FRENCH CONTINUE TO PUSH GERMAN BACK BETWEEN THE AILETTE AND AISNE RIVERS

Take Chapitre Wood and Reach Outskirts of Coucy-Le-Chateau—British Forces Continue Progress With Satisfactory Results

By Courier Leased Wire.

London, Sept. 4.—In their push beyond the Drocourt-Queant line, the British troops have reached the line of the Canal Du Nord, says Field Marshal Haig's official statement today.

Paris, Sept. 4.—Bulletin.—French yesterday and last night continued to push back the Germans to the east of the Canal Du Nord, and between the Ailette and the Aisne, says today's war office announcement.

In their advance the French took the Chapitre wood, northeast of Chevilly, and approached the town of Oriselles, three miles north of Noyon.

Along the Vesle parties of French troops crossed the river at several points.

FORTY DAYS' PROGRESS

Paris, Sept. 4.—Between Ypres and Rheims with General Mangin menacing the St. Gobain and the Chemin des Dames, with Generals Humbert and De Beney advancing on St. Quentin and the Franco-Americans on the Vesle with Rawlinson before Peronne, General Byng before Lens and General Plumer before Arras, the enemy feels the soil of France slipping from under his feet.

The Battle for Lens Continues Today

NOT WON YET

British Patrols Have Entered the Town

London, Sept. 4.—Information from the front today is that the coal mining city of Lens is still mainly in German possession. British patrols, however, are reported to be in the western portion of the town.

At No Place Along Battle Line Has Halt Been Caused in Offensive Movement—Germans are Giving Ground Rapidly

New York, Sept. 4.—The Associated Press to-day issued the following: "At no place along the battle line extending from Soissons to Flanders has the enemy been able to resist the Allied armies in sufficient strength to cause a halt in the offensive movement."

The British continue to make progress in the Lys salient, where Richebourg and St. Vaast have been captured. In the vicinity of Lens a furious battle is in progress for the possession of that city.

SITUATION TO-DAY

By Courier Leased Wire.

New York, Sept. 4.—The Associated Press to-day issued the following: "The British have driven home their push through the Wotan line as far as the Canal Du Nord and as yet their progress is not reported checked."

Already the wedge they have driven into the German defences in the sector between the railway centres of Douai and Cambrai is a menace to the enemy, who must stop the British on the canal line here if he hopes to save those bases, vital points in the German defensive system in the west.

WEATHER BULLETIN

Toronto, Sept. 4.—The shallow low disturbance which was over the lake region yesterday morning has moved eastward to the Gulf of St. Lawrence, causing showers in Eastern Ontario and Quebec. In the Western Provinces the weather has been fair and cool.

All Entente exchange rates were appreciably higher. The dollar has risen in three days from 192 to 203. The exchange rates of the Central Powers have declined.

TEACHER WOULD JUMP CONTRACT

Mathematics Specialist Failed to Put in Appearance at Simcoe

OTHER SIMCOE NEWS

Simcoe, Sept. 4.—(From Our Own Correspondent)—W. A. Coles, of Barrie, who is said to have signed up with the Board of Education here as a specialist in mathematics, and later on August 10th, asked for release from his contract and was refused, failed to appear at the Department of Education.

On Monday a letter had been received from Mr. Coles's solicitor, indicating the former's intended jumping of the job. The Board of Education demanding that Mr. Coles keep his contract or the board would take legal proceedings against him, and report his breach of contract to the Department of Education.

The vacancy which Mr. Coles was appointed to fill was caused by the resignation of Mr. C. W. Butcher, who stepped out in June to train for military service, the application of the board for his exemption having been refused.

With two lawyers on the local board, and the secretary a member of the Bar also, Coles would appear to be rather up against it.

Meanwhile the students at the High School are awaiting an instructor.

It is not known here whether Coles has taken a position elsewhere.

Re Last Night's Issue.

To our subscribers: We regret to state that yesterday's Courier did not reach Simcoe till 9:30 p.m., at which hour it was out of the question to deliver, and as school has reopened, the delivery could not be made this morning. We have left copies at Mrs. Berry's, Miss Thompson's and Sobring's stores and the issue may also be had at the office. It will be impossible for the boys to take a double load to-night and many have already called.

Sixth Cable With Same Import. Yesterday Mrs. Jacques received the sixth cable from the Orient, the wording was the same as that of the other five. Capt. John Jacques still dangerously ill, enteric.

The Cost of Schooling.

In our own day a lad at school who had received his first promotion got a new slate and a ten-cent reader and was equipped for school at a cost of 15 or 16 cents.

Yesterday a class of youngsters were sent home with the following requisition:

One reader, 5c; one penholder and pen, 5c; two copy books, 4c; one rubber, 5c; (the drawing book comes later); six ruled scribbler or work books, 30c; Golden Rule Book, say 20c, (though this may be 30c); one bottle of ink, 5c; one lead pencil, 5c. Total, at least 83c. The ruled work books were prolific in lithographed covers and contained from 8 to 12 leaves, and will doubtless be replaced monthly during the year. Add to this foolscap examination pads at 10c each, and one begins to wonder where the workingman is going to get off at. But then things might have been worse; this class in other years had to bring along a music notation book ruled for staff notation and a tonic-solfa reader, so in reality, conditions are better. At the rate detailed above a fourth form student, with a multiplicity of subjects must require some books. It is not our pleasure to make any complaint, we are simply expressing our sympathy for the man with a pinched purse, who will require fuel when work is scarce more than his children now require gain lithographs on their scribbler.

Another day—if space permits—we will give the detail of the outfit of a more advanced public school pupil.

Eight Sons and a Son-in-law. Mrs. Ruby Hall returned from Toronto on Friday night last, after enjoying thoroughly her trip to Toronto as a guest of the Exhibition management. "They should give me my full credit, not six sons, but eight sons and a son-in-law, and don't forget, Peter, he's a fine lad." And the good lady gave The Courier the list, beginning with the oldest: James, Royal Scots, private; Robert, 9th Battalion Royal Scot Fusiliers, pipe major; William, purchasing officer in England; Thomas, Royal Scots, private; George, 19th Siege Battalion, R.F.A. gunner; David, Seaforth Highlanders, lieutenant; Alexander, 123rd Battalion, C.E.F., 2nd corporal; Angus, 4th Battalion, C.E.F., signaller; son-in-law, Peter Pretzell, stenographer.

Mrs. Hall met by chance at the Exhibition a Toronto lady, who was her schoolmate in Auld Scotia, and the recognition was mutual, though the pair had not met since the days when they were in their early teens.

Mrs. Hall would require a cabinet of photographs to supply the demand of the press near and far.

She stood first at Toronto and is probably unequalled among Canadian mothers in the number of sons in service. The goodly old list is:

Chicago, Sept. 4.—Rain which began falling shortly before eight o'clock this morning threatened to cause postponement of the first game of the baseball series. Precautions were taken to protect the diamond and it was said the game would be played unless the rain continued into the afternoon.

