HAZEN SWEEPS
THE PROVINCE
Conservative Victory in New Brunswick; Forerunner of Sweep for Borden.

The New Brunswick provincial elections were held on Monday and Tuesday and resulted in the complete overthrow of the Liberal administration, J. D. Hazen, who led the opposition, will have a following of about thirty in the new house. The Liberal government, assisted by the government at Ottawa did their utmost to save themselves, but the revulsion of feeling against them was assisted to make the fight a straight party contest, and the result is a blow to New Brunswick Liberals.
Premier Robinson was elected, but four ministers were defeated, viz.
Hon. W. P. Jones, solicitor general,
Hon. L. P. Farris, minister of agriculture, Hon. E. H. Allen, provincial secretary, and D. J. Bards, minister without portfolio.
St. John, N.B., March 3.—The opposition carried four seats in St.
John city, three in Carleton four in York, four in Charlotte, two in Queens, two in Sundry, three in Kent, two in Albert, four in North umberland, three in Kings. Total 31
seats.
The government carried four seats in Westmoreland, two in Restigouche two in Madawaska, two in Victoria, two in St. John county. Total 12
seats.
Gloucester returned three independent Liberals on Monday, who defeated the straight government and opposition candidates.

WANTED JOBS

Government Friends Want Jobs and Oliver Had to Depart From His Policy.
It will be remembered that when the government decided to distribute seed grain from Regina, the office staff was to be composed of clerks from the various lands offices throughout the province. That policy was evidently not carried out, as there were too many government friends out of a job, and Oliver had to depart from his scheme. Most of the staff were employed on the recommendation of W. M. Martin and J. F. Bole, M.L.A. The appointment of clerks from outside points had practically been made and those who were to come to Regina are feeling rather sore at being deprived of their short holiday trip to the capital.

NEWTON NEWS

Not Much Demand for Government Seed—Personal Items of Interest.
Local Improvement District 8-N-2 held a special meeting last Thursday to pass on the applications received by the secretary for seed grain. They were all passed.
Mr. Clifford of Kronau has shipped a car of cattle to Chamberlain on the C.N.R. where he goes to engage in mixed farming.
Mr. J. S. Rollins and Mr. William Horn of Newton went up to Regina on Sunday last. They returned home on Tuesday the 3rd.
We are sorry to learn that diphthery has appeared in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Weeks, but glad to know that it is not of a serious nature.
W. R. McConnell spent a week visiting his sister in Regina.
Misses Annie and Mabel Rollins are visiting in Regina at present.
Miss Florence Rollins is expected home on a visit the last of this week.
Farmers are preparing for spring by cleaning up their wheat and getting things ready in general for spring work.
The seed grain supplied by the government was not taken advantage of to any great extent here, as we learn that only about six applications were received throughout the whole of district 8-N-2 which comprises four townships or nearly 100,000 acres.
Royal Templars will debate the question, "Resolved that the credit system should be abolished," on 17th of March, in the Newton School house.
Thos. R. Archer has returned home after a month's stay with friends in Newton.
Rev. Mr. Pohlman of Balgonie will preach in Newton school on March the 8th. All welcome.

SYNOPSIS OF PRECEDING CHAPTERS

Isobel Stormont, daughter of Sir David Stormont, was the attention of Evelyn Asha, fortune hunter, who meets her at a party. Sir David extracts a promise from her that she will marry him. Evelyn Asha saves Isobel from being run over by a motor car. The old man, who is the father of Isobel, is a lonely one, far out between the sands and the flat fields. The old man, who is the father of Isobel, is a lonely one, far out between the sands and the flat fields. The old man, who is the father of Isobel, is a lonely one, far out between the sands and the flat fields.

whether her mother was alive or dead, or what amazing series of coincidences brought her to our door. But again, having once accepted her, I let things drift, as with every day the hope of finding our lost one grew fainter; but you will understand many things now, and how I could not let the marriage go on without some protest. "And now I am coming to what is the hardest of all to tell, what you will find in the letter which I have written. It is more difficult to forgive than my sins against yourself, what should have been whispered to you as we sat hand in hand together; but I must tell it as I can. You remember that September storm and a 'business visit' I paid to Eddleston on the day of the reopening of the Murray School. My visit was not to Eddleston, but to Fanny, a fishing village some miles beyond my home. I got a curious, ill-spelled, ill-written letter asking me to go there on a matter of the utmost importance; once I would have tossed it in the fire, but now I went. The cottage I was directed to was a lonely one, far out between the sands and the flat fields. The old man, who is the father of Isobel, is a lonely one, far out between the sands and the flat fields.

CHAPTER XXIX STRONGER THAN DEATH

TAP, tap, tap! Lady Stormont heard the sound as if in a dream, but it was some time before she noticed it, as could be seen by the way she looked at the door. The door opened, and a young man, who was the father of Isobel, is a lonely one, far out between the sands and the flat fields. The old man, who is the father of Isobel, is a lonely one, far out between the sands and the flat fields.

She knelt a moment longer, her face a flash of young, hot red. "It is all there—you have only to read—I want you to read it; I insist on your reading it," passionately. "You need not force me to tell it," in a flash of young, hot red. "It is all there—you have only to read—I want you to read it; I insist on your reading it," passionately. "You need not force me to tell it," in a flash of young, hot red. "It is all there—you have only to read—I want you to read it; I insist on your reading it," passionately.

And she gazed, something of the profound calm, of the deep repose of the still features already composed for their eternal rest, poised over her own spirit. He had stilled, but how grievously he had suffered. In that moment of exaltation she could not forget her husband's face, and even then, that the tortured spirit was at rest at last. "How am I to meet you—how will you look at me? No words to tell me? I may look at me?" Slowly the stricken woman lifted her bowed head at last, the lips fluttering from her nervous hands, as the tap, tap, tap, came a low, insistent rapping at the bolted door. CHAPTER XXVIII (Continued)

NEED'T tell you the story of that autumn. Our hearts seemed to flow together like two mountain streams. For a time I lived only in her, the things would mean to her, I could not bear to break her heart upon her death-bed, to disappoint her last, earthly desire. In my weakness I let matters drift. She lingered long, as you well remember, and while she lingered I delayed.

SASKATCHEWAN MAY GO TO THE BELL SYSTEM

President Sise Says Negotiations Are Underway— Alberta Also Negotiating—Government Here Don't Admit.

Montreal, Feb. 27.—At the annual meeting of the Bell Telephone company of Canada this morning it was announced by President Sise that the company is preparing to sell its plant and business to the provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan, provided a proper agreement could be arrived at. He stated that the Bell company had no particular desire to sell, as they had already done in the province of Manitoba, but it was better to do this than to enter into competition with the government. The shareholders passed a resolution authorizing the board to deal with the government, and these two provinces for a sale to one or both may be best. News that a sale was contemplated to either one of these provinces came as a surprise to the shareholders, as they had no idea that such a move was contemplated.

TRADES CONGRESS

Of Canada Makes Representations to the Premier and Minister of Labor.

