Earthquake in Italy.

PARIS, May 8.—Two slight earthquake shocks were felt at San Remo this morning.

Mrs. Montagu's Case.

DUBLIN, May 8.—The medical board appointed in the case of Mrs. Montagu, undergoing a sentence of one year for manslaughter of her 3-year-old child, has reported that it is not necessary for her health to release her from prison. It is now certain that she will serve her full term in the Derry jail.

Riding Into Society.

LONDON, May 8.—Countess Clancarty, wife of the Earl of Clancarty, whose escapades while she was plain Belle Bilton, a favorite music hall singer, are fresh in the minds of newspaper readers, has adopted the best way of getting into society. She has joined a select circle of lady horse owners. Her horse Sunlight ran in the Galway hunt, but was beaten.

Complexion of the Next British Parliament.

LONDON, May 8.—Mr. Schnadhorst, at at the close of the Liberal conference, in summing up the reports, drew an average. He calculated that the general election will give the Liberals a majority of 77 in the next House, and held that the labor complications would exert only a minor influence.

Zola's Verdict.

PARIS, May 8.—M. Zola, referring to the Anarchist scare, said: "This insane excitement is much ado about nothing. My verdict is that the Anarchists are few in number, that they have no organization and that the most they can do is to blow up a few houses. The public opinion will support summary justice dealt in the streets. Lynch law will speedily silence the advocates of Anarchy."

A Disgraced M.P.

LONDON, May 8.—Capt. Verney, formerly a member of Parliament, who was expelled from the House of Commons and imprisoned for immoral conduct has been released from jail, his term of imprisonment having expired. He has gone to his estate at Bhianva, Wales, where he will live in the strictest seclusion and privacy. The entire period of his imprisonment was spent in the prison hospital.

Amy Told a Lie.

LONDON, May 8.—It has transpired that the story told by Amy Faulkner, the dressmaker who was found in a terribly injured condition beside the railway near Leeds, and who said she had been assaulted by a man in the compartment of the railway carriage and then thrown out, is without truth. The woman confessed that the story was concocted by herself, and that instead of a man throwing her from the train she jumped out herself. She gave no reason either for jumping from the train or for telling the story that she had been assaulted.

The Modus Vivendi Treaty Ratified.

LONDON, May 8.—The ratifications of the Bering Sea arbitration agreement and modus vivendi convention were exchanged between Great Britain and the United States yesterday. The exchange of the ratifications was a brief formality. United States Minister Lincoln and Lord Salisbury held a meeting for the purpose of exchanging documents in connection with the matter. The two diplomats engaged in a short conversation, during which they exchanged mutual greetings. Lord Salisbury afterwards started for Windsor Castle, whither he had been summoned by the Queen.

No Chance for Deeming.

LONDON, May 8.—No petition in Deeming's case has yet been lodged with the judicial committee of the Privy Council. If a petition is forwarded from Australia it will simply be refused a hearing. Mr. Lyle, Deeming's solicitor, defended a murderer who was executed in Melbourne last August. In that case he presented a petition to the Privy Council asking for a rehearing on the ground that the judge had misdirected the jury on the definition of insanity. The appeal was rejected. A similar course in the Deeming case would receive no consideration here.

The Financial Pulse.

LONDON, May 8.—During the week past discount was quiet at 1 for three months and ½ for short. All the indications point to the continuance of the extreme ease of the money market. The plethora of money is embarrassing the banks, and some of them are so loaded with deposits that they are reluctant to grant any interest on them. The refusal of bankers to allow interest on fresh deposits diverts money to the Stock Exchange, causing a stream of investing orders.

At Paris there was an easy Bourse settlement last week, Money was abundant and prices tended toward firmness. At Berlin and Frankfort business on the Bourse during the week was limited, but prices were firm.

Money and Monkey Missing.

PARIS, May 8.—Sali Rubini and his wife, natives of Venezuela, now traveling on the continent, reported to the police the loss of almost 100,000 francs in a satchel and a pet monkey in a basket. On Tuesday Mr. Rubini was robbed of a purse containing 18,000 francs. He thinks that the thief shadowed him to the Paris station and took the satchel and basket while they sat in the waiting-room. Mrs. Rubini thinks that the monkey is following the thief. She says that she let "Jocko," as she calls him, out of his basket for a little air, and when she put him back did not fasten the cover securely. She had trained him to attack anybody touching her belongings, and she thinks he may have jumped out after the thief when the latter took her satchel, dragging after him the basket to which he was chained.

Scandal in the British Army.

LONDON, May 8.—The demand that the Duke of Cambridge shall retire from the office of commander in chief of the war office, on account of his persecution, in connection with the disgraced Lord Connemara, of Dr. Briggs, is being renewed. Dr. Briggs, who has a brilliant record in the army, was deposed to shield Lord Connemara from a domestic scandal. Lord Connemara was charged by his wife not only with improper relations with his wife's servant, but with two highly placed ladies. Lord Connemara brought counter charges against Dr. Briggs, who was summoned as one of the witnesses against him. When Dr. Briggs had triumphantly established his innocence of the charges made in secret, the Duke held out no hope of restoring him until Parliament was on the point of being publicly appealed to, and then he was restored to the list; but with a loss of over a year in pay and allowances and toward retirement and pension, thus going down 35 of the 42 places won by his heroism and professional work. He refused to take up the commission on such insulting terms, and was thus driven out of the army by the Duke of Cambridge.

And This Monarch Is Addicted to Fits.

Madrid advices state that the young king is developing a tendency to fits. He has already had several fits of an epileptic character, and his mother, Queen Christina, shows the greatest anxiety about him. The little king will be 6 years old on the 17th inst., and it is intended to celebrate his birthday with more than usual display. He has not been allowed, so far, to enter upon serious studies, as the queen mother thinks that it is better for his brain and body to be well strengthened before he begins to learn the rudiments. His father, the late King Alfonso XII., was subject to epilepsy, and the same trouble appears to be developing in the child.

Abbas Is a Model Monarch.

LONDON, May 9.—A dispatch from Cairo says that the young Khedive Abbas is proving a model monarch. He frequently consults his mother, the beautiful and intelligent Eminch, and has, it is said, promised her that he will take only one wife, as his father Tewfik did. He is, however, in no hurry to get married. Abbas has ordered that no more eunuchs shall be procured for the palace, as he wishes to discourage this form of servitude. The eunuchs already in the palace can remain, however, as long as they live and desire to remain. Abbas is very much opposed to slavery, and has expressed a wish to aid in its suppression, especially on the Red Sea, where the worst form of Arab slave trade flourishes. He has admonished the officers of his army to be vigilant in preventing the traffic, and has promised to reward those who are most successful. In all matters he is under the influence of his mother, who is known among the European residents of Cairo as the "chaste Cleopatra of modern Egypt."

This Imperial Matchmaker.

BERLIN, May 9.—The new palace in Potsdam is being partially overhauled by upholsterers and decorators preparatory to the reception to four or five of the crowned heads of Europe this season. The most significant visit will be made by the Czar either immediately before or immediately after the Danish golden wedding. German Chauvinists assert that the complete isolation of France, begun by the Zollverein treaties, is about to be completed by the betrothal of the Emperor's youngest sister, the Princess Margaret, to the Czarewitch. The Princess Margaret is an attractive girl of 20 years, of fine form and pleasing face. The Emperor has held her in reserve for the last three years as a winning card in his political game. A short time ago he planned to marry her to Prince William, heir to the Luxemburg throne, hoping thereby to gain eventually possession of the duchy and its fine strategic position, from which an entrance could be effected into Belgium in case of war with France. The Empress Frederick refused to sanction the sacrifice of her daughter. When the official organs of St. Petersburg proclaimed that not only commercial relations between the empires were about to be improved, but also, the mutual feelings of the two courts had become much warmer, the Emperor forthwith proposed the bethrothal of his sister to the Russian heir. This proposed betrothal will undoubtedly be the subject of the interview between the Czar and Kaiser in Potsdam. The Czar's visit will be followed by that of Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands, and the Dutch Queen Regent. She will arrive in Potsdam on May 30. Her visit, also, will be utilized by the Emperor in his new character of match-making. He is said to hope that, by the marriage of the Dutch Queen and the Crown Prince, he will be able to bind Holland to Germany in the form of a personal union, and thus secure the stategic frontier which he lost in giving up the match between Prince William and Princess Margaret. The departure of the Dutch Queen will just precede the arrival of King Humbert of Italy and his Queen and of Emperor Franz Joseph. The conferennce of Emperors in Potsdam will concern military matters alone, it is said, and the ability of Italy and Austria to keep up their ends in the Triple Alliance.

REFRACTORY RIVERS.

Devastation Caused by Floods in the Maumee, St. Mary and St. Joseph—Houses Sailing Down Stream.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., May 8.—High water caused great excitement in this city yesterday and to-day. Scores of factory buildings were in great danger. Hundreds of men worked all to-day moving goods to places of safety, while others labored incessantly to save the embankments. During early morning hours a large house went over the dam and tore out a portion of the apron. It was feared it would damage the bridges, but passed under them without straining the piers.

At Bertrand a house struck the bridge and carried away a section of it just as Frank C. Nippold, of this city, was crossing in a buggy. The horse and buggy were lost, but Mr. Nippold managed to swim ashore. The water has receded somewhat since last night.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., May 8.—Reports of extensive devastation by the waters of the St. Joseph, St. Mary and Maumee Rivers continue to come in. No less than 500 farms on the low lands were overflowed and a great deal of timber went down the streams. Louis Isaby, a farmer living on the banks of the Maumee, four miles below Fort Wayne, lost all his live stock. The waters are receding and if the weather remains fair the danger is over.

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., May 8.—Rock Island has not seen a passenger or freight train from the east on the Rock Island Railroad since Wednesday night on account of the washouts between here and Bureau.

PEORIA, Ill., May 8.—Thousands of people to-day visited the inunated districts surrounding this city. The river is still a raging torrent. Its measurement today was 21 feet 7 inches—a rise of 7 inches in 24 hours. It is believed that the river will not rise much more. In Lamarsh district destruction continues. Residents have lost everything.

KANSAS CITY, May 8.—Accounts from all over West Missouri and Eastern Kansas tell of flooded rivers, overflowing creeks and streams. Growing crops have been badly damaged. In Saline, Mo., the whole county has been turned into a lake. All the crops have been washed out for miles throughout Grand River Valley and much stock has been lost. Rain is still falling, the Missouri River is rising rapidly and there is much apprehension of danger. At Vicksburg the river has risen one-tenth in 24 hours. Some 15,000 acres are now overflowed in this country and many families are unprotected.

