WEDNESDAY

Promises to Make a Straight Party Fight on the Issue of a Clean Vote.

There was a mild sensation in connection with the civic disturbance yesterday when Controller Richardson handed in his resignation to the city council, which was in session. The controller did not attend the meeting. One evening paper contained the announcement that the resignation would be forthcoming; reporters for the other journals had been assured by the controller during the morning, with given reasons, that such a course was not intended by him.

The city council also took cognizance of the sentences passed by Judge Winchester on Saturday on the election offenders and in a resolution, moved by Controller Spence and seconded by Ald. Foot, a record was made approving the petitions to be circulated for executive clemency for the convicted parties, tho it was stated that no disrespect to Judge Winchester was intended.

Controller Frederick H. Richardson has resigned. He submitted his resignation to the mayor and the city council yesterday afternoon, and on the motion of Ald. Dunn and Dr. Noble it was accepted.

Controller Spence objected to "the rignarole," as he termed the political allusions in the letter, and objected to the phrase in Ald. Dunn's motion, "the resignation be taken as read," but the mayor found the phrasing in order.

Richardson stated that his letter was written in great haste, which accounts for any ambiguity or carelessness in the manner of it, tho he said the actual resignation was made for some time past.

Due to Bogus Ballots.

The letter stated that the resignation was due to the fact that several voters having been cast in six wards for several candidates in the municipal elections, and that also these voters were not numerous enough to affect the election of any of the elected candidates; yet as a member of the Conservative party and under the leadership of Mr. Whitney, who stood for purity in the ballot, he had declined not even to appear to take advantage of the illegal process, and with the intention of appealing to the electorate for an endorsement of his course he tendered his resignation.

Will Make a Straight Party.

Mr. Richardson was seen by The World last night and questioned as to his intentions. He declared he had absolutely nothing to do with organizing the election last January, and was prepared to enter on the by-election campaign on the issue of a clean vote. He said fully convinced that he was involved in the struggle and had nothing to fear. Several matters of detail which were mentioned, he said, stated he would deal with later, but that he did not wish to obscure the main issue for the present.

Upon the tone of his remarks and the statement appended Mr. Richardson evidently anticipates a fierce party struggle, in which there could be no hope for a man of his high position. On the general question he made this statement to The World:

Innocent of Wrong Doing.

"The cause of the resignation is really the number of bogus ballots which were cast, and of which I, as a candidate in the election, received a proportion proportionate to the number of these ballots in no way interfered with the result of the election so far as the honest voters were concerned, there being not sufficient to reduce my majority materially, nevertheless, do not desire to have a seat either in the council or on the board of control, even with the apparent support of any votes that may be termed as mine. I have two booths in which I did receive a part of these votes were Abraham Cahoon's and Samuel Thomson's, and the trial, which have been very thorough so far as these two booths are concerned, have brought out with respect to these two booths covers my whole knowledge of the circumstances, and any insinuations to the contrary are absolutely without foundation.

"I intend to stand against all comers in the election for the vacant councilorship, and I believe the voters of Toronto will endorse my course in doing all that is in my power to have a clean election, and I believe that their support will justify my course."

A Political Attitude.

"So far as The Globe's comments were concerned, my decision to resign was in no way affected by them. My attitude toward the whole investigation and up to date has been solely political, and their notes and comments are biased along those lines. In the first instance they deliberately and without any knowledge whatsoever declared the election of Ward One and Two to have been dishonest. Even when it was demonstrated beyond all question that the election was a fair one, The Globe had not the common decency to publish the fact.

"As a matter of fact, The Globe has neglected no opportunity to make every political allusion it could, the object being, no doubt, to try and lead the people to believe that the Tory or radical organizations of Toronto were connected and in this way to shield those of their party, who have profited and hold power through such means.

"Instead of The Globe's having suggested my resignation, it would have been better for it to have explained the proper course for the assessment of the commissioner to have taken after the recent arraignment by the city's two distinguished solicitors, Messrs. Riddell and Lobbs, as to his connection with the stuffing of the voters' lists."

Election on Soon.

The election of the vacant councilorship caused by the resignation of Richardson will be brought on with all despatch. It is not known who will be the candidates of the First Ward representative. Ex-Ald. Foot and Oliver stated last night that they tentions of not being candidates, but the latter learned. The fight is expected to be carried out on strict party lines. It will be necessary for the assessment bylaw appointing deputy assessors, new officers for the 155 polling sub-divisions in the city and the cost will be almost as great as that of the municipal election.

