Long Service Medal For John Williamson

Wreckless Engineer, Presented With Recognition for Thirty Eight Years Faithful Service

In recognition of thirty-eight years of faithful service in the employ of the Canadian Government Railways, Mr. John Williamson, who retired from the service, on December 30th, 1916, was on Friday evening, presented with a long service medal, the gift of His Majesty the King. Mr. Fred Carey, of Campbellton, Division Master Mechanic, acted as chairman and in presenting the medal paid a glowing tribute to the worth of Mr. Williamson as an employee of the Government. Mr. Carey said that the Imperial Service Order was instituted, in 1902 and included only persons in administrative Depts of the Government, and the membership was limited to 475, but this was revised in 1908 to include all persons in the employ of Government and the medal was a recognition of faithful and meritorious service. Mr. Williamson had served 38 years with the Canadian Government Railways and was therefore eligible for to wear the long service medal, which he had great pleasure in presenting and hoped that he would be spared many years to wear the same.

Mr. Williamson said that he had looked forward to the moment, when he would be eligible to wear his medal with a good deal of pride. It was now one of the proudest moments of his life to receive the decoration for faithful and meritorious service. It was an emblem he would wear with pride and distinction.

Congratulations were then extended Mr. Williamson in short speeches by Mr. T. V. Toner, and M. McCarren, representing the dispatchers, Mr. Carey, the Master Mechanic, W. Smallwood the Mechanical Dept; Andrew McCabe and John Witzell, the Engineers; Duncan Whiston, the car repairers; Harry McLean, of the Clerical staff, and John Allan, carpenters, and R. A. N. Jarvis on behalf of Mr. Williamson's friends in the town all of whom paid a warm tribute to Mr. Williamson, both as an employee and a citizen.

Mr. John Williamson entered the employ of the Intercolonial Railway September 29th 1879 as a fireman and made his last own as an Engineer December 30th 1916, being in the continuous service of the Railway thirty-seven years, three months and one day, during all which time he never had a week. A record that any man can point to with pride and the distinction of being awarded the coveted long service medal, is an honor that is well merited, and Mr. Williamson's many friends both in Newcastle and along the line of the C. G. R. join with The Advocate in extending congratulations.

Eczema Cured Five Years Ago

A Treatment Which Has Proven a Wonderful Healer of the Skin—Certified Evidence of Lasting Cure.

The old notion that eczema is a disease of the blood is refuted time and time again by the cures that are daily being effected by Dr. Chase's Ointment. It matters not what the cause may have been, if you apply Dr. Chase's Ointment regularly you will obtain relief and cure of eczema. Here is the proof: Mrs. Stephen G. Thwaites, Box 205, Jordan, Ont., writes: "My brother had a bad case of eczema on his legs. He was troubled nearly all one fall and winter with it, and could not work for days at a time. He tried different salves and ointments, but it non-cured him. One day he tried Dr. Chase's Ointment, and it gave almost instant relief. He continued its use, but had not quite finished the second box when he was cured. It is now about five years since then, and it has never returned. We certainly can recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment, and are very grateful for my brother's cure." (Rev. S. F. Coffman, Vineland, Ont., states: "This is to certify that I know Mrs. Thwaites and the party to whom she refers, and her statements are correct.") Mr. J. E. Jones, 223 University Avenue, Kingston, Ont., writes: "I had eczema in my hand for about five years. I tried a great many remedies, but found that while some of them checked it, none cured it permanently. Finally I tried Dr. Chase's Ointment, and in six weeks my hand was completely better. I would not do without a box of Dr. Chase's Ointment in the house if it cost $2 a box. I am giving my name to this firm so that it will get to those who suffer as I did." Dr. Chase's Ointment, 60 cents a box, at all dealers or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. Substitutes will only disappoint you. Insist on getting what you ask for.

Further Evidence in Currie Inquiry

Witnesses Examined at Fredericton Last Week—Hon. Mr. Currie Denies Charge

The investigation into the charges made against Hon. William Currie, M. L. A., by Archibald Murchie, former Crown Land scaler, relative of the Continental Lumber Company, of River Charles, Restigouche County, was resumed at Fredericton Wednesday morning.

T. G. Loggie, Deputy Minister of Lands and Mines, testified that Archibald Murchie had been appointed scaler in 1908. To show what scalars were expected to do, witness read a circular issued to scalars by the chief scaler. No particular instructions were given Murchie. A scaler upon appointment was given instructions. Murchie received those it is taken that a scaler, after passing examination, is qualified to scale.

He presumed the counter's books of 1916-17, out of the Continental Lumber Co. were returned A. T. Murchie, chief scaler or W. H. McLeod, department accountant, would know. Witness provided maps and pointed out lands owned by the Continental Lumber Co., in the name of the Bank of Nova Scotia, on River Charles. These adjoin the Richards permits on Christopher Brook.

To Mr. Baxter, witness said that a scaler knew from plans and maps sent him on what lands each operation would cut. The particular plan sent to Arch. Murchie was sent back, but might be worn out. Witness was instructed to produce from the Crown Land Department all plans and books relating to Arch Murchie. After a recess, during which documents were produced, Col. Loggie resumed.

Witness said he was unable to find all the documents. He produced maps and plans sent to Arch Murchie. These plans were returned and destroyed, August 16, as unserviceable. Correspondence from Chief Scaler, A. T. Murchie, showed what books had been given Arch. Murchie. The account books sent him could not be found. The only records were those sent to Campbellton by the department.

To Mr. Baxter—Witness said one man could not scale more than four or five million feet. A scaler was not required to scale every piece; but it was a very poor system, nothing else could be done. A scaler's book produced was found to have been used by one McKay, counter for Arch. Murchie, although he should not have used it for the purpose of counting.

Witness said there was very little correspondence from Arch Murchie. Under date of March 8, Murchie wrote that the total scale in his district had been estimated at $531,000 and returns would be completed about April 1st.

Witness said correspondence with the scaler with regard to monthly returns would be with the chief scaler. The latter had informed witness that he could not get more than two monthly returns from Arch. Murchie.