Chicago, September 4.—Capacity crowds seemed probable to-day at the first game of the world's series between the Americans and Chicago Nationals at the American League grounds. Although the demand for reservations has not come anywhere near that of recent years an official of the Chicago club said interest in the outcome of the world's series is general. He said this was evident by the number of baseball writers from all sections of the country, who were on hand for the contests. The space required for these visitors was about equal to that of preceding years, he asserted, although there were fewer telegraph operators on account of the government control of the wires. Among the baseball writers in attendance are three from newspapers in Cuba.

While tickets found their way into the hands of the scalpers, but for a specific game. The umpires announced for the contests are:—Hildebrand, Owens, O'Day and Klam.

Old Ends of News. Deputy-Reeve Langford reported last night to the special committee to Council appointed to look into the fuel situation. He had been instructed to secure the assistance of Mr. D. G. Some four or five properties were described in detail and the committee will ask Council to make a purchase on Monday night after the necessary by-law is put through and a fuel controller appointed. As the committee constitutes a majority of the Council, one wood lot has already been secured which will probably supply 500 cords of wood. Other propositions are under consideration.

In a few days the Norfolk Milling Company will drop the sluices and fill the pond. The Wool Stock Company has some day since let out the water and the fish, and extensive permanent concrete work is being done about the dam, flume and wheel pit there also.

CUBS AND RED SOX CLASH IN OPENING GAME

Last World's Series Until After War, Opens This Afternoon

RAIN THIS MORNING

It is Expected, However, to Play Game if at all Possible

Chicago, Sept. 4.—Rain which began falling shortly before eight o'clock this morning threatened to cause postponement of the first game of the baseball series. Precautions were taken to protect the diamond and it was said the game would be played unless the rain continued into the afternoon.

Chicago, September 4.—Capacity crowds seemed probable to-day at the first game of the world's series between the Americans and Chicago Nationals at the American League grounds. Although the demand for reservations has not come anywhere near that of recent years an official of the Chicago club said interest in the outcome of the world's series is general. He said this was evident by the number of baseball writers from all sections of the country, who were on hand for the contests. The space required for these visitors was about equal to that of preceding years, he asserted, although there were fewer telegraph operators on account of the government control of the wires. Among the baseball writers in attendance are three from newspapers in Cuba.

While tickets found their way into the hands of the scalpers, but for a specific game. The umpires announced for the contests are:—Hildebrand, Owens, O'Day and Klam.

The probable line-up is given as follows:—

Cubs. Red Sox
Flack, rf. Hooper, rf.
Folocher, ss. Shean, 2b
Mann, lf. Strank, cf.
Packert, c. Ruth, lf.
Some extent the chances for their reaping a harvest were reported to have been reduced to a minimum. Confusion has seemed to exist in the minds of some baseball enthusiasts as to the rule governing the series. The first three games are to be played in Chicago whether or not it is possible to play them on the dates scheduled today, to-morrow and Friday. In case of rain or a tie game the competing teams will remain here until three games have been decided. Rain to-day would mean that tickets for the first game would be good for to-morrow or whenever the first game could be played and this would apply for the second game. Tickets are not good for any specific date.

EMPRESS' CONDITION IS WORSE

By Courier Leased Wire Zurich, Sep 4.—The health of the German empress, who last week became ill with heart trouble, is slightly worse to-day according to the Munich newspapers.

Amsterdam, Sept. 4.—The German Empress has suffered attacks of weakness and heart trouble in increasing measure, according to a Capel despatch to The Weser Zeitung of Bremen. The Empress is suffering from arterio sclerosis, and has been ordered by her physicians to keep to her bed and avoid worry and excitement.

Contrary to accounts from some other sources, the despatch says that Emperor William gives the impression of being very fit and vigorous, but the Empress, it is stated, has lately appeared to age considerably.

Rippling Rhymes

BETTER DAYS. For months the news was grim and sad, we learned the word "reverse"; oh, every day the news was bad, and next day it was worse. The gods seemed smiling on the Hun, while we could but retreat; he plied his sabre and his gun, and never met defeat. We took our bitters as they came, good sports I hope we were, while Teutons played their winning game, and filled the air with fur. I used to hear the boys remark, "Just wait—the tide will turn! The prospects now look pretty dark, but we have faith to burn. Just wait until our Yankee lads get busy with the foe, and shoot them through their liver pads, or where their whiskers grow!"

And now the better days have come, the news is fit to read; we march along to beat of drum, and Huns are snickered. By Yankee pep, on which we banked, with French and British force, the Kron Prinz armies have been spanked, and they are howling hoarse. I wonder how the Teuts will stand the strain, they're under now—the homely Teuts who till the land, the peasant and his frau? I wonder how the German towns will stand the sick'ninz flu'd? They liked the ups, and now the downs will show their sporting blood. I doubt if Teuts will stand the staff their sporting form is cheap; they cannot force a smile or laugh when they're inclined to weep.

HON. DR. H. J. CODY TO GO OVERSEAS

On Important Mission in Connection With Welfare of Soldiers.

VISIT BATTLEFRONT. Minister Undertakes Journey at Request of Imperial Authorities.

Hon. Dr. Cody, Minister of Education, is to leave immediately for overseas on an important mission in connection with the welfare of the soldiers. Dr. Cody, who goes at the request of the Imperial authorities, will also devote considerable time to the study of industrial training and technical education in the schools. The Minister is a thorough believer in a policy of utilizing the public schools to give children preliminary training in trades or occupations for which they have a natural bent, and the visit to the Old Country gives him an opportunity to gather valuable data upon the subject.

Dr. Cody's journey overseas was announced by Sir William Hearst last night. "Dr. Cody has received an urgent call from the Imperial authorities to go overseas for the purpose of consultation and advice on educational matters affecting the soldiers," said the Prime Minister. "The Government agrees with him that it is his duty to respond to the call, and he will do so immediately. Dr. Cody will visit the battle front in France, and will carry to our soldiers there a message of encouragement and approval from the people and government of Ontario. He will also gather information as to how the provinces can further contribute to the comfort and welfare of our soldiers and what additional measures it should take to prepare for the day of their return."

While in England Dr. Cody will make a study of conditions and legislation affecting industrial education with the object of giving Ontario the advantage of the experience of the Mother Country in that respect. The trip, though necessarily a hurried one, will, I believe, afford Dr. Cody an opportunity for rendering important public service."

Weak Point Well Determined We saw the powerful effort they made, firstly, in the Somme region. Our weak point was well determined...

Second Effort a Hammer Blow The Germans' second effort was made at the end of April and in May, and was aimed northward against the English army's left and right flanks to divide it...

