.

At my hotel in Peking a peddler came up to my room to sell some trinkets. He confessed he had to pay "squeeze" to the head porter at the door and to the hallboys on my floor. If he did not come through, he said, he could never enter that hotel again. He was not lying, either.

No grocer or butcher can long do business with a household unless every servant in that household is given his bit of graft, or "squeeze."

Try, if you dare, to buck the game!

Graft, in high places and low, rides China like a Little Old Man of the Sea. Educated Chinese recognize this, but, unaided, it would take them a hundred years to rid China of it.

Oppose Improved Order.

The republic is in no wise responsible for this. Graft was handed down to the republic from the dragon throne.

So grafters will oppose any move to restore order in China. They will fight any move to place effective control over the collection or distribution of public money.

The other group of Chinese who resent "foreign interference," do so from purely patriotic motives. It hurts their pride as Chinese. They think China "loses face" every time a foreigner is employed to set things to rights, and preservation of "face" in China, not self-preservation, is the first law.

China Faces Extinction.

Many returned students sincerely believe nearly all China's ills come through "foreign interference."

This is undoubtedly partly true, but today, whoever is to blame, foreigners, Chinese, or both, the country is facing extinction.

China must have help from the outside, or go under.

China is now but an agglomeration of autonomous provinces, virtually bankrupt, unable to pay her soldiers, sailors, officials or school teachers.

Only by raking and scraping and resorting to unusual measures can the expenses of her delegation to the Pacific conference be met.

With any kind of management, China, reorganized and put on a sound financial basis, would be one of the richest nations on earth.

War Is Alternative.

But first her rabble armies must be disbanded; her grafting tuchuns and other "squeeze" artists, eradicated; her tax and customs collections reformed, and the vitals of her administration renovated, all under competent supervision, before that can be.

The powers — including China — at Washington must find a way to help China out of the hole.

The big Pacific powers must evolve a general constructive China policy and agree to watch each other to see that this policy is lived up to, both in letter and in spirit.

China, on her part, must not allow false pride to stand in the way of taking hold of the outstretched hand.

If these things can not be done, then there will be no limitation of armaments and war will step in and finish the job.

FOSTER URGES STUDENT INTEREST IN POLITICS

Addresses Large Gathering at University of Toronto.

TORONTO, Oct. 21.—Sir George E. Foster, addressing a large body of students of the University of Toronto in Hart House today, said he appeared before the students as a politician, not as a partisan, there being a great difference between the two. The term "politician" had come to be one of opprobrium, he said, yet the term "politics" in its genesis and best sense is a synonym for all that is finest in human enterprises and activity."

Sir George urged the students to take an interest in public affairs, but deplored the strife of political parties.

"The older I grow," he said, "the more I realize that lack of co-operation between our political parties is reacting upon Canadian life socially, morally and spiritually in a hurtful manner."

Sir George urged those of the students who had votes "to utilize them as wisely as possible," and added: "No one can go through life these days without taking some interest in public life and activities You cannot afford to ignore public opinion."

The students gave Sir George Foster a hearty reception.

Music Winning Its Rightful Place in Homes of Dominion

Molds Character of Children in a Manner That Brings Joy To Hearts of Parents.

More and more each year Canadians are beginning to realize the value of music in the home. And as the love for music is inculcated in the family group, so is it strengthening its place in the heart of the nation.

In the 19th century one would not find music in the home unless some member of the family had a special aptitude for music or had been fortunate enough to take lessons. Among the older members of the household in that period of the world's history the accordion and the organ were the favorites, while children were beginning to develop a liking for the piano.

Today, although the accordion and the organ have to a large extent been supplanted by the piano, which in turn has to compete with the phonograph, music is securing a firmer foothold in the home, and the dream of community sing-song promoters and others to educate every Canadian to appreciate music is gradually shaping into a reality.

Through the phonograph, father, mother sister and brother are able to sit in front of the hearth during the cold winter evenings or on the veranda when the summer heat drives them outdoors and hear their favorite artists, orchestra and bands.

When the tired businessman comes home his nerves are quieted by a soothing waltz or the voice of a noted tenor. And so music is an aid in keeping the home life harmonious and comparatively free from the petty frictions that arise in the best of families.

The children too, especially those in their 'teens, are affected, for if none of them are able to play the piano, they have friends who can. Thus little home gatherings result, and the social life of the child is all that is to be desired. Occasionally a score or more of neighbors and friends assemble for a house party and a dance, and in time the children come to prefer an evening at home to one in public. Their whole character is being molded in such a way as to delight their parents.

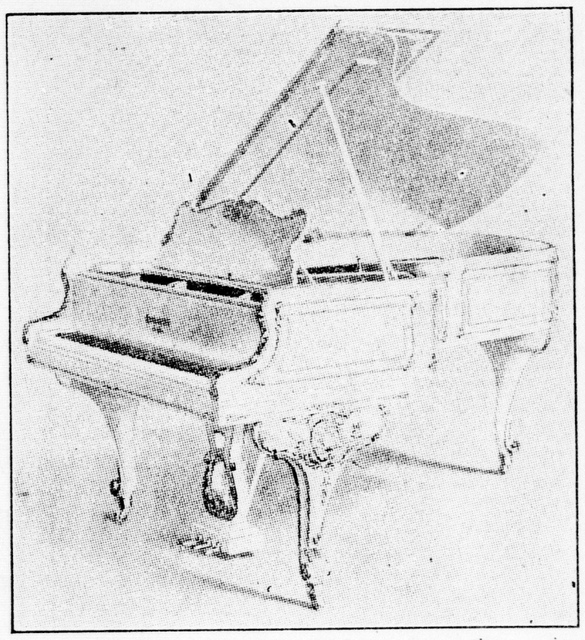

During the few years that a serious attempt has been made to spread musical culture in the Dominion, an increased interest in music has been seen. Amateur orchestra are being formed every day, and the playing of every variety of string and horn instruments is receiving more study.

The piano, however, is not being neglected, for it has been found that annually the percentage of the population who are mastering this favorite instrument is becoming greater.

This interest, together with the added attention being given music in the public schools, will be the means of bringing to light many children who with a little coaching would develop into noted singers and instrumentalists. In short, the promotion of an interest for music in the home will prove the surest way of gaining for Canada a prominent position in the musical world.

MADAME TETRAZZINI'S HEINTZMAN GRAND

The Grand Piano, Illustrated Here, Made Specially for Madame Tetrazzini, Is, Perhaps, the Most Beautiful Piano Built In Any Piano Factory Anywhere.

Traveling the world over and using the pianos of the world's greatest makers, when it came to ordering a piano for her own use in her castle in Rome, Tetrazzini's choice was a Heintzman & Co. Grand. This piano is in Florentine design, ivory white, the carved legs and moldings being tipped and finished in gold.

Madame Tetrazzini herself made a draft design of what she desired, everything to be in keeping with the furnishings and finishings of her own beautiful Italian home.

Many will remember the great ovation rendered Tetrazzini on her last visit to Toronto, when Massey Hall was crowded to fullest capacity. A Heintzman & Co. Grand was used then, as on the occasion if her previous tours in Canada.

It has taken nearly a year to make Madame Tetrazzini's piano, at a cost of $3,000. The order is an unmistakable compliment to this Canadian-made Heintzman & Co. piano.

Caruso, Melba, De Pachman and many great word artists have made a Heintzman & Co. piano their choice when visiting Canada.

The Piano of royalty—used by King George and Queen Mary and the Prince of Wales when visiting the Dominion.

The Heintzman & Co. Grand, made by Ye Olde Firme, is a very different piano to any other piano made. Those looking for the best in a piano will, like Tetrazzini, choose a Heintzman.

CAUCUS DECIDES PRESBYTERIANS HOLD UNITY KEY

Sectional Conference Favors Church Union As Expeditiously As Possible.

MAJORITY URGE CAUTION

Reports Show Three Denominations Are Already United in 1,400 Congregations.

TORONTO, Oct. 21.—Interest in the church union negotiations now in progress in the Metropolitan Methodist Church here centers mainly in the attitude and actions of the Presbyterian section, which holds the key to the further acceleration of the work, being the only section in which any division of opinion remains. The Methodists and Congregationalists have both declared in a practically unanimous way that they are in favor of union.

The joint sessions of the three denominations, opening today, were presided over by Rev. Dr. S. D. Chown, general superintendent of the Methodist Church in Canada. Dr. G. C. Pidgeon was elected chairman of the joint committee. Three secretaries were also selected, Rev. J. H. Edmison for the Presbyterians, Dr. T. A. Moore for the Methodists, and Dr. F. J. Day, representing the Congregationalists.