DISCIPLINE THROUGH THE TOPPERS

Archie Campbell, M.P., Uses a New Argument to Favor the Grand Trunk Pacific.

Ottawa, April 11.—(Staff Special.)—Eight opposition members have yet to be heard on the subject of the Grand Trunk Pacific contract. The Liberals, it is understood, will not put up more than three or four speakers, and the probability is that the division will take place on Thursday or Friday of this week. Archie Campbell and Col. Thompson defended the contract on Saturday, while Mr. Richardson of South Grey, and Jabe Robinson supplied the criticism. Both sides of the house appear to be taking only a languid interest in the debate. To-night less than forty members sat in the house.

Archie Campbell stirred up the interest of the house during the afternoon, when, in showing how unfavorable the coast-to-coast rates in Canada compare with similar rates in the United States, he drew the fire of Hon. J. Israel.

Mr. Tarte was the first to respond to believe that the Canadian railroads impose heavier rates on the Canadian shipper than the American shipper has to bear. The member for West York, however, happened to be in the house, and he was temporarily silenced. Mr. Tarte will be heard from again, however, before the debate is concluded. He is right in his conjectures about comparative freight rates, Archie Campbell will be placed in a very awkward position.

Jabe Robinson spoke strongly in favor of the extension of the I. C. R. to the Pacific coast, and he made a comprehensive analysis of the contract, and reached conclusions which were anything but complimentary to the statesmanship of the Laurier government.

Mr. Campbell took up the defence of the Grand Trunk Pacific railway contract with considerable energy. He declared that the scheme proposed by the opposition leader last session would cost the country twice as much as the contract before the house. That point was urged by Mr. Campbell. On that point both parties were in agreement. He showed how the west has been filling up and pointed out that the great settlements in process of formation must find an outlet for their products. If Canada failed to supply the necessary facilities, then the traffic would flow to the United States, and the direction it could never be brought back to this country. Mr. Campbell contrasted the freight rates from New York and Boston to Victoria and Vancouver with the rates imposed by Canadian railways in Toronto and Montreal.

He said that the difference of 15 to 20 cents a hundred pounds, in favor of the United States shipper.

"Will the honorable gentleman give us a list of the articles that fall under those rates?" asked Mr. Tarte.

Mr. Campbell replied that the list included agricultural implements, cotton, wool, and other goods. He said that the rate from Montreal and Toronto to Vancouver was 15 cents a hundred pounds, while the rate from New York and Boston to Vancouver was 20 cents a hundred pounds.

"What are the American lines that give those rates?" asked Mr. Tarte.

Mr. Campbell replied that the American lines that give those rates are the Great Northern, the Northern Pacific, and the Great Western.

Mr. Campbell said he was not sure that the C.P.R. and G.N.R. rates were as low as he had stated. He said that the C.P.R. rate from New York and Boston to Vancouver was 20 cents a hundred pounds, while the rate from Montreal and Toronto to Vancouver was 15 cents a hundred pounds.

THE SHIRTS

Archie Campbell, M.P., Uses a New Argument to Favor the Grand Trunk Pacific.

Ottawa, April 11.—(Staff Special.)—Eight opposition members have yet to be heard on the subject of the Grand Trunk Pacific contract. The Liberals, it is understood, will not put up more than three or four speakers, and the probability is that the division will take place on Thursday or Friday of this week. Archie Campbell and Col. Thompson defended the contract on Saturday, while Mr. Richardson of South Grey, and Jabe Robinson supplied the criticism. Both sides of the house appear to be taking only a languid interest in the debate. To-night less than forty members sat in the house.

Archie Campbell stirred up the interest of the house during the afternoon, when, in showing how unfavorable the coast-to-coast rates in Canada compare with similar rates in the United States, he drew the fire of Hon. J. Israel.

Mr. Tarte was the first to respond to believe that the Canadian railroads impose heavier rates on the Canadian shipper than the American shipper has to bear. The member for West York, however, happened to be in the house, and he was temporarily silenced. Mr. Tarte will be heard from again, however, before the debate is concluded. He is right in his conjectures about comparative freight rates, Archie Campbell will be placed in a very awkward position.