Finally abandoning the logical conception, which to advise, the continuation of his offensive west of the Oise toward Paris and the channel, Ludendorff, duped by his easy advance to the Marne, for a whole month prepared a new offensive with a totally different objective...

Cannot see what there is brutal and hazardous in these manifestations of the German offensive conception. It seeks weak spots, it dashes forward with head down, but wavers after a check has been delivered against it.

Let us now look at the French conception. Foch and Petain judged their adversaries correctly. They suffered blows, but waited their time until they felt the enemy was out of breath and his ideas distorted...

Then, when the Germans had retired to the Vesle, it was the English army, held in readiness by Foch, which attacked, supported by the British armies west of the Oise...

The Belgians in their turn have attacked west of Ypres. Ludendorff therefore is caught in a progressive grip. The battle stretches harmoniously on a front of almost 150 miles without any vital defect...

Killifer got into one game of the series as a pinch hitter.

REVOLT IN GERMANY COMING By Courier Leased Wire Paris, Sept. 4.—A dispatch from Berno, Switzerland, to Le Matin quotes a prominent Swiss citizen coming from Berlin, as declaring that during the past six weeks a formidable disillusionment has swept over Germany if the military situation does not improve, the informant said, trouble that may surpass the acts of the Bolsheviks in Russia menaces the empire.

THE SITUATION

The cablegram from London yesterday which announced the taking of Lens was premature. Field Marshal Haig, in his official report, describes what has actually taken place in the words: "Our troops have been pushed slightly forward in the western outskirts of Lens." However, it is not on the cards that the place can remain much longer in German hands. It is the centre of a valuable coal mining district, and German occupation has caused very great hardship to the French in the cutting off of this fuel supply. The Hun continues to fall back. They are fighting hard rear-guard actions, and their machine-gun nests are proving particularly bothersome, but nothing can materially stop the onward push of the allied troops. Neuve Chapelle and La Besse are practically in the hands of the British, and Cambrai is menaced. French troops have crossed the Somme and advanced considerably in the Noyon sector.

The Canadians continue to do magnificently. It is the general testimony that the Boche has a distinct dislike to facing them, and that for initiative and resolute work they are unsurpassed. British airplanes have dropped tons of bombs on Rhine cities, and it is reported that military works and railways have been badly damaged.

KIPLING AND THE AMERICAN INVASION

Whatever Rudyard Kipling writes or says is always of interest. During the war he has been much in demand as a speaker in the Old Land and here is a characteristic address which he recently made at the opening of an American hut in England: "You have done me great honor in asking me to open this hut. At the same time, I should like to point out that you have brought me here under false pretences. I do not pretend to be an expert on huts. (Laughter.) But I have lived in houses, and I know that this is not a hut, nor anything like a hut. (Laughter.) This is a house—a solid building intended for permanent occupation. Several years have passed since England was permanently occupied by the armed forces of a foreign nation. On the last occasion, 800 years ago, our people did not take kindly to the invaders. I know they did not, because I live a few miles from where the Battle of Hastings was fought, where all the trouble began and I assure you we are still talking about it. (Laughter.) But if you think one another, if you divide, you may rest assured you will perish."

As far as you are concerned, we are a placid, not to say pacifist, community. You could not annoy us if you started in to build pyramids. (Laughter.) On the contrary, we should be pleased. We should say: "This looks like business; this looks like the United States meant to stay 'til they had done their share of the job thoroughly." We have been a long time over our present job, and we may be a long time yet. It has been a little bigger than we expected, because this is the first time since the creation that all the world has been obliged to unite to crush the devil. You remember that before the war one of our easy theories was that the devil was almost extinct, that he was only the child of misfortune or accident, and that we should soon abolish him by passing ringing resolutions against him. That has proved an expensive miscalculation. We find now that the devil is very much alive, and very much what he always was—immensely industrious, a born organizer, and better at quoting Scripture for his own ends than most honest men. (Laughter.) His industry and organization we can deal with, but more difficult to handle is his habit of quoting Scripture as soon as he is in difficulties. When Germany begins to realize that her defeat is certain, we shall be urged in the name of mercy, toleration, loving kindness, for the sake of the future of mankind, or by similar appeals to the indistinguishable vanity of man, who delights in thinking himself holy and righteous, when he is really only lazy and tired—I say we shall be urged on those high grounds to make some sort of compromise with, or to extend some recognition to, the power which has for its one object the destruction of man, body and soul.

Yet, if we accept these pleas, we shall betray mankind as effectively as though we had turned our backs on the battle from the first. Your own President has said that there is no conceivable half-way house in dealing with the world's enemy. You are going, none too soon, into a world which has been laboriously wrecked by high German philosophy based on the devil's own creed that there is nothing good or evil in life, but thinking makes it so; in other words, that right and wrong are matters of pure fancy. That belief it will be your privilege to assist in removing from the German mind. (Cheers.)

These beliefs are primitive. Except on certain portions of the front, where he has been better educated, he believes that the United States army does not exist. In the first place it could not cross the Atlantic; in the second, it was sunk while crossing; in the third, it was no use when it arrived. It is possible that you may be able to persuade him that he has been misinformed on these points. But we are of a more credulous disposition. We are quite convinced that you have come over, and that the Allied armies at the front, who are authorities on the subject, tell us that your little vanguard there is extremely useful. (Laughter.) Meantime, your invasion of England goes forward according to programme day by day. Unlike the other invaders we have known, you bring everything you need with you, and you do not live on the inhabitants. In this you are true to the historical vow of your ancestors when they said to ours, "Millions for defence, but not a cent for tribute." (Laughter and cheers.)

When they lose Lens, the German vision of ultimate victory will become that much more obscured.

The Huns are having the ground slip under them in France at about the same rate as their hopes are sliding.

The campaign on behalf of the heroes of the merchant marine has got off to a splendid start, and residents of Brantford and Brant county will be told right in time when their train arrives a little later.

The use of sugar is to be made more limited in Canada, but this will not affect the crop of sweet young things.

If you insult one another, if you divide, you may rest assured you will perish."

RAILWAY SHOPMEN GET M'ADOO AWARD

Thirty Thousand Men in Shops All Over Canada to Benefit

TROUBLE IS AVERTED

Increases in Wages Under Award Will Aggregate Fifteen Millions

By Courier Leased Wire. Montreal, Sept. 3.—An agreement was reached this morning between the Canadian Railway War Board, through its labor committee, and the representatives of the Railroad Shopmen's Federation, in regard to demands made for increased wages. The men will be given the McAdoo award offered to United States railway employees and all its amendments. Thirty thousand men in railway shops all over Canada are affected, and the increases in wages will total $15,000,000 per annum. All the Canadian railways are touched by the decision.

