We find ourselves in the extraordinary position of requiring nearly the whole value of our exports to pay the expenses of our Government, leaving nothing or very little to pay for our Imports. It takes practically the whole value of our dried fish exports pay our customs revenue. Looked from another angle, it takes the abour of over one-third of our fishermen for a whole year to pay the inrest on our debt.

FICTITIOUS PROSPERITY.

All money borrowed by the Government, except such portions of it as may be used to pay foreign liabilities, omes here in the shape of imports pon which duty is paid; therefore very loan negotiated creates a fictilious increase in revenue.

A Royal Hoax.

When Charles the Second, that royal wag, founded the Royal Society, he asked the learned men who constituted it to tell him why the addition of a dead fish to water caused no increase in weight whilst the addition of a live one did. After they had pondered over this matter for a long time and came to no conclusion and 'admitted that fact, the King "who never said a foolish thing" asked, "Had you not better see whether things are as I said?" Of course, the whole thing was a hoax and there is no such differenceds the

> One hundred years ago-in 1822-the first permanent photographs were secured on a compound of sensitive bitumen of Judea by a Frenchman named Niepce. As early as 1802 a process by which records could be made by the action of light was discovered by a certain Tom Wedgewood. but no method of fixing the print was then known, and it was not until Niepce came along with his process that this was made possible. In 1839 Niepce entered into a partnership with Daguerre, another Frenchman, whose name is remembered in Daguerrotypes, the earliest photographic records that remain at the present day. A monument was erected in France (near Chalon) upon which an inscription definitely names the year of 1822 as that in which Niepce "discovered photography."

Active plans are now in preparaion for the "World Congress of the Churches," which is scheduled to be held some time next year in Birmingham. The Congress apparently will discuss such matters as Christian Politics, Economics, and Citizenship.

It will be held under the chairmanship of the Protestant Bishop of Manchester, and according to the advance schedule of its proceedings, Catholics will take part in the deliberations, as well as representatives of the non-Catholic religious bodies.

In preparation for this Congress, which will not touch, so it seems, on matters of doctrine, study groups are ing actively prepared. The sunjects to be studied in these groups include: Property and Industry, Education, Crime, the Home, Leisure, Relation of the Sexes, Politics, War. The ultimate aim of the Congress, so the organizing secretary states, is to arouse among church members a fuller understanding of the rocial teaching of Christianity and a clearer resolve to put that teaching into prac-

Simms on Battleships.

SAYS THEY ARE OBSOLETE-PROUD HE IS PRO-BRITISH.

Rear-Admiral William S. Sims, in an address before the Lecture League of Yonkers, recently declared that the battleship was obsolete and that the submarine and airplane were now the incst effective weapons in the war He said he was opposed to the findings of the disarmament conference concerning submarines.

"The submarines are the only pro per weapons for defense of the American coast," he added, "with longranged submarines and airplane carriers and the proper complement of airplanes no hostile nation could approach within 200 miles of the American coast."

Rear-Admiral Sims laughingly referred to a statement once made by former Secretary of the Navy Josephus Danels that he would stand on the deck of a moving battleship and allow airplanes to drop bombs.

"Daniels wasn't there when the old battleships were bombed recently," he commented, "and his not being there is the reason that he is alive

In closing his speech Rear-Admral Sims stated that he had often been branded as Pro-British. He said that he had often come in contact with British officers and Englishmen in general. He said that he was proud of being pro-British and that he was a great admirer of the British characteristics, and especially of British

EASY PHILOSOPHY.

Philosophy is easy, when one is stacking high, and one can hand out breezy remarks to those who sigh. For weeks it has been raining out here where I abide; and people are complaining a s through the mud they slide. Jim Whitaker was roaring around the other night: "the way the rain keeps pouring," he grumbled, "is a fright. The silly rain keeps swatting my roof with mournful sound; my garden sass is rotting and spoiling in the ground; I should be out devoting my time to ing, I cannot dig the soil." "Cheer up," I cried, "old croaker, your grumbling is a crime; this rain is sure a soaker, but it will end in time. And when it's done and ended the blooming earth will thrive, and you will say it's splendid and fine to be alive." Next morning I lamented. "This rain storm has its gall: its measly spite it's vented on my retaining wall. The wall is washed to blazes, that wall of pure cement; the language has no phrases to cope with this event! Oh, willow, willow, waly! And likewise lackaday! And once I blithered gayly, ere hard luck came my way!" Jim Whitager came snooping around my blasted home, to see if I was whooping an optimistic poem. "I see," he said, "you're cheesey as any other guy; philosophy is easy until hard luck comes by."

Zionist Scheme for Canal System.

Members of the Zionist organization are endeavouring to obtain financial support for the construction of a system of canals in Palestine as part of its plan for the industrial development of the country. It is proposed to have the Zionists of the World espouse this system of canals as a part of their programme for the establishment of the Jewish 'Home Land" which they contemplate.

Delightful Show At the Nickel.

LARGE CROWDS WITNESS HOLI-DAY PROGRAM.

A picture of rare delight is Realart's screen adaptation of Paul Kerters play, "Beverley's Balance", which has been appropriately renamed "Food For Scandal" and was seen at the Nickel Theatre last night. One of its principal attractions lies in the brilliant flashes of humour that unexpectedly pop out at you throughout the production. The observer is carried from one situation to another, his interest ever increasing, the sub-conscious feeling that tragedy is pending serving to to heighten expectation. The work of beautiful Wanda Hawley and her supporting cast is of the best sort. The atmosphere of the play are tasteful and in keeping with the plot. The continuity runs smoothly and evenly and the sub-titles are clear and concise. Now effects in art-titles work are worked out and constitute another outstanding feature. Those who saw it last night were delighted with it. The show will be repeated to-night.

Success Nuggets.

Most men would rather work someone than work for someone.. Keep your courage up and your temper down.

The best way out of a difficulty is through it.
A man's hardest competitor ought to be himself.

Waiting to be a somebody will make you a nobody. Courtesy is to business and society that oil is to machinery.

The art of pleasing is the art of rising in the world.

Man never reaches heights above his habitual thought. Do not turn your back on troubles; meet them squarely.

A minute of keeping your mouth shut is worth an hour of explanations. Every man is a fool at least ten minutes a day. Don't exceed the limit.

The barriers are not yet erected which shut out aspiring talent. Your heart must inspire what your hands execute, or the work will be
