

Women's Institute Convention Closed

Last Session Yesterday Morning-Filled With Spirited Discussion - St. John Branch Entertained at Lunch - Citizens Provide Visitors With Cars for Drive About St. John.

Yesterday morning's meeting of the Women's Institute was largely taken up with lively discussion regarding the appointment of the Supervisor, Miss McCain, to appoint to the Federal Institute.

On the opening of the session the constitution, as read by Miss McCain, was modified, on motion made by Mrs. Doyle, Jacques River, and seconded by Mrs. E. H. Hillsboro.

Mrs. John Harvey, Fredericton, speaking to the motion, said that the constitution had been in the hands of the supervisor for eight months and that the members of the Institute knew of its provisions only when read this morning.

She charged Miss McCain, supervisor, with showing respect and political leaning in her appointment of the representatives from this province to the federal institute.

Mrs. Harvey said that Miss McCain had stated in the presence of a delegation at Fredericton that Mrs. J. W. V. Lawlor had been appointed to represent the Catholics of the Province.

This was the reason exception was taken to the appointment of Mrs. Lawlor to the Federal Board as by the constitution of the Women's Institute it is non-denominational.

Her motion that the appointment of representatives to the federal institute vest in the provincial convention was seconded by Mrs. Stohar, Newcastle.

Mrs. Harvey was finally shown that her motion was out of order and she withdrew it.

Mrs. Harvey then asked what had happened to last year's resolutions. She was advised by Miss McCain that the resolutions had been placed by her in the hands of the heads of the respective departments of the government concerned.

Mrs. Harvey advocated that a committee be appointed to go before the government and urge action in regard to the resolutions. She expressed the opinion that some one other than one in the pay of the government should present the resolutions.

Mrs. Harvey therefore moved that a committee be appointed to urge upon the government to act on the resolutions as no effective results had been obtained from last year.

Mrs. Lawlor speaking to the motion said that one reason why the resolution had not brought results was because there had been a painful lack of courtesy shown the government heads by the committee which went to Fredericton to support the resolutions and of which Mrs. Harvey was a member.

The resolutions committee then reported and resolutions were adopted as follows:

That the government be requested immediately to appoint to the board of directors of the Institute a proportion of children who attend "movies," from the influence of immoral or suggestive pictures.

That the government establish in the Provincial Normal School a department for the training of kindergarten teachers.

That the Institute co-operate in the care of the feeble minded by sending to Rev. George Scott St. John, confidential advice of feeble-minded children in the various Institute areas throughout the province.

That a resolution be drafted in favor of Mothers' Pensions, and that Mrs. Rose Henderson, Montreal, be asked to draw up the resolution. This was carried unanimously and with marked applause.

Mrs. Harvey asked and was granted permission to make several motions. She moved that the constitution be amended so as to provide for the election by the provincial convention of two members of the directorate of the Institute.

Mrs. H. Lawrence pointed out that notice of motion must be given a considerable period in advance before motion affecting the constitution could be made. Mrs. Harvey's motion was then tabled.

Mrs. Harvey asked why the Institute had discontinued recognizing the Canadian Home Journal as the official organ of the Institute. She said the last convention had voted that support of the Journal be continued and that it was recognized as the official organ of the Institute throughout Canada.

Miss McCain replied that the Canadian Home Journal published reports of the various meetings of the Institute throughout Canada on its own initiative. The Federal Institute had decided to publish a paper of its own which would make the Institute absolutely free from the control or influence of any editor. The paper will be strictly under the control of the Institute and will be edited and published by members of the Institute. This would prevent any editor from exploiting the Institute for his own ends.

Mrs. Lawlor moved that Mrs. Harvey be not permitted again to address the morning session. Before the motion could be put it was announced from the chair that the meeting was adjourned for lunch.

The directors and other representatives to the federal institute appointed by the government are: Miss Campbell, Mrs. J. W. V. Lawlor, Mrs. H. Lawrence, immigration; Mrs. L. J. Osman, legislation; Mrs. Boyce, home economics; Mrs. C. Comber, education; Miss K. Stewart, child welfare.

Military Rifle And Skull Found

Were Brought From Bottom of Sand Point Slip by Dredge Yesterday-Clears Mystery of Pte. J. D. Pike's Disappearance in 1918.

The skull, which was dredged up by the Beacon Bar at No. 6 berth, West St. John, yesterday, was deposited in the undertaker's rooms. Dr. F. L. Kenney, the coroner, said last evening that he felt sure it was the remains of Private Pike, who disappeared about a year ago while doing sentry duty on the West Side wharves. Enquiries are being made by the military authorities and the coroner said that he would not consider the matter of an inquest until he had further information. He felt sure, however, that it was a case of accidental drowning.