By this agreement the threatened trouble with the employees of the mechanical departments of the roads is removed. The agreement goes into effect either from the date of the expiry of recent agreements or not later, in the case of unexpired agreements, than August 1st. The men's pay is calculated retroactively according to the agreement. For the railways this affects the largest single spending department. The conclusion of the negotiations is said to be an epoch-making event, as this is the first time in Canadian railway history that all the roads have negotiated as one with such a large and complex body of workers.

By Courier Leased Wire. Amsterdam, Sept. 4.—Enactment of a law in Germany to prevent widows from re-marrying so as to leave available men for single women is urged in the "Tag" by a Munich doctor, Hans von Hertig. He points out that the widows, through re-marrying after the war would have a detrimental effect on the birth rate as most of them are mothers already.

WEDDING BELLS RING AT PARIS

Miss Mary Byers Became the Bride of Geo. Gourlay Today

OTHER NEWS OF PARIS

(From our own Correspondent) Paris, Sept. 4.—A quiet but pretty wedding took place this Wednesday at eight o'clock at the residence of the bride's aunt, Mrs. S. B. Wale, Market street, Paris Station, when Mary (Mayme), eldest daughter of Mr. Harry Byers, Emily street, was united in marriage to Mr. George D. Gourlay, son of Mrs. Jane Gourlay, of Afr.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. C. Nicholson, pastor of the Presbyterian church. The bride was becomingly gowned in gray duchess satin with touches of old rose, and carried a bouquet of white roses and lily of the valley. The groom's wedding march was ably rendered by Mrs. A. J. Simon, cousin of the bride, as the party entered the room, and while the register was being signed, Miss Jessie Gourlay, sister of the groom, sang very sweetly, "Because." After the ceremony, dainty refreshments were served. Later, Mr. and Mrs. Gourlay left for points west, the bride travelling in a smart tailored suit of dark blue, with small taupe hat. Both the bride and groom are very popular.

THE WIFE

BY JANE PHELPS, AUTHOR OF "MARGARET GARRETT'S HUSBAND," AND OTHER NOTABLE STORIES.

RUTH IS VERY HAPPY TO BE BACK IN HER SOUTHERN HOME.

CHAPTER XIV. Ruth sang all the time she was packing to go home. She couldn't help it. She visioned her aunt's delight, the beaming face of mamma; Rachel, the greetings of her friends and the house servants (each one had been there when she came, a little girl of ten). Oh, it would be glorious to be with them all once more!

Only three months had passed, but it seemed three years since she had gone to the little church and promised to be a faithful wife to Brian. So much had been crowded in that short time, so much that she hated, as well as so much of joy, that the time seemed long. The housework went easily then at first, because with all her ignorance, Ruth was far from stupid, and had quickly learned to do the work which devolved upon her. But now she hated it the soapy smell when she washed the dishes or the floor; the red hands that no amount of care would render soft and white, as they used to be; the cooking over the hot stove, where she often burned herself; the sweeping and dusting, the making of beds, all the homely tasks a poor man's wife must do, disgusted her. Yet for love of Brian she scarcely ever complained. Although she shed many bitter tears when alone.

Then came the morning when she left. Brian took her to the train, bought her ticket, and kissed her good-bye. "Don't stay too long, dear, will you?" "No, I'll be back before you want to expect me," she replied, choking back the tears. It was their first parting even for a night, and suddenly her love for her handsome husband rushed over her, and it seemed to Ruth that he was worth all and more than she ever could give, or give up.

But youth is resilient. The excitement of traveling alone—a new sensation to Ruth the thought of soon being with the dear ones at home; the delight she knew she would experience in making the old, familiar room lovely, soon made her forget her sorrow.

Then when she arrived! Mrs. Clayborne had driven to the station to meet her, although she wouldn't have dreamed of doing it had she engaged a professional decorator instead of an amateur. When they reached the dear old house, set back in among the giant trees, and she saw the old servants grouped on the piazza to greet her, and kissed them indiscriminately, to old Rachel's disgust. "You sholy ain't no call to kiss old Pete!" she grumbled. "It ain't lady-like."

"Never mind, mammy Rachel! I was so glad to see them I would have kissed Pete if he had been twice as old and twice as black." Mrs. Clayborne, noting the warmth of Ruth's greetings, her ready tears and happy smiles, drew her own conclusions. "Take her upstairs and clean her up, mammy," she said to Rachel, who carried her "baby" off at once. She was none too pleased to share her with the others, "Jes common niggers," as she called them.

"Oh, isn't this lovely!" Ruth exclaimed as she lay in the tub of warm water, made fragrant with her favorite bath-salts. "Who tends to you bath to home, missy Ruth? I sholy would lak to." "Oh, Rachel dear! I fix my own bath, then get in and out again quickly, so that I can get it washed out for Brian. It isn't half so nice as having you."

"Yes, And I'll tell you a secret, Rachel: I guess I am lucky to have one to wash—considering."

Poor old mammy was puzzled. She half understood, but thought Ruth was joking. That her "chile," her baby, should do menial work, was beyond her comprehension. Ruth insisted upon going to work at once, although Mrs. Clayborne urged her to wait until she was rested. Her keen eyes had not failed to note the weary look in Ruth's eyes, the red and roughened hands.

"She does her own work—I wonder if he can't afford even a single servant?" Mrs. Clayborne mused, but said nothing. Ruth threw herself heart and soul into the plans for beautifying the old living room. She sent for painters and decorators to follow out her own original designs. She ordered brocades and wonderful stuffs for recovering the furniture and for hangings. She hardly took time to return the calls made upon her, or to receive her friends, so enthusiastic was she.

Then one day Peggy Sutton said to her: "The first thing we know, I reckon we will be hearing you have gone into business! They say it is quite a fad up North!" "Oh no—but I do love to do over rooms and houses." Yet in spite of her denial, Peggy's careless remark remained with her, and there wasn't a day that she didn't think how much happier she was doing such work, than in doing the homely tasks in Brian's home. If only he were there, with her, she would be almost too happy.

Your Problems Solved

By Rev. T. S. Linscott, D.D. (All rights reserved.) Dr. Linscott in this column will help you solve your heart problems, religious, marital, social, financial and every other anxious care that perplexes you. If a personal answer is required, enclose a five cent stamp. No names will be published; if you prefer, sign your initials only, or use a pseudonym.

A Woman of the Street—"A Social Worker" wants to know, "What should be the attitude of the church to a fallen woman?" If this woman is still living in her sin the church should have some means of trying to influence her to forsake her wicked ways. When I lived in London, England, a band of earnest Christians held a midnight meeting every night of the week, composed exclusively of such women. They were treated to coffee and bread and butter and then a religious meeting was held, conducted by devoted men and women and by this means many of the poor creatures were reclaimed.