This morning's caucus was of a preliminary nature, the reports of the three churches being read by Dr. Chown for the Methodists, Dr. Pidgeon for the Presbyterians, and Rev. James Pedley read the Congregationalist report. One of the first steps taken was the exclusion of the press, and it was decided after the meeting that these reports be not made public until the conference is completed.

Are Co-Operating Now.

Some time was spent ascertaining to what extent the churches are now co-operating, and it was stated that there are at the present time throughout Canada, 597 charges, totaling about 1,400 preaching places, where Methodists, Presbyterians and Congregationalists worship together. Rev. Mr. Munro told of union of churches in the prairie provinces, which was formed with a view to entering into the organic union when it is formed.

The importance of this gathering can hardly be over-estimated, inasmuch as in their hands rests the ultimate fate of the great and unparalleled scheme of union, never before in the history of the world undertaken along such lines. As this joint gathering goes, so, almost without doubt, will go each of the great communions that they represent.

The three sections have met in separate caucuses within the last couple of days, their sessions preliminary to the united conference. What the Methodist and congregational sections determined is, relatively at least, of lesser gravity, inasmuch as their attitude is not one of serious debate among themselves, the entire communions of both being practically unanimous in favor of the proposed union; of course, their attitude might be eligible to revision, but only in the light of divided action on the part of the Presbyterians, such as might affect the question of property rights, a message of uniformity in finance and property being a probable sine qua non.

The real key to the whole pregnant situation is to be found in the attitude and action of the Presbyterian section, whose conference closed last night.

Indorse Union Principle.

The Presbyterian delegates, after an uncommonly free and wide discussion, to which men of the most divergent views and representative, geographically, of the whole Dominion, made their contribution, came to a finding, if finding is can be called, which undoubtedably indicates two things. 1. That the principle of union is to be indorsed and cherished, and that last general assembly meant what it said in affirming that such union shall be effected.

2. That it is alike justifiable and commendable to interpret the mandate of the assembly, given in the rather ambiguous phrase "as expeditiously as possible," as meaning that only such haste would be expected as is consistent with a reasonable approach to unanimity, and a due conservation of the peace, prosperity and vested interests of the great church they represent. Some of the delegates, chiefly from the impatient West pressed for immediate action; W. J. Clark of Montreal was the most distinguished of the Easterners to urge upon the delegates the calamity it would be if there were any faltering now that the goal is in sight. But the overwhelming voice was as insistent upon caution.

Counsels More Delay.

Professor Matheson of Queen's, while avowing himself an ardent unionist, counseled delay. MacKinnon of Regina, a western stalwart, indorsed the plea, and feared lest too great precipitancy might bring an ebb to the flowing tide. Dr. Duncan of St. Paul's, Montreal, late of St. Cuthbert's, Edinburg, with the dispassionate view of a stranger, advised the same course. And even such leaders in the movement as Drummond of Hamilton, whose influence is justly great and growing, counseled the church to a policy of watchful waiting, looking for the disappearance of divisions with the lapse of time. Gandier, too, most eager of all the outstanding men, while not taking a prominent part in the discussion, was noticeably a little subdued in the light of obvious complexities that the situation had disclosed; and the aesthetic and judicial Herridge raised his always-telling voice to urge that no real gain would ensue if the price, in dissension and confusion, were inordinately great.

It was finally resolved, and practically unanimously, to seek further legal advice before further definite action would be deemed advisable. This, of course, is but the outward expression of an inward purpose—to wait. Wherefore it can be confidently said that the Presbyterians, who are the pivot of the whole mechanism, have at present their foot upon the brake and their hand upon the throttle valve. But it is probably equally certain that these restraining forces will not be always there.

To Remove Sallowness, Blotches or Wrinkles

Do you realize that just beneath that coarse, muddy or discolored complexion there's an exquisitely beautiful skin of youthful tint and delicacy? If you could only bring this complexion to the surface, discarding the old one! You can—in the easiest, simplest, most natural manner imaginable. Just get an ounce of ordinary mercolized wax at any drug store, apply nightly like cold cream, removing it mornings with warm water. The wax assists Nature by gradually taking off the lingering particles of dead and half-dead surface skin, causing no discomfort whatever. Ordinarily it takes from a week to ten days to complete the transformation. Cutaneous defects like pimples, blotches, liver spots, moth patches, freckles, of course disappear with the old skin. Nothing else will accomplish such wonderful results in so short a time.

Fine lines and even the deeper wrinkles often appear at an early age. In such cases nothing is better than a face bath made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint of witch hazel. This is remarkably effective.—Advt.

INDORSE RANEY'S BAN ON BETTING AT RACE TRACKS

Baptists in Convention Also Declare For Closer Movie Censorship.

RENEW LEAGUE DEBATE

Rev. G. A. Leichliter Leads Further Discussion On the World Union Resolution.

BY WILLIAM SHARMAN.

ST. THOMAS, Oct. 21.—Indorsation of Attorney-General Raney's action relative to racetrack gambling; a frank declaration that much yet remains to be achieved by the Ontario Board of Motion Picture Censors; resolutions warmly appreciating President Warren Harding's stand on disarmament, and upholding the supreme effort for everlasting peace by the members of the League of Nations, marked the closing hours of the annual Ontario-Quebec Baptist Conference in St. Thomas on Friday.

Last-minute resolutions were introduced, one commending the work of every Children's Aid Society in Canadian cities, and another, the modified document considered Thursday night, with respect to religious training in the public schools.

Not Reached North Bay.

During Monday's session Rev. H. Allen of North May took decided exception to the clause included in the Baptist Social Service Council's report lauding the excellent "house-cleaning" in the moving picture enterprises, declaring that seemingly the campaign had yet failed to reach North Bay.

After further consideration by the committee the following resolution was adopted Friday: "Whereas the Ontario Government has requested that its people co-operate with the Social Service Council of Ontario as a clearing house, in seeking an improvement in both the moving pictures themselves and theatre posters, we feel in our judgment that much more remains to be done in the enforcement of the law.

Report Objectionable Films.

"We therefore accept it as our responsibility as Christians to make known to the social service committee of our convention such films or posters as we believe would degrade the morals of the observers, many of whom are of tender years."

A second resolution to pass with no opposition or discussion on Friday commended the action of Hon. W. E. Raney relating to racetrack betting. By it the Baptists are pledged to support his endeavor to effectively suppress this "great evil which had done so much to stimulate the gambling spirit, especially among the young."

Reintroduced on the floor of the convention following the objection to its outline on Thursday by Rev. G. A. Leichliter, the resolution favoring the League of Nations witnessed its successful passage Friday afternoon, but not without further exception by the London pastor, and much expression of views by other delegates.

In the original document, Rev. Mr. Leichliter was emphatic in his contention that the United States should not be classed in the same group that contained Russia, Germany and Austria-Hungary.

Still Sees Objection.

The reading of the modified resolution brought the declaration from Rev. Mr. Leichliter that although the names of the various nations had been withdrawn, the objection was still apparent to him. He expressed the opinion that there was really no need to "drag in the name of the United States at all, or the resolution, for that matter."

A compromise was eventually effected. Names of other nations than Canada were omitted. The following expression derived the favor of the majority of the conference: "It is peculiarly urgent at this time that Canada, as the only North American member of the League of Nations, should assume greater responsibilities in the task of promoting world peace and harmony."

The resolution warmly appreciating and indorsing President Harding's action on disarmament was passed unanimously.

Originally submitted at Thursday night's session, the letter from His Lordship the Bishop of Algoma, asking that the convention appoint a committee of five to confer with similar committees from other denominations with a view to agreeing upon a definite syllabus of religious education in public schools was reintroduced at Friday's session.

Some time ago the minister of education for Ontario had said if all denominations would agree in this matter he would give favorable consideration to any advice that might be offered by a joint committee representing them all.

Reaffirm Separation Principle.

Although once again emphasizing its principle of "entire separation of the church and state," the Baptist convention reiterates its firm and abiding conviction of the supreme importance of religious instruction in the schools and incidentally urges the necessity of using every opportunity to present the same in the schools under the direction, however, of the church and at the latter's expense.

The Baptists of Ontario and Quebec strive to make clear that they feel such appointments would be inconsistent with their cherished conviction in regard to the entire separation of church and state.

Whereas, they say, the state has already provided opportunity of presenting instruction in the schools, which the church has not taken appreciable advantage of, they feel it inconsistent with their policy to take further action in that direction.