The final returns from Arch. Murchie had shown 8,570,000 feet scaled in his district. This final return was marked O.K. by Chief Scaler A. T. Murchie on Apr. 30, 1917. In the opinion of the witness this checking by the chief scaler was practically worthless and it was hoped to eliminate this.

Witness said that it lay with the judgement of the scaler as to what he would throw off for unmerchantable lumber. Fir was treated as other lumber.

Cross examination, by Mr. LeBlanc witness said that scalars acted during the pleasure of the department.

The actual scale of superficial feet was what was wanted by the department. If a licensee could show that a mistake was made in the scale, his claim was recognized. A licensee should pay the Crown Land Department's bill and claim a rebate.

Witness could not say whether or not Chief Scaler A. T. Murchie visited Archibald Murchie's district.

At the inquiry Wednesday afternoon into the charges made by Archibald Murchie against Hon. Wm. Currie, the latter testified that when Murchie introduced the question of stamper he informed the scaler that Mr. Richards had settled the stamper with the scaler and witness refused to discuss the matter. He merely told Murchie to do the best he could without doing anything wrong, according to his evidence. He also testified that he advised Murchie not to do anything that would get him in trouble. As to his knowledge of the cut at that time, he explained that once the company was assured of the logs they needed—in that year about four million feet—they were not much concerned with the remainder and did not attempt to check up their cut definitely until they received the reports of the results of the saw mill operations. He said he had not attempted to check the stamper payment, as Mr. Richards looked after the financial affairs of the company, he managed the manufacturing end had little to do with office routine, in which class he put the signing of the check, prepared for him by the accountant. He swore that he had made no attempt to influence Murchie to reduce the scale. Daniel E. Richards, president of the Continental Lumber Company, testified at the time Murchie approached him he did not know what the cut was, but informed Murchie that he thought it was less than the previous year, when they paid on 4,700,000 feet. Murchie asked him if between 4,500,000 and 5,000,000 feet would be about right, and he had said that that would be satisfactory. He also denied making any attempt to influence Murchie in the preparation of his scale. The next session will be held on August 6.

Memorial Service For Pte. W. E. Johnston

Held at Doaktown on Sunday Last and was Largely Attended

The news reached Doaktown recently that Driver William Ed. Johnston, serving with the 17th Battery, had been killed at the front. Deceased enlisted last year. Although 55 years of age, he was keen to do his bit for his country. In a letter written a few days before his death, he speaks cheerfully of his experience, and asks the young men to hurry up and get "over there" if they want to hear the sound of a gun. He leaves a wife and eleven children, eight of them still at home, to mourn his loss.

A memorial service was held in the Anglican Church, of which deceased was a member, on Sunday evening July 14. Additional seating accommodation was provided in alleys and vestries, but although some 200 were accommodated, numbers had to stand, so eager were the public generally to pay a tribute of respect to one who had died for home and country. Members of L. O. L. occupied reserved seats as did also the members of the deceased soldier's family. The church flag was at half-mast during the service.

On a stand before the Holy Table the Union Jack was draped, with flags of the Allies, the hymns sung were: "The Son of God goes forth to War," "O God of Love," "Come Ye Disconsolate," and "There is No Night in Heaven." The offertory, amounting to $10, will be used for a soldiers' Memorial in the Church. After the offertory the Dead March in Saul was played, and the service closed with the Benediction and the National Anthem. The Rev. A. J. Patstone, who conducted the service and preached, took for his theme St. Matthew, chapter 6, verse 21: "Where your treasure is, there will your heart be also." The sermon was in part as follows:—

We have learned during the war to make a new estimate of the things that matter most in life. The making and the spending of money, ease and pleasure, even trade and commerce, had played too large a part in our national life. The man now who lived only for the making and spending of money is a traitor of his country. Character and the principles of liberty and justice, were the treasures of a nation. The Bank of England set the standard for the financial world, but now we are all banded together in the realization of the fact that greater than the Bank of England is the Bank of British character. We all share this heritage and are fighting together in defence of it. The call of God comes to the nation in our Saviour's words, "Great Britain had from the earliest days been constantly struggling against any violation of these principles. Sometimes the struggle was focussed into great crisis and our forefathers fought and many died in defence of their own homes and liberties, and of ours who follow them. We often miss the significance of the simple words we sing, but what words could better express a proper spiritual and national ambition than:—

"Give us holy freedom,
Fill our hearts with love,
Draw us holy Jesus,
To the realms above."

"But we cannot live any longer as 'remittance men,' on the interest of our father's investments. The time has come for us to add so nothing to capital. As the soldier we now mourn looks back over his earthly life, what are the things he would pick out as constituting the things that really count? His entrance to life! His initiation into the Christian Church! The home of his birth and holy resolve to be true to his profession! Domestic, filial, paternal, relationships! And lastly his death for so great a cause. Surely these now constitute his treasure. The Lord Jesus never commanded any one serve or suffer where He Himself would not and did not. As He gave this advice to His disciples He also exemplified it. The treasure of God viewed in this light consists of human souls. The heart of God went out to the treasure of God, and found it—or the Cross. Where His treasure was His heart was a broken heart. So the incentive to true national service is the Cross. The principles we stand for were all but under the heels of the Germans. We must sacrifice ourselves to regain them. So the incentive to Christian faith and practice is the Cross. Let us make more than we do of the things that really count in life. The treasure of heaven must be gained through service and sacrifice.

LONDON TO LOSE MANY IRON POSTS

It has been suggested that London should rid herself of a number of street posts and other unnecessary iron ornaments in the interests of the quick production of munitions. The question of the guard posts is being considered by the authorities, but a number of these prove to be old cannon that have historical interest and the historical associations are protesting against their removal. It has already been suggested that the Albert Memorial would be of more use in the shape of munitions than in its present form, but a writer in the Star goes further and suggests that all the statues erected from the time George I. to the Prince Consort should be melted down, and adds that they would not be missed, because the majority of them represent Germans.

Between Your House and the Elements The Paint Brush Forms The Only Real Protection

If you neglected to paint your house in the Spring, make good the deficiency now—this very week—before the weather has further advanced its work of destruction. Now, carry your painting economy farther than just "painting." Be thrifty on the actual job of painting—by using paint that lasts.