The skull and a rifle were brought to the surface by the dredge yesterday morning. The rifle was identified as a military one by Captain Gooday of the military police.

The theory is that both belonged to Private J. D. Pike of Restigouche, N. B., who mysteriously disappeared while on sentry duty during the night of May 1, 1918. Shortly before six o'clock on that morning Pike spoke to another sentry, who was on duty near him, but when the sergeant of the guard arrived some time later Pike could not be found. No trace of him was found and he was officially listed as having deserted his post. This was the general opinion at the time but the bottom of the dock was raked with grappling irons but nothing was discovered.

The rifle was first dug up yesterday morning and attracted the attention of the crew as it protruded from the hopper of the scow. Later the skull was noticed when a bucket of mud was dumped. Both were recovered and investigation showed that the skull contained a gold tooth.

The military and police were notified and Sergeant O'Neill, on instruction of Chief of Police Smith made a personal investigation. Coroner Kenney was also notified and made arrangements to have the skull cared for.

Private Pike was a son of Mrs. Thomas Pike of Belledune River, Restigouche County N. B., and was said to be married. He enlisted with the 62nd Regiment and was on home service during his period in the militia. At the time he was reported missing a court martial was held to investigate and he was officially placed on records as a deserter but this will now be changed.

HURRY ALL BOLSHEVISTS AND ANARCHISTS TO PRISON, URGES E. H. GARY AT STEEL INSTITUTE

Menacing Conditions Must be Boldly Faced and Ended—Disease of Bolshevism, He Says, Must be Stamped Out by Severe Methods if Need be.

New York, Oct. 28.—(Times Special.) E. H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation and president of the American Iron and Steel Institute, brought forth choruses of hurrahs at the opening meeting of the institute in the Commodore Hotel yesterday when he declared there was no room in this country except in prison for the Bolshevist, anarchist or other individual who seeks to substitute the rule of force for the rule of law and order.

"Considerable has been said in public of late concerning the attempt to spread the doctrine of Bolshevism in this country," Judge Gary said to the more than fifteen hundred members gathered in the sixteenth annual session. "All of us have known for some time that this disease is persistent, and that there has been some inoculation even in this best of countries. Still, we deny that there is danger of serious trouble."

"There is only one way to treat this disease and that is to stamp it out to meet it boldly wherever it can be found, to expose it and give it no chance for development. "If there are any slinking, desperate, murderous Bolshevists in this country, even in small numbers, I believe the Secret Service of the government should detect and expose them and that the iron hand of justice should punish them as they deserve, and as I have faith in this country, and its institutions, I believe this will be done and done promptly. Any one who doubts the ability of the proper authorities to protect the persons and property of our people against Bolshevism and other similar doctrines fails to appreciate the courage of our citizens and the terrible force and thoroughness of subdued calmness when they are surrounded by threatened danger.

"For ourselves, let us be fair and just, considerate and determined, hopeful and complacent. We shall emerge from the waves of unrest which naturally follow the demoralization and terrors of war and as a people will be better and stronger than ever."

Thanked in Resolutions.

Judge Gary was interrupted repeatedly by cheers and enthusiastic applause. After his address was ended a resolution was adopted unanimously thanking him for his services at the Industrial Conference in Washington and saying also:

"Be it resolved, that the American Iron and Steel Institute hereby records its unqualified approval of Mr. Gary's firm stand against any infringement of the rights of the individual in labor or in business, and its fundamental to American industrial supremacy as well as to American liberty; that it admires his vision and courage enabling him to discern and effectively oppose the radicalism injected into trade unionism by unscrupulous leaders and elements especially dangerous under present conditions when world-wide unrest has created an opportunity for agitation aimed at the perpetuity of institutions under which our country has achieved its strength and our industries attained their efficiency and prosperity."

Judge Gary told the institute that his position had been approved by thousands upon thousands of individual chambers of commerce, associations and organizations, including farmer institutions scattered all over the country. He said that the industrial conference and the growth of the movement which brought about the present unsuccessful strike to organize all the workers in the steel companies were described in detail by Judge Gary. He said the present campaign was started at St. Paul, Minn., June 15, 1916, by the adoption of a resolution offered by W. Z. Foster. It asked that the executive officers of the American Federation of Labor be instructed to call a conference of delegates of all international unions whose interests were involved in the steel industry and of all the State defectors and city central bodies in the steel districts "for the purpose of uniting and these organizations into one mighty drive to organize the steel plants of America."

Traces Union Movement. The movement proceeded with little success under Foster, said Judge Gary. June 13, 1919, when another resolution was offered asking Senate Compomers to call a conference to lend assistance to the attempt to organize the steel industry. Mr. Compomers named the heads of twenty-four affiliated organizations to act as a committee to develop and carry out plans for the uniting of the steel industry.