The Baptists, however, lay the burden squarely on the church and home and the present conference urged their congregations to use every means to take advantage of such opportunities as are afforded in the public schools, providing the same can be accomplished consistently with Baptists principles and always under the direction and at the expense of the church.

Thinks Church Should Pay.

The passage of the modified resolution was only following considerable discussion. Rev. B. W. Merrill, Toronto, emphasized the point that any religious instruction in schools should only be at the expense of the churches. "If we allow the state to pay," he warned the convention, "you must stand prepared to see the state assume control."

Rev. G. A. Leichliter, London, expressed frank disapproval of any move to send delegates to the proposed gathering. "The letter from the Bishop of Algoma," he said, "is to discuss a scheme of study. We are not going to draft our objections. They are not there to hear them. I maintain we have no right in view of our historical position to send delegates."

A lay delegate, C. Bremner, was of the firm opinion that the Baptists would be making a serious mistake in not getting together with other denominations in having some say in the procedure of what privileges are already theirs with respect to the public schools.

Rev. O. C. Elliott, Toronto, placed unqualified responsibility for religious training of children on the parents and the church. "The Sunday school movement itself was never intended to lift any duty from the parents, but now they are attempting to place all the burden on the state.

The Baptist View.

"The Anglicans evidently have investigated and are willing to go further. We should give a definite answer, that we Baptists think it best to let the state educate the citizens, and we in the home and church will promote religious training."

Emphasizing the seriousness of the problems which confront the rural churches, Rev. W. S. Buckberrough of Port Elgin, addressing the morning gathering, declared that "a great mass of organizations has grown up in the agricultural districts that detract in no small way the influence and power of church endeavor.

"You know what these bodies are as well as I do," he continued. "There are the women's institutes and the men's various organizations, and a host of others, that conflict with our work in the rural sections.

"We must, I say, stop using our rural churches as collecting bureaus for this mass of organizations—these various enterprises they have, when they utilize the church and take up collections for this and that. I contend that if they cannot run their own finances let them go.

Cannot Halt Migration.

"And as far as preventing the migration from the country to the city is involved," concluded the speaker, "you can't stop it as long as there are those who think they will make $5 in lieu of four in town. Why, I've asked real spiritual men of the rural districts why they were moving to the city, and they replied 'the chances for earning better money as so great.'"

That the Baptist Church faces a real crisis with respect to its rural churches was further emphasized by the report prepared by Rev. O. E. Kendall and moved for adoption at the morning session by John Pollock.

"To render assistance to the struggling churches," he said, "you have today no highly-organized machinery, no great financial aid and a thinly-applied moral influence.

"Our activities have become woefully restricted because of the rapidly changing local rural conditions. Eighty churches compelled to close their doors in the past twenty years bear ample testimony to the seriousness of our problem.

"It will be interesting to note some of the conditions that impose a heavy burden upon our rural churches. There is first an alarming depleting of population. Then the serious spirit of unrest characterizing the entire social and economic fabric of society the world over, which is reflected in the country to an unappreciable degree.

"The interchange and exchange of farm property is a disturbing element. The deflation of prices of natural products has seriously disturbed rural economy, while the habit of money spending and extravagant luxury is still apparent.

Materialism Takes Toll.

"Materialism as gross in character as that found in the industrial world is taking heavy toll of the moral and spiritual forces as well."

Greetings from the Northern Baptist Convention in session at Syracuse, New York, were received personally from Rev. B. C. Clawson, who arrived in St. Thomas late Thursday night, delivered his powerful and inspiring message at Friday morning's gathering and subsequently departed again for home.

Rev. W. H. Corkery of Hamilton submitted the annual report of the committee on obituaries.

Thorndale

Thorndale, Oct. 21.—An auction sale was held on the farm of L. Foster, con. 1, West Nissouri, on Wednesday afternoon, when 45 head of cattle and 40 hogs were sold. The highest price paid for a cow was $108, and the average price was $70. The yearlings averaged $25.50. Hogs, 6 weeks old, sold at $5 each and 22 fat hogs were sold at $21.50 each.

The house and lot, the estate of the late Ezra Rathburn of Thorndale, will be sold by auction on Saturday afternoon.

Meighen Charges Stratford Man Has Failed To Prove Statements.

DISCLAIMS EXTRAVAGANCE

Sir Henry Drayton Declares "We Did the Best We Could."

[By Canadian Press Correspondent.]

STRATFORD, Ont., Oct. 21.—From a crowded platform in the curling rink Premier Meighen here tonight addressed one of the largest gatherings to which he has spoken since opening his campaign. The premier had come to this meeting from his native town of St. Marys, where he spoken to a gathering of about 1,500 persons on the political issues of the day.

This evening he was supported by Sir Henry Drayton, minister of finance, and H. B. Morphy, formerly member for North Perth in the Federal House, and now National Liberal and Conservative candidate in the constituency. Dr. Michael Steele, candidate in South Perth, and Senator Sharpe occupied seats on the platform, and Lieut.-Col. John L. Youngs, president of the Stratford Liberal-Conservative Association, presided. Tomorrow the premier will speak in St. Thomas.

The first speaker, H. B. Morphy, contrasted the tariff policies of the three party leaders. Mr. Meighen stood for moderate protection, he said, and Mr. Crerar for absolute free trade, with a tax on land to raise necessary revenue. Mr. King's policy might be termed a free trade tariff policy.

Fears For Home Market.

The premier's policy had built up the industries and homes of Canada and had given employment to thousands of workmen. The Progressive policy would destroy the home market for the Canadian farmers, claimed Mr. Morphy.

"It is a dangerous thing to depart from a policy which has been tried and found good,' he declared.

The candidate stated that he had been chairman of the public accounts committee in the Union Government. During the war period, while expenditures totalling two billions were being made, there had been absolutely no proof of "misappropriation, extravagance, crookedness, chicanery or deceit" on the part of the Government. The record of the Government was clean, he said.

Sir Henry Drayton said the Government had been charged with wilful criminal extravagance. Speaking for himself, he would be only too glad if the financial condition of the country would warrant decreases in taxation, but it was costing more money to run the Government than before the war, and the business of government must go on.

"The charge of extravagance is only a loose accusation made for the purpose of supplying material where none exists," said the minister. He did not mean to say that everything done during the war was perfect.

Would Need Archangels.

"You'd require a band of archangels for that. But I do say that the work was carried on by a band of men devoted to your interests, and the only adverse criticism comes from political opponents," declared Sir Henry.

"You might have given the soldier a little more," said a voice from the audience.

"We did the utmost we could for the soldier without crippling the Canada he died to save," replied Sir Henry. "We did the best we could. Would to God we could have done more!"

Premier Meighen said that "an epidemic of scurrilous and utterly silly misrepresentations had literally swept this country." Some of these were uttered by nonentities, and others by prominent men.

Since coming to Stratford he had been informed that a man in the vicinity had declared the Government had a padded military list with 30,000 names on the public payroll. This man, he said, made a similar charge some time ago, had been requested to substantiate his allegation, and had failed to appear to do so. The charge was false, said the premier.

Canada's expenditures for defence were at the lowest possible point, said Mr. Meighen. The cost per head to Canadians for defence was $2.15 per annum, as compared to $13.13 in the United States; $6.13 in Australia; $5.82 in New Zealand, and $22.36 in Great Britain.

Two-Year-Old Child Killed When Running To Meet Playmates.

[Special to Advertiser.]

MERLIN, Oct. 21. — Running from her home across the G. T. R. tracks, to greet some playmates returning from school shortly before 6 o'clock this evening, the little 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brusso was struck by a train going east and instantly killed.

Dr. Bell, coroner for the district, was called and ordered an inquest. A jury was impaneled at once and after viewing the remains the inquiry was adjourned till Monday, Oct. 31.

STATES WOMEN ARE IN NEED OF COURAGE

Fair New Yorker Brings Message to Her Sex.

DETROIT, Oct. 21. — "The greatest need of the average business woman is courage."

This message was brought to the business women of Detroit by Miss Lena Madesin Phillips of New York, executive secretary of the National Association of Business and Professional Women.

"Business women must be more self-reliant and must trust their own judgment, experience and even intuition," Miss Phillips said. "They must dare to give up uncongenial work which is steady for a new undertaking more congenial, but with an element of risk.

"They must have courage to express themselves, courage to wear the kind of clothes that express their personality, to wear straw hats in the middle of October.

"The women who are eminently successful are not more clever or better-looking or shrewder than any of us. What differentiates them is courage.

"One of the most successful business women I know pawned her engagement ring and her wedding ring to buy the meagre equipment to start a tea-room. She bought three second hand pie-plates for one cent. Her husband had lost his position. She was untrained for any occupation except that of homemaker, but she was a good cook and manager. She took a risk and capitalized her one talent. Today her income is $35,000 a year.

