Passed Away in Seattle on the 6th of Consumption

Seattle, July 6, via Skagway, July 10. -Thomas Constantine Healy, son of Report That Superintendent E. Capt. J. J. Healy, died at the Rainier-Grand hotel here today of consumption.

(T. C. Healy was one of the best known men in Dawson, having since it was a town, been proprietor of the Regina hotel. He left here on June 13th and at Juneau where illness compelled him to lay off on his journey, he had two very severe hemorrhages of the lungs, consumption having marked him as its victim some years since. His family, Mrs. Healy and little daughter, are in Dawson and to the former the news of her husband's death comes as a severe shock. Mr. Healy was about 30 years of age.)

A letter was received by Dr. Hedger in the last mail from Dr. W. G. Hepdown river over the ice with a dog from Cowley I am pretty well interested The story of their differences dates Claypool of Circle J. H. Waite of Bosteam. The letter reads as follows:

Nome, Alaska, May 20.

here. It being a very late spring and it, especially if you can have three or diately stumbled on to a valuable ton, E. F. Botsford of the Ladue Co., I have made two trips to Gold Run, one to the Kougarok. I leave for latter place again tomorrow night with a here, lots of people frozen to death and some snowed up for days at a time. All the houses out of Nome were out of sight in snow 10 to 20 feet over the roof. One place I had to walk through a tunnel 60 feet long to get into the house. At Topcock two fellows got up one morning and started a fire, it would not burn, then they started to try to get out of the door, but they were so badly snowed up over roof and door they could not make it. The fire smoked and they were suffocated to death. All one can see of a house here along the coast is the stove pipe and that is 10 to 15 feet long above the roof. They are freighting with horses here and most of the stables are just dug out of the snow dirfts and a door

I think I could name a dozen districts as large as Dawson Heelf. There are all and several dozen that the fire was near the same as the sa could name a dozen districts as large as Dawson itself. There are miles of benches carrying gold which will pay big to hydraulic. I went over one they had tunneled in over 500 feet—it is not frozen except in a few spots—they could take a pan of dirt anywhere and it would not go less than 3 or 4 cents and lots of places in it 50 to 60; it would average at least 20 cents. I saw them pan myselt and know it. They are doing quite a bit of work during the winter and are finding out that more winter work can be done than was expected. I can see by the winter work that has been done that there a lot of good properties. . Ot course, up the creeks there is too much snow to see much, but the claim holders would not be taking lumber and provisions to such an extent unless they knew they had something, and lots of lumber and grub is going up the creeks, some one way, some another, one hundred miles exertion, sah. '-Detroit Free Press. in all directions from Nome except out to sea and I expect they will get

As far as I can see, this country is good enough for me, and Dawson will not see me again. All the old Dawson hoys say Dawson is not in it with this camp. One can huy in on very likely reeks for less money than one could stake for. I got a half interest on a most likely creek on the north fork of Kougarok for $100, that is 500 feet of ground-it is a 1000 foot claim. The men here are broke and have numerous properties and no money to take grub out to them and they will sacrifice some of it to make a raise before the snow goes. I only wish I had a few thousand dollars here now. I am taking provisions into the Kougarok for the summer and I expect I will be up there most of the summer.

_ I think, doctor, if you could sell out in Dawson you would do a whole lot better here, of course, it is only my opinion, but I do not see how you can help but do better as far as mining goes. You have a hundred chances here where you would have one in Dawson, and as far as your practice goes it is worth as much here as in Dawson by what I am told. Nome right now, I think, is larger hotel.

YOU MAY FANCY

THAT the editorial "roast" in the Nugget is giving our advertisement each day is paid for by THE SUN, just as our display advertisement is, and is intended to call particular attention to the advertisement. We can't blame you if you do, but for the honor of the profession we will state that such is not the case. It does thework all right, and is worth money to us, but the Nugget's editor, possibly conscience-stricken at the exhorbitant rates the soulless, mercenary business manager charges us for space, throws in a daily editorial "roast" simply as "lagniape" as our Louisiana contemporaries would call it, or for "good measure" as it might be called here. It's all in the business - one of the secrets of the trade - and if you are not now a subscriber to the WEEKLY SUN, you should at once subscribe to get the benefit of the remarks we will "hand" the Nugget in return for its editorial mention, for our replies are alone worth the price of subscription.

LAST NIGHT'S HEAVY RAINFALL

Dampened our arder just as little as do the Nugget's complimentary remarks. THE DAILY Morning Sun will appear as advertised, and its contents and general appearance will speak for it in answer to the Nugget's remarks.
