Being cross-examined by Mr. Russell as to what he meant in a memorial, by stating Magistrate Kay was incompetent and unfair and that justice was prevented in Moncton, Harris said he considered Kay incompetent to weigh evidence fairly and cited instances in which he alleged the magistrate sent innocent parties to jail and dismissed charges proved guilty by absolute evidence. In the case of Hattie Black, tried for stealing from Mrs. Wallace, which was almost concurrently, he said goods were found with accused and identified, but the accused was discharged. He said the accused in this case was star witness against Mrs. Wallace, who was convicted of Scott Act violation.

AWARD CONTRACTS FOR IMPROVEMENTS
The buildings committee of the Municipal Council at a meeting yesterday awarded the contracts for the improvements to be made at the registry and sheriff's offices. The tender of Fred W. Barr for the installation of heating apparatus in the registry office was accepted. Mr. Barr has had experience in the installation of heating apparatus in several public buildings.
The tender of H. T. and J. F. McGowan for the painting of the sheriff's office was accepted. The carpentering work connected with the improvements is small in quantity and will be done under the supervision of the chairman of the committee, Ald. Holder. The repairs mentioned have been undertaken at the request of a number of the lawyers who have occasion to use the registry office.

STAR WANT ADS. BRING RESULTS

TRYING HARD TO QUIET KAY FROM OFFICE
MONCTON, Aug. 10.—At the afternoon sitting of the commissioner investigating Magistrate Kay's conduct the witnesses called were Nelson L. Rand, master mechanic, I. C. R.; City Clerk Magee, recalled; J. C. Sherran, barrister; R. W. Hewson, A. N. Char- ters, G. L. Harris, barristers and County Secretary, Giesmer A. Taylor. The main evidence offered was to show the conduct of the magistrate in court, and to show that notes received by Kay from the county in connection with criminal prosecutions had not been accounted for to the city treasurer.
Mr. Rand told of his case of assault before Magistrate Kay, in which the accused was Geo. Skiffington ex- I. C. R. detective. He said the magistrate fined Skiffington twenty dollars, but that he (Rand) was called in by the magistrate and abused him. He considered the magistrate attacked him unfairly without cause and tried to discredit him in the eyes of the public when the assault was most unprovoked. He admitted Skiffington had sworn to Kay (Rand) that he applied an improper term provoking the assault. He felt strongly against the magistrate and came to court to express his feelings.
County Secretary Taylor produced cheques issued in favor of Jas. Kay as police magistrate of Moncton in connection with criminal prosecutions.
By the evidence of the witnesses to the effect that with the exception of two cheques received by Kay from the county no returns of any kind had been made to him and no account given of it so far as he knew.
J. C. Sherran related incidents in the police court in which he and the magistrate and others had altercations in trying cases. On some occasions the magistrate threatened to lock him up.
Always Got Along
R. W. Hewson said he had always got along all right with the magistrate, but was not much before the court. Personally Kay had treated him fairly. He described an altercation between the magistrate and police clerk which he heard from the police court to see what the argument was about.
A. N. Charters also gave his version of the trouble between the magistrate and police clerk having overheard the noise and going in to see what the trouble was. He found the magistrate and clerk in a heated discussion and while he was present the magistrate reprimand parties engaged in conversation in the hall.
Wallace Scott Act case, two cases which ran almost concurrently. He did not think he was treated fairly by the magistrate in these two other cases in which he was present for clients for three or four years. He had refrained from attending the police court as a consequence of the treatment received from the magistrate.
Being cross-examined by Mr. Russell as to what he meant in a memorial, by stating Magistrate Kay was incompetent and unfair and that justice was prevented in Moncton, Harris said he considered Kay incompetent to weigh evidence fairly and cited instances in which he alleged the magistrate sent innocent parties to jail and dismissed charges proved guilty by absolute evidence. In the case of Hattie Black, tried for stealing from Mrs. Wallace, which was almost concurrently, he said goods were found with accused and identified, but the accused was discharged. He said the accused in this case was star witness against Mrs. Wallace, who was convicted of Scott Act violation.
The inquiry will be continued tomorrow morning.

HARLAN'S POINT, TORONTO, WIPED OUT BY FIRE
TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 10.—Harlan's Point, a summer resort and home of the Toronto Baseball Club and Tecumseh and Toronto lacrosse clubs, was wiped out by fire this afternoon. One Mrs. Clara Andrews, cashier in the Figure of Eight, lost her life and the monetary loss is one hundred and twenty-five to one hundred and fifty thousand dollars. The fire started in the Gen Theatre from a chemical mixture used in making colored lights and quickly spread to a frame structure. Mrs. Andrews got out all right, but went back, presumably to recover the cash. A policeman followed her in and in an effort to save her, pulled a wire box off the desk and was just grasping her when she fell back into the flames.
The Figure-eight, dip the dips, merry-go-round, open bleachers, lacrosse grand stand, baseball scoreboard, Hotel Harlan, pavilion restaurant restaurant, scenic railway, school of fun, big screen, shooting gallery, and Gen Theatre were all destroyed. A north-west wind sent the flames sweeping the merry-go-round bullfinch off towards the ferry docks and the merry-go-round building was badly scorched. The wind shifted to the northeast and the fire attacked the dip the dips. This was destroyed and the open bleachers in the base of ball grounds followed. Spreading along the fence to the score board, the flames consumed it, and then the lacrosse stand followed.
From the dip-the-dips the flames spread to the big pavilion, which was totally destroyed, and Hotel Harlan was next attacked.
By 4:20 the club home of the Toronto Rowing Club was in ruins and Hotel Harlan was destroyed. Valuable racing boats belonging to the club were saved by being blown into the western lagoon. Scores of the wildest disorder prevailed while the flames were spreading. The police drove the people south on the walk towards Centre Island to keep them out of danger and allow a free hand to the fire brigade. The place is owned by the Toronto Ferry Co. and Inverell Construction Co. The insurance is between $75,000 and $100,000.

DEATH REMOVES CAPT. ISAAC CARTER

READ WHAT THE NICKEL HAS TODAY.
The finest picture bill the Nickel has had in months is that to be shown today and tomorrow, or which the following titles will give a slight suggestion: "Before The Mast," a 50-act marine drama; "A Friend Of The Family," Biograph comedy-drama; "Tender Hearts," a Biograph love-story and a simply delightful pastoral drama; "The Country Doctor," by Biograph; The Bush Family String Quartette will play at 3:30, 4:30, 7:45, 8:45 and 9:45, while Mr. Buchanan is to sing at almost every show. His song for today is "My Dear," a charming lyric. The Quintette and Mr. Buchanan will have new numbers Thursday, the musicians to render a Hungarian Lullaby, "cello solo, and two concert numbers. Then comes the Nickel's Own Big Orchestra. Be early in securing seats for the rush in securing these days of magnificent programmes.

