The first annual gathering of the Babes' Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary of St. James' Church, Kentville, was held on the lawn of the Rectory on Wednesday, August 1st, from 3 to 5.30. There was a fair gathering of mothers and babes. The babes presented their yearly offering and the Rector gave a short address. The children enjoyed themselves with games and the Woman's Auxiliary served refreshments.

Farm Boot For Summer Wear

Here at last is the perfect combination of boot and moccasin, and of Crome-tanned and Oil-tanned leathers.

The general shape is that of a moccasin—but the boot is built on a last, with a long, solid counter to hold up the heel. It has all the easy, foot-fitting comfort of a moccasin, and at the same time it will stand up and keep its shape with any boot. They wear any other boots of their kind on the market, and give solid comfort and satisfaction every day.

We are proud of Kentville, Red Cross Workers, you deserve to be praised—and we praise you. Such a concentrated effort shows the value of your entire co-operation and is indeed, a proof to the doubting Thomas that women can work in unison. By your united effort you have earned in a comparatively short time, slightly less than a Canadian private earns in three years—much more, than an English Tommy.

But they tell us that 'tho' it is in such engagements as the Somme and Vimy Ridge, that the people glory—still to the 'man behind the gun'—it is the steady undercurrent of heroism, the bull-dog characteristic of never giving in—that counts. Almost anyone can do big things under the stress of excitement, but it is the worth while society that keeps up the even tenor of its work at the same time. Let Kentville prove itself to have such a society—Red Cross Workers and wishers well of our Boys—and knit and sew and give so long as they fight—and sacrifice—and suffer.—Com.

GAWD 'ELP FRITZ!

By Captain Arthur Hunt Chute (First Canadians)
(Copyrighted by Richard Fletcher and published by permission from New York Chronicle)
"Them's the First Canadians, Alf, they're goin' over the top at the dawn, and may Gawd 'elp Fritz!"

This exclamation I heard from a gunner on the Somme last fall. The First Canadians, the division of blood and iron and fire and storm, was moving up for the attack at the dawn, and Tommy might well exclaim, "Gawd 'elp Fritz!"

Before long Tommy Atkins in like manner will be regarding General Pershing's First Americans, moving up towards the star-shells and the firing line, and I am sure he may exclaim with similar fervor, "Gawd 'elp Fritz!"

The magic name of the First Canadians is a presage of the glory that will yet thrill in the new name, "the First Americans." Rumor has it that the First American division will take over a portion of the line in the north near Dixmude. That place is known as "Easy Street" just now. The Belgians have there been holding the line gently, but with the arrival of General Pershing's men, Fritz may expect to see that place of peace transformed into a "Bloody angle."

Last spring the Australians took up their first sector of the line on the Western front. They were sent to "Plug Street," a comparatively quiet and easy place, then known as "the cradle of the army." There many of Britain's new divisions got in easy stages their first taste of trench warfare.

When the Australians arrived, "Plug Street" was what we called a "couchy spot." It abounded in names like "Sanctuary Lane" and "Saints' Rest." Before the Anzacs were there a month, "Sanctuary Lane" had become "Suicide Alley," and "Saints' Rest" had been transformed into "Snipers Paradise." In the first little affair Fritz scored on the Anzacs, which put the iron into their souls; from that time on the Sabbath calm of "Plug Street" was a memory.

Away up to the left in the bloody salient of Ypres, the Canadians often heard terrific upheavals on their flank. At first they looked askance, for they were supposed to have a monopoly of trouble in their own evil salient. Later they were enlightened, and between "Stand to" and "Stand down" the sentries on the rim of the firing trench, hearing the far-off din, would wink and whisper to each other, "That's the Anzacs raising their own little Hell down on 'Plug Street'." Soon the other flank of the salient will also be a storm centre, and sentries will be whispering to each other, "There's the First Americans raising their own little Hell up at Dixmude."

The Colonial troops have made a name in the fighting line. At first they were regarded with doubt. They were not amenable to the same form of discipline as Thomas Atkins. New wine could not be poured into old bottles, and New World troops could not be forced into Old World soldiers.

We murdered every tradition and blasted every convention until Old England was shocked. But this war has been a new departure and the New World troops have won their place. Into the Camaraderie of New World troops—Canadians, Australians, South Africans and New Zealanders—gladly welcome their American cousins. They will come as one of us. Britain's Colonial troops, and America's citizen-soldiers, will be blood brothers in the fighting line. The same initiative and dash that mark the Canadians and the Anzacs will characterize the man from Texas and the great Southwest in France.

There has been a deal of recrimination and self-depreciation in this country since the war began. America is late in the struggle, but the fighting blood still lives in the country. Let us remind those who would belittle the military prowess of the United States that it is only a generation back to the American Civil War when the United States gave to the world some of the finest military traditions of history.

Today in the staff colors in England all candidates for advancement must pass in Henderson's "Life of Stonewall Jackson." That famous graduate of West Point has become a mentor to the strategists of the world.

Light Horse Harry Lee, and Phil Sheridan, and General Grant, and Forrest of Forrest Cavalry, are all heroes whom I, as a Britisher, claim from America's Valhalla. In the stirring days which are ahead, in the days of the flanking movements and dashing cavalry advances, when a true Army de Chasse may take the field, a new galaxy of American names may burst upon us.

Let us hope that as the Uhlan Patrols sang "Deutschland, Deutschland, Uber Alles" thru devastated Belgium, and in the woods outside of Paris; so General Pershing's men may sing America's true songs of Liberty across the Rhine. Let us hope that the guns of my old division, the First Canadians, and the guns of the "First Americans," will roll together down the Unter den Linden. The glory of the "First Americans" in the future—but that future is secure.

Arthur Hunt Chute.

EAT VEGETABLES AND BE HEALTHY

Advice of Government Expert To Brampton Women—Canning Methods.