"The strike," said Judge Gary "which has been directed by the union labor leaders, and was begun, so far as I am informed, without any request or authorization from the workmen themselves, has been conducted in the usual way. Immediately preceding the day fixed for ordering out the men, intimidating letters, large numbers of them being anonymous, were sent to the families of the workmen, threatening physical injury to the father or husband, damage to or destruction of the home and the kidnapping of the children unless the employees referred to should obey the order to strike."

"In many, if not most, of the mills the larger number of employees continued to work without interruption. At the beginning many of the workmen who attempted to continue their work and others who had remained at home through fear and attempted to return were confronted in the public streets and elsewhere by strikers or pickets and importuned to engage in the strike, and many were assaulted and severely injured. After protection was afforded by the police, Sheriffs, deputies, State constabulary and in some cases State or national troops the numbers resuming work increased appreciably from day to day, until in many places operations are about normal. Taken as a whole, the situation at present is good and steadily improving.

Declares Wages Not at Issue.

"It will be observed that the strike is not the result of any aim by any workman for higher wages or better treatment, nor for any reason except the desire and effort on the part of union labor leaders to unionize the iron and steel industry."

"Every proposition contended for by the labor unions at the National Industrial Conference in Washington, led to domination of the shops and of the men by union leaders. Every position taken by the other side centered on the open shop. This is the great question that is confronting the American people, and in fact the world public."

"From eighty to ninety per cent or more of labor in this country is non-union. It is for them and the employers generally and the large class of men and women who are not strictly speaking employers or wage earners to determine whether or not it is best for the whole community to have industry totally organized. The union labor advocates stand for collective bargaining through the unions. The other favor collective bargaining through representatives selected by the employees themselves from their own numbers. All through the conference it was apparent, whenever others favor collective bargaining was discussed that the union labor leaders would not support any resolution in favor of collective bargaining except on the basis that collective bargaining meant bargaining through labor unions."

"The labor group in the conference was made up of union leaders, leaving unorganized labor without special representation. With the right disposition and intelligence, the public group, sole survivor of the conference, may agree upon recommendations to the industrial world which should be of substantial benefit."

THIN PEOPLE NEED BITRO-PHOSPHATE

Increases Weight, Strength and Nerve Force in Two Weeks' Time in Many Instances.

The average person is beginning to realize more and more that the lack of physical strength and nerve exhaustion (frequently evidenced by excessive thinness) are the direct cause not only of the failure to succeed in life's struggle for the necessities of existence, but also of the handicap in one's social aspirations. Compare the thin, sickly, angular frame with the well-rounded form which is usually accompanied by the bloom of health and attractiveness.

That millions of people are conscious of this handicap is evident from the continued appearance in newspapers and magazines of many engagements proposing various remedies to treat or medicate or exercise, either of which might or might not be appropriate for a given case.

Authorities, however, agree that healthy nerve tissue is absolutely essential to a strong, robust body and mind. Weak nerves, while indicated by a multitude of different symptoms, may immediately and generally result in lack of energy, sleeplessness, irritability, depression, etc. which conditions gradually consume the healthy flesh, leaving setly hollows, a flat chest, bony neck and scrawny arms and legs.

Our bodies need more phosphorus than most of them are able to extract from the foods we eat nowadays, and many opinions affirm that there is nothing which may be taken into the human system that so effectively supplies this deficiency as the pure organic phosphate known as bitro-phosphate and sold by good druggists everywhere.

The essential phosphoric acid elements in bitro-phosphate assimilated by the nerve cells should soon produce a pleasing change in nerve energy and hence increased vitality and strength. With the burdens of nervousness, sleeplessness, lack of energy, etc., blood, normal weight with its attractive fullness and ruddy glow of health replaces the former picture of skilts and bones. Miss Georgia Hamilton, who was once thin and frail, reporting her own experience, writes: "Bitro-Phosphate has wrought a magic transformation with me. I gained 16 pounds and never before felt so well."

CAUTION:—Although Bitro-Phosphate is unexcelled for the relief of nervousness and attendant disorders, owing to its tendency to increase weight, one should watch the scales while taking it unless it is the desire to put on flesh.

Returned Soldier Bests Austrian

Joan Cerbal Assaulted Constable Thomas, a Returned Man, in Police Station and Was Placed Under Arrest.

Cerbal was in an ugly mood when he came in at seven o'clock to report, it is said. He was talking about the making of alias registration as something "that should be done away with," further asserting that the "war was over." After registering and paying his fee, he loitered around the room, refusing to go when Constable Thomas, who is a veteran of the great war, a bearer of honorable wounds, and a man who had the unfortunate experience of seeing his son killed in action at his side, was entirely taken by surprise, but soon succeeded in mastering the Austrian and later took him to the cells.