NEW PICTURES AT THE H. H. H. TODAY.
Despite the heavy rain last evening good sized audiences were present at the H. H. H. last night and enjoyed a good show. Hampton and Hehr repeated their previous night's success and received hearty applause. Prof. Hampton and his miniature circus are pleasing both the children and adults. Also, the educated goose, has entirely disproved the old saying, as "stupid as a goose," for he tells the time, the days of the week, year, the number of days he has to work, and the number he would like to work, and he also picks out any number the audience calls for. Dars David Spike the Monkey loops the loop in his act, gets out and "cranks" the machine when he stops. While the champion somersault, the drunken dog, the policeman, and the clown, also the Salome dancer. Patrons desire it to be the best animal act yet seen here and if you have not seen it, don't fall to. Today a very strong programme of pictures will be shown. The Slave is a Biograph dramatic picture, founded on an old Roman story. The Contender and The New Footman are two very funny comedies. Parents are advised to send their children in the afternoon, as they have a better chance to see and the price is only five cents. One show in the afternoon, commencing at 7:15.

TOLSTOY'S "RESURRECTION" AT THE STAR.
Possibly the most powerful motion picture drama illustrating the resurrection of Count Leo Tolstoy's "Resurrection," a picture in which the story, North End, tonight and tomorrow. Booklovers and students of social problems will enjoy this fine picture. There will be pictures in lighter fare as well and trick photography. Miss Annie Edwards will sing and the usual dose of good instrumental music in store.

SERIOUS RIOT AT A WINNIPEG PARK
WINNIPEG, Aug. 10.—Happyland, Winnipeg's Athletic Park, was the scene of riot and incendiarism last night, the blenchers being set on fire, and a large amount of property damaged by the disappointed crowd which had paid to see Alfred Strubbs and J. F. Fitzgerald run a ten mile race which did not come off. It is said the strike of electricians was the cause of failure to have the track lighted and this started the trouble.
The race was to have been run by electric light and after remaining for an hour in the gathering darkness waiting for light, the crowd of 2000 people broke loose, tore up the blenchers and made a bonfire. On the arrival of the fire department the blaze was quickly extinguished, and the rioters then swarmed over the park smashing windows, tearing down lamp posts, putting out lights and overturning the ticket box. Most of the disorder took place in the darkness and the trouble was aggravated when the employees of Happyland turned the fire hose on the crowd which included a number of women and children.

THE CARNEGIE LIBRARIES.

In a recent issue of Collier's Magazine, Mr. Andrew Carnegie comes to his own defence on the library question. His gifts to various countries have been the cause of some criticism of his distributing so much money in what has been called an attempt to perpetuate his name, and at times envious writers have seen in his course little else than selfishness. Mr. Carnegie in his reply to these critics suggests that something of his library giving propensity is due to heredity. His father, a weaver of Dumfries, was one of five workmen who agreed to combine their few books and lend them out to applicants. A corner in the older Carnegie's shop was given over to these books and this was the beginning of the library movement in that town. The original collection of books was moved seven times to different buildings and finally became a mechanic library. Mr. Carnegie believes that his gift do not tend to pauperize a community because the libraries are supported by taxation. Communities provide the sites and by reason of the cost of maintenance, a continued interest in the institution is guaranteed. Dealing with the benefit of public libraries the iron master says:— "The letters received from parents thanking me for libraries established and telling of the change these have made upon their children are numerous. It is not only what a library does in a community; that is only one half of its sphere. What it prevents is equally important. If young men do not spend their evenings in the library, where will they be spending them? If the young do not acquire a taste for reading, what will their otherwise acquire?"

"It is often charged against public libraries that they supply so much fiction. There is something to be said upon that side, but the impression created by the figures is greatly misleading. The novel is returned on an average in a few days, but the solid book, conveying instruction, is kept five times longer; so that when we read of fiction being one-half of the total books read, if the time consumed be compared with that spent upon instructive works, then the time spent upon fiction is 10 per cent., one-fifth of that which the reader would suppose, after reading that fiction is 50 per cent. of the whole. But even if fiction be read far more than any other class of books, provided the fiction be good, it is salutary. "It means much to young men and women that after their dreary, uneventful toil during the whole day they should be admitted to the world of good fiction. The masters of fiction tell us that the collier, who is a barbarian in becoming fully alive to the fact that his mission is not only to lead the applicant into green pastures—the best fiction. "I like library-giving for one reason particularly. The library gives nothing for nothing. The youth who is improved by it must co-operate. If he does not read and study he finds no reward. Nothing for nothing is the law within the walls. Help yourself is the decree."

GOOD ROADS.
In considering the problems of good streets residents of the city are apt to overlook the importance of good roads beyond the city limits. The problem of building and maintaining highways probably means much more to the citizens of St. John than the question whether German street gets a granite pavement or has to struggle along with the same mixture of mud and cobble stones that constitutes the other unimproved city streets. Yet because the matter is not more insistently brought to our attention we are inclined to forget that we have a very large interest at stake in the country roads. Lately the autists, sore from unnecessary bumps, have begun to encourage the making of good roads. This effort is, while excellent, does not go beyond the limits of the present road policy. The majority of our citizens, however, do not take even this amount of interest in the subject. The highway act may, at election times, be vigorously discussed in the city, yet the problems which arise in connection with it are considered essentially the problems of the agricultural population. This attitude is assumed without recognition of the dependence of the city on the farmers who are forced to use the roads. Back of every prosperous city is a prosperous farming community, and a very large share of the business of the city merchants is dependent on the success of those who reside outside the cities. It has been said that while the farmer is accustomed to haul his produce to the city market and carry back the goods purchased from the city merchants, it is only a matter of convenience that the merchants do not deliver their merchandise at the homes of the country customers and haul back to the city the produce which represents the farmer's purchasing power. The farmer supplies the horse and wagon for the exchange of commodities but it does not follow that the entire burden of providing the roads should fall on him also. The principle that a man should keep in good condition the roads passing his own property may be fair but, provided he does so, it is not fair that he should be penalized for the carelessness of another man or another district where the roads are not kept properly. The worst piece of road between the farm and the city is the measure of the size of the load a horse can haul and consequently of the cost of hauling. Good roads mean a better supply of farm products for the city at reasonable prices and also reasonable remuneration for the work of the man who produces the crops. On the other hand even the best of farmland is valueless to both the owner and the community unless good roads provide a means of outlet for the crop.