For true economy, use B-H "ENGLISH" PAINT 70% Pure White Lead (Standard's Genuine B.B.) 30% Pure White Zinc 100% Pure Paint

A very enjoyable day was spent by all, but a heavy thunder storm, which set in about six o'clock, put a dampness to the pleasures as well as gave some of the picnickers a good wetting.

COST OF LIVING ON AN INCREASE

A continuance of the upward tendency in the cost of living is shown by labor committee's report on food prices for the month of June. The average cost of a family budget of staple foods in some sixty cities at the middle of June was $12.77, as compared with $12.66 for May, $11.89 for June, 1917, and $7.35 for June, 1914. In prices, the advance in meats, coal, wood, coal oil and eggs continued, but there declines in butter, milk and potatoes.

In wholesale prices the departmental index number was up to 280.6, as compared with 275.8 in May. The chief increases for the month were in fruits and vegetables, and in fuel, the last due to a rise in the price in matches.

LIGHTING DOES SOME DAMAGE

During the heavy lightning and rain storm on Wednesday night, the house of Alex. Dougay at Chatham Head was struck. The bolt entered the house near the chimney, demolishing the latter and passing down struck the five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Dougay in the side badly burning the little fellow and giving him quite a shock. Mrs. Dougay, who was sitting near by had one of her boots torn from her foot, while two cats that were in the house were instantly killed.

A house belonging to Mrs. Marjorie Sowle and occupied by Mr. Watson Touchie, at Loggville was struck and considerable damage was done to the plaster and interior. Mr. Touchie was the only one at home at the time. He received a slight shock but was not injured.

NEW BRUNSWICK ROAD CONDITIONS

In the latest bulletin of the Bangor Automobile Association, just issued, the following paragraph is published: "Though slightly affected by recent heavy rains, every main trunk highway from the border at Calais to the border of Nova Scotia, including the highways to St. Andrews, Fredericton, Woodstock and Grand Falls and also from Moncton to Campbellton is in good condition. One fine warm day will dry up most, if not all, of the wet spots. Automobiles from the United States are encouraged to visit New Brunswick. The Provincial Government is spending thousands of dollars to improve the main roads in their interests. There is no chance in the rule of the road this year. To avoid collisions automobilists should bear this in mind."

James Babineau Took Train North

Kent County Man who Mysteriously Disappeared Went to Restigouche Co.

The mysterious disappearance of James Babineau, from Chatham Head about six weeks ago, and which was dealt with at some length in this paper last week, seems to be clearing somewhat and the contention of the Union Advocate that Babineau cleared out, is evidently correct. The Advocate has learned from trainmen that on the night of Babineau's disappearance he boarded the way freight which leaves here about three o'clock in the morning and travelled as far as siding four miles north of Nash's Creek, and started that he was going to work in Culligan's mill, four miles back from the railway at that point. One of the Advocates informants is a neighbor of Babineau's at Acadiaville and the story to the effect that Babineau was beaten by men at Chatham Head was evidently founded upon imagination.

THE MILITARY SERVICE ACT

The decision of the Supreme Court of Canada, that the amendments to the Military Service Act, promulgated by an Order-in-council, are legal and binding, has a wide spread effect all over Canada.

The case in question arose from the application of Private George Edwin Grey, a farmer drafted under the terms of the orders-in-council, canceling all exemptions of men between the ages of 20 and 22, for his release from military service by way of habeas corpus.

There is at the present time several other applications for habeas corpus pending in Quebec and the West and the decision of the highest tribunal in the land, will likely result in all being refused.

A BATHING BEACH NEEDED

At Fredericton, a portion of the River Front just above the town has been transformed into a bathing beach, and each evening large numbers of the younger class, both males and females gather for a friendly dip. The action of the Fredericton Town Council in erecting bathing houses this year has been heartily commended and more interest is being taken in this healthy recreation than ever before at the Capital.

It is a matter of regret that no action along the lines adopted by Fredericton has, as yet been taken in Newcastle, and should the younger generations desire to go swimming, the marsh or wharves offer the only solution to the boy problem, while the young ladies are politely told there is no place to go Newcastle has just above the town one of the finest sand beaches in the Province and the expenditure of a few dollars for bathing houses would make it an attractive spot after the warm days work as well as help develop strong healthy men and women.

While we consider the town council has sufficient calls for all its income, perhaps some kind individual would start the ball rolling with a generous donation and others join in.

Millerton W. I.

The Derby Branch of the Women's Institute met on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. M. Monahan. Fourteen members answered the roll. The following committees were appointed:

Program—Mrs. D. R. Brown, Misses Greta Flett and Jessie Betts.
Red Cross—Miss Jessie Betts, reappointed.

Knitting Committee—Mrs. T. Henderson, reappointed.
Publicity—Miss Daisy Peterson and Jessie Lyons

A letter from the Supervisor was read, stating that Miss Nutter, Domestic Science Graduate, would be in Millerton on July 27th to give a demonstration in war breads.

A vote of thanks was passed for the donation to Red Cross work of $7.45 proceeds of a social dance.

The subject of the meeting was: Fish and its Food Value. Mr. John Betts gave a very interesting and instructive address on the early fisheries and their effect upon the British Navy.

SCHOOL TEACHERS TO GET INCREASED SALARIES

Town Council Vote $1000 Additional for School Purposes--New Bye-Laws Respecting Gasoline Tanks, Dances and Traffic Passed

The Town Council got down to business in real earnest on Thursday night, and after a two hours strenuous session emerged with no less than three new Bye-Laws, notice of a fourth one and in addition voted $1,000 additional for school purposes.

The new Bye-Laws provide an annual assessment of $5.00 for gasoline tanks on Town property, a tax of $10 per night on commercial dances, and set the closing of same for 12 o'clock; while the third is designed to regulate traffic.

The Council was called to order by the Mayor at 8 o'clock, all aldermen present except Ritchie and Crocker.

A letter from the Board of School Trustees requesting an addition of $1,000 to their appropriation to enable them to grant a small increase in teachers salaries was read, and on motion of Ald. P. Russell, Mr. E. A. McCurdy of the Board was heard.

