ACTIVE RECRUITING CAMPAIGN STARTS

Speakers of New Organization Will Address First Meeting Today.

Mayor Gets Busy on Matter—Labor Candidate Elected to Council.

By a Staff Reporter. HAMILTON, Saturday, July 10.—At a representative meeting of the officers and subscribers of the Hamilton Recruiting League at the Hamilton Regiment mess-rooms last night the organization of the league was perfected, and arrangements were made to start active campaign at once.

The sub-committee held their organization meeting last night and selected heads for the various departments. Manufacturers, R. R. Moody, chairman; H. J. Wadde, secretary. Public meetings are held for Saturday and Sunday nights in the vicinity of Gore Park, when the best speakers who can be secured will make appeals for men to give their services to their country.

A small fire broke out at 10:25 last night in the premises of W. J. Feaver, at 232 West King street, when an overturned lantern caused a blaze in a trunk stable. A valuable horse in the stable was able to escape the flames. The loss is estimated at $300.

Hamilton lost an old resident yesterday afternoon when Mrs. Margaret Nelson, wife of the late John D. Nelson, passed away in her 78th year.

Richard Sheldrick died yesterday at 241 Cannon street, after a residence in Hamilton extending over half a century. He was very well known as a business man, having conducted a baggage and carting business here for many years.

William Reed and James Melvor were brought back from Fort Erie yesterday afternoon to face a charge of fraud preferred against them by a Hamilton hotel manager who claims that over $40 is due him. The detectives had the men in custody when they were still around the race track. The information sent to Fort Erie led to their arrest.

Hamilton will insure its soldiers, and the board of control has authorized no time will be lost in disposing of the problem. Recruiting stations, F. H. Littlewood, chairman, has a contract with insurance companies yesterday afternoon. He stated that the cost will amount to nearly $200,000, and the cost will have to be made for at least 100 men. The mayor stated that the soldiers would have to be insured. He stated that the cost would be, and if the insurance companies would not do it, the business the city would have to look after itself.

No difficulty is expected in placing the policies, as a representative of a reputable company has been in the city to Cooper this week relative to getting the city's business.

George Halverson will fill the aldermanic position in Ward Five, made vacant by the resignation of W. J. Depew, as a result of the withdrawal of Fred W. Littlewood from the election, which was to have been contested on Wednesday.

Paul Jackett tried to convince the magistrate in police court yesterday that his documentary proof and his statements seemed to be grounds for believing that the prisoner was a German. The magistrate said that Jackett had forced the evidence to show that Depew was a different person than the man in the photograph who was taken in the police court this morning.

There is now a recruiting station in Gore Park, which was in charge of the recruitment at the station. The man in charge is now at the station, and is prepared to receive recruits from different branches of the military service.

GERMANY MAKES REPLY TO WILSON

Promise Given to Discriminate in Favor of American Ships.

ing reply to His Excellency Ambassador Gerard to the note of the 10th ultimo re the impounding of the American interests of the German submarine war. The imperial government permits its agents and decisions in the present case to be governed by the principles of humanity just as it has done always.

"The imperial government welcomed with gratitude when the American Government in the note of May 15 itself recalled that Germany had always permitted itself to be governed by the principles of progress and humanity in dealing with the laws of maritime war. Since the time when Frederick the Great negotiated with John Adams, Franklin and Thomas Jefferson the treaty of friendship and commerce of September 24, 1795, between Prussia and the republic of the west German and American statesmen have, in fact, always stood together in the struggle for the freedom of the seas and for the protection of peaceable trade in the international proceedings which have been conducted for the regulation of the laws of maritime war. Germany and America have jointly proclaimed progressive principles, especially the abolition of the right of capture at sea and the protection of the interests of neutrals.

"Even at the beginning of the present war the German Government immediately declared its willingness in response to proposals of the American Government to ratify the Declaration of London and thereby subject itself to the use of the same forces to all the restrictions provided therein in favor of neutrals. Germany likewise has been conducting against the armed and organized forces of an enemy country, but the measures of war. The imperial government, in fact, has been conducting against the armed and organized forces of an enemy country, but the measures of war. The imperial government, in fact, has been conducting against the armed and organized forces of an enemy country, but the measures of war.

"The imperial government believes it can assume that in this manner adequate facilities for travel across the Atlantic Ocean can be afforded American citizens. There would, therefore, appear to be no compelling necessity for American citizens to travel to Europe in time of war on ships carrying an enemy flag. In particular, the imperial government is unable to admit that American citizens should be prohibited from the mere fact of their presence on board.

story of the violation of those principles of highest humanity which are the foundation of every national existence.

