

A "BLACK MARIA" IN A RUNAWAY

Eight Prisoners Dumped Pell Mell Into the Street

WERE TOO SCARED TO ESCAPE

The Black Maria was driven from the Raymond street jail to the court of special sessions, carrying eight prisoners, including Charles E. Rogers, accused of murder. After the prison-

Driver Joseph Evans whipped up the horses and the Maria proceeded swiftly along Myrtle avenue. When it reached Fulton street the left hind wheel came off and the car ner came on and down went the rear of the heavy vehicle with a terrific jolt. The prisoners screamed with fright as they were tumbled in a heap in one corner of the hermetically sealed box. Their cries alarmed the horses, which bolted madly toward Court street. The Maria proceeded in great leaps and jerks on its three wheels and the cries of the jumbled prisoners could be heard for blocks.

Washington street Driver Evans was pitched off on his head. Then with a last final bound the black Maria turned turtle and the eight prisoners landed on the rib roof with a terrific jolt.

and pushed through the crowd he found the door of the Maria burst open, the bottom ripped out and not a prisoner in sight. Pale with apprehension he rushed to the nearest telephone and called up the Adams street station, requesting the immediate presence of all the reserves in two precincts. He also telephoned to De-

When the police arrived they scattered the crowd in all directions, tumbling scores of men and children about the streets. When the ex-ment subsided Warden Wilson found the eight prisoners scattered about on curbstones, nursing bruises and groaning with pain. In their distress and terror not one had entertained a thought of escape. A regiment of reserves escorted them to the prison, where their injuries were dressed.

SALISBURY'S CONDITION
Aged Ex-Premier Passed a Restless Night.

London, Aug. 17.—Lord Salisbury passed a somewhat restless night. Otherwise his condition is unchanged.

London, Aug. 17.—The grave condition of Lord Salisbury is due to advanced kidney trouble, and he is not expected to live a month. Dropsy developed recently and the patient's body was so swollen that he was unable to sit in his special chair, the least movement being difficult. The condition of the late Premier for weeks has been such that the usual summer visit to Beaulieu has been abandoned. It recently became necessary to carry him from room to room. The Marquis of Salisbury was reported slightly better Saturday.

When the news came that such a mammoth had been found the academy sent out an expedition under Otto Herz to the spot, a wild place on the bank of the Beresovka River, where a recent landslide had disclosed the gigantic animal's body. Dr. Herz's party had the greatest difficulty in geting the animal out of its bed. A wooden house was built and big fires lighted to thaw the ice. At last it was all removed and got to St. Petersburg from Irkutsk.

The hide was perfect and alone

The flesh, according to expert geologists, must have lain in the earth and ice about 20,000 years. It is blood-and has a certain elasticity. Between the flesh and the hide is a coating of fat three inches and a half thick, which must have enabled the mammoth to bear the most intense cold.

COCKRAN LAUDS THE LAND BILL

Says It Will Bring Happiness and Prosperity to Ireland.

STEPPING STONE TO HOME RULE

The Exodus to America Will Cease—
$50,000,000 to Buy Out the Landlords.

New York, Aug. 17.—W. Bourke Cockran, former Congressman, who has recently returned from Ireland, where he made a close study of the exact conditions in relation to home rule, gave an interview in which he said Ireland is soon to have home rule and her days of trouble are over.

"The passage of the Irish land act insures the settlement of the Irish question, which has disturbed millions of people for scores of years," said Mr. Cockran.

"It removes all reason for refusing to let the native people settle the conditions of their own government, and this means that Ireland will forge rapidly to the front as a nation, even as her people have come forward through their own inherent qualities."

"Ireland is bound to be one of the most potent factors in the world's government. It has taken years to get to the position Ireland will now hold, but, after all, the years of waiting may not have been in vain."

"Home rule was and is necessary to Ireland. The only force active in preventing self rule by the Irish people was the landlord class. They believed that their property would be endangered. The landlords will be equitably recompensed for their holdings and the people will be free to advance."

