"PAT" NORTON ARRESTED: BEATS EXTRADITION

Four London Girls Selected To Lead Fair Pageant

MYSTERIOUS "PAT" CAUGHT AND LOST BUT FEW DAYS AGO

Police Official Says Reputed Head of Murrell Gang Recently Released in New York.

BEAT EXTRADITION

"Pat" Norton, mystery man of the Melbourne bank robbery and murder, for which Sidney Murrell is now awaiting trial, has been found and lost again, according to Assistant Commissioner Cuddy, head of the C. I. D., Provincial Police.

Commissioner Cuddy told The Advertiser this morning that Norton, who was arrested in New York City some weeks ago and held for extradition to Canada, produced a satisfactory alibi to the effect that he was in New Orleans at the time of the robbery and therefore was allowed to go by the American authorities.

With Norton at the time of his arrest was Leeward Austin, wanted in Toronto on a charge of safe-blowing. He was also held for extradition to this country, but the State of Nebraska had a prior claim on him and he was taken there, where he was sentenced to a year under the Volstead Act. He was to be held for extradition to Canada at the end of that time, but escaped from the jail shortly after he was incarcerated.

Caught in New York.

"Norton was arrested in New York some time ago," stated the commissioner, "on a charge of violating the liquor laws of the United States. With him at the time was a man named Leeward Austin. It was discovered at the police station to which they were taken that Austin was wanted in Canada on a charge of safe-blowing, his description having been sent to the different bureaus in the States.

"Finding that Austin was a wanted man, the New York authorities sent us a description and photograph of Norton, together with one of Austin. He was identified by some of the officers here who have been working on the case and the American authorities were asked to hold them both for extradition.

"This was done, but Norton fought the proceedings and in his defence produced witnesses who testified that he was in New Orleans at the time of the Melbourne bank robbery. This evidence was taken as being the truth and the man was allowed to go.

"I have no doubt that Norton's evidence as to his whereabouts on that day was manufactured and that he secured some of his friends to testify for him.

The Serious Feature.

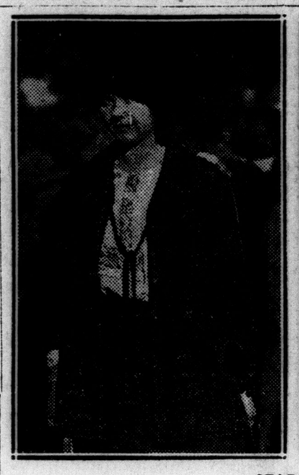

"The worst part of this action of the authorities is that although Norton may again be arrested in the States he cannot be extradited to face a charge arising out of the Melbourne affair, as he has already been discharged for that.

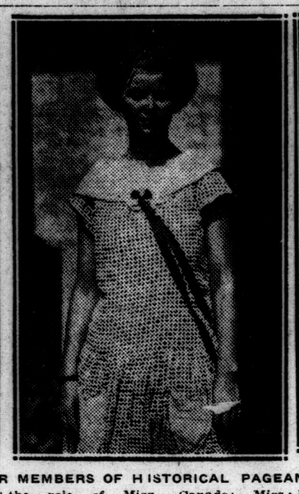

"Nevertheless, we are not letting up in our efforts and are still working on the Detroit end, through his sister, and we may find some means to bring him back here.

"As to Austin, a warrant had also been issued in Nebraska for his arrest, and that state had a prior claim on his extradition, which was carried out, and he was sent back there, where he was sentenced to serve a year, also on a liquor charge. Shortly after being confined, he escaped from custody and is now at large. He is wanted here for safe-blowing and was to be held for extradition after his term in Nebraska had finished."

Assistant Commissioner Cuddy stated he had no doubt that the man arrested in New York and identified as Norton was the man wanted here in connection with the Melbourne bank robbery of two years ago, when Russell Campbell was shot and killed.

Norton was associated with the two Murrells and Slim Williams at that time. William and Sidney Murrell were arrested, later escaping from the Middlesex county jail. Sidney is now awaiting trial on the charge of murder, having been brought back from San Francisco some time ago. Williams is in Kingston penitentiary and will be brought here for trial, while William Murrell is still at large.

STAR MEMBERS OF HISTORICAL PAGEANT.

Above are shown three of the principal participants in the pageant of Western Fair Week. Left to right they are: Miss Edna Holland, who will take the role of Miss Canada; Miss Sybil Higman, who is to represent Miss London, and Miss Jean Walker, who has been given the part of Pioneer Woman. For the past two weeks rehearsals have been held daily, and this morning the leading roles were announced by Merle Ward, who is in charge of the pageant.

LONDON GIRLS TO PLAY FOUR LEADS IN FAIR PAGEANT

Miss London, Miss Canada and Their Associates Are Selected by Directors.

400 PARTICIPANTS

Following rehearsals for the past two weeks for the pageant to be held the last two days of Western Fair week, those who are to take the leading roles were announced this morning by Merle Ward, pageant producer, and Miss Jean Walker, who is assisting in staging the display.

Miss Sybil Higman, an attractive London girl, has been assigned the role of Miss London. Miss Edythe Wynne-Price, for her work in interpretative dancing, is to portray the spirit of the woods. To Miss Edna Holland, physical director of the Central Collegiate, has been given the role of Miss Canada, and the pioneer woman will be enacted by Miss Jean Walker. Other roles assigned to Londoners are: Miss Blanche Roberts as famine, Frank Tucker as the pioneer man, Miss Minnie Dobbyns as fever, Lawrence Westland as death, and W. D. Robertson as Father Time.

All of the participants in the pageant who have been given leading roles have had experience in previous amateur theatricals. Miss Higman has been prominent in last year's high school playlets, and has received tutoring under Miss Jean Walker in elocution. Miss Wynne-Price is well-known for her ability as a dancer, and it is expected that in her portrayal of the spirit of the woods she will have ample scope to show her art and ability. Miss Edna Holland will have the feature role, representing Canada.

Portrays City's History.

Including 400 Londoners, the display will deal with the history of the city from the time of the early Indians to the present day. The early pioneer life of this district will be gone into in detail, and will form an important part of the pageant exhibition. The hardships of the early settlers, such as famine and pestilence, will be represented by people dressed in weird black and white costumes resembling skeletons. From the day of hardship to the brighter times of prosperity the pageant will trace the growth of the city. More than 400 people will take part, and it will undoubtedly prove a wonderful sight.

The whole pageant will be enacted on a large wooden stage in front of the grandstand at the exhibition park. It will take an hour and a-half to complete the display so that every detail in the growth of London will be represented.

Enthusiasm Shown.

Great enthusiasm has been shown by Londoners who are taking part in the pageant. People have been turning out regularly for the daily rehearsals of the past week at Hyman Hall, and on Friday evening the different episodes, which lately have been rehearsed separately, will be pieced together, and a week of final preparation for the exhibition will be spent with the 400 actors rehearsing together.

Miss Sybil Higman, enacting the role of Miss London, followed by a train of flower girls, will on the opening night greet citizens of London, and deliver a short address outlining the purposes of the pageant.

Costumes for each person taking part in the pageant will arrive in the city shortly from the producing company in Ohio.

CITIZENS OF TOKIO NOW IN CITY FEAR FAMILIES LOST

Japanese Travelers to London Are Interviewed On Conditions in Their Country.

HERE TO BUY CATTLE

Three travelers from Japan, all of them fearsome and anxious over the fate of relatives and friends in the stricken area, came to London this morning and registered at the Tecumseh House.

They are M. Agata, Y. Suzuki and T. Tachibana, all of Tokio. They are visiting London for the purpose of buying purebred Holstein cattle, being agents for the greatest cattle breeder in Japan, the Baron Iwasaki.

Interviewed today, the three citizens of Nippon had by no means recovered from the shock of learning that many of their loved ones were subjected to the awful ravages of the greatest disaster in history. Suzuki, in fact, desired to cable his relatives as soon as the tragic news was received, but M. Agata persuaded him it would be useless until some semblance of order was restored throughout the ravished territory.

"All my brothers and sisters live in Tokio and surrounding district," Agata said. "We are trying to remain undisturbed and optimistic, but the suspense is nerve-racking. We left our relatives all in good health a few months ago, and now, for all we know, they may be dead."

The three gentlemen from the east are well-known cattle buyers. They have preserved the keen, businesslike demeanor characteristic of modern Japanese industrial executives, and but for their complexion and slant eyes one would imagine they were typical American businessmen.

"Away back in the last century Japan experienced a great earthquake," M. Agata, who spoke for the party, informed The Advertiser. "But it could not be compared to the present tremendous upheaval. My father used to tell about it. The people fled to the woods to escape the shocks, and my father lived in the bush for years because of his fear of earthquakes.

"Of course, I have seen many quakes, but all of them were slight. They would have about the same effect on our people as a severe thunderstorm would on Canadians."

Believe Families Lost.

Agata was willing to give any information about Japan he could, but his two companions preserved a solemn silence throughout.

"Suzuki and Tachibana think they have lost their wives and parents," Agata said, "so they don't want to talk about the earthquake. It makes them feel worse."

Commenting on conditions in Japan, Agata declared that since the war, the poorer classes had enjoyed greater prosperity than they had ever known. But, as a result of the war, the people were becoming plainly antagonistic to the royal family. Anti-loyalist feeling was extremely strong, and Agata predicted that within a decade or so Japan would become a republic.

"The Japanese like one western country better than all others, and that country is Canada," he said. "Somehow or other we have always felt that Canada is sympathetic to us. We do not care so much for the United States, because American newspapers are persistently circulating damaging propaganda against us. They refer to Japanese immigration as the yellow peril, which is unfair and unjustified.

May Degress Commerce.

"There is not even a remote possibility of Japan ever running over the United States. We have no imperialistic or militaristic ambitions. Our country is very crowded, but we are content to remain in it if we are allowed to develop the legitimate channels of world trade just like any European power.

"The earthquake will probably have a depressing effect on Japanese commerce. It is impossible to forecast just in what way we will be influenced by the earthquake from an industrial viewpoint, but it cannot help but be to our disadvantage."

The three Japanese visitors heard the first report of the disaster in Toronto.

"THE SPIRIT OF THE WOODS."

Miss Eydthe Wynne-Price, who, in the role of the Spirit of the Woods, is to give a series of interpretive dances in the great historical pagenat, one of the big features of this year's Western Fair.

DEPOSITORS ARE MORE OPTIMISTIC AS TO PROSPECTS

Expect To Realize Larger Percentage of Their Funds Placed in Home Bank.

AWAITING REPORT

With the curator's announcement regarding the fifinancial standing of the Home Bank expected any day now, local depositors are becoming a little more optimistic as to chances of having their deposits partiallly redeemed.

A local bank manager who arrived in the city from Toronto this morning declared a sanguine feeling existed among depositors in the Queen City. They believe they will receive at least 60 cents on the dollar, and are looking forward to A. B. Barker's statement regarding the liquid assets of the bank.

London depositors, although less downhearted than they have been since the bank's suspension was announced, do not hold such high hopes as their Toronto brethren. They think, however, that after a careful appraisal of the bank's condition, it will be found there is sufficient money left to defray savings accounts at from 30 to 50 cents on the dollar. If they get any more, the majority will be surprised and gratified.

Bank managers of London have requested newspapers to refrain from publishing names in connection with the Home Bank failure. They deplore publicity given the affair, and claim it has had a depressing effect on business. Persons ignorant of financial matters, they said, read the newspapers, and read the names of some sound financial institutions linked up with that of the Home Bank. The result was wholesale withdrawal of deposits. This sort of thing has been general ever since the Home Bank fiasco was announced.

"The Canadian Bankers' Association made a big mistake when they did not explain the situation to the press before broadcasting the Home Bank's suspension," a prominent bank man said today. "Although newspapers were very fair in printing Home Bank news, many uninformed individuals immediately became panicky, and believed every other bank was in a precarious condition. The result was that millions of dollars of deposits were extracted from banks all through Western Ontario.

Farmers and the laboring class were affected more than businessmen and white collar workers. The latter apparently understood that the sound as a rock , bb mm hhhrdlu Canadian banking system was as sound as a rock, but thousands of farmers drew their savings from banks and placed it in socks and other places where no interest is realized.

"If the Canadian Bankers' Association could have foreseen the effect of publicity they would doubtless have discussed the matter with the press, and some arrangement could have been made by which the Home Bank failure was allowed to pass almost unnoticed."

While depositors, as previously stated, appear to be more optimistic, the manager of a Richmond street financial, institution told The Advertiser this morning he would be surprised if holders of savings got more than 10 cents on the dollar.

"Full redemption of deposits might be possible if the double liability clause could be inforced, but I cannot see how it can be," he said. "Certain persons holding Home Bank stosck and savings accounts will be cleaned out. Itwill be impossible for them to meet the double obligation of a shareholder. And if one individual cannot pay, I don't see how the others can be made to. You will find the double liability provision will be inforced only in certain isolated instances."

ESTIMATES POLICE COSTING LONDON TOO MUCH MONEY

Mayor Favors Reduction in Staff To Cut Down Expense.

OUT OF PROPORTION

While Mayor Wenige states that he has no idea what recommendations may be submitted by Dr. Brittain, and that he is merely exercising his own business judgment, he believes that the ratepayers are paying altogether too much money for police protection.

The mayor favors a substantial reduction of the police estimates for 1924 and suggests a reduction in the staff as the best means toward that end.

"I may be wrong," he stated. "But I still think nevertheless that too much money is being expended by that department. I believe that we could do nicely with fewer officers in a community of this size and under prevailing circumstances."

Does the federal department of justice insist that there shall be at least one constable to every thousand inhabitants in every community?

Mayor Wenige stated today that he had never seen any printed regulation to that effect but questions that even if such provision has been made who was chiefly responsible for the setting of this figure and when?

"I would like to know who set one officer for every thousand persons," he explained. "Who is it that says that there shall be one or more? And under what conditions and when. This figure may have been set many years ago under conditions which would not be considered normal today."

"Before the prohibition laws became effective we were told that crime would be reduced to an appreciable minimum, and there would not be the need for so many policemen. Even granting that but half of the crime has been eliminated, I still think that we have a police expenditure far out of proportion with the size of the city."

NEWCOMER TO LONDON DIES IN ST. JOSEPH'S

Mrs. Charles Southwork of Thedford Here But Two Days When Taken Ill.

The death occurred at St. Joseph's Hospital this morning, following a three weeks' illness, of Alice, wife of Charles Southwork, this city. The family had moved from their former home in Thedford only two days before Mrs. Southwork was taken seriously ill. She was 45 years of age at the time of her death and is survived only by her husband.

The funeral will take place on Saturday at 1:30, from the Oak Street Salvation Army Citadel to Mount Pleasant Cemetery, where interment will be made.

CITY ENGINEER PLANS TO START PAVING JOBS

Wellington Street South May Be Next To Be Undertaken by City.

City Enginer Near hopes to start other paving enterprises—possibly Wellington street south—before the Richmond street job has been completed.

"Certain delay will be unavoidable in connection with the Richmond street job," he said. "The pavement will have to set before the asphalt can be laid, and during the intervening period of possibly ten days, I hope that we will be able to 'sandwich' in another job."

The engineer has heard nothing further from the street railway authorities relative to the several paving proposals for the rest of the year.

Thousands Die of Fright When Cities Fell In Ruins

Residents of Yokohama and Tokio Knelt in Streets and Prayed As Earthquake Spread Death and Desolation Over Wide Area.

By MOTO TAKATA,
Assistant Foreign Editor, Osaka Mainichi. Copyright.
Special Cable to The Advertiser.

Osaka, Sept. 6.—Tales of the terror that gripped Tokio and Yokohama as flames followed the first devastation wrought by Saturday's quakes, came to Osaka today over the highways choked with an endless stream of refugees. Thousands of Japanese seemed to die simply of heart failure, one survivor to arrive here declared. The fiery furnace into which the capital's business section was changed in a few moments by the heaving earth shocks was so terrifying a sight that many inhabitants lay down and died where they were. Stories of individual heroism were added to the first estimates of casualties and destruction, which have not greatly changed.

It still remains impossible to estimate accurately the scope of the calamity or its cost. With partial establishment of communication with Yokohama, the picture of what went on in that city, reported to have suffered more severely than the capital, becomes partly discernible.

One coolie stands out particularly in the minds of those who saw Yokohama in the days that followed the quake. They tell of how he stood, surrounded by flames, in the doorway of a fiercely burning building, helping women and children through a blazing passage until he fell dead, merciful asphyxiation freeing his seared body under its smoldering clothing from further torture. The stoicism with which groups in the doomed city met their fate when the gaping earth and walls of fire made escape impossible, was recounted by others who had watched the destruction, powerless to give aid.

Prayed in Streets.

When cut off by flames, the population knelt in the debris of the streets and prayed, seemingly heedless of nearby fires, not caring for their own fate, callous to the misery of others.

Small floods ran in the streets of the lower part of the city, geysers of water spurting through yawning cracks in the earth rent by the heavings of the quake. It was in Yokohama that most of the Americans and foreigners to perish lost their lives. But details of the fate of these have become for the moment confused in the general disaster.

Those of the refugees arriving here who did not leave Yokohama until Monday said that by that time practically all the city's foreign survivors had been taken aboard fifteen steamers in the bay. Only about a dozen, including a few Americans, remained in Yokohama.

Several of the foreigners who remained in the stricken port were assisting the Japanese police to keep order, and were looking after the handful of foreigners left on hand.

A foreign refugee from Yokohama said that the entire city fell at the first quake, and that the place was an indescribable mass of ruins. Tokio, according to the latest advices reaching here by aeroplane, is filled with wild rumors, which spread among the hungry refugees and keep them in a constant state of terror.

Soldiers Prevent Panic.

"What is going to happen next?" they ask one another. Soldiers and police keep close watch with drawn swords to prevent a panic that might end in the self-destruction of thousands more.

The streets still are filled with dead bodies, despite attempts at wholesale cremation in the burning buildings in some sections. Looking down from his aeroplane into one street, a correspondent saw what he believed to be the bodies of at least three thousand victims in the length of a mile.

NAME COOKE OFFICER FOR WESTMINSTER

Littlewood Resident Is Appointed Constable by Township Council.

At last Westminster Township has appointed a constable. At a special meeting of the township council J. W. Cooke was awarded the position. There were four applicants, among them being Alexander Shaver, a former member of the old county force which gave way last month to the reorganized force.

The motion for Cooke's appointment was moved by Walter Laidlaw, seconded by Harvey Davis, and supported by William Boler.

Freeman O'Dair and a Lambeth garage proprietor forwarded applications for the position.

GORED TO DEATH BY BULL.

Hamilton, Sept. 6.—Attacked by a mad bull yesterday afternoon, Alexander Arnold, aged 61, a Beverly farmer, was so severely trampled on and gored by the animal that he died a short while later.

SURE SURVEY WILL AID CITY FIRE DEPARTMENT

Mayor Wenige Receives Complaint From Member Regarding Conditions.

Dr. Brittain's report of his survey of the fire department will contain reccommendations that should lead to beter things, Mayor Wenige promised today.

The fire department again came under the mayor's notice when this morning a member of that department registered a personal complaint of certain alleged conditions.

His worship gave the fireman ample assurance that the Brittain report would be forthcoming before many days have elapsed when, he expects, all questions involving the charges of "dissension," etc., will be settled for all time to come.

"Dr. Brittain's recommendations will be ugbiased," the mayor stated, "and will act as an indicator as to what should be done in this or that department to insure efficiency, economy and harmony."

The mayor cautions that all interested in the outcome of the fire department survey must be patient as well as the aldermen and wait development. It is his frank opinion that the forthcoming recommendations will clear the road for a permanent solution of the alleged ills of the department, if followed by the aldermen.

HON. T. A. LOW RETURNED WITHOUT OPPOSITION

Special to The Advertiser.

Renfrew, Sept. 6.—The by-election nomination meeting today was of a formal nature. No candidate was brought forward to oppose Hon. T. A. Low, who was declared re-elected by acclamation. A week ago the Farmers party decided not to place a candidate in the field, and all along Conservatives were opposed to an election.

Berliners Now Worrying Over High Cost of Dying

By HIRAM K. MODERWELL.
Special Cable to The London Advertiser and Chicago Daily News. Copyright.

Berlin, Sept. 6.—A new scale of burial prices fixed this week by a Berlin magistrate, shows the Berliners must worry about the high cost of dying as well as the high cost of living.

The digging of a grave costs six million marks. Burial costs fifteen million—children at half price. The price is exactly fixed for each ghastly detail. Foreigners are required to pay twenty times the fixed tariff.

For months coffins have been beyond the reach of all, save the rich, and the practice of renting coffins has sprung up. Witty Berliners joke about these conditions, saying one will soon have to walk to the cemetery, but the problem is a tragic one to the millions who feel that "decent burial" is a matter of family honor.

EXPECT RELEASE OF "JIMMIE" YOHN TODAY

Detroit Police Also To Release Girls Held On Suspicion.

With Beatrice Seager now at liberty, it was fully expected that her sister, Mrs. MacKenzie, would be released some time today, as well as "Jimmy" Yohn and three or four other suspects.

Police authorities assured The Advertiser on this score late last night, adding that at no time since his arrest, did they consider that "Jimmy" Yohn was actually involved. His apprehension was accomplished, however, by Detective George Snyder, who arrested the women and felt that it would be advisable to bring in to headquarters all acquaintances of Yohn and Savelli who could be located.

After a stiff cross-examination, however, they concluded that "Jim" Yohn's story was "on the level." It is more than likely that even now he is at liberty.

Mrs. MacKenzie was not released yesterday afternoon with her sister, but members of the detective auto squad declined to explain why this was other than they had not completed their investigations. Both girls were continually quizzed yesterday, the police officers stated.

"Victims of circumstances," is how the police have catalogued the several young men held as possible members of the gang, and there is every likelihood that they also will be turned loose today.

VISITORS FROM STRICKEN JAPAN.

WILL INVESTIGATE COMPLAINT MADE BY HARVESTERS

Western Immigration Commissioner Promises Satisfaction to Workers From Britain.

ASK DEPORTATION

Canadian Press Despatch.

Winnipeg, Sept. 6.—Full consideration will be given to genuine grievances lodged by British harvesters returning dissatisfied to this city, Thomas Gelley, commissioner of immigration for Western Canada, told a delegation which has interviewed him in the interests of the men.

Mr. Gelley promised that the men's request for deportation would be forwarded to the federal authorities at Ottawa, and intimated that steps would be taken to reintroduce the old system of direct negotiation between the farmers and harvesters when help was required. Harvester immigrants stranded here would be cared for in the immigration hall until their grievances were investigated, he said.

The commissioner was of the opinion that a serious mistake had been made in bringing men to Canada to harvest the crop without subjecting them to a severe medical examination. Many of the harvesters had found the farm work too exacting, and in a number of instances men had been sent back to their homes on medical grounds.

WILL ASK PERMISSION TO PUT DOWN CONDUIT

General Manager Proceeds With Work On Richmond Street.

Routine business will occupy the attention of the meeting of the public utilities commission this afternoon, according to E. V. Buchanan, manager.

Mr. Buchanan said that he did not think the meeting would be very lengthy as most of the business to be discussed comes in the natural course of events. Some applications for extensions of mains will be received and authority asked from the commission to proceed with the laying of underground conduits on Richmond street, where the paving is in progress.

Referring to the latter matter, Mr. Buchanan said that he had already started on this work without waiting for official orders, as the work on the street had started, and it would have meant holding up the work or tearing up the street again if delayed.

No reports will be presented by the parks or playgrounds committees.

URGES WORLD LEAGUE TO IGNORE ITALY'S CHALLENGE

FIRE CAUSES LOSS OF ABOUT $23,000 TO LOCAL FIRMS

Plants of Campbell Hosiery and C. Will Company Damaged.

STOCKS DESTROYED

An early morning blaze, originating in the plant of the Campbell Hosiery Company, 19 King street, caused between $20,000 and $23,000 damage to that establishment and to Charles R. Will & Co, manufacturing pharmacists, on the second floor of the same building, before it could be checked by firemen.

Chief Aitken attributed the cause of the fire to an electric stove in the Campbell factory.

The building in which the two firms are located is situated behind William Ward & Sons' cigar factory, and is owned by that company. The building itself is not damaged to any great extent. The central station received the call at 5:45, and when they arrived on the scene the fire had spread through a large portion of the hosiery company's quarters on the ground floor and dense black smoke was issuing from the second-story windows. It was only after a strenuous fight that the blaze was checked.

The Will Company had accumulated a large stock, and the major portion of it was totally destroyed by smoke and water. The blaze was checked before it could make much headway upstairs, but Charles R. Will told The Advertiser today that his stock had been damaged as much as if the fire had gutted their quarters.

The company officials have not completed a survey of the stock destroyed, but Mr. Will places the loss at between $7,000 and $8,000.

The interior of the hosiery plant was completely wiped out, and officials regard the finished stock on hand as a total loss.

Roy Campbell stated this morning that the total damage to their equipment and stock would be in the neighborhood of $15,000, although at the present time it is hard to say to what extent they suffered. Their loss might be more than that amount, he added. Most of it is covered by insurance.

Mr. Campbell announced that just as soon as the readjustment is completed the company will install new equipment and will commence business again.

BOARD OF EDUCATION HAS BUSY PROSPECTS

Many Questions To Be Discussed at This Afternoon's Session.

Prospects for the board of education meeting for this afternoon are that it will be a lengthy affair, according to W. A. Tanner, secretary.

Although Mr. Tanner stated that he knew of nothing which was likely to produce much discussion in itself, the matters to be taken up are fairly numerous, owing to the fact that no meetings of the board have been held during the past two months.

The reports of the various committees will be presented, notably the one of the salary committee, which is recommending the increase of several officials' salaries. It is probable that a little discussion on this will take place, as the increases are to take effect from the middle of the financial year.

Trustee Edwin Smith will introduce a motion to the effect that all officials whose salaries are being increased be required to pay their own telephone costs, and in one case the upkeep on a motor car, the salary committee feeling that the increases granted are more than sufficient to take care of this. It is also likely that a recommendation will be made to the effect that when the estimates of next year are made up, the salaries of all those employed by the board, and who have their telephone costs paid for them, be increased sufficiently to take care of this.

The remainder of the meeting will likely be of a routine nature, although the plans of the new school for the West End may provoke a slight argument. If they are accepted "in toto," tenders will be called almost immediately.

KIWANIANS PRESENT DESK TO JUDGE WARNER

The interest the local Kiwanis Club are taking in the London juvenile court has been expressed in a most practical manner, arousing the utmost in appreciation from the court officials.

Informally through the president, J. B. Hay, the Kiwanis Club this week presented Judge Warner of the juvenile court with a handsome mahogany desk, an item which greatly adds to the convenience and appearance of the court furnishings.

This morning Judge Warner said: "I appreciate tremendously the thoughtfulness of the Kiwanis Club in presenting this gift, as well as the fact that it betokens the keen interest they are taking in our work."

Obituaries

MRS. MARIE BOOTH.

The funeral of Mrs. Marie Booth, wife of Gordon W. Both, Canadian National engineer, of 1 Grafton street who passed away on Tuesday last, was held this morning from St. Mary's Church where requiem high mass was celebrated at 9 o'clock to St. Peter's Cemetery. Mrs. Booth was in her 34th year.

The pallbearers were A. Johnston, A. J. McMillan, A. Lenehan, E. McWhirter, G. E. Mungren and C. Carswell. The members of the Ladies' Society of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen attended the funeral in a body.

Mrs. Both had been a resident of London for the past twelve years and was extremely popular in East London. Recently she underwent an operation in Victoria Hospital, and, although she seemed on the road to recovery, a sudden relapse occurred causing her death. Beside her husband she leaves a young daughter, Dorothy.

WINNERS IN WOMEN'S TENNIS TOURNEY.

Miss Olga Miller added another win to her string of victories when, partnered with Mrs. Eric Rechnitzer, she won the women's open doubles tennis finals yesterday on the courts of the London Tennis Club. Miss Miller is seen on the right with her partner.

SEES GREAT WAR IF WORLD LEAGUE CANNOT SAY 'STOP'

Globe-Trotter Harold Brayton Talks of Greco-Italian Situation.

BLAMES ITALY

A war involving the Balkan States and a great part of Europe, is inevitable unless the League of Nations successfully intervenes in the present crucial Greco-Italian situation, according to Harold Brayton, who returned from Greece and Italy nine weeks ago.

Mr. Brayton visited Italy, Greece, Sicily and Albania in June as correspondent for the Wide-World magazine for the purpose of analyzing political conditions there. He is now living in this city.

"The actual culprits in the dangerous controversy now going on are the Italians," Mr. Brayton said. "It is my belief that no Greek had a hand in the massacre of Italian citizens over which the agitation arose. Albania is the traditional enemy of Greece, and the chances are that Albanians are responsible for the atrocity. Italy readily jumped to the conclusion that Greece was responsible without even instituting an inquiry into the unfortunate affair. In attacking Corfu, Mussolini broke international law as flagrantly as is chronicled in any chapter of world history.

Impulsive Action.

"The crime alleged to have been committed by Greeks is not comparable to Italy's uncalled for and impulsive action against Greece. I am familiar with the racial prejudice existing in both Italy and Albania in connection with Greek policies and aspirations, and I know either country would jump at the chance of embarrassing the Greek government and precipitating war.

"Conditions in Naples, Genoa and other Italian cities are worse than they are in any other part of the world. When I was there nine weeks ago thousands of women and children were begging alms on the streets. Italy is in as unfavorable position as Greece, so far as military aggression is concerned. Neither country could stand a protracted war. They are on the verge of social and industrial exhaustion.

"It is grossly unfair of Italy to take advantage of a defenseless country, and it is unfair for Mussolini to jeopardize the lives of his own people. Of course the Italian premier is strongly entrenched in the hearts of the people. He is a national hero and his affiliation with the Fascisti, a patriotic body of loyalists, insures his almost universal support.

Greece in Sad Way.

"Social conditions in Greece are horrible," Mr. Brayton continued. "In Athens the food shortage is so acute that citizens are eating rubbish and garbage. Chaos reigns in financial circles, and almost every remnant of morality has been lost."

Mr. Brayton added that Venetian mandolins which in this country would bring from $20 to $40, are selling for 75c each. Starvation is imminent all over the country, and probably Mussolini's assault on Greece was for the purpose of looting some of the rich storehouses owned by Greek noblemen.

"Greece cannot pay the Italian indemnity demand," Mr. Brayton said. "It is futile to expect her to with her national resources at such low ebb. Unless Italy agrees to allow the League of Nations to adjust international differences I am afraid Europe will be plunged into another war. It cannot last long, however, owing to the precarious financial condition of all countries involved."

KIWANIS CLUB DADDIES TO BANQUET CLUB SONS

A number of the Ki-Y boys have been invited by their "Kiwanis Daddies" to be guests at the regular Kiwanis luncheon in the Tecumseh House tomorrow.

The program for this occasion is not being made public, other than that it is being prepared by the "Six Jones's's's." The one announcement made in connection with it is that no outside talent is being brought in and the members are to have a real treat.

