DENMARK'S ROYAL GHOST

The present Prince Royal of Denmark had a curious experience some 13 years ago. He and his father and mother—the present King and Queen—were staying at a castle which had a curious reputation for "ghosts." One evening after dinner he went to another room to find something which he wanted. There was no electric light, and so he took a candle. In a short time he came back, pale and trembling, saying the door was open and a man who had his eyes closed and his hands raised as if he were in a trance, had entered the room. He flung the door suddenly open, called on those within to surrender. There was nothing within but darkness and silence. Moreover, there seemed no possible way by which such a body of men like the Prince could have entered and escaped unscathed. Yet the Prince persisted in his story. Different cures were tried, but to no avail. She was sitting writing in her boudoir in the evening and a blaze of candle light suddenly she became aware of a figure all in white standing near the door.

NEGROES DRIVEN OUT OF TEXAS WITH LASH

Galveston, June 25.—The ruin of territory precipitated in Sabine County by the lynching of nine negroes following the murder of two white men seals the doom of the blacks in Sabine, Neals and San Augustine counties. The negroes are being driven out of these three counties into Louisiana and other sections of Texas, and a dozen or more of them who attempted resistance were whipped and thrashed. The militia and State Rangers were powerless to interfere, as the majority of the negroes obeyed the summons for them to leave the county or suffer death. Sabine County was one of the first counties in the State to send the negroes in that section are densely ignorant. White planters hired them to kill and burn out old and infirm settlers. When white men who attempted to criticize the driving of the blacks were run out of Sabine County.

DROWNED IN ST. LAWRENCE

Two Victims of the Collision of Two Motor Boats.

Waterloo, N. Y., June 26.—A special to the Standard from Clayton, N. Y., says: Edward Wells, aged 18, of Round Island, and Miss Lulu Carmen of Albany, were drowned in the St. Lawrence about 11 o'clock last night opposite the depot dock here. In company with William Wells, a brother of one of the victims and Miss Maggie McGraw, aged 23 of Auburn, the young people had just left the dock in a skiff equipped with a half horse power motor for a spin on the river. They had scarcely gotten under way when they were run down by a motor boat owned by George Miller of Clayton, and occupied by himself and George Boynton of Waterloo. The craft is said to have been going at a 25 mile clip, and struck the light skiff squarely in the center, cutting it in two as clear as with a cleaver, and hurling its occupants into the water. It is said that the skiff was equipped with the proper lights, but that the motor boat carried none. William Wells succeeded in keeping himself and Miss McGraw afloat until rescued by the motor boat, but his brother Edward and Miss Carmen went down before their rescue could be effected. Both of the young men had been employed at the Hotel Fontaineau Round Island. The bodies of the victims were recovered at 12:30 this morning in forty feet of water. The coroner is investigating.

FORT WILLIAM IS DOING A BIG FREIGHT BUSINESS

Fort William, Ont., June 26.—(Special).—Business along the freight docks at this place looks more like old times today than before this season. The Canadian Pacific steamers coming into port are bringing cargoes of from eight hundred to two thousand tons, and tonight two trains of merchandise will leave for the west. Seventy-three carloads of farm machinery left yesterday for the west which cleans up that class of shipments.

A BAD PRACTICE

A citizen in talking to the Times this morning drew attention to what he termed a very bad practice of having city laborers working on the streets sweeping the crossings and streets on a dusty day with out the streets having been sprinkled. The dust raised in his manner is very annoying to people on the streets and light filmy costumes of the ladies are quickly soiled as a result.

"Oh, that's all right," Venables cried. "Very well-trained dog, isn't he? So much the better. You see, in the course of my adventures I have come across some pretty shabby specimens of humanity, though I am bound to say that I have found many of these creatures faithful when they are well paid. Now I know a fellow at Cannon Green who will look after the dog for us for a considerable time. He is a fancier himself, and always has a few animals for sale. What a bloodhound on the premises? Mr. Bill Perks is more than suspected of being a receiver of stolen goods, and on two occasions has been in trouble. Still, he knows me, and will do anything I like, provided I pay him handsomely. Don't let us waste any more time."