The Dominion Trades and Labor Congress made its annual last year on the Prime Minister and Minister of Labor for the disposing of matters affecting labor's interests in Canada. The deputation was made up as follows: Alphonse Verville, M.P., president; James Simpson, vice president; Patrick M. Draper, Ottawa, secretary, and J. G. O'Donoghue, counsel. The requests which were preferred were as follows:

1. Passing of a workman's Compensation Act for the Dominion to apply to railway companies holding a federal charter.
  2. Increase letter carriers' rate of wages.
  3. Government inspection of the running gear on vessels for the protection of longshoremen.
  4. That the government should endorse and carry through Verville's bill now before parliament providing for an eight hour day on Government works.
  5. The appointment of a commission on technical education.
  6. That the public lands in the Dominion should be reserved for bona fide settlers.
  7. That Monk's bill to assist the organization of co-operative societies be carried through parliament and apply to co-operative trading and manufacture.
  8. Old age pensions.
  9. Amendment to the Lemieux Act to prevent the importation of strike breakers while investigations under this law are going on.
  10. Abolition of immigration bonds.
  11. Exclusion of Hindu labor.
- The deputation expressed the willingness of organized labor to judge by practical results the measure agreed on between the Canadian minister and the Japanese minister at Tokio for the restriction of the Japanese immigration to this country.
- The deputation was assured by the prime minister that when a re-arrangement was being made of Cabinet portfolios it was his own view that a separate Minister should be appointed to take charge of the Department of Labor. At the same time, under Mr. Lemieux's administration that branch of the public service the interests of the working classes are now already being well looked after.
- The control of telephones was being vested in the railway commission which would enable that body to protect the interests of all telephone operators.
- Mr. Lemieux observed that the civil service commission was dealing effectively with the claims of the letter carriers to increased wages, and that he was prepared to follow their recommendations.
- As regards the control of the Dominion lands it was the policy of the government—already to reserve all lands for bona fide settlers.
- As regards the establishment of co-operative banks, the government was to be most careful not to do anything which would take from the security of the Canadian banking institutions.
- The premier said no necessity for the establishment of a system of old age pensions in Canada existed at the present time.
- The Lemieux Act might not be perfect, but it was better to test all its provisions before introducing amendments.
- The Japanese immigration question declared Mr. Lemieux, is already settled and measures had been taken which would result in preventing any recurrence of the Hindu invasions of last year.
- Consideration was promised to the other questions presented by the delegation.

ing the enemy. They understand that something must be permitted to the exigencies of party tactics and the necessity of placating sections and even interests. But when they see signs of the callous abandonment of essential principles, of the cynical disregard of solemn pledges and of carelessness in meeting accusations of corruption, they begin to wonder if it may not be true that all politicians are time servers, and that their party is no better than any other. When this occurs, the solid column whose support has kept the ministry in office, wavers; and if not reassured the end will come.

This teaching of our history may well be couched by any government which light heartedly votes down demands for public investigations into its transactions, requests for access to information by which its transactions are to be judged, or proposals to carry out policies to which it is pledged. A government majority ought always to face a parliamentary opposition with its eye—not on the lobby or army of camp followers—but upon the sober thinking men in the constituencies who have hitherto had faith in their leaders. What will they think of it? Will they regard it as justifiable party play; or will they be stirred by a suspicion that all is not right? It is upon the final judgment of these consciences of our politics that the fate of the ministry rests. The lobby and the camp followers cannot save it, once the serious people who sincerely believe in it have been chilled by suspicion or driven away by doubts confirmed—Mail and Empire.

GRAFT ALONE CANNOT SAVE

When a Government Loses the Confidence of the People, it Cannot Retain Power by Graft.

No government can live by "graft" alone. If the political history of Canada proves anything beyond question, it proves this. Whenever any Canadian government, be it ever so strong, be it sheltered by ever so mighty a tradition, be its opposition ever so weak, has lost the support of the serious citizens who sincerely believe in it, it has fallen.

While Sir John Macdonald lived the government to which he gave his name had the confidence of a great number of earnest people throughout the country who believed in the principles it stood for and the politics it advocated. The then Liberal opposition were accustomed to comfort themselves by the theory that the Macdonald government maintained its hold on office by organized corruption. There never was a more foolish delusion. There were corruptionists who maintained a hold on the Macdonald government; but they did not keep it in power. It was the unshaken confidence of the great mass of voters in Sir John and his policies which won for him his electoral victories.

When Sir John died and the "scandal session" of 1891 destroyed the faith of the people in his successors, his government fell. What killed it was the loss of support of the serious citizen who had sincerely believed in it. Their confidence was shaken by the scandalous revelations; and overturned by the civil war which broke out amongst their leaders. They refused to go to the polls as they had in the past to keep the Conservative government in power; and the Conservative party went out for what has now run for nearly three Parliaments. The opposition was not especially strong. It was still "suspect" both regarding American reciprocity and "free trade as they have it in England." But the serious people took these risks.

Another example of the feebleness of graft was the collapse of the Liberal government in Ontario after the longest reign in British history. Graft was never more active nor more effective than when Ross was struggling to keep the position which Sir Oliver Mowat held so easily with the support of the serious people who sincerely believed in him. But he went down with a crash that still rings in that province; and an opposition in which few people had any great amount of faith came in. It was not that the people wanted Whitney. They were rather afraid of the explosive gentleman who then led the opposition. But the sincere supporters then withdrew their confidence. The grafters fought to the last ditch—they like fighting in ditch—but they could not save the government. When the sober, un-forgotten judgment of the province condemned it, it fell.

Graft can never save a government in Canada. No ministry can afford to stand behind the finest corps of corruptionists that money can buy or ingenuity drill, and regard cynically the loss of the confidence of its sincere and serious supporters. Without them, it is doomed. The honest voters will rule the country. When a certain number of men in the constituency who genuinely believe in it, they believe that its principles are the right principles, that its policies are as good an application of these principles as political conditions allow, and that its leaders—at least a controlling number of them—are doing what they honestly can to carry out these principles. But their confidence may be shaken. They will, it is true, allow their leaders a great deal of latitude in fight-

In "A Chalk Talk," A. M. Fraser, Indian Head, dealt with the abuses and uses of the black board, illustrating the points made. He claimed that any teacher could use the board to advantage.

Discussions followed each paper, a keen interest being shown throughout. Fully sixty people from the neighborhood attended and G. S. Kniesley, Regina, acted as recording secretary.

Evening Session.

The evening session was marked by a high attendance. Rev. J. Laycock occupied the chair. The meeting was opened with a short song service, followed by an address of welcome by F. J. James who extended a cordial welcome to the ministers and visitors and expressed satisfaction with the attendance and the hope of a bright future for the movement.

Rev. F. Clare of Pasqua reserve, gave the first paper, the subject being "Christ's Last Command." He dwelt strongly on the subject of ordering children religious instruction in Sunday school and developing an interest in missionary work. The command to go into the world and teach the gospel was as applicable today as it was in Christ's time. He compared missionary work in Canada and Corea to the no small credit of the latter country. His address was an eloquent appeal for the better and more work in the Sunday school.

In a brief paper A. M. Fraser dealt with "International Work" showing in a striking manner, the value of co-operation and co-operation of the various denominations. He also valued this work for its influence in bringing the churches closer together.

O. S. Kniesley, Regina, followed on "The Mutual Relationship of the Cony Association and the Sabbath School." The point made was that districts assisted in the equipment of established schools and the founding of others, and the county associations bound these two together and further assisted in the work.

Frank E. Haultain, Regina, speaking on the Sunday School itself, put forth the claim that no other body could do the work of the school; as a teaching institution it was necessary for the teachers to prepare their work, and be strongly advised, a teachers' meeting once a week for prayer and study.

The last speaker was the Very Reverend Dean Sargent. He warned that moral and religious development of this new province was even more essential than material gains and reputation in the production of wheat. This spiritual growth was attainable through the Sunday school.

A short time was given to an open parliament, during which many beneficial suggestions were made.

The afternoon session was brightened by music supplied by Mrs. Farmer and Miss Butler, while the full Presbyterian choir, a double male quartette therefrom and Mr. Bays Morgan ably assisted in the evening in making the convention a memorable one.

At the close of the evening session the ladies of Knox church served dainty refreshments in the lecture room and a pleasant half hour was spent in social chat.