Quarrelling Church Members—"A Puzzled Man" inquires, "Two members of the same church and of the same lodge, are engaged in a legal battle, is it possible that either or both are Christians?" It is a thousand pities that any church or lodge should permit its members to go to law until an effort has been made by the church or lodge concerned to settle the dispute. One cannot dogmatize, but it is scarcely possible to believe that both the litigants are followers of Jesus Christ. Men who love one another do not need to go to law to settle their disputes. Your problems solved.

GOVERNMENT

(4) The apportionment and distribution of wheat for Canadian mills and for export will be made under government control and also will be the supervision and allotment of cars and lake tonnage, arrangements for lake insurance and shorthages and the mechanism for insuring the steady, speedy and effective transport of wheat from the head of the lakes to the seaboard.

(5) The board of grain supervisors whose members represent the interests of grain producers of shipping and forwarding agencies, of the millers and consumers of grain products, has been entrusted by the government with the carrying out of the above program and clothed with full powers for executing the same. Under the arrangement of last year, the sole purchase of wheat for export was placed in the hands of the Wheat Export Commission, whose headquarters are in London, and branches in New York, and Chicago.

MOMENT

(Continued from Page 1.) annihilation only for the enemy, not for us. We want to annihilate the enemy, but we mean to mean to hold our own. Regarding the American forces in France, the Crown Prince said: "I have found that the majority don't know what they are fighting for, but we feel, of course, the effect of the bludgeoning. The Americans have sent over very much material, and are now sending very much human material."

When the Crown Prince said: "The word 'victory' must not be understood to mean that we want to annihilate the enemy, but only that we mean to hold our own and not let ourselves be vanquished. The moment English entered the war, that was clear to me, and I always emphasized it."

Reverting to the question of what nation wanted the war, he declared that "it was clear that England would take advantage of the opportunity."

"Belgium, after all, was only a pretext," he continued. "England intervened because German competition was unbearable."

"We are fighting for our existence. I repeat our aim therefore can only be to safeguard ourselves. The enemy assault doubtless will continue for some time," the Crown Prince said with regard to the fighting on the western front, "but our enemies must themselves see that they will not be able to attain their aim. Our troops are fighting splendidly and I attribute to their courage that such a colossal superiority in strength does not crush us."

He said further: "The French fight brilliantly and are bleeding to death. They do not hesitate at any sacrifice. With the English, the individual man is very good and tenacious, but the leadership is deficient. Among the Americans I've found that the majority do not know what they are fighting for. I asked an American prisoner what they were fighting for and he answered: "For Alsace, and to the question: "Where is Alsace?" "It is a big lake."

After not receiving any English mail during the whole of last week the local postoffice authorities have received two consignments already this week with more expected. Another large lot arrived for distribution last night.

THANK DONORS.

The prizes awarded at the East Ward Kith and Kin picnic last week to Burlington, were donated by merchants of the city. The members of the K. and K. appreciate the kindness of these business men and desire to thank them.

THREE GAMES.

The local semi-pros have a very busy week ahead of them, for they are scheduled to play three games this week. Today they engage the Toronto team behind the dyke; on Friday they will journey to Hamilton to play off a game with Hamilton semi-pros, and on Saturday afternoon they will again meet the Hamilton team at Agricultural Park.

PATRIOTIC TOURNEY.

A satisfactory number of entries have been received up to the present for the patriotic bowling tourney, in aid of the Sailors' Fund, to be held in the city on Wednesday of next week. One Hamilton club has signified its intention of sending seven rinks of bowlers to participate, and other entries have been received from within and without the city. Some ten rinks of local bowlers go to Hamilton on Saturday to play in a patriotic tourney there.

LEAVE FORCE

Constable Dymond, for over a year past a member of the police force, has resigned his position there. He is a veteran of the 84th battalion, having gone overseas with that unit in the summer of 1916.

EXTENDING SIDEWALK.

The work of extending the sidewalk out to the road of King street, between Darling and Dalhousie streets, was commenced this morning. The work will occupy some time owing to the impossibility for to procure a full staff of laborers.

WORLD'S SERIES.

Interest in the world's series is not running so high as usual in Brantford this year. The Courier, however, will bulletin the score by innings each afternoon and in addition the detailed story of the game, play by play.

RECORD LIKELY

The Canadian dirt track bicycle record for 1-2 mile and 2 miles will likely be broken at Agricultural Park track on Saturday. The present records are: 1-2 mile, 1.06 2-5; 2 miles, 4.40 1-5. Both these times have been bettered by local boys, in the twilight meets. Records are official only in open meets under C.W.A. sanction.

NO PROOF OF FOUL

A meeting of the Brantford Bicycle Dealers' Association was held yesterday. The official reports of the race on Labor Day were taken. After investigation, the finding was that Taylor cut across the track, but there was no proof that he did this with the intention of fouling Fraser. Both riders agree that the machines were travelling from 60 to 65 miles per hour when the accident happened.

WARTIME BANQUET.

Last night The Whitaker Baking Co. Ltd., gave a war time banquet to their employees, which was a very pleasant and successful event. Mr. Page, President of the Company, Mr. Gignac, Manager and Miss Margaret Williams, Sec. Treas., spoke in brief and very pleasant replies were made by all the employees, which went along the line of perfect harmony and co-operation. The company when taking over the business a year ago had inaugurated a system of profit sharing with the employees and Mr. Page took great pleasure in banding checks to the employees who had been in their employ for a year. In doing so Mr. Page declared a successful year for the Company and hoped that the checks next year would be a great deal larger. Mr. Gable, factory superintendent very ably filled the position of Toast Master.

ALL SET FOR CELEBRATION

Details of the public demonstration to-night were given to The Courier by Mayor MacBride this morning. The parade will leave the Dalhousie street at Park avenue, thence across to Colborne and back to the armories. While it is under way, Dalhousie street, from Brant Avenue to King street will be cleared of traffic, and the Dufferin Rifles band will be stationed on the G. W. V. A. balcony to provide music for dancing. Speeches will also be made from the balcony. Further arrangements are in the hands of Ald. Burrows and Hill, who are understood to be planning other surprises for the local citizens who turn out to cheer the Allied victories.

GERMANS ARE CONSTANTLY WITHDRAWING

Movements Toward Rear of Lines Continue on Somme Front.

RETREAT NEAR A ROUT

By Courier Leased Wire. Constant movements toward the rear of the German lines on the Somme front in the regions of Ham and Guisearl are reported by the correspondent of Le Journal at British headquarters. Hospitals and dressing stations are being hastily cleared, while convoys are moving northward, harassed by Entente airplanes.

Berlin, Sept. 3.—(Via London).—French forces supported by American and Moroccan divisions, after several hours of artillery preparation yesterday attacked the German positions between the Oise and the Aisne River, the German War Office announced today.