An hour later and the two adventurers left the train at Cannon Green, bearing a set of instruments such as those used by surveyors when they are planning and laying out new land. Their disguise was slight enough but quite sufficient for the purpose. Both wore smart-looking caps edged with gold, and their appearance was sufficiently formal and official. In addition to their caps they carried a bag, which contained a complete change of clothing for Lord Ravenspur. The latter was glad enough to see Walter and Venables. He brought a little note with him, which he found himself glad to read at length in a Norfolk inn. He rather rebuffed a show of interest which Venables proceeded to attack dexterously with a few punches, together with a pair of big spectacles, rendered the disguise complete. Walter expressed his admiration. "I can hardly believe that it is you, uncle," he said.

"And you are changed almost out of recognition," Ravenspur said. "Really, I must compliment you, Venables. And now, I suppose I had better hide the bag in these bushes. We have a very narrow escape. I am afraid, but that does not prevent one feeling the call of Nature. I don't think I am ever so comfortably hungry in my life. Where can we get some breakfast?"

"Venables, who seemed to have thought of everything, had already solved the problem. There was a very fair hotel not far from the station, and it would be an easy matter to hide the bag in the bushes, and then to go to the hotel and get the bag. The only trouble was that the hotel was a rather dilapidated place, with a large untidy garden around it. There were sheds and huts and kennels at the back, and the introduction of a dog with a terrible din of barking as they went up the path.

"Cunning hand, Perks," Venables explained. "It is very little he makes out of dog-fencing. But see how useful these animals are. Day or night the police can never approach the place with the object of raid without Perks having ample notice. But come along, and you shall see the man for yourself about your disguise trouble yourself about your disguise."

"Only that it happens to be the same thing," Ravenspur said quickly, recognizing it in a moment. "Oh, there is no mistake. Here is the dog for you to examine for yourself. You will see the initials and the date on the back of it. As soon as we get time, we must ascertain from Inspector Dallas if Delahay's watch was missing when his body was found. If so, then this opens quite a new phase of the mystery. On the whole, I am not at all sorry that we came here today. Of course, I kept my knowledge to myself, because I didn't want to arouse Perks' suspicions. But if we can continue to find out from whom he bought this thing we shall be going a long way to clear up the mystery of poor Delahay's death."

The matter was discussed at some length over the breakfast, to which all of them did ample justice. Once this was finished, they made their way to the common again, and set down on the grass to mature their plan of campaign.

"Now what we want to do," Venables began, "is this. We want to be in a position to make a close study of your house without arousing the suspicions of the people there. I racked my brain for a long time before I could think of a feasible scheme. And then it came to me like an inspiration. What could we do better than pass ourselves off as an Ordnance Survey party, down here on business? That is why I procured the official-looking caps, to say nothing of the theodolite and the note book. Now you, Lord Ravenspur, have only got to look wise and give us directions. You look exactly like the head of an exploring

Don't Condemn Yourself to Bright's Disease

TAKE GIN PILLS NOW
Bright's Disease claims its thousands yearly solely because people won't heed nature's warnings. Pain in the back and constant headaches mean Kidney Trouble. Swollen hands and ankles, and pain in the joints, mean Kidney Trouble. Frequent desire to urinate—urine hot and scalding—mean Kidney Trouble. Neglecting sick Kidneys means Bright's Disease. If you know your kidneys are affected—or if you suspect they are affected—give them the help they need—GIN PILLS. Taking GIN PILLS regularly soothes the irritated, inflamed membranes—gives to the kidneys new strength—corrects every kidney and bladder trouble.

I received the sample box of GIN PILLS and was greatly benefited by them. My kidneys were in such bad condition that I felt as if I were walking on pins. In fact, they pained me nearly all the time. I had taken these pills at the time as heavy work on the railroad, and did not lose a day's work.