"We business women must quit enjoying our misery. Too often we solace ourselves for over-work and under-pay with the mistaken idea that we are victims of circumstances and heroic martyrs. We must stop feeling sorry for ourselves and set ourselves to find a way out.

Another thing that business women must learn is economy of time. We go home spent with our day's work and sit up until midnight embroidering silly little 'doo-dabs' for Christmas presents, things that gather the dust or are tucked away in bureau drawers until another Christmas, when they are resurrected and passed on. We must learn how to relax.

"One of the new projects to be launched by the National Federation this year will be vocational guidance to eighth grade and high school girls. Each business women's club is to sponsor a group of girls in its community, giving them talks on vocations and the benefit of the members' experience."

LISTOWEL LADIES HOLD HOSPITAL AID FAIR

LISTOWEL, Oct. 21.—The Women's Hospital Auxiliary opened their hospital fair yesterday on the second floor of the Perfect Wheel Factory. Misses Ivy Kidd and Lola Fair were responsible for the effective decoration scheme, which gave the impression of brightness as one entered. The spacious tea-room was patronized by a continuous throng, Mrs. T. L. Hamilton being convener, assisted by an able committee. The main building was divided into a number of booths at which practically everything from a handkerchief to a ton of coal could be purchased. Supper was served from 5:30 to 7, and refreshments during the evening. Great interest was manifested by the ladies from the surrounding rural districts both in donations and attendance, and the unity of effort is an evidence of appreciation of the Listowel Memorial Hospital. The officers of the auxiliary for this year are: President, Mrs. Sangster; secretary, Mrs. (Dr.) James Moore; treasurer, Mrs. J. H. McDonald.

SO MANY PEOPLE ARE NERVOUS

"Fruit-a-tives" the Greatest of All Nerve Remedies.

This Fruit Medicine Restores Health.

The increase in the number of persons suffering from Nervousness is world-wide; due, in a measure, to the reaction following the war. Sleeplessness, Headaches, Mental Depression, Rheumatism, Nervous Dyspepsia, Bad Heart Action, are the results of a disturbed condition of the Nervous System.

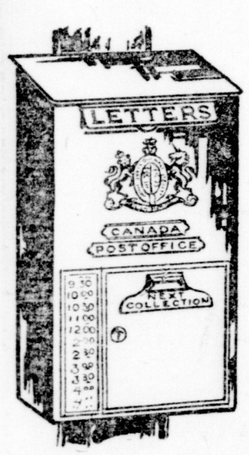

The nerves and the blood are so intimately, so vitally, connected, that the condition of one is bound to affect the condition of the other. If the blood is laden with impurities, it is impossible to have strong, steady nerves.

The first essential in treating nervous troubles is to purify and enrich the blood. This "FRUIT-A-TIVES" will do.

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" stimulates the bowels, kidneys and skin and purifies the blood. "Fruit-a-tives" improves appetite and digestion, and insures food being properly digested, thus enabling the blood to carry wholesome nourishment to build up the body, particularly the nerves

Men and women who take "Fruit-a-tives" for some form of nervousness—because they cannot eat or sleep or work or enjoy life—say that this fruit medicine is simply marvelous in its action.

DR. CHASE Has Taught the People How to Keep Well

The Dr. Chase Plan of Health

TIME was when the family physician was the most prominent character in the community.

A man of intelligence and ability, he commanded confidence and respect, and sacrificed his time, strength and pleasure for those who needed his care and skill.

These were the conditions when, after graduating from the University of Michigan, at Ann Arbor, Dr. A. W. Chase settled down to practise his profession in that well-known college town.

Every Man His Own Physician

But the doctor soon got the idea that people should know how to look after their own common ills, and set about in a large way to supply them with the necessary information.

By means of his Receipt Book, the circulation of which has since run into millions, and his well-known Almanac and booklets of many kinds, Dr. Chase has spread throughout the civilized world the gospel of "Every Man His Own Physician."

This plan enabled the doctor to devote his attention to more serious cases, and he soon became known far and wide as a specialist in the treatment of diseases of the kidneys, the liver, the heart and other vital organs of the human system.

To reach patients at a distance, the doctor had his most successful prescriptions put up in handy form for mailing. In time the demand became so great that the doctor decided to give these great medicines to the public, and arranged for their sale through the drug trade throughout Canada and the United States.

In this way Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, Nerve Food, Ointment, Linseed and Turpentine, Catarrh Powder, and other medicines found their way into general use, until now one or more of them is found in almost every home in the land.

Home Medicines

With these time-tried medicines at hand, you can feel that you are protected against the common ills of life by the most effective treatments which Dr. Chase was able to discover during a long life of diligent study and research.

Confidence in Dr. Chase

Founded on His Integrity of Character and the Unusual Merits of His Medicines.

If there was ever a physician who commanded the confidence of his patients that physician was DR. CHASE.

No one could meet him and converse with him without realizing that he was a man of skill, who was in love with his profession and only anxious to relieve the suffering and disease of his fellowmen.

You cannot read the famous Dr. Chase's Receipt Book without appreciating the untiring zeal of its author in searching out the best receipts and prescriptions which were known to the medical profession.

When his attention was turned to selecting medicines to be placed on the market for public sale it was with whole-souled effort that he tested out the prescriptions which he considered most suitable for this purpose.

And so it is that the integrity of character which marked the efforts of DR. CHASE are indelibly stamped on every medicine which bears his portrait and signature, and people have learned to have the utmost confidence in them because of the splendid results which they have accomplished.

Free Samples

After long experience with Dr. Chase's Medicines, we have found that people who try them are soon convinced of their exceptional merits.

We have published thousands of letters to give you an idea of the benefits others have obtained by their use, but if you are still skeptical we shall be glad to send you our Free Combination Package.

Synopsis of Western University Bylaw

1. On the 17th day of October, 1921, a bylaw was read a first and second time by the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the City of London to borrow the sum of $250 000 to aid The Western University of London, Ontario, by a grant of the proceeds of an issue of $250,000 debentures.

2. The amount of the debt or liability to be created is $250,000.

3. The debt or liability to be payable according to the terms of the draft bylaw in thirty years from the first day of January, A. D., 1922.

4. The amount to be raised annually for the payment of the debt for principal and interest is $18,162.23.

TAKE NOTICE.

That the foregoing is a true synopsis of a proposed bylaw of the Corporation of the City of London to be submitted to the votes of the electors at the same time, and at the same places as the annual election for the Municipal Council, and the deputy returning officers appointed to hold the said election shall take the vote.

And that the 30th day of November, 1921, at 7:30 o'clock in the afternoon, in the City Hall, in the said municipality, has been fixed for the appointment of persons to attend at the polling places, and at the final summing up of the votes by the clerk.

And that, if the assent of the electors is obtained to the said proposed bylaw, it will be taken into consideration by the Municipal Council of the said Corporation at a meeting thereof to be held after the expiration of one month from the date of the first publication of this notice, and that such first publication was made on the 22nd day of October, 1921.

TAKE NOTICE FURTHER that a tenant who desires to vote upon the said proposed bylaw must deliver to the clerk not later than the tenth day before the day appointed for taking the votes, a declaration, under the Canada Evidence Act, that he is a tenant whose lease extends for the time for which the debt or liability is to be created, or in which the money to be raised by the proposed bylaw is payable, or for at least twenty-one years, and that he has by the lease, covenanted to pay all municipal taxes in respect of the property of which he is tenant, other than the local improvement rates.

S. BAKER, City Clerk.

Notice To Water Consumers

A recent House-to-House inspection carried out by the Waterworks Department resulted in the discovery that a large number of fixtures had been installed and additions made to premises without proper report of same being made by either owner or plumber, and in violation of the bylaws of the Department.

The Department has thereby been deprived of a large amount of revenue to which it is justly entitled. Consumers are requested to advise the Commission of any alterations or additions made which will affect the Water Rates.

By order,
The Public Utilities Commission.

EATING OF CARROTS MAKES EYES PRETTY

Oranges and Spinach Also Help, Says Ophthalmologist.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 20.—Eat carrots, oranges, spinach and butter for pretty eyes.

This was one of the bits of advice given at the 26th annual meeting of the American Academy of Ophthalmology and Oto-Laryngology in the Bellevue-Stratford.

About a thousand specialists in the treatment of the eye, nose, throat and ear from this country, and visitors from abroad are in attendance.