BRUNSWICK, Mo., May 9.—For several days the waters of the Grand and Missouri Rivers have been rising so rapidly that it was feared the bar south of this place, which has lately become valuable farming land would be flooded. These fears have been realized, the crisis coming yesterday, and the whole day was spent in rescuing inhabitants and their stock. Last evening at 7 o'clock the ferryboat was broken from its cable by the drift while loading with people and horses, and went floating down the river. It has not been heard from since.

GOSCHEN, Ind., May 9.—The big dam south of this city, erected in 1866 at a cost of $20,000, has gone out, flooding the country as far as Elkhart.

ANXIOUS FOR ADJOURNMENT.

Government Members Desirous That the Redistribution Bill Be Held Over.

The Elliot Petition—Cost of "Extras"—Applications for Writing for the Entrance Examination to the Kingston Royal Military College.

[Special to the ADVERTISER.]

OTTAWA, May 9.—The defense was offered on Saturday for the debts in the Exchequer Court case against Michael and Nicholas Connolly for conspiracy and bribery. They make out a bill which they claim the Dominion Government is indebted to them for, amounting to $110,941. The amount is made up for extras on Levis graving dock dredging, Louise embankment and Esquimalt dock.

In the House to-day the motion of Mr. Lister with reference to the Judge Elliot petition may be reached, but as it is no nearer to-day than it was last Monday, and it was not then reached, it is not a very hopeful prospect for Mr. Lister. It is, however, sure of being taken up on Wednesday, which is the next private members' day.

The draft of the Redistribution Bill is not printed yet and debate of the measure is not likely this week. There are members on the Government side who are already alarmed at the probable length of the session and who would like to see the further consideration of the Redistribution Bill held over until next session. The Government is very anxious for an early adjournment. A large number of applications have been received by Adjt.-Gen. Powell from gentlemen desirous of writing for the entrance examination to the Kingston Royal Military College, which takes place on June 14. There are candidates from Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick.

Altogether about 45 dwellings are in ruins, nearly all the occupants being poor people, and in many cases having no insurance. It is estimated that 80 families are homeless. Loss variously estimated at from $75,000 to $100,000, and insurance about 30,000.

The best physicians and surgeons were immediately employed, but the eye could not be saved. Eventually it had to be taken out to save the other eye. Mrs. Swinarton's action is for $50,000 damages for the loss of the eye, her pain, suffering, etc. Mr. Swinarton sues to recover $25,000 for medical and surgical attendance, etc., and for the loss of his wife's services.

The body was still warm. At the morgue it was found the skull had been crushed at the base of the brain. There was nothing on the body to reveal the identity of the victim. BLED TO DEATH ON THE SPOT.

A Young Butcher Misses His Blow and Cuts Into His Own Thigh.

NEW YORK, May 8.—Antonio Bonnano, a young butcher of 342 East Eleventh street, was at work skinning a calf which had just been killed. The calf hung in front of him on the hooks, and the butcher removed the skin by tearing it away with his left hand and striking quick blows under the hide with the knife in his right hand. It is said that Bonnano was not an expert in this work. He had already cut his wrist.

An unusually hard blow of the knife missed its aim and the sharp blade followed the arc of a circle which brought it directly against the man's thigh. Blood spurted from the severed femoral artery and Bonnano fell to the ground. Several men in the shop rushed to his assistance and one sent in a call for the ambulance. Before it arrived Bonnano had bled to death.

A MYSTERIOUS MURDER.

Two Young Girls Poisoned by Strychnine.

LONDON, May 9.—The police recently found in a room in Lambeth a young girl named Alice Marsh, aged 21 years, lying in the passage in her night-dress. She was apparently in a dying state, suffering from the effects of poison. In another part of the house the police discovered another young girl, fully dressed, named Emma Shrivell. She also appeared to have been poisoned. The girls were taken to St. Thomas' Hospital, but the Marsh girl died on the way in a cab. The other girl died in great agony a short time after being admitted to the hospital. It was at first thought that they had been poisoned by eating canned salmon. At the coroner's inquest held the next day the police constable who had found the girls testified that Emma Shrivell had told him on the way to the hospital that she and Alice Marsh had met a man known to them as "Fred," and that he had given them some globules, which they had swallowed. He afterwards accompanied them to their home, where he remained until 2 o'clock the next morning. A police inspector testified that he found on a sideboard in the rooms occupied by the girls a letter from some man accepting the girls' invitation to tea. There was no envelope, but the letter was addressed from a hotel in Chatham. Evidence was submitted showing that strychnine in large quantities had been administered to them, but by whom or for what motive is a mystery. The police are using their utmost endeavors to find the man "Fred" and the writer of the letter found on the sideboard, but so far without success.

THE STORY OF DANIEL.

Showing How Godliness Pays, Even in the Present Life.

A Model for Young Men Leaving the Parental Home.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., May 8.—Dr. Talmage took for his subject to-day Daniel vi., 2: "Daniel was first."

Where in romance can you find anything equal to what Daniel was in reality? A young man, far away from home, introduced into the most magnificent and most dissolute palace of all the earth. The king, wishing to make this young man a prodigy in personal appearance, orders his attendants to see that he has plenty of meat and wine, and Daniel refuses these delicacies, and insist on a vegetable diet, refusing everything but pulse and water, waving back all the rich viands with a determined, "No; I thank you." He surpasses all the princes in brilliancy. As this run rises higher and higher in the firmament, it puts out all the stars, and if there is anything the stars hate it is the sun. Daniel becomes so much of a favorite with King Darius that our young hero is promoted to be Prime Minister or Secretary of State—the Frelinghuysen or the Bismarck of the ancients. But no man ever attained such high position without exciting the envy of others. The meanest and wrathiest passions of the soul is jealousy. You see it among all professions and occupations. I am sorry to say you see it as much among clergymen as among other classes of men. It is a passion bitter as a hell, and it is immediately recognized, and yet though it blackens the man who indulges in it, men will kindle this fire which consumes only themselves. There were demagogues in Babylon, who, highly appreciative of their own capacity, doubted the policy of elevating such a young man as Daniel. They said: "Why, we know more that he does. We could manage the public affairs better than he can manage them. The idea of putting Dan in such a place as that." Old Babylon was afraid of the young Babylon. They began to plot his ruin. He was an illustrious target. The taller the cedar the more apt to be struck by the lightning. These demagogues asked Darius to make an unalterable decree that any man who within 30 days shall ask a petition of anyone except the king shall be put to death. Darius, not mistrusting any foul play, makes such a decree. The demagogues have accomplished their purpose, for they knew that Daniel would not stop sending up petitions to his God, and Daniel, instead of being affrighted by the decree, went three times a day to his house-top for prayer. He is caught in the act. He is condemned to be devoured by the lions. By the rough executioners of the law he is hurried away toward the den. How strange a welcome Daniel receives from the monsters. They fawn about him. That night Daniel's sleep is calm and undisturbed, with his head pillowed on the warm neck of the tamed lions. But King Darius was not so happy. He loved Daniel, and he hated the stratagem by which his favorite had been condemned. He paces his floor all night. He cannot sleep. At the least sound he starts and his flesh creeps with horror. A bad conscience will make the bravest man a coward. He watches eagerly for the dawn, which seems so long in tarrying. At the first streak of light, he starts out to find the fate of Daniel. The palace gate opens and jars heavily behind him while yet the city is asleep. He comes to the den. He looks through the crevices but sees nothing. He dare not speak. Expecting the worst, his heart stops. Gathering strength he puts his mouth to the rifts in the rock and cries: "Oh, Daniel, is thy God whom thou servest continually able to deliver thee from the lions?" An answer comes rolling up out of the deep darkness: 'Oh, King, live forever. My God has sent his angel and hath shut the lions' mouths, that they have not hurt me." The young man is brought out and the damagogues who made the plot are thrown in. But they hardly struck the bottom of the den when their flesh was rent, and their bones cracked, and the blood spurted through the rifts, while the fierce monsters shook the rocks with their terrible roar, announcing to all ages the truth that while God defends the people, the way of the wicked shall perish.

Now, you see from this subject that in the eyes of many the greatest offense you can commit is success. Success is often a synonym for scorn. The first thing a man wants is religion. The second is grit. If you do not want to face wild beasts, you will never get to be prime minister. If you are now, as a young man, rising in any one respect, I bless God for your advancement, but wish to say before I quit this thought, look out for the lions. Young merchants, young lawyers, young physicians, young ministers, have much sympathy, and kind advice is given them at first, but, as you become your own masters and begin to succeed in your different occupations and professions, how is it then, young merchants, young lawyers, young physicians, young ministers? How is it then?

Again, behold in our subject an exhibition of true decision of character. Before Daniel were condemnation and death, if he continued faithful to his religion. Yet, just as before, three times a day he prayed, with his face toward Jerusalem. There is nothing more fatal for a religious or worldly advancement than a spirit of indecision. How often youth is almost gone before the individual has determined upon his profession. There are those who for 30 or 40 years have accomplished nothing anywhere because they have not felt themselves settled. Onward! Let cowards skulk. Act you like sons of God. If you want to sail to the land of gold you must double the Cape. To usefulness and strong character there is no overland route. Over the great deeps you must fly. Most of the way it is either head wind or tempest.

Again, let this story of Daniel teach us that the way to future success is through present self-denial. Not only did Daniel show his willingness for self-restraint by refusing the luxuries of the king's table, but must have denied himself much social enjoyment and sight-seeing, in order to have attained most wonderful proficiency in study. The most of those who have succeeded in any profession or occupation have come up from the very bottom of the ladder. The brightest day began with the twilight. No growth in grace is possible unless, like Daniel, we are willing to take up the cross, however heavy it may be and rough with nails. Moses chose affliction with the people of God rather than the pleasures of sin, and if we would be anything like him, we must be willing sometimes to choose the hard bread of self-denial rather than the imperial clusters from royal vineyards. To get strength and depth enough in rivers for turning mill wheels and manufactories, dams are built across them, and then through the millrace the quick floods leap on the water wheel to turn it with tremendous power. So natures that would otherwise have been powerless and insufficient by self-restraints have been dammed back and deepened, until, with concentrated power, they rush into the world, turning its ponderous machinery of important interests.

