Historical

For the origin of our church we have to go back to the year 1841. In that year we had no existence; but also in that year a movement was set on foot which in the year following (1842) resulted in the organizing of the Portland Baptist Church. Early in the year of 1841 the Rev. Thos. Harding, Pastor of what was then the Second Baptist Church of St. John, using as a pulpit Thomas Cunard's stoop, preached the first Baptist sermon in Indiantown.

On the Good Friday following Rev. Mr. Harding and the Rev. Samuel Robinson baptized thirty converts at Marble Cove. These, with representatives from the First and Second Churches of St. John, formed a branch mission in the parish of Portland. Early in 1842, at a meeting of the First and Second Churches, the following requisition was presented:

"We the undersigned members of the First and Second Baptist Churches in the city of St. John, believing it would be for the glory of God to have a church formed in the parish of Portland, do, therefore, respectfully request that Brethren Harding and Robinson would, as soon as convenient, attend to the organization of the said church."

In compliance with the above request the following persons were chosen as a council to consider the advisability of organizing a separate church in Portland: viz., Revs. Thomas Harding and Samuel Robinson, with Jeremiah Drake, John Knowlin, Charles D. Everett and A. McL. Seeley.

On the 29th of April, 1842, the Council was organized, the Rev. Thos. Harding acting as Moderator. When organized the church had a membership of about fifty. For some time it worshipped in what was known as the Mud Meeting House. The spiritual needs of the new church until a regular pastor was secured were ministered to by the Revs. Joshua Bunting, John Francis and William Becker. The first permanent pastor of the church was the Rev. E. W. Harris. He in turn was succeeded by Revs. E. D. Very, Wm. Scott, Wm. Burton, David Nutter, J. W. Goucher, E. C. Cady, W. B. Boggs, David McLellan, W. A. Corey, W. J. Stewart, Sydney Welton, J. A. Gordon, Alexander White, H. H. Roach, and the present pastor Dr. D. Hutchinson.

The old house of worship a frame building, was dedicated on April 26th, 1846. At its dedication the membership of the church was eighty-six, showing that since the organization in 1842 considerable progress had been made. During her history the church has had some remarkable ingatherings. In the year 1870 as the result of an evangelistic effort in which Pastor Cady was assisted by Elder Knapp one hundred and fifty were added to its rolls. During the ministry of Revs. Stewart and Gordon there were also frequent additions to the membership. So steady indeed was the growth of the church that in 1894 it became necessary to consider the question of a new building. After careful and prayerful consideration it was decided at a business meeting of the church held March 6th, 1895, to proceed with the erection of a new house of worship. The church at that time was under the leadership of the Rev. J. A. Gordon, now Professor of Theology in Brandon College, Manitoba.

A building committee was appointed consisting of the following, viz., R. C. Elkin, M. E. Cowan, D. J. Purdy, G. H. Miles, E. M. Sprague, Peter McIntyre, and the pastor, Rev. J. A. Gordon. The corner stone of the new edifice was laid by Mrs. R. C. Elkin, on August 26th, 1895.

In addition to the pastor, those taking leading parts in the service were the Rev. I. W. Corey, who spoke on "The Relation of the Church to the Moral and Spiritual Life of the Community;" The Rev. Dr. E. M. Kierstead of Wolfville, N. S., who spoke on "The Relation of the Church to the Intellectual Life of the Community;" the Rev. Mr. Gale, who led in prayer, and Mayor Robertson. After Mr. D. V. Roberts had given a brief address, and had placed the box containing a number of articles in place in the corner stone, Mr. Mott, the architect, handed a handsome and engraved silver trowel to Mrs. Elkin, who tapping the stone three times said: "I declare this corner stone well and truly laid." Since 1896 the new building has been the home of the church.

Here the members of the church have come together to worship God; here we have enjoyed many striking manifestations of the Divine Presence; and here we have seen many turning to the Lord. The Main Street Baptist Church has always been an aggressive church, and today as in the past, it is a great centre of Christian life and activity. The congregation which assembles within its walls from Sunday to Sunday, is said to be, the largest Protestant congregation in the city. It has outgrown its accommodation for Sunday work and will soon have to face the question of an enlarged plant or suffer. The Sunday School some time ago started an extension fund which has already gathered in about $1,400.00.