The problems of roads are not the problems of the individual but of the community. To construct satisfactory and enduring roads at a reasonable cost is no small business, and to be carried out successfully it demands expert supervision and organized effort. While the sentiment of the province is strongly in favor of some rule in the expenditure of the money raised by the road tax, yet there should be some system whereby the whole province, city and country alike, could unite in the endeavor to put our highways on a plane of uniform excellence. No investment could be made that would reflect more quickly on the prosperity of the whole people and no better inducement could be offered to attract new settlers to the idle lands of the province.

FINEST ACHIEVEMENT OF A FAMOUS FRUIT GROWER.

Dame Nature heard a man remark one day that when she made The peach and plum she surely reached The limits of her trade. She put her apron on and said: "I'll show him something new, I'll let him see that better yet 'Than either I can do.'"

She took the petals of a rose And honey mixed with morning dew, And tossed them in a shell. She set it down before the man Among the grasses tall. He ate the watermelon up And cried: "It beats them all!"

MINNIE IRVING.

"CALLING THE DROWNED" AT GLOUCESTER.

"Benny O'Neal of the whaling ship Petrel, Lost under the Banks" in snug harbor above, Laid voyage over, give ear while we call you, Strewing the sea with the flowers you love!

Hover in spirit to look at the roses, Crimsons ones, plucked from your bush by the door, Each year, please God, on this "day of calling," Dead though you be, you may sense them once more!

Smooth now as glass, the cruel, green billows, Safely the flowers ride each cresting wave— Ah, but I envy a mother whose lad Slept in God's Acre, while she guards his grave!

Rocking and tossing, great ocean, have mercy! Since you have stolen my dearest and best, Hide him away in some still, twilight grotto, Where, in my dreams, I shall see him at rest.

Flowers are drifting—drifting away, Benny, my lad, hear me calling today! MAZIE V. CARUTHERS.

CONFESSION.

She's such a dainty, winsome bit Of feminine humanity, Daintily unaware of it, And wholly free from vanity! I lost my heart when first we met, She was so sweet and amiable— (I own I haven't done it yet, It never seemed quite feasible.)

But still she rules within my heart, And—strange peculiarity— She blinds me to her by an art Without familiarity, I grow to love her more and more, Though I'm a husband dutiful, And pray, why not? She's ontiful, And doesn't know she's beautiful.

STEEL MEN MUST ALL SIGN PLEDGE.

The slight of one of his old employes going to work in an intoxicated condition caused Henry C. Frick to consult with the various steel men of Pittsburgh, with the result that a temperance pledge was drawn up which workers will hereafter be forced to sign before being employed.

Mr. Frick was taking an early morning stroll, and walked past the works of the Carnegie Steel Company. A white-haired man who had been employed by Mr. Frick years ago lurched across the street and staggered through the gates leading to the shops. Mr. Frick sent the man home in a cab and later in the morning conferred with the directors of several steel companies with which he is connected. The result was the drawing of an agreement whereby all prospective employes must take oath to abstain from the use of intoxicants. Sixty thousand men already employed in Pittsburgh will also be forced to sign the pledge.

BEULBACH EQUALS PITCHING RECORD.

By Winning 14 Straight Games for the Chicago Nationals.

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—By winning today's game from Brooklyn, Pitcher Edw. Beulbach of the Chicago National League team is said to have equalled the record for consecutive victories with the pitching staff at its present distance of 40½ feet from the home plate. Jack Chesbro established the record of 14 straight games while pitching for Pittsburgh in 1902. The record of 24 straight games made by James McCormick of the Chicago Nationals in 1888 was established when the pitching staff was closer to the batter.

YOUNG TURKS OUST LOAFERS FROM OFFICE.

Twenty-Seven Thousand Persons to be Dismissed or Relieved on Pensions.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 10.—The newspapers announce that 27,000 officers and officials will be dismissed or relieved on pensions by the reformed scheme of the new government. These include the hundreds of hangers-on at Turkish ministries, and the followers of the late Sultan, who are a little army in themselves.

Of late years the monthly pay list of the treasury has swollen to nearly $1,000,000.

Thus, as the Ministry of Public Works there were nearly a thousand clerks, where a hundred would have been amply sufficient. So great was the overcrowding that there was never room for all to be present at the same time, and the clerks, therefore, used to divide into bands, which relieved each other weekly.

MARY MANNERING DROPS HER SUIT.

Applied for Divorce From Her Husband, James K. Hackett, Last Summer.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—It became known tonight that Mary Manning, the actress, who has been divorced from her husband, James K. Hackett, the actor, has dropped her suit for divorce, although her attorneys to withdraw the suit, according to reliable information obtained by New York dispatches, although the reason for her action was not disclosed.

MARY MANNERING AND HER HUSBAND.

Mrs. Manning and Mr. Hackett married in 1897. They have one child a girl about five years old. She is with her mother.

CONSTITUTION OF TEMPLE OF HONOR WILL BE RAIGICALLY REVISED.

Recommendation of Most Worthy Templar Adopted—Order is in Splendid Condition With Increased Membership and Large Financial Resources.

At the business session of the Supreme Council, Temple of Honor, last evening the various reports for the past year were received. Upon motion the reports were referred to a special committee with power to act.

The session was held in Temple Building and was largely attended. W. C. Whitaker, most worthy templar, occupied the chair. In his report Mr. Whitaker extended a cordial welcome to the visiting brethren. He referred to the last session of the Supreme Council in this city in 1907. Since that time the great prohibition wave had swept over countless states in the republic and was now making a marked impression upon the Dominion of Canada. The progress may be slow, but the workers must not be discouraged.

The chairman stated that the twentieth century was the age of progress, and the Templars must work vigorously in order to keep pace with the temperance sentiment which is agitating the whole country. He would strongly recommend that a representative committee be appointed at the present session for the purpose of bringing into life a new constitution of the Supreme Council where they can be called into service as the basis.

Referring to the re-organization fund the chairman suggested that a good representative committee be appointed by the Grand Temple to act in the different constituencies to hold a series of popular concerts in which all could participate and there would be little trouble in raising the required amount.

Reports from deputies to Mr. Whitaker showed favorable progress in the various districts. Mr. Whitaker also considered the union sections to be in a most encouraging situation.

ITALIAN HISTORIAN ON AMERICAN CONDITIONS.

Sees Struggle Between Traditions of Puritans and a New Plutocracy—Following in Rome's Path.

PARIS, Aug. 11.—Concluding a series of impressions of America which he gained during a recent visit to that country, Guglielmo Ferrero, the Italian historian, finds that the anti-plutocratic movement is essentially a struggle between the old traditions of the Puritan democracy and civilization, gold, luxury and pleasure, a reputation under modern and more complicated forms of the struggle which rent Rome for the rapidity of development, lightning changes in customs and the creation of multitudinous new needs, he says, set up the large earnings of the people who though they are living better and larger than the Europeans unfortunately have not acquired the habit of saving.