"I predict a wonderful future for Ireland. It will become a nation of cities and gardens instead of bogs and poverty."

"Emigration to America will be stopped. The husky young men and the strong, rosy-cheeked lassies will not have to leave their homes now to earn a living. They will stay in Ireland, marry and settle down on the farms the new bill will enable them to buy."

"As an earning proposition the Irish are unequalled. As a working class they are away from any other nationality. Four Irishmen can do the work of eight Italians or of five or six Yankees. These the Irish can and do earn more at labor than any other people. Working, earning and profiting for themselves, why shall they not be among the leaders? They will, mark my words."

"I do not believe the new bill will cause any exodus from this country back to Ireland, except perhaps in a few instances. Ireland still has people in plenty, and under the new order of things coming will be able to make and keep a homestead just as an American. Those who emigrated here are satisfied, pleased with their surroundings and conditions. Those who would have come here will now stay at home, because their surroundings and conditions will be changed to allow them to do so. Ireland as a country is one of the most fertile on the globe. Irishmen are the best farmers on its face. Where does England send for men to harvest its crops? Not to France, Germany or Italy, but to Ireland."

"Yet under the old regime all the Irishman's labor went eventually to the landlords. Now it will go to himself."

"The aim of the new land bill is the gradual wiping out of dual real estate ownership by buying out the landlords."

"Existing purchases are to continue only by mutual agreement of landlord and tenant. There is to be a new department created to cope with the task, which will be under the supervision and known as the Estates Commission."

"In order to hasten the transfer of real holdings the Government will advance the sum of $50,000,000 to make it worth the landlords' while to dispose of their holdings. The purchasing tenant is promised a reduction of his purchase installments, as compared with the rent he now pays, of from 10 to 20 per cent on second-time holdings, and from 20 to 40 per cent on rents fixed judicially prior to 1896."

"When landlords are to be bought out to a bargain the advance must be made, if within the limitations set, or, in the absence of any bargain, the commissions may purchase, thus having power to resell to the tenants in occupation or other claimants, in accordance with the provisions of the bill."

"The spirit and letter of the new bill give to the people of Ireland the chance to own their homes and free themselves from the hated and oppressing landlords. It means that the English Government, headed by King Edward and Lord Lansdowne, aided by Prime Minister Balfour and Mr. Wyndham, will now try to remedy the wrongs the Irish have suffered for many, many years."

ANOTHER CRISIS IN MANCHURIA

Attention Centered on Corea-
Russian Influences,

AND JAPAN IS FEELING UNEASY

Many Japs Are in Liao Tung—
Russians Dare Not Arrest Them and Are Greatly Chagrined.

Tokio, via Victoria, B. C., Aug. 17.—The situation in regard to Manchuria is approaching a climax. The Japanese Foreign Office reports that Gen. Kuroki, Russian War Minister, arrived at St. Petersburg on July 25, and it was expected that on his report would depend Russian policy, viz., Manchuria, Corea and Japan. Pending direct diplomatic developments of the Russian-Japanese situation, attention has become largely focused on themselves there strongly lately. It seems undoubted that the Seoul Government has weakly conceded to the Russians a lease of a tract of land at Yongampo, at the mouth of the Yalu. This is regarded by the Japanese as a violation of existing treaties between Japan and Russia as to Corea.

Much opera-bouffe action is going on in Corea regarding the removal of telegraph poles set up by Russians and Japanese in the strife for concessions. The Seoul-Fusan Railway, a Japanese corporation, placed telegraph poles on land leased from Corea for station purposes. Corea's Government demanded their removal, which was refused, and Corea officials, aided by coolies, started to remove them, when they were arrested by Japan.

The troubles between the Korean authorities and the Japanese Railway Company, which is attributed to secret Russian action at Seoul, is approaching a climax. At the same time, the Seoul Electric Railway, a United States concern, is having trouble. The line has been objected to by Corea and, consequently, hardly any passengers are traveling. The United States minister has claimed damages at the rate of $100 a day from the Korean Government in consequence.

