THE "COERCIONIST"

SIR WILFRID TELLS LIBERAL HOST HOW HE WOULD BRING HOME THE ROYAL

Premier Explains to Party in Ontario His Course in Western Autonomy—Liberals of City and Province Do Themselves Proud at Big Banquet in Massey Hall.

As Told in Figures. Cooke 16, Number of diners 150, Gallery spectators 250, Cost of dinner $2400, Cost of reception $3000, Number of waiters 135, Kitchen women 55, Under stewards 14, Head steward 1.

Toronto Liberals have once more demonstrated in organizing a reception to their chief they have nothing to learn. Sir Wilfrid Laurier has come to Toronto, received the acclamations of his political friends, and he will depart sorrowfully for he cannot, with all his virtues, win the political support of this city confirmed in Confederation. The banquet in Massey Hall last night was a magnificent and inspiring event. If Sir Wilfrid was not guilty of a perversion of truth it exceeded, in order, in beauty and in numbers anything he has ever witnessed, and the Liberal leader has been the recipient of some remarkable demonstrations of party fealty. There were 150 diners at the banquet, the caterer provided 200 quills, and he had not only a couple of thousand ladies and gentlemen looked down upon the tables from the altitude of the galleries. Flowers were lavished in the decorations, and there was a profusion of bunting, with the British emblem predominant. The scene was one to be remembered. Upon the stage of the hall the most prominent politicians ranged along two tables, while in the boxes on either side sat the leading Liberal women of Ontario. The wife of the gifted chief, who was seated in the balcony, had her hand to the signal for an ebullition of cheers and the waving of handkerchiefs, which testified to the gallantry of an Ontario audience which always accords the helpmeet of the premier a welcome quite as warm as that of the man of the hour.

Premier in Good Health. Sir Wilfrid appeared to be enjoying excellent health. He spoke without showing fatigue and lacked nothing in his old-time eloquence. Many times he raised his audience to a state of applause, and even if he failed to convince some of the doubting Thomases of Ontario Liberals, he has adhered strictly to the principles for which they have fought, he at least has the sympathy of the vast majority of his constituents. He came to Toronto to rehabilitate himself, and the only road was by way of Alberta and Saskatchewan. The question could not be ignored in an Ontario gathering. The wonderful thing about Sir Wilfrid was that Conservatives had come to be the part of provincial politics that not only cheered but cheered him at one time eaten half a pea and regarded himself as a vegetarian. The Conservative party had themselves as the champions of provincial rights. This doctrine was taught by Sir Wilfrid and Blake, and opposed by Sir John Macdonald.

Not Coercionist. Sir Wilfrid repeated the arguments advanced a year ago for a more restricted autonomy on Alberta and Saskatchewan, and led up to the declaration that he never intended by their votes ratified the constitution. Then why should the term "coercionist" be applied to him, when what he had done? On other questions of policy Sir Wilfrid touched lightly. His new departure in the shape of policy was the extension of trade with the Orient.

But Laurier was not all. Ross was banking in the shade. He is not Laurier in the same long time when Ross enjoyed prosperity. In adversity, W. J. Williams & Co. is as magnificent as when he has the offices to dispose. The audience enjoyed Sir Wilfrid's simple and direct style. The Old War Horse was particularly happy when touching his own altered fortunes. Laurier had his sympathy, Mackenzie, under whom he and Sir Wilfrid fought 22 years ago, had, like Laurier, his own share of the national policy. He paid a nice compliment to Sir Wilfrid who was the "master builder of the empire."

Next to Laurier the heartiest reception was accorded Hon. A. E. Aylesworth. Other speakers were Senator Gibson, Hon. N. A. Belcourt, Hon. G. P. Robson, and Hon. Richard Harcourt.

The Guests. At the head table were Hon. G. W. Ross in the chair, with Sir Wilfrid on his right and Hon. A. E. Aylesworth, postmaster-general, on his left. Also Hon. C. S. IRISH NATIONALISTS CHEER GOVERNMENT'S DESIRE AS TO HOME RULE

Secretary Bryce Intimates Electorate Has Given Mandate for Extension of Self-Government in Ireland.