Signor Ferrero believes that while the anti-plutocratic movement is a triumph in some directions, it is destined to fail because the Americans forget in their superb optimism and enthusiasm that the morality of modern civilization is imperfect.

ALPHONSO MAY CHALLENGE FOR THE AMERICA CUP.

Glowing Reports of Gold Discovery in Central Africa—Seeking Kidnaped Children—Nole Engineer Arrives.

LONDON, Aug. 11.—Reports are current in racing circles here that King Alfonso of Spain is a possible challenger for the America Cup. This rumor apparently is based on the fact that the King during the construction of his yacht, Hispania, which was built in Spain from designs by the English designer, evinced curiosity regarding the conditions governing the contest for this trophy.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 11.—Following a report that Grace and Tommaso Virano, the kidnaped children, were in Dunsmuir, Pa., Pietro Viviano, father of the children, arrived from the trip east, but was postponed for several hours because it was reported by telephone that the children found in Dunsmuir had been identified as belonging in Alabama.

BITTANY, South Africa, Aug. 11.—Glowing reports have been received of the discovery in the Aberech district of British Central Africa of gold deposits similar to the Rand formation which are said to extend over an area of six miles.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Sir John Jackson, the civil engineer who built the Manchester ship canal, arrived from Colon today on the steamer Prinz August Wilhelm.

RICE IN FORMOSA.

In the seventeenth century a number of Chinese immigrants brought into Formosa rice, which they cultivated in the Chinese way, producing larger quantities and better grain than was produced by the Formosans, who had cultivated rice from early times and had produced therefrom a distinctive spirit of drinking. The Formosans copied the Chinese manner of cultivation.

NO MORE WHITE LIGHT! NOR BUBBLING WINE!

For Thaw if He is Freed—Only Wants a Quiet Spot in Which to Rest.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Aug. 10.—Harry K. Thaw issued a statement reviewing the evidence given in his recent hearing on his application for release from the Manhattan asylum. In the course of his argument to sustain his contention that he is sane Thaw said that, according to the alienist, District Attorney Jerome had proved him to be sane "forty-five times over" to his long questioning.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Aug. 10.—Roger O'Mara has returned to Pittsburgh tonight and is willing to immediately declare Harry Thaw to be not only sane, but able to pass a lawyer's examination with credit rights at the present moment.

Mr. O'Mara says Harry Thaw will soon be liberated and will go to Europe, "where in some secluded spot he will quietly rest, never to touch a drop again." He added that Harry Thaw and Harry deserve all credit if the boy is freed. Evelyn will not be troubled by Harry's company. No more white lights or bubbling wine for him. He will live in the future for his mother. Harry Thaw is a "safe sane man."

ANSWERED.

A group of men discussing politics. A young fellow joined in the conversation, but his argument did not please the others, and one of them said to him: "Be quiet! At your age I was an ass myself."

"You are wonderfully well preserved, sir," was the immediate and crushing reply.

During last night's gale a huge tree standing on Dorchester street in front of Glynn's livery stable was blown down and in its fall struck and injured a span of horses belonging to John Glynn, which were standing on the street. The driver from No. 3 fire station cleared the fallen tree away.

KILLED THE MAN WHO MURDERED HIS BROTHER.

Stage Struck German Sent Threatening Letters—Balloon Makes World's Record—Sioux Indians as Orators.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—Ralph Gascoy, proprietor of a Mulberry street cafe, who served thirty-two months in Sing Sing after his conviction for murder, was shot down and mortally wounded in front of his cafe tonight by a man whose brother he killed four years ago. His assailant gave his name as Arvano Santaniello.

MILAN, Aug. 10.—David Berg, a young German, was arrested tonight, charged with sending threatening letters to J. J. Shubert, the theatrical man. In this he asserted that Mr. Shubert and others had conspired against him to crush his house of becoming a great actor and to threaten Mr. Shubert with death.

MILAN, Aug. 10.—The balloon Albatross, piloted by Lieut. Mina, today ascended to a height of 11,000 metres or over seven miles, which is believed to be a world's record.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Aug. 10.—Sioux Indians addressed in their own language the convention of the American Association of Catholic Societies tonight, their speeches being translated by members of the Order of Jesuits.

Prof. J. G. Monahan, of New York, taking as his subject "Socialism," declared that while Andrew Carnegie had given millions to complete the Carnegie idea of education, yet it would have been more fitting had they been donated by the American working man who had earned the money.

STRICKEN WITH HEART DISEASE IN MOTOR BOAT.

Sudden Death of J. G. Eiderkin, a Prominent Passmore Citizen.

PARISBORO, N. S., Aug. 11.—The death of a place tonight at seven o'clock at Port Greville of J. G. Eiderkin, of the firm of H. Eiderkin and Co. While in his motor boat he was taken suddenly ill with heart trouble and in spite of all that could be done he gradually grew worse and passed away at nine o'clock. He was about 47 years old and was one of the most active and enterprising men in this shore, and he will be greatly missed in this section of the country. He is survived by one brother, Hubert W., now living in Toronto, and one sister, Mrs. C. J. of Bridgetown, and a wife and family of small children.

HOW THEY GAVE STREET CONTRACTS IN MONTREAL.

Contractors Made Almost a Dollar a Yard on Asphalt Paving.

MONTREAL, Aug. 11.—It came out yesterday when the Royal Commission had resumed its sittings that the Modern Paving Company had received a number of contracts at high prices and that they had been sublet. The evidence showed that this company received a yard for asphalt pavement more than Toronto pays. Mr. Belanger, the official head of the company, said he had received the contract for a certain brand of stone and had sublet it for $1.20 for artificial purposes. The city was charged $2.11 and the sublet did the work for $1.30. The city surveyor, Barlow, declared that the committee takes little or no notice of his recommendations.

ROCKEFELLER HELD UP AS DESIRABLE EXAMPLE.

For Nation to Follow, in Policy of Conservation of National Resources.

SPOKANE, Washington, Aug. 10.—John D. Rockefeller as a philanthropist as an example for the nation to copy when held up to the consideration of the National Irrigation Congress today by W. J. McGee of Washington section. Dr. McGee said that he admired Mr. Rockefeller and regarded him as a man among millions.

"I regard Mr. Rockefeller," he said, "as at once a generous public benefactor and a wise business man. He has had all the opportunity in the world to exact an exorbitant toll from the public and yet he charges less for oil than is paid every day for common water."

"If I say that the United States government could do no better than to profit by the example of a business man as acute and who so well conserves national resources."

NO STRIKE AT SYDNEY MINES JUST YET.

Meeting Deferred and No Action Will be Taken Until Return of Officials—Coal Output Increased.

HALIFAX, N. S., Aug. 11.—Although the report was current that the U. M. W. locals at Sydney Mines would meet last night and decide the question of strike or no strike no meeting took place and no action will be taken at these mines until the International Vice President and the District President return from Springfield.