A Tien-Tsin telegram to the Ashai says people in Liao Tung Province are very uneasy. Families of some Russian people at Port Arthur have already withdrawn, and Chinese residing along the railway continue to migrate.

The Japs' Pekin correspondent says that Russian non-combatants continue to emigrate into Manchuria. The same correspondent says the arrest of the members of the reform party at Pekin and Shanghai has augmented the prestige of the anti-Japanese party at Pekin to which the Empress Dowager is now inclined. Shanghai telegrams say the new commercial treaty between Britain and China was ratified on July 25. Herr Maunier, a German contractor, who expended his resources in an unprofitable timbering project in Sapporo, North Japan, has been attacked with cholera and several Japanese. He has been judged by a Japanese.

A steamer chartered by him is lying near Sapporo.

The North China Daily News says Chinese of the settlements are much excited over the rumors of a new war between Japan and Russia. The same paper says that Liao Tung swarms with Japanese, which is the charge of the Russians who dare not arrest them. The Shanghai papers assert that the Japanese know the country better than the Russians do.

Considerable interest is expressed in Japan over the cable reports of an agreement concluded between America and China to maintain the open door in Manchuria, the inference being that if this agreement is reached it would neutralize United States objection to Russian occupation of Manchuria.

It is not known how much such a convention would affect the claims for the evacuation of the provinces by Britain and Japan. Japanese opinion is that America will rely upon moral support in the event of Japan insisting on Russia living up to her Manchuria agreement with Japan.

It is not believed that country would begin hostilities without exhausting diplomatic relations, and with the fullest understanding with the powers concerned.

WILHELMINA IS MODEST

Holland's Young Queen Objects to Ostentation.

Paris, Aug. 17.—Queen Wilhelmina of Holland is traveling through her kingdom, not as monarchs generally travel in a maze of ceremonies, but simply and inexpensively as any young woman might.

Everywhere, however, she is received with the greatest enthusiasm by her people who are at a loss to show their devotion, as the queen has asked that fireworks, arches of honor and military display be avoided.

A few days ago she entered Rurem, announced simply by two heralds, but as soon as she had entered the town her carriage was surrounded by hundreds of white pigeons, each carrying ribbons in the colors of the house of Orange. A single room had been placed at her disposal, furnished with the smallest details by the ladies of the town, who afterwards kept the furniture as souvenirs of the visit of their queen.

NEGRO WOMEN MUTINY

Want No Race Discrimination in Prison
Whipping.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 17.—Emboldened by the agitation in favor of Mamie De Crys, the woman apparently fogged at a convict farm at Milledgeville, the negro women in the camp are in mutiny and declare that they will not be whipped by hands of the colored of the house of Orange. A single room had been placed at her disposal, furnished with the smallest details by the ladies of the town, who afterwards kept the furniture as souvenirs of the visit of their queen.

Poster had to go to each squad and tell them plainly that there was no change in the laws and that if they did not behave properly they would be whipped, taken before going to bed severely. This has had the effect of taking them down somewhat.

The prison commission has as yet rendered no decision in the case of Mamie De Crys. Its members, Gov. Terrell, Wardlaw and others, are receiving daily letters from all over the United States denouncing the whipping and demanding action. The remarkable thing about the whole affair is the indifference of the commission, composed of the face of the Governor and the face of the Governor's desire for Allagood's resignation, and the indignation of the United States, and the indignation of the Governor and letters directed to individual members of the commission, who have shown no intention of resigning voluntarily, and it is said that the fact of his being a Confederate may influence the commission in his favor.

PREVENT DISORDER.—At the first symptoms of disorder, Parmenter's Vegetable Pills should be resorted to immediately. Two or three of these salutary pills, taken before going to bed, followed by doses of one of two pills for two or three nights in succession, will dispel the fever, clear the bowels, and all the discomforts which follow in the wake of indigestion. The means are simple when the way is known.