The convention marks an epoch in Sunday school work in the district, and this successful event, will probably be but the beginning of a series. —Qu'Appelle Progress.

SASKATOON A DIVISION

Supt. Maharg, of Brandon, Will Have Headquarters at Saskatoon.

Saskatoon, Feb. 27.—General Manager Bury of the C.P.R. announced here last night the appointment of E. S. Maharg, now superintendent at Brandon, as superintendent of operation and construction on the new Saskatoon division. The new superintendent will move here in a couple of weeks with a staff of dispatchers and the usual divisional officials. It was also announced that work on the new shops here will start at once, and a passenger service will start to Winnipeg about June 1st on the new line. Maharg's division goes east to Brandon on the M. & N. and to Neudorf on the Kirkella.

PRESERVE FORESTS

Ambassador Bryce Speaks Before Montreal Club on the Future of Canada

While in Canada, the Right Hon. James Bryce, British Ambassador at Washington was the guest of honor at a banquet given by the Canadian Club in Montreal.

The subject of his address before the club was "What we owe to posterity." Of the Canadian resources he spoke eloquently, but urged upon Canada the necessity of preserving her great forests. "This is one of our greatest assets and we owe it to posterity that we leave them this asset unimpaired," said Mr. Bryce.

Speaking of the relations between Canada and the motherland, he said that three-fourths of his work at Washington was related to Canada. "I am more the ambassador of Canada than I am of Great Britain declared Mr. Bryce. "I have made it a practice to confer as often as possible with the Canadian government on questions relating to this country and I feel that this is the only right way to represent England and Canada at Washington. It is an honor and a privilege to confer with your premier, a statesman like Sir Wilfrid Laurier."

The future of Canada he considered under two aspects, first literature and science, second, political life. "You have two elements in Canada which ought to give you great advantage, namely poetry, literature and romance of the French writers, and the robust nature of the British peoples." The third element I should mention is the Scottish element.

Speaking of the political future, Mr. Bryce said that it depended largely on the traditions formed, and the land was young. Traditions are to the nation what habits are to the individual, and a nation which has

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION

A Successful Convention of Sunday School Workers Held at South Qu'Appelle.

The Saskatchewan Sunday School association honored Qu'Appelle by holding their convention on Tuesday afternoon and evening.

The afternoon session was duly opened by a hymn, and an address on equipment for the service by Rev. W. B. Tate, chairman. That Mr. Tate made some telling remarks was shown by the frequent reference to his remarks during the afternoon.

"The use of charts in religious teaching" was the title of a well planned paper by Mr. Simmonds, Qu'Appelle, his illustrations being devoted chiefly to charts for teaching the catechism.

Mrs. Tasker of Indian Head, dealt with "The Primary Department" very strongly emphasizing the necessity of educating by the eyes as well as the ear. For help in this work she advised the use of the blackboard, the charts, pictures and sand board. Her paper was bright and interesting from first to last and showed a thorough knowledge of and sympathy with the work.

"The relation of S. School to Missionary Work" by Miss Rawlinson, Qu'Appelle, covered the ground so fully that little room for discussion was left.

formed noble traditions while young will maintain them through life. The efficiency and dignity of the British parliament are largely due to the great traditions. To make these traditions we need our best men to enter public life, and in that life they should have as high a standard of honor as in their private life. The vigilance of these are the safeguard of a nation. You in Canada today are working for a long future, for a Canada that will be one of the mightiest nations in the world. You are forming habits today which some day will be the traditions of your posterity. Let those be high and worthy. Every Canadian can help Canada by maintaining a high standard of citizenship, and let him remember this, that no good work is ever lost or wasted."

RHEUMATISM IN THE BLOOD

Cure It By Enriching the Blood With Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

There is only one way by which rheumatism can be cured. It must be treated through the blood. Liniments and outward applications may give temporary relief, but they cannot cure the trouble. And while you are experimenting with liniments the trouble is every day becoming more firmly rooted in the system, and more difficult to cure. The poisonous acid that causes rheumatism must be driven out of the blood, and you can only do this by making new, rich, red blood through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Mr. Chas. H. Lumley, of Brickford, Ont., is one of the best known farmers in Lambton county. About three years ago, while Mr. Lumley was engaged in threshing, he became over-exhausted, and this was followed by a severe chill that started the rheumatic pains. Mr. Lumley says: "I did not think anything of it at the time as I was accustomed to being exposed to all kinds of weather. As a result I was unable to go about next morning. I had severe pains in my arms and legs which I treated at first with the usual home remedies. As these did not help me, and the trouble was growing worse the famly doctor was sent for, but he did not have any better success. He told me I was suffering from a severe attack of rheumatism, and there can be no doubt about it, as I was confined to my home about four months until I was fortunately advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I sent for a supply, and it was not long before I found they were helping me, and by the time I had taken a half dozen boxes the trouble had entirely disappeared. In other respects the pills also greatly improved my health, and I never felt better in my life than I have since taking them. I therefore most cheerfully recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to other similar sufferers."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make cures of this kind after doctors and common medicines fail, because they actually make new blood. They don't cure the mere symptoms. They go right to the root of the trouble in the blood. That is why this medicine cures anaemia, indigestion, neuralgia, palpitation of the heart, and the headaches and backaches brought on by ailments that fill the lives of so many women with misery. Do not take any pills without the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People," on the wrapper around the box. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

It is reported that Sir Richard Cartwright will succeed Sir M. Clarke as lieutenant governor of the province of Ontario, whose term of office expires in April.

FEDERAL BUSINESS COLLEGE

Bank of Ottawa Bldg., Regina

One month's salary pays the entire cost

It is not necessary, nor is it wise for young people to spend years of the best portion of their lives in preparing for professions which are not so remunerative as is the work for which they may prepare in a few months. The majority of our graduates receive as much for their services in one month as would pay the total amount of their college fees. Our courses form a short cut to business success. During the last six months the Regina Federal Business College has placed more than sixty students in excellent situations; with initial salaries ranging from $50 to $60 per month. Every capable student is guaranteed a good situation upon graduation. The Federal Schools are open the year round and students may enter for instruction at any time. Free catalogue. Write today

"A Kingly Gift"

EARL GREY'S APPEAL

On behalf of Needy Consumptives

Strong words of Canada's Governor-General

At the official opening of the King Edward Sanatorium for Consumptives, near Toronto, His Excellency delivered an address that must have an important bearing on the future of the sanatorium movement in Canada. We quote:—

"The proceedings this afternoon commenced with a beautiful and reverent prayer from your old friend, Dr. Potts. He prayed that the light of the Lord might shine upon us. That prayer is abundantly answered. He also prayed that the White Plague might be removed. Well, whether that prayer will be answered or not depends upon yourselves."

"Is it not a standing shame and reproach to the governments and individuals that there is not more care taken by the people of Canada to protect themselves against the curse of consumption?"

On his way out to the King Edward Sanatorium,—so named by permission of His Majesty King Edward VII.—the Governor-General's car was stopped in its progress outside the Canada Cycle & Motor Co. by a large crowd of its employees. A contribution of one hundred dollars was handed the Governor-General, a donation to the Toronto Free Hospital for Consumptives.

"Was a kingly gift," said His Excellency in making acknowledgment. "I will tell the King."

Addressing the large audience that attended these opening exercises, referring to this event, Earl Grey said:—

"Ladies and gentlemen, when the workmen of Canada are setting an example of this character, I hope you will not be slow to follow, and I trust that the example of the Canada Cycle & Motor Co. may be followed, as I am sure it will, in every factory and manufacturing industry throughout the land."

Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives

An institution that has never refused a single applicant admission, because of his or her inability to pay.

Seventy-five patients can be cared for to-day. Accommodation could be provided for three hundred if the required money were forthcoming.