FORECAST WORLD CHAOS IF LEAGUE IGNORES APPEAL

Leading Statesmen Regard the Present Greco-Italian Situation as Real Test.

FIRMNESS IS URGED

Special Cable to The Advertiser.

Geneva, Sept. 6.—The peace of the Balkans with the alternative of another general war which may involve all Europe, hung in the balance today, as the council of the League of Nations hesitated. If the council decides to ignore Italy's claims, and adjudicate the Italo-Greek dispute despite threats of Premier Mussolini to withdraw from the league—it will merely be an issue of strength between Italy and the League of Nations. If the council declines to assert its right and power to answer Greece's request for mediation, statesmen of the leading nations declare the following things will happen:

One—The whole structure of the league will be undermined and the society of nations will collapse.

Two—Four treaties which ended the world war will be imperilled, for clauses which bind their signatories are similar to those of the covenant of the league.

Three—Decisions of the league by which several smaller nations are abiding against their will will be nullified.

As the council met today to formulate its fateful decision, telegrams from all parts of the world were coming in, demanding the league "stand pat," mediate in the dispute and refuse to give way to Italy.

The assembly of the league was to have held a session this morning, but adjourned to clear the decks for the council, and prevent assembly delegates from discussing the Italo-Greek dispute before the council reaches its decision. This is expected to come today.

CLAIMS GOOD SERVICE BY GARBAGE BRANCH

City Engineer Defends Department Against Charge of Inefficiency.

The city garbage department is functioning quite efficiently, according to City Engineer W. P. Near, commenting today upon a recent charge by a South London resident.

"The department is giving service," the engineer stated, "but I would ask that at any time that a house is overlooked the resident should immediately report to us and not leave the matter for a week or two."

Superintendent Dodds is equally emphatic in his contention that the garbage department is giving the required service. "It is functioning 100 per cent," he stated today. "We did have a complaint from a resident of South London, but in all probability a mistake was made, as neighbors have told us that they saw the garbage men leaving the premises of the complainant."

CITY DAIRYMEN PLAN TO RAISE MILK PRICE

Dealers Meet at Call of A. E. Silverwood To Discuss Question.

Dairymen of the city of London will meet tonight and discuss the question of an increase in the price of milk for the coming winter, according to a report received by The Advertiser. The meeting has been called by A. E. Silverwood, and will be held at 7:30 in the Bank of Montreal building, Market Square. Mr. Silverwood could not be reached at press time, but inquiry at Silverwood's, Limited, confirmed the report.

CURATOR'S REPORT ON THE HOME BANK NOT READY TODAY

Certain Matters in Connection With Institution's Obligations To Be Cleared Up.

HOLD CONFERENCE

Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, Sept. 6.—Further adjournment for two weeks was made by Justice Fisher this afternoon on the petitions of Arthur Hawken and others for the winding up of the suspended Home Bank of Canada. Incidentally his lordship said there was a question whether the court had any power to grant a motion for winding up within 90 days of the suspension, which was on August 17. An order was given for examination of Arthur Hawken, the petitioner, by counsel for the curator, A. B. Barker. On the other hand, the court declined to order an examination of the curator until the expiry of the 90 days in which he is allowed to make his report to the minister of finance at Ottawa.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, Sept. 6.—Developments in the affairs of the Home Bank of Canada, which suspended on August 17 last, were expected today in the legal aspect of the situation, as well as the financial standing as established by the curator, A. B. Parker, who, in the meantime, with the help of the Home Bank staff has been working on the reports from the branches of the bank in various parts of the Dominion.

The curator's finding as to the assets and liabilities of the Home Bank was anxiously awaited by depositors and shareholders. Mr. Parker was in conference with various officials this morning, and it was stated at noon that it was not likely that an official financial statement would be forthcoming today, as many matters in connection with the bank's obligations have yet to be cleared up.

The legal proceedings were in the form of petitions of various creditors to have the bank declared insolvent, and a receiver appointed. When these applications were opened two weeks ago, Mr. Justice Fisher enlarged them to give time for a report by the curator. Depositors and shareholders opposed the application for insolvency order.

DALY RECOVERING.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, Sept. 6.—H. J. Daly, president of the Home Bank of Canada, which recently closed its doors, is still confined to his bed. His physician has given orders that he is not to see any interviewers, but reports that he is progressing satisfactorily.

HEAR FUTURE ARGUMENTS.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, Sept. 6.—While the petitions for a winding up order of the Home Bank were adjourned for two weeks, Mr. Justice Fisher arranged to hear further argument in one week re the examination of the curator, regarding which he refused an order in the meantime. His lordship repeatedly stated that in his opinion there was very grave doubt if the court had the right to order the examination of the curator. He thought it was not in the public interest that the curator should be examined until the expiration of the 90 days mentioned.

So far as Hawken was concerned, almost within a few hours of the closing of the bank he had applied for a winding up order, whereas all he had to do was to cross the street and cash the $1,000 bank notes which he held, said the court. His lordship could not see what objection Hawken could have to being examined.

Everett Bristol, who appeared for Hawken, in the absence of D. L. McCarthy, K.C., said that it was open to question whether the curator was in a position to come to court and ask for the production of Hawken, who was not an official, or a director of the bank.

His lordship pointed out that Mr. Barker was a supervisor of the bank and a party to the proceedings. Mr. Bristol said that Mr. McCarthy had undertaken to produce Hawken is President Daly, General Manager Calvert or Curator Barker were examined.

R. A. Reid, counsel for a number of depositors, repeated the contention that the application for the winding up had been lodged prematurely. The court apparently agreed, for his lordship said: "It is a grave question as to whether we have the power to grant a motion until the 90 days have expired. I will look into the matter."

SAYS WESTERN LINES ENJOY GREAT TRADE

H. E. Whittenberger, C.N.R., Reports Conditions in Traffic as Decidedly Good.

That the western lines of the Canadian National Railways are at present experiencing the most encouraging business impetus in the history of the American branch was the statement made to The Advertiser at noon today by H. E. Whittenberger, general manager of the western lines, who passed through the city on his way to Detroit.

"Passenger traffic is especially good now," he asserted, "and sometimes we have to use all available equipment to handle the increase that seems to be getting greater each day. Freight business also is picking up, and the general outlook of the Canadian National in the United States is most optimistic.

The general manager stated that there was quite a noticeable decrease in the amount of coal handled within the past few weeks as a direct result of the miners' strike.

Mr. Whittenberger is returning from a conference in Montreal together with W. R. Davidson, general superintendent of the western lines. Mrs. Whittenberger was also a member of the party.

BACK AFTER VACATION.

Looking quite fit and capable, City Clerk Sam Baker was back on the job today after his summer vacation.

WESTMINSTER VETS. PLAN BIG FIELD DAY

Enjoyable Program of Sports Being Framed For Sept. 21.

The annual field day for the staff and patients of the Westminster Psychopathic Hospital is dated for Friday, Sept. 21, and preparatory plans formulated by the special committee promise that the program this year will outclass, in every particular, those of former years.

The committee consisting of Dr. T. L. Towers (chairman), Dr. S. J. W. Horne, R. W. Warden and B. Smith, will hold another meeting later in the week to discuss several innovations that are planned to feature the 1923 outing, and to complete some of the arrangements. In the meantime, the grounds are being prepared for the sports and when the day arrives, the committee is confident that all will be in readiness for the staging of the biggest field day yet held.

The preliminaries in the tennis tournament which is one of the features this year were started this afternoon. The seven events which are open only to the members of the staff and the patients, consist of ladies' singles, men's singles, mixed doubles, singles for staff members, doubles for staff members, singles for patients, and doubles for patients. The entries are large, and as the courts are in splendid tournament condition keen competition is looked for in every event.

REV. PARNABY HEADS MINISTERIAL SOCIETY

London District Methodist Association Elects Officers For Term.

Rev. H. B. Parnaby, Ph.B., has been made president of the London District Methodist Ministerial Association. Other officers elected at the annual meeting of that association, held last Monday in Wesley Hall, were: Hon. president, Rev. Walter E. Millson, who is also president of the London Methodist Conference; vice-president, Rev. Capt. John Garbutt; secretary-treasurer, Rev. D. N. McCamus.

Rev. A. E. M. Thomson presided over the meeting, at which were received reports from standing committees, the treasurer and also from the hospital chaplain, Rev. Samuel Salton.

The association, throughout the coming season, will meet regularly on the first Monday of each month, at 2 p.m., in Wesley Hall.

RE-ELECTED PRESIDENT.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Montreal, Sept. 6.—Sir James Aikins, lieutenant-governor of Manitoba, was this morning re-elected president of the Canadian Bar Association now in annual session here.

C. FITZGERALD ON WAY TO ENGLAND TO ARRANGE RACE

Well-Known Former Londoner Regarded as Greatest Turf Authority Today.

PUT OVER "SCOOP"

Word that Christopher J. Fitzgerald, leading race track authority of the United States and a well known former Londoner, had gone to England to make arrangements for the international three-year-old race in which British and American horses will take part will be received with interest by a host of Mr. Fitzgerald's friends in this city.

Representing August Belmont, the noted race horse owner and millionaire, Mr. Fitzgerald has been given the responsibility of negotiating with English track men to stage the great international race, a project that has aroused unprecedented enthusiasm in racing circles all over the world. Fitzgerald is at present in the Old Country for the purpose of discussing the proposition with British owners and attending to details connected with the prospective contest.

Londoners familiar with the high spots of Fitzgerald's career will recall that he started in London as a telegraph operator some 30 years ago. He was the first citizen to see the possibilities of developing artesian wells in the city, and his suggestion in this regard was later taken up by Sir Adam Beck. He it was who brought Silas Titus, an expert on water supply, to London, who reported favorably on the chances of producing artesian wells which would provide water for the city.

To Fitzgerald is given the credit of procuring the biggest newspaper sport "scoop" in the history of the American press. In 1889 he was sent to write up the Kilrain-Sullivan prize fight for the New York Sun. Among the reporters who saw that historic battle Fitzgerald was the only one with a knowledge of telegraphy. He wired his story to the Sun and the following morning it was the only paper to publish a full account of the fight. Fitzgerald's enterprise and initiative won the commendation of his employers and he was appointed associate sporting editor of the great New York daily. Later he became sporting editor.

Mr. Fitzgerald has a reputation for being the best race horse authority in the world. He and Philip McGinnes of this city invented the starting gate now employed universally at race tracks. Returning to London after a wide experience in sporting and newspaper fields across the line, he was associated with the Cook-Fitzgerald Shoe Company of this city. Since then he has been connected with the New York Sun as a feature sport writer and in other responsible capacities.

Mr. Fitzgerald is an intimate of August Belmont and is probably the best known turf man in America today. He is president of the Jamaica Racing Association of New York. While doing special work for the New York Sun he wrote many turf stories for local newspapers.

United States newspapers and sportsmen all over the world have commented enthusiastically on the first international three-year-old race for which Fitzgerald is now making arrangements. It will be the first event of its kind ever held and interest in Mr. Fitzgerald's negotiations has become world wide.

POLICE BOARD MEETS.

Police commissioners are in session at the police station this afternoon discussing routine business in connection with the force. It was decided to hold the meeting today, as Judge Talbot Macbeth, one of the commissioners, will be absent from the city for several weeks.

POLICE NOT INFORMED.

City police have not been informed that counterfeit American bills are in circulation in London. As yet they have received no complaints from merchants or other citizens that counterfeit money has been tendered them. A report was in circulation yesterday that bogus money had been passed. Police investigations have failed to confirm it.

RARE PAINTINGS TO BE DISPLAYED AT WESTERN FAIR

Toronto Galleries Sending Pictures by Famous Masters, and of Great Value.

A FAIR FEATURE

The Art Gallery is counted upon as a striking feature of this year's Western Fair.

An important announcement in connection with this is the fact that among eighteen paintings being sent from the Carroll Gallery in Toronto are two excellent examples of the art of Romney and Sir Peter Lely.

The Romney painting to be shown here is the "Portrait of Edward Wortley Montagu in Eastern Dress." This painting, one from the collection of Capt. B. C. Vernon-Wentworth, and removed from Wentworth Castle, near Barnsley, York, has been exhibited but twice before, once at the National Portrait Exhibition, at South Kensington, in 1867, and again in 1868 at Leeds.

Of Great Value.

The Lely "Portrait of Chief Justice Sir John Kelyng," has been mentioned and described in "Britton and Brayley's well-known series of topographical works, "The Beauties of England and Wales." It is also mentioned in Lyson's "Cornwall:: "There are some good portraits at Tehidy; among the portraits are Chief Justice Kelyng and his lady, by Lely." This painting has been removed from the twelfth century ancestral home of the Bassetts, Tehidy Park, Cambourne, Cornwall.

The combined price of these two pictures reaches $21,000, the Romney being valued at $14,500, and the Lely at $6,500.

Sixteen other paintings come from the Carroll Galleries, among them being works by Sir William Beechey, R.A.; Sir David Murray, R.A.; Frank Brangwyn, R.A.; A. J. Munnings, A.R.A.; Tom Lloyd, R.W.S.; N. J. H. Baird, R.O.I.; W. Burroughs-Fowler, R.B.A.; A. E. Bottomly, R.B.A.; Allan Barr, J. Weiss, H. T. Schafer, G. Courtois, Th. Rousseau.

Other Fine Paintings.

From the Jeknins' Art Gallery, also in Toronto, are being sent paintings valued at a figure running into the thousands of dollars. Among these are: "Brick Kilns," J. C. Cazin; "Homeward Bound," Julius Koekart; "Sunrise," C. Kreighoff; "Miss Van Stittart," Sir George Hayter, 1820; "Summer," Florence Carlyle; "Dutch Landscape with Cattle," F. P. Ter-Meulen; "Laurentian Mountains," O. R. Jacobi, P.R.C.A.; "On the Upper Ottawa," O. R. Jacobi, P.R.C.A.; "Landscape with Cottage," G. Chairguand, O.S.A.; "De'ad Same," J. Brownell; "Landscape with Cottage," G. Harlow White, R.C.A.; "The Young Stewart," Daniel Mytons (The Elder); "Tigress and Cubs," C. E. Swan; "The Approaching Storm," W. J. Shayer; "Winter Landscape," G. Kruseman; "Burning the Marriage Documents," Jacques Louis David; "Cattle on the Masilla," D. Fowler, R.C.A.; "The Village Fair," Jan Molenaer; "An Incident in the Life of Roger Bacon," W. P. Cornish; "The Conference," M. T. Caballero.

A third list comes from the Matthews' Art Gallery, Toronto, and includes: "The Mole Catcher," J. M. Swan, R.A.; "The Prodigal Son," J. H. Jurres; "Venice," F. Unterberger; "Milking Time," G. W. F. Jausen; "The Yarn," E. Bundy, R.A.; "The Fight," J. H. Jurres; "Advance Guard," J. H. Jurres; "Looking to Skye," J. McWhirter, R.A.; "Dutch Pasture," W. Vander Weele; "Cattle Drinking," F. Vankregten; "Cattle at Stream," F. Vankregten; "Returning to Port," I. Weber.

VICIOUS DOGS COST TOWNSHIP LARGE SUM

Westminster Pays $549 For Damage Caused to Sheep.

Westminster township council paid a bill of $527 to Robert McEwen and one of $22 to Boler Bros. at its meeting yesterday, when the report of sheep valuators, engaged to fix the value of sheep worried by dogs in the township. No discussion centered on the payment, although regret was passed that dogs were allowed loose to do such damage.

Considerable discussion for and against the Coleman drain was heard, and on the council failing to come to an agreement, it was laid over till the next meeting. The McNiven drain bylaw was provisionally adopted, while the Springbank drain bylaw received its third reading and passed.

J. W. Cook was recommended as constable for the township under the reorganization of the constabulary of the county.

WENIGE DENIES COUNCIL FACES $7,500 DEFICIT

Mayor Feels Sure City Will End the Year With Surplus.

HAS MONEY ON HAND

Mayor Wenige is not at all alarmed by the announcement from his opponents that the "city council is facing a deficit of $7,500."

"There is going to be a surplus in the city treasury at the end of the year," he reiterated. "We will be quite able also to meet the cost of the Brittain survey of the several municipal departments. We have saved money in several quarters this year—$3,800 alone in the fire department. We will still have $2,000 left in our entertainment fund. This can be saved. Because we set aside a certain sum, it does not necessarily follow that we should have to spend it all.

"I cannot see a deficit. There may be members of the council, like Ald. May, who may be able to see a deficit, but I view the situation more optimistically."

Ald. May stated today that he could set the tax rate for 1924 at 28 mills, and be as near correct in his estimate as the mayor who has set 30 mills as the maximum.

YOHN CONFESSES KILLING; SAYS IT WAS ACCIDENT

NOICE BELIEVES CRAWFORD DEAD

Started For Mainland To Secure Aid and Thought To Have Perished.

TWO COMPANIONS

Following is the third installment of the exclusive personal story of Harold Noice, commander of the Wrangel Island relief expedition, who returned to Nome, Alaska, August 31, after his dash into the Arctic in the hope of relieving four white men and an Eskimo woman marooned there since the fall of 1921.

By HAROLD NOICE.
Commander of the Wrangel Island Relief Expedition. Copyright.

Nome, Alaska, Sept. 5.—My feelings may probably be better imagined than described as the Donaldson groped slowly through the fog into doubtful harbor and we saw the shadowy form of a human being move down the beach to the water's edge.

Were we in time after all? Certainly someone still lived upon the island, and soon now we should know whether all had survived or not.

As we drew nearer I could make out distinctly the form of a woman and that it was Ada Blackjack, the seamstress of the expedition. We steered as close inshore as we could and dropped anchor. I jumped into the skiff and was paddled ashore.

As we neared the beach Ada started walking out into the shallow water to meet us. I sprang out and shook her hand. For a moment neither of us spoke. Then she said: "Where is Crawford and Galle and Maurer?" and when I told her that I had just arrived from Nome, and expected to find them all on Wrangel Island, she choked back a sob and said: "There is nobody here but me; I am all alone. Knight, he died on June 22." Then Ada, a queer, frightened note in her voice, said: "I want to go back to my mother. Will you take me back to Nome?" And when I assured her that most certainly we would, a bright light came into her eyes, and the strange, dazzled expression left her face. She just stood and looked at me. Then she tottered forward, and as I caught her in my arms she commenced to sob like a little girl.

Lifted Into Skiff.

I lifted her into the skiff, brought her aboard the Donaldson and took her down into my cabin, where I gave her a cup of coffee. That revived her a bit and after she had eaten some breakfast she told me her story—probably the saddest story I had ever heard.

The expedition landed in high spirits on September 16, 1921, and erected their first camp about four miles east of Doubtful Harbor after erecting the British flag and posting the proclamation, a copy of which we had already found. Their first concern was the killing of game to supply the meat for themselves and their dogs, and thus save to as great an extent as possible the stores which they had brought with them from Nome. There were plenty of polar bears and foxes on the island, besides seals and walrus on the floes. They killed a considerable number of polar bears. But, for some unexplained reason, they had neglected to include a "umik," or walrus-hide boat in their outfit, and consequently were unable to get any walrus. The latter could be seen sunning themselves on the ice cakes out of range, and the heavy dory which they had brought was of no use in navigating waters filled with floating ice cakes. So they were forced to stand impatiently on the beach and see tons of food just beyond their reach.

Capture Seals.

However, they were able to get some seals, and with the polar bear meat which they had already, they felt secure for the winter, for they had brought sufficient food with them for the winter, or a year, at a pinch, but while they were waiting for sufficient snow to enable them to transport their polar bear to camp the greater part of it was eaten by foxes and bears. Thus, by November 16, after only two months' stay on the island, they ran entirely out of meat and were forced to share the provisions which they had brought from outside with the dogs. The winter darkness was coming in and then hunting was difficult. They believed that they would be able to get through until spring without much hardship. But when spring came they found that most of their food had gone. About all that was left of the supplies brought with them from Nome was a certain amount of pilot bread.

They were able, however to get more seals in the spring and a couple of walrus that happened to come close enough to the shore for them to secure the carcasses. These, with crowbills and other birds, foxes, and an occasional polar bear, together with the remnant of the pilot bread, kept them going until the middle of the summer, when they began to look forward to the promised relief ship. Knight and Crawford made a number of exploring trips to various parts of the island during the year, and all did their utmost to employ their time as profitably as possible and to keep up the morale of the party.

Summer Passed.

But the summer passed and the autumn came. There were times when the ice seemed clear and a ship could get through. At other times the ice hugged the land, and it was realized that any attempts to get through at such times must result in failure. It was not until the season was well advanced, however, that hope of succor was entirely abandoned.

Then it was realized that a second winter must be passed on Wrangel Island. The first had been an interesting adventure. The hardship had not been particularly great, and all would have been speedily forgotten had relief come when expected. Another winter under less favorable circumstances was an entirely different matter. But there was no alternative.

They laid in what meat they could and husbanded their resources as much as possible. On November 1, 1922, they moved their camp to Doubtful Harbor, where there was a plentiful supply of driftwood and they would thus not need to use their fats for fuel. But as the winter dragged on its weary length the food that it would not suffice until spring. Furthermore, lack of sufficient food supply got less and less, and they saw of the proper kind was having its effect, and Knight particularly was beginning to show signs of what we call scurvy, but which might have been some other result of malnutrition.

Start for Coast.

Something had to be done.

On January 7, 1923, in the depths of the winter's darkness, Crawford and Knight set off for the Siberian coast little more than 100 miles distance. If they could once reach it they could probably bring back succor for their comrades. But the ice was badly broken and travel was very rough. They had made a brave attempt, but Crawford froze his fingers, and Knight's weakened condition compelled them to return to Wrangel Island, after two weeks on the ice in their futile endeavor.

After allowing a week for Crawford to recuperate another attempt was made to reach Siberia. This time Crawford was accompanied by Maurer and Galle. Knight was unable to travel, and was left in care of Ada Blackjack, with all the food which could be spared from the shore party. Crawford and his companions carried their food, consisting principally of pilot bread and seal oil, on a sledge drawn by five dogs. They intended to continue their efforts to reach Siberia at all costs, as there was little use in returning to the island. They had left Ada and Knight with sufficient food to last them until spring with care, and their return would only jeopardize the safety of the entire party. Ada nursed Knight until he died on June 22. His condition had become so grave by spring that the opportunity to secure fresh food with the break up of the ice came too late.

Knight Is Buried.

Knight was the only member of the party whom I had known previously, and I was particularly affected as I looked upon his emaciated form laid out in the tent where Ada had left his body since his death. Before returning we dug a grave and gave the remains of my poor pal a decent burial. I shall not dwell upon the details of this scene.

Of course Ada had no more idea of the fate of Crawford and his companion than I had. She had hoped that they had reached Siberia safely, and she was still inclined to think that perhaps some day they would turn up. But I must confess that I could not share her belief. The boys were undoubtedly in a very weakened condition when they set out, and none of them had had any previous experience of ice travel in winter time, excepting Maurer, and his experience was confined principally to one trip from the wrecked Karluk in 1914 to Wrangel Island. Then he was a member of a large party commanded by Captain R. A. Bartlett, an experienced Arctic traveler, and fully equipped with everything required.

Therefore, I am afraid that their chance of reaching Siberia was very slight. Furthermore, I have since heard that Castle, a former member of the Canadian Arctic expedition of 1913-18 who has been living for some years in Siberia, traveled all along the north coast of Siberia in June of this year, camping in native houses every night without hearing anything from the Eskimos of the missing men. Many ships have also traveled along that coast since the opening of navigation, but they, too, have nothing to report.

Allen Crawford, Frederick Maurer and Milton Gale seemed to have joined their pal, Lorne Knight, in that land from which no traveler ever returned.

Londoner Says Companion Shoved Him On His Victim and Loaded Gun Exploded

John "Casey" Yohn Tells Advertiser Representative Circumstances Attending the Slaying of Floyd Johnson—Prisoner's Brother Not Implicated.

By WILLIAM SHARMAN.
Special to The Advertiser by a Staff Reporter.

Detroit, Sept. 5.—"Casey" Yohn of London, self-confessed "stick up" man, is going to make a strong bid to escape the maximum sentence for murder as prescribed by the statutes of the State of Michigan.

To an Advertiser representative from London, "Casey" recounted this afternoon his last undertaking—the robbing of a gas station at the corner of Harper avenue and Grand Boulevard, and the shooting of Floyd Johnson. "Casey" acknowledges quite freely that his gun was responsible for the fatal shot, but he claims the act was purely accidental, and charges that his partner, Savelli, is trying to "cover up," and thrust the entire blame on him.

Yohn claims in part that Savelli shoved Johnson into him, and the sudden impact discharged the weapon, —a .32 Colt automatic. Such is "Casey's" side of the story, as he reviewed the circumstances to The Advertiser.

"Hello, Bill; well this is another pretty mes," was "Casey's" calm unruffled greeting as Lieut. Martin of the Detroit homicide squad, ushered The Advertiser representative into Ward 22 of the City Receiving Hospital. The prisoner's condition certainly belied the report that he was at death's door and would probably not survive.

Reclining on a chair with his wounded leg resting on the cot, he quietly discussed the serious situation confronting him. He assured me that he was feeling fine despite his gunshot wound.

"Why, it was purely accidental," re recounted. Anyone who knows me around London would say that. They know I would not shoot anyone in cold blood. I certainly wouldn't. Savelli shoved the man into me as we were about to leave. I was holding the gun as he had handed it to me as we left the machine to enter the station.

"The getaway would have been easy but for his move at the last. He had the safety catch off on the gun when he handed it to me, and I did not stop to look at it. When the station fellow fell into me, the gun went off before I was aware of it."

"Casey" states that this will be his defense in court, but realizes that it may be difficult to make others believe it. He claims that Savelli has acknowledged to the police that he did push Johnson as he feared he was about to make a break.

Got in With Crooks.

But the police officers were reluctant to admit or deny this.

"How did you get into this jam?" The Advertiser inquired. "Oh, I got in with a bunch of crooks," explained "Casey." "I was doing all right until five weeks ago, and had been working pretty steady at Swartz cigar factory. Then I got in with a bunch and started hitting up the bootleg whiskey, and this is the result. I have had a lot of bad breaks since I came here after the Wyoming trials—out of work, and all the rest of it—nothing but trouble, trouble, trouble."

But a few weeks ago, Yohn relates, he engaged in bootlegging enterprises—a big step in the direction of motor theft and "stick-up" work.

Had Booze in Garage.

"We had the booze in a garage, paying so much a case to store it there," he said. "I sold it all."

Yohn states that he only met Savelli or Harris as he calls himself, a few weeks ago. He was introduced to him through Mrs. Gladys Mackenzie, sister of Beatrice Saeger.

He insists that his brother "Jim" has not been implicated in the several admitted robberies, pointing out that he has been in Detroit but a brief period and been at work all that time.

Late this afternoon Lieut. Lennan of the 9th precinct released Beatrice Saeger, supposedly after the conclusion that "she is not involved in the robbery of the Wardrobe exchange, as believed this morning."

Her sister's release with "Jimmy", Yohn is expected at any moment. "Casey" will not be arraigned in court until he is in a better condition to move, probably two or three days' time. After her release this afternoon, Beatrice Saeger visited him in ward 22. Arrangements will be made to engage counsel for the defense. John seems more cheerful and collected than one could imagine under the circumstances. He keeps repeating that it was all an accident, and trusts that the judge or jury will believe him. "I hear Murrell is back," he remarked at the close of the interview. I suppose he is all the rage in London now. Be as easy as you can on me, will you?"

RUHR MINERS TO GET NINE MILLION A WEEK

Many Return To Work Following Acceptance of Employers' Terms.

Associated Press Despatch.

Essen, Sept. 5.—Mining difficulties in the Ruhr apparently have been settled without the necessity of intervention by the government. Work has been resumed in all mines in Essen except one, and in most of the others the men are going back to work of their own accord.

They accepted the terms of the employers, which are nine million marks per week, with weekly readjustments to provide for fluctuations in the value of the mark, for a six-hour day underground and eight-hour day above ground. The French authorities stipulated an eight-hour day underground and a ten-hour day above ground, with a twenty per cent increase. The workmen, however, found the terms of the employers more enticing, and few of them went to work for the French.

FINE WEATHER HELPS IN WESTERN HARVEST

Yields in Southerly Parts Not Up To Average On Account of Rust.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Winnipeg, Sept. 5. — The weather during the past week throughout Western Canada has been mostly fine and warm with cool nights, according to the weekly crop reporter of the Canadian National Railways. A few scattered showers are reported at various places in the three provinces. Threshing operations have been in full swing in Southern and Middle Manitoba, while in the Northern parts cutting is in progress. Cutting of all grains is general in Saskatchewan, with some threshing in the southern part of the province. The crop in Alberta, which is very late, is rapidly ripening, but owing to showery weather, cutting has been somewhat delayed.

In the southern part of Manitoba yields of wheat vary according to districts from 8 to 15 bushels per acre and is grading very poor. Barley has been from 20 to 25 bushels to the acre and oats from 35 to 45.

In the southern part of Saskatchewan wheat cutting is nearly completed. The yield of wheat is estimated at from 15 to 22 bushels per acre with a great deal grading No. 2 and 3.

BOARD URGES INCREASE IN LIBRARIAN'S SALARY

Special to The Advertiser.

Strathroy, Sept. 5. — A delegation from the library board consisting of Rev. Mr. Pugsley, Postmaster David Evans, Inspector J. H. Sexton, and J. V. MacDonald waited upon the town council last evening to request an increased grant from the town in order to make the library efficient, and a bonus of $100 this year. In presenting their necessities, Rev. Mr. Pugsley said that they wanted sufficient to make the librarian's recompense $400 a year.

The matter of the request was referred to the industrial committee for report.

The treasurer's statement for the eight months showing a bank overdraft of $18,000 was presented.

BLACKSMITH SHOP BURNS.

Special to The Advertiser.

Fingal, Sept. 5.—Fire on Wednesday night completely destroyed the blacksmith shop and contents owned by William Davis. The building had recently been put in good shape, and its destruction makes a heavy loss for the proprietor. Mr. Davis has purchased the blacksmith shop of the late Archie Gillan and will continue his business.

GOLD INVESTORS TO TAKE ACTION

Miners Who Bought Labrador Holdings Claim They Were Swindled.

SAY NO PAY DIRT

Canadian Press Despatch.

Sydney, N.S., Sept. 5.—That plans are on foot in Newfoundland and Montreal to take legal action against the Labrador Goldfields, Limited, and other stock selling corporations that boomed the Labrador gold rush last spring is the statement made by George Winston, prospector, who reached Sydney on Tuesday, after spending four months at Stag Bay.

According to Winston, a number of prospectors who paid out large sums of money for "gold" claims at Stag Bay and vicinity, will ask the Newfoundland government to proceed against the leaders of various corporations which sold these claims in an effort to have the money obtained for the claims refunded.

Winston claims there is not enough gold in Stag Bay to cover a penny. He bought a small claim and after working it for months gave it up. With Winston are a number of experienced mining men, some of whom had spent considerable time in the Klondike. They explored all the bays and creeks in the Stag Bay section, but did not find even a color.