Toronto Globe

Brampton's women, who, incidentally, send 300 and sometimes more, pairs of socks every month, gathered over a hundred strong in the Armories there yesterday, and listened for three hours to Mrs. Woelard of the Department of Agriculture speaking on the best way to can fruits and vegetables. Mrs. Woelard is a home-made cook, who credits her mother with instilling the ideas of food economy which she now gives out so clearly in every centre to which the Women's Institutes call her.

Perfect cleanliness and sterilization are her watchwords. "Never use a dishcloth for anything, not even to wipe the table, when you are canning fruit," she says; goes on to explain all about the germs which gather under the rubber rings, which are thrown into their bottles when the latter are put away empty.

"You may not see those spores," says Mrs. Woelard, "but they'll be there, and if you don't get them they'll get you, or, rather, your fruit or vegetables, both will spoil, and you'll wonder why." So she insists that jars must be put into cold water, which is to be brought to the boil, and boiled three minutes; and she further says that the "intermittent method" is the only truly safe one for the sterilizing of vegetables and fruits after they are put in the jar.

The Intermittent Method. Beans, spinach, carrots and peas, for example, are blanched, that is, boiling water is to be poured over them, and they are to be left to stand for five minutes. This will remove the slightly acid taste that may be long to them. They are then plunged into cold water, and from that drained, and packed into sterilized jars. Beans may be cut up, but Mrs. Woelard favors placing them in the jars lengthwise, as "they look better," she says. The gems are then to be placed on a rack in a boiler of water, which with the covers only partly screwed on (or expansion may break the glass) and boiled for twenty minutes. Take out, screw tops lightly, and set to cool for a day. Half unscrew the next day, boil twenty minutes more, take out, screw tightly and the third day repeat the unscrewing and boiling for twenty minutes longer. By this means the spores which have not been killed by the first or second boiling will be finished off, and the vegetables or fruit will be completely sterilized and will be sure to keep.

Nature's Best Medicine.
The lecturer deplored the fact that Canadians have eaten so few vegetables in the past, and declared that much of the physical unfitness found in the men examined for overseas had been due to the lack of the sulphur, salts, nitrogen, etc. of which the various vegetables are composed.

"Do you know that we don't grow or eat nearly as many vegetables as they did 2,000 years ago" she asked, incidentally, as she demonstrated her talk by means of a oil burner, various kinds of glass jars, the "handy holder," a new wire contrivance into which the jar can be slipped, and which will hold it upright away from the bottom of the boiler and its fellow-jars. Girl Guides from Brampton's new troop, who had been pressed into the service by Mrs. E. G. Graham, the president of the institute, prepared the vegetables, skinning the beetroot which had a preliminary ten-minute boiling, and packing the jars with strawberries when it came their turn to be "demonstrated."

How Conscription Was "Defeated" in Australia.

The Morning Herald, of Sydney, Australia, says:—"That a blunder was made in ever submitting the conscription issue to the people must now be readily accepted by all. A Nation, in seeking such powers as that sought by federal parliament should have taken counsel of its fighting men only. It should have been a question put to men of military age ONLY, and put in another form. Instead of that it was decided by the women's vote, and the vote of old men and women, frightened by the tales put up by the unscrupulous laborites, who didn't hesitate to put their great organization to work to accomplish the downfall of those above them in the political world not for the sake of a principle, but for the sake of office. The Loafers and Shirker only too readily followed their lead, and they, together with those who studied only their own short-sighted, selfish ends, gave them the victory for the time being."

WHY WOMEN WRITE LETTERS

To Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co.

Women who are well often ask "Are the letters which the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. are continually publishing, genuine?" "Are they truthful?" "Why do women write such letters?"

In answer we say that never have we published a fictitious letter or name. Never, knowingly, have we published an untruthful letter, or one without the full and written consent of the woman who wrote it.

The reason that thousands of women from all parts of the country write such grateful letters to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. is that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought health and happiness into their lives, once burdened with pain and suffering.

It has relieved women from some of the worst forms of female ills, from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, nervousness, weakness, stomach troubles and from the blues.

It is impossible for any woman who is well and who has never suffered to realize how these poor, suffering women feel with respect to health; their keen desire to help other women who are suffering as they did.

SUMMING UP

Dr. Michael Clarke, M. P., who has recently turned from Laurier supporter to an ardent conscriptionist, in a recent speech summed up the situation in these words:

"There is only one alternative policy to winning the war, and that is winning elections. That is the only alternative. If we analyze this thing to the bottom, we cannot ignore the fact that this election is being forced at this time by the refusal of extension, not with a view to helping on the war for the honor of Canada and the Empire, but with a view to exchanging the people in office for those opposed to them and with a view to securing the fruits of office."

"In other words, those who are notoriously doing the least to win this war are forcing this country into the turmoil of a general election, when the world and all that is best in it is being animated by a spirit of service, of sacrifice, and unselfishness for the most selfish of reasons—to satisfy petty personal ambitions when the fate of the world is at stake."

"I for one hesitate to stand forth as one of a group of the only selfish men to be found in the British Empire or in the civilized world today."

Geo. H. Chistolm, formerly of the Digby "Courier" and since May last its foreman is now its manager. Mr Chistolm was foreman in the Windsor Tribune office and the Courier office before going to Winnipeg where he spent 11 years. He is, therefore, a newspaper man of experience who will no doubt keep the Courier up to its present high standard.

Outlook

CANNING FRUIT WITHOUT SUGAR.

There are many stories of the fruits and vegetables that rot on the ground for want of a market. Happenings of that sort this summer will be nothing short of treachery—a clear case of giving comfort and aid to the enemy for food is one of the most important munitions of war.

Every woman who stacks up cans and glasses full of food is doing just as good war work as the girls in the munition factories, and she is working on the constructive side—the side that helps to preserve life—not destroy it. Here is work for the pacifist! Canning is a patriotic duty this year—not a domestic expedient.

Canning without sugar is especially pertinent right now, when economy versus luxury, quantity versus fancy quality, is the slogan.