Jabe Robinson spoke strongly in favor of the extension of the I. C. R. to the Pacific coast, and he made a comprehensive analysis of the contract, and reached conclusions which were anything but complimentary to the statesmanship of the Laurier government.

Mr. Campbell took up the defence of the Grand Trunk Pacific railway contract with considerable energy. He declared that the scheme proposed by the opposition leader last session would cost the country twice as much as the contract before the house. That point was urged by Mr. Campbell. On that point both parties were in agreement. He showed how the west has been filling up and pointed out that the great settlements in process of formation must find an outlet for their products. If Canada failed to supply the necessary facilities, then the traffic would flow to the United States, and the direction it could never be brought back to this country. Mr. Campbell contrasted the freight rates from New York and Boston to Victoria and Vancouver with the rates imposed by Canadian railways in Toronto and Montreal.

He said that the difference of 15 to 20 cents a hundred pounds, in favor of the United States shipper.

"Will the honorable gentleman give us a list of the articles that fall under those rates?" asked Mr. Tarte.

Mr. Campbell replied that the list included agricultural implements, cotton, wool, and other goods. He said that the rate from Montreal and Toronto to Vancouver was 15 cents a hundred pounds, while the rate from New York and Boston to Vancouver was 20 cents a hundred pounds.

"What are the American lines that give those rates?" asked Mr. Tarte.

Mr. Campbell replied that the American lines that give those rates are the Great Northern, the Northern Pacific, and the Great Western.

Mr. Campbell said he was not sure that the C.P.R. and G.N.R. rates were as low as he had stated. He said that the C.P.R. rate from New York and Boston to Vancouver was 20 cents a hundred pounds, while the rate from Montreal and Toronto to Vancouver was 15 cents a hundred pounds.

COLORED WEATHER AT CHESTER TORONTO

Mills Pitched Splendid Ball—Other Baseball Games and News.

Chester, Pa., April 11.—The thermometer fell several degrees last night, making it quite cold in the Toronto cap-to-day.

The boys were anxious to work, however, and a game was played between the Redwings and Yankees, Manager Irwin splitting the team.

The game was played in good weather, the men are all getting into good shape, the others coming along in good order.

Mills was the only one to get the curve ball, and did so with good effect.

The batters have not yet got their eyes on the sphere. Mills in the best shape of the pitchers.

Irwin tried a new main man Moore in the box for several innings. He made like a good one, but will not be signed this season. They play again at O.A.E.

HILL AND CROW'S NEST CO. DOESN'T CONTROL THE STOCK

His Holdings Amount to Three-Tenths
—How and Why He Was Interested.

Recent statements to the effect that the control of the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company is in the hands of the Northern Securities Company and J. J. Hill, and that the original stockholders in Toronto had given up their holdings were yesterday denied by The World by a number of those whom the rumors affect.

"There is not the slightest truth in the assertion," said Col. Pellatt, Mr. Laidlaw, K.C., solicitor for the company, was equally plain in his declaration that the controlling interests had not left Toronto, the Mr. Hill, as president of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific Railways, has control insofar as the output from the mines goes over his roads. The exact amount of Mr. Hill's holdings is stated to be three-tenths of the total stock. The statement made that Elias Rogers had withdrawn from the directorate for some reason that could not bear the light was characterized as absolutely false.

Mr. Rogers retired from an active role in the affairs of the company on no other account but to devote more time to his own business. As to his holdings, Mr. Rogers stated yesterday that he has still his stock and proposes retaining it.

In defining his position, he also explained how it came about that J. J. Hill became interested in the company. When Hill was asked to go into the company it was with the idea of getting an experienced man who could advise in the management of the mines in operation and turning out of coal. They were declared to be beyond exhaustion. The market in British Columbia was an uncertain one, and it was impossible to operate with an uncertain market. It was impossible to do business with the two railways Hill controls, as the haul was too great, the cost being increased to double what Hill could purchase coal for from other sources. By experiments it was shown that the Crow's Nest coal was superior to what he used and the saving in consumption, with the same amount of power given, made it even cheaper than what Hill's roads had been buying.

But the question of the long haul was an obstacle. There was a loss of $1.50 a ton, to overcome which it would be necessary to have a direct road built to the Great Northern. The coal company did not have the money and if they did would have been putting themselves at the mercy of the Great Northern and his roads. The plan, therefore, decided upon was to get Hill interested in the company and then induce him to construct a line from the mine point on his railway to the Crow's Nest mines. This was done, and the company are now making money. If they had depended upon the British Columbia market they would not have been able to operate successfully, says Mr. Rogers.