Among the fellow prospectors with Winston were: A. Green, of Thomasburg, Ont.; Gene Fournier, Windsor, Ont.; R. R. Stapleton, of Flushing, N.Y., who was sent to Stag Bay by prominent mining men in that city.

REFUSE COAL DEALER ADDITIONAL PAYMENT

Board of Education Recommends No Action Be Taken in Matter.

At a meeting of number two committee of the board of education held yesterday afternoon, a request from William Buchanan, coal dealer, for additional payment on coal delivered to the board during last winter, was received and put aside, with the recommendation that no action be taken.

The matter, which has been hanging fire for over a year, was settled on the motion of Mrs. Hunt, after Mr. Buchanan had stated his side of the case and members of the committee had presented their opinions.

According to the request made to the board, Mr. Buchanan, after he had contracted to deliver coal to the board last winter, found himself faced with a raise of one dollar per ton at the mine. Notwithstanding this, he delivered the coal as per contract, taking a loss of one dollar per ton on some fifteen hundred tons.

After the contract had been fulfilled he made a request that the board make him some allowance for the loss he had suffered.

Trustee Campbell, in opening the discussion, said that it was not a legal obligation, but a moral one, but the difficulty was that if this was allowed to Mr. Buchanan, there was no knowing who else might not make claims for this or that on a similar basis.

Trustee Mrs. Hunt then said that it was not business to make any reduction in this case. The contract had been made and Mr. Buchanan should take his loss. Money on government contracts was never refunded this way and there was no reason for the board to do it.

That it was a purely moral obligation was the opinion of Trustee Silverwood, who stated that Mr. Buchanan knew the strike was on when he made the contract.

After Mr. Buchanan left, Mrs. Hunt moved that no action be taken in the matter, the motion carrying.

POLICE AND FIREMEN CALLED TO AID KITTEN

Canadian Press Despatch.

Brockville, Sept. 5.—Services of the combined police and fire department were enlisted today by citizens in an effort to dislodge a kitten from the upper cross arm of an electric light pole to which it had climbed to escape dogs. When all attempts on the part of residents to coax the kitten down had failed, the police department was notified and then the fire department. The latter reared three ladders about the pole. As the fire fighters climbed to the rescue the kitten took fright and jumped in safety to a veranda, 20 feet below, and disappeared.

COUNCIL ORDERS PAYING UNION WAGES ON BRIDGE

Special to The Advertiser.

Brantford, Sept. 5.—Subject to the approval of the city solicitor the board of works of the Brantford City Council will instruct the Port Arthur Construction Company of Toronto, which has the contract for the new Lorne bridge, to pay carpenters' wage to all men engaged in woodwork above the pilings. The board inspected the work and found 13 carpenters' tool chests on the job, while the books showed that only three men were drawing carpenters' wages. The matter was brought to attention of the board by the Brantford branch of the Carpenter's Union.

ELEVATOR CRUSHES HEAD AND VICTIM LIES DYING

Canadian Press Despatch.

Saskatoon, Sept. 5.—John Proudfoot, 45, is dying in a local hospital, as a result of injuries sustained when a one-ton weight dropped on his head while he was in the elevator pit at a local cartage warehouse this morning. His skull was smashed.

TRAIN REACHES NIMES.

Associated Press Despatch.

Paris, Sept. 5.—The Canadian exhibition train is now at Nimes. The delegation accompanying the traveling exhibition visited Vauvert and laid flowers on the monument to Montcalm.

OCEAN STEAMERS PAY LARGE FINES

Arriving Several Minutes Before August Expired, Liners Overcrowd Immigrant Quota.

ERROR COST $500,000

Associated Press Despatch.

Washington, Sept. 5.—Aliens who arrived on four vessels which entered New York Harbor a few minutes before midnight August 31 were ordered admitted today by immigration authorities.

At the same time the ship lines represented by the vessels were ordered to pay a fine of $200 for each alien admitted, under a clause of the immigration act which provides this penalty for the bringing in of aliens above the quota for the month. The ships raced to New York harbor to get their passengers under the September quota, but it was found that they had actually arrived during August, and that the passengers faced the danger of deportation for being in excess of the August quota. Nearly 2,000 aliens were admitted under the ruling, and the fines will total nearly $400,000.

The ships whose early arrival caused the trouble were the Esperanza of the Ward line, the Faber liner Briga, the Greek liner Byron and the Baltic-American liner Esthonia.

In addition to the fines, the ship owners must return the fares of their alien passengers. It is expected that the total cost to the lines because of the arrival of the ships a few minutes too soon will reach over $500,000.

FORM ASSOCIATION AT NATIONAL FAIR

Veterinary Surgeons Organize On Dominion-Wide Basis At Toronto Yesterday.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, Sept. 5.—A Canadian National Veterinary Association was formed this afternoon following the conclusion of the 49th annual meeting of the Ontario Veterinary Association. The constitution already formulated was adopted with some amendments. The aims of the new association are to knit together the veterinarians of Canada for the purpose of advancing the interests of the profession as a whole, and in order to promote research work in veterinary problems.

The National Association appointed the following officers: President, Dr. F. Torrance, Ottawa; vice-presidents, Dr. F. T. Daubigny, Montreal, and Dr. C. D. McGilvray, Guelph.

VETERAN TAKES LIFE BY DRINKING POISON

Wm. Cairnes, Suffering From Overseas Experiences, Dies At Westminster.

His nerves wrecked by years of service on the battlefield, William Cairnes, Westminster Hospital patient, ended life yesterday afternoon by drinking insect poison. Coroner J. C. Wilson, who was called immediately, deemed an inquest unnecessary.

Cairnes was a mental case admitted August 9. His mother and brother reside in Port Elgin. Depressed and nervous, as a result of trying experiences in France, Cairnes had to be watched closely during his brief convalescence at the institution. He had suicidal tendencies. Yesterday at noon he obtained a quantity of cockroach compound, and before his attendants could prevent him, drank it.

First aid was rendered him at once, but he died at 3:20 o'clock.

D. S. C. R. officials have ordered the usual inquiry which follows each death of a D. S. C. R. patient.

Cairnes was 25 years old. He enlisted and went overseas with the 116th Infantry Battalion, C. E. F., transferring to another unit in England before proceeding to France. Ever since his return he has been in a highly nervous state. He was severely wounded while in France.

The body was removed to A. L. Oatman's funeral home. It will be forwarded to Port Elgin, his mother having issued instructions for its return. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

ATTENDANCE INCREASES AT CANADIAN NATIONAL

Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, Sept. 5.—The attendance today at the Canadian National Exhibition (agriculturists' day) was 100,500, as against 85,000 for the corresponding day last year, an increase of 15,500. For the ten days the attendance is 1,154,000 as against 1,070,000 for the corresponding period last year, a gain of 84,000.

WELL-KNOWN GALT MAN GETS POSITION IN "TECH"

Special to The Advertiser.

Galt, Sept. 5.—F. E. Brancht, formerly manual training teacher in the Galt Collegiate Institute, but for the past few years office manager and factory superintendent of the Shurly & Dietrich Saw Works, has resigned to become manual training master at the new Guelph technical school. He will be greatly missed in the Y. M. C. A. circles here, having taken an active interest in the work, and was also president of the Galt Playgrounds Association.

SYDNEY MINE TAKES FIRE, BUT IS SOON CONTROLLED

Canadian Press Despatch.

Sydney, N.S., Sept. 5.—Fire broke out in one of the levels in No. 14 colliery at New Waterford shortly after noon, but was soon under control.

The cause of the fire is a mystery, and coal company officials are baffled. An investigation will be held.

Parson Stages Regatta On Trip To Niagara Falls

Welland Canal Scene of Amusing Incident When Stranded Motorist Goes On Hunt For Gasoline.

Special to The Advertiser.

Port Burwell, Sept. 5.—Rev. A. A. Fanjoy started out on a trip to Niagara Falls recently, and evidently left his horseshoe or rabbit's foot behind. While following a road close along the Welland Canal, he missed a detour sign, and some miles further, the road he was following came to an end. At the same time the car stopped. The gas was all gone.

Fortunately there was a gasoline station near, but it was "over the river." The only boat was a long, narrow contraption, and the stern was dilapidated. A strong wind was blowing which made the trip extra hazardous. However, the parson essayed the voyage, and standing in the bow of the boat to raise the stern out of the water pushed off from the land. Immediately the wind spun the crazy craft around and in the frantic efforts to maintain a balance the minister's hat flew off. Of course it was a new white straw.

As the hat cruised off down the stream on a voyage of its own, a small boy, who had been heartily enjoying the performance, pursued it with a stick and finally fished it out of the water in a more or less leaky condition. In the meantime Mr. Fanjoy's boat had completed several circles and half-moon diagrams, but he succeeded in poling it across the stream. He procured the can of "gas" and then made another trip to return the can to its owner—four times across the "raging flood." Mr. Fanjoy arrived at the Falls all right, but two hours behind schedule. But he didn't care. He had seen all the waters of the Niagara peninsula he cared to see on that trip at any rate.

WILL MEET PARENTS AT EAST END SCHOOL

Principals To Discuss Better Organization To Aid Pupils.

Aiming to secure a representative organization of parents from the east end of London whose children attend the collegiate, a meeting is being held in Lord Roberts School on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

The principal of the east-end collegiate as well as Mr. Miller of the central collegiate will be on hand. Mr. Miller gave the parents of the central one of the best explanations possible of the meaning of the various courses, the openings to which they lead, etc., and the east-end association is to have the same opportunity on Thursday evening.

At the central there was a tour of the building during Tuesday evening's performance, and residents of the east end are curious to know whether some such plan will be followed in a Cook's tour of the old Princess avenue school, now glorified by the name of the East-End Collegiate.

The mothers who are in charge of the details for Thursday night at Lord Roberts school believe that if the parents get interested in the matter and see for themselves, the need of a new school for the east end it would be an accomplished fact in a short time.

The idea of the Parents' Association "caught on" at the central collegiate on Tuesday evening, and the east-end people, despite their less stately school, are out to show that they mean business.

RECOMMEND TEACHERS BE GIVEN INCREASE

Salary Committee of Board of Education Urges Action.

The salary committee of the board of education created a precedent yesterday when, after a short discussion, the members decided to recommend to the board that the salaries of three school officials be increased considerably.

Dating from September 1, the salaries of H. B. Beal, principal of the London Technical School will be $5,000, an increase in straight salary of $1,000. Up to the present however, Mr. Beal has been averaging about $4,700, the $700 being made up of fees received for night schools, etc., so that the actual increase is about $300.

The same amount will be paid to Head Inspector V. K. Grant, whose salary worked out the same way.

The third man to have his salary increased was A. D. Hone, principal of the matriculation classes at the technical school. His salary has been increased from $3,300 to $3,500.

Strenuous opposition to the increases was entered by Trustee B. Campbell, on the grounds that such action was unbusinesslike when taken in the middle of the financial year, the necessary amounts not having been placed in the estimates.

The other members pointed out that it was really the beginning of the school year at present, the dates from which teachers' contracts ran being September 1.

TUXIS BOYS AND FATHERS BANQUET AT WALKERTON

Special to The Advertiser.

Walkerton, Sept. 5. — The local Tuxis Boys and Trail Ranger Groups and their fathers enjoyed a banquet at Knox Church last night given by the mothers of the boys. The Mentor of the Tuxis Square, Dr. C. L. Grant, acted as toastmaster, and introduced the following toasts: "Canada and the Empire," proposed by Arthur Ryce and responded to by William Goode and George McFortune; the toast to the Tuxis Square, proposed by Rev. W. C. Burgess and responded to by John Aitkin and Guy Ramsay.

COACHES KENT FARMERS IN JUDGING LIVE STOCK

Special to The Advertiser.

Chatham, Sept. 5.—Ralph E. White, local agricultural representative, is in Highgate and Ridgetown today, and in company with W. S. Reek, is taking part in the livestock judging competition that is being held in Kent County today by farmers of Middlesex and Elgin Counties.

A large number of Kent County young farmers are in attendance at the judging work, and will be coached in this particular line by Mr. White.

CHURCH OF THE EPIPHANY WILL HONOR WAR HEROES

Tonight at 8 o'clock the Church of the Epiphany is staging a concert at which Col. C. M. R. Graham will act as chairman for the evening. The proceeds will be devoted to erecting a memorial on the grounds of the church, to honor members of the congregation who were killed in France.

LABOR COUNCIL TRIES TO UNSEAT OFFICERS

Will Review All Correspondence At October Meeting, When It Will Be Settled.

The Trades and Labor Council last night spent most of its time in discussing the merits of a clause in its constitution which prevents officials from declaring themselves on a political platform. A letter was read from Tom Moore, secretary of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress to the effect that the clause should be deleted as not being in conformity with the charter granted to the local council.

Delegate Thompson objected that Tom Moore had not been put in possession of all the facts of the case by the secretary, and after a prolonged discussion the letter was laid over for further discussion at the meeting of the council in October, when all the correspondence in connection with the matter is to be produced.

R. H. Hessel was appointed vice-president, and William Tite, sergeant-at-arms. The delegates who have been acting in these capacities have been absent from the council meetings for six months, it was stated, and therefore automatically retire.

When a motion to proceed with a previous question was made and carried, Fred Young referred to the whole thing as "a cut-throat business," for which he was called to order by R. H. Hessel, who was in the chair, but refused to make any apologies, and continued in much the same strain most of the evening.

MANY DESCENDANTS OF PIONEERS CONVENE

Webster Family Conducts Successful Reunion On Farm Near Lucknow.

Special to The Advertiser.

Seaforth, Sept. 5.—John Andrew's farm at Lucknow was the scene of an unique gathering Monday, when the Webster reunion picnic was held there. The 206 people present spent a most enjoyable afternoon, the older ones renewing acquaintances, and the younger members playing games. Thomas Webster of London addressed the gathering. Following his suggestion it was decided to have an annual reunion picnic at Lucknow. The of it were Thomas Webster of London, Harvey Turner of Port Stanley, Harry McGee of Toronto, T. J. Webster of Seaforth, and Fred Anderson, George Andrew, W. T. Gardner and James Webster of Lucknow.

Mr. D. Webster spoke of the days of 1854 when his father, Daniel Webster, came to this district and settled on loot 12, concession 14, of Ashfield, his uncle's family coming out from the old land at the same time. Of these 16 pioneers, only 3 are now living, all of whom were present on this occasion, Daniel Webster and his sister, Mrs. Anderson, and Miss Elizabeth Webster. The direct descendants number 275.

NORWICH CATTLE TAKE HONORS AT EXHIBITION

Animals Owned by Fred E. Hilliker Bring High Prices in Sale.

Special to The Advertiser.

Woodstock, Sept. 5.—Fred E. Hilliker of Kerihill Farms, Norwich, who was so successful with his Holstein cattle at the show at Ormiston, Quebec, and on the western show circuit, has repeated his success at the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto, in spite of the fact that he sold ten animals from his show herd while in the West. Among those sold was his herd sire, which brought $1,000, also one cow and one heifer, which he also sold for $1,000. Notwithstanding the lessened number of animals he had to show at Toronto, he was, with one exception, the only Holstein exhibitor from Oxford County to capture four of the coveted ribbons.

SCHOOL CONDITIONS BAD SAY CHATHAM TEACHERS

Special to The Advertiser.

Chatham, Sept. 5.—The city schools yesterday had record attendances.

At the central school three teachers protested against conditions under which they have to teach. Two teachers have to take charge of classes in a large round room on the third floor of the school, where lighting and ventilation facilities are bad. The third teacher has to teach a mixed class in a cottage annex that is not properly ventilated.

The new Blessed Sacrament separate school was officially opened this morning. First-class equipment has been installed in every room. Every seat was occupied, and it is quite probable that more rooms will be added later on.

LORD BIRKENHEAD SCORES U. S. STAND

Declares Nations Would Have Been Saved Trouble If Attitude Known.

URGES CONFIDENCES

Hopes To See Canada As Center of Gravity in World.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Montreal, Sept. 5.—Speaking a second time at the eighth annual dinner of the Canadian Bar Association here tonight the Right Hon. the Earl of Birkenhead, former lord high chancellor of England, referred to a speech made earlier in the evening by Martin Conboy of New York, representing the American Bar Association, who had said that the United States was satisfied to live its own life and not meddle in European troubles.

"When I spoke at New York in 1918," said Lord Birkenhead, "I declared I was certain that the United States would remain exclusive and live their own lives. That speech aroused the fiercest turmoil in the United States. I was attacked right and left through all possible channels. The venom poured upon me for having made such a statement was tremendous.

"And now it appears, after all this time, that I was quite right."

Lord Birkenhead paused for an instant amid tense silence. "It was a bit late, you know," he exclaimed. "We were very stupid when the great peace conference was on at Versailles. If we had only then realized that the United States intended to live their own lives we would have been much ahead.

Spared Trouble.

"If at Versailles we had known," went on the speaker, "that the United States was to remain out, many matters which have caused endless trouble in the world might have been spared. We should have known and been prepared for what the United States did with Armenia, what happened in Greece and in that case the Ruhr crisis might have been avoided.

"What I am saying, I am perfectly aware will raise a storm. I am prepared to back up my statement here tonight at any time and in any country. I do not propose to recoil one particle from what I said at Williamstown or what I say tonight.

"Either the school of idealism which preceded the last election in the U. S. is right or it is wrong. I am inclined to believe it is right."

Martin Conboy of New York, representing the American Bar Association had said that some people in the U. S., rightly or wrongly he would not say, had thought there were some slighting remarks made by Lord Birkenhead about the former U. S. president. He was sure that there was nothing further from Lord Birkenhead's intention.

Personal View.

Referring to the international attitude of the United States, he gave it as his personal view, "That we may be of just as much service to the world at large if by helpful suggestions and by leading good and proper lives ourselves we shall set an example to others. We want no other man's territory. We are not seeking self-aggrandizement. We have no ambitions that can be called other than legitimate."

In his earlier speech the Earl of Birkenhead had urged Canadians to have confidence in their own country and in its great future.

He added that Canada had made it plain that the center of gravity of the empire had moved from Europe to the new world, and he would rather see that center of gravity go to Canada than to any other country of the world.

Offers Assistance.

Speaking of the judicial committee of the privy council, Lord Birkenhead said: "As long as you think you wish to preserve the appeal to the privy council, we shall most gladly present for you, year by year, the ablest and most experienced of our judges to deal with your problems, and it has been our aim to see that appeals from Canada shall have the best court the learned of the English bench can afford.

"Give me leave to say, as one who has been judging your appeals for five years, and four of them as president over the bench of the empire, that there is no litigation that you can bring us, however delicate it may be and however protracted in presentaion it may be, to which we will not bring the best of our powers and the best of our abilities to arrive at the solution."

Lack Uniformity.

Lack of uniformity among the provinces of the Dominion as regards preliminary education of law students was regretfully announced by D. A. McRae, Ph.D., of Dalhousie University, Halifax, in his report as convener of the committee on legal education submitted to members of the Canadian Bar Association at the session here today.

Dr. McRae reported that the standard of preliminary education equivalent to that represented by the end of the second year in arts in an approved university is now in affect in two provinces, Manitoba and Nova Scotia. The standard in other provinces which, said Mr. McRae, was as follows:

In British Columbia, Saskatchewan and Alberta, junior matriculation plus one year in arts; Quebec and Prince Edward Island, the equivalent of junior matriculation plus one year in arts; in Ontario junior matriculation plus honor matriculation in four subjects; in New Brunswick, hardly the equivalent of junior matriculation.

Continuation of the rights of citizens of this country as well as those or other British dominions to appeal to the judicial committee of the imperial privy council was advocated by Hon. H. W. Newlands, K.C., lieutenant-governor of Saskatchewan.

SHERIFF KILLED IN FIGHT ATTACKER BELIEVED DYING

Special to The Advertiser.

Petoskey, Mich., Sept. 5. — Sheriff William S. Purple of Emmet county was shot and killed late today by Joe Grosskopf in a gun battle at Grosskopf's farm near the Wequestonsing Golf Club.

Grosskopf was wounded six times by the officer during the battle, and is believed to be dying.

Both men continued firing after they had been wounded and had dropped to the ground.

Grosskopf was sought by the sheriff to answer a series of charges.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1923.

Canada and Its War Debt.

The Montreal Gazette sets out figures that are very often ignored when people talk about the debt of Canada. It is a popular thing to quote Canada's debt, and omit the explanatory note that the war caused most of it. Canada borrowed as follows in the years of the war:

War Loan	1915	$ 42,014,500
" "	1916	52,931,600
" "	1917	90,166,900
Victory Loan	1917	482,570,600
" "	1918	619,134,950
" "	1919	619,866,300
War Savings and Thrift Stamps		1,902,678
Total		$1,908,587,528

That constitutes 79 per cent of the net debt of Canada as at March 31, 1922.

Canada is in duty bound to meet that obligation, and to do so knowing that it is nothing in comparison to the sacrifice made by the thousands who never returned, and of the sufferings of the thousands who did go and came back.

The fact that that debt is there is all the more reason why the pruning hook should be laid to the root and branch of every other thing that cannot justify its existence on the ground of being essential.

We Have Watched It All.

The coal strike, and the tie-up that will as surely follow as night follows day, should make Canadians look to Alberta or to Wales.

The amount of coal sent from United States to Canada will be scaled down as the strike proceeds.

Canadians have no right to expect any other treatment. United States will not give to Canada what it cannot provide for its own citizens.

So far our efforts to get rid of the U. S. coal strike bogey have been frail and half-hearted. We have talked bravely in strong words when the cold weather was on, but in spring, summer and fall we have nursed the joke that things would be better this winter.

Today what was expected to happen has happened. Our coal bucket is empty and we have made no provision to fill it.

London civic authorities could well take the matter up even at this late date. It is not simply a matter of getting coal at a cheap figure, but of getting any at all.

Doing the Unusual Things.

Here and there are people who do things differently. They apparently take enough time off to get out of the beaten path and look around, and, having looked around, decide that there's an opening for better work.

Just a few cases in Western Ontario to illustrate the point, and they are all from the rural sections, showing that initiative is not the exclusive property of people in the cities.

Here is a school teacher near Brigden. He decided that he would raise chickens that would lay eggs, and was emphatic in his belief that he would keep just one kind. People told him he'd lose money, more money than he would make, so with this assurance he went ahead. He has about 15 acres, grows corn for feed and alfalfa for the chickens to run in. There can be no idlers around his premises, for he uses the trap nest and culls out the poor layers. Last year he averaged 280 eggs per White Wyandotte, and his books showed that each chicken made a profit of $3. He now has 2,300 in his bird family. He aims at 5,000, and will probably quit teaching school.

Near Inwood is a farmer who decided to take a chance on sugar beets. He rented 100 acres that had been in pasture for years, for which he pays $700 rental. The seed and labor is supplied by the sugar beet factories. His crop, planted in the sod land, held the moisture, and is in good shape. It ought to go from $80 to $85 per acre, and his costs will be around $1,200. This will be a good year for him.

Just one more, a former Londoner, a candy maker who tired of constant indoor work. He got a farm, 100 acres, and leased 65 of these acres on shares. This year he grew early tomatoes and got them on the market when they were still selling by the pound. He says he will make $500 on these alone, and his melons are also making money. In his spare time he started to make candy and sold it to the neighbors; the neighbors liked it and told the stores in town. So he made more and supplies four or five towns and the trade still grows. He is outdoors most of the time, delivers his candy and other produce from the same truck, and is making a good, independent living.

Now, of course you may say that these are exceptional cases. Perhaps they are, but they are also finger posts and thought provokers for those who want to apply them.

This Was Written to Order.

A reader dropped into the office this morning to say that he was rather tired of reading about world events in the papers. He wanted something more human, yes, that's the word he used. He liked to read of things that happened on our own streets and in our own circles, and he liked them short, too. In fact, he vowed he would not read a column editorial unless it was about himself. He liked things in a sentence, which led us to believe that a great deal could be said in a sentence, just like this:

A touring car pulled up near the corner of Dundas and Richmond and the number on the back showed that it had come from some place in Virginia, where they grow blue grass and eat apple pie for breakfast, and this touring car let a couple of its women folks out for a walk around London, through which they had to pass in order to go some place else they wanted to go, but it would have been better if they had unloaded at some other corner for one of the women had on a rig that would have held up that stop and go sign at a busy hour, for she had on a pair of khaki bloomers, and they were big bloomers, too, because if they hadn't been big she could never have got into them, and below where the bloomers stopped she had on a pair of big silk stockings and they were not a bit too big either, while at the other end of the bloomers she had on a white waist, and on top of the white waist she had on a big hat like they used to wear when they had six bridesmaids at one wedding, which they don't do now on account of the cost of getting six big hats, and most of the people on the street turned around and said all sorts of things, and those that didn't say anything just laughed and snickered and seemed to enjoy the event quite a lot, while the woman just waddled along the street until she came to a place where she and the other woman got an ice cream cone and then came out and got in the car, and the man who was driving stepped on the gas with a roar and they all went off, and it looked as though he was mighty glad to get away from that crowded corner.

There you are, Mr. Reader, all in a sentence and it happened right on our own streets and we saw it with our own eyes. We aim to please, and always like to have suggestions.

Trouble as a Mediator.

Both Italy and Greece might very well put all their energy into relieving the situation in Japan.

If their pugnacious energies were turned into an effort to help a stricken neighbor, their own squabbles would simply drop into the very small background they are entitled to fill.

Two enemies that go to the help of the same sick man are apt to come away fairly good friends.

Note and Comment.

Mushrooms are about the best things in the world—if you get them—and about the last if you don't.

The amount a man expects to save from his weekly pay envelope is like the prices of wholesalers, subject to change without notice.

Patrolman John Egan of New York cautioned some boisterous young men to behave. He had passed on when they jumped on him and shot him dead. Patrolmen Romanelli and Reynolds were shot in New York a month ago. No arrests have been made. Meanwhile it is still very easy for more thugs to secure more firearms.

THE VICIOUS CIRCLE.

Oh, Helen was witty and sparkling,
And Helen had bonny brown eyes;
And Helen was slender and Helen was tender—
Ah, Helen was surely a prize!

But somehow I turned me from Helen
To gay little fairylike Be.
I first was attracted to Be 'cause she acted
Exactly like Helen with me.

But that was before I knew Gladys;
Ah, Gladys was clever and wise!
And I fell for her harder, with double the ardor
Because she had Be's elfin eyes.

And, then, once again I saw Helen,
And Helen was wonderf'lly fair—
Renewing my passion, for changeable fashion
Had given her Gladys' bobbed hair.

A Cincinnati couple will be married tonight, and the service will be broadcasted by radio. This will be the first time in history that anybody more than four inches from the preacher ever heard a bridegroom say "I will."

ON MOVING PICTURES.

It may be prejudice, but every time we see a sentimental movie lately we are moved to vulgar laughter while others are weeping salt tears. The fellow beside us last night said between sobs: "If you can't enjoy it get out and let other people enjoy it."

The heroine established a non-stop sob record by weeping continuously for five hours. If this sort of thing goes on the price of onions will be prohibitive.

The hero was a curly-headed, blue-blooded youth with a dimple on either hcheek. When he said: "Sweetheart, your eyes are pools of limpid fire," nothing but perfect self-control restrained us from breaking up the seats and biting off the orchestra leader's mustache.

The male star of the play is reputed to make $4,000 a week. The awful injustice of this is realized when you consider that the wooden Indian in front of the tobacco store acts just as well and doesn't get a darn cent.

In its general story movie morons will agree it is one of the best bits of boob bait ever perpetrated on the screen. The most interesting feature was the dignified announcement that John Jones wrote the play, Hazel Knutt adapted it, Ham Hansen directed it, Tom Thumb edited it, Pearl Pike rewrote it, Bill Bull decorated it, Dick Dump disfigured it, Percy Pill produced it, Kate Kake wrote the subtitles, Cyril Shrimp put in the commas, Abe Abraham put in the semi-colons, and Jim Trotsky cooked the lobster eaten by the villain in the first reel.

After enjoying a party over the week-end, we don't wonder that some of the guests look weakend.

For the first time in history it is now lawful to marry your wife's sister in England. This saves the bother of breaking in another mother-in-law.

The Guide Post— By Henry van Dyke

WASTEFULNESS IS MEANNESS.

And when they were filled he saith unto his disciples, Gather up the broken pieces which remain over that nothing be lost.—St. John vi., 12.

Christ was not miserly.

He loved the generous impulse which gives without too closely counting the cost.

When Mary of Bethany brought her alabaster cruse of very precious ointment and poured it on his head as he sat at meat, the disciples blamed her for extravagance.

But Christ approved and blessed her because she had done a good deed with a loving purpose.

Yet evidently in the little affairs of life Christ had a saving mind—a touch of the Martha spirit.

After the multitudes were fed by his bounty he was anxious that nothing left over should be wasted.

Waste is not generosity.

It is a form of meanness—the waster is really niggardly of his thought and care.

It is easier to obtain a great gift for charity than to find people to administer it economically.

We throw into the garbage can what would feed a multitude.

We combust our forests and pollute our waters as if we thought God would not mind creating another new continent tomorrow for such a generous and noble race.

SAYS PRINCE OF WALES DESERVES HOLIDAY

Daily Mail Praises His Royal Highness as a Great Ambassador.

Associated Press Despatch.

London, Sept. 6.—The holiday trip of the Prince of Wales to Canada has excited great interest here, and lengthy descriptions of his ranch in Alberta have appeared in the British newspapers. The Daily Mail says: "If anybody deserves a holiday and change, free as far as possible from the limelight, it is the Prince of Wales. Even in his private capacity the prince still remains the great ambassador of the empire. His second visit to Canada, divorced though it may be from official significance, cannot but draw still closer the bonds between Canada and the mother country."

WYOMING SUNDAY SCHOOL MAKES PRESENTATIONS

Special to The Advertiser.

Wyoming, Sept. 5.—The Busy Workers Class of the Methodist Sunday school was entertained at the home of Mrs. Frank Knight last evening, when a pre-nuptial party was held for Florence Knight. Mrs. C. H. Smith read an address, and Annie Brownlee made the presentation of a cut-glass set. This party was also the occasion of a presentation to Mr. A. R. Brardon of London, of half a dozen silver knives. The address in this case was read by Laura Smith and the presentation was made by Stella Jackson.

POSTPONE MEETING OF LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Ambassadors Consider Italo-Greek Situation at Paris Confab.

By A. R. DECKER.
Special Cable to The London Advertiser and Chicago Daily News. Copyright.

Geneva, Sept. 6.—Contrary to the program, there was no meeting today of the League of Nations council or assembly. The scene of the Italo-Greek conflict has been transferred, for the time being, to the meeting of the conference of ambassadors in Paris. Perhaps it was feared that the calling of the assembly of the league today would result in an outburst.