The present pastor Rev. D. Hutchinson has ministered to the spiritual needs of the people since May, 1905.

As a church we are happily united, and the outlook for still larger expansion is bright. The church is well located for aggressive work. It is in a growing part of the city and is easily reached, the street railway running past its doors. There are not many churches that have a better opportunity for service for God than our own beloved church. Quite a number of the older members have in the past few years been called to their rest and reward. Will the younger people be as true to their church as their parents were? If they are, the future usefulness and growth of the church is assured. As we set our faces toward the future, let us as pastor and people, reconsecrate ourselves to God, and to His service.

A MORNING PRAYER.

God of love, of grace, of strength, hear me:

Go before my face this new day, that I may meet each new or perplexing problem with patience and courage.

May I not falter, though each task that shall confront me may seem greater than my strength or ability to meet and accomplish,

But may I, in my weakness, turn to Thee for strength; knowing that Thou wilt grant — according to Thy most perfect judgment — all supplications that are in accord with Thy plan.

May I not commit any grievous wrong, O, Father; though if I should err, may my conscience be so susceptible to Thy Spirit's pleading that I may quickly know and freely repent of my sin.

I ask forgiveness for all things that I may do which shall be as dross in Thy sight — may they be forgotten;

And, Great Father, where I have been faithful in one thing, do Thou water it and cause it to live and grow and to bear fruit in full time, that there may be rejoicing in Thy name; And when the evening shades are falling, may I find joy in the thought that I have been my best this day.

And then may I sleep in peace. Amen.

—Frank L. Connor.

Church Covenant

"And they entered into a covenant to seek the Lord God of their fathers with all their heart and with all their soul." 2 Chron. 15:12.

Having been led, as we believe, by the Spirit of God, to receive the Lord Jesus Christ as our Saviour, and on profession of our faith having been baptized in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost, we do now, in the presence of God, angels, and this assembly, most solemnly and joyfully enter into covenant with one another, as one body in Christ.

We promise by the aid of the Holy Spirit to forsake the paths of sin, and to walk in the ways of holiness all the days of our lives. With this view we engage to strive together for the advancement of this church in knowledge, holiness, and comfort; to promote its prosperity and spirituality; to sustain its worship, ordinances, discipline and doctrines; to contribute cheerfully and regularly to the support of the ministry, the expenses of the church, the relief of the poor, and the spread of the gospel throughout all nations.

We also engage to maintain family and secret devotion; to religiously educate our children; to seek the salvation of our kindred and acquaintances; to walk circumspectly in the world; to be just in our dealings; faithful in our engagements, and exemplary in our deportment; to avoid all tattling, backbiting, and excessive anger; to abstain from the sale and use of intoxicating liquors as a beverage, and to be zealous in our efforts to advance the kingdom of our Saviour.

We further engage to walk together in Christian love and watchfulness, giving and receiving admonition with meekness and affection; to remember each other in prayer; to aid each other in sickness and distress; to cultivate Christian sympathy in feeling and courtesy in speech; to be slow to take offense, but always ready for reconciliation and mindful of the rules of our Saviour, to secure it without delay.

We moreover engage that when we remove from this place, we will as soon as possible unite with some other church, where we can carry out the spirit of this covenant, and the principles of God's word.

"NOT UNDERSTOOD."

We move asunder; our paths grow wider
 As the seasons creep along the years;
 We marvel and we wonder while life is life
 And then we go to sleep,
 Not Understood.

Not understood. We gather false impressions,
 And hug them closer as the years go by
 Till virtue often seems to us transgressions;
 And thus men rise and fall, and live and die,
 Not Understood.

Not understood. Poor souls with stunted vision
 Oft measure giants by their narrow guage;
 The poisoned shafts of falsehood and derision
 Are oft impelled 'gainst those who mould the age,
 Not Understood.