London, Feb. 21.—As an amendment to the address in reply to the speech from the throne, Col. J. Sanderson, Unionist, to-day moved in the house of commons an expression of alarm at the statement in the King's speech that the ministers were considering proposals to effect changes in the government of Ireland, believing that His Majesty's advisors had committed themselves to a policy which will endanger the liberties and property of the loyalist minority, promote discord in the empire and impair the integrity of the United Kingdom.

Col. Sanderson stated that the object of his amendment was to extract some assurance as to what the government meant by the proposals suggested. After considerable discussion, James Bryce, Liberal and chief secretary for Ireland, said the speech from the throne meant nothing more than the premier and other Liberal leaders had repeatedly stated and what had been endorsed by the enormous majority returned to parliament that much was necessary to improve the administration of Ireland.

Mr. Bryce said home rule had no terrors for him. His Majesty's government had every reason to make an effort in the direction of improvement of the system of government, and the association of the people therewith. Cheered by Nationalists. Mr. Bryce asked that the house believe the amendment because he believed that the greatest encouragement to the government to carry out the policy of an intelligent self-government for Ireland now under consideration, was the fact that the government had given the mandate for conciliation and the extension of self-government to Ireland. The present opportunity should be seized. The present mood of Ireland was one no constitutional government could overlook.

Mr. Bryce's speech was received with Nationalist cheers. Mr. Dillon, Nationalist, said that as long as the government acted in the spirit of Mr. Bryce's speech the Nationalists would allow the government time to develop its plan and give them a fair and frank consideration.

Unilateral Changes Proven. Joseph Chamberlain, Conservative, said that the government was a home rule and Little Englander government. It had been proved to-day that it was a home rule government, and it would be proved later that it was a Little Englander government. Many members on the ministerial benches said they had found it necessary during the election to pledge themselves to oppose home rule, and therefore, the government would proceed on the more inviolable method of instalments.

The amendment was defeated 46 to 28. HEADLESS BOY ON TRUCK MAY BE BRUMMEL CASE. A woman's trunk, with the head of a boy, was found in the trunk of a motor car on the Central Railroad tracks near here to-day.

Both suspicion and mystery attach to the case, as there was no other mutilation of the body except the wound by which the neck had been severed. She was well-dressed, and wore rings containing several sapphires and a pearl.

Heard Everywhere at the Laurier Banquet. At the Laurier Banquet one sound was heard all over the room from time to time, the surging of cold refreshing invigorating radiator water into the glasses of the guests, up and down the many tables.

Canada's first mineral water held the place of honor, a peculiarly tasty tribute to the great man whose native country is the source of the wonderful radiator spring.

No doubt this important banquet every means was used by those interested in foreign mineral waters to have their product used, and it speaks well for the good taste and patriotism of the committee, that they stuck to the good old Canadian radiator water.

Just Before The Battle Full Polling is Desired

Candidates McNaught and Urquhart Put in a Busy Day Completing Organization—An Honest Opinion is Wanted on Government.

"What I want is to have the electors of the northern division of Toronto poll their votes to a man, whether they poll them for me or not. What I want is an honest opinion of the electors of the north, whether they endorse the policy of Mr. Whitney, as laid down in the past year, or whether they would rather have the Ross government."

Mr. Urquhart stated last night that he was willing to abide by the will of the electors. He hoped that he would be sent to the legislature as the only Liberal from the City of Toronto. This day was spent by him in distributing around, strengthening weak spots in his organization and appointing actuaries for some of the booths. Instead of attending the Laurier banquet he was hustling for support.

PURE FOOD BILL PASSES REGULATIONS ARE SEVERE

After Fifteen Years U. S. Senate Legislate on Matter of Vital Importance.

Washington, D.C., Feb. 21.—After fifteen years of more or less serious consideration of the subject, the United States senate to-day passed a pure food bill by the decisive vote of 63 to 41.