Britain to Blame for Lusitania.

"The case of the Lusitania shows what horrible clearness is what jeopardizing of human lives the manner of conducting war employed by our adversaries leads. In the most direct contradiction of international law all distinctions between merchantmen and war vessels have been obliterated by the order which British merchantmen to arm themselves and to ram submarines, and the promise of rewards therefor, and neutrals who use merchantmen as travelers thereby have been exposed in an increasing degree to all the dangers of war.

Story of Munitions Again.

"If the commander of the German submarine which destroyed the Lusitania had caused the crew and passengers to take to the boats before firing a torpedo this would have meant the sure destruction of his own vessel. After the experiences in sinking the smaller and less seaworthy vessels it was to be expected that a mighty ship like the Lusitania would be immune from the torpedoes, even after the torpedoing, to permit the safe passage of the ship's cargo. Circumstances of a very peculiar kind, especially the presence on board of munitions, have caused the Lusitania to be shot out of the water. In addition, it may be noted that the Lusitania had been spared thousands of tons of munitions which have been sent to Germany's mother and children robbed of their lives.

"In the spirit of friendship wherewith the German nation has been imbued since the earliest days of its existence, the imperial government will always be ready to do all that it can to prevent the lives of American citizens. The imperial government, therefore, has announced that American ships will not be hindered in the prosecution of legitimate shipping and the use of the same in neutral vessels shall not be placed in jeopardy.

Notification Sought.

"In order to exclude any unforeseen dangers to American passenger steamers, made possible in view of the conduct of maritime war by Germany's adversaries, German submarines will be instructed to permit the free and safe passage of passenger steamers when made recognizable by special markings, and notified in a reasonable time in advance of their appearance. The imperial government, however, confidently hopes that the German Government will assume to guarantee that these vessels have no contraband on board, details of arrangements for passenger service under the American flag, the exact number of passengers, and the same condition as the above-mentioned American steamers.

Protect Enemy's Ships.

"The imperial government believes it can assume that in this manner adequate facilities for travel across the Atlantic Ocean can be afforded American citizens. There would, therefore, appear to be no compelling necessity for American citizens to travel to Europe in time of war on ships carrying an enemy flag. In particular, the imperial government is unable to admit that American citizens should be prohibited from the mere fact of their presence on board.

Followed Britain's Example.

"Germany's example in the declaration of part of the sea as an area of war. Consequently, ships in this area of war cannot well be regarded as neutral in an essential sense. Neutral ships are at all times exposed to the risk of being captured by the sea powers. It is therefore possible for the American Government to prepare to interpose no objections to the placing under the American flag by the American Government of four enemy passenger steamers for passenger traffic between North America and England. Assurances of 'free and safe passage' for American passenger steamers would then extend to apply under the identical conditions to these formerly hostile passenger steamers.

"The President of the United States has declared his readiness, in a way desired by Great Britain, to suggest proposals to the Government of Great Britain, with particular reference to the alteration of the Declaration of London, which will always be glad to make use of the good offices of the president and hopes that his efforts in the present case, as well as in the direction of the lofty ideal of the freedom of the seas, will lead to an understanding. The undersigned, requests the ambassador to bring the same to the attention of the American Government, and avails himself of the opportunity to renew to his excellency the assurance of his most respectful consideration.

(Signed) Von Jagow.

TO THE UTMOST LIMIT

Their British and French comrades in Flanders and presenting a solid and impenetrable front. "In the Dardanelles," Lord Kitchener continued, "the Australians and New Zealanders combined, already have accomplished a feat of arms almost unexampled in the history of the world, and are pushing the campaign to a successful conclusion."

To Develop Military Resources.

"Strengthened by the unflinching support of our fellow citizens across the seas, we seek to develop our own military resources to their utmost limit and this is the purpose which brings us together today."

Specifying the three things necessary to conduct a modern war successfully as men, material and money, Lord Kitchener said that the government with its new loan was supplying money with a liberal hand, and that the ministry of munitions was handling its work in a highly satisfactory manner.

He continued: "There still remains a vital need for men to fill the ranks of our armies and our navy, and it is this need that we must meet. At this point and to bring it home to the people of this country that I have come here."

Took Office as Soldier.

"When I took up the office I held it as a soldier and not as a politician, and I warned my countrymen that the war would be not only arduous but long. In one of my earliest statements made after the beginning of the war I said that I should require more men and still more until the enemy is crushed. I repeat that statement today with even greater insistence."