Not understood. The secret springs of action,
 Which lie beneath the surface and the show,
 Are disregarded: with self satisfaction
 We judge our neighbors, and they often go,
 Not Understood.

Not understood. How trifles often change us!
 The thoughtless sentence or the fancied slight
 Destroy long years of friendship and estrange us!
 And on our souls there falls a freezing blight,
 Not Understood.

Not understood. How many breasts are aching
 For lack of sympathy? Ah, day by day,
 How many cheerless, lonely hearts are breaking?
 How many noble spirits pass away
 Not Understood?

Oh, God; if men could see a little clearer,
 Or judge less harshly when they cannot see;
 Oh, God; if men could draw a little nearer
 To one another, they'd be nearer, then, to Thee,
 And Understood.

—W. D. Mahon in American Federationist.

Rules of Order

The ordinary parliamentary rules of order commonly used in all deliberative bodies are those which govern churches and other religious societies in their meetings for business, in case no other rules are adopted at the commencement of their deliberations.

MOTIONS.

1. All business shall be presented by a motion, made by one member, and seconded by another, and presented in writing by the mover, if so required.
2. No discussion can properly be had until the motion is made, seconded, and stated by the chairman.
3. A motion cannot be withdrawn after it has been discussed, except by the unanimous consent of the body.
4. A motion having been discussed, must be put to vote, unless withdrawn, laid on the table, referred or postponed.
5. A motion lost should not be recorded, except so ordered by the body at the time.
6. A motion lost cannot be renewed at the same meeting, except by unanimous consent.
7. A motion should contain but one distinct proposition. If it contains more, it must be divided at the request of any member, and the propositions acted on separately.
8. Only one question can properly be before the meeting at the same time. No second motion can be allowed to interrupt one already under debate, except a motion to amend, to substitute, to commit, to postpone, to lay on the table, for the previous question, or to adjourn.
9. These subsidiary motions just named cannot be interrupted by any other motion; nor can any other motion be applied to them, except that to amend, which may be done by specifying some time, place or purpose.
10. Nor can these motions interrupt or supercede each other; only that a motion to adjourn is always in order, except while a member has the floor, or a question is being taken, and, in some bodies, even then.

AMENDMENTS.

1. Amendments may be made to resolutions in three ways: By omitting, by adding, or by substituting words or sentences.
2. An amendment to an amendment may be made, but is seldom necessary, and should be avoided.
3. No amendment should be made which essentially changes the meaning or design of the original resolution.
4. But a substitute may be offered, which may change entirely the meaning of the resolution under debate.
5. The amendment must first be discussed and acted on, and then the original resolution as amended.

SPEAKING.

1. Any member desiring to speak on a question should rise in his place and address the moderator, confine his remarks to the question, and avoid all unkind and disrespectful language.
2. A speaker using improper language, introducing improper subjects, or otherwise out of order, should be called to order by chairman, or any member, and must either conform to the regulations of the body, or take his seat.
3. A member while speaking can allow others to ask questions, or make explanations; but if he yields the floor to another, he cannot claim it again as his right.
4. A member is not permitted to speak more than once on a question, except by permission of the moderator.
5. The fact that a person has several times arisen and attempted to get the floor, gives him no claim or right to be heard. Nor does a call for the question deprive a member of his right to speak.

VOTING.

1. A question is put to vote by the chairman, having first distinctly restated it, that all may vote intelligently. First, the affirmative, then the negative is called, each so deliberately as to give all an opportunity of voting. He then distinctly announces whether the motion is carried, or lost.
2. Voting is usually done by "aye" and "no," or by raising the hand. In a doubtful case by standing and being counted. On certain questions by ballot.

3. If the vote, as announced by the chairman, is doubted, it is called again, usually by standing to be counted.

4. All members should vote, unless for reasons excused; or unless under discipline, in which case they should take no part in the business.

5. The moderator does not usually vote; but when the meeting is equally divided, he is expected to give the casting vote.

6. When the vote is to be taken by ballot, the chairman appoints tellers, to distribute, collect, and count the ballots.

COMMITTEES.