TARIFF FIGHT IS WAXING WARM

Mr. Chamberlain Receiving
Many New Adherents.

STAND OR FALL ON THE ISSUE

Premier Balfour Intimates There Will Be No Tariff Legislation During This Parliament.

London, Aug. 17.—Foreign professors of political economy and cognate subjects write to the press expressing the opinion that the system of preferential tariffs is bad, and means the reintroduction of protection, which would prove detrimental to the national prosperity. Further, they argue that Chamberlain's suggestions for promoting amity would engender irritating contentions between different members of the empire. The Times replies, and dealing with the question of foreign competition, says that if England imports all her ironwork there will be no country without the necessity for iron, if her woolens, there will be nothing for the Yorkshiremen to do, and if all her cottons, Lancashire will be idle.

Sir William Harcourt, in a letter to the Radical Speaker, quotes figures to show that British iron will not be able to compete with Canadian iron, and that British iron will not be able to compete with Canadian iron.

Mr. Chamberlain was a politician of ordinary caliber, it is possible that he would yield to demands for a modification of his programme. He has not committed himself to any sweeping protection scheme. A mild revenue tariff might commend itself to the country without the necessity for an extensive propaganda. Moreover, the pressure which will be brought to bear upon the Colonial Secretary in the next few weeks will be something terrific. But Mr. Chamberlain has never shown himself to be of a compromising nature. He believes emphatically in a complete revision of the fiscal plan of the empire. Those who know him best have no doubt that he is prepared to stand or fall upon that issue. Even if he should yield, the matter has gone too far for any suppression of the question now before the country. The protection of the tariff is much stronger among the rank and file of the Conservative party than its leaders imagine. The growth of these sympathies has been rapid in the past few years, and has not been confined to the Unionist voters, although the Liberal party or what passes as that party, is supposed to be uncompromising for free trade.

Premier Balfour's utterances this week make it clear that the Government will not propose any legislation in the present Parliament, no matter what the result of the investigation be. This strengthens the supposition that there will be general election in the spring. The discussion in the Cabinet is so pronounced that it will be a matter of difficulty to maintain the status quo beyond the usual general conference. Meanwhile, however, the discussion will have been a general throughout the country, as Mr. Chamberlain will have made his October speeches and the situation grown considerably clearer.

Mr. Chamberlain's general ideas are getting a firmer hold each week upon the country. A sure sign of this is the steady accession to Mr. Chamberlain's ranks from among the manufacturers, who hitherto have been on the fence. Out of 200 hesitants only 20 braced themselves up before Parliament rose to inform Mr. Balfour that any government proposal to tax food would compel them to resign. The position, therefore, influences point more strongly than ever to a compromise and a ministerial reunion on some such policy as would transfer the present food tax on tea, sugar and coffee, and on the other hand, exempting the colonies, and providing for retaliatory measures against foreign bounty-fed manufacturers, similar to those principles which Parliament has sanctioned in the case of bounty-fed sugar.

Writing to the Times, Carnegie says that the dissatisfaction of the Northwest States in regard to the proposed preferential tariff is a little less than a cloud in the sky which should be wiped away. He refers to the surcharge which was placed on German bounty-fed beet sugar on the demand of the growers and manufacturers in the States. In a like manner, he thinks the United States agriculturist would conclude that a preferential tariff granted to Canada by Britain was not a fair deal, and he would act accordingly.

Minstrel's Joke Causes Him to Leave Theater.

Newport, Aug. 17.—During the performance of Lew Dockstader's Minstrel Company at the opera house Thursday night Harry Lehr arose and left the theater because of a joke perpetrated by Dockstader.

Mr. Lehr had escorted Mrs. Herman Oelrichs to the theater and the two sat in orchestra chairs.

In the scene in which Lew goes up in his airship, the actor said: "Ah, Mr. Lehr, have you your gold bangle with you? And have you your powder and puff, too?"

"Harry, let us go before we are insulted further."

Mr. Lehr smiled complacently and acquiesced to Mrs. Oelrichs' request and both left the theater.