E. A. McCurdy, said that on account of the increase in the cost of living the teachers had asked for an increase of salary. The Board recognized the justice of their claims and wished to meet them as far as finances would permit. The increase the Trustees were asking from the Council was only a small part of what was due the teachers; a very slight recognition of their valuable services. Besides increasing the teachers' pay, a small amount might be needed for incidentals.

Mayor Troy agreed that the teachers especially the female portion of them, were exceedingly underpaid, and deserved an increase.

Ald. Durick was sorry the teachers had not asked for their increase before the estimates were made up. The teachers were miserably paid he had not understood how small their salary was until very recently. The increase proposed by the Trustees was small. He was in favor of the increase if the money could be found.

Ald. Perley Russell said that up to July 1st instant there had been collected some $30,000 of the assessment of $48,000 for the present year the best collection ever made since incorporation. The town's balance in the bank was $3,000. Where could the increased sum be got?

Mayor Troy invited the Town Clerk (who is also Secretary to the School Board) to speak on the subject. Mr. Linden said that there was some incidental revenue not pledged, such as dog tax, and other licenses. They should yield some revenue. If the different departments would keep within the limits of their appropriations, some surplus might be shown. These were the only sources of extra revenue he saw for the trustees.

Ald. Doyle said that he intended to keep within his appropriation for streets. $1,000 was little enough increase for the teachers. If they did not get the increase they must go elsewhere, for they cannot live on what they are getting at the present prices $1,000 would have to be raised from some source. The streets were in a bad condition, he was almost ashamed of them, but it could not be helped at present.

Ald. Stuart favored the grant of $1,000 additional for school purposes and moved seconded by Ald. Doyle that the Town Council, authorized the Board of School Trustees, to use $1,000 for increase of teachers salaries.

Ald. Sargeant and Durick did not wish to hold the Trustees to the use of the grant for increase in teachers salaries alone, but favored voting the money to the Trustees for use at their discretion and their amendment to that effect was carried.

A communication from the T. I. L. regarding the conditions of certain streets was read, and on motion Mr. E. A. McCurdy, one of the Committee appointed by the T. I. L. to interview the Council on the matter was heard.

Mr. McCurdy spoke regarding the condition of the King's Highway from French Port Cove Bridge to Sinclair's and also Jane street from the station to the Morrisay bridge, both of which he claimed were Provincial highways and the Town should be assisted by the local Government in keeping them in repair, as it was grossly unfair to expect the town to keep up almost five miles of Provincial highway. The Local Government, when Hon. L. J. Tweedie, was premier had given between four and six hundred dollars for repairs to this road, and when Hon. George J. Clark was leader of the Government, he had promised $1,000 on condition that the Town contributed a like amount, but it was recrotted that this was impossible at the time. These two amounts went to prove that the King's Highway was acknowledged as a Provincial thoroughfare

The repairs were badly needed and the speaker thought that if representation was made to the provincial Government they might assist in the matter.

Ald. Doyle of the Public Works Committee said he was willing to bring the matter to the attention of the Government, but did not think it much use. At the present time the Town were going to expend $500 to repair the road from Curtis to Sinclair's but the wet weather had interfered and nothing could be done until fine weather was available. The work was to be done under the supervision of Mr. W. M. Johnston of Chatham Head.

Following accounts were passed:

Finance Union Advocate $7.75
Park & Water H. A. Russell $6.00
Police Dr. Desmond $10.00

On motion the accounts of the Water and Light Committee were laid over until next meeting. Ald. Durick said the Fire Engine had been tested on Tuesday evening and was in A 1 condition.

Ald. Stuart introduced the following Bye-Law:

"That the license on a Gasoline Tank on Town Property be $5.00 for year."

Ald. Doyle objected to a license fee being asked. The men who had these tanks installed were paying taxes at the present time and it was not fair to ask them to pay more.

Ald. Durick thought it was a good idea and $5.00 was reasonable. No one should use Town property without paying for it.

The Bye-Law was adopted. On motion of Aids Stuart and P. Russell Bye-Law No. 9, sec. 3 was amended to include the following:

(6)—For a hall or any other place, public, or private, where a dance is held and any admission charged or collections taken, ten dollars for each night, every dance to close not later than midnight, the penalty for such dance continuing after midnight to be $25

This brought forth objection from Aids Durick, Sargeant and Doyle.

Ald. Doyle said that while he did not object to the $10.00 license he thought that stopping of dances at 12 o'clock was too stringent especially under the new time, when it does not get dark until 10 o'clock and the dance only gets started by 12. It was too much like stopping them altogether.

Ald. Durick rendered a strong protest against the Bye-Law. He had never known of a Council yet that had endeavored to restrict pleasure. Dances should not be asked to stop at 12 o'clock. The Bye-Law was too stringent and it was taking pleasure away from the young people and he could see no reason for it. He could see no harm in dances held in private houses, where a person may ask their friends to help them defray the cost.

Ald. Sargeant was not in favor of the motion. There should be no tax on dances. In his opinion $10.00 seemed too large 12 o'clock too early.

Ald. Stuart did not think young people should be allowed out after 12 o'clock at night. They should be home in their bed. If people wanted to dance they could commence at 7 o'clock and do all their dancing before 12, or if they wanted they could dance all day. People living in private houses could invite their friends and keep them all night if necessary, the Red Cross or Patriotic dances would pay no license fee.

The Bye-Law was carried on casting vote of the Mayor. Those voting in favor being Aids. Stuart, Doyle, and P. Russell, while Aids. Durick Sargeant and J. Russell voted nay.

On motion of Aids. Stuart and Doyle, the Traffic Bye-Law fashioned after the St. John and Moncton laws was adopted, to come into effect on August 1st and the Town Clerk was authorized to have 500 copies be printed for distribution.

Ald. Doyle gave notice that at the next regular meeting of the Town Council he would submit a Bye-Law, to provide that in future, when sewerage is installed in any street, one half the cost, of installation shall be borne by the Town and other half by the properties on each side of such street.

Ald. Doyle said it was a mistake that such a bye-law was not adopted at the start, and now we would have the whole of the town covered in sewerage at half the present time. Sewerage also adds five times to the value of property, and owners should be only too pleased to pay one quarter the cost each.