1. Committees are nominated by the chairman, if so directed by the body, or by any member, and the nomination is confirmed by a vote of the body. More commonly the body directs that all committees shall be appointed by the chairman, in which case no vote is needed to confirm.

2. Any matter of business, or subject under debate, may be referred to a committee, with or without instructions. The committee make their report, which is the result of their deliberations. The body then takes action on their report, and on any recommendation it may contain.

3. The report of a committee is received, when it is listened to, having been called for, or permitted by the moderator, with or without a vote of the body. The report is accepted by a vote, which acknowledges their services, and places the report before the body for its action. Afterward, any distinct recommendation contained in the report is acted on, and may be adopted or rejected.

4. Frequently, however, when the recommendations of the committee are of a trifling moment or likely to be generally acceptable, the report, having been received, is accepted and adopted by the same vote.

5. A report may be recommitted to the committee, with or without instructions, or, that committee discharged and the matter referred to a new one for further consideration, so as to present it in a form more likely to meet the general concurrence of the body.

6. A committee may be appointed with power for a specific purpose. This gives them power to dispose conclusively of the matter without further reference to the body.

7. The first named in the appointment of a committee is, by courtesy, considered the chairman. But the committee has the right to name its own chairman.

8. The member who moves the appointment of a committee is usually, though not necessarily, named its chairman.

9. Committees of arrangement, or for other protracted service, report progress from time to time, and are continued until their final report, or until their appointment expires by limitation.

10. A committee is discharged by a vote when its business is done and its report accepted. But usually, in routine business, a committee is considered discharged by the acceptance of its report.

STANDING COMMITTEE.

A committee appointed to act for a given period, or during the recess of the body, is called a standing committee. It has charge of a given department of business assigned by the body, and acts either with power, under instructions, or at discretion, as may be ordered. A standing committee is substantially a minor board, and has its own chairman, secretary, records, and times of meeting.

APPEAL.

The moderator announces all votes, and decides all questions as to rules of proceeding and order of debate. But any member who is dissatisfied with his decisions may appeal from them to the body. The moderator then puts the question, "Shall the decision of the chair be sustained?" The vote of the body, whether negative or affirmative, is final. The right of appeal is undeniable, but should not be resorted to on trivial occasions.

PREVIOUS QUESTION.

1. The previous question shall be in the following words: "That this question be now put."

2. The previous question cannot be moved when there is an amendment under consideration.

3. If the motion for the previous question be carried, then the main question must be immediately taken without further debate.

4. If the motion for the previous question be lost, then the moderator cannot put any question on the main motion, and it is dropped.

[NOTE.—The previous question is used to effect one of two objects:

(1) To prevent a decision on a question under consideration; in which case the members who propose and second it vote against the motion;

(2) To prevent any amendment, and force a direct vote on the question; in which case the members who propose and second it vote for the motion.]

TO LAY ON THE TABLE.

Immediate and decisive action on any question under discussion may be deferred by a vote to lay on the table the resolution pending. This disposes of the whole subject for the present, and ordinarily is, in effect, a final dismissal of it. But any member has the right subsequently to call it up, and the body will decide by vote whether or not it shall be taken from the table.

1. Sometimes, however, a resolution is laid on the table for the present, or until a specified time, to give place to other business.

2. A motion to lay on the table must apply to a resolution, or other papers. An abstract subject cannot be disposed of in this way.

POSTPONEMENT.

A simple postponement is for a specified time or purpose, the business to be resumed when the time or purpose is reached. But a question indefinitely postponed is considered as finally dismissed.

NOT DEBATABLE.

Certain motions, by established usage, are not debatable, but when once before the body, must be taken without discussion.

These are: the previous question, for indefinite postponement, to commit, to lay on the table, to adjourn.

But when these motions are modified by some condition of time, place, or purpose, they become debatable, and subject to the rules of other motions, but debatable only in respect to the time, place, or purpose which brings them within the province of debate.

A body is, however, competent, by a vote, to allow debate on all motions.