The production of the Dominion Coal Company yesterday has been surpassed only twice since the strike began, 11,000 tons were mined and secured from banks and the colliery production furnished 6,000 tons. The output at the banks declined somewhat, except from No. 13, where there is about 20,000 tons of coal which remained untouched up to a week or so ago. Since the strike began a very large amount has been taken from number 2 and number 8 banks and it would appear that now that the collieries are showing considerable improvement the company were easing upon the banking stations.

SENSATIONAL LAWSUIT OPENED AT ST. PIERRE.

Result of Shooting A'ray Between Mayor and Editor a Year Ago—The Editor Has Flown.

NORTH SYDNEY, Aug. 11.—A sensational lawsuit has just opened at St. Pierre, Magdalen, and excites more interest than any which has taken place in years, as the result of a clash between Mayor Louis Lefevre, of St. Pierre, and Paul Masler, editor of the defunct newspaper La Revue. The dramatic incident which led to this lawsuit occurred over a year ago when Le Reveille, whose policy was antagonistic to the mayor and civil government, bitterly attacked these officials. The attacks were followed by denunciatory articles in which the mayor's father was assailed with vile epithets. Mayor Lefevre resented this and demanded the author's name. Instead of complying the editor fired point blank at the mayor, wounding him seriously. The case was adjourned several times. When the case opened on Saturday it was found that editor Masler had decamped for France, and the case was again adjourned. The newspaper La Revue has gone under since several months. Mayor Lefevre figured prominently last year in denunciation of the school affair and was at the head of the procession when the American flag was carried through the streets of St. Pierre.

Here is the List of Contestants In The Sun and Star's Great Prize Voting Contest

There is a world of meaning in the three words: OPPORTUNITY, EFFORT, REALIZATION. To deal with each of them individually, we will take first OPPORTUNITY. The SUN and STAR is granting to its readers the opportunity of their lives to win a prize of unmistakable value for an infinitely small amount of work (we use the word guardedly). As for the EFFORT, we have repeatedly said (and the number of votes recorded each candidate in this contest will bear us out) that it will not be necessary for you to neglect your business in order to be a winner of one of these prizes. You will never know how very easy it is to secure subscriptions to the SUN and STAR until you have given it a trial. Then after you have been declared a winner in this contest, will come the REALIZATION of an absolute satisfaction in having won something by your own efforts. You will never cease to praise the SUN and STAR for having made this possible, and we shall rejoice with you in your proud ownership. In this paper today we show you the names of all who have entered, and you can easily see by the list that there is plenty of room in each district for a wideawake candidate to enter and win one of the prizes offered.

FRANK GOULD'S CHUM SAYS HE SAW HIM KISS ACTRESS

Mysterious Woman in Divorce Hearing is Revealed in Person of Rose Winter— Wife Wants Absolute Decree.

STAR—Gould 1. 7? Had he next few days Mrs. Helen Kelly would apply to the Supreme Court and ask that a final decree be granted her an absolute divorce from Frank J. Gould. The statutory limit of ninety days that must elapse between the signing of an interlocutory decree and the final one will end on August 15, and Mrs. Gould's friends say that she does not intend to lose any time.

The secrets in the divorce hearings when Mrs. Gould's serious charges against her husband were made known have just come out. Mrs. Gould's friends were named by Mrs. Gould and the testimony shows that Gould was a frequent visitor to the Winter apartments.

3,000 CHECK TO WOMAN.

The most important witness for Mrs. Gould was George H. Taylor, an intimate friend of Frank Gould, who accompanied him on several occasions to the Winter apartment.

Taylor told of many presents Gould made to the Winter woman, including a check for $3,000 and a diamond stud and gold mesh purse. Taylor was a reluctant witness, but Lawyer Smythe, representing Mrs. Gould, forced him to tell all he knew.

John Tierney, manager of the Shoreham Hotel, testified that Gould had been a frequent visitor when Mrs. Rose Winter had room there. When he arrived the clock would be struck and he would announce "Mr. Frank has come," whereupon Gould would go up on the elevator.

Robert Padley, the night elevator boy, said that "Mr. Frank" usually called on Mrs. Winter after the theater, and that sometimes he remained at night. Other times he left about five o'clock.

The elevator boy said he frequently had occasion to visit the Winter apartments when Gould was there and that the woman was not ornate in her dress.

SAW GOULD KISS ACTRESS.

Then Taylor was called. He was the star witness. Part of his examination by Mrs. Gould's lawyer follows: Q. How many times altogether have you called on Mrs. Winter with Mr. Gould? A. Three or four times. It might have been five; I won't say positively.

Q. On each of these occasions was it after the theater? A. I think once I called in the afternoon late.

Q. How many of these occasions did you leave him there? A. My recollection is twice.

Q. How was Mrs. Winter dressed on both of these occasions that you left Mr. Gould there? A. In a wrap—er a peignoir.

Q. This wrapper, was it transparent, made of transparent material, or was it made of material that could be worn in the street? A. It was of thin material.

By the Referee—Extremely delicate? A. Yes.

Q. Could you see through it? A. Yes.

By Mr. Smith—Did she have any thing else on these occasions but this peignoir? A. I don't know.

TAMING WASPS IS GIRL'S STRANGE FAD

Keep Them in Her Bedroom and Attempts to Kill Their Comrades.

LONDON, Aug. 10.—Taming and domesticating wasps is the fad of a girl named Miss Black-Hawkins, of Bourne Court, about six miles from London.

The Andover neighborhood is well known as a source of excellent honey, but at any one house or elsewhere should make pets of wasps is a distinct novelty. Miss Black-Hawkins, who is not yet 21 years of age, has a highly interesting story to tell.

Gentle in voice and manner and with an intense love for all forms of wild insect life, she has the attributes of the successful beekeeper, and these have served her well in directing her taste to the rear ally of the bee, the much more dangerous wasp.

FASCINATING STUDY. "I have been fascinated with the study of natural history for some years past," she said, "and it was three summers ago when I began to watch wasps and capture them."

She says that she has been struck by the wonderful mobility of their bodies. Naturally insect life in captivity for observation purposes had to be fed, and a first found they were amenable to kindly treatment when they literally came to me for food.

"I keep my wasps in my bedroom, in a wooden box with glass sides. Once, when I was lying down during the day, a hungry wasp came and settled on my hand. I often feed them by hand, and this particular wasp expected to find some honey. But I hid my hand under a rug and waited to see what would follow. The insect very soon settled on my face, and would not leave me till I had fed him."