Listen to the voice of the government expert on this theme:

Can the product the same day it is picked. Cull, stem, or seed, and clean the fruit by placing it in a strainer and pouring water over it until it is clean.

Pack the product thoroughly in glass jars or tin cans until they are full; use the handle of a tablespoon, wooden ladle, or table knife for packing purposes.

Pour over the fruit boiling water from a kettle; place rubber-taps and caps in position, partially seal if using glass jars, seal completely if using tin cans.

Place the contained in a sterilizing vat, such as a boiler with false bottom, or other receptacle improvised for the purpose.

If using a hot water bath outfit process for thirty minutes; count time after the water has reached the boiling point; the water must cover the highest jar in the container.

After sterilizing, remove packs, seal glass jars, wrap in paper to prevent bleaching, and store in a dry, cool place.

If you are canning in tin cans it will improve the product to plunge the cans quickly into cold water immediately after sterilization.

When using a steam pressure canner instead of the hot water bath, sterilize for ten minutes with five pounds of steam pressure. Never allow the pressure to go over ten pounds.

London, July 30—Successful air raids on Bruges, Thoroft, Middlekerke and Cheistelle, and Cheistelle, German bases in Belgium, were announced in the admiralty statement today.

JAPANESE SHIPS SUNK IN THE ATLANTIC.

New York, July 27—The Japanese freight steamships, Kagoshima Maru, 4,566 tons gross register, and the Shigozan Maru a vessel of 2,827 tons gross, were sunk by German submarines in the Atlantic ocean on July 20, according to cable advices received by the marine underwriters here today.

The Kagoshima Maru was on her way from an American port to Europe and was lost about seventy miles off the French coast. The other ship was on her way back to this country from Genoa.

The Shigozan Maru, before her purchase early this year by the Japanese was the Mexican steamship General Y Pesquera and was built in Flushing, Holland, in 1892. The Kagoshima Maru was built in 1898 in England, and was formerly the steamship Wilhelmina. The crews of both vessels were saved.

12 Cents a Day for Food Each Day is Plenty

Cambridge, Mass., July 30—"Any person who spends more than 24 cents a day on food can be said to be living in luxury," declared Professor Lawrence J. Henderson, of Harvard, in a lecture today at the university.

"People, by buying the right kind of food, should be able to live on 10 or 12 cents a day. Good buying is essential. The thought that one must have eggs for breakfast every morning and meat at dinner in unnecessary."

Professor Henderson approved of corn bread, white bread, dates and cheap but nourishing meats to cut the cost of living.

"The high cost of living can be cut only through the kitchens," he said. "Our cooks are far from economical, the house-keeper of today has lost art of buying, and nearly 25 per cent of food matter is wasted in the kitchen."

ARMY OF 1,000,000 MEN

Washington, July 24—An American army of 1,000,000 men for service aboard at once instead of the 500,000 contemplated for the first draft, is foreshadowed by the government's request for an additional $5,000,000,000, made unexpectedly to the senate finance committee today by Mr. McAdoo, sec retary of the treasury.

MODERN MACHINERY SUPERIOR TO HAND WORK

"I the Studebaker plants there are millions of dollars' worth of automobile manufacturing machinery," says J. E. Grady, sales manager of the Studebaker Corporation, Walkerville, Ontario. "The cost of the machines varies from a few hundred dollars to several thousand dollars."

"The motor car manufacturer has led all other industries in the development of accurate scientific and labor-saving machinery. He has had to lead—the nature of his various manufacturing processes demanded special and heretofore unheard of machines to obtain the desired results. And it is generally understood everywhere that skilled mechanics can do better work with machinery of the right kind than by hand."

"The man who forges a steel billet by hand into a given piece or part cannot possibly make two given pieces or parts exactly the same. Unless he has mechanical appliances for exactly measuring the temperature of his forge, he cannot give exactly the same "temper" to each piece of steel. But the same mechanic with the same skill operating with a machine which is absolutely accurate or taking a billet of steel from a heat-treating oven where the temperature of the heat is electrically measured almost to a degree, can obtain the same accuracy and quality in every operation.

"The parts of the Studebaker car are accurate to the one one-thousandth part of an inch wherever accuracy and precision are required. It would be entirely impossible to obtain such accuracy by anything but the most precise and most costly machinery.

"You buy your Studebaker car today. Next year, if you require a new part of any kind, the factory will send a new part which will exactly fit the spot which it is intended to fit. In other words, the parts of that car are interchangeable, and interchangeable simply because each part is made with the same unvarying accuracy and precision. Now, for a manufacturer to approach this ideal in manufacturing, he must have the resources to provide the right kind of machinery."

"There are Studebaker machines which face three sides of the motor casting in one operation—the cost of this machine alone is ten thousand dollars."

"There are other machines which bore sixty seven holes in a cylinder casting in one operation. These holes in each cylinder bear exactly the same relation to each other, because the boring mechanism is always guided through figs which will not admit of a one-thousandth part of an inch difference in any two operations. These machines cost fifteen thousand dollars each."

"Studebaker cylinders are reamed out after they are cast. This reaming machine which operates through a jig with unvarying accuracy, is worth six thousand dollars."

"I might enumerate the five thousand different kinds of machines in the Studebaker factories in the same way, and as I mentioned each one the wonderful precision and efficiency of Studebaker manufacturing would be more and more impressed upon your mind. But I believe I have offered some convincing evidence to bear out my assertion that the Studebaker automobile is built essentially as good as anything can be built by man and modern machinery."

LIGHTNING KILLED FINE PAIR OF CATTLE

Grand Pre, July 28—During a severe electrical storm which passed over this section Friday evening, F. H. Crane lost a valuable pair of working oxen. The loss in this instance is more than personal, as just that much of the country's meat supply has been removed. The particulars of the incident would indicate the necessity of having guards of some kind placed around isolated trees in fields used for grazing.