Dr. Percy H. Fridenberg of New York said: "It is probable that pigment plays an important part in the normal development of the eye, ear and brain, but pigment is largely a product of food.

"It is a striking fact that such things as butter, oranges, spinach and other highly-colored goods contain vitamines, and which prevent certain deficiency diseases. Among these deficiency diseases are rickets and scurvy.

"Vitamines, pigments and the normal production of certain salts go hand in hand. Just what the connection is we do not know as yet. There is a typical deficiency disease associated with each vitamine lac. These treated by cod liver oil in rickets, fresh oranges in scurvy and cereals in certain nervous diseases.

"Mothers' milk is the best protection for all these deficiency diseases. These vitamines probably act indirectly and there are secretions in the body called harmones which act like vitamines and and substantially to such process as normal growth, weight and reaction to diseases.

"There are certain blood diseases that are carried from parent to child without the germ, but instead of a damaged harmon is transmitted to the offspring, so there is not a normal pigment in the eye. This means there is not a uniform distribution of the pigment."

Prof. J. Van der Hoeve, Leiden, Holland, the guest of the academy, told of his investigations in connection with the lack of pigment in the eye and leading to blindness with similar pigment distribution in the ear, leading to deafness.

He also told of investigations in relation to the balance co-relation between the eye and the ear in man and animals. He explained experiments which tended to show that eye motions are controlled by the semi-circular canals or labyrinth, and that when these are normal the tendency is for a man to always look to the front and to keep the body level.

Other high points in the various papers today and in interviews among the specialists are:

"Chronic colds may lead to sinus infections and blindness."

"There is a definite co-relation between the balancing apparatus of the ear (the labyrinth) and the ye."

Blenheim

BLENHEIM, Oct. 21.—Rev. J. C. McCracken, rector of the Anglican Church here, was called to Wingham Wednesday, his mother being reported very ill.

* * *

Blenheim is to be connected up with Chatham on Monday next by a regular three-times-a-day motor 'bus passenger service. Three trips per day are promised. Charles Sheldon, Jun., has purchased an 18-passenger 'bus and expects to begin business on Monday next. The route will be by way of Ridge road to Cedar prings, Harwich and Raleigh town line to Chatham and return.

* * *

Blenheim and vicinity Masons were paid a visit Monday evening by members of the Wellington, Panthenon and Victory lodges of Chatham, A. F. and A. M. J. A. McCallum, W. M., and his officers of Victory Lodge exemplified the degree work. Kent Lodge expects in a short time to pay this court a return visit and exemplify the degree work. After the meeting, refreshments were served. Other distinguished brethren, among the visitors were: W. Bro. Charles Clements and W. Bro. Edgerton.

* * *

The Presbyterian churches throughout this district are holding special meetings for inspiration in Christian service. Addresses are to be given each evening by visiting preachers. The Blenheim Church is to be favored with the following speakers: Oct. 19, Rev. R. W. Beveridge; Oct. 20, Rev. A. Graham; Oct. 21, the pastor, Rev. J. F. Smith; Oct. 25, Rev. A. S. Orton; Oct. 26, Rev. G. Melvin; Oct. 27, Rev. G. Weir.

Ruthven

Ruthven, Oct. 21.—The heavy downpours of rain a week ago are helping to save hundreds of tons of hay and other feed, as live stock of all kinds are now thriving on a growth of grass which will last through the month of November. Corn husking is still in progress all over this section, and thousands of bushels are being stored, while many bushels are sold in the fields as soon as husked. Potatoes grown on new land have turned out than the average, and every bushel is bushel is of good quality.

The pound net fishermen have finished putting in the last of their twine, and are already making some fair hauls of pickerel and whitefish. The gill net men have out miles of their traps, and perch and herring are being snared by thousands.

While driving a valuable horse in Leamington on Sunday evening, Robert Gustin of this place, while passing by a gate that was close to the road, was backed into by an automobile, which struck the horse and broke both its front legs. The horse had to be shot.

Tobacco buyers from many firms have been over this district looking at this year's crop. But so far as can be learned no offers have yet been made to any of the growers. It is said, however, that the co-operative tobacco factory at Kingsville will likely take over most of the crop.

OWNER OF STILL FINED $500 OR SIX MONTHS

GUELPH, Oct. 21.—Convicted before Magistrate Watt this morning on a charge of having in his possession a still capable of distilling liquor, Patrick Dermo, an Italian resident of Thomas street, was assessed $500 and costs or six months imprisonment in default of payment. The charge against Dermo was laid as the result of a raid made recently at his home by License Inspector James O'Brien, Inland Revenue Collector Geo. J. Thorp and Chief Rae, when a small still was seized.

FOUR MEN ARE KILLED WHEN TUNNEL COLLAPSES

WINNIPEG, Oct. 21.—Four men were killed and two were injured last night when a Canadian Pacific Railway freight train was caught by falling rock in a tunnel one mile east of Palliser, B. C.

An official statement issued by D. C. Coleman, vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, declared that heavy rains had caused a movement on the mountain above the tunnel, resulting in an overwhelming pressure on the roof and sides.

Four freight cars were burned in a fire which followed the cave-in, starting in oil escaping from the locomotives.

A temporary line is being built around the tunnel, and in the meantime traffic is being diverted.

"Engineer Dean and Fireman Goodwin of the leading engine, Fireman Richmond of the second engine, all three residents of Revelstoke, were killed, as well as a man stealing a ride, who has been identified as Lance McCarrigan of Kincardine, Ont. In addition to these, Engineer Peterson of Revelstoke, and a trespasser named Robert Watson, were injured, the official statement says.

ARTILLERYMEN HOLD ANNUAL REUNION

GUELPH, Oct. 21.—Former members of the old 16th Battery poured into the city on every train today to attend the annual reunion of the unit, which took place today, and close to 100 men from out of town arrived in time to be present at the big banquet which was held in the armories tonght. Following the banquet there was an informal dance, when the ex-members of the battery had an opportunity of renewing acquaintances with their many frends in the Royal City.

PREACHES AT FIRST CHURCH.

Sunday at the First Methodist Church the Rev. Dr. Sparling, pastor, will preach in the morning on "The Church Perpetuating the Cross," and at night on "The Things Which Belong To Our Peace." An enlarged choir under Mr. Jordan is now in attendance at each service.

Grim Reaper Claims Famous Empress of Southwest Range

Mrs. Cornelia Adair, 85 Years Old, and Manager 500,000 Acres in Texas, Dies in England After Picturesque Career.

FORT WORTH, Oct. 21.—With the death of Mrs. Cornelia Adair in London a week ago America lost one of its most striking feminine personalities. She not only owned one of the largest ranches in the world, but through active management and business foresight made her ranch the best paying in the United States.

A pioneer of the southwest, used to the hardships and rough frontier life, yet Mrs. Adair spent much of her time in close association with the nobility of England, and frequently entertained nobility at the "J. A." ranch in Donley County, comprising 500,000 acres and more than 100,000 head of cattle. Only a few months ago Mrs. Adair was host to a party of English nobility at the "J. A." ranch, and returned with them to England, intending to r... early in 1921.

She was 85 years old, ... when her husband died, she ... superintended the immense pro... She was in truth an empress of ... ranges, had been expert with the la... rode with her cowboys, put through ... deals in livestock and improved the ... "J. A." herd until it has become known as the best in Texas. At all big stock shows her cattle have won first prizes.

Mrs. Adair was a native of New York, the daughter of Major-Gen. James S. Wadsworth of Geneseo. She married John Adair, an Irishman, in the early '70s and went with him to Colorado. Mrs. Adair, her husband, Mrs. Mary Goodnight, wife of her husband's partner, and a score of cowboys made the journey from Pueblo, Col., to the Texas ranch overland, driving a herd of cattle through a country menaced both by Indians and wild animals and where water holes were few. When within a short distance of their destination it was a gamble whether the entire party and animals would die from thirst.

The horses the men and women rode shambled along exhausted and the cattle were dropping out almost every minute. A small stream was found in the nick of time, members of the party reaching it one by one and almost gone. They reached the site of the J. A. ranch next day, then a barren tract of land.

Two shanties were built in which Mrs. Adair and Mrs. Goodnight lived for several years. The ranch at first totaled ... 1,000,000 acres and about a year after arriving there Adair bought out Goodnight's interest.

After Adair's death Mrs. Adair employed Richard Walsh to help in management and he was associated with her until ten years ago, when he went to Rhodesia, Africa, and assumed management of a 6,000,000 acre ranch. Walsh died in Africa a month ago. When Walsh left, James A. Wadsworth of New York, her nephew, succeeded him, but he retired in 1914 when elected United States senator from New York. J. H. Holden is now managing the ranch. It is expected that the Wadsworth family will continue to own and operate the property.