M. Politis, the Greek representative, told the writer today that he has hopes of a settlement satisfactory to both Greece and Italy. "By the offers we have made," he said, "complete satisfaction is possible. The difference between the Italian and Greek views is that Italy wants a settlement through the use of force, while Greece wants to use legal channels to reach a settlement. Although the matter of indemnifying the families of the victims can, perhaps, be arranged by the ambassadors, there remains the political question of the occupation of Corfu. According to British journalists who have interviewed Premier Mussolini, the Italian motives and intentions give cause for anxiety."

MAYOR IS OPTIMISTIC, STICKS TO SURPLUS

Says Western Fair Will Pay and City Will Have Balance On Credit Side.

Mayor Wenige predicts a big week for the Western Fair and a substantial surplus as well. This was his worship's answer today to those who have questioned his predicted surplus at the end of the year, and who calculate that the members of the city council will be personally liable for any possible Western Fair shortage.

"Let everyone look on the bright side of things," the mayor urged. "Why do these people continually paint the gloomy picture. A good artist rarely does that. He paints a pleasing picture. Let's have more optimism and less pessimism and it will be much better for the community as a whole."

Mayor Wenige insists there is not going to be any deficit at the Western Fair this year, particularly with the 25-cent admission fee.

"There is going to be a good surplus or I'll be greatly mistaken," he assured. "The people are going to get behind the Western Fair directorate this year, as I note the trend of public opinion. They are going to co-operate. The spirit of 1867 is abroad in the city—confederation of support and co-operation. Let's hustle along until the end of the term. The future appears bright to me. I don't see the dark clouds if there are any."

Your Health: Why "Blind Spots" Come To Trouble Some Good Eyes.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M.D.

One of the most delicate of the organs of the body and, to my mind, the most wonderful of the works of God, is the human eye.

I do not see how anybody can study the human body, with its unlimited adaptability, without agreeing with one of old who said: "We are fearfully and wonderfully made." It required infinite knowledge to plan this marvelous machine and no one feature of it surpasses the eye in its ultimate perfection.

It is good to confess our manifold faults and weaknesses. I am going to confide to you one of mine:

It always irritates me to hear that this or that practice will destroy the body and lead to the development of a degenerate race.

In my day I have heard that veils will produce blindness, corsets will deform the vital organs, high-heeled shoes will cause spinal diseases, the motion picture will destroy the sight, electric lights will irritate the brain and nervous system, cosmetics will ruin the skin, the telephone will bring on deafness, the X-ray will produce sterility, night air will cause consumption, marsh air will bring on malaria, tomatoes will produce cancer, toads will bring warts. These are some of the teachings which have prevailed in my time.

In spite of these evils, singly and collectively, the babies born today have four times the chance to live that I had. The human race grows better every year. In spite of all the forebodings of the pessimists we go on swimmingly.

Normally, the vision of the eye is so perfect that we see, not only the thing we look at directly, but also all the objects to right and left, and above and below. This wide expansion of sight is called the "field of vision." It gives us an arc of sight amounting to about 180 degrees.

There are certain physical defects which interfere with this perfection of vision. For instance, in beginning cataract the formation may be such as to interfere with some part of the field of vision. If a person who has beginning cataract will puncture a tiny hole in a piece of cardboard, place it close to the face, and peek through the hole at the sky, he will see a dark cloud or clouds corresponding to the loss of transparency in his eye.

The back part of the eye, the retina, is the seeing portion of the eye. The retina is a thin, tissue-paper-like structure. It is nourished by means of delicate blood vessels.

In old age, because of hardening and brittleness of the vessel walls, or because of high blood pressure, one of these tiny vessels may break, permitting the escape of blood into the tissues surrounding it. The clot cuts off the sight in that region and a blind spot is produced. It may have the same effect upon sight that would be produced by an ink spot on your spectacle lens.

Then there are blind spots caused by some temporary disturbance in the circulation of the brain, where the nerves of sight originate, or in their course down to the eyes. Such blind spots are due to indigestion, worry, chronic constipation or other disturbance of elimination. Let stomach, intestines, liver and kidneys do their work and these blind spots won't come to annoy you.

Little loving heart,
Toddling in to meet me!
Little loving heart,
Coming close to greet me!
Walking by my side
In the sunny weather,
Scorning what betide,
If we are together.

Little loving heart,
Weeping when I leave you!
Little loving heart,
Not too small to grieve you
Watching by the door,
Sad because you miss me;
When I come once more,
Face upturned to kiss me.

Little loving heart,
Always older growing!
Little loving heart,
There'll be bitter going!
Heart of ice you'll find
Better for time's proving,
Life is so unkind
To a heart that's loving!

WE WELCOME YOU.

Editor of The Advertiser:

Sir,—I thought I would drop you a line in this year of records about the Western Fair.

I attended the first and every fair since and never received a pass or free entrance, and I intend being there next week all being well.

Wishing it success, also your paper. I remain,

GRIGG FAMILY GATHER FOR PICNIC AT SPRINGBANK

An impromptu gathering of the Grigg family of the Township of Caradoc took place at Springbank Park recently.

A number of the connections of the family were spending the Labor Day holiday with relatives in Caradoc and London, coming from Bay City, Saginaw and Detroit, and the proposal was made that the visiting relatives and those residing in the vicinity gather together at Springbank for a reunion. Over fifty sat down to supper. Mrs. King, in her 84th year, one of the oldest pioneers of Caradoc, was the oldest member of the gathering. Two families of London were represented in the gathering.

The Million Dollar Doll

Sheridan and Terry Parade Before the World at Monte Carlo

WHO'S WHO IN THE STORY:

Teresa Desmond (Terry)—Lovely and unbelievably innocent, is impersonating her beautiful half-sister.

Juliet Divine, known as the Million Dollar Doll—whose sketchy career is unknown to Terry.

Miles Sheridan, Terry's Dream Prince, furnished the money for her convent education when she was a child. His wife's infidelity is making him wretched, and in order to facilitate her obtaining a divorce, Miles offers the Million Dollar Doll $20,000 to take a yacht trip with him. Juliet is unable to take the trip herself, but working on her little sister's gratitude to Miles, she persuades Terry, who is an exquisite counterpart of herself, to take her place. Miles does not recognize the little girl he befriended so long ago.

Betty Sheridan, Miles' wife is in love with

Paul di Salvano, a handsome Italian.

Eustace Nazlo, a wealthy Greek, who does not know of Terry's relationship to Juliet, is in love with the younger girl.

Mrs. Harkness, Miles' old servant, is Terry's maid on board the yacht. Her early disapproval of "The Million Dollar Doll" is swiftly disappearing under the influence of Terry's child-like charm. Miles has stipulated that he will have nothing to do with the girl on the voyage, but under the impression that Terry is flirting with him, he breaks his bargain and kisses her.

Terry's indignation is so real that Miles Sheridan apologizes for his action.

After his dinner with Terry, Miles sits and smokes, reviewing his past.

Terry goes to her room wretchedly unhappy.

Terry wonders whether Julia would have expected Miles to kiss her.

They arrive at Monte Carlo and Terry and Miles go ashore.

CHAPTER XLVIII.

A Painful Ordeal.

On that mid-November day the Place du Casino at Monte Carlo was at its gayest, for it was the Prince of Monaco's birthday, and the morning sun shone on fluttering flags and tall Venetian masts.

The palms in the gardens clapped their green "Fatma" hands, the air smelled of roses and orange blossoms, women in white dresses carried red parasols, nurses in quaint costumes knitted while children played "tag" round the paths, pigeons strutted in the Place, their breasts glittering like black opals: the Casino had not long been open for the day's play, and the early gamblers were hurrying in, eager with hope.

Everyone looked free from care, yet Terry's heart was leaden. She had become a scandalous figure. She had been hired to be scandalous! She was on parade, to make people stare and whisper, if they knew Miles Sheridan, or had seen Juliet Divine.

If Terry had realized as clearly as now just what it would be like, she wondered if she could have consented to this public parade, even to save her Prince!

Every nerve in her body was taut as she walked at Sheridan's side, tall and slender and almost startlingly beautiful in an embroidered white frock of Julia's.

As heads turned to stare at the handsome couple, the girl impulsively pulled her white sunshade down so far that it covered her face. Then she remembered that cowardice was the same as breaking the bargain. She was here to be seen. Oh, how she hated it; hated it!

"Come along. This is the way to the terrace," said Miles rather crossly.

As a matter of fact, he was suffering almost as sharply as she was. His nerves, too, were taut; and he was surprised to realize that his sensitiveness was for the girl as well as for himself, if not more.

He writhed—fool that he was!—at the need to expose this young creature who looked so fair, so sweet, even so pure, to vile suspicions. But the whole cruise was planned for this one purpose, and the program had to be gone through.

He tried to keep before his mind the fact that Juliet Divine's purity and sweetness were only on the surface, part of her stock in trade, and that he must not judge her sensitiveness (which by this time in her life was surely non-existent) by his own.

She was probably enjoying the sensation she created, after being shut up so long on board a yacht with a man whom she must think a bear with a sore paw.

Forcing himself against his instincts to this point of view in order to make the ordeal bearable, Miles glanced at the girl's profile, as she walked by his side. It was downcast and the one cheek he could see was feverishly red.

"She looks like a school-girl who has laughed at a nasty joke, without knowing what it meant, and then had it brutally explained to her," was the queer thought that jumped into his head.

He pushed it out again, laughing at himself for an ass, and reflected as coolly as he could that this was the day of days for the "plan" to work at Monte Carlo.

Hartley Phillips had originally counselled him to put off the Mediterranean trip till later in the year, when the "high season," at Monte Carlo and Algiers, or any other fashionable resort where he chose to land, would be crowded with his and Betty's acquaintances.

But, having made up his mind to sacrifice his reputation for his wife's, Sheridan had not the sang froid to wait for a "convenient time." He had to plunge into the hateful adventure at once, and get it over, quite as much for his own sake as Betty's.

His argument to Phillips had been that there were always people one knew at Monte, and that he could count upon several who would occupy the villas they had taken there, as early as November, in order to "get their money's worth." It was the same with Algiers.

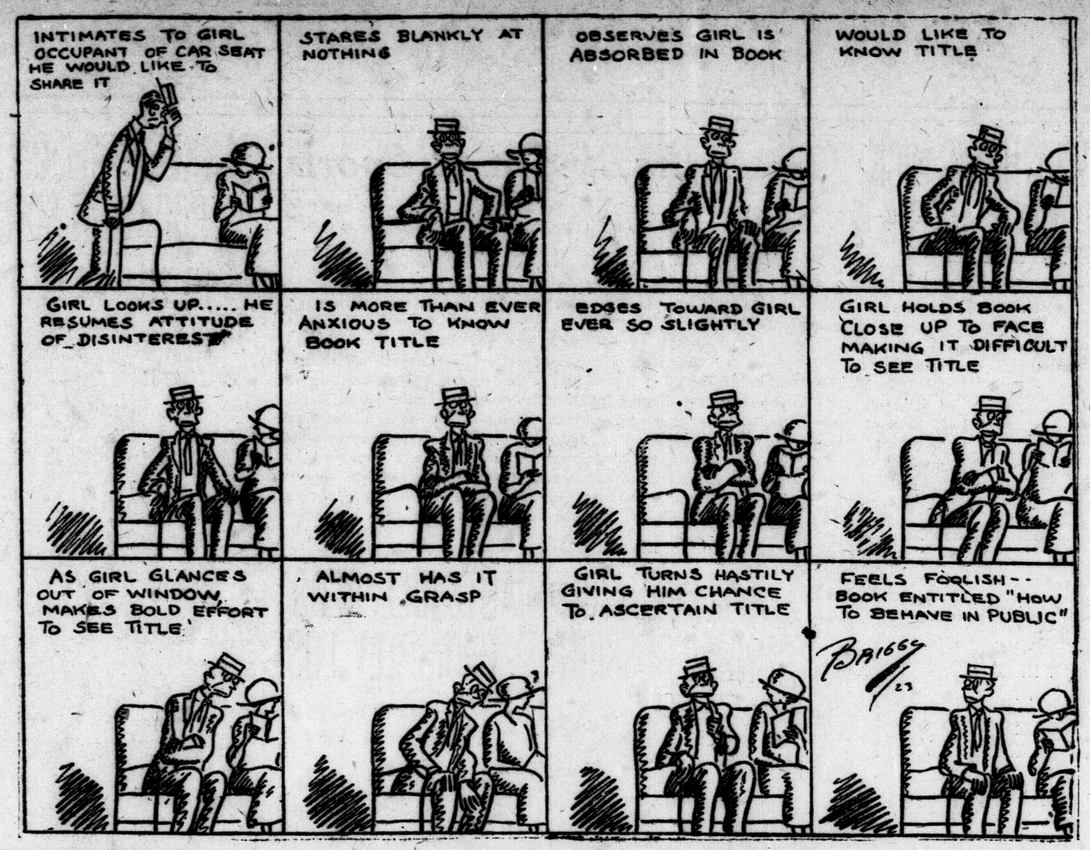

But he had been cleverer than he knew; for he had forgotten about the Prince of Monaco's birthday and the double celebrations, on the 15th and 16th at Monte Carlo, and on Monaco Rock.

It was luck to have landed on the 15th, without calculating the date, and finding a crowd like this to spread the tale of Miles Sheridan's shameful conduct. He ought to be glad that things were going so well, instead of feeling like a worm!

WHY WORRY, WOMEN?

WOMEN enjoy
Being WOOED,
But many WIVES
Are extremely bored
After they have
Been WON some time.
And yet, although they wish
To be WON OVER again,
They are too LAZY
To be provocative
And use the ALLURE,
The feminine wiles,
The perfume and graces,
The chiffons and laces
That they used
As a BRIDE;
And they find marriage
Disappointing.
They were QUICK enough
To turn a LOVER
Into a HUSBAND,
But TOO SLOW
To keep the husband
Their LOVER.
But why worry? .....
If a woman REALLY wants
A thing—she'll GET IT;
If she doesn't—
WHY WORRY
HER?

Mothers and Their Children

Library Day.

One Mother Says:

In our family we selected Friday afternoon as Library Day. Each child in turn goes to the library, taking back the old books and bringing new ones. He is then at liberty to choose what books he likes himself, and the family adjusts itself to his taste, with perhaps an occasional suggestion. Since doing this we always have plenty of books on hand, and nobody complains when his turn comes.

Mr. and Mrs. Happy Jack Squirrel Begin To Build a Home

By THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Happy Jack Squirrel often has two homes, one for winter and one for summer. His winter home is in a hollow in a tree. His summer home is outside. This year it was in a big beech tree. He and Mrs. Happy Jack built it together. That tree was the choice of Mrs. Happy Jack. Happy Jack himself had chosen another tree, but when he found that Mrs. Happy Jack had set her mind on that particular beech tree he wisely said nothing more about his choice, and went to work to help her build the new home.

"We must have a good solid foundation," said Mrs. Happy Jack as she brought a stout, dead stick and carefully placed it in a crotch in the upper part of the tree.

"Certainly," replied Happy Jack, hurrying off to get another stick. He was back with it in a few minutes, and before he had finished placing it to his liking Mrs. Happy Jack arrived with another.

"A house is only as good as its foundation," declared Mrs. Happy Jack as she worked to fix those sticks exactly to suit her. "This isn't like our winter home inside a tree. There walls."

So the next day she and Happy Jack began cutting and bringing twigs on which grew little bunches of leaves. These were for the walls. My, how they did work! Mrs. Happy Jack was as fussy about the placing of these as she had been about the foundation platform. Each one had to be placed just so. When Happy Jack's work didn't suit her she did it over again.

So the new house grew until it looked like a great mass of sticks and leaves. The roof was carefully rounded over, and so made that during storms the water would run off.

Inside it was lined with moss. And when at last it was finished it was as comfortable and fine a summer home as ever a pair of Squirrels built.

"There," said Mrs. Happy Jack as she brought the last bit of moss and tucked it into place, "now we can live in comfort the rest of the summer."

THE DAILY SHORT STORY

A WASTED FORMULA.

By H. IRVING KING.

Beth Curtis was a stenographer in a big insurance office. In spite of her good looks, she knew stenography and typewriting thoroughly, and had laid up for a rainy day a few hundred dollars in the bank and a store of common sense and resourcefulness. And she was twenty-two.

Henry Parkman was clerk in the same office, was twenty-seven, a hard worker and a competent all-around-man at his business. He hoped some day to be chief clerk. Harry had one failing, or one saving grace, just as you choose to look at it, which was that he was extremely diffident with the opposite sex. The girls in the office said he "couldn't say boo to a goose." But Beth Curtis knew that he had latent social and conversational abilities of a most pleasing character, which needed only proper conditions to come to the surface. Harry was never impulsive; he never approached a business deal or a woman's heart except in an orderly and methodical manner, but he was gifted with persistence and staying qualities which were admirable. He went at things systematically.

That was the method he used in building up his intimacy, which had now so far progressed that he called at her boarding house every Thursday night and took her out to dinner or to the theatre once every fortnight. Had they been living in a country town everybody would have said they were "keeping company." As they lived in the big city, and were both reticent as to their personal affairs, nobody knew anything about it except the people in the boarding house and they did not care a hang. In the office they were always Miss Curtis and Mr. Parkman to each other. The long miles of brick and stone and marble and mortar lay between the office and the region where they became Beth and Harry to each other.

Harry intended marriage and so did Beth; but Harry, somehow, kept putting off the performance of that necessary preliminary operation vulgarily known as "popping the question." A dozen times he had concocted in his mind a formula of avowal and rehearsed it mentally as he approached Beth's boarding house. Then he would become dissatisfied with it as not quite coming up to the high standard which the occasion demanded, and he would put it off until next week, by which time he hoped to think up something more worthy. Beth knew he was going to propose some day, and she knew, also, that by artfully and skillfully giving him a "jolt," she could make him propose any time she wanted to. But then the situation was very pleasant as it was—why hurry matters? In another year's time they would both be better equipped financially to enter the married state. Savings bank accounts work day and night; just as the advertisements tell you. Besides in another year, Harry might be a chief clerk.

The head of the insurance office which employed Harry and Beth was Horace McPherson — large, portly, florid, fifty-five years old and with whitening hair; wealthy, of course. For five years he had been a widower. For the past year an important part of Beth's work consisted in taking dictation from Mr. McPherson. He had been gruff with her at first, then paternal and at last almost gallant—nothing disrespectful. Horace McPherson was a gentleman; he was getting into the Indian summer of his years, that was all. Harry felt annoyed naturally, but he had every confidence in Beth and no fear that the wealth of a whole clan of McPhersons would dazzle the true blue eyes of his Beth.

When old Horace began to use sulphur and sage on his hair and his waistcoats and cravats began to show a youthful and hilarious disposition everybody felt that a crisis was approaching. Then one day the approaching crisis arrived. When Beth went into the "chief's" office and seated herself demurely with her pencil and notebook to take dictation, Horace said:

"Before we begin dictating, Miss Curtis, I have something to say which I hope will not be entirely displeasing or entirely unexpected to you," and then he went on to state his case in a very manly and straightforward manner.

Beth answered him as frankly and they had a rather long talk with each other of the "heart to heart" variety before she came sailing out of the private office as cool, calm and collected as if she had done nothing but take notes for the last three quarters of an hour.

That was on Thursday, and Thursday night was Harry's night for calling. Harry had prepared a proposing formula which he was determined to put into operation that night or perish in the attempt.

As they sat in a corner of the boarding house parlor he had actually got off the first two carefully prepared and well polished lines of the proposal when Beth interrupted him with, "Oh, Harry, I had a proposal of marriage today."

"Who from?" growled Harry, "old Horace?"

"Yes, old Horace—Mr. McPherson," replied Beth, "and he is an old dear."

"Glad you think so," said Harry glumly. "What did you say to it?"

"Oh," replied Beth, looking down, "I told him I was already engaged."

"Already engaged," gasped Harry. "To whom, pray?"

"Why, to you, of course," said Beth. Harry's formula vanished into the limbo of proposals that were never made, questions that were never popped, and right there in the boarding house parlor he took Beth in his arms and kissed her.

The next morning the "chief" sent for Harry. "Understand," said he, "that you and Miss Curtis are engaged to be married."

"We are, sir," replied Harry defiantly.

"I congratulate you," said Horace. Mr. Stinnes is retiring at the end of the month. I shall make you chief clerk in his stead. Good day."

FROM BED TO WORK IN THREE WEEKS

Dreco Helps Put William Walker on His Feet and Enables Him to Return to Work.

"For the past year my husband has been a sufferer from ulcers on the stomach," says Mrs. William Walker, of 158 Eileen avenue, Toronto, Ont. "His food lay in his stomach, and would not digest, and he frequently had severe vomiting spells. He was on a diet most of the time. This resulted in his entire system becoming run down. He had chronic constipation, and was very restless and nervous.

"About three and a-half weeks ago I brought him home a bottle of Dreco. He tried it, and said that the first dose seemed to give him relief, and eased his stomach of the terrible pains that griped him. His bowels became more regular.

"We are both greatly pleased with the benefits Dreco has already produced. My husband's system is improving generally, and after the severe trouble he has just passed through, he was able to return to work in three weeks' time.

"Mr. Walker is feeling very much stronger, and I want him to continue this good medicine, as it is the first medicine we have found that goes right to the root of his troubles."

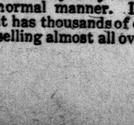

Dreco's beneficial action on the organs of digestion is remarkably quick and thorough. No matter how severe the case, or how long standing, Dreco will help. This remedy contains no mercury, potash or habit-forming drugs. It is made solely from herbs, roots, bark and leaves, and has established an enviable reputation, earned only by genuine merit.

Dreco is being specially introduced in London by Standard Drug, Limited, and is sold at all their stores in London, St. Thomas and Woodstock. It is also sold in other cities as follows: Chatham, W. W. Turner; Sarnia, Ingersoll's Drug Store; Stratford, Nasmyth & Harwood; Galt, R. W. Meikleham; Ingersoll, A. D. Law; Ridgetown, D. H. Stewart; Bothwell, Bothwell Drug Store; Lucan, H. S. Stanley; Goderich, H. C. Dunlop; Strathroy, F. L. Grieve; Tillsonburg, C. V. Thompson, the Rexall Store; and by a good druggist everywhere.

ECZEMA ON BODY IN PIMPLES

Itching Intense. Could Not Sleep. Cuticura Heals.

"Eczema broke out on my body in small pimples with white heads. At first there were just a few small spots but it quickly spread, causing intense itching and discomfort. My clothing seemed to aggravate the breaking out, and I could not sleep well at night.

"A friend gave me a sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and after using them I got relief so purchased more, and after using one cake of Soap and one box of Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Miss Maybelle Brett, Pullman, Wash.

Give Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum the care of your skin.

NO OPERATION FOR HER

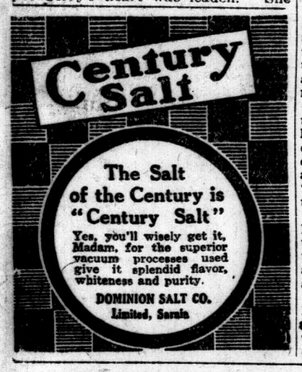

She Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Escaped the Operation Doctor Advised

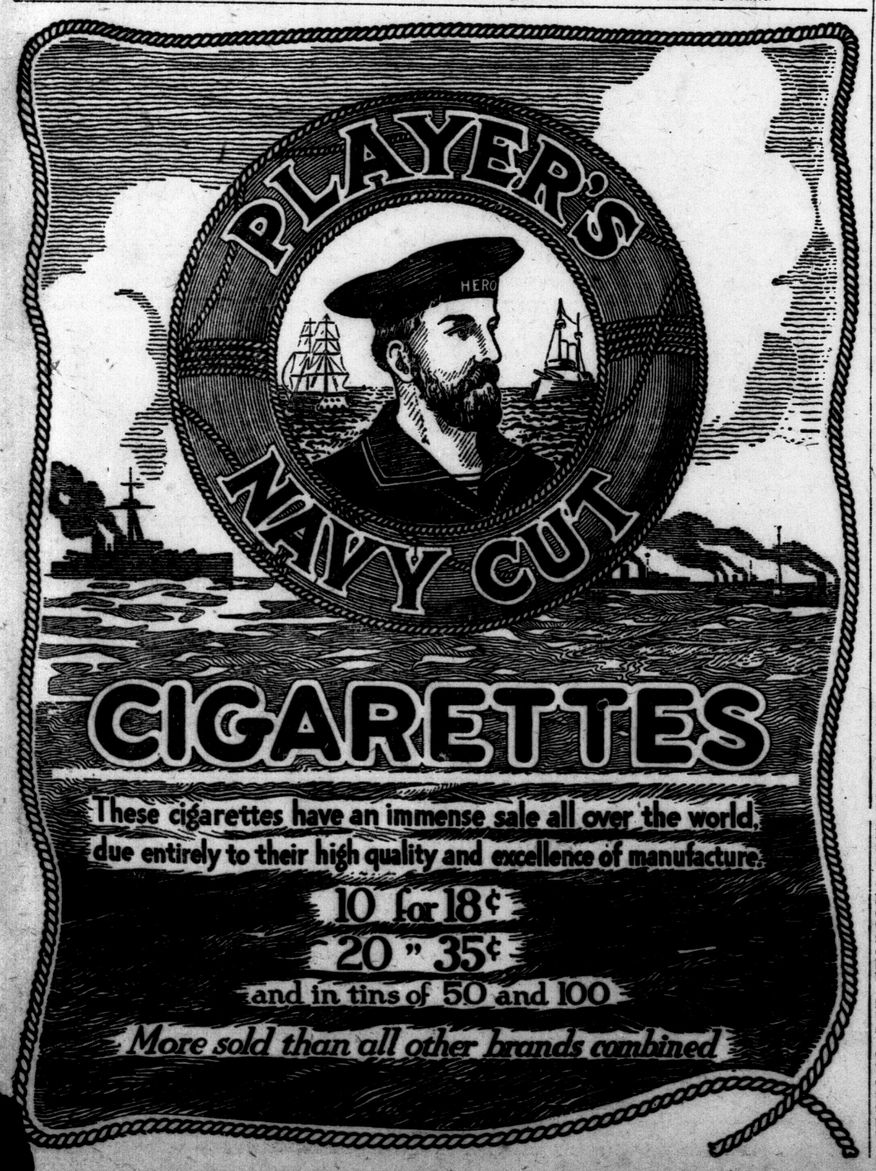

Louisville, Ky.—"I wish to thank you for what your medicine has done for me. I was in bed for eight or nine days every month and had a great deal of pain. The doctor said my only relief was an operation. I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's medicines and tried the Vegetable Compound and the Sanative Wash, and they surely did wonders for me. I feel fine all the time now, also am picking up in weight. I will tell any one that your medicines are wonderful, and you may publish my letter if you wish."—Mrs. Ed. BOEHNLEIN, 1130 Ash St., Louisville, Ky.

Backache, nervousness, painful times, irregularity, tired and run-down feelings, are symptoms of female troubles. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be taken whenever there is reason to fear such troubles. It contains nothing that can injure, and tends to tone up and strengthen the organs concerned, so that they may work in a healthy, normal manner. Let it help you as it has thousands of others. It is now selling almost all over the world.

Thrills But No Blow Comes In 9th and Tecs Win Out 4-2

Three-Run Rally in Seventh Paralyzes Punch of Mint League Leaders.

With three men on bases, two gone and two runs to tie, the Wolves watched Joe Ruane take Mizeur's bouncing grounder for a force out at third and their chances of victory slip dismally away, giving the locals a 4 to 2 count. Had Boelzle not been caught by a nice piece of strategy, Beatty drawing the Wolf catcher off first with a feint to field a bunt, while Getsie slipped up and took Mackey's quick peg to first, the Wolves would have been one run nearer victory, but that's about all the satisfaction there was to that. McCallum pitched courageous ball in this section.

A three-run rally of the Tecs in the seventh blasted the Pack's short enjoyment of a one-run lead they had attained in their half of the same frame, Barbelon stealing home on the front end of a double pilfer with Ruane to tie it. Getsie walked and Beatty punched a two-bagger to the score board, scoring both runners.

Fans Wanted Win.

A big Wednesday afternoon crowd of fans who may have thought they would like to see the Wolves win changed their minds in the heat of the struggle, and gave Umpire Griffin a merry ride at times. Griffin called one bad one on Coogan, but otherwise he was average it seemed.

The two teams hook up again today and it should be a fine battle. It will be a bitter pill for the Wolves should the ex-lowly Tecs be the means of preventing them from winning a championship, but if the Hams continue to massage the offerings of Wetzel's pitchers, as they did those of Carmen yesterday the fates won't look so silly to the Wolves.

0 RUNS, 1 HIT, 0 ERRORS.

NINTH INNING.

Bay City—Barbelon fielded Prysock's grounder nicely, but threw wild to Beatty. Boelzle continues the calamity by again singling down the third base line. Ludolph batting for Lahaie. Boelzle on a clever piece of work is nabbed off first by Getsie and Mackey. Schaefer made a long sprint after Ludolph's high pop foul and brought it down. Prysock is held at third as Barbelon knocks down Hegedorn's single. Harris walks, his fourth walk of the game. Mizeur forced Harris, Ruane to Getsie.

LIGHT AND DARK BLUES TIED SARNIANS 12-12

British Lacrosse Team Ends Canadian Tour—1,000 See Game.

Special to The Advertiser.

Sarnia, Sept. 5.—The touring Oxford-Cambridge University lacrosse team managed to effect a draw with Sarnia intermediates in the last game of the visitors' tour, when they shared two dozen goals in a finished and exciting game at Bayview Park this afternoon. Literally playing the games with padded gloves on, the locals found to their surprise that the Englishmen had a fast brand of lacrosse, and never in the game did more than two goals separate the sides.

Local society mixed with the lacrosse fans to the number of 1,000 to honor the visitors, and had much to say in favor of the absence of any heavy body checking or other rough play.

"That is how the game is meant to be played," was the popular comment.

The draw today gives the visitors the following table in 17 games played in five weeks: Lost 12, won 3, drawn 2. They got the better of Brampton, Orangeville and Orillia, and drew with Oshawa and Sarnia. Wednesday next they sail for England.

A feature of this afternoon's game was a fine display by Wansborough on the visitors' home. He annexed six of the visitors' goals, and was a continual thorn in the side of the local defence. Neilan, the visitors' captain, annexed three others. Perry, Kerr and Glintz on the Sarnia side were a strong combination and accounted for most of the tallies. Tonight the visitors were entertained by the city council and chamber of commerce to a banquet.

Period score: First, Universities 3, Sarnia 2; second, Universities 6, Sarnia 6; third, Universities 8, Sarnia 9; fourth, Universities 12, Sarnia 12.

LOWLY HAMS NICK LORDLY ACES 8-2

Lefty Carmen Pounded Hard in Fifth and Seventh Frames.

Special to The Advertiser.

Hamilton, Sept. 5.—Hamilton took the first of the series from Saginaw here today, extra base hitting being responsible for the 8 to 2 victory. Lefty Carmen was pounded hard in the fifth and seventh innings. Saginaw made as many hits as the Hams, but they were kept well scattered and but two of their clouts were for extra bases. The game was played in an hour and seven minutes, the fastest of the season at the local park. Both pitchers received perfect support, errorless ball being a habit with the Hams of late.