A beautiful elm, standing just opposite Mrs. Eaton's residence under which the cattle sought shelter, caught the current and carried instant death to two splendid animals. The tree is hardly scarred—only a narrow strip on either side shows on the surface of the bark down to where the cattle were pressing, one each side of the tree, then it passed through the cattle to the ground. Probably had there been any space between the tree and the cattle they would have been uninjured.

THE CORRECT WAY TO TREAT A COLD

A cough is not a distinct disease, it is the result of inflammation caused by a cold. Therefore, the only way to cure a cough is to allay the inflammation which invades the delicate bronchial tubes. All of the narcotics in the world will not correct the conditions which cause a cough—they simply deaden the senses and afford temporary relief.

Penslar White Pine and Spruce Balsam with Menthol will promptly soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and overcome the nervous irritation. Price, 25c and 50c the bottle.

THIRD YEAR OF THE WAR
Just Three Lines of Defence Taken

LONDON, July 31—After weeks of pent up expectancy, Haig loosed his great 1917 offensive just before dawn this morning. Along a front of 25 miles in Flanders, from just north of Armentieres to Dixmude on the Yser, the British infantry powerfully supported by French troops swarmed over the enemy's first three lines of defence at most points to a depth of from 1,000 yards to a mile and a half.

Eleven villages and towns were wrested from the Germans and more than 3,500 prisoners have been counted so far. All the objections of the first day's assault were attained, General Haig reports, and at several points both the British and the French infantry crashed forward after reaching the lines under attack.

In spite of the fact that for three weeks the opposing batteries in Flanders had been carrying on what was acknowledged by both sides to be the mightiest artillery duel of the entire war, the allied stroke came as a dramatic surprise to all military observers. Its ultimate importance cannot yet be estimated as it is still in its first stages. But, coming at a moment when Russia and her armies at the front are confronted with collapse, it is bound to have a moral effect second to that of no other military movement this year.

Many dramatic events featured the initial assault of the grand offensive. At one point on the line of attack the British troops were forced to charge thru their own barbed wire to prevent the fleeing Germans from escaping.

In other sectors the task of the infantry was made easy by the deadly work of the giant, lumbering tanks which raked the enemy's trenches and dug-outs with an enflaming fire, while straddled, in many cases, across the big ditches.

Never in history, all reports from the front agree, has a battle been preceded by such destructive and sustained gunfire. The roar of the cannon during last night and this morning was distinctly heard in London and throught Southern England. Under this deluge of steel 6 Bavarian divisions were forced to retire and give way to fresh troops. The first and second German lines were laid in ruins and even beyond the ground was torn up as by an earthquake.

Will Land At Pier 2 Today—

Nine hundred civilians and over five hundred furloughed and invalided officers and men are to be landed at Pier 2 this forenoon according to the information given to the returned soldiers reception committee. The landing of another party of returned soldiers, a great number of whom are amputation and other serious cases may be delayed until the following morning. The interruption of traffic caused by the storm in Maine and Quebec is said to have necessitated changes in the plans of conveying the upper province and western soldiers to their homes. Hereafter the troops trains have been given precedence over the trains carrying the women and children arriving from overseas and this plan will probably be adhered to with today's arrivals.

HALIFAX NEVER MORE ATTRACTIVE.

Censorship forbids the going into details but this much can be said, one of the biggest attractions of the Provincial Exhibition this year, from Sept. 12th to Sept. 20th, will be Halifax itself. Without the violating the strict rules of the censor, it can be said that Halifax was never as interesting as it is at present. It has been made a port of examination by the British Admiralty, and scores upon scores of ships belonging to every maritime nation have been taken into Halifax Harbour and given the closest scrutiny, so that nothing may get to the Huns. So great has been the volume of shipping that only the Harbour but also Bedford Basin has been alive with ships of all shapes, sizes and kinds.

Halifax is today an Empire Port with all the significance, importance and picturesqueness that the name implies. Her streets are thronged with the sailors of many nations, jolly Jack Tars from Britain's mighty fighting ships, soldiers garrisoning the City, soldiers completing their training, and eager to board the troops ships for France, and soldiers back from the Front wounded and covered with decorations.

All this life, activity and picturesqueness will be heightened to a whirl of wonderful attraction when the thousands pour into the City to see the Big Show from September 12th to September 20th. It promises to be one of the biggest throngs ever, for the Fair in Halifax will be the only Exhibition this year in the Maritime Provinces, with the exception of that in Charlottetown later.

And Manager Hall is keenly alive to the situation. He has made a tour of the larger shows of the United States, and secured the biggest Midway attraction that can be bought; the Prize List for the live stock branch has been boosted twenty per cent; all other branches will be made greater yet.

MR. PUGLEY'S SOMERSAULT.

In the House of Commons a few days ago Hon. Wm. Pugsley, one of Laurier's ex-Ministers, declared that when last year he voted for an extension of life of parliament he made a mistake which he did not intend to repeat this year. With the anti-war element of Neither did he. He lined up Quebec and voted for an election.

But we remember that in September, 1915, when an election was talked about, Mr. Pugsley held up his hands in holy horror and according to the Manitoba Free Press in the course of an interview in the city of Winnipeg he expressed himself as follows:

"The present circumstances are so grave from the standpoint of Canada and the Empire that it would be deplorable in my opinion to have the people divided upon party questions."

"Another of the reasons why I favor putting off the war is because I think it would be a great pity to hold one just when the energies of all the people of Canada, and especially the members of the government who are primarily charged with the duty of attending to the recruiting and equipment of the soldiers should be devoted to this one end."

Such good reasons as these in 1915 are doubly more cogent reasons why Canada should not be divided on party questions Canada's energies of every kind should be wholly given to win the war and give assistance to our bravely dying but steadily diminishing forces at the front.

YOUR VACATION.

Would be a complete round of pleasure if you attend the Provincial Exhibition at Halifax, Sept. 12th to 20th.