Mrs. Adair, despite her busy life, took deep interest in art, literature and music, devoting much time to study when alone on her ranch in the seventies. She made liberal contributions to charity, helped build the Y. M. C. A. at Clarendon, built a hospital at Clarendon for her ranch hands and the public, and invested largely in Liberty bonds during the war.

FRENCH EXPOSITION TRAIN VISITS TELEPHONE CITY

Auto Used By Burford Bandits Found In Brantford.

BRANTFORD, Oct. 21.—The French exposition train drew a splendid attendance this afternoon and evening, lines being formed and the procession of visitors being a constant one. Ald. F. D. Reville extended a welcome on behalf of the city, Mayor Wedlake being in attendance at the provincial plowing match at Woodstock, and H. E. Gignac, speaking in French, extended a welcome on behalf of the Chamber of Commerce. This evening the visiting Frenchmen were the guests of the Chamber of Commerce at luncheon at the Brantford Golf and Country Club.

Stolen Car Found.

At an early hour this morning a McLaughlin car was found abandoned on Charlotte street. It was found to be that stolen from J. Irwin, Burford, believed to have been used by the bandits who raided the general store at Burford.

At Plowing Match.

Among the Indians at the provincial plowing match at Woodstock is Elijah Pinnace of the Six Nations Reserve, who was a member of the Philadelphia Athletics when they won world honors.

REV. JOHN McKILLOP, B.A., INDUCTED AT HYDE PARK

HYDE PARK, Oct. 21.—Thursday night Rev. John McKillop, B.A., was inducted into the pastorate of Hyde Park and St. Paul's Presbyterian Churches. The service opened with the address of the moderator, Rev. John Curry of London. There was a large congregation present.

Rev. Mr. Graham of Caradoc and Mount Brydges conducted the devotional exercises, and preached a very able sermon. The charge to the minister was given by Rev. John Curry, and the congregation was addressed by Rev. J. Young of London. Appropriate music was rendered by the choir.

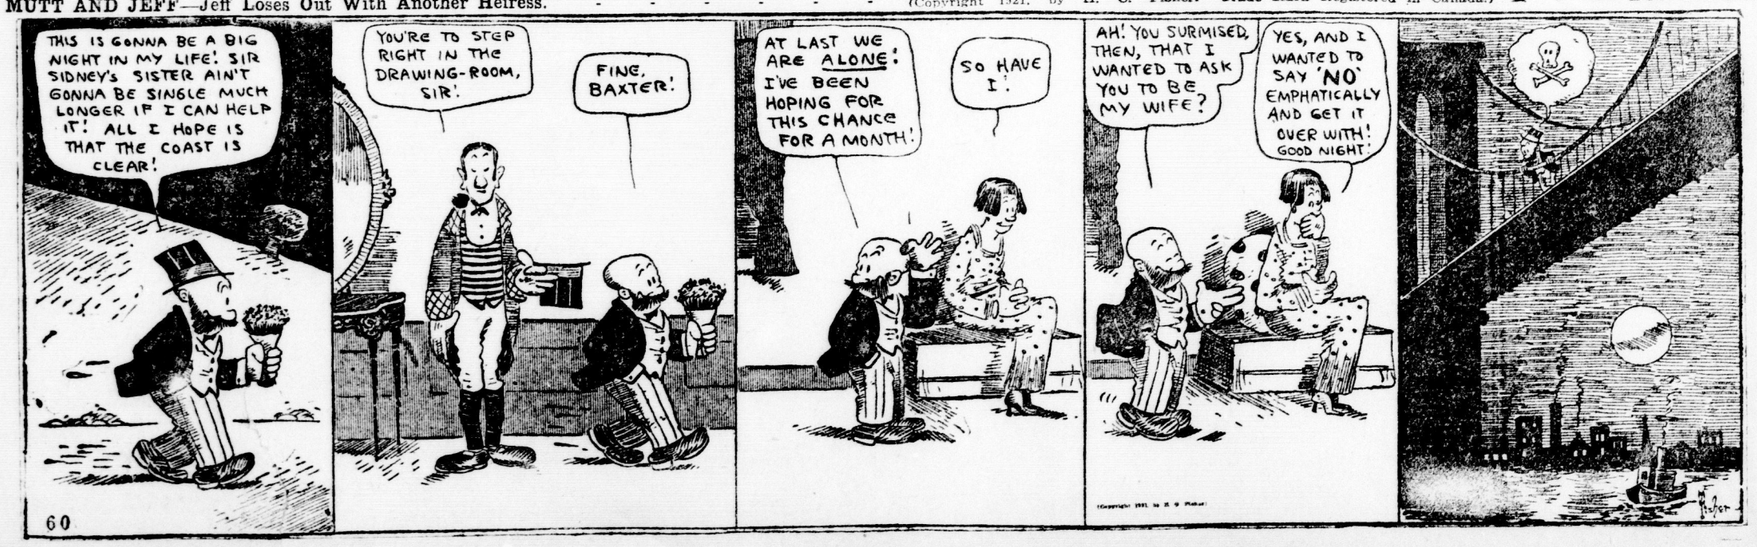

After the induction service supper was served and a pleasant social hour spent. Prior to supper Mr. McKillop was introduced to each one of his congregation by Messrs. Crawford and Graham. Mr. McKillop comes here from Dutton, and brings with him an enviable reputation as a scholar, preacher and pastor.

KENT FARMERS PREPARE.

CHATHAM, Oct. 21.—At a meeting of the United Farmers' Election Association held in this city this evening a committee of four was named and given blank credentials to appoint delegates to attend the U. F. O. convention, which will be held tomorrow afternoon in this city.

President E. W. Hardy of the Kent County U. F. O. was present, and gave a rousing address. Bert F. Groombridge, a member of the Independent Labor party, spoke, pointing out that up to the present time the local Independent Labor party had not indorsed any of the political parties which may operate in the coming election. The attendance at the meeting was large.

RAILS DECLINE ON NEW YORK MARKET

All Other Stocks Show Decided Improvement.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Rejection by the railway unions of the plans proposed by the railroad labor board to avert a strike, affected declines of one to two points among transportations in the first half of today's stock market session.

These losses were partly retrieved later when Mexican Petroleum became the leader of a drive against the shorts and announcement came from Chicago that the brotherhood chiefs and railroad executives had been cited to appear before the labor board next week.

Early reversals extended to steels, rubbers and leathers, the former being rendered more vulnerable by the poor statements of earnings issued by the Lackawanna and Republic companies. Equipments pursued a contrary course, however, and motors strengthened with utilities and numerous merchandising shares.

Popular oils forged ahead almost from the outset, foreign issues leading. Even Royal Dutch, which recently lost ground on selling attributed to Dutch interests, ignored the proposed senatorial investigation into its activities here.

Mexican Petroleum registered an extreme advance of almost eight points and all but a fraction of this was held at the finish. General Asphalt and Houston also showed substantial support. Sales amounted to 475,000 shares.

Call loans opened at 4½ per cent, but the demand for funds over the week-end was large enough to force the rate to 5 per cent shortly after midday, without alteration, however, to time quotations.

New England and western banks were in the market for merchants' paper. Sterling forfeited part of yesterday's sharp rise and exchange of France, Italy Belgium and Germany eased, but Holland, Norway, Sweden and Spain improved and the Shanghai rate advanced in response to London's higher price for silver.

Buying of Liberty and Victory issues, all at moderate to substantial gains, featured the lighter trade in bonds. Domestic rails reflected the heaviness of stocks, but foreign issues were devoid of especial features. Total sales (par value) aggregated $14,400,000.

SUGAR.

NEW YORK Oct. 21.—There was no change in raw sugar prices early today. Duty-free sugars were quoted at 4c for centrifugal and Cubas at 4.11c. Business was light and the only sale reported was 4,900 bags of Venezuelas at 2.20c, cost and freight, equal to 4.40 for centrifugal.

Raw sugar futures were firmer and trading was more active, with prices at midday six to ten points net higher on covering and buying by trade and commission houses.

No changes were noted in refined, with fine granulated listed at $5.20@5.30.

Refined sugar futures were without transactions.

LINSEED

DULUTH, Oct. 21.—Linseed: On track and to arrive, $1.77; Oct., $1.77 nominally; Nov., $1.77 asked; Dec., $1.77 asked; May, $1.83¼ asked.