Further Progress. With the British Army in France, Sept. 3.—(12.23 p.m.).—(By The Associated Press).—In heavy fighting last night beyond the Droocourt-Quent line, the British are reported to have made further progress on a front of 15,000 yards. The villages of Sandoumont and Recourt, more than a mile and a half beyond Dury, the capture of which was announced last night, are reported to have been taken today.

The village of Etahng, two miles north of Dury, fell late yesterday as the British forces pushed forward. Further south were capturing Villers-Cagnicourt. These captures were effected after most bitter fighting.

Best Troops Exhausted. With the French Armies in the Field, Sept. 3.—(By The Associated Press).—(Noon).—The battle for the plateau north of Soissons has used up some of the best divisions remaining in the German army. Yesterday's fighting between Crecy, au-Mont and Leully and between Juvigny and Terney was particularly severe.

This was evidenced this morning by the field being strewn with the dead of the Prussian Guards. They are piled one top of the other in some trenches and long lines of them show where the guards counter-attacked five times in a vain effort to stem the tide of battle which was running relentlessly against them.

Each one of these efforts added largely to the losses of the Prussians remaining in the German army. After each rush a lot more of the wounded prisoners remained in the hands of the French. More than 1,200 Germans were sent to the rear in the course of the battle.

Both tanks and air squadrons contributed to the rout of the guards. Aviators flying low over the field met the attacking forces with the machine gun fire and pursued the decimated lines as they retired before the unflinching French troops. Tanks drove into the enemy's lines, machine guns shelling the assaulting waves and opening big gaps in the German lines.

MORE CURTAILMENT ON USE OF SUGAR

No More Than Two Pounds to Ninety Meals in Restaurants

Ottawa, Sept. 4.—New regulations governing the use of sugar in public eating places and by manufacturers have been announced by the Canada Food Board and are embodied in an order which has just been signed by the chairman, Henry B. Thomson. The new restrictions, which, with the exceptions specifically noted below, are now effective, prohibit the use of more than two pounds of sugar for every 90 meals served in public eating places. In the case of soda fountains or ice cream parlors, the use of sugar in the latter establishments is already under regulation. In addition, from Sept. 20th, such establishments will not be permitted to use more than 25 per cent. of the average monthly supply of sugar used during the year 1917.

Manufacturers of biscuits, fruit cake, pound cake, layer cake, wine cake, sponge or any like product, must not use more than 40 pounds of sugar to 100 pounds of flour, and of this amount 50 per cent. must be yellow or brown sugar. In the manufacture of sweet dough products and pastry only eight pounds of sugar (half of which must be yellow or brown sugar) may legally be used to 100 pounds of flour. Not more than 40 per cent. of sugar may be used in the manufacture of coconut macaroons or fancy almond macaroons. Not more than 10 pounds of sugar may be used to 60 pounds of marshmallow. In the manufacture of bread and bread rolls only one-half pound of sugar may be used to 100 pounds of flour, and all of this amount must be yellow or brown sugar.

Candy Allowance Halved. Manufacturers of candy, chocolate, solid chocolate products, cocoa, cocoa products, chewing gum, decaffeinated coconut or tobacco, are limited to 50 per cent. of their monthly consumption during the year 1917. Manufacturers of table syrups, compound honey, maple butter and maple syrup compounds, or such products, must not use more than 50 per cent. of their average monthly consumption of sugar for the year 1917, and one-half of this quantity must be yellow or brown sugar.

Manufacturers of pharmaceutical syrups and medical preparations must not use more than 75 per cent. of their average monthly consumption of sugar in 1917. Manufacturers of beer, ales, soft drinks, fountain fruits, fruit syrups, desserts or jelly powders or marshmallow powders after Sept. 30, must not use more than 50 per cent. of the average monthly amount of sugar used by them during the year 1917. Reduction in Ice Cream. The amount of sugar which may be used in the manufacture of ice cream has been reduced to a maximum of 5 1/2 pounds of cane sugar to eight gallons of ice cream.

The use of sugar in the manufacture of soap is prohibited. Certificates for the purchase of sugar for use in the manufacture of products mentioned in the order will be issued on the basis of the percentage allowed and supplementary certificates will be issued for sugar for the manufacture of bakery products within the conditions of the order on proof of increased output.

Public eating places are required to keep a record of all meals served, and if their allotment of sugar does not equal two pounds per 90 meals

PERSONAL

Obituary

MRS. A. H. CUTCLIFFE. The quite sudden death occurred yesterday afternoon of Mrs. Cutcliffe of Hawarden avenue, the wife of Lieut.-Colonel Cutcliffe, V.S.

She was around as usual until Sunday, when an acute attack of appendicitis developed and an immediate operation was found to be necessary. From this she failed to rally. Mrs. Cutcliffe was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. Ellis of Mt. Pleasant, and her many gracious and lovable characteristics endeared her to all with whom she came in contact. A sad feature of the case is that her husband has been away since the commencement of the war, attached to Veteranian Department. His efficient work speedily led to his rise as a lieutenant-colonel and he has also won the Military Cross for valor. At present he is a member of the headquarters staff in France. There is one child, Mrs. L. Spence, of this city, to whom, together with the bereaved husband, very general sympathy will be extended.

J. A. Ellis, Mt. Pleasant; W. W. Ellis, Toronto; H. H. Ellis, Toronto, are brothers, and Mrs. Sinclair of Paisley and Mrs. R. McEwen, Lakeport, Cal., are sisters.

JOHN POSS. The death occurred at his home near Burth of John Poss, aged seventy years. The deceased had been a resident of this county practically all his life, being born at Onondaga. The funeral will take place to-morrow to Farrington Church and cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hodge are in Toronto to-day, attending the Douglas-Hodge nuptials.

DAUGHTER OF PRINCE TO WED PRIVATE

Example of Obliterating Effects of War on Caste.

Daughter of Prince Mont Batten, daughter of ex-Prince Louis of Battenburg (formerly First Sea Lord, now since the abolition of German titles in England, the Marquis of Milford Haven), is to be married to Pte. Hall, a young Scottish painter doing orderly work in the same hospital in France where Lady Louise is employed. It is quite a romantic love match. The consent of the parents was obtained, and Pte. Hall has been received in Buckingham Palace, where King George assented to the marriage. Hall is a clever painter, good-looking and cultivated. His father is engaged in the fish trade in Aberdeen.

Lady Louise is a niece of the former Czarina and of Princess Henry of Prussia, and first cousin of the Queen of Spain. As an example of the obliterating effects of the war on caste feeling this match is the most striking yet recorded, and was impossible in the days before the war.

CANADIANS TAKE 6,000 PRISONERS IN FIERCE FIGHT

Fresh Drive on Droocourt-Queant Line is Successful.