To make this possible, our appeal is for $50,000, to be used in extension of buildings and maintenance of patients.

Where will your money do more good? Every community and every individual is interested.

His Excellency Earl Grey has shown his interest and sympathy in the work at Muskoka for needy consumptives, by accepting the position of Honorary President of the National Sanatorium Association.

Contributions may be sent to Sir Wm. R. Meredith, Kt., Chief Justice, Osgoode Hall, Toronto; W. J. Gage, Esq., 84 Spadina Ave., or J. S. Robertson, Secy-Treas., National Sanatorium Association, 347 King Street West, Toronto, Canada.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 4, 1908

A Cheap Berth

Better things were expected from Frank Oliver in the Department of the Interior when he accepted office.

Here is a report from Ottawa which indicates that Oliver himself has fallen from grace.

A return giving the details of the sale by the government of a small timber berth—No. 1279—situated north of Edmonton, was laid on the table of the House by Hon. Frank Oliver, at the request of Mr. H. B. Ames.

Conservative Convention

That the federal constituency of Regina takes a deep interest in politics of the country was proved by the very large number of delegates representative of every class in the community in attendance at the Conservative convention held here in the city hall last Wednesday.

The people are realising more fully as time goes on what it means to be robbed of their birthright. They are appreciating fully what it means to have the public lands, timbers and minerals administered by those outside the province.

The Liberal party organs call it obstruction because the opposition at Ottawa refuses to pass estimates when the details are not supplied.

These men represent a large class in the community and they again affiliate themselves with the grand Conservative party with faith and confidence for they know it is a party which adheres to its principles and fulfills its pledges.

Editorial Notes

The latest election reports from Ottawa is that the House will rise about the end of July, parliament dissolve in October and the general elections will be held in November.

The great obstructionists in the Ottawa House are those who refuse to bring down details of expenditure, not those who will not vote supplies until the details and original documents are supplied.

President Sise of the Bell Telephone Company must have sized up the gents who compose the Saskatchewan government and thinks they are easy.

J. G. Turiff went to the electors of East Assiniboia last election on the cry that he was poor but honest. He can very well appeal to his constituents on opposite grounds next election.

Employees of the Alberta government have been examining the Bell Telephone lines in Alberta, and that province will shortly make the Bell Company an offer for their system in that province.

The Liberal party organs call it obstruction because the opposition at Ottawa refuses to pass estimates when the details are not supplied. Are not the cabinet ministers the servants of the people and why should they refuse to account for their deeds? Economy seems to find no place in the dealings of the Ottawa ministry.

Press Comments

(Moose Jaw News)

When a Canadian Club in the capital of this province so far ignores what, in other such clubs is the distinctive character of its membership, British citizenship, as to declare that that qualification is no longer requisite we may well ask ourselves, if there be not great need to teach loyalty, not only in our schools, but in all public places.

Pugsley has gone into the fight, and waved the club of Ottawa patronage over the electorate of New Brunswick. That is exactly how everybody would expect from his character, that Mr. Pugsley would act, and it is how he has acted. It is all very well for Sir Wilfrid Laurier to indicate that in his opinion this sort of thing is improper. But it is the direct fruit of his policy in filling his cabinet. And he had better leave Mr. Pugsley to his own devices; for just as soon as independent Liberals revolt against the leadership of men like Pugsley, the leadership of Laurier will have become impossible.

The laws against usury in Canada forbid any money lender to charge more than twelve per cent. per annum on any loan not exceeding $500. A still more drastic enactment is likely to be adopted by the New York state legislature this session. It will be made a felony to charge more than six per cent. interest on loans made on salary assignments.

When a craze has taken possession of us some good soul generally does us the service of catching it, and impersonating it in so striking a form as to scare us back to our senses when no preaching would avail. In the case of the present craze for the treatment of everything as public and matter for legislation, this part seems to have been played for us by a Massachusetts lady, who proposes the appointment of a government commission to investigate the conditions of home life with a view to regulating and elevating the home. We could almost wish that the government of Massachusetts would comply, and that we might see the draft of a domestic code.

The borrowing of Canadian companies in the London money market during the past few months amounts to nearly $10,000,000. This is exclusive of the government loan of $15,000,000. The issues have been well taken. There should be a general policy in this country to place all loans in London, where the securities are acceptable to these conservative financiers.

(Winnipeg Telegram)

When Sir Wilfrid Laurier took Mr. Pugsley into the cabinet he could not very well expect to keep the political methods of Pugsley out of it. Sir Wilfrid Laurier could not reasonably hope to make a statesman out of a Pugsley by merely making him a cabinet minister.

Upon his entrance into the arena of federal politics, one of his first acts was to trumpet forth that he possessed some sort of a blackmailing hold on the Conservative party in general and Mr. R. L. Borden in particular, and that he would disclose this information if Mr. Borden did not cease his campaign in the interests of electoral purity.

Most people will be lost between admiration of the audacity and scorn at the absolute lack of moral sense in a man who in public life would make a threat of that kind. What he virtually said was that he, as attorney general for New Brunswick, had become possessed of incriminating information which he had kept in abeyance to use as a weapon against his political enemies. Openly and blatantly he admitted that he had been false to his duty as a public man and administrator of the law, and declared that he would cease to be false to his bounden duty unless his enemies ceased to attack him and his friends.

Now Mr. Pugsley has broken out in a new direction. His threatened exposure is needless to say came to nothing. He has most carefully abstained from repeating his charges in parliament, where he should be brought to book, so that he is left in the pleasing position of having invented the substance of his accusations, as well as having made a most immoral use of his inventions.

While Mr. Pugsley is a cabinet minister, he has not lost his interest in the local affairs of New Brunswick. It was in fact very largely his ability to control those local affairs which led to his becoming a member of the cabinet. And to a person of his character, it could not seem otherwise than that the federal patronage he controlled should be used to increase his strength in the province where his strength had secured the control of the patronage for him.

There is a provincial campaign in progress in New Brunswick, and it so happens that the Liberal party has to fight desperately to retain control of that province. There is a revolt there, partly local, and partly symptomatic of the general revolt of the Canadian people against the Liberal party. Now what would happen to Pugsley if his party were defeated in New Brunswick? He would be utterly discredited in the very particular which has given him his leverage in the wider area. So Mr.

The girl, being a year younger by the calendar, of course had several years' more knowledge of conventions and she assured him it was entirely correct for the proposal to come from her this year. So the little chap said he would run home and ask mother.

"Mamma!" cried he, running into the Rubicon house. "Ada's asked me to marry her. What do you think of that?"

"Oh, that's all right," answered Mrs. Rubicon smiling. "Just the thing. You might see Justice Werremeyer. He's the man who marries people in Clayton. Run along now."

Then the mother turned to her book again and straightened out the corners of her mouth as best she could. The boy didn't know she was joking. He thought her answer was a serious permission. So he ran back to the little girl's room and told her it was all right. No time like the present. Her mother had said for them to go to Justice Werremeyer, so off they trudged.

Fortunately they were protected against the weather by warm gurnseys and rubber boots. But it must have been a weary tramp for their short fat legs.

Quebec Bridge Report
Ottawa, Feb. 27.—The report of the Quebec bridge commission is to be presented to parliament next week. It is understood that the finding in brief is that the collapse was due to defective design, and not to any fault either in material or the way it was put together. The details seem to have been worked out with the greatest accuracy but in the calculation of this immense mass of detail the designers would seem to have got away from the basic principle of stress and strain which should have governed.

WEE TOTS TO WED
Took Parents' Joke in Earnest and Proceeded to the Justice for the Ceremony.