Ald. Sargeant said he knew where the best sewerage could be disposed of and Ald. Durick said he would be

The Story Of The Stairs

Every time you go up stairs you can test your state of health—the condition of your blood.

Do you arrive at the top of the stairs breathless and distressed? Does your heart palpitate violently? Do you have a pain in your side? Perhaps you even have to stop half way up, with limbs trembling and head dizzy, too exhausted to go further without resting. These are unfailing signs of anaemia. As soon as your blood becomes impoverished the stair-case becomes an instrument of torture. When this is so you are unfit for work; your blood is watery and your nerves exhausted, you are losing the joy of an active life, and paving the way for a further break down and decline. In this condition only one thing can save you. You must put new, rich red blood into your veins without further delay and so build up your health again. To get this new, rich blood give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial, and they will give you a new vitality, sound health, and the power to resist and throw off disease. For more than a generation this favorite medicine has been in use throughout the world and has made many thousands of weak, despondent men and women bright, active and strong.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

War Time Recipes

STRAWBERRY JAM

8 lbs. strawberries;
6 lbs. sugar.

Mix the strawberries and sugar in a kettle and let them stand overnight. In the morning set the kettle over the fire on an asbestos mat and bring the contents slowly to a boil. Do not stir the fruit any more than is absolutely necessary. Boil gently without stirring until it is sufficiently thick and then put it away in sterile jars.

RASPBERRY JAM

8 lbs. raspberries;
6 lbs. sugar.

Pick over the raspberries and put the sugar on. Let the fruit remain this way overnight. In the morning, set the kettle over the fire and bring the contents to a boil slowly, stirring until all the sugar is dissolved. Then cook without stirring until the quantity is reduced, and until, when tested on a cold plate, the jam is found to be sufficiently thick.

RASPBERRY JAM WITH CURRANT JUICE

7 lbs. of fruit;
1 lb. or 1 pint of red currant juice;
6 lbs. sugar.

Follow the same directions as for Raspberry Jam, but because of the juice of the currant that is added, it will require a little longer cooking, as some of the water will have to be evaporated.

RHUBARB RELISH

4 bowls rhubarb chopped fine, 4 bowls onions, 1 1/2 cups vinegar, 2 1/2 lbs. brown sugar, 1 teaspoon cloves, cinnamon, allspice, pepper and salt. Cook rhubarb, onions, salt and vinegar twenty minutes before adding sugar and spices. Cook together slowly one hour and a half.

TO PRESERVE STRAWBERRIES WITHOUT COOKING

Weigh out the same amount of clean strawberries and cane sugar. Put about a pound of berries and the same amount of sugar into a bowl and mash thoroughly with a silver fork. Pour this mixture into open earthen dish, and repeat the process until all the berries and sugar are used. Let stand, in a cool place, stirring occasionally for 2 or 3 days or until sugar is dissolved. Boil all jars and utensils, which are to be used. Bottle and seal with wax. Keep in cool place.

ONE EGG CHOCOLATE CAKE

1 egg, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup sour milk, 1 teaspoon soda, 2 squares chocolates, salt, vanilla, 1 1/2 cups flour, butter size of an egg. Melt butter and chocolate together. Dissolve soda in sour milk.

BROWN BREAD

4 cups Graham flour, 2 cups milk, (sweet) 1/2 cup molasses, 1 teaspoon soda, 1/2 teaspoon salt. Add soda and salt to flour, add molasses to milk put in saucepan and make it hot but not boiling, then pour over the dry ingredients and mix well. Bake about an hour.

Regular Meeting of Nelson Women's Institute

The July meeting of the Nelson Women's Institute was held at Mrs. Hazen Patterson's and was a most successful gathering. Refreshments were served with a simple recipe for dessert. A very profitable discussion, in which all present took part, was opened by the President, Mrs. Edgar Vye, on the question: Are the people of New Brunswick utilizing their time to the best advantage? It was decided to meet for the rest of the summer at Mrs. George Fleet, on the third Wednesday of each month. During the evening, Mrs. Patterson sold ice-cream, clearing $4.50 for the institute funds.

WHAT NOT TO SEND OVERSEAS

Replying to a letter asking what is most needed for overseas, Miss Mary Plummer of the Canadian Field Comforts Commission writes:

"Socks are emphatically the most valued contribution, shirts, gauze underwear, towels, handkerchiefs and medium weight underwear come next. The Director-General of Voluntary Organizations in England is also appealing constantly for such things as knitted comforts, handkerchiefs, towels, anti-vermin vests and especially for socks, and states that there is a very real need for these comforts for the Imperial 'troops.'"

Miss Plummer adds a paragraph with a warning inside. She says: "Stationery, tobacco, leather boots, shoes, chocolate (good solid bars), tins of meat or fruit or coffee, seedless raisins and dates are very welcome. Cocoa very often shakes out of its tin or box and should be very carefully wrapped up before packing. We do not want any homemade sweets or toffees or any peanut brittle, as they invariably go bad and spoil the other contents of the parcel, and please do not send any apples or other fruit. It is such a shame to have a good parcel spoiled by one bad orange or sticky, melting lump of toffee, and it takes a lot of time to clean up and repair such parcels."

Girls Whiten Skin With Lemon Juice

Make a beauty lotion for a few cents to remove tan, freckles, and sallowness.

Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply you with three ounces of orchard white for a few cents. Squeeze the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle, and shake well. This makes a quarter pint of the very best lemon skin whiter and complexion beautifying known. Massage this fragrant, creamy lotion daily into the face, neck, arms and hands and just see how freckles, tan, sallowness, redness and roughness disappear and how smooth, soft and clear the skin becomes. Yes! It is harmless, and the beautiful results will surprise you.

BUY CANNING SUPPLIES NOW

There is likely to be a large surplus of perishable foodstuffs raised as a result of the war-garden propaganda. As this can be fully utilized only by preserving it for future use by drying, preserving, or canning, this brings up the question of needed equipment and containers.

Last year there was little advanced preparation by manufacturers and retailers. While this, to a certain extent, has been taken care of this year, at the same time the transportation facilities of the county are being taxed to their capacity. Unless jobbers and retailers and householders work together, many will be disappointed. Householders are urged to purchase whatever canning supplies they will need sufficiently in advance of the actual canning season to assure delivery.