SECRET COURTS MARTIAL.

Evidence of German Ladies Taken Behind Closed Doors.

Berlin, April 11.—Courts-martial officers charged with various offences are reported from several German cities. Whether the defendants were merely charged with neglect of duty, or whether they had to defend themselves against charges as grave as those which Lieut. Bliss and Bayerlein, in their now famous books, have laid at the door of the German officer, nobody is allowed to know.

The military authorities have adopted the favorite but somewhat antiquated strategy of the German military authorities. The trials are held behind closed doors, and only the verdict is announced publicly. The charges are so ambiguously phrased as to mean much or nothing.

Nor do the various punishments inflicted permit of any inference as to the gravity of the offences, for what civilians regard as an outrage may be lightly judged in German military circles and vice versa.

Consequently the wildest rumors are about regarding the recent courts-martial at Magdeburg. In one case, that of Lieut. Walther Pfeiffer, who is said to have led an unusually fierce life, ended in his own sudden flight and the simultaneous disappearance of the wife of a brother officer, all the officers of one regiment had to appear as witnesses. Many ladies moving in high society were also called upon to give evidence. It is said that in consequence of these revelations already made a number of officers will have to leave the service.

How Iron-ox Tablets Benefited a St. Mary's Lady.

May 17, 1903.
I received full benefit from your splendid pill. I refused any other kind of iron pill but yours, and recommend them to everyone. One box of your pills built up my system so that I felt like a different person, as I suffer from weak blood so much since fever. I recommend your pills very much because they are so easy on the stomach and build the blood so quickly. I shall recommend them to all I know suffering.

Later—June 22, 1903.

I certainly think the world of your wonderful little Tablets, and recommend them to so many. I cannot do without them. I use them as a system builder. My work is hard, teaching music, and am a hard worker. My nerves give out, I immediately use your Tablet, and I feel all right at once. RHEA SPEARIN, St. Mary's, Ont.

LYBARGER ON FREE TRADE.

Addresses Canadian Club as to Problems of Labor and Capital.

Francis Lee Lybarger, who was introduced by President Parker to the Canadian Club yesterday as a Philadelphia lawyer, spoke on problems of labor and capital. He paid many compliments to Toronto, which he described as a small Garden of Eden. He was not a yesterday, but the government was fixed and the people left entirely to consider the spirit of the government. He believed progress could be made more rapidly than where the forms were being debated. He came from the States, a protectionist democracy and when he crossed the line he began to wonder about the whole thing. He was not sure that the propaganda of Cobden and Bright should not be put in motion once more and made to sweep round the earth.

The first problem was the problem of free trade. God had made men brothers, but human laws had made foreigners of neighbors. Every step of progress from savagery and barbarism upwards was the result of the free exchange of trade. In the social organism there were brain and nerves, muscles and bones, hands and feet. The struggle between labor and capital was a struggle among these elements. For some years to come it would be conflict of force. In Canada he did not think there was the union of forces and the perfection of organization of both capital and labor which existed in the States. There was a brain of equity and balance to do justice between those who planned and those who executed.

He had started out to find the truth. There was an order in chemistry, in mechanics that was best. So there was an order in social life and in politics which was best. It was convinced that the true order would never be found until they had solved the relation of man to the land, the relation of humanity to the universe.

CONVERTED BEER DRINKERS.

London, April 11.—Temperance work in the German army is something of novelty, but an experiment made by Capt. Schutz of the 14th Bavarian Infantry Regiment at Nuremberg has been so brilliantly successful that arrangements have been made for its extension to other regiments. Capt. Schutz, bent upon combating the consumption of alcohol in his corps, organized a temperance society, and installed near the canteen a small but completely equipped apparatus for the manufacture of soda water, lemonade and other temperance beverages, which were sold at a half-penny and a penny per bottle.

A Modern Weapon in the Battle for Health.—If disease has taken your citadel of health, the stomach and is torturing you with indigestion, dyspepsia and nervous prostration, South American Nerveine is the weapon that will drive the enemy from his stronghold "at the point of the bayonet," trench by trench, but swift and sure, it always wins.