"All the reasons which led me to think in August, 1914, that this war would be a prolonged one, hold good at the present time. It is true that we are now in a immeasurably better situation than when we were ten months ago, but our position today is at least as serious as it was then."

"Our preparation, Germany, due to the strenuous efforts sustained at high pressure for some twelve years, has issued a military organization as complete in character as it is perfect in machinery."

German Strength Waning.

"It is true that Germany's long preparation enabled her to utilize her whole resources from the very commencement of the war, while our policy is one of gradually increasing our offensive forces. It might be said with truth that the more we fight the more we must increase."

"The speaker here dwelt on the question of raising new troops, some of which have already made their presence felt at the front," and stated: "From the first there has been a satisfactory and constant flow of recruits, and the falling off in numbers recently apparent in the recruiting returns, I believe, is due to a great degree to circumstances of a temporary character."

ABLE TO EQUIP RECRUITS.

"We have now reached a period when it can be said that this drawback has been surmounted and that the troops in training can be supplied with sufficient arms and material to turn them out as efficient soldiers. Now we are able to clothe and equip all recruits as they come in, and this is a matter of great importance, and is restricted by any limitation."

"It is an axiom that the large army is in greater need of an ever swelling number of men of recruitable age to maintain its full strength, yet at the same time supply of those very men is automatically lessened."

TO FORM LARGE RESERVES.

"The dimensions of the new army already have reached a figure which is only a short time ago would have been considered utterly unthinkable, but there is a tendency, perhaps, to overlook the fact that these large armies require still larger reserves to make good the wastage at the front."

for the service, replacing them by men not recruitable, as the result of age. "What the numbers required are likely to be it is clearly inexpedient to publish either these, or any other figures likely to prove useful to the enemy needs neither explanation nor apology."

It has often been urged that if more information were given as to the work and whereabouts of the various units recruiting would be strongly stimulated, but this is the precise information which would be of the greatest value to the enemy, and it is agreeable to thereby suggest. Indeed, the high command recently recorded the other day his complete ignorance of our new formations."

Casualty Lists Open to All.

"But one set of figures is available for everybody. This is supplied by the casualty lists. With regard to these lists, however, serious and sad as they necessarily are, let two points be borne in mind. Firstly, that very large percentage of the casualties represents comparatively slight hurts, the sufferers from which in time return to the front, and secondly, that if the figures seen to run very high, the magnitude of the operations is thereby suggested. Indeed, these casualty lists, whose great length may now and again induce an undue impression, are an instructive indication of the huge extent now reached by the British forces in the field."

KITCHENER ON VISIT TO ARMY AT FRONT

Accompanied by Premier Asquith, War Minister Innes, Visits King Albert

Saw Everything in Tour of Two Days and Half Duration.

BY FREDERICK PALMER.

BRITISH HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, July 9.—For the first time since the army has occupied the present line, Field Marshal Earl Kitchener has been at the front. He was accompanied by Premier Asquith and Colonels Hankey and Fitzgerald.

The next morning Lord Kitchener was up at 5.30 o'clock, and an hour later he called at one of the department headquarters in the town, where he spent a half-hour. The major in charge belonged to the night tour, the officer of the day tour not having yet come on. Later, with Premier Asquith, he visited the second army, saw the troops, gun positions, and trenches, and went into shell-torn Ypres.

On Thursday Lord Kitchener visited the first army, reviewed the Belgian line, and saw the French troops in position in the region of Arras. He returned to London on Thursday evening. No feature of the army organization at the front was omitted from the field marshal's inspection. He saw more in two and one-half days than anyone had ever been able to see in the same length of time at the front.

Both the premier and Lord Kitchener stopped and spoke to men who were engaged in digging fortifications. Wherever they went, the silver-haired premier and the tall, determined appearing field marshal were recognized and the field marshal from the attitude with which he has on the inspection, and the army. He showed less fatigue than some of the younger members of the party who accompanied him.

WHERE IS WILLIE OATS? The Salvation Army is desirous of locating Willie Oats. If he or his friends will communicate with Colonel Jacobs assistance will be given immediately.

BABY'S GREAT DANGER DURING HOT WEATHER

More little ones die during the hot weather than at any other time of the year. Diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera without warning, and when a medicine is not at hand to give promptly the short delay too frequently means that the child has passed beyond aid.

Canada calls, and the conscience calls! What is the answer? THREAT TO RESIGN BY LLOYD GEORGE Retention of Von Donop, Chief of Ordnance, is Cause.