Down the Line In All Sports

Had the Tecs been playing the kind of baseball they are playing now a month and a half ago the turnstiles might have told a different tale.

* * *

Meantime a Grand Rapids writer says that fans will not patronize the games there because London and Hamilton are in the Mint League. Yet, despite this statement, Grand Rapids is heading the league in attendance figures.

There was a report current yesterday that Buzz Wetzel had resigned, but later it was found it was merely a wild rumor. However, there are other reports going around in connection with a conversation Kernan, the present Muskegon catcher, had with Buzz when the latter pulled off the big swap. Kernan, who is Irish and has both Celtic temperament and wit, was apparently glad to get away from Saginaw, especially from Buzz himself, and after a long-winded monologue on a few of Wetzel's shortcomings—the surface ones—he ended up with: "And as a David Harum, you'd start out with a Packard in the morning and come back with a billygoat at night."

D. F. A. CLOSES ITS ANNUAL SESSION

Inter-Provincial Transfers Are Touched Upon in New Resolution.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Fort William, Sept. 5.—The sessions of the Dominion Football Association closed shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon.

The Ontario Football Association asked for a ruling on the following point:

Where a league is composed of clubs holding membership in separate associations, and it is desired to organize a charity competition, what is the correct procedure to adopt in seeking permission to conduct the proposed competition?

The ruling was given this morning by a special committee consisting of the president and two vice-presidents, and was passed without comment.

The ruling was as follows:

"Application should be made through the respective district associations, and when same is sanctioned, should be handed to a committee for control, and in the event of refusal, should be made to the provincial association."

A resolution in the same connection was made that the president of the D. F. A. be authorized as a committee to try to sooth the difficulties that have arisen in the Toronto district, with the distinct understanding from the Toronto representative present at the convention that the decision arrived at by the president would be locally abided by.

Another resolution setting the dates for the football season reads as follows:

"Any player who signs on the D. F. A. register form in the Province of British Columbia, and who wishes to move into any other province during the season for which he is registered, must be transferred in the usual manner, and any player arriving in the Province of British Columbia after Aug. 15 and wishing to play in that province must be registered in the usual manner."

John Russell, vice-president of the D. F. A., was presented with a club bag on the occasion of his recent marriage by the officers, council members and delegates at the convention.

Dominion of Canada Football Association medals were presented to H. J Crouch and H. Scrymgour for services rendered to the association.

Secretary Davison for his services was granted an honorarium of $600.

BOTH FIGHTERS COUNTED OUT IN SAN ANTONIO BOUT

Canadian Press Despatch.

San Antonio, Sept. 5.—Boxing in a drizzling rain in an open air arena last night, a double knockout was registered by Gene Larue, Canadian flyweight champion, and "Kid" Pancho, claimant of the southern flyweight title in the fourth round of a scheduled twelve round bout. Larue landed a left to the jaw, while Pancho landed a right to the chin. Both fighters fell face down, and both were counted out.

ROYALS WIN FIRST.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Ottawa, Sept. 5.—Montreal Royals, winners of the first half of the Eastern Canada Baseball League schedule, won the first game of the play-off series here at Lansdowne Park tonight by 3 to 2, from Canadians, first half winners.

GIANTS IDLE, REDS PROMPTLY LOSE

Luque Is Hit Opportunely and the Pirates Win Second.

Associated Press Despatch.

Pittsburg, Sept. 5. — By hitting Luque opportunely, Pittsburg won their second game of the series of three, with Cincinnati winning by a score of 6 to 2. In the fifth inning the Pirates broke a 1—1 tie, scoring two runs when Luque heaved a wild pitch. Meadows, though hit frequently, was tight in the pinches.

Walford 0, Bournemouth 0.

ST. THOMAS MONARCHS BANQUETTED.

Special to The Advertiser.

St. Thomas, Sept. 5.—The Monarch football team was treated to a football supper in recognition of their splendid showing on the field this summer. The Monarch won the championship of the city league and the handsome Dowler Cup now on display in the window of R. H. & J. Dowler. Mrs. Langley, Mrs. West, Mrs. Clarke and the club officials did the serving, and helped to make the evening an enjoyable one. Monarchs are scheduled to play the junior Rovers in an exhibition tilt on the Woodworth avenue grounds Thursday night at 6 o'clock. The Monarchs will be represented by Wright, G. Langley, Smith, Chilton, Langley, J. Wilkenshaw, Harvey, West, McKenzie, Knowles, Goddard and Saunders.

YANKEES FALL ON ROOKIE IN SIXTH

Babe Ruth Hits Thirty-Third Homer in This Onslaught.

Associated Press Despatch.

Philadelphia, Sept. 5. — New York made a clean sweep of the series with the Athletics today, winning the final game of the season with the locals by 6 to 3. Hensel Hulvey, recruit pitcher from the Martinsburg club in the Blue Ridge League, weakened in the sixth inning, and the Yankees scored five runs. In this inning Ruth hit his 33rd home run of the season, tieing Cy Williams of the Phillies. Waite Hoyt, who pitched for the Yankees, was steady throughout. In the sixth inning Hale was hit on the hand by a pitched ball and forced to retire from the game.

Score: R.H.E.
New York .... 000 105 000—6 11 0
Philadelphia .... 010 000 020—3 9 2
Hoyt and Hofmann; Hulvey, Naylor and Perkins.

SENATORS WIN THIRD.

Boston, Sept. 5.—Washington made it three out of four by defeating Boston by 8 to 4 today. The visitors hit Ferguson savagely in the first two innings, when they made six runs. J. Harris hit a homer over the left field fence on the fourth pitched ball. Goslin tripled against the left center field fence, continuing his fierce hitting of the series.

The Boston American League club announced today the purchase from the Waterbury club of the Eastern League of Outfielder John Donaghue, who has been batting over .350 this season.

Score: R.H.E.

DUNDEE LOSES APPEAL OVER POSTPONED MILL

Commission Rules Johnston Within Rights in Calling Go Off.

Associated Press Despatch.

New York, Sept. 5.—Johnny Dundee, featherweight champion and lightweight champion aspirant, fought and lost one battle today, but it was not before Benny Leonard.

Before a special meeting of the New York State Athletic Committee Dundee protested vigorously against the postponement by Promoter Jimmy Johnston of the Italian's scheduled match tonight at the Yankee Stadium with the lightweight champion, but after hearing all the evidence in the situation the boxing solons upheld Johnston and sanctioned the cancellation.

The commission ruled that Johnston was within his rights in taking advantage of a clause in the fight contract permitting its abrogation in the event either the principals was defeated in other engagements before the title match. Dundee left this loophole open to the promoter as a result of his recent defeat in a bout with Eddie (Kid) Wagner in Philadelphia.

Dundee's attitude meanwhile may result in abandonment of the match altogether.

After Johnston's proposal to stage the bout at the stadium on Sept. 28, Dundee told the commission he would give his answer on Friday, but to newspapermen he flatly declared he would not go through with the match at all. Bill Gibson, Leonard's manager, however, agreed to the postponement.

Dundee manifested keen resentment against Johnston's statement yesterday that the postponement was a result of the challenger's alleged poor physical condition. Insisting that he be examined and weighed in, as he would have been if the bout was not called off, the featherweight champion declared he was never in better shape.

WINNIPEG LACROSSE SEASON ENDS IN FIGHT

Canadian Press Despatch.

Winnipeg, Sept. 5.—The local lacrosse season ended dramatically here last night, when the game in the playoff series between the Nationals and Fort Rouge for the provincial amateur championship ended in a free-for-all fight. The score was 1-1 when hostilities terminated the game. The lacrosse council immediately declared the series void and the season ended.

Three members of the National team Seater, Simonite and Jones were taken from the field to the police station in a patrol wagon. They will be charged with assault with intent to occasion bodily harm. Ashcroft of the Fort Rouge team was the victim of the attack.

RUTH MAKES 33RD HOMER OF 1923 PLAYING SEASON

Associated Press Despatch.

Philadelphia, Sept. 5.—Babe Ruth drove out his 33rd homer of the season here today in the sixth inning of the game between the New York Americans and the Philadelphia Athletics.

Ruth is now tie with Cy Williams, in the number of circuit smashes.

E. V. Rechnitzer and Harley Win 'Tiser Doubles Trophies

City Tennis Tournament Closes—Most Successful in City's History.

In one of the most interesting matches yet seen during the play for the London City tennis championships, the team of E. V. Rechnitzer and George Harley defeated Rodney Harper and O. Rechnitzer in the final round of the men's open doubles for The Advertiser trophies yesterday afternoon, 6—2, 6—1, 5—7, 6—0, on the courts of the London Tennis Club.

A large gallery turned out for the final games of the tourney. In the mixed doubles George Harley and Miss Stephenson won an easy match from Miss Baker and Arthur Ford. Miss Miller, partnered with Mrs. Eric Rechnitzer, won the finals of the ladies' open doubles after a hard-fought three-set match.

In the final play for The Advertiser trophies in the men's doubles event Harley and Rechnitzer displayed some of the finest tennis that has yet been seen in this city. Harley's net play was brilliant, and Rechnitzer was driving and serving with tremendous speed. Although Harper and O. Rechnitzer took the third set at 7—5, at no times in the match did they look like winners. Their steady placement style of play was easy picking for the winning team.

Worthy Winners.

Harley at the net was the most reliable player on the courts. His placements in that position were worthy of championship play, and, aided by the fast serve of Rechnitzer, not a game was lost with this combination. They displayed excellent team work, and were worthy winners of the doubles championship.

Rechnitzer and Harley started the first set with a rush. They won it at 6—2, and took the second in the same fashion at 6—1. The third set they led at 5—4, when E. Rechnitzer missed several easy overheads at the net. This evened the score, and with Harper serving the next game O. Rechnitzer and Harper took it on four service aces.

Commencing the third set, nothing could stop the winning combination of Harley and E. V. Rechnitzer. Harley was playing a spectacular game at the net and Rechnitzer was driving furiously and getting most of his smashes in. Harley and Rechnitzer ran the set out at 6—0 and won the championship.

In the play for the ladies' open doubles, Miss Miller and Mrs. Eric Rechnitzer defeated the team of Mrs. G. E. Reid and Miss Stephenson, 6—3, 3—6, 6—2. After the first set all players were making their shots carefully, and were afraid to hit out. It developed into a see-saw affair, and the steadier players won out.

Harley In' Another Win.

George Harley added another win to his credit when, partnered with Miss Stephenson, they defeated Arthur Ford and Miss Baker in the finals of the mixed doubles. The Harley-Stephenson combination proved to be easy winners, the score being 6—1, 6—0. Although Miss Baker and Ford did not take more than one game during the whole match, the games were evenly contested, and many of them went to deuce several times before Harley and Miss Stephenson won them. Miss Baker was decidedly off her game, and Harley's net attack upset the driving attack of the losers. Ford was playing a fair game, but stood no chance of a win because of the aggressive play of Harley at the net and the steady returns of Miss Stephenson at the back line.

The tournament this year has been one of the most successful ever staged in the city. Over 120 people entered the tourney, and excellent tennis featured almost every match. Probably the outstanding player of the past week's play is Dr. J. V. Ross. Great credit is due him for the high brand of tennis he has displayed throughout the tourney, and in nearly every match he played he won easily. Rechnitzer was expected to give him a better game in the singles, but fell down in the finals.

HUDDERSFIELD WINS IN FAST FOOTBALL GAME

Associated Press Despatch.

London, Sept. 5.—Preston North End, which have still to acquire their first victory, once more tasted the bitter fruits of defeat yesterday in the first division of the English Football Association, when they succumbed to Huddersfield, four to nothing. The Huddersfield club now ranks second in the league standing, with three wins to their credit. Preston stands second from the bottom, the cellar position being occupied by Arsenal.

A game between Southport and Durham City in the Northern Section of the third division yesterday resulted: Southport 1, Durham City 0.

CHILEAN K.-O.'S FORMER AMATEUR HEAVY CHAMP

Associated Press Despatch.

Paris, Sept. 5.—Quinton Romero, a Chilean heavyweight fighter, tonight knocked out Larry Gains, former heavyweight champion of Ontario, in the tenth round of what was to have been a twenty-round bout. The Chilean was cautious, letting Gains do all the leading in the first rounds, but always watching carefully for a chance to put over a knockout punch.

Larry Gains turned professional a few months ago when he left Toronto for England.

ST. THOMAS ALERT GRID SQUAD DOES PRACTICE

Twenty-Five Candidates Turn Out For Signal Drill At Armories.

Special to The Advertiser.

St. Thomas, Sept. 5.—The Athletics held another signal practice at the armories tonight, about 25 candidates turning out for the team. All candidates were given an opportunity to work in the positions at which they are hoping to land a regular berth, so that spare players will be as fully conversant with the system of play as the regulars. Capt. Bill Johns of the Westen U. squad had charge of the men, and expects to put a good aggregation of ball handlers on the athletic gridiron Saturday afternoon, when the Athletics oppose Sarnia.

Don McCrimmon, who was rated as one of the coming rugby players at Queen's University, showed up well in tonight's practice, and will be one of the main strengths on the line. Bruce Shaw, manager of the collegiate team twenty years ago, was another man who looked good.

"Cy" Pook, the light heavyweight boxer champion of the Dominion, was fulfilling the duties of snap back and with a little more coaching should be a whirlwind at that position. Fred Baldwin, a member of the Illinois Athletic Club, looks like the best man in the back field division.

GUELPH LEAF CUBS WIN ROUND WITH BRANTS

Took Yesterday's Mix 16--8, and Meet Hamilton Next.

Guelph, Sept. 5.—The Maple Leaf Cubs of this city went into the second round of the O. B. A. A. juvenile series when they defeated the Tigers of Brantford here this afternoon by a score of 16 to 8. The Cubs also won the first game at Brantford a week ago Saturday. They will meet the Typo Juveniles of Hamilton in the next round. There was only a small crowd on hand to witness the game today, but there was plenty of excitement, as at one stage of the game the visitors were leading by a score of 8 to 3, having scored seven runs in the fourth inning on some heavy hitting off Stevenson, the Cubs' hurler. He was replaced by Greenway, who allowed but one hit for the balance of the game, a double by the first batter to face him. After that he was the whole works. Nezio started for Brantford, but had to be taken out in the sixth, being succeeded by Radiff, who had been playing short, but he was just as easy as his team mate. The Cubs amassed a total of 20 hits, Lamont leading his team with five safe ones out of six times at bat. There were numerous errors in the first part of the game, but after the teams got settled away they improved in their playing, and some smart work was pulled off.

The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Brantford ..... 001 700 000—	8	7	6
Guelph ..... 000 041 35x—16	20	3

Batteries—Brantford—Nezio, Radiff and Sulski. Guelph — Stevenson, Greenaway and Gray.

Wilkey and Barr Win—Tom Cornelius McClary Four Win Inter-Club Title.

Entries for the L. R. C.'s postponed Labor Day tourney close tonight. Forty-two entries have already been received, and six more are required. The draw will be published in Friday papers.

Wilkey and Hall won the Scotch doubles matinee at the club Wednesday afternoon. The first three winners were: Wilkey and Hall, F. Wilson and F. Brown, C. Walker and Donaldson.

McCLARYS CHAMPS.

Tom Cornelius' McClary rink won the finals of the Inter-Club Bowling League series last night, defeating J. W. Hunt's Dorchester four, 22—18.

The McClary quartet will keep the summer trophy for a year.

LUCAN MEETS WINGHAM.

Special to The Advertiser.

Lucan, Sept. 4.—The first clash in the semi-final series between the Irish nine, winners of group 4 of the N. W. B. A., and Wingham Seniors will be played here Saturday starting at 4:30 p.m. The winner of this series will enter the finals for the championship.

The second game of the semi-finals will be played in Wingham next Thursday.

POSTPONE YACHT RACES WHEN BRITISH BOATS WIN

Associated Press Despatch.

London, Sept. 5.—The fourth day's racing of the United States and British six-metre yachts on the Firth of Clyde was cancelled with the official explanation that the collective points scored for the previous three days had given the Parker Cup to the four British yachts.

Has De Forest Turned Foe?

He can't fathom Jimmy's silent visit to his camp.

—By LUIS ANGEL FIRPO

Special to The Advertiser.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 5.—"Today Jimmy Deforest, my old trainer, came to my camp, and did not speak to me. I do not know why, for a long time we were more than trainer and prize fighter. We were friends. It is true that I paid him to work for me, but I never felt towards him like an employer to an employee. No, he was my friend, and I was his friend. It was always so.

"Then came the time when it seemed to me that I could no longer employ him to advantage. It was not that he was no longer my friend. No, it was simply that I thought he was no longer of any use to me as an employee. When he parted he acted as though he were still my friend. He said that he wished me the best of luck and that he was sure I would be successful. From the time I parted with him until now, I had thought we were friends. Then today he came to my camp, while I was sparring, and did not come to see me. He did not even say 'Hello Luis.' No, he was there, but he acted as a stranger.

"Newspaper men tell me that he talked of me to them. They say that he said unkind thing of me. I do not know why. I do not understand. If my old trainer Jimmy Deforest is angry with me, then I am sorry. He was my friend, and I do not like to lose a friend. But if he is no longer my friend then I do not care what he shall say of me. One does not expect that an enemy shall speak words of praise.

"On Thursday, I shall do no training. Some have said that I am not training hard enough. I am rather afraid that I shall train too hard." You say sometimes of a man who does well in the training camp and badly in the ring that he 'left his fight on the road.' You mean by that, as I understand it, that he used up in training all that energy that should have gone into making the great effort in the fight.

"I am careful that I do not make that mistake. I have been working hard, much harder than some of the newspaper man who do not watch me all the time think. I work hard in the early morning, on the beach, when the newspapermen are still in bed, perhaps. Certainly I do not see them there in the early morning to watch me. Then in the afternoon when I spar, it may look, to those who are not in the ring, as though I did not work hard, but if you ask my sparring partners, perhaps they will tell you that I work hard enough.

"I feel that I can with advantage take one day's rest, and I am sure that my sparring partners will benefit by the vacation. I am sure that it will be a good thing for me, and that on Friday I will begin again the work of preparation for the great fight, stronger and better for the day of rest."

VIC. FLEMING DRIVES JANE R. TO FINE WIN

Three-Year-Old Pace Develops Real Race On Detroit Card.

Special to The Advertiser.

Detroit, Sept. 5.—After being beaten in the first heat Jane R. came back to win the next two and the major portion of the $3000 Wolverine Stake, that featured the racing card at the Michigan Short Ship meet today.

From the horsebreeders' standpoint, the 3-year-old pace was the day's outstanding race. This developed into a three-heat affair with the time of the first and third being exceptionally fast for young horses.

WILLS GETS INJUNCTION OUT AGAINST BIG FIGHT

Associated Press Despatch.

New York, Sept. 5.—Paddy Mullins, manager for Harry Wills, heavyweight boxing championship aspirant, obtained an order in Brooklyn courts today directing Tex Rickard to show cause why a writ should not be issued restraining the conduct of the Dempsey-Firpo fight on Sept 14.

In his argument order Mullins declared that if the fight between Dempsey and Firpo occurs as scheduled Wills will be champion under the rules of the New York Boxing Commission, because of Dempsey's failure to meet him. He says Wills is the logical opponent of Dempsey, because he had $2,500 forfeit posted for more than a year.

Tex Rickard, when informed that Mullins had obtained an order to show cause, said the news meant nothing to him.

"If he had any legal means to stop the fight he would have done it long ago," he said. "But Mullins has no contract for Wills to fight Dempsey, and no right to one. He had a chance to sign a contract to fight Firpo, and he still has, any time he wants to come and sign."

LEAFS BAT JACK WISNER OFF HILL

Glazer Held Tribe After He Started Rescue in Second.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, Sept. 5.—Toronto took the final game of the series from Rochester today, 11 to 5. Wisner, pitching star of the Rochester team, was batted out of the box in the sixth. Glazer held the Tribe after he relieved Reynolds in the second inning. Maisel supplied the batting feature, getting a triple and three singles in five times at bat.

Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Rochester ..... 030 000 020—	5	10	2
Toronto ..... 301 004 21x—11	14	3

Wisner, Keenan and Lake; Reynolds, Glazer and Vincent.

PETS AND BEARS SPLIT.

Jersey City, Sept. 5.—Transferring their two final games with Jersey City from the Newark ball park recently destroyed by fire to the Skeeters' grounds, the Newark Bears divided today's double-header, winning the first game 4 to 2 and losing the second 4 to 0. Zellars and Ellis engaged in a pitching duel in the first game, each allowing eight hits. Newark's hitting was more timely. With the score tied in the fifth, Anderson tripled, sending in the winning runs. In the second game Hanson held Newark to one hit, while the locals touched McGarry for seven. Four of these were bunched in the second inning, which, with three passes, netted four runs and victory.

Scores:

First game—	R.	H.	E.

PERRINS MEET C. N. R. IN PLAY-OFF TONIGHT

Game Will Start At Half Past Five—Go Seven Innings.

The play-off for the championship of the Manufacturers' League between C. N. R. A. A., winners of the first series, and D. S. Perrins, second series champs, will be begun at 5:30 p.m. tonight at Queen's Park. This was decided at a meeting of league officers yesterday. If necessary, three games will be played, and all games will consist of seven-innings, and will start at 5:30 p.m. Umpires Legg and Catalano will officiate.

The games will be played on the west diamond, which has been completely gone over, graded and rolled. The stands have been moved and the diamond pronounced in the best of shape for the series. The early start of the games will make it possible to finish the seven innings well before dark.

The probable line-ups will be:

C. N. R. A. A. A.—Gillies, c.; Pring, p.; McLeod, 1b.; Sumner, 2b.; Vinen, s.s.; George, 3b.; Baker, c.f.; Watts, r.f.; Maylott, r.f.; Smith, Goddard and Roberts, spares. The batting order was not announced.

D. S. Perrin—Wilson, 2b.; Connors, s.s.; Henry, 1b.; Fitchett, c.f.; Hodgson, c.; Howe, 3b.; Tupholme, r.f.; Chantler, l.f.; McCallum, p.; Gettsinger, spare.

HENDERSON SKIPS WINNING RINK IN MIXED TOURNEY

Alf Henderson skipped the winning rink in the mixed bowling tournament at St. Matthew's Bowling Club yesterday, winning the two games played with a total score of 26. C. B. Hillier skipped the second place rink, which also won both games, with a total score of 21.

The winning rink was: Mrs. F. Wilson, Mrs. J. Banks, J. Burnham and Alf Henderson, skip. Hillier's rink was as follows: Mrs. L. Phillips, Mrs. W. Cribbs, Frank Wilson and C. B. Hillier.

Ten rinks took part in the tourney, which was very successful. There will be no bowling tonight, but on Saturday afternoon the Scotch doubles will be held. The draw will be made at 2 p.m., and play will commence at 2:15 sharp. A big entry is expected.

CLEARVILLE FISHERMAN SAY CATCH IS POOR

Duart, Sept. 5.—The Clearville fishermen have had a very poor season so far, the catch being exceptionally light. Unless the fall season proves more remunerative, the entire catch for the season will not cover the operating outlay. Other points along this part of the lake shore report the same condition.

Dempsey Starts Hurricane Finish To Condition Grind

Sparring Partners Under Orders To Discard Wraps and Give Champ All They've Got—Loses Burke, Who Battles Tunney On Friday.

By ROBERT EDGREN.

Copyright.

Special to The Advertiser.

Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 5.—Jack Dempsey is starting a hurricane finish to the training season for his fight with Luis Firpo. From today on, his sparring partners will have to take a lot of hard knocks. But as they outnumber the champion half a dozen to one, and are all instructed to reach him with every punch they can put over, and sock as hard as they can, Dempsey isn't starting any picnic for himself. Jack Burke will be absent from the melee for a couple of days. He has an engagement of some importance himself, as he is to meet Gene Tunney for the American light-heavyweight title on Friday evening. Dempsey is very much interested in Burke's chance to become a champion. "Burke weighs 175 pounds now," Dempsey said at dinner last night, "and he's fast at that weight." He can sock, too, and he can take 'em. The harder I hit him the harder he fights. I wouldn't be surprised to see him beat anybody at the light-heavyweight limit."

George Godfrey, the clever 200-pound colored boy who does much of the hard fighting with Dempsey, hasn't had much luck with his ring engagements while acting as sparring partner. At Shelby, Godfrey was to have fought in the semi-final to the Dempsey-Gibbons match and unfortunately failed to remove his ribs from the path of one of Dempsey's hard right punches a week before the engagement. The ligaments holding said ribs in place were pulled loose and Godfrey was plastered up for a month and couldn't box anybody.

Had Hard Luck Again.

Last week Godfrey went away from Saratoga, with Jack's blessing, to fight Bill Tate, Dempsey's old sparring partner. Jack thought it would be a great joke if Godfrey knocked Tate out. Godfrey was in fine shape, but his luck failed again. Somebody skipped with the gate receipts on the night of the show, and there was no fight. Godfrey came back here to Saratoga to be one of Dempsey's hired help again. Fortunately, Dempsey is loose with his money as far as his boys are concerned. He pays them well for the thumps they give and take.

The day of rest indulged in by the champion after Labor Day's hard work gone through to please the big crowd, did him a lot of good. He was full of pep and in good humor.

"I have my own way of training," Dempsey said. "I train a long time, but I don't train hard every day. In the old days when fighters didn't take care of themselves between fights, they had to sweat out a lot of stuff with hard work. I always take care of my condition. I train a little all the time, and I don't drink or smoke or do anything else to hurt myself as a fighter. I know no champion will last forever, and I intend to last as long as I can. When I'm licked, it's going to be because I met a better man, and not because I threw the championship away. I wish I'd known what I know now when I was a boy. I traveled with a hard crowd for a while. But then I began to meet better people and I wanted to be like them. I cut the tough bunch cold. They never forgave me for it and I never went back.

Has Right To Improve.

A fellow has a right to study and learn and improve himself, and if you're with a bunch that can't see it that way—just wants to hang on to you and drag you down—the best thing is to drop them and drop them hard. I've started to learn a lot of things, and when I'm through fighting nobody's ever going to point at me and say, "See that poor bum—that's Jack Dempsey. He used to be a pretty good fighter, but he's just like the rest of the bums—no brains.'"

Dempsey's theory of training includes a complete rest for a day or so whenever he feels that he is getting into ring condition too soon.

"I could have been ready for Firpo in just about two weeks," he said. "I trained hard for Gibbons, went hunting and fishing in the mountains after that fight, and was almost ready to fight again any time. But people don't think you mean it unless you train a month or six weeks. So I am putting in a lot of time. I lay off when I'm getting too near on edge, and figure my work to bring me to my best trim September 14. I'll be just right on that day."

Dempsey declines to hazard any guess about the length of the fight.

"I always try to get these big fellows quick," he said. "What's the use of letting them stay? They might put one over on me any time. I figure a fellow like Firpo isn't whipped until he's counted out. I'll get him with the first punch if I have a chance, or in the first round. They say he's the strongest man I ever fought. He may be able to take it, and then it's a case of which of us will weaken first. I'm ready for anything that happens. I make my fighting plan right in the ring after the fight starts, when I find what the other fellow has. These birds that plan their fight in advance are likely to get socked. They have one thing in mind, when they ought to be ready for anything. You can tell the world for me that it'll be short and sweet if I can make it that way, but that I'm not underestimating Firpo. He's a big, tough fellow who can sock, and nobody can tell me that kind of a fighter hasn't always got a chance. I don't expect an easy fight."

Ticket Rush Grows.

The rush for tickets in New York has grown so strong that speculators are now charging prices based entirely on the number of rows from the ring. The law limits seat prices at any boxing match in New York to $25 a seat, with war tax added, making $27.50. Seats twenty rows back are selling for $85 a pair. Seats in the front rows have sold, in some cases, as high as $100 a seat. The speculators have blocks of seats and there is little trouble in buying five or ten seats together in any row from the sixth back, if you have the price and don't care for money. The only question a speculator asks, when the tickets are applied for, is, "Where do you want them?"

The official ticket sale at the Garden is practically finished, as there are few tickets left. There is no doubt that much of the original ticket buying has been done by speculators, who got the jump on the general public and are now making the public pay fancy prices. According to Tex Rickard, people who pay big prices for ringside seats close to the ring are going to be stung, as the ring platform has been built unusually high, and those seated farther back will have a better view of the fight.

SABINE KEEPS HIS QUOITING TITLE

Beats Callendar 61--38—Reed of Delaware Beaten.

Special to The Advertiser.

Woodstock, Sept. 5. — Robert Sabine today retained the international quoiting championship by defeating Ex-Champion Robert Callender of Toronto Victorias by a score of 61—38. The champion was always best. He had lost none of his cunning in finding the peg. Callender, despite his many years "at quoiting, kept the champion always right on the peg. One other game, which attracted the fans' attention, was the duel between Reid of Delaware and Hunter of Woodstock for third place in the first series. The local man was pitching a nice quoit, and he kept ahead after the first few ends. Today's play:

DOWN AND PRING HELP GROOM SAINT BATTERS

Special to The Advertiser.

St. Thomas, Sept. 5.—"Hank" Down, and Pring of the London senior club are scheduled to work against George Nethercott's team in batting practice at Pinafore Park Thursday and Friday nights. In the past few games the locals have been putting up a wonderful exhibition in the field, not a possible chance in the infield being passed, but the hitting has fallen off somewhat. Friendly Graham, who will likely oppose the Saints, is due for a warm reception if the St. Thomas boys have any say in the matter. Every member of the team is intent upon getting at least one single off the Galt hurler, and if some of the swatters have it their way there will be more than a single lifted up. Manager Nethercott this evening was undecided who he would send against the Terriers, but both Billings and McPhee are going good and with the kind of support that was given the Chatham series should have nothing to worry about from the Galt bunch. A special train of twelve coaches has been chartered on the C. P. R. and tickets to the Galt ball field and grandstand will be sold by Secretary Dake on the train. The special will leave the M. C. R. depot at 11:30 and start on the return journey from Galt at 8 o'clock.

Men, a comfortable face
Cleaner, quicker shaves!

No man can avoid shaving, that is certain. But millions of men have learned how to avoid the unpleasant part.

Now we offer you the same opportunity they had—to find out how quicker, cleaner shaves may be had with an absence of skin irritation.

It took us 18 months to perfect PALMOLIVE SHAVING CREAM for you. We made 130 laboratory experiments. But we produced a shaving cream that, in 5 distinct ways, makes shaving easier—and much quicker:

It multiplies itself 250 times in a foamy mass of lather.

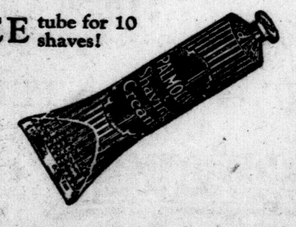

It softens the most unruly beard in one minute—without "rubbing in."

The lather will last for 10 minutes if necessary — rich, moist—on your face.

Bubbles are extra strong. Cutting is cleaner, easier, because they hold each hair erect.