PUBLIC MEETING

On Third Anniversary of Commencement of War

Tomorrow, Aug. 4th will be the commencement of the fourth year in the titanic struggle now convulsing Europe and effecting the whole world. The present conditions on the war fronts make it more imperative than ever that every effort should be used henceforth to hasten the end of the struggle. To this end the resources in men and means of Great Britain, Canada and all the other colonies must be rallied to the cause of humanity and freedom.

Lieutenant Governor Grant is sending out notices to all centres in the Province requesting that a public meeting be called on the anniversary date and resolutions made or passed showing our determination to continue our efforts in winning the war. Accordingly Mayor Pelton has called a public meeting of the citizens of the Town and all others who can attend from the surrounding country to a gathering to be held at the Band Stand, Kentville on Saturday evening, August 4th at eight o'clock. Short addresses will be given by H. H. Wickwire, M.P.P., W. E. Roscoe, K.C., Lloyd Meyrick, Esq., and other, whose consent has not been obtained in time to place in print Major B. W. Roscoe, D.S.O., and Capt. F. W. Wickwire will be present and the audience will have a chance to greet and perhaps hear from these men who have so distinguished themselves in the war. A band will be present, probably the 246th from Aldershot. If fine there will no doubt be an immense concourse of people present.

Major Cutten has also consented to give an address. If stormy the meeting will take place in Pastime Hall.

ROSSLEY'S BIG MUSICAL COMEDY CO

Tonight and Saturday Night Will be the Final Performances

The Rossley's have presented many attractions during their stay in Kentville, but none that will equal the famous "Blackbirds," the bill to be presented tonight and Saturday night.

The performance consists of a complete Minstrel Show with Kathleen Barnes and Clara Squires as the funny little end men, Madame Rossley as interlocutor and our old friend "Jack" and the balance of his wonderful company completing the circle. The songs, jokes and choruses are all new and up-to-date. A special feature of this bill will be the two Costello children in a neat little sketch. These two little mites are only seven years of age, and their performances are wonderful.

The show will be prefaced by a Famous Players five reel feature "The Travelling Salesman." Altogether it will be a big fun show from start to finish.

DELEGATION TO OTTAWA

On Tuesday a delegation left for Ottawa to interview the Government in reference to the fruit embargo. They were:

A. E. McMahon, manager representing Central Fruit Co. Manning K. Ellis, secretary, representing N. S. Fruit Growers.

W. H. Chase, Esq., representing exporters.

Sam Chute, representing Fruit Shipping Co. of Berwick.

There seems good reason to expect that even with shortage in shipping for exporting produce that the Dominion Government will be able to arrange for some relaxing in the fruit embargo this fall so as to allow some of our good crop of apples to reach the European market. This delegation will do all in its power to further that end.

Mrs. William Muir of Dalhousie East has received the very sad intelligence that her son Pte. J. Lawrence Muir was killed in action on July 5th.

A Summer Beard on a Sunburned Face is one of the toughest jobs a razor is ever asked to handle. It's a job that needs a

Gillette Safety Razor

YOUR beard grows its fastest in the summer. Your face is more sensitive. The sun burns your skin; the wind cracks it. Perspiration and dust settle around the roots of the beard.

Then it is that the Gillette is most appreciated. Guarded—adjustable—matchless in its keenness—it shaves smooth, as close as you like, and cool. No pulling or irritation—nothing but grateful comfort, especially for the man whose skin is over-tender or whose beard is over-tough.

If you are sickling close to the job this summer, a Gillette shave every morning will make it easier. If you're taking a vacation trip, a Gillette in your grip will be a friend indeed.

Standard Sets, "Bulldogs" and "Aristocrats" may be had at any hardware, drug or jewelry store for $5.00—Pocket Editions at $6 to $6—Combination Sets at $6.50 up.

DECLARE FOR AN ONTARIO LIBERAL EDITORS' RESOLUTION.

Signed Expression of Opinion That No Candidates Should Be Supported Not Favoring Bill

TORONTO, July 26—A conference of Ontario Liberal newspaper editors and publishers was held in the Ontario Club this afternoon to discuss the Canadian political situation.

T. H. Preston, ex-poseitor, Brantford, was chairman and after a thorough discussion assent was given to the following expression of opinion, the only dissent being on the part of W. Elliott, of the Mitchell Recorder:

"I—Canada's task is to organize her manpower and resources for the winning of the war, including compulsory military service, conscription of wealth, progressive income tax, increase food production, control of profiteering, nationalization of munition plants, national and personal thrift and economy.

"2—It is essential that our troops be backed up by the needed reinforcements, and that the Liberal party in Ontario should stand squarely for compulsory military service, and that no candidate should be supported who will not support this.

"3—Sir Robert Borden and his government have proved themselves unequal to these tasks. No other surely party government at the present time could deal with them. A war cabinet and government representing both parties, and strong forces of the nation working for the winning of the war, is therefore necessary.

Passed by Association of Medical Health Officers of Nova Scotia at Annual Meeting Held at Halifax, July 3rd, 1917

In view of the fact that small-pox has been reported from various parts of the Province, including Yarmouth, New Waterford, Sydney, North Sydney, Sydney Mines, Louisburg, River Denys Road, Antigonish, Stellarton, near Thorburn, Halifax and near Bridgewater, the Association of Medical Health Officers of Nova Scotia in annual meeting assembled, called the attention of the people of the Province to the imminent danger which now exists and asked for general precautionary measures.

As vaccination has proved to be an almost certain preventive of this disease, the association strongly urges that every unprotected person be at once vaccinated.

The attention of school boards and boards of health is especially called to the good which would result if vaccination were made a condition to the entrance of children into the public schools.