WHAT OF HALDANE?

Alleged Intrigue to Effect His Reinstatement Complicates Situation.

LONDON, July 9.—The Daily Chronicle says: "In some quarters it is rumored that if Major-General Stanley B. Von Donop, master general of ordnance, is retained by David Lloyd George will, and that if Major-General Von Donop does, the resignation of Lord Kitchener also will go."

The controversy also developed the fact that the mysterious cabinet divisions over the issue was headed by Lord Kitchener.

Von Donop who has been master of British ordnance, is blamed by some for the ammunition shortage, is first cousin to the Prussian general, Hans Von Donop.

The announcement of Lloyd George, the minister of munitions, on July 7, regarding Viscount Haldane, ex-lord chancellor and secretary of war, and the question of the supply of war munitions, has started a political sensation in the most of the United Kingdom, and it is being made the most of by the Northcliffe press.

A Pointed Question. Sir Henry Doulzie, Liberal member for Kirkcaldy Burghs, has given notice that he will ask Premier Asquith in the house of commons on Monday whether Lord Haldane's disclosures of the proceedings of a confidential committee of the cabinet were made with the premier's authority, and it seems as if the government will hardly be able to avoid a public discussion.

Mr. Wiley has an extensive propaganda in view, intended to do nothing undone that will materialize towards the benefit of the association in the west.

Lord Kitchener's Call

When Lord Kitchener says that the recruiting has been satisfactory, but that more men are needed than ever, and that while conditions in this respect are better than they were ten months ago, yet that the military situation is as serious as ever, he is talking to Canadians quite as much as to the British people in the islands at home.

Men and more men is the demand. Every man who can go, who has no claim upon him but the general claim of humanity, has the opportunity now to make the great decision for himself, and to say whether he is going to live his own little selfish, separate life, or whether he is willing to take up the white man's burden in the urgent crisis in which civilization stands at present.

This is not a time to halt and consider, the men of above decision may well take a few days to think it over. They ought to make it a serious subject for meditation, however. It is not themselves merely, but all that humanity has fought and struggled for during centuries past.

These intangible things which we call liberty, freedom, independence, free thought, self-government, democracy, humanity itself, brotherhood, are not to be estimated in terms of wealth or commerce. They are of the essential nature of men at their best. Men at their best in all ages have been willing to strive for these things, to die for them, to live for them, to die for them, and willing to give all so that these may endure. If the war meant less than this we should have no justification for the tremendous demands that we made upon our best and bravest.

To the Point

The Outlook thinks it is absurd to call lay witnesses in a lunacy inquest. Yet few of us are willing to admit that we cannot tell whether an acquaintance is sane or insane. There is no doubt a number of people on the border line whose insanity cannot be demonstrated by odor or any other physical test. In such cases if the brain is really affected the affection betrays itself only by mental disturbance.

Insurance Premiums

It is stated that one of the victims of the trolley accident at Queenston had omitted to pay his insurance premium the day before and that his policy was therefore invalidated. Incidents of this kind are so frequent that it is a matter for surprise that some competent person in each family is not appointed to see that omissions of this kind are not permitted to occur.

If it be deplorable for such things to happen as a result of accident or oversight, it is a great deal worse when they occur through deliberate neglect or intention. A great deal of this has come under observation lately in connection with the movement to place certain of the fraternal insurance societies on a sound basis with the adoption of the scale of rates authorized by the government and known as the Hunter rates. Among the societies which have done this recently many of the older members have regarded the whole thing as a personal injury, and have resented the attempt to safeguard their interests by securing the solvency of the association to which they belonged.

This is partly due, perhaps, to forgetfulness of the conditions, under which fraternal insurance was inaugurated. The members joined with the intention of paying as many instalments per month as would defray the cost of the death claims. No one knew at first just what the liability would be, but it was evident that no one would have to pay more than actual cost. It was taken for granted that there would be more to pay as the members grew older than at first, but the regular rates and instalments were continued so long that many of the older members appear to have forgotten the conditions under which they joined, and when increased demands were made upon them many of them got out of the societies and those who remained kept up incessant complaint.

Those who got out benefited the societies rather than themselves and many of them died shortly after their resignations, demonstrating admirably the principle known as lapse.

The object of raising the rates was of course to remedy the increasing number of instalments, keeping the payments to one a month, but increasing the amount. Those who undertook to pay what was called for should not have minded whether they paid, say 38 instalments a year at $1.21, to take an actual example, or 12 instalments at $3.37 each. The increased amount simply took the place of the more frequent instalments.