And they are sold on a positive guarantee that they will cure you or money refunded. Put them to the test with the understanding that you must be cured or you get your money back. So sure are we that GIN PILLS are just what you need in your own case, that we will send you a free sample to try. Write, mentioning this paper, to the Bole Drug Co., Winnipeg.

party. We pretend to work the theodolite, and make measurements, and all that kind of thing."

"Inside the grounds?" Walter asked. "Of course," Venables went on. "That is the beauty of the scheme. No spot of ground is sacred to an Ordnance party. I have actually seen them work inside a church. All we want to do is to go about our business boldly and be quite firm if anybody attempts to molest us. It may be new to you that nobody can be prosecuted for trespassing if specific damage is done."

"DUMPING CLAUSE" IS NOT EFFECTIVE

Chairman of Toronto Branch of Canadian Manufacturers Complain of Slaughtering Foreign Goods in Canada.
Toronto, June 25.—The annual meeting of the Toronto branch of the Canadian Manufacturers Association was held last evening at the Hotel St. Charles. The retiring chairman, in his address made reference to the slaughtering of foreign goods on Canadian markets. The "dumping clause" was of some assistance in preventing this, but, he added, it had been chiefly demoralized by the machinery that had to be devised to make undervaluation of goods more easily detected. He advised the employment by the association of special tariff officers. Mr. Freyseng drew attention to particular matters affecting Toronto. The rate of progress in manufacturing as elsewhere, and he put the blame for this, to a large extent, upon the restrictive legislation existing in the city. He claimed that manufacturers were going to other places to avoid such legislation. The membership was shown to be nearly 600. F. A. Rolph was unanimously elected chairman.

Fashion Hint for Times Readers

SLEEVELESS COATS A PRONOUNCED FAD OF THE SEASON.

The fancy of the feminine sex for flowered fabrics has extended even to the sleeveless coats, which are worn with matching gowns and with those in contrasting effects. Some of the Empire coats to be worn with soft silk and lingerie gowns are old hussies and Pompadour flowered silk, trimmed elaborately with white lace, medallions and motifs, the short-waisted backs defined by means of southerly and cable cordings and the fronts closing with cordage carburens or olives. Flower-trimmed hats are the correct accompaniments of such coats, and usually they are in matching tones as in the case of the lilac-trimmed "Caprice" and the mauve and white Pompadour silk coat.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS

CAPRICE SCORES A GREAT SUCCESS

St. John Dramatic Club Made Another Hit at the Opera House Last Night.
The production of "Caprice" by the St. John Dramatic Club in the Opera House last evening was another distinct triumph for the local amateurs.

Though the audience was not as large as on Wednesday night when "A Sailor's Sweetheart" was the bill, they gave generous applause to the clever work of the company.

AGRICULTURAL COMMISSION HOLDS SESSION AT HARTLAND

Farmers and Poultrymen Make Suggestions—Government Recommended to Aid in Pure Bred Fowls—To Improve the Standard of Horses—The Sheep Industry Declining.

Hartland, June 25.—The second meeting of the Agricultural Commission was held at Hartland on Wednesday. Hon. J. K. Flemming presided, and among those present were David Kewick, Geo. Burr, Amos Rideout, C. W. Hurst, G. G. Gray, H. M. Boyer, Samuel White, Rev. J. B. Daggett, J. T. G. Carr, David Morgan, Hector McLean, Chas. Wallace, M. L. Hayward, C. J. Connolly, Elmer Phillips, Frank Albright, Herbert Oliver, and many others.

As Hartland is the centre of the new poultry industry movement, poultry raising was the first subject discussed. Mr. Daggett told of his experience in raising purebred fowls and the sale and shipping of eggs. There was, he said, an apparently unlimited market for poultry and eggs of the required quality.

Mr. Hurst agreed with Mr. Daggett's recommendations in regard to the government giving some attention to and spending money for the development of the poultry industry.

In discussing the decline of the sheep industry, a number of the farmers present expressed their views. In some cases it was on account of the ravages of dogs, in others the difficulty of fencing, and some while they admitted that not half the sheep were kept that formerly were, had no explanation to offer.

Frank Morgan said not half the sheep were kept now that were some years ago, and yet the price for lambs was double, good lambs bringing $4 per head, where a few years ago $2 was the average price.