Tax on Foreign Oil.—London, April 11.—Canadians in London are greatly interested in the likelihood of the chancellor of the exchequer taxing foreign oil. Canadians here believe that a goodly amount of foreign oil would be the Russian and American trade and benefit Canada.

FISHERIES IN ONTARIO.

Ottawa, April 11.—The government will appoint a commission to investigate the Georgian Bay fisheries. The subjects to be inquired into are the submerged trap-nets, seines and gill-nets. The commission will consist of three members, a fisherman, a fisherman, resident of the district, a representative fish merchant or buyer and the commissioner of fisheries, who will act as chairman and represent the government. The sittings of the commission will be held as follows: Tesselson, May 15; Spassky River, May 16; Manitoulin, May 21; Killarney, May 25; Depot Harbor, May 27; Midland, May 30; Owen Sound, May 31; Warton, May 31. The commission will probably investigate and report upon the extension of the close season in the fall.

To Jamaica and Bermuda.

Ottawa, April 11.—J. A. Ruddick, head of the dairy division of the department of agriculture, will report to Hon. Sydney Fisher on the possibility of extending our trade in dairy products with Jamaica and Bermuda. "The feeling down here," said Mr. Ruddick, "is, 'everything else being equal, trade with Canada is preferred to any foreign country.' There is a large demand for our butter and cheese which are driving all others out of the market. With improved steamship accommodation we could do even better."

Salmon Down East.

Ottawa, April 11.—Prof. Prince, commissioner of fisheries for the Dominion, will go down to Gloucester County next week to inquire into the effect of the close season upon the salmon fisheries.

HEARST WOULD SELL OUT.

Exchange Presidential Boom for a Place in the Cabinet.

Chicago, April 11.—Walter Wellman says as follows from Washington to The Record-Herald: "Willie Hearst is ready to sell his following in the St. Louis convention to Judge Parker. The price asked being a seat in the cabinet of President Parker for Willie."

It became known here yesterday that Hearst's managers already had made overtures to the friends of Judge Parker, but without receiving much encouragement.

Since the collapse of the Hearst presidential boom a few weeks ago it has been generally supposed that Hearst would be made to sell out the strength which Hearst has acquired in the convention at so much cost to his bank account, and no one is surprised to hear that a bargain has been proposed. At the same time there is disgust at the audacity of the man or his managers, in striking for a seat in the cabinet, or at least the promise of one, and it is sincerely hoped that Parker will not make the awful blunder of having any traffic with the Hearst outfit.

HIS ARM FILLED OFF.

New York, April 11.—With his right arm torn completely off at the elbow and every joint and ligament in his body twisted and strained, Charles Metz, an engineer, is at Roosevelt Hospital.

His foot caught in a three-ton punching machine screwed to the floor, while he was engaged in the repair of the machine and the machine was raised two feet in the air, then the arm severed.

The Cunard Line has placed the fine big steamers Carpathia and Aurania in the service between New York and Liverpool as extra steamers. Commencing 3rd May, these boats will sail alternate Tuesdays and Saturdays. The Carpathia is the traveling public on account of the luxurious manner in which they are fitted up. Besides they are mail boats, the rates have been placed at an exceedingly low figure. Further information may be obtained from A. J. Webster, northeast corner King and Yonge streets.

Useful Suggestions.

In council yesterday afternoon Ald. Sheppard said that President Mackenzie's letter about the company's troubles should be photographed and a copy provided for every car, where it would prove interesting reading to passengers during their hours of waiting. And in the sleeping and dining cars, too, added Ald. Coatsworth.

Fighting the Moros.

Washington, April 10.—In a despatch to the war department, General Wood reports that two marching columns have been attacked by the natives near the Tarsia River. In every instance the troops have been victorious. Two chiefs, leaders of the belligerents, are in hiding, but will be arrested if possible.

LEGISLATURE CONDEMNED.

Four Members of the Board of Education Support Sturgeon Falls.

Aggressive action on the part of four of the members of the board of education and a passive lack of resistance on the part of the majority of the board, has resulted in the resolution condemning the action of the legislature in the Sturgeon Falls case. There were eight members present at the special meeting called yesterday for the purpose of discussing Trustees Leve's condemnation resolution. The first speaker was Mr. McKee, the board's spokesman. He briefly reviewed the events that led up to the present situation. He told of how when the matter was first brought before the members of the separate school board had threatened that if the public school board did not consent to share the taxes, the five French members who formed half of the town council would vote against the passing of the bill. He had protested against this agreement which followed, as being illegal, but it had been entered into against his advice. The ratepayers had had no voice whatever in the matter. He had appealed to the board, but they had refused to take any action. He had then wanted from the Toronto board moral support.