A large number of those who were at first enthusiastic over fraternal insurance have given it up just at the time when it has been placed on a sounder basis than ever before, because they have forgotten that each instalment paid for the month in which it was paid and not for any future time. Like fire insurance, it was good as long as it was kept good. With premiums paid up the insurance is paid when the house is burned. The fraternal life insurance is good from month to month while the instalments are paid and the insurance is paid at death.

The Railway Situation

Hon. Mr. White is the Mark Tapley of finance ministers. He keeps us all from having the blues, and is therefore to be commended. The London Free Press thinks, however, that he brushes too lightly aside the difficulties presented by the railway situation, and agrees with Solicitor-General McEwen that:

Aside from the war the most tremendous situation that has ever faced this country exists today in the position of the great railway systems or some of them.

The Free Press goes on to say that we must either give further assistance to some of the railways or nationalize them. That will be the supreme issue for the government to decide and perhaps for parliament to pass upon at the next session. Of course in this connection The Free Press denounces Sir Wilfrid Laurier for projecting the National Transcontinental before it was needed. But to be fair we must admit that public sentiment in 1903 very generally demanded some competition with the Canadian Pacific as a transcontinental line. Where Sir Wilfrid blundered was in not turning over the whole project to a non-partisan commission of experts. Such a commission, we venture to say, would have built a line from sea to sea, or what the road between Moncton and Winnipeg has cost. Whether after starting the National Transcontinental the government should have encouraged the Canadian Northern to build a third transcontinental is still another question.

However, we have the roads and must now call in expert advice if there are to be any fixed charges upon them.

Many men feel that the government is making two bits of a cherry if it absorbs only the Canadian Northern at this time. The World would be glad to see all the railways of Canada owned and operated by the government. Still it must be remembered that the government is in a position to take over the Canadian Northern without litigation, and that the Canadian Northern will devolve in with our government railways, including the Hudson Bay enterprise and make with them a unified system from sea to sea.

South American Trade

What are we doing to get South American trade? If the war is to continue long our manufacturers cannot look elsewhere for increased exports. True, we have the war munitions business, but it is a business which in the nature of things cannot be permanent. The great European countries after the war will have a surplus of cheap labor and great econ-

The police state that Coombs and the victim and the latter's brother William Coombs had a quarrel over two days' wages on Thursday, which was alleged to be owing to the victim's brother for work that he claimed to have done for Coombs. A fight followed, in which the two brothers joined issue against the expressman, but was quickly over and none of the combatants appeared to suffer. On reaching home Robert complained of pain in his head, and as he continued to grow worse a doctor was called, who advised the removal of the young man to a hospital, where he died early Friday morning. The body being removed to the morgue, where an inquest will be held.

Coombs is 48 years of age and married, and is a neighbor of the victim's, and was called a quick temper.

Three Years' Sentence.
In the police court yesterday Magistrate James G. Smith sentenced Cecil McEwen, alias Morris, alias H. S. Grey, to three years in Kingston Penitentiary for forgery, cheque cashing and breach of the Immigration Act, in bringing in a young woman who is now a charge on the police.

Hopes' career was laid bare in a letter received from D. C. Scott, Dominion Immigration Inspector, Ottawa, who stated that the man, who married in England in 1903 to one Lillian Jones. Two children were born, and in August, 1914, Hopes deserted his wife and eloped with Gladys Robinson, coming to Canada with this woman under the name of Cecil Morris. Both declared themselves to be man and wife at their time of purchase of the Canadian port. Gladys Robinson paid all the expenses of the trip, and on their return to Toronto, she deposited the sum of $2,065.78 in a local bank, and Hopes got employment, but lived largely on sums given him by his wife.

A short time ago Hopes induced a Scotch girl, Helen Grey, to leave Toronto and go to Niagara Falls under a promise of marriage. The girl, who they roomed as Mr. and Mrs. Grey.

The department proposes to deport Hopes as soon as he has served his sentence, and for the time being will leave Gladys Robinson and her two children in Canada.

Committed for Trial.
On a charge of conspiracy to defraud, Jeremiah Lyons and T. E. Taylor were committed for trial yesterday.

Lyons and Taylor gave Tennant and Purvis Mimico lots to sell at $10 per foot, and the charges is that the real estate agents sold them at $20 to $25 per foot, not advising the firm of the higher price.