The decline of the dairy industry was laid principally to the scarcity of labor both on the farm and in the household.

Hon. Mr. Flemming pointed out that this decline was a serious one, for whereas some years ago there were about fifteen cheese factories in the county, now there was in operation only two, and there were only two butter factories working.

The government was most anxious to learn if anything could be done to encourage this most important business.

A discussion ensued upon the possibility of securing a supply of suitable stallions, one of the difficulties seemed to be that but few farmers wished to engage men for the winter, they wanted help for the summer months, but did not require it in winter. Donations of stallions, however, were wanted the year round and lately some had been obtained from Scotland. There was room for many more.

Hon. Mr. Flemming called the attention of the meeting to what the Salvation Army was doing, and said that by applying through that medium help could be secured.

Frank Albright stated that in the Victoria Cornet district a dozen men at least were wanted for this summer; others present did not seem to be able to speak positively.

The question of horse raising was then taken up. It was agreed among those present that heavy draft horses were the kind most profitable for farmers to raise. Clydes and Percherons were the breeds favored with a decided preference for the latter breed.

Enoch Phillips, Lower Brighton, who is the owner of a Percheron stallion, claimed that the three Percheron stallions, viz., "Prince Imperial," "Zephyr" and "Fifer" had brought more money to Carleton county than practically the other stallions used there.

On visiting the barn he found the feeding floor covered deep with clover heads and leaves and the hens busy among them. The owner apologized for the amount of litter on the floor and said he would have to throw it out in the yard. "I told him," said Mr. Daggett, "that the condition of his floor was the secret of his egg supply, and also that I would be very glad to clean up his floor for him. He gave me a considerable quantity of this clover waste, which supply the market demand. In answer to a question, Mr. Phillips thought that a colt could be raised to two years old for $50, and from that age on would earn its keep. He was strongly of the opinion that some action should be taken to encourage the use of pure bred stallions. At the present time, he said, the country was full of scrub stallions that were serving mares for whatever price the farmer would pay, and the man who invested money to secure pure bred stallions had the business cut from under his feet.

SAFETY BOARD DECIDES TO SEND THE CHIEF TO QUEBEC

At a meeting of the safety board yesterday afternoon contracts were awarded for coal, hose for the fire department, repairs to the exhibition building, and to the heating apparatus in the engine houses and city hall.

The tenders received were: F. S. Walker, $370; J. H. Doody, $540; W. E. Emerson, $415; W. J. Crawford, $412; F. S. Coughlan, $350.

The tender of W. J. Crawford being the lowest was accepted and it was decided to arrange terms with F. H. Barr to supervise the work.

At the request of Chief Kerr the board gave permission for the use of the reserve fire engine to pump out the water from the sunken tug G. D. Hunter, on condition that the owner pay the expense incurred for fuel.

At the request of Ald. Baskin the need for increased fire protection on the West Side will be taken up at the next meeting.

A notice from the board of health calling attention to the accumulation of filth in the old market building on the West Side was read.

It was decided to have the place kept closed. The director remarked that it would be more to the credit of the health authorities if they directed their attention to such places as Blood Alley.

The question of repairs to hydrants, which are being made by the water department and charged to the safety department will be taken up at the next meeting. The appropriation of $1,250 is nearly exhausted and it is probable that the treasury board will be asked to find a further $1,000.

At the request of the director it was decided to pay $20 for a telephone in his house.

The board then adjourned.

MONEY AND THE STOCK MARKET

Hesitation is Still the Prevailing Factor, Say New York Brokers.

(New York Journal of Commerce.)