ENEMY OVERWHELMED

With the Canadian Forces in the Field, Sept. 3.—The Canadian Corps captured yesterday between five and six thousand prisoners, but it was only by intensive fighting. More than ever the enemy relied on his machine-gun nests. A single runner encircled in one of these might inflict a hundred casualties on our advancing infantry. It is small solace that the destruction of such a nest led invariably to the capture and death of a hundred or more sheep in the dugouts behind. They surrendered willingly enough. Their machine guns had paid their price.

With the Canadian Forces in the Field, Sept. 2.—(Via London, Sept. 3.) At noon to-day the Canadian forces attacking had passed through the portion of the Queant-Droocourt switch line confronting them, thus breaking down the enemy's main line of resistance in this sector. On either flank, British home troops were well up in the heat of the battle. Reports of villages or positions taken are apt to prove deceptive. For these may be held only by outposts and are then liable to change hands before an energetic enemy counter-attack. Sections of our troops, for instance, have been reported to be at points considerably east of the main line now occupied. That line is roughly as follows:

Blache St. Vaast on the Scarpe to Eterpigny, this being unchanged, thence in a wide northeasterly sweep to east of the strong point of Dury, where the village we captured after a hard struggle, thence south through the village of Villers-les-Cagnicourt to east of Cagnicourt, joining up with other British troops at the Bouche Wood.

Our drive is being pushed forward and is making steady headway, though there is not that rapid going which distinguished the early days of the second battle of Amiens. The enemy evidently means to contest to the last ditch the triangle formed by St. Quentin, Sauchy, Marquion. He has withdrawn most of his guns behind that line, though a number were captured in the first drive.

Machine Gunners Taken. Prisoners to noon were estimated at three thousand, but these figures are subject to correction, as the turns at the corps cages are tabulated. This is no runaway victory. Every inch of the ground is being sharply contested. The enemy relies primarily on machine-gun nests supported by heavy artillery. It is these that have occasioned our worst and heaviest casualties. In one case the machine-gun crews lay down until the tanks had passed beyond them, then emerged from their dugouts and poured in a destructive fire into our infantry. "It isn't the rifle that shoots them guys," said a walking case at the front dressing station after the battle. "It's the machine gunners."

A very large proportion of the prisoners taken were machine gunners. These surrender as soon as their guns are out of action. They have no taste for close quarters with Canadians. That assertion has been made before, but to-day there was overwhelming evidence from many different quarters that the boche will fight his hardest to keep his machine guns going, but once these break down he cries "mercy, mercury."

He is in no humor to go to it at close quarters with the Canadian. The clean wound of a machine gun when it does not kill outright, leads to a big proportion of walking wounded cases, and it was interesting to collect the views of these as they came fresh from battle.

"Our battalion has taken three trenches and is still going strong," said a British Columbia Highlander. Another British Columbia infantryman was going fine, and that his battalion had taken more prisoners than its entire strength.

A member of a southern Saskatchewan unit said: "We've done the boche licked, and the battle couldn't be going better. I hope to get back from Blighty in time to shove him into the Rhine."

A private of a famous Hampshire battalion—it belonged to the Old Army—who is fighting on one flank of the Canadian Corps took his wound lightly. "I don't believe it's a good Blighty," he said, "but anyway I'm just as glad not to be out of this push. In April, 1918, we helped the Canadians to save Arras, and now we are pushing in with you again, and to a very different tune."

The Canadian Corps has achieved the great initial feat of breaking the enemy's chosen and fortified line. It opens the way for large operations, but the Corps is up against resistance of the most determined kind. To even hold what it has won, it must beat back the counter-attack after counter-attack. "The enemy has massed some of his best divisions in an effort to stop our forward push. The struggle of the next few days may be of a severe character, but the Canadians are confident. They believe that, even under his selected conditions, they always can take the measure of the boche."

Last Defence Line. In the central Amiens operations the Canadians captured 190 guns and howitzers, 1,040 machine guns and trench mortars, and 9,131 prisoners. But, important as these statistics are, their objectives were limited as compared with the task essayed to-day by the Canadians. This was nothing less than the shattering of the enemy's last main line of defence in this sector. The ground on which they stood when zero hour struck was the farthest line east of Arras won by the allies, since the battle of the Marais two years ago, and this would have been a great objective in itself, but, with the coming of the war of movement, such tasks can be set, greater task. They were given the task of breaking through the Queant-Droocourt switch to Wotan line, as he calls it, and thus driving in the wedge that shall burst asunder his defence and roll it up to the north and south. It is a task entailing great preparation of every kind, but depending in its final terms on the power of the artillery and the tenacity of the infantry. The barrage that was opened at 5 o'clock this morning was the most extensive and represented the heaviest collection of artillery, light and heavy, seen in this war, whether on the front of the Amiens battle or that of Passchendaele or Vimy Ridge.

But in addition there was the converging fire of the British armies to right and left. As this barrage crept 100 yards at a time, there could be made out the slow-moving tanks. Hardly had the show opened when field batteries galloped over the ground where but a few minutes before the infantry had stood in a defensive attitude. They too, in overhead flew the bombing aircraft raining death from the riven skies upon the enemy trenches. Behind all waited the motor machine guns, the independent mobile that did such splendid work along the Roye road, and now waited impatiently the chance to get in behind forces attacking head on, or to organize the back. Again a considerable body of British home troops are fighting within the same corps side by side with the men of the Dominion. They too, share in the victory. Tried troops of the first British armies, they are the worthy comrades-in-arms of their Canadian brethren.

By Courier Leased Wire London, Sept. 4.—The Times says: "The Canadians have won an imperishable fame by their breach of the Droocourt-Queant line. This is but the bare record of what has been done by the men from overseas. They would be quick to resent the ridiculous comparisons, but we in this country have special reason to observe the doings of the Dominion troops, whose material has been abundant in this battle."

The Telegram says: "September has opened with an almost bewildering atmosphere of success. There can be no doubt that one of the most shattering blows yet dealt was inflicted on the enemy yesterday."

The Express says: "With the English and the Canadians across the famous switch line, it is possible for the Germans to pretend any longer that they are merely holding territory according to a plan."

The Daily Sketch says: "Those splendid thrusting troops, the Canadians, have accomplished one of the most brilliant feats of the war. They have smashed an immensely strong line beyond repair."

The Daily News says: "The piercing of the switch line promises a new chapter of the war. The Hinderburg defences have been shattered again by the Canadians. That disturbing truth must have a profound effect on Ludendorff's strategy."

The Daily Chronicle says: "The Droocourt line has been carried in most gallant fashion by Canadian and English troops. This great victory opens out very large possibilities. It places Cambrai and Douai in jeopardy."

The Daily Mail says: "One of the greatest feats of the war has been performed by Canadian and English troops. The loss of this vast system of fortresses may involve the evacuation of the French coal fields, and perhaps even of the Flanders coast. The Wotan line is the pivot of the whole German front."

The Daily Graphic says: "The victory was chiefly, it seems, the work of the Canadians, who despite many feats of dauntless valor never proved so irresistible as in smashing the famous switch."