Again let the story of Daniel teach us the beauty of that youthful character which remains unblemished and upright when away from home. Had Daniel, on arriving in Babylon, plunged into every excess, his friends in Jerusalem would never have heard of it. His dissipation and renunciation of religion would not have cast one sorrow on the family hearth where he had lived or the old family Bible which he used to read. But, though far away from home, he knew that God's eye watched him, and that was enough. It is not every young man who maintains the same character when absent that was maintained at home.

There is no passage in a man's life of more thrilling interest than the day in which he leaves home and goes off to seek his fortune. That morning he takes a last walk around the old place, and going past some loved spot, a sly tear may start but no one sees it. The trunk is on the carriage, and after a warm good-bye, away they speed over the hills. Set down amid excitements and among companions not over scrupulous as to their words or deeds, temptations troop aroung the stranger. The morning comes, but no family altar, and the Sabbath, but no real quiet, and perhaps at the sanctuary the faces are all strange, and no one cares whether he goes to church or whether he does not go. Long winter evenings arrive, and how shall they be spent? On his way home from his place of business he saw flaming placards announcing rare performances and that this was positively the last night. At the door of his cheerless boarding-house, no one greets him, and the evening meal is insipid, for no one cares whether he eats or does not eat. The room in the third story that evening seems doleful and repelling. A book snatched up from the stand proves to be dull, for no sister is there to look over it with him. In despair he rushes out reckless as to where he goes if only he can see something that will make him stop thinking. That night may be the turning point in his history. Once within the fatal circle of sin and the soul has no power to repeal it.

In many a country churchyard is now the grave of some youthful spirit that went away lithe and bounding, but came home diseased and crushed and blasted to disgrace the sepulchre of his fathers. Yet this exodus must be made. The Lord stretch forth his hand for the deliverance of these Daniels away down in Babylon. Wherever your lot may be cast—in far inland town or in some great seaport—maintain in your absence the same principles of morals and religion which may have been instilled by parental solicitude. And while you may feel in your heart and life the advantages of early religious culture, forget not those to whom you are chiefly indebted, and pray that as age comes upon them and the night of death begins to fall on their pathway, the hope of heaven may beam through the darkness, lustrous and steady as the evening star.

Mr. Job Scales, of Toronto, writes: "A short time ago I was suffering from Kidney Complaint and Dyspepsia, sour stomach and lame back; in fact, I was completely prostrated and suffering intense pain. While in this state a friend recommended me to try a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery. I used one bottle, and the permanent manner in which it has cured and made a new man of me is such that I cannot withhold from the proprietors this expression of my gratitude."

Mr. J. R. Allen, upholsterer, Toronto, sends us the following: "For six or seven years my wife suffered with Dyspepsia, Costiveness, Inward Piles and Kidney Complaint. We tried two physicians and any number of medicines without getting any relief, until we got a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery. This was the first relief she got, and before one bottle was used the benefit she derived from it was beyond our expectation."

Donald Nicholson, con. 3, Kinloss, a few miles north of Lucknow, was taken from his bed the other night by five or six men with blacked faces. Placing a rope around his neck they dragged him out of the house to the bank of a creek, and after completely covering him from head to foot with a coating of tar, they threw him into the water. Nicholson is accused of thrashing his wife and is on trial for the offense.

In the Court of Queen's Bench, Begg vs. Ellison—Judgment in action tried at St. Thomas. The plaintiffs, the executors of the will of the late James Begg, alleged that on May 12, 1890, they entered into an agreement with the defendant for the sale to him of lots 15, 14, and the south half of 13 on the west side of main street, in the village of Port Stanley, for the price of $150; that the defendant had refused to pay the purchase money or complete the contract; and they asked specific performance and payment by the defendant of the $150 and interest. The defendant answered by alleging that the plaintiffs had not such a title as he was bound to accept; that they had title to an undivided half only of the property and no title to the other half. Instead of referring the question of the title to the master, the learned judge investigated it himself upon the only point in dispute, and held that the plaintiffs have no title to one undivided half of the property, that which formerly belonged to one Johnston, and that the defendant was therefore not bound to complete the purchase or pay the purchase money. Action dismissed with costs.

The claims presented amount to about $1,500, and include those for board, medical attention, services, etc. If anyone ever deserved special recognition at the hands of a government, over and above her legitimate expenses, it is Mrs. Snowden, whose house has been a veritable hospital for months, and whose care and attention was all that could be desired.—[Clinton New Era.

MUSICAL AND DRAMATIC.

The Young Liberals Preparing — The County Fair.

The Young Liberals will hold a general rehearsal to-night. Members of the quartet are requested to practice at Cruickshank's hall from 7:30 until 9 p.m. and the drill corps at Duffield's block from 8 to 9 p.m. After 9 o'clock a full rehearsal by the entire company will be held in the regular rooms. The performance is bound to be a brilliant success—every song will be a gem, every act a novelty. The features of the programme will be: The elaborate and costly first part; Fred Saunders, on the questions of the day; the graceful drill of the handsomely uniformed Hyman Guard and of the original Old Guards; beautiful statuary representation of the gladiators; graceful dancing and other bright specialties; and finally a humorous scene from the late inquisition entitled "A Day in the City Hall." The plan opens on Saturday morning for the show Tuesday night.

Ignace Paderewski, the pianist, will revisit America, and will commence a tour at San Francisco on Nov. 8. He will give 60 concerts and play 100 compositions which Americans have not heard. He may bring with him a portegee. She is Miss Szumowska, a Pole, who was born in Dublin, where her father was a professor of music. At 18 months she is said to have climbed upon the music stool and picked out her mother's lullaby. Notwithstanding this early beginning, Mrs. Szumowska was only an amateur until Paderewski heard her play in Paris, when, recognizing her great ability, he urged her to make music her profession, and offered to direct her studies. To this proposition she consented, and last year made successful debuts in London and Paris.

A correspondent writes: "I met the Vokes family on their travels some years ago, when the original five were all alive, and they astonished us all with the 'Belles of the Kitchen.' They were the wildest lot about traveling that I ever saw. They carried whole colonies of birds, dogs and pets of various kinds, and their entrance into the first-class hotels throughout the country with their odd companions was generally the beginning of some very lively scenes. They were all jolly, merry, common-sense sort of folks, who did as they pleased and didn't care a whit what people said. They would pay the most extravagant prices for board, yet eat little or nothing of what they paid for, but were always brewing tea in their own rooms and getting up toothsome little dishes for their friends and themselves, sitting up as late as they could induce any one to sit up with them. Rosina is the only one left to us now, for Frederick, Jessie and, I believe, Fawdon are dead, while Victoria came out to us a year or two ago and scored a failure as a 'star.' Yet I always thought her the cleverest of the family."

Lovers of the country and country life will be given an opportunity for enjoyment in the production of "The County Fair" at the Grand to-morrow and Wednesday evenings and Wednesday afternoon next week. This will be the first presentation of the play in London. "The County Fair's" great success throughout the land is familiar to playgoers. It is essentially a story the country and of country folk, and the scent of clover and the sheen of yellow corn permeates it. It is full of laughable episodes, and presets characters whose prototypes may be seen at any time in farm lands of New England. Abigail Prue, a spinster, adopts two waifs who aid her in relieving the mortgage from her farm by means of a speeedy colt, Cold Molasses, who wins a race and secures a snug purse. This episode naturally produces a great effect, viz., a real horse race, which is accomplished by means of Neil Burgess' patented moving platforms. Already the electricians have arranged the stage for the reception of the mechanism, and this effect will be given in its entirety. The other realistic items will be well staged, and the lively husking bee, with all its singing and dancing is promised as a feature.

STRANGLED A BABY.

A Youth of 17 Confesses to a Cruel Murder—The Mother Implicated.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., May 8.—Peter Schultz, 17 years old, and Adam Haas, 22 years old, were held without bail yesterday, in the Lee Avenue Police Court on the charge of strangling to death a 3-months-old baby boy. The child was the son of a Miss Mary Wertheimer, and Schultz is reputed to be the father. Miss Wertheimer was also arrested and held. Schultz has made a full confession of the crime. He says they took the child to Newton Creek, where they strangled it and held it under the water, and finally dug a hole in the mud on the bank of the creek and buried it. The police made an attempt to find the body where Schultz said it was buried, but did not recover it. They believe the prisoners dug it up before their arrest and hid it in some other place.

Out of Funds.

CHICAGO, May 8.—The World's Columbian Commission had on May 4 last a balance of just $1,012 20 to pay salaries, rent, etc., for the remainder of the fiscal year ending June 30. The monthly expense account averages $5,000 therefore it will have $1,000 to pay of $10,000 worth of debts. As Congress has made no appropriation for next year there is a probability that the commission will have to go around begging for pocket money.

"May Good Digestion Wait on Appetite."
Indigestion and Dyspepsia are caused by the food fermenting. The result of fermentation on all organic matter must be acid. This decomposes the food (which should be digested) and from that decomposition evolves gases that produce pressure on the nerves, disorganizing the system and producing various symptoms of disease. Brunton's CURATIVE FLUID neutralizes the acid and expels the gas from the stomach, thereby purifying the whole system, besides being a powerful alterative to the kidneys and liver.
For sale at druggists, 50c. and $1.
Prepared only by W. Y. BRUNTON, P. A. S., London.

HUNDREDS BEING RESCUED

MRS. OWENS STILL LIVES,
Looks and feels like a "new woman." A splendid example of what the forward march of science is accomplishing for the "gentler sex," even where all hope seems gone, and in its place only despair. If you would avoid the rocks which will surely wreck, and the deep waters which will surely sink your now frail craft, listen to the warning: "Suffering ladies of Toronto and elsewhere, I advise you to try the Histogenetic System of Medicine. It has done more for me in three weeks than I can tell you here. The remedies are unlike any I ever saw. It does not seem like taking medicine. No horrible, nauseating bad taste, and yet the curative power is wonderful. Two years ago I had typhoid fever, from which I have never thoroughly recovered. About four months ago my condition was such that I decided to undergo an operation, which I did, but have been still worse since. This was followed by inflammation and all kinds of bad results. My friends have all been much alarmed and very anxious about me. My husband's hard-earned money seemed worse than wasted on me. I was six months in the hospital at one time, and suffered dreadfully also with a diseased ear. Three months ago a complicated female weakness made my case still more hopeless. At last, and I believe just in time, I heard of the Histogenetic System and consulted Dr. Rear, of Toronto. He assured me there was one hope of ultimate and complete recovery. I took the treatment, and in a few days was some better. I continued to gain, and now in three weeks my ear has completely healed up, my system perfectly regular, organs all restored to natural position and condition. I am sound and well. I have walked nearly two miles to-day and feel none the worse for it. It is a grand treatment. Try it; you will not regret it.
"MRS. OWENS,
"98 Bond street, Toronto."
Free books; free examination. Just the actual cost of the medicine supplied. Experienced physicians prescribe for you free. Remember, all chronic and acute diseases treated, and you have only the medicine to pay for. Question sheets sent to outside patients, who are treated successfully at their homes. Will you believe the statements of your neighbors? Do you wish to get well? Try once more. If this fails all else will, for it is the latest and greatest achievement of medical science.
We cure these also—
If you have Nervous Debility, Consumption, Paralysis, Epilepsy, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Kidney Disease, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Blood Diseases, Female Weakness, Histogenetic Medicines will positively cure you if cure is possible. If not, your case will be refused treatment. We charge no fees. Address Histogenetic Medicine Association, rooms 2 and 3 Albion Block, London, Ont., and New Arcade, Yonge and Gerrard, suite of rooms 19, Toronto, Ont. Office hours, 9 a.m. to 8 p.m.