The question is frequently asked in the Wall Street district why it is with all the abundance of money generally, it does not seek the stock market. The office partner of one of the largest Wall Street brokerage houses was asked this question yesterday, and unhesitatingly he replied: "People are too timid." He thought his own personal experience was probably entirely typical of the general situation. During the panic he carried quite an amount of investment stocks for his own account throughout the entire financial disturbance, and sold them out at any rate, and to this day he has been hesitating to reinvest his money to his own firm and other factors in the stock exchange circles ever since. He has been hesitating to reinvest it, probably he believes, because he has found such general hesitation among his own customers. "Hesitation is still the prevailing factor in the stock exchange circles ever since the panic," he said yesterday, "and this feature, in view of the political situation, seems to be increasing rather than diminishing. Personally, he does not believe it will make any important purchases until next week, but at any rate, he does not think it will be favorable. I presume nearly everybody connected with Wall Street in a professional way will be buyers."

CIRCUS MEN IN TROUBLE: Coroners Jury at Haileybury, Ont. Asks That Cole Bros. Circus is Held Until Death of Former Employee is Investigated. Haileybury, Ont., June 25.—The inquest on a body of an unnamed man found yesterday morning at Mileage, 874, was held by Coroner Codd at Latchford yesterday. Tom Kelly, an employe of Cole Bros. circus, testified that he had chummed with the deceased and both decided to quit at Haileybury. Deceased had joined at Toronto, but he did not know his name other than that he was called "Patty." When he set out for his pay he was told to "wait until we get to North Bay." Kelly told him not to go to North Bay with the circus or else they would "ditch" him as they had done another fellow on Sunday near North Bay. W. J. Lawler, another circus employe, who had quit at Haileybury, told of seeing the deceased about 6 o'clock Monday evening and advising him not to go back near the circus once he was quit. He also told of seeing a fellow being thrown off a train at Woodlands flag station on the T. & N. O. Ry. on Sunday morning. This fellow was clubbed by one of the "bosses," as well as being thrown off. Witness inferred that the fellow would be the next one, hence his reason for quitting the circus. Another piece of information in his evidence was that a commissary van was kept by Cole Brothers, whereby any employe or railroad man could get whiskey and other liquor on any day or any time, providing he had the price. Witness also stated that no meals had been given the circus men or stock men from Saturday afternoon until Monday morning. The jury were out for about an hour and brought in a verdict reciting the above facts and recommending that Cole Brothers' circus be detained until investigation into the cause of the man's death be made by the proper authorities.

THE SCHOOL FOR THE DEAF: Closing Exercises Held Yesterday Were Largely Attended and Very Successful. The increasing general interest in the New Brunswick School for the Deaf, Latchford, was shown yesterday when the assembly room in which the closing exercises were held was crowded with ladies and gentlemen deeply interested in the exercises. The new principal, Joseph Keating, made a most favorable impression. At the close he made an impressive appeal for public sympathy for the school and its works. The exercises were simply illustrations of the daily class work and the boys and girls proved themselves to be intelligent and well trained. Before the exercises began, A. O. Skinner, who with J. Harvey Brown, O. H. Warwick, R. T. Hayes and other directors was among those present, expressed his pleasure at the large attendance and growing public interest in the school. They had had a successful year, with a good attendance. They were fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Keating, who was now head of the school. The directors desired to see more interest in the school from the financial standpoint. The government grant was not sufficient. He had always hoped that some wealthy men would take sufficient interest to place the school on a good basis and it was the intention in the near future to ask citizens to become annual subscribers. There was great interest in the closing exercises of the public school whose pupils were in happy possession of all their faculties, but surely there should be even a greater interest in an institution of this kind, whose pupils were so unfortunate as to lack the power of hearing and speech. They had the best school building ever for the deaf in all Canada, and he hoped with some legislation in the near future to see the school placed upon a better basis. Principal Keating in his remarks said that the health of the pupils had been good. His own time with them had been short but he had had experience with schools in Europe and had visited some in the United States, and could say that this school compared very favorably with any in Europe, Great Britain or the States. It belonged to the province and it was the duty of the people of the province to promote its interests. It was not sufficiently supported by the state, and must therefore rely upon philanthropic effort. The public should realize the mental darkness of the uneducated deaf and those endowed with hearing power, and education was of enormous value to the former. If the people could realize the mental darkness of the uneducated deaf they would appreciate the self-sacrifice of the teachers who try to bridge that yawning gulch. The people could do much if they car-