His friends also say that he does not have his purchases charged to himself, but to his wife.

A MONEY ORDER BY MARCONIGRAPH

Young Man on Campania Was Out of Funds

SO GOT MOTHER ON LUCANIA

And It Was O. K.—Strathcona on Board—Says the New Railroad
Is a Necessity.

New York, Aug. 17.—The Cunard Line steamer Campania arrived Saturday from Liverpool and Queenstown. On board were Lord and Lady Strathcona and Mount Royal, the Hon. Thomas Alinut Brasse, Lady Ida Brasse and Harold Brasse and Sir William Holland, M. P.

The Marconi wireless telegraph was put in operation by a passenger shortly after leaving Queenstown. This passenger found himself without sufficient funds to pay expenses, and as his mother was a passenger on the Lucania, bound east, he sent a message to her, asking her to pay the fares on the Lucania for him, and the Campania's purser was notified of the payment. Communication was established when the ships were 50 miles distant, on Aug. 12, when a reply was received saying the Lucania's purser had received the money. This is said to be the first money order by Marconigram in mid-Atlantic.

A mysterious stowaway was reported, who, after having been twice discovered in different hiding-places and put to work, finally a third time secreted himself, and the crew were unable to find him. Another search was begun as soon as the cargo was stowed. Later in the day the man was found hidden in a lifeboat. At Ellis Island he admitted having been already deported at least three times.

Lord Strathcona, in speaking of the projected railroad, which is to parallel the Canadian Pacific, said: "Such a road is now a necessity. The country has been developed and the natural resources are such that immigration will be attracted. The new road will be partly subsidized by the Government, just as in the past with the Canadian Pacific. Canada is very prosperous, and she is now getting a fine class of immigration. A welcome is given to those coming from the United States. Not only have they energy and skill, but they are coming to Canada just like crossing an imaginary line. They bring their tools with them, and at once start to work as though they were country born." Lord Strathcona returns at once to Canada.

THE MARKETS

STOCK MARKETS.

New York, Aug. 17.—The market has developed a steady tone after a comparatively weak opening, and it evidences absorption of stocks from good sources. The lower opening was influenced by the London price, and some uncertainty was manifested for a time. Technical conditions, however, gave way to strength, induced by good buying and a general conviction that the market is not overdone, and that the resumption of the market is quite evident, and the gains are satisfactory. There are the features, and the buying of all the issues can be called good. The prospective showing in the annual report is the stimulus. Amalgamated Copper, preferred, is erratic at 100, and then developed strength. Northern Pacific, preferred, is strong and steady. Standard Oil, preferred, is strong and steady. The market is active, and the gains are satisfactory. The market is active, and the gains are satisfactory.

THEY FEEL RELIEVED
English M. P. Objects to Chamberlain's Methods.

London, Aug. 17.—Several members of Parliament breathed a sigh of relief at the conclusion of the session for the special reason that they no longer run the risk of being button-holed by Mr. Joseph Chamberlain in the lobbies of St. Stephen's. The Secretary for the Colonies, it appears, was so intent on gaining converts to his fiscal proposals that he became a terror to certain M. P.s, upon whom he sought to force his views in a manner they considered particularly ill-timed.

LONDON AND DISTRICT

The congregation of the First Methodist Church last night greatly enjoyed Mrs. Fred Scream's delightful singing of Rodney's "Calvary."

In the various Catholic churches throughout the diocese of London, special reference was yesterday made to the feast of the Assumption, and the importance of the occasion in the church year.

Mr. Jones, organist of the Dundas Street Methodist Church, for several months past, has been making his farewell appearance there yesterday. In the evening, by special request, he rendered a number of organ solos, and also directed the choir in the regular musical service. Miss Williams, of the choir, was the soloist at the morning service.

Until the return of a number of the members of the church, no changes bearing on the choir will be made. The removal of Mrs. Calder-Stewart, which has now become a permanent feature of the church, there is a possibility of the position of a soprano soloist being dispensed with and replaced by a quartette, composed of members of the choir.