MAYONNAISE DRESSING

3 eggs, 3/4 cup vinegar, 1 1/2 cups rich milk, 2 or more teaspoonsful mustard, a speck of white pepper, 1 or 2 tablespoonsful white sugar, 1 teaspoonful salt, 1/2 cup butter (melted) use an egg beater whip looking in a double boiler all the time and it will not curdle. When sold add a little Worcester-shire Sauce and paprika and blend by adding a little more mustard, salt, sugar or vinegar, if needed. If olive oil is liked, take some out in a bowl and mix with dressing. This quantity will make a quart. The dressing cream when ready to use. For fruit salad add lemon juice instead of vinegar.

Tired Nervous Mothers

Should Profit by the Experience of These Two Women

Buffalo, N. Y.—"I am the mother of four children, and for nearly three years I suffered from a female trouble with pains in my back and side, and a general weakness. I had professional attendance most of that time but did not seem to get well. As a last resort I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which I had seen advertised in the newspapers, and in two weeks noticed a marked improvement. I continued its use and am now free from pain and able to do all my household work."—Mrs. E. B. Zielinska, 202 Weiss Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

Portland, Ind.—"I had a displacement and suffered so badly from it at times I could not be on my feet at all. I was all run down and so weak I could not do my housework, was nervous and could not lie down at night. I took treatments from a physician but they did not help me. My Aunt recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I tried it and now I am strong and well again and do my own work and I give Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound the credit."—Mrs. JOSEPHINE KIMBLE, 935 West Race Street, Portland, Ind.

"You infernal blackguard, have you seen this?" he roared.

David stood up. He held on to the table to steady himself. Even Bulmer, white with rage, could not fail to see that he was stunned.

But Dickey was not minded to spare him on that account.

"Answer me, you scoundrel!" he shouted. "You are glib enough when it suits your purpose. Were you in this? Is this the reason you didn't tell me Iris was on board till I forced the truth out of you last night? Now let's have it! No more of your flamin' inside up tricks. Not took you to shove the Andromeda into a rat trap of this sort?"

David seemed to be laboring for breath.

"Arf a mo'. No need to yowl at me like that," he protested.

He furnished with the lock of a corner cupboard, opened it and drew forth a decanter and some glasses.

"Ah," he said, smacking his lips with some of the old time relish, "that puts new life into me. The story is all moonshine on the face of it."

"I think otherwise, Mr. Verity, and Mr. Bulmer. I take it, agrees with me," said the reporter.

"Well!" blazed David, into whose mind had darted a notion that dazzled him in its daring. "Dye mean to insinuate that I lent my ship to this 'ere Dom Wot's name? Dye sit there an' think that I'd allow a bonny lass like my Iris to take a trip that might end in 'er bein' blown to bits. It's cool, that's wot it is, reel cool."

"The lady referred to was Miss Iris Yorke, then?"

"O'ise? I've o'ny one niece. My trouble is that she went without my permission, in a way of speakin'. 'Ere, you'd better 'ave the fax. She was engaged to my friend, Mr. Bulmer; but, bein' a slip of a girl an' fond of romancin', she just put herself aboard the Andromeda without sayin' 'with your leave' or 'by your leave.' She wrote me a letter, 'w'ich sort of explains the affair. Dye want to see it?"

"If I may?"

"No," said Bulmer.

"Look 'ere, Dickey," went on David, "this dashed fairy tale wou't hold water. You know Coke. Is 'e the kind o' man to go bumpin' round like a stage 'ero an' hoistin' Union Jacks as the ship sinks? I ax you, is 'e? It's nonsense—stuff an' nonsense. An' if the Andromeda was scrapped at Fernando Noronha, 'oo were the freebooters that collared the island, an' 'ow did this 'ere De Sylva get to Macelo? Are you listenin'?"

"Yes," said Bulmer, turning at last and devouring Verity with his deep set eyes.

"Well, wot 'dye think of it?"

"Did you send the ship to Fernando Noronha?"

It is needless to place on record the formula of David's denial. It was forcible and served its purpose. That should suffice.

"If 'ere Iris is alive the partnership goes on," said Bulmer. "If she's dead it doesn't."

"Dye mean it?"

"I always mean wot I say." The click of an indicator on the desk showed that Verity's private telephone had been switched on from the general office. By sheer force of routine David picked up a receiver and placed it to his ear. The subeditor of the newspaper whose representative had not been gone five minutes asked if he was speaking to Mr. Verity.

"Yes," said David. "Wot's up now?" and he motioned to Bulmer to use a second receiver.

"A cablegram from Pernambuco states specifically that the captain and crew of the Andromeda fought their way across the island of Fernando Noronha, rescued Dom De Sylva, seized a steam launch, attacked and captured the German steamship Lusar Fritz and landed the insurgent leader at Macelo. The message goes on to say that the captain's name is Coke and that he is accompanied by his daughter. Eh? What did you say? Are you there?"

"Yes, I'm 'ere, or I think I am," said David with a desperate calmness. "Is that all?"

"All for the present."

"It doesn't say that Coke is a ravin' mad, 'owlin' lunatic, does it?"

"No. Is that your view?"

Bulmer's hand gripped David's. "I was thinkin' that the chap who writes these papers 'ave got some 'ere inside up tricks, 'ave they?"

"This there is not the slightest doubt that something of the kind has occurred," said the voice.

"It's a puttin' job!" roared David.

"These papers 'ave some 'ere inside up tricks," said Bulmer. "I can't see why you yourself dragged me away from certain death when I was lying unconscious on the Andromeda's deck. A second time you saved not me alone, but the ten others who are left out of the twenty-two, by bringing us back to Grand-pere in the hour that our escape seemed to be assured had we put over five you up, not what I've got."

To Bulmer David said sagely: "Wot's bitten Coke? 'E must 'ave gone stark, starin' mad."

"Iris is alive!" murmured Bulmer. "Arf now, David, I'll tell you wot I 'ad in me mind in comin' 'ere this mornin'. You're hard up. You don't know where to turn for a penny. If you're agreeable I'll put a trustworth' man in this office an' give 'im full powers to pull your affairs straight. Mind you, I'm doin' this for Iris, not for you. An' now that we know wot's appenin' in South America you an' I will go out there and look into things. A mail steamer will take us there in sixteen days, an' before we sail we can work the cables a bit so as to stop Iris from startin' for 'ome before we arrive."