A REMEDY FOR THE GERRYMANDER.

The rascality of the gerrymander would not be tolerated for a day in England. A British Government would never dare to butcher the constituencies in its own interests, as was done by Sir John Macdonald in 1882, and has now been repeated by Sir John Thompson. The Prime Minister who would insult the free people of England by such a "redistribution" scheme as is now before Parliament under the pretense that he was attempting to do justly between all parties, would not be able to hold power for a day.

Is it not an infamous doctrine that one of the two halves of the people should be enabled to appropriate to themselves two-thirds of the representation without let or hindrance? That, nevertheless, is what the gerrymander means. It insists that the party in power shall shape the constituencies to suit its own purposes; it maintains the rascally doctrine that the proper way to rule is to "pack the jury before it asks the country to judge between it and the Opposition."

It is hard to say who are guilty of the greater degradation—those willing to seize or retain power by a gerrymander, or those capable of submitting to it. Tolstoi's doctrine of "peace at any price" can scarcely be made to fit an attack on the rights of the populace such as the gerrymander clearly is. A free people should not, cannot, be expected to tolerate such an outrage on their manhood rights.

How shall the outrage be averted? There are more ways than one of killing a cat. William Lyon Mackenzie and Cromwell had their way, and they were both public benefactors. Parnell showed what one resolute man could do to bring grave injustice to a race to an issue. Shall the gerrymandering injustice be met in some one of the ways in which patriots have met and combatted tyrants in the past, or shall a remedy be sought by the raising of some issue or issues that would dissolve all gerrymanders decreed on mere old party lines?

While the people's representatives, charged with the task of exposing the mean and unscrupulous gerrymander now before Parliament, are devising ways and means to prevent its consummation, in all its enormity, let Canadians consider these simple questions:

Why is one party base enough to gerrymander? Why is it that the other party is base enough to endure it?

Is it that Canadians, being mere colonial dependents, have deteriorated more than they know?

The cloture already exists in Ottawa, so far as the Conservative side is concerned. When a follower desires to talk after Sir John Thompson wills otherwise, he is instantly seated by "That Will Do."

DARED NOT DO RIGHT.

The Regina Leader, N. W. T., which is generally claimed to voice the opinion of Mr. Davin, M.P., sneers at the Liberals who supported the proposal to throw the tax off binder twine, and hints that they were not sincere in their efforts to benefit the farmers. It says the Conservative members "were evidently influenced by the captious action of the other side of the House and not by any love for the binding twine duty." What a confession! The Liberals are honest in their efforts to reduce the taxation on the farmers. The binder twine tax has been made an issue in every rural election recently held; and to save themselves some of the Conservative candidates promised to vote in favor of the abolition of the tax. Because the Liberals continue to favor taking off the tax, they are charged with insincerity and captiousness, and this solon tells us his friends would favor the reform if the Liberals did not indorse it! Was ever greater stupidity confessed? The fact is the combine managers demand that thetax shall be kept on, and the Ministers must obey.

The measles baci llus, discovered in Berlin by Dr. Canon, varies from 1-3,000th to 1-1,000th of an inch in length, and possesses characteristics "different from those of any other bacillus known.

MARRYING CHINAMEN.

A sensation has been caused in New York city by the marriage of two young women, teachers in Trinity Baptist Church Sunday school to Chinamen. The cause of these strange matrimonial arrangements is traced primarily to the custom prevalent in church circles of assigning a young woman instructor to a single Chinese pupil in the Sunday school. Though the dangers of such contact with Orientals was pointed out to be very great, the young women engaged in the fervid work and their superintendent ignored it, because the Chinese pupils refused to receive religious instruction from men or to be placed in mixed classes. The practice was therefore continued, with the result as here set forth.

Whether the young women really fell madly in love with their scholars, or resorted to the old experiment of marrying the men to save them, there are no particulars, but it is doubtful if the marriages can be happy. There is a disparity between the customs and habits of the people of the two countries that forbid such unions. It is true that Rev. Dr. Mackay, the Formosa missionary, is happily married to a native of that island of Chinese ancestry, but she was a well educated woman, and the devoted missionary did not ask her to give up her people, her native land or her associations. The case of the New York young women who married their Chinese Sunday school scholars is not at all analogous to that of Rev. Dr. Mackay. The question is, will they have many imitators? It seems that the Chinaman, wherever found, has the same predilection in favor of women teachers. If he is prevailed upon to attend Sunday school, he almost invariably stipulates that he shall be taught by himself and by a woman teacher. In connection with one or more of the churches in this city there are classes for teaching Chinese, and the men who attend insist that they shall receive their instruction in this way; but we have not heard that they have made any advances matrimonially.

AN IMPORTANT ELECTION.

On Wednesday next an election for the Imperial Parliament, which may have far-reaching results, takes place in the North Hackney division of London. Both Conservatives and Liberals, the cable informs us, are working with an energy most remarkable, seeing that the fight will have to be fought over again at the general election within a month or two at the latest. The fact is that both sides regard this election as a test of the political feeling of the whole of London, and there is little doubt that if the Conservatives should retain the seat by anything like their former majority the Government will be encouraged to hurry the dissolution of Parliament by a few weeks. As the semi-official Standard said on Saturday last:

"There can be but few more bye-elections before the general struggle to which the entire nation is beginning to look forward, and there can be no doubt that the result of the present contest will be appealed to, by whichever side may prove victor, as an earnest and omen of the general election."

Taking the figures at the last election as ground-work, the chances should be all in favor of the Conservatives. Their candidate was then successful by the large majority of 1,503. Since then, however, the Liberal cause has been gaining strength in London, as was evidenced in the recent County Council elections. The issues then were fought on Parliamentary lines. The Conservatives were ranged on the side of those who wished to retain untaxed for the ground landlords many privileges that they have appropriated to themselves. The Liberals advocated a change. The Liberals won. As the change can only be brought about by Parliamentary action, the consistent course for the electors would be to return Liberals to promote the desired reforms. We shall see what North Hackney says.

INLAND REVENUE IN LONDON.

During the fiscal year 1890-91, for which the returns have just been issued, the Dominion Government collected the following sums as excise revenue in the London division:

Spirits	$ 74,296 13
Malt liquor	437 00
Malt	47,470 37
Tobacco	102,141 78
Cigars	90,748 71
Petroleum inspection fees	14,399 90
Other receipts	455 00
Total duties collected	$329,918 89

One-sixth of the cigars manufactured in Canada are produced in this city. Montreal alone puts more on the market than London. Toronto manufactures a little more than one-half as many as are produced here. The total fees collected for petroleum were $40,407 20. Of this over a third was collected in the London division.

INGERSOLL IN EVIDENCE.

Harry Rowland, the ex-newspaper editor and at present assessor of Ingersoll, has given out his returns for the present year. The population of Ingersoll is stated by him to be 4,308. In 1871, the population, according to the Dominion census, was 4,022. In 1881 it had grown to 5,466; but trade restriction was decreed and now the population is 1,158 less than it was eleven years ago. Assessor Rowland was the individual who interrupted Sir Richard Cartwright when he spoke on the deplorable effects of the exodus in Ingersoll recently. It is to be presumed that his own figures will prevent the assessor from making pointless denials in the future. Ingersoll is a finely-situated town, and under a system that would give fair play to the towns, and give them a chance as against the grabbing propensities of the Toronto and Montreal millionaires, would continue to progress. It is handicapped by trade restriction.

SARNIA'S population, as stated by the Dominion census last year, was 6,693; the assessors now give it as 6,364.

BRITAIN MOVING, TOO.

On the 18th inst. the second reading of a bill to provide for the democratic principle of "one man one vote" in imperial elections will take place place in the British House of Commons. The wonder is that so fair a provision has not been grafted on British franchise law long ere now. The system works like a charm in Ontario elections. It aids in suppressing illegal expenditures and keeps the voting power in the hands of those actually interested in an election. It is a scandalous thing, as we know from experience in Dominion elections, to have non-residents, who have little or no interest in an election, brought back by the hundred to swamp the votes of residents. "One man one vote" residential suffrage is the only fair principle.

JUDGE ROSE told a Cobourg jury that he thought it would be wise to withdraw the maintenance of some of the public buildings from the county councils and place them in the hands of commissioners appointed by the Provincial Government, the Government to be responsible for the proper application of the moneys. These remarks were called forth by the insanitary condition of the county buildings, which have duplicates in many parts of the Province. But what would the county councils say?

Mrs. Marshall Ballington Booth is said to draw just $7 per week for her services in the Salvation Army, and to find time to make her little boy's garments and to attend to the housekeeping duties of her modest little home in Jersey City.

Dr. Landousy, member of the French Academy of Medicine, says that the depopulation of France owes more to tuberculosis than to alcoholism, syphilis, and malthusianism put together. Two thousand babies under two years old die annually in Paris from tuberculosis.

Dr. Beddoe conceives that there is a direct relation between men's pursuits and the color and character of their hair. A dark, straight-haired man has an innate tendency to join the ministry. Red-whiskerd men are apt to be sportsmen and fond of horses. The tall, vigorous blondes, the Viking type of men, are travelers and emigrants. Under the conviction that the plumage of canaries can be altered in color by varying the food, Dr. Beddoe thinks that the color of the hair must eventually be influenced by particular diets.