NEW PAVEMENT THIS YEAR.
Three-fourths of the ratepayers on Dundas street between Waterloo and Colborne have petitioned for an asphalt pavement. They want the new pavement this year and expect to get it. It may be necessary to have a special meeting of the council called to do this, but as the ratepayers are unanimous in asking for it this year, it is probable that the council will meet their desires. It is altogether likely that the block on Dundas street to the west of the Colborne, it appears, was so intent on gaining converts to his fiscal proposals that he became a terror to certain M. P.s, upon whom he sought to force his views in a manner they considered particularly ill-timed.

THE MONEY WAS RETURNED.
The detectives this morning secured the return to the owner of $80 that was taken from the residence of Mr. James Taylor, 181 Clarence street, while the family were absent at church between 11 and 12:30 o'clock on Sunday. The money, which belonged to a church organization, was in the care of Miss Taylor, and it had been left in a drawer in one of the bedrooms. When Miss Taylor returned home she found the money missing, but nothing else in the house disturbed. This gave rise to the belief that the theft was the work of some person well acquainted with the place, who also knew where the money had been left, and inquiry showed the police that a young man who was intimate with the family was around the house during the morning. When the young fellow was confronted with the detectives, he confessed that he had taken the money, but he wanted to talk the matter over, but the detectives had no time to listen to his story, telling him that he must be given a certain time to take the money back. This was done, Miss Taylor and the members of her family did not want to have him prosecuted.

SMALLPOX PATIENTS RECOVERING.
One of the patients in the smallpox isolation hospital, William Bell, who was one of the four persons taken from the houses on the Hamilton road, was released by order of the medical health officer on Saturday. Mr. Bell has entirely recovered from the effects of the disease. P. G. Dickson, another of the quartette, is doing so well that will be able to leave the hospital in the course of a few days. This was much more serious than that of Bell. The West London girl, named Lawton, whose condition was as well as can be expected, and is now considered to be out of danger. To improve her condition, it is now considered that at their present rate, there is every reason to believe that in the course of a few weeks the hospital will again be empty.

ADOLPH STREET CHURCH.
In the absence of Pastor Johnson, who is taking a brief, well-earned vacation, the pulpit of Adelaide Street Baptist Church was occupied yesterday morning by Mr. Wickham, of the Barton Street Mission. In the evening a very interesting and well-attended praise service was held, in the course of which, Mr. Clinton Watson, of Brandon College, who is spending his vacation at his home in this city, gave an able and earnest address. Mr. Watson took as his theme the words of Psalm 138: "What shall I do to thee, O Lord, who art called Christ?" A much appreciated feature of the service was the singing by the male quartette, which included Messrs. Maynard, Moorhead, Gould and Gurney. Rev. L. Brown, of Petrolia, is expected to preach next Sunday.

DIED AFTER LONG ILLNESS.
After an illness extending over a period of three years, Mr. James H. Clark died yesterday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Clark, lot 4, concession C, London Township. The young man was 21 years of age, and two years ago, when ill health continued to tell on him, he went to the Pacific coast in the hope of securing some benefit, but after returning for some time he returned home, going subsequently to Orillia, where he also failed to improve. The deceased was born on the farm on which he died, and received his education in the school at the core of London. He was very fond of music, and came connected with the Creswell orchestra. His parents and an older brother, Fred, survive him. The funeral to Woodland Cemetery tomorrow will be conducted by Rev. Gurney, pastor of St. Matthew's Church, East London.

INTEREST WAS KEEN
Much Depended on Outcome of Saturday's City League Games.

To the London and McClary teams much depended upon the outcome of the games at Tecumseh Park on Saturday afternoon. Both teams were within a short distance of each other for much of the game, but the Londoners, first place, the Londoners lost and the McClarys won. This accounted for the unusually keen interest of the spectators. By losing, the Londoners were down to a percentage of 50 to 44, while by their easy victory the Londoners went up from 46 to 62, a difference of nearly 20 points. By winning, the Rockets stepped into second place, and the once leaders, the Londoners, were placed at the bottom. The standing:

LONDONERS WILL SEE MANY FINE PLAYS NEXT SEASON

Bookings for the New Grand include Many of the Best Attractions on Stage.