CHAPTER XIII.
THE LURE OF GOLD.

"PHILIP, I want to tell you something."

"Something pleasant?"

"No."

"Then why tell me?"

"Because, unhappily, it must be told. I hope you will forgive me, though I shall never forgive myself. Oh, my dear, my dear, why did we ever meet? And what am I to say? I—well, I have promised to marry another man."

"Disagree!" said Philip.

"Philip, dear, this is quite serious," said Iris, momentarily withdrawing her wistful gaze from the faraway line where sapphire sea and amber sky met in harmony. Northeastern Brazil is a favored climate. Bad weather or is there a more link, as it were, between unbroken weeks of brilliant sunshine. At her present pace the Unseer Fritz would enter the harbor at Pernambuco on the following morning.

Iris, her troubled face resting on her hands, her elbows propped on the railings of the poop on the port side, looked at Philip with an intense sadness that was seemingly lost on him.

"I really mean what I say," she continued in a low voice that vibrated with emotion. "I have given my word—written it—entered into a most solemn obligation. Somehow the prospect of reaching a civilized place tomorrow induces a more ordered state of mind than has been possible since—since the Andromeda was lost."

"Who is he?" demanded Hozer darkly. "Coke is married. So is Watta. Dom Corria has other fish to fry than to dream of committing bigamy. Of course I am well aware that you have been flirting with San Benavides."

"Please don't make my duty harder for me," pleaded Iris.

"Before I met you, before we spoke to each other that first day at Liverpool, I had promised to marry Mr. Bulmer, an old friend of my uncle's."

"Oh—he? I am sorry for Mr. Bulmer, but it can't be done," interrupted Hozer.

"Philip, you do not understand. I—I cared for nobody then, and my uncle said he was in danger of bankruptcy, and Mr. Bulmer undertook to help him if I would consent."

He turned and met her eyes. There was a tender smile on his lips.

"So you really believe you will be compelled to marry Mr. Bulmer?" he cried.

"Oh, don't be horrid!" she almost sobbed. "I cuc-cuc-can't help it."

"I have given some thought to the problem myself," he said, "and I appreciate exactly how well it would serve Mr. David Verity's interests if his niece married a wealthy old party like Bulmer. By the way, how old is Bulmer?"

"Nearly seventy."

"It is a shame that Bulmer should be a patriarch, because his only hope of marrying you is that I shall die first. E're then he must be prepared to exonerate his widow, by the way, is it disrespectful to describe him as a patriarch? Isn't there some proverb about threescore years and ten?"

"Philip, if only you would appreciate my dreadful position!"

"Oh. It ought to be ended. The first person we meet shall be commanded. Don't you see, dear, we really must get married at Pernambuco."

Iris clinched her little hands in despair. Why did he not understand her misery? Though she was unwavering in her resolution to keep faith with the man who had twitted her with taking all and giving nothing in return, she could not wholly restrain the tumult in her veins. Married in Pernambuco! Ah, if only that were possible!

"I am sure we would be happy together," she said, with a pathetic confidence that tempted him strongly to take her in his arms and kiss away her fears. "We must forget what happened in the land of dreams. I will never love any man but you, Philip. Yet I cannot marry you."

"You will marry me in Pernambuco."

"I will not because I may not. Oh, spare me any more of this I cannot bear it. Have pity, dear!"

"Iris, let us at least look at the position calmly. Do you really think that fate's over decree should be set aside merely to keep David Verity out of the bankruptcy court?"

"I am sure we should be happy to do so," she said, with a pathetic confidence that tempted him strongly to take her in his arms and kiss away her fears. "We must forget what happened in the land of dreams. I will never love any man but you, Philip. Yet I cannot marry you."

"WE REALLY MUST GET MARRIED AT PER- NAMBUCO."

out to sea. We are more than quits, dear heart, when we strike a balance of mutual service. We are bound by a tie of comradeship that is denied to most. And what other man and woman now breathing can lay better claim than we to have been joined by the Almighty?"

The strange exigencies of their lives during the past two days had ordained that this should be Philip's first avowal of his feelings. Under the stress of overpowering impulse he had clasped Iris to his heart when they were parting on the island. In obedience to a stronger law than any hitherto revealed to her innocent consciousness the girl had nod down to his arms when he came to the hut. And that was all the loving-making—wrenched from a time of gaunt tragedy and followed by a few hours of self negation. Yet they sufficed—to the man—and the woman is never too ready to count the cost when her heart declares its passion.

"Give you up?" he murmured again.

"No, Iris, not if Satan brought every dead Verity to aid the living one in his demand."

Coke, to whom that was anathema, chose that unhappy instant to summon him to take charge of the ship.

"We're givin' Pernambuco the go-by. It's Macelo for us, quick as we can get there," said Coke.

Hozier was in no humor for conciliatory methods. He turned on his heel and walked straight to where De Sylva was leaning against the rails.

"Captain Coke tells me that we are making for Pernambuco," he said, meeting the older man's penetrating gaze with a glance as firm and self contained.

"That is what we have arranged," said Dom Corria.

"It does not seem to have occurred to you that there is one person on board this ship whose interests are vastly more important than yours, senior."

"Meaning Miss Yorke?" asked the other, who did not require to look twice at this stern visaged man to grasp the full import of any words but the plainest.

"Yes."

"She will be safer at Macelo than at Pernambuco. Our only danger at either place will be encountered at the actual moment of landing. At Macelo there is practically no risk of finding a warship in the harbor. That is why we are going there."

"And not because you are more likely to find adherents there?"

"It is a much smaller town than Pernambuco, and my strength lies outside the large cities, I admit. But there can be no question as to our wisdom in preferring Macelo, even where the young lady's well being is concerned."

A Handy Story.

Daughter—"I'm ashamed of you, pa. I saw you kiss the parlor maid as you went out."

Fa—"Don't be ridiculous, dear. I've missed two or three bottles of Scotch lately, and, as I suspected Nellie, I took the opportunity of smelling her breath, that's all."