After shaving, your skin is left cool, smooth, by the carefully blended palm and olive oils.

We know that a shave like this will delight you. That's why we stake our reputation to you in making this offer—an offer on which you cannot lose. Post the coupon today. Get your first 10 delightful shaves, free.

DRESSES

Style Distinction Dominates Ladies' Gowns

This Season New Colors Are Receiving Special Attention

The shades are especially beautiful and pleasing. Among the very new shades in Silk fabrics will be found such as Malay, an exquisitely soft shade of dark brown; then squirrel, an inimitable lustrous color between brown and taupe, very new; then India, that gorgeous restful red of the east, so rich, bespeaking luxury and ease, and Manderine again in contrast, that sprightly red which blends so well with the more sober other articles of ladies' apparel. A specially rich shade of Silver is also popular in gowns of the hour, yet black and navy retain their dominant reign amidst all the range of ever-changing colors.

In style the subtle genius of art joined with the practiced modiste's hand in producing the most graceful and novel features in Ladies' Gowns is materialized.

Tier effects, surmounted with variegated beaded designs, new circular sleeves in full length, intermingling of lace in bodice combined with novel skirt flouncings are especially attractive.

Self Girdles and grouped Rosettes made from the material of the dress are very pronounced in recent designs.

All these gowns range in price from $18.00 to $36.00 and are the product of our own factory on the premises and sold at factory prices.

The Pile Fabric Coat

Is Par Excellence the Garment of Fashion For This Season

These fabrics require specially constructed looms to produce the correct weave, and also finishing machinery which is only possessed by certain mills.

We were fortunate in having satisfactory business connections with these concerns, which are the most prominent on the continent, and so secured their Gerona, Fashona, Veldrosa, Brytonia, Buroline and Velora brands.

These garments must be seen and fitted on in order to appreciate their excellence of style, richness of appearance and beauty of outline.

Fur trimmings feature largely in the finishing of these garments. Fancy floss stitchings and novel fastening are shown on several high-class models.

LABOR COUNCIL STAGES BATTLE

Secretary Burke Describes Opponents As "Reds" and "Disruptionists."

MOULD MAKES REPLY

The last hour and a half of last night's meeting of the Trades and Labor Council developed into a heated battle between Delegates Arthur Mould and J. F. Thompson on one side and Secretary Burke on the other, in which unparliamentary language was often employed. It was adjourned at 11 p.m. as the secretary was speaking, only on the assurance of all the delegates in attendance that the matter would certainly be continued and fought to a finish at the next meeting of the council.

After a quiet evening in which there was no hint of the impending flood of eloquence and personality, J. F. Thompson rose at 9:25 to speak on a point of privilege and to read a letter which had been written by Secretary Burke to S. F. Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, dated July 6th, in which he made the following statements: "That in order to stop the red elements in the London Trades and Labor Council from gaining control I wish a ruling as to whether Arthur Mould and J. F. Thompson have a right to be members of the Federation, as unless something is done the council is in danger of being disrupted." The latter stated that Arthur Mould "is an employer of labor, was never a member of any craft union, and that many local unions had left the council on account of the 'red' activities of these two men. The letter also stated that during the war Mould and Thompson, together with their friends, had used the funds of the council to start a labor temple.

Thompson Asks Apology.

In comment, Delegate Thompson asked that the secretary be requested to repudiate his letter. "Why," he said, "I don't suppose Delegate Burke knows what a "red" is. "In any case," he added, "all this is only politics, and I take it as a great credit that a man who uses the same language as E. S. Little and C. R. Somerville, those kind friends of labor, should attack me. If Brother Burke had tried very hard to find the facts he would have discovered that Mould was a member of a craft union. "As for me," he went on, "I have nothing to be ashamed of. I had four sons in the war and four daughters doing war work. I went through the submarine area twice with horses, and my standing as a labor man should be assured when I say that I have served four times as secretary of my union."

Mould Starts Attack.

Arthur Mould, in speaking for himself, though constantly interrupted by Delegate Young, said: "I have been told on reliable authority that the same men who are the political friends of Secretary Burke have promised that unless I left the labor movement they would put the financial skids under me, and they have done their best so far.

"I am a labor man because I believe in it and because it is my religion, and I did not join the union because I was afraid of the government, as he says. When the secretary says that I and my friends took the funds of the labor movement to build a labor temple my answer is that a committee was formed to rent this building with the funds collected, and that the committee was composed of Frank McKay, John Cummings, Jack McGuire, R. H. Hessell, A. F. Vining, J. Hill H. Lediet, W. Ballard and myself. Are these men all dangerous 'Reds'?"

In conclusion Mr. Mould said, "There is no man who can say to me on the street that I have sheltered behind my wife and children by joining the labor movement, and I say distinctly to Secretary Burke that he is a liar."

Burke Counter-Attacks.

The secretary in replying to this joint attack owned that he had written the letter, but said that he saw nothing wrong with it. "I think that Mould and Thompson are 'Reds,'" he declared, "because they are friends of Jimmy Simpson, Malcolm Bruce and MacDonald in Toronto, and they are all Bolshevists. I believe that they want to produce the same conditions here as are in vogue in Russia today. As for Thompson, to my knowledge he never worked at anything, and the status of both these men has been questioned by a large number of men in the city for some time."

There was a great deal of comment and interruption all through the discussion, Delegate Linnell being insistent on the rights of Thompson and Mould, and Fred Young being equally insistent as to the correctness of the secretary. Eleven o'clock struck while Secretary Burke was speaking, and the meeting was adjourned, in accordance with the constitution of the council. There were strenuous assurances on all sides that the question would never rest until it was settled in some way.

RAIN CHECKS GREAT CONFLAGRATION IN TOKIO

JAPANESE CITIES STILL SHAKEN BY EARTHQUAKES

Death and Desolation Prevail Over Wide Area Around Tokio and Yokohama—Six Million People Reported Homeless—Latest Estimates Place Dead at 30,000.

RELIEF SENT FROM ALL PARTS OF WORLD

The Japanese nation, stricken by what is probably the greatest disaster of the modern era, turns bravely to the tremendous tasks ahead, marshaling her shattered resources to succor the hundreds of thousands who suffer from injury and from hunger, and laying her plans for the rebuilding of her ruined cities.

While the rest of the world hurries its ships of war and commerce, deep-laden with relief supplies, to Japanese waters, Premier Yamamoto broadcasts a message to his people urging them to unite in the trying hours through which they are passing and appealing to them to make a supreme effort to relieve the suffering and expedite the work of reconstruction.

The cables say that already orders for building materials have been received in England, while leading construction engineers and architects in New York have proffered their assistance in making a new Japan.

Yokohama is a city of desolation, far more severely smitten than is the capital, Tokio. The great port of Japan has been completely destroyed, with a tremendous loss of life. The city's streets and canals are filled with dead and injured; one despatch says that only three or four houses have been spared. The harbor is practically of no value to the relief ships, for the floor has been raised, the breakwaters torn asunder, and the many lighthouses, with only two exceptions, demolished.

Five hundred foreigners are said to have been killed in Yokohama. The Japanese home office this morning announced that in Tokio 30,000 are dead, 100,000 injured, and 350,000 are homeless. These are the first official figures issued. No official count of the victims in Yokohama or the other cities of the devastated area has yet been made.

Canada is taking a prominent part in the work of rescue.

Despatches from Kobe say that refugees pay warm tribute to the work of officers and men of Canadian ships which were in Japanese waters when the upheaval came, and which promptly were rushed to the scene of the disaster to care for the survivors. The Canadian ship Empress of Canada arrived at Kobe on Wednesday with 1,400 refugees. The Empress of Australia is at Yokohama serving as a home for refugees.

Special Cable to The Advertiser.

Tokio, Sept. 6.—Earthquake shocks are still continuing in Tokio. Rain has stopped the great conflagration which swept the capital unchecked for 72 hours.

Yokohama is utterly annihilated. Most of the foreigners are dead. Six million people are homeless in the devastated area. The losses will mount into billions of dollars, while the dead and wounded will go into thousands.

Charred ruins, fragments of houses, cover the sites of once thriving cities and towns in the earthquake zone, which presents a scene of utter desolation.

A merciful rain has fallen upon Tokio. Like an angry beast, resisting efforts to drive it from a bloody feast of human bodies and habitations, the great fire which had swept the city for three days and three nights, hissing and enveloping the wreckage in clouds of steam, has finally died down. This enables work of rescue to proceed in more orderly fashion, and scores of the injured are being brought into relief stations.

Wild, weird and fantastic are the scenes as the people of the city endeavor to adjust themselves to conditions of the disaster. Slender youths walk through the streets carrying big Japanese swords, aiding the police and military in maintaining order, and assisting in the search for bodies.

RUSH SHIPS TO AID.

Special to The Advertiser.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 6.—Steamers from Seattle and Portland are steaming today toward Tokio carrying relief supplies for stricken Japanese.

This armada of mercy will be augmented en voyage by steamers from San Francisco and from other coast ports.

The entire rice crop of California is to be shipped to Japan.

The naval supply ship Arctic is loading supplies at Mare Island, the naval station in San Francisco bay. Sufficient food to last 28,000 people for 30 days will be carried on this one vessel. The loading is being rushed and will be finished within 48 hours.

The Vega, another naval supply ship, is unloading its regular cargo preparatory to taking on relief supplies.

The Japanese colony here feels fear for the fate of Princess Nagako Luni, who was to have become the bride of Prince Regent Hirchito next month. No word has come regarding the princess or any members of her family. The regions of Kamakuro and Chiba, where they had summer homes, have been devastated.

The colony is also wondering where the prince regent will establish his residence now that Tokio is in ruins. It is believed he might reopen the old palace at Kyoto.

PRINCE IS KILLED.

Associated Press Despatch.

Peking, Sept. 6.—Prince Hirotada of the house of Kwacho was killed in a train tunnel near Yokosuka during a cave-in caused by the earthquake, according to despatches received here. It is also reported that Dowager Princess Kaya was burned to death at Kamaquara, and that Princess Hiroko Kanin was crushed to death in the family villa at Odawara. It was stated that Prince Kanin, who was also at Odawara, is missing.

Reports also confirmed the death of Prince Tadashige Shimazu, head of the Satsuma clan, who was crushed to death in his village at Oiso; also of Prince Matsukata, one of the principal "genro," or elder statesmen of the empire.

About forty foreigners were killed when the earthquake destroyed the famous Fuji-Ya Hotel, and wiped out the adjacent village of Miyanoshita, in the mountainous district of Hakone.

The police of Chiba, at the northeast corner of Tokio Bay, report a new island off the Izu Peninsula, while they say the Island of Oshima, which contained an active volcano, is invisible, and is feared to have gone down with its 10,000 or more inhabitants.

RESPONDS TO APPEAL.

Associated Press Despatch.

Washington, Sept. 6.—The American Red Cross appeal for a $5,000,000 relief fund, to be administered for Japanese relief, has met a quick response. Approximately 320,000 tons of shipping in the Pacific has been placed at the disposal of the Red Cross by the shipping board for the transportation of supplies.

AUSTRALIA SENDS AID.

Associated Press Despatch.

Melbourne, Sept. 6.—The Australian government has appropriated $3,000,000 for the relief of the Japanese earthquake sufferers. One-sixth of this amount has already been cabled to Tokio. A relief ship carrying foodstuffs and clothing will also be sent.

BANK FUNDS SAVED.

Associated Press Despatch.

Osaka, Sept. 6.—All money in the Bank of Japan vaults was saved from destruction in the fire which followed the earthquake and tidal wave, it became known here today.

A recapitulation of the earthquake and fire area today showed Yokohama as its center, extending north and south about 100 miles, and 140 miles east and west from that city.

This area includes 33 counties and five large cities, inhabited by 7,000,000 people, who were caught in the disaster. It is estimated that about 70 per cent of the cities and towns within the stricken area were destroyed.

Yokohama, according to reports received here, was totally destroyed, and only about one-forth of Tokio remains.

The fire at Yokohama brought freedom to felons confined in prison there, as they were released when it became apparent that the prison was in the path of the flames.

Additional divisions of troops have been ordered from Osaka to Tokio, equipped with provisions and machine guns.

MAKES GIFT OF LUMBER.

Associated Press Despatch.

Tacoma, Wash., Sept. 6.—A gift of lumber worth $1,500,000, for the rebuilding of the devastated area of Japan, was voted here yesterday by the Price Commission.

DONATE BIG SUMS.

Associated Press Despatch.

New York, Sept. 6.—Donations of $100,000 each from John D. Rockefeller, Jun., and from the Laura Spelman Rockefeller Foundation for the relief of sufferers in the Japanese earthquake disaster have been announced.

PERFECTS RELIEF WORK.

By CLIFFORD FOX.

Special Cable to The London Advertiser and Chicago Daily News. Copyright.

Peking, Sept. 6.—The Japanese government has notified embassies here that it will not attempt to answer inquiries regarding missing foreigners until it has perfected complete relief work measures.

Reports reaching here state that 7,800 patients were burned to death in the Imperial Government Hospital at Yokohama.

The American embassy in Tokio is reported destroyed. The British embassy was saved, although it caught fire on the second day of the earthquake.

Korea Sends Rice.

Korea today is sending a million bags of rice to Tokio and Yokohama for relief purposes.

Refugees from Yokohama reaching Kobe today confirm earlier reports that Max Kirjassoff, American consul-general at Yokohama, and his wife, both were killed in Saturday's earthquake. Kirjassoff formerly was stationed at Dairen. He was 35 years

BROADCASTS APPEAL.

Premier Yamamoto of Japan, in his first public utterance made today, sent broadcast by wireless from Nagasaki, appeals to the people of Japan to unite in the trying hours through which they are passing, antd make a supreme effort to relieve the sufferers from the earthquake and hasten the work of reconstruction.

THINKS CANADIAN LAW ON CHINESE IS HIGH-HANDED

Dr. Tsur Says Immigration Legislation Entirely Out of Line.

MAY CAUSE BREAK

Canadian Press Despatch.

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 6.—That the new legislation enacted by the Canadian parliament at its last session regulating Chinese immigration was considered by the Chinese Government in Peking as high-handed and entirely out of line with the relations which should exist between two friendly countries, was the statement attributed yesterday to Consul General Chilien Tsur, of the republic of China, in an interview. Dr. Tsur is here from Ottawa en route to Peking to report to his government on the new bill regulating Chinese immigration. He sails today on the Empress of Russia.

Dr. Tsur considers his recall to China in a measure as a break in the relations between the two countries

AGE LIMIT IS FIXED FOR CIVIC EMPLOYEES

The Mayor Thinks No New Employee Should Be More Than 45 Years Old.

No person should enter the city's employ who has attained the age of 45 years.

This was the limit set today by Mayor Wenige, who adds that he will propose the same at the next meeting of city officials.

"We will have another of our informal gatherings for the heads of departments right after the Fair," the mayor explained. "And then I will introduce this proposal. I think there should be an age limit for hiring as well as for retiring city employees and officials."

FROM ALD. WILSON TO THE MAYOR.

Ald. William Arthur Wilson bobbed up again today at the city hall with the declaration that "Mayor Wenige has a lot to learn about municipal procedure before he can teach me anything. That's for publication," directed the ex-chairman of the board of works. "I want to state today that the proposed Oxford street paving project is done for this year, no matter what Mayor Wenige's opinion may be."

SAYS ENROLLMENT IN CITY SCHOOLS SAME AS 1922

Inspector Greer Reports Pupils Beginning Term Number 8,100.

ATTENDANCE GOOD

London's school population has not increased over 1922, according to Chief Public Schools Inspector V. K. Greer, who this morning stated that the enrollment at the public schools at the beginning of the term was 8,100.

Although many new pupils are reported in all grades of the schools, the enrollment figures are approximately the same as they were last year. Mr. Greer accounts for this by families moving into the city in the same proportion as they have moved out, thereby keeping the population about the same.

There are as yet no bad signs of overcrowding, and Mr. Greer is in hopes that this will be eliminated altogether this year. Although in some of the classes there may be a little overcrowding for the first few days, he expects that this will right itself when the classes get settled down to work and the teachers and officials can then see just what action is necessary.

"We are very well pleased with the way the pupils are coming back," he stated, "and I have every reason to believe that this will be a banner year for the public schools of the city."

One of the features of the opening of the schools this year, according to Marcus Sims, schools attendance officer, is the interest that the parents are evidently showing in getting their children off to an early start. This is more noticeable this year than ever before, judging from the attendance.

According to the same official, but one thing mars the otherwise perfect start, and that is the proximity of the Western Fair.

"It is to be hoped," said Mr. Sims, "that although the Fair opens next week, that parents will not allow their children to stay away from school on this account. A week at the beginning of the school year means a lot to the pupils, and the Fair should not be allowed to interfere with their studies."

WILL CARRY ON DUTIES OF LATE INCOME CHIEF

Assessment Commissioner Says No Successor to A. S. Glass Will Be Named This Year.

No successor will be appointed this year to the late Arthur S. Glass, former income tax chief in the city assessment department, Assessment Commissioner Harry Bennett reported today that he had already received numerous applications for the vacancy.

It is his opinion, however, that there is now no great rush for an appointment, and that the question can be safely left until 1924.

"Our big rush for this season is practically over," Mr. Bennett explained, "and with the competent men available in my department I shall be able to continue our work efficiently until the end of the year."

From present indications it seems likely that the council will vote that the remainder of the salary that would have gone to the late income chief be paid his surviving dependants. The aldermen have already briefly considered a similar proposal.

CHINESE GOVERNOR FLEES FROM HUNAN PROVINCE

Associated Press Despatch.

Shanghai, Sept. 6.—Chao Heng-Ti, military governor of Hunan Province, has fled from Changsha, the capital, leaving the province under the control of Sun Yat Sen, South Chinese Constitutionalist leader. The new situation has created a profound sensation in Chinese circles.

N. Y. POLICE BUDGET.

Associated Press Despatch.

New York, Sept. 6.—Police Commissioner Enright today submitted an estimate of $34,770,573 for the tentative police department budget for 1924, an increase of $2,726,350 over this year's expenditures.

EXHIBITORS BUSY GETTING READY FOR LONDON FAIR

Queen's Park Is Scene of Great Activity Preparing For Opening.

DISPLAYS ARRIVE

Anticipation is fast becoming realization in so far as the Western Fair is concerned.

A visit to Queen's Park this morning showed nothing but feverish activity in all parts of the grounds. Tents are being erected, large marquees for the serving of tea and housing of exhibits are being fitted up; in the new Manufacturers' Building the predominating sound is that of the hammer and saw, men working their fastest to get the many booths in shape. The Machinery Building is ready for the reception of the agricultural and other exhibits, several of these being already on the grounds; motors line the various drives within the grounds, showing the interest that is being taken in fixing things up, but the busiest place of all is the building where the offices of the association are situated.

This morning a steady line of people, exhibitors, workmen, etc., besieged the offices with requests for directions, passes, etc., swamping the staff and keeping them working at all times.

The interior of the Manufacturers' Building is rapidly assuming the shape in which it will appear to the public gaze. Downstairs the spaces for the various exhibits of motors and accessories are practically completed, only lacking the arrival of the exhibits themselves. Upstairs the booths where the various products of London and outside manufacture will be displayed, are nearing completion, in some cases firms having their product already on hand for placing in position.

The entry lists in the many classes closed last night, and Mr. Hunt, secretary, regretfully informed several would-be exhibitors of this fact this morning. Nevertheless the entry list is larger than in past years and keen competition is expected.

Large exhibits of the work of the soldier patients at Westminster and Byron Hospitals have been arranged for and will exceed any of the past.

TO EXPLAIN METHODS OF EGG INSPECTION

Government Officials Here Will Give Public Demonstration.

Two Dominion government egg inspectors are in London at the present time regarding the regulations for grading and marking eggs. As soon as can be arranged they will give a public demonstration in the market house for all interested, and it is thought that much good will be derived from their illustration.

Regulations regarding this new act have been published under the direction of the minister of agriculture, and embrace many classes and grades. Canadian eggs for export, and all eggs for domestic consumption, as well as eggs for ships' stores shall be candled and graded according to the rules of the act.

It is also provided that any duly authorized inspector of the government may enter any premises or conveyance to make an examination of any case or container of eggs suspected of being falsely marked. Canadian standard cases shall be made of clean, dry and odoriless wood to hold 50 dozen. After a case containing eggs has been emptied the government mark on same shall be obliterated. In all, the new regulations make it almost impossible for consumers to buy other than government-marked eggs.

NAME LATE U. S. PRESIDENT FOR NOBEL PEACE PRIZE

Associated Press Despatch.

Copenhagen, Sept. 6.—The late President Harding is included in a list of about 30 persons who are being proposed as recipients of the Nobel peace prize, says the Christiania Aftenposten. In connection with the mention of Mr. Harding's name, it is recalled that post mortem awards of the prize are permitted by the statutes.

NOW IN YOKOHAMA.

These two young ladies left Canada together to engage in missionary work in Japan. They arrived in Yokohama just 24 hours after the terrific disaster which wrecked the city, leaving it utterly destroyed. Miss Helen McGregor, shown at the right, is a niece of the Misses McGregor, Chestnut, street, Brantford, who left Canada upon her graduation from Victoria College, Toronto. Miss Edith McGillivary (left), graduated from Victoria College at the same time as Miss McGregor, leaving on the same boat with her for Japan. Miss McGillivary is a daughter of Rev. Dr. McGillivary, a missionary serving at Shanghai.

Makes Persistent Effort To Restore Turkish Harem

Associated Press Despatch.

Angora, Sept. 6.—Persistent efforts are being made in Turkey to restore the harem as a national institution. Polygamy was abolished more than a year ago by a resolution passed by the national assembly.

At the head of the current attempt to put through the assembly a resolution recognizing the harem as a national economic necessity is Salib Hodja, a teacher. The "old guard" in and out of the assembly is rallying to his support. But Mustapha Kemal, himself a monogamist, has opposed Salib's measures, and all of them have been voted down. The nationalist party, as a whole, is opposed to a reversion to the old domestic order.

PRIZE-WINNING BULL SELLS FOR $16,600

Animals at Argentine Stock Show Suffer From Disease.

By CLAUDE O. PIKE.

Special Cable to The London Advertiser and Chicago Daily News. Copyright.

Buenos Aires, Sept. 6.—A Shorthorn bull, adjudged grand champion of the Argentina national stock show, has been sold for 50,000 pesos, or approximately $16,600 in American gold. Other prizewinners brought lower prices than in previous years, the reason generally ascribed being the crisis in the live stock industry resulting from the loss of European markets since the economic breakdown overseas.

The stock show has a magnificent exhibition of horses, cattle and sheep. More than 1,100 registered bulls and 300 cows were entered in the competitions.

The presence of isolated cases of hoof and mouth disease in the country caused many stock raisers to refrain from entering animals, and despite the precautions taken by officials, the disease made its appearance at the show, with the result that approximately fifty bulls and cattle, including several prizewinners, died.

AMERICAN RAILROADS EARN $89,491,400 DURING JULY

Associated Press Despatch.

Washington, Sept. 6.—Railroad earnings in the United States during July amounted to $84,491,400, according to an estimate today by the American Railway Association, which was at the annual rate of 4.93 per cent on their tentative valuation as fixed by the interstate commerce commission.

The net income for the month compares with $69,321,000, or 4.12 per cent, for the same month last year, but is a decrease from the estimated rate of 5.47 per cent in June of this year.

AUTUMN FICTION.

It is expected at the city hall that the season's record for the best fish story will be smashed the latter part of the month. Superintendent Dodds of the garbage department, leaves Sept. 15 upon a fishing expedition.

THINK MORATORIUM UNLIKELY IN JAPAN

British Financial Experts Claim Country's Foreign Balances Large.

Associated Press Despatch.

London, Sept. 6.—The report anticipating that Japan will declare a moratorium which for the moment rests solely on the authority of a British insurance company's agent at Osaka, is regarded here as premature by the few financial writers who refer to such a step in the morning papers.

The Morning Post's financial writer thinks it unlikely that any such arrangement would extend to Japan's external loan, as the Japanese government balances abroad are very large. On the other hand there is a possibility that fresh Japanese borrowings would naturally be affected by existing loans, although, says the writer, even today few foreign governments would obtain loans on better terms than Japan.

SAYS MOTOR LICENSES NEED BE INCREASED

Hon. G. S. Henry States More Revenue Required For Good Roads Work.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Stratford, Sept. 6.—While in the city yesterday in connection with highway work going on in this vicinity, Hon. George S. Henry, minister of public works and highways, hinted that the price of automobile licenses would have to be raised to provide needed revenue. He stated that the returns from motor licenses were not keeping pace with money advanced to counties for good roads, and that more money must be found.

Mr. Henry gave little encouragement for the paving of the road to St. Marys, but stated that it would be kept up as a gravel road. He further held out little hope for the extension of the pavement to Shakespeare, being concerned to get what was already contracted for completed. He expressed disapproval of the way in which the widening of roads was being carried on, and said he did not intend to continue it.

WILL CONSECRATE NEW BYRON LODGE MONDAY EVENING

Masonic Grand Master To Officiate at Important Ashlor Lodge Ceremony.

THE NEW OFFICERS

Ashlar Lodge, No. 610, A., F. and A. M., at Byron, is to be dedicated and consecrated next Monday by the grand master of Ontario.

On this occasion also the grand master of the Grand Lodge of Canada, W. M. Bro. W. J. Drope, together with a number of grand lodge officers, will open grand lodge in the Byron lodge rooms.

The grand master's visit to Byron will in all probability be the only one of an official nature paid to London District, No. 3, during this year. The grand master will conduct the services of dedicating and consecrating the lodge and installing the officers.

Ashlar Lodge, No. 610, received its charter at the last annual convocation of grand lodge held in Toronto in July of this year. The lodge at this meeting was given the number of 610, and is to be known as Ashlar Lodge, No. 610, A., F. and A. M., grand registry of Canada, Byron, Ontario.

The Byron lodge was organized in the spring of last year, and was instituted on June 26, 1922, by R. W. Bro. W. G. Moore, then D. D. G. M. of London district, No. 3, and have been working under dispensation since that date. The chairman of the organizing committee was Bro. Major H. P. Snelgrove, the first master being W. Bro. J. W. Meriam, past master of St. Paul's, 107, Lambeth.

As an invitation has been extended to the members of all the lodges in London district to attend, and as this is the third occasion in twenty years that a consecration and dedication of a lodge has taken place in London district, a large turnout is expected.

Ashlar Lodge was instituted with a charter membership of 28, and has now a membership of 90.

The following are the officers who will be installed on the night of September 10 by the grand master:

W. Bro. J. W. Meriam, W. M.; R. W. Bro. U. A. Buchner, I. P. M.; Bro. Major H. P. Snelgrove, S. W.; Bro. Dr. A. E. Broome, J. W.; Bro. Rev. R. D. Mess, chaplain; Bro. N. Sanderson, treasurer; Bro. H. W. Thompson, secretary; Bro. E. E. Graham, S. D.; Bro. A. Marvell, J. D.; Bro. W. H. White, D. of C.; Bro. N. T. Sanderson, I G.; Bro. Dr. F. H. Pratten, first steward; Bro. F. J. Spyer, second steward; Bro. E. Davis, third steward; Bro. J. T. F. Marshall, organist; Bro. Robert Whitfield, tyler; Bro. Major F. Tanton and S. S. Irwin, auditors.

WANTS PUBLIC LIBRARY IN TRAFALGAR SCHOOL

City Librarian Crouch Requests Use of One Room in Institution.

When the new school on Trafalgar street is finished, it is altogether likely that a branch of the Public Library will be established there, following a request to the board of education from Richard E. Crouch, librarian.

Mr. Crouch has written to the board asking that one room in the new building be set aside for library purposes, as in the case with the Victoria School. This would serve the southeast section of the city, and would be of great convenience to citizens.

In addition, the librarian points out the benefits that would accrue to both pupils and teachers from having a library of good books in the school.

The matter will probably be dealt with at this afternoon's meeting of the board.

CANADIANS PROMINENT IN WORK OF LEAGUE

Hon. G. P. Graham to Present Rail Problems at Geneva Conference.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Ottawa, Sept. 6.—Private advices received here indicate that Canadian delegates to the assembly of the League of Nations, now meeting at Geneva, are taking a prominent part in the work of the assembly. Hon. G. P. Graham, minister of railways, states a message received today, has been chosen to present the transportation question to the committee concerned and to the assembly itself.

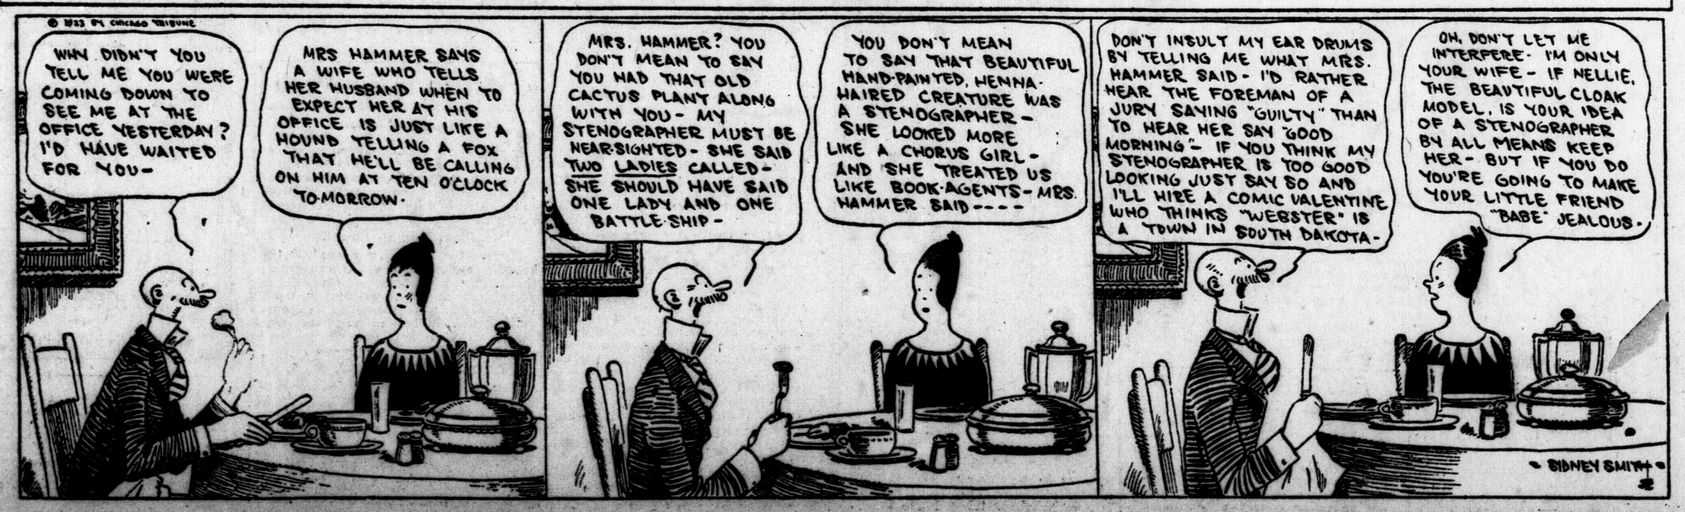

The delegates to the assembly are Mr. Graham, Sir Lomer Gouin and Hon. P. C. Larkin, Canadian high commissioner in London.