Huns are Dropping Gas Bombs on Children French Remove 400 to Safer Place

Paris, July 31st.—Four hundred small children threatened with death asphyxiating gas bombs, dropped by enemy aviators, were successfully removed today from a small French town near the firing line to a place of safety by the American Red Cross, in response to the first emergency call received at the Parisian headquarters. The first word of the children's condition reached headquarters Thursday afternoon and the next day the Red Cross sent doctors and nurses and a truckload of condensed milk, clothing and drugs for their relief. The children were bathed, fed and provided with clean clothing. They were given medical attention and finally transferred to a safer locality.

As the German aviators are using gas bombs, and it is impossible to equip children properly with gas masks, it has been considered necessary to take them out of the danger zone.

How They Do It in The U. S. A.

"Whoever, when the United States is at war, shall willfully make or convey false reports or false statements with intent to interfere with the operation or successes of the military or naval forces of the United States or to promote the success of the enemies, and whoever, when the United States is at war, shall willfully cause or attempt to cause insubordination, disloyalty, mutiny or refusal of duty in the military or naval forces of the United States or shall willfully obstruct the recruiting or enlistment service of the United States shall be punished by a fine of not more than $10,000 or imprisonment for not more than 20 years or both.

POULTRY FACTS
(American Fruit Grower)

A fruit grower recently told me that he was not getting any eggs and asked me what was the matter. A few questions brought out two important facts: He was carrying over too many hens and he was not feeding a laying ration. I advised him to get some meat scrap and wheat middlings, but he said he could not afford to buy such expensive feed. Let us see.

The cost of feed for the bodily requirements of a hen is about 12 cents per month. But this hen will not lay during the period of high prices for eggs. The returns are nothing but the expense is 12 cts. per month. Put out 3 cents extra for feed of the egg-making kind, and this hen should lay 12 eggs a month worth 40 cents. The return above the cost of feed would be 25 cents per month. Is it not good business to spend 3 cents extra and convert a 12-cent monthly loss into a 25-cent monthly profit?

This reads well—one may say, but does it turn out that way in practice? That is a fair question. For an answer I give a summary of the Fourth Annual International Egg Laying Contest, Storrs, Conn.

There were 1000 birds in the contest. They ate 41 tons of feed costing $1,779.20—$1.80 per bird.

They laid 151,808 eggs, valued at $4,019.57.

The return above the cost of feed was $2,240.37—2.25 per bird.

The best pen of 10 birds laid 2,072 eggs, ate $19.55 worth of feed, but the return above the cost of feed was $38.02—$3.08 per bird.

The worst pen laid 569 eggs, ate $12.23 worth of feed, but the return above the cost of feed was only 41 cents—4 cents per bird.

The highest pen ate $6.30 worth of feed more than the lowest pen, but returned $37.61 more above the cost of feed.

This shows that producing birds eat more than non-producing birds but as in this test both pens received the same ration, the difference in production—1503 eggs—is evidently due to breeding. The best feed will fall with non-laying stock.

One hen laid just one egg during the year. One hen laid 272 eggs. Plymouth Rocks averaged 146 eggs; Wyandottes 164; R. I. Reds 155; White Leghorns, 158 other breeds, 125.

A farm flock of 1000 birds equal to the highest pen would return $3,925 above the cost of feed.

A farm flock of 1000 birds equal to the lowest pen would return $410 above the cost of feed.

A farm flock of 1000 birds equal to the highest individual in the contest would return $4,920 above the cost of feed.

A farm flock of 1000 birds equal to the lowest individual in the contest would return a LOSS of $1,321.

While some boys were playing on a raft in the Avon river at Hantsport on the 23rd of this month, one boy fell overboard and was in great danger of drowning. He had gone down twice and was well under water the third time when little Vernon Rice, son of Mr and Mrs Milledge Rice, of Bridgetown, 14 years old, plunged after him and brought him ashore after a hard tussle. The tide is very swift and the water very deep at the pace of the accident and had it not been for the cool daring of young Rice, the lad would surely have drowned. Vernon Rice is in Hantsport being fitted for an artificial leg, having had one removed nearly to the body several years ago. This is an act that should not go unrewarded. Older boys were on-lookers, but seemed at a loss what to do, all though some of them were good swimmers.

VICTIM

Chicago, July 30—Soldiers of the United States and Great Britain marched shoulder to shoulder through Chicago yesterday in the big allied recruiting drive. The sight of the Killies won one recruit who carried vengeance for the Germans in his heart. A tall, raw-boned man in a gray suit stepped into the British recruiting office, whistling softly. "My little gray home in the West."

"I've been in the west—Wyoming, Montana, California, South Dakota—for twelve years," he announced. "I'm a native of Glasgow. I'm a bridge builder and am going to the front to build bridges, so the rest of you fellows can march into Berlin."

"There was a Scotch girl who went down with the Lusitania. She had been visiting out in Wyoming, where I was and she was a singer. She used to sing 'My Little Gray Home in the West.'"

The man gave his name as Frederick Watson. With seventy-nine other recruits he is on his way to a Canadian concentration camp. The girl who went down with the Lusitania was Miss Mary Nichols.

MONEY IN SARDINES

St. John Paper—There has been a very large run of sardines in the local waters for the last two nights. Tuesday night July 24, Alexander Logan caught eighteen hogheads, and these sold at $40 per hoghead. On July 23 and 24, Alexander Sillipant and partners netted 160 hogheads and sold them at the above price, realizing $6,400. It is reported from all the wires that the sardines are being taken in exceptional large quantities, although waters at the mouth of Courtenay Bay have been getting the best of it.

AUTOINTOXICATION OR SELF-POISONING

The Dangerous Condition Which Produces Many Well Known Diseases.

HOW TO GUARD AGAINST THIS TROUBLE

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" — The Wonderful Fruit Medicine — will Protect You

Auto-intoxication means self-poisoning, caused by continuous or partial constipation, or insufficient action of the bowels.

Instead of the refuse matter passing daily from the body, it is absorbed by the blood. As a result, the Kidneys and Skin are overworked, in their efforts to rid the blood of this poisoning.