TO RECONSIDER.

A motion to reconsider a motion previously passed must be made by one who voted for the motion when it passed.

If the body votes to reconsider, then the motion or resolution being reconsidered stands before them as previous to its passage, and may be discussed, adopted, or rejected.

A vote to reconsider should be taken at the same session at which the vote reconsidered was passed, and when there are as many members present. But this rule, though just, is frequently disregarded.

NOT TO BE DISCUSSED.

If, when a question is introduced, any member objects to its discussion as foreign, profitless, or contentious, the moderator should at once put the question, "Shall this motion be discussed?" If this question be decided in the negative, the subject must be dismissed.

ORDER OF THE DAY.

The body may decide to take up some definite business at a specified time. That business therefore becomes the order of the day for that hour. When the time mentioned arrives the chairman calls the business, or any member may demand it, with or without a vote, and all pending questions are postponed in consequence.

POINT OF ORDER.

Any member who believes that a speaker is out of order, or that discussion is proceeding improperly, may at any time rise to a point of order. He must distinctly state his question or objection, which the moderator will decide.

PRIVILEGES.

Questions relating to the rights and privileges of members are of primary importance, and until disposed of, take precedence of all other business, and supercede all other motions, except that of adjournment.

RULE SUSPENDED.

A rule of order may be suspended by a vote of the body to allow the transaction of business necessary, but which could not otherwise be done without a violation of such rule.

FILLING BLANKS.

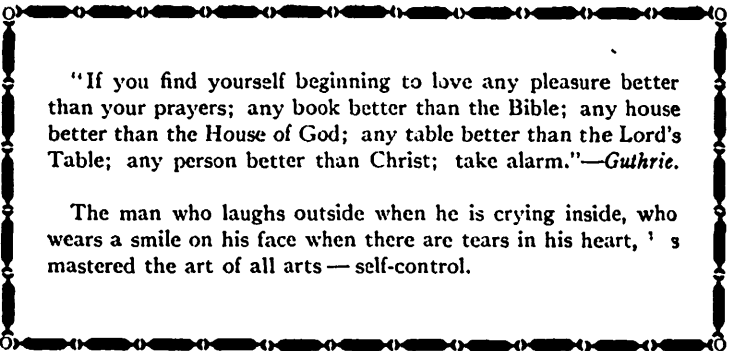

Where different numbers are suggested for filling blanks, the highest number, greatest distance, and longest time are usually voted on first.

ADJOURNMENT.

1. A simple motion to adjourn is always in order, except while a member is speaking, or when taking a vote. It takes precedence of all other motions, and is not debatable.

2. In some deliberative bodies a motion to adjourn is in order while the speaker has the floor, or a vote is being taken, the business to stand, on reassembling, precisely as when adjournment took place.

3. A body may adjourn to a specific time, but if no time be mentioned, the fixed or usual time of meeting is understood. If there be no fixed or usual time of meeting, then an adjournment without date is equivalent to a dissolution.

“If you find yourself beginning to love any pleasure better than your prayers; any book better than the Bible; any house better than the House of God; any table better than the Lord's Table; any person better than Christ; take alarm.”—Guthrie.

The man who laughs outside when he is crying inside, who wears a smile on his face when there are tears in his heart, ¹ s mastered the art of all arts — self-control.

WISE RULES OF CONDUCT.

1. Keep good company or none.
2. Never be idle.
3. If your hands cannot be usefully employed, attend to the cultivation of your mind.
4. Always speak the truth.
5. Make few promises.
6. Live up to your engagements.
7. Keep your own secrets, if you have any.
8. When you speak to a person look him in the face.
9. Good company and good conversation are the sinews of virtue.
10. Good character is above all things else.
11. Your character cannot be essentially injured except by your own acts.
12. If any one speaks evil of you, let your life be so that none will believe him.
13. Drink no kind of intoxicating liquors.
14. Ever live (misfortunes excepted) within your income.
15. When you retire to bed, think over what you have been doing during the day.
16. Make no haste to be rich, if you would prosper.
17. Small and steady gains give competency with tranquility of mind.
18. Never play at any kind of game of chance.
19. Avoid temptation, through fear you may not withstand it.
20. Earn money before you spend it.
21. Never run into debt unless you see a way to get out again.
22. Never borrow if you can possibly avoid it.
23. Never speak evil of anyone.
24. Be just before you are generous.
25. Keep yourself innocent if you would be happy.
26. Save when you are young, to spend when you are old.
27. Read these rules at least once a week.