The following dispatch comes from St. Louis: Taking in sober earnest his mother's joking assest, George Rex Rubicum, six years old, led Ada Lee Bartlett, 5, over four miles of rough road from Bemis Heights to Clayton, the seat of St. Louis county, that they might be married by Justice of the Peace Werremeyer. It took the youngsters many hours to make the trip, but they were cheerful when they got to the court house and not until a negro porter threatened to have them arrested by the sheriff on suspicion of being burglars did their matrimonial ambition weaken. They were two tired tots who trudged homeward late in the afternoon, after giving their mothers a terrible fright and having their fathers searching the woods for hours. The boy, though it had been necessary for the girl to propose, was so enthusiastic over the prospect of marriage that he vowed he'd elope with little Miss Bartlett again as soon as opportunity offered.

SUDDEN DEATH OF JUSTICE KILLAM

Chairman of Board of Railway Commissioners Dies Suddenly at Ottawa on Sunday Morning-- Will Result in Confusion and Delay of Work of Board.

Ottawa, March 1.—The sudden death of Judge Killam, chairman of the board of railway commissioners, which occurred at 9 o'clock this morning, at the Russell House, came as a great shock to the people of Ottawa. None but his most intimate friends knew that he was ill, and those who did had no idea that he was in danger. Deceased had been suffering from a cold for about two weeks. He decided to remain at home, but as recently as Monday last he had not taken to his bed. It was not until Thursday that symptoms of pneumonia developed, and his illness commenced to cause apprehension on the part of Dr. Powell, his attending physician and his relatives and friends. On Friday night he had a distinct turn for the better and it was felt that he was on the mend. A sudden turn for the worse came unexpectedly this morning, and he passed away. Judge Killam had been in Ottawa two weeks ago, as at his bedside when the end came. His remains will be shipped to Winnipeg on Monday. The unexpected demise of Judge Killam caused a profound sensation around the corridors of the House of Commons tonight. All the members united in declaring that his death is a distinct loss to the country, and that the government will have a difficult task in the selection of a successor capable of making a good record as chairman of the board of railway commissioners. His sudden death may cause some confusion and delay in connection with the work of the railway commission. At the time he became incapacitated he was engaged in considering the evidence in the western freight rate, and the Winnipeg and Duluth coal rate cases. No judgment can now be given until his successor has time to go over this evidence. Hon. Albert Clements Killam, Puisne Justice of the Supreme Court of Canada since 1903, was born at Yarmouth, Nova Scotia, 18 September, 1849, was son of George Killam of Yarmouth, married 1877, Minnie, younger daughter of R. A. Whyte of Windsor, Ont. He was educated at Yarmouth seminary and University College, Toronto, received degree of B.A. at Toronto University 1873, winner of Prince of Wales prize and of first class honors and silver medals in mathematics and modern languages. Was called to the bar of Ontario, 1874, and of Manitoba 1879; represented Winnipeg south in legislature of Manitoba 1883-85, as a Liberal. Was made Q.C. in 1884, Puisne Justice, Court of King's Bench Manitoba, 1889, and chief justice of the province of Manitoba 1899. He succeeded A. G. Blair as chairman of the railway commission in 1905.

ties of flaxseed for many years and as these farmers began to migrate into the Canadian North-West the cultivation of flaxseed was taken up in some of the districts where they settled. It is most extensively cultivated on the Canadian Pacific Railway Soo line between Estevan and Moose Jaw, on the Canadian Pacific Railway Arcola branch between Arcola and Regina, and on the Canadian Northern Railway between Regina and Prince Albert. It is grown here and there by American settlers in other districts throughout the Canadian west, but it is from the districts named that the largest quantities of flax seed come, probably because they are so largely settled by Americans who have had experience in flax growing in the North-western states and know that the Canadian west is equally well adapted to this crop, both as regards soil and climate. The success of flax growing in these districts where it has been cultivated will probably cause farmers in other parts of the Canadian west to devote some attention to it in the future.

COV'T. REFUSE DOCUMENTS

House Sits From Friday Afternoon Until Midnight on Saturday and no Estimates Pass. Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 28.—The House of Commons has broken all records for length of sitting since 1896. It sat yesterday at three o'clock, is still sitting and is likely to go on until Saturday night. The opposition is fighting the estimates of marine and fisheries department, which has had a very severe showing. The loose, careless, extravagant passing of accounts by Minister Brodeur has roused opposition. Documents were demanded, and after a fierce struggle, the government at last brought down some. When these were examined by the opposition, the minister of marine and fisheries came in for a severe handling. He took his thrashing to use Foster's phrase to Pugsley, "like a whipped spaniel." It was proved that while these accounts were paid by an extravagant government five dollars per day for board, all paid less than one dollar per day.

J. K. McINNIS Chosen to contest Regina Constituency against W. M. Martin

If it came out the book keeping in that department had got so bad that as R. Blain (Peel) described, a carload of accountants from New York had to be called in to put matters right. For expenses above salary etc. $40,000 up to last March were allowed, at five dollars per day, and two dollars for stenographers. This statement aroused the fury of the opposition, and some hard knocks were delivered at Brodeur, whose explanation was feeble in the extreme. Speaking on this item of expenditure, J. D. Reid (Grenville) asked that any member in the House whose board expenses came to $5 per diem to stand up. Nobody got to his feet. Brodeur looked nervous on this point. The minister came in for severe criticism from Mr. Reid. He could reply to no question asked by the member for Grenville. The whole sitting rose out of the fact that early in the session Mr. Foster moved for the return of documents in connection with expenses of accountants from New York. This was agreed to, but time and time again the bringing down was put off by promises of the minister they were forthcoming. At eleven o'clock Thursday evening the minister of marine and fisheries essayed to take his estimates. The opposition at once made a demand for these documents as well as accounts of personal expenses during his recent trip to England. No answer was ready. The opposition threw a warning that none of the minister's estimates would be proceeded with until the long promised documents were forthcoming. By one o'clock this morning it was evident that the government were bound to force the marine estimates along. The opposition showed their teeth, and the sitting proceeded until, incidentally upsetting the press gallery annual dinner to which Laurier, Borden, etc. have been invited, Mr. Blain had had knocks delivered to Brodeur, but the latter soon cleared out of the House.

FLAX GROWING IN THE WEST

The First to Grow It Extensively Were the Mennonites -- American Settlers Next.

Very few of the Canadian settlers in the North-West seem to have had any thought of growing flax, but the Mennonites who settled in the districts known as the "Mennonite Reserve" in southern Manitoba between Rosefield, Gretna, Plam Coulee, Morris and Emerson have grown it quite extensively for many years. The farmers of Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska have grown large quanti-

The minister of agriculture Sydney Fisher, was then the only member of the government left. Fisher had bricks simply buried at his head. Blain asked why the government riotously wasted public money, giving contracts to middlemen when thousands of dollars could have been saved by giving orders to manufacturers and producers.

In answer to this Mr. Fraser bravely replied "That was too broad a question of-hand." Dr. Barr chimed in with more onslaught, so did Messrs. Reid, Bennett and Jackson. Little mercy was shown the government, who were so well whipped that scarce a sound was heard from their side.

A. E. Lancaster (Lincoln) gave Brodeur a very severe thrashing, so that he appealed to the chairman on a point of order, but Lancaster was allowed. Mr. Brodeur then went to sleep. He was really little to blame, as he had a long sore time with little sleep or little to eat. So they got on the opposition securing the sympathy of the country and a large number of Liberal members.