WATCHING A WASP STING. The work of the wasp, the fearful menace of his deep-toned anger, have no terrors for Miss Black-Hawkins. Once she teased a wasp into stinging her in order to observe the process of stinging. "He must have plunged his barbed sting very deeply into me," she said, "for it hurt a good deal, and he had considerable trouble in withdrawing it. But I saw all he was doing, and it was exceedingly interesting to watch his struggles to release himself. He pulled just like a man, and kept going up and down, and his legs kept slipping from under him, owing to the force he exerted, but he got free."

"I catch my wasps by clapping my two hands over them and imprisoning them in the hollow thus made. One of my pets loose in my room began to quite expect at stinging me. I was aware of this from my attitude that capture meant a return to his box. So I tried a new trick. I set a trap for him, and that going near that piece of cloth meant going home, and finally he had to have his liberty till he was tired."

"The greatest number I have kept at one time is fifteen. I think the village people here, especially the children, regard me as something of a magician. Some laugh good humoredly at me, but I believe that as a wasp tamer I have generally in great respect. I had a letter from a friend in London, who said that he had seen me in a newspaper, and that he was very glad to see me. He said that he was very glad to see me, and that he was very glad to see me."

ELEVEN LIVES LOST IN FIRE

Hotel at Vernon, B. C., Destroyed Early Yesterday Morning.

VANCOUVER, Aug. 10.—Eleven persons lost their lives in a fire that destroyed the Okanagan Hotel at Vernon, B. C. The blaze was discovered at two o'clock this morning and had made such headway that escape for several inmates was cut off.

The dead are Wilbur Smith carpenter; J. J. Punston, laborer; James Anderson, delivery man; Julius Singlet, George McKay, Calgary; George Setpant, A. Hocking, A. Crabtree, A. Pickering and another. Five are in the hospital.

The building was of brick veneer, three stories high, with forty-eight rooms, and was a mass of flames before the alarm was turned in.

The stairways had been destroyed and guests were tumbling out on fire escapes or leaping out in the rear. The fire was mainly confined to the hotel. The building was on Main street and was surrounded by prominent business houses. The premises of the Royal Bank of Canada, Morris drug store and Leveridge's real estate office were considerably damaged.

A Pickling lost his life after saving his daughter. Singlet went back for a domestic and was caught in the flames. The hotel belongs to Singlet and Alberts. The loss is $25,000 partly insured.

WASTEFUL

"It's too bad," said Little Beena, "that there isn't another little Peter boy."

"They have six," said her mother, "it would consider that about enough."

"Well," said the little girl, "they can't take each other's clothes as they grow up, but there isn't any one to take little Johnnie's, and it seems kind of wasteful."

AN UNFOUNDED RUMOR.

"Mrs. Machmore told me," said Mrs. Oldcastle, "that the new minister came in his vestments when he officiated at your daughter's wedding."

SPRINGHILL WILL REMAIN CLOSED

Operations Are Off Until Profit Can Be Made.

Drummond Issues a Statement—Amenities are Distant, He Thinks.

MONTREAL, Aug. 10.—The Cumberland Railway and Coal Company has decided to close down the mines at Springhill, N. S., indefinitely. This statement was made this afternoon by H. R. Drummond, president of the company, who added as a limiting clause, "until affairs are upon a basis where we can make a profit at the business."

Mr. Drummond stated that the report telegraphed from Springhill last night that Manager J. R. Cowan had issued a notice ordering the men on the mine on the old terms was misleading, as the company will not now take back the men on those terms.

Have Had a Board

"We have had a board of conciliation," said Mr. Drummond, "and it was proved to the satisfaction of the board that the company has been actually losing money for the last three years. Apart from any return on capital, we have lost money in actual operation. The report of the board and these statements were not seriously called in question by the counsel for the men. Indeed it is not likely that they are open to question."

"In spite of the facts which are indisputable, the men have asked for the fixing of a standard wage, ten per cent. increase of forty thousand dollars in the annual wage bill. Now when we are losing money at the present rates, how could we be expected to grant an increase? In the light of these facts it seems very extraordinary that they should make such a demand. It looks like the dictation of these outsiders of the industry of a foreign organization. It has been stated that it is part of a plan to control the Canadian coal trade, in the interest of the Americans. At first such a charge may look absurd, but in view of recent developments, does it not seem probable? If the coal trade of Canada is ruined it is the American miners who will benefit, and they form the great majority of the U. M. W."

"The number of men employed at the mines at Springhill is about 1,200 and the annual output 450,000 tons.

ENGLAND'S NERVOUS, THE KAISER SAYS

Battles of Future, He Thinks, Will Be Fought on Peaceful Fields.

PARIS, Aug. 10.—During the recent Kiel report, the Kaiser, in a speech, said that the future of the world would be decided by the Kaiser's words. He said that the future of the world would be decided by the Kaiser's words. He said that the future of the world would be decided by the Kaiser's words.

Another of the guests has written an account of the visit to the Figaro. The Emperor, says this writer, displayed great gaiety. The great battles of the future, he said, would be fought not with the aid of arms, but with the aid of commerce and business.

England, he declared, was just now suffering from a moment of nervousness. He said that the future of the world would be decided by the Kaiser's words. He said that the future of the world would be decided by the Kaiser's words.

Yet another of the Kaiser's guests gives the Kaiser an account of what took place. The Kaiser still holds to his former plan for a kind of European federation against the Asiatic peril and "yellow" interference generally in the affairs of Europe. He also declared his intention to work might and main for peace.

LIKED A CAT ON A WALL

A Scotch Highland Minister was very fond of commenting on each piece as he read it out. On reading the precept, "Walk circumspectly," he said, "Ye've all seen a cat, my brethren, walking on the top of a wall, or 'er' broken bottles and bits of glass. See how it lifts as it and then another fit and how slowly and carefully it puts it down to keep clear of the sharp bits of glass. And so, my brethren, in this world of ours, my pitfalls we should be like the cat on the wall—we should walk circumspect."

Several women in the audience faintly, and a great many other spectators sustained injuries in the panic which ensued while endeavoring to force their way out of the theater.

The motive of the crime appears to have been jealousy, the actors having really represented the Paris they play.

STOLE BICYCLE LENT TO CANVASS ELECTION

Daring Criminal Represents Himself as Representative of Liberal Association.

LONDON, Aug. 10.—A remarkable record of crime was read by the recorder at the Bedford Quarter Sessions, when George Carter, alias Curtis, 38, was ordered eighteen months' hard labor for stealing a bicycle.

Prisoner resided for several years at Brockley, but left four years ago and went with his four children to Cuthbert Street, where he was arrested for the purpose of furnishing the gambler and gay life the home was sold in April, 1907, a warrant was issued for his arrest for deserting his wife and four children, who became chargeable to the Lewisham Union.

The following month, it was stated, he made the acquaintance of Miss Cheeman, at Guildford, and proposed marriage. He was accepted, but absconded with $60, which he obtained from her for the purpose of furnishing a house.