Coun. Vanderbeck Wants a Museum

Genial John Endeavors To Secure Old Government Building in Fredericton For That Purpose

(Saturday's Gleaner)

A movement is on foot to purchase the old Provincial Assembly building on Queen street, where the Legislature first assembled in Fredericton in 1788, and to turn the place into a museum, where old-time souvenirs and archives, relating to the history of the province, may be kept. One man offers to finance the scheme, if the building can be secured at anything like a reasonable figure.

Mr. J. W. Vanderbeck of Millerton, who was in the city during the past few days, is the man behind the scheme, and is willing to put up a reasonable amount of cash to secure the building. He would also like, if possible, to remove the building to a site on the river bank in Parliament Square, and make it one of the show places of the city, similar to many old buildings of the kind to be found in Montreal and Quebec.

Mr. Vanderbeck has had a special interest in this scheme for some time, and this has been increased by reading letters relating to the old building which have recently been published in The Gleaner.

Mr. Vanderbeck says that his great grandfather, Abraham Vanderbeck, erected the building over 130 years ago, for one of the early settlers of Fredericton, named Cornelius Ackerman, who in turn rented the building to the first Government of the Province for forty pounds sterling per year. The first session of the Legislature to be held in this city opened there on July 15, 1788; and house continued to meet there until 1870, when it removed to the old provincial building, which was burned about 1879. Here the courts were also held and the King's Provision Store was located; and here it is also said, that the first sermon in English ever preached in Fredericton was delivered to an audience of sixty or seventy persons by the first rector, Rev. Samuel Cooke.

It was remarked by Mr. Cooke that the population of Fredericton then numbered 400, "of whom 100 attended church, but many of us common sort preferred to go a-fishing."

Mr. Vanderbeck's forefather at that time owned the whole block on Queen street from Regent to St. John streets and built the first brick house in Fredericton.

Mr. Vanderbeck interviewed Mrs. George N. Segee, who owns the building at the present time, and, while no negotiations were completed, he is hopeful of coming to some agreement in the matter.

GERMANY AND THE POLISH NATION

The principal features of the German solution of the Polish question, which are approved by all the Central Powers, are published in the Abend Zeitung of Augsburg, Ger., says an Exchange Telegraph despatch from Zurich. The conditions are:

"The frontiers will be fixed by the German high command, according to military necessities.

"The Polish army will be restricted to 90,000.

"For 50 years Poland must make most favorable economic concessions to the Central Powers on the principle of the most favored nation.

"Publication of German, Austrian, Hungarian, Bulgarian and Turkish papers must be allowed.

"In any locality where there are 10 German children a German school will be opened."

Provision, the newspaper adds, also is made for an elective monarchy. The German conditions will be incorporated in the Constitution which cannot be modified without the approval of the Central Powers.

Survivors Land at Nova Scotia Port

Reporting the sinking of their vessel on Sunday, July 7th, by a U-boat, twenty-two men of the crew of the Norwegian iron sailing ship Marosa arrived at Canso, N. S. Wednesday morning in the two boats in which they had made their escape before the submarine sank their vessel. They said that the Marosa, bound from Newport News, Va., with cargo of coal for Buenos Aires, was held up by a submarine in latitude 40 W., longitude 50.53 N, about seven hundred miles southeast of this coast.

The commander of the U-boat, after firing a warning shot, ordered Captain Nyhus, master of the Marosa, to leave to and abandon his ship. This he did, taking with him plentiful supplies of food and water, also compasses, sextants and a chronometer. The U-boat, which the Norwegians describe as a large one, then fired shell after shell into the Marosa's hull until she sank.

Summer Heat Hard On Baby

No season of the year is so dangerous to the life of little ones as is the summer. The excessive heat throws the little stomach out of order so quickly that unless prompt aid is at hand, the baby may be beyond all human help before the mother realizes he is ill. Summer is the season when diarrhoea, cholera infantum, dysentery and colic are most prevalent. Any of these troubles may prove deadly if not promptly treated. Dettol, the summer the mothers' best friend is Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the bowels, soothe the stomach and keep baby healthy. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Newcastle Girl Principal In Romance

Wedded on Monday Evening To Soldier She Met En Route Overseas

A romance, which reads almost like fiction culminated in the marriage at Wesley Memorial parsonage Monday evening, of Miss Abigail Hill, eldest daughter of the late Thomas C. and Mrs. Hill of Newcastle and Private William Laparde, of Winnipeg, Man. by the Rev. Hammond Johnston.

About three years ago, Pte. Laparde, who was then a member of the 48th Battalion, passed through Newcastle en route overseas to do his bit, and among the large number that gathered at the station to see the boys go through and give them a hearty hand-shake and good wish was Miss Hill, to whom Pte. Laparde, gave his address with a request that he should write.

Time passed along and letters became more numerous until one day Pte. Laparde, fell a victim to a German shell, and after some months in the Hospitals in England, was invalided to Canada, and arrived at Halifax about five months ago.

Naturally his first impulse was to see the young lady, who had written him so many cheering letters while he served in the trenches, and he came at once to Newcastle, and sought Miss Hill, and the wedding on Monday last is the result of his visit.

Pte. Laparde, is now employed at Neil O'Brien's barber shop but with Mrs. Laparde will make their home in Winnipeg.

Taking Up Rails To Drummond Docks

The beginning of the end of an enterprise which promised much for Newcastle, began last week. When workmen, under direction of the railway authorities began to take up the rails on the Spur line leading to the docks of the N. B. Docks and terminals, Ltd., at which iron ore, for the Drummond Iron Mines, was until a few years ago shipped.

The docks were erected about ten years ago at the cost of a good many thousands of dollars and are one of the finest used for ore shipments in Canada and were for some years one of the attractions of the town.

They were used for the shipment of iron ore until the outbreak of the war, when the cost of tonnage increased to such an extent that the expenses connected with the transportation to smelters became prohibitive in comparison with the value of the ore.

The rails taken up last week, will largely be used along the Canada Eastern Branch, which at the present time is one of the busiest lines on the whole Canadian Government Railway system.

The funeral of the late Albert Loggie was held from his home Saturday afternoon. Interment was in Pine Grove Cemetery.