The bill makes it a misdemeanor to manufacture or sell adulterated or misbranded foods, drugs, medicines or liquors in the district of Columbia, the territories and the insular possessions of the United States, and prohibits the shipment of such goods from one state to another or to a foreign country. It also prohibits the receipt of such goods.

The bill is a landmark in the history of the department of agriculture, and it is a landmark in the history of the department of commerce and labor as well. It is a landmark in the history of the department of justice as well.

Will the Canada Life Publish

Details of the Original Capital Investment, What the Shareholders Have Received, and How the Last Multiplication of Capital "Paid Up in Cash" Was Effected?

A clever thing was done for the Canada Life yesterday. The news papers of the country were by advertisement very plainly threatened with libel suits if they dared to quote The Toronto World on insurance.

FORM FOR SIGNATURE

We being policyholders of the Canada Life Insurance Company licensed to do business in Canada hereby sign this petition in support of a parliamentary investigation into all the operations of the company, with a view to amending the present insurance laws.

It is difficult work delving into the work of Canadian insurance companies. The Canada Life was founded in the early Victorian era under a deed of settlement by which its stock was limited to "the sum of fifty thousand pounds of lawful money of Canada, divided into 500 shares of one hundred pounds each, the whole of which have been subscribed and taken up."

There is a great gulf of difference between "subscribed and taken up" and "PAID UP IN CASH." The charter of the Canada Life does not say that fifty thousand pounds worth of shares had been paid up in cash. Unless the information at our disposal (which is borne out by certain evidence given before the parliamentary committee in the early sixties) the amount paid in cash to start the business was nothing like that amount. In 1847 $20000 was paid up in cash by the original shareholders, and in 1848 $20000 more was paid up in cash by stockholders.

Our researches have failed to discover that prior to the Cox regime any more cash was paid by stockholders for capital than this total of $40000. It was stated in The World yesterday, and not corrected during the day, that the original stock of $50,000 of the Confederation Life was augmented, to use a convenient and inoffensive word, in 1852 and 1857 by the transference of sums of money earned by the policyholders to the credit of the stockholders, who were already receiving ten per cent interest on their original investment, and that, therefore, not only did the policyholder lose the fifty thousand dollars surplus which, by every right, except that of legal fiction, belonged to him; but he has been made to pay the outstanding stockholder 15 per cent interest on the money conveyed from his account to the stockholders' account.

What has happened with regard to the Canada Life? The Canada Life can tell, and, lest any injustice thru direct assuagement be done to that great extent, let us know whether, commencing in 1862, bonuses were credited to stockholders, and whether in 1856 cash dividends were paid to them, and have continued to this day. Let us ask the Canada Life whether between 1849 and 1861 the stockholders received by way of bonus and cash dividends $400,000 policies, who have enabled it to become a flourishing corporation, $125,000 was brought about by transferring to the stockholders the surpluses earned by the policyholders' money, in the same way as was done by the Confederation Life?

Will the Canada Life say whether its stockholders received as the direct increment of $400 invested, a total of over $1,000,000 between 1849 and 1899? The capital stock of the Canada Life, which stood at $125,000 "paid in cash" at the beginning of 1849, became $333,500 in 1900, $444,250 in 1901, $681,250 in 1902, and $1,000,000 in 1903; so that there has been paid up in cash $875,000 between 1849 and 1903. It is the details of these payments which the policyholders have a right to know from their own directors, not from the Canada Life, which has no good reason for the concealment of the practice of converting policyholders' surpluses into stockholders' capital—was destroyed in the Canada Life when the Cox regime was inaugurated; but it would be just as well to have that fact made known to the public, and to the Canada Life, which has no good reason for the concealment of the practice of converting policyholders' surpluses into stockholders' capital—was destroyed in the Canada Life when the Cox regime was inaugurated; Dr. Bruce Smith Suggests More
Rational Way of Dealing With Delinquents.

The 38th annual report of the inspector of prisons and reformatories, laid on the table of the legislature yesterday, shows that there were 42 jails and 27 provincial lock-ups. Thirteen lock-ups controlled by the province last year have been transferred to municipalities. The cost of maintenance was $185,284.55, an increase of $774.23. Cash revenue from jail labor was $138,400, earned at Whiteby and Woodstock. The average cost per day per prisoner was 25 cents.