American Grain Markets

CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Wheat prices took a decided upward swing today, influenced more or less by belief in various quarters that the president and his cabinet would find a solution for the threatened general railroad strike. The market closed strong at 3½@4½c higher with December at $1.08@1.08¼ and May at $1.12¼@1.12½. Corn gained ⅛@⅜c and oats, ⅜@⅝c. In provisions the outcome varied from unchanged to 35c higher.

Notwithstanding the break-up of the parley here between the railway employees' representatives and the Government labor board, prices for wheat had an upward impetus throughout the day. Speculators led the buying and offerings were so readily absorbed that shorts hurried to cover and thus aided the advance. Word that Europe had taken one million bushels of durum and Manitobas counted, too, as a bullish factor and so, likewise, did general recognition that for several days the market had been acting as if oversold. Improved demand for flour tended further to help the advance of wheat.

Definite announcement of the calling of a new conference here to deal with the strike situation was made just after the day's trading had been ended. Corn and oats reflected the strength of wheat. Rural offerings were small.

Provisions rose with hogs and grains. Besides, the packers were believed to be accumulating stocks to meet any emergency from the threatened strike.

BOND MARKET RECORDS GAINS IN MANY CASES

Trading of Week Has Been Active and Substantial.

The bond market during the week has been a very substantial affair, values as a whole holding firm and in a great many cases good gains were recorded.

During the next two or three months the one great cash payment and distribution of the year will be made. It is estimated that Canadian field crops will bring this year close to $1,250,000,000. This will constitute a great new buying power and will be inevitably reflected throughout the business world.

Where surplus funds are available, important amounts will, as usal, be directed through investment channels, and these investments in Government and municipal bonds give the investor at the present time 40 per cent more yield than in 1914. During the year the war loans of Canada have shown an increase in the market value totalling over $20,000,000.

New issues of recent date have been readily absorbed, only a very small portion of the original amount being now available for the investor.

The Province of Ontario 22-year 6 per cent gold bonds, maturing in 1943, and issued at a price of $98.80, and interest to yield the investor 6.10 per cent, has been a great favorite. Likewise, British Columbia 6's, due October 1, 1946, at a price of $97,47 to yield 6.20 per cent.

New Municipal Offerings.

Several good municipal offerings have come on the market at varying prices and yield anywhere from 6 to 7 per cent.

Victory bonds continue to show firmness, with the general price tendency toward higher prices.

The City of Brandon is out with a new issue of thirty-year 6 per cent coupon bonds at a price of $93,63 and interest to yield 6.25 per cent, the principal and interest being guaranteed unconditionally by the Province of Manitoba.

Bond brokers and financial men are beginning to advise the purchase of good Government and municipal bonds, anticipating, no doubt, a material betterment in prices in the immediate future.

Closing bids: Oct., $7.24; Dec., $7.39; Jan., $7.46; March, $7.61; May, $7.67; July, $7.77; Sept., $7.77. The spot market was reported nominally unchanged.

PAPER STOCKS HOLD TORONTO ADVANCES

Riordon Mill Reopening Affects Market Favorably.

TORONTO, Oct. 21.—Paper stocks continued their recovery today on the Toronto Stock Exchange. The reopening of the Riordon Company's mill at Kipawa turned out to be a considerable market influence and was followed by publication of a letter from the company asking creditors to grant a year's extension and stating that orders for the output of the mill are now being taken.

There was much local interest in the announcement of the reopening of the mill and the stock of Old Riordon reappeared in the active list in both markets, though only for nominal turnover. Sales were made here at 5, an advance of 1½ points. Besides the Riordon case there was further evidence of increased demand for paper. The Spanish River Company is reported to be operating fully, the already increased demand having been greater this week from the emergency of the threatened railway strike. Spanish River was active on both exchanges, selling at 61, an advance of 3 points since the last sale two days ago.

Interest returned to the bank stocks from the declaration of additional bonuses. These declarations follow the procedure of last year in all cases, and are for the year, rather than for the current quarter.

The general sentiment of today's trading was assisted by the strength shown by Wall Street where the market continued firm nearly all day. There were, however, a few reactions, including Canadian Pacific, both issues of Canada Steamships, Ontario Steel Products and Toronto Railway. Canada Cement and Consumers' Gas, on the other hand, were firmer.

Total sales — Listed stocks, 89 shares; unlisted stocks, 380 shares; bonds and war loans, $64,100.

PAPER ISSUES LEAD MONTREAL MARKET

Brompton Attracts Attention, Closing With 2-Point Gain.

MONTREAL, Oct. 21.—The market on the local stock exchange today was distinctly bullish in tone, with advances from fractions to four points recorded in thirteen stocks.

The papers attracted most attention, Brompton leading the market and most of the issues made good gains. Brompton closed with a two-point gain. Laurentide advanced net 3¼ points at 77¾. Spanish River common sold up four points to 62, closing at the top, while the preferred gained 2¼ points to 71¾. Abitibi gained ½-point to 32¾ and Riordon advanced two points to 5 on news of the reopening of the Kipawa plant.

Other stocks to show a tendency to recede inclded Canada Steamships preferred, which declined ¼-point to 53¾ and the common was down 1¾ points to 18¼. Detroit United Railway sold ½-point lower at 71½. Dominion Glass declined ⅛-point to 63 and Asbestos and Ontario Steel Products lost one point each. Gains were made of one point each by Canadian Car preferred, Dominion Bridge and Lyall. National Breweries was up ⅜-point to 55⅞ on fairly active trading, and Dominion Glass preferred gained 2½ points to 58, on sales on only 40 shares.

Bond and bank trading was inclined to be quiet.

Total sales — Listed stocks, 6.935 shares; bonds and war loans, $98,400.

Canadian Grain Markets

WINNIPEG.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 21.—The local wheat market exhibited further strength today, all future months making fairly substantial gains. A feature of the market was the greatly reduced hedging sales in the pit and the extremely light offerings of cash wheat. The tendency now seems to be for the farmer to hold his wheat for higher prices. After a slight reaction from the high of the day October closed 3⅜c better; November 3⅝c up; December, 3⅛c up, and May 2½c better. In sympathy with wheat, the future coarse grains were stronger today, the October option for oats closing ⅝c better; October barley advanced 2c; flax 1¼c and rye 1½c, with the other future months showing large gains. There was a good demand for cash wheat, but limited offerings resulted in but a slight volume of trade being worked. Premiums were unchanged to ¼c better.

There was little change in the cash coarse grains division.

LOCAL MARKET BUSY SATURDAY MORNING

Eggs Vary Greatly in Price—Fowl Plentiful; Apples Abundant.

There was a large attendance at the local market Saturday morning. Many farmers were asking as high as 65c a dozen for eggs; a few were selling eggs of a guaranteed quality at 47c a dozen retail. The majority were, however, receiving 55c a dozen. The demand was good.

Live hogs took a drop in price, and are now quoted at $8 to $8.25 per cwt.

Potatoes were selling at $2 a bag in five-bag lots, and from $2.15 to $2.25 for a single bag. There are large quantities of potatoes being shipped into the city at $1.75 a bag.

There was a large quantity of poultry on the market. Dressed chickens took a drop in price, and are selling at 25c to 28c a pound wholesale, and 30c a pound, retail. Old fowl, dressed, sold at 23c to 25c a pound.

No change was noted in the prices of apples and the supply was good. According to the Government inspector of fruits there have been no A1 apples on the market this season. They have all been domestics.

ASKS MEANING OF CARGOES OF WAR MUNITIONS

Saw Government Ship Unloading Live Shells At Port Levis.

CAME FROM ENGLAND

Fairness To British Government, Says King, Demands An Answer.

OTTAWA, Oct. 21.—(By Canadian Press.)—In a letter written by himself to the prime minister, copies of which were given to the Canadian Press tonight, Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, leader of the Liberal party, places a series of questions publicly before Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, respecting purchase and shipments of munitions from England to Canada during the present summer, and states that these questions are "all-important, and are deserving of an immediate and explicit reply."

In explaining the manner of putting his questions, the Liberal leader stated that had Parliament been in session he would have questioned the Government in the House. However, since Parliament is dissolved, he has taken the present course as one which places the questions before the prime minister as publicly as would have been done had Parliament been sitting.

Saw Cargo Unloaded.

Mr. King's letter follows:

"Ottawa, Oct. 21, 1921.

"Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, K.C., P.C.,
"Prime minister of Canada,
"Ottawa, Ont.