He next went to Bath, and, representing himself as a detective from London, obtained clothes and then went off on his bicycle.

At Bridgewater he took lodging in June last year at the White Hart, in the name of Arthur Scott. He expressed a desire to purchase the hotel, and entered into negotiations with some local agents. Prisoner borrowed money from the landlord, paid $15 into the Bridgewater branch of the Wills and Dorset Bank, and obtained a book of twelve checks. He altered the amount shown to his credit in the banking-book from $20 to $200, and altered the name from Arthur Scott to Arthur Weston.

At Exeter, in the next month, Carter was introduced to R. H. Lee, J. E., who cashed a check for him, which was dishonored. The same month he was at Plymouth, where he passed two weeks with a cyclist.

After doing a similar thing at Weymouth he went to Clacton-on-Sea, and introduced himself to George Carrington, of Oxford Road, claiming to be Carrington's cousin. Mr. Carrington kept him for three weeks and lent him $25, and prisoner, who went in the name of Curtis, opened an account with a local branch of Barclay's Bank. In September he was staying at a hotel at Brightlingsea, where he cashed two worthless checks. He represented the manager to accompany him to the White City, where he gave her the cap.

Various other places were visited. At Doncaster Curtis joined the Liberal Club, and, after disposing of a stolen bicycle, went to Sturford-on-Avon and introduced himself to the Liberal Club as a member of the Doncaster Club and offered his services as canvasser for the Liberal Club in the election then in progress. He was supplied with a bicycle and then absconded.

BIG GIFTS TO AID MAN'S FLIGHT IN AIR

University of Paris Given Donations to Promote the Science of Avia.

PARIS, Aug. 10.—The University of Paris has just received two handsome donations, both intended to be used to further the science of flight.

The one is a donation of $100,000 and the other of $50,000. The latter is a donation of $100,000 and the other of $50,000. The latter is a donation of $100,000 and the other of $50,000.

The second donation comes from a Greek millionaire resident in Paris, Basil Zakaroff, who has given $125,000 for the foundation of a chair of aviation in connection with the faculty of sciences.

Zakaroff is well known for his philanthropy. He pays the expenses of forty Greek scholars at the French university. Some years ago he endowed the Greek nation with a handsome house in Paris for use as the Greek legation, and he intends doing the same for his country with all the Greek legations in Europe.

The council of the university has accepted the two donations, and has decided that the names of the benefactors should be attached to their respective gifts.

ACTOR KILLS RIVAL IN REALISTIC PLAY

Shoots Him Dead in View of Audience, Then Fires at Heroine.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 17.—A terrible tragedy was witnessed last night at the National Theater in Saratoff.

In the third act of the play which was being given, the heroine is shot by a rejected actor, and dies in the arms of her sweetheart, who arrives on the scene soon afterward. Last night, to the astonishment of the audience, M. Tschaikoff, who was acting the villain, made no attempt to shoot the girl, but put a bullet through the heart of her lover, who was waiting for his cue to appear, then shot the girl, and finally turned the revolver against himself and fired.

DRUMMONDS AFTER ADDITIONAL LAND

Their Application is Opposed by Dr. Macrae and Mr. Gilbert

FREDERICTON, Aug. 10.—The local government met in session this morning and was entirely taken up with routine work and this afternoon the executive was occupied with hearing the application made by the Drummond Mines Iron Company for the taking over of lands in vicinity of the property now held by the company.

O. S. Crockett, M. P., with Mr. Parsons, engineer of the company, appeared in support of the application, while Dr. A. W. Macrae and Walter Gilbert appeared in opposition, representing other interests.

Mr. Crockett contended that the government had the power to cancel all lands which had been formerly leased and grant the privilege of taking over the property by the Drummond Mines Iron Company if it were in the public interest.

Mr. Macrae contended that the interests he represented were entitled to a renewal of all leases formerly made and that the same under statute could only be taken over by appropriation.

The surveyor general expressed the opinion that the government could cancel leases at any time. The government said they would take the matter into consideration.

This evening the government did not meet, the treasury board holding a session tonight.

ENGLAND GETS FLAG CAPTURED BY FRENCH

Berkshire Regiment's Colors to Be Restored After One Hundred Years.

PARIS, Aug. 10.—The strange story of a British and a Dutch flag has just come to light in the Matin. A short time ago Mr. Jeffcock, the keeper of a British officer, was making a tour in France, and happened to visit the Chateau de la Marthe, in Normandy.

This place has been converted into a museum, and contains a number of most interesting objects. Mr. Jeffcock was walking round he noticed two flags hanging and attached to them was a card showing that they were "for sale."

"One of the flags was once the property of a British regiment, the old Berkshire Regiment. This flag is supposed to have been captured by the French nearly 100 years ago in Corfa.

Mr. Jeffcock learned that the price of the two flags was $125, and he at once bought them. He is now in possession of the two flags, and he has already given a number of prizes to aviators, including one of $10,000 which he gave, with Archdeacon, for the first flight of one kilometer. This was won by Mr. Pagan in his aeroplane.

The second donation comes from a Greek millionaire resident in Paris, Basil Zakaroff, who has given $125,000 for the foundation of a chair of aviation in connection with the faculty of sciences.

Zakaroff is well known for his philanthropy. He pays the expenses of forty Greek scholars at the French university. Some years ago he endowed the Greek nation with a handsome house in Paris for use as the Greek legation, and he intends doing the same for his country with all the Greek legations in Europe.

The council of the university has accepted the two donations, and has decided that the names of the benefactors should be attached to their respective gifts.

PRIEST AND WOMAN SHOT BY JEALOUS MAN

Former Seeks Refuge After the Altar, Then Assassin Causes Firing

MONTREAL, Aug. 10.—Jealous of the parish priest at the village of Gortina, a young Glesion from Nice has shot both his wife and the priest. The victim is lying in a critical condition at a hospital at Mentone.

The husband, following his wife, a charming Parisian, Miss Gerbois, where she was in the care of her priestly brother, the wife, hearing the shots, left the nurse's cottage, close by, and received severe wounds in the body and wrist.

72 Days of Dish Washing

You spend two hours every day washing dishes. That's 720 hours a year or 72 days of ten working hours each. This means that half the time is wasted. For with Taylor's Borax Soap you finish your work in one hour instead of two.

Isn't it worth five cents to have 36 days a year to yourself—to have cleaner and sweeter dishes than ever before with less than half the work?