A unique character is Otto Mears, president of the Rio Grande Southern Railroad. When a lad of ten years he ran off from Russia as a cabin boy on a lumber-ship in the Gulf of Finland, and a year later he found himself in San Francisco with a single $2 50 gold piece. He was a soldier in the war in California, then a burro-packer and an ox-driver. Afterwards he developed into a railroad conductor, and ever since has been on the high tide of prosperity. He owns farms and cattle ranches, and has helped to make and unmake Colorado Congressmen and Senators. Mears is now a wiry, rather dried-up looking man of 52.

The Wyoming Republicans have elected six delegates and as many alternates to the Presidential Convention of their party. Two of the alternates are women, and both of them will appear at the Minneapolis convention, ready to serve as delegates. If they are required to serve as such, they will of course be admitted to the convention, and their admission will be an interesting incident in the history of American politics. Both of the women are influential politicians in Wyoming, and both of them are said to be forcible speakers on the stump, and energetic workers at the polls. Mrs. Jenkins is a woman of large frame, with a powerful voice, and Mrs. Carleton is a woman of graceful figure, with a voice that is both penetrating and pleasing. Wyoming is a State, and the only State, in which women possess all the political rights and privileges that are possessed by men. Female suffrage was established there by the State constitution that was adopted in 1889, and a good proportion of the women of Wyoming have voted in the elections since that time without disrupting social order in the State. There were several women among the delegates to the Republican State Convention recently held in Cheyenne. In a majority of the States of the Union, including the State of New York, women are now allowed to vote in school elections.

LOST OVERBOARD.

Accident to the Alberta in a Heavy Storm—The Second Mate Drowned.

OWEN SOUND, Ont., May 9.—The steamship Alberta, Capt. McAllister, left this port on Thursday afternoon with a full list of passengers and freight. She arrived at Sault Ste. Marie on Friday morning, which port she left at about 8 a.m. On Friday evening the sea got up, accompanied by a blinding snow storm. About 9 o'clock she ran into an ice floe, and while near Passage Island (which is only a few miles from Isle Royal, where the Algoma was lost) the ice broke three flanges off her wheel, leaving her helpless. As the crew were trying to set the canvass on the vessel, one of the booms jibing struck the second mate, knocking him overboard. No trace of him has since been found. The steamship Athabasca, which left port on Saturday, met the Alberta and towed her into port, from where she will be brought here for repairs. Old sailors say that Friday night's storm was the worst they ever experienced on Lake Superior.

"German Syrup"

Martinsville, N.J., Methodist Parsonage. "My acquaintance with your remedy, Boschee's German Syrup, was made about fourteen years ago, when I contracted a Cold which resulted in a Hoarseness and a Cough which disabled me from filling my pulpit for a number of Sabbaths. After trying a Physician, without obtaining relief—I cannot say now what remedy he prescribed—I saw the advertisement of your remedy and obtained a bottle. I received such quick and permanent help from it that whenever we have had Throat or Bronchial troubles since in our family, Boschee's German Syrup has been our favorite remedy and always with favorable results. I have never hesitated to report my experience of its use to others when I have found them troubled in like manner." REV. W. H. HAGGARTY, of the Newark, New Jersey, M.E. Conference, April 25, '90.

That People Speak Well of

HOOD'S

Sarsaparilla

Mr. R. J. Brundage of Norwalk, Ct., of the firm of Buxton & Brundage, expressmen, 159 Main Street, writes his experience below:

"For a long time I have been troubled with a weak stomach, followed by

Indigestion and Dyspepsia

A short time ago I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and took three or four bottles. Result, I have not felt so well all over for years. My food seldom troubles me now. My sister, who was troubled about the same way as myself, took Hood's Sarsaparilla with very pleasing results. I do not wonder that patrons all along the line speak so well of Hood's Sarsaparilla. Don't see how they can help it." R. J. BRUNDAGE, Norwalk, Ct.

Mr. B. H. Rose

is well known in Rochester, N. Y., as head of the firm of Rose & Eddy, wholesale and retail dealers in general hardware and house furnishing goods, at 137 East Main Street. The statement of so prominent a man must

Command Attention

"I send this unsolicited as I feel to congratulate myself that I used Hood's Sarsaparilla. Six months ago my digestion was very bad, and I had almost a case of

Chronic Dyspepsia

I was also broken down by over-work, so that I could not sleep nights. My stomach is now perfect, my nerves in excellent shape, and I have gained 10 pounds in 6 months. For all this benefit my gratitude is due Hood's Sarsaparilla. Accept my best wishes for the best medicine in the land." B. H. ROSE, of Rose & Eddy, Rochester, N. Y.

HOOD'S PILLS act easily, yet promptly and efficiently on the liver and bowels, cure headache.

Edward Lloyd, May 13.

Of Lloyd's performance in New York a critic says: "Edward Lloyd, the great English tenor, gave the first of his series of concerts at Madison Square Garden Concert Hall last night. He was received with the greatest enthusiasm, and his songs and ballads were demanded again and again. Mr. Lloyd is without doubt the best exponent of the pure school of English song and ballad singing living. His voice, which is full, rich and even in register, shows no evidence of wear. His method is perfect and his singing faultless. There is no mistaking the language in which Mr. Lloyd sings; it is English pure and simple, each word being as distinctly uttered as though he were speaking. Mr. Lloyd never forgets he is on the concert stage, and always, as all concert singers are expected to do in England, holds a copy of music in his hands while singing. He is perfectly familiar with all he sings, and he has too good taste and knowledge of the fitness of things to give the air of an operatic performance to a concert." Remember Edward Lloyd is supported by a brilliant company of artists. The sale of seats to the public commences on Wednesday, 10 a.m., at box office of the Grand Opera House. Gallery tickets (75 cents) on sale before the concert only at the Bell piano store, 211 Dundas street. These admit holders to the east entrance of the Opera House ten minutes before the other doors are opened, thus avoiding the crush and insuring good seats.

Be a well man, a free man, a happy man by taking K. D. C.—the great restorative for all stomach diseases.

Nothing impure or injurious contaminates the popular antidote to pain, throat and lung remedy and general corrective, Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. It may be used without the slightest apprehension of and other than salutary consequences. Coughs, rheumatism, earache, bruises, cuts and sores succumb to its action.

Why will you allow a cough to lacerate your throat or lungs and run the risk of filling a consumptive's grave, when by the timely use of Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup the pain can be allayed and the danger avoided? This Syrup is pleasant to the taste, and unsurpassed for relieving, healing and curing all affections of the throat and lungs, coughs, colds, bronchitis' etc.

ATHLETICS.

In a slugging match at Marshalltown, Ia., between W. M. Nelson, of Chicago, and Jim Sellers, a local pugilist, both colored, Nelson's right arm was broken in the second round, and Sellers was declared the winner. Sellers dodged a terrific blow by Nelson, whose forearm struck his opponent's head, the ulna snapping like a pistol shot.

The medal to be presented to Louis Cyr contains the strong man's portrait in relief, in the act of raising his 237½-pound dumbbell. Polson's NERVILINE, the new and certain pain cure, is used with satisfaction in every instance. There is abundant reason for this, for it performs all that is claimed for it. Palo Alto.

Humphreys' veterinary salesman crossed the continent to visit Palo Alto, the stock farm of Governor Stanford, the home of Sunol, Arion, Palo Alto, etc. After presenting proper credentials and exhibiting the list of prominent stock owners who are using the specifics, Mr. Reynolds, the superintendent, and Mr. Marvin, the trainer, consented to his treating Sunol and Palo Alto, as they were suffering from lameness. After thoroughly testing the specifics on these and other cases Mr. Stanford's business manager and attorney, Mr. Lathrop, placed an order for Humphreys' Veterinary Specifics, probably the largest ever given for veterinary medicine alone. This completes the list of prominent stock owners who have adopted the use of Humphreys' Veterinary Specifics. Veterinary Manual mailed free on request. HON. S. H. BLAKE.

Great Speech in East York on Issues of the Day.

The Gerrymander a Thoroughly Un-English and Unconstitutional Measure.

Tribute to Alexander Mackenzie and Wilfrid Laurier—Why He Favors Trade Freedom.

Hon. S. H. Blake had a splendid reception in East York on Friday night when he spoke in favor of electing Ald. J. K. Leslie as successor to the late Hon. Alex. Mackenzie. Below will be found additional extracts from the address:

TRIBUTE TO THE LATE MR. MACKENZIE.

Alexander Mackenzie was a man who stood out as a stalwart among men throughout the world, a man who struck for the right regardless of consequences. Consequences had to go to pieces before Alexander Mackenzie. (Cheers.) God give us more such as he was, honest and true. He liked to think that he could follow him yet, that the influence of Alexander Mackenzie still lived.

Men may say what shadows we are, and what shadows we pursue; but I, said Mr. Blake, impressively, like to say what a grand reality he was, and what a noble man we may pursue. While some constituencies have been kept open for months, the grass is hardly green upon Mackenzie's grave before you are called upon to elect a successor to him. I trust you are ready. (Cheers.)

WHAT THE COUNTRY NEEDS.

I listened with pleasure to-night to the speeches with which you have been so well instructed—better than you may be with my few words—to the strong words of the representative men of the Young Liberal Club, and we must have good hopes for our country when such men as Mr. Rowell and Mr. Pedley are found among our youth. They have eloquently dealt with the trade question, but to my mind, even before free trade, that which is of vital importance is that this country shall be free from corruption. We may succeed with bad fiscal laws, but let disease and corruption once enter into any land and it is farewell to that country—(cheers)—and therefore it is that I hold of vital importance the purity, the honor and integrity of our land. (Cheers.)

WORSE THAN '73.

My memory carries me back to twenty years ago when a bargain was entered into so dishonest, so corrupt, that when it was first whispered about men would not believe it. But letters were discovered and telegrams found and at last the bargain was laid bare. "If you furnish $360,000 to me to buy up the electors of the Dominion I will repay you," said he who made the bargain, "by giving you property of the people to ten times that amount."

The speaker continued by pointing out that the people of Canada, feeling that if such a gigantic fraud went uncondemned, corruption would eat into the vitals of the country, condemned the Pacific scandal and turned its authors out of power.

That great crime, done under the shadow of that flag that was made to answer for so much that was damnable, was punished by the people of this country. (Cheers.)

But that crime was condoned; the criminals were again returned to power, and the coal and timber lands, the money and the offices of the country—everything that could be taken—were handed over to the hounds that fed upon our country. (Cheers.)