Evidence of the conspiracy was submitted by Robert A. McDonald, who said that Tennant and John T. Tennant and Purvis, real estate men, were committed for trial yesterday.

CITY'S FINANCES BIG IN VOLUME

Treasurer's Report Shows Larger Bulk Transactions Than Ever Before.
REAL PROPERTY VALUE Corporation's Holdings Come to More Than Forty Million Dollars.

City Auditor Sterling's report on the city finances for the year 1914 has just been completed. It points out that last year was the largest financial year in the magnitude of the city's business given in the gross financial transactions, which are as follows: Cash receipts $105,726,123; bank deposits $47,468,234; bank withdrawals $45,068,922. The report says that the city's revenue is in a very satisfactory condition, and the collection branch of the treasury department is praised for the way in which the whole tax collection is now handled.

The report also shows that the amount of 1914, the unpaid taxes amounted to $2,225,020, and of this amount $1,054,006 was collected during the first half of this year.

A revised list of civic properties, together with their commercial valuation, has been prepared, which shows that the value of the real property of the corporation totals $41,414,541. The two largest items are public buildings, valued at $8,149,040, and parks property, $14,202,337.

The auditor reports that the city treasury has now installed and working a unit system of accounting covering all revenue-producing utilities. The separation of the sinking fund from the general fund is in course of preparation, and when finished each utility will have its own separate fund. The sinking funds during the year have been maintained at their proper level.

Want Council's Aid.
The Downtown Church Workers' Association has addressed a letter to Mayor Church, in which it is pointed out that the unemployment situation in the city is very bad. The city is asked to do what it can in its power during this coming winter, and special attention is drawn to the decrease in building permits issued, which amounted to over eight million dollars from January to the end of May. The letter concludes: "We feel that without the scientific co-operation and systematic aid of the city council, the unemployed in downtown Toronto cannot effectively cope with the situation."

City Cannot Act.
Crown Attorney Corbett has informed Mayor Church that the city cannot issue warrants in connection with the street car accident at Queenston, which killed and injured. The crown attorney states that in his opinion that the responsibility for the accident should be placed where it belongs, inasmuch as it affected Toronto and the trial take place where the accident happened, so that the city officials are not in a position to take any legal action.

Several of the civic fathers, together with a number of the members of the British Imperial Association, visited the Royce property on St. Clair avenue, which is proposed as a park site, yesterday. The proposed site is said to be $11,800 per acre, and the purchase of the property by the city would endeavor to settle on a price.

BIG CROWDS OF WAR MACHINISTS EN ROUTE.
Superintendent R. Newman of the city employment bureau, 120 West from Montreal street, returned yesterday from Montreal, where he had taken 872 machinists down to Montreal to be factories on the manufacturing of war munitions. The British employment officials will return to Toronto in a few days to examine the men who are desirous to go there to work.

ALIENS FAIL TO REPORT THRU CHANGE IN OFFICES
Chief Grasset Explains Apparent Absence of Enemies.
In reference to the number of alien enemies who have failed to report, and in contradiction to the sensational rumor that large numbers of the former have managed to escape from this country to the other side, and from there to their respective armies, Chief of Police Grasset was very explicit when he said: "The trouble appears to have started when the change of registrar was made, by which some of them have been mistaken as to when they were supposed to report and probably some of them. I cannot speak English now that the office is moved, I believe that their obligation is over, I believe that the majority of those missing is merely due to sheer ignorance and not thru a desire to evade the laws. However, the department is working steadily and we hope to have things in a very satisfactory condition immediately."

CANADA RESOLVED TO FIGHT TO END

Sir Robert Borden Expresses Supreme Determination of Dominion.

TO PUT DOWN ENEMY
Unlimited Resources of Country Put at Disposal of British Empire.

most unlimited. On the other hand our lack of preparation still apparent, is, in itself, the most convincing evidence that this empire possessed no other power and earnestly desired peace.

Unprepared we confront the most highly organized, disciplined and aggressive military power ever known in history, thoroughly trained and prepared during half a century, for the achievement of world supremacy by force of arms. The most optimistic will concede that not one of the above necessary delay in needed preparation can be permitted.

"In Canada as elsewhere we have given and we are still giving of our best. The spirit of the Canadian people is expressed in a century, for so great a sacrifice must not be made in vain, but that the sacrifice will assuredly be to no purpose unless so decisive a result comes of the efforts of the allied nations that barbarous and merciless militarism shall no longer overshadow humanity.