It is significant, Sir Wilfrid Laurier was not in attendance at the House during the day nor was R. L. Borden, leader of the opposition. It is expected that both are keeping their energies for tomorrow, when great scenes are expected. The government are finding themselves in a bad hole, wriggling like snakes to get out of a glass case. The opposition is determined to block the estimates in all points until Brodeur brings down the documents. He has brought down one, with the result that revelations proved his utter incompetence. More are demanded by the opposition, in order to find the full list of faults of the department, but once bitten twice shy, and Brodeur refuses. The opposition is so determined to give the country the perfect truth in which public money is being squandered, that it will force a sitting till the minister of marine and fisheries brings down the documents demanded. Meanwhile one is as determined as the other, and the sitting seems likely to go on forever.

Mr. Blain talking of travelling expenses of accountants from New York to Ottawa elicited the fact from the deputy minister of marine and fisheries that Falconer, the chief accountant, lived at Montreal, yet he was paid expenses between New York and Ottawa.

It was proved that while these accounts were paid by an extravagant government five dollars per day for board, all paid less than one dollar per day.

CONSERVATIVES EXPRESS CONFIDENCE IN BORDEN

Services of R. S. Lake, M.P., Appreciated--Organisations Commenced--McInnis the Candidate--Public Ownership of Assets Endorsed.

At the Conservative convention held in the city hall last Wednesday the following report of the resolutions committee was adopted: To the President and Delegates of the Conservative Convention of Regina, Federal Constituency, gentlemen:

Your committee on resolutions beg to recommend to this convention the following resolutions: Resolved that the Conservatives of Regina federal constituency in convention assembled:

1. Do hereby place on record our unbounded confidence in our leader, R. L. Borden, and desire to express our highest appreciation of his able and efficient services to the party. We heartily endorse his Halifax platform and pledge our united support to the same.

2. Do hereby express our high appreciation of the services rendered to the Dominion as a whole and to the province of Saskatchewan by R. S. Lake, M.P. for Qu'Appelle. We believe that his course in persistently keeping before parliament the rights of the province, and the able manner in which he has battled for them, should be recognized and endorsed, and that the honesty of purpose which has ever characterized his conduct is deserving of the highest praise.

Whereas the Hon. R. L. Borden did declare in his Halifax platform for the restoration to the provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta of the public lands, timber and minerals on fair terms;

And whereas the public ownership of these assets is a matter of primary importance to the people of this province. Therefore, be it resolved that this convention declare itself as particularly favorable to and especially endorse the plank in the Conservative platform.

As announced in our issue of last week there were several names before the convention. They were P. McArta, J. F. L. Embury, H. W. Laird, Thos. Wilkinson, J. K. McInnis, Dr. Cowan, G. S. Houston and M. Kearns. Those who allowed their names to go to ballot were G. S. Houston, Dr. Cowan, Thos. Wilkinson and J. K. McInnis. It was necessary to take two ballots, on the second of which Mr. McInnis had a clear majority of the ballots cast.

On motion of Mr. Houston seconded by Mr. Wilkinson and supported by Dr. Cowan the nomination was made unanimous, and this was tendered to Mr. McInnis.

In replying the nominee said: "Mr. Chairman and gentlemen, I can assure you that I would indeed be deficient in a sense of gratitude if I did not at this moment feel exceedingly grateful for the unanimous support you have accorded me in this standing vote and in the nomination which you have so enthusiastically tendered me today. Of course everything has been said that can be said regarding the magnitude of this convention, which as the worthy leader of the provincial opposition said, is representative of every element and every shade of political opinion of the country, grouped under the banner of R. L. Borden and his platform.

"To you, Mr. Chairman, is due credit for the very excellent manner in which you have engineered this convention to so successful a conclusion.

GRAIN GROWERS URGE GOVT. OWNERSHIP

Influence Being Used to Defeat Farmers' Organized Struggle for Commercial Freedom--Impertinence of Some Parliamentary Representatives.

The Grain Growers' association have recently issued a circular dealing with the movement for railway ownership of storage facilities, which they claim is a deliberate attempt of corporations and interested parties to sidetrack government ownership. The circular is quite a lengthy one and says in part that the sudden movement in favor of railways owning and operating the storage facilities at initial points does not emanate from grain producers. Nor is it suggested by anyone having a desire to remove the grievances incident to the storage facilities being in the hands of those interested in the purchase and sale of grain.

This movement, it is claimed, has been started in the face of a popular agitation among the grain growers of the province to secure government ownership and operation of the storage facilities at initial shipping points and federal ownership and operation of the terminal.

The argument is set up that the grain growers have a right to pass judgment on such a question, since they produce the commodity that is stored and must pay the cost of creating and operating a storage system, whether it be built and operated by the dealers, the railways, or the government.

emphatically DO want government ownership and operation." It is also pointed out that as so many stockholders in the railways are also interested in grain companies, or are grain dealers themselves, that the movement in favor of railway ownership of elevators, if it reaches anything definite, will work to the great detriment of the farmers' interests.

FARMERS' STRUGGLE "The farmers' struggle for commercial freedom includes in its program amendments to the Grain Exchange charter, provincial ownership and operation of line elevators, Dominion ownership and operation of terminal, a sample market at Winnipeg, cleaning, weighing and grading at initial points, special binning at terminals, the financing of the farmer on the security of his stored grain and the abolition of discriminations between the shippers by the railways with fixed freight charges for various months scheduled in advance," says the document. "Each of these details is essential to complete success, but the most important of all is the provincial operation of line elevators in real competition between all classes of buyers, the sample market, the cleaning and weighing, and grading at initial points and the ability of the farmer to secure advances on his grain before shipment and sale all depends upon the government operation of the system.

"The farmers want the system built in accordance with their requirements as shippers. They want to be able to bring about changes whenever changes are necessary. They want the operators to have positive interest in giving light weight, taking heavy dockage, or changing the identity of stored grain.

"The government system would insure reasonable conformity in quality, equipment and method of operation with the wishes of the farming public as expressed through their accredited spokesmen."

$100.00 paid by Dr. Shoop for any recent case of Grippe or acute Cold that a 25 cent box of Preventives will not break. How is this for an offer? The doctor's supreme confidence in these little Candy Cold Cure Tablets--Preventives--is certainly complete. It's $100 against 25 cents--pretty big odds. And Preventives, remember contain no quinine, no laxative, nothing harsh nor sickening. Pneumonia would never appear if early colds were always broken. Wolf Skins Scarce

Notwithstanding the reports from the north of the havoc wrought by wolves among the herds of deer and even in the farm yards of the more thickly settled districts, the slaughter of these predatory animals has been probably less than for many previous years.

This is the opinion expressed by R. M. Pierce, of the Pierce Fur Co., who has just completed some large consignments of raw furs for shipment to the London market for the March sales. Mr. Pierce states that the dealers have found it very difficult to secure wolf skins this winter and he is somewhat at a loss to explain the reason as it was thought that on account of the mildness of the winter that the hunters and trappers would have easy work in pursuing the animals.

The largest commitment which he has had this winter was in the skins which came in from the Edmonton district where it is said that wolves have been particularly troublesome this year, attacking the horses and cattle of isolated settlers in some cases. Old hunters and trappers would have had snow this year, and this was a handicap to them as they are accustomed to do most of their wolf hunting with deep snow. The mildness of the winter has had a bad effect on the industry of the Indian hunters who provide most of the fur. They hunt better when they are driven to it by privation. This season they have not experienced want in the taking of game.

Mr. Pierce states also that the black and silver fox, which is so much prized for its fur, has been marked by absence from the packs of the hunters this year, not a single black fox having been sent in so far. Some cross fox skins have been brought to the city this year, but not to the extent that has characterized other seasons, with the result that the prices have advanced considerably. The price of wolf skins has practically doubled.