Poisoning of the blood in this way often causes Indigestion, Loss of Appetite and Disturbed Stomach. It may produce Headaches and Sleeplessness. It may irritate the Kidneys and bring on Pain in the Back, Rheumatism, Gout, and Rheumatic Pains. It is the chief cause of Eczema — and keeps the whole system unhealthy by the constant absorption into the blood of this refuse matter.

"Fruit-a-tives" will always cure Auto-intoxication or self-poisoning — as "Fruit-a-tives" acts gently on bowels, kidneys and skin, strengthens the bowels and tones up the nervous system.

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At all dealers or sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

H.M.S. Ariadne Was Torpedoed And Sunk By Hun Submarine

London, July 30—The British cruiser Ariadne, of 11,000 tons has been torpedoed and sunk, according to an official statement issued today by the British admiralty.

The statement says that thirty eight of those on board lost their lives.

The Ariadne was an old British cruiser, having been built in 1898. She was 450 feet long 69 feet beam and had a maximum draft of 27 1-2 ft.

Her complement consisted of 677 officers and men. And Ariadne carried sixteen 6 inch guns, 12 12-pounders and a number of smaller guns. She also was equipped with two submerged 19 inch torpedo tubes.

(The cruiser Ariadne has often been in Halifax and her officers and men have frequently met our boys in football matches.)

Why Does it Rain So Much

Why does it rain so much here in the Maritime Provinces?

We have rain overmuch, but in southwestern Saskatchewan the crops are fairly being sunburned and destroyed. The same conditions which prevail in the Maritime Provinces seems to prevail over the great Western Ontario. There wither part of Southern and Southwestern Ontario towards the Ottawa River, the rain conditions this summer very much resemble those of the Maritime Provinces. What is the explanation? A Weather Prophet has ventured in the Toronto Telegram an explanation which out of many current he seems to favor. It blames the meteorological condition upon the continued presence of ice in the north. He says:

"Last winter was very cold and the spring was very late in coming. As a result, the northern half of North America is still cold, and in fact, ice can still be found up at James Bay. Down in the Southern States it has been unusually hot for several months, and tons of water have been evaporated by the sun from the Gulf of California and off the Mexican coast. These warm clouds, laden with moisture, have been wafted north and all the way up pass over hot, dry States, which give added heat to the clouds and take none of their moisture.

"Here in the north it is cold both the land and the lakes are still in winter's embrace, or possibly at a temperature of 60 or so. The warm clouds are light and naturally ride high over the cold lower current. In the sky we see what are commonly called 'mares' tails'—that is, fleecy fanlike patches of cloud—which is caused by the warm and cold air meeting. Naturally the cold of the north causes the warm expanded clouds to contract quickly and all their moisture is condensed and falls as rain.

"June and the first part of July have been cool, and so we could expect nothing else, but when these warm winds came up they would be chilled and we would have copious showers. Now, however, pressure is becoming more distributed, the north is warming up, and the showers for the last few days have been more generally distributed throughout the whole Dominion that in itself is a proof that the north and south are becoming more graduated and the rain is petering out."

PROPER METHODS OF BUTTERMILKING

Few people trouble themselves about the reason that creamery butter is to be preferred to dairy butter but by way of introduction to Bulletin No. 53 of the Dairy and Cold Storage Branch, Ottawa, Dairy Commissioner Ruddle furnishes an explanation. Incidentally, he also points out that a good deal of damage is done to the trade by inferior dairy butter. The bulletin, for which Mr. Geo. H. Barr, Chief of the Dairy Division, is responsible, in concise terms describes the whole process of butter making, tells the utensils that should be used and how they should be used, gives the results of experiments with the separator as regards temperature and variations in speed, deals with the care of cream in cooling and preparing for churning and in pasteurizing gives expert counsel as to salting and working and points to the advisability of attractive packing in parchment paper. He also points out the requirements of the law in branding or marking and supplies practical hints on care of the utensils. Finally, he tells in terse terms how to get the best results in farm dairy work. Both the bulletin and a blue print of the plan for a dairy that is given can be had free by application to the Dairy Commissioner or to the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

(1) First C. P. R. train to Vancouver. (2) Donald A. Smith (Lord Strathcona) driving the last spike of the Canadian Pacific Railway at Craigellachie, B.C., Nov. 7, 1885. (3) Before confederation.

THE Dominion of Canada is celebrating the bi-centenary of Confederation. But what is Confederation? Within the last half century Canada has been confederated at least twice: once when her scattered provinces were united politically to form the Dominion, and again when the builders of the first transcontinental line of steel across the country from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

What was Canada before Confederation? It was a land of vast distances, more or less unannexed, and practically unexplored west of the Great Lakes or east of the Rocky Mountains. When the late Sir Charles Tupper was High Commissioner of Canada in London, just a quarter of a century ago, he delivered an address at St. Petersburg, before the International Railway Congress. He described how Canada, prior to 1867, consisted of three groups of provinces: the Maritime Provinces, Upper and Lower Canada, and British Columbia. These three groups were isolated physically as well as politically.

The Maritime Provinces were separated from "Canada" by a wilderness of forest and food hundreds of miles wide. Canada, in the west, was separated from British Columbia by a thousand miles of forest, a thousand miles of prairie land, and a chain of mountains five hundred miles wide. Which was the real confederation—the one that brought the representatives of the three groups of provinces together in Parliament, or the three thousand miles of steel rails which alone made the political union worth having?

Confederation was first, last and all the time a problem of transportation. British Columbia agreed to join in 1871 not a railway from the western limit of "Canada" to the Pacific Coast and it got the Canadian Pacific.

The political confederation of Canada began in 1841, when Ontario and Quebec, which had been separated in 1793, were reunited. On July 1st, 1867, Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick were united as the Dominion of Canada—the first Federal union in the British Empire. The Prairie Provinces were bought for $200,000 in 1870. British Columbia joined the union in 1871, and Prince Edward Island in 1873, and the inclusion of Newfoundland is more probable every day.