Mr. Blake showed how the Pacific scandal had been condemned by the populace, and again condoned by the return of its perpetrators to power. What followed? The wholesale peculation of the people's land, timber, minerals and money. That was not enough. Then came the infamous Franchise Act and the Elliotizing of London. Mr. Blake's trenchant remarks regarding this outrage have already been published in the ADVERTISER. On the late gerrymander Mr. Blake's address was equally telling. He said:

THE GERRYMANDER.

They made no attempt at an equitable redistribution, as honest men would do. The unit of representation was about 23,000. But they left untouched Brockville with 15,000, Cardwell with 15,000, Frontenac 13,000, Leeds and Grenville 13,000, Lennox 14,000, Peterboro West 15,000, Peel 15,000. They made no attempt at equalization by joining any of these with others. Then they left one member for North Essex 31,000, one for Kent 31,000, one for East Toronto 43,000, one for West York 41,000, one for East York 35,000. No attempt was made to remedy these anomalies. In Quebec the gerrymandering was something terrible. In other Provinces it was worse than in Ontario. The people of Canada are living under a so-called constitutional government. These men in power delight to shout about the constitution, the British constitution, but that is the way they deal with the constitution, that is the way they attack the contitution, that is the way they invade the constitution. (Applause.)

FREEDOM OF TRADE DEMANDED.

Coming to the trade question, Mr. Blake said he did not care whether there was free trade, or unrestricted reciprocity, or commercial union, or what it was. For years and years they had attacked China and Japan for excluding foreigners from trading with them. They used to say it was a proof of the barbarianism of these countries that they would not have free trade. It took a century to batter down the stone wall around China. The infatuation of manufacturers and the fools led by them said: Let us take these battered walls and put them around this country, because England demands it. England is not so false to itself as to take any such position. On the contrary, England says: "Whatever you feel is best for yourself, carry that out." (Applause.) He would not have such strong affection for the grand old land if any prominent man there made any such demand on us as the Conservatives pretend. Next to honest government this trade question touches every one of us. The present policy enriches a few at the expense of the many. It enables a sugar refiner to make millions here, and when he can't spend his fortune here he goes to England, and in the south of England he buys the residence lately occupied by the Empress Eugene, once Empress of France. Why should we not have freer trade relations? No Canadian worthy the name is afraid of competition with any nation on the earth. (Applause.)

CANADIANS IN CHICAGO.

The other day he was in Chicago, and in a haberdashery store he found that five out of the seven clerks were Canadians. He found the same thing in a drug store. He believed there were thousands of Canadians in Chicago. What is the use of shouting that the country is prosperous when over a million of our population is expatriated? This is a question that strikes at the mass of the people. He would not go in for any rule or regulation whereby one man is enriched at the expense of others. The question is whether we shall continue in the old and bad path or rise like men to better things and times. (Applause.) Some bankers say that freer trade might injure Toronto. But there were many like Mr. Mulock, who say they do not care if they are pinched a little if the laboring men and the farmer are relieved. (Applause.) If there was any pinching it would come upon those who could bear it best. He did not like it when a rich client came to him the other day and said, "do you know what you are doing?" He replied that he did. (Applause.) He wanted the workingman and the farmer to get their rights. (Applause) "But," the client said, "it will injure your property." "I don't care," replied Mr. Blake, "I can stand it and they can't. (Applause.) If the dividends of rich men are reduced from 10 to 9 per cent. or from 9 to 8 per cent., a little poverty may do them good. (Applause.) It will start them thinking about others reduced in circumstances. (Applause.) It will all come right in the true way. Larger markets and larger industries will come, and all will be better, even if there is a little difficulty in regulating the balance-wheel at first. They must insist that the red parlor schemes shall end. (Applause.) He hoped that free trade would soon be unknown on a public platform because it had passed into law by the voice of the people. (Applause.)

HON. MR. LAURIER.

He wanted John Knox Leslie elected because he wanted him to go to Ottawa to comfort the heart of Wilfrid Laurier. Their leader had met with some defeats lately, and when a man is defeated he likes another to come in and shake him by the hand. He wanted them to cheer the heart of Mr. Laurier by telegraphing to him on Wednesday that East York is true to a man that is true to them. (Applause.) Amidst all the corruption and robbery Mr. Laurier stands as a great shaft, Abdiel like: "Faithful found among the faithless." Some yahoos had sought to cast dirt on this honorable man. It was said that Mr. Laurier was involved in some of the robbery. Oh! the man who forged that lie and published it will get a hot place when universal punishment is given! Mr. Laurier was as true as steel, true to his country, faithful to himself, faithful to his God. Let the electors of East York be faithful to him and teach him that Alexander Mackenzie, though dead, still speaks. (Applause.) Let them answer the faithfulness of Alexander Mackenzie and Wilfrid Laurier by being true to a leader of whom any man in the world might well be proud. (Great applause.)

We are all as God made us, and oftentimes a great deal worse.—[Cervantes.

Live Stock Markets.

MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, May 5.—About 400 head of butchers' cattle, 800 calves and 100 sheep and lambs offered at the East End abattoir to-day. Butchers were out in strong force, but they were not anxious buyers and prices showed no improvement; best cattle brought 4½c, and fair average stock sold at 4c to 4½c; exporters took about 60 head at 4½c to 4¾c for steers, and 4c to 4¼c for good large bulls. Milkmen's strippers were in large supply and weaker at 3c to 4c according to quality. Calves were plentiful, and, consequently prices fell to a range of $1 50 to $6. Sheep and lambs were scarce; prime sold at $5 50 each. Fat hogs are lower and run from 5½c to 5¾c per lb.

EAST BUFFALO.

EAST BUFFALO, N. Y., May 7—Cattle—The week rounded up with light receipts, only one car; limited inquiry, steady feeling and fair prospects for next week.

Sheep and Lambs—Fairly good demand today; about 7 cars held over from yesterday; 16 cars of fresh sale stock came in. Prices on lambs about steady with yesterday, the tops of the clipped selling at $6 06 to $6 30; 1 load of extra prime wool lambs, 87 lbs, brought $7 60. Sheep sold at week yesterday's prices to 10c lower; best clipped, $5 15; good ones, $4 75, with anything of the common order dull, slow and dragging.

Hogs—Active market for the 15 cars of fresh sale; 10c advance was readily obtained on most of the offerings and 15c on some few prime loads. Order buyers—New York buyers and packers all wanted a few loads and the limited receipts sold early at the advance noted; the balance of the packers might be cleaned up at $4 85, with a few at $4 90; York weights sold mostly at $4 90 and few loads of extra good at $4 95; pigs also sold at $4 80 to $4 90; roughs, $4 10 to $4 40; stags, $3 to $3 25, the market closing strong.

MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, Q., May 6.—There were about 130 milch cows offered on Viger market to-day, and a good many more were sold at the yards yesterday afternoon. There was an unusually large number of milkmen and other persons around with a view to buy cows, and as the prices were not high, many more cows were sold during the forenoon than is generally the case. The best cow on the market was sold for $50, and a number of others at from $40 to $45 each, but much the greater number of sales were made at about $35, and some of the smaller bossies went down as low as $25. A good many pretty good milkers were sold at the yards yesterday afternoon at from $33 to $45 each.

—The ceremony of laying the cornerstone of St. Basil's Novitiate and the Chapel of Our Lady of the Most Holy Rosary, on St. Clair avenue, Toronto, took place yesterday. In the morning at St. Michael's College pontifical high mass was celebrated by the Bishop of London, with full orchestral accompaniment.

At 2:30 about 1,500 members of the different Catholic societies in the city assembled on the grounds of St. Michael's College. There were about 5,000 spectators on the grounds. The Bishop of London blessed the corner-stone, which was laid with much ceromony, and the archbishop preached a powerful sermon. Father Flannery, of St. Thomas, subsequently spoke. He said that of the five founders of St. Michael's College sent by the community from France he was now the only survivor.

Dr. Bucke on Insanity.

A Washington dispatch says: The Association of Medical Superintendents of Insane Asylums, now in session here, at Friday's session was honored with a splendid paper on the "Origin of Insanity" by Dr. R. M. Bucke, superintendent of the Insane Asylum, London, Ont. The following general summing up was given:

1. All mental faculties arose each in its time, and they are of all ages, many of them being quite modern. 2. The date of birth of a faculty in the race may be judged by the age at which it appears in the individual, and its more or less universality in the race. 3. The stability of a faculty in the individual depends upon its age in the race. The older the faculty the more stable it is, and the less old the less stable. 4. Consequently the race whose evolution is the most rapid will have the most breakdowns. 5. Those functions in any given race whose evolution is the most rapid will be the most subject to breakdowns. 6. In the more progressive families of the Aryan race the mental faculties have for some millenniums last past developed with great rapidity. In this race the large number of mental breakdowns, commonly called insanity, are due to the rapid and recent evolution of those faculties in that race.

The paper was largely composed of extracts from a work now in course of preparation by Dr. Bucke on cosmic consciousness, and caused quite a stir in the convention.

Elizabeth Dent, a Toronto nurse girl, fell down stairs on Saturday afternoon and broke both of her arms below the elbow.

MIDDLESEX ASSIZES.

Judgment for Defendant in Neeley vs. Miller—Fraser vs. Rogers—Queen vs. Miller Dismissed.

NEELEY VS. MILLER.

Neeley vs. Miller, a civil action tried with a jury, was the next case called. The plaintiff is a partner in a firm who manufacture pitching machines and sheaf lifters at Dorchester Station. The defendant resides in the township of Enniskillen Lambton county, and in January 1891, entered into an agreement with the plaintiff to act as agent for him. The condition was that the defendant should take twelve machines at $17 each. The retail price ranged from $26 to $30. The plaintiff was to have the machines put on the train at Dorchester Station and addressed to the defendant at Oil Springs. The machines were shipped on June 12, 1891, and an invoice was sent. The defendant did not acknowledge the receipt of the machines or invoice. Neeley afterwards wrote to Miller, sending him a note to sign for the payment of the contract. The note was never returned. H. B. Elliot appeared for the prosecution, and W. R. Meredith, Q.C., for the defense.

MONDAY.

In Neeley vs. Miller, which occupied the whole of Saturday afternoon, the defense set up was that there was misrepresentation on the part of the plaintiff. The defendant claimed that he ordered from the plaintiff only one machine instead of twelve. Judgment was given for the defendant.

