The copy filmed here has been reproduced thanks to the generosity of:

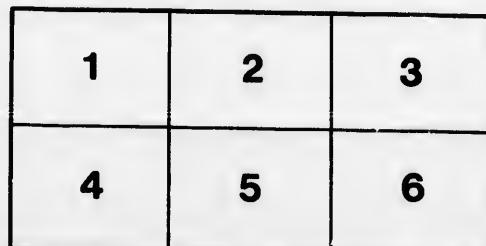

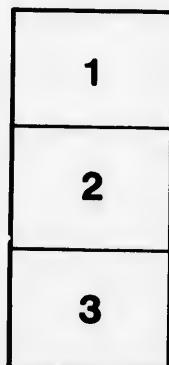

National Library of Canada

The images appearing here are the best quality possible considering the condition and legibility of the original copy and in keeping with the filming contract specifications.

Original copies in printed paper covers are filmed beginning with the front cover and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression, or the back cover when appropriate. All other original copies are filmed beginning on the first page with a printed or illustrated impression, and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression.

The last recorded frame on each microfiche shall contain the symbol → (meaning "CONTINUED"), or the symbol ▽ (meaning "END"), whichever applies.

Maps, plates, charts, etc., may be filmed at different reduction ratios. Those too large to be entirely included in one exposure are filmed beginning in the upper left hand corner, left to right and top to bottom, as many frames as required. The following diagrams illustrate the method:

L'exemplaire filmé fut reproduit grâce à la générosité de:

Bibliothèque nationale du Canada

Les images suivantes ont été reproduites avec le plus grand soin, compte tenu de la condition et de la netteté de l'exemplaire filmé, et en conformité avec les conditions du contrat de filmage.

Les exemplaires originaux dont la couverture en papier est imprimée sont filmés en commençant par le premier plat et en terminant soit par la dernière page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration, soit par le second plat, selon le cas. Tous les autres exemplaires originaux sont filmés en commençant par la première page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration et en terminant par la dernière page qui comporte une telle empreinte.

Un des symboles suivants apparaîtra sur la dernière image de chaque microfiche, selon le cas: le symbole → signifie "A SUIVRE", le symbole ▽ signifie "FIN".

Les cartes, planches, tableaux, etc., peuvent être filmés à des taux de réduction différents. Lorsque le document est trop grand pour être reproduit en un seul cliché, il est filmé à partir de l'angle supérieur gauche, de gauche à droite, et de haut en bas, en prenant le nombre d'images nécessaire. Les diagrammes suivants illustrent la méthode.

BUSINESS AND SOCIAL FORMS.

The series comprises two books, Nos. 1, and 2. These are intended to be used in conjunction with any series of Copy Books in vertical writing. In connection with "Gage's Practical System of Vertical Writing," No. 1 may be made to supplement Copy Books Nos. 4 and 5; No. 2, Copy Books Nos. 6 to 8. These two books will be found to exemplify the various business and social forms in general use. No. 1 gives a thorough training in the structure of a letter, with which all pupils should be thoroughly acquainted; it also gives a training in the making out of bills, receipts, orders, etc.

HINTS TO PUPILS.

LETTER WRITING.

1. Materials.—Paper, envelopes, ink, and blotting paper.
 - (a) Paper—the color should be white, and the size may be either note paper or letter paper, ruled or unruled.
 - (b) Envelopes—these should be white in color and oblong in shape; some prefer the square envelope for social letters. The paper and envelopes should be adapted to each other, so that when the paper is folded, it may be inserted easily in the envelope and yet exactly fill it.
 - (c) Pen—choose a pen adapted to your hand; have a favorite.
 - (d) Ink—use only good black or blue-black ink. Avoid writing with a pencil.
 - (e) Blotting Paper—Never commence writing without a piece of blotting paper at hand.
2. Parts of a Letter.—Heading, address, salutation, body, complimentary closing, signature, and superscriptives.

3. Heading.—The heading comprises the location of the writer and the time of writing. It should be placed in the upper right-hand corner, about one or two inches from the top; when the letter is short the heading should be dropped still lower, so that the space above the heading and below the signature may be about the same. Place the location and date on one line if short, otherwise on two lines, the date beneath the location and a little to the right.

Jan. 15, 1896 or 1/15/96 is the American style of writing the date: 15 Jan. 1896 or 15/1/96 is the English style. Do not use 1st, 2nd, etc., for 1st, 2nd, etc.; and better still, use only 1, 2, etc., except in such expressions as "the 1st inst."

4. Address.—Write this on the left-hand side, commencing at the margin, the name on the first line below the heading, and the place of residence on the next line, a little to the right. Never use both Mr. and Esq., Dr. and M.D., etc. In social letters the address is often written at the end, instead of at the beginning.

Dear Frank.—

In your last letter you ask how we like Manitoba. We have now been here a year, and are well pleased with the country; of course there are blizzards and some very cold weather, but the cold is steadier and the air drier than in Ontario, so that one does not mind it so much.

We have bought another farm, smaller and much better than the other. It is close to the Red River, and having a boat I often row into the city and troll for fish there and back.