Before coming to Mr. Leve's resolution, the board discussed Mr. Kent's motion with regard to the formation of committees, and finally referred it to the members of the board. Mr. Leve's famous denunciation of the legislative assembly then followed. He introduced it with some remarks similar to those contained in the resolution, and Mr. Keeler concurred with him. Mr. Dineen objected to the motion on the ground that it had nothing to do with the board, and Mr. Leve tried to invalidate his statements by claiming that he had no right to speak on public school matters. He was then asked to withdraw his motion, but he refused to do so.

Mr. Leve then proceeded to read the resolution, and Mr. Dineen objected to the motion on the ground that it had nothing to do with the board, and Mr. Leve tried to invalidate his statements by claiming that he had no right to speak on public school matters. He was then asked to withdraw his motion, but he refused to do so.

TO HELP YANKEE MONEY.

Bill to Improve U.S. Currency Conditions is Recommended.

Washington, April 11.—A report from the house committee on banking and currency recommending the passage of the bill, "to improve currency conditions" was filed in the house today by Chairman Fowler. The first section repeals the law, which prohibits the receipt of receipts from being deposited in national banks.

The result of the present law in this matter, the report says, is to cause the banks to tie up the money of the country. The report says that if the States and municipalities should lock up the proceeds of local taxation as the national government locks up its receipts the effect would be disastrous.

The second section repeals the month three-million dollar limit on bank note retirement. The report says the repeal of this restriction will give to the national bank note circulation all of the elasticity which it is possible for a bank-secured circulation to have.

The recoinage of silver dollars into subsidiary silver coins is provided.

MODERN NOAH'S ARK.

London, April 11.—Nearly seven hundred wild animals sent by the famous firm of Herr Carl Hagenbeck, of Hamburg, are about to leave that town for the St. Louis Exhibition in the steamship "Bethania."

The youngest son of Herr Carl Hagenbeck has charge of the animals, which include 30 elephants, 20 camels and dromedaries, 50 beasts of prey of various species, 150 graminivorous animals, and more than 100 monkeys, together with reptiles and all kinds of birds.

During the St. Louis Exhibition Herr Carl Hagenbeck will conduct a zoological garden, a pantheon of the North Pole, a zoological circus, as well as an enormous arena for elephant, camel, dromedary and zebra riding.

Want Street Cars Municipalized.

At the regular meeting of the North-West Ratepayers' Association last night the Dundas conservatory, W. Weighill presiding, a resolution was passed that in view of the inefficient car service during the last four months and the seeming inability of the city to make the company live up to its agreement, the mayor and council should petition the legislature for a cancellation of the agreement, and that the city take over the road and manage it.

See for $10,000.

Margaret Stuart is suing the Metropolitan Street Railway for $10,000 damages. On July 27, last, Mrs. Stuart was riding on a road of hay. The driver of the wagon, in attempting to cross the car tracks, drove into a rut alongside the rail. Mrs. Stuart was thrown to the ground, fracturing her arm and leg, which crippled her. The case will be concluded today in the assize court.

They'll Hand You a Card.

Small cards will be printed by the city in connection with the anti-spitting bylaw, which goes into force June 1, notifying offenders that they are violating city ordinance and are liable to prosecution. The cards will be handed out by policemen and street car conductors to persons committing the offence, and if the habit is persisted in arrest will follow.

AFRICAN CAMELS FOUGHT AND A LARGE ROW ENSUED

Big Brute, Grieving Over Death of Offspring, Makes Attack on Mother.

The Royal Bengal tiger, most horrible to relate, Got on a hungry streak one day, and ate up his Bengal mate.

—Old Circus Song.

New York, April 11.—In this case it was the African camel, and he did not quite succeed in eating up his Egyptian mate yesterday, although he tried so hard that it took six camel keepers, with clubs, and four elephant men, with elephant hooks, to frustrate him.

The fight caused a tremendous uproar in the animal quarters of Madison Square Garden, and the roaring of the lions, the screaming of the parrots, the excited chattering and squealing of the monkeys, the wild "laugh" of the hyenas and the shouts of keepers mingled with the cries of the two embattled animals, as they fought and struggled in a deadly encounter.