HEATHERS WON EXPOSITOR CUP

Lahey and Gamble of Heathers Won Out in an Extra End

HARD FOUGHT GAMES Heather Club May Take All Three Trophies of Tourney

Heather bowlers captured two out of the three trophies in the Scotch Double Tournament yesterday and have a chance to cop the third when the semi-finals and finals for the El Fair cup are played to-day. Lahey and Gamble carried off the first trophy the Expositor cup, in a classic encounter with Ogilvie and Waterous of the Brantford club, winning out only by two shots after an extra end's play had been necessitated by a tie. This cup, thrice won by Heather sinks, now becomes the property of that club. In the consolation finals, Newsome and Caspell, also of the Heathers, defeated Grummett and Campbell of Echo Place after a hard fight.

Upward of two hundred and fifty bowling enthusiasts gathered at the Brantford club last night to witness the finals, between Lahey and Ogilvie. The former skip netted 120 shots in the opening end, Ogilvie then commenced to show form, and gained a lead which was not overcome until the thirteenth end. After the eighteenth end had been played, the score stood 14 all, and in the extra end the Heather rink forged ahead by two shots. The results:—

Those unable to produce cards were taken to armories and detained until their cases were acted upon by special boards.

INCREASE IN SALARY VOTED MAGISTRATE

City Council Expressed Sympathy in Death of Lt. H. D. Livingston.

OTHER MATTERS UP

An increase of $200 in salary voted to Magistrate Livingston constituted the only business of importance put through at last night's session of the city council. A number of minor matters also came up for consideration and occupied the attention of the council until nearly half past ten, when a remarkably early hour for adjournment was observed. The provisions which the board has always evinced for late sessions.

Soft Coal or Not?
Ald. Symons inquired whether the committee had considered the advisability of installing a furnace which would burn soft coal. Ald. Bragg replied in the negative, claiming that soft coal would create too much smoke in the centre of the city. He pointed out that such a new furnace would be required when a new city hall was built.

Municipal Convention.

Ald. Harp submitted a verbal report on the recent convention of the municipal association in Toronto. He regretted that resolutions, submitted by City Clerk Leonard to lower the rate of the water rate for municipal offices, and to give municipal representation on police commissions, had been defeated. He also approved action taken by the council to obtain complete control over its streets and highways, considering that Brantford might well take action in the same direction. He regretted that Brantford's representation on the convention had not been larger.

Would Submit Referendum.

The legislature of Ontario has frequently turned down applications for a referendum. The mayor would suggest that this council take the initiative in submitting a referendum to the public in January, dealing with this question, and that other cities to do likewise. Then we can go back to the legislature with the opinion of the people behind us.

Dealing with control of municipal streets.

W. F. Cockshutt, the local member of parliament, had voted against the bill which would have provided such control. Ald. Chalcraft suggested that a committee be appointed to wait upon Mr. Cockshutt in this regard.

Ald. Harley Called to Order.

Ald. Harley rose to speak, but was called to order. "When a motion is submitted," the Mayor pointed out, "all the aldermen are given an opportunity to speak and then I sum up. You are now assuming the prerogative of summing up my remarks, as you do at almost every meeting."

Board of Works.

The Board of Works reported as follows: Reports of the City Engineer to His Worship the Mayor, dated August 1st, August 2nd and August 3rd, in reference to the purchase

PRESSURE IS NOT RELAXING

Localized Infantry Activity on French Front Conceals Real Gains.

MANGIN ADVANCING

By The Courier Leased Wire
With the French Army in France, Sept. 4.—Localization in the activity of the infantry in the past two days has given the appearance of the relinquishment of the pressure on the flying German lines from the Somme. The altered face of the battle is due to change of condition of the ground and tactics, and though the fighting has been confined to comparatively short sectors north of Soissons, north of the line of the Somme, engagements of the utmost importance have been in progress in which the allies have gained advantage. The enormous sacrifices the Germans made to hold them off at these points.

North of Soissons, General Mangin's forces, after three days of furious combats, in which positions were taken and re-taken several times, have pushed forward on the plateau that overlooks the valley of the Ailette behind Chemin des Dames and from there the etidale of Leon, one of the stoutest pillars in the German secondary line of defence may plainly be seen.

The French and Americans met around Juvigny, the elite of the German army, grenadiers of the Prussian Guard, grided storm battalions and hardy mountain infantrymen. They defeated them decisively taking an enormous death role from their ranks and sending a goodly number of captives to the rear. The Associated Press correspondent saw a column of these prisoners filing over the plateau to the west where white wood crosses over fresh graves marked the scene of other recent defeats. Some were young, but all were sturdy and burly and depression showed in their faces rather than the satisfaction exhibited by other prisoners over their final release from the inferno of war.

The Americans co-operated in the attack on Juvigny with the type of tanks which the French have named shock cars. These engines of war have been called "armored infantry." They have all the suppleness of troops afoot, and they advance readily into the enemy's positions, dealing death with machine guns and from their quick treads and cannon. One of these cars, manned by a French lieutenant killed 200 Germans before Juvigny. He had first abandoned a damaged tank to take the place of a wounded man in another. His pilot, whose orders were to stay by the disabled car was unable to resist the enthusiasm of the charging troops past his abandoned post and fell in with a platoon of American "armored infantry." The pilot showed them the route and fought with them all afternoon.

Resolutions of Sympathy.

On the motion of Ald. Harp, the following resolutions of sympathy were passed: This Council desire to place on record and tender their sincere expression of sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Livingston in the recent loss of their only son, the unfortunate death of their son, William and Hugh D. while serving their country on the battlefields of France.

It is with feelings of regret that the Council have learned of the very sudden taking away of the beloved wife of Dr. A. B. Cutcliffe, a valued official of the city, who is now serving his country for the cause of justice, and that the great sympathy of all members of this Council be extended to the bereaved husband and members of his family.

New Truck for Coal

The fuel and food committee recommended the purchase of a second Maxwell truck which was authorized. Ald. Clement explained the need for better transportation and delivery facilities. "At the same price as the other," inquired Ald. Chalcraft. "It will cost about $40 more," replied Ald. Clement.

The Mayor explained that a truck would cost less than carting expenses.

"The coal that we will handle will more than pay for both trucks," he stated. "Why stipulate a Maxwell truck?" queried Ald. Harp.

Ald. Melien explained that the first truck had been bought at a better price.

The Mayor explained the situation of the council to the public celebration of the allied victories, to be held to-night. He expressed a wish for more flags, Canadian, British and American, to be flown. Ald. Burrows, Hill, Harlev, Brass and Clement were appointed a committee in charge. Those present were Mayor, Newsome, English, Brass, Harlev, Hill, Symons, Burrows, Clement, Melien, Chalcraft and Harp.