Mr. Pierce says that the districts from which furs are sent to Winnipeg are rapidly becoming more distant. This season considerable quantities of furs have been sent from the northern districts of British Columbia, while northern Alberta is still a big producer. The returns from the timber districts east of the city are dropping off in a very marked manner as the fur bearing animals are receding from the approach of civilization indicated by the projection of the new railway and the consequent menace of men engaged in the lumbering business--Free Press.

Pain can be quickly stopped. A 25 cent box of Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets will kill any pain, everywhere in 20 minutes. Besides they are perfectly safe. Painful periods with women, neuralgia, etc., quickly cease after one tablet. Regina Pharmacy Stores.

Rev. Father Lacombe, the Aged Missionary, Addresses the Canadian Club in Edmonton.

At a recent meeting of the Canadian Club of Edmonton, Rev. Father Lacombe was the guest of honor. His address is reported as follows by the Bulletin.

The reverend father expressed his pleasure at being present at a meeting of the Canadian Club, organized for the general good of the country. He is a French Canadian born along the shores of the St. Lawrence and so he claimed Canada as his own. In his veins was the blood of the Indian to a small extent, for according to the legend away back in the past a girl had been stolen from the French by the Algonquins and as she grew up she married an Indian chief and had two sons. One of these sons, it is said, was the great grandchild of his grandmother--and so he could claim some Indian ancestry.

On the 19th of September, 1849, for the first time he put his foot on the banks of the North Saskatchewan at the present site of Edmonton. A few weeks before he had been ordained a young missionary at Montreal.

"I see before you not before me, for I am growing too old--I have Edmonton of the future. I had dreamed that in this country will grow up a great empire in the centre of which will be the Athabasca, the Mackenzie and the Peace, the boundaries of which will only be the pole. We now have the province of Alberta, but in the future there will be something more than a lieutenant governor for the country.

The father made a plea for the old Indian names to be retained. Do not say Saskatchewan, but Kiskasakotewa, which, in the Indian, means 'the rapid river.' Don't say Manitoba, but Mani-to-a-na.

"But," said the aged divine, with a laugh, "it is useless for me to speak in this way, for when you write again you will use the old word the same as you have done in the past."

Dealing with the zoology of the word 'Edmonton,' the speaker gave the Cree word used for the name of the present capital which meant the forks of the Beaver Hills.

"Dear old Edmonton, dear old Edmonton, how I love it," said the speaker.

"In the old days, we had no magistracy, no police and no crimes. It was stupid then to think of putting a lock on our doors. It is wonderful to think that the advance of civilization has brought crime in its path.

Referring to the Hudson's Bay Co. Father Lacombe told of the old time and the days of Factor John Roland. This man had a powerful influence. He was a small man in stature and in limb, but brave like a lion, and so brave that the Indians called him 'Mountain Chief.' He came in early life from Quebec, the son of a French mother and a Scottish father and soon proved so brave that he reached the position of chief factor. The leading men in the Hudson's Bay Co. employ came mostly from Montreal and were brave men, mostly of French and Scottish ancestry. Then no money was in use, but skins were given for payment, instead of coin.

WOMEN'S FAULTS

Toronto Preacher Discusses the Alleged Shortcoming of the Fair Sex

Rev. E. C. Laker, a Methodist pastor in Toronto, recently preached on Woman's Faults and is reported as follows, by the Telegram of that city:

Slang.
Vanity.
Gossip.
Nagging.
Insincerity.
Small talk.
Artificiality.
Self-centred.
Frivolous talk.
Narrow outlook.
Neglects mother.
Little self-respect.
Lacks high ideals.
Too fond of dress.
Careless in manner.
Impolite in street car.
Low standard modesty.
Extravagance of speech.
Severe on accused girls.
Thinks only of marriage.
Bothers worried husband.
Admires herself too much.
Hates hearing she has faults.
Lenient concerning men's morals.

and I'd like to be the whipper, for the wife beater, and then I would like to see some punishment for the woman that nags.

"God hates fashion," declared Mr. Laker, after telling of man's charges concerning women's vanity, artificiality and fondness for dress.

The daisy, honeysuckle and snowflake, he believed had fashion, and "there was never an ocean wave that was not decked with golden sunlight."

"Fashions are improving," he said, "I can prove it from the bible, and read of the many and wonderful bits of jewelry and articles of clothing mentioned by a Biblical writer.

Then he censured the women whose dresses by their fineness led to catching colds.

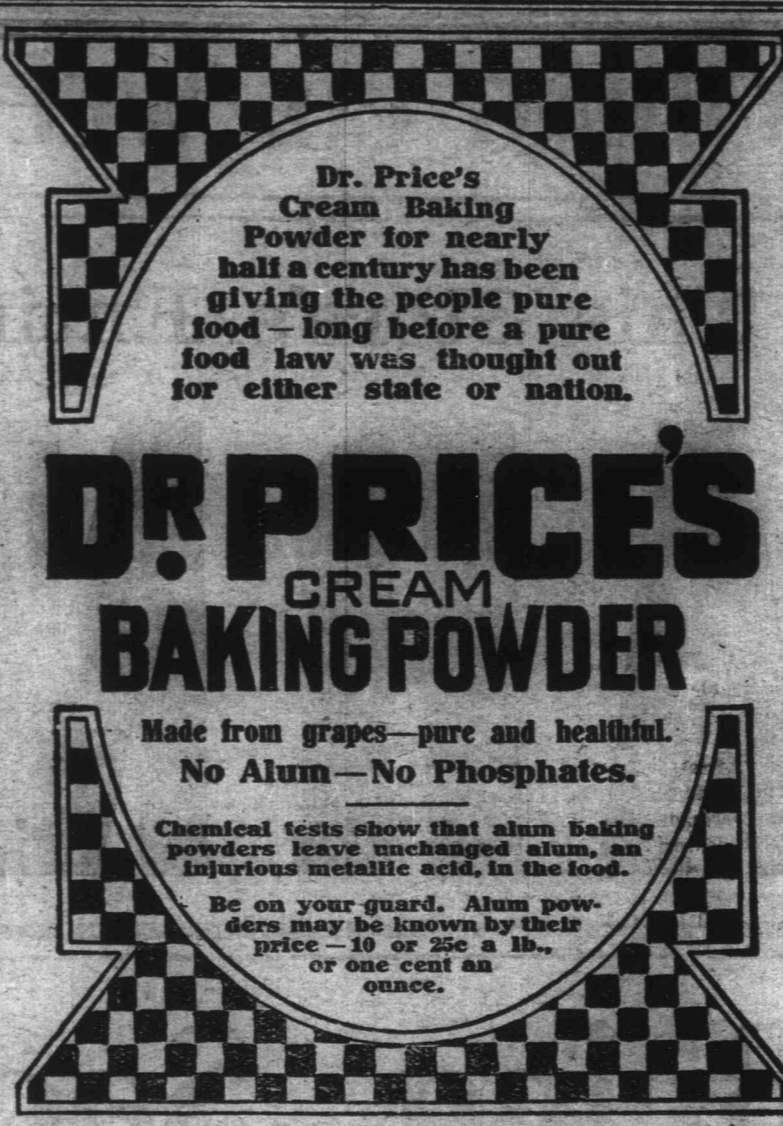

"Some women boast of the hearts they have taken as an Indian boasts of the scalps he has won," he said in referring to men's charge that women were insincere in the matter of affection.

"Is the robbery of the heart's affection any less a crime than the robbery of a purse?"

Almost the final shots grew out of men's allegations that some women think only of getting married.

"To be, or not to be, married," declared Mr. Laker, "is not the greatest question with the women of today. The Bible says it's not good for man to be alone, but I don't see where it says that of women.

"It's this fear of missing a chance of marriage I condemn," he declared in advising the fair sex to be true, womanly women.

