We give you the most interesting paper in the Dominion

TO GENTLEMEN.

It is expected if a gentleman has studied etiquette, that he will enclose a stamped envelope to a lady.

LADIES and gentlemen desiring correspondents, should give a full description of themselves and publish it, a short ad of a few words is of very little use, and a few cents spent this way will bring you a good rich and handsome partner.

TO THE LADIES:

If Ladies desire to get interesting letters from Gentlemen, their age, height, disposition, nationality, religion, color of eyes and hair, and if any means and how much, also full name and address same of city or village, street and no. of house, also what Province or State you reside in.

We cannot publish a lady's ad. unless she gives her age,

We do not publish the addresses of ladies or gentlemen, and all names and correspondence will be kept strictly secret.

THE PRIMROSE.

The milk-white blossoms of the thorn
 Are waving over the pool,
 Moved by the wind that breathes along
 So sweetly and so cool.

The hawthorn clusters bloom above,
 The primrose hides below,
 And on the lonely passer by
 A modest glance doth throw!

The humble primrose' bonnie face—
 I meet it everywhere;
 Where other flowers disdain to bloom
 It comes and needles there,
 Like God's own light, on every place
 In glory it doth tall;
 And where its dwelling place is made
 It straightway hallows all!

Where'er the green-winged linnet sings
 The primrose bloometh lone;
 And love it wins—deep love—from all
 Who gaze its sweetness on:
 On fields—paths narrow, and in woods
 We meet thee near and far,
 Till thou becomest prized and loved
 As things familiar are!

The stars are sweet at eventide,
 But cold, and far away;
 The clouds are soft in summer time,
 But all unstable they—
 The rose is rich—but, proud of place,
 Is far too high for me—
 God's simple common things I love—
 My primrose, such as thee!

I love the fireside of my home
 Because all sympathies,
 The feelings fond of every day
 Around its circle rise,
 And while admiring all the flowers
 That summer-suns can give,
 Within my heart the primrose sweet,
 In lowly love doth live.

NICOLL.

THINGS A WOMAN CAN DO.

Of the modern daughter of Eve a Boston paper says:—

She can come to a conclusion without the slightest trouble of reasoning on it, and no sane man can do that.

Six of them can talk at once and get along first rate, and no two men can do that.

She can safely stick fifty pins in her dress, while he is getting one under his thumb-nail.

She is as cool as a cucumber in a half dozen tight dresses and skirts, while a man will sweat and fume and growl in one loose shirt.

She can talk as sweet as peaches and cream to the woman she hates, while two men would be pounding each other's heads before they had exchanged ten words.

She can throw a stone with a curve that would be a fortune to a baseball pitcher.

She can say "no" in such a low voice, that it means "yes."

She can walk half a mile with a coffee baby in her arms, without once expressing the desire of murdering the infant.

She can do more in a minute than a man can do in an hour, and do it better.

She can drive a man crazy in twenty-four hours, and then bring him to paradise in two seconds, by simply tucking him under the chin, and there does not live that moral son of Adam's misery who can do it.

SARA'S POETRY - The following piece is about as dry as Whitman's, and Sara may yet be a candidate for Tennyson's post as laureate. Bernhardt is a daisy.

We ought to live—to live to love;
 We ought to live—to live to love,
 And die, and die not lovin' any more,
 Not loving any more.

We need a cool lemon drink after reading such exquisite composition.

FAITH FOR THE FOLK.

- All gardeners ought to be Bud-dhists.
- All fishmongers ought to be Mussle-men.
- All conceited people ought to be Glass-tes.
- All men-of-means ought to be Independents.
- All music hall comedians ought to be Peculiar People.
- All opinionated persons ought to be Positivists.
- All yellow haired persons ought to be Sandymanians.
- All agriculturists ought to be Sweedenborgsans.

LADIES.

49 Kingston. I am a dear little duck of a girl, father was a U. E. L. and has lots of property for me, as I am the only chick. I am 24, and weigh 133, 4 feet 9. Write to me at once, boys, as I believe in annexation.

50 Quebec. I am a real English beauty, pearly teeth, rosy lips, and sing in a church choir, am 22, height 5 feet 8, of fine form and appearance, weight 150, auburn hair, father was an officer. Write if you want both fun and a wife.

51 Montreal. I am a nice Irish girl, smart as a kitten, and a good cook, and can play the piano as well as the wash-board. Father was an officer in the Enniskillen Dragoons. Am 24, 5 feet 6, weight 132. Write if you want a bouncer.

48 Kingston. Am a nice, clergyman's daughter, have a farm, tall, fair and blue eyes, weigh 129, very stylish and am just the gal to go "smux" with a fellow on a paper, or write editorials, when my fellow would be busy. Come on scribblers and write.

EXCUSE - Aunt (to little girl, who has just returned from hearing her mother sing for the first time in public):

Well, darling, how did mamma sing this afternoon?

Little girl (dejectedly): Not very well. They made her come back and do it all over again.

HEAD YEAR. Stella (to Captain Goodcatch): Are you glad your regiment is ordered to the seat of war? Captain Goodcatch: Yes, I am anxious to be man-engagement. Chorus of voices: So are we.

HE. I am resolved to live no longer if you reject me. You you are my life! Speak!

SHE - Well, I don't care if you do take your life, then.

A CAREFUL YOUNG MAN.—Mrs Chinner— Why does young Mr. Gurley always knock at the door when he comes to call on you?