NARRAGANSETT HOTEL IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

Associated Press Despatch.

Providence, R. I., Sept. 6.—The Hotel Imperial at Narragansett Pier was destroyed this morning by a fire which is believed to have started about 4 o'clock in the attic on the fifth floor as the result of defective wiring. The loss is estimated at $500,000. All in the hotel got out safely.

DAY NURSERY BOARD FINDS CRECHE CROWDED

Appeals For Canned Fruit At First Meeting of Season Held Yesterday.

The opening meeting of the Day Nursery Board for the coming season was held at the Creche, King street, yesterday afternoon. Mrs. A. T. Edwards presided, and it was reported that the attendance at the nursery is growing daily, with an average of 33 children. It is expected that this will increase to 34 next week. The nursery is only capable of taking care of 34 children, and the board is predicting an overflow of children in the near future. The increase in attendance is due to the reopening of school, as during the summer months the children, who are old enough to go to school during the winter, take care of the younger ones, but when vacation ends, the mothers resort to the nursery to take care of the baby children.

An appeal was made for canned fruit, especially to the mothers' clubs. Miss Bodkin reported that there were many empty jars at the nursery which could be used again. The Talbot Street Mothers' Club has already taken three dozen, which will be returned filled with fruit.

A number of improvements have been made during the summer months, and the board is planning a summer sale to be held shortly to augment the funds. The following list of donations are gratefully acknowledged by the board: Green beans, a friend; milk, Mrs. Fitzgerald, King street; flour, Mrs. F. J. Greenaway; $5, Miss Bray; two gallons of ice cream, Mrs. A. T. Edwards; ice cream, a friend.

OVERSEAS CHAPTER, I. O. D. E.

At a meeting held this week at the home of Mrs. Kennerton, South London, the members of the Overseas Chapter, I. O. D. E., made plans for the banqueting of the Western Fair directors next week. Mrs. Robert Heard, and Mrs. A. H. Clinger, regent of the chapter, are joint conveners, with Mrs. A. H. Croden convener of the committee for securing helpers during fair week. At the close of the meeting tea was served. Among the guests was Mrs. Bert Fitchett of Montreal, former treasurer of the chapter, who is visiting Mrs. George Fitchett on Erie avenue.

LANGEMARCK ORANGE LODGE.

At the regular meeting of the Langemarck Orange Lodge held this week in the lodge rooms, invitations were extended to Ingersoll and Woodstock lodges to visit the London lodge on Tuesday, Oct. 2. The lodge is also planning to hold an afternoon tea on Sept. 20 at the home of Mrs. Robert Kelly, Beattie avenue.

For All Complexion Ills

If the skin be colorless, sallow, muddy, over-red, blotchy or freckled, nothing will so surely overcome the condition as ordinary mercolized wax. It literally takes off a bad complexion—absorbs the dead and near-dead particles of surface skin, gently, gradually, causing no inconvenience at all. A new complexion is then in evidence, clear, spotless, delicately soft and beautiful. One ounce of this wax, procurable at any drug store, will rejuvenate even the worst complexion. It is used like cold cream, at bedtime.—Advt.

Weddings of the Month

AYEARST—CURTIS.

Special to The Advertiser.

St. Thomas, Sept. 5.—A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of the grandparents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Hunt, 52 William street, on Tuesday, September 4, at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon, when Dorothy Ellyn, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Salathiel Curtis of Middlemarch, was united in marriage to Mr. William B. Ayearst, only son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Ayearst, city. The bride, who was given away by her father, was charming in a beaded gown of pale gray georgette and carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses. Miss Carolyn Curtis, cousin of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, being prettily gowned in white taffeta, with pale green overdress, and carrying a bouquet of Columbia roses. Frank Curtis, brother of the bride, was groomsman. After the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Mr. J. A. Ayearst of Toronto, a dainty buffet luncheon was served. Later in the afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Ayearst left on a wedding trip to New York City, Philadelphia and Atlantic City, and on return will make their home at 28 St. George street, city.

SMITH—FERGUSON.

Special to The Advertiser.

St. Thomas, Sept. 5.—Alma Street Presbyterian manse, 9 Hughes street, was the scene of a quiet but pretty wedding at 2 o'clock on Monday, September 3, when Evaline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fergus Ferguson, 29 Woodworth avenue, was married to Herman Smith, also of this city. The winsome young bride was attended by Miss Kathleen Clark, while the groomsman was Thomas McCulley. A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, following the ceremony, and following the dainty wedding breakfast the happy young couple left on a wedding trip, on their return from which they will reside at Port Huron.

LUNN—ORRILL.

Special to The Advertiser.

St. Thomas, Sept. 5.—The wedding was solemnized at Alma Street Presbyterian manse at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon, September 3, of Edith, second daughter of Mrs. W. Orrill and the late Mr. Orrill, to Harry Lunn, also of this city, Rev. H. E. Thorneloe officiating at the ceremony, which was attended by only the immediate families of the bride and groom. The winsome bride, who wore a smart suit of navy blue and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses, was attended by her sister, Miss Beth Orrill, in a frock of navy blue crepe de chene, with orange bouquet of roses. The groomsman was Norman Allward, of this city. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's mother at 53½ Fifth avenue, which was profusely decorated with late summer flowers for the occasion. The feature of the dainty banquet was the wedding cake, made and decorated by Mr. Cook, of the City Bakery. Mr. and Mrs. Lunn left later in the afternoon on a motor trip to London, Detroit and Port Huron, Mich. They will make their home at the latter city.

GRANTHAM—DICKSON.

Special to The Advertiser.

St. Thomas, Sept. 5.—On Monday, September 3, a very pretty wedding was solemnized at St. John's Anglican Church, when George Grantham and Sarah Dickson were united in marriage. Rev. Percy N. Harding was the officiating minister. There was a large number of people in the church, both the bride and groom being well-known in St. Thomas and district. Fred W. Sutherland, choirmaster and organist, presided at the organ. Following the ceremony a dainty wedding breakfast was served to about fifty guests at 9 College street. A large number of guests were present at the wedding, coming from Sarnia, London, Detroit, Welland, Port Robinson and Fenderwick, as well as St. Thomas. The wedding gifts were many and beautiful. Later in the day the happy couple left for Toronto, Niagara Falls and Buffalo. On their return they will reside at 9 College street, St. Thomas.

BALL—WILLIAMSON.

An interesting wedding took place in Vancouver June 18, when Jean Williamson of Vancouver was married to A. Clarence Ball, formerly of this city, now of Vancouver. The ceremony took place quietly at the Methodist parsonage, Rev. R. J. McIntyre officiating.

EVANS—DELMAGE.

Special to The Advertiser.

Ridgetown, Sept. 5.—A wedding was solemnized in the Church of the Advent at high noon Monday when Letitia Alma, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Delmage, was united in marriage to Mr. Fred A. Evans of the Molsons Bank, Highgate.

The church was beautifully decorated with asters, ferns, gladioli and palms. The Rev. Arthur Shore of Ilderton performed the ceremony.

The petite bride looked charming in a gown of white satin, with lace flounces, trimmed with silver ornaments. She wore the customary wedding veil and carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses. Miss Constance Delmage was her sister's bridesmaid and was gowned in orchid French crepe with black velvet hat, and carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds. Mr. Frank Evans supported the groom.

The bridal party entered the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, played by Mr. Charles Dunkley.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Evans, leaving later for London and points east, the bride traveling in a navy blue suit with chic hat to match.

On their return they will reside in Highgate.

KILGALLIN—EVERETT.

A quiet but pretty wedding took place yesterday morning in St. Peter's Cathedral, when Miss Gertrude Frances Everett was united in marriage to Mr. Thomas V. Kilgallin, the Rev. Monsignor McKeon officiating. The bride looked pretty in a gown of gray canton crepe with oriental trimmings, gray hat and shoes, and corsage of Ophelia roses.

Miss Irene McLellan, her bridesmaid, was gowned in sand colored crepe with hat to match, and corsage of Sunset roses. Mr. E. J. Henry supported the groom.

Later in the day Mr. and Mrs. Kilgallin left on a honeymoon trip to Detroit and points west, the bride donning a smart suit of navy blue with fur choker. On their return they will reside at 157 John street.

ROBERTS—JAEGER.

A pretty wedding took place yesterday at 1:30 o'clock at the Hamilton Presbyterian Church, when Hertha Jaeger of this city, daughter of Mr. Harry Jaeger of St. Thomas, was married to Kenneth Roberts of London, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Roberts. The ceremony was performed by Rev. M. Cree.

The bride, who was unattended, wore a smart suit of navy blue, with a red fox fur and a becoming purple velvet hat trimmed with leaves in pastel shades, and carried a shower of Ophelia roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Stuart McKenna, 19 Euclid avenue. Mrs. McKenna wore a navy blue suit with a hat of cloth of gold, and Miss Lillian Jaeger, another sister, was gowned in navy blue canton crepe, with a gray felt hat. The rooms were artistically arranged with asters, and wedding luncheon was served from a table adorned with summer flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Roberts left later on a honeymoon, which will be spent in Toronto and Niagara Falls. The bride carried the groom's gift, a handsome leather purse. Upon their return they will reside in London.

MILL—HENDERSON.

The Tempo Presbyterian manse was the scene of a quiet wedding on Wednesday, September 5, at 12 o'clock, when Beatrice Elizabeth Henderson, youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Henderson, Lambeth, became the bride of Mr. D. Perry Mill, Scottsville. Rev. G. Gilmour officiated. The bride wore a suit of navy tricotine with hat to match. Mr. and Mrs. Mill left on a short honeymoon, after which they will reside in Scottsville.

McLEAN—LITTLE

Special to The Advertiser.

Kilmartin, Sept. 5.—A charming wedding took place recently at the home of Mr. John Little, when his daughter Christine became the bride of Mr. Aneas Earl McLean of Kerrwood. While the wedding march was played by Miss Marian Monroe, the bride, who was given in marriage by her father, took her place beside the groom, under a beautiful arch of evergreen, white asters and white bells. The ceremony was conducted by Rev. Mr. Robertson of the Kilmartin Presbyterian Church. During the signing of the register, Mrs. Angus McLean sang very sweetly, "All joy be thine."

The bride was prettily gowned in pearl-gray silk georgette with long front panels trimmed with silver beads and wore a corsage bouquet of roses and sweet peas. Her only ornament was a string of pearls. After the ceremony, the guests, numbering fifty, repaired to the dining-room, which was prettily decorated with asters, the color scheme being pink and white. White ribbon streamers stretched from ceiling to table. The groom's gift to the pianist was a pair of fancy vases, and to the soloist a piece of silver.

The happy couple left that evening, amid showers of confetti, for their honeymoon trip to St. Catharines, Toronto and Niagara Falls, the bride traveling in a handsome suit of navy tricotine with gray fur collar and white hat. Mr. and Mrs. McLean will reside on the groom's farm near Kerrwood.

AWNINGS PRESENTED TO THE VICTORIA HOME

Mrs. Travers Makes Generous Gift To Women's Christian Association.

The Victoria Home for Incurables has received a generous gift from one of the interested members of the Women's Christian Association, Mrs. Travers. The gift consists of awnings for all the upper west windows of the home, of which there are about ten. Announcement of the gift was made at the regular meeting of the association held yesterday afternoon at the Victoria Home. Another gift reported at the meeting was five pairs of boots for the Aged People's Home from Rowland Hill.

The chief business at yesterday's meeting was the report of the committee for drafting a new constitution, presented by Miss Jennie Moore, the convener. The constitution, which has been under revision for some time, was accepted by the meeting and will be printed shortly.

Mrs. John Currie, the president, occupied the chair. Favorable comment was made by the members on the beauty of the gardens at the Victoria Home.

WAUKETA CLUB MEETS.

Miss Annie Kidner was elected president of the Wauketa Club at the opening meeting of the session held at the Bungalow Tea House, Springbank, Tuesday evening. Miss Mary Martin was elected secretary-treasurer. Following a discussion of plans for the coming season, supper was enjoyed by the members, who numbered 12.

This Leaves the Arms Free From Hairy Growths

(Toilet Talks.)

A simple method for complete removing every trace of hair or fuz is here given. This is painless, and usually a single treatment will banish even stubborn growths. To remove hairs, make a thick paste with some powdered delatone and water, spread on hairy surface, and after about two minutes rub off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. This method will not mar the skin, but to avoid disappointment be certain you get delatone.—Advt.

ISSUE BLACK STAMPS AS HARDING MEMORIAL

First Stamp and Die Will Be Sent To Late President's Wife.

Stamp collectors in the city will be interested to hear of the recent issue of Harding Memorial Stamps, which are printed in black and will be used on the United States mail for ninety days. Londoners, who recently visited the Bureau of Printing and Engraving in Washington, witnessed the printing of the new stamps. They were told that there is an international agreement regulating the color of stamps, and as far as they know, this is the first time that the United States has departed from the colors in use, to print a black memorial stamp.

The first stamp and the die is being sent to Mrs. Warren Harding at Marion, Ohio. The first of these stamps were placed on private sale last Saturday, and a few days later on sale to the public. They will be in use for ninety days, after which the government will return to the old issue.

A Welcome Letter.

The following very lovely article has been sent to the Mail-Box by one who signs herself "Elspeth Wilson." Here in Ontario, we haven't really grown to such an extent that one has forgotten the number of quaint wooden churches, which stand mute testimony to the "faith and works" of our forefathers. Now and then they are fitted up, renovated and perhaps given the extra glory of a furnace and electric lights, but even this does not oust them from their place in what of historical charm Ontario can claim. The Mail-Box would welcome many more such articles from its readers. This is written under the title:

The Little White Church.

The little church on the country crossroads, erected "lang syne" by the hardy pioneers, is accorded, perhaps, little of the credit that is its due, since under great difficulties therein were kept aglow the religious fires of our forefathers.

Who of us does not cast a thought backward toward that particular locality dear to the heart where, surrounded by the awesome stillness of "God's acre," the modest spire pointed solemnly heavenward? We recall the uncomfortable seats, from which, in childhood, our sturdy legs dangled through the long services, and foremost in memory's pictures is the percentor, rising alone, book and tuning fork in hand, to "raise the tune," the congregation remaining seated, for to do other than sing psalm and paraphrase seated, and pray standing erect, was to incur the displeasure of the worthy elders.

The manner of "gathering the coppers" had a peculiar fascination and savored of a race, since the two collectors were elderly men of two hundred pounds weight. With great dignity they set about the task with the "boxes," metal receptacles, attached to long handles, and which were passed the length of each long pew. A mammoth wood stove near the door, fed with cordwood, did its best to heat the structure, while at the farther end the pulpit was perched on high like a tiny balcony. In order to enter it, five steps must be mounted, and with the opening of the little door, there might be glimpsed a strip of home-made carpet, a bench seat, with a wool-stuffed cushion, a glass of water on a shelf, and on the padded, faded, book-rest reposed the sacred "buik" itself. Here in the winter, with pulpit door carefully closed, no heat came nigh the speaker, excepting to his head, which came in close proximity to the stovepipes.

Nor are these details all that memory retains of the little old church, but portions of the prayers from the lips of the beloved pastor, words of wisdom and admonition which follow us through life, none the less precious that they are associated with childhood days and crude pioneer architecture.

"LISTEN TO ME" OPENS AT THE GRAND TONIGHT

It is doubtful if any of the massive extravaganzas, including the famous "Wizard of Oz," ever offered more genuine novelties or funnier situations than are presented in "Listen To Me," the gorgeous musical fantasy coming to the Grand tonight, Friday and Saturday evenings and Saturday matinee.

No less than a dozen novel ideas are to be seen during the progress of the fantastic plot. During the first act a dancing novelty is shown, the six temptations, wine, women, song, chance, tobacco and racing—then comes the imp "pony" ballet, in devilette costumes, dancing in the blazing inferno; following this scene comes the snowball battle at the North Pole.

This is the same company that scored such a distinct success here last season.

Your Home and You

THE FURNITURE PARTITION.

While we are on the subject of remodeling our houses and rearranging our rooms, let me tell you of an ingenious scheme I saw recently for giving little nooks of privacy, for reading or chatting, in a large living room.

The woman in whose home this plan was worked out had what most of us have—a large, rectangular room, with four walls unbroken except by windows and doors; that is, it had no alcoves, no deep window niches, no suggestion of a little room-within-the-room which makes for so much intimacy and invitingness.

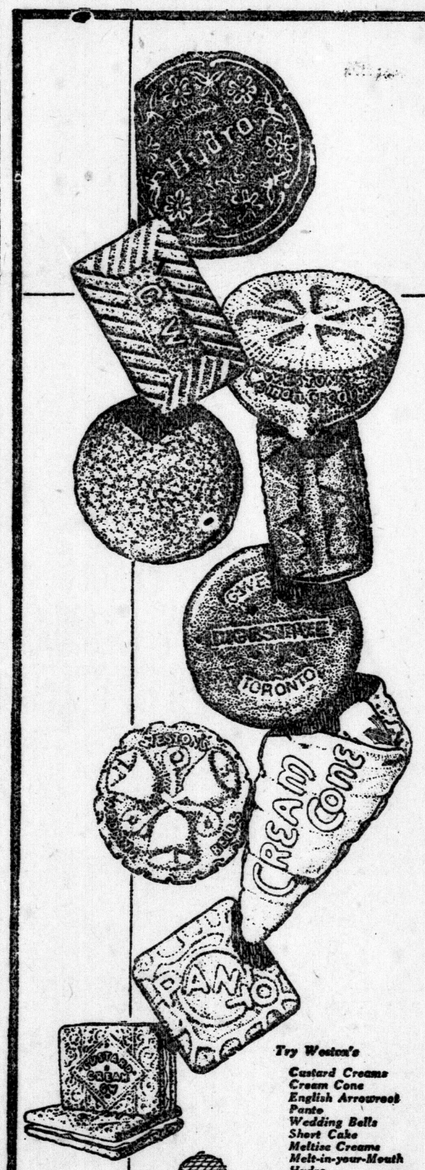

Between the windows at one end of the room stood a tall bookcase, flat against the wall. It was not quite so deep as the sketch shows it, and it was considerably taller. This bookcase she pulled around until one end stood against the wall and the other came out into the room, where it met a large, over-stuffed divan. This formed two little niches, one in front of each window, definitely separated from the larger part of the room. The book shelves faced one of these niches, and within this alcove there was a big chair, a tall reading lamp or bridge lamp, and a little table for magazines and the latest books, shut within decorative ends.

The solid back of the bookcase, which faced the other niche, had a beautiful Oriental rug hung over it, and a little nest of lacquered tables stood against the rug. This niche could be used by four persons playing bridge, or by two persons chatting. The bookcase hid them from the reader in the other niche, and while a conversation could, of course, be overheard, there was a distinct feeling of privacy in both cases.

The best part of this scheme, however, was the interesting broken line of the box-like room. Any piece of furniture obtruded into a room gives this sense of semi-privacy—a divan at right angles to the wall, a grand piano extending into the room, or a library table to placed that it provides little cut-off places in which to chat. Try it!

IRREGULAR MOVEMENT FEATURES AT NEW YORK

Indications Abound That Trading Mainly Controlled by Professionals.

BY STUART P. WEST.
—Special to The Advertiser.

New York, Wall Street, Sept. 6.—The stock exchange movement pursued a more irregular course today, but most of the time prices were inclined upward and the improvement took in a greater number of issues.

Professional traders were responsible for the upbidding in such groups as the steels, the railway equipments, the can shares, and in specialities like the silk stocks and Davison Chemical. Where recessions occurred they represented chiefly speculative realizing, while on the stimulus given to the advance was still ascribed largely to short covering.

It was the opinion of the more optimistic interests that American industries would benefit from the demand by Japan for materials to rehabilitate the area laid waste and to provide other necessities for her stricken people. The opposite view was that the world at large would feel the effects of the vast destruction of capital.

In the meantime, the stock market remained unsettled, with periods of strength sufficient to keep it the center of interest.

The steel shares absorbed much of the attention at the outset, with a sharp run up in Gulf States Steel, accompanied by rising prices in other independent steel concerns. Pool support was credited with the buying in Gulf States. United States Steel common held firm, while Bethlehem, Crucible and Republic went ahead. The equipments under the lead of American Locomotive were actively bought for a time. Baldwin was active above 125, and Lima Locomotive attracted renewed buying, the high railway freight loadings and orders for new locomotives were the basis for the efforts to bid up prices. Davison had another advance above of the 50 level.

Mallinson & Kayser were again features of the industrials.

FORD PROFITS REACH FIFTY-FOUR MILLIONS

For Four-Month Period Earnings Total $315 Per Share.

Special to The Advertiser.

Detroit, Sept. 5. — The Ford Motor Company made net profits estimated at $54,000,000, equal to about $315 a share on its 172,465 shares of stock, for the four months ending June 30 last, according to compilations made from the balance sheet as of that date. The Ford Company is a close corporation, and reports officially to nobody, except the secretary of state, and to him only in part.

The period's earnings were at the annual rate of more than $162,000,000 or about $945 a share, compared with a net profit of $119,000,000 or about $690 a share, earned in the year ending February 28 last. In the 12 months ending Feb. 1, 1922, the company earned approximately $69,000,000 or about $400 a share. For the first time the balance sheet as of June 30 last consolidates the items of good-will and cash into an aggregate of $230,811,918. For several years past the company has carried good-will at $20,517,986. Assuming that there has been no change in the latter figure, the cash item alone as of July 1 last, was $210,291,932, representing an increase of more than $50,000,000 in the four months beginning March 1 last, and a gain of nearly $65,000,000 over that of June 30, 1922. The profit and loss surplus on June 30 last amounted to $414,129,158, an increase of more than $54,000,000 over that reported on Feb. 28 last, and $124,000,000 more than that on June 30 last.

The Ford Company during August produced 172,000 cars and trucks, compared with 183,735 in July, the decline being attributed to changing over to new models. September's output is expected to be more than 185,000 units.

BUYING MOVEMENT SENDS COTTON PRICES UPWARD

Canadian Press Despatch.

New York, Sept. 5.—New high prices for the season of nearly $4.50 a bale above the previous close were recorded in the local cotton market today. They were attributed to renewals of the buying movement started by the government crop figures of last week, combined with a more favorable view of the Japanese situation and a growing belief that supplies of both raw cotton and cotton products destroyed in the earthquake were likely to be replaced promptly.

December contracts, which sold off to $24.61 yesterday under the liquidation caused by the first shock of the Japanese disaster, advanced to 25.51 late this afternoon, and the general market closed firm, at net advances of $1 to 94 points, or approximately 1c a pound.

RAILWAY EARNINGS

Canadian Press Despatch.

Montreal Sept. 5.—Gross earnings of the Canadian National Railway for the week ending August 31 last were $7,179,880, an increase of $808,838, or 13 per cent as compared with the corresponding week of 1922. The gross earnings from January 1 to August 31, 1923, have been $159,739,065.90, an increase of $17,757,114.51, as compared with the corresponding period of 1922.

Detroit, Sept. 5.—Detroit clearing-house banks' uniform rate of exchange on Canadian currency for Thursday will be at a discount of $2.34 per $100.

SUGAR

Associated Press Despatch.

New York, Sept. 5.—The raw sugar market was steady and unchanged, at 4½c for Cubas, cost and freight, equal to $6.28 for centrifugal. There were sales of 35,000 bags of Porto Ricos, prompt shipment, and 20,000 bags of Cubas, first half September shipment. Raw sugar futures were easier under scattered liquidation and selling for trade or foreign account. Business, however, was not very active. Prices at midday were 5 to 8 points net lower. There were no changes in refined sugar prices, which are listed at $7.75 to $8 for fine granulated. Business was moderate. Refined futures were nominal.

COTTON

New York, Sept. 5.—Cotton futures closed firm. Closing bids: Jan., 25.23c; ... 25.48c.

Spot cotton closed quiet. Middling March, 23.35c; May, 25.35c; Oct., 25.51c; uplands, 26.80c.

MAJOR PUGMIRE SURVIVES SECOND GREAT DISASTER

Special to The Advertiser.

Montreal, Sept. 6.—When news reached Montreal today that Major Ernest Pugmire, financial secretary at the Tokio headquarters of the army, a former officer who did prison work here, had come through the earthquake unharmed, friends recalled that the major has now survived two great disasters, having been one of the party of Salvationists rescued when the C. P. R. Empress of Ireland sank off Father Point on May, 1914, with the loss of more than 1,000 souls.

Major Pugmire worked at the Toronto headquarters of the army, then was transferred west, later to China, and latterly to Tokio, where he has been residing with his wife and three children.

ITALIAN FORCES OCCUPY ISLANDS OWNED BY GREECE

Government Files Claim For Cost of Occupation of Corfu.

ARREST JOURNALIST

Special Cable to The Advertiser.

London, Sept. 6.—While the League of Nations council at Geneva considered intervention in the Greco-Italian dispute, new antagonistic moves on the part of Italy heightened pessimism here.

Italian marines occupied three more islands in the vicinity of Corfu.

Italy filed with Greece a claim for from 15,000,000 lire to 20,000,000 lire as the first costs of the occupation of Greek territory as a punitive measure for the slaying of Italian commissioners at Janina. A regiment of infantry, the Fortieth Italian, was garrisoned at the islands of Paxos and Antipaxos.

A Greek journalist named Iramenes was arrested by Italians while in a sailing vessel on the high seas.

Italian men-of-war swarm about the little group of islands which Italy has seized, torpedoboats hovering about watching all Greek vessels that arrive or leave.

A meeting of volunteer Garibaldians, who fought for Greece against Turkey in 1897, adopted a resolution denouncing the massacre and decided to return their Greek war decorations.

Premier Mussolini has made a speech at Rome declaring that Great Britain and other countries sympathetic towards Greece need a demonstration of Italy's calm and righteousness. These developments caused no little apprehension in this country, where it is felt an outbreak of war between Greece and Italy must inevitably be followed by all the Balkans being drawn in.

At Plymouth today, a trades union congress, representing over 4,000,000 British workers, passed a resolution to the effect that it viewed with deep concern the immediate danger of a tragic development in the Italo-Greek dispute, and urging both nations to abstain from hostilities and arbitrate through the League of Nations.

FEAR FOUL PLAY.

Windsor, Sept. 5. — Bhaobhilla Maroun, 35 years old, who has been missing from his home, 61 East Sandwich street, since Monday, is being sought by police here and in Detroit. Maroun left home, his relatives told the police, for a drive in his auto. He was minus his hat and coat. Foul play is feared.

ACTIVITY AND PRICES SHOW LITTLE CHANGE

Brompton and Abitibi Shares Prove Attractive at Montreal Exchange.

Reported for The Advertiser by Johnston & Ward.

Montreal, Sept. 6.—No pronounced activity or changes in prices took place in trading this forenoon on the local market. On the regular list there was a fairly large turnover in Price Bros., which advanced fractionally to 43. Among the other paper stocks Abitibi registered a slight gain and sold at 63½. Some trading took place in Brompton at 42¼, unchanged from the previous close. Spanish opened firm at 99, but in later trading lost ⅛ point to 98⅞.

The public utility group received very little attention. Outside of Mackay, which was unchanged at 112½, trading in the balance of this department consisted almost entirely of broken lots. Montreal Power was unchanged at 122, and Twin City changed hands at 66 to 68 for broken lots.

Canada Steamships preferred opened at 48, and later lost half a point, selling at 47½. Textile gained ¾ to 63⅞. Smelters was unchanged at 26¾, and Canada Car preferred at 76.

The bank stocks came in for some attention, activity being most pronounced in Bank of Hochelaga, which sold at 146. A sale of 90 shares of Molsons Bank took place at 160, seller's option. On the whole, very little change took place in bank stock prices.

STANDARD MINING EXCHANGE.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, Sept. 6.—Trading was slightly heavier on the Standard mining exchange this morning. The market was weak and, excepting the gold leaders, prices were generally lower. Argonaut lost 4 at 68, Lake Shore 10 at 330, Vipond 1 at 70, Keeley 3 at 177, and numerous other issues lost ½. The leaders were stronger, however, Dome Mines gaining 5 at 36.80, Hollinger 5 at 11.65, and Teck-Hughes 2 at 115. Lorraine gained ½ at 18, and Clifton ¼ at 26.

TORONTO STOCK EXCHANGE.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, Sept. 6.—A stronger tone developed on the local stock exchange during the morning session, with numerous gains made throughout the list. Trading was not heavy, however, with the banking group showing the greatest activity. Hamilton, opening unchanged at 174, advanced a point at the close, while Imperial advanced a like amount to 171. Standard remained unchanged at 170. Maple Leaf Milling was very erratic, on light transactions. Opening at 37, three points under last night, the next sale was at 40⅝, with the close at 43. Mackay lost two points to 111¾ on small lot transactions.

DESIRES ADVICE FROM NOICE PARTY BEFORE SEARCHING

Stefansson Believes Crawford Party Somewhere in Siberia.

NATIVES GENEROUS

By HENRY SOMERVILLE.
Special Cable to The Advertiser.
Copyright.

London, Sept. 6.—Stefansson, in an interview with The Advertiser, commenting on Sir Edmund Walker's suggestion of sending search parties to Siberia, stated that advice should be sought from Harold Noice, now in Nome, and Aarut Castel, who has been navigating his ship in Siberian waters and is now somewhere in Behring Straits, or perhaps at Nome.

Colleagues on Expedition.

Castel, Stefansson said, is perhaps even better qualified than Noice to advise. Both were colleagues of Lorne Knight and Fred Maurer on Stefansson's former expedition. Stefansson has just been informed that Castel spent last winter in the mouth of the river Kolyma, and in the spring he traveled by sled to East Cape, thus covering the entire coastline along which Crawford's party may possibly have landed. This coast is dotted with native houses and many of the natives are very wealthy as well as being hospitable.

The explorer is positive that any party in distress would have been kindly treated by the natives as well as by Russians and American traders.

"We are all equally anxious," said Stefansson, "to leave no stone unturned in searching for these men, but here in London I am not so well situated to advise as Noice and Castel, for they are on the ground."

Stefansson has just received private messages from Noice stating that game conditions on Wrangel Island were apparently excellent. This bears out the contention of Stefansson, Dr. Simpson and other authorities that starvation could not have been the direct cause of the tragedy.

Diaries Will Tell Story.

Stefansson believes the publication of their diaries will throw light on the misfortunes which reduced the party. The first factor was the incredible oversight of not taking a skin boat; the second was the failure to haul walrus meat to camp after it had been killed, leaving it to be devoured by bears and foxes.

He explained that crossing to the mainland over ice is not exceedingly dangerous when conditions are favorable and caution is observed, but it is a hazardous undertaking in January, when daylight is scarce and snow may disguise treacherous ice, and when there is a temptation, on account of shortness of daylight, to sacrifice carefulness to haste.