PARTIAL list of the bookings for the coming season at the New Grand Opera House has been completed. Even with those that are sure to come here, the season will be a good one; but many besides the attractions mentioned will be secured later.

It is possible that Londoners will have a chance to see Mrs. Fiske and Mrs. Langtry this year in new plays, the former in "May of Magdala," the latter in "The Palace of the King." Manager Small, who knows London's fondness for opera, has secured several of the better class. Among them will be "The Prince of Elison" and the dainty "Dolly Varden," which Miss Lulu Glaser has made so popular.

INMATE OF ASYLUM HANGS HERSELF TO WINDOW FRAME
Made Two Attempts at Suicide Between Visits of Guards—Second Was Successful.

ANY MENNELLY, for some years an inmate of the asylum for the insane, committed suicide at an early hour Sunday morning.

The woman had been subject to melancholy, and owing to this and the consequent belief that she might attempt to take her life, she was placed in a part of the woman's ward occupied by patients of that class. It is the rule of the attendants and others on watch to visit every patient at short intervals, and it was during one of these short spaces of time that the unfortunate succeeded in taking her life.

A DOUBLE HANGING
Mob Lynch a Black and a White for Assault.

Augusta, Ga., Aug. 17.—Information was received here of the lynching of a white man and negro on the same day over here in the negro town of Woodman, a negro named King Wriggman, who was charged with the assault on a white woman, living in a Hartfield, a village, near Albany. When the mob reached the door the men sized her and dragged her out, and she was hanged to a tree.

A CAM SUICIDE
Beautiful Worn Dresses for Dinner andakes Acid.

New Haven, Aug. 17.—Broken-hearted New Haven, a young society matron of thickety, took her life by swallowing a dose of carbolic acid at the fashionable Hotel Pembroke. Mrs. Bradstreet, who was dining at the hotel, saw her and called to her, and calmly to her brother that she had swallowed poison, and she said to the summer residence of Professor Harry Ferris, of Yale Medical school, and she said to him, "When I was found that woman had swallowed a full ounce of carbolic acid, the physicians said in the use of antidotes would be futile. She died within half an hour."

Lettersto the Editor.

THE BEST OF DOGS.
To the Editor of The Advertiser:
I beg leave to endorse heartily every word in the article headed "The Plague of Dogs." His nuisance has become almost unbearable and it is high time that some laws were taken to mitigate it. The citizens out of four other streets have been disturbed by barking dogs. It is true of the ordinary person, how about the value and highly nervous people? There is no slightest doubt in my mind that bay horses have been disturbed by the noise of a dog barking. I know of one man whose horse was broken and life endangered by the plague of barking dogs in his neighborhood. He is not sure of a night being undisturbed by the noise of a dog barking. They serve a useful purpose, and by his nuisance could be easily controlled by law. The citizens of London should be put upon their guard.

Open at Nights.
The C. P. R. City Ticket Office will be open on Saturday, Monday and Tuesday nights for the accommodation of those wishing to purchase farm laborers' tickets to the Canadian Northwest.

HORSES WILL DO ODD THINGS.
Even horses in London will do odd things at times, and especially when they take it into their heads to run away. Here is an instance: On Saturday evening a horse attached to a brewery wagon was left standing on William street, near the C. P. R., and during the absence of its driver ran away. Instead of keeping to the regular highway it sought to make a name for itself by turning out on the railway tracks, where it took a westerly course. As it happened, a string of cars was being shunted in the same direction, and in front of these the runaway kept until it reached Maitland street, where it took to the road again. It was none the less a remarkable occurrence. The freight cars were not moving very rapidly at the time.

Bookings for the New Grand include Many of the Best Attractions on Stage.