Miss Chinner— He's afraid if he comes with a ring I'll regard it as a proposal.

IT'S THE CASE—When a girl refers her lover to her pa, he feels that it is harder to question the pop than it is to pop the question.—Texes Siftings.

THE CANADIAN
MATRIMONIAL NEWS,

TORONTO, MAY 14, 1892.

M. WATSON, MANAGER,

To-whom all communications are to be addressed, and money-letters registered.

THE CANADIAN MATRIMONIAL NEWS will have a wide circulation, both in Canada, and the United States, and be taken into every house, and read by all, therefore it will be to the benefit and advantage of the business community to advertise in this Journal. In addition, look at our cheap advertising rates, namely, business ads. first insertion 7cts. per line, and each subsequent insertion, 5cts. per line. Again, look at our cheap rates for Personal advertisements, gentlemen, one cent a word for the first insertion, and each subsequent insertion half this amount, and Ladies' Personals two words for one cent, and each subsequent insertion only half this rate.

Merchants, Storekeepers and business men, send in your ads at once.

Ladies and Gents send in your Personals as early in the week as possible, so as to appear in the current week's number, count your words, enclose your money in the letter, and be certain to register, and by doing so will avoid delay in your Personals appearing.

We are going to present to the first lady getting married through our agency a handsome WATCH, from one of the best jewellers' houses in the city, and other presents will be announced in the near future.

We are willing to make a reduction in our subscription rates to Christian Endeavor Societies, Schools, Colleges, Postmasters, and also to School Teachers and School Mams, including our Senators.

Our best intentions are, to make "happy couples, happy hearts, and happy homes."

Merchants, Storekeepers and Business Men, send in your ads at once.

Ladies and Gents send in your Personals, which get preference as soon as received, and those coming in late must lie over for another week.

OUR BOW.

Good-morning! We are glad to make your acquaintance, ladies and gentlemen, and are sure that you will be happy to get an introduction to us, and to each other.

We hope to see happy homes where there are none at present, and believe in the old proverb that "Union is strength;" there is also another saying that "two heads are better than one," and better still, "two hearts beat as one."

OUR business is to look after the welfare and interests of the unmarried of both sexes, and if they will advertise in this Journal, we will do our best to further their views, and introduce them to each other.

We may also state that all our business and correspondence with ladies and gentlemen may be considered as strictly private and confidential, and under no circumstance whatever will names or addresses be made known, unless done in the proper way, as laid down in our rules.

Our circulation is large, and is being greatly increased when we have more time, and get into proper working order.

To the Merchant, business man, Storekeeper, Miller, Dry Goods Men, and men of all professions it will be greatly to your advantage to advertise with us.

OUR constituency begins at Newfoundland, and ends at Vancouver, on the Pacific.

This Journal is also going to circulate on the American side, and we expect to send it into every state in the Union.

If you write to an advertiser, it is optional whether parties write you or not. We cannot compel advertisers to write. Our business is to help you on in the good work.

ADDRESSES forwarded, as soon as asked for.

WE can put ladies and gents, in direct communication with each other, at once.

LADIES will be well satisfied with the names of gentlemen we can furnish.

AND Gentlemen will be pleased to get names of ladies.

EVERY name and address must be plainly written.

IN THE COURSE OF TIME.

When Maud and I were nine or ten
We shared our every grief and joy,
Played, quarrelled, "made it up" again,
As if she, too, had been a boy.

But when we reached thirteen or so
I seldom let her join my play;
"You're nothing but a girl, you-know"
With frank contempt I used to say.

Years passed by, and we were seventeen
Fair Maud was older far than I;
She laughed at me with scorn serene,
For I was "just a boy," and shy.

But when we came to twenty three,
I more than settled all arrears:
She then had due respect for me,
And quite ignored our equal years.

And I, too, though obdurate to men,
Can spare his style, it seems, at will
For now my son is nearly ten,
While Maud is three and twenty still.

A Scotchman first thinks and then speaks, an Englishman thinks and speaks at once, an Irishman first speaks and then thinks.

GENTLEMEN.

22 Toronto. Am an American, 34, weight 156, 5-feet 9, handsome, and curly hair, lots of money, and would like a Canadian for a wife, and start housekeeping at once.

38 Toronto. I am 29, weight 160, tired of board room life, and will exchange photos with a lady of about my own size and weight, eye ready.

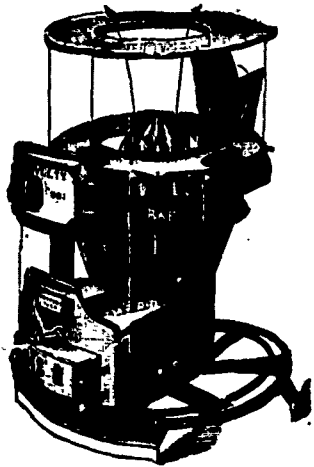

33 Toronto. Am a volunteer, tall, and red hair. 22, weight 149, I have a post office order, savings bank book. Want a quiet Christian girl for a wife. Would like a C. E. girl.

22 Toronto. I board in a hotel, and am tired of that kind of life, am 33, 5-feet 6, weight 176, and would like a girl or widow of a good family, and one who knows how to keep house. I can keep a servant. Write if you want to go into house-keeping.

12 Toronto. Am a fair, kind, young man, age 39, weight 133, 5-feet 10, a regular dandy, use monocle, fond of club-life but would give up this if some handsome ladies would write me, as I want to join the holy bands of matrimony. Write at once.