WHAT HAVE WE DONE TODAY?

We shall do so much in the years to come,
 But what have we done today?
 We shall give our gold in a princely sum,
 But what did we give today?
 We shall lift the heart and dry the tear,
 We shall plant a hope in the place of fear,
 We shall speak the words of love and cheer;
 But what did we speak today?

We shall be so kind in the afterwhile,
 But what have we been today?
 We shall bring each lonely life a smile,
 But what have we brought today?
 We shall give to truth a grander birth,
 And to steadfast faith a deeper worth,
 We shall feed the hungry souls of earth;
 But whom have we fed today?

We shall reap such joys in the by and by,
 But what have we sown today?
 We shall build us mansions in the sky,
 But what have we built today?
 'Tis sweet in idle dreams to bask,
 But here and now do we our task?
 Yes, this is the thing our souls must ask,
 "What have we done today?"

THE CREED OF CITIZENSHIP.

I believe in the city in which I live, its geographical location, growth, industry and possibilities, in the soundness and wisdom of its government, and the heartfelt interest in the welfare of the city by its officials, and when I see anything going wrong, I will try and think of some way of bettering the matter, and offer my suggestions to the party interested, in place of taking out my little hammer and knocking.

I believe if we all pull together as one large family, each trying to help the weaker ones and encourage the strong ones, it will have a tendency to promote the welfare of all; that all people delight to live in an atmosphere of kindness and brotherly love, and that the knocker and the grump is different from me only inasmuch as he has not given the matter due thought and consideration, and it is my duty to help dispel his delusions by finding out what he wants (provided he knows) and trying to remedy the matter, knowing he has the same right to live and express his opinions that I have.

I believe that if I was the Mayor, and had the honor of serving the people, that I would always prefer having any member of my "community family" coming to me with his complaints and suggestions for improvements, rather than going to his brothers and raking me over the coals, deservedly or undeservedly.

I believe that I am not a freak, and that the majority of mankind think similarly to myself; therefore, I am going to be the first to smile and do the best I can to boost the good old town that supports me, and in which I live by choice, knowing that if I do not like this city, its ways and its people, that I have the right to leave it and go to some other city that I will like.

I believe that the cities or the people who are 100% perfect are hard to find and few and far between, and should we happen to find them, our own weak little minds could not recognize their perfection. The only citizen that ever lived who rated 100% perfection was crucified by the fault-finding public, because they could not realize or appreciate His efforts to serve humanity.

I believe that the future welfare of this city depends on the coming generations and the training we give them.

I believe that taxation is necessary for the welfare of the community and feel it a privilege to be a property-owner, thereby contributing funds to pay the Police Department and other departments of service their salaries for protecting my life and property, and I think it my duty to speak favorably on this subject to my friends and associates, thereby inducing them to become burden-bearing citizens of our great commonwealth.

I. A. SAYMAN.

"BEWARE OF SITTING DOWN."

"Eschew the dull and slothful seat,
And move about with willing feet!
Man was not made to sit a-trance
And press and press and press his pants;
But rather, with an open mind,
To circulate among his kind.
And so, my son, avoid the snare
Which lurks within a cushioned chair."

How to Buy a Suit of Clothes

A great many men make the mistake of buying fabric rather than the fit, the cloth rather than the cut, the material rather than the making.

Yet to buy a Blue Serge without regard to how it is made is just as illogical as marrying a girl because her name is Maud, without regard to her looks and reputation.

Of course, if the fabric is all you are interested in, there are a lot of shops can fix you up, but OAK HALL is the solution if you are looking for individuality and style.