ROUTINE OF LEGISLATURE.

Ministerial Replies to Interrogations of Members.

Yesterday was private members' day, and there was very little business for the consideration of the house. Consequently less than 20 minutes sufficed to clear off the program.

The premier replied to Mr. Munn of North Oxford, who asked whether the government would deal with amendments to the assessment act during the present session. He said the government had not so far come to a conclusion, but that all proposed changes would be considered on their merits.

Hon. Frank Cochrane was asked by Mr. Smith of the 800 whether legislation to compel the holding of elections in the province would be introduced. The reply was "the whole question under consideration is as to the power of the government, and what is the proper action in the premises."

The minister of mines also told Mr. Smith that the opening of the mineral section of the Gillies timber limit in Timiskaming is being considered, and that the government is engaged in the government's attention and would be dealt with before the end of the session. It had been arranged that timber licenses should have all timber cut by Oct. 1, and that the limit would then be thrown open.

On motion of the premier committees were appointed as follows:

To strike the standing committees—Foy, Matheson, Willoughby, Preston (Lanark), Mahaffey, Thompson (Simcoe), Hoyle, Clark (Bruce), McKay, Pense, Graham and Preston (Brampton).

To assist Mr. Speaker in the care of the library—Whitney, Foy, Matheson, Pense, Hendrie, Hanna, Lucas, Ross, Harcourt, Graham and Preston (Brampton).

A bill to amend the municipal act, by Mr. Thompson (Simcoe), and a bill to amend the franchise law, by Mr. Smith (Peel), are promised, on Friday next.

RE-HOUSING MEXICO'S POOR

Whole blocks in tenement quarters may be torn down.

Mexico City, Feb. 21.—Governor Land of the federal district and high officials of the government have under consideration a broad plan for re-housing of the poor of this city.

It is proposed to tear down whole blocks of houses in the poorer quarters and erect groups of model tenements, where the poor will have an abundant supply of water and light and every modern sanitary advantage.

Only by this plan, it is believed, can the present high death rate of 54 per thousand be reduced permanently. It is thought that the operation can be made financially profitable.

POLICEMAN SAVES THREE LIVES IN NEW YORK TENEMENT FIRE

New York, Feb. 21.—Three men saved from death to-day under peculiar circumstances during a fire on the top floor of a tenement house. Fearing to climb down the fire escape, they remained in the room until one work temporarily insane.

A policeman, who climbed up the fire escape found the two pressing their faces against a cracked window to suck fresh air. He carried them to the street and then returned and found the other crawling about the floor, gathering up clothing and tearing it to shreds.

The flames were entering the room when the patrolman carried the man to the street.

Does Your Food Digest Well?

When the food is imperfectly digested the full benefit is not derived from it by the body and the purpose of eating is defeated; no matter how good the food or how carefully adapted to the wants of the body it may be. Thus the dyspeptic often becomes thin, weak and debilitated, energy is lacking, brightness, snap and vim are lost, and in their place come dullness, loss of appetite, depression and languor. It takes no great knowledge to know when one has indigestion, some of the following symptoms generally exist, viz.: constipation, sour stomach, variable appetite, headache, heartburn, gas in the stomach, etc.

The great point is to cure it, to get back bounding health and vigor.

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

It constantly effecting cures of dyspepsia because it acts in a natural yet effective way upon all the organs involved in the process of digestion, removing all clogging impurities and making easy the work of digestion and assimilation.

Mr. R. G. Harvey, Ameliasburg, Ont., writes: "I have been troubled with dyspepsia for several years and after using three bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters I was completely cured. I cannot praise B.B.B. enough for what it has done for me. I have not had a sign of dyspepsia since. Do not accept a substitute for B.B.B. There is nothing 'just as good.'"

HOW TIME IS TAKEN.

Some interesting facts that the Astronomical Society know.