MIXED MARRIAGES

The approaching marriage in Toronto of a young lady of a prominent family, who has all her life been a devout Roman Catholic, is causing quite a lot of comment in view of the attitude recently taken by the high dignitaries of the church regarding mixed marriages. The prospective bridegroom is a Protestant.

On a previous occasion a few years ago, when a somewhat similar exigency arose, one of the contracting parties being a Roman Catholic and the other Protestant, the problem was solved apparently to the satisfaction of everybody concerned by a double ceremony. In that case the knot was tied by both Protestant and Roman Catholic clergyman. A short time ago a young Toronto man of Catholic faith went to Buffalo with his Protestant bride to have the ceremony performed.

From the fact that the coming big society wedding is to be performed in a Protestant church is drawn the conclusion that the Pope's edict is being put into force in Toronto, and that mixed marriages can be no longer performed or countenanced by the Roman Catholic priesthood here. Unless a special dispensation has been granted by Archbishop O'Connor, the prospective bride will, in a Protestant cathedral, renounce the obligations of Catholicism. This is the Catholic church looks at it. And to the church and the world she will henceforth become a Protestant.

"It really doesn't matter two straws what the rule is, people will get married if they want to anyhow," said a prominent Catholic. "Of course it is understood that the rule of the church is against it, but it is one of those rules which have to be continually winked at in a mixed community like this, where the large majority of the population is Protestant. I have no doubt it would be different if the numbers were the other way.

"As I understand it," said another very devout Catholic, "the rule as to mixed marriages is one which, although general in principle, is limited in application, that is to say its application differs in different sections and under different conditions. I believe that the instructions given to the archbishops are to do the best they can to enforce it without creating too much strife. Numerous dispensations have been granted in this diocese in the past, as is well known and I doubt whether any fresh instructions have been received from Rome. Whether a dispensation has been received before the ceremony or not, the archbishop has to be consulted afterwards and the circumstances laid before him. As a rule he is inclined to be lenient, but he has undoubtedly the power to do otherwise."

"No such impasse as that in the Montreal diocese is, in my opinion, at all likely to occur in the Toronto diocese," said another, "because the

Freight Rates

Delegates Secure Concessions From Railroads—Effective March 10th.

The delegates who attended the sitting of the railway commission in Ottawa recently placed their report before the city council on Monday evening. In the delegation L. T. McDonald represented the city council and H. W. Laird, the Regina board of trade. Their report on the main was as follows:

"After the arrival of your delegates at Ottawa and while the case was proceeding, a suggestion was made by the railway companies that a settlement might be effected so far as the Regina situation is concerned which would result in an immediate adjustment of the anomalies of the present tariffs. After repeated interviews and extended consultation your delegates arrived at a satisfactory solution of the whole trouble on the following terms:

(a) A reduction in the inward carload rates of freight on 6th class goods;

(b) A reduction on the inward car load rates of freight on 5th class goods;

(c) An agreement that if the Winnipeg contention for a reduction in outward rates succeeds, before the commission, Regina is to be given a corresponding decrease in outward rates;

(d) The settlement to be carried out at once, new tariffs being issued effective March 1, 1906.

(e) The further understanding that the Regina case is still before the commission, we in the meantime having requested the commission to

THAW'S TO SEPARATE

Report Has It That Evelyn Will be Paid $15,000 a Year.

New York, Feb. 28.—That the efforts of the Thaw family to effect a separation of Harry Thaw and his artist's model wife have finally been successful is stated today on authority closely connected with the case. It is asserted that Evelyn agreed not to see her husband again except in the presence of his relatives or other attorneys, and that a definite allowance of $15,000 a year has been settled upon her in return for her concession.

It is understood that divorce proceedings have been tentatively agreed upon but that action is delayed pending the report of the asylum experts on Harry's mental condition. It is intimated that Evelyn will go abroad.

Conflicting rumors are in circulation as to the plans of Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw. It was stated that she had stored her furniture, closed up her home at 446 Park avenue, and intended moving. According to advices from Mattewan Mrs. Thaw departed for the last time, thirteen days ago, she was afraid of him, and the opinion of the village is that she will not return. It is said that a person connected with the insane hospital overheard Harry K. Thaw upbraid his wife at their last meeting.

Cough Caution

Never, positively never poison your lungs. If you cough—ever from a cold only—you should always heal, soothe, and ease the irritated bronchial tubes. Don't blindly suppress it with smothering poisons. It's strange how some things can come about. For twenty years Dr. Shoop has constantly warned people not to take cough cures, or similar poisons, and now a little hand for the very reason, and others, should state on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. No poison marks on Dr. Shoop's label—and none in the medicine, and it must be law be on the label. And it's not only safe, but it is said to be by those that know it best, a truly remarkable cough remedy. Take no chance then, but combine with your children, insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Compare carefully the above warning with others, and note the difference. No poison marks there! You can always be on the safe side by demanding

Judge Forbes, of Prince Albert arrived for the purpose of holding district court on Monday. On Sunday he was seized with a bad attack of heart failure and was removed to the hospital, court being adjourned until today (Wednesday). This morning the judge left the hospital with the intention of opening court, but was compelled to return, court again being postponed until Friday morning. -Bathford Herald.

About eight years ago the town of Galt, Ont., began the experiment of a public school savings bank, and it has been quite a success, so much so that it is now proposed to merge the school bank in the Penny Bank founded in Toronto not long ago. It is interesting to note that since the school children of Galt began their systematic plan of saving, twelve hundred separate accounts have been opened and over $9,000 collected. There are now over eight hundred accounts, representing a total saving of over $6,000 to be transferred to the Penny Bank. When a child has $200 to his credit the account is transferred to a chartered bank, and by that time it is hoped that the valuable lessons of economy and systematic saving will have been so well learned as to last throughout the individual's life.

Many favorable comments have been expressed during the past week upon the splendid singing of Mr. Jas. McAra of Regina who assisted at the concert in St. Andrew's church on Monday evening. Mr. McAra was always a fine singer, but his renderings on Sunday and Monday last prove not only that his voice under training has wonderfully developed in range and sweetness, but that he is among the first singers of the province today. Music lovers of Indian Head will look forward with pleasure to future occasions when our former townsman may again favor us with his attractive selections in the Realm of song.—Prairie Witness.

A quiet home wedding took place in town last Friday afternoon, when Miss Elizabeth (Nurse) Graham and Mr. Travis, of Regina, were joined in matrimony. The ceremony was performed by Rev. M. J. Leuth, at 3 o'clock, and at 4 o'clock the bride and groom left on an extended trip through the province, after which they will take up their home in Regina. The event was arranged so quietly that very few knew that a wedding had taken place until after the train had passed through, but the many friends of the young couple are none the less sincere in their congratulations and best wishes for a long and happy married life.—Wapella Post.

One of the meritorious offerings in the way of theatricals will be the engagement here of Angela Comedians for one week commencing next Monday in high class repertoire. The plays are all new and the best that money can procure and are staged with care to every detail, equal to the higher priced attractions. All plays are such that you can bring your wife, your children or your mother to, and know that not a word will be said to offend. Come the opening night and your money back if not the best you ever saw for the money. "For Home and Honor," will be the opening play, a beautiful play in four acts with special scenery and electrical effects.

The Young Men's Club of the Metropolitan church have decided to get up an entertainment towards the end of the month in the shape of a mock city council. The character of his worship, the mayor, the city clerk, and the various aldermen will be assumed by different members of the club, the leading characteristics of the gentlemen thus portrayed being emphasised with all due resemblance to the present members of the city council. The entertainment which is being prepared in behalf of the club's piano fund should provide no end of amusement for the ratapayers and the caricatured aldermen.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Spoones went north to Saskatoon today after spending yesterday in the city.