With best wishes, I am,

Sincerely yours,

O. J. Mather.

Instructions to Pupil.—Copy the Model on page 6, paying particular attention to punctuation, relative position of the parts, and paragraphing.

Observation.—Notice the margin on the left, and that the name of the person addressed and the salutation commence at this margin. When the leading thought changes, a new paragraph is commenced, and at the same distance from the margin as previous paragraphs.

5. Margin.—The margin on the left should be about a half inch on note paper, and about an inch on letter paper (8 in. by 10 in.).

6. Salutation.—This should be written on the second line below the address, and should commence at the margin. Use Sir, Dear Sir, My dear Sir, Dear Mr. Kennedy, Dear George, Gentlemen, Ladies, etc., according to intimacy. Never use Gents for Gentlemen, Dr. for Dear, nor Dear for dear in My dear Friend, etc.

7. Body.—Commence the body on the next line below the salutation and about an inch from the margin. Begin a new paragraph when the subject changes, and at the same distance from the margin as the first. Some prefer to place the salutation as the beginning of the first paragraph of the body, when the address is placed at commencement.

8. Complimentary Closing.—This may be written on the first or second line below the body, and as follows:—Yours truly, Truly yours, Very truly yours, Yours respectfully, Sincerely yours, Your friend, etc. Commence the first word only with a capital.

9. Signature.—This and the heading should be written legibly, as they are the source from which your correspondent is enabled to direct a letter to you in reply. The complimentary closing is so placed, that the signature when written on the next line below and a little to the right, may not finish too close to the right-hand edge of the paper. It is not considered good taste to attach Mr., Esq., or any title

13. Folding.—Make the first fold in note paper from the bottom, the width being a little less than that of the envelope; then fold down from the top. Insert the letter as it lies before you, the last fold being entered first and so as to touch the front of the envelope. Letter paper requires to be folded once, from bottom to top or far enough from the top to suit the length of the envelope; it may then be treated in the same manner as note paper.

BILLS AND INVOICES.

14. A Bill or an Invoice is an itemized statement of goods purchased at one time, or of services rendered. The statement is called a Bill when given by a retailer to a consumer, and an Invoice when given by a wholesaler to a retailer.

to your own name in writing your signature. A married lady prefixes Mrs. to her signature to distinguish it from that of her husband, when she uses her initials, or from that of an unmarried lady, when she uses her own name or initials. Miss and Mrs. are placed in brackets for the sake of modesty.

(Mrs.) J. L. Hunter,
(Miss) Mary Hunter.

10. Postscripts.—Avoid using them. They are used to add some forgotten item to a letter after the signature has been attached. Commence the paragraph with P.S., and at the close place your initials.

11. Superscription.—See that the envelope is right edge up—the flap edge. Write the name and title about midway between the top and bottom, and well over to the left; then the post office box, or street and number; next the city, town, or post office, and the province or state. Each succeeding line should commence a little farther to the right than the preceding one, the last not ending too close to the right hand edge. The name and title on the envelope should be consistent with those in the address.

12. Stamp.—Place the stamp right side up, on the upper right-hand corner, with its edges parallel to the edges of the envelope. Always enclose a stamp when asking for information unless from a regular correspondent; and do not stick it down by one corner—put it in loose.

 $\frac{50}{100}$ Dollars, in full of account.

R. J. Hill.

19. Various Receipts.—The above forms of Receipt may be made to answer for any purpose by changing "on account" to "in full of all demands;" "for rent up to date;" "for rent of house No. 27 King St., to May 1;" or other suitable expression.

20. Clerk's Signature.—When a clerk or agent signs his employer's name to a receipt or other document, he should write his own name or initials below, prefixed by the word per.

ORDERS.

21. An Order is a written request to pay money or deliver goods on account of the person signing the order.

For Money.

Mr. R. Stevens, please deliver to Mr. D. Smart or order, Twenty-five and $\frac{50}{100}$ Dollars in goods, and charge to account of D. R. Calder.

22. Negotiable.—Both of these orders are negotiable, that is, D. Smart may transfer them to another person; but he must endorse the second one before transferring it. Thus D. R. Calder may pay any person presenting them.

23. Endorsing.—When endorsing any paper, sign your name across the top of the back. The top is the left hand end.

MISCELLANEOUS EXERCISES.

NOTE.—In the exercises below, pupils are to supply the names and dates of Bills, etc., when not mentioned.

1. Write the following superscriptions of envelopes:—
T. A. Scott, B.A., 15 Lorne Ave., Montreal, Que.; Rev. Dr. S. Chambers, 23 Grange Road, New York, U.S.; Prof. Wm. Saenger, Markham St., Halifax, N.S.; Sir Isaac Pitman, 11 Cornhill, London, Eng.; Hon. Wm. Patterson, M.P., Charlottetown, P.E.I.; Hon. Sir Oliver Mowat, M.P.P., Toronto, Ont.

2. Write an application for the following advertisement, and address the envelope:

"Wanted—Youth as Student. R. S. Murray, architect, Board of Trade Buildings, Toronto, Ont."

3. Make out a Bill for the following items: 2 lbs. Glue @ 25c., 1 pr. T Hinges 30c., 6 lbs. Wire Nails @ 45c., 2 gals.