Who made modern Canada by making the confederation of 1867? Certainly, no one man. Sir John Macdonald has been styled the Maker of Canada, but, on the other hand, Sir Charles Tupper declared a few years before his death that without Sir George Etienne Cartier there would have been no confederation. At the first interprovincial conference, held at Quebec in 1864, there were thirty-three representatives present, and these have been termed the Fathers of Confederation.

But that was not by any means the origin of the project. As far back as 1698, Sir Francis Nicholson proposed a confederation of all the English American colonies, and the idea was revived every few years subsequently. To the Hon. A. T. Gait belongs the honor of having first advocated it in Parliament. That was in 1843, and his speech made a tremendous impression all over the country. Confederation was formally adopted as part of the programme of the Cartier Government in 1854, in the following terms:

"The expediency of a federal union of the North American Provinces will be anxiously considered, and communications with the Home Government and the Lower Provinces will be entered into on this subject."

Confederation owes its political success to the men at Ottawa. Its economic success is due to the railway men of Montreal, Mountstephen, Strathcona, R. B. Angus, Van Horne, Shaughnessy, who by linking the steel rails across the continent, linked up the trade between the east and west and annihilated distance. Quebec to-day sells 70% of its manufactures, with the exception of army supplies, west of Winnipeg, and the western prairies provide the wheat for the bread of the east. Moreover, the railway itself has now feeders in its veins on both Atlantic and Pacific, which link China and Japan through Canada with the ports of Great Britain. Canada is now on the highway of traffic round the world, instead of being merely an outpost of the Empire.

THE NEW NORTHWEST PASSAGE (A Colloquy on the Canadian Shore, by Canada: "Here's your Empire route a right of way whose value to compute will tax the prophets."

Britannia: "Links me closer still with all my wondering sons who roam and till the world's wild wastes, and through each paradise, in tropic seas or under southern skies, see, Halifax, Vancouver, Sydney, set fresh steps upon a path whose promise yet even sceptres have hardly measured. Lo, far China brought within a moon or so of us, the way for men and mails and merchandise striking athwart your sea-dividing waves of land; one iron road from deep to deep, well thought well done." (From Pencil, Oct. 16, 1887.)

GREAT WORK OF FRENCH AND BRITISH ENGINEERS

LONDON, July 31—A Rueter dispatch from British headquarters in France, after describing the victorious advance of the British, says that the Yser was crossed at many places. The bridging work was prodigious. One division alone in the course of a single day, succeeded in throwing seventeen bridges across the river on its front.

"The accomplishment of the French troops," continues the correspondent, "evoked the greatest admiration. They threw twenty-nine bridges across the Yser, pushed on and repeatedly made deep advances."

RAISED $20,000 BY AUCTION BRIDGE

A group of New York women have contributed $20,000, raised through auction bridge, to the American Red Cross, and in that city and elsewhere are continuing their work in an effort to raise $200,000 for that organization. The auction players with Mrs. Joseph Pulitzer as their guiding spirit, began last March what was formally called the "Associated Cities of the United States of America Auction Chain Fund. The plan was that the players at the first auction bridge party, which was an affair of five tables, given by Mrs. Pulitzer, should each contribute $2 for her place, and then should give a four-table party, each player at the four-table game would contribute $2, and subsequently give a three-table party, and so on until at the last party each hostess should conduct a one-table affair. The chain was for the benefit of the American Red Cross and the sufferers from infantile paralysis. If it were played out to the last link the total sum raised would be $200,000

5,000 GERMANS CAPTURED BY BRITISH German Counter Attacks Heavy

London, Aug. 1—Both British and French gained further ground in the fighting in the Ypres sector today, but the Germans, by heavy counter-attacks succeeded, in recapturing the village of St. Julien and part of the village of Westhoek. According to the official report from British Headquarters tonight the number of Germans made prisoners exceed 5,000.

At five o'clock this afternoon Reuter's correspondent telegraphed:

"A period of quiet has succeeded yesterday's Anglo-French advance against long prepared enemy positions. Even our tremendous bombardment still left in many places formidable obstacles. We retired a few men from extreme points, thereby creating a wide No Man's Land. Meanwhile the consolidation of captured position is proceeding, despite the handicap of heavy rain. Prisoners agree that our prolonged bombardment inflicted tremendous casualties also that our battery work was wonderfully effective, knocking out many guns, which is probably the reason for the alleged inadequate artillery support. The activity of our artillery has not relaxed, despite bad visibility.

"The latest news from the battlefield is: Situation unchanged."

Rev. Fred Steadman will speak to the Sunday School at the Hall, Centreville, on Sunday afternoon, Aug. 5th at 2.30 o'clock. At 3.30 o'clock Mr. Steadman will give an address on conditions in Japan. Mr. Fearon, Principal of the School for the Deaf at Halifax, would be grateful to any persons who would let him know the names and addresses of the parents of any deaf children who may reside in their neighborhood. There are throughout the Maritime Provinces many children, not totally deaf, but yet so hard of hearing that they cannot take due advantage of the instruction offered in the ordinary hearing school. Such children should be sent to the school in Halifax where their speech as well as their hearing would receive the most careful attention and be improved.

This school offers free board and education to all children in the Maritime Provinces, the parents being only called upon to provide clothing and pay the travelling expenses.

Office of Town
Treasurer

To Whom it May Concern

I wish to remind you that the time fixed by law for the payment of Poll Taxes is the Tenth day of January in each year, also that the time fixed for the payments of general rates and taxes for the year 1917 was June 1st.

As both of these dates have long expired, and you have not all paid in, we now ask you to get busy during the month of August, and make payment of all outstanding accounts due the town, saving yourself interest and enabling the town to pay its bills.

Commencing September, and without any further notice, warrants will be issued for the collection of all such rates and taxes that remain unpaid.

J. CARROLL,
Town Treasurer.