It was midnight before the keepers succeeded in quieting the jungle folk. They had been roused to fury by the fleeting glimpses of the old savage life of forest and desert, and it will be many a day before the gossip of the animal cages will cease talking about the scandal in the camel family.

Brooded Over Loss of Offspring.

It is thought that this attack by a camel, which has won the reputation of being a kind husband and an indulgent father, is due to the brooding of the pair since the loss of their little one-hour-old child last week. Egypt, the mother, has not been able to get on her feet since the death of her child, and she has been in a mood so sullen and morose that she has refused to be approached by her keepers.

At the first note of the encounter there came a deafening uproar. The jungle folk leaped to their feet, and snarling, howling, chattering and roaring, paced up and down their cages, beating themselves against the bars and chafing to get to the scene of conflict.

Camel Attacks Keeper.

Keepers ran up with whatever weapons they could find, and succeeded in partly quieting the attack. The mother camel, however, refused to be quieted until the arrival of Joseph Jaeger, chief camel keeper.

Jaeger, seeing that Egypt was in real danger, rushed to her aid, and with his assault. The teeth of Ahmid closed upon his arm, but, turning and looking back at the mother camel, he saw that she was attacking him.

TASK COUNCIL TO SUBMIT PLAN TO COLLEGE

St. Thomas Citizens Would Give $15,000 to Alma on Certain Conditions.

St. Thomas, April 11.—(Special.)—A meeting of citizens to-night passed a resolution asking the city council to submit the bylaw granting $15,000 to Alma College, the city to guarantee the cost of resubmitting the bylaw.

The resolution:

That a mortgage be made to a trustee on the college and lands (a trust company preferred) to secure the continuance of the college in this city for the next 20 years on certain conditions, viz:

That there should be an average attendance of at least 75 pupils; no forfeiture in case the attendance falls below that number in any one year, providing the minimum average be kept up for five consecutive years the foregoing year included; and that the Massey estate of Toronto and Peter Wood of Brantford, having expressed their willingness to grant $15,000 and the city to give a bonus of the same conditions as may be agreed upon by this city and the college, the offer to be accepted as to mortgage.

That a twentieth part of the bonuses granted by the city and the others mentioned be extinguished and considered as paid pro rata according to amounts advanced each year or term of years, and the balance of need if the conditions are fulfilled.

That the college furniture be insured to its full insurance value with a reliable company, and the benefit of the mortgage pro rata.

That the mayor of the city for the time being have a seat on the college board.

An addition was made to the resolution to the effect that the mayor, the chairman of the school board and one other from the city be representatives of the city on the college board. The security is to terminate in 20 years. There are about 130 students in the college at present, 55 of whom are day students resident in the city.

RIGHT TO APPEAL.

New Bill re Exchequer Court Gives Crown Wider Powers.

Ottawa, April 11.—(Staff Special.)—In the house today, Mr. Fitzpatrick introduced a bill to amend the Exchequer Court Act. The bill provides that the crown shall have the right to appeal all cases to the supreme court. Under the existing law the crown can only appeal cases involving a question of law.

A bill to amend the petition of right act introduced by Mr. Fitzpatrick provides that when a petition is received instead of being handed back to the counsel or solicitor, submitting it, it shall be referred to the crown attorney.

A third bill introduced by Fitzpatrick amends the Yukon Territory Act by transferring to the commission in council the power to make regulations regarding elections to the Yukon council, the qualification of voters and the revision of electoral districts. The three bills were read a first time.

Disallowed for Reasons.

Mr. Smith was informed that an application for a license to regulate immigration into British Columbia, 1903, has been disallowed "for reasons which will be given by the government."

The bill to amend the regulations passed by the British Columbia legislature in 1903 has been disallowed for the same reasons.

To the question: "Has any discrimination been made in the selection of the bill?" Mr. Smith said it depended on the construction placed on the statute.

The minister of justice stated that three acts passed by the British Columbia legislature in 1903 have been disallowed.

So Called Enterprise.

Here is a striking instance of "enterprise," brought out in a statement made by the minister of justice in reply to Mr. Bell. The total cost of work done at Copper-Crown Mining camp in 1903 was $100,000.

The revenue derived from the sale of the land in 1901 was $547, in 1902 $274 and in 1903 $100.