Fraser vs. Rogers (non-jury) was the first case called this morning. M. J. Woodward & Co., oil merchants of Petrolea, failed in July, 1891, with liabilities of about $110,000. Samuel Rogers & Co., oil merchants of Toronto, took possession of the refinery and used certain oils and other materials on the premises. John Fraser, the plaintiff and assignee, sues to recover the assets of the assignor for the benefit of the creditors. Maclaren & Co., of Petrolea, with Dalton McCarthy, Q.C., as counsel, are solicitors for the defendant, and Dawson, Weir & Greenizen, of Petrolea, for the plaintiffs. W. R. Meredith, Q.C., is pleading for the plaintiffs. This case occupied the time of the court at the Sarnia Assizes for two days, but by an order from Mr. Justice Street was adjourned and transferred to the London Assizes. With the object in view of discharging the jury as soon as possible, this case has been adjourned until after the two remaining jury cases—Bradden vs. Crozier (civil) and Queen vs. Miller (criminal)—have been tried.

When court resumed after dinner the remaining criminal case, Queen vs. Walter and John Miller, was called. The plaintiff was Samuel Plain, an Indian, living on the Chippewa reserve. Four horses owned by the father of the defendants were impounded by Louis Deleary, and the defendants were charged with having broken into the pound and rescued the animals. Mr. McKillop, for the Crown, could not prove sufficiently the existence of the bylaw for the appointment of the pound-keeper, and the case was suddenly ended, the prisoners being discharged.

Bradden vs. Crozier, the last jury case on the docket, was next called. The plaintiff is a young man who carried on business as a tinsmith in the village of Mount Brydges. He rented his shop for a period of three years from the defendant, John Crozier, at a rental of $50 a year, payable quarterly. Bradden, it is said, wished to sell out. The last quarter's rent fell due on a Sunday, and was not paid that day, but when Bradden called two or three days afterwards to pay it Crozier refused to accept the money offered, as he claimed more, not as rent, but for pasturage and expenses. Crozier then seized the goods, worth about $525, and refused to give them up. The suit was entered to recover damages for the seizure. The case was going on.

Murder and Suicide.

NEW YORK, May 9.—Abel Smith, colored, 23 years old, living at Carnarsie, quarreled with his wife, Miranda, last night. Miranda grabbed two knives, and, with one in each hand, sought to defend herself from the blows Smith rained upon her. Smith seized a gun and shot her through the heart. He then rushed to the railroad track, threw himself under a train and was killed. His body was torn into bits and strewn for yards along the road. When neighbors entered the Smith house they found the wife's body lying upon the floor with blood pouring in streams from her wound. In each hand was held a knife. The woman was dead.

The New Archbishop.

LONDON, May 9.—The induction of Dr. Vaughan as archbishop of Westminster to succeed the late Cardinal Manning, took place in the pro-cathedral yesterday. All the canons of the diocese and many bishops assisted in the ceremonies, and a great crowd was present. The newly-created archbishop delivered an address full of feeling and eloquence.

OF THE FUTURE.

10 Band Mills sold in Canada in 1891 where one was sold in 1890. We predict an equal increase in 1892.

Our present orders indicate it, so place your orders early.

The Circular Saw 22 years ago was as much a novelty and as difficult to run as the Band Saw is to-day. With the experience gained in handling the Circular, knowledge of the Band Saw is much more readily acquired. Special improved tools also facilitate the work. We furnish an expert with each mill to instruct in the use of tools and work on saw.

The adjoining cut illustrates our NO. 1 BAND SAW MILL, capacity 10,000 to 20,000 feet in 10 hours. Our No. 2 mill is much heavier—capacity 20,000 to 40,000 feet per day.

The Little Minister

By J. M. Barrie.

AUTHOR OF "WINDOW IN THRUMS," "WHEN A MAN'S SINGLE," "MY LADY NICOTINE," ETC.

"It is you I pity now," he said, looking wonderingly at her. "Do you not see that this man has deceived you? Where was his boasted purity in meeting you by stealth, as he must have been doing, and plotting to take from me?

"If you knew him," Babbie answered, "you would not need to be told that he is incapable of that. He thought me an ordinary gypsy until an hour ago."

"And you had so little regard for me that you waited until the eve of what was to be our marriage, and then laughing at my shame, ran off to marry him."

"I am not so bad as that," Babbie answered, and told him what had brought her to Thrums. "I had no thought but of returning to you nor he of keeping me from you. We had said good-bye at the door—and then we heard your voice."

"And my voice was so horrible to you that it drove you to this!"

"I—I love him so much."

What more could Babbie answer? These words told him that if love commands, home, the friendships of a life-time, kindnesses incalculable, are at once as nought. Nothing is so cruel as love if a rival challenge it to combat.

"Why could you not love me, Babbie?" said the earl, sadly. "I have done so much for you."

It was little he had done for her that was not selfish. Men are deceived curiously in such matters. When they add a new wing to their house they do not call the action virtue, but if they give to a fellow-creature for their own gratification, they demand of God a good mark for it. Babbie, however, was in no mood to make light of the earl's gifts, and at his question she shook her head sorrowfully.

"Is it because I am too—old?"

This was the only time he ever spoke of his age to her.

"Oh, no, it is not that," she replied, hastily. "I love Mr. Dishart———because he loves me, I think."

"Have I not loved you always?"

"Never," Babbie answered, simply. "If you had, perhaps then I should have loved you."

"Babbie," he exclaimed, "if ever man loved woman, and showed it by the sacrifices he made for her, I———"

"No," Babbie said, "you don't understand what it is. Ah! I did not mean to hurt you."

"If I don't know what it is, what is it?" he asked, almost humbly. "I scarcely know you, now."

"That is it," said Babbie.

She gave him back his ring, and then he broke down pitifully. Doubtless there was good in him, but I saw him only once, and with nothing to contrast against his senile passion I may not now attempt to breathe life into the dust of it. These were the last words that passed between him and Babbie—

"There was nothing," he said, wistfully, "in this wide world that you could not have had by asking me for it. Was not that love?"

"It is not. I want to share my husband's cares as I expect him to share mine."

"I would have humoured you in everything."

"You always did—as if a woman's mind were for laughing at, like a baby's passions."

"You had your passions, too, Babbie. Yet did I ever chide you for them? That was love."

"No, it was contempt. Oh," she cried, passionately, "what have not you men to answer for who talk of love to a woman when her face is all you know of her, and her passions, her aspirations, are for kissing to sleep, her very soul a plaything. I tell you, Lord Rintoul, and it is all the message I send back to the gentlemen at the Spittal who made love to me behind your back, that this is a poor folly, and well calculated to rouse the wrath of God."

Now Jean's ear had been to the parlor keyhole for a time, but some message she had to take to Margaret, and what she risked saying was this:

"It's Lord Rintoul and a party that has been catched in the rain, and he would be obliged to you if you could gie his bride shelter for the nicht."

Thus the distracted servant thought to keep Margaret's mind at rest until Gavin came back.

"Lord Rintoul!" exclamed Margaret. "What a pity Gavin has missed him! Of course she can stay here. Did you say I had gone to bed? I should not know what to say to a lord. But ask her to come up to me after he has gone. And, Jean, is the parlor looking tidy?"

Lord Rintoul having departed, Jean told Babbie how she had accounted to Margaret for his visit. "And she telled me to gie ye dry claethes and her compliments, and would you gang up to the bedroom and see her?"

Very slowly Babbie climbed the stairs. I suppose she is the only person who was ever afraid of Margaret. Her first knock on the bedroom door was so soft that Margaret; who was sitting up in bed, did not hear it When Babbie entered the room Margaret's first thought was that there could be no other so beautiful as this, and her second was that the stranger seemed even more timid than herself. After a few minutes' talk she laid aside her primness, a weapon she had drawn in self-defense lest this fine lady should not understand the grandeur of a manse, and at a "Call me Babbie, won't you?" she smiled. "That is what some other person calls you!" said Margaret, archly. "Do you know that he took twenty minutes to say good-night. My dear," she added hastily, misinterpreting Babbie's silence, "I should have been sorry had he taken one second less. Every tick of the clock was a gossip, telling me how he loves you."

In the dim light a face that begged for pity was turned to Margaret.

"He does love you, Babbie?" she asked, suddenly doubtful.

Babbie turned away her face, then shook her head.

"But you love him?"

"Oh, my dear," cried Margaret, in distress, "if this is so, are you not afraid to marry him?"

She knew now that Babbie was crying, but she did not know why Babbie could not look her in the face.

"There may be times," Babbie said, most woeful now that she had not married Rintoul, "when it is best to marry a man though we do not love him."

"You are wrong, Babbie," Margaret answered gravely, "if I know anything at all, it is that."

"It may be best for others."

"Do you mean for one other?" Margaret asked, and the girl bowed her head. "Ah, Babbie, you speak like a child."

"You do not understand."

"I do not need to be told the circumstances to know this, that if two people love each other, neither has any right to give the other up."

Babbie turned impulsively to cast herself on the mercy of Gavin's mother, but no word could she say; a hot tear fell from her eyes upon the coverlet, and then she looked at the door as if to run away.

"But I have been too inquisitive," Margaret began: whereupon Babbie cried, "Oh no, no, no; you are very good. I have no one who cares whether I do right or wrong."

"Your parents———"

"I have had none since I was a child."

"It is the more reason why I should be your friend," Margaret said, taking the girl's hand.

"You do know what you are saying. You cannot be my friend."

"Yes, dear, I love you already. You have a good face, Babbie, as well as a beautiful one."

Babbie could remain in the room no longer. She bade Margaret good-night and bent forward to kiss her, then drew back like a Judas ashamed.

"Why did you not kiss me?" Margaret asked in surprise. But poor Babbie walked out of the room without answering.

Of what occured at the manse on the following day until I reached it, I need tell little more. When Babbie was tending Sam'l Fairweather's child in the Tenements she learned of the flood in Glen Quharity, and that the greater part of the congregation had set off to the assistance of the farmers, but fearful as this made her for Gavin's safety she kept the new anxiety from his mother. Deceived by another story of Jean's, Margaret was the one happy person in the house.

"I believe you had only a lover's quarrel with Rord Rintoul last night," she said to Babbie in the afternoon. "Ah, you see I can guess what is taking you to the window so often. You must not think him long in coming for you. I can assure you that the rain which keeps my son from me must be sufficiently severe to separate even true lovers. Take an old woman's example, Babbie. If I thought the minister's absence alarming I should be in anguish, but, as it is, my mind is so much at ease that, see, I can thread my needle."

It was in less than an hour after Margaret spoke thus tranquilly to Babbie that the precentor got into the manse.