Taylor's Soap

This wonderful soap is unlike any other you have ever known. It digs into the corners of dishes and loosens the dirt almost like magic. It cuts away grease and leaves the surface clean and polished. Hard water makes hard dish washing, but Taylor's Borax Soap softens the hardest water and so makes the work easy. But it does more than soften the water—it softens the hands and leaves them even whiter than before. With this soap you save all the bother of rubbing and most of the scouring. You simply have no idea of the work this soap can save—it is the greatest surprise you have ever known. The glassware has a lustre that fairly sparkles with brilliancy. The china ware looks as fresh and inviting as new. Yet you work only half as hard with this astonishing soap. No soap could be purer than this, for during the boiling process we run thousands of gallons of clean water through the soap. Thus every impurity is carried away and the soap is absolutely clean. Borax also sterilizes and sweetens. It kills every germ and leaves no possibility of contagion. It destroys all odors and leaves a clean scent that is simply delightful.

HAZING A TORTURE IN FRENCH ART SCHOOLS

Newcomers and Monitors Brutally Treated by Members of Black Band.

PARIS, Aug. 10.—"Hazing" has become so prevalent in the French art schools that the Ministry of Fine Arts is applying for a law to make it a criminal offense.

A few nights ago in the Lille Art School one of the monitors named Marbut was awakened by five students in masks. They tried at first to choke him, but he resisted, and they then maltreated him with "life preservers."

An inquiry led to the discovery that a band known as "La Bande Noire" ("The Black Hand") had for many years past terrorized the art schools of France. Branches of the "Black Hand" exist in every school, and newcomers, if they do not submit to "hazing" or monitors, if they attempt to prevent it, are literally tortured.

Being superstitious is an excellent excuse for doing things differently. A good boss is known by the reports he turns in and the work he turns out.

STRENGTH FREE TO MEN

How To Regain It Without Cost Until Cured

Strength of body—strength of mind. Who would not possess it if he could? It is nature's greatest gift—our most valuable possession. Without this strength, life is a failure, with it everything is possible. Almost every man was made strong, but few have been taught how to preserve this strength. Many, through ignorance, have wasted it recklessly, or used it up excessively, leaving the body exhausted, the nerves shaky, the eyes dull, and the mind slow to act. There are thousands of these weak, puny, broken-down men dragging on from day to day who might be as strong and vigorous as ever were they to return to the source of their weakness. It gives you back the vigor of youth. For 40 years I have been curing men, and so certain am I now of what my method will do that I will give to any man who needs it my world-famous DR. SANDEN'S ELECTRIC BELT AND GUARANTEE. Write for a Belt today, or if you want to look into the matter further, I have two of the best books ever written on Electricity and its medical uses, which I send free, sealed, by mail.

BOY DESERTER SENT BACK TO VESSEL

Only one prisoner faced the magistrate this morning. Alfred Yepsen, a youthful sailor, charged by Captain Svane with leaving the barque Astra in opposition to orders. The lad is about 14 years old and was signed on by his father for two years. He claimed to have been roughly handled by the captain and made while the captain told a very different story.

Captain Svane claimed Yepsen had been enticed to desert by a fellow countryman who keeps a boarding house on South Market wharf.

The magistrate, by the aid of an interpreter, told the prisoner the penalty for desertion, and advised him to make no further attempt to leave the ship.

Sergeant Baxter, who made the arrest, took the lad back to the Astra at the captain's request, as the bark will sail this afternoon.

GRAND FALLS POWER COMPANY IN COURT

Right of Expropriation Causes Trouble.

Commissioner Winslow Opens Hearing—Imposing Array of Legal Talent—Sir Wm. Van Horne Takes a Hand

In the Equity Court room this morning the hearing in the dispute between the present Grand Falls Power Company and a number of private land owners at Grand Falls, was commenced.

The proceedings are being conducted at the instigation of the local government who appointed J. N. W. Winslow a special commissioner in the matter. The present company has the right to expropriate and the difficulty is as to the value of the land.

After taking evidence in the matter, H. A. Powell, K. C., is appearing for the Grand Falls Power Company and has associated with him, Barnhill, Ewing and Sanford, A. L. Sherrill, of New York; J. B. Maclean, chief engineer, and R. S. Lee and D. W. Jamieson, engineers, were also in attendance on behalf of the company.

H. H. McLean, K. C., and P. R. Taylor are appearing in the interests of the land owners in the case. Sir William Van Horne, W. P. Holt, engineer, and W. F. Lynch, secretary, are also in attendance.

William A. C. Rice, of Worcester, mechanical engineer, who had prepared a report on the power available, was the chief witness at this morning's session. He was examined by both counsel.

Referring to his report on electrical transmission, Engineer Rice stated that 80,000 horse power could be developed. He believed the construction of the dam as contemplated by the Grand Falls Power Company, would destroy the water privileges, which the land owners claim to possess. For legal purposes the Grand Falls would have the advantage over the St. Lawrence, on account of the former being in close proximity to the port of St. John.

On his examination by H. A. Powell, the witness stated he based his estimate of the amount of horse power on the measurement of the river, which he had secured as well as the storages. The latter term is applied to a series of reservoirs or dams further up the St. John river and its tributaries. In his estimate of 80,000 horse power he was not speaking alone of the falls, but also of the storages.

He had based his estimate of the cost of horse power at $5 per year from the flow of the river and the fall of 133 feet which could be secured.

Mr. Powell was somewhat surprised at the statement that 130 feet fall could be secured. He declared that 50 feet of fall was the estimate. In the estimate, however, the total fall from the upper to the lower basin had been included. He had no records that the fall was not available for more than 35 feet.

Continuing, Engineer Rice said that the lowest horse power he noticed was $3,337, but the following day the horse power reached $7,000.

It is quite probable that Sir William Van Horne will give testimony at the hearing today.

DAM AT ST. JOSEPH'S NEARLY COMPLETED

New Lake Thus Formed Will Add Greatly to Beauty of the Grounds—College Opens September 7th.

Talking with the Star this morning, Rev. L. Guertin, superior of St. Joseph's University, stated that the studies at the college would be resumed on September 7. There would probably be some changes in the teaching staff, but the new prefects had not as yet been announced.

An enormous work has been practically completed in the construction of a dam on the college grounds. St. Joseph's park is widely known for its beauty. However, the lake some time ago was trying to break through the dam. The college prefects were determined that the beauty of the park should not be marred by the absence of the lake. Tenders were called for and the contract for building a new dam on the grounds was awarded to J. B. Gaudet & Son of St. Joseph.

During the present vacation the firm has made excellent progress in the construction and the earthwork is about completed. The dam has been placed 150 feet below the old one and brings the level of the water about two feet above the former one. The contract necessitates the expenditure of between $2,000 and $3,000. The new dam is about 18 feet high.

General improvements have been made to the college buildings, but no radical changes or extensions have been made.

Rev. Fr. Guertin returned to the college at noon today. He was in the city in connection with the ordination of Rev. Napoleon Papiueau.