"The great questions touching the status of the dominions of the empire and their constitutional relation to each other will arise after. Upon such questions it would be idle and undesirable to dwell at present. We do not doubt that a satisfactory solution will be found, but in the meantime the supreme issue of the war will be only Canadian.

Sir Robert Borden also made similar statements to the English press.

LORD'S DAY ALLIANCE ATTACKS SUNDAY BALL

Manager of Ottawa Team, Players and Sporting Writers Summoned to Court.

By a Staff Reporter.
OTTAWA, July 9.—An attack on Sunday ball in the Canadian League was made by the Lord's Day Alliance here today, when summonses were issued by Magistrate Goyette of the Hull court, calling on Frank Shaughnessy, manager of the Ottawa ball team, and Malcolm Eric and Thomas Gorman, sporting editors of local papers, to appear in court on Tuesday next to face charges of having violated the Lord's Day Act.

Eric and Gorman are officers of the ball club.
The ball games were conducted on Dupuis Park, in Hull, and the date of offence charged is May 23.
Besides the managers and the two officers these players have been summoned to appear before the court: Pete Bowers, Arthur Luge, Cozy Dolan and Louis Peterson. They will be charged with having taken part in the game.

There are four counts against the club manager and the sporting editors, as follows: Engaged in a performance which a few were charged, employing persons on Sunday; advertising a game and providing a performance in a place other than a church for gain or reward.
Similar action was taken by the Lord's Day Alliance a year ago, but the charges never went to court, as the prosecutions were not authorized by the attorney-general of Quebec. This time, it is understood, authorization for the charges has been given by Sir Lomer Gouin, and the alliance intend to bring a test case on the above grounds.

A night attack preceded by the discharge of bombs and liquid fire from aeroplanes was repulsed by the French at Croix des Armes after the enemy had carried 850 yards of the French first line trenches, the enemy's dislodgement being effected by a brisk counter-attack.

Big Gain at Ban-de-Sapt.
A total gain of 600 yards was realized by French troops at Ban-de-Sapt in the Vosges, when after driving the enemy from some trenches which he captured on June 22, they rushed the entire German defensive position, capturing 19 German officers, 1,000 men, 200 machine guns, 200 machine guns, several bomb throwers and great quantities of munitions. The captured French artillery here prevented counter-attacks.
In an official statement claims the repulse of French troops at various points on the front, and the capture of trenches at Ban-de-Sapt.

MISSOURI HADRO HAS BOUGHT ELECTRIC LINE

Secretary Hannigan Knows Nothing of Matter, But Says Deal May Go Thru.
GUELPH, Ont., July 9.—A report gained circulation to the effect that the Hydro Electric Power Commission had purchased the electric line known as the Toronto Suburban Railway with grading all done between Toronto and Guelph and that the line would be finished up without delay and perhaps be in operation this fall.
Secretary Hannigan of the Provincial Hydro-Electric Railway Association, who has been in Guelph on the matter, stated that he had not heard the story himself and that while he could not state anything authoritative, he was of the opinion that such a deal might go thru.
Mr. Wilkie, who has been supervising the construction of the Toronto Suburban ever since it was started, was in the city last week and said he would be in Guelph to operate to Guelph this year as money was too scarce. It is understood, however, that all the equipment, rolling stock, etc. for the road has been ordered from the manufacturers.

"DER TAG" IS DUE

German Fleet Eventually to Make Desperate Dash for the High Seas.
Stress from many angles will soon force the German fleet into the open where she will be engaged by the impatient British dreadnoughts, and "Der Tag" so ardently longed for by the Teuton will become a stern reality.
Outnumbered two to one by the fleets of Great Britain and the United States, the German fleet, together with the war craft of the smaller nations at war, the doom of her navy seems sealed.
"Der Tag" shall be in truth "that day," and English guns will wipe the insult out, and lesson the Teuton in international etiquette.
When the Union Jack will be snapping at the masthead of the flagship of the British squadron on that day, will it also be flying from the front of your home?

To Acquire Curly Hair Over Night

(The Beauty Seeker.)
There's good news, indeed, in the announcement that so simple a method as the use of curling irons will make it beautifully curly and wavy over night. The hair, drawn in a ringlet that is perfectly natural in appearance, and there is nothing sticky, greasy or unpleasant about it, which is of course quite hairless, also serves as a splendid dressing for the hair, keeping it delightfully glossy and supple.
If one will procure a few ounces of this preparation, and apply it to the hair every night, it will be very pretty waved, without having that burnt, lifeless look acquired by being heated iron.