PARTIAL list of the bookings for the coming season at the New Grand Opera House has been completed. Even with those that are sure to come here, the season will be a good one; but many besides the attractions mentioned will be secured later.

It is possible that Londoners will have a chance to see Mrs. Fiske and Mrs. Langtry this year in new plays, the former in "May of Magdala," the latter in "The Palace of the King." Manager Small, who knows London's fondness for opera, has secured several of the better class. Among them will be "The Prince of Elison" and the dainty "Dolly Varden," which Miss Lulu Glaser has made so popular.

Beautiful Worn Dresses for Dinner andakes Acid.

New Haven, Aug. 17.—Broken-hearted New Haven, a young society matron of thickety, took her life by swallowing a dose of carbolic acid at the fashionable Hotel Pembroke. Mrs. Bradstreet, who was dining at the hotel, saw her and called to her, and calmly to her brother that she had swallowed poison, and she said to the summer residence of Professor Harry Ferris, of Yale Medical school, and she said to him, "When I was found that woman had swallowed a full ounce of carbolic acid, the physicians said in the use of antidotes would be futile. She died within half an hour."

Lettersto the Editor.

THE BEST OF DOGS.
To the Editor of The Advertiser:
I beg leave to endorse heartily every word in the article headed "The Plague of Dogs." His nuisance has become almost unbearable and it is high time that some laws were taken to mitigate it. The citizens out of four other streets have been disturbed by barking dogs. It is true of the ordinary person, how about the value and highly nervous people? There is no slightest doubt in my mind that bay horses have been disturbed by the noise of a dog barking. I know of one man whose horse was broken and life endangered by the plague of barking dogs in his neighborhood. He is not sure of a night being undisturbed by the noise of a dog barking. They serve a useful purpose, and by his nuisance could be easily controlled by law. The citizens of London should be put upon their guard.

A REMARKABLE DIAMOND
Was Presented to Late Pope Leo by Paul Kruger.

CAZAR'S "BLACK CABINET"
All Letters and Packages Minutely Examined.

London, Aug. 17.—The most valuable diamond in the world was by Pius X. at his coronation last Sunday, was recently reset by a well known Parisian firm, who were allowed to exhibit the precious stone for a few days. This diamond, which is a pure blue-white stone, weighs in its present form 91 carats and is valued at about one and one-quarter millions francs. Its history is quite interesting. It was found several years ago near Jagersfontein by a poor Hottentot field laborer, who brought it to Oom Paul, and in return received 500 piastres and a horse. President Kruger, strong Protestant though he was, sent the stone as a gift to the late Pope Leo, who gave it the place of honor in the papal tiara.

A Couple to Wed Who Have Never Seen Each Other.

Paris, Aug. 17.—Marcus Braun, an immigration inspector who sailed for New York last week on the Moltke, had in his charge the heroine of a particularly interesting romance—Miss Margaret Neumann, of Ungvár, Hungary. She was to join her fiancé, Hermann Mittlemann, No. 155 Suffolk street, New York, whom she has never seen.

Mittlemann emigrated to New York before his intended wife was born, and his mother picked her out for him. They exchanged letters and photographs and became engaged. On solicitation of Mr. Neumann, Mr. Braun consented to take the bride over with him to the United States, upon the condition that the marriage ceremony should take place on board the ship after the arrival of the Moltke in New York harbor.

It reads: "For over eight years I suffered from Chronic Inflammation of the Lungs and Kidneys. It got so bad I could scarcely sit, walk or sleep. A U. S. Army Officer Wants Redress for Insult.

Manila, Aug. 17.—Major Robert L. Bullard, U. S. A., has demanded redress from Sultan Deseon, the tribal leader of the Lanao Moros. Although professing a warm friendship for Americans, the Sultan recently surrounded a small detachment of United States troops paying him a friendly visit with a strong force of warriors and offered battle, his men insultingly bearing an American flag. So far the only reply of the Sultan to Major Bullard's demands has been denial.