BOSTON VARSITY TEACHER REVISITS NATIVE TOWN

Special to The Advertiser.

St. Marys, Sept. 5.—Another of St. Marys' famous "children" has returned for a short stay in the old Stone Town, in the person of Mrs. Professor E. Charlton Black, better known here as Agnes Knox Black, wife of Professor E. Charlton Black of Boston University, Boston. Mrs. Black, who is a sister of the late Dr. Andrew A. Knox of St. Marys, was signally honored last April by Boston University, when she was appointed a member of the faculty of the graduate school of the university and the Snow professor of elocution and oratory, the position once held by Alexander Graham Bell, the Canadian inventor of the telephone.

The great inventor's first appointment on his arrival in America from Edinburgh was the chair now held by Mrs. Black. This is the first time that a woman has ever held this important position.

Mrs. Black, who is a well-known reader, both in Canada and the United States, gave one of her recitals before a good-sized audience in the Presbyterian Church on Tuesday evening.

Everything the Farmer Trades In Local Market

For the second time this season tomatoes were more than plantiful on the local market this morning, and—good news for the housewife—they were much cheaper in price. One day two or three weeks ago tomatoes were a heavy offering, but weather conditions changed, and prices advanced so rapidly that sales fell off sharply. However, the past few days have been of great benefit to the crop, and it now appears as though the real season had started in earnest. For 11-quart baskets, 50c was paid for No. 1 grade, while others were as low as 30c.

Other current prices are: Potatoes, $1.75 bag; apples, $1.25 to $1.50 per bushel for the better varieties, and $1 for windfalls; elderberries, 10c quart; peaches, 60c for 6 quarts and $1 for 11-quart baskets; plums, 60c for 6-quart baskets of No. 1 Bradshaw's, and for the other grades 50c to 60c for 11 quarts; pickling onions, 15c to 25c quart; lettuce, radishes, beets and carrots, 50c dozen; grapes, 75c for 6 quarts; corn, 15c dozen or 2 dozen for 25c.

Two or three inferior loads of hay sold at $10 per ton, but for better quality $12 to $14 were the ruling figures.

Oats are quoted at $1.15 to $1.20 per cwt., while wheat is stationary at $1 per bushel.

CHEESE

Special to The Advertiser.

Woodstock, Sept. 5.—Although a price of 22½c per lb was bid for colored cheese at yesterday's session of the Woodstock cheese board, no sales were recorded. In all, 1,174 boxes of cheese were boarded, the offerings of the factories being as follows: German Union 306, Vandecar 140 triplets, Bright 200, Honey Grove 100 large and 100 twins, New Lawson 160 triplets, Innerkip 170. Bidding on the first call started at 22c, and advanced to 22½c per lb on the second call, but the salesmen were not ready to accept these offers. No cheese was sold on the curb at the close of the board.

ACCIDENT VICTIM RECOVERS.

Chatham, Sept. 5.—Mrs. Frank Smith, who was very severely injured in a motor accident in July, was able to return home yesterday from St. Joseph's Hospital. Mrs. Smith's condition was so critical that recovery was hardly expected, but rapid improvement was made during the last week or so. Mrs. Smith's daughter, Mizpah, who was a patient in the hospital has also completely recovered.

Western Shipments of Common Quality Meet With Slow Demand and Sales.

Special to The Advertiser.

Toronto, Sept. 6.—It was a quiet market today, with only a few loads of worth-while stuff offering. This sold slowly, but at steady prices. For the rest the market was cluttered up with a lot of poor common quality cattle, for which there was no demand, either for stocker or butcher purposes. The bulk of this poor quality stuff is coming in from the Western Provinces, and there is some comment in the market on the fact that the westerners seem to be shipping the poorest of their cattle down here. Commission men were unable to clean up, and there are quite a few cattle left over.

In the small meats section lambs and calves are holding steady, lambs at $12 for tops, and calves at $11 for tops.

The hog market is easier at $10.35, fed and watered, and $9.75 f. o. b. Prospects easier for next week.

Union Stock Yards—Receipts today, 22 cars, with 436 cattle, 30 calves, 314 hogs, 151 sheep and lambs.

MONTREAL.

Montreal, Sept. 5.—With 186 cattle, 430 sheep and lambs, 360 hogs and 135 calves for sale on the two markets this morning, trading was very slow. Nearly all the cattle were from Winnipeg. About half a dozen common dairy type cows sold at prices ranging from $2 to $3.50, and a few common bulls brought from $2 to $2.50. One lot of good veal calves brought $8. Medium sucker calves were $6 to $7, and grassers were quoted at from $3 to $3.50.

Lambs and hogs were in poor demand. Local butchers were talking slightly lower prices for ungraded hogs, and a couple of lots sold at $10.50 to $10.60, but very few sales were made.

TODAY'S OPENING PRICES.

Chicago, Sept. 6.—With spring wheat beginning to move in volume from farms the wheat market showed something of a downward tendency in price today during the early dealings. A decline in Liverpool quotations counted as an additional bearish influence, and so too did predictions of increased hedging here against Canadian grain. In the absence of any aggressive selling, however, declines failed to go very far. The opening, which ranged from ⅛c off to ¼c up, was followed by a moderate setback all round and then a little rally.

Despite unfavorable weather, corn and oats were easy in sympathy with wheat. After opening unchanged to ⅜c lower, the corn market held near to the initial range.

Oats started unchanged to ⅛c up, but later showed slight losses.

Futures opened:
Wheat—Sept., $1.01⅜; Dec., $1.05⅞.
Corn—Sept., 84¾c; Dec., 67½c.
Oats—Sept., 37⅜c; Dec., 39¼c.

EGG MARKET REVIEW

Canadian Press Despatch.

Ottawa, Sept. 5.—The market continues to advance, particularly for specials and extras, which are scarce. Ontario country shippers report sales of extras at 35c to 36c, firsts 33c to 34c, seconds 25c to 26c, cases returned, f.o.b. shipping point. Some further shipments of western seconds have arrived, costing 24½c, f.o.b. Winnipeg. No further shipments have arrived from the United States. The last that came in cost about 26½c, f.o.b. Chicago, but the market there has since advanced. Some export sales of United States storage reported at 35c, f.o.b. Montreal.

Toronto—Firm: extras 41c to 43c, firsts 36c, seconds 29c.

Montreal—Jobbing, specials 44c to 45c, extras 40c, firsts 35c, seconds 30c.

Jumping for Joy!

Here's happiness for you! These three frisky youngsters imply bubble over with activity and ght-hearted jollity. Their happi- ss never fails them, for it comes om within — its basis is robust ealth.

You too can be healthy and gorous, joyous and care-free—if u only know the way. It's all question of keeping the blood- eam clear.

f your blood-stream is not clear, is because your internal organs not working as they should. r liver and kidneys have lost of their activity, with the t that impurities are begin- to collect in the body. Hence headaches, tiredness, depres- lack of interest in work and

You need Kruschen Salts to cleanse the blood-stream and remove every impurity from the body. As much as will lie on a 10 cent piece taken every morning in your breakfast cup of coffee or tea, effectively clears your system of the poisonous waste matter that is robbing you of energy and sends new, refreshed blood coursing through your system. Headaches, lassitude, all the little ills that worry you now quickly disappear. You feel younger, healthier, better able to enjoy all the good things of life.

There are over ten million jolly Kruschen Optimists the world over. Begin the Habit of Health at once and you will soon be one of them. Get a bottle to-day and start a new existence.

Tasteless in Coffee or Tea

Put as much in your breakfast cup as will lie on a 10 cent piece. It's the little daily dose that does it.

Kruschen Salts

Good Health for Half a Cent a Day

A 75c bottle of Kruschen Salts contains 360 doses—enough for three months—which means bounding health for less than half a cent a day. The dose prescribed for daily use is "as much as will lie on a 10 cent piece," taken in your breakfast cup of coffee or tea. Every druggist sells Kruschen. Get a 75c bottle to-day.

WANT AD TIPS

An Appeal of Odd Cents and Odd Dollars

An authenticated case exists of an advertiser who reduced his price three cents, from $2 to $1.97, and doubled his orders. "Even" prices in hundreds of newspaper advertisements and mail order catalogs are almost as rare as purple cows. And automobile manufacturers recognize the hidden principle here, too—they don't quote even hundreds. Look up the latest Ford price.

Advertisers have found that in selling goods to people interested in price (not, that is, to a clientele thinking mainly of quality), an odd price seems much smaller to the public than an even-dollar price. Four dollars and ninety-five cents is only five cents less than $5, but to the public it seems much smaller than $5. Ninety-nine dollars seems much lower than $100. This condition applies so universally that hundreds of display advertisers have a rule in advertising against even prices. They know that the odd-dollars or odd-cents price will sell more goods out of all proportion to the small difference.

There is an interesting psychological illusion involved. When the average person views a figure the first digit makes the greatest impression on him because it has the greatest significance. In the number, $4.98, the 4 has to do with hundreds, whereas the 9 has to do with tens and the 5 with ones. The digit 4, consequently, naturally makes by far the greatest impression.

In cold business, one should react to the difference between $5 and $4.98, which is only 2 cents. What happens, however, is that we react mostly to the difference in the first digits, which is a matter of $1 and of considerable moment. Odd-dollars and odd-cents prices carry also the suggestion of the price cut, which pleases many people.

Prices are not always quoted in Want Ads, but it is often desirable to quote them. And if they are not quoted in the ad, the advertiser must quote them to the inquirer. The foregoing "number magic," heeded by so many display advertisers, is valuable, too, for the Want Ad user.

COAL INTERESTS ADVISE PINCHOT LAST CONCESSIONS

Parties Meet at Harrisburg in Attempt To Settle the Dispute.

DECISION EXPECTED

Associated Press Despatch.

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 6.—Anthracite mine operators and officers of the miners' union, who today resumed conferences with Governor Pinchot for discussion of possible terms of settlement of the differences which caused suspension of operations in the hard coal field September 1, adjourned at 12:50 until 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. Leaders of both sides reported little change in the situation.

Special to The Advertiser.

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 6.—Union and operator delegates who are conferring here privately with Governor Pinchot in an effort to settle the anthracite strike—now in its sixth day—have submitted their "ultimate concessions."

This was the announced position of both parties today as they re-assembled in the capitol for a final attempt to reach a settlement. While the hopeful atmosphere of the delegates was somewhat clouded with news suspicions, Pinchot believes "progress has been made," and he still holds confidence of success.

Expect Decision.

The final word of the two sides may be said at the conference today and a decision one way or another is expected shortly. The ultimatum of the operators is that the strike must be settled on no more than a flat 10 per cent wage increase basis; the contract shall not run longer than 1925; the union check-off cannot be granted; disputed points must be left to arbitration.

The "final word" of the miners is that day laborers must receive assurance in dollars and cents of how much of an increase they are to receive. Their pay varies so greatly, a flat increase of 10 per cent would help some more than others; there shall be no arbitration.

The union is not talking check-off now. Leaders say privately they have not abandoned their demand for a full check-off, but the operators have been given to understand that the union will not press the plea if the other specifications are accepted.

Wages Chief Dispute.

The chief point in the dispute is wages, and if one side or the other gives in, there is hope that the other points may be successfully ironed out. While the governor has estimated that 10 per cent increase would force only a rise of 60 cents a ton in the cost of coal to the consumer, Samuel Warriner, chairman of the operators committee, figures it will mean 75 cents.

Mortgage Sale of City Property

Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage, which will be produced at the time of sale, there will be offered for sale by public auction, subject to reserve bid, on Monday, the 24th day of September, 1923, at the hour of 3 o'clock in the afternoon, at the auction rooms of D. H. Porter, 110 Dundas St., London, the following property:

FIRST: Lot 8 and the west twenty feet of Lot 7, on the south side of Langarth St., Block "L," Plan 392, being the property known as 39 Langarth St. This property has a frontage of eighty feet on Langarth St. by a depth of 185 feet, and on the premises is erected a six-roomed frame cottage, with cement block foundation, cellar under whole house.

SECONDLY: Parts of Lots 34 and 35 on the east side of Edward St., being generally known as 74 Tecumseh Ave. On the premises is a brick cottage, cement block foundation, full basement.

THIRDLY: Part of Lot 2, on the south side of Briscoe St., being the premises known as 45 Briscoe St. On these premises is a 2-story brick house, seven rooms, cement block foundation.

Terms of sale, 10 per cent of purchase money to be paid down at time of sale, balance within thirty days.

For further particulars apply to G. A. P. Brickenden & Co., 220 Dundas St., London, Ont. S6,13,20

Fleet Retires To Avoid Fight

Associated Press Despatch.

Athens, Sept. 6.—The Greek fleet has received orders to retire to the gulf of Volo to avoid contact with the Italian fleet, it was learned on good authority today.

(The gulf of Volo, an arm of the Aegean Sea, is on the eastern side of the Greek peninsula and approximately 90 miles north of Athens.)

NO REASON FOR FLAGS AT SCHOOL OPENING

Chief Inspector Greer Answers Complaint Made by Mayor.

A peble was cast into the smoth current of the Board of Education last night when Mayor Wenige mentioned to some of the members that although the schools of hte city had opened, not a flag was flying to greet the pupils on their return to the institutions.

Mayor Wenige felt that something should be done, and called the attention of Trustee Edwin Smith to the matter, who stated that the flying of flags was up to the inspector.

Chief Inspector V. K. Greer this morning admitted that no flags had been flown, but stated that it was not an oversight on the part of any officials.

"It is not customary to fly the flags on the schools," h esaid, "except on public and patriotic holidays. We never have flown them every day of the year and there is no reason why we should."

SEPARATE SCHOOLS HEAVY ENROLLMENT

Number Enrolled Well Up To Average of Former Years, Secretary Reports.

Coincident with the good attendance at the local public schools comes also the report of Father Brisson, secretary-treasurer of the separate school board, showing a splendid enrollment at the Catholic schools of the city.

In his report Father Brisson states that the total enrollment of pupils at the eight schools is 1,195, and that this is well up to the average of preceding years, although the full enrollment has not yet been made. Several new pupils have been added to the rolls, making up for those who have either left the city or completed their primary education.

The figures for the separate schools as given out by Father Brisson are as follows: Sacred Heart School, 215; St. Mary's, 170; St. John's, 177; St. Michael's, 210; St. Martin's, 80; St. Joseph's, 82; Mount St. Joseph, 120.

St. Peter's School has the largest enrollment, some 241 boys having been entered there. The instruction now being given in this institution covers the boys from the sixth grade up to and including the third year of the collegiate course.

RICHARD FLYNN DEAD, ILL SEVERAL MONTHS

Was Formerly Head Gardener at Ontario Hospital For the Insane.

Richard J. Flynn, formerly head gardener at the Ontario Hospital For the Insane, and a resident of London for the past fifty years, died in St. Joseph's Hospital last night after an illness of several months. He was in his 65th year.

Mr. Flynn was born in Amherstburg, Ont., but moved to this city when a boy and engaged in horticultural and agricultural work. He was head gardener at the Ontario Hospital for nearly 27 years, and during that period the exquisite layout of the flower gardens and the general appearance of the grounds were highly commended by several horticultural experts in the province. He held the position of head gardener up till three years ago, when he retired.

Besides his wife, Nettie Flynn, he is survived by three daughters, Mrs. M. K., over of this city, Mother Marian of the Ursuline Convent, Chatham, and Miss Mabel at home, and four sons—William P., Joseph R. and Walter A., all of London, and Francis J. of Detroit.

Mr. Flynn was a member of the London branch of the Catholic Order of Foresters, and up till his illness had taken an active part in that organization.

The funeral will be held on Saturday from the family residence, 575 Maitland street, to St. Peter's Church, where requiem high mass will be celebrated at 9 o'clock. Interment will take place in St. Peter's Cemetery.

JAPANESE CITIES STILL SHAKEN BY 'QUAKES

of age, a graduate of Yale and a noted college graduate. He had been in the consular service since 1911.

Refugees also report that the American Navy Hospital at Yokohama collapsed, and that Commander Webb was injured. The fate of patients in the hospital is unknown. It was reported Monday that the hospital escaped unscathed, and that several hundred foreigners had sought refuge there.

Vice-Consul Wardel, a native of Tennessee, is reported safe. Three other vice-consuls are unaccounted for. The American consul at Nagoyla is reported safe. The two little sons of Consul-General Kirjassoff, aged four and six, are believed to have perished with their parents.

The United States steamer Blackhawk left Tsing Tao early today with a cargo of rice and flour for Yokohama and Tokio.

Relief Commission Leaves.

A second contingent of American naval destroyers has been despatched from Ching Wang Tao to search for Miss Marian Halsey, secretary of the Rockfeller Hospital here; Miss Esta McMillan, registrar of the same institution; Miss Helen Downes, an instructor; Dr. and Mrs. W. T. Councilman and their daughter, and Dr. R. E. McCullough and his wife, all of them hospital attaches who were vacationing in Japan.

The Japanese legation here announced today that all money contributed by Chinese for relief work is being used exclusively to alleviate the sufferings of Chinese in the earthquake zone.

RELIEF WORK PROCEEDS.

Associated Press Despatch.

London, Sept. 6.—A more encouraging outlook on the situation in Japan was received today at the foreign office from the British consul in Kobe, who said the Japanese war office, department of justice, foreign office and admiralty were declared by the local authorities to be intact. Previous reports were to the effect that the government buildings suffered severely from the earth shocks and subsequent fires.

The consul's cable message adds that two persons who had walked from Tokio to Yokohama confirmed the reports of enormous destruction in the latter city, but their account of the situation in regard to the foreigners in Tokio was encouraging. Altogether about 400 British refugees have arrived at Kobe from Yokohama. British eyewitnesses state that the damage to the central and official business districts in Tokio is not so great as was at first believed, and it now seems possible that the British embassy building and consulates in the capital may have been spared.

A despatch received in London from a British naval officer in Yokohama says all the foreign residents in Tokio escaped, but that 70 were killed in Yokohama. This is considered a plausible estimate of the proportion of the loss of foreign lives in the two cities, although it is by no means complete, judging from earlier figures.

Relief Work Proceeds.

The latest British advices are that the relief work is well in hand. A British warship arrived at Yokohama yesterday afternoon and all the foreign refugees are being taken on board.

The encouraging reports regarding the safety of the foreigners, however, give little cause for hope of the escape of many among the millions of Japanese who lived along the shores of Tokio Bay, from Yokosuka on the southwestern shore of the bay, near the entrance, through Yokohama, Kanagawa and the city of Tokio to Chiba, on the eastern side, and along the shores of Sagami Bay, on the western side of the Izu Peninsula, where many foreigners as well as Japanese spend their summers in the seashore colonies.

As yet no reports have been received from the Sagami districts, and it is believed the loss of life there will be found to have been as heavy as any other part, because of the popularity of the resorts such as Kamakura and Hayama and the certainty that the tidal waves must have done terrible damage there, as the center of the earthquake was in the ocean bed 60 miles to the south.

Communication Severed.

It is impossible to estimate accurately the loss of life, and figures are likely to be inaccurate or incomplete for days and perhaps weeks, but reports received here indicate that the greatest losses were in the poorer districts of Tokio and Yokohama and in the intervening industrial suburbs, where tidal waves and fires are certain to have taken a heavy toll among the thousands unable to escape to higher ground.

In Tokio more than a million people lived in closely-jammed wooden structures in the low-lying districts and along the Sumida River, their homes only a foot or so above the high tide level of Tokio Bay and the tidal waves resulting from the seismic disturbance of the ocean bed may have drowned thousands or even hundreds of thousands as the early reports stated.

The Japanese embassy here has received scant news of the disaster, and this merely tells of the earthquake, fires and tidal waves. The embassy is still cut off from Tokio, and interruption of communication between the Japanese foreign office and its representatives abroad is unparalleled since Japan became a world power.

30,000 MEET DEATH.

Special to The Advertiser.

San Francisco, Sept. 6.—Thirty thousand killed, 100,000 injured, and 350,000 buildings destroyed in Tokio is the latest estimate of the toll of Saturday's earthquake and subsequent fire made by the Japanese home ministry, according to a message received by the Radio Corporation of America today.

The radiogram was forwarded by the government wireless station at Tomioka.

"Yokohama has been annihilated," the message said.

Measures are being taken, the radiogram declared, to guard foreigners against suffering.

DAMAGE IS SMALLER.

Special Cable to The Advertiser.

London, Sept. 6.—Damage caused by earth shocks and fire in the business and official districts of Tokio is smaller than at first reported, according to 400 British refugees reaching Kobe, whose stories were carried here by the British consul.

The foreign office, the admiralty and the department of justice buildings are all intact, according to the British version.

SLAUGHTER BALL GAME ON NEW CITY HALL SITE

City Hall Squad Plays Its First and Last Softball Contest to a Defeat.

Local baseball fans have witnessed many ball games, but none in the same category as last night's soft ball skirmish on the waste land across from the old city hall is going to be when its ready for release.

It would be well at this juncture to announce the teams and their batteries. On one side was ranged hte famous city hall squad (who until last inght had never fought and never been defeated). This was Manager MacNamara's hand picked aggregation, but as baseball players they proved themselves good checker players when they encountered the boys from the storage yard, who trimmed them handsomely. The close small score indicates that a high grade ball was delivered F. O. B. At dark the score board showed city hall 21, storage squad 29.

Experts who reviewed the game to day were mos temphatic in their belief that the score would have been 39 only it happened that Centre Fielder Woods failed to appear.

Members of the city hall team think that they might have had an even chance if the umpire had been at all fair.

"He rendered us some mighty bum decisions," commented city hall player Gray this morning, and he proposes that the manager protest the game on this point.

Charles Turner was the umpire, but he is said to be still in hiding. Pope on third base was chiefly responsible, it is said, for about 15 runs obtained by the visiting team. He was "simply awful," according to those who left in disgust about the third inning. Interviewed this morning, Pope was strictly non-committal, although he modestly admitted that he was the city hall third baseman.

Both Captain Garratt and "Bud" McNabb called up The Advertiser today stating that they wanted it distinctly understood that they were not in any way involved in last night's blot of shame—either before or after.

Others say they are just peeved because they were not allowed to pitch. But everyone can't pitch, declared Manager MacNamara. Some think that this is the reason why "Jimmy" Bell was not there when the boys in their bright new uniforms trotted out on the field.

Just in passing it may be mentioned that Manager MacNamara put up a pretty bum exhibition in left field, although he claims that he saved 50 runs that would have come in had a poor runner not been placed in that pasture.

Eye witnesses related today, however, that they were vastly amused by the keen competition between Pope and the manager. Their playing was of such a nature that "Jimmy" Bell holds the opinion they were trying to throw the game.

Manager MacNamara promises that a brand new team manager 'neverything will meet the public utilities commission Friday night on the same batle ground.

TOURISTS ARE FINED FOR O. T. A. VIOLATION

Visitors From United States Paid $200 For Toting the Odd Crock.

Wesley Lyonde, charged in police court this morning with reckless driving, admitted his guilt. The case was adjourned, however, Lyonde being instructed to make good damage he had done to a wagon with which he collided on Dundas street just east of Clarence street at 2:30 o'clock this morning. The deefndant declared he had turned east on Dundas street, off Clarence, and before he could "straighten away" collided with the wagon, which was in charge of some men who were marking parking spaces on the pavement. He declared he was driving slowly.

Frank Morrow was fined $3 and costs for passing a standing street car. He claimed he was pulling away from the curb as the car stopped, and that the door of the street car had not been opened to discharge passengers. A policeman and two car employees stated passengers were being discharged.

Three American tourists, Arthur Lines William McCoy and C. Gainsberg were arrested last night on charges of having liquor in their possession in contravention of the O. T. A. Lines pleaded guilty and was fined $200 and costs. The other men were dismissed.

George Gallagher and Frank Patton were fined $10 and costs for stealing vegetables from the Ontario Hospital grounds. By mistake they appeared today instead of tomorow. Magistrate Graydon told them the crime was a serious one, but that Dr. Robinson, superintendent of the Ontario Hospital was asking that the stealing be stopped, but was not pressing for sentence. However, the court remarked, the imposition of a fine would not be a precedent for other cases of the kind. Harold Moffat and Leonard Winsley will appear tomorrow on similar charges. All four men pleaded guilty a week ago.

IMPROVE TRAVEL FROM TORONTO TO NIAGARA FALLS

Bettering of Service Will Cost the C. N. R. About $3,000,000.

BUSINESS INCREASES

Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, Sept. 6.—Plans were approved some time ago and are now being carried into effect for the creation by the National Railways of a much faster traffic service from Toronto to Niagara Falls by way of the two steamers Northumberland and Dalhousie City across Lake Ontario, and from Port Dalhousie by rail to the Niagara frontier. The improvements when completed will represent an expenditure of $2,000,000 to $3,000,000. The erection of a large new passenger station on Welland avenue and Balfour streets in St. Catharines, the building of new freight terminals in the same area, and extensive track changes in that city and also in Niagara Falls will be included in the work.

The volume of business between Niagara River points and Toronto has grown heavy in the last few years. By carrying out the plans which have been settled upon, and for part of which contracts are now being called, 45 minutes will be cut off between Toronto and the Falls. In the latter city rearrangement of traffic service is to be effected so that traffic can be taken through directly to the upper side of the town, thus economizing in time connections with Tonawanda, Buffalo, Niagara Falls, N. Y., and other places.

The new passenger station in St. Catharines will be 145 feet long and 45 feet wide. Tenders for its construction are now being called, and while the cost has not yet been given out, it is expected that it will be $100,000 or more.

ADVISES LEAGUE TO REMAIN FIRM IN PRESENT CRISIS

Secretariat at Geneva Is Bombarded With Telegrams From All Over World.

FACING A DILEMMA

By A. R. DECKER,
Special Cable to The London Advertiser and Chicago Daily News. Copyright.

Geneva, Sept. 6.—The secretariat of the League of Nations is being bombarded with telegrams from all parts of the world, offering advice on the disposition of the Italo-Greek controversy.

One from the United States, reading, "For God's sake stand firm," is a fair sample of the majority of them. Supporters of the league seem to want to see energetic steps taken to establish at Geneva the authority to prevent armed conflicts.

Representatives of the nations in the league are maintaining silence, awaiting developments. Even such a staunch adherent as Lord Robert Cecil states that he occupies the position of judge, and hence cannot render an opinion in advance.

Signor Salandra's carefully worded argument, presented on behalf of Italy, and tending to show that the league is not competent to handle the Italo-Greek conflict, is believed by some observers to leave a loophole for the bringing of the case before the council of ambassadors, whose Italian agents were slain on the Albanian border, or before the world court. However, if the matter is taken away from the league, the smaller states will feel the hopelessness of their situation.

Already the Little Entente has resolved to support the thesis that the league is competent, and the Balkan states are preparing for more active disapproval.

The Journal De Genevre says: "Italy's indignation is justified, but Mussolini is going too far. He is ceding to the violence of his character and the acclamation of his fellow citizens. Shall we believe the quarrel is a pretext to permit him to fortify Italy east of the Adriatic. Mussolini declares the occupation of Corfu is temporary, but the same thing was said of the Dodecanese, eleven years ago.

"By denying the league's right to interfere, Mussolini has accomplished an exceedingly serious act. He forbids the league the right to function as regards matters for which it was expressly created. If the league council insists upon its right, Italy will perhaps leave the league; if the league declares the question out of its jurisdiction, it discredits itself forever."

STOMACH TROUBLES ARE DUE TO ACIDITY

Tells Safe, Certain, Speedy Relief For Acid Indigestion.

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, gas, sourness, stomach-ache and inability to retain food are in probably nine cases out of ten, simply evidence that excessive secretion of acid is taking place in the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acid indigestion.

Gas distends the stomach and causes that full, oppressive, burning feeling sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the excess development or secretion of acid.

To stop or prevent this souring of the food contents of the stomach and to neutralize the acid, and make it bland and harmless, a teaspoonful of Bisurated Magnesia, a good and effective corrector of acid stomach, should be taken in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water after eating or whenever gas, sourness or acidity is felt. This sweetens the stomach and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments and is a perfectly harmless and inexpensive remedy to use.

An antiacid, such as Bisurated Magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist in either powder or tablet form, enables the stomach to do its work properly without the aid of artificial digestents. Magnesia comes in several forms, so be certain to ask for and take only Bisurated Magnesia, which is especially prepared for the above purpose.—Advt.

Collection of Garbage Becomes Hazardous Job

It would appear that city garbage collecting is rapidly becoming a hazardous undertaking on a par with deep sea diving and so forth.

Superintendent Dodds reported today two mishaps to employees in his department. One collector suffered from poisoning from contact with a noxious weed of some description, while another man was severely bitten by a vicious dog during the course of his duties on Horton street a few days ago.

Superintendent Dodds warns that there is a city ordinance which provides that owners shall tie up dogs that are inclined to be vicious and unmanageable. He also requests that citizens will desist from throwing poison ivy or other weeds in their garbage receptacles.

The city authorities feel that there has been altogether too much carping criticism of the garbage men and they naturally resent complaints when there is no foundation for them, they assert.

ADVISES TRUST COMPANY TAKE OVER MAN'S AFFAIRS

Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, Sept. 6.—Joseph Cole, aged 75, through his legal representative, applied today before Mr. Justice Fisher for an order directing his discharge from a hospital for the insane in Hamilton. The affidavits of several doctors were submitted to show that Cole had become normal and was capable of managing his own affairs.

Justice Fisher, although he was inclined to agree with the argument of counsel, felt that in the interests of the old man it would be advisable for the Mercantile Trust Company of Hamilton to take over the management of his affairs. He was doubtful, however, whether he had the power to make such a direction and adjourned the application for a week in order that Cole and his relatives may be consulted regarding the appointment of the trust company.

800 APPLY IN MONTREAL FOR SOLDIERS' INSURANCE

Canadian Press Despatch.

Montreal, Sept. 6.—During the month of August 800 applications for insurance under the terms of the soldiers' insurance act were received by the local bureau of the department of soldiers' civil re-establishment. The aggregate amount applied for was $2,000,000. Last Friday and Saturday there was a rush of ex-service men and nurses to take out policies and 365 applicants presented themselves at the local offices.

SUMMER COMPLAINT CRAMPS and DIARRHOEA

There is no other kind of disease that comes on so quickly and with so little warning as an attack of bowel trouble.

One may retire at night, in the best of health, and before morning be awakened by terrific cramps and pains in the stomach, followed by diarrhoea, dysentery, summer complaint or bowel trouble in one form or another.

At this season of the year, when bowel troubles are so prevalent, we would advise the precaution of always having on hand a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, so that you will be ready for any and all emergencies. You will find that a few doses of this valuable remedy, taken promptly, will be the means of preventing a great deal of unnecessary suffering, and many a time save life.

Mrs. W. H. Judd, 174 Catharine street, S., Hamilton, Ont., writes: "Last summer I had a very bad attack of summer complaint, cramps and diarrhoea. I tried many different remedies, but they did not seem to help me. I heard of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, so decided I would try it. I only took a few doses, and in a short time I was better."

Price, 50c a bottle. Put up by The T. Milburn Company Limited, Toronto, Ont.—Advt.