ACure for Constipation and Headache
Dr. Silas Lane, while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that, when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots and leaves, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick headache in one night. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion, it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50 cents a package. zxv

Carter's Little Liver Pills must not be confounded with common Cathartic or Purgative Pills, as they are extremely unlike them in every respect. One trial will prove their superiority.

A man's wife should always be the same, especially to her husband; but if she is weak and nervous, and uses Carter's Iron Pills, she cannot be, for they will make her "feel like a different person," at least so they all say, and their husbands say so, too.

A Douglassville, Ga., paper tells of a quick courtship. A man stopped at a house and asked a country woman for a glass of water. When he had quenched his thirst he asked her if she was married or single. She replied, widow. On which the man said that he was a widower in search of a wife. "Walk in," answered the widow, "and we'll talk the matter over." One hour later the twain were made one by the nearest minister.

CHATHAM NOTES.

Fatal Results of a Horse's Kick—Verdict in the Recent Shooting Case—Robbing the Postoffice.

CHATHAM, May 8.—The unfortunate man Bodin, who was kicked by the stallion at the spring show a couple of weeks ago, has died from the effects of his injuries.

Dr. J. L. Bray, coroner, held an inquest Saturday on the fatal occurrence at Prairie Siding, by which young Mary Drago lost her life. The jury returned the following verdict: That Marie Louise Drago came to her death by the accidental discharge of a revolver in the hand of her friend, May, 1892, and that no blame can be attached to anybody.

Alex. Jamieson, a Chatham young man, was arrested last night on charges of stealing a letter from the postoffice and unlawfully detaining a post letter. On Nov. 21 a letter was received at the Chatham postoffice, addressed to Mrs. A. C. S. Jamieson. The "Mrs." was not very legible and it was handed out to Alex. Jamieson, the young man in question. This letter, it appears, came from Amoy, China, and contained notification that between $400 and $500 was in a bank in that city to the credit of Mrs. A. C. S. Jamieson. In December, it is alleged, Jamieson wrote to the bank at Amoy ordering them to send the money on to him. But the order was not obeyed. It was discovered that the letter from China had not reached its proper destination. Investigation led to the arrest of young Jamieson. Mrs. A. C. S. Jamieson, to whom the bank deposit in China belonged, lives in this city, and will be present at court on Monday, when the case comes up. The accused was released on bail.

has two pipes, one covering the valve rod (dry pipe) and the one conveying the water to the front (wet pipe). The rod in this hydrant is actuated by a brass screw and handle above, and raising plunger the smallest fraction of an inch, closes waste before any water can enter discharge pipe. With the valve open we have the full and unobstructed flow of water through the hydrant which can well be compared to a straight way valve or round-way cock. Closing the valve empties all water from wet pipe through dry hole. To repair hydrant or washer remove top cap or plate and withdraw plunger valve. It can be readily repaired without digging up.

LONDON AND ENVIRONS.

—Miss Annie Saunders, of Ottawa, is visiting in this city.

—Dalton McCarthy, Q.C., M.P., Toronto, is at the Tecumseh House.

—W. R. Meredith, of Toronto, and Mr. Justice Meredith spent Sunday in the city.

—The remaining liquor shop license has been granted to J. A. Somerville & Co., corner Dundas and Talbot streets.

Rev. E. B. Lanceley addressed the meeting for young men in the Colborne Street Methodist Church yesterday afternoon.

—The heavy white frost of Saturday night and yesterday morning made housetops and sidewalks look as if coated with snow.

—C. K. Domville, mechanical superintendent of the Grand Trunk Railway at Hamilton, has returned from his trip to England.

—Rev. E. B. Lancely, of Ridgetown, recently of this city, preached twice at the Dundas Street Center Methodist Church yesterday.

—Mr. John Friend, the well-known confectioner, has altered and refitted his store. Its appearance has been greatly improved.

—Rev. I. J. Swanson, B.A., of Woodstock, preached at the anniversary services of the First Congregational Church Y. P. S. C. E. yesterday.

—James Devlin, an inmate of the London Asylum, who escaped from that institution Tuesday, has been arrested in Windsor by Officers Hess and Nash and brought back.

—Mr. H. Scarrow Woodward, an old London boy, who has been connected with the Northwest Mounted Police for several years, has been appointed clerk of the peace at Battleford, N. W. T.

—Lieut.-Col. Wilkinson, late of the Twenty-first Essex Fusiliers, is likely to be appointed chief of police in London, Ont.—[Toronto Empire. Chief of Police Williams will be astonished to hear that his position has been made vacant by our contemporary!

—W. Lount, Q.C., who was crown counsel in the Strathroy murder case at the Assizes on Friday and Saturday, returned to Toronto Saturday evening. J. B. McKillop, deputy crown attorney, will look after the interests of the crown in the criminal case, Queen vs. Miller.

—Song Evangelist Macrae came to this city from St. Thomas on Saturday. Yesterday he aided the choir of King Street Presbyterian Church at both services. In the morning he rendered two solos, and his excellent baritone voice delighted his auditors. Mr. Macrae will conduct evangelistic services in the church on this evening and on Wednesday and Friday evenings.

—Comte Paul de Vignan and Comte de Metumeres; of Paris, France, are at the Tecumseh House. They are two young French noblemen who have come to this country to engage in the study of agriculture, theoretical and practical. They appear to have plenty of money and say that if they like the country they will invest here. Their companions are Messrs. E. and A. Walker, two young English bloods who came out or were sent here for the same purpose. The party is in charge of Rev. Dr. Armstrong, of Moore, the well-known immigration agent, who has found them places with farmers in this section.

Before the Magistrate.

The gang who were arrested Saturday were behind the railings of the Police Court cage this morning. A big crowd of spectators, many of whom knew the prisoners, were present. Frank Love appeared for the prisoners and J. B. McKillop for the prosecution. The latter was not ready to proceed and asked an adjournment until Monday. The request was granted. Mr. Love applied for bail on behalf of James Smith, and was prepared to offer any security, but the magistrate declined. Smith is the only colored man of the party. Three charges have been laid against Blackwell, respectively by the Chemical Company, Stevens & Burns and the Empire Oil Company.

Death of a Former Resident.

The May number of The Helper for Confectioners and Bakers, a bright, wide-awake trade journal, published in Chicago and edited by H. R. Clissold, formerly of this city, contains the following item, which will interest many of London's older residents: "William DeVinny, for many years in the confectionery business in London, Ont., died in Chicago recently of paralysis. He was a brother-in-law of Hewitt Fysh, now in the same business in London, and the father of J. Fred DeVinny, the well-known Chicago confectioner and baker." Mr. DeVinny was one of two confectioners who had the business to themselves in this city for a long time. He and his family will be well remembered by former adherents of the old York Street Baptist Church, with which they were for many years connected.

London Keeps Ahead.

The St. Thomas Journal thinks that the London mayor and aldermen managed to get the London and Port Stanley Railway Bill through Parliament in a more favorable shape to this city than they should have done. It says: "The very large interest of London in the road makes it not unreasonable that it should have a potent voice in the disposal of the property, but it is far from satisfying to this city that the reasonable provision against arrangements between London and the leasing company prejudicial to St. Thomas, which might have been granted by Parliament, has been refused, and that we are told, in effect, to sleep with one eye open, and invoke the strong but costly arm of the law if London is found dallying with the tempter."

The Recent Outrage.

High Constable Schram received a telegram from Sarnia yesterday saying that a man had been arrested there on suspicion of having been one of the parties to the McGeary outrage near Dreaney's Corners. The person detained at Sarnia was not one of the missing scoundrels, however. Thomas and George Lee, David Moore, Harry Allaster and Phil Warren are the names of those who are charged with the crime. All have left the city, except George Lee, who is under arrest. R. McAlpine, who works at the G. T. R. roundhouse, is the young man who was with the girls when the ruffians accosted them. He was struck in the head, and was so overpowered that he could do nothing to assist his companions. Tom Lee and David Moore were arrested some time since on a similar charge, and Moore was found guilty. He served four months in the Central.

Moncrieff's Model Judge.

For the credit of staunch old Lambton, it is to be hoped that Mr. Moncriff's ideas as to the right of judges to take part in political controversies, and discuss in a partisan way the merits of cases that are to come before them in their judicial capacity, are not shared by many individuals in this county. Mr. Moncrieff defended Judge Elliot on the floor of Parliament, from the charge that he had prejudged the London election case, and had anonymously contributed articles to the London Free Press containing uncalled-for abuse and ridicule of Mr. Hyman and fulsom puffery of Mr. Carling, while a case upon which the election of one or other of these gentlemen was pending before him. These things, he said, were quite proper and did not in the least impair a judge's usefulness. This then is Mr. Moncrieff's idea of how to maintain the dignity and integrity of the bench and promote confidence in the justice and impartiality of the judiciary.—[Sarnia Observer.

Breaking Up the Gang.

By the arrest of six men on Saturday the police believe they have succeeded in breaking up an organized gang of rascals. Their names are Nelson Blackwell, John Navin, James Corrigan, Thomas Smith, Joseph Finnegan and James Armstrong. They are all young men, and as far as known follow no legitimate occupation. The charge laid against them is that of stealing lead pipe and castings from the chemical works, but it is understood that this is but a part of the numerous larcenies that have been committed in the east end by the gang of whom these prisoners are said to be members. The extensive collection of all sorts of metal was among their practices. They afterwards sold it at good prices. The Grand Trunk Railway missed a large amount of material in this way. Locomotive whistles and other fixtures have been actually wrenched from engines in the yards, and the oil refineries have also been raided in their search for old iron, lead, brass, etc. The police are after three or four more men whom they believe were connected with these robberies. Blackwell, who was arrested, has a bad reputation and has seen the inside of prison walls. Corrigan has also been before the magistrate. There is ground for the belief that the scoundrels who committed the recent outrage near Dreaney's Corners were associated with the same crowd. The offenses are not limited to the metal larcenies.

A FEW TESTIMONIALS

FOR

Barkwell's Sure Corn Cure.

Miss Maria Brown, of Chatham, formerly of Glencoe, says she has much pleasure in testifying to the merits of Barkwell's Sure Corn Cure; that of nine corns which gave her great pain not one of them remains. It is surprising the testimonials that come in from all parts of the country for this celebrated corn cure.

Letter from Springfield.

W. S. Barkwell, Chemist. Dear Sir,—When in London I got a bottle of your celebrated Sure Corn Cure for a corn which I could get nothing to help. I have suffered from it for the last 15 years, and thought I would never get it cured, but yours acted like a charm and completely removed it. I am gratefully yours, Alvin Purdy, Springfield.