TROLLEY WRECK NOT AVOIDABLE?

Vice-President Dickson Denies Company Was Guilty of Negligence.

NO EXCESSIVE SPEED

Report of Lack of Sand is Described as Baseless.

Special to The Toronto World.
NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., July 9.—E. J. Dickson, vice-president of the International Railway Company, gave out this statement this afternoon on the Queenston wreck:
"We are not further along in the investigation than at the time of the accident as to its cause. There is nothing to indicate any change in our opinion that it was unavoidable. That conclusion was reached by various officers of the company after an examination of the premises on the night of the accident. Since that time our energies have been devoted to the wants and needs of those who were injured and the relatives and friends of the unfortunate who were killed."
"We are in no position at the present time to change our views that the accident was unavoidable, but will, of course, make a thorough investigation of the elements any one of which might have been the cause of the accident."
Deny High Speed.
"The newspaper reports to the effect that the car was late and running at high speed was an hour to make the boat connection are absolutely erroneous. The car was not late, and no great speed was attained during the time of the accident until it got away on one of the grades. From the time the car left Brock's monument to the time the boat was due to leave, 40 minutes intervened. The run from Brock's monument to the boat landing is ordinarily made in from 10 to 12 minutes. The accident occurred approximately 1000 to 2000 feet from the landing, and it is obvious that with approximately 35 minutes to reach the end of the line there was no necessity for high speed, and that there was ample time to make the boat on the regular schedule with some 30 minutes to spare."

No Lack of Sand.
"A wet rail perhaps contributed to the cause of the accident. As to the report that there was no sand in the sand box, that is nothing more or less than an unwarranted rumor. There is sand in the box. I know that to be so from my own personal observation."

Every employee and official of the company beyond measure, and the result of the accident and entreaties of sympathy for those who were injured and the relatives and friends of those who were fatally hurt. We have not yet begun a thorough investigation as to the cause of the accident, devoting our time to what we consider more immediate needs, the care of the injured and assisting relatives of the dead. We shall, of course, make a most thorough investigation as to the cause of the accident, and we are receiving Sidney Hoyt, a representative of the trolley who is suffering from a dislocated shoulder, gashed hand and a general shaking up, and getting along nicely at his home in St. Clair avenue. When seen at his residence he stated that he knew shortly after the car passed Brock's monument that it was doomed to destruction. He is now in hospital with a broken leg and a broken arm, and is being treated by Dr. R. H. MacNeill, who is now in New York, where he has recently returned from a week's absence.

Bowl, Landing Trophy.

Sir John Willison drew the shot with his last bowl on the last end, cutting out the Association Trophy final of the Ontario Bowling Association by two shots. They started the fifteenth end with Canadas one shot up, the the Granites launched two the fourteenth, and had Sir John prize down to the Granite clubhouse by the same margin that he lost by. The mutual consent was played on a true green, running north and south, beside the Aberdeen clubhouse, and was close throughout. Skip Willison changed ends early ends with his own bowl, or the Canadas would never have been in the running, as at least one of his players was off-color, while, on the other side, the Bennie quartet were working like clockwork. Skip Rennie killed the first and fourth ends by running the jack outside. A good gallery was on hand and enjoyed a well-played game. Sinks and score: Canadas—Granites—

DR. LARRICK WINS FT. ERIE FEATURE

Font, Paying Better Than Ten to One, Lands Last—The Card for Closing Day.

FORT ERIE, July 9.—The Racing Association was favored with ideal weather today. The track, after drying out rapidly, was heavy at the start. A handicap at six furlongs, the fourth event, was the feature of the card of seven races. Dr. Larrick moved up stoutly on the outside entering the stretch. He finished eighth under a hard drive and nose Back Bay out in the last stride. The latter was used up racing with the Widow Moon in the first half and weakened near the end. Partridge came from last place in the stretch run and was a bang-up third. He was rapidly overhauling the leaders at the end, and was only beaten half a length for all the money. The Widow Moon quit. Deposit went a good half. Then tired. Record could never get up. Font won the closing event, paying $22.30 for 12, with Laird of Kirkcaldy another long shot, second. Summary: FIRST RACE—Purse $500, maiden two-year-olds, five furlongs. 1. Water War, 100 (Callahan), $7.40, $4.30 and $2.60. 2. Reserve, 108 (Kedler), $4.70, $3.90. 3. J. Z. Wiggins, 105 (Garner), $6.90. Time 1:09. Clara Morgan, Semper Stairway, Matrix and Peep Sign also ran.