At the meeting of the Royal Astronomical Society, held on one of the "Time-Service at the Dominion Astronomical Observatory," at Ottawa, by R. Meldrum Stewart, B. A., who is in charge of that service. The dependence of the man on the street, the watchmaker and the railroad on the standard clock of some observatory was referred to and then methods of determining the time from observations of the stars were discussed. Slides showing transit, chronograph and other apparatus at the observatory illustrated this part of the work. The ultimate standard clock of the observatory is one made by Riefler of Munich. It has a nickel steel pendulum, is sealed up in a glass case and wound up by electrical means every half minute. This clock regulated by observations on the stars with which it keeps time, and so is said to give sidereal time. The chief time-keeper of which keeps ordinary time was also made by Riefler, and like the other is mounted on a "separate" in the basement of the building. Its time is corrected as follows: by comparing with the sidereal clock, by electrical means this clock controls a clock in each of the government buildings, and these again control dials placed in the various rooms. Four insulated wires run from the observatory to the city for this purpose. At present there are 42 dials in the parliament buildings, 40 in the west wing, 26 in the east block and 48 in the Bangwin block. Thus, with a few others make a total of 214 dials.

Since Dec., 1905, a time ball has been set up on the roof of the parliament building, controlled automatically from the observatory, and since the New Year has been kept in step daily by the G. N. W. Telegraph Company. The entire service is controlled from the observatory, and is kept in a high state of efficiency.

Miss E. A. Dent gave the first of a series of lessons on "How to Find the Stars."

Dr. Marsh of Hamilton exhibited a number of slides on the eclipse of the moon taken by him on Feb. 17.

Mr. L. H. Graham, B. A., of East Toronto, exhibited a number of slides of the School of Practical Science, which are elected to the council of the society.

MUTINEERS ON TRIAL.

That Affair at Sebastopol is Now Before a Tribunal.

Ochakov, Russia, Feb. 21.—The trial of Lieut. Schmidt, and thirty-seven sailors of the cruiser Ochakov and 100 students of the university of Odessa was begun to-day before a military and naval court. The trial is expected to last several days.

The general charge against all the accused is participation in a movement of active armed resistance, and of active armed resistance, the punishment for which is death.

Schmidt is charged in addition with activity since his youth in revolutionary circles, taking command of mutinous ships, and organizing the sailors to open fire on the ports and land ships. Schmidt's defence is insanity.

PEKIN NOT APPREHENSIVE.

Foreign Alarm as to Chinese Meeting Declared Unfounded.

Pekin, Feb. 21.—Foreigners here are receiving telegrams from relatives indicating that there is a feeling of alarm abroad over the possibility of an outbreak of hostilities.

No disquiet whatever it felt at Peking. All the foreigners and ministers agree that the Chinese government, and people, were never more loyal towards foreigners personally, official or otherwise, than at present. There is no anti-foreign feeling in North China likely to lead to insurrection. The Chinese government at Canton and Shanghai are not at all alarmed. It is reported from Honan that members of the local Knif Societies have killed a number of Chinese in the result of a local quarrel.

Mrs. Debora Stillman of Easton, who is 105 years to-day, is seriously ill. She has been confined to her bed since the death of her son during a fire yesterday.

INJUNCTION GRANTED.

Protection Accorded to Manufacturer Who Earns Value for Trademark.

From the Ontario Sliter Shoe Company has been granted an injunction to restrain the defendant from using its trademark and its trade name in connection with the manufacture of shoes, and to prevent the defendant from selling shoes under the name of the plaintiff.

Charles E. Slater of the Slater Shoe Company, who was in Toronto last week, says that he has secured the genuine Slater Shoe Co. J. Jupp & Son, Queen-st. east, and Thomas Slater of Toronto, who are charged with the manufacture of shoes, against the defendant's use of the Slater shoe trademark.

The Slater shoe trademark is a registered trademark, and the defendant's use of it is an infringement of the plaintiff's rights. The court granted an injunction to prevent the defendant from using the trademark and trade name, and to prevent the defendant from selling shoes under the name of the plaintiff.