"Dear Mr. Meighen:

"On my return journey from the Maritime Provinces, on the afternoon of the day before yesterday, as the train stopped at Levis, Que., I took advantage of the few moments' wait at the station to walk so far as the Levis wharf. Observing that one of the vessels of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine, the 'Canadian Runner,' was docked at the wharf, I walked toward where the vessel was in order to see the nature of the cargo which was being unloaded. To my surprise I found that the ship's cargo was composed, apparently exclusively, of munitions of war in the nature of 'high explosive' shells. From 30 to 40 soldiers in uniform were engaged in unloading the vessel. On the landing and the embankment, over an area comprising several hundred square yards, boxes upon boxes, filled apparently with these high explosive shells, were piled one upon the other to an average height of about four feet. In addition, on a railway siding paralleling the wharf, I counted nine box-cars into which the explosives were being loaded, all of which were more or less filled. There appeared to be many more carloads of shells aboard the ship. The boxes I saw were marked: 'Fire or destroy before 6:25,': the meaning evidently being that after June, 1925, the effectiveness of the munitions would not be guaranteed.

Come From England.

"On inquiry I was told that the munitions had come to Canada from England; that they were being distributed to ordnance stores throughout Canada, not to ocean ports such as Esquimalt and Halifax only, but to supply depots and stores in all the provinces, including the city of Quebec itself. I was further informed that the S.S. Canadian Runner of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine was the fifth vessel of the Government fleet to have come from England laden with high explosives of the character described, and those cargoes have been unloaded at, and distributed from, the port of Levis since the return from England of yourself, Mr. Guthrie, the minister of militia and defence, and Mr. Ballantyne, the minister of marine and naval affairs.

"Were Parliament in session I should, of course, deem it my duty immediately to question yourself and your ministers with regard to this whole matter. Parliament, however, is dissolved. Under the circumstances ti has seemed to me that my obvious duty to the people of Canada is to bring this matter at once to your attention and to address to you in public the questions, which, had Parliament been in session, I would have addressed to you across the floor of the House of Commons.

On What Authority.

"1. Am I right in believing that it is at the instance of the Government of Canada that the Canadian Government steamer Canadian Runner has been employed to bring to Canada the munitions of war being unloaded at Levis this week, and that they are being bought and paid for in England out of the moneys contributed through taxation by the people of Canada? If the munitions being unloaded from the Canadian Runner are not for the Government of Canada, or are not being paid for by the Government, for whom are they intended, and how have they been obtained?

"2. Is the British Government in any way a party to the shipment of these munitions and does the shipment owe its origin directly or indirectly to action taken by the conference of premiers recently attended by you in London? In justice to the British Government, I think a very clear statement should be made by you as to this.

"3. To what points in Canada, or elsewhere, are the munitions being distributed, and to what uses is it intended they shall be put?

"4. Is it true that other shiploads of munitions have been brought to Canada from England or abroad during the present year; and if so, what quantities have come to our shores since Parliament adjourned in June last?

"5. Finally, if these munitions are for the Government of Canada, on what authority of the Parliament of Canada, and under what appropriation made by Parliament have these or any other munitions been purchased outside of Canada during the present year?

Two Years After Vote.

"The only public accounts thus far published by the Government since the introduction of demobilization expenditures are those for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1920. The recognized source of information as to expenditures is the public accounts, but the information contained therein for 1919-20 was not made available for public use until two years after the introduction of the vote under this appropriation. Reference to these accounts discloses that out of the 'demobilization appropriation' for 1919-20, the enormous sum of $4,563,176.24 was paid by the Government of Canada for ammunition 'from various sources,' and the report of the department of militia and defence shows that of this amount $578,897.32 was expended in Canada and $3,784,278.92 expended overseas. Where, at the present time, are the munitions thus purchased?

"Parliament was given clearly to understand that no part of demobilization appropriation would be used for purposes other than those of demobilization. The war over, it certainly was never contemplated that any portion of the demobilization appropriation would be used for the purchase of munitions. If, without any authority of the Parliament of Canada in the way of specific appropriation for the purchase of munitions the colossal sum of $3,784,278.92 was expended overseas during 1919-00, out of a vote designated demobilization appropriation, what, may I further ask, may not be expected in the way of like purchases and payments out of the demobilization appropriation which the Government obtained from Parliament for the two fiscal years since 1919-20, the details of which, owing to the Government's policy of withholding information and delaying the publication of reports, are not as yet accessible to the public and will not be accessible before another session of Parliament?

Still Demobilizing.

"In the sessions of 1920, on account of demobilization, the sum of $38,250,900 was appropriated in addition to the $350-000,000 in 1919.

"In the session of 1921—the session just ended—the further sum of $7,099,880 was appropriated, still on account of 'demobilization.'

"As respects each of the capital appropriations on demobilization account, I would ask whether any part has gone towards the purchase of munitions, either at home or abroad; and, if so, how much? In particular, is any part of the appropriation for demobilization account for the present year being paid out for the munitions at present being unloaded at Levis, Quebec?

"You will realize that, in view of the approaching international conference on disarmament at Washington, the extent of unemployment in Canada during the last year and at the present time, and the representations made to the returned soldiers with respect to public moneys available for purposes of relief, those questions are all-important and are deserving of an immediate reply.

"Yours sincerely,
"W. L. MACKENZIE KING."

Clandeboye

Clandeboye, Oct. 21.—The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church, Clandeboye, held a very successful chicken supper and concert on Oct. 18. The supper was served in the schoolroom of the church, which was beautifully decorated with ferns and potted plants, and a profusion of autumn flowers. W. E. Williams presided in a pleasing manner. The concert consisted of instrumental solos by R. Hodgins, duets by Mrs. W. Gibson and Mrs. Zurbrigg, and vocal solos by Mr. Wilkins and Rev. Mr. Gifford. The dramatic recitations given by Gordon Fowell and little Miss Charlotte Lackey were greatly enjoyed. There was such an abundance of good things provided that an auction to dispose of chickens and cakes was held at the end of the concert. Good prices were realized, and the newly-elected president, Mrs. M. Love, and her aids are to be congratulated on the successful evening.

Thousands Give Lord Beatty Rousing Welcome At New York

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—His gold-braided cap cocked jauntily over his left ear, Admiral Earl Beatty landed at New York today to receive a hale and hearty welcome from thousands assembled at the historic Battery wall. By his side was Rear Admiral Hugh Rodman of the United States navy, who had served in the North Sea during the stirring days of the war with the gallant fighter commanding the Grand Fleet.

Greeted at the Battery by Lieutenant Governor Wood, after a triumphal voyage up the harbor on the tug Vigilant, to which he had transferred at quarantine from the Aquitania, Admiral Beatty motored up Broadway to the plaudits of thousands of persons lining the great canyon. At the city hall he paused to hear Mayor Hylan welcome him to the city, and then he continued his journey up town to the home of Marshall Field, his host while in New York.

Sunday he leaves for Washington, on his way to attend the American Legion convention in Kansas City.

Accompanying the admiral to the United States were his wife, the former Miss Ethel Field of Chcago; their son, the Hon. Peter Beatty, aged 12, and Miss Gwendolyn Field, Lady Beatty's niece.

The admiral was wearing his undress uniform, heavy with its gold lace, and on his chest were spread a myriad of medals, including the Distinguished Service Cross conferred on him by the United States. Birth records don't lie, but Britain's twentieth century Nelson looked not a day over 40. United States citizens were not the only ones to greet the admiral. Lined up to wave him welcome were a number of former British soldiers. As had been said, they came to wave, but they ended by "shaking," for, sighting their uniforms, Earl Beatty sought them out.

BIBLE SOCIETY PLEAS FOR HELP FROM PUBLIC

The Bible Society makes its appeal to the people of London Monday. This world-wide organization needs much aid, as it has suffered all manners of difficulties caused by increased cost of production, freight charges, packing costs and adverse exchange rates.

The Bible Society works in twenty-seven countries, employing 1,000 colporteurs and Bible women, distributes the Bible in 538 languages and supplies 40 missionary societies at two-fifths of the actual cost with most of the scriptures they require.

CLAIMS WHEAT POOL NO VALUE TO FAR

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE, Man., Oct. 21.—Speaking here last night in the interest of Harry Leader, the Progressive candidate, in the constituency, Hon. George Langley, formerly minister of municipal affairs in the Saskatchewan Government, dealt with the proposal for a new wheat pool, recently announced by Prime Minister Meighen.

"What benefit would it be to the west?" 'asked Dr. Langley. "In so far as the price of wheat was concerned, neither Mr. Meighen's pool nor a voluntary pool would have the slighest effect. Any pool would have to use the grain exchange or sell at the price controlled by the exchange," he maintained, "and under the control of a wheat board the price of flour would have to be regulated."

In speaking of the tariff the former minister said that the industries say that unless they are giving protection they cannot exist.