The distance between Sherburne and Belvidere, Ontario, will be measured to-day to calculate the speed of the automobile of Thomas Darrow. SOME FACTS COME TO LIGHT

Increased Earnings and No Expense—Big Spring Business Anticipated.

The railways this winter are realizing increased business over last year, owing to the mild weather. The regularity with which the trains have been running and the fact that there are no snow blockades have meant a great saving in expenditure to both corporations. The G.T.R. expended $250,000 last year, which is not required this year, and the C.P.R. estimate an increase of 30 per cent. in business over last year. The week ending Feb. 10, the G.T.R. realized an increase of about $90,000 over the corresponding week last February.

Railway officials say the coming summer promises to be the heaviest yet in tourist traffic. Hotel proprietors in the north country are making special preparations for the coming season.

The winter of 1905-6, including the district, now estimated to reach 100,000, will materially increase business for the winter and effect an opening of the country.

The sportsman show in New York, in which there was an attendance of 200,000 people or more, will no doubt, influence many lovers of rod and gun to visit the Highlands of Ontario.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 21.—Chinese relations and the negotiations of Minister Pokotki with the Peking government are engaging the attention of Russian diplomacy. Foreign office officials make a mystery of the subject matter of the negotiations at Peking, but the Associated Press learns that Minister Pokotki is in a state of interest with Manchuria and the preservation of Russia's special rights there. Apprehensions of an indefinite result are voiced in dispatches from Peking. The negotiations are directed to securing Russia in her favored position in Mongolia.

These apprehensions are rather belated in view of the fact, that this is not generally known, that two of the provinces of Mongolia, Tsetchen and Tushetichuan, intervening between Peking and the trans-Baikalian frontier, have recently declared a line running from the southern end of Baikal to Peking, were long since given over to Russian-Chinese bank exploitation, and are thus actually part of Russia's sphere of influence under an agreement, the details of which, because it was made by the bank and not by the government, the foreign office even now affects to ignore.

Russian troops, consisting of infantry, cavalry and artillery, have been introduced at various important centres for the protection of Russian consuls.

"These military 'outposts of the empire' have been pushed forward to Chinese territory. The cat was let out of the bag concerning the presence of a considerable force at Uruza, including infantry, Cossacks and several guns, by the incautious pun of a casual account of a celebration of the anniversary of the arrival of another in an obscure provincial paper.

The two provinces given over to the Russo-Chinese bank cover the route of the proposed railroad from Baikal to Peking, but the money was wanting. The Russo-Chinese Bank also has valuable mining rights, including gold.

The Manchurian situation has given rise to a sharp difference of opinion in the government, one side urging a speedy realization of the provisions of the treaty of Portsmouth for the evacuation, except by railroad guards, and the complete abandonment of the Manchurian adventure, and the other side working for delay, pleading in justification of its attitude the claim that the decision of China to send several corps to Manchuria is directed against Russia.

A special session of the council for national defence has been called to consider the question.

LAMP EXPLOSION'S HAVOC.

St. John, N. B., Feb. 21.—(Special.)—Word has reached here that the C.P.R. station house at Vancouver, the United States custom house and the car repair shop were all destroyed by fire a little before midnight.

The fire was caused by a lamp explosion in the office of the express company.

Vancouver is the junction of the C.P.R. and Maine Central.

The Sun and Hastings Savings and Loan Co. Annual Report.

The annual statement of the above-named company will be found in another part of this paper. The General Annual Meeting of the Company was held on the 17th inst., at which time there was a representative gathering present.

The report of the directors was listened to with interest, and many expressions of satisfaction given by the shareholders present. The report showed a net profit of $12,000 for the past year, amounting to $12,000, and a surplus of $101,000, with a reserve fund of $50,000. A dividend of 6 per cent. per annum on the capital stock was payable half-yearly.

Board of Directors are to be congratulated upon the position the company has attained, and its present solid financial standing. The president in his address stated that the company was conducted as a business, without the slightest element of "speculation," which is entered into by many companies.

Depositors, as well as debenture-holders, may feel that they have a safe and profitable investment with this company.

Branches of the company are being established in various parts of the province.
